Johnston Fights Back At Impeachers By Attacking Witnesses

ATTORNEYS FOR GOVERNOR TEAR INTO ENEMIES

Testimony Offered by Those Seeking to Bear Out Charges Flayed

DRUNKENNESS TOLD

Character and Veracity Of Witnesses Dragged Over Coals

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 28. (AP)—Tearing at the case presented against Gov. Henry S. Johnston in the senate court of impeachment, the suspended governor's counsel today attacked witnesses produced by the prosecuting board of managers from the house.

In opening the defense in the governor's trial Thomas H. Owen, former justice of the state supreme court, said he and his associates would seek to prove that Johnston has acted in good faith in all cases, and that his integrity was obvious. The governor's attorney was not permitted, on the ground that he was arguing, to conclude a statement that all governors previously impeached in Oklahoma and other states were charged with dishonesty.

Witness "Untruthful"

The veracity of Park Wyatt, Shawnee attorney, who testified concerning activities of Mrs. O. O. Hammonds, former confidential secretary to Johnston, was questioned by Leander Pittman, superior court judge at Shawnee, who said he considered Wyatt to be "untruthful."

Three witnesses testified against the character of L. K. Ford of Cherokee, highway engineer, who had told the senate court that he had seen Mrs. Hammonds accept an envelope containing money from Mrs. May Kline, who he said represented that she had influence in the governor's office.

Drunkenness Admitted

Levity crept into the session when E. W. Monahan, police judge at Cherokee, testified that Ford had pleaded guilty before him to a charge of drunkenness. Under cross-examination by John Head, chairman of the house board of managers, Monahan admitted he had been intoxicated in his lifetime, and questioning along the same lines spread to members of the impeachment court, to the enjoyment of the other members and the gallery.

Charles M. Delzell and Peter Stein, Cherokee bankers, testified that Ford's reputation for veracity was bad.

Thomas W. Champion, Ardmore attorney, testified as to his part in obtaining a pardon for R. D. Crosthwaite, convicted murderer and a fugitive from justice, the basis of one of the ten impeachment charges.

$50 for Pardon

At the request of T. N. Crosthwaite, Ardmore cobbler and father of the pardoned man, Champion said he negotiated with the governor's office and obtained the clemency.

Champion said he accepted only $50 from the elder Crosthwaite, who, he said, insisted on compensating him. The attorney said he endorsed two checks, one of which was for $1,200 at Crosthwaite's request soon after he delivered the pardon. Crosthwaite told him the larger check was for the purchase of his shoe shop by a son-in-law, the attorney said. The elder Crosthwaite has refused to tell the house investigating committee what he did with the money from the check, other than to say that he buried it.

Sky-Riding Lovers Spoon In Clouds Despite Nearly Disastrous Smash-Up

By GEORGE A. SCHREINER
Universal Service Correspondent

VALBUENA FLYING FIELD, Mexico City, Feb. 28.—Wearing a blue sporting skirt, a red leather coat and a brown flying helmet, Anne Spencer Morrow allowed the "true blue" in her when she went up into the air three times today with Col. Charles A. Lindbergh as her pilot.

Twice the "fleet" monoplane carrying "Lindy" and Anne roared up into the blue skies from the sun-parched stretches of Valbuena flying field, and twice the plane glided earthward. Just before the wheels touched the ground after the initial take-off, "Lindy" tilted the rudder, turned on the gas and again the plane soared upward.

Then America's famous "Eagle" skillfully piloted the plane back to earth and to a complete stop. He laughed gaily, and Anne laughed, too, and away they went again. They spent another five minutes "joy-riding" in the clouds. And with sparkling smiles on their sunny faces, the two came flying through on wafting wings back to earth for the third time.

Colonel Lindbergh jumped from the plane, and then turned and helped Miss Morrow to the ground.

"Thank you, I'm feeling fine," the "flying colonel" said with a grin, as newspaper correspondents came running up to the plane. And in Anne Morrow's eyes there was a lustrous brightness as she said:

"Thank you, I'm all right."

That was the message of the two

60 MODELS IN AUTO DISPLAY

Record Crowd Views New Cars on Opening Day

Several thousand persons Thursday visited the annual spring showing of automobiles now being held at 603-605 Scott avenue by the Wichita Automotive Dealers association, and displayed keen interest in the impressive assembly of American motor car manufacturers' latest creations, according to those in charge.

More than 60 distinct models representing 17 different lines of automobiles have been placed on the floor by local dealers for the three-day exhibit.

Only Six Open Cars

The arrangement of the display differs somewhat from that used here formerly. The cars have been placed so as to leave no well defined aisles, the result obtained being a general distribution of visitors throughout the building with approximately equal spaces surrounding all of the various numbers being shown. According to L. O. Brown, president of the dealers' association, the arrangement has eliminated the congestion which often imposed inconvenience upon visitors at former exhibitions, and has afforded better opportunity for individual inspection of favorite models.

The number of different models displayed by the various dealers was limited in order to avoid overcrowding the spacious room in which the show is being held, Mr. Brown stated.

The degree to which open cars have been replaced by various types of closed vehicles is indicated in the listing of only six of the former, all of which are roadsters.

The Swarts building has been decorated for the automobile show with a profusion of flags, streamers, garlands of vines, and flowers. During the evening music was furnished by the Stewart-Williams orchestra.

Autos on Display

Following is the list of cars on display:

Birch Motor Co.: Graham-Paige, 612 Plain Sedan, 612 Side-mount Sedan, 615 Sedan, 615 Side-mount Sedan, 615 Plain Coupe.

Cornelison Motor Company: DeSoto Coupe Business, 2-door, 5 pass. Sedan Coche, Sedan de Lujo, Roadster Espanol.

Dixon Motor Company: Buick 116 in. Sport Coupe, 116 in. 5-pass. Sedan 121 in. Sport Roadster, 121 in. 5-pass. Sedan, 121 in. Short-coupled Sedan, and 129 in. 7-pass. Sedan.

Aged Inmates Weep As Poor Farm Burns

TEXARKANA, Ark., Feb. 28. (AP)—Aged inmates wept and some of them refused to leave until dragged away when the main building of the Bowie county poor farm at New Boston was destroyed by fire. The loss was $3,000.

Destruction of the building leaves the 10 inmates without a home.

One of the old men watching the blaze told the others that it was the destruction of his own home and belongings by fire that had sent him to the poor farm and "now even that is burning."

TEXAS HOOVER TRAIN LEAVES

Inaugural Special Off To Capital City

DALLAS, Feb. 28. (AP)—Headed by a 36-piece cowboy band from Simmons university, Abilene, a delegation of 225 Texans left here late today aboard their 12-car "Hoover special" to attend the presidential inauguration March 4 at Washington.

It was said to have been the first special train ever to leave Texas for an inauguration. It was estimated that at least 200 other persons from the state would witness the ceremonies, as special cars have been attached to nearly all regular North and East bound trains for several days.

The Simmons band attracted attention as it paraded to the station. The musicians wore chaps, spurs, two-gallon hats and silk shirts. Dott E. Smith, noted Texas ranger, has been appointed drum major for the trip.

Dr. J. D. Sandifer, president of Simmons university, will occupy the pulpit of the First Baptist church in Washington Sunday night. The Cowboy band will give a concert at the church.

Baptists Select Timpson

TEXARKANA, Feb. 28. (AP)—East Texas Baptists selected Timpson for their 1930 meeting place at the concluding session of their two-day convention here today.

DALLAS, Feb. 28. (AP)—Dewey Hunt, charged with the murder of Samuel Cole, street car operator, here last November, was sentenced to death by a jury here tonight after an hour's deliberation. Hunt had pleaded insanity.

Conviction was decided on the first ballot.

Bound to his chair and gagged, the "Tennessee bad man" only rolled his eyes when the verdict was read. He was trussed up three days ago when he created confusion in the court room by cursing prosecutors and fighting court attendants.

Cole was found slumped over the controls of his car the night of Nov. 3, a bullet through his body. Hunt was arrested the next day after a taxi driver told police of picking up a wounded man near the scene of the shooting and taking him to a rooming house.

Hunt declared he had been wounded by two men who attempted to hold him up, but the state thought Hunt was hurt in a struggle with Cole.

Although pleading insanity, Hunt's attorneys closed their case today without introducing testimony on the subject.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28. (US)—Charles P. Taft II, son of Chief Justice William Howard Taft, will succeed William D. Mitchell as solicitor general of the department of justice after March 4, according to reports in Hoover cabinet circles today.

With the selection of Mr. Mitchell as attorney general confirmed, Taft's name was prominently mentioned as the next solicitor general. He is now prosecuting attorney for Hamilton county, Ohio, and has won wide attention during his practice of law in Cincinnati.

Cuban President Is Sure of 'Tranquility'

HAVANA, Cuba, Feb. 28. (UP)—President Gerardo Machado issued a statement tonight regarding police announcements last night of discovery of a wide revolutionary plot in Cuba and assured the nation of her "future tranquility."

The president was marked for assassination in the plot, according to the announcements, and a military disturbance was planned which would place the country in such turmoil that it was believed by the plotters that the United States would be forced to intervene.

Edith Wilmans, Twice Candidate For Governor, Marries Chicagoan

DALLAS, Feb. 28. (AP)—The Dallas News will say tomorrow morning that announcement of the marriage of Mrs. Edith Wilmans, Dallas attorney and twice a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, and Henry A. Born, Chicago manufacturer, was received here today by friends.

They were married this morning and will make an extended wedding trip to Hot Springs, Fla.; Cuba, and New Orleans before returning to Chicago, their future home.

Mrs. Born has been active in Texas life for 10 years. She was the first president of the Democratic Woman's Association of Texas, and served two terms as representative from Dallas in the state legislature. Former Governor Pat Neff once appointed her as the first woman to sit on the supreme court of Texas at a special term when three women were the judges.

Mr. Born has been head of the Born Refrigerating company of Chicago since 1896, and is prominent in the Republican party organization there.

ROBISON TELLS COMMITTEE HE RECEIVED GIFTS

Land Commissioner Says He Sold Land Present To Jim Ferguson

DREW STATE FUNDS

Late Mayor Bivens of Amarillo and Others Gave Him Cash, He Says

AUSTIN, Feb. 28 (AP)—The late George W. West of San Antonio gave J. T. Robison, commissioner of the state land office, 80 acres of land in Live Oak county and he sold it to former Gov. James E. Ferguson for $2,000, Mr. Robison today testified before the joint legislative committee investigating the land office.

He told of several other gifts, including $800 from Ira G. Yates of San Angelo, and attempted to explain the drawing of a number of checks ranging from $100 to $1,000 in most cases made payable to "self" or "cash" and cashed through West Texas banks on the one-per-an-acre appraisement fund in an Austin bank.

Names Other Gifts

Asked by Representative Petsch, representing proponents of the investigation, to name the gifts he had received from "land owners in West Texas and in other parts of the state," Mr. Robison enumerated the following:

One hundred dollars from J. A. Mathews of Throckmorton, whom Mr. Robison said had not had any dealings with the land office in 25 years.

Five hundred dollars from S. I. Robison, a nephew living at Texarkana.

Five hundred dollars from J. D. Jackson of Alpine.

He previously had detailed the incident, testified to earlier in the investigation, of receiving $2,000 from Judge R. M. Halley of Winkler county, with which to pay off a mortgage on his farm near Austin.

Funds Were Replaced

Mr. Robison had not mentioned the gift from Mr. West, until asked about it by Petsch.

He also told of the contribution from Yates on cross-examination. He said he had borrowed $500 from Judge R. L. Batts for campaign purposes and admitted he paid it back from the revaluation fund, but declared he had replaced it with money given him by Yates.

"Did you report this $500 contribution from Yates in your campaign expense statement," Petsch asked.

"No, it was not given me until after the campaign."

Robison said Yates had given

Texas Sheriff Is Murdered On Deserted Road

Body of Popular Mason County Officer Found Pierced by Three Bullets; Posses Begin Man-Hunt

MASON, Texas, Feb. 28. (AP)—Bearing three bullet wounds, the body of Allen T. Murray, Mason county sheriff and tax collector, was found today in a lonely lane off the San Antonio-San Angelo highway.

Posses began searching the county since discovery of the body of the popular peace officer this afternoon. It is thought here that two men, accused of stealing a suit case at Loyal Valley, 18 miles from here, might throw light on the murder. Murray was searching for the pair at the time of the killing.

Responding to a telephone call from Loyal Valley, Murray had started a search for the men. They were said to have left Loyal Valley in an automobile, and were on their way to Mason.

Murray's machine was found abandoned a few miles from town toward Brady in a cross-lane by John Johnson and Woody Schuessler, who investigated. They found the body of the sheriff about a quarter of a mile up the lane.

It appeared that Murray had been killed, and dragged up the lane, officers said.

Murray was serving his second term in the office of sheriff and tax collector. He is survived by a widow and two children.

Capone Gangster Is Linked With Massacre

CHICAGO, Feb. 28. (AP)—Rocco Fanelli, Capone gangster, was identified by a witness today as one of two men who entered the North Clark street garage where seven men were shot down two weeks ago today. The witness said he had seen Fanelli and a companion walk into the place about the time of the murders. Deputy Police Commissioner John Stege said the witness was one of those who had pointed out Jack McGurn, captured yesterday, as an occupant of the death car.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28. (US)—American interests in the Panama Canal are safeguarded by newly made ordinances of Secretary of State Kellogg restricting all air commerce in the canal zone to American owned and operated airplanes, it was announced today. DRY BATTALION WINNER AGAIN

Stringent Bootleg Penalties Passed by House

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28. (US)—After using steamroller tactics to smother opposition, drys in the house today by a 288 to 90 vote forced passage of the Jones bill, providing a maximum penalty of five years in prison and $10,000 fine for prohibition law violators.

As the bill was passed in the form in which it passed the senate, the measure now goes to President Coolidge for his approval.

In rapid succession the dry steamroller crushed half a dozen amendments aimed at modifying the stringent penalties proposed.

A scare was given the drys when, on a rising vote, the house adopted an amendment offered by Representative Tucker providing lesser penalties for first offenders than habitual violators of the prohibition laws.

The vote was 103 to 108. Wets jumped to their feet and shouted for joy. Then came a demand for a teller vote and this showed 149 against the amendment to 126 in favor.

TEXAS G. O. P. IN FINISH FIGHT

Creager - Wurzbach War Near Final Settlement

Special to The Record News

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28—A fight to the finish which will determine whether Col. R. B. Creager of Brownsville, Republican national committeeman, or Representative Harry M. Wurzbach, San Antonio, only Republican congressman from Texas, will dominate the activities of the G. O. P. in the Lone Star state now seems certain.

At the hearing before the Brookhart committee today Colonel Creager appeared with his "fighting clothes on," declaring Wurzbach "unfit to sit in congress," boldly defending his own actions and those of the regular Republican organization, not hesitating even to cross verbal swords with Senator Smith W. Brookhart, Republican, of Iowa, chairman of the special committee. He did not conclude his statement, which had been prepared in advance, and when he resumes Friday is expected to make revelations involving Wurzbach in a maze of charges of far greater gravity than those heretofore levelled at Creager or any of his aides.

The contest between Creager and Wurzbach, which has broken out sporadically at various times during the last seven and a half years, has

AUSTIN, Feb. 28. (AP)—The small "anti-land grabber" bill designed to validate patents and awards held by individuals and companies on lands lying across or partly across water courses and in beds and abandoned beds of streams, was held unconstitutional Thursday night by the attorney general's department.

The opinion, drawn by Assistant Attorney General C. W. Trueheart and approved by Attorney General Claude Pollard, was delivered to Governor Moody. Governor Moody had asked for an expression on the constitutionality of the measure which now is on his desk, having passed both houses by big majorities.

It is the general acceptance that the governor will veto the bill, and that its sponsors will make an effort to pass it over his disapproval. This will require a two-thirds majority of both houses.

Citing a few instances of its effect insofar as the navigable streams of Texas are concerned, the opinion said: ". . . this act will result in the state relinquishing its right, title and interest to portions of 14 separate navigable streams in this state in 40 counties."

Attentions to Woman Caused Killing, Claim

TEXARKANA, Feb. 28. (AP)—Improper advances H. T. Rossaen made to Mrs. Joe Regean led to the shooting of Rossaen, Regean testified here today in his trial for killing Rossaen. Arguments were concluded and the case went to the jury shortly after 4 p. m.

Regean's testimony today contradicted a statement he was said to have made after the shooting last October.

Weather Records for February Prove Ground Hog World's Worst Prophet

Many unusual phenomena commonly observed during the last four weeks, such as frozen flivvers, extra bedding, and bulky gas bills are lavishly explained by a glance at the composite weather report for the month as tabulated by the Texas Electric Service company's bureau Thursday.

Those who doubt the groundhog theory of weather control find basis for complete confirmation of their disbelief in the conduct of the elements here during February. The cautious animal failed completely in this district to find any trace of his shadow not only on Feb. 2, but for several days fore and aft of that date. Traditionally, fair weather was destined for the ensuing month. The record for the period reflects about the most genuine winter experienced in Wichita Falls and vicinity during a long period.

In comparison with the same month one year ago, the mean maximum temperature lost 16 points. In terms of average minimum temperature, February, 1929, was 10 degrees under the mark set last year. The second month of 1928 registered nothing more severe than 24 degrees above, while on the ninth day of the month just closed the mercury crowded down to the ninth mark above zero. Killing frost was re-

QUARRY CREW CAUGHT IN AIR VAT EXPLOSION

Several of 10 Injured Laborers May Die Of Their Hurts

MEN CROWDED UP

Bursting Air Compressor Located Near Firm's Time Clock

STONE MOUNTAIN, Ga., Feb. 28. (AP)—Seven men lost their lives and 10 others were injured, several seriously, late today in an explosion of an air compressor at the quarries of the Stone Mountain Granite corporation about a mile north of here.

The explosion occurred as the men were crowded about a time clock near the compressor, checking out after the day's work.

The dead, all of whom lived here, are: C. G. Davis, 32, foreman; O. E. Cowan, 25, and John D. Glazen, 45, both drillers, and four negroes, Charles Haynes, Will Maddox, Cody Smith and Cal Howard.

The most seriously injured included John Swimm, Morris Brown, Eugene Shinn and Carl Sewell, the last named a negro. Physicians said Swimm and Sewell probably would die.

Officials could not ascribe a definite cause for the explosion.

ACCIDENT ONE OF MANY AT QUARRY

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 28. (UP)—Six men were killed and 11 injured at Stone Mountain near here late this afternoon when a huge compressed air tank exploded at the Stone Mountain Granite corporation's quarry, located on the slope of the famous memorial altar. Four of the men were negroes, it was reported, while two were white men.

The tank, located a short distance from the quarry office, burst while men employed at the quarry were grouped about the building, checking out after their day's work.

Three of the injured men were reported to be seriously, perhaps fatally, hurt.

Eight of the injured workmen were rushed to Atlanta, 18 miles away, where they were treated at the Wesley Memorial hospital. Three were taken to the Stone Mountain Sanitarium.

Accidents have been frequent at Stone Mountain during the past few years. Quarrying has been carried on for 30 years, but today's catastrophe is the most serious yet recorded. Three months ago two workmen fell 500 feet to their death when a scaffold gave way.

The quarry is about a mile from the town of Stone Mountain, which has a population of about 2,000 people. The blast jarred buildings in the town, and practically every person in the community raced to the scene.

Glider-Airplane Flight Is Flop

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 28. (AP)—The glider-airplane flight of Dale Drake of Redley, Calif., and Lloyd O'Donnell of Longbeach, Calif., from Redley to Long Beach, ended here shortly after 2:30 o'clock today when the rope by which O'Donnell's plane towed the glider snapped. Both ships landed safely, airport officials said.

The glider, airport officials said, landed a mile from the field, while O'Donnell continued his flight to the airport.

O'Donnell expressed the opinion that he could have brought the glider safely into Long Beach if the rope had held.

COUNTY WAITS BRIDGE CREWS

Officials of Luten Company Expected Here Today

Representatives of the Luten Bridge company of Little Rock, Ark., were expected by members of the Wichita county commissioners' court to be in Wichita Falls Friday to make the initial preparations for the start of construction on the Scott avenue bridge over the Wichita river.

No word had been received, according to M. A. Bundy, commissioner from Wichita Falls, since Wednesday from the management of the bridge company. A telegram received at that time states that equipment to be used in the construction had been shipped and that work would start by March 1, according to John P. Marrs, county judge.

LABOR ON PROJECT

The employment of labor in the construction of the Scott avenue bridge will rest here with representatives of the Luten Bridge company, contractors for the structure, county officials said Thursday. Those officials have announced that both labor and materials will be procured, as far as possible, in Wichita Falls.

Several hundred applications for employment on the structure had been received, according to various county officials. They said that the proper manner of applying for such employment will be announced in advance. They were advised that the force employed on the structure will range between 50 and 75 workmen.

Members of the court expected, however, that several days would be required before the actual "digging of dirt." It will be necessary, officials explained, to move the equipment to the scene of the construction and to do other work preliminary to the actual start of the building operations.

It probably will be three weeks, Mr. Bundy expected, before enough progress to be visible to the layman will have been made. An important part of the work, he explained, is the making of preparations for the beginning.

No concern was expressed by officials as to the completion of the bridge within the contract time of 200 working days from Feb. 20. By that contract, the contractors are allowed until the latter part of October to finish their task, and they have unofficially advised Mr. Bundy that the work, barring the unforeseen, would be completed well before that time.

It remained a matter of speculation among officials Thursday as to what methods would be followed in the preparation and the progression of the work. It was explained that approximately 600 feet of dirt fill from the pavement on the south side of the river will be necessary to reach the end of the bridge. Much less dirt filling will be required on the north side. Engineers here said that it will be necessary to build either a temporary road or trestle work from the end of the pavement to the scene of the actual bridge building.

Judge to Hear Crum Plea for New Trial

Judge Allan D. Montgomery of the 30th district court will hear argument at Archer City Saturday on the motion for a new trial for W. H. Crum, who was found guilty on a charge of robbery with firearms last week by a jury which fixed punishment at five years imprisonment.

The motion for a new trial, presented by O. M. Wylie, defense attorney, avers misconduct on the part of jurors because of their alleged agreement to join in the signing of a plea to release the accused man after he had served a year in the penitentiary.

Park Superintendent Asks City Greenhouse in Budget Report

Wichita Falls' need of a municipal greenhouse for the production of city plants and flowers was stressed Thursday by C. C. Bunnenberg, city park superintendent, when he included it in his budget request for the coming fiscal year.

The greenhouse would give the city a chance to produce its own plants for use in the local parks. Flowering plants which are planted in the parks here by the department each spring could be planted in the hothouse during the winter months and be transplanted in the parks, Mr. Bunnenberg pointed out.

The process of raising flowering plants in the hothouse would make it possible for them to be blooming in the city's parks a month earlier than they ordinarily do.

The parks over most all of the city are badly in need of such an amount of shrubbery that the city can not afford to purchase it. This shrubbery could be raised in a greenhouse and save the city thousands of dollars in beautifying the parks here, Mr. Bunnenberg asserted.

Shrubbery not only for the parks will be raised in the greenhouse, if it is procured, but plants for beautifying the local cemeteries will also be produced there, according to Mr. Bunnenberg.

Mr. Bunnenberg also included the addition of five more men to the park's labor forces and several improvements on the city parks in his budget requests.

10 Wichita Schools Approved For Rural Aid by State Inspector

The appropriation of a total of $7,101 in state rural aid to 10 Wichita county schools, including $1,000 to each of three schools, will be recommended to the state department of education by J. C. Griffin, rural aid inspector for the department, according to information given Thursday by Burl Bryant, Wichita county school superintendent.

Mr. Griffin recently completed an inspection of the 10 Wichita schools which have applied for rural aid. He will recommend aid in each case, it was announced.

Mr. Bryant explained, however, that uncertainty exists as to whether the amounts asked will be granted. The state superintendent announced recently, he said, that requests for rural aid have been so numerous that it may be necessary to reduce allowances to 80 per cent of the amounts recommended.

The maximum of rural aid for any school is $1,000, and that sum has been recommended for the Clara, Cashion and County Line schools, it was announced. Clara and Cashion are among the largest in the county, while an emergency need was created for County Line by the recent destruction by fire of the school there.

Amounts recommended for other schools were announced as being: City View, $968; Weeth, $722; Allendale, $659; Pleasant Valley, $628; Enterprise, $528; Friberg, $416; Deep Creek, $190.

AERO LOVERS SPOON IN AIR

Lindy and Anne Take Three Flights Thursday

lovers to the world today as the aftermath of yesterday's accident. Gone was the uneasiness caused by the crash. Restored the confidence of the lass in the lad. Yesterday was yesterday, and dead as all the spanless ages of time.

Today is today, and today Anne flew again with "Lindy."

The famous flyer was driving an embassy car one-handed when he appeared at the flying field this morning with Miss Morrow at his side. His right arm was in a sling under his white shirt. His grey coat hung over his right shoulder with the sleeve tucked into the pocket.

It had been stated at the United States embassy earlier in the morning that the colonel intended looking over the plane wrecked in yesterday's accident, and it was admitted he expected to try out another machine. Lindbergh, however, had some difficulty finding a suitable plane. He and Miss Morrow came first to the military aviation field, and then they went to the civic field where Lindbergh looked for a representative of Consolidated airways.

Failing to find the representative, the two drove back to the military fields. Shortly afterwards a plane was wheeled out onto the runway, and Lindbergh was seen putting on his headgear.

The plane was a two-passenger "fleet" monoplane, and "Lindy" took his place with Anne beside him. Dressed in her attractive sport clothes, Miss Morrow was smiling in evident show of her confidence as she took her place beside her fiance. Only for a second did she seem to lose somewhat her serene composure, and that was just for an instant. She quickly regained her poise, and adjusted a leather helmet over her black hair which was handed to her by a junior officer. She also donned the officer's heavy coat over her red leather jacket, laughingly thanking him as he handed the coat and helmet to her.

Just before taking off, Lindbergh said:

"We're merely going for a little pleasuer trip over the Mexico valley. We expect to be gone only 15 or 20 minutes."

Fair Weather Brings Renewal of Air Activity

The return of fair weather during the last week has been accompanied by a noticeable increase in aeronautic activities at local flying fields, according to leaders in aviation here.

A considerable number of flying students are taking instruction regularly from Pilots Dudley Rider and Joe Towles at Staley field, with an increasing number of inquiries indicating a still larger attendance during the spring months, it was stated by Fulcher Armstrong, president of the Wichita Falls Air Transport company. The training of a student continues until he secures a government license to fly, Mr. Armstrong said.

The passenger service between Wichita Falls and Dallas has been maintained daily by the local company, it was said, with numerous passengers availing themselves of the accommodations. On Thursday Earl Stilly and A. L. Solliday, geologists, and B. L. Fain of the Totoawa Royalty company, were carried on a round trip to Manitou, Okla., where they inspected a wildcat well being drilled there. The trip was made in the transport company's Stinson cabin plane.

him at the same time $109 with which to pay for printing a brief used in a land suit.

In explaning the gift of land from Mr. West, he said West had cut up and placed on the market considerable land in Live Oak county and had called on the land office frequently to get information on field notes and to obtain maps.

Was Slight Acquaintance

"I never saw Mr. West but twice in my life," he said. "He had invited me over the telephone to visit him and one day when I was in San Antonio some one pointed his house out to me and I dropped in to call on him. It was then that he told me he intended to make me a present of his acreage. I received the deed to it on Dec. 24, 1925. He had called to see me at the hospital when I was convalescing from my operation.

He said the checks he had issued in varying denominations were to meet expenses while he was in the field revaluing lands.

"Did you ever bring any cash home with you when you returned from those trips," Petsch asked.

"I do not remember; I cannot say that I did or I did not."

North Texans To Leave Saturday On Valley Trip

A party made up of Byers, Vernon, Petrolia and Wichita Falls citizens will leave this city Saturday night on an excursion to the Rio Grande valley and Old Mexico, it was announced Thursday by Mrs. W. W. Gardner of this city, who will be in charge of the trip.

Members of the group will board a special car at San Antonio, it was stated, from which point they will go to Edinburg, Harlingen, McAllen and Mission, where the E. M. Goodwin tracts which Mrs. Gardner represents are located. From Mission the party will take a short trip across the border for a visit to Mexican points, and will return to Wichita Falls Friday, March 8.

Mrs. Gardner returned from the valley late last week, and reported that the thousands of grapefruit trees in bloom there had afforded the visitors a scene of unusual beauty.

Mrs. J. D. Ferrell, representative of the Goodwin interests at Mission, is cooperating with Mrs. Gardner in organizing the excursion party here.

COURT PASSES HOLSTLER CASE

89th Docket Cleared With Delay in Six Trials

Criminal dockets of the 89th district court were clear Friday morning following the passing Thursday of trials involving six defendants, including Freddy Holstler, charged with robbery by firearms in connection with the holdup of the Spoonts Drug store at Ninth and Van Buren streets last Christmas night.

An insufficiency of qualified jurors caused the passing of the Holstler case until later in the month, it was announced. R. B. Nichols, co-defendant of Holstler, was tried earlier in the week, but the jury in his case failed to agree and was discharged late Wednesday. The trial of the case depleted the list of available jurors, it was explained.

Other cases passed and the causes, as announced by Judge Allan D. Montgomery, were: Roy Gonce, two indictments charging sale of liquor, illness of material defense witness; George Bingham, sale of liquor, illness of defendant; J. W. Burns, forgery, illness of defendant; Mr. and Mrs. L. Schuette, separate cases, absence of defense atterney.

STORY OF BURK PARK IS TOLD

Old Civic League Planned Spot of Beauty

Special to The Record News

BURKBURNETT, Feb. 28.—History has always lauded the accomplishments of the limelighters—the men—of the world. Here is a story of what the homefires—the women—have done.

After the hustle and bustle of the oil boom days in Burkburnett, an organization of women, known as the Civic league, began to plan for something of usefulness and beauty for the town, and decided that a park would be the ideal towards which they would strive. They met with much discouragement at the beginning, however. No one, apparently, had the land to sell or give away, and they were told that trees and shrubs would not thrive because the ground was so saturated with oil.

Site Is Procured

However, Mr. J. C. Hardin, a public spirited citizen, had previously given to the town his old home for a hospital. It had never been used for that purpose, and the Civic league, after conferring with the city authorities, asked Mr. Hardin if it might be used for a park. Having received his ready consent, the next question was funds. It was estimated that it would take $1,000 for the project, and raising this sum was quite a task for this small group. Every money-raising device they could think of was employed.

Seeing the determination of the women, the Lions club and the Rotary club each appointed a member to the park committee, and the city manager was also made a member. They secured the services of the park commissioner of Wichita Falls, who came over and planned the grounds. Some of the trees already there were removed, others planted, flower beds were made, and the grounds sodded with grass. The house was moved to the back of the lot, and made into a comfortable home for the park-keeper. The new park was named Hardin park, in honor of its donor.

League Disbanded

Having mothered the park project thus far, the old Civic league was disbanded, and other clubs took its place. The Current Literature club became interested in the park, and furnished swings, slides and a drinking fountain. Hardin park is situated on the Wichita Falls highway, and there is no more inviting spot on the road than this playground with its carpet of green, bordered with stately trees.

An outstanding feature of the summer season at the park is the story-telling hour, sponsored by the Current Literature club. They have a committee of three to meet the children once a week. The stories are Bible, historical, stories of travel, legends and fairy tales. Children of all classes are reached and after the stories, there is an hour of supervised play.

The Current Literature club has 25 active members who have chosen Mrs. B. L. McDonald for their president, and Mrs. George T. Kimbell for corresponding secretary.

Coal Vein Fire Eats to Surface After 50 Years

NEW STRAITSVILLE, Ohio, Feb. 28. (AP)—The smouldering peril of a 45-year-old fire in the coal lands of this vicinity today again menaced a section of New Straitsville as the flames, eating their way to the surface, burst out and spread a pall of deadly gas over the hillsides.

Miners from several companies in the vicinity were blasting around an exposed crater in an effort to shut off the flow of air and check the flames.

Started in the eighties by men who fired a mine during a strike, the blaze has smouldered since, eating its way along the veins of coal and occasionally cropping to the surface.

Today six homes in the edge of New Straitsville were believed to be in the direct course of the fire, and a new school, the foundation of which goes through the burning vein, was menaced.

TERRACING IN QUANAH STARTS

County Agent Kept Busy With Schools

Special to The Record News

QUANAH, Texas, Feb. 28.—County Agent Luther Hunter is in great demand by the farmers of Hardeman county for terracing demonstrations and assistance, and is working almost night and day endeavoring to cover the various parts of the county in this work before planting time comes.

W. W. Cole and his son Hiram are installing a complete terracing system on their vast acreage near Medicine Mounds in the Big Valley community. They had terraced a smal acreage two years ago under former County Agent Pattillo, and results were so satisfactory they have had all their lands needing such terracing blocked off, lines run and are putting in the entire system. Mr. Cole states the results on his smaller acreage have already shown benefits far in excess of entire cost.

Terracing demonstrations are being held in various parts of the county, and a terracing school will be held in Quanah, March 14, under the direction of County Agent Hunter and A. K. Short, of the Federal Farm Loan association, and M. R. Bentley, a specialist in agricultural engineering, connected with the Texas A. & M. college. This school is sponsored by the Hardeman County Farm Loan association, of which J. L. Elbert Sr. is secretary-manager.

IF BACK HURTS FLUSH KIDNEYS

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which helps to remove the body's urinous waste and stimulate them to their normal activity.

The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of good water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they are no longer a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this; also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache. —Adv.

Oh, These Women

By LEOLA ALLARD

NEW YORK, Feb. 28. (US)—Mary Lewis, opera star, married 604 days, says: "What a happy state is marriage!"

Frances Alda, married 6,370 days, says: "What a regrettable happening is marriage."

There is 5,866 days difference in the opinions.

A Bell captain socked his wife for wearing her skirts too short. In court she told the judge the hem was "Only six inches above the knees." When they got to court the wife forgave him, and they went home together.

If skirts are six inches above the knees, what makes anybody think they are skirts?

A church society of women bought out the house for a performance of "skidding" in New York. At the theater party bureau where the sale was made, one of the women called up frantically one morning and this was the conversation:

"Miss Jones, when I bought the house for our society I hadn't seen the pictures in front of the theater. Yesterday I saw them and in one, the girl was half reclining on the couch, and the young man was leaning over, kissing her and holding her tight. Now I'm sure many of the church ladies are going to be very much shocked, and I wonder if you couldn't speak to that young actor and ask him if the night they play for us, he couldn't just not lean quite so close to the girl? Just for that one night y'understand?"

"I don't know," said Miss Jones, drawing a deep breath, "but I'll ask the manager, and phone you."

"Oh, she don't like it?" said the manager, chewing his cigar. "Not lean so close? S—ure! I will speak to the boy. That night he don't lean so close, see? That's easy. Tell the lady not to worry, we'll fix it."

The Gypsy is the name of a tea room which invites you to come in "and make a wish."

The usual wish at tea rooms is that you had a home and didn't have to eat places.

A physician in a western hospital, told the waitress he wanted his eggs "turned over." They came in "straight up."

"I said I wanted them turned over," he said, giving her the banker's eye.

She stepped outside the door, took a knife and turned them over on the plate, sunny side down, and slipped them in front of him.

Knowing the difference didn't help the doctor.

Felix is the name of a cat belonging to a lady in Chicago. His favorite dish is oysters on the half shell, and how he purrs when he gets them! Felix eats a whole oyster, somehow, and delights in half a canteloupe of which he swallows the rind. If Felix eats a cucumber he knows there is a rind someplace and he finds the garbage pail and gets it out.

There's a cat!

The best graft I've discovered is fortune telling by a man I heard of last week. He gets the date of your birth and sends you a complete outline of what is going to happen to you during 1929, month and day by day. It sounds so full of careful detail, but if you look at the top of the paper you see that the stenographer forgets to change the heading and it is, in fact, a mere form. It says "for a lady born April 16—." You pay $10 and he mails the form letter to you. And he's getting fat and sleek from the proceeds.

The fellow was arrested once for some sort of fraud, so he operates under a new name, and his phone number is given you by the secretary of one of the most famous prognosticators in New York City. If that lady is busy, her stenographer slips the customer the fellow's phone number.

"During the season of colds and influenza, wives and sweethearts should go un-kissed," says the United States medical corps.

What a surprise that will be for most wives!

Miss Shamburger Becomes Bride Of P. P. Langford Jr.

Charming in its simplicity was the wedding of Miss Dorothy Shamburger and Pierce Poindexter Langford Jr., which took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Shamburger, on Ninth street at high noon Thursday.

The ceremony was read before a beautifully improvised altar formed with a picturesque background of handsome tapestry. The reception suite was decorated with pedestals formed of spring flowers and cathedral candles.

The pre-nuptial music included a violin solo, "Liebestraume" by Lisst, played by Mrs. Jouette Bonner, and a vocal number, Cadman's "At Dawning" sung by Mrs. W. E. Young with Mrs. John T. Burris playing accompaniments. Mrs. Burris also played Mendelssohn's wedding march for the entrance of the bridal party, and played softly, the "Spring Song," while the ceremony was being read.

The bride, who entered alone, wore a handsome gown of ivory satin with pointed train, and a cap made of rosepoint lace and seeded pearls from which hung her veil of Brussels lace. She carried a shower bouquet of orchids and ferns.

The spring idea was featured in the gowns worn by the matron of honor, Mrs. Eugene Clark, sister of the bride; the maid of honor, Miss Elizabeth Langford, sister of the bridegroom, and the bridesmaid, Miss Jane Moore. Mrs. Clark wore a gown of purple tulle and chiffon; Miss Langford wore an Emmett Joyce, peacock model in green tulle, and Miss Moore wore a model on two shades of orchid chiffon and tulle. All were trimmed in handmade flowers of the same material, and carried shower bouquets of spring flowers in contrasting colors.

Mrs. P. P. Langford wore an afternoon gown of black chiffon and lace and Mrs. Shamburger wore a beige model in lace and crepe. Guests registered in a bride's book presided over by Mesdames E. P. Bass and A. R. Dillard.

Mr. Langford had for his best man, his brother, Ben Langford. Other attendants were Hyatt Donald, Jack Benyon of Fort Worth and C. D. Shamburger Jr.

Following the ceremony an informal reception was held and the bride's cake which centered the dining table, was cut by Misses Elizabeth Langford and Jane Moore, and served with an ice course.

Both young people are members of prominent Wichita Falls' families, and popular in the younger social set. Mr. Langford was a student at State university and is a member of the Kappa Alpha fraternity and also Skull and Bones, a social organization. Mrs. Langford attended National Park seminary at Washington, D. C., and State university, and is a Kappa Kappa Gamma pledge.

Mr. and Mrs. Langford left after the reception for a two weeks' trip and will be at home upon their return at 2014 Hayes street.

Mrs. Langford wore for her going away frock a tailored model in black cloth with white and black figured taffeta blouse with hat, fur and gloves to harmonize.

Among the out of town guests were Mrs. A. T. Boger, aunt of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Boger, Miss Doris Boger and A. C. Boger Jr., of Vernon, and Bert Ripley, Hardy Moore and John Stauffer, students at State university.

Kennedy's Work in Presentation Of 'The Chastening' Draws Critics Praise

The play, "The Chastening," to be presented at the Woman's Forum by Charles Rann Kennedy and Edith Wynne Matthewson on Friday night, March 8, is not only educational in its nature, it is also religious. The play, it is said, is not written to amuse those to whom every form of religious faith is a matter of scoffing, but to stimulate the devotion of those who are at least nominally Christian.

EDITH WYNNE MATTHEWSON

The Literary Digest in a review of the play says:

"The theme of the play is written around the life of Joseph, the Virgin Mary, and the boy Jesus. The climax of the action comes when the lad seizes an opportunity of declaring his divine mission. 'The difficulty of treating such a theme with the requisite tact, sincerety and dignity was manifestly very great and Charles Rann Kennedy has surmounted them with a naturalism, plausibility and necessarily mythical religious appeal which are eminently noteworthy,' says Mr. Towse, dramatic critic of the New York Evening Post.

"The scene of the play is laid by the roadside and the little family are on the way back to Nazareth from Jerusalem. Joseph is in ill humor and out of patience with his reputed son, Jesus. What right had he, a child, to make a spectacle of himself by bandying words with the learned doctors in the temple? The family will be the laughing stock of the village, he says when the lad's proceedings become known. Joseph, eloquently singing the praises of carpentry and Mary timidly advocating priesthood, beg the lad to declare his choice of profession. When the boy Jesus says 'I must be about my Father's business,' Joseph distraught with fear and horror rushes off to the manger crying, 'Blasphemy.'

"Mr. Towse says further, 'No bald analysis can do justice to the beauty, pathos, tenderness and inspiring quality of the succeeding scenes, still exquisitely human.'

"In the last scene, brilliantly and imaginatively written in the mood of revelation, Joseph, who has had a vision makes full acknowledgment of his Son's divinity."

The play will be open to Forum members on membership card. A limited number of seats will be on sale for $2 and $1 for students.

Virtue Is the Only Reliable Way To Happiness, Dorothy Dix Says

"There Is Nothing So Little Gay as the Gay Life, and Nothing That Pays So Poorly as Vice," Says Dorothy Dix—"Virtue Is a Woman's Best Means of Securing Happiness."

When a girl who is pretty and intelligent, and gay and entertaining, finds herself passed over by young men and with never a date to bless herself with because she will not neck and pet and spend her evenings in parked automobiles, it is not surprising that she asks: Does it pay a girl to be good?

When the honest business girl contrasts her own shabbiness with the chiffons of some gold-digger who finds it more profitable to work men than to pound a typewriter or stand behind a counter, it is no wonder that she asks: Does it pay a girl to be good?

It is very easy for the young, who have not seen the final auditing of so many life accounts as we older ones have, to get confused in their moral mathematics, and be unable to figure out how there is any profit in treading the straight and narrow path. To them it seems that if virtue is its own reward, as the proverb puts it, it is also its only reward, and that all the cakes and ale, the good times, and the feasting, and the merry-making, are perquisites of vice.

But this is a mistake. It does pay a girl to be good. Just as honesty is the best policy in business for a man, so is virtue a woman's best means of securing happiness. For a few years the cheat, the man who gives short weights and false measures and who misrepresents his goods, may make money quickly, but in the end he loses out and goes bankrupt because no one trusts him. The man who builds up a big business that continues to prosper is the honest man whose word is as good as his bond.

In the same way, for a little while, the girl who elects to take what we euphoniously call "the easiest way" may seem to have the best of things, the prettiest clothes, the most attention from men, the laughter and the dancing and the gay parties, but these last, at the longest, only so long as her youth and beauty last, and when these are gone no one is so forlorn, so hopeless, so helpless, so miserable as the poor butterfly whose wings are broken, whose gay coloring is dulled, and who is swept out of the night club into the gutter with the other tarnished tinsel that has been trodden under foot.

The woman whose happiness and prosperity lasts and whose old age is softer than her youth is the woman who has lived a clean, beautiful life filled with good deeds, who has won the honor and respect of all who know her, and whose husband and children rise up and call her blessed.

So to the young women who are asking whether it pays a girl to be good I say: Yes, it pays in health and length of life for a girl to be good. Old Mother Nature is the most inexorable bill collector in the world, and for every time you break one of her laws she will make you pay the full penalty, and then some. You can't burn the candle at both ends without its guttering down in your mouth. You may drug your conscience with the argument that unless you get drunk with men they will call you a flat tire and won't take you out to wild parties, but nothing is going to keep bootleg whisky from burning up the lining of your stomach and wrecking your nerves.

You may give your lips to every Tom, Dick and Harry as pay for being taken to the movies or for a joyride, but no miracle is going to be worked to save you from the degradation of such kisses. In trying to evade the long hours of the working girl you will find how short is the life of the woman of the street. Only seven years.

Did you ever see one of these women who thought it did not pay to be good when premature age had come upon her? Dirty, ragged, bleary-eyed, with straggling hair whose dye had worn off, and outcast with every door shut in her face, the most repulsive and degraded creature alive. What price the gay life?

If you want to keep your health and your beauty, be good. No woman's constitution can stand excesses long, and dissipation burns up her good looks as a rose is seared in the fire.

It pays to be good, girls, if you want to be happy though married. It is true that girls who go the pace often marry the rounders with whom they have consorted. Often they go from a drunken party to the marriage register, and such marriages keep the divorce courts busy. For no marriage can last in which neither the husband nor the wife have any respect for the other, nor any belief in the honor of the other.

There are very few men, however, who have fallen so low themselves that they do not demand virtue in their wives and the mother of their children. So generally the girl who has made herself a plaything for men finds herself tossed aside like a broken toy when the man who has amused himself with her gets ready to settle down to the real business of matrimony.

Pitifully often the girl who has thought it did not pay to be good, finally meets and falls in love with some fine, clean, honorable man who wants to marry her. Then she pays in anguish of soul for her folly, because if she tells him of her dishonor he may refuse to marry her, and if he does marry her he always holds her in a certain contempt and never trusts her.

If she marries without telling him she lives in continual dread and terror of his finding out her dark secret. No home can be a happy home with that kind of charge of dynamite under the hearthstone, nor can you think of any bitterer thing for a woman than to have a past that she is ashamed for her children to know about.

Believe me, girls, there is nothing so little gay as the gay life, and nothing that pays a girl so poorly as vice. Watch the next wild party you see at a restaurant. How hard and anxious the eyes of the women, how strained their faces under the paint. Listen to their high, shrill laughter. The crackling of thorns under a pot, not a note of merriment in it. The reason they take to drink and drugs is to whip up their flagging spirits and dull the edge of their misery.

It is only the women who have led good lives whose faces are soft and pretty and tender at 40, and who can still laugh at little things.

It pays to be good, girls, every time.

DOROTHY DIX.

Take that dirty ring out of your bathtub!

After a bath, hard water leaves a dirty ring. The soap combines with the hardness and makes scum. The scum collects dirt. The dirty ring sticks to the sides of the bathtub. It has to be scrubbed off.

But soften the water with Melo and there isn't any dirty ring on your bathtub. Melo makes water delightfully soft and a wonderful cleaner, with or without soap. It saves from ⅓ to ½ the amount ordinarily used. It makes soap more effective. Use Melo wherever you want soft water. Get it at your grocer's.

HENRIETTA, Texas, Feb. 28.—Melancholy reminders of a glamorous past, there stand today two blocks north of the courthouse square in Henrietta and four blocks north of the Wichita Falls-Fort Worth highway, a number of stone buildings around which centered the seething, turbulent life of the days when Henrietta was a roaring cow town. So say the old timers.

The walls of these buildings are as staunch as when first they were reared. The interiors are falling into decay, two of the largest untenanted, abandoned, one partially occupied as a machine shop. Isolated, these buildings would be reminiscent of the ghost towns of deserted Nevada mining districts.

First of these buildings north of the square is one that harbored one of Henrietta's first drug stores, conducted by Ben Burton and Sam Sears, according to W. F. Suddath, Henrietta banker and pioneer. Later it was occupied by Leath & Brown, saddlers. In the period in which this building was erected the saddlery shop was one of the most important institutions of any town in Texas. Henrietta then was outfitting point for men who almost lived in the saddle, in a region in which the outposts of civilization were far apart.

Supplies were freighted by ox wagon from Sherman. The journey sometimes required more than two weeks, the old timers say. Cow outfits from all over Northwest Texas and those that had concessions in the Indian nation made Henrietta headquarters when supplies were needed or there was opportunity to come to "town" for relaxation.

Beyond the old saddle shop is the two-story brick Graner opera-house. This building was erected in 1881, according to the recollection of the informant, by E. A. Graner and was first occupied as a commercial establishment. Later it was converted into a theater. In its day it was one of the best known theaters west of Dallas. Apparently it rivaled in arrangement the best theaters of its time in Texas. Graner is said to have lost much money in the theatrical venture.

Adjoining the theater is a two-story stone building, erected by S. M. Satterfield in 1880, or thereabouts. This building is occupied at present as a machine shop. Unless demolished to make way for the march of progress it likely will be standing 50 years hence. Builders of five decades ago builded honestly and with pride in their craftsmanship.

On the corner opposite the Satterfield building is another of the same type of construction, erected in 1878, before a brick kiln existed west of Sherman. This building is now known as the "livery stable" building, because of a portion of the lower floor having been occupied for quartering saddle and draught animals and vehicles. The "livery stable" was erected by Bill Rogers and Sam Audrain. On one side of the lower floor was a bar, operated by Billy Wiggins and known as Wiggins' bar.

Conspicuously graven in the keystone of the arch over the front portal of the "livery stable" is the lone star emblem of Texas, probably a patriotic inspiration.

It is possible that this account of the old buildings in Henrietta could have been embellished by narratives of lurid episodes in the early history of the town, but none could be found in a brief visit of half a day to tell of them.

George Cunningham, former high sheriff of Clay county, whose residence in Clay only dates back about 40 years, admitted that the old town was pretty lively, like all cow towns, in the days before the advent of the barbed wire fence and that the old "livery stable" accommodated the visitor in quest of diversion with games of chance according to his liking, aside from shelter for his mount, liquor in abundance and a place to sleep.

The visitor to Henrietta unacquainted with its one-time reputation would not suspect that it was ever at any time other than a placid country town.

Advises Mothers to Take Dr. Pierces Favorite Prescription

—Taylor's Studio.

Mrs. W. L. Lambert

of Fort Worth, Texas, says: "For many years I have taken Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription when nervous and rundown. I found it especially beneficial during motherhood. When I took the 'Prescription' during expectancy I had no trouble whatever, and by taking it afterward I found that it helped in bringing back my strength. I don't think there is any medicine a woman can take that will benefit her as the 'Favorite Prescription' will.—Mrs. W. L. Lambert, 531 Grant Ave.

MUCH INTEREST IN TERRACING

Demonstration Near Haskell to Be Given Today

HASKELL, Texas, Feb. 28.—Great interest is being manifested here in the terracing school and demonstration to be conducted Friday and Saturday by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, between this place and Stamford, and many preparations are being made.

The first demonstration of a series like it to be held in the future is to be held one mile southeast of McConnell on March 1 and 2. C. H. Colvin, secretary of the Eastland Chamber of Commerce will be in charge and conduct this demonstration in Haskell county. At this demonstration several different kinds of modern terracing machines will be on exhibition.

To Be Model

The farm to be terraced will be used as a model for other farmers. It will be an example of what such work will mean in conservation of moisture and soil substance and fertility. The latest and most approved methods of terracing and contouring worked out by years of experimenting will be demonstrated.

The tools and equipment to be used in this demonstration are to be supplied by numerous firms and companies interested in this work. The International Harvester company will furnish tractor power through the courtesy of local dealers, and the R. B. George Machinery company of Dallas, the Brown Tool company of Breckenridge, and the Penick-Hughes company of Stamford will furnish terracing machines.

The value of carrying on this work the year round will be taught at the school, and the opportunity to teach it to farm boys in the summer by demonstrating on pasture lands will be pointed out.

BEES ARE SOME LITTLE JOKERS

Damage Suit Jury Hears Startling Facts

CHICAGO, Feb. 28. (UP)—Busy as a bee may be, the insect still has time for his practical jokes.

This point and many others were brought out here by a bee expert, testifying in the $50,000 suit brought by J. W. Cunnea and Ezra Ross against the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railroad. They claim 48,790,000 bees died in shipment through neglect of the railroad employes.

The witness, under questioning by Attorney Daniel Taylor said bees sometimes battle and they battle because some other bee has encroachd on the family larder.

Bees steal honey but they don't wait for hard times to do so; they steal for fun, the witness said.

"Well, all I've got to say," Taylor remarked, "is that if that's a bee's idea of fun, I'm willing to rest the case on whether these bees died because rain leaked in on them as the plaintiffs charge or whether they just pitched into each other for fun and all of them died as a result."

LAND LEASING BILL APPROVED

University Land Measure Finally Passed

AUSTIN, Feb. 28. (AP)—Hours of argument in which charges of bribery and illegal oil lease actions of the University of Texas board of regents ran with frequency were climaxed today when the house refused to defer action and passed a measure placing authority for sale of school mineral properties with a board of three. Two of the members will be university regents and the third will be Land Commissioner J. T. Robison.

In finally passing out the bill, rewritten from its original form by Rep. George Kemble of Fort Worth, former university law student, the house rejected by a 66-48 vote Rep. Coke R. Stevenson's motion to postpone indefinitely final action on the measure.

Under the language of the land leasing bill, which would replace 1917 and 1925 statutes, wiped off the state's law books early in the session, a unanimous decision must be rendered relative to oil lease transactions by all members of the board before its acts become valid.

Prominent Wichita Falls People Are Out for Orgatone

MAYORS OF CITIES, DISTRICT JUDGES, PROMINENT STATE AND CITY OFFICIALS, BANKERS, LAWYERS, DOCTORS, EDITORS, AND MINISTERS OF THE GOSPEL DEEM IT THEIR DUTY TO TELL WHAT ORGATONE HAS DONE FOR THEM.

Thousands of Wonderful Endorsements Have Been Given Orgatone, and the Amazing Success the Preparation Has Achieved Within the Past Two Years Is a Real Romance of the Modern Business World. One of the Most Striking and Noteworthy Features in Connection with the Preparation, However, Has Been the Large Number of Prominent Men and Women from All Parts of the United States Who Have Unhesitatingly and Voluntarily Come Forward and Given Orgatone Treatment Their Unqualified Endorsement.

These men of affairs represent practically every branch of commercial and professional life, and included in the list are mayors, district judges, prominent state and city officials, bankers, lawyers, doctors, editors, leading educators and even ministers of the gospel.

These men have deemed it their duty to tell people what this new scientific treatment has done for them, for they have recognized in Orgatone a new discovery in medical science. It is unanswerable evidence as that settles all controversies even before they are started for the people know the value of testimony and are able to give the proper weight to its disinterestedness as well as its high character.

It is a well known fact that these endorsements have been given Orgatone time and time again and they will continue to give them out just as fast as new tests of its power are made. But it must be borne in mind that the public testimonials represent only 1000 of those who have been benefited by its use.

This explains the phenomenal and unprecedented success of this remarkable treatment and why the large drug firms of the country order it in such large quantities. It is doubtful if there is a city in the entire South and West where scores have not been restored to health and relieved of their suffering by Orgatone and in this way the indisputable message of health is being carried right to the very doors of every man, woman and child in this country.

Appearing below are a few expressions and endorsements from the large number of Wichita people, and surrounding territory, that are constantly being given to the public from day to day and which are sufficient within themselves to convince the most skeptical, as well as to explain the high stamp of character and excellence that the people of this section of Texas, have already placed upon the most famous stomach treatment ever formulated.

A. T. Anderson (machinist) 211 Houston St., Wichita Falls, says: "You tell the world, this Orgatone is some medicine and if I couldn't get it at any other price, I would pay $5.00 a bottle for it, as it has knocked out kidney and liver troubles that had been bothering me for years."

R. L. Redman, Rt. No. 1, Iowa Park, Texas, says: "For three years I suffered from indigestion, nervousness and other troubles and was never able to get more than a little temporary relief until I began taking Orgatone."

Mrs. T. J. Wynne, 1309 Burnett St., Wichita Falls, says: "Everything I would eat would sour on my stomach and cause gas to form and make me miserable. I had dizzy spells and was constipated. It is all different now as Orgatone has proved a blessing in my case."

A. F. Elliott, 417 Wichita St., Wichita Falls, says: "I had a lot of troubles among them gas forming on my stomach, and I would be miserable for hours after eating, but Orgatone has done a lot for me and I am glad to say what I can for it."

Mrs. M. T. Donaldson, 2407 Pennsylvania Ave., Wichita Falls, says: "I suffered with a pain in my right side from gall bladder trouble for the past six years. Since taking Orgatone, will say it has been a wonderful blessing to me and acted like a miracle."

Tony Dietrich (glass worker) of 208 Lee St., Wichita Falls, says: "For 20 years I suffered from stomach disorders and doctors and medicines could do me no good whatever. I heard about Orgatone and after trying it, I find it beats anything I've ever seen."

Mrs. S. Myers, 2310 Grant St., Wichita Falls, says: "I have been nervous and constipated practically all my life and at times I was a mighty sick woman. I decided to try Orgatone and it commenced to relieve my troubles of years' standing immediately."

Mrs. C. O. Rino, of 800 Missouri St., Wichita Falls, says: "My husband suffered with stomach trouble and rheumatism but since taking two bottles of Orgatone, he is feeling like a different person."

Hershell Morris (owner Barbecue Inn) of 1122 Scott St., Wichita Falls, says: "My liver did not seem to be acting right and I was tired and constipated nearly all the time when I started taking Orgatone. It certainly has been fine in my case."

N. A. Burnside (railroad switchman) of 1500 N. Ninth St., Wichita Falls, says: "Before I took Orgatone I was suffering from stomach, liver trouble and dull headaches. You can put me down as a friend of Orgatone as it sure did the work for me."

Mrs. J. A. James of 512 Austin St., Wichita Falls, says: "My husband had been unable to work for over two years from disordered stomach and people and relatives who have known him for some time hardly recognize him, he is so much better since starting on Orgatone."

W. L. Dalton (oil supplies) of 1504 Austin St., Wichita Falls, says: "This Orgatone beats anything I've ever seen for building a man up and relieving him of stomach trouble. I suffered for several years and if I hadn't got hold of Orgatone I do not know what would have become of me."

Mrs. L. W. Abbe, of 121 Dallas St., Wichita Falls: says: "I suffered for 15 years from nervousness and dizzy spells and everything I ate caused me trouble, but since taking Orgatone I feel like a different person and have gained 15 pounds."

C. H. Perry (farmer) Rural Rt. 1, Wichita Falls, says: "I would just like to shake hands with the man that makes Orgatone, as it got me over stomach trouble, and bad headaches that had bothered me for years."

Mrs. May Beadle, of Electra, Texas, says: "I had indigestion so bad for four years before I commenced taking Orgatone that every bit of food I took disagreed with me, my nerves were all upset, but it's different now and I will praise Orgatone the longest day I live."

Geo. H. Steel (street car motorman) of 2700 Kemp Blvd., Wichita Falls, says: "I suffered with indigestion so bad that even coffee hurt my stomach. I grew weak and discouraged and was getting thin, until I found this Orgatone, and I certainly do recommend it for what it has done for me."

M. L. Langford (locomotive machinist) of 2116 Yale street, Wichita Falls, says: "Gas on my stomach would bloat me up and I was in a very much run-down condition from loss of appetite until I found this Orgatone which is just the right medicine for anyone suffering as I did."

Geo. W. Felton of 3105 Garfield street, Wichita Falls, says: "When it comes to getting rid of bad stomach and kidney trouble like I suffered with indigestion and gall bladder trouble for years."

Orgatone may be obtained in Wichita Falls at Allison's Drug Store, 716 Indiana Ave.—Adv.

MRS. G. L. HAWKS
230 Terrace Avenue, Petersburg, Virginia

"I was just run-down, no good for anything, could eat very little, was restless all the time, and had nervous crying spells. I did not sleep any at night and just dreaded for night to come. My sister-in-law recommended the Vegetable Compound to me one day and my husband brought home a bottle. I began getting better when I was taking the second bottle and now I have a good appetite, take care of my people when they are sick and do my own work too."—Mrs. G. L. Hawks.

MRS. GLENN LINN
523 W. Warford St., Perry, Iowa

"When I was a girl of 13 I was pale and run-down, my back ached and I had no life in me. My mother saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised and got it for me and after taking six bottles I was like a different person. It made me strong and well and did wonders for me. The best I can say is not enough. I took three bottles more about a year ago and it helped me again. I am taking it now in the tablet form and find it a wonderful help. I will answer letters from women about it."—Mrs. Glenn Linn.

MRS. GRACE A. FELTON

200 CAMERAS TO 'SHOOT' HERB

Inaugural Ceremonies to Be 'Kept' for Posterity

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28. (UP)—Between 150 and 200 cameramen will click and grind away at the inaugural ceremonies on March 4 to make for posterity the most complete picture and sound record ever made of one event.

Batteries of movie cameras, stills and sound recorders will catch every incident in the business of making Herbert Hoover the next president of the United States.

Not a thing will escape the eye of the camera. Movie and still men will be in the senate chamber during the swearing in of Charles Curtis as vice president. They will snap and grind away from platforms and vantage spots in front of the capitol building while President-elect Hoover takes the oath of office.

Sound recorders from every film company making "talkies" will catch both the pictures and the speeches. In addition, the sound cameramen have been given permission to drive their recording trucks up and down the parade right of way to catch the colorful picture and the noise of the parade.

High above the line of March, other camera men in airplanes will focus their machines earthward and record the bird's-eye view of the ceremonies.

Then when the inaugural is over fast airplanes will carry the films east and west, north and south, to distributing points. This promises to be a merry race for the honor of getting the first pictures and movie films to strategic cities throughout the country.

Army planes will aid in distributing pictures of the ceremonies. Especially equipped machines will develop the films while in air and other planes will be held in readiness to carry them as speedily as possible to the larger cities.

Five Impeachment Charges Are Laid Against Judge in Aimee's Tangle

Judge Carlos S. Hardy Accused of Wrong Doing Before State Senate of California

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Feb. 28. (UP)—Five articles of impeachment, involving charges of misconduct and misdemeanor in office, were placed today against Superior Judge Carlos S. Hardy of Los Angeles by the assembly board of managers.

The impeachment papers were presented at the bar of the senate, which will sit as a court in the impeachment trial. The accusations were prepared by the five men who must act as prosecutors for the state at the trial.

The impeachment articles accused Judge Hardy of the following offenses:

1—Furnishing legal advice to Aimee Semple McPherson, Los Angeles evangelist, her mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, and to the Angelus temple from February, 1923, to April, 1927.

2—Attempting to influence grand jurors who were investigating the alleged kidnaping and reappearance of Mrs. McPherson in 1926, and attempting to create public opinion favorable to the evangelist through the radio and public platform.

3—Accepting a check from Mrs. McPherson and her mother for $2,500 on Aug. 12, 1926, for legal advice during the grand jury investigation and acting as counsel for attorneys and witnesses for Mrs. McPherson.

4—Intimating Wallace Moore, Santa Barbara newspaperman, who claimed he partly identified a woman in an automobile with Kenneth G. Ormiston, as Mrs. McPherson, telling Moore that a "mistake in identification might make him liable for damages at any time during the rest of his life."

5—Distributing tickets of admission to the trial of William Edward Hickman in January, 1928, contrary to a constitutional provision, "thereby bringing disrepute, obloquy, and dishonor to the superior court of California."

NEW YORK—Superior court at Newport recently granted a divorce to Mrs. Catherine Livington Hammersley Drayton on her charge of extreme cruelty. One of Henry Coleman Drayton's major offenses, she said, was snoring in theaters, which caused her great embarrassment.

HOME FOUND FOR TROTZKY

Exiled Leader to Live Near Berlin

By WILLIAM HILLMAN

BERLIN, Feb. 28. (US)—Leon Trotzky, banished red Napoleon, will spend his exile in a little white cottage on the outskirts of Berlin.

Friends and followers of his, Universal Service learns, have secretly arranged to install him in a home at Alma Ata, where the only improvements were an electric light and a fountain pen.

The house is owned by a former member of the reichstag, who is turning it over to the friends of Trotzky. Here, the fallen red leader and his wife will be able to live in simple comforts amidst books and pictures. Trotzky will find a study room rich in socialistic material.

In his new home Trotzky will have the advantage both of the country and of the city. In extremely delicate health, suffering from stomach trouble which grew worse in the cold damp wind-swept Kirghish-Cossack village, where he was first exiled by Stalin, Trotzky will be able to enjoy the green and the sunshine of the country without going to the rural sections of Germany where an attempt might easily be made on his life.

At the same time, he can easily get to the heart of Berlin within three-quarters of an hour.

Trotzky expects to devote his time in the little "white house of exile," regaining his health and writing. For on writing he must now depend for his livelihood although his followers are ready to support him.

Beef Steaks Due to Start Tumble From Dizzy Price Level Before Long

BOSTON, Feb. 28. (INS)—The prices of beef, inflated by economic conditions as result of the world war, are at present probably at the peak in the United States, and due for a drop within the next two or three years, Harold H. Swift, packer, told members of the Boston Chamber of Commerce this afternoon.

Over-expansion of packing plants and herds of cattle to meet the demands of the war-time period, brought about a severe post-war depression in the packing industry, Swift explained. Time alone would remedy the situation, he added.

"The trend of production should be gradually upward with resultant lowering of prices for beef," the packing company executive declared.

Rivals in Oklahoma Statehouse

Mrs. Pearl B. Ashbrook (left) declares she advised Henry S. Johnston, suspended governor of Oklahoma, through spirits of dead statesmen. Mrs. O. O. Hammonds (right) has been called the "Mrs. Colonel House" of the governor's administration.

Two Women Have Played Opposite Each Other During Johnston Era

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 28. (AP)—Two women, one the "Mrs. Colonel House of Oklahoma politics," the other a self-styled spiritualistic healer, have played rival roles in the "petticoat rule" of Henry S. Johnston, suspended governor facing trial on impeachment charges.

It was Mrs. O. O. Hammonds, Johnston's confidential secretary during his turbulent two years in office, who upset tradition by wielding dictatorial powers in his office. When visitors quizzed Johnston, they were told, "You'll have to see Mayme." Now Mrs. Hammonds has resigned.

Opposing Mrs. Hammonds' guardianship over the governor's private office was Mrs. Pearl B. Ashbrook, who claimed to advise Johnston through spirits of dead statesmen. Invariably her efforts to see Johnston were repulsed by Mrs. Hammonds, whom she called "that woman."

Both women claimed credit for starting Johnston on his road to the governorship. Mrs. Hammonds said she "discovered" Johnston when she first met him at the Democratic convention in 1924; Mrs. Ashbrook in turn said she had seen a "message on the wall" that Johnston would be Oklahoma's next governor.

Mrs. Hammonds made her debut into politics when she fought to keep Oklahoma out of Alfred E. Smith's Democratic camp five years ago. When Johnston announced his candidacy for governor, she took a desk beside his and worked without pay.

Upon his entrance to office Mrs. Hammonds became his confidential secretary. She claimed she was in fact governor, dictating Johnston's every move. Visitors to his office were admitted only on her approval.

Johnston spurned arguments against Mrs. Hammonds and called her "an angel sent from heaven to guide destinies of my administration."

Mrs. Ashbrook addressed Johnston as "governor" before he campaigned for the office. A message had told her, she said, that he would be elected.

She called Johnston the mystic type and said his "excellent spiritual sympathies and vibrations made him almost mediumistic."

112 KILLED IN INDIAN FRAY

Slaughter of Babes for Cult Sacrifices Blamed

By ROBERT WELLES RITCHIE

LONDON, Feb. 28. (US)—Three weeks of bloodshed between Hindus and Moslems in the Indian City of Bombay has resulted to date in the killing of 112 and the wounding of more than 600. Morgues and hospitals are filled to overflowing. The native quarter is a seething cauldron of hate where in an instant any street may be turned into a shambles by the appearance thereon of some group, or individual, of the feud's opposite side.

According to a report in the house of commons by Earl Winterton, under-secretary for India, this, the most savage recurrence of the ageold blood feud between Hindu and Moslem, started on Feb. 2 when the baseless rumor spread among the Hindu population of Bombay that Pathans, who are the shaggy fighting folk from the Indian northwestern frontier and Afghanistan, had kidnaped Hindu children to bury them alive under the foundations of a new bridge being constructed at Baroda as a blood sacrifice to insure against the bridge's falling. Several hundred of these Pathan hillmen were working on the cotton mills of Bombay and, on the spreading of this preposterous rumor, these outlanders were made the object of Hindu fury.

Religions Conflict

The Pathan is a moslem. From the time Mohammedan conquerors rode over the necks of the native Indian Hindus in successive invasions from the seventh century onward, bitterness between the worshippers of Vishnu and the prophet has never relaxed. Recent bloody reprisals have been but revivals on a larger scale of annual clashes between people of different race and conflicting religions.

According to Earl Winterton's resume before the house of commons, the early days of February saw sporadic attacks against small bodies of the Pathan millhands by Hindus—stabbings in the dark and the use of the strangling cord in shadowed bazaars. On Feb. 5 leaders of the Pathans made formal request to the police commissioner of Bombay for protection and the commissioner, knowning he was sitting atop a volcano of bitter racial and religious hatred, did make requisition upon the military for 100 British troops to patrol the native quarter.

On the night the police and soldiery first cooperated to protect the shaggy hillmen an English police inspector named Priestly was killed by a stone when endeavoring to break up a clash between rioters and a dozen Hindus and Pathans were sent to the morgue with fatal knife wounds.

Up to this time the quarrel had been confined to Hindus and Pathans; but now the Moslem co-religionists of the latter whirled into the fray. They could not stand aside and see a few hundred of Allah's chosen facing a whole city full of Hindus unprotected. Even though the Indian government, now fully aroused to the welter of blood that was abroad, rushed one battalion of British troops from Poona and two companies with machine guns from Deolali into Bombay, the intervention of government troops seems to have been half-hearted.

Aged Aunt of Herbert Hoover Dies in Seclusion of Her Humble Texas Home

LIBERTY, Texas, Feb. 28. (UP)—The body of an aunt of President-elect Herbert Hoover was taken today from Liberty to the Historic little bay shore town of Anahuac for burial.

Mrs. Elisabeth Fitzsimmons Hudson, 80, died as she had lived, in utter seclusion, in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Macy Thompson, on the banks of Trinity river here.

It was only from this daughter that employes of an undertaking company learned of the aged woman's identity.

Mrs. Thompson recalled that her mother was born on a farm in West Virginia but moved to Iowa with her parents at the age of three. Her sister, Hildah, became a Quaker preacher and married a blacksmith by the name of Hoover. They made their home at West Branch, Iowa.

COL. STEWART ROARS AGAIN

Chicago Offices Buried In Enemy's Proxies

CHICAGO, Feb. 28, (UP)—Col. Robert W. Stewart, replying today to the latest claims of the Rockefeller interests of a proxy victory in the fight for control of the Standard Oil company of Indiana, said his opponents either are "amazingly ignorant" of the company's affairs or are attempting to deceive stockholders.

Stewart, chairman of the board, whose position is at stake in the election to be held at the annual stockholders' meeting at Whiting, Ind., on March 7, said he had more than twice the number claimed by the committee supporting John D. Rockefeller Jr. The Rockefeller statement was issued in New York last night by Winthrop Aldrich.

"The statement last night merely is another manifestation of amazing ignorance of these men (Aldrich and Ivy Lee, publicity man) concerning the affairs of the company of which they are trying to seize control," Stewart said.

"If they are as ignorant of the company's affairs as their statement would indicate they certainly are unfit to dictate how the company should be run."

Referring to Rockefeller's claims of proxies of 16,000 stockholders, Stewart replied: "We have proxies of more than twice that number, thousands of which represent revocations of proxies originally given to Mr. Rockefeller Jr."

"Every mail, from East, West, South and North,' he continued, 'brings further revocations. Today's mail brought a considerable number from persons whose holdings run well into five figures.

"In the Middle West where this company markets its products, there are 27,873 stockholders. Of these 23,700 have already executed proxies in my favor."

He denied the Rockefeller charge that Stewart had used coercion on employes to obtain proxies, adding that "the entire subtle coercive power of the Rockefeller millions is being used everywhere to intimidate and coerce both individuals and financial institutions."

Washington Masonic Slab Completed

ALEXANDRIA, Va., Feb. 28 (US)—Towering somewhat like the great obelisk in the nation's capital and overlooking historic shrines along the Potomac river, the George Washington Masonic national memorial, a massive temple on Shooters' Hill, is to be completed and equipped in ample time for the celebration of the two hundredth anniversary of the birth of the first president of this country, it was learned today.

Masons of the country are to assemble here in large numbers to celebrate the anniversary. It was announced this week that an appropriation of approximately $400,000 toward the completion of the $5,000,000 temple has been authorized by the George Washington Masonic National Memorial association.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 28. (US)—Charlie Chaplin's condition was "greatly improved" this afternoon, according to reports of physicians attending the famous screen comedian who suffered a relapse Tuesday after an attack of ptomaine poisoning.

It was indicated that if Chaplin continued to improve his complete recovery from his illness would be but a matter of a week or ten days.

Keep Stomach Young!

Eat What You Want

When the food you eat goes into your acid-soaked stomach, it sours and can't digest, makes foul gas and sour bile. The blood takes these poisonous acids and carries them through the body. Naturally—it makes you miserable and despondent, because your system is not nourished—you lose weight.

Pape's Diapepsin dissolves the acids and sweetens the stomach. It digests the food; no more sour bile is taken up by the blood. Your appetite is like a youngster's again, and gradually you get back your health, flesh and energy.

Chew a tablet or two of Pape's Diapepsin after meals. It tastes good, and relieves the misery of indigestion in five minutes. It will keep your stomach young and vigorous so you can eat anything you want without being afraid of the consequences.—Adv.

Wellington Enters Most Ambitious Campaign for Municipal Advancement

Influence of Daily Newspaper on Town and County Progress Seen by Leaders in Movement

(By Staff Correspondent)

WELLINGTON, Texas, Feb. 28.—"The daily newspaper is doing more to advance the development of Collingsworth county than any other single agency," declared E. L. Winn, manager of the Wellington Chamber of Commerce. "Without the aid and influence of the daily newspaper," Mr. Winn continued, "growth of the county might be likened to travel in an ox-drawn wagon.

"The daily newspaper, as I see it, informs its readers of progress of the outside world; the home town weekly brings the people of town and country into closer relationship. There may be differences of opinion as to matters affecting the common welfare; the man who reads seeks the solution in the daily newspaper and gets the community viewpoint from his home town paper.

Boosts 1,700 Readers

"The daily newspaper, as near as can be estimated goes into 1,700 homes in Collingsworth county. Wellington is entering one of the most ambitious campaigns for the advancement of all interests of the town and county that has been attempted. There would be hesitancy in approaching some of the projects were it not for the knowledge that the newspapers can be relied upon for support." Mr. Winn concluded.

Outlined as the principal objectives for 1929 deemed most necessary for Wellington are: A municipal airport; extension of rural free delivery; a north-and-south railroad; east-and-west and north-and-south paved highways, making Wellington the best market in the Panhandle for farm products; establishing the dairy and poultry industries on a more substantial basis throughout the county, and encouraging the work of county farm and home demonstration agents.

Plans for a municipal airport are approaching maturity. Postmaster Ray Arnold is of the opinion that if government requirements are complied with Wellington will receive consideration.

Petition has been presented asking for an additional rural route to serve 110 homes, and effort will be made to secure extension of the service to additional homes on established routes.

The matter of a north-and-south railroad is in a formative stage, so far as the railroad company is concerned, but there are grounds for the belief that the Burlington may announce before the end of the year its intention to penetrate Collingsworth county. One of the most reliable and substantial business men of the Panhandle is authority for the statement that some time back a committee was frankly advised by a high official of the Burlington that surveys had been made and plans drawn for a line northward from Childress through the Panhandle. Judge W. D. McCoy, land and right-of-way commissioner of the Denver road, made practically the same statement, in Wellington.

Road Bond Plans

It is believed that when all taxpayers are shown by a presentation of facts that the paved highways in prospect are essential to the progress of the county that only a minimum of opposition to necessary bond issue will be shown.

Wider publicity will be given to the advantage of Wellington as a market for farm products, and it is said that plans are in process that will result in additional advantages to those now offered.

In preparation for an intensive campaign to establish dairying and poultry raising as major factors in general farm production, surveys will be made to demonstrate the profit possibilities of these industries and for the aid of the farmer, banker and business man.

The activities of the county farm and home demonstration agents will receive increased support that will stimulate wider interest in this work.

That Wellington during the present year will experience the greatest growth yet recorded in its history is indicated in building construction in immediate prospect. These include a brick structure for the State Telephone company, to cost $15,000; a new brick structure for the Ray Goodson funeral parlor; the $23,000 building being constructed by L. W. Gribble, the lower floor of which will be occupied by the postoffice, and 15 residences on which a total of approximately $15,000 will be expended.

Lumber and building material concerns are experiencing exceptionally large demands for this season of the year. S. R. Pinkston, manager of the C. D. Shamburger Lumber company and president of the chamber of commerce, is pleased with prospects for the present year.

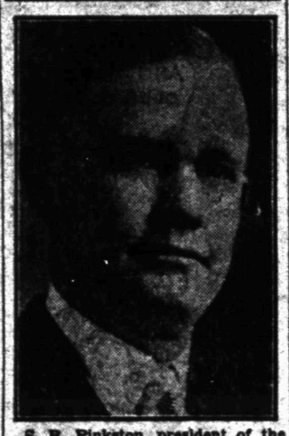

Other testimony to the optimism of Wellington business men is that in January liberal patronage was given the third annual Home Demonstration club edition of the Wellington Leader, of 24 pages, and more recently a 40-page Sunday edition of the paper, followed by daily editions through the week in which the Leader's annual booking school was held.

By way of parenthesis, the Home Demonstration club edition attracted statewide attention and demands for copies of the paper have come from chambers of commerce, agricultural agents and club women from all sections of Texas, in addition to securing liberal editorial comment laudatory in its nature.

The Collingsworth Standard, Wellington's other excellent weekly newspaper, has in preparation its annual edition, which is receiving the liberal patronage accorded those of the Leader.

Collingsworth county has an area of 574,720 acres. Of this agricultural domain, only 177,664 acres are crop acres, according to the government estimate. This area is capable of supporting a city of 15,000 or 20,000 population. Wellington's present population is 4,500. The town, it might be said, is in its infancy. Those who "got in on the ground floor" have prospered. Opportunities are not exhausted. Others will come to Wellington to engage in business and will prosper, provided they have ability and resourcefulness.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28. (UE)—Harvey O'Higgins, author, playwright and newspaper man, died at his home near Martinsville, N. J., today after an illness of three days. He was 53.

...in fact, popularity depends upon it

THAT priceless treasure—a clear, flawless, lovely skin—charms, with admiration, the hearts of men.

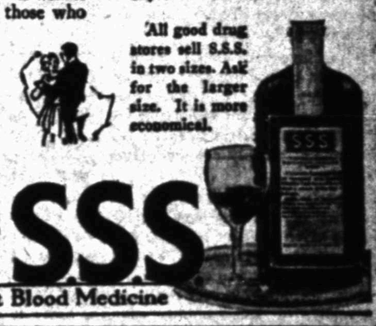

First impressions cannot be good without a clear skin—first impressions are quickly made and are not soon forgotten. Old friends may excuse pimples and secretly sympathize but new acquaintances may not be so charitable. Skin blemishes are not inviting. Neither can they be covered up. They embarrass. Hold people back. Steal away joy and happiness.

A lovely—clear skin—is within the reach of all. To those who have lost it, hope is offered. You, too, may have a beautiful skin, rose-petal in texture, pretty as a picture and without a single pimple.

Many thousands have regained their strength and charm by taking S.S.S. It is Nature's own blood tonic for raising the body's power of resistance to disease, improving the appetite, building firm flesh, and clearing the skin. S.S.S. promotes constructive metabolism (healthy body building). It increases the number of red blood-cells.

The way to the skin is through the blood. Strong, healthy blood nourishes the body and fights against infection and disease.

All good drug stores sell S.S.S. in two size. Ask for the larger size. It is more economical.

S.S.S. is made from fresh vegetable drugs and has a successful record of over 100 years back of it.

CORN-STALKS AND SKY-SCRAPERS

Daily Editorial

"OLD SAWS" break their teeth on new conditions.

All axioms lose their edge in time. Yesterday's wiseacres don't cover so much area nowadays—including Solomon.

He's the man, you'll remember, who couldn't find anything original under the sun. But a great deal has happened since he sized up conditions.

For instance, hundred-story skyscrapers start to line the horizon, with announcement of a building tile 90 per cent lighter than any brick in present use.

If the inventor's claims are substantiated by performance, this extraordinary block will slice construction costs from foundation to roof. And still further intensify the problems of already over-congested districts.

Property owners will thrill at the prospect of doubling the income from a given piece of land. But if twice as many folk are to be hived in the busiest centers of each community, we must discover engineering ability far more notable than the intelligence that now directs street traffic.

THE WORLD can't step faster than its transportation facilities, any more than a pint measure can hold a quart.

But there's no limit to the speed at which we may travel above surface, especially if the theories of a young Japanese naturalist are realized.

He takes 20,000 pictures per minute, with a motion picture camera designed to record the flight of birds, and secure more accurate knowledge of their wing movements.

His amazing machine operates with such precision, that it actually catches the shifts and variations of air currents. Aviation, studying from these films, may at last work with eyes sharper than eagles, and penetrate the final secrets of levitation.

Illinois' long ballyhooed cornstalk paper has arrived. Mills, producing first-class printing stock, of cellulose slightly mixed with wood, vindicate the hope that farm refuse will eventually replace constantly dearer and scarcer spruse supplies.

Publishers are assured a ten-dollar per ton saving through the substitute, with promise of greater economies, when the corn-belt is organized to deliver raw material to strings of neighborhood plants.

Opportunity is growing two fresh hairs for every one that's yanked out of her forelock. Each invention suggests another batch.

No sooner is a principle established, than a thousand alert minds proceed to delve into its potentialities, and enrich civilization with added equipment and substances.

There is "something new under the sun." And it's proclaimed daily in printers' ink.

If you're looking for the main chance, follow the press dispatches.

1836—Constitutional convention assembled at Washington on the Brazos.
J. W. Smith and 32 colonists from Gonzales joined the Texans in the Alamo.

1861—Texas was formally admitted to the confederacy.

President Coolidge, during his administration, has posed with 957 delegations on the White House grounds. Guess about the only organizations not included in that number are some of the Chicago business groups.

A funeral in Chicago costs less than half as much as it would in New York, say the Chicago undertakers. We can't understand why Woolworth hasn't opened a five-and-dime coffin store there.

Where the Bolter Bill Hurts

EVEN IF the state Democratic executive committee planned to expel some 300,000 bolting members of the party, The Record News sees no good reason why Senator Thomas B. Love should be so violently opposed to the senate bill which gives the executive committee this power. Since the first move to split the Democratic party, we have heard much of the good that would come from making Texas a two-party state. The virtues of such a program have been long extolled by the Republicans, and were echoed from the "Hoover Democrats" in the last election. If all of Senator Love's fears prove true, which is a difficult thing to imagine, then the worst we should have would be the condition which Senator Love and others have been telling us would be a good thing—a two-party state by the expulsion of 300,000 former Democrats.

As a principle, this newspaper believes that a political party should have the right to determine its own qualifications for membership, and to prescribe who shall participate in its affairs. As an application of this principle, The Record News doubts that any effort will be made to dislodge any great number of the 300,000 who stampeded into the Republican camp in the last general election. This newspaper believes that 299,995 of the 300,000 should be received back into the Democratic fold if they desire to return. Of the five remaining on the outside, the name of Senator Thomas B. Love of Dallas, like that of Abou Ben Adhem, would lead all the rest.

Costs the Same, But Hurts Less

DRASTIC DECREASE in state automobile fees by the Texas legislature will undoubtedly be the most popular, if not the outstanding piece of legislation of a none too distinctive session. While the members of the 40th legislature may have little cause for pointing with pride for the work of the regular term, they at least will have some small claim on the gratitude of automobile owners, whose anguish over the license fees was most pronounced around the first of the year.

Of course the automobile owner must still pay for the roads, as well as for a good part of the schools. But under the new plan, his payments will be not quite so painful. Funds will be extracted from his pockets in the form of the gasoline tax a little at a time. Perhaps this is the best system. There is no reason why taxation should not be made as painless as possible.

Chartering Our Course

IT MUST be that this nation of ours is growing up. We are beginning to spin romances about the experiences of our youth; and when a man or a nation does that it is a sure sign that maturity is at hand.

The last few years have seen a great number of books, plays and moving pictures dealing with old, half-forgotten phases of American civilization. The covered wagon of the western home-seeker, the show boat of the inland rivers, the clipper ship of the New Englanders, the slow-moving barge of the Erie and Ohio canals, the coming of the machine age to the children of the pioneers; all of these subjects, and others like them, have been made the basis for tales and dramas.

All are interesting. No American can really understand his country without soaking in them. Yet the mere fact that we can write about them so glibly proves that we have left them far behind. Our very interest in them proves that we have half forgotten them. The Dakota home-steaders of the '90s would not have cared for "Giants in the Earth," nor would the Oregon settlers have enjoyed "The Covered Wagon."

Looking back, we find a strange romantic haze coloring all those times. Things that in the reality of experience were terrible, or dull, or monotonous, or stifling, become, in retrospect, exciting or picturesque. We feel that it must have been good to be alive in those old days; the stories about them make such interesting reading.

So it is that things that were done in suffering and desperation become subject matter for diverting tales. The Oregon Trail, with all its pain and bloodshed and heart-hunger, becomes a picturesque panorama. The Army of Northern Virginia, marching to Appomattox, becomes a pleasantly romantic topic for poems and musical shows. The pioneer's wilderness cabin, where untended women bore children in utter loneliness, becomes a symbol that has just enough melancholy about it to make it interesting.

That is the way it has always been in this world. And there is this encouraging thing about it.

We have gone far enough from the pioneer days to make stories about them. We are also far enough removed from them to see them in perspective, and understand them as those who participated in them could not—even if we do lose sight of their unpleasant aspects. We have reached a point, in other words, where we can see the meaning of those by-gone experiences and achievements. We can tie them up into a unified whole.

That means that we can chart our own course with surer knowledge than our ancestors could. We can see that all the "picturesque" or "romantic" episodes of our country's history were parts of one great movement; a movement that took a huge wilderness and tried to turn it into a homeland where there could be more freedom, better times and a richer life for every man than ever before in history.

That movment is unfinished. It is our job to carry it on toward completion. Our re-awakened interest in the old days is a good sign. It signifies that we are beginning to see more clearly just where we are bound.

MARIETTA WANTS A PEANUT MILL

Love county, our Oklahoma neighbor to the north, is making an effort to get enough peanuts planted this year to induce someone to establish a peanut mill in Marietta. For the purpose of acquainting the farmers of Love county with the importance of peanut growing, a rally was held in Marietta by the chamber of commerce. This meeting was addressed by a representative of the peanut plant now in operation at Durant, and as a result, the farmers are said to be enthused over the outlook. —Gainesville (Texas) Daily Register.

MORE HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

At the present time more than one-half of the population of high school age is in actual attendance at high school. In the cities this rate is even higher; in rural areas it is somewhat lower.

But what is noteworthy is the fact that 30 years ago not more than one-seventh of the young people of high school age went to high school. High school enrollments, indeed, have doubled since so late a date as 1920. —Chillicothe Valley News.

The Day Book of a New Yorker

Broadway Chatter by Grant Dixon

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—It is strange that the downtown financial section of New York, so overcome by business turmoil during the day, should be quiet and dark at night. The metamorphosis from activity to inactivity is indeed an enchanting one. By day there are nearly 3,000,000 people in that space, crowded with towering skyscrapers.

Between 5 and 6 p. m., when dusk comes, the office toilers begin to pour out of the buildings, swarming into the streets and vanishing into the subways. In a startlingly short time they have gone. Lower Broadway, Wall street and all the interesting streets are quiet. There are but a few stray souls hurrying along, like sorry humans left behind in a deserted world. The stillness is almost appalling.

Standing one night in the very midst of this solemn silence, I looked up at the towering walls of stone and steel. There was only the sound of the wind sweeping through, and it had the same cry of the wind tht sighs in deserted valleys. Far, far up, could be seen a few scattered lights. I tried to think what they reminded me of. And then I recalled that once, while out in Wyoming, surrounded by great cliffs, I saw, far up, flickering lights—campfires on lonely mountainsides.

There is nothing new about society taking up prize fighting in a serious way. Miss Anne Morgan some time ago sponsored a fight in Madison Square garden for the benefit of war-stricken France, and ever since then boiled white shirt fronts, dinner jackets and low neck gowns have been a common sight in the garden.

The latest social registerite to go in for prize fighting in a large way is Anthony Biddle Jr., who backs boxers and has, at his after-fighting parties, notables of the fistic world, as a few bluebloods.

It's just another example of how democratic we all are becoming.

An individual who has raised more controversy among theatergoers, producers, actors and critics this season than any other person is a foreigner—St. John Ervine, the English "guest critic" of a New York morning newspaper. During the short time he has been here "Sin Jinx," as he is called (and not affectionately, either) has embittered the critics by disagreeing with them; has caused producers to claw the air by calling them mercenary; has tried to wither all women with the statement that they have spoiled the drama by demanding "light theatrical fare" and, in general, has caused quite a rumpus.

Mr. Ervine leaves pretty soon for England, and one of the local wits, commenting upon this, suggested that a farewell dinner be given in honor of the English critic "the day after he sails for Europe."

For some time I have been anxious to discuss a feature of Greenwich village that is overlooked by most of its commentators. I refer to the village cats. A conscientious census taker ought to have little trouble in counting up at least 10,000 of them. They represent all species, Persians, Maltese, Angoras, Siamese, chinchillas and plain, ordinary alley cats.

Cats are more popular with village folk than dogs or parrots or singing canaries. Don't ask me why. All I know is that merely every hostess below Fourteenth street seems to divide her conversations between the guests and the pet cat and sometimes it is never quite clear when she is talking to a guest or a cat.

What might be termed a Who's Who Among the Sophisticates was displayed recently in the "Talking Pictures of 1929," the scenario having been by Will Rogers and others. It was very interesting and approximately 200 prominent people of New York and the United States were satirized. They represented authors, musicians, actors and actresses, grand opera stars, financial geniuses, politicians, etc.

It was particularly intriguing because it was supposed to have rounded up the really significant and smart people of the day. I understand, however, that not a little pique was caused among various groups. In social circles, for instance, there was resentment on the part of those who had been left out of the spotlight. Among authors there were many who couldn't see why they should be left out while certain other writers were included. I dare say some bankers were quite put out by their exclusion and the inclusion of Otto Kahn, although it must be borne in mind that Mr. Kahn is one of the foster fathers of the local intelligentsia.

Among theater managers in the large and medium sized cities throughout the country it is generally conceded that the New York producers long have paid inadequate attention to what they term "the road." Usually they strive for Broadway successes and when, at last, they send out a company on the road it is not always a competent one.

For a time the producers actually thought that any kind of a play and any kind of a cast would be welcome above the Bronx and beyond the Hudson. Now word is coming to them that the "provincial theater" is more or less on strike and that unless Broadway sends out better shows the stock companies will have full sway. As a result producers, reeling with the blows dealt right in Manhattan this season, are beginning to listen to reason. They are beginning to realize that taste and good judgment are not restricted to the metropolitan area

FAVORITE JOKES OF FAMOUS FOLKS

As Told by Them to FRANK E. NICHOLSON

By LA TOURA

LA TOURA

La Toura is the Mary Pickford, Queen of Sheba, Mona Lisa and Peggy Joyce of South America. Hollywood movie makers recently imported the Spanish Latin prize-winning beauty to their movie mills. But after La Toura arrived the artistic and creative minds were unable to concoct a story that fitted the senorita's "type"—so La Tourn went playwright, and is now writing her own hokum.

"I very much like the joke," the Spanish fandango told me, "about the Hebrew who had his son come home from college to work for him. The first morning the father called him into his private office in the back of the store.

"'Son,' he said, 'I vant det you shudd loin all apout the bizniss, Foist, I vunt det you shudd go to Cohen's and try to collect de $300 det he owes to me.'

"So the son called upon Cohen. An hour later he returned. 'Vell,' asked the father, 'how did you make out?'

"'Oh, father, poor old Cohen is broke—flat broke! He told me that he owes every one! His business has failed and his wife is sick,' they have no food and he asked me if I knew of a good place along the river where he could jump in and commit suicide!'

"'Ouy, ouy, Abie, mine boy!' exclaimed the father, 'vhy didn't you sell him a revolver?'"

Stinson and Page Postpone Flight

The postponement came when an effort to send the heavily-laden plane into the air failed, the plane being unable to gain sufficient speed to take off from the slush and ice which covered the bay.

Reports that the plane had taken off earlier in the day were erroneous.

Airways Contract Made

WASHINGTON, March 1. (AP)—The American International Airways, Inc., of New York, was low bidder today for the air mail route from Cristobal, Panama Canal, to Santiago, Chile, with an offer of $1.44 per mile, plus 72 cents per pound per 1,000 miles.

Buy Your Oil with Your Eyes Open

See the golden color as it pours

Many motorists do no more when buying oil than drive up and say "two quarts." Some go a step further and buy their oil by name. But the motorist who wants Texaco, and knows why he wants it, goes still further and proves that the oil he gets is the oil he pays for. He identifies it by the clean, clear, golden color of Texaco Motor Oil which is as distinctive and easily recognizable as the trade-mark on a sealed can.

See the golden color in the Texaco Comparoscope. Watch the golden stream as it pours. From then on—so long as you continue to buy golden Texaco—your engine will be free from carbon troubles and excessive wear. Consult the Texaco Lubrication Chart for the right grade to use.

SPUDDERS START SPRING TRAINING TODAY; 2 HURLERS ARRIVE

STIELY, ELLIS BOTH LEFTIES

Young Men Have Promising Records as Chuckers

By LARRY DAILEY
Record News Sports Editor

Spring has come. That season spoken by the poets as the time when young men turn lightly to thoughts of love (though it is recorded that young men think of love, slightly or seriously in all seasons) is ushered in appropriately today by the Spudders. For spring and baseball are synonymous; without the one the other could not survive and without the other the one would indeed be dreary, what with wind and rain that marks this time of year.

Anyhow, today is the officially designated day for the start of spring training by the Wichita Falls athletes. Several tossers already in camp and the arrival of others today will form the vanguard of those answering Jim Galloway's first call. All the athletes will be in camp by early next week as there isn't a holdout on the Spudder roster.

Plenty of Talent

One or two may be delayed a few days, but all the Spudder vets and rookies have indicated they are anxious to start work. When the Abilene athletes arrive to share Athletic park with the Spudders there will be more than 60 ball players owned by J. Alvin Gardner doing their conditioning here. The Abilene farm hands have been instructed to report not later than March 10.

Buddy Tanner will assist Jim Galloway in handling the extensive squad of Spudders, which numbered 35 at the last count. Jim and Buddy also will have a hand in helping condition the Abilene team if the manager of the Aces is not appointed before they start work here.

Fred Stiely and Ed Ellis, both lefthanded pitchers, were new arrivals in the Spudder camp yesterday. These young men are only two of a flock of tossers who will make merry competition for the several hurling berths which are to be open on the Spudder staff. Stiely is from Scranton of the New York-Pennsylvania league and Ellis was acquired from Jacksonville of the Southeastern league.

They're Highly Touted

Both these new southpaws established excellent records last year in their class B loops and they are figured by Spudder moguls as formidable candidates for retention.

Winn C. Beck, an infielder belonging to Abilene, reported yesterday. He is a New York state semi-pro who was touted to Owner Gardner of the Spudders and Aces as a lad of unusual promise.

Panhandle Five Beats Cinderella

Sensational Bowling Marks City League Match

Panhandle bowlers won a turkey dinner last night. The Panhandle Refining company had promised its five a dinner if they defeated the Cinderella Boot shop team. And Panhandle achieved that feat last night in the City league, in two out of three games.

It was the greatest match bowled this winter. Every player rolled more than 500 for three games. Kurtz of Cinderella was high with 616. Christie of Cinderella and Fisher of Panhandle tied with 589 each.

Kurtz smashed 237 for a single game, two points higher than Fisher's 235.

The turkey dinner is to be given tomorrow night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley McGregor.

Hub Clothiers won three stright last night from First National bank and leads the league. Cinderella and Panhandle tied for second. Hub and Cinderella meet next week)

Sweeney led the Hub with 588 and 211 to be high in total games and a single game, respectively.

Texas company defeated Montgomery clothiers two out of three in the third match. A large and enthusiastic crowd saw the matches. It was the greatest gathering that ever attended a bowling contest here. Scores:

JACK DEMPSEY MAN OF HOUR

His Services Widely Sought As Sports Promoter

By FRANK GETTY

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 28. (UP)—Many men have had their eyes on Jack Dempsey—not excepting that near-sighted early morning prowler with the celluloid collar and the happily bad alm—since the former heavyweight champion took up the task of putting over the Sharkey-Stribling fight.

They have watched Jack, studying him from a little distance as he moved through the admiring throngs in the streets; as he sits in his office in the role of business man, and as he balances tea cups and cakes in some of the rather more exclusive homes of Miami Beach.

And now the rush for Dempsey's services is on. Any doubt that may have been entertained regarding his making good in his first important venture as a promoter has been swept away.

Jack Dempsey, who went into this spectacular sporting affair with but one thought, to carry on for Tex Rickard, comes out of it a much sought after young man.

Many Propositions

There is Humbert J. Fugazy, who recently obtained new backing that has all the rustle of real U. S. currency, here with a certified check a foot long to bind the former champion to return to the ring and fight some time next September.

There is Floyd Fitzsimmons, who also has a new lease on somebody's bankroll, who wants Dempsey in Detroit in the role of promoter. This proposition involves horse racing, prize fighting and other sports, designed to make Detroit the sporting center of the Middle West. A truly outstanding figurehead like Dempsey might make this possible, and so Fitz is Jack's shadow these days, representing a syndicate which includes former Governor Green of Michigan and other wealthy sporting men.

Then there is something doing on the far coast in a big way, if Jack cares to consider it, and the former champion is going out that way shortly to look into the proposition.

These offers, and half a dozen more of consequence, are based on what Dempsey accomplished here at Miami Beach.

Greater Than Rickard

"He's greater than Tex Rickard ever was as a promoter, and he'll be the greatest the world ever has known," said George Dockery, prominent fight manager, who knew both men well. Certainly, Jack is rated a better business man than the man he succeeded, but that is damning with faint praise.

There is one corporation which has been quietly studying Jack Dempsey which has not yet put in its bid. In the final analysis it would not be surprising if that corporation won out. For when it talks money, it talks its own and in no mean terms.

W. F. Carey, vice president of Madison Square garden, and its next head, has been observing the former champion at close range, living with him constantly, working with him and playing with him, and "Bill" is completely "sold" on Jack.

So, it seems, are one or two other Wall street millionaires who were made unofficial observers of this test of Dempsey's real worth.

It may be that Madison Square garden cannot outbid its competitors for Jack's services, since it inevitably wants him in a comparatively minor role. The other folks will talk more figures, but the Garden group means them.

Dallas Zoo Keeper Takes Place Here

JACK SHARKEY nor Willie Stribling will be heavyweight champion of the world. Whatever chance either had to gain that title was definitely and finally tossed away in their fight Wednesday night down on the shores of Miami. For neither Sharkey nor Stribling hold that spark of greatness essential to the winning of the heavyweight championship of the world.

They lack the two vital requisites for the attainment of that honor—punching power and fighting heart. By lacking fighting heart, I do not imply that either is deficient in courage. Willie and Jack will, when pressed, lash back and forth with spirit. But they are essentially boxers, who prefer to win a fight by the more cautious method of piling up points. Discretion is their guide, and not for them the plunging, battering attack of a Dempsey.

That is perhaps due in a great measure to the fact they are not knocker-outs. Except for the many third-raters stopped by Stribling and a few of some better ranking who have been knocked out by both, neither Jack nor Willie EVER scored a k. o. over a fighter of first rank.

And neither is sufficiently possessed of the boxing skill of a Corbett or a Tunney to overcome that handicap.

THE fight at Miami was the sort of mill that those who know boxing anticipated. Indeed, it ran remarkably true to form. It was anybody's battle all the way, and except for some flurries was nothing to become unduly excited over. Stribling apparently lost his big chance to win by not taking the aggressive more often and in his frequent holding and mauling. But that style of fighting is so much of a habit with the Georgian that he could not resort to an attack that would have led him to victory.

This writer wrote about the Stribling-Sharkey fight in this column the day before the battle, as follows:

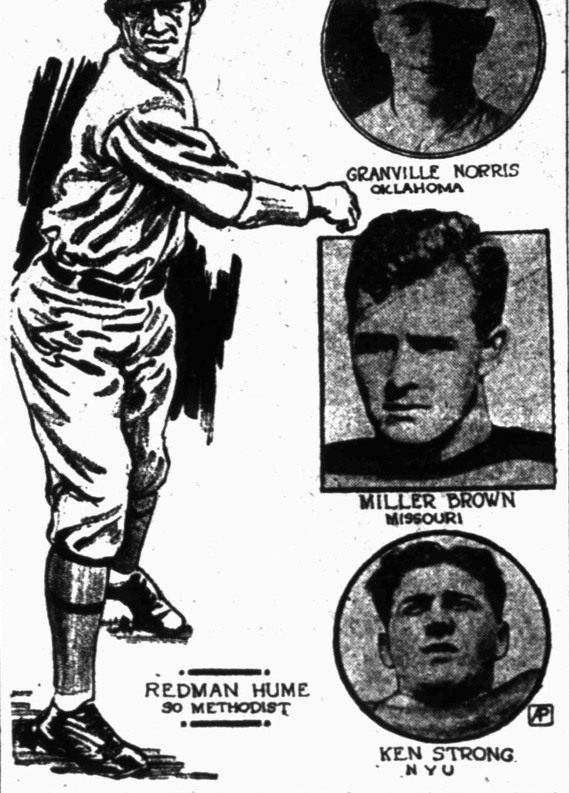

The battle of the in-and-outers will be fought tomorrow night at Miami Beach. . . . It is conceivable that out of this war neither will advance cause why he should be held as successor to Tunney. . . . The fight, on advance form, is strictly a toss-up. . . . Stribling is probably the sharper hitter of the two. . . . Neither is particularly aggressive. . . . Stribling's best efforts at in-fighting are confined to a mauling and holding. . . . I AM INCLINED TO BELIEVE IT WILL BE A FAIRLY GOOD MILL WITH BOTH MEN ON THEIR FEET AT THE END OF 10 ROUNDS.

I had the correct dope on it, didn't I?

'Int' Ball Loop President Dead

Toole Dies of Influenza; Had Stormy Career

NEW YORK, Feb. 28. (UP)—John Conway Toole, president of the International league and the center of innumerable baseball controversies, died of influenza at his home here today after an illness of 10 days.

Toole had been connected with baseball nearly all his life. As a youth he worked as an umpire but later deserted the mask and protector to study law.

National Loop Attorney

He again became connected with the game as attorney for the Boston Braves and later for the National league. In the latter capacity he was closely associated with the activities of the major leagues and took part in several historical baseball contracts whereby the players were paid 75 per cent of their salary for their work and 25 per cent as an option on their services for the following year.

In 1918 Toole was prominently mentioned for the presidency of the national circuit when John Heydler was named for his first three year term.

Led Fight on Draft

His election as president of the International league came in 1920, shortly after the organization of that circuit and, although his regime was a stormy one, he kept his chair for nine years.

Toole was an opponent of the draft and led many battles against the major league's program of selection of minor league stars. Last February, he virtually forced the circuit to stand on its program of opposition to "modified draft," in the face of threats to oust him from office.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Emilie Hamilton Toole.

Tuesday—Breakfast, coddled eggs, Melba toast, stewed raisins; lunch, baked squash, string beans, shredded lettuce; dinner, vegetable soup, Salisbury steak, cooked celery, baked carrots, sliced tomatoes, jello or jell-well.

Wednesday—Breakfast, cottage cheese, sliced pineapple, thin slice of Melba toast; lunch, grapefruit as desired; dinner, roast pork, cooked turnips, green peas (canned), salad of chopped raw cabbage, apple whip.

Thursday—Breakfast, French omelet, toasted Triscuit, pear sauce; lunch, baked potato, 8-minute cabbage, grated raw carrot salad; dinner, vegetable soup, boiled lean beef, baked parsnips, string beans, salad of raw celery, ice cream.

Friday—Breakfast, oatmeal with milk or cream, no sugar; lunch, raw apples with peanut butter; dinner, tomato and celery vegetable broth, baked sea bass, cooked egg plant, spinach, sliced tomatoes, plain jello or jell-well, no cream.

Saturday—Breakfast, coddled eggs, Melba toast, dish of berries (canned); lunch, rice en casserole, string beans, head lettuce with olive oil; dinner, cream cheese, boiled beets, tomato spinach, asparagus salad, pineapple sponge.

Five-minute cabbage: shred the desired amount of crisp fresh cabbage and place in a heavy aluminum stew pan with a small amount of boiling water. Do not add any fat or other seasoning. Cover tightly and boil vigorously for five minutes. Serve with butter and a little salt.

Raspberry whip: Whip the whites of two or more eggs until stiff and sweeten with a small amount of honey. Drain the sweetened juice from a can of red raspberries and combine the eggwhite and berries by careful folding, in order not to break the berries. Heap lightly into sherbert glasses and place on ice until ready to serve, then top each glass with a dash of whipped cream and a few berries.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Tubercular Meningitis

Question: Mr. F. B. B. asks: "Will you please advise me as to the symptoms of tubercular meningitis, the treatment for same, also the possible cause for this disease in a baby girl two years old?"

Answer: Tubercular meningitis is a rather rare affliction and is exceedingly serious, being considered fatal in from two weeks to one month's time. The child usually has failing health before the onset of the attack. The attack is brought on by a sudden convulsion and the pain appears to be intense and agonizing, causing short sudden cries. The child often appears to be in great terror. Paralysis usually sets in and unconsciousness follows from which the child cannot be aroused. The eyelids are partly open, and the eyeballs may roll up. Usually there is some tubercular focus within the body. No definite treatment has yet been worked out for this disease.

Red Meats

Question: K. L. asks: "Is there acid in red meats, and what is this acid?"

Answer: Most meats contain amino-acids which are needed by the body. At one time these acids were thought to be injurious but we now know that they are important food elements not found in most non-animal proteins. If you use a limited amount of red meat and plenty of green vegetables containing alkaline elements, you need not fear that you will get too many of the meat acids.

Gelatines

Question: W. J. asks: "What is the difference between agar agar and similar jellies, and the gelatine preparations such as jello, etc?"

Answer: Agar agar is a seaweed and composed mostly of vegetable gelatine, while the majority of the gelatine preparations sold on the market are made from animal gelatine. Vegetable gelatine has little if any food value, while the animal gelatine is a valuable form of protein.

NEW SEMINOLE GAUGE GOES ON

Big Area to Be Tested For Maximum Yield

Special to The Record News

TULSA, Okla., Feb. 28—Second gauging of potential production of wells in the greater Seminole area, comprising Seminole City, Bowlegs, Searight, Earlsboro, Little River, St. Louis, Maud and Mission pools, will be determined by Umpire Ray M. Collins and his staff during the 24 hours beginning at 7 a. m. Friday.

All producing wells in the area are to be allowed to do their utmost. Operators are to submit affidavits of what their wells actually produce during the 24-hour period. Where a percentage proration of approximately 18 per cent is now applied by voluntary effort, Umpire Collins is inclined to think that the opening up of the wells may increase the production to 470,000 barrels a day. If this occurs the amount to be prorated will be increased to around 23 per cent. Pools that are now prorated 25 per cent may be cut to 36 per cent.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Feb. 28. (AP)—Further advance at the opening of the cotton market today was checked by realizing and some southern selling. Prices eased off in later trading under continued profit taking and selling for a reaction in May contracts declined from 20.62 to 20.44 and closed at that figure. The general market closed barely steady at net declines of 10 to 13 points.

The market opened steady at an advance of 6 points to a decline of 2 points. The more active months were higher on further trade buying or covering by near month shorts.

There was commission house buying of new crops on complaints of further delays to farm work in the south.

Favorable reports from the cotton goods market promoted some of the buying of old crop positions, but demand was less active than recently.

Offerings tapered off somewhat late in the morning. Prices worked back to nearly the opening figures during the middle of the day on renewal of covering or commission house buying. Demand tapered off on the bulge, which seemed to attract a renewal of local and southern selling, and prices reached the lowest levels of the day in the late trading.

March sold off from 20.63 the early high price to 20.44, while the new October contract declined from 19.99 to 19.83. The close was at the lowest prices of the day on most positions. On the whole, trading was much less active than earlier in the week. Local brokers reported rather a reactionary sentiment based on the extent of the recent advance. This may have accounted for some of the local selling. Opinion was expressed in some quarters that advances were meeting rather freer offerings from the south.

Reports of an increased demand for cotton cloths in the domestic markets were commented upon in the early trading and reports of rains in the eastern belt caused the talk of further delays in farm work. Private cables said that continental buying and trade calling had absorbed liquidation in Liverpool.

Exports today, 28,154, making 6,273,963 this season. Port receipts, 16,873. U. S. port stocks, 1,994,014.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 28. (AP)—Cotton prices were reactionary today following an early advance, and although selling was not very aggressive, it was sufficient to carry values down 14 to 18 points from the highs. Prospects for better weather in the belt and a belief that a reaction was due after the recent advance were the main causes of the selling which carried May contracts down from 19.95 to 19.79. The option closed at the latter figure, for a net loss of 12 points. The general market closed barely steady at net declines of 11 to 14 points.

Liverpool cables were slightly lower than due and first trades here showed no change to 2 points. There was a flurry of buying after the start on the unfavorable weather in the belt, reports of floods in the cotton region and favorable textile news. May soon traded to 19.95 and July 20.03, or 3 to 4 points above the close of yesterday.

The official forecast for fair weather in the belt encouraged selling and it was reported that a good deal of the offerings were thrown on the market in an effort to force a reaction, which traders believed was due as a result of the recent advance. The lowest prices of the day were reached in final trading when May sold at 19.79, July 19.86 and October 19.64, or 14 to 18 points down from the highs of the morning. Final prices were at the bottom.

Tighter Money Fails to Prevent General Gain in Stock Prices

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Feb. 28 (US)—Stocks moved higher in the face of tighter money today. With Steel common and the coppers soaring, call rate from 8 to 10 per cent. Steel closed 7 points higher, Greene traders paid no attention to further calling loans and advance in the Cananea gained 4½, Anaconda 5, while other red metal shares jumped from 1 to over 4 points with 20 cent coper forecast through the street.

Cash Register advanced 3¾, Bethlehem Steel 2¾ and Montgomery Ward moved 3½ points higher. Railroad stocks were fairly quiet, but the leaders gained close to a point on the average, while the oils remained dull and rather shaky as a group. There was some further resumption in pool operations, as some public participation was attracted by the favorable performance of the market as a whole during the recent sessions. Total turnover increased to the 5,000,000-share level.

The group that has proved itself best at "sharpshooting" in recent sessions turned its attention to American Bosch. The most powerful of those interested have held to a strong investment position in Union Carbide for some time. By reason of the connection therewith they know what the contract obtained some time ago by Bosch means to that company. Their present activity in Bosch is based mainly on knowledge that earnings for the last three months of 1928 were equal to $3 a share. On this basis they look for net income of at least $8 a share for the stock this year. The same group also is interested in Packard, and a special analysis thereon is being prepared similar to those issued on Continental Can and other stocks recently. Some of the recent buying in Packard resulted from advice of a leading stock exchange firm to shift therein from Chrysler.

Greene Cananea increased its dividend to $8 and Inspiration made a larger payment also, as expected. Soon Cerro de Pasco will make an even larger return to stockholders and coincident therewith the Anaconda retirement of bonds and splitup of the stock is to be expected. In fact, there is so much bullish news circulated on the coppers these days that those who bought over a year and a half ago, as told of here at that time, now are cashing in handsome profits.

Oil shares continue to be a disappointment because of fear that crude prices may be cut again. There is quiet accumulation on a scale down, however, by those who can afford to wait indefinitely for benefits that will be derived from the inevitable stabilization and control of production similar to that witnessed in the copper industry.

There was some buying of Shubert on report that both the Fox and Warner interests were after it. There have been so many confusing reports as to underground happenings in the amusement field lately, however, that new buying was offset by profit-taking. Cavanaugh Dobbs enjoyed demand for a time following issuance of survey of the company by a leading stock exchange firm that emphasized the good earnings outlook. Montgomery Ward people talk of a 28 per cent increase in sales during the month just ended, but continue to stand off from the market, awaiting more definite indication of the final result of corrective measures adopted by the reserve board.

No change in rediscount rate and increase in loans of only $30,000,000 should give further bullish stimulus to dealings in tomorrow's session. The small falling off in ratio of reserves shown by the local bank and the system and the evidence of further operations by the reserve to tighten money did not attract much attention. The speculative community was inclined to look upon the reserve's report to the senate as bullish and they regarded it as showing the reserve governors were satisfied with the current money situation. However, the statement meant that the reserve was satisfied it could force further reduction in brokers' loans and some further activities along these lines are looked for soon after inauguration.

Livestock

TEXAS REVIEW

FORT WORTH, Feb. 28. (AP)—All classes of livestock sold fairly active at about steady values in line with the week's advance of 15c to a quarter on most classes of cattle and calves. The supply was seasonable and consisted mostly of slaughter yearlings and mixed loads of she stock.

The supply of slaughter steers consisted of about three loads. One load of fairly good steers sold at $10.50, two loads of good heavy steers at $11.75, or steady with the week's advance.

Very few bulls included in the day's receipts, and they sold in line with the week's trading; best heavy bulls $8.00@8.25; common light bulls at $6.50.

Slaughter yearlings and heifers fairly plentiful in proportion to the total supply of cattle and consisted of six or eight loads that ranged from rather common ones around $10.25 to a load of good medium yearlings at $12.00.

The supply of cows was light. All classes steady in line with the week's upward trend. Butcher and beef cows sold at $7.00 to $8.10 in carlots, while the bulk of canners and cutters sold at $5.00 to $6.00.

Trading in calves fairly active, with four loads of medium calves at $11.00, or fully steady with week's advance. Bulk of cull calves sold around $7.00; fair calves around $10.00 and $10.50.

A few stocker sales reported, with yearlings at $11.25, or steady. Other classes of stocker cattle scarce.

Hogs unevenly higher, with sales that show an advance of 15c to a quarter; rail top $10.85, and truck top $10.35. Bulk of the 175 to 250-pound butchers sold at $9.75 to $10.85; packing sows at $8.50 to $9.00.

Sheep steady; shorn fat wethers at $9.50 and wooled feeder yearlings at $12.00, and wooled feeder wethers at $9.00.

MIDWESTERN REVIEW

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 28. (AP) (United States Department of Agriculture)—Another price advance of 10@25c was put into effect on hogs at most points around the 11-market circuit. Trade was fairly active with all interest fine. Packers at Omaha, failed to follow the pace set by shippers. The day's extreme top of $11.35 was paid in St. Louis. Total offerings were around 94,500, a decrease of 16,800 from a week ago and 19,500 less than the corresponding day last year.

Increased supplies of sheep resulted in a general 25@50c decline in fat lamb prices. Aged stock was in light quota and values were little changed. Choice lambs, early, in Chicago brought $17.40. Aggregate receipts were estimated at 67,000, against 51,102 last Thursday and 42,142 a year ago.

Although cattle receipts were light to moderate, a decidedly weak undertone prevailed on weighty fed steers. Packers discriminating against anything that scaled over 1,150 pounds. Values ruled weak to 25c lower with some sales of good to choice heavy steers off more. Light-weight steers and yearlings moved freely at firm prices and other killing classes were held at steady figures. Several markets report some improvement in the demand for slaughter cows. Stocker and feeder steers ruled firm at the week's moderate advance. The supply approximated 34,750, a shortage of 1,500 from a week ago, but 2,000 heavier than a year ago.

CHICAGO REVIEW

CHICAGO, Feb. 28. (AP)—Fluctuating rapidly, but for the most part ruling higher, wheat proved responsive today to active buying which at times sprang up from big commission houses. The buying was associated with expected near-at-hand disclosure of the Hoover farm relief program and of the extent of crop damage from winter killing.

Closing quotations on wheat were unsettled, ⅛ to 1c net higher. Corn finished ⅛c to ⅜c up, oats unchanged to ⅛@⅜c advance and provisions unchanged to 12c down.

Upturns in wheat values were given an early start as a consequence of relative firmness of wheat quotations at Liverpool.

There was much talk that Hoover's inaugural address next Monday is likely to reveal what the new administration will attempt toward agricultural relief. Private estimates on farm reserve stocks of wheat will also be given to the trade on Monday, and predictions were ventured in various quarters that these estimates would prove bearish.

Corn and oats averaged higher with wheat. Receipts of corn at primary points showed a decided falling-off, amounting today to only 472,000 bushels, compared with 2,105,000 bushels a year ago.

Provision trade consisted chiefly of changing over from nearby to deferred deliveries.

HEAVY CROP OF OATS PLANNED

Poultry Deliveries Continue Light Here

Poultry deliveries reported Thursday by local produce dealers continued unusually light, with more eggs of local production coming in.

Representatives of produce houses reported that most of the farmers in the vicinity are taking advantage of the favorable weather which has prevailed recently to work their fields preparatory to heavy planting of oats and other crops. It was stated that much plowing and planting normally completed by March 1 had been delayed this year by the unusually heavy weather encountered during the month of February.

TEXAS G. O. P. IN FINISH FIGHT

Creager - Wurzbach War Near Final Settlement

served to divide the Republicans of Texas. Time after time efforts have been made to bring about peace between them. Nothing like a lasting armistice, however, has ever been attained and at last, it is understood, Creager has decided to accept the advice of his aides and carry the war into the enemy's country. It is an open secret that it was Congressman Wurzbach who was responsible for the Brookhart committee interesting itself in the Texas situation and Creager is determined, if possible, to put an end to "sniping from within."

Creager declared his organization never had exacted contributions to party funds from federal officeholders. Brookhart retorted that his methods were the "most autocratic" he ever had seen, after Creager had explained a method of accepting contributions from party workers on a promissory note basis.

Brookhart declared that no party depending on the wishes of the people "can ever be built up on such a system as that." He added that "the only Republican elected to congress in your state proves that the people repudicated your organization."

"It's not your part to pass on our organization," Creager shouted, and the spectators leaned forward as Creager warned Brookhart "to keep your hands off Texas."

"You won't run any bluff on me," Brookhart shouted.

"I'm not trying to run a bluff," Creager replied, continuing with an assertion that "fully as great a percentage of federal officeholders in Iowa, Tennessee and Nevada have made political contributions during the last seven years as they have in Texas."

"We had some coercion in Iowa that I mean to clean up," Brookhart said.

Creager protested against the "character of testimony which this committee has been admitting."

Referring to testimony given by Lloyd E. Hill of Fort Worth, Texas, that Creager had protected Texas hotels against dry raiders, the Texas commiteeman said that "such hearsay testimony would not be admitted as evidence by a justice of the peace anywhere in the United States."

Hill's testimony that officeholders paid Creager's organization 10 per cent of their salaries was described by the witness as "malicious and false."

"No responsible leader of the Republican organization in Texas," he said, "has been guilty of the conduct charged, and there has been remarkably little to criticize in Texas during the last seven years, probably as little as in any state in the union."

Stafford Company Features Vodvil

Rhea and Santoro Seen In Unusual Dancing

At least two of the five acts of Interstate vaudeville offered this week at the Majestic sneaked into the city under cover of inadequate advance notice and put over unusually effective entertainment Thursday night to a crowded house.

Frank Stafford and company, which includes an admirably trained bird dog that knows his cues, don't look for ducks at all, as the notices indicated they would. The variety of bird music they offer, included practially every species except the duck. Mr. Stafford does a lot of interesting things with a supereducated whistle all his own.

The closing number on the vaudeville program presents some of the best dancing talent brought here this season in Mlle. Rhea and Santoro, assisted by three capable companions. Beautiful physical technique, exquisite grace of movement and music worthy of the excellent dancing combine to place the act with the headliners. The mezzo-soprano voice heard twice on Mlle. Rhea's "little ballet" was pleasantly received.

The Chandler boys, Spencer and Williams, and O'Dunn and Daye are far removed from seriousness and well equipped with nonsense to complete the bill.

Buster Brown and His Dog, Tige, Here Tuesday

Buster Brown and his dog Tige, popular characters among kiddies all over the country, will entertain Wichita Falls' boys and girls with a free program at the Memorial auditorium Tuesday afternoon.

Buster and Tige, who have desection of the country for many years are representatives of the country for many years are representatives of the Brown Shoe company and the program is being put on under the auspices of the Williams department store, which handles Brown shoes exclusively.

The program is to begin at 3:30 o'clock. Souvenirs advertising the Buster Brown shoes for boys and girls and the agency here will be distributed to the youthful admirers of Buster and Tige at the program, according to T. J. Brock, manager of the store.

JUST FOR FUN

Negro's Excuse for Beating Wife Fails to Keep Him Out of Jail

A negro who demonstrated his husbandly love, and his peculiar sense of humor by beating his wife with a shoe Thursday morning "just for fun" paid for his unusual form of merriment by spending the remainder of the day in the city jail.

The wails of agony from the wife caused nearby neighbors to call for help from the police station. When Officer Fred Fountain arrived on the scene of the "comedy," the negro woman was severely beaten about the head and face, and her dress was covered with blood from cuts left by the unerring licks from the heel of the shoe.

On being stopped in his occupation of making "whoopee" the negro told Fountain that he was beating his wife "just for fun" and his spouse asserted that "we wasn't mad, Mr. Officer, I just asked him about another gal."

Doctor Tells Of Danger of Drugs

Persons who are found to be addicted to the use of habit-forming drugs should be declared criminal offenders and confined in corrective institutions until completely cured, according to Dr. James W. Powers, who spoke before the weekly meeting of the Rotary club Thursday noon at the Kemp hotel on the subject of "Drug Addiction."

A large percentage of the hijacking and highway robberies occuring in the cities of this country, he said, are due to the craving for drugs whose use has become established with the offenders. Prices on such drugs have become so high since the Harrison act was passed in 1906 that many addicts are driven to criminal means of procuring money to make the purchase. "Dope" of this class ranges from 50 cents to $1.00 per grain in price, and users require from five to ten grains daily.

Use of drugs usually starts with small and infrequent doses, Dr. Powers stated, but the addict requires constantly increasing amounts of the same drug to remain normal. The habit becomes a disease, according to the consensus of medical opinion as quoted by the speaker, and its victoms customarily resort to any means to obtain dope.

Mrs. C. N. Cameron entertained the meeting with two solos, "The Little Damozel," and "Marietta." Mrs. R. E. Shepherd accompanying. Guests were introduced by T. L. Coplin.

SCHOOL CENSUS OPENS TODAY

Nine Agents to Make Canvass of City

Taking of the annual school census in Wichita Falls will begin Friday afternoon with nine principals and teachers of the public schools in charge of the work, it was announced Thursday by W. W. Brown, secretary of the school board.

All children in the city who will be not under seven or over 18 on Sept. 1, 1929, will be enumerated in this census, Mr. Brown stated. As an aid to the enumerators in completing the census in as short a time as possible, officials of the school board requested that heads of families prepare lists of names which should appear on the school rolls, and have these lists ready for the census takers when they call.

The school officials here also have been asked to assist in the census taken by the government department of vital statistics, and the enumeration of all children one year of age in the city will be made along with the school census.

The work of completing the annual census will be done by S. L. Butler, Fannin school; J. T. Rundell, Carrigan; R. A. Jarrott, San Jacinto; J. E. Park, Alamo; H. A. Glass, Zundelowitz; W. A. Franklin, Reagan; W. E. Walker, Travis, and Mrs. Wenonah Ware, Bowie; A. E. Holland, Washington (colored) school.

The census taken one year ago showed 10,283 children of school age in Wichita Falls.

A permit for the construction of a $5,000 residence at 2014 Victory avenue was issued Thursday to the Hansen contracting company. The house is owned by H. M. Hansen.

A permit for repair work on a residence at 1506 Broad street, amounting to $125, was issued to W. J. Dowis, while a permit for repairs of $400 on a residence at 1408 Giddings was issued to H. C. Lair. Reed and Costley were named as contractors.

$55,000 PAID IN TAX RUSH

Collections for Year Total $437,000 for Schools

The last day rush on payment of school taxes here Thursday netted a total of $55,177, according to figures compiled after the office closed late Thursday night by W. R. Hyer, city and school tax assessor and collector.

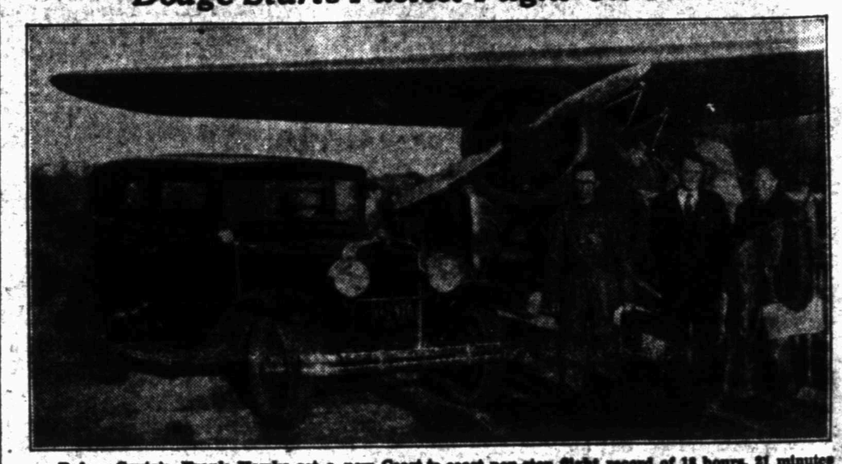

The total collection for the year's school taxes totaled $437,134.32, while the amount assessed totaled $571,080.15. Scores of people telephoned the tax offices Thursday that they had mailed payments for their taxes and the $133,895.83 which was left unpaid Thursday night will be cut down considerably on the receipt of Friday's mail, Mr. Hyer believes.

Penalties will be imposed on the remainder of the school taxes which were not paid Thursday while extensions on payment of city and irrigation taxes have been granted until April 1.

Betty Compson

From out of the depths of the underworld came this youth—fighting and loving—battling and plotting—wooing and winning! Then the great crisis—when the penalty was exacted—bitterness—rebellion—a new light and a new life! And the girl who fought with him—then for him! It's a great drama, lavishly staged! Talking! Singing! Music! And more!
