DATE TIME

Telephones ring and excitement buzzes through the air as teenagers huddle and discuss that most important date—the first big formal dance. Naturally, next to boys, the favorite topic for chitchat—the kind of dress to be worn. The long dress wins the vote. It is agreed by all that it must be as pretty as a picture. Shown here, in a pale pink organza of Allied Chemical's Caprolan® nylon, is the dress with the look most desired. Full and swinging, it has its own built-in petticoat of tier upon tier of cotton net ruffles. Gilt-edged butterflies of a paler pink perch at the waist and light on the bouffant skirt. A full, fluttering butterfly bow of Caprolan® nylon organza at the waist back completes the very pretty look. From Nadine Formals.

About 500 persons are expected to attend the three day assembly in Abilene.

Outdoor Project Combines Skill and Science

Planning and planting a garden is a perennial task of 4-H Club members. Last year nearly 212,000 gardens flourished under the green thumb of 4-H boys and girls.

With spring well along and summer just ahead, the 1965 national 4-H Garden program is off to a good start. Some gardens will beautify, and some will nourish. But whatever the garden—large or small—the main goal is to produce a fine harvest of boys and girls with new skills and scientific know-how.

There is a great deal of work between planting the seeds and harvesting the crops. Controlling weeds and insects, keeping records, creating exhibits and giving demonstrations are a few of the jobs that must be done. The most successful projects will be judged for awards.

Recognition will be provided for the 20th year by Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Company, Farm Equipment Division, sponsor of the national 4-H Garden program.

During the National 4-H Club Congress at Chicago next fall, company officials will personally present eight $500 educational scholarships to the highest ranking 4-H gardeners in the nation. The Congress trip will go to the boy or girl having the best project in the entire state. Medals will be given to a blue award group in each county. All winners will be selected by the Cooperative Extension Service which supervises 4-H.

The young gardeners agree that getting close to nature is most gratifying, and tending a garden provides healthful outdoor exercise as well. A flare for landscaping or a scientific curiosity also can be satisfied.

ABOUT SPORTS E. W. Roderick Named District Farmer Apr. 8th

By BOB LAURICK

Too often, too many of us expect too much out of our sports minded child. And way too often this results in the sad fact that a good ball player feels he is being pushed into the sport and builds a field of resentment towards that particular game and sometimes all sports.

Then dad wonders "Why can't that kid be like me, I played all kinds of sports in my younger days and don't mind saying so. I think I was good." No, you can't make him or her play sports. It's a thing most kids just want to do and as they grow older it becomes part of them and then they try to follow it through school and into a professional field.

But for them to do this they must get the proper help from the very beginning. From the first ball he learns to hold, right on through. That's why it's important to have a good and understanding umpire, coach, and manager on the field when these kids get out there. These men (and in some cases ladies) must know what they are doing first before they try to tell the youngsters what to do. They must know the rules inside and out. Why? So if a boy does something wrong, he can tell him the right way. If he doesn't understand a rule it can be explained to him in full. A coach can not and must not tell a boy what to do, and if he does it, wrong, chew him out for it. He must be able to explain it to him in detail and then show him. What? You're too old to show a 10 year old how to slide? Come now, I thought you knew it all and did it all before. Still say you're too old? Then what are you doing out there in the first place? No one else would help? I'll bet you one thing, if the spectators would learn to leave the coaches, managers and umpiring to the ones who should be doing it, I'll bet you could get all the experienced help out there that is needed.

You know from your own home life, that if you teach your child he'll come nearer to doing it right than if he was constantly chewed out about doing it. Why not do it on the baseball field. Start with the fundamentals and then to the finer points of the sport.

Teach the future players of our school and hope for a few professionals the right way. The easy way at the right time. Teach the players to respect the coach, manager and umpires. They will automatically respect the fans and then they can surely respect themselves.

"LET'S GO"

If a dramatic improvement is made in an automobile, a household appliance, a camera, or some other device
in common use, we can all see it at once.

But that is not true in other fields. Take for instance, electricity. So far as the householder is concerned nothing has changed. The power flowed at the turn of a switch a generation ago; it flows at the turn of a switch today.

Yet, though it is invisible and little known to most of us, the progress made in the art of producing and distributing electricity has been one of the great technological miracles of the age.

It extends through every phase of the industry's operations. Extra-high-voltage transmission lines are one outstanding example. These make it possible to interconnect power systems covering vast geographical areas. Power may be moved back and forth as demand within those areas rises and falls because of seasonal or other considerations. Thus, the utmost reliability of service is assured, along with peak economy.

The great interconnected systems use every energy source to the best advantage — coal, oil, falling water and, to a steadily increasing extent, the atom. Along with this, brand new possibilities are opening up — such as a dual purpose plant which, while producing power, will also turn salt water into fresh.

The electric industry doesn't know what the words "stand still" mean. But it completely understands the command "let's go."

TAX-RAISING SPREE

Tax reduction, accomplished and pending, are given a vast amount of publicity. That isn't true of tax increases.

As an example, increases in the social security tax will, for large numbers of taxpayers, wholly or largely offset any federal reductions. And that is not all. Here is what U. S. News & World Report has to say: "State legislatures are headed for a tax-raising spree like nothing ever seen before if they follow their Governors. All across the country, Governors are calling for increases in sales taxes, income taxes, cigarette taxes, many others."
More money, it seems, is wanted for just about everything — highways, education, health programs, welfare plans, and so on.

The much heralded federal tax reductions are designed to spur consumer spending, business investment and generally to pour new financial horsepower into the economy. But it is certainly obvious that tax programs which put dollars into one pocket, while taking as many or more dollars from another pocket, can hardly prove helpful.

The need is greater than ever for cost-cutting that will permit real and honest overall tax reduction. And that goes for government at all levels, from Washington down to the villages.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

If you like to eat, the American Meat Institute offers the following food for thought. Meat has always been important in man's life and the featured dish at his table.

For centuries, ham has been one of the choices for springtime feast days. It was a pagan custom to celebrate the advent of spring and, because supplies of fresh meat were low at this time of year, choice pork cuts were preserved in the winter for the feasts. The use of lamb for such occasions traces back to the dawn days of Greece and Asia Minor. The lamb was the first animal born in the spring and became the symbol of new life and purity.
For these reasons, it was a sacrificial animal and is referred to often in the Old Testament.

Today, meat still holds top spot on the family menu, and tips on diet, cuts and care of meat are of top interest to every housewife. If you don't expect to use ground beef within two days after purchase, freeze it. Make individual patties and wrap them in freezer wrap. You can then cook a patty on short notice without having to thaw the whole package.

To feel your tip-top best in the morning, you need to eat a "real" breakfast, protein foods such as bacon, eggs, ham and sausage. Your most productive hours usually are in the morning. If a person eats a good breakfast every morning, he'll not be tempted to stuff at other meals of the day or eat in-between meal snacks.

If you're looking for economy, you'll find pork shoulder cuts are usually priced lower than the more demanded leg cuts. All pork cuts are better-than-ever meat selections because today's hog-raisers are producing lighter, leaner animals.

Although an ancient food, meat is still man's favorite palate pleaser and a top food value.

By TOM ANDERSON
Editor
Farm and Ranch Magazine
Nashville, Tenn

REPLY TO THE NCC

Mr. Fletcher Coates, Executive Director, Dept. of Information,
The National Council of Churches of Christ in USA
475 Riverside Drive
New York, New York, 10027

Dear Mr. Coates:

"I read a letter that you wrote to Mr. Tom Anderson on January 29, in which you deny some of the most famous activities of the National Council of Churches such as their effort to repeal the McCarran-Walter Immigration Act, to abolish Congressional Committees investigating communism, etc., etc.

"What Tom Anderson said about you is true and it is my sincere hope and prayer that more courageous editorial writers like Tom Anderson can get the truth out about you people.

"I am serving notice on you characters right now that I am coming out with a brand new book with your own quotes in which you do all these things of which Anderson accuses you, and even more. When I read letters like you wrote Tom Anderson, I am more determined than ever to step up my fight against religious apostasy which is perverting the Gospel and destroying the church and brother, you are a knowledgeable part of it or an ignorant extremist to say the least.

Yours for God and our chilren,
Billy James Hargis"

The above letter speaks for itself and is an outgrowth of several columns of "Straight Talk" regarding the National Council of Churches. The Executive Director of the Dept. of Information, Mr. Coates, wrote the Editors of newspapers carrying this column, saying I was a deliberate liar.

I thought perhaps I had made a mistake in saying that the film (showing at New York's World's Fair) depicting Christ as a clown was sponsored by NCC. I apologized, but according to the following letter to me from Dr. Hargis, I was right.
Dr. Hargis writes:

"You haven't lied about the National Council of Churches.
They are objecting to you telling the truth about them. I don't know what statement in your column is to be the lie.
I don't see any corrections that need to be made. The National Council of Churches is a clever organization. They do all these terrible things through various committees and fronts, all of which are headed by the hierarchy of the National Council of Churches. Then when they get caught they claim they don't know anything about it.

"For instance, let me point out several things to you: The National Council of Churches
do, in fact, own that Protestant exhibit at the New York World's Fair. It is hypocritical to say the least, for them to claim that the New York Council of Churches and the National Council of Churches are not the same thing. They share are across the row from each the same offices. Their desks other. They are in the same who they pair their rent to and he said, "We pay it the National Council of Churches." The National Council of Churches is trying to disavow their own operation and they can't do it.

"What you said about them
is true.

Yours For God
and our children
Billy James Hargis

Engineers 'Shrink' Big Motor

MILWAUKEE, Wis. — Here's a switch on the "trend toward ness, thanks to engineering ingenuity. The motor at left is more than half the size of the other, yet each machine pro-2,000 horsepower. Allis-Chalmers designed the new model to start production in May in sizes ranging from 250 through horsepower. Company officials call it the biggest design advance in years for the induction motor, workhorse of heavy indus-ponents, is more easily assembled, more flexible and less exp-

One of America's most valuable coins is the "king of silver dollars" minted 29 years after the date it bears on its face.

This coin — the 1804 silver dollar — has been a center of numismatic controversy for more than 100 years. Fifteen specimens are known to exist, and each is valued at upwards of $30,000.

"For a long time this coin was thought to be even more rare, and was regarded as the most valuable of all American coins," says Ken Bressett, numismatic editor at Whitman Publishing Co., Racine, Wis., the nation's leading manufacturer of coin collecting supplies.

"But more recent evidence indicates the coin was not even minted in 1804, and is not as rare as once believed."

This evidence, in the form of a scholarly and detailed book on the subject, was compiled by Bressett, with co-author Eric P. Newman and other research associates.

It was established that eight silver dollars bearing the date 1804 were minted 20 years later, in 1824. (Silver dollars actually minted in 1804 bore the date 1803.)

"Why the deception concerning the 1804 date?"

"The government was preparing a set of presentation coins for a visiting foreign potentate," says Bressett, "and since no silver dollars were being minted in that year — 1834 — it was decided to round out the set with a rare date: 1804 was selected. Two of the coins went into the set, and the rest were sold to collectors."

Value of the 1804 "cartwheel" skyrocketed when the word got around in coin collecting circles. In 1859, the deception was compounded when seven duplicates were minted and sold to collectors at premium prices.

Laws were passed to stop further practices of this nature, but in time the seven counterfeit coins became as valuable as the eight originals.

"Interest has always been high in this coin because of its unusual history. The combination of rarity plus demand has made the 1804 silver dollar one of our most valued coins," Bressett concludes.

Dwayne L. Turner In Quick Kick VII On Vieques Island

Seaman Apprentice Dwayne L. Turner, USN, son of Mrs. Alice M. Turner of 416 Ave D, Burk Burnett, is taking part in Exercise Quick Kick VII, aboard the amphibious assault ship USS Guadalcanal.

Quick Kick VII is a joint services operation on Vieques Island, off the southeastern coast of Puerto Rico, March 22 through April 10th.

The exercise is designed to test tactical concepts in joint operations by the Unified Atlantic Command, and is using an actual amphibious landing and airborne assault for the tests.

Approximately 3,500 Marines, 3,000 sailors, 2,500 soldiers and 1,000 airmen are participating.

Exercise D-Day is set for April 9th, with air strikes by Marine Corps and Air Force aircraft starting at 6 a. m. along with shore bombardment by naval ships to "soften up enemy positions." Paratroopers will be airdropped at 7 a. m. by planes from the Tactical Air Command and Military Air Transport Service. Marines will storm the beaches at 8 a. m. using landing craft and helicopters.

The Guadalcanal is carrying Marine assault troops and helicopters for a vertical assault on the beach at 8 a. m.

An estimated 850,000 Americans are currently being treated for cancer. New methods of treatment and diagnosis have improved the cancer cure rate over the last 25 years. With earlier detection and prompt treatment, one out of two could be saved instead of the one out of three now saved, according to the American cancer Society.

... AND THIRTY PER CENT OF YOUR BUSINESS GOES WITH THEM. HARD TO BELIEVE, BUT TRUE. IF YOURS IS AN AVERAGE BUSINESS, YOU NORMALLY LOSE APPROXIMATELY THIRTY PER CENT OF YOUR CUSTOMERS EVERY YEAR. IF YOU DON'T BELIEVE IT, LOOK THROUGH LAST YEAR'S ACCOUNTS AND SEE HOW MANY ARE NO LONGER ACTIVE.

Why do you lose them?

Through death, hard feelings, moving to another community or through the efforts of hard-driving competitors ... a variety of reasons ... some of them beyond your control.

AT THE SAME TIME THERE IS A NORMAL BUSINESS INCREASE OF ONLY FOUR PER CENT EVERY YEAR. THAT LEAVES YOU FACING A TWENTY-SIX PER CENT HANDICAP EVERY YEAR ... A HANDICAP YOU MUST OVERCOME IF YOUR BUSINESS IS TO REMAIN HEALTHY AND PROFITABLE.

What to do about it:

The answer lies in better merchandising, better planning and more vigorous promotion of fast selling goods and services.

in 18 Minutes—Blessed Freedom!

At 3:30 P.M. on April 21, 1836, General Sam Houston launched his attack. So sure was Mexican Army Commander Santa Anna of his troops' superiority that he did not even post sentries during the customary afternoon siesta.

The freedom-inflamed Texans, shouting "Remember the Alamo!", sprang upon the enemy. In the incredibly short space of 18 minutes Texas' freedom was won.

Santa Anna was captured. Six hundred and thirty officers and men were killed; the rest taken prisoner. Texas lost only nine men killed or mortally wounded, with 30 less seriously wounded. When the captured Santa Anna ordered his troop commanders to leave Texas, the last threat to peace was removed. Texas was free!

FREE MEN DEPEND ON US!

Today, we cannot—with one decisive stroke—wipe out the threats to freedom that are all around us. Instead, we must join together for an almost unending task of holding at bay those who would destroy the liberty we hold so dear.

Our dollars, banded together in U.S. Savings Bonds, help keep our defenses strong—making sure that no enemy will smash through to victory over freedom.

You can be an active partner in defending freedom by buying U.S. Savings Bonds at your bank or on the payroll savings plan where you work.

Soon the season for patriotic parties will be here.

These can be held any time, but February and July are favorite months.

Lincoln's and Washington's birthdays are both good dates for children's parties. A birthday party held in February might have a patriotic theme too. You can be prepared with games, prizes and play materials that children will enjoy and remember.

For example, the first game of the day could be a contest in Yankee Doodling. Just give each child a box of crayons and some drawing paper or scrapbook pages. Let them all draw cherry trees or log cabins or flags or Liberty bells or whatever symbol of history strikes their fancy.

The drawings can be mounted on strips of ribbon hung from the walls, and prizes awarded. The hostess has decorated the scene and managed the first game all at once.

"Every child enjoys getting a small prize at a party," points out Mary Hilt of Whitman Publishing Company of Racine, Wisconsin. "A prize could be awarded for the best drawing, the one with the most red or blue in it, the one with the clearest signature, and so on." Small prizes can also be awarded to the child who recites or sings or knows the answer to easy history questions.

The game counter at local variety stores will yield many ideas. Red, white and blue balloons could be used as prizes or decorations. There are puzzle maps of the United States, a color by number set called Highlights of United States History, colorful help yourself workbooks in American history, and books such as Trailblazers of America, Wagons Ho, Pioneers, or Walt Disney's American Folklore. Coin holders are good prizes too if you insert a few bright pennies or nickels with the likenesses of U.S. Presidents.

Fruit punch, a cake or gelatin mold in the shape of a bell and other refreshments can carry out the red-white-and-blue theme.

You may go down in history as the best party giver on the block.

Homing Rabbits

When you jump a rabbit, know where he'll run? Right back past where he jumped. Stay in the spot and your dog will run him within 8 to 10 yards of where you found him.

Petroleum Jelly

If oil jams the action of your lever action rifle, try lubricating it with the faintest film of petroleum jelly. If extreme temperatures are anticipated, use powdered graphite.

Revival Services To Begin At First Baptist Church April 19-25

COOPER HD CLUB NEWS

Mrs. J. H. Gill was hostess to members of the Cooper HD Club when they met in regular session at her home on the Purk-Thornberry highway Monday April 12th at 2 p. m.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Gill, the president, and opened with the singing of a song, and prayer repeated in unison.

Roll call was answered with "What I Like To Do When I Have A Few Minutes to Myself." Miss Thelma Wirges, County HD Agent, and Mrs. E. H. Clayton, were welcomed.

Mrs. Bob Stewart, program chairman, presented Miss Wirges who brought an informative program on "Conserving Nutritive Value of Foods." She stated a home maker should be sure the family has good nutrition. Vitamin C is the easiest nutrition to lose as the body cannot store it, and it is needed every day; when exposed to air, or water, the vitamin C is lost. Regarding vegetables such as head lettuce, cabbage, broccoli and celery, the darker its color the better it is, and the outer leaves should not be discarded as they have food value. Miss Wirges stressed the cooking of vegetables only until tender; she spoke on storage of left-overs, canned and frozen fruits and fruit juices, berries and meats.

Mrs. E. E. Walt presided over the business session. Minutes were read and approved as read. The project for April is the taking of eggs to the Mexican Day Nursery for Easter. Plans were discussed for the Bazaar April 28th to be held at the 4-H Barn on Hampstead.

Mrs. E. E. Walt invited the members to attend the services this week at the Friberg-Cooper Methodist church, Monday thru Thursday at 7:30 p. m. conducted by the pastor.

During the recreation period, conducted by Mrs. E. E. Walt winners were Miss Wirges and Mrs. Bee Bryant.

The April 26th meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. W. T. Jenne, Lower Charlie Road. The hostess served refreshments to Miss Wirges, Mrs. Clayton and the following members, Mesdames: Sam Spencer, Bob Stewart, J. D. Kennedy, Bee Bryant, Joe Musgrave, P. S. Swinford, Ralph Swinford, J. D. Van Huss, E. E. Walt, D. E. Beck, O. J. Cooper, Dorman Clark, George Emmert, W. P. Rogers, Miss Amelia Spencer, and six children.

A fire drill was one of the utensils buried in Tutankhamen's tomb.

REV. ROBERT CHEEK

CHARLES LOWRY

The First Baptist Church, Burkburnett, will have two guest leaders during Revival services April 19-25. The preacher will be Rev. Robert Cheek, pastor First Baptist Church, Baytown, Texas and the singer will be Charles Lowry, minister of education, First Baptist Church, Wichita Falls.

Rev. Cheek has preached in Revival Crusades in Canada, Europe, Asia and in seven states of the homeland. This meeting will be his third in a few months.

Mr. Lowry has ministered in churches in Arkansas, Louisiana, Florida and Texas. He came to Wichita Falls from Tampa, Fla., in September last year.

The theme of the week of services will be, "In Times Like These." Weekday morning services will be 10:00 a. m., Monday through Friday, April 19-23. In the evenings, Monday through Saturday, April 19-24, services will be at 7:30. On Sunday, regular worship services are at 10:40 a. m. and 7:00 p. m.

Let's Go Fishin'
BY BOB BREWSTER
Outdoor Editor,
Mercury Outboards

THE BACK 'FORTY' FOR BASS
Fish the apple orchard? Troll through Wiggins' pasture? Strange directions, perhaps, but when you learn the language the meaning is quite clear.

References to such spots as the "old pump house" or "Spring Creek Ford" when all that can be seen is a broad expanse of deep water often baffles anglers at man-made lakes. To follow this local advice may require extraordinary perception and sleuthing, plus a pinch of good luck, comment Mercury outboards' fishing sages.

However, they add, if you can solve the riddles and find the suggested locations, rewards are as advertised.

There are several ways to pinpoint former landmarks that have since been inundated:

The most reliable is to persuade a former resident to go along.

Second best, but still recommended, is to visit the local courthouse in hopes of checking out an old county map. From it you can determine the locations of the spring branches, farmsteads, roads and other important features that once dotted the bottomlands.

This information should be transferred to a current chart so that these sites can be located in reference to present shoreline features.

In addition to providing instructions on how to reach the "lower forty," this data is valuable for seeking out new fishing spots. Old foundations, rock piles from tumbled down buildings, abandoned gravel roads, and orchards are preferred fish habitats.

The next time you get such advice as "a mile down the road past the schoolhouse" follow it carefully, it's easy, say the Mercury folks, if you've done your homework in advance.

Watch the eyebrows raise when you reply "... know the exact spot. Right next to the Jenkins' place, isn't it?"

"Octopus" is a Greek word meaning "eight feet."

FISH BELLY BAIT

IT'S UP TO YOU
By
Howard E. Kershner, L.H.D.

Why Society is Breaking Down

THE great philosopher, Edmund Burke, once said: "If no certain laws, establishing invariable ground of hope and fear... keep the actions of men in a certain course, or direct them to a certain end... (then) the commonwealth itself would, in a few generations, crumble away, be disconnected into the dust and powder of individuality."

What are the "certain laws, establishing invariable ground of hope and fear..." that have held society together "in a certain course"? These certain laws have been and are, to say it in a few words, the Ten Commandments. Here we find succinctly stated the enduring principles upon which our civilization is based. We may call them God's laws, the natural law, the moral law, or the common law as they came to be known when translated into the rules which our ancestors established for governing the conduct of mankind.

Society is breaking down today because these enduring principles are no longer honored as rules for our conduct. Many of our citizens have no knowledge of the Bible and the greater portion of them almost none. Many, indeed, have never heard of the Ten Commandments. How can we expect our society to prosper and endure if the principles upon which it was founded and which gave it meaning and purpose are to be ignored and forgotten?

According to the New York TIMES, liquor is responsible for 51 per cent of the automobile drivers who lost their lives in car accidents during 1964 and for 30 per cent of the pedestrians over 15 years of age who died as a result of traffic accidents.

These percentages of the people were drunk at the time of the accidents. Nothing is known about the number of sober people who were killed as pedestrians or as passengers in cars with drunken drivers. Other accidents were, of course, caused by drivers who had been drinking or pedestrians who had been drinking, but who could not be classified as drunk.

Enough is known to prove that alcoholic liquor is by far the major cause of death resulting from traffic accidents. It may well account for as much as 75 per cent or more of the loss of life.

THE AMERICAN WAY
AS VIEWED BY
M. J. [Signature]

BY HARRY BROWNE
LET'S BURY THE FEDERAL RESERVE MYTH

It's time to lay to rest the myth that the Federal Reserve System is a private enterprise agency, owned and operated by "international bankers."

The Federal Reserve System is the right arm of the Washington bureaucrats. It is a coercive state monopoly that facilitates the spending and regulatory programs of the bureaucracy.

The U. S. Government Organization Manual states that the federally-chartered banks of the country are coercively required to join the system. Their investment in the FRS is prescribed by law and their annual return on that investment is limited to only 6 percent. Earnings of the FRS above that figure are turned over to the U. S. Treasury. In fact, since 1947, the FRS has diverted over $7 billion of earnings to the Treasury.

The Board of Governors who run the system are appointed by the President and this board has extraordinary powers over the U. S. banking system. For example, the FRS...

1. Sets the reserve requirements for banks, thereby dictating to what extent the banks can inflate the money supply.
2. Determines how much credit can be obtained on stock market purchases;
3. Examines all member banks and supervises their operations;
4. Has the power of approval or disapproval over merges and new branches for existing banks;
5. Fixes interest rates for member banks on loans to customers; and
6. Has the power to remove bank officers.

On top of this, through the issuance of "Federal Reserve Notes," the FRS inflates the currency supply of the nation—the chief cause of inflation.

Is this a private enterprise? Of course not. It is an arm of the state, coercively dictating to its citizens the manner in which they will handle their monetary affairs.

It is important to recognize that the Federal Reserve System has been in operation since 1913. It was "needed" to control dishonest practices by banks, and to prevent depressions—or so the sales talk went.

The result has been just the opposite. It has, in effect, legalized the inflationary practices of banks and thereby led people to believe that dishonest banking could be controlled and made beneficial. The recent failure of a San Francisco bank under the FRS wing has proved the fallacy of that.

In addition, the FRS not only did not prevent the 1929 depression, the evidence clearly proves that it was the chief cause. It promoted bank inflation that misled businessmen into making unrealistic long-term investments that could not pay off. When the inflationary spiral reached the point where it had to be leveled off, the malinvestments were recognized and businesses failed right and left.

The American consumer does not need a Federal Reserve system. He will automatically, in his own self interest, assure the competence of the bank he deals with—provided the government doesn't mislead him into believing his interests are already protected!

Should Congress "buy back" the FRS? Should Congress "sell" the FRS? No—the Federal Reserve System should be eliminated entirely. Citizens should have the right to own gold and establish their own prices on it. All currency should be backed 100 percent by gold or silver; and banks should be required to compete in the free market to gain their reputations.

That would be free enterprise. What we have today is the exact opposite.

Rebekah Lodge

NO. 67

Mrs. Mary Cecil, president, was in charge of the meeting of the Wichita County Association of Oddfellows and Rebekahs held in the IOOF Hall Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

A program preceded the business meeting. Mrs. Bessie Stubblefield gave the welcome address and the response to the welcome was given by Pauline Isaberta of Electra. Golden Rule 164, Wichita 236 and Electra 150 each put on a short skit. Burkburnett gave a comical style show. Mr. and Mrs. Earl West and Cindy sang two songs with Cora Lee Harmon on the piano.

A business meeting was held and each lodge reported the progress they had made the past six months.

The refreshment table was covered with pink net over pink with a center piece of pink roses and green foliage. Refreshments were served to 65 from Wichita Falls, Electra, Burkburnett, Texas and Grandfield, Okla.

Cordell, Kansas, was hit by a tornado three successive years, 1916, 1917, 1918, and each time on May 20th.

First Federal Highway was the 609 mile road from Cumberland to Vandalia, completed in 1852 at a cost of $7,000,000.

Easter Egg Hunt Called Off

Though the egg hunt which the Girl Scout Troop 59 had planned for the little people had to be called off because of bad weather, Ronnie Lindsey, who was to have been the guest of Kitty Gayle McNish, happily holds eggs in a basket and wears the hat made by Kitty's mother, Ronnie is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lindsey of 801 Easy and Kitty is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. McNish of 403 Mistletoe. Mrs. Ruth Hammond is leader of Troop 59.

Mrs Ben Turner Hostess Federated Missionary Society

The Federated Missionary Society met in the home of Mrs. Ben Turner with Mrs. Cheney co-hostess. Mrs. Van Deren, president, called the meeting to order. Opening song "What A Friend We Have In Jesus." Opening prayer by Mrs. Jim Ady. The members answered roll call with Bible verses.

Mrs. B. N. Cauthorn brought a devotional from Luke 9:23. Everybody's cross. If any man will come after me let him take up his cross daily and follow me. She also brought this lovely poem, "The Eternal Miracle" by Grace Noll Crowell.

There is a road that mankind will remember, as long as there are trails that lead away into the mist of some blue far horizon: The road that led to Jericho the day when Christ reached out and healed one sorely stricken "A Miracle! A Miracle!" we cry and yet not less a miracle are answers to our urgent pleadings as he passes by.

Jesus of Nazareth still walks the earthly roads. He still performs His Miracles when we cry out in desperate need and do His bidding. Before our eyes that once were blind, we see Him move in our behalf and are aware of the eternal miracle of answered prayer.

Mrs. Wiley brought a very interesting program, "Easter Customs around the World." She quoted, Easter customs go way back to the Dark Ages and even to pre-Christian times. In some lands they believe if you arise with the sun and witness the sun up that you would be blessed with good future, good health, fair crops and you would be free from aches the whole coming year.

There are many customs in many lands, but whatever the date there is only one true meaning and its deep religious significance, transcends eggs, rabbits, flowers, fashions and other customs. A nice refreshment plate was served to Mrs. Wylie Browning, a visitor, Mesdames Shrum, Cauthorn, Cecil, Cheney, Turner, Bunstine, Gilbert, Bazell, Van Deren, Minick, Miller, Sloan, Ady, Vanderburg, Kent, Cantwell, Horr.
