FBI Solves Kidnap Case Of Young Frank Sinatra

Find Most Of Ransom

HOSTAGES INTERVIEWED—Cornelius Bloot, left, of Holland, and Kurt Brumaster, right, of West Germany, are interviewed by newsmen in the building where they are being held as hostages by Bolivian tin miners near Catavi, Bolivia. Bloot is manager of the Catavi Department of Mines and Brumaster is a technician. Fifteen hostages are being held by the miners who are demanding that the government free two Communist mine leaders. HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The Frank Sinatra Jr. kidnaping case was broken today with the arrest of three men, recovery of nearly all the $240,000 ransom and a pre-dawn arraignment of the suspects. With the same quiet efficiency that the FBI used in effecting the safe release of the 19-year-old singing son of the internationally known star, the federal officers announced what they called the solving of the case. Bail for all three was set at $50,000 although a U.S. commissioner at first said he thought it a little low. The three are being held under the federal kidnaping law which stems from the 1932 kidnap-murder of the infant son of Charles A. Lindbergh. Known as the Lindbergh Law, it involves the death penalty if the victim is harmed — a sentence up to life imprisonment if not. Sinatra Jr., was not named. "Thank God, it's over," said Frank Sinatra Sr., spending his fourth night at the home of his former wife, Nancy. The parents, knowing a break was imminent, were reported "awakening it out" with young Frank, 19, and his sisters, Mrs. Nancy Sands, 23, and Tina, 16. The three suspects were identified in an announcement released here and in Washington, as John W. Irwin, 42, of Hollywood; Barry W. Keenan, 23, of Los Angeles, and Joseph Clyde Ansler, 23, of Playa Del Rey, a suburban beach town. The FBI said all three will be charged with kidnaping. If convicted they will face a possible maximum sentence of life imprisonment. Keenan and Ansler were held at the FBI office in Los Angeles. Irwin was held by the FBI in San Diego, according to speculation that he might have been planning to cross the border into Mexico. At the time of his son's safe return, the elder Sinatra told a news conference that the kidnap gang may have numbered from seven to nine persons. "But FBI agent said of the trio captured. "I think we got them all." Keenan, by coincidence, was graduated from University High School in the same class as the younger Sinatra's sister, Nancy. The father of the victim, who had obeyed FBI orders like a good soldier during the 54 hours his son was held by the kidnapers, was lavish in his praise for the federal men. "Credit must go to the FBI for a masterful operation," said the internationally famous singer and Oscar-winning actor. One report that Sinatra had recognized the kidnapers through telescopic movies taken at the early morning dropoff of the ransom money was discounted by a source close to the case, who asked that his name not be used. The FBI was interested in only one thing from last Sunday night, when young Frank was abducted, until his safe return early Wednesday morning and that was his personal welfare. They took no pictures nor did anything else that would have jeopardized his safety," the source added.

Little Chance For Warm-Up This Weekend

By The Associated Press Winter held Texas in an uncomfortable grip today with little chance of better weather expected over the weekend. Temperatures shortly before dawn ranged from 12 at Amarillo and 14 at Dalhart and Childress to 41 at McAllen in the Lower Rio Grande Valley. Skies were partly cloudy to clear in the frigid Panhandle, but the rest of the state was cloudy—or worse. Light snow fell at Midland and a belt of freezing rain and sleet glazed the countryside from near San Angelo to Austin and Lufkin. Light rain fell in the Lower Rio Grande Valley and along the Gulf Coast, reaching far inland in spots. San Antonio, College Station, Houston, Palacios, Corpus Christi, McAllen, Brownsville, Beaumont and Galveston had pre-dawn rain, but none of the precipitation was heavy. Snow plows were pressed into use Friday night near Lamesa where more than 2.50 inches of snow fell. Light snow that fell during the night in North Central Texas and in the Abilene area stopped shortly after midnight. The Texas Highway Department again warned motorists to use caution because of ice on bridges and highways. Snow Friday night extended deep into East Texas with Tyler getting a heavy fall early in the evening. Forecasts said freezing rain in north central, northeastern and some southwestern sections of the state was expected to end during the day. Bearded admirers of Cuba's Fidel Castro guarded windswep passes in the Catavi-Siglo Veinte mining area, 150 miles southeast of La Paz, with smuggled weapons of Communist make. The miners started the military buildup after President Victor Paz Estenssoro Friday night rejected an offer from his leftist vice president, Juan Lechin, boss of the tin miners' union, to resign in exchange for the release of two Communist union leaders jailed by the government on criminal charges. Lechin said the miners were willing to free the hostages as part of the deal. Lechin, leader of a dissident faction in Paz Estenssoro's government party, returned from Catavi Friday. Paz Estenssoro, who has shunned a military showdown in an effort to avoid bloodshed, refused Lechin's demand for the immediate withdrawal of 3,300 government troops and police massed at Oruro, 30 miles north of the mining area. He said the troops would remain at Oruro until the captives are released. The hostages were seized Dec. 6 after the government arrested union leader Federico Escobar and Irineo Pimentel on charges of murder, attempted murder, anarchy and embarrasement. The miners contended they were framed.

Wants Prices Held Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has asked the nation's industrialists and labor leaders to bar any upward spiral of prices and wages. Johnson made his appeal Friday in a talk to members of the Consumer Advisory Council, created by President John F. Kennedy to look after consumer interests. "Like our late President," Johnson said, "I do not believe that the federal government should be a meddling busy-body, sticking its nose into every aspect of private decision making. But I am deeply aware of the fact that a renewal of the price-wage spiral would endanger our domestic expansion and our international balance of payments." Johnson said a number of factors — including the prospect of a 1964 tax cut — should prompt manufacturers on the average, to hold the line on prices" during the year ahead.

Test borings are continuing as calling in Roger Rhoades San Francisco, Calif., international Water District preases its study of a damsite for a new dam. McClelland Engineers of Houston has been at work for the past two weeks on one prospect site immediately west of Robert Lee on the Colorado River. A second rig is being moved in early this week to expedite testing. Estimates are that the work will be completed by Christmas. Depth of the holes alternates from 50 to 100 feet at 500-ft intervals, but on either side of the river, one hole goes to a depth of 200 feet. Besides these core holes, between two and three dozen shallower tests are being sunk for borrow material samples. Meanwhile, the CRMWD is

Cotton Crop Ahead Of Last Year

Although the rain and snow of the past week brought cotton harvesting almost to a halt in Scurry County, the harvest is still far ahead of the comparable week last year. With 31,704 bales already ginned by the nine gins in the county, the crop is estimated at about 89 per cent complete. At this time last year only 21,336 bales had been ginned and estimates were "a little less than half" done in the southeast part of the county to "just well started" in the northwest. The District 2 U. S. D. A. cotton classing office in Abilene which serves Scurry County, has reported that grades are slightly lower than in recent weeks. Twelve percent of the cotton was White cotton, 78 percent was Light Spotted, and 10 percent was Spotted. Middling Light Spot continued to be the predominant grade, with 40 percent of the cotton classed in this category. Thirty-four percent was called Strict Low Middling Light Spot. A little more than one percent of the cotton was reduced in grade due to rough preparation, bark, or grass. Ginning totals reported by the Scurry County gins are: Paymaster, 6,517; Co-op, 6,479; Insdale, 5,691; China Grove, 5,391; Hermleigh, 2,550; Planters in Snyder, 1,585; Ira, 1,490; Planters in Dunn, 1,220; and Planters in Fluvanna, 81.

GOODFELLOWS

It's hard to be businesslike when you're dealing with people's happiness at Christmas. If you were a Goodfellow and had to order the groceries Monday to fill the Christmas baskets, and you didn't have much money on hand, and the money that you did have also had to buy clothes and shoes, what would you do? Well, you'd probably do what the Goodfellows are going to do — buy the groceries on credit — and faith. Yes, to be a Goodfellow one has to have faith. And the Goodfellows do have faith that the people of Snyder will be generous this year. They do ask however, that those clubs and organizations who have voted to help this year let the Goodfellow office know Monday morning how much they can expect. At least that's a little bit businesslike. Clothing, food, toys and donations are all needed now. Donations may be made at either bank or to Box 961. Donations: Mrs. Ed Murphy $5.00, Sgt. Joe Welch 1.00, Mrs. N. J. Sealy 1.00, Earl Abercrombie 10.00, Mrs. J. C. Daughters 24.00, Fellowship Class of First Presbyterian Church 5.00, T. J. Suggest Softer Relations Possible With Red China

An AP News Analysis By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER A.P. Diplomatic Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—A high State Department official has suggested the possibility of future change in the long-rigid U.S. policy of isolation toward Red China provided the Chinese Communists change their attitude toward the outside world.

While warning in effect that the Johnson administration will tolerate no military adventures by China's revolutionary Communist leadership, Roger Hillsman, assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs, said this country is "determined to keep the door open to the possibility of change."

Hillsman's address in San Francisco Friday to the Commonwealth Club was reported to carry White House approval. It also is understood to have been given careful consideration by top government officials.

In the present circumstances of Peking's belligerent hostility toward the United States and the West generally, the address strongly affirmed U.S. policy toward the Chinese Communists as it has been developed over a dozen years.

At its core, this policy involves nonrecognition of the Peking government and opposition to Red China's entry into the United Nations.

Hillsman ruled out any appeasement of Red China and reasserted a policy of firmness "which will make foreign adventure unprofitable."

Era Of American Business Ended With Studebaker's Jolting Decision

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—An era in American business came to a jolting end during the week with Studebaker Corp.'s decision to quit making automobiles in the United States.

The number of major U.S. carmakers, once numbered in the hundreds, was cut to four with Studebaker's withdrawal. The action produced a bleak Christmas outlook for 7,000 workers who will lose their jobs in South Bend, Ind., where Studebaker assembled its cars.

The job crisis became widespread when Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara announced that 26 military bases in the United States will be closed. This meant the elimination of 8,500 civilian jobs. But McNamara said those workers will be offered another job opportunity. Studebaker has been making cars in South Bend for 60 years, and before that was a successful wagonmaker.

The company will continue manufacturing autos at its Hamilton, Ont., plant in Canada at a reduced rate and will supply parts to dealers.

Explaining the decision to abandon production in this country, Chairman Randolph H. Guthrie said Studebaker had lost $40 million since 1959 on its domestic car operations and was being "bled to death" at South Bend.

In the first nine months of this year, when the 1964 models flopped, the company lost $9.8 million.

Elsewhere, the automobile industry is flourishing. Production during the week was estimated at a record 190,700 passenger cars, compared with 187,337 the previous week and 176,109 a year ago.

With the end of the year approaching, the business forecasting season opened in earnest. Here are some of the predictions:

—National Industrial Conference Board—Manufacturers say the outlook for profits is rosy in the first half of 1964.

—McGraw-Hill Publishing Co.—Next year could be the best in business history if there is a tax cut.

—Dr. James J. O'Leary, economic research director, Life Insurance Association of America—A tax reduction would bring the nation substantial economic gains next year.

—Prudential Insurance Co.—The gross national product will climb to $617 billion in 1963

Capital investment will hit a record annual rate of $41.7 billion by mid-1964.

The late-year surge in steel production continued during the week with posting of the seventh weekly gain in a row. Output totaled 2,042,000 tons, up 2 per cent from the previous week.

Stock sales on the New York Stock Exchange totaled 21,884,990 shares compared with 24,140,870 shares the previous week. Bond sales were $45,107,900 par value compared with volume of $65,313,000 the preceding week.

Traffic Deaths Told

AUSTIN (AP)—State police said 2,427 persons had died in 2,002 traffic accidents to noon Friday. Last year, 2,179 had died in 1,739 crashes.

Condemned Eleven Times; Begins Job

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Alvaro Alcorita, a man who knows the living-dead terror of death row, goes to work Monday as a $1.25 an hour laborer. In Huntsville, where Texas' electric chair awaits those condemned by law to die, Alcorita cheated death 11 times in 15 long months. Four times he ate what was supposed to be his last meal. Once he missed the death charge of electricity by just 70 minutes.

What is it like in Huntsville death row?

"The nerves get tight," said Alcorita. "The body goes numb. You don't hear a thing, and you feel like a load is on your back. It's dark."

But after seven years in prison, Alcorita returned here Thursday, and he's a free man. He was convicted in 1955 of the knife slaying of his wife. He drew the death penalty. But the U.S. Supreme Court said the prosecution made the mistake of not telling the jury that the state's star witness had been inmate with Alcorita's wife. The witness said he saw the woman stabbed 32 times.

In 1958, the 44-year-old Alcorita's conviction was reversed and he drew 30 years in prison after pleading guilty. Thursday he was free on parole, and he has that job...and his prayers.

W. Germans Want More Red Trade

By CARL HARTMAN
BONN, Germany (AP)—West Germany, already the biggest trading partner of the Communist bloc, is driving hard to do more business behind the Iron Curtain.

West German officials say it's just a case of businessmen eager to make an honest Deutsche Mark. Their government considers it healthy for the economy to boost exports.

In political dealings with the Communists, however, the West German government takes a stiffer attitude than most other countries in the west.

West Germany is the world's second biggest trader, after the United States. The deals with the Reds amount to about 6 percent of Germany's total.

West Germany's trade with the Communists is expected to come to about $1.39 billion this year, exports and imports combined. Of this, about $437 million is with Communist-ruled East Germany. The West German government still hopes for reunification and regards trade with East Germany as a domestic matter.

If the East German business is left out, West Germany still trades far more with the Eastern bloc than any other country outside the bloc. Britain comes next.

Even so, West German trade with the Communists is on the downgrade. Last year it amounted to $1.50 billion. The peak was in 1960.

One reason for the decline: The Communist countries export mainly farm products and they have had shortages in recent years.

Britain has increased its business in the Communist bloc while West German trade declined.

Gerhard Schroeder, West German foreign minister, has been working on this. West Germany does not have embassies in the Communist countries except for the Soviet Union. Its policy is to refuse full diplomatic relations to countries that recognize the East German Communist regime.

The lack of relations makes trade more difficult. Schroeder has been trying to set up trade missions that have many functions of embassies. Agreements have been signed with Poland, Hungary and Romania. Talks with the Soviet Union are being held. Schroeder has been trying to set up trade missions that have many functions of embassies. Agreements have been signed with Poland, Hungary and Romania. Talks

Says 'Money' Working For Jack Ruby

DALLAS (AP)—Dist. Atty. Henry Wade says that "somebody with lots of money" wants Jack Ruby found innocent of a murder charge.

Wade made the statement Friday when a reporter asked if he knew where Ruby was getting the money to hire West Coast lawyers and a nationally known psychiatrist.

Ruby has hired two California lawyers, another in East Texas and a fourth in Dallas. They say they are arranging for "the very best psychiatrist available" to examine the strip tease club owner.

"We haven't determined where Ruby or his relatives are getting their money, but it's obvious that somebody with lots of money wants Ruby found innocent," the district attorney said.

Melvin Belli of San Francisco, the chief defense lawyer, said a brother, Earl Ruby of Detroit, arranged for him to represent the defendant. Belli declined to discuss fees which defense lawyers would set or arrangements for paying them.

Belli said also that he had arranged to post a $100,000 bond if Judge Joe B. Brown would allow Ruby to go free on bail while awaiting his Feb. 3 trial.

Wade noted that businessmen here customarily charge 15 percent of the amount of the bond. Belli refused to say who would put up the money for Ruby's bond.

Ruby has been held without bond since he shot Lee Harvey Oswald after Oswald was accused of murdering President Kennedy and officer J. D. Tippit.

Wade said he would fight any attempt by Belli to get Judge Brown to set a bond, regardless of the amount.

West German trade with the Soviet Union is expected to reach $312 million this year, against $122 million in 1962. Much of the drop is due to a loss of West German industrial exports. On the insistence of its allies, West Germany canceled Soviet orders for $20 million to $25 million worth of pipe for Soviet oil pipelines. There had been good prospects for more business in this item.

West German exports to Communist China also are dropping sharply this year. Japan is the big competitor.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What is expected of a divorce? When asked on a date, should she tell him she has been married and has children? I did that once, and I got the third degree. "How long was I married?" "Where was my ex-husband now? Why did we split up?" I don't think it's any man's business unless he is serious about pe. Please tell me truthfully, how much should a divorced woman tell a man about herself on the first date?

DEAR DIVORCED MOTHER: You have a right to assume that a woman is NOT a divorcee with children unless she tells him otherwise. (This much information she owes him.) A good rule to follow is: State your marital status (and children, if any) right off the bat. And answer any other questions with complete, honesty. If a man asks, it means he's interested.

DEAR ABBY: This idea that the typical housewife does nothing all day but drink coffee with her neighbors and watch TV because she is surrounded by so many push-button, labor-saving devices makes me boil. When people first meet me and learn that I do not have a career, they say, "Oh, you don't work, do you?" I reply, "No, I just sponge off my husband." I have yet to see a completely "automatic" washer that collects the clothes, sorts them again, dampens them, irons them, mends them, and puts them away, have you? All the women I know to their own cooking and cleaning, wash their own floors and wash their own windows. And most of them take care of their own yards and gardens, too. Everyone assured me that when my daughter married and our son went off to college "time would hang heavy." Baloney!

DEAR ABBY: My boy friend and I were in an automobile accident. His car was demolished, but neither of us was hurt, fortunately. The boy had no liability insurance, and if either of us had been seriously injured neither his parents nor mine would have been able to take care of a big doctor bill (although we do carry hospitalization.) My father now says I can't ride in a car with a boy unless he has liability insurance. I am 18. How does one

All the women I know to their own cooking and cleaning, wash their own floors and wash their own windows. And most of them take care of their own yards and gardens, too. Everyone assured me that when my daughter married and our son went off to college "time would hang heavy." Baloney!

DEAR ABBY: My boy friend and I were in an automobile accident. His car was demolished, but neither of us was hurt, fortunately. The boy had no liability insurance, and if either of us had been seriously injured neither his parents nor mine would have been able to take care of a big doctor bill (although we do carry hospitalization.) My father now says I can't ride in a car with a boy unless he has liability insurance. I am 18. How does one

DEAR ABBY: I was asked on a date, should she tell him she has been married and has children? I did that once, and I got the third degree. "How long was I married?" "Where was my ex-husband now? Why did we split up?" I don't think it's any man's business unless he is serious about pe. Please tell me truthfully, how much should a divorced woman tell a man about herself on the first date?

DEAR DIVORCED MOTHER: You have a right to assume that a woman is NOT a divorcee with children unless she tells him otherwise. (This much information she owes him.) A good rule to follow is: State your marital status (and children, if any) right off the bat. And answer any other questions with complete, honesty. If a man asks, it means he's interested.

DEAR ABBY: This idea that the typical housewife does nothing all day but drink coffee with her neighbors and watch TV because she is surrounded by so many push-button, labor-saving devices makes me boil. When people first meet me and learn that I do not have a career, they say, "Oh, you don't work, do you?" I reply, "No, I just sponge off my husband." I have yet to see a completely "automatic" washer that collects the clothes, sorts them again, dampens them, irons them, mends them, and puts them away, have you? All the women I know to their own cooking and cleaning, wash their own floors and wash their own windows. And most of them take care of their own yards and gardens, too. Everyone assured me that when my daughter married and our son went off to college "time would hang heavy." Baloney!

Third Heart Research Day Planned Here

Plans for a third annual "Heart Research Day" have been initiated here by the Scurry County Heart Council.

Purpose of the annual event is to bring to the area an outstanding heart researcher to speak to professional, public and school groups. Tentative plans call for the program to be presented in late January to coincide with a quarterly meeting of the Colorado Basin Medical Society. A public luncheon, along with school assembly programs, will be included in the plans.

In other business at its meeting this week, the Scurry County Heart Council discussed general plans for the Heart Fund drive to be conducted next February.

New members present for the meeting were Carolyn Greenfield, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Floyd, the Rev. Harry Vanderpool, Doug Flynn and J. D. Hinton. Also meeting with the group was Eddie Burroughs, area consultant for the Texas Heart Association, who lives in Abilene. A guest was Miss Hattie De-

Lapp of Sheridan, Wyo., former area consultant for the Texas Heart Association who serviced the local unit.

Pat Falls, president of the local heart council, was in charge of the meeting.

First Lady Is Flooded By Mail From Well-Wishers

By MARTHA COLE
Associated Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Some wrote in the spidery script of the old.

Children enclosed pictures of their dogs.

Some offered their prayers, and others sent copies of the services in their churches for the dead president.

The letters started coming to Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson just a few days after President John F. Kennedy was killed and Lyndon B. Johnson became president.

The mail for the new First Lady has been running about 500 to 600 letters a day, the White House says. It has no cumulative total, because the letters have been going, too, to the Johnsons' old home.

In general, the letters are expressions of sorrow for the tragedy that took the life of a president and words of encouragement for the new First Family.

One Texas judge told President and Mrs. Johnson there is "great sorrow in our hearts for President Kennedy and his fine family, but we look to the future with confidence under your calm leadership."

In her replies, Mrs. Johnson has told her good wishers—

"These have been anguished days for all of us. The good wishes and confidence of people all over the world have sustained us during these trying times..."

"The thoughtful good wishes of so many people have been most reassuring..."

Low-Rent Houses Granted For Elsa

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Housing and Home Finance Agency has granted a $630,301 loan for construction of 50 low rent houses at Elsa, in Texas' Lower Rio Grande Valley.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., said each home will cost $10,044, and that the loan, with interest, will be repaid by the local housing authority.

Snyderite's Relative Had Tough Assignment

Mrs. G. Edward Bolger of Snyder has been receiving numerous newspaper clippings from papers throughout the country since the assassination of President Kennedy, and most of them provide bits of information of particular interest to her—largely information that has not been assembled completely in any single story about the assassination.

Mrs. Bolger's particular interest in the activities stems from the fact that Dr. Malcolm Perry, one of the doctors who operated on both President Kennedy and his accused assassin, Lee Harvey Oswald, is her nephew.

In one article, Dr. Perry is quoted as saying that Oswald "nearly survived," but there was never a chance to save the life of President Kennedy.

He said the bullet which killed Oswald entered the body on the left side and punctured his spleen, pancreas, stomach, aorta, vena cava (a large vein), liver and right kidney.

"When we opened his abdomen we found three liters (over three quarts) of blood," Dr. Perry said. "But we managed to control the bleeding with some difficulty after about 30 minutes."

When President Kennedy was brought into Parkland Hospital in Dallas, Dr. Perry performed a tracheotomy (opened the throat and inserted a tube to prevent fluid from keeping air from the lungs) Dr. Perry massaged the President's chest in an attempt to restore the missing heartbeat.

"My initial impression was that he had a mortal wound," Dr. Perry said.

Mrs. Bolger said Dr. Perry was reared in her family home because his father, Kent Perry, died when his son was only four years old.

Mrs. Bolger's father and Dr. Perry's grandfather, was the late Dr. Malcolm O. Perry, who died in 1951, soon after his grandson was accepted by Southwestern Medical School following his graduation from the University of Texas.

Survive Plane Crash

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — An Oklahoma City family survived the crash landing of their light plane less than a mile from the airport Friday night, then had to rush their little girl to a hospital because she may have eaten rat poison.

Mr. and Mrs. Val Jacobson of Oklahoma City took their two children into a warehouse to get out of 11-degree weather after the plane crash.

They noticed Lisa, 3, playing near poisoned grain.

She was rushed to general hospital. Attendants there said her condition was not believed serious.

Jacobson, 29, either had engine trouble or was running out of gas, police said, and set the plane down into a warehouse parking lot north of 12th Street in the Kansas City Bottoms industrial area. The spot is just across the Missouri River from an attempt to restore the missing heartbeat.

The plane flipped over on its top after landing, striking a parked car. The family climbed out unharmed.

"How thoughtful of you to write me in the days of anguish..."

It is her practice never to begin a letter with "I..."

At first, it seemed, people just wanted to write Mrs. Johnson about the tragedy and their good wishes for her. Some told her not to take the time to reply.

In the past week, they've shown a curiosity about the new First Family — where does the family eat dinner? Where do the dogs sleep? Requests for pictures of Mrs. Johnson and her two daughters, Lynda Bird, 19, and Lucy Baines, 16.

The girls are getting mail, too, and handling as much as they can themselves.

When a member of Mrs. Johnson's staff can handle the queries and requests, that is done. Mrs. Johnson likes to see as much mail as she can. Sometimes she can tell an aide, "Answer this one this way." At other times she dictates the answer herself.

Every morning she signs about 200 letters.

Popular Subject Not Listed In Catalogues Of Colleges

By TOM HENSHAW
AP Staff Writer

SEX I — and probably II, III and IV — is still a popular subject on the college campus, even though it's not listed in the catalogue and students get no credits for passing the course. In fact, concerned parents will be happy to know, most colleges still devote considerable time and energy to erecting a fence of rules and regulations between their lusty males and nubile coeds.

The subject came up the other day at Harvard.

Fair Harvard, it seems, permits its students to entertain women in their dormitory rooms for a total of 35 hours a week. There are indications that some of the entertainment would startle the city censor in nearby Boston.

"Trouble has arisen," said Dean John U. Munro, "because what was once considered a pleasant privilege has come to be a license to use the college rooms for wild parties and sexual intercourse."

At the same time, Helen E. Clark, dean of women at the University of Maryland, tightened up rules that let undergraduates with permission from their parents, spend nights off the campus.

"A number of instances of student partying in apartments, considerable imbibing of alcohol and lack of moral behavior have been drawn to our attention," Miss Clark said.

This fall, tiny Earlham College — 945 students — in Richmond, Ind., revoked Sunday visiting privileges for men and women students. Too many doors were being closed.

Few colleges are as liberal as the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, where women are allowed to visit men's dorm rooms 18 hours a week and the only rule is the Interfraternity Council suggestion that "promiscuous activity should not be permitted."

The colleges that take the most benign attitude toward boy-girl relationships are concentrated chiefly in the Northeast. Some have got their fingers burned.

Yale allows dorm room visits on weekend evenings. They were permitted during the week, too, until 1960 when 20 students were allowed to resign or were disciplined for importing a 14-year-old girl from a nearby town for nightly dorm visits.

Goddard College, often described as an experimental school in Plainfield, Vt., allows coeds and men students to mingle unchaperoned in dorm rooms up to 9 p.m. Girls are never required to check in and out of their own dorms.

"We have a few serious incidents, now and then, as every college does," says Provost John Hall, but generally it works out well.

But not well enough, apparently, for Dean Forest K. Davis has asked the student body to think over the current visiting rules with an eye toward changing them at the end of the current semester.

Many colleges that prefer not to take the risks are located in the South and Midwest.

"We may be old-fashioned," said Catherine Carmichael, dean of women at the University of North Carolina, "but we take the view that one little girl ought not to be alone in one little boy's room."

The theory that there is chastity in numbers is widely held. Johns Hopkins University, an all-male school in Baltimore, permits weekend dorm room openings, specifying that if one couple is present the door must be open; if two couples are present it may be closed but not locked.

Fraternizing between the sexes in dormitory rooms is forbidden at North Carolina and Tampa but boys and girls are permitted to mingle occasionally in the social rooms.

The college rules have drawn protests, support and noncommittal shrugs from the students.

At Williams College in Williamstown, Mass., the school paper assailed Harvard's Munro as "absurdly righteous" and consigned him "to the Puritan Heaven where collected martyrs to their faith peep at each other through keyholes."

The University of Utah forbids women to visit men's dorms but there is little student protest. W. David Smith Jr., 21, editor of Utah's Daily Chronicle, blames he has discovered the reason.

"Why should they worry?" he says. "There are plenty of places to go off campus if they want to."

It would seem that a good number want to.

Dr. Graham B. Blaine Jr., a psychiatrist for Harvard University health services, reported recently that sexual relations between college men and women are on the increase.

A 1938 survey, he said, showed that 35 per cent of college women were not virgins; a 1953 survey placed the figures at 50 per cent; a current survey shows "they have climbed."

Blues Singer Washington Found Dead

DETROIT (AP)—Blues singer, Dinah Washington was found dead in her home today.

Police said the cause of death was not immediately determined but that Miss Washington may have taken an overdose of a sedative. A bottle of unmarked pills was found beside her bed.

The death of Miss Washington, 37, came as she and her new husband, professional football star Dick (Night Train) Lane, had been preparing for a family Christmas celebration.

Miss Washington's two sons by former marriages, George Jenkins, 18, and Robert Grayson, 15, arrived home only Friday night.

With her husband, Miss Washington had picked up the boys at Detroit Metropolitan Airport on their arrival from Boston where they attend a preparatory school.

Lane, a star halfback of the National Football League Detroit Lions, and Miss Washington were married last July.

Because of his wife's death Lane will not play in Sunday's game at Chicago between the Lions and the Chicago Bears which will help settle the NFL's Western Division championship.

Lane said he and Dinah, famed night club and television star, had gone to bed after watching television in their pajamas following their arrival home with George and Robert.

The buzzing of the television set in their bedroom awakened Lane about 3:45 a.m., he said, and he found Dinah unconscious.

He called Dr. B. C. Ross. Dr. Ross later pronounced Miss Washington dead.

Police detective William J. Chubb of the homicide squad said the bottle of pills was a prescription from a West Coast drugist. Miss Washington recently returned from a West Coast tour.

Mrs. Ethel Harrison, 67, who lives at the Lane home, on Detroit's West Side, said Dinah took pills for a "nervous condition."

"She probably took too many accidentally," Mrs. Harrison said.

Mrs. Harrison, a restaurant cook, said she was positive Miss Washington would not have taken an overdose intentionally. She said the singer had been in good spirits after her return from the coast.

Dinah, who reportedly earned as high as $150,000 a year, grew up in Chicago and started her singing career as a girl. She was then "Ruth Jones," her given name. She became Dinah Washington as her singing gave promise of future success.

Both Miss Washington and Lane are Negroes.

Christmas Wasn't Banned By Order

By JOHN MORGANTHAUER
Associated Press Staff Writer

The U.S. Supreme Court said no compulsory prayer, but they didn't say no Christmas in the public schools.

At least that's how school officials across the country interpret what the court said, an Associated Press survey showed today.

Teachers and children were happily decorating trees hanging wreaths, rehearsing carols, planning pageants, and even building Nativity scenes.

The only dispute in officialdom was whether the religious aspect of Christmas should or could be eliminated or played down.

All agreed that sectarianism had no place in a school Christmas celebration, but there was some doubt about what is sectarian.

Charles Spain, superintendent of schools in Albuquerque, N.M., said Nativity scenes might be construed as sectarian, but would not forbid them.

The New York State Education Department said school Christmas activities should be controlled.

Lubbock (AP) — Reese Air Force Base officials Friday announced the arrest of an airman who admitted tearing out electric cables to the nose gear steering assembly of six T-33 jets.

Officials said that his name was being withheld pending investigation of possible accomplices.

Meanwhile, the air base was placed under maximum security.

In Washington, the Defense Department said that all training commands have been alerted to tighten their watch of jet training planes.

The action came after the Reese Air Force Base discovery and a previous case of attempted sabotage of planes at Williams Air Force Base in Arizona.

A spokesman for the Defense Department said the airman involved at Reese AFB has no connection with the sabotage attempt at Williams AFB.

acted as historical exercises and teachers should not attempt to draw religious connotations from them.

In Colorado, some schools expeditiously shelved this year. A Denver junior high added a Buddhist hymn to the usual carols.

One Colorado principal said his school would have a holiday program rather than a Christmas program, because his school "is an educational institution, not a religious one."

In Illinois, State Superintendent Page called recognition of Christmas an "accepted custom" in public schools, although all programs are voluntary and pupils who ask are excused.

Poor Cotton Crop In Matamoros Area

BROWNSVILLE (AP) — a poor cotton crop in the Matamoros area of Mexico is blamed for a drop-off in border crossings at Brownsville.

Immigration Chief Dudley Underwood said Friday November crossings numbered 639,546, or 13 per cent under those of November, 1962.

U.S. customs collections, however, were $80,779 over those of a year ago. The November, 1963, total was $303,384.

Winter Brings Moisture, But Increases Problems

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—Wheat grazing is still short and supplemental feeding of cattle is underway. There was little doubt in most sections of Texas last midweek that winter had arrived. Biting winds, widespread rains, snow and freezing rains, though bringing badly needed moisture, increased the problems of farmers and stockmen.

The weather, said John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, will slow the growth of cool season range and pasture vegetation and increase the need for more supplemental feeding of livestock.

The cotton harvest on the High Plains and other western and northwestern areas will be delayed.

Reports from the 12 district extension agricultural agents summed up the situation this way:

W. W. Grisham Jr. at Amarillo said moisture in the Panhandle continues to be short but that snow had fallen over the area.

rain was reported from some stations in the area Wednesday morning, said R. S. Lottis at Mt. Pleasant. Small grains are up to a fair stand but pastures are below average.

From 80 to 90 per cent of the cotton in Far West Texas has been harvested and lower grades are reflecting the effects of recent rains, advised Ray Simmons at Ft. Stockton. Livestock conditions continue to rate fair to good but feeding was increasing.

Fear burners and feed wagons increased their activities in West Central Texas where moisture is short, Roy Huckabee of San Angelo said. Out fields and pastures have made some improvement, he said, but green grazing is limited but helpful.

Oats in Central Texas are making some progress and furnishing light grazing but soil moisture is short for maximum growth and miles and other insects are causing concern, reported R. G. Burwell from Stephenville. He described the peanut harvest as in the windup stage and the pecan harvest as continuing.

Soil moisture continues on the short side in East Texas where pastures and ranges are below average, said R. J. Hodges from Nacogdoches. He listed livestock as in fair condition with feeding, land preparation, planting of cover crops and general farm work as major activities.

Planted pastures of winter grasses, oats and clovers are providing some grazing but little is coming from native pastures in the southeast and the upper Gulf Coast area, reported Joe Rothe from Richmond. Most livestock are getting hay and protein supplements, he said.

Native pastures in South Central Texas continue to green but are furnishing little grazing, advised Joe Glover from Gonzales. Livestock were described as generally thin but strong with feeding continuing.

The lower valley counties of South Texas have adequate soil moisture but it is short in all others, said W. H. Leimberg from Weslaco. He described the vegetable harvest as in full swing and added that the light frost had caused only minor damage to tender vegetables.

Damage Heavy In Warehouse Fire

FORT WORTH (AP)—A pro-dawn fire Saturday in a cotton warehouse in the stockyard area caused damage estimated at $100,000.

Up to 4,000 bales of cotton were in the Schimmel warehouse when the fire broke out. A patrolman saw smoke at about 1 a.m. and called firemen. The blaze still smoldered after dawn.

Owner M. O. Schimmel, who made the damage estimate, said spontaneous combustion apparently caused the fire.

Tigers Vie For Third Place

The Snyder Tigers were scheduled to play for third place of the Canyon Reef Tournament at 6 p.m. Saturday in Tiger Gym. Snyder's opponent would be the loser of the Big Spring-Levelland game which was set for 11 o'clock Saturday morning.

Snyder was knocked out of contention for the championship by the Seminole Indians who defeated the Tigers 62-55 in second round action Saturday morning.

Stamford edged out Brownfield 44-39 in the first game Saturday. This gave the Bulldogs the right to meet Phillips in the consolation finals at 4:30 p.m. Saturday.

Snyder advanced in the winners bracket Friday afternoon with a first-round victory over Hamlin 74-54. Seminole had already defeated Phillips 74-47 in the opening game of the tournament. Other first-round victories were Big Spring over Brownfield (37-11) and Levelland over Stamford (74-51). The Steers and Lobos were to meet at 11 a.m. Saturday to determine who would get to the finals.

In the last contest played Friday night Phillips romped over Hamlin 65-46 in the consolation bracket. Larry Lewis of the Black Hawks put on a one-man show in that affair as he scored 42 points. This output left five points shy of the record high for an individual in the tourney. John Godfrey of Aspermont holds the record with 47 points scored against Midland Lee in 1961.

Lewis had tallied 26 points in his first game against Seminole. This put him in good shape to shoot for the record number of points scored in a Canyon Reef tourney. Godfrey set this record in 1961 as he hit the nets for 82 points in three games. Phillips was scheduled to play in the consolation finals at 4:30 Saturday afternoon, and Lewis only needed 14 points in that contest to tie, and 15 to break Godfrey's record.

The Tigers had a little trouble getting started in the game against Hamlin and only had a 14-13 lead at the end of the first quarter. However, the Bengals got hot after that, scoring 21 points in the second period for a 35-23 halftime lead.

Leslie Brown led the scoring for Snyder with 20 points. Drew Bullard and Reed Robinson also hit in the double figures with 14 and 10 points.

Top Stars Will Miss AFL Game

HOUSTON (AP) — Top stars for both teams will be missing Sunday as San Diego and Houston meet in a game of major significance to final standings of both divisions of the American Football League.

Sunday games in Houston and Oakland and a Saturday game in Kansas City could settle both division championships or throw both into two-way ties.

San Diego needs a victory to protect its one-game lead over Oakland in the West. Houston's shaky chances for a fourth Eastern title require a combination of a victory over San Diego and a Kansas City upset of Boston, the current leader.

A knee injury has sidelined George Blanda, the quarterback who led Houston to two league championships and a third division title. His understudy, Jackie Lee, will be making his first start of the season.

San Diego will be without the services of Keith Lincoln, its rushing leader who was knocked unconscious in last Sunday's game with Oakland.

Tobin Rote, the Charger signal-caller who leads the league in passing, will see action despite an elbow ailment that requires him to keep his arm in a sling much of the time.

Rote will be making his first appearance as a pro in Houston where he established seven career and individual records while leading Rice University to Southwest Conference and Cotton Bowl championships in 1949.

Junior Colleges Form New Conference

WACO (AP)—A new football conference encompassing nine Texas junior colleges was formed at a meeting here.

The colleges are Texarkana, Tyler, Kilgore and Henderson County of the Texas Eastern Conference and Navarro, Blinn, Wharton, Cisco and Ranger of the Texas Conference.

They will play an eight-game schedule beginning next year. They will play in their respective conferences in other sports.

TWO-POINT SHOT — Tiger cager Leslie Brown is shown laying in two points in the game with Hamlin Friday afternoon. Snyder won the contest 74-54.

Fernandez Wants Crack At Champ

NEW YORK (AP)—Heavy-hitting Florentino Fernandez, his accounts squared with Argentine Rocky Rivero, gave out with the usual victor's cry today: "I want the champ."

The tall, thick-necked Cuban exile from Miami Beach, Fla., chopped the pudgy Rivero's face into a bloody mess and won the return brawl on cuts after seven rounds of the television 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden Friday night.

There was an inch-long cut over Rocky's right eye and a deep 1½-inch-wide gash on the point of his chin. When Dr. Sam Sweetnick ordered the savage battle stopped at the end of the seventh. Under New York rules it will go in the books as a seven-round technical knockout.

The cut on the chin was opened in the third round—the only one Rivero got from all three officials — and the slash over the eye was inflicted in the fifth.

Opposing Coaches Show Contrast

By JACK HANB

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Allie Sherman speaks the language of Madison Avenue. His New York Giants "firm up," never jell. They "establish" their edge. When a regular is replaced by a sub he is "pre-empted."

Buddy Parker, his Pittsburgh Steeler counterpart, is a tall, taciturn Texan. When he speaks out, he calls a spade a spade. He lays his card on the table.

There is a sharp contrast between Sherman, a 40-year-old Brooklyn "boy" with a trace of Dixie in his smooth TV voice, and Parker, a man who shuns banquets but speaks out bluntly and bitterly on occasions.

Sherman moved into his first head coaching job in 1961 with the Giants and won Coach of the Year honors in his first two seasons while leading the Giants to two straight division titles.

Allie was a quarterback at Brooklyn College and a No. 2 man in the pros at Philadelphia. Parker was halfback at Centenary and has been a coach around the NFL since 1943.

After winning back-to-back championships at Detroit in 1952 and 1953, Parker walked out on the Lions two days before the 1957 season started.

"This is the worst team I've ever seen in camp," he was quoted. "No life, no go, just a dead team." The aroused Lions won the championship and Parker finished 6-6 at Pittsburgh.

Parker specializes in taking men who failed elsewhere and spurring them to top effort. Either you go all out for Buddy or you go. He once had the plane stop at Denver en route home from a game in Los Angeles and fired two players on the spot.

In defeat, Parker hits the bottom. He is completely desolated. In moments of depression he speaks and acts impulsively.

Like Parker, Sherman also is a hard worker with intense dedication to every detail of the game. In his own way, each produces the same result—an inspired team primed for a great effort.

If Sherman is bitter in defeat, he does not permit himself the luxury of showing it publicly. He can chew out an errant athlete in private but is impartial, bland, warmed-over platitudes in his public comments.

Patriots Can Wrap Up Division Championship

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Patriots are apprehensive of what Stram may be cooking up this time, although Boston leads the AFL in defense. Boston, with a 7-5-1 record, needs either a tie or victory to clinch the title. The other three teams in the tight Eastern Division are still in the picture. Kansas City is third in the West at 3-7-2. In the season opener last year, Stram took the wraps off Len Dawson as his quarterback and the newcomer passed the Patriots dizzy, 43-28. In the return game at Boston, Stram brought out a double tight end offense and romped in 27-7. At Boston Nov. 17, Stram's team came to town with six straight defeats, their defending AFL champion squad in a state of collapse. But Stram released two veterans, inserted two rookies in the line-up and topped the shakeup by using Eddie Wilson at quarterback all the way. Wilson was 20-for-32 for two TDs, and it was a 24-24 tie. But Boston is expected to meet any challenge the Chiefs can mount. After two straight close runner-up finishes behind Houston, Holovak's team is determined to take it all this time. Their passing game is led by veteran Babe Parilli, in his ninth pro season. Larry Garrison is one of the league's best fullbacks. Gino Cappelletti is the AFL's top scorer with 110 points and best field goal kicker with 21.

Upset Of Albany Highlights Action

By The Associated Press
With two teams already in the finals, six other spots will be determined today and tonight in the Texas schoolboy football race. Missouri City Dulles whipped Liberty 20-0 Friday night to reach the championship game in Class AA. Petersburg upset favored Albany 23-14 to attain the finals of Class A. Finalists in Class AAAA will be determined this afternoon as Garland meets Amarillo Tascosa at Amarillo and Corpus Christi Miller invades Spring Branch. Graham and Corsicana clash at Arlington this afternoon while LaMarque and Pharr-San Juan-Alamo battle at Corpus Christi tonight for the Class AAA finals spots. Undeclared, untied Dalhart and Rockwall tangle at Vernon this afternoon to determine the team that meets Dulles in the finals of Class AA next week. It will be late tonight before Petersburg's foe in the Class A finals will be known. Hallsville, undefeated but once tied, plays

George West at Beeville for the privilege of opposing Petersburg. Dulles plowed Liberty under on a muddy field and in a cold blowing rain at Houston with Charles Hauerland crashing for two touchdowns over the touted Liberty defense. Ralph Senior got the third Dulles touchdown with a 49-yard run. Liberty could get no farther than the Dulles 14-yard line. Petersburg scored the first two times it had the ball to topple Albany, a two-time champion favored to make it three. The Buffs turned three fumbles and a pass interception into scores and led 21-6 at the half while playing on a snow-covered field at Lubbock. Wayne Robertson, who ran for 185 yards, made two of the Petersburg touchdowns.

Cubs Sell Boros

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Cubs sold infielder Steve Boros to San Diego of the Pacific Coast League Saturday and then closed a three-player deal by giving up southpaw pitcher Jim Brewer.

Powerful Packers In Fight For Life

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Sports Writer
Green Bay's potent Packers, two-time champions of the National Football League, make a last-gasp stab at a third title Saturday afternoon as the nation's professional football teams head into their weekend of decision. By the time the Sunday games on the long schedule are completed, the NFL will have determined its conference champions while Boston and San Diego could clinch division titles in the American Football League.

Green Bay's game at San Francisco was the only NFL game scheduled today, while AFL had a pair. Buffalo at New York and Boston at Kansas City.

The NFL concludes its regular season Sunday, while the AFL, which postponed one weekend schedule because of the death of President Kennedy—extended to Dec. 22 with three games.

Topping the NFL Sunday slate is the winner-take-all clash of Pittsburgh and New York for the Eastern Division title. The Giants, at 10-3, can clinch their third division crown with either a win or tie. Pittsburgh 7-3-3 and 31-0 conquerors of New York earlier in the season, must have a victory to attain their first title.

Sports Week To Precede Cotton Bowl

DALLAS (AP)—A full week of sports events and other activities will precede the Cotton Bowl football classic on New Year's Day.

The Cotton Bowl week will include a bigtime rodeo, basketball tournaments and will be climaxed by a parade on the morning of the Texas-Navy football game.

The Cotton Bowl rodeo will start the evening of Dec. 26, and have seven performances, through Dec. 31.

The high school basketball tournament will be Dec. 26-30 with 32 teams competing.

Eight college teams will play in the college basketball tournament Dec. 27 and 28.

SMU will play Stanford in a basketball game Dec. 28.

The junior indoor tennis championships is scheduled Dec. 27-30.

Play has already begun on weekends in the bowling tournament, and will continue through Jan. 12.

The Texas Sports Hall of Fame luncheon will honor Texas athletic greats Dec. 31.

The rest of the slate features Chicago's closing game with Detroit on the Bears' home field. The Bears lead the West on a 10-1-2 record and can clinch with a victory or a tie, regardless of the outcome of the Packers game. Tough Detroit knocked Cleveland out of the Eastern Conference race last weekend and now holds a 5-7-1 record.

In the other Sunday games, Cleveland, 9-4, is at Washington, 3-10, Dallas, 3-10, St. Louis, 9-4, Los Angeles, 5-8, at Baltimore, 7-6, and Minnesota, 4-8-1, at Philadelphia, 2-9-2.

Sunday's American League schedule has San Diego, 9-3, at Houston, 6-6, and Denver, 2-9-1, at Oakland, 8-4.

Green Bay, at 10-3-1, must win against San Francisco to clinch it for the Chargers, stay in the race. If they lose—a decided long shot—then the Bears take the title.

Should Green Bay win, however, and they're top-sided favorites against the 49ers who have won only two, then the Packers have a 24-hour wait to determine their standings, depending on the outcome of the Chicago-Detroit game.

Four teams still are in the running in the AFL's Eastern Division, but Boston could clinch it at Kansas City Saturday with a victory or a tie. The Patriots are 7-5-1 going into their regular season finale. Troubled Kansas City is only 3-7-2 and out of the Western race.

Buffalo, at 6-6-1, also is closing its season in a visit to New York, 5-6-1. Both still are alive in the East. In the West, a Sunday combination of a San Diego victory and an Oakland loss would clinch it for the Chargers, but they're troubled with injuries and Oakland is on the move.

Nancy Kwan Gets Funny Food Yen

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—You know how expectant mothers get urges for strange and exotic foods. That happens to Nancy Kwan all the time, and to satisfy her yen she has to drive to another country.

Nancy is the Hong Kong girl, daughter of a Chinese architect and an English model, who became a star in her first film, "The World of Suzie Wong." Her third picture, "Main Attraction," was filmed in the Austrian Alps and there she met a ski instructor and hotel owner named Peter Pock.

"The first time I saw that marvelous-looking man I said, 'That's for me,'" she recalled. "Within weeks they were married and made their home near Innsbruck. A nice romantic story? Yes, but there is a complication.

"I still love Chinese food," she said. "If I go a week without having Chinese food, I become physically ill. This was especially true when I was pregnant, but the craving remains all the time.

"But there is not a single Chinese restaurant in all of Austria."

Nancy, now the mother of Bernhard Pock, made her yearning known to her husband. "So he would have to drive me, sometimes in the middle of a blizzard, to Garmisch or Munich in Germany, two or three hours away," she said. "There I could get a Chinese dinner and I would be happy—for a week."

The trips became so regular that her husband finally said, "It would be a lot simpler to open our own Chinese restaurant." Now they are planning to do just that, together with a hotel they are building in the Austrian Tyrol.

Nancy is here for her second Hollywood film, "Honeymoon Hotel," in which she appears opposite Robert Goulet and Robert Morse as a social director at a resort. Her first Hollywood film was "Flower Drum Song."

"I don't really want to work," she said, "but I have a contract."

Texas Senators Vote Opposite

WASHINGTON (AP)—Texas' two senators were divided Friday in the 61-26 voting which sent to the White House the compromise $3.6-billion foreign aid authorization bill.

Democrat Ralph Yarborough voted for the measure while Republican John Tower voted against it.

Serling Surges Above Anonymity

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—The logistics of television are something like those of a fighting army. But instead of 14 behind-the-lines men supporting one on the front line, it takes from five to 10 men behind the cameras to support one performer before he is seen.

Most of them are unknown and unused, except for a passing mention among the credits. That includes the key man in the whole television structure: the writer.

Television over the years has developed some fine and famous writers: Paddy Chayevsky, Tad Mosel, Stirling Silliphant, Reginald Rose. Any of them could walk down almost any street, enter almost any restaurant and rarely be identified.

There is one exception to this rule of anonymity: Rod Serling, certainly one of television's top writers—he has five Emmys for what he has done for which he has written most scripts.

Serling says he has become kind of tired of the show now and would like to do something new.

A couple of seasons back, Serling thought he needed a change. He accepted a teaching fellowship at his alma mater, Antioch College in Ohio, and abandoned Madison Avenue and Hollywood for a year.

"I found out a lot of things during that year," he said. "In the first place, I learned that I didn't know how to teach. And "Twilight Zone" was a half-hour show until CBS, in fill a midseason hole, asked Serling last year to stretch it to an hour. It did not fare too well and this season has returned to its old length.

"Twilight Zone" in the half-hour form is quite simply plot stories with kicker endings," he said. "You just can't do an hour show with a kicker ending."

recreates," Mrs. Herrick said. "Actors were sold small or full-page ads, according to how much they were willing to pay. The number of directories was confusing both to the actors and the producers.

"Darryl Zanuck was reported to have said, 'I'd pay $1,000 for a single, comprehensive casting directory. That's when the academy decided to start one in which there would be a standard size and payment for the ad of each actor.'"

The directory originally was issued five times a year in a single volume, but the number of entries has grown with years.

The entries are generally about a thousand names, drop out of each issue. Yet such is the draw of the acting profession that another thousand appear to take their places.

Until recently the directory was furnished without charge to the studios. But since they no longer contribute directly to the academy's support, they now are charging for it. Some 1,400 copies are printed.

THIS IS A SCENE from "Wives and Lovers," which is coming to the Palace Theater here Sunday, Dec. 22. It stars Janet Leigh, Van Johnson, Shelly Winters and Martha Hyer.

SECTION B

Gay 20 Club Is Busy Group

The Gay 20 Social Club consists of a group of high school girls striving to make their mark in community work and to learn that by helping others you help yourself.

Their main civic project is giving a helping hand to patients at the Snyder Nursing Home. They perform such duties for our senior citizens as taking magazines and reading to those who wish it, washing and rolling hair, manicuring nails, writing letters and cards and seeing they are posted, and running errands. To those who wish to just visit, the girls are more than happy to cooperate.

The members work voluntarily each Saturday afternoon, and say they leave with that 'special' and warm feeling that comes from doing something for others. On holidays, the girls make place cards for the lunch trays.

Gay 20 promotes civic projects throughout the year and helps in as many campaigns and drives as possible.

With their work, fun goes along too. The girls mix in the social part of having dances, teas, slumber parties, hayrides, and their annual rush season in May.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED—Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Brice announce the engagement of their daughter, Leatha Jean, to Jerry McKay, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred McKay of Colorado City. The couple have set their wedding date for January 24, 1964, at the First Baptist Church of Snyder.

PRESIDENT HONORED—The American Association of University Women held a Christmas salad supper in the county extension office Thursday evening and enjoyed a special program. Mrs. Travis Rhoades, president was honored with surprise gifts of candy and flowers.

Central P-TA Has Party

The Central Elementary Parent Teachers Association was entertained by the fourth, fifth, and sixth grades in a lovely program Monday night. "Christmas Around the World" was the theme, and the sweetness and purity of children singing seemed to lighten the burdens of a strife-torn world.

Mrs. Elliott, the music teacher, is new to Central this year but has already endeared herself to the students and parents alike. In appreciation for her untiring efforts she was presented a pastel Christmas corsage by the program chairman, Mrs. Bradley, on behalf of Central P-TA.

There was no official business at the meeting. After the musical program the audience was asked to go to the cafeteria where the adults were served delicious home baked cakes and coffee. The children had a special treat of punch and cupcakes plus a visit from Santa Claus. The jolly old gent passed out goodies and wished everyone a Merry Christmas and a Happy 1964.

AAUW Has Christmas Program

"There are two phases of Christmas: the songs, the gifts, and Santa for the children and the more serious adult side," Mrs. Travis Rhoades began the program for the American Association of University Women. She led the group in singing Christmas songs as the words were flashed on the screen and the records were played.

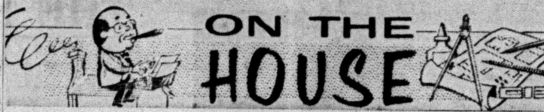

Mrs. L. D. Stone, Mrs. Edna McConnell and Mrs. Jewel Summers were guests.

Mrs. Rhoades reviewed two books as she skillfully wove slides of Oberammergau, Germany, and its famous Passion Play. She recalled that some of the same cast who played the part of Christ in the 1906 pageant also directed the three-hour presentation when she attended Texas Tech and was in its cast. In reviewing the book Corathiel's Oberammergau and its Passion Play, she first showed slides of that beautiful village that she took and her husband took while touring Europe last summer. She showed the stage, the auditorium that seats over 8,000 people, and the lovely Bavarian Alps that surround Oberammergau.

"The people of Oberammergau began the Passion Play in 1634 and have presented it every decade since keeping a pledge of thanksgiving for their deliverance from the Plague. The seven hour performance is in German, but English and Spanish texts are provided.

Mrs. Rhoades showed slides of the Passion Play which she bought there, and as the scenes unfolded she quoted from the Bible and comments from the book, "They Knew Jesus," concluding with three of her favorite scriptures: Micah 6:8.

"He has showed you, O man, what is good; and what does the Lord require of you but to do justice, and to love kindness, and to walk humble with your God."

Don't let the water pipes in your home talk back to you. Even if the chattering, hammering or rumbling doesn't annoy you (which would make you an unusual individual), the noise is a symptom of trouble that should be corrected before it becomes expensively serious.

One of the most common of the plumbing sounds is that which occurs when a faucet is turned on part way. A chattering or vibration of the pipes usually means that something is wrong with the faucet itself. Another possibility is that one of the pipe hangers, which support the run of pipe at various intervals along its length, has come loose.

Replacement of the washer at the end of the faucet spindle will correct the condition most of the time. If the screw that holds the washer in place is broken or corroded, replace it at the same time. In severe cases, the entire spindle must be replaced. Since there are many different types of spindles, take the old one to the hardware store to be sure you get the proper kind. Before you go, be sure no one else in the household turns on the water, which you necessarily turned off to make the repair.

Where inadequate pipe support is the trouble, the hanger or strap must be refastened or replaced. There's no magic way to find at which point the pipe has come loose from its support. You'll just have to search along whatever studs and beams are visible until you make the discovery.

Another common noise is the distinct hammering that occurs when a faucet is shut off suddenly. This means that the plumbing system needs one or more air chambers or shock absorbers on the line, in which case you will need a plumber to make the installation, especially if your local code forbids such work by the home owner. However, if one of these devices already is attached to the existing lines, it may be that it has become clogged with water and thus has lost its value. In that event, a complete draining of all the water lines in the house may correct the condition.

A kind of rumbling noise sometimes takes place in the hot water lines. This may call for the changing of the pipe hook-up near the hot water heater or it may simply require cutting down the heater thermostat to 140 degrees or, at the most, 160 degrees.

QUESTION: For several years we kept three large vases on the wooden floor of our living room. We have now decided to move them to another part of the house. There are three white circles where the vases had been standing. How can these marks be removed? We believe the floor has a shellac finish.

ANSWER: It appears likely that some of the water in the vases leaked out at one time or another, or there may have been a bit of carelessness in filling them. The marks should disappear by rubbing the area

Jamie Janice Miers Becomes Bride Of Richard Clayton Jr.

ROTAN — Jamie Janice Miers exchanged wedding vows Saturday evening in Hobbs with Richard Clayton Jr. of Dyess Air Baptist Church.

MRS. RICHARD CLAYTON, JR.

Here's Chicken Kiev With Elegant Flair

Experienced cooks, who would like to test their culinary talents during the holidays, will find a cooking and eating adventure in this recipe for superb Chicken Kiev.

The sauce in the chicken is a delectable blend of American blue cheese and butter. When the chicken is cut open, this mouth-watering sauce gushes forth with zesty flavor.

The one secret in making Chicken Kiev is to seal well the blue-cheese-butter balls in the center of the chicken breasts. To do this freeze the butter and blue cheese balls before rolling them in the chicken breasts.

This gourmet edition of Chicken Kiev will surely be the crowning touch to your elegant holiday dinner party. You'll be crowned the "hostess with the mostest" for good taste and talent.

HOLIDAY CHICKEN KIEV (Serves 4)

- 1/4 cup butter
- 1/4 cup crumbled American blue cheese (1 1/4 ounces)
- 4 whole chicken breasts, boned, skinned and halved
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 3 tablespoons chopped chives
- 3 tablespoons chopped parsley
- 1 beaten egg

Preheat deep fat to 325 degrees. Mix together blue cheese and butter. Form into 8 balls and freeze. Pound breasts to 1/4 inch thickness. Rub inside of breasts with salt. Divide the chives and parsley equally into 8 parts. Sprinkle onto breasts. Place frozen blue cheese-butter balls in center of each breast half and roll so that the all is completely covered with chicken. Secure with toothpicks. Brush with melted butter. Dust with flour. Brush with beaten egg. Dust again with flour. Fry in deep fat about 7 minutes or until golden brown. Serve immediately.

Eliminate A Holiday Hazard

Broken Christmas tree ornaments are a holiday hazard and should never be picked up with the unprotected fingers. Sweep up the larger pieces with a broom and dustpan. To pick up smaller splinters that the broom misses, dampen an absorbent towel with water and wipe up the splinters using a patting motion. The bits will adhere to the damp paper towel.

WEDDING DATE SET—Mr. and Mrs. Perry Lange of Grandfalls, Texas announce the engagement of their daughter, Sherry Lee, to Terry Jim Nachlinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Nachlinger of Hermleigh. The couple will be married on December 27th, at Grandfalls.

Lewis Children Reunion

The children of the late Mr. and Mrs. George W. Lewis of the Ira Community held a "Get-Together" at the Ira community center Sunday, December 8th., with their relatives and friends.

The entire day was spent getting to know those who they had never met, as some had never seen most of their near kin, because it had been many years since they had left this part of the country.

The children of the Lewis family were: Walter, Ralph, Richard, Ernest, and Homer, Clyde, Georgia, and Angie. Those unable to attend were Lula and Eloise. Many friends visited with them through the day.

A lot of turkey, plus all the trimmings that it takes to carry out the Yule Tide Season was the ried. A good time was had by all present. They broke away in the late P.M. to go their separate ways only hoping that another such day would come.

Those attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Jim Ikard, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lewis, Melvin Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lewis, Fred and Lucy Lewis, Beulah Lewis and Mrs. R. A. Hardee, Mrs. Roxie Pool, Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Autry, Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Bryce, all of Snyder.

Babe In The Woods

NEW YORK (AP) — "A logging camp is still a fertile area for women to get husbands," Irma Lee Edmondson says judiciously. "But if I were doing it now I might also consider eastern Oregon, where there are so many big ranches — with big ranchers."

Actually Irma Lee, 5-foot-2, blonde and fragile-looking was searching more for a job than a husband when she became second cook in a logging camp a dozen years ago.

She was past 30 and a notable non-success at making a living. She failed typing tests, flunked out at nursing, produced seven long novels nobody wanted to publish.

"Tired of sponging off a foud sister and brother-in-law, Irma Lee asked for the cooking job after she overheard a couple of loggers talking about it on a park bench one day.

She never regretted her decision, she says. Out of it came a husband, a happy marriage and a recently published book, "The Woods Were Full of Men."

At the camp, she recalls, she'd get up every morning at 4:30 or earlier, and start fixing breakfast for the 60 loggers.

After making five gallons of batter for hotcakes, she'd work on the rest of the meal, which included coffee, potatoes, eggs, toast, bacon, ham or sausage, dry cereal and fruit.

The loggers took along a hearty lunch when they left for the woods at 6:30.

"When they came back at night," says Irma Lee, "they were so dirty you couldn't recognize them. But when they went in to supper at 6 p.m. it would do you good to see how they had cleaned up in fresh shirts and slicked their hair back. They came so eagerly — prancing in a single file, you felt like taking a bow."

The loggers — rugged he-men that they were — "were chivalrous to a good woman, almost reverent," says Irma Lee.

"They raised a little hell themselves on Saturday night, but they never did at camp."

The pert little cook survived various adventures in flood and drought and fire. Once during a fire she was told to store her most valuable possessions in a safe place away from her cabin. She did. It turned out later she had tucked them into a stack of dynamite.

Now Irma Lee and Edison Smith, the logger she married, and their cat Sis live on a little farm at Gaston, Ore., 30 miles from Portland and raise strawberries. Her acquired skill in whipping up 300 biscuits and 200 eggs and countless hotcakes for weight problem, and she is a busy crew is gradually atrophying him watch his diet. But sometimes when she gets handsome husband, now that out a frying pan — and dutifully puts it back — she feels a little wistful.

bride-to-be, Miss Snider, Mrs. C. T. Williams, grandmother of the honoree, and Mrs. Julia Williams, grandmother of the prospective groom. Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Clayton of Moffat, Colo., are parents of Mr. Clayton. The couple will exchange vows on December 21, in Northside Baptist Church.

'Aunt Moos'

By MARY CAMPBELL, AP Newsfeatures Writer
NEW YORK — "Retire? I'll die with my boots on — or rather my chappells," says 61-year-old nurse Helene Moos, indicating her leather thong sandals. "After all, they're made in my village."

In Miss Moos' village, Gargoti, India, population 5,000, 300 miles south of Bombay, her chappells carry her through a seven-day-a-week schedule of patient calls, instructing classes, visiting outlying areas and person-to-person teaching about cleanliness, nutrition and family planning. Not satisfied with that, she now is campaigning to build her village a hospital.

Gargoti has other medicine. Miss Moos says, ranging from superstitious practices, grandmother's remedies and quacks to a government dispensary and a few doctors. Her work, since the Indian women are reluctant to be examined by men doctors, is largely with women and children.

"Most of them call me Moos Mavshi — Aunt Moos — and some of them call me Dr. Bai — Woman Doctor," Miss Moos says. "They don't know my limitations but I do and often I have to send them to a government doctor."

Takes All Day
"They have women's diseases, malnutrition diseases, worms, anemia, dysentery, TB, eye conditions. I treat them with multivitamins, shark liver oil and a variety of vitamin injections. And every patient I see I teach. Mainly it's preventive health education, with special attention paid to the children."

"That's why it takes me all day to see 77 patients. They stay until after dark, if necessary, and then they borrow a lantern and trudge home, maybe five or six miles."

Miss Moos has a nurse-midwife assistant, a Mrs. David, who has been with her four years. "I've tried to train some other midwives, but it doesn't come easily."
She also has a driver for the mobile health unit bought by the people of Philadelphia and delivered to her by CARE and the ambulance donated by friends in the United States and delivered by Church World Service. "I've trained the driver up to be an assistant, too, and he gives injections and sterilizes instruments."

Went at 55
Tiny, energetic Miss Moos, who made a recent trip to the United States to raise funds for her dream, the hospital, paused on her way back to India to explain how she happened to go to Gargoti — at the age of 55. She had met a visiting Indian, Mrs. Chitra Naik, principal of the Secondary Teachers Training College in Kolhapur. Mrs. Naik had inspired her with talk of Shri Mount Vidyepeeth, a training school for village school teachers, itself located in a village.

Miss Moos decided, after nearly 25 years as a public health nurse for the city of New York, to resign and offer her nursing skill and knowledge to Vidyepeeth, in exchange for room and board. After six years there, Miss Moos is still the only non-Indian connected with Vidyepeeth. She now draws a small salary for the classes which she teaches and her number of patients constantly increases.

Moos Mavshi said she couldn't wait to get back to Gargoti. "I wish I'd gone there sooner, but maybe it's all right. You get a little older and you know a little more."

Creole Sauce

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/4 cup finely chopped onion
1/4 cup finely diced green pepper
1 can (1 pound) tomatoes
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons sugar
Dash of cayenne pepper
Melt butter in a saucepan over low heat. Add onion and green pepper and cook, stirring often, until onion is yellowed but not browned. Add tomatoes, salt, sugar and cayenne. Simmer 30 to 45 minutes; you should have about 1 1/2 cups sauce.

Cut grapefruit sections and diced celery make a fine toss-some to add to a clear lemon-flavored salad. Serve the salad with gelatin greens and Roquefort or Blue Cheese dressing.

Goddard's Rocket Went Up In 1926

THIS HIGH MAN The life of Robert H. Goddard. By Milton Lehman.

Everyone has heard of the Wright brothers at Kitty Hawk. But few are familiar with Goddard's feat in his aunt Effie's sashure near Auburn, Mass., on March 16, 1926. He sent a liquid-fuel rocket 41 feet into the air. To him, it was a promise of interplanetary travel.

The pioneer inventor had plotted and worked for many years to get that first small culmination of his efforts, and was destined to struggle nearly two decades more toward his visionary goal. Lehman has told the whole story of the man and his work.

It is a tale of paradoxical man and the paradoxes — as well as ironies — of his career. Goddard was blessed with Yankee ingenuity, but he also was leaped in the Yankee habit of doing it alone. He had dreamed of space flight about the time of Kitty Hawk (1903), but for many years this factured, dedicated, ill-used professor pretended even to his colleagues that he was shooting only for the upper atmosphere.

At first he was forced to be a lone wolf because he could get no real backing. The Smithsonian realized the importance of his theories, but could get him only some tiny grants. The armed services were blindly disinterested, even after he had demonstrated late in 1918 a rocket launcher that in the war would become a tank-busting bazooka.

Finally, at the urging of Charles A. Lindbergh, the Guggenheim Foundation staked Goddard to a rocket — testing site in New Mexico in 1930, and he was able to devote full time to his embryo Cape Canaveral. Goddard's reluctance to work with others was unfortunate in the latter part of his career. He was shunted aside in the research effort of World War II, and had the painful experience of seeing the Germans forge ahead in the development of the V-1 and V-2 buzz bombs, which were projections of his own ideas.

A Final Touch

To give your dinner table a holiday sparkle, keep a roll of towels handy as you set the table. As you set out glassware and silver, give each item a final polish with a soft paper towel to remove all traces of lint and finger smudges.

TOWN AND COUNTRY Garden Club held their Christmas luncheon Thursday at Martha Ann Woman's Club. Rev. and Mrs. John Gordon of the First Presbyterian Church were special guests. Rev. Gordon gave an inspiring talk. Club members brought stuffed toys for young patients at the Cogdell Hospital. The project is being sponsored by the Hospital

Imaginative Decoration Makes Homes Different

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Homes are getting away from a stereotyped appearance as we adapt new ideas to our own needs.

The pat sameness that certain fixed objects gave a home—doors, windows, floors and even lighting fixtures—is giving way to the ingenuity employed by amateur decorators.

Doors are wallpapered, covered with fabrics, given a lift with oversized knobs, periodic latches to make them distinctly different. Doors can help make an entranceway, as in the case of a staircase with no enclosure that is smack in front of a door that opens right into the living room. Folding doors placed floor to ceiling from the base of the stairs can close this area off, providing an entranceway of a few feet or more. The doors can be carved, louvered, old or new, painted dramatically to flatter the surrounding area.

Floors are painted, stenciled, covered in a variety of natural or simulated materials to produce handsome and unusual effects.

Ordinary kitchen cabinets can be livered up with the addition of interesting hardware. Large black hardware may be used on vivid cabinets, red, green, blue, for a wonderful pick-up. Oriental-style brasses painted white give a cool look to pastel-painted cabinets. Carved moldings may be added to cabinets to give the effect of bamboo trim.

Very tall screens that may be stretched across a wall can inject just the vivid color a room needs—without completely giving the effect of bamboo.

Screen may be treated to enormous brass nailheads to add a luxurious touch to a room. Screens of this sort may be used as room dividers and, when sheer fabric is used, permit light with the division.

Plain walls may become dramatic with the addition of moldings, creating backgrounds for traditional furnishings, offering unusual techniques for decorating such as serving as panels for floored wallpaper or the contrast in paint schemes. How moldings are applied depends on the effect one wants to achieve. In a low-ceiling room panels from floor to ceiling may give the illusion of height.

One section of a family room may be blocked off for children with the addition of uprights and wide floor-to-ceiling shades. Plants may go from floor to ceiling in a bay window area to create a tropical niche with sliding glass doors closing the section off.

Tall, slim, green metal lockers may be painted to harmonize with the color scheme in a child's room to solve the problem of what to do with sporting equipment—fishing rods, ski bows, arrows, guns.

Dining pits, that have people eating in recessed places, are new. These are supposed to be cozier than being on the level. The practical pits are those that give you leg room. Cushions are used for seats and back rests, and everyone eats at individual tables.

There is an all-over fabric look to rooms with the same fabric covering walls and furnishings. And fabrics like leopard are used in children's rooms. Fake and real fur rugs are used in both traditional and contemporary homes.

Architectural effects may be achieved with lighting effects such as in the varied use of a group of hanging lamps.

Souffles are best baked in dishes with straight rather than sloping sides.

Stay In Shape For Shopping

Many homemakers work so hard on Christmas shopping and getting ready for this big day that they don't really enjoy the holiday itself. And even those who like shopping most of the time often find it tiring now with those big lists to be filled, in such a short time.

If you feel like that, maybe it's because you do it on a hit-or-miss basis, without a ny real planning. Here are a few tips that may help you enjoy the gaily decorated stores more as you search for just the right gifts.

Instead of one long tour of the stores, make it three—or even four—shorter ones. Concentrate on selecting just a few gifts each time. That way you'll have time to really look around, window shop and enjoy all the colorful sights.

Set aside one day for the children to see Santa and look at all the toys. Forget about shopping that day!

When you get down to serious buying—go alone! You'll accomplish more in less time. Get Grandma to watch the kids or hire a baby sitter.

Find out when the stores are the least crowded—usually early in the day—and go then. And if you must take public transportation, avoid traveling during rush hours.

Take advantage of delivery services. One of the most tiring parts of shopping is lugging home all the packages.

When lunchtime comes, take at least a few minutes to rest. Most stores have comfortable areas nearby where you can rest and eat quickly and quietly.

Working girls who want to eat and shop both on their noontime break may also want to have a quick meal of this type at their desk and then have most of the lunch hour free for buying a present or two.

Be careful with your handbag. Pickpockets always seem to be more prevalent just before Christmas.

That turkey carcass will make a good broth if you cook it in a small amount of water all the afternoon, window shop and enjoy all the colorful sights.

Banana Oatmeal Cookies

2 cups sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon salt
3/4 cup butter or margarine
1 cup firmly-packed light brown sugar
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup mashed banana
1 1/2 cups old-fashioned rolled oats

Sift together the flour, baking soda and salt. Cream the butter and brown sugar; beat in thoroughly, one at a time, the eggs and vanilla. Add sifted dry ingredients; beat to blend. Stir in the mashed banana, rolled oats and walnuts. Drop rounded tablespoonfuls of the mixture, a few inches apart, onto greased cookie sheets.

Bake in a moderate (375 degrees) oven 12 to 15 minutes. Remove to wire racks with a spatula; cool. If desired, cookies may be frosted with a thin confectioners' sugar icing flavored with lemon. Makes 5 to 6 dozen soft-type cookies.

WHAT MAKES LYNDON RUN!

U. N. Ambassador Usually Finds His Days Are Full

By MAX HARRELSON
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — In many respects this day followed a pattern which had become familiar to Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson during his 25 months as chief U.S. delegate to the United Nations.

Up early, meetings, private talks, more meetings, private dinner, night work at home, to bed after midnight.

He arose a few minutes after 7 a.m. He showered and shaved. He put on a white shirt, a gray suit and a red tie, finding that he had a little time, he sat down at his desk near his bedside and busied himself with some homework.

He usually squeezes in a brief session at his desk before breakfast. Sometimes he gets an early call from Washington, if there are important international developments.

He often has guests for breakfast. If not, he dines alone in the big dining room of the 10-room apartment which the government provides for him at the Waldorf-Astoria.

His schedule was different on this particular day. He was having breakfast as the guest of his old friend, President Diosdado Macapagal of the Philippines.

At 8:40 he stepped from the elevator at the 35th floor, seven floors below his own. He rang the doorbell at suite 35K and was ushered in to meet the Philippine president. The two men posed for photographers and then sat down to a breakfast of Spanish melon, ham and eggs, and coffee. They chatted of their first meeting in Manila 10 years ago and touched on several world problems.

Stevenson kept looking at his watch during the breakfast. He explained to Macapagal that he had to preside over a meeting of the U.N. Security Council which was scheduled to continue its debate on the problem of apartheid, or racial segregation, in South Africa.

As Stevenson stepped from the hotel, his chauffeured limousine was waiting at the curb. He climbed in for the short ride to the U.N. Mission, across the street from the United Nations and for the first time had a chance to look at the newspaper which he had brought along. He arrived at the modern 12-story U.S. Mission at 10:15 and rode an elevator to the 11th floor and his private office.

In his office, Stevenson consulted with his secretary, Roxane Eberlein, and read several messages and memos.

At 10:35 he came down, walked across United Nations Plaza, past U.N. guards, and entered the U.N. building through the delegates' entrance. He proceeded immediately to the Security Council chamber, where members of the 11-nation body already were in their seats and waiting.

After brief consultations with secretarial officials, he banged the gavel at 10:46.

During the meeting Stevenson had no occasion to make a ruling or to intervene in the discussion. He simply called upon the speakers when their turn came. He himself was busy writing on sheets of pink paper. It turned out he was working on a speech.

After the meeting had adjourned at 12:37 he returned to his office at the U.S. Mission and consulted with his secretary.

A few minutes later members of the executive committee of the Eleanor Roosevelt Foundation began arriving for a meeting in his office. This is an organization created by act of Congress to raise and administer money to carry out the ideals of Mrs. Roosevelt. Stevenson was appointed by President John F. Kennedy to serve as chairman, and he has worked hard at the job.

This day the committee members had a sandwich lunch

Help Asked To Reduce Road Toll

AUSTIN (AP)—The state police director urged Texas motorists today to do more than drive safely during the Christmas-New Year holidays to reduce an expected toll of 96 traffic deaths.

Col. Homer Garrison, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, called on motorists to "drive legally on holiday excursions and not only watch out for those who don't but report them to the nearest police agency."

Garrison said department statisticians predict 180 persons will die violently during "Operation Deathwatch" from midnight Dec. 23 to midnight Jan. 1. The department expects 96 traffic deaths, 40 suicides and homicides and 44 accidental deaths.

The department counted 110 traffic deaths during the last Christmas-New Year holiday, compared to a prediction of 92.

Garrison said the department will strengthen the highway patrol with 150 men from other uniformed services.

"The most effective work in the drive to cut down on deaths, injuries and economic loss can be done by the drivers themselves.

"Studies indicate that speed too fast for conditions was a major factor last year, followed or accompanied by driving while intoxicated and driving on the wrong side of the road," Garrison said.

"But if this tragedy could be laid to one single factor, I would say that general carelessness and inattentiveness, coupled with disregard for the law, would stand out."

Garrison said the department's last holiday season's traffic accidents showed that 62 per cent of the fatal accidents on rural highways involved only one vehicle. This indicates that the accidents mostly could not be blamed on "the other guy," he said.

Junior Editors Quiz on WILD ANIMALS

QUESTION: Why are there so many different kinds of animals in Africa?

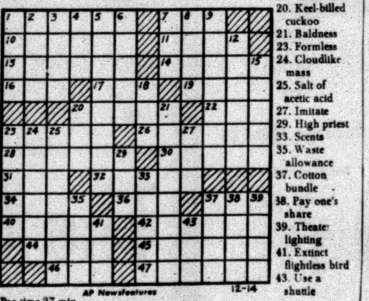

ANSWER: Africa is a paradise indeed for those who love animals—as one naturalist puts it, it would be possible to journey through it for years and find a new animal every day. Several factors account for this abundance. Africa is an enormous continent—only Asia is larger—and there is plenty of space for animals to move about in. The equator crosses Africa, and much of the climate is mild and favorable to animals. Once, Africa was connected with Europe and Asia and many animals from these areas came to settle in Africa. A great feature of the country is the huge pasture lands, described as seas of grass. These can support uncounted grazing animals which in turn support a large number of flesh eaters. Another important point is that Africa remained in a primitive state longer than many other regions, where the development of farming tended to destroy the forest and open grass ranges. However, civilization is spreading rapidly in Africa. While a large number of animals will remain in protected areas, they will probably not continue to be found in their once vast numbers.

FOR YOU TO DO: We all know that the large Africa animals, like the lion, rhino and elephant, are like us but acquainted with some of the smaller ones our artist has drawn. They are so weird and unusual looking they seem to have come from another planet. Find out more about them in the 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, and you may win a set too.

Have Faith in yourself, your fellow man, your country, your church. Whenever you and I doubt either God or man, we would do well to think of Jesus.

Life becomes a radiant thing for people of Faith. Faith can overcome the most miserable circumstances... overcome despair. The universe opens its heart to eyes of faith; closed doors swing ajar when faithful steps approach; loving spirits smile their welcome to trustworthy souls; latent powers blossom in the presence of fidelity. God waits to shower His blessings on men who can be trusted... MEN OF FAITH.
