U. N. Shrugs Off Plea To Act On Congo Coup

Stage Band Wins Eighth State Title

BROWNWOOD — Snyder High School's stage band copped its 8th state championship in a row and then saw its director receive top honors at the Texas Stage Band contest here Saturday.

Melvin Montgomery, director of the Snyder High band, was named the top director at the meet, which included four classes of high schools.

Finishing second behind the Snyder band in the Class AAA contest was Ector of Odessa, while Sweetwater was third, Houston Lamar took first in Class AAAA, while Texarkana was second and Odessa Permian was third.

Sinton was the winner in Class AA, with Atlanta second and Caldwell third, and Archer City was tops in Class A, followed by Cooperas Cove and Crowell, respectively.

Thirty-six bands, embracing a total of 700 students, participated. An all-star band of 24 pieces was selected from all four classes combined and Snyder placed five in that group. No other school placed more than two on the all-star band. As a result of being named outstanding director in the contest, Montgomery will receive a scholarship to the Stan Kenton Band Camp to be held in Dallas this summer.

Tim Dennis of Lamar Junior High, wrote the entire show used by Snyder's stage band in the show. Dennis and Dan Prewitz are Montgomery's assistants in directing activities of the stage band.

Named to the all-star band from Snyder were Jean Young, trumpet; Dale Cushman, alto sax; Mike Reed, tenor sax; Rita Hanback, piccolo, and Bill Patterson, trombone.

Government spokesmen in Havana would not confirm these arrests.

Guantanamo sources said one unidentified body, believed to be the four-man crew, was found in the vicinity of Trowwood, Mich., just across the line from Hurley.

The Forbes spokesman said the information came from the Sawyer Air Force Base near Duluth, Minn. The crew apparently had received a bail-out order.

Aerial observers, who spotted the downed jet Saturday morning, saw smoke rising from the debris and a parachute spread out on the snow nearby.

"We haven't heard anything about survivors," said Iron County Deputy Sheriff John Vardo. "We expect to hear soon but it may take longer than we think because the snow is pretty deep and the terrain is tough."

The location of the wreckage, spotted about 10 a. m., is in a desolate area—about nine miles southwest of here—22 miles off drifted roads.

Winners were chosen on the basis of progress in agriculture, work in soil conservation and natural resource conservation and general community service.

Lumumbists Take Town

By PATRICK MASSEY
LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The United Nations shrugged off Saturday a Congolese government ultimatum demanding action against Lumumbist troops who traveled halfway across the Congo to take over the town of Luluabourg.

The coup brought Lumumbist forces within 500 miles of Leopoldville and sent a sharp throb of alarm through officials in the regime of President Joseph Kasavubu. Capture of the Kasai Province capital gave Antoine Gizenga's leftist Stanleyville regime control of three of the Congo's six provincial capitals.

Deputy Premier Joseph Bolikango gave notice that unless the United Nations took steps within six hours to clear the intruders out of Luluabourg, the Leopoldville government would take "dispositions which the situation demands."

The United Nations said: "We don't know what action they want us to take or what action they want to do themselves."

A United Nations spokesman said the 2,000-man government garrison in the city, Luluabourg, welcomed with open arms the 300 rebels who journeyed 800 miles south from—Gizenga's Oriental Province—strongholds for their bloodless conquest.

Luluabourg is just 110 miles northeast of the Congo-Portuguese Angola border and if the rebels left behind them firm lines of supply and communications they have nearly cut the Congo in half.

Apparent defection of supposedly loyal troops to Gizenga, political heir to the slain ex-Premier Patrice Lumumba, sent a jolt of alarm through the Leopoldville government.

About 1,000 U.N. Ghanaian soldiers stationed in and around Luluabourg were under strict orders to prevent clashes between government and rebel troops. But the U.N. spokesman said, the Ghanaians had no grounds to prevent a peaceful "merger" of the two forces.

The government commander in the city, a Col. Mjoko, was given U.N. protection after the invasion, the spokesman said, and now is a "house guest" of a civilian U.N. administrator. Government and rebel troops took up joint duties at the airport and in the city.

Lumumbists long have held Stanleyville and Bukavu, capital of Kivu province.

There were signs the Leopoldville government knew a week ago that rebel troops were in the Luluabourg area but thought they were going to defect to government forces commanded by Maj. Gen. Joseph Mobutu.

When U.N. forces from Luluabourg went to Lusambo, about 150 miles away to investigate reported troop movements, the Leopoldville government protested what it called U.N. interference in Congolese military affairs.

Gizenga in Luluabourg, a northern Kasai city, were overwhelmingly in support of Lumumba. Much of Mobutu's army is concentrated in the northern Congo, on Oriental Province borders, but he has not ordered an attack because the government has been concentrating on negotiations for a peaceful settlement with Gen. Victor Lundula, Lumumbist commander.

Kennedy On Mystery Trip

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy slipped away from the White House for about three hours Saturday. Aides refused to say where he had been.

It isn't unusual for Kennedy to leave unannounced. But ordinarily newsmen are told shortly afterward where he went.

This time, when the President's absence was discovered by reporters, White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said he didn't know where Kennedy was.

Asked whether he would try to find out Salinger replied: "I did make an attempt and nobody seems to know."

"Isn't there somebody who could contact the President if there were an emergency right now?" a reporter inquired.

"I'm sure somebody could," Salinger answered.

Finally at 3 p. m., Salinger told newsmen the President had returned but he wouldn't tell where Kennedy had been.

Senate Candidate Field Decreases

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The fluctuating total of candidates in the U.S. Senate race dropped by one Saturday as an entry from Marshall decided to step out.

He was Gordon Barker, an independent oil man, who said he would give his support to Atty. Gen. Will Wilson.

Wilson, campaigning on the Rio Grande, said he was grateful. "Mr. Barker's supporters in East Texas and throughout the state will find a strong voice for their views in my platform," Wilson said at Laredo.

Barker's withdrawal reduced the number of candidates in the April special election to fill most of the full term of Lyndon B. Johnson to 39. That is still a record turnout of hopefuls.

Republicans blew their horns at Houston for John G. Tower, whose candidacy the party's executive committee is officially sponsoring.

"John Tower is leading the field," said State Executive Committee Chairman Tad Smith at a Republican leaders meeting. "John Tower is the only real conservative in the race."

At Austin Rep. Wesley Roberts of Seminole offered to debate Congressman Jim Wright on television.

"Since Wright keeps clamoring for somebody in this race to de-

Krush Takes Personal Hand In Congo Edict

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Khrushchev Saturday stepped into the Soviet campaign to force the United Nations out of the Congo and to deal with the African nations solve the crisis alone.

The essence of his plan, rejected by the U. N. Security Council earlier last week, is to force African states with U. N. forces in the Congo bring them home and then form a conciliation commission to deal with the Congo's warring factions. They would try to make peace without military force to back up their decisions.

In addition, he suggested that the commission be instructed in advance to deal with the Communist-backed rebel regime in Stanleyville as the Congo's legal government because it is headed by political heirs of the slain ex-Premier Patrice Lumumba.

Using the killing of Lumumba as a wedge to renew his attack on Dag Hammarskjold, Khrushchev charged the U. N. secretary-general was to blame because "whoever held the knife or revolver is after all but the sole murderer."

Most of his fire was directed at Hammarskjold for allowing Lumumba to fall into the hands of authorities in Katanga, at the Belgians for failing to get out of the Congo and continuing to support Katanga President Moise Tshombe and at Tshombe as "the hangman" of Lumumba and the "puppet" of Belgium.

"All this wrecks the trust of the peoples in the United Nations," he said.

Spring Air Covers State

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A breath of spring was in the air over Texas Saturday, just a day after a swift norther had raced across the state sweeping snow, sleet and dust.

All Texas skies were clearing. Temperatures were moderate, often in the high 60s and low 70s. The coolest of the early afternoon was 35 degrees at Lubbock.

Dalhart in the Panhandle watched the mercury climb 44 degrees during the bright, sunny day. At dawn, the mercury stood at 22.

Winds either were southerly, or switching back in that direction although Amarillo reported 32 mile westerly winds. Most of the snow that measured up to five inches in part of the Panhandle Friday had melted.

Rescue Team Battles To Reach Crash

HURLEY, Wis. (AP)—A medical rescue team on snowshoes battled through northern Wisconsin's snowy wilderness Saturday to reach the wreckage of a Strategic Air Command B47 bomber that crashed in flames Friday night.

At Forbes Air Force Base, Topeka, Kan., where the plane was based, a spokesman said two unidentified bodies, believed to be the four-man crew, were found in the vicinity of Trowwood, Mich., just across the line from Hurley.

The Forbes spokesman said the information came from the Sawyer Air Force Base near Duluth, Minn. The crew apparently had received a bail-out order.

Aerial observers, who spotted the downed jet Saturday morning, saw smoke rising from the debris and a parachute spread out on the snow nearby.

"We haven't heard anything about survivors," said Iron County Deputy Sheriff John Vardo. "We expect to hear soon but it may take longer than we think because the snow is pretty deep and the terrain is tough."

The location of the wreckage, spotted about 10 a. m., is in a desolate area—about nine miles southwest of here—22 miles off drifted roads.

Proctor Man Named Top Young Farmer

SEGUIN, Tex. (AP) — R. W. "Bill" Evans, a Proctor, Tex., agricultural and civic leader, received the Outstanding Young Farmer award of the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce Saturday night.

Max Mahlmann of Richmond was second and George Holkamp of Kerrville third in the statewide competition.

Winners were chosen on the basis of progress in agriculture, work in soil conservation and natural resource conservation and general community service.

Each received a plaque at a banquet at Texas Lutheran College here.

"AND COME OUT FIGHTING"—Candidates for the Snyder High School student council shook hands and came out fighting with all weapons available this week. Banners, posters, electioneering cards sprouted all over the high school building as 7 candidates organized support for their campaign. Politicians above are from left, Dalton Walton for vice president, Frances Martin for secretary, Eddie Fry for president, Johnny Mitchell for president, John Best for vice president, Mary Ann Moffett for secretary, and Box Calloway for president.

Most Cuban Rebels Are Fidel Defectors

By HAROLD K. MILKS
HAVANA (AP)—Insurgents in increasing numbers are active in Oriente Province's mountains but most—if not all—appear to be defectors from Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime rather than arrivals from abroad.

Qualified observers who toured Oriente, Cuba's easternmost province, reported Saturday they found no direct confirmation of reports widely circulated in Cuba of "landings" by rebels in several areas of eastern Cuba.

But the observers reported they learned reliably that up to 600 opposition men had fled into the hills between Baracoa on the northern coast and Guantanamo on the southern coast to fight the Castro regime.

A survey lasting several days failed to produce a single direct confirmation of reported landings in the Baracoa area or in the La Plata-Pilon region on the southern coast. Landings in these areas have been widely rumored since early February.

But the survey did produce proof in the form of conversations with relatives of rebels and Cuban officials that there is steadily increasing insurgent activity in

Oriente which may in time grow into an opposition "second front."

The observers confirmed that considerable numbers of Castro militiamen and troops have been dispatched into the area midway between Baracoa and Guantanamo because of insurgent activity.

The government maintained silence on progress of its "clean-up" effort against a main concentration of rebels in the Escambray Mountains of south-central Cuba.

The "liberation army" radio from somewhere outside Cuba said the insurgents made a "successful attack" on militia positions ringing the Escambrays. The broadcast said rebels used only bayonets and commando knives to avoid alerting the militiamen held in reserve.

Those who made the Oriente tour said this report:

Lt. Emilio Vera, chief of the Guantanamo jail, decamped into the hills Feb. 14 with a number of political prisoners and 20 guards — all armed. Castro's agents arrested Vera's wife and held her incommunicado, the observers said.

Nearly 40 other members of Castro's police and military organizations led by Capt. Argimiro Fonseca have deserted and moved into the hills.

In the roundup of anti-Castro suspects that followed, more than 200 persons were arrested. Among those detained was ex-police Capt. Jose Rodriguez Moreno, chief of the Territorial Taxes Bureau in Guantanamo and brother-in-law of Regino Boti, Castro's minister of economy.

Others reportedly seized were Guantanamo's postmaster, an army lieutenant and several Guantanamo merchants.

Government spokesmen in Havana would not confirm these arrests.

Debate Slated This Week On Session's First Tax Bills

AUSTIN (AP) — Ladies, gather up your knitting, soft cushions and box lunches. Come one, come all. Debate on the legislature's first tax bills begins this week.

From all weekend indications this House Revenue and Taxation Committee will recommend passage Monday of at least two of Gov. Price Daniel's deficit stopping bills — seizure of abandoned property and revision of the state franchise tax.

Together they would erase $27 million of the state's general fund deficit that is expected to be at least $68 million when this fiscal year ends Aug. 31.

Natural gas pipelines and a host of manufacturing concerns are fighting the $10 million plan to increase franchise taxes on Texas firms doing out-of-state business.

A subcommittee of the taxation group meets Tuesday for a final hearing on Daniel's idea of shifting a $15 million annual burden on the general fund for new farm roads to the general highway fund, most of which comes from gasoline taxes. The full committee likely will send the measure out for floor debate.

One of Daniel's four deficit recommendations apparently has run into behind-the-scenes trouble. The measure calling for a 12-month hike of 3 per cent in natural gas production went to a subcommittee more than a week ago and is still there. It might be out late this week.

"It's not that we aren't agreed on taking natural gas," explained a subcommittee member. "It's just a question of who and how."

In the Senate there likely will be a continuation of unenthusiastic debate over non-contractual bills and non- prejudicial nominations. It takes 25 senators to agree on debate of a measure during the first 60 days of a legislature and it is not often 25 senators see the same way on a trouble-raising bill.

Plenty of fuss will be raised in both Senate and House committees during the week. Monday a Senate group will discuss state management of tidelands while another committee looks over the budget of regents of state teachers colleges. Monday House committee hearings include sessions on uniform gross receipts taxes for all utilities, the wearing of religious garments while teaching in public schools, and changes in the operations of the State Board of Water Engineers and the State Banking Department.

Skid Row Is On Upgrade

By BOB BARNES
LOS ANGELES (AP)—A place of shabby bars and back-alley hotels, of empty buildings and idle men—that is East 9th Street.

A place of fish houses and junk shops, dirty windows and trashy lots. A street that well-dressed folks avoid, where policemen go in pairs.

It's a skid row, like all the other skid rows the world over. But there's a difference.

This one is on the upgrade.

The reason: a 36-year-old Swedish-born bachelor who spends his own money fixing up other people's eyesores.

There's no gimmick, Frank Bronson simply believes that if you cast your bread on the waters, "You're bound to get it back."

The idea is catching hold.

"People seem to think that just because it's skid row, everything should go to the dogs," Bronson says. "That's absolutely wrong. You can have pride of ownership down here, too."

"All it takes is one person to get the ball rolling," he says. "If somebody just starts, others will follow."

Bronson isn't talking through his hat.

He bought the seven-story Hotel Morris 2½ years ago.

"You can't imagine how bad it was," he says. "No paint, dirty, run down. The cops used to live here, practically."

He couldn't stand the mess. A contractor and carpenter himself, he soon had carpenters, bricklayers, plumbers and painters swarming through the 10-room hotel. He planned to tear out front and fixed up per cent of his help for inefficiency and drunkenness. He cleaned out the bookers and bootleggers.

He wasn't out to make it a Billings—just good and clean, nothing fancy.

His own house in order, he turned to the neighborhood. He called on his neighbors and suggested they paint their buildings, take down old signs and fix broken windows.

He was met with shrugs. "It's a nice idea, but— they said— would they let him do those things then? Fine."

He paid wreckers to haul off a small ramshackle building already condemned by the city. He had six truckloads of debris hauled off a cluttered lot. He hired four painters to scrape old paint from another building and apply two new coats. He had up slightly old signs taken down, broken windows repaired.

Nor did he stop with his own block. In the next block he has done the same on seven or eight buildings—and he's still going.

Bronson's work shows. And, he says, it pays.

"My occupancy rate has increased 100 per cent," he says. "The values have gone up 15 to 25 per cent already."

He came to this country when he was 20 with $25 in his pocket. The depression wiped him out but he started anew. Now he has almost $300,000 invested, although he drives a 1947 car.

Jaycees Sponsor Carnegie Course

The world-famous Dale Carnegie Course is coming to Snyder under sponsorship of the Snyder Jaycees.

"We believe that Jaycee sponsorship of this adult education program is a genuine community service," said Kenneth Baker, president of the sponsoring organization.

"Businessmen, professional men, sales people, housewives, club women, office personnel—every adult will benefit from this training. It will build a new enthusiasm, develop self-confidence, create a new understanding among the citizens of our town."

Baker said sponsors in other areas have reported that the classes have had an important influence on human relations in their communities.

It was announced by the Jaycees that the first meeting will be a free demonstration session. It will be held in the Travis Junior High auditorium at 7:27 p. m. on March 3. The public is invited, and there is no cost or obligation.

Purpose of the demonstration meeting according to the Jaycees, is to acquaint visitors with Dale Carnegie methods in effective speaking, human relations and leadership training. One of the features of the evening will be a demonstration of one of the remarkable memory training techniques developed by Dale Carnegie.

The Dale Carnegie course began in 1912 in New York City. Today, Dale Carnegie courses are taught in more than 900 cities in America and in 31 foreign cities. More than five million men and women are graduates, among them are G. Frank Boster, one of the top salesmen in this country; Robert Quinn, manager of the world's largest hotel, the Grand Hilton in Chicago; Joe East, Governor of South Dakota; and John M. DeWitt, president of the Western Union Company.

The demonstration meeting will be interesting and entertaining, said Baker, and it will be enhanced by a door prize and refreshments. Each adult present will receive a copy of one of Dale Carnegie's books free. A free scholarship in the course will be awarded.

More Americans Are Driving More Cars More Miles, Etc.

By BEN PHELAGAR
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT (AP)—If you have been in a car recently it probably will come as no surprise to learn more Americans are driving more cars more miles than ever before.

Three recently published surveys of the so-called average motorist agree on this. Just how far anyone is driving seems to depend on whom you talk to.

The United States Bureau of Public Roads, surveying the entire passenger car field, found total motor vehicle travel in the United States last year was 720 billion miles, equal to 28.9 million trips around the world. This was up about three per cent from 1959 and about nine per cent over 1958.

The average American passenger car is driven 9,229 miles a year, says the Bureau of Roads. Two other surveys, each of which asked 4,500 motorists, noted even greater usage.

The "Profile of a Motorist" survey for the Petroleum Chemicals Division of Du Pont found the average of its answers to be 12,300 miles a year. The American Automobile Association (AAA), in a survey of its members, showed average driving of 14,300 miles a year.

Vacation driving accounts for a solid chunk of this mileage. The AAA said the average mileage for the major vacation trip of its members was 2,130 miles. It selected the major trip because 44.5 per cent of those answering said they took two or more vacation trips a year.

The Du Pont survey says the motorist who uses his car on a vacation drives an average of 1,700 miles.

If you like to measure your car's performance against some average figures, try these: The Bureau of Roads says the average car burned 666 gallons of gasoline in 1960 and got 14.3 miles to the gallon.

At the prevailing national average for regular grade gasoline of about 32 cents a gallon that would come to slightly more than $215. Added to your expense of operating a car must be your oil, grease, jobs and the extras.

The Automotive Service Industry Association says these extras, such as tires, batteries, spark plugs, mufflers and other accessories, run about $86 a year with anti-freeze, floor mats, radio parts, tire chains and other such items totaling another $15.

Morton Hunts For A GOP Magician

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican National Chairman Thurston B. Morton is beating the bushes in search of a successor acceptable to three different points of view in his party.

Morton said Saturday he isn't having much luck in finding a new chairman who would be looked upon favorably by former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

The three, all potential 1964 presidential aspirants, don't always agree on the course their party should follow.

Morton, who promised the national committee in January that he would stay on as chairman during the present session of Congress, has told friends in the Kentucky racing jargon he often uses that he is getting "track sore" in his job.

As national chairman he traveled almost countless miles and made almost countless speeches in the preliminaries and during the presidential campaign last year.

Since then he has been on the go constantly trying to pump new life into a party organization that was pretty generally discouraged by Nixon's defeat at the hands of President Kennedy.

Thus far most of the speculation about a possible successor for Morton has centered on the names of Ohio State Chairman Ray Bliss and Rep. William E. Miller of New York, who heads the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee.

Bliss is currently engaged in efforts by the national committee to find out why Nixon lost most of the big cities in last year's presidential race. While he probably would be acceptable to all factions, Bliss has indicated some reluctance about taking on the national chairmanship.

Miller is being boomed by such Republicans as Sen. Styles Bridges, R-N.H., who says he did a good job helping party members win election to the House last year.

Morton knows that unless he can come up with a recommendation to all three, the national committee may split up into warring factions.

Morton's desire to find a new man is whetted by what he regards as the necessity of getting preliminary campaign work under way for his own race for reelection to the Senate in 1962.

Republicans don't win easily in Kentucky. Morton wants to get going as soon as he can.

Diplomatic Issue Arises On Laundry

By ALVIN STEINKOPF
LONDON (AP)—Is it proper to use a diplomatic pouch as a laundry bag?

The British Foreign Office, just a little embarrassed, is considering the question, and it inclines to the view that Her Majesty's diplomatic pouch is for deep secrets, not for dirty shirts.

Suspicion that the diplomatic pouch is being used to deliver laundry from the Soviet Union to Britain and vice versa was aroused when the manager of a Bournemouth laundry disclosed that one of his customers is a naval officer attached to the British Embassy in Moscow.

The laundry man, William Bowden, sends the clean wash to the Foreign Office. From there, he understands, it travels in the diplomatic bag, into which no policeman or spy may snoop.

At the Foreign Office, a spokesman explained that laundries in Moscow don't cope very well with the boiled shirts diplomats wear, and that the Soviets are hopeless when it comes to a stiff collar. So to maintain the fastidious standards expected of Her Majesty's envoys, some of them send their washing home.

"But if, in fact, the diplomatic pouch has been used for such a purpose it is quite unauthorized, and we are looking into the matter," said the Foreign Office spokesman, in a rather stiff-collar fashion.

Two Autos Are In Collision Saturday

Rhonda Bailey, 17-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Bailey of Route 2, was taken to the Snyder Clinic in a Bell Funeral Home ambulance Saturday morning for examination following a traffic mishap. She was released.

Involved in the accident at Avenue R and Seventeenth Street were a 1950 Oldsmobile driven by Lon B. Faver of 2111 Twenty-fourth Street and a 1960 Pontiac driven by Rhonda Bailey. Damage was estimated at $100 to the Faver car and $50 to the Bailey car.

Amarielo Palo Duro beat Midland 67-59 Saturday to provide the third team for the Class AAAA division of Texas schoolboy basketball tournament.
 Houston Amiel and Austin reached the tournament Friday night, the former beating Beaumont 48-41 and the latter edging San Antonio Harlandale 49-48.
 Fort Worth Paschal and Denton played at Dallas Saturday night to determine the fourth team for the tournament at Austin next Thursday, Friday and Saturday.
 Three teams also had been decided in Class AAA—Nacogdoches, South San Antonio and Dumas. Nacogdoches gained the tournament Friday night with a 56-30 victory over Greenville while South San Antonio was whipping Robstown 77-55.
 Dumas survived a regional tournament at Lubbock, beating Seminole 56-53 Saturday for the state tournament spot.
 Killen and Clear Creek battled at Bryan Saturday night for the other place in the tournament.

Miss Fraser Wins, Loses
 BRISBANE (AP)—Olympic Gold Medal swimmer Dawn Fraser of Australia won and lost Saturday.
 Miss Fraser retained her 200-meter free-style title in the final day's competition of the 1961 Australian championships. Her time was 2 minutes, 15.5 seconds.
 An hour earlier, she learned that the Australian Swimming Union had refused to accept an apology for her refusal to swim the butterfly in the women's medley at the Rome Olympics last year. Miss Fraser had contended that she did not swim the butterfly because she had to compete in the 100-meter free-style final the same day.
 "She swam in the 100-meter free-style the previous day and was not competing in any individual event on the day of the medley," read a statement issued by Hicks Ives, president of the union.
 Earlier this week, the union excluded Miss Fraser from the group scheduled to compete in New Zealand and South Africa. Miss Fraser also has been invited to participate in Japanese meets. She apologized for her Rome actions in hopes of making the travel team.

 CHICAGO (AP)—The best amateur boxers west of the Alleghenies—232 of them—start slugging punches Monday night at Chicago Stadium in the Golden Gloves Tournament of Champions.
 Fighting the first two nights will be 20 simultaneous three-ring bouts. Two will be used for Wednesday quarter-finals in all eight weight classes.
 The winners will return to the big arena March 8 for the wind-up, determining the Chicago team that will meet New York in the intercity bouts at Chicago Stadium March 29. Last year, Chicago won 12 bouts to 4 in Madison Square Garden.
 The field comes from elimination tournaments in 26 centers representing 24 states. Only one defending Golden Gloves champion is returning—Loris Martin, Toledo middleweight. Runner-up to him, James Ellis of Louisville, also is back.

Carry Back Is Winner In Flamingo
 By GENE DOWDEN
 MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Carry Back Saturday became the second Florida-bred colt to win the Flamingo Stakes and he took a giant step toward becoming a Kentucky Derby favorite.
 Carry Back, bred, owned and trained by Jack A. Price of Miami, caught Fred W. Hooper's Crozier 70 yards from the finish line and won by a head in a photo.
 William C. Parree's Your Bill finished third and Jacob Sher's Sherkul finished fourth in the seven-horse field of three-year-olds.
 Immediately after the finish, Heliodoro Cruzier claimed foul against Crozier who he said crossed over on his mount, Your Bill, one eighth of a mile from the finish.
 Crozier was ridden by Chris Rogers.
 Carry Back, ridden by John Sellers, was free of inquiry.
 Carry Back ran the mile and an eighth in 1:50 5-5.
 His fractional times were :22 2-5, :46 3-5, 1:11 3-5 and 1:37 2-5.
 Carry Back was 3-5 favorite in duplicating the feat of Needles, a Florida-bred who won the 1956 Flamingo and went on to take the Kentucky Derby and Belmont Stakes among others.
 After examining the photo, the stewards decided to let Crozier remain second and Your Bill third.
 Carry Back returned $3.30, $2.30, $2.30, $2.00 paid $2.00 to place and $2.00 to show. Your Bill paid $5.00.
 Mrs. Mary Keim's Hero's In ran fifth, followed by Ada L. Rice's Try Cash and Louis Chesler's Kings Song.
 Gustines got Your Bill out of the gate first and he led until they reached the far turn. Crozier was in close pursuit of the leader. For a time they were lapped on each other.

MAD SCRAMBLE—Open season on a loose ball seems to have been declared here Friday night, as the Ira and Westbrook girls met in the decider of their playoff series to determine a District 92-B finalist. At right, Westbrook's Marie Putman (41) and Ira's Jan Holladay (55) battle for the sphere, while Kay Byars of Ira advances on the scene at far left. Ira Girls Nipped In Playoff Fray
 The Ira girls came to the end of the basketball road here in Tiger Gym Friday night, but not before a valiant, last-ditch effort came within a whisper of pulling victory from defeat.
 The occasion was the third and consequently final tilt in the playoff for the District 92-B crown, with Westbrook furnishing the opposition. A late, decisive goal by Judy Ranne brought Westbrook a 31-29 victory, however, as the two-pointers were meshed with less than a minute of playing time remaining.
 By virtue of the win, Westbrook earned the right to advance into bi-district play against Highland, which cornered the 91-B title Friday night in their area action of the evening with a 33-22 thumping of Roby's Lionses.
 Ira forward Lena Farmer played a key role in the near-miss, which was witnessed by a healthy turnout of area and local fans. Her 20 points were tops for the night, as she out-distanced Westbrook's Faye Conaway for the scoring laurels. Miss Conaway popped the strings for 16 points, all on the strength of field goals.
 The contest was a slow one to get rolling, as Ira edged out to a 5-2 first quarter lead, with Westbrook being held scoreless until only 37 seconds of first period playing time showed left to be played. Miss Farmer pushed in a short bank shot with 3:35 to go in the initial stanza for Ira's ice-breaking field goal, after which her sextet went on to post a 5-0 lead, its largest of the game. Westbrook also held one brief 5-point advantage late in the third quarter, when they edged out to a 29-15 bulge.
 Only in the final period did both teams haul out their big scoring guns. Westbrook led by 20-16 as the period got underway, but four consecutive free throws on the part of Miss Farmer put Ira close at 29-21. Westbrook came roaring back to go ahead by 29-25 before the fiery Farmer performer pushed in a 15-footer and canned a pair of free tosses—the latter with only 45 seconds left in the game—only knot the count at 29-29.
 Westbrook got possession at that point, however, and raced to their tie-breaking and 4 game-winning bucket, after which time was 30-

'We Like' Is Reaction To Application
 DALLAS (AP)—The pre-enrollment application plan has brought more than twice as many athletes into the Southwest Conference fold.
 This is gratifying if surprising to conference officials.
 By the adoption of the pre-enrollment application, under an agreement with the Interscholastic League, high school athletes may commit themselves to a school as early as Feb. 1 this year.
 Before this year, the athletes could not sign with a Southwest Conference school until March 15 without losing his remaining high school eligibility.
 "We believe the conference institutions and the high schools will be mutually pleased with this response to the pre-enrollment application," said Howard Grubbs, executive secretary of the conference.
 Eighty-six prospects were signed by the eight Southwest Conference schools during the first two weeks of recruiting, starting Feb. 1. A year ago the same institutions signed only 38 boys during the comparable time.
 Dr. H. B. Harst of TCU, president of the conference, said: "This response is mighty encouraging. We firmly believe this is a better system than any we have had."
 Since 1951, catcher Clint Courtney has played with five American League clubs. Kansas City will be his sixth stop in the circuit this season.
 Bill Mazeroski says the toughest pitcher he faced in the World Series was Whitey Ford. Maz made one single in six trips against Ford.

Whisler Takes Lead In Bowling Classic
 CHICAGO (AP)—Dale Whisler of Dayton, Ohio, 44-year-old machinist and grandmaster, Saturday rolled into the lead of the $27,800 Petersen Bowling Classic with a 1,689 series.
 The marathon meet, carrying a top prize of $27,500, started Dec. 10 and by the time it ends June 25, a total of 12,750 bowlers will have taken a crack at the purses.
 Whisler, who has been bowling 24 years and is competing in his 10th classic, replaced Frank Sospirato, Warrensville, Ohio, in top spot. Sospirato had held the lead for several weeks with 1,657.
 Whisler fired games of 192, 178, 242, 278, 267, 184, 187 and 161.
 Pletcher Bob Friend of Pittsburgh gave up only 45 bases on balls in 276 innings last season. Ten were intentional.

AS TIGERS COMPLETE STELLAR SEASON Final Tally Shows Ware, Marcum As Top Pointmen

A final peek at the Snyder Tiger cage statistics emphasize the favorable situation which has existed the season through—that the success of the club may be attributed to no one individual, but rather to the team as a whole.
 Coach J. P. Ward's Bengals capped off a 13-10 season recently by being with Sweetwater for second place in District 3-3A. Each compiled 53 records over the span, while Lamesa walked off with the title for the second year running with a spotless 5-0 tally.
 The Tiger "B" team survived a shaky start which saw them dropping their first three games to come back strong and ring up a 1-3-8 tab.
 Individually, senior Weidon Ware—who played both guard and forward for the Tigers—cornered the Black and Gold scoring market. His 279 points for the season gave him an average output of 12.1 per game. 135 of those points were realized during the 8-game district span, giving him a strapping 16.9 average for that payoff period, and garnering him the third spot scoring-wise for the 3-3A campaign.
 In addition, he and post man Freddy Miller deked for the top spot on the team in field goal percentage, each hitting at a 43 per cent mean.
 Jimmy Don Robinson, another top operator, was tops in rebounding with his total of 148 for the year.
 As a team, the Tigers amassed a sparkling 63 per cent average at the charity line by virtue of capitalizing on 383 of 606 free throw efforts. Senior guard Steve Freed led the pack in that field of endeavor by sinking 31 of 39 laydoffs for a white-hot 79 per cent.

 Coach V. V. Shearburn's "B" learners were paced in progress by guard Tim Marcum, who rolled to a total of 298 in the 20 games for a 14.9 average. The only other Tiger Bee to average in double figures for the season was center Larry McNair, who stormed to a total of 222 for an 11.1 mean.

Other Tiger "B" performers high up on the scoring list, along with their point totals, include Tommy Cooper (143), Gil Hinojos (58), Tommy Ryan (49), Stu Long (43), Darrell Aldridge (35), Carl Bailey (31), James Sellers (21), and William Robinson (20).

And A Pretty Good Man On The Windmill.

WACO (AP)—Coach Jack Patterson of Baylor says John Fry is the most unpredictable shot putter he ever has had.
 "John has made me adjust my sights every year he has been with me," said Patterson, in speaking of the record 56 feet 6 1/2 inches the big fellow heaved the steel ball in the recent Fort Worth indoor meet.
 "I'm afraid now to try to put a ceiling on Fry's possibilities—I just don't know how far he eventually will throw that thing."
 Two things encouraged Patterson to believe Fry will keep on raising the record. One is Fry's speed—he could run a 10.2 in the 100 if he worked as a sprinter—and the other encouraging fact is that he has Buddy Tyner, a very capable weight team mate. Tyner did 55 feet 1 1/2 inches last season, had a 54-10 1/2 pitch in the Fort Worth indoor meet. Tyner furnishes Fry all the competition he needs.

Bearcats Win 16th In Row

DENTON, Tex. (AP)—Cincinnati won its 16th straight game and a guaranteed tie for the Missouri Valley Conference title by whipping North Texas State 74-43 here Saturday.
 The Bearcats thus ended their conference slate with a 10-2 record. Bradley, also with 2 losses, is the other title contender.
 The Eagles were tied with Cincinnati after eight minutes but then collapsed before an 18-point Bearcat scoring burst. Saturday visitors played three men taller than 6 feet 8 and dominated the board. They grabbed 63 rebounds to 37 for the North Texans and outshot them from the field 40 per cent to 28 per cent.
 Cincinnati's Bob Wiesenbahn and Paul Hogue led scoring with 15 points apiece. Ardie Dixon had 14 for North Texas.

Host Snyder Finds Sat. Going Lumpy

Friday and Saturday firing in the Second Annual Scurry County Midget Gloves came in fast and furious, as a rousing display of boxing prowess was entered into by local and area teams shooting for the laurels.

Lamesa leaped out into a strong contending position, winning 5 of 7 bouts Friday night to gain the tournament's favorite role. Rotan also is making a strong bid for the team trophy, primarily on the strength of a stellar Saturday night showing. The Rotaners split even Friday, copying decisions in 6 bouts and dropping an equal number, but came back strong in early novice bouts of Saturday to win 6 of their first 7 matches.

The chips all seemed to be falling the way of Rotan, as 4 of those 6 victories were taken by split decisions.

Snyder's host team, meanwhile, won 6 of 13 Friday forays, but was getting slightly bushwhacked in Saturday action, as they found themselves on the winning end of things on only 2 of 9 occasions.

Other cities competing for titles in addition to the above mentioned ones include Abilene, Odessa, and Cisco.

Finals in the tournament are slated for Monday night in the Towle Park Barn beginning at 8 o'clock.

UNNECESSARY EVIL?

All-Star Games Knocked

EDITOR'S NOTE: The recent NCAA ruling on scholastic all-star games has created some misunderstandings—if not confusion. A. L. Hardman, sports editor of the Charleston (W.Va.) Gazette, defines the reasons for the confusion and the results the ruling might provide in this article written for The Associated Press.

By A. L. Hardman
Sports Editor, Charleston Gazette
Written for The Associated Press

The National Federation of High School Athletic Association and the National Collegiate Athletic Association seem to agree that all-star games are an unnecessary evil.

But they apparently don't agree on whose responsibility it is to put those games out of business.

The NCAA has been prodded for several years by the NFHSAA to step in and stop the ever-increasing number of all-star games. But this year, at its meeting in Pittsburgh, when the NCAA finally got around to taking action, the brunt of the responsibility for judging the games was thrown back to the high schools.

The NCAA recently passed a rule which provides for the loss of a year's varsity eligibility for any athlete participating in a scholastic all-star football or basketball game that is not approved by the appropriate state high school athletic association.

In other words, the NCAA would mete out the punishment if the NFHSAA would first point out the guilty.

This wasn't what the NFHSAA wanted at all. It wasn't what the NFHSAA had asked for at any time.

The resolution sent to the NCAA for action and support was one to end all all-star games which are

Ralph Boston Smashes His Own Record

NEW YORK (AP) — Fabulous Ralph Boston of Tennessee State smashed his own indoor broad jump record Saturday night by soaring 28 feet, 6 1/4 inches in the National AAU Championships in Madison Square Garden.

Boston's leap came with all the drama he could muster. Until then, Igor Ter-Ovanesyan of Russia was leading with a leap of 26 feet even.

The slim Olympic champion and holder of every world record sped down the runway while the crowd sat hushed. Up he went and when he landed a mighty roar went up. Without even measuring it, it seemed everyone in Madison Square Garden knew he had beaten Ter-Ovanesyan.

Then it was Ter-Ovanesyan's turn. He stepped down the runway with Leonid Khomokov, chief of the Soviet AAU, standing tensely on the tip of the jumpoff.

Up Igor went and officials immediately called a "foul." It was a fine jump, but it's doubtful if it would have surpassed Boston's.

Some confusion arose when Boston called for a measurement of the jump. Khomokov excitedly mentioned for Eulice Peacock, the old national champion who help the tape, to measure the jump.

While Ter-Ovanesyan stood dejectedly on the sideline, Peacock called a foul, saying that the rule that forbids measuring fouls. He ordered the pit taked over.

Until he made his great jump, Boston's best was 25-11 1/4, just three-quarters of an inch behind Ter-Ovanesyan.

"I even hurt my heel by jumping right into a photographer. Thank heavens it wasn't my jumping heel."

TIGERS THIRD Record Set By Crawford

FORT STOCKTON — Snyder High School's track team had to be content with third place, but furnished the top individual and finished in one of three new records at the 16th annual Comanche Relays here Saturday.

Jesse Crawford rolled up 30 points, including a new meet record in the 100-yard hurdles, to top the individual performers.

Andrews won the team championship of the upper division with Monterey's 73, while Snyder was a respectable third with 61 1/2 points.

Crawford breezed over the low hurdles in 19.3 seconds to eclipse the old record of 19.5 which was set by another Snyder star, Stanley Woolver in 1960.

In addition, Crawford won the broad jump with a leap of 20 feet and six and five-eighths inches, placed second in the 100-yard dash, and ran a leg on the fourth place 440-yard relay team.

Snyder had a flock of third place finishes which helped the team build up its point total. Ronny Overby and Perry Culwell tied for third in the pole vault at 10 feet and 9 inches; Bobby Brown was third in the broad jump with a leap of 19 feet, five and three-fourths inches; Bax Callaway was fourth in the high jump at five feet, eight inches, and John Weaver was third in the 200-yard dash.

On Snyder's fourth place 440-yard relay team with Crawford were Mike Morris, Bobby Brown and John Weaver.

The Snyder Mile Relay Team

composed of Mike Bailey, Ronnie Maroney, Malcolm Bolger, John Weaver and Billy Andrews.

Ted Nelson, Andrews' crack sprint man, led his team to victory. He set a new meet record of 48.6 in the 440-yard dash. The other meet record set in the upper division was a 6-3 high jump by James Ruselet of Kermitt.

For Stockton won the lower division team championship with 99 points, while Taylor was second with 92 points.

In the upper division, Permian of Odessa was fourth with 88 points, followed in order, by Midland 48 3-5, Odessa High 38 3-7, Kermitt, 37 3-5, Big Spring 22, San Angelo 21 11-35.

Palmer In Lead By 1

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Arnold Palmer blistered the windy Sherwood Forest 6,700-yard course with a 3-under-par 67 Saturday to take a one-stroke lead at the midway point in the $20,000 Baton Rouge Open Golf Tournament.

Palmer, the defending champion who plays out of Miami, made four birdies on a 34-33 card which gave him a 36-hole total of 132.

Sixty-five pros and 11 amateurs survived the 147 cut-off and will compete in the 36-hole finale Sunday.

Bobby Nichols of Midland, Tex., turned in the day's best card with a 68 to climb to third with a 138.

Palmer bogied only on the sixth hole. Putting for a 66 on the 18th, his 8-footer hung on the rim as the gallery gasped.

A Note TO OUR Non Catholic Neighbors

Catholics and non-Catholics, as a rule, get along well together. Our families live amicably next door to each other and often become lifetime friends. Our sons fight side by side on every battlefield. We work together in the same shops and factories and we play together.

But in religion... where this close association does not exist... there is often a regrettable lack of understanding and a corresponding absence of good-will. Many people, for instance, have all sorts of false ideas about Catholics and the Catholic Church. They actually believe that Catholics worship statues... that Catholics do not believe in the Bible or that Catholics practice superstitions.

Fullmer Expected To Retain Crown

By CHARLES MAHER
Associated Press Sports Writer
LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The odds are 2-to-1 or thereabouts that one of this week's biggest losers in a town full of same will be Ray Robinson.

For, if the moneychangers reckon correctly when they say Gene Fullmer will retain his NBA middleweight title Saturday night, this might easily be the last championship fight in Robinson's long and distinguished career.

The 40-year-old challenger will try to win the middleweight title for the sixth time when he meets the 29-year-old champion before a national television audience (ABC) and about 5,000 paying customers at Convention Center. The hour is 7 p.m., Pacific Standard Time.

Robinson's great skills have diminished substantially since the days when he was called the best close Thursday night fighter in his profession, pound for pound. But the odds do not seem to give him much credit for fighting Fullmer to a draw only last December in Los Angeles.

On the other hand, that fight must have been a more punishing exercise for Robinson whose aging body took a savagely flogging all night, than for the much younger Fullmer, who easily survived Robinson's brilliant but infrequent flurries.

The champion, whose atrocious style is offset by his ferocious strength and durability, will be permitted this time to indulge his bullish manners all the way. Ordinarily, Manager Marv Jensen shoots instructions by the numbers from the corner. Saturday night he'll keep quiet.

"Last time," Gene said, "I felt I should be fighting a little harder. But Marv wanted me to be more cautious. This time I felt I would like to go as hard as I dared."

"I thought Gene was comfortably ahead last time," Jensen said. "The way it came out made me feel I should give him a chance to go on his own once, if he had lost because I held him back, I could never have forgiven myself."

Tar Heels In Squeaker

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP)—A back-handed goal by York Larese and a free throw by rookie Yogi Poteet in the closing seconds of overtime gave seventh-ranked North Carolina a 66-66 victory over Duke Saturday to win top place in the Atlantic Coast Conference regular season standings.

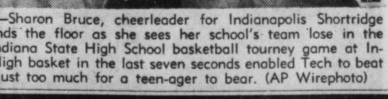

A capacity crowd of 4,500 and a regional television audience saw Coach Fran McGuire's Tar Heels gain revenge for an 81-77 defeat by Duke Feb. 5 at Durham that ended in a free-for-all.

Larese, Doug Moe and Dick Kopley, three great North Carolina players, participated in their final game. They were given a standing ovation prior to the game.

The regulation game ended in a 63-63 tie after Larese missed on a long set shot with four seconds left. Then, with the score tied at 66-all in overtime, Larese backhanded the ball into the basket for a goal with 1:04 remaining. Forty seconds were left when Poteet made good on his free throw.

Sixth-ranked Duke, playing without star Art Heyman who is under suspension along with two Tar Heel players for the Feb. 5 fight, built up a 10-point lead at one point in the first half. But North Carolina stormed back to gain a 35-31 halftime edge.

The Tar Heels held the upper hand in the early part of the second half before the Blue Devils began to make their bid.

Students Observing D. E. Week In Snyder

Members of the Distributive Education class of Snyder High School are now observing D. E. Week in Texas which will be climaxed with the state convention in Galveston this weekend.

Distributive Education was first started in the local school in 1949 and Jack Freeman of San Angelo is sixth coordinator of the program.

Under the program, the students attend regular classes at the high school during the morning. In the afternoon, they are employed in various capacities at local business establishments where they learn many phases of a vocation that could be their means of livelihood after they graduate from high school. In the class the student is given both group and individual instruction concerning his vocational choice. Students also complete basic course requirements for high school graduation and college entrance.

A student may continue D. E. in college. Employers make regular reports to Freeman on the progress being made by the students.

D. E. classes are open only to junior and senior students and those students who have taken the course have reported it gives them a good background for later work. Employers have reported themselves well-satisfied with the program as the students have become good employees and are doing good work in their places of business.

To provide a social side for the class, the D. E. club is organized and functions are held each year. An Employer - Employee banquet is the highlight of each year and is always well attended. The D. E. student invites his or her employer to the annual banquet and a special program is arranged. All are introduced and this has helped to strengthen the program in the school and with the businessmen.

Texas Solon Feuds With Missourian

AUSTIN (AP)—Some Texas and Missouri legislators are feuding over a milk bill pending here. Sen. Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo said an effort is being made in the Missouri Legislature to stop shipment of Texas cattle and citrus fruit into Missouri in reprisal if he pushed what he calls his "milk Sanitation Bill."

Hazlewood made public Saturday a letter addressed to Frank Carter, member of the Missouri General Assembly, in which he said all his does is require that "milk imported to Texas be produced under equivalent health regulations to that produced in Texas."

"All the publicity which you seem to be seeking causes me to wonder who is behind it," the senator wrote.

"Could it be possible that these same foreign milk companies who are dumping their milk into your state, according to a University of Missouri bulletin, are behind this publicity and are misinforming you? Apparently they are."

Hazlewood said millions of pounds of Missouri milk are being shipped into Texas now under inspection of city health departments at Dallas and San Antonio and he wants a statewide law.

"As to your threat to stop the shipment into Missouri of Texas cattle, citrus fruits and sugar, we down here in Texas would be glad to see you pass such a bill. If there is any way we could help you out, please let me know be-

Market's Pace Is Heaviest Since '33 As Prices Rise

NEW YORK (AP)—Stock market trading this week was at the heaviest pace since 1933 as prices churned irregularly higher, meeting increased resistance.

Because of Washington's Birthday there were only four trading sessions, so total volume was 20,696,610 shares compared with 23,021,955 for the full five-day trading week that preceded it.

Average daily trading, however, zoomed to 5,174,152 shares from 4,604,391 the prior week and this was the biggest since the week ended July 22, 1933, when the average was 5,400,500 shares.

The public's appetite for stocks was tremendous and, on top of this, there was steady buying by institutions such as mutual funds, pension funds and insurance companies, as well as trading from abroad.

As the week ended, a seat on the New York Stock Exchange was sold for $165,000, the highest price paid since Feb. 19, 1936, when a seat changed hands at $174,000.

The Dow Jones industrial average this week advanced 3.93 to 653.60.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose .90 to a new historic high of 237.10.

Standard & Poor's 500-stock index also closed the week at a new high of 62.30.

The Dow industrials were having trouble penetrating the rally top of 656.42 reached last June and were still substantially below their historic peak of 685.47 attained Jan. 5, 1960.

Of the 1,435 issues traded this week, 849 advanced and 457 declined.

The most active issue this week on the American Stock Exchange was Lefcourt Realty, up 3/4 at 3 on 232,800 shares.

A number of U.S. government and corporate bonds sold at their highest price and lowest yield in two years this month.

The corporate list surged upward without interruption to make its eighth straight weekly advance this year. The February gain was again the best since August, based on the AP averages. Industrials and utilities closed Friday at 1960-61 peaks and top grade investment issues were just a hair under their best.

Treasury bonds reversed January's slide to pick up as much as 2 1/2 or 3 points in the longest maturities with two sessions remaining in February. The improvement was almost as good as December's year-end rally. More than half the list closed a point or better above Feb. 1 quotations and many were up 1/2. Half a dozen or so gained 2 although the shortest maturities slipped 1-3/2 to 1/4.

Volume of corporate trading on the New York Stock Exchange for the holiday week fell to $29,226,000 par value from $33,464,500 but the daily average was up to $7,274,000 from $6,692,900.

Business In Winter Chill

AUSTIN (AP)—January's bitter weather helped chill Texas retail sales, which slumped 33 per cent below December and 3 per cent below January 1960, a state survey showed Saturday.

Retail sales last month were estimated at $717.9 million, said Ida Lambeth, research associate of the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

"Weather has a great effect on retail sales, and January's influence was not good. No one is expecting much of February either, but it is hoped that March will bring an upturn," the report said.

Sales of durable goods fell 24 per cent below December and 7 per cent from last January. Stores in this category include those dealing in cars and auto supplies, furniture, home appliances, lumber material and hardware.

Nondurable goods sales, including clothing, food, drugs, general merchandise, restaurant meals, gasoline and other service station merchandise, dropped 36 per cent from December and one per cent from a year ago.

Dallas reported retail sales dipped 8 per cent from last January. El Paso 7, San Antonio 6, Fort Worth 5, Houston 4, and Austin 1. Sales in El Paso were down 46 per cent from December, Fort Worth 28, Dallas 19, San Antonio 19, Houston 18 and Austin 18.

Shipping block at an early stage, among other problems, was a lack of air terminal facilities at Moscow which U.S. airlines believed necessary.

Resumption Of Talks Due

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has approved resumption of talks with Russia on a direct commercial air route between the United States and Russia.

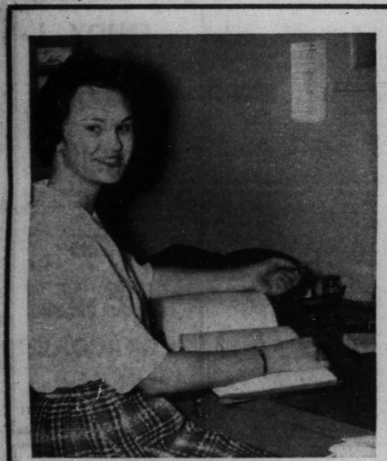

Officials here indicated Kennedy gave the go-ahead several weeks ago during a review of U.S. relations with Russia.

The Soviets have been told of the U.S. decision, authorities said. No Russian response has been received yet, so negotiations looking toward re-opening of the talks have not started, they said.

U.S.-Russian discussions of the matter have gone on spasmodically for several years. One stum-

WACKY IS THE WORD FOR IT—Jack Lemmon and Ricky Nelson are seen in "The Wackiest Ship In The Army," which comes to the Palace Theater here March 5-6-7.

Helen Hayes May Exit After Tour

By WILLIAM GLOVER
Associated Press Drama Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Helen Hayes is going on overseas tour that may be her stage farewell.
"If we make a good step forward for our theater in the world," the star says, "I feel very much that would be a good exit. I wish I could stop. My mother used to say, 'Always leave them wanting more.'"
"It would be nice to remember those words."
The expedition upon which Miss Hayes is embarked is the first theatrical project specifically set up under the State Department's cultural exchange program.
The 33-member troupe—formally called the Theatre Guild American Repertory Company—departs March 5 from Washington on a goodwill tour of 19 European cities, later goes to Latin America.
The three plays being done are "The Glass Menagerie," "The Skin of Our Teeth" and "The Miracle Worker."
The elaborate official title is already being boiled down in some promotional listings abroad as "The Helen Hayes Company," despite the presence of such other name players as June Havoc, Helen Menken and Leif Erickson.
The leading players of the company are being paid "considerably less" than they would receive from commercial enterprise, according to Robert C. Schmitzer, general manager. The pay of supporting actors is in line with established scale.
An impulse, says Miss Hayes, got her involved. Lawrence Langner, cofounder of the Theatre Guild, telephoned her last July to report the project, and extend an invitation. Previously she had been steadfastly refusing bids for new Broadway shows and two movies.
"That was the psychological moment," she admits. "I was sitting on my beautiful gallery, resting, remote and at peace. Everything in life seemed so easy. Looking across at the volcanoes, they seemed so eternal and I was feeling pretty eternal."

"I didn't stop to think I might be doing something that might reduce that durability."
"My first answer was based, not on going to Europe, but because the company would eventually play Mexico City. The length of the tour excited me, but at first the attitude was completely unrealistic—it was all yum-yum."
"Then the undertaking began to grow on me, and it was something I wanted to be a part of. And we've got to be pretty good. I won't be satisfied with seeing a pyramid if I feel we're not properly representing this country."
"An incredible number of stops on the itinerary are new to me," she says. "I thought that over the years I had seen a good part of Europe, but I must have been traveling in a small circle."
The ARC tour includes these stops: March 8, Madrid; 14, Brussels; 21, The Hague; 24, Belgrade; 28 Athens; April 1, Cairo; 5, Tel Aviv; 11, Milan; 18, Vienna; 25, West Berlin; May 2, Copenhagen; 6, Oslo; 12, Stockholm; 19, Helsinki; 23, Hamburg; 27, Rome; June 2, Geneva; 6, Turin, and 10, Paris.
Nudity is frowned upon in films, though mixed bathing is common in Japan. Oddly, nude swimming is permitted to be shown in Swedish films. The reasoning seems to be that if that is the way the Swedes swim, so be it.
The Japanese have a way of censoring some of the franker American films without cuts. If a line of dialogue is too bold, the Japanese subtitle is translated as an innocuous phrase. To those who don't understand English, the scene seems entirely innocent.
Many responsible persons here believe crime dramas of films and TV have contributed to this rise of violence. A close watch is kept on violence in TV—"The Untouchables" may never play here. Both incoming and Japan-made films are being closely watched.
Government censorship is forbidden by the postwar Japanese constitution. But the Japanese generally respect authority, and self-censorship is usually effected when the authorities wish it.
Film censoring in Japan is patterned after Hollywood's production code. The movie interests contribute to a censorship of motion picture code of ethics which passes on all scripts and finished films. More than 90 per cent of the nation's 8,000 theaters observe the code and won't play a film that doesn't bear a seal.
Violence bothers the Japanese censors but not sex. Films like "Butterfield 8," "Suddenly, Last Summer" and "From the Terrace" caused a stir in the United States for their raucous. They didn't raise a ripple here.
"But some of the Italian and French films give us trouble," said one of the commission members.
Brigitte Bardot's hops in and out of the shower have been cut.

Japanese Censor Getting Tougher

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer
TOKYO (AP)—Japanese movie censors, normally a mild lot, are adopting a new toughness toward violence in American and other foreign films.
Scenes of assault, especially with knives, will get close scrutiny and cuts will be made. The Japanese leaders are growing more and more alarmed with the rise of armed assaults by juveniles.
Many responsible persons here believe crime dramas of films and TV have contributed to this rise of violence. A close watch is kept on violence in TV—"The Untouchables" may never play here. Both incoming and Japan-made films are being closely watched.
Government censorship is forbidden by the postwar Japanese constitution. But the Japanese generally respect authority, and self-censorship is usually effected when the authorities wish it.
Film censoring in Japan is patterned after Hollywood's production code. The movie interests contribute to a censorship of motion picture code of ethics which passes on all scripts and finished films. More than 90 per cent of the nation's 8,000 theaters observe the code and won't play a film that doesn't bear a seal.
Violence bothers the Japanese censors but not sex. Films like "Butterfield 8," "Suddenly, Last Summer" and "From the Terrace" caused a stir in the United States for their raucous. They didn't raise a ripple here.
"But some of the Italian and French films give us trouble," said one of the commission members.
Brigitte Bardot's hops in and out of the shower have been cut.

Movie Casting Is Affected By Regime

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actor Robert Vaughn says the new administration in Washington has had some effect on movie casting.
The actor just returned from moviemaking in Munich to find that he was in demand for a new TV series called "The Boston Terrier."
"It's a combination of Jack Kennedy and Sherlock Holmes," reports Vaughn, who said he was chosen because the producer thinks he's the Kennedy type.
"But the payoff is that I'm interviewing a young girl this week who supposedly is a dead ringer for Mrs. Kennedy. She'll be the romantic interest in the series."

Navy To Drop 500 Reserve Captains

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some 500 captains in the naval reserve will be dropped from active participation in the reserve program, the Navy says.
An official statement Friday night said the action is part of efforts to bring the complement of officers in the active reserve within limits set by the Reserve Officer Personnel Act passed last year.

Randall Ambushed, McQueen Declares

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV—Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Steve McQueen insists that he's not hurt, but he's terribly, terribly angry. He believes that Josh Randall, the intrepid bounty hunter of "Wanted—Dead or Alive" is a murder victim, shot in the back.
Steve's show, a Western series which had made him a big star over the past three seasons, will disappear from the CBS lineup on the night of March 29.
"Personally," said Steve earnestly, "I'm glad to be out of it. But I get burned up when I think about what happened to the show. For two seasons it was in the Saturday night lineup—at 8:30, right after 'Perry Mason.'"
"We had a good, strong show with great ratings. Then this season, CBS made some sort of deal about 'Checkmate,' and they bounced us out and over to Wednesday nights."
"I knew then that the show would be trumped—Wednesday night is death row on CBS, and they stuck us opposite 'The Price Is Right.' I've felt for some time that Westerns are on the way out, and last year I wanted to leave the show. We got into a terrible hassle about it, but they wouldn't let me out. What still bothers me is that I was turning down picture offers from television."
The imminent demise of "Wanted—Dead or Alive," however, will not find McQueen joining the ranks of the unemployed.
"It's fantastic," he said. "I know that a swing from television to motion pictures is always a precarious thing. But two major studios have offered me great deals—one picture a year for five years for $1 million and a percentage of the profits, and I can do other things as well."
The McQueen show, of course, is neither the first nor will it be the last program to bite the dust as a result of tough competition from rival networks.
Both NBC and ABC have been attempting—unsuccessfully—to compete in various ways with CBS for Saturday night audiences. "Gunsmoke" and "Have Gun, Will Travel" remain two of the most successful shows on the air. Next season NBC will try old movies as its lure.
ABC's "The Untouchables" has cut down almost as many rival programs as it has crime overlords. One recent victim of Elliot Ness and his boys is "The Ann Sothern Show." This situation comedy had run along nicely for years, at first alternating with Jack Benny Show and then in an early mid-week time slot. This year it was moved into disastrous competition with the ABC crime show. After that, a move to an earlier spot in the Thursday night schedule didn't help much, and it is slated to disappear come spring.

NBC's Loretta Young Show is a TV fixture and did beautifully for years—until CBS came up this fall with "Candid Camera," which immediately shot up to the top of audience popularity lists—largely at Miss Young's expense.
"Rawhide" proved such tough competition that "Dan Raven" was one of the first casualties of the season. "Dante" has been criticized by a combination of "Andy Griffith Show" and "Adventures in Paradise."
"Before I knew what had hit me," says Pamela, "I was under contract to Mr. Wallis."
Wallis, who acts fast when he sees what he wants, signed her even before a screen test. He had good reason. Dolores Hart, another Wallis discovery, was slated for an important role in "Summer and Smoke." But the day Wallis saw Pamela, he got word that bad weather had caused delays with another picture Dolores was making in Italy.
"Next thing I knew I was in a screen test with Laurence Harvey and Geraldine Page, with Peter Glenville as director," says Pamela.
"Naturally, I was thrilled to have such a famous director as Mr. Glenville direct my screen test, but I actually was more excited about something else."
The something else was the fact that Glenville is the absentee landlord of the apartment building she shares with her mother in New York. Her mother says Pamela came home excited from the test.
"I asked her if she got the part," Grace Tiffin Wonso recalls, "but the only answer I got was: 'I don't know about the part, but Mr. Glenville said he personally would see that the leaky faucets will be fixed immediately.'"
She got the role, new faucets—and all without an acting lesson.

Model Gets A Fast Pact In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Pamela Tiffin's experience in Hollywood is the kind of story that can't be called anything but Cinderella.
In this Cinderella story, the fairy prince is producer Hal Wallis.
Pamela, 18, is a beautiful New York fashion model who came here with her mother to spend the Thanksgiving holidays. Wallis, discoverer of Shirley MaLaure, Jerry Lewis, Dean Martin, Elvis Presley and Charlton Heston, saw her.
"Before I knew what had hit me," says Pamela, "I was under contract to Mr. Wallis."

Trouble Dogs XI5 Rocket

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—Mechanical trouble seems to be dogging latest attempts to set a speed record in the XI5 rocket plane.
The XI5 was only four minutes away from being dropped from its B52 mother ship Friday when the flight was canceled—the second time this week.
The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said Friday's trouble was in the craft's stable platform, a gyroscopic device that helps the pilot—Air Force Maj. Bob White—determine altitude high in the sky.
If repairs are made in time, another flight may be attempted next Tuesday.
Failure of pressure in the pilot's cockpit aborted a speed attempt last Tuesday when the XI5 was three minutes from drop time.

American Shows Draw Huge Viewing Audience In Japan

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer
TOKYO (AP)—Edd Byrnes runs a comb through his golden locks and makes a crack to Roger Smith. But instead of hep Hollywood chatter, it comes out Japanese.
This is a shock to the American visitor, but it is old stuff to Japanese TV fans. American shows draw big audiences among home viewers; a recent survey showed 10 U. S. programs in the top 20 ratings. Steadily rising in popularity, especially with the younger crowd, is "77 Sunset Strip."
Westerns are a special favorite with Japanese audiences. Among them: "Wagon Train," "Lara," "Annie Oakley," "Rawhide," "Riflemen," "Bonanza." Strangely, the No. 1 show in the states, "Gunsmoke," is not as well liked here.
Nearly all of the filmed series are dubbed in Japanese. Exceptions are a few comedy shows, including "I Love Lucy." The reason is that the humor doesn't translate easily and has to be explained by titles.
American shows can be extremely popular in Japan, but not all of them are sure-fire. "Private Secretary" was a flop because the Japanese couldn't conceive of the idea of an aggressive working woman like the one Ann Sothern played.
"Dragnet" never caught on, perhaps because the Japanese did not dig the Jack Webb style of underplaying. Yet "Highway Patrol," less successful in the U. S., is a big hit here. Reason: Less subtlety and more action.
Japanese were disappointed in the June Allyson Show because she acted only as hostess in many of the dramas. They figure if an actress has her name on the program, she should appear in it.
TV critics tell me it would be well not to peddle oriental-type shows here. Such a series as "Hong Kong" would be laughed off the air because of Hollywood's conception of what the Far East is like.

More Control In New Grain Plan

By OVID A. MARTIN
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration's new feed grain program now before Congress would put Uncle Sam into virtually complete control of the nation's markets for corn, oats, barley and sorghum grains.

This control might well carry over into other products, including wheat, vegetable oil crops, hogs and beef cattle.

The program is designed to end overproduction of the feed grains, boost grower incomes and reduce government spending on farm plans. It has three key features—a boost in price supports for corn for growers placing 20 to 40 per cent of their feed grain acreages into conservation uses; a boost in soybean supports to encourage farmers to divert additional feed grain land to that crop; and authority for the government to dump surpluses on markets to punish farmers who do not cooperate with the program.

It is largely this latter provision that would put the grain markets under the government's thumb. Under present law, the government may not sell its grains for less than 105 per cent of the price support rate plus handling charges.

With the proposed $1.20 a bushel support for corn in effect, the government could sell none of this grain on the market under present law for less than around $1.28 to $1.30.

Thus, there is room for the markets themselves to determine prices below this government sales price.

Under the Kennedy administration proposal, the government could sell corn, for example, as low as $1.05 a bushel, or 15 cents below the proposed support rate and 20 to 25 cents below its present minimum sales price.

Under this authority, the government itself would be in a position to determine the market price within the provable price limits that would prevail under a free market system.

This plan was advanced with the idea of discouraging some farmers from planting full feed grain acreages on the gamble that the new program would of itself hold prices sufficiently high to justify, from their personal standpoints, nonparticipation in the program.

Under this proposal, the government could dump grains on the market to make prices for the noncooperators unprofitable.

But the effects of the proposal would extend beyond the growers. Affected would be processors, millers, storage concerns, and other buyers and users of the grains. The resulting increased uncertainty as to future prices would tend to discourage if not virtually halt operations in the grain futures markets.

Few processors or others would buy for future needs. They would tend to limit purchases to day-to-day needs. Accumulation of reserves would be hazardous from the price standpoint. There would be a tendency for the bulk of the grain storage and holding operations to move into the hands of the government.

"We have definitely smashed a narcotics ring operating in Jefferson County in what I believe to be one of the largest such operations ever conducted locally," Bauer said.

Levelland Area Has Real 'Heavy' Snow
LEVELLAND, Tex. (AP)—A 20-inch snow which collapsed roofs of four cotton warehouses here Monday weighed 11.02 pounds per square foot of surface area.

Artie Forehand, manager of the Levelland Co-op Gin, knows. He caught the snow on a 45 by 10 foot gin scale and weighed it.

Total weight for the 450 square feet of snow was 4,960 pounds.

Forehand, the Weather Bureau station keeper for Levelland, said the snow fell at a rate of 248 pounds per hour—that's two inches an hour—on his scales.

He figures the city got a little over 20 inches of snow on the basis of the melt-out of 2.11 inches of moisture from the fall at his official Weather Bureau gauge.

21 Arrested In Beaumont Dope Raids

BEAUMONT (AP)—Climaxing a carefully planned and executed investigation, into the sale of narcotics into Jefferson County, police and federal narcotics agents arrested 21 persons Friday night.

The officers said they were in possession of 449,800 milligrams of opium as a result. The stuff had an underworld retail value of $24,000 to $36,000.

The arrests cracked a big narcotics ring in this area, police said.

The arrests came after a series of widespread raids in Beaumont and nearby Port Arthur after a narcotics agents bought opium in Port Arthur Thursday and made plans to buy a much larger quantity last night.

Four Port Arthur men were arraigned before U. S. Comr. Jack Brookshire today. They are listed as Leon Handerson, 31; LeRoy LeBlance, 26; Max West, 62; and Thomas A. Fulford, 31.

The other 17 persons arrested included some women. Two are suspected by police of planning to hijack a dope peddler and a narcotics agent, who made a "buy" of opium Thursday. All were held in the city jail for further investigation.

Of the 21 arrested, 19 were seized in Beaumont and the other 2 in Port Arthur.

Police Chief Willis Bauer said he could not yet determine exactly how many of the 17 will be charged until inquiries have been completed.

"We have definitely smashed a narcotics ring operating in Jefferson County in what I believe to be one of the largest such operations ever conducted locally," Bauer said.

Improved Weather Conditions Give Farmers Chance To Plow

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—Improved weather heartened Texas farmers and ranchmen last week but soon ended with heavy rains in West Texas and light to heavy rains in most other areas.

More favorable conditions, especially in the west and south, for a time gave farmers a chance to plow. Small grain growth progressed, director John Hutchison of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service said at midweek.

District agent Silver Whitsett at Richmond surmised up the situation for most other areas: "Farmers are anxiously watching the skies as heavy rains again flood their fields and pastures. All outside activities have again been halted, land preparation delayed, heavy feeding continues as water soaked pastures make little progress and dairy production is being affected."

His district covers the upper Gulf Coast area.

Open weather speeded cotton and grain sorghum planting in the Lower Rio Grande Valley. Vegetables were making good growth, pastures were improving and livestock were in good condition.

Rains delayed early corn planting and caused cattle to shrink more in South Central Texas.

Some pneumonia and calf losses have been reported in the central area. Heavy feeding continued.

Heavy rains stopped all field work and overflowed creeks in East Texas. Little land has been prepared. Oats and clover did respond to last week's more favorable weather. Plum trees are beginning to bloom.

Rains ended a warming trend which was helping grains and pastures in Northeast Texas. Some land was prepared last week and limited planting was done but the rain and cold will again force delays. Feeding continues.

The colder wet weather prevented grazing of grain fields and kept stockmen busy with feeding in North Central Texas. Sunshine helped grains but a lot more is needed. Livestock are in fair condition.

Moisture was short in the Panhandle where wheat is beginning to grow. Subsoil moisture is adequate. Range and livestock conditions were excellent. Plowing is getting into full swing.

Heavy snow covered most of the South Plains (Lubbock) early in the week and halted farming activities which had made good progress for six days. Grain was in excellent condition. Livestock were in good shape.

Orbit Hope Abandoned
CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Space scientists Saturday abandoned a slim hope that orbit was achieved by the "radio brain" satellite launched from this spaceport Friday night.

The 75-pound sphere was hurled skyward in the nose of a four-stage Juno II rocket. Its mission was to study the effect on communications of the ionosphere, an electrically charged region which surrounds the earth.

Radio contact was lost with the vehicle 20 or 30 seconds after first-stage burnout. But throughout the night tracking stations around the world scanned the skies on the slight chance an orbit was achieved.

When the search proved fruitless, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced Saturday that "all available evidence shows it is highly improbable that the ionosphere-beacon satellite achieved orbit. There was a malfunction shortly after booster separation. Because of loss of radio transmission from the satellite, the sequence of events that followed could not be determined immediately."

"Since then, no tracking station has acquired data that would indicate an orbit."

Operating Funds Available At FHA

Additional funds have been made available to help meet the needs of eligible farmers who need operating money to carry out their farming operations. Joseph E. Box, County Supervisor for the Farmers Home Administration, announced Saturday.

Box said that a $35,000,000 contingency fund provided by the 1961 Agricultural Appropriations Act has just been released to the Farmers Home Administration to meet the growing demand for credit.

This move was taken by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Box said, in an effort to make certain, within the authorities and funds available, that no qualified family-type farmer will be required to give up farming because of his inability to finance his 1961 operations.

Because of high operating costs and unfavorable margins of profits many farmers have exhausted their regular sources of farm operating credit. The amount of operating loans made so far this year by the Farmers Home Administration totals 20 per cent higher than last year. The credit Agency's biggest lending season is just ahead as farmers prepare to start their spring work.

Most of the applications so far this year received in Scurry and Kent Counties are for loans to purchase cattle, better farming equipment and other farm operating expenses.

The Farmers Home Administration makes operating loans primarily to help eligible farm families make improved use of their land and labor resources on family-type farms and make needed changes in their farming systems.

Most of the changes call for adopting better farming practices and improving the efficiency of their farming operations. Loans may also be made to qualified farmers who carry on smaller than family-type operations.

Operating loans help farmers pay for equipment, livestock, feed, seed, fertilizer, tractor fuel and other farm and home operating needs, including the refinancing of chattel debts. Loans are scheduled for repayment in accordance with the borrower's ability to repay, over periods up to seven years. The interest on these loans is at the rate of five per cent.

Further information on these loans may be obtained from the County Office of the Farmers Home Administration located at 909 Twenty-fifth Street, Diamond M Building.

Who's Who Students For 1960-61 Are Named For Snyder High School Annual

Eighteen members of the Senior Class were recently chosen to Who's Who in Snyder High School by members of the faculty. Choices were based on leadership, good character, attitude, scholarship, and initiative and cooperation.

Those receiving the honor this year were Leatha Brice, Keitha Walton, Ginny Sims, Judy Wallace, Kathleen Mott, Linda Gayle Miller, Pat Murphy, Sue Taylor, Margaret Miller, Jackie Dean, Dickie Clemmer, Mike Moffett, Mike Reed, David Wiman, Tommy Minton, Reg Scarborough, Dickie Martin and Charles Gladson. Leatha Brice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Brice, Route 3, was this year's football sweetheart. She is an officer and active member of the Future Teachers of America and the Art Club. Keitha Walton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Walton, 3712 Avenue U, has been an active member of the Student Council and vice president of the Theatians. Kathleen Mott, this year's senior class favorite, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Virgil Mott, 2202 Sunset. She is a member of the Aviation Club and received the honor of being choir favorite for this year. Linda Gayle Miller, this year's Miss Snyder High School, is the daughter of Mrs. Dorothy Miller, 2225 Sunset. She is an active member of the Spanish Club and was junior class favorite last year. Pat Murphy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Murphy, Dunn, has been an active member of the Student Council, news editor of the Tiger's Tale and a member of the Future Teachers Club. Sue Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Taylor, 307 Thirty-fourth Street, is editor of the Creative Writing Club and an active member in PTA.

CHIC SPORTSWEAR—Multicolored boucle yarn forms an overcheck on the soft 100 per cent wool fabric used for this sports outfit, giving a very pretty effect. The topper is sleeveless with shallow pockets, high neck and buttons down the center back. Matching slacks are tapered, close with a side zipper hidden by inset pockets, and are shaped for a trim fit at the waistline. With them is shown a matching pullover sweater with scalloped edging the collar and long sleeves that may be worn pushed up.

If a cake recipe specifies shortening and you want to use butter instead, decrease the amount of liquid called for by 1 tablespoon for every 1/4 to 3/8 cup shortening called for.

FOLLIES OF 1961 PROJECT OF MARTHA ANN WOMAN'S CLUB—In 1956 Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Cogdell contributed a quarter-million dollars in tribute to their 13-year-old daughter who died in 1939. The clubhouse, dedicated to the woman of Snyder is a living tribute to the little girl. The Martha Ann Woman's Club is one of the most modern and complete women's clubs in Texas—if not THE most modern and complete. Nothing was spared either in construction of the building or in furnishing it. The women's clubs furnished the building at a cost of $40,000. On April 14 and 15 this year, again the women's clubs will sponsor a project—The Follies of 1961, with proceeds to help with the operating expenses of the club. The Martha Ann Woman's Club is a club for the women of Scurry County, and any woman wishing to become a member is asked to call the membership chairman, Mrs. R. H. Odom, Jr., at HI 3-3410.

ON THE HOUSE

AP Newsfeatures
WHEN THE TITLE to a house is not clear, there is always the possibility that someone may institute suit against the person who owns—or thinks he owns—the property. In some cases, such a suit may result in the loss of the property; almost always it causes great expense, legal entanglements and inconvenience.

Thus we have the title search, by examination of public records tracing previous ownership back into history. The search also checks other methods of record for such defects as unpaid taxes, liens, assessments, easements and covenants restricting use of the property.

The title search, however, may not disclose certain facts which could cause complications. These include signatures obtained by fraud or coercion, a forged will or other document, a deed executed by a person without proper authority, and so on.

Because of the possibility that a title search is not infallible, it is necessary to have title insurance, which protects against any claim due to defect in title. The title insurance company not only assumes the responsibility of providing all legal defense at its own expense, but in the event of loss, pays the full amount.

We were discussing this subject the other day with Abner Katz, the president of one of the nation's largest title insurance companies, who pointed out that most homeowners are unaware that they do not have any form of title insurance. What they have really paid for is mortgage title insurance, which protects the bank or other lending institution that supplied the mortgage. If the homeowner takes out insurance for himself—called fee title insurance—at the same time as the mortgage title insurance is obtained, the extra cost is small.

This is but another illustration of the wisdom of using the services of an attorney when purchasing a home. He can advise you of possible legal pitfalls that could prove major headaches later on. When you're making an investment of $20,000, let us say, it's a good idea to pay an expert $200 (the lawyer's fee usually is one per cent of the purchase price) to protect your interests.

Conservation Is Topic For Twentieth Century Program
The Twentieth Century Club met this week in the home of Mrs. Lovella Stoker for its regular meeting, with 16 members present.

After a short business session, program "Conservation is Everybody's Responsibility" was presented by Mrs. Wanda Hamblin, assisted by Mrs. Mabel Huckabee. Mrs. Hamblin said in part: "With our population doubling within the next 50 years, and with our standard of living continuing to rise, we can be sure our demand for food and water consumption will be greatly increased."

"Much of our malnutrition today is from over-eating and over weight. A part of the problem of living with ourselves of resolution of our water needs must be solved by increased efficiency in the use of water, doing away with wasteful practices and a greater re-use of water. The amount of water on earth remains, basically the same through the cycle from rain to river to ocean to rain.

"Man is proud of his accomplishments in exploring space, but he has only begun to explore the four thousand mile depths of the earth's soil—he has only explored four miles down. We can only guess what lies beneath.

"Conservation is more than saving the soil and water—it is a way of life and a way of thinking, beginning with man himself and his attitude toward keeping his surroundings in good repair.

"In Texas there are 511 lakes and reservoirs. Texas has more all than water! Simple and sensible practices save our valuable water."

Mrs. Huckabee gave an interesting report on numerous lakes, dams and water reservoirs in Texas. "The first dam in Texas was built near Austin on the Colorado River in 1893. It lasted only until 1900. "Lake Texoma is the largest lake in Texas and one of the largest in the U. S. In addition to flood control, it is a well-known recreation center and fishing spot as well.

"Lake Kemp and Wichita Lake, near Wichita Falls, flow into the Red River. Possum Kingdom Dam, near Graham is also famous for recreation and fishing. The new Lake Whitney dam, above Waco, is one of the larger lakes in Texas. The Falcon Dam on the Rio Grande River is the only international dam in the world. It is 40 miles long."

Other lakes mentioned by Mrs. Huckabee were our own Lake Thomas, Lake Buchanan, which is about the size of the Sea of Galilee, Red Bluff on the Red River, Eagle Mountain Lake, Colorado City Lake and others.

A parliamentary drill was given by Mrs. C. O. Holder, followed by refreshments served by the hostess.

Because they are knitted and of naturally resilient wool they fit like a second skin even after being pulled on and off many times. Certainly it's a "fun" outfit for private pools or the beach and very popular in early orders. Color combinations are many and varied, such as black with white; shocking pink and orange; grey and white; green and blue; mocha and black; blue and green and others.

Be It Brief Or Covered You Will Look Ladylike In Your New Swimsuit

Your new 1961 swim suit may be brief or it may be more of a full-length suit. Both are designed to cover-up than you have seen for a season or so. It may reach practically to your chin in front and be cut below the waistline in back, V-ed, squared or rounded. But you may be sure that it will be flattering and in significant numbers it will be an all wool knit. The new knitted wools are new, versatile, pretty and include, of course, the natural resilience, shape-retention, long wearing qualities and color-fastness inherent in the fiber.

The two-piece suit shows signs of outdistancing the one-piece this year and does include various bikini styles. The nude, nude bikini, however - at the start of the season - has lost ground to the more flattering two-pieces with more inches here and there. One quite new-looking bikini has a pull-on bra with one rather wide shoulder strap and none over the other. The brief trunks also roll on but have a bit of a leg and are bound all around, as is the bra, with a

The Gardeners Corner

By EARL ARONSON
THE NEW PRESIDENT of the United States will have a new rose at the White House this spring. President John F. Kennedy promised a little girl that he would plant the rose if he was elected.

The rose is Duet, a hybrid tea that combines salmon-pink on the inner surface of the petal and crimson on the outer side. Duet was an All-American Rose Selection for 1961.

The little girl is Mindy Naud, 5, who dad is TV Producer Thomas Naud. While Kennedy was campaigning in New York's Nassau County last fall, Mindy gave the senator a Duet plant and he made his promise.

The new President and his wife enjoy raising roses, friends report. The garden of their Georgetown home contains many varieties and Mrs. Kennedy frequently uses rose arrangements.

Living in the northeast as we do, we want to tell southern gardeners about a new book written just for their edification. It is called "Your Garden in the South," by Hamilton Mason (Van Nostrand Books).

Grade Changes Can Mean Your Trees Won't Make Grade

Trees breathe all over—from top branch to lowest root. That's because they have no respiratory system comparable to that of animals. All this spells trouble for favorite trees when grade levels are changed. Like humans, they'll smother if the air supply is cut off. When fill is placed over roots, odds are trees may decline or even die unless corrective steps are taken.

You should take no chances despite reassuring words of building and grading contractors that no harm is being done. Consult the professional tree man if home building operations or repairs result in root covering. The technique of assuring trees an unrestricted channel of fresh air is somewhat involved.

All the soil around the tree roots first must be cultivated and fertilized. The latter is to help build up the tree's vitality. Then proper drainage must be assured. This is accomplished by laying four-inch drain tile from near the lowest root level to a suitable drainage point. Next, gravel is placed in a 15 to 18-inch wide collar around the trunk to the new ground level. From here on in, the rest is easy. This means filling over the gravel and around the tiles with suitable soil until the desired grade is reached. Don't trust to the tree's supposed hardiness to avoid this procedure. It could mean the end of the trail for your arborist.

Let's Have A H-e-a-r-t-y Party

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newfeatures

Valentine's Day is a wonderful reason to have a gay, romantic party.

Invite an equal number of boys and girls. But ask them to RSVP, so that there will not be an extra. Start the party off with a good ice-breaker like giving each guest a new romantic name. Pull two vases or paper buckets at the door, one for girls, one for boys. Each guest will select his new name from a bucket. You could have someone dressed in a Roman tog, carrying out the idea of the Romans' Lupercalia day, and have them bless the guest with his new name.

The buckets could hold names of romantic pairs, starting with Adam and Eve. Any that you can think of—Dante and Beatrice, Tristan and Isolde, Wally and Edwidge, Robert Browning and Elizabeth—will get the party off to a romantic start.

Simple Favor

The new idea of a coordinated party items make it simple to theme from invitations to place cards and favors. One attractive set features a centerpiece of two lacey hearts on a honeycomb platform of pink paper. Its quaint Eighteenth Century figures grouped at the base of the hearts, and the amusing little cupid hanging wreaths on the heart are typical of the type of Valentines that grandmothers adored.

If little favors or prizes are given wrap them in Valentine paper. A pretty paper is one decorated with miniatures of old Valentines.

Hearty Prizes

Prizes for girls could be heart-shaped pin cushions (made with felt and stuffed with cotton), or heart-decorated handkerchiefs.

Boys' prizes could include ties decorated with different sized hearts. Inexpensive solid colored ties may be heart-stitched with red silk floss. Artistic ties might run arrows through their hearts.

Food needn't be fancy but should be substantial. The menu depends on your budget, and the hour you plan to serve the food.

Good stick-to-the-ribs food includes those old combinations—hot dogs and potato salad, chile con carne and spaghetti, chicken alla king and rice, curried hard boiled eggs and noodles.

You Make It

Whenever you can combine an interesting food with starch, you have a hit-the-spot item that is filling. A platter of cold cuts in good party fare, but likely to be expensive when placed at the disposal of a pack of hungry boys.

Treat Them As Ladies

OTTAWA, (AP)—The only woman on the National Parole Board thinks the 100-odd women prisoners of Kingston Penitentiary should wear "something soft and feminine."

This was the spontaneous reaction of Mary Louise Lynch upon hearing that the women there are restricted to blue or brown in a penal version of the sack dress.

One of Canada's few corporation lawyers, Miss Lynch has won wide respect in the profession.

Her support for the proposal to provide less austere garb for women prisoners is backed by penal authorities who regard it as a means of encouraging self-esteem and good behavior.

"If we want them to behave as ladies when they are released, we should treat them as ladies," one official says.

Miss Lynch, one of Canada's few corporation lawyers, this year terminated a 27-year association with a law firm in Saint John, New Brunswick, to take the job on the five-member parole board.

"I think it is a good idea to start a new career in the last decade of one's professional life," says the soft-spoken woman, doesn't mind admitting she has had her 50th birthday.

Note to Brides: If you are halving a recipe, and you want to divide an egg do it this way. Beat the egg until the yolk and white are combined and measure the whole thing; then use half the measure.

If you're plagued with rotting window sash in your garage, replace old windows with glass block panels. Resistant to weather damage, glass block needs a minimum of maintenance.

SMOTHERED VEAL cutlets are particularly delicious with a savory mushroom sauce made by adding two and a half cups of milk to a package of mushroom soup mix.

Cheese Fantans

1 package dry yeast
1/4 cup warm water
1 cup scalded milk
1-3 cup sugar
1-3 cup butter
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup grated cheddar cheese
3 1/2 to 4 cups sifted flour
1 egg (slightly beaten)
1 cup rolled oats
Grated Parmesan cheese and poppy seed

Soften yeast in warm water. Stir butter, salt and cheese until butter melts; cool to lukewarm. Stir in 1 cup flour; add softened yeast, egg and oats. Stir in enough more flour to make a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board or canvas and knead until satiny, about 10 minutes. Round dough into ball; place in greased bowl; brush lightly with melted shortening. Cover and let rise in warm place until double in size, about 1 hour. Punch down dough; turn out on lightly floured board. Cover and let rest 10 minutes. Divide dough into 3 parts; roll one part to form a 9 by 12-inch rectangle. Brush with extra melted butter; sprinkle with grated Parmesan. Cut into six 1 1/2-inch strips; pile together. Cut into 8 pieces, each 1 1/2 inches long. Place cut side up in greased muffin cups. Repeat process with remaining two-thirds of dough. Cover and let rise in warm place until nearly double in size, about 45 minutes. Brush with extra melted butter; sprinkle with poppy seed. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 18 to 20 minutes.

"Tasty" Tooth Brushes Encourage Good Habits

Even children who must be prodded to brush their teeth should be pushovers for the ice cream toothbrushes. These "flavored" delights—made according to American Dental Association standards—come in chocolate, vanilla, orange, lemon, lime, and strawberry. Although they have little or no taste to conflict with a dentifrice, these brushes are colored and scented to give the impression of ice cream flavors. The odors are impregnated in plastic handles, and the colored package caps are also scented. These enticements to cleanliness, which are made with multi-color nylon filaments, come in two sizes—suited to youths and children.

If you like sponge cake that is on the moist side, choose a recipe that includes liquid in the ingredients.

Delicious Mushroom Sauce Makes Tasty Meat Dish

An elegant mushroom sauce that is quick and easy to make becomes a great asset in the skillful cook's repertoire. Many are the dishes it transforms into culinary triumphs. Where once upon a time, you had to prepare the mushrooms, chop them minutely, saute them in butter, stir in flour, seasoning and milk and then cook until thickened, you can now make a mushroom sauce in two easy steps. You simply add two and a half cups of milk to a convenient package of mushroom soup mix and heat it, stirring the while, until the sauce thickens.

If you want to perk up tired mid-winter appetites in a jiffy try the recipe below for smothered veal cutlets which features this delicately flavored mushroom sauce.

SMOTHERED VEAL CUTLETS
4 veal cutlets (1 1/2-1 pounds)
1 egg
2 tablespoons milk
1/2 cup packaged dry bread crumbs
3 tablespoons shortening
1 package mushroom soup mix
2 1/2 cups milk

Wipe cutlets dry. Combine egg and milk; beat lightly. Dip cutlets in egg mixture then in bread crumbs. Heat shortening in a heavy skillet and brown cutlets on both sides. Remove browned meat from skillet. Stir soup mix and then milk into pan drippings; heat, stirring until sauce thickens. Repeat cutlets in sauce then cover and simmer for 30 to 40 minutes or until fork tender. Makes 4 servings.
