CITY MANAGER SAYS

Police Station Is 'Inadequate'

Practically all facilities at Colorado City's present police station are inadequate by modern safety and efficiency standards, City Manager R. K. Sneathen said this week.

The present police department is located in the basement of the City Hall building.

Voting is scheduled for Oct. 8 on a $35,000 bond issue for a new police building.

Present facilities branded as inadequate by the city manager include the radio room, municipal court, office space, storage space and reception area.

In addition, Sneathen pointed out that no place is provided for police coming on and off duty to leave their personal belongings. There is no available space for confidential interrogation and no place to keep evidence, recovered stolen goods or police records.

The radio room does not meet the standards set up by the Federal Communications Commission, Sneathen said. In order to meet these standards the radio room must be isolated from interruption by the general public.

Sneathen also pointed out that the National Safety Council recommends that long-range plans for a community should include a fully equipped traffic court room.

The present court room doubles as an office for Police Chief James Coker and as an interrogation room.

Sneathen condemned the flight of stairs leading down to the police headquarters as unsafe for transporting prisoners, since a large part of police activity deals with drunk and disorderly cases.

After prisoners are down the stairs and into the station, there is no place to put them except in the reception room, Sneathen said.

Persons on legitimate business including women and children must use the same entrance and reception room as disorderly prisoners. The only place available to hold temporary prisoners is in the reception room.

There is no available place to hold overnight drunks except in the county jail with county and state prisoners, Sneathen said.

He added that the City Hall has no space at present to provide all the necessary facilities for the police department. The only way the police can get the space they need is through passage of the upcoming bond issue, he said.

The car in the background churns through hilly water, faring better than a half-dozen other vehicles which stalled at the intersection during the downpour.

FOR TAX EQUALIZATION

Firm Completes First Phase of Property Revaluation Program

Initial reports of progress were issued Thursday as the first phase of a county-wide revaluation survey of all property near completion here.

The survey, being conducted by the F.W. Worth firm of Pritchard and Abbott, is scheduled to take approximately one year to complete.

Work toward property revaluation for county tax purposes was begun here early in August after the Mitchell County Commissioners Court had approved the action.

Bill Pratt, official of Pritchard and Abbott who is in charge of the local survey, told the Record Thursday that the second phase of the revaluation program will begin shortly.

He said that a valuation card for each piece of property within the city limits of Westbrook, Colorado and Colorado City had already been prepared.

The correct legal description and present owner of the property has been recorded and the lot dimensions calculated and placed on the cards.

Lead records for the past several years have been searched to determine the actual amount for which properties have sold, Pratt said.

The second phase of the program will consist of inspecting each improvement to ascertain the correct square footage of each building, the type of construction and material used in the building and depreciation and obsolescence factors.

This information, plus the assessment court which is emphasized, will be used to determine the fair market value of the property.

Individual inspection and appraisal of all farm and ranch lands within the county will be conducted in a similar manner after completion of the second phase of the survey, he said.

When this is achieved, Pratt pointed out, each county property owner will pay only his fair share of the tax burden.

According to Chambers, Reeves' wife hit the side of the Ford as it passed, struck the Buick and overturned.

Damage to the Ford was placed at $30. The Buick and Pontiac were both adjudged total losses.

In the first of two Sunday collisions, a 1954 Chevrolet sedan driven by Wayne Lee Thurman, Star Route, Colorado City, struck a fence and a large rock at the side of the road after the right front tire blew out at 9:45 a. m. Sunday.

Extensive damage to Thurman's car was estimated at $500. The one-car crash occurred five and one-half miles northwest of Colorado City on Farm-to-Market Road 1229 (to Culbuck).

A second mishap on U. S. Highway 80, about a half-mile east of Colorado City, injured one person at 8:50 p. m. Sunday.

A 1953 Buick sedan driven by Sylvester Rose of Lodi, Cal., was involved in a collision with a 1954 Chevrolet sedan driven by Donald Charles Dickey, a student at McMurry College in Abilene.

Dickey's wife was taken to Ross Memorial Hospital by Colorado City officer Jesse Bunch. Tuesday afternoon, it was said, she was released after treatment.

Kizer and son, Jimmie, claimed to be injured. According to officers, Dickey's car struck the rear of Rose's car, pushing it into a ditch. Both cars were damaged.

It took about 15 minutes to get the cars out of the ditch. Dickey's car was towed to the city garage. Rose's car was towed to a private garage.

Loss High For Three Smashups

A series of three auto crashes sent a young Abilene woman and a 43-year-old Lubbock man to Ross Memorial Hospital during the past five days, totally demolishing two automobiles and damaging four others.

In the latest highway mishap, Samuel Winston Reeves, a commercial photographer who gave his address as 2002 Slide Road in Lubbock, narrowly escaped death late Wednesday night in a three-car collision seven miles south of Colorado City.

Reeves was driven to Colorado City by Dr. L. Franklin Jr., who lives south of here. Franklin, a physician, happened on the scene of the collision shortly after 10 p. m. Sunday.

Attendants at Ross Memorial Hospital listed Reeves' condition as "good" Thursday afternoon. He was suffering from bruises and lacerations, but was not believed to be seriously injured.

According to Highway Patrolman A. Chambers, the accident occurred on Highway 208 near the Payne community when Reeves' 1955 Pontiac station wagon, headed north, sidwheeled a parked 1947 Ford coupe and struck a 1954 Buick sedan head on.

Chambers said that the driver of the Ford, Moses Garcia Garza of Colorado City, a Texas National Guardsman, Corporate employee, had blown a tire on the Ford earlier and had called his wife to come to his aid.

Mrs. Garcia arrived in a 1954 Buick sedan, Chambers said, and parked near her husband's car with her lights on, so that Garcia could see to change the tire.

Both Garcia and his wife were outside their automobiles when the collision took place and both avoided injury.

The bride was given in marriage by her mother.

She wore a street-length dress of white tulle with a wide, low design. The sleeveless ensemble featured a sweet heart neckline and fitted skirt with soft pleats at center back. The bodice was covered with a lace jacket styled with long pointed stand up collar. The jacket buttoned at the lower edge.

Her finger-tip veil of nylon tulle was attached to a satin cap accented with pearls. She carried a bouquet of white gladioli, tied with gladioli buds and streamers, with a white Bible.

She wore a string of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom which served as the traditional something new. A garter was her something borrowed and blue.

Mrs. Curtis Baker, organist, played prelude wedding music and accompanied Benton Cain as he sang "O Promise Me" and "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Lord's Prayer".

Miss Nella Sanders was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a light aqua tulle dress with embossed figures. The bodice was fashioned with softly shirred side fronts and a V-shaped neckline. The skirt was fully gathered.

She wore short white gloves and carried a cascading bouquet of pink gladioli. Her head piece of matching aqua tulle was embellished with seed pearls.

Bridesmaid was Miss Alice Sanders, the bride's sister. Bridesmatron was Mrs. Roy Leonard of Midland.

They wore dresses styled identically to that of the maid of honor's attire and carried cascading bouquets of gladioli.

Norman Sanders Jr., the bride's brother, and Laura Etta Goff, the bridegroom's sister, lighted candles.

Roy Leonard of Midland was best man, James Barber and Eugene McWhorter of Temple, cousin of the bride, were groomsmen.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Sanders wore a two-piece suit of dusty blue cotton and down the front bodice. Complementing her attire were navy blue accessories and a white carnation corsage.

Mrs. Barnes and Mrs. Jones wore navy blue dresses, which were complemented by white carnation corsages.

One corner of the refreshment table was marked with a blue circular archway topped by white bells, and a miniature bride and groom. An arrangement of white carnations provided a backdrop for the setting.

Blue satin ribbons, extended from the bouquet to the opposite corner where they were caught by white carnations and fell in streamers. "Mars" and "Jerry" were written in silver glitter on the ribbons.

White napkins were inscribed with the couple's names in blue. Silver and crystal appointments were used. Refreshments were cake, topped with blue icing, and pineapple sherbert.

Registry was accented by a white carnation corsage. An arrangement of pink roses and bridal wreath also decorated the living room.

Approximately 60 guests were registered during the come-and-go affair.

LOOKING FOR LOBOES—Colorado High football team is well blessed with fullbacks this season. Handling the backfield position for the team are Dickie Richardson, left, 165-pound sophomore, and Barker Cade, 148-pound senior. They will both see action Friday at Monahans.

Wolf Quarterbacks Injured As Squad Preps for Lobos

Colorado High Wolves football team may be without its field general Friday night in Monahans.

Richard Compton, Wolf quarterback and top ground passer, was sidelined this week with an ankle injury. Doctors are doubtful whether the 154-pound senior will be able to play Friday in the Wolves game at Monahans.

Compton's injury leaves the Wolves without an "injury free" varsity quarterback. Bob Caffey, 170-pound junior, was injured in his knee in the Ballinger game and will be out of action for several weeks.

If Compton is unable to go Friday, Head Coach Bob Reily will call on B-teamer Don Welter, 135-pound junior with very little football experience.

Welter moved here recently from Sweetwater. He was out of action last year at Sweetwater due to an injury.

Welter has been working with the varsity in practice sessions this week.

Other than the quarterback injuries, the Wolves are in good physical condition for the third game of the season.

James "Shoemaker" starting right end, was injured a shoulder injury this week but will probably be well for the Friday game.

Jimmy Richardson and Barker Smith, both varsity ends, were all the first of the week with flu but have recovered.

Wolves will be seeking their second win of the season after dropping Saturday 24-0 in the season opener and then losing to Ballinger 19-6 last week.

Monahans is always tough on their home grounds. Two years ago, Wolves knocked the Lobos all out the field but thanks to the officials, Monahans came out victorious.

The officials for this Friday's game have been thoroughly investigated, according to the coaching staff.

Wolves will be meeting another big team this week, nothing as monstrous as Ballinger, but still large.

Lobos' line will outweigh the Wolves' forward wall 10 pounds per man with an average of 177 pounds to the Wolves' 167.

The backfields of the two teams will be about the same.

Monahans has played only one game this season. They opened play against Tule, winning 12-6. Last week they had an open date.

Monahans' home offensive formation is the single wing, probably the only time this year that the Wolves will face the formation.

They stick to the ground game, majority of the time, according to Wolf scouts.

And heading that ground game is probably one of the fastest little backs the team will face this year. He's Bud Ballard, 145-pound junior, scabbard.

Ballard's big running ability in the backfield is Herbert Paces, 200-pound fullback who lettered two years prior at a tackle position.

"He's big and runs hard," said Coach Larry Morton after scouting the Lobos.

Blocking back is Johnnie Winder, 160-pounder, and the wing back is Doyle Eubank, 145 pounds, probably the weakest man in the backfield.

The Lobos' line is uniform in size. The ends, Jimmy Muldrow and Scotty Adams, weigh 184 and 178 pounds, respectively.

Tackles are Bryan Stucky, 188, and Weldon Price, 190. Stucky is a junior and Price a sophomore up from the frosh team.

At guards are Philip Pierce, 182-pound junior, and Tommy McLain, 150-pound senior, the light box on the team.

Norman Barfield, 160-pound junior, is the starting center.

Muldrow is the top lineman and is expected to be one of the tackles at his linebacker post.

On defense, the Lobos use a sophomore giant, Dan Webster, 270, at the center guard slot.

"He doesn't move," he just

Joe Maddox, 190, lines the guard duty.

At halfbacks will be Don Black, 133, Fred Womack, 128, or Lucky Merkle, 135.

Expected to split the duties at fullback will be Barker Cade, 148, and Dickie Richardson, 165.

Since Caffey's injury, the Wolves will go with another player into the defensive line up at the linebacker post.

Several hundred Wolf fans are expected to make the 130-mile trip to make the team.

North Texas State team, 14-13, last Saturday to open its football season, but had to throw a 66-yard scoring pass in the fading minutes to pull back from near defeat.

On the other hand, West Texas State has proved to be "the team to beat" for the championship in its first two games. The Buffs upped McMurry, 20-7, in their first game and ground Texas Tech into submission by a 19-0 score Saturday night in Lubbock. So convincing were the Buff victories that the West Texans are rated "at least as good" as any team in the conference.

On May night's conflict shapes up as a contest between the speed and sheer power. Texas Western's speed was the difference against North Texas State, as swift halfback Don Maynard of Colorado City, returned an intercepted pass 48 yards for one touchdown and gathered in a pass from Quarterback Bob Larba for a 66-yard scoring play.

Both teams are scheduled to meet in a game which they scored their victories in quite different tactics. While Paul Free, 160, and Tom Weaver, 170, will be the starters, West Texas' defense is quite different. Paul Free, 160, and Tom Weaver, 170, will be the starters, West Texas' defense is quite different.

RECORD NUMBER OF ENTRIES

Bill Everett, Jess Bolin Win Top Prizes in Grid Guessing

Bill Everett, ex-Colorado City coach and now of the Highway Department, was the big winner in last week's Record football guessing contest.

Everett, 47, an ardent follower of the gridiron sport, won two tickets to the Saturday game at Lubbock, matching the national Tech against the national Texas A&M College.

But all the glory doesn't go to Everett.

In fact, Jess V. Bolin Sr., 2124 Locust, shop foreman for Grand Dock-Witten, matched Everett game for game and both ended in a dead heat.

Discounting the Lamar vs. El Paso game which was cancelled and the Kansas Tech game which ended in a tie, Everett and Bolin picked every winner and were only seven points off on the key score.

Everett's key score was Ballinger 20, C City 12 while Bolin picked Ballinger 13, C City 7.

In each instance, the key scores were only seven points away from the correct score of Ballinger 19, C City 6.

To break the tie, their names were placed in a box. Drawing for the winner was Bill Quimby, president of the Quarterback Club with a group of interested persons looking on.

Bolin wins second prize, a one year subscription to the Record.

But the Bolin family didn't stop there. Mrs. Bolin won fourth place and a prize of two movie passes with only one incorrect pick and a key score of Ballinger 14, C City 7.

Finishing third place was Mrs. Maberry Wynn, who didn't miss a game and picked the key score Ballinger 13, C City 0. She was two movie passes too.

It was the roughest competition the contest has seen this year. And the largest number of entries, which ran into the hundreds.

Barely finishing out of the money was Gene Garner, a Texas Tech ex who lives at 908 E. 13th. He missed one game, SMU over Tech, and was off on the key score only seven points.

Other persons missing only one game were Mrs. J. V. Bolin Jr., Mrs. J. D. Williams and Mrs. Al Byrd.

Persons who missed two games were Mrs. Bill Everett, Billy Hammond, Toby Deareh, Mrs. E. J. Lelek, Joe Salter, Anne Dark, Walter Don Delaney, Elinor Jefferson, Willie H. Jones of Corsicana, Pete Warren, Lawrence Feaster, Drew Ballard, Francis Winn, Ed Rothwell, J. V. Bolin Jr., Maberry Wynn, Goodwin Simpson, Bob Ratliff, James E. McMullin, Mrs. T. V. Tipton, Kent Womack.

Jimmy House, James Trammell, Bob Caffey, Howard Cain, Homer G. Jefferson, Mrs. J. H. Forrester, J. H. Forrester, Roy Weatherly, Mrs. E. Talley, Willis Jones, Carol Burdine, Virgil Hendley, Steve Smith, Linda Kay Higgins, Glenn Thomas, C. G. Harkins, Don Benson, Mrs. De Lou Baker and Mrs. Gene Garner.

A large group of persons missed three and four games.

This week's contest features Texas Tech-L.S.U. tickets as first prize. The game will be played Oct. 5 in Lubbock.

Key game is Colorado City at Monahans. There are close games in both the high school and college tilts. One game on the contest was placed on by mistake—the Coaltona vs. L'Araine game.

Sell-Out Game At Lubbock for A&M-Tech Tilt

Texas A&M, in the top ten of all major national rankings, meets Texas Tech before an anticipated sell-out in Jones Stadium here Saturday night.

All reserved seats have been sold for three weeks, and at the first of the week only 2,000 end zone seats remained on sale.

Bear Bryant's Aggies, 21-13 winners over Maryland in a nationally televised contest Saturday, are prohibitive favorites over the Red Raiders, who lost to West Texas State 19-0.

Despite the Raiders' loss, Tech Coach DeWitt Weaver was encouraged by several phases of the Raiders' showing. "They never gave up and hit hard throughout," Weaver said of his team. Although Tech got only to the one-yard line in the last second of play, the Raider defense functioned well for an opening game even surpassing the Buffaloes' yards-per-play in rushing.

DON FLIPPIN, starting end.

WELDON ENNIS, at guard.

Flippin, Ennis To See Action Against A&I

A pair of former Colorado City High School football standouts, Don Flippin and Weldon Ennis, are expected to see considerable action for the McMurry College Indians this week against Texas A&I.

Flippin, 6-2, 190, apparently has won a starting position at end. He was in the lineup for both the West Texas tilt and the Howard Payne College game.

Ennis, 185-pound, 5-10 guard is expected to bolster an inexperienced line.

Both players figure prominently in Coach Tommy Ellis plans for the 1957 season.

The Indians meet A&I Saturday night in Kingsville. In their first two games, West Texas won 20-7, while Howard Payne squeezed by 60-0 in last weekend's tilt played in a steady downpour.

Importance of Irrigation

A contributing factor and a mighty important one to the overall agricultural production of Texas' farms and ranches is irrigation.

R. A. Thummond, extension agricultural engineer-irrigation, has just released a statewide summary which points up the great economic importance that supplemental water plays in the state's economy. Figures were collected from each county in the state relative to the total number of acres irrigated; number of irrigated farms; acres irrigated by gravity; number of sprinkler systems; number of irrigation wells; acres irrigated from ground water and the acreages of the principal crops irrigated in each of the counties. County agricultural agents supplied the information and Thummond made the final compilation.

The total land under irrigation in Texas now stands at 6,962,231 acres. This compares with a total of 6,288,022 acres in 1955 (figures are from a sample survey). In June 1957 when the figures were taken, 39,706 farms were listed as being irrigated. Only 10 counties in the state reported no others.

The number of irrigation wells rose from 42,674 in 1955 to 54,994 in 1957. The number of sprinkler systems in use almost doubled during this same period with a 200,000-acre increase in the land thus irrigated.

Grain sorghums on almost 2.3 millions of acres were the principal crop irrigated. Cotton was a close second with almost 2.2 millions of acres under irrigation. Other major crops included wheat, rice, vegetables, pastures, alfalfa, field corn, oats and barley, forage sorghums, orchards and irrigation.

Hale county with 500,000 acres under irrigation leads all counties in this respect but is closely followed by Swisher with 480,000 acres. Many other counties in this same general area have in excess of 300,000 acres under irrigation. Counties in the Lower Rio Grande Valley and the rice belt are also among the leading counties.

Copies of the report may be obtained from Thummond's office at College Station.

Alarming Proposal

There is good reason for alarm over the recent recommendation of the Commission on Government Security that would make it a federal crime to publish information which had, by any means, "leaked" past government security arrangements.

All responsible American journalists recognize the need for safeguarding information that would affect the national security or defense. But once a secret escapes through government doors, through some failure of its custodians, federal power to suppress it by fines and prison sentences upon America's citizens and press could be terribly more dangerous than the security "leak" itself.

History makes it tragically clear that punishing the press for publishing facts is fatal to a nation's freedom. Aware of this, the framers of the first ten amendments to the U. S. Constitution provided that "Congress shall make no law—abridging the freedom of speech or of the press." And this principle has precedence as the first article of our Bill of Rights, not to favor the press but to perpetuate our people's freedom to be informed.

The violation of this principle proposed by the so-called Wright Commission would reduce our national law to the level of Peron's dictatorship in Argentina, where news reporters and their papers were subject to prosecution for the crime of truth.

BIBLE COMMENT:

Money's Value Lies In Benefits for All

A farmer can't sow a few seeds and then sit down to wait for a grand harvest. He must scatter seed, knowing that some will not fructify due to one type of blight or another.

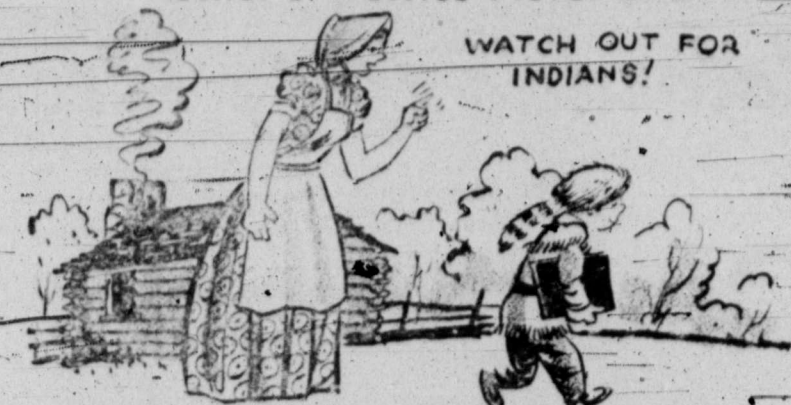

As this is true in the physical world it is true in the spiritual world. We cannot reap a harvest of kindness unless we sow liberally our own seeds of kindness. We cannot have a life of richness and fullness if we are self-centered and callous to our fellow man.

The man who withholds his grain from the people who are starving has upon him, as the writer of the Proverbs says, the people's curse. Blessings are upon the head of the man who does not hoard but makes his grain available.

However, this is not merely a matter of the cursing of one man or the blessing of another. They are cursed or they are blessed inherently in their deeds. A wise man long ago said that a man who places his trust in his riches has placed his confidence in something that will fail him.

There comes a time, although it may be only in the hour of death, when a man's riches fail him and are worthless. Years ago a newspaper picture showed strikingly an illustration of a shipwreck. Going

WATCH OUT FOR CARS!

Behind Front Page

By Bill Sloan

TRAVELING THE HIGHWAY between Colorado City and Dallas, one may notice if he is observant that he passes through two different types of towns along his route.

As a matter of fact, there are only two types of towns remaining in the United States. The first type is growing, perhaps not at a rapid rate, but the pace is fast enough to be discernable to the passer-by. It is building not great skyscrapers in most cases, but gradually replacing the old with the new and adding a little extra.

The second type is dying. Its dying is not of the sudden death variety; it's the slow, creeping kind that most people don't see until it's too late to do anything about it.

Most people once they stop to think about it, could list the names of the towns that are growing and the towns that are dying.

There is no such thing as standing still anymore—not where towns are concerned. Already hit where it hurts by the march of unrelenting progress, small towns everywhere and especially those with their main source of income derived from farming, are facing a grim struggle for survival during the next few years.

Today, as never before, the farmer, farm towns and farm economy stand with their backs to the wall.

In many places, population is dwindling steadily and will continue to do so. The big cities have too much to offer in the areas of recreation, jobs, conveniences, bright lights, glamor and excitement.

AND THE YOUNGER small town people are giving it up and going to the city and no area can perpetuate itself without its youth.

To remain in business, farm towns are faced with the necessity of diversifying their economies. For the small town, industry has become essential to longevity.

Only progressive minds and people who are not afraid of outside ideas can save the small towns of the nation.

IN THE ABOVE respects, Colorado City is to be congratulated. Our town deserves a pat on the back from a hand with crossed fingers.

Industrial development is progressing here; petroleum is a steady source of income, and this fall, prospects are good for the best crop in years.

The city has launched a number of projects in a rapid move toward permanent progress.

Included in these projects are slum clearance, year-round recreation, adequate police facilities, more parks, more paved streets and an airport to handle expanding traffic in the future.

But, even so, it is too early to discontinue the pump-priming operation.

AT THE RISK OF BEING too original, we have lifted the following advisory comments from the Shawnee, Okla., NEWS-STAR. They are entitled "Guaranteed Directions for Producing a Ghost Town."

1. Tell everyone you meet that you never buy anything at home; the merchants take a bunch of crooks, robbers and cheats.

2. Belittle all efforts for community betterment—the people trying to do these things are secretly making a lot of money, want to "run things" and their way of doing things is all wrong anyway.

3. Never waste money by advertising or waste time trying to attract trade to the town—nobody reads the ads, there is never anything in the paper, it's always late, and why should anyone want to come to town if it's a dead place.

4. Turn down all appeals for contributions; and do it in a nasty way so you won't be bothered again, because the money collected is eventually stolen by some "higher ups" anyway.

5. Refuse to serve on all committees—have nothing to do with civic organizations—the chamber-of-commerce never does anything and is run by a bunch of dim-wits who want only to get their names before the public. All the city officials are in office to get a share of the graft.

6. Knock the town, knock its industries, knock the schools and churches, keep repeating the town is going to the dogs, things are better other places, to invest in such a dead place would be the height of foolishness, and keep on.

THERE'S MORE, but by now, we're sure you get the idea. It's easy to have grass growing in the streets.

Poll Taxes Will Go on Sale to Texas Voters Beginning Oct. 1

By VERN SANFORD, Texas Press Association

"Tickets" for Texas' 1958 political ballot go on sale next week. Poll taxes, $1.75 each, can be bought from Oct. 1 until Jan. 31.

Holdings of the small white tax receipts not only can watch, but participate in the semi-annual struggle to decide who'll be "top dog" for the next two years. In the ring will be contenders for the offices now held by U. S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough, Gov. Price Daniel, Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey, and so on down the line.

"Ticket" holders also can attend their Democratic Party precinct conventions next May, where the first round of a fight for party control will be staged.

Assuming you have $1.75, paying a poll tax shouldn't be hard. Dozens of groups—Jaycees, labor unions, Women Voters, etc.—plan massive drives. Most voters probably will be able to find a poll tax selling booth within blocks.

Exact number of potential voters is not known, of course. But some civic leaders hope as many as three million persons will pay poll taxes. Previous record is 2,410,188 for 1956, a presidential election year.

Another peak is expected in 1960, when census projections show more than 5½ million should be eligible to vote in Texas.

Oil Quotas Sag

Lean days are ahead for Texas' top industry, oil.

After three months on an all-time low, producing pattern of 13 days, the Railroad Commission cut the October production to 12 days. Daily allowable will be 2,964,062 barrels.

Major oil buyers at the Commission hearing indicated that any more production would result in an oversupply.

For a state heavily dependent on oil tax revenue and already faced with fiscal problems, the oil cut means tough times for the state budgeters.

More Taxes Due

Even before the oil slash, the Legislative Budget Board had some hard facts to share with Texas taxpayers.

By 1958, says the Board, the average Texan will pay 64 cents of each dollar he earns in state taxes. This is compared to 53 cents per dollar in '57.

WHAT THEY SAY . . . in west texas

"MAKE PICKLE IS A NAME all Texas Democrats should jot down in their little black books and never forget."

"It was Jake Pickle, Allan Shivers' former publicity agent and architect of Shivers' campaign of slander and smear, who invented the dishonorable and fallacious 'Port Arthur Story,' later admitted by some of its exponents to be a trick 'to capture the negro vote.'"

"It was Jake Pickle who in 1956 took over for Price Daniel in his bid for governor, inventing some of those notorious and untruthful morals of propaganda used against Ralph Yarborough."

"And now it is Jake Pickle who has recently been hired on a full time basis by the Democratic State Executive Committee to rebuild the fences of that badly bent organization which, under its Shiversite leadership, perpetrated the scandalous steal last September at the Fort Worth convention when legally elected delegates were refused seats because they refused to go along with the Shivers-Daniel faction. And it was this same organization which tried to pass the Flood Bill in an effort to keep Yarborough out of the senate."

"Political salary is reported at $20,000."

"H. M. BAGGARLY in the TULSA HERALD."

"DON'T PUT YOUR pencil to figuring the future of grain sorghum prices. Unless some very big 'ifs' can be converted into 'bets,' the support and market prices for milo are apt to shrink like a $1 shirt in a tub of hot suds."

"Right now the outlook is as black as the inside of a brunette's eye. If enough of the current crop and that part of the 1956 crop that is being carried over could all be stuffed into brunette cows and whiteface cows, chickens, pigs and such, there wouldn't be any problem."

"Trouble is, apparently, just about everybody discovered what good feed our easily produced grain sorghum really is, all in the same year."

"At best, the milo producers'

State Capital NEWS

It's the inevitable result of a billion-dollar-a-year budget, say the fiscal experts. They attribute the soaring expenses to inflation and citizen demand for more government services.

As to paying for it, the Board says "All taxes ultimately come from the individual. There's no one else to pay them."

On the brighter side, State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert reported the state started the new fiscal year this fall in the black. Calvert's report showed Texas took in approximately $100,000,000 more than it spent up to Aug. 31.

A Westbrook man, Joe MacDonald Grisham, 36, was killed when his car plunged off an overpass about 15 miles east of Big Spring.

Funeral services were held at Loraine for A. C. Taylor, 71-year-old native of Tennessee, who had lived in Mitchell County for 30 years.

Governor Daniel also announced the three representatives who will be in charge of getting water planning legislation through the House during the special session. They are Fens W. N. Bill Woolsey of Corpus Christi, Rep. Leroy Paul of Cross and Rep. Bill Shaw of Porrey.

At the third annual Water for Texas conference at College Station, Gibb Gilchrist, conference flounder, called creation of one central water agency as the state's greatest need.

By MRS. J. C. WOMACK, Record Correspondent.

CUTHBERT Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Black took their daughter, Joyce, to Stephenville last Saturday where she enrolled at Tarleton State College as a freshman student.

Mrs. Don Norrell and daughter, Joyce, are guests in the home of Mrs. Norrell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Pace of Cuthbert.

MORE PEOPLE DRIVE CHEVROLETS THAN ANY OTHER CAR

COAST-TO-COAST ECONOMY RUN PROVES IT— CHEVY COSTS LESS TO DRIVE!

Test run from Los Angeles to New York by the three leading low-priced cars showed Chevrolet costs less to operate, with up to 17% greater fuel economy!

When fuel and operating costs for cars are officially checked for 2,873 miles, from Los Angeles to New York, what happens? In the certified findings of the NATA*, Chevrolet delivered up to 17% greater fuel economy, and lower total cost for the trip—proof that Chevrolet costs least to operate of the three leading low-priced cars that were tested!

This economy record only confirms Chevy's reputation for money-saving ways. You get Chevrolet engines to wring extra miles out of a gallon of gas—just as you expect finer craftsmanship in the way a Chevrolet is built. Why wait to put new sparkle—and economy—in the miles you drive? See your Chevrolet dealer soon!

THE LOCAL BUSINESS SCENE

Good Offense Is Best Slump Cure

By JOE BOATRIGHT, Record Advertising Mgr.
During the nationwide slump in automobile sales last year, one agency had increased sales while others were losing business. When the interview started the dealer handed the reporter copies of a local newspaper.
"We have no secrets. You will find the answer to your question in our newspaper advertising."
"We believe a good offense is the best defense. You will see we stepped up our local advertising to meet the threat of a depressed market."
"Sure—the national advertising of our manufacturer convinced people that we have a good car, but that is not enough in a tough market.

It took hard selling—local advertising to bring customers to our showroom which is the only place we can sell automobiles.

He pointed out that some of the things included in his local advertising that could not be carried in national advertising are details on financing, prices, trade-in allowances, special programs—and the dynamic personality of the agency itself.

In other words, local newspaper advertising is the same as the radio type you read in your Colorado City Record. It is a necessary ingredient of a successful advertising campaign on which immediate action is based. The need for including effective action information is a basic advertising principle, no matter the location.

Return to Loraine After Week's Visit

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Matthews returned home to Loraine Friday from Weatherford, where they visited during the past week with Mrs. Meadows, father, J.K. Mahon and Mrs. Mahon.
Mr. and Mrs. Mahon returned to Loraine with them to visit in their home and with other relatives this week.

In putting the old principle to work the dealer recognized the fact that effective action information is an element in advertising which must be supplied locally, since all sales are made at the local level.

He chose the local newspaper as the best proved medium for stimulating local action.

"I know it's Colorado City's best-tasting milk!"

"I've always been proud of my milk. Under Borden's strict quality control, I'm doubly proud because it's better than ever. So, when someone tells me their family drinks Borden's, I know they're drinking the best-tasting milk they can buy. It's produced with pride by me and your other farm neighbors. For nourishing, fresher milk with finer flavor—I recommend Borden's. It's got to be good."
