Death Ray Machine Is Uncovered

MAN-MADE LIGHTNING AID TO ENGINEERS

(By Associated Press)

SEATTLE, April 24—The asserted existence and operation in San Francisco of a potential death ray machine, producing 3,000,000 volts of man-made lightning and said to be capable of developing twice that power, stirred the imagination of engineers here today.

Announcement of the invention was made simultaneously in San Francisco and Seattle yesterday. C. H. Melsome-Smith, an engineer of the Pacific Gas and Eelctric company in San Francisco, declared the machine invented by Hector M. Hassel, former Seattle wireless instructor, was housed somewhere in the California city but refused to say where.

At the same time John L. Martin, president of the Marjohn Mines company, exhibited films of the ray to stockholders of his company here yesterday. He said the machine was being used to refine ores. He declared the invention was a death ray only in the sense that it produced enormous destructive power. He said its primary function was to operate commercially.

JOHN F. CURRY

MAYOR WALKER CLIMBS INTO SADDLE AFTER BITTER FIGHT

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, April 24—Selection of John F. Curry, opponent of Alfred E. Smith, as head of Tammany hall was interpreted by newspapers today as marking the passing of the influence of the former governor.

The election of Curry, a district leader, to succeed George W. Olvany, resigned, also was described as a victory for Mayor James J. Walker, which has established him as the dominating influence in Tammany with his renomination assured.

The New York Times said:

"Mr. Curry's election is believed to mark the pasing of the influence of former Governor Smith and the abandoning of thought of further excursions into national politics, the last of which ended in the defeat of Mr. Smith for President last fall."

The World said:

"At least for the moment Al Smith has been repudiated by the organization whose reputation he furnished almost single-handedly. Mayor Walker rules the roost. And Tammany, suffering from a bad case of over-confidence, is about to see what it can do without the service of 'reformers,' 'interlopers,' 'high-hatters' and 'outsiders.'"

EMPIRE BUILDERS PLEDGE TO WORK FOR GOOD OF AREA AS ATTENDANCE BREAKS RECORD

BY JACK WALLACE HAWKINS
Of The Daily Journal's Staff

TAHOKA, April 24.—Business men, who are likewise empire builders, gathered here today from the far-flung borders of the South Plains as the annual District convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce held sway. A city gaily decorated with banners and flags, music from five bands and a spirit of neighborliness and good fellowship greeted approximately 1,500 delegates representing more than a score of cities, who arrived early in the morning before the first session got under way at 10 o'clock.

Headed by Andy Bourland, Vernon, president of the West Texas organization, and Arthur P. Duggan, former president and now vice-president, it was apparant even before the conventon began that the largest district crowd in the organization's history would engage in the day's festivities.

Following band concerts on the streets beginning at 9:30 o'clock and a parade by the large Ralls delegation seeking the 1930 meeting, Taylor White, president of the local chamber, called the session to order and with a few words turned the meeting over to A. P. Duggan, of Littlefield, presiding officer. M. L. H. Baze, Supt. of schools here, led 'America' following the invocation by Rev. B. N. Shepherd, pastor of the First Baptist church, and G. H. Nelson, Lynn county attorney, gave the address of welcome.

Progress Is Stressed

In his address, which was replied to by M. C. Tainter, secretary of the Crosbyton C. of C., Mr. Nelson stressed the progress of the South Plains and the work of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

The addresses were interspersed by music from the South Plains Glee club, Tahoka, led by Mrs. Jack Jackson, by the Ukelele Girls band, from Spur and by the 34-piece Harmonica band from Slaton.

Judge J. D. Hamlin, of Farwell, pioneer of the days when the South Plains was merely 'great open spaces,' talked on 'This Great Country of Ours.' The South Plains, Judge Hamlin said, is not only great in size but great in promise

MEN'S AND WOMEN'S ATTIRE SHOULD HARMONIZE

For the informal evening affair, Jean Patou created this taffeta ensemble that harmonizes with an escort's lounge suit. It is sufficiently dressy for a cabaret or for dinner in a smart restaurant, yet it would be out of place as a afternoon ensemble.

By JEAN PATOU
For NEA Service

PARIS, April 24. — I have often wondered at the lack of harmony between a man and a woman's dress. There have been times without number when I have felt utterly dismayed at the sight of a woman entering a fashionable restaurant in full evening dress, wrapped in costly furs, precious stones gleaming in the light and escorted by a man in a lounge cuit! The contrast is invariably disagreeable and in poor taste.

Now that we have almost resumed our pre-war balanced way of living or, if you will have it, leading a more normal life, it occurs to me that it would be fitting to resume some of our pre-war traditions regarding dress, adapted, of course, to our modern ideas.'

The Inelegant Male.

The modern expression of a man's dress is far from beautiful, but it does not become a woman to make this more evident by wearing clothes that will make it conspicuous.

A well-dressed woman should possess at least three types of evening ensembles. With these she can meet any eventuality and be well dressed without being overdressed.

For some unknown reason, a man is allowed these days to dine in certain chic cabarets or restaurants wearing a lounge suit and soft collar. His companion obviously must wear a dress indicating its "evening" character—she will probably dance during or after dinner—and yet it has to be sober in line, cut and fabric in view of her escort's clothes. The ensemble I thought out for such an event is made of taffeta, black and with it is worn a dressy, aigrette trimmed hat but practically no jewels.

Night Club Influence.

Dinner and a theater usually prompts a man to wear a dinner jacket. He knows that after the theater it is likely that his party will visit a number of fashionable night clubs. Although entirely informal, these night places are frequently very smart. There will perhaps not be much dancing but a woman's dress is always noticed. Here, too, she must take care not to be overdressed for the occasion.

A black georgette ensemble seemed to me to be an answer to the problem of these semi-formal affairs. With this ensemble an elaborate turban as well as a number of diamond bracelets can be worn, if a woman so desires.

Formality Easily Achieved.

For formal functions, the problem is easily solved. On such occasions, all the old traditions regarding clothes are revived and as a fitting accompaniment to a man in full evening dress, his woman companion is obliged to wear just as formal a gown. The lines of a man's evening cost are good; they are long, flowing, slenderizing.

I have created a "type" gown for full-dress affairs and as such I think it harmonizes perfectly with the clothes men wear on such occasions. It is the only time, perhaps, where a man is really dressed and it is a woman's duty to look the best that she and her couturier can achieve.

The formality of a man's full evening dress demands that the woman he escorts should be dressed formally, too. Long, flowing lines and slim, fitted bodice and skirt harmonize with the long flowing lines of a man's evening coat. Only thus can a man and a woman's clothes synchronize.

Living and Loving

BY MRS. VIRGINIA LEE

Of all the low down beasts in the world the one who takes advantage of a position of authority over a woman to force his attentions upon her, is the lowest. What can a woman do in such case? If she complains to others he can deny it, and the higher his position the more likely is he to be believed, and the woman discredited. The more important the position to her the less she can make a fuss, as it may lose her the job.

"DEAR VIRGINIA LEE: Ever since I graduated from college, which was three years ago, I've been teaching in a high school. This year I was given a very excellent position and everything is wonderful except for one thing. The head of the department in which I teach is a man 36 years old, 11 years older than I, and he is married, with a family. This year was the first time I've ever known him, and since our meeting he has repeatedly given me attentions which aren't quite proper. Lately he has tried to put his hands on me when we were alone. Many afternoons we have to work late, and we are together most of the time with no one near. Just before my husband and I came on this trip he asked me for a date, and when I requested that he please let me alone, he became angry and threatened to have me discharged if I didn't do as he asked. He can do it, too, if he so wishes. I could report him, but he could deny it and the authorities would believe him first, and anyway I'd lose my position and that means so much to me. It means the home my dear husband and I are buying, the future for our babies we are yearning for but can't afford at present. It means all! I can't tell my husband about it because right away he'd want to kill that man or do something awful. MRS. J. M."

It's a damnable situation, my dear, and one many women have to face. It would be interesting to have readers write me as to how they handled it. There are a number of ways you can try. You can tell your husband and have him threaten the man, if you can make him promise he will not do anything rash. You can go to the superintendent of schools and complain. Doubtless the man has annoyed other girls as he has you, and if you could get them to combine forces you might frighten him into good behavior. Of course, it wouldn't be pleasant to work with him after that. Or you could "kid" him along, making him think you were acquiscent but "slippinz out" if he got too familiar. Or, you might appeal to him as you have to me, only such a beast might not be moved by such an appeal. However, sometimes way down in such people there are sparks of honor that might be kindled if you made your case strong enough. I think first I would try the humorous way, never taking him seriously, but playfully eluding him. Then, if that did not work, I would bully him. Such people usually are cowards. Tell him you may not be believed, you may lose your position, but his reputation won't look so good if he bothers you too much, and you will shout to high heavens if he threatens to discharge you or have you discharged. And I would tell the other teachers about it and try to have some one—maybe the janitor—always about—within earshot, if it is at all possible, when you have to work alone with him.

"JACKIE:" "Perplexed and bewildered," are you? Well, could you make a bargain with dad? If he will do as you wish you will do something for him? Try it. Or talk it over with him, in your most winning way. Ask him how he felt when he went to see a girl when the girl's father insisted on being "among those present" all evening. Tell him it makes the boys bashful. You don't want to do anything you shouldn't. Make it clear you want him to meet your boy friends always, but you don't feel as free as if he occasionally left you alone. I suppose your mother can't manage him, either.

* * *

WORRIED GIRL: I should say that if you go with no one else and are together five nights out of seven, it might be construed as "going steady." Some people are just naturally moody and your boy friend seems to be so afflicted. I might say in parenthesis, that such a person is not a happy choice when considering matrimony. Wait until he comes to you. He did not treat you very nicely. Stature makes no difference in love. You can make yourself look short by wearing low heeled shoes. You may grow somewhat. The boy friend undoubtedly will. Can't say how much for either of you. And, finally, don't worry, little girl, you'll probably wonder, in another year, what you ever saw in him.

Seek To Change Name Of C. I. A., Denton

AUSTIN, April 24. (AP)—Two bills affecting the College of Industrial Arts, one changing the name of the institution to Texas State College for Women and the other vesting the board of regents with power to issue contracts and assume obligations for the construction of dormitories, were prepared today by Representative Fred Minor, Denton.

Minor said he would seek to change the name of the school because South Texas Teachers college at Kingsville was recently designated by law as the College of Arts and Industries. This title, Minor believes will confuse the school with C. I. A. at Denton.

FARM RELIEF

House will be awaiting next attention.

Defeated in their first test, President Hoover's supporters in opposition to the national origins provision of the Immigration law were looking ahead today to the conclusion of the farm debate before renewing in earnest their battle for repeal. The Senate immigration committee yesterday voted 6 to 2 to postpone indefinitely the bills for repeal.

Bills Are Held Up

Meanwhile, threats of debate in the Senate over the credit situation, involving the Federal Reserve board's efforts to curb loans for speculation, have failed to materialize. Bills and resolutions for investigations are in some of the Senatorial desks, but they have been withheld.

Unlike the House debaters on this subject who want to investigate the Reserve board's warnings against increased brokers' loans, the Senate has some members who want to investigate Wall Street. In the Senate the only expressed complaint, so far, against the Reserve board is that it didn't issue its warning sooner.

Senator King, democrat, Utah, who has prepared a resolution to investigate the credit situation is withholding this move to see how things develop. He is one of those who believe excessive credits have been made available to speculators and the Federal Reserve board should have acted sooner.

Copeland For Equalization

WASHINGTON, April 24 (AP)—As the House set itself today to complete its farm relief bill, Senator Copeland, a New York democrat, proposed to eliminate the export debenture plan from the Senate bill and to reinstate the equalization fee of the McNary-Haugen bill which caused two vetoes of that measure by President Coolidge.

Chairman Haugen, of the House Agriculture committee, informed his colleagues it was the hope of his committee that the House measure might be completed before adjournment. In the senate, however the way was not so smooth. The senate agriculture committee, against the wishes of President Hoover has inserted the debenture plan in its bill.

Keep Same Wording

Senator Copeland said that his amendment proposed to put the equalization fee back into the bill in the same language as it stood in the McNary-Haugen bill.

"I do this without prejudice to the debenture plan," he said. "I have become convinced that the debenture plan cannot pass in the Senate. It would be a great pity to have a farm bill ruined by failing to provide some method of financing it."

declined to reveal the purport of the board's findings, but said he expected the report would be made public shortly by the White House.

Employees Aroused

The strike vote was taken by about 4,000 members of four brotherhoods of the line and was almost unanimous for a strike. It was based primarily on refusal of the road to reimburse employees it had transferred to other towns for losses they had sustained on property in the towns from which they were transferred.

At the hearing in Dallas the employees presented this and six other grievances against the road. Three of the grievances or "cases" were ironed out at the hearing. The board then went to Washington with its report and a fourth of the cases was settled between the men and the road. The board in Washington was notified of this move.

The three remaining cases were presented to the President with the report of the board.

Bourland Makes Talk

"Co-operation of Effort," the principal address of the morning, was delivered by President Bourland, in which he stressed the need of West Texans to work together for the common good. R. A. Baldwin, Slaton attorney and author, followed President Bourland with an address on "Romance and Inspiration."

William A. Wilson, secretary of the Lamesa chamber of commerce, presided over the luncheon at noon at which Judge Gordon B. McGuire, Lamesa, made the principal talk. Judge McGuire chose as his subject 'Being Neighborly.'

The 'My Home Town' oratorical contest, an annual event, was scheduled for this afternoon with representatives from 13 cities ready to vaunt the laurels of their places of abode. Lennis Baker, son of Mr. and Mrs. France Baker, is speaking for Lubbock and the contest is a preliminary one to the West Texas-wide tournament which will be held at the organization's general convention in El Paso.

Ralls In Lead

While the 1930 meeting place will not be decided upon until late this afternoon it was apparent that the 200 boosters from Ralls had an 'inside track.' They have been on the ground all day singing the praises of the Crosby county city and have the largest delegation at the meeting.

Lubbock, with approximately 100 representatives, has one of the largest crowds present, along with Crosbyton, Littlefield, Abernathy and Petersburg.

The session will come to a close about 5 o'clock.

H. E. Sansom has recently accepted a position with the South Plains Music company.

AIRPORT BONDS PASS 2 TO 1; BCD PLANS DAIRY CAMPAIGN

EARLY START ON FIELD TO FOLLOW VOTE

BIDS ON BONDS TO BE CALLED SOON; CITY DADS TO MEET

Lubbock is airminded.

The city that recently was branded as the largest in the United States without airport facilities will now be placed on aviation maps together with the other aviation centers of the nation.

This was proven yesterday when the tax-payers of Lubbock crushed all opposition to the municipal airport project beneath a 438 to 207 vote. By this bond issue victory, Lubbock is authorized to issue $75,000 in bonds for the financing of an adequate airport for the city.

Commission Meets Tomorrow

It is logical to believe that that the airport will be in operation by the end of this year. The city commissioners, who meet in regular session tomorrow, probably will take action concerning the calling of bids for the bonds. A committee to handle the project probably will be selected. The Lubbock airport will meet the standards set out by the United States Chamber of Commerce.

Although the vote yesterday was light compared to the city's voting strength, city officials point out that it was considerably heavier than in the usual city bond election.

Option Is Secured

The $75,000 made available to the city commission will be used to purchase an airport site, provide hangars, flood lights, markers, runways, and other necessary equipment. The airport committee of the local Board of City Development has secured an option on a section of land north of the city at $85 an acre for a prospective airport site. The commission, however, is not bound by this recommendation.

With the passage of the bond issue yesterday, the proposed air mail and passenger lines through this city loom nearer a reality and are expected to be put into operation within the near future.

HOG RAISING IS MADE PROFITABLE

TAHOKA, April 23 (Special)—Lit Moore, prominent Lynn county farmer, finds that hog raising is one of the best side lines a farmer can have, if he handles the business carefully. In addition to raising a good acreage of both cotton and feed, he spends much time with his hogs, and during this month alone he has placed fattened porkers on the market bringing him $1175.00. He still has 75 hogs left unsold.

Mr. Moore says that to raise hogs profitably they must have a good pasture to run on, preferrably of wheat or sudan. His hogs have been on a wheat pasture and he is now preparing to sow sudan for summer and fall pasturage. He feeds his hogs grain only a month or two, ordinarily.

This farmer also finds that a small field of red-top cane is a money-maker nearly every year. This year he sold seed from thirteen acres for $282.86, and in addition kept 100 pounds for planting and had the bundles left for feeding purposes.

Red Cross Work Is Told At Conference

WASHINGTON, April 24 (AP)—Red Cross activities, which since 1881 have required the expenditure of $80,500,000, including more than $3,000,000 contributed to foreign and insular disaster relief during the past ten months, were described by national leaders today before more than seven hundred representatives of the organization from all parts of the world, attending national conference.

COW-TESTING STATION FOR TECH OKEYED

PLAINS MILKMEN ARE TO RECEIVE HELP FROM CITY

Directors of the Lubbock Board of City Development, in regular session at the City hall, last night appropriated sufficient money for the establishment of a cow-testing laboratory at Texas Technological college—a laboratory which will serve the dairymen throughout the entire South Plains territory. The directorate also took steps for providing street signs for the city.

The appropriations amounted to $350. Officials of the cow testing association and of Tech college worked out plans whereby a tester will be placed in the laboratory at the college to care for the details of the office.

To Better Production

Under the present plan, dairymen will send in samples of milk and cream to the testing station here. Tests will be made and an accurate record made. This will not only increase the milk production of the dairies will be tend toward the bettering of the milk quality.

This action of the board followed a recommendation of the dairy committee, which is composed of F. A. Norman, chairman; K. M. Renner, Dick Smith, W. L. Stangel, W. A. Myrick, jr., Dr. I. E. Barr, and A. H. Leidigh.

Following an intensive survey of the city, the street sign committee, of which the Rev L. G. H. Williams is chairman, made its recommendation to the board directors last night. The report was adopted as read. It provides for the erection of plainly-visible street markers, made of durable material, at the intersection of every street in the well populated business and residential districts.

Cost of the markers and putting them up is $2,183.64. Before further action is taken it will be necessary for the directors to meet with the city commission.

The board voted to appropriate $500 of next year's funds on the salary of the high school band director. This year $1,000 was appropriated.

A committee was appointed to make arrangements for the entertainment of the 125 Dallas good will trippers who will be here next Monday night.

WILLIAMS COLLEGE Editor thought OG's couldn't win!

THE WILLIAMS RECORD, TUESDAY, MARCH 26, 19

'OLD GOLD' CHALLENGES AND WINS IN CIGARETTE 'TEST'

Challenging the statement appearing in the columns of THE RECORD of February 26 that Williams men have a distinct preference for ———— cigarettes as proven by the fact that that brand outsells competitors in local shops, the Old Gold company last Friday afternoon conducted one of its famous "concealed name tests" at Williams. As a result, Williams has joined the growing list of colleges and universities which have given Old Gold a plurality in such a contest, for out of the 254 votes cast, the challenging brand received 66 first choices, while two other leading makes could do no more than tie for second place with 59 votes apiece, and a fourth prominent brand received 50 preferences.

To admit no unfairness into the test, each brand of cigarette was denoted by one of five possible numbers, stamped on the black band concealing the name, so that comparison of numbers among those taking the test would have been difficult. The results of the voting, done entirely by number, were checked up by Seeley '29, and A. Clark '30, Business Manager and Assistant Business Manager of THE RECORD.

TECH STARTS ITS TRAINING

HANDFUL OF ATHLETES REPORT FOR EARLY GRID PRACTICE

A six-weeks spring football training grind started on the Tech grid Tuesday afternoon as Matador coaches met the most enterprising candidates for the 1929 eleven. Only a handful of moleskin-clad gridders were on hand for the initial workout.

The majority of the veterans who will be back for the season next fall are working on baseball and track at the present time but will join the camp within the next two weeks. Members of the freshmen squad of last season are also working on baseball but a host of newcomers are expected out within the next few days.

New Faces Seen

A number of new faces were in uniform yesterday for the first day's session as well as several freshman gridders of the 1928 season. Track Coach Victor Payne and Baseball Coach Grady Higginbotham will join the gridders immediately after the schedules for the spring sports have been completed.

Limbering-up exercises and football fundamentals will be stressed during the early part of the spring training, E. Y. Freeland, director of athletics said yesterday.

Cats Look Lousy.

A debacle such as overtook the Panthers pitching staff yesterday scarcely is reminiscent of the clubs that won six straight flags for Jakey Atz. Four Cat hurlers graced the hillock, more or less, during the Steers' six-run triade, giving up between them three doubles, a single three walks and a sacrifice. When the dust settled the Herd had stored away a 9 to 7 verdict. Si Rosenthal's double proved to be the deciding factor in the groggy exhibition.

Jim Lindsey, hefty Houston ace, limited the San Antonio Indians to one hit and shut them out, 8 to 0, at Houston. It was Big Jim's second victory; likewise the second time the Tribe had been held to a lone bingle since the season opened. The Indians have displayed a glaring weakness with the willow thus far, and their pitching has been shaky.

Dumovitch Wins

Dumovitch upheld the high standard of Waco pitching by taming Beaumont 3 to 1, in the Shippers' new park. In two games so far Nick has allowed one earned run. Riviere appeared to have regained his form of early last season when he held the Cubs hitless for the first four frames, but from there on he was nicked at timely intervals.

After dropping two straight to Dallas, Shreveport came back to defeat Wichita Falls, 7 to 4, in the opening game at the Spudder city. The win lifted Art Phelan's hopefuls to fourth place and further depressed the Spudders, expected to be battling for the league lead from the drop of the hat.

All visiting clubs remain over for another crack at their adversaries today.

NEW HAVEN, April 24 (AP)—T. A. D. Jones, former head football coach at Yale and president of a coal company tearing his name, has authorized his attorney to protest the firing on one of his colliers by the coast guard cutter Seneca.

Captain William J. Keating, of Beacon, N. Y., master of the collier, T. A. D. Jones, reported the Seneca fired several shots across the bow of his ship 50 miles off the Jersey coast Saturday night and then sent a party aboard it.

When the T. A. D. Jones hove to, Captain Keating said, a lieutenant and an ensign came aboard and subjected him and his officers to a series of indignities before they departed.

CHICAGO, April 24 (AP)—Sixteen slugging amateur scrappers, qualifiers in the four lighter classes, today had an opportunity to watch entrants in the welter, middleweight, light heavy and heavyweight divisions battle for places in the semi-finals of the Amateur Athletic union's junior championship tournament.

About 5,000 persons saw the little fellows hammer out eight actual or technical knockouts in 21 preliminary bouts last night and others which went the three round limit saw plenty of action.

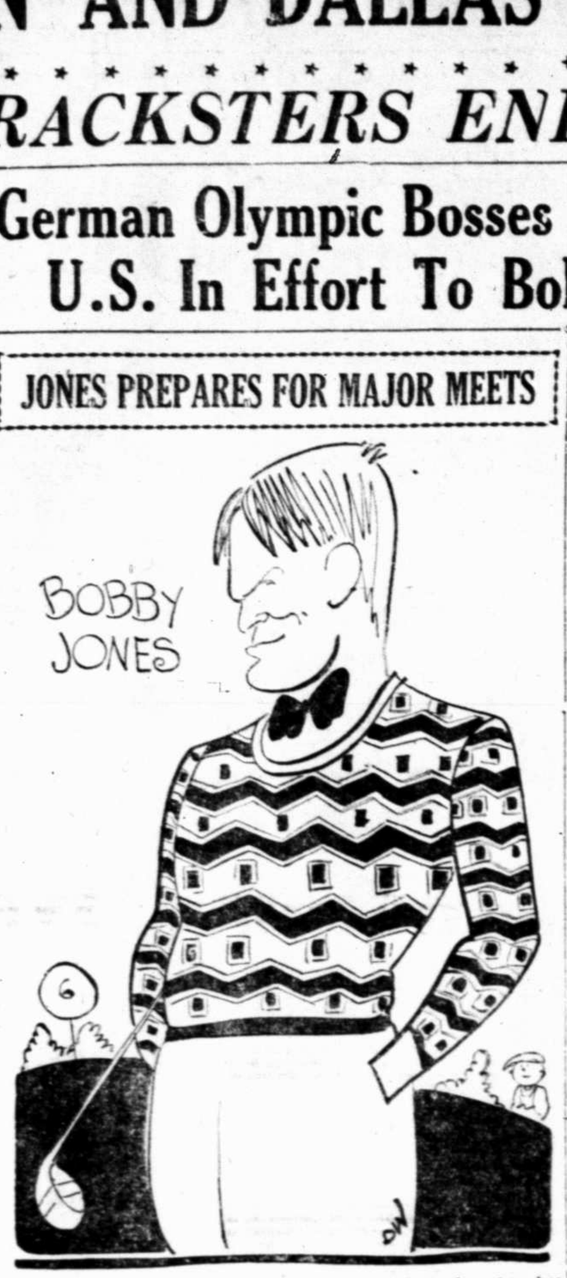

Boston led the list in qualifying men for te semi-final round with four, while Grand Rapids, Mich., and Tulsa, sent three each into the next to the last test.

German Olympic Bosses To Visit In U.S. In Effort To Bolster Entries

JONES PREPARES FOR MAJOR MEETS

ATLANTA, Ga., April 24 (AP)—Bobby Jones, amateur champion, has begun serious preparations for the two big American golf events he will enter this year—the National Open in June, and the National Amateur at Del Monte in September.

He is playing a couple of times a week and on his last time out turned in a neat 65 over the difficult East Lake course. Jones is going to Philadelphia later in the week for the annual meeting of the United States Golf Association.

FIRST PLACE IN NEXT GAMES IS GOAL OF FATHERLAND

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, April 24.—The Germans were right on the heels of Uncle Sam in the Olympic games at Amsterdam, and apparently they will not be satisfied with anything less than first.

Hoping to grease the wheels of German sports efficiency with American methods, Dr. Theodore Lewald, president of the German Olympic committee, and Dr. Carl Diem, secretary-general of the German Federal Council for Athletics, will arrive here May 6 to spend a month and see what they can see.

Both Men Leaders

Dr. Lewald was the master-mind behind the German Olympic team that caused a stir last summer while Dr. Diem was the leader of a German commission of five that toured the United States in 1913 when Germany was preparing to play host to the Olympic games of 1916 prevented by the war.

Lone Star Baseball League Opens Drive

(By Associated Press)

Parades, closed stores and other things that go to open a baseball season were in vogue today at Texarkana and Palestine where teams of the Lone Star League, a four-club circuit, were to start the race for the 1929 pennant.

The Texarkana Twins will have as their initial opponents the Sherman club, while the Palestine Pals will act host to the Tyler Trojans.

MATADORS TO DO STUFF ON BOVINE FIELD

GREAT PLAINS CLASSIC WILL DRAW BIG GATE IS INDICATION

Coach Victor Payne sends his track and field performers through a final session this afternoon to put on the finishing touches for their entry in the Great Plains Track and Field meet at Canyon Friday and Saturday. The squad will leave Thursday for the scene of the meet where college athletes from Oklahoma, New Mexico and the Plains of Texas will gather for the annual affair.

Reports from headquarters indicate the greatest turnout in the history of the meet will be on hand when the scramble for points starts Friday. Entry of Abilene Christian College, T. I. A. A. champions, and Simmons University assures the local tracksters of plenty of competition in all events. The Wildcats have been showing the way to opposition in all meets this season and are strong favorites to cop the meet.

Simmons To Contend

The Simmons Cowboys, nosed out early this week by the Tech aggregation, will likewise be contenders for honors. Prominent among the Oklahoma entries in the two-day affair will be the Southwest Teachers of Weatherford. Huskies from this institution have been consistent point winners in the Great Plains meets and are boasting strong distance runners this year.

N. M. M. I., of Roswell, and Montezuma College of Las Vegas are the New Mexico schools figured to give the locals stiff competition in a number of events. Canyon and Wayland may spring a surprise and give the leaders trouble.

Coach Payne said last night that he would likely take 16 men to compete in the meet at Canyon this season. Although the exact personnel of the party to make the trip has not been given out, the following are favored to get the call: Dashes—Corley, Dallas, Lawrence and Cole; Hurdles—Tadlock, Wilkins and Pace; Runs—Freeland and Hill; Jumps—Tadlock, Wilkins, Lee, Pace, Aldredge; Weights — Reed, Westerfelt, Payne, Taylor; Pole vault—Davis and Walker.

Associates of the oil man and sportsman said at the opening of the Jamaica meeting here yesterday that Mr. Waggoner would like to stage the race, which he would call the Texas derby, on his own private track. The purse of $150,000 would make the "Texas Derby" the richest race in the world.

PHILS TRAMPLE GIANTS IN SEASON'S OPENER AT POLO GROUNDS; VANCE IN GREAT FORM AS ROBINS WHIP BRAVES

By WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The home opening of the Giants was a complete success for the Phillies. In full view of 25,000 fans at the Polo grounds yesterday, the furious Phils tantalized the Giants for eleven innings, but finally romped away with the decision by 3 to 1 on Barney Friberg's triple in the final round with two aboard.

Claude (Weeping) Willoughby pitched against Larry Benton, who deserved better things. The Weeper passed 10 Giants, three of them intentionally, and filled the bases in four distinct innings. Out of these situations, the Clan McGraw squeezed the sum total of one run, forced over the plate in the seventh when Willoughby slipped on Hogan after having passed Roush by intent to fill the bases.

Cards Beat Cubs.

Having failed to make any impression upon the Chicago defense in pitching battles, the Cardinals turned loose their heavy guns in the final assault and won from the Bruins by 9 to 6.

The Braves lost to the Robins by 3 to 2 in eleven innings, but even so, the defeat of the Giants left the Boston entry high and dry, clinging in a dazed fashion to the top of the ladder with no disputant in sight.

The Brooklyn team gave its best efforts, but even these were not enough to lose with Vance in the box. The wild throws of the Robin infield sent terrified thousands to the safety of the upper stand.

The entire American league took hope at the further indication, in the opener at Boston, that the Yankees may just possible be on the verge of a real, old-fashioned batting slump. The world champions collected six small singles, three of them by that sterling slugger, Leo Durocher, and the Red Sox won by 4 to 2. George Pipgras was wild, but Fred Heimach finished like a thoroughbred.

The Senators spoiled the Shibe park debut of the Athletics by taking a 4 to 3 decision in eleven innings. This untoward happening prevented Professor McGillicuddy from occupying the lofty quarters upon which he has had his heart set for so long.

Instead, the Indians, who shaded the White Sox by 5 to 4, moved into the top floor, with the St. Louis Browns established, temporarily at least, in the quarters directly beneath them. The latest prank of the Browns took the form of an 11 to 6 victory over the Tigers in the final game of the series.

A Connecticut boarder disapproved of his lodging house. He dumped a barrel of ashes in his bed and left the place. The police gave him an opportunity to test the comforts of their jail.

(By Associated Press)

DALLAS, April 24.—Development of the Southwest would have been impossible without engineering, declared G. W. Briggs, president of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce in his address of welcome to the National Convention of the American Society of Civil Engineers here today.

E. C. Kincade and J. Edgar Pew were other speakers of the day.

He Wanted To See Jail And He Did For Five Weeks

It seems that he had never seen inside a jail and had always wanted to. Well, he got to—and how.

The interested visitor loafed an entire day in the sheriff's office, pestering the officers to take him for a tour of inspection of the "cooler."

Leaving the courthouse at about 6:30 o'clock, unsuccessful in his attempt to inspect the jail, he was arrested about an hour later on charges of violation of the prohibition laws.

He was given a chance to inspect the inside of the jail in detail. In fact, he was given five weeks in which to do it. Now he is still sitting on the inside, looking at the outside. And he's never going to be inquisitive again.

PROPOSAL REJECTED

GENEVA, April 24 (AP).—Germany's proposal for prohibition of aircraft bombing in war time was rejected today by the Preparatory Commission on Disarmament of the League of Nations. Out of 25 national delegations at the conference only five countries supported the project.

GIBSON TALK GETS PRAISE

ENGLAND OK'S STAND OF AMERICA UPON DISARMAMENT

LONDON, April 24—Sir Austen Chamberlain, British foreign secretary, told the House of Commons today the British government shared fully the hopes and wishes of the United States government on disarmament as set forth in Ambassador Gibson's speech at Geneva on Monday.

"The government desires me to take this opportunity to express its warm appreciation of the cordial conciliatory spirit shown by the American delegate and give assurances on its behalf that in the same spirit and with the most earnest wish to reach a complete understanding, it will consider the American suggestions," declared Sir Austen.

Sir Austen made his statement in answer to a question by Commander Joseph Kenworthy, laborite, whether Ambassador Gibson's speech had been called to his attention and what response His Majesty's government proposed.

"As was at once stated by my noble friend Lord Cushendun," began Sir Austen, "His Majesty's government shares to the full the hopes and wishes of the government of the United States as therein set forth. His Majesty's government, equally with the government of the United States, desire not merely a limitation but a reduction of naval armaments."

CANBERRA, Australia, April 24 (AP)—The Commonwealth government today ordered an extensive inquiry into forced landings in the Australian wilds of both the plane "Southern Cross" and the "Kook-Aburra." It was understood an independent board of experts would conduct the inquiry.

HE 'FAW DOWN, GO BOOM' TO JAIL

CHICAGO, April 24. (AP)—The business of "fawing down and going boom" has gone blooey for William Hoke, negro.

William had a pretty good racket. It consisted of slipping on a banana peel in front of or inside some prosperous business place, and then simulating great pain. Subsequently he would threaten all sorts of law suits and eventually would settle for sums ranging from $50 to $850. Altogether, William told Judge Howard Hayes, he slipped on about 45 banana peels.

Slipping on banana peels, however, is a young man's game. William, now 71, realized it too late. He "faw down and go boom" in a station of the Shore Line Motor Coach company and when he started talking damage suit they had him arrested.

Judge Hayes could not resist mentioning that banana peels had finally been Hoke's downfall, and sent him to jail for six months.

The month of April is a bad time for the restless. It puts thoughts of adventure and wandering into men's minds, and makes distant trails and far-away frontiers look glamorous and inviting.

Down in the Antarctic, Byrd and his men burrow into the ice and await developments in the loneliest land on earth. In Mexico young American aviators go zipping through the air, dropping bombs and firing machine guns for sheer love of adventure and $125 a day in gold. In the Pacific, Gifford Pinchot's barkentine pushes on to a fabled island of romance, and a millionaire paving contractor from Cleveland sails for the South Seas and an undiscovered island paradise he learned about in a dream. Three Hollanders try to cross the Atlantic in a lifeboat, and dude wranglers from the western ranches are busy, in New York, taking the applications of easterners who want to play at being cowboys this summer.

All in all, the month is an adventurous one. And here we are, all of us, compelled to stay safely at home! We read in the papers about the brave wanderings of the more fortunate, but we know we can never go with them, and it makes us restless.

However, it is a question whether the man who stays at home does not get more real romantic thrills out of life than the man who goes traveling. The chap who actually sets out a-venturing is apt to get disillusioned quickly. He goes to the ends of the earth to see the storied places of his dreams and finds life there wars much as it did at home.

Bangkok, Khyber Pass, Port Said, Samarang, Callao, Rio, Punta Arenas—these are glamorous names. But when a man actually gets to one or the other of these places, what does he find? Glittering scenery that looks unreal, strange people who turn out to be very like the people at home, an eddying current of life that under the surface is identical with the life he has always known.

The glamour disappears, he notices that Shanghai has filthy alleys, that Smyrna is full of beggars, that there are many distracting insects along the Amazon, that Algiers is hotter than any place has any right to be. Worse yet, he rides through Penang in an American flivver, eats American breakfast food in Rangoon, sees an American movie in Port of Spain. His romance has faded like the mists of the morning.

But the stay at home never gets disillusioned that way. He is the one traveler who never gets footsore, the one globe-trotter to whom all places are forever new and fresh and inviting. The dull trappings of reality never cloud the sunless skies of his South Seas. Burma and Socotra are always places on a different kind of planet, to him, inhabited by people who are essentially unlike the people at home.

Are you one of the multitude that does all its traveling in an arm chair at home? If so you are lucky. The world can always be romantic and glamorous for you. The names on the map that thrilled you when you first saw them will always thrill you. You can keep all of your illusions.

The Tariff

The matter of the tariff is apt to give Congress some of the most puzzling problems it has had to solve in years.

A tariff, unfortunately, has so many complications that don't appear on the surface.

Take the matter of a tariff on imports from Canada, for instance. It is now being reported reliably in Washington that if such a tariff is raised, Canada will refuse to cooperate on the building of the St. Lawrence ship canal. And while that may be a minor matter to some sections, the great middle west has its heart set on that canal — and some of the leading advocates in Congress are men who ordinarily would be the staunchest of high tariff men.

There are half a dozen similar quirks to the situation. A good many congressional brows are apt to be sadly creased and furrowed before the subject is finally disposed of.

THE PLAINSMAN Says

That Girl on Broadway says good looks more often wash off than wear off.

* * *

Two eminent physicians recently explained to the American Philosophical society that death may be caused by loss of minute quantities of electricity from the human body. Two recent discoveries, they aver, bear out the belief and they expect to soon prove the theory beyond shadow of a doubt.

* * *

Should these two or other doctors, in further study, discover the exact cause of death, science, you may be certain, will soon thereafter take steps to partially if not entirely, eliminate the great tragedy which sooner or later overtakes us all. The feat seems impossible—yet who can tell what time and study will accomplish?

* * *

It takes imagination and lots of it to forecast man's victory over the great, unknown quantity which call death. But somehow, it's not hard for The Plainsman to summon up that amount of imagination. The findings of the two physicians in question, while not conclusive, must be pretty far along or else the learned group which first heard them explained would not have wasted time upon bare supposition.

* * *

When we stop to think that death and a very few agencies of illness are the only problems yet unsolved by scientific man the ultimate goal of eliminating death does not appear so far in the future. The land, the sea and the air have fallen before man's onslaughts. Secrets of ancient civilizations have been unfolded before our very eyes. Great strides have been made in the elimination of disease, in engineering, in architecture—in fact in every field of human endeavor. And while most of us who are here today may never live to see it, it does not seem to be too optimistic to believe that some day even man's arch-enemy, Death, may be conquered.

* * *

That Man on Avenue Q says if exercise removes fat he can't understand why some women he knows are victims of double chins.

* * *

A forecast of the activities of the special session of the Texas legislature includes the possibility of Texas' abolishing the death penalty. Just why the death penalty should be abolished is still somewhat of a mystery, at least as the Plainsman sees it.

* * *

There is no news in the statement that human life in America today is held in less regard than it ever has been. Everyone knows that our homicide rate is greater than that of the European countries which we delight to look down upon from the standpoint of morals. Just why the removing of the most severe punishment is calculated to help the situation is a baffling question, indeed.

* * *

Over in England when a man commits a murder there is no fooling around about it. He's tried right now, and if he's found guilty he pays the penalty—and there's no fooling around about that, either. And it might not be out of place to note right here that England isn't bothered with epidemics of murders like we are. Their murder total over there isn't a drop in our blood bucket.

* * *

The Plainsman is of the opinion that a few well chosen electrocutions in Texas, as well as in other states, will do more in less time to halt this "shot first, investigate later" campaign, which has well nigh taken the nation. What we need is more law enforcement and less silly gush. A man will think a long time before he kills someone else if he knows he'll lose his own life in the shuffle. That's human nature and human nature is, after all, the thing that we're dealing with in this matter of safeguarding society.

THE FLAPPER'S POEM

We laugh at absen minded men.
And here's one who was funny
He kissed his wife and then he said,
"Please take this letter, honey!"

* * *

Two or three times in the last few weeks youngsters on bicycles have been the victim of mishaps in which their wheels collided with automobiles. It's always too bad when a youngster is injured and in all respects to the drivers of motor cars, it must be truthfully noted that it is not always the motorists' fault when his machine hits a boy on a bicycle.

* * *

Upon several occasions The Plainsman has noticed that boys on wheels have a tendency to dart in front of a car and expect the driver to care for the situation. It's not always that a driver, no matter how good or how careful he is, can avoid an accident and for that reason the youngsters must be made to learn that they must look out for themselves as much as possible.

* * *

Parents of boys— and girls, too, for that matter—who ride bicycles, should caution them to be careful. Darting into streams of traffic from obscured drives or crisscrossing a busy thoroughfare can hardly be conducive to life and health. An explanatory lecture on the part of Lubbock parents might save a nasty bump or even a life.

Extent Of Power Trust's Propaganda Scheme In Public Education Field Is Fully Revealed, Dutcher Reports

By RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, April 24.—Leaders of American education will soon have before them a summary showing the extent to which university professors have been subsidized by the propaganda agencies of public utilities interests and the extent to which these professors have prostituted themselves in disseminating misleading information.

Requests from the American Political Science association and from members of the American association of University Professors have caused the publication of this resume by the National Popular Governmetn league. It is a lengthy pamphlet entitled "The Challenge of the Power Investigators to American Educators" and is being sent to all members of the American Political Science association and several other organization of educators as well as to all prominent college presidents.

The volume is based upon exhibits and testimony before the Federal Trade Commission during its continuing investigation and upon previous activities of certain educators in furtherance of "power trust" propaganda. Judson King director of the National Popular Government League, has named the professors whom he considers the worts offenders and has presented the evidence connecting them with an alleged vast plot to educate Americans to a belief in the virtues of private public utility ownership. The pamphlet is elaborated from a speech which King made at the political science body's last convention, in Chicago.

"A Deliberate Plot"

"Here is the proof," King says, "that this is not a sporadic thing or a temporary phase, but a deliberate plot by the National Electric Light Association to control education in universities and public schools in every respect that would suit their purpose. Their primary aim has been to control economic and political thinking through manipulations of educational courses in law, economics, political science, sociology and other subjects."

Pointing for proof to exhibits of official records of the N. E. L. O. and other material unearthed by the Federal Trade Commission, King tells the professors that the major methods employed to "make higher education an adjunct to the private utility business" are these.

"1. To subsidize certain schools heavily with an understanding of the character of the work to be done.

"2. To introduce special courses of study on matters affecting utilities.

"3. To put their approval upon the curricula and subject matter taught.

"4. To give outside employment to the professors and instructors for which they are well paid, thus securing their allegiance to the private interests' viewpoint.

"5. To insure the proper education of professors in the utility viewpoint through the medium of conventions and conferences such as conducted by Dean Ruggles.

"6 To make secret arrangements with publishers of educational textbooks not to publish textbooks objectionable to the utility interests.

"7. To seek out authors, engaged in writing textbooks, offer to help them with 'private information' and revisions of subject matter and then engage to help them secure a publisher and market their books.

War on Unfriendly Textbooks

"8. To make a national survey and keep a constant eye on all textbooks on all subjects affecting the utilities and through local chambers of commerce or friendly members on boards of education to have such texts as they do not approve thrown out of the public schools.

"9. To institute a constant espionage on all textbooks, lectures, pamphlets and expressions by university profesors and instructors.

"10. In the field of secondary education, to secure wherever possible through state superintendents of public instruction and high school teachers the introduction of their pamphlets for use of high school and even grade school pupils."

The pamphlet then goes on to expose various specific instances of just how such a program has been worked out with the aid of individual educators.

The official announcement pointed out there had been an "amazing increase in dry strength in the state" in the recent referendum. The figures show, it stated, that 350,337 wet and 196,402 dry votes were cast—a gain of 20,000 dry votes over the referendum of 1926.

In New York

By Swan

NEW YORK, April 24.—The Harlem breakfast dances are the newest magnets for those tireless thrill-seekers who turn time upside down and make hey-dey while the moon shines.

Long after the last saxophone has done its duty by jazz and just as the city's rim is tinting with dawn, the breakfast dance gets going in scores of little cellar places of the black belt. It is the last gesture by which the restless roisterers can turn nighttime into daytime. Here they actually succeed. For when the "hot and sweet" music has ceased; when the pone bread, ham and eggs and coffee have been downed, the sun is slipping up and the milkman is winding up his morning's work.

The customers are drawn from those stragglers who seem always ready to go any place but home. And from night club entertainers and actors whose work has ended in the neighborhood of 3 and 4 o'clock in the morning.

The breakfast dance gets under way somewhere between 4 and 5 o'clock and winds up around 7:30 and 8 o'clock. They are typical of a certain Manhattan taste for an endless syncopated round.

And what surprises you is the vivacity and pep of the revellers at this hour of the morning. To be sure, there is a great deal of artificial stimulation from the hip flasks, and some of the browsers come dizzly in, but scores manage somehow to look fresh — though heavens knows how they do it.

* * *

A regular industry has grown up around that section of the population which hates to go to bed.

One store in the Broadway region has worked up an active trade when all good little stores have tucked up for the night. It deals largely in collars, shirts, shoes and such things as the rounders might want in a hurry.

Practically all the large Broadway movie theaters now hav performances which begin at midnight.

A number of beauty parlors spring into activity just before the night club hours. They draw their patrons largely from the show business. Chorines about to step out with a big butter-and-egger have a final tuck taken in their cheeks and an extra wave given their blondined hair. The midnight barber shops also get a big draw from the old boys who are getting prettied up for their night going. A number of these places make no effort to secure daytime trade.

The Turkish baths begin to get their play along towards morning and, in order to wheedle the boys with grouchy hangovers, many have orchestras and special entertainers. One place advertises an entire vaudeville show.

Some of the flower stalls are able to survive the law dawn trade by charging exorbitant prices for service given to gents who "want to give the girl a little something" or who lean on a bouquet to fix up a night club quarrel. A number have found that a rich early morning profit can be gained from the papas who want to "square it with the wife" by bringing home a few American beauties.

The ham-and-egg and hash trade of several Child's restaurants gets heaviest in the vicinity of 3 o'clock and thereafter. Tips are likely to be fattest then, I am told and many waiters seek jobs in the dawn hours.

Handy to the roistering grounds are soda fountains which specialize in those various headache preparations.

An entire directory of this nighttime industry could be listed, all thriving from the business of serving the straying playboys and playgirls.

ORDER IS GRANTED

DURANT, Okla., April 24 (AP)—An order removing to Federal court the state's suit for an injunction restraining the Red River Bridge company from collecting tolls on its bridge, near here on U. S. Highway No. 75, was granted in State District court here by Judge Porter Newman.

DISTINCTION BETWEEN CALORIE AND VITAMIN GIVEN BY DR. PETERS

Calories and Vitamins

In an editorial headed "Are Calories to Suffer Fate of All Has-Beens?" written in a California newspaper last year, the writer, commenting on the discovery of new vitamins, says:

"... But in our enthusiasm over the vitamins, let us not forget the unfortunate calories. Not so long ago they were the whole cheese. Came the vitamin, and the calorie was out of a job. More vitamins. The unemployment rate among calories has grown to be something frightful. Nobody ever gives them a thought. Their old friends might agitate for an employment dole, or at least establish a home for indigent calories. They were faithful servitors as long as they had a job, and they helped expand many a waistband. They deserve something better than utter neglect."

Yest, indeed, the calories deserve something better than utter neglect, and I'm surprised that an editorial writer should neglect them so much that he doesn't even know the meaning of the word. The calorie is simply a scientific unit used to measure the energy and heat producing value of foods, and it has no connection whatever with the vitamins, which are inherent principles of the food, and can not be measured by calories, for there is no relationship between them. In the first place, the vitamins haven't been isolated, and in the second place, it is not their function to produce energy or heat, except in a roundabout way, in promoting general well being.

No, indeed, the calorie is not, nor will it ever be, a has-been, unless some other unit to measure the energy and heating value of foods is found which serves the purpose better. This editorial writer is also mistaken in thinking that everybody is forgetting about the calories. The overweighters, the underweighters, and he diabetics, and others who have to know something of the energy and heating values of their foods are using the knowledge of calories every day. And getting results, too. It is only in unscientific food literature that you read such an articles as the one quoted.

Vive le Calorique!

"My hands have always perspired very much. The perspiration just rolls off my hands like water, and I can't touch anything without marking it. Have often had opportunities for different positions, but could accept on account of this handicap. "MRS. H."

In the same mail with Mrs. H.'s letter is one from Mrs. A., who is a dressmaker, and who is afflicted similarly, and so severely that she can not work on silks or light materials without spotting.

Just why there should be this excessive perspiration on the hands or other places where the sweat pores are not usually so active, is not known. There is probably some connection with the nervous system or else some disturbance of the internal secretions of the ductless glands; although apparently normal people do suffer from this trouble.

If the ordinary astringents are not helpful and the condition hampers you in your work, you might see a skin specialist and perhaps he will recommend the use of the X-Ray. That seems to be the quietus on the over-activity of the sweat glands.

Some good astringent solutions are: One ounce of liquid formalin to the quart of water, or a 25 per cent solution of aluminum chloride. Wash and dry hands before applying a little of either solution. Do this every day for a week or so, then twice a week and thereafter as often as seems to be necessary.

Editor's Note: Dr. Peters can not diagnose, nor give person advice. Your questions, if of general interest, will be answered in the column in turn. Requests for articles must be accompanied by a fully self-addressed, stamped envelope and 2 cents in coin for each article, to cover cost of printing and handling. For the pamphlet on reducing and gaining, 10 cents in coin, with full self-addressed, stamped envelope must be enclosed. Address Dr. Peters, in care of this paper.

Who's Who and Timely Views

PRESIDENT GIVEN FIVE YEARS TO ADMIT FAILURE OF DRY LA

By Fiorello H. LaGuardia, Congressman from New York

(Fiorello H. LaGuardia was born in New York City, Dec. 11, 18[illegible]. He was graduated in law from New York university. From 1901 to 1904 he was with the American consulate in Austria. An interpreter at Ellis Island, for three years, he began practicing law in New York City in 1910, where he was elected deputy attorney general for [illegible] years. He was elected to congress in 1915 and has served continuously since, except for a period of two years. In 1919 he was elected president of the board of aldermen, New York City. He served as a commander in the U. S. air service in 1917, and was stationed on the Italian front.)

Within five years President Herbert Hoover will have to admit that the national prohibition laws is no longer a noble experiment and will be forced to admit that it is a disastrous failure.

FIORELLO LaGUARDIA

Within five years the American people will have become convinced that the Eighteenth amendment has failed, that it cannot be enforced, and they will thereupon remove it from the constitution in the same manner in which it was placed there.

There will be repetitions of the I'm Alone sinking. We may get by with it this time, but we may not be so fortunate next time. What would we have done if the coast guard of France or England or Japan had sunk one of our schooners as we sank the I'm Alone? No, we wouldn't have stood for it. Are the people of this country ready to go to war for prohibition?

I repeat that there are going to be serious consequences. As long as I'm a member of congress I'll never vote a penny of appropriations for a war to be waged in defense of prohibition. It isn't worth it.

The Jones law, providing maximum penalties of five years imprisonment and a $10,000 fine for prohibition law offenders, is the sloppiest, most unloyal, most imperfect law ever passed by any legislative body anywhere at any time.

It would take 100,000 men to enforce the prohibition law, and those 100,000 more would be required to watch the first 100,000. Sixty men would be required to watch each of the five big Canadian liquor basins across the international border from Detroit. That is 300 men, and they would have to work three shifts, because rum runners and bootleggers work all hours. That would require 900 men to watch these bases opposite Detroit. A total of 1,200 men would be required to keep Detroit dry.

Oh, from the lowly pool room on the water front to the nineteenth hole of the most exclusive golf club in this country, prohibition is a dismal failure.

If the young people of the country who have grown to maturity since the Eighteenth amendment was passed favored it, it would be worth retaining.

But these young people, between 21 and 30, who have grown to maturity since 1918, scoff at this law, disobey it, don't believe in it and are not afraid to tell the world they don't.

Why, resentment against the law is universal. The drys say that even the people of foreign birth want to drink in New York City. I resent that statement. There isn't any more drinking in New York, per capita, than there is in any city, town, village or hamlet in this country. I'll go with any dry leader to any city, town, village or hamlet in this land, and if I can't get him a drink in 20 minutes I'll become dry.

PASTOR RAPS CHURCH LAWS

OUSTED AT CAMERON, HE INDICTS HIS ENEMIES

(By Associated Press)

CAMERON, Texas, April 24—A scathing denunciation of church tenets which stifle scholarship is the answer of the Rev. H. G. Kenney to the officials who recently ousted him from the pastorate of the First Presbyterian church here.

Church leaders agreed that if there had been a chance for the Rev. Kenney's reinstatement, his statement precluded such a possibility. His indictment against the church leaders who expelled him from him was concluded with the words: "I can not believe that all doors are forever closed on me."

Explains His Stand

"It makes no difference how much good a man be doing," the minister's statement declared, "if he fails to uphold and defend the standards of the church there is no place for him in their midst. I have been put out because I would not permit my name to remain on a statement of faith which was neither constructive nor vital."

The church today is too interested in correct theology and not interested enough in vital religion, the pastor said.

"One meets today many 'great Methodists' and 'great Presbyterians,' but how few are the 'great Christians.'"

DATES FAR AHEAD

LEIPSIC (AP)—The Saxon government has issued a decree fixing dates for annual fairs in various cities up to the year 2000, A. D. For example, the annual markets in Plauen will take place on the first Wednesday in March each year from 1940 to 1970. The Zwenkau fairs are revived for the fourteenth Sunday after Trinity from 1943 to 2000.

PATCH QUILT OPERA

GOTHA, Germany (AP)—An opera assembled from fragments of Mozart by Ludwig Kusche of Munich was a success here. Some of the music was taken from "L'Ora del Carlo," some from the melodramatic themes of "Zaide" and the rest from various Mozart manuscripts.

DAILY MARKETS

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, April 24 (AP).—The stock market again headed upward at the opening today. Simms Petroleum, which was accumulated in huge volume yesterday, opened with a block of 16,000 shares at 32 1-2, a new high. General Motors crept up to 88 in a large turnover. General Electric, Hershey Chocolate and A. M. Byers mounted 1 or 2 points. Radio, however, was under pressure, sagging 1-2 of a point.

With the U. S. Steel Corporation operating at practical capacity, a record-breaking rate of automobile production, no signs of backwardness in any scarcely major industry, and credit conditions showing signs of relaxation, pools found plenty of ammunition in their campaign for higher prices.

Yellow Crosses 50

Yellow Truck & Coach opened with a block of 14,000 shares at 49 3-4, and quickly crossed 50 to a new high record. Continental Motors also was taken in large blocks at advancing prices, and General Motors crept steadily towards the year's high level.

Simms Petroleum quickly crossed 34 today to another new high record. U. S. Industrial Alcohol and Hershey Chocolate also moved into new high ground in the first hour of trading.

Foreign exchanges opened steady, with cables unchanged at $4.85 3-8.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, April 24 (AP)—Cotton opened steady at an advance of 7 to 11 points in response to higher cables. Near month liquidation was absorbed by covering of trade or speculative shorts. May sold up to 19.85 on the call, or 13 points net higher.

December advanced to 19.46, but met considerable selling and prices eased off several points from the best by the end of the first half hour.

Early irregularity was followed by renewed firmness with prices advancing on covering, while there may have been some buying for a rally promoted by the firmer technical position. July sold up to 19.36 and December to 19.58 or about 23 to 25 points net higher, and the market was within 3 or 4 points of the best at midday.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, April 24 (AP).—The cotton market opened 6 to 11 points higher in response to better cables than due and continued to improve owing to prospects of unsettled weather, July trading up to 19.18, Oct. 19.20 and Dec. 19.25, or 11 to 12 points above yesterday's close.

As the weekly weather and crop summary was considered bearish prices eased off 5 points but near the end of the first hour the market rallied again practically to the early highs on the official forecast for unsettled weather in the western belt and a storm warning for the gulf coast.

Following the reaction the cotton market soon rallied again on buying and covering on the promise of colder weather. July advanced to 19.-30; Oct. 19.33, and Dec. 19.40, or 24 to 26 points above yesterday's close. At noon the market was quieter and 5 to points down from the highs.

Grain Market

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, April 24 (AP)—Helped by Liverpool wheat quotations much higher than due and by talk of big export business overnight, all grain prices here scored sharp advances today. Purchasing of wheat was of a broad general character with offering light.

Opening 3-4 to 2 1-4 higher, Chicago wheat later showed additional gain. Corn started 5-8 to 1 3-4 up and subsequently rose higher. Provisions held about steady.

DRINK MOST WINE

BELGRADE (AP)—Jugo-Slavia consumes more wine per capita than most other countries, but still produces a surplus. Wine growers have therefore petitioned the government for lower export rail rates to permit them to seek markets abroad.

20,000,000 ORANGES

HAVANA (AP)—The Cuban Department of Agriculture announced that one small region in Camaguey province produced last year 20,000,000 oranges, all of which were consumed in Cuba. Citrus groves are comparatively few in the island.

FUNERAL IS HELD

EDINBURG, April 24 (AP)—Funeral services were held here yesterday for Charles G. Brock, 11, and John E. Brock, 8, brothers, who were drowned in a deep irrigation canal near here Sunday. When found by a searching party, the boys were clasped in each others arms. Officers said they believed the older boy died in an attempt to save his brother.

A hen in Ireland laid seven eggs near a rabbit burrow. The eggs disappeared and some time later a newly hatched chicken popped out. It is supposed the heat from the animal's incubated the eggs.

BY HAL COCHRAN

The North Star eyed the Tiny bunch and loudly said, "I have a hunch that you have never seen the funny milky way before. It's fun to spread it, me, oh my, and make it streak across the sky. When it is all spread out it looks just like a milky floor."

"It surely is," one Tiny said. And each one shook his little head. They still were rather dazed to see such queer things in the sky. Imagine stars, both large and small, all whizzing round, unless they'd fall. It was a most unusual sight, as they trailed through the sky.

The North Star then broke in again. "We only have this now and then. The milky way can not be seen on every night, you know. But, when I toss my pail out far, I start them off, and there you are. I am the one, and only one, with power to make them go."

The Tinies thanked the star once more. Then Clowny said, "What more's in store. We'd like to see all that we can while we are with the moon." This made the moon man broadly smile, and he replied, "Just wait a while. I think I have another treat. 'Twill be here pretty soon."

This made one of the Tinies shout, "Oh, t-" — what it's all about. We can't stay very long 'cause we have other things to do. Our bird may tire out flying 'round, so very soon he must be found. You see, we're always very kind to good old Goofy-goo."

Just then they heard a swishing sound. Of course it made them look around. "That's what I meant," the moon man cried. "You've read of this before." And all of them saw, very soon, a big cow jump right o'er the moon. This pleased them so they clapped their hands, and all began to roar.

CALIFORNIA JUDGE, ON TRIAL, DENIES HE PROMPTED JURY

(By Associated Press)

SACRAMENTO, Calif., April 24—Having flatly contradicted testimony of prosecution witnesses in his impeachment trial, Judge Carlos S Hardy prepared today to undergo cross examination.

For four hours yesterday the jurist denied the principal charges against him. The prosecution alleges he acted as atorney for Mrs Aimee Semple McPherson and that he obstructed justice by becoming unduly active in her behalf during the investigation of her kidnaping story.

Admits Conferences

Judge Hardy admitted having conferred with Mrs. McPherson's attorneys on the employment of detectives and also that he had received reports from investigators sent to Carmel, Calif., in an attempt to support the evangelist's contention that she was not the woman who was with Kenneth G. Ormiston, former Angelus Temple radio operator, during the time Mrs. McPherson was missing.

The [illegible] denied, however, he had influenced the investigation of Mrs. McPherson's story or that he had counseled the evangelist's atorneys. He also denied he had warned Los Angeles grand jurors to "lay off the Aimee case."

Tech Aggies Will Pelt Profs At Annual Fair

If the old adage "Revenge is Sweet" holds true, students of the Tech college School of Agriculture will realize an ambition long adhered to, May 3 at their first annual fair.

One of the features of the fair will be a doll rack with the dolls bearing the names of professors. Students will be offered the opportunity of pelting the substitute profs, much to their own delight and much to the delight of the barker of the doll rack.

Discussion of the campus is now centered on which doll will receive the worst pelting.

Heralded by a down-town parade, the fair also will include agricultural exhibits, implement displays, polo game, bronc riding, rodeo contests, and a vaudeville show.

Says South Farmers May Turn to Dairies

WASHINGTON, April 24 (AP).—Declaring the new farm relief bill would give the federal farm board power to either make or break the farming industry in this country, Representative Patman, democrat, Texas, today said the results of the measure would depend on "whether the members of the board are angels are devils."

The Texan said in a statement that southern cotton farmers must be assisted in disposing of their surplus, and if assistance is not given after passage ofa farm relief bill, the southern farms plan to turn to the dairy industry. He added that already southern farmers were planning "to enjoy some of the prosperity the dairy industry in the north and northwestern states is now enjoying, unless a better condition was brought about.

Jones Law Termed As 'Inconsistent'

MILWAUKEE, April 24 (AP)—Levi H. Bancroft, United States district attorney, today announced that the new Jones law, putting teeth in prohibition enforcement, will apply to all liquor cases in this district, thereby ignoring the recent order of Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant attorney general in charge of prohibition enforcement.

Mrs. Willebrandt had asked that only strong cases involving commercialism be prosecuted under the new law, relegating minor cases to the provisions of the Volstead act in order to give the new law "a fair trial."

Lubbock Boy Has Suffered 7 Years Stomach Trouble

"My Son Kept Going Down Hill Until He Took Orgatone Now Able To Do Anything." Says Mrs. Cone.

"I never saw anyone pick up so fast as my son has since he started taking Orgatone," said Mrs. Rosa B. Cone, of 707 Ave O, Lubbock, Texas, while talking with the Orgatone representative recently. M. A. Cone, Mrs. Cone's son, is a very well known young carpenter, of this city.

He suffered awfully from indigestion and a general run-down condition of his system for the past several years," she continued. "He just kept going down hill all the time. Nearly everything he ate would sour on his stomach and cause gas to form which made him uncomfortable for hours after each meal. He would have those bloating spells, so bad, until he couldn't rest well at night. He had a bad case of constipation. He had rheumatism in his legs so bad, at times, he could hardly get around to do his work. He was getting to be nervous and would roll and toss of a night and when morning came would get up feeling worse than when he went to bed.

"We read so much in the papers about the good Orgatone was doing so many people and finally a friend of ours advised him to take it, so he started on it. Orgatone has done him a world of good, and he is looking much better. The indigestion don't trouble him anymore, and he can eat anything he wants. He seems to have more strength and energy and goes about his work feeling fine and doesn't complain about feeling bad as he did. Orgatone has certainly helped my son, so I am more than glad to give this statement. We are both grateful to it."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy but a new scientific bile treatment containing no alcohol or other false stimulating drugs and is sold in Lubbock exclusively by the Bowen's Drug Store under the personal direction of a special Orgatone representative, also at Plainview by the South Plains Drug Store. Out of town customers are being supplied by mail upon receipt of price $1.25 for one bottle or $6.25 for six bottles.—Adv.

UNDISGUISED TENSENESS IS FELT IN MEXICO CITY AS OFFICIALS WAIT TO HEAR FROM CALLES ON SONORA FIGHT

(By Associated Press)

MEXICO CITY, April 24—Undisguised tenseness prevailed today at Presidential headquarters as word was awaited from General Calles in southern Sonora where a bitter fight with rebels was believed to have been under way for 48 hours.

Considerable mystery surrounded the situation at Masiaca and San Antonio, Sonora, where the rebel army of 6,000 to 7,000 men was last reported entrenched, but whether this mystery was of Chapultepec's making—with an eye to awaiting more favorable reports—or actual lack of information was not known.

Calles Is Silent

There were no recent messages from General Calles, believed to have advanced northward out of San Blas with his troops. The last word received from him told of movement of three federal columns against the rebel earthworks, with a force of 2,000 federal cavalry under General Talamentes considerably in advance of the main army.

Thes last dispatches told of an attempted rebel flanking movement under General Rabatte, who had left Masiaca in the direction of Cholx, northeastern Sinaloa, in a seeming effort to get to the rear of the federal armies. General Calles said a force had been sent to engage the rebels and thwart their plan.

REBELS SURRENDER

EL PASO, April 24 (AP)—El Continental, Spanish language newspaper here, today said the rebel Generals Nicols Fernandez and Rosalio Hernandez with 400 men surrendered last night to General Eulogio Ortiz, commander of the fifth federal military area, at Santa Rosalia, Chihuahua, Mexico.

AMERICANS PERMITTED TO REENTER U. S.

NOGALES, Ariz., April 24 (AP).—Scores of Americans, caught on the Mexican side of the border when revolutionary officials closed the International line abruptly about midnight, were permitted to return to American soil at 3 a. m., today.

The Americans were in the cafes and other amusement places of the Mexican town when the International gate was closed. Mexican authorities at first refused to permit passage of anyone into Sonora from American soil but later allowed a young woman relative of General J. Gonzalo Escobar, revolutionary commander-in-chief, to re-enter Mexican territory.

Close At Midnight.

Shortly afterward General Francisco Borquez, commander of the garrison, announced the border hereafter would be closed from midnight to 9 a. m.

Reports that rebel troops had met and repulsed federal soldiers at Masiaca, Southern Sonora, were received at revolutionary headquarters in Agua Prieta, Sonora, last night from General Fausto Topete, Insurrection leader Topete reported the federad advance guard had fled "after 700 of its number had been killed or captured."

Entanglements Are Set.

Agua Frieta continued preparations for a possible federal attack. Thousands of feet of barbed wire entanglements have been erected outside the trenches which encircle the town.

Developments also indicated Nogales, Sonora, headquarters was expecting to see more action. A federal airpalne, apparently from Mexicali, Baja California, flew over the town and dropped several bombs yesterday. No damage was reported.

General Escobar conferred here with Brigadier General Frank S. Cocheu, commander of United States forces along the border. The subject of their conference was not disclosed. It was learned, however, that General Cocheu had established temporary headquarters here and a battery of American field artillery had been brought to Nogales from Don Luis, Ariz.

Three Mexicans charged with being federal spies were executed by firing squads yesterday. Two whose names were not disclosed were shot in Nogales, Sonora, while a third, Juso Avisla, a taxi-cab driver, was executed at Hermosillo, capital of the state.

A German gardener dug up gold coin minted in 1444. Only one specimen of this coin was known before and it was valued highly. He received for his the equivalent of a year's wage.
