Mad Trapper Of Arctic Riddled With Bullets As Redcoats End Long Search

MOUNTIES GET THEIR MAN IN WEIRD BATTLE

MANHUNT ENDED

'Bush Crazy' Fugitive Was Near Exhaustion When Overtaken

AKLAVIK, Northwest Territory, Feb. 17. (UP)—Royal Canadian mounted police finally got their man late today when they killed Albert Johnson, insane trapper, in a weird battle far up in the arctic circle.

Before he dropped to the frozen tundra, however, Johnson shot and seriously wounded Staff Sergeant Hearsey of the royal signal corps. Johnson previously had killed one of the "mounties" and wounded another in their repeated attempts to capture him.

Capt. W. R. (Wop) May flew the sergeant in to Aklavik where he was placed in a hospital. Hearsey's condition was critical.

Made Desperate Stand

The dozen police battled through snow drifts to the Eagle river in the Yukon before they finally caught up with the crazed Johnson. Although he was near collapse from exhaustion, he turned for one last stand against the officers.

They tried to capture him alive but instead of surrendering he pointed his wavering pistol at them and pulled the trigger. When the bullet crashed into the body of the sergeant, the other officers opened fire upon him.

Fell in Snow

He fell into the snow, dead, ending one of the wildest manhunts in the history of the far north. His pursuers picked up his body and started to carry it through the purple twilight of the arctic day toward their base near the desolate spot where the Rat river flows into the Arctic ocean.

The posse was following Johnson's trail and met him heading back, said later radio advices after the excitement of the chase had ended.

Opened Fire

Johnson started to run off the trail as soon as he sighted the dog team of Hearsey. The madman hid behind a mound. Hearsey and

Charge Heard That Gangster Protected

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—Charges that federal narcotic agents had protected the gangster, Jack Diamond, from questioning by the New York City police were laid before the house rules committee by Representative Black, Democrat, New York, in asking for a congressional investigation of narcotic law enforcement.

Black said that when a warrant was issued for the gangster, who has since been killed, Diamond "surrendered to the federal narcotic people, became federal property and received federal protection from questioning."

He charged that certain unnamed customs officials had been found by narcotic agents tapping telephone wires to be in contact with wholesale dealers in smuggled narcotics, and said when some agents attempted to enforce the law they were ousted by the narcotic bureau.

S. M. U. Students Sign Document Against War

DALLAS, Feb. 17. (AP)—President Charles C. Selecman of Southern Methodist university said today no action would be taken on a petition circulated among students opposing war as an instrument of international policy and pledging the signers to refuse military service.

The petition was addressed to congress and Mr. Hoover. Thirty students signed it yesterday. James Noel Jr., president of the Students' association, and Jack Hogan, editor of the campus newspaper, today withdrew their signatures. Noel said he had signed without a careful inspection of the document.

Reformers, Pacifists And Politicians Given 'Scorching' By Butler

Marine General's Talk Bristles With Wisecracks, Patriotism And Profanity; Nation Advised to Keep Guns Handy While Signing Peace Treaties

Japan's attack upon Shanghai is a pretentious gesture of deception, a stroke of finesse designed to center attention of world powers upon the limited area of battle while great hosts of Japanese definitely colonize Manchuria, 1,600 persons were told at the Memorial auditorium Wednesday night by Maj. Gen. Smedley D. Butler, U. S. M. C., retired, whose address fully justified his introduction by Judge A. H. Carrigan as a "rugged piece o' fightin' furniture."

SMEDLEY D. BUTLER

While the fiery-tongued marine leader kept his audience waiting almost an hour before his address finally moved to the Chinese area, he charged every word in his closing paragraphs with vivid and forceful exposition of the Far East situation.

Jap Sincerity

"The Japanese are going to take that part of China which they need," the speaker declared, "and that is the section containing manganese and other mineral deposits which Japan does not have elsewhere. Those commodities are indispensable to Japan's military program. Japan feels that if it does not expand, it can not survive. This is not hearsay; Japan's own generals have told me that in recent years with their own tongues. She intends to dominate at least half the world, and will do so unless somebody whips her."

The attack upon Shanghai is a predetermined screen behind which the Japanese plan by colonization to annex Manchuria permanently as a part of the Nipponese empire, General Butler declared.

"You can read the degree of Japan's sincerity in speaking a desire for peace in one recent incident," he continued. "While dropping 1,500 heavy bombs upon the Chapei district with one hand, she was imploring the disarmament conference with the other to outlaw bombing."

Every part of General Butler's speech bristled with biting sarcasm. Speaking of the present disturbance at Shanghai, he said:

"This is a sideshow for the League of Nations to look at. Later the league will conduct an investigation, and will take six months to report to the world that the Japs have landed at Shanghai. By that time Manchuria will be part of Japan.

"Eventually, with much protesting and bitter chewing over morsels, Japan will withdraw from Shanghai. Now all of this is predicated on the proposition that Japan whips the Chinese. But before the Japs are through, if they do win at all, they are going to know they've had a fight. There are 100 million Chinese today who are warminded. They have had war among themselves for 21 years. They just now are getting awake to what is going on."

Russia also must be watched, and France, with reference to the condition in China, the general said. He declared that Russia has 165,000 war-minded and trained men, whose intentions "it would take a smart man to discover." He pointed out also that France has kept herself aloof from the other western nations in China, playing a single hand commercially and diplomatically.

Plea for National Defense

General Butler made an impassioned plea for stronger national defenses, coloring his discourse with ironic jabs at "innocuous diplomats in frock coats and on rubber heels," and at "sob-sisters" who

Flames Kill Two Babies

AUSTIN, Feb. 17. (AP)—Two children died here today as a result of a fire in a residence.

Ocie James, 2-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles James, perished in flames which swept their home.

Raymond James, 2 years old, died tonight of burns suffered before he was taken from the residence by a neighbor.

Mrs. James was removed to a hospital in an hysterical condition. She was not told immediately of the death of the second child.

The fire, of undetermined origin, had nearly destroyed the home before neighbors recovered the body of the elder brother. He was burned about the body.

FOOD HANDLERS FACE CHARGES

25 Summoned to Appear In City Court

Twenty-five food handlers of Wichita Falls face charges in corporation court Thursday morning due to failure to secure permits from the city health department. Each handler of food is required to secure the permit annually. In order to secure the permit the applicant must have a health certificate.

The ordinance governing the cases includes employes in all cafes, bakeries or other places where meats, fruit and vegetables are handled. A fine of from $25 to $200 may be imposed for failure to secure the permit, City Attorney Theibert Martin said Wednesday night.

No arrests were made but notices were issued the 25 defendants by Food Inspector R. C. Mann. Permits held by the defendants expired Dec. 31, 1931, and they have been operating more than 45 days without legal permission, Dr. R. B. Wolford, city health officer, said.

New Yorkers Protest Cardozo as Justice

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—The elevation of Judge Benjamin N. Cardozo to the United States supreme court was protested today by two of his fellow residents of the state of New York. They were invited to appear Friday before a senate judiciary subcommittee and express their objections in person.

The protests came from William H. Anderson, general secretary of the American Protestant Alliance and O. R. Miller, Albany, an official of the New York Civic league.

Undertaker Dies After Effort to Revive Friend

PATTERSON, Calif., Feb. 17. (US)—For two hours today, John H. Evans undertaker, worked frantically with a pulmotor trying to revive Frank Burckett, life long friend who collapsed in his home. He failed. Heart broken the undertaker went to get a strecher when he fell over—dead.

Rancher Found Dead And Uncle Beaten

HOT SPRINGS, N. M., Feb. 17. (AP)—County and city officers today held six persons for questioning in connection with the fatal shooting of William "Red" Durett, 20, rancher, and the severe beating of his 54-year-old uncle, William Watson, some time late Tuesday night.

Durett and Watson were found early this morning at the edge of the town. Durett was dead with a bullet wound through his abdomen. Watson was a few feet away, his head badly cut and bruised. A few feet further on from the two men, a rifle with a broken stock was found and it is believed to have been the weapon used to shoot Durett and then beat the older man.

Officers held three women, two men and a boy for investigation.

Posse Takes Suspects After Break From Jail

BROWNFIELD, Texas, Feb. 17. (AP)—A posse of Brownfield citizens this afternoon captured two young men, automobile and armed robbery suspects, who escaped from the Terry county jail early today.

The men, James White and R. W. Davidson, arrested in Ardmore, Okla., for Terry county officers, were captured in a pasture eight miles northwest of here after a farmer, at whose home the men appeared early this morning for breakfast, reported at Brownfield.

HOOVER PLAN IS CRITICIZED AS INDEFINITE

Democrat Party Leaders Not Entirely Satisfied With Economy Proposal

EXPENSE CUT URGED

Garner Says President's Message Contains No Direct Suggestion

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—President Hoover's proposals for reorganizing governmental activities were received with general approval in congress today, but did not go far enough to satisfy the Democratic leadership completely.

Pointing out his party was sponsoring a survey aimed at determining what bureaus and commissions could be eliminated without harm, Speaker Garner asserted the chief executive's special message contained no definite recommendation for abolishing any specific federal activity in the interest of economy.

Message Read

Senators and representatives alike regarded the message as one of much political significance. Attentive memberships in both branches heard the president's words intoned by reading clerks.

Mr. Hoover said the "need for reorganization is obvious" and that "in the present crisis the absolute necessity for the most drastic economy makes the problem . . . one of paramount importance."

He added:

"The amount of saving in public funds to be effected by a thoroughgoing reorganization while difficult to estimate accurately, will be material, amounting to many millions of dollars annually."

Cites Opposition

The chief executive said consolidation plans previously had met with opposition from government bureaus and outside agencies and had been considered many times "but without substantial results."

Indirectly Mr. Hoover opposed the Democratic house measure to consolidate the war and navy departments into a department of national defense. The president suggested the 10 executive departments and the major regulatory and financial boards and commissions be maintained.

The creation of several assistant secretaryships, the office of a public works administrator and a separate reclamation service were suggested.

Speaker Favors War Merger

"Under the Democratic leadership and through the house expenditures committee," Garner said, "we are gathering information on what agencies can be dispensed with to effect economy."

The speaker forecast the expenditures committee would approve the Democratic measure to consolidate the army and navy and save $50,000,000 a year without impairing the efficiency of the national defense organization.

The Democratic leaders yesterday sponsored a resolution to create a special house economy committee to investigate the feasibility of abolishing and reorganizing government to curtail expenses. It was introduced by Chairman Byrns of the house appropriations committee.

Garner said if the expenditures committee was unable to force a reduction in government activities the Democratic organization would push the resolution through as quickly as possible.

Senator Small Will Not Enter Governor's Race

AUSTIN, Feb. 17. (UP)—State Senator Clint Small of Wellington, here tonight, said that the entrance of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson into the governorship race will not result in his again becoming a candidate.

Small ran third in the race with Mrs. Ferguson and Governor Sterling two years ago.

Home Owners Flee as Flood Strikes Tia Juana

TIA JUANA, Mexico, Feb. 17. (US)—Five hundred persons abandoned their homes here today and fled to higher ground as rapidly rising waters of Tia Juana river swept away scores of small homes.

Attorney Urges Bill to Regulate 'Short-Selling'

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. (US)—"Bears" in Wall street are beating a hasty retreat because of congressional steps to "stop the forces of destruction," W. R. Perkins, New York attorney, told the house judiciary committee today. He was advocating legislation to regulate short-selling of securities.

Irish Leaders Returned To Dail in Election

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, Feb. 17. (AP)—The two principal leaders of Irish Free State politics were returned to the Dail Eireannan, tabulation tonight showed. President William T. Cosgrave was elected to a seat from the city of Cork and Eamon De Valera, leader of the Fianna Fail party, was returned from Clare.

Wet Teetotaler

Mrs. Ida M. Darden, above, Democrat, of Fort Worth, says she doesn't know the difference between a highball and a gin fizz, and wouldn't drink either if she did, but she's a candidate for congress on a platform with only one plank—repeal of the 18th amendment. "Citizens are tired of listening to prohibition hypocrites who defend the dry laws in one breath and use the next to brag about their home brew," she said.

TEXANS HONOR MURRAY TODAY

Alfalfa Bill Comes 'Home' For Celebration

COLLINSVILLE, Texas, Feb. 17. (UP)—Thousands of "just folks" will honor a home town boy Thursday and tell him his homely slogan of "bread, butter, bacon and beans" should place him in the White House in this year of depression.

William H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray, the red-gallused governor of Oklahoma, is to be honored at a homecoming celebration here where he was born.

While the colorful governor says he is coming only to "reminisce" with the old timers he knew in his boyhood days, the visit is expected to have much importance in the expected campaign he is to make for the Democratic presidential nomination.

A quilt made by the women of Collinsville has been designed to include the governor's slogan, "bread, butter, bacon and beans." It will be presented to the governor. The slogan is one he advocated for the coming presidential race.

Formal announcement of his candidacy is to be made Saturday, during the Oklahoma state Democratic convention, it is reported.

Theft Charge Against Paul Young Dismissed

HOUSTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—A fugitive complaint, charging Paul Young with theft of an automobile in Springfield, Mo., today was dismissed by Justice C. R. Overstreet. Young appeared in court to answer the complaint but Missouri officers did not. Young has been at liberty under $300 bond since a few days after his arrest.

Paul Young's arrest followed the double killing of his brothers, Harry and Jennings Young, who turned their guns on each other when trapped here by officers who sought to arrest them for the slaying of six Missouri officers. The Young brothers were killed Jan. 5.

Costa Rica Revolters Bombarded in Barracks

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, Feb. 17. (UP)—Government forces opened a bombardment with light artillery and rifles today on the Bella Vista barracks, which have been held for two days by revolutionaries.

Several persons were killed in the first outburst of firing. Later machine guns were turned on the barracks, which are opposite the United States legation.

New Postal Rate Made For South America

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—The postoffice department today discontinued the two-cent rate for letter mail to Central and South America and installed a new rate calling for three cents for one ounce letter mail.

The department now has no country on the list to which two cents will carry a first class letter.

The department figured the new rates would increase revenues approximately $2,000,000.

Benefit for Jobless Bag-Pipers Is Planned

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 17. (US)—With benefits being held throughout the land for this and that group of the jobless, an announcement today that one will be staged Saturday for unemployed Scotch bagpipers in Los Angeles should be included in the records of the times.

BEER AND ALE BILL ACCORDED BI-PARTY HELP

Members to Two Blocs In House Tentatively Agree On Plan

3.2 PER CENT 'KICK'

Pint Bottles Could Be Sold Only for Club And Home Use

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—Leaders of house Democratic and Republican anti-prohibition blocs agreed tentatively today on the form of a bill to legalize beer, porter, ale, stout and other fermented cereal beverages of 3.2 per cent alcohol by weight.

The measure—drafted by Representatives William E. Hull, Republican, Illinois, and O'Connor, Democrat, New York, also would establish a tax of four cents on each 16-ounce bottle of the liquor sold. O'Connor estimated this would bring $660,000,000 a year into the federal treasury.

Solons Agree

Representatives Linthicum of Maryland, and Beck of Pennsylvania, chairmen respectively of the Democratic and Republican blocs agreed in general on the measure.

The bill as now drafted would amend the Volstead act so as to permit beer of about 4½ per cent alcohol by volume. The law now prohibits more than one-half of one per cent.

The measure also would prohibit the sale of the new beverages in any form but 16-ounce, or pint, bottles.

Forbids Foreign Grain

In addition, the bill would forbid the importation of any grains for use in the manufacture of beverages. O'Connor estimated this would create a market for at least 150,000,000 bushels of domestic grain annually.

Under the measure the new beer could be sold by the bottle in hotel dining rooms, restaurants or clubs where annual dues are at least $15 when served "with a bona fide meal."

At the same time it could be sold in cases of 12 or 24 pint bottles for consumption in homes.

Dog Gets Business for Washwoman Mistress

WARSAW, Ind., Feb. 17. (AP)—As a laundry assistant Mrs. Bertha Clark's pet dog is a go-getter.

Only he goes too far.

The animal came home the other day with a bundle of clothes in his mouth.

Mrs. Clark, who sometimes takes in this kind of work, washed and ironed the articles and waited for the owner to call. Meanwhile a neighbor woman called police. She wanted to know what had happened to the bundle she left at her front door for the regular laundryman.

It was then that the dog's activities were discovered and everybody was happy, except perhaps the regular laundry man.

Smith's Friend Favors Roosevelt Candidacy

BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 17. (US)—Norman E. Mack, for many years an intimate friend of Alfred E. Smith and widely known as the Democratic national committeeman from New York state, today announced he favors the candidacy of Governor Roosevelt for the presidency. He said:

"I favor Governor Roosevelt's nomination, and believe that he is going to be nominated. Smith and I have been friends for years. We still are, and I have great admiration for him. But this time, Roosevelt is the man."

Transatlantic Flier Jailed With Broken Leg

NEW YORK, Feb. 17 (AP)—Charles A. Levine, whose checkered career has cast him in swiftly changing roles since his spectacular fight to Europe with Clarence Chamberlain four years ago, bobbed out of mysterious silence into the news again today, with a broken leg, an alias, and arrest for grand larceny.

He was discovered after an anonymous telephone call to the district attorney's office tipped officials they would be "interested" to learn the real identity of a man registered at the Harbor sanitarium under the name of "Charles Jaffee."

AUSTIN, Feb. 17.—Tom F. Hunter, Wichita Falls candidate for governor predicted here today Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, his opponent, will fall short this year of the votes she received in her past two unsuccessful races. Hunter was here for his first hand-shaking tour of the capitol since he announced, but was halted by an attack of incipient flu.

at the head of their state government. Her candidacy is subject to the Democratic primaries of next July.

Mrs. Ferguson, wife of James E. Ferguson, also a former governor, was elected chief executive in 1924, but served only one term. Dan Moody, attorney general in her administration, defeated her for reelection. She ran against Gov. R. S. Sterling, incumbent, in 1930 and went into a run-off primary with him, but was defeated.

Mrs. Ferguson said that "in answer to those who may think that a woman should not hold high station, permit me to call attention to my administration of only one term in comparison with the last four administrations of men."

During her tenure her pardon policy and administration of highway construction work were subjects of bitter criticism in some

French Leaders Busy Choosing Premier

PARIS, Feb. 17. (AP)—Political leaders filed in and out of the Elysee palace today assisting President Doumer in the choice of a successor to Pierre Laval who resigned as premier yesterday after a defeat in the senate.

Domestic political wrangles make the task difficult, but it is made even more complicated by necessity for acting quickly in view of the disarmament negotiations at Geneva.

Joseph Paul-Boncour, a member of the senate and head of the delegation at Geneva since Andre Tardieu left there, is rumor's favorite candidate for premier. He is a Socialist and has filled several cabinet posts.

TALK OF PEACE HUSHES NOISE OF BIG BATTLE

Foreign Warships Stand By To Protect Citizens If Fight Opens

TWO BRITONS KILLED

Fight Dies Down as Two Belligerents Prepare To Treat Today

TOKYO, Japan, Feb. 18 (Thursday) (AP)—The Rengo News agency reported from Shanghai today that Lieut. Gen. Kinkichi Uyeda, Japanese commander, had delivered an ultimatum to the Chinese authorities at 9 a. m. today demanding their withdrawal from the Shanghai front.

SHANGHAI, China, (Thursday) Feb. 18. (UP)—The heart of the international settlement business district was rocked today by the bombing of the offices of the Mitsui company, a Japanese concern, at the corner of Foochow and Szechuen roads.

The bombing occurred during a complete lull in fighting on the Shanghai-Woosung front, preparatory to peace negotiations between Japanese and Chinese.

SHIPS STAND BY TO PROTECT NATIONALS

By KARL H. VON WIEGAND
(Copyr't., 1932, by Universal Service, Inc.)

SHANGHAI, Feb. 18. (Thursday)—Foreign warships stood by in the dark and muddy Whangpoo river this morning, ready to remove their nationals from danger if last-minute peace overtures fail and Japan begins her major offensive to blast the Chinese army back to the provinces and defeat.

The lights of American, British, French and Italian warcraft down the river blinked coded messages to army, navy and marine signal posts in Shanghai as the 21st day of hostilities here bagan with Japan holding a sword in the form of an ultimatum in one hand and extending the olive branch of peace in the other.

Zero Hour Nears

The next 24 hours should spell either an armed peace or a bitter war, likely to involve the world. But this is the orient, and the inscrutable oriental mind cannot be fathomed when pride, face, honor, future and national prestige are at stake.

Instead of the expected Japanese "big push" which had Shanghai trembling to the thunder of guns from sunset Tuesday until dawn Wednesday, yesterday was extraordinary for its peace talk. The slaying of two British sailors, H. G. Prior and E. T. Francis, by shells exploding on British property may have forced both sides to realize that the present situation may lead to grave international action.

Japanese Minister Mamoru Shigemitsu took the initiative and through intermediaries arranged for a meeting today between Gen. Kenkichi Uyeda and his staff and Gen. Tsai Ting-Kai, commander of the Chinese 19th route army, to discuss the possibilities of a truce.

Withdrawal Asked

The Japanese declare Shigemitsu's peace terms will ask that the Chinese troops withdraw only a "reasonable distance," with the Japanese quartering all forces in the Hongkew area while details of a peaceful agreement, if there is to be such, are reached.

As the minister said that dispatches from Tokyo reflected accurately the instructions he had received from his government to deliver an ultimatum to the Chinese, it is assumed that Shigemitsu is making the peace offer as a bold, personal, eleventh-hour move in agreement with General Uyeda and Admiral Kichisaburo Nomura to induce the Chinese to withdraw before the ultimatum is handed over.

The ultimatum itself demands that the Chinese, within 24 hours of its delivery, retreat 20 kilometers (about 12½ miles) from their present positions or else face the death-dealing, siege-gun projectiles, aerial bombs, naval shells and hand-to-hand, bared-bayonet combat that Japan's powerful forces here are ready to launch.

Chinese Defiant

Three million Chinese today presented a petition to the Chinese authorities to refuse the Japanese peace terms, "a humiliation to China." The petition urged more troops be sent into the lines to resist Japanese "invasion."

Labor Bureau To Open Monday; Awker Takes Oath Of Office

An emergency federal employment office is scheduled to be opened in Wichita Falls Monday, Feb. 22, Manager Harry Awker announced Wednesday night. Mr. Awker received authority to proceed with the work of handling the office Wednesday morning and later in the day took the oath of office. Authority was received from C. W. Woodman, state director of the federal bureau.

Officials of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce and Mr. Awker expect to select a location for the office Thursday and will move furniture in at once. Mrs. Mildred Catter has been selected as secretary of the bureau.

The chamber of commerce is making arrangements to provide office space and furniture through an agreement with Secretary of Labor William N. Doak. Local authorities hope to develop the local office into a permanent bureau. The aims of the office will be to create work for the unemployed, to cooperate with local emergency relief agencies and to conduct a survey to determine possibilities of relief.

Temperature Drops To Freezing After Rains; Saint Jo Highway Open

Temperatures dropped in North Texas and Southern Oklahoma Wednesday as slow rain continued to fall. Three days of rain in the past four have made dirt roads in the section almost impassable.

Streams were swollen by the slow but steady downpour, but Wednesday had started to subside.

Temperatures were freezing in the territory early Wednesday morning, after the mercury started falling Tuesday night. The minimum temperature in Wichita Falls registered barely 32 degrees, but climbed to 37 by nightfall. To points westward of here thermometers registered below 30.

To the north, in Oklahoma, temperatures were but slightly colder than in Wichita Falls. Snow or rain was not reported in this direction Wednesday night.

The few roads in the Wichita Falls territory which are not all-weather routes were reported Wednesday to be barely passable. But lines were operating over the roads with difficulty.

MOUNTED GET MAD TRAPPER

Noel Verville, a trapper, took rifles from their toboggans, ran across a frozen creek and opened fire. When Hearsey knelt to shoot, Johnson's bullet hit him in the knee, traveled along the thigh and lodged in his chest.

The entire party arrived, meantime, surrounded Johnson and literally cut him to pieces with bullets. Captain May was flying overhead when Hearsey was shot, but the posse was so close that he dared not drop bombs. He landed as soon as he saw that Johnson was killed, placed Hearsey in his plane and raced 160 miles here.

Mountie Seriously Hurt

Hearsey's condition was so serious that May was prepared to fly him to better hospital facilities in Edmonton should physicians order the trip.

As Johnson fell dying on the ice and snow covered tundra, one of the epics of the frozen northland was concluded.

For six weeks, never relenting, the red jacketed mounties had been close at his heels and twice had caught up with him only to be repelled from his thrown-up barricades.

Followed by Sled

An airplane, with the war ace, "Wop" May, as pilot was sent to Aklavik with machine guns, bombs, and a large supply of ammunition.

As Johnson was driven from his shack on the Rat river, the plane followed him overhead and other mounties followed by means of dog sleds over the frozen wastes.

Twice besieged, with his chances apparently hopeless, the straight-shooting and hard-walking outlaw, eluded his pursuers and took up his flight, hoping to reach Alaska, United States territory, before the posse caught him.

Escaped Volley of Shots

It was when he was standing off the troopers at one of his barricades on the Rat river, that he was thought killed as the officers poured a volley of shots at him.

For two hours, the mounties maintained a vigil about the barricade, but as they finally advanced, Johnson rose and fired the shot that killed Millen. While the guard was still about him, he escaped in some mysterious manner.

A day later the plane picked up a faint feathering trail that he had left in the snow.

Relentless Search

From that time, through blizzards and with the temperature dropping to 30 below zero, the dog sleds of the pursuers followed him with the plane droning overhead and returning occasionally to Aklavik for fuel and food and other supplies.

The trail showed that Johnson was stumbling on and for several days his capture, dead or alive, had seemed inevitable. There were telltale indications that he gradually was reaching the point of exhaustion.

Besieged for Days

Johnson came into the Canadian north country from Alaska, apparently with plenty of money, the source of which he never disclosed.

His first trouble came when Indians complained that he was stealing from their traps. Constable King was one of the officers who went to arrest him. As they approached his cabin, there was a shot and King fell seriously wounded.

He was besieged in his cabin for days, but finally made his escape through a tunnel and the six-weeks chase began.

Mrs. Ferguson Cites Record Of Her Term In Announcing For Governor

quarters. She issued many executive clemencies and for several weeks before she left the office the ante rooms and corridors adjacent to the governor's office were crowded with men, women and children, seeking release from the penitentiary of persons serving time there.

James E. Ferguson, candidate's husband, was governor from 1915 to 1917. He was impeached and removed from office after he had been elected to a second term. Judgment of the senate, sitting as a high court of impeachment, was that he never again hold office of "honor, trust or profit," in Texas.

After his removal from the governor's office, Ferguson sought election to the United States senate but was defeated by Earle B. Mayfield. He organized the American party and announced himself its candidate for president.

Although he never has formally announced it is generally expected at the state capitol that Governor Sterling will be a candidate for the traditional second term. For some time there were reports that Sterling, elected on a "business man" platform, would retire at the end of his first term to give his full time to private affairs, but this talk seems to have subsided.

A minister, farmer and oil man had preceded Mrs. Ferguson with announcements for governor. They are the Rev. Scott W. Hickey of Cleburne, Harry Miller of Brady and Tom F. Hunter of Wichita Falls.

There has been considerable speculation on plans of James W. Allred, ambitious attorney general, and Edgaar Witt, lieutenant governor. Neither has announced for re-election to their respective offices. Neither will discuss their thoughts along political lines.

minister and prime-mover in China's peace negotiations, said American Minister Miles T. Johnson is pessimistic regarding the truce, but British Minister Sir Miles Lampson "still has hopes."

Gen. Wu Te-Chen, Chinese mayor of greater Shanghai, personally declared:

"The chances are a thousand to one that no truce can be reached. The Chinese are highly mistrustful of the Japanese and fear that if the Chinese forces are withdrawn, the Japanese will find a pretext for advancing and occupying the positions vacated by the Chinese without having to fight for them.

"On the eve of what must be regarded as impending catastrophe, it is necessary to emphasize once more that this is not due to any lack of desire for peace by the Chinese government and people. China clearly gave evidence of her wish for peace by accepting all neutral proposals for the cessation of hostilities."

Siege guns were quiet on the front up to 2 a. m. today, with only brisk and brief staccato machine gun rattling and the reports of solitary rifles reminding the city of the 12-hour artillery duel that ended at Wednesday's dawn. It was evident all around that the Chinese returns from their own batteries had confounded the Japanese. Upwards of 3,000 shells were exchanged, all with terrific explosions.

Britain Protests

The deaths last night of Prior and Francis, the British seamen from H. M. S. Suffolk who were fatally wounded by shrapnel while guarding a British-owned Hongkew wharf, caused consternation in British naval and official circles and resulted in a stern protest being lodged with Chinese authorities by Consul-General J. F. Brenan.

The shells, which caused the death of 10 Chinese and wounded a score, were among about 50 Chinese and Japanese projectiles which exploded in the international settlement, some of them directly in Soochow creek west of the Bund. An American garage and the building of a British spring water company on North Sze Chuen road were destroyed by resulting fires.

British Warship Lands Rat Traps On Lonely Island

TRISTAN DA CUNHA, Feb. 16. (AP)—This lonely speck in the South Atlantic has just had its first visit from a ship in two and a half years, and its first sight of a warship in nine years.

Fresh stores, brought to the tiny outpost of the British empire by H. M. S. Carlisle, included 100 rat traps and large quantities of insectide. Rodents and fleas have been pests for years.

There were also four ducks, a prize rooster, two mountain geese, a number of oars sent by King George and a butter churn contributed by Queen Mary.

Roosevelt May Oust Accused Sheriff Farley

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 17. (US)—The removal trial of Sheriff Thomas M. Farley was closed late today with Governor Roosevelt declaring he did not believe Farley had succeeded in fully explaining the sources of his wealth.

Although the governor reserved decision, he gave every indication he would oust Farley from office promptly, regardless of whether it costs Roosevelt Tammany's support in his fight for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The governor asked Farley himself to explain the discrepency between his bank deposits of $357,000 since 1925 and his official salary of only $69,000 in that period.

Services for Mrs. Hamm Set Thursday at Electra

Special to The Record News

ELECTRA, Texas, Feb. 17.—Funeral services for Mrs. R. W. Hamm, 31, who died Wednesday at a Lubbock hospital, will be held here Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the Church of God. The Rev. J. C. Coats, the pastor, will officiate. Burial will be in the new Electra cemetery.

Mrs. Hamm lived in Electra 15 years until the family moved to a farm near Levelland three years ago. Surviving are the husband; two daughters, Irene and Margaret Louise; the parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Scales of Electra; three brothers, E. D. Scales, Electra, Roy Scales of Dalhart, and Ira Scales of Levelland; and one sister, Mrs. Lucian Givens, Electra.

vision here had reports late Wednesday afternoon that the road between Bonita and Saint Jo had been opened to passage with the construction of a temporary bridge over a stream that had washed out the bridge there Tuesday. A second bridge on the road reported to have been washed out was said to be in condition for passage. It was at first believed the bridge had been swept away when water in the stream covered it from sight. Water subsided, however, leaving the bridge standing.

Some streams in North and East Texas were out of banks Wednesday, as a result of heavy rains, and brought threats of floods to nearby lowlands.

Barring resumption of rainfall, no serious losses from floods were anticipated. In some sections, streams began falling.

Meanwhile, the northern part of the state experiences falling temperatures, as a norther swept rapidly across it. A freeze as far south as Central Texas was forecast.

At Dallas, the Trinity river reached a flood stage of 34.3 feet at 4 p. m. and continued to rise. The water rolled between two great levees through the business section of the city.

The weather bureau said overflows might occur in lowlands between Dallas and Trinidad during the next two to six days.

Rains of 48 hours threatened to create a flood problem in Northeast Texas and Southwest Arkansas. A rise on the Red river with a mark of two feet above flood stage was forecast for Index by Sunday. At Jefferson, the Cypress river stood at 10 feet.

The Red river was reported falling at Denison after flooding lowlands. The Elm fork of the Trinity, which had flooded part of the business section of Gainesville, was returning to normal.

Tonight Governor Murray stopped at Durant, Okla., the scene of his "Red river bridge war" last summer when he sent troops to keep a free bridge over the Red river open in the face of a federal court injunction obtained by a toll bridge company.

Tomorrow a motorcade will form at Durant and a giant parade reaching the 40 miles from Durant to Collinsville will escort him to the town of his birth.

A crowd estimated at from 20,000 to 40,000 is expected to cheer Murray at the celebration. Col. William Easterwood, Dallas capitalist, is expected to introduce the governor before he addresses his admirers.

But if Will Rogers, who wisecracked his way to fame after being born in Oklahoma, is able to accept the invitation to attend the celebration, Easterwood will introduce Rogers, who in turn will present Murray.

The monument, the quilt, the cheering will all be for a North Texas youth who fought his way to earn an education and became one of the most picturesque figures in the country with his red galluses and five-cent cigars.

Crippled Actress Files Action for Divorce

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17. (US)—The love boat of Ruby Adams, crippeld actress, and John J. Davis, owner of the world famous "Coffee Dan's" cafe here, crashed on the rocks today.

The actress, once queen of burlesque on the Pacific coast, filed suit in superior court for separate maintenance of $400 a month. She charged her husband had neglected her for other women.

The couple were married at Tia Juana, Mexico, in October, 1928.

Three years previously, the actress had been crippled for life when a 160-pound sand bag fell from the flies and crushed her back on the stage at a theater here.

Eight Jurors Chosen For McBride's Trial

WAXAHACHIE, Texas, Feb. 17. (AP)—Eight jurors were chosen today for the trial of H. W. McBride, of Dallas, former oil company employe, on charges of robbery with firearms. It was expected the jury would be completed and testimony would begin tomorrow.

Former Sheriff Schuyler Marshall Jr., who last week was given an instructed verdict of acquittal on a burglary charge here, also is under indictment for robbery with firearms in a companion case.

WHY DOES EVERYBODY RELY ON Listerine WHEN AN EPIDEMIC HITS TOWN?

. . . they know THEY CAN DEPEND ON ITS RESULTS . . .

. . . AND SO DOES THE DOCTOR

It takes a time of real danger to establish the value of a mouthwash, in the eyes of the public.

And surveys show that when a town is hit by an epidemic, whether of cold, sore throat, or influenza, the sales of questionable mouthwashes go down, while those of Listerine go up.

In other words, people lose faith in new, untried mouthwashes when health is involved and real germ-killing action in an antiseptic is vital. They dare not gamble.

Tested by Experts

For your own protection, always use Listerine, the safe antiseptic. Behind it lie fifty years of use in the hands of bacteriologists, nurses, physicians, surgeons, dentists, and the public. Its action is known. Its results can be definitely predicted. There is no uncertainty about either its germicidal power or its safety.

Kills germs in fastest time

Listerine, used full strength, kills germs in the fastest time that can be measured. It reduces bacteria in the mouth 98%. Any claims of faster killing time or greater reduction power are without fact.

Listerine's germicidal action, as well as its safety, is corroborated by The Lancet of London, foremost medical journal of the world. No higher compliment can be paid.

For Colds—certain results

In the prevention and treatment of the common cold, Listerine, under tests, shows results approached by no other mouthwash.

For example: When gargled twice a day, it showed power to reduce the number of colds at least 50%, often 66%.

Safety is most important

Such results are made possible because Listerine is safe in action. That is, it does not injure the tissue while killing germs.

Mouthwashes so harsh they must be diluted before they dare be used, may and often do irritate the tissue. Instead of driving germs out, they help them to gain entrance to the body through the irritation they set up.

Don't take a chance

For that reason we say to you—choose your mouthwash carefully. Unless you do, you may encourage infection instead of fighting it. Lambert Pharmacal Co., St. Louis, Mo.

Choose mouthwashes carefully
Some watered
Others dangerous

Of 203 mouthwashes submitted to laboratory examination, 94 were non-antiseptic, 107 could not kill germs in three minutes, 143 could not kill in one minute. Others were so harsh they were dangerous to tissue. Dozens had no deodorant effect whatever.

REDUCES NUMBER OF COLDS 66% TESTS SHOW

Yes, her figure was marvelous

But her skin, Tragic!

By Julia Foster★

Hers was the kind of figure Paris dressmakers must dream about. No gown ever draped a handsomer form. Imagine my disappointment when I saw a blemished skin! Didn't she know this simplest secret of complexion care?

You can have that advice. The few simple instructions that have saved thousands of women from developing a "tragic" skin. More than 20,000 beauty experts have agreed on this easy home care for the complexion. Here it is. Follow it.

With your hands, work well into the pores of your face and throat a generous lather of Palmolive Soap and warm water. Then a thorough rinse with warm water to wash it away, followed by a cold rinse. Hot water should never touch your face. After this, in the morning, your make-up. At night, if your skin is dry, follow with oil or tissue cream.

There is a very definite reason why more than 20,000 beauty experts prefer Palmolive to all other soaps for this foundation cleansing. It is fully explained in the panel to the right, headed: "Beauty In a Test Tube." Please read it.

Beauty . . . relaxation in your bath!

Weary nerves need soothing? Experts have told me about this form of relaxation that's a beauty treatment, too: Shave up a whole cake of Palmolive. Melt it by boiling in 4 cups of water and pour the solution into your tub. Step in, and relax. Then massage your body with rich lather from another cake of Palmolive. When you get out, you'll find fatigue, nervousness, gone. Your skin, soft and smooth, thanks to this olive and palm oil care. Some evening soon, when you're so tired you feel tempted to cancel an engagement, try this instead!

And by all means, start twice-a-day facial treatment with Palmolive Soap. Try it for ten days, at least. What other treatment gives your skin such luxurious, youthful softness?

BEAUTY IN A TEST TUBE

Olive oil for the complexion! Always known to keep skin soft, supple, youthful.

But can you get enough olive oil in soap?* How much, actually, goes into Palmolive? Here is the exact amount of olive oil that goes into every ten-cent cake of Palmolive—in this test tube at the right. To this generous olive oil content can be directly traced Palmolive's great complexion benefits. It is the only large-selling soap made of vegetable oils exclusively. The only one using olive oil as a base. Other ingredients are simply oils from palm trees necessary to produce a richer, creamier, more workable lather. The color is the natural green of olive and palm oils—no artificial coloring.

More than 20,000 of the world's beauty experts have for years urged Palmolive Soap in preference to all others. Heed their advice!

GENERAL MA'S MOVE BAFFLES

Transfer of Allegiance Made By Chinese Hero

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—Three months ago he was China's national hero and the only military commander standing between Japan and subjugation of northern Manchuria.

Today he is governor of one of the "three eastern provinces" under Japanese tutelage and a leading actor in what many observers regard as a marionette show staged to set up an autonomous stage of Manchuria under Japanese suzerainty.

He is General Ma Chan-Shan, former commander of the Chinese forces on the Nonnie river and Tsitsihar fronts. His transfer of allegiance is a subject of study for students of Oriental history and philosophy.

Gains Sudden Fame

General Ma was in charge of a small force patrolling Manchuria's northern border when the tide of events catapulted his name into headlines. For weeks he was looked on by the Chinese as their only savior against a foreign invader and by the world generally as a resolute soldier waging a losing fight.

He startled the great powers in November by issuing a manifesto which was regarded as equivalent to declaring war on Japan. Mukden had long since fallen to the Nipponese and they were steadily penetrating the frozen plains into the north without noticeable resistance.

Subsequently, he made good his word by falling on Gen. Shigeru Honjo's expeditionary force near Tahsing in sub-zero weather. He defeated the Japanese in one engagement at the Nonni river bridgehead, inflicting heavy casualties, and retreated northward.

To a Japanese demand for withdrawal, he replied:

"I will fight to the last man for the honor of China."

Driven Steadily Back

But Japan's superior military organization drove him steadily northward toward Tsitsihar, his base, and he made his last stand at Anganchi, on the Chinese Eastern railway. The invaders swept over his demoralized troops and occupied Tsitsihar with hardly a struggle.

He re-established his base at Hailun, northwest of Tsitsihar, and several times he was reported to be reforming his men for a counter-attack on the Japanese. He disappeared from the news for a time and his authority was understood to have been dissipated.

When next his name was mentioned it was in connection with a report that the Japanese military command had offered to restore him as governor of Heilungkiang province because he was the only Chinese commander of any worth in northern Manchuria. Once he was said to have spurned the advances.

Yesterday, he came down from the north by airplane and the thing was done. With a Japanese advisor at his elbow, he was formally re-installed as ruler of his native province.

How Uncle Sam Lands Battle Forces

Wily old Uncle Sam has a bag of tricks up his sleeve and he revealed some of them in landing an armed force, equipped with everything from field pieces to rolling kitchens, at Hawaii in the annual army and navy maneuvers. These pictures show how he did it. "Heave, ho," shouted sailors from the U. S. S. Nevada and soldiers from the 30th infantry as they unloaded an escort wagon on the beach at the upper left. If anybody rocks the boat, a wet time will be had by infantrymen shown in the lower picture going ashore in a barge from the U. S. S. Tennessee. And those aren't the horse marines you see at the right, but horses and mules being transported to land on a navy barge. The animals are taught to swim, if it becomes necessary. NEW GASOLINE RULES CITED

Oklahoma Takes Steps To Defeat Evaders

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 17. (AP)—The gasoline bootlegger will find the going rough in Oklahoma if the public keeps an eye on the display signs at filling stations after March 4, when the new gasoline and inspection regulations become effective.

With this assertion, E. D. Graham, chief chemist for the corporation commission, today gave an explanation of the new rules, which are an adoption of the federal standard gasoline specifications.

Three types of products are provided: "Oklahoma motor gasoline," "off specification gasoline," and "inferior motor fuel." They must be so designated on signs displayed by all station operators on their pumps.

The second type is suitable for use in most cases, Graham said but does not meet the federal specifications. The "inferior" type should not be used for motor vehicles and is detrimental to motors, he added.

"A survey showed kerosene is being mixed with gasoline and sold as gasoline," said the chemist. "This cheats the buyer and cheats the state out of the tax. For a motorist to trade with unfair operators means cheating himself in the long run."

Civil War Veteran Dies Of Injury at Frederick

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., Feb. 17.—A hip and arm fracture received three weeks ago, and advanced age, Tuesday morning caused the death of A. L. McAfee, 85, at his home here.

He was born in Murphy, N. C. In the civil war he served with Abbott's scouts in the Third Tennessee cavalry. In 1880 he was married to Martha L. Williams, of Breckenridge, Texas, and in 1901 the pair moved to this section of Oklahoma, before the town of Frederick existed. Mr. McAfee, as a contractor and carpenter, was an important factor in the building and development of the town.

Surviving are the widow, six sons and daughters, a sister, 16 grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

How to Relieve Headaches In Three Minutes

When you have one of those violent, nerve-racking headaches, from inorganic causes, you can get soothing relief in three minutes with "B.C.," a reliable, pleasant acting remedy.

"B. C." is prepared by a registered pharmacist, compounded on a different principle from most relief-giving agencies in that it contains several ingredients, so blended and proportioned as to accomplish in a few minutes what we believe no one drug formula can do in so short a time.

"B. C." should also be used for the relief of muscular aches and pains, common colds and neuralgia; for reducing fever and quieting a distressed nervous system without opiates, narcotics or such habit forming drugs. Get "B. C." wherever drugs are sold in 10c and 25c packages.—Adv.

Munday Citizens Threaten To Quit Using Gas If Rates Are Increased

Special to The Record News

MUNDAY, Texas, Feb. 17.—More than a score of Munday business and professional men served notice in statements made Tuesday of their intention to discontinue gas service if the Stamford and Western Gas company proceeds with its effort to increase domestic rates here. Some already have done so.

City officials have been advised by representatives of the company that an application has been filed with the Texas railroad commission seeking permission to put into effect in Munday rates more than double those now charged. The matter was taken to the railroad commission after the city council had failed to take action on a similar application.

The present gas rate is 75 cents net per 1,000 cubic feet regardless of the quantity used. The gas company has proposed as a new rate $2.22 for the first 1,000 cubic feet, $1.75 for the second 1,000 and $1.50 for each 1,000 feet additional.

Included among those declaring their intention to discontinue gas service are Charles Foyt, Lee Haney, Mrs. A. A. Smith, John Spann, president of the chamber of commerce, and Seid Waheed, merchants; Leland Hannah and R. B. Davy, druggists; Jesse A. Kennedy, publisher; J. Arthur Smith, tailor; W. R. Moore, automobile dealer; W. W. McCarty, jeweler; Ray Easly and Howell Burton, restaurant proprietors; Dr. A. A. Smith and Dr. Joe Davis, physicians; and P. V. Williams, theater proprietor.

The Ohio corn crop in 1931 was the largest since 1925 and double that of 1930.

Banker Identifies Robbery Suspect

TEXARKANA, Ark., Feb. 17. (AP)—Officers here said this afternoon E. A. Cotham, bookkeeper of the Planters' Bank and Trust company of Haynesville, La., had identified a Texarkana man held in jail here as one of four men who robbed the bank of $17,000 Jan. 28.

Another Texarkana man arrested by Texas Rangers S. R. Leslie and M. Burton had not been identified in connection with the robbery but was held for questioning.

The rangers said they had learned another member of the robber quartet who was wounded in a shooting with officers was being treated secretly in Texarkana but they had been unable to locate him.

The men were arrested last night at their homes here.

MURRAY SCOUT VISITS GEORGIA

Ed Semans to Report Back To Governor

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 17. (AP)—Ed Semans, political emissary for Gov. W. H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray, of Oklahoma, conferred with several Democratic leaders here today and announced he probably would return home for a conference with the governor before a definite decision is reached regarding Murray's entrance in the Georgia presidential preferential primary March 23.

Semans came here to sound out the sentiment on Murray and he will report to his chief the result of his investigations.

Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York has already entered the primary.

Semans talked with Lawrence Camp, chairman of the state Democratic executive committee, and Gov. Richard B. Russell Jr., but refused to disclose the nature of his conversations except to say they were merely "pleasant chats."

Semans said he found the Democratic organization in Georgia is supporting Governor Roosevelt, as is the case in North Dakota, where Murray has filed, but that he felt the Oklahoma governor "would get the rank and file of the party" if he filed in Georgia.

Aged College Professor Ends Life In Bank When First Crime Attempt Fails

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 17. (US)—Behind the tragedy of Anton Christ, 63, once wealthy professor of mathematics, who ended his life today in the midst of his first venture into crime, lies the story of faithless financiers.

Crooked bank officials robbed Christ of his life's savings—$200,000—in a Miami, Fla., bank in 1930. The embezzlers, including the president, were sent to the penitentiary.

Just a month before Christ, author of more than 100 books, was left penniless he had married Elizabeth Waters, noted lecturer, now his widow.

Took Last 25 Cents

Today the man who had been driven to despair by his loss turned to his wife in their modest flat and said:

"I'm going out for some sugar and salt."

He took with him their last 25 cents.

Instead he appeared in the office of A. J. Martz, real estate operator. His right arm was in a sling and in his hand, concealed beneath the folds of the sling, he held a .38 caliber revolver.

He held the gun on Martz; then placed a small stick of dynamite in his victim's pocket. Attached to the dynamite was a copper wire which ran to a cylinder in Christ's pocket, thus connecting the two men.

Forced Martz to Bank

"Do as I say and I won't kill you," Christ warned. "Don't break the wire."

Christ led Martz by the arm to the street.

"We are going to the Bank of America and there you are going to draw out all your money and give it to me," Christ told his captive.

They walked the four blocks to the bank, Martz led by a copper string and the threat of death. They passed hundreds of men and women, rushing to their work, unaware that drama was brushing past their elbows.

In the crowded bank Christ commanded Martz to write out a check for his entire balance.

Guard Heard Command

"I don't know how much I have," Martz protested.

"Make it out any way," Christ demanded, raising his voice.

He spoke so loudly that James Kirkpatrick, bank guard and world war hero, was attracted. Kirkpatrick saw the gun hidden in the folds of the sling.

"Put that gun away," Kirkpatrick demanded.

Christ waved the gun wildly. Martz broke the copper string and reached a point of safety. Scores of men and women, horrified, rushed from the bank.

Kirkpatrick, unable to reach his gun beneath his buttoned coat stepped toward Christ, who kept backing into a corner.

In the corner Christ raised the gun to his right temple and fired. He died a few minutes later in Emergency hospital.

In his pockets police found the 25 cents and a note. It read:

"My first venture in crime—or will be a suicide?"

THE LOWE DOWN

Nerve? Why Edmund Lowe's a daredevil and a great guy . . . he was one of the first to wear a HIGH HAT TO A PRIZE FIGHT! He can get away with it, because he's got the punch and six feet of brawn! He's a college graduate. Eddie might have been a big league ball player if the movies hadn't snatched him. He's a shrewd business man and has made a fortune. We don't know how much FOX paid him for "THE CISCO KID," but it was worth it. For six years he has smoked LUCKIES. He gets paid plenty for most things, but was paid nothing for his signed statement. We're deeply grateful, Edmund Lowe.

"It's that delightful taste after a cup of coffee that makes LUCKIES a hit with me. And naturally I protect my voice with LUCKIES. No harsh irritants for me . . . I reach for a LUCKY instead. Congratulations on your improved Cellophane wrapper. I can open it."

Patriotic Theme Features Wednesday Club Lessons

As the date for Washington's birthday draws near Wednesday Study club programs are featuring patriotic numbers in observation of the bicentennial nation-wide celebration.

Miss Mary Peters was hostess to the Twentieth Century club at her home on Speedway and also presided in the absence of the president. Roll call was responded to with interesting facts concerning George Washington, and Mrs. Robert K. French reviewed the book, "The Image and the Man."

Refreshments featuring the patriotic idea were served to Mesdames Fulcher Armstrong, T. C. Anthony, Robert K. French, Lloyd J. Taylor, Jack H. Rankin, True Cauble, and Misses Marjorie Woolsel, Marguerite Peery and the hostess.

Modern Study Club

Mrs. Chandler Crump was hostess to members of the Modern Study club at her home on McGregor street when Mrs. Wilburn Page gave a paper on "The Modern Woman in Business."

Those present were Mesdames E. P. Davis, Gus Hecht, Renfro Lesley, Milburn Nut, W. M. McKemie Jr., Robert Roark, Ernest Robertson, Wilburn Page, G. A. Derbyschire, and Misses Jeannette More and Marjorie Bright.

1930 Study Club

Mrs. John Swanner was hostess to members of the 1930 Study club at her home when the topic, "Our Nearest Neighbors," furnished an interesting lesson with Mrs. Dudley Foy, leader. Mrs. Roy Grimes discussed "Alaska, Our Northern Wonderland," and Mrs. Faye Hardeman gave the development of the Panama canal, both of which proved unusually instructive.

Mrs. W. Ray Thompson, the vice president, presided in the absence of the president, and Mrs. S. S. Bryant of Waco was a guest.

Refreshments in the red, white and blue colors, were served to Mesdames J. H. Campbell, D. B. Foy, Roy Grimes, Faye C. Hardeman, W. Ray Thompson, John Swanner, J. J. Fite, Ralph Pond, P. S. Richardson, C. L. Murph, D. P. Moore, E. J. Killelea, F. H. Harrison, S. S. Bryant and the hostess.

Texas Study Club

Mrs. J. F. Clary was hostess to members of the Texas Study club at the home of Mrs. Noel Brashear when in a brief business session, the work of the past six months was reviewed with each member reading a paper on outstanding qualities of the novels and authors studied. New officers for the coming six months were also introduced as follows: Mrs. J. W. Miller, president; Mrs. W. B. Featherston, vice president; Mrs. O. H. Gideon, recording secretary; Mrs. Tom Pruitt, parliamentarian and Mrs. H. J. Hughey, reporter.

In the social hour, the first anniversary of the club was observed, also Washington's birthday. A colorful patriotic color scheme was carried out in the decorations and refreshment plate, and in the Washington progressive games, Mrs. Houston Rogers was awarded the prize, a lovely framed picture. The birthday cake was cut by the incoming president, Mrs. J. W. Miller.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames W. B. Featherston, J. W. Miller, J. E. Duke, Houston Rogers, Stephen Kennedy, R. M. Stinson, Jake Harris, Tom Pruitt, O. H. Gideon and Miss Mary Kaufman.

Pieria Club

With Mrs. J. O. Ammann leader of the lesson members of the Pieria club met at the home of Mrs. J. G. Oakley and roll call was responded to with gems of Latin thought. Miss Clara Shulz gave a comparison of Livy and Cacitus, and Mrs. P. R. Freeman read a paper on "The Death of Pliney." Mrs. J. O. Ammann reviewed the "Last Days of Pompeii."

Refreshments were served to Mesdames Wm. Bratton, Ralph DeShong, P. R. Freeman, Wm. Haney, J. G. Oakley, Wilbur Newberry, J. E. H. Railey, J. O. Ammann, S. G. Waghorn, A. L. Whitt, Frank Hoover, M. E. Nyers and Miss Clara Schulz.

Century Club

"Decorations of Distinction" formed an interesting subject for members of the Century club at the meeting held at the home of Mrs. P. P. Langford Jr., with Mrs. Dick Davis, the president, presiding. Mrs. Darrold Kahn talked on "Draperies in the Home;" Mrs. Sam Man on "Rugs and Their Selection," and Mrs. G. E. Goddard on "Wood Work in Home Decorations."

Refreshments were served in the style of a tea to Mesdames John Barnard, Arthur Clark, Dick Davis, H. B. Dudley, J. C. Foster, Almond Gates, Darrold Kahn, Van Lesley, Sam Man, J. C. Straus Jr., G. E. Goddard and Misses Jane Moore, Elizabeth Carrigan and Mary Jo Kell.

Junior Travel Club

Members of the Junior Travel club enjoyed a Chinese program at the Forum clubhouse. Mrs. Grover C. Johnson was leader for the afternoon and interpreted in a masterful manner, "The Bitter Tea of General Yen" by Grace Berry Zaring, and Mrs. O. T. Ailes read an interesting paper on "Tu Fu, the Chinese Poet and Official."

Those present were Mesdames Ailes, Clyde Brannon, W. H. Caldwell, E. A. Deaton, N. H. Downing, E. T. Duff, John Humphrey, D. O. Johnson, Thelbert Martin, W. A. McCarty, Wayne Somerville, G. H. Watson, Luther Wright, W. J. Morgareidge and Jozach Easley.

County Council P.-T. A. Will Meet Thursday

J. A. Hood, county superintendent of schools, will be the principal speaker on the program for the County Council Parent-Teacher association Thursday which will convene at the Friberg school when Friberg and City View units will be hostesses.

Mr. Hood will speak on school laws and his discussion will include the rules that govern compulsory school attendance, the maintenance of the school system and scholastic themes.

Miss Pearl Rorabaugh, Red Cross nutritionist, will have some new ideas to bring forward in her talk on "Economical School Lunches." It is said that this is one of the most important problems of the school year for mothers in rural communities, and that Miss Rorabaugh's address cannot fail to be helpful. Questions may be asked informally.

Mrs. Ben G. Oneal's talk will stress the Washington bicentennial when she will give the council interesting data on the 200th anniversary plans which include the entire nation.

Sectional meetings on health, standard associations and publicity will take place at 11:30 a. m.

Registration in the guest book is scheduled for 9 o'clock and will be in charge of Mrs. Jack Hamner of Clara.

Electrical Fly Traps Boon to Zoo Animals

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17. (AP)—Electrical traps that catch flies on the wing and finish them in a flash are expected to keep flies off the municipal zoo's population when warm weather comes.

The traps, which look something like a cross between a Japanese lantern and the top of an ornate lamp post, are to take the places of men who formerly swatted flies and squirted spray in cages and pens.

The trap has a coil of wire around the outside, a mysterious assortment of coils inside and a glass dish containing a banana or sugar as bait. The insect must pass through the wires of the outside coil to get to the bait and the current does the work, as it attempts to pass.

County P.-T. A. Will Meet Saturday at Geraldine

Special to The Record News.

HOLLIDAY, Texas, Feb. 17.—A county meeting of the P.-T. A. will be held at Geraldine, Saturday, Feb. 20. The meeting will be an all-day affair, luncheon to be served by the Geraldine and Black Flat P.-T. A.'s who are entertaining the County P.-T. A. jointly.

Department To Sponsor Spring Garden Contest

Members of the civic department of the Woman's Forum announce that the pleasing results of the past year's home garden contests prompts them again to give prizes to the four best garden owners in Wichita Falls this spring.

The only rules for the garden contest are: size of garden must be six squares or larger (a square is 10 by 10 feet or 100 square feet). The work must be done by members of the family.

The civic league department members who are in charge of this movement urge every one to take part in this contest and state that weather conditions indicate ideal spring garden prospects.

Four prizes of four dollars each in garden tools will be given by local hardware firms.

In addition to the prizes, complimentary mention also will be made of a number of excellent gardens. Last year's contest resulted in hundreds of better gardens, and it is hoped by the committee that this contest will result in thousands of gardens.

Those wishing to enter this contest are requested to either write or telephone their name and address to Mrs. M. A. Beckman or Mrs. C. D. Shamburger and the name will be entered on the list of contestants and regularly inspected by the committee.

It is also requested that those taking part in the contest send in their name now and thereby encourage the committee workers, according to Mrs. O. W. Harvey, chairman.

Mrs. Hall Leads Delphian Lesson

With Mrs. J. E. Hall leader of the lesson, members of the Wee-Chee-Tah chapter, Delphian society met at the Woman's Forum clubhouse Thursday morning for a lesson on "Flemish Painters." Topics reported upon were "Influences in Development of Painting North of the Alps," by Mrs. H. J. Strief; "The Van Eycks," Mrs. E. R. White; "Other 15th Century Painters," Mrs. V. E. Wratten.

Mrs. W. R. Hammond gave a comparison of Memling and the Van Eycks. In the study of pictures Mrs. G. D. Rigsby gave "The Adoration of the Lamb" by Jan Van Eyck and Van der Weyden's pictures were given by Mrs. E. R. White. Pictures by Memling were discussed by Mrs. B. B. Craft and those by Massy and Brueghel by Mrs. W. R. Duke.

Wesley Girls Class Party Is Postponed

Postponement of the Wesley Girls class party of the Floral Heights Methodist church, which was to have been held at the home of Mrs. Ed Peterson Friday afternoon, was made Wednesday because of illness among the members.

PERSONALS

Miss Leona Chewning, who has been confined to her bed for several days on account of illness, is reported improving.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Elkins and son, James, are leaving Thursday for Dallas to spend the week-end. Mr. Elkins will attend the Texas Southwest Warehouse convention.

Wild Bill Hickok's Gun Is Offered to Museum

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Feb. 17. (AP)—One of the most feared pistols in history—that of Wild Bill Hickok with two notches in the butt—probably will become a relic for the Sioux Falls museum.

The weapon, which Wild Bill gave to Smokey Thomas, famous western character, before he was slain, has been offered to the county historical society. It is now a part of the John Drary collection here.

Papers on the pistol, a pearl-handled .41 caliber, are being checked to establish their authenticity. If the gun is genuine it will be purchased for the county exhibit.

Arkansas Women Revive Weaving to Earn Money

BENTONVILLE, Ark., Feb. 17. (AP)—Grandmother's loom, forgotten for years, has been rescued from the attic and set up for business in many an Ozark home.

Women of north Arkansas, spurred by economic conditions, are learning to fashion rugs, bedspreads, table covers and quilts for sale to tourists visiting this picturesque region.

One groupe of women, specializing in woven rugs, sold almost $1,000 worth of their handiwork last summer.

Today's Pattern

DESIGNED FOR THE MATRON
Pattern 2224
Step-by-Step Instruction Diagrams Given With This Pattern
By ANNE ADAMS

A simply made dress ideally styled for the "not-too-slim" figure. The long bodice line and the hip line are broken in soft scallops that are very easy to accomplish and give delightfully slender effects. Vestee and cuffs may be fashioned of contrasting fabric. For a practical dress use percale, broadcloth, seersucker, dimity or wash silk.

Pattern 2224 is obtainable only in sizes 38 to 52. Size 38 requires four yards of 36-inch fabric, ½ yard contrasting.

Send fifteen cents (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred), for each pattern. Write plainly your name, address and style number. Be sure to state size wanted.

Address all mail and orders to

District Council Meeting Postponed

The council meeting of Methodist Women's Missionary societies of the Wichita Falls district which was to have been held Friday, has been postponed on account of illness among some of the officers, it was announced Wednesday.

How Do Sportswomen Manage?

Cup winners can't be quitters. The woman in any field of sport must take her sporting chance with Nature. Any strenuous match may bring on her monthly sickness. But there need be no pain! Midol always meets this emergency, as all active women should know. It will block periodic pain for hours.

And Midol is as harmless as the aspirin that stops your headaches. (It is non-narcotic.) If you want your next monthly period to begin and end without even a moment's discomfort, just ask for Midol at any drug store. Tuck the little box in your purse and be ready.

Reagan Junior High To Observe Bicentennial

In accordance with the nation-wide plan of tree planting in the bicentennial year, the Reagan Junior High school will observe this important event on the school campus Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Through the influence of Mrs. M. B. Smith, one of the trees donated by Mr. Downing to the Junior Garden club of the Woman's Forum was secured for the Reagan Junior High school and she will be chairman of the ceremony Friday.

After a few words of greeting, Mrs. Smith will present Mrs. Floyd Randel of the Junior Garden club, who will give a talk. Roy J. Daniel, teacher of history in the Reagan school and a commander of the Pat Carrigan post, American Legion, will give the dedication of the Washington tree.

The senior class will conduct the planting while the entire assembly will join in singing "America."

W. A. Franklin, principal of the school, will conclude the program with a short prayer.

Patrons and friends of the Reagan Junior High were invited to be present at this ceremony in commemoration of the 200th birthday of George Washington.

Mrs. S. S. Bryant of Waco is the guest of Mrs. F. H. Harrison.

EAT

When a youngster has no appetite, it's probably due to stasis. A little fig syrup will soon correct this condition — then watch the child eat.

Nature knows best! Never coax a child to eat! Remove the cause of a youngster's poor appetite—get rid of stasis. Children who don't eat are sluggish. Not to correct this is inexcusable. It is so easy to do, if you will only use the "California treatment." Read what it is doing for listless children in every part of the country!

When appetite fails, tongue is coated white, eyes are a bilious yellow, don't give small children any constipating cathartic that drains the system and weakens twenty feet of tender bowels! California fig syrup is the only "medicine" they need!

Sluggishness ended in 2 Weeks!

That girl or boy with a furry tongue and a bad breath should not be dosed with salts! California fig syrup will gently stimulate the colon muscles—and the child you used to coax to eat will fairly devour his food, digest it, gain weight.

Try the California treatment! Begin tonight, with enough of the pure fig syrup to cleanse the colon thoroughly. Less tomorrow, then every other day, or twice a week until the child's appetite, digestion, weight, complexion, tell you the stasis is gone.

Be sure to get the real California fig syrup. Any druggist has it, all bottled, with directions. It's a natural, vegetable laxative. Just as good for babes of two years as boys of ten. They all love its taste!

NOTICE TO MOTHERS

There are imitations of California fig syrup, and those who would sell you some substitute even when a child's health is concerned. Don't ever take any bottle that is not plainly labeled CALIFORNIA.

THIN without starving

The Modern Way

Do you know that multitudes of people, nowadays, lose excess fat without starving? Look about you—note how slenderness prevails. Everywhere you see the amazing results of this new way of treating obesity.

Modern science has discovered that a great cause of excess fat lies in a weakened gland. That gland secretion helps turn food to energy. When it is lacking, fat piles up and vim goes down.

Doctors, the world over, now feed that lacking factor to the over-fat, and the method has largely changed the world.

Marmola prescription tablets present this method in right form, at small cost. A famous medical laboratory prepares them for that purpose. People have used them for 24 years—millions of boxes of them. The slender figures which surround you now are due largely to the factors in Marmola. Modern doctors know that.

No secrets about Marmola. A book in each box gives the formula—tells you exactly why the weight drops and vim comes up.

Go try this method. All other ways are bound to fail if this gland cause is not corrected. Ask your slender friends who have used Marmola. Go do what they did—now.

EXPERTS WRITE AP WAR NEWS

Four in Charge of Staff Have Covered Globe

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—The booming of cannon and whining of bullets are familiar music to the four men in charge of the staff covering the Sino-Japanese conflict for the Record News and other members of the Associated Press.

For years they have followed the flags of many nations into battle. In their adventuresome careers they have risked life and freedom repeatedly to get the news. Now three of them are doing it again.

The strange ways of the orient are especially known to them, for all have had long experience there.

Morris J. Harris, who is stationed at Shanghai, first went to Japan in 1921. James P. Howe, who also is at Shanghai, has served in China, Japan, India, Germany, Egypt, Java, the Philippines and Russia. Glenn Babb, now in Tokyo, first went to Japan in 1915.

Traveled World

Charles Stephenson Smith, chief of the Associated Press foreign service, who is in Washington reporting Sino-Japanese developments at the White House and the state department, worked many years in the Far East and has traveled around the world frequently in the service of the Associated Press.

There is scarcely a section of the globe to which these four men have not rushed at some time in their lives to report a new chapter in world history.

In 1923 Harris was in Tokyo when an earthquake spread havoc over Japan. With thousands of others he fled the fire which raked the capital. For 16 hours he stood in a lake with the water up to his neck in order to escape the flames.

Returned to Orient

The next year he was in Washington, but before the end of 1924 he was back in the orient. He returned to San Francisco in 1925, but has been back in the Far East since 1927.

When Japanese warships steamed up to Shanghai, Harris was there—watching preparations for the battle at Chapei. He has been in both Chinese and Japanese lines reporting first-hand the fighting.

Howe, the son of Ed Howe, Atchison, Kan., publisher, served on papers in Washington, Philadelphia, New Orleans, New York, San Francisco, Honolulu, Portland, Ore., and Atchison, Kan., before joining The Associated Press bureau at San Francisco in 1913. He went to London after the war, then to Coblenz with the American army and to Warsaw for the Russo-Polish war.

Served in Army

In 1922 he was at Riga and later to Moscow. He covered the French occupation of the Ruhr and in 1928 went to Peiping.

Babb served with the United States army in France, but in 1920 went back to Japan. Three years later he went to China. Then he traveled around the world and became cable editor for The Associated Press, handling Far East news. In 1924 he returned to Tokyo and last fall left to report the Manchurian campaign, from the attack on Mukden to the fall of Chinchow.

Smith went to China when that country joined the Allies. From there he traveled to Russia, crossing from Valdivostok to St. Petersburg with the Elihu Root mission.

With Lenin

When the Germans threatened St. Petersburg in 1917 Smith was there. When Lenin took his government to Moscow Smith went with him. On Armistice day he was in London and later reported the framing of the Versailles treaty. He covered the Russo-Polish peace conference at Riga and when famine was sweeping Russia in 1922, he was in the Volga area weeks ahead of the American relief administration.

He worked in the East for years and last winter made a complete tour of South America.

In addition to these men, the staff at Washington, all men of wide experience in foreign affairs, are covering developments at the capital in connection with the conflict in the East.

Cotton Shipments at Munday Show Increase

Special to The Record News.

MUNDAY, Texas, Feb. 17.—Cotton shipments from Munday are approximately 3,000 bales more thus far this season than up to the same time last season, according to information given Tuesday by H. F. Barnes, agent here for the Wichita Valley railroad.

Approximately 12,000 bales have been shipped and Mr. Barnes estimated that about 3,000 bales more will be shipped before the cotton movement for the season closes.

They met under the big top and decided to be married, choosing Mexicali, Mexico, as the place.

Iowa Park Lions And Wives Have Social

Special to The Record News

IOWA PARK, Texas, Feb. 17.—Iowa Park Lions dispensed with their regular weekly luncheon Tuesday noon and were hosts to their wives at a social meeting Tuesday evening.

Patriotic decorations suggested the celebration of Washington's birthday. F. E. Hill was awarded the prize for the "tackiest" head dress for men; Mrs. J. B. Golden, Valley View, received the prize for women. N. E. Waldie and Mrs. J. C. Murphree won the contest of Washington crossing the Delaware. Joe Taugman gave an amusing illustration of famous couples in history. Musical selections were rendered by Mrs. Charles W. Coppeck, accompanied by Mrs. James A. Sewell.

Those present were Dr. and Mrs. Gordon G. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Griffin, and son, James; Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Hudson and daughter, Martha Kate; Mr. and Mrs. Troy Hagar; Joe Taugman, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Searl, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Murphree, W. R. Braford, Mr. and Mrs. Cicero B. Fielder, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Golden of Valley View, Earl C. Knox, Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Waldie, Mr. and Mrs. George Russell of Wichita Falls, Mr. and Mrs. Gayle Park, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Coppeck, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Sewell, B. L. Bradford, Misses Katherine Sue Ralston and Mary Emma Boyd.

Special Venire Called In Foster Assault Case

Special to The Record News.

ARCHER CITY, Texas, Feb. 17.—A special venire of 75 men have been summoned to appear in 30th district court here Thursday, when W. H. Foster, aged Archer county farmer, goes on trial for criminal assault on a young woman at his farm home.

Before recessing court for the day Wednesday, Judge Allan D. Montgomery received a jury verdict against Robert Tuck, who was given a one-year sentence on conviction of charges of manufacturing liquor.

Taxpayers of Hardeman County to Organize

Special to The Record News

QUANAH, Texas, Feb. 17.—A call has been issued for a mass meeting of Hardeman county citizens to be held at the courthouse Saturday for the purpose of organizing a taxpayers association.

The call is signed by W. I. Tabor, C. E. Swindell, J. J. Summers, W. E. Reeves, committee appointed at a previous meeting of a number of taxpayers. All are prominent Hardeman county farmers and landowners.

FAMILY SLAIN AT FARM HOME

Bodies of Stock Buyer And Four Others Found

STOUT, Iowa, Feb. 17. (AP)—Five members of the family of Nanno Andreesen, stock buyer, were found shot to death in their farm home today.

The first intimation of the tragedy was in a note, found on a garage door in the village, which said five bodies would be found in the Andreesen home. The authorities at first believed the stock buyer had murdered his family and then committed suicide.

The position of the bodies, however, led Sheriff M. A. Mamminga to believe that Andreesen had killed his children, Elmer, 14, and Verna, 9, and his sister-in-law, Maggie Heasenlus. The sheriff theorized the stockman also had shot and wounded his wife and, believing her dead, had gone into the village and posted the note, apparently intending to commit suicide.

After returning to the farm, the wife had revived, the sheriff believed, and slew the husband, later dying of her own wounds. The couple was found dead at opposite sides of the kitchen, a dining table between them.

New York Assembly Approves Inquiry

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 17. (AP)—A Republican resolution providing for an all-inclusive investigation of the expenditures of the Democratic administration of Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt was approved today by the assembly, lower branch of the New York legislature. The inquiry measure previously had been adopted by the senate.

The resolution was adopted on a strict party vote, 77 to 69.

The Democratic members fought the resolution on the ground that it was designed to "get something on Roosevelt," a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Republicans of the legislature declared an investigation of administration expenditures was necessary to discover means of reducing the cost of government. One majority party member, Assemblyman Horace Stone, of Onondaga county, predicted the investigation would have a "salutary effect," on the operation costs of the 18 state departments under Mr. Roosevelt's administration.

Masked Bandit Robs Greenville, Mo., Bank

GREENVILLE, Mo., Feb. 17. (INS)—A lone bandit, wearing a mask, held up and robbed the Citizens bank here today and escaped with $2,200.

Witnesses said the bandit escaped in an automobile bearing an Illinois license.

R. H. Rodes, cashier of the bank, was the only person in the institution when the bandit, with pistol drawn, entered.

Posses were organized immediately by Sheriff Frank C. White of Wayne county to search for the bandit.

Two Gunboats Ordered To Join Asiatic Fleet

HONOLULU, T. H., Feb. 17. (INS)—Two gunboats of the United States battle fleet, which has just finished its "war games" off the Hawaiian islands, today were ordered prepared for duty with the Asiatic fleet, the main portion of which was recently ordered to Shanghai.

The gunboats are the Asheville and her sister ship the Sacramento.

The Asheville will leave Saturday for the orient, and the Sacramento two weeks later.

Peddler of Plants Gets Jail Term at Quanah

Special to The Record News.

QUANAH, Texas, Feb. 17.—Offering uninspected and unstamped shrubbery and flowers and nursery stock for sale in Quanah drew a berth in the county jail for a transient peddler of these commodities last week. The man had no license and none of the articles he offered for sale bore the inspector's stamp of approval.

Authorities state that many kinds of plant diseases could be transmitted through non-inspected shrubbery.

ST. LOUIS GOES ON MILK SPREE

Destitute Women Aided By Delivery Plan

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 17. (AP)—St. Louis, once famous for its beer, has gone on a milk "spree" to help destitute women who, under guidance of the emergency employment committee of the child conservation conference, have inaugurated a milk delivery system to office and factory workers.

During the first five days of the campaign the women, most of them mothers without means of support, filled orders for 10,000 portions of milk at five cents each. The milk is sold in sealed half-pint fibre containers.

Women have been selected for the work from several hundred applicants who have found it difficult to carry on because of economic conditions. Their earnings have ranged from 80 cents to $6 a day, depending on the time given to the work.

The campaign is directed from headquarters in a vacant store building in the heart of the business district. About 50 of the women have established regular routes or stations. One of them daily serves more than 300 employes in the offices of a large railroad company.

A dairy supplies the milk at cost to the committee, which operates without overhead expense and is able to pass the entire profit on to the seller.

Starting with a test at the city hall, when the first container was bought by Mayor Victor J. Miller, the campaign caught the public fancy so quickly that the committee hopes soon to have all the applicants working.

A Washington Bystander

By KIRKE SIMPSON

WASHINGTON.—Governor Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland disclosed his 1932 aspirations for Democratic presidential favors with the assertion: "Of course I would like to be president; who would not?"

JOHN N. GARNER

And, among high political office holders, who would not? Is there anybody in congress, Republican, Democrat or what-have-you, who would turn down a chance at the presidency? Is there a governor who would flee from the notion of moving to the White House?

Probably not. Yet there is something ironical in the fact that of all presidential nomination possibilities mentioned this year, the man who at the moment seems at important figure in the scramble of Democratic favorite sons quite likely never gave a though to presidential ambitions up to the last 30 or 60 days of a political career that stretches back nearly 30 years.

Paging Mr. Garner

At the moment, with repercussions of the Smith-Roosevelt situation thumbing a strident note on the lute of Democratic harmony, Speaker John Garner of Texas would seem to be the most possible beneficiary of a nomination deadlock between the two New York aspirants.

Yet it is safe to say that Garner is entirely happy where he is. Of them all, Jack Garner perhaps would least like to be president.

The Bystander can believe that this Garner complex may yet prove significant in the political history of 1932. It is a condition that supporters of his undeniable claims to party honors may yet have to reckon with.

Why not? Garner has been a ceaseless warrior for his party in the house for 15 terms.

Legislatively, his major preoccupations have been taxes and tariff. He has specialized on those and upon parliamentary technique and the intimate business of harmonizing party lines in the house.

These things he knows and likes. And his long service has already been rewarded with the speakership, the political gift he has most desired.

As Speaker Garner faces a bright future, election trends have indicated that he may reasonably expect a larger Democratic majority in the next house, easing his burdens of today when a mere hendful of votes gives him his office.

A firmer party grip would free him to round out his congressional career as speaker in that atmosphere of house friendships and informal social contacts that have been the breath of life to him for nearly 30 years.

Crossroads Ahead

What would it mean to Jack Garner to become president, or even a presidential nominee? Every habit formed by a life-time of house service would go by the board.

Formalities, pomp and circumstance for which he has little liking would engulf him. And personal habits and taste are strong at 62.

Truly, Garner complexes, the one for party harmony, the other for personal, liberty among the scenes and friends he knows best, may make history this year.

Flat Building Janitors Take Wage Reduction

CHICAGO, Feb. 17. (INS)—Property owners here will be saved $2,000,000 annually, as the result of a voluntary five per cent wage reduction of 7,500 flat building janitors, it was announced today.

The reduction, which is effective March 1, is the result of negotiations between the flat janitors union and the Chicago real estate board.

Members of the machinists union have voted a nine per cent wage reduction, effective March 1, it was announced today.

A Duty We Overlook

POLICE COMMISSIONER MULROONY of New York, addressing an audience of churchmen recently, expressed regret that church and community work for boys often ends when the youngsters reach the age of 16, or thereabouts.

"I wish," he said, "that the churches of all denominations would do more to try to direct the boys of the city to wholesome recreation. The Boy Scout troops often seem to lose the boy after he is 16, and it is then that he falls into bad company."

There is a whole lot of truth in this; for the lad of 16 very often finds himself a misfit, and the two or three-year period that he begins at that age can be an extremely trying and dangerous time.

At 16 he is no longer—in his own eyes, at least—a boy; he is entering manhood, and he is desperately anxious to do the things that men do. But he has not quite got there, as yet. The adult world still looks on him as an unlicked cub, and grown-ups who will treat him as a grown-up are few and far between.

So, feeling himself lost between two world's, he is apt to have a rather hard time. He starts drifting, and the first group that takes a real interest in him, and treats him as a more or less mature individual capable of making his own choices, is likely to win his allegiance permanently.

And it is right at this point that one of modern society's most terrible bits of wastage comes in. The lad from an underprivileged neighborhood will draft into some uncouth places before he gets his bearings, and if his luck happens to be out he will take root in one or another of them.

So, a little later on, we have another youthful gunman, or another furtive-eyed young loafer with a shady present and a dubious future, or another pool-room hanger-on ready to get into any kind of trouble that offers itself.

We have discovered, in recent years, that children must be given a chance to get wholesome recreation. But we have not yet learned that this guidance must extend through the first part of young manhood. Commissioner Mulroony has touched on a point that deserves a lot more thought than we have given it.

An Interesting Contrast

IT WAS interesting to learn that an aviator cooperating with the Carnegie foundation archaeologists at the ruined Maya city of Chichen-Itza, in Yucatan, recently flew a "windmill" plane over the jungle and made a landing on one of the ancient terraces that are now being excavated.

In the first place, this will be a great help to the archaeologists, as food and other supplies can now be brought in in a fifth of the time formerly required. But it is even more interesting for the contrast it affords.

The Mayan ruins in Central America date back into the dark days of pre-Columbus history. When we investigate them we come into contact with the incredibly old. And there, right in the midst of them, lands an ultra-modern "windmill." Could the 20th century come into a more striking juxtaposition with the ghost of the past?

Handshaking Is Out!

ONE action of President Hoover's that ought to win whole-hearted support all over the United States is his recent decision to call off the traditional hand-shaking receptions at the White House on the ground that they "present too great a task for the president at such a time as this."

There can hardly be any argument about the justification of this action. The president of the United States is one of the busiest and most active men in the world. To expect him to waste his time and exhaust his strength in shaking the hands of several thousand complete strangers every so often is nothing less than silly.

Of course, the visitor to Washington who gets a chance to shake the hand of the president has something nice to talk about later. But what of it? Isn't conservation of the president's strength a bit more important than the gratification of this completely meaningless desire?

Bunkum On the Radio

WEARY radio listeners will be interested to know that two bills have been introduced in congress to cut down on the high-pressure advertising talks which clutter up most broadcasts.

One bill would merely eliminate commercial talks from Sunday programs. The other, much more drastic, would prohibit any announcer from indulging in any sort of advertising talk except the bare statement that "this program is sponsored by the Zilch company."

The goal at which this measure aims is all to the good. The ordinary question seems to be whether, as a matter of policy, congress should act in the matter or let the slow crystallization of public opinion force the broadcasters to act for themselves.

SO THEY SAY!

I have no fear for the future of the railroads.—F. E. Williamson, president of the New York Central.

America needs Herbert Hoover again as president.—State Senator Joseph G. Wolber of New Jersey.

WALTER WINCHELL On Broadway

(Copyright, 1932, Daily Mirror, Inc.)

Fly in the Ointment

You often sigh for some enchanted place
Where we could lay our troubles down and rest;
Some snug retreat where comfort would erase
The scars we gain in fortune's fickle quest;
I, too, have dreams of coming home to see
A college white with roses by the way,
And I have not a doubt that it would be
The heaven you say!
But if we wed you state that I must stop
The erring ways that cause your tears to flow,
I mustn't flirt—I mustn't touch a drop—
You'll tell me when to "stop" and when to "go";
You claim that I must leave the gallant clan
Of lads who speed the stupid night away—
On all my fun you plan to place a ban—
The hell you say!

—DON WAHN.

And They Shoot Dice!

Dot Sauter, who winds up her letter in this wise: "Just the Bass Player of Babe Egan's 'Redhead'," tells of a lass named Gracie Barrie, who carried a portable radio with her while on tour.

Miss Barrie, says Dot, always made sure to ask the various hotel clerks what sort of electricity current they featured, as her radio was for Direct Current.

The play-off in howls came at a Minneapolis hostelry when Miss Barrie ankled in at a tardy hour, and said to the dope behind the desk: "Do you have A. C. or D. C. Current here?"

The clerk looked over his rack and replied: "No, madam, neither of them are registered!"

Overheard

One of the local yokels bothered Miss Guinan last night, first asking for a cigaret and then for a match.

"Huh," sneered Texas, "all you seem to have is the habit!"

Off Key

Several hundred clergymen, who were asked for puffs on "Black Tower," a mystery play, were mailed tickets for the show. Many returned the seats, asking for another date, but the classic came when one pastor wrote: "If it is all the same to you, would you mind changing these tickets for a pair to "Of Thee I Sing?"

Gag

George White tells the story of the comedian who called on his lawyer to make out his will. The comic began dictating to the attorneys as follows:

"What dough I have, if any, such as it is, or is liable to be, that is to say—"

The legal light broke in:

"Listen, Mr. Actor, that's my business. I'll put that in legal terms."

"I know you can," retorted the comic, "but I want to leave them laughing!"

Merciless Truth

Homer Mason and Len Hollister were swapping gab at the Lambs club the other sundown, and Mason told of the time he played at Louisville during the Derby. He saw a furtive figure about the hotel foyer. Dirty, ragged, unkept, shoes out at the toes, but a brand new straw hat to top it all.

Homer asked the hotel clerk who the bum might be. The clerk replied: "He's quite a famous character. A year ago he had $50,000—and he parleyed it all—into a straw hat."

The Humor of Tragedy

You probably read the accounts in the rags how a West 55th Streeter leaped out of a window to his end the other day.

Louis Alter, the songwriter, dwells in the same shack, and he is in the habit of having his breakfast brought to him from downstairs. Alter pays at the end of the week.

The same morning, however, the waiter demanded his money in advance.

"Why?" asked Louis, "I never paid in advance before!"

"We got new rules," said the waiter, pointing to the lifeless form in the street below. "You can't depend on people anymore!"

O. Mr. Wilstach!

Suggested for the simile dictionary: David Alber's: Empty as zero without the rim . . . Myles Bell: Necessary as stage money in a burlesque show, and, she was colder than Gandhi in a rumble seat.

The Last Stand

I lunch at the corner cigar store,
At a druggist's I buy all my hats.
I get "coffee and—"
At a newspaper stand—
A barber shop sells me cravats.
A department store washes my auto.
A doctor prescribed for my shoes;
They've changed things aroun'
All over the town—
But the speakeasies still sell the booze.

—NORMAN SULLIVAN.

Sid Parrygraphs

I know a baldheaded columnist (not Karl K. Kitchen) who had a screen star autograph his head and she was able to write: "Yours very respectfully, Mildred Wilhemnia Katherine Knickerbocker Baragawanath" in one line East to West! . . . I wish someone would write a song called: "Nertz" so that the radio announcer could say: "Nertz with the Permission of the Copyright Owners!"

Heheheh

"Dear Winchell," writes Al Schwartz, "I hope all your children go to college and have to sell bonds for a living!" . . . The Greeks had a word for it—but they never said it was around the corner.

In Fewer Words

Lew Brown warned Reuben, the restauratuer, that he intends opening an eating place directly opposite.

The slogan of which will be: "From An Institution Back to Good Food!"

For Women Only

The Western Front is not going to be too quiet in a day or two or three. For the Clark Gables have decided to come to a perfect understanding, as it is tragically called.

The fact is that Clark wants the divorce and has retained Loeb, Walker & Loeb as his arguers. An attorney named Harris will represent Mrs. Gable.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT - - - - - By Robert L. Ripley

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

THE SHIP THAT IS LIGHTENED BY ITS LOAD—The maximum light-water draft of the Mayflower is 17 feet 7 9-16 inches, while its load-water draft is 17 feet 6 11-16 inches. The reasons for this anomalous condition is that the aft end is the lowest point on the keel of the famous yacht. A full load (water, fuel and stores) tends to depress the forward end. The vessel pivots on the central portion with the result that the loaded ship displaces less water than when it is unloaded.

Lois Corbin, a pretty working girl, falls in love with Bruce Durand, the nephew of Charles Durand, one of Chicago's wealthiest men. Ashamed to have Bruce know where she lives, Lois leaves her family and goes to share an apartment with Margaret and Arlene, two of her girl friends. Arlene falls in love with Bruce herself, and sets about to get him. She tells him that Lois has gone out with another man one night when Bruce calls for her, when in reality she has gone to a movie because Arlene has told her that Bruce could not come down that night. Bruce is driven by jealousy to fall deliberately into the trap Arlene has set for him. Lois sends her engagement ring back to him and moves into a little room down on Rush street so that she will not have to live with Arlene.

Lois gets unbearably lonesome there, and finally swallows her pride and goes back to her home. Her mother is elated because she has come back to live with them, and even Lois is glad to be there once more. She realizes that this is her place, after all.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Durand have heard that their nephew has announced his intention to marry a girl who is not in the social register, and Mrs. Durand insists that they return at once to America and settle Bruce so that he will not do anything foolish.

Now Go on With the Story

CHAPTER XXVII

When the time arrived for Bruce Durand to have his engagement with Arlene Kennedy on Friday night he was sorry he had made it. Several times he had been tempted to go to the telephone and call her up and break it on the pretense that he would have to be working. But he never failed to remember that he desired to make Lois jealous, if such a thing were possible. The only reason he was going for Arlene tonight was to see whether Lois were there, and if she weren't to find out what she was doing.

If only he had carried out his numerous impulses to call Lois by phone and tell her that he was miserable without her, things would have been vastly different, but each time he took down the receiver his masculine pride forbade and he merely became more decided to see Arlene.

He spent hours dressing tonight. Bruce was not vain, but tonight if one had been watching him dress she could have called his actions nothing else but vanity. When a man becomes jealous, then he begins to woo in earnest. He leaves no stone unturned to show off his every good point. If he has good looks, he preens and prunes himself worse than any woman could ever think of doing.

Arlene was doing the same. She had left the office at noon that day on a plea of sickness and hurried over to the hair dressers to have her hair set in a deep wave which clung close to her head with the sticky fluid that the hair dressers use in giving finger waves.

"I won't comb it now," Arlene had said to the girl. "I'm going out on an important date tonight and I want it to be as deep as possible."

Carefully she pulled her little velvet toque over the artificial waves and went on with her various missions of the afternoon. She spent her last three dollars on a tiny bottle of perfume which had caught her fancy. She always had desired some expensive perfume but never had believed that any man she knew actually would appreciate it. She didn't feel that way about Bruce. He had been accustomed to going around with rich girls, she knew. He probably would notice that she smelled of Nuit de Noel. She would tell him that it had been a gift from some young man.

Arlene had been planning things all day, all week in fact. Things that she was going to do tonight to vamp Bruce Durand once and for all. She was really going after him in earnest now. Now that Lois was well out of the way. She hoped he had forgotten all about Lois by tonight. She would tell that she did not want to talk about her if he mentioned her. She wanted him to think that she was jealous of him anyway. A man enjoyed thinking that a girl was jealous of him. It appealed to his vanity, Arlene knew.

"That's where I live," Bruce said.

Arlene lay languidly in the bath tub, letting her mind wander further into the future than she had meant to do. She could see her name in the papers. "Arlene Kennedy of Monmouth, to wed Bruce Durand, nephew of Charles Durand. The wedding will take place at the North Shore Country club." or no, Arlene didn't think she wanted to be married there. She believed it would take place at that very fashionable Presbyterian church on Michigan boulevard "where one often saw gay parties coming down the steps showering great handfuls of rice on a bride and a bridegroom who were hurrying to get into a long, black automobile. She wondered whether Bruce's uncle had a big automobile with a chauffeur. Surely he had, she told herself. A wealthy old fellow such as he would have a car with a chauffeur.

She wondered whether they might not live at the brownstone mansion in Evanston for a time until they could get permanently located. That was the way people did sometimes. She had even read that in the papers. And they would take a honeymoon abroad, of course. The papers would say, "after a Mediterranean cruise," or "the bridal couple will make a European tour after which time they will be at home at 712 Mayfair avenue."

Arlene had no idea but that this would all come about in the manner she was planning. Her plans never had missed as far back as she could remember. True, her other plans had not been so extensive as the ones she had been making lately, but she still had plenty of confidence in herself. So far everything had turned out exactly as she had desired it. Better in fact. She had no idea that Lois would move out of the picture so readily. That made everything much easier for her.

Arlene wasn't quite ready when Bruce came for her. Purposely, of course. It was well to keep a man waiting for one just a few minutes. The man appreciated one just so much more. Not too long, however. Not long enough to make the men impatient. That didn't pay either.

Arlene heard Bruce knock on the door which she had left open a little way, and she called to him to come on in and sit down, that she would be out in a few minutes. Bruce paced up and down the floor. She had better hurry a little. Since he was nervous it wouldn't be wise to keep him waiting too long.

"Are you alone?" Bruce called to Arlene.

She got a distant thrill out of it at first. She was flattered to think that he would ask her a question like that. Thrilled until he continued, "Where is Lois, I mean?"

Lois, again. Well, she simply wouldn't listen to it tonight. She pretended as though she didn't hear him but he continued: "I suppose she's out with that Mack again."

"Yes, she is," Arlene answered.

She hoped that would be the end of conversation about Lois. She couldn't do her best when a fellow was referring to another girl. She She put the last few touches to her toilette and went out into the living room.

Arlene was a pretty girl and she had spared nothing on her makeup tonight. Her dress was of light blue satin, one that she had worn many times previously, but Arlen had a mother to whom she could send her clothes and they would come back looking like the latest fall models. Her appearance at least made Bruce take notice of her for a few minutes.

"That's a beautiful dress," he said quite impersonally.

"Thanks," Arlene mumbled, "I'm glad you like it. I bought it just to please you."

Bruce didn't add anything. Arlene walked over and sat down on the end of the davenport. It was easy to see that Bruce was disappointed at not finding Lois there, but Arlene wouldn't permit that to spoil her evening. They didn't stay long in the apartment. Bruce said something about it being "a long way out there," that they had better get started. Arlene got her coat and they departed.

It was chilly riding in Bruce's open roadster. Arlene huddled down to Bruce as closely as she could get without seeming too bold. They were driving along the North Shore road, the wind whipping past them with a mournful sound.

"That's where I live," Bruce said, slowing down at the curb of a big stone mansion that was exactly as Arlene had pictured it would be. She caught at his arm.

"Take me in," she said, "I want to see it on the inside."

Bruce looked at her for a minute. There wasn't any one there, of course. But he had no desire to stop. Well, he guessed that was as good a way to kill time as any other. It didn't make much difference where he was these days. He wasn't satisfied no matter what he was doing.

He turned the car into the driveway and stopped. Arlene did not wait for him to open the door. She jumped out hastily before he would have a chance to change his mind.

Q.—Where are the Indiana botanic gardens?—T. E. H.

A.—They are at Hammond, Ind.

Q.—How many ships of the German fleet were destroyed at Scapa Flow after the armistice?—R. M.

A.—The British admiralty says that 10 German battleships were sunk at Scapa Flow; one, the Baden, remaining afloat. Five light cruisers were sunk and three beached. Thirty destroyers were sunk, 18 beached, and two remained afloat.

Q.—What is the difference between table linen made of single damask and double damask?—T. W.

A.—In weaving linen the use of a single thread makes a single damask; two threads, a double damask. The double damask weave is the more desirable, and the pattern stands out distinctly, due to the play of light and shade on the threads. However, a good quality of single damask is better than a poor quality of double damask.

Q.—Who was the founder of William and Mary college?—M. M. H.

A.—The college was chartered in 1693 by the English king and queen whose name it bears and fostered by royalty and the care of the bishop of London. The college of William and Mary soon after its establishment became associated with all of the activities of early Virginia. Dr. James Blair was the moving spirit in the organization of William and Mary college and was the president from 1692 to 1743.

Q.—How is wood made to bend in circular shapes and stay that way afterwards?—M. B.

A.—In order to bend wood it should be put in a frame after steaming which will hold it in desired position until it is dried.

Q.—Why is it said that one should not die without seeing Carcassonne?—M. A. S.

A.—This is a remarkable walled city in the south of France which has a very mediaeval aspect and is a fascinating place to tourists.

Q.—How many acres are there in the cemeteries in Greater New York?—A. S.

A.—They comprise 4,070.2 acres.

Q.—Upon what date will Easter fall this year?—M. J. B.

A.—March 27.

Q.—Did Queen Victoria live to see the present Prince of Wales?—G. E. D.

A.—E. T. Cook, writing of the christening of the present Prince of Wales, says that for the first time in history a ruling queen took into her arms her descendant in the fourth generation.

Q.—What is tung oil used for?—L. D.

A.—For centuries the Chinese have grown tung-oil trees in a primitive way, and manufactured oil from their fruit by the crudest methods. Yet this oil has been the chief paint oil of China, and has been the basis for some of their finest lacquers, for the waterproofing of their fabrics and the main vehicle for their paints. From the soot of tung oil has been made the finest "India" ink; the oil has been used for dressing leather, for waterproofing silk, and for oiling and calking junks. The tung-oil tree is a beautiful ornament; it has large leaves like the catalpa, and a profusion of white blossoms in March. It grows rapidly, giving a pleasant shade while still young. The tree was introduced into the United States in 1905.

Q.—Where is the Jack Miner bird sanctuary?—R. A. V.

A.—It is located at Kingsville, Ont., about 30 miles southeast of Detroit. This is a dominion preserve located on what was formerly a private estate.

Q.—What is a boll-weevil?—C. S.

A.—It is an insect which lays its eggs in the bud of the cotton plant. Out of these eggs come worm-like larvae which eat the growing bud and prevent the production of cotton fiber. In American slang, boll-weevil is a term sometimes applied to a person who is a pest.

JAPS WARNED BY STIMSON

Tokyo Will Be Held Liable For Loss of Life

By CHARLES M'CANN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. (UP)—Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson is considering dispatch of formal notification that Japan will be held responsible for injury to Americans or damage to American property at Shanghai, and has informally warned the Japanese ambassador to that effect.

Revelation of Stimson's warning, adding its weight to a strong League of Nations note and the sobering news that two British bluejackets had been killed by shell fire at Shanghai, came today as United Press Shanghai dispatches told of an impending peace conference between Japanese and Chinese military leaders.

Stimson Is Firm

Stimson's warning was made to Ambassador Katsuji Debuchi in the sternest talk he has had with the smiling little Japanese during the five months of the Chinese-Japanese dispute.

So seriously does Debuchi seem to have taken the warning that he cabled his government Stimson was already drafting a note. United Press publication of Debuchi's message in Tokyo led to the admission of the true circumstances here.

Debuchi visited Stimson Monday. They talked for 45 minutes, an unusually long conference.

According to the version here, Stimson spoke pointedly of the gravity of Japan's insistence on using Shanghai foreign settlement as a base of military operations. He pointed out that other forces landed to remain in the settlement and protect their own nations.

Apology Received

Japan has announced bluntly her intention of driving the Chinese army 20 miles away from Shanghai if it will not retire peacefully. Therefore, in the American view, the Chinese are justified in responding to the Japanese bombardment, and it is held that Japan, not China really is responsible for any damage done in the settlement. It was emphasized here Stimson has not decided on an official warning.

Stimson received today a copy of an apology made by the Japanese consul general at Shanghai for the assault on American Vice Consul Arthur R. Ringwalt by Japanese armed volunteers. The apology will not and the incident. It did not mention Mrs. L. Young, an American of Chinese origin. It was in defending her from the volunteers that Ringwalt was beaten.

Two perfect bridge hands, one of 13 spades and the other of 13 diamonds, were drawn at two tables during the same evening at an Indianapolis card club.

Oklahoma Governor Challenges U. S. Court's Power In Truck Row

OFFICERS NAB STILLS, LIQUOR

Wichitan Makes $1,000 Bond on Charge

Percy Phillips was released early Wednesday evening under bond of $1,000 on a charge of possession of equipment for the manufacture of whisky following a raid by members of Constable Fred K. Smith's force three and one-half miles east of Wichita Falls on the Henrietta road.

The raid was made about 5:30 o'clock by Deputies D. C. Barker, George Gilliam and A. Y. Tevepaugh and netted a 60-gallon capacity still, 24 gallons of corn whisky and 500 gallons of mash, which was destroyed. The whisky was brought to the constable's office in four cases of one-half gallon jars.

The still was described by officers as the cleanest and best equipped of any captured here in the past several months. The equipment was located in a barn near a silo. Charges were filed before District Attorney Sam Spence. Mr. Smith, who has been ill with influenza, left his home to aid deputies in bringing the still and equipment into Wichita Falls.

A second raid by members of the constable's department Wednesday night netted a 60-gallon still. Two men and one woman were arrested in the raid and were placed in the Wichita county jail. The raid was made three miles east of Wichita Falls near where a similar raid was made earlier Wednesday. Constable Fred Smith said 600 gallons of mash were poured out. No whisky was taken.

Deputies Tevepaugh, Gilliam and L. E. Smith were assisted by a deputy constable from Electra on the raid. The still was housed in an old dairy barn.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 17. (AP)—Declaring he would ignore a federal court injunction issued to prevent him and the state of Oklahoma from forcing a motor truck line to obey state laws regulating size and weight of trucks, Governor Murray today gave a hint of military action in the matter.

He said he would not file an answer to the federal court suit and that none of the boards under his direct control would reply to the suit.

The governor's comments were contained in a letter to Edgar S. Vaught, United States district judge, and followed issuance by Judge Vaught of an injunction in the case brought by the Roadways Express, Inc., to block efforts of the state to force obedience to the state statutes.

Murray wrote to Vaught after the issuance by the federal court of an injunction against the governor. Murray declined to confirm the letter, saying "I don't even admit I wrote a letter to Vaught."

Text of Murray's letter cited the authority of the chief executive, declared no court except the supreme court of the United States had the power to interfere in a case in which the state is a party, contended Judge Vaught overstepped his authority in issuing the injunction, and quoted sections of the constitution which authorize the governor to call out the national guard.

Murray gave for his reasons for not filing an answer in the federal court suit, said the would not do so, and stated that state boards under his direct control would not do so.

VOTE ON BANK RELIEF TODAY

Removal of Federal Reserve Restrictions Urged

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—The credit expansion bill was advocated to the senate today as promising the dual accomplishment of forestalling threatened gold raids by foreign nations and instilling courage in American bankers and depositors.

Circled by an intent and attentive senate, Carter Glass, of Virginia, former Democratic secretary of the treasury, expounded the measure for two hours and concluded a round of questioning with an assurance the legislation would benefit the nation "within ten minutes," by checking "hoarding" by "timid and frightened bankers."

He pointed to France as the most notable of nations threatening raids on the American gold supply. He said the conjecture was that France was threatening withdrawal of gold held here for that country in an effort to influence America on the reparations and war debts problems.

Urges Preparedness

The Virginian agreed with Chairman Bcrah of the foreign relations committee and Senator Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania, that the United States could meet all the demands for gold that might be made, but he believed it best to be absolutely prepared for such a contingency by making the nation's supplies of "free gold" available to the banks. France, he said, is in a position now apparently to withdraw about $600,000,000. Other nations and foreign individuals have another $250,000,000 impounded in this country he estimated.

The bill is intended to supply many banks with cash by easing the restrictions of the federal reserve system so they can obtain money on paper not now eligible for rediscount. In addition the measure proposes that about $750,000,000 in "free gold" held by the treasury be used to bulwark the federal reserve system.

Cites Figures

Asserting the federal reserve system had not fallen down in the economic crisis, Glass produced statistics to show American bankers had failed to rediscount more than $8,000,000,000 of eligible securities in their banks today because of "cowardice" and a desire to keep "liquid" for emergencies.

"The trouble is," he asserted, pounding the desk, "the banks have ceased to function. The bankers have become timid and frightened. The chief psychological advantage of this bill is that it gives assurance to these timid bankers."

The measure drew the active support of Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, and Senator Walcott, Republican, Connecticut.

No opposition developed during the opening debate. A vote tomorrow seemed certain. Passage was assured.

Optimists Hear Talk By Fort Worth Pastor

Mankind possesses sufficient intelligence, courage, integrity and idealism to rebuild and reconstruct that world's civilization if those qualities are assembled in sincere devotion to that task, Dr. W. R. White of Fort Worth told members of the Optimist club Wednesday noon.

The speaker, pastor of the Fort Worth Broadway Baptist church, is conducting a series of meetings at the Lamar Avenue Baptist church this week, and was presented by Rev. S. F. Martin, pastor for the local congregation.

Men must be a part of the whole structure of civilization today, Dr. White said, matching the times with realism which sees both sides of life.

Two numbers were sung by T. D. Carroll of Fort Worth, accompanied by Miss Mildred Anderson.

Body of Slain Bank Bandit Identified As County Official

CLAREMORE, Okla., Feb. 17. (AP)—The body of the bandit shot to death near here after the robbery of the First State bank of Inola was identified this afternoon as that of George C. Whitmire, deputy county assessor of Stillwell, in Adair county. Robert Adkinson of Claremore made the identification. He said he had known Whitmire about 10 years.

Adkinson said Whitmire was divorced and had no dependents. He owned considerable farm land in Adair county and was driving his own automobile at the time of the robbery and subsequent fatal duel with two Rogers county deputy sheriffs.

The body was taken to Stillwell late today by a brother-in-law of Whitmire.

Panhandle Blizzards Are Losing Severity Of Early Cattle Days

AMARILLO, Texas, Feb. 17. (AP)—Panhandle blizzards are becoming less severe, and Amarillo is losing its reputation as "the coldest place on earth."

Records at the United States weather bureau prove the blizzards are not what they used to be, but this story goes back further than the records and quotes as an authority Mrs. Billy Dixon, widow of the famous Indian scout, army guide and buffalo hunter.

Dixon was in the Panhandle a greater part of the time during the seventies when neither man nor beast could find shelter and when there was nothing to break the fierceness of the blizzards.

"One of the worst storms my husband ever told me about was in 1871 when Snuffer's bull train, loaded with cord wood, for Hays City, Kan., got caught on a return trip from the Indian territory," Mrs. Dixon said. "They had unloaded government supplies at Camp Supply, and had loaded up with wood on Walnut creek.

"The blizzard struck with sudden fury about the time they went into camp for the night. The stock had been turned loose, and every one rushed out from the wagons to help retrieve the stock. Most of them became lost in the blinding snowfall. The cook was the only man to return to camp, and he was found frozen to death in a wagon where he had attempted to start a fire. Other members of the party were found by rescuers the following day, but most of them lost either a hand or a foot.

"The weather bureau warns us of the approach of such storms now. But they don't strike with such suddenness, and they are not as severe as they were then."

JUDGE LIMITS OIL ARGUMENT

Four Major Concerns May Be Defendants

AUSTIN, Feb. 17. (UP)—District Judge J. D. Moore announced tonight that arguments must end in the morning on whether the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, the Standard Oil company of California, the Socony-Vacuum corporation of New York and Shell Union Oil corporation can be held as defendants in Texas' $17,850,000 antitrust suit. The arguments began 10 days ago.

Atty. Gen. James V. Allred will then ask an immediate order either giving the state default judgment against the companies for $1,174,500 each or that Judge Moore specify a time within which they must answer the state's suit.

So far they have ignored the action, "friends of the court" arguing for them that the state has made a futile attempt to hold them as parties by attaching stock they owned in Texas companies.

If they cannot be held by the procedure followed, state counsel declared Texas is powerless to prevent any foreign company violating its laws with impunity.

The next stage in the gigantic antitrust suit will be an attack on the validity of the state antitrust act. The suit asserts 15 major oil companies, the American Petroleum institute and the Texas Petroleum Marketers association have violated that act in conduct of filling stations in accordance with the oil code of ethics approved by the federal trade commission.

Homicide Charge Filed Against Woman Driver

HOUSTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—Charges of negligent homicide and failing to stop and render aid were filed today against Mrs. Mildred Matthews, 34, in connection with the death Monday of Nathan Schonier, 39, a peddler, who was injured fatally when struck by a car.

Mrs. Matthews was arrested some time after her car struck a curb and turned over twice about a half-mile from where Schonier was struck.

New Strong Glass Will Be Used As Building Material

CORNING, N. Y., Feb. 16. (AP)—Architectural glass with the strength of light building material has been developed at a local glass works under direction of Frederick Carder.

An example of its uses appears in the new Empire State building in New York City in the form of a coping of glass around the walls of interior rooms.

Discussing applications Mr. Carder says: "Light comes through the windows in the day time and you arrange your furniture, pictures and other decorations accordingly. Then in the evening your windows become black and you turn on lights in entirely different portions of the rooms.

"Architectural glassware could be placed across the top or down the upper half or the entire length of windows. Lighted at night and properly reflected, this device would not only continue to light the room in a manner similar to that used in the day, but would prove of importance in its own right as a decorative motif of decided value."

Strengthening Trunk Muscles

There are two ways of strengthening the trunk muscles. One is through engaging in such sports as swimming, skating, riding, golfing, hiking or walking, and the other is through special calisthenics.

Probably the most available hobby for most people is walking. To do good the walking should be fairly brisk and enjoyable. On first taking up some form of outdoor recreation you should begin very slowly and try not to overdo at first. Keep on gradually increasing the time until you are spending more than one hour a day participatnig in some pleasant wholesome activity. It doesn't matter much what it is, whether gardening, rowing, tennis, hand ball or skipping rope, but it is very important that you should enjoy your exercise enough to feel stimulated afterward.

The second thing to do is to take some special system of physical culture exercise so that the muscles of the abdomen and back will be given particular benefit. In the great majority of cases these muscles have been neglected for years and the patient needs to use a good deal of attention and time to bring these important muscles back to normal strength and position. The pot-bellied appearance which so often proclaims middle age is primarily due to sagging or prolapsus from the insufficiently developed abdominal muscles.

Today is as good a time as you will find for starting your physical culture exercises, but remember that the value of exercise depends upon the way it is done. To really receive good from each exercise, do each one in a simple brisk manner, yet striving to keep complete control over all of your muscles. While going through each exercise in a wholehearted way, do not do them too many times at first. You should never be sore or stiff after any exercise even though you try to make each movement count. In exercising to develop the abdominal muscles there is no exercise that you can do standing up that is of much benefit. One has to lie on the back to take the exercises which will develop the abdominal muscles. The two best exercises for developing abdominal muscles are to lie on the floor on the back, and with the head against the floor, raise the feet alternately and together, and then with the feet against the floor raise the head and upper trunk, relaxing after each movement. For developing the back muscles, the exercise of standing and touching the hands to the floor and coming back to an upright position is good, also the exercise taken while lying face downward such as raising the feet and the head.

Exercise, if used together with a good diet, can turn weakness into strength, poor circulation into good circulation, overcome that middle-aged appearance, give you lasting endurance and turn the tired feeling into one of well-being and abundant health. No one can exercise your muscles but you yourself. If you have begun exercising, keep it up; if you haven't started, today is the time to begin.

Here are some helpful articles which I have prepared on the subject, "Exercising." I will be pleased to send them to you if you will write to me in care of this newspaper and enclose a larrge, self-addressed envelope and a two-cent stamp for each article. QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Quantity of Food

Question—L. asks: "What about the amount of food taken daily by each person?"

Answer—You have asked me one of the most difficult questions in dietetics to answer, but here is perhaps the simplest way to answer it: All foods containing high caloric value, such as starches and proteins, used in very limited quantitities; while the non-starchy vegetables, both cooked and raw, may be used in comparatively unlimited quantities without harm. Just try cutting your starch and protein foods to about one-third of what you have been using and "fill up" with greens. Do a little experimenting, yourself, and you will soon find yourself feeling better in every way when less of the "heavy" foods are used.

Signs of Tuberculosis

Question—Mrs. G. MacF. asks: "Aren't the first signs of tuberculosis a cough and general tiredness? A person not subject to many colds or coughs is not in great danger of getting it, is she?"

Answer—The one who is not subpect to coughs and colds is, of course, in less danger of contracting tuberculosis, but the best way to prevent it is to use a well-balanced diet and see that you do not get over-tired. Also make a strong effort to develop good diaphragmatic breathing.

Green Beans and Macaroni

Question—Ethel asks: "Is there any reason why green beans and macaroni should not be eaten together?"

Answer—Green beans and macaroni make an excellent combination.

About Bud Stapleton

Mr. Frank Joseph Stapleton, otherwise Bud, Spudder first baseman 'way back yonder in 1929, will be in the managerial role again this year. Bud, who managed the Springfield club of the Eastern league into a third-place berth last season, has been named to pilot the Bridgeport club of the same league this year.

The assignment is nothing new for the former Spudder, as he was manager of the Bridgeport club in 1926 and again in 1927. The job is all the more attractive because Bud was born and raised in Bridgeport.

Stapleton apparently is right up there when it comes to being a manager. He gave Bridgeport first division clubs in '26 and '27, and then after three years mingling with the boys as a player, turned out another first division outfit at Springfield. Bud has many friends in this city who will wish him all the luck in the world with the Bridgeport club this season.

The story of how Bud came to Wichita Falls is an entertaining one. At the head of the Wichita Falls Spudders in those days was one J. Alvin Gardner, a gent who knows a ball player when he sees one, and who, when he wants one in a hurry, sees that he gets him. Along in April, 1929, Gardner decided that Bud Stapleton was the first baseman his club needed. And since the club needed a first baseman in a hurry, Gardner picked up the telephone, called Montreal, Canada, and had the matter settled pronto.

Bud broke in with Pittsfield of the Eastern in 1921, went to Waterbury, Conn., in 1925, managed Bridgeport in '26 and '27, played with Montreal in 1928, with the Spudders in '29, and with the Beaumont Exporters in 1930. His big bat, once so useful to the Spudders, was a pain to Prexy Huff's two-man pitching staff in 1930, as many of us will recall.

The 1927 Club

Some time ago we promised our faithful following a roster of the Spudders' 1927 club, giving the present addresses of that gallant bunch of gents who brought us our one and only Texas league and Dixie pennant. Through the combined efforts of Secretary Airey and Milton Price, secretary of the Texas league, every member of the old team was traced except Pete Lapan, venerable catcher, whose California address could not be obtained.

Here is the list:

W. Carl Williams, manager-pitcher, Santa Anna, Texas.

E. J. (Pete) Turgeon, second base, 1824 Ninth, Wichita Falls.

Frank Tobin, catcher, care Labor Temple, Seattle, Wash.

George Payne, pitcher, 42 South Bellevue, Indianapolis, Ind.

Stanley Benton, shortstop, 3030 Gallia street, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Venzke Shatters One-Mile Record

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, New York, Feb. 17. (AP)—With a dazzling burst of finishing speed, Gene Venzke, school boy running marvel, shattered the world indoor one-mile record for the second time in 10 days when he raced the distance in four minutes, 10 seconds to win the Baxter mile, feature of the New York Athletic club.

While a crowd of nearly 10,000 spectators roared him on throughout the last few laps, Venzke turned on the steam to beat his foremost rival, Leo Lermond of the New York A. C., by fully 40 yards and break the tape amid a thundering ovation.

Venzke's time of 4:10 surpassed his own world indoor record of 4:11 1-5, made at the Millrose A. A. meet Feb. 6.

Four 'Tea and Toast' Strikers Back on Team

ATHENS, Feb. 17. (AP)—Four of the six boys who quit the Athens High school basket ball team recently because Coach Jimmy Kitts neglected to buy their tea and toast after a game, were issued uniforms today. Coach Kitts lifted his suspension on four of the boys when they sent in verbal and written apologies.

Troy Tompkins and Weldon Browning, remaining "strikers" are on the suspended list and Coach Kitts insists they will be until they have turned in their apologies for failing to show up for a recent game along with the four who today returned to the team.

Henriettans Hold Holton's Boys in First Half

Special to The Record News

HENRIETTA, Texas, Feb. 17.—The Wichita Falls Coyotes, ranked among the favorites in district No. 4 of the interscholastic league, completed their preparations for the district tournament at Wichita Falls this week-end by defeating the Henrietta cagers here tonight, 34 to 26.

The victory was the 19th in a row for the Coyotes, and brought their season's practice record up to 39 victories out of 41 contests with high school teams in this region.

At that, however, the Coyotes could have looked a lot better tonight. It was Henrietta's night for a hot game, and the Pack was not given any opportunity at all to loaf. By superior hustle and passing the local lads went every step of the way with the visitors from Wichita Falls the first half, which ended with the score in an 18 to 18 tie. It was only in the last half, and then by a slim margin, that the Coyotes sailed to victory.

Jackson and Bargg, forwards, were the big guns in Henrietta's attack. Jackson roped five field goals for a total of 10 points, while Bragg went his mate one better, with five field goals and one charity heave. Estes, forward, and Janeway, guard, led the winners' attack. Estes collected five field goals for 10 points and Janeway sank four field buckets and handout for nine points.

The score:

Service Bowlers Set New Record

The Service Printing company bowlers, fifth place entry in the City league, set an all-time alley record at the Spudder Bowling emporium last night in winning three straight games from the Texas Electric Service company five. The Service bowlers toppled a total of 3,011 pins. Al Parker, sports editor of the Wichita Daily Times, led the record-breaking attack with a total of 688 pins for the three games.

The Palace of Blooms team won two out of three games from Groves Shoe Repairers, and the Marshal and Johns team won a like number from the Bailey-Moline team. Scores:

District Four Champ Expected to Meet Childress Winner In Bi-District Game

Interscholastic League Heads Will Make Pairings But Old Custom Expected to Be Followed

Just what team the winner of the district No. 4 interscholastic league tournament here Friday and Saturday will meet in the bi-district game remained uncertain yesterday, but if the league's executive committee follows precedent the district four champions will play the winner of the district three tournament, which will be held simultaneously with the Wichita Falls event this week-end at Childress.

A. K. Pressos, registrar of the Wichita Falls High school, pointed out yesterday that league officials each year designate anew the pairings for the various bi-district basket ball games throughout the state. For the last several seasons, however, the district four winner has been pitted against the district three champion, and it is regarded as virtually certain that such will be the arrangement this year.

Luncheon Plans Uncertain

Meanwhile preparations for the tournament here went forward. Approximately 100 athletes and coaches from the nine counties in the district will be on hand. The forces of the senior and junior chamber of commerce were well organized to see that visiting athletes and mentors are well entertained while here, though definite plans awaited the arrival of the visitors. A luncheon for the basket ball players has been proposed, with Tom Vague, local sportsman, as chairman of a committee to tend to this event, but Mr. Vague said Wednesday the affair will not be held if it does not meet with the approval of visiting coaches. It was planned to have the luncheon at the Kemp hotel Friday at noon. Many of the teams will have to go into action immediately after noon, however, and Mr. Vague was apprehensive lest some of the coaches object to their athletes attending a public function before important games, especially when the players are usually restrained to a special diet.

As matters now stand, Mr. Vague said, the luncheon will be held if the coaches approve and will be definitely cancelled if they think it will work a hardship on their teams. The Junior chamber of commerce, Mr. Vague explained, is anxious to please the visitors and no function likely to impair their effectiveness in the tournament will be insisted upon.

Tourney Schedule

Teams from Archer, Baylor, Clay, Jack, Montague, Throckmorton, Wichita, Wilbarger and Young counties will participate in the tournament. The schedule of games follows:

Friday

Game No. 1, 8:30 a. m.—Wichita Falls vs. Electra.

Game No. 2, 9:40 a. m.—Harrold vs. Petrolia.

Game No. 3, 10:50 a. m.—Olney vs. Nocona.

Game No. 4, 12:40—Masters vs. Bomarton.

Game No. 5, 7 p. m.—Jacksboro vs. winner game No. 1 (Wichita Falls or Electra.)

Game No. 6, 8 p. m.—Holliday vs. winner game No. 2 (Harold or Petrolia.)

Saturday

Game No. 7, 9 a. m.—Winner of game No. 5 (Wichita Falls, Jacksboro or Electra) vs. winner game No. 3 (Nocona or Olney).

Game No. 8, 10:05 a. m.—Winner game No. 4 (Masters or Bomarton) vs. winner game No. 6 (Holliday, Harrold or Petrolia.)

Game No. 9, 8 p. m.—Winner of game No. 7 (Wichita Falls, Jacksboro, Electra, Nocona or Olney) vs. winner game No. 8 (Holliday, Harrold, Petrolia, Masters or Bomarton.)

J. Anton Koch is handling the consignments of these birds.

DEMPSEY GETS TEST TONIGHT

Mauler Meets King Levinsky in 4-Round Bout

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
United Press Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Feb. 17.—Jack Dempsey reaches the cross-roads of his comeback campaign tomorrow night when he meets King Levinsky, Chicago's clouting clown, in a 4-round exhibition bout in the Chicago stadium.

The result will determine whether Dempsey is through as a first-class fighter or whether he has a chance to beat back along the comeback trail which was too tough and treacherous for Jim Corbett, Bob Fitzsimmons, Jim Jeffries and Jess Willard.

Levinsky Is Dangerous

In meeting Levinsky, Dempsey emerges from the "soft touch" league for the most important test he has faced since he began his exhibition tour at Reno, Nev., last August 19. Levinsky is ranked No. 7 among the heavyweights by the National Boxing association. He is a dangerous opponent for Dempsey because of his punch, a terrific round-house right which floored Tommy Loughran three times, hurt Primo Carnera and dropped Leo Lomski nine times in five rounds.

The match is advertised as a 4-round no-decision exhibition, but it will be a fight in everything except name. The gloves, which weigh 9½ ounces each—3½ ounces more than regulation fighting mitts—take the match out of the exhibition class and bring it into the realm of a possible knockout.

Dempsey is fresh from a knock-out-a-minute in two bouts at Flint, Mich., Monday night, and a 3-round knockout over Meyer (K. O.) Christner at Cleveland last Thursday night.

Sell-Out Assured

Not only does Dempsey still have plenty of dynamite in both fists, but, at 36, more than five years after he lost his title to Gene Tunney, he remains the greatest attraction in the boxing game.

A complete sell-out is assured with no less than 500 ringside seats left, and the demand for tickets for an indoor bout unprecedented in Chicago ring history. The crowd probably will exceed 23,000, with about 2,000 persons seeing the bout from the aisles and runways. The previous world's indoor record is 22,430.

The gate receipts are expected to reach $72,000 of which Dempsey will get about $35,000 and Levinsky about $9,000.

It will be Dempsey's first appearance in fighting regalia in a Chicago ring since he tried to wrest the heavyweight title from Gene Tunney in Soldier field in September, 1927.

BOBCATS GROOM FOR TOURNEY

District 3 Meet to Open Friday at Childress

Special to The Record News.

CHILDRESS, Texas, Feb. 17.—Sunk far down in the dope bucket, the Childress Bobcats nevertheless are training hard and are determined to make a showing in the district 3 interscholastic league basket ball tournament opening here Friday afternoon.

Crowell, defending champion of the district, is a rapid-fire favorite to repeat this year, though both Memphis and Wellington have classy outfits that may quite unexpectedly give the sports scribes something different to write about.

Preliminary games are expected to be completed Friday night. Semi-finals will be played Saturday morning, and the final game will be played Saturday night.

Nine counties will be represented in the tournament, as follows: Childress, Hardeman, King, Foard, Cottle, Motley, Hall, Wheeler, and Collingsworth.

REGULAR MEMPHIS CENTER IS ILL

Special to The Record News

MEMPHIS, Texas, Feb. 17.—Memphis Cyclone won the county championship on the local court in two fast games from Leslie. The first game was a 36 to 17 thriller. The last game ended in a 43 to 22 score. Memphis will go to Childress this week to play for the district championship. Memphis will go there with a record of 30 wins and one loss but the Cyclones will go into the tourney without their regular center, John Smith, who is out with pneumonia. This will leave the team considerably crippled, but the boys intend to "bring home the bacon." Crowell, last year's district champion, is slated to win again this year, but the coach intends to give them a game long to be remembered.

"Big Ed" Khoury, 230-pound boxer at Louisiana State university, is seeking to regain the Southern conference heavyweight title, which he lost last year to Doyless Hill of Tulane.

Manager Morse Surrounded By Good Material For 1932 Dallas Club

DALLAS, Feb. 17. (AP)—Manager Hap Morse of the Dallas Steers will have one of the best collections of baseball talent in the Texas league to start spring training March 10.

That does not mean that Morse's team will win the pennant. He had good material last year until serious injuries wrecked him team. All the last year cripples have recovered and will be back this year.

When Morse blows the spring training whistle, he will have as holdover pitchers Grady Adkins, George Murray, Oskar Fuhr and Jimmy Minogue. Fuhr and Minogue are southpaws. Minogue is an experienced rookie, while Adkins, Murray and Fuhr are class men.

Around these hurlers, Morse will build his 1932 pitching staff. Of the holdovers, Murray won 20 and lost 17 last year. Minogue won 16 and lost 9. Fuhr won 8 and lost 11. Adkins won 10 and lost 14. Morse believes Adkins, who lost seven shutout games last year by one, two and three runs, and Fuhr will have good years.

George Dumont, veteran from Minneapolis, has been signed as a free agent. He may or may not come through. Morse is depending on a flock of youngsters to give him at least two rookie pitchers. He believes Archie Wise from Waxahachie, O. Nitcholas from McKinney and George Moody from Dallas will make the grade. All are semi-pro tryouts.

Five catchers will try for the two open jobs. William Styles, who was with Cincinnati last year, looms as the first stringer. He is a consistent hitter, experienced and promises to plug a weak spot in the catching department. Styles caught 34 games last year, batted .241 against National league pitching and fielded .949.

Horace Powers from the Eastern league is another experienced maskman who seems sure of a regular job unless Frank Garrity from the Chicago White Sox beats him out. Garrity, a Holy Cross graduate, comes to Dallas on option from the White Sox. Irvin Power, semi-pro; Bill Atwood, who was with the Steers a while last season, are other catchers.

Morse is set on his infield except second base where the hardest fight in the Texas league looms this spring between Cecil Stewart and Bernie James.

Henry "Hank" Bonura will be the first baseman. He ranked third among the leading Southern association hitters last season with an average of .375. From New Orleans he went to Indianapolis and played in 23 games where he batted .269. Bonura was purchased outright.

The battle of battles will be at second. Cecil Stewart was due to play second last year but broke his leg a day before the season opened. Bernie James was purchased to fill Stewart's place and was one of the best second sackers in the league. He fielded .952 and batted .262 in 91 games at second.

Lou Brower has been purchased from Detroit to play shortstop. He started the season with Kansas City and proved good enough to go with Detroit in mid-season. Then he was shipped to Toronto.

Ernie Holman, who suffered two injuries last year that hampered his work around third, will be back at the hot corner. He fielded .917 and batted .294 last year.

Naming his three starting outfielders will be another tough assignment for Morse. Leroy "Cowboy" Jones, George Loepp, Sam Langford, Rip Radcliff and Tom Nash will be the pasture guardians.

Jones, Loepp and Langford are holdovers. Swinging from the south side, Jones played 114 games last year and batted .308. Loepp, one of the best ball hawks in the league, played 134 games and batted .253. Sam Langford played 147 games and batted .321.

Rip Radcliff played with Shreveport and led the Texas league in hitting with .361. He has the right field job cinched.

MUNDAY PLANS GOLF TOURNEY

Series of Inter-City Matches May Be Held

Special to The Record News

MUNDAY, Texas, Feb. 17.—The Munday Golf and Country club will go in for golf in a big way during the approaching season if plans outlined at a membership meeting of the club Tuesday are carried out.

Tom Benge is president of the club.

An "eye opener" tournament to launch the season's play within the next two or three weeks, a series of intercity matches and the Tri-County association tournament, probably early in May, are included among the activities planned for the spring and summer. The Tri-County association includes clubs in Baylor, Knox and Haskell counties.

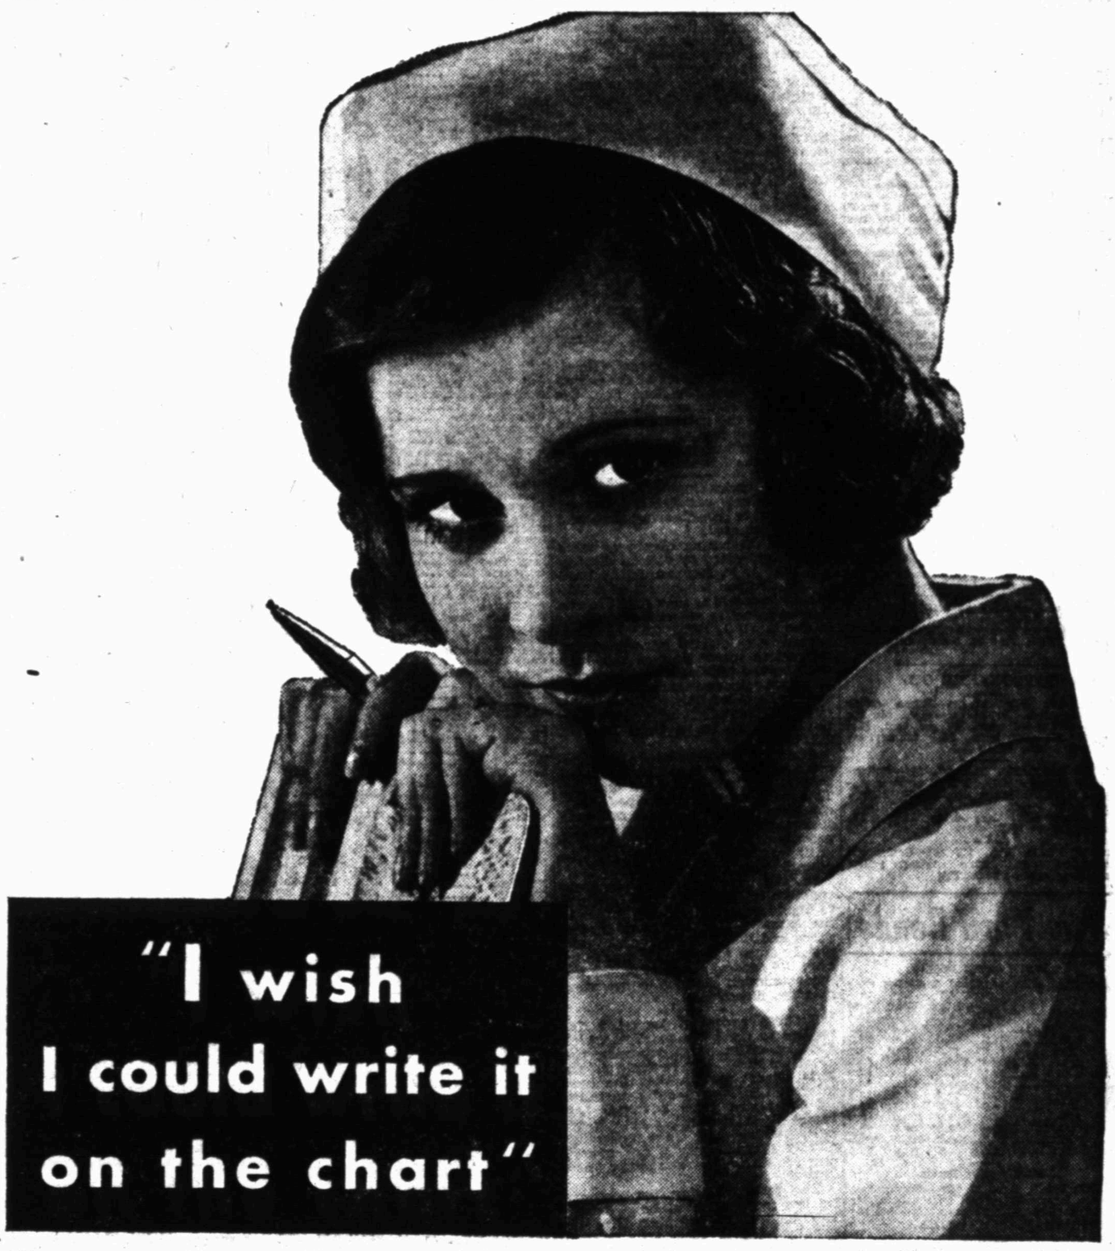

Abilene and Wichita Falls clubs will be among those sought as opponents in inter-city matches.

Munday has about as sporty a nine-hole course as will be found in a town of this size anywhere. The fairways need only mowing to put in first class shape and the sand greens are in good condition. The course measures about 3,200 yards in length.

John M. Biggerstaff of Sulphur Springs, Texas, has only one leg, but plans to play in major golf tournaments in 1932.

"ALL men should look alike to a nurse. But they don't—not by any means. We're human after all—so appearance makes a big difference. It's hard to serve a slovenly looking person with the same courtesy you extend one who makes every effort to keep himself tidy.

"What I'm leading up to is simply this:—some men use illness as an excuse to avoid shaving. Of course many patients can neither shave themselves nor have a barber. But I'm not thinking of them. I'm talking about convalescent patients or others in the hospital for observation or minor illness.

"I can't tell you how unpleasant it is to care for a man who tolerates a growth of stubble on his face. All the girls feel this way about it. Just ask any nurse."

There is no object in publishing her name—but a trained nurse volunteered the above statement during a casual conversation. In light of this opinion and the many others like it can we be accused of over-emphasizing the importance of a clean shave?

If you shave carefully every day or twice a day when necessary—this message only serves its purpose by calling your attention to the razor blade Gillette is making today. We are sincere in our statement—this is positively the sharpest blade Gillette has ever produced. Today's Gillette is unequalled for use on tender skin. It actually gives you a far better shave—the kind you can prove is clean and smooth by running your hand across your face.

Buy a package of Gillette blades on our positive money-back guarantee. Get shaving comfort without parallel or return the package with unused blades to your dealer and he'll refund the entire purchase price.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—A moderate opening advance in cotton was later given up under southern selling and realizing.

May contracts after advancing to 7.05 at the start reacted to 6.93, or 6 points net lower, but the trade buying continued on the decline and the closing tone was steady at net declines of 3 to 5 points.

The demand from the trade seemed more general than recently, again coming through houses with Liverpool, continental and far eastern connections as well as from domestic sources. Also there appeared to be some broadening of commission house demand and covering.

Buyers were supplied by realizing and southern selling at these figures, and the more urgent demand tapered off during the middle of the day with prices working gradually lower.

Last hour selling sent March off to 6.75 and October to 7.34 or 4 to 6 points net lower. Closing quotations were a point or two up from the lowest.

Part of the late selling was attributed to the action of the stock market.

Liverpool cables said the advance in that market was due to trade calling covering and general buying and also reported a large inquiry for cotton cloths with a fair business in cotton yarns. Exports today 12,133 making 5,594,724 so far this season. Port receipts 23,348. U. S. port stocks 4,823,334.

Futures closed steady, 3 to 5 points lower. Spot steady; middling 6.90.

NEW ORLEANS

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 17. (AP)—The cotton market was fairly active today but prices showed narrow fluctuations. After advancing 4-7 points in the early trading on very favorable cables, the market turned easier owing to some weakness in stocks and wheat and hedge selling and at the lowest of the afternoon showed losses from the early highs of 11-13 points. There was a slight recovery of 2 points at the end, and the close was steady, net unchanged to 3 points net down for the day.

The market made an active and firmer opening. Liverpool cables came in 5-6 penny points better than due and private cables stated that there was general buying, shorts covering and trade calling. Manchester cabled that there was a larger cloth inquiry and a fair business in yarns.

Prices made new lows in late trading at 6.75 for March, 6.94 for May and 7.09 for July, down 11-13 points from the early highs. There was a slight rally of 2 points at the end on covering and the two most active months, March and May closed 3 points net lower for the day.

Liverpool is due to come in tomorrow on New Orleans 4-5 penny points down.

Port receipts 24,113; for week 105,471; for season 8,124,906; last season 7,872,439; exports 42,233; for week 122,874; for season 5,443,186; last season 4,688,307. Port stocks 4,870,321; last year 4,125,444. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 175,205; last year 61,319. Spot sales at southern markets 22,165; last year 27,435.

Futures closed steady net unchanged to 3 points down:

Tuesday's Gains On Stock Market Wiped Out By Drop In Quotations

By BROADAN WALL
Universal Service

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—Net results of today's stock market was virtually to return stocks to Monday's closing levels. At least the average of leading issues about canceled their Tuesday gains.

The wide-forecast "statement from Washington," in which the market apparently placed great hopes, came in the form of the president's appeal for greater governmental economies. This sort of statement is most cheering to fundamentalists, who look askance at the "inflationary" gestures, but the market apparently was disappointed that something more immediately stimulating was not forthcoming.

Commodities, too, were reactionary, the wheat market's setback being explained to disappointment over absence of "prohibition developments." Before reacting, however, wheat had touched a new peak.

In stocks, it was evident that the technical position had become somewhat impaired and, in the absence of additionally constructive news, profit-taking and perhaps a greater proportion of short-selling had their effect on quotations. Volume was maintained above two million shares.

American Telephone and Telegraph's directors did the expected in voting the regular quarterly dividend, but the stock immediately declined almost six points net. Shorts in this stock suffered vicious loss in the sharp rise, especially as it became known that the dividend would be maintained for another quarter at the previous rate. New short selling, however, took place today on the theory that the action maintains the dividend in the doubtful class.

All of the leaders were down for the day, declines ranging from fractions to eight points in Auburn; Steel dropped 2½, New York Central 2¼, Chesapeake & Ohio 2¾.

Even the bulls now concede that the immediate future of the market rests chiefly in the technical position. The majority of houses have experienced declines in the past week in their debit balances, indicating continued selling of stocks, but in not a few instances the short accounts in brokerage houses either are close to last week's figures or, in exceptional instances, actually above.

Until the stock exchange officially discloses the figures of the period since last week's violent rise, the size of the short account must remain known only to a limited group. It is known, however, that Washington has exhibited great interest in the figures.

Rise in carloadings of over 13,000 was genuinely satisfying, but steel reports were less cheering than had been anticipated.

A few discerning observers were deeply impressed by official disclosure that J. P. Morgan & Co. have "insisted" upon repayment of a $11,700,000 loan which they made to the Missouri Pacific railroad, and which is due April 1, 1932. The bankers, according to official announcement refused to renew half of this loan even on the proviso that the reconstruction finance corporation advance the other half. Missouri Pacific, incidentally, has applied to the R. F. C. for a total loan of $23,250,000.

After the market closed announcement was made that the Southern Pacific dividend had been omitted. This can only be described as a complete surprise. The railroads admittedly require sizeable financial accommodation to tide them over until traffic expands sufficiently to permit "public financing."

In the meantime the banking community appears more anxious to liquidate their present loans to the carriers than to extend necessary additional funds—and very plainly some bankers are unwilling even to render cooperation to the reconstruction finance corporation in some directions.

Brokers report a tendency for traders to fight the market, which has the result of maintaining the short account. But in some stocks it is almost certain that the bear interest has been greatly curtailed by the sharp price advance. Already it is noticeable that some pools, which had been operating chiefly against shorts, are experiencing difficulty attracting new buyers.

The most pleasing performance by the market would be a return to calm trading and then if prices are maintained there will be reason for greater faith. Under such desirable circumstances, discriminating purchasing and sponsoring could be undertaken with a view toward attracting investment buying.

Having been favored by the recent sharp rise, however, the more courageous bull groups are likely to continue their attempts to win public favor.

Corn—No. 2 mixed, 40@41c; No. 2 white, 41@42c; No. 2 yellow, 48@49c.

Delivered group three points:

Oats—No. 2 red, 23@24½c.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Feb. 17. (AP)—Wheat fell more than two cents a bushel today following upturns which had taken it to a new top record for the season.

Advances in wheat value were simultaneous with fresh widespread circulation of reports about "favorable" official announcements expected from Washington. Subsequent tumbles in prices came chiefly after President Hoover's special message to congress was received. Many traders expressed disappointment and said they had expected he would dwell upon prohibition or some other subject likely to have considerable influence on the grain markets.

Wheat closed unsettled, 1½@1⅝c under yesterday's finish, corn 1¼@1½c down, oats ⅛@⅜c off, and provisions varying from 5 cents decline to 12 cents gain.

Corn and oats paralleled the wheat market. Country offerings of corn were of fair volume and shipping demand here was slow.

Provisions averaged higher, responsive to hog market upturns.

Closing indemnities: Wheat—May 59⅝@59⅞c, 61⅝@61⅞c; July 60⅝@60⅞c, 62⅝@63c; Sept. 62⅝@64⅛. Corn—May 39⅝c, 40⅝@40⅞c; July 41⅝@41⅞c, 42⅝c.

PIT NOTES

CHICAGO, Feb. 17. (US)—Buying power is considerably broader in the wheat pit, but is rather reluctant to follow sharp advances. There is a tendency to take profits on all substantial upturns and replace lines on the reactions. Foreign buying tends to appear on the breaks inspiring confidence on the part of speculative purchasers. Failure of export buying to follow bulges is one of the influences leading to realizing on moderate upturns.

Holders have been anxious to liquidate stocks of No. 2 hard wheat at Atlantic ports, Broomhall says, but adds that a large portion of this supply has now been disposed of, accounting for the hardening of premiums.

Persistent strength in continental markets is undoubtedly responsible for the support which appears on reactions in the Liverpool futures market. Continental stocks have decreased sharply and importers there are somewhat nervous over the tendency of North American markets to advance.

The open interest in wheat futures increased over 2,000,000 bushels on the decline Tuesday, the first sharp upturn since fall.

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK REVIEW

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 17. (AP) (U.S.D.A.)—Fed steers and yearlings found a slow outlet at mostly steady to 25c lower prices with better grades showing the decline owing to narrow outside demand. Most of the short fed offerings were taken at $4.50@6.50 with plain dogies down to $3.65. Country demand for stockers and feeders remains very limited and prices were little changed. Most replacement steers sell at $4.00@5.50 with occasional lots of light stockers up to $6.65. Accumulated arrivals for the week at 11 markets of 105,000 numbered 3,000 less than last week.

A generally stronger tone was reflected in hog trade with values quoted as mostly 5@10c higher and spots 15c up. Chicago and St. Louis scored up to $4.30 for best butchers.

With most of the better grade fed wooled lambs selling at $6.00@6.75 and consignments of clipped kinds at $5.00@5.50 and a few at $5.75 values were considered as steady to 25c higher. A shipment of all shorn Texas lambs in Kansas City turned at $5.10.

CHICAGO, Feb. 17. (INS)—Hogs—Receipts 14,000; 10c higher. Top, $4.25; bulk, $3.55@4.20; heavy, $3.75@4.00; medium, $4@4.25; light, $4@4.25; light lights, $3.85@4.15; packing sows, $3.15@3.60; pigs, $3.25@3.75; holdovers, 3,000.

Cattle—Receipts 8,000; steady. Calves—Receipts 2,000; steady. Beef steers: Good and choice, $7.50@9.00; common and medium, $4.50@7.50; yearlings, $6@9.00. Butcher cattle: Heifers, $3@6.50; cows, $2.50@4.00; bulls, $3@4.50; calves, $6@7.50; feeder steers, $3.50@5.50; stocker steers, $3@5.25; stocker cows and heifers, $3@4.00.

Sheep—Receipts 10,000; 25c higher. Lambs, $6@6.75; common, $4@5.50; yearlings, $4.50@5.25; feeders, $4.75@5.25; ewes, $1.50@4.00.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 17. (AP)—Cattle—Receipts 600. Calves—Receipts 100; good light yearlings to $5.50; bulk other beeves of value to sell at $4.50@5.25; butcher classes steady, yearling heifers of grain finish to $5.00; best fat cows, $2.50@2.75; butcher heifers, $2.50@3.50; bulls, $1.75@2.25; calves steady; fancy light veals to $5.50; heavy calves, $4@4.50; stockers and feeders steady to slightly stronger.

Hogs—Receipts 800; 5 to 10c higher; outsider top, $4.20; packer top, $4.10; sows and stags steady at $3.00.

Sheep—Receipts 100; indications for stronger trade on native lambs and unchanged basis for sheep; prospective top load lot lambs, $5.75; medium-good sort, $4@4.50.

FORT WORTH, Feb. 17. (AP) (U.S.D.A.)—Hogs—Receipts 600; steady to 10c higher; rail and truck top, $4.25; 200-pound rail butchers, $4.25; bulk better 175 to 250-pound truck hogs, $4.20@4.25; packing sows, $3.25 or steady.

Cattle—Receipts 1,500. Calves—Receipts 300; steers and yearlings fully steady; slaughter steers, $3.35@5.25; common grades, $3.35@3.65; good lightweights, $5.25; better fat yearlings, $5@5.50; cows too scarce to test values; stocker trade nominal; slaughter calves steady; carlots fairly good heavies to $4.50; small lots good heavies to $4.85; cull sorts, $2@2.50.

DRY GOODS MARKET

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—Cotton goods today continued to show steadiness with a little more business coming forward on wash fabrics and other seasonal lines.

Rayons were quiet for the day and production is being held closely to orders. The strike of dress shop operatives has unsettled women's wear lines. Men's wear is quiet. Heavyweight underwear lines are expected to be opened shortly at substantial reductions. Burlaps are slightly firmer.

Net tons miles are the number of tons of freight multiplied by the distance carried.

SURRENDERS TO SHERIFF

King Norris, convicted on a liquor charge last year and given two years in the penitentiary by a jury in district court here, surrendered himself to Sheriff Perry Browning Wednesday for commitment to Huntsville. His case was affirmed several weeks ago by the court of criminal appeals, and the mandate recently was received here. Norris was convicted of having sold whisky to a group of high school boys at Iowa Park.

BOSTON WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—Most all domestic wools except short combing 64s and finer grades of western lines are very quiet. Prices generally show little change. Short combing and clothing 64s and finer western wools are selling at about the same prices which prevailed last week. Occasional offerings of the semibright 48, 50s combing fleece wool are available at slightly lower than last week's prices of such offerings appear to be limited.

Railroads And Auto Concerns Indicted

DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 17. (UP)—Four leading automobile manufacturing companies and two railroads were indicted by a federal grand jury here today on charges of violating the interstate commerce and Elkins acts providing against discriminatory freight rates.

Maximum fines upon conviction for the offenses total $3,450,000.

The indictments, returned after a several months inquiry into practices of the automobile companies, name the De Soto Motor Car company, the Reo Motor Car company, Olds Motor Car company, Dodge Motor company, and the New York Central and Grand Trunk railroads.

Agents for the motor companies and railroads will be arraigned before Judge Ernest A. O'Brien in United States district court here next week.

Sterling Refuses to Extradite Suspect

AUSTIN, Feb. 17. (AP)—Governor R. S. Sterling today refused to grant a requisition presented by the governor of Missouri for delivery to that state of Victor Maddi, arrested in Houston on a charge of slaying a Kansas City policeman.

Meanwhile, Maddi, accused of manning a machine gun that killed a policeman who interfered in an attempted holdup of the Mercantile Trust company in Kansas City on Feb. 8, obtained his release from jail on bail. He was arrested in Houston a few days after the officer was shot to death.

In a hearing before Governor Sterling yesterday, Maddi's wife and others testified that he was in Houston on Feb. 8 and had been there continuously since Jan. 26.

Dress Shops Raided In Garment Strike

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (US)—Raids on two dressmaking shops broke the comparative calm of the strike of 28,000 ladies garment makers today.

In one shop five girl workers fainted as the raiding party of men and women burst in and in the other the manufacturer was punched around, but otherwise, damage was slight and the raiders, 22 in all, were arrested.

Except for those two outbursts, the west side garment district, under heavy police guard, was quiet during the day.

MILK PRICE WAR GOES ON

Conflict Has Settled Down To Indefinite Duration

HOUSTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—The price war between organized producers and distributors of milk in Houston settled down today to a conflict of indefinite duration.

The distributors refused to meet around the arbitration table with the producers; the producers maintained their practice of selling milk at retail in competition with the opposition in the fight; sheriff's deputies patrolled the county highways to prevent the forcible dumping of milk bound for Houston.

Twenty deputies took to patrol duty this morning after the protests of some of the distributors, whose incoming milk, in two instances yesterday, was poured into the road by men who halted inbound trucks. Luther Maness, Katy, Texas, producer, was charged with robbery by assault in one of the incidents. Others already were under similar charges.

The price war began last Sunday when major distributors posted price reductions of 3.4 cents per gallon for wholesale milk—from 20 to 16.6 cents per gallon.

Actor-Manager Found Guilty of Misconduct

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (US)—In 20 minutes today, a supreme court jury found Alan Dinehart, actor-manager-producer, now in the movies, guilty six times of misconduct a year ago with "Betty Allen."

The verdict insures a decree of divorce for his wife, Mrs. Louise Dyer Dinehart, of Floral Park, L. I.

There was no defense testimony.

A motion to punish Dinehart for contempt in failing to pay $900 in temporary back alimony at $150 a week is on the calendar before Justice Glennon for tomorrow.

42 Cent Minimum on Cotton Price Urged

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. (US)—The federal farm board and the cotton stabilization corporation would be forbidden to sell cotton at less than 42 cents a pound, under a bill introduced today by Senator Gore, Republican of Oklahoma.

Applying both to spots and futures, the price limitation would be effective until January, 1933.

WTCC Plans Five Year Beautification Program For Section

STAMFORD, Texas, Feb. 17. (AP)—A five-year program for town and countryside beautification by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, will be given another push, beginning Feb. 27. Twenty-three towns are on a second tour itinerary for R. C. Morrison, city forester of Fort Worth, who is covering the West Texas territory under W. T. C. C. auspices, delivering his illustrated addresses on "making the most of our environments."

Morrison completed his first tour Feb. 11, and will make the third in March-April. Points on the second tour, from Denton on the east to Portales, New Mexico, on the west, generally are along the Fort Worth and Denver line and in the Panhandle-Plains region.

The tour will start at Albany. Other points to be visited, in order, being Stamford, Hamlin, Sweetwater, Lamesa, Post, Slaton, Lubbock, Spur, Matador, Plainview, Portales, Canyon, Dumas, Dalhart, McLean, Childress, Vernon, Wichita Falls, Seymour, Benjamin, Graham and Denton, where the tour will close March 14.

Former President of U. S. L. T. A. Succumbs

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—Amateur tennis lost one of its most prominent figures today with the death of Louis B. Dailey, former president of the United States Lawn Tennis association, at the Orange, N. J., Memorial hospital.

Dailey, who was 56, became ill with a severe cold a week ago. Double pneumonia developed and caused his death.

President of the U. S. L. T. A. in 1930 and for several years prior to that actively connected with tennis in the East, Dailey was known as an advocate of strict economy in the conduct of amateur tennis. He had frequent verbal conflicts with Big Bill Tilden when the latter was this country's leading amateur.

During his tenure as national president, Dailey proved an arch foe of "high powered" methods in international play. Among other things he advocated restriction of three years for the participation of any player in Davis cup competition. His policies, however, did not meet majority support within the association.

The body will be cremated following funeral services Friday at East Orange.

Walters Boxing Bouts Featured by Kayos

Special to The Record News

WALTERS, Okla., Feb. 17.—First rounds proved a jinx for fighters in Monday night's four-bout boxing match here, the longest bout ending in one minute and 38 seconds.

Guy Hewett, Walters, was ko'ed by K. O. Kirkpatrick, Ft. Sill, in 58 seconds in the main bout of the card. The bout was scheduled for 10 rounds.

Dick Harris, Walters, was knocked out by Kid Greene, Temple, in one minute and 17 seconds; Hubb White, Cameron college, knocked out Riley York, Walters, in 39 seconds; and Killer Konniffie, Temple, ko'ed Kid Duree, Ft. Sill, in 55 seconds.

German Seaman Will Visit With Governor

GALVESTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—Capt. Erwin Wassner, commander of the German cruiser Karlsruhe, in port here and five of his officers will visit the state capital Friday at the invitation of Gov. Ross Sterling. They will make the trip in national guard planes furnished by Adjutant General William W. Sterling and will be accompanied by Major Davenport Johnson, commander of the third attack group here.

In addition to Austin, the German officers will pay a visit to Randolph field, San Antonio. In Austin they will be entertained by Governor Sterling with a luncheon and reception.

Yodeling Brakeman Sued for Support Of Daughter He Declares Isn't His

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 17. (AP)—Hearing of the suit of Mrs. Stella Harkins against her former husband, Jimmy "Cowboy" Rodgers, radio entertainer, for contributions to the support of a 14-year-old girl, who she says is a daughter of their union, was continued in federal court today until tomorrow.

Mrs. Harkins seeks immediate payment of $5,000 and payments of $250 a month for maintenance of the girl until she is 18 years old.

Rodgers contends he is not the father of the girl, Katherine, and that Mrs. Harkins abandoned him a few weeks after their marriage, May 1, 1917, in DeKalb, Miss. Rodgers' home is at Kerrville, Texas.

BUTLER BARES JAPANESE PLOT

Shanghai Fight Just 'Smoke Screen,' He Says

junk all of America's fighting equipment as soon as a war is over.

"There is no use saying that we are never going to have another war," he challenged. "We should do everything possible to postpone or prevent it, even to signing 10 million useless treaties every year, if that will postpone war even a day. But while we are not mad, we better get our guns cleaned and polished and laid in handy reach. When we do get mad someday—and we're going to—we might not be able to get hold of our gun just in time.

"I have come to believe that we must make our flag good enough to protect our people wherever they may be. If it does not do that then it is not good enough. If you ever had lived on the other side of the world, and had looked out of your window to see those colors shining under a foreign sun, you would realize what this flag means."

The earlier portion of General Butler's address was devoted to a merciless attack upon "American lawlessness" and corruption in municipal governments, the speaker using Philadelphia as his illustration. In that city he served for several years as director of public safety, and had complete charge of the police force.

"Unique" American Soldier

"We have enough battles to fight in our country to keep us busy for a while," he said. "We don't want to go to war. I went to the war with Spain because I had been listening to the old G. A. R. heroes telling of the glorious times they had had in the civil war. But they didn't mean it. Neither do these legionnaires who are telling your boys now of the grand times they had in the world war.

"The American soldier is unique. He always hates the commander he's serving, and loves the last one he had. He always loves the place he just left, and loathes the one he's in. If he isn't belly-aching, he's sick."

Philadelphia called him to "clean it up," the speaker said, but declared that the city couldn't be cleaned up because it didn't want cleaning up.

"Politics and police are the Siamese twins—cut them apart, and they perish," he declared. "After I was fired by the city, it took them about a year and a half to get the police department back where it had been properly under the thumb of politicians."

The man who cries out that he wants to be clean, the general continued, doesn't want that at all; he wants to see his neighbor cleaned up.

He said that his first commission in Philadelphia was to make the streets safe for the citizenry. His force began by promptly killing off about 16 of the prominent bandits, but at once aroused the ire of "old lady reformers."

"They didn't want us to kill off the bad men, for then they wouldn't have anybody to reform," he said. "Philadelphia loves its bandits. The bandit chief was killed. Three hundred thousand Philadelphians attended his funeral, with uncovered heads. When Ex-President Taft died, 30,000 persons were mustered up for his funeral."

While "mayors and city commissioners and committeemen flay the air with oratorical right arms," the speaker charged, in "upholding the majesty of the law," there remains in the United States "no majesty of the law except put into it by a few policemen with their guns." There is only one way to handle a bandit, he said and that is to kill him.

Likes Texas Audiences

General Butler qualifies quite as much as an entertainer as an informing speaker on world affairs. His entire address was replete with anecdotes, with robust humor, and with many a wisecrack—usually at the expense of politicians "made soft by long immunity to battle." He praised the pioneer spirit of Texans, and rejoiced in the willingness of Texas audiences to enjoy frequent terse profanities in his speech. General Butler declared that he intends to make his home in this state at some future time.

While a reception committee expectantly awaited the renowned visitor's arrival at the union depot Wednesday afternoon, General Butler, in company with his brother, Samuel Butler, and his mother, Mrs. Thomas S. Butler, arrived by automobile from Fort Worth and quietly took to rooms at the Marchman hotel for rest. Both his brother and mother live in Eastland. The parade scheduled for the late afternoon was abandoned because of the weather.

General Butler's presence at the auditorium was the occasion for a rally and celebration by local ex-service men. With C. A. Rogers acting as master of ceremonies, the program included a concert by the Lions club boys' band, a demonstration on the stage by the American Legion Drum and Bugle corps, and a welcome to the general by Burton Stayton, representing the chamber of commerce.

General Butler was brought to this city by the Maskat Temple Shrine. He was beseiged after his address by several hundreds persons intent upon meeting him personally.

Spinster Sisters Attempt Suicide; One Is Rescued

SCHULENBERG, Texas, Feb. 17. (AP)—Miss Anna Seydler, a 62-year-old spinster, hanged herself here today and a rope was removed from the neck of her sister, Marie, 70, also unmarried, in time to save her life.

The inquest verdict of Justice V. R. Vogt was suicide in the death of Miss Anna. Miss Marie, said physicians, would recover. The sisters were found in their home.

Vogt found a note, he said, signed "Marie," which read:

"When I am dead, let the doctors open my head. Maybe it will help them discover what was the matter and help some poor soul."

NEW AID BILL IS INTRODUCED

$135,000,000 Road Fund Is Approved by Committee

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—A proposal for a $135,000,000 road fund to aid both employment and the highways today took the place of the $750,000,000 program thrown out of the senate by the defeat of the La Follette-Costigan relief bill.

The senate roads committee approved the $135,000,000 outlay as an amendment to the agriculture appropriation bill. Sponsored by Senator Hayden, Democrat, Arizona, a supporter of the defeated relief bill, it would make the money immediately available for roads in addition to the $100,000,000 already carried in the agricultural bill.

Meanwhile Chairman Oddie, of the committee, charged that Secretary Hyde was "trying to contribute tens of thousands of men to the army of unemployed" by recommending reduced road appropriations for 1934 and 1935.

Hayden's amendment is designed to keep at work laborers employed in highway construction during 1931, under the federal government's emergency employment road construction fund.

It would bring the total federal funds available for road construction this year up to about $250,000,000, the same amount as last year.

The amendment would carry $120,000,000 additional for federal aid highway construction, which the states would not have to match.

In addition, it would provide $10,000,000 for forest roads; $1,500,000 for park roads; $1,000,000 for highways in Indian reservations and $3,000,000 for roads in unappropriated public lands.

All of the money would be available until the end of 1932. The La Follette-Costigan bill carried $375,000,000 for road construction during the next year and a half.

Katy Lines Earn Fixed Charges During Past Year

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—M. H. Cahill, chairman of the board of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas lines, said today the road, by practicing rigid economy in the last half of 1931, was able to earn its fixed charges and place itself in a favorable position to make a good showing during 1932 if traffic does not fall below that of last year. Trade signs in Oklahoma and Texas indicate a steady and rapid improvement by spring, Cahill said.

STUBBLEFIELD QUITS POLICE

Wichita Detective Leaves City Department

The resignation of A. L. Stubblefield, member of the Wichita Falls detective force for the past several years, was announced Wednesday night by Police Chief Dick Morris. Mr. Stubblefield resigned Wednesday, to engage in private business. He could not be reached Wednesday night for an outline of his plans. No addition will be made in the department replacing Mr. Stubblefield, Chief Morris said.

Little criminal activity was reported to police Wednesday night, although burglars and prowlers continued to make their presence in the city known. Gordon Shay, 3103 Ninth, reported a window at his residence forced early in the evening with only a small amount of change missed in a quick check-up.

Police conducted an investigation Wednesday of a burglary of the C. H. Parker grocery No. 1, 500 Indiana, early Wednesday morning which netted robbers 10 cartons of cigarets. Police believed the burglar was frightened away by a nightwatchman. The store was entered by forcing the front door.

Death of Americans In Mexico Queried

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 17. (US)—A formal investigation into the sudden deaths of W. P. Connell, president of the Louisiana National bank and Anthony Doherty, hardware merchant, both of Baton Rouge, La., was ordered here today.

The two men died Sunday while visiting Mexico City with Louisiana State Senator Charles A. Holcombe, of Baton Rouge. A physician declared death due to heart failure brought on by the capital's altitude.

Senator Holcombe, who left Mexico City with the bodies of his two friends Sunday night, will be subpoenaed to appear before the seventh penal court of the federal district under a summons issued tonight. Senorita Marie De Los Angeles Lopez, who guided the visitors on their sightseeing, was also cited to appear before the court.

Pair Held After Living 16 Years on 'Hot' Checks

HUTCHINSON, Kan., Feb. 17. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Perly Hiett of Denver and Tulsa, said by police to have admitted living for 16 years on money obtained by cashing worthless checks, were held here today on forgery charges.

Police said Hiett and his wife said they had cashed worthless checks in a score of states.

Hiett, who is crippled, his wife and two children were traveling in an expensive car driven by a negro chauffeur. After his arrest here a "hold order" was filed by the government. Hiett is charged with disposing of a mortgaged car in Portland, Ore.

Income Tax Returns Increase in Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 17. (UP)—Sharp increase in income tax returns being received was noted today by the Oklahoma tax commission, Melvin Cornish, chairman, said.

The returns have been increasing steadily since the first of the month. So far 6,000 individual returns have been filed; 1,000 corporation and partnerships, and 25 fiduciary.

Cornish said he was unable to estimate the number of pay roll returns filed by employers.

Washington Services At First Methodist

Dr. S. S. McKenney, pastor of the First Methodist church, announced Wednesday night that special George Washington services would be held at the church Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. A sermon appropriate to the occasion and special music in harmony with the bicentennial observance of George Washington's birthday will feature the service.

Flier Loses Life While Stunting in Airplane

WINTER HAVEN, Fla., Feb. 17. (US)—Losing a wing while stunting over Lake Hartidge in a new airplane, Tom Binns, 21, today plunged 2,000 feet to his death, the engine shattering his body as it pinned him to the ground.

The soy bean was known in China more than 5,000 years ago.

RITES SAID FOR MRS. LAWLER

Final Services Held for Pioneer Woman

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Frances Lawler, 83, were held Wednesday morning at 9:30 o'clock from the Lamar Avenue Baptist church with the Rev. S. F. Martin, pastor, officiating. The Merkle Undertaking company directed burial in Riverside.

Mrs. Lawler died Monday night at the home of her son, George W. Lawler, 1644 Lucile.

Survivors are three sons, L. H. Lawler of Los Angeles, Calif., W. L. and G. W. Lawler, both of this city; two daughters, Mrs. J. R. Farmer of El Centro, Calif., and Mrs. William Cole of Amherst, Texas; and three sisters, Mrs. Louisa McWilliams of Athens, Texas, Mrs. J. F. Reynolds of Martins Mill, Texas, and Mrs. J. B. Lawler of Dallas.

ANDREW DAVIDSON

Funeral services for Andrew Davidson, 16-year-old son of W. S. Davidson, 907 Burnett, were held at 3:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon from the Hines mortuary chapel. The youth succumbed after a short illness at a local hospital at 5:15 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. The Rev. A. C. Turner, South Side Baptist church pastor, officiated. Burial was in Riverside.

MISS RUTH SLOAN

Funeral services for Miss Ruth Sloan, 22, 1306 Fifteenth street, will be held at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon from the First Methodist church with the pastor, Dr. S. S. McKenney, officiating. Miss Sloan died at her home at 10:15 o'clock Wednesday morning after a short illness. Burial will be in Rosemont.

Miss Sloan was employed at Armour & Co., at the time of her death. She had been a resident of Wichita Falls for the past 10 years, coming here from Fitzhugh, Okla., with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Sloan.

Survivors are her parents; two brothers, Keith and R. T. Sloan Jr.; and a sister, Pauline Sloan, all of Wichita Falls; her grandparents, Mrs. R. L. Smith of Ada, Okla., and Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Emerson of Fitzhugh, Okla.; and an aunt, Mrs. Lillie McKee of Oklahoma City.

MRS. ANN J. WOODWARD

Mrs. Ann J. Woodward, 78, of Stratford, Texas, died at 12:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at a local hospital. The body is being held by the Merkle Undertaking company pending funeral arrangements to be completed on the arrival of a surviving son, J. P. Cameron of Stratford. Mr. Cameron is expected to arrive in Wichita Falls Thursday morning.

Motor Truck Fine Is Upheld by Court

Affirmation was announced Wednesday by the court of criminal appeals at Austin of the conviction here last March 10 of M. Blackman, produce dealer, and a fine of $50 and costs imposed for alleged operation of a motor truck on a state highway with more than the maximum load-weight.

Charged with carrying more than was permitted under the license under which the truck was operated, Blackman was convicted by a jury in the county court at law before Judge Irvin J. Vogel. The charge was prosecuted by L. V. Abernathy, county attorney.

Harry Hines to Give Talks on Mahatma Gandhi

Harry Hines will speak Thursday evening at 7:15 o'clock over radio station KGKO on "Mahatma Gandhi as the World Sees Him," Jerry Vinson, director of the radio forum of the Junior chamber of commerce, announced Wednesday. The address for Feb. 25, will be delivered by Luther Hoffman on "Let's Abolish One-half of County Offices."

SUIT ATTACKS INSURANCE LAW

Discrimination in $50 Levy On Adjusters Claimed

Suit was brought in district court here Wednesday by R. R. Moore, manager of the Southwestern Adjustment company, for an injunction restraining G. H. Sheppard, state comptroller, Arthur C. Howard, county tax collector, and Louis V. Abernathy, county attorney, from enforcing upon the plaintiff a recent law imposing an occupation tax of $50 upon insurance adjusters.

The plaintiff's petition pleads that he is not an insurance adjuster, and does not properly come under that classification. It also charges discrimination in the law, in that the occupation tax for general and special agents is made $25, the plaintiff contending that those occupations are the equivalent of that of insurance adjuster.

The suit would enjoin the defendant officials from prosecuting the plaintiff in this or other counties for non-payment of the prescribed tax pending a final action of the court upon his petition.

Heavy Attendance at C-C Luncheon Expected

A capacity attendance of Junior chamber of commerce members at the semi-monthly luncheon at the Wichita club Friday is expected in view of the present work of the membership committee. Members of the committee are now visiting each member of the organization, urging cooperation in plans and attendance at the luncheons.

A feature of the luncheon will be a medicine show in charge of Buck Freeman. Music will be furnished by O'Stafford's Chocolate Soldiers. Additional introduction of new members will be made and the organization expects a group of representatives of the newly organized Vernon junior council to be guests of the local organization.

C-C TRIPPERS MEET

H. P. Smith was elected vice chairman of the good will trips committee of the Junior chamber of commerce at a luncheon Wednesday at the Holt hotel. Paul Lacy is committee chairman and called the luncheon meeting as the first gathering of the committee. Ray Patton, Dick Naylor and R. A. Wolf were added to the group membership.

CITY URGED TO DEVELOP TRADE

Boswell Tells Lions Of Business Outlook

Intensive development of agriculture in Wichita county, and of wholesale trade throughout the surrounding 52 counties, were urged before members of the Lions club Wednesday noon by John Boswell, chamber of commerce manager, as a sure avenue of prosperous growth for Wichita Falls.

Mr. Boswell declared that fully 75 per cent of the purchasing ability of this city's trade territory is produced by agriculture, and that during 1931, Wichita Falls got no more than 3 per cent of the potential business which is there.

"Wichita Falls has now absorbed to a large extent the over expansion brought about by the oil boom," Mr. Boswell said. "This territory is only partially developed agriculturally, and within a few years will have doubled its present buying power.

"Oil business and agriculture are much better stabilized now than a year ago. Retail business is in better shape. Our liquidations in Wichita Falls during January were less than 10 per cent of those of January, 1931."

Ted Williams, baritone, entertained the gathering with two solos, accompanied by Miss Lorene Tucker.

Enlargement and rehearsal of the Lions club boys' band is now under way in charge of Tom McCarty, it was announced. Milton J. Gaines, James King and John Elder were named by President Roy J. Mann as a band committee.

A member of the local Lions club will speak before the Nocona club at a meeting on Feb. 25, and will be accompanied by a delegation from this city.

Loui Storm of Crystal Cave, S. D., was the guest of C. J. Coffey.

Senate Meets

Mrs. Anna Witherspoon was the principal speaker at the regular weekly meeting of the Junior college Senate Tuesday evening, when she spoke to the group on "China." She was wearing an elaborate Chinese costume which she brought with her on her return from a tour of the world.

Hiking Club

Ernestine Wilkinson was chosen the most representative girl of the Junior college Girls' Hiking club at the regular meeting of the organization Wednesday morning at the 30-minute period.

In addition to that election, officers for the second semester were selected. Kay Cason was elected president. Other officers chosen Wednesday were: Vice president, Mildred Johnson; secretary, Loretta Nichols; treasurer, Ernestine Wilkinson; and point system manager, Betty Jane Sehmann. Misses Lona Brown and Kathleen Melat are faculty sponsors.

Writers Club

Helen Broodo read a short story at the weekly meeting of the college Writers' club Wednesday afternoon and one was read by Rebecca Park. Laurette Erwin presented an ending to a one-act play which the club is working on this month. A group of poems were read by Katherine Douglas.

Students to See Game

High school and college students may witness the Coyote basket ball game during the regular assembly period Friday morning, according to information given Wednesday by S. H. Rider, principal.

Realtors Move To Halt Posting Of Ads In Windows Of Vacant Buildings

Wichita Falls realtors Wednesday took steps designed to prevent the promiscuous posting of advertisements in windows of vacant business property without permission of owners. A committee consisting of J. L. Jackson Jr., and W. S. Curlee was appointed to seek the passage of an ordinance by the city council forbidding such transgression of property.

A reward of $50 also was voted to any one obtaining evidence to convict any person or persons who have been defacing vacant houses in this city. President Ray Keith appointed R. A. Kolp, C. R. Seals and Roscoe Staton as a committee to solicit special police aid in stopping the practice.

F. K. Osborne of Dallas had been scheduled to address the realtors at their bi-weekly luncheon, but was unable to be present. He will speak at the next meeting of the board, Mr. Keith announced.

Committee reports outlining their programs for the ensuing year are to be heard at the next meeting, it was said.

Wichitans to Attend Box Supper at Clara

More than a score of Wichitans plan to take advantage of an opportunity for entertainment Thursday evening at an "old-time county-wide" box supper at the Clara schoolhouse. Members of the good will committee of the Junior chamber of commerce will officially represent the organization and the public is invited to attend.

Miss Lois Campbell, selected as "Miss Wichita Falls" at the last annual bathing beauty revue, will be entered in a pretty girl contest in connection with the box supper.

The group planning to attend the entertainment includes Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Barron, Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Durnal, Mr. and Mrs. Van Lesley, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Dudley, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Pond, Mr. and Mrs. Fulcher Armstrong and H. P. Smith, Gerald Coffey, Russell Colp, T. J. Waggoner Jr., and Don T. Haynes.

Jury Debates Issues In Suit for $51,000

Deliberations are to be resumed at 9 o'clock Thursday morning by the jury before Judge W. W. Cook in the 78th district court which heard the suit of J. H. Brown against Sheriff Perry Browning for $51,000 damages sought for alleged false arrest and imprisonment.

Most of Wednesday was consumed by attorneys' arguments before the jury. The planitiff is represented by P. B. Cox, and the defendant by Robert Crain, E. F. Fruechte, and John Davenport. Brown based his suit upon his alleged arrest last August by Deputy Sheriffs E. L. Kincaid and Ben Smith, neither of whom now is with the sheriff's department, and upon a second alleged false arrest by the sheriff personally.

The case went to the jury about 4 p. m. Wednesday.

SCHOOL TAXES DUE FEB. 29

Board Warns of Last Date For Payment

Members of the Wichita Falls board of education, meeting at the City National bank directors room Wednesday afternoon, stressed the need of all possible taxes for 1931 being paid during the remaining 12 days of February.

Although one-fourth of the current taxes was due by Jan. 31 according to state law, the school board granted an extension to Feb. 29 without penalty. No further extensions can be granted for payment of the first quarter, it was shown, and after Feb. 29 the tax will become delinquent.

The board adopted new textbooks for the scholastic year of 1932-1933 for departments of Spanish, general science, physiology, and biology. Recommendations of new texts were made by a committee consisting of Miss Lena McKee, Miss Ethel Ross, F. M. Lyle, Miss Marie Hall Gilbert and H. D. Fillers, superintendent.

LEGION TO GIVE PROGRAM

Rogers and Hunter to Speak Monday Night

C. A. Rogers will discuss "The Life of Washington" in an address in observance of the anniversary of George Washington's birth at the Memorial auditorium at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening, Feb. 22. An elaborate program has been completed under direction of the Pat Carrigan post of the American Legion in view of the bicentennial of the occasion. Milton Gaines announced the program Wednesday afternoon.

The program will open with a band concert directed by Tom McCarty. R. E. Shepherd will conduct a singsong and the meeting will be opened with an invocation by Dr. H. T. Wood, post chaplain.

Mrs. Hermione Vaughn will direct a group of songs, "Yester Year and Today," and dances under the same title will be offered by the Knickerbocker Studio. Crayon sketching will be offered by Voyle N. Armstrong, preceding Mr. Rogers' address.

Tom F. Hunter will deliver a second address near the close of the program. Other entertainment announced includes selections by a quartet. The quartet members are J. S. Minton, L. R. Thurman, J. W. Akin Jr., Grover Bullington, accompanied by Mrs. Akin. Faith Galmiche will offer tap dancing and Dr. S. S. McKenney will close the program.

There are 228 negro publications in the United States.

MOTHER OF 7-STILL YOUNG

The woman who gives her organs the right stimulant need not worry about growing old.

Her system doesn't stagnate; her face doesn't age. She has the health and "pep" that come from a lively liver and strong, active bowels.

When you're sluggish and the system needs help, don't take a lot of "patent medicines." There's a famous doctor's prescription for just such cases, and every druggist keeps this standard preparation. It is made from fresh laxative herbs, active senna, and pure pepsin. Just ask for Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin. Take a little every day or so, until every organ in your body feels the big improvement.

The next time you have a bilious headache, or feel all bound-up, take this delicious syrup instead of the usual cathartic. You'll be rid of all that poisonous waste, and you haven't weakened the bowels. You'll have a better appetite, and feel better in every way. The constant use of cathartics is often the cause of a sallow complexion and lines in the face. And so unnecessary!

Would you like to break yourself of the cathartic habit? At the same time building health and vigor that protects you from frequent sick spells, headaches, and colds? Get a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin today. Use it often enough to avoid those attacks of constipation. When you feel weak and run-down, or a coated tongue or bad breath warns you the bowels need stimulating. Give it to the children instead of stronger laxatives that sap their strength. It isn't expensive.

Grease goes—dishes shine

YOU KNOW what a work-saver Rinso is on washday—how it gets clothes much whiter and brighter without scrubbing or boiling.

Well, it's just as wonderful for dishwashing! Grease soaks off by itself in thick, creamy suds. Just soak your china and glassware for a few minutes—rinse in hot water—and let them drain dry. Wash greasy pots and pans this easy way, too.

And Rinso is economical, too. Granulated, compact—it gives twice as much suds, cup for cup, as lightweight, puffed-up soaps. Rich, creamy, active suds, even in hardest water. No grit.

Use Rinso for tubs, basins, floors, woodwork. Get the BIG package.

"Will you take a tip from me, Sir?"

Thanks for your tip.
Now, let me slip
A tip to you . . . don't think me bold, sir;
That brand you buy
Is harsh and dry
You really ought to try
OLD GOLDS, sir!

They're sweet and smooth,
They seem to soothe
'Most everybody's throat
who tries 'em;
To put it brief,
Their natural leaf
Makes nearly all my patrons prize 'em.

You handed me
A juicy fee
With "Keep the change!" Thanks, I'll arrange it;
Now . . . you'll be told,
"Change to OLD GOLD
You'll 'Keep the change' and never change it!"
