Storm Toll Set At Two Hundred

HURRICANE ROARS ON TOWARD HAITI AND SANTO DOMINGO

(By The Associated Press)

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, Sept. 28—Deaths from the hurricane which struck Puerto Rico early yesterday mounted into the hundreds today as reconstruction crews cleared away the debris while the storm roared on toward Santo Domingo and Haiti.

Governor James R. Beverley placed the number of dead at 200 last night and the injured at 1,000, but he said that estimate undoubtedly would be revised upward.

Storm Continues

In the meantime, reports from Santo Domingo, before communications were closed down last night, said the storm destroyed a number of houses at San Pedro de Macoris, about 50 miles from there. It reached Santo Domingo at 8:30 p. m., but no damage was done up to that hour.

Reports from Havana late last night quoted authorities at the national observatory as saying the storm passed over or near Santo Domingo, moving northwestward at a rate of 12 miles an hour. It was reported due to reach the vicinity of Port Au Prince, Haiti, at 4 a. m., today, and would then begin endangering shipping off the coast of Oriente Province, Cuba. If its path continued unvaried, observatory officials said, it would pass over the vicinity of Colon straits as it neared the Cuban coast.

Damage Heavy

Property damage in the wake of the storm here, officials estimated, would run into many millions of dollars. The heaviest damage was to the coffee plantations which had just begun to bear again this year after having been flattened by the disastrous storm of four years ago. The citrus fruit crop, worth about $7,000,000, would be a total loss, observers said.

Governor Beverley instructed the emergency relief committee to begin at once to find shelter and food for the many thousands left destitute and homeless.

Towns Destroyed

Rafael Veve, jr., assistant general manager of the Fajardo sugar company, who arrived here late last night after spending eight hours travelling 30 miles, said all the towns between Fajardo and Carolina, half way to the capital, were destroyed and half the plantation houses blown down.

DEATH CLAIMS AGED ORATOR

J. S. WILLIAMS DIES AFTER LONG AND COLORFUL LIFE

(By The Associated Press)

YAZOO CITY, Miss., Sept. 28—Former Senator John Sharp Williams, who spent part of his boyhood fleeing a federal invasion of his state and most of his manhood in his country's congress, died last midnight.

He was 78 and was at his old plantation home near here with a group of kinsmen when the end came. He had failed fast during recent months and his death was not wholly unexpected.

Helped Awaken South

It was the crackling, piercing voice of John Sharp Williams—student, connoisseur of beautiful things, planter of cotton—that helped awaken the south from the lethargy that almost smothered it after the war between the states. The same voice commanded mighty eloquence and stinging sarcasm as it fought the battles of Woodrow Wilson in the senate during the trying days of the League of Nations fight. And it was the same voice that told the senate, after it doomed Wilson's measure, "I'd rather be a hound dog and bay at the moon from my Mississippi plantation than remain in the United States senate."

He retired from public life in 1923 and came home after devoting almost 30 years of his life to service in congress.

THE WEATHER

WEST TEXAS: Partly cloudy probably showers in south portion tonight and Thursday.

EAST TEXAS: Partly cloudy in north, occasional rains in the south portion tonight and Thursday; cooler in west and north portions tonight. Moderate northerly winds on the coast.

OKLAHOMA: Generally fair tonight and Thursday.

MAN "ADMITS" TAKING PART IN BOMBING

MOUNTAINEER HELD IN PREPAREDNESS DAY OUTRAGE OF 1916

(By The Associated Press)

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 28.—Paul M. Callicotte, 32-year-old Oregon mountaineer, was held in jail without bond today after purportedly telling police he "thinks" he unwittingly placed the dynamite laden suit case which killed 10 persons and injured 42 in the 1916 San Francisco Preparedness Day parade.

Tom Mooney and Warren K. Billings are serving life sentences in California prisons for the bombing.

Probe Promised

Although detectives said they were not inclined to give full credence to Callicotte's statement, they booked him as a fugitive from San Francisco and promised a full investigation.

Callicotte was quoted by police as saying he took the suitcase from a man in front of Industrial Workers of the World hall in Oakland, carried it across San Francisco bay, delivered it to a man in San Francisco and at the latter's request placed it on the curb at the corner of Steuart and Market streets. It was at this point the suitcase bomb exploded. Callicotte said he was paid $5 and did not know what the suitcase contained.

Kept A Secret

Because his parents were devout Seventh Day adventists and would be hurt if they learned he worked on the Adventists' sabbath, he said he did not reveal his story until last night.

Representatives of the Mooney defense league, which for years has fought to clear Mooney's name, said it had spent much money tracing similar reports in the last 15 years only to find they were valueless. However, they said they would investigate Callicotte's story.

Japanese Worried By Revolt Report

TOKYO, Sept. 28 (AP)—Fear that a serious revolt against the new state of Manchukuo had broken out in western Heilungkiang province in Manchuria worried Japanese government officials today.

Communications with the western part of the huge northern province appeared to have broken down completely, it was said, after the Japanese consul telegraphed Tsitsihar, asking for help.

S. A. Wells and Chas. A. Guy have been designated by Wilbur C. Hawk president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, to serve as Governor R. S. Sterling's representatives in the preparation and submission of application for funds out of the $300,000,000 provided by the federal emergency relief and construction act of 1932.

The West Texas chamber has been charged by the governor with the responsibility of naming the chairman in each town and county in its territory and assembling the applications from the towns. The directors of the affiliated towns have been named as chairmen in unaffiliated towns, the chamber has named others as chairmen.

Already application blanks and instructions have gone out to the two hundred towns, cities, and one hundred thirty counties in West Texas from the office of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce at Stamford.

Assistance in making out the applications is to be given by the regional organization. General Manager D. A. Bandeen, at Stamford, will devote most of his time during the next two weeks in assisting towns and counties in that part of West Texas in making the applications. The same service will be given to the Panhandle-Plains cities by Assistant Manager Maury Hopkins at Plainview.

FARMERS WILL BE ASKED TO PAY FOURTH

COLLECTION OF CROP LOANS MADE EASIER UNDER NEW ORDER

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 — It was announced at the White House today that farmers owing crop production loans to the government would be asked to pay only 25 per cent of the amount due, with an agreement to secure the remaining 75 per cent on whatever terms congress may authorize.

Present low prices on farm products, the statement said, would make it "practically impossible for wheat farmers to repay their crop production loans without incurring grave risk of need during the winter."

Collections Not Pressed

On Sept. 14, Secretary Hyde said he had been authorized by the president to say the agriculture department would not press for collection of its feed and seed loans until congress had an opportunity to act.

The White House statement today said this order had not solved the difficulties in all localities, since it had been construed as meaning that a claim remained on the crop, preventing the marketing of any part of it.

New Order Issued

After further consultation with the president, the statement added, Secretary Hyde had issued a new order to accept from farmers 25 per cent of the amount due, and upon receiving such payments to press for no further money from the farmers involved until congress has acted.

Controversy Over Texas Gubernatorial Election Becomes Greater Puzzle

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Sept. 28—The election controversy involving the Texas Democratic gubernatorial nomination became more complex today.

As a complication growing out of the court suit filed by Governor R. S. Sterling contesting the action of the state convention in declaring Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson the nominee some persons regarded it as doubtful if Mrs. Jane Y. McCallum, secretary of state, would certify her name to county officials as the candidate of the Democratic party for governor.

Mrs. McCallum was noncommittal when asked what her course would be, stating she was "tracking the law" and that she preferred to await developments in the case before stating what she would or would not do.

One of the lawyers handling Governor Sterling's election contest, in which the governor alleged he received a majority of the votes legally cast, said he was of the opinion that under the statutes governing election contests, the matter of certifying the nominee had been taken from Mrs. McCallum's hands and that it now was the duty of the court to certify to county officials the gubernatorial candidate after the contest had been decided.

The governor's suit named Mrs. Ferguson's husband, Ex-Governor James E. Ferguson, her chief political advisor, as a defendant.

The state Democratic executive committee has been called to meet here Saturday. It is a pro-Ferguson

CLUES SLIGHT IN BOMBING

TWO MEN SOUGHT FOR WRECKING HOME OF TRIAL JURIST

(By The Associated Press)

WORCESTER, Mass., Sept. 28—Hopes for the swift apprehension of those who bombed the home of Judge Webster Thayer rested today in a small piece of copper found in the bedroom of a nearby house.

The fragment of metal had been hurled across the street from the Thayer home, through the wall and into the center of the room. William P. Pinneran, chief of detectives, believed it to be a part of the bomb that wrecked the home of the Sacco-Vanzetti trial judge yesterday.

Alarm Broadcast

Meanwhile, police broadcast an alarm for "two swarthy complexioned men in an automobile carrying New York registration plates." The car was seen in front of the judge's house shortly before the explosion and a neighbor said its two occupants left the scene hurriedly just before the blast.

Investigating officials went back to the trial of the two radicals, who were executed in Massachusetts state prison in August, 1927, for a motive.

Threatened Often

Judge Thayer pronounced the death sentence and refused a new trial. Many times he had been threatened and many times his home had been the scene of demonstrations. Never before, however, had there been any violence.

TEXAS CAPITALIST TAKEN BY DEATH

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Sept. 28 (AP)—John J. Culberson, widely known Texas capitalist, died here suddenly late last night at the Mercy hospital. Death apparently was due to a heart attack.

Culberson, a pioneer figure in the cotton oil business of the southwest and a benefactor to that section of the country, had come to San Diego Sept. 19 on a vacation with his wife, Emily. He was a charter member of the federal reserve board of the Dallas district. His home was in Paris, Texas.

Taxi Driver Held In Bank Robbery

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 28 (AP) — Herbert Thomas, San Antonio taxi driver, was held at Seguin today while officers investigated the robbery of the Schertz State bank yesterday.

No charge had been filed against Thomas. He said the man who robbed the bank made him act as chauffeur by threatening him with a pistol. H. P. Thulmeyer, cashier of the bank, identified a photograph in the records of the San Antonio police as that of the robber. Officers said they expected to arrest the man soon.

MARTIAL RULE OVER HAVANA

FOUR CUBAN LEADERS SHOT TO DEATH AND FIFTH IS STABBED

(By The Associated Press)

HAVANA, Sept. 28—This city was under martial law today as police osuth gunmen who yesterday murdered four of Cuba's prominent political leaders and inflicted fatal wounds upon a fifth, who died in the hospital today.

President Machado explained the decree of martial law was promulgated to prevent possible reprisals by friends of the four slain men.

Dr. Clemente Vazquez Bello, friend of Machado, president of the senate, and prospective candidate for the presidency of Cuba, died in a rain of machine gun bullets from a passing automobile.

Shortly afterward, three brothers, Gonzalo, Guillermo, and Leopoldo Freyre de Andrade, political opponents of Dr. Vazquez Bello and the Machado regime were slain in their home. Investigators described their killing as an act of reprisal by friends of the dead senate chief.

Police were seeking a man named Agustin Alvarez, who, they said, was the owner of the car which bore the machine gunners.

Representative Miguel Angel Aguiar, who participated in the unsuccessful revolt against the Machado government in August, last year, was wounded four times in a third shooting. He died this morning.

DR. KNAPP TALKS AT CONVOCATION OF TECH STUDENTS; ENROLLMENT HIGHER

Appearing before the student body of Texas Technological college for the first time, Dr. Bradford Knapp, president, addressed a convocation of students and faculty members at the college gymnasium at 11 o'clock this morning.

Prefacing his address with advice on obeying college rules in a semi-humorous vein, Dr. Knapp continued with outlining objectives of the institution revealed through ways of growth.

"Civilization is the sum total of man's struggle for the superior," said the speaker. "We grow in five ways; In knowledge through research, discovery and invention: through increasing the intellectual capacity of the individual and the collective whole; in effectiveness of political and economic organizations; in social consciousness; and in moral and spiritual responsibility."

Dr. Knapp urged support of athletics saying that less than half of students have purchased the activity tickets although the faculty has subscribed almost 100 per cent. The president intimated that if students do not support the athletic program it may be discontinued.

BRAZILIAN JOAN OF ARC DOFFS WHITE ROBES TO LEAD VOLUNTEERS IN FIGHT

UBERABA, Brazil, Sept. 28 (AP) — A Brazilian Joan of Arc, who doffed her white and flowing robes for the rough garb of a volunteer federal soldier, brandished the sword of battle today on the northern front where the federal troops are fighting the Sao Paulo rebels.

She is the leader of a cult of several thousand men, women and children in the interior state of Goyaz and she is leading a company of volunteers from her own group.

"Santa Dica," glorious saint, her followers call her. She won her fame with them by numerous reputed prophetic visions, by a claim of mental healing power and the ability to brew potions from herbs which achieved a reputation for curing various diseases.

She has always been a strong supporter of President Getulio Vargas, and when the rebellion in the southern state of Sao Paulo brought sharp fighting in the north she called for volunteers from among her followers.

Putting off white robes she got into a uniform and led her troops into action. She and her band had an active part in the capture of the town of Igacava from the rebels Friday and they were battering away today as the federal drive continued southward.

PREJUDICE IN LUBBOCK IS ALLEGED

THIRD DEFENDANT IN BROWN MURDER ASKS FOR TRIAL DELAY

Charging that so great a prejudice against him exists in Lubbock and adjoining counties due to widespread publicity given the case that he cannot obtain a fair and impartial trial, counsel for Hugh Walker, charged with murder in 99th district court, filed a motion for change of venue as his case was called before Judge Clark M. Mullican this morning.

Walker, the third defendant charged in the slaying of F. V. "Leather Hat" Brown, pioneer county stockman, asked that his hearing be moved beyond the circulation of the Avalanche and Journal, daily newspapers carrying detailed reports of the slaying and the trials of two other defendants, Jess Covington and B. L. "Barber John" Richardson. Fred H. Stanton and Jesse James were affiants in the motion.

Asks Continuance

Walker also asked continuance of his trial from "seven to ten days or some other day during this term of court" in another motion due to the illness of an attorney, Dewitt Bomer of Temple. Bomer's purported illness caused postponement of the trial from Monday until today. Walker cited in his petition that his sole counsel at present was Benjamin Kucera, an attorney appointed to represent him by the court. Two other attorneys, J. M. Marshall and R. J. Allen, appointed by the court, had withdrawn from the case upon permission from the court.

A hearing on the change of venue motion was scheduled to be held this afternoon, District Attorney Durwood Bradley, his assistant Burton S. Burks and Special Prosecutor J. E. Vickers having prepared their contraverting plea this morning. A number of witnesses from various sections of the county were expected to appear in the hearing.

Prejudice Claimed

Walker also charged in his venue change petition that there was added prejudice against him because the slain man was an old time resident of Lubbock county and a man of considerable wealth and prominence.

Newspapers, the Lubbock Morning Avalanche and the Lubbock Daily Journal, were charged with carrying headlines on the case, "full details of all circumstances surrounding the killing of F. V. Brown, and of the work of the officers in searching for parties responsible for

She Has Quadruple Job; Is In Club

BY LILIAN CAMPBELL

Just four jobs. That is all Mrs. Eudora Ramsay Richardson, Richmond, Va., has attempted to date, all at one time. She is wife, mother and author, and now has added her name to the ranks of officials in the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs as field representative.

A flair for field organization acquired in nation-wide suffrage campaigns and developed during the World war, when she stumped the southern states urging wise spending and prudent investments, has been called into play again in the interests of the nation's largest organization of business and professional women.

These activities have not prevented Mrs. Richardson from execising her literary talents, and "Little Aleck," a biography of Alexander H. Stevens the "fighting" vice president of the Confederacy, is the latest produce of her pen.

None of her interests, however—even in literature and her profession-are allowed to transcend her concern for the happiness and welfare of an 11-year-old daughter.

PROXY BRIDE TRAVELS FAR

Although she was married in Dalmatia a year ago, Mrs. M. Milich saw her husband for the first time in 20 years when she arrived at Auckland, N. Z., on the liner Maunganui recently. At about eight years of age she was betrothed to Clem Milich, who left Dalmatia for New Zealand when little more than a boy. Last year he decided that it was time he married and, although his bride was on the other side of the world, the ceremony was performed by proxy at the town of Podgora, in Dalmatia. The new bride and bridegroom met for the first time since their marriage in front of the Customs officials in the saloon of the Maunganui, and minor problems presented by the bride's papers were satisfactorily solved. The marriage ceremony by proxy is legally binding in Dalmatia, but if they wish the parties can attend another church ceremony.

U. S. POOH-POOHS RAILROAD REPORT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (AP)—Official Washington received with a broad smile today reports of charges published in the Kokumin, a Tokyo newspaper, that America's ambitions in Asia include plans for a railroad under the Bering Strait to connect the United States with Moscow.

Public comment was not forthcoming, but privately officials were openly amused and mentioned insurmountable obstacles, both engineering and diplomatic, to such a project.

Army engineers felt this country was much flattered to have anyone suppose the United States could finance and build such a railway line over thousands of miles of unexplored territory, on most of which no civilized man has ever set foot.

But even the feat of tunnelling the Bering Strait was belittled by them in comparison with the diplomatic hurdles separating Asia and North America.

U. S. READY TO COOPERATE

AMERICA TO APPROVE PRACTICAL PLAN TO HELP LIBERIA

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (AP)—The United States today was declared by Secretary Stimson "ready to approve any practicable plan" for international supervision of Liberia's administration, but feels such cooperation would be futile without "an adequate grant of authority" by the African republic.

"The view of this government in respect to Liberia," Stimson said "is simply that any officials sent there in behalf of the League of Nations shall have sufficient assurance of support and authority from both Liberia and the league to make it worth while sending them."

Position Given

The government's position was set forth by the secretary of state in a telegram last night to Walter White, secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, and W. E. B. Du Bois, editor of "The Crisis," both of New York City.

White and Du Bois contended in a telegram to Stimson yesterday that the state department attitude "amounts to a veto" of the league plan for nine foreign officials and a league advisor to supervise Liberia. This plan was suggested after an international commission reported conditions of slavery and forced labor existed there.

"If the department does not change its attitude on a question of vital importance to colored voters in the United States we should not be able to avoid attributing its position to the hostility of the Hoover administration to the negro race," White and Du Bois said.

his death, and that said killing was painted and played up as an important news item, and that said killing was read and discussed and its details talked over by practically every qualified juror in Lubbock county".

The petition also charged that after the arrest of the three defendants these same newspapers carried further accounts which were widely read and that more detailed accounts were carried on the trial proceedings of Jess Covington and B. L. "Barber John" Richardson.

Discussions Cited

That since the trials of said Jess Covington and B. L. "Barber John" Richardson, the petition continued, "one hears in almost every discussion of said two trials already had and the trial of this defendant, this defendant referred to as 'General Walker', that such references to this defendant are made because he was referred to as such during the arguments in said trial of Jess Covington and because said trial was given such prominent and far reaching publicity, and that it, in all trends to and does create among the people of Lubbock county, and in other territory beyond the limits of Lubbock county where said newspapers are circulated, a sentiment injurious to this defendant in that it tends to and does settle the guilt of said killing upon this defendant. . . . Discussions as to the guilt of this defendant have become so general and common and centered upon his guilt so prevalent . . . in almost every assemblage of few individuals discussing said matters opinions are expressed, by one or more as to his guilt, blame him with the full responsibility for said killing and expressions are made that he should be sentenced to the electric chair.

Claim Opinions Fixed

The petition added that even if this defendant is not guilty of said offense with which he are charged that he ought to be sent to the electric chair on general principles, and that by reason of discussions, opinions of nearly all of the qualified jurors of said county have become fixed against the defendant and prejudice has grown so great against him that a fair trial would be improbable".

Judge Mullican dismissed prospective veniremen and witnesses for the day, instructing them to report again on Thursday morning.

Action on the motion will be taken before Thursday morning, court attaches indicated this afternoon.

committee. One of Sterling's lawyers said he believed it was called to discuss what course it should pursue as a result of the election suit and the developments concerning Mrs. Ferguson's application as the nominee. No call for the meeting was given. Others said it was called "for the good of the party."

Under the law Mrs. McCallum must prepare the ballot for transmittal to county officials by Oct. 9. Trial of the governor's election contest was set for Oct. 3. It was regarded as probable that it would require several weeks to try the case. One of the governor's attorneys said the anticipated trial would consume three weeks or more.

Asked if she would certify Mrs. Ferguson as nominee unless forced to, Mrs. McCallum replied:

"Do I look like I am anxious to certify her?"

Mrs. McCallum is an appointee of Sterling and bitter foe of the Fergusons.

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 28 (AP)—Cotton opened steady today as Liverpool cables were better than due and the map showed considerable rains in the belt. First trades were 3 to 5 points up, but there was good deal of hedging developed after the start which caused December to ease 6 points from the opening to 7.46. There was no trading beyond October and the month December also were rather neglected.

The weekly weather and crop summary was considered favorable and therefore bullish, as was the news of the tropical storm in the West Indies.

Near the end of the first hour, the market had a steadier tone due mainly to the weather influences.

The market turned easier as the morning progressed, owing to hedge-selling and reported lifting by cooperative interests. December finally dropped to 7.38 or 8 points down from January to the early highs and 10 points below yesterday's close. Near noon, the market rallied in sympathy with an upturn in stocks and the most active month, December, recovered to 7.50, or 12 points up from the previous low and 4 points above yesterday's close.

Trading was comparatively quiet.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Sept. 28 (AP)— Cotton futures opened steady, 3-6 higher in response to higher Liverpool cables and continued rains in the south.

Early demand was not particularly active but December sold up to 7.50 during the first few minutes, making net advances of about 6 or 7 points. Trade met some southern selling and offerings increased slightly on less unfavorable weekly weather report than anticipated. Scombined with expectations of increased ginning toward the end of the week prices eased a few points from the best but the market was fairly steady at net gains of 2 or 3 points at the end of the first half hour. Liverpool cables reported local and foreign buying on the south rain news and said demand for cotton cloth was broadening.

The annual crop report of a local trade paper, pointing to a yield of 11,000 bales, had little effect and the early decline extended to 7.36 for December or about 7 points net lower. Some further southern selling in small lots was reported, with scattered realizing or liquidation but offerings were small and the market at midday was quiet and steady within a point or two of yesterday's close on the active months.

munity divisions of the agricultural department.

Fair grounds are in the best condition they have been since the exposition opened.

Tuesday's night program drew a big audience which overflowed the grandstands. The horse show, the second of the exposition, drew more attention than the display Monday night.

Keller Entry Wins

Mrs. R. J. Keller's Black Beauty, ridden by C. M. Carroll, won first prize in the racking class. Lady, owned and ridden by Jack Davis, won second, and third went to Black Cloud, owned and ridden by Mrs. O. W. McLeod. The entries were judged on speed, smoothness and timing. Dr. O. W. English's Shanghai Lily, ridden by Sylvia Ainsworth, was one of the animals drawing attention.

First prize in the children's class was won again by Billy Graham, on Nellie. Chas. Smith, jr., on Babe was second, and Jack Williams on Dixie, third.

Joe Bowman's Eva Norman, one of the best bred animals of this section, appeared in the show, but was not a contest entry. Mr. Bowman, superintendent of the show, won first place Monday night on Diablo Prince.

A series of tight-wire acts followed last night's equine display. Members of the Stellar quartet received a good hand from the huge audience. In a burst of fire, Capt. La-Valley climaxed the evening's free vaudeville with a high dive. Fire flaming from his back, the diver hurled himself head first into the flaming pond of water many feet below the high platform.

The program ended on time with Gordon's fireworks display, carried on with only one mishap. A flaming Roman candle dropped onto the fender of an automobile parked outside the fair grounds. Little damage resulted, it was said.

The crowds yesterday afternoon were swelled by Lubbock public school children, who were dismissed for the afternoon. The youngsters will be released again at noon today for School Day. Merchants, members of the Retail Merchants association, and Lubbock's three banks closed shop for the exposition yesterday afternoon.

Thursday will be Amarillo day, and a large delegation from the Panhandle city is anticipated by fair officials. Friday will be Crosby and Hockley county day, and Saturday will be Terry and Lamb county day.

MISSING BANKER

CHEROKEE, Okla., Sept. 28 (AP)—Henry C. Doherty, missing Burlington banker, was charged today with embezzlement of two notes valued at $2,600 and $256. The charges were filed on complaint of Walter Ingram, state bank examiner.

Doherty, hunted in three states since he left Burlington Sept. 17, is accused of removing the notes from the bank. The notes were against Joseph Zehr, a farmer near Dumas, Texas.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Sept. 28 (AP)—Material setbacks of grain values early today accompanied relative weakness of wheat quotations at Liverpool. Stop loss selling carried corn prices down to bottom-most figures since 1899.

Opening unchanged to 3-8 off, wheat later underwent an all-around drop. Corn started 1-8 to 1-2 down and continued to fall.

OIL MEN TRYING TO UPHOLD PRICE

TYLER, Sept. 28 (AP)—The southwest conference on crude oil prices resolved last night to support a further cut in production if it were found necessary to prevent lower prices. Numerous speakers asserted there was no justification for a price cut now.

The meeting was called by Carl Estes, Tyler publisher, to organize sentiment against reduction reported to be under consideration by large purchasers of crude. It was addressed by Governor William H. Murray of Oklahoma, Carl Magee editor of the Oklahoma City News, and by numerous state conservation officials and representatives of oil associations. About 250 men attended.

AMENDMENTS ARE EXPLAINED TODAY

Summarizing each amendment and explaining briefly its effect on the electorate, Dr. W. A. Jackson, head of the Tech department of government, spoke on the nine state amendments to be voted on in November to members of the Lubbock Rotary club today noon at Hotel Lubbock. Roscoe Wilson was chairman of the day.

"I know that our present constitution is defective, that it is long and involved," Dr. Jackson said. "I believe it should deal with fundamentals and principles and not in detailed regulations and full statutory details as it is. But I doubt if it would be wise for a new constitution to be drawn at this time. I think a new constitution should be submitted only in normal times."

He cited that fact that 52 of 111 amendments submitted to the electorate had been ratified, 57 had been defeated and two had not been voted upon. The history of constitutional amendments is that the majority of the amendments fail, those voted on in general elections pass and those voted on in special elections fail.

Harvey Rix of Big Spring, Chester A. Sheppard of Paris, H. D. Johns of Austin and Sam Sloan of Ralls were out-of-town visitors at the luncheon.

75 Saloons Raided By Federal Agents

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 28 (AP) — While approximately 150 persons awaited questioning here today, the glistening bars and gambling equipment with which they were familiar either as operators or patrons were being carted away to warehouses in the culmination of federal raids last night on dozens of the estimated 75 big saloons which had operated openly in Kansas City and Jackson county.

W. L. Vandeventer, United States district attorney for western Missouri, disclosed that preparations for the raids had been two months in the making and that the blow against prohibition law violators had been struck as a climax of carefully-laid plans approved by Attorney General William D. Mitchell.

Natural gas was first used as an illuminant at Fredonia, N. Y., in 1824.

UTILITY HEADS QUIT POSTS

ENTIRE DIRECTORATE OF MIDDLE WEST CO. IS REPLACED

CHICAGO, Sept. 28. (AP)—The entire directorate of the Middle West Utilities Co., the billion dollar holding concern for public utilities formerly operated by Samuel Insull in 32 states, has resigned, and, the receivers announced, has been replaced by a smaller board consisting of presidents of the system's leading subsidiaries.

Announcement of the change was made last night by Edward N. Hurley and Charles A. McCulloch, receivers in equity for the middle west which serves 6,300,000 customers in the United States and Canada.

Officers Dropped

In addition, they said, 15 of the holding company's 16 officers, who served under the Insull regime, have been dropped. Oliver E. McCormick, treasurer, was the only official retained.

The new directorate of 10 will serve with Grover C. Neff, recently installed as president. Neff, like all members of his new board, was head of an operating company before assuming his present duties.

Insulls Replaced

Among the 15 directors replaced were Samuel Insull, now in Paris; his brother, Martin, now in Canada; and Samuel Insull, jr., en route to Paris.

The receivers branded all talk of bankruptcy for the middle west as "poppycock." They reiterated their statement that the holding concern was solvent and said its 42 operating subsidiaries are now in a stronger cash position than at any time in the past five years.

THREE RESIGN IN CABINET

BRITISH HEADS QUIT AFTER RIFT OVER TARIFF PLAN

LONDON, Sept. 28. (AP)—Three of the important liberal and labor members of Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald's eleven-month-old national cabinet resigned today after a disagreement over tariff proposals approved at the recent imperial trade conference at Ottawa.

The three who resigned were Viscount Snowden of Ickornshaw, Lord Privy Seal, former labor party leader who followed his colleague, the prime minister, into the national cabinet last November, and two noted liberals, Sir Herbert Samuel, home secretary, and Sir Archibald Sinclair, secretary for Scotland.

Marks First Break

The resignations marked the first break in the national government which was chosen from all three leading parties to meet the financial crisis which Great Britain faced last October.

The liberal leaders and Viscount Snowden objected to the tariff proposals as incompatible with their free trade principles.

The cabinet met in a tense special session at 11 a. m., for final consideration of the threatened break, which has been fore-seen for several days. The session lasted two hours. The prime minister and a majority of the cabinet members declared the free traders' proposal to delay presentation of the Ottawa agreements "impracticable."

The three members immediately resigned and the cabinet adjourned until 2:30 p. m.

WOMAN'S DEFIANCE HALTS ATTEMPTS TO LEARN ABOUT INDIAN'S WEALTH

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 28. (AP)—A woman's defiance today temporarily halted efforts to learn what became of a large part of the wealth of Jackson Barnett, 90, multi-millionaire Creek Indian.

So perplexed was the prosecutor at the refusal of the Indian's white wife, Mrs. Anna Laura Lowe Barnett, to give her deposition in United State commissioner's court that he awaited word from authorities at Washington as to whether to proceed with contempt proceedings against her.

"We have been persecuted and prosecuted and tortured by the government since our marriage 13 years ago." Mrs. Barnett told the court. "I don't intend to testify here and there's nothing you can do about it."

The government sought depositions from Mrs. Barnett in its suit to restore $550,000 to the estate of Barnett, which was allegedly given her by the Indian. Other suits to restore approximately half a million more are pending against Harold McGugin, Coffeyville, Kansas, attorney and congressman, and his co-defendants, Nell Bird McGugin, the McGugin Investment company and W. S. Keith. The federal government, as guardian of the Indian who has been adjudged incompetent, is seeking restoration of the money.

Unlike his wife, Barnett took the proceedings good-naturedly, and testified yesterday.

Barnett became suddenly wealthy from discovery of oil on his land in Oklahoma. His home is one of the largest on Wilshire boulevard, one of Los Angeles' most exclusive residential thoroughfares. But he still observes farmers' hours.

Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might; for there is no work, nor device, nor knowledge, nor wisdom, in the grave, whither thou goest. — Ecclesiastes 9:10.

Unless we put heart and soul into our labor, we but brutify our actions—H. W. Shaw.

Miners' Luck

Two little stories about gold miners got into the papers the other day, and if they aren't typical of the gold seeker's life they at least ought to be.

One told of a California prospector whose mule slipped off a trail and slid down a mountainside. Going down to retrieve it, the prospector stumbled blindly onto a ledge of gold-bearing quartz, so rich that it will probably make him wealthy for the rest of his life.

The other told of a prospector in Ontario, who was crossing a wilderness lake and was forced by a storm to land on a little island. On the island, which he wouldn't have visited but for the storm, he found a gold vein of surpassing richness. Now he's going to be wealthy, too.

Maybe it doesn't happen that way often. But those stories, illustrating what sheer luck can do for the prospector, are perfectly typical of the age-old idea of the prospector's life, if not of the actuality.

False Bargains

While the steady decline of prices of retail merchandise has taught the buying public to look for bargains these days, a number of merchants are pointing out, quite properly, that a lot of very shoddy merchandise is coming into the market with nothing but its extreme cheapness to recommend it. And it might be added that buying goods of that sort can be the worst kind of bargain the buyer can make.

Of course, prices of high grade articles are lower now than they have been in years. It is a good time to be buying—so long as you make sure that you are getting a genuine bargain and are not paying your money to some unscrupulous profiteer.

Government reports indicate upturns in the price of hides. That doesn't hold good at the race tracks, however, where a pretty fair one can be obtained at a bargain.

Did you ever notice how verbose some of these "silent" political candidates can become if paid at regular rates by the day's periodicals?

And the Republicans, also, might use that Spanish infant, born recently with six arms. It would come in mighty handy when they start talking about "we can point with pride . . ."

THE approaching court wrangle over the Democratic gubernatorial nomination indicates more plainly than ever that Texas is not a one-party state but instead, a two-party state which bids fair to soon become a three-party commonwealth.

Enemies of the Fergusons have long claimed that Texas' two principal parties are "the Democratic party" and "the Ferguson party".

Since the present mess has arisen, however, it is logical to believe that there are three parties in Texas; "the Democratic party", "the Ferguson party" and "the Moody-Hobby-Sterling party"—with "the Democratic party" being made up of a great middle group of citizens who prefer not to trail with either of the other two but who have to do so, or be disenfranchised.

Since the second primary, in which The Plainsman frankly supported Governor Sterling upon the basis that he was the better candidate of the two, this writer has made it his business to talk to a lot of people here, there and yonder.

He has talked to rabid Ferguson partisans; to rabid Sterling partisans.

But he has also talked to a lot of people who are not partisans of either camp and who voted, one way or another, merely to have a voice in the ballot and largely to "vote against the other candidate."

The Plainsman has made no count of the people to whom he has talked but looking back on the conversations he honestly believes that he has talked to more people who fall into "the Democratic party" class than to combined partisans of "the Ferguson party" and "the Moody-Hobby-Sterling party".

THIS much has been plainly indicated: there are many Texans who are sick and disgusted with Fergusonism—and there are many other Texans who are just about as sick of the Moody-Hobby-Sterling ring. Take these two groups together and you find many citizens who are looking for and demanding a new deal in Texas politics.

And they'll get it in 1934—you wait and see!

Leaders of the branches of what is generally referred to as Texas Democracy have so messed things up—have so muddied the water in their head-over-heels chase for power and prestige—they have just about put the kibosh on the so-called single party system in Texas.

They haven't found out about it yet, but they're due to find out soon that the public at large is almost washed up with politics as it has been operated in this state.

That Man on Avenue Q says one good turn deserves another—especially when the battery's down and the motor's cold.

Anything you want and can't afford is a luxury.

SANE people are wondering how much longer the public is going to stand for calling hazardous, transoceanic flights "goodwill flights"—especially those which are made for a large cash prize.

Most of them aren't "goodwill flights" in any sense of the word but instead are either foolhardy or adventurous undertakings by men who wish to make a lot of money quickly—and are willing to risk their necks doing it.

Latest plane to do the dip of death over the watery spaces of the North Pacific was that of the Tokyo newspaper, Hochi Shimbun, which previously had sponsored two other ill-fated ships in attempts to fly from the Jap capital to San Francisco by way of Nome.

Like all others, the last one was "a goodwill flight", although we doubt seriously, even had the flight been successful, that it would have resulted in any great amount of goodwill for Japan in this country.

ASIDE from Colonel Lindbergh's Paris and Mexico City flights, none of the ventures have resulted in any appreciable amount of goodwill and Mrs. George Putnam (nee Amelia Earhart) just about summed the thing up when she landed her crippled plane on an Irish farm.

"My flight", she said, "hasn't contributed one thing to aviation. Neither has it amounted to any so-called goodwill. I just wanted to make it—and I made it. I've had a wonderful time!"

The Healing Properties of Oil

Both Sides Gird For Hot And Bitter Battle Over Bonus Situation When Congress Meets Again; To Use Pressure

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28—A hot and bitter battle will be fought here this winter over the demand for cashing of the soldiers' bonus certificates.

On the one side will be the veterans, their organizations now solidly behind the proposal, worked up to a new pitch of grim determination to get that two-billion-and-more dollars.

Dutcher

On the other side will be the most formidable opposition ever encountered by a piece of veterans' legislation.

In between will be Congress, ordinarily spineless in the face of veteran demands. No one can tell what conditions will be like next winter or how effectively the pro-bonus and anti-bonus forces will organize in the meantime, but it is a good guess that the veterans will not be able to achieve their demand by persuading both houses to pass the measure over a presidential veto.

The cash bonus bill passed the House at the last session and failed in the Senate so it didn't even reach the White House where President Hoover stood ready to veto it.

Then the bill didn't have the support of the American Legion, which has now voted overwhelmingly for it. Nor was the distress of unemployed veterans as acute as it may be this winter. That distress has been the main factor behind the increasing pressure to cash certificates which are not payable until 1945.

On the other hand this Congress in its second session will not be facing a season of primary and election campaigns. It will be a lame duck session, full of defeated members who will have for the time being at least, little to lose by voting their convictions and perhaps something to gain by falling in line behind President Hoover in his opposition.

It is not unlikely that this time the anti-bonus group will be able to exert political pressure of its own. Furthermore, in view of unemployment distress, many members will object more vigorously than ever to voting relief for the veterans at the expense of the rest of the population.

Political interest recently has centered on whether Governor Roosevelt would take any public position on the bonus before election. In advance of any statement by Roosevelt, the best guesses were that he preferred to ignore the issue, although it was believed that he would surely veto such a bill if he were president.

The National Economy League, meanwhile, is getting an increasing amount of publicity and support and it seems likely to be the spearhead of the anti-bonus movement. Founded originally by Archibald Roosevelt and Greenville Clark, two veterans, it has grown rapidly and is established in nearly all states with the aim of obtaining reduction of government expenses.

It announced as its first objective "the elimination of the great annual expenditures, now amounting to more than $450,000,000 annually, for those veterans of the Spanish-American and World Wars who suffered no disability in war service."

The league is making the most of the facts and figures of veteran legislation, pointing out that the country has already spent some $6,000,000,000 for World War veterans and at the present rate, which is likely to be stepped up, will have spent more than 21 billions by 1945.

A joint congressional committee has been named to study the whole structure of veteran legislation and will report at the next session. It will be getting busy soon after election.

The Democratic war cry has become "Remember the Maine vote."

COUNTRY SCHOOL TEACHER WRITES ON CONFAB

Dear Plainsman: The convention is long since over but the echoes are still resounding through the offices of the Highway department and Ross is still battling valiantly for the cushion in that battered old chair. Almost everything turned out just as everybody expected. Ma was nominated to nobody's surprise but the unexpected does happend. For instance we were expecting to entertain the State Democratic convention but it turned out to be just another Ferguson rally. Nearly all the delegates were Ferguson men and the few Sterling delegates if there were any, were just like rabbits at a big wolf convention. They were run over until it wasn't any fun. Only one of them had anything to say and he had to fight to get to say it and then he only said that Jim was a thief. That brought a big laugh because it was so unexpected. Everybody thought he was going to really talk about Jim and when he got through they were betting even that he was a Ferguson man bragging on him.

It was the biggest "aye" convention ever held. There wasn't a "no" among the delegates. If somebody had jumped up and hollered "All ain't hid holler I" they would have spontaneously lifted the roof yelling "aye."

And do you remember those nice letters the delegates sent back telling you how much they enjoyed our hospitality and what a great country the undiscovered west is and all that? Do you remember who sent them? All those letters came from the Ferguson men. The Sterling men didn't send any because they didn't have a very good time at all. In fact they had a bad time and didn't even notice whether we had any hospitality or not. About all they saw of this country was a bunch of Ferguson badges and they probably haven't had any appetite since because they left here with a bad stomache ache.

Next time we get the convention lets hope that we get to see a few Democrats instead of so darn many Rossites and so many more Mawites.

Conventionally yours,
The Country School Teacher.

FACE OF EIGER SCALED

For the first time the north face of the Eiger, one of the most difficult peaks in the Bernese Alps, has been scaled. This side of the Eiger long has been called the "impossible way," and the bravest of guides would not attempt to conquer it. The ascent was made by Dr. Lauper, of Urich, and Herr Alfred Uercher, of St. Gall, both members of the Alpine Club, who were accompanied by two guides, Joseph Knubel and Alexander Graven. They left Kleine Scheidegg at two o'clock in the morning and after climbing the almost perpendicular wall 6,000 feet high, reached the peak at five o'clock in the evening. They made a very rapid descent, returning to their hotel at Berne at 9:15 o'clock that night. The Eiger is 13,038 feet high.

As Brought Over Associated Press Wires Today

Crash Anyway

CORVALLIS, Ore.—To avoid accidents, the state board of education issued a decree against student-operated automobiles. Two parties of Oregon state students, not to be outdone, hired a couple of "hacks." They met on a street and raced. One of the horses shied and there was a crash. Two co-eds were injured.

Count Turkeys

NEW YORK—With fall in the air, the department of agriculture has been counting turkeys. It reported the number available for Thanksgiving will be 31 per cent greater than last year. They'll also be cheaper.

Children Protest

FORT WAYNE, Ind.—There has been an epidemic of dog poisoning here recently. Children whose pets died paraded the streets in protest.

"Too High"

NEW YORK—David Goldstein charged Aaron Holtz five cents admission to his exhibition of "world wonders" at Coney Island. Aaron Holtz paid, but later complained the price was too high. He was thrown out. A magistrate held Goldstein in $100 bail on a charge of assault.

Needles Observes 11th Anniversary

B. E. Needles, pioneer Lubbock and South Plains tire salesman, this week is celebrating completion of 11 years in the tire business. He started with a stock of tires worth $180 at Shallowater late in September, 1921 and now maintains one of the largest "one stop service stations" in West Texas, at Avenue H and Fifteenth street. The plant and stock are estimated to be worth $150,000.

Needles came to Lubbock in 1926 and located at 716 Main street. He built his present building in 1930, at a cost of $25,000 with as much more for equipment. He employs over 20 people at his stations throughout the year.

Besides the Lubbock store, he has two others, at Lamesa and San Angelo. According to officials of the B. F. Goodrich Tire company the local man is rated as among the best ten tire dealers in the nation handling their line.

"During the time I have been in business," Mr. Needles said, "tires have decreased 73 per cent in price and increased in construction quality 400 per cent. One can buy today for $10 as many tire miles as he bought for $100 in 1921. Eleven years ago the average tire had 3,000 miles while today it ranges from 10,000 to 25,000 depending on the age of the car and the speed it is driven."

A recent merger in the automobile field brought together resources totaling $161,000,000. Just about what father says it will take to fix up the old car for another year.

Every morning take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast—cut down on pastry and fatty meats—go light on potatoes butter, cream and sugar—in 4 weeks get on the scales and note how many pounds of fat have vanished.

Get a bottle of Kruschen Salts—the cost is trifling and it lasts 4 weeks. If even this first bottle doesn't convince you this is the easiest, safest and surest way to lose fat—if you don't feel a superb improvement in health—so gloriously energetic—vigorously alive—your money gladly returned.

But be sure for your health's sake that you ask for and get Kruschen Salts. Get them at Mark Halsey Drug, City Drug, or any drugstore in the world.—Adv.

Sweden's Premier

Felix Hamrin, above, is the leader selected by King Gustav of Sweden as prime minister following the resignation of M. Ekman. On retiring Ekman gave as his reason the fact that on two occasions he accepted large sums from the late Ivar Kreuger, match king, on behalf of the Swedish government.

Nicaragua, Costa Rica, Guatemala and Honduras have celebrated their 111th anniversary of independence. And isn't it about time for another revolution to free them.

How to Relieve Headaches In Three Minutes

When you have one of those violent, nerve-racking headaches, from inorganic causes, you can get soothing relief in three minutes with "B. C.," a reliable, pleasant-to-take remedy. "B. C." is prepared by a registered pharmacist, compounded on a different principle from most relief-giving agencies in that it contains several ingredients, so blended and proportioned as to accomplish in a few minutes what we believe no one drug formula can do in so short a time. "B. C." should also be used for the relief of muscular aches and pains, common colds and neuralgia; for reducing fever and quieting a distressed nervous system without opiates, narcotics or such habit forming drugs. Get "B. C." in 10c and 25c packages, wherever drugs are sold. (adv.)

YANKS HEAVY FAVORITES OVER CUBS AS WORLD SERIES OPENS

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY COLLIER PARRIS

You may have been reading somewhere or hearing from somebody that the Southern Methodist university Mustang football team isn't so hot this year, that it isn't to be considered as a serious contender for Southwest conference honors.

But no matter how it's served you, it's baloney.

S. M. U. ALWAYS has a good football team.

Funny that you should be reading about S. M. U.'s weakness after, and only after, the scoreless tie which resulted in last Saturday's game with the North Texas Teachers. Before that game, you could read in almost any paper that S. M. U. would be a serious threat, even if a couple of pass snatchers and a chunker had graduated.

Nevertheless, Coach Ray Morrison has fifteen staunch letter men returning this fall, and nine veteran squadsmen, to say nothing of 18 more or less brilliant prospects from the freshman team of last year.

Out of that bunch he ought to be able to pick a couple of ends who could snare passes and one or two backs who could toss them. Passing is Morrison's strong suit, although the Mustangs are likely to do anything, and it isn't probable that he'd catch himself with the championship team, without somebody to manipulate the passing machine.

Here's what George White, the Dallas News sport expert and close observer of Mentor Morrison's work, has to say:

"On account of Morrison's presence one must have a wholesome respect for the Mustangs. The dean of coaches in this section, he usually has something up his sleeve besides his arm, and you won't be far wrong in wagering that he'll win his share of games in any season that he takes the field.

"Despite the fact that the Ponies were hard hit by graduation, they're going to have another big, fast eleven that won't be any part of a pushover. Filling vacant gaps in a starting lineup should be enough to worry any coach, but Morrison seems even more optimistic than usual and at one stage during the summer he broke right out in public with the statement he knew of no reason why his 1932 machine shouldn't be the best he has ever coached.

"At the same time he made a voluntarily though definite promise that followers of his band would be treated to a far more interesting style of football this year. The inference here is that he is going back to the old aerial circus that made his teams famous in the past and with that he hopes to have a running and plunging attack the like of which no S. M. U. team ever boasted."

Our secret operatives at Dallas inform us that against the Teacher team last Saturday, Morrison did not run his regulars except for brief periods. It was the first game for the Mustangs, and he gave 'em all a chance, like Cawthon did with his Matadors when the Panhandle Aggies were here. Word from unquestioned sources inform us that the regular performers, or those calculated to become the regulars, did not play much against the Teachers.

So if you anticipate going out to Matador Field Saturday night to see the Matadors run wild over the Mustangs, you have another think coming.

The Matadors can tote the package, not only can they tote it but they can deliver the package. If they tote it against S. M. U. there'll be some toting for you.

We were a trifle disappointed with the Westerners Monday afternoon. The squad was divided, called the "A" and "B" teams and sent together in an hour of scrimmage. The "B's" won, 12 to 6, before a big Fair crowd. There was a lack of hustle and pep, two important parts to a winning grid machine. There was a show of indifference on the part of the "A" team after the other side had scored its first touchdown. They didn't look like the championship Westerners of a year ago. Oh, after a "warming up" by the coaches during the intermission, they came back and fought pretty lively during the second half but not enough to make you forget the first half.

Friday afternoon will find the Westerners in Snyder, pitted against one of the strongest Class B outfits in the state circuits. The team at Snyder boasts one of the fastest backfields in the state, and its line will outweigh the Westerners. Maybe you remember this McClinton kid who left 'em at the starting lines in track work last spring and came near breaking the state record at the interscholastic league meet. Howell was another fast boy. They're both in the Snyder backfield, McClinton at quarterback. A fast man at track does not necessarily mean that he's a good football player, but if he gets loose he's hard to stop. The Westerners must show more pep and ginger Friday than they did Monday if they stop him, and the rest of the Snyder contingent.

MATADORS STRESSING PASS DEFENSE

PROSPECT FOR FIRST GAME IS GLOOMY

ENTHUSIASM LACKING AS ANNUAL CLASSIC GETS UNDER WAY

BY EDWARD J. NEIL
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Clouds of an even deeper gray than those forecast by the weather man dulled baseball's most glamorous picture today—the opening game of another world series.

Barring the wildest sort of a last minute flood of enthusiasm, the New York Yankees and the Chicago Cubs faced the entirely unexpected threat of a possible financial depression.

Little Enthusiasm

Never before in the history of six previous Yankee world series have Broadway and Manhattan failed to produce whooping enthusiasm.

But today, with burly Rufus the Red Ruffing primed to hurl his fireball against the cocky Cubs, with Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig, the siege guns, perfectly trained on Chicago's lanky Guy Bush, either the evolution or the revolution of the faithful seemed certain to have taken place.

The prospect was for a crowd of no more than 35,000 or 40,000, depending chiefly on a change from the cold and gloomy rain weather of yesterday, and the demand for the 12,000 unreserved grandstand seats valued at $3.30 each and 22,000 $1.10 bleacher resting places.

Garner To Attend

Even though the forecast of the weather bureau was for a showery day with no clearing before late afternoon, a crowd of 40,000 at a Yankee world series opening bolstered by the presence of Speaker John N. Garner, Democratic for vice-president, was a far cry from the record attendance of 63,600 and receipts of $224,130 set at the Yankee stadium.

The teams themselves, the thrills, color, and battle they promised, seemed to warrant no such let down.

In the forefront of all the attractions heaved the corpulent figure of Babe Ruth, greatest slugger in baseball's history, lifting his cudgel for the tenth time in world series play. Behind him ranged Lou Gehrig, Tony Lazzeri, Bill Dickey, Earle Combs, Joey Sewell, Ben Chapman and Frank Crosetti.

It was a typical Yankee betting crew, a 2 to 1 favorite in the scanty betting.

Far sterner opposition than these figures warranted lurked in the confident Cub array that steamed into town on a special train yesterday morning. Backing Bush, Manager Charley Grimm's choice for the opening assignment, were such steady pitching veterans as Charley Root, Pat Malone and Burleigh Grimes, all boasting world series experience, with young Lon Warneke brilliant enough over the season's record to battle the Yankees in the second game on youth, speed, and courage alone.

There was hitting power of the sharper, shorter type in the bats of Old Hoss, XPG up some of their best players for low prices through the draft system.

Where it almost caused a rebellion of the minor leagues against the rulers of organized baseball a couple of years ago, the draft this season saw only four players drawn into the major leagues. At the annual draft meeting last night, three pitchers and an outfielder were chosen from four class "AA" clubs.

The players drafted included:

By the New York Giants—Homer Peel, outfielder, from Columbus. Played through the 1932 season with the Houston, Texas league club, batting .339.

The probable lineups for today's game:

Cubs	Yankees
Herman, 2b	Combs, cf
English, 3b	J. Sewell, 3b
Cuyler, rf	Ruth, rf
Stephenson, lf	Gehrig, 1b
Moore, cf	Lazzeri, 2b
Grimm, 1b	Chapman, lf
Hartnett, c	Dickey, c
Koenig, ss	Crosetti, ss
Bush, p.	Ruffing, p

Umpires, Dineen and Van Grafalan (American), Klem and Magerkurth (National).

Time of game—12:30 (Texas time).

NEW YORK, Sept. 28 (AP)—Forty seven persons were standing in a light rain at the bleacher entrance to the Yankee stadium at 7 a. m., today awaiting a chance to buy tickets for the opening of the world series.

Twenty of the prospective customers had waited all night, occasionally seeking shelter from intermittent showers in a garage across the street.

Bill Cunningham, of Kansas City, held down first position at entrance "A" to the bleachers. He said he had kept a week-long vigil and expected to purchase a ticket when the office opened at 10 o'clock. He slept on two automobile cushions and protected himself from the rain with an umbrella.

THEY'LL FACE MATADORS HERE SATURDAY NIGHT

Here are some of the regulars on the S. M. U. football team who will line up against the Tech Matadors Saturday night here. Kenneth Travis, scintillating back from Amarillo, is one of the chief offensive threats on the Morrison manned team. Captain Howard Sprague is shown at top right corner. Forrest Baccus is the only non-letterman among these below. Baccus is a sophomore, looking great as backfield threat. All the others were regulars last year.

PONIES TRAIN FOR CLASH

S. M. U. FACES TOUGH ASSIGNMENT HERE SATURDAY NIGHT

(Special To The Journal)

DALLAS, Sept. 28 — Faced by one of their toughest assignments of the year—that of taking the Texas Tech Matadors in an early-season clash—Southern Methodist's Mustangs are being driven hard this week in an effort to iron out the faults that cropped up in last Saturday's game with the North Texas Teachers, in which the Ponies were humbled by being held to a scoreless tie.

One of the glaring weaknesses that showed up in the Denton battle was the Pony blocking. Time after time the ball carrier was nailed for no gain because his mates failed to clear the way for him. With their running attack weakened on that account and with their famed aerial thrusts blanketed out by a drizzling rain the Pony offense was practically nil when within scoring distance of the goal, a weakness that characterized the Pony play last year.

In their defense it is only fair to say that the North Texans brought one of the most powerful non-conference teams to show here in several seasons. In Ted Wright, quarterback, Pearson, end, and Sontagg, tackle, the Eagles have three of the best performers seen here in the past two or three years.

The only rays of sunshine for Morrison in the game was the outstanding offensive play of Bert Baxter and Bob Walker, halves, who played great ball after failing to start the game. The performance of three sophomore subs, Glenn Lairmore, Tulsa, Okla., and James Martin, Lubbock, at guards, and Jim Bradford, center, also was pleasing to the Methodist mentor.

Bears Win First Game

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 28 (AP)—Youth, speed and lots of vitality appeared to be essentials of a winning baseball club today as the Newark Bears and Minneapolis Millers laid plans for the second game of the little world series.

Col. Jacob Ruppert's Bears added together all of those qualities yesterday in pounding the American association champions into submission, 11 to 0, and were ready to repeat their stunt in the game scheduled tonight.

Being one up in a first four of seven game series was a comfortable place for Manager Al Mamaux' forces, yet the International league pennant winners were just as anxious to increase their advantage by another triumph today.

PLANE MECHANIC SCHOOL PLANNED

Henry Taylor, Dallas mechanic for the Dallas Aviation school, will start a class in airplane mechanics at the municipal airport tonight at 8 o'clock, W. C. Breedlove, manager of the port, announced. The school will meet twice a week.

This week the sessions will be Wednesday and Friday nights. Next week and from then on sessions will be on Tuesday and Thursday nights.

The new man will be a regular member of the staff at the municipal airport, Mr. Breedlove said. He has had four years training in ground school work and is licensed for both airplane and motor work by the department of commerce.

Taylor is experienced in engine work and pilots and those interested in airplanes are especially invited by Manager Breedlove to attend the school tonight.

LOOKOUTS WIN OVER TEXANS

CHATTANOOGA WINNER OVER BEAUMONT IN DIXIE SERIES

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Sept. 28 (AP)—Chattanooga's Lookouts were the baseball king pins of Dixie today and the good luck cup of Col. Joe Engel, the big ballyhoo man from the south, is running over.

The mountaineers of this city—one of the smallest in the southern association but with the best attendance record—thrashed the Beaumont Exporters 7 to 3 yesterday and took the crown and cash which go to the winner of the annual Dixie series.

It was the fourth consecutive victory of the Lookouts over the Texas League champions, who won only the initial contest.

Red McColl pitched his club to the victory—his third of the series. The Exporters got only five hits.

PONIES ARE TO INVADE TECH SATURDAY

COACH PETE CAWTHON GIVES TEAM PLENTY OF DEFENSE WORK

Anticipating a barrage of overhead heaves, laterals, forwards and basket passes next Saturday night when the Southern Methodist university football team, champions of the Southwest conference, comes to Lubbock, Coach Pete Cawthon is giving his Texas Tech Matadors plenty to work on in the way of pass defense this week.

With spirit and enthusiasm running rampant on the football practice field, the Matador mentors are not finding it difficult to instill words of warning and advice to the hustling toughies.

Gunning For Ponies

Disappointed because they could not defeat the Texas Aggies last Saturday, but with spirits little dampened after holding the Bellmen to one touchdown, the Matadors are gunning for the S. M. U. Mustangs with the idea of going the Denton Teachers one better and drubbing the highly touted Mustangs. The North Texas pedagogues held the Ponies to a scoreless tie last week, although reports from unquestioned sources have it that Morrison used his top men only for a few minutes.

Cawthon had two complete teams lined up against each other yesterday with the balance of the big squad looking on. First one side then the other would be on defense, with passing plays making up for the offensive work. In his "top" backfield, Cawthon was running Speed Moffett at quarter, Harold Crites at full and Gwynn Dowell and Lefty Sollis at halfback positions. Sollis' elusive footwork against the Aggies Saturday was commendable, and it may have landed him a chance with the regulars.

Tickets Going Fast

With tickets going fast, Tech officials expect a sell out of all grandstand and box seats before Friday night. Bleacher seats are not on sale except at the gate, and there is likely to be a shortage of the $1.10 ducats, due to the transferring of half the bleachers to the fair grounds. Tickets are on sale at the Hotel Lubbock and Hotel Hilton drug stores.

Good Weather Helps

Yesterday's warm weather and occasional sunshine was just the thing to get the Matadors going. They hopped to the work with pleasing vim and vigor.

Tech's "forty acres" of spacious practice fields looked like spring camp at Notre Dame, if not more so. It was estimated that not less than 150 uniformed men and boys were cavorting over the fields in as many as four scrimmage sessions at a time.

In addition to the squad coached by Cawthon and Smith, the varsity Matadors, Coach Del Morgan and his assistant, George Langford, a former star tackle at Tech, were putting a squad of nearly fifty freshman gridders through the paces.

Westerners On College Field

In another quarter was the Lubbock Westerners, Coach Chapman having brought his high school team over from Fair Park for practice this week while other teams use the regular practice field to entertain Panhandle-South Plains fair goers.

Coach Paul Wright had his Slaton High school gridsters working out on Matador Field yesterday. Lubbock county's principal Class B unit was having quite a day of it.

Hale Center To Meet Muleshoe

AMHERST HIGH TAKES ONE-SIDED GAME FROM SEAGRAVES

Football teams from Hale Center and Muleshoe high schools hold the spotlight at the fair grounds this afternoon when they clash in a non-conference but probably a highly entertaining game.

In order to play today's game, the teams had to forfeit their standings in the Texas Interscholastic league, which means that they are not compelled to abide by league eligibility rules.

The game will start between 3:30 and 4 o'clock on the Fair Park field.

Amherst Wins

Amherst High defeated Seagraves, 46 to 0, yesterday in a monotonous game before the visitors to the Panhandle-South Plains fair.

Captain "Red" Cantrell led his team-mates with a ginger that partly made up in showmanship what was lacking in execution of plays. With their goal line crossed in the first seven minutes of play, the Seagraves gridiron youngsters fought a losing game throughout. Ball carrying of the Phillips brothers was Amherst's principal power threat. Although more adept than the Redshirts at handling the oval, Amherst's blue-and-white jersey aggregation experienced difficulty in holding the ball once it was on its way. Occasionally, an effective block was seen. No blocking was necessary, however, to pile drive through the Seagraves eleven, which also was susceptible to the ball-toting snake dances of Captain Cantrell.

C. Phillips' 50-yard return of a punt for the second touchdown, and Captain Cantrell's 64-yard sprint for the third were the two longest lucrative runs. Captain Cantrell had made the first marker on a short dash. Charley Edwards found the usual slack line and went 11 yards for the fourth touchdown. Three of the extra-point attempts were successful, all being from scrimmage. Amherst led, 27 to 0, at the end of the half.

Two runs, averaging 15 yards, by R. Phillips increased the lead by two touchdowns in the third period. One extra point was added, again from scrimmage. Calloway went 31 yards for the last touchdown. Kicking had little effect, except to give the opposing club an opportunity to run the ball. Passing was futile. Several interceptions occurred.

MRS. VARE FACES STUMBLING BLOCK

PEABODY, Mass., Sept. 28 (AP)—Mrs. Glenna Collett Vare, who has dominated women's golf for the past decade, today found a sturdy stumbling block in the path leading to her sixth national championship.

This brilliant competitor, considered unbeatable until a year ago when Helen Hicks removed her crown at Buffalo, drew Mrs. C. S. Eddis of Toronto as her second round opponent in the match play at the Salem Country club.

Mrs. Vare was the only one of the 32 qualifiers capable of perfect golf in the opening match play. She matched par by using 63 strokes during the 15 holes against Mrs. Karl F. Scheidt of Norristown, Pa., to win by 7 and 5.

Virginia Van Wie of Chicago, comedalist and one of the favored group, was pitted against Edith Quier of Haverford, Pa. Maureen Orcutt, medalist in the British title play last May, was not expected to be greatly extended by Mrs. Leo Federman of Lakeville, N. Y.

Enid Wilson, the British champion and semi-finalist at Buffalo, drew a match with Grace English of nearby Lynnfield.

An analysis by the department of commerce of price cutting in drug stores shows that 50-cent packaged goods bears the brunt of deepest cuts.

PI-RO-DRAM
Sold by Your Druggist

PI-RO-DRAM CO.
1512 10th St.,
Lubbock, Texas.

Dear Sirs: I want to thank you for calling my attention to your PI-RO-DRAM Remedy for pyorrhea, for it has certainly proved a blessing to me. I suffered for years with this terrible disease and supposed I was condemned to suffer the rest of my life, or until I would have all my teeth pulled as the dentists and doctors all agreed that such was my only hope, and I can thankfully say that I feel like a new person with a clean set of teeth and gums after using one bottle of your remedy.

Signed: L. H. A.

PI-RO-DRAM COMPANY
Lubbock, Texas.

Gentlemen: This is to advise you that I was a sufferer with pyorrhea in my gums and had been for several years.

I had tried several other treatments for this disease, but they did not seem to accomplish any good.

After using about four bottles of your PI-RO-DRAM on my gums, I wish to advise you that my gums are healed, soreness all gone and are not quicky and touchy anymore, and the disease apparently has been overcome, as the gums have their natural pink healthy color again.

I never expect to be without PI-RO-DRAM as I use it occasionally on my gums as a preventative of Pyorrhea ever returning again. I am,

Yours very respectfully,
ROBERT BOST,
Coleman, Texas.

SPORTS GROUNDS AT VATICAN

Sports grounds are being prepared in the Vatican City, according to a dispatch from Rome. The introduction of pastimes is part of the plan to modernize the social facilities of the city. Lawn tennis courts and bowling greens are being laid out near the west bastion, which encloses the Vatican gardens. They will be used by students of the Ethiopic College, who represent the youngest and physically the most active section of the Vatican's population. On the site of the lawn tennis courts an ancient cannon was found three feet under the ground. It is believed to have been used for the defense o fthe Vatican, possibly in 1870, when Italian troops seized Rome. It is being preserved as an historical relic.

A murder occurs in the United States on the average of one every 90 minutes.

HOCKLEY WINS FIRST PLACE

LIBERTY EXHIBIT IS PRIZE WINNER IN OTHER CLASS

County and community exhibit winners at the Panhandle-South Plains fair this year were Hockley county and Liberty community, judges reported late Tuesday.

The unprecedented closeness of the community contest was the feature of both divisions, judges declared. Although Liberty had a lead of only 13.5 points over Grovesville for second place, only one and one-fourth points separated Grovesville and Acuff, winner of fourth place. The total points scored, out of a possible 1,000:

Liberty, 918.5; Grovesville, 905; Posey, third, 904.5; Acuff, fourth, 904.1; Canyon, fifth, 903.6; Union, sixth, 884.1; Shallowater, seventh, 866.5; and Hardy, eighth, 842.3. Harold A. Cooper arranged the Liberty display, and Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Doyle the Grovesville exhibit.

The $100 first prize for counties went to Hockley county, second $75 to Roberts; third of $50 to Bailey; fourth of $25 to Roosevelt, N. M., and fifth of $25 to Terry.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Magee, the latter the county agent, and Miss Nannie Hill, home demonstration agent, arranged Hockley's display. P. E. McMeans arranged the Roberts exhibit, and R. L. Brown the Bailey booth.

The community prizes ranged from $25 for first to $5 for seventh and eighth.

This is the score card of the winner: Corn and grain sorghums, 175 out of a possible 200; cotton and wheat, 191 out of 200; oats, barley, and dried beans, 73 of 75; threshed grains, 73 of 75; peanuts and peas, 43 of 50; 46 of 50; fruits, 68 of 75; vegetables, 66.5 of 75; other crops, 86 of 100; neatness, 95 of 100.

Here's the way the communities ranked first in different divisions:

Corn and sorghums, Canyon; cotton and wheat, Posey; oats, barley and dried beans, Liberty; threshed grains, a tie by Grovesville, Acuff, Liberty, and Canyon; forage, a tie by Grovesville, Posey, and Canyon; fruits, Liberty; vegetables, Grovesville; other crops, Liberty; neatness, Liberty.

The judges were R. E. Dickson, superintendent of the Spur experiment substation; E. A. Miller, agronomist of A. & M. college extension department, and W. H. Upchurch, Randall county agent.

FOUR-H WINNERS ANNOUNCED HERE

The first five places in the four-H club pig show at the current Panhandle-South Plains fair were won by LaVerne Pounds, Arvle Elliott, Christina Wenzell, and Eugene Wilks, the department superintendent, Douglas Pounds, announced Tuesday night. Young Pounds, about 14, won two first places.

Two young Lynn county girls, who joined the Union Four-H club in this county because their county did not have a farm agent, won both first and second in the Hampshire fat pig division. They are Christiana and Lorena Wenzell. Milford Katz, also a Lynn resident and a Union club member, was third in that division.

The winners:

Poland-Chinas: Senior sow pig, Pounds; junior sow pig, Engene Wilks, Hale county; Bernard Davis, and Curtis Lee Davis, both of Acuff.

Hampshires: Junior sow pig, Arvle Elliott of Grovesville; and Beasley, second; fat pig, junior sow or barrow, the Wenzell sisters, first and second and Katz third; litters, Pounds; Elliott, and G. W. Williamson, County Line.

RELIEF PLANS ARE PUSHED

GOVERNMENT SEEKING TO HASTEN AID BY LOAN ACTIVITIES

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (AP)—New loans of over $13,000,000 by the reconstruction corporation were accompanied today by other governmental moves designed to hasten federal relief activities.

A technical obstacle in the way of spending the $100,000,000 allotment for public buildings provided by the relief act was removed by Comptroller General McCarl. He ruled the 10 per cent reduction ordered in expenditures by the national economy act must apply to individual project costs rather than to the lump-sum appropriation.

To Open Bids

The treasury already has announced allocations of the money for buildings costing more than $100,000 and will begin to open bids for sites next week. Department officials expect lower construction costs largely to compensate for the 10 per cent economy cuts without affecting plans for individual projects.

Reconstruction corporation directors were agreed on the purchase of $13,000,000 of five per cent bonds issued by the state of Louisiana and the Public Belt Line railroad commission of New Orleans for the construction of a bridge across the Mississippi river just above that gulf port.

Has Double Purpose

The navy department meanwhile planned a $4,000,000 expenditure at the Boston, Philadelphia and New York navy yards for building three destfoyers. Secretary Adams said yesterday the outlay was intended both to supply the need for the ships and to help relieve unemployment.

Preparations were made for opening the 12 banks of the home loan system by Oct. 15 and President Hoover was so advised by Franklin W. Fort, chairman of the board.

UNITED STATES C. OF C. RENEWS ITS ATTACK ON GOVERNMENT COMPETITION

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28. (AP)—Special advantages enjoyed by the government in competing with private business are stressed by the United States Chamber of Commerce in a report it describes as "another step in the chamber's effort to remove the government from business."

The national business organization said these efforts "will be continued until the chamber's objective is accomplished."

Filed By Committee

The report was filed by a committee headed by Henry D. Sharpe of Providence, R. I. It said in part:

"The government's operations can be and are carried on without regard to the elements of profit or loss, which are unavoidable factors in private business. The government can and does furnish funds which are employed, largely from taxation, without requiring or expecting payment of interest, let alone dividends, out of business.

"Public property used by the government in business is free from any burden of federal taxation and is removed from taxation by the state, county and town in which it is situated. Allowances for depreciation are usually disregarded.

Unfairness Claimed

"It is obvious, therefore, that in any field of business in which the government chooses to enter, private business will be proportionately eliminated—not by reason of the relative merit of the two forms, but because of the unfair advantages received by the former."

The committee recommended that the government should not engage in business except when necessary to purely governmental functions.

BIDWELL HEAD OF VETERANS

DISABLED VETS FORM POST; CHARTER IS TO BE SOUGHT

Dr. H. H. Bidwell was elected temporary commander of a newly organized post of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War, at a meeting at the Hilton hotel Tuesday night. Ten men signed application for a charter and this will be held open until October 1, Commander Bidwell said.

Any disabled veterans who desire to join as charter members are asked to see Dr. Bidwell. Another special meeting will be held within a week, it is expected, to elect permanent officers of the post.

Three Speak

Speakers last night included Paul Louderdale, a blind veteran and state executive committeeman, on the need of an organization; P. D. Jackson, state adjutant of the D. A. V., and Dr. Bidwell.

The state adjutant told of the history of the organization since its inception. "Every man who was disabled in line of duty is eligible to membership," he stated. "Every disabled emergency army officer should be a member. The D. A. V. is the most exclusive veteran's organization. No man can be a member unless he was disabled during his military service."

PLANES ARE TO LAND HERE

TWELVE KELLY FIELD OBSERVATION SHIPS TO MAKE FLIGHT

Twelve observation planes from Kelly field, San Antonio, were to take off this morning on a flight that will include San Angelo Fort Sill, Okla., Lubbock and El Paso. The ships are due in Lubbock at the municipal airport north of town, starting at 9 a. m. Thursday, W. C. Breedlove, manager, was advised.

On Friday a similar flight for pursuit planes is to be started from Kelly field, flying by way of Fort Sill and to El Paso via Lubbock.

These flights are a regular part of cadet training and are held three times a year.

Manager Breedlove was advised of the Lubbock stop as a refueling stop and was asked to have at least 1,000 gallons of gasoline on hand for the refueling of the ships.

More than $2,000,000 have been cut from the funds of the U. S. government departments devoted to scientific research.

The coaching staff at Notre Dame university is one of the youngest in the country, three of them having been graduated just last year.

WORTHAM SHOWS PROVIDE CARNIVAL SPIRIT AT PANHANDLE-PLAINS FAIR

The carnival spirit necessary to a successful fair is provided principally at the current Panhandle-South Plains exposition by the John T. Wortham shows.

The sideshow which visitors perhaps laud the most is the mechanical battlefield constructed by J. F. Miller and his son of Urbana, Ohio. It depicts a night battle between German and Allied forces at what later proved to be Hill No. 60 in France. The dozens of miniature men move throughout the entire display, guns are loaded and fired, and the occurrences of a battlefield are carried out in detail.

Another attraction is "The Wall of Death," featuring Capt. Bob Peary and Mrs. Peary, motorcyclists. Many persons have gone to see the two large rock pythons, one 32 feet and six inches in length, and the other 14 feet. Beneath another tent is a study of embroyology, billed "for adults only."

There are three fun houses—the "Laff Zepplin," the glass house, and the "Jazze."

A recent addition to the show is "Old Whoopee," said to be a 175-pound tetrapin "hundreds of years old." Also there are freak human and animal shows, a monkey circus that attracts the children, a wax museum featuring the Western officers and the badmen of another day, a devil fish, and athletic shows.

The rides include a new device, acroplane which is proving a drawing card. The other rides are miniature railroad, caterpillar, lindy loop, leaping Lena, hey day, merry-go-round, ferris wheel, kiddies' automobile speed way, and the kiddies riding academy.

The number of foreign patents held by the library of the U. S. patent office is increasing at a rate of about 140,000 a year.

One of the deepest holes in the world was drilled in 1926 in Orange county, California. It was sunk 8201 feet.

Vocational Group Plans "Field Day"

The dozen or more vocational agriculture teachers of the South Plains will have a "field day" all their own at the state experiment station at Spur on Saturday, October 22, R. E. Dickson, superintendent, announced. The meeting was decided on here yesterday.

Among those expected are teachers from Abernathy, Hale Center, Plainview, Olton, Littlefield, O'Donnell, Post, Spur, Ralls, Seminole, Seagraves and Crosbyton.

John V. Hulsey of Olton, is president of the group. He was chosen at a meeting here this summer.

At 230 feet under water pressure is more than 99 pounds per square inch.
