At Least Seven Killed As Airliner Hits House

MILK DELIVERY BY BOAT—Farmers in the Snohomish Valley of Northwest Washington were forced to deliver milk cans by boat when rising rivers flooded the rich farmlands. Many roads were inundated or washed out and scores of families evacuated their homes. (AP Wirephoto)

More Evacuated From Floods In Northwest

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Rescue teams continued today evacuating persons stranded by floodwaters in northwest Washington.

Thousands of acres of lowlands were under water, but there were indications some rivers were gradually receding.

The Snoqualmie River which had peaked Monday at 13 feet, dropped to 8.27 feet this morning.

The Green River was still on the rise, however, and the valley towns of Kent and Auburn, south of here, were still hard hit. Sheriff's officers and coastguardsmen were kept busy throughout the night answering calls for aid in the Green River Valley.

An Ellensburg, Wash. motorist was missing and it was believed he may have become the second fatality of the area's worst flood in 26 years.

A woman motorist was killed in a mountain pass car-truck accident Sunday night, the night the storm broke.

The State Patrol said the missing man was George Schaake who was to have returned to Ellensburg from Seattle via Snoqualmie pass Sunday night.

A wrecked car, registered to Schaake, was found amid mud and debris. The car was empty.

There was still no immediate relief in sight despite the lowering of some rivers. The damage to rich farmlands and homes was expected to run into millions of dollars.

Hundreds of persons have been rescued by helicopter, powerboats and amphibious craft from both the Green River Valley and the Snohomish River Valley to the north.

Many left reluctantly—unwilling to abandon homes and livestock. Some refused to leave.

Pearl Westerlund, 59, said she didn't intend to leave her home near Kent.

"But then I stood on a chair to get away from the water, and men in a boat spotted me.

"When they asked me if I didn't want to leave, I decided I did. That water was getting pretty deep."

Although only showers hit the valleys Monday, civil defense authorities reported heavy rains in the Stampede Pass area of the Cascades. The U.S. Weather Bureau said it lost communications with its Stampede station late in the day.

In Snoqualmie Pass, where a 300-foot section of the state's main east-west route was taken out by a slide, steady rain fell.

Cross - state highway travel, blocked by weekend slides on all passes, resumed today at curtailed rates. The state highway department said one-way traffic would be resumed on the Snoqualmie Pass highway Monday, but that rebuilding the four-lanes probably would not be attempted until spring.

Train traffic was rerouted via Portland, Ore. and Vancouver, Wash.

A late evening reading of the river gauge on the Snoqualmie showed it had dropped a foot below the record eight feet above flood stage set earlier in the day. The Green River fell two feet at Auburn, about 25 miles south of here, and its crest passed safely through the community of Kent as it rolled on toward Puget Sound.

A triple trick of weather brought the wholesale flooding. Weeklong rains deluged western Washington. A chinook, the Western name for a strong, warm, variable wind, sent mountain pass temperatures into the mid-40s. Rapid snow runoff gushed into the rain-swollen streams and rivers.

Gov. Albert D. Rosellini, who declared Snohomish County a disaster area, made a three-hour aerial tour of the flooded sections Monday.

"We regard water as one of this state's greatest assets," he said, "but I never quite realized how terribly destructive it can be."

Rockefeller In Caracas

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York arrived today to begin a five-day Thanksgiving vacation at his Venezuelan ranch.

When an airport reporter referred to Vice President Richard M. Nixon as the governor's "adversary" for the Republican presidential nomination, Rockefeller replied: "He (Nixon) would be if I go in the race."

Nixon, Rockefeller added, is a "front-runner now—according to the polls."

The governor was accompanied by Mrs. Rockefeller and five reporters and photographers.

Rockefeller said that if he were to become President of the United States, he would "like most" to work "for the Free World and human rights."

He hailed President Eisenhower's appointment of a commission to advise on U.S. relations with Latin America as "a step in the right direction showing the President's concern for developing closer ties with other countries of the hemisphere."

Goodfellow Unit Is Launched Here

Organization of the Snyder Goodfellows unit got underway Monday night with the appointment of a committee to nominate a chairman and vice chairman. The committee, consisting of Joel Griffin, chairman, Roy Meador, and John Black, will call the next meeting when they have completed their selections.

Representatives of local civic and other organizations including The Optimist Club, the Jaycees, the Evening Lions Club, the Salvation Army, VFW, the Catholic Church, the Chamber of Commerce, KSNY, Rotary Club, Kiwanis Club, the County Welfare department, met and approved the suggested bylaws with slight modification. Roy McCloskey was appointed temporary chairman.

The aim of the Goodfellows is to have complete coordination among the welfare activities of all organizations throughout the county. Heretofore there has been quite a bit of duplication in the work done by the various groups.

"Every organization who wants to be represented may name a representative to serve on the board of directors," stated Marionette Baze of the Scurry County Welfare Department. "We welcome all who are willing to work with us for the betterment of the community."

THREE INJURED SERIOUSLY

Schoolboy Breathes Life Into Two Burned Children

STEPHENVILLE, Tex. (AP)— "I kept hoping and praying all the time. . . I thought she was dead, but I wanted to bring her back."

That's how Joe Piper, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Piper of Bluff Dale, told of breathing life back into two small children whose respiration stopped after they inhaled smoke when their home caught fire here early Monday.

Piper was credited by fire officials with preventing the immediate death of Mary Garza, 1, and her brother, Richard, 2, after they and another brother, Renne, were pulled from their blazing home.

All three suffered burns, shock, and smoke injuries. They were given blood transfusions and oxygen at a hospital, where Mary Ann was reported in a critical condition today. She was burned over two-thirds of her body.

Richard and Renne were reported in serious condition.

Piper and a friend, Grady Russell, 17, were on their way to Stephenville High School when they saw flames and smoke pouring from the Garza home.

They drove to a fire station and reported the fire, then returned. Firemen didn't know anyone was in the house until the children's mother, Mrs. Manuel Garza, ran screaming from a neighbor's home.

Mrs. Garza ran in and pulled out Mary Ann. Fire Marshal Ermer Ferguson, Billy Dickerson and Philip Hale carried out Richard and Renne.

Russell also entered the house but was forced out by smoke.

Piper, who learned first aid while a student at San Marcos Academy, ran to the porch of a house across the street and used a mouth-to-mouth breathing technique he learned at school.

"I worked on her several minutes before she began to breathe," he said.

After the girl began breathing, Piper carried her to an ambulance and put her in. Rescuers then brought Richard from the house.

Piper grabbed the boy, ran to the ambulance and beat on the door until the driver stopped.

He got in, held the child in his lap on the way to the hospital and breathed life back into him, also.

"I thought the second child was dead, too, but I got some confidence after reviving the first baby," Piper said.

UF Drive Is Still Edging Forward

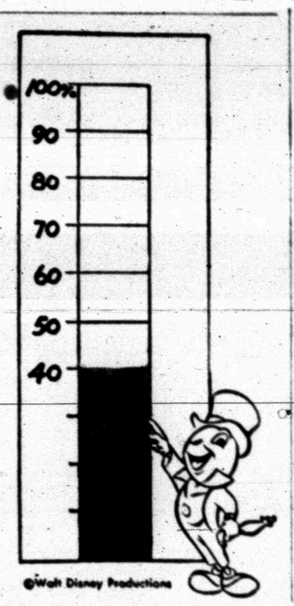
Following a joint report Meeting for the Advance, Employe and Special Gifts Divisions in the Snyder National Bank this morning, Mel Gilbert, Scurry County United Fund President, announced a new total of $19,121.60 raised for the seven agencies. This is 45 per cent of the campaign goal of $42,500.

The Advance Gifts Division with Roger Mize chairman has now raised $15,443.00 or 66 per cent of its quota. Employe Gifts, headed up by Bill Brown, now has $2,728.10 for 21 per cent of quota. Special Gifts, Clyde Hall chairman, reported a total of $950.50 for 21 per cent of its division quota. The latter division had its kickoff on Nov. 19 and has not had much time yet.

Commenting on the results, Gilbert said: "We got off to a good start in this campaign and results have been pretty good so far. However, this is the stage in the effort where there might be a letdown and we can't afford to do that. I want to urge every worker in every division to make every effort to see his prospects, get generous gifts, and be ready to make a fine report next Tuesday. The potential is definitely here, but we must make those personal contacts and ask for the support of business firms and individuals. I know that if they are properly asked they will come through generously. Snyder and Scurry County are not going to let these seven worthy agencies down."

Wednesday morning at 7 o'clock the General Gifts Division will have its kickoff meeting following a breakfast in the Village Restaurant. Joe Williamson is chairman of this division and his three section chairmen are, Walter Hales, Dr. John Hamblen and Guy Sullivan. There will be some 75 workers in this division.

The next report meeting will be an All-Division luncheon in the Village Restaurant at 12 noon on Tuesday, Dec. 1. Campaign leaders are expecting a big turnout of workers and an encouraging report at this meeting.



RRC Studies Request By Lone Star

By ED OVERHOLSER

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas Railroad Commission began deliberations today on the long-simmering gas rate increase proposed by Lone Star Gas Co. and an escalator clause which it claims is needed to compete equally with electric companies.

No decision is likely for several weeks.

Commission Chairman Ernest O. Thompson and Commissioner William J. Murray listened to two hours of complex arguments Monday between Lone Star's attorneys and representatives of 320 Texas cities.

In a hearing which first opened in January before a commission examiner, the company seeks to increase its rates back to the 1942 level by boosting the price charged its distributing companies from 30 to 40 cents per 1,000 cubic feet. Non-industrial users eventually will get the higher bill.

What is the fair value of Lone Star's network of pipelines and plants and how much return should the investment bring are the central questions before the commission.

Lone Star claims its 97 million dollar distribution system has been making a meager 2.90 per cent. The company claims it is losing $20,300 each day the increase is not granted.

Dallas City Atty. Henry Kucera and Fort Worth City Atty. Rinehart E. Rouer countered that Lone Star actually paid an 18 per cent common stock dividend in 1957 and 1958.

Warren J. Collins, Dallas, general counsel for the company, and San Antonio lawyer Joe Foy plugged for the escalator clause as a step which would save the consumer money in the end by not having to pay for expensive, lengthy hearings. They argued it also would cut the work load of the commission and prevent regulatory lag.

Collins said 414 Texas cities have granted fuel cost adjustment clauses, including Dallas and Fort Worth, and 32 state regulatory bodies have adopted gas cost adjustment clauses.

The clause generally permits automatic adjustments in future rates depending on the price the company must pay to buy the fuel itself.

Saunders Is Denied New Perjury Trial

AUSTIN (AP)— Former Insurance Commission Chairman Byron Saunders was refused a new trial today for perjury.

Saunders was sentenced by Judge Mace Thurman to two years in prison. A jury recently found that he lied to a House Investigating Committee looking into the ICT insurance case.

Saunders is now an attorney at Tyler.

His attorneys gave notice of appeal and Saunders was released on a $2,500 bond. One of the bond signers was former Dist. Atty. Bob Long of Austin.

The motion for a new trial renewed objections raised by Saunders' attorneys at the trial that the indictment specifying the offense of perjury was defective. They argued then that perjury is an offense which may only be committed in a judicial hearing, and that a legislative investigating committee does not come within its scope.

Saunders was convicted after a trial which reviewed his testimony before the House committee looking into his financial dealings with promoter BenJack Cage. Cage was head of the defunct insurance and investments empire which was partially under Insurance Commission regulation while Saunders was its chairman.

Woman Still Holds Check

HOLYOKE, Mass. (AP) — A multimillion-dollar argument between the Hadley Falls Trust Co. and an Air Force wife is in impasse today.

She, Mrs. James Wlash, refuses to surrender a $4,000,022.75 check unless the bank rehires the teller who somehow authored it on a check writing machine.

Mrs. Walsh had applied only for a modest $22.75 check to pay an installment on a TV set. The check she got was four million dollars greater.

And unless the bank comes to her terms, Mrs. Walsh intends to frame the king-sized check as a decoration for the quarters she occupies with her flying sergeant husband.

Mrs. Walsh doesn't think the bank should have fired the teller, Miss Ann Helliwell, five-year bank employe, and neither does the sergeant.

Just now he is off on a flight to Goose Bay, Labrador, and so is the check, because, Mrs. Walsh said, "he felt I might give in to the bank and return it."

Fiery Fuel Hits Homes

CHICAGO (AP) — A cargo plane, returning to Midway Airport due to a fire warning, plowed into a house in rainy darkness just before dawn today and sprayed a sleeping neighborhood with fiery death.

Killed were the crew of three aboard the Trans World Airlines Constellation and at least four residents of homes drenched with flaming airplane fuel.

The plane, from New York and Philadelphia, crashed three blocks from the southeast corner of the nation's busiest airport, a square network of runways and terminal buildings on Chicago's Southwest Side.

TWA in New York said the plane had landed in Chicago, discharged cargo and taken off again when a fire warning flashed on the instrument panel. The pilot began circling to land again when the crash occurred, TWA said.

In a flash a string of houses and apartment buildings near 634d St. and Cicero Ave. burst into flame. Firemen said 10 dwellings were set afire, some from the plane fuel, others from flames from those sprayed with gas.

"It seemed like the end of the world," residents of the neighborhood said.

"They come over the house all the time," a woman resident of one of the damaged houses said, "but somehow this one sounded different. Suddenly the entire house shook and I could hear glass flying everywhere."

Flights from all points of the compass use Midway. The rate of traffic is nearly a movement in or out every minute of the day and night.

Thomas Fracassi, 31, occupant of a house hit by the plane, said the aircraft caved the roof into a bedroom. Two of his three children were hurt. Fracassi, his wife, Geraldine, 29, and their third child, were unhurt.

The Fracassi home burst into flame. Fire enveloped a six-apartment, three-story building behind his house.

A woman living across the street from the Fracassis, Miss Gertrude Bolin, said repeated explosions awakened her. She said what she believed to be explosions could have been roofs collapsing.

The three dead crew members were identified by TWA as C. W. Helwig, pilot; D. E. Waters, co-pilot, and A. L. Auge, flight engineer, all based at Los Angeles.

The 116-feet-long four-engine Constellation was running behind schedule and was due in Chicago at 1:30 a.m. It left New York with a 6,576-pound cargo including an aircraft engine and other freight, 98 pounds of mail, and 106 pounds of express.

It landed in Chicago, unloaded some cargo and took off again for Los Angeles, TWA reported, when the warning of fire aboard the craft flashed on the instrument panel. The pilot began circling to return to Midway when the crash occurred.

First firemen arriving at the scene reported the entire area was ablaze. One woman ran from the blazing apartment building screaming "Oh my God, my babies, my babies!" She collapsed in shock.

John Ascher, chief of Chicago detectives, said there were four residents of dwellings killed in addition to the three airline employes.

The bodies of a man about 40 and a woman about 35 were brought to the morgue but were not identified immediately.

Robert Quinn, fire commissioner, said the body of the pilot was found still strapped to his cabin seat 50 feet away from a building at 6355 S. Kilpatrick Ave. The co-pilot's body was recovered from the building.

Quinn said two other bodies were taken from the apartment building at 4651-59 W. 64th St.

Gas Fumes Hit 500 Students

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) — Carbon monoxide fumes disrupted a huge choral festival and sent some 500 high school students to hospitals and first aid stations Monday night.

Many were ill with carbon monoxide poisoning. Others thought they were and had to be treated for hysteria. None was considered even seriously ill. Doctors guessed about 200 had varying degrees of monoxide poisoning.

Twenty-one students remained in hospitals this morning and all were expected to be released later today. Some 1,000 students stayed here overnight, many of them because one or two of their fellow passengers were unable to leave Monday night.

The youngsters were part of more than 5,400 Oklahoma high school singers from 109 schools taking part in the eighth annual Thanksgiving songfest at Oklahoma State University. Another 3,000 or so persons filled Gallaher Hall to hear the massed voices.

About 200 school and charter busses were parked around the fieldhouse. About halfway through the performance many drivers started the engines to warm the busses for the trip home.

Weldon Barnes, OSU public relations officer, said the fumes apparently were drawn into the fieldhouse by air intake fans.

Hardest hit were the soprano and alto sections in the balcony at the south end. Girls outnumbered boys at hospitals and aid stations about 10 to 1.

David Pursley, a Lawton High School sophomore, said, "I was downstairs and I turned around and looked up and saw them falling. I helped several out. I was walking around looking for some more to carry out and one girl who was seated in the balcony fell and hit the rail, then bounced toward the floor. I and two other guys caught her and took her to a room for oxygen."

The program was halted just before the final number, the Hallelujah Chorus from Handel's "Messiah."

Witnesses said the withdrawal from Gallagher Hall was orderly. But once outside many more youngsters became ill.

Ambulances, oxygen and doctors were assembled from Stillwater and communities surrounding this north central Oklahoma college of 25,000. Rescue parties formed quickly.

An unknown number of students were sent home as soon as busses could be loaded. The highway patrol said some of these became ill on the busses. Eight were hospitalized when they reached Tulsa, about 80 miles away, but none was in serious condition.

Around midnight weary instructors tackled the job of finding out who was well, who was sick and who was missing. Even then, a few became ill.

Texas Has Mild Weather Today

By The Associated Press

Clear skies and mild temperatures covered Texas Tuesday morning and the Weather Bureau predicted the same pleasant weather for Wednesday.

Temperatures ranged from 37 at San Angelo to 54 at Brownsville and no rain was reported.

Moderate to light showers fell on Texas Monday with San Antonio getting 1.20 inches, Houston .96, Palacios .52 and Galveston .30.

Lighter showers fell at Harlingen, College Station, Victoria, Laredo, Corpus Christi, Beaumont, Austin, Lufkin, Beeville, Kingsville and Cotulla.

The high temperature Monday was 75 at Brownsville.

Help For Handicapped

The Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation for crippled children was organized for the express purpose of assuring handicapped Texans the ultimate in physical medicine and rehabilitation. The program is prepared to the end that the handicapped individual is retrained to live and work to the best of his or her ability.

The Foundation treats polio, cerebral palsy, multiple sclerosis, muscular dystrophy, arthritis and other ailments. Many accident cases are treated there also.

Within bed capacity limits, the Foundation accepts any child, regardless of race, creed or color, who can be benefited by its treatment program. A medical examination and evaluation at the hospital determines whether or not the patient can be helped.

The Warm Spring from which the name is derived is a result of oil exploration in the area during 1909.

The water flows at 106 degrees Fahrenheit from the spring at the rate of 200,000 gallons daily.

The Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation stands ready to help any child in Scurry County should the occasion arise. It is one of the seven agencies of the Scurry County United Fund that will be supported by your gift. Please be as generous as your means will allow.

Growth Seen For Collective Farms

MONTERREY (AP)— Russian deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan visited a Mexican collective farm Monday and predicted that individual ownership of small farms is condemned to death throughout the world.

The high ranking official, in Mexico on a ten day visit, was taken to the San Nicolas de los Garza collective farm near this northern industrial city.

There are 185 families on the farm of 2,100 acres. To some it appeared the people were living almost in poverty.

Mikoyan said, "One can see the people are content and satisfied with their collective organization. The Soviet farmers will be happy to know that their example is followed in Mexico."

Some Think Summit Session Date Getting Farther Away

By TOM OCHILTREE

LONDON (AP) — Diplomatic circles in London believe the date for the East-West summit conference is getting farther and farther away. But officials in Paris and Bonn say the meeting with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev still is likely before June.

Diplomatic observers here cite the full schedule of engagements for the world's chief political leaders. They see signs that Communist China is trying to put the brakes on negotiations between the Soviet Union and the West.

There is speculation that the summit won't be reached until 1961, when a new American president will be in the White House.

But West German press chief Felix von Eckardt told newsmen Monday the prevailing opinion in Bonn is that the meeting will be held in April.

American and French diplomatic sources in Paris say the most logical date appears to fall somewhere between the last week in April and the end of May.

They agree that it can't be set before then. Khrushchev will visit France for two weeks beginning March 15. French President Charle de Gaulle will be in Britain April 5-8. Following that, Western discussion of the Khrushchev visit plus time required for technical arrangements could take up another two weeks.

There also is a possibility that De Gaulle will visit America sometime in May, thus pushing a summit date back some more.

There is a feeling here that Khrushchev might lose any desire for a meeting if it fails to materialize by mid - June. Several leading British newspapers point out that by then the U.S. presidential election would not be far off, and Khrushchev possibly would prefer to talk with the new president rather than outgoing President Eisenhower.

These papers maintain there is little to support Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's continuing display of confidence that an early summit can be held. They say his hopes received a rude setback when Khrushchev failed publicly to oppose De Gaulle's call for a slower approach to top-level negotiations, and when he agreed to visit France in March rather than in February.

Belief is also growing that Khrushchev already has lost much of his interest in an East-West conference, due to pressure from Communist China's Mao Tze-tung. According to this theory, Red China wants to prevent the summit meeting because it would not participate.

Roger Touhy Due His Freedom Today

JOLIET, Ill. (AP) — Roger Touhy — Prohibition era gangster who schemed for freedom and sued for it, today walks out of Stateville Prison after serving 25 years for a kidnaping he says was a hoax.

Announcement that Touhy, 61, would be released was made Monday night by Warden Joseph Ragen and the State's Parole supervisor, T. Edward Austin.

Austin said his office had approved Touhy's plans to live with a sister, Ethel Alesia, in Chicago. Austin said requirements that Touhy have employment before his release were waived because of his age and because of a back injury which renders him unable to do strenuous work.

The State Parole and Pardon Board's decision Nov. 13 to parole the former Chicago beer baron ended a long series of legal maneuvers by Touhy.

He has insisted that he was imprisoned for the 1933 kidnaping of John (Jake the Barber) Factor, a onetime confidence man, on the basis of perjured testimony. His efforts to win freedom went before the Illinois Supreme Court twice and before the U.S. Supreme Court three times.

In 1942, he went over Stateville's 32-foot wall with six other prisoners but was recaptured 83 days later. He was given a 199-year sentence for his part in the break, but Gov. William G. Stratton in 1957 cut that term to 3 years and the kidnap sentence to 85 years.

Touhy tasted freedom once again in 1954 — for 48 hours — when the late U.S. District Court Judge John P. Barnes ruled the Factor kidnaping was a hoax and because, he said, the conviction was obtained on perjured testimony. The release was overruled on an appeal, and Touhy was sent back to prison.

Touhy was paroled last year on the kidnap sentence and was made eligible for parole after serving 17 months of the 3-year term.

Austin said Touhy will remain under parole for about three years but the period "can be extended if it is believed he needs further supervision."

Touhy, known as "The Terrible" in the 1920s when he was a gang leader with a working agreement with the old Al Capone gang, told reporters when he was granted a parole: "All I want is to live in peace for the few years left for me. I hold no grudge and I'm not looking for revenge. I'm not bitter. I just want to get out of here."

Exports Of Cotton Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sales of U.S. cotton for export are slightly more than 80 per cent above a year earlier.

The Agriculture Department said today that sales since July 2 total 2,530,000 bales. This compares with about 1,370,000 in the corresponding period last year.

Officials are predicting total exports for the full season at about 5½ million bales compared with about two million bales last season.

Lower U.S. prices, reduced competition abroad and reduced stocks in major consuming countries were said to be factors contributing to the big increase in sales.

Youth Hurt When Auto Overturns

Alton Miles, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Miles, 2804 Avenue H, was injured Monday evening when his 1949 Chevrolet overturned a half-mile north of Hermleigh.

Investigating officer Will Cleveland stated that the 16 year old boy reported his car turned over when it hit soft dirt on a farm road north of highway 84 at 6:30 p.m.

Miles was taken to Cogdell Memorial Hospital by Bolger ambulance. The extent of his injuries were not known immediately.

Two Cases Heard In County Court

William Scrivner pleaded guilty to a charge of DWI in county court Tuesday morning and was fined $123.50, three days jail, and six months suspension of his driver's liscence.

A charge of swindling by worthless check was brought against Aaron Heartfield. He was given 10 days jail.

Lynch Case Hearing Set

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — U.S. Dist. Judge Sidney Mize will empanel a grand jury Jan. 4 at Biloxi to hear the Mack Charles Parker lynch case.

Mize said Monday the case would get priority over routine matters.

He said he will ask U.S. Atty. Robert Hamberg of his decision to empanel a new grand jury at Biloxi rather than recall the existing grand jury in Jackson.

The Justice Department re-entered the case after the Pearl River County grand jury declined last month to act.

Parker, 23, a Negro truck driver, was dragged from jail April 25 at Poplarville two days before he was slated to go on trial on a charge of raping a white mother in the presence of her 5-year-old daughter.

His body was found several days later in Pearl River. He had been shot to death.

Joint Meetings Of Commissions Okayed

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The Senate Monday approved a plan for annual joint meetings of commissions of Mexican and United States legislators.

The Mexican section for the meetings would be composed of 12 senators and 12 members of the Chamber of Deputies, and include four members of the foreign relations committees of each house.

The proposal for the inter-parliamentary meetings was made by the U. S. Congress.

The Mexican Senate resolution said the meetings would be for consultation on mutual problems, but without authority to take any action. It stipulated that the first meeting should be in Mexico.

DJ Still Has Plenty Work

NEW YORK (AP) — Rock 'n' roll disc jockey Alan Freed, who has lost both his radio and television outlets here, says he has plenty of work to keep him busy.

Freed and WNEW-TV parted ways Monday even after the disc jockey signed a statement for the station denying he ever had accepted payola. The station said it wants to take over control of all its record shows. The Freed show was a package deal, controlled entirely by Freed.

He was fired Saturday by WABC radio after he refused to sign a similar statement. He said then he was insulted that the station would ask him to.

After announcing his break with WNEW-TV, Freed said he plans to continue operating touring companies of rock 'n' roll entertainers. He said he also may tour Europe and has a 10-day Christmas appearance lined up here.

Newsman Admits He Lied In Bribe Attempt Statement

NEW YORK (AP) — Newsman Eugene Gleason had admitted to the district attorney's office that he lied when he claimed a high city official tried to bribe him to stop investigating the city's slum clearance program.

Gleason, a reporter for the New York World-Telegram and Sun, told Chief Asst. Dist. Atty. Alfred J. Scotti Monday that he lied twice about the "bribe"—first in 1956 to his fellow reporter, Fred J. Cook, and again Sunday night on a television program.

Cook, also a World-Telegram and Sun newsman, said on WNTA-TV's discussion program "Open End" that Gleason had told him a high city official offered them $75 to $100 a week each to halt their research on the slum clearance program. Gleason said on the show that the official was still in the city administration.

Along with other newspaper men, Cook and Gleason were discussing their recent article, "The Shame of New York," which appeared in a special issue of the Nation, a weekly magazine. Cook said he brought up the incident because city officials had charged he and Gleason were irresponsible in their charges of mishandling Title 1 projects.

Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan called Cook and Gleason to his office Monday. They showed up with an attorney and another staff member of their newspaper. After the others left, Gleason remained with Scotti and Asst. Dist. Atty. Francis X. Clark.

Hogan said Gleason at first stuck to his story and named a city official. After four hours of questioning, Gleason signed a six-page statement admitting he lied.

"He used the name of a high and respected public official," Hogan told newsmen after Gleason left his office. "It was a damnable outrage, and it would be most unfair to make it public."

Hogan indicated there would be no further action in the case.

"After much hemming and hawing," Hogan said, "finally he asked for an opportunity to commune with himself. Then he told Mr. Scotti he was going to tell the truth."

Gleason told Scotti he lied "because I was exubertant and was carried away."

A spokesman for the World-Telegram and Sun said: "Inasmuch as we have not had a chance to see the statement, there is nothing that can be said at this point."

Gleason, who has worked for the paper four years, usually did the research for the stories he and Cook prepared. Cook did the writing.

Gleason took all the blame for the incident. He said Cook had only repeated what he told him.

Cook said on the TV program he and Gleason agreed to reject the offer. He said on the program they had reported the incident to their city desk, but Monday Cook and Gleason both said they had not told any of their superiors at the newspaper.

Latest Type Shop Put In

Industrial Supply in Snyder has just completed installation of the latest and most modern down-well pump repair shop. This shop has been modernized with the Gearench System. Installation of this new equipment now enables Industrial to offer the very fines and newest methods of down-well pump repair.

Friction vises and wrenches are used in the Gearench System. This equipment is precision made and field proven. The barrel of the pump is held securely without damage during all repair operations. This advanced form for securing the barrel during repair prevents crushing. Wrench marks, which are often the origin of metal fatigue and splitting, are not made with friction wrenches employed in the Gearench System.

As a distributor for Fluid Packed Pump Co., Harbison-Fischer Manufacturing Co., Bradford Motor Works and Lamtex, Industrial feels they are in a position to fulfill all down-well pump requirements. New methods of manufacture, improved research and precision workmanship have resulted in improved lines of down-well pumps.

All new Gearench equipment is to be installed in all down-well pump repair shops at all Industrial stores.

Square Dance Club Seeks New Members

The Snyder Square Dance Club is conducting a drive for new members, H. M. Seerden, president of the club announced today.

The club meets each Friday evening at 8 p.m. in the Katherine Ryan School cafeteria. Seerden, a member of the Southwestern Square Dance Association, gives free instruction to all beginners. He urges everyone interested to contact him or just come out this Friday.

"We have lots of fun and friendship so come on out," said Seerden.

Negotiations Are Renewed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government is moving back into the steel labor negotiations in an effort to head off a new stoppage.

Joseph F. Finnegan, chief of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, announced Monday night that his staff will confer Wednesday with the three-member fact-finding panel set up by President Eisenhower to deal with the walkout that shut the industry for 116 days.

Later in the day a meeting will be held with Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell.

Finnegan would not give any details, but it is taken for granted the sessions signal efforts to get serious negotiations going again soon after Thanksgiving.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

ACCURATE ELECTRIC COOKING

When you cook electrically, you can measure cooking temperatures as accurately as you measure recipe ingredients. Whether you're cooking on surface units or in the oven, you just set the controls for the heat you want and you get precisely the same heat from the same setting every time. There's no guesswork...no need for constant pot-watching and oven-peeking. Accurately controlled and measured electric heat assures recipe-right results time after time. See your electric range dealer soon. Cook electrically...live better electrically.

Crunchy Goodness In Candy Coated Popcorn

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
AP Newsfeatures Food Editor

Here we go nostalgic again, and all in the cause of candy-coated popcorn. If this crunchy sweet stuff was something you adored as a child, you'll probably go right along with use.

Dark rumors have been heard in this land that nowadays candy coated popcorn is not always what it used to be. So we jump into the fray and come up with a recipe that, according to our taste buds, reproduces that certain old-time taste and texture.

In making up the following recipe be absolutely sure you cook the syrup to the hard-crack stage. If you cook it only to soft-crack, you won't have that hard coating dear to the hearts of confirmed addicts of this confection.

When the syrup is ready to pour over the popped corn it will be thick and harden rapidly, so work faster than fast at this stage. Use two wooden spoons, or a very wide fork or what you will for the mixing of syrup and corn, but mix with speed.

Both white and yellow varieties of corn for popping come in 10-ounce cans and are widely available in food markets. We like this conveniently packaged modern corn because it pops easily and quickly. The white corn, after popping, is entirely free from hard centers and the yellow corn has practically none.

If you do not pop all the corn in a can at one sitting, be sure to store in a tightly covered container so that it does not dry. You need moisture in the corn kernels because heat converts it to steam; it's this sudden release of steam pressure forces the corn kernels into their flowerlike bursting.

CARMEL CORN

INGREDIENTS: 3 tablespoons corn oil, 1-3 cup popcorn, 1 cup dark corn syrup, 1 cup sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ cup water, 4 tablespoon butter or margarine, ¾ cup salted Spanish (redskinned) peanuts, 1 teaspoon baking soda, 2 teaspoons hot water.

METHOD: In a 3-quart heavy aluminum or iron-saucepan heat corn oil about 3 minutes over medium heat; add popcorn. Cover, leaving a small air space at edge of cover. Shake almost constantly until popping stops. Turn into a well-oiled roasting pan (13 by 9 by 3 inh a good size) and remove unpopped grains. Place corn syrup, sugar, salt, water and butter in a saucepan. Stir over low heat until sugar is dissolved; cook stirring occasionally, to hard-crack stage (300 degrees on candy thermometer) or until a small amount separates into hard brittle threads when tested in very cold water. Stir in peanuts; remove from heat. Stir baking soda into hot water; stir into hot syrup mixture. Pour hot syrup over popped corn in oiled roasting pan, mixing rapidly as you do so. Cool, turning at least once. When cool and hard, break into small pieces. Makes 1½ to 2 quarts.

NOTE: To test whether oil is hot enough for corn, drop a few kernels into saucepan after oil starts heating; when they pop, add all the corn.

Gourments Holiday

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
AP Newsfeatures Food Editor

At this time of year come queries from cooks who are planning gifts for other kitchen devotees. Which new cook book is suitable for a friend? If there are epicures on your holiday list, you may wish to consider these two nominations.

"The Classic French Cuisine" by Joseph Donon (Knopf) — for almost 40 years the author was America's most famous and reportedly highest-paid chef to a private family. Since his retirement M. Donon has given much of his time to helping along the training of young professional cooks; the same zeal with which he aids them has gone into the working out of his book. There are enough simple recipes in "The Classic French Cuisine" to encourage novice cooks and plenty more to keep accomplished chefs happy. Covered in gold cloth and handsomely printed, this book is an authoritative and pleasant guide.

"Classic Cooking" by John Marshall (Duell, Sloan and Pearce) is subtitled "A New Approach to French Cuisine." It was written at the request of his daughter, on the occasion of her marriage, by a man whose hobby is cooking. Its menus and recipes were tested for a privately issued version of this book and again when the present edition was being prepared. Beginning chapters on such important subjects as shopping, seasoning, menu-making and serving are interestingly knowledgeable. Menus number 30 and exact directions for preparing them are given; most of these are for dinner for two, but some are for luncheon and supper, and a buffet for 10 to 15 is also included. Short chapters on hors d' oeuvre, soups, sauces, special dishes, salads, aspics and desserts make good reading and should result in fine cooking.

BRIOCHE

(From "The Classic French Cuisine" by Joseph Donon)

INGREDIENTS: ½ cake or envelope yeast, ½ cup warm water, 3 cups flour, 1 tablespoon powdered sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 cup sweet butter, 4 eggs.

METHOD: Dissolve the yeast in the warm water and mix it with ½ cup of the flour. Knead the dough well and put it in a bowl two-thirds full of warm water to rise. Sift the remaining flour in a mound on a pastry board and make a well in the center. Add the sugar, salt and the eggs, lightly beaten, and knead thoroughly to make a smooth dough. When the sponge rises to the surface of the warm water, work it in to the dough. Soften the butter by kneading it with the hands, and work it into the dough. Put the dough in a bowl, sprinkle it lightly with flour, and set it in a moderately warm place to rise until it is double in bulk, from 2 to 3 hours. Punch the dough down and chill it overnight. Cut off one-fourth of the dough and form it into a ball. Shape the rest into a large ball and put it in a buttered, bowl-shaped brioche mold. Cut a cross in the top of the large ball and insert the small ball in it to make the head, or crown of the brioche. Let the brioche rise in a warm place until it doubles in bulk. Brush with lightly beaten egg yolk and bake in a moderately hot oven (400 degrees) for an hour, until the brioche is browned and tests done. Individual brioches may be made, if preferred, and baked for about 20 minutes.

Ford Is Divorced By Eleanor Powell

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Eleanor Powell, once the movies' leading woman tap dancer, has divorced actor Glenn Ford on testimony he was "very moody and anti-social."

The couple, married 16 years, have a son, Peter, 14.

"My marriage wouldn't have lasted that long except for my religion (Presbyterian) and my feeling that I should keep the marriage together," Miss Powell said Monday. She said Ford "just doesn't care for people."

Miss Powell is 47, Ford 43.

Morton's POTATO CHIPS

MARGARET BROCHERDING. . .keeps in condition carrying sacks of potatoes.

She Uses Her Fists To Defend Her Vanity

By SY RAMSEY

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) —The toughs around the Haymarket are leaving Margaret Borcherding alone these days.

"I guess I've had a couple of dozen fights in the last two years," the 18-year-old blonde says. "And I won them all."

Margaret, 5-7 and weighing 135, has been keeping in fighting trim since she began slinging potato sacks in the colorful market place at the age of 9.

Her ambition is to become either a school teacher or a professional roller skater.

Margaret formerly worked in produce stands after school. Lately for personal reasons, she has been unable to attend school and has returned to the market full-time until next semester.

"It's quiet," she says. "Nobody's been giving me any trouble."

Trouble, when it arrives, usually is in the form of a woman's cutting remark or a man's devious pass, Margaret says.

There was the burly woman, a regular customer at police headquarters, who made an uncomplimentary comment while passing Margaret's stand.

"If you want to do something about it, young lady, come on out on the sidewalk," she challenged.

Margaret stepped outside and flattened her tormenter.

And once in court a capacity crowd listened to Margaret testify that a certain produce dealer "touched my leg."

"I knocked him down several times and then sat on him so he couldn't get up," she told the judge.

Three produce peddlers testified the man was no match for the girls' flying fists.

The judge commented the produce dealer apparently got the worst of it. He released the man on condition he keep the peace for six months.

"After all, a girl has to protect herself."

To Rate With Girls, Give Pearls

DOROTHY ROE

ANY KIND OF JEWELRY is all right for Christmas—just so it's pearls.

That's the word from the jewelry industry, whose members say they've never seen a season when pearls of all kinds, shapes and size big and little, real and fake, have been in such demand.

Perhaps it's because this is a season when feminity and elegance have reached an all-time high—and pearls always have been favorites with great ladies, starting with Cleopatra, who not only wore them but is said to have swallowed them.

For Christmas giving and wearing, pearls are appearing in new sizes, shapes, finishes and colors in new combinations and dramatic designs. Colored pearls are important in th holiday picture, ranging from fabulous cultured or oriental black pearls to costume pearls in tones of sable, smoke, jade, sapphire, burgundy, amber, and gold. Often two or more shades of a color are blended for an effect of color gradation that is subtle and effective.

There are new finishes for costume pearls that would astonish an oyster. They range from a simulated cultured pearl finish to a dazzling white. Some pearls have a dull metallic gleam, and others a silky sheen.

As to sizes, you may choose anything from tiny seed pearls in multiple strands to jumbo pearls the size of marbles. There are many shapes, also-round, oval or flat.

Necklaces run the full gamut, from choker collars to long ropes. Sometimes pearls are paired with other gems or with gold or silver for a new look. Sparkling cut crystal combines with pearls with dramatic effect, as to jade, turquoise, emeralds or rubies, real or simulated.

When you buy fresh bakery foods insist on enriched products. Your near-by baker stocks a plentiful supply of enriched freshly-baked products your family is bound to enjoy.

Walter Slezak Excited Over His First Appearance At Met

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN

NEW YORK (AP)—By Thanksgiving morning, actor Walter Slezak won't be frustrated anymore.

"I'm singing at the Met the night before," Slezak unburdens his psyche over a plate of shirred eggs. "My one frustration in life is that I never sang in opera. Never had a voice. And now here I am singing at the greatest of them all. Frightening. Absolutely frightening."

A massive sigh rumbles down from his mountainous frame as he ponders the enormity of his courage in accepting Rudolf Bing's invitation to sing the role of Zsupan, the pig farmer, in Johann Strauss' "The Gypsy Baron."

This is the Met's big new production of the year and it is the moment Selzak has waited for all his life.

Just 50 years ago, almost to the day, his father, Leo Slezak, made his operatic debut on the same stage in Verdi's "Otello."

Leo Slezak went on to become one of the great tenors, a contemporary of Caruso.

Young Walter, who watched that night in knee pants from a balcony seat, went on to become one of the theater's great opera buffs, an enthusiast who played hooky from Shubert's Alley at every opportunity to catch an act or two at the Met.

His knowledge of opera is enormous. For the sheer joy of it, he has been a regular panelist on the "Metropolitan Opera Quiz of the Air," more than holding his own with the experts.

"You know as far as those quiz shows are concerned," Slezak confides, "I was lucky. They wanted me to go on the '64,000 Challenge,' but my natural greed interfered. I wanted to know how much was in it for me. After all, I'm not a bootblack or a butcher. I'm a performer. I get paid for performing.

"They said I might win $1,000. I said 'not enough,' and refused. Now I can see they were looking for a name to knock off with an underdog. I'm not the underdog type. I wouldn't have lasted two programs."

Selzak's frankness about not having an operatic voice doesn't mean he can't sing. He has sung in dozens of Broadway musicals, including Jerome Kern's "Autumn in the Air," Sigmund Romberg's "May Wine," Rodgers and Hart's "I Married An Angel," and just a few seasons ago in Harold Rome's "Fanny."

In "Fanny," he was costarred with the late Ezio Pinza, formerly of the Met, a lifelong idol and friend. But Slezak's hope of having someone who shared his hobby dissolved one Saturday afternoon. Slezak, as usual, spent his offstage moments listening to the Met's weekly radio broadcasts. Excited by a particularly beautiful aria, he ran to Pinza's dressing room to discuss the passage. He found the great opera star bent over his radio in rapt attention, listening to the Yankee ball game.

Oddly enough, "The Gypsy Baron" is one of the few operas Slezak has never seen nor heard. The Met hasn't performed it more than half a century.

"The music is far more beautiful than 'Fledermaus,'" Slezak says. "I get to sing two arias and a duet, mostly patter songs. It's a buffo (Comic) part. Don't ask me what the plot is about. It's delightful but its more complicated than an intercontinental ballistic missile."

When the great gold curtain ascends on "The Gypsy Baron," opera buff Walter Slezak will find himself sharing the stage with Lisa Della Casa, Regina Resnik, Laurel Hurley, Mignon Dunn, Nicolai Gedda and other great singers. He will be at once the happiest and the most frightened man in the house.

"You know," he muses, "there's something symbolic about opening on the night before Thanksgiving. This could turn out to be a big turkey, or else I could really have something to be thankful for."

Ghost Writer Takes Cash Over Credit

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Samuel J. Michelson is a man content to take the cash and let the credit go.

At 52 he is recognized as the Henry Ford of one of word-happy America's most flourishing, but least known industries—professional ghost writing. He put the business on an assembly line.

"We don't worry about the anonymity so long as the pay is good—and it usually is," said Michelson. He is small, blue-eyed, friendly, eager-faced. He looks a little like Mickey Mouse, and a lot like Adlai Stevenson.

He began setting type in a country weekly at 13. After college he free-lanced for a time, then decided he could make more money writing under other people's names.

His success as a literary haunt has been both spectral and spectacular. In the last 25 years he has written or revised more than 30 million words.

"I've turned out everything from first-person adventure stuff to romantic novels, political speeches and scientific treatises," he said. "There's no subject or assignment ever stumped us, although when it comes to the field of electronics, I'm dead there myself."

For such specialized topics he draws upon a regular staff of three ghostly aides and a spook stable of 200 part-time workers.

"Among them are engineers, scientists and educators who want an outside source of income," he said. "There's no shortage of writing talent."

Who seeks the services of a ghost writer today? Practically everybody. His clients have included explorers, major corporations, publishing houses, suburban housewives for help on a club talk, sports figures, surgeons, prime ministers of foreign countries, statesmen and judges, and aging actresses who hope a well-written autobiography will lead to a comeback.

Michelson defends ghost writing as a legitimate profession and one of the oldest in civilized history.

Ghost writing has become an intensely competitive business, and centers in New York, Hollywood and Washington, D.C. Michelson estimates there are 20 such services in this city alone.

"The biggest trouble with ghost writing," he confessed, "is in getting letters of recommendation from satisfied clients."

Greater Competition With Soviets Appears Inevitable

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press ews Analyst N

WASHINGTON (AP) — What happens when the Soviet Union really gets rolling? Premier Nikita Khrushchev talks blithely of peaceful, economic competition. It sounds almost jolly and sporting. It could be deadly.

It's a long-range thing and the kind easy to lose sight of in the more immediate probelm of trying to work out a way of getting along with the Soviet Union to cut down on armaments and avoid the possibility of war.

Yet the question of competing with the Communist world may become the greatest challenge the United States has ever faced.

It's a question brought to mind now by the direction the Eisenhower administration is taking in giving loans to needy nations. It's been called "Buy American."

It means that if backward countries need American money to buy things, then they should spend it in this country. If they want money to buy things elsewhere, then let them get the loans elsewhere.

Recently the administration nudged its West European allies to do more on their own in lending money to needy peoples overseas. There was a time, during the 1940s, when they were too broke to do that. We did it. Now they can do some of it.

The reason behind the "Buy American" idea—without getting into the complex economics of it—goes like this: This country is still selling more abroad than it is buying abroad. But the gap is getting narrow.

And American money is flowing overseas in other ways, too. For instance, in American investments overseas, in money spent on American troops and bases, and so on. The result is that this country is sending out a lot more than it is getting back.

Yet, this whole idea of "Buy American" is being heatedly debated and challenged. The argument will get worse when Congress returns.

Still, far in the background like a ghost, is that challenge of Khrushchev to the United States to eliminate military competition and compete with the Communist world economically.

Right now there is not much danger of this country from such competition. The Soviets still are not abreast of us industrially and, because they want big armaments, they are still far behind us in producing consumer goods for their own people.

They will overcome that in time. So will the rest of the Communist world. And, since their living costs and pay scales are much lower than here, the things they eventually will make for the world markets should cost less than American goods.

You can be sure the Communists will use trade for a double purpose: to make money and to influence other peoples in their direction.

If relations between this country and the Communist bloc remain peaceful, then the day is also coming when they will probably try to compete with American goods in America.

Woman Tells Of Unwilling Role In Convicts' Escape

By CHARLES L. WEST

JEFFERSON, N.C. (AP) — "I didn't know they had already killed a man...that he was in that truck out there.

"Oh, if I had known that..."

Her eyes were welling with tears and her voice was trembling as Mrs. Edd Sheets described her brief, unwilling role in the escape of five dangerous felons from an Ashe County prison gang.

She was alone Monday morning with her sick, 6-year-old daughter at their home about 15 road-miles north of Jefferson in the rugged Blue Ridge Mountain country. The daughter was watching a children's television show.

"I had seen the convict truck go down the road. I never do rest until it's gone," said the 32-year-old mother of four daughters.

The truck carried 12 prisoners and three guards to the day's work assignment, a spot in the remote Cranberry Creek section. While en route, some of the prisoners cut a hole through the top of the wire cage.

When the vehicle stopped, five prisoners scrambled through the hole and onto guard William F. Handy as he dismounted. Handy was knocked down and disarmed. One prisoner shot work foreman Fields Absher, 55, near the heart.

Guard Judd Jones exchanged fire with the felons, but one of them held a gun muzzle against Handy's head and ordered Jones to drop his weapons.

"I didn't want to. God knows I didn't want to," Jones said. "But Handy was begging me. He was screaming:

"They'll kill me. They mean it."

The seven prisoners who did not participate in the escape pleaded with the felons not to kill Handy, as Jones had surrendered.

The escapees donned the guards' caps and uniforms and ordered Jones and Handy into the truck cage. The other seven prisoners loaded the mortally wounded Absher, a grandfather, into the cage also.

"I saw the prison truck come back and it stopped out front," said Mrs. Sheets. "One man got out and came to our door. He had on guard clothes and I figured he was all right."

Mrs. Sheets opened the door and the man, with aimed pistol, demanded the keys to her 1959 automobile. The five piled into the red-and-white car and fled.

Jones, Handy and the seven other prisoners rushed Absher to a hospital.

"He died before we got there," Jones said. "I don't believe he ever said a word."

The State Highway Patrol, assisted by city, county and federal officers, set up roadblocks in the northwestern section of North Carolina, trying to keep the heavily armed felons within the mountains where escape routes are few. Officers in neighboring Virginia and Tennessee also were on the lookout.

The five escapees and their sentences:

George Brown, 29, Wilkes County, 22-26 years for attempted criminal assault, breaking and entering and highway robbery; James Waller, 35, Gibsonville, 3-5 years for auto theft; Tommy Styles, 27, Asheville, 18-25 years for robbery and larceny; John Allen Henry, 23, Miami, Fla., 10 years for armed robbery; Junior Burgess, 33, Hickory, 25-30 years as an accessory to murder.

Brown, Waller, Henry and Burgess also were serving additional terms for previous escapes.

Lubbock Man Faces Charge

LEVELLAND, Tex. (AP) — Charles Henry Kisner, 23, of Lubbock was under a murder charge today in the death of a red-haired woman who was found beaten near here early Sunday.

The victim was identified tentatively as Frances Mosley, 56, of Lubbock. A ranch hand found her on a farm road but she died of exposure before reaching a hospital. The woman was clad in only a slip and underclothing.

Sheriff Weir Clem said the murder with malice charge was filed after questioning Haskell Syrus, 51, of Lubbock. The sheriff said Syrus told him he and the woman were in a Lubbock cafe Saturday night and Kisner joined them.

After some drinking, Syrus said the three drove out of town and that Kisner suddenly beat and threw him from the car and sped away with the woman.

Man, 60, Attacks Family With Ax; Leaps To Death

EASTON, Pa. (AP)—Idled by a long strike and haunted by fears his grandchildren would be taken away, a 60-year-old man took up an ax Monday and attacked his family.

He killed a granddaughter, 4, and critically injured his wife, a daughter and two grandsons. Then he climbed a warehouse fire escape and jumped 60 feet to his death.

"Please do not call this murder," it said in part. "Call it a mercy killing. I know it is wrong but I must and I know God will forgive me. They going to take children away. This way we be together and our suffering be over. I suffered more than Christ 100 times. All my family forgive me. All the neighbors and friends, forgive me."

The note was addressed to Lillian Gabert, 30, his daughter. Montoni lives in Phillipsburg, N.J. across the Delaware River, but had been staying with his daughter since his wife, Anna, 59, entered Betts Hospital two weeks ago with a gall bladder attack.

Monday, when he came to vist Mrs. Mantoni at the hospital someone heard him tell her, as he entered her room, "Come into the bathroom. I have something important to tell you."

A nurse heard a scream. She saw Montoni run and found Mrs. Montoni on the floor. A small ax lay beside her.

Ten minutes later Montoni's body was found near the warehouse, two blocks away. Authorities went to Mrs. Gabert's home in suburban Palmer Township. They found the daughter and her children in a pool of blood on the kitchen floor.

The granddaughter, Elaine, died at Easton Hospital. Her mother and brothers, Raymond, 4, and Paul, 21 months, remained unconscious with brain damage. Mrs. Montoni, only slightly better, also was unconscious.

Montoni was a crane operator at the Ingersoll-Rand Co. plant in West Easton. The employes have been on strike 163 days.

Mrs. Gabert, who was divorced in August had made an appointment Monday with a family service agency. That apparently had something to do with Montoni's reference to taking the children away.

Says Farm Policy May Hurt GOP

WASHINGTON (AP) — Reaction to the administration's farm policies may lose some votes for the 1960 GOP presidential candidate, Sen. George D. Aiken (R-VT) said today.

He predicted that result from what he called "the impression in farm areas the administration is not sympathetic to farmers." He mentioned North Dakota, South Dakota, Minnesota and Iowa as among the states where such an impression could cost Republican votes.

But Aiken added in an interview that farmers are losing their political influence in the nation as a whole as their numbers decline and their interests broaden. Less than 10 per cent of the nation is engaged in agriculture, he said, and the number is declining.

"A farm revolt would not have the impact of 15 or 20 years ago," Aiken said "And about a third of the farmers are engaged in other businesses which would influence them to vote Republican."

Aiken, senior Republican on the Agriculture Committee, said he sees little chance of any major farm legislation next year.

The views of Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson and Congress are so far apart, he said, that "the outlook for basic changes in farm law in the January session is very bleak."

"I can't imagine Congress passing an administration bill," he told reporters, "any more than I can imagine the President signing any measure Congress might pass."

Between You And Me

By JERRY JACKSON

A peek at the final game statistics which the Tigers rolled up as compared to their opponents is revealing, if not startling. It goes a long way towards proving what was brought out yesterday—that Snyder came out on top in practically everything except the won-lost column.

The Bengals led in net yards rushing over their opponents by a whopping 212 yards per game, as against 124. Also held the edge in total offense by 285 yards as stacked up against 200. There was an even wider edge in total points scored, as the Tigers racked up almost twice as many points during the season as did their foes, averaging 22.1 points per contest as compared to 11.8.

If you'll pardon the expression, there just ain't no justice. It was a 5-5 season, coupled with 8-2 statistics.

Hayes Of All-State Stock

ONE BIG QUESTION that will remain unanswered for a while is whether or not Dick Hayes, the locals' most deserving field general, will receive the recognition which is his due and be selected on the All-State eleven. It's a haphazard affair, to be sure, in that many eligible players traditionally get "lost in the shuffle" when the teams on which they perform fail to advance into the playoffs. It is without rhyme or reason, but nevertheless is an accepted fact.

We need go no further than the Lake View game of this past Friday to establish the brand of player that the strapping 173-pound senior quarterback has developed into. The competition in this game, of course, wasn't of a very high caliber, but a glance at the feats he accomplished in the tilt are still noteworthy.

Had Field Day At Chief Expense

AMONG OTHER THINGS, he (1) ran the opening kickoff back 85 yards for a touchdown; (2) carried the ball four times for 112 yards and an awesome 28 yards per carry average, (3) completed three of six pass attempts and pulled in the only aerial thrown his way, and (4) punted once for 42 yards. Pretty good night's work.

All-District should come his way unanimously. And if the chips fall right he could very well nab All-State to boot. Just keep your fingers (and eyes) crossed.

'Shocked And Dismayed' D'Amato Spars With NBA

By WHITNEY MARTIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—A "shocked and dismayed" Cus D'Amato expects to get back his license to manage and second fighters in New York state through legal action.

If that effort doesn't meet with success, the National Boxing Assn. offers him a glimmer of hope he may be able to manage within its jurisdiction. That would give him most of the nation in which to operate as manager of former heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson if Sweden's Ingemar Johansson will consent to meet Patterson outside New York.

"I have a legal contract for the return bout and I intend to fulfill this obligation," D'Amato said.

D'Amato, whose license was revoked Monday by the New York State Athletic Commission, indicated in a statement relayed by attorney Edwin S. Schweig that his first move may be court action to upset the commission's action.

"I shall review the matter carefully with my attorneys and I believe that on appeal to the courts the drastic and unbelievable penalty visited upon me will not be upheld," the white-thatched pilot declared.

The statement questioned the legal authority of the commission to revoke a license that had expired last Sept. 30, and asserted that if the commission believed he had done anything wrong it had the facts May 22, 1959, well before the Patterson-Johansson title fight, yet made no move of any kind until Oct. 26.

The wrong referred to, and on which the commissioned based its decision, was related to four charges, to wit: 1. failing to appear at a Sept. 14 commission hearing into alleged irregularities in the title fight promotion; 2. as a licensed manager participating as a matchmaker and promoter in the title fight; 3. seeking to foist Harry Davidow upon Johansson as a manager, thereby attempting to control both contestants, and 4. failing to file after the fight a manager's financial report within the five days.

A fifth charge, that of consorting with Charley (Black) Antonucci, described by the commission as a gambler and an associate of bookmakers, was dismissed.

The commission ruling further clouded the already befogged heavyweight title picture as it pertains to a rematch between Patterson and Johansson.

Anthony Maceroni, NBA president, said in Providence, R.I., Monday night that his organization temporarily would uphold the ban, but that the NBA is leaving the door open for D'Amato to be heard by the association's grievance committee.

Maceroni charged the New York Commission with mishandling the case. He said the charge D'Amato failed to appear Sept. 14 wasn't justified as D'Amato was out of the country, and that the commission had ample time before the June 26 fight to take action on charges of D'Amato's alleged participation as an undercover manager and his attempt to maintain control of the title by hand-picking managers of challengers.

Patterson now has no manager anywhere in the country, and to further complicate matters Rosensohn Enterprises, Inc., which holds the return bout contract, previously had its New York license revoked.

Bill Rosensohn, still holder of one-third interest in the promoting organization, Monday had his matchmaker's license suspended for three years.

Vincent Velella, New York attorney who now heads Rosensohn Enterprises, is talking of a Miami date in March for the rematch, but Edwin Ahlquist, Johansson's advisor, doesn't go for the idea.

"Velella wanted it in Florida where I understand Mr. Tony 'Fat' Salerno (a notorious gambler) has his headquarters," Ahlquist said in Goteburg, Sweden. "There will be none of that now. We still prefer New York and I think the fight can go in the beginning of June."

In Geneva, Switzerland, Johansson reiterated his desire to give Patterson the first chance at the title. The champion obviously was elated when told that commissioner Julius Helfand had said Johansson could pick up his $152,000 purse for the June fight at any time. The purse is being held in escrow by the New York Commission.

"We have no contract on file for a return fight," Helfand added.

Trio Of SWC 11's Bolster 'Top 10'

Syracuse, the only unbeaten, untied major football power, retains the No. 1 spot in the Associated Press poll of sports writers and sportscasters for the third straight week.

The powerful Orange polished off Boston University 46-0 Saturday and now have two weeks to get ready for their regular season finale with UCLA, Dec. 5. After that Coach Ben Schwartzwalder's men move on to the Cotton Bowl in Dallas.

Syracuse's finale with UCLA now looms as an important test that should measure their real ability. UCLA knocked off Southern California, which had been the only other perfect record team, 10-3.

The weekly voting produced a landslide for Syracuse with 121 of 174 first plac ballots. The next best was Mississippi, the No. 2 club which drew 32 firsts, although it didn't play. Mississippi still has one to go, a Nov. 28 date with oft-beaten Mississippi State.

Louisiana State held third place by whipping Tulane 14-6, closing out its regular season. LSU will play in the Sugar Bowl, Jan. 1.

Eight of the top 20 have finished their regular seasons—LSU, Wisconsin, Washington, Arkansas, Illinois, Penn State, Pittsburgh and Missouri.

The top ten with points based on 10 for a first place vote, 9 for second etc. (First place votes in parentheses):

1.	Syracuse (121)	1,602
2.	Mississippi (32)	1,377
3.	Louisiana State (1)	1,216
4.	Texas (1)	978
5.	Wisconsin (2)	753
6.	Georgia (2)	750
7.	Southern California	586
8.	Texas Christian	467
9.	Washington (4)	437

Ags Brace For Steer Invasion

By The Associated Press

Texas isn't much of a passing team—or hasn't been—but Texas A&M is taking no chances. The Aggies worked on pass defense Monday as they opened preparations for the big game on Thanksgiving Day.

This game will decide if Texas is to tie for the Southwest Conference championship and go to the Cotton Bowl.

Texas averaged only 45.1 yards per game throwing the ball this season but the Longhorns just didn't use the pass much anyway. When they did it usually paid off.

The Aggies were still worrying about injuries. Bob Sanders, regular halfback, got a charley horse in Mondays practice but is expected to be able to play.

Coach Darrell Royal of Texas was talking about how a fired up team could narrow the odds. Noting that Texas was a 10-point favorite, Royal commented: "You take a team that's really fired up and they can readily close a big gap against a favored opponent."

Texas lost fullback Don Allen, who had his knee operated on for a slipped cartilage.

Two games Saturday will wind up the conference schedule. Texas Christian, seeking to tie for the championship, plays Southern Methodist at Fort Worth. Baylor and Rice, both long out of the race, close with a game at Houston.

Texas Christian expects to be free of injury when it plays the Methodists and SMU also thinks it will be at full strength although several players, including quarterback Don Meredith and halfback Glynn Gregory, took it easy because of bruises suffered in last week's victory over Baylor.

Rice worked lightly and will continue the treatment the rest of the week since Coach Jess Neely said he didn't want to risk injury.

Arkansas, which has clinched at least a tie for the championship, and Texas Tech, which didn't compete for the title, have finished the season. Arkansas will play in the Gator Bowl unless Texas should lose. In that event, Arkansas would be host team in the Cotton Bowl.

Dapper Don Has Work Cut Out

By The Associated Press

Southern Methodist's Don Meredith will have to have a fantastic day against Texas Christian Saturday if he is to close out with Southwest Conference passing records.

He holds the record for accuracy but here's what he would have to do to break the other marks: complete 22 passes for 575 yards.

The season record is 112 pass completions set by Buddy Humphrey of Baylor last year. Meredith has 91 completions this season.

Back in 1938 Davey O'Brien of Texas Christian passed for 1,733 yards. Meredith has 1159 and would need 575 against TCU to get 1,734.

Dangerous Don, however, is already champion in passing and total offense for the 1959 season. He has 15 more completions than second place Ronnie Stanley of Baylor and is 452 yards ahead. He has 1,215 yards in total offense, which is 561 yards better than runner-up Bill Bucek of Rice.

Fullback Jack Spikes of TCU has nailed down the ball-carrying crown with 615 yards on 126 runs with a game to go. Jim Mooty of Arkansas, second with 519 yards, is 163 yards behind.

Jack Collins of Texas leads the punters with a 42.1 yards average.

Gordon Speer of Rice tops the punt returners with a 13.7 yards average.

Meredith leads in kickoff returns with a 23.8 yard average.

Spikes, Herring In AFL Player Draft

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The American Football League drafted 22 players for each of its 8 teams in addition to the first pick of 11 each Sunday night.

Texas players picked on both days and the teams that picked them follow:

Dallas: Arvie Martin, TCU, center; Don Meredith, SMU, quarterback; Gary Ferguson, SMU, tackle; Gordon Speer, Rice, halfback; Jon Schnable, Rice, quarterback.

Houston: Cleatus Drinnon, Hardin-Simmons, center; William Roach, TCU, tackle; George Hering, North Texas State, tackle-guard.

Boston: Dee Macke, East Texas State; Gary Wisener, Baylor, and Henry Christopher, SMU, ends; Cliff Manning, Hardin-Simmons, and Leon Manley, West Texas State, tackle-guards; Tirey Wilemon, SMU, halfback.

Buffalo: Bubba Meyer, TCU, end; Gale Oliver, Texas A&M, tackle; John Ray Gilliam, East Texas State, center; Rene Ramirez, Texas, halfback.

Denver: Bill Carrico, North Texas State, guard; Claude King, Houston, halfback; Jack Spikes, TCU, fullback; Maurice Doak, Texas, end; Mike Dowdle, Texas, fullback.

Los Angeles: Charles Milstead, Texas A&M, quarterback; James Cameron, East Texas State, center.

Minneapolis-St. Paul: Abner Haynes, North Texas State, halfback; Albert Witcher, Baylor, Charles Pollard, Rice, ends; Cloyd Boyette, Texas Southern, tackle-guard; Bobby Lackey, Texas, quarterback; George Blanch, Texas, halfback.

New York: Donald Floyd, TCU, SMU, tackles; Eddie Meyer, West Texas State, Gene Miller, Rice, Larry Stephens, Texas, tackle-guards; Bill Bucek, Rice, halfback.

'Bowl Fodder' Is Supplied By Texas

DALLAS (AP)—Texas not only is upholding its reputation of being the "bowlingest" state but is surpassing even itself this year.

Texas had teams in eight bowls in 1958. This year it has them in nine with several more due.

This state also will have more bowl games of its own. There are six on the list.

The Sun Bowl at El Paso, second oldest bowl game in the country, has grabbed North Texas State with its 9-1 record.

The new Bluebonnet Bowl at Houston, which is making a jump into the major class with its first venture, has signed Texas Christian.

The Cotton Bowl will have Texas unless that team should be upset Thursday against Texas A&M. In that event Arkansas would be in the Cotton Bowl since it could become the Southwest Conference representative. Texas might go to some other bowl.

The first Texas bowl team to swing into action will be Texarkana Junior College. Texarkana meets Northeastern Oklahoma in the National Junior College Bowl at Texarkana Thursday night.

Austin College goes to Excelsior Springs, Mo., Saturday to appear in the Mineral Water Bowl against College of Emporia.

Dec. 5 Henderson County Junior College of Athens, Tex., plays in the Hospitality Bowl at Gulfport, Miss., meeting Pearl River, Miss.

Dec. 8 Prairie View, the Texas Negro college with a 19-game winning streak, clashes with Florida A&M in the Orange Blossom classic at Miami, Fla.

Dec. 12 Del Mar College of Corpus Christi plays in the Junior Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif., opposing Bakersfield, Calif.

The Bluebonnet Bowl is Dec. 19, and on the same day the NAIA puts on its Holiday Bowl at St. Petersburg, Fla. Texas A&I is competing for a place in this game.

The Sun Bowl is scheduled Dec. 31, with North Texas State playing New Mexico State.

The Cotton Bowl is Jan. 1 and also on that date, the Prairie View Bowl will be held at Houston with Prairie View the host team.

Penn State Nabs Liberty Bowl Spot

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)—Students and football fans in this university town greeted the news of Penn State's acceptance of the Liberty Bowl bid with subdued enthusiasm.

There were no demonstrations, no outward celebrations, nothing like the spirit and enthusiasms that gripped the campus during the week of the Syracuse game.

One observer said many students are waiting to see who would be State's opponent in the first Liberty Bowl to be held Dec. 19 in Philadelphia's 100,000 seat Municipal Stadium. Bowl officials haven't come up with an opponent yet.

In Philadelphia, however, Bud Dudley, a co-promoter of the bowl, said four teams are now under consideration but the situation may change.

Bucks Picked To Whip Tors

DALLAS (AP)—Corpus Christi Ray and Breckenridge will win the top class Texas Schoolboy football championships according to the Dallas News poll.

Ray wound up No. 1 in Class AAAA and Breckenridge No. 1 in Class AAA in the final poll of the year.

The state playoffs begin this week.

Ray was picked by six points over Wichita Falls, indicating these two will clash in the finals since they are in opposite brackets.

It is the same in AAA where Nederland was 10 points behind Breckenridge.

The final Class AAAA rankings: 1. Corpus Christi Ray; 2. Wichita Falls; 3. Highland Park; 4. Abilene; 5. Amarillo; 6. Tyler; 7. Longview; 8. Temple; 9. Fort Worth Carter-Riverside; 10. Port Arthur and Dallas Samuell tied.

The final AAA rankings: 1. Breckenridge; 2. Nederland; 3. San Marcos; 4. Cleburne; 5. Levelland; 6. Brenham; 7. Kilgore; 8. Bay City; 9. Phillips; 10. Mt. Pleasant.

QB Club In Final Session

The season's final meeting of the Quarterback Club will be held tonight in the High School Cafeteria, starting at 7:30.

Reports will be heard from Coach John Conley on this past Friday's clash against Lake View, and from the junior high coaches whose teams capped off their respective seasos this past Thursday.

Tiger basketball coach J. P. Ward will also give a rundown on this season's cage prospects.

The meeting will be concluded with a showing of the Snyder-Lake View game film, which the Tigers won by 54-0 thus assuring the locals of a tie for the district championship.

Joe Brown Wooed By Ring Bigwigs

HOUSTON (AP) — Fight promoters are beating a path to Lou Viscusi's door and the veteran manager of light-weight champion Joe Brown couldn't be happier.

Win, lose or draw against Dave Charnley here Dec. 2, Brown can take his pick next time out. And those on the proposing end aren't talking about peanuts, Viscusi said.

"They're talking in terms of $100,000 guarantees and more," he told newsmen. "Brown's never had anything like that before.

"With that kind of money I'm sitting on pins and needles until Dec. 2."

Viscusi said the latest offer came from former heavyweight champion Joe Louis Monday. Louis, teaming with former pro footballer Ron Waller, wants to promote Brown's next title match in California if he gets by Charnley, presumably in Los Angeles.

Earlier, Los Angeles promoter George Parnassus offered a $100,000 guarantee for Brown to meet battling Torres of Mexico in Los Angeles if he whips Charnley.

If the Englishman wins, Parnassus would guarantee $200,000 for a rematch on the West Coast with the winner taking on Torres.

Gen. Gard Gets DSM In Ceremony

SAN ANTONIO (AP) —Maj. Gen. Robert G. Gard, who is retiring from the Army Nov. 30 after 41 years, received the Distinguished Service Medal today in a formal ceremony in the 4th Army quadrangle here.

Gard was VIII U.S. Army Corps (Reserve) commander, with headquarters in Austin for two years prior to coming here in Sept. as special assistant to Lieut. Gen. Edward Williams, 4th Army commander.

Born in Frankfort, Ind., Nov. 17, 1899, Gard has called Texas his home since 1901 when his family moved to Houston. He will reside in San Antonio.

Holder of the Silver Star among other decorations and awards, Gard was graduated in 1918 from West Point.

After World War II he was named to the military tribunal which conducted the Japanese war criminal trials.

At the U.S. Military Academy he was an instructor in English for four years, assistant professor of history, and treasurer of the institution.

Gard was an instructor in the Field Artillery School at Ft. Sill, Okla., from 1939 until 1943. He was a combat observer with the British 8th Army in the Middle East between September and December of 1942.

He assumed command of the 96th Division artillery in May, 1944, and participated with it in the Leyte and Okinawa campaigns.

When he returned to the United States from the Far East in 1957, Meade, Md., and after his final assignment at West Point in 1949, he became artillery commander for the newly activated VII Corps in Germany.

He was deputy commander of 3rd Army at Ft. McPherson, Ga., after his return to the United States.

In 1956, Gard was assigned as senior member, United Nations Command component of the Military Assistance Advisory Group in Korea.

Among his other decorations are in the Legion of Merit and the Philippine Liberation Ribbon with two Battle stars.

Lanza's Estate Is Valued At $22,000

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Mario Lanza left a California estate of $22,000, mostly made up of income tax refunds.

The figures were given by David H. Martin, of Business Administration Corp., who obtained appointment Monday as special administrator of the California part of the late singer's estate.

Lanza's estate will be probated in Rome, where he was a resident, Martin said.

He said money was needed here now to pay funeral expenses and support the family.

Record Crop Of Turkeys On Market

By The Associated Press

A record turkey crop is in the markets for Thanksgiving Day feasts. Prices average a little lower than last year.

The trimmings, traditional vegetables and fruits, are in good supply but some are quite expensive.

The 1959 turkey crop is estimated at 82 million birds with most of them to be consumed at Thanksgiving and Christmas. This is up three millions from last year. Most of the increase is in the small, family-size bird.

One of the biggest food chains quotes turkeys weighing under 14 pounds at two cents lower than last year and bigger birds at the same price as a year ago.

With virtually all attention centered on turkeys, prices of favorite cuts of beef and lamb remained unchanged from last week.

Sweet potatoes made a timely appearance on the list of best vegetable buys. Other items in the good-price range are Eastern potatoes and onions, spinach, butternut and acorn squash.

Good buys are Idaho potatoes, carrots, corn, cauliflower, broccoli, collards, mustard; yellow and green squash of the soft type, brussels sprouts and mushrooms.

Housewives will have to pay pretty dearly for snap beans, cucumbers, good quality lettuce, cabbage, celery, tomatoes, peppers, strawberries and Spanish melons.

Best buys among fruits are Eastern apples, Florida oranges, grapefruit and avocados and California valencia oranges.

HOSPITAL FUND FOR BOYS RANCH STARTED

Contributions are being sought here to aid the West Texas Boys Ranch in caring for six boys who were burned in an accident Sunday.

A seventh boy at the ranch, Dewey Ray Hearn, was killed in the accident, which occurred when the boys lifted an aluminum pipe while trying to eject a rabbit. The pipe came in contact with a power line.

Reports reaching here late Monday were that the six injured boys would be hospitalized for some time, and funds are being sought to defray expenses of their hospital care.

L. L. (Pat) Moore, Scurry County's representative on the West Texas Boys Ranch advisory board, will accept the contributions, or they may be mailed directly to the West Texas Boys Ranch, San Angelo, Texas. Checks should be made payable to the West Texas Boys Ranch Hospital Fund, Moore said.

The six injured boys are Elbert Burkhaulter, 14, of Odessa; Wayne Donohue, 15, of Midland; Charles Willis, 14, of Monahans; Larry Puett, 13, of San Angelo; Rudy Chavira, 16, of Marfa, and George Billings, 16, of Marfa.

The West Texas Boys Ranch serves as a haven for homeless and neglected boys from a wide area of West Texas. At present there are seven Scurry County boys living at the ranch.

Daily Crude Flow Rises

TULSA (AP) — Daily average domestic oil production increased 64,650 to 6,966,290 barrels during the week ended Nov. 21, the Oil and Gas Journal said today.

Oklahoma rose 26,400 barrels to 550,100. Texas was unchanged at 2,523,200.

The Journal said production is at its highest level since June, when output averaged 7,015,115 barrels daily. The magazine estimated 1959 production at 2,286,919,430 barrels compared to 2,164,351,780 a year ago.

Increases were reported for Arkansas, up 5,180 to 57,800; Louisiana, 1,530 to 1,039,530; and Colorado, 100 to 128,000. Production was unchanged in New Mexico at 294,150.

Two Negroes Suspended From Play

BALTIMORE (AP) — Baltimore recreation officials have suspended two Negro teen-agers from city-sponsored football play as the result of a fight which erupted during a game between white and Negro teams Sunday.

The Baltimore Bureau of Recreation also dropped Easterwood Park, scene of the near riot, from its list of amateur football fields.

The action was taken Monday night after a two-hour hearing on the ruckus involving both teams, their coaches, the officials and a predominantly Negro crowd estimated at between 700 and 1,500.

Six of the white players, their coach and a referee were treated at hospitals for minor injuries. Testimony at the hearing indicated four of the players had been hurt in game action preceding the fight.

The game was hard fought, and officials announced in the second quarter they would call the contest if there was another unnecessary roughness violation.

Elzie Street Jr., coach of the all-Negro Easterwood Bears, said trouble developed because the officials ruled too many times in favor of the white team representing St. Jerome's Roman Catholic church. He absolved his players from any responsibility.

"I wouldn't say it was racial bias," Street said. "I think it was favoritism toward a team that was undefeated and was about to be defeated."

He said the crowd's anger reached a climax when referee William E. Dey allowed a controversial St. Jerome touchdown that tied the score late in the game. A St. Jerome player, Norman Butz, 19, was tackled hard on an unsuccessful try for the extra point. The crowd poured on the field, and the melee was on.

Nickel was considered a comparatively rare metal until the latter part of the 19th Century, when extensive ore deposits were discovered on the island of New Caledonia in the South Pacific. The island remained the world's chief source of nickel until early this century, when Canadian production surpassed it.

Family Lost In Snow Is Back Safely

END, Ore. (AP) — A family of three reached safety Monday after being trapped in the snow without food for three days on a backwoods road.

Aside from exhaustion, however, the Rev. Laurence Loftus, 28, his wife and their baby son were pronounced in good condition after reaching this central Oregon town.

A search started for the family Sunday after the minister failed to turn up at his Methodist church at Sweet Home in western Oregon to conduct services.

The minister said he and his wife, Ruth, 27, and son James, 2, had set out for a picnic last Friday, gone across the Cascade Mountains, eaten lunch and then driven up a backwoods road where they got stuck in a snow drift.

During the nights they huddled in their small foreign car, with only the car heater and a blanket to keep them warm.

Once they tried to hike out on foot, but a wolf stalked them, the minister said, and they returned to the car.

He said he dug the car free Monday morning, and then drove to safety.

"Towards the end, most of our thoughts were prayers," he said.

Industrialist Files Suit For Divorce

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)— James H. Kindelberger, chairman of the board of North American Aviation Inc., has sued for divorce, and asked that his wife be barred from molesting him.

Kindelberger's complaint, filed Monday, said he has been in ill health and on occasions had been hospitalized because of "cruel and inhuman treatment" by his wife, Helen.

They were married Dec. 20, 1946, and separated last Sept. 18. There are no children.

Kindelberger, 64, asked to retain all community property. He also asked an order denying payment of any permanent alimony.

Rock 'n Roll Fan Stabbed In Dallas

DALLAS (AP) — A California youth was stabbed Monday night as he waited outside the Sportatorium with about 500 other rock 'n' roll fans.

The victim, Dardy Taylor, 22, of Santa Barbara, was taken to a hospital with a stab wound in the abdomen.

Police investigators said about 800 white and Negro youths were inside the Sportatorium listening to jazz musicians. About 500 more were waiting outside to enter for a second show, when the fight and stabbing erupted. There were no arrests.

Casinos Set Campaign To Hike Morals

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Nelson Eddy singing "Shortnin Bread" instead of Candy Barr stripping to the strains of "A Pretty Girl is like a Melody," and a nearly nude chorus line ordered back into costumes.

That's a result of an official campaign to improve the moral tone of gambling casinos in this desert resort.

Both steps were taken Monday at one hotel. Another is fighting the county commissioners' demand that it fire its headliner—female impersonator T. C. Jones.

The commissioners included Jones with Miss Barr and bare bosoms in what they termed unsuitable entertainment. Jones is appearing at the New Frontier.

Hotel show producer Bill Miller said: "How can I fire him? (Jones). What's he guilty of? He's a great entertainer and has appeared at a lot of the country's top houses."

Owner Beldon Katleman of the El Rancho Vegas originally had refused to fire Miss Barr after authorities pointed out that she is appealing a 15-year prison sentence in Texas for possession of narcotics.

Her appeal bond was vacated while she was dancing at the hotel and she was jailed until it was re-instated. She is an ex-girl friend of Mickey Cohen, onetime Los Angeles mobster, and there were rumors he had a part in her adventures with the bondsmen.

County commissioners held a meeting Monday to figure out a legal way to get the 23-year-old blonde fired.

They told both hotels to show cause why they shouldn't lose their gaming and liquor licenses because of what the commissioners termed objectionable floor shows. Gambling and liquor sale profits are main-stays of the hotel business here.

Shortly afterward Katleman announced that "as a gesture of goodwill" he was putting costumes on his showgirls and firing Miss Barr.

Miss Barr tersely told newsmen she was getting out of town. She didn't disclose her destination, but said "I just want to get together with my family."

Teacher Takes Class Funds

FLOWER GROVE (AP) — A high school English teacher in this West Texas town has been charged with theft of $707 which the senior class had collected for its class annual.

Charges of felony theft were filed against Robert L. Tipton, 42, former Texarkana, Tex., attorney and one-time assistant professor of law at the University of Oklahoma.

School Supt. T. J. O'Connell said that Tipton, as class sponsor, had custody of $660 in cash from the annual Halloween Carnival, $10 in class party funds, $12 from a baking contest and $25 from the class talent show.

Tipton joined the faculty last Aug. 31, O'Connell said. He was granted a weekend leave to visit his family in Taylor, Ark.

While authorities look for Tipton, O'Connell and members of the school board have dipped into their own pockets to replace the $707.

Probe Of Slaying In Japan Dropped

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Police are dropping their investigation of the reported slaying of a Japanese girl three years ago. No evidence has yet been produced, here or in Japan.

Former U.S. Airman John R. Moller, 25, of Dallas, has insisted for two weeks that he fatally knifed his Japanese girl friend Sept. 18, 1956, in her home.

Moller will be tried on a traffic violation charge and a charge of carrying a concealed weapon, police said. He was being questioned about the weapon when he confessed the killing and said he wanted to clear his conscience.

Theft Of Airplane Remains A Mystery

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—It was still a mystery today who stole an airplane at Orlando Municipal Airport, flew into a foggy sky and hasn't been reported since.

The single engine Cessna 172 had about four hours of gasoline when the unidentified person flew off with it Monday. It belongs to Orlando Aviation Service.

After taking off, despite frantic warnings from the control tower, the pilot radioed he was headed for Jacksonville and gave a false plane identification number.

Planes of the Civil Air Patrol and Sanford Naval Air Station were unable to find a trace of the cream and gold colored plane.

UPROAR AT CUBAN LABOR MEETING—The session of the Cuban National Labor Congress in Havana erupts in disorder as delegates mill about the floor in protest against delay in election of an executive committee. The congress quit the anti-Communist Inter-American Regional Organization of Workers and set out to establish a confederation of Latin American workers. (AP Wirephoto)

Pope John XXIII Nears Birthday

By FRANK BRUTTO

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII will be 78 years old Wednesday.

There will be no special ceremonies, but the yellow and white banners of this 108-acre state will fly in honor of its absolute monarch, the sharecropper's son who became the spiritaul ruler of the Roman Catholic Church and its 500 million members little more than a year ago.

That year, the Pope himself recently said, "went like a day." But during that year he created 23 new cardinals. He announced a great ecumenical council to be held in about three years, aimed among other objectives at Christian unity of the world. He maintained the tempo of many audiences established by his predecessor, the late Pius XII.

Immediately ahead of him, in December, is a private but historic meeting with President Eisenhower. Only once before has a Pope given audience to a President of the United States. In 1919 Pope Benedict XV received Woodrow Wilson.

Also in December, Pope John has consistories to create eight more cardinals, including two from the United States. They are Archbishop Aloisius J. Muench of Fargo, N.D., and Archbishop Albert G. Meyer of Chicago. Once again, Pope John sets a record by bringing the College of Cardinals' membership to 79, highest in history.

The Pope will begin the day Wednesday by celebrating his daily Mass in his little private chapel. He may ask a few close associates to attend.

Aside from that, the Pope is expected to follow his usual work routine. There may be an audience for homefolk from his little native town of Sotto il Monte (Under the Mountain), in northern Italy.

The Pope received such a group a year ago and drew to a parallel between the name of his birthplace, Sotto il Monte, and the teachings of Christ. Like the name of that little village at the foot of the Italian Alps, the Pope said, the teachings of Christ invite one to look up to Mt. Sinai, the mountain of divine law.

More Testify In Ship Fire Hearing

HOUSTON (AP)—More witnesses told a Coast Guard inquiry Monday gasoline was evident on the waters of the Houston Ship Channel hours before the tanker Amoco Virginia caught fire Nov. 8.

The captain of the tug Pan VI, Leon Hodges, 56, told the panel "There was concentrated gasoline between barges 40 and 46" alongside the ship.

He said he trained his flashlight on the water after smelling gasoline about two hours before the fire broke out. He said he did not notice any leakage upon arriving at the site earlier in the day.

Eight persons died and 25 were injured as a result of the fire and explosions.

Two Girls Injured In Fisher Fire Die

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Two young girls died Monday of burns received when a fire destroyed a farm home near Roby in West Texas last week.

The girls were Eusebio Lugo, 9, and her cousin, Lupe Estrata, 14. Consuelo Lugo, 19, sister of one of the victims, was in critical condition at Brook Army Hospital.

Christmas Club Funds Are Mailed

Approximately 150 persons in Snyder area have received their shares of between $14,000 and $15,000 in Christmas Club funds.

Each of the two banks here operates a Christmas Club, which enables area residents to begin a special savings fund a year ahead for Christmas shopping, year-end bills, or any of the multiple uses most people have for money at this season of the year.

Enrollment for the next Christmas Club year starts this week at the Snyder National Bank, and the West Texas State Bank will launch its new season Dec. 30.

The checks, averaging close to $100 each, already have gone out in the mails to Christmas Club members of the past year.

The Christmas Club enables participants to save a selected amount each week. When a weekly deposit is made, the depositer's coupon book is clipped and stamped to show the amount on deposit. Participants may save from 50 cents per week to $10 per week over a period of 50 weeks.

Nationally, the total accumulation in Christmas Clubs during the past year amounted to $1,405,000,00 with some 8,000 banks and savings institutions serving $3,000,000 club members.

Christmas Club research shows 30 per cent of the funds will be used for purchasing Christmas gifts, 51 per cent for savings and investment, 10 per cent for taxes, seven per cent for year-end bills, and two per cent for miscellaneous purposes.

The year 1959 marks the eighth successive year that Christmas Club disbursements in the nation have exceeded a billion dollars. The 1959 total was about three per cent larger than in 1958.

Pair Die In House Blast

DETROIT (AP)—A fireman and a 12-year-old boy were killed and 11 firemen were injured today when a two-story frame house burst apart in an explosion.

The blast knocked more than a score of policemen and firemen to the ground.

Killed were fireman Bruno J. Koulich, 39, and Eugene Pitszak, who lived in a first-floor apartment. Two firemen were reported in serious condition.

The explosion originated in a coal furnace where Irene Pietszak mother of the dead boy, started a fire. Mrs. Pietszak called firemen when smoke billowed through the house.

Firemen donned gas masks and were entering the house when the explosion occurred.

One policeman said he was knocked down by a fireman who was hurled through the air.
