INDICT WACO SHERIFF ON A MURDER CHARGE WILL ASK REELECTION

WACO, TEXAS, Jan. 20.—The indictment of Sheriff Bob Buchanan on a charge of murder in connection with the death of Louis Crow, a prominent laundry man of Waco, as a result of a knife wound inflicted at Lorena on the night of Oct. 1, 1921, when the sheriff tried to stop a Ku Klux Klan parade, and Buchanan's announcement as a candidate for reelection to the office of sheriff is the signal for what promises to be one of the most sensational trials and hottest campaigns ever witnessed in this county.

It was understood that Buchanan, while suffering from two wounds inflicted during the Lorena affair, one of the wounds being in the lungs, both lobes of which were pierced by the bullet, would not be a candidate for reelection. But two suits for $50,000, each growing out of the difficulty at Lorena were filed in the civil courts against the sheriff and his bondsmen and when the grand jury billed him he came back with his announcement for a third term. His opponent is Leslie Stegall, now constable of this precinct.

No action has been taken in proceedings against Buchanan on the indictment, but he has retained counsel and will make bond of $5,000 when required to answer.

SHERIFF BOB BUCHANAN

MAY BE DEPORTED TO MORE REMOTE ISLAND

By Associated Press.

BERNE, Jan. 20.—Former Emperor Charles of Austria-Hungary and his wife, Zita, will be deported to an island much more remote from Europe than Madeira, to which they are now exiled, if there is any further attempt at restoration of their throne in the states formed from the old empire, Zita, who came here to be at the bedside of her son Robert, has been informed by the Swiss government, which transmitted to her a statement made by the British, French and Italian ambassadors here.

The Portuguese government, it was learned here, has sent a similar message to Charles at Funchal.

RESULT ACTION OF ALLIED COUNCIL OF AMBASSADORS

By Associated Press.

PARIS, Jan. 20.—The declaration of the allied ambassadors at Berne threatening the removal of former Emperor Charles and his wife Zita to a more remote island than Madeira is based upon the recent action of the allied council of ambassadors here.

Members of the council today said no great danger was felt that the former empress would make any immediate move toward the restoration of herself and her husband to the Hungarian throne, but it was deamed wise as a precautionary measure to make their attitude known. Zita will be allowed to remain in Switzerland, it was said, until January 29.

These parties were arrested by prohibition enforcement officers and deputy United States marshals in Limestone county in the clean-up campaign in the Mexia oil field.

WAGE CONFERENCES FOR RAILROADS ARE NEAR COMPLETION

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—Railroad wage conferences on 40 roads affecting all railway shop workers, who constitute one-fourth of the rail men of the country, are to be completed this week and other negotiations looking to a general 10 per cent reduction of railroad wages are expected to be completed by February 1.

All are expected to result in disagreements which will bring the proposed wage reductions to the railroad labor board.

Negotiations over reductions for train service employes constituting the five big brotherhoods are tentatively set for February 15, on a regional basis. The association of railway executives will meet here tomorrow to act upon the regional plan, following conferences with the brotherhood chiefs and Secretary of Commerce Hoover in Washington last week.

Since the meeting of the executives here last October, plans have been going steadily ahead for an approximate 10 per cent wage reduction for all railroad employes. This reduction, according to a resolution adopted then, would be translated into rate reductions for the benefit of the public.

GOVERNOR OF OKLA. CONSIDERS POSSIBLE STATE INTERVENTION

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 20.—Governor J. B. A. Robertson took under advisement today the matter of state intervention in the law enforcement situation here following a conference of several hours with two separate committees, one appointed at a citizens' mass meeting at the chamber of commerce yesterday which favored intervention, the other selected at a mass meeting last night at the court house to protest against state action.

CHINA AND JAPAN MUST SETTLE THE SHANTUNG ISSUE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20. — The Shantung question must and probably will be settled between China and Japan and cannot be taken up by the arms conference, Senator Underwood of Alabama, one of the American delegates, declared in the senate today, during a discussion of the controversy.

The conference, Senator Underwood said, was unable to take up the Stantung question because seven of the conference powers were committed by the treaty of Versailles to support Japan's position.

The senator's statement was made in connection with introduction by Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, of a resolution calling on the president for information regarding the Shantung question. The resolution went over.

Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, another American delegate, endorsed Senator Underwood's statement. Both acknowledged that the Shantung question had delayed the entire conference.

ASKS RESIGNATION OF ALL OF THE EMPLOYES MAY REHIRE A PART

AUSTIN, Jan. 20.—The first official act of Dr. J. H. Florence today in assuming his duties as state health officer was to ask for the resignation of every employe in the health department. He said that this does not necessarily mean that the present employes will be discharged but that he "wanted to do the hiring" for the department.

Dr. Florence took over the office this morning, succeeding Dr. Manton M. Carrick, resigned.

Dr. Florence presented each employe with an application blank with a request to fill it out and thereby apply for his or her respective position. The requested resignations were tendered today and application blanks were being filled out.

It will be several days before the personnel of the department will be known, Dr. Florence said. He added that he will consider each application carefully.

There are approximately 25 employes in the department.

ATTORNEY GENERAL KEELING WILL NOT RESIGN HIS OFFICE

AUSTIN, Jan. 20.—Attorney General W. A. Keeling said this morning that he had not resigned nor would he do so nor have anything further to say in the matter today. He returned from Mexia early today and made his statement after a long conference with Governor Neff. Reports are that General Keeling intends to resign soon to enter private practice.

Reports that General Keeling had been asked to resign by the governor were contradicted by Governor Neff yesterday when he said he knew nothing of the rumor.

PRESS OF PARIS IS NEARLY UNANIMOUS PRAISING POINCARE

GIVEN VOTE OF CONFIDENCE, 472 TO 107 BY CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES.

SINGLE CRITICISM IS FROM GUSTAVE TERY

Non-Political Business Press Carries a Tone of Skepticism.

By Associated Press.

PARIS, Jan. 20.—The Paris press is nearly unanimous in its praise of Premier Poincare after his statement of policy in the chamber of deputies last night which resulted in a vote of confidence, 472 to 107. The Figaro says:

"Finally, one has the feeling that France has found a government worthy of her," and the other newspapers merely echo this sentiment. It is hard to discover criticism of even reservation in the chorus of praises. Gustave Tery alone indulges in a little irony.

M. Poincare, he remarks, stigmatizes the treaty of Versailles and claims to have no share of responsibility for it, but his first observation on taking office was: "This treaty of Versailles is worthless and meaningless and from it nothing can ever be gotten. Well, we demand its rigorous integral application and we will go to war if necessary to assure it. That is our whole policy."

M. Tery observes: "There is no use telling M. Poincare that there are perhaps other means of getting from Germany the reparations due, that other arrangements have been conceived to give us more prompt and complete satisfaction. No, M. Poincare has his brief—the Versailles treaty—and he is going to plead it."

The non-political press is also skeptical. Hyacinthe Philouse concludes an article in the newspaper Cablegram:

"Having by these vigorous and 'national declarations' preserved himself from the suspicious incorruptibles, M. Poincare will proceed to come to an understanding with London."

MAYOR OF KANSAS CITY DIES SUDDENLY IN OFFICE

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 20.—Following a conference with Matthew A. Foster and John E. Wilson, police commissioners of Kansas City in his office today, Mayor James S. Cowgill dropped dead of appoplexy. The mayor was 74 years old.

Mr. Foster said that the mayor had summoned him and Mr. Wilson to his office, in connection with a crusade recently inaugurated by the commissioners against women of the streets.

The commissioners had complained of lack of co-operation by city health officials.

Mr. Foster said that the mayor accused him and Mr. Wilson of insincerity in their efforts and told them they had failed to ask city officials for co-operation in the crusade.

"I noticed," Mr. Foster said, "that the mayor was growing pale about the lips. He dropped forward and died a few moments later."

Mayor Cowgill was serving his second two year term as mayor of Kansas City. His term would have expired this spring. He was a democrat. He had large ranching interests near Garden City, Kan.

CONFERS WITH BANKERS REGARDING A LOAN FOR STATE PRISON SYSTEM

AUSTIN, Jan. 20.—H. A. Wroe, president of an Austin bank and who is seeking to float a loan of $500,000 to aid the prison system, left today for San Antonio, Houston and Galveston to confer with bankers of those cities about the loan. Before he departed he conferred with governor Neff and Ed Hall, commissioner of insurance and banking, and later expressed the opinion that the loan would be put over.

FORMER INSTRUCTOR AT TRAINING SCHOOL HAS BEEN INDICTED

WACO, TEXAS, Jan. 20.—District Judge J. R. McClellan at Gatesville today fixed the bond of H. G. Twyman at $4,000, following habeas corpus proceedings. Twyman was indicted yesterday afternoon for the murder of Dell Thames, who died at the state juvenile training school September 25 last.

GATESVILLE, TEXAS, Jan. 20.—H. G. Twyman, former military instructor at the Texas juvenile training school here, was charged with murder in connection with the death of Dell Thames, Beaumont boy, in an indictment returned late yesterday by the Coryell county grand jury. The boy died at the school September 25, 1921, "by being choked," according to the bill which was returned after several weeks' investigation by the jury.

District Attorney Edson declined to agree to bail for Twyman, who was taken into custody by Sheriff Hollingsworth. Criminal court convenes January 23, at which time some action probably will be taken in the case.

CLAIMS STILLMAN PAID $122,000 IN LAST NINE MONTHS

ATTORNEY CHARGES THAT NO ACCOUNTING HAS BEEN MADE.

REFERS TO PARENTAGE OF THE YOUNGEST CHILD

Declares Mrs. Stillman Has Never Denied Charge He Was Illegitimate.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—Statements that Mrs. Anne U. Stillman had never denied her husband's contention that baby Guy Stillman is illegitimate were made in the appellate division of the supreme court in Brooklyn today by former Presiding Justice Almet E. Jenks, counsel for James A. Stillman in his suit for divorce.

Mr. Jenks, arguing for the appeal against an order directing Mr. Stillman to pay his wife $7,500 costs for a hearing in Canada, declared the banker had paid her $122,000 during the last nine months and that no accounting had been made.

The law, he said, provides that allowances shall be made only when the defendant can show reasonable probability of success and Mrs. Stillman's defense so far has not indicated that probability.

"The co-respondent, Fred Beauvais, an Indian guide, has many times been within the jurisdiction of the court, but he had never been called," Mr. Jenks continued. "The plaintiff in his complaint alleges that Mrs. Stillman lived continuously with Fred Beauvais in violation of her marriage vows," the lawyer continued. "She says these charges I deny.' There is nothing to show that she denies the possibility that she may have misconducted herself with Beauvais on one or two or more times.

"The plaintiff alleges the only issue to the marriage are Alexander, Anne and James. She alleges that her children are Alexander, Anne, James and Guy. Further on in her brief she says 'my issue' and adds 'the infant Guy.' Further on in her brief she does not say she denied the charge because she is innocent. She says 'I am informed by one of my attorneys that I have a good defense. I therefore ask leave to amend my answer.'"

At this juncture Mr. Jenks recalled testimony that Beauvais wrote "I hope Guy will some day know his father," in one of the child's moccasins. He recalled the disappearance of Mrs. Stillman's wedding ring, "the two letters in language which I need not characterize," the telegram "little black bear has arrived," alleged to have been sent to Beauvais when Guy was born, the notes Mrs. Stillman is charged with having received from Beauvais and other incidents.

N. Y. PATROLMAN IS KILLED BY A NEGRO

Nine Bluecoats of That City Shot to Death In Past Thirteen Months.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20. — Last night's killing of Patrolman Otto W. Motz by Frank Whaley, a negro who had been picked up on suspicion of insanity, increased to nine the list of New York bluecoats shot to death in the last thirteen months. Eight were victims of criminal gunmen, the other was laid low by a fellow policeman.

Of the slayers, two are awaiting trial, two were convicted of murder, one was confined in an institution for the criminal insane, two were exonerated and one escaped without leaving a clue to his identity.

A motive for the latest crime is lacking.

Whaley had been taken to a police station for investigation after complaints that he acted queerly. Left alone in a waiting room, he seized the pistol of the unsuspecting officer when the latter came in to rest and shot him through the brain. Only the failure of the gun to fire a second time saved the life of another policeman who came to Motz's rescue after the fatal shot had aroused the station house. Whaley will be arraigned on a murder charge today.

STREET CAR MEN STAGE A PARTIAL STRIKE IN SYMPATHY WITH BAKERS

By Associated Press.

Beginning tomorrow cars will be operated during the early part of the morning. This program will be followed for ten days, after which the carmen plan a complete strike unless the bakers by that time are satisfied. There is no intimation that any other unions contemplate sympathetic strike action.

Bread for Mexico City is being brought by train from Puebla and other outlying cities.

WALLACE SCORES ATTITUDE OF FARM LOAN COMPANIES

SAYS MANY THOROUGHLY SELFISH AND GRASPING IN BUSINESS.

TAKING ADVANTAGE OF DISTRESS OF FARMER

Extort Heartlessly a Rate of Interest and Terms Not Justified.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Determination to lay before the national agricultural conference next week "the thoroughly selfish and grasping attitude of many companies of different sorts which loan money on farm mortgages," was announced today by Secretary Wallace.

Declaring that many farmers who have never done so before are having to mortgage their lands in order to get necessary money, Secretary Wallace said "it is discouraging to note that many companies and individuals who are in the business of loaning money on farm mortgages are taking advantage of the farmers' distress to extort heartlessly a rate of interest and terms of loan which cannot be justified."

Farmers, the secretary said, were being compelled to pay 6 and 7 per cent on 5 and 10-year loans, without optional payments and also a commission of 5 or 6 per cent, while in some cases, as high as 10 per cent was being added. The secretary also charged that many loan companies were cutting down the amount they loan per acre to the lowest possible point, "thus restricting the farmers' credit at the very time when it should be expanded as far as may be done safely.

COURTROOM WARM ATTORNEYS COOLER IN ARBUCKLE TRIAL

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 20.—The court room had warmed up and attorneys cooled off perceptibly when the trial of Roscoe C. (Fatty) Arbuckle on a charge of manslaughter growing out of the death of Miss Virginia Rappe, a motion picture actress, was resumed today.

The hall of justice where the trial is being held was ordered heated more adequately following yesterday's cold snap, which forced jurors into their overcoats. Attorneys became heated yesterday, however, asa result of an argument over testimony of Miss Zey Prevost, show girl, a prosecution witness.

Miss Prevost contradicted testimony she gave at Arbuckle's first trial and repeatedly said she "could not remember." She was ordered back to court again today and there was some uncertainty about the role she would play in the day's session.

CHARGES BIG LOSS A RESULT DELAY IN MAKING FORD DEAL

FLORENCE, ALA., Jan. 20.—Charges that the federal government had lost approximately a million and a half dollars in the last six months by "not accepting Henry Ford's offer to lease the dam and operate the nitrate plants at Muscle Shoals, Ala.," was made here today before the meeting of the southern group members of the American Farm Bureau federation by Gray Silver, their Washington representative. Mr. Ford's offer, Mr. Silver said, was made to Secretary Weeks on July 8 last, "and will be transmitted in latest form," according to the secretary, some time next week.

In addition to Mr. Ford's offer several offers for Muscle Shoals have been made, Mr. Silver asserted, adding "but the secretary has submitted that none of them compare with Mr. Ford's or even can be considered seriously. Further Mr. Ford's offer has been published to the world for months and yet Secretary Weeks has delayed sending the offer with his recommendations to congress, thereby encouraging other bidders to revise their bids."

Mr. Silver declared that when Mr. Ford tells the farmers he can make "at Muscle Shoals the cheap high grade fertilizer they need, the farmers are ready to take that statement at 100 per cent."

LAST SACRAMENT ADMINISTERED PROMINENT CHURCH OFFICERS ARE SUMMONED TO HIS BEDSIDE

POPE BENEDICT XV

ROME, Jan. 20.—At 12:30 o'clock today it was stated that Pope Benedict was in a dying condition.

PARIS, Jan. 20.—The papal nunciature here received a telegram from Rome shortly after 5 o'clock this afternoon saying that Pope Benedict was sinking rapidly.

ROME, Jan. 20.—(6:25 P. M.)—Pope Benedict's condition was grave this evening, but the pneumonia had not spread further, it was announced. The pontiff's temperature was given at this hour as 101; pulse 104; respiration 60.

ROME, Jan. 20.—Cardinal Gasparri, papal secretary of state, says the Tribuna today, has sent an urgent summons for all the cardinals resident abroad to come to Rome in order that the sacred college may be present there ready for any eventuality.

ROME, Jan. 20.—(7:45 p. m.)—After receiving the viaticum today, Pope Benedict had a 20 minute conversation alone with Cardinal Gasparri, papal secretary of state. It is believed his holiness conveyed his last wishes to the cardinal, who, as chamberlain, would preside over the temporal affairs of the church in the event of the pope's death.

A difference of six hours in time accounts for the advanced time indicated in press bulletins on the condition of the pope.

By Associated Press.

ROME, Jan. 20.—Pope Benedict's life hangs in the balance today and fears were expressed at the vatican at noon that his holiness was in a dying condition.

During the early hours of this morning toward 4 a. m. there was a sudden change for the worse and the bronchial affection from which his holiness had been suffering for several days spread to his lungs.

The pontiff asked for and received the last sacrament, insisting upon this, "if only to give a good example," he said, despite attempts by his attendants to dissuade him.

The pope's physicians were in consultation at the vatican at an early hour and the morning bulletin issued afterward indicated an extremely serious condition. Dr. Battistino, however, stated then that while his conlition was grave, it was not hopeless.

About 11 o'clock in the forenoon, however, the pope's condition became aggravated and the administration of oxygen was begun.

At 11:30 o'clock the eucharist was solemnly carried to him.

Meanwhile prayer was being said in all the churches and Catholic institutions of Rome on behalf of his holiness and great crowds began to assemble in St. Peters.

The pope's condition became aggravated about 11 a. m. Oxygen was administered. Prayers were ordered for his holiness in all the Catholic institutions in Rome.

It was about 4 o'clock this morning that change for the worse in the pope's condition occurred. It was especially due to catarrh, which had spread to both lungs; to inability to expectorate and to pulmonary inflammation, it was stated. Professor Cherubini, who had been waiting at the vatican, was immediately mentally depressed and panting for breath.

Realizing the patient's serious condition Dr. Cherubini administered sedatives and expectoratives, but the beneficial effects expected did not manifest themselves. In view of the gravity of the situation Dr. Cherubini sent an urgent call to Professor Bignami, a vatican automobile being dispatched to bring him to the vatican. His arrival there followed shortly.

Professor Bignami, the evening before had remarked upon absence of a cough and checked expectoration and consequently was not surprised by the development, it appeared. After a brief inspection of the patient he left to bring Professor Marchiafava, with whom he shortly afterward consulted in the vatican.

Meanwhile Professor Battistini had arrived and joined in the consultation.

His holiness received communion administered by Papal Sacristan Zampini.

When the pope asked for the last sacrament his attendants sought to dissuade him, but he insisted upon receiving it, "if only to give a good example," he said.

ISSUE OFFICIAL BULLETIN ON CONDITION OF THE POPE

ROME, Jan. 20.—The official bulletin issued this morning on the condition of his holiness, read:

"His holiness has been four days with influenzal bronchitis. It is ascertained that the inflammatory process has spread to the right lung. The patient passed an agitated night and had no sleep. This morning the dyspnoea is intense. The temperature was 104, the pulse 102 and the respiration 58.

"Battistini, Cherubini, Bignami, Marchiafavba."

WASHINGTON PAPAL DELEGATE NOTIFIED IN A CABLEGRAM

WSAHINGTON, Jan. 20. — Monsignor Bonzani, papal delegate to Washington, was informed in a cablegram received at 9:45 o'clock today from Cardinal Gasparri, papal secretary, that Pope Benedict was "very seriously ill." Such a message was regarded as indicating that the pontiff was in a most serious condition.

LITTLE BOY DIES AFTER RESCUE BY FATHER FROM FIRE

B. M. FINGER CARRIES INFANT SON FROM BLAZING HOME THURSDAY NIGHT.

FATHER ALSO INJURED FIRE DESTROYS HOME

Total of Eight Alarms Turned In Thursday But Aggregate Loss Is Small.

Burns which proved fatal to a small child and property loss which, at the most, will not exceed $5,000, were the results of eight fires which broke out in Wichita Falls between 9 o'clock Thursday morning and 5 o'clock Friday morning. Joe Finger, aged two, is dead and his father, B. M. Finger, is in a critical condition at the Wichita General hospital as a result of burns sustained when their home at 207 Burnett street was destroyed by flames at 9:30 Thursday night.

The baby died at 11:30 Friday morning, the body now being held at the Hines undertaking parlors pending the outcome of his father's burns.

The Finger house, which entailed the heaviest single loss of the day, is thought to have been fired from an overheated wood burning stove. The family had retired for the night and were awakened by the crackling flames which had practically enveloped the small frame structure. Mr. and Mrs. Finger both rushed from the house, but the former, learning that his children were still in the burning building, fought his way back to a bed room, gathered his infant baby in his arms and ran through an almost solid wall of flames to the open air.

A girl, nine years old, sustained slight burns in leaving the house and Mrs. Finger also suffered to some extent. Their injuries are not considered serious, however, Mr. Finger and the baby were both severely burned about the head and limbs, according to reports. They were immediately hurried to the hospital and medical aid summoned.

Property loss to the Finger home will approximate $2,000 according to estimates. Two adjoining buildings, one on either side, were slightly damaged by the flames, but were saved by fast work on the part of firemen.

The first of Thursday's alarms came in at 8:45 a. m. from the Clifford Dairymple home, 1110 Ninth street. Thawing frozen water pipes with a blow torch was responsible for this blaze, which caused a loss of about $200 to the basement of the structure.

At 9:15 a second alarm was turned in from the same place where the blaze had broken out again. Little further loss was occasioned by this.

Noon Thursday brought the third alarm of the day, when a small fire broke out in an oil well supply house at 407 Seventh street. This was extinguished without loss by employes of the company.

Alarm number four was recorded shortly after 3 o'clock in the afternoon when a blaze was discovered in the wall above a fireplace at the Kemp hotel. Chemicals were used by firemen in combatting this fire, which did little damage.

At 4:15 an auto delivery truck owned by the O. P. Maricle company crossed its wires in the 2300 block on Grant street and the resulting fire caused several hundred dollars loss to the machine.

At 9:30 the Finger fire broke out and at exactly midnight the firemen were again called out, this time to the F. P. Timberlake home, 2105 Tenth street. Fire thought to have started from an electric iron was burning briskly in one room, but was extinguished before causing any serious damage. Wallpaper in one room suffered considerably, but the building itself was not damaged, firemen reported.

The final run was at 4:50 Friday morning when fire of undetermined origin completely destroyed the B. B. Beckham cafe, 507 Indiana avenue. The building, a small frame structure, had fallen in almost before the alarm was sounded. Loss here was about $500.

Altogether it was the busiest day local firemen have experienced in many months, and the comparatively small loss is an indication of their work in combatting the various blazes.

MAY BE DEPORTED TO MORE REMOTE ISLAND

By Associated Press.

BERNE, Jan. 20.—Former Emperor Charles of Austria-Hungary and his wife, Zita, will be deported to an island much more remote from Europe than Madeira, to which they are now exiled, if there is any further attempt at restoration of their throne in the states formed from the old empire, Zita, who came here to be at the bedside of her son Robert, has been informed by the Swiss government, which transmitted to her a statement made by the British, French and Italian ambassadors here.

The Portuguese government, it was learned here, has sent a similar message to Charles at Funchal.

RESULT ACTION OF ALLIED COUNCIL OF AMBASSADORS

By Associated Press.

PARIS, Jan. 20.—The declaration of the allied ambassadors at Berne threatening the removal of former Emperor Charles and his wife Zita to a more remote island than Madeira is based upon the recent action of the allied council of ambassadors here.

Members of the council today said no great danger was felt that the former empress would make any immediate move toward the restoration of herself and her husband to the Hungarian throne, but it was deemed wise as a precautionary measure to make their attitude known. Zita will be allowed to remain in Switzerland, it was said, until January 29.

WAGE CONFERENCES FOR RAILROADS ARE NEAR COMPLETION

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—Railroad wage conferences on 40 roads affecting all railway shop workers, who constitute one-fourth of the rail men of the country, are to be completed this week and other negotiations looking to a general 10 per cent reduction of railroad wages are expected to be completed by February 1.

All are expected to result in disagreements which will bring the proposed wage reductions to the railroad labor board.

Negotiations over reductions for train service employes constituting the five big brotherhoods are tentatively set for February 15, on a regional basis. The association of railway executives will meet here tomorrow to act upon the regional plan, following conferences with the brotherhood chiefs and Secretary of Commerce Hoover in Washington last week.

Since the meeting of the executives here last October, plans have been going steadily ahead for an approximate 10 per cent wage reduction for all railroad employes. This reduction, according to a resolution adopted then, would be translated into rate reductions for the benefit of the public.

GOVERNOR OF OKLA. CONSIDERS POSSIBLE STATE INTERVENTION

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 20.—Governor J. B. A. Robertson took under advisement today the matter of state intervention in the law enforcement situation here following a conference of several hours with two separate committees, one appointed at a citizens' mass meeting at the chamber of commerce yesterday which favored intervention, the other selected at a mass meeting last night at the court house to protest against state action.

CHINA AND JAPAN MUST SETTLE THE SHANTUNG ISSUE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20. — The Shantung question must and probably will be settled between China and Japan and cannot be taken up by the arms conference, Senator Underwood of Alabama, one of the American delegates, declared in the senate today, during a discussion of the controversy.

The conference, Senator Underwood said, was unable to take up the Stantung question because seven of the conference powers were committed by the treaty of Versailles to support Japan's position.

The senator's statement was made in connection with introduction by Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, of a resolution calling on the president for information regarding the Shantung question. The resolution went over.

Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, another American delegate, endorsed Senator Underwood's statement. Both acknowledged that the Shantung question had delayed the entire conference.

ASKS RESIGNATION OF ALL OF THE EMPLOYES MAY REHIRE A PART

AUSTIN, Jan. 20.—The first official act of Dr. J. H. Florence today in assuming his duties as state health officer was to ask for the resignation of every employe in the health department. He said that this does not necessarily mean that the present employes will be discharged but that he "wanted to do the hiring" for the department.

Dr. Florence took over the office this morning, succeeding Dr. Manton M. Carrick, resigned.

Dr. Florence presented each employe with an application blank with a request to fill it out and thereby apply for his or her respective position. The requested resignations were tendered today and application blanks were being filled out.

It will be several days before the personnel of the department will be known, Dr. Florence said. He added that he will consider each application carefully.

There are approximately 25 employes in the department.

ATTORNEY GENERAL KEELING WILL NOT RESIGN HIS OFFICE

AUSTIN, Jan. 20.—Attorney General W. A. Keeling said this morning that he had not resigned nor would he do so nor have anything further to say in the matter today. He returned from Mexia early today and made his statement after a long conference with Governor Neff. Reports are that General Keeling intends to resign soon to enter private practice.

Reports that General Keeling had been asked to resign by the governor were contradicted by Governor Neff yesterday when he said he knew nothing of the rumor.

PRESS OF PARIS IS NEARLY UNANIMOUS PRAISING POINCARE

GIVEN VOTE OF CONFIDENCE, 472 TO 107 BY CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES.

SINGLE CRITICISM IS FROM GUSTAVE TERY

Non-Political Business Press Carries a Tone of Skepticism.

By Associated Press.

PARIS, Jan. 20.—The Paris press is nearly unanimous in its praise of Premier Poincare after his statement of policy in the chamber of deputies last night which resulted in a vote of confidence, 472 to 107. The Figaro says:

"Finally, one has the feeling that France has found a government worthy of her," and the other newspapers merely echo this sentiment. It is hard to discover criticism of even reservation in the chorus of praises. Gustave Tery alone indulges in a little irony.

M. Poincare, he remarks, stigmatizes the treaty of Versailles and claims to have no share of responsibility for it, but his first observation on taking office was: "This treaty of Versailles is worthless and meaningless and from it nothing can ever be gotten. Well, we demand its rigorous integral application and we will go to war if necessary to assure it. That is our whole policy."

M. Tery observes: "There is no use telling M. Poincare that there are perhaps other means of getting from Germany the reparations due, that other arrangements have been conceived to give us more prompt and complete satisfaction. No, M. Poincare has his brief—the Versailles treaty—and he is going to plead it."

The non-political press is also skeptical. Hyacinthe Philouze concludes an article in the newspaper Cablegram:

"Having by these vigorous and 'national declarations' preserved himself from the suspicious incorruptibles, M. Poincare will proceed to come to an understanding with London."

MAYOR OF KANSAS CITY DIES SUDDENLY IN OFFICE

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 20.—Following a conference with Matthew A. Foster and John E. Wilson, police commissioners of Kansas City in his office today, Mayor James S. Cowgill dropped dead of appoplexy. The mayor was 74 years old.

Mr. Foster said that the mayor had summoned him and Mr. Wilson to his office, in connection with a crusade recently inaugurated by the commissioners against women of the streets.

The commissioners had complained of lack of co-operation by city health officials.

Mr. Foster said that the mayor accused him and Mr. Wilson of insincerity in their efforts and told them they had failed to ask city officials for co-operation in the crusade.

"I noticed," Mr. Foster said, "that the mayor was growing pale about the lips. He dropped forward and died a few moments later."

Mayor Cowgill was serving his second two year term as mayor of Kansas City. His term would have expired this spring. He was a democrat. He had large ranching interests near Garden City, Kan.

FORMER INSTRUCTOR AT TRAINING SCHOOL HAS BEEN INDICTED

WACO, TEXAS, Jan. 20.—District Judge J. R. McClellan at Gatesville today fixed the bond of H. G. Twyman at $4,000, following habeas corpus proceedings. Twyman was indicted yesterday afternoon for the murder of Dell Thames, who died at the state juvenile training school September 25 last.

GATESVILLE, TEXAS, Jan. 20.—H. G. Twyman, former military instructor at the Texas juvenile training school here, was charged with murder in connection with the death of Dell Thames, Beaumont boy, in an indictment returned late yesterday by the Coryell county grand jury. The boy died at the school September 25, 1921, "by being choked," according to the bill which was returned after several weeks' investigation by the jury.

District Attorney Edson declined to agree to bail for Twyman, who was taken into custody by Sheriff Hollingsworth. Criminal court convenes January 23, at which time same action probably will be taken in the case.

CLAIMS STILLMAN PAID $122,000 IN LAST NINE MONTHS

ATTORNEY CHARGES THAT NO ACCOUNTING HAS BEEN MADE.

REFERS TO PARENTAGE OF THE YOUNGEST CHILD

Declares Mrs. Stillman Has Never Denied Charge He Was Illegitimate.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—Statements that Mrs. Anne U. Stillman had never denied her husband's contention that baby Guy Stillman is illegitimate were made in the appellate division of the supreme court in Brooklyn today by former Presiding Justice Almet E. Jenks, counsel for James A. Stillman in his suit for divorce.

Mr. Jenks, arguing for the appeal against an order directing Mr. Stillman to pay his wife $7,500 costs for a hearing in Canada, declared the banker had paid her $122,000 during the last nine months and that no accounting had been made.

The law, he said, provides that allowances shall be made only when the defendant can show reasonable probability of success and Mrs. Stillman's defense so far has not indicated that probability.

"The co-respondent, Fred Beauvais, an Indian guide, has many times been within the jurisdiction of the court, but he had never been called," Mr. Jenks continued. "The plaintiff in his complaint alleges that Mrs. Stillman lived continuously with Fred Beauvais in violation of her marriage vows," the lawyer continued. "She says these charges I deny.' There is nothing to show that she denies the possibility that she may have misconducted herself with Beauvais on one or two or more times.

"The plaintiff alleges the only issue to the marriage are Alexander, Anne and James. She alleges that her children are Alexander, Anne, James and Guy. Further on in her brief she says 'my issue' and adds 'the infant Guy.' Further on in her brief she does not say she denied the charge because she is innocent. She says 'I am informed by one of my attorneys that I have a good defense. I therefore ask leave to amend my answer.'"

At this juncture Mr. Jenks recalled testimony that Beauvais wrote "I hope Guy will some day know his father," in one of the child's moccasins. He recalled the disappearance of Mrs. Stillman's wedding ring, "the two letters in language which I need not characterize," the telegram "little black bear has arrived," alleged to have been sent to Beauvais when Guy was born, the notes Mrs. Stillman is charged with having received from Beauvais and other incidents.

N. Y. PATROLMAN IS KILLED BY A NEGRO

Nine Bluecoats of That City Shot to Death In Past Thirteen Months.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20. — Last night's killing of Patrolman Otto W. Motz by Frank Whaley, a negro who had been picked up on suspicion of insanity, increased to nine the list of New York bluecoats shot to death in the last thirteen months. Eight were victims of criminal gunmen, the other was laid low by a fellow policeman.

Of the slayers, two are awaiting trial, two were convicted of murder, one was confined in an institution for the criminal insane, two were exonerated and one escaped without leaving a clue to his identity.

A motive for the latest crime is lacking.

Whaley had been taken to a police station for investigation after complaints that he acted queerly. Left alone in a waiting room, he seized the pistol of the unsuspecting officer when the latter came in to rest and shot him through the brain. Only the failure of the gun to fire a second time saved the life of another policeman who came to Motz's rescue after the fatal shot had aroused the station house. Whaley will be arraigned on a murder charge today.

WALLACE SCORES ATTITUDE OF FARM LOAN COMPANIES

SAYS MANY THOROUGHLY SELFISH AND GRASPING IN BUSINESS.

TAKING ADVANTAGE OF DISTRESS OF FARMER

Extort Heartlessly a Rate of Interest and Terms Not Justified.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Determination to lay before the national agricultural conference next week "the thoroughly selfish and grasping attitude of many companies of different sorts which loan money on farm mortgages," was announced today by Secretary Wallace.

Declaring that many farmers who have never done so before are having to mortgage their lands in order to get necessary money, Secretary Wallace said "it is discouraging to note that many companies and individuals who are in the business of loaning money on farm mortgages are taking advantage of the farmers' distress to extort heartlessly a rate of interest and terms of loan which cannot be justified."

Farmers, the secretary said, were being compelled to pay 6 and 7 per cent on 5 and 10-year loans, without optional payments and also a commission of 5 or 6 per cent, while in some cases, as high as 10 per cent was being added. The secretary also charged that many loan companies were cutting down the amount they loan per acre to the lowest possible point, "thus restricting the farmers' credit at the very time when it should be expanded as far as may be done safely."

COURTROOM WARM ATTORNEYS COOLER IN ARBUCKLE TRIAL

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 20.—The court room had warmed up and attorneys cooled off perceptibly when the trial of Roscoe C. (Fatty) Arbuckle on a charge of manslaughter growing out of the death of Miss Virginia Rappe, a motion picture actress, was resumed today.

The hall of justice where the trial is being held was ordered heated more adequately following yesterday's cold snap, which forced jurors into their overcoats. Attorneys became heated yesterday, however, as a result of an argument over testimony of Miss Zey Prevost, show girl, a prosecution witness.

Miss Prevost contradicted testimony she gave at Arbuckle's first trial and repeatedly said she "could not remember." She was ordered back to court again today and there was some uncertainty about the role she would play in the day's session.

CHARGES BIG LOSS A RESULT DELAY IN MAKING FORD DEAL

FLORENCE, ALA., Jan. 20.—Charges that the federal government had lost approximately a million and a half dollars in the last six months by "not accepting Henry Ford's offer to lease the dam and operate the nitrate plants at Muscle Shoals, Ala.," was made here today before the meeting of the southern group members of the American Farm Bureau federation by Gray Silver, their Washington representative. Mr. Ford's offer, Mr. Silver said, was made to Secretary Weeks on July 8 last, "and will be transmitted in latest form," according to the secretary, some time next week.

In addition to Mr. Ford's offer several offers for Muscle Shoals have been made, Mr. Silver asserted, adding "but the secretary has submitted that none of them compare with Mr. Ford's or even can be considered seriously. Further Mr. Ford's offer has been published to the world for months and yet Secretary Weeks has delayed sending the offer with his recommendations to congress, thereby encouraging other bidders to revise their bids."

Mr. Silver declared that when Mr. Ford tells the farmers he can make "at Muscle Shoals the cheap high grade fertilizer they need, the farmers are ready to take that statement at 100 per cent."

LAST SACRAMENT ADMINISTERED PROMINENT CHURCH OFFICERS ARE SUMMONED TO HIS BEDSIDE

POPE BENEDICT XV

ROME, Jan. 20.—At 12:30 o'clock today it was stated that Pope Benedict was in a dying condition.

PARIS, Jan. 20.—The papal nunciature here received a telegram from Rome shortly after 5 o'clock this afternoon saying that Pope Benedict was sinking rapidly.

ROME, Jan. 20.—(6:25 P. M.)—Pope Benedict's condition was grave this evening, but the pneumonia had not spread further, it was announced. The pontiff's temperature was given at this hour as 101; pulse 104; respiration 60.

ROME, Jan. 20.—Cardinal Gasparri, papal secretary of state, says the Tribuna today, has sent an urgent summons for all the cardinals resident abroad to come to Rome in order that the sacred college may be present there ready for any eventuality.

ROME, Jan. 20.—(7:45 p. m.)—After receiving the viaticum today, Pope Benedict had a 20 minute conversation alone with Cardinal Gasparri, papal secretary of state. It is believed his holiness conveyed his last wishes to the cardinal, who, as chamberlain, would preside over the temporal affairs of the church in the event of the pope's death.

A difference of six hours in time accounts for the advanced time indicated in press bulletins on the condition of the pope.

By Associated Press.

ROME, Jan. 20.—Pope Benedict's life hangs in the balance today and fears were expressed at the vatican at noon that his holiness was in a dying condition.

During the early hours of this morning toward 4 a. m. there was a sudden change for the worse and the bronchial affection from which his holiness had been suffering for several days spread to his lungs.

The pontiff asked for and received the last sacrament, insisting upon this, "if only to give a good example," he said, despite attempts by his attendants to dissuade him.

The pope's physicians were in consultation at the vatican at an early hour and the morning bulletin issued afterward indicated an extremely serious condition; Dr. Battistino, however, stated then that while his conlition was grave, it was not hopeless.

About 11 o'clock in the forenoon, however, the pope's condition became aggravated and the administration of oxygen was begun.

At 11:30 o'clock the eucharist was solemnly carried to him.

Meanwhile prayer was being said in all the churches and Catholic institutions of Rome on behalf of his holiness and great crowds began to assemble in St. Peters.

The pope's condition became aggravated about 11 a. m. Oxygen was administered. Prayers were ordered for his holiness in all the Catholic institutions in Rome.

It was about 4 o'clock this morning that change for the worse in the pope's condition occurred. It was especially due to catarrh, which had spread to both lungs; to inability to expectorate and to pulmonary inflammation, it was stated. Professor Cherubini, who had been waiting at the vatican, was immediapope mentally depressed and panting for breath.

Realizing the patient's serious condition Dr. Cherubini administered sedatives and expectoratives, but the beneficial effects expected did not manifest themselves. In view of the gravity of the situation Dr. Cherubini sent an urgent call to Professor Bignami, a vatican automobile being dispatched to bring him to the vatican. His arrival there followed shortly.

A girl, nine years old, sustained slight burns in leaving the house and Mrs. Finger also suffered to some extent. Their injuries are not considered serious, however. Mr. Finger and the baby were both severely burned about the head and limbs, according to reports. They were immediately hurried to the hospital and medical aid summoned.

Property loss to the Finger home will approximate $2,000 according to estimates. Two adjoining buildings, one on either side, were slightly damaged by the flames, but were saved by fast work on the part of firemen.

The first of Thursday's alarms came in at 8:45 a. m. from the Clifford Dalrymple home, 1110 Ninth street. Thawing frozen water pipes with a blow torch was responsible for this blaze, which caused a loss of about $300 to the basement of the structure.

At 9:15 a second alarm was turned in from the same place where the blaze had broken out again. Little further loss was occasioned by this.

Noon Thursday brought the third alarm of the day, when a small fire broke out in an oil well supply house at 407 Seventh street. This was extinguished without loss by employes of the company.

Alarm number four was recorded shortly after 3 o'clock in the afternoon when a blaze was discovered in the wall above a fireplace at the Kemp hotel. Chemicals were used by firemen in combatting this fire, which did little damage.

At 4:15 an auto delivery truck owned by the O. P. Maricle company crossed its wires in the 2300 block on Grant street and the resulting fire caused several hundred dollars loss to the machine.

At 9:30 the Finger fire broke out and at exactly midnight the firemen were again called out, this time to the F. P. Timberlake home, 2105 Tenth street. Fire thought to have started from an electric iron was burning briskly in one room, but was extinguished before causing any serious damage. Wallpaper in one room suffered considerably, but the building itself was not damaged, firemen reported.

The final run was at 4:50 Friday morning when fire of undetermined origin completely destroyed the B. B. Beckham cafe, 507 Indiana avenue. The building, a small frame structure, had fallen in almost before the alarm was sounded. Loss here was about $500.

Altogether it was the busiest day local firemen have experienced in many months, and the comparatively small loss is an indication of their work in combatting the various blazes.

LITTLE BOY DIES AFTER RESCUE BY FATHER FROM FIRE

B. M. FINGER CARRIES INFANT SON FROM BLAZING HOME THURSDAY NIGHT.

FATHER ALSO INJURED FIRE DESTROYS HOME

Total of Eight Alarms Turned In Thursday But Aggregate Loss Is Small.

Burns which proved fatal to a small child and property loss which, at the most, will not exceed $5,000, were the results of eight fires which broke out in Wichita Falls between 9 o'clock Thursday morning and 5 o'clock Friday morning. Joe Finger, aged two, is dead and his father, B. M. Finger, is in a critical condition at the Wichita General hospital as a result of burns sustained when their home at 207 Burnett street was destroyed by flames at 9:30 Thursday night.

The baby died at 11:30 Friday morning, the body now being held at the Hines undertaking parlors pending the outcome of his father's burns.

The Finger house, which entailed the heaviest single loss of the day, is thought to have been fired from an overheated wood burning stove. The family had retired for the night and were awakened by the crackling flames which had practically enveloped the small frame structure. Mr. and Mrs. Finger both rushed from the house, but the former, learning that his children were still in the burning building, fought his way back to a bed room, gathered his infant baby in his arms and ran through an almost solid wall of flames to the open air.

WASHINGTON PAPAL DELEGATE NOTIFIED IN A CABLEGRAM

WSAHINGTON, Jan. 20. — Monsignor Bonzani, papal delegate to Washington, was informed in a cablegram received at 9:45 o'clock today from Cardinal Gasparri, papal secretary, that Pope Benedict was "very seriously ill." Such a message was regarded as indicating that the pontiff was in a most serious condition.

OLD STATES RIGHTS ISSUE REVIVED BY FEDERAL TAX PLAN

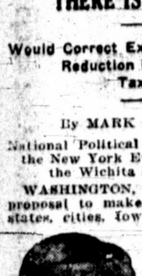

PROPOSED LEVY ON LOCAL BOND INCOME TO BE CONTESTED.

MANY LEADERS ASSERT THERE IS BETTER WAY

Would Correct Existing Evils By a Reduction In The Sur Taxes.

By MARK SULLIVAN
National Political Correspondent of the New York Evening Post and the Wichita Daily Times

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19. — The proposal to make bonds issued by states, cities, townships and villages, subject to the federal income tax is going to revive what has been one of the oldest and most vital issues in American politics. It is anywhere from 10 years to half a generation since "states rights" used to figure every day in the debates of congress. Most of the fights went against the states, and in the swift and drastic centralization of power at Washington that occurred during the war, states rights almost disappeared as a live issue. At this moment, however, it is coming rapidly to the front not only in connection with the project of putting a federal tax on state and other local bonds, but also in connection with the Dyer bill to make the crime of lynching a subject for federal action, together with the project for a federal department of education to have some kind of centralizing relation to public schools and other institutions now wholly under control of the states.

SULLIVAN.

Of all these movements, present and past, probably the most drastic proposed invasion of states rights on the part of the federal government is the proposal to put federal restrictions on the power of the states to borrow money. The movement arises out of the income tax. When the owner of a large fortune invests in the bonds of a private business corporation, he must pay from 25 to 58 per cent of his income in taxes. But when he invests in the bonds of the states, cities and villages, he need pay no income tax on the interest. The result has been that private business corporations borrowing money must pay roughly from 5½ to 7½ per cent whereas cities and towns can borrow it at from 4 to 5 per cent. It follows necessarily that private corporations have difficulty in borrowing, while states and cities can borrow freely.

To get rid of this handicap against private business there were two feasible remedies. One was to reduce the highest taxes on incomes to something like 30 per cent or less and thus to restore in the mind of the large investor something like equality of attractiveness between the bonds of private corporations and those of states and cities. This was the remedy Harding proposed first. He recommended it in a letter to congress, but congress turned it down. Thereupon Harding in his last address to congress recommended that state and city bonds be made subject to federal taxation the same as the bonds of private business corporations. This could only be done by means of an amendment to the constitution of the United States, and it is to consider the advisability of such an amendment that the hearings are now being held.

Federal Revenues Affected

It must be admitted that the present situation is not only hurtful to the federal government's revenue, but that it also has an indirect effect not widely noticed. It puts a premium on the municipal ownership of public utilities and promotes it greatly. Any given gas company or electric light company or telephone company must pay from 5½ to 7½ per cent for its borrowed money, whereas the same company, if turned over to the city government can borrow its money at from 4½ to 5 per cent. The resulting stimulus to municipal ownership is readily apparent. There still remains, of course, the alternative remedy that Harding first suggested, namely, a reduction of the higher sur taxes on large incomes to something like 25 per cent. The project for an amendment to the constitutoin by the action of three-fourths of the states would take a least two years' time under the most favorable circumstances. And as a matter of fact the project would encounter the most stubborn opposition and revive the old states rights issue in a vital form.

The Dyer bill authorizing the federal government to take cognizance of lynching and punish it in the federal courts has given rise to earnest debates in the lower house of congress. It was initiated by the republicans to fulfill a platform promise, and the democrats claim it is put forward largely to make a republican appeal to the negro vote, which is so large as to be decisive in such doubtful states as Indiana and Ohio. Southern democrats say that lynching is already decreasing through the only sound means by which it can be decreased, namely, by the growth of local public sentiment against it. They say further that for the federal government to interfere would merely make the whole troublesome race question worse. Undoubtedly it is the view of persons who are most enlightened and free from partisan prejudice that the best hope for amelioration of the race question in its largest aspects lies in local treatment of it without the interference of force from the outside. The race question has grown steadily less troublesome in proportion as the federal government has receded from the use of force, which was a cardinal republican doctrine in the generatoin following the Civil war.

The project for a federal bureau of education has been opposed by President Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia university in words which include the following:

"In the United States, in flat defiance of all our proclaimed principles and ideals, we are building a series of bureaucracies that will put to shame the best efforts of the government of the Czar of Russia in the heyday of its glory. The glories and the success of education in the United States are due to its freedom, to its reflection of the needs, the ambitions, and capacities of local communities, and to its being kept in close and constant touch with the people themselves."

All these related measures are reviving the old states rights issue. Broadly speaking, it can be said that many thoughtful persons both within the administration and outside it hold strongly to the conviction that the present post-war period should be a time for diminishing rather than increasing the functions of the federal government.

Visitors Spoiling The Reputation of The City of Sofia

SOFIA, Jan. 20.—Long believed by European travelers to be the most moral, respectable and staid old town in the Balkans, is becoming too gay to suit Bulgaria's stern prime minister, Alexander Stamboulisky.

The peasant premier has just given warning that the city folk are becoming demoralized by contact with evil western influences. Among the worst offenders, he said, are wealthy Russian "refugees" who are squandering their money and substance in riotous living and scandalous excesses. To put a stop to this, he ordered the deportation of these rich and dissolute aliens.

WILSON FUND IS DESIGNED TO FURTHER "PRACTICAL IDEALISM" DECLARES FORMER AMBASSADOR

By JAMES W. GERARD
Former United States Ambassador to Germany

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—Though it sounds like a paradox, practical idealism is the hope of the world today. We have gone as far as we can on the old theory of balance of power, opportunism and allied schools of statesmanship.

GERARD.

If the world is to progress any further along the road toward permanent peace; it must predicate its procedure on idealism—and it must be sound, common - sense, practical idealism.

It is a peculiar thing that, as long as a man confines himself to pleasant platitudes about progress and the necessity for more idealistic standards, he is applauded.

But let him offer a practical suggestion as to how the world might be improved and particularly let him attempt to carry such a suggestion into effect, the wrath of those who love talk but dread action will descend upon him.

Henry Clay staved off a war for 20 years by continual compromises; Abraham Lincoln saw the practical thing to do was to meet the inevitable and get it over with. The former died generally loved; Lincoln died the best hated man in the country.

Similarly, Woodrow Wilson strove to do the practical thing by putting some teeth into the law of nations. The stand-patters held up their hands in horror that anyone should take such a practical step to do away with war.

The world today stands in sore need of men of the type of Lincoln and Wilson; and like Washington and Roosevelt, too. The need is for men who can see through the sand storm of short-sighted opinion to the oasis of achievement beyond.

We want to enlist in the ranks of our statesmen the strongest men of the country; men of vision who are capable of having ideals and are practical enough to carry them through. In that way, and only in that way can we hope to advance political endeavor and put it on a higher plane.

It is peculiarly fitting that an organization which has for its purpose the advancement of ideals and the stimulation of unselfish effort in the service of mankind should be named after one of the most prominent exponents of practical idealism.

The Woodrow Wilson Foundation aims to perpetuate the ideals of the former president. It is now engaged in raising a fund of $1,000,000 throughout the country. The income from this sum will be used to provide awards which will be given periodically for distinguished service to democracy, public welfare, liberal thought or peace through justice.

The foundation provides a needed stimulation to participation in matters governmental and international.

It should serve to attract to the field of political endeavor the best men of the country and to provide an incentive for effort of this kind.

ROAD ROUTE CASE TO BE ARGUED ON APPEAL FEBRUARY 4

The case involving the issue of the new route of the Burkburnett road just outside the city limits will be argued before the court of civil appeals at Fort Worth on Feb. 4, according to an announcement made by the attorneys for the plaintiff.

The case is styled W. H. Stuckey et al. vs. J. P. Jones et al. The appeal grew out of the decision of Judge H. F. Weldon when the temporary injunction, restraining the commissioners from taking a new route for the road, was dissolved.

The action was brought by the refineries who were situated along the old route of the road.

PRISONERS HAVE THRILL; INSANE MAN SETS BED ON FIRE

Prisoners, housed in the county jail had a thrill Friday morning when the entire building was filled with choking smoke. The bucket brigade composed of deputies of the sheriff's department soon had the cause of the smoke under control.

A man who is being held pending a trial on a lunacy charge evidently wanted to get rid of the mattress of his bed and set it on fire.

He was anxious to have the door of the hospital cell, in which he was being kept, opened so that he could get out into fresh air.

One mattress and several blankets were damaged.

MAN STATES HE FOUND STILL ON A HUNTING TRIP

N. Harrold, who was arrested Thursday night following a raid on his house by Ranger McCormick and City Officers Glenn, Belcher, Miller and Humphries, told United States Commissioner J. A. Lants, Friday morning that he found the still, the barrels and all other equipment while on a rabbit hunt, several weeks ago.

The quart of whiskey found in his house, he stated, was given him by a man for whom he worked last summer. He was bound over under bond of $500 on charges of violation of the national prohibition act.

The officers who conducted this raid also raided another house in the same street and arrested Jack Lingo. They state that a still was also found in his house.

25 PER CENT ADDED TO AUTO LICENSES AFTER JANUARY 31

After Jan. 31, a 25 per cent penalty will be added to all automobile licenses, according to an announcement made by County Tax Collector M. L. Tittle, Friday morning. This entire month has been extended to automobile owners in which to procure the new tags, as the law provides that these new tags shall be displayed on Jan. 1 of each year.

Officers made the announcement two weeks ago that after Jan. 15, arrests would be made in cases where new license tags were not displayed. Several arrests were made, but all cases dismissed as an agreement was made between all peace officers to extend the period of time until the penalty is added by the tax collector.

Beginning Feb. 1 arrests will be made and the penalty attached by the collector.

THE WOMAN'S PAGE

Reader Delights Audience at Club Thursday Evening

Those who heard Mary Agnes Doyle read the "Passing of the Third Floor Back" Thursday evening at the Wichita club are the richer by one of those priceless experiences which people only occasionally gain by means of an admission ticket.

Miss Doyle's creation of personality in the boarding house people of Jerome's idealistic and beautiful story was one of the truest and finest bits of art it has ever been the pleasure of a local audience to hear. From the Stranger to 'Stasia, the little scullery maid, the characters were living, breathing, individual beings, "each in his own tongue" and spiritual likeness. It would have been an unusual audience indeed that had not been practically spellbound by the art of the gifted reader, and the audience at the Wichita club Thursday evening was only unusual in its opportunity.

At the conclusion of the reading of Jerome's play, Miss Doyle was requested by a Rotarian who had heard her read the "Daguerrotype" at the Rotary luncheon Thursday noon, to repeat that selection, and she did so, very graciously.

A very informal reception was held shortly after the conclusion of the readings, and many who had wished to meet Miss Doyle were privilliged to do so. She discussed the Little Theater movement with the Studio Players, answering questions with the greatest interest. She also spoke most appreciatively of the responsiveness of her audience, thanking the Studio Players for the beautiful shower bouquet of crimson roses with which she had been presented at the close of the program.

Miss Doyle was presented under the auspices of the Studio Players, a community organization recently perfected by Mrs. E. L. Fulton, of which Miss Bruce Dickson is president.

Visits to the sick were reported, after which the president read the new order of business, and the constitution and by-laws were submitted for approval. They were adopted, on motion of Mrs R. Hibbs.

At 4 o'clock the Ladies Aid of the First Evangelical church entertained, led by the president, Mrs. W. D. Cook. Brief talks on "Intercession by Prayer" were made by Rev. Mr. Trabant of the First church, Rev. E. M. Voss and Rev. Albert C. Laukhof of the Yale avenue church. On the suggestion of Rev. Mr. Laukhof the women discussed taking up mission work and decided to do so later on.

The meeting closed with a song.

The Pieria-Delphians met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Miss Helen Bengsten, on Brook street, with Mrs. J. C. Crane leader of the lesson, on the Elizabethan period. Mrs. A. C. Parks read a paper on "The Life of Ben Jonson," which was especially interesting.

"ALONG CAME RUTH"

By MILTON BRONNER.

LONDON, Jan. 19.—The early part of the world war found Lieut. B. H. Geary leading an English regiment into some of the toughest battles against the Germans.

At famous Hill 60 he won his Victoria Cross—but he was badly wounded, had lost an eye, was blinded in the other and was stone deaf.

Then "Along came Ruth," and her father, with two pairs of skillful hands.

The father was Dr. Claude Weakes, a famous English eye and ear specialist. He worked a seemingly miracle.

Sight was restored to Geary's eye and he was made to hear again. Geary stepped out of a land of silence and darkness into the world of living men.

Then Ruth nursed him back to real health.

Geary then studied for the ministry and is now assistant at West Ham parish church. And he has won the hands of the girl whose hands nursed him back to health.

Miss Ruth Weakes is shortly to be Mrs. Geary.

"Business Enthusiast" Wins Big Job

MRS. LAURA B. MERRILL.

By RUTH ABELING.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—Don't be a procrastinator!

Don't expect deference because you are a woman.

But don't try to be masculine.

And do develop your intuition!

This—were she the sort of a woman who gives advice—would be the gist of what Mrs. Laura B. Merrill, high-salaried secretary of the Commonwealth Hotel Construction corporation, would say to the young woman ambitious for a business career.

Mrs. Merrill, a little woman who looks as if she gave her blond hair and skin an extra 10 minutes every day, has at her finger tips an amazing amount of information regarding the investors and the investment of the Commonwealth corporation.

She is constantly in touch with and knows every detail of the building of this new hotel which will cover one whole block in the heart of New York City.

She is at her desk at 9 a. m. every day and very often stays there as late as 9 p. m.

"I believe in the personal touch," said Mrs. Merrill. "For that reason, I make it a point to go to the actual scene of construction every few days and know just exactly what is going on.

"Then, when a letter of inquiry comes from one of our investors, I can answer it in the most satisfying way.

"I believe that the basis of any successful business or the basic principle of any successful individual must be sincerity," continued Mrs. Merrill, "and it seems to me that woman's insincerity in business is her chief fault.

"Women too often approach their work with the feeling that it is just a temporary thing any how.

"There isn't any limit to a woman's accomplishment in the business world. I started at $6 a week I was 18 then.

"I was studying music seriously and taking stenography merely as pastime when I was offered a temporary position.

"I became a business enthusiast! "Another thing," Mrs. Merrill laughed, "I have faith in my intuition—it's an almost uncanny thing."

JUNIOR TRAVEL CONTINUES STUDY ELIZABETHAN AGE

The Junior Travel club met at the Kemp Library Wednesday morning, and continued its study of the "Elizabethan Age in English Literature." The program was under the direction of Mrs. M. L. Clopton, and was particularly interesting. "The Allegorical Interpretation of the Fairie Queene" was given by Mrs. W. S. Merritt; while a few passages from Canto IV of the "Fairie Queene" were read by Miss Louise Lipscomb. Mrs. E. C. DeMontel's paper was a discussion of Mark Twain's "The Adventures of a Connecticut Yankee at King Arthur's Court." The program this month will be given under the direction of Miss Florence Sammons, with Mrs. John W. King, hostess, and will begin promptly at 8:15.

Both selections will be among those on the music memory contest now being conducted throughout the district. Others include the first public appearance of Mrs. W. L. Parker, talented soprano, who will sing a solo; the first public appearance of Miss Annette Walsh since her recent study with Ganz in Chicago; a solo by Mrs. Louella Thompson of Dallas, who assisted with the Martin-Richolt wedding music here this week; a number by the recently-organized Woman's Chorus of the Musicians' club, given under the direction of Mr. Elliott; a violin duet by two popular young artists, Misses Marian Maer and Cecilia Adickes; a solo by Charles Angle, a recent baritone acquisition to the city, now soloist at the Baptist church, a violin selection by Mrs. T. NOTED LIEURANCES HERE FOR MUSICALE MONDAY

The visit of Thurlow Lieurance, noted American composer and best known composer of Indian songs, with Mrs. Lieurance, who is his delightful vocal interpreter, is being anticipated with great interest by Wichita Falls music lovers who have for many years been lovers of his beautiful native Indian melodies. The Lieurances will be presented at Kemp hotel Monday morning, Jan. 23, by the Musicians club of the city, at 10 o'clock, the musical opening a series of such morning entertainments planned by the Musicians.

In Fort Worth last year (March), the visit of the Lieurances was preceded by that of Mme. Schumann-Heink, who sang the composer's exquisite Indian love song, "By the Waters of Minnetonka." On being urged to repeat the song, Mme. Schumann-Heink took special occasion to speak of the composer and his wonderful work. The Fort Worth Star-Telegram said, later, of the Lieurance program:

"Many thought this the best concert of the season. Mrs. Lieurance is one of the most delightful singers that has ever appeared in this city, and the concert as a whole was unique; different. We hope they will come again."

Usefulness of the Genuine Thedford's Black-Draught Liver Medicine Has Long Been Known

Yale, Okla.—The usefulness of Thedford's Black-Draught liver medicine has long been known to Mrs. A. B. Leach, of route 1, this place, who says:

"About twenty-eight years ago, we were living near Belleville, Kans. I was in very poor health. I would eat, but it didn't seem to satisfy or do me any good. I was bloated; felt oppression at the stomach. The fullness in the right side was awful.

"I did not feel like doing a thing. Eating even made me tired. I sat around, feeling so miserable. One day I looked in the glass and my complexion scared me—not the color of blood in my face. My ears looked waxy; skin flabby, pale. I was in a bad fix.

"I had been taking medicine, as I was told it was inactivity of my liver that was causing this trouble. About this time—nothing having done me any good—I began to look for a cure.

"I read of Thedford's Black-Draught, and my husband went to the druggist for it. I began its use, and, my! how I began to improve. My appetite became more normal. Gradually the bloating disappeared, and my skin cleared up. I began to see marked improvement, and from then till now I have praised Black-Draught as the best liver medicine made.

"I keep Black-Draught in the house and have used it ever since. Have lived here in Oklahoma on my farm for twenty years and regard Black-Draught as my family liver medicine, and expect to keep it for years to come."

Ask your druggist for Thedford's. —adv.

TELLS OF THE HANGING OF TWO NEGRO SOLDIERS FOR ASSAULTING A GIRL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Testimony was given before a senate investigating committee in special session today by L. C. Mason of Davenport, Iowa, who served overseas with the 28th engineers that two negro soldiers hanged near St. Nazaire, France, in August, 1918, for assaulting a French girl had been picked out by the girl as her assailants from a camp housing 20,000 men.

Mason gave it as his opinion that the men had not received a fair trial, explaining that when the girl had first started out with an American and a French officer to find the men she alleged had attacked her, she apparently had not known whether they were white or black. The girl, he said, was generally known as a "loose woman."

FRIDAY, JANUARY 20, 1922.

WATCH OUR SMOKE.

The report is in general circulation over North Texas that Wichita Falls is not the thriving city it once was. Perhaps, measured alongside the peak times when the oil boom was at its height, that is true. But no community that will dig down in its potential wealth for $4,500,000 for the biggest irrigation project in the whole southwest should be subject to the charge that it is not thriving, for that improvement alone will make permanent a tremendous source of wealth—agriculture. And the item isn't so big alongside $4,500,000, but the fact that Wichita Falls is raising $40,000 for maintenance of its chamber of commerce for this year will be equally conclusive proof of the assertion made, that any back-set Wichita may meet will be only an incentive to campaigns for further growth and progress. If there is a city in the southwest that is "man-made," it is Wichita Falls. Its growth has been aided adventitiously at times, but the bulk of that growth has come from the aggressive, progressive efforts of its permanent citizens who have put forth their time and energy and money to make it so.—Denton Record-Chronicle.

The Record-Chronicle has the situation in Wichita Falls sized up about right. Wichita Falls is not the "thriving" city it was several years, that is, it isn't filled with a lot of stock promoters and brokers making more money than they knew how to spend and there is little complaint now from merchants and business men that they have more business than they can attend to.

But there is a lot of business in Wichita Falls and our population, as indicated by the scholastic census, the school enrollment and other things, is increasing. There is a considerable amount of new building going on.

The men who have made Wichita Falls what it is—the kind of men who are making communities everywhere—are more confident about the future of Wichita Falls than they ever have been and after having been swamped by a deluge for several years they are back at work building a bigger and better city. One of the first results of their efforts has been the starting of work on the $4,500,000 water and irrigation project. They are planning and working at other things less only in their magnitude than the irrigation project.

Wichita Falls has taken off its coat, figuratively speaking, and the rest of the world is invited to watch the dirt fly.

A FRANK AND CONSISTENT POLICY.

Whatever else may be said about the foreign policy of France it is, at least, frank and consistent.

On every occasion since the beginning of the world war the spokesman of France have reiterated that its future policy would be guided by self protection as the first consideration. This policy was not varied from at the armistice, at the Paris peace conference, at the Washington disarmament conference, in the French chamber of deputies, the French cabinet nor any other place where the voice of France has been heard.

It was repeated again Thursday when the French chamber of deputies gave an overwhelming vote of confidence to the new Poincare government after the new premier had declared for a firm course with Germany and for the full observance by Germany of her twenty obligations.

And this policy can easily be explained in the suffering and fears of France from a Germany that twice within the memory of many Frenchmen now living has wrought devastation in France. France doesn't ever want to go through the experiences of 1870 and 1914 again and now that she can, she will enforce measures that will prevent the recurrence of such an attack. Can France be blamed for this?

Some people must name their children after Pullman cars.

Prohibition is three years old and naturally sticks everything it can get into its mouth.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

ODDS.

There is something most unusually fine about the man who asks odds of no one—not even himself.

Independence is more than an ability—it's an art!

Real successes are started at "scratch."

The winner says—"Odds—I want none given me. And as far as there being any odds for or against me, I shall see that they are all turned in my favor. I'll become a dealer in odds!"

The loser blames his odds, saying that they were pitted against him before even he started.

It may be raining today—but tomorrow the sun will have dried away the memory of rain's darkness and gloom and have nothing but smiles of freshness to offer as an excuse for the past.

Success obliterates much of failure. Just the same as joy evaporates sorrow from our hearts.

But we hold as a divine heritage—our experiences.

How are we able to understand the feelings of a hungry man unless we, too, have once wanted for food? Unless we have been down from stumbling, how are we going to reach and help him up who is now down?

Character is made by dealing with the odds of time and circumstance.

And the strong man is he who juggles his odds with the skill of one who knows his own failings as well as his good points.

So it is well not to forget that you are mostly as other people, and that you are big and useful only as you go ahead asking no odds of anybody or anything—not even yourself!

Columbus, sailing into uncharted seas, gave but one command: "Sail on—and on—and on!" Odds? They were all against him, apparently.

JUST FOLKS

—By— Edgar A. Guest

KEEPING YOUNG.

When it comes to growing older, I suppose I'm on the way,
As a risk for life insurance, I've a higher rate to pay,
I know my years by number, and the figures I behold
Is one that in my twenties I considered rather old,
But I whistle and I chuckle like the boy who used to be
And I'll tell the world this morning Time has made no dents in me.

I'm as keen for playing baseball as I was in Ninety-two,
I could swing a bat and hit 'em in the way I used to do;
Let the life insurance fellows say my hair is turning gray
And each year I'm getting older, I can't see it just that way,
For when I get to thinking of myself, somehow I find
I've always got the picture of a youngster in my mind.

I don't think of me as ageing. All the years have lightly flown,
And I've never stopped to count them or the burdens I have known;
I go laughing down life's highway still the boy I used to be,
And what if nightime finds me with a youngster on my knee
And what if people tell me that I'm getting old and gray?
I am just as young as ever—anyhow, I feel that way.

SMILE A WHILE

By TOM SIMS.

New Yorkers say their water tastes bad. New Yorkers must get used to water sooner or later.

Some people pay their respects and others charge them.

The man who smokes a cigarette before breakfast will never have a cigar named after him.

Fine motto: Everything is for the best—try to be the best.

Foreign governments are resigning; but the only part of our government resigned is the people.

Two pints once made a quart; now two yeast cakes make a quart.

Austria has issued 72,500,000,000 crowns in 10 months; but everybody is dodging the issue.

YOU AND I

Sometimes Forget Importance of the Plodders Who Never Get the Spotlight.

The man who wound the town clock at Staple, England, every day for 35 years, quits his job. Prices and wages had violent upheavals during the 35 years. But the clock winder went serenely ahead, his salary of 24 cents a week never changing.

Now that he is gone, and potential successors are asking higher pay, the clock-winder is appreciated.

Ever stop to think of the people who go through life quietly, never in the spotlight, toiling patiently to provide your comforts

The stars get the applause but there wouldn't be any show without the stage-hands behind the scenes.

FORDVILLE

Henry Ford says he will build a city 75 miles long in the Muscle Shoals region. It will be a chain of small towns.

Ford is looking ahead 20 years, when factories will get out of the cities so that workers will not altogether lose that great joy of life—contact with the open country.

Size doesn't make a town.

The best American city is the village.

BET

Standard Oil of California buys a fourth interest in the Vanderlip syndicate's concession on coal, oil, timber lands, etc., in Russia.

This means, Russia is coming back fast. Greater proof than a month's cables from Moscow.

Standard Oil doesn't play the wrong horses.

SOBERING

Be thankful for hard times. They are making the nation sober up. Nothing except depression could solve the intricate problems which Americans have been creating during the last decade. An eastern preacher says this. In many ways, he is right.

Boom times make people wasteful, careless, indifferent to the future, negligent of their fellow-men's problems and welfare.

Then providence sends us hard times, to bring us back to normal—to sanity.

In hard times, we learn to solve the "unsolvable problems." We also learn that man has no problems except those he creates himself.

CIGARETS

Latest report shows 4,233,233,233 cigarets produced by American factories in one month. That's about 40 for every man, woman and child.

It is 699,825,367 cigarets more than were manufactured in the corresponding month a year ago.

Is the gain due to women smoking? Probably not. For cigars are going out about as fast as cigarets gain. And men seem to be smoking as much as ever.

POWER

A light that can be seen 140 miles away is perfected by Elmer A. Sperry, wizard of illumination. Its straight upward penetration is 30 miles.

Lighthouses don't need such powerful beacons. Many people will wonder if Sperry's searchlight is a useful device. It will be, in a few years, to help guide airplanes swarming through black night by the tens of thousands.

Twenty-four is the ideal age for a woman to marry, says the University of California. That will start a lot of arguments, opinion probably dividing 50-50.

Powers says, give a girl five years in business and she will make a better home maker, wife and mother. Less chance for argument there.

Business training makes a woman more economical and a better manager. It gives her the power of independence. Best of all, it improves on instinct in making her a better judge of men, most of whom need a lot of judging.

Interest on long-time loans in New York City drops to 4 3-4 per cent. That's the lowest rate since August, 1917.

This is important to borrowers. It is more important to the average citizen, not in the market for loans.

Cheap money—low interest—always is a forerunner of good times. Money begins doing things when its ball and chain are made lighter.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY.

For thou hast trusted in thy wickedness: thou hast said, None seeth me. Therefore shall evil come upon thee: thou shalt not know from whence it cometh.—Isaiah 47:10, 11.

Courage, the highest gift, that scorns to bend
To mean devices for a sordid end.
Courage, an independent spark from heaven's high throne,
By which the soul stands raised, triumphant, high, alone:
Great in itself, not praises of the crowd,
Above all vice, it stoops not to be proud. —Farquar.

LEARN A WORD EVERY DAY.

Today's word is demote.

It's pronounced—de-moat with accent on the last syllable.

It means—to reduce to a lower rank, grade or standing.

It comes from—Latin, "de," down, and "movere," to move.

It's used like this—"The officer was demoted from the rank of major to that of captain."

YOU CAN AVOID FROZEN FEET AND CHILBLAINS

By DR. R. H. BISHOP.

Brisk winter weather always brings a lot of cases of chilblains and cold feet. Neither are ailments but they may make one extremely uncomfortable.

In a case of chilblains the feet should be cleansed and then wrapped in soft dressings. It is the customary thing to paint with idoine and to apply iodine salve to the area which has been frozen.

If the nip has only been a mild one there is little need to apply iodine or any other medicine. Some physicians recommend applying cold cream containing 12 per cent of boracic acid.

If there is much itching, one-half of 1 per cent carbolic acid can be applied to advantage.

Persons who are obliged to remain in the cold for hours at a time should not wear shoes, socks, stockings, gloves, garters or putties that bind.

In fact, all clothing should be loose, since this allows the blood to circulate freely and keeps a wall of warm air next to the skin.

Shoes should be large enough to permit the wearing of one, and sometimes two pairs of woolen socks.

Rubber overshoes or galoshes should be worn if possible, for wet soles abstract a lot of heat.

When the feet begin to get cold a dozen or so deep breaths will warm them as well as the whole body. Everybody knows that running, stamping the feet and such exercise will warm the feet.

When the feet have been nipped by frost, the best method of warming is by rubbing with snow. Rubbing them while they are held in ordinary cold water is also effective.

Frostbitten feet should never be warmed by holding to a fire, a warm radiator or in hot water.

For the after care of feet that have been frostbitten it has been recommended that they be swabbed twice daily with coal oil.

GENOA CONFERENCE PROMISING VENTURE SHOULD ENCOURAGE

U. S. SHOULD MAKE UP FOR WHAT FRANCE FAILS TO GIVE.

PEOPLE OF AMERICA ARE INTERESTED IN OUTCOME

First Conference Proposed That Will Include All the People at Interest.

By COL. E. M. HOUSE
(Copyright by Public Ledger Co.)

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 20. — The forthcoming Genoa conference is a promising venture and should receive encouragement. What France fails to give in the way of support should be made up by the United States.

The Washington conference has had to do with policies, the Genoa conference will deal with finance and economics, and the one is as necessary as the other. Every American business man, every farmer, and working man and woman has an interest in its successful outcome. It is the first time a conference has been proposed which will include all the peoples at interest. Heretofore a few victorious powers have met and undertaken to give direction to world affairs without consultations with other nations. This cannot be accomplished successfully after such a war as the one that has just swept the world. No nation truly can be said to have won the war. All have lost, even the neutrals, and it is merely a question of degree. Therefore, in order to recoup it is essential for all to help; and because of our power and position we should be the last to shirk such a call.

It has been said repeatedly that the United States should not sit in conference with Europe in an effort to disentangle its financial and industrial systems and to help stimulate them until they again become normal. To do so, in the opinion of these objectors, would mean taking upon ourselves new obligations and involving ourselves further in affairs foreign to our own. Europeans, it is contended, would be glad to have us sit in with them in order that they might place upon us a part of the load they are now carrying. That is a familiar cry. We heard it when they returned to London and Rome after the peace conference, and Clemenceau is still hearing it today in Paris. It is being said even now of the Washington conference that the British and Japanese have taken the kernel and left us the shell. We have the glory and they have the substance.

After the armistice terms had been completed and were ready to go to the Germans for consideration and acceptance, Clemenceau leaned back in his chair and said: "I think we have included everything excepting the kaiser's breeches." There are those who believe if we participated in the Genoa conference, Uncle Sam would run the risk of losing his. And so it always has been, is now and ever shall be. Timid America holding counsel with its fears would restrain America the great-hearted.

If we have no men among our teeming millions able to cope with those of Europe, we should accept meekly our lot and take what is imposed upon us.

If the president sent to Genoa an all-American team, composed of republicans and democrats alike, our people, as a whole, would be content to accept their conclusions. With such republicans as Mellon, Weeks, Hoover and Kahn available and such democrats as McAdoo, Houston, Baruch and Norman Davis to choose from, the most timid would be reassured. To participate thus fully and in such a representative way would not add to our burdens, but would lessen them.

The financial and industrial disorganization of the world can be righted if we will help. Even if we do not help, it will come in time; but we can accelerate the recovery by months, perhaps by years. Some economists tell us that the United States has an effective man-power of three billions. That is to say our natural and mechanical resources are such as to give to each inhabitant the equivalent of 30 man-power as compared with the single man-power of such countries as China and India.

The question is, how shall we use it for the best advantage, not only for ourselves but for others, for the two are inseparably linked together. There is no way at present whereby we can make a better beginning than at the Genoa conference. Let us get behind it with all our potential strength and be what we really are—America of the Great Heart.

DISCUSS BETTER METHODS OF MARKETING PRODUCTS

TUSKEGEE, ALA., Jan. 20.—"Better methods of marketing farm products" was discussed here yesterday before some 2,000 negro farmers from Alabama and twelve other southern states attending the 31st session of the Tuskegee negro conference.

Dr. Robert R. Moton, principal of Tuskegee Institute, reiterated his plan for diversification of crops and urged that congress enable Henry Ford to develop the Muscle Shoals nitrate and water power project. He also announced that the monument to the late Booker T. Washington, the gift of American negroes, would be unveiled here in April.

WARNS AGAINST THE FOUR POWER TREATY

Attitude of Doubt Is Taken By Winner of Nobel Peace Prize.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Warning against the four-power treaty drafted by the armament conference and similar pacts is being sounded in India by Sir Rabindranath Tagore, poet and dramatist, and Nobel prize winner, according to the American commission to promote self-government in India. In a communication received today by the commission the celebrated writer said:

"Power has to be made secure not only against power, but also against weakness; for there lies the peril of losing balance. The weak are as great a danger for the strong as quicksands for an elephant. They do not assist progress, because they do not resist; they only drag down. The people who grow accustomed to wield absolute power over others are not to forget that in doing so they generate an unseen force which may some day rend that power in pieces."

MEDICINE MOUND SCHOOL BUILDING IS DESTROYED BY FIRE LATE THURSDAY

Special to The Times.

CHILLICOTHE, TEXAS, Jan. 20.—The Medicine Mound school building, eight miles south of Chillicothe, was destroyed by fire shortly after 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon. The loss is practically complete and is estimated at $10,000 with no insurance. No children were in the building as school had been dismissed a short time before the blaze started.

The fire is believed to have been caused by a defective flue. The Chillicothe fire department responded to a call for assistance, and with a chemical truck kept the flames from spreading.

Once a rarity, is now to be observed and admired upon every hand. Indeed, no other woman can flourish long in the midst of this modern complicated life. In the home, in business, in social life, the woman who is serene and confident wins, while the nervous, flustered individual wastes her talents and gets nowhere. Of course, poise is dependent mainly upon sound health and steady nerves. If you feel that you are being kept back in this way, why not turn to that great woman's remedy, Lydia E. UNABLE TO KEEP SUFFICIENT CAVALRY PATROL ON BORDER

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Regret that reduction of cavalry forces incident to reduction of the army's enlisted strength to 150,000 men had made it impossible to keep a "sufficient" cavalry patrol on the Mexican border, was expressed by Major General Willard A. Holbrook, chief of cavalry, before officers attending the annual meeting of the United States Cavalry association.

The fitting out of the cavalry guard on the border, the general said, had been the occasion for much criticism, but, he added, it could not be helped and he pointed out that the great bulk of the cavalry was now stationed along the border.

The association reelected General Holbrook as president and Colonel William C. Rivers was reinstated as vice president. Other officers elected to the executive council included Colonels F. C. Marshall, George C. Barnhardt, Julius T. Conrad, W. R. Smedburg Jr., George Vidmer, George E. Mitchell, Stuart E. Heintzelman and Lieutenant Colonel J. H. Hill.

Other speakers before the association expressed confidence that mounted troops would play an important role in future military operations. Their participation in the world war, they declared, was more important from a military standpoint than was generally known.

One officer declared that if the Germans had had a few cavalry divisions when they attempted the offensive of March, 1918, which nearly succeeded in breaking the allied wall, they would have succeeded in exploiting their success and getting through.

CHILE ACCEPTS THE INVITATION OF U. S.

Will Send Representative to Negotiate With the Peruvian Envoys.

By Associated Press.

SANTIAGO, CHILE, Jan. 20.—Foreign Minister Barros Jarpa forwarded to Washington last night through Ambassador Collier accepting on behalf of Chile the United States government's invitation to send representatives to Washington to negotiate with Peruvian envoys, with the object of reaching a solution of the dispute respecting the unfulfilled clauses of the treaty of Ancon.

After asserting that the Chilean government would designate her plenipotentiaries at the earliest possible moment, the note expressed gratitude for the "opportunity to negotiate directly with Peruvian representatives through which action or through other friendly measures the negotiations may be able to lead to a loyal execution of the treaty."

The note expressed satisfaction over President Harding's "noble inspiration which demonstrates that the high spirit of international conciliation that inspired Chile's initiative toward Peru on December 12, 1921, has been fully appreciated."

OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE STATE DEPARTMENT

By Associated Press.

WASHINTON, Jan. 20.—Official announcement of the acceptance by both Peru and Chile of the invitation extended them several days ago at the instance of President Harding to have plenipotentiaries meet in Washington and discuss the disputed provisions of the treaty of Ancon was made today at the state department.

Although the department was without the texts of the formal acceptance by the two governments, it was said that dispatches had been received from the American legations at Lima and Santiago notifying the American government of receipt of the acceptances.

The impending conference was declared again today to have a most important hearing on the whole matter of national relationships in South America.

Not a Violation If Cider Should Develop a Kick

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—Federal Judge Learned Hand last night directed the federal prohibition commissioner to issue permits to manufacture cider to the Duffy Mott company and the Walter H. Hildick Apple Juice company of this city.

The decision is regarded as of some importance because it means that the manufacture and sale of preserved sweet cider is not considered a violation of the Volstead act, if the cider may later develop an alcoholic content of more than one-half of one per cent.

FORT WORTH, Jan. 20.—Edward T. Scott of Lincoln, Neb., was elected president of the Western Fruit Jobbers' association at the closing session of the annual convention here today. Ben E. Keith of Fort Worth was named first vice president.

C. & N. RAILROAD MAKES REQUEST FOR $3,000,000 LOAN

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—R. Q. Lee, president of the Cisco and Northeastern railroad, has been in conference with officials of the interstate commerce commission and is confident his application for a loan of $3,000,000 will be granted. This money, Mr. Lee has explained, is needed by him to take care of short term paper which his railroad issued to purchase equipment and rolling stock.

Mr. Lee was assisted by Representative Sam Rayburn, Texas member of the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce.

A. R. Watland has returned from a business trip to Fort Worth, Greenville and Denison.

CALOMEL SALIVATES AND LOOSENS TEETH

The Very Next Dose Of This Treacherous Drug May Start Trouble.

You know what calomel is. It's mercury, quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into sour bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can not salivate.—adv.

The Greatest Wedding of the Year

Princess Mary

THE wedding of the Princess Mary has thrown the people of England into a mood of rejoicing that suggests more the approach of a bank holiday than an affair of courts, kings and archbishops. Individuals, groups and associations of people all over the British Isles are preparing gifts for this royal bride. Mill children are making tapestries, the girl guides are collecting "thrupenny" bits with which to purchase a silver service, the school children of Manchester will send a carpet, the women potters of the Five Towns are working on a china service, the primary grades in a remote board school in Wales are knitting a figured scarf. In vague backwaters of grimy Whitechapel you hear the costers talking about Mary as if she were some shopkeeper's pretty daughter. In remote corners of the Empire, for that matter, the same intimate concern for this simple girl is being shown.

This extraordinary manifestation of affectionate interest is first of all a direct tribute to Princess Mary herself. A loyal citizenry might willingly cheer for any daughter of their king—but only a girl of charm and grace could make a Tommy actually want to dance with her. A second consideration which has made the wedding of the Princess and Viscount Lascelles is the popularity of the Crown itself. Finally, Mary has bestowed her heart and hand—not in the interest of Empire or diplomatic jugglery—but because she is in love.

The people of England have heard that the love affair between Mary and Viscount Lascelles sprang into being and flowered at Sandringham, the King's favorite country home. Here the wealthy noble sought the favor of his heart's desire in much the same way that a solicitor's clerk would seek the favor of his sweetheart. He went out for week-end parties, he made appropriate gifts, he made pretty speeches and —no doubt—he scowled and grew restless when Papa, the King, hung around too long talking about his stables.

But, aside from its simplicity and genuineness, this betrothal was popular because Viscount Lascelles is an Englishman. The London Daily News voiced a prevalent feeling when it said regarding Mary's engagement: "There is only one other engagement which could give greater pleasure, and that is the announcement of the Prince of Wales's betrothal to an Englishwoman."

This feeling is better understood when one has studied an Englishman's attitude toward the crown. Many a sturdy Briton who roundly condemns all hereditary monarchies, all titles and distinguishments, all rank and show—will turn red in the face and grow indignant if you speak disrespectfully of the British King. His King is an institution—a tractable institution which never interferes with any of his liberties. Hence the Britisher's affection for the crown and hence his enthusiasm for a royal wedding that is completed without going outside of the Empire.

All of these circumstances go to make the wedding of Princess Mary and Viscount Lascelles, D. S. O., son of the Earl of Harewood, the greatest wedding of the year. But not only in the immense interest it has aroused will this wedding be the greatest —but from a standpoint of splendor as well.

Something of feudal times will be suggested in the idea of plain people coming from far and near to bring gifts. Under the feudal system a tenant, or holder of lands, was liable to render aids to his lord for three purposes—to ransom him from captivity, to make his eldest son a knight, and to provide a portion for his eldest daughter upon her marriage. In the case of the marriage of a sovereign's daughter, the lowest fief-holder in the land would yield a portion of his goods as a gift, and these portions, pyramiding up to the King himself, would represent in its aggregate, a gift from the whole kingdom.

If Mary had been a feudal Princess all the roads leading to Buckingham Palace would have been crowded with ox-carts, silver caparisoned horses and men on foot—all with gold or silver, jewels or goods of some sort for the bride. There would have been a convocation of people outside the castle walls and presently when they all had gathered, a trumpet would sound and the royal wedding party would ride out with pennons flying.

The people in the instance of this modern princess do come bearing gifts, but not through the compulsion of some overlord. They come voluntarily, but the gifts they bear in many instances will be rarer in quality and in price than those any mediaeval princess ever received.

The gift of the bridegroom to the bride will scarcely be equalled, for it will consist of the Clanricarde Jewels—among the rarest in the world. Among these jewels are two bracelets consisting of six strings of pearls fastened with diamond clasps, two large drop pearl earrings one and a half inch in length, and three diamond tiaras.

Incidentally the bridegroom can well afford to make this gift, for he is one of the richest young men in England. Aside from being his father's heir, he has already come into the fortune of his great-uncle, the old miserly Marquis of Clanricarde. This fortune is estimated at $10,000,000, and to complete Lascelles's good fortune, it is understood, the King will make him a Duke on his wedding morning.

Viscount Lascelles, D. S. O., the Prospective Son-in-Law of the King of England.

SPORTS

DULL DAYS AROUND BASEBALL OFFICE

Spudder Roster Remains Unchanged; Bischoff Writes; Boxes Going Fast.

Though there were several players put up on the auction block at the recent Texas league gathering in Houston nobody had anything to offer which Walter Saim wanted and Walter had nothing which anybody else wanted. Things around the local baseball office are extremely quiet nowadays and nothing of moment is expected to happen for another month.

A letter was received from George Bischoff a few days ago wherein he stated that he was keeping in condition by working in a steel factory at his home in Granite City, Ill., and that he hoped he would be sent to Marlin Springs in March along with the hurlers. He feels that he will be called upon to work in the exhibition games and says he would like to be ready to go when he is called.

Over 50 season boxes have already been sold, according to Will Gray and the latter also stated that work on the new grandstand wing was progressing rapidly.

MIXED AUDIENCES BARRED AT CLEVELAND BOUTS

CLEVELAND, Jan. 20. — Boxing bouts in Cleveland under a new ruling by Mayor Fred Kohler, will be for men only or for women only. "In no case," the mayor said, will a bout be permitted before a crowd of both men and women. Violation of the rule will mean revoking the license of the club.

"If women must see boxing bouts," the mayor said, "let them arrange to have them witnessed entirely by members of their own sex."

UNITED STATES TO HOLD INTERNATIONAL EVENTS

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—International events in many branches of sport will be held in the United States this year. Two of the best known international trophies, the American's cup for racing yachts and the polo cup, will not be in competition, but in their places will be international college, football games, air races, six-metre yacht races, golf and track meets.

PADDOCK WILL GO OUT FOR FURTHER HONORS

SALEM, ORE., Jan. 20.—Charlie Paddock, University of California sprinter who holds world's records in the 100 and 220-yard dashes, probably will go after the 440-yard record of 47 2-5 seconds held by Ted Meredith, some time the coming season.

Tonight's Schedule.

The High School and Texhomas battle in the first game tonight. The Legion and Gaines quintets hook up in the second.

Both Games Close.

It's hard to tell which will be the better game. The University club was supposed to have a walkover with the Methodists Wednesday, but their game was by far the better of the two. If the Texhomas have improved as much as the church boys, the high school athletes will have their work cut out for them. The Legion-Gaines scramble will be bitterly fought. Both are anxious to break into the win column.

League Meeting.

An important meeting of the managers and executive board will be held before the games. President Lemen has urged all to be on hand promptly at 7:30.

A Brotherly Game.

Five sets of brothers participated in the two contests Wednesday. The University club had the Viner brothers and the Harper brothers; the two Coffey boys held down the guard positions for the Knights; one of the Neal brothers played forward for the Methodists and the other played guard; the Sharpe brothers played for the Elks. The legion also has a pair of brothers—the Wafford boys.

New Practice Schedule.

A new practice schedule has been mapped out by the executive board which will go into effect next week. At least one hour a week will be allotted to each team. If it is not on hand at the hour assigned, it is the team's hard luck.

Eligibility Lists.

Tonight is the last night that the teams will be allowed to draw from any source for players. A list of eight eligible men must be handed into the executive commitee before next Wednesday's contest.

May Play Saturday.

An effort is being made to sign up the Texas company team of Burkburnett to play the "Wichita Falls" team in the legion hall Saturday night. The Burk quintet is one of the fastest in this section of the country and hung a defeat on the Elks last week. This contest will in no way be connected with the league, but the players will be selected from the different teams. If the game is arranged, a real all-star aggregation will take the floor.

Not After Faichney

The rumors said to be afloat a few days ago that the University club was dickering for the services of Don Faichney are pure "bunk." The manager of the University club has never as much as thought of approaching Faichney to sign with the University and if either the manager or Faichney is consulted in the matter it will be found that Faichney has never been asked to play with the University club. Such propaganda is detrimental to both the league and the University club and should be squelched or at least investigated before being published.

Viner Sets Example

The Methodists threw such a scare into the varsity boys Wednesday night that Capt. Harry Viner went up to the Legion hall all by his lonesome yesterday and practiced for more than an hour. "They're not going to fool me again," he declared. Other University members please take note.

Jun or High Loses

The Junior high quintet lost to Electra yesterday 18 to 12, but it was no fault of Palmer Herrod, who scored 10 of the local's dozen counters.

Saim Has Plenty of Mail.

Walter Saim was greeted with a flood of correspondence upon his return from Houston—the biggest portion of which was from rookies anxious to have a tryout. More young fellows are seeking jobs as ball players than ever before. Some are so anxious for a tryout that they are even willing to pay their own expenses here. There was a large number of embryo hurlers among the applicants and some have formidable semi-pro records.

Laughs at Beck Statement.

The boss was inclined to laugh off the statement from Wichita, Kans., that Fred Beck would still be in the Western league when the 1922 campaign opened. Fred has not signed his Spudder contract yet, but Walter does not expect to have much trouble with him. Stranger things have happened, however.

Beck's Excuse Laughable.

The excuse offered by Beck for not wanting to report is laughable. He fears he'll be the goat if he's made captain. Who'll make him the goat? The fans? How many local fans rode Tanner when the team lost last season? How many fans knew who was captain when Tanner was out of the lineup? There's only one goat when a team loses—the manager.

Spudders Feared Around Circuit.

Saim says the Houston confab was one of the best natured meetings he ever attended. He also stated that for once the other clubs around the circuit really feared the Spudders. They didn't hesitate to declare themselves at the meeting. He saw Frank Haley on his way back and declares that the Panther third baseman is through for some time to come. He's around in an invalid chair now and Saim believes that he will be on crutches when the season opens. The flesh had to be scraped to the bone around his instep to get at the infected part.

High School vs. Grandfield.

The Red and Black basketball team will face one of the stiffest high school squads in this section of the country Saturday night when it journeys to Grandfield, Okla. The Oklahoma cagers always have whipped the majority of their opponents and have a team this year that is as good as those in years gone by.

LOCAL AND FOREIGN MARKETS

COTTON MARKET.

New York Cotton.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—There was renewed covering in the cotton market during today's early trading. After opening steady at unchanged prices to an advance of 3 points, the market worked off slightly, but offerings were light and prices firmed up owing to firmer late cables from Liverpool and Liverpool buying. March advanced from 17.74 to 17.90, or 12 points net higher. Trading was only moderately active, but there was considerable commission house buying on the rally and local buying for a further reaction from recent declines. Early cables from Liverpool were weak owing to further liquidation and Manchester advices emphasized unfavorable financial conditions among Lancashire manufacturers and merchants.

The demand from shorts was less active during the early afternoon and prices turned easier around 2 o'clock under scattered realizing of local selling. March sold off to 17.75, or about 20 points from the best and 2 or 3 points below last night's closing.

After selling up to 17.94 for March, or about 11 to 16 points net higher, the market became quiet with prices showing reactions of 8 or 9 points from the best around midday. Advances were attributed to a firmer technical position and covering for over the week-end.

Cotton closed barely steady.

New Orleans Cotton.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 20.—While the opening call in cotton today brought declines of 3 points on the near months, the volume of buying soon increased rapidly and prices rose sharply so that at the end of the first half hour of trading the list stood 15 to 19 points over the final prices of yesterday. March dropped back to 16.78 and then mounted to 17.00. Covering by shorts who were nervous over an upward movement in the stock market was mainly responsible for the rise.

The buying movement ceased rather abruptly and the upward trend was checked. Small selling appeared on the small mill takings and at noon prices were only six to 10 points up with March at 16.91. They pointed to mill takings of 246,000 to 256,000 bales against 277,000 this week last year and 362,000 this week two years ago.

More cotton was for sale in the afternoon session and floor comment was that buyers of the morning were letting go. In the trading up to 1:30 o'clock prices fell 4 to 14 points under the close of yesterday to 16.73 for March.

Cotton closed steady at a net decline of 3 to 7 points

GRAIN AND PRODUCE

CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—Cold weather and lack of snow gave new strength to the wheat market today. Sentiment continued also to be influenced by talk of a prospective shortage of domestic supplies and by assertions that Europe must buy large quantities of grain in the world's markets. Opening quotations, which varied from unchanged figures to half cent higher, with May $1.14¼ to $1.14¾ and July $1.02¾ to $1.02¾, were followed by slight gains all around.

Subsequently, snowfalls in parts of Kansas and Oklahoma led to price downturns. The close was easy, ¼ to ⅜c net lower, with May $1.14 to $1.14¼ and July $1.01¾ to $1.01¾.

Corn and oats were a trifle firmer, helped by wheat strength. Corn started unchanged with May 53¾ to 53⅜c and then hardened a little. Enlarged rural sales to arrive eased the market later. The close was steady, ⅛@⅜c to ¼@⅜c net lower, with May 53⅜ to 53⅝@⅞c.

Oats, after opening unchanged to a shade off, May 39¼ to 39¼c, held close to the initial range.

Provisions tended upward with hogs.

Why Libby's Milk travels for half fare

The milk you get in Libby cans at your grocer's is cows' milk—nothing else.

It comes from sleek, well-cared-for cows in the finest dairy sections of the country.

Libby adds nothing to it and takes out nothing but more than half the water. It is put into sterilized cans and shipped—at half fare because the weight of the evaporated water isn't there!

Because so much water has been removed, Libby's Milk is thick and rich like cream—and convenient, economical and safe.

Put Libby's on your grocer list today.

PRESIDENT OBREGON PLANS TO UNDERGO AN OPERATION

SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS, Jan. 20.—President Obregon of Mexico will come to the United States shortly to undergo an operation at the Mayo institute at Rochester, Minn., according to report received here today from Mexico City.

It is known that two surgeons from the Mayo institute went to Mexico City several weeks ago and after an examination recommended an operation. It was reported here that the operation would be on Obregon's right arm, which was wounded at the battle of Trinidad, necessitating amputation above the elbow. Due to rough field surgery, the arm never healed properly, it was said.

C. OF C. CAMPAIGN CONTINUES DESPITE SEVERE WEATHER

With a number of "salesmen" still at work, 1922 subscriptions for the chamber of commerce were well past the $25,000 mark Friday, and officials of that organization felt confident that a much higher figure would be attained before the lists are closed.

The unpleasant weather of Friday did not deter a number of workers and the spirit they displayed was a source of much gratification.

The election of officers for 1922 will probably be held next Tuesday, by which time it is hoped to be able to make a final report on the campaign.

LIONS CLUB TAKES STEPS TO IMPROVE NORTH SIDE PARK

Plans which, it is hoped, will ultimately result in a material improvement of civic conditions in North Wichita were set in motion at the Friday meeting of the Lions club following an appeal by Mrs. T. B. Smock and Mayor Walter Cline that the club take upon itself the responsibility of fostering a civic improvement movement in that district.

A committee of five Lions, consisting of H. J. Bruce, D. M. Jones, A. B. Maples, H. M. Larkum and P. B. Curd, with Mrs. Smock as honorary and advisory member, was appointed to investigate the North Wichita district and submit at the next meeting of the club proposals for steps to be taken in the aiding of the North Wichitans

Mrs. Smock, representing the Civic league of the city, stressed the need of a public park in the district and suggested that the Lions undertake the work of improving a four or five acre tract of land available as a park site. She also emphasized the splendid work already accomplished by the women of the North Side Civic league and declared that their willingness to work themselves in an improvement of North Wichita easily justified outside assistance.

Mayor Cline enlarged somewhat on the suject, lent it his hearty endorsement, detailed a few plans which the club, without great expense, could launch for the betterment of North Wichita.

Indications that the Lions would take North Wichita "under their paws" and promote its civic welfare to their best ability were extremely favorable at the close of the meeting.

Captain W. L. Bartley, an officer of the 19th infantry, spoke briefly on a few phases of army life at this time.

A report of the membership contest now being waged in the club, the election of L. R. Buchanon and P. B. Curd as Lions representatives to the chamber of commerce board, the naming of Ellis as a program committee of one for the next 30 days and the announcement that the Lions charter had finally arrived in the city constituted the business transacted.

ACID STOMACH

In five minutes "Pape's Diapepsin" ends

Indigestion	Gases	Heartburn
Sourness	Flatulence	Palpitation

"Pape's Diapepsin" "really does" put bad stomachs in order—"really does" overcome indigestion, dyspepsia, gas, heartburn and sourness in five minutes—that—just that—makes Pape's Diapepsia the largest selling stomach regulator in the world.

If what you eat ferments into stubborn lumps, you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food and acid; head is dizzy and aches, remember the moment "Pape's Diapepsin" comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. It's truly astonishing—almost marvelous—and the joy is its harmlessness. A large sixty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin is worth its weight in gold to men and women who can't get their stomachs regulated. It belongs in your home—should always be kept handy in case of a sick, sour, upset stomach during the day or at night. It's the most efficient antacid and stomach regulator in the world.—adv.
