"Girl In Red" Tells Of Dillinger Death

WOMAN COMPANION OF SLAIN DESPERADO GIVES VERSION

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, July 25. —From the "girl in red" police learned today more about how John Dillinger walked into the trap that ended with death his career of crime.

The "girl in red," one of the two women who were with the Indiana outlaw just before he was killed by federal bullets, was Mrs. Anna Sage, 42, brown-haired and brown-eyed. Police arrested her last night at her home just around the corner from the Biograph theater, out of which Dillinger walked unsuspectingly Sunday night to his death.

Known As "Lawrence"

Mrs. Sage told police she knew John Dillinger as "Jim Lawrence," and that he posed as an employe of the Chicago board of trade.

From the "girl in red" after long questioning by the police came the story of the last woman Dillinger associated with, named by Mrs. Sage as Mrs. Roy Keele, 26-year-old divorced wife of a Gary, Ind., policeman—of how Dillinger spent his time just prior to the fatal shooting, and of how he said he went to New York recently "on a business trip." Mrs. Keele went by the name of Polly Hamilton.

But it was not learned whether Mrs. Sage or Mrs. Keele furnished the information with which Dillinger was trapped. Both fled from the scene of the shooting, but Mrs. Sage returned, after changing her red dress for another. Mrs. Keele declined to go back to the scene and later went to her mother's home in Fargo, N. D., Mrs. Sage said.

Secrecy Persists

Secrecy the government agents threw around the affair still persisted and it could not be learned whether either woman would make any claim to the $15,000 rewards that hung over the public enemy's head.

Captain Timothy O'Neil of the East Chicago police, who with Sergeant Martin Zarkovich was among the Indiana officers at the death scene, denied emphatically that Mrs. Sage had anything to do with the Dillinger trap, adding that an underworld character had seen Dillinger and had given the information to Zarkovich.

"All this talk about a woman in a red dress tipping us off to Dillinger's whereabouts is untrue," he said.

Captain Thomas Duffy of the Sheffield avenue police, who with Captain John Stege questioned Mrs. Sage at length before she was turned over to the custody of federal agents last night, said he believed that she had sheltered Dillinger knowingly or unknowingly for several weeks. It was in her apartment, the police said they learned, that Dillinger and Mrs. Keele first met.

Mrs. Keele's Picture

The "girl in red" told Captain Stege that Dillinger came to her house last Sunday evening, when he played cards with Mrs. Keele, whose picture, the police said they learned, was in Dillinger's watch.

Capt. Stege asked her, "after you had your dinner Sunday night, who

WITT ASSAILS J. V. ALLRED

CLINT SMALL REVIEWS LEGISLATIVE RECORD IN CAMPAIGN TALK

BY R. W. BARRY
Associated Press Staff Writer

Only three days remained today for candidates for nomination on the Democratic ticket to present their pleas for suffrage to the voters. The electorate Saturday will reduce the number of candidates from several hundred to a comparative handful which will enter a run off primary ending Aug. 25.

Edgar Witt, lieutenant-governor who would like to be elevated to the chief executiveship, challenged the record of James V. Allred, attorney general and one of Witt's opponents, in a speech at Austin.

Platform Challenged

Witt also challenged Allred's platform.

"I defy any man to tell the people what he would do," Witt said. "He has no platform. He is fighting the utilities and the lobbyists but he has been attorney general four years and has been too busy playing politics to find out our present laws protect the people against high utility rates and against lobbyists.'

Allred bore down heavily on his plans to maintain a high educational standard if elected governor.

"Some person are advocating cutting a year from grammar school, others a year from high school," Allred said. "Another plan is to charge tuition for high school children. But these plans are not in keeping with our constitution or the resolve of our forefathers to work for increasing opportunities for our school youths.

"The public school is the poor child's only hope. It must be kept open."

Hughes Hits Promises

Presposterous campaign promises and radical ideas were attacked by Maury Hughes at Longview, who said the people would no longer be fooled.

"The emergency of the hour is too great for them to listen to the empty promises and radical ideas of some candidates for governor," Hughes said. "They know that nothing but hyocrisy would lead a candidate to promise to build every man a home when they know he can't do it."

State rehabilitation on a permanent basis was advocated by C. C. McDonald at San Antonio. McDonald offered his plan as a substitute for federal relief.

McDonald stressed his platform plank proposing state aid to increase home ownership. McDonald would extend credit to the head of every family to enable him to own a $4,000 home. The state loan would draw five per cent interest and would extend over a 20 year period.

BRAZOS MEETING TONIGHT

LOSS OF LIFE FEARED OVER WIDE AREA

TOWNS CUT OFF WHEN WIRES BLOWN DOWN BY STRONG GALE

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, July 25—A strong gale, with winds estimated at between 70 and 80 miles an hour in some areas, lashed a long stretch of Texas coast between Houston and Corpus Christi today.

Telephone and telegraph lines were blown down, cutting off many towns. Fears arose that there might have been considerable property damage and possibly loss of life.

Phone Service Disrupted

Towns which could not be reached from Houston by telephone included Port Lavaca, Matagorda, Port O'Connor, Palacios, and Freeport. Of these, it was believed that Port O'Connor and Freeport were the hardest hit.

With a 125-mile stretch of coast line already feeling strong enough winds to level trees and small houses, the weather bureau at Washington said the most severe gales of the disturbance had not yet passed inland.

The bureau predicted that the storm likely would move inland at full force between Port O'Connor and Rockport between noon and 2 p. m.

Hundred of coast residents, remembering the hurricanes of the last two years, had moved out of the danger zone. Many small fishing craft were reported blown ashore and wrecked.

Barometer Falling

A. B. Johnson of the coast guard station at Port Aransas, situated far down the coast at the tip of Mustang island, said the wind there was blowing 50 miles an hour at 8 a. m. The barometer was down to 29.50 and falling steadily. Normal barometer there is 30.10. A four-foot tide surged over the beach.

There are about 500 persons on Mustang island and they have no way to leave. High water and wind stopped the ferry service to Harbor island this morning.

A steady rain was falling and heavy western swells were reported in the gulf there.

Victoria reported that many residents in the Port O'Connor and Port Lavaca began moving out late yesterday when the first reports indicated that the storm would move in that direction.

The towns of Angleton, Brazoria and others in that section lost their lights last night when the

SOVIET SEEKING TO ADJUST DEBTS

WASHINGTON, July 25. (AP)—Secretary Hull announced today that "a sincere disposition to reach an agreement" had been exhibited at the first conference between Alexander Troyanovsky, the Soviet ambassador, and state department officials over settlement of Soviet-American debts and claims at approximately $500,000,000.

The negotiations, which were transferred to Washington from Moscow when discussions there for nearly seven months failed to materialize into an agreement, involve debts and claims by American citizens and the United States government for approximately $325,000,000, including interest, loaned to the defunct provisional Kerensky government; $86,000,000 in three issues of imperial Russian bonds, and private claims for property alleged to have been confiscated under the Soviet's nationalization of property decree.

Heat Wave Toll Mounts Rapidly

DROUTH DAMAGE MOVES TOWARD BILLIONS OF DOLLARS; MORE THAN SEVEN HUNDRED DEAD

(By The Associated Press)

The sun seige attained its most severe proportions of the summer today, driving the number of deaths far above the 700 mark and the drouth damage toward the billions of dollars.

For the first time since the scourge started, however, early relief was predicted for the midwest, the furnace of the nation, while the east and Pacific coast enjoyed comparative cool.

Relief Hits Snag

The government's efforts to bring relief to the drouth sections by buying stricken herds and shipping them to slaughter or southern pastures struck a snag.

The farm administration announced that the Chicago stock yards strike and congestion at other livestock centers, has forced temporary suspension of purchases.

Heat deaths, piling up at times at the rate of 10 an hour, stood at 719 last night, and mounted today to 783. In Missouri alone 205 persons perished, Illinois 150, Ohio 81, Nebraska 55, Iowa 50, and Indiana, with 13 new deaths, reported 38.

The highest official temperature recorded yesterday was 117 at Vinita, Okla. Noblesville, Ind., sweltered at 112, and Quincy, Ill., at 111—its seventh successive day above 108.

STRIKERS FOR ARBITRATION

RELIABLE REPORTS ON WEST COAST HINT AT STRIKE SOLUTION

(By The Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, July 25.—Official announcement of the vote of striking Pacific coast longshoremen on whether to submit their differences to arbitration was awaited today as unconfirmed reports were circulated that ballots already tabulated indicated an overwhelmingly majority in favor of submission.

Returns from only two major ports, Seattle and Tacoma, remained to be counted today as the national longshoremen's board named by President Roosevelt assembled to complete the tabulation.

New Complications

Although Dr. Louis Bloch, secretary of the board, said that no announcement on the trend of the balloting had been made, the examiner stated it had learned upon reliable authority that the longshoremen had voted by an "overwhelming majority" to accept arbitration.

New complications arose, meanwhile, to bog the board's efforts at settlement of the widespread dispute which involves allied maritime crafts as well as the longshoremen.

The board had yet to determine how, where and who among the seamen should be allowed to vote in choosing representatives in collective bargaining.

Hickman Is Freed In "Lust Murder"

SAN FRANCISCO, July 25 (AP)—The question of "who killed Louise Jeppesen" remained unanswered today as Millard Hickman, 45-year-old marine engineer, was freed of the charge that it was he who strangled the Ogden, Utah, girl in Golden Gate park last May.

A superior court jury required only one hour and 49 minutes deliberation and but a single ballot last night to find Hickman innocent of the "lust murder."

The state had demanded the death penalty.

FATHER FACES QUICK PROBE

CONFESSES HE KILLED TWIN DAUGHTER TO GET INSURANCE

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, July 25 (AP)—The machinery of the law moved swiftly today to bring justice to E. H. Stuart, 27, unemployed former Oklahoman who confessed yesterday that he killed one of his twin daughters for her insurance.

Stuart said he killed pretty, four-year-old Dortha Stuart by holding her head under the stagnant water of a shallow creek until she was dead. The grand jury planned to begin an investigation of the case today.

"Too Many Children"

Stuart, who had twin girls, Dorth and Dortha, told officers he decided he had "too many children"—that he conceived the idea of killing one of them for the insurance, and said that he intended to use part of the insurance to bury the dead child and the rest to support the surviving twin.

Officers said that they had discovered that a $585 insurance policy on Dortha's life had been delivered to her father Monday.

THREE-MONTHS POLITICAL REPRIEVE IS GIVEN FRANCE BY PREMIER'S ACTS

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, July 25.—France had a three-months political reprieve today as Premier Gaston Doumergue resumed an interrupted vacation with the cabinet crisis solved.

Doumergue's threat to resign and let the politicians fight their own battles again saved the "political truce" government. The cabinet will be maintained unimpaired after yesterday's showdown.

Tension was so great that the premier embraced the two central figures in the controversy, Edouard Herriot and Andre Tardieu, and all ministers accepted Doumergue's ultimatum that the truce must be continued or "another ministry must be formed with another premier."

He so presented the situation that seven radical socialists, headed by Herriot, were obliged to assume the responsibility for any rupture.

The premier refused to accept Tardieu's resignation and told the others if they refused to remain the cabinet would be wrecked.

Radical socialists had demanded Tardieu's dismissal after charges and counter-charges flew in connection with an investigation of the Stavisky pawnshop scandal.

TO DISPOSE OF CATTLE NOW ON HAND

STRIKE THREATENS TO SPREAD; FEDERAL BUYING HALTED

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, July 25—The Chicago union stock yards reopened today under an agreement between officials of the yard and striking handlers to permit the disposal of stock on hand.

It was a "cleanup" market, designed to permit the merciful slaughtering of stock shipped in on ordinary commercial accounts. Yards officials were confident that all of the commercial stock could be cleaned up before 3 p. m.

A revised estimate placed the number of privately-owned cattle at a little more than 5,000. The remaining 65,000 to 70,000 cattle belong to the federal government and were purchased for relief purposes. In addition, there were 5,000 head of hogs and a few of sheep.

Cattle Feeding Begun

Striking handlers asserted that they would not interfere with the market so long as the handling was not done by strike breakers.

Meanwhile, the feeding of the cattle, most of which had received nothing but water, was begun by nonunion feeding crews.

Reports persisted that handlers for commission men, who have their own union, would join the strike at the close of the day, but union officials refused to comment. A walkout of union butchers and slaughter house employes was considered likely.

The federal government and state joined hands today to prevent a threatened spread in the union stockyards strike.

Carl Steffenson, secretary of the regional labor board of the National Recovery administration hurried here from Wisconsin to work for arbitration.

General Strike Threatens

State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney urged leaders of both parties to meet with him in a conference.

Meanwhile, strike leaders warned that unless their demands are met, a general strike of all workers would be called.

With the temperature at a record-breaking 105 yesterday, "white collar" workers were pressed into service to bring water to the cattle. But the undertaking was too great for the curtailed and untrained staff and most of the animals went without food and water, many perishing.

"Morals Case" Jury Holds Fate Of Two

LOS ANGELES, July 25 (AP)—Dave Allen and Gloria Marsh today awaited the verdict of a jury which heard their trial on morals charges growing out of an alleged "wild party" in the Hollywood film colony.

Allen, on leave of absence as head of the Central Casting corporation, a film employment agency, and Miss Marsh, redheaded extra player, expressed confidence in an acquittal as the the jury of eight men and four women took the case late yesterday. The jury failed to arrive at a verdict in two hours of deliberation.

Probe Into Langer Charges Launched

BISMARCK, N. D., July 25 (AP)—Designed to investigate the trial and conviction of ousted Governor William Langer, on charges of graft in state departments, solicitation of campaign funds and other alleged irregularities, the legislative fact-finding committee plunged into its work today.

Composed of 15 members and headed by Representative H. T. Peterson of Mountrail county, it met in a downtown hotel, appointed a sub-committee to develop procedure which it will follow in subpoening witnesses and subsequent taking of evidence and adjourned last night.

PRISON HEADS NOT BLAMED

SEARCH IS CONTINUED FOR THREE FELONS WHO BROKE PEN

(By The Associated Press)

HUNTSVILLE, July 25 (AP)—The Texas state prison system stood assolved today of blame for the bloody prison break Sunday in which three condemmed men escaped from the "death house," one convict was killed and two others shot and wonded.

In a report released last night by W. A. Paddock of Houston, chairman of the state prison board, the board held Lee Simmons, general manager, and W. W. Wald, warden of the state penitentiary here, blameless in connection with the break.

No Negligence Found

The board said it found no evidence of negligence on the part of the management or of collusion between guard or prison officials and the convicts, although it criticized mildly the laxity of guards in permitting the smuggling of guns to the prisoners.

Meanwhile, search continued throughout the southwest for the three desperate crimials who escaped—Raymond Hamilton, erstwhile pal of the late Clyde Barrow; Joe Palmer and Blackie Thompson.

Police at Denison, near the Texas-Oklahoma line, reported late last night that two couples had been held up and robbed of more than $100 at a park in the outskirts of Denison.

One of the victims thought a photograph of Joe Palmer resembled one of the three robbers, who were traveling in a black sedan. Police today, however, discredited the theory.

Olson's Ultimatum Hangs Over Strike

MINNEAPOLIS, July 25 (AP)—The threat of military intervention in the truck drivers' strike hung over the city today.

Whether governor Floyd B. Olson would place the city under the control of the 4,000 national guardsmen stationed in and about Minneapolis depended on replies of the drivers and their employers to peace proposals, the chief executive indicated.

For the time being, he said, "things will remain as they are."

Word Awaited From Byrd Tractor Men

LITTLE AMERICA, Antarctrica, July 25 (AP)—Word was anxiously awaited today from a tractor party of five struggling back to the main base here and from Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, commander of the Antarctic expedition, who is isolated in his advance base.

The tractor group, which abandoned an attempt to reach Admiral Byrd's observation post because of the extreme weather, presumably was only a few miles from headquarters.

DOLLFUSS AND AIDES HELD CAPTIVES

CHANCELLOR REPORTED WOUNDED OR DEAD; RESIGNS POST

DOLLFUSS IS DEAD

LONDON, July 25. —(AP)—An exchange telegram agency dispatch from Praha today said it was officially announced at 7:45 p. m. that at the Austrian legation that Chancellor Dollfuss of Austria was dead.

The same agency said the Austrian legation also announced that the control of the government had been taken over by Dr. Kurt Schuschnigg, minister of justice and education in Dollfuss' cabinet.

TEN REPORTED KILLED

LONDON, July 25. (AP)—Authorative reports today from Austria said 10 had been killed in the "putsch" there.

BY WADE WERNER
Associated Press Foreign Staff

VIENNA, July 25—Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss, the little dictator who ruled Austria for two years, was reported by a police commissioner today to have been shot and seriously wounded in the course of a Nazi "putsch" to capture the government of Austria. The police officer said Dollfuss has resigned.

Dollfuss was imprisoned in the federal chancellery by the Nazis. The police commissioner said he was wounded in fighting which went on inside the building.

Reports Conflicted

The loyal Fascist heimwehr and federal troops poured into the Ballhausplatz—the great square in front of the chancellery—as conflicting reports circulated throughout the city.

The battling Prince Ernst von Starhemberg, head of the heimwehr and vice chancellor of Austria, escaped from the Nazi captors and immediately organized his own counteraction. A diplomat in touch with him declared the prince had sent an ultimatum to the Nazi leaders of the troops declaring that Dollfuss and the other cabinet ministers held captive must be released at once or the army would attack the chancellery.

OFFICIAL ROBBED

SAPULPA, Okla., July 25. (AP)—Two armed and masked men robbed Precinct Inspector A. L. Probst of Newby 12 miles from Bristow, of his ballot box and all election figures early today as they were en route to Sapulpa with the returns.

Tom McKeown, who first won his fourth district seat in 1916 by defeating "Alfalfa Bill" Murray, now governor, and Jim V. McClintic, member of the powerful house ways and means committee who has represented the seventh district for 20 years, were beaten.

McKeown went down before the second onslaught of P. L. Gassaway, Coalgate's colorful "cowboy" judge, whose crackling wit, high-heeled boots, ten-gallon hat and black string tie are always with him.

McClintic bowed to Sam Massingale, veteran Cordell attorney. Massingale, a staunch friend of Governor Murray, ran without the governor's endorsement, which in some instances, proved a boomerang.

ABSENTEE VOTING HITS HIGH MARK

A total of 453 persons had marked absentee votes at county clerk's offices and 81 ballots were in the mail Tuesday afternoon.

This heavy absentee voting may indicate that an unusually large Lubbock county vote will be cast in Saturday's Democratic primary.

On the other hand, it might indicate that improved business conditions have enabled more persons to take long vacations and tours, necessitating their voting absentee.

The number should pass the 500 mark easily when voting in person at the clerk's office ends tonight and voting by mail ends Thursday. A number of ballots mailed are not expected to be returned before the deadline.

France "Attacked" In Air Maneuvers

LYON, France, July 25. —(AP)— Southeastern France was "attacked" by 300 heavy tri-motored airplanes this morning in one of the most ambitious air defense maneuvers since the World war.

Aerial forces from Metz to Istres participated in the mythical attack on the important Rhone valley while inhabitants of ten departments surrounding Lyon were mobilized into defense.

Regiments of artillery and scout planes fought the advancing squadrons.

The entire territory was watched to prevent sabotage as a result of the refusal of three communist mayors to participate in the maneuvers.

Little Miss Lonely Heart?—NOT SUE!

Sue's learned how to guard against unattractive COSMETIC SKIN

MAE WEST PARAMOUNT STAR

She uses powder and rouge as much as she likes ... but removes them thoroughly the Hollywood way ...

HAVE you detected the warning signals of Cosmetic Skin—tiny blemishes ... enlarged pores ... blackheads, perhaps? Then you are probably not removing cosmetics properly. You're allowing them to choke the pores.

Cosmetics need not harm even delicate skin! No matter how much rouge and powder you use, your skin can be kept clear—soft—silken smooth.

Cosmetics Harmless if removed this way

Many a girl who thinks she removes cosmetics thoroughly actually leaves bits of stale rouge and powder in the pores day after day. Then the pores gradually become clogged, distended — Cosmetic Skin develops.

To guard against this loss of beauty, thousands of women are adopting the screen stars' beauty care. Lux Toilet Soap is made to remove cosmetics thoroughly. Its ACTIVE lather sinks deeply into the pores, carries away every vestige of dust, dirt, stale cosmetics. Before you apply fresh make-up—ALWAYS before you go to bed at night, use gentle, white Lux Toilet Soap to protect your skin—keep it clear and temptingly lovely.

TREE PROJECT IS PUSHED

BISECTING U. S. WITH 100-MILE-WIDE ROW OF TREES PLANNED

WASHINGTON, July 25. (AP) — Government forest service officials pushed ahead today with plans to carry out President Roosevelt's program for bisecting the country with a 100-mile-wide swath of trees in an effort to modify climatic and other agricultural conditions in the drouth area.

The first step, they said, now that the president has authorized immediate expenditure of $20,000,000 to get the work under way will be to perfect an organization. Necessary land then will be obtained, through leasing or actual purchase and seed will be collected and planted in government and new nurseries to be established in the area, and perhaps in some privately owned.

To Extend to Texas

Forest service officials said that as originally outlined, the plan called for the planting of the trees from Canada to the Mexican border, but that at President Roosevelt's suggestion, it had been decided to terminate the southern end of the belt in the Texas Panhandle, for the present, at least.

The boundaries of the area to be planted have been determined tentatively, and roughly as follows:

North Dakota—between Lakota Elendale on the east, and Rugby and Linton on the west.

South Dakota—between Aberdeen and Armour on the east, and Mobridge on the west.

Nebraska — between Phillipsburg and Coldwater on the east, and Atwood and Liberal on the west.

The zone will extend south across the Oklahoma Panhandle to Matador, Tex., on the west, and Altus, Okla., on the east. The southern end of the zone will be approximately a line between Matador and Altus.

May Be Changed

These boundaries, it was emphasized, are tentative and may be changed.

The plan calls for planting the trees in 100 strips, each about 100 feet wide and one mile apart. Theoretically, the strips of trees will be in straight lines, but in actuality it was said they would zig-zag across the country to follow streams and other parts of the often drouth area.

A forest service spokesman expressed confidence the trees could be made to grow in the areas often hard-ridden by drouth. He said rainfall in the area normally was between 20 and 25 inches annually.

DEAD IN FLOOD

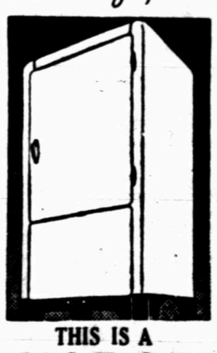

TOKYO, July 25. (AP) — Thirty-one persons are known to be dead, thousands are homeless, and 668 houses are wrecked as the result of floods in Keishohokudo and Keishononando provinces in southeastern Korea, according to dispatches to local newspapers.

North Carolina did not have a commercial dairy plant until 1909; dairying is now a major phase of the agricultural industry there.

SENATORS AND PIRATES HIT THE SKIDS

BUCS LOSE NINE IN A ROW; SENS SLIP TO SIXTH IN STANDING

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, Jr.
Associated Press Sports Writer

From pennant winner and leading contender to just a couple of second division clubs—that summarizes the slumps of the Washington Senators and Pittsburgh Pirates.

Pittsburgh, expected to be in the midst of the current National league race with the Giants, Cubs and Cardinals, found itself near the bottom of the season's worst slump today after nine straight defeats. The Bucs struck a new low yesterday when they took a 9 to 0 beating from the Phillies.

Sens Sink Deeper

The Senators were in even worse condition as they skidded off into the sixth notch in the American league for the second time in a week after a 4-1 defeat at the hands of the last-place White Sox.

The Giants snubbed the Cardinals' race toward the top of the National league on Roy Parmelee's four-hit flinging, winning 5 to 0, and the Tigers, in the American league came through to a 6 to 3 triumph over Boston's Red Sox with the aid of some flashy relief hurling by Clarence Phillips.

The decision increased Detroit's lead to two games over the Yankees as the Browns handed New York a 4 to 2 setback to go into fifth place. The second-place Cubs held their spot two games behind the Giants by making good use of six hits and seven walks off Van Mungo to beat the Dodgers 6 to 3 behind Bill Lee's steady hurling.

Old Flint Rhem provided the fourth of the National league's good mound performances by holding the Reds to seven hits while the Braves broke a six-game losing streak with a 4-3 victory that lifted them barely into the first division. In the American Monte Pearson recorded his 12th victory as the third place Indians defeated Philadelphia 10 to 6.

SEEDED STARS ARE IN LEAD

ALLISON AND JACOBS ADVANCE AS OTHER FAVORITES LOSE

SEABRIGHT, N. J., July 25 (AP)—Led by Wilmer Allison and Helen Jacobs, the ranking players in the men and women's singles, competition in the annual Seabright tennis tournament today moved into the quarter-final round with the usual accomplishment of upsets.

Allison, the nation's No. 2 ranking player and seeded No. 1, was extended in each set before he gained the bracket of eight with a 6-4, 6-4 conquest of Martin Buxby, of Miami, Fla. Miss Jacobs, the national women's champion, never was pressed, however, as she disposed of Marianne Hunt, Santa Monica, Calif., without losing a game.

Parker Eliminated

The upset resulted in the downfall of Frankie Parker, 18-year-old Lawrenceville, N. J., schoolboy, Gene Mako, national intercollegiate titleholder from Los Angeles, and J. Donald Budge, of Oakland, the eighth seeded player. In the women's play, Mrs. Van Ryn, Philadelphia, fell before the hard driving Dorothy Andrus, Stanford, Conn., 3-6, 6-4, 6-0.

Parker's game went askew in all departments after he led 2-0 in each set and the revenge he sought from Wilmer Hines, Columbia, S. C., who put him out in the Crescent-Hamilton tourney last week, turned out to be another straight triumph for the southerner, 6-2, 6-4.

Budge made a gallant fight against Henry Prusoff, Seattle, but could not combat the westerner's terrific service and accurate forehand and lost 6-3, 3-6, 6-4. John McDiarmid, Fort Worth, outplayed young Mako in the first set and forged ahead in the third set with a succession of passing shots in the last two games to win at 6-1, 3-6, 6-4.

The quarter final bracket was completed by Bryan (Bitsy) Grant, Atlanta, national clay court champion; Gregory S. Mangin, Newark, N. J., winner of the Crescent-Hamilton tournament; Berkeley Bell, New York, and John Van Ryn, Philadelphia. The latter eliminated John Hope Doeg, national champion in 1930.

City Hall, Produce Teams Are Winners

City Hall defeated Quicksall-Pryor, 15 to 9, in a softball game yesterday. The winners scored 10 runs in the sixth inning.

In another game, Lubbock Poultry and Egg company team defeated the Texas Utilities entry, 15 to 5.

Today's schedule:

Magnolia Oilers vs. McIlhaney's Creamery, at 22nd and Ave. T; Lydick Roofers vs. Lindsey Theaters, at 34th and Ave. P; Swift and Co. vs. Ribble's, at College Avenue.

TWO NIFTY NOODLE TWISTERS on tonight's grappling show, Otis Clingman and Don Hill. Gentlemen grapplers. But plenty tough.

It's the first meeting here between Clingman and Hill, one of which was supposed to meet Gus Kallio this summer for the world's middleweight title. Hill led the league for a while. He threw Clingman the first time they met. They're all even now. After tonight one of them will be ahead again, and it may be their last meeting of the season.

Lubbock fans like Clingman and Hill. They'll be kinda puzzled tonight over the question of who to cheer and who to boo. Clingman, because he's better known in these parts, been around for a longer time, likely will carry the majority. Hill will have his rabid supporters, too. As to that question, "Who's time is it to win?" which is asked us each week by from 10 to a hundred fans, we have the same stock reply: The man who gets the breaks.

Just why a wrestling match should be "framed" any more than a football game, a baseball contest, a tennis match or checker game should be framed is a little more than we can see. We hear that some wrestling matches are framed. We've never heard of it being proved. We live to see the day when a fan will openly accuse a wrestler of participating in a "framed" match. Some of them elsewhere may be, but if you'll bring us proof of a main event being framed in Lubbock under the promotion of Sled Allen and his Amarillo booking agents, we'll give you a pass to all future wrestling matches. It just isn't done here, not the main events.

Oh, it shouldn't surprise us a bit to learn that some of the prelim and semi-final boys willfully stalled around, killed time and put on "shows" for the show's sake. One wrestler may know what the other is going to do, and help him do it in order to make a louder slam, or something. But when it comes to the main event boys, there's no "fixing." Each of them is trying to get up in the world. He couldn't do it by losing. And the pay-off is the same. Put a well matched team in there like Clingman and Hill and it's the man who gets the breaks who's going to win. Luck plays a bigger part in the winning and losing of wrestling matches than in almost any other sport you can mention.

Rob Roy, the Goodnight buffalo wrangler, is home from a vacation and wrestling tour of the West Coast, and he'll appear on tonight's card against Vic Webber, New York grappler who is pulling a pretty fast oar among the middleweights of this loop. A well-built young man with a yen to get rough, Webber will be a welcome fee to the squinting Rob Roy, who's a good fellow anywhere but inside the ropes. A protege of Dutch Mantell, Rob Roy is one of the most pleasant and brightest of conversationalists when he's not working, but he's a demon in the ring. He'd rather rough it than rassle, and it looks like a good opportunity for both boys tonight.

Clingman and Rob Roy came to Lubbock yesterday, to "acclimate" themselves to the surroundings before ripping into their opponents tonight. They take their profession seriously, like football players.

INVITATIONS TO ENTER and attend the Ruidoso golf tournaments have been extended all local players by Cliff Dean, a Lubbock man in the off season but a hard worker on his New Mexico resort golf course in the summer.

The annual women's invitation at Ruidoso, the 1934 New Mexico Women's Invitation tournament, in fact, starts Thursday, tomorrow, and ends Sunday. A letter from Dean says that some of the best women golfers of West Texas and New Mexico will be there. From Lubbock, already at Ruidoso, are Mrs. Guy McAfee and Mrs. John Edmisson, among the best players here. Mrs. Rhea Vernon, formerly of Lubbock but now of Abilene, is to be there.

Women golfers of Lubbock who have not already made plans to go should include the four-day tourney on their summer's golf calendar. It's a pleasant place, Ruidoso, cool and nice, "far from the maddening crowd," and the golf course is interesting enough and hard enough for anybody.

The annual Ruidoso Invitational is scheduled for next week, beginning August 3. A number of Lubbock players already have signified their intentions to go. It would be a commendable move if a large number of locals would register. Five New Mexico golfers entered our own Invitation tournament, and Cliff Dean worked as hard as anybody to make it a success. It would be a courtesy to them to enter the Ruidoso joust.

NEW MEXICO WOMEN'S GOLF TOURNEY WILL START TOMORROW AT RUIDOSO

Teeing off tomorrow in the annual New Mexico Women's Invitation golf tournament over Ruidoso's mountain links will be two and possibly several other Lubbock women.

Mrs. Guy McAfee and Mrs. John Edmisson, two of Lubbock's low scoring women golfers, have been at Ruidoso for several days, practicing on the course and, according to reports, fairly burning it up.

A letter to the Avalanche-Journal from Cliff Dean, manager of the Ruidoso course, invites all Lubbock and South Plains women golfers to the tournament, and states that some of the best known shot makers of West Texas and New Mexico plan to be present.

Number Of West Texans

Among others who have indicated they will attend are: Mrs. Rhea Vernon of Abilene, formerly of Lubbock, and a threat in the Texas Women's municipal tournament at San Antonio recently; Mrs. Budley Raines and Mrs. Lane Denson, also of Abilene, Mrs. Otho Armstrong and Mrs. Mae Haddock of El Paso, and Mrs. Franz Hicks, Mrs. Gordon Phillips, Mrs. Obie Bristow, Mrs. Gene Spence and Mrs. Willie Rix of Big Spring. Also among the contenders will be Mrs. Cliff Dean, former holder of the Lubbock women's championship and a dangerous player on the home Ruidoso course.

The women's tournament is a prelude to the annual Ruidoso Invitation tournament, which starts August 3 and concludes August 6. An open invitation to all Lubbock and South Plains golfers to register for that tournament also is extended by Dean, who says that the course is in the best condition of its history, and can easily accommodate a field of a hundred golfers.

GENE SARAZEN FACES YOUTH IN TOURNEY

OLD GUARD TO FIGHT YOUNGSTERS IN PRO GOLF TOURNAMENT

BUFFALO, July 25. (AP)—They tossed Gene Sarazen right into the first match of the day in defense of his Professional Golfers' association championship today as the stocky Italian from New York led a few survivors of golf's old guard against an uprising of ambitious youngsters in the opening round of match play.

He drew Herman Barron, of Portchester, N. Y., as his opponent while Bob Crowley, 25-year-old sensation from Dedham, Mass., who won the 36-hole qualifying medal with a record equalling 67-71—138, five strokes under par, yesterday, led the youngsters into action from behind in the last match. He was paired with Eddie Loos, of Chicago.

Ten In Play-Off

With 146 as the qualifying limit, only two strokes over par, Walter Hagen, who used to have this tournament at his mercy, and Denny Shute, last year's British open champion, had to qualify along with Johnny Revolta, of Milwaukee, Barron, Leo Diegel, of Philadelphia, Frank Ball, from Haines Falls, N. Y., Orville White, of Overland, Mo., and Fay Coleman, of Culver City, Calif., in a ten-man play-off that saw Willie MacFarlane, the tuckahoe veteran, and Frank Walsh, of Chicago, beaten.

POLK ROBISON TO BURKBURNETT HIGH

Polk Robison of Lubbock, stellar basketball center at Texas Tech for three seasons and co-captain of the Matador team which captured its second straight Border conference court championship, has been named cage coach and instructor in physical education at Burkburnett High school.

Robison, who receives his A. B. degree this summer, will join another former Tech athlete, Volney "Satch" Hill at Burkburnett. Hill undertakes the head football coaching position this fall after two years as coach at Chillicothe. Lacy Turner, regular Matador guard for three seasons, replaces Hill at the latter school.

TIGERS THRILL FRANK NAVIN

DETROIT CLUB OWNER GETS SATISFACTION FROM WIN STREAK

DETROIT, July 25 (AP)—Frank J. Navin said today his 1934 Detroit Tigers are "the biggest thrill and the greatest satisfaction I have had since I entered baseball in 1904."

The reason? The team has raised more American league pennant hopes than almost any other since the days of Hughie Jennings.

Finally Gets Break

The owner of the Detroit club, who has sat through many lean years in his special box at Navin field, admitted that the luck curves were breaking over the plate at last.

Navin said that he is getting an added thrill out of the spirited outfit because 15 of the 22 players are Tiger-trained all the way from sandlots and college diamonds.

He called their names: Hank Goldberg, Eldon Auker, Tommy Bridges, Flea Clifton, Frank Doljack, Pete Fox, Charley Gehringer, Luke Hamlin, Ray Hayworth, Elon Hogsett, Schoolboy Rowe, Vic Sorrell, Gerald Walker, Jo Jo White, and the newest recruit, Clarence "Red" Phillips, who won his first major league game Tuesday, over the Sed Sox.

"No, I'm not forgetting Hughie Jenning and his teams," said Navin. "But it was easier to get ball players in those days. There were 30 or 60 minor leagues then, and players developed easier."

As early as 1824 a colony of negroes managed by "Free Joe" enjoyed complete freedom only 12 miles from the Memphis slave market.

The record heat temperature had nothing on the feverish enthusiasm of 12,301 cash customers last night at Steers stadium who got a wallop out of the Steers hard-fought 3 to 1 decision over Fort Worth. It was the largest paid crowd at the Dallas park since opening day, 1929.

Joe Vance, versatile utility Dallas star, took a turn on the mound and held the Cats to six hits with a speedy cross-fire. Jonnard, tall Fort Worth right-hander, allowed six hits the seven innings he pitched but the intense heat weakened him to where he had very little on the ball. Dick Whitworth finished for the Cats.

Oilers Trim Exporters

Tulsa stepped home with a 5 to 3 victory over Beaumont. After going runless for six straight innings the Oilers clicked with a pair of tallies in the seventh and three more in the eight to overhaul Beaumont's 3 to 0 lead gained in the earlier innings.

The veteran Mike Cvengros, southpaw, hurled Houston to a 4 to 3 victory over the last place Oklahoma City Indians. Things lookeed gloomy until the eighth inning when the Buffaloes broke loose and scored four runs to overtake Oklahoma City's lead. Galveston and San Antonio did not play.

CLINGMAN AND HILL IN TOP MAT MATCH

KING-PIN WRESTLERS OF CIRCUIT MEET HERE TONIGHT

King-pin middleweight matmen of the southwestern circuit, Otis Clingman, the Amarillo fat boy, and Don Hill, Los Angeles, meet in the banner brawl of Sled Allen's wrestling show at the Auditorium tonight.

When "Squeeky" and Don grapple the fans sit back in their chairs and watch with interest and appreciation. There are no discordant lip cries and barnyard noises and the front row customers do not become poor life insurance risks.

No Fighting In Aisles.

For even when Clingman and Hill are tossed among the audience on their noggins they do not risee up and continue the muss in the aisles.

Clingman, who would have made a great blocking halfback had he gone in for the gridiron game instead of grape-vining, is a dealer in deadly but non-acrobatic mat-weapons. Only by being the victim can one appreciate thee lethal qualities of Clingman's so-called pile-driver slam, which is going to crunch somebody's neck one of these fine nights.

An All-Around Ace

Don Hill is well known to one and all who have been regular customers at the Auditorium since late in March. An all-around athlete—football player, baseball player, tennis star, and licensed air pilot—and a former movie player to boot, he has few enemies outside the ropes, and is among the most courageous of grapplers.

It has been said of Hill that he can "take" more than a whole flock of ordinary wrestlers. He has physical stamina that has proven sensational in previous events, and has no apparent temperament whatever. His art includes no outbursts of fury or flurry of "nerves." He is impervious to the crowd, playing his opponent rather than the ringsiders, and he wastes no time grovveling for the ropes or clombing out of the ring.

In a special event that promises to bring out the full fury of two blood-loving individuals, Rob Roy, recently returned from a tour of the far west, meets the New York pouters pigeon, Vic Webber. They are scheduled to go 30 minutes, or until one has won a fall.

Where legal and gentlemanly conduct is expected in the main event, it is likely to be proceeded by one of those rough and tough things. Rob Roy, a most pleasant lad outside of the ring, can turn into the demon Dutch Mantell taught him to be when he gets "riled" in the ring, and Webber is the sort of grappler to rile any opponent.

A 20-minute preliminary will start the show, participants in which have not been announced.

Pat McKee, inspector of referees for the state boxing and wrestling commission, will be present at tonight's show, and will referee the main bout between Clingman and Hill.

Appointed by State Commissioner Chas. H. Poe, McKee will be the first representative of the state commission to visit here. An instructor of referees, McKee will look on for the first two matches, and take an active hand in the main event. McKee comes here direct from Austin, dispatched by Commissioner Poe as an inspector for this section.

Hookers, Slicers Will Play Sunday

Arrangements are being made for the biggest day of the year at Meadowbrook Golf club when the Hookers and Slicers teams tee off Sunday, for the annual "barbecue" tourney.

Jay Harston, captain of Meadowbrook's team in the South Plains Golf league, will captain the "Hookers," and Dutch Wigginton will be captain of the "Slicers." E. B. Wheelock originally was selected as "Slicers" captain, but will be out of the city. Wigginton has taken his place.

Captains will choose sides, and the tournament will be played over the 18-hole course in match play order.

Winners will be guests of losers at the barbecue which will follow.

W. G. McMillan, manager of the Meadowbrook course, has issued an invitation to all Lubbock and South Plains golfers to enter the tournament.

Edgar Doherty, winner of the recent Country club invitation tourney, and Joe Bihl, runner-up, will be on opposing sides. Other ace performers such as Manson Allen and Alfred Holton will be pitted against one another.

HOLBROOK LAUDS SCHOOL AT BULA

Bula High school, in Bailey county, and its staff has been praised by District Supervisor G. D. Holbrook of the state department of education for its system of education and for "their earnest effort in obtaining an affiliated high school, which is badly needed because of the great distance to an affiliated high school at the present."

P. O. Smith is superintendent of the school and C. L. Truett chairman of the board of trustees. Mr. Smith and two trustees from the school, V. C. Weaver and G. W. Davis, attended a curriculum conference at Texas Technological college this week.

Five units of affiliation have been procured, said Mr. Smith, and arrangements are being made to increase the number of books in the library, as Mr. Holbrook suggested.

"A general deficiency is observed in the high school and grade libraries and also in science equipment. The school board is advised to provide an annual appropriation for the upkeep of the high school and grade libraries and general equipment."

"The teachers are all working hard in comfortable classrooms," the supervisor said. "No crowded conditions are observed. A pleasant and cooperative spirit seems to prevail among the superintendent and teachers."

PHARR SCORES OPPONENTS

CANDIDATE OUTLINES HIS PLATFORM AT SPEAKING HERE

Accusing his opponents of "fence straddling" on national issues, and clearly outlining his own view on these issues as written into his platform, Homer L. Pharr, 72nd district court judge, of Lubbock, spoke last night for his election as first representative of the new 19th congressional district.

Almost 1,600 persons gather in a roped off area east of Hotel Lubbock heard the address. He spoke, through an amplifier, from a truck.

Sharp and repeated references to "newspaper propaganda" and to the hesitancy of his rivals' decisions as to "which way to jump," were made by Pharr.

"I didn't wait until I got into the heat of battle to decide, upon some questions," he declared.

Judge Pharr devoted considerable time to a discussion of compensation of former service men, wartime conscription of business and industry.

Payment Is Favored

"Bonus" is a misnomer — "there isn't any such thing"—and the adjusted service compensation certificate was created by congress, "on its own part," the judge said. He added that he favored payment of the second half of the certificates; that if it can not be paid now he believed interest due the government on the half borrowed should be cancelled. Otherwise, he said, that interest will absorb what remains of the principal.

Soon after beginning his address, Judge Pharr said he did not have "any high powered press agents to carry my campaign into the newspapers." He closed, an hour later, with the same bolt, remarking that he was without means of procuring "newspaper headlines" and "interviews."

Principal advocations by Judge Pharr upon national issues were:

Inspection Of Returns

Government and public inspection of income tax returns: "If that law had been on the statutes the United States treasury today might not be as depleted as it is."

Adequate national defense on land and sea: "It should not only be maintained for the purpose of parading on holidays, but, in days like these, the army and navy should be brought out to stamp out professional crime."

A universal service, or draft act, and conscription of "capital, industry, factories, stocks and bonds," munitions and arms manufacturers, railway freight facilities, and other agencies in war-time, with unreasonable profit outlawed.

Payment Of War Debts

Payment of war debts to the United States.

Further restrictions of immigration.

A United States department of education, with representation in the president's cabinet.

Legislation already effected to guarantee bank deposits and protect investors in stocks and bonds.

A lowered postal rate.

Repeal of "nuisance" taxes upon gasoline and checks.

Of his opponents, Judge Pharr especially drubbed "the senator from Littlefield," Arthur P. Duggan, and belittled his record in the state senate. He was one of 17 state senators who "turned thumbs down" on the child labor amendment proposed by President Roosevelt, Judge Pharr said.

Frank McPherson of Lubbock introduced the congressional candidate at the rally here.

Judge Pharr will speak today at Olton, at 2 p. m.; at Littlefield, at 4 p. m.; at Amherst, at 5:30 p. m., and Sudan, 8:30 p. m.

He spoke in Southland yesterday before returning to his home city.

MEETING ENDS HERE TODAY

ABOUT 500 AT FINAL SESSION OF 3-DAY CONFERENCE

A curriculum conference, its purpose to aquaint Texas teachers with a state program of revision in the course of study, closed a three-day session at Texas Technological college at noon today.

About 500 teachers and school executives attended the final meeting of the conference this morning.

Principal speakers were Miss Hazel Ott, curriculum advisor in the Chicago public schools, Dr. F. C. Ayers, University of Texas, and W. A. Stigler, state board of education.

Other addresses were made by Dr. A. W. Evans, education department head at Tech, Supt. V. Z. Rogers, Lamesa, and Supt. K. E. Oberholtzer, Lubbock. Discussions were lead by Dr. Albert Barnett, Texas Tech, Supt. S. Z. Hall, Spur, and Prof. G. C. Boswell, McMurry college, Abilene.

"The best papers read during the conference will be printed in a college bulletin and sent over the state," Dr. Evans said. "These will include those read by Dr. Carleton Washburne, Dr. Ayer and others."

Various studies of the curricula were considered at 10 panel discussions Tuesday afternoon. History and background of the various subjects, their present set-up, and plans and suggestions for their reconstruction in line with the program of revision, were discussed.

A banquet at the Hilton hotel Tuesday night was attended by about 100 members of the conference. Toastmaster was Dean J. M. Gordon of Texas Tech. Short talks were made by Director W. A. Stigler, chairman of the executive committee of the state revision program, Supt. K. E. Oberholtzer of Lubbock, and Dr. F. C. Ayer, of University of Texas.

PRECINCT JUDGES ARE INSTRUCTED ON ELECTION REQUIREMENTS BY WESTER

Instructions to precinct election judges and a call for a meetting of the executive committee at the courthouse at 9 a. m. Saturday, August 4, for the purpose of canvassing the vote cast and declaring the results were issued by County Democratic Chairman J. K. Wester yesterday.

"The law requires that each judge of the primary election shall, as soon as the count is completed, transmit to the county chairman by telephone or otherwise an unofficial but complete report of the number of votes cast for each candidate. The chairman will be at the Avalanche - Journal office and will receive returns there," Mr. Wester said. "Election judges may telephone C. W. Ratliff at No. 13 or 14.

Ballot boxes will be delivered at the office of the county clerk," Mr. Wester continued. "If you bring them after night, and no one is in the office, deposit them near the door of the county clerk's office.

"The judges of the primary election will please send poll tax receipts and exemption certificates, used in absentee voting, to the county clerk as soon as possible, as he will need them, perhaps, in the run-off."

Chairman Wester pointed out that any ballot which does not contain the printed pledge, "I am a Democratic and pledge myself to support the nominee of this primary," shall be void and not counted.

The supreme court, he added, had denied negroes right to vote in the primaries.

In conclusion, he said, in writing to precinct judges:

"You will find a place on the official ballot for the names of precinct chairman. Please select some good Democrat in your precinct, who will attend the meetings of the committee and write his name in the blank place for precinct chairman."

Note to gentleman who criticized, in a letter, a recent candidate's speech and signed as "Interested Observer":

We do not consider it fair to run critical and derogatory letters concerning candidates or other individuals or organizations unless those letters are signed by the true names of their writers. That always has been our rule and as long as the present editor is in the saddle, will continue to be. We will run your letter if you'll sign it.

PERHAPS you do not like the Democratic pledge that is attached to every ballot.

Neither does The Plainsman.

But do not tear the pledge from your ballot next Saturday and do not 'scratch' it, either.

For if you do your vote will be considered as 'mutilated' and will not be counted.

In other words, if you're figuring on tearing off or 'scratching' that long praised, cussed and argued 'party pledge' you'd just as well stay away from the polls!

A man can take the pledge seriously, if he wants to.

That's his privilege.

And a man who doesn't take it seriously and considers it an unfair bounding of his rights can forget to read it—and that's his privilege, as The Plainsman sees it.

And those who didn't have anything to do with its being put on the ballot can make a mental reservation, as they see fit, as far as this column is concerned.

THE election laws of Texas, however, uphold the "I am a Democrat and pledge myself to support the nominees of this primary" pledge and if you in any way delete or change the pledge your vote is lost.

This is for your information and you can do what you like about it.

The Plainsman has a method of handling the pledge proposition which may or may not be original.

As it is his right as a citizen with a poll tax receipt he goes and votes on every voting day, just as he sees fit to vote.

He doesn't think it is anybody's business how he votes and doesn't aim to have anybody tell him what to do.

But if he ever considers, in a general election, that he must vote for someone outside the Democratic party he will change his mind—as every person has a right to do—between the primary and the general election and will go on voting as he darn well pleases.

You might use that system if you want to or you can cuss it as being undemocratic, this, that and the other!

Meanwhile, The Plainsman will go on and vote as he wants to vote and won't care what anybody thinks about it. His conscience will be clear and when a fellow's conscience is clear he can't be bothered.

That Man on Avenue Q says age has its advantages, even for ladies. They can outgrow the idea that sophistication means gin and cigarets.

It was stated in Avalanche-Journal papers a couple of days ago that the band here for Edgar Witt's rally Monday afternoon was the Ralls New Deal band— official organization of its kind of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

That was in error.

Ralls readers inform The Plainsman that the band here for the Witt rally was not the New Deal band but, instead, a picked-up organization brought over for the occasion.

Possibly some members of the New Deal were in the group here but the New Deal band, as it officially is made up, was not the one here on Monday.

K. N. CLAPP, one of the members of the park board which has been doing such a swell job on our city parks system, advises The Plainsman that the board is making arrangements for parking spaces and for dust-laying in the vicinity of the City park, near Tumble 'N.

Scores and scores of picknickers haunt that park every evening and they've been having a little trouble lately finding suitable parking places and with the dust.

They will be glad to learn that the park board is making arrangements to care for them.

It's too bad no man can look as important as Junior wants Dad to look when the other fellows are watching.

LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR EDGAR WITT is eminently correct when he says the Texas prison system should be thoroughly investigated. He is as "right as a fox".

And that investigation should not be by penitentiary officials or by other interested persons but, instead, by laymen who are widely known and widely respected.

We may as well put our hijackers, gunmen and murderers in 'hoosegows' made of cracker boxes, judging from the regularity of 'breaks' which now even include 'French leaves' from the death row.

There is something rotten—not in Denmark but in Huntsville—when death row criminals turn up with pistols and make their getaways.

And if anything ever needed investigating, the prison system does.

Is Greta Garbo A Jinx; Only Two Of Her Twelve Leading Men Have Risen In Fame; Marshall Hopes To Break Spell

BY DAN THOMAS
NEA Service Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, July 25.—Is there really such a thing as a Garbo jinx?

Hollywood feels quite certain there is. Herbert Marshall is equally sure there isn't. He is certain that being Garbo's leading man in "The Painted Veil" will advance his career rather than retard it.

For some strange reason, roles opposite the silent Swedish star nearly always have been the turning point in the careers of the men who have filled them. With the exception of two, Robert Montgomery and Clark Gable, all of her leading men have hit the downward path.

They have been John Gilbert, Nils Asther, Conrad Nagel, Ricardo Cortez, Antonio Moreno, Lars Hansen, Charles Bickford, Gavin Gordon, Ramon Novarro and Melvyn Douglas. Some of these have been forgotten entirely, while others have slipped several rungs down the cinema ladder.

Only Gable and Montgomery have survived. All of which causes one to wonder which group Marshall will join.

A $200 Pie!

Producer Sol Lesser strolled on the set where "Peck's Bad Boy" was in progress and was greeted by Jackie Cooper who whispered, "How would you like a swell piece of pie?" Lesser thought it would be a good idea, so Jackie sent him behind the set, saying they would have to eat it secretly, as there wasn't enough to go around.

A minute later Jackie appeared carrying a beautiful cocoanut cream pie. Just as they had finished consuming most of the pastry Director Eddie Cline appeared and he got the last piece.

"The best pie I've ever tasted, Sol, but not worth the price," Cline remarked.

"What do you mean?" Lesser inquired. "This is Jackie's treat and, besides, it couldn't have cost much."

"Oh, no!" exclaimed Cline. "I just finished shooting a medium shot of that pie and now I need it for a closeup. Our delay while waiting for another one will cost you just about $200."

TODAY'S JOURNAL EDITORIAL

WE NEED AN IMPROVED AIR DEFENSE

One of The Journal's Washington correspondents reports that numerous Army pilots share the opinion of Jimmy Doolittle that Uncle Sam should have an air force independent of the army and navy. This is General Mitchell's pet scheme but the majority of the War department's special aviation committee, headed by former Secretary of War Newton D. Baker, stands firmly against the project.

In its report the committee finds American aeronautics well to the world front. It wants a bigger proportion of fighting planes so that the Air Corps will be kept up to war efficiency. Doolittle, minority member, doesn't object to that, but he insists that aviation is a distinct art which should not be hobbled by military and naval theories.

Chances are that this report will be filed and Congress will jog along in the old rut.

Later on a more comprehensive study of aviation will be reported by the Clark Howell commission. Its members are scattered over this country and Europe gathering dope. It will deal with all phases of aviation—military, naval, mail and commercial.

Whether or not an independent air unit is formed for national defense we are glad to see a difference of opinion in the matter because difference of opinion will call for more study of the problem. More study of the problem, of course, will likely call for an improvement of the air force, whether it remains in its present status or becomes independent.

There is no more important national problem than that of defense.

Everyone knows that the airplane is an important arm of defense and it behooves this country to 'look to its knitting' from an air line.

Let there be more study of air problems and let that study be followed by a bigger, better, stronger and faster air service!

Unfortunately, economists have studied the economic system as a whole almost as little as the business man.—John Maynard Keynes, noted British economist.

WASHINGTON, July 25—Strikes in big cities are spectacular, but the farm labor problem is causing this administration just as much genuine worry.

Dozens of recent strikes by farm laborers will be followed by many more. The reason is that millions of tenant farmers, share croppers, field hands, contract workers and hired men are being left out of the New Deal. And many are being badly hurt by it.

Secretaries Wallace and Perkins—who think the situation is extremely serious—feel virtually helpless. Neither NIRA nor the Farm act provides for protection of farm labor. The AAA program is entirely designed to benefit landowners. And any attempt to interfere between landowners and their landless workers is loaded with political dynamite. Diversity of the latter groups and their surrounding problems present innumerable complications.

Communists are making the most of this bad business which inflicts starvation wages and conditions of virtual peonage in many cases. Everywhere they have made intensive organization drives and lately in California they have sought to synchronize agricultural strikes with the San Francisco walkout.

Whether it's the tenant or share cropper who finds himself squeezed out by the acreage reduction program or the vegetable weeder who faces higher existence costs with unchanged or reduced wages—often the result of the low prices his employers receive, these victims find the Communists the only ones who seem interested in their plight.

The AAA and the Labor Department have done an immense amount of investigating which disclosed widespread and almost incredibly inhuman conditions. But they know they couldn't get any law through Congress to benefit farm labor. The AAA has considered treating share croppers and field workers as "producers"—for whom the Farm act permits them to fix returns—and may yet feel forced to try something along that tack.

Just for contrast with other labor disputes, you may be interested to know that about 20 young men and women are still picketing NRA headquarters three times a day—as employes go to work, leaves for lunch and knock off for the day.

They march around the Commerce Building unmolested, bearing placards which describe Johnson as "Chiseler No. 1" and otherwise protest the general's dismissal of President John Donovan of the NRA employes' union.

The pickets have been imported from New York and financed by private citizens here, as the NRA union isn't involved in the picketing. The first score have just returned to New York, only to be replaced by about 20 more recruited by the League for Industrial Democracy. A plan to picket the halls where Johnson was to speak in his proposed tour of the country collapsed when the administrator curtailed his itinerary.

Meanwhile protests against the Donovan dismissal have come from dozens of labor and other organizations, some of which contributed money to the "defense fund." President Green of the A. F. of L. bawled out the rest of the Labor Advisory Board for accepting Donovan's dismissal from its staff without protest. The case has been taken to the new National Labor Relations Board, which is trying to decide whether to accept it as a complaint that NIRA collective bargaining provisions have been violated.

Murder at MOCKING HOUSE

BY WALTER C. BROWN

SYNOPSIS: Pierre Dufresne, wealthy contractor and political boss, has been ambushed on a lonely road near the city. He reports the occurrence to the local police, and then to Director of Police Conners, who is much perturbed. Meanwhile Dufresne has made a sly change in a bid for a certan large contract.

CHAPTER THREE

Connors abruptly changed the trend of the conversation. "Where was Markison while all this was going on?" he demanded.

"It wasn't Markison's fault. He left the Austerlitz with me this morning and rode as far as the Old Poke Road. Everything was quiet and I didn't see any necessity for his tagging at my heels all day, so I dropped him there. I had taken Mrs. Dufresne's car and no one but she knew where I was going. No one, not even myself, knew what time I would be coming back. Of course," he added, thoughtfully, "this may be just a coincidence and have nothing to do with the crank letters, but it looks as if those bullets had my initials on them."

Connors nodded and picked up the telephone. "Tell Markison and Barry to report to me at once," he ordered. Then he leaned back, chewing on his cigar. "Now, give me all the details about this shooting," he suggested.

Dufresne recounted the meager details of the mysterious attack. "As you know, Jim," he continued, "Markinson has been trailing around with me for a week. And knowing that these anonymous penmen seldom try to carry out their threats, I went about my business as usual.

"When my wife and I came back to the city last autumn, we delayed opening the house. Mrs. Dufresne took a notion to have some of the rooms re-furnished. She has been visiting some cousins out in the suburbs, while I put up at the Austerlitz as a matter of convenience.

"I've had a heavy round of visits up-State. Yesterday I decided to see Gridley about that Lee County job. I called up Mrs. Drufresne before I started ths morning. You have heard what happened on the way back."

To all seeming, the Director of Police was more upset and concerned over this attempted murder than the man who had so narrowly escaped death. Dufresne was too important a man, both financially and politically, not to warrant every effort being made to protect his personal safety.

Two of the Detective Bureau's best men had already peen detailed on this affair after Dufresne had produced his series of crank letters. The result had peen entirely negative. But now that this threat had materialized in a lethal aspect, something drastic must be done, regardless of the difficulties surrounding the tracking down of this type of lawlessness.

Presently Connors' secretary ushered in the two plainclothesmen. They saluted their chief and waited expectantly. Dufresne exchanged nods with them, then lit a fresh cigarette and withdrew to the window.

"Markison," Connors began, "you've trailed Mr. Dufresne for a week, or close to it. What have you to report?"

"Nothng, sir," the detective answered, readily enough, "Ill swear there was no one following him about while I was on the job. I've divided time with Barry, here, and he'll tell you the same." The second detective nodded emphatically. "That's true, Chief."

Connors snorted and leaned forward over the desk, punctuating his remarks with vicious jabs of the unlighted cigar. "Well, you're dead wrong, Markinson. And you, too, Barry. Somebody has been tracking Mr. Dufresne. That same somebody fired three bullets into his car this afternoon.

"It's a miracle he wasn't killed. No one but you two and Mrs. Dufresne knew about this trip beforehand, so it stands to reason this other fellow was on the job— and too smart for you.

"Now, get this, and get it straight. We're going to protect Mr. Dufresne if we have to turn out half the Force to do it. Get together all the men you need to throw a cordon around him. Take no chances. Strike out along every line of inquiry you can think of.

"Barry, you take charge of these arrangements. You have a free hand, and I'll back you to the limit, but pick out men who know what it's all about. Markinson, I'm putting Mr. Dufresne's personal safety directly in your hands. You hang on like a shadow and keep your eyes open. There is some one and it's up to us to catch him!

"Get busy now, for Mr. Dufresne wants to get back to the Austerlitz. And while you're downstairs, take a look at that car. Perhaps the bullet holes will convince you!"

After the crestfallen detectives had withdrawn to augment their forces, Dufresne came back to the

'DONNELL IS PICNIC HOST

TRI-COUNTY EVENT IN SECOND DAY; VARIED PROGRAM OFFERED

(Special To The Journal)

O'DONNELL, July 25. —Twenty calves and as many sheep were barbecued today, the second day of the annual O'Donnell Tri-County picnic. Arrangements were made to feed 8,000 people.

A wide variety of entertainment was being presented during the picnic. Ball games, rodeo events, horse racing, goat roping, a carnival, and other events were on the program. There were special programs at the theater.

Candidates Speak

State and district office-seekers were presented at a political rally last night. Another rally will be held tonight with county candidates getting a hearing.

F. A. Wimberly directed an old time fiddlers' contest last night. The Old Moore and Pumpkin Center baseball teams meet this afternoon. Local business men, who are sponsoring the picnic, hope to make it an annual affair.

suggested that you go to the theater?"

"Dillinger did."

He suggested that theater?" asked Stege.

"Yes. He never said anything until we got to the door. I wanted to go to the Uptown, another theater, to see 'Little Miss Marker' and I said he wanted to go around the corner. That is about a block from my house, the Biograph, and then I walked to the show.

"I guess Miss Hamilton was in the middle and Dillinger was on the outside. In the theater I found seats in the middle. They got a seat down front, way in front. Before the show was over I saw them coming up the aisle and they called me and said 'come on' and I got up and walked out. We walked out of the theater and went southeast toward my house. When we reached the National Tea store, a big man pushed me or pulled me and tripped on my foot and I looked around and said 'say' and he had a gun. I heard a shot in front of me and I looked and saw Dillinger on the ground and I stood there and looked. I did not know what had happened. Polly pulled me by the arm. She said 'Jimmy got shot' and she gave me one pull. There was a big man with a gun and he said 'just a minute,' and he left us and we walked west.

Wanted To Go Back

"One of the officers said, 'just a minute, just a minute,' and he talked over the crowd and she started to pull me and we walked west on Lincoln avenue, south on Fairfield to Fullerton and when we reached the elevated she said, 'let's take the elevated,' and I said 'here' and she said, 'any place.' We went on the elevated and got off at Belmont, and I said I was going home and she said 'why go home' and I said I wanted to find out what had happened. I did not know what was happening. Then we walked on Belmont to Clark and on Clark to Halsted and took Halsted and went home to my house. She was just shaky and she wanted to get out of there. She had a hurt and she slipped that on. I wanted to go to the corner and she did not want to go, she was all nervous. I changed my clothes and went to the corner and every one was yelling that Dillinger was killed.

"I did not know what to think. Dillinger. Then I got scared. Then went home. She went some place (Polly). She did not go home. She went to meet that girl that worked with her, Maxine Dunn. Polly called her from some place on Wilson avenue. She was with Maxine. That was the same night. I don't know how long after the shooting. One hour, two hours, it seemed like a year. I did not call the police. When Polly called she asked me if everything was all right. She said she was afraid to come home. She said it was John Dillinger."

DILLINGER RITES TO BE THURSDAY

MAYWOOD, Ind., July 25 (AP)—"Wooden Gun" John Dillinger lay in death today in the home of the foster who reared him as an obscure country boy before he "made bad" and the nation's most-hunted criminal.

A steady stream of the curious passed last night by the casket in which the outlaw's body, its bullet marks obliterated by plastic surgery, awaited burial.

Funeral Set Thursday

John Dillinger, sr., elderly and respected farmer, brought his notorious son's body back home yesterday from Chicago, where the outlaw's career was ended by bullets of federal agents Sunday night.

After a family conference last night, the father sent to newspapers an announcement the funeral would be at 10 a. m. tomorrow at the home here of Mrs. Audrey Hancock, John's sister who cared for him after his mother, Mrs. Mollie Dillinger, died.

TO BUILD OBSERVATORY

PRETORIA (AP)—A $360,000 astronomical observatory with a 72-inch reflecting telescope, the largest in the southern hemisphere, is to be erected on the veldt near here. It is to be established out of funds left more than 200 years ago by Dr. John Radcliffe, eminent London physician, one of whose bequests resulted in the Radcliffe observatory at Oxford.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, July 25. (AP)—Corn and wheat rose late today about 2 1-2 cents above yesterday's finish, influenced largely by predictions that 1934 corn production would be the smallest since 1901.

Corn reached new top quotations for the season. Reports of irreparable damage to corn were asserted by some specialists to indicate 590,000,000 bushels less corn in prospect than the July 1 forecast by the government, with Missouri showing a drop of 89,000,000 bushels in less than a month.

Corn closed unsettled, 1 5-8 to 2 cents above yesterday's finish; wheat firm, 1 3-8 to 1 7-8 up; oats 1-4 to 5-8 advanced, and provisions showing 5 to 12 cents gain.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, July 25. (AP)—Most financial markets continued to grope today and trends were generally indecisive.

Stocks rallied mildly after the opening, then encountered more offerings which unsettled the list and pushed numerous issues to new lows for the year. Active selling did not last long, however, and leaders again displayed resistance.

Commodities were none too enthusiastic at the start, although grains recovered 1 to 2 cents a bushel later and cotton improved moderately. Bonds were irregular.

J. I. Case got back more than 2 points of its yesterday's 5-point decline. Others, up fractionally to around a point or so, included Consolidated Gas, United Aircraft, Chrysler, Du Pont, California Packing, Bethlehem Steel, Douglas Aircraft, American Smelting, U. S. Smelting, Cerro de Pasco, Sears Roebuck, American Sugar Refining and Westinghouse. American Telephone, Allied Chemical, American Commercial Alcohol, N. Y. Central and General Motors were about unchanged.

Union Pacific dropped 2 points and Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohio sagged. Santa Fe improved. American Beet Sugar preferred lost 5 points, while South Puerto Rico, Great Western and Cuban American Sugar were down a point or more. International Telephone, Western Union, General Motors and Sears Roebuck reached new 1934 bottoms before recovering.

BELGIUM USES HORSES

BRUSSELS (AP) — Though rapid progress has been made by all types of mechanical traction in Belgium, farmers still own approximately a quarter of a million horses.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, July 25. (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady, unchanged to 1 down, ignoring relatively lower Liverpool cables in face of trade and commission house buying. July 12.62; Oct. 12.75; Dec. 12.86; Jan. 12.88; Mar. 13.09; May 13.06.

*—July option expires at noon today.

There seemed to be a good many resting orders in the market from both trade and commission house sources around 12.75 for October and approximately the 13-cent level for March. This was considered the factor on the opening advance and after the initial demand had been supplied on the upturn to 12.81 for October or about 5 to 6 points above yesterday's closing quotations, the volume of business tapered off.

Traders seemed inclined to await additional weather news.

The weekly report of the weather bureau read rather more unfavorably as to crop conditions in the west than a week ago, in the opinion of local traders. It failed materially to stimulate demand, however, and after advancing to 12.87 for the October and 13.01 for December, or about 10 to 14 points above yesterday's close prices reacted partly. General business was quiet with October ruling around 12.80 at midday or about 3 to 4 points net higher. Trading in current July contracts ended at midday the last sale of that position being at 12.62 or a point above yesterday's closing quotation.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, July 25. —(AP)—Cotton opened steady today. Liverpool cables were worse than due but the local market started 8 points up on October and December due to short covering on the belief that Texas rains as a result of the gulf storm had been discounted. July opened 7 points down on the issue of a few final notices for delivery, as that option expired at noon today. The active months, after losing one to two points after the start, soon rallied, October trading at 12.77 and December at 12.89, or 4 to 5 points above yesterday's close.

Cotton was rather quiet most of the morning and trading was largely professional. The weekly weather report at the end of the first hour proved decidedly bullish as far as the western belt was concerned. As a result, prices advanced rather sharply. October rose to 12.85 and December to 12.99, or 11 to 13 points up from the lows and 12 to 15 points above yesterday's close.

HURRICANE

power went off due to the hurricane.

On the west end of Galveston island heavy tides marooned 18 persons at the San Luis Pass coast guard station.

Damage to beach colonies along the coast between Sabine Pass and Galveston will reach several thousand dollars, Beaumont reported. It was estimated that the water was higher in that section than it had been since the disastrous storm of 1915. Many houses were washed away.

Marooned In Hotel

At High island, reached today over the private wire of an oil company, inhabitants unable to evacuate last night were marooned in the McLean hotel, located at the highest point. Beach resorts were abandoned hastily.

Sabine Pass was under a foot of water, the first time in more than a decade.

Waves Cause Damage

There was little wind along this part of the coast, the main damage having been caused by high waves rolling in. A seawall protecting the summer home of T. F. Rothwell, Yount-Lee Oil company official, west of High island, was razed.

Victoria reported that a tornado slashed through that section late yesterday. Victoria had a 45-mile-an-hour wind from 4 a. m. until 10 a. m. today, then it started to subside slightly.

A 40-mile-an-hour wind blew off some roofs at Corpus Christi and one man, Eddie Ray Murgatroyd, was slightly injured when struck by a garage roof.

Barometer Drops Low

The barometer at Corpus Christi had fallen to 29.28, the lowest reading there since the 1919 storm. The wind was from the northwest and it was raining heavily. The tide was normal.

The gulf disturbance had its complement in the interior of Texas, where late yesterday freakish winds twisted about among Central Texas towns, demolishing small buildings, unroofing residences and flattening telephone lines. One man was injured at Wortham, near Corsicana, when a shed near a cotton gin collapsed and he was struck by falling bricks and timbers. Damage at Wortham was estimated at from $50,000 to $100,000.

Twisters Strike Over Area

The twisters struck at Wortham, in Freestone county; Kemp, Kaufman county; Franklin, Robertson county; and Busby, Falls county. Hard showers accompanied the wind storms and rains were reported at Waco, Hillsboro, Belton, Temple, Jefferson, and in the lower Rio Grande valley.

One peculiarity of the twisters was that in each instance, they succeeded extremely high local temperatures, the storm at Wortham dropping the mercury 10 degrees from a maximum of 107 registered just before the storm struck. Waco had unofficial readings ranging from 107 to 112. A wind storm and shower at Luling, in the South Texas oil field, succeeded a high temperature of 108.

GETS A RAISE

Each week for the next seven years, five-year-old Shirley Temple, curly-haired baby actress of Hollywood, will find a $1000 check in her pay envelope. For her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George F. Temple, have just signed a contract calling for that salary from the Fox studios, with $150 more to Mrs. Temple for coaching the girl. Shirley is shown applying her pen to the contract.

Suggestion Made That Judges Tell Voters Of 'Terrell'

ALTO, July 25. (AP)—Congressman George B. Terrell announced he was suggesting that election judges notify every person who receives a ballot that the name "George B. Terrell" on the ballots for the Democratic primary election July 28 has been voided by court action.

The judge of the 68th district court of Texas has rescinded his former action in granting to Jefferson T. Baker, Dallas lawyer, the right to change his name to George B. Terrell. Baker, after having his name changed, had filed for state treasurer, using the name of Terrell.

"This action," said Congressman Terrell in referring to the court's action, "restores to Baker his former name, Jefferson T. Baker, and all votes cast for George B. Terrell, whose name was printed on the ballot before the court rescinded its former action, will be void, because there is no 'George B. Terrell' running for the office of state treasurer."

defense of farmers, stockmen and dairymen.

"I believe that my legislative record is one that indicates I have always had in mind the man of small means, the little business man, the rancher and the small farmer. As an attorney I have never done any corporation practice."

Small declared the laws were adequate to conserve the state's oil resources, stop bookmaking and check lobbying but that Allred had failed to enforce them.

Tom F. Hunter at Mineola attacked the stand of his opponents with reference to "big business." Hunter proposed to aid independent merchants by a heavy gross sales tax on the business of foreign owned chain stores and by keeping in Texas, as an added purchasing power, the profits from Texas' abundant natural resources.

TWO MEN HIT AT NEW DEAL

NYE PROPOSES THIRD PARTY; HASTINGS FLAYS F. D. R.

WASHINGTON, July 25. —(AP)—Two prominent Republicans looked at the new deal from different angles today and found it wanting.

Senator Nye, North Dakota independent, discerned a waxing sentiment in the northwest for a third party because, he said, the Democrats had not proved progressive enough to satisfy people in that area and the Republican high command was becoming more "reactionary."

Speaking from the regular Republican lines, Senator Hastings of Delaware, said in a national radio address last night that "the objective of the Roosevelt revolutionists" is to make their "haphazard program permanent."

Claim NRA A Failure

Both agreed that the NRA had missed its mark. Nye said he proposed to offer legislation at the next session of congress to relegate NRA virtually to a division of the federal trade commission, shorn of much of its powers. Hastings declared the recovery administration had "failed to accomplish what was intended" and that purchasing power had been sapped away at a period when it was most needed.

Hastings termed the Roosevelt recovery program "the great spender's hypnotism" of the nation. He warned of the "day of reckoning."

AUSTRIAN REVOLT

the "putsch" was launched, Vienna had experienced one half hour of machine gun fighting and several pistol affrays.

One of the most widely accepted stories of how the Nazis captured Dollfuss was as follows: He, with Emil Fey, minister of public security, and Minister Karwinsky were captured by Nazis disguised as heimwehr and army officers who forced their way into the chancellor's office. Previously, 300 similarly-disguised Nazis had forced their way into the heimwehr barracks in the seventh district, seizing machine-guns, rifles and a large quantity of ammunition. Then the main group proceeded to the chancellery, overpowering two sentries who remained outside and barricaded the doors.

This report further declared that the three prisoners were held as hostages on the threats they would be killed if the heimwehr attacked the building.

Situation In Confusion

The police commissioner said that Anton Rintelen, Austrian minister to Rome, will take over the chancellorship. A Neustaedter storm trooper, however, said he had come from President Miklas to announce that Dr. Kurt Schuschnigg, minister of justice and education, would take over the government and that all other reports were false. This threw the whole situation into confusion again.

It was certain only that the members of the Nazi putsch held government members prisoners in the chancellery.

Although, at Fey's command, soldiers withdrew from the Ballhausplatz, 30 army trucks carrying machine guns, trench mortars, and other equipment appeared on the square before the nearby Burgheater. Two armored cars and several ambulances also were held in readiness.

It was at this time that government leaders not in the hands of the Nazis, gave the putsch leaders 20 minutes to release their captives.

CORPORATIONS' DEBT

NEW YORK (AP)—The total bonded debt of 321 large industrial corporations reached a peak of $2,774,000,000 in 1928, it is reported by Moody's Investors Service. From then it has declined consistently to $2,156,000,000 in 1933, a drop of 22.3 per cent. The decline since 1929 has been 14.9 per cent."

Happy Over Prospects Of Wealth

Gilda Gray of shimmy fame and her husband, Briceno da Saa, are shown as they received a cablegram from Spain informing them that de Saa had inherited the title of baron and part of a Spanish nobleman's estate valued in excess of $1,000,000. De Saa is an attache in the Venezuelan service. Gilda seems overjoyed at the prospects of becoming a baroness. (Associated Press Photo)

WEST TEXANS TO TALK FOR SMALL

West Texas supporters of Senator Clint Small's candidacy for governor will speak in his behalf over station WBAP, Fort Worth, tonight at 8 o'clock. The broadcast will be an answer to the challenge of East Texans who spoke over the same station recently for the Amarillo man.

Mayor Ross Rogers of Amarillo will preside, introducing the speakers: Dr. J. D. Sandefer of Abilene, president of Hardin and Simmons university; Chas. A. Guy of Lubbock, publisher of The Avalanche-Journal; W. B. Hamilton, Wichita Falls, independent oil operator; Jay Taylor, Amarillo, president of Panhandle Livestock Producers association; Mayor Deskin Wells, Wellington.

purchases of stricken cattle, to relieve the acute condition here and elsewhere, where facilities are jammed to overcapacity.

It was reported that about 10,000 more cattle were en route here. If they can not be rerouted to other markets, they will be sent to fresh pastures in Tennessee and southeastern states, or slaughtered.

HEAT WAVE

day—two degrees higher than the previous all-time record, set in 1908.

In New York City showers fell before dawn today and the weather bureau said the Atlantic seaboard would be favored with cooler temperatures.

The far west continued to enjoy freedom from the blasts, and nature drew a joker from her weather pack 80 miles from Denver, where tourists engaged in a snowball fight as an inch of snow fell on Mount Evans.

More than an inch of rain fell in some sections of Minnesota, Oklahoma was told of a possibility of light showers, and cooler temperatures were predicted for Nebraska, Ohio, Wisconsin, Iowa, Illinois, South Dakota, Missouri and Wyoming—all stricken by the blight.

WIN COSMETICS

CHARME TISSUE CREAM

Charme Cosmetics surprise the beautician world by announcing a Liquid Tissue Cream for Dry Scalps . . . now a Tissue Cream for the Dry Scalp, as well as a Tissue Cream for the Face.
Charme Liquid Tissue Cream is sold only through the Beauty and Barber shops.

Its easy . . . and lots of fun, too. Here is the way. Make a "chuckle" by combining any three lines in the classified ads. For example:

"Used typewriter desk, chair, $11. Used 5 acres, well improved, to exchange for furnished apartment, private bath."

You must use the entire line, without omitting a single word, and the sentence must contain three complete lines.

The four women who submit the best and cleverest "Chuckles" will each receive a jar of CHARME CLEANSING CREAM, FREE!

All entries must be at the Avalanche-Journal Classified Department, before 6 p. m. Saturday, July 28th.

BARGAIN WEEK

Brown County Man Dies At Age Of 102

BROWNWOOD, July 25. (AP)—Alred E. Brown, who would have been 102 years old Sept. 18, died Monday at his home in May community, Brown county. Funeral services for the pioneer, who was Brown county's only centenarian, were conducted Tuesday afternoon. He fought in the Confederate army under general Robert E. Lee and was at Appotomax when Lee surrendered.

The condensed milk industry has a serious menace in wild yeast, which flourishes on many plants and can be carried by any breeze. Milk sweetened and canned is not brought to the boiling point, where the yeast spores would be killed.

AUSTIN, July 25 (AP)—Henry Owsley, blue sky commissioner, has undertaken preparation of forms to be used by the secretary of state in tabulating returns from the Democratic primary. He found it a big job since returns are to be sent this year to the secretary of state from all state and district races.

The election laws were amended at the last regular session of the legislature to require county chairmen to forward an unofficial count of the completed vote to the secretary of state immediately when available "by telegraph or by more expeditious means." The law directs the election judges to communicate the complete but unofficial count to each county chairman as soon as completed.

Must Release Totals

The law also provides that as soon as the polls close on election day the presiding officer shall make a memorandum of the count at that time and make it accessible to newspaper reporters and others. As the count progresses and until completed new totals are to be made available at intervals.

A penalty of a fine of from $500 to $1,000 and of confinement of one year in jail for non-compliance is provided in the law.

Owsley has obtained names of the candidates in each of the 127 representative districts, the 21 congressional districts, the 15 senatorial districts where senators are to be chosen this year and in all of the other district races, such as for places on the courts of civil appeals and district judges and district attorneys.

Cooperation Given

It required much correspondence and considerable labor to obtain that information but Owsley said he was given excellent cooperation by those from whom he requested the data.

Senator T. J. Holbrook of Galveston is the only senator up for election this time who does not have opposition. Only a few of the 150 members of or aspirants to the house are unopposed.

OPTIONS BRING IN MILLIONS

SIX-CENT PLAN AIDS FARMERS; PAYMENTS ARE ANNOUNCED

WASHINGTON, July 25. (AP)—The farm administration's six-cent cotton option plan has brought $11,618,480 to farmers who exercised options by direct sale, and $38,928,555 to those who participated in the cotton producers' pool.

These figures, as of June 30, were announced today, for June alone payments in the direct sale category were $224,503, while those resulting from the pool were $46,374.

The option plan was put into effect last year during the plow-up campaign. A farmer was permitted either a total cash payment for plowing up his cotton, or, as an alternative, granted a part cash payment and an option on cotton for the remainder due him.

Payments made under exercise of options by sale for June and for the entire period, follow, by states include:

Oklahoma $13,676—$2,202,099; Texas $62,284—$4,211,573.

Payments made through participation in pool:

Oklahoma $1,766—$2,239,312; Texas $12,542—$11,471,521.

CUTS STAY PUT

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Visions of restored salary cuts went glimmering for Madison city officials with the announcement of Mayor James R. Law that the city could do nothing this year that would cost money. Madison's financial difficulties are traceable to taxpayers who failed—to the tune of $155,000—to pay taxes due this year. Added to that is $180,000 still unpaid last year.

Vacation Jinx

DANSVILLE, N. Y.—Vacation time is bad luck time for Edward P. Finn, village American Legion commander.

He was at the Chicago fair today when he was called home for a funeral. Last year he had pneumonia, preceded annually—all during his vacations—by a fractured collar bone, a fall from a ladder and a relative's funeral.

Cool Customers

NEW CASTLE, Pa.—The heat wave doesn't mean much to workmen moving a pile of limestone from a local quarry. The stone at the bottom of the pile is cemented to the ground by ice which formed during the winter and was insulated against the heat by the limestone.

Home-Loving Deer

GREENBURG, Pa. — A doe, "Peggy", which escaped last January from Idlewild park, couldn't resist the temptation to visit "home."

Park attaches saw "Peggy" near the cages, hobnobbing with the confined deer, but when they called her, she scampered off into the woods.

The character "Frankenstein" was created by Mary Shelley in 1818.

desk and impartiently crushed out the stub of his cigarette.

"Those fellows are not up to this job," he declared. "They're too thick mentally, their ideas are muscle-bound. Probably they're still unconvinced, because they didn't see anything. The reason is obvious — they're just the common garden variety of 'gumshoe.' Their methods are hallmarked. Even a half-witted criminal could see them coming a block away.

"Before I can feel safe again, Jim, I must have a man who won't waste time looking for false whiskers hiding behind trees. Can't you dig up a man I can take around with me without having him arouse suspicion or derision? Some one who can move about in evening clothes in places like the Austerlitz without looking like a musical comedy waiter? This thing may drag on for weeks and I can't have a riot squad picketed everywhere I am."

Markison returned to indicate that the revised preparations were in readiness. Dufresne picked up his hat and overcoat and silently followed his bodyguard from the office. After he had gone, Connors tilted back and forth in his swivel chair, while he looked thoughtfully out at the falling snow.

Coming to a decision, he lifted the telephone receiver. "Get me Homicide," he ordered, and in a moment he had his connection. "Director Connors speaking. Put on Sergeant Harper—"

The chair creaked back and forth as he waited.

"Hello, Harper?... Say, Harper, have you got a dress suit?... No, I'm not joking... Tuxedo? Sure, that'll fill the bill.... Come on over, Harper, and I'll tell you about this soup-and-fish job." He listened to the Detective Sergeant's response and chuckled. "No, this is the real thing. I'll tell you about it when you get here...."

Tomorrow, Harper has dinner under strange circumstances.
