Weevil Follow-Up

Action Urged On 2 Fronts

Two agencies urged action on separate fronts for Mitchell County cotton producers Wednesday in the wake of increasing crop toll from boll weevils.

Agricultural Stabilization & Conservation Service called for producers to protect yield records for future crop years.

Agricultural Extension Service emphasized the need for crop-site work to fight over-wintering of weevils.

Mitchell's cotton crop — already cut severely because of excessive dry weather last winter and spring — has been trimmed more by weevil infestation.

The damage is severe for many producers and the ASC reported an increasing number of farmers who in recent days reported crop acreage that will not be harvested.

"A large number of cotton acres have been destroyed in Mitchell County by boll weevils," said Eddie Braswell, office manager for ASC.

"A few farmers already have destroyed and reported such acreage," he continued, "If a producer has cotton acreage which will not harvest, he should visit the ASC office and discuss his individual crop situation.

"If the producer does not check with the ASC, then his crop yield record may suffer.

"He needs to adjust his acreage to protect his yield record," Braswell emphasized. "Each case is different and that is why the individual producer should check with the ASC office."

County Agent Bobby Lemons reports defoliation of numerous Mitchell County cotton fields in recent weeks preparatory to harvest.

"After the cotton crop is harvested," Lemons said, "stalks should be destroyed and plowed under to prevent regrowth of cotton plants and to destroy squares and bolls left in the field that could support various stages of boll weevils."

The agent emphasized that weevils remain hazy in many fields which have not been defoliated. In fields which are to be defoliated, Lemons pointed out, producers might add 0.5 pounds of methyl parathoin or 0.25 pound of Guthion per acre to arsenic acid or phosphate-type defoliants.

"This addition to defoliants," Lemons said, "has proved effective in reducing potential over-wintering boll weevil populations."

The agent warned not to mix methyl parathion or Guthion with chlorate defoliants or desiccants.

Emergency Farm Loans

Desigiated For Mitchell County

Mitchell County is eligible for emergency agriculture operation loans because of adverse weather condition during the crop year.

Congressman Omar Burleson notified The Record Tuesday of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's action designating Mitchell, Howard and Glasscock counties eligible for the special financing.

The emergency designation will continue through June 30, 1968, Burleson said.

It is the second consecutive crop year this county has been designated for special financing in connection with adverse weather conditions. Last year it was caused by damaging rainstorms and this year by the complications of extended dry weather.

John Russell, head of Farmers Home Administration office which will handle the emergency loan program, said the financing will be to assist farmers and ranchers with production losses.

The loans will be at 3 per cent interest and will be established operators, he said.

10 Games, No Zone

Next Fall For 3-AAA Football

Colorado High starts playing for keeps next fall in District 3-AAA football in its first game Sept. 13.

District schedule will continue every weekend right through Nov. 24, except for one open date.

This means a 10-game schedule for each 3-AAA member without a single non-district encounter.

District 3-AAA school officials met Monday morning in Snyder and decided in favor of the 10-game plan instead of dividing the enlarged 11-school district into two zones.

Among factors which gained approval for the schedule were inability to divide the district equally into two zones and the problems of scheduling enough non - conference opponents if teams played only four and five game zone schedules.

In the 1968 grid schedule Colorado High will travel four times to the Lubbock area — twice to Lubbock and to Slaton and Brownfield — in addition to Sweetwater. Both opening and closing games will be on the road.

Here is the complete schedule:

Sept. 13 — Slaton, there
Sept. 20 — Snyder, here
Sept. 27 — Lake View (San Angelo), here
Oct. 4 — Sweetwater, there
Oct. 11 — Littlefield, here
Oct. 18 — Estacado (Lubbock), there
Oct. 25 — Levelland, here

Wolves, Anson Tangle Friday

Colorado High Wolves, who collide with an outstanding AA team every game in the tough 5-AA District, meet Anson Friday night in Anson.

Both teams will be seeking their first district triumphs after two straight defeats.

Anson, pre-season favorite to capture the 5-AA title, was defeated 21-11 last week by Haskell while the Wolves were falling to Stamford 35-0.

When C-City and Anson battle in an effort to climb up in the district race, Hamlin and Haskell will be tangling in a battle between undefeated leaders.

The district's third undefeated team, Stamford, plays winless Winters Friday night and is expected to continue at the top of 5-AA with the winner of the Hamlin-Haskell argument.

Over the full season route Colorado City has itrumphed three times while losing four — all to AA powers. Anson has four victories and three losses.

Ganging Up On Him

Fullback Ralph Lindsey (in white uniform) is almost buried under an avalanche of Stamford tacklers Friday when C-City was defeated, 35-0. Three tacklers already have hit Lindsey and another spreads his arms, ready to punce with nary a Wolf blocker in sight.

Blaze Razes Monzie's Cafe

Bird Dogs Compete In Two-Day Trials

Bird dog owners from a wide area of the Southwest are expected here Saturday and Sunday for field trials on Francis Winn Ranch.

The trials, sponsored by Permian Bird Dog and Sportsman's Club, are planned to become an annual event on the ranch acreage in Spade community.

All bird dog owners can enter animals in the events, according to John Puckett of Big Spring, president of the club.

Spectators can observe the trials free, either by providing their own horses and riding with the dogs or by a gallery wagon provided by the club.

Drawing for places and time of trials will be decided Friday night at 8 p.m. in a drawing for dog owners at Villa Inn.

Competition will be four classes — (1) open shooting dog, (2) open derby shooting dog, (3) amateur shooting dog, (4) amateur derby, and (5) amateur puppy. Seventy per cent of entry fees will go to first three

More than 1,400 visitors from at least seven counties toured Morgan Creek Power Plant Saturday during the plant's special "family day" open house.

Women, kids swelled the ranks of the crowd taking an eye-witness view of the 833,000 kilowatt generating plant — largest in the TESCO system and one of the largest in the entire Southwest.

Free prizes and carnival-like favors — Reddy Kilowatt pins, candy suckers, balloons, cookbooks, ditty bags — competed with the big generators and computerized equipment for the attention of the guests.

A musical group from Wichita Falls, The Rounders, and Mrs. James E. Payne, organist, provided entertainment and members of Colorado High football team served coffee.

BOY, 15, STOPPED WITH STOLEN AUTO

A 15-year-old boy went back home in Dallas to face juvenile authorities Monday after being caught here in a stolen auto.

State Highway Patrolmen Buddy Hertenberger and Jim Mauldin stopped the youth at 11:45 p.m. Saturday 2 miles west of Colorado City on Interstate 20.

A check revealed the 1955 Buick sedan he ws driving had been stolen in Dallas.

Dallas juvenile office notified officers here they wanted the youth held for return to Dallas.

Father of the boy came to Colorado City Monday and returned his son for juvenile court appearance.

The boy, according to his dad, had been in no serious trouble before he slipped away from home between 1 a.m. and 5 a.m. Saturday.

Separation of the ninth grader's parents was blamed by the father at least in part for the youth's behavior.

Youth Finalist In Showmanship

A Mitchell County 4-H member, Larry Don Watlington, was one of six finalists for showmanship in junior steer show at State Lair of Texas.

Watlington, one of four Mitchell 4-H exhibitors in the steer compention, showed his angus to 15th place in Class 3 (800-875 pounds).

He was one of two exhibitors in the angus judging to compete in finals of showmanship with two contestants selected from hereford and shorthorn classes.

Car Theft Suspect

Sweetwater Youth Charged Here

Theft of an auto in Colorado City Sunday night may lead to clearing up of a series of car thefts in Sweetwater.

A Sweetwater youth, Henry Garcia Jr., who became 17 years of age only last Friday, is charged with theft of the C-City car in Justice of Peace Leonard Henderson's Court.

The 1955 Chevrolet sedan, owned by Mrs. Ruby Willard, was stolen Sunday night from Villa Restaurant, where Mrs. Willard was employed.

It was recovered in Sweetwater at 4:36 .m. just a few hours after reported stolen in Colorado City.

Garcia was brought to Colorado City Tuesday by Texas Ranger Gene Graves after the felony charge was filed against the youth here.

Officers believe Garcia and a companion came to Colorado City in a 1963 Pontiac, which was reported stolen by Loraine's Roscoe Hudgins while it was parked outside a church in Sweetwater.

Hudgins car was found abandoned on Hopkins Road, off Interstate 20 west of Sweetwater.

The youth is being checked as a suspect in several other Sweetwater car thefts n addition to the Hudgins car.

CHS BAND DIRECTOR

Dwight Tomb Follows Music As Way Of Life

By RUTH COFFEY

Wherever he has been all his life, Dwight Tomb, director of band music for Colorado Independent School, has been following his music.

He was the "Little Drummer Boy" in person by the time he was four years old, first developing serious interest in drums about that time.

He could have, at one period in his life, been called "college dropout," but the term would have been misleading. He was following his music when, after a year in Hardin-Simmons University, he left the campus to play with professional bands on the West Coast including the Lawrence Welk orchestra.

Graduate of Sweetwater High School, he played with Sweetwater High Band and while still a senior in high school there played with the Hardin-Simmons famous Cowboy Band.

After his West Coast recess from college he joined the United States Air Force working with Special Services and beating the drums for the USAF Band all over the United States and Hawaii.

From the USAF, after his discharge, he followed his music to San Angelo where he organized his own band. Then, a year later, he packed up his drums and hied himself back to college and the Hardin-Simmons Cowboy Band as featured drum soloist.

Tomb directed his first high school band at Anson High School the year he was a senior at H-SU where he received his bachelor of science degree. He was awarded his master of music education at the University of Houston, then entered Vandercook School of Music in Chicago, for further graduate study.

Meantime, he had acquired a bride, the former Miss Betty Crutchfield, of Abilene, in 1948.

After Vandercook School he and his family moved to El Paso where he was director of the Bowie High School Band and where he played with the El Paso Symphony Orchestra.

In San Angelo, where he directed San Angelo Junior College Band, he played the drums for San Angelo Symphony.

Tomb moved to Colorado City as director of Junior High School Band in 1956. The next year he assumed directorship of Wolf Band at Colorado High, the post he has filled for 10 years now.

From an earliest little band of 18 members in 1957 the band music department of Colorado Schools has since grown to about 500 band pupils enrolled in five bands.

Still following his music, Tomb arranges and composes notes for the bands, most popular being "Theme," introductory song.

Bands in the schools here have steadily grown, improved, winning more and more awards and trophies until they now overflow the band's display showcase.

In 1966, last year, Wolf Band won the ultimate award for Texas High School Bands — the Sweepstakes Award at the University Interscholastic League contest, receiving rating of I (superior) in marching, concert, and sight reading.

Each year when summer comes and public school students enjoy vacation months Tomb follows his music to special summer sessions for bands at Sul Ross State, McMurry College, or Midwestern University. He is frequently a judge of band contests, solo and ensemble, throughout the state and receives repeated invitations to play with the Abilene and San Angelo Symphonies.

Next to the Wolf Band, dubbed "The Black Knights of Precision," he is proudest of his ex-band students. Forty-nine of them have continued to follow music themselves with careers as band directors. Several are band directors in colleges.

Tomb holds membership in Texas Music Education Association, Texas Band Masters Association, National Rudimental Drum Association, Percussion Arts Society. He is honorary member in Kappa Psi, Fraternal Music Society of Midwestern University, and chairman for this district of the UIL Music Division.

At home, he and Mrs. Tomb, elementary public school music teacher, talented pianist and organist, are parents of three children: Noel, 14, Margo, 12, and John, 11.

His hobby is bass fishing first, with family camp-outs second.

Music, of course, still gets the "Superior" rating in his way of life. He has followed music all his life.

Balloons Compete With Electricity

Ballons were popular with both youngsters and adults Saturday when more than 1,400 persons visited Morgan Creek Power Plant during "family day" open house. The visitors came from more than seven counties to view the huge electric generating plant, enjoy entertainment, refreshments, favors like balloons and free prizes.

Atheneum Host For District Workshop

Antheneum Study Club of Loraine hosted a Board Meeting and Workshop for Mesquite District TFWC at the Baptist Church, Oct. 14.

Sixty three visitors from towns over the fourteen county district attended.

Dr. B. H. Johnson, mayor gave the welcome address with response given by Mrs. C. S. Barlow of Moran.

Mrs. Bernice McCrea of Abilene led the pledge to the flag. Mrs. B. H. Johnson directed each of the nine Department chairmen to separate rooms for business sessions. Upon reassembling the highlight of each report was given, and the meeting adjourned to the school cafeteria for luncheon.

Seventy six guests and members were served by High School homemaking class. The table decorations were in the theme of pioneer days of Texas. An array of handmade sunflowers centered the tables. Red bandana napkins and miniature covered wagons completed details.

The invocation was given by Mrs. John P. Ward of San Angelo State College. Dinner music was played by Mrs. K. L. Taylor.

After dinner speaker was Mrs. L. E. Dudley of Abilene, who reviewed Justice W. O. Douglas' "Farewell To Texas," book in which the author makes a strong plea for the preservation of the beauty and grandeur of the natural scenery of Texas.

Mrs. Dudley stressed three areas of Texas to be considered The Big Thicket of East Texas, Big Bend Park, and Guadeloupe area of far West Texas.

Reports of standing committees and projects chairmen completed the afternoon session. Each of these reports showed varied activities of the 58 federated clubs of Mesquite District.

Miss Eudora Hawkins of Abilene, life member of TFWC and state chairman of Department of Public Safety for the clubs, expressed concern for older drivers who will be affected by the new Public Safety laws.

Mrs. W. A. Taylor and Mrs. Jack Coffee attended as invited guests. Mrs. B. H. Johnson etertained with an informal coffee hour at her home after the workshop was adjourned.

Seven Wells Blaze Is Investigated

Sheriff officers are investigating to determine if there is any connection between vandalism in Seven Wells area Sunday night and fire at a vacant farm house.

The midnight blaze destroyed the house located across Seven Wells Rd. from the old Seven Wells school building.

Firemen were notified of the fire at 12:55 a.m. and 12:58 a.m. Monday morning by persons in the area.

The same night at least three mail boxes were damaged , one torn from its base and tossed into a field and one knocked over apparently by a car. Also torn down in the same area was a highway stop sign at an access road to State Highway 208.

CONVERSATION CORNER

Ruth Coffey's

NOTED with some measure of purely feminine glee that Bridgitte Bardot simply does not show up for work some days.

Her excuse for absence from her acting role is "I do not feel pretty today so I can not work. Voila!"

Matter of fact she failed to show up for the big anniversary party her current husband planned for her. She didn't feel pretty that day, either.

Such an attitude is sure to create confusion — but only among men because men do not understand anything about that thing called, perculiarly enough, "feminine logic."

Any woman in the world could tell you how rotten it is not to feel pretty. How such a state deflates, depletes, and defeats a gal's ego like nothing else ever could.

* * *

NORMAL female can rise above obstacles . . . work on with a sore throat, blistered feet, pain in the neck, cold in the head . . . but not if she doesn't feel pretty.

She can feel serene in her year-before-last suit if it's one of her "I feel pretty" days. And think she's a hag in a brand new finery if she does not feel pretty on that particular occasion.

The reason may be deeply mysterious to all men everywhere. There's nothing puzzling about it to any daughter of Eve.

Difference — well, make that one of the differences — between the American wife and that French actress is that B. B. can get away with it and we can't.

You start telling a husband "Can't go to the game. I do not feel pretty," or calling the boss, "Won't be in today. I do not feel pretty and intend to mope all day," and know what you'r be? Unmanned and unemployed in very short order.

* * *

So? So bless our brave little hearts, we struggle on even on those days when we feel homely, tacky, droopy, and anything but pretty.

It is a credit to the stamina of the "She" part of the human race that we keep trying just the same.

Come hail or high water little women keep trying. We shorten hems drastically, cut the hair, let it grow again . . . apply eye makeup . . . sit under dryers . . . sacrifice time and energy buying clothes . . . just to feel pretty.

'Cause in our hearts we know that when a woman does not feel pretty she's capable of acting real ugly. Which could create pandemonium in the parlor if not all over the place.

* * *

WEEMS DYKES, pastor at First Christian, found out for himself how it feels to be deflated way up in St. Louis.

The preacher arrived at that city to attend International Convention of Christian Churches. My, my! He was impressed with the throngs out to welcome the Christians — he thought.

Not until one jovial fellow offered him a beer from a sack did Brother Dykes figure out that the crowds all over everywhere were out to celebrate the victory of the Cardinals in the World Series!

Like many ministers, Weems likes a good joke. Way he tells it, when he refused the stranger's beer, the man said. "Well a woman introduced me to drink. My one regret is that I didn't get her name and address so I could thank her."

* * *

DAVID TURNER, USN, received a genuine royal welcome when he drove his car from Charleston, North Carolina, his new home port, to home of his parents Dewey and Vickie Turner, Seven Wells Community.

It was a surprise visit and 30-day leave while his ship, the USS Sampson, guided missile destroyer, is in the yard. David is just back from a Mediterranean cruise and short shore leaves in Crete, Greece, Turkey, Italy and Spain.

He was promoted, by the way, to Radarman second class, Oct. 16, and will be here until about Nov. 5.

* * *

HERE for four days as guest of her sister Emily Barry and her husband Tom, was Frances Dulaney Jacobs who grew up here.

Frances and her husband, also named Francis spelled with an "i," live now in Winter Park, Florida, where he teaches math in Rollings College. He retired three years ago after 30 years as pilot and captain for Pan-American.

Asked about the same first name situation to discover that Frances calles her husband Francis, "Jake" and he in turn calls here "Dooley." The Jacobs have a son, a scientist in New York, and a married daughter whose husband teaches in University of Cincinnati where he also works toward his doctorate on science scholarship.

Saw Frances and George Witten coffee-breaking together . . Bea Henderson, wife of Eual.

Mattie (Mrs. Witt) Hines and granddaughter Janie were sharing a Villa booth with her niece Lofraine (Mrs. Nathan) Rogers.

The Wright Hocks were a dinner duet . . . Mayme Dozier (Mrs. Roy) was lunching solo . . . Mrs. Wilfred Fox was an office visitor . . . Ditto Mrs. John Brown . . . J. C. and Betty Garrett were refreshment breaking at the Colorado Drug . . . So was Bonnie Brown (Mrs. James.)

* * *

JAMIE ANDERSON, VFP, very favorite person of Austin, was a Colorado City visitor last week.

Hear tell Joe Earnest and his sisters Mabel Cooper and Martha Earnest were in Dallas for the State Fair, last week.

Cheryl Turner was one of the college crowd here for Homecoming.

Martha Kinard, daughter of the Larry Kinards, has a lovely new look — contact lenses. She's a vivacious CHS student.

Familiar faces, here and there places, belonged to Anne Halbert, wife of Lyth . . . Don Benson of TESCO . . . Bill Doss being his own yardman . . . Pretty Barbara Strain, wife of Jack, on the downtown scene . . . Mrs. Homer Bodine, mother of attractive Lamar Tech student Lynda . . . Mrs. Joe Leonard Blackard, mother of beauteous Ann Blackard, homecoming queen at high school here.

Getting Things Done

That word from our Congressman Omar Burleson — about the expansion of parking and drive facilities at the Post Office — is interesting.

First of all, it is an improvement, something better for our community. But most of all, it shows what a bit of citizens interest and effort can accomplish.

This was a project which had been looked over and passed by before. Then, a couple of citizens, Ralph Lee and Sefton Pickens, took a special interest.

Result was extra assistance from local officials, our congressman, Washington agencies until the project was put back on the planning board for completion.

I'm not saying we should run to congressmen every day, but it certainly doesn't hurt us when we develop local concern and effort for our own progress.

Maranatha Study Club Hears Bible Discussion

"Precious Possessions," theme for the Maranatha Study Club year, was accented Thursday in a program, "The Bible," with Mrs. Newt Miller as speaker.

Hostess for the club program was Mrs. Wayne Shawn in her home, 1022 East 10th St.

For roll call each member recalled her own introduction to the Bible. Mrs. B. D. Bassham was program leader and introduced Mrs. Miller who read as her text Luke 1:4.

"The road to greatest promise is in peaceful progress," Mrs. Miller said, "the manner in which we move forward is of greatest importance."

She then listed ways leading to peaceful progress. "We must believe," she said, "in a power greater than this world has to offer. We must believe in, depend upon this power that has created and now sustains us, Almighty God. We must be led by Him and be willing to follow His plan.

"How can we know His way? He gave us the pattern to go by — the Bible . . . It holds the solution to life . . . it is the best rule of human conduct ever known. We should read it, believe it, love it. It's our most valuable possession," she concluded.

* * *

Mrs. Charles Stevens, club president, conducted the business session when two new members were elected. They are Mrs. Woodrow Crabtree and Mrs. W. H. Fulton.

Mrs. Shawn gave the report from Mitchell County Federation and announced the Friday, Oct. 27, all-club tea to be hosted in Medallion by Hesperian Study Club with Mrs. B. F. Seay, TFWC president, as guest speaker in Medallion Room.

Attending Maranatha meeing, Thursday, were Mrs. Sam Bullock, Mrs. Wilfred Fox, Mrs. John Henry, Mrs. Elmer Martin, Mrs. P. H. Pace, Mrs. W. A. Pattillo, Mrs. R. M. Reed, Mmes. Stevens, Shawn and Miller. Mrs. A. C. Benson was a guest at the program.

Next regular meeting of the club will be Thursday, Nov. 16, in the home of Mrs R. M. Reed when Mrs. Bullock will present the program "Neighbors."

New uses for electricity plus an ever expanding population call for a constantly increasing supply of electricity. In 1948 the monthly consumption of electricity averaged 121 kilowatt hours per family per month. Today, it comes to almost 4 times that much. Eight years from now it may be doubled. Since it was first organized the member-owned LONE WOLF ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE has anticipated your needs, and has made provisions for this added service. Right now, they are planning years ahead to provide all the power needed for additional appliances and work saving devices. So live it up electrically. The LONE WOLF ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE won't let you run short of power.

District Of Columbia Is Subject For 1921 Club

Mrs. Ed Jones Sr., 538 East 6th St., was hostess for the Friday afternoon program meeting of 1921 Study Club.

Leader for the program was Mrs. J. T. Pritchett. Names of a prominent states man were given in response to roll call.

Subject for the day, "District of Columbia," was developed through papers by Mrs. W. L. Doss, Mrs. Doyle Hester, and Mrs. Pritchett.

Mrs. Doss discussed "National Galleries," with Mrs. Hester describing "The Living White House."

"Housekeeper of the White House," by Mrs. Pritchett, climaxed the program.

"Frances Levine writes that it's a Texas-size job facing Texan Mary Kaltman, housekeeper of the White House," Mrs. Pritchett said. "Mrs. Kaltman, who was hired to effect economics, has this view of the White House: there is no house with so many faces. It is a home, an office, a restaurant, a hotel, and a national monument, a wonderful, baffling, impossible, fascinating mixture that has to borrow its housekeeping techniques from each of the things it is," Mrs. Pritchett quoted.

"Just the dust from the shoes of the almost 2 million visitors each year is something to cope with," the housekeeper of the White House has said.

Of her job Mrs. Kaltman has said, "There is no other job in the world quite as exciting and sometimes I almost wish I had no imagination, for I have peopled these rooms so often with history book characters that it is, sometimes, difficult to remember there is work to do. I am as awed as I was the first day I came."

Attending the program were Mrs. Glen Coon, Mrs. J. S. Craddock, Mrs. M. J. Dawson, Mrs. Doss, Mrs. Hester, Mrs. A. O. Hickman Mrs. R. P. Price, Mrs. J. F. Quinney, Mrs. W. W. Rhode, Mrs. V. R. Trulock, Mrs. Pritchett, and Mrs. Jones, hostess.

Poking Fun (Seriously) At Committees

By OMAR BURLESON
U. S. Congressman
17th District

Those who have served in the Navy, and particularly aboard ship, will recall the saying, "if it moves, salute it; if it stands still, paint it."

Here in Washington another adage has developed. Where there is a problem, appoint a committee to study it. There are more committees and commissions making more studies and collecting more statistics than ever before. There just may be enough committees to come up with more solutions than there are problems.

Anyway, when no immediate solution is in sight the thing to do is appoint a committee or commission to look into it and file a report.

* * *

ALL COMMITTEES and commissions eventually come up with some sort of finding, and it is filed — somewhere. There are a lot of them around taking up a lot of space, but it is not sure who reads them. If all these reports were placed end to end they would reach — a long way.

Probably a commission should be set up to study just how far they reached. Maybe better, how big a bonfire they would make if stacked.

* * *

STUDIES HAVE been made of government paperwork; billions of pieces, occupying space needed for other reports—few are never disposed of.

Out of these studies come statistics which, when published, become authentic references on the subject. Incidentally, some statistics are seemingly manufactured without studies, which is even more confusing.

For instance, during the debate on the $40 million Rat Extermination Bill, its advocates said damage by rats came to $900 million annually and some 17,000 people are bitten each year. The figures cited in the debate on this measure came from government witnesses before the committee hearing the bill. After being recited and publicized a few times, they became as fact taken from Holy writ.

* * *

THE INDIVIDUAL Congressman has no way of determining his own set of statistics so he is fed those from government agencies which have conducted "studies" or estimated by experts.

So maybe a committee should be formed to study committees. A report might read: "It has been determined that the average committee is made up of people who have had five years of college, are married, having 1.6 children, earns $15,630 yearly, live in the suburbs, play tennis or golf on weekends and believe in a Divine being.

"The individual in the group will spend an average of 8.9 months having the report typed up by 5.6 secretaries and then it will be printed and distributed to 1206 people, of whom 5.4 percent will read it in its entirety."

* * *

FINALLY, THE reports will be filed away and used as reference for other people who will be asked to make a future study on the same subject. This means that the real purpose of a study is not to solve a problem but to postpone the solution in the hope it will go away. If it does not go away, at least most people will have forgotten it by the time the report comes out.

In fact, there is some pretty interesting information based on certain studies. A few years ago it was determined how much space each person would have if all the people in the world were placed in the State of Texas. The answer was something like 40 x 50 feet, which really is a surprising amount for 3 billion guests.

* * *

STUDIES, HOWEVER, have yet to be made on where the swallows come from which return to Capistrano on March 19 ever year Then too, somebody should find out how flies can find a boat when it is 30 or 40 miles from land.

These are interesting subjects, but some time or other a study in depth would seem justified on the matter of population movements in the United States to see how a more orderly pattern of population growth could be better encouraged. The imbalance of population, by reason of opportunity, portends a more serious situation than exists today.

U.S. Security In Vietnam

Tower Applauds Administration

By JOHN TOWER
United States Senator

This week the national discussion and debate about Vietnam has taken a new, and highly significant turn. For the first time the Admistration has effectively stated the extent of American national interest in the preservation of Asian order.

This statement by the Administration came in remarks of Secretary of State Dean Rusk and in a speech by Vice President Hubert Humphrey. The message of each was clear — the national-security, self interest of the United States is indeed, the major factor dictating our participation in the Vietnam war.

I was very glad to hear Administration spokesmen point this fact out. It is something I have been telling audiences all over our country for the last two years. And I believe much of the current confusion in our country over Vietnam has been unnecessarily stirred up because, up until now, the Administration has refused to articulate our national-interest position in Asia; referring rather to the allegation that we are in Vietnam because South Vietnam asked us in.

It always has been clear to the American public that a simple request to help is not sufficient cause for the major commitment of life and resources that we have mounted. Therefore, it is not surprising that when given such a half-hearted reason for our being there, many Americans have suggested that we get out.

But, the humanitarian desire to help never has been the key reason we are in Vietnam. The real reason is that it is in our own self interest to be there.

As Secretary Rusk put it this week:

"Within the next decade or two there will be a billion Chinese on the mainland armed with nuclear weapons . . . It is not very attractive to think of the world cut in two by Asian Communism . . . with the billions of free Asians under the deadly and constant

Vice President Humphrey stated it even more clearly and forcefully when he subsequently said:

"The threat to world peace today is militant, aggressive Asian Communism, with its headquarters in Peking, China. The aggression of North Vietnam is but the most current and immediate action of Asian Communism"

If Asian Communism succeeds in conquering South Vietnam, the Vice President said, "It would add to the strength of Communism in both Asia and Europe. It would represent a defeat not only for America but for freedom everywhere. The entire power structure of the world would be destroyed."

These matters of American national interest are the Vietnam factors which have always most deeply concerned me — the need for our country to keep its defense perimeters as far from our own shores and as close to the enemy's shores as possible — the constant guarantee that a treaty entered into by the United States will be honored by the United States. With these things in mind, I made a major address to the people of Texas as long ago as February of 1966.

What I said then is what pressure of Peking, so that their future is circumscribed by fear.

Administration officials have belatedly said this week. Let me repeat some of it for you. I said that:

"We want a peace lesson to be learned by the Asian Communists today — in this small country — just as it was learned by the Russians in Europe and Latin America. By standing firm today, we are avoiding a bigger battle later. By standing firm today, we are doing all we can do to guarantee peace for the world's future."

"Vietnam cannot be divorced from the long-term, main-event struggle against communism. This confrontation with the Reds has been going on throughout the 20 years since the end of World War II. Vietnam is but an episode in a drama that previously involved Berlin, Iran, Turkey, Greece Italy, Malaysia, the Philippines, Korea, Cuba, Lebanon, and the Dominican Republic.

"We continue to have such episodes because first the Soviet Communists and now the even more aggressive Chinese Communists have thought they can eventually have their way by fighting. They are wrong, but they certainly will not be convinced of that if we abandon Vietnam.

"The United States is not at fault in this battle, as some of the peaceniks and beatniks would have us believe. The United States did not attack across a sovereign boundry in Korea. The United States did not blockade Berlin nor build a wall, nor crush Hungarian freedom. The United States did not subjugate the Cuban people, or send querrilla terrorists into Venezula, Columbia and the Dominican Republic. The United States did not break the Geneva accords by terrorist attacks in Laos and South Vietnam — Hanoi did.

"America has been on the right side of these events. Communism has been in the wrong. It is communism which continues to endanger world peace and world order. It is America which defends world order and strives for world peace."

Those were my views two years ago. They are my views — and the Administration's — today. Vietnam is one of the international actions by which the United States defends its own national interest and its own national security.

Federal Cutback Danger To State

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

A proposed cutback in federal highway spending would seriously damage Texas economy, hamper safety efforts and break continuity in the state's road building program, Gov. John Connally has told U. S. officials. This proposal was President Johnson's first response to demands for economy.

In responding to an invitation from U. S. Secretary of Transportation Alan S. Boyd to comment on the suggested slash, Connally said a 50 per cent reduction in the federal aid highway program would mean no jobs for 30,000 Texans.

Connally noted that the program has given states incentive for long-range planning vital to efficiency of public works. As a result, he said, Texas Highway Department has maintained continuity and balance in its program "rather than the feast and famine type approach so commonly practiced" in other fields.

Texas is launching plans to improve highway safety, which would be curtailed by a fund reduction with a resulting increase in the traffic toll on outmoded highways, Governor Connally pointed out.

"It is somewhat difficult for us to understand how a reduction in expenditures for highways financed from the trust fund for which taxes on the motorists have already been levied would be any advantage to the balancing of the federal budget," Connally wrote. "It is assumed that there would be no corresponding reduction in highway user taxes to balance the reduction in federal aid highway expenditures. If such tax reduction is contemplated, it would be possible for the states to add such levies to their tax programs to keep the state economy in balance."

COLLEGE UP — Enrollments at universities, colleges and junior colleges in Texas are at a record 341, 471 students, 9.7 per cent over last fall.

Costs, too, inevitably are rising, coordinating board, college and university system noted. Agency estimated that the state bill for higher education will go up $31,400,000, or 19.5 per cent, the next biennium if the Legislature approves its fund allocation formulas.

In other action, board adopted a policy permitting professors in state schools to voice their opinion freely as private citizens without fear of punitive action affecting their jobs. Agency delayed until January the decision on a statewide educational television network proposal.

Enrollment breakdow follows: state senior colleges, 199,241; junior colleges, 76, 007; private senior colleges, 58,929; and private or church-related junior colleges, 10,294.

CLAIMS VICTORY — Rep. Gus Mutscher of Brenham officially announced his candidacy for next speaker of the House of Representatives to succeed Ben Barnes.

The Speaker is elected by a majority vote on the opening day of the regular session.

Mutscher claims pledges from 135 of the 150 House members.

COURTS SPEAK — Third Court of Civil Appeals, reversing former State Savings and Loan Commissioner James O. Gerst, approved the opening of a downtown Houston unit of Spring Branch Savings and Loan Association. Same court upheld State Banking Board award of Charter for American Bank of Commerce, Grapevine.

State Supreme Court backed the Texarkana Court of Civil Appeals ruling that Mt. Pleasant cannot require Jere Dairy to deliver milk three times a week in the city.

Court of Criminal Appeals reversed the murder conviction and ordered a new trial for a Smith County man accused of killing his wife's former husband because the wife (a divorce suit was on appeal) was allowed to testify at trial.

Same court reversed the murder conviction in a Harrison County case because the indictment was corrected after being read to the jury, changing the spelling of the victim's name.

ATTORNEY GENERAL— Fishermen can't catch fish with their bare hands in waters of the 32 Possum Kingdom Regulatory District counties, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin has held.

In other opinions, Martin ruled that:

- Judge Ewing Werlein of Houston cannot draw pay as court of civil appeals justice for month of September when he was sitting as a district court judge.
- Broad and unlimited corporate purpose clause providing for preparation of income tax returns and assistance with such returns necessarily would include practice of law.
- Employees of community centers for mental health and mental retardation are employees of political subdivisions entitled to social security coverage.
- Texas probate code provisions that court may waive costs or fees charged in guardianship proceedings to qualify a person for public welfare assistance are not repealed by new county clerks' fee bill.
- Act creating Caprock Hospital District provided that the maximum the Floyd County tax assessor-collector can charge for assessing and collecting the district's taxes is the top rate he receives for handling county taxes.

APPOINTMENTS — Larry Temple Governor Connally's top aide has been named special counsel to President Johnson. Temple, 31, is the second Connally assistant to join the White House staff. George Christian, Governor's ex-administrative assistant, is the President's press secretary.

Governor appointed to Land Uses and Environment Control Study Committee Charles Sowell, Dr. Charles J. Lind Jr., Stone Wells and Bill J. Ferguson all of Houston and Jim Jackson of Rockport.

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith appointed Sen. H. J. Blanchard of Lubbock to the same committee.

Smith named Sens. James S. Bates of Edinburg and Jack Hightower of Vernon to new Texas Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Justice and picked Sen. Bruce Reagan of Corpus Christi to serve on special Interim Committee on State and Local Tax Policy.

House Speaker Ben Barnes appointed Reps. Felix Mc Donald of Edinburg, John Wright of Grand Prairie and Frank Calhoun of Abilene, Marshall Formby of Plainview and Gregg County Commissioner Bill Owens, Gladewater, to Interim County Government Committee.

PARK BONDS — An ironic situation will face Texas outdoors lovers on November 11. That is the day the deer-hunting season opens and also the date of the constitutional amendments election which could mean so much to the state's parks system.

Up for voter approval is a proposition which would authorize the state to issue $75,000,000 worth of bonds to finance expansion and development of the parks system.

Bonds would be issued for 10 years and would be retired through admission fees charged at state parks.

Supporters of the constitutional amendment are urging outdoors-type people to vote absentee, if they plan to be out stalking deer on election day.

SHORT SNORTS — Damage to schools in the Lower Rio Grande Valley during Hurricane Beulah, along with normal shortages that occur this time of year, has caused temporary textbook shortages in some places across the State.

State Comptroller's office says that private clubs which serve but don't sell drinks must pay sales tax on the mixer and ice which goes into the "service charge" for mixed drinks.

Council of College Presidents of the state-supported colleges and universities has endorsed proposed constitutional amendment No. 6 (to be voted on Nov. 11), which would allow non-elected state officials to serve on national advisory boards.

Longer Danger

Winter Brings It

With days getting noticeably shorter, the Texas Safety Association and the Texans For Traffic Safety today urged motorists to sharpen up on driving skills to cope with increasing hours of darkness.

Driving during dusk and at night calls for increased alertness, better control of the car and reduction of speed. An estimated 1,805 Texans were killed last year in nightime accidents.

Both safety organizations recommend that motorists follow these tips for safer driving at night.

- Pull into traffic more cautiously than in daytime. Not only do you see less at night, but other drivers have more difficulty seeing you.
- Watch for vehicles that might be parked or stopped on the roadway with poor lights or none at all.
- If your car becomes disabled, get it off the road and set up flares or lights to alert other drivers.
- Be sure your headlights are functioning and that both upper and lower beams are properly aimed.
- Do not over drive your headlights. At 60 miles per hour it will take you, under average conditions, about 370 feet to stop. Yet you can see only about 200 feet ahead.
- Never drive with parking lights instead of headlights. Parking lights can cause an oncoming driver to think you are farther away than you are.
- If an approaching driver fails to dim his lights, do not keep your bright lights on, too. Slow down, dim your lights, and keep your eyes on the right-hand shoulder of the road or the lane edge to guide you.
- Give directional signals well in advance of turning, to allow for decreased visibility.
- Keep your windshield and windows clean, inside and out. A moderately dirty windshield may not bother you much in the daytime, but at night the glare of oncoming headlights diffused against the film may blind you or make you fail to see unlighted objects.

Taxpayers Quiz

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

* * *

Q — I'm already claiming all my exemptions. Can I reduce my withholding any further? I could use the money to pay some of my medical bills.

A — Additional withholding allowances may be claimed based on your actual itemized deductions last year. Ask your employer for Form W-4 and a Sechedule A.

To claim such additional withholding exemptions, the taxpayer must expect his itemized deductions for the current year to be at least as much as they were last year. For someone in the $4-6,000 wage bracket, an additional exemption is allowable if itemized deductions were at least $1,200 for 1966 and are expected to be at least that much in 1967. Taxpayers in the $8-10,000 wage bracket must have had an expect to have at least $1,705 in deductions to be entitled to an additional withholding exemption.

* * *

Q — I'm working for part of my room and board at college. Is there any chance I'd have to pay tax on this?

A — The general rule is that any credit you receive towards your room and board as compensation for work is counted as taxable income If this plus any other income you have amounts to $600 or more for the year you will have to file a tax return.

Remember that if your earnings were less than $600 but any Federal income tax was withheld, a return must be filed to obtain a refund.

Q — I just got a bill for additional tax. Can I pay this off in installments?

A — There is no provision for the payment of taxes in installments. Payment is due upon receipt of the bill. You will also find that the bill includes interest on your unpaid taxes at the rate of six percent a year.

* * *

Q — What form do I use to report tips to my boss? I want to get credit for them for Social Security purposes

A — Use Form 4070 and give it to your employer by the 10th of the month following the month the tips were earned. Do not give any of your tip income to your employer for withholding, however. He will make the necessary withholding from the wages he pays you.

The general rule on tip income is to report it when it amounts to $20 or more a month earned while working for one employer. IRS has a diary that can be used to keep a daily record of your tips. Send a post card to your district director and ask for Document No. 5635.

* * *

Q — When I retired I was given some shares of stock in the company by my fellow employees. Will this be taxable to me?

A — If you received the shares as a gift from your fellow employees then they won't be taxable to you. However, you will have to report as income any dividends you receive on them.

* * *

J — I have several employees who work for me on a straight commission basis. Do I have to withhold any taxes for them?

A — Yes you do. The withholding requirements apply to payments to employees of commissions and bonuses as well as to regular salaries.

Outdoors In Texas

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

Some shooters seem to think when they go to the skeet range they are throwing money awey. ut that is not exactly so.

Time and money spent on the skeet range can result in a considerable saving in the field.

There is nothing like a little clay-bird practice to sharpen the eye and coror-dinate movement. Both are needed in the field.

While there is a wide difference between shooting at clay birds and the live birds arising from a fast flush, or doves moving in through a pass, the same principle is there. You've got to get the gun to the shoulder and be sure of your lead. This ability can be developed on the skeet range.

Presently a great deal of attention is being turned on what is known as "crazy quail." This type of shooting isn't exactly new, but it seems that more shooters are talking about it now than ever before. The "game" got started around Dallas and has spread to other spots in the state.

For instance, there is a crazyquail pit on that famous Y. O. Ranch near Mountain Home. Charles Schreiner III put it in last year when the Texas Outdoor Writers Association held a falll meeting there. Since then many have shot over the trap and it is a great place to sharpen the shooting eye.

In this sport only one trap is used. It is in a concreate lined pit about six feet in the ground. Something like an underground cistern. Operator of the trap sits comfortably in the pit and awaits your call for "pull." And that's the last control you have over the bird.

The trap is on a revolving stand. Of course this means that the clay bird ns likely to leave in any direction. It can be going away from
