Roosevelt Asks Priority For Defense Planes

Commercial Air Lines Asked Not To Plan Growth

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26—President Roosevelt proposed today that commercial air lines withhold plans for expansion so that increased production efforts might be devoted entirely to the building of military planes.

Discussing the subject with reporters at his press conference, Mr. Roosevelt emphasized that he wanted to keep commercial aviation operating at its present level and was concerned only with its plans for expansion.

Cooperation Seen.

He said he did not want to invoke his authority to require factories to give priority to fighting craft and that he believed producers would cooperate in devoting all increased facilities to the nation's military needs.

Mr. Roosevelt's comment followed an announcement by Secretary Stimson that the war department had asked the national defense priorities board to prevent commercial air line expansion. Stimson said that army bombers had been grounded for lack of engines while "equivalent engines" were going into planes for expanded commercial service.

Shortage In Prospect.

At the same press conference here the war department chief made his announcement, Major Alfred J. Lyon of the army air corps reported that "a very large shortage" of engines similar to those used in commercial transports was in prospect for Uncle Sam's military aviation early next spring.

Stimson called his press conference after Donald W. Douglas, president of the Douglas Aircraft company of Santa Monica, Calif., and Robert Gross, president of the Lockheed Aircraft corporation of Burbank, Calif., had made public statements yesterday regarding the war department's request to the priorities board.

Small Percentage.

Douglas had asserted that only 8 per cent of the total blacklog of the company that bears his name was for commercial airlines of this country and another one per cent for foreign airplanes. These orders were a neglible factor so far as the pending military program was concerned, he continued, and were entirely out of proportion to the economic and industrial upheaval that cancellation of commercial business at this time would cause.

Gross disputed the contention that

Former Lubbock Man Is Death Victim

RALLS, Nov. 26 (Special)—R. A. Littrell, 36, who had lived in Ralls since moving from Lubbock in 1935, was victim of a heart attack at 9:30 o'clock this morning shortly after he had arrived at the automobile agency where he worked.

Apparently in good health, Littrell had started to work on an automobile in the service department of which he was foreman. Fellow-workers said he complained of a sudden constriction at his throat and was dead before a doctor arrived.

Funeral services will be conducted in Ralls First Baptist church at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Pallbearers will be his business associates at Ralls.

Born in Red River county, Littrell moved to Lubbock in 1926. He was in the retail grocery business and later in an automobile repair shop. He came to Ralls in 1935, where two years later he married Mrs. Bernice Thompson.

Survivors other than the wife are two step-children, C. A. and Marne Thompson; his mother, Mrs. B. V. Littrell of 1314 Twenty-sixth street; five brothers, Huey, L. V., Irvin and Ray, all of Lubbock, and B. B. of Long Beach, Calif.; a half-brother, J. W. Phillips of Lubbock.

Burial will be in Lubbock cemetery.

Hearing On Extradition Of Kenneth Jackson Conducted

(By The Associated Press)

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 26—M. Stanley Mosk, secretary to Governor Culbert L. Olson, today heard the application of Texas authorities for the extradition of Kenneth Jackson from Bakersfield on charges of armed robbery and indicated that unless the defense can make a stronger showing, the extradition will be recommended.

Attorneys for Jackson sought to show that Jackson, who has been working in the Kern county oil fields, was in California and not in Texas, on January 27, 1938, when the robbery of a Montgomery Ward store at Lubbock, Texas, occurred.

Given More Time.

By an automobile driver's license and the testimony of two witnesses, the defense attempted to show that Jackson, also known as Johnson, was in this state in February, 1939.

The defense declared it could obtain statements from a bartender and taxicab driver in Emeryville, Calif., to establish that Jackson was there from January 1, 1938, until several months later.

"You will have to admit, however," Mosk told the defense counsel, "that you haven't proved this so far and that your showing is very sketchy."

More Time Asked.

The defense then said that sufficient time to get the testimony of witnesses had not been available and Mosk agreed to give it 24 hours additional. He said he would withhold his recommendation to Governor Olson until the defense had time to produce the promised statements.

Jackson was arrested in Kern county last Nov. 12 on the armed robbery.

Blonde Mrs. Jackson, youthful, attractive wife of the defendant, gave testimony declaring belief in the innocence of her husband. She admitted, however, that he left her and was missing for several months during which, she said, he worked in California under the name of Johnson. Her name was Gladys Crumpton before her marriage at the age of 18 in Oklahoma City.

Was With Jackson.

R. P. Boyd, former Emeryville policeman, testified he knew Jackson and was with him frequently from about January 1, 1938, until after August 1. Jackson, Boyd said, opened a restaurant some time in February, 1938, and was in the town a month or six weeks before that time.

He said he had nothing to fix the dates by except that the restaurant permit was issued in February and

Great Britain Looks More And More To America For Aid In Her Time Of Need

(The following revealing dispatch on the seriousness of England's condition is from Demaree Bess, Saturday Evening Post correspondent who was with the British Expeditionary force in France and who has spent much time with all arms of the British war machine. It is significant because it passed through a censorship which heretofore has frowned on such statements.

It may be that the British have changed their attitude and believe that a dark picture of their danger would strengthen more sympathy in the United States than the confident optimism displayed so far by the government).

By DREW MIDDLETON,
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Nov. 26.—Britons, painfully aware of their inability to stop the luftwaffe's night raiders and restive under German domination of the war, more and more are looking to the United States for all-important supplies to wrest the initiative from the Nazis.

The British are confident they have the men, but it is arms, planes, tanks and more ships that they need urgently and must have to battle the Axis upon equal terms.

Even the most optimistic officials here in the "front line" admit there is much to be done in preparation before Britain can take the offensive. At first they said an offensive could be expected in 1941; now they talk of 1943 and 1944.

Britannia still rules the waves, but needs more American help to do it. A considerable part of recent staggering shipping losses can be traced to deficiencies in escort ships.

Unless Britain can get more United States destroyers to go with the 50 already obtained,

Walter-Logan Bill Okayed By Upper House

By RICHARD L. TURNER,
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—The Logan-Walter bill to subject government boards and agencies to closer judicial curbs was passed by the Senate today, 27 to 25, after the majority leadership dramatically reversed its strategy and permitted a quick vote on the bitterly contested measure.

The leaders obviously were counting on a presidential veto to kill the bill. Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the majority chieftain, announced he would advise the president to apply a veto, and the closeness of the vote gave him every reason to expect that he could command enough support to make the veto stick. To override it the proponents of the measure would have to amass a two-thirds majority.

For Standardization.

The bill, in broad outline, is intended to standardize the procedure of such governmental agencies as the labor board and securities commission, to require notice and hearings for anyone substantially affected by their rulings, and to empower courts to review the constitutionality and legality of their rulings and regulations.

For many months the measure has been the subject of intense controversy. Anti-New Dealers in Congress, joined by some with pro-New Deal voting records, have argued that these reforms were necessary to safeguard the rights of those with cases before the agencies. The opposition has contended that the whole subject needed more study, that the measure would hamstring the agencies by creating opportunities for endless litigation.

The measure passed the Senate once, nearly two years ago, when administration leaders were not looking, but was reconsidered at their request. It passed the House last winter, but when it reached the Senate, the latter was engrossed in the defense program.

Oil Order For Texas Issued

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Nov. 26. — Texas oil wells can produce an average of 1,318,000 barrels daily for 60 days beginning December 1, a reduction of 1,432 barrels under the average net daily allowable reported Nov. 23, the railroad commission decreed today.

In a statewide proration order the oil regulatory body decreed also that wells, with some exceptions, must shut down nine days each month in December and January.

Shutdowns Announced.

Engineers reported the net allowable of Dec. 1 would be 39,657 barrels greater than the 1,277,000 barrels estimated by the bureau of mines to meet daily demand in December. But a normal underproduction of 3 per cent, 39,500 barrels when applied to the Dec. 1 allowable, would pull production to within 157 barrels daily of the bureau recommendation, they added.

Shutdown days, the same monthly number as stipulated in the current 90-day order expiring Nov. 30, were December 1, 7, 8, 14, 15, 21, 22,

British Position In Near East Improves

CAIRO, Egypt, Nov. 26. (AP)—British army sources say Britain's position in the Near East appears stronger today than at any time since Italy entered the war June 10.

They describe the Italian situation thus: One army in retreat in Albania, a second stalemated in the western Egyptian desert, a third cut off from supplies in Ethiopia.

But situations change quickly and the British say they are alert to meet any new development which might threaten their hold on the vital Mediterranean.

CONDITION UNCHANGED.

Slight hope for recovery was held Tuesday night for Mrs. Bradford Knapp, who is ill in West Texas hospital of a heart ailment. She lapsed into a semi-conscious condition during the day and aroused only occasionally, authorities said.

Problem Of Aid For Britain Is Studied Anew

By J. C. STARK,
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26. — The whole problem of aid to Britain was believed to be under new study by administration officials tonight on the basis of first-hand reports of British war needs brought back from London by the Marquess of Lothian, British amabassador.

Lord Lothian, who held long conferences yesterday with President Roosevelt and Secretary Hull, called again at the state department today to talk with Sumner Welles, under secretary of state.

No Specific Requests.

He declared he brought no specific requests for aid but was acquainting officials with conditions he found during his stay in England.

Other informed sources, however, drew a distinction between actual requests and an outline of Britain's most urgent needs in the war.

Lord Lothian has emphasized these needs as ships, munitions, planes and finances.

At Maximum Rate.

Administration leaders appeared to be disinclined to consider finances an urgent enough problem to require action before the new Congress convenes in January.

President Roosevelt also has declared that general armaments — planes and munitions—are being produced for Britain at a maximum rate for the present.

The shipping problem thus was considered the most urgent in view of the heavy British losses. Lord Lothian acknowledged that this was one of the questions he had discussed at the White House and state department but there was no indication that any new type of assistance was contemplated.

In this connection, Chairman Walsh (D-Mass) of the Senate naval committee said he would oppose any further transfer of American warships to Britain.

National Guard Here Is "Hardening Up"

"Hardening up" drills are underway in the three Lubbock batteries of the National Guard, officers said Tuesday night.

Tuesday was devoted to close order drills. Batteries were also divided into units for fire control, communications and firearms drill, officers added.

The band rehearsed drill formations and musical numbers, and took a walk "to get in shape."

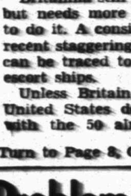

Guardsmen are eating at the armory, though some will sleep at home until the units are moved to Camp Bowie at Brownwood.

The guard units here are the Service Battery, Capt. Elmore S. Piemons, commanding; Battery C, 131st Field Artillery, 2nd Lieut. Lemuel L. Boren, acting commander; and 131st Field artillery band, 2nd Lieut. Norman K. Snodgrass, commanding.

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 26.—General Juan Andreu Almazan tonight apparently forestalled the possibility of a revolution in Mexico when he formally renounced all claims to "the honored office of president to which, he said, "the people were good enough to elect me last July 7."

WALLACE IS WELCOMED.

MONTERREY, Mexico, Nov. 26. (AP) Multiplied thousands of Mexicans waving American flags roared a welcome to Vice President-Elect Henry A. Wallace as he arrived here today en route to the inauguration of General Manuel Avila Camacho as president of Mexico.

All along the 120 miles from the United States border to Monterrey, residents flocked to the Pan-American highway to greet America's special emissary to the inauguration.

Wallace, obviously touched by the warmth of the reception ever since he crossed the international bridge this morning, said:

"I cannot hide, but feel that the heartfelt recognition of me by the Mexican people was an expression of the fine perception the rank and file of Mexico's population feel for the golden heart of President Roosevelt."

administration candidate, General Manuel Avila Camacho, arrived late today by plane from the United States.

No Political Reasons.

He declared in the prepared statement issued at his home soon afterward that the United States' decision to send Vice President-elect Henry A. Wallace to the Avila Camacho inauguration Dec. 1 had prompted his own renunciation.

Almazan, coming home after three months in the United States, declined to say anything at the airport except:

"I have not come for political reasons."

Accompanied By Friends.

He waved to a crowd of 300 of his followers who surrounded his plane, and then was taken by automobile to his residence in suburban Coyoacan. He was accompanied by the six friends who had flown with him from Texas, and all were escorted by some 50 Mexico City police and secret officers of the ministry of interior.

It was announced that the officers were "to give the general every guarantee of safety," and that a 24-hour guard would be maintained around his home.

Almazan then issued his statement giving up his claim to be the

Today he joined the navy.

Other things Whitfield told a navy recruiting officer he never had done included: Smoking, drinking liquor, dancing, witnessing a prizefight, ordering a meal in a restaurant, eating chicken, turkey or chocolate ice cream, and going aboard a submarine or a battleship.

"I might switch over on a few things," Whitfield observed.

Farmer Is Faced With Big Problem Of Eating In 1943

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Nov. 26.—Trend of the times:

A farmer was showing a friend over his place and pointed to a pen of huge hogs.

"There," said the farmer, "is my meat for this winter."

In a nearby pasture he exhibited a lot of shoats and commented: "There's my meat for next winter."

Still farther on, the farmer called attention to 100 scampering pigs, and observed:

"And there's my meat for the winter after that."

Then the farmer's face fell.

"After that," he said gloomingly, "the Lord only knows what I'll do for meat."

New Italian Troops Blasted By Greeks

(By The Associated Press)

ATHENS, Nov. 26 — Bayonet-thrusting Greeks were declared today to have scattered fresh Italian troops—"a choice regiment of Romans," the Greeks called them—thrown into action in a desperate attempt to bolster the center of the sagging Albanian battle line.

There was no stopping their forces here or anywhere else along the rambling, mountainous front, the Greeks reported.

Push Steadily On.

In the north, they said, Greek fighters pushed steadily beyond Pogradetz, Italian stronghold 30 miles inside Albania, and in the south they engaged tattered Italians battling fiercely to hold Argirocastro, the second and last major Fascist "invasion" base, and keep open their path to the Adriatic sea.

The Greek high command's communique tonight said that in the Koritza six abandoned Italian airplanes, "among other material," had fallen to the Greeks.

A government spokesman declared that not only had Italian reinforcements failed to halt the Greek advance but that these reinforcements were being pushed back in disorder despite their "desperate efforts."

Morale Impaired.

"The broken morale of the other Italians," he added, "has been imparted to these troops. They have been overthrown and are retreating."

The fleeing troops, the spokesman declared, were abandoning nearly all their vehicles. He added that on the bank of a lake near Koritza the Italians had buried "important quantities" of munitions and other materials which had been dug up by the Greeks.

He confirmed reports that Greek forces had been landed on the Albanian coast opposite Sorfu and denied Italian claims that they were annihilated or captured.

Reports Differ.

(Authoritative military circles in London reported some Greek units had got beyond the Greek town of Philiatacs, near the Albanian border on the coast, and others, landed from ships, had severed Italian communications from the rear. The Greeks themselves have reported the capture of Konispolis, Albanian town north of Philiatae.

The Italian high command reported, however, Greek troops which landed on the Epirus coast were "in part destroyed and in part captured with their arms.)

Vultee Aircraft Strike Settled

(By The Associated Press)

DOWNEY, Calif., Nov. 26.—A 12-day strike at Vultee Aircraft corporation—which tied up work on military contracts totaling $84,000,000—ended today with the ratification by striking CIO workers of a new contract which will increase wages of 5,200 employes by $1,400,000 annually.

Employes will begin returning to work at 7 a. m. tomorrow—under the watchful eyes of Federal Bureau of Investigation agents determined to see that no spies obtain entrance in the guise of workers.

No Mass Re-Employment

Company officials emphasize that there could be no "mass re-employment." One of them commented:

"It will be a slow process. The men will be subjected to almost as close scrutiny as when they were originally employed."

Under the terms of a new 16-months' contract, labor matters will be presented weekly to the management by a five-man union grievance committee. Any disagreement which cannot be settled in this matter will go to an arbitration board, composed of two union, two company representatives and a fifth neutral member.

Hundreds Flee Homes Before High Water

Panhandle Area Thaws; Debris Being Removed

(By The Associated Press)

Deep South Texas tonight awaited the crushing blow of more flood waters piled on those which have ravaged it for two days, driving hundreds from their homes, isolating scores, and wreaking inestimable crop and livestock damage.

While the debris littered Panhandle cities of Amarillo, Borger and Pampa thawed slowly, five major Texas rivers—the Brazos, the Colorado, the San Jacinto, the Sabine and the Trinity—threatened to fan over still more lush countrysides.

Guadalupe Settling.

Only the Guadalupe among the larger South Texas rivers showed any signs of settling down.

These highlights developed from a day of quick change:

The Brazos, already gorged, was burdened further with excesses of the Little and Navasota rivers, which dump into it at Valley Junction and Old Washington, respectively.

At Valley Junction the river was nearly four feet above its 44 foot flood stage and headed for Old Washington, historic community where the Texas Declaration of Independence was signed.

Man Is Rescued.

Arch Glover was reported drowned while trying to save 60 head of cattle in a lake 17 miles east of Centerville.

Other persons reported lost had been rescued or accounted for.

The tri-cities area of Goose Creek, Pelly and Baytown, near Houston, still faced a threat of inflation, although the San Jacinto waters had not reached residential or business areas.

The sole highway outlet was the Market Street bridge, leading to Houston.

Cattle Are Lost.

An indication of the tremendous loss of cattle in Harris (Houston), the largest cattle producing county of the state, was given by three ranchmen who estimated their combined loss at 10,000 head. They were John Hare, Bill Hargraves and J. H. McKinley.

They would not hazard a guess at what the entire cattle loss of the county might be.

Five hundred families had been evacuated from Simonton, southeast of Houston, and many of the 300 residents of East Columbia fled before the threat of the Brazos.

Situation Quieter.

The situation quieted some at Sealy, where the Brazos had hit hardest. W. A. Paddock, Red Cross chairman, estimated 400 persons had been rescued.

Rescue boats carried hundreds of persons to safety from flooded lowlands throughout a 200 mile long strip of South Texas from Liberty to Victoria. Water on the Guadalupe, westernmost limit of the flooded area, was receding, but the Colorado, the Brazos, the Sabine, and the Trinity—all major streams—remained potentially dangerous. Smaller streams were roaring torrents.

Near Logansport, La., rescue workers reported a dozen families stood on the banks of the rising Sabine, clamoring for succor. A rescue squad set out across the churn-

Man Charged In Mishap Which Killed Woman

Bert Klantchnek, 20, was charged with negligent homicide in connection with an accident that claimed the life of Miss Villis Allison, 43, at 7 o'clock Tuesday morning in 1800-block Eighth street.

Police said Klantchnek was driver of the automobile that struck Miss Allison and ended a 164-day period in which Lubbock had had no traffic fatalities.

Funeral To Be Today

Funeral services for Miss Allison, who lived at 1911 Seventh street, will be conducted at 2 o'clock this afternoon in the First Baptist church, with Dr. C. E. Hereford, pastor, officiating. Sanders Funeral home will direct burial in Lubbock cemetery.

Miss Allison had started to work at Lubbock sanitarium, where she has been employed as seamstress in surgery since May 1928. A Rix ambulance took her to the sanitarium, but she was pronounced dead upon arrival.

Skull Fractured

Surviving are her mother, Mrs. J. H. Ennis; a sister, Mrs. W. P. Raymond, of 14 miles south of Lubbock, and Miss Cora Ennis, another sister, who also is employed at the sanitarium.

A physician who examined the body said Miss Allison apparent died of skull fracture and that she probably suffered internal injuries. Her legs were bruised and skinned and her clothing torn.

Transfer Of National Guard Is Delayed

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 26. (AP) — Members of the 36th division, Texas National Guard, will remain 13 more days at home stations because of rains which hampered work at Camp Bowie, Brownwood.

Orders were issued tonight by Gen. Richard Donovan, commander of the eighth corps area, setting up new departure schedules for the camp. Originally the division's transfer was to be completed by Dec. 5.

The new schedules ordered the 111th quartermaster regiment to arrive at Camp Bowie by Dec. 11 instead of Thursday of next week.

The advanced detachments of the division were to have arrived on Sunday, but now will arrive on Dec. 14. Another small group of troops will arrive Dec. 16.

The main body of the division will arrive on Dec. 17 and 18 instead of Dec. 4 and 5.

Japanese Consul Seeks To Smooth Relations

Warning U.S. Not Japanese Desire

By BENJAMIN MORRIS
Associated Press Staff Writer

TOKYO, Nov. 26.—Admiral Kichisaburo Nomura, who expects to leave for Washington next month as Japan's new ambassador to the United States, declared today there is no issue between Japan and the United States that can not be solved with recourse to war.

Official announcement of his appointment as ambassador succeeding Hensuke Horinouchi, who was called home from Washington last September, was withheld. Because of this, Admiral Nomura said, he has not conferred yet with the cabinet on a concrete program for improving relations between the United States and Japan. He said he expected to do so, however, and to receive instructions in time to leave for Washington some time in December.

Fate Of World On U. S.

"In many ways," the six-foot, 200-pound retired admiral said in an interview, "the fate of the world hangs on American actions just now.

"If the United States becomes involved in conflict either in Europe or in the Pacific, civilization will go up in flames. . . . There are few—if any—Japanese who want war with the United States. What is important is how to prevent the situation from reaching its worst stage."

The admiral, who speaks English well and bluntly, declared he was neither pessimistic nor optimistic about the possibilities of improving relations between his government and Washington, where he served in World war days as Japanese naval attache.

Views Embargo As Dangerous.

Those relations, he added, "apparently depend largely on Japan's continental and South Seas policies."

He said he viewed any possible United States embargo upon Japan as dangerous and asserted that "cutting such a large trade channel might result in abnormal actions here."

"If the United States refuses to sell us oil and other supplies," he said, "we must get them elsewhere."

A conflict between the United States and Japan probably would touch off a "chain of wars" stretching indefinitely into the future, he declared.

Scoffs At Suggestion.

He scoffed at the suggestion that Japan's program of expansion would mean exclusion of American business interests from the Orient.

"In the first place," he said, "it is impossible; and in the second, it is not being considered.

"Economic facts can't be overridden that way. Japan, China, the East Indies and all Oriental nations must continue free, unrestricted intercourse with other countries. Otherwise, they would stagnate. Where would Japan be today had its historic policy of tight seclusion continued?"

The newspaper Asahi, in an editorial on Nomura's selection, listed as difficulties confronting the new ambassador what it termed to be the American belief that the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo alliance was aimed against the United States, and Japanese resentment over American "interference" in the Far East.

Japanese interpreted Nomura's selection as an effort to smooth relations between Japan and the United States.

Nomura has been considered one of the most "pro-American" of Japanese leaders. He will be 63 next month.

There are 89,109 regular and substitute mail clerks in the United States, according to postoffice records.

SYSTEM FULL OF POISON FLUSHED OUT BY HOYT'S SAYS LOCAL CONTRACTOR

Hoyt's Compound Ended Constipation, Heart Burn, Sour Stomach, Gas Bloating And Pains Says J. M. Spencer, Lubbock

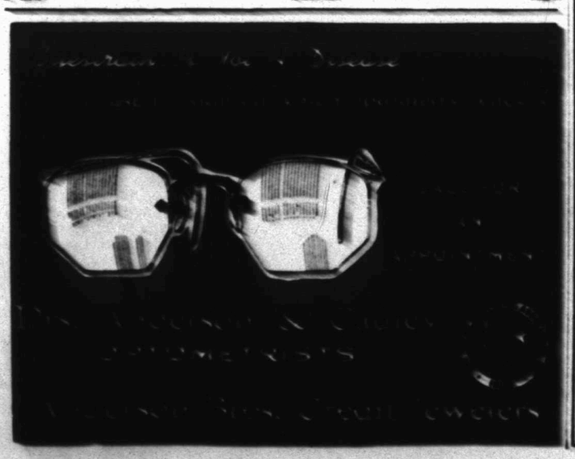

MR. J. M. SPENCER

Before anyone recommends a medicine publically, he is probably convinced of its worth by profiting from it himself. So it was with Mr. J. M. Spencer, 223 Ave. R, Lubbock, who made the following statement to the Hoyt Man, a special laboratory representative at the Mark Halsey Drug Store: "I am 45 years old and have lived in Lubbock for nine years. I am a painting and carpentry contractor. For years I had constipation, heart burn, sour stomach and gas bloating. My entire system was full of poison. My kidneys were bad, and I had severe pains across my back. I was underweight, rundown and nervous. I had given up hope of finding relief. I couldn't eat.

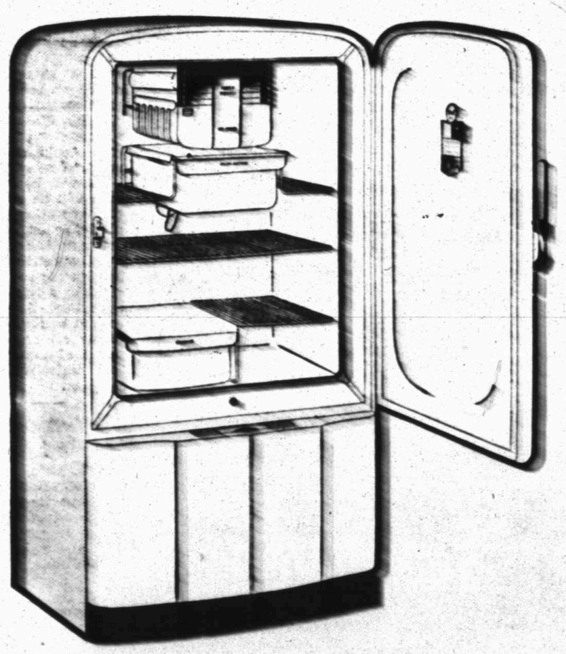

"After a few doses of Hoyt's Compound I began to get relief. Now my bowels are more regular, I eat anything without suffering, and I enjoy my food. I have a much better appetite, and am gaining weight and strength. The pains in my back are gone, and I don't get up nights. I get a good night's rest. I take this opportunity to publically recommend Hoyt's to those who suffer as I did!"

Sufferers, come to the Mark Halsey Drug Store and learn more about Hoyt's Compound. The Hoyt Man is anxious to explain it to you. This popular medicine is recommended and sold by all Mark Halsey Drug Stores. Adv.

If Bulgaria Stays Out Of War, Major Share Of Credit Must Go To King Boris

Nazi Influence Invades Nation

By DANA SCHMIDT
United Press Staff Correspondent

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Nov. 26.—If Bulgaria manages to keep out of war, the major share of credit will go to King Boris, it appeared today.

Boris is regarded as the most level-headed, sobering influence in the country and the key to Bulgaria's position in the fast shifting Balkan picture.

Toasted As Great Democrat

How Boris is rated is suggested by the favorite toast of United States Minister George H. Earle. Earle likes to raise his glass and propose a drink to "two great Democrats, King Boris and Franklin D. Roosevelt."

Boris is not seen so frequently on Sofia streets as he used to be since Balkan tension keeps him close to his desk. But he still occasionally joins the crowds which stroll along Czar Liberator street at dusk. Sometimes he drives his automobile about the city and on Saturday evenings he visits Sofia's great Greek Orthodox cathedral. As he comes out of the church he passes a line of old women. He hands them money and accepts in return complaints written out on scraps of paper. He stuffs these in his pocket and studies them when he get back to the palace.

Strollers Vanish At Dusk

This week the strollers vanish along Czar Liberator street at dusk. That is because of the practice blackouts. Bulgaria is getting a taste of what it's like to be part of the German Lebensraum.

Many German innovations have come to Bulgaria lately. There has been anti-Jewish legislation, air raid alarm tests, the rationing of butter and cheese and days on which meat can not be served.

Wild rumors circulate in the smoky cafes where Bulgarians spend many hours discussing the political situation and sipping thick, sweet Turkish coffee. They talk of reports that German troops are marching in under cover of the blackout and that carloads of Bulgarian food are en route to Germany, making the rationing restrictions necessary.

Much Food Being Stored

Actually, at least so far as cheese is concerned, much food is being stored to feed the ever-increasing number of Bulgarians under arms.

But the Germans are doing all they can to step up Bulgarian crop production. They appear even in remote villages to urge an increase in the sowing. And when I asked a Sofia tailor to make me a suit he threw up his hands in despair, saying, "I've already got too much rush work on hand for Germans who want their suits before they go back home."

Bulgarians Good Fighters

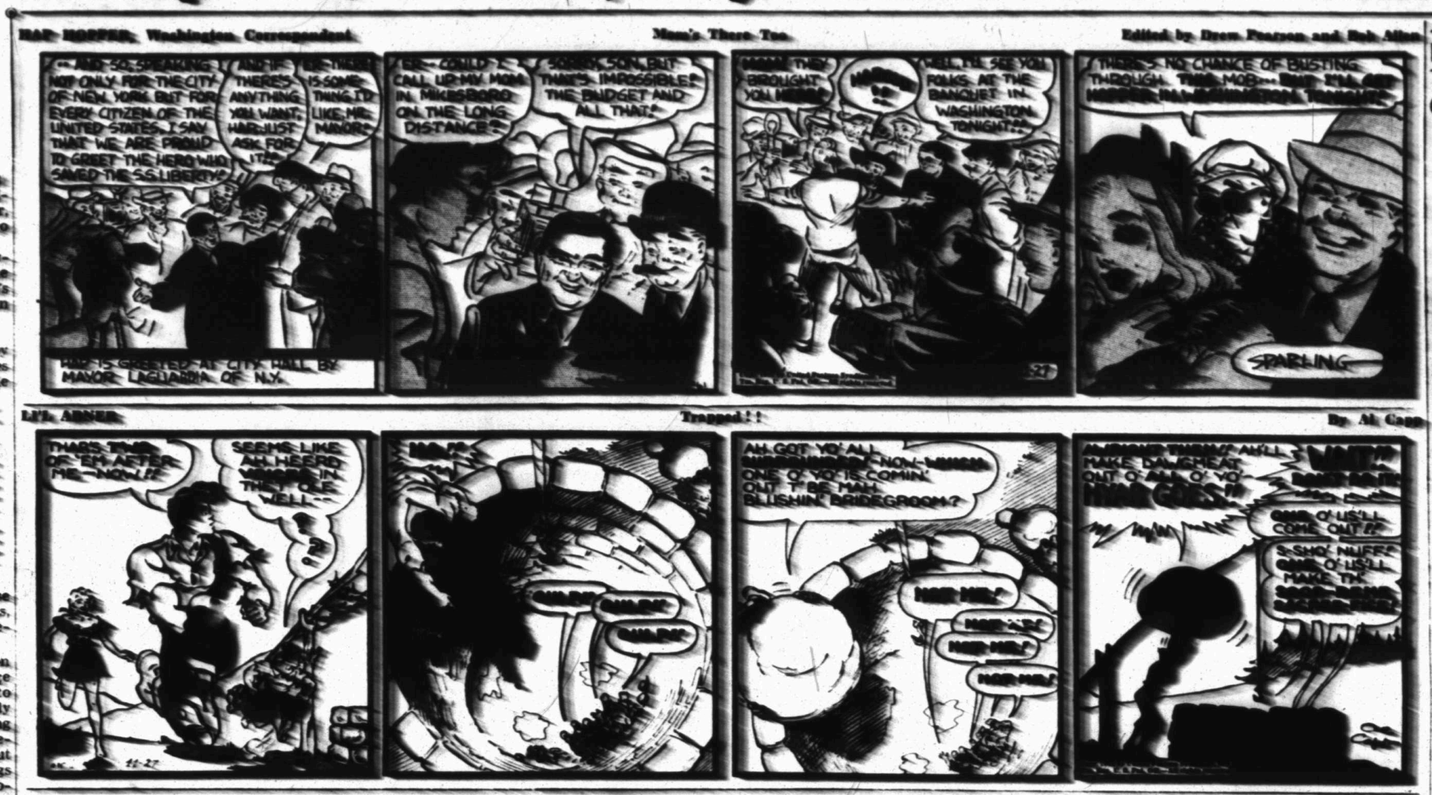

The Bulgarians are good fighters, but it is hard to find individuals who want to go to war. A sight of the palace guards tramping down Czar Liberator treet eight abreast goes far to confirm general belief that they are the best fighters in the Balkans. But they have little mechanized equipment and the whole country has a population of only 6,500,000 despite the highest birth rate in Europe.

Aside from the German influence, the chief factor in Bulgaria is Russia. Everything Russian seems to be popular with the Bulgarians. When they are celebrating they like to parade the streets, roaring Russian songs. Next to American movies they favor Russian pictures. There are many reports that Communists and Communist sympathizers are in numbers both in high places and low although the party is illegal in Bulgaria and its activity is restricted to circulating hand bills.

American College Is Influence

The American college plays an important part in Sofia's life. Bulgarians regard it as offering the best education in the country. Its campus looks like that of a small New England college and it was laid out before Bulgaria won her freedom from the Turks in 1878. There is also a large German school and a British institution.

More than 80 per cent of Bulgaria's population is made up of peasants who are impervious to propaganda of any kind. Prosperous peasants, dressed in pigskin moccasins, sheepskin coats and lambskin breeches come to town on Fridays to sell their wares. They are the handsomest people on the streets.

Three Lubbock Men Quoted Extensively In Article In December Issue Of Magazine; Writer Tells Of Farming In Lubbock Area

Three Lubbock men are quoted extensively in an article named "It Was Livestock or Starve" in December issue of Country Gentleman magazine.

K. M. Renner, head of the dairy manufacturing department, Dean A. H. Leidigh of the division of agriculture at Texas Technological college, and Dr. J. G. Porter, federal veterinarian stationed at Lubbock, furnished information for the article, which was written by Harry R. O'Brien.

Visited Here Last Spring

O'Brien, associate editor of the publication, is also "The Plain Dirt Gardener" in Better Homes and Gardens magazine and a part-time instructor at Ohio State university. He visited Lubbock last spring.

"When I first came to Texas Technological college in 1927 . . ." O'Brien quotes Renner. "There were three butter-making plants in Western Texas. That year from 2,000,000 to 3,000,000 pounds of butter were made.

Largest Butter Center

"In 1939 fourteen creameries made more than 15,000,000 pounds of butter. Lubbock is now the largest butter manufacturing center in Texas. Three cheese plants within a radius of 70 miles . . . make well over 3,000,000 pounds annually. There are between 400,000 and 500,000 dairy cows on the West Texas Plains now."

O'Brien then mentions the 1,400 acre-irrigated farm of C. R. Viegel in western Floyd county. "He raises about 100 head of fine Hereford steers a year and usually adds about 250 more to feed out. He raises all his own grain and silage but buys his alfalfa and cottonseed meal. He turns out such a high-quality beef animal that last year he made a top that stood for several months on the Kansas City market . . ."

Dr. Porter Is Quoted

He quotes Dr. Porter: "We are not bothered much with disease problems. The winters are moderate and dry . . . We have plenty of home-grown grain sorghums that can be marketed profitably . . . We are right next to the range country, where we can get all the cattle we want . . ."

The statement that "we are on the shortest main-line railroad between the Gulf of Mexico and the Pacific coast," he attributes to Leidigh. "The Pacific coast is a natural market for us . . . Everything is in favor of the development of a livestock industry here."

The article also describes the farm of J. M. Peterson, stock farmer of south of Lamesa who has profitably converted 800 acres of land to stock-farming uses.

The government will control soils for tobacco growing in Spain.

Horse And Man Both Dead But Trial Is Still In Courts

VALPARAISO, Ind., Nov. 26 (AP)—Superior court is hearing the seventh trial in a seven-year-old legal battle over a horse, now dead, which was sold by a man now dead.

In March, 1933, Ben Anderson sold the horse to Ben and Vernon Kuehl for a $100 note. The buyers said the horse was a bad bargain, and they would not pay the note.

Anderson sued. He was killed in an automobile accident. His estate went ahead with the suit. The horse died, but left a colt, now full grown.

The case was tried six times. One jury disagreed, five others gave verdicts for the Kuehls, but the Anderson estate won new trials.

U. S. Exports Gain During Past Month

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP)—Airplane and other war material shipments boosted United States merchandise exports from $295,000,000 in September to $343,000,000 in October.

September had been one of the smallest shipment months in a year, but commerce department figures today showed October exports restored trade to about the average since the war began.

In the ten months of last year, exports amounted to $2,516,678,000 and imports were $1,835,816,000, giving an export excess of $680,862,000—about half the excess so far this year.

Toys Being Repaired By WPA Workers

Miss Evelyn Richter, district director of professional and service projects of the Work Projects administration, said a toy repair project for Lubbock Goodfellows in Lubbock was under way "in full blast."

Expectation is, Miss Richter said that the project will continue operating through Dec. 20, giving employment to approximately 30 workers during that period. The workers are about equally divided between men and women, many of whom have had training in the particular line of work.

Miss Leona Gelin is project supervisor.

Nutzy Must Have Been Out On A Wild Party; Soda Tablet Aids Fish

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 26 (AP)—Nutzy turned pale and swam on his back, as all pet goldfish do when they swim toward fish heaven.

Nutzy's owner, Mary Graham Minor, massaged him with salt but he got worse.

Someone suggested a bicarbonate of soda tablet. Crushed in Nutzy's bowl, might make him feel better. It did.

Now he's swimming with his fellows in as good form as ever—but the bicarb bottle's close by.

Houston Reporter Not To Presume Any More Over The Telephone

HOUSTON, Nov. 26 (AP)—Robert Connor, Houston Chronicle reporter, has decided he will no longer presume upon the identity of his telephone callers.

He answered the telephone today, thought the voice on the other end of the line was that of H. E. Slaymaker, British consul, and cheerily offered:

"Well, things are looking better in the Mediterranean, aren't they?"

Came a prompt reply:

"This is the Italian consul."

Dr. Hereford Talks At Lions Luncheon

It did not cost very much to discover America in 1492, but that discovery was the "greatest" discovery of mankind, Rev. Dr. Carl E. Hereford, pastor of First Baptist church, told the Lions club at a luncheon Tuesday noon in Hilton hotel in discussing "What Is Right With America."

G. R. Kennedy was program chairman of the day. Dr. P. G. Harbaugh, presiding, said the club had received a request from the new Post club for assistance in getting its program of work started and that it was planned to visit the club next week.

Records of the times showed the voyage of Columbus cost approximately $7,000, with two brothers furnishing two ships and leaving about $2,500 for Queen Isabella to raise. The records, he said, were from August, 1492 to March, 1493. In the United States there are two thirds of the material wealth of the world, and all of the people on the globe could reside here, with not as dense a population as that in Belgium before the World war.

Most Americans, he said, lived so close to the good things of this nation that they cannot see them. "This is the best country we know anything about," he said. America is called a "capitalistic nation," but "our greatest capital is freedom, the freedom of speech, press, assembly and worship of God and the separation of church and state."

In this country its people have liberty, not found in other lands. Americans are creative, he added, artists and scientists. "We have made this a haven—we have made this a harbor," he pointed out. "It ought not to be a harbor for the wrong kind of people." The story of Edward Bok, immigrant boy who made a fortune and then built a singing tower as his memorial to America, was told.

"Our nation was religious in its inception," he pointed out, adding that it was fitting that presidents called the people to assemble and give thanks to God for their blessings. Americans have the highest standard of living of any nation on the earth and also the highest type of citizenship, he said.

Michie Funeral Rites Set For This Afternoon

Funeral services for Mrs. J. N. Michie, 53, will be conducted at the residence at 2215 Sixteenth street at 5:15 o'clock this afternoon, according to announcement by Rix Funeral home. Mrs. Michie died at her home Monday.

Robert E. L. Michie, a son, flew from San Francisco to Big Spring, where he was met by Lonnie Langston at 7 o'clock Tuesday night. Mrs. Victor Harris of the English department of the University of Chicago, a daughter, arrived by train late Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Michie, wife of the head professor of mathematics at Texas Technological college, had been in ill health about three years.

The body will be buried in Oakwood cemetery in Austin.

Friley Speaks To Optimists

Prairie chicken, antelope, bob white quail, blue quail, deer and turkey are the most important species in the fifth region of the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster commission, which has headquarters in Lubbock, Charles Friley told the Lubbock Optimist club at the club's weekly luncheon Tuesday in Lubbock hotel.

Of minor importance in the region, which includes 78 counties, are beaver, waterfowl and chukar partridge, said Friley, who is a field biologist of this region.

Restocking of antelope, deer, turkey, bob white quail and beaver has been accomplished in some places, he said.

Two-Fold Function

Function of the game department is two-fold. The first function is enforcement of the game laws, of which there are approximately 500, as set up by the Legislature, and the second is research and restoration leading toward the perpetuation and increase of game species throughout the state.

"Some people have the idea antelope is almost extinct," the speaker said. On the contrary, however, there were approximately 2,000 in Texas by the last census.

In this region, antelopes are to be found on the Matador ranch in Oldham county, in the northwest corner of Gaines county, some in Borden county, a few in the southern part of Garza county, in Wilbarger county and in Andrews county.

To Aid Needy

Prairie chickens are found from Andrews north through Gaines, Yoakum and Cochran counties, in the northeast corner of the Panhandle and in Lipscomb, Wheeler and Gray counties and a few in the Red Lake section in Motley county. A few deer and some turkeys are on a ranch in Mitchell county. Turkeys are scattered over the rolling plains and in the West Texas cross-timbered section. Deer may be found on the eastern edge of Eastland county, some in the northwest corner of Throckmorton county, the northern part of Brown county, a few in the Palo Duro state park and in larger numbers along the Canadian river from Plemons eastward and in Hemphill county. A small herd is located on the Sayles ranch in Taylor county.

Friley is a member of the club. He was introduced by E. L. Mabee of the program committee for the day. Dr. A. W. Young, club president, presided.

The club voted to contribute money derived from fines for absences and failure to wear club buttons to the relief fund for evacuees from England. The money will be sent to Canada, along with donations from other Optimist clubs.

The Woman's Page

BEST expression of how truly invincible England is may be found in Alice Duer Miller's "The White Cliffs." This is a description of an American woman's feeling toward England at this critical stage of its history and in which the English spirit is reflected through the eyes of an American.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

It isn't the high cost of living that keeps one poor, but the cost of living high.

ONLY ONE ENEMY

THEIR patience probably worn thin with the terrible inconvenience of no water and lights and darkness coming on in the face of icy blasts, Amarillo residents surely took time in the midst of it all Saturday and Sunday to offer their thanks that their enemy was Old Man Winter and not the invasion of an enemy, bombing planes and shortage of food.

The Plainsman spoke Tuesday evening of the friendly relations that exist between the Hub of the Plains and the chief city in the Panhandle. His feeling that he wishes the Sandies to go on to state victory is shared by many Lubbockites. Monday night we talked within ten minutes to three persons whose father, wife and sister live in Amarillo, all who were greatly concerned for the welfare of their kinfolk. Most of us have loved ones in that section. It takes such an ache as losing a ballgame or Alaskan weather to prove how closely united these places really are.

The news that there were no casulties in the storm was welcome but pictures of the trees laid waste break our heart. Only one who has spent his life in this bald section knows of the love and care that have gone into the planting of those trees and shrubs in Amarillo's parks and in the yards and along the highways. It seems incredible that damage by ice in one night could tear down years of culture but such is the case.

Now is the time for Amarillo to show the stuff that made up backbones of its pioneer founders. And we know they will meet the test and plan and plant anew the beautification of a beautiful city.

IN THE MAIL

DEAR Miss Turner: I am making a request for favorite babyhood poems as I am collecting them.

I enjoy reading your column, especially the Mind Your Manners column.

A Reader.

DEAR Reader: Spanning the years to the time when we first remember poems we recall "Wee Belar, Limber-lock," "The Owl and the Pussy Cat," a number of Robert Louis Stevenson's selections from "A Child's Garden of Verses," and numbers and numbers of Mother Goose Rhymes. That was long before child psychologists decided Mother Goose rhymes are not healthy for childish minds although we don't believe they hurt us.

Our favorite, we suppose, was liked because we experienced the feeling of the writer.

In winter I get up at night
And dress by yellow candle-light
In summer, quite the other way
I have to go to bed by day
I have to go to bed and see
The birds still hopping on the tree.
Or hear the grown-up people's feet
Still going past me in the street.
And does it not seem hard to you
When all the sky is clear and blue
And I should like so much to play
To have to go to bed by day?

MIND YOUR MANNERS

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking the authoritative answers below.

1. When a young woman introduces herself to another guest at a party, does she say, "I am Miss Jones"?

2. If a man introduces himself to a girl who is a guest at the same party, should she also tell him her name?

3. What is the one always correct response to an introduction?

4. Which introduction is better for an informal occasion, "Mrs. Jones, may I present Miss Smith," or "Mrs. Jones, I want you to know Miss Smith"?

5. When visiting in the home of a friend whose servant you know, should you speak to the servant when she comes into the room?

What would you do if—

You meet someone and do not catch his name—

a. Tell him you didn't get the name—

b. Don't admit you didn't understand it?

Answers

1. No. "I am Mary Jones."
2. Yes.
3. "How do you do?" Don't substitute "Pleased to meet you," "Glad to know you" or anything else.
4. "I want you to know—"
5. Yes. Unless she comes quietly into another part of the room and you are engaged in conversation, or the only time you see her is when she is serving a meal.

Mattress Program Is Announced For 1941

Plans for handling Lubbock county's 1941 program of cotton mattresses for low income farm families were outlined at a meeting Tuesday of the county land use planning committee, the commissioner's court, the home demonstration council and extension service agents. Miss Clara Pratt, home demonstration agent, announced.

"In the 1941 program," she said, "farm families with an income of $500 for four people, with an additional $60 per person, will be eligible to receive mattresses. They will receive one mattress for each two persons, not to exceed three to a family.

"Persons living in incorporated areas, if half of their income is derived from agricultural work, provided they come within the other requirements, also will be eligible to receive mattresses."

The committees voted to make a charge of 65 cents for the purchase of materials and supplies for making mattresses and also for the employment of a woman supervisor, it was explained. The charge was agreed upon after discussion.

At the same time, Miss Pratt added, the 1940 program will be completed in five centers, work starting within the next week.

On Friday the work gets under way at Slide, Monday at Shallowater and Hurlwood and at Slaton and Lubbock Tuesday of next week.

So far the 1940 program has had 113 mattresses completed, and there are 174 more mattresses to be completed in the program. Home Demonstration club women have been assisting farm families in the making of the mattresses, the government furnishing cotton and ticking.

WARNING to Mothers of Growing Children

WHEN COLDS STRIKE . . . Relieve Misery the Improved Home-Tested Vicks Way . . . Protected for Children.

No matter what you have tried in the past to relieve misery of colds—treat your child the improved Vicks way—with a "VapoRub Massage". Then notice how swiftly it starts to quiet coughing, ease muscular soreness or tightness and bring comfort.

With this MORE THOROUGH treatment (developed by Vicks staff of Doctors) the poultice-and-vapor action of Vicks VapoRub more effectively . . .

PENETRATES irritated air passages with soothing, medicinal vapors, inhaled deeply with every breath.

STIMULATES chest and back like a warming poultice or plaster.

To get a "VapoRub Massage" with all its benefits, here's what you do: Massage VapoRub for 3 minutes on IMPORTANT RIB-AREA OF BACK as well as chest and throat—spread a thick layer of VapoRub on chest and cover with a warmed cloth. BE SURE to use genuine Vicks VapoRub.

When you see the results of this improved Vicks treatment, you will wonder how any sensible, thrifty mother could possibly deny her child the comfort and relief it brings from misery of colds.

Correct Constipation Before—Not After!

An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of emergency relief. Why let yourself suffer those dull lifeless days because of constipation, why bring on the need for emergency medicines, when there may be a far better way? That way is to KEEP regular by getting at the cause of the trouble.

If it's common constipation due to lack of "bulk" in the diet, a pleasant, nutritious ready-to-eat cereal—Kellogg's All-Bran—goes straight to the cause by supplying the "bulk" you need.

Eat this crunchy toasted cereal regularly, drink plenty of water, and see if you don't forget all about constipation. All-Bran is made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek. If your condition is chronic, it is wise to consult a physician.

Youth Carries On Tradition

(By The United Press)

EL PASO, Nov. 26 — Jerry Landon Carter is carrying on something of a family tradition.

One of 29 draft registrants from El Paso county who volunteered and were accepted, Carter has begun a year's training in the army at Fort Bliss.

His father, the late Dr. George D. Carter, was a medical officer in the World war, in charge of the army medical research laboratory at Tours, France. A grandfather, Lewis Carter of Virginia, fought with the Confederacy in the war between the states.

Brother In Air Corps.

The new soldier's brother, George D., jr., holds a captain's commission in the reserve and now is on active duty with the air corps.

His mother, Mrs. Marie Carter, served on a soldiers' entertainment committee during the World war and has expressed a desire to serve in a similar capacity under the national defense program.

A sister, Mrs. Fred Huber of Los Angeles, is a Red Cross volunteer nurse.

Arguments Heard In Federal Court Case

Arguments on motion in the case of J. C. Peterson and others against Texas company, were heard in U. S. district court Tuesday by Judge T. Whitfield Davidson and decisions rendered by the court.

Defense motion to overrule was denied, but several motions to strike certain paragraphs and sections were granted, while other motions were denied. Most of the day was taken up with hearing arguments. Plaintiff was instructed to attach copy of a mineral deed as part of its record. The case will be heard on its merits Dec. 1, it was announced.

Several other cases scheduled to be heard Tuesday were set over for Wednesday. No jury is to report until Monday and all matters this week are non-jury matters, including motions.

J. C. Orr, 82, of 1906 Avenue B will be buried in Memorial park cemetery after 10:30 o'clock services this morning in the Foursquare Gospel church, Rev. Floyd Dawson, pastor, will officiate.

Mr. Orr, retired business man, moved to Lubbock 15 years ago from Crosbyton. Bearers as the funeral will be Walter Davies, Harry Wilbanks, W. M. Romane and Joe Parks of Crosbyton, B. B. Travis and R. Bush Smith.

SEYMOUR, WEISS, PRISON ROUTE — Free of handcuffs or any other visible sign that would mark him as a prisoner, Seymour Weiss (center), New Orleans hotel executive and political associate of the late Senator Huey P. Long, walked from the Terminal railway station at Atlanta to enter an automobile that carried him to the Atlanta federal penitentiary to serve a four-year term after pleading guilty to charges of income tax evasion and conspiring to violate the Connally "hot oil" act. He is also under 30-month sentence on conviction of defrauding Louisiana State University. The two sentences run concurrently. Behind him is Deputy Marshall Joe Burgiass, just partly shown. The man at right was not identified.

Christmas Seals To Be In Mails Saturday

Dr. Arthur Jenkins, president of the Lubbock County Tuberculosis association, announced Tuesday that the 1940 Christmas Seals would be placed in the mail November 30.

The income for work in the prevention and control of tuberculosis in Lubbock is derived solely from the sale of Christmas seals. Plans for next year call for more children to be tuberculin tested to detect tuberculosis infection, and more X-rays to be taken of apparently well people to locate those in whom tuberculosis is developing, Jenkins said.

To do this the continued financial support of the community is needed, he reminded.

It is not necessary to purchase all of the seals received. Any amount can be kept with the remainder returned to the Lubbock County Tuberculosis association, Box 1614, Lubbock, Jenkins said.

'Trojan Horse' Is Revived By Greeks

ATHENS, Greece, Nov. 26 (U.P.) — The Greeks are using the Trojan horse again.

A dispatch from the northern front said Greek crews manned captured Italian tanks and drove into an Italian camp at Madik, on the west bank of Lake Qurid, above Pogradec. The Italians, believing Italians were in the tanks, ran out to greet them. The Greeks opened fire, killed several Italians and chased the rest to their brick headquarters building, the dispatch said.

Then, it said, the Greeks used their "modern Trojan horses" to batter down the walls of the headquarters building.

Tech's Yell Leaders Not To Be Left At Home; Selling Tags

Yell leaders at Texas Technological college are not the kind to be left behind when the football firing line is several hundred miles away.

And when the Tech students' special pulls out Friday night for Albuquerque where the Red Raiders meet New Mexico Saturday, they'll be along.

The Student Council this year found it impossible to bear their expenses and the five leaders have been selling "Beat New Mexico" tags to pay their own way.

One hundred tags were printed for each of the five, and they were sold to Lubbock citizens for 10 cents each. And they have assured their presence—all 500 of the tags have been sold.

The five are Sandy Sanderson, head cheer leader, L. D. Whitely, Lois Nance, Billie Bess Shive and Bud Barnes.

In addition to the students who will make the trip, accommodations have been arranged for the 100 members of the Tech band. Jeff Goffey, drum major, will head the musicians.

The train leaves Lubbock's Santa Fe station at 11 o'clock, Friday night.

American business lost $80,000,000 in 1939 due to poor hand-writing resulting in misreading of sales checks.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Raiders, Westerners Busy!

Tech Points To Tough Lobo Tilt

After four days of rest the Texas Tech Red Raiders returned to the practice field Tuesday afternoon and started preparing for Saturday's game in Albuquerque against the University of New Mexico team. A number of the Raiders are suffering from severe colds and are not at their physical best but they showed a keen eagerness in Tuesday's three hour practice grind.

Plainly worried as to the eventual outcome of Saturday's game,

HAVE YOU MADE THAT RESERVATION YET?

The Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce committee in charge of the "special party" railroad group going to Albuquerque Friday for the Tech-New Mexico game Saturday announced a slight change in plans yesterday. The party will leave as scheduled, at 1 o'clock Friday, on the regular train. But instead of returning late Saturday night, at least a part, or all of the special equipment will be held over until Sunday morning, and will return as part of Sunday's regular train, arriving in Lubbock at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The round trip fare for this group will be $9.15 instead of the previously announced $9.35, due to the change in return schedule. Reservations must be made today, and a special booth will be arranged in the Hotel Hilton lobby. Tickets to the game also will be on sale at the booth, and those not sold here will be returned to Albuquerque Thursday morning.

Coaches Pete Cawthon, Dutchy Smith and Bery Huffman stressed defense in Tuesday's workout. Coach Huffman took eleven of the freshmen "white shirts" and gave them New Mexico's baffling offense which is worked off various spreads. After learning the more important New Mexico plays the "white shirts" took it to the Raiders in a very lively session. The spread pass plays gave the varsity more trouble than Cawthon and Smith cared to see.

Monfort Is Problem

The Raiders were told to beware of Avery Monfort, swivel-hipped signal barker for the Lobos, who is leading the Border Conference in ground gained on rushing and is one of the most dangerous left-handed passers in the game. It was this Monfort's running and passing that defeated the University of Arizona last week, 13 to 12. According to Huffman's scout report, Monfort works most of his stuff of baffling spread formations, and several of his pet plays, as used by the "white shirts" breezed right through and over the varsity for long gains.

"I don't know, we may be wasting a lot of times trying to weave a defense for New Mexico's spread stuff," Cawthon said. "I guess the best idea would be to just pray and hope each time the Loboes gain possession of the ball. The Lobos have some fine, versatile backs in Avery Monfort, Jack Morrisey, Pete Sheyka and George Gustouich, and a couple of the toughest guards in the game in Wilbur Gentry and John Lukisch. These are the boys who make the spread formations click and I seriously doubt if we will be able to handle them."

Lineup Not Settled

Cawthon isn't sure about his starting line-up for Saturday. He pointed out that some of the boys had such bad colds that their starting status was very doubtful. He doesn't plan, or even hope to use Charlie Dvoracek, the line smacking fullback who shattered his nose in the Centenary game several weeks ago. Charlie is finding it difficult to breath through his nose and his doctor has advised him to take another week's rest before going into action. Rafe Nabors is hobbling around on that badly wrenched left ankle and it doesn't look like he will be able to play a down.

Train Business Picks Up

While the Red Raiders are trying to pull themselves together and get ready for the game, plans are progressing for the two special trains which will convey fans and students to Albuquerque. The train carrying regular fans will leave here Friday afternoon at 1:15 o'clock and will arrive in Albuquerque that night at 9:30 o'clock. The train conveying Texas Tech students and the Red Raiders will leave Friday night at 10:30 o'clock and will arrive in Albuquerque the next morning at 7 o'clock. Round trip fares on both trains will be $7.35. Graduate Manager "Mule" Dowell of Texas Tech has a limited supply of game tickets which are $2.65 and $2.20. Dowell has these tickets on sale daily at the Hilton hotel ticket booth. Texas Tech students who have activity tickets will be admitted to the game for 90 cents.

But This Is Old Stuff Around Here

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Nov. 26. — Mr. Goober Keyes, professor of football at Lubbock High school with a very good average—one state championship in two seasons—confirms all those rumors circulating about the mighty Sandies of Amarillo.

"They're better than Blairy Cherry's great (Amarillo) state championship team of 1936," Keyes says. "I firmly believe my bunch was better the other day than at any time last year and we didn't have a chance against big guys."

Amarillo rolled over defending state champion Lubbock 14-0 to snap a 17-game winning streak for the Westerners and thus become the favorite for the Texas schoolboy championship.

It's All True, Too

Off and on, Amarillo has been described as a gang of piano-legged giants and as probably the greatest schoolboy team in Texas history. Coach Howard Lynch, it is reported, can put a team on the field averaging 190 pounds to the man.

But his regular eleven is somewhat lighter, although still big enough to cause awe among the opposition.

One sports writer—Collier Parris of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal—had this to say:

"Yes sir, for a time we were thinking that perhaps Bull Lynch and his crew had shanghaied the (Texas) Tech Red Raiders as they reached Amarillo en route to St. Louis the other day, stuffed them into Sandie uniforms and brought them to Lubbock to play the Westerners, sending the Sandies on to play St. Louis university."

Westerners No Test?

Amarillo, really, has not been tested this season. Lubbock gave the Sandies their hardest battle, playing almost on even terms in the first half, but adds Keyes:

"My smaller boys were getting awfully tired by half-time."

No team has come closer than two touchdowns to the Sandies in their nine games this season. Amarillo beat Quanah 26-6, Poly (Fort Worth) 19-0, Austin (El Paso) 20-9, North Side (Fort Worth) 19-7, Borger 38-0, Plainview 20-6 and Lubbock 14-0 in Texas games.

Then the Sandies crushed two of Oklahoma's powers—Capitol Hill of Oklahoma City and Norman by 46-0 and 37-0 scores, respectively.

Sparkplug of the stupendous Sandies is Myrle Greathouse, 181-pound blocking back taking his first fling at "varsity" football in the interscholastic league. As a blocker and linebacker he has no peer in Texas.

But the entire Amarillo team is pronounced as "the most advanced scholars" in blocking and tackling fundamentals seen in schoolboy football. This from officials who worked the Amarillo-Lubbock game.

We Know This, Too

Ted Moss, 235-pound guard, is the bellwether of the line. He not only is powerful but fast.

Starting tackles are Jim Warner, 200, and Thurman Tigart, 190. Warner is rated one of the finest forwards in the state, even publicly by his coach. And for subs there are Roy Priola, 205, and Gene Sutton, 190!

M. T. Johnson is the scat back of the team with Otto Payne, the 190-pound fullback, furnishing the power.

The Sandies play Pampa Thursday and can clinch the district title with a victory. If Amarillo failed to do so it would be the greatest upset in schoolboy football history.

Keyes, Nichols Crack The Whip

Facing a stiff, cold north wind, the Lubbock High Westerners Tuesday afternoon went through what is in all likelihood their last hard workout of the 1940 season.

With the season's windup with the Plainview Bulldogs only two days off, Coaches Goober Keyes and Walker Nichols had their charges socking at each other in an intense scrimmage. Most of the drill was devoted to defense against the Bulldog offensive formations as run by the reserves under the direction of Nichols.

No Fooling Around

The Westerners evidently are not fooling about this Plainview business. They realize quite clearly that the Bulldogs are no setup, no tasty dessert to be polished off after the main course served up by Amarillo's Sandies.

All season long attention of Lubbock fans has been focused on the Sandies, with only a passing thought given to the Bulldogs. Consequently, very few realize that Coach Vernon Hilliard has molded one of the finest schoolboy teams in the state.

The Bulldogs have been beaten only by the mighty Sandies and have won eight games, none of them setups. All of their opponents have been Class AA teams, and one of them, Big Spring, has since won a district championship. With the three Mason brothers sparking an offensive that has yet to be held scoreless, Plainview has stacked up impressive scores in all but two games. The Sandies, of course, won from the Bulldogs, 29 to 6. Big Spring, the District 3-AA champion, held them to an 8-0 triumph. But otherwise, Coach Hilliard's boys haven't even been held to a close score.

And the Westerners have a fine team, too, one the coaches say is as good as the 1939 state championship outfit. It was just too bad that Plainview and Lubbock were in the same district with Amarillo.

The winner of tomorrow's game will still have a shot at the district championship, because the Sandies must play Pampa. A Harvester victory would scramble the race into a tie between the Sandies and the winner of the game here and leave the champion to be decided by a committee-room decision.

A victory for Pampa is highly improbable, but it is not an impossibility by any means. Remember 1931? That was the year that Amarillo came up to the final week of the season without a conference defeat, and had already beaten Lubbock by a decisive score. Beating Pampa was regarded as only a formality for the Sandies, but something happened. Pampa smacked the Sandies, tossed the race into a three-way tie between Pampa, Amarillo and Lubbock.

That was before the Interscholastic league clamped on the 10-game-a-season and no-two-games-in-five-days rules, and in the play-off the Westerners won the district title by defeating both Pampa and Amarillo in the space of three days.

Well, anyway, it doesn't hurt to be an optimist.

Yeah, The Old Game Still Belongs To The Players!

BY WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK, Nov. 26—Not counting the centers, who get a tailspin view of everything anyway, there has been a lot of upside down thinking on the gridirons this fall, giving the $2.65 quarterbacks in section "H" plenty of chances to call a better game than the guys on the field.

Most of these plays involving questionable mental gymnastics have been of the stupendous-if-it-goes, stupid-if-it-doesn't variety, the theory being that anything that succeeds is all right.

A cross-section of such plays would include Minnesota running the ball from its own 20 on fourth down against Washington; Navy running on the same down on its own 29 against Penn; Tulane, also on forth down, running against Fordham from its own 10 with 25 yards to go (the quarterback obviously was mixed on his downs on that one); Army trying a placekick from deep in Notre Dame territory with only inches to go for a first down, and Cornell trying two consecutive passes from its end zone against Penn.

Disregarding the question of whether the boys who call plays such as those enumerated are right or wrong, the fact remains that just such incidents as these add spice to the game and make college football the thrilling, unpredictable sport it is.

It means the game still belongs to the boys. Certain it is that the coaches, were they calling the signals, would not have the audacity to call some of the plays those eager kids try out there.

Bright Weather Promised For The 'Jinx' Game

BY FELIX R. McKNIGHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Austin, Nov. 26.—Destructive rains had departed, sunshine bathed the place and perfect football weather was in the offing tonight for the dramatic Thursday meeting between unbeaten Tex. A. and M. and University of Texas.

Flood waters still swished in many parts of Texas and cold weather was boring in from the North, but cloudless skies and brilliant sunshine gave promise of crisp football weather.

Such, after many days of continuous rain, was the outlook for a scrap before some 45,000 that most folk believe is the "Battle for the Rose Bowl."

Not In 18 Years

Nineteen consecutive triumphs behind them, the Texas Aggies come here seeking something that has eluded them for 18 years—a victory on Austin sod over it's most ancient enemy.

Tonight Coach Homer Norton confided from his College Station retreat that he had one big worry—the status of Quarterback Marion (Dookie) Pugh, the Cadets' top runner and passer and brains of the Aggie attack. For several days Pugh has been hospitalized with a leg hurt.

"Pugh's condition is not so good," said Norton. "I doubt seriously that he will start the game. I think he can hobble around and play some. The rest of the boys are in good shape. Mentally, they will be ready."

Ready to jump into the quarterback-backing job was Marland Jeffrey, 187-pound Port Arthur boy who has been benched only by Pugh's consistent brilliancy.

Watch Laden And Harkins!

Jeffrey has a running average of 4.36 yards, has completed 16 of 37 passes for 236 yards, owns a 33-yard punting average and can throw a football reminiscent of Sammy Baugh in his Texas Christian days.

Silence was deafening around the Texas camp, but it was practically no secret at all that the Longhorns were working overtime on a passing game. Fullback Pete Layden, a good player who is sparking Texas this season, is better than a notice at throwing footballs, having completed 39 of 69 for 431 yards to rate as the conference's third leading pitcher.

And if he isn't pitching, R. L. Harkins can do the job. The slight lad has managed to get across 30 completions out of 60 attempts. The Texas sky game has netted 930 yards in eight games.

Overall statistics give the Aggies the edge—but not a stunning one.

Longhorns No Setups

The jinx is on, the jinx that has held good without break since 1922. Texas has a good football team, one that has won six and lost only two games. With such foes as Indiana, Colorado, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Baylor and Texas Christian on the bright side and only Rice and Southern Methodist as their conquerors.

Many Aggie teams have fallen in Austin, but never one approaching the greatness of this one. The 1939 and '40 Aggies have crushed one jinx after another, but it would only be a mild upset if Texas beat them.

D. X. Bible's Texans are definitely not setups, jinx or no jinx.

Baseball Ivory Traders Getting Set For Hot Session At Annual Meet In Atlanta

By RAY PEACOCK
AP Features Service Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—For everybody except the Detroit Tigers, who are in coventry, the annual meeting of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues in Atlanta come Dec. 4 should be a bright lively trading session.

That's the usual optimistic forecast, even though it may turn out (as it has so often in the past) that the only player trades involve a couple of Joes nobody had bothered to mention before the meeting. Or does afterward, for that matter.

Larry MacPhail just couldn't wait until the Atlanta meeting to announce that he had acquired Kirby Higbe from the Phillies to pitch for the Brooklyn boys. MacPhail may be one of the busiest traders at the session—he just can't resist buying outfielders at $25,000 a throw.

If it isn't MacPhail who sets the pace, it may be Mr. James Dykes of the Chicago White Sox, the American League's most active ivory broker.

TRADER JIMMY DYKES

Williams Traded?

One trade rumor, complete with denials, has Pitcher Johnny Rigney and an outfielder going from Chicago to Boston for Outfielder Ted Williams, the modern Joe Jackson. Dykes also would like to pick up a second baseman somewhere, and has to prepare for First Baseman Joe Kuhel's pension.

National league clubs are still nibbling at the Phillies' remaining trade bait, Pitcher Hugh Mulcahy.

Fear of the draft, of course, may hold up things. The Yankees, now that they have moved out of the American League's doghouse to make room for Detroit, have a lot of elderly talent they would like to dispose of at pre-war prices.

The Yanks have offers for Frank Crosetti, who might do a Barteil in a different uniform. But the chance that Uncle Sam may put Phil Rizzuto in khaki for a year is a long one for the Yankees to take.

The market for catchers is bullish. The Cardinals are comfortably overstocked, and the Cubs, Giants and Dodgers are reportedly in trading moods. Hank Danning, Mickey Owen, Babe Phelps and one or two other backstops may change uniforms.

Possibly the Cardinals will peddle Walker Cooper, rookie catcher and brother of Pitcher Morton Cooper, but it doesn't seem likely that such a box office attraction would be broken up.

Some trading of first basemen is possible. The Cubs have a couple to spare. The Dahlgren-McQuinn swap may be revived by the Yankees and St. Louis Browns. Or it may be Dahlgren-Trosky.

Here's a list of players most likely to figure in any winter exchanges:

National League

Brooklyn — Luke Hamlin, Babe Phelps. St. Louis — Don Padgett. Owen. Philadelphia — Mulcahy, Handley. Cincinnati — Lew Riggs, Harry Craft. Boston — Max West. Chicago — Dom Dallessandro. New York—Danning, Bill Lohrman.

American League

Washington — Rick Ferrell, Ken Chase. St. Louis — Don Heffner. Philadelphia—Wally Moses. Detroit —Nobody, unless the A. L. rescinds its no-trade-with-the-champions rule. Cleveland — Jeff Heath. Boston — Ted Williams. Chicago — Rigney. New York — Crosetti, Jake Powell, George Selkirk.

Ohio State To Fire Schmidt?

Coach, Faculty Deny Reports

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 26. (AP)—The Ohio State Journal asserted tonight that Football Coach Francis A. Schmidt would not be reemployed at Ohio State university, but Schmidt termed it a "cock and bull story."

University officials stated the report was without foundation. The Journal quoted an "unimpeachable source."

Schmidt, attending an alumni banquet in Cleveland, declined further comment.

Athletic Director L. W. St. John asserted there "is no foundation whatsoever for the story." J. L. Morrill, chairman of the athletic board and vice president of Ohio State, remarked that "positively no action of any kind had been taken."

Wasn't Year In, Too

Herbert S. Atkinson, chairman of the university board of trustees and the trustees' representative on the 10-member athletic board, said he had not been "consulted" and knew of nothing "that has taken place that would support any assumption a change is to be made."

Schmidt's 1940 team was crushed 40 to 0 by Michigan Saturday to conclude the worst Buckeye season in 19 years.

The Journal's story said that "Schmidt's departure will be made in the most formal manner, and through the regular procedure." He is employed on a year-to-year basis.

"When it is conveniently possible for all members of the Ohio State Athletic board to be present, the first official action will be taken," the Journal said. It added that no meeting is expected to be held before Dec. 7.

Schmidt's 1940 won-and-lost record is not altogether responsible for the forthcoming action, the Journal said. Ohio State lost four of its eight games this year.

"On frequent occasions and especially during the past three seasons," the story said, "Schmidt has been the 'storm center' of numerous arguments throughout the coaching and player ranks."

Schmidt came to Ohio State from Texas Christian in 1934.

McAdoo And New Home Will Try Again Here On Friday

The twice-postponed football game between McAdoo and New Home teams for the bi-district of South Plains six-man football championship has been re-set for Friday afternoon of this week at Tech stadium here.

Originally scheduled for last Saturday, the game was postponed because of unfavorable weather, and the same thing was done Monday.

If weather permits, the first championship six-man football game ever to be played here will begin at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Admission will be 25 cents for students, 50 cents for other fans, and a large crowd is expected.

Both teams have won their respective district championships, and this game will be for the six-man title of the South Plains.

Groom Risks 19-Game Streak At Lamesa

GROOM, Nov. 26. (Special)—The Groom High school Tigers, already victorious over two other district champions since winning the District 15 six-man football championship, will seek further conquests Saturday when they invade Lamesa for a game with Sparenberg, District 9 champion.

The Tigers have won 19 straight games in two years, capturing the district championship both seasons.

Since winning their own district, which includes 23 counties of the Panhandle, the Tigers have defeated Medicine Mound of District five, 39 to 19, and Divide of District fourteen, 40 to 0.

Sparenberg won the District 9 title last Thursday in a playoff game with Klondike.

Groom's speedy six has scored 341 points this season while allowing the opposition 81. The Tigers depend largely on a razzle-dazzle passing game, but can also break out a fine running attack, powered by a lineup that averages 164 pounds to the man.

Idalou Cagers Win From Shallowater

IDALOU, Nov. 26. (Special) — Idalou's high school cagers opened the round-robin tournament for the 1941 Lubbock county basketball championship here tonight with a double victory over Shallowater.

Coach Elmo Kelley's boys, defending county champions, won a 25 to 13 decision. Harrison Sage led the scoring for the Wildcats with 15 points, while Teague was high for Shallowater with four.

In the girls game, the home team won a hair-breadth 16 to 15 decision. Virginia Racus scored 10 points for the lead, while Misses Todd and Miller scored six each for the visitors.

The game were originally scheduled for December 13, but set up by agreement. The regular playoff will begin December 3, and will be played on a double round-robin home-and-home basis with seven teams participating.

Complete schedule for the tournament will be announced in Sunday's Avalanche-Journal.

Aggies Classes To Fit Bowl Situation

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 26. (AP) —If the Texas Aggies are invited to play in the Rose Bowl, California may expect a visit from a big segment of the student body that forms the biggest military cadet corps in the nation. With foresight born of last year's experience, Texas A. & M. college made its Christmas holidays fit a bowl situation.

A year ago, when the Aggies played in the Sugar Bowl, the school calendar and the football dates didn't fit so well, and, as a result only 1,500 of the 6,200 students made the trip to New Orleans. This year the college authorities foresaw the possibility of another bowl game and arranged the school year accordingly. Classes won't reopen after the holidays until January 6.

Gophers Remain Tops; Aggies Win 2nd Place

By BILL BONI
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Though Minnesota definitely declared itself out of the Rose Bowl picture today, the Western conference football champions figure very importantly in one post-season contest.

The Golden Gophers again are the No. 1 team of the country in this week's seventh Associated Press ranking poll, and from the results of today's balloting are favorites to finish in that position when the final votes are cast next week. Yet there still are three teams—similarly undefeated and untied—which stand some slight chance of beating them out.

Stanford, B. C. Close

Minnesota, on top for the third straight week, got 88 of the 170 first-place votes this time (only two of the country's experts rated them worse than fourth) to accumulate 1,562 points. Only 448 points, however, separate the Gophers from fourth-place Boston College, with Texas A. and M. and Stanford second and third with 1,476 and 1,264 points, respectively.

All three of these teams complete their regular schedules this week—the Aggies against Texas on Thursday in a game where victory will make them the first team to lead the Southwest conference for two straight years; Stanford against California Saturday, the big one the Indians need for undisputed claim to the Coast conference title and the Rose Bowl nomination, and Boston against Holy Cross the same afternoon, a game which will find the Eagles heavily favored to finish with a clean slate and then get a Sugar Bowl invitation.

Tennessee Is Sixth

This week's first ten was a strong Mid-western tinge and is likely to retain that to the end. In addition to Minnesota, there is Michigan, one of the Gophers' two extra-point victims, in fifth place; Northwestern, beaten twice but a big winner over Notre Dame in its finale, seventh, and Nebraska, the Big Six champion, eighth.

Rounding out the list are sixth-place Tennessee, which will be favored to complete three regular seasons without defeat when it meets Vanderbilt Saturday; Georgetown, ninth, and Ivy League Champion Penn, tenth, with only two points less than the Hoyas.

First-place votes, besides Minnesota's, were 41 for the Texas Aggies, 15 each for Stanford and Boston, three for Michigan and eight for Tennessee.

Unbeaten but once-tied Mississippi State heads the second ten, 50 points back of Penn, a margin the Maroons may wipe out should they turn in an impressive showing against Alabama Saturday. Others in order are Washington, Cornell, Fordham, Santa Clara, Southern Methodist and Alabama, Texas Tech and Lafayette in a tie for 18th, and Duke and Hardin-Simmons in a tie for 20th.

WISTERT IS BEST

WASHINGTON. — The Washington Redskins, who have watched him, insist the Michigan sophomore, Al Wistert, is the best tackle they could hope to see.

Brownfield Host To Colorado City, Paducah At Shamrock In Bi-District Tilts

Undefeated Cub Team Hopes To Discard Jinx

(Special To The Avalanche)

BROWNFIELD, Nov. 26.—Shooting for their first bi-district title after three futile attempts, the undefeated Brownfield Cubs tackle a powerful Colorado City eleven Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock on the Brownfield High school gridiron. On three previous occasions local teams have dropped bi-district engagements, but the 1940 Cubs feel confident of tossing off the jinx.

Colorado City gained the bi-district round by coasting to a 40-3 win over Snyder. Brownfield annexed the District 5-A pennant with a rousing 25-6 triumph over Olton on Thanksgiving Day. Colorado City has been beaten but once this fall, that being a 6-0 loss to Monahans, a team Brownfield subdued, 20-13.

Battle Of Coaches, Too.

Interest over the championship scrap is at fever-pitch in both cities. With more than the bi-district diadem at stake, the two clubs are in prime shape for the battle. Records of the rival mentors, Aubra Nooncaster of Brownfield and Colorado City's John L. Dibrell, share the spotlight with the all-important tilt.

Nooncaster's Red and White combines played Dibrell-coached teams for two years while Dibrell was at the helm of Post High school athletics. During his regime at Post Dibrell dropped two decisions to Coach Nooncaster and Brownfield.

The Cubs suffered a severe jolt two days prior to the Olton fray when Daverelle Lewis, fiery 140-pound quarterback, underwent an appendectomy. Lewis sparked the locals to a perfect season with his expert signal-calling. Also on the sidelines is James Bryan, triple threat back, who broke his collarbone in the Littlefield game.

Altered Lineup Works.

Using a makeshift backfield against Olton, Coach Nooncaster struck a favorable chord. He hit upon a quartet of elusive backs who carried the mail for four touchdowns against a much heavier Olton outfit. Gene Hill, 185-pound end, was converted into a hard-driving fullback. Spencer Murphy moved up from the reserves to fill the blocking back post. Veterans W. D. Warren and Jiggs Tankersley round out the quartet.

The advance sale of tickets indicate a crowd of more than 3,000 will be on hand for the game. Brownfield business firms have announced that they will be closed for three hours Friday afternoon to take in the affair.

Landon Says When U. S. Starts Sending Its Ships To War Zones Country Might As Well Declare War; Speaks To Kansas City Club

(By The United Press)

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 26.—Alf M. Landon said today that if the United States ever starts sending its ships into the war zones then the country might as well declare war and prepare to send an expeditionary force to Europe.

"The very first question we must consider, in the light of America's interest, is whether we should go any further in our aid to Great Britain," Landon told a co-operative club luncheon group. "The president said the other day that we were going about as far as we could under our present laws. Already, there is a drive being organized to further modify our neutrality laws.

Will Be Like Declaring War

"I supported the change that was made a year ago last September, but I cannot support any further change because I believe that if we ever start sending our ships into the war zones we might as well declare war and prepare to send an armed expeditionary force to Europe. Future events will prove that the vote on any member of Congress to amend our present neutrality law will be tantamount to voting for a declaration of war."

Landon said that the minute an American ship is sunk by a submarine the "war temperature will start a rapid climb."

"And it will not take many incidents of that kind before we become an active belligerent," he added.

If the United States becomes involved in the war as an active participant then the "world will be facing 100 years comparable to the dark ages," Landon said.

Clear Weather Is Predicted

Cleared skies Tuesday night lent confidence to today's weather forecast—fair and unchanged temperature—and gave workmen further chance to put in valuable touches to repair damages in the Panhandle.

The New Mexico state highway department at Santa Fe wired Lubbock Chamber of Commerce that no new snow had fallen in that state and U. S. highways 60, 66, 85 and 285 and many secondary roads were open for travel without difficulty.

Communications to Amarillo still had not been established. O. J. Sexton, Western Union manager, said messages from Amarillo to other points were being cleared through Lubbock.

Moisture Sufficient

Ira Jenkins, Postal Telegraph manager, had slept eight hours in 60. He was only man on his force able to send messages by Morse code, and because teletype service was not available, he has used the code over the Lubbock-Dallas circuit.

The telephone circuit to Amarillo had not been re-established, Southwestern Bell Telephone company officials said.

Dean A. H. Leidigh, of the agriculture division at Texas Technological college, said week-end rainfall was sufficient to start germination of wheat that had been dry planted. It is not too late to replant wheat that does not germinate, he said.

Considerable damage was caused cotton bolls and open cotton, much of the latter having been blown out and discolored. Unopened bolls are expected to develop poor grade cotton.

Cat Survives Ride In Refrigerator Car To Have Kittens

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 26. (U.P.) — The vitality of a black-and-white cat that survived a four-day journey here from Chicago, locked in a refrigerator railway car, amazed yardmen in the Union Pacific yards today—but that's not all.

Two hours after the cat was rescued from her traveling prison and given warm bread and milk, she presented her rescuers with four healthy kittens.

Sharp Gains In Industrial Earnings Motivate Floods Of Year-End Dividends

Big Companies To Pay Profits

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—The flood of year-end corporation dividends, which according to economists has greatly augmented potential holiday purchasing power, today reached a new crest with announcements of resumed, extra and increased payments by a large number of companies representing diversified lines of industry.

Highlighting the day's actions by corporation boards, again motivated by the year's sharp gains in industrial earnings, was Republic Steel corporation's declaration of the first dividend on the common stock since August, 1930. The directors voted a payment of 40 cents, payable Dec. 27 to holders of record Dec. 10.

Compared To 1937

Wall Street sources compared the large outpour of stockholders' money with big dividend distributions near the end of 1937.

One of the largest per share distributions was that of Norfolk & Western Railroad whose directors ordered a dividend of $5, payable Dec. 19 to holders of record Nov. 30.

National Lead Co., extra of 37½ cents and regular quarterly of 12½ cents on common stock, payable Dec. 23 to holders of record Dec. 6.

American Smelting & Refining Co., special dividend of 75 cents on common stock payable Dec. 27 to holders of record Dec. 6.

British Conditions

shipping losses likely will continue at a high level. There likewise is the need for merchant ships and this need will grow as spring brings an increase in U-boat activity.

Only today Minister of Shipping Ronald H. Cross made the ominous admission that Britain is losing ships faster than she can replace them.

While Britain's shipyards are working at capacity, part of the facilities must be devoted to naval construction and repairs.

"We are therefore anxious," he said, "to get more ships built overseas and we are looking primarily to the shipyards of the United States, since by themselves the resources of the empire are not enough."

The press demanding a speed-up of the still-faltering industries and the use of the unemployed, whose numbers are rising despite the war effort.

Britons have been blinded partly by patriotism, partly by propaganda and their censorship often is guilty of making a reverse look like a victory because the British can and are "taking it."

Complacency, distortion and reluctance to admit the truth are as dangerous to the British cause as nightly bombings.

Indeed, there are dark hours for Britain—the darkest since the "miracle of Dunkerque" when the British army escaped from the Nazi trap and left the Germans looking longingly at the white cliffs of Dover, only 22 miles away.

The realization is growing that this winter will be the severest test since those black days back in May.

Confronted with this situation, the government is striving to avoid false optimism, but it still is reluctant to admit or deny German claims of bomb damage or anything at all about military equipment or war industries.

The Germans are using new strategy of singling out provincial towns for blitz blows and Britons outside London blame propaganda to the effect that London is unhurt for the shift to the Hinterland, which is not so well protected.

People Are Worried

The people are worried because the Germans appear to hold the initiative in diplomacy as well as in the military field.

The cry for the scalp of Lord Halifax as foreign secretary is raised almost daily in the press. Here's a sample: "Our diplomatic position has deteriorated ever since he was appointed . . . it is transparently obvious that he will have to go some day. Why not now?"

Daily the press, officials and radio blare accounts of Italian reverses in Greece, in the Mediterranean, the lull in Africa and the failure of Germany to throw her armed weight immediately to Mussolini's retreating army in Albania.

Yet the headlines and the BBC tell only of "slight damage" and "few casualties" in raids on Britain, when the people themselves can see the wreckage left and are mourning whole families wiped out.

There are the things that the people grumble about. They are far more ready to face the brutal truth than the newspapers and the radio, and they grow sarcastic at the official announcements.

The people of London are cheerful, stubborn and tired. Shelter conditions are terrible; the menace to health is more dangerous potentially than Nazi bombs. Sanitation in sleeping quarters is deplorably inadequate, despite assurances that "steps are being made for their improvement."

All these are the impressions of a man who has spent a great deal of time with the army, navy and air force and—more important—with the people themselves.

ROCKEFELLER GIVES BLOOD FOR BRITAIN.—Some British Tommy may, in the future, boast of having Rockefeller blood in his veins, because Wintrop Rockefeller, son of John D. Great Britain Makes Promise To Bulgaria

LONDON, Nov. 26. (AP)—Britain lifted a hopefully beckoning diplomatic finger at Bulgaria today, promising that if she would stay neutral this country would do its best—when peace comes at last—to assure her future independence.

The overture was made bluntly in the House of Commons by Lord Halifax, the foreign secretary, through Undersecretary R. A. Butler, who submitted this written statement:

Refers To Greece

"Lord Halifax welcomes this opportunity of stating that provided Bulgaria does not join or assist, either actively or passively, the enemies of Great Britain or attack her allies, it is the intention of His Majesty's government to do their best to insure that in any eventual peace settlement to which Great Britain is a party the integrity and independence of Bulgaria shall be fully respected."

Almazan Concedes

successor of President Lazaro Cardenas.

Almazan's statement was in the form of a reply to two of his prominent supporters, Ramon P. De Negri and Diaz Soto y Gama, who wrote him on Nov. 14 arguing that an attempt to seize power would be an "insane adventure" because the United States apparently recognized Avila Camacho.

Interference Feared

Almazan stated that he feared if he had sought to defend his "triumph," the United States would have intervened in the interest of continental solidarity.

Almazan urged the Mexican people to "demand with greater energy than ever the rights of those who have fought so bravely to be respected," and to insist that "democratic principles be the basis of progress and peace in Mexico."

He said that during his long sojourn in the United States he had "not set foot in Washington or solicited from any high official the slightest aid," and that he did not have "the slightest contact with any representative of the oil companies, with any member of either political party or with any capitalists of any nationality."

Almazan concluded:

"It's All Over"

"In keeping with my inflexible attitude that neither ambition nor vanity should intervene, I come to renounce before the sovereign people of Mexico the honored office of president to which the people were good enough to elect me last July 7.

"I have taken this resolution as the only means of securing the peace to which my supporters are entitled."

Mexican official and political sources, on learning of Almazan's declaration, commented in substance, "It is all over."

Wife Testifies

Fred Peterson, investigator for defense Attorney Wiley Dorris, Bakersfield, said he had received information that an Emeryville bartender and a taxicab driver had stated they knew Jackson and could testify he was in California at the time the crime was committed in Texas but that he had not had time to get affidavits from them.

The attorney general's office, which is cooperating with the Texas authorities in their application for possession of Jackson, asked Mrs. Jackson why her husband had assumed an alias after he left New Mexico.

"I guess it was so I couldn't locate him," she said.

Apparently Best Thing To Do Is Wear Them

TULSA, Okla., Nov. 26. (AP)—Seth Yerrington, instructor at an air school, ordered four pairs of all wool underwear from a store here. The store re-ordered them from a Moncton, N. B., Canada, firm.

Came the woolies and a letter from the Canadian firm stating they were a gift to Yerrington "since he presumably is a Canadian taking flying lessons in the United States with a view of joining the Canadian air force."

Yerrington, an American citizen, says he doesn't know what to do about it.

New Oil Order

25 and 31 and January 1, 4, 5, 11, 12, 18, 19, 25 and 26.

Exemptions Authorized

Shutdown exemptions were authorized for the entire Panhandle district and the following fields:

Lulin-Branyon, Salt Flat, Mission River, Oakville, Plummer, Arriola, West Beaumont, West Orange, Kubela, Bammel, Barbers Hill, New Batson, Boling, Buckeye, Clay Creek, Damon Mound, Danbury Dome, Esperson Dome, Eureka Heights, Goose Creek, High Island, Hull, Humble, Livingston, New Mykawa, Sandy Point, Louise, Mykawa, North Dayton, West Columbia New, Dyersdale, Lochridge, Moca, Charamousca, Eagle Hill, Minnie Bock, Seven Sisters, Sam Fordyce, North Sam Fordyce, Mexia, Powell, Sulphur Bluff, Wortham, Boggy Creek, Cayuga, Grapeland, Lone Star, Talco, Rodessa, Rig Lage, Grayson, World, Hendricks, Howard-Glasscock, Iatan-East Howard, Taylor Link and Johnson.

Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson said the basis of the new production schedule was determined by segregating nominations by types of crude, granting each well its marginal allowance or the portion of the marginal output it is capable of making and subtracting the marginal total from the bureau of mines estimate to determine the amount of proration oil which was then distributed among fields according to types of crude reflected in purchaser nominations.

Comparison Given

Basically, or not considering shutdowns, the daily allowable beginning Dec. 1 will be 1,754,726 barrels, compared to 1,726,947 on Nov. 23 and 1,596,784 on Aug. 23.

Basic allowables by districts for Sept. 1, Nov. 23 and Dec. 1 were: Southwest Texas, 270,942, 284,932 and 295,303. Gulf Coast, 247,655, 302,541 and 307,252. Marine Captain Slain; Another Is Wounded

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Nov. 26. (AP)—A marine captain was killed and a sergeant major wounded at the marine corps base today by a sergeant, who intelligence officers said apparently was brooding over the possibility of his being reduced in rank.

The intelligence office said a board met recently to consider reducing Sergeant Clayton R. Fore to a corporal because of inefficiency. No official action had been taken but, the office stated, the "probable" recommendation would have favored demotion.

An intelligence office release said Sergeant Fore, 35, formerly of Oxford, Fla., shot and killed his commanding officer, Capt. George Corson, at 7:45 a. m. The captain was shot from behind with a service rifle as he went up the stairs in barracks.

Sgt.-Maj. Gilbert L. Owen fled through the entrance to the barracks and saw Fore coming down the stairs. Owen dodged behind pillars of an arcade but was wounded when he ran across the recreational grounds. It was a superficial wound.

Negro Held In Attempted Theft

A 21-year-old negro woman, Mollie Robertson, was held Tuesday night in city jail after twice having been thwarted in attempts of theft at Purr Food store No. 1, at Broadway and Avenue R.

The first time she flourished an ice pick and left the store. Later she returned, picking up a bar of soap, a can of milk and 15 cents worth of sugar.

She had a knife in her possession, but a clerk collared her, O. E. Rush made the arrest.

No arrest had been reported in burglary Monday night of Lester's Credit jewelers, where a lone bandit took loot estimated at $300.

Orville Allison of 1914 Fifth street reported theft of a tire and wheel from his automobile. A spare tire and wheel were stolen from Joe Cook of 1519 Thirty-first street. R. W. Flanagan's bicycle was stolen at his 2005 Twenty-sixth street resident.

S. A. Beard of Beard Rubber company, at 2306 Avenue H, reported theft of a $7 radio.

ing stream to carry them to safety.

The Sabine had risen to 35.06 feet at Logansport, 10 feet over the flood stage, and continued upward at the rate of an inch and a half an hour. The crest was not expected before tomorrow. Logansport itself apparently was not in danger.

Downstream 150 miles at Orange, work went forward on construction of ways at a shipyard where 12 destroyers will be built for the U. S. Navy, but weather observers hoped the Sabine's floodwaters would spread out into lowlands upstream without major damage there.

Traffic on the great Houston ship channel, one of the three largest waterways in the United States in point of tonnage handled, was hampered by a 10 mile current, stirred by San Jacinto river waters plunging toward the gulf, and by masses of driftwood and debris.

Eight ships plied the channel length, four inbound and four outbound, but numerous others did not care to take the risk.

Water lacked three feet of reaching the top of the turning basin dock.

Fair weather was predicted for most of the ice and flood beset state, giving some promise of relief.

Scores of rescue boats, many brought miles inland from coastal points, canvassed every flood-swept community. The homeless were housed in schools and public buildings, and fed at Red Cross kitchens. Oil fields became lakes, and workers capped the wells and fled before the threat of high water in some sections.

The Panhandle slowly emerged from its coat of ice.

A WPA appropriation of $17,695 sent scores of workers cleaning up the mess of tree limbs, power lines and broken poles at Amarillo, hundreds of miles north of the flood area. Communications were still below normal, the water supply and electric power only partially restored, but train, bus and air service was returning to par.

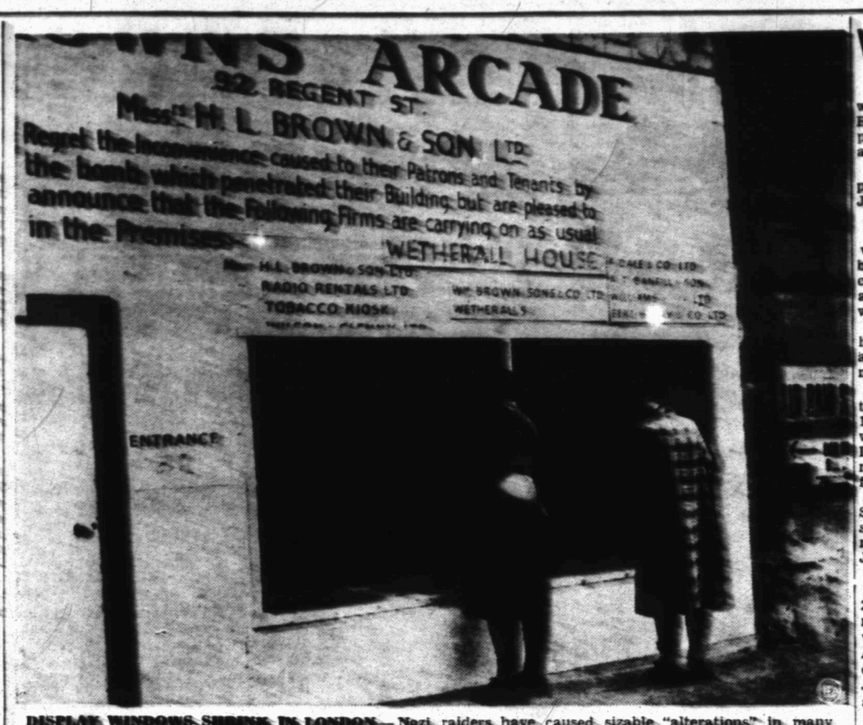

Three Are Injured In Auto Accident

LITTLEFIELD, Nov. 26. (Special)—G. W. Bronson, 63, of Monroe was injured near here today when his automobile was in collision with another machine occupied by Mexicans, two of whom were also injured.

Sexto Torres, 52, of San Diego, Texas, had minor injuries and his son Pablo, 19, suffered a head injury. The injured were brought to Payne-Shotwell hospital here.

An attending physican said Bronson's condition was not serious tonight. He had a minor head injury and fracture of two right ribs. Neither of the Mexicans was considered serious in condition.

The mishap happened about 11:45 o'clock this morning near Yellowhouse gin, six miles east of Littlefield. Investigators said it was possible a high wind was responsible for the accident.

DISPLAY WINDOWS SHRINE IN LONDON.—Nazi raiders have caused sizable "alterations" in many buildings in London's swank Regent St. shopping district, but, as the sign over Brown's Arcade, above, announces, many tenants in bombed buildings are "carrying on as usual." Street-front tenants have found it practical to replace blasted windows primarily with boards, leaving only a small sheet of glass for display purposes.

Non-Military Works Will Be Slashed

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26. (AP)—The new federal budget, President Roosevelt said today, will provide sharp cuts in appropriations for all non-military public works.

The chief executive explained to his press conference that by spring and summer the defense program was going to use the very greatest number of people out of work and wanting to work.

Because this would cut down the total of the needy unemployed, he said new spending should be concentrated on defense.

Non-military projects will be cut to the bone, he continued, but small amounts will be set aside to finance engineering plans for such projects as are already approved. These plans will be put on a shelf to be taken down when employment in defense industries slackens, the president said.

Racketeering Barred In Unions By AFL

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 26. (AP)—The American Federation of Labor adopted today a resolution condemning racketeering in labor unions and authorized its executive council to act should unions evade their "responsibilities."

There was nothing in the resolution, adopted without a protesting vote, to indicate what action the council could take. With convention approval, the council yesterday stripped itself of the power to suspend a single union but said it should be given power instead to suspend two or more unions engaged in a "dual movement."

AFL's national and international unions were advised by the resolution to adopt necessary legislation for adequate disciplinary action against any of their officers or members "who may have been found guilty of betraying the trust reposed in them."

Casualties From Lost Ship Placed At 22

JERUSALEM, Nov. 27 (Wednesday) (AP)—Casualties in the explosion which capsized the refugee steamer Patria in Haifa harbor Monday were placed officially early today at 22 known dead, 254 missing and 25 injured seriously enough to need hospital treatment.

Aboard the ship were 1,771 Jewish refugees from middle and southeastern Europe awaiting transfer to some British colony for the duration of the war.

Woman Is Killed

was filed in county court by Don Reeder, police chief. It was prepared by Robert J. Allen, county attorney.

The youth Tuesday night had not provided $500 bond, set by Judge J. J. Dillard.

Man Said Blinded

Klantchnek told Joe Tucker, investigating officer, he had been blinded by the glare of approaching car lights. He said he felt a jar and stopped his car to find the woman lying in the street.

Patrolmen found the mishap had happened three feet east of an alley in the center of the block, and nine fe. from the curb.

The death gave Lubbock its worst traffic record in four years—since 1936 when six persons were killed within the city limits, Traffic Sgt. Lewis Kittrell of the police department said. Four persons have been fatally injured in mishaps this year.

The last prior to Tuesday was Sammy Hatcher of 2134 Nineteenth street, who was struck by an automobile in front of his home last June 14.

Other Fatalities

W. H. Allen, 74, died last January 20 after he was struck by an automobile the previous day at Broadway and Texas avenue, and Mrs. H. A. Harrison of 2107 Twenty-seventh died 11 days after she was struck January 31 at Twenty-seventh street and Avenue S.

Oliver Thomas, chairman of the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce's safety drive, said the campaign would be renewed with added incentive. Deathless day No. 1 will end at 7 o'clock this morning, he said.

He was joined by Sergeant Kittreil in urging safe driving and careful walking.

Italians Blasted

all Italian units were seeking to turn toward the Adriatic in their retreat. (Here 31 words were censored.)

The Italians were reported to have only two main roads to the Adriatic, one leading north from Argirocastro and the other running west from the Yugoslav border.

Winter Slows Advance

Both these routes and feeder roads were said to be crowded with troops and motor equipment, under continual bombing and machine-gunning from British and Greek planes.

The RAF command reported British planes yesterday attacked and scattered Italian motor, pack mule and infantry columns in the Elbasani district, barely 20 miles from Tirana, Albanian capital, and bombed military stores at Argirocastro.

The Greeks asserted that Mussolini sped his 42nd regiment direct from the Italian capital to bolster his forces on the central front, but that in a four-hour, hand-to-hand pitched battle "they failed, in a way tragic for them."

Direct Airline Service Between Lubbock And Fort Worth And Dallas Asked

Braniff Airlines Seeks Permit

Direct airline service between Lubbock and Fort Worth and Dallas has been asked in an application prepared by Braniff airlines, the chamber of commerce said it had been advised by airline officials.

Chamber officials expressed the opinion that the application probably has actually been filed with the federal Civil Aeronautics board, although they had received no actual notification to that effect.

Is New Plan.

At the present time, according to chamber officials, Braniff operates three planes daily between Dallas, Fort Worth, Wichita Falls and Amarillo. The proposal is to put Lubbock on that route between Wichita Falls and Amarillo.

The application, it was explained, has nothing to do with those on which hearings are in progress before the CAB in Washington on proposals to establish north-and-south service through Lubbock. Competing applicants for permission to establish the north-south service are Braniff, TWA and Essair, Inc.

Prospects Said Bright.

Information received at the chamber, officials said, indicates that two or three weeks longer may be required to finish those hearings and that "several weeks, maybe several months" then may elapse before a ruling on the applications.

However, C. E. Maedgen, sr., chairman of the chamber's aviation committee, A. B. Davis, manager of the chamber, and Harry B. Lewis, manager of the aviation department, all were of the opinion that prospects are bright that at least one of the applications will be approved. They declined to speculate on which may be given the authorization.

Lewis In Washington.

The reason for the anticipated delay between the completion of the hearing and the announcing of the decision, they said, is that attorneys representing the competing lines will be given opportunity to prepare and file briefs after the taking of evidence has been finished.

Davis and Maedgen have returned from the Washington hearings. Lewis still is in Washington and probably will remain until the taking of evidence has been completed.

Officers Refuse To Comment On Reports

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 26. (U.P.) — U. S. Army officials refused to comment today on reports that movement of the 36th division of the Texas National Guard to Camp Bowie at Brownwood would be delayed because of construction lag.

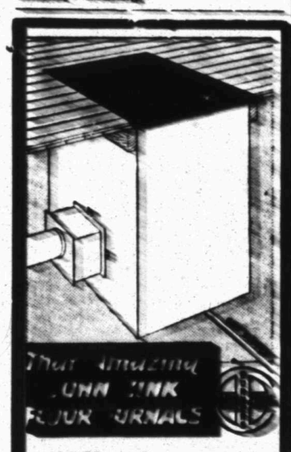

It had been reported that heavy rains which flooded most of the state had set back building progress at the camp a week or more.

Postponement of the movement of National Guardsmen to the camp, which was to begin December 1, was understood to have been recommended.

Camp Bowie officials Saturday had said that rains had hampered construction at the cantonment, but that already-completed facilities to take care of the first groups of guardsmen were adequate.

Jones Says RFC To Make Loans

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26. — Jesse Jones, federal loan administrator, said today the Reconstruction Finance corporation would "extend proper credit at appropriate rates to any reputable manufacturers who have defense contracts if such credit cannot readily be had from banks."

He made the statement in a letter to P. D. Houston, president of the American Bankers' association.

Houston, meanwhile, discussed defense financing with the legislative committee of the bankers association, and the committee announced it would prepare an informatory bulletin advising banks of the opportunities and problems of participating in the defense program. The committee is headed by J. Harvey Wilkinson, jr., vice president of the State Planters banic and Trust Company, Richmond, Va.

Letter Was Misconstrued.

The loan chief said that a letter he wrote on Nov. 18 to the secretaries of War and Navy had been misconstrued by some bankers and some of the press. He continued:

"There is nothing in my letter that can be properly misinterpreted. I stated clearly that 'Where there is a definite undertaking on the part of the War or Navy department, in a manner mutually acceptable, for reimbursement over a period of five years, the RFC, either directly or through banks will arrange or adjust such financing at an interest rate of 1½ cents per annum on payments made within the period.'"

Dean Of Rail Leaders May Step Down Today

NEW YORK, Nov. 26. (AP)—Daniel Willard, dean of railroad presidents, is expected to suggest to directors of the Baltimore and Ohio in a meeting here tomorrow that he step out as executive head of the road to make way for a younger man.

He will be 80 next January.

John M. Davis, president since 1925, may be appointed chairman.

Davis, 69, has been in railroad service since 1889, starting in his native state of Texas with the San Antonio & Aransas Pass, now part of the Southern Pacific system.

Amarilloans Make Best Of Hardships—In Fact Some Even Make Picnic Of Them

EL RENO, Okla., Nov. 26. (U.P.)—Thirty Oklahoma business men who rode to ice-coated Amarillo, and back home again, in a streamlined train, had plenty of first-hand stories today about the Texas Panhandle's worst ice storm.

"Everybody in Amarillo was making the best of the hardships and hotel guests were making something of a picnic of it," said Ray J. Dyer, publisher of the El Reno Tribune, one of those who made the trip. "Our party had quite a time, marooned on the fourteenth floor of a hotel for fifteen hours.

"But when we left Amarillo yesterday afternoon, city authorities were distributing mimeographed notices to citizens warning that until further notice all water and milk should be boiled.

"I saw one of these notices at the home of my brother. When I visited him Monday he was catching drip from the melting ice, in buckets, for the family's drinking water.

On Choctaw Rocket.

"Our party went to Amarillo on the Rock Island railroad's new 'Choctaw Rocket' streamliner, arriving there at 7:40 o'clock Sunday morning almost on scheduled time for the train's regular run.

"From Jericho, Texas, which is about 50 miles east of Amarillo, all the way west to that city and for how far on west I don't know, all the railroad telegraph lines were down, and the trains were running both ways 'without orders—just on schedule.'

"When we rolled into the station at Amarillo, the telegraph pole carrying the main railroad lead-in lines lay snapped off about three feet above the ground. I don't think there was a tree in the town that wasn't broken or damaged by the ice.

"The Herring hotel put our party on the top, or fourteenth, floor.

"At ten o'clock Sunday night the power went off, the elevators stopped running and the lights went out. Our men were marooned, practically, on that top floor until we left yesterday afternoon.

"The hotel's telephone service was working, and you could get a few numbers out in the city, but for some reason you could hardly hear the telephones in the rooms ring.

"The corridors were so dark that guests and even bellboys would get lost in them.

Make Picnic Of It.

"If we wanted a sandwich or cigarets, we had to walk 14 floors down and 14 floors back.

"Yesterday morning about 11 o'clock we all packed our bags and started walking down with them.

"I think it was rather like walking down into the Grand canyon at night with a pack on one's back. When we reached the lobby we just left our bags, and stayed downstairs until train-time.

"The hotel manager told us that of all his guests, only one called him up to complain—a woman, who, he said, seemed to think the ice-storm was brought on by the management. Everybody else seemed to be making a picnic of it."

Churchill Rejects Armistice Plan

(By The United Press)

LONDON, Nov. 26.—Prime Minister Winston Churchill today emphatically rejected all suggestions for a Christmas armistice.

Churchill told the House of Commons that:

"Any proposal for a Christmas armistice will be rejected by the government."

His statement was made when he was asked if he would approach the Vatican or some other neutral source and attempt to arrange cessation of hostilities over Christmas.

Churchill said that he would not approach any neutral in an effort to obtain such an armistice and that if such a proposal was made by a neutral it would be rejected.

The question was raised in Commons by Thomas E. Naylor, laborite member.

Christmas Seal Drive To Open

The annual sale of Christmas seals made by the National Tuberculosis association will open here Monday under sponsorship of the Lubbock county chapter.

Four thousand seals will be available for distribution here. The seals, used on Christmas cards and leters, are sold for the purpose of aiding in the fight against tuberculosis. All funds raised in the sale here will be used to combat the disease locally. This sale of seals is the only source of revenue the Lubbock chapter has.

Lubbockites Aided.

During the past five years 48 adults and children from this county have been treated at the state institution for tuberculosis. These patients were aided directly from the Christmas seal fund.

The Lubbock chapter plans this year to further work on protection for children against exposure to active cases and thus prevent spread of the disease. Special attention will also be directed toward aiding those children who already show signs of the presence of the disease.

Office of the Lubbock association is on the fourth floor of the courthouse and the mailing address is box 1614. All inquiries about the seals or work of the chapter as well as contributions should be sent to this address.

Readers Named.

Mrs. Frank Scurlock is executive secretary of the local group and is in charge of the sale. Dr. Arthur Jenkins is president; Mrs. Geo. Langford, vice-president; Claude E. Hale, secretary; and Rayford Hills, treasurer.

OUR PLEDGE

I PLEDGE allegiance to the flag of the United States, and to the Republic for which it stands; One Nation, indivisible, with Liberty and Justice for all.

It's Serious, This Year!

NOW that the long Thanksgiving holiday has passed so far as Lubbock and most of the South Plains are concerned, the time is here to do Christmas shopping early. You can't wait much longer without being late.

Early shopping is desirable in any Christmas season. It permits selections from the widest ranges and freshest of merchandise. It avoids the crush of crowds. It permits buying at a time when clerks have the time to give the expert assistance that nearly all of them like to give shoppers. It gets a tedious, strenuous, difficult job behind you.

But if early shopping is a wise practice during most seasons, it is especially so this year. That same statement can be made with even greater emphasis in regard to early mailing. Those who fail to shop early and to mail early will be inviting regrets.

The national defense has imposed a tremendous burden on the industry, postal facilities and transportation of the nation. Hundreds of manufacturing plants which ordinarily would have been preparing for several months for the Christmas market have been busy with other things. The available supplies of many types of merchandise which, ordinarily, are especially popular around Christmas are more limited this year than for a long time. Along with the fact that supplies are not as abundant as in normal years is the further fact that re-employment may create the greatest demand in many years.

Then there is this further fact: Merchants who run out of stock are apt to encounter difficulty in obtaining replacements. One reason for that is the lack of abundant supplies in wholesale centers. Another reason is that many of the transportation facilities which ordinarily would speed merchandise to the merchants now are engaged in other tasks.

So if you never have done your Christmas buying early before, common sense dictates that you do it this year. Otherwise you may be disappointed.

A Tip From Up In Kansas

AN OUNCE of prevention paid large dividends to Moline, Kan., a few days ago when citizens rallied to a pre-arranged alarm to thwart and capture two bank robbers.

The robbers were waiting inside when employes opened the bank doors. The employes were forced into a vault — where Precaution No. 1 paid off. In the vault was a concealed switch to sound an outside burglar alarm. Then came Precaution No. 2. Citizens knew what the alarm meant and they knew what to do. The robbers were lucky to escape with their lives.

The example set by alert residents of Moline is worthy of being followed in small towns everywhere. That includes our own South Plains. Everyone knows that the average small town bank is apt to look like an easy mark to the average bandit. Employes in such banks usually are few. Officers of the law are not numerous. Precautionary equipment in the bank is likely to be limited. The road to escape seems wide open.

If every town would prepare as well as Moline, robberies of small town banks would cease. Such precautions would be inexpensive. The first would be an outside alarm operated by any one of several concealed switches inside. The other would be organization among responsible citizens so that each would know the position he would be expected to take with his gun if the alarm should sound. The guns should not present a difficulty because one or more usually is close at hand in most places of business.

A very few experiences with preparations of that kind would be most discouraging to bank robbers. As a class they are too much the coward at heart to take any chance that a well-armed, minute-man citizenship will be waiting their emergence from the bank they have attempted to rob.

The One Minute Sermon

Whosoever is born of God doth not commit sin; for His seed remaineth in him; and he cannot sin, because he is born of God.

In this the children of God are manifest, and the children of the devil; whosoever doeth not righteousness is not of God, neither he that loveth not his brother.

For this is the message that ye heard from the beginning, that we should love one another.—I. John 3; 9 through 11.

New York Jungle

By WRAY WADE SEVERN

Copyright, 1940, NEA Service, Inc.

YESTERDAY: Waiting for police to arrive, each person reports his actions during the period of darkness. Neila smells smoke. Hugh and Sidney return to the Jungle to investigate. Only half of the lights are out of order. Sidney discovers a broken window. When he suggests that each of the guests has a motive for murder, Hugh insists the shooting was committed by an outsider.

A STRAND OF PEARLS

CHAPTER VI

Hugh followed the attorney up the stairs and into the drawing room. The lights were still on. Across the room, curtains and drapes fluttered in the wind from an open window.

"Look, Hugh, here's where he came in."

Braitwood hurried to the window, glanced out, then dropped to his knees and felt the carpet.

"It's dry, except where the rain has blown in. No tracks." He looked up at Hugh. "If the murderer got in the house through this window, he took off his shoes. The walk is flooded and that pile of leaves on the veranda would have soaked his shoes.

Hugh nodded, as Sidney joined him at the window.

"Togi said he closed all the windows, but this one may have blown open. When the house was modernized Adam had all the old windows replaced by this kind that swing out rather than lift. The catch may have slipped."

A sudden flash of lightning illuminated the scene below them. Trees bent under the rain. There was no trace of any human out there in the storm.

A hurried search of the room revealed no sign of fire. Other than the open window, there was no indication that the room had been entered since they had gone into dinner. They turned to the second floor of the house.

Adam's room and that of his wife were in the front part of the house. Neila occupied a suite in the rear. Braitwood, himself, had been installed in the guest room at the head of the stairs.

Curious to know if his own quarters had been entered, Sidney opened the door, glanced around. Nothing seemed disturbed. His brief case on the desk, toilet articles on the dresser. And the paper on the chair, where he had tossed it before going down to dinner. No one had been in there, he was sure.

Neila's suite showed no signs of disorder. Windows were securely fastened, everything in place.

"That's the way she always keeps it," Hugh said.

They walked down the hall to Adam's room. Suddenly the door of his room opened.

Hugh and Sidney flattened against the wall. Sidney's gun clicked as he pulled back the hammer. He sniffed, thought he detected the odor of burned paper, but it was so faint he could not be sure.

"Be careful," Hugh whispered. He edged cautiously toward the open door.

It swung wider . . . then slammed shut with a sharp bang.

"Must have been the wind . . . another open window," Hugh suggested. "Let's find out."

Sidney held his revolver ready—an old western style Colt—while the engineer reached for the knob, turned it quietly, then threw it open wide. He jumped back.

There was no doubt now about the burning paper. The odor was definite now, sharp and acrid in their nostrils. Hugh reached for the switch, flooded the room with light.

Havoc met their eyes. Curtains writhed before an open window, opening out over the porte cochere. Desk drawers yawned in disarray. The room had been ransacked. In the grate they found a mass of charred paper.

"Looks like someone tried to start a fire, but the rain put it out," Sidney suggested. Hugh was at the window.

"It adds up, Sid," he said. "These open windows and ransacked drawers. The murderer came in through the drawing room, looking for something here. Not finding it, he decided Adam had it—and he killed Adam to get it—whatever IT may have been."

"You may be right," Braitwood agreed. "If Gundrum or Togi failed to search the furnace room or the storeroom thoroughly, the murderer could have been hiding there. He could easily have entered the Jungle while we were upstairs. But how could he have escaped?"

Hugh did not answer. He was studying the fireplace.

"By Jove, Sid, I've got it," he shouted. "This fireplace! Adam told me his grandfather bought this house from an abolitionist who used a stairway concealed in the wall as a hiding place for runaway slaves. This fireplace may lead to that hidden stairway."

Sidney joined him. "It's big enough, all right. But I can't see anything unusual about it, otherwise. Later, let's have a look. Right now. . . ."

"Craig and I are coming up," Pat Langdon's voice interrupted him. "I've something to see about. I'm going to do it now."

Sidney heard them running up the stairs before he had a chance to answer.

"It's about my pearls," Pat explained, when she and Gundrum joined them in Adam's room. "I keep them in a wall safe in this room. They must be safe. Adam told me no one but himself knew of the secret hiding place, so I hesitated to mention it."

"Anxiety over that string of pearls has been fighting caution ever since we found ourselves locked in," Gundrum added. "Finally, anxiety won."

Pat crossed the room quickly to toss a half-smoked cigaret out the window. Braitwood noticed her, but it was not until later that it occurred to him that it would have been easier to use the ash tray within a few inches of her hand. Nor did he think, at the time, that Pat might have tossed more than just a cigaret away. She had plenty of opportunity to do so, with her back to the three men.

"Will you leave me alone while I make search?" she asked with a half smile. "The little safe is a family secret."

"For your own sake, we can't do that, Mrs. Langdon," Braitwood told her.

"Then by all means follow my every movement!" Pat replied angrily.

Deftly she disconnected what appeared to be an ordinary electric light fixture, manipulated some screw on the inside, removed the socket and ran her hand inside. A small segment behind the fixture slid down, and she brought out a string of glittering iridescence.

"Safe!" she breathed in infinite relief.

"I don't blame you for being worried over those," Sidney conceded. "Well, we might as well go back to the library. We've found our fire."

Neila met them at the door.

"Togi is ill. He's gone to his room. I told him it would be all right."

"But we agreed . . ." Sidney began, then stopped short. They had agreed to remain together until police arrived. But the parole had been broken.

Strike Ballots Are Distributed

By The Associated Press

DENISON, Nov. 26—Distribution of strike ballots for a vote to be completed by Dec. 10 by the 500 members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers employed by the Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad was announced last night by Charles McKemy of Denison, general chairman of the union organization.

McKemy said the vote climaxed a three-year dispute involving regulation of firemen's working lists, promotion of firemen to engineers, and demotion from engineer to firing service.

Tried For Agreement

He declared the union had attempted every step provided by the Railway Labor act to effect an agreement, but that the management had refused to cooperate.

F. W. Grace, vice president and general manager of the Katy, said at Dallas the company had "no statement."

Santa Fe Officials Guess Wrong Twice During Icy Storm

Guessing what to do in an unexpected situation, or in a crisis caused by an unexpected upheaval of general conditions, is what makes railroading interesting—and also turns hairs gray on the heads of officials who get caught on the wrong side of the guess.

Sunday afternoon the Santa Fe decided not to hold its Amarillo-Lubbock train, leaving there at 1:15 o'clock for the connection from the east, No. 23. When the through train arrived, several hours late, there were 22 paid passengers for Lubbock and other points and all had to remain in Amarillo until the next afternoon, or get home by other means than by train.

Monday afternoon the connecting train was held four or five hours. There were two passengers, the wife and daughter of a trainman, riding on passes.

Burns Are Suffered By Negro Girl In Fire

Bernice Patrick, 13-year-old negro girl, suffered first, second and third degree burns on arms and hands when two small frame houses occupied by negroes in 2300-block East Avenue F burned shortly before 6 o'clock Tuesday morning.

The fire department answered a call at 5:40 o'clock and arrived in time to prevent a third structure from catching fire.

The fire started in the house in which the negro girl lived with her grandfather and spread to the house in which Ed Calhoun, uncle of the girl, lived a few feet away. Cause of the fire was unknown to firemen. Calhoun owned both structures.

The negro girl was taken to Lubbock sanitarium, where it was said her condition was not serious.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Alva Bath

ADMINISTRATION leaders admit dolefully now that labor peace looks almost as remote as before the election. John L. Lewis may be out, but he isn't down. He continues to be the most potent influence in the CIO—and perhaps in the whole American labor movement. Ironically, it has been FDR who has enabled him to retain, or regain, his strength.

Sidney Hillman, the leading spokesman of the opposition to Lewis, has been made a sacrificial goat. In some measure, the fault has been his own. He promised more than he could perform. Most of the CIO followed him, instead of Lewis, in the election on the theory that the President, in a third term, would act on their behalf with greater vigor. Now Hillman is left without any comeback when the left-wingers taunt him about the appointment of Harry Millis to J. Warren Madden's place on the Labor board and about the award of a fat aircraft engine contract to Henry Ford. John L. Lewis can say to the boys in all truth, "I told you so."

The CIO depended upon Hillman to prevent such acts. His failure to do so has seriously undermined his chances of leadership. The rank and file may now agree with Lewis that it can't depend on the government to advance its interests, but must fight for them aggressively itself. They therefore are less inclined to follow Hillman into an administration-inspired reunion with the AFL.

ASSURANCE: There's a grave danger for the administration in Hillman's loss of control in the CIO. While labor trusted and was willing to follow him, he could use his position as Defense commissioner to settle industrial disputes quietly and peacefully. So far, he has done this with notable success. But, if the fight spirit prevails in the CIO, this country is likely to suffer the most serious siege of strikes in its history.

They won't be easy for the New Deal to quell if they once get started. Farsighted administrationites believe they can be prevented only by convincing labor that the much-heralded national unity won't be achieved exclusively at its expense. This objection to giving defense contracts to Labor law violators is no mere whim of the workers. It's something they consider vital to their welfare.

The more sober and tolerant New Dealers are convinced that the administration must act forthrightly to persuade labor of two things: One, that labor legislation will be staunchly upheld; two, that employers aren't going to reap rich rewards out of the defense program.

SACRIFICES: The strike at the Vultee Aircraft plant may be no more than symptom of what's to come. Wages in the airplane industry generally are lower than in the automobile industry. The CIO's United Automobile Workers union is leading the organization drive in the aircraft field with the express purpose of bringing its pay scales up to the auto level.

If it succeeds, other unions are likely to start a drive for boosts in pay. The argument that employers are set to make a killing out of defense contracts makes a cogent appeal. There may be a goodly number of strikes to interrupt defense production. If the workers gain their demands, there is likely to be a sudden increase in consumer purchasing power which can have an inflationary effect on prices. For an administration which has been supported by labor and which has encouraged unionization, the curbs on this tendency aren't easy to apply.

Every effort will be made to do the curbing informally—by appealing to labor leaders, through Sidney Hillman, for restraint. But the feeling is growing in administration circles that this appeal can be made effective only by quashing the fear of labor that the bosses are about to reap huge profits. This is why the administration is anxious to enact a genuinely steep excess profits tax. It's the one way of assuring labor that sacrifices are to be asked of employers and employes alike.

DIVISION: The schism between the professional diplomats in the State department and the President's numerous amateur foreign policy advisors in other branches of the government widens as our international problems grow more complex. Caution and restraint are the watchwords of the official foreign affairs men. The newcomers to diplomacy are all for smiting "the enemy" hip and thigh.

The argument rages over a variety of topics — currency control over the use of foreign assets here, loans to belligerents, embargoes on the shipment of war essentials to Japan. Dies committee disclosures anent the activities of Axis diplomatic agents in the U. S. The dominant group in the State department aren't appeasers. They simply believe that the country still prefers to consider itself neutral and doesn't want to indulge in provocative acts against anyone.

Those who disagree with them argue that forthright action isn't provocative so much as it's preventative. They may secure the upper hand in the intensification of aid to Britain which is due as an aftermath of the election.

HINDRANCE: Men whose attention is centered on the Far East urge that aid to China is as logical a form of democratic defense as aid to Britain. They're pleading for larger loans to the Chinese and for substantial shipments of planes and munitions over the Burma road.

If Russian assistance to Chiang Kai-shek should be terminated as a result of Commissar Molotov's recent visit to Berlin, the Chinese would have only the U. S. left to turn to for help. Their currency needs support urgently. If it crumbles, the backbone of Chinese resistance will be broken.

The diplomats with first-hand experience in China insist, though, that with even moderate sustenance from the U. S., Chiang Kai-shek will continue to be able to hold his people together and to go on fighting. For so long as he does so the Japanese will be seriously hampered in their ambitions to expend to the south.

SANDSTILL: The State department has received a flood of letters urging Uncle Sam to step into the Sino-Japanese situation in the role of mediator. Diplomatic officials who appreciate the sincerity of the suggestions point out that a more hopeless outlook for mediation could hardly be contrived.

The Japanese now occupy large portions of Chinese territory and have no thought of getting out. They're eager to make peace—but only on terms which would give them the benefit of what they've won. Chiang Kai-shek, on the other hand, is still the head of a Chinese government which aims to rule China. There simply isn't any middle ground.

NEW YORK
By Richard Wolds

FROM time to time since election day writers have remarked that Mr. Roosevelt pledged himself not to run again. Here is what he said on the subject during the campaign:

"There is a great storm raging now; a storm that makes things harder for the world. And that storm which did not start in this land of ours is the true reason why I would like to stick by those people of ours until we reach the clear sure footing ahead. And we will make it.

"We will make it before the next term is over.

"We will make it and the world, we hope, will make it, too.

"When that term is over there will be another President and many more Presidents in the years to come; and I think that in those years to come that word President will be a word to cheer the hearts of common men and women everywhere."

There is no pledge of any kind in those phrases. Nor is there any promise not to become the first—and long-time—President of that streamlined revival of the League of Nations proposed by the backers of "union now."

Here And There In Texas

By HOWARD MARSHALL
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Nov. 26 (AP)—Everybody knew what happened long before November 20, but that was the date that the November election became official.

Everybody knew that Roosevelt swamped Willkie in the Texas voting; that Corry piled up a huge, although insufficient vote against McDonald; but it took solemn action by the state election board to make it all regular and legal. The board is composed of the governor, the secretary of state and the attorney general.

Its findings go into the books for the permanent record, but the tabulations we all read election night and thereafter were by a special organization operated by the newspapers of Texas. When newspapers want news, they want it right now. They don't like to wait for the ponderous machinery of government to groan and turn.

The official figures are seldom different from the unofficial because of the efficiency of the newspaper setup which has been functioning many years.

So accurate is the newspaper election bureau that on occasion when something has gone wrong with the official system of gathering results weeks after an election, its figures have been declared official.

The law provides for unofficial reports by the counties to the secretary of state, but the provision never has been enforced. Although county officials are supposed to telephone or telegraph unofficial results immediately after an election, most never do so.

So the newspapers pay the bill out of their own pockets, a bill which amounts to many thousands of dollars for each important election in Texas.

Won Just The Same

Rep. Eugene F. Harrell of Paris was riding in the capitol elevator. A friend called:

"Congratulations! See where you were elected judge."

Harrell grinned.

"Yes, sir, the people gave me a fine vote," he said. "This despite the fact I was a member of the Forty-Sixth Legislature."

SUPREME court clerks were pleased the other day when they quickly typed the high tribunal's proceedings. The reason for the pleasure was that many attorneys and newspaper men were clamoring for a list of cases the court acted on. But the pleasure chilled into disappointment when it was discovered a clerk had reversed the carbon papers and the entire list had to be redone.

Everybody's Driving

The Texas Motor Transportation association says that if you operated a motor vehicle of average size and weight the past year and used it no more or less than average, you consumed 724 gallons of motor fuel.

That gasoline cost you, the association says, about $96.35 and the taxes on the oil approximately $39.39 additional.

Experts say motor fuel consumption the past year reached an all-time high.

SHORT courses have been adopted into the University of Texas curriculum to train skilled workers as teachers and thus supply a national defense need for journeymen who can make experts out of apprentices more quickly.

The special courses, open to qualifying journeymen and tradesmen now employed in industry or in schools, will concentrate on intensive pedagogical studies.

They will be under the direction of the University Industrial Teacher-training bureau.

Boosts Lease Purposes

Col. E. Walters of Skedee, Okla., the veteran land auctioneer believes that now is the time to buy mineral leases.

He conducted the 10th oil and gas lease sale of the University of Texas board for lease and exhorted oil men to snap up lots of tracts. He envisions the time—not so far distant—when national defense will require open flow oil production to meet heavy demands. Col. Walters figures a man might buy 10 leases and come out ahead if he strikes production on only one.

In his more than 30 years of selling land, mostly for state and federal governments, he has auctioned leases which brought more than $180,000,000.

ATTENTION gardners: Capitol gardners claim the jump on lots of flower lovers. Their sweet peas are six inches high. Barring a killing cold spell they'll be lots of early blooms among the four rows of flowers on the capitol grounds.

Beauty Is Stressed

Budding journalists at the University of Texas no doubt have been exhorted to write briefly, to tell any story in a minimum of words.

Added to their instructors' advice now is the admonition of G. B. Dealey, veteran publisher and chairman of the board of the Dallas Morning News told journalism students at a recent banquet they gave in his honor:

"Remember, the Biblical story of the creation of the world was told in 800 words."

The dangerous character of quicksand is due to the grains being rounded, so that when wet they do not cling together like the angular particles of ordinary sand.

Letters To The Editor

(EDITORS NOTE: Letters from readers are welcomed on all items and on all subjects. However, no letter of more than 300 words will be considered for publication, and all letters, belittling or impugning the motives of any individual, firm or corporation, seek to evade the publication, the true name of the author. The Editor shall be the sole judge of whether or not letters may be published and cannot engage in correspondence concerning them.)

GREECE'S GLORY

Editor, The Avalanche: It certainly was mighty nice of you to think and write the "Elegian-like" editorial in The Morning Avalanche of November 12th. We, the Greek descendants and American citizens of the City of Lubbock, were surprised and glad to read it. Lots of us are going to keep it as an everlasting souvenir. Availing ourselves the opportunity, we thank you so much.

Apropos: Would it be all right with you to beg your indulgence to recommend and open up a campaign to request funds from Lubbock's citizens—under the auspices and supervision of the Avalanche-Journal, and send them through the Greek-American committee of New York City, or send them direct to General John Metaxas in Athens and receive a personal acknowledgment of the receipt of them by the general himself—and maybe his autograph? In doing so, you will have the satisfaction that you did your part to help a brave and noble little nation which defied the biggest and strongest dictators, slapped them in the face and hurled itself in the hell's fire to die rather for all it cherishes as sacred and dear, than subjugate itself.

The Glory That Is Greece.

Yours is the glory! Your trophies stand
On triumph eternal, on sea and land.
Resplendent grandeur through the lapse of time,
Your patriots true and your heroes sublime.
And pride unfading, the deeds of renown
In history's Bible that are written down.
Yours is the glory that bards sang shrill
In odes that arouse and hymns that thrill.

PETER LITTLE,
Lubbock.

(Dear Mr. Little: Hurrah for the courageous Greek nation and its never-say-die army — and thanks a lot for your kind letter. Before receiving your letter, we were approached by George Zapofontis who asked us if we would publicize a drive for donations to the Greek army. We were delighted to help and I am sure you already have noticed some news and comment regarding the financial campaign in the papers. Thanks again for your letter. Cordially yours, The Editor.)

THANK PAPERS

Editor, The Avalanche: We wish to express our appreciation for the aid of your paper in getting information to parents of students in the Lubbock Public Schools about American Education week.

During the week 2,778 parents visited in the Lubbock schools, and we feel that your aid did much to encourage these parents to visit their schools.

Sincerely yours,
Mrs. Ross Ayers,
Chairman American Education Week.

DOGS CAN BE Woman's BEST FRIEND TOO—Let them tell you about coffee!!

LET A St. BERNARD REMIND YOU THAT WHILE 3 OUT OF 4 COFFEES COME FROM THE LOWLANDS, FOLGER'S IS MOUNTAIN-GROWN!

LET A BULLDOG REMIND YOU THAT YOU'LL STICK TO MOUNTAIN-GROWN FOLGER'S ONCE YOU'VE ENJOYED ITS VIGOROUS FLAVOR.

LET A SCOTTY REMIND YOU THAT FOLGER'S IS THRIFTY, SO RICH THAT COFFEE LOVERS SAY THEY CAN USE ONE TEASPOONLESS.

LET THESE TWINS REMIND YOU THAT THERE ARE TWO KINDS OF FOLGER'S: REGULAR STEEL CUT AND THE SPECIAL DRIP GRIND FOR DRIPMAKERS, SILEX, AND ALL GLASS COFFEE MAKERS—BOTH THE SAME VIGOROUS, SATISFYING FLAVOR—THE ONLY DIFFERENCE IS IN THE GRIND.

Vigorous Flavor

BECAUSE IT'S MOUNTAIN GROWN!

Unlike probably three out of four coffees, which are lowland-grown, Folger's flavor comes from the tropical mountains of Central America, where brilliant sun, dense rainfall, and rich volcanic soil produce a miracle in coffee. This vigorous flavor is yours whether you use the Regular Grind in a percolator or the Drip Grind in a dripmaker. So, however you make coffee, be sure you get Folger's and enjoy the flavor advantage of this mountain-grown coffee.

RALLY PASSES UP LEADERS

NEW YORK, Nov. 26 (AP)—Selective rallying power was presented in today's stock market but it passed up most leaders.

A number of specialties managed to end with modest advances but declines of fractions to 2 points were well distributed.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was unchanged to 44.5. Volume picked up to 593,170 shares from 521,200 the day before which was the smallest turnover for a 5-hour stretch since Oct. 28.

Air transportation company stocks such as American Airlines, Eastern Air Lines and United Air Lines dropped 1 to 2½ points in the final hour when it was learned the War department had appealed to the priorities board to suspend construction of passenger carrying planes because of interference with war craft building.

Business news remained favorable although uninspiring for many shares. Republic Steel directors, for instance, declared a dividend of 40 cents a share on the common, first payment on the junior stock since 1939, but the issue closed unchanged at 22⅝. Norfolk and Western, bluest of "blue chips" on the "big board," voted a $5 extra on the common which put the year's disbursement on this stock at $15, the same as paid in 1939. The shares were up 2⅝ points at 25 on a single sale.

Stocks finishing in front included U. S. Rubber Common and Preferred, Youngstown Sheet, American Can, Westinghouse, Kennecott, Standard Oil of N. J., Great Northern, Allied Chemical, Johns-Manville, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, and American-Hawaiian Steamship.

International Paper preferred dipped when directors neglected to act on a much-talked of dividend. Other losers were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Douglas Aircraft, Consolidated Edison, American Smelting and Western Union.

Low-yield corporate loans and U. S. government securities moved into new high ground for recent years while other bonds were uneven.

Among curb gainers of fractions to a point or so were Gulf Oil, Bath Iron Works, American Cyanamid "B," Glen Alden Coal, N. J. Zinc and Pittsburgh Plate Glass. Losers included Phoenix Securities, Bell Aircraft and Benson and Hedges. Transfers here were around 170,000 shares against 126,000 Monday.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Nov. 26 (AP)—Nearby cotton futures gained today but distant contracts lagged and the market closed 3 points higher to 9 lower.

The deferred months weakened as hedges were transferred forward from near positions and under selling apparently stimulated by uncertainties over federal loan policy for the next season.

Mills, fixing prices, bought near months under the stimulus of issuance of only 10 transferrable notices against December, which were promptly stopped by two leading spot interests. Trade shorts also covered in December.

Hedge selling remained light as the crop movement was expected to be further retarded by unfavorable weather conditions. Cotton continued to enter the government loan at a brisk rate, however.

Worth street reported routine business in print cloths and other staples at prices firm and unchanged from recently set advances. Heavy goods attracted active interest.

Exports Monday 1,080 bales; season so far 453,307. Port receipts 13,438. Port stocks 3,196,628.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Nov. 26 (AP)—In a final, frantic spurt, the December wheat futures contract managed to push upward today to close ¼ to ⅜ cents higher than Monday's final prices, while the deferred deliveries finished ½ up to ½ lower. Corn and soybeans were independently strong.

Wheat displayed a nervous undertone, fluctuations over a range of more than a cent. Liquidating sales exerted a weight on prices during most of the session and moisture over most of the winter wheat sections also was a depressing influence.

Final prices for wheat were ⅜ higher to ½ lower than yesterday's close, December 88½@88⅝, May 87@86⅞; corn was ½ to ⅞ cent up, December 62⅝, May 62⅝@62½; oats unchanged to ⅛ higher; rye ½ up; Soybeans ⅜ to 1½ up and lard 2 to 7 cents off.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, Nov. 26 (AP)—Moderate demand for grain continued on the Fort Worth market today.

Oklahoma Refuses To Change Oil Allowable

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 26. (AP)—Oklahoma again ignored a high market demand estimate today to leave it soil allowable for next 60 days at 390,000 barrels daily.

But Corporation Commissioner Ray O. Weems before approving the order along with the other two commissioners asked if Oklahoma was failing to produce enough oil and thereby losing its market to other states.

W. J. Armstrong, chief conservation officer, replied that production limits were in line with sound principles of conservation.

He declared that Kansas was exceeding its market demand but doing only "what we would do if we could get a bigger share of the market."

In oil circles it is no secret that because of a lack of new fields, state wells are producing close to the maximum under the current order.

The Bureau of Mines fixed Oklahoma market demand for December at 422,600 barrels daily, an increase of 9,600 barrels above the November estimate.

Today's order applies to production through December and January.

Mann Says Federal Trucks Liable Under Load Limit Law

AUSTIN, Nov. 26. (AP)—Attorney General Gerald C. Mann is of the opinion state police can arrest drivers of federal government trucks if the trucks are overweight and violating Texas laws.

He so informed Police Director Homer Garrison, jr., yesterday after Garrison submitted regulations of the U. S. department of agriculture to the effect the department "may perform the functions delegated to it by Congress in the state of Texas without conforming strictly to the highway laws and regulations of the state."

"There would seem no logical reason why the Soil Conservation service cannot operate trucks which comply with state regulations," Mann stated. "The use to which they are put does not appear to be such as to demand a radically different type of vehicle from those authorized to operate under state law. Nor does it appear necessary in carrying out the powers and functions of the soil conservation service that loads in excess of 7,000 pounds must be hauled."

Asked whether his patrolmen would be instructed to arrest drivers of overweight trucks, Garrison said: "Well, we always have."

Stage Fright Needed For Good Speeches

AUSTIN, Nov. 26. (UP) — A good speech cannot be made without stage fright. Jesse Villareal, University of Texas speech instructor, is authority for it.

"If you do not experience that 'mouse in the stomach' feeling when you face an audience you never will make a convincing speaker," Villareal told his students today. "Without some momentary degree of stage fright what you have to say will lose the electric impact necessary to hold an audience."

The trick, he observed, is first to control the feeling then to pack it behind the delivery of the speech.

Germany Said Leaving Italy To Fight Her Own Battles

Nazis Work On Neutral Turkey

(By The Associated Press)

ROME, Nov. 26. — Well-informed sources in Rome said today Nazi Germany was leaving the fight against Greece entirely up to Mussolini's Italian legions, with no intention of intervening there to help her southern Axis partner.

The same sources also scouted rumors here that the Nazis were preparing to take military action against Turkey.

The Reich is only attempting through diplomatic activity to keep Turkey from entering the war on the side of her neighbor, Greece, an informant said.

No Military Move

As evidence, he said, there is no German military movement in the Balkans and only a few Nazi troops are in Rumania and none in Bulgaria. (Neutral Balkan sources have estimated there are 1,250,000 German soldiers in Rumania.)

Although Bulgaria has been expected to join the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo alliance, this source said its adherence to the pact was out of question because Turkey might consider such action grounds for entering the war on the side of Britain.

Spain likewise is staying out of the alliance, this source said, for fear of compromising her position.

Meantime the Italian high command reported successes today against Greek landing forces on the Epirus coast and British motorized units in East Africa.

Greek troops "which disembarked on the Epirus coast were in part destroyed and in part captured with their arms," the high command's communique said.

In East Africa, the communique said, an attack by British mechanized units "in the Sabderat zone and the Ghirghir valley near Serobatib was quickly repulsed by our troops. Some enemy motor vehicles remained in our hands."

The high command said Italian forces "carried out numerous attacks on the entire (Greek) zone of operations in close cooperation with land forces."

Forts Are Bombed

Fascist fliers "repeatedly" bombed the forts of the island of Corfu, the Italian command said, causing "violent fires and explosions."

Two British planes were reported shot down by Italian chasers, when they attacked Durazzo, Albanian port.

The Italians said several buildings—only one of military importance—were damaged in raids by British or Greek planes on the islands of Leros and Stampalia in the Dodecanese and five raiders were shot down in flames.

Meanwhile the newspaper Il Giornale d'Italia said two of three Italian warships damaged by British in Taranto naval base Nov. 11 would be repaired in three or four weeks.

Over 350 of these low wing monoplanes wing aloft each day at the "West Point of the Air," from early morning until twilight, as the 650 members of the Flying Cadet Corps soar toward their "Wings." Their reward will be a Commission in the Air Corps and the tag line . . . "The Most Perfectly Trained Pilots in the World."

Bailey Hereford Auction Today

An auction sale that is expected to attract a thousand or more persons, many of them interested in registered Hereford breeding, is to be held this afternoon, starting at 12:30 o'clock in the Snyder livestock pavilion north of town, W. D. Bailey, local cotton man and breeder, said Tuesday afternoon.

The cattle, from Bailey's New Mexico ranch, are at the barns. All are of the Anxiety 4th Hereford line and the linebred and straightbred, Bailey said. There will be two herd sires, four yearling bulls, nine bull calves, 27 cows, 25 heifer yearlings and eight heifer calves.

Garten To Cry Sale

Col. Earl Garten of Greensburg, Ind., will cry the sale. Ringmen will include: O. R. Peterson, the cattleman, Fort Worth; Mason King, Amarillo; J. Frank Reeves, Fort Worth; W. M. Goundy, Panhandle Hereford association and John B. Stribling.

Bailey said he expected buyers from New Mexico and Oklahoma as well as from Texas, to attend, and also from Kansas, Nebraska, Missouri, Colorado and other Southwestern states. The catalog advertising the sale has been widely circulated by the owner.

Only 26 Draftees Of First 161 Reporting Here Are Rejected

One hundred and thirty-five out of 161 draftees who reported last week to the Northwest Texas induction board, were inducted into U.S. army service and sent to training centers after passing physical examinations, Major Walter Jessee, district recruiting officer, said Tuesday, after checking up his records and reports.

Twenty-six men were rejected, including 16 because of physical defects.

Lubbock county draft boards sent four men to replace others and two came from Terry county.

The same set-up of medical examiners, with a board headed by Lieut. H. B. Johnson, army medical officer, is to be used for the next induction program, Major Jessee said. No date has been set for this, but it is expected to be some time after the first of the year.

All army recruiting officers called here from sub-stations to assist in the induction work, had returned to their home stations Tuesday, the last man leaving Tuesday afternoon.
