Red Guards Delay British Near Berlin

BERLIN (AP) — A British military convoy held on the Berlin Autobahn by the Russians today moved westward, a British spokesman announced.

The British spokesman said the convoy continued its interrupted journey "on our terms."

That meant the British refused the Soviet demand for the British soldiers to dismount to be counted.

The convoy of nine vehicles, carrying 28 men, was stopped by the Soviets at Babelsberg, their checkpoint just outside Berlin where a U.S. convoy was blockaded last week.

It was kept waiting nine hours until the Russians gave up their insistence on men dismounting and lifted the barriers for it to proceed.

The convoy still had to go through a second Soviet checkpoint at Marienborn, at the border of West Germany on the western end of the superhighway.

It was still a question whether the Russians would repeat their delaying tactics at Marienborn.

The British said the Soviet blockade was deliberate and protested vigorously. The U.S. State Department had suggested the American convoy was held up by confusion at the local level.

The scene was the same for both incidents, the checkpoint at Babelsberg within sight of Berlin.

The halting of the convoy did not interfere with civilian traffic on the 110-mile autobahn between Berlin and West Germany.

It was the first time since the 1948-49 Berlin blockade that the Russians had blocked a British military convoy on the 110-mile lifeline between Communist-surrounded West Berlin and West Germany.

A British spokesman said a protest was lodged with the Soviet authorities at Potsdam. The three Western commandants in Berlin immediately went into an emergency meeting.

While the British convoy was held up, a U.S. Army convoy of four vehicles and eight men bound for West Germany was cleared without difficulty, a U.S. spokesman said.

Since the resolution on Saturday of last week's autobahn crisis, the U.S. Army has sent a number of convoys through East Germany without difficulty. However, these movements involved large numbers of men who dismounted voluntarily to be counted.

Civil Party Admits To Vote Defeat

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — A spokesman of ex-president Yun Po-sun's Civil Rule party virtually conceded election of military strongman Gen. Chung Hee Park as president today.

Yun himself went into hiding Tuesday after the balloting.

The party's spokesman, Kim Yung-sam, said in an informal statement: "We apologize to the people who fought to the end despite various bad laws and other obstacles in this election."

Meanwhile, a spokesman of Park's Democratic Republic party issued a brief statement saying: "The presidential election battle is over. We all should let bygones be bygones and be united in our work at building the Third Republic."

While neither party made any flat statement of concession or victory, unofficial counts gave Park nearly a 100,000-vote lead.

Tabulations by South Korea's government-run radio network gave Park 4,471,300 votes to 4,379,084 for Yun.

But votes for three minor anti-government candidates totaled 780,201, demonstrating that a majority of South Korea's voters oppose Park's military-dominated regime.

In earlier returns, the lead shifted back and forth between Park and Yun.

Yun, 67, candidate of the Civil Rule party and slashing critic of Park's military regime, went into hiding as the ballots were counted. He obviously feared Park's military backers would arrest him.

It seemed apparent that the final tabulation would not end the fierce struggle between the military leaders who have ruled Korea for 29 months and the civilian politicians they displaced in the May 16, 1961, coup.

The losing side was sure to think the winner had not received sufficient mandate to rule unchallenged.

The race was close from the time the vote counting began Tuesday. No one appeared more surprised than Yun's supporters.

Many had thought Park, 46, would easily win a four-year term and go on to form a government-oriented national assembly in elections Nov. 26.

Park went into the election against the advice of advisers who counseled a crackdown on the civilian opposition. He appeared to have hopes of a landslide victory endorsing his record as chief of the military junta.

The election showed that Park had lost much of the popular support he had when he seized power.

Many military voters—whose ranks he left in August when he retired as a general—deserted his cause.

Distressed NY Mirror Stops Press

NEW YORK (AP)—The financially distressed New York Mirror has ceased publication after 39 years and some of its assets have been sold to the New York Daily News.

"It takes everything I've got to keep from crying," said John Hearst Jr., grandson of the Mirror's founder, the late William Randolph Hearst, when the morning newspaper's demise was announced Tuesday night.

"If we could have economized," added Hearst, associate editor of the Mirror, "we would have done it. Most holes have a bottom, but this one did not seem to have any."

The Mirror's last edition rolled off the presses at 2:17 a.m. today.

The death knell had been rumored for months. The confirming announcement came at around 6 p.m.

Wilfred Alexander, president of the AFL-CIO American Newspaper Guild's New York local and shop stewart of the union's Mirror unit, read the announcement to 75 editorial employes in the city room. He criticized what he termed the "callous and cold-blooded way this was kept from you."

About 1,400 employes lost their jobs. The Mirror said it will distribute in excess of $3½ million in severance pay to them and set up an employment office to help them find new jobs.

Walter Winchell and at least a half-dozen other Mirror columnists will appear in the afternoon New York Journal-American, also owned by the Hearst Corp.

Bipartisan Support Is Sought

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the House Judiciary Committee gave full support today to administration efforts to cut some provisions from the sweeping civil rights bill.

Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., told the committee he would do all in his power to get bipartisan support for the milder proposal recommended by the administration in June.

A judicary subcommittee added several highly controversial provisions to the administration program, however, to produce the bill now before the committee.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy urged the committee Tuesday to restore the measure substantially to administration's recommendations, to increase its chances of passage.

Celler spoke as the committee prepared to question Kennedy further.

"The urgency for bipartisan legislation at this session is so strong that I intend to put aside my own feeling with respect to the desirability of provisions in addition to those recommended by the administration," Celler said.

Celler was chairman of the judiciary subcommittee that greatly expanded the original proposals.

He said he hoped the committee could produce a civil rights bill patterned on the original administration measure within two weeks.

This, the attorney general feels, was a strong, effective bill. It could, deftly handled, get the votes to make it a law by the end of the year.

Swollen with the subcommittee's innovations, it might scare away the most dedicated civil rights supporters, Kennedy said.

His views reportedly were bitterly received by a few liberal Democrats who thought they knew Robert Kennedy well enough to think he'd be delighted by an all-out civil rights package that would widen his authority in virtually every field of American business and public life.

But these powers, Kennedy let it be known, would be more than he or any man in the United States should want to possess. They could, he believed, lead eventually to a national police force.

Kennedy was due back before the committee today. Republicans suspicious of his devotion to bipartisanship and Southern opponents of any civil rights bill are expected to loose a barrage of questions at him.

It has been four months since the House committee got the bill and it still hasn't turned it loose. It must journey through the Rules Committee to the House floor, to a Senate committee, to the Senate floor, through conference and then through compromise before it has run its course.

While he is confident Congress will approve a strong bill—his description of the administration proposal—this year, the attorney general thinks that if it doesn't reach the Senate floor by Nov. 10 it is in trouble.

Stock Farmers Hit Hard By Continued Area Drought

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—The Agricultural Extension service said today that the current dry weather is hitting Texas livestock hard.

Cattle and sheep are wandering around on powder-dry pastures that are not even supporting a good weed crop. Ranges in the driest areas of the state are beginning to look like they did during the seven-year drouth of the 1950's, the Extension Service reported.

Stockmen are particularly worried because of the dry spell's lateness. Fall rains usually produce grass for winter. But this fall, moisture is short and feed supplies are scanty and high priced.

Emergency feeding measures can be taken, however, U. D. Thompson, animal husbandman with the extension service, says the first basic step to take is to get the animals into a pen or trap and feed them if the pasture is gone.

"Generally, it is more economical to feed high energy feeds, which are higher in cost, than low energy, lower cost feeds," Thompson said.

Only the strongest and most valuable stock should be kept under severe conditions. Calves and lambs need weaning as early as possible, and late calves should be sold to prevent cows nursing them during the predicted rough winter coming up. It is easier to winter dry stock than wet stock.

Heifers in calf take more care than cows and may be sold with older animals to avoid wintering. Steers can get off even lighter than dry cows, Thompson explained.

Other Thompson recommendations:

Stock should have easy access to water. Bog holes are good places to lose weak animals.

A phosphorus supplement (with salt), such as bonemeal, is helpful. Dicalcium phosphate or disodium phosphate are good boosters when added to stock water.

Stock in fair condition need to be fed only enough to maintain weight. Fleshy stock may be fed at a level on which they can lose weight without affecting production.

Thin animals need enough feed during pregnancy to offset birth-weight losses. This amounts to a gain above thin condition of about 150 pounds for cows and 18 pounds for ewes.

With a fair condition of flesh in the fall, flesh that can be held during early winter will save feed before spring or after birth of young.

The best feed should be saved for use just before and after birth of calves and lambs. Weak stock and young bred stock need the best quality feed and should be fed separately from older, stronger animals.

What about vitamin-A? Thompson says the nutrient is available in green feeds—which are probably too expensive. The only other answer is to supply synthetic vitamin-A by injection or mixing with the emergency feed.

The specialist recommends that a week's requirement of the synthetic material be fed at one time. He said the vitamin breaks down in a hurry when exposed to the elements.

Majority Approval For Weapons Ban

By FRED COLEMAN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — A resolution outlawing the orbiting of nuclear weapons in outer space was approved unanimously today by the General Assembly's main political committee.

The proposal — sponsored by the United States, the Soviet Union and 15 other countries—now goes to the 111-nation assembly itself where approval is expected Thursday.

While the U. N. action is not legally binding, it is regarded as a moral obligation since the United States and the Soviet Union drafted the plan and voted for it.

Actually it is in the form of an appeal to all countries to refrain from placing in orbit objects carrying nuclear weapons or any weapons of mass destruction, or from installing such weapons in outer space in any manner.

The resolution, first tangible Cold War breakthrough since the limited nuclear test-ban treaty, stems from an agreement announced Oct. 3 after talks here by Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko and British Foreign Secretary Lord Home.

All members of the 18-nation Geneva Disarmament Conference except France joined in sponsoring the proposal. France has boycotted the Geneva meetings.

The United States and the Soviet Union have conceded that the advantage of orbiting nuclear weapons in space is more psychological than military.

Introduction of the resolution highlighted the opening of the committee's disarmament debate Tuesday.

U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson told the committee his country hopes to include underground nuclear tests in a comprehensive treaty provided that adequate verification and on-site inspection is guaranteed. He challenged the Russians to spell out what scientific machinery they will accept to assure such verification.

India's Mrs. Vijaya Lakshmi Pandit, sister of Prime Minister Nehru, accused France and Red China of threatening the limited test ban treaty by not signing it. She asked the U.N. to bring moral pressure on all abstaining countries to sign the pact.

Jump Noted In Incomes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Personal income jumped by almost $1.5 billion in September to a record annual rate of $466.5 billion, the government reported today.

The Commerce Department's Office of Business Economics said the September figure was $21 billion, or 4.5 per cent, higher than for the same month last year.

Nearly all of the August-to-September increase was in wages and salaries. Part of it reflected increased payrolls under the new federal minimum wage law effective Sept. 3.

The bureau said that since February, when there was a slight dip, personal income has advanced by an average of $2 billion a month. The increase during the third quarter averaged $1.25 billion a month.

The third-quarter increase was just half the $2.5 billion average monthly gain reported during the second quarter.

Withdraws From Race

AUSTIN (AP)—The secretary of state's office confirmed today that Frank B. McGehee, Dallas, has withdrawn as a candidate for Congress from the 10th Texas District.

The withdrawal leaves Democrats J. J. (Jake) Pickle and Jack Ritter Jr. and Republican Jim Dobbs, all of Austin, in the special Nov. 9 election for a successor to U.S. Rep. Homer Thornberry, D-Tex. Thornberry has resigned effective Dec. 20 to accept a federal judgmentship at El Paso.

The secretary of state's office said McGehee's letter was received Monday asking that his name be withdrawn from the certified list for the ballot. He said he had notified all county clerks in the 10th district to be sure they would not include his name on the ballot.

Bomber Sets New Record

GREENHAM COMMON, England (AP)—A U.S. Air Force B58 jet bomber sped from Japan to England nonstop today in 8 hours and 35 minutes. It covered the 8,028 miles at an average speed of 938 miles an hour.

This was a record paring 9 hours and 7 minutes from the best previous time for a flight between Japan and England.

The bomber, carrying a crew of three, set down at an airfield at this Berkshire village.

The plane had to slow down five times to be refueled by aerial tankers.

Commander of the plane was Maj. Sidney J. Kubesch, 33, of El Campo, Tex.

Demos To Trim Attendance Of Next Nat'l Convention

By LARRY OSIUS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic National Convention, which like Topsy just sort of grew, may be trimmed to a more manageable size next year. And its collective voice may have less Southern drawl and Western twang.

The decisions will be made when the Democratic National Committee meets in November or early December to allocate the votes for the 1964 convention at Atlantic City.

A subcommittee headed by Jacob Arvey of Chicago, the national committeeman from Illinois, has been studying the allocation of votes since last May. No proposals have been announced, but sources close to the national committee say these could be among them when the committee meets:

A return to the bonus system. It would reward with larger representation those states — mostly east of the Mississippi—which voted for President Kennedy in 1960.

No bonuses, but a reduction in voting power of those states which lost representation in Congress because of population shifts in 1950 and 1960 but, in effect, never lost any of their convention votes.

A combination of the two that would allocate votes on an up-to-date population basis plus bonus votes for multiples of Democratic votes in 1960, regardless of whether Kennedy carried the state.

Also expected to come up is a hardy quadrennial — the number of persons at a Democratic convention.

Republicans limit their state delegations to a one man-one vote basis. But Democrats over the years have split things up into half votes. That way more delegates get to go to the convention, a form of reward for party faithful.

But it also can be confusing. In 1960, there were 3,042 delegates authorized to cast 1,521 votes at the Los Angeles convention. And that didn't include more than 1,400 persons present as alternates.

To the politician, however, the number of delegates isn't nearly so important as the number of votes allotted each state.

Some critics felt the 1960 convention was weighted in favor of many—but not all—Southern and far Western states.

Even though there could be some sharp infighting, National Chairman John M. Bailey thinks this is the year to take a good close look at the delegate allocation.

Next year, Bailey said in an interview, there is no doubt the Democrats will nominate Kennedy. So the time to overhaul the allocation system is now—when it's relatively quiet.

These Aren't Wolves In Sheep's Clothing

CASTLE CARROCK, England (AP) — Farmer William Wilson is putting his 3,000 sheep in sheep's clothing for the winter.

The sheep are being clad in special coats of jute sacking, made to Wilson's design at 70 cents each at an Edinburgh factory.

He whipped up such coats to protect the best sheep of his flock during last winter's severe weather and liked the results.

"They not only keep the sheep snug and warm," he said, "but they make the fleece thicker and softer."

TWO FEMS IN TIE FOR GRID CONTEST PRIZE

The girls won the prize in last week's Snyder Daily News Football Contest.

Finishing in a deadlock for first place with seven misses each were Margie R. Stephens, Box 894, and Judy Wheat, Box 835.

Incidentally, both called the turn on last week's big one — Texas over Oklahoma, but both missed SMU's upset of fourth-ranked Navy, and both missed Alabama's upset at the hands of Florida.

There was a three-way tie for second. Missing nine each were Norman Anderton, 2602 Thirty-fifth Street; Mrs. W. A. Mayfield, 131 Twentieth Place, and Scooter Harbour, 3742 Sunset. So, since there was a tie between more than two entries, the second place money will be carried over.

Another contest begins today, and the list of games may be found in sponsors' advertisements on the contest page of this issue of The Snyder Daily News.

White Segregationist Wins Albany Mayor's Election

ALBANY, Ga. (AP) — A 45-year-old white segregationist has won the Democratic nomination for mayor of this racially troubled Southwest Georgia city where a Negro sought the office for the first time.

Attorney James V. Davis received 7,220 votes Tuesday, well over a majority of those cast in a record turnout, making a run-off unnecessary. Nomination in the primary means election.

Slater King, a Negro integration leader, was second with 2,547 votes.

The second white man in the race, architect Edward V. Jones, was third with 1,879 votes. He also is a segregationist and opposed formation of any biracial committees.

The outcome indicated little, if any, change in race relations in this city where more than 1,200 arrests were made during intermittent demonstrations the past two years.

Davis said he thought that "what will be done for the colored people will have to be done within the framework of segregation."

King, acting president of the Antisegregation Albany Movement, called for creation of a biracial committee to discuss grievances. None has been established.

King said he hoped the campaign would help members of his race to think politically.

"I am really interested in freeing the minds of Negroes because many of them feel that no Negro should aspire for high office," he said.

King did very little active campaigning. He made only one television appearance. Davis and Jones concentrated on federal controls and taxes in appealing for votes.

The racial issue and clear sunshiny weather brought a turnout of more than 11,500 voters.

Albany's 58,000 population includes about 24,000 Negroes. There are an estimated 4,600 Negroes among the 16,436 registered voters.

Two years a Negro candidate for a City Commission seat made it to the runoff and then was defeated.

Wedding Bells For Woman Cosmonaut?

NEW YORK (AP) — Maj Yuri Gagarin and Valentina Tereshkova, first man and only woman to orbit the earth, arrived Tuesday night by plane from Mexico City for a one-day visit.

The first question put to the Russian cosmonauts was about reports that Miss Tereshkova was engaged to cosmonaut Pavel Popovich.

She blushed, giggled a bit and waggled her finger at the newsman.

"I'm not engaged," she said, "but when I get married you will definitely find out."

Need Only 8 Jurrors

PALO PINTO (AP)—Lawyers needed to qualify only eight more prospective jurors today for the murder trial of Cisco teen ager Nathan Curry.

Now 18, Curry is charged in the 1961 beating and stabbing of Mrs. Florence Hussey, 53, Cisco divorcee and church secretary.

Twenty-four prospective jurors had been qualified when court recessed late Tuesday. After 32 are seated, each side is allowed 10 challenges.

Dist. Judge W. J. Oxford of Stephenville said he expected testimony to start today.

Thirty-nine veniremen remained available for questioning.

Mrs. Hussey, clad in a night-gown, was found slain in her home June 29, 1961.

Curry, 15 at the time, contends he is innocent and has charged he was "brainwashed" into giving officers a statement. Defense lawyer John Watts of Odessa claims the statement was obtained ilegally.

The youth was sent to the state reformatory at Gatesville in 1961 after being declared a delinquent "by reason of committing burglary" at Mrs. Hussey's home the night she was killed.

He was released in January by an Odessa judge, who ruled he had been illegally confined.

Algerians Heed Mobilization Call

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH

ALGIERS (AP) — Thousands of Algerians streamed into army barracks today in answer to President Ahmed Ben Bella's general mobilization decree to meet the threat of war with Morocco.

The mobilization decree was issued Tuesday night after more fighting in the disputed outposts after two days of bloody skirmishes.

Ben Bella ordered all former soldiers — estimated to total 30,000 — to report for army service. At the same time efforts continued to negotiate a settlement of the dispute.

Those who answered the mobilization call included numerous young volunteers carried away by the officially whipped-up war fever. Many were clearly too young ever to have fought against the French.

Algerian sources said Ben Bell's call to arms was answered "with spontaneous enthusiasm." Several thousand men reported at the former French Orleans barracks in Algiers.

Despite the atmosphere of crisis, it seemed unlikely that the governments would allow the dispute to degenerate into war.

Mohammed Yazid, former Algerian information minister, and Slimane Hoffman, an aide of Defense Minister Col. Houari Boumedienne, flew back to Algiers Tuesday night after a day of talks in Marrakech with King Hassan II of Morocco and other Moroccan leaders.

The two emissaries immediately went into conference with Ben Bella. They took off again at dawn to resume their talks in Marrakech.

There was no official word on the negotiations, but informed sources said little real progress had been made.

Reports from the Sahara said fighting had subsided.

Air Merger Scrapped

NEW YORK (AP) — Trans World Airlines and Pan American World Airways today scrapped their proposal to merge the two carriers into a single $1.2-billion system with 80,000 miles of routes.

"The timetable for necessary approvals, including those of the federal government, has not progressed to the point where we can look forward to consummation of the merger within a reasonable time," heads of the lines said.

The merger agreement, reached Dec. 20, 1962, by directors of TWA and Pan Am, would have created the country's largest air transportation company, supplanting United Airlines as No. 1.

Termination of the deal was announced jointly by Juan Tripe, president of Pan Am, and Charles C. Tillinghast Jr., president of TWA.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a husband who tells his wife that he KNOWS he could win any woman in the world if he were given an introduction to her? This man is not rich. He is definitely nothing to look at. And unless he is in a very good mood, he is lousy company. So please tell me where he gets ideas like this.

HAD IT

DEAR HAD IT: I've heard of self-confidence, but this is ridiculous! But, in case your husband has a secret weapon, you'd better be careful to whom you introduce him.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: My mother keeps "lending" me out to the neighbors to baby-sit for nothing. Very often I have had to change my plans at the last minute because my mother tells me she promised someone in the neighborhood that I would sit for them. Other girls my age get paid for sitting for these same people, so now they are mad at me for sitting for nothing, because they look greedy when they take the money. My mother is the kindest soul in the world, Abby, but do you think it is fair that she should offer my services to the neighbors for nothing?

SWEET AND SOUR SIXTEEN

DEAR SIXTEEN: Bless your mother's heart. She means well, but she isn't being fair to you. She shouldn't promise your services without having first checked with you. And she shouldn't expect you to sit for nothing.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: Why do men have to wear DARNED socks? Do you know any woman these days who would wear a darned stocking? Men's socks don't cost any more than women's, so why, when a woman finds a wee hole in her husband's sock, does she try to "save" it? Let her throw it in the rag bag along with her own.

LOVING WIFE

DEAR LOVING: Just keep crusading for equal rights for men and you'll soon write a DEAR ABBY letter with a husband problem. Come to think of it, I haven't seen a darning egg since the depression.

UEST SPEAKER—Dr. R. A. Montgomery, director of curriculum and special rvices of Andrews Independent Schools was the guest speaker for the East ementary P-TA when they met Monday afternoon. 'Underachievement' Topic For P-TA Meet he East Elementary Parent-chers Association heard a t enlightening talk by Dr. ert Montgomery in their ting Monday afternoon. He se as his subject, "Pupils Underachieve in School". he speaker said in part. e underachieving child is cribed as having an achieve- t level, as measured by ndardized tests, of at least ear below his grade level. is problem of the under- ieving child is not just a l one, but a national one is a concern of homes as l as schools.

In order to cope with this blem, the school must have from the home. The school t identify the problem, clas- according to cause, and e suggestions as to its cure. t of these underachievers ome such, not because of sical reasons but almost al- s psychological reasons. It omes a psychological prob- that the public school can l with in 75 to 80 percent of the cases when the home cooperates

"There are several things that almost all underachievers have in common. They are: poor work habits, difficulty in co-operating with others, unability to reach the expectations of par-ents, and general discourage-ment at home or school.

"Four main reasons are set forth as the causes for under-achievement. It is to get atten-tion, to show his parents or his teacher he does not have to do it, for vengence if he has been deeply hurt, or because of dis-couragement and lo-s of con-fidence. The child is generally not aware of his purpose in underachievement, but once the purpose has been discovered the school and home together can accomplish much in correcting it".

Honey Packs Energy In Lunch Box

If you're a "lunch bag fixin'" wife or mother, you know the trials and tribulations of this de-manding occupation. Most days you tackle the problems of var-iety, nutrition, color, flavor, texture, keeping quality and personal preferences with ad-mirable cheerfulness. But there are days when you would love to give all your "lunchers" the comical - mashed potato sand-wich and be done with it.

To save your family this fate it is advantageous to have some spare ideas in mind and ready ingredients in the cupboard.

Honey can be one of these helpful, emergency products so nice to have around the house.

No matter how long you keep it, Honey can't spoil since bac-teria which cause diseases in human beings cannot grow in it. If your Honey should crystallize, you can easily restore it to its liquid state by placing the con-tainer of Honey in a bowl of warm water for a few minutes.

For a quick sandwich treat Honey may be used alone as a spread for cinnamon, raisin or date-nut bread. Mix equal parts of it and peanut butter and in seconds you have the delectable sandwich filling children love to devour.

Spread Honey between two slices of left-over baked ham and complete the sandwich with your favorite bread or bun. The Honey adds a pleasant fla-vor and a bit of moisture.

Blend a mixture of cream cheese, Honey and chopped dates, prunes, or dried apricots and use it in lunch box sand-wiches. You might also keep it in mind for entertaining at home. It's simple to prepare, yet festive when served on pretty rounds of brown bread.

A bit more effort but wonder-ful to have for sandwich lunches and snacks is Honey Cheese Whip. Roquefort and pimento cheeses contribute their share to its fine flavor.

HONEY CHEESE WHIP

½ pound cream cheese
¼ to ¼ pound Roquefort cheese
½ pound pimento cheese
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons Honey
½ teaspoon Worchestershire sauce
Dash of cayenne

Melt cheese in upper part of double boiler, stirring constant-ly. Add butter, Honey, Worces-tershire sauce and cayenne. beat until fluffy. Add salt if desired. Thin, if necessary, with cooked salad dressing or mayonnaise. To serve, set bowl of this cheese whip in center of large round plate with crisp potato chips, crackers or icebox rye bordering bowl.

Remember convenient, delic-ious Honey also provides your children and husband with a source of energy so important in a noon meal and essential vitamins and minerals.

The term "equinox" comes from the Latin words for "equal night."

Zimmerman Speaks To Central P-TA

Central Parents Teachers As-sociation enjoyed a most infor-mative discussion by Mr. Bill Zimmerman, Snyder Probation Officer, at the October meeting Monday.

Mr. Zimmerman has worked closely with the many facets of juvenile delinquents and strongly feels a lack of proper guidance, useful activities, and discipline in children today. These things cannot and should not be dependant upon the schools or the church but must come directly from the home.

The members then selected Mrs. June Bellamy, and Mrs. Martha Lowe to be Central Ele-mentary representatives in San Antonio on November 20, Mrs. Bellamy is the present pres-dent of P-TA and Mrs. Lowe is a third grade teacher at Cen-tral.

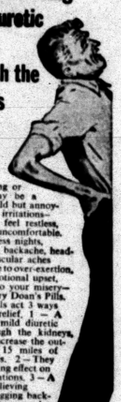

Mrs. Phy and Mrs. Lowe tied for the trophy for room count in the lower grades and Mrs. Miller won the cup for the older grades.

Old Refueling Stops Even More Lonely During Jet Age

By INEZ ROBB

Once upon a time, and it seems like years ago, the traveler who flew back and forth across the Atlantic with any degree of regularity was thoroughly at home at Gander, Newfoundland; Stephenville, Nova Scotia and Goose Bay, Labrador.

These were the lonely bases, the Northern airfields on which the old propeller-driven planes, flying the Great Circle route across the Atlantic, set down to refuel on both the eastward and westward journeys.

Those refueling bases were seared into the traveler's very soul, for the simple reason that he hated them with a passion worthy of a better cause. They were bleak, windswept, solitary and usually consisted of Quonset huts or other barracks architecture.

To have to spend a night at Gander in the old days, if the weather across the Atlantic was terrible or there was some mechanical difficulty with the plane was comparable to a sentence to Siberia. At least that's the way the passengers carried on.

Poor Gander! Since most of the old props stopped there rather than at Stephenville or Goose Bay, it shared a reputation with the Black Hole of Calcutta. But, then, Gander pulled herself together and built a beautiful air terminal, with charming and comfortable facilities for passengers. It was completed the very year the jets began to span the Atlantic in one single hop!

In the ensuing four years Gander has ceased even to be a legend. Goose Bay and Stephenville have faded from travel memory, too. I never gave them a thought two days ago when I took off from Copenhagen for New York in one of Scandinavian Airlines System's DC-8s. It was to be only an 8½-hour flight compared to 15 hours in the prop age.

But, even as in the prop days, SAS still nails the passenger's acquiescent feet to the plane floor and stuffs him like a Strasbourg Goose, with delicious food from take-off to touchdown. Passengers were happily destroying slabs of roast beef when the pilot came on the intercom to announce that we had been battling a 150-mile-an-hour headwind for three hours and would stop at Goose Bay to replenish the fuel consumed in the duel with the wind.

Toward Goose Bay, as the sun set, we flew over the fascinating icecap that is Greenland, a white world punctuated only by fjords of granite peaks swept bare by the wind. It is one of the most beautiful and awesome flights in the world.

By the time the plane settled down on the Goose Bay runway, it was dark. The DC-8 door was opened by a mechanic who seemed overjoyed to see all 105 of us. The truth is, he was. Planes don't come into Goose Bay nowadays and it gets kind of lonely.

Even the light over the main door of the old barracks waiting room was dark and he rushed ahead to turn it on. (And no health officer to scrutinize us and our vaccination cards as in the old days, either.)

Well, sir, it was a new world in the Far North. The passenger lounge had been halved. The dining room had vanished. There was not even a coffee counter to still passenger clamor for a hot drink, despite all that food on the plane. And certainly there was no bar.

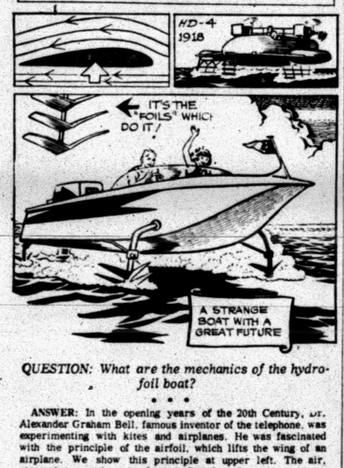

The only person in the old passenger terminal was a discouraged - looking young man behind the six-foot counter of a small souvenir shop. His goods looked dusty and shopworn. He quickly sold out his small stock of chocolate bars and Life Savers. A few souls brought Goose Bay pennants of psuedo - felt at 50 cents each.

Goose Bay was never Times Square. But in the old days, when a plane came in to refuel, it was at least lively. Now, it seemed sad and dingier than ever.

When the plane was refueled there was a rush to climb aboard. And some wit muttered, "It may be all right to live in Goose Bay, but I wouldn't visit there if you gave me the place."

Junior Editors Quiz on HYDROFOILS

QUESTION: What are the mechanics of the hydrofoil boat?

* * *

ANSWER: In the opening years of the 20th Century, Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, famous inventor of the telephone, was experimenting with kites and airplanes. He was fascinated with the principle of the airfoil, which lifts the wing of an airplane. We show this principle at upper left. The air, streaming over the curved top surface, has a longer way to go, has to speed up and its pressure on the wing below grows less. But the slower air at bottom, giving more pressure, lifts the wing. Dr. Bell reasoned that the same principle would work in water if an airfoil shape was moving fast. He attached stilts equipped with a number of airfoil-shaped strips to boats. They worked so well that the body of the boat was lifted up in the air and whizzed along on the foils.

In 1919, Dr. Bell built a large hydrofoil, as these boats became called, which made a world speedboat record of 70.86 miles an hour. In spite of this success, the hydrofoil boat was slow to develop; it is only now that its possibilities are being appreciated. The big picture is of a regular outboard motor boat to which hydrofoils have been attached. The foils give great speed and an amazingly smooth ride.

* * *

FOR YOU TO DO: A large ocean going hydrofoil, 117 feet long, has recently been built. Watch your newspaper for developments about these boats which may be whizzing passengers over waterways before long.

(Okima Moore of Baltimore, Md., wins today's grand prize of a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, and you may win a set too.) 10-16

The Taming Of Orval

By WICK TEMPLE
(Substituting for Hal Boyle)

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) —You get a frantic phone call at the office from your extra frantic wife, who says, "Well, they just got Orval."

In addition to anger and concern you are filled with curiosity. The methods "they" might use for getting Orval are important because you have never been able to get him yourself.

"How did they get him," I asked.

"They shot him. He has three bullet holes in his side."

You are enraged. You call the sheriff and get him on the way to extract three bullets from the side of a brown and tan, sway-backed, cross-eyed, lop-eared, bow-legged dog who should have happened to someone else.

It turned out Orval hadn't been shot. The vet said he had been in an argument with another dog. Seventeen stitches put him back together and ran his repair bill past $50.

Two weeks earlier he had caught a Volkswagen. After stitching, he appeared to have been cut in half and put back together, and he still looks that way.

Orval spent his first six months as a free agent in Gay Woods. Finally he made his way to the city and was about to be impounded when we gave him refuge. He made a fine pet. He was gentle and playful. But he never lost the wildness of his youth.

A backyard fence (no small purchase) wouldn't hold him. He dug under until we had to reinforce the base of the fence with logs.

Then he learned how to paw open the back screen door, dash through the house, throw a body block on the front screen door, and roll clear. Once he was out, he paid no attention to calls and he was impossible to catch.

I consulted the vet. He decided Orval had emotional problems, brought on by lack of proper upbringing. He suggested various kindnesses and painstaking training.

It didn't work. The neighbors were giving not-so-tactful suggestions about what should be done with him.

Then one day as we were ready to leave on a trip, Orval pulled his through-the-house and away trick.

I was angry. I went after him. Rage gave me superhuman speed. The chase led three times around the house, across the road and through a patch of thick woods. Finally I made a flying dive and nailed him, and when he looked meekly up at me, I knew Orval was tamed.

Looney Just Had To Go, Bud Declares

By NORMAN ROWLAND

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Oklahoma football Coach Bud Wilkinson, obviously upset over charges that he was looking for a scapegoat when he dismissed halfback Joe Don Looney, said "it was just something that had to be done."

Looney said if he had had a good day against Texas, and if Oklahoma had won, "everything would have been okay." And his father, Don Looney of Fort Worth, Tex., a former star at Texas Christian said, "somebody's got to be the fall guy for losing to Texas. I guess Joe Don is it."

Wilkinson disagreed Tuesday.

"I don't think Joe Don lost the Texas game for us," Wilkinson said. "No individual is going to lose a game by himself."

Wilkinson said the decision to oust Looney, who led the nation in punting last season and was fifth in yards gained rushing, resulted from an accumulation of incidents.

But the final decision, he said, came when several team leaders came to his office Monday morning.

"They told me they thought the presence of Looney on the squad was hurting the team," Wilkinson said.

"Until then, I had no intention of kicking Joe Don off the team," Wilkinson said. "But I had an understanding with the team leaders that if Joe Don's attitude became infectious and began hurting the team, he would have to go."

Wilkinson said he had been concerned with Looney's attitude toward practice ever since the 224-pound speedster transferred to Oklahoma from Cameron Junior College at Lawton, Okla.

"I tried to talk him into leaving the team after last season," Wilkinson said. "I told him I didn't think he would be able to make it because of his attitude.

"My biggest regret is that I allowed him to come back to the team this year. But he wanted to come back and I let him. This way, it's harder on Joe Don.

"I'm really sorry for the boy but I had no choice.

"Team morale had ceased to exist. It's awful easy for us to look like villains, but we protected this guy for more than a year and we can't continue to protect one boy at the expense of 55 others."

Colts Down Bears, 24-6

The league - leading Colts launched the second half of Boys Club Pee Wee Football League play Tuesday with a 24-6 victory over the Bears.

The Colts scored twice in the first quarter, with Cliff Voss going 58 yards for a touchdown in the first series of plays and Billy Bowden going over from 8 yards out on another drive. Bruce Bell made the two extra points after the first score, and Voss got the two after Bowden's touchdown.

The Bears scored late in the second quarter on a 40-yard touchdown scamper by Stewart Sims. They were unable to make the two points.

In the fourth quarter, Voss scored again for the Colts from 2 yards out and Bowden added the extra points.

Voss and Bowden were top ground gainers for the Colts. Their top blockers were Gary Harless, David Elledge, Bruce Allmond and Bill Wilson, while top tacklers were Bowden, Gary Gallman and John Ellis.

Sims and Darrell Ross led the Bear ground gainers, while top blockers were Bobby Gardner, Gary Smith, Laddie McMillan and Dennis Williamson. Leading the Bear tacklers were Ricky Freeman, Darrell Ross, Bill Branson, Bobby Weaver and Mike Blythe.

The Frogs and the Hotshots will meet in another second-round game at 4:30 p.m. Thursday.

Writer Smells Upset In Those Ozark Hills

HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—A normal football season usually is made up of an equal number of hills and valleys. The Texas University team was at the top of the hill last week when it defeated Oklahoma and took over the honor of being rated the nation's No. 1 college team.

Arkansas was down in the valley, dropping its second of the season. The defeat this time was by Baylor and the two setbacks were by a total of five points.

This Saturday Arkansas gets revenge.

That's this week's blue-plate special. Last week's menu almost was devoid of attractions with 34 correct picks and 15 losers for .694. That dropped the season's totals to 143-57 for .715.

Other selections for the coming weekend:

Wisconsin over Iowa: Hal Brandt of the Badgers may not outpitch Fred Riddle of Iowa, but the Wisconsin star will get more help from his teammates.

Pittsburgh over West Virginia: The West Virginians too big for their own good.

Mississippi over Tulane: Tulane has been shut out in three of four games this season while Mississippi's potent defense has held three opponents to only 13 points.

Oklahoma over Kansas: The disorganized Sooners pull themselves together.

Georgia Tech over Auburn: Billy Lothridge of the Engineers can run, pass and kick.

Alabama over Tennessee: Both teams were disappointed last weekend but Alabama will recover more quickly.

Navy over Virginia Military: This game features the Oyster Bowl at Norfolk and Roger Staubach is the prize pearl of the Middies.

Northwestern over Miami of Ohio: Tommy Myers finds the range.

Air Force over Maryland: Terry Isaacson is the difference in an aerial battle.

Duke over Clemson: Duke has found a passer, Scotty Glacken.

Syracuse over Penn State: They'll need a mile of bandages after this brufser. A hesitant nod to the home team with its power backfield.

Skipping over the others in a hurry:

FRIDAY

Miami over Georgia.

SATURDAY

EAST: Army over Wake Forest, Brown over Pennsylvania, Buffalo over Boston University, Cornell over Yale, Dartmouth over Holy Cross, Harvard over Columbia, Princeton over Colgate, Rutgers over Lehigh.

MIDWEST: Cincinnati over Detroit, Iowa State over Colorado, Nebraska over Kansas State, Wichita over Louisville, Michigan State over Indiana, Purdue over Michigan, Notre Dame over UCLA, Delaware over Ohio University, Missouri over Oklahoma State.

SOUTH: The Citadel over Arkansas State, Furman over Mississippi College, Louisiana State over Kentucky, Mississippi State over Houston, North Carolina State over North Carolina, Davidson over Richmond, Florida State over Southern Mississippi, Florida over Vanderbilt, Villanova over George Washington, Virginia Tech over William & Mary, South Carolina over Virginia.

SOUTHWEST: Tulsa over North Texas State, Southern Methodist over Rice, Texas Christian over Texas A&M.

FAR WEST: California over San Jose, Idaho over Pacific, Utah State over Montana, New Mexico over New Mexico State, Oregon State over Washington State, Utah over Colorado State, Washington over Stanford, Wyoming over Brigham Young.

Detroit Has Top Defense

NEW YORK (AP) — Detroit leads the National Football League in total defense and pass defense but the Green Bay Packers are tops in one most important statistic—most opponent fumbles recovered.

The Packers, winners of four in a row since dropping the opener to the Bears, have recovered 12 of 13 fumbles by the opposition.

DISTRICT SCORING

Brown, Kincaid Among Leaders

Leslie Brown of Snyder is the leading scorer in District 3-AAA at the mid-way point in the 1963 season. Avants of Lake View is second and Snyder's Tom Kincaid is third.

Brown, who was in a three-way tie last week with Kincaid and Brownfield's Davis, tallied 16 points against Stamford to take the lead. Avants scored 12 in the Lake View - Hamilton game, and Kincaid made six against the Bulldogs. Davis was held scoreless in the Brownfield-Levelland contest.

Three of the top ten scorers in the district are from Snyder — Brown, Kincaid, and Billy Stewart. One other Tiger, Danny Aycock, is tied for eleventh place.

Brownfield, Lake View and Sweetwater have two boys each in the top ten scorers, and Lamesa one. Colorado City is not represented.

Five of the six teams in District 3 - AAA have completed their non-district schedule and are taking this week off while getting ready for district warfare next week. Sweetwater is the only team seeing action Friday as it hosts Denver City.

The district members have now won 10, lost 18 and tied one. Two of the teams, Brownfield and Snyder, are batting better than 50 per cent with identical 3-2 records. Lamesa and Colorado City have managed to win two each while coming in on the short end in three games. Neither Lake View nor Sweetwater has won a game, although Lake View does have one tie on its record.

Last week was about the best so far for District 3-AAA. Its members won three, lost one, and tied one. Sweetwater was open.

The major victory in the week's activity was Snyder's win over Stamford. The Bulldogs were rated the second team in the state in class 2A and were undefeated. Lamesa scored all of its points in the second half in beating Hereford 27-6. In a Saturday night game, Colorado City scored a safety to edge out Anson 2-0.

Brownfield, one of the top teams in the district, suffered the only defeat, bowing to Levelland 7-14. The Lake View Chiefs were tied by Hamilton 28-28.

Two local teams, Travis 7th and 9th, will be in Big Spring to play Goliad teams. Travis 9th is four for four and Travis 7th is three for three in the victory column this year. The 7th grade game is set for 6:30 p.m. and the 9th grade game for 7:30.

Lamar 9th grade team takes a rest this week.

Appleton Named Lineman Of Week

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Texas tackle Scott Appleton, selected by Longhorn Coach Darrell Royal as the outstanding All-America candidate on the nation's top-ranked football team, was named Lineman of the Week today by The Associated Press.

The 21-year-old senior and team co-captain looked every inch an All-America last Saturday as undefeated Texas rolled to its fourth straight triumph with a devastating 28-7 victory over Oklahoma.

Playing both ways, Appleton made or assisted on 16 tackles. He led the first scoring drive at offensive tackle and set up the third touchdown by knocking Oklahoma quarterback Bobby Page loose from the ball, recovering it on the Sooners' 18-yard line.

The 235-pound, 6-foot-3 native of Brady, Tex., also recovered a fumble that stopped an Oklahoma drive and nailed quarterback John Hammond for a seven-yard loss on third down to end another Oklahoma drive.

Virginia center Turnley Todd, Minnesota tackle Carl Eller and Illinois linebacker Dick Butkus also received high praise in the poll of sports writers and broadcasters.

Todd made seven unassisted tackles in the first half in Virginia's 6-0 triumph over VMI and made a second half interception that stopped a VMI threat at Virginia's 30.

Butkus made or assisted on 23 tackles in a 20-20 tie with Ohio State. He set up Illinois' first touchdown with a pass interception.

Eller twice threw Northwestern quarterback Tommy Myers for long losses and recovered a Myers' fumble to blunt a Northwestern bid in the third quarter.

Other linemen nominated:

Ends — Ted Davis, Georgia Tech; James Rust, Baylor.

Tackles—Bill Pfeiffer, Notre Dame.

Guards—Rick Redman, Washington; C. C. Willis, Texas Tech; John Hughes, SMU.

Centers — Ronnie Caveness, Arkansas.

Roger Sets Record Pace

NEW YORK (AP)—Jolly Roger Staubach, Navy's standout junior quarterback, is rambling along at a record pace in two major statistical categories, according to official figures released today by the NCAA Service Bureau.

The 190-pounder picked up 235 yards rushing and passing in the loss to Southern Methodist last week and now has a total offense mark of 1,024 for four games for an average of 261 a game.

And his 55 completions in 77 attempts puts him at the top of the passers. His completions percentage of .714 is the best ever after four games.

Staubach's total offense lead in 264 yards over runner-up Tommy Myers of Northwestern, but his passing mark is less secure.

Myers leads in passing yardage with 815. Staubach has 742.

Jimmy Sidle of Auburn moved into the rushing lead with 434 yards on 64 carries.

Lotheridge Labeled As 'Do-It-All'

By MIKE BARRON
Associated Press Sports Writer

ATLANTA (AP)—"I don't consider myself doing all the work. It was a great team effort."

So said Billy Lothridge, Georgia Tech quarterback who is known as "Mr. Do-It-All" at Georgia Tech because he is one of the few triple-threats in these days of football specialists.

Lothridge was discussing his performance in Tech's 23-7 victory over Tennessee last Saturday, for which he was named Associated Press Back of the Week for the second time in three weeks.

"It's a great honor but I didn't do it all," said the 21-year-old senior. "I had plenty of help."

Against Tennessee Lothridge scored one touchdown, passed 54 yards for another, kicked two extra points and a field goal and averaged 41 yards punting.

Tigers Unwilling To Settle For Anything Short Of Win

"Our boys went over there to win and they were not willing to settle for anything less than a victory."

That sums up the reaction of Snyder coaches to the performance of the Tigers in last Friday night's 28-21 victory over Stamford.

Coaches Horrace Bostick, V. V. Shearburn and Jim Stehley all had some comments on the game at last night's meeting of the Snyder Quarterback Club.

All agreed that Stamford appeared to be a more powerful team than the Bulldogs brought to Snyder last year. But, as matters developed, the Tigers showed considerably more strength themselves than they were able to confront Stamford with here a year ago.

Tiger coaches said they would have defensed the Bulldogs differently this year had they known that Stamford would run "outside" as much as they did.

The runs by Bulldog Quarterback Stephen Haterius were somewhat unexpected, since Stamford has been noted for its power thrusts off tackle.

(Snyder coaches didn't mention it, but Haterius was missing from Tiger scouting reports on the Bulldogs this year for the simple reason that he did not play in either of the two games that Snyder scouts saw earlier in the season. In fact, Haterius had seen relatively little action this year — until last Friday night when he was easily the top back Coach Larry Wartes was able to put on the field.)

"We knew Stamford could hurt us off tackle," said Bostick. "So, we had impressed this on our ends so much that they played in too tight most of the night, allowing Haterius to get outside too easily. Of course they didn't hurt us off tackle where they have been getting most of their yardage."

The two Snyder quarterbacks came in for some praise. Jimmy Wilson, who operated most of the time on offense, had probably his best game. Jim Marcum went in to toss a pass for the first touchdown of the game and then played a stellar game on defense, including two crucial pass interceptions.

Three other backs, Leslie Brown, Tom Kincaid and Danny Aycock were cited, not only for ball-carrying ability but for effective blocking and top defensive work.

End Billy Stewart continues his surge as a prime pass receiver and got in some timely defensive licks of his own. Center John Finke's offensive blocking showed vast improvement, as coaches pointed out in the game films.

It was a good week for the Tigers, but not one that they will dwell upon, since Lamesa comes here a week from Friday to launch conference play.

Houk Named Top Pilot

NEW YORK (AP) — Ralph Houk, who guided the New York Yankees to the American League pennant in 1963 despite injuries to star outfielders Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris, was an overwhelming choice as the American League Manager of the Year today.

In the balloting by 71 baseball writers in the annual Associated Press poll, Houk received 58 votes. Al Lopez, pilot of the second-place Chicago White Sox, was the runner-up with 6 votes.

The voting was based on the regular season performances.

Sam Mele of the third-place Minnesota Twins and Chuck Dressen, who took over as Detroit Tigers' manager on June 18 and led them into a fifth-place tie with Cleveland, each collected two votes.

Bill Rigney of the Los Angeles Angels, the AL manager-of-the-Year in 1962; Johnny Pesky of Boston and Gil Hodges of Washington had one each.

NEWS for truck owners
who need a new one now

Things Chevrolet has developed since the last time you bought to give you more for your money:

Double-wall construction. This feature of Chevrolet cabs and the Fleetside pickup body has two advantages. Insulation and sound-deadening material is sandwiched between the two layers of steel in the cab to give you more comfort; in the body, the lower inner wall acts as a buffer against load damage, preserving the outer appearance of the truck.

Suspension to fit the truck. Conventional half- and three-quarter-ton models have independent front suspension with variable rate coils in the rear. Variable rate coils do not "bottom out" as readily.

Mediums and heavies have I-beam suspension with variable-rate leaf springs. It automatically stiffens as the load increases—and vice versa. It means a smoother, flatter ride regardless of load, a better handling truck.

The right engine. Chevrolet never has been in better position to give you the type and size you need for maximum efficiency. Today there are many different capacities of gasoline and diesel Chevrolet truck engines—fours, sixes, V8's.

Stronger frames. Every conventional 1964 Chevrolet truck has a ladder-type frame. This type is more resilient, better able to give with the load and terrain. Its simple design also makes it easier to mount special bodies on the truck. Its riveted side rails are stronger.

Greater model selection. This time you're going to find it a simple matter to pick the exact type of Chevrolet truck for the kind of work you do. In delivery trucks, for instance, in addition to regular panels and pickups, we have eleven different sizes of ready-made walk-in vans, some with full-width rear doors.

Quality and value. Chevrolets today are a lot more truck than your money bought the last time, and yet the price tag is just about the same as 5 or 6 years ago. Call your Chevrolet dealer for information or for a demonstration.

Volunteer Firefighters Hardy Group

LAKS GEORGE, N.Y. (AP)—They come from New York City, Albany, Syracuse, from Fort Edward, Clemons, Hadley and nearby farms—the hundreds of men and boys who, off and on, for more than a week have battled the flames eating into New York's vast and valuable forestlands.

These volunteers are engaged in a near-ceaseless effort to contain the fires cropping up in tinder-dry woods.

Today about 75 fires were reported burning in woodlands across the state. Showers were forecast for some areas but the Weather Bureau held out little prospect of a good soaking rain.

Some of the firefighters, including six teen-aged boys who had to hike for about 30 miles with scarcely a ride, slept on bare ground without blankets. When they could stand it no longer in the 30-degree temperature in the Adirondacks, they walked a mile to a house, where they were taken in.

Who comes to fight fires and why?

A professor in Albany telephoned the Conservation Department office near here to ask directions to fire-fighting headquarters at the foot of Spruce Mountain, 25 miles to the northeast.

A Conservation Department supervisor, Robert E. Richards, asked why he wanted to come. The professor replied that he loved the Adirondacks.

Some come for the excitement others to save property. It's hard work and there is plenty of confusion.

One group, armed to fight a fire, missed it and walked right by to the next hamlet.

The volunteers are paid 55 cents an hour. They generally work a 12-hour shift. Some leave after one stint. Others want to stay. Since the state has no shelter for them, they must go elsewhere or sleep on the ground. Most have transportation of their own.

Tale Of Hurricane Flora's Turbulent Tropical Birth

EDITOR'S NOTE—A tropical disturbance is formed and starts spinning westward over the Atlantic on Sept. 16, 1963, 3,000 miles southeast of Florida. It develops into Hurricane Flora, the most devastating storm recorded in the Caribbean area. The following traces its birth, growth and effects.

By BEN FUNK
Associated Press Staff Writer

The day: Thursday, Sept. 26, 1963. The exact time: Unknown. The place: The tropical Atlantic, 3,000 miles southeast of the Florida coast.

The day is hot, sultry, oppressive. The wind blows in fitful gusts. The heaving sea is gray and sluggish as molten lead.

A whiff of warm, damp air rises from the sea, like smoke drifting up a chimney. Other air takes its place and is caught in the updraft. Very, very slowly, an air column grows.

Rising, the warm air expands and cools. The water in it condenses and falls. Heat is released, adding energy to the thing that has formed.

Affected by the spinning of the earth, the air begins to revolve around a hollow center.

Erratically, the darkening column begins to drift westward with the trade winds.

Orbiting over the South Atlantic on Sept. 25, the Tiros 7 weather satellite photographed a poorly organized circular motion in a cloud mass.

Forecasters mark this down as an "area of suspicion" and plan to keep an eye on it.

FRIDAY, SEPT. 27

1:30 p.m. Tiros sends another picture of the same cloud mass. It has moved 400 miles westward.

For two days, there are no further reports. There is little ship traffic in that area.

SUNDAY, Sept. 29

6 p.m. The captain of a ship 350 miles east of Trinidad reports he is encountering light squalls and rising seas. His barometer is falling.

A hurricane hunter plane is readied at Roosevelt Roads, Puerto Rico, for a flight the next morning.

MONDAY, SEPT. 30

10 a.m. The hurricane hunter thrusts his plane through the "wall of the eye" of a small but tightly wound and "very dangerous" hurricane. It is moving fast toward the island of Tobago.

Tobago has two hours to prepare. The eye of the hurricane reaches the coast at noon.

Houses collapse under the 100-mile-an-hour winds. Torrential rain triggers floods. Towering tides bury the beaches. Seventeen islanders die.

The hurricane is very small. Highest winds are to the north of the eye. Trinidad, 30 miles south, escapes serious damage.

TUESDAY, OCT. 1

In Haiti, the Negro nation on the island of Hispaniola, the sound of the sea is subtly changing. From far out comes a single long, low swell. It hits the shore of the Tiburon Peninsula with an unexpected boom. Slowly, another comes, and another.

Flora, still far away, is growing more violent.

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 2

1 p.m. The waves are breaking high over the coast of Hispaniola. The weather remains calm. Wisps of cirrus clouds spread a pale, milky haze over the sky.

As the day goes on, the veil thickens. The sunset is spectacular, red and orange.

Midnight: A swirling breeze intrudes on the stillness and rustles the palm fronds in Haiti. The air is charged with electricity. Breathing seems difficult.

THURSDAY, OCT. 3

8 a.m. The wind gusts at 50 miles an hour. The sea is wild. A hard burst of rain comes and goes, to be followed by another. Huge swells bombard the coast and hurl foam far up the coral bluffs. From far out comes the thunder of drumming rain.

Natives cringe. Towns and villages built of mud, straw and tin offer no place to hide.

1 p.m. Two hurricane hunters criss-cross the storm at 10,000 feet. Sustained winds have reached 140 miles an hour, gusts 160.

2 p.m. Hurricane winds reach the south coast of the Tiburon Peninsula.

8 p.m. The wall of the eye, a solid barrier of water and wind whirling savagely in toward the calm center of the hurricane, crosses the coast between Aquin and Cotes de Fer.

Funneling down the canyons between mountain ranges, gusts reach 200 miles an hour.

Solid sheets of rain turn rivers and streams into torrents. Crashing down the mountainsides, they push the crops, even the soil, into the sea.

FRIDAY, OCT. 4

1 p.m. Flora slams into Cuba's Oriente Province. Now it is the biggest hurricane in history. It torments the seas for a thousand miles, from the Bahamas to Puerto Rico. More than 200 miles to the south, its rains flood Jamaica. Nine persons drown.

Floridians start to worry. Nassau boards up.

SATURDAY, OCT. 5

A gigantic high pressure system to the north stops Flora over Cuba.

11 a.m. Flora wanders aimlessly westward, is blocked again by high pressure over the Gulf States.

SUNDAY, OCT. 6

The hurricane turns southwest back into the Caribbean, lashing Camaguey and Oriente provinces.

MONDAY, OCT. 7

The storm stalls between the cities of Camaguey and Santiago de Cuba. Never has a single area taken such a sustained beating from a hurricane.

TUESDAY, OCT. 8

After four days of fantastic rain, floods have risen to treetop level in Eastern Cuba. Some areas never touched by floodwaters become inland seas.

Villages and towns are destroyed. Crops are ruined, cattle killed. Highways and railways are washed out. Mines are inundated. Factories collapse.

1 p.m. At last, the storm moves northeast off the northeast Cuban coast.

It lashes the lower Bahama Islands with 80-mile winds, then builds back up to 115 miles an hour.

Flora is racing toward her death over the cold waters of the North Atlantic.

Now relief workers can pick their way through the mud and debris. Gradually, the awful tale unfolds:

In Haiti: More than 5,000 dead. No really accurate count is possible. Many bodies are in the sea or under the mud.

In Cuba: More than 1,000 dead. Fidel Castro's Communist regime has suffered an economic disaster.

Flora takes her place in history — the most deadly storm ever to howl out of the tropical Atlantic. The old death record of 6,000, set by the Galveston hurricane of 1900, has been exceeded.

Publications Of SHS Win High Honors

Finishing second in the annual judging was Andrews, while Lamesa was third. The winning Tiger's Lair was edited by Charlotte Stewart and Judy Richardson.

The Tiger's Tale, SHS newspaper was judged second in Class AAA behind Andrews. Dumas was third.

Janet Head was editor of the Tiger's Tale of last year, which was entered in the contest.

Injured Bombing Victim Is Resigned To Darkness

By JIM PURKS

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)— Four weeks ago today Sarah Jean Collins, 12, was eagerly awaiting the start of school. Now she lies in darkness at a hospital.

Sarah Jean was injured in the blast that rocked the Sixteenth Street Baptist Church Sept. 15.

Four Negro girls were killed, including her sister, Addie Mae, 14. Sarah Jean's eyes were cut by flying glass.

Sarah Jean's daily existence now is through sounds. She can't do what she likes the most—to read.

Her right eye is covered by a patch; her left eye is uncovered, but swollen and she cannot see through it. Doctors say she will probably regain useful vision.

Nurses say Sarah Jean has moments of deep despondency, and at other times peps up. Never will she volunteer to talk about the bombing.

"Sometimes my eyes hurt," she told a visitor Tuesday, running her fingers back and forth across the bandages.

Sarah Jean says she heard about the deaths of the four other girls over the radio. With the others she was getting ready to sing in the choir when the blast went off.

What does she think about while lying in the hospital bed?

"About school," she answered. She has a special friend in her head, she bowed," she nodded slightly.

"Isn't that how you've felt, Sarah?" Norton asked gently.

face God. We turn this problem over to God, because no one else can solve Birmingham's problems. We leave it up to God to solve them."

"Isn't that how you've felt, Sarah?" Norton asked gently.

University Hospital, C. S. Norton, a young Negro who works in the radiology department.

"She adopted me as her brother, and I've adopted her as my sister," he said. "She talks to me, but she's quiet with most everybody else."

Sarah Jean was asked how she feels about the church bomber now that a full month has passed. Her lips moved once but she said nothing.

Norton answered instead.

"Speaking for Sarah — you don't mind if I speak for you, do you Sarah?—she would love to thank people who have been nice to her, for the gifts, dolls, cards and beautiful flowers. I'm sure everyone is praying that she gets her sight back.

"As for the bomber, people are praying for him. We wonder what he would be thinking today, if he had children. No one knows why bombed the church but God. . . . He will

Decrease In Water Store

AUSTIN (AP)— Major Texas reservoirs were less than two-thirds full of water-last month the Texas Water Commission reports.

A survey of a selected group of reservoirs showed conservation storage was 63 per cent of potential at the end of September, compared to 79 per cent at the same time last year.

During the month storage decreased from 7,718,000 acre-feet to 7,471,900 acre-feet in the reservoirs. One acre-foot contains 325,851 gallons of water.

The commission said every major city in the state reported less rain than usual for the year so far.

Guard Held For Arson

NEW YORK (AP)—A guard at a children's home on Staten Island was arrested on an arson charge today several hours after a fire forced about 350 boys to flee.

The guard ran into a blazing unoccupied building with a fire extinguisher and was carried out unconscious from smoke inhalation.

The guard, who recovered quickly, was quoted by officials as saying he had "problems at home" but did not know why he set fire to the four-story building.

None of the boys was reported injured. They fled from three dormitories at Mount Loretto, run by the New York City Catholic Charities. The fire, which for a time threatened the dormitories, was in the boys' section of the campus-like grounds. The home has about 850 children.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Thomas R. Sullivan said the guard, Edward Moresco, 18, of Oakwood, Staten Island, admitted to him and Fire Marshal Denis Hurley that he set the fire.

Moresco was jailed.

A new city of Skopje, Yugoslavia, is planned, perhaps on a different site nearby the old one.

Red Guards Delay British Near Berlin

BERLIN (AP) — A British military convoy held on the Berlin Autobahn by the Russians today moved westward, a British spokesman announced.

The British spokesman said the convoy continued its interrupted journey "on our terms."

That meant the British refused the Soviet demand for the British soldiers to dismount to be counted.

The convoy of nine vehicles, carrying 28 men, was stopped by the Soviets at Babelsberg, their checkpoint just outside Berlin where a U.S. convoy was blockaded last week.

It was kept waiting nine hours, until the Russians gave up their insistence on men dismounting and lifted the barriers for it to proceed.

The convoy still had to go through a second Soviet checkpoint at Marienborn, at the border of West Germany on the western end of the superhighway.

It was still a question whether the Russians would repeat their delaying tactics at Marienborn.

The British said the Soviet blockade was deliberate and protested vigorously. The U.S. State Department had suggested the American convoy was held up by confusion at the local level.

The scene was the same for both incidents, the checkpoint at Babelsberg within sight of Berlin.

The halting of the convoy did not interfere with civilian traffic on the 110-mile autobahn between Berlin and West Germany.

It was the first time since the 1948-49 Berlin blockade that the Russians had blocked a British military convoy on the 110-mile lifeline between Communist-surrounded West Berlin and West Germany.

A British spokesman said a protest was lodged with the Soviet authorities at Potsdam. The three Western commandants in Berlin immediately went into an emergency meeting.

While the British convoy was held up, a U.S. Army convoy of four vehicles and eight men bound for West Germany was cleared without difficulty, a U.S. spokesman said.

Since the resolution on Saturday of last week's autobahn crisis, the U.S. Army has sent a number of convoys through East Germany without difficulty. However, these movements involved large numbers of men who dismounted voluntarily to be counted.

Civil Party Admits To Vote Defeat

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — A spokesman of ex-president Yun Po-sun's Civil Rule party virtually conceded election of military strongman Gen. Chung Hee Park as president today.

Yun himself went into hiding Tuesday after the balloting.

The party's spokesman, Kim Yung-sam, said in an informal statement: "We apologize to the people who fought to the end despite various bad laws and other obstacles in this election."

Meanwhile, a spokesman of Park's Democratic Republic party issued a brief statement saying: "The presidential election battle is over. We all should let bygones be bygones and be united in our work at building the Third Republic."

While neither party made any flat statement of concession or victory, unofficial counts gave Park nearly a 100,000-vote lead.

Tabulations by South Korea's government-run radio network gave Park 4,471,300 votes to 4,-379,084 for Yun.

But votes for three minor anti-government candidates totaled 720,201, demonstrating that a majority of South Korea's voters oppose Park's military-dominated regime.

In earlier returns, the lead shifted back and forth between Park and Yun.

Yun, 67, candidate of the Civil Rule party and slashing critic of Park's military regime, went into hiding as the ballots were counted. He obviously feared Park's military backers would arrest him.

It seemed apparent that the final tabulation would not end the fierce struggle between the military leaders who have ruled Korea for 29 months and the civilian politicians they displaced in the May 16, 1961, coup.

The losing side was sure to think the winner had not received sufficient mandate to rule unchallenged.

The race was close from the time the vote counting began Tuesday. No one appeared more surprised than Yun's supporters.

Many had thought Park, 46, would easily win a four-year term and go on to form a government-oriented national assembly in elections Nov. 26.

Park went into the election against the advice of advisers who counseled a crackdown on the civilian opposition. He appeared to have hopes of a landslide victory endorsing his record as chief of the military junta.

The election showed that Park had lost much of the popular support he had when he seized power.

Many military voters—whose ranks he left in August when he retired as a general—deserted his cause.

Distressed NY Mirror Stops Press

NEW YORK (AP)—The financially distressed New York Mirror has ceased publication after 39 years and some of its assets have been sold to the New York Daily News.

"It takes everything I've got to keep from crying," said John Hearst Jr., grandson of the Mirror's founder, the late William Randolph Hearst, when the morning newspaper's demise was announced Tuesday night.

"If we could have economized," added Hearst, associate editor of the Mirror, "we would have done it. Most holes have a bottom, but this one did not seem to have any."

The Mirror's last edition rolled off the presses at 2:17 a.m. today.

The death knell had been rumored for months. The confirming announcement came at around 6 p.m.

Wilfred Alexander, president of the AFL-CIO American Newspaper Guild's New York local and shop steward of the union's Mirror unit, read the announcement to 75 editorial employes in the city room. He criticized what he termed the "callous and cold-blooded way this was kept from you."

About 1,400 employes lost their jobs. The Mirror said it will distribute in excess of $3½ million in severance pay to them and set up an employment office to help them find new jobs.

Walter Winchell and at least a half-dozen other Mirror columnists will appear in the afternoon New York Journal-American, also owned by the Hearst Corp.

Bipartisan Support Is Sought

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the House Judiciary Committee gave full support today to administration efforts to cut some provisions from the sweeping civil rights bill.

Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., told the committee he would do all in his power to get bipartisan support for the milder proposal recommended by the administration in June.

A judiciary subcommittee added several highly controversial provisions to the administration program, however, to produce the bill now before the committee.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy urged the committee Tuesday to restore the measure substantially to administration's recommendations, to increase its chances of passage.

Celler spoke as the committee prepared to question Kennedy further.

"The urgency for bipartisan legislation at this session is so strong that I intend to put aside my own feeling with respect to the desirability of provisions in addition to those recommended by the administration," Celler said.

Celler was chairman of the judiciary subcommittee that greatly expanded the original proposals.

He said he hoped the committee could produce a civil rights bill patterned on the original administration measure within two weeks.

This, the attorney general feels, was a strong, effective bill. It could, deftly handled, get the votes to make it a law by the end of the year.

Swollen with the subcommittee's innovations, it might scare away the most dedicated civil rights supporters, Kennedy said.

His views reportedly were bitterly received by a few liberal Democrats who thought they knew Robert Kennedy well enough to think he'd be delighted by an all-out civil rights package that would widen his authority in virtually every field of American business and public life.

But these powers, Kennedy let it be known, would be more than he or any man in the United States should want to possess. They could, he believed, lead eventually to a national police force.

Kennedy was due back before the committee today. Republicans suspicious of his devotion to bipartisanship and Southern opponents of any civil rights bill are expected to loose a barrage of questions at him.

It has been four months since the House committee got the bill and it still hasn't turned it loose. It must journey through the Rules Committee to the House floor, to a Senate committee, to the Senate floor, through conference and then through compromise before it has run its course.

While he is confident Congress will approve a strong bill—his description of the administration proposal—this year, the attorney general thinks that if it doesn't reach the Senate floor by Nov. 10 it is in trouble.

Stock Farmers Hit Hard By Continued Area Drought

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—The Agricultural Extension service said today that the current dry weather is hitting Texas livestock hard.

Cattle and sheep are wandering around on powder-dry pastures that are not even supporting a good weed crop. Ranges in the driest areas of the state are beginning to look like they did during the seven-year drouth of the 1950's, the Extension Service reported.

Stockmen are particularly worried because of the dry spell's lateness. Fall rains usually produce grass for winter. But this fall, moisture is short and feed supplies are scanty and high priced.

Emergency feeding measures can be taken, however, U. D. Thompson, animal husbandman with the extension service, says the first basic step to take is to get the animals into a pen or trap and feed them if the pasture is gone.

"Generally, it is more economical to feed high energy feeds, which are higher in cost, than low energy, lower cost feeds," Thompson said.

Only the strongest and most valuable stock should be kept under severe conditions. Calves and lambs need weaning as early as possible, and late calves should be sold to prevent cows nursing them during the predicted rough winter coming up. It is easier to winter dry stock than wet stock.

Heifers in calf take more care than cows and may be sold with older animals to avoid wintering. Steers can get off even lighter than dry cows, Thompson explained.

Other Thompson recommendations:

Stock should have easy access to water. Bog holes are good places to lose weak animals.

A phosphorus supplement (with salt), such as bone-meal, is helpful. Dicalcium phosphate or disodium phosphate are good boosters when added to stock water.

Stock in fair condition need to be fed only enough to maintain weight. Fleshy stock may be fed at a level on which they can lose weight without affecting production.

Thin animals need enough feed during pregnancy to offset birth-weight losses. This amounts to a gain above thin condition of about 150 pounds for cows and 18 pounds for ewes.

With a fair condition of flesh in the fall, flesh that can be held during early winter will save feed before spring or after birth of young.

The best feed should be saved for use just before and after birth of calves and lambs. Weak stock and young bred stock need the best quality feed and should be fed separately from older, stronger animals.

What about vitamin-A? Thompson says the nutrient is available in green feeds—which are probably too expensive. The only other answer is to supply synthetic vitamin-A by injection or mixing with the emergency feed.

The specialist recommends that a week's requirement of the synthetic material be fed at one time. He said the vitamin breaks down in a hurry when exposed to the elements.

Jump Noted In Incomes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Personal income jumped by almost $1.5 billion in September to a record annual rate of $466.5 billion, the government reported today.

The Commerce Department's Office of Business Economics said the September figure was $21 billion, or 4.5 per cent, higher than for the same month last year.

Nearly all of the August-to-September increase was in wages and salaries. Part of it reflected increased payrolls under the new federal minimum wage law effective Sept. 3.

The bureau said that since February, when there was a slight dip, personal income has advanced by an average of $2 billion a month. The increase during the third quarter averaged $1.25 billion a month.

The third-quarter increase was just half the $2.5 billion average monthly gain reported during the second quarter.

Withdraws From Race

AUSTIN (AP)—The secretary of state's office confirmed today that Frank B. McGehee, Dallas, has withdrawn as a candidate for Congress from the 10th Texas District.

The withdrawal leaves Democrats J. J. (Jake) Pickle and Jack Ritter Jr. and Republican Jim Dobbs, all of Austin, in the special Nov. 9 election for a successor to U.S. Rep. Homer Thornberry, D-Tex. Thornberry has resigned effective Dec. 20 to accept a federal judgmentship at El Paso.

The secretary of state's office said McGehee's letter was received Monday asking that his name be withdrawn from the certified list for the ballot. He said he had notified all county clerks in the 10th district to be sure they would not include his name on the ballot.

Bomber Sets New Record

GREENHAM COMMON, England (AP)—A U.S. Air Force B58 jet bomber sped from Japan to England nonstop today in 8 hours and 35 minutes. It covered the 8,028 miles at an average speed of 938 miles an hour.

This was a record paring 9 hours and 7 minutes from the best previous time for a flight between Japan and England.

The bomber, carrying a crew of three, set down at an airfield at this Berkshire village.

The plane had to slow down [illegible] to be refueled by private tankers.

Commander of the plane was Maj. Sidney J. Kubesch, 33, of El Campo, Tex.

Majority Approval For Weapons Ban

By FRED COLEMAN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) A resolution outlawing the orbiting of nuclear weapons in outer space was approved unanimously today by the General Assembly's main political committee.

The proposal — sponsored by the United States, the Soviet Union and 15 other countries — now goes to the 111-nation assembly itself where approval is expected Thursday.

While the U.N. action is not legally binding, it is regarded as a moral obligation since the United States and the Soviet Union drafted the plan and voted for it.

Actually it is in the form of an appeal to all countries to refrain from placing in orbit objects carrying nuclear weapons or any weapons of mass destruction, or from installing such weapons in outer space in any manner.

The resolution, first tangible Cold War breakthrough since the limited nuclear test-ban treaty, stems from an agreement announced Oct. 3 after talks here by Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko and British Foreign Secretary Lord Home.

All members of the 18-nation Geneva Disarmament Conference except France joined in sponsoring the proposal. France has boycotted the Geneva meeting.

The United States and the Soviet Union have conceded that the advantage of orbiting nuclear weapons in space is more psychological than military.

Introduction of the resolution highlighted the opening of the committee's disarmament debate Tuesday.

U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson told the committee his country hopes to include underground nuclear tests in a comprehensive treaty provided that adequate verification and on-site inspection is guaranteed. He challenged the Russians to spell out what scientific machinery they will accept to assure such verification.

India's Mrs. Vijaya Lakshmi Pandit, sister of Prime Minister Nehru, accused France and Red China of threatening the limited test ban treaty by not signing it. She asked the U.N. to bring moral pressure on all abstaining countries to sign the pact.

Demos To Trim Attendance Of Next Nat'l Convention

By LARRY OSIUS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic National Convention, which like Topsy just sort of grew, may be trimmed to a more manageable size next year. And its collective voice may have less Southern drawl and Western twang.

The decisions will be made when the Democratic National Committee meets in November or early December to allocate the votes for the 1964 convention at Atlantic City.

A subcommittee headed by Jacob Arvey of Chicago, the national committeeman from Illinois, has been studying the allocation of votes since last May. No proposals have been announced, but sources close to the national committee say there could be among them when the committee meets:

A return to the bonus system. It would reward with larger representation those states — mostly east of the Mississippi — which voted for President Kennedy in 1960.

No bonuses, but a reduction in voting power of those states which lost representation in Congress because of population shifts in 1950 and 1960 but, in effect, never lost any of their convention votes.

A combination of the two that would allocate votes on an up-to-date population basis plus bonus votes for multiples of Democratic votes in 1960, regardless of whether Kennedy carried the state.

Also expected to come up is a hardy quadrennial — the number of persons at a Democratic convention.

Republicans limit their state delegations to a one man-one vote basis. But Democrats over the years have split things up into half votes. That way more delegates get to go to the convention, a form of reward for party faithful.

But it also can be confusing. In 1960, there were 3,042 delegates authorized to cast 1,521 votes at the Los Angeles convention. And that didn't include more than 1,400 persons present as alternates.

To the politician, however, the number of delegates isn't nearly so important as the number of votes allotted each state.

Some critics felt the 1960 convention was weighted in favor of many—but not all—Southern and far Western states.

Even though there could be some sharp infighting, National Chairman John M. Bailey thinks this is the year to take a good close look at the delegate allocation.

Next year, Bailey said in an [illegible] Democrats will nominate Kennedy. So the time to overhaul the allocation system is now—when it's relatively quiet.

These Aren't Wolves In Sheep's Clothing

CASTLE CARROCK, England (AP) — Farmer William Wilson is putting his 3,000 sheep in sheep's clothing for the winter.

The sheep are being clad in special coasts of jute sacking, made to Wilson's design at 70 cents each at an Edinburgh factory.

He whipped up such coats to protect the best sheep of his flock during last winter's severe weather and liked the results.

"They not only keep the sheep snug and warm," he said, "but they make the fleece thicker and softer."

TWO FEMS IN TIE FOR GRID CONTEST PRIZE

Finishing in a deadlock for first place with seven misses each were Margie R. Stephens, Box 894, and Judy Wheat, Box 835.

Incidentally, both called the turn on last week's big one — Texas over Oklahoma, but both missed SMU's upset of fourth-ranked Navy, and both missed Alabama's upset at the hands of Florida.

There was a three-way tie for second. Missing nine each were Norman Anderton, 2602 Thirty-fifth Street; Mrs. W. A. Mayfield, 731 Twentieth Place, and Scooter Harbour, 3742 Sunset. So, since there was a tie between more than two entries, the second place money will be carried over.

White Segregationist Wins Albany Mayor's Election

ALBANY, Ga. (AP) — A 45-year-old white segregationist has won the Democratic nomination for mayor of this racially troubled Southwest Georgia city where a Negro sought the office for the first time.

Attorney James V. Davis received 7,220 votes Tuesday, well over a majority of those cast in a record turnout, making a run-off unnecessary. Nomination in the primary means election.

The second white man in the race, architect Edward V. Jones, was third with 1,879 votes. He also is a segregationist and opposed formation of any biracial committees.

The outcome indicated little, if any, change in race relations in this city where more than 1,200 arrests were made during intermittent demonstrations the past two years.

Davis said he thought that what will be done for the colored people will have to be done within the framework of segregation."

King, acting president of the Antisegregation Albany Movement, called for creation of a biracial committee to discuss grievances. None has been established.

King said he hoped the campaign would help members of his race to think politically.

"I am really interested in freeing the minds of Negroes because many of them feel that no Negro should aspire for high office," he said.

King did very little active campaigning. He made only one television appearance. Davis and Jones concentrated on federal controls and taxes in appealing for votes.

The racial issue and clear, sunshiny weather brought a turnout of more than 11,500 voters.

Albany's 58,000 population includes about 24,000 Negroes. There are an estimated 4,600 Negroes among the 16,436 registered voters.

Two years a Negro candidate for a City Commission seat made it to the runoff and then was defeated.

Wedding Bells For Woman Cosmonaut?

NEW YORK (AP) — Maj. Yuri Gagarin and Valentina Tereshkova, first man and only woman to orbit the earth, arrived Tuesday night by plane from Mexico City for a one-day visit.

The first question put to the Russian cosmonauts was about reports that Miss Tereshkova was engaged to cosmonaut Pavel Popovich.

"I'm not engaged," she said, "but when I get married you will definitely find out."

Algerians Heed Mobilization Call

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH

ALGIERS (AP) — Thousands of Algerians streamed into army barracks today in answer to President Ahmed Ben Bella's general mobilization decree to meet the threat of war with Morocco.

The mobilization decree was issued Tuesday night after more fighting in the disputed outposts after two days of bloody skirmishes.

Ben Bella ordered all former soldiers — estimated to total 30,000 — to report for army service. At the same time efforts continued to negotiate a settlement of the dispute.

Those who answered the mobilization call included numerous young volunteers carried away by the officially whipped-up war fever. Many were clearly too young ever to have fought against the French.

Algerian sources said Ben Bell's call to arms was answered "with spontaneous enthusiasm." Several thousand men reported at the former French Orleans barracks in Algiers.

Despite the atmosphere of crisis, it seemed unlikely that the governments would allow the dispute to degenerate into war.

Mohammed Yazid, former Algerian information minister, and Slimane Hoffman, an aide of Defense Minister Col. Houari Boumedienne, flew back to Algiers Tuesday night after a day of talks in Marrakech with King Hassan II of Morocco and other Moroccan leaders.

The two emissaries immediately went into conference with Ben Bella. They took off again at dawn to resume their talks in Marrakech.

There was no official word on the negotiations, but informed sources said little real progress had been made.

Reports from the Sahara said fighting had subsided.

VFW District Has Meet In Sweetwater

"Speak Up for Democracy" was the title of the address given Sunday at the annual fall convention of District 8 of the V. F. W.

The speaker was Senior Vice Commander Ed J. Krenek. The convention was held Sunday with Post 2479 of Sweetwater acting as the host for the district.

Reports were heard from several of the posts in the district.

Post 6014 in Hamlin reported that they had erected a flag pole at the football stadium. The post also has a flag pole at the cemetery.

Hamlin also reported on the use of their wheel chairs, crutches and hospital beds which are made available to the public. They also reported that the post's facilities were made available for the Post homecoming. They reported on their help with the needy and their work in maintaining the cemetery.

Post 4126 in Eastland reported on their sponsorship of Boy Scout Troop 23 and the Junior League ball club and their flag raising at each ball game. The post also reported on their assistance to two families that were burned out, their help with needy families and transients, and their sponsorship of Flag Day at the Post Office. Eastland also reported on the use of their hospital beds, wheel chairs and crutches.

During the district convention the Ladies Auxiliary also held their meeting.

Attending from Post 8231 in Snyder were Senior Vice President Pearl Sellars; Conductress Ethel Sowell; Color Bearers, Margaret Pate, Louise Williams, Francene Spivey and Maxine Prince.

Air Merger Scrapped

NEW YORK (AP) — Trans World Airlines and Pan American World Airways today scrapped their proposal to merge the two carriers into a single $1.2-billion system with 80,000 miles of routes.

"The timetable for necessary approvals, including those of the federal government, has not progressed to the point where we can look forward to consummation of the merger within a reasonable time," heads of the lines said.

The merger agreement, reached Dec. 20, 1962, by directors of TWA and Pan Am, would have created the country's largest air transportation company, supplanting United Airlines as No. 1.

Termination of the deal was announced jointly by Juan Trippe, president of Pan Am, and Charles C. Tillinghast Jr., president of TWA.

Need Only 8 Jurrors

PALO PINTO (AP)—Lawyers needed to qualify only eight more prospective jurors today for the murder trial of Cisco teen-ager Nathan Curry.

Now 18, Curry is charged in the 1961 beating and stabbing of Mrs. Florence Hussey, 53, Cisco divorcee and church secretary.

Twenty-four prospective jurors had been qualified when court recessed late Tuesday. After 32 are seated, each side is allowed 10 challenges.

Dist. Judge W. J. Oxford of Stephenville said he expected testimony to start today.

Thirty-nine veniremen remained available for questioning.

Mrs. Hussey, clad in a nightgown, was found slain in her home June 29, 1961.

Curry, 15 at the time, contends he is innocent and has charged he was "brainwashed" into giving officers a statement. Defense lawyer John Watts of Odessa claims the statement was obtained illegally.

The youth was sent to the state reformatory at Gatesville in 1961 after being declared a delinquent "by reason of committing burglary" at Mrs. Hussey's home the night she was killed.

He was released in January by an Odessa judge, who ruled he had been illegally confined.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a husband who tells his wife that he KNOWS he could win any woman in the world if he were given an introduction to her? This man is not rich. He is definitely nothing to look at. And unless he is in a very good mood, he is lousy company. So please tell me where he gets ideas like this.

HAD IT

DEAR HAD IT: I've heard of self-confidence, but this is ridiculous! But, in case your husband has a secret weapon, you'd better be careful to whom you introduce him.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: My mother keeps "lending" me out to the neighbors to baby-sit for nothing. Very often I have had to change my plans at the last minute because my mother tells me she promised someone in the neighborhood that I would sit for them. Other girls my age get paid for sitting for these same people, so now they are mad at me for sitting for nothing, because they look greedy when they take the money. My mother is the kindest soul in the world, Abby, but do you think it is fair that she should offer my services to the neighbors for nothing?

SWEET AND SOUR SIXTEEN

DEAR SIXTEEN: Bless your mother's heart. She means well, but she isn't being fair to you. She shouldn't promise your services without having first checked with you. And she shouldn't expect you to sit for nothing.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Why do men have to wear DARNED socks? Do you know any woman these days who would wear a darned stocking? Men's socks don't cost any more than women's, so why, when a woman finds a wee hole in her husband's sock, does she try to "save" it? Let her throw it in the rag bag along with her own.

LOVING WIFE

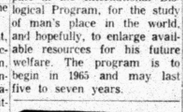

DEAR LOVING: Just keep crusading for equal rights for men and you'll soon write a DEAR ABBY letter with a husband problem. Come to think of it, I haven't seen a darning egg since the depression.

* * *

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Hate to write letters? Send one dollar to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif., for Abby's new booklet, "HOW TO WRITE LETTERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS".

GUEST SPEAKER—Dr. R. A. Montgomery, director of curriculum and special services of Andrews Independent Schools was the guest speaker for the East Elementary P-TA when they met Monday afternoon. Dr. Montgomery received his B. A. from Southwestern University, M. Ed. in counseling and guidance, and Doctor of Ed. in pupil personnel services from the University of Texas. Mrs. Robert Sims, president of the East Elementary Parent-Teachers Association is pictured with Dr. Montgomery.

'Underachievement' Topic For P-TA Meet

The East Elementary Parent-Teachers Association heard a most enlightening talk by Dr. Robert Montgomery in their meeting Monday afternoon. He chose as his subject, "Pupils Who Underachieve in School".

The speaker said in part: "The underachieving child is described as having an achievement level, as measured by standardized tests, of at least a year below his grade level. This problem of the underachieving child is not just a local one, but a national one and is a concern of homes as well as schools.

"In order to cope with this problem, the school must have help from the home. The school must identify the problem, classify according to cause, and make suggestions as to its cure. Most of these underachievers become such, not because of physical reasons but almost always psychological reasons. It becomes a psychological problem that the public school can deal with in 75 to 80 percent of the cases when the home cooperates.

"There are several things that almost all underachievers have in common. They are: poor work habits, difficulty in cooperating with others, unability to reach the expectations of parents, and general discouragement at home or school.

"Four main reasons are set forth as the causes for underachievement. It is to get attention, to show his parents or his teacher he does not have to do it, for vengence if he has been deeply hurt, or because of discouragement and lcss of confidence. The child is generally not aware of his purpose in underachievement, but once the purpose has been discovered the school and home together can accomplish much in correcting it".

Honey Packs Energy In Lunch Box

If you're a "lunch bag fixin'" wife or mother, you know the trials and tribulations of this demanding occupation. Most days you tackle the problems of variety, nutrition, color, flavor, texture, keeping quality and personal preferences with admirable cheerfulness. But there are days when you would love to give all your "lunchers" the comical - mashed potato sandwich and be done with it.

To save your family this fate it is advantageous to have some spare ideas in mind and ready ingredients in the cupboard.

Honey can be one of these helpful, emergency products so nice to have around the house.

No matter how long you keep it, Honey can't spoil since bacteria which cause diseases in human beings cannot grow in it. If your Honey should crystallize, you can easily restore it to its liquid state by placing the container of Honey in a bowl of warm water for a few minutes.

For a quick sandwich treat Honey may be used alone as a spread for cinnamon, raisin or date-nut bread. Mix equal parts of it and peanut butter and in seconds you have the delectable sandwich filling children love to devour.

Spread Honey between two slices of left-over baked ham and complete the sandwich with your favorite bread or bun. The Honey adds a pleasant flavor and a bit of moisture.

Blend a mixture of cream cheese, Honey and chopped dates, prunes, or dried apricots and use it in lunch box sandwiches. You might also keep it in mind for entertaining at home. It's simple to prepare, yet festive when served on pretty rounds of brown bread.

A bit more effort but wonderful to have for sandwich lunches and snacks is Honey Cheese Whip. Roquefort and pimento cheeses contribute their share to its fine flavor.

HONEY CHEESE WHIP

½ pound cream cheese
¼ to ⅓ pound Roquefort cheese
½ pound pimento cheese
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons Honey
½ teaspoon Worchestershire sauce
Dash of cayenne

Melt cheese in upper part of double boiler, stirring constantly. Add butter, Honey, Worcestershire sauce and cayenne, beat until fluffy. Add salt if desired. Thin, if necessary, with cooked salad dressing or mayonnaise. To serve, set bowl of this cheese whip in center of large round plate with crisp potato chips, crackers or icebox rye bordering bowl.

Remember convenient, delicious Honey also provides your children and husband with a source of energy so important in a noon meal and essential vitamins and minerals.

The term "equinox" comes from the Latin words for "equal night."

Zimmerman Speaks To Central P-TA

Central Parents Teachers Association enjoyed a most informative discussion by Mr. Bill Zimmerman, Snyder Probation Officer, at the October meeting Monday.

Mr. Zimmerman has worked closely with the many facets of juvenile delinquents and strongly feels a lack of proper guidance, useful activities, and discipline in children today. These things cannot and should not be dependant upon the schools or the church but must come directly from the home.

The members then selected Mrs. June Bellamy, and Mrs. Martha Lowe to be Central Elementary representatives in San Antonio on November 20. Mrs. Bellamy is the present president of P-TA and Mrs. Lowe is a third grade teacher at Central.

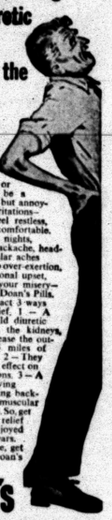

Mrs. Phy and Mrs. Lowe tied for the trophy for room count in the lower grades and Mrs. Miller won the cup for the older grades.

Old Refueling Stops Even More Lonely During Jet Age

By INEZ ROBB

Once upon a time, and it seems like years ago, the traveler who flew back and forth across the Atlantic with any degree of regularity was thoroughly at home at Gander, Newfoundland; Stephenville, Nova Scotia and Goose Bay, Labrador.

These were the lonely bases, the Northern airfields on which the old propeller-driven planes, flying the Great Circle route across the Atlantic, set down to refuel on both the eastward and westward journeys.

Those refueling bases were seared into the traveler's very soul, for the simple reason that he hated them with a passion worthy of a better cause. They were bleak, windswept, solitary and usually consisted of Quonset huts or other barracks architecture.

To have to spend a night at Gander in the old days, if the weather across the Atlantic was terrible or there was some mechanical difficulty with the plane was comparable to a sentence to Siberia. At least that's the way the passengers carried on.

Poor Gander! Since most of the old props stopped there rather than at Stephenville or Goose Bay, it shared a reputation with the Black Hole of Calcutta. But, then, Gander pulled herself together and built a beautiful air terminal, with charming and comfortable facilities for passengers. It was completed the very year the jets began to span the Atlantic in one single hop!

In the ensuing four years Gander has ceased even to be a legend. Goose Bay and Stephenville have faded from travel memory, too. I never gave them a thought two days ago when I took off from Copenhagen for New York in one of Scandinavian Airlines System's DC-8s. It was to be only an 8½-hour flight compared to 15 hours in the prop age.

But, even as in the prop days, SAS still nails the passenger's acquiescent feet to the plane floor and stuffs him like a Strasbourg Goose, with delicious food from take-off to touchdown. Passengers were happily destroying slabs of roast beef when the pilot came on the intercom to announce that we had been battling a 150-mile-an-hour headwind for three hours and would stop at Goose Bay to replenish the fuel consumed in the duel with the wind.

Toward Goose Bay, as the sun set, we flew over the fascinating icecap that is Greenland, a white world punctuated only by fjords of granite peaks swept bare by the wind. It is one of the most beautiful and awesome flights in the world.

By the time the plane settled down on the Goose Bay runway, it was dark. The DC-8 door was opened by a mechanic who seemed overjoyed to see all 105 of us. The truth is, he was. Planes don't come into Goose Bay nowadays and it gets kind of lonely.

Even the light over the main door of the old barracks waiting room was dark and he rushed ahead to turn it on. (And no health officer to scrutinize us and our vaccination cards as in the old days, either.)

Well, sir, it was a new world in the Far North. The passenger lounge had been halved. The dining room had vanished. There was not even a coffee counter to still passenger clamor for a hot drink, despite all that food on the plane. And certainly there was no bar.

The only person in the old passenger terminal was a discouraged - looking young man behind the six-foot counter of a small souvenir shop. His goods looked dusty and shopworn. He quickly sold out his small stock of chocolate bars and Life Savers. A few souls brought Goose Bay pennants of psuedo - felt at 50 cents each.

Goose Bay was never Times Square. But in the old days, when a plane came in to refuel, it was at least lively. Now, it seemed sad and dingier than ever.

When the plane was refueled there was a rush to climb aboard. And some wit muttered, "It may be all right to live in Goose Bay, but I wouldn't visit there if you gave me the place."

Junior Editors Quiz on HYDROFOILS

QUESTION: What are the mechanics of the hydrofoil boat?

• • •

ANSWER: In the opening years of the 20th Century, Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, famous inventor of the telephone, was experimenting with kites and airplanes. He was fascinated with the principle of the airfoil, which lifts the wing of an airplane. We show this principle at upper left. The air, streaming over the curved top surface, has a longer way to go, has to speed up and its pressure on the wing below grows less. But the slower air at bottom, giving more pressure, lifts the wing. Dr. Bell reasoned that the same principle would work in water if an airfoil shape was moving fast. He attached stilts equipped with a number of airfoil-shaped strips to boats. They worked so well that the body of the boat was lifted up in the air and whizzed along on the foils.

In 1919, Dr. Bell built a large hydrofoil, as these boats became called, which made a world speedboat record of 70.86 miles an hour. In spite of this success, the hydrofoil boat was slow to develop; it is only now that its possibilities are being appreciated. The big picture is of a regular outboard motor boat to which hydrofoils have been attached. The foils give great speed and an amazingly smooth ride.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: A large ocean going hydrofoil, 117 feet long, has recently been built. Watch your newspaper for developments about these boats which may be whizzing passengers over waterways before long.

The Taming Of Orval

By WICK TEMPLE
(Substituting for Hal Boyle)

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) —You get a frantic phone call at the office from your extra frantic wife, who says, "Well, they just got Orval."

In addition to anger and concern you are filled with curiosity. The methods "they" might use for getting Orval are important because you have never been able to get him yourself. "How did they get him?" I asked.

"They shot him. He has three bullet holes in his side."

You are enraged. You call the sheriff and get him on the way to extract three bullets from the side of a brown and tan, sway-backed, cross-eyed, lop-eared, bow-legged dog who should have happened to someone else.

It turned out Orval hadn't been shot. The vet said he had been in an argument with another dog. Seventeen stitches put him back together and ran his repair bill past $50.

Two weeks earlier he had caught a Volkswagen. After stitching, he appeared to have been cut in half and put back together, and he still looks that way.

Orval spent his first six months as a free agent in Gay Woods. Finally he made his way to the city and was about to be impounded when we gave him refuge. He made a fine pet. He was gentle and playful. But he never lost the wildness of his youth.

A backyard fence (no small purchase) wouldn't hold him. He dug under until we had to reinforce the base of the fence with logs.

Then he learned how to paw open the back screen door, dash through the house, throw a body block on the front screen door, and roll clear. Once he was out, he paid no attention to calls and he was impossible to catch.

I consulted the vet. He decided Orval had emotional problems, brought on by lack of proper upbringing. He suggested various kindnesses and painstaking training.

It didn't work. The neighbors were giving not-so-tactful suggestions about what should be done with him.

Then one day as we were ready to leave on a trip, Orval pulled his through-the-house and away trick.

I was angry. I went after him. Rage gave me superhuman speed. The chase led three times around the house, across the road and through a patch of thick woods. Finally I made a flying dive and nailed him, and when he looked meekly up at me, I knew Orval was tamed.

Looney Just Had To Go, Bud Declares

By NORMAN ROWLAND

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Oklahoma football Coach Bud Wilkinson, obviously upset over charges that he was looking for a scapegoat when he dismissed halfback Joe Don Looney, said "it was just something that had to be done."

Looney said if he had had a good day against Texas, and if Oklahoma had won, "everything would have been okay." And his father, Don Looney of Fort Worth, Tex., a former star at Texas Christian said, "somebody's got to be the fall guy for losing to Texas. I guess Joe Don is it."

Wilkinson disagreed Tuesday. "I don't think Joe Don lost the Texas game for us," Wilkinson said. "No individual is going to lose a game by himself."

Wilkinson said the decision to oust Looney, who led the nation in punting last season and was fifth in yards gained rushing, resulted from an accumulation of incidents.

But the final decision, he said, came when several team leaders came to his office Monday morning.

"They told me they thought the presence of Looney on the squad was hurting the team," Wilkinson said.

"Until then, I had no intention of kicking Joe Don off the team," Wilkinson said. "But I had an understanding with the team leaders that if Joe Don's attitude became infectious and began hurting the team, he would have to go."

Wilkinson said he had been concerned with Looney's attitude toward practice ever since the 224-pound speedster transferred to Oklahoma from Cameron Junior College at Lawton, Okla.

"I tried to talk him into leaving the team after last season," Wilkinson said. "I told him I didn't think he would be able to make it because of his attitude.

"My biggest regret is that I allowed him to come back to the team this year. But he wanted to come back and I let him. This way, it's harder on Joe Don.

"I'm really sorry for the boy but I had no choice.

"Team morale had ceased to exist. It's awful easy for us to look like villains, but we protected this guy for more than a year and we can't continue to protect one boy at the expense of 55 others."

Colts Down Bears, 24-6

The league - leading Colts launched the second half of Boys Club Pee Wee Football League play Tuesday with a 24-6 victory over the Bears.

The Colts scored twice in the first quarter, with Cliff Voss going 58 yards for a touchdown in the first series of plays and Billy Bowden going over from 8 yards out on another drive. Bruce Bell made the two extra points after the first score, and Voss got the two after Bowden's touchdown.

The Bears scored late in the second quarter on a 40-yard touchdown scamper by Stewart Sims. They were unable to make the two points.

In the fourth quarter, Voss scored again for the Colts from 2 yards out and Bowden added the extra points.

Voss and Bowden were top ground gainers for the Colts. Their top blockers were Gary Harless, David Elledge, Bruce Allmond and Bill Wilson, while top tacklers were Bowden, Gary Gallman and John Ellis.

Sims and Darrell Ross led the Bear ground gainers, while top blockers were Bobby Gardner, Gary Smith, Laddie McMillan and Dennis Williamson. Leading the Bear tacklers were Ricky Freeman, Darrell Ross, Bill Branson, Bobby Weaver and Mike Blythe.

The Frogs and the Hotshots will meet in another second-round game at 4:30 p.m. Thursday.

DISTRICT SCORING

Brown, Kincaid Among Leaders

Leslie Brown of Snyder is the leading scorer in District 3-AAA at the mid-way point in the 1963 season. Avants of Lake View is second and Snyder's Tom Kincaid is third.

Brown, who was in a three-way tie last week with Kincaid and Brownfield's Davis, tallied 16 points against Stamford to take the lead. Avants scored 12 in the Lake View - Hamilton game, and Kincaid made six against the Bulldogs. Davis was held scoreless in the Brownfield-Levelland contest.

Three of the top ten scorers in the district are from Snyder — Brown, Kincaid, and Billy Stewart. One other Tiger, Danny Aycock, is tied for eleventh place.

Brownfield, Lake View and Sweetwater have two boys each in the top ten scorers, and Lamesa one. Colorado City is not represented.

Five of the six teams in District 3 - AAA have completed their non-district schedule and are taking this week off while getting ready for district warfare next week. Sweetwater is the only team seeing action Friday as it hosts Denver City.

The district members have now won 10, lost 18 and tied one. Two of the teams, Brownfield and Snyder, are batting better than 50 per cent with identical 3-2 records. Lamesa and Colorado City have managed to win two each while coming in on the short end in three games. Neither Lake View nor Sweetwater has won a game, although Lake View does have one tie on its record.

Last week was about the best so far for District 3-AAA. Its members won three, lost one, and tied one. Sweetwater was open.

The major victory in the week's activity was Snyder's win over Stamford. The Bulldogs were rated the second team in the state in class 2A and were undefeated. Lamesa scored all of its points in the second half in beating Hereford 27-6. In a Saturday night game, Colorado City scored a safety to edge out Anson 2-0.

Brownfield, one of the top teams in the district, suffered the only defeat, bowing to Levelland 7-14. The Lake View Chiefs were tied by Hamilton 28-28.

Roger Sets Record Pace

NEW YORK (AP)—Jolly Roger Staubach, Navy's standout junior quarterback, is rambling along at a record pace in two major statistical categories, according to official figures released today by the NCAA Service Bureau.

The 190-pounder picked up 235 yards rushing and passing in the loss to Southern Methodist last week and now has a total offense mark of 1,024 for four games for an average of 261 a game.

And his 55 completions in 77 attempts puts him at the top of the passers. His completions percentage of .714 is the best ever after four games.

Myers leads in passing yardage with 815. Staubach has 742.

Jimmy Sidle of Auburn moved into the rushing lead with 434 yards on 64 carries.

Lotheridge Labeled As 'Do-It-All'

By MIKE BARRON
Associated Press Sports Writer

ATLANTA (AP)—"I don't consider myself doing all the work. It was a great team effort."

So said Billy Lothridge, Georgia Tech quarterback who is known as "Mr. Do-It-All" at Georgia Tech because he is one of the few triple-threats in these days of football specialists.

Lothridge was discussing his performance in Tech's 23-7 victory over Tennessee last Saturday, for which he was named Associated Press Back of the Week for the second time in three weeks.

"It's a great honor but I didn't do it all," said the 21-year-old senior. "I had plenty of help."

Against Tennessee Lothridge scored one touchdown, passed 54 yards for another, kicked two extra points and a field goal and averaged 41 yards punting.

Appleton Named Lineman Of Week

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Texas tackle Scott Appleton, selected by Longhorn Coach Darrell Royal as the outstanding All-America candidate on the nation's top-ranked football team, was named Lineman of the Week today by The Associated Press.

The 21-year-old senior and team co-captain looked every inch an All-America last Saturday as undefeated Texas rolled to its fourth straight triumph with a devastating 28-7 victory over Oklahoma.

Playing both ways, Appleton made or assisted on 16 tackles. He led the first scoring drive at offensive tackle and set up the third touchdown by knocking Oklahoma quarterback Bobby Page loose from the ball, recovering it on the Sooners' 18-yard line.

The 235-pound, 6-foot-3 native of Brady, Tex., also recovered a fumble that stopped an Oklahoma drive and nailed quarterback John Hammond for a seven-yard loss on third down to end another Oklahoma drive.

Virginia center Turnley Todd, Minnesota tackle Carl Eller and Illinois linebacker Dick Butkus also received high praise in the poll of sports writers and broadcasters.

Todd made seven unassisted tackles in the first half in Virginia's 6-0 triumph over VMI and made a second half interception that stopped a VMI threat at Virginia's 30.

Butkus made or assisted on 23 tackles in a 20-20 tie with Ohio State. He set up Illinois' first touchdown with a pass interception.

Eller twice threw Northwestern quarterback Tommy Myers for long losses and recovered a Myers' fumble to blunt a Northwestern bid in the third quarter.

Other linemen nominated:

Ends — Ted Davis, Georgia Tech; James Rust, Baylor.

Tackles—Bill Pfeiffer, Notre Dame.

Guards—Rick Redman, Washington; C. C. Willis, Texas Tech; John Hughes, SMU.

Centers — Ronnie Caveness, Arkansas.

Tigers Unwilling To Settle For Anything Short Of Win

"Our boys went over there to win and they were not willing to settle for anything less than a victory."

That sums up the reaction of Snyder coaches to the performance of the Tigers in last Friday night's 28-21 victory over Stamford.

Coaches Horrace Bostick, V. V. Shearburn and Jim Stehley all had some comments on the game at last night's meeting of the Snyder Quarterback Club.

All agreed that Stamford appeared to be a more powerful team than the Bulldogs brought to Snyder last year. But, as matters developed, the Tigers showed considerably more strength themselves than they were able to confront Stamford with here a year ago.

Tiger coaches said they would have defensed the Bulldogs differently this year had they known that Stamford would run "outside" as much as they did. The runs by Bulldog Quarterback Stephen Haterius were somewhat unexpected, since Stamford has been noted for its power thrusts off tackle.

(Snyder coaches didn't mention it, but Haterius was missing from Tiger scouting reports on the Bulldogs this year for the simple reason that he did not play in either of the two games that Snyder scouts saw earlier in the season. In fact, Haterius had seen relatively little action this year — until last Friday night when he was easily the top back Coach Larry Wartes was able to put on the field.)

"We knew Stamford could hurt us off tackle," said Bostick. "So, we had impressed this on our ends so much that they played in too tight most of the night, allowing Haterius to get outside too easily. Of course they didn't hurt us off tackle where they have been getting most of their yardage."

The two Snyder quarterbacks came in for some praise. Jimmy Wilson, who operated most of the time on offense, had probably his best game. Jim Marcum went in to toss a pass for the first touchdown of the game and then played a stellar game on defense, including two crucial pass interceptions.

Three other backs, Leslie Brown, Tom Kincaid and Danny Aycock were cited, not only for ball-carrying ability but for effective blocking and top defensive work.

End Billy Stewart continues his surge as a prime pass receiver and got in some timely defensive licks of his own. Center John Finke's offensive blocking showed vast improvement, as coaches pointed out in the game films.

It was a good week for the Tigers, but not one that they will dwell upon, since Lamesa comes here a week from Friday to launch conference play.

Houk Named Top Pilot

NEW YORK (AP) — Ralph Houk, who guided the New York Yankees to the American League pennant in 1963 despite injuries to star outfielders Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris, was an overwhelming choice as the American League Manager of the Year today.

In the balloting by 71 baseball writers in the annual Associated Press poll, Houk received 58 votes. Al Lopez, pilot of the second-place Chicago White Sox, was the runner-up with 6 votes.

The voting was based on the regular season performances.

Sam Mele of the third-place Minnesota Twins and Chuck Dressen, who took over as Detroit Tigers' manager on June 18 and led them into a fifth-place tie with Cleveland, each collected two votes.

Bill Rigney of the Los Angeles Angels, the AL manager-of-the-Year in 1962; Johnny Pesky of Boston and Gil Hodges of Washington had one each.

Writer Smells Upset In Those Ozark Hills

HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—A normal football season usually is made up of an equal number of hills and valleys. The Texas University team was at the top of the hill last week when it defeated Oklahoma and took over the honor of being rated the nation's No. 1 college team.

Arkansas was down in the valley, dropping its second of the season. The defeat this time was by Baylor and the two setbacks were by a total of five points.

This Saturday Arkansas gets revenge.

That's this week's blue-plate special. Last week's menu almost was devoid of attractions with 34 correct picks and 15 losers for .694. That dropped the season's totals to 143-57 for .715.

Other selections for the coming weekend:

Wisconsin over Iowa: Hal Brandt of the Badgers may not outpitch Fred Riddle of Iowa, but the Wisconsin star will get more help from his teammates.

Mississippi over Tulane: Tulane has been shut out in three of four games this season while Mississippi's potent defense has held three opponents to only 13 points.

Oklahoma over Kansas: The disorganized Sooners pull themselves together.

Alabama over Tennessee: Both teams were disappointed last weekend but Alabama will recover more quickly.

Northwestern over Miami of Ohio: Tommy Myers finds the range.

Air Force over Maryland: Terry Isaacson is the difference in an aerial battle.

Duke over Clemson: Duke has found a passer, Scotty Glacken.

Syracuse over Penn State: They'll need a mile of bandages after this bruiser. A hesitant nod to the home team with its power backfield.

Skipping over the others in a hurry:

FRIDAY

Miami over Georgia.

SATURDAY

EAST: Army over Wake Forest, Brown over Pennsylvania, Buffalo over Boston University, Cornell over Yale, Dartmouth over Holy Cross, Harvard over Columbia, Princeton over Colgate, Rutgers over Lehigh.

MIDWEST: Cincinnati over Detroit, Iowa State over Colorado, Nebraska over Kansas State, Wichita over Louisville, Michigan State over Indiana, Purdue over Michigan, Notre Dame over UCLA, Delaware over Ohio University, Missouri over Oklahoma State.

SOUTH: The Citadel over Arkansas State, Furman over Mississippi College, Louisiana State over Kentucky, Mississippi State over Houston, North Carolina State over North Carolina, Davidson over Richmond, Florida State over Southern Mississippi, Florida over Vanderbilt, Villanova over George Washington, Virginia Tech over William & Mary, South Carolina over Virginia.

Detroit Has Top Defense

NEW YORK (AP) — Detroit leads the National Football League in total defense and pass defense but the Green Bay Packers are tops in one most important statistic—most opponent fumbles recovered.

The Packers, winners of four in a row since dropping the opener to the Bears, have recovered 12 of 13 fumbles by the opposition.

NEWS for truck owners
who need a new one now

Things Chevrolet has developed since the last time you bought to give you more for your money:

Double-wall construction. This feature of Chevrolet cabs and the Fleetside pickup body has two advantages. Insulation and sound-deadening material is sandwiched between the two layers of steel in the cab to give you more comfort; in the body, the lower inner wall acts as a buffer against load damage, preserving the outer appearance of the truck.

Suspension to fit the truck. Conventional half- and three-quarter-ton models have independent front suspension with variable rate coils in the rear. Variable rate coils do not "bottom out" as readily.

Mediums and heavies have I-beam suspension with variable-rate leaf springs. It automatically stiffens as the load increases—and vice versa. It means a smoother, flatter ride regardless of load, a better handling truck.

The right engine. Chevrolet never has been in better position to give you the type and size you need for maximum efficiency. Today there are many different capacities of gasoline and diesel Chevrolet truck engines—fours, sixes, V8's.

Stronger frames. Every conventional 1964 Chevrolet truck has a ladder-type frame. This type is more resilient, better able to give with the load and terrain. Its simple design also makes it easier to mount special bodies on the truck. Its riveted side rails are stronger.

Greater model selection. This time you're going to find it a simple matter to pick the exact type of Chevrolet truck for the kind of work you do. In delivery trucks, for instance, in addition to regular panels and pickups, we have eleven different sizes of ready-made walk-in vans, some with full-width rear doors.

Quality and value. Chevrolets today are a lot more truck than your money bought the last time, and yet the price tag is just about the same as 5 or 6 years ago. Call your Chevrolet dealer for information or for a demonstration.

Volunteer Firefighters Hardy Group

LAKS GEORGE, N.Y. (AP)—They come from New York City, Albany, Syracuse, from Fort Edward, Clemons, Hadley and nearby farms—the hundreds of men and boys who, off and on, for more than a week have battled the flames eating into New York's vast and valuable forestlands.

These volunteers are engaged in a near-ceaseless effort to contain the fires cropping up in tinder-dry woods.

Today about 75 fires were reported burning in woodlands across the state. Showers were forecast for some areas but the Weather Bureau held out little prospect of a good soaking rain.

Some of the firefighters, including six teen-aged boys who had to hike for about 30 miles with scarcely a ride, slept on bare ground without blankets. When they could stand It no longer in the 30-degree temperature in the Adirondacks, they walked a mile to a house, where they were taken in.

Who comes to fight fires and why?

A professor in Albany telephoned the Conservation Department office near here to ask directions to the fire-fighting headquarters at the foot of Spruce Mountain, 25 miles to the northeast.

A Conservation Department supervisor, Robert E. Richards, asked why he wanted to come. The professor replied that he loved the Adirondacks.

Some come for the excitement others to save property. It's hard work and there is plenty of confusion.

One group, armed to fight a fire, missed it and walked right by to the next hamlet.

The volunteers are paid 55 cents an hour. They generally work a 12-hour shift. Some leave after one stint. Others want to stay. Since the state has no shelter for them, they must go elsewhere or sleep on the ground. Most have transportation of their own.

Tale Of Hurricane Flora's Turbulent Tropical Birth

EDITOR'S NOTE—A tropical disturbance is formed and starts spinning westward over the Atlantic on Sept. 16, 1963, 3,000 miles southeast of Florida. It develops into Hurricane Flora, the most devastating storm recorded in the Caribbean area. The following traces its birth, growth and effects.

By BEN FUNK
Associated Press Staff Writer

The day: Thursday, Sept. 26, 1963. The exact time: Unknown. The place: The tropical Atlantic, 3,000 miles southeast of the Florida coast.

The day is hot, sultry, oppressive. The wind blows in fitful gusts. The heaving sea is gray and sluggish as molten lead.

A whiff of warm, damp air rises from the sea, like smoke drifting up a chimney. Other air takes its place and is caught in the updraft. Very, very slowly, an air column grows.

Rising, the warm air expands and cools. The water in it condenses and falls. Heat is released, adding energy to the thing that has formed.

Affected by the spinning of the earth, the air begins to revolve around a hollow center.

Orbiting over the South Atlantic on Sept. 26, the Tiros 7 weather satellite photographed a poorly organized circular motion in a cloud mass.

Forecasters mark this down as an "area of suspicion" and plan to keep an eye on it.

FRIDAY, SEPT. 27

1:30 p.m. Tiros sends another picture of the same cloud mass. It has moved 400 miles westward.

For two days, there are no further reports. There is little ship traffic in that area.

SUNDAY, Sept. 29

6 p.m. The captain of a ship 350 miles east of Trinidad reports he is encountering light squalls and rising seas. His barometer is falling.

A hurricane hunter plane is readied at Roosevelt Roads, Puerto Rico, for a flight the next morning.

MONDAY, SEPT. 30

10 a.m. The hurricane hunter thrusts his plane through the "wall of the eye" of a small but tightly wound and "very dangerous" hurricane. It is moving fast toward the island of Tobago.

Tobago has two hours to prepare. The eye of the hurricane reaches the coast at noon.

The hurricane is very small. Highest winds are to the north of the eye. Trinidad, 30 miles south, escapes serious damage.

TUESDAY, OCT. 1

In Haiti, the Negro nation on the island of Hispaniola, the sound of the sea is subtly changing. From far out comes a single long, low swell. It hits the shore of the Tiburon Peninsula with an unexpected boom. Slowly, another comes, and another.

Flora, still far away, is growing more violent.

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 2

1 p.m. The waves are breaking high over the coast of Hispaniola. The weather remains calm. Wisps of cirrus clouds spread a pale, milky haze over the sky.

As the day goes on, the veil thickens. The sunset is spectacular, red and orange.

Midnight: A swirling breeze intrudes on the stillness and rustles the palm fronds in Haiti. The air is charged with electricity. Breathing seems difficult.

THURSDAY, OCT. 3

8 a.m. The wind gusts at 50 miles an hour. The sea is wild. A hard burst of rain comes and goes, to be followed by another. Huge swells bombard the coast and hurl foam far up the coral bluffs. From far out comes the thunder of drumming rain.

Natives cringe. Towns and villages built of mud, straw and tin offer no place to hide.

1 p.m. Two hurricane hunters criss-cross the storm at 10,000 feet. Sustained winds have reached 140 miles an hour, gusts 160.

2 p.m. Hurricane winds reach the south coast of the Tiburon Peninsula.

8 p.m. The wall of the eye, a solid barrier of water and wind whirling savagely in toward the calm center of the hurricane, crosses the coast between Aquin and Cotes de Fer.

Funneling down the canyons between mountain ranges, gusts reach 200 miles an hour.

Solid sheets of rain turn rivers and streams into torrents. Crashing down the mountainsides, they push the crops, even the soil, into the sea.

FRIDAY, OCT. 4

1 p.m. Flora slams into Cuba's Oriente Province. Now it is the biggest hurricane in history. It torments the seas for a thousand miles, from the Bahamas to Puerto Rico. More than 200 miles to the south, its rains flood Jamaica. Nine persons drown.

Floridians start to worry. Nassau boards up.

SATURDAY, OCT. 5

A gigantic high pressure system to the north stops Flora over Cuba.

11 a.m. Flora wanders aimlessly westward, is blocked again by high pressure over the Gulf States.

SUNDAY, OCT. 6

The hurricane turns southwest back into the Caribbean, lashing Camaguey and Oriente provinces.

MONDAY, OCT. 7

The storm stalls between the cities of Camaguey and Santiago de Cuba. Never has a single area taken such a sustained beating from a hurricane.

TUESDAY, OCT. 8

After four days of fantastic rain, floods have risen to treetop level in Eastern Cuba. Some areas never touched by floodwaters become inland seas.

Villages and towns are destroyed. Crops are ruined, cattle killed. Highways and railways are washed out. Mines are inundated. Factories collapse.

It lashes the lower Bahama Islands with 80-mile winds, then builds back up to 115 miles an hour.

Flora is racing toward her death over the cold waters of the North Atlantic.

Now relief workers can pick their way through the mud and debris. Gradually, the awful tale unfolds:

In Haiti: More than 5,000 dead. No really accurate count is possible. Many bodies are in the sea or under the mud.

In Cuba: More than 1,000 dead. Fidel Castro's Communist regime has suffered an economic disaster.

Flora takes her place in history — the most deadly storm ever to howl out of the tropical Atlantic. The old death record of 6,000, set by the Galveston hurricane of 1900, has been exceeded.

Publications Of SHS Win High Honors

The Tiger's Lair, SHS annual, was rated first among Class AAA entries and received a cup from Taylor Publishing Co. of Dallas.

Finishing second in the annual judging was Andrews, while Lamesa was third. The winning Tiger's Lair was edited by Charlotte Stewart and Judy Richardson.

The Tiger's Tale, SHS newspaper was judged second in Class AAA behind Andrews. Dumas was third.

Cups for the top three school newspapers were awarded by the Big Spring Herald.

Injured Bombing Victim Is Resigned To Darkness

By JIM PURKS

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)— Four weeks ago today Sarah Jean Collins, 12, was eagerly awaiting the start of school. Now she lies in darkness at a hospital.

Sarah Jean was injured in the blast that rocked the Sixteenth Street Baptist Church Sept. 15.

Four Negro girls were killed, including her sister, Addie Mae, 14. Sarah Jean's eyes were cut by flying glass.

Sarah Jean's daily existence now is through sounds. She can't do what she likes the most—to read.

Her right eye is covered by a patch; her left eye is uncovered, but swollen and she cannot see through it. Doctors say she will probably regain useful vision.

Nurses say Sarah Jean has moments of deep despondency, and at other times peps up. Never will she volunteer to talk about the bombing.

"Sometimes my eyes hurt," she told a visitor Tuesday, running her fingers back and forth across the bandages.

Sarah Jean says she heard about the deaths of the four other girls over the radio. With the others she was getting ready to sing in the choir when the blast went off.

What does she think about while lying in the hospital bed?

"About school," she answered.

She has a special friend in University Hospital, C. S. Norton, a young Negro who works in the radiology department.

"She adopted me as her brother, and I've adopted her as my sister," he said. "She talks to me, but she's quiet with most everybody else."

Sarah Jean was asked how she feels about the church bomber now that a full month has passed. Her lips moved once but she said nothing.

Norton answered instead.

"Speaking for Sarah — you don't mind if I speak for you, do you Sarah?—she would love to thank people who have been so nice to her, for the gifts, dolls, cards and beautiful flowers. I'm sure everyone is praying that she gets her sight back.

"As for the bomber, people are praying for him. We wonder what he would be thinking today, if he had children. No one knows who bombed the church but God. . . . He will face God. We turn this problem over to God, because no one else can solve Birmingham's problems. We leave it up to God to solve them."

"Isn't that how you've felt, Sarah?" Norton asked gently.

Her head still bowed, she nodded slightly.

Decrease In Water Store

AUSTIN (AP)— Major Texas reservoirs were less than two-thirds full of water last month, the Texas Water Commission reports.

A survey of a selected group of reservoirs showed conservation storage was 63 per cent of potential at the end of September, compared to 79 per cent at the same time last year.

During the month storage decreased from 7,718,000 acre-feet to 7,471,900 acre-feet in the reservoirs. One acre-foot contains 325,851 gallons of water.

The commission said "every major city in the state reported less rain than usual for the year so far.

Guard Held For Arson

NEW YORK (AP)—A guard at a children's home on Staten Island was arrested on an arson charge today several hours after a fire forced about 350 boys to flee.

The guard ran into a blazing unoccupied building with a fire extinguisher and was carried out unconscious from smoke inhalation.

The guard, who recovered quickly, was quoted officials as saying he had "problems at home" but did not know why he set fire to the four-story building.

None of the boys was reported injured. They fled from three dormitories at Mount Loretto, run by the New York City Catholic Charities. The fire, which for a time threatened the dormitories, was in the boys' section of the campus-like grounds. The home has about 850 children.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Thomas R. Sullivan said the guard, Edward Moresco, 18, of Oakwood, Staten Island, admitted to him and Fire Marshal Denis Hurley that he set the fire.

Moresco was jailed.
