

County Cotton Growers Approve Quotas 402 to 26

Collingsworth County cotton farmers voted 402 to 26 in favor of cotton marketing quotas for the 1968 crop, according to Millard Brown, office manager of the county Agricultural and Stabilization and Conservation program.

The vote was favorable nationally, it means that not only will quotas apply in 1968, with penalties on any excess cotton produced, but loans and price support and diversion payments will be available to growers who divert from 5% to 35% of their acreage and put the diverted acres in a conserving crop and meet other program provisions.

Mr. Brown said that 9 votes were challenged as to the eligibility of the voters. An additional 41 votes were returned to the office without having the certification signed, and these could not be counted.

Discusses Vietnam

Bob Price Reports on Work in Congress in 67

Congressman Bob Price gave an accounting of his stewardship in Congress to a standing room crowd of local people at the Cherokee Inn last Thursday, Dec. 21.

More people showed up for the breakfast than could be accommodated in the dining room. Those who arrived late were fed in the main cafe and joined the group as the speaking started.

In his opening remarks, Congressman Price discussed the war in Vietnam which has resulted in over 14,000 dead and more than 100,000 casualties up to date. "We have three choices in this war," he said. "We can withdraw, proceed as we are or invade North Vietnam and get it over with."

He drew applause when he said: "We must win this war. We have no right to ask our youth to leave home and family and risk their lives unless every resource and all of our efforts at home are solidly behind them."

He said that he would go to Vietnam shortly after January 1 and would report on his first hand observations.

Price also discussed the national debt, the financial situation of the nation, and the drain on our gold supply which is being headed by DeGaulle. He suggested that France be called upon to pay the debts she owes the U.S. from World War I and World War II or that all shipments of gold be cut off until France does pay.

He said that no cuts in the war budget for Vietnam should be contemplated; but that cuts could be made in the Great Society programs. He declared he was opposed to the suggested tax boost because the extra money would be used for these domestic programs or new ones that are not justified when we have over half a million men engaged in a war that should receive the unified effort of the nation.

Price explained the reasons for his vote for Federal Aid to Education. "Every school in the Panhandle is receiving Federal aid in some form or another. When I learned that 72 percent of the people in my district were in favor of continued Federal aid, I thought it was my duty to represent the views of the people I represent.

During the question and answer period, Rev. Ronald Croley said that he had recently attended a meeting where Congressman Ford and other Republican officials declined to comment on the prospective candidates for the presidential nomination. Congressman Price

Run-Away Girls Picked Up Here

Sheriff's Department officers picked up two 13-year-old run away girls from Denver, Colo., Sunday evening, Dec. 24, Deputy George Hooten reported.

The girls, who did not return home after they got off their school bus Friday afternoon, were believed en route to Florida. They were hitch-hiking.

Neither girl would tell officers her name or where she lived, but a student discount ticket from a Denver theatre in one purse led Sheriff John Rainey to contact the Denver police department. Bulletins issued on the missing girls had not reached here.

Parents of one of the girls flew to Amarillo Christmas day, rented a car and drove here to pick up their daughter. The mother and brothers of the other girl arrived later by car, said Deputy Hooten.

Development of Buck Creek Basin Asked

Supervisors of Salt Fork Soil Conservation District made the initial move toward the development of the Buck Creek Watershed in a meeting Tuesday night, Dec. 12.

This is only the first step, and a considerable period of time will be required to work up such a project, emphasized Gary Rees, work unit conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service.

It will be the second time the development of Buck Creek has been sought.

Within the immediate future, Salt Fork SCD supervisors will contact the supervisors of the Donley County Soil Conservation District and the Childress County Soil Conservation District, asking their cooperation in making this a project for the entire watershed. The head waters of Buck Creek are in Donley County and it flows into Prairie Dog Town branch of Red River in Childress County.

An application for approval of the watershed development will be made to the Texas Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts, Mr. Rees said.

If the application is approved a field review of the Buck Creek watershed will be ordered, then the project will be given a priority for planning.

"This will take quite a while, and the first thing is getting the cooperation of the districts involved," Mr. Rees continued.

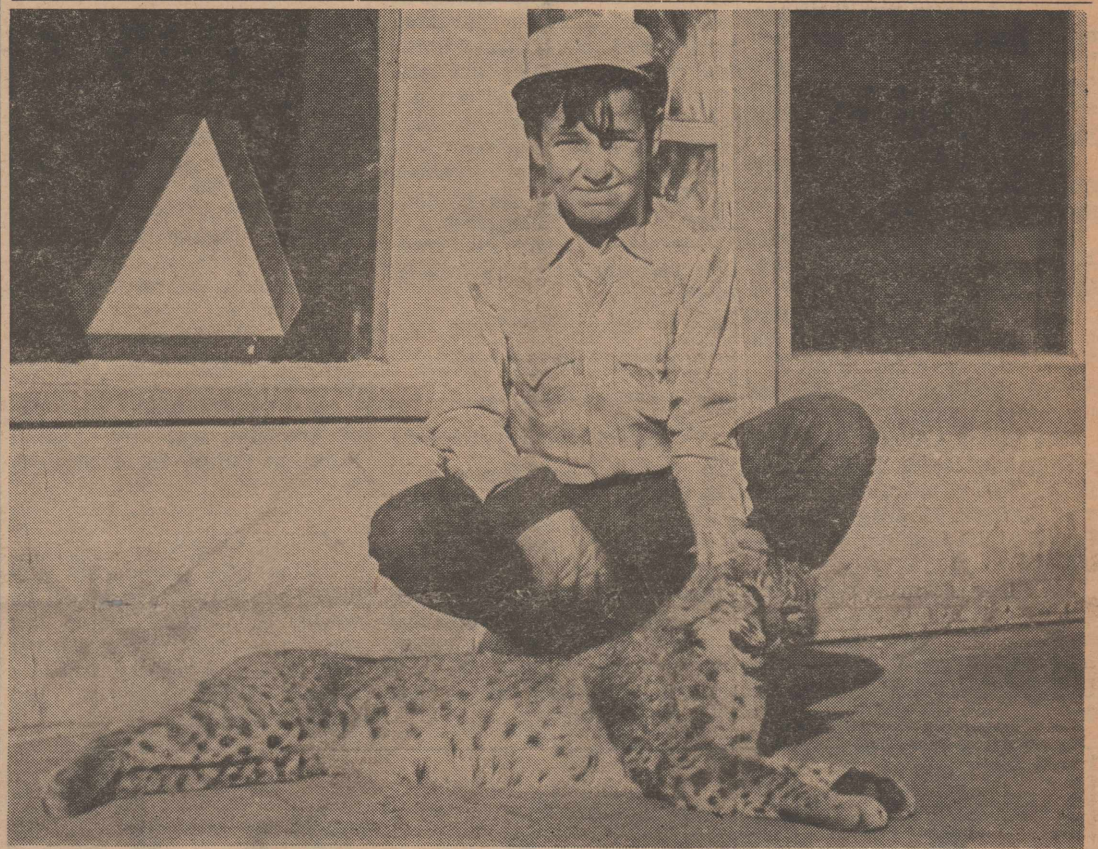

The board of supervisors of Salt Fork SCD includes John Robert Henard, chairman; Ted Wheeler, vice chairman; Orville Vaughan, secretary; Pat Bradley and Otis Emmert, members.

The supervisors at present are thinking in terms of a series of dams on the watershed. Such a project would be financed by an appropriation by Congress.

Mr. Rees estimated that the entire watershed in the three counties includes about 140,000 acres. Some work was done in seeking the Buck Creek Watershed improvement in 1959, but the application was disapproved.

Since then, requirements have changed and pollution, recreation, municipal use and irrigation would be among the factors entering into the consideration of the project for approval now.

12 Teams to Play

Annual Wellington Basketball Tournament Slated Jan. 4 - 6

The annual Wellington High School Basketball Tournament is slated for Thursday through Saturday, Jan. 4 to 6, Coach James Stavenhagen announced.

Twelve teams will compete, six in each the boys and girls divisions.

Play will begin at 9 a.m. on Thursday and eight games will be played that day. Four games are slated for Friday and four, including championship and consolation finals in both divisions, on Saturday.

Playing in the girls division are Wellington, Shamrock, Paducah, Samnorwood, Quitaque and Altus, Okla. Boys teams come from Altus, A and B, Wellington A and B, Quitaque and Samnorwood.

"It will be hard to find any six girls teams more evenly matched than these six," Coach Stavenhagen declared. "We have played all except Shamrock, and it has been a real good game with each of them. Shamrock has a good ball club, too, so we know there will be some fine games."

"The boys bracket may not have as many good teams, as Shamrock and Paducah are in district play and we have substituted Wellington and Altus B teams. All these are good teams, however, and we should have some real stiff competition."

First, second and consolation trophies will be given in each division. All-tournament teams will name 5 boys and 6 girls.

The first round games will include:

9 a.m. Wellington and Shamrock girls.

10:15 a.m.: Altus B and Wellington boys.

1 p.m.: Paducah and Samnorwood girls.

2:15 p.m.: Quitaque and Samnorwood boys.

3:30 p.m.: Quitaque and Altus girls.

6 p.m.: Wellington B and Altus boys.

The winners of the first two girls games will meet at 7:15 p.m. and Thursday play will be rounded out when the winners of the Altus B-Wellington boys game meets the winner of the Quitaque-Samnorwood tilt.

Friday action will start at 1:30 p.m. in the consolation bracket with the loser of the Shamrock-Wellington girls game meeting the loser of the Paducah-Samnorwood game. Then at 3 p.m. the loser of the Altus B-Wellington boys game will play the loser of the Quitaque-Samnorwood game.

The semi-finals in the girls division is slated for 7 p.m. Friday and the boys semi-finals at 8:30.

On Saturday the girls consolation finals will be played at 1:30 p.m. and the boys at 3.

Championship finals in the girls division will start at 7 p.m. and the boys finals at 8:30.

Control Possible

Greenbugs Appearing in Area Wheat Fields

By Sammy Helmers
County Agent

Severe damage to wheat caused by greenbugs is occurring over much of the area. The greenbug is an aphid, but can be distinguished from other aphids by having a dark green stripe down the center of the back and with only the tips of the cornicles being black.

Greenbugs reproduce by giving birth to living young. With an optimum temperature of approximately 74 degrees these offspring can then begin reproducing within 7-8 days. For a reproduction period of 23 days one female greenbug can produce 71 offspring. With this tremendous rate of reproduction, greenbugs can build up to large numbers in just a short period of time.

Although the optimum temperature is approximately 74 degrees, greenbugs can reproduce quite readily at temperatures down to 55 degrees. At 55 degrees the natural enemies of greenbugs reproduce very slowly, thus allowing a build up of greenbugs such as we are now seeing in many areas.

With temperatures of 40 to 50 degrees greenbug reproduction and activity is drastically reduced.

Greenbugs can survive quite low temperatures. At a temperature of zero, some greenbugs will be killed but many will survive.

The cold weather we have had this past week will help considerably in preventing a further build up of greenbugs. If the temperature again reaches approximately 60 degrees, control measures may have to be initiated.

Populations of 25-50 greenbugs per linear foot of row on young plants map warrant treatment. The following may serve as a guide in determining the need for treatment:

Plant Height (inches)	No. greenbugs per linear ft.
3-6	100-300
4-8	200-400
6-16	300-800

The insecticides recommended for controlling greenbugs are malathion, methyl, parathion, and parathion. If heavy infestations of greenbugs are present at least 0.5 pound per acre of methyl parathion or parathion may be required. More effective control of greenbugs is obtained when the temperature is above 50 degrees. Chemical control is expensive and should be approached with caution.

Federal Gas Tax Credit Part of Income Tax Report

COLLEGE STATION.— The Federal Gas Tax refund of 4¢ per gallon on gasoline used on a farm for farming purposes will now be claimed as a tax credit on the annual income tax report and must be filed before the end of the tax reporting period, which is April 15. Gas tax credits will not be allowed on late reports.

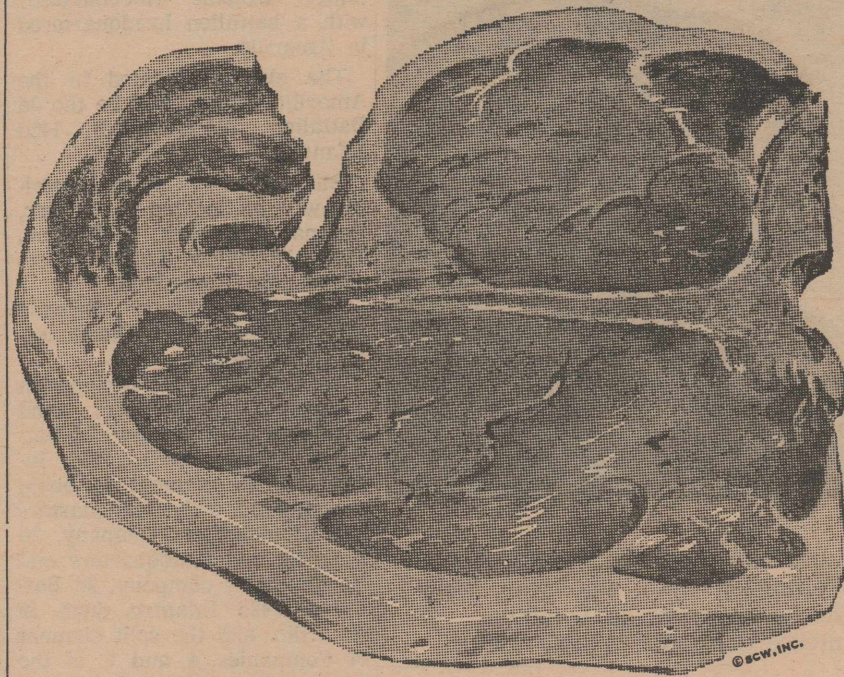

The tax credit has been extended to include the federal tax on lubricating oil and 6¢ per gallon, and on diesel fuel and special motor fuels used other than in highway vehicles, according to James Mallett, Extension farm management specialist at Texas A&M University. Formerly the gas tax refund period was July 1 to June 30, and claims were to be filed by Sept. 30, according to Mallett. Since this change was initiated in 1966, this will be the first full year for the new filing system. Farmers will claim the federal tax credit on qualifying fuels and lubricants purchased during the 1967 calendar year.

For more information, Mallett suggests that a copy of IRS publication number 308, be obtained from the district director of the Internal Revenue Service or from the local county agricultural agent.

Constable is derived from Latin words meaning "master of the horse".

By Leta Hill

"Undecking" the halls of boughs of holly can be almost as much fun as putting them up, if the whole family helps Mom do a quick and efficient job.

The tired tree is the main item to dismantle. By using assembly line techniques, you will be surprised at the speed with which the tree and its ornaments can be whisked away.

Let the tallest member of the family hand down the sparkling baubles, one at a time, to one of the older youngsters who wipes each one off with a sudsy sponge before handing it on to help Number Two. She dries the ornament, wraps it in tissue, and packs it in a partitioned box. This box, in turn, goes at the bottom of a big carton used to store the tree decorations. The tinsel goes next, then the star or angel for the top of the tree, and the lights last — after each bulb is wiped clean. Next year, just open the carton and trim the new tree — starting with the items at the top and working down. What is more, everything will be shining clean and ready to use.

Carry another carton or basket to gather other greenery from mantels, doorways and mirrors without scattering needles or dried holly berries. Remove ribbons from wreaths and launder them before storage.

After decorations are packed, check to see if they have left sticky pitch spots. Candle drippings can be carefully scraped from wood surfaces with a wooden spoon.

Spread a sheet on the floor and lay the tree on it to be carried away without leaving a trail of dry needles through the house.

New Year Resolutions
Most New Year Resolutions belong in the realm of never-never land! They are pure fantasy made only to be broken. With this in mind I resolve to be in my office as much as possible, especially for those citizens who can never find me in my office.

Seriously, everyone should make some practical, achievable resolution and try hard to "keep" it. Why not resolve to feed your family more nutritious meals using the basic four food plan, or resolve to make your home more liveable. Or you could resolve to learn more about the new fabrics, their finishes and their care.

There are numerous resolutions you as a homemaker could make and with a little discipline your resolution could be achievable. If your County Home Demonstration Agent or County Agent can be of any help please contact us in our office in the Courthouse.

What's New?

To end laundry room clutter and save steps on washday, are the purposes of a new dispenser that has three leakproof compartments. The easy-to-keep-clean, all plastic unit dispenses dry soap into a detachable, transparent measuring cup. Liquid detergents, bleach, or softeners flow from two push-button sections. A special, non-slip wall mount allows convenient hanging over the washer.

A new design in children's sleepers lets a tot put his best toe forward — without its wearing out before the garment itself. Along with non-skid soles, these sleepers have special "toe shields." Both are made of rubber which is easy to keep clean.

Bathroom windows and glass partitions can be frosted for greater privacy with a new aerosol spray. Used on light bulbs and lamp reflectors, this spray reduces glare and diffuses light. The frosting can be washed repeatedly with soap or detergent suds, but can be removed with lacquer thinner.

A new squeeze-tube silicone adhesive — which leaves only a translucent film — is claimed to mend china, glass, and pottery so securely that repaired items can withstand oven heat, refrigerator cold, and the very hot water used in dishwashers. This is manufactured by the well-known Dow Corning Corporation.

Some things to look out for in the future: Glass walls that can be changed from transparent to opaque to save on heating and cooling costs; stronger and lighter automobile bodies made of plastics; a device in your home furnace to generate all the electricity needed for lighting and appliances; an electric car that costs only two cents a mile to run and can be recharged at home over night.

YOUR FRIENDLY SERVICE BANK

A Message to Our Customers and Friends At the Beginning of The New Year

Over the past few years, the business of commercial banking has become much more complex and vastly broader in scope. National and international monetary conditions directly affect all banks almost simultaneously. We accept this change as a challenge and look to the future with anticipation.

The year 1967 was a period of extreme stress on our country's financial structure. We are grateful to have passed through this year with very favorable results. Our earnings rose to a new record.

December 1st, 1967 saw your bank become a three million dollar total resource bank for the first time in its history. In the past two and one half years the deposits in your bank have increased 100% or double what they were in December 1965.

We are optimistic about our prospects for 1968, although our projections suggest intense competition from all levels. We expect the economy for our area to remain strong as more of our farmers continue to diversify their operations. Loan demand should remain high, augmented by more cattle loans. An increase in money rates nationally is foreseen.

We have increased our capital account by taking advantage of the Internal Revenue Service ruling with respect to reserves for contingencies.

We wish to express our gratitude to our loyal friends whose co-operation has made our past years so successful. We shall strive to merit your confidence in the future.

Mrs. Leigh Kent Carter

Janice Lea Cudd Weds Leigh Carter in Church Ceremony Tues. Evning

Miss Janice Lea Cudd became the bride of Leigh Kent Carter of Canyon on the day after Christmas, Tuesday, December 26, in a ceremony performed at six o'clock in the evening in First Methodist Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Tatum Cudd, 1503 Graham Street, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lynn Carter of Route 1, Wellington.

The Rev. John Fitzgerald, pastor of First Methodist Church in Matador, officiated.

Church decorations were an arched candelabra holding votive candles, and at each side tall tree candelabras, baskets of white chrysanthemums and spiral candelabras holding cathedral tapers. Tall tapers also burned in aisle candelabras.

Wedding music was presented by Mrs. Granvel Killian of College Station, organist, and Raymond Horton, Jr., soloist. Mr. Cudd gave his daughter in marriage.

She wore a floor-length gown of white crepe in modified empire style. Lace accented the bodice, which was fashioned with a batteau neckline and long fitted sleeves. The lace motif was used again lavishly on the skirt and the cathedral train, which was attached with a bow at the waistline.

The bride's lace mantilla was held by a small pill-box headpiece, and she carried a bouquet of cymbidium orchids, with rosebuds and stephanotis.

Mrs. Jim Ferguson of Lubbock, cousin of the bride, was her matron of honor and Miss Susan Sullivan was maid of honor.

Bridesmaids were Miss Belva Bradford of Stinnett, and Miss Darlene Bragg of Estelline, and Miss Jan McGill was the junior bridesmaid.

The attendants wore floor-length red velvet dresses of empire design, with scoop necks and three-quarter length bell sleeves. They carried white fur muffs, with sprays of red carnations and holly.

Granvel Killian of College Station was the best man. Groomsmen were Bill Durfee of Lubbock, Arthur Woods of Little Rock, Arkansas, Freddy Hoffman of Amarillo and Billy Henard, while ushers were Jim Lindsey, brother of the bride, Mark Strickland, Sandy Covey and Rodney Kane.

Mr. Lindsey and Mr. Strickland lighted the candles.

Kelly Covey was the flower girl.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Cudd were hosts at a reception in the church parlor to honor the couple.

The bride's table was laid with a white cloth and holly and chrysanthemums, with red bows, formed the centerpiece. Silver and crystal appointments were used.

Members of the house party were Mrs. Larry Donaldson of Plainview, Mrs. Richard Mauldin of Stillwater, Okla., Mrs. Larry Oswalt, Mrs. Auther Jones, Miss Irene Young of Corpus Christi, and Miss Phyllis Cudd of Tulsa.

After the ceremony, the couple left on a wedding trip to Red River, New Mexico, and upon returning, they will be at home at 117 28th Street, Canyon.

The bride was graduated from Wellington High School and attended Texas Technological College in Lubbock. She is presently enrolled in West Texas State University, Canyon.

Also a Wellington High School graduate, Mr. Carter attended Tarleton State College in Stephenville and Clarendon Junior College. He is now employed at the Buffalo Barber Shop in Canyon.

Shower Honors Miss Jan Cudd

A spice shower was given to honor Jan Cudd in the home of Mrs. Larry Oswalt Friday, December 21. Sharing hostess duties were Mrs. Jim Henard and Mrs. Edd Henard. The honoree was married to Leigh Carter Tuesday, December 26.

Guests made mixed and white rice bags to be used at Miss Cudd's wedding, then a game, unscramble the letters to make the name of a spice, was played, with Mrs. Granvel Killian winning the prize.

Christmas decorations were used.

Guests included Mrs. Wayne Cudd, Mrs. Frank Light and Mrs. Jimmie Strickland, the mother, grandmother and aunt of the bride respectively; and Miss Jan Glenn, Miss Aleta Owens, Miss Beverly Singley, Mrs. Richard Mauldin, Mrs. Dan Henard, Jr., Mrs. Granvel Killian, Miss Susan Sullivan, Miss Leslie Covey, Miss Mary Ann Burkhalter, Miss Anna Kay Kelso, Miss Karen Richardson, and the honoree, Miss Cudd.

Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Iswell and sons of Arlington spent Christmas with her sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Oney and family.

The Wellington Federated Music Club met Tuesday, December 19 in the parlor of First Methodist Church.

Excerpts from the Methodist Choir cantata were sung by Carey Lewis, Cathy Singley, Debbie Lewis, Vicky Saunders, Sandra McGill, Jane Thompson, Patricia Thomas, and Cherry Lewis. Mrs. Richard Nall accompanied them at the piano.

It was announced that Cherry Lewis has been named Musician of the Month, and she received the certificate that goes with that honor.

Mrs. Lowell Wells called the business meeting to order. The treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Velman Warrick.

One new member was welcomed, Mrs. Kyle Lindley, who is organist for the Nazarene Church.

Mrs. Hiram Cudd gave a reading. The hymn of the month, "What Child Is This?" was led by Mrs. B. M. Sims while Mrs. Truett Holland was pianist. Mrs. Cudd recorded the song on tape and played back to the group to hear.

Mrs. Wells and Mrs. Cudd were hostesses. The table was decorated by red candles with green holly wreaths.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. D. C. Lacy, Mrs. Holland, Mrs. Bill Bradley, Mrs. Richard Nall, Mrs. Rufus Sweat, Mrs. W. O. Vaughan, Mrs. Velman Warrick, Mrs. Sims, Mrs. Ernest Harwell, Mrs. Dan Henard, Jr., Mrs. Kyle Lindley, Mrs. Don Van Pelt, Mrs. Jess Peters, and the hostesses, Mrs. Cudd and Mrs. Wells.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Joseph Cagle, Jr., are the parents of a daughter, Elizabeth Ann, born December 26 in St. Joseph's Hospital. She weighed six pounds and five ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. James Edward Henard are the parents of a girl, born December 14 in St. Joseph's Hospital. She was named Sandra Lynne and weighed seven pounds and 12 ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Dickson

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Dickson Observe 64th Wedding Anniversary Wed.

A Wellington couple, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Dickson, observed their 64th wedding anniversary Wednesday, December 27. It was a day spent quietly at their home, with children and grandchildren joining to honor them on an occasion that comes to only a few. They live at 1104 Ennis Street.

In a sense, it was more than a wedding anniversary, for both Mr. and Mrs. Dickson have had birthdays within recent weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Dickson have lived in Collingsworth County since January 1928, coming first to the Kelley community. They farmed there until 1947, when they retired and moved to their present home.

In celebrating their 64th wedding anniversary and their 86th and 81st birthdays, Mr. and Mrs. Dickson give credit to hard work, clean living and helping others as the reasons they have achieved long and happy lives.

The parents of nine children, they now have six girls and one son living. They are Mrs. Maybourn Bass of Tulsa, Okla.; Mrs. A. R. Meador of Borger; Mrs. F. L. Cornelius and Mrs. Steve Owens of Wellington; Mrs. Shelton Nash of McLean; Mrs. J. T. Thomas of Lawton, Okla., and J. Maurice Dickson of Garland.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Dickson were born in Arkansas, he at Hot Springs, Nov. 14, 1881, and she at Waldron Nov. 30, 1888. She is the former Della Mae Smith.

They came to Texas with their families in 1898 and settled near Paris. Mr. Dickson is the son of C. B. Dickson, who was from a family of 21 children and was a veteran of the Civil War.

Mr. and Mrs. Dickson came to West Texas in 1924.

Mr. Dickson recalls as a boy clearing land, planting their crops by hand, and farming with oxen. Today's farming is progress, he notes, but he thinks that today's farmer doesn't know what a hard day's work is.

Mrs. Dickson added that rearing nine children, cooking, sewing and keeping them well was also a full day's job. They both find this a good world. They like to reminisce about the good old days but would not trade today's comforts for the past.

Agriculture Turns to New Directions in Coming Year

Collingsworth County is looking in new directions to raise agricultural income in 1968.

The year just ending, 1967, saw the establishment of several feed lots on a larger scale than any set up so far. These have created a new market for locally grown grain sorghum and it will continue to grow.

Stronger interest is seen in growing fruit, grapes and nuts for commercial production. Fruit has proved itself over a long period of years, but thinking now is in terms of expansion to a larger scale for processing.

A return to alfalfa growing appears due. Collingsworth, you will remember, was once the ranking alfalfa seed producing county in Texas, until insects forced its almost complete abandonment. New varieties, new ways of fighting alfalfa's enemies, have brought its return on a limited scale within the last year or two.

These are indications of how Collingsworth farmers and ranchers may be thinking in 1968. Our agriculture is strong, and this strength will be maintained by promotion such as this.

RUSH HOUR in the swimming pool is just about any hour at Summerland, a popular all-weather recreation center on the outskirts of Tokyo. A huge pool, baths and palm-ringed terraces are covered by a massive plastic dome. Major flaw is lack of air-conditioning. As the day wears on, temperature and humidity mount.

AUSTIN.—Closer relationship between junior and senior colleges is inevitable.

Crowded senior college campuses across the state have convinced the Coordinating Board of the Texas College and University System that educational emphasis cannot be laid solely on the larger schools in the future.

Answer seems to be a junior college program that offers two-year courses of study which then can be transferred to the four-year colleges for degree credit.

Dr. Jack Williams, commissioner of higher education, has submitted to the board a plan to establish guidelines for future relationship between the two fields of education. It also sets up 52 geographic regions in Texas for junior college development, 18 of which have no junior college.

Idea behind the regional approach is to prevent creation of any junior college in an area which cannot support it and to encourage the development of junior colleges in areas needing them.

None of the existing public junior colleges would be dislodged by the plan. But each of the 52 regions would have at least one junior college in it. Envisioned is a junior college system of 70 to 75 campuses.

In briefing junior college presidents on the proposal, Commissioner Williams cited the importance of community two-year colleges in the overall higher education picture. According to Williams, 727,000 Texas students will be attending colleges and universities in this state by 1985. And junior colleges must be able to take care of 305,525 of them.

New schools would be recommended only where enrollment of at least 500 students could be expected by the end of the third fall term and 1,000 by the fifth term.

Recommended regions would include seven Panhandle divisions. These would center around Borger, Amarillo, Clarendon, Levelland, Lubbock, Plainview and the Oldham-Parmer-Deaf Smith-Castro Counties area.

In West Texas, the regions would encompass El Paso, the Trans-Pecos area, Odessa, Big Spring, Wichita Falls, San Angelo, the two junior colleges in Eastland County, Uvalde and a 12-county region around Mason County.

North Texas districts would center around Weatherford, Dallas-Fort Worth, Cooke County, Sherman, Paris, Texarkana, Hill County and Corsicana.

South Texas section of junior college education would be Laredo, San Antonio, the Lower Rio Grande Valley, Alice, Corpus Christi, Bee County, Wharton, and the Caldwell-Gonzales-Guadalupe-Wilson Counties area.

East and Southeast Texas areas would have schools in the regions of Longview and Pano-la County, Tyler, Lufkin, Galveston, Houston, Beaumont-Port-Arthur-Orange and two other four-county areas just northwest of Beaumont.

Central Texas junior college education would be centered around Waco, Bell County, Austin, Brenham, Bryan-College Station and San Marcos.

Public hearings on the proposals will be held in Austin on Jan. 8.

COURTS SPEAK.—District Court at Corpus Christi has upheld Atty. Gen. Crawford

Martin's opinion that voter registration applications cannot be submitted in bulk by third parties. Court refused to serve a writ of mandamus to Nueces County tax assessor-collector to issue registration certificates where applications were turned in by someone other than the applicant's closest relatives. Decision will be appealed.

State Supreme Court will hear arguments Feb. 21 as to whether the state may tax casing-head gas used for lifting oil to the surface.

A Jan. 10 hearing has been set at Sarita (Kenedy County) on an injunction order that stopped Indiana and California firms from exploring ruins of an old Spanish ship on state-owned land near Port Mansfield.

NEW HIGHWAYS.—Texas Highway Commission has approved a "consolidated highway program" which will include $362,000,000 construction or reconstruction of 1,668 miles of non-interstate highways over the next two years.

Master plan places emphasis on what the Texas Highway Department calls its "bread and butter" routes. "These highways of the primary system are the transportation lifelines for a vast number of Texans," the Commission said. "Our people and commerce are deeply involved in these routes yet many are outmoded."

That $362,000,000 covers the state's part for acquisition of right-of-way on 557 miles of U.S. and state highways, which will cost $27,000,000. Local governments will pay half of the cost.

VETS LAND BONDS SOLD.—Veterans Land Board sold $30,000,000 worth of new Veterans Land Bonds at the low interest rate of 4.283. First National City Bank of New York and Harris Trust and Savings Bank of Chicago and Associates were low bidders.

Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler termed the rate "impressive." He said it will enable veterans of World War II the Korean War and Vietnam to purchase property at 5% down payment and 5½% interest on the balance over a 40-year period.

Board will begin taking applications to buy land about January 15.

APPOINTMENTS ANNOUNCED.—Gov. John Connally appointed Tommy V. Smith of Austin acting commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics to finish the unexpired term of Charles H. King, Jr., of Dallas, who resigned.

Connally also appointed Thomas A. Wheat, Liberty attorney, as 75th district judge (for Liberty and Chambers counties). Wheat succeeds Judge P. C. Mathews who resigned effective Dec. 25.

VOTER REGISTRATION DRIVE.—Secretary of State John L. Hill, as chief election officer, has announced plans for a statewide voter registration drive throughout January.

Hill has asked daily newspapers to publish registration application forms at least every Sunday and weeklies to carry them in each issue. Forms may be filled in and sent to the county tax assessor-collector.

Hill noted that, for the first time, all persons over 60 who live in towns under 10,000 population or in rural areas must register in order to vote. Deadline for all is Jan. 31.

TRAIN DISCONTINUANCE SEEN.—Missouri Pacific Railroad's application to discontinue passenger trains 7 and 8 between San Antonio and Longview will be heard by the Railroad Commission early in February at Longview, Austin and San Antonio.

Railroad brotherhoods have filed a protest. Notices of applications have gone to mayors of all towns along the route.

DRUG CONTROL PUSHED.—Rep. Burke Musgrove of Breckenridge wants to mobilize state agency resources to see that laws against drug abuse are enforced and the public told about the dangers of drug use.

Musgrove, one of the sponsors of the anti-LSD bill passed by the last Legislature, met with representatives of a number of state agencies and private groups in Austin to clarify whatever problems exist and to suggest solutions.

It was generally agreed that the drug-law enforcement division of the Department of Public Safety should be tripled in size and that the State Health Department should be made the clearing house for public information on drug use.

DRINKING DRIVERS.—If a study conducted in San Antonio represents the state as a whole, the Texas Safety Association says almost half of the drivers and pedestrians in Texas traffic accidents may have been highly intoxicated.

A 10-year blood-alcohol study by the Texas County Medical Examiner's Office shows 48% of the persons killed in San Antonio traffic accidents had .15% or more alcohol present in their blood.

That means that, theoretically, each of them had consumed

ed more than three highballs or more than six beers in his final hour. A driver with an alcohol content of .10% is considered by most experts to be too intoxicated to drive safely.

OIL ALLOWABLE INCREASED.—Railroad Commission boosted statewide oil allowable from 40.8% to 45.7% of potential for January. Figure permits 3,593,405 barrels daily production compared with the present 3,317,796 barrels.

Commission extended its temporary lease allowable system inaugurated in June to help increase production in Mid-East crisis.

INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT.—Two new source books on developing industry have been published by the Texas Industrial Commission. Titles are "Texas Community Profiles" and "Texas Plant Location Facts."

First book, compiled from information submitted by local organizations, give industrial development data for 375 communities in the state. It should be valuable to firms planning to locate in Texas.

"Texas Plant Location Facts" is a series of four booklets giving information on the industrial climate in Texas, as concerns prospective immigrant industries.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

Usual procedure when a high public official displeases a higher one is to move him off into another department with a raise in pay, but a Mr. Otepka of the State Department didn't get that treatment.

He got his wages cut by $5,000 per year, because he got caught blabbing to Congress about what goes on in the State Department.

There was more fuss over this than there was over Benedict Arnold, which shows that our Legislative and Executive Departments must be in a state of hostility, like they don't know they're working for the same country.

Many Decisions Await US Citizens in 1968

By ROGER W. BABSON

The coming year threatens to be one of varied and recurring crises. Virtually no area of human activity will be spared... social, economic, political, or international. After years of progress and prosperity, the American people will be faced in 1968 with many decisions that will prove difficult to make and even tougher to carry out.

Don't expect the final solutions to 1968's many problems to be worked out during the year ahead. But the manner in which our nation tackles its predicament will determine whether the U.S. will be able to strengthen its position as world leader... or be toppled during succeeding years and reduced to an inferior standing.

To be without hope is to sin. And we do have hope that our citizens and their government will rise to defeat the many antagonists — inflation, social corruption, greed, crime, fear, and despair — that are pressing upon us as the new year begins. It is said that the Oriental concept of crisis is opportunity. In that sense, we predict without reservation that 1968 will hold opportunities unlimited for our country.

1. Now that the pound has been devalued, perhaps our greatest opportunity for the year ahead is to prepare a strong defense for the dollar. We forecast that after some early fumbling both the Congress and the Federal Reserve will move with determination to protect our dollar.

2. The effects of the battle to save the dollar promise to be unpleasant. After an early-year surge to new high for dollar values and production, business will find the going rougher as the months unfold. Scarcer and more costly money will take its toll of growth.

3. Major stimulation to the economy in the early part of 1968 will come from a scramble by auto and allied lines to make up for production lost in 1967, combined with a stockpiling of steel and aluminum in anticipation of strikes later next year in these activities.

4. Some additional escalation of the Viet war will occur next year. But we have already experienced the major impact on business of the massive build-up in arms outlays; whatever additional procurement comes will not be a determining factor on the course of 1968's business.

5. President Johnson is torn between a desire to "pour it on" in Vietnam and bring home victory before voting time next autumn and his sincere wish to go down in history as a peacemaker. If recent and prospective tightening of the military vise on North Vietnam fails to bring results by late spring... look for spectacular moves toward negotiations. Under these circumstances we feel the chances are 60-40 that 1968 will mark the phase-out of our military operations in Vietnam.

6. But the most decisive conflict next year will not be fought on the battlefields of Southeast Asia. It will be here at home against the one enemy that has the power to destroy the U.S. ... INFLATION.

7. Contrary to the old adage that Congressmen won't commit political suicide by voting a tax hike in an election year, we do expect a revenue act in 1968. It may include excise imposts as well as income levies.

8. The Administration will be forced to reduce total expenditures for the coming year by $6 to $10 billion. While the war continues, most of this will have to be lopped off non-defense areas.

9. Congress will remove the 25% gold backing for Federal Reserve Notes early in the year.

10. The amount of goods tourists will be permitted to bring into the country duty-free will be reduced to zero in 1968.

11. Further restrictions will be put on foreign investments by U.S. corporations in the coming year; our government will encourage American companies to increase dividend payments by foreign subsidiaries.

12. Rationing of credit by the Administration and the Federal Reserve is a distinct possibility in the months ahead.

13. U.S. outlays for foreign aid will be slashed in 1968.

14. Our money managers will slow down the current high rate of money-supply increase as soon as Congress takes action to curb inflation.

15. But the tremendous outpouring of money during the whole of 1967 will continue, for some months, to exert upward pressures on interest rates and the general price level. It will also have an energizing effect on business. Hence, as money flow is cut back each year, there will be a delayed depressing effect on interest rates, prices and business... probably about midyear.

16. There will be repeated raids on the dollar; but it will not be devalued in 1968.

17. There will, however, be many discussions between financial experts here and abroad to develop a long-range plan for revaluing in terms of gold, or a more realistic basis — the currencies of all of the Free World.

18. The early-1968 uplift in business volume will give a lift to corporate profits; the fanning out of wage boosts, however, along with rising costs and taxes will later have a squeezing effect on profits.

19. Short-term interest rates will rise faster than long-term in the months ahead.

20. This will have a restrictive impact on the availability and cost of mortgage funds.

21. In turn, the recovery now under way in home building will be restrained and perhaps reversed as 1968 moves along... but apartment construction should remain on the uptrend.

22. Inventories will rise—perhaps sharply—in the first half of 1968... taper off later.

23. Business capital expenditures should start the year on a strong note; but as the year advances, prospects for further gains will become dimmer.

24. With wage guidelines now definitely junked, there will be a stampede by labor generally to bring contract gains in line with the huge advances made by the United Auto Workers; the annual salary concept for production workers will gain further acceptance in 1968 by a number of American industries.

25. A labor feature for the coming year will be widespread stoppages by state, city and local public employees; the battle on this front will surely be long and bitter.

26. With elections coming in the autumn, Congress will not vote any restrictive labor legislation in 1968. Although we anticipate that credit controls may possibly be invoked in the Administration's struggle with inflation, there is no chance that any serious attempts will be made to impose wage controls.

27. Upward pressures on the cost of living will be intensified during the first half of the new year, with advances tapering as autumn approaches. Overall, we look for another increase in living expenses of over 3%... and it would not surprise us if the toll should rise to the 4% level. The "bad boys" will continue to be soaring service costs — especially medical — and upsurges in transportation and finished-goods tags. Food may inch up a little more as processing costs mount further; but prospective plentiful supplies will act as a controlling factor.

28. Total cash receipts from farm marketings should advance moderately over figures for 1967; however, the relentless up-push of costs will take its toll, and farmers' net income will do well to improve even slightly... notwithstanding some relief from higher government payouts. Large marketings promise to restrain cattle quotes and hold this source of farm income in its recent low profitability groove. Meat prices, however, propped by bulging expenses, will be well maintained to firmer for the year. The consumer with storage facilities may benefit from time to time by watching carefully for sales and taking advantage of any buying opportunities provided by occasional runs of cattle fed to extra-heavy weights. Apparent determination by growers to cut back on poultry output threatens to deprive the housewife of one of her most prolific sources of reasonably priced meat.

29. Real estate will be a many-sided market in 1968. Prices for single-family homes will continue to advance as construction fails to satisfy rising demands and as all building costs move higher... particularly during the first half.

Demand for rentals in the middle and lower brackets will gain steadily; however, ability to satisfy these needs will be severely hamstrung by even more costly and scarcer mortgage money. Speculative purchases and the salability of vacant property, especially that in less desirable areas — will suffer from the drying-up of funds to carry such parcels. Broadly, the betterment that set in during the final six months of 1967 will probably not be maintained long in 1968.

30. Higher pay scales, the effect of recent increases in total money supplies, bigger social security outlays, and further advances in disposable income promise to give very strong support to retail trade during the early months of 1968 and for some time beyond. Only minor shadow is the evident reluctance of consumers to go as heavily into debt as in recent years. The purchasing power will be there, and only an optimistic shift in consumer attitudes will be necessary to ring up record sales gains—maybe 8% to 10%—at least during the first half-year. Later, efforts of the Administration and of the money managers to cool the inflation through taxes and cutbacks in government spending may slow the rate of retail upturn.

31. The trend in recent years has been toward a dwindling margin of U.S. exports over imports. This has come at a bad time for our chronic condition of imbalance in our international payments position. Devaluation of the pound and other currencies has hurt our ability to expand exports at a crucial moment for our balance of payments. Greatest hope for us in 1968 is that European nations that have been in a business slump will enjoy recovery... making a better market for our products there. We forecast that our government will discuss and perhaps implement, export subsidies during the year ahead.

32. Current talk of the possibility of an even "hotter" summer ahead in our racially imbalanced big cities should be discounted. Preparations already made and in the making should reduce the danger of the firestorms suffered in 1967. We feel that real advances have been made through the ballot box in major mayoralty elections. Another hopeful sign is the rising trend toward responsibility for bettering conditions on the part of businessmen and the private sector. We are willing to stick our necks out and predict that the summer of 1968 will not be as "hot" as was 1967's.

33. However, we are not optimistic on the course crime is pursuing. Recent reports indicate that Americans will be in even greater danger of being murdered, maimed, or robbed in 1968 than in 1967 (a frightening one out of 44).

34. Money pressures — from lessened availability and higher cost — point to lowered liquidity next year... with an attendant increase in bankruptcies, more difficult collections, and rising foreclosures.

35. We anticipate a year of rapidly shifting attitudes toward the stock market and toward groups of stocks and individual issues. Early-year up-sweep in business and selectively higher profits — combined with a liberal supply of money following the Fed's huge outpourings in 1967 — should pave the way for further progress by the popular stock averages. Later, as the battle against inflation intensifies, the stock market may become subject to a painful reassessment.

36. A year ago we predicted that in 1967 the "old aristocracy of the blue chips based on past performance" would be "replaced by a new aristocracy of super-able management based upon hopes of good future performance". Now it looks as if many of the issues representing concerns with super-able forward-looking management have just plain become overvalued in the market place. We believe it will be unwise in 1968 to chase after such.

37. As a consequence of the developing money squeeze, high quality (only) bonds of long maturity — both taxable and non-taxable — should provide excellent long-range investment opportunities for those seeking income during the first half-year.

38. If we are correct in the above assumption... we cannot be far wrong in predicting that the better electric-utility common stocks may also prove to be outstanding purchases for long-term growth.

39. Among the "old aristocracy of the blue chips" there are a number of industrial areas that have been pounded down in price to a point where real solid substance is clearly visible. One such group is the chemicals. The old-line major companies here — one that enjoyed a great bull market in the 1950's — may be in a buying range during 1968.

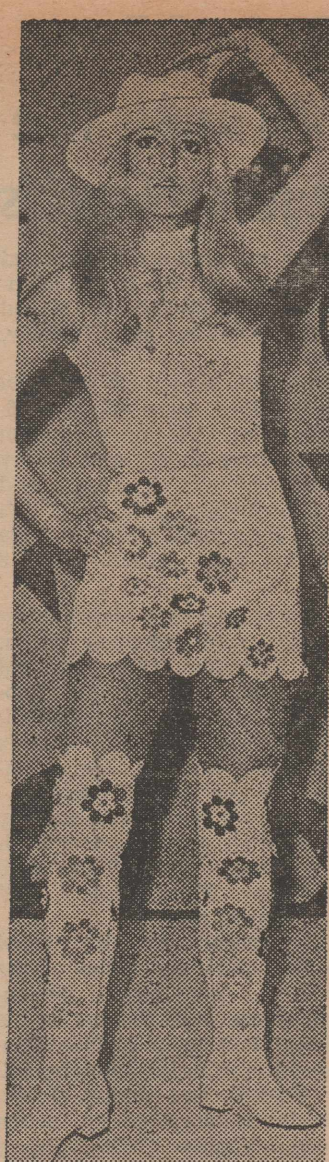

40. Still not among today's much-sought-after "performance" stocks... the big, multiple-risk insurance concerns represent another type of equity investment that could well afford high opportunity over an extended period of time to those who have the courage and foresight to pick them up when they have few friends. And they may have more "glamor" than many think... as they are showing a developing trend toward "conglomerating".

41. Another group that could reach long-term buying levels next year is banks. Although their profits are up now, they have not been popular. The reason: Every period of money squeeze raises doubts as to the degree of "wringing out" that bond portfolios and loans will have to take when money passes its crisis. That time may come in 1968.

42. High money rates have raised havoc with the prices of many large finance company stocks listed on the N.Y. Stock Exchange. Some of these have broad holdings in other lines; yet they are selling close to their "cellar" lows. When money rates froth up and crest over the next year — as we predict — a good investment opportunity will be presented in this group.

43. It seems almost a foregone certainty that auto production will soar... when the strike-struck plants finally get back to work. For a while then there might develop a speculative wave on these issues. But we predict it would be unwise to chase after auto stocks on any great early-year strength. They are cyclical in nature, and may experience some rough going during the upcoming battle against inflation. We think there are better opportunities in strongly situated aggressive merchandising outlets.

44. Despite pressures to cut back on spending next year, there will be a renewed flare-up of the anti-ballistic-missile scare. Look for additional appropriations to build a thicker shield than the thin one proposed by Mr. McNamara. This flap will be accompanied by a renewed buying wave in stocks associated with the program.

45. When discussions of inflation get into high gear in 1968, attention will again be focused on ways to "protect" against it. You will be told to buy stocks as a hedge. But remember then that stocks go up because their earnings climb, not because they are a "hedge against inflation." We predict that many will find to their sorrow that stocks hastily bought as inflation "protection" had no such mystical value.

46. There will also be a great buzzing in the coming months about gold stocks as a way to make money out of a dollar jump in the price of the precious metal. The devaluation of the pound caused a big rush into gold stocks. Since the dollar will not be devalued in 1968, we warn recent purchasers of such issues that they may have losses for a long time; although they may be right on some distant day, not next year.

47. We predict that a number of huge international concerns with shares traded in the U.S. and not subject to the interest-equalization tax — particularly those that do a big business with the "hard money" nations of the European Common Market — may do better than gold stocks during the year now opening.

48. War issues — so-called defense stocks — may not do so well in 1968 as equities of those concerns that will benefit from an end to the war build-up. Do not get "locked into" war stocks... simply because they boast high current profits and order backlogs.

49. Building issues are excellent examples of peace stocks. They look a little high now following 1967's recovery in home building; however, we predict that when the money pressure gets intolerable sometime next year, there may develop another opportunity to get into building equities with an eye to future substantial gain after the Viet phase-out.

50. In conclusion, under the stimulus of the Fed's 1967 "money bath" — and spurred by heavy strike-catchup output and strong activity to hedge against coming labor stoppages — business could soar during some of the early months next year. Gross National Product and the Fed Index of Production will both advance smartly. Sooner or later, however, the government will have to beat back the onrushing inflation. We do not believe that the American people will stand by and see their great country scuttled. And when the money managers stem the money flood — and the Administration and the Congress shrink the budget deficit — the upthrust of business and profits will be curbed. This may not be so pleasant for a while. It could be downright unpleasant. But it will surely hold far greater promise for a longer and sunnier tomorrow.

Plan Advanced to Provide TB Services

Collingsworth County citizens are asked to participate in plans to provide local tuberculosis services in this county.

Curt Lambert of the Texas Tuberculosis Association in Austin will visit Wellington in January to discuss with local citizens what can be done to provide better health opportunities locally.

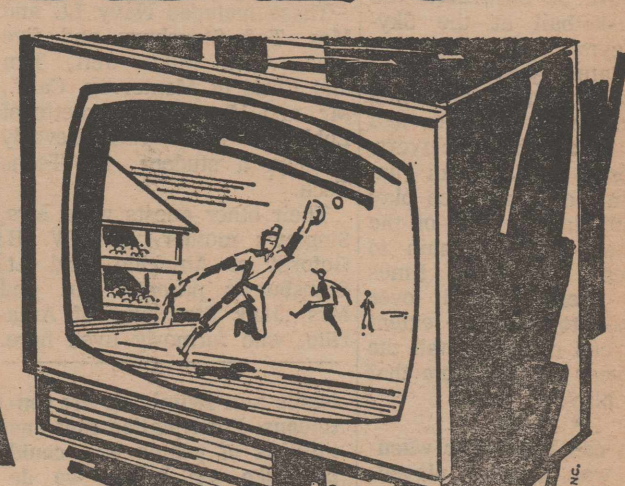

The Texas Tuberculosis Association has for years operated through a series of county associations. It is now in the process of forming "area" associations in which groups of counties band themselves together to offer a more complete tuberculosis program than is possible for one county to do.

Counties to be included in an area tuberculosis association are Carson, Childress, Gray, Potter, Randall, Wheeler, Armstrong, Briscoe, Castro, Collingsworth, Dallam, Deaf Smith, Donley, Hall, Hansford, Hartley, Hemphill, Hutchinson, Lipscomb, Moore, Ochiltree, Oldham, Parmer, Roberts, Sherman and Swisher. The first six listed of these counties have long had local tuberculosis associations.

"By pooling our resources in the entire 26-county area, we expect to do a more thorough job in each of the counties than we were ever able to do with each county operating separately," commented Lambert.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

After the busy Christmas buying season retailers are looking for better business than they enjoyed in the early fall months and their expectations have a solid foundation.

Roger Babson's article on the nation and the world will be found in another part of the paper. On the whole it is no more optimistic than it has been at this time for the past two years; but we seem to keep chugging along on all six cylinders. One thing that Babson predicts is that purchasers of gold stock may have losses for a long time instead of quick profits.

Farm income will continue steady and cattle raising will continue to be profitable and both of these are important to us.

Gene Morrow will start a ground school for prospective students who want to learn to fly and secure a private license. It is interesting to see more and more of the younger people of our community becoming interested in aviation. The more people we have who can pilot a plane the more likely we are to keep our airfield in first class condition and this is important to the future of our town. Morrow's school will start Jan. 9 and will continue each Tuesday evening through Feb. 6.

The coming year will be another big political year, presenting many things on which you will want to vote from the selection of commissioners through governor to president. There is one announcement in this issue and there will be more in the paper next week. You must register in order to be able to vote in 1968 and your age has no bearing on the requirement.

This week we received an order from John Fuson in Lebec, Calif., for a copy of "Trail Dust," by Douglas Meador which seemed routine enough. The order that surprised me however came from Lee C. O'Neil in Lubbock. He said he had not been able to find one in the stores and James Miller said he could not find it in Amarillo. You would think that some of the stores in these towns would have the book for sale.

There will be basketball and more basketball at the Skyrocket gym next Thursday through Saturday and you will have the opportunity of seeing some good teams in action and some exceptional players. It is only two weeks until the start of conference play in basketball; but most of the big football games remain to be played. In these times sporting events crowd over each other to such an extent that you can no longer tell the time of year by the game that is being played.

If you can remember when football was a game played in the fall, you are too old to play. Now they play football in the summer, autumn and winter. Baseball starts early and lasts a week longer and such sports as golf,

Judge Thomas Speaks at CAP Dinner

County Judge Zook Thomas was guest speaker for the meeting of the Wellington Civil Air Patrol Squadron Monday evening, Dec. 18, in the Farm Bureau building.

He told the group of the CAP responsibility in Civil Defense which he said includes communication and education.

He stated that maps of the county showing the location of public fall-out shelters are being made and will be available to everyone wanting them.

A salad supper preceded the program. This was in observance of the 26th anniversary of the organization of the Civil Air Patrol.

Table decorations carried out the Christmas theme.

Those attending were Squadron Commander Cliff Hartman, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Belew, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Morrow and Geney, the Rev. and Mrs. Ronald Crosley, LaRonna, Randy and Laura.

Mr. and Mrs. David Baumgardner, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Masten, Mrs. Walter Williams, and son Doug, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Nix, Lisa and Darwin, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas.

FTA Observes Holiday Spirit

The Future Teachers of America of Wellington High School got into the Christmas spirit by expressing appreciation to the teachers of elementary, junior high and high school by substituting for them one day recently.

Cookies and coffee were served by Tanya Horton, Susan Coffey, Deborah Peters and Cherry Lewis to the teachers.

The annual Christmas caroling party had an added attraction this year. The carolers were accompanied with guitars played by Mary Bearden and Carol Burba. The Christmas story was narrated by Nancy Sikes. Chris Hubbard set up a loudspeaker system for the narration.

The group and their sponsor, Mrs. Bernice Welch, were served refreshments at Carol Burba's home by Vickie Sherman and Waulen O'Hair.

Family Visits in Singley Home

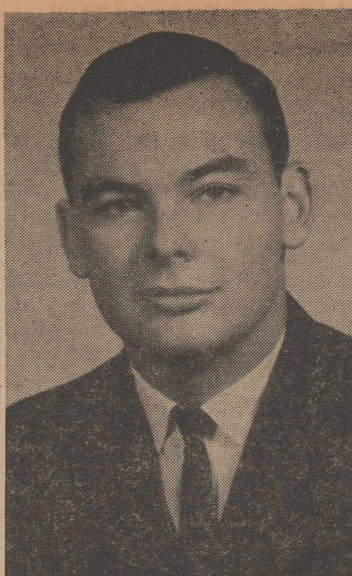

Mr. and Mrs. Jones Singley and daughter Cathy had as Christmas guests their other three daughters.

These included Navy Lt. and Mrs. Ted Stansbury and five sons, Alex, Mike, Jeff, Tim and Chris of Monterey, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. John Burdette of Lubbock, and Miss Beverly Singley, a student in Texas Tech.

Their other guests were Mrs. Singley's mother, Mrs. W. H. Goforth of Amarillo, and Lt. Stansbury's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stansbury of Amarillo, who formerly lived here.

tennis and swimming are continuous. For a nation that has millions of people who could not hike ten miles, we do have a multitude of sports.

Bill Spillman

Spillman Heads Baylor Juniors

Spillman was elected by a vote of 144 to 42 over his opponent.

Scholastically, he ranks in the top 25 percent of his class and he also works for the university newspaper, the Baylor Lariat.

He will enter Baylor Law School next year.

Houston will be stationed in an area extending from the Port Arthur-Beaumont area northward to Austin and Waco and a traditional infantry brigade headquartered in San Antonio will cover all of South Texas.

Brigadier General Thomas D. Blackwell of Austin will command the 71st Infantry Brigade (Airborne) and Brigadier General D. A. Thompson of Fort Worth will command the 72d Infantry Brigade (Mechanized), the state's top National Guardsman said.

Danny Watts gave scripture readings and was followed by religious Christmas carols sung by the boosters and junior departments.

Christmas gifts were distributed to children present.

Rocket B Teams Win Double Title Against Memphis

gave his views with a promptness and frankness that was refreshing. He analyzed the positions of the prospective Republican nominees as to their leanings to the right or left.

He classed Roosevelt, Percy and Romney as liberals and Nixon as a moderate and Reagan as a conservative. He felt that Romney had missed the boat by his unfortunate statement about being brainwashed. He commended the ability and accomplishments of Roosevelt, Lindsey and Percy. In his opinion, however, a team headed by Nixon with Reagan as a running mate was the one that was looked upon with the greatest favor by the rank and file Republicans of his district, as well as those he talked with from other parts of the U.S.

From Wellington, Congressman Price went on to Childress, Paducah and Matador. He visited some thirty communities in the Panhandle during the week.

Vickey Sherman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Sherman, has flown to Charlottesville, Va., to spend a few days with her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Scurry and Sherman. They plan to spend some time in New York and Vickey will return to Wellington around Dec. 30.

Men in Service

He is stationed at the U.S. Army Base at Furth, Germany, with the 504th Supply and Transportation Headquarters Company.

He entered service Jan. 13, 1966, and before going overseas he was stationed at Ft. Monmouth, N.J., and Ft. Lee, Va.

Oldham said that another Samnorwood area man, Bryan Stafford, is stationed at Furth but with another unit.

The young soldier will return to his unit in Germany Jan. 14.
