Scattered Showers Aid Some Sections

Scattered showers over Lynn county Tuesday and Wednesday afternoon were sufficiently heavy in spots to benefit crops.

Wednesday, a cloud built up over Petty, dropped a half inch over a part of that community, moved southward, and from an inch to an inch and a half fell at the farms of George Claude Wells, Sonny Roberts and others six to eight miles west of Tahoka. Further south, W. W. Hagood received only about a quarter.

A "good shower" fell south of New Home, and Buel Draper reported 2 of an inch northwest of Tahoka.

Parts of the Newmoore community received up to an inch, and an area east of O'Donnell received rain. N. W. Smith, who farms three miles east, reported an inch or more.

Parts of the New Lynn community received up to an inch. Also, east of Tahoka, the Borkin and Hargett places received about a half inch.

Only a trace fell in Tahoka.

Masonic Lodge Installs Officers

New officers of Tahoka Masonic Lodge No. 1041 were installed last week at the regular meeting, with Happy Smith and Buel Draper acting as the installing officers.

New officers are: Harvey Freeman, worshipful Master; Arthur Findt, Senior Warden; Kevill Coffman, Junior Warden; C. W. Roberts, Senior Deacon; Carl Griffing, Jr., Junior Deacon; Harry Roddy, Secretary; Rev. J. B. Stewart, Chaplain; Edgar Roberts, Tiler; Aubrey Smith and C. B. Terry, Stewards; and Granvel Ayer, Reporter.

The new W. M., Harvey Freeman, presented the outgoing W. M., Past Master Douglas Greer, with a gavel.

The new meeting time for the summer is 8 p. m. on each first Tuesday night.

Thursday night, new officers of the Chapter and Council were installed by Vernon Jones and Happy Smith.

These new officers are: Otis Spears, Most Excellent High Priest; Hick Gibson, Excellent King; Kevill Coffman, Excellent Scribe; H. W. Carter, Secretary; John Slover, Treasurer; M. H. Two Ladies Who Escaped From Iron Curtain, Speakers At Tahoka Rotary

Mrs. F. H. Jakobsmeier of Lubbock and formerly of Germany, and her sister, Miss Lile Gerstenberg, visiting in Lubbock on a six-months visa from Germany, were speakers at the Rotary Club meeting here Thursday.

Both ladies are refugees from East Germany. Mr. and Mrs. Jakobsmeier have lived in Lubbock for two and a half years. He is a watchmaker and lensmaker at Reese Air Force Base.

The ladies told of the differences of customs in Germany and the U. S. They compared the schools, police set-up, etc. They said that the cost of living in Germany is extremely high and it

Polio Vaccine Coming Soon

Second shots in the Lynn county polio immunization program will probably be given the week of July 25, according to Dr. Emil Prohl, county health officer.

All parents of first and second grade students who received their first shots in April, are requested to watch this paper next week for definite instructions as to time and place for receiving these second inoculations.

Dr. Prohl has been advised that Lynn county's allotment of vaccine has already arrived in Austin.

Water Situation Is Still Acute

Due to heavier than usual consumption, Tahoka is still dangerously near to water rationing. This is in spite of the fact that nearly two weeks ago, the City called on water users to help conserve water.

Two new wells have been drilled, one proved a dry hole, and the other is now being tested. Others will possibly be drilled. But, that does not alleviate things right now.

Citizens living north of the Brownfield highway are asked not to water their lawns except on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. Those south of this highway have Monday, Wednesday and Friday as watering days.

In fact, last week instead of complying with the request, more water was used than any week this year.

In the hope that citizens may become better informed on the current water situation, Mayor Clint Walker has presented the information in the questions and answers below:

Question: Why are we having a water shortage?

All people of Tahoka and surrounding communities have a cordial invitation to attend any or all services, Kelcy says.

First place winner was Howard Pollard of Muleshoe.

Two Are Killed In Car Wreck

Two former citizens of Tahoka of about twenty years ago were killed in an automobile accident eight miles west of Pampa on Highway 152 Tuesday at 5 p. m.

They are: G. M. (Bill) Bankston, 41, of Lubbock, and Frank Pierce, also about 41, of Borger. The two men were cousins.

The two men, presumably, had been out hunting, as they had five dogs in the car, and two of the dogs were killed in the wreck.

Highway patrolmen are reported to have said the Bankston pink convertible attempted to pass another car on a hill, when a truck-trailer loomed up in front. George Milton (Bill) Bankston of the car occupied by Bankston and Pierce. The right side of the Bankston car smashed into the right front of the truck. Neither the truck driver nor the driver of still another car which crashed into the careening truck was injured.

Funeral services for Bankston were held at the First Baptist Church in Tahoka at 4:30 p. m. Thursday, with the pastor, Rev. Clifford Harris officiating. Burial followed in Tahoka Cemetery under direction of Stanley Funeral Home.

Services for Pierce were held in his present home town, Borger, at 2 p. m. Thursday.

Bankston, now of Lubbock, they farmed in the Edith community, and lived in Tahoka for a while. Bill married a Tahoka girl, the (Cont'd on back page)

O'Donnell Rodeo Is Next Week

The annual O'Donnell Rodeo will be held this year on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday of next week, July 21, 22, 23.

Plans have been made for a big street parade each day of the rodeo at 6 p. m., and practically every civic organization in the town and surrounding community as well as many individuals and businesses will have floats in the parade. Also, the Lynn County Sheriff's posse and several other posses will take part in the parades.

The rodeo will again feature the stock of Goat Mayo of Petrolia, some of the toughest stock on the rodeo circuit.

The O'Donnell show has become one of the best in the area, and larger crowds are being expected for each performance.

Methodists Plan Budget Campaign

Committees from the First Methodist Church are at work securing pledges from the membership for the current budget for 1955-56 and also for a building fund.

Members explain that the church has no definite building plans at the present time, but are starting a new building fund now with the idea of building a church addition some time in the future. A goal of $15,000 has been set in the present building fund campaign.

The church budget has been set at $23,833.00. Last year's budget was only $17,000, but a total of $24,000 was contributed to the church program by the members.

A. M. Bray is the budget chairman, and his assistants are John Slover, Maurice Small, H. W. Carter, and Mrs. R. H. Gibson.

50 Members In Swimming Class

Fifty children and adults are enrolled in the second series of swimming classes now in progress at Municipal Swimming Pool.

About twenty adults are taking the lessons each Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday mornings at 10 o'clock and about thirty children are taking the lessons at 11 o'clock the same mornings.

Dean Wright and Milton Gardner, pool operators, and Stanley Stone, life guard, are on hand at all sessions to give instructions.

Wilson Gin May Buy Second Plant

Wilson Cooperative Gin Association is calling a special meeting of its members for 2 p. m. Saturday in the Wilson school auditorium.

Gin members will consider a proposition to buy the Wayside Gin from Alex Sanders.

Start Poisoning Cotton Insects

Both fleahoppers and bollworms are already showing up in Lynn county cotton, County Agent Bill Griffin reports.

Every field inspected since Friday has shown infestation of fleahoppers, he says, and in most fields checked the infestation is sufficiently heavy for control measures.

Also, bollworms or eggs were found in all fields checked, but this infestation is still light.

Poisoning has already started on much irrigated cotton, Mr. Griffin states.

For spraying, the recommendation is for use of 1 pint of toxaphene, one-half pint heptachlor, one-half pint dieldrin, or one-half pint aldrin per acre.

For dusting, 10 percent toxaphene of 5 percent DDT is recommended.

Insect control guides may be secured by farmers at the office to the county agent.

No Settlement In Phone Strike

No definite settlement has been reached between General Telephone management and the operators union but the operators went back on the job last Sunday midnight after having been off the job three days.

Locally, supervisors kept the switchboards open for emergency and long distance calls, but no local calls were handled from Thursday midnight until Sunday midnight.

Operators are asking an increase in wages of from 75 cents to $1.25 an hour, and have about 20 other demands of the company, among which are shorter hours, more vacation pay, and other benefits.

Mrs. L. M. Jones and children, Larry and Donna, from Fort Worth, are here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Payne, and Mr. Jones' parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Jones of near Draw. Mr. Jones is with the Wales Trucking Co. out of Dallas.

New Home Community Center, built for use of all people of New Home, Lakeview, Petty, Joe Stokes, and Dixie communities, was formally opened with a brief program Tuesday night.

The serviceable building was erected by funds contributed by individuals and businesses. The project was sponsored by New Home Civic Club.

Principally, the building was erected as a recreation center for the youth of the area. It will also be used as a meeting place for the Civic Club, Home Demonstration Club, Boy Scouts, and other such organizations; and by individuals and groups for parties, family reunions and such groups on payment of a small fee.

The building actually cost $6,500.00, but this figure does not include donations and reductions on the price of materials and furnishings.

The structure is of concrete blocks, has a concrete floor and (Cont'd. On Back Page)

Baptist WMU Holds Royal Service Meet

The W. M. U. of the First Baptist Church met at the church Monday for the Royal Service program, with 15 members present.

A very interesting program, "All Roads Lead to London," was led by Mrs. Everton Nevill.

The front of the room was decorated with three attractive posters and a large map, all pertaining to the Baptist World Alliance, which is to meet in London this month.

The program began with the song, "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name," after which Mrs. W. P. Hutchison gave the devotional and the roll call of the nations. As each nation was called, a flag was put up on one of the posters, which made a very colorful display.

A prayer for the meeting in London, for a closer fellowship among all Baptist groups, for God's blessings on the world missionary program was led by Mrs. Paul Cox.

Mrs. Bob Lewis then sang "Lead On, O King Eternal," and Mrs. Truett Smith gave a short history of the Baptist World Alliance.

Mrs. L. D. Howell gave a step by step account of what is to take place at this meeting this month.

The program was closed by the group singing "Faith of Our Fathers" and a prayer by Mrs. K. R. Durham.

The Negro Bible School will be conducted next week, starting Monday, July 18, and continuing through July 22. Mrs. John Roberts is to be the superintendent for this school. If you have a desire to help in this school and have not been contacted, consult Mrs. Roberts about it, and we feel that a place will be provided for you.

Next Monday, the Walker Circle, Sallee Circle, and Sharpley Circle will all meet with Mrs. Ivan McWhirter, for a mission study program under the direction of Mrs. Jodie Nevill. The Wingo Circle will meet with Mrs. W. P. Hutchison to finish the

Farmers Can Help Defeat Gas Tax

The Lynn County Farm Bureau is urging all its members to write, wire or call their Congressman and ask his opposition to H. R. Bill 7072, scheduled to be heard before the House Public Works Committee this week.

The Texas Farm Bureau today continued its fight in Washington for legislation that would allow farmers to get a refund on Federal taxes collected on gasoline not used on highways.

The Bill would raise Federal taxes on gasoline from two to three cents a gallon, but make no provisions for the refund on gasoline not used on the highway.

Gene Leach, Texas Farm Bureau Legislative Director, said that indications are that a tax proposal for financing a highway program will pass this session. The amount of tax that farmers will have to pay will depend upon how much we do in the way of getting our membership to contact their Congressman, Leach said.

GULLIVER IN NIAGARA-LAND—Army engineers test proposed improvements on rivers and harbors on accurate scale models of the area involved at the 1,500-acre Waterways Experiment Station, Vicksburg, Miss. Here an engineer removes the miniature gate from a proposed regulating dam in an over-all improvement project of the Niagara River to preserve and enhance the beauty of the falls while compensating for the effects of additional diversions of water for power purposes.

Spot Oiling of Johnson Grass

College Station, July—Farmers can now get rid of Johnson grass completely without swinging a hoe.

Spot application of diesel and naphtha-type oil sprays is proving a practical answer to row crop control of Johnson grass. At College Station four treatments of such oils killed 99 percent of all Johnson grass in cotton stands in one season. Four trips over a similar field with hand hoes eliminated only 44 percent of the grass.

Homer E. Rea, agronomist for the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station who has been working with various Johnson grass killers, believes that successful spot oiling of Johnson grass is highly significant.

"It does away with intensive hand labor methods which few farmers can afford these days," Rea said.

Varsol 1, Lightfoot 23, No-weed Oil, Lion 1 and Flit 38 are among commercial preparations to use. An ordinary knapsack sprayer applying a half and half mixture of one of these oils and diesel fuel will do the job, Rea explained. About one-third of a teaspoon of oil mixture on the stem near the base of each plant is sufficient for results. Best kills are obtained on young grass.

Within hours after the initial treatment Johnson grass usually is shriveled and killed to ground level. To completely eradicate the roots and prevent later resprouting repeat oiling at intervals of seven to 10 days may be necessary. This usually means four to six treatments.

Rea has the cost of application figured at $14.10 an acre, counting oil and labor. The cost, of

WELLS H. D. CLUB HOLDS SESSION

Wells Home Demonstration Club met Thursday, July 7, in the home of Mrs. Cecil Dorman. We worked on our crafts and discussed our float for the parade.

Punch and cake were served seven members, including our new member, Mrs. Murray Townes, and Mrs. H. L. Webb, Mrs. Jack Webb, Mrs. G. W. Hickerson Jr., Mrs. Gardenhire, Mrs. Buster Phipps, and Mrs. Cecil Dorman. Also, there were three visitors, Mrs. C. R. Blake, Mrs. Etter, and Mrs. Betty Phipps.

The next meeting will be held July 22 at the home of Mrs. Bill Gardenhire.

course, will vary with the amount of oil used and the intensity of Johnson grass infestation.

Many Deaths From Drowning

Austin, June 30—There were 397 drownings in Texas last year according to figures released by the Texas State Department of Health. Over half of these deaths were among those under 25 years of age. Drownings dropped sharply after age 45, but occurred in each bracket up to 90 years.

Dr. Henry A. Holle, Commissioner of Health, stated that most of these deaths could have been prevented if sensible precautions had been taken. This is the season of the year when many of us like to take to the water for a cool swim, for week-end boating or fishing trips. These are all healthful forms of recreation, if you follow common sense rules, don't get cocky about your ability in the water and don't take chances.

The safest place to swim is the municipal pool where a life-guard is on duty. The water is treated to kill disease germs and is kept fresh by a continuous change of water. Also there is no danger of wading into unexpected deep holes such as there is in pond's lakes and rivers.

If you go boating and do not know how to swim always take along a life preserver. See that each child is so equipped. Be careful not to overload the boat. Changing seats or standing up in a small boat is dangerous business. If you should capsize, stay with the boat.

Watch children carefully while they play around small pools or even buckets of water. Small children often drown in stock tanks, fish pools, ditches and drainage canals. They even drown in bath tubs, because thoughtless mothers leave them there to play without supervision.

Consistently practice safety precautions and soon avoiding accident hazards will become second nature to you. Swimming boating and fishing are healthful exercise if you do them safely.

Dr. Benoy Gattis, optometrist, of Ardmore, Okla., wife and son are here visiting his mother, Mrs. I. I. Gattis, and brother, Eldon Gattis.

a composition roof. The size is 32 feet by 60 feet, and the structure includes a large meeting room, a fully equipped kitchen, and two rest rooms.

It is located on a block of land acquired from Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Smith, located northeast of the school property.

The program Tuesday night, attended by about 15 Tahoka citizens, was opened by L. H. Moore, Jr., who told something of the and the work that went into it. Moore then presented the keys to the building to E. R. Blakney, president of the Civic Club and also president of the Community Center Board of Directors.

Blakney expressed thanks to the many who had had a part in its construction, and several others made brief impromptu talks.

Robbie Gill paid special tribute to E. R. Blakney.

Members of the club declare that to E. R. Blakney goes the major portion of credit for the project's successful completion. It was E. R. who had the dream and furnished the leadership and the untiring effort to raise the money and push the project through in the face of some opposition.

Once the project was underway, the whole community flew in to help, and especially did all members of the Civic Club lend a hand in the work.

To start the project off, Ken Bozeman of Lubbock staged a farm sale which raised a fund of $2,300.00. Donations of money and materials were solicited, and the building is now complete, even to furnishings, completely free of debt.

Supply houses sold them materials at marked-down prices, a water well was drilled free of charge, and the pressure pump was contributed. Eight tables and 60 chairs were donated by two oil mills. Prices were reduced by merchants on the complete modern equipment in the kitchen.

The Home Demonstration Club contributed the draperies, coffee urn, and silverware. Merchants in Tahoka, Lubbock, Wilson, and Meadow made cash contributions.

Construction was under the direction of a building committee composed of Roy Lee Williams, L. C. Unfried, Frank Lisemby, Delbert Mouser, C. E. Roper, and L. H. Moore Jr.

Electrical work was done by W. C. (Dub) Thompson.

Plumbing was done by David Peterson.

The finances were raised principally by Robbie Gill, Boswell Edwards, and H. Q. Sharp.

Along with these, always in the lead were the club officers, Blakney, president; Gill, secretary; and G. W. (Dick) Turner,

War. In escaping from East Germany, their parents crawled on their stomachs for three days through a forest.

Mr. and Mrs. Jakobsmeier, who also escaped behind the Iron Curtain, narrowly missed being sent to Russia. Only two weeks after they made their escape, the Russians took 700 people from a factory in which Mr. Jakobsmeier worked, forced them to sign papers that they were leaving of their own free will, took them into Russia, and they have never been heard of since.

Miss Gerstenberg said that the people in East Germany are deeply grateful for the Marshall Plan, which aids the 10 million people who have escaped behind the Iron Curtain.

Miss Gerstenberg, who is from a town near Frankfurt, works there in a bank. Although she has been in Lubbock only five months, she has already learned the English language. She said that she was very happy to be able to speak to the Rotary Club here, because only the highest class and wealthiest people in Germany are members of the organization. Miss Gerstenberg will leave this week for her return to her country.

A. M. Bray arranged for the women to speak here, and introduced them at the meeting.

Harold Green, the new president of the Rotary Club, presided at the meeting, which was the first one of the new year.

Draw Methodists To Have Meeting

Draw Methodist Church will have a ten-day revival meeting beginning on Friday night, July 22, according to the pastor, Rev. Silas Dixon.

Rev. C. A. Norcross of the Lubbock Circuit, a former pastor at Draw, will do the preaching. Services will be held twice daily, at 10:30 a. m. and at 7:30 p. m.

Jr. and every member of the club and some others helped out.

Mr. Roper and Wilmer Smith both said, however, one of the greatest benefits from the project was the fact that it had helped develop a fine spirit of community cooperation. In addition, the meeting place will furnish a wholesome place of recreation for the young people without going to other towns.

The Community Center will be operated by a slate of officers and directors composed of: E. R. Blakney, president; Mrs. Wilmer Smith, vice president; Mrs. C. B. Nowlin, secretary-treasurer; Orville Ray Phifer, R. O. Webb, Boswell Edwards, and David Peterson.

Water

Answer: Due to continued drought, Tahoka is using more water per capita than in any previous summer. Heavy pumping of city wells has reduced production while consumption has risen sharply.

Question: Is City water being sold for other uses?

Answer: No, water from the city mains is not being sold to other towns in the area. Some water is being metered and sold to Argo oil well being drilled on Southwest corner of town section. This water is being taken from the well supplying the park only, and is furnished only when the city is not using the well for watering the park. The well supplying the park is not tied in to city mains and cannot be used for domestic purposes due to the high gypsum content.

Question: What is the City doing to alleviate the situation?

Answer: The city has drilled two wells the past week. One of them was a dry hole and the other is being tested this week. As soon as it is tested, it will be tied in to the mains and will help the situation, provided of course it makes a well. Other wells will be drilled as fast as possible. Local citizens have been urged to drill individual wells for lawn watering, and since last week several have been drilled and put in operation. The following have drilled wells along with others whose names we do not have: Dub Gurley, Al Lehman, L. T. Streech, Herman Heck, and Pat Hines.

Another measure the city has taken is to call for lawn and yard watering on alternate days of the week. The first week this plan was in operation, more water was used than ever before; however, there is some decrease in water use this week.

Balch Boy Also Went To Europe

Russell Balch, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Balch of New Home, also made the recent month-long trip to Europe with his parents.

Last week, The News carried a story about the Balch trip, but did not know that Russell also went.

Russell was especially interested in the farming he saw in Germany, where farms are small and practically all work is done by hand.

In the wheat harvest, Russell was amazed to see the people cutting the grain with hand scythes, picking up and tying the grain by hand, stacking it by hand, and also hauling the bundles in carts drawn by cows.

Mrs. Silas Dixon, wife of the Methodist pastor at Draw, is reported to be much improved. She was injured seriously in a fall at her home a few weeks ago.

DALE THUREN FARM STORE

J. A. Pebsworth Jr. Has Fine Quarter Section Farm

J. A. Pebsworth Jr. is owner of this Lynn county farm, located four miles east and five miles south of Tahoka.

Due partially to the telephone strike, only four people correctly identified the place. Clovis McElroy was the first rural reader and "Slim" Pyburn the first town reader to identify it. Only others identifying the place, besides Pebsworth, were Cleve Littlepage and Barbara Thomas. Barbara was "put out" because she couldn't call The News, and would have been the winner had she been able to call when she said she recognized the place.

The Pebsworth farm consists of 160 acres, but he also farms a half section of the John Donaldson land and a quarter of the I. M. Draper land.

J. A. and wife, Joyce, bought the farm in March, 1950, from Samie Norwood. They put the modern home on the place the next fall.

The farm is contoured, as is the Draper farm, and the Donaldson land is terraced. J. A. deep broke all his quarter and parts of the Donaldson and Draper land this year, a total of 330 acres. All of it is dry land, except about 50 acres of the Donaldson farm, on which there are three little "eye-dropper" wells, as Pebsworth calls them. However he expects them to be good insurance this year. He did have a fair crop prospects, but his crop can not hold out much longer without rain.

Mrs. Pebsworth is the former Miss Joyce Williams, daughter of W. H. Williams of Draw. She was born and reared at Draw, and attended school there. J. A. was born at Sweetwater, moved to the Draw area in 1934 with his parents, who now live at Olton, and attended old Draw High School. The couple married in October, 1948. They have no children—yet.

The young farm couple feed a few beef cows and keep some chickens to supply the home table.

The first legislative body in America assembled at Jamestown, Va., in 1619.

Three Going To Band School

Abilene, (Spl)—Two Tahoka students and another from Wilson have registered for McMurry College's seventh annual summer band school, to be held here July 17-30.

They are Gail Kieth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Kieth, Rt. 4, Tahoka; Sandra McNeely, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. McNeely; and Deana Ward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Ward of Rt. 2, Wilson.

More than 275 bandsmen and twirlers were signed up to attend the band school as of July 7, according to Raymond T. Bynum, McMurry band director who is in charge. Total enrollment is expected to exceed last year's registration of 343 students, Bynum said.

The students will receive instruction in music theory, solo instrument work, actual practice in concert bands, and techniques of baton twirling and drum majoring. They will have room and board in the McMurry College dormitories and dining hall.

Bynum's instructional staff will be composed of 20 outstanding Texas public school band directors and twirling instructors. Registrations will continue to be accepted through July 18, opening day of the band school, Bynum said.

WASHINGTON AND

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Already Washington prepares for great debate late this summer when United Nations "police action" in Korea.

Many Washington observers feel concept of UN is inferior to that of old League of Nations. In League, weapon of economic sanctions to preserve peace was recognized even though not invoked due to timidity.

However, it is felt use of economic blockades today with Russia needing food, with Russians facing starvation, would do much to bring about honorable world peace. However, too many nations of free world whose industrial capacity was built up by U. S. foreign aid grants are too eager to trade with the communists to expect use of this bloodless weapon.

Thus ten years of UN have failed to make any great accomplishments, and cost to U. S. has been heavy.

Leaving aside wisdom of permitting persons from all the world to enter U. S. with special immunities as UN personnel, the great steel and glass birdcage on the East River has been hatching on U. S. soil many ideas foreign to American way of life.

It is significant that one of major accomplishments of UN has been setting up of a cooperative store for its employees. Thus socialistic methods of business have been created on free American soil under banner of UN.

Undoubtedly, as freely predicted in Washington, when Sen. Knowland launches his attack on the UN, some will try to make it appear he is also capable of assailing Mother's Day.

However, despite emotional appeal of world peace, it will be a time to analyze debate from viewpoint of cold business logic.

New Laws Affecting Jury Service Are Discussed By District Judge ReedBy Louis B. Reed
District Judge

Since the passage of the Constitutional Amendment providing for jury service by women, and certain legislation passed by the recent Legislature which became effective on May 20, 1955, the following changes have been made regarding jury service.

1. The law now provides for the same jury service on behalf of men and women. Under the law certain people have always been exempt. Some of these laws of exemption have been changed. The former law provided for the exemption of men over the age of 60. The law was changed by the recent legislature which provides that men and women both are exempt only when they become over 65.

2. The law provides that the spouses of attorneys engaged in actual practice of the law are exempt from jury service.

3. Members of the National Guard during the period of time when they are actually on active duty are exempt.

4. Females who have custody of children under the age of 16 years are exempt.

5. Nurses, both registered and practical actually engaged in the practice of their profession are exempt.

6. The wife of a man summoned to serve on the same jury panel is exempt. She would not be exempt if she was summoned to serve on a different panel.

7. The law formerly provided that "druggists" were exempt. This has been changed and the word "druggist" has been omitted and "registered Pharmacists" are now exempt. Under the change, the druggist who is not actually a pharmacist himself would not be exempt.

8. School teachers, were formerly exempt. They are no longer so under the law.

9. Publishers of newspapers were formerly exempt. They are not since the effective date of this recent enactment of May 20, 1955.

People who are exempt are eligible in every respect and will be used as jurors unless they wish to claim their exemption, in which case they are excused. There are a number of other exemptions but they remain unchanged, so no mention is made of them.

In criminal cases the law has always required that all members of the jury be kept together at all times, from the time of their selection until they were discharged after reaching a verdict. This remains unchanged except as follows: The law now provides that when a jury is composed of males and females, then "such jurors are permitted to separate to the extent of housing female jurors separate and apart from male jurors." The law further provides that there shall be furnished "facilities for the female jurors separate and apart from facilities for the male jurors." Otherwise the law with regard to the separation of jurors remains unchanged.

Bindweed Can Be Controlled

College Station, July—Bindweed can be controlled on large acreages of cropland through competitive cropping, intensive cultivation and the use of 2,4-D. These practices are recommended as a result of experiments conducted in the Texas Panhandle since 1949 by A. F. Weise, agronomist for the Amarillo Experiment Station, and H. E. Rea, agronomist for the Main Station at College Station.

Wheat was the best competitive crop used. Sorghum was not easily established during the summer when the weeds were growing vigorously. A fallow-wheat system, intensive cultivation during the fallow periods, eliminated 92 percent of the weeds in three years.

The 2,4-D was applied in the fall before the wheat was planted or in the spring when the wheat was fully tillered. Patches of bindweed up to half an acre in size were eradicated with applications of soil sterilants, such as sodium chlorite, Concentrated Borascu, Atlacide, Polybor and Karmex W at rates of 5,16,7,12 and three-eighths pounds, respectively, per square rod. One application of soil sterilant seldom completely eliminated bindweed; retreatments usually were necessary for complete eradication.

Complete results of these studies are given in the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station's bulletin 802. Copies are available from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

Bill Griffin, county agent of Lynn county, has again been named general livestock superintendent of the Panhandle South Plains Fair. He has served in this capacity a number of years.

George "Scotty" Samson of Post again will be the general agricultural superintendent.

Farm Safety Is Vital To Many

College Station, July—More accidental deaths occur in farming than in any other major industry in the nation. Texas, with its widespread farming, and ranching operations, is in a position to help reduce the toll taken by such accidents," said Governor Allan Shivers in his proclamation designating the week of July 24-30 as Farm Safety Week.

had proclaimed the same period Earlier President Eisenhower as National Farm Safety Week. He requested organizations and leaders interested in farm life to join in the continuing drive to reduce needless injuries and deaths to farm people.

The week is sponsored jointly by the National Safety Council and the U. S. Department of Agriculture and has been observed each year since 1944. The Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Committee working with the sponsors and farm organizations and leaders of the state report much progress during the past several years. The committee has called on farm organizations and rural youth groups to assist with carrying the message on safe rural living to farm and ranch families. Four-H club members not only conduct individual demonstrations involving farm safety but compete as teams for county, district and state honors in a farm and home safety demonstration contest.

It is the hope of the Texas Committee that farm families in every community will participate in activities which may be planned for their protection. The theme of the 1955 week is "Your Safety is in Your Hands... Be Careful Avoid Accidents."

THE HYDRA-MATIC V8 TOWN & COUNTRY RUNABOUT

Sign of a going-ahead concern

ONE look shows you that this Blue Chip GMC is—in addition to its other advantages—a traveling salesman. Everywhere on its rounds, it plants the definite impression of being the advanced equipment of a top-grade, forward-moving business.

That boulevard smartness—the ultra-modern panoramic windshield—the flowing sweep of its body and the smoothness of its pace—all are obvious examples of the owner's high standards.

But people would be even more impressed if a Blue Chip GMC's engineering modernity were visible from the curb.

It has a superpowered advanced design V8, for example—an engine as spirited as a sports car's, yet with enormous pulling ability.

Hydra-Matic Drive makes handling a joy, and fuel and maintenance costs a bargain. Massive axles and frame will defy time and loads. Its exclusive Silent Power Exhaust System makes it welcome anywhere.

With a chassis-full of extra values like these, a Blue Chip GMC becomes, in a short time, the least expensive truck you can buy. And those features again will be in your favor when finally you come to trade.

Why not get into the Blue Chip class? Come in and we'll show you how pleasant and profitable it is!

ODds AND EndS

(BY E. L. THE ELDER)

Like many watermelons, canteloupes, and "punkins" I have seen out west, folks, I have recently taken a second growth.
My sister Mary insists on my eating so much three times a day that I am becoming robust in the middle. result is that I am becoming delicious mosquito and chigger food. These winged monsters and these avaricious red pedestrians can deal a man more misery in one single second than he can get rid of in a week. You sit down on the front porch to enjoy the light breeze that has blown in, and a mosquito will noiselessly and surreptitiously crawl up your britches leg and before you know he is there he will sink a hypo-like needle into your hide, sip a tiny bit of blood and inject a tiny bit of poison and fly away singing before you have time to strike. Or, perhaps you will step out onto the grassy lawn for a few moments; an hour later you will undress and retire, and when you awake the next morning, you will be itching from head to foot.
A whole regiment of chiggers, apparently, have invaded the inviting terrain and have dug in for the summer. That's my greatest peeve against Waco. The man who invented the atomic bomb
did a marvelous piece of work.
The agricultural scientists who have taught the farmers how to combat the boll worm, the boll weevil, the army worm and the grass hoppers have won the everlasting gratitude of our farmers, business men, and all the rest of us who eat and wear clothes. But the man who succeeds in exterminating for all time to come the mosquitoes and red bugs that infest our land every summer will go down in history as the greatest philanthropist of all time.

They have some things down here though that we certainly would like to have in Lynn County. Between Waco and Eddy, a distance of twenty miles to big Waco to Austin highway crosses at least seven creeks with trickles of water in them most of the year. Some of these streams converge as they flow on eastward toward the Brazos, and so there are only three important streams that flow across the highway from Waco to Chilton, a distance of twenty-two miles. These streams are the Castlemen, the Bullhide, and the Cow Bayou, each of which is a stream that any West Texas county would be glad to have. If Lynn county, for instance, had just one of them,
the Cow Bayou, it would be worth
a million dollars to the county.
With two or three irrigation dams built across it, it would be worth many millions of dollars. The valley down which it flows is one of the richest and most productive valleys in all central Texas.

I'm getting hungry to see some stars, folks. This is the hardest country in which to find stars overhead I ever saw. The moon is shining bright right now, but I have been trying for a solid week to locate the dipper and the north star but I have not seen a twinkle of a single one of them
yet. All the neighboring houses are so tall and the foliage of the trees so heavy and the skies so murky and the moonlight so bright that all the little stars might twinkle, twinkle all the night and I would not know a thing about it.

So, having gotten all the peeves out of my system, I am going to turn now to Miss Emma Jewell Ross' book on the Holy Land and give you the rest of that.

We were listening to her story about the Dead Sea when we took out last week. So, that is where we begin this week. Quote:
"I have friends living in Jerusalem who, since there are good roads and automobiles, often go down to the Dead Sea late in the afternoon and have a dip
in the water followed by a camp fire and picnic lunch on the banks; or sometimes after a swim they will drive to old Jericho and have the picnic lunch at the Fountain of Elisha, which the prophet made sweet by throwing salt into it. It is still there, gushing from the heart of the desert and bringing life and vegetation to the surrounding country. (II Kings 2:19-21.) Poplar and Eucalyptus trees grow near by, making an excellent place for a picnic. Think of eating a picnic lunch right under the walls of Old Jericho!"

"Do you remember Rahab, the woman who once lived upon these walls? The City of Jericho captured over three thousand years ago was very small according to our cities today, for at that time it did not cover more than five or six acres. The first excavation was made here only some thirty years ago, but the excavators seem to have found the ruins of the city which Joshua took. The old walls and houses were made of sun-dried brick, and the wall of the buildings was constructed without angles, the cracks being filled in with small stones. One can still see them.

We walked about on the top of the old wall.

"The land about Jericho is rich and fertile and well watered from the great springs. There are orchards and gardens, fields of vegetables, groves of pomegranates, palms and bananas.
One can easily understand why Herod the Great laicised his special care on Jericho and made it a luxurious place, with aque-ducts, palaces, baths, and theatres. One can also understand why Marc Antony presented it as a special gift to Cleopatra.
Jesus must have seen it at its best. Jericho has never been able to withstand attacks, partly because it is built upon the plains and is hard to defend, partly because the climate is debilitating and would tend to make the inhabitants lazy and weak.

"But there was one little man who lived in Jericho, who had energy—Zacchaeus by name.
And Jesus entered and passed through Jericho. And behold
there was a man named Zacchaeus, which was the chief among the publicans, and he was rich. And he sought to see Jesus who he was; and he could not for the press, because he was of little stature. And he ran before and climbed up into a sycamore tree to see him; for he was to pass that way.
"And when Jesus came to the place, he looked up, and saw him, and said unto him, 'Zacchaeus, make haste and come down; for today, I must abide at thy house. And he made haste, and came down, and received him
joyfully. (Luke 19: 1-6.)
"We found sycamore trees
there, but no little man Zacchaeus was anywhere about."

I can sympathize with that man

Zacchaeus. Let me get in a crowd and three or four great big guys are sure to take a stand right in front of me. It used to be women's big hats that caused me so much grief. But since they have gotten to wearing little saucer-like things the hats don't bother me much. Zacchaeus was rich, and rich men usually have too much dignity or false pride or something of the kind to climb trees in public. But Zacchaeus evidently was determined to see that marvelous personage passing by and he was not going to permit his diminutive size to cheat him out of that pleasure. If Zacchaeus had been still living last Monday and had been in Waco helping to celebrate our Independence Day, he would have found plenty of sycamore trees here to climb. Waco is full of 'em. And if Jesus had been here, I am optimistic enough to believe that Zacchaeus again would have needed a tree to climb into to have seen over his crowd of followers. Yes I think the world is gradually growing a little better in spite of the Devil.

Not long ago, you had to figure on spending a lot of money if you wanted to step up to a big luxury car. Then along came this new Dodge—and things happened!
People who were used to paying a thousand dollars more found that Dodge offered all they could desire—at a sensible price.
Owners of medium-priced cars discovered that for the same amount of money, or less, the new Dodge provided much more roominess, comfort, and more pride.
More, small-car owners found that several models of this big new Dodge even cost less than a tricked-up "lightweight."
Right off the bat, Dodge sales doubled! And we're taking advantage of skyrocketing sales to make you a "Drive It Home" deal
you can't turn down. Come in today!

Aged Pioneer Tells Experience With Geronimo And Quanah

(BY BEN MOORE JR.)
Author of "Butterfield—7 years with the Wild Indians"

Ben Walters told me this: First I will say that mistakes are likely to crop out concerning exact dates on which certain facts may be mentioned. If you ever reach the age of 95, you may be able to understand what I mean.

Born in Alabama, in 1860, of course I do have a slight recollection of Civil War days. Having passed through the rough and tumble period following the War, how am I to say whether those days added to or took from my years? After so many years spent in the saddle, naturally I like to talk of cattle. During the past few years I have been situated where I might well hear the lowing of cattle throughout every day and night—very near to the great cattle pens, of Lubbock.

There can be repetition of the riproaring times through which we passed in the Oklahoma country, especially during the early 'Nineties. I had gone into it, leaving the Denison, Texas, home—back where Sam Bass is even yet so much mentioned. I once owned a race mare, trained by the desperado, but at the time I hardly thought of his fame reaching over such a long period of time.

During the exciting days, a new town was born about twenty miles north of Red River, due north of the little Texas town of Wichita Falls. The town, Walters, was named for myself. I shall not again see it except, perhaps, in my infrequent dreams of those old days when the Redmen were just beginning to try to follow the White man's road.

The only hotel in Anadarko was owned by the U. S. Government, rather, the building. I took charge of the hotel with the stipulation that I should enter a contract with the Government, in which I was to buy cattle for feeding the Indians then located at the Post. In the large dining room were three tables, each thirty feet in length. One was for serving whites, one for Indians, and another for Mexicans. Several waiters were employed.

I believe that it was the year 1893 when the Geronimo band of Apache prisoners were brought up from Alabama, enroute to their final location, at Ft. Sill. My recollection is that the main band reached Ft. Sill sometime before Geronimo was brought through Anadarko.

One day, in great excitement, I was called by my waiters, who were really almost scared to death. They learned that the big Indian, with eyes set far apart, head low, almost between his shoulders was none other than the famed Chief Geronimo, who for some reason had gotten out of sight of guards. The grotesque Indian had seated himself at the White man's table and actually had one foot up on it.

The great Comanche Chief, Quanah Parker, was by this time quite friendly with white men, and as it so happened was standing across the street. I beckoned to him, and he came over. I am not positive that the latter had ever seen Geronimo, since he in early life had absconded with an Apache girl, and had spent quite awhile down in Mexico, before becoming a noted Chief of his own tribe.

Anyway, he stepped gingerly up to the Chief of the Apaches, who was so much in the limelight, then and is to this good day. Placing a hand upon Geronimo's shoulder, he said, "This White man's table." Geronimo, able to speak English slightly, explained that he had eaten at White man's table before coming to Oklahoma—which may, or may not have been true. Quanah de nirlag sucha wy glared in such a way that I suppose he must have convinced Geronimo that he should move over to the Indian table. You may well imagine that this drama has passed through my mind a thousand times.

Odd, indeed, it is that the last Chief of the Comanches and the last of the Apache Chiefs should have happened to meet at my Hotel, and so unexpectedly.

The main band of Apache prisoners were brought by rail to what was known as Siding No. 2, near Anadarko, before marching to Ft. Sill. After unloading there, the band had gone but a short distance when one of the women walked away from the others, lay down and gave birth to a baby. Some were making the journey in carts, some on foot. Several assisted the new mother, in getting into a cart with the new-born babe. That baby could well be alive this day, but I dare say no white person is likely to ever be told of it's identity, considering it to be none of their business.

The first night after their reaching Anadarko, birth was given to twin babies—which was just too bad for the babies. Indians, I suppose, universally feared having twin babies, believing that they might bring great trouble to the tribe, should they be allowed to live. Those little twins were found next morning with feet tied together and across the limb of a tree. Their father, a minor chief, was supposed to have bludgeoned them to death. Very few sets of twins were born to Indians. Although their religion may have required the killing, it is not likely that the job was enjoyed.

I only saw a very few wild buffalo, after going into the West, so had no opportunity to see Indians engaged in slaughtering them. But I do have good reason to believe that they were not methodical as were White men in carrying out the exciting sport, or business.

In feeding the Indians beef on the hoof, we simply turned loose, out on a large flat from 150 to as many as 500 head of cattle, as occasion required. Many were former Buffalo hunters, now furnished with Winchesters and ammunition. Those who never witnessed such, can hardly imagine such pandemonium as suddenly broke loose. The Indians were usually quite hungry, and each shooter was anxious to get his beef. Those running, milling animals were soon shot to pieces, without the slightest judgment as to where they should be struck. I actually saw many which were shot just beneath their tail, as well as elsewhere about the body.

I had no Indians fatally shot, but spent some time in keeping behind trees or rocks.

I was in charge of buying all hides, most of which were badly riddled by bullets. The women fell upon the fallen cattle with butcherknives. A great gash was first cut across the flank, the entrails jerked out and eaten ravenously by men, women and children. No salt was used by Indians, originally. Since some animals were larger than others, we soon began allotting beef by weight to the poor Indians. My sympathy for them has grown through the years.

Cotton Program Planned Soon

Congressman Jamie L. Whitten will deliver a major address on agricultural policy at 10:30 A. M., Wednesday, July 20, at the Plains Cooperative Oil Mill in Lubbock, Texas.

Representative Whitten, chairman of the Agricultural Appropriation subcommittee of the U. S. House of Representatives, is an outspoken advocate of disposal of American cotton surpluses through vigorous exports action.

The program proposed by Representative Whitten includes sale of U. S. cotton for export at competitive world prices, price supports at 80 percent parity, and protection of domestic markets.

The public is invited to attend this address, a portion of the program of the annual meeting of the regional cotton cooperatives of this area.

"Four Season Cottons," a style show featuring the latest in cotton fashions, will be presented during the afternoon for the ladies of the South Plains.

Garments for the program were created by America's leading fashion designers and are being air expressed to Lubbock by the National Cotton Council, owners of the wardrobe.

Ladies from all sections of the South Plains will serve as models. All persons appearing on the program are connected with the cotton industry in this area.

McCord Is Dealer For Evinrude

McCord Motor Co. has been awarded a dealership franchise for Evinrude outboard motors and for factory authorized service of the motors, according to H. B. McCord, Jr.

"Needless to say," McCord declares, "We are very happy to be chosen as the Evinrude dealer in this area. Since Ole Evinrude invented the first practical outboard motor in 1908, our line has been the most respected in the industry. Designers of our modern motors still use the basic engineering principles that were introduced by Ole Evinrude 46 years ago."

McCord said that his Evinrude line is designed to produce maximum power under all conditions while maintaining quiet operation. The Evinrude motors displayed by McCord utilize a new principle of engine mounting similar to that used in the aircraft industry to pillow vibration. The new type of mounting makes it possible to isolate engine vibration from the hull.

E. M. GRAHAM'S COVER A LOT OF TERRITORY

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Graham and two children and Mrs. Graham's mother, Mrs. C. L. Adair of Columbus, Miss., returned home Saturday from a 15 day trip during which they traveled 7,000 miles and visited 12 Western states.

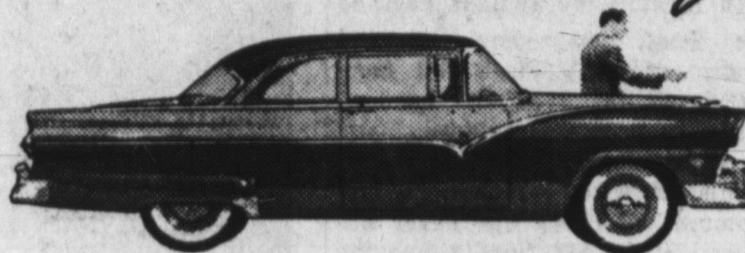

They drove from Tahoka to Williams, Ariz., where they visited his sister; thence to Salinas, Calif., where they visited friends; thence to Portland, Ore., where they visited her brother. In Oregon and Washington, they fished in the Pacific Ocean and went clam digging. They returned through Idaho and Utah, and visited his brother in Denver.

After arriving home, they still didn't have traveling out of their system, so they went down to Port Isabel, where they did some more fishing.

E. M. says they had all kinds of weather on the trip, and experienced temperatures from 37 to 111 degrees. In Nevada, the weather got so hot their air conditioner "froze."
