Nationally Known Colored Minister Conducting Gospel Meetings Here

George Robin, colored evangelist who is now conducting a series of gospel meetings for his people in a tent on the colored school ground, under the sponsorship and direction of the local Church of Christ, is widely known as a religious leader among the Negro race throughout the United States.

Joe B. Tillery, Jr. Gets Award As Outstanding Cadet

Joe B. Tillery, Jr., Cisco young man attending Texas A&M College, was one of the honor cadets at the Fort Bliss ROTC Summer Camp which closed last Friday. He was the honor man in Battery and received an award for leadership, military study, alertness, and attention to duty.

The concluding parade of the camp was given by the cadets on the field.

Formal graduation ceremonies closed the camp, in the Fort Bliss Post Theater.

The Cisco man, son of Mrs. J. B. Tillery, received the following award:

"To Joe B. Tillery, Jr., 'I. You are to be congratulated on being designated as the outstanding cadet of Battery 'B,' ROTC Camp."

"2. An award of an appropriately inscribed, silver belt buckle has been made by the El Paso Chamber of Commerce. Unfortunately the company which was to supply this buckle has had a strike which delayed delivery of this buckle until after the end of the camp. When this buckle is received it will be mailed to the Professor of Military Science and Tactics of your college for presentation to you. (Signed) C. E. Lepping, Colonel CAC, Deputy C. Cmdr."

Oil for Defense To Be Discussed at TIPRO Meet

Oil for defense and industry services to the consuming public will be stressed at the mid-year TIPRO directors meeting to be held in San Antonio on October 10.

Approximately 250 Association directors from every part of Texas will attend.

Two lieutenant generals, both authorities on the role of petroleum in military operations, will be guest speakers at the evening banquet. They are Lt. Gen. Ernest O. Thompson, senior member of the Texas Railroad Commission and commander of the Texas National Guard, and Lt. Gen. LeRoy Lutes, commander of the Fourth Army with headquarters in San Antonio.

Plans include a luncheon address by H. Roy Cullen, Houston philanthropist and independent oilman. One of TIPRO's leaders, he will review some of the outstanding contributions of independent oil men of Texas to the nation.

At the morning business session, San Antonio Independent Oilman B. Slick will discuss the unique aspects of the oil business. He is founder of the Southwest Research Institute, the Foundation of Applied Research, and the Institute of Inventive Research.

Through his efforts colored congregations have been established in Texas, New Mexico, and Oklahoma. At present his home is in Lawton, Okla., where he established a congregation and has been its minister for the past five years.

He was born in Georgia and has done much of his work in the South; however, he has preached in towns from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from the Gulf of Mexico to the Great Lakes.

He attended school in Tuskegee, Ala., and Atlanta, and is a graduate of Nashville Christian Institute. He has appeared on programs at Abilene Christian College, David Lipscomb College, Nashville, and George Peppard College, Los Angeles.

He has been instrumental in erecting six meeting houses for colored congregations and has built one parsonage. At one time Mr. Robin worked with four congregations at the same time.

The meeting here has been attracting many people from Cisco and the surrounding area. On Sunday night there was an estimated 500 people in the audience. Both white and colored people were invited to attend the meetings with special sections reserved for both races.

Short Broom Corn Crop to Up Prices

Harold P. France, of Chicago, president of the National Broom Manufacturers and Allied Industries, said in a statement today that a record short broom corn crop, as forecast by the Department of Agriculture, probably will mean additional increases in the price of broom corn within a very short time.

He said association members annually produce approximately 45 million broom corns for household use, but the Washington forecast of the shortest crop of record - 27,900 tons - may mean considerably fewer brooms for American homes. Broom corn is an important crop in Illinois, Oklahoma, and the Southwest.

Additional demands by the military services are expected to reduce further the number for home use, he said.

Broom corn production last year, totaled 44,100 tons. The 1950 crop is 37 per cent lower than last year's and 32 per cent lower than the average for the past ten years. The Department of Agriculture said floods, diseases, and drought caused the shortage.

Mr. France pledged that the broom manufacturers association would do everything to hold the price line, but pointed out that broom prices have increased very little during the past few years despite steadily mounting costs of all materials.

McElroy Drilling at 1,125 Feet On Latch Wildeat West of Cisco

Work was progressing rapidly on the wildcat oil test located on the Latch tract approximately one mile west of the city limits of Cisco today.

The well known as the McElroy Ranch Company No. 1 Latch, was drilling at 1,125 feet at noon Wednesday after breaking surface at 8 a. m. Monday. Surface pipe was set late Monday. The well, an Ellenberger time test, is being watched with a great deal of interest as a prospect for opening a new producing area in this section.

Elsewhere in the area, L. H. Choate Drilling Company was down to 450 feet on Bankline Oil Company's No. 6 Mrs. Briggs Owens after beginning drilling operations Tuesday. The rotary equipment was moved to the No. 6 location from the A. V. Clark No. 3 which was shut in after flowing naturally and given a hydraulic treatment in the Lake sand. Completion of the Clark well was expected late Wednesday.

In the same area Crossman and Savage were waiting on pipe to complete their No. 1 D. P. Perdue which was drilled to the Lake recently. Another nice well for the field was expected.

In the Pioneer area Scott L. Taliaferro had received a permit for a wildcat test on the A. A. Huntington tract three miles northeast of that community. The well is slated for 2,700 feet with rotary equipment.

In the area east and northeast of Cisco J. E. Lewis of Lampasas is beginning operations on his No. 1 Gordon Woods. The test is slated to 3,700 feet with rotary tools.

Gymnasium Fund Drive Nears Goal

George Boyd of the committee in charge of raising funds for the completion of the new gymnasium reported Wednesday that cash contributions and pledges amounted to $8,600 - some $1,400 short of a goal of $10,000.

The committee expressed confidence that the goal would be reached when all teams and cut-of-town donations were reported.

They expressed their thanks to all who had worked in the campaign and to all who had made contributions that made the erection of the tile structure possible.

Dr. E. L. Graham and Dr. D. Ball left this week for a vacation trip to the Rocky Mountains of Colorado. They will be away from their offices for several days.

New Polio Cases Set Texas Record

A record-breaking 131 cases of polio in a single week was reported today by the State Health Department.

Never before have so many cases of the disease been diagnosed in one week, State Health Officer George W. Cox said.

The tremendous outburst touching 48 counties, skyrocketed the year's total to 1,648 cases. Polio now has struck in 163 of Texas' 254 counties. A year ago, 1,339 cases had been reported from 161 counties.

Dr. Cox said he was willing to "gamble" that last week's incidence would be the highest of the year.

But he added, "I believe that as long as the hot, dry weather continues, we're going to have polio tolls. It's conducive to fly breeding, and who knows but what it might be conducive to the virus spread?"

Five counties - Camp, Cass, Crosby, Hall and Liberty - reported their first polio cases of the year.

The previous record incidence for a single week was reached on July 1 and July 15 with 124 cases reported for the weeks ending on those dates.

Tarrant County (Fort Worth) suffered the greatest number of cases last week, reporting 20 new patients. Harris County (Houston) had 18 and Dallas County 15.

Forrest K. Foster, Forrest Co. manager, Austin, "Business Letter Writing."

Charles T. Lux, Retail Merchants Association secretary-manager, Austin, "Credit Bureau Fundamentals."

More than 20 out of state visitors are also expected.

Plans Completed For Egg School To Be Held Here Friday

More Than 1,000 Attend Program Closing Summer Classes at CJC

A crowd estimated at near 1,000 persons attended the program and watermelon feast Tuesday night which wound up the work of the Evening school of Cisco Junior College for five summer.

The group was taken on a tour of the campus and visited the classrooms where they saw the equipment in the work and some of the completed projects of the students. They also were shown the recently completed girl's dormitory which has been readied for occupancy starting at the fall term.

The group overflowed the auditorium where they heard a short talk by A. R. Collier, veterans counselor and music by J. T. Nicholas and his Carbon Ramblers. Stanley Webb served as master of ceremonies for the program.

Following the entertainment period the visitors were invited to eat watermelon which was served on the campus. The watermelons were furnished by the college.

The program wound up some four years of the night school activities at the college. The program began with 19 students and has grown to 551, most of them veterans taking advantage of the opportunity offered them under the education clause of the GI Bill of Rights.

Students will be allowed some two weeks vacation period before enrolling for the new term. School officials were expecting a record enrollment for the coming semester.

University Studies Seeking Jobs Are To Apply Early

AUSTIN, August 16 - Students who plan to enter the U. of Texas this fall and want part-time work, should come to Austin and seek their jobs now. Student Employment Director Joe Farrar advised.

"We usually are swamped with 1,200 to 2,000 applications in September and it's impossible then to fill all of them immediately," he said. "Part time work demand is greatest now for girls who can take shorthand and type and for boys who can do retail selling."

Report Indicates Weevil Damage

The weather has been favorable for harvesting cotton in the southern third of the state the past week. A high percentage of the crop has been harvested and the stalks destroyed as far north as Corpus Christi in the Coastal Bend area.

The boll weevil is causing heavy damage in many fields of North and East Texas. In fields where the cotton is producing squares, insecticides should be applied at four or five day intervals until the weevils are brought under control. In other fields where the cotton has matured or stopped fruiting because of moisture deficiency, one or more applications may be necessary for boll protection.

The leafworm continues to injure many fields in central, northern and western areas of the state.

Injurious infestations of bollworms are prevalent in fields in which the cotton is succulent.

Cross Timbers
Sixteen fields were inspected in four Cross Timbers counties with an average weevil infestation of 11% this week as compared to 10% last week. The average percentage of punctured squares by counties were: Shackelford, 21%; Erath, 10%; Clay, 4% and Throckmorton, 6%.

Northwest
Weevils are doing damage in some northwest fields in a few counties of this area. Injurious weevil infestations are spotted, however, and growers should inspect their fields carefully to determine whether control measures are needed. Eighty-four fields were inspected in 17 counties, with an average of 14% infestation this week as compared with 10% last week. The average percentage of punctures were as follows: Foard, 49%; Jones, 38%; Runnels, 27%; Taylor, 23%; Wilbarger, 18%; Fisher, 14%; Wichita, Nolan, and Cottle, each 6%; Knox, 5%; Stonewall, 2%; Dickens, 1%; Haskell, Borden, Collingsworth, Hall and Wheeler, no infestation.

Fleahoppers continue low in most fields. Heavy leafworm infestation should be controlled in some fields.

TRADE AT HOME

If you spend a dollar at home you have some hope of getting it back; if you don't, you just spend a dollar.

Chamber of Commerce officials were completing plans for the school on egg production which will be held at 2 p. m. Friday at the Hotel Victor.

B. A. Butler, Chamber of Commerce manager, aided by County Agent J. M. Cooper of Eastland, has completed the arrangements to care for a large number of poultrymen in the area and has arranged for a qualified instructor to handle the details.

The school was planned as an effort to acquaint area poultrymen and farmers with the requirements necessary to produce No. 1 eggs in order to take advantage of a market which has been opened to the area.

The eggs will be purchased and stored in Cisco. The Cisco Ice Company is in process of remodeling their storage vaults in order to handle the purchasing program.

The quality egg wanted by the purchaser demands top prices and the instructor from A & M College, who is to have charge of the Friday meeting, will tell poultrymen how to produce the quality egg desired.

Mr. Cooper and the Chamber of Commerce were anxious for every poultry raiser in the area to attend the meeting and Mr. Butler of the Chamber of Commerce stated that the body would like to know in advance how many would attend in order for ample seating to be arranged. If possible he would like for those who plan to attend to contact the chamber of commerce in advance. If that is not possible he stressed the importance of attending anyway.

TAXES BY THE GALLON

The battered coupe pulled up to a stop in front of the little gasoline filling station.

"Fill 'er up, mister," asked the attendant.

The driver nodded.

The pump began to whirr; the indicator turned and the golden brown fluid rushed through the gauge.

Suddenly the driver sat upright.

"Say," he called to the attendant, replacing the hose, "looks to me like you got something mixed up with that gas. I see a lot of stuff floating around in it. What is it?"

"Oh, that," said the attendant, replacing the hose, "that's nothing. That's just taxes. D'ya never see 'em before? They're in all kinds of fuel."

The motorist shut off his engine, got out of his coupe and came up to the attendant.

"Tell me about 'em, will ya? Never heard of it before."

"It's a long story, but I'll try to make it short. To begin with, when you pay me for this gas, part of your money will go for two taxes, a Federal excise and a state gasoline tax."

"I take in your money and out of it I must pay seven kinds of taxes. Three are Federal and the other four are paid to the state."

"Maybe you saw a big gas truck on the road comin' in? Well, that is the lad that services me. He brings the gas from the bulk plant."

"Where do they get their gas? Well, it comes in by pipe line to a terminal. From there, a trucker brings it to the bulk plant. That trucker, now, is a private concern, and he has to pay six kinds of Federal taxes."

"But that ain't all. He has to pay 11 different state taxes, too. Take that pipe line terminal."

"Owned by the same company that owns the bulk plant. The company has to pay 11 different Federal taxes. Then it must meet 14 state taxes as well."

"... the pipe line company has to pay 12 Federal taxes. When you begin to figure out the state taxes it pays, then you're really getting complicated. It must pay 61 state taxes."

"The refinery... must pay the same 12 Federal taxes... but it pays fewer state taxes... the pipe line transmitting the crude" oil from the well to the refinery must pay 12 Federal taxes plus 15 state taxes. That takes us back to the oil well itself... which must pay 11 Federal taxes and 16 state taxes.

"That, mister, is a total of 197 taxes that flow right from the mouth of the oil well, over four states and right into your car's tank. Of that number 129 are state taxes and 68 are Federal taxes."

His customer, ears ringing, had already driven slowly away from the gas pump. Had he but waited he could have heard that a number of other taxes might be attributable to the localities.

The alternative method of delivering gasoline from the well to the gas pump via ocean freighter and railroad tank cars runs up to a neat total of 119 taxes.

But the motorist was already far down the road, his eyes glassy, his body trembling every time the motor turned over.

Was it his imagination, or did the motor's noise really sound like: "Tax, tax, tax, tax"?

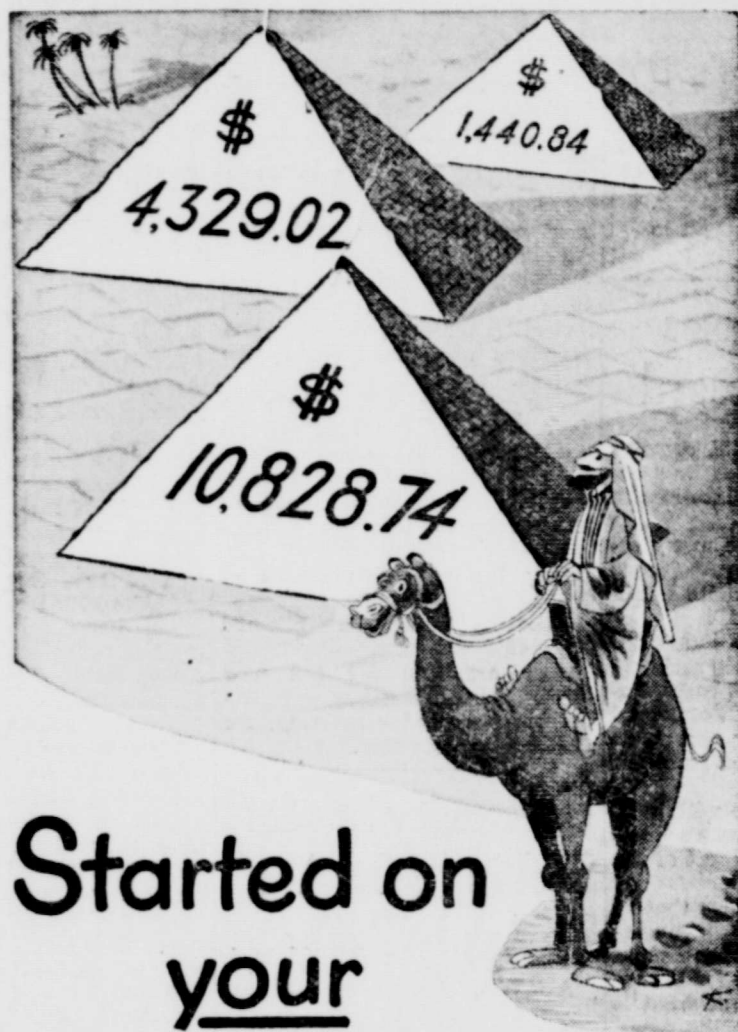

—From Texas Tax Journal, June, 1950.

three of his brothers against four other brothers in the Civil War. Before his death, H. A. Bible's father operated a planing mill at Sherman. Much of the fancy woodwork on many of the court-houses of Texas was done at his mill. Having an exclusive patent on building one-piece wood columns for colonial type homes, all of the wood columns on such buildings in the early century were finished at the Bible Planing Mill.

Mrs. Bible was the former Miss Lorena Leazar of Sipe Springs. They have two daughters, Nanella, 27, now Mrs. Glenn Arford, wife of a Fort Worth civil engineer, and 17-year-old Renabel, a 1950 graduate of Cisco High School. Renabel is planning to enter Texas Wesleyan College this fall to study voice and music. Mr. Bible's mother, Mrs. Ella Veal of Lueders, is now 82 and still in good health.

H. A.'s brother, R. A. Bible of Abilene, operates a hardware and farm implement store and is also interested in orchards and farming.

In the future, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Bible hope to build a new home on their property facing the new Abilene highway.

Palace Schedules Special Showing Of New Picture

J. T. Edwards, manager of the Palace Theater, announced Wednesday that the Palace had been selected by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer for a special showing of "Stars in My Crown."

His announcement was contained in the following letter:

"As manager of the Palace Theater, it gives me great pleasure to tell you that our city has been honored by being chosen for a special showing of the M-G-M production, 'Stars in My Crown.'"

"This city was selected over hundreds of others because it most nearly represented the community life and spirit that is portrayed in the picture. 'Stars in My Crown' tells the stirring story of a typical American town and its people and its fighting parson. 'Two-Gun' Parson Gray was a man whose words were loaded as well as his guns. You'll admire and understand him."

"Stars in My Crown," starring Joel McCrea, Ellen Drew and Dean Stockwell, is already being hailed as one of the finest family pictures of 1950. It has just been awarded the Parent's Magazine medal for outstanding merit. It is based on a series of Saturday Evening Post stories and the book by Joe David Brown that thrilled countless readers.

"I personally consider 'Stars in My Crown' an exceptional entertainment and I urge you all to see it."

(Signed) J. T. Edwards.

FARM NEWS

By The Hired Hand

With the current oil interest in this area, there is a good possibility that many of the wheat, cotton, and peanut fields around Cisco may some day be oil fields. We heard of one farmer who recently remarked, "I wish a well would burst through and just spray that nasty old oil all over the place."

Yesterday's Daily Press carried the good news of the A. V. Clark No. 3 well being completed and flowing naturally from the Lake sand. The drilling company will begin the Mrs. Briggs Owens No. 6 in the same locality soon. We doubt if the cattle on the Clark Stock Farm would mind dodging a few oil wells.

Also in the Corinth community, the D. B. Perdue No. 1 was expected to be completed soon as another good well. To us, those new wells east and west of Cisco look mighty pretty.

Four miles northeast of town, the first well will soon be drilled on the Gordon Woods farm. A Lampasas driller is planning to go to a depth of 3,700 feet.

West of Cisco, the McElroy Ranch Company is planning to drill to 4,200 feet on the Lela Latch place. H. A. Bible, today's "Farmer of the Week," owns 320 acres just west of the new well and he is hoping that a new oil field breaks out in that section.

Just across the county line, a 4,000 foot well is being drilled on the R. L. McKinney place. This well will be near the Ramsey No. 1 which is flowing from the Cad-do, three miles northeast of Putnam.

A case of anthrax, dreaded disease among cattle, was reported this week as being on a ranch near Ranger. According to information received here, a cow that contacts the disease gets stiff and is dead within 12 hours — that is, when the anthrax is new to the region.

Farmers at Morton Valley already have started vaccinating their cattle to immunize them against anthrax. Plesley Hagaman vaccinated Tuesday and Paul Hodge was planning to vaccinate his cows today.

Some of the most beautiful of whiteface Herefords we have seen in a long time are on the Morton Valley ranches. We sincerely hope these fine cattle do not succumb to the anthrax epidemic.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Franklin now have a beautiful farm house at Morton Valley. Franklin is employed by the Lone Star Gas Company of Eastland and raises chickens on the side.

J. W. Harrison, Morton Valley merchant, told us that from all of the reports he had heard crops in that area are looking mighty good at present — especially the peanut crops.

Luther Moody of Cheaney also reports that the peanut crops are looking exceptionally well in the southeast section of the county. Moody also is interested in raising cattle and hogs.

A number of revival meetings are now in progress over the county. In the Dan Horn community, Bill Thorn, a former pastor, is conducting a series of revival services at 10 a. m. and 8 p. m. daily at the Mitchell Baptist Church.

At the Mangum Baptist Church Rev. Butch Gregory of Odessa is also conducting services two times a day. Pastor Lee Fields reports good crowds attending these services.

The evangelistic campaign at the Harmony Baptist Church of Morton Valley will come to a close Sunday night. Bob Randall and Joe Ed Liles of Baylor University are leading in these services.

Rev. C. A. Warden of Cisco will begin a meeting at the Cross Cut Methodist Church near Rising Star Friday night. Farmers in that area are invited to attend these services.

At New Hope Baptist Church No. 2 near Gorman, another 10-day revival meeting will begin Friday night. Pastor Mart Agnew of Cisco will do the preaching through Sunday night and Vernon Hines, Gorman pastor, is to do the preaching next week.

You will find a cordial welcome awaiting you at any of these services.

$3,375,000 Peanut Crop Estimated

Eastland County peanut farmers stand to make a record harvest in dollars and cents this year, according to County Agent J. M. Cooper, who estimated the yield will bring them in some $3,375,000.

That figure was arrived at despite crop quotas and was reached on an estimated yield at the prevailing price which was up some 8c per bushel over last year.

The almost $4 million figure was in addition to the expected heavy hay crop which will be unusually big this year because of a bountiful rainfall during the growing season.

Cooper stated that some 1,200 area farmers would participate in the heavy cash income. Emmett Powell, Eastland County PMA head, said that it appeared likely that some 37,000 acres had been planted to the crop this year.

All peanuts from acreage over the allotted amount may be sold for oil without penalty this year, Powell said.

Mrs. Ann Poling, 609 Delaware St., Indianapolis, Indiana, who was suffering from deficiencies of Vitamins B, B₂, Iron, and Nicotin, smiles as she pours herself another cup of coffee. Mrs. Poling says life lately is like it used to be years ago. "That is, of course, since I've been taking HADACOL." She can't get over what a difference HADACOL has made in her outlook on life.

Mrs. Poling says: "Three months ago a good friend of mine told me about HADACOL—she knew how much stomach distress I have had. Any type of food that was fried or that had acid in it I just couldn't eat. It affected my sleep, too. In fact, I couldn't have been in a worse condition. When I ate what I wanted to I felt miserable and when I didn't eat these things—I didn't have a proper diet and still felt bad. Then, when I started taking HADACOL, I felt better immediately. I've got a bottle in the house now—and will continue to keep HADACOL—and they all thank me for telling them about HADACOL. They all have gotten wonderful results from HADACOL like I have. Now I eat anything I want and get a good night's sleep. I can't praise HADACOL enough."

HADACOL Can Help You, Too! . . . as it has helped thousands of others whose systems lacked Vitamins B, B₂, Iron and Nicotin. Yes, even hundreds of doctors have recommended HADACOL to their patients. The HADACOL formula is so effective for stomach distress, nervousness, insomnia, constipation, aches and pains of neuritis, and a general run-down condition caused by such deficiencies.

Make Up Your Mind . . . to give HADACOL a chance to help you, as it has helped countless thousands of others. Remember, there are no substitutes for HADACOL. Always insist on the genuine HADACOL. No risk involved. Buy a bottle of HADACOL, either the trial size, $1.25, or the large family or hospital size, $3.50, and if HADACOL does not help you your money will be refunded.

Nice Kitchen Shower Honors Bride-Elect In J. R. Deen Home

Misses Bobby Jean Deen and Jo Ann Scott were hostesses for a kitchen shower Tuesday morning honoring Miss Mary Philpott, bride-elect of Bob Thurston. The party was held in the Humbletown home of Miss Deen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Deen. The house was made gay with seasonal flowers with yellow and green, chosen colors of the bride-elect, predominating.

Guests were met informally by the hostesses and were seated in the living room. After a period of friendly greetings the hostesses brought in material to be hemmed for cup towels, which they passed the rump. The girls graciously accepted the task and soon the fingers were busily engaged with the sewing while their voices were heard in happy conversation. When the cup towels were hemmed the gifts, brought for the honoree were presented and were inspected by the group.

They were then invited into the dining room for refreshments. The table, covered with a green cloth, was centered with a collander filled with full blown yellow zinnias. Platters of open face sandwiches, home-made cookies, salted peanuts, yellow and green mints, were placed in tempting array on the table. The girls were given their plates and invited to serve themselves. Delicious cold drinks of lemonade with floating green cherries in ice cubes and a sprig of mint were passed to the guests. Mrs. Barton Philpott and Mrs. Fred Scott assisted the hostesses.

Those present were Misses Mary Philpott, Anita Carlin, Bettie Brogdon, Jane Huestis, Scrippy Cluck, Carolyn Crofts, Betty Gallagher, Sally Gallagher, Virginia Weiser, Jo Ann Scott, and Bobby Jean Deen and Mesdames Barton Philpott, Fred Scott and J. R. Deen.

Nice Surprise Awaits Strickland Family Monday Evening

After the evening revival service under the tent on the church parking lot on West Ninth St., the members of the Young People's department of the First Baptist Church rushed to the pastor's home at 1005 W 10th. Street.

A light was hurriedly placed in the back yard, while cases of cold drinks were carried in, and gifts of food were placed on a table in the sitting room. Then the group stood on the West side of the house, waiting for the honorees to arrive.

When a light snapped on in the kitchen it was a signal for the young people to begin their welcome song, "Here we stand like birds in the wilderness, waiting for you to come home!" The Stricklands came to the door and were quite surprised to see the large group on their back door steps.

They led the way to the living room, and opened the packages brought to them. Brother and Mrs. Strickland were assisted in the opening by little Miss Suzie Taylor. When the last can of food was unwrapped, and the "Thank-you" speech was made, the department assembled to the back yard for cold drinks. A session of talk and singing choruses followed in the living room.

ing room, with Mrs. Strickland at the piano.

The Stricklands have worked in the Young People's Department in both Sunday School and Training Union.

What a wonderful bargain!

Mrs. J. E. Brasac,
118 Grotto Street, Houston, Tex.

Tuesday—Ordered a baby gift, to be gift wrapped and delivered. Saved 10 miles.

Wednesday—Mrs. M. can make my new slip covers. Only 2 blocks, but lucky I phoned before she started another job.

Thursday—Felicia, my daughter, asked advice on new refrigerator. 12 miles to her office.

Friday—Felicia called. Some good buys advertised in morning paper.

Saturday—Evening paper wasn't delivered. Complained to circulation department. 3 miles to their office.

For five days Mrs. J. E. Brasac kept an accurate record of all the telephone calls she made and received—and here's just a sample of the shopping she did and the steps she saved. Altogether, she carried on 44 telephone conversations, figures they cost her less than 2¢ each and covered a total of 153 miles.

"I don't know where you'd get a bigger 2¢ worth," she comments. "My telephone keeps me in touch with my family and friends, helps me run my household, and it's always there to call for help in an emergency. Thanks for a wonderful bargain!"

Thank you, Mrs. Brasac, for your kind words. We are working constantly on technical improvements so you can hear better, get your calls through quicker, enjoy more trouble-free service. And every year we're adding new telephones so that you can call more people, more people can call you. Our aim is to give you the best possible bargain today . . . and to keep it growing in value every year. Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

The Man's Store to Observe 25th Anniversary

Miss Dolores Kilgore is "the woman" at The Man's Store. She is secretary and bookkeeper and has charge of the ladies department.

ment, which sells top brands of undergarments, hosiery, handkerchiefs, and so forth.

Miss Kilgore joined the staff on April 26 last, coming to Cisco from Abilene where she had worked for the J. C. Penney Co. as cashier for two and a half years. Before going to Abilene, she worked in the Penney store here in a similar capacity.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Kilgore and was born in Cisco — on Nov. 1, 1928. She attended grade school here, finishing from Breckenridge High School in 1945, and attended Hardin-Simmons University for one year.

Miss Kilgore is a member of the East Cisco Baptist Church and is active in young people's work.

Event Starts On Friday; Annual Sale Will Begin

Nick Miller, The Man's Store, will observe its 25th anniversary in Cisco with a special event Friday — the first since the store moved recently into new and entirely modern quarters. Friday will also mark the beginning of the store's annual summer sale.

It was 25 years ago this week that The Man's Store had its beginning in Cisco. It was operated until January 1, 1936, as a partnership by Nick Miller and Dick Lauderdale. Miller becoming sole owner on that date.

And it is fitting that the 25th year be started in new and thoroughly modern quarters. The store is located at 615 Avenue D — next door to Dean Drug Company — and was moved from the building just south of the First National Bank.

The front of the building was given a "new look" with light brown tile finish. The windows are entirely new and feature the newest spot lighting. Background windows are of glass, enabling window shoppers to see the back of the store.

A feature of the interior is the new slim-line lighting fixtures, which add much to the store's attractiveness. The building is fully insulated and is cooled by Frigidaire refrigerated air conditioning. Strip lights further add to the appearance of the interior.

Store fixtures are new, being built by Adleta and Grand Rapids. The floors are of marbled asphalt tile. The building has a low ceiling. Interior decorations are in keeping with the general theme of the store.

Although the store proper is virtually the same as the old building, an advantage is adequate quarters for storage.

The complete modernization program given the building and the new equipment and fixtures represent a considerable investment.

Although the store has undergone considerable change in appearance, nothing new has been added in the way of quality merchandise and in the store's 25-year-old policies, according to Mr. Miller.

The Man's Store will continue to handle and feature nothing but nationally advertised lines of men's wearing apparel, along with a few items of women's wear. "There's No Substitute for Quality" has appeared frequently in Man's Store advertising, and this line will continue to appear.

Growth of The Man's Store has been steady over the years. A typical day's customers come from over the entire Cisco area, from Putnam, Moran, Eastland, Albany, Breckenridge, and various neighboring communities.

It is not infrequent that Nick Miller receives a letter from an old customer in a distant city or state to order merchandise. And any business man will tell you that the key to success in any store is loyal customers.

The entire modernization program was termed by Mr. Miller as "our effort to equip The Man's Store better to serve its customers." He pointed out that "our success has always depended upon our friends, and we will never forget that fact."

"Many of you have already seen our improvements," Mr. Miller said. "But in case you have not, we will be genuinely pleased to have you drop in on our 25th birthday. Needless to say, we are proud and we want you to help us make our anniversary party complete."

In 1939, Maj. King first entered the U. S. Air Force on April 9, 1942. After flight training at the Southeast Training Command, he was commissioned and rated a pilot on May 28, 1943. He served with the 3rd Bomb Group in the Southwest Pacific from November, 1943, to December, 1950, and was then made Commandant of Students at Randolph Field. Among his decorations are the Distinguished Flying Cross with cluster and the Air Medal with two Oak Leaf clusters.

Arriving in Japan by air on July 31, 1950, Maj. King was assigned to the Fifth Air Force, the Occupational Air Force for Japan, and subsequently reassigned to his former outfit, the 3rd Bomb Wing.

Peaches to Pants NICK MILLER HAS REPUTATION AS SALESMAN OF TOP CALIBRE

Nick Miller, owner of The Man's Store and regarded by many as one of West Texas' star salesmen, got his start as a business man in Cisco by selling big, red peaches to T&P Railway passengers. As a boy, Nick met the salesmen and sold Cisco peaches.

That the Miller-type salesman has paid dividends is attested by the fact that Nick Miller, The Man's Store, this week is observing its 25th anniversary. And Nick Miller has been the store's salesman since the beginning.

Born at Gatesville, Nick came to Cisco when he was eight years old. He is a graduate of Cisco High School and attended the old Patton Training School — a forerunner of the present Cisco Junior College.

After his first business experience of selling peaches, Nick was with the Dean Drug Company. His first clothing experience was with the old Davis and Garner Store. After being with this firm for ten years, he went to Simford in 1924 and spent one year with a clothing store.

It was on August 15, 1925, that Nick Miller and Dick Lauderdale bought out the Hogan and Patton Men's Shop, located in the building now occupied by Hooker's Jewelry. They stayed in that location until November, 1935, moving then to the bank building. Mr. Miller bought out Dick Lauderdale on January 1, 1936, and has been operating as Nick Miller, The Man's Store, since that time.

Mr. Miller served in World War I as a sergeant in the U. S. Army. He went overseas with an ammunition train crew.

In 1923, Mr. Miller was married to Miss Bobbie Brown of Gatesville. They have one daughter, Bobbie Lee.

It is with considerable pride that Mr. Miller celebrates his 25th anniversary in a "new" Man's Store. The firm recently was moved to its new location with virtually all new equipment.

Mr. Miller is almost as well known as a sportsman as he is known as a salesman and business man. He is an ardent booster of local sports teams, and is an occasional golfer at the Cisco Country Club.

Mr. Miller is active in civic affairs, having served as a director of the Chamber of Commerce. He is past president of the Merchants Credit Association, a former steward of the First Methodist Church, and is frequently called on for aid and assistance in various community projects.

Bob Elliott Is 'Old Timer' Of Nick Miller Staff

The old timer of the employees of The Man's Store is Bob Elliott, a native resident of Cisco.

Bob joined The Man's Store before World War II and has been on the job continuously, except for some 40 months during which he was in the U. S. Army. His clothing store experience dates back to the days when he started with the old Garner company here.

Just before coming to work for The Man's Store, Bob spent a year in Breckenridge with The Hub.

Bob is The Man's Store's display and credit manager, and he serves as the assistant buyer. Many of his window displays at The Man's Store have won praise.

Bob is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Elliott of Cisco. His wife is the former Miss Nadine Roan. Immediate past-president of the Cisco Rotary Club, Bob is active in civic affairs. He has served on numerous committees in community work projects.

Gerald Parks Is Salesman For The Man's Store

Gerald Parks, native resident of this area, is a salesman at The

GERALD PARKS

Man's Store having joined the staff in June, 1946 after his release from active duty with the U. S. Army's quartermaster corps. He spent two years in the Pacific theater and was discharged as a sergeant.

Gerald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Parks of Route 4, Cisco, and was reared on a farm seven miles southwest of Cisco. He is a graduate of Scranton High School where he was on the basketball and track teams.

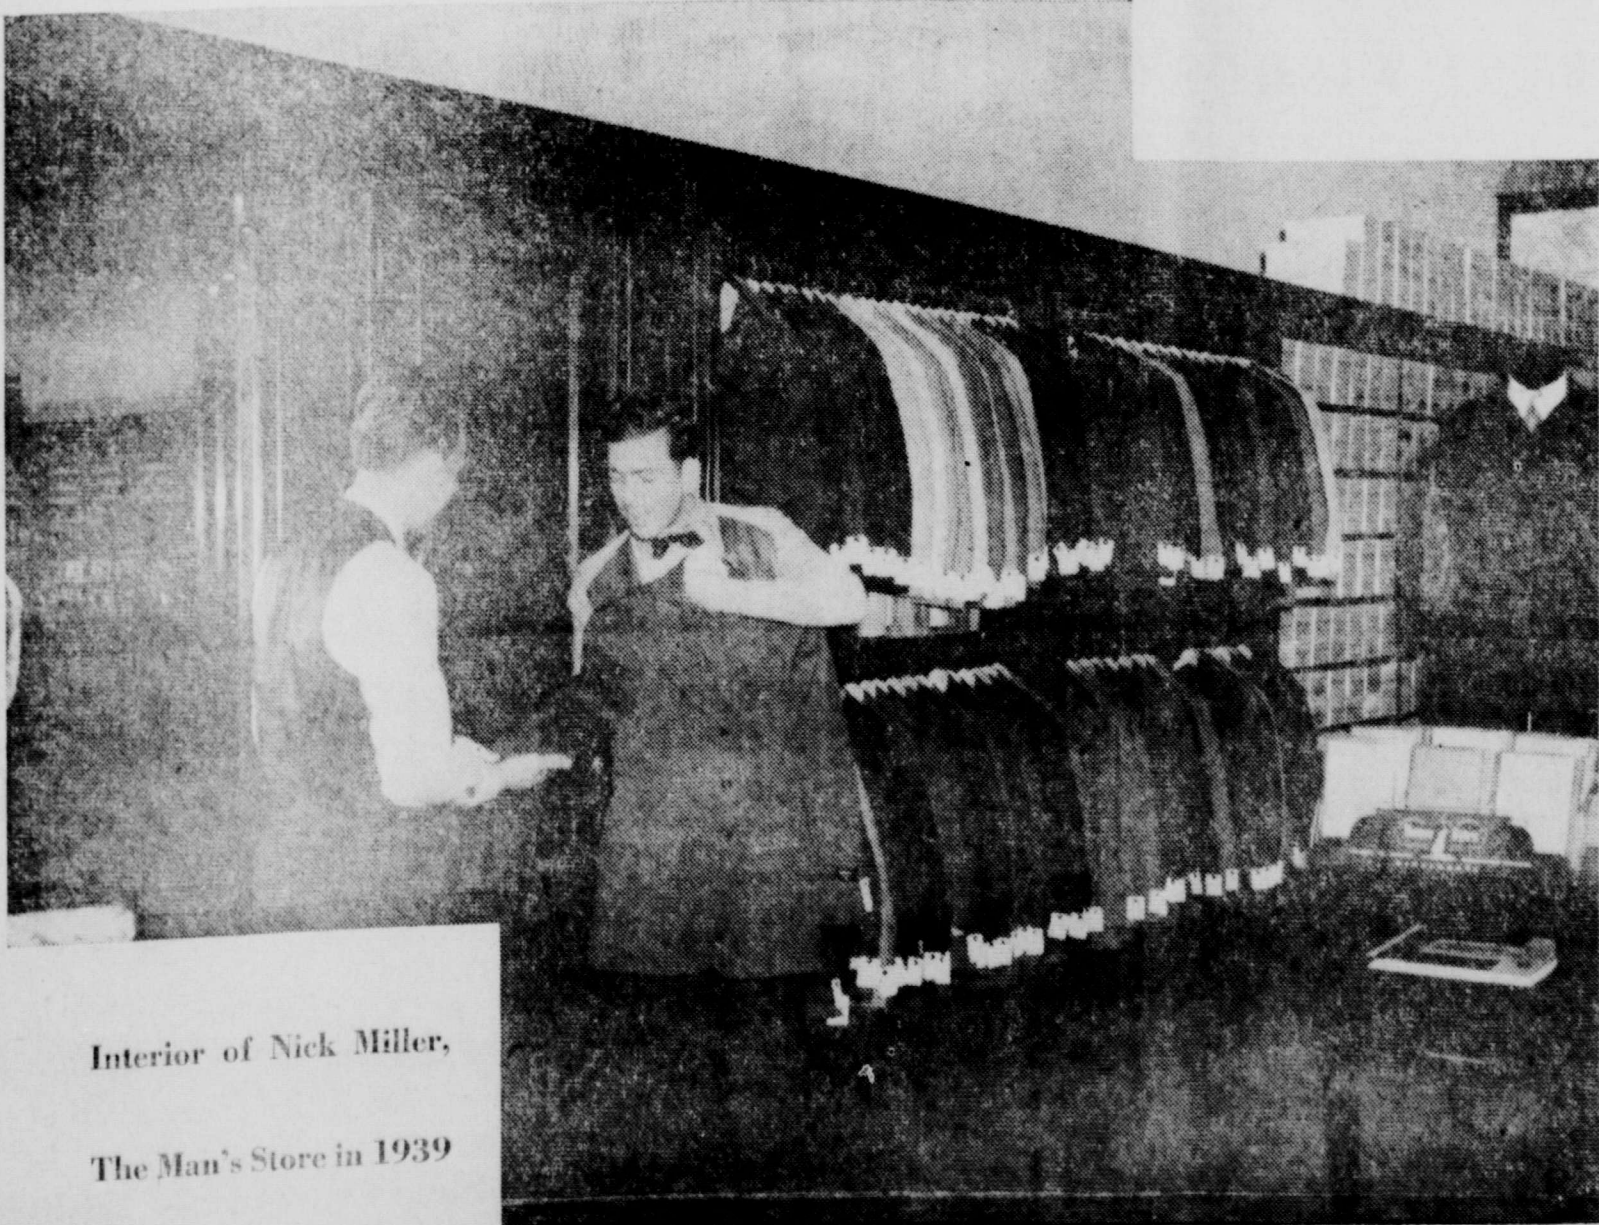

He was married to Miss Merle Dean Vaughn in Abilene in June, 1942, and they have three children — Jerry Don, 7; Jennie Merle, 3; and Jane, 1. They reside at 1501 Avenue N.

Gerald is currently attending the Cisco Junior College night school, going three nights a week. He is pianist for a local orchestra and plays one or two nights a week. His hobby is photography, and gardening. He is a member of the First Baptist Church.

MAN POWER IMPROVES

Military and industrial man power in the United States has been built materially since the start of World War II by improvement in public health and the related decline in death rates, according to life insurance company data.

Never in the country's history have health conditions been more favorable than during the first half of 1950, the statisticians report. This is shown by the experience among the company's millions of industrial policyholders, for whom mortality was the same as the all-time low recorded in the like period of last year.

Spectacular improvement is shown in the death rates for tuberculosis and for pneumonia and influenza, which are among the leading causes of death at the ages from which our military strength and the bulk of our industrial man power is drawn. Since 1942 the death rates from these causes for the first half of each year have declined by nearly one half, that for tuberculosis from 41.6 per 100,000 in 1943 to 22.9 in 1950, and for pneumonia and influenza from 40.6 to 21.9.

Despite a widespread epidemic of respiratory disease early in the year, new low death rates for tuberculosis and for pneumonia and influenza were recorded among the policyholders for the first six months of 1950. Malignant diseases of childhood as a group, syphilis, appendicitis, gastritis, and the complications of pregnancy and childbirth also are at an all-time low.

Diseases of the heart and blood vessels as a group, which account for about one half of all deaths in this policyholder experience, show no change in mortality from last year. For the diseases of the heart along the death rate is 232.7 per 100,000 as compared with 232.0 for the like period of last year. The cancer rate has increased about 2 per cent, reaching a new high of death, accidents and homicide continued at about the same level as last year, while suicide registered a slight decrease. The rate for motor vehicle accident fatalities is more than one sixth higher than in the first half of 1949.

Texans Furnish Big Orders For Federal Agencies

DALLAS, August 15 — Manufacturers and dealers in Texas furnished materials and supplies valued at $6,548,188 to the federal government under the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act during the second quarter of 1950, according to figures announced here today by Lawson A. Wood, covered by the contracts during the period were as follows: basic textile products, apparel, and house furnishings, $76,923; chemicals, drugs, and related products, $823,343; coal, petroleum, and the products thereof, $251,540; basic nonmetallic mineral products except coal and petroleum, $353,317; basic metal products, $28,400; machinery (except electrical), $1,598,193; electrical and communication equipment and lighting fixtures, $102,316; transportation equipment, $501,243; hand tools, cutlery, and miscellaneous household equipment, $22,893; scientific, professional and photographic instruments, equipment and supplies, $33,522; containers and closures, $131,680; and miscellaneous products, $182,171.

The total of such contracts reported in Texas during the first quarter of 1950 amounted to $41,890,370. That total with the total for April, May and June of 1950, amounting to $6,548,188, brought to a grand total of $48,438,558 the value of such Government contracts in Texas for the first six months of 1950.

Adopted in 1936, the Public Contracts Act is intended to assure fair employment conditions and establishes health and safety standards for workers who make products used by the Government. Violation of the Act by employment of minors (boys under 16 and girls under 18 years old), or convict laborers, result in assessments against offending employers at the rate of $10 a day for each minor or convict laborer knowingly employed to fulfill contracts. Contractors in violation may be also "blacklisted" — declared ineligible for Government contracts for a three-year period.

While the War and Navy Departments generally are the biggest consumers of Government purchases, most U. S. agencies acquire some supplies under contracts let subject to the Act.

Salvation Army Alerted to Needs

DALLAS, August 15 — The Salvation Army in Texas is alerted to the needs of the war emergency, and is organizing in every Texas city and town where it operates to provide its familiar Red Shield services for the men and women of the armed forces, Lt. Col. John A. Morrison, Texas divisional commander, announced today.

The Salvation Army already is financing and operating a number of Red Shield clubs throughout the country which formerly were under the direction of United Service Organizations (USO).

"These centers will be increased as the need of the military personnel demands," the Salvation Army commander announced.

Col. Morrison said that some thought already has been given by the Salvation Army to a national campaign to raise money for the servicemen's clubs, either through Community Chests or as an independent campaign.

"This will not be necessary," he said, "if USO is reactivated." He pointed out that USO is still a legal corporation and can be reactivated by the President, if and when the need arises. In that event the Salvation Army would transfer the interim services now mapping into the USO which it is an integral part.

Oil Producers To Meet October 4-5

DALLAS, August 15 — The first major gathering of Texas oil and gas producers since the start of the Korean war has been scheduled here for October 4-5 when the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association holds its 31st annual meeting.

Headquarters for the representatives from all branches of the petroleum industry will be the Adolphus Hotel.

"Since they will be called on for more than 80% of the additional domestic crude oil required for national military security, the Texas oil men will use this meeting as a forum for discussion of ways to provide civilian and military petroleum needs," R. B. Anderson of Vernon, Association president, announced.

Leland and Jimmie Davis are visiting at Jal, New Mexico with their grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Medlin.

Teachers Asks If Old Maids Can't 'Have Our Day'

DENTON, August 15 — "Every dog has his day. Why shouldn't we old maids have ours?" pleads Miss Dorothy Babb of the North Texas State College faculty.

And the likeable instructor proposed to have such a day set aside each year.

Of course Miss Babb has her own opinion as to when the day should be. "August 15," she says, "right between Labor Day and the Dog Days of summer." Also she has her own ideas as to how the old maids should be honored. "With gifts," she explains, "so that we may be repaid in part for the many presents we've given in our lifetimes."

Miss Babb admits it's fun, and she loves to send gifts, but she estimates that in the past 25 years she has given at least $1,500 in gifts for special days. She sends gifts each year for Mother's Day, Father's Day, graduation day, and for friends' birthdays, bridal showers, and wedding anniversaries. She even honors the dogs on their day.

Yet, as an old maid, she doesn't receive many gifts. She certainly wouldn't receive any gifts on the above mentioned days; and Miss Babb claims there are few old maids who get birthday gifts, as "we seldom mention our ages," she laughs.

"And think of it," she moans, "Christmas comes only once a year."

Mr. Nick Miller's Twenty-Fifth year of business in Cisco by coincidence is also the same as your bank's Anniversary as a National Organization. Looking back on that twenty-five year span a great deal of change has been realized, but the lasting principles of honest endeavor and fair dealing still continue to be characteristic of an American scene in which tolerance and understanding of others is a mighty force of freedom.

Cisco is a good town to live in — and will continue to be in the direct proportion that each and every citizen contributes to the well-being of our community. Let's work and think together locally — realizing that this time is one of greatest crisis internationally. Great individual sacrifices in the next twenty-five years may be in store for us. God give us strength to meet them.

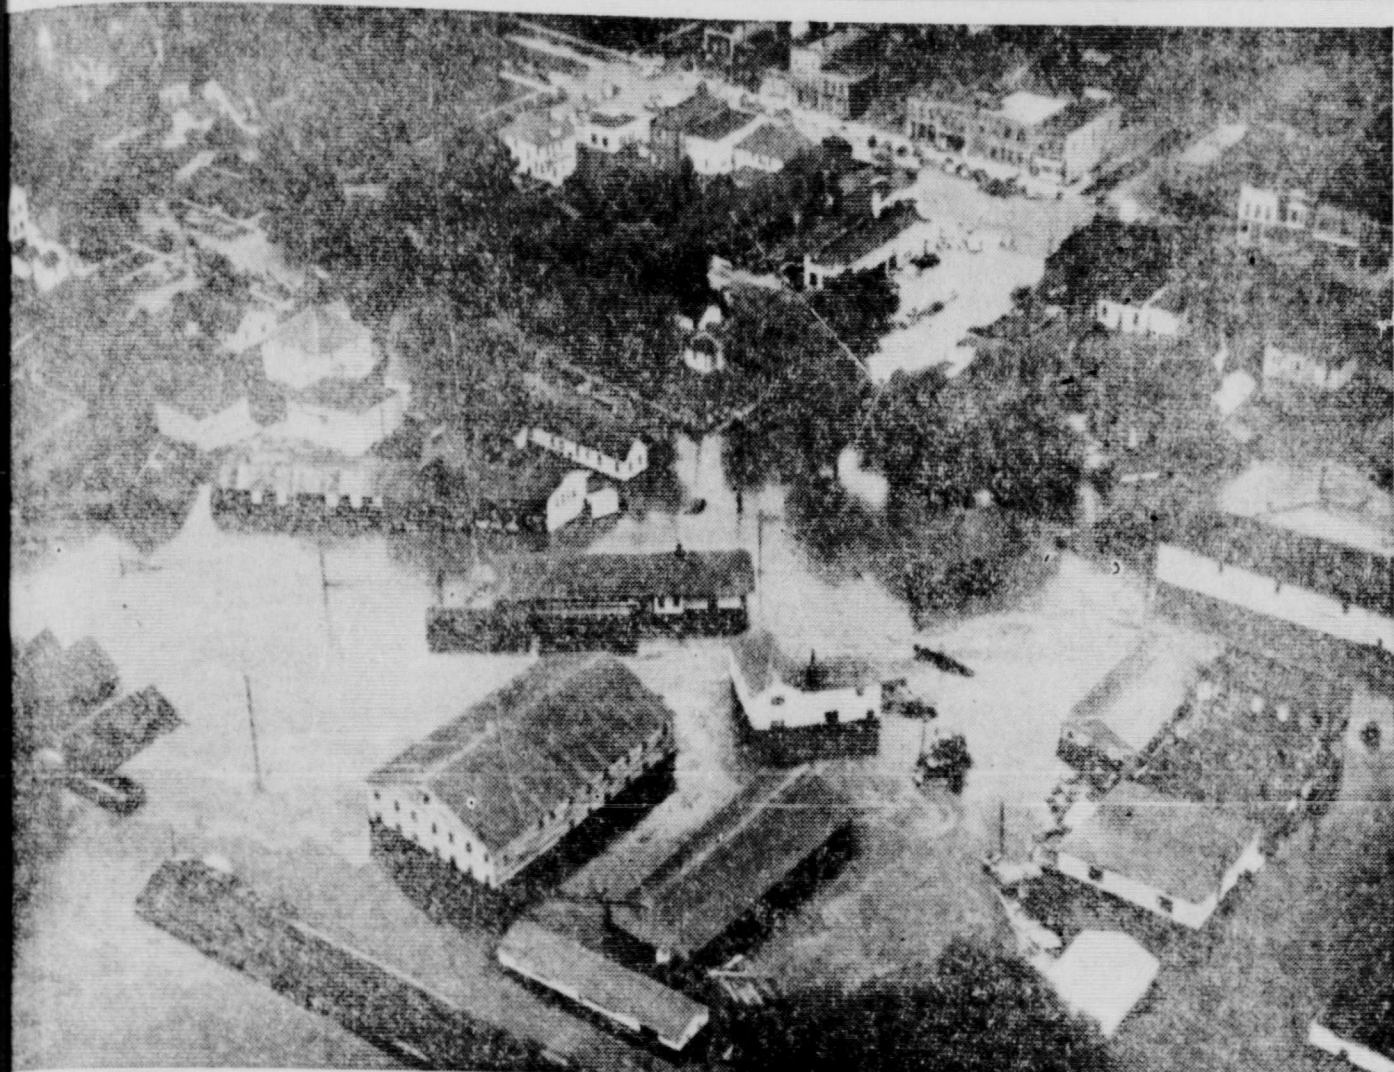

A Tribute-To A Good Neighbor On His 25th Anniversary

"Nick" — you are an example to us all in your diligence and perserverance in maintaining one of the neatest and smartest shops in West Texas. For fifteen years your bank was privileged to have this top-notch establishment right next door — and our only regret in planning to expand was that we couldn't keep you close by.

You have done a fine job in establishing and decorating your new location that all Cisco is proud of. We only hope that we can do as well in improving the bank quarters. Congratulations to you and best wishes always — for continued success in making Cisco a more important merchandising center for our fine trade territory.

FLASH FLOOD—Water flows through the downtown section of Darlington, Wis., after a flash flood covered the area. At one time the water was high enough to cover the gauge on the Main Street Bridge, making it useless as a depth indicator.

ERIOUS INTERRUPTION—Interrupted in their work by sniper fire from a wooded area, in South Korea, these U. S. Army engineers seek cover and return the fire. The heroic American delaying the attack all along the front seemed to have borne fruit when the Army's Second Infantry Division, fresh from the United States, landed in Korea and went right into action.

December and January. The exception is the muskrat season which will be from December 1 to February 26. The general law on muskrats for the state at large is from November 15 to March 15. However, many counties have special laws. It was noted that four southeastern Texas counties, —Jefferson, Chambers, Galveston and Orange—produce almost all of the states' muskrat pelts.

Many Thousands Of Nurses Are Needed in Nation

Although 325,000 practical nurses are employed in hospitals throughout the country, there is a need for thousands of additional nurses according to the United States Department of Labor. Surveys indicate that at least 409,700 additional practical nurses must be trained this year.

To meet this critical shortage of practical nurses the Glenwood Career Schools, 7050 Glenwood Avenue, Chicago, have installed a nursing course under the direction of Allen Bayer, M. D. and Bernard Tumarkin, M. D. This course has been clinically tested over a period of years by the doctors.

The course is open to all qualified applicants, and R. C. Anderson, president of the school, points out that age in the nursing field is no barrier. "In the nursing field, unlike many other professions, maturity is an asset rather than a liability," he said.

The doctors designed this course to train students for work in convalescent homes, hospitals and clinics, in the industrial field and in private homes where a registered nurse is not necessary. "The practical nurse cannot take the place of the registered nurse, but a properly trained practical nurse can handle less serious cases, thereby freeing a registered nurse for other duty," Anderson said.

In its latest job guide, the Department of Labor emphasizes that the need for trained practical nurses, at top peak now, will undoubtedly increase within the next few years.

API Leader Says Oil Industry Is Ready for Call

NEW YORK, August 15 — The American oil industry is better prepared than ever to meet any national emergency, Frank M. Porter, president of the American Petroleum Institute, said today in an open letter to oil men in all parts of the U. S.

Mr. Porter pointed out that the nation's capacity to produce and refine petroleum, as well as its proved reserves of underground oil, have increased by approximately 25% since the peak demand of World War II for oil products. He added that this growth has been due to the fact that during the past five years, American oil companies plowed back into their businesses more than eight billion dollars for exploration and development, and to provide new facilities.

Porter's letter says: "On every hand, American oil men have been questioned as to the industry's ability to meet the nation's needs. Each of you, of course, knows the possibilities of his own operations, but it may be helpful to appraise the position of the industry as a whole.

"The American oil industry is better prepared today than ever before to meet the national emergency. Our domestic capacity to produce and refine petroleum has increased around 25% since the peak demands of World War II—during which the Armed Forces of this nation and its Allies never lacked for oil, and all essential civilians needs were met.

"In the months immediately ahead, with minor dislocations to be expected, we should be able to furnish all of the military demands for oil products and to supply the civilian needs for gasoline and heating oils.

"Based on the assumption that the military need for oil will increase only as greater amounts of equipment are engaged in using it, there should be no demand in the immediate future that the industry cannot readily supply."

FARM MORTGAGE DEBT DOWN

A handful of states, mostly in the Grain Belt, are primarily responsible for the fact that total U. S. farm mortgage debt currently is over a billion dollars lower than it was a decade ago, according to figures compiled by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

As a matter of fact, 25 of the 48 states had a greater farm mortgage debt outstanding at the beginning of this year than a decade before. Some of the gains were substantial, with Florida's mortgage debt up 66% in the period and New Mexico's mortgage debt up more than 100%.

In the aggregate, the farm mortgage debt outstanding in these 25 states on January 1 this year added up to $2.1 billions, or 39% of the total U. S. farm mortgage debt at that time, as against $1.8 billions on only 28% of the national total at the start of 1940. The gain for these states combined for the 10-year period was thus close to $300 millions, or 15%.

In contrast were the individual and combined showings of the states of Massachusetts, Illinois, Minnesota, Iowa, North Dakota, South Dakota, and Nebraska. Together these eight states had $1.2 billions in farm mortgages outstanding on Jan. 1 this year, or close to a billion dollars under their total of nearly $2.2 billions at the beginning of 1940. Their aggregate proportion of the national total thus went down from 33% in 1940 to 22% in 1950.

All these states showed debts gains last year, but despite the reversal their current farm mortgage debt combined is still approximately $200 millions lower than at the beginning of 1946, the date which witnessed the smallest national total of farm mortgage debt in several decades.

Nationally, farm mortgage debt in the aggregate fell from $6.6 billions at the beginning of 1940 to the low point of $4.7 billions at the start of 1946, and has increased $700 millions since. Only 15 of the 48 states follow this broad pattern with regard to their own mortgage debt trends. These states together had $2.1 billions in farm mortgages outstanding on Jan. 1 this year as against $2.6 billions 10 years ago. Curiously, their combined proportion of the total U. S. farm mortgage debt was exactly the same in both years — 39%.

Most of the 25 states in which the farm mortgage debt now outstanding exceeds that at the start of the last war are in the South and in the Far West.

Trappers Face Continued Lull

Austin, Aug. 15—The Director of Wildlife Restoration for the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission said Saturday no new boom has been sighted for Texas trappers of furbearing animals.

He explained the reason twofold. The price of furs continues depressed. Muskrats, the main source of fur income in Texas, bare still near the bottom of their cycle.

Thus the farm boy who depends on an occasional fur bearer for his spending money and the professional trapper will have to look to other means of income for the time being.

Not so many years ago, trappers did very well, even during the recent war. More than 15,000 trapping licenses were sold in the fiscal years of 1945-46 and 1946-1947. Then muskrats were still plentiful and prices were higher than today.

Individual trapping licenses cost $1.00. Retail fur buyers' licenses cost $5.00. Wholesale dealers' licenses are $25.00.

The Director of Wildlife Restoration noted that about 10,000 trapping licenses were sold in the fiscal year 1948-49, the last year in which this information was recorded. This is a drop of about one-third from the preceding years.

Emphasis on the coming trapping season has just been made because of the seasons set by the Commission for the new 18 county regulatory area in the Panhandle. The general trapping season there is the same as the general state law or for the months of
