JUNCTION, KIMBLE COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, MARCH 3, 1922.

Number 45.

ALL TEXAS IN GRIP OF SEVERE BLIZZARD

Prospects for a rain in this section vanished Monday night when the light mist that had been falling during the day began turning to sleet and the wind changed to the north. All day Tuesday was very cold, except a few hours near noon, and by Wednesday morning the thermometer registered 10 degrees above zero, according to E. Hokekamp, who has a standard thermometer. This is the coldest weather this county has seen in several years. A light sleet fell most of Tuesday and some snow during the night and a light snow during most of Wednesday.

Reports from Mason say that the snow and sleet were heavier that way than here. With grass scarce and many cattle, goats and sheep having to be fed, this cold wave will no doubt cause a great loss of many kinds of live stock. A number of ranchmen Wednesday morning reported considerable losses.

A number of places report temperatures below zero. Ft. Worth reported four below Tuesday morning. Abilene and San Angelo report rain and sleet and a drop of more than 20 degrees during Tuesday. A heavy snowfall is reported in north Texas, interfering with traffic in many places. At Woodward, Okla., eighteen inches of snow had fallen up to Tuesday morning. In the Midland country, snow was falling Tuesday, and the coldest weather of the winter was reported, and much loss of live stock was expected.

The temperature was back to only a few degrees below freezing Thursday morning, ice began melting when the sun shown clear.

FORDNEY CONSULTS HARDING ON BONUS

Washington, Feb. 27.—Representative Mondell of Wyoming, Republican House Leader and Chairman Fordney of the House Ways and Means committee are understood to have discussed the soldiers' bonus situation with President Harding today at the White House. They were said to have informed the President of the rejection by the special committee of the sales tax proposal suggested by Mr. Harding in his letter last week to Representative Fordney.

Before seeing the President Mr. Fordney with Hanford MacNider, National Commander, and John Thomas Taylor, Legislative agent of the American Legion, Mr. MacNider and Mr. Taylor called at the White House to see the President but were informed that Mr. Harding's engagement list for the forenoon was filled. They said they would return later in the day.

Mr. MacNider said the Legion was opposed to any further delay and indicated that it was his desire to present his views to the executive. He reiterated that the Legion would not be drawn into any discussion of ways and means for raising the necessary bonus indicating that it was interested only in the speedy passage of the legislation.

On leaving the White House both Mr. Mondell and Mr. Fordney said the House would pass a bonus bill at this session. Mr. Mondell stated he could not say whether the measure without means of raising the revenue could be put through the Senate.

BROTHER FACES CHARGE KILLING HIS SISTER

San Antonio, Feb. 26.—County officials are awaiting the return by officers of Walter Ercanbrack, 19, charged under indictment with the murder of his sister, Viola Ercanbrack, who died as the result of a shot in the back while at their home, 418 Seventh Street, here a year ago. The defendant was apprehended by the sheriff at Anson, Texas.

The victim of the shooting was planning to go to a moving picture show with her brother the night of the tragedy, and was standing before a mirror combing her hair when she was shot, according to information officers received. Later information was received that the shooting was accidental, as first reported, but that a quarrel had arisen over a sum of money left by the mother for the children to use in going to the show.

The brother was released on bond while the sister was in the hospital, and officers were unable to find him after her death.

The girl's step-father, C. D. McLain, is now on trial in the Forty-Fifth District Court under an indictment charging criminal assault against her. Her mother, charged with being an accessory to the alleged criminal assault, was acquitted recently.

The State's witnesses against Walter Ercanbrack are said to be physicians, who attended the victim during her stay at the hospital; Grace Zintgraff, 14, a playmate, and Mrs. Stella Halanuda, who resides in a house adjoining the McLain home.

The sheriff's office learned of the whereabouts of the defendant through a letter written to a friend of his signed "County Boy," and saying that he was traveling with a show.

EAGLE TO PRINT POLL TAX LIST OF COUNTY

Within the next few days, the Eagle will print a complete list of all poll tax payers in the county and have these lists for sale at a very reasonable price, so that all persons interested may secure one at small expense. The names will all be on one page, and can be conveniently folded and carried in your pocket. Every one interested in politics or in need of an up-to-date mailing list, will want one of these poll tax lists. See us about one.

ing the adjusted compensation the Republican House leader referred again to expected savings in the next fiscal year. He indicated that the question of the refunded foreign debt as a means of financing the bonus had been brought up at the White House conference, but declined to say what views the President had expressed.

Ninth Grade.
Nellie Bennett.

Eleventh Grade.
Aleen Hodges, Mary Francis Hodges.

The Biology Literary Society held their regular meeting last Friday and a very interesting program was rendered. The debate was, "Resolved, That the Sale of Tobacco should be Prohibited in the United States." The affirmative, Gussie Boone and Ruby Duderstadt, defeated the negative, Annie Maddox and Achsah Baker. A very interesting reading was given by Velma Rape, and Alma Fairchild read some jokes, which proved very humorous. It was decided by the Society that they should take a day off for the purpose of studying nature. It was announced that instead of a picnic, we were going on a big hunt.

The bell in high school took legs and walked off. I suppose that is the case, for it disappeared Tuesday evening. The weather being so cold it (I mean the bell) might have gone in search of a warmer climate.

At the basketball game on Wednesday, Feb. 22nd, there was a large crowd out to see our boys get defeated, but there was a great school spirit shown toward our boys. Mr. Barnett said it was not in the right manner.

Last Friday evening the high school boys organized the baseball club. They elected Willie Bissett captain, Killis Willie manager, and Mr. Greer secretary. The boys voted that each would give 50 cents for the purpose of buying the necessary equipments. The money donated by the boys is capable of buying about four bats, and as the school is already about forty-five dollars in the hole, the baseball boys would appreciate any donations that the citizens would give them toward buying the other equipment necessary for the boys to play ball.

TEXAS SHIPPED FIFTY MILLION IN PRODUCE

Dallas, Feb. 21.—More than $50,000,000 worth of butter, eggs and produce were shipped from Texas to the East and to Mexico during the past year, according to the reports made at the annual meeting of the Texas Butter, Egg and Produce Association here today.

The association closed its convention this afternoon. F. A. Dadane, former vice president, was elected president. Dave Stahl of Gonzales was named vice president and J. O. Boettcher of Weimer was elected secretary-treasurer.

The next meeting of the association will be held in Waco. The association went on record as favoring closer cooperation with the Farm Bureau of Texas.

MRS. EDGAR JORDON IN S. A. SANITARIUM

Dr. Stone and Edgar Jordan took Mrs. Jordan to San Antonio last Saturday, where she was placed in the Kinney Sanitarium and underwent an operation for appendicitis at two o'clock Sunday. Dr. Stone returned Sunday afternoon. Mr. Jrdn will remain there until Mrs. Jrdn is out of danger. A phone message Tuesday night stated that she was doing very well. Mrs. Jordan had been ill for some two or three weeks, but was not aware of any serious condition until Saturday morning, when it was found that she has a very serious case of appendicitis, and was rushed to San Antonio for surgical attention.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

On Saturday following February twenty-first, Mrs. O. C. Reid entertained in honor of Frankie's tenth birthday.

As soon as the guests arrived, novel and interesting games and contests were enjoyed. Jamie Gardner pinned a "twenty-one" over the corresponding date on the calendar and was awarded a miniature box of raisins. Elenie Newby proved her skill by making the most words out of "February twenty-first" and received a kewpie.

Delicious refreshments were served in the dining room where the colors, pink and white, prevailed. In the center of the table was a snowy white cake, with a pink star holding ten candles. Around this were stacked long sticks of candy, which were tied to the place cards, each representing a pretty flower. At each place was a plate of sandwiches and potato chips, and a glass of pink lemonade. A second course of gelatin and whipped cream was served with the birthday cake. From this cake Ruby Johnston drew a dime, Elenie Newby a dime; Doris Jones a wishbone and Vivian Livingston a ring.

The following guests were present: Ruby Johnston, Elenie Newby, Doris Jones, Jamie Gardner, Inez Ragland, Vivian James, Vivene Livingston, Hilda Marsh, Miss Nan Swayze, Mrs. Homer Livingston, and Mesdames J. H. Reid, and Weaver Baker assisted in entertaining.

CONTESTS BREAK SCHOOL MONOTONY

Last Friday morning, the seventh grade had a contest in arithmetic. The choosers were Vivian Bird and Mae Edwards. Vivian chose Reuben, Edwin, Gladys, Vora and Ruth; Mae chose Richard, Vera, Charles, Mary Louise and Jesse.

Miss Mary gave each several tables to recite. Finally every one was down except Gladys and Reuben on Vivian's side, and Richard, Charles and Mae on Mae's side. Miss Mary sent them to the board and gave them a few problems referring to the tables. In a few minutes all were down except Richard and Reuben Loeffler. All were anxious to know who could work the problem. The boys had to think "good and hard" before attempting to work it. Richard was thinking when Reuben "hit the nail on the head" and worked it. Every one did fine, and little contests help to break the monotony these school days of ours. —Fort Davis Post.

WARRANTS FOR PENSIONERS MAILED

Austin, Feb. 25.—Mailing of 15,286 pension warrants to that number of Confederate veterans, who are pensioners, for the quarter ending Feb. 28, 1922, was completed Saturday by the pension division of the Comptroller's department. It was announced by Comptroller Lon A. Smith. By expediting the mailing of these pension warrants, the old soldiers will receive them in ample time, and even before they are due.

Of the 15,286 pensioners, 14,900 are on the regular pension rolls, while 386 are in the Confederate Home. Those on the regular rolls receive $24 quarterly, while those in the Confederate Home receive half that amount each quarter. During the quarter just ending, 233 new pensioners were added to the rolls, while 271 were dropped on account of death, thus the number increased twelve during the quarter. The total amount paid during the quarter was $370,362 and of which $8,130 was paid in so-called mortuary warrants. The veterans at the Confederate Home received a total of $4,632, which is included in the total appropriation. Under the law the maximum amount that may be paid a pensioner is $25 quarterly.

Methodist District Conference To Meet In Brady Some Time Next April

Brady will be hostess to the Methodist District Conference which will convene here sometime in April. J. T. King, presiding elder, has not yet decided upon the exact date. The San Angelo district takes in an extensive territory, and while it is not likely that all the counties will send delegates, yet not less than 60 are expected to be in attendance upon the conference.—Brady Standard.

PROSPERITY SOON FOR CATTLE MEN

Kansas City Live Stock Sellers See Money to Be Made in Feeding Cattle and Hogs.

Kansas City, Feb. 23.—The cattle situation in the United States, which was going down hill over a very rough road of liquidation in 1921, has hit a smoother course and is taking the up-grade so satisfactorily that cattlemen have faced about in their opinions.

They now believe 1922 will return a fair degree of prosperity to the feeder and producer.

The cattleman's credit is being re-established and that, in the character of his business, is his greatest asset. At the same time, the experiences of last year will make him guard this improvement.

The factors that enter into the improved situation are:

The mental attitude of cattlemen.

An easier loan situation. A moderate advance in fat hogs and lambs.

An increased demand for fat cattle from the extreme East, extreme West and Northwest.

Last year falling prices made cattlemen panicky. They tried to resist settlements of loans on a falling market. Some were wiped out financially, some succumbed mentally and physically under the strain.

The first credit move to relieve this situation was the Stock Growers' Finance Corporation, a Morgan pool of some 50 million dollars. Its organization was completed July 15, and first loan was made July 20. Towards the latter part of October the War Finance Corporation began to function.

The easier loan situation changed the mental attitude of stockmen, enabled them to renew loans, get new loans and check the fall in prices.

Of the 20 million dollars lent to live stock interests by the Stock Growers' Corporation more than 7 millions has been paid off in the tenth federal bank district 20 millions has been lent by the War Finance Corporation on live stock.

"I not only believe, but know that the cattle situation is materially better than a year ago and will show further improvement in the next few months," said M. L. McClure, a director of the Federal Reserve Bank, and the head of the Stock Growers' Corporation, last night.

"The cattle market is improving and will continue to do so. I am a bull on fat cattle," is the way Charles Schreiber, cattle salesman for John Clay & Co., expressed himself.

W. S. "Pony" Wyrick of the Cassidy Southwestern Company, said:

"Though there have been a few interruptions to a steady advance in cattle, I believe further gains will be recorded. The whole situation is certainly materially better than a year ago."

"Thursday we sold 1,087-pound steers for Tom Allen of Orrick, Mo., for $690, that cost him $4.90 a hundred pounds when they were taken out one hundred days ago," said Charles Crider of Crider Bros. Commission Company at the stockyards today. "That is a fairly representative illustration of what the feeder is doing and, furthermore, I believe an actual shortage of fat cattle is going to develop between now and early July or the period when the earliest native grass cattle are available."

Western and southwestern ranchmen are scouting for purebred bulls for herd use. The winter has been mild, cattle have come through in a vigorous condition and the percent calf crop will be large.

"It's absurd," says Mr. McClure, "to say that the live stock business is 'busted.' With the feeder getting big profits from hogs, and many millions of dollars going to the farmers weekly from that source, there is a sure comeback for cattle. Hogs and cattle are too closely related in feeding operations to be separated."

Since the first of the year, the asking prices of aged steers suitable for the one season grazing have been advanced $10 to $15 a head. There is a big demand for young steers and breeding cattle from sections of the Northwest where the drought of 1920 depleted herds. Fat lambs sold here today at $15.40 and wool prices are steady at 30 cents here in the yards.

In the last two weeks more live cattle have gone east of the Allegheny Mountains for slaughter than in any previous time in the last five years. California buyers are taking fat cattle on the Kansas City market and shipping them to the Pacific Coast for slaughter. The grass fat cattle of Pacific Coast states will not be available before May.

To The Voters of The 86th Representative District

I hereby announce my candidacy for a second term as a member of the Texas Legislature, subject to the action of the Democratic primary.

Having been born and reared in this district and having represented it one term of the Legislature I consider myself thoroughly informed as to its needs and interests. My official record is an open book to which the most rigid inspection is invited and I proudly leave it to speak for itself.

I am not owned or controlled by and faction or clique and if re-elected will continue to cast my every vote and use my every effort in the true interest of our State and district as my conscience and best judgment dictates.

My sincere appreciation is hereby expressed to my many friends who have so generously bestowed their confidence and support upon me in the past and I trust that the same confidence and support will be accorded me in the coming campaign. In your hands I place my future political life without hesitation and await your verdict without misgivings.

Very sincerely yours,
B. J. STEWART.

Would Trade Farm For Sheep or Cattle

Can use Live Stock and have a first class farm consisting of 261 acres, located four miles north of the town of Fredericksburg, Gillespie County Texas, that I would trade for sheep or cattle. 160 acres of this farm are in a high state of cultivation, balance pasture and all tillable with the exception of about 15 acres. Two sets of good improvements, one large two-story rock house and one two-story frame house. Wells, barns and lots at each place. Palo Alto Creek runs down through the center of the farm from which quite a lot of acreage can be irrigated by pump. Soil varies from black waxy to light sand and red clay soil. There is a lot of virgin pecan timber as well as lots of Mustang Grape vines on the farm. Large orchard and vineyard. One of the best all around farms in one of the wealthiest and best agricultural counties in Texas. It is located ideally and would make a home that anyone might well be proud of. Price, $75.00 per acre. One-third to one-half cash or in trade, balance 6 per cent.

SOUR STOMACH INDIGESTION

Thedford's Black-Draught Highly Recommended by a Tennessee Grocer for Troubles Resulting from Torpid Liver.

East Nashville, Tenn.—The efficiency of Thedford's Black-Draught, the genuine, herb, liver medicine, is vouched for by Mr. W. N. Parsons, a grocer of this city. "It is without doubt the best liver medicine, and I don't believe I could get along without it. I take it for sour stomach, headache, bad liver, indigestion, and all other troubles that are the result of a torpid liver.

"I have known and used it for years, and can and do highly recommend it to every one. I won't go to bed without it in the house. It will do all it claims to do. I can't say enough for it."

Many other men and women throughout the country have found Black-Draught just as Mr. Parsons describes it—valuable in regulating the liver to its normal functions, and in cleansing the bowels of impurities.

Thedford's Black-Draught liver medicine is the original and only genuine. Accept no imitations or substitutes. Always ask for Thedford's. E. G.

THE BIGGEST INDUS-

TRY IN THE SOUTH

Cotton is the biggest and most important product of the South—the staple crop, the thing that brings more money into the cotton producing states than any other. The average crop in Texas is estimated at about two and one-half million bales, worth approximately four hundred and five million dollars. The crop of Texas and Louisiana together is worth about four hundred and fifty million dollars.

The handling and financing involves a great deal of specialized work, classifying and stapling every bale. Samples from each bale must be graded several times during the journey of the cotton from the farmer's field to the factory. This work requires trained men. The demand for such men is always urgent. The ability to grade cotton is essential for the local buyer, employees of bonded warehouses and compresses, representatives of northern factories, cotton brokers, and in many other branches of the industry. The farmer himself ought, in protection of his own interests, to be able to grade cotton. He is completely at the mercy of the buyer.

It is self-evident that a man, in order to get full value for what he has to sell, ought to know what he is selling.

We can make you a competent cotton classifier in a few weeks' time qualifying you for a position as buyer, or wherever the services of a capable cotton man are needed. Our course includes classifying, stapling, averaging, buying, selling, shipping, exporting, keeping of Mangle's Gin Record, Merchant's Cotton Record, warehouse record, cotton office stock books, and other blanks necessary to the business. It opens the way for you to earn a good salary in a good position, and makes you familiar with the most important industry of the South. If you are in business for yourself or as a cotton raiser, you can't afford not to take advantage of our special course in Cotton Classifying and Handling for Farmers and Cotton Men. Enter any time and advance as fast as your ability will permit.

We also have thorough practical courses in Bookkeeping, Shorthand, Business Finance, Telegraphy, Wireless Telegraphy and Telephony, any one of which will enable you to take a position in the business world at a good salary. We secure positions for all graduates.

Next week, we will print some facts and comments furnished by J. S. Cullnan, president of the Texas Chamber of Commerce, regarding closer relations with Mexico and advantages to be gained. Mr. Cullnan has recently made a study of conditions in Mexico.

The Bandera New Era issued a 20-page paper last week, replete with photographs and descriptive matter of Bandera County and the little city of Bandera. This edition will be a great advertisement for the County, and is a credit to the advertising business man and the Editor of the New Era, both of whom are equally responsible for it.

With lambs selling in northern markets at $15.50, buyers offering around 30 cents for mohair and the prospect of a good demand for wool, it looks very much like this country will soon come back. People have learned a lesson from the prosperous period of the past, and have realized that such years of wonderful prosperity are not as much desired as a period of conservative prices and demands for the products that this country produces.

The present scarcity and high prices of feed, and the trouble most ranchmen are having in securing financial aid to secure feed for all kinds of live stock ought to prove a strong argument for more farming in Kimble County. There ought to be enough cotton raised here to supply all the cotton seed needed, and all kinds of hay and grain that can be successfully raised here should be grown to take care of emergencies like the present. Not only is it a bad practice to borrow money to feed live stock, but it is still worse to send the money out of the County for products that could easily be grown right at home. Every three or four years on an average this kind of condition exists, and thousands of dollars have to be sent away, entailing a great burden that the good years have to make up for. There is a demand every year in adjoining counties to the west and southwest for hay and grain, and a profitable business could be built up here to supply them. Farmers should build large sheds for keeping the feed from one year to another, so they would not have to sell at harvesting time unless the price and demand justified. Hay or grain in good barns or sheds, with insurance is good collateral and money can be borrowed on it if necessary to carry it over till the next year. More than $2,000 a day is going out of this County right now for feed. Its time right now for change. And a change will make money for both stockmen and farmers.

The Supreme Court recently sustained an order from the Interstate Commerce Commission, in setting railroad rates, without any interference on the part of State Railroad Commissions. This is another example of the centralizing process that is going on in our government that must be stopped.

"I have always maintained," says Commissioner Mayfield, "that Congress alone could give the people relief, and that is now apparent. The Cummins-Esch transportation act must be repealed by Congress before the State commissions can ever again make a purely intrastate rate based upon State conditions, and there is no use for us to try to fool ourselves. The people of Texas must send to the United States Senate someone who will make a fight for the absolute repeal of the Cummins-Esch transportation act. I have been trying to impress this fact upon our people for the last eighteen months."

INCOME TAX FACTS.

No. 5.

Former soldiers and sailors, in filling an income tax return for 1921, should not include as gross income any amount received under the provisions of the war risk insurance and vocational rehabilitation acts and as pensions from the United States for military or naval service during the war.

The special exemption of $3,500 formerly allowed soldiers and sailors in active service is not continued by the revenue act of 1921. "Persons in active military or naval service of the United States" are allowed only the exemptions granted other individuals. $1,000 is single (or if married and not living with husband or wife); $2,500 if married and the combined net income of husband and wife was $5,000 or less; and $2,000 if married and the combined net income of husband and wife was more than $5,000.

An unmarried soldier, sailor, marine, or ex-service man must file a return if his net income from all sources for 1921 was $1,000 or more or if his gross income was $5,000 or more. If married and living with his wife on December 31, 1921, he must file a return if the net income of himself and wife and dependent minor children was $2,000 or more, or if the combined gross income was $5,000 or more.

Show Two Nights This Week.

There will be a picture show on Friday and Saturday nights at the Hankins-Riley Opera House. Big five-reel feature, "The Butterfly Girl," and one reel of "Aesop's Fables," "Mice at War." Don't fail to see this. Children are very enthusiastic over the Aesop fable stories.

LAMBS ARE $15.50 AT KANSAS CITY

Advance in Price of Fat Lambs Sets Record for Nearly Two Years.

Kansas City, Feb. 21.—Fat western lambs sold here today for $15.50, which is a gain of a dollar a hundred in the last ten days and a record for this market for practically two months. Cattle and hogs showed small advances in most every class.

Not since the spring of 1920 have Western lambs sold in Kansas City for $15.50 cents a hundred. On the basis of this price lambs are worth $5 to $6 a head on the range here today. In October lambs went begging in this section at $2.50 a head. By the first of the year the price hardly had reached $3.00.

Wool prices are believed to have aided the sheep market. It is said that 30 cents a pound is being paid for the lamb's wool in the stockyards in Kansas City today. With these prospects in view the West Texas ranchmen are now planning to get their lambs to market as fast as they send them through the shearing pens this spring.

WE MUST HAVE OUR LUXURIES!

Those of us who were in business remember that along in the early summer of 1920, people began to feel that the party was over, took off their silk shirts, threw away their toys and went down and opened up a savings account. At least, that is the way these economic wizards recount it, and they invariably add: "That was when the period of depression began."

From July 1, 1920, to July 1, 1921, was supposed to have been the period in which we were all just a few jumps ahead of the sheriff, and when people just weren't buying. Some said they had no money, and others said they were waiting for still lower prices.

Regardless of how "hard up" we were during that year, we just had to have our luxuries, as Government reports show, and since these reports are based on Exercise tax payments they must be accurate.

The following volumes are for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1921:

So-Called Luxuries	Sales 1920	Sales 1921
Candy	$62,729,569	$69,729,569
Chewing Gum	37,494,199	31,995,900
Perfumes and Cosmetics	360,632,925	145,919,109
Automobiles	2,008,665,990	1,673,731,500
Jewelry	217,272,100	186,875,100
Musical Instruments	277,542,120	231,084,270
Painting and Statuary	15,411,330	11,161,370

When we compare these tables there isn't an awful lot of difference, and for a Nation that was "Hard Up" and all but ready to take the count, I think the showing was pretty good.

The big lesson that we can draw from this is: The people are not broke, and those of us who go after business in the right way are going to get it.—Southwestern Machinery.

VALIDITY OF TRUCK LEGISLATION ATTACKED

Austin, Tex., Feb. 27.—Validity of the motor vehicle act of the 37th Legislature is attacked in two applications for writs of habeas corpus filed today in the Court of Criminal Appeals by Ed Wofford and J. H. Faison of Dallas. Allegations are made that the law is indefinite and uncertain and that more than one subject is contained in the caption of the act.

Faison is charged with having driven a truck on the Dallas-Fort Worth pike in excess of the maximum weight allowed by law and Wofford is charged with having driven a truck over the same pike in excess of the speed limit of 12 miles an hour. Each applicant was allowed bond in the sum of $500 and the applications set down for hearing on March 15.

SHEEP NOTES.

Is it a fact that right now there is a strong demand for feeder lambs of the Rambouillet type, and no inquiry for the smaller kind? If so, remember that O. W. Cardwell is raising registered Rambouillet rams of the best type.

RESOLUTIONS TEXAS CHAMBER COMMERCE

Whereas, since the closing of the Diaz administration the United States government has declined to recognize the Republic of Mexico; and,

Whereas, the commerce, business and social relations of the State of Texas, bordering on Mexico for a distance of more than one thousand miles is being seriously hampered under existing conditions; and,

Whereas, the administration of President Alvaro Obregon, has demonstrated its capacity to govern Mexico and protect the life, liberty and property of its subjects and of other nationals;

Therefore, be it resolved, that we respectfully recommend that our State Department at Washington, immediately recognize the existing government of Mexico under such conditions and stipulations as will insure protection to life and the safeguarding of property of our citizens under the constitution and the laws existing at the time such property was or is acquired.

Be it further resolved, That passport regulations, headtax and like impediments to the freest practicable trade and travel be modified or repealed.

Be it further resolved, That as applied to the Republic of Mexico, we urge that a basis of bargaining tariff be adopted that will permit of executive changes or adjustments to meet changing conditions as they arise.

Be it further resolved, That we heartily endorse the project of constructing the International Automobile Highway between Mexican City and Austin, Texas.

QUARTER HORSES.

Stockmen, Notice!

At this season of the year your live stock need a certain amount of medicated stock food, in addition to the feed that you will have to give them.

A recognized standard Stock Powder, such as we sell, will make money for you, because it will make your stock do better, and will materially cut down your feed bill.

It is real economy to use a good Stock Powder. Let us tell you about the kind we sell.

When President Harding Was A Poor "Country" Editor

BY GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service
Staff Correspondent.

Washington, D. C.—Sometimes in the stress and turmoil of international conferences, treaties, agricultural blocs, tax legislation and other ills that a President of the United States is heir to, Warren G. Harding wishes he could slip back for a little while to the "Good Old Days."

The "Good Old Days" were those when the great American dollar was a power in the land, and a thing to be looked up to and not down upon.

The "Good Old Days" were those in which a dollar would buy a dollar watch or twenty fairly good cigars, to say nothing of what it would accomplish in the way of entertainment.

Recently, during a fanning bee with "other newspaper men" the president, puffing a sweetly odorous pipe, waxed reminiscent and spun a tale which should go down in all the economic primers of the land. While a great deal of the charm is lost in the retelling, the story intrinsically is worth much as evidence of what the dollar once would accomplish. Substantially the President told the story as follows:

"This was back in the days when the Marion Star first became affluent enough to afford a reporter. Before that day, I had been the editor, the reporter, the advertising man, and quite a bit besides.

"Our reporter—let's call him Bill Jones—was the most ardent admirer of William Shakespeare I've ever seen. I had Shakespearian leanings myself in those days, being particularly partial to Julius Caesar. I've since lost some of my fondness for Caesar, but that is another story.

"At any rate, a noted Shakespearean troupe came to Cleveland one week. Cleveland is about 100 miles from Marion.

Bill yearned to go to Cleveland. He would have gone to Timbuctoo to see Shakespeare creditably acted. I had some yearnings about going myself. So we decided we could make it by a little financial manipulation. We planned to go on Saturday.

"In those days the railroads used to issue passes to proprietors of newspapers. I had one myself, and one for my father. I figured we could get father's pass O. K'd over to Bill for this trip, so I sent a request into headquarters to this effect.

"Came along Saturday morning and the authorization had not come through. We were in somewhat of a fix. After paying off the Star force with the exception of Bill and Jack, the foreman, I had just $16. The foreman's pay was $10. So I went to Jack.

"Jack, I said, 'I've got money here to pay you, but I want to go up to Cleveland to see a show. How about letting me give it to you next week?'

"'It looks to me,' he said, 'if you've got enough money to run around to shows you ought to have money enough to pay your help.'

"Well, that made me mad, so I said: 'All right, take it, but I decided to go anyway.'

"I knew all the railroad boys on our division, so we went down to the train for Cleveland. I with our $6, one pass made out to Warren G. Harding, and another to George T. Harding, my father.

"When the conductor came through I gave him the passes and explained that the authorization had not come through in time for Bill's using my father's pass. He knew me, and it was all right. Everything looked rosy.

"Then we came to Galion, twenty miles away. Galion in those days was the division point. They changed conductors there. When the new conductor came through I repeated my explanation. But it didn't get anywhere.

"Two-sixty," said the conductor, 'or off you go.'

"There wasn't anything to do but pay it. That left us with $3.40 and we landed in Cleveland with $3.40.

"We went straight to the theater and bought two seats at $1 apiece. That left us $1.40 and 100 miles from home.

"I don't think I ever enjoyed a show more. Nor did Bill. We just fairly revelled in that show. We forgot that we had $1.40 and were 100 miles from home.

"Coming out of the theater, we started down the street figuring how we were going to get something to eat and a place to sleep and get back home.

"Looking for a match or something, I poked my finger in my watch pocket. And there long forgotten, was a $1 bill. Never did a bill look so big. It was monumental. That gave us $2.40.

"Well, we went to an old but very good hotel, and with my heart in my mouth I asked how much it would be for us to spend the night, two in a room. The clerk said $1.50. We took it.

"Next morning we rose, paid our bill, had a substantial breakfast for 25c apiece, had our shoes shined and purchased the morning papers.

"Then came the question of getting home. We went down to the station, and I said to Bill:

"There's nothing to it now. You are George T. Harding and that ends it.'

"Well, sir, we went through a-flying. The conductor never glanced at Bill, posing as my father, and we landed in Marion some hours later, still with 10 cents.

"There we had gone 100 miles from home, attended a theater, slept in a good hotel, had breakfast, had our shoes shined and read the news of the world in a leisurely fashion next morning—all for less than $7.

"And those" sighed the President of the United States, "were the good old days."

PROSPECTS BRIGHTER

J. S. Allison, vice-president of the Wool Growers Central Storage Co., of San Angelo, who was here last week in the interests of his Company, and looking over the conditions of the industry, says the prospects for the wool grower are getting brighter every day, and all that is needed, as we all know, is the moisture for the early starting of the weeds. The lambs that have been shipped to the feed lots have made money and the size and quality of the lambs will create a demand for lambs in the years to come as the desire of the packers is for a lamb such as we produce in this country. Mr. Allison attended the meeting of the executive committee of the Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association at Del Rio and made a trip to Mexico where he has stock interests and out to his ranch in the Marathon and Stockton country.—Devil's River News.

A Savings Account

at the First National Bank

For several years we have constantly kept before our customers the importance of keeping a SAVINGS ACCOUNT.

A great many of them have followed our advice and are now on easy street. They don't have to borrow money. They haven't got loans out to their friends which they can't collect. All they have to do is come to the bank and draw on their savings account.

The past financial stringency has demonstrated the wisdom of keeping your money where you can use it when you need it. A bank account is your best friend. You don't have to press a friend or neighbor to pay you something. You only have to give your check for it.

Then your money earns something while it is waiting for you to use it.

We pay 5 per cent on savings and $1 will start an account. You can add to it every month, every week or every day as you like.

WHAT WORLD NEEDS IS OLD-FASHIONED HOMES AND LESS JOYRIDING

The world has gone joyriding. Mother has bobbed her hair, shortened her skirts, pitched the cradle up into the loft, joined the social whirl—and thus home and fireside has become a side issue—just a place where they sleep and eat after the social functions have recessed. Daughter has gone a joyriding in the gloaming, hearts are trumps and a spider-legged Jellybean is the ante—and here she goes to the picture show or dance pavilion, a bunny hug and rub cheeks, and a dooce swing down to the divorce show. Bud is a full-fledged dude, a stranger to parental restraints—hence his philosophy of life is void of the code of industry and economy, turns up his nose at wedlock and says that milk is too cheap to board a cow. God said in the long ago: Spoil not thy child and spare not the rod—but why quote Holy Writ to the mad mob, as the Mosaic Decalog is in the scrap heap, and clergy and laymen are haggling over the commandments—the church altar is an auction block, where they peddle political pie, and the statutory law has been substituted for the grace of God—and great God of hosts, such a crime wave as the world has never witnessed since the beginning of time, has got us in its meshes. A learned judge has recently said that the slackness of the home was the curse of the age, and was furnishing all the filth and slime for the dirty court records. Oh, God, give us back the old-fashioned homes, mother, fireside, cradles and trundle bed, the old family Bible, the altar of prayer, and willow with it if need be—and make the home a training camp for industry, economy, obedience and virtue as in the days of yore. Come back again, mother, with your downy lap, and let thy offspring snuggle in thy breast and partake of nature's diet that God made for babies. Do away with the nursery presided over by ignorant maids, the rubber nipple and cow's milk for keep it in mind that you cannot cheat nature. Diet the babe on froth and slop, for its physical or mental being, and you have a weakling, with a beastly nature—void of grit and punch and pep, stability, stamina and grace—just right for law, courts and jails. There's a craze in the world today for pure bred cattle, the proper dam and sire, the scientific blending of the strain, clean stalls, a balanced ration, green pastures and a tickless range, and oh, how we nurse and tend to the baby calves—under the shielding care of a trained nurse—and look at the prize winners on show day. And say, folks, how about the home? Is it clean? How about the dam and sire? Is the strain pure? How about a balanced ration for the kiddies? Is the hay and bran of the best quality? Have you a tickless range or them to browse on, and a good fence to guard the invasion of the stray mavericks?—Exchange.

Biggest Movement of Cattle North in 6 Months Now On

San Antonio, Feb. 26.—The biggest movement of cattle from Texas points to Northern markets within the last six months, has been on for the last three weeks, W. V. Galbreath, general live stock agent of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas Railway, with headquarters at Fort Worth, said in San Antonio Saturday.

Galbreath predicted a better cattle market and brisker trading toward the middle of the summer of 1922 and advised investors who can, to purchase cattle now at the present low price levels and hold them until next Fall when the market will be greatly improved.

The Junction Hardware Co. reports the sale of two Fordson tractors last week, one to S. S. Bundy on the 21st and one to Morris Nethery on Washington's birthday.

At the present low price, the Fordson is the cheapest power plant that can be secured. They can be used in numerous ways around a farm or ranch, besides performing their function as a tractor.

To The Voters of Commissioner's Precinct No. 1

In announcing my candidacy for Commissioner of this Precinct, I wish to state that I am doing so at the solicitation of many friends, and because I desire to serve the people in this capacity, and feel that I am qualified to perform the duties in a satisfactory manner.

I have lived in the county twenty-three years, and believe I know the needs of the county, and ask your careful consideration in the coming primaries. If elected, I shall do all within my power to render you the service you will have a right to expect.

Very truly,
DAN ST. CLAIR.

F. P. Sexton of Fort Worth, highway engineer for the Federal Bureau of Public Roads for this district reports that the plans and specifications for the road in Sutton county from Sonora to the line of Schleicher county are about completed and that the County will be ready to submit the building of the road to bidders within a month or six weeks. The County, State and Federal aid appropriated for the building of this road is $100,000.—Devil's River News.

Take This From Us!

If you uproduce 40 bushels of corn to the acre, your cost per bushel is less than that of your neighbor who raises only 20 bushels.

Therefore, you can sell more corn for a dollar than your neighbor.

The same principle applies to our Merchandise.

We do a large volume of business which means heavy buying. Keeping busy with our regular force is no more expense to us than if we only kept busy part of the time. This saving goes into extra quality of our goods.

THERE ARE LOTS OF GOOD MERCHANDISE

but not every merchant can buy them unless the large volume of his business justifies him to do so. Lots of our goods are bought in car load lots, and others are bought in large quantities. TO GET THE HIGHEST QUALITY OF GOODS AT CORRECT
PRICES, WE MUST BUY IN LARGE QUANTITIES.

YOU GET QUALITY WHEN YOU BUY FROM US, AND YOU PAY NO MORE.

a move in the right direction

Baptist Church Weekly Notes

"Our Own for Christ" will be the subject of the Sunday morning service. This is on request of the Women's Auxiliary who have their week of prayer for Home Missions beginning that day.

This is a stormy week. Perhaps when Sunday comes it will be warm and beautiful again and we can have full and happy services.

All the circles had good meetings last week. The Y. W. A. also held their monthly meeting at the parsonage. A fine program was rendered. The Misses Swayze were hostesses of the evening.

Some of the Sunday school classes decided that though Elisha seemed to be a more successful prophet than Elijah, his success was possible because of the great work of reform that Elijah did before him.

Several of our people are sick again. Our prayers and sympathy are with them as they suffer.

The pastor had an enjoyable trip to the South Llano community last Sunday. There was one profession of faith at Evergreen and two applicants for church membership. At the night service Paint School house was full, and no one ever had a more attentive audience. At the close they surprised the pastor with a generous pounding.

Remember that our meetings begin the last of March. A great, soul stirring revival would be the greatest blessing that our community could experience during these discouraging times. Let us plan and pray that we may have a blessed series of meetings.

TWICE AS MANY BIRTHS AS DEATHS

Austin, Texas, Feb. 21.—There were 7,417 births in Texas in December, 1921, as compared with 3,101 deaths, according to vital statistics just announced by Dr. John H. Florence, State Health Officer.

Of the births 3,424 were white males; 3,113 white females; 292 negro males, and 227 negro females. Seventy-two sets of twins were born in the State during that month.

Twenty-eight persons were killed in automobile accidents. Sixty were the victims of homicides and 29 suicides were reported.

SOCIAL NOTES.

Mrs. Joseph Hostess.

Mrs. Phillip Joseph was hostess to the Merry Wives Club on Thursday at her home in north Junction. This being the week of the national holiday of February 22, George Washington's pictures and the national colors were artistically used in decorations, score cards and plate favors. Several games of "500" were enjoyed. Mrs. C. R. Stevenson scored high, receiving the club prize, a pair of silk hose. Mrs. A. L. Mudge received the guest prize, a dainty linen handkerchief.

Delicious refreshments consisting of chicken salad, potato chips, wafers, salted almonds and tea were served to the following members and guests: Mesdames H. O. Patterson, C. R. Stevenson, L. F. Boyle, C. T. Holekamp, H. O. Denman, J. C. Beddingfield, L. L. Skaggs, J. D. Motley, C. M. Wolf, W. H. Baker, U. D. Kendrick, A. L. Mudge, and Misses Cecil Martin, Dorothy Mudge, Gladys Van Clief and Stella Martin.

A NEW DEL RIO ROAD

In writing of the proposed new road from Rock Springs by Carta Valley to Del Rio last week, the Leader made an error in giving the distance by the two roads. We stated that it was half a mile nearer by the south route. Commissioner McNeely informs us that the distance between here and Carta Valley is shortened six and four-tenths miles by using the south route. And Mr. McNeely says the County Engineer believes he can take some kinks out and shorten it even more than this.

The matter of which route would be used for the main Del Rio road was left up to Engineer Simpson, and Mr. Simpson has decided upon the south route. In this the Del Rio road runs with the Brackett road as far as the G. W. Ellis ranch, about 15 miles southwest of Rock Springs; there it branches off due west to Carta Valley. It is estimated $25,000 or more will be saved in the construction work by using the south route, in that the Brackett and Del Rio roads are the same for 15 miles.

Of course, when the south road is made good the post-office authorities are likely to change the mail line to that road. And this will cause inconvenience to the ranch people along the north road. But as we get good roads and the country builds up possibility a rural route can be arranged to serve those along the present road.—Rock Springs Leader.

The following Code of Ethics was adopted at the McAllen meeting for the use and practice of every member of this association:

"We believe in Journalism as an honorable profession, and recognizing the opportunities for service to the Commonwealth, we do hereby establish the following code of rules and ethics for government of professional practice as obligatory on every member of this Association:

"To give due credit for all matter copied from other publications;

"To investigate all questionable advertising offered, and refuse space to misleading, dishonest or illegitimate advertisements;

"To use every endeavor to elevate the standards of Journalism, and to so conduct our own papers that competitors may find it wise, profitable and conducive to happiness to emulate our example;

"To strive for no success that is not founded upon the highest conception of justice and morality;

"Not to publish or claim circulation in excess of actual figures;

"Not to speak disparagingly through editorial or news columns of competing papers or editors;

"Not to attempt to engage help employed by a competitor without first informing the competitor and giving him an opportunity, if he so desires, to retain that employee;

"To discourage the growing evil of the space grafter by every legitimate means;

"To resolve to perform every duty incumbent upon us as members of this Association, and to accept no office or duty unless with the full determination to do our best to fulfill the requirements imposed;

"In dealing with our fellow members and competitors to endeavor to put into practice so far as humanly possible, the precepts of the Golden Rule, thereby cementing the ties of fraternal relationship that should exist between members of this body."

Activities of State Bureau of Labor Statistics for Year

The present administration took charge of the Bureau of Labor Statistics of Texas, February 1, 1921. A summary of its activities during the year, as shown by the records, follows:

Inspections have been made by representatives of the Bureau in 133 cities and towns of the State. A total of 2,131 employing establishments have been visited by them, and 2,335 inspections made therein. Employed in these establishments were 54,196 males and 43,765 females, a total of 97,961 workers whose health, safety, comfort and working hours have been carefully looked after.

A total of 639 orders were left with employing concerns requiring changes and improvements relating to better guarded machinery, providing seats for female employees and their proper use, improved sanitary conditions, sufficient fire escapes, and other things that would tend to protect and benefit the workers.

The Bureau has given close attention to the enforcement of the Child Labor Law, and has handled during the year 954 cases coming under its provisions.

As required by the semi-monthly Pay Day Law, the Bureau has given attention to 341 cases, affecting hundreds of workers, whose wages had not been paid. Several thousands of dollars were collected but the records show unpaid wage claims of $112,946.89 still pending.

One hundred and three inspections of derailing devices on railroads were made by the deputies.

There are 58 private employment agencies under license and control of the Bureau, from which was collected $7,560.60 during the year for license fees, occupation taxes, etc.

In 1811 employing establishments inspections were made with special reference to the enforcement of the Health, Safety and Comfort Law, and Nine-Fifty-Four Hour Law, affecting women workers. To meet the requirements of the first mentioned law 328 orders were issued by representatives of the Bureau, and 127 as to the latter, 49 of which related to overtime payments to female employees. It was necessary to prosecute several cases and have fines assessed.

General statistical information has been gathered and made public concerning employment conditions in the State. A special investigation is now being conducted in the East Texas lumber camps.

Fordson Tractor

The new price of the FORDSON TRACTOR is $395.00 F. O. B. factory, or $462.00 delivered at our place of business in Junction. There is no question but what this is now the best power at the most reasonable price that any ranchman or farmer can buy. You can use it for most anything that you need power for around your place. Do your plowing, planting, mowing, harrowing, etc. With a pulley and governor attachment, you can use it for all kinds of belt work—pumping water for stock or for irrigation, sawing wood, grinding feed, run your shearing machinery, and dozens of other things. A Tractor with pulley costs $30.00 extra, and a governor costs $35.00. For stationary work, it will be better to use a governor, but it is not necessary, and can be used without a governor. Most every ranchman and farmer can use a FORDSON to good advantage. Think of the FORDSON not only as a Tractor, but think of it as a power plant, for that is what it is.

Come in and let us tell you more about it, and remember, we are at YOUR SERVICE, and want to HELP you solve your power problems.

BIG SUTTON MOHAIR CLIP

Shearing Will Begin Soon On West Texas Ranches.

Sonora, Tex., Feb. 22.—The shearing of goats will begin in this county between now and March 1. With the ranges well stocked one of the largest clips in the history of the county is expected. Mohair buyers here now are offering between 27 and 33 cents for the clip, which means probably 35 cents before the season is over. Sutton county ranks first in quality and second in number in the raising of goats in the state.
