Westside Center

Westside Recreation Center, one of the 14 United Fund agencies, provides a wholesome program of activity at the Westside Park. It budget depends heavily on the United Fund contribution of $1,500. Supervised activities are built around books, games, and other instructional facilities. Many parents participate in the center's program with their youngsters. Church women of the city direct the operation of the center, and each Christmas, the Kiwanis Club holds a special party for the youngsters.

President Can Leave Hospital After Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson got word from his doctors today that he can leave the hospital any time after tonight.

Presidential secretary Bill D. Moyers said that Johnson will remain at Bethesda Naval Hospital tonight and he will have further word later on when the President plans to leave.

GIVE WORD

The doctors gave the word after examining the President late Tuesday night and this morning.

Moyers reported they found "everything was in very good order."

SURGERY OCT. 8

Johnson underwent a gall bladder operation and removal of a kidney stone Oct. 8. This was his 13th day in the hospital. Doctors had said earlier that the average time for a gall bladder patient to remain hospitalized was 10 to 14 days.

Word of the clearance for Johnson to quit the hospital came after the chief executive had signed into law in his hospital room a bill to fight air pollution and require exhaust controls on all cars beginning with 1968 models.

Refugee Boats In Sudden Halt

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — The stream of small boats carrying Cuban refugees across the Florida Straits came to a mysterious halt today.

A U.S. Coast Guard spokesman said planes and cutters have sighted no approaching boats in the past 24 hours despite calm seas.

NO HINT

Havana broadcasts gave no hint as to why the exodus has stopped. Ten boats carrying 160 refugees arrived here Monday and Tuesday.

Both the Cuban radio and exiles who have arrived in the past few days said the Camarioca embarkation port is crowded with boats from Florida waiting to pick up passengers. The radio made no mention of recent departures.

TOLD TO GO

However, a spokesman for the Cuban Foreign Ministry announced that 11 U.S. newsmen who went to the island to cover the refugees' departure have been asked to leave on the ground their work is finished.

Though the statement that the newsmen's work is over might indicate an end to the exodus, Cuban officials also said the 11 are waiting at Camarioca for transportation to Florida on refugee boats.

Jury-Eligibility Opinion May Delay Trial

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — A young Ku Klux Klansman's murder trial may be put off until spring unless the Alabama Supreme Court can hand down a speedy ruling today on a juror selection law.

The question asked of the Supreme Court: Can jurors who say they regard Negroes and white civil rights workers as inferior be dismissed from the trial on grounds they are prejudiced?

The Klansman, Collie Leroy Wilkins Jr., 21, of Fairfield, Ala., is charged with the slaying of a white civil rights worker, Viola Liuzzo, last March 25 near Hayneville.

Mrs. Liuzzo, a 39-year-old Detroit housewife and mother of five children, was killed as she ferried Negroes back to Selma after they staged a 50-mile march on the Alabama Capitol.

Circuit Judge T. Werth Thagard said the trial in Hayneville, 28 miles west of here, must resume by this afternoon or be rescheduled next May.

Thagard called a 24-hour recess Tuesday to permit the chief prosecutor, Atty. Gen. Richmond Flowers, to appeal for a ruling on the question of prejudice to the high court.

"INDICATED BIAS"

Flowers had protested that 11 of 30 jurors qualified to hear the case should be dismissed because they indicated prejudice which would keep the state from getting a fair trial.

Chief Justice J. Ed Livingston scheduled oral arguments by the red-haired attorney general for this morning and said he would appoint four of the court's seven justices to hear the appeal.

Thagard said that unless the trial resumed this afternoon there would not be enough time remaining this week to hear evidence and he has other court commitments next week.

Most jurors said Monday they felt Negroes were inferior to whites and they also felt that white civil rights workers who socialized with Negroes are inferior.

However, they said they believed they could judge the evidence fairly and if it were sufficient, call for the death penalty.

Flowers said, "If they sincerely believe the deceased (Mrs. Liuzzo) is an inferior person, I don't think you could give any credence to their other statement."

Defense attorney Arthur J. Hanes, former mayor of Birmingham, protested to the court there were no legal grounds by which Flowers could strike the jurors because of their answers.

Duke Back In Hospital

NEW YORK (AP)—The Duke of Windsor was back in the hospital today for "eye studies."

The 71-year-old former king of England has had three operations for a detached retina of his left eye.

A spokesman for the Columbia-Presbyterian Medical Center said the duke was admitted to the hospital Tuesday night. He is confined in the Institute of Ophthalmology at the Washington Heights center.

He reportedly was accompanied to the hospital by his wife, the former Wallis Simpson.

Julie Andrews Theatre Owners' 'Star Of Year'

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Julie Andrews has been selected as star of the year by the Theatre Owners of America.

The Academy Award-winning actress will receive the award Oct. 30 at the finale of the owners' annual convention in Hollywood.

Data Indicate Payment To Klan Wizard

WASHINGTON (AP) — Klan leader Robert Shelton was confronted today with cancelled checks indicating he received $4,000 from the Dixie Engineering Co., Mobile, Ala., and refused to answer when asked whether this was payment for political influence.

Frustrated in its efforts to get testimony from Shelton, the House Committee on Un-American Activities dismissed him as a witness with a warning he faced possible action for contempt of Congress.

For the second day, the Imperial Wizard of the United Klans of America invoked his constitutional rights in declining to tell congressional investigators:

Where the Ku Klux Klan money goes.

AF DISCHARGE

Whether he asked for a hardship discharge from the Air Force during the Korean War, on grounds he had to help his mother and father run a grocery store, but instead went to work for a tire maker a month after his discharge.

Whether he applied for a citizens band radio license, saying the equipment would be used for "rescue work"; and whether it was in fact used for Klan activities.

After the $4,000 of checks relating to the Dixie Engineering Co. were produced, Chairman Edwin E. Willis, D-La., of the House Committee on Un-American Activities asked:

"POLITICAL INFLUENCE"

"Isn't it a fact you received at least $4,000 from this company because you knew your way around and because of your ability to exercise political influence?"

When Shelton made his standard answer, refusing to reply, Willis commented: "It is my impression the payments were made by rather unwilling victims."

Shelton also declined to answer when asked whether he failed to report the money as personal income.

He was asked about the purchase of a Cadillac, about money spent in a jewelry shop, about an insurance company, and about checks drawn on the Klan account.

SAME RESPONSE

To each query, he gave the same response he had to questions Tuesday about his United Klans of America.

He read from a card: "I respectfully decline to answer that question for the reason that I honestly believe my answer might tend to incriminate me in violation of my rights guaranteed to me by Amendments 5, 1, 4 and 14 of the Constitution of the United States of America."

Shelton was again accompanied by some of his grand dragons when he came to the second session of the hearings by the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

LABEL BUTTON

He was wearing a label button with the single word "Never" on it.

He refused to tell newsmen about the button. When Committee Chairman Edwin E. Willis, D-La., asked him to explain it, Shelton replied that he must refuse because his answer might tend to incriminate him.

Donald T. Appell, a committee investigator, did most of the questioning of Shelton about Klan finances.

Shelton's decision to keep silent about all Klan affairs apparently was a last-moment switch of tactics.

Water-Saving Program Eyed

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Groundwork for a long-range Kentucky water conservation program may be formed at a conference of public and private agencies on Oct. 26. The Department of Natural Resources is planning legislation next year to include creation of a Water Resources Authority.

Dominica Interim Regime May Fall

Violence Has Cabinet In Urgent Meet

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Rumors flew in Santo Domingo today that the Dominican Republic's provisional government is threatened with overthrow.

Lights burned late in government offices following fresh bursts of fighting Tuesday in the heart of the capital. Three persons were killed and seven wounded in shooting between rebel snipers and army troops before fighting subsided in the afternoon.

President Hector Garcia-Godoy held an emergency Cabinet session and met far into the night with his staff in an effort to stem the upsurge of violence.

He also met with the former rebel chief, Col. Francisco Caamano Deno, and appealed to him to try to halt the rebel sniping.

HURRIES BACK

U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker, top trouble-shooter for the Organization of American States, hurried back to Santo Domingo from Washington. He played a key part in the agreement under which the provisional government was established in early September to end the April rebellion.

An aide to Garcia-Godoy described everything as normal at the president's home. But the president postponed a radio-television apearance after army units ringed the government's Radio Santo Domingo and prevented transfer of mobile television equipment to the National Palace.

Garcia-Godoy had planned the broadcast to announce a system for collecting weapons still held by civilians. Informed sources said army leaders wanted to examine the plan before it was made public.

In an effort to prevent inflammatory broadcasts, Garcia-Godoy ordered all radio stations except the government's and one operated by the OAS shut down.

The armed forces secretary, Commodore Francisco J. Rivera Caminero, conferred into the night with his chiefs of staff at navy headquarters.

ARMY WAITING

He said the army had 3,400 men and 42 armored vehicles waiting in the suburbs if the rebels renewed the fighting.

No shooting was reported during the night.

Dominican troops were ordered into the rebel zone late Monday after dock union leader Jose Ramirez was slain in a battle with a rival group. A battalion of tank-led antiguerrilla specialists moved into Ozama fortress, overlooking the rebel zone, to protect troops guarding docks.

The bulk of the rebel army, about 1,400 men, is quartered in a military camp across the river from the fortress.

Dr. Allen Emphasizes Importance Of Love

By M. A. WEBB

Dr. Charles L. Allen, pastor of the 8,000 - member First Methodist Church of Houston, spoke to about 550 persons at the Big Spring High School Auditorium last night on "The Importance of One Person." He was brought to Big Spring by the local branch of the Texas State Teachers Association, and president Hubert Murphy presided.

Dr. Allen, a native of Georgia who still speaks with a Georgia accent, discussed the cause of today's emotional problems in individuals, and suggested remedies not found in test tubes, laboratories, or doctors' offices.

NO HOME LIFE

"People today are sold on the idea of all kinds of appliances and gadgets in homes and businesses," he said. "They are auto-minded, but can't solve their own problems, mend broken homes, or stop raving and ranting in front of their own children. We are getting all the mechanical aids and needs we want, but nothing else. There is no home life for the majority of Americans today."

The speaker, who is the author of many books, and articles is in demand as a speaker. He spoke in Odessa Monday, and left this morning for a speaking engagement in Winnipeg, Canada.

"A check of book stores recently showed me that the greatest number of books being sold today are those on tension and personal problems," he said. "Most causes of emotional problems are the feeling of insecurity, imaginary problems, and struggling as grasshoppers against giants as happened in the mind of the Isrealites before reaching the Promised Land. Individuals have not the initiative to chart their own courses beyond today.

LACK OF DIRECTION

"We hear a lot about the over crowding of colleges today, but most of the so-called overcrowded condition is not in the classroom but in car-parking spaces," Dr. Allen said. "We like to travel fast, but don't know where we are going. This lack of direction in many individuals soon transfers the same lack to the higher powers in government which in turn become total powers."

The speaker said a good example of what mother love means, is found in the life of Moses. He was adopted by the daughter of a Pharaoh who gave him all the luxury, and power desirable. But only his mother, who was his baby sitter in childhood and servant in manhood, gave him love. He turned against his foster mother.

"If you are not careful you'll decide you don't make any difference in the world today," he continued. "People become lost to the world in thier own selfish problems because they are not taught how to act on their own initiative, and are not taught responsibility. Our children can do without fine clothing and such other luxuries, but they can't do without love. We must re-establish concern for each other. We are just as important as we make ourselves, to our community, but not just in our own estimations."

WORN KNEES

He spoke of drugs for mentally disturbed people, including one to stimulate memory, but said nothing will ever be found in test tubes or laboratories to provide relief from personal problems. Only worn trouser knees from kneeling in prayer would give such relief.

He called on his listeners to remember three things for better lives as individuals: "God answers prayer sooner or later if made in earnest; God forgives sin; and God gives strength to live and overcome problems.

Dr. Allen was introduced by the Rev. Leo Gee, pastor of the First Methodist Church, who gave some of the background of the speaker's life.

The high school a cappella choir, under the direction of Mel Ivy, gave four selections: "O Magnum Mysterium," "A Swan," "Since All Is Passing," and "Sometimes I Feel Like a Motherless Child," an old spiritual. The solo part of the spiritual was sung by Don Haney, a member of last year's all-state choir.

Killer Tapes Dying Screams

MANCHESTER, England (AP) — A mass killer who buried his victims in the moors tortured his victims and tape recorded their dying screams, detectives said today.

Although they hold recordings of the murders, and even photographs of the mutilated victims, police have found only one of the bodies.

They believe up to eight and perhaps 11 others are buried on the wild northern moorlands where the dismembered body of Lesley Ann Downey, 10, was found over the weekend.

Police seized tape and photographs in a raid on a house in Cheshire near the Pennine Hills where the hunt for the bodies continues.

AMENDMENTS UP FOR VOTE

Larry Whittington, 27, of Fort Sumner, N.M., died in the crash. His helper, Waynen Graham, 36, of Eustace, Tex., was in critical condition at a hospital here.

Investigators said the truck plunged into a ditch after hitting a bridge abutment.

Comet Races Toward A Swing - Around Of Sun

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The comet Ikeya-Seki raced within a few million miles of the sun today — as astronomers differed on whether it will put on the spectacular celestial show forecast for tonight and Thursday morning.

The comet, streaking in from the edge of the solar system, is expected to whip around the sun and start back during a five-hour period beginning at 11 p.m. Big Spring time.

Astronomers have predicted solar radiation would light up the frozen gases in the comet's 10-million-mile tail and make it visible during sunrise and sunset hours around the globe.

Scientists who tried to observe the comet from a plane over the Pacific Tuesday said it was brightening slowly, however, and might not even be visible to the naked eye tonight.

California Institute of Technology astronomers said the comet might only be following the behavior of a comet which passed near the sun in 1882.

LATER EXPLODED

That one virtually disappeared from view for two days before it reached the sun, then turned very bright and exploded into several pieces. This could happen to Ikeya-Seki, the Caltech astronomers said.

The airborne expedition, flying from Honolulu to Midway Island and back, hopes to observe the comet at sunset today when the plane is near Midway and again at sunrise as it approaches Hawaii.

Mid-Pacific is one of the best places to view the comet during its hairpin loop around the sun. The other side of the earth will be in darkness during those hours. The swing-around also may be visible from Hawaii, New Zealand, Australia and parts of Asia.

OTHER COUNTRIES

Other parts of the world may be able to see the comet before and after the swing around.

Tonight the comet will linger in the sky a few minutes after the sun sets and will precede the sun above the horizon Thursday morning as the earth's rotation brings them into view.

At both sunset and sunrise around the globe the horizon may block out the sun enough for the comet to stand out clearly, especially if it brightens to predicted intensity.

But comets are unpredictable, say astronomers, and this one is no exception.

PRINCESS MARGARET

Princess To Attend Ball In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Movieland's social coup of the year — Princess Margaret at the WAIF Ball Nov. 8 — fell right out of the royal blue.

The princess herself asked to be invited, says Jane Russell, founder of the World Adoption International Fund group.

The actress said: "We owe it all to Sharman Douglas, a charter member of WAIF. She has been telling the princess for years that if ever she came to the United States, she should attend our ball which is really a fun ball.

"We always try to have visiting royalty as guests of honor but we never held any hope of getting the British royal family. Then a few months ago, the British consul-general here called Mrs. Bill Welsh, who is president of the local chapter. He said that Princess Margaret wondered if she might attend the ball on her visit to the United States.

"'You know she can,' were Mrs. Welsh's enthusiastic words."

Sharman Douglas is the daughter of Lewis Douglas, former ambassador to Britain. As a child, her London playmates were the future Queen Elizabeth and Princess Margaret. They have remained friends and Sharman will travel with the princess on her 20-day tour of the United States.

Roman Curia Entrenchment May Topple

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI is reported ready to issue new regulations designed to bring new and younger men into the top levels of the Roman Curia.

The Curia, the central administrative body of the Roman Catholic Church, is dominated by conservative officials, most of them Italian. Progressives at the Vatican Ecumenical Council have been urging major reforms to internationalize the organization and end the entrenchment of the old men at the top.

Vatican sources said the Pope would issue a two-part document which would:

—Make 70 the mandatory retirement age for all high positions in the Curia, including cardinals and papal nuncios of archbishop's rank.

JOB SUSPENSION

—Provide for automatic suspension from their jobs of all cardinals who head Curia departments upon the death of a Pope. The new Pope could then replace or retain each man.

It was not known if the retirement rule would apply to those now in control of the 12 congregations, three tribunals and six special offices that make up the Curia. Of 28 cardinals in ranking Curia posts, 22 are over 70.

They include the militant leader of the conservative faction in the Ecumenical Council, Alfredo Ottaviani, head of the Holy Office, who will be 75 next week; Amleto Cicognani, the 82-year-old secretary of state, and Eugene Tisserant, 81, the prefect of the Ceremonial Congregation and the dean of the College of Cardinals.

HEADS SECRETARIAT

One of the church's leading progressives, Augustin Cardinal Bea, is 84. But he heads the Vatican's Christian Unity Secretariat, and his office is not classed as part of the Curia.

The Pope is expected to issue his document by the time the Ecumenical Council ends in December, before he holds his second consistory to name new cardinals. Some of these will be named also to Curia posts.

AMENDMENT—2

Authorizes Money For Veterans' Land

(This is the second of 10 articles published by The Herald to acquaint voters with the provisions of amendments being proposed in a general election Nov. 2—Ed.)

AMENDMENT NO. 2

Amendment No. 2 would authorize state debt in the amount of $200,000,000 to increase the size of the Veterans' Land Fund from the present $200,000,000 to $400,000,000. Two years ago (1963) Texas voters rejected an amendment to the Constitution which would have allowed the issuance of $150,000,000 in bonds to increase the size of the fund from $200,000,000 to $350,000,000.

FURNISH CREDIT

The Veterans' Land Fund consists of borrowed moneys which are used to furnish credit to veterans under liberal terms to be used to acquire land. The Veterans' Land Program was initiated under a 1946 constitutional provision which authorized the issuance of $25,000,000 of state bonds for acquisition of lands to be resold to veterans of World War II. Subsequent amendments to the Constitution have boosted the total of the authorized fund to $200,000,000, and the program has been extended to include Texas veterans who have served in the Armed Forces of the United States since 1945.

All of the $200,000,000 of bonds presently authorized have been sold. The final installment of $25,000,000 was sold in December, 1961. Of the $200,000,000 of debt created under existing authorizations, a total of $181,115,000 is presently outstanding. The bonds are legal obligations of the State of Texas and backed by its full faith and credit.

It has been estimated that there are a million Texas Veterans who have not availed themselves of the land program. It has been estimated that at least a billion dollars would be necessary to meet the needs of all who might wish to participate, even though all veterans are not expected to take advantage of the program.

REWARDS VETS

The Veterans' Land Program is Texas' means of rewarding veterans of the Armed Forces.

The cost of the program is small because the moneys made available through the program to veterans for the purchase of land must be repaid with interest. Although the bonds issued under the constitutional authorizations are general obligations guaranteed by the State of Texas, the State never has been required to appropriate funds to make up any deficiency. The only cost to the State and its taxpayers is for appropriations to meet administrative expenses of the fund. Operating expenses of the fund in 1963 (year ended Aug. 31) totalled $348,355.93. This expense was met by legislative appropriations from the State's general revenue fund.

The principal and interest on the bonds issued under the Veterans' Land Program are paid from the income derived from the interest on and repayment of loans made to veterans who have purchased the land under the provisions of the program.

The maximum loan under the present provisions of the Constitution is $7,500, payable over a 40-year period. The loans to veterans bear interest at rates ranging from three per cent to 4½ per cent, with the lower rates payable on loans made in earlier years and the higher rates effective on loans made after July 1, 1961. The proposed amendment also increases the maximum amount which can be loaned from $7,500 to $10,000 and eliminates the present $15,000 maximum purchase price.

CONTINUES PROGRAM

Under the terms of the present Constitution any moneys collected after Dec. 1, 1965, which are not needed for the retirement of bonds or to pay the interest thereon are to be deposited in the State's general revenue fund. This provision terminates the Veterans' Land Program as of Dec. 1, 1965, unless Amendment No. 2 is approved by a vote of the people. Thus, a favorable vote on Amendment No. 2 will be in effect a vote to perpetuate the program, while a negative vote will be in favor of termination.

Probers, Klan Wizard Pull Surprise Swap

WASHINGTON (AP) — Imperial Wizard Robert M. Shelton pulled a surprise on members of the House Committee on Un-American Activities — and they apparently pulled a surprise on the Ku Klux Klan leader.

They produced bank records, income tax returns and a handwriting expert Tuesday to try to prove there was some financial hanky-panky going on within the Klan, with Shelton's wife using a Klan account under a disguised name.

Then Chairman Edwin E. Willis, D-La., gave Shelton and his wife a chance to think things over before facing more questions today.

WATCH STONILY

Shelton's lieutenants sat in neat business suits watching stonily as their leader took shelter under the Constitution 73 times in refusing to answer questions about the Klan or its money.

The Klansmen may not have been surprised, but the committee was.

A source said Shelton and his lawyer walked into the committee offices on the eve of the hearing opening and promised to cooperate, "to tell about the Klan and what he hopes to do with it."

If so, Shelton obviously changed his mind.

There was surprise on the faces of the investigators when, almost at the first crack of the bat, Shelton refused to identify Georgia Klan incorporation papers under his name. He also refused, despite a warning from Willis that he was on "thin ice," to turn over subpoenaed records.

RITUAL BEGINS

In refusing, he started a day-long ritual of invoking the protection not only of the Fifth Amendment, but the First, Fourth and Fourteenth amendments.

Willis told newsmen afterward he hoped Shelton's performance wouldn't set a Fifth Amendment pattern for the Klan hearings.

"I am very hopeful that other people who feel like I do will say 'who's afraid of the big bad wolf'," he said.

The sharp-faced 36-year-old Alabamian, a diamond ring glittering on his left hand, generally was expressionless as the questions came, often in the Southern drawls of Willis, Rep. Joe R. Pool, D-Tex., and Rep. Charles L. Weltner, D-Ga.

Shelton refused to tell anything about financial records, to admit he was the imperial wizard or to answer Pool's question, "Are you ashamed to be a member of the Klan'?"

During the morning Shelton listened to committee investigators tell about locating 381 Klan Klaverns in a search constantly hampered by many Southerners' fear of the Klan.

"These people fear harassment, threatening letters, telephone calls, cross burnings on their property, beatings, bombings, and, yes, even death," said chief investigator Donald T. Appell.

Most of the afternoon session sounded more like an income tax trial than a probe of the Klan. The committee aimed most of its questions at the handling of the bank account of the Alabama Rescue Service.

The service in Shelton's home base of Tuscaloosa, Ala., was called by Willis a "plain front" for Shelton's Klan.

When Shelton wouldn't answer questions about bank account signatures, the committee called Carol Long, ostensibly a Shelton employe in Tuscaloosa, and finally, Mrs. Shelton.

The committee got no more out of Mrs. Long, a plumpish woman in green net and sunglasses, or Mrs. Shelton than it did from Shelton. Mrs. Shelton even hesitated before acknowledging that she was his wife.

Then, the committee rolled out its secret weapon — handwriting expert Philip Schmitz, now a document expert for the Veterans Administration but formerly an FBI specialist who worked on the Hiss-Chambers espionage case.

With painstaking precision and much detail, Schmitz used projected slides to allege that Mrs. Long's and Mrs. Shelton's signatures — from income tax returns and the like — were the same as those on bank records under names of others supposed to be Klan officials.

Is continental comfort a complimentary cup of coffee in the morning?

Partly. But it's also many other niceties you'll find at The Worth. For example, finding that the maid has turned down your bedding for the night. And that some thoughtful someone has shined your shoes during the night.

The Worth has the features you'd expect in a fine hotel, of course — free garage parking . . . family plan . . . air conditioning . . . fine food . . . convention facilities. But it's our continental extras that make all these other things so much more enjoyable!

Capt. Day Chalks Up Lots Of Time

By MICHAEL DeSTEPHANIS

If Capt. James G. Day began a T-38 Talon flight at 12:01 a.m., Aug. 14 and landed at noon Oct. 15, he would have accomplished all of his flying time in the T-38 Talon at one time.

The captain, however, did not fly the 1,500 hours — the most T-38 time of any pilot at Webb — in two months, but he did in 3½ years. His flying time in the Talon averaged out to almost 40 hours a month.

Capt. Day is the Eagle Flight commander in the 3560th Pilot Training Squadron, and he has been at Webb in T-38s since December, 1961.

His total flying time in all aircraft is not quite 3,000 hours. He has flown T-33s, F-86s, F-89s and has some time in the T-37.

Capt. Day's Air Force career began in the summer of 1954 when he was commissioned a second lieutenant out of ROTC, Oklahoma State University.

For his first four years he was a radar observer with the 84th Fighter Interceptor Squadron at Hamilton AFB, Calif. In 1958, he applied for pilot training and was sent to Bainbridge Air Base, Fla., for his primary training and then completed basic flight training at Vance AFB, Okla.

After getting his pilot wings, he went to F-86 school at Perrin AFB, Texas, and then was reassigned to Walker AFB, N.M., where he flew the F-89 Scorpion. He was transferred to Keflavik AFB, Iceland, in September, 1960, and 10 months later returned to the United States. He went to basic instructor school in December, 1961, before coming to Webb.

Capt. Day's 1,500th hour came last Saturday on a flight from Maxwell AFB, Ala., to Kelly AFB, Tex. With the captain was Col. A. F. Taute, wing commander.

Capt. Day received the Air Training Command "Well Done Award" in March, 1962 when he brought in a T-33 that had suffered a power loss at 350 feet altitude.

The captain was with a student who was flying "under the hood" and had completed a ground control approach low pass. When an attempt to go around resulted in power failure the captain took the controls at 350 feet, at a point one-third to one-half down the runway, he elected to bring the aircraft in.

He touched down with 1,000 feet of the runway left and went into the arresting barrier. There was no landing damage to the aircraft and neither Capt. Day nor the student was injured.

Shastri May Visit In U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Indian Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri may visit the United States sometime after Dec. 10.

S. K. Patil, India's minister of railways, talked to Secretary of State Dean Rusk Tuesday and said the timing of the visit "depends upon the health of your President."

The president of Pakistan, Mohammed Ayub Khan, also is planning a trip to the United States this year.

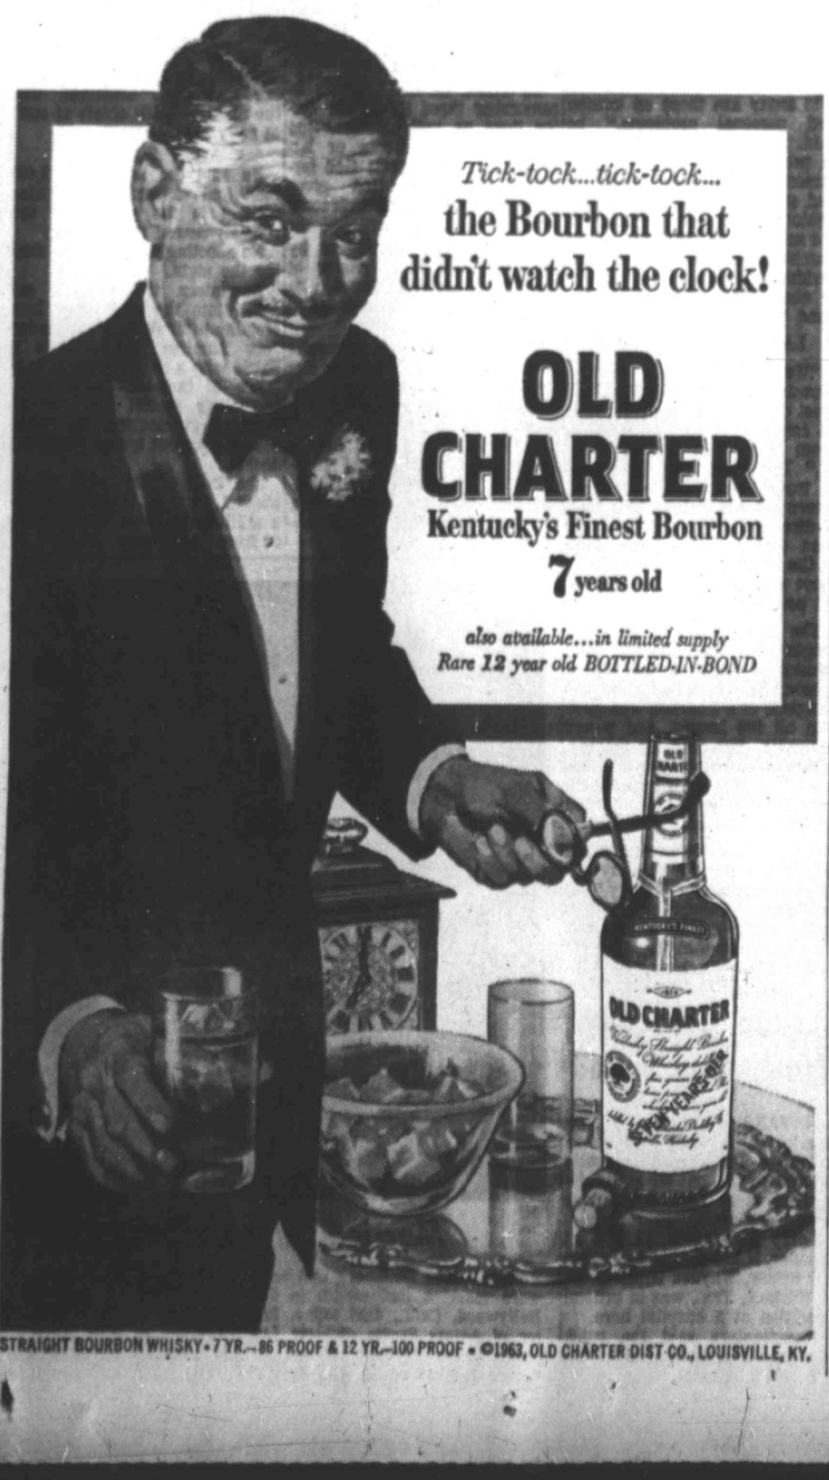

Both had planned to meet with President Johnson in Washington last spring, but their trips were called off at the last minute.

Enrollment Up In Journalism

LUBBOCK — W. E. Garets, head of Texas Tech's journalism department, said Monday his department's enrollment has exceeded the previous high which was during the post-war period, 1947-48. Garets reported 274 registrants this fall, which is a 16 per cent increase over 1964, 46 per cent better than 1963 and 66 per cent higher than 1962.

The department's freshmen and sophomore registration is up 53 per cent over last fall. At present, the department has 107 students majoring in journalism. Garets explained that the count on students minoring in journalism is not complete but he expects it to be well above the figure for recent years.

Nine students have received journalism scholarships for 1965, Garets said. David Snyder, sophomore from Denver City, Roy McQueen, Andrews sophomore, and Brenda Greene, freshman from Big Spring, were awarded the annual West Texas Press Association Scholarships.

Texas Cool Front Weak

By The Associated Press

Another weak cool front edged across Texas today without much effect.

There were a few clouds and some early morning fog in eastern and southern sections of the state. Skies were generally clear elsewhere and temperatures were mild in all areas.

The forward edge of the latest front before dawn stretched from near Sherman to Abilene and west of Lubbock. High pressure forming behind it was expected to ease the cooler air slowly toward the southeast.

A few showers fell near the coast and drizzle was mixed with fog at Del Rio on the Mexican border. It also was foggy early in the day around Houston, Lufkin and Tyler.

Forecasts called for a little cooler weather across the north half of the state tonight and Thursday.

Top temperatures Tuesday ranged from 87 degrees at Presidio down to 68 at Amarillo.

Sod Broken For Fordham Project

NEW YORK (AP) — Ground has been broken for a $15-million classroom, office and theater building complex at Fordham University's Lincoln Center campus on Manhattan's West Side.

Stockyards Now Offer Country Club Facilities

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—That next steak of yours may taste better because stockyards are offering country club facilities.

Swimming pools, Swedish baths and artifically perfumed air around livestock feed lots are now considered necessities. They provide livestock a kind and efficient trip to market, especially in heavily populated communities which have grown around once isolated yards.

John F. O'Dea, vice president of the Denver Union Stockyards said Tuesday, while the swimming pools provide relief on a hot day they also contain an insecticide that kills harmful parasites and makes animals more comfortable.

Air conditioning, O'Dea said, is a smart move "because cool, comfortable animals don't melt off pounds that mean profits for the industry."

Three Area Projects Set

Area projects by the Texas A&M Extension Service include three in this area.

One will be a brush control tour in Borden County on Oct. 27. The tour will leave the courthouse in Gail at 9 a.m. with County Agent J. W. Holmes in charge. Stops will include demonstrations on spray control, of brush, range reseeding and management and other control methods.

The 4-H Achievement Banquet will be held for Dawson County young people at 7 p.m. in the Forrest Park Community Center in Lamesa.

A short course on fertilizer and technology will stress new management techniques, latest information on soil pesticide relationships, potential of new fertilizer material, and personnel recruitment and utilization. Two sessions are slated at Forrest Park Community Center in Lamesa—one at 7:30 p.m. Dec. 2 and the other at 6:30 p.m. Dec. 8.

Fly-In Sunday At Lamesa

LAMESA (SC) — The Lamesa Chamber of Commerce, in conjunction with the Lamesa Municipal Airport Board and the Lamesa Flying Club, is sponsoring a Fly-In Sunday, at Lamesa Municipal Airport.

A barbecue lunch will be served at noon, and Ernest Tyson, aerobatics flyer from Midland, will present a flying exhibition in a Steerman PT 17. Doc Morris, of the Wren Aviation Company in Fort Worth, will demonstrate the maneuverability of the Wren-460, a converted Cessna 182. The Wren, noted for its slow flight ability, is in demand for patrolling and by ranchers.

Other new planes will be displayed by out-of-town dealers with rides offered by the dealers to patrons at a penny-per-pound for each passenger.

All air enthusiasts are invited to attend the affair. A movie will be shown on flying along with demonstrations by other dealers.

Card Destroyer Free On Bail, Hearing Friday

MANCHESTER, N.H. (AP)—David J. Miller, 22, faces a hearing Friday on whether he will be returned to New York City to answer to an indictment charging him with burning his draft card.

Miller, from Syracuse, N.Y., was freed on $500 bail Tuesday from Hillsboro County jail.

On his release, Miller was asked by a reporter whether he had burned his draft card and not some other card and he replied: "It was my draft card—and I burned it."

The maximum penalty for such an offense is five years imprisonment and a fine of $10,000.

"I would hope the law would be repealed," Miller said, "but if jail comes I'll go."

Legislator Has Been Here Constantly Since Election

Look, fellows — even if a man is a member of the State Legislature, that doesn't mean he stays in Austin all of the time.

As a matter of fact, a state representative spends only a small part of his time in the state capital. The remainder of the time he's in his home town and (if things go as he would like them) pursuing his own particular line of work.

A case at hand is that of Roger Brown.

Brown, who is a Big Spring attorney at law, made a strenuous and successful race in the special election some months ago to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Ed Carpenter, who was representative for the district in which Howard County is located.

Since Brown became the state representative from this county, he has had no occasion to go to Austin for any reason. Nor, for that matter, has he had a chance to even sit in a session of the House.

Actually, Roger's been right here in town all of the time. He has faithfully showed up at his law office each day.

The problem is:

Most people seem to have the impression that Brown is now a resident of Austin and comes back to Big Spring only on weekends and such.

"It's not very funny," mourns Representative Brown. "It's cut in on my law practice. It's got so that the secretary in our office (he is in partnership with Lanny Hamby) is always being told, 'So you just have one boss now—just Hamby.'

"People even come to the office and say: 'I'd like to see Brown, but since he's in Austin . . .'

"I'm not in Austin, and I won't be there until the next session of the legislature."

Testimony Continues In Trial Of Yanez

Avery Falkner, city police officer and the complaining witness in an indictment against Clarence Yanez Jr., now on trial in 118th District Court for assault with intent to murder, had been on the stand for nearly four hours at 11:30 a.m. today and the case was still a long way from being handed to the jury.

Falkner was being cross-examined at great length by George Thomas, attorney for the defendant. The same treatment had been accorded Lee Justice, another police officer who was with Falkner at the time the alleged offense occurred. Justice was the first witness called by the state after a jury had been selected and the trial started at noon Tuesday.

He was kept on the stand until 5 p.m. At that time, Falkner took his place and was still in the witness chair at 11:30 a.m. Wednesday.

Yanez is accused of firing two or more shots at Falkner, when the latter attempted to interrogate him and other Latin-Americans relative to a traffic violation. The episode occurred on the north side of town at a residence. None of the shots hit anyone.

The jury in the case spent the night in the courthouse Tuesday.

It is made up of 11 men and one woman.

Mixon Case Is Reopened

AUSTIN (AP)—The Court of Criminal Appeals reopened today the Lindy Mixon case and ordered him released unless an Odessa judge provides a lawyer for his appeal.

Mixon's conviction was affirmed and disposed of on March 20, 1963—two days after the U.S. Supreme Court ruling that indigents are entitled to counsel on appeal.

Mixon had alleged in his appeal that he had no lawyer and couldn't afford one. The lawyer who represented him during the trial, which resulted in conviction of burglary with two previous felony convictions, left the case after the trial.

The court ordered Mixon held in the Ector County jail for 90 days to allow the trial court judge to appoint an attorney to handle the appeal. If no lawyer is appointed in 90 days, he is to be freed.

NEW SOCIAL SECURITY STAFF MEMBER
Erven Fisher, left, and Miss Linda Maule

Linda Maule Joins Staff Of Social Security Here

Linda Maule, new claims representative at the Big Spring District Social Security Administrative office, has assumed new duties.

Erven Fisher, head of the office, said Miss Maule will fill a vacancy left on his staff by the removal of Margaret Scoggins to Texarkana. Mrs. Scoggins left several weeks ago for her new assignment.

Miss Maule, whose family resides in Scurry County, is a graduate of Tarleton State College. After graduating, she taught school briefly at Rotan before affiliating with the Social Security Service in July.

Fisher said Miss Maule, as well as other members of his staff, are busy signing up older citizens to benefit from the new hospitalization program which becomes operative next year.

Roper Headed For A Record

DENVER —Pro rodeo's competitive spotlight centered Monday on Glen Franklin, House, N.M., calf roper, who appears a cinch to shatter the game's all-time winning record for one event this year.

In a meteoric season, which started with a victory at Denver's National Western rodeo last January, Franklin has snared $28,742 to date, leaving him only $99 away from the record, $28,841, set by Idaho's Dean Oliver in 1960.

Left for Franklin to shoot at this season is some $12,000 in calf roping prizes before the regular season's cut-off date Nov. 7 at the Cow Palace in San Francisco.

In addition, Franklin will have another $8,917 to try for during the game's "world series," the National Finals rodeo, Dec. 4-11 at Oklahoma City.

Along with his grip on 1965's calf roping crown, which like the one-event money record appears certain, Franklin won $55 steer wrestling last weekend at Blythe, Calif., to become eligible for another rodeo title, the all-around cowboy championship which goes to the season's big winner in two or more events.

Coupled with his calf roping total, the steer wrestling grab hustled the 30-year-old six-footer into second place in the sweepstakes title race, only $1,828 behind Idaho's Oliver, who is setting the pace with a current $30,625. Oliver won $738 at the Portland, Ore., rodeo.

Armstrong Is Back On Force

Approval of re-hiring a former policeman to fill a patrolman's vacancy was announced today by Larry Crow, city manager. Re-hired was Bobby Ray Armstrong, who resigned from the force five months ago.

He had been employed with the local police force from 1961 until May of this year. Jay Banks, police chief, said Armstrong was reinstated because he is already a trained police officer, rather than hiring one of the applicants on the eligible list who would not be able to attend the police academy until next year.

Born in Coffeyville, Kan., 29 years ago, Armstrong and his wife Beatrice Jean have one son, Bob Jr. They live at 2410 Runnels. Armstrong served in the U.S. Army from 1953 to 1956 and attained the rank of corporal. During his previous service with the local police department, he was animal warden.

Woman Takes Pill Overdose

A local woman's apparent overdose of pills was discovered today, when a friend came by her home to visit, found her unconscious, and took her to Howard County Hospital Foundation, officers said.

Attendants said the woman had taken several pills, some of which require prescriptions. The woman is employed at the Big Spring State Hospital, officers said. Her condition was described as good by attendants, who said she was resting comfortably.

No Demand Yet By Absentees

There is no local demand for absentee ballots for the Nov. 2 constitutional amendment election.

Although the voting period has been open for several days for absentee voting, Mrs. Pauline Petty, Howard County clerk, said today only one ballot has been cast. It was deposited in the ballot box late Tuesday.

Deadline for absentee voting on the constitutional amendments is Oct. 29.

Exams Announced

Examinations for several positions are being announced by the U.S. Civil Service Commission. Youth Hurt In Car Accident

A 12-year-old boy was treated and released from Howard County Hospital Foundation Tuesday, after he was injured in a traffic accident.

A car driven by Reginald W. Robertson, 2806 Clanton, in which the lad, Randy Robertson, was a passenger, was in collision with a car driven by Mary Crawford Hill, 1808 Donley, at the intersection of Seventeenth and Austin, officers said.

Four other accidents Tuesday injured no one, officers said. Involved were the cars of Arnella Cameron Rogers, 607 Holbert, and Robert H. Baxter, Webb AFB, at FM 700 and US 87; the cars of John Roy Birmingham, 2002 Morrison, and James Cecil Hargrave, 2201 Morrison, at 2002 Morrison; the parked car of L. Wayne Renshaw Jr., 2602 Lynn, and a car driven by Haywood Franklin Baker, 1713 Oriole, Hobbs, N.M., in the Americana Motel parking lot; and cars driven by Avery Burton Nix, 501 E. 13th, and Ray Vestor Wise, 1502 W. 5th, at the intersection of Twenty-First and Runnels.

International Credit Union Day Observance Thursday

International Credit Union Day will be observed here Thursday, and the Big Spring chapter of credit unions and the Webb AFB Federal Credit Union are playing hosts for the occasion.

There will be a birthday cake cutting at 10 a.m. in the Webb credit union building (No. 261 — the pink building two blocks west of the chapel) with Dan Conley, president of the chapter, doing the honors. Open house will be observed until 2 p.m. with the public invited.

NOT NEW

Credit unions are not new, and in fact one of the units here (Cosden) goes back to 1936. But the idea which motivated the organization dates back to 1849 when Freidrich W. Raiffeisen sought to find some way of helping the people of Flammersfeld, Germany when a crop failure almost wiped them out. He organized a self-help society in which members pooled savings and could use them in the form of loans. He organized 423 of these in this country, and the idea spread.

Alphonse Desjardins succeeded in setting up a credit union in Canada in 1900, and by 1909 the first unit was organized in the United States in Massachusetts — and incidentally it was here the term "credit union" was written into law.

REAL IMPETUS

The real impetus, however, came from Edward A. Felene, renowned Boston merchant and philanthropist, who spent more than a million dollars of his own money in promoting law changes and founding new credit unions. A national federation was formed in 1934 with 3,000 units joining. In 1936 loan insurance was added and two years later life insurance.

Among basic tenets of credit unions are that it is open to everybody in a basic group serves but serves only its members, is independent in action, neutral in politics, stresses character as the guide in loaning, has all segments represented on its boards, regards members' affairs in strict confidence, and operates on the premise that it is a pool of money saved by members for the use of members.

There are eight credit unions operative here — Big Spring Educators, Big Spring Electric, Big Spring State Hospital, City of Big Spring, Cosden, Howard County, Texas & Pacific, VA Hospital, and Webb AFB, the latter now being the largest. Ten years ago there were only six.

NUMBER GROWS

Within the past decade the number of loans made by local credit unions within a year has grown from 2,606 to 9,517; the number of loans outstanding at the end of the year from 1,466 to 5,238; the amount of loans made during the year from $1,200,896 to $7,370,334; the amount outstanding at the end of the year from $1,029,642 to $4,290,889.

The number of share holders has grown from 2,303 to 9,116 and the amount of shares (savings) from $719,814 to $5,228,394. Since organization the local credit unions have made 86,577 loans for $51,984,106, whereas 10 years ago they had made only 13,593 loans for $4,898,509. Last year the credit unions paid members $254,630 in dividends and interest refunds.

Burgess Gets Suits Ready For Tax Sale

John Burgess, city attorney, was at the courthouse today putting the final touches on 29 tax suits for which an order of sale has been issued.

The property involved in the delinquent tax cases will be sold by the sheriff to the highest and best bidder at the Howard County courthouse Nov. 2.

All three taxing agencies are involved in the tax collection effort.

Burgess said that the property owners named in the suits can still come in and redeem their property if they pay the accumulated taxes, costs and other fees prior to the sale.

He said he had made no total of the amount of delinquent taxes involved in the 29 cases but that "it would amount to several thousand dollars."

The property owners named in the suits are:

Reuben Billaba, R. W. Vaughn, Geneva Lopez, R. H. Cline, Joe Arnold, Helen Deanda, Thomas Marquez Jr., Patricia Juarez, Leandro Juarez, Ascension Hilario, Joe D. Woods, C. D. Wiley, Jose Valdez, Isaiah Weatherall, Manuel Villa, Clarence Shaw, H. G. Russell, Louis Renteria, Earl Parrish, Elias G. AUSTIN—University of Texas regents and administrative officers will tour university lands in West Texas Nov. 3-5 and informally visit with many of the land lessees and other interested parties.

The tour will originate in El Paso and cover areas between Pyote, Andrews, Midland, Fort Stockton, Texon and Ozona where stops have been planned.

Chaiman Heath said the Board of Regents oversees the management of more than 2,000,000 acres of land in 19 West Texas counties. The land is part of the Permanent University Fund, a major asset of higher education in Texas.

On Nov. 4 there will be stops at Salt Flat, Pyote and Andrews before a dinner meeting in Midland and a conference with a surface and mineral lease advisory committee. Invited guests include Rep. George Mahon. Next day there will be visits at Fort Stockton, Bakersfield, Texon and Ozona. Rep. Roger Brown, Big Spring, is among the state legislators invited

Anti-Air Pollution Measure Signed In Hospital Room

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson signed into law in his hospital bedroom today a bill to fight air pollution and require exhaust controls on all cars beginning with 1968 models.

A delegation of about a dozen congressmen, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and secretary of welfare John Gardner looked on as the President signed the measure.

Johnson read a brief statement saying that since the industrial revolution "we have been systematically polluting our air," with automobiles alone now discharging enough carbon monoxide every day to pollute the combined areas of Massachusetts, Connecticut and New Jersey. He said this poses a health problem "that is national in scope."

The legislation also creates a federal program of research and technical aid to seek ways of disposing of the millions of tons of solid waste that the nation generates each year.

The President's gall bladder and a kidney stone were removed in major surgery Oct. 8.

"ROUTINE CHECK"

Press secretary Bill D. Moyers said Tuesday the physicians wanted to make a routine examination of their patient today.

The press secretary said Tuesday night Johnson probably would be discharged from the hospital sometime this week, spend a brief time at the White House and then go down to his Texas ranch for a longer period of convalescence.

Asked on an ABC television interview with Bill Lawrence how the slow recovery would affect the President's future schedule, Moyers replied:

"My guess is the President, until he regains his full strength, will do the minimum work necessary to carry on the essential functions of the presidency."

CURTAIL ACTION

He said he meant that every important decision would be made, every important paper would be signed, every necessary policy would be carried out, but that things that were desirable but nonessential would "for the time being be curtailed."

Tuesday, Johnson put in his busiest day since the operation. He signed 22 bills, visited the dentists, sat in the sun, made some appointments, asked Congress to appropriate $500 million, read reports, handled mail.

He walked around the hospital grounds for 55 minutes and more than a mile, chatting amiably with everyone in sight.

The convention, carrying the theme, "Education for Peace and World Understanding," begins this afternoon and will end Saturday.

Others of the faculty may attend the meeting but names were not available this morning. Wives of most of the men will also attend.

Peace Marches Stir Opposition

By The Associated Press

A ground swell of American reaction is developing against demonstrations protesting U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

The reaction began building after the anti-Viet Nam demonstrations reached a crescendo this past weekend. Organizers of the movement vowed more protests, including a march on Washington.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower said Tuesday he had been asked to take part in one effort to counteract the demonstrations.

He said the protests "do our country a disservice," but declined to say immediately if he would participate.

SUPPORT TROOPS

College students — from whose ranks most of the peace marchers sprang — are planning programs to show their support for American combat troops. Among them is a blood drive at Washington State University.

The national Jaycees are planning a massive program to counter the anti-Viet Nam demonstrations.

The 2,500-member Huntsville, Ala., Post 2702 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars has launched "Operation Sweet Tooth" to show American fighting men that folks back home care.

Plans for a parade down Fifth Avenue in New York City are being mapped by the newly formed Citizens Committee to Support American Viet Nam Efforts.

Eisenhower, visiting a cattle sale in Culpeper, Va., at first declined to discuss the demonstrations.

Then he said: "I will say this: they were very silly and based on ignorance without knowledge of the continuing threat of communism to this country.

"Now, I believe in free speech, but these people do our country a disservice and, as I have said before, I support the President and his policy in Viet Nam."

An organization of about 75 students at Michigan State University, headed by William Webb, a junior from Detroit, has launched a drive to get 15,000 student signatures on a petition supporting President Johnson.

"There are only about 80 students opposing the war in Viet Nam," he said. "We want to show how many support it."

Petitions are also being circulated at West Virginia State College. Student Council President Glen Knapp said he hopes to get 1,800 signatures supporting the American fighting men.

SEND CANDY

"Operation Sweet Tooth" is a drive organized by the Huntsville, Ala., VFW to send packages of homemade cookies and candy to servicemen in Viet Nam.

James Skidmore Jr., national director of the Jaycees, said in Detroit a program is being worked out to counter the peace demonstrations.

He said the program calls for such action as "packing" college meetings opposing the war, publicizing Jaycee-compiled background information on leaders of the demonstrations, and sending speakers to college campuses to defend the U.S. position.

The executive council of the United Church of Christ termed "highly immoral" the efforts to "induce young men to 'beat' the draft."

These attempts "undermine the moral fabric of our nation," the council said, and should "not be countenanced under the cloak of free speech."

Man Killed By Officer

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — City patrolman John Hartman shot and killed a man after a scuffle outside a home on San Antonio's east side early today.

Hartman, answering a disturbance call shortly after midnight, said he found Felipe Martinez, 27, trying to smash the windows of a car while another man and two women sought to stop him.

The officer said he tumbled to the ground wrestling Martinez, who broke away, tried to grab Hartman's pistol, snatched up a brick and shouted: "I'll kill you!"

Hartman said he then drew the weapon and shot Martinez in the face.

Cong Attack, Suffer Losses

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The Viet Cong launched two big attacks on government troops in South Viet Nam's central highlands during the night and suffered heavy casualties.

A U.S. Army helicopter was shot down during one of the battles and the four Americans aboard were killed. An estimated 150-200 guerrillas were killed in the two actions.

Supported by heavy air attacks, a force of 300 mountain tribesmen and 10 American advisers was holding off hundreds of guerrillas laying siege to a Special Forces camp at Plei Me, about 17 miles from the Cambodian border.

The Viet Cong had lost an estimated 60 to 100 men but kept up their attack throughout the day. Casualties among the defenders were reported light.

U.S. advisers said government troops beat off attacks by two Viet Cong battalions in a fierce battle in the Ba Long valley, about 400 miles north of Saigon near the North Viet Nam border.

The advisers reported 94 Viet Cong bodies had been counted and "they're still counting." Vietnamese casualties were described as light.

"You know they were hurt badly when they left so many of their dead lying around," said one American. "You can rest assured they carried some more away."

Guerrilla bodies were strewn in the mud and barbed wire around the government outpost.

The Viet Cong tried to cross a moat with a bamboo bridge but a mine detonated from the main outpost stopped them.

TAKE CAPTIVE

The government forces also took one wounded captive, a regular North Vietnamese soldier who told intelligence officers that he was with the Viet Cong 800th Battalion which rendezvoused two days ago west of Hue. He said he came from North Viet Nam six months ago with other Hanoi regulars to fill out the battalion.

A large store of Viet Cong weapons was seized, including seven Chinese antitank weapons, four machine guns and a rocket launcher.

The American helicopter was shot down during an attack by 200 to 500 Viet Cong on the Plei Me Special Forces camp, 25 miles south of Pleiku.

Other U.S. planes pounded the enemy. Twenty Viet Cong bodies were counted on the barbed wire around the camp, and a U.S. observer said 60 to 100 guerrilla bodies were sighted in the general area.

FATE OF VILLAGE?

Casualties among the tribesmen were described as light, but there were fears for a small village just outside the camp where many of their families lived.

A patrol which set out from the camp Monday had not been heard from and its position was not known.

It was the first Communist attack on the camp since it was set up two years ago. The camp lies on a flat expanse surrounded by low hills.

A U.S. Air Force B57 bomber, believed to have been on a mission to Plei Me, crashed on the outskirts of Pleiku. One crewman was injured.

Dear Abby

One Way To Get Money

DEAR ABBY: Our servicemen are now on what is called the "honor system." They no longer make out allotments for their families. They are issued full pay, and put on their "honor" to see that their families are taken care of. Well, I am very sorry to say that some of our servicemen don't have much honor. Mine included.

Abby, it took me seven months before I was able to get money out of husband to feed my family. I finally found out how to go about it, and I hope you'll publish my letter because there are a lot of other wives with the same problem.

Write to the ADJUTANT GENERAL, T.A.G., U. S. ARMY (or whatever branch of service your husband is in), WASHINGTON, D.C. Tell him what your problem is, give him your husband's full name, rank and serial number. Make four copies of that letter. Keep one yourself, send one to your husband and one to your husband's Commanding Officer. THEY will remind the serviceman that his family back home must eat. I got results! SKIP MY NAME

DEAR SKIP: Thank you for your willingness to share some valuable information with other wives, who might need it. If you'd have written to your CONGRESSMAN, you could have accomplished the same results. And possibly sooner.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am an 18-year-old girl with a problem—my father. He's really a doll, and I don't have any of the problems my girl friends seem to have with their fathers about make-up, hair styles, curfews and the kind of boys they date. But the one thing that bothers me is my father's staying up and waiting for me to come home from a date. If he'd only sit in the dark somewhere in the house, I wouldn't mind so much. But the minute the car pulls up, the front door pops open, and there's Daddy. Of course this kills my chances for a good night kiss. How can I let my father know I'm not a baby any more? NO KISSES

DEAR NO: He knows. That's why he's waiting up for you.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am planning to marry a man who has been married before. We are both Unitarian. He has four children by his first wife. Abby, I have never been married before, and I've always dreamed of announcing my engagement in the paper, having a large church wedding and wearing a beautiful white gown and veil. But someone told me that I will have to forego that dream because the man I am going to marry has already been through all that. Is that so?

BRIDE-TO-BE

DEAR BRIDE: No. It doesn't matter how many times your fiance has been married or how many children he has. If this is your first trip to the altar, you may realize your dream.

Chief Urges Safer Driving

A recent spurt of serious traffic accidents at intersections has prompted Jay Banks, police chief, to issue a general warning to motorists.

"A boy was killed here Sunday as a result of a violation at a controlled intersection," Banks said, "and we're going to enforce the law on such violations even more stringently than in the past. There are too many drivers disobeying traffic lights and stop signs."

Too many Big Spring drivers don't know about local rules for turning right on red at intersections, Banks added. "There are signs posted at intersections, mostly on highways," Banks said, "marking the illegality of turning on red. Every place there is such a sign, posted near the traffic light, it is a violation of the law to turn right on red, even after a full stop."

He said at intersections not marked, it is legal to turn right, but only after coming to a full stop and checking traffic.

"A lot of drivers drive too fast, and hardly ever obey stop signs or traffic signals," Banks said. "We're going to do our best to see that every violater is caught. Our accident rate is far too high."

Official Cites Nation's Oil Reserve Capacity

FORT WORTH (AP) — An Interior Department official said today the United States, if required, could supply the petroleum needs of the world.

Rear Adm. Onnie Lattu, director of the Office of Oil and Gas, said the nation currently has a reserve capacity of 2,800,000 barrels a day.

He also outlined long term prospects which he said could supply billions of barrels of new liquor hydrocarbon reserves.

Lattu told the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association, however, there has been a steady erosion of management control formerly held by privately owned oil companies operating overseas.

Such a trend, he said, has been accompanied by a shift from economic to political considerations as the determining factors in world petroleum supply and distribution.

FOR DEFENSE

"This is the background which the United States is required to carry out its commitments to Free World defense," he said.

Dr. Charles Jones of Houston, Humble Oil & Refining Co., told the oilmen there is no justification, despite frequent scare headlines, for modern industry to fear automation.

He said automation is a major reason the gross national product is expected to more than double by 1985 while the nation's labor force is expected to increase less than 50 per cent.

"Over the long pull, automation creates jobs, increases our standard of living and helps us meet the needs of a rising economy," Jones said. "But higher skills and levels of education will be needed everywhere to meet the needs of this changing world."

LEAD CITED

Lattu said the nation's excess oil producing capacity currently is greater than the production of any non-Communist nation except Venezuela.

"It is somewhat more than we could move to tidewater and more than our spare refining capacity could accommodate," he said, "but it represents a vital asset on which we could build and enlarge our other facilities if it became necessary to do so."

Lattu listed these reasons for optimism over future discovery of vast hydrocarbon reserves in the United States:

1. Only about one-sixth of the volume of rock believed favorable to oil production has been explored.

2. The efficiency of maximum recovery of reserves from a reservoir has increased from 20 to 30 per cent the past 40 years and technology promises continued improvement.

SHALLOW DEPTHS

3. Technological advances also offer reasonable prospects for recovery of about 50 per cent of some 150 billion barrels of heavy oil known to exist at rather shallow depths but considered commercially impractical for production through conventional practices.

4. Eventual development of enormous Colorado, Utah and Wyoming shale oil deposits estimated to hold at least a trillion barrels of hydrocarbons.

"To summarize, the United States will have all the oil it needs for as far into the future as we can foresee," Lattu said. "And if required, we could supply the petroleum needs of the world, as well."

Collector Asks Death Rifle Measure Veto

DENVER (AP)—Oil executive John King asked President Johnson Tuesday to veto a bill that would give the government permanent possession of the Kennedy assassination rifle.

King, 43, president of Cortez Oil Co., said in a telegram the bill was "a threat to states rights, to personal property rights and represented a totally unjustified waste of the taxpayers money."

The measure has been passed by the House and Senate.

The widow of Kennedy assassin Lee Oswald reportedly received $10,000 from King as down payment for the rifle and for the pistol used to kill Dallas policeman J. D. Tippit. King said the total to be paid on delivery is $50,000.

King filed suit last May in an attempt to get the weapons, which the U.S. Treasury is seeking to confiscate because they were never registered as required by the National Firearms Act.

The Englewood, Colo., gun collector said the bill is an attempt to move a civil action from court to the halls of Congress.

"To my view, this is an outrageous attempt to circumvent the operation of—even a direct insult to—the system of checks and balances between the three branches of government," King said in his telegram.

The bill calls for compensation to owners of the weapons, a 6.5-mm. Mannlicher-Carcano rifle with telescopic sight and a .38 caliber pistol.

King said they "are unquestionably the two most carefully documented and most valuable in the world today. . . Discounting their exhibition value throughout the free world, they are worth greatly in excess of a million dollars."

The Justice Department told a House subcommittee the weapons might be needed for future re-examination.

Voluntary Plan Signs Millions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some 5.7 million elderly Americans have signed up for voluntary medicare insurance, the Social Security Administration says.

The voluntary plan supplements the basic medicare program which pays hospital bills for those 65 and older. Both go into effect next July 1.

The voluntary plan covers doctor bills, and costs $3 a month.

Theory Wrong, Radar Correct, Motorist Guilty

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — Jerald Hall, a Fresno State College student charged with speeding, told Judge George Hopper he doubted the accuracy of police radar equipment used to clock his car's speed.

He said the equipment could not record accurately the speeds of two cars traveling a short distance apart.

Judge Hopper accompanied Hall and policemen to a city street Tuesday and checked Hall's theory. It was wrong. Hall was found guilty.

For a penalty, the judge suspended his sentence, but told Hall to write a 1,000-word essay entitled: "Radar—Its History and Application in Traffic Control and Methods of Improving Its Use."

History Teacher Dies In Viet War

CAPE MAY COURT HOUSE, N.J. (AP) — Ray Ellis, a former high school history teacher, believed the United States had an obligation to defend Viet Nam from the Communists.

He believed he had an obligation to his country. Ellis, a naval reservist during his five years of teaching, joined the Navy and volunteered for duty in Viet Nam.

He was killed in an ambush trying to save the Vietnamese sailors he had come to aid.

"My son was a friend to anyone who needed a friend," said his mother, Mrs. Arthur Ellis.

"Ray was fighting for his convictions in Viet Nam," she said. "He was there because he thought it was his duty to be there."

Growing up in this rural southern New Jersey community, the 6-foot-1, 210-pound Ellis was a good-natured youth who excelled in sports.

"He was a hard fighter. But he was clean," said Samuel De Vico, who was football team manager when Ellis attended Middle Township High School 18 years ago.

PRAISES HIM

De Vico, now a city commissioner, said that "you knew just by talking to him and watching him play that anything he would do, he would do well."

After graduation, he taught history for one term in Seaford, Del., and then for four years in Gettysburg (Pa.) High School. All the time he was in the Naval Reserve. He married and had a daughter, Laura, now 11. His widow, Doris, and daughter live in Virginia Beach, Va.

"He loved the Vietnamese," his mother said. "In his letters to me he would tell me how wonderful the people are."

He wrote to his aunt that American servicemen had to be in Viet Nam because "if we didn't stop (them) there it wouldn't be long before they would be at our own back door."

Ellis was buried Oct. 8 at Gettysburg National Cemetery, on the Gettysburg battlefield.

He has been recommended for a posthumous silver star.

East neglected to give his partner a helping hand in defending against South's four-spade contract, and West was finally forced to present the declarer with an opening on which the latter was quick to capitalize.

West opened the king of clubs and South won the trick with the ace. He tested trumps by playing the king and queen of spades, and then he shifted to a small club. West was in with the jack and he cashed the queen on which East discarded the deuce of hearts.

West had nothing left but red cards and, inasmuch as he was reluctant to lead away from his king of hearts, he shifted to the jack of diamonds. The deuce was played from dummy, East followed with the three and declarer won the trick with the queen. South led back a diamond and put in the eight from dummy.

East was in with the ten of diamonds and he shifted to a heart. South put up the ace and led a trump to North's ace. The king of diamonds was put thru, covered by the ace and ruffed by declarer. A small club was led to the dummy and the queen of hearts was discarded on North's nine of diamonds which was now established as the master card of that suit.

East could have defeated the contract by ruffing his partner's queen of clubs and shifting to a heart. The ten of spades was a worthless card, and it should have been obvious to East that his partner might be in some difficulty if he were allowed to hold the lead. A heart play by East thru the declarer's holding could do no harm and might well be of assistance to partner.

Fourth Annual Coin Club Show Opens Saturday Here

Visitors to the Fourth Annual Big Spring Coin Club Show, slated for Saturday and Sunday at the Settles Hotel, will have an opportunity to inspect one of the most unusual and complete collections of Republic of Texas paper money in existence.

The display, covering the years 1846-1845, is owned by R. E. (Bob) Medlin of Lubbock.

TOP HONORS

This special display won top honors at the Aug. 25 coin show of the American Numismatic Association in Houston, and first place as the best collection of obsolete paper money.

A second special display expected to attract many visitors at the Big Spring show will be a remarkably complete collection of Crowns of the World. This collection of silver coins is owned by C. M. Travis of Pecos. It won first place in its division at the Texas Numismatic Association show in Corpus Christi in March.

His collection features 18 pieces of North American money; 11 pieces South American; 21 pieces of African, 40 pieces of European, 27 pieces of Asian and 32 additional pieces.

COIN SHOW TROPHIES READY
Tall trophy to left goes to "Best of Show" exhibit

Also to be shown as special attractions at the local exposition will be Louis Goodwin's collection of coins before 1500 A.D. Goodwin, whose home is in Odessa, will display 11 of the coins mentioned in the Bible plus a 14th century Venetian mayapan portraying the Christ. Eleven ancient Roman coins from quadrans to a gold auerus are to be shown. Twenty-four other extremely old and rare coins are to be displayed typifying the coinage of 14 ancient lands.

One of these is of special interest.

SPANISH

It is an early Spanish coin — a semessis in gold. This particular coin was acquired from the collection of ex-King Farouk of Egypt while Farouk was still on his throne.

Another special display will be the gold, silver and copper United States coin collection owned by Jim Dean of Hobbs, N.M.

These are only a few of the special attractions set up.

In addition, collectors from all over the state will be here with their own special displays to vie for the trophies and awards posted for the show. All of the mezzanine floor area is expected to be used to serve as a display room for the coins.

W. E. Wozencraft is in charge of the bourse. This is the coin sale at which dealers from all parts of the southwest will be allotted space to display their merchandise. O. H. Daily is to direct the exhibits to be shown and Doris McKee is general chairman.

NO CHARGE

No admission charge is made to the show, and the club members urge all citizens in the area to attend.

The show will be in operation from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. Saturday and from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday.

Awards will be made at the Settles at a special breakfast Sunday at 7:30 a.m.

Plans Completed For Weekend Art Exhibit

Big Spring Art Association members met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. W. H. Crenshaw, president of the association, where details of the exhibition planned for the weekend were completed.

The art show will be held in the First Federal Savings and Loan building Community Room. Area artists have been invited, and a large number of entries are expected to register Friday from 2-6 p.m. The show will be judged by a member of Texas Tech's art department. The collection will be open to the public Saturday afternoon and Sunday, 1-5:30 p.m. All entries may be picked up Sunday afternoon except the winners, which will remain at First Federal for a week.

Art club members and two guests, Mrs. Paul Bruns and Helen Hurt, saw a film depicting the life and work of Grandma Moses, self-taught painter.

Monopoly On Power Feared

SANTA FE (AP) — Concern of a possible electric monopoly in the Western states has been expressed by rural electric co-op members from a three-state western region.

It was expressed in a resolution adopted Tuesday at the close of the region 10 meeting of rural electric cooperatives in Santa Fe. The region covers New Mexico, Texas and Arizona.

The resolution was critical of the Western Energy Supply and Transmission (West) Association announced recently by a group of privately owned electric utility firms.

NCOs Offer 'Thank You'

To The Editor:

On behalf of the Senior Noncommissioned Officers of Webb Air Force Base, Texas, I take this method to thank the city of Big Spring for the fine evening of fellowship which was provided by the Base Community Council.

Rarely have we been privileged to experience such community interest in the Senior Noncommissioned Officer Corps. The camaraderie and friendships developed at the barbecue Saturday evening have certainly cemented the already fine relationship which exists between the civilian and military in this community.

We NCOs can say we feel as we have in the past, that we are really a part of the local community.

Again, our sincere thanks for the honor of feeling we are valued citizens of the local community of Big Spring.

Pre-Leg Meeting Scheduled Here

West Texas YMCA's Big Spring, Midland, San Angelo, and Abilene — will hold a 1965 Hi-Y Youth and Government Pre-Legislative Conference in Big Spring Oct. 30. Over 400 Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y members from the four cities are expected for the conference at Howard County Junior College.

Registration will be from 8:30 a.m. to 9:30 a.m. An orientation for leadership teams and advisors will take place 9-9:30 a.m. The opening session will be held in the college auditorium with Robert Gossett, district Hi-Y president, Big Spring, presiding. The devotional will be given by Marianne Bachman, Midland, district chaplain. Welcomes to HCJC and Big Spring will be given by Dr. Dawson DeViney, HCJC administrative dean, and James Tidwell, president of the Big Spring YMCA.

The morning sessions will be devoted to hearing committees. Participants will discuss proposed legislation that will later be presented to the Hi-Y Youth and Government Legislature at Austin in December. Members of the local bar association will help the committees.

Following the noon luncheon, the partcipants will assemble in the college auditorium for a "House of Representatives" session. Bills from the various committees will be presented for action.

The final item on the agenda will be election of officers under the chairmanship of Susan Talley, Abilene. Elected from the district will be a governor nominee, senate calendar clerk, and senate sergeant-at-arms.

The pre-legislative conference helps Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y members learn procedures and secure information about the State government and its departments.

The purpose of the Hi-Y Youth and Government program is to prepare young people for moral and political leadership in the American democratic process by providing guidance, training, and experience in the theory and practice of determining public policy on the state level. The program provides high school youth the opportunity to study public issues, debate them, write legislation and participate in the mechanics of the program.

Curtis Mullins, general secretary of Big Spring YMCA, is director of the pre-legislative conference. Wade Choate is chairman of the YMCA Youth committee, which oversees the work with high school age youth.

Post Office Burglaries Seen Solved

WICHITA FALLS (AP) —Officers said today that six post office burglaries this year in Texas have been cleared with the arrest of a former convict.

Arraigned on a complaint of burglarizing the Wildorado Post Office in the Amarillo area May 6 was Harrel Wayne Hardin, 23.

Hardin already was in jail here on an habitual criminal charge. He also was held on a fugitive warrant claiming he jumped $5,000 bond on an Amarillo burglary charge.

He is accused also of burglarizing post offices at Harrold, Everman, Kennedale, Pantex and an Amarillo sub-station.

Wichita Falls authorities said Hardin led them to the recovery of 299 blank money order forms buried in a pasture.

Backers Of Class Boycott Stage March

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Backers of a civil rights school boycott scheduled to last at least four days staged a protest march Tuesday night at the residence of Mayor Henry Maier.

About 250 persons marched 40 blocks to the apartment building where Maier lives.

He had said a similar demonstration the previous night at the home of the school board president, John S. Foley, "almost smacks of Ku Klux Klanism in reverse."

Pupil absence from public schools dropped substantially Tuesday and leaders said they would continue the boycott at least through Thursday.

The Rev. James Groppi, 34, a Roman Catholic priest serving as a vice chairman of the boycott committee, withdrew from active participation on the direct orders of his bishop.

Auxiliary Bishop Roman R. Atkielski, who had banned the use of parish facilities for "freedom" schools, said he had not barred priests at first from participating in the boycott "because I didn't think they'd be fools enough to go ahead."

Petrofina Gets Amini Properties In Crane Area

DALLAS—American Petrofina will acquire certain oil and gas producing properties of K. K. Amini, Midland, for a consideration exceeding $1,500,000 under an agreement reported today.

Involved in the transaction are 20 wells located in the Sand Hills (Tubb) Field of Crane County. Other producing leases operated by American Petrofina are located in the same area.

Earlier in October, the company announced that it would purchase the oil and gas properties of Graridge Corporation, Breckenridge, for a consideration exceeding $20 million.

American Petrofina, established in 1956, is engaged in exploration and production activities in the Southwest, Mid-Continent, and Rocky Mountain regions. It operates three refineries in Texas and one in Kansas including the petrochemical complex in Big Spring of Cosden Oil & Chemical Company, a subsidiary. American Petrofina products are marketed under the Fina brand and distributed through more than 3,200 service stations located in 14 mid-continent states.

Coed Hurt In Accident Dies

DALLAS (AP) — Emily Ann Coe, 21, a student at Austin College at Sherman, died of a kidney ailment this week after suffering a trampoline accident, a hospital spokesman said.

Miss Coe suffered a dislocated vertebra in her neck in the accident during a physical education class at the college. She was taken to a hospital Oct. 8 and brought to Dallas last Monday after the kidney complication.

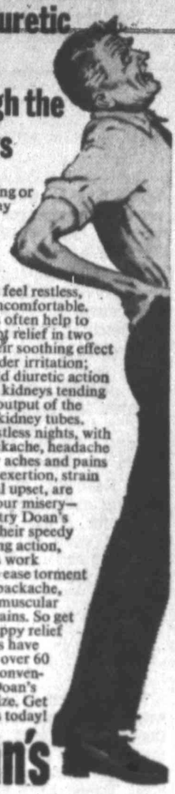

She was a student instructor and was teaching a class when she was doing a backward flip and landed on her head.

She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Coe of Midland. Her father is production manager at Tidewater Oil Co. in Midland.

Part Of The Answer

First on the list of amendments on which Texans will vote Nov. 2 is a proposal to increase the state ad valorem tax for college building by five cents.

Estimates are that this would yield upwards of $100,000,000 within 12 years and would draw another $45,000,000 in matching federal funds.

There may be a tendency in some areas such as ours to take a negative attitude toward this amendment because the funds will be for buildings in the 17 state-supported senior colleges. Yet this would be a grievous error, we believe, for two reasons:

1) Relieving the general fund of building obligations should free these funds for other uses, including increased state aid to junior as well as senior colleges for their operational needs; and 2) It is short-sighted to base a decision for higher education on what it will do for any one locale. We ought to be concerned about the total welfare and future of all of Texas.

One other thing needs to be mentioned, namely the astonishing, almost overwhelming demand for more facilities and space. For instance, in 1954 there were 63,474 students in state-financed senior institutions; last year this figure jumped to 146,673, and this year it has shown another whopping gain. Projections indicate that the senior college population will reach 355,000 by 1975.

It could exceed this, for while junior colleges are gaining tremendously, the hard fact remains that senior colleges must absorb their output after two more years.

Amendment No. 1 may help supply part of the answer.

Encouraging Outlook

That 17 per cent gain in deposits over a year ago makes this look like the brightest spot on the economic map in these parts.

In all candor, it's not quite that good. Banks have in time deposits a considerable amount of school and college bond funds. However, when all that is shaken out, there is still a million and a half dollar bulge over the same time a year ago, and that's about five per cent.

A year ago, the outlook for a harvest was bleaker than bleak. This year it is good to excellent. The chances for a strong finish of the year is far better than last year when we made a great late rally.

It is true that as the school and college jobs progress, their bond proceeds on deposit will be withdrawn. But this expenditure will also generate considerable economic activity so that this will not by any means be a net loss on subsequent statements.

The report, while distorted for the moment toward the bright side, is still another evidence of the steady and encouraging outlook for Howard County and area.

'Extremists' In Both Parties

WASHINGTON — What is "extremism," and who is an "extremist"? The big debate on this question is absorbing the attention of Republican and Democratic chieftains as they accuse each other of harboring "extremists" within their respective parties.

The furor started with a rare piece of intellectualism inserted by Barry Goldwater in his speech of acceptance at the 1964 Republican national convention when he said:

"I WOULD REMIND you that extremism in the defense of liberty is no vice. And let me remind you, also, that moderation in pursuit of justice is no virtue."

Immediately other Republican leaders who didn't like the fact that he had defeated them in the convention accused their own nominee of upholding everything from the John Birch Society to the Ku Klux Klan. Since the Democratic strategists were avid readers of the news dispatches from the convention, they promptly discovered that a big brush with plenty of paint on it had generously been made available to them. They used it prodigiously throughout the campaign.

BUT NOW, more than a year later, it turns out that Barry Goldwater's syllogism was strangely prophetic and that, instead of being merely descriptive of "extremism" on the "conservative" side of the fence, it is even more applicable to certain celebrities and organizations on the "liberal" side.

Thus, when Dr. Martin Luther King cried out that it isn't necessary to obey a "morally unjust" law, his pronouncement was virtually glorified as Christian heroism by many ministers as they participated in "sit-ins" and "lie-ins." They declared, in effect, that they would rather fight than switch to the "reactionary" doctrines of obedience to law.

BUT DR. KING could quote Barry Goldwater, and so could the clergymen. For many of them sincerely believe that "extremism in the defense of liberty is no vice" and that the slow-moving machinery of our courts and our legislative bodies is an indefensible type of "moderation in pursuit of justice."

All the definitions of "extremism" offered thus far in the political debate, moreover, ignore the simple fact that political parties are not disciplined bodies which can decide on who is or is not to be admitted as a voter. Also, no party is monolithic. Each consists of factions and "splinters."

SOME EXAMPLES of "extremism" are to be found among members of Congress. There are some senators and representatives who feel it is proper to attack their own government and to tell the rest of the world that the United States is pursuing policies of aggression in Viet Nam and Latin America.

Without subscribing to anything the "John Birchers" or the "Americans for Democratic Action" may say about moral or political treason, it does seem that the major party chieftains could spend their time more usefully by conducting informative "teach-ins" about the true meaning of national and international policies than by worrying about small groups of exhibitionists who seem to enjoy calling other people by harsh names and impugning their patriotism as well as their integrity.

Billy Graham

Please explain the Christian symbol of a lamb and why it was slain. I have never been able to understand this. F.D.

You have selected one of the most familiar symbols in the Bible to have an explanation given, and one that I would rather explain than any other one. All through the Old Testament the lamb was the most familiar of all sacrifices made. In Exodus, chapter 12, on the night when the Hebrews were to leave Egypt and begin their 40 year long trek to Palestine, to ward off the death angel they were supposed to slay a lamb and then to put its blood on the doorpost and lintel of their houses. Obviously killing a lamb would not save anyone. But the lamb was a symbol, and many years later the Apostle Paul explained it in I Corinthians 5:7 saying: ". . . Christ our passover has been sacrificed for us." This symbol had become so familiar to the Hebrew families that when Jesus appeared to be baptized by John, the announcement John made was: "Behold the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world." It thus becomes clear that Christ was intended as a sacrifice, and that the lamb of the Old Testament had symbolized this sacrifice which was to be made for sinners.

In I Peter 1:19 it is explained this way — that we have been redeemed "with the precious blood of Christ, as of a lamb without blemish and without spot, even the blood of Christ who was foreknown indeed before the foundation of the world, but was manifested at the end of the times for your sake." That is why the heavenly chorus numbering thousands is recorded in Revelation as singing with one great voice: "Worthy is the lamb that has been slain to receive power, and riches, and wisdom, and might, and honor, and glory and blessing."

Old Guard Of Labor Bosses To Go

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American labor movement is heading into a period which may well bring the most revolutionary changes in a decade.

First will come the belated move by the AFL-CIO to gently but firmly ease the "nine old men" — retired or ousted union chiefs — off its powerful executive council.

They will be replaced by some of the new breed of labor executives gradually pushing aside the old guard of labor bosses who cut their teeth in the rough-and-tumble organizing battles of the 1930s.

AFL-CIO President George Meany, long reluctant to brush aside venerable associates of half a century, is reportedly determined to go through with it in December at the AFL-CIO's convention in San Francisco.

IN REPLACING one-third of its vice presidents with younger blood, the AFL-CIO hopes to stir dynamic new policies to recoup some of labor's lost ground in the nation's dramatically shifting work force.

Although total union membership edged upward in the past few years, it has dropped from 33 per cent to 29 per cent of the nation's growing labor force over the AFL-CIO's 10-year history.

Rapid shifts in technology and automation are creating an increasingly more difficult organizing problem for labor unions. So is the sharp increase in service jobs, outstripping manufacturing in recent years.

"There will never again be any mass organizing campaigns as in the 1930s," said one labor spokesman.

THE PROBLEM now is a more patient, persuasive approach to organizing small units of white collar workers operating automated office machinery —many of whom cling to a traditional resistance to unions.

The flood of youths into the work force with no memory of depression days when labor won its place in the sun is another problem for union organizers.

Just how the revamped AFL-CIO executive council will seek to meet these and other labor goals will not become apparent until the council's meeting in Honolulu next February.

An even more dramatic — but by no means certain — labor prospect in the months ahead is the possibility of the giant Teamsters Union rejoining the AFL-CIO.

Setting Record Straight On Bachelors

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The unmarried American male too often is portrayed by his married friends as the playboy —the guy who has everything.

It is time the record was set straight.

What he really is, you married guys, is what you would be if you were not so lucky as to have found the Little Woman. You should know this unless you've forgotten about the Dirty Apartment Society.

THE DAS still is going strong, offering housekeeping employment opportunities which have gone virtually untapped in this country's bid to drive out poverty.

Employment agencies say it is hard enough to meet demands of reliable domestic help for normal, established households —let alone the errant bachelor.

Yet some of us are lucky. Another newsman and I who share half of a suburban duplex have a faithful cleaning lady who shows up with clock-like precision every other Tuesday for "Operation Passageway."

She's the boss, and knows it.

One thing we learned quickly is that when she arrives, it is time to abandon ship. This is an unspoken ultimatum delivered with one piercing glance through her dark-rimmed glasses.

SHE HAS a habit of leaving notes to tell what she needs.

Not just one note in a specified place, but two, and sometimes more, stuck in obvious, eye-level spots around the house.

"Get some rags," demanded one on the bar. A bathroom mirror note called in big block letters for "a new dust mop." Still another on a kitchen table listed various cleaners and detergents. She's specific about brand names, and openly resents any substitute.

Yet there is a maternal instinct about her. You can tell by the way she always leaves the beds turned down, neatly hangs the scattered clothing, and stacks magazines on a bedside table.

We have no doubt that her bimonthly venture into this jungle of overrun ash trays, beer bottles, and dusty corners is something of a sacrifice.

THE UNMARRIED male definitely is one of those animals who despises to see anything thrown away. So after a while, anything he owns is owned in abundance.

The bachelor's life isn't all bad, however, and there is that freedom you married guys all cry about. But for the love of pete, the next time you reach for those pipes and slippers, don't kid yourselves about your old fraternity brothers.

To Your Good Health

No Way To Prevent Gallstones

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have read your articles on gallstones. The only questions left are why does bile solidify into stones, and why is the removal of the gallbladder becoming such a common operation? Even thin, young people err somehow in their way of life. — E.E.W.

Gladly would I give you a terse, definitive explanation, but I don't have any. Several theories have been advanced as to the cause of gallstones. Lack of agreement indicates either that nobody has hit on the correct one yet, or that — and this is my belief — a lot of different causes, singly or in combination, are responsible.

Likewise I doubt that you should conclude that young people err in their way of life, or "do something wrong" to cause stones. I'm rather sure that part of the reason for more gall bladder operations is more accurate diagnosis.

Plenty of bum gallbladders are detected after people complain of "pains in the stomach" or "pains in the chest," or "indigestion," and so on. A fair number of people even feel sure they have heart disease, and sometimes it takes very careful study to discover which is which.

Gallstones may consist of different chemicals: Bile acids, cholesterol, calcium salts, in various combinations. Now bile itself is a concentrated solution, and concentrated solutions of anything will form crystals ("stones") when the chemical and physical conditions are right. That's how rock candy is made, and why jelly and grape juice and other things "sugar."

In some people there may be excessive cholesterol. Or there may be sluggish emptying of the gall bladder due to infection, pregnancy, or an obstruction somewhere. Bacteria may be present and serve as a nidus or focal point about which stones can form.

No particular diet — or diet fault — has been observed to account for gallstones, nor has any particular way of life. The accidents of other illnesses, and accompanying germs or chemical changes, certainly play a part.

I can say with assurance that there is nothing we can do to avoid gallstones.

Dear Dr. Molner: What is pink eye and how is it transmitted? Is it a self-limiting infection? What if it is left untreated? — M.B.

Pink eye is an acute and contagious inflammation. It's a form of conjunctivitis, if you'd like a more formal term. The conjunctiva, or lining of the eye, is infected.

Several kinds of germs can be involved: Streptococcus, staphylococcus, influenza virus. It is usually self - limiting, meaning that eventually the patient fights off the germ. However, in untreated cases it may become chronic and linger on and on.

For practical purposes, follow two rules: First, since it is highly contagious, especially among children, keep the patient isolated; second, treatment, particularly if the strep or staph germ is involved, speeds up the recovery greatly.

How to get rid of leg cramps and foot pains? The answer may be simple. Write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald for a copy of the booklet, "How To Stop Leg Cramps and Foot Pains," enclosing a long, self - addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all mail from his readers, but because of the great volume received daily he is unable to answer individual letters. Dr. Molner uses readers' letters in his column whenever possible.

Crash Gate

KRUGERSDORP, South Africa (AP) — Late night drinkers in a South African hotel fled in terror when five trumpeting baby elephants charged in through the front doors.

Waiters dropped their trays and several men jumped out of windows. Frightened by the screms of the panic - stricken guests, the elephants crashed aimlessly around the ground floor of the hotel. Tables and chairs were reduced to matchwood.

The elephants belonged to a visiting circus. They were on their way to the local railroad station and stampeded when a passing train frightened them.

Around The Rim

The Long Hard Road

An item in Tuesday's news confirmed in court the agreement reached between parties last week which means the Colorado River Municipal Water District's permit to impound a new lake is now uncontested. The district will be free to go forward as rapidly as possible now with actual construction plans.

IT HAS not been easy, nor will it be easy even after the dam is completed and water is backed up. By earliest estimates this could be late in 1967, and in all likelihood well into 1968. This means that from the time the project was first seriously proposed, 10 or 11 years will have elapsed before any sort of yield might be expected.

Even before the impending project was conceived in principle, CRMWD was exploring the possibility of increasing supplies through Lake J. B. Thomas. At one time there was serious study of ways to block the flow down Deep Creek and other tributaries in Scurry County and divert them into Lake Thomas possibly by use of huge lift pumps.

PROJECTIONS OF demands, however, showed this yield would be inadequate for needs, so a major downstream dam was considered. Before intelligent studies could be made, the district had to prevail on the United States Geological Survey to advance its topographic mapping of all the areas which would be in a proposed lake shed. This took a year or more, and a lot of work by the late Col. E. V. Spence.

Then the district joined with the state and federal agencies in setting up a series of gauges for quality and quantity studies of the river's flow. In this long run this pointed up another critical problem, that of salt content.

UNLESS IMPROVED, water going down the river would not be suitable for human consumption. Oilfield disposal of brines in open pits was suspected as one source, but this had to be first supported by detailed tests and engineering studies because so much was involved. Eventually, after some three years, this problem was mitigated.

SITE STUDIES were going on at the same time, first in Mitchell County, later in Coke County. Two things led the engineers, and the board, to decide on the Coke site. One was presence of gypsum below the site (about that time a major dam gave way when a similar stratum melted or dissolved), and the other was the deeper basin at the lower site, reducing evaporation and thus raising quality. At any rate the decision to change was made, and understandably, supporters of the Mitchell location were deeply disappointed. Eventually this led to a protest of the application for a permit.

STIRRED NOT so much by the CRMWD application, but by reports the U.S. Engineers were about to propose half a dozen dams on the Colorado River above its Highland Lakes, the Lower Colorado River Authority fought the application hammer and tong—and then some.

IN THE END an agreement was reached which cleared the way for the permit, but then it ran afoul of a court contest, which now has been resolved. There still remains the staggering problem of buying some 16,000 acres of land for dam and basin, of issuing approximately $13,000,000 in bonds, getting construction bids within the available money, relocating highways, building a mountainous dam and impregnable spillway, ultimately laying a pipeline that would cost as much as the dam, and then getting enough rain to provide a workable supply. It's not easy, but then things are never easy in West Texas, and maybe that's what makes us tick.

GOP Sees A Brisk Race In 1968

WASHINGTON — Republican insiders do not regard the 1968 GOP nomination as "worthless." They believe that LBJ's headlong pace, quite aside from his heart condition and gall bladder operation, will slow him down considerably in another three years, so that he will not be the invincible campaigner of '64.

MASSACHUSETTS Attorney General Ed Brooke (R), the GOP's top Negro office holder, is under pressure from Democrats, especially from Negroes close the Kennedy clan, to switch parties.

Brooke has told friends in Washington that he feels stymied in the Republican Party, which already holds the senior senatorship and the governorship in the Bay State. Brooke has won two sweeping victories, but has tired of the post he will have held four years by the next election. He might go back to private law practice and become an underage Elder Statesman at home. But Senators Bob and Ted Kennedy could wangle a big job for him in the Johnson administration — and Negro leaders in Washington have urged Brooke by telephone to come over the Democrats.

SPARKED BY Young Americans For Freedom (YAF), the student Ad Hoc Committee for Freedom in Viet Nam held a "reverse teach-in" in Washington over the Oct. 16-17 weekend. It was organized as a counter-offensive to the Leftist college groups which demonstrated for surrender in cities and on campuses pretty much around the world on the same two days. The patriotic Ad Hoc Committee, however, was reluctant to endorse President Johnson by name while praising his military policy of battling communism in Southeast Asia. The feeling is that Mr. Johnson is too anxious for peace-at-any-price, and that he will buy it with huge sums of money and hidden concessions.

* * *

THEY FEEL that he has squandered a large bank account of good will with Congress by demanding too much, and that the business community will turn restive when it sees new federal budgets above the $100 billion ceiling.

A great war-weariness and crisis-weariness are anticipated long before Mr. Johnson can wrap up the situations in Southeast Asia and the Caribbean, and Democratic Presidents have always suffered from the public image of being both war-makers and truce-bunglers.

MUCH OF THIS is undoubtedly wishfulness on the part of Republican seers, but they frankly expect to see Richard Nixon against Hubert Humphrey in the next national campaign. Nixon's manifest handicap is lack of a home-State base, but his selling point is his survivability. Nothing that's happened to Nixon has shaken the party faith in him to find the victory stride and to deal with the big affairs of government. Once in office a Nixon vs. Humphrey showdown would present the country with a fresh "choice" between conservatism and liberalism. The advantage this time would be with the conservatives.

Proud Of Our Young People

WASHINGTON — Mr. Eisenhower could be elected President again tomorrow, a circumstance that must be laid to the fact that he has never embraced or enunciated an idea that couldn't comfortably be contained in the Reader's Digest monthly compendium of pre-digested pap.

Ike celebrated his 75th birthday by demonstrating once again how a lifetime spent in armed service to the nation brings an old gentleman's simplistic view of the universe to a high polish. The youth of the nation, he warned, are careening to hell in a handbasket, although it should be pointed out that his words were not so colorful or to the point.

HE TAPPED the same vein of moral rot that Sir Barry of Goldwater mined to such small effect during the last presidential election. He said the demonstrations at the Berkeley campus of the University of California "makes you think we are having some kind of deterioration that ought to be fought tooth and nail." He did hold out some hope that under the impact of superior schooling "young people will naturally mature, and then they'll begin to shake off all these show-off habits and this nonsense that patriotism is somehow a little bit sugare."

IT IS SMALL wonder that teenagers are so implacably estranged from the world of adults, for adults are largely persuaded that foolishness such as Mr. Eisenhower delivered is an accurate reflection of them.

It isn't. It is rubbish.

The United States ought to be proud of its young people. Instead it endlessly derides and deplores them, libelling the great mass of decent, industrious, studious kids because of the sensationalized misdeeds of a small handful.

THE TRUTH IS that fewer than 5 per cent of American kids ever become involved in serious trouble. Even this percentage is too high, of course, but the smugly self-righteous adult would do well to look at the causes of such juvenile delinquency as does exist.

"Delinquent parents beget delinquent children; good parents rear good children. Of course there are exceptions, but these are rare and society could easily cope with them. By overcoming and correcting adult delinquency we can greatly reduce the delinquency of children."

IS THAT some hand-wringing, woolly-minded, visionary do-gooder talking? Some coddler, perhaps? No. Seapking is J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, who probably knows as much about crime, juvenile and adult, as any man on earth.

"More than 70 per cent of the arrests for serious crimes throughout the United States involve persons under 25 years of age," Mr. Hoover told me in an interview not long ago. "The common denominator in the cases of these young offenders has been parental neglect. During their early formative years our nation's youth desperately need the security and the moral guidance which a good home provides."

IN VIEW of the sort of world adults have provided for them, American kids are remarkably well-behaved.

Fiberglas Requires Sensible Handling

Dear folks:

So many of you write to me wanting to know the proper way to wash Fiberglas that I called the manufacturers, and had a long talk with them.

Gail Palmer has set down, in simple words, the following complete instructions for you to follow to prolong the life of your beautiful materials. This includes curtains or draperies you might purchase made of Fiberglas. The new Fiberglas Beta bedspreads are a different matter. These can be machine washed. Be sure to follow the directions in the package.

HELOISE

"Never wash any of your personal articles with Fiberglas fabrics.

"Wash your Fiberglas draperies as you would a fine wool sweater. Wash them in a tub with a mild or cold water SOAP. Do not wash along with other fabrics.

"Detergents of any type must NEVER be used. Chemical agents found in detergents sometimes harms the finish of a Fiberglas fabric.

"If you do not wish to handle your draperies yourself, contact a reputable commercial laundry in your vicinity, and request that they WET wash them for you.

"If you have cause to bleach your draperies, use a solution of Sodium Perborate from your druggist. When using Sodium Perborate, dissolve four ounces in a tub full of water.

"Fiberglas should be installed so that it clears the floor, ceiling, and any projection such as a window sill, in order to avoid constant friction.

"When sewing Fiberglas curtains and draperies, experiment first with a piece of the material that you will be working with. Use the longest, loosest stitch applicable to your material. Experience has indicated that this will vary from eight to 10 stitches per inch. Fewer stitches are used for heavier fabrics, more for sheer and open weaves.

"We recommend a fine-quality mercerized cotton thread and a sharp needle.

"The selvage on Fiberglas fabrics will not shrink, so it is unnecessary to remove it. When sewing multiple widths, to make a 'French' seam:

"After the widths have been stitched together, both selvages may be turned to one side (no need to turn them under) and top stitched, thus making a false French seam. Side seams can be made using the selvage.

"Fiberglas will not absorb dye, just as it will not absorb soil. You may tint Fiberglas, although the tinting will not be permanent. Your tint will wash out with the first laundering; therefore, many homemakers choose to retint with each washing. The pigment dyes applied to the fabric when you purchase it are heat set in the manufacturing process for permanence and also resistance to fading."

And, NEVER put Fiberglas draperies or curtains in your washing machine nor in a dryer that tumbles . . . Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Have you ever taken a pincushion apart and found dozens of needles lost in here?

To solve this problem, I put my needles on the pincushion crosswise instead of straight in. I never lose a needle.

The pins are inserted in the usual way . . . Mary Castro

Dear Heloise:

An old door knob would not stay in place, so I placed a piece of nylon net on the shank, rubbed on some metal glue, and replaced the knob. I trimmed off the protruding edges of net with a razor blade, and the job was completed.

One year has passed, and the knob is still in place . . . Homemaker

Dear Heloise:

I don't find fancy spoon rests very practical . . . especially when cooking a number of foods at the same time.

Instead, I use a large paper plate which will accommodate all the spoons and forks I need, and when I'm through, out goes the plate, with no fuss or muss.

I like this idea—perhaps your readers will too . . . Evelyne Lynn

Nicklaus' Figure Looming Larger

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—The familiar figure of Jack Nicklaus loomed large as the favorite today with the start of the eighth annual Sahara Invitational golf tournament.

But three top golfers are missing from the entries—and may be in trouble with the Professional Golfers Association.

The two-day pro-amateur competition ended Tuesday, and the $111,111.11 total purse—a fascinating figure for Las Vegas—has melted to the mere, commonplace $100,000.

The pro-am was worth $11,111.11 and now the pros have to go it alone in the 72-hole medal play for the reduced figure.

Nicklaus, the Masters champion and 1963 winner in this tournament, flew into Las Vegas Tuesday night. To no one's surprise, including himself, he was the general pick to walk off with the $20,000 winner's purse when the tournament winds up Saturday.

Missing from the entries, and possibly under fire from the PGA, are Arnold Palmer, Tony Lema and Gary Player.

The situation has nothing to do with the Sahara event. It stems from the PGA-sponsored Haig and Haig Mixed Scotch Foursome at the La Costa Country Club at Carlsbad, Calif., last week.

The trio elected to compete in the Picadilly tournament in England without clearance from the PGA-backed sponsors at La Costa.

PGA regulations forbid its members from appearing in a non-PGA tournament in conflict with one of its own, unless a commitment was made two years prior to the event in question.

Neither Lema nor Player indicated any interest in playing here, but Palmer last Sunday called tournament director Herb McDonald and sought entry—one week too late.

The 72-hole tournament will be played over the 7,069-yard, par-36-35—71 Paradise Valley Golf Club.

Gardner Dickinson won the individual pro honors and $750 with a 68-68—136 in the pro-am tournament.

Coahoma Is Moved Into District 5-A

SEAGRAVES —Coahoma was formally accepted into membership of District 5-A in a meeting of the executive committee held here Tuesday night.

Coahoma has been in District 6-A for the past several years but W. A. Wilson, superintendent of schools at Coahoma, was notified of the change by Dr. Rhea Williams of the Texas Interscholastic League via telegram earlier this week.

Coahoma in 1966 thus joins a league that has as other members O'Donnell, Plains, Seagraves and Tahoka.

Whiteface was to have gone into the new alignment but the executive committee was informed Tuesday night that that school would remain in Class B ball due to a shortage of scholastics.

Other schools in Coahoma's present football district (6-A) include Abilene Wylie, Aspermont, Merkel, Rotan, Jim Ned and Roby. Roby, however, is being dropped back to Class B football, starting in 1966.

In reality, Coahoma will be replacing Stanton in 5-A, since Stanton is being promoted to District 4-AA, which will have Denver City, Morton, Post, Slaton and Frenship as other members.

• • •

Wink, a member of 5-A, will be transferred into 7-A, which has Canutillo, Clint and Van Horn as other members.

Another change involving area schools sends Garden City, which fields an eight-man team, into District 3-B. The new alignment of that district will include Flower Grove, Sands, Gail, Garden City and Sterling City.

Garden City and Sterling City had previously been in 5-B, along with Forsan and Imperial.

Forsan now steps up to 11-man ball and becomes a part of 4-B, which has Bronte, Hermleigh, Jayton, Loraine, Robert Lee, Roby and Trent as other members. Imperial moves up to 11-man ball and becomes affiliated with 3-B, which has Anthony, Balmorhea, Dell City, Grandfalls-Royalty and Socorro as other schools.

Scribe Looks For Spartans, Irish Wins

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Why can't these scientists invent something to cure a head cold and a split-screen television set so recuperating football fans can watch both Southern California at Notre Dame and Michigan State at Purdue simultaneously?

Last week's clear-eyed predictions lowered the season's average to .730.

Here are this week's picks:

Southern Cal at Notre Dame: A year ago, the Trojans wrecked Notre Dame's perfect season in the final quarter of the final game. This year it will be different. Southern California has Mike Garrett, but the Irish have Bill Wolski, Nick Eddy and Nick Rassas.

Michigan State over Purdue: Michigan State's defensive line held Michigan and Ohio State to a total of minus 70 yards in the Spartans' two outings. It is doubtful if Bob Griese, Purdue's competent QB, can find the key to open the door.

Nebraska over Colorado: The Cornhuskers will find a way to contain Wilmer Cooks.

Arkansas over North Texas State: Hardly a workout for the team that beat Texas a week ago.

Texas over Rice: The Longhorns are weary but fresh enough to beat Rice.

Louisiana State over South Carolina: The Tigers' Joe Labruzzo became of age against Kentucky a week ago.

Kentucky over Georgia: Bob Taylor, Georgia's best back, is out for the season with a broken leg.

Dartmouth over Harvard: Mickey Beard and Gene Ryzewicz give Dartmouth a potent one-two punch.

Alabama over Florida State: Steve Sloan to scalp the Seminoles.

Minnesota over Michigan: The Gophers, from whom little was expected, grow better week by week.

UCLA over California: But it will be close.

Eula Teams Win Over Westbrook

EULA—Eula won both ends of a basketball doubleheader from Westbrook here Tuesday night.

The boys prevailed, 77-61, after the girls had finished on the long end of a 63-41 score.

In the boys' contest, Eula built up a 24-8 lead at the end of the first period, was ahead, 47-28, at half time and again at the termination of the third period, 61-38.

The Eula girls led, 19-5, 35-25, and 58-34 through the first three rounds.

In the boys' engagement, Elmer McMahan paced Westbrook in scoring with 32 points while Sammy Owens had 28 for the winners.

Vickie Chambers paced the Westbrook girls with 18 points while Patsy Boyd had 29 for Eula.

The Westbrook teams go to Old Glory for two games Friday night.

H-SU Campaign Climbs Higher

ABILENE — Hardin - Simmons' endowment campaign totals now are $418,000 Dr. Lee Hemphill, vice president of endowment and promotion, and Sam Waldrop, chairman of the steering committee, announced.

H-SU officials, trustees and other supporters launched a drive Sept. 28 at a luncheon honoring Carr P. Collins Sr., of Dallas to raise $1.5 million to match Collins' "challenge gift" of $500,000.

Dr. Hemphill made public a $10,000 gift from the B. A. Duffy family of Abilene to endow a scholarship program.

Nobis And Anderson Boast Credentials

DALLAS (AP)—Tommy Nobis of Texas and Donny Anderson of Texas Tech are the Southwest Conference's top candidates for All-America.

Nobis, the great Longhorn linebacker, and Anderson, the all-purpose halfback of the swirling Red Raiders, were ranked one-two, not necessarily in that order, by the regional committee of The Associated Press today.

It would be a repeat, since the two made the All-America last season as juniors.

Blackie Sherrod of the Dallas Times Herald called Nobis "not only the best linebacker in the history of the conference but maybe, in physical talent, mental attitude and dedication, the best all-around player."

Sherrod cited Anderson's list of all-around statistics but said strong defensive clubs able to concentrate on him have been fairly effective in holding him in check. "Very few clubs have the personnel to do it, and they could probably do the same to any outstanding back."

Anderson, who runs, catches passes, punts and returns kickoffs like nobody's business for Tech, also was rated either first or second with Nobis on the ballots of Jack Keady of the Arkansas Democrat, Dick Peebles of the Houston Chronicle, Burle Pettit of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, Bill Van Fleet of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram and Wes Wise of Dallas KRLD-TV.

Van Fleet called attention to Nobis' great offensive work in the Texas-Arkansas game although he was playing while injured and Pettit said "He's the greatest linebacker I ever have seen."

Anderson, Pettit added, was averaging over 300 yards per game and "this is the best year he has had."

Wise said he was picking Nobis for his defense although "he is good enough on offense."

Others getting mention as All-America candidates included Harry Jones, Arkansas' fine running back; Marvin Kristynik, Texas' mighty quarterback; Diron Talbert, Texas tackle; Bobby Crockett, Arkansas' great pass-receiver; Loyd Phillips, Jim Williams and Glen Ray Hines, the star tackle trio of Arkansas; Pete Lammons, the two-way wingman of Texas; Ken McLean, the Texas Aggie end; Jon Brittenum, Arkansas quarterback, and Billy Bob Stewart, the Southern Methodist linebacker.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Those aficionados of the Burnt-Orange who effected a retreat from the Ozarks in dejection last week, no doubt, rationalized about the debacle suffered by Texas Longhorns by telling themselves:

"Football? . . . It's only a game."

They had company . . . in this particular part of the world, anyway.

Defeat on a football greensward is Kismet, Big Spring followers of the autumnal madness could have been telling themselves as they departed from Memorial Stadium Friday night, in the wake of the Steers' shocking 21-6 reversal at the hands of Midland High.

• • • •

Football is a game, all right, but what a game it is — complex, fluid and utterly unpredictable.

Many Midland fans had thought so little of their team's chances that they refused to follow the Bulldogs here but the Steer buffs were out in force, primed for another victory of decisive proportions. Their main preoccupation was in trying to name the size of the score.

What they saw take place down in the battle pits, some still cannot come to believe.

• • • •

If you yielded at all to the enticements of Morpheus Friday night, you slept more than Don Robbins, foreman of the local football spread, who played and replayed the game on the ceiling of his room.

Robbins felt the Steers had prepared themselves well for the challenge, had done everything asked of them in practice. But the visiting Bulldogs, no doubt angry and repentant over the deficiencies they betrayed against San Angelo the previous week, proceeded to make a complete shambles of Big Spring's battle plan.

Robbins, who dies a little bit when his Modus Operandi begins to ravel at the seams, says without reservation that the Longhorns were more inept in that one outing than in any game since he hired on here as a coach.

He comments thusly without rancor but rather as if seeking a key to a baffling enigma.

And he did it without trying to take a thing away from Midland, which came to play and responded with a solid, productive performance.

• • • •

Where does Big Spring go from here?

The cross-roads are dead ahead. The Steers go to Abilene Friday night to offer resistance to a team (Abilene High) that, down through the years, has used a game with the provincials as a springboard to success.

Abilene's Eagles and their backers have never been able to understand how Big Spring has been able to stand its ground with other Class AAAA teams when they themselves enjoy such signal success at our expense. In Abilene, there are patrons of the sport who will tell you the Eagles "own" Big Spring, which means the Abilene clubs do with the Steers about as they please when they please.

It has come to the point where some of the Abilene backers feel that all their clubs have to do to vanquish the Steers is to throw their helmets on the field. They like to say the Longhorns panic at such a jesture.

• • • •

Big Spring still has vast potential in football and is capable of defeating Abilene, San Angelo or any other foe, if it taps all its resources.

If the Steers benefit from the lessons they learned in their most recent defeat and carry the fight to the enemy, they will take the right fork in the road.

It's been said before that the locals run better back in the pack than out in front of the parade. That may be true. Count them as contenders and you lose. Count them out and then see how wrong you can be.

Powell To Miss Seagraves Game

STANTON — Coach Bill Milam said this morning that fullback Roy Powell would probably miss this week's game with Seagraves due to a lingering bout with the flu. Powell has been ailing about two weeks.

First place in District 5-A will be at stake in the contest. Seagraves come here for the game, scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m. Friday.

Mele Named Top Pilot

NEW YORK (AP) — Sam Mele, who led the Minnesota Twins to a runaway victory in the American League pennant race, was the overwhelming choice today as the circuit's Manager of the Year in the annual Associated Press poll.

Mele collected 328 votes in the balloting by 331 sports writers and sportscasters. Gil Hodges of the Washington Senators received the other three.

This is the first time that Mele has been named the AL's top manager. He took over as the Twins' pilot in June 1961, replacing Cookie Lavagetto.

Mele, 42 years old, took his team to the front early in the 1965 season amid reports that his job was in jeopardy. Despite damaging injuries to slugging third baseman Harmon Killebrew and star pitcher Camilo Pascual that sidelined each for almost two months, the Twins led by 10 games two weeks before the close of the campaign. They finished seven games in front of the second-place Chicago White Sox with a 102-60 record.

Don Trull Will Replace Blanda In Pro Lineup

HOUSTON (AP) — Quarterback George Blanda, who saw five of his passes intercepted in the Houston Oilers' 17-28 loss to Denver, will be benched in favor of Don Trull next Sunday against the Kansas City Chiefs.

Coach Hugh Taylor decided on the switch Tuesday.

Asked if he had told Blanda, Taylor said:

"George will get the message just as Trull got it when I started George. Blanda didn't have a good game Sunday. He had receivers in the open and didn't hit them.

Taylor said he was not making a change simply for the sake of change.

SMITH SAYS MORE POSITIVE ATTITUDE IS NEEDED

This Is 'Beat Abilene Week,' Quarterback Club Is Reminded

This is 'Beat Abilene Week' in the Big Spring High School football camp, coaching aide Herman Smith told members of the Quarterback Club here Tuesday evening, and the community should take up the chant and get behind the players.

"This is a mental block we've got when it comes to playing the Eagles, and it shouldn't be that way," Smith said, after asking to be heard. "Those people over there are no different than we are and we can beat them.

"But it's going to take a combined effort of the team, the coaching staff and the community," Smith cautioned. "We've got to make our boys think they can win. We've been preparing a long time for this one. I, personally, feel we will win."

Smith urged his listeners to seek out Steer players where ever they find them and convey the message of taking a positive attitude toward the game.

Cliff Patton, another Big Spring coaching aide who scouted the Eagles for the Steers, said the thing that happened to the Steers (a defeat at the hands of upstart Midland High) could happen to any team and recalled two instances in pro ball when it occurred to a club for which he was playing.

"It's just one of those things. We've got to impress upon our boys the pride they had before last Friday's game. We're hoping everyone gets behind them. That one loss won't hurt us as far as the district race goes. We'd still have to win the rest of them if we are to win the championship."

Patton then went into a detailed scouting report on the Abilene club, describing the Eagles as a team that is bigger but slower than those in years past.

He said the Eagles' outstanding boys include Santos Rodriquez, very dangerous on country sweeps "if he can get outside where he can run"; Tim Thurman, a fullback who is a throwback to the type of players Abilene has had down through the years (" tough and aggressive") split end Bill Taylor, who runs lots of patterns and reads them well and Forest Lane, who excels at running the sprint out and passes exceptionally well.

Patton said the Eagles, who have lost only one game this season, have juniors on the right side of the line and singled out Rusty Dearman as one of the best blockers on the Eagle squad. He added that tackle Delbert Jones was a reformed end who could conceivably go down on pass patterns ("because he is a good receiver") in situations where the line is unbalanced and spotlighted guard David Richardson, a 170-pounder, as a boy "you won't see on the ground very much."

HERMAN SMITH

The commentary on the Steer-Midland film by both Patton and head coach Don Robbins, who could hardly talk due to a throat ailment, proved to be a well of information for those attending the session. The reasons for the Longhorns' defeat came into much sharper focus in the light of such comments as these, all of which were meant as constructive criticism and not as a method for degrading the personnel:

● Halfback Joe Jaure was not running in the game like he had in previous games and like he is capable of running.

● A team's safeties should never let a punt hit the ground where they are capable of catching the ball.

● On Big Spring's first drive of the night, the Steers stopped themselves with their mistakes (busted assignments and penalties) and not because of anything the opposition did.

● Midland prospered with some of the plays Big Spring had been using with success all season, which, in a sense, is a credit to expert scouting done by the Bulldog aides.

● The Steers missed too many passes that should have been caught for long yardage.

● The score of the game might have been worse had not the 'good man upstairs' not been looking after us.

● In the third quarter, when Big Spring had the wind at its back, the Steers gave up the ball after one series of downs again because of its own errors and not through anything the visitors did.

● Ronnie Caldwell did a fine job of stunting on defense for Big Spring.

● Big Spring got one break late in the contest when the locals were guilty of roughing the kicker, but the arbiters didn't call the infraction.

● The old axiom 'he who hesitates is lost' was never truer than in the game, because the Steers were guilty of holding back too many times on Midland's deadly end sweeps.

Robbins said the Steers had had reasonably good workouts thus far this week and fully realize the magnitude of the job ahead of them.

The conclave was in charge of QBC co-captains Jack Griffin and Stanley Ballou. The coaches drew rounds of applause and some pertinent comments from the turnout for their remarks.

Young Lovers

Kieran and Patti Doherty provide the romantic interest for "Visit to a Small Planet," next little theatre production, which opens Friday in the city auditorium. Curtain time is 8 p.m. The comedy is the first of a four-play season, for which theatre directors are selling season tickets. Family ducats are $8 for 12 admissions, a considerable savings over the door price of $1.50 each. Tickets may be had from any director, Pelletier's, or at The Herald.

Here's Day In Capital

WASHINGTON (AP)—Imperial Wizard Robert M. Shelton isn't talking about Ku Klux Klan activities.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., is talking about Senate confirmation for Francis X. Morrissey, nominated to be a federal judge in Massachusetts.

And the U.S. Information Agency is telling the world about protests aimed at U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

SILENT LEADER: Shelton is refusing to answer questions as the House Committee on Un-American Activities probes what President Johnson called a "hooded society of bigots."

Shelton heads the United Klans of America, largest of the Klan federations. He took constitutional refuge 73 times in his first appearance before the committee.

MORRISSEY: "There are," said Sen. Edward Kennedy, "more votes in favor of the nomination than opposed."

But Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen said he expects all Republicans and more than six Democrats to vote for sending the Morrissey nomination back to committee.

A vote had been scheduled Tuesday, but was sidetracked by debate on the sugar quota bill.

Morrissey's nomination for the federal bench has brought opposition from both the American Bar Association and Dirksen.

U.S. Information Agency says it is telling the world that only a small fraction of the American people criticize U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

At the same time, a spokesman said the world also is being told of the demonstrations and campus teach-ins protesting the U.S. policy.

The agency operates more than 200 information centers in 86 countries and broadcasts globally through its 100-transmitter Voice of America.

CAPITAL QUOTES

White House press secretary Bill D. Moyers: "My guess is the President, until he regains his full strength, will do the minimum work necessary to carry on the essential functions of the presidency."

CAPITAL FOOTNOTES

Indian Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri hopes to visit the United States this year. Space scientists say experiments show there is little, if any, radiation danger to astronauts at the altitudes flown in the current orbital missions.

Mother Billed In Deaths Of Four Children

UPPER MALRBORO, Md. (AP)—Mrs. Charleen June Hargis, 37, estranged wife of former Kansas congressman Denver Hargis, has been indicted for the murder of their four children.

The grand jury handed down four indictments Tuesday in the slaying of Sandra, 12; Michael, 8; Brenda, 2; and Debra, 5; Each shot once in the head.

The bodies were found early Monday in their apartment near Laurel.

Hargis, 44, said he and his wife had been separated three months. He is area coordinator for the Southwest Division of the Economic Development Administration in Washington.

Sweep Wing FII Makes Test Flight

FORT WORTH (AP) — The sixth variable sweep wing F11, formerly the TFX, stayed up 40 minutes in its first test flight Tuesday. Officials at the General Dynamics plant where it was built said the craft flew 12 days ahead of schedule.

Town Crier Quits At Provincetown

PROVINCETOWN, Mass. (AP) — Every summer for 13 years, Arthur P. Snader has put on a dark Pilgrim suit, complete with a broad white collar and tall, wide-brimmed hat, and marched off bell in hand to announce the tides, weather conditions and local events.

He was the latest in a long line of town criers of Provincetown, a job he says dates back to at least the 18th century.

Now Snader has turned in his round badge of office and retired. He has walked two or three miles every day from Memorial Day to Labor Day and he is "tired out."

Provincetown is at the very tip of Cape Cod, and Snader's job mainly was for the benefit of summer tourists.

Tourists also were his main source of trouble.

"Most of them were pretty nice," Snader says, "but now and then I'd run into one of those amateur comedians."

Snader is 81. He believes the strenuous outdoor life of a town crier may be partially responsible for his good health, but "maybe good liquor has helped."

Town manager Robert Hancock said, "We will have to go a long way to find someone as conscientious as Arthur. He has not missed a day's work since he took the job."

Snader, a blimp pilot in World War I, says he is looking forward to retirement. For one thing, he plans to write a book.

Officials At Bogalusa Counter Demonstrators

BOGALUSA, La. (AP) — Officials turned to a court injunction and criminal charges today in an effort to stop Negro teenager demonstrations.

The demonstrations, protesting alleged unequal educational facilities, threaten to bring Bogalusa's simmering, sometimes violent civil rights fight back to a boil.

Dist. Atty. W. W. Erwin said he filed a criminal bill of information in City Court accusing six leaders of the Bogalusa Civic and Voters League of contributing to the delinquency of a juvenile.

Erwin said identities of the six would be withheld unless they were arrested.

The injunction against the league was signed Tuesday night by Civil District Judge Jim W. Richardson.

Erwin said the order forbids the league or its members from "enticing, compelling or permitting anyone to solicit any of the pupils of the public schools to absent themselves for the purpose of picketing, marching, parading or doing any other acts of like nature. . ."

Rent Subsidy Snags Loom

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Appropriations Committee has approved $12.4 million for the administration's proposed rent subsidy program. Its future is far from secure, however.

The House already has rejected the fund request, and a Senate floor fight appeared in the offing later this week.

Under the rent supplement program, the government would pay non-profit owners or developers the difference between 25 per cent of the occupant's income and the rent for the unit.

Australia Well Test Reported

DALLAS (AP) — A gas flow rate of 175 million cubic feet a day showed in tests on a Delhi Australian Petroleum Ltd. well in South Australia, the firm reported Tuesday.

Officials here said the test was made at 6,165 to 6,565 feet.

They said the well, the Nappacoongee No. 1, has reached 7,687 feet and encountered a Permian structure. Casing has been set for drilling with air to a projected depth of 15,000 feet.

Balloon Carries Telescope Aloft

PALESTINE (AP) — A telescope was sent aloft by balloon Tuesday night by Rice University scientists seeking radiation readings.

The instrument package is to collect data on the crab nebula, believed by Dr. Robert Haynes, director of the launch, to be the radioactive debris from a super star which exploded 3,500 light-years away.

Lomax 4-H Club Meets Monday

LOMAX — Brad Posey, new president, presided at Monday night's meeting of the Lomax 4-H Club meeting in the community center. Gary Posey led the motto and Freddie Newman led the pledge to the flag. The program theme was "How to Keep America Beautiful."

David Adkins, program chairman, gave a review of the meeting of all club officers in the county agent's office recently, when their duties were outlined in a model program. Refreshments were served.

Lighting Contest Interest Sought

Webb Village residents were being polled as to interest in an outdoor Christmas lighting-decoration contest. Appointees of the Webb Village Council, Chaplain (Lt. Col.) Benjamin F. Meacham, and SM. Sgt. Don L. Zellner, are conducting the survey.

If sufficient interest warrants the contest, prizes, possibly $50, $25 and $10, may be awarded for each side of Randolph Boulevard.
