City Commissioners Order "Cleanup" Of Vice Area

By H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche Staff Writer

STARTLING eye-witness stories of drunken street revels and apparent back-alley vice orgies in the vicinity of Fifteenth street and Avenue C, as recounted by a self-appointed committee of indignant housewives, brought swift action by the city commission at its semi-monthly meeting at City hall late Thursday.

With commissioners themselves adding personal observations of conditions in corroboration of the protesting group, the commisison unanimously directed that police be ordered to take immediate steps for a "cleanup" of the area. Specifically, the commissioners instructed Police Chief H. L. (Bud) Johnston to assign police to a beat in the area which heretofore has been patroled by a man working under a special commission.

May Try Something Else

"If that does not clean up conditions, we will try something else," was the terse comment of Mayor Ross Edwards as the instructions were given.

The wholly unexpected appearance of the committee of wives and mothers to make their protest completely overshadowed a volume of other business which gave rank to the meeting as one of the most important held by a city commission in Lubbock for months, if not in years.

The session lasted four hours almost to the minute, and as testimonial to the fact that there was little waste motion the records of the meeting show:

Approve Parking Meters

Approval of what amounts to an "enabling" resolution which will mean the return of parking meters to Lubbock within the next very few days unless the unexpected happens.

Adoption of two measures described as probably more important to the maintenance and development of the city park system than any action taken in years.

Adoption of resolutions clearing the way for the paving within the next few months of downtown alleys now unpaved.

To Limit Ambulance Speeds

Approval as an emergency of an ordinance to limit the speed of ambulances answering emergency calls in the city to 40 miles per hour.

Authorization to the mayor to borrow $10,000 under 60-day warrants for pressingly needed sanitation improvements and giving to him wide latitude in seeking the loan most advantageous to the city.

Instructions to the city manager to arrange for the immediate draining of what is known as Avenue Q lake south of Nineteenth street as something of an experimental undertaking aimed at sanitation, mosquito control, landscaping and the like.

Other Matters Considered

Disposition of a mass of routine matters, some of them of importance dwarfed by other considerations before the commission during the afternoon.

Participating in a commission session which gave promise of becoming a standard in the future for accomplishments were Mayor Edwards, Commissioners W. G. McMillan, W. B. Price, J. A. Fortenberry and A. J. Richardson; City Attorney Durwood H. Bradley; City Manager W. H. Rodgers; and City Secretary Lavenia Williams.

Comprising the group of women and mothers who demanded that something be done about what some of them termed a "Hell's Half Acre" were Mrs. Harry Hollyfield, 1501 Avenue D; Mrs. L. Stokes, 1506 Avenue C; Mrs. Nuel Walton, 409 Fifteenth street; Mrs. W. J. Bell, Avenue D; and Mrs. J. T. Roper, 509 Fifteenth street.

Had No Advance Notice

Members of the commission had no advance notice of their intent to appear, but Mrs. Hollyfield allowed little time to elapse after the commission convened before letting their presence be known. Even before the formality of reading the minutes of the last meeting had been completed she took position beside the commission table.

"Who is the head man of this meeting?" she asked in a determined though not demanding tone.

At that instant Miss Williams completed the reading of the minutes

Allred Swings Veto Axe; To Kill Soil Bill

One More Day Left In Which Allred Can Act On Measures Passed In Recent Session

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, June 10. — Governor James V. Allred chopped down three more bills with his veto axe today, and house members interested in the proposal establishing a statewide soil conservation plan said he told them he would add that to the disapproved list.

The chief executive had only one more day in which to act on bills passed at the regular session. Aside from soil conservation, the most important ones still before him were those restricting dental advertising and appropriating money for support of state departments during the next biennium.

Because Of Tax Diversion

House members active in the soil conservation controversy quoted the governor as saying he would veto the bill because the federal government might not cooperate under the legislature's plan and because of the proposed diversion for soil conservation of six cents of the 35-cent ad valorem tax for general revenue purposes.

The three latest bills placed on the veto list would have remitted taxes to eight East Texas counties in which national forests have been established, amended the penitentiary land leasing statute and exempted county mutual insurance companies from the tax for support of the state firemen's pension plan.

Signs More Bills

The governor signed considerably more bills than he vetoed. Among them were one increasing salaries of Bexar county officials and another halting the confinement in the boys' reformatory at Gatesville of neglected children who commit no crime.

Still others would provide for the licensing of architects, require universal hunting and fishing licenses in some 20 counties in the Hill country and Southwest Texas and provide that birth certificates would not contain whether or not a child

Two Nations To Return Ships To Patrol

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, June 10.—Germany and Italy are expected to return next week to the 27-nation non-intervention committee and to its patrol of warships seeking to prevent foreign armament shipments to Spain.

Informed British opinion contended tonight that the two nations with Britain and France will have agreed by that time on measures to protect the patrol ships.

Withdrew After Attack

Germany and Italy had made such guarantees for safety the basis of their return to the committee. They withdrew May 31 in protest against Spanish government attack on their ships.

Both nations retained their force in Spanish waters, however, with self-designated freedom to act individually for their own protection. German warships shelled Spanish Almeria to avenge bombing of the Nazi pocket battleship Duetschland. Italian warships were instructed to prevent any shipment of arms or supplies to the Madrid-Valencia government by Russia.

Russian Request Refused

The agreement bringing Italy and Germany back into the nautrality fold will be strictly a four-power question, it was made clear here with refusal of a Russian request that the safety guarantees be discussed by the full committee.

Great Britain indicated her belief additional conferees would result only in further friction.

Present plans are for completion of a four-power understanding this week end, assent to its conditions by both government and insurgent Spain, and then a full session of the committee.

Russia Has No Voice

Both Italy and Germany would participate in the full session as before their withdrawal. Thus in effect the two authoritarian states would return to the fold with Russia having no voice in framing the conditions for that return.

Russia could raise objections at the full session, but it would be after Germany and Italy had returned to participation in the discussion.

British Foreign Secretary Eden saw the French, German and Italian ambassadors separately today and arranged to confer with all together on Friday.

Soviet Ambassador Ivan M. Maisky vainly sought full committee discussion today. Captain Euan Wallace, British vice-chairman of the group, reminded that the four-power discussion was decided upon at a subcommittee meeting ten days ago, a meeting which Russia attended.

Another Span Made On World Flight

GAO, French West Africa, June 10 (AP)—Blond Amelia Earhart dropped her light monoplane down to a perfect landing at this African outpost along the Niger river today to complete another span on her leisurely flight around the world.

She had flown 1,140 miles from Dakar, French Senegal, skirting Timbuctu.

Her plane swept onto the landing field at 9:50 a. m. eastern standard time, seven hours and 55 minutes after the Dakar takeoff.

With her navigator, Captain Fred Noonan, who announced they would take off tomorrow for Khartoum in the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan— 2,200 miles across African desert and jungle.

She took off from Miami June 1. Her route thus far has taken her to San Juan, Puerto Rico; Caripito, Venezuela; Paramaribo, Dutch Guinea; Fortaleza, Brazil; Natal, Brazil, and from there across the south Atlantic to Dakar.

Her route from Khartoum is across the Red sea and Arabia to Aden, on the Persian gulf; thence to India, Australia and across the Pacific to California.

Tarrant County Negro Granted 28-Day Stay Of Execution

AUSTIN, June 10. (AP)—Letters from two "prominent" persons won a 28-day stay of execution in the electric chair for Earnest McCarty, Tarrant county negro, sentenced to die tonight for criminal assault upon a white woman.

Governor James V. Allred reset the execution for July 9 after the board of pardons and paroles recommended clemency in order to further study the case.

The governor said the letters came from a "prominent city official and a prominent former member of the judiciary."

Construction Of One Airship Is Proposed

WASHINGTON, June 10. (AP)—Representative Lyle Boren of Seminole, Okla., a member of a house subcommittee considering a proposal for construction of American lighter-than-air craft, said tonight he believed that at present only one airship, which would use helium, should be constructed.

This craft, he said, should be used for commercial work and experimental purposes.

Dallas Youth Is Released In Shooting; No-Billed In Case

DALLAS, June 10. (AP)—Herman Mattox, 21, charged with fatally shooting Marvin Clevinger, 24-year-old grocery clerk, last week, was released from the Dallas county jail today on instructions from the grand jury. Assistant District Attorney Frank Ivey said the jury had decided to no-bill Mattox on the ground he fired in self-defense.

Clevinger was shot shortly after he and Mattox met by appointment to settle differences involving Mattox' attentions to his estranged wife.

Deportation Of Criminal Aliens Provided For In House Bill

WASHINGTON, June 10. (AP) — The house passed and sent to the senate today a bill to make mandatory the prompt deportation of criminal aliens.

Police Smash Through Picket Line

Michigan Plant Is Scene Of Disturbance

First Successful Move Chalked Up By Republic To Reopen Mill; Conferences Slated

(By The Associated Press)

POLICE smashed through a band of steel pickets Thursday at Monroe, Mich., to open a path for 800 non-strikers to return to work in the Newton Steel Co. plant.

The encounter was brief and beclouded by gas. It came after two hours of futile negotiations between Governor Frank Murphy and leaders of the Committee for Industrial Organization strikers and the police, headed by Chief Jesse Fisher of Monroe.

INDUSTRIAL HOLIDAY DECLARED

PONTIAC, Mich., June 10. (AP)—The executive committee of local 169, United Automobile Workers of America, announced a city-wide industrial holiday in Pontiac tonight. The purpose was said to be a mass demonstration in Monroe, Mich., in sympathy with striking Newton Steel company employes whose picket line was broken up when the plant reopened this evening.

The Pontiac Fisher body plant was the first to close down. A union leader said the strike was effective there at 10:45 p. m. The Yellow Truck and Coach company, another General Motors affiliate, suspended operations at midnight. Union leaders said employes of the Pontiac Motor Car corporation would walk out at 3 a. m.

In all, they estimated, between 15,000 and 20,000 unionists would be available for a march, by motor caravan, to Monroe.

three large strike-affected producers, to reopen a mill.

Resumption of work was set for 4 p. m. but for two hours the 200 special police and 120 pickets, including 20 women, faced one another while governor Murphy pleaded for a delay of the crisis. Then the police line, followed by 800 workers in automobiles, charged.

Pickets hurled missiles and swung clubs, but yielded quickly before the gas, and the workers passed down the road to the plant, which employs about 1,300 men. It was closed by strike May 28.

SWOC Scores Big Victory

(By The Associated Press)

PITTSBURGH, June 10. — The Steel Workers Organizing Committee won its most impressive collective bargaining election victory tonight, a 90 per cent margin of all votes cast in the two nearby plants of the Pittsburgh Steel corporation.

The total vote for the John L. Lewis union, on the question of whether the men wanted it to represent them in negotiations with the company, was 5,287 "yes" and 645 "no."

In the plant at Monessen, 3,536 workers voted "yes" and 490 voted "no." At the Allenport mill, 1,751 voted "yes" and 155 "no."

Union leaders had predicted an overwhelming margin of victory, but the vote was the greatest show of strength yet displayed by the union that started its drive a year ago and now claims more than 500,000 of the nation's 570,000 steel workers for its members.

Ernest C. Dunbar, acting regional director of the National Labor Relations board, which supervised the election, announced the result.

Two West Texas Men Killed In Collision

SAN ANGELO, June 10. (AP)—Logan Mims, 56, prominent Sterling City ranchman, and Ray Wilcox, 65, Big Spring, were fatally injured this afternoon in a head-on collision near Broome. The two men died in a hospital here tonight.

Mrs. Logan Mims was brought to a hospital and remained unconscious tonight. She is suffering a brain injury, several fractured ribs, a serious spine injury and a crushed left leg.

P. C. Leatherwood, Big Spring, was reported resting fairly well. He suffered a fractured right ankle, left jaw, a cut over the left eye and minor bruises.

Jack Mims, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mims, was not seriously injured but remained in a hospital here for observation.

The accident occurred in front of a service station near Broome when one car started to pull into the highway. The machines hit head-on.

New Directions In Kidnaping Sought

(By The Associated Press)

STONY BROOK, N. Y., June 10.—Abandoning efforts to comply with instructions in a $25,000 ransom note found after the mysterious disappearance of his wife, Mrs. Alice McDonell Parsons, 38, socially prominent Long Island heiress, her husband waited in his home tonight for new directions for obtaining his wife's release.

The crudely printed ransom demand which emerged as the principal clue to Mrs. Parson's whereabouts instructed the husband, William H. Parsons, to keep a rendezvous at a Jamaica bus terminal — but he failed to do so because of crowds gathered at the terminal.

After police and federal agents cleared the road to the estate where Parsons had lived, he announced his willingness to comply with any demands of the supposed kidnapers, and asked for new instructions.

His movements were shielded by a half hundred state, county and federal investigators who set up emergency headquarters on his secluded 11-acre farm, situated in the "Gold Coast" region of Long Island's north shore. They had begun to converge on the scene before the ransom note was found tucked away in the upholstery of the family car, parked outside the white Colonial house.

Two other possible clues, a blood-stained hatchet and an axe, were discarded when police toxicologists in New York City found the stains on the hatchet were caused by an animal's blood. No stains of any kind were found on the axe.

Seen Driving Wednesday

The possibility of murder was further discounted when Mrs. Leona Newton, a former postmistress, reported seeing Mrs. Parsons drive through the village yesterday about two hours after she left her home with an unidentified, middle-aged couple who ostensibly were interested in renting or buying some prop-

MAN AND WOMAN SOUGHT

STONY BROOK, N. Y., June 10. (AP) State troopers sent out an eight-state alarm late tonight for the arrest of a man and a woman for the kidnaping of Mrs. Alice McDonell Parsons, 38-year-old Long Island heiress, as her husband waited in their country home for some new word from the kidnapers.

"Wanted, man and a woman in black sedan, for the kidnaping of Mrs. Alice Parsons of Stony Brook, Long Island," said the teletype message which officially classed the socially prominent woman's disappearance as a kidnaping case.

Texas Gambling Receives Two More Blows

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, June 10—The sate senate, acting swiftly in the legislature's war to curb gambling in Texas, struck twice today, unanimously approving bills to outlaw bookmaking on all forms of racing and sports as well as betting on dog races.

After a bitter contest in the senate, the legislature last week repealed the law which four years ago legalized the certificate system of betting on horse racing, having been called into special session for that primary purpose.

Enforcement Was Difficult

Texas laws long have prohibited book-making but prosecutors have complained they contained so many loopholes enforcement was difficult or impossible. There have been charges, too, that in some cases local officers made little or no effort at enforcement.

The book-making bill passed by the senate, 26 to 0, made it unlawful to take or place for another a bet on a horse, dog, automobile, motorcycle or other race, or on any athletic contest or sports event. Penalty was fixed at from one to five years imprisonment, in jail or the penitentiary, and from $100 to $1,000 fine.

Violation A Felony

It was made a felony for the owner or agent of property knowingly to permit its use in connection with bookmaking and it was further provided that properties so used could be closed for a year as public nuisances under injunctive proceedings.

Telephone, telegraph and radio companies were forbidden to serve bookmaking establishments and were absolved from damage suits if in good faith, believing their equipment was being used for book-making purposes, they discontinued service.

Notification Is Provided

Moreover, the bill provided that if the communication companies did not cut off service, after being notified by a grand jury, district attorney, county attorney, sheriff, chief of police or state Ranger that the equipment was used by bookies, such failure would be considered evidence of knowledge the law was being violated.

Conviction could be had upon the uncorroborated testimony of any accomplice, and it would not be necessary for the state to prove

JURY VOTES CONVICTION

SANTA CRUZ, Calif., June 10. (AP) A jury debated an hour and a half this afternoon and convicted Allan D. Boggs, 54-year-old wealthy former Michigan resident of wife-murder.

The jury failed to recommend life imprisonment and under the California law, this makes the death penalty mandatory.

Night Session Held In Trial

PLAINVIEW, June 10, (Special) —In a special night session of 64th district court which adjourned about 9 o'clock, the state presented three witnesses in its attempt to convict 19-year-old Lawrence Brady, charged by grand jury indictment with the murder of E. P. Hamner, aged filling station operator of near Plainview, Dec. 29, according to Charles H. Dean, district attorney.

Witnesses tonight were W. M. Starnes who was the first to find the murdered man the morning after the crime and who reported it to Plainview officers; Sheriff J. K. Hooper who affirmed a statement made to him by Brady; and W. B. Davenport, local insurance man who witnessed a statement made by Brady to Dean.

Might Plead Self Defense

Dean said in statement he confessed to the killing of Hamner and in one of them pleaded self defense. It was believed here he would use that as his plea. He is being represented by W. W. Kirk, Plainview attorney.

Jury for the trial was selected this afternoon from a special venire of 72 men. The night session was called by Judge C. D. Russell in order to speed the trial so that farmer jurymen and witnesses may return to work. They expressed to the court the urgency of their immediate return to cultivate crops.

It was not known what penalty would be asked in the trial.

Hamner was found dead on the morning of Dec. 30 at his station with his head crushed. It was believed a hatchet was used to kill him.

Gov. Bibb Graves Writes Plea For Clemency For Kennamer

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 10. (AP) —Fred Cunningham, pardon and parole attorney, revealed today that Governor Bibb Graves of Alabama has written Gov. E. W. Marland requesting clemency for Phil Kennamer, Tulsa society youth serving 25 years in McAlester penitentiary in the slaying of John Gorrell.

Graves wrote Marland that he was an old friend of a brother of Kennamer's father, federal Judge Franklin E. Kennamer of Tulsa. The brother also is a federal judge, in Alabama.

Marland declined to comment on the letter.

Soviet Officers Facing Charges In Conspiracy

(By The Associated Press)

MOSCOW, June 11. (Friday) — Seven of the highest officers of the Soviet army will go on trial for their lives today. A government announcement issued at 3 a. m. (7 p. m. Thursday, e. s. t.) said they were charged with treason.

Heading the list of accused was Marshall Michail Nikolaevitch Tukhachevsky, vice-commissar of war until just a month ago. Among the others were men who only a short time ago stood near the very top of the Soviet defense system.

May Face Firing Squad

They will go to trial behind closed doors. Conviction will mean they will be sent almost immediately before a firing squad without the right of appeal.

The trial will be held according to an emergency decree issued in December, 1934, immediately after the assassination of Sergei Mironich Kiroff, chief aide to Joseph Stalin, in Leningrad. This provides for summary action against enemies of the regime.

All Plead Guilty

A communique said all the accused had pleaded "fully guilty." This was considered to make it certain they faced early execution.

One of the officers, Gen. Kazimirovitch V. Putna, former military attache in London, was arrested last August, but the others were imprisoned only within the last few days.

Some held important commands until Wednesday, when they were displaced in sweeping changes in the red army's highest posts.

They are accused of treason to the fatherland, the people and the army, violation of their oaths of allegiance to the army and traitorous relations with an unnamed foreign government.

It was generally believed this last referred to Germany or Japan.

Direct Federal Outlays OK'd By Committee

United States C. Of C. Favors Private Financing With Loans Guaranteed By Government

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 10. — A committee of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States came out for private financing f farm tenancy aid today shortly after the senate agriculture committee had approved direct federal outlays in this field.

The chamber committee recommended that loans to help tenants acquire farms be made by local financial institutions, with the government guaranteeing a liberal percentage of the advances.

Similar To Home Loan Plan

Chamber officials said the proposed federal guarantee would be similar to the present government insurance on home mortgages.

Earlier in the day, the senate riculture committee sent to the senate floor a bill for federal financing of tenant farm purchases along lines agreeable to President Roosevelt.

Under this measure, a proposed farmer's home corporation would receive a $10,000,000 appropriation for the fiscal year beginning July 1, $25,000,000 in the following year and $50,000,000 annually thereafter.

Would Retain Title

The corporation would retain title to farms sold tenants until full payment had been made.

A different tenancy bill is pending in the house. It would appropriate $50,000,000 annually for five years for long-term loans to selected tenants. Tenant purchasers would obtain title to their farms at once, subject only to mortgages held by the government.

In its report, the chamber committee said "farm tenancy as an institution is probably only less old than the establishment of property rights in lands as it is an offshot of these property rights."

Loan System Recommended

The committee said the chamber approves efforts to improve the conditions of tenants "in principle." It recommended a loan system" whereby the federal government would guarantee a liberal percentage of the loans to be made by local institutions."

Chamber officials said the local institutions referred to by the committee were banks and similar private financial institutions.

Probe Of Jobless, Relief Work Voted

WASHINGTON, June 10. (AP) — The senate authorized today creation of a special committee to investigate unemployment and relief policies and to formulate permanent programs for handling them.

Without a record vote, the senate approved a recommendation of its audit committee to appropriate $10,000 for the purpose. The inquiry will be made by a special committee of five.

The committee would be directed to obtain all facts possible related to the problems to aid congress in enacting corrective legislation.

SUN TAN IS PASSE

THE LATEST news about hot weather makeup indicates that it will not be smart to let your skin become a dark mahogany shade this summer. Several experts are urging women to strive for a lovely golden suntan, then to wear dark but creamy powder over it. Grey Downs of Temple, who is to be Miss Texas at Billy Rose's Frontier festival in Fort Worth this summer, has such a complexion. She claims her copper-hued skin is a birth right from Indian ancestors.

It is a mistake indeed for any girl to expose her face, arms, back and throat to hours and hours of sunshine day after day all summer long. At the beginning of the season, one should take sunshine in small doses until the complexion is slightly brown and from then on, wear beach hat and robe except when actually in the water. Otherwise, long before September, sensitive skin is likely to be dry and leathery looking.

Along with the new sun beige types of powder, there are brilliant yet dark rouge and lipstick to wear when your skin is a little darker. Inspired by the interest in our relations with Latin American countries, these are appropriately labeled with a Mexican name. In a season of gaucho sombreros, matador toques, bright embroidery and flamboyant colors, the new rich red lipstick is perfect. Anyway, for suntanned skins, vivid dark red lipsticks probably will be smarter than orange shades.

ON QUICK ANSWERS

PSYCHOLOGISTS probably can explain the panic which seizes persons who are asked to perform some unexpected task or answer an impromptu question. If a stranger suddenly turned around and asked you what your name is you'd probably think in fright my gracious, what is my name. T. C. Root, assistant professor of economics and business administration at Tech college, has several questions that are simple enough when the answers are given but which appear difficult when you try to solve them.

For instance, he asks, what two numbers multiplied together will make 41. You think a minute and you naturally arrive at the conclusion there can't be two numbers since 41 is an uneven number. Then when he answers that 41 multiplied by 1 will give the answer you feel silly. Or when you are asked to write eleven thousand, eleven hundred and eleven you attempt to write it all in one line of numbers and of course you should write it in three groups of figures.

CLUB MEETS ALL DAY

COOPER, June 10. (Special) — Laverne Allen, poultry demonstrator, was hostess for an all-day meeting of the Cooper Girls' 4-H club recently. During the morning, Mrs. A. B. Allen, sponsor, demonstrated preparation of chicken dishes. In the afternoon canning of boned and ground chicken was demonstrated by the assistant county agent, Miss Gladys Sanders.

The agent said that because of the temperature involved older birds are preferable for canning. The meat is firmer, the broth more concentrated and the flavor is more characteristic, as compared with qualities of young birds.

Eight members and Mesdames J. H. Hardberger, E. A. Abney, J. Burleson and M. L. Kittrell were present.

CARLISLE GIRLS MEET

CARLISLE, June 10. (Special)—Eleven members of the Carlisle Girls' 4-H club attended an all-day meeting in the home of the sponsor, Mrs. A. D. Haney, Wednesday. Mrs. Kenneth Lofland was a guest.

Each member brought a picnic lunch which was served with chicken dishes prepared by the sponsor during the morning session. In the afternoon, Miss Gladys Sanders, assistant county home demonstration agent, demonstrated canning of boned and ground chicken. Punch and cookies were served before adjournment.

Miss Louise Fortenberry, Bride-Elect, Is Complimented

Shower Given On Thursday

A miscellaneous shower honoring Miss Louise Fortenberry, who Sunday will become the bride of Ray Farmer, was given at 5:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon by Misses Ernesteen Lockhart, Mary Katherine Rice and Pauline Stafford in the home of Miss Lockhart 1611 Broadway.

The house was decorated profusely with summer flowers, pink and orchid being the predominating colors.

At the end of a series of miscellaneous games, the honoree was asked to follow a string which took her through several rooms. At intervals she found small packages and at the end of the string she found the remainder of the gifts.

Three Strikes Are In Progress At Houston; Hotel Is Hit

HOUSTON, June 10. (AP) — Three strikes were in progress in Houston today.

The nearly two-month old strike of union auto mechanics remained unchanged.

Pickets for the truck drivers union returned to posts in front of the Stowers Furniture company. A strike was called there two weeks ago but was settled by the start of negotiations. Claiming negotiations had failed, the union called another strike.

The latest strike was that of the culinary union at the Rice hotel. Waitresses and some other employes of the hotel walked out after demanding a 10 per cent pay hike and a closed house.

SERVICES ARE HELD

SONORA, June 10. (AP)—Funeral services were held today for Sidney T. Gilmore, father of Mayor W. C. Gilmore of Sonora. He came here in 1915 from Fort Worth.

Lubbock Traveling Men Invited To Join Abilene Association

Election of the Abilene unit of West Texas Traveling Men's association to invite Lubbock traveling men into the organization was announced in a letter from C. B. Hampton, general secretary of the Abilene organization.

Abilene was the "mother or the focal organization point of the group, which has no national body," said Hampton, but the spread has been fast.

He said a temporary chairman would be appointed for Lubbock and that a meeting would be conducted here within two or three weeks, at which time Lubbock could "decide whether to accept or reject affiliation."

He said approximately 100 bona fide traveling men live here.

Retired Rancher Is Claimed By Death On Wednesday

LOCKHART, June 10. (AP)—M. A. Withers, 90, retired rancher, and member of the Old Trail Drivers' association, died at his home west of here Wednesday. Survivors included his widow, three daughters, Mrs. Walter Lewellen of Plainview, Mrs. Holland Page of Austin and Miss Bertha Withers of Lockhart, three sons, A. W. Withers, San Antonio; Ham Withers, Stockdale and Marcus Withers, Lockhart. The funeral will be held Friday.

Farmer Pleads Guilty After Another Man Is Convicted

CLAREMORE, Okla., June 10. (AP) George Cobler, a farmer, pleaded guilty to first degree manslaughter today in the slaying of A. H. Rehbein, Catoosa farmer, a short time after Relbert Sappington, 18, tried for murder in the case, had been convicted of first degree manslaughter by a district court jury.

A murder charge against Cobler's wife was dismissed on motion of D. M. Battenfield, Rogers county attorney.

Trial proceeded in the case of the fourth defendant, Ray Jones, also charged with murder.

Judge N. B. Johnson set Monday for sentencing of Cobler and Sappington.

Supplementary Grant Is Made For School At Haskell

WASHINGTON, June 10. (AP) — Representative George Mahon of Colorado, Tex., said today the Public Works administration had made a $12,000 supplementary grant to complete a $95,000 high school at Haskell, Tex.

The grant raised to $48,000 federal participation in the project.

Contract Is Let For Ranch Home

(By The Associated Press)

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., June 10.—The New Mexico firm headed by Charles Lembke, mayor of Albuquerque, was awarded today the contract for construction of the $55,000 ranch home of Guy Waggoner, millionaire cattleman, oil operator and sportsman of Fort Worth, Texas.

The awarding of the contract by Townes and Funk, architects of Amarillo, Tex., and Albuquerque, was the first material indication Waggoner intends to transfer his business interests to New Mexico and Colorado, as friends were quoted as saying in Colorado Springs, Colo., several days ago.

To Start Work Monday

The pretentious home will be constructed on what Waggoner called his "little ranch" near Mosquero, N. M., in the northeastern section of that state.

Lembke said he was sending 25 men to the ranch to start work on the home Monday.

The friends quoted Waggoner as saying he was transferring his interests from Texas because of tax increases and the repeal of the horse racing bill in that state.

Waggoner owns a large interest in Arlington Downs race track in Texas and an imposing racing stable.

Amarillo Is Selected As Convention City

PORT ARTHUR, June 10. (AP) — Amarillo was selected as the next convention city and Lewis Haynes of San Marcos was elected president at today's session of the State Firemen's association.

Galveston, Harlingen, and Brownwood had also bid for the next convention.

The convention closed with passage of a resolution favoring reduced insurance rates.

Interstate Theaters Plan To Continue With Bank Nights

DALLAS, June 10. (AP)—Interstate Theaters will continue to offer bank night awards, pending further developments, it was announced today by John Moroney, attorney for the circuit. A decision by the court of criminal appeals holding that the awards are lotteries was considered "persuasive but not absolutely binding" by the theaters' legal department.

Operation of the plan in Bonham, where the case that went to the appellate court originated, differs somewhat from the plan here, attorneys said.

McDonald Cites Quality Decline

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, June 10.—The gradual decline of per-acre lint yield of cotton in Texas recently brought an expression of alarm from Commissioner J. E. McDonald of the state department of agriculture.

McDonald said reduction from 1870 to 1936 had reached "the staggering figure of 92 pounds per acre. "The decline from 1935 to 1936 was 13 pounds.

Extensive Drain On Growers

"This is but a slight reduction," McDonald said, "yet in dollars and cents it is an extensive drain upon the cotton growers. Thirteen pounds an acre means 30,000 bales lost last year. This amounts to more than $1,750,000."

The commissioner said the loss had been mounting yearly "to the tune of millions of dollars," which, he said, reduced the purchasing power of farmers and those engaged in related industries.

Soil Fertility Reduced

He traced part of the decline to reduction in soil fertility which he attributed to neglect of conservation and proper crop rotation.

"However, it is a fact that we have not given as much attention as we should have to the selection of planting seed," McDonald continued. "The cost of seed is but a fraction of the cost of production and we should select it with a view to high germination properties and better staple.

"The prestige of Texas cotton has been on the wane for years and staple values of Texas cotton have declined practically in line with the per acre lint yield."

Lubbock Receives First New Wheat

First car of 1937 wheat to be received here, came Thursday from Lamesa where it had been cut on the farm of F. N. Teague, a farmer living 18 miles southwest. Teague has a large wheat acreage this year and has grown wheat for many years. The grain tested No. 1.

Lee Billingsley, Lamesa grain buyer, bought the load and sold it to S. E. Cone. The car contained about 1,400 bushels that averaged 61.5 pounds and moisture percentage, as shown by the Lubbock Grain exchange test, was 15.3 per cent.

Arrival is earlier than former years, Cone explained. The high percentage of moisture is probably due to rains and is not above a normal percentage for wheat cut after rains.

Harvesting is expected to get under way in Dawson county soon. First cutting began early this week. The county has, it is generally believed, in excess of 40,000 acres. Yield is expected to be good and the grain buying market at Lamesa will be stimulated by good crop prospects.

According to Chinese tradition, use of cloth was evolved from the practice of women carrying their children in fiber nets.

You'll have more fun when the SKIN is clear from WITHIN

NO man or woman wants to have a finger poked at them or receive sympathy because of an unhealthy skin appearance.

Some skin troubles are tough to correct, but we do know this—skin tissues like the body itself must be fed from within.

To make the food we eat available for strength and energy, there must be an abundance of red-blood-cells.

S.S.S. Tonic builds these precious red cells. It is a simple, internal remedy, tested for generations and also proven by scientific research.

You, too, will want to take S.S.S. Tonic to regain and to maintain your red-blood-cells... to restore lost weight ...to regain energy...to strengthen nerves...and to give to your skin that natural health glow.

Take the S.S.S. Tonic treatment and shortly you should be delighted with the way you feel... and have your friends compliment you on the way you look. Available at any drug store.

FAT?

Lose 5 lbs. a week Safely or No Pay

If you are overweight and flabby, you can lose weight amazingly easy. There is no need to punish yourself with backbreaking exercise—no need to starve yourself and deny your body the foods you need for health.

REDUCE by this DRUGLESS method

Thousands of women are getting back to normal weight easily and quickly by using WATE-OFF, a harmless food compound (no salts, no dinitrophenol, no drugs, no harmful laxatives). WATE-OFF is composed of vegetable and herbal ingredients that neutralize the body acids—thus preventing accumulation of fat. The instructions say: Take WATE-OFF before meals, then eat your hearty fill. "Results," users say, "are simply amazing." A tablet taken 4 times a day will cause unsightly pounds to melt away like magic—leaving no saggy, flabby or broken-down tissue. You've seen WATE-OFF advertised in Pictorial Review, Physical Culture and other leading magazines at $2.45 per treatment. Here now is your opportunity to purchase this same full size treatment for only $1.19. Furthermore, if you are not satisfied with the results, you have the privilege of returning the empty carton and we will return your money.

Tennis Court Final Gift Of 1937 Class

A new regulation, championship size tennis court was constructed on the campus of Texas Technological college Wednesday and Thursday as a memorial to the 1937 graduating class.

The court will be ready for use in about 10 days, after a curing period during which the concrete must harden, W. G. McMillan was contractor. Fourteen men constructed the court, of a four-inch reinforced concrete slab.

A black integral coloring in the topping will reduce the glare of the natural concrete, McMillan said. It also will allow better visibility of white balls because of contrast.

Lines and boundaries will be painted on and backstops built by the college. These were not included in the contract for construction, it was pointed out. Cost of the concrete work was estimated at $900.

The court, running east and west, is situated north and a little west of Horn hall, and is built so that other courts may be constructed on either side. Its location will not interfere with location of another dormitory, in case one is built.

Morton Oil Company Agent Has New Plane For Making Trips

MORTON, June 10. (Special) — When J. R. Armstrong, local oil company agent, wishes to look over nearby oil fields, all he has to do is to jump into his new Taylor Cub monoplane and take to the air.

Armstrong recently purchased the new plane. He keeps it in Brownfield for the present.

The island of Singapore was ceded to the East India company in 1819 by the Sultan of Johore.

J. A. Gowdy To Be A Candidate For 64th District Post

OLTON, June 10. (Special)—If Charley Dean, Plainview, district attorney of the 64th district court, will be a candidate for reelection next time, J. A. (Hank) Gowdy, city attorney, will oppose him.

Gowdy announced his intentions recently. He is the first avowed aspirant for the post.

Charles H. Read Is Named To Head Insurance Exchange

Charles H. Read heads the Lubbock Insurance exchange, comprising the fire casualty agents of the city, for the coming year. He was named president at a meeting Wednesday noon in the McFarland-Maisen office.

Thord Dockray was named vice-president and Marion Sanford, secretary. Read and D. K. Bondurant reported on a state meeting at San Antonio last week.

Every two weeks, for the remainder of the summer, the exchange will meet for an informal luncheon. First will be a week from Saturday, at a place not yet selected.

Slight Decline In Expected Wheat Production Shown In Federal Forecast

District WPA Project Supervisor Leaves To Inspect Washout

W. E. Burke, district supervisor of WPA projects, left Lubbock Thursday for Paducah in Cottle county to make an inspection of a highway bridge washout.

Officials here were not informed immediately of the exact location of the washout, nor of the circumstances except that a railroad bridge was swept away and carried the highway structure with it. WPA officials here explained that several projects involving bridges in the county are in various stages of completion on both main and farm-market highways.

Stangel Is Named Show Director

W. L. Stangel, head of the animal husbandry department of Texas Technological college, has been appointed superintendent of the livestock show of the Greater Texas and Pan-American exposition in Dallas, said announcements by exposition officials.

Stangel served last year as superintendent of the livestock division of the Texas Centennial Central exposition in Dallas while on a leave of absence from Tech. He said Thursday he had made no decision as to acceptance of the appointment. The show will be held in October, during Tech's regular session.

Botanists say the longest that wheat grain can live is about seven years, disproving the statement that wheat grains found in the tombs of ancient Egypt have sprouted when planted.

Membership In Khiva Temple Is Increased By 93 Since January

Membership in the Khiva Temple has increased by 93 since Jan. 15 according to a report of the recorder, and J. S. Pittman, assistant recorder, who left for Amarillo Thursday with five additional memberships to report.

The Temple had 724 members on Jan. 15. Increase was attributed partially to vision and work of Rolla V. Cartwright, potentate, in the report of the recorder, N. H. Mohler of Amarillo. Cartwright began duties as potentate Jan. 15.

Lubbock, Borger, Pampa and Dalhart clubs are members of the Temple. The Lubbock club has worked harder and has shown greater potentialities than any other, Pittman said here Thursday. L. D. (Pup) Thomas, and R. H. Hester, nobles here, were given credit for their work.

The earth has an average of one earthquake every hour, or about 9000 a year.

Crop Condition Is Said Good

WASHINGTON, June 10. (AP) — The agriculture department estimated today that this year's winter wheat crop would be 649,000,000 bushels, based on the condition of the crop June 1.

A month ago 654,298,000 bushels were forecast, last year 519,013,000 were produced and the five-year—1928-32—average was 623,220,000.

Figures Are Revealed

Spring wheat, based on the condition of the crop June 1 and the indicated acre yield applied to the prospective acreage—20,918,000 acres—as shown in the March report on farmers' intentions to plant, suggests, according to the department, a 1937 production of about 175,000,000 to 200,000,000 bushels. Last year production was 107,448,000 bushels. The 1928-32 five-year average production was 241,312,000.

Winter wheat condition June 1 was 71.5 per cent of a normal, compared with 77.4 a month ago, 66.7 a year ago, and 73.9, the ten-year average, 1923-32.

Condition of all spring wheat June 1 was 68.7 per cent of a normal, compared with 66.9 a year ago, 85.2 in 1935, and 82.7, the ten-year average. This year's acreage will not be announced until next month.

Condition Of Others

The June 1 condition of other crops was:

Durum wheat, 77.4 per cent of a normal, compared with 60.8 a year ago, and 84.4 in 1935.

Other spring wheat, 67.4 per cent, compared with 69.9 a year ago, and 85.3 in 1935.

Oats, 82.3, compared with 74.5 a year ago, and 81.4 the 1923-32 ten-year average.

Barley, 79.7, compared with 75.3 a year ago, and 82.6 the ten year average.

The condition of winter wheat June 1 and indicated production, in some important producing states, follow:

New York, condition 86 per cent of a normal, and indicated production, 6,660,000 bushels; Missouri 85 and 43,624,000 Nebraska 71 and 42,620,000, Kansas 59 and 142,264,000, Oklahoma, 63 and 48,939,000, Texas, 56 and 39,330,000.

Untimely Death Of Jean Harlow To Focus More Attention On Platinum Tresses

Will the death of beauteous Jean Harlow be felt in the constantly changing trend of hair dressing?

Will dark tresses become platinum? And will more long, fluffy bobs be seen—like the bob popularized by Miss Harlow?

Increase Is Expected

Proprietors of Lubbock beauty shops confidently look forward to a decided increase in hair bleaching. They said they believed death of the glamour girl of the screen would give renewed impetus to the platinum fad—despite the fact Miss Harlow at death had hair more gloriously brown than exotically platinum.

At any rate, say those who prepare tresses, Miss Harlow was best remembered for the platinum sheen which stamped her earlier as a screen celebrity, and her untimely death likely will direct so much new attention to her more women will attempt to be like her.

Mrs. Jeanne Brewton of Jeanne's Beauty Service, said, "Jean Harlow was such a success in her screen roles that the last role she played—an untimely death—will cause people to idolize her memory to the extent that more girls want to be like her."

Looks For More Requests

Sybil Tarrant of the Campus Beauty shop, who agreed with Mrs. Brewton, will not be surprised to have more requests from girls to have their hair done like Jean Harlow's.

Those two answers are typical of the ones received when beauty shop operators were asked what effect Miss Harlow's death would have on their business. However, Mrs. Wade Hardy and Miss Edna Earle Chapman are among those who said they believed her death will have no immediate influence on hair styles. Miss Frances Geer says that although people will cherish her memory, Jean Harlow's place will be taken by another star.

Mrs. Cox, at the Lubbock Hotel Beauty shop, was emphatic in saying screen stars set hair styles, School girls, especially, bring pictures of the stars to the shops asking that their hair be set like them. The coronation and Wallis Warfield had their influence, but neither compared with the page-boy style introduced by Binnie Barnes. Paul of Hollywood, who created the page-boy style for Miss Barnes and who set Norma Shearer's hair for her role in "Romeo and Juliet," has been in Lubbock on three occasions to lecture at beauty schools.

"Down in front" is the newest wrinkle, according to beauty publications. Coiffures with curls low on the forehead or bangs seem inevitable, with off-the-face hats maintaining their popularity. New open-crown hats and bandeaux also have caused a new coiffure to be designed featuring a curving part and a circular wave which follows the round lines of the hat.

Total Of 411 Persons Receive Appointments As Notaries

Fifteen Lubbock county persons who had received appointments as notaries public Thursday afternoon filed bonds and paid required fees before the deadline last night to boost the total of those qualified to 411.

Approximately 150 who received appointments at the regular session of the Texas legislature failed to qualify, according to Ed D. Allen, county clerk, at whose office bonds were recorded.

Those appointed and who failed to qualify before last night will not be allowed to qualify unless they were out of the county or were ill, it was reported.

While deaths and removals from the county account for many of the failures to qualify for appointment, officials said that the majority had failed through intent or oversight.

A CLOROX-CLEAN HOME IS A SAFER PLACE TO LIVE IN!

CLOROX represents the modern advanced conception of home cleanliness. In bleaching, deodorizing, disinfecting and removing numerous stains Clorox is helping millions of women to attain the highest standards of household cleanliness by safe and easy methods.

If Clorox were used only for bleaching, or stain removing, or deodorizing, it would still command a rightful place in the homes of the nation. But in addition to these important services, Clorox brings to the home-cleansing jobs a gift of service that tops them all—a first aid in HOME-HEALTH PROTECTION. Clorox is outstanding among those disinfectants which scientists pronounce safest and best suited for household use. The Clorox-Clean home is a safer place to live in.

Clorox is made under strictest laboratory control . . . always uniform in quality, concentrated for economy. Familiarize yourself with the Clorox label; it is a guide to better, easier and safer housekeeping.

CLOROX-CLEAN means GREATER HOME HYGIENE — PURE · SAFE · DEPENDABLE

CLOROX BLEACHES · DEODORIZES · DISINFECTS · REMOVES NUMEROUS STAINS . . . Even Scorch, Mildew

Inspectors Will Be Spread Out

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, June 10. — State liquor inspectors will be spread over the state instead of concentrated at district headquarters when the remodeled liquor control becomes effective Sept. 1.

C. A. Paxton, chief enforcement officer, said the decentralization was planned as a "prevention measure."

"Instead of concentrating a group of men at district offices, from which a large area must be covered, individual inspectors will be located in comparatively small territories," he said.

To Have Man On Hand

"We have found that many violations, which otherwise would not occur, happen because enforcement officers are not in the immediate vicinity. If we have a man on hand at all times it will halt these violations, we feel sure."

Inspectors will be trained thoroughly in provisions of the new law which tighten generally the old control act.

To Reduce Personnel

The 17 district offices will not be abandoned but personnel will be reduced in each, Paxton said. The field force, including inspectors located in counties and at district offices, will comprise approximately 120 men. There will be one group of inspectors working independently of those regularly located and will move wherever needed, acting as a check-up in the field and assisting in investigations and prosecutions.

"With the new enforcement organization in effect we feel confident there will be closer and more successful cooperation with local enforcement agencies and we look for many of our problems to be solved," Paxton said.

In 1832, when leech farming was a profitable industry, 57,500,000 leeches were imported into France.

Invitations To School Mailed

Invitations to attend the three weeks' "water school" to be held here June 14 to July 2 yesterday were mailed by the chamber of commerce to mayors, water superintendents and other officials of all surrounding towns.

The water works and sanitation conference classes, to be held by the vocational division of the State Department of Education through the public schools and in cooperation with the State Department of Health and the City of Lubbock, will meet on Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights of each of the three weeks. There will be no charge.

In charge of arrangements are J. N. Hinyard and J. C. Oliver, representatives of the State Sanitation department. Hinyard, of the industrial division of the vocational educational department of the State Department of Education, and Oliver, Lubbock district engineer of the State Department of Health, yesterday continued their travels throughout the South Plains urging attendance to the school on behalf of themselves and Lubbock. They were at Tahoka, O'Donnell and Lamesa.

Hinyard, who will be instructor, already has been informed representatives from Brownfield, Levelland, Post, Slaton, Plainview, Abernathy, Floydada, Matador, Spur, Ralls, Turkey, Dickens and Crosbyton will attend. He already has visited these towns, explaining the purpose of the course.

Want All To Attend

"The invitation to attend includes everyone interested," said Hinyard. "If any officials have not received personal invitations, it has been wholly by oversight and we want them to attend."

In the chamber of commerce's supplementary invitation to out-of-town officials the classes were described as "vital to your city as they will assist your waterworks superintendent to be currently informed on specific water sanitation problems of this territory, and upon completion of the course attendants will be given a water plant operator's license."

The first class will be Monday night. Classes will be held in City hall.

Subjects to be discussed are: Surface and ground water, wells and pumps; elementary chemistry of water, corrosion, incrustation, boiler waters, etc.; elementary bacteriology, pollution, water borne diseases, lantern slides of organisms will be shown; water treatment, chlorination, filtration, algae control, etc.; elementary routine tests on water-chemical and bacteriological; slide lecture on plumbing and cross-connections and discussions; sewage disposals, plants, treatment processes; water distribution systems and State Department of Health recommended practices; and discussion of miscellaneous problems of water, sewage, pollutions, etc.

Jesse Jones Claims That People Must Again Become Reliant Upon Themselves And Quit Demanding From The Government

PHILADELPHIA, June 10. (AP) — "How we are to get back to self reliance and quit demanding so much of the government will test the wits and ingenuity of all of us," Jesse H. Jones, chairman of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, told the graduating class at Temple university today.

"The federal government has never before been called upon to aid its citizens from the federal treasury," he said in describing the effects of the economic depression.

"Government agencies have provided approximately 15 million dollars active credit in the past five years." He contended that "this has been the principal factor in recovery. In the main it has been done through loans made in a business-like way and will cost the taxpayers very little.

"It is a resourceful country that can meet emergencies in this manner. But however rich, there is a limit to what a government can do, or what it should be required to do, but no one should be allowed to suffer from want."

Jones received the honorary degree of doctor of laws at the commencement.

"Habits are not easily broken, and we have gotton into the habit of expecting everything from the federal government," Jones said. "The longer we put off correcting this, the more dangerous it will get, the more difficult to meet."

Eight Thousand Acre Project Is Under Way Near Morton

MORTON, June 10. (Special) — What is said to be the largest single farming operation in this county and probably the South Plains, in recent years, is an 8,000 acre project of F. O. Maston.

Six thousand acres will be planted to cotton. Cost of the tractors and farm machinery, land, etc., is said to approximate $90,000.

Ten tractors were bought in Lubbock and run here. With several others already here, Maston says he can handle 800 acres every 24 hours. He had operated day and night on several occasions.

Body Of Church Official Held Pending Arrival Of Son

ALICE, June 10. (AP)—The body of Francisco Olazabal, president of the Latin-American Council of Christian Churches since 1923, was held here today pending the arrival of a son.

Olazabal, a resident of Long Island, New York, was injured in an automobile accident June 1 and died in a hospital here Tuesday. He was on a tour of churches in Texas when his car slipped off a highway near Banquette, Texas, and overturned several times.

Bank Night Held Here Last Night

Bank night was held here last night as usual with five theaters participating with no interference from officials although the court of criminal appeals at Austin, state's highest tribunal in criminal matters, handed down a decision early Wednesday that the scheme was illegal.

The stand to be taken by the theaters here concerning the matter last night was not known by officials of the Lindsey Theaters, Inc., a subsidiary of the Griffith Amusement company with main offices at Oklahoma City, Okla., as no communications with the main offices had been completed, said J. C. Cooley, assistant manager.

Although the Broadway and Lyric theaters are not associated with the Lindsey Theaters, Inc., they participate in the bank night practice under direction of the Griffith Amusement company.

The company's officials here expect to receive orders from home offices, soon, Cooley said. Arlie Crites of Chickasha, Okla., recently appointed as manager of the company's theaters here, is expected to arrive today. He succeeds Hal B. Grady, former manager who died last month.

Lubbock County's High Standard In Rural School System To Be Maintained

Leaders Happy At Signature

Lubbock county school officials were happy yesterday over Governor Allred's signature on the rural aid appropriation bill. The measure will make possible the spending of $1,000,000 for rural aid in Texas during the next biennium. This is $1,000,000 more than the current biennium appropriation, but in the last two years the schools received a deficiency provision of $1,080,000. Approximately $70,000 will be Lubbock county's share of the fund during the next biennium.

This equalization fund provides among other things for bus transportation. Thirty-two buses bringing children to the six affiliated rural schools in Lubbock county are operated at state expense with money from this fund. Home economics and vocational agriculture teachers in rural schools are possible at no expense to the local district. Half their salary is paid by the rural aid fund and half by the federal government.

Insures Full Term

Rural aid insures a nine months term in rural schools of the county. It supplements the state apportionment where that money is inadequate to pay teachers' salaries for the full term.

Joseph R. Griggs, Lubbock county school superintendent was one of 30 county school superintendents in the state invited to sit in with the sub-committee in the Texas house of representatives when the bill was being drafted about a month ago.

Griggs stressed the fact that the measure is not properly rural aid, but an equalization fund, because its primary purpose is to equalize educational opportunities over the state.

Fair To West Texas

"It is a measure entirey fair to West Texas. The transportation feature is especially so, as it is designed to help those who live far from school," he added. Griggs said that it was largely due to the equalization fund that Lubbock county could maintain its high standard in rural schools.

Other bills signed at the same time by the governor of the state provided for an eleemosynary appropriation, a teacher retirement system, beginning of terms of state and district offices not fixed by the constitution.

Don Reeder Reports On Work In Federal Police Training School

Healthy condition of his 11-day-old daughter was described and information given about identification training he is receiving in a letter received by Lubbock police department from Don Reeder, identifications officer, who is attending a 12-weeks school in Washington.

Lusty health of the infant is indicated by her yells, said Reeder.

He is receiving valuable training in fingerprints and all kind of identification work, the officer said. Reeder is the only Texas officer attending the school, which is sponsored by the Federal Bureau of Identifications. As part of the training, he went to Quantico, Va., for pistol and rifle shooting.

He will work in the bureau's files for several days in learning to classify and file fingerprints and will receive laboratory training in blood stains, handwriting, typewriting, and other identification work.

HELP 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

To Flush out Acids and Other Poisonous Waste

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 Miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the beginning of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, lumbago, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 Miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Certificates To Be Given Boys

Nineteen boys of the New Deal school chapter of the Future Farmers of America will be presented 32 certificates of merit at a meeting to be held in the agricultural room of the school building at 9 o'clock Saturday morning, according to an announcement yesterday by Lawrence Shipman, vocational agriculture teacher and sponsor of the organization.

Henry Black, Philom Cox, and Bert Showalter each will receive three awards. Following the presentation of the certificates and a brief business session, the boys will work on the cooperative cotton crop and experiment plots.

Honorees Are Listed

Merit certificates will be presented to:

Sharpening tools—C. B. and Troy Gilliland, Sidney Sebastian, G. W. Elliot, Mahlon Goebel, Black, Cleo Paden and Showalter.

Terracing—C. B. Gilliland, R. N. Pitts, Black, Douglas Stokes, Paden, and A. T. Tarter.

Rope making — Pitts, Goebel, Stokes, Truman Anglin, and Willis James.

Baby chick production—Nonie Earl Brooks and Showalter.

Killing and curing meat—Paul Watkins and Showalter.

Judging dairy products — John Neil Harrell and Black.

Judging livestock—Cox and William Turpen.

Judging crops—Macon James.

Judging dairy cattle—Elliott.

Castrating farm animals—Brooks.

Building trench silo and news writing—Cox.

A new farm superintendent will be elected to fill the vacancy left by Cox who will spend the summer in Fort Worth. A chicken caponizing demonstration will be given by Lawrence Shipman about 9:30. The demonstration will be open to the public, he said.

The chapter project consists of 8 acres on the school ground which have been planted in cotton, but probably will be re-planted today or Saturday, it was pointed out. Seed for the cotton was purchased by chapter funds, and work is by boys of the club.

Habeas Corpus Hearing To Be Held Here In Dawson Case

A habeas corpus hearing to determine whether a man being held in Dawson county jail is illegally being restrained of his liberty will be concluded at 10 o'clock Saturday morning before Judge E. L. Pitts of the 99th district court at Lubbock.

Application for the hearing was made here because 64th District Judge Louis B. Reed of Lamesa was ill. The man asking the hearing is charged under two felony complaints, the applications said.

William "Slim" Meador was set out by his counsel, Tom Garrard and B. B. Chappell, both of Lamesa, as being restrained illegally of his liberty despite his having executed bond of $750 set in each case by a Lamesa justice of peace.

Cited in Judge Pitts' order, which was issued late Wednesday, is Sheriff Gus White of Dawson county.

The hearing will be here in accordance with legal procedure which seeks to remove such hearings to the jurisdiction of nearest route. The petition did not define the felony charges, nor did warrants for arrest that were attached.

She is a graduate of the Littlefield high school and took typewriting and shorthand while attending the school.

Lively Program For Kiwanians Staged

Trick arithmetic and spelling problems pepped up the Kiwanis club luncheon yesterday noon at the Hotel Lubbock and kept the crowd in an uproar. T. C. Root, Texas Technological college professor, was the instructor of the two classes. Russell T. Smith was program chairman.

President B. Sherrod introduced Grover C. McMakin, of McMakin Motor coaches, as a new member. He announced Ray C. Mowery, O. V. Adams, George P. Kuykendall and Earl McClure, were alternates to the annual Kiwanis International convention in Indianapolis, Ind., June 20-22. President Sherrod plans to leave Sunday. McClure also will attend.

All-Kiwanis Night Set

All-Kiwanis night will be held Monday, June 21. It will be a banquet, replacing the regular weekly meeting.

C. M. Rogers, Amarillo Kiwanian and superintendent of schools, a guest, spoke briefly. The Amarillo club has received national Kiwanian honors, and the town has a second club, in West Amarillo, he said.

Charles Whitacre reported on a good-will trip to Clovis last week. He said Clovis planned to return the visit. McMakin spoke briefly.

In the arithmetic class were the following "students": T. E. Buckner, Joe Baldridge, John Halsey, O. J. Sexton, Charles Whitacre, Otil Felty, W. H. Rodgers, W. C. Wood, W. L. Stangel and A. H. Leidigh. Comprising the spelling class were: L. C. Ellis, Durwood Bradley, Dr. D. D. Cross, A. C. Jackson, George P. Kuykendall, Dr. O. W. English, E. L. Klett, L. E. Davis and Amos Howard.

Miss Margaret Turner, former club pianist, resumed her work yesterday noon. She took the place of Miss Willette Waters, who resigned recently to move to Borger. L. E. Waite is music director.

Third Texas Twister Strikes In Graham Area Wednesday

GRAHAM, June 10 (AP)—The third Texas twister in a week tore down farm barns and small structures but spared this town after approaching within a mile of it late yesterday.

Murray community and Newcastle bore the brunt of the winds. Barns were blown over at the farms of Arthur Jones and T. G. Woolfolk. Heavy rain and some hail accompanied the storm. No one was reported injured.

A tornado struck Perrin Tuesday and another hit McCamey last week.

Road Projects Being Pushed

WASHINGTON, June 10. (AP) — Engineers of the public roads bureau reported today the United States is expediting its share of work on the Inter-American highway, and would expend nearly $1,000,000 on bridges and roads in Central America before the year's end.

Thomas H. MacDonald, chief engineer, told congress his engineers have practically completed three bridges, laid the foundations for eight more, and started surveys on three road projects in Panama, Nicaragua, Honduras and Guatemala.

Links Far Points

Congress appropriated $1,000,000 to assist in construction of the highway, which when completed will link Alaska with the southernmost tip of South America. MacDonald reported $867,000 already has been obligated, for expenditure this year.

Announcement of progress made in United States cooperation in the "good neighbor" movement to construct a highway linking the two continents coincided with the senate foreign relations committee's approval of a pact signed at the Buenos Aires conference pledging cooperation with the 21 American republics in constructing unbuilt stretches.

Many Miles Covered

MacDonald said the highway under construction covers approximately 3,000 miles from Laredo, Tex., to the Panama Canal, of which slightly more than half passes through Mexico.

Mexico has built an excellent modern road from Laredo to Mexico City, MacDonald said, and is now working on the long stretch from the capital to the Guatemalan border. The United States has done no work on the road in Mexico, he said and made no contributions.

Constructions and engineering assistance by the United States are concentrated in the 1,500-mile stretch between the Mexican border and the canal, now traversable about half way in the dry season and one-third the distance in the rainy season.

Anti-Lynching Bill Approved By Senate Group Thursday

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP)—A senate judiciary sub-committee approved today the Wagner-Van Nuys anti-lynching bill.

Chairman Van Nuys (D-Ind) said the committee had voted to substitute the bill for the Gavagan measure recently passed by the house.

He explained the bill would define mob violence to cover lynchings but to exclude gangster deaths or violence resulting from labor disputes.

Rage Of Bugs And Insects Is Predicted For Lubbock When Hot Summer Days Set In

By MARY HOWELL

People of Lubbock who know their entomology are predicting a rage of bugs and insects when hot summer days really set in.

C. C. Jobson, Lubbock county agricultural agent, hinted that "time would be wasted in trying to control insects until the type of mouth of the eating creature is determined." He divided the insects into "biting" and "sucking" classes.

Aphides or plant lice are common on the Texas Technological college campus and throughout the state, O. B. Howell, associate professor of horticulture, said. He described the aphis as being "very small" and said their smallness caused them to increase rapidly and that a crop could be easily infested without the knowledge of the farmer. Howell pointed out that aphis were not confined to any particular crop and that they could be found in gardens orchards and on ornamental plants and shrubbery.

Formulas Are Presented

A formula to combat the aphides and other insects was given by the Lubbock county agent that fights the spread of the animals that sucks the sap from inside the leaves of plants. The formula known as a "contact insecticide" includes one ounce of nicotine sulphate, one-fourth pound of whale oil or laundry soap, and six gallons of water. High pressure is most effective when using a spray with the formula. Care should be taken so that the lower surface of the leaves are subjected to the spray, since aphides house themselves on the under side of the leaf.

Another way, Jobson said, of applying nicotine sulphate is "as a dust mixed with hydrated lime in the proportion of one ounce of the liquid nicotine preparation to six ounces of the lime."

Sprays Can Be Used

Worms found on popular and other trees can be combatted by sprays of lead or calcium arsenate, the horticulture teacher said.

When asked about the life cycle of bugs and the influence of temperature on the length of the hatching period, Jobson said that in warm weather the average size bug could reproduce in 14 days and in damp weather 21 days was the normal period for hatching of the eggs. He said that "Lubbock does not have an abundance of cutworms, grasshoppers or leaf worms like spots farther south because of the cooler temperature here the year around."

Jobson recommended that each home gardner purchase one pound of finely ground sulphur, one pound of calcium arsenate, one pound of dry Bordeaux mixture, one ounce of nicotine sulphate, one pound of hydrated lime, and a duster and a small sprayer. Each compound should be labeled to avoid accidents to children or animals, he said.

J. H. Grimsley, superintendent of buildings and grounds at Texas Technological college, commented that bitting bugs often destroyed the leaves of shrubbery and trees on the college campus. Grimsley uses the nicotine sulphate solution.

Verdict In Favor Of Defendants Given In Title Case Hearing

A 72nd district court jury yesterday afternoon answered all of 26 special issues in the civil action of Mollie D. Abernathy and others against C. E. Renfro and others, trespass to try title, in favor of the defendants.

After completion of testimony about noon Wednesday, the jury was dismissed until Thursday morning. The charge was read by Judge Daniel A. Blair before jurors yesterday afternoon and a verdict was returned about 3 o'clock.

Involved in the action were alleged contracts totaling $3,500 and hinging on asserted purchase of property described as lot 5, block 1, Meadowbrook acres, a subdivision of section 77, block A, near Meadowbrook Golf course.

Robert A. Sowder represented plaintiffs, Crenshaw and Dupree defendants.

Britain will build a $750,000 embassy at Nanking, China.

SUFFERED 40 YEARS FROM CONSTIPATION

"For 40 years, I had been praying for a lasting remedy for constipation and its evils. Finally, I tried Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Since that time (nearly 10 years ago), I have not taken any medicine. Have been well and entirely free from constipation."— Mrs. I. H. Kendig, R. F. D. No. 2, Lancaster, Penna.

Don't let common constipation ruin your life. You can end it safely, without using drugs that soon lose their effectiveness.

Just eat two tablespoonfuls of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN every day — with every meal in severe cases. Serve as a cereal with milk or fruits, or cook into appetizing recipes. ALL-BRAN absorbs more than twice its weight in water and gently clears away the wastes that cause headaches, tiredness and serious illness.

The vitamin B in ALL-BRAN helps tone up the entire intestinal tract. Buy ALL-BRAN from your grocer. Guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Hobbs, N. M., Man Offers Good Explanation For Running A Stop Sign Here Thursday

City Recorder C. E. Luce couldn't withhold a smile when a Hobbs, N. M., man explained a wasp had been the immediate cause of his "running" a stop sign.

The man told police a wasp got into his car and was "about to sting my wife. I got to fighting the wasp to get it outside—and didn't see the stop sign."

Other police news Wednesday night and Thursday was light with minor investigations and minor disturbances and complaints.

Valuable Dog Reported Stolen But The Owner Gets It Back

MATADOR, June 10. (Special)—A man, held here on complaint of a Mangum, Okla., resident that he had taken a $150 pure-bred black spaniel had to pay $13 in costs for taking the animal from a former neighbor.

Sheriff L. A. Carlisle was asked to apprehend the man, believed enroute to Lubbock. When the dog owner arrived here, he found he knew the man who had taken the animal. He relented, after having filed grand larceny charges and let him off with a fine, because of former friendships.

Attorney General Says That Repeal Law Is Valid

DALLAS, June 10 (AP)—Attorney General William McCraw said here today that the new law repealing pari-mutuel wagering at race tracks in Texas is valid.

"When and if an attack is made on the validity of the repeal measure in court," McCraw said, "the attorney general will appear in behalf of the state to contend the repeal law is valid and should stand."

Health A "Wreck" Until The Gly-Cas

Rheumatic And Neuritis Pains Had Made Mrs. Johnson Miserable, Became Terribly Nervous And In Spite Of All She Tried Could Get No Better; Then Gly-Cas Amazes

"Gly-Cas wasted no time in getting to the very source of my health troubles," said Mrs. J. W. Johnson, 1803 South Buchanon St., Amarillo, Tex. "For several years my stomach and kidneys had been a source of distress with me. The foods I liked I couldn't eat and even what I did eat caused severe suffering. Neuritis and rheumatism settled over my body and I endured such severe pains in my arms, neck and shoulders that I could hardly stand it at times. My limbs, knees and ankles swelled and I had a miserable time. I became terribly nervous, often I would break down and simply cry myself to sleep. Lumbago pains added to my poor health and misery and in spite of all I tried it seemed I could not find anything to even help me. It was so discouraging and I did not know where to turn next when friends knowing of Gly-Cas and of my condition persuaded me to put this new remedy to a severe test on my own case—and found it wonderful.

"Gly-Cas' quick action surprised me," she continued. "I can now enjoy my meals without any fear of distress afterwards now. Gas, bloating and indigestion are in the past, dizzy spells are over and even those headaches which bothered me frequently have left me entirely. My rheumatism and neuritis pains have left me entirely, nerves quieted, sleep good and that dreadful lumbago has gone. Little did I realize any medicine on the market, could be as wonderful as this new Gly-Cas has been for me."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Co., 1219 Broadway, and by all leading drug stores in surrounding towns. Adv.

Hubbers Play Muleshoe Here Today; Senators, Boston Red Sox Swap Pitchers

Slim Spradlin To Take Mound For Lubbock Team

Once more lean, lanky Slim Spradlin, he of the baffling right-handed curve ball, is tagged to toe the mound in the Hubber's behalf and fog his "schoolhouse' out at opposition batters.

The Hubmen play Muleshoe's up and coming outfit this afternoon at 3 o'clock in a game that will determine the advisability of scheduling week-day games in Lubbock. The contest is to be played at the local park, which is in fine condition after recent rains.

Nudie Moore Opposes

Spradlin, who towers well over six feet and who "leans" nearly halfway to the plate when he lets one go, is the most talked-of right-hander around here just now. Twice he has stepped into the breach against the Amarillo Oilers, shutting them up splendidly, and it wasn't his fault that he went in too late each time. He turned in a five-hit victory, pitching all the way, against Big Spring last Saturday, and has won the favor of local fans.

Lefty Beans Pair was due to pitch today, but Manager Sport Wooldridge said yesterday that Spradlin no doubt would take the mound.

Old Slim will oppose another long, lanky pitcher, according to hints from Muleshoe, who is well known in these parts. He is Nudie Moore, bespectacled powerhouse who combines a long time study of the game with an effective pitching arm. He has pitched for and against nearly every club on the South Plains, after experience in professional ball. A wise old duck, Moore no doubt will be hard to hold today. He knows the batting weakness of all the Hubbers, having pitched to them in former days, as well as almost every other hitter in these parts.

Black Hubbers Sunday

Manager C. E. Smith has other pitchers on his lineup, one Burns, another Toten. The Muleshoe lineup lists L. McWilliams at first base, a tall lefthander who played for Anton last year; McCurty at second, Reed at third, Little at short, McNeel in right field, Rundell in center and Davenport in left.

The Hubbers rested yesterday, after Wednesday's hard workout, and are ready to go at top strength today. There may be a slight change at first base, Andy Anderson or Del Coppage replacing Lefty Bettes. Anderson and Coppage are carried as catchers, but both have played lots of infield. Otherwise, the lineup probably will remain the same, with possibility that Bill Holloway will play in left field because of his hitting ability.

The Hubbers go to Sudan Sunday to return a ball game. Lefty Blanchard probably will start in the Sunday contest, which starts at 3 o'clock in the new Sudan park.

But there'll be baseball in Lubbock Sunday, too. The Black Hubbers, peppery, high-strung, had-clouting negro nine, will meet the San Angelo Carbons in a double-header that should be one of the highlights of the local season.

Sunday's double header starts at 2:30 o'clock. The second game will begin immediately after the first one ends.

Slaughter Crashes Topmost Flight In Colonial Tilt

FORT WORTH, June 10. (AP) — The austere Mr. Par of Colonial Club laughed at the state's outstanding amateurs again today. All day long, a field of 120 ace swatters, trudged over the green fairways in the second annual invitation qualifying round but when dusk came, no one had shaken par's count of 35-35—70.

Three shooters came close with 71's and they deadlocked for medal honors. They were Jack Munger and Don Schumacher of Dallas and Horace Young, veteran from Houston. Many a star whipped par over the front nine but the tough backside took a terrific toll.

So fast was the field, however, that a score of 77 or better was needed to make the title bracket.

Among the West Texans landing places were Dr. J. N. Arvin of Brownwood with a 75; Joe Dick Slaughter of Lubbock with a 76. Big Obie Bristow of Big Spring missed out with an 80.

Chief among those who took too many swings was Bitsy McCray of Denton, runnerup to Todd last year. His 78 was just out of it.

MEADOWBROOK GOLF COURSE

Denny Shute And Sam Snead Fire Exciting Golf To Tie For Lead In National Open

By ALAN GOULD

BIRMINGHAM, Mich., June 10. (AP)—As the climax to an unexpected shellacking administered to old man par today at the very outset of the battle of Oakland Hills, slim Denny Shute of Boston, the two-time National P. G. A. titleholder, shot his way through the stretch to tie Slammin' Sam Snead, West Virginia freshman pro sensation, for the first round lead in the U. S. Open golf champion.

Shute, who has held most every major honor in golf at the age of 32 except the National Open crown, bagged a birdie on the home hole with an 11-foot putt to match the three under par 69 that Snead had posted a short time before as the consequence of an eagle three on the 18th.

20 Give Par Trouble

A wild opening day scramble saw 20 of the 166 starters equal or surpass par, a flock of "dark horses" running wild, and the defending champion, Tony Manero, trailing by seven shots with an erratic 76.

Making his first start in the National Open with the distinction of being the first freshman favorite in history, Slammin' Sam overcame a bad case of the tournament jitters and negotiated the last 14 holes in five under par.

A gallery of nearly 2,000 spectators gave Snead a terrific ovation as he got home with a drive and No. 4 weed on the 537-yard 18 hole and tapped down the four-foot putt he needed for an eagle three and the 69 that broke a five-man deadlock in the pacemaking class.

New Record Set

Hardly had the tumult subsided before Shute, one of the strang, silent men of golf, came striding to the finish with every shot in his bag clicking. The leaders each went out in 35 and back in 34. Their totals set a new competitive record for Oakland Hills which has been slightly revised and lengthened since the home pro Al Watrous, hung up the old low mark of 63.

Johnny Goodman, 1933 open champion, joined two other amateur sensations in the five way tie for third place at 70.

The day's long shot surprises were sprung by "Trailer Bill" Holt, the Syracuse (N. Y.) automobile salesman, and 21-year old Frankie Strafaci of Brooklyn, public links champion of 1935. They joined big Ed Dudley of Philadelphia and Frank Walsh of Chicago, a pair of professional cracks, at the 70 mark with Goodman.

Bookies Get Jitters

Holt, who wagered $5 on his chances "across the board" at the fantastic pre-tournament odds of 500 to 1, was one of the main reasons why operators of the two betting books at Oakland Hills were taking double portions of aspirin in the club house tonight. Another was Strafaci, who wagered on himself at 200 to 1.

Holt, with a little luck on the greens might have shaved several strokes from his tally. He rimmed the cup on three holes. Strafaci just missed an ace on the short third when his tee shot struck the pin and dropped only an inch from the hole.

Right on the heels of the front runners, well situated for a spurt in the second 18-hole round that's scheduled tomorrow before the field is cut to the low 60 for Saturday's double-header finale, were four professional sharpshooters. Two well-backed betting choices, Henry Picard of Hershey, Pa., and Ralph Gudahl of Chicago, shared the club-par 71 bracket with Mike Turnesa of Elmsford, N. Y., and Fred Morrison of Pasadena, Calif.

So closely was the field bunched at the quarter pole in this 72 hole golfing derby, with more than 40 players within five shots of each other, that it was obvious anything can happen. Even the champion, Manero, was not entirely downhearted, despite more than 50 competitors were in front of him.

Tommy Armour Falters

Except for Tommy Armour, Chicago's "Silver Scot" who quickly dissipated his chances with a first round 78, all the prime betting choices were still very much in the contention.

Lighthorse Harry Cooper of Chicago, 1936 runner-up, occupied a threatening spot at 72, where his par-equalling company included Vic Ghezzi of Deal, N. J., Ted Longsworth of Portland, Ore., Jimmy Demaret of Houston, Clarence Clark of Bloomfield, N. J., Marvin Stahl of Lansing, Mich., Pat Sawyer of Minneapolis and two amatuer stars, Utah's Ed Kingsley and Michigan's Charley Kocsis, current intercollegiate champion.

Four shots away at 73, was Bryon Nelson of Reading, Pa., who kept a safe lead among a selected professional group, for the Ryder Cup team berth. At the halfway mark of the scoring test in this competition, taking in the two qualifying rounds of the P. G. A., tournament, Nelson has a total of 212, giving him a three shot lead over Ed Dudley, his nearest rival, with Sam Snead third at 216.

Goodman was the only ex-champion among the first 20 after the day's firing ceased. Eight other open title holders ranged from Willie MacFarlane's 73 to Armour's and Gene Sarazen's 78. Sam Parks, jr., and Johnny Farrell each posted 74's, Billy Burke a 75 and Olin Dutra a 76, along with Manero.

Ferrell Brother Act Is Traded For B. Newsom

BOSTON, June 10. (AP)—The Boston Red Sox and Washington Senators today appeared to strengthen their clubs, five days before the trading deadline, by exchanging their managers' "problem children" in a deal that involved five players.

The Red Sox, in dire need of pitching strength, turned over the majors' only brother battery, Wes and Rick Ferrell, along with Outfielder Mel Almada, for Pitcher Buck Newsom and Outfielder Ben Chapman. General Manager Eddie Collins of the Red Sox, insisted no cash was involved in the deal.

The Boston club regarded the acquisition of Newsom and Chapman as helpful and the Senators, who have been seeking a competent catcher for several seasons, were confident that Rick Ferrell would strengthen them.

Neither of the pitchers involved in the deal, probably the most temperamental pair in baseball, can be depended upon to bolster either of those second division clubs.

Wes Ferrell, a 29-year old right-hander, appears to have lost the control that earned him 20 victories against 15 defeats last season, and Newsom, another starboard flinger, who won 17 and lost 15 a year ago, has also had trouble getting started this year. To date he has beaten the Yankees, Tigers and Browns and has bowed to the Athletics, White Sox, Tigers and Browns in that order. He has been able to go the full nine innings three times and during his 67 innings, he has given 76 hits, passed 43 batters and struck out 39. Ferrell has won but two of his eight 1937 starts.

By swapping those pitchers, Managers Joe Cronin and Bucky Harris appear to be trading a case of poison ivy for the barber's itch. Wes Ferrell has always been a painful thorn in Cronin's side and Newsom has never kept his desire to get away from Harris and Washington a secret.

Wes Ferrell's outbursts, which generally take the form of stalking off the mound without waiting for orders when the fire gets heavy, have aggravated Cronin any many of the Boston fans for the past two seasons. He drew a $1,000 fine for such conduct a year ago but it was later rescinded.

Newsom's braggadocio has also been resented hereabouts, although the Red Sockers admit that so far he has made good his boast that he would beat "Lefty" Grove, their southpaw ace, every time he started against him.

Lubbock Player Survives First Round At Angelo

SAN ANGELO, June 10. (AP)—Mrs. M. E. Shane, Amarillo sharpshooter whose score and match play ability today had little in common with her qualification round Wednesday in a high wind, furnished the major upset of first round play in the women's tournament of the West Texas Golf association tourney today.

The Panhandle player eliminated Mrs. Gordon Phillips of Big Spring, runner up for medalist honor: one up. Both players are better accustomed to sand greens but Mrs. Phillips, who shot an 88 yesterday to stand only two strokes above Mrs. R. E. Winger, failed to sink putts today while Mrs. Shane cupped her shots steadily and cinched right to consideration for the challenging position held by Mrs. Winger. Mrs. Shane meets Mrs. Will O'Connell of San Angelo in second round play tomorrow.

AMARILLO GETS TOURNEY

SAN ANGELO, June 10. (AP) — Amarillo was selected as the 1938 site for the West Texas Women's Golf association tourney here tonight by directors of the association.

Mrs. Jess Rogers of Amarillo was elected president succeeding Mrs. Rhea J. Vernon of Abilene.

Mrs. Lea Alwell of San Angelo was reelected vice president and Mrs. Gordon Phillips was renamed secretary and treasurer for the third year.

Sue Dean Is Winner

Mrs. Winger of Fort Worth, defending champion, came through easily with a three and two win over Mrs. E. J. Woodward of Brownwood but she didn't hit her stride until starting on the in nine. Mrs. Winger was two down as they went on the fourth tee. She birdied the sixteenth to win the match while Mrs. Woodward tabbed a par. Both shots were on the out nine.

Mrs. C. L. Dean of Lubbock retained her challenging status as she beat Mrs. J. Ross of Amarillo, 4 and 3.

Mrs. Rhea J. Vernon of Abilene came through with a 5 and 4 win over Miss Catherine Burleson of San Angelo.

Mrs. Will O'Connell of San Angelo defeated Mrs. W. T. Chapmen of El Paso, one up. Mrs. W. J. Powell of San Angelo defeated Mrs. Obie Bristow of Big Spring, one up.

Mrs. H. Edmiston of Brownwood defeated Mrs. Guy McAfee of Lubbock, 6 and 4.

Friday morning Mrs. Winger is paired with Mrs. Roger of Amarillo. Mrs. Dean plays Mrs. Edmiston, Mrs. Shane plays Mrs. Will O'Connell and Mrs. Vernon matches strokes with Mrs. Powell.

Mrs. Glen D. Smith of Lubbock won the three ball driving contest this afternoon and Mrs. Powell of San Angelo won the approach and putting contest.

Court Hurdle Is Cleared; Title Fight Assured

By EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, June 10. (AP)—With the way apparently cleared of legal obstacles, preparations for the James J. Braddock-Joe Louis heavyweight title fight picked up momentum tonight.

The long-awaited decision on the plea of Madison Square Garden that Braddock be restrained from fighting the bomber until the champ first meet Max Schmeling, was handed down today by the circuit court of appeals in Philadelphia and the verdict was another set-back for the Garden.

Kilpatrick To Talk

The Philadelphia court refused to reverse the decision of Judge Guy L. Fake of New Jersey who previously had declined to grant the petition.

So unless the Garden can strike again—speedily and decisively—there appears nothing can stop Braddock and Louis from slugging away at each other in Comiskey Park, Chicago, on the night of June 22.

President John Reed Kilpatrick withheld comment until he read the full text of the Philadelphia court's findings.

Colonel Kilpatrick has been quoted as saying that "win or lose a Philadelphia, I will have plenty to say about the boxing game in New York state."

The decision was hailed along the other fronts. Told over the telephone he had won the decision, Braddock, in training at Grand Beach, Mich., said:

"Now I have only one more to win and I will win that on June 22."

Contracts Ruled Vaid

The Garden contended that it had a contract with Braddock to fight Schmeling by Sept. 30 1936 and that the contract still holds since the bout was postponed because of an injury to Braddock's hand.

The decision said: "We can not find this to be the case," and continued:

"Braddock can not at this time compel the Garden to make use of his services as a boxer because obligations of the Garden to Braddock expired upon June 3, 1937, by the terms of his last contract."

News Briefs...

New manager of the Hotel Clovis, Clovis, N. M., W. E. Webb, with his family, visited Manager J. C. Clopton of the Lubbock hotel, enroute to Clovis, yesterday. He was transferred from San Antonio to Clovis to succeed Dallas Wales, manager there for some time.

Webb said he came to Lubbock in 1929 with C. A. Sheffield, former manager and that he was in charge of the outfitting of the then just completed top stories. He has been manager of the Angelus Courts at San Antonio.

Cattle on ranges in the southwestern area of the South Plains and over into New Mexico, are getting fat on the grass which has come up as a result of recent moisture, said Charles Middleton, local rancher and cattleman, following a trip to that section. He said the grass area extended well into Lea county, New Mexico, to the Caprock.

Check for one cent, from the Ragsdale Auto Co., San Angelo, has been received by Ray H. Forbes, division freight agent of the Santa Fe. It was marked "bonus or dividend." Forbes was formerly a resident of San Angelo.

To Chicago for a visit, to Minnesota and the north woods' shaded streams for "muskies," back to Chicago for the Louis-Braddock fight, then to Detroit for a national Shrine convention and, eventually, back to Lubbock — that is the ambitious vacation planned by L. D. (Pup) Thomas. Mrs. Thomas and Juanita Mae and Barney will accompany him to Chicago, where they will visit the D. W. Andersons, who visited in Lubbock last summer and accompanied the Thomases on a fishing trip to Don Martin lake, Mexican fishing paradise. On his return to Chicago just before the fight, Thomas will meet A. H. Maas, manager of Montgomery Ward & Co. store at Lubbock. Together, they will go to Detroit. The Thomases expect to return to Lubbock June 26 or 27.

Seven-year-old Irwin Jarett was returned to his home Thursday afternoon from Lubbock sanitarium, where he received treatment for a skull fracture received when he was struck accidentally with a golf club by a playmate. His condition had been serious several days after he entered the sanitarium. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Jarett of 1723 Thirty-first street.

Rev. Gabriel Diamante, pastor of St. Joseph's and St. Elizabeth's Catholic churches, returned yesterday from a six week's trip to the east, including New York City where he visited friends. Father Gabriel said he enjoyed the trip but was glad to be back on the Plains again.

Charles Cobb, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Cobb, 2023 Main street, who graduated from the University of Oklahoma law school, at Norman, this week, is expected to be home about June 25. He is remaining in Oklahoma to take the state bar examination. Cobb graduated from Texas Technological college and while here was employed by the Lindsey Theatres and in Norman has been employed by theatres there.

Two checks, one for the land owner and the other for the tenant, on a 1936 corn-hog contract, were received yesterday, County Agent O. C. Jobson said. The checks had been held up because of a government loan.

No persons were injured in a minor automobile mishap at the intersection of Tenth street and Avenue K early Thursday morning. Automobiles involved were driven by Mrs. Lucile Adams of 1622 Thirteenth street and Murray Elson of Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed McKeever of 1812 Avenue X are parents of a daughter, Mary Geraldine, weighing 5 pounds 13 3-4 ounces born at West Texas hospital at 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Condition of Mrs. McKeever, early in the afternoon considered serious, last night had shown improvement, according to authorities. McKeever is employed by West Texas Gas company.

Everett Fairchild, for ten months educational advisor at the Civilian Conservation corps camp at Mackenzie State park, will leave Lubbock Sunday for Plainview for a brief visit and from there he will go to Chicago where he will attend an art institute in the summer and fall sessions. The institute will start June 25. Fairchild was graduated from Texas Technological college in the spring of 1935. His successor at the camp has not been appointed, it was reported last night.

A. B. Bell, assistant to H. P. Drought, state Works Progress administration, was in Lubbock Thursday conferring with district officers. Bell is associated with the San Antonio office.

Babe Williams, charged in justice court here with theft of person, yesterday was released from Lubbock county jail on $400 bond, according to members of the sheriff's department.

An 18-year-old Lubbock boy Thursday was charged in the justice court of Walter Davies with attempting to pass a forged check. The complaint was sworn to by S. C. Boyd of the police department before Victor H. Lindsey, assistant district attorney. Upon arraignment before Justice Davies, he waived examining trial, and his bond was set at $500. According to members of the district attorney's office, the boy attempted to pass the $2 check at a department store here.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Verlon Collins of Lubbock are parents of a daughter weighing 4 pound 6 1-2 ounces born at Lubbock sanitarium at 8:05 o'clock Thursday night. Collins is a plumber.

Auto Racers Lured To Dallas For 300-Mile Jaunt

By FELIX R. McKNIGHT

DALLAS, June 10. (AP)—Automobile racing's strangest event—a 300 mile tear around a pretzel course that twists past buildings, hamburger stands and football stadiums—will beckon the suicide club here on August 1.

Another one of Promoter George Marshall's events for the Greater Texas and Pan-American exposition, the $17,500 race over the two-mile track will draw Wilbur Shaw and all the boys who chased him in the Indianapolis classic, officials said.

Laid out on the grounds of the exposition, the track presents one hazard after another and Ted Allen, secretary of the American Automobile Association contest board, after an inspection trip, shook his head and opined "the Roosevelt track on Long Island isn't as hazardous as this layout."

Two "U" Turns

Dirt and paved stretches will be included on the course, with two "U" turns and two 45-degree angle turns the most dangerous spots. Allen predicted the drivers could attain a speed of close to 130 miles per hour on the two straightaways—neither of which measures much more than a quarter of a mile.

Crash ramparts will be constructed on all turns, officials said. First there will be an eight foot pine log fence, then thousands of bales of cotton and finally a wire fence to keep back the spectators. Grandstands will be erected at various spots, with some atop buildings.

French And Scottish Champs In British Women's Final

TUNBERRY, Scotland, June 10. (AP)—Jessie Anderson of Perth, holder of the French women's title, gained the final round of the British women's golf championship today, defeating Mrs. Andrew McNair, 4 and 2.

An all-Scottish final was assured when Doris Park of Edinburgh, the Scottish title-holder, eliminated Elsie Corlett of Lytham, runner-up in the 1935 English women's tournament, by a margin of 3 and 2 to join Miss Anderson in the final round.

Epsom Downs Of Houston Asks Racing Body For 'Swan Song'

HOUSTON, June 10. —Officials of Epsom Downs filed today a formal application with the state racing commission for permission to hold a "swan-song" racing meet at the Houston track.

The application asked for a license to hold the meet from August 28 to September 26, the last available dates under the 90-day "stay of execution" granted by the legislature in killing legalized racing in Texas.

George S. Mabee, assistant secretary of Epsom, filed the application in Austin, after receiving instructions from Boston, where a meeting of stockholders was held Tuesday.

employment. There is, therefore, no mutuality of remedy and therefore this court, even assuming the existence of a negative covenant, could not, as a matter of law, enjoin Braddock from engaging in the contest with Louis upon June 22, 1937 or in any other boxing contest."

Wall Street..

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, June 10. (AP)—The stock market was a lop-sided affair at the start and its contours were even more irregular at the close of today's session.

Fairly cheerful business news was offset by fresh clashes in the steel strike although there were some in Wall street who thought they saw a possible settlement of this controversy in the near future.

The gold bug's bite was less noticeable in the financial sector, but many traders failed to see any appreciable break in the clouds surrounding the international position of the yellow metal.

Notwithstanding continuance of the labor rift, steel issues gave a better than ordinary performance in the morning. These fell back before the final gong. It was the same with rails and specialties. Late selling, while not especially insistent, pulled down numerous stocks that had recorded early gains of fractions to 2 or more points.

Volume was still less than half the amount necessary for most commission houses to break even on expenses. Transfers totalled 867,730 shares compared with 624,040 yesterday. The Associated Press average of 60 issues yielded .3 of a point at 67. It is now only 1.5 points above the year's low.

Markets At A Glance..

NEW YORK, June 10. (AP)—
STOCKS—irregular; steels, rails do better.
BONDS—uneven; U. S. loans move both ways.
CURB—ragged; only scattering specialties up.
FOREIGN exchange—steady; sterling shade lower.
COTTON—steady; domestic and foreign buying.
SUGAR—improved; firmer spot market.
COFFEE—easier; quiet commission house liquidation.
CHICAGO:
WHEAT—firm; Dakota rust unconfirmed.
CORN—weak; foreign arrivals large.
CATTLE—weak; mostly $10 to $12.
HOGS—10-15 higher, top $11.60.

Cotton..

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, June 10. (AP)—Cotton turned an about face today and in contrast to recent breaks, advanced until at one time July crossed the 12-cent line. The full advance was not held to the end, however, and final prices were 7 to 10 points above the previous close.

The market opened steady at a small net advance in spots to better Liverpool cables.

Prices were on the upgrade throughout the session with only inconsequential reactions on profit-taking. The advance was attributed to a normal upswing from the recent drastic declines which had carried some options as much as 75 points down from last Saturday's closing levels.

There was some talk that the heavy rains in the west may prove detrimental to the growing crop and cause much replanting where seed has been washed away.

Most reports of acreage increase were discounted with floor brokers preferring to await developments before the July official estimate is issued in Washington.

July advanced as high as 12.01 in today's trading but eased off and closed at 11.97. Oct. finished at 12.10, Dec. at 12.16, Jan. at 12.18, March at 12.21 and May at 12.25. Spots were 50 cents a bale higher with middling 12.37.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, June 10. (AP)—Foreign buying in cotton today caused early rallies but later fluctuations were irregular. October reacted from 12.18@12.06 and closed at 12.10 with final prices 4 to 10 points higher.

The market opened up 3 to 9 points in response to steadier Liverpool cables and on Bombay and Liverpool buying. During the first hour prices rallied to net gans of 10-16 points but with the closing of Liverpool, support from abroad tapered off and prces sagged.

Although there were some complants of ran damage n parts of the western belt, crop adcves were gnrarally favorabl.

General rains were reported from Oklahoma eastward through Arkansas and Tennessee. South Carolina reports said that weevils were appearing in fields in the coastal sections n larger numbers than at any time since 1932. Exports today 26,-994 making a total of 5,459,721 for the season thus far. Port receipts 2,391; U. S. port stocks 1,293,967.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, June 10. (AP)—Failure to confirm reports current that black rust had attacked spring wheat nullified late today 2½ cents a bushel upturn of the Chicago wheat market.

More than four cents jump of Minneapolis wheat values took place, but was also largely wiped out. The black rust reports which were to the effect that for the first time this season the pest had been discovered in spring crop territory—namely, North Dakota near Grand Forks—brought only denials from responsible authorities.

Flurried purchasing of wheat futures, however, resulted for a time, and was followed by brisk selling on the part of traders who were in a position to collect profits. Aside from the rumors of black rust spreading to spring wheat, interest centered mostly on the United States government crop which coming after trade had ended was construed as moderately bullish.

Wheat futures in Chicago closed unchanged to ⅛ of a cent higher, July 1.10 @1.10¼, Sept. $1.09⅞@1.09⅞; Dec. $1.11½ @1.11⅝, corn ⅛ to 3⅛ down, July 1.13⅞ @1.14; Sept. $1.02⅝@1.2¾, Dec. 75⅛@76, oats ⅛ off to ⅛ up, July 39⅝, and rye varying from ⅛ setback to ⅛ advance, July 86⅝. The outcome in provisions was unchanged to 7 cents dearer.

Wheat traders generally expected that the official estimate of 1937 domestic winter crop production would be near to last month's figures, 654,000,000 bushels. Instead, the government's new forecast was 648,597,000 bushels.

Action On Bills

was illegitimate.

Vetoes Remission Bill

The vetoed tax remission bill affected San Jacinto, Houston, Trinity, Walker, Angelina, Shelby, Sabine and San Augustine counties. The taxable values of these counties were reduced considerably by the federal government's taking over land for reforestation purposes.

"In conferences with people for some of these counties," Allred said, "I have suggested that possibly there should be a consolidation of counties and a resulting decrease in the cost of government. I have been told that the people of the affected districts would not vote for such consolidation. If they are not willing to make sacrifices themselves, I am unwilling for the state to prolong and promote the present unfortunate situation by donation of taxes with no strings to it."

Vetoes Insurance Bill

In vetoing the insurance company bill, Allred said the tax for firemen's pensions was imposed on the theory that work of firemen redounded to the benefit of all fire insurance companies and that there should be no exemptions.

Regarding the proposed new land leasing law, he noted that the present statute provided in one section for leases not exceeding five years and in another for a maximum of three years.

He said that when there was conflict in the grant from a sovereign it should be resolved in favor of the state and suggested that where three-year leases had expired or were about to expire the lands should be readvertised.

Labor Situation

had held the attention of the entire steel strike front, reaching into seven states and affecting some 73,000 workers.

It was the second clash of the day involving steel strikers. Earlier 17 persons were injured at Youngstown, Ohio, in a furore caused by the rushing of a truckload of food into a Republic plant.

Cleveland's mayor, Harold H. Burton, revoked a flying field permit for the airport which Republic has used as the base for its planes carrying food to picket-beleaguered plants in Ohio.

The swift rush of events came on the eve of a conference called by Governor Davey of Ohio for Friday in Columbus. The governor invited C.I.O. leaders and officials of Republic and Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co. Independent unions among employes of the firms asked that they also have representation.

MOVED TO DICKENS

DICKENS, (Special) — Furniture has been installed in the courthouse for the county agent and for the home demonstration agent. Grady Lane, agent, expects to move into the office soon.

State Legislature

that any race or contest was run or occurred.

Dog-Racing Bill Brief

The dog-race betting bill, passed 25 to 0, was very brief, merely declaring it unlawful to wager on such contests and prescribing a penalty of from $200 to $500 fine and 30 to 90 days in jail, the same penalty fixed for violations of the horse race betting statute.

A sub-group of the senate committee on criminal jurisprudence took no action on bills intended to tighten prohibitions against marble and slot machines and to give the supreme court authority to compel local officers to perform their duties. Hearing on the last was set for Monday.

Work on book-making and dog racing bills was virtually completed by a committee of the house and probably will be considered on the floor Monday, until then both branches adjourned. The house bills were substantially similar to those passed by the senate.

"Cleanup" Here Is To Be Made

and the Mayor identified himself as the presiding officer.

Mrs. Hollyfield lost no time in exploding a sensation for the meeting, and during the next half hour, she and others of the housewives committee had made their complaint of morals condition in the neighborhood where at least three were described as home owners.

Scenes Are Described

Mrs. Hollyfield related that from her doorstep she had seen groups of men and women embracing in the street and passing bottles from hand to hand, cursing and creating disturbances which usually lasted into early hours of the morning.

Mrs. Walton, invited by Mrs. Hollyfield to "tell what you have seen," related that it was almost a nightly occurrence that men and women so drunk they required assistance staggered about her home. There have been numerous occasions, she recounted, of helplessly drunken men collapsing on the door step of her home.

Mrs. Bell, the mother of two small children who were in the commission room with her, told of having seen mattresses spread in a back yard across the alley from the home she owns, and of having seen mixed groups in suggestive poses there.

"All I could do," she said, "was to try to keep my babies from looking across the alley."

Another Expresses Her Views

Mrs. Stokes, who held her tiny daughter on her lap during the proceedings, declared only that she thought it "a shame that decent people would have to seek homes in other neighborhoods because of the goings-on where we live."

Mrs. Roper contented herself with an "endorsement" of all that the other women had said.

Several of the housewives suggested that members of the commission make their own investigations of conditions without letting their identities there be known.

"Just go down to one of those dance halls," Mrs. Hollyfield challenged. "Those little girls—15, 16 and 17 years old will be hugging you and trying to kiss you before you can say scat. And if you've any money they'll mighty near get it off you before you get away."

Officials Had Made Inspection

Her challenge developed that some of the commissioners had made their own inspection and that demands for a cleanup were imminent even had no protests been made.

Commissioners McMillan and Fortenberry related that they had made an inspection in company with plainclothes officers a few days ago. They said, however, that word of their coming apparently had preceded them and that they found conditions in a state termed by officers to be "quiet." They added, however, that they saw enough to convince them of the truth of all the protest delegation had reported.

Eating Establishment Described

McMillan went into more detail concerning sanitary conditions of several of the eating establishments in the neigrborhood.

"To look at them was enough to give me indigestion," he asserted. "Few of them could pass even the most liberal of sanitation inspections."

City Manager Rodgers also told of a recent quietly arranged visit of observation, but added that his visit also apparently had been heralded in advance, although he remained seated in an automobile during his stay.

"I am convinced," said Rodgers, "that conditions are fully as rotten as these women have said."

Mayor Edwards, obviously startled by the disclosures, voiced the expressed sentiment of the commission that "these things will not be tolerated."

Provide For Park System

Less spectacular, but of greater importance to the future of Lubbock, were the commission's actions relative to city park development.

One of those actions was the approval of an appropriation of $500 as the city's share toward a summer park recreational program to be financed in conjunction with the WPA, which is to match the city's appropriation by a ratio of at least two for one.

Election Is Scheduled

Another was the adoption of a motion which put the commission on record as favoring the holding of an election next April to designate a portion of the city tax levy specifically for park purposes.

K. N. Clapp, chairman of the city park board and recently appointed member of the state parks board, was the key figure in bringing about both actions.

The $500 appropriation was the result of a conference at the chamber of commerce several days ago which resulted in the creation of a temporary committee to urge the development of recreational facilities in the city in conjunction with the WPA. Under that setup, the money provided by the city will be used to buy materials, pay rentals and for permanent improvements. Money provided by the WPA will be for the employment of a competent personnel for the direction of a recreational program during the summer.

Committee Is Named

Members of the temporary recreational committee, who also were named by the commission a city recreation council, were J. I. Kilpatrick, chairman; W. O. Daniels, vice chairman; H. C. Pender, secretary; and Mrs. W. A. Jackson and L. H. Liston, directors. So as to speed the provision of the money for the setup of a project, the commission's resolution provided that the appropriation should be expended under direction of the existing park board.

Clapp gave his endorsement to the recreation program as he asked members of the commission to give their endorsement to the proposal that an election be called next April to insure that park development will have an assured income.

Friction Might Develop

Explaining that the park board and city commissions have worked together in utmost harmony during the last 10 years, he at the same time, warned that no one could foresee the possible friction that the future might bring.

No effort was made to establish what levy may be asked for parks, although it was suggested at about two mills or slightly more, which would mean an income of approximately $40,000 a year. An assured sum, Clapp explained, would make possible the development of the long range program now impossible.

Two Hours Is Limit

The commission's action relative to parking meters was routine. It consisted merely of a resolution authorizing the mayor to ask the parking meter company to re-adjust the devices to as to set the parking time at two hours instead of one hour, as was provided under an ordinance since repealed.

The resolution relative to paving downtown alleys will affect approximately 15 blocks, and will cover practically all the last remaining unpaved such thoroughfares.

The ordinance setting speed limits of ambulances at 40 miles per hour provides a fine of not more than $100 for violation. It will become effective within 10 days after advertisement of the ordinance, which is planned at once. Original plans were to place the same speed limit on physicians, but City Attorney Bradley said that such a provision would be in conflict with state laws and, therefore, invalid. The maximum speed of 40 miles for ambulances, he added, is permitted only in case of emergencies.

Ordinance Is Tabled

An ordinance proposing to permit the withdrawal of Sun Shine addition from the city limits was tabled when Bradley reported that a water line extends through the area. The tract, about six blocks in area, is at the extreme southern edge of present city limits. To permit the withdrawal, the commission was informed, might endanger the city's title to the water line, on which a value of $1,500 to $2,000 was placed.

Formal approval was given as to correctness of delinquent city tax rolls for 1936, as prepared by City Tax Collector E. C. Young. Personal delinquences total $3,668 and those on real estate $14,782, the reports showed.

To Supply Water

Authorization to supply not more than 500,000 gallons of water during the remainder of the year to County park as a convenience to picnickers and for irrigation of trees and lawns was given. The total cost will be, the commission was told, approximately $60, which the county will be asked to share.

The commission decided to continue operations of the city's rock crushing plant when the city manager reported that enough of the product can be sold to pay the cost of operation. He explained that to discontinue operations would throw a number of men out of work. To continue, he added, will permit an accumulation of crushed rock for future city uses.

Routine approval was given to contractor's bonds of Sampson Brothers and of C. B. Harris

Zep Tragedy Survivor Sits Up

Adolph Fischer, a member of the Hindenburg's crew when the giant Nazi sky queen crashed in flames, although badly injured in the mishap, was strong enough to sit up a little just before he was transferred to a New York hospital. "He's strong," said Nurse Martha Zimmer, as she fixed a pillow under his shoulders. 'He'll be himself again before long though lucky he is to be alive."

"Tall Tale" Contest Is Open To Veterans Of Lubbock; State Prizes Are Offered

Is there a Major Hoople among the World War veterans of Lubbock? If so, he is eligible to enter the "tall tale" contest being sponsored by the San Angelo Standard Times of San Angelo.

W. O. (Dan) Daniels, commander of the Allen Brothers post of the American Legion of Lubbock, said that he was confident that veterans of Lubbock would "stand a good chance of placing in the contest" that has cash prizes of $125, $75, and $25 to American Legionaires who tell true tales of the World War to intrigue story judges at the American Legion convention of the department of Texas at San Angelo Aug. 21 to 24.

Suggestions Are Offered

The Lubbock commander suggested that the true story of L. E. Davis, an aviator during the war and who was shot down by a German plane, would merit an entry in the "tall tale" contest, as would the yarn of Hubert L. Allen who masqueraded as a sailor so that he could see a torpedoed vessel sink. Naval officers, taken in by the disguise, forced him to make his way to the vessel by the use of his hands and a rough rope.

A. I. Glassman, manager of Levine's and a veteran who was oversees for 13 months, could enter his tale of closely escaping a scalping by German bullets near Metz when he stood shaving under a tree. The bullet clipped a twig from the limb that held his shaving mirror and hit the ground several inches from one of his feet. He had shaved one side of his face when the attack came, he said, and went "a week before I attempted the other side."

Only Veterans Eligible

Only veterans, Texas or otherwise, will be permitted to participate in the contest. Tales, which must be about the war, should be authentic but "tall" in the sense of being unique. Subjects of the stories may include narrow escapes, eerie or comic events, an expose of the army's unpreparedness for action, brave and unselfish sacrifice, coincidences, action meriting medals or honor, or any untold stories, according to the committee, that should be preserved.

Stories must be submitted in writing by Aug. 1 to Tall Tales Contest Editor, San Angelo Standard-Times, San Angelo. Three judges named by the state commander will select 25 stories to be told as part of the convention program and 15 judges in the audience will select the three best. If less than 125 entries are submitted the prize will be cut one-fourth, the contest editor said.

All manuscripts entered will become the property of the newspaper.

Oil Notes..

Drilling below 4,950 feet in brown lime, more porosity and good saturation was reported in the Carter-Continental No. 1 A. L. Wasson, Gaines county wildcat. Broken shows of oil and gas were reported from 4,836-902, with best porosity from 4,890-900 feet. Previously shows had been had of gas at 4,648-60, 4,694-710 and 4,804-22 feet. It is in section 48, block A-X, public school land.

Nine miles west and three south of the Wasson, the Continental No. 1 Jones, in section 22, block A-7, public school, was drilling at 3,390 feet. Shows were reported from 2,700 feet on down.

In section 44, three miles west of the Wasson, the Carter-Continental No. 1 Moore-Langdon was down to 2,120 feet without having met anhydrite.

Standard tools have been moved into the Illinois-Maracaibo No. 1 Yellowhouse, Bailey county wildcat, bottomed at 4,497 feet, with 7-inch cemented with 200 sacks of cement at 4,495 feet. It is in labor 4, league 700, Capitol Syndicate lands.

Mitchell and Sullivan have moved tools into the Etz-Robertson No. 1 Enochs, labor 66, league 182, Floyd county school land.

Bahan, Rhodes and Fitzpatrick No. 1 L. B. Shook, was drilling below 5,080 feet in lime, unchanged. It is Yoakum county, section 420, block D, John H. Gibson survey, six miles west of Plains.

Four thousand feet of sulphur water was reported as Bond and Harrison No. 1 Cameron estate, Cochran county wildcat being plugged, was measured up to 4,995 feet.

Argo No. 1 Jones, Gaines county, four miles north of the Continental No. 1 Jones, was shut down at 1,250 feet in redrock.

Amerada No. 1 A. H. Fasken, Seminole townsite test, was at 4,265 feet in anhydrite after having had two shows of gas. It is in section 160, block G. W. T. Ry. survey.

Contract has been let by R. L. Foree and associates for drilling of the A. E. Pool No. 1 in northwestern Terry county, to Drilling and Exploration Co. It is in section 54, block D-11, D. & S. E. survey. Test will be 5,500 feet unless production is had above that depth. Rig is being moved in. Rotary will be used to the lime. Foree has sold spreads to Gulf, including in section 54, 46 and 44, in block D-11, EL survey; Magnolia, all of sections 41 and 61, block E. E. L. survey; Humble, west half of section 78, block 4-X; Ohio, in sections 46 and 60; Standard of Texas, parts of section 40, section 70 and part of section 55.

R. F. Duggan and associates have let to Loffland Bros. the drilling contract for the No. 1 Yellowhouse in Hockley county. It will be in the center of labor 11, league 718, Capitol Land survey, 20 miles north and slightly east of the Texas No. 1 Bob Slaughter, Hockley county's first well. Spreads in the 10,000 acres were taken by Loffland Bros., Tide Water Associated Oil Co.; Igoe Bros., Magnolia, Cascade, Stanolind Oil and Gas and E. L. Wilson, of Dallas.

Eight companies have taken spreads in Gaines county around the Argo No. 1 Jones, on the Dr. E. H. Jones ranch in northwestern part of the county. Humble Amerada, Texas, Cascade, Shell, Atlantic, Getty, Superior and Frank Farley, Fort Worth operator. C. J. (Red) Davidson is the drilling contractor.

McClain Rites To Be Conducted Today

Funeral rites for E. C. McClain, about 50, who died early Tuesday from injuries suffered Monday near Gallup, N. M., will be conducted at Rix chapel at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, and burial will be in Memorial Park cemetery. Thomas E. Place, reader of the Christian Science church, will officiate.

The body will arrive in Lubbock at 5 o'clock this morning.

Pall bearers will be W. C. Powell, Buster Cross, Lloyd Hartman, Paul Barrier, L. A. Burdine, and H. H. Griffith.

Survivors are the widow; two daughters, Miss Lillian McClain of Lubbock and Mrs. O. H. Hopper; two sons, Carl McClain of Kilgore and Ronald McClain of Slaton, and one grand daughter.

McClain was struck by a hit and run driver two miles west of Gallup. L. R. Burn, a truck driver who saw the accident and brought the victim, said the machine that struck McClain continued without stopping.

Kidnaping Case

erty owned by the missing woman.

Mrs. Parsons was traveling toward the east in a strange automobile and was accompanied by one other person, this witness said. Her property lay about 15 miles to the west near Huntington.

Reputed Worth $200,000

Before Mrs. Newton, the last person to see the comely gray-haired matron, who led a quiet, unpretentious life although she was reputed to be worth some $200,000, was Mrs. Anna Kupryonova, described by police as the daughter of a minor Russian nobleman executed during the Bolshevik revolution.

Mrs. Kupryonova, who has been employed by the Parsons family for about four years as household manager and companion, told assistant district attorney Joseph S. Arata of Suffolk county that a middle-aged couple drove into the grounds about 11 o'clock yesterday morning. Shortly afterward she said, Mrs. Parsons called out that she was going "over to the Sammis place."

Arata said he understood this to refer to an estate near Huntington in which Mrs. Parsons had an interest.

Police Called At 9 P. M.

No alarm was felt until her husband, returned last night from a trip to New York's lower East Side, where he had gone to obtain a Russian recipe for squab paste. He called the police at about 9 p. m.

Two hours later the ransom note was found by Bert Walker, an investigator from the district attorney's office.

Police Chief Edward Bridges of Brookhaven township tonight disclosed a widespread search was underway for the middle-aged couple who drove away with Mrs. Parsons.

Seen Parked On Pier

James Allen, of Port Jefferson, a few miles east of here, reported seeing a couple answering the description furnished by Mrs. Kupryonova sitting in a parked automobile on the pier of a ferryboat line operating between Port Jefferson and Bridgeport, Conn.

He first noticed them about 9:30 yesterday morning, Allen said. His attention was drawn to them because the license plates of their car bore the key letter of some county other than Suffolk, and because they remained on the pier for two hours. Chief Bridges did not say whether Allen recalled their license number.

Allen said the woman got out of the car once and made a telephone call from a hotel opposite the pier. A waitress at the hotel, Bessie Kelly, who directed her to the telephone booth, described her as between 48 and 50 years of age. She wore expensive clothing.

Seek To Check Call

Efforts were being made to check back on the telephone call.

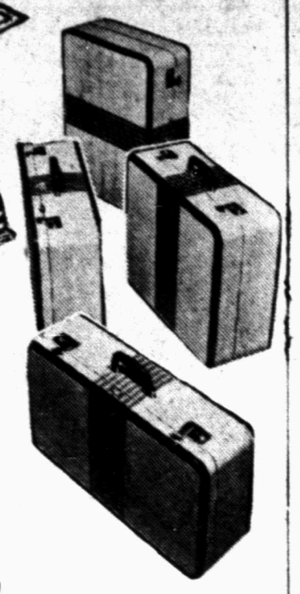

Two bloodhounds brought from the state police barracks at Hawthorne sought to pick up the missing woman's scent in the rolling countryside 56 miles from New York City, which has been made the locale of numerous fictional mystery stories.

The ransom note was reported by a reliable source to read substantially as follows:

"Bill Parsons: We have your wife. Bring $25,000 to the Jamaica bus terminal within the next twenty-four hours and my men will meet you and call you by name. Do not bring any cops. If you do, Alice will never speak to you again."

The use of first names and the statement that Parsons would be recognizable on sight was viewed by investigators as indicating that the kidnapers were familiar with the family, despite their retiring habits.

Summer Slump Is On At Jail

Lassitude strikes the criminal-minded when temperature soars, records of Lubbock county jail might indicate.

Annual summer slump has begun and of the 101 possible accomodations for prisoners, only 16 are in use.

The jail business might be compared to that of the boarding house. During the seasons when business is at its best and money is spent freely, the jail has more inmates; during the summer slump, prisoners are scarce.

For several summer months the number of prisoners is comparatively low, and in September the number takes an upward trend.

Transients Here In Fall

The more likely explanations are that in the fall many transients are attracted here to pick cotton, and transients bring in lawlessness. Also, in the fall there is more money, and money means more whisky, as well as more inducement for robbery, said Bedford F. Carpenter, chief deputy sheriff.

Greatest number in the jail at one time was 98, in the fall of 1933. Change in number of prisoners does not greatly affect the amount of work around the jail, said Carpenter. Trusties cook meals, and clean and disinfect cells twice weekly, and slight extra work is necessary if the number is between 50 and 60 rather than 16.

Confined On Misdemeanors

Most of the prisoners now in the jail were confined for misdemeanors, although several were charged with felonies. No person who was a transient now is confined. Two women and a juvenile are in the jail.

Swindling, chicken theft, driving while drunk, burglary, receiving and concealing stolen money, theft from persons, and violation of the prohibition law are among violations resulting in confinement of the present inmates.

A survey of records of this year showed that 21 prisoners have been transferred to the penitentiary, 12 boys taken to the training school at Gatesville, and one girl to the school at Gainesville. Twenty-seven prisoners have been transferred to other counties.

Another Clue For Mystery

LOS ANGELES, June 10. (AP) — The William Desmond Taylor case, hardiest perennial of filmland murder mysteries, produced a new figure today.

Carl Stockdale, 63-year-old character actor, disclosed he visited Mrs. Charlotte Shelby, mother of Taylor's fiance, the night 15 years ago when the screen director was slain.

Stockdale said he had known Mrs. Shelby and her actress daughter, Mary Miles Minter, for years.

Was With Mrs. Shelby

"At about the time fixed by authorities that the fatal bullet was fired in Taylor's apartment, I was with Mrs. Shelby, in the new house she had purchased," Stockdale said.

Stockdale's statement, investigators indicated, was the most important development since Mrs. Shelby, Miss Minter, and a second daughter, Margaret Shelby Fillmore, went before the grand jury six weeks ago. The injuiry had been revived for the teenth time as a result of Mrs. Fillmore's assertion in a civil suit affidavit that she had "protected" her mother against the Taylor case.

Arrests and a solution of the mysterious crime are no nearer than they were 15 years ago, District Attorney Buron Fitts admitted.

Meantime, his office detectives made known they were seeking a former watchman at Stockton, Calif., and San Antonio, Tex., hoping he could supply information concerning ownership of a pistol now under investigation.

Three Liquor Cases Scheduled For Hearing In County Court

Three cases, all charges of violation of state liquor laws, are scheduled for hearing in the county court of Judge J. J. Dillard today.

Cases on call for today are: Floyd Williams, Juan Mandiquez, and Mrs. Bill Davis, charges of liquor law violation probably would be held this morning. The hearing yesterday was postponed because physicians had not completed examination of the woman's condition. It was believed the liquor charge would be dismissed if she is found insane.

Cases against Mrs. J. C. Hamby and R. L. Davis, both charged with liquor law violation, and Jno W. Thompson, real estate agent, charged with swindling with worthless check, all scheduled for hearing Thursday, were passed.

Lebrun Stirs Rumpus With 'Fireside Talk'

PARIS, June 10. (AP) — President Albert Lebrun of France stirred up a constitutional controversy by following President Roosevelt's example in talking to his nation by radio.

President Lebrun

When President Lebrun spoke into a microphone for 15 minutes March 11, the opposition press protested that the president, traditionally a non-political figure, elected for seven years to serve as a stable arbiter over changing ministries, surpassed constitutional limits in pleading for People's Front government bonds.

Conservative newspapers warned he would cease to be a neutral leader and expose himself to public opinion if he repeated this course. No further presidential talks were arranged.

June Building Near $60,000

With issuance late yesterday of building permits authorizing construction of a $3,000 residence and erection to two signs, the total for the month of June neared the $60,000 mark.

A permit, issued at the office of D. J. Schlag, city building inspector, was obtained by W. Robbins, owner and contractor, allowing construction of a frame duplex and a garage apartment at 2321 Fifteenth street. Approximate cost will be $3,000.

Sign permits were to Sam Koretzky, temporary sales sign, and Clyde Ragland Motor company, disc metal sign. Costs or erection were estimated at $20 and $50, respectively.

Earlier yesterday a permit had been issued to L. C. Ingram, owner, and M. G. Bowles, contractor, to build a one-story frame residence at 2416 Sixteenth street at an estimated cost of $2,752.

One performance of Beethoven's Fifth Symphony by the New York Philharmonic orchestra costs about $300.

Caution Urged On Oil Price

By ALFRED WALL
(By The Associated Press)

TULSA, June 10.—The older heads counseled caution today as talk of a general increase in the price of crude oil went the rounds in the petroleum industry.

Acknowledged hopeful signs, among them a 15-cent increase in Pennsylvania crude, a slight decrease in the week's production and the first net withdrawal of crude stocks since Jan. 23, together with reduced state allowables, had started the talk of another general advance.

Declared Unjustified

"It is unjustified at this time," said one authority who withheld his name.

"The stage certainly is not set for it immediately. It will take a lot more reducing of stocks and production to justify a price increase in this territory. When you consider that we've added upwards of 20,000,000 barrels of crude to storage since the first of this year, a rise just now hardly seems the thing."

A major purchaser declared that "crude actually is backing up on us. Some other operators are oversupplied. There's plenty of crude to be had."

Still Hope For It

Producers still hoped for an advance.

The palavering over the price was natural, one observer agreed, because time was when it was the rule that mid-continent crude followed the trend in the east. Competitive conditions that led to the Pennsylvania increase and the East Texas 8-cent advance before that do not obtain generally.

But there was no lack of optimism among oil men. A drop of about 35,000 barrels daily in the flow of crude out of the ground was tangible evidence of the curtailment programs projected in heavy producing states to offset the steady succession of new production peaks chalked up since the first of the year.

Spot demand and heavy shipments at slightly stronger prices made good news for marketers of motor fuel, kerosene and natural gasoline.

Work Is Increased

Field operators increased their work to the tune of 42 more well completions this week than last. The Oil and Gas Journal listed 684 completed wells for the week, which brought the year's total to date to 12,410, compared to 10,128 for the same period in 1936.

Some disappointing results which brought abandonment of a number of Kansas wildcats was offset by a strike in Ness county, Kan., where the Oriental Oil company et al No. 1 Dan Tenny, NW NE of 19-18-25W had the Mississippi lime at 4,380 1-2 feet and was flowing high gravity oil with the pay barely scratched.

A new field appeared to be in the making in the Centrahoma district, Coal county, Okla., with a Carter Oil company well making a good showing and other tests near completion.

Texas Employment And Payrolls Gain During March

AUSTIN, June 10. (AP) — Employment and payrolls in Texas increased in March above those in the same month last year and the preceding month.

The University of Texas bureau of business research reports 1,753 establishments showed an employee increase of 1.7 per cent over the preceding month and 10 per cent over March, 1936.

Weekly payrolls increased 4.8 per cent and 16.7 per cent, respectively.

Most of the increases occurred in the petroleum, meat packing, and sulphur industries. Amarillo, El Paso, Fort Worth, Galveston, Houston, and Waco showed better than average gains.

PLAN SUMMER COURSES

AUSTIN, June 10. (AP)—The Texas advisory committee of the National Youth administration is making plans for summer training courses for farm youths eligible for NYA aid.

J. C. Kellam, acting state director, says agricultural schools are cooperating in planning instruction designed to make better farmers of the youths.

The quality of sleep we enjoy is more important than the quantity. Slumber dirturbed by any sort of a dream is a sign that the brain is still active.

Toy-Sized Mississippi Helps Army Hit Floods

A TOOL FOR THE ARMY

This is part of the scale model of 600 miles of the Mississippi river that helps engineers work out flood control problems.

VICKSBURG, Miss., June 10. — A miniature "Mississippi river" is being used by United States Army engineers in their efforts to overcome flood threats of the real stream.

A concrete model has been built by engineers in the hills near here. Occupying 111,600 square feet, it reproduces the terrain of the 600 miles from Helena, Ark., to Donaldsonville, La.

It is moulded to a horizontal scale of one foot to 2,000 feet and a vertical scale (depth) of one foot to 100 feet.

Tool For Fighting Flood

"The model is a tool for handling problems not susceptible to mathematical analysis," says Lieutenant Paul W. Thompson. "Its purpose is to show the effects of various operations of floodways and changes in channel levees.

"If a cutoff is contemplated, we produce the planned cutoff in the model and ascertain the effects of water surface elevations above and below the cutoff, and learn whether the cutoff will raise or lower backwaters."

One cubic foot of water flowing through the model represents 1,500,000 cubic feet a second in the river, and about six minutes in the model is the equivalent of one day in nature.

Artificial Roughness

The model includes the backwater areas of the Arkansas, Yazoo and Atchafalaya rivers, and rain water is let in in proportion, according to the weather bureau's rain bulletins.

Lieutenant Thompson says accuracy of the model depends chiefly on adjusting the "roughness."

"'Roughness' means trees and foliage on the overbanks of the river which retard the flow of water," he explains. "It is stimulated in the model by the use of wire screens, which retard the flow of water.

"The model is moulded to conditions of a given year—say 1935. We know what the various gauge readings were. Our problem is to adjust the model for 'roughness' until the same gauge readings are obtained as existed in 1935."

Cultivation Of Ranges Starts

BEAUMONT, June 10. (AP)—Cultivated range land is proving successful in Jefferson county.

Results of 18 pasture demonstration plots show that fertilizing of land and the planting of clover brings farmers profit in more and better grazing.

The demonstrations, coming out of the experimental stages, will be continued four years and sponsors hope to design a formula for the successful cultivation of pasture land.

Improvement Shown

The 18 plots carried an average of three head of livestock for each two acres of improved pasture in January, February and March. There was an improvement in April, the best month for the succulent white Dutch and Persian clover.

The demonstration pastures were fertilized with triple super-phosphate at 200 pounds to the acre and were planted in the clovers.

Alternate grazing has increased the carrying capacity of the land in addition to giving the cows better grazing. Farmers practicing alternate grazing divided their pastures into several small plots by cross fencing.

The cattle are turned on one pasture a few days, or until the forage has been grazed off, then moved to another and the cycle repeated. This, the farmers say, prevent the cattle from browsing all of the pasture daily and trampling down about as much clover as they eat. By the time the grazing cycle is completed the first pasture is ready again and the stock get the tender growth of the clover.

Produce Twice Amount

Fertilized areas, the experiments show, are producing about twice the original amount of grazing. The fertilizer made it possible to grow clover on poor soil and, incidentally, the clover improves the soil.

Sponsors say some of the demonstrations show remarkable improvement over native range. W. E. Kitchen, Nederland dairyman, grazed 38 milk cows on 15 acres of improved pasture the first three months of the year.

Ed Rake, another dairyman, grazed 20 yearlings, 60 sheep and two work animals on 30 acres the first three months of the year.

The 18 demonstration plots contain 1,240 acres.

Ten Per Cent Of Motorists Are Reported To Be Suffering From Night Blindness

ATLANTA CITY, N. J., June 10. (AP)—Possibly ten per cent of motorists suffer from "night blindness" due to an absence of a dark purple liquod, notwithstanding their eyes are perfect in daylight.

This was indicated by a new optical test, shown to the American Medical association recently, which will enable doctors to measure the fluid, known as visual purple, essentially Vitamin A.

It flows from the nerve endings in the eye known as rods. Only these rods can "See" in dim light.

Common In Russia

Night blindness, until the new optical test was perfected a few weeks ago, was supposed to be confined mostly to people on very poor diets, who ate almost no vitamin A. It was common in Russia during the war.

Medical men did not dream that the same blindness could affect large numbers of Americans who ate perfectly adequate food.

Seeing in either daytime or bright light is done with a different set of nerves known as cones. They have none of the dark fluid. While they are at work the purple fluid washes out of the rods. Without it the rods cannot see.

That is one reason why a person going into a dark theater does not see for a few seconds. He sees as soon as the purple flows again.

To prevent needles and pins from rusting, stick them into a piece of flannel which has been saturated with machine oil.

We Make Bold To Say A Word

THE front pages—and parts of those on the inside—of your favorite newspapers have been literally full, lately, of stories dealing with Labor unrest and strikes, present and future.

With new laws to protect the workman—and it must be admitted he needed some protection — employer-employe relations have been strained to the breaking point. With a hysterical woman heading the labor department and an administration which gladly tackles anything save pressing problems which might have a political kick-back, we have gone, The Morning Avalanche thinks, slightly cockeyed. In fact, things have gone so far under the spurs of ambitious John L. Lewis, who apparently is above the curb of laws federal, state and local, that it has become popular to assume that every man who had made a business success is a crook, a "Simon Legree" to those on his payroll and an altogether undersirable citizen.

We fully realize that it is unpopular even to consider anything said by a person connected with the New York Stock Exchange.

We understand fully that the present trend is to consider any person with such connections "an economic royalist," a "captain of Cossacks" and, no doubt, a "Liberty Leaguer."

Yet just the same; when we chanced to run across some remarks recently made by Charlie R. Gay, president of the exchange, we decided they were too good, too far-sighted, too close to conditions to pass them by without a reprint.

Remarked Mr. Gay:

"The government is, or should 'be, of the people, by the people, for the people.' To me this means just one thing—all the people. If government, through legislation, favors one class as against another, a vicious circle is created around which class pursues class in an effort to secure selfish advantage. For the worker it must create means to guarantee the right to work, the right of the individual to work out his own destiny. To the business man it must guarantee freedom, subject to considerate and just regulation, to continue to make his contribution to the upbuilding of the country, the maintenance of that high standard of living which has been our pride, and to realize adequate profits.

"To capital it must guarantee the right to seek employment in productive enterprise subject to fair taxation but not confiscation. Capital, representing the savings laid up against the 'rainy day,' may not take undue risks, and if through too great taxation the "game is not worth the candle', capital will disappear into hiding and thus restrict the productive efforts of business and worker."

Despite the fact that the present distressing trend is as it is, we wish President Roosevelt would tear himself away from the bright young "liberals," who admittedly have been leading him of late, long enough to cogitate upon Mr. Gay's remarks.

We think the result would mean a better, brighter era for all Americans, whether they be rich or poor, employe or employer.

The One-Minute Sermon

Therefore it shall come to pass, that as all good things are come upon you, which the Lord your God promised you; so shall the Lord bring upon you all evil things, until he have destroyed you from off this good land which the Lord your God hath given you.

When ye have transgressed the covenant of the Lord your God, which he commanded you, and have gone and served other gods, and bowed yourselves to them; then shall the anger of the Lord be kindled against you, and ye shall perish quickly from off the good land which he hath given unto you.—Joshua, XXIII, 15 and 16.

GRADUATE AT 87

Louis Andrieux, famous French statesman, was born in 1840 and quit school for a career. He served as District Attorney, Police Chief of Paris, Deputy French Ambassador, finally rising to the post of Speaker of the French Chamber. In 1927, 66 years after he left school, while Andrieux was 87 years old, he decided to return to school to obtain his degree. He entered the Sorbonne, and after a year of study was granted his doctor's degree, after an examination at which the entire university attended to do him honor.

PEARS PRESERVED IN 1860—STILL PERFECT

In the fall of 1860, Park & Tilford, N. Y. preserved a 5-gallon glass jar of Bartlett pears containing approximately 140 to 150 pears. after a period of 77 years, these pears are still in perfect state of preservation. The pears were peeled, but stems left on and packed in grain alcohol and the jar sealed with paraffin wax.

Yesterday: Dorothy, studying old San Francisco papers, finds clew to implicate Norton in murder. Then Bob remembers he and Norton went into New York the night of the crime, on the same train—a perfect alibi for Norton.

CHAPTER XXIX

Waiting on the Green Hills station for the train to Manhattan, Dorothy repeated to herself, "I am Joan Barrett. I am afraid of being accused of murder. Where shall I go? Where can I hide?"

She took the train to the city because she thought that the likely place for a girl to hide. In the small suburban towns, people were quick to notice strangers. But 10,000 strangers arrive in Manhattan every day. Joan could lose herself for months there . . .

The thought which haunted her above all else was that Joan, driven too far by this ghastly turn of events, might do something desperate. She had fought down so many fears; this worst shock of all might prove the last straw.

She must find her!

If she had to walk up and down every street in Manhattan, she must find her! A merciful Providence would lead the way, and she clutched at that faith.

It was close to three o'clock when she arrived in Manhattan, and for one dizzy moment, she stood stock still in the station, wondering where in the world to go next.

The first editions of the evening papers were already on the streets, and the mysterious death of John Ware Hendry hearlined every front page. Dorothy bought a copy and went into the waiting room to read it. So far only the barest details had been made public.

"Police are concerned," she read, "over the simultaneous disappearance of Miss Joan Barrett, secretary to the murdered man. As far as can be determined, Miss Barrett was the last person to see Mr. Hendry alive."

That was all. No reference to the background of Joan Barrett; evidently the police had not been sufficiently certain of that to give the story out to the press. They did not take Sybil Hendry's word, then. They were making their own investigation.

She read on to the bottom of the column, then followed the story back to page 22. Here was a complete biography of John Ware Hendry, of his work in the interests of mining, his early life, his charities. She did not stop to read it through.

As she folded the paper together her eye fell upon the classified advertisements on page 23. The words "Rooms to let" struck her forcefully.

"Rooms to let," she repeated to herself.

She opened the paper again to page 23.

"Suppose," she thought once more, "that I am Joan Barrett. I am trying to hide away, but I have only a few dollars. I have no baggage. I dare not go to a hotel, the police would check there first. Yet I cannot roam the streets forever . . . There is only one thing I can do. I will get a quiet room somewhere."

Her eyes brightened at this new possibility, and the more she considered it, the stronger became her conviction that Joan would have followed that course. Frantically she read down the columns of advertisements. She took a pencil out of her bag and checked them off numerically in order of location. She would start out and make the rounds of every furnished room in the city . . .

She stopped, abruptly, a sudden idea occurring to her. This was the afternoon paper; Joan, arriving in town before dawn, would have bought an early morning edition. She left the paper on the seat and rushed to the news-stand.

"Have you a morning paper?" she demanded breathlessly.

The clerk looked under the counter. "Just one left," he replied. "It's a little torn . . ."

"That's all right. I'll take it."

The classified ads, she noticed were intact. That was enough. She hurried back to the waiting room and began to check off the advertised rooms in order of location. She worked desperately; there were so many ads—so many columns of ads—in the morning paper . . .

She made another list of all those which gave the telephone number. She could phone them; that would save several hours' work.

She rushed back to the newsstand again, and changed three one-dollar bills for nickels. The clerk looked at her in astonishment, and after she left, he tapped his head expressively. "Nuts!" he confided to the young man at the other end of the counter.

By 5 o'clock she had spent 34 nickles and called 30 numbers. A dozen irate customers had glared at her for monopolizing the phone booth, and one man threatened to call an officer. But she kept on, despite them.

She spoke to 40-odd different women—shrill women and soft-spoken women; suspicious women and curious women; reticent women and garrulous women. She heard every epithet that was ever applied in the glorification of the furnished room; she promised a dozen women that she and her sister would take the room without doubt on the morrow.

But no woman admitted that a young lady, slim and blond, had taken her room that day.

Her list of phone numbers was depleted; now she must visit the other rooms listed. She must work systematically and hurriedly, because the time was slipping by so quickly. Through the windows of the terminal she could see that darkness was already beginning to fall . . .

She wondered whether it would be better to start on the east side and work north, or go all the way up town on the west side and work south. She chose the latter route, since she might lose an hour or more going from east to west in the upper part of the city.

She took the west side subway express to the last stop on the line. This was the location of the first room on her list.

She told the landladies as she met them, the same story she had used over the telephone, varying it to suit the occasion. Her facial muscles ached from smiling so continually and so convincingly; her head rang with the dull echo of her own voice.

From one address to another she hurried, when the distance in between was too great she took a bus or a taxi. She climbed endless, consecutive flights of stairs . . .

But she found no trace of Joan. Discouraged and defeated, all manner of doubts assailed her. She kept on, nevertheless.

It was after seven o'clock, now, closer to eight. She met other people looking for rooms in earnest, and they complicated her mission and delayed her.

One fact encouraged her. Evidently few rooms had been rented that day. And those women who had rented successfully were eager to boast of their good fortune. But none had rented to a slim, blond young lady . . .

Dorothy's head began to spin, and she caught herself stammering over the words she had repeated so frequently. There was a feverish excitement in her eyes now, and a few women regarded her with cool suspicion.

At nine o'clock she was downtown again, to Columbus Circle, and she changed her course and went over east, to work uptown.

At nine-thirty a woman informed her severely that it was too late to show the room that night; she had better come back in the morning . . .

"I'll try a few more," Dorothy persisted. "Just a few more, until it's ten o'clock. Not everybody goes to bed so early."

It was exactly quarter to ten when she climbed the steps of the untidy house on the poor side street . . .

"May I inquire of a young lady took the room this morning?" Dorothy asked mechanically.

"A young woman? Yes indeed. A slim, blond young lady . . . Miss Andrews. Would you like to see her?"

Miss Andrews. Joan had borrowed the name Bob wanted so badly to give her. Tears of relief sprang into Dorothy's eyes, and she longed to hug Mrs. Griggs, dirty and unpleasant as the woman appeared.

"No," she said. "I don't think I'll see her just now. I do want to be sure it's she, however . . ." She searched through her bag and drew forth a snapshot of Joan. "Is this she?" she inquired tremulously.

"Yes, that's the one," Mrs. Griggs

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

THE government's most expert economists pay Wall Street the highest compliment the bulls and bears have received from Washington since Franklin D. Roosevelt entered the White House. In their opinion, the speculative boys have correctly gauged the future prospects in knocking prices down.

For a six-month stretch industrial activity has held to the index figure of 119, with 1923-1925 as 100—or about the same level as the 1929 peak. The Street capitalized on that uplift. Now, however, the prophets look for a slight recession that will last through early fall. It will be due largely to a falling-off in production of consumer goods—autos, textiles, shoes, etc.—and to the lag in construction, railroad and mining fields. Wall Street's slump simply amounted to discounting of the summer sag.

Though a more serious recession lasting from six to eight months—not a depression, however—is looked for some time in 1938, the forecasters anticipate another spurt late in that year. Barring unexpected upsets, they figure that this boomlet will last from two to three years—probably until 1941. Whether the tailspin programmed for that year will match the severity of the 1929 performance depends upon the reforms and readjustments which F. D. R. installs in the meantime. It means, for the average man, that he has aout four years to build himself an economic cellar.

TIMING: Several documents hidden in the dusty files of the Senate Finance Committee suggest that the "moral indignation" exhibited by Messrs. Roosevelt and Morgenthau over the spectacle of tax-dogging has been simmering for four long years, and didn't boil up until a politically convenient hour.

In urging publicity and legislation to shame and checkmate tax cheaters, Secretary Morgenthau informed the President that the malefactor's of great wealth had been uncovered in the investigation conducted by First Assistant Roswell Magill. The inquiry, so Mr. Morgenthau said, was inspired by the discrepancy between estimates and receipts for the March 15th (1937) income tax due date.

But the fact is that Mr. Magill submitted the same sort of data to the Senate Committee in executive session back in December, 1933, when Congress was preparing to enact the 1934 tax revision law. Mr. Magill discussed the same problems raised by Mr. Morgenthau in his letter to the President—depletion, community tax laws, foreign incorporations, etc. He even set forth the same examples of tax avoidance and evasion so lately cited by the Secretary of the Treasury. But neither Congress nor the Treasury acted to close the loopholes, or to talk about them—until a week ago.

YESSIR: Governor George Earle's rivals for the 1940 presidential nomination face an almost impossible handicap if the Pennsylvania Governor lives up to the advance notices distributed to Washington newspaper offices by his press agent when he addressed the Southern Society at the capital. The erstwhile Republican playboy appears to be a presidential paragon.

The 6-page biographical sketch which reached every newsman's desk eulogizes the governor as a Mayflower descendant, a son of the Mad Anthony Wayne family, a Quaker, a polo player, a soldier, a fisherman, a manufacturer, a superb diplomat, and the devoted husband of a southern wife. Even his wealth was transformed into a political asset, for he was described as "one who decided to forego the easy ways of a wealthy man's son to whom the doors of even greater wealth were open, and take up the burden of public service in the interest of his fellowman." His appearance before a southern audience was hailed as "an evidence of the breaking up of sectional ties." Another Lincoln, so to speak.

Keen observers definitely marked him as the first candidate to admit his ambitions, and to aspire to the role of Roosevelt heir. With only a few exceptions, you could substitute the name "Roosevelt" for "Earle" in the spreadeagle publicity, and the eulogy would apply to the man in the White House. It was as clever a bit of covert compliment as political wiseacres have seen since Martin Van Buren yessed Andrew Jackson more than 100 years ago.

ERROR: State and War department spokesmen still hold their tongues, officially and unofficially, when the grand old name of McNutt is mentioned, but the Philippine high commissioner may have known what he was doing when he commanded that he be toasted second to President Roosevelt with the islands' chief executive, Senor Quezon, running a poor third in the cocktail race.

The new version at Washington is that Commissioner McNutt was ordered to impress upon the Philippines' neighbors (Japan) that Uncle Sam holds sway in its Pacific outpost for seven more years. That coincides with the known concern which Washington feels over Nippon's economic penetration of our possession in recent years. The impression here is that Japan is simply waiting until we move out, and has encouraged abortive efforts for a more speedy severance of the ties that bind the islands to Uncle Sam.

Mr. McNutt left Washington with the distinct impression that it was up to him to do something heroic and do it quickly. His only mistake seems to have been in selecting cocktails for weapons in the diplomatic duel. The dignified Cordell Hull doesn't believe in washing diplomatic linen in liquor.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

THE New York office of the National Labor Relations board has a significant experiment up its sleeve. It is planning to rule—acting upon the inspired application of a labor union—that a certain department store group is engaged in interstate commerce and therefore subject to the Wagner act.

The store group management is expected to deny this. A court battle is anticipated. The N.L.R.B. is confident it has a case that will stand up, in the light of recent Supreme court rulings, because a common buying office purchases goods for resale in several different states.

If this contention is upheld, the scope of the Wagner act will at once be enormously enlarged. Labor board people privately hope that once the precedence is established, other department stores whose interstate charter could not be clearly defined in line without an argument.

STANDARDS: Informed New Yorkers get word from their best Washington contacts that a wage-and-hour bill is practically certain of enactment at this session of Congress. It is understood by corporation heads, however, that the President's original proposal will be extensively altered.

Most important change will probably be the setting of specified standards by Congress instead of delegating to a board the authority to set them. The wage "floor" is expected to be $15 or $16 a week. Maximum hours to be designated by law will likely run closer to 40 than 35.

Odd angle is that there may be very little objection from big business. Most large corporations already meet the requirements to be outlined. The big squawk is due from small business men who have set up plants in out-of-the-way places in order to obtain a wage advantage over large competitors. Regional differentials present a serious complication, but these will probably be worked out slowly and cautiously.

EFFECTIVE: Times have certainly changed for maritime workers since bucko mates bullied helpless seamen. The unions are in the saddle and riding high.

A union delegate on a freighter in New York harbor threatened last week to call a sit-down strike that would have paralyzed the ship and postponed its sailing unless two demands were met. One was the installation of an electric light over the individual bunk of every member of the crew (berthed two men to a room), so a man coming off watch needn't wake up his roommate by lighting the ceiling light. The other was installation of a special percolator so every watch could have fresh coffee.

These demands were cagily presented after the crew had signed articles, when it would have cost a month's pay to fire them. The boys got what they wanted—otherwise the ship would have been tied up. Veteran officers ask what the ding-dong-bell the shipping worl'd is coming to.

TARZAN AND THE MAYAN GODDESS, No. 125

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

As the monsters closed in, Ula summoned George and Tohua to form a compact triangle of defense. And now, back to back, they sought to cover every angle of attack. They had to be careful, however, not to endanger D'Arnot, who was surrounded by a monster band.

Rifles and revolvers cracked and banged. A score of the monsters fell. But now the leader of D'Arnot's guards conceived a crafty stratagem. Pushing the prisoner out in front, he commanded his band to march behind, straight toward the girl and her friends!

Ula was trapped. She dared not fire for fear of hitting D'Arnot. And so the column of monsters advanced safely behind the human shield. But Ula would not surrender so easily. When the brutes were within a few feet she ordered a last hand-to-hand attack. . . .

. . . In the jaguar pit, Tarzan listened hopefully to the rattle of firearms, but when the shots ceased after a few rapid rounds, he knew that his friends had been overwhelmed. Now he could no longer ignore the fact that doom was rushing down upon them all!

Water Survey Is Begun In Area

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, June 10.—Thestate board of water engineers co-operating with the U. S. geological survey has started a detailed study of underground water in the High Plains area of Texas to determine the amount available for irrigation and other purposes.

With but few surface streams in the plains area of the nation which covers parts of New Mexico, Colorado, Oklahoma, and Kansas in addition to Texas, underground water is one of the most fundamental resources.

Match Federal Funds

The study which will supplement preliminary investigations was made possible by an emergency appropriation by the legislature to match federal funds.

Work now is concentrated in the Plainview-Lubbock-Hereford areas. Texas' portion of the Plains is the area west of a lane north from Big Spring through Crosbyton to Clarendon and all of the Panhandle north of an east-west line through Amarillo.

Geologists say ground water in the area occurs almost entirely as nonartesian "sheet water" in the teritary sands which mantel the Plains to a thickness of as much as 400 feet.

Interest In Irrigation

There are several irrigation districts in the High Plains of Texas, notably at Muleshoe and Plainview, and there is great interest in spreading the practice elsewhere.

Information obtained in earlier studies will be coordinated with new information. All wells in which the water level was measured previously will be revisited to determine the drop in level, if any, and levels will be measured at definite intervals over a long period to determine the rise or fall in the entire area.

Many water samples will be collected and analyzed, a phase not entered into before. Special attention will be paid to the flouride content which discolors the teeth of growing children.

Afraid To Love

said immediately, "Your sister, eh?"

"Yes . . . she left home hurriedly this morning . . . " She thought quickly for some sort of explanation. "She quarreled—with her boy friend. We've both been looking for her all day . . . May I phone him and send him around? He wants to patch up their quarrel . . . "

"Sure thing!" Mrs. Griggs agreed heartily, a trace of a smile lighting up her face. "We've no phone here, but you can find one in the drug store on the corner."

"Thank you so much!" Dorothy breathed.

She rushed to the corner drug store, though her knees trembled now and threatened to sink beneath her weight. But her heart was light, and her headache had vanished in a quick whirl of joy.

If only she could reach Bob! There was just chance that he might be at the Inn or at the Hendry house . . . If it were possible, he must be the one to come and get Joan. Dorothy did not trust herself to another argument . . . .

From the doorway of the untidy house, Mrs. Griggs watched after her, and a long-forgotten memory of romance warmed her heart.

"It's plain foolishness," she told herself, "the way young girls run off by themselves these days. It spoils their whole lives sometimes . . . "

Mrs. Griggs returned to her kitchen and settled down to enjoy her tea, promtly forgetting the whole matter . . .

Indians Break Tradition By Electing Woman Chief; Seeks Better Homes

THE WINNER

Mrs. Nellie Scott Burns won her Indian council seat with a campaign for better homes.

FORT WASHAKIE, Wyo., June 10. (AP)—Mrs. Nellie Scott Burns has convinced the Indians that woman's place is not always in the teepee.

As newly elected "chieftain" of the Arapahoes, she will fight for a higher living standard for her tribesmen.

"I am keenly interested in educational programs, in obtaining better homes for our Indian families and in creating a community work program," says this middle-aged Indian woman who is the first of her sex to win a place in a Wyoming Indian tribal council.

Arapahoe braves who were her opponents in the election turned their arguments toward soil conservation, improved roads and herd betterment. Mrs. Burns talked of comfortable log cabins to take the place of the lean-tos, shacks and wickiups.

It was an election in the white man's manner—secret ballots cast in designated polling places. And women of the tribe voted with the men. Thus it was a complete reversal of the traditional Indian method; a generation ago horsemanship and skill with weapons were chief qualifications for leaders.

Elected to the council with Mrs. Burns were five men.

Crane Is Being Developed And Maintained By Oil Payroll

CRANE, June 10. (AP)—Discovery of oil made this town and a yearly payroll of $1,200,000 is developing and maintaining it. The tent town has been substituted by permanent construction and officials say the county will be free of debt after July 1. Road bonds totaling $16,000 also will be retired. Crane county's valuations for taxation are approximately $6,000,000.

Crane, Ector, Regan, Pecos, and Andrews counties made a joint agreement with the University of Texas whereby the university agreed to pay taxes on its production royalties. Crane county's share will be about $15,000.

Quiet Pond Of Brackish Water Rests In Sport Where Wild Oil Well Once Burned

EDINBURG, June 10. (AP) — On the spot where the burning Pantano-Speed oil well once shot flames 300 feet high, there is a quiet pond of brackish water 50 feet in diameter surrounded by nearly 100 acres of yellow land rendered useless by deposits of salt.

Depth of the pond is unknown, but it covers about an acre of the bottom of the crater caused by the flaming La Blanca field discovery well. No activity since the well choked down has been seen at the site.

The fastest thing a human being can do is to wink an eye. That takes an average of one-tenth second.

College Of Mines Professor Plans Hunt For Villa's Treasure; Cites Legend

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, June 10.—Dr. C. L. Sonnichsen of the College of Mines and Metallurgy at El Paso, a branch of the University of Texas, plans a secret search for the buried treasure of Pancho Villa, Mexican revolutionary leader.

He said the treasure is believed to be in the vicinity of El Paso, near the Rio Grande, but he refused to identify the spot where he will search or the time for exploration.

Relates One Story

"There are thousands of stories and legends concerning the late Pancho Villa and his treasure," Dr. Sonnichsen said. "One of the most logical was related by two men who rode horseback into the sand hills near Zaragoza about dark.

"They carried picks and shovels and saddle packs, and both they and their mounts showed signs of weariness. They had ridden since early morning and were looking for the treasure they felt was buried somewhere in the vicinity of the place they were riding.

Had Marked Burying Place

"Friends of the riders, who had been members of Villa's army, claimed to have seen the general ride into the sand hills with a chest and two men and return without the chest or men and that one of the soldiers had marked the burying place with a cross made of white stones. Supposedly the soldiers had been killed so that they would not return and dig up the chest.

"Suddenly one of the riders found a group of white stones laid in the form of a cross. They unpacked their picks and shovels but because it was growing late and were afraid noise of their digging would attract attention they decided to delay work until morning.

"When thy arose they found no cross—only a scabbard on a stunted tree nearby. Many persons who have gone to this spot to dig claim to have seen a light coming up from the place where the stone cross disappeared. Natives believe it to be the ghost of Villa with a light seeking the treasure. When the searcher nears the light, however, it goes out and can be seen only from a distance."

Texas Teachers Are Becoming Smarter

AUSTIN, June 10. (AP) — Texas school teachers are getting smarter. Department of education statistics prove teachers, with all their duties, find time to improve their own education.

A checkup after a teacher training conference showed that in a six-year period up to the present, the number of elementary teachers with B. A. degrees or higher increased from 14 to 36 percent with the group's size remaining practically unchanged.

Over the same period some 9,000 high school teachers raised their percentage of degree-holders from 65 to 87 and only slightly over one percent had less than two years' college training.

Of 42,000 teachers and administrative officers, 31 held doctor's philosophy degrees, 2,600 masters degrees and nearly 20,000 bachelor's degrees.
