Messages of congratulation on the selection of Snyder as an All-America City still arrive daily at city and Chamber of Commerce offices here.

Some of the latest have come from Big Spring, Littlefield, Alice, and from three other All-America Cities, Edinburg, Charlotte, N. C., and Cottage Grove, Ore.

Littlefield is one of the cities visited by Snyder delegations when the downtown improvement project was being planned here a couple of years ago. A massive downtown project had been completed there and it resulted in Littlefield being named a runner - up in the All-America Cities judging at that time.

In the message from Alice, interest was expressed about the possibility of a delegation from that city making a visit to Snyder in the near future to look over our town.

The only regularly scheduled elections of this year are coming up soon and absentee voting is now underway.

The Snyder City Election will be held on Tuesday, April 1, to name three members of the City Council.

School trustees will be named on Saturday, April 5. Two places on the Snyder School Board will be filled at this election.

Absentee voting in the city election will continue through Friday of this week, while absentee voting in the school election will continue through Tuesday, April 1.

The absentee voting may be more important in the school election than usual since the April 5 election day falls during the Easter Holidays.

Snyder is host this week to a lot of public school pupils as the 11 high schools in the University Interscholastic League's District 3-AAA assemble here for their literary and academic contests. Snyder High has done well in these events in recent years, winning the district title three of the last four years. The locals lost the 1966 title by 1½ points. Last year they scored 144 points, 50 more than their nearest competitor.

Billion-Dollar Hike In State Spending?

By GARTH JONES
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas legislators stared eyeball-to-eyeball today at figures hinting they may be about to increase state spending by one billion dollars.

More than half the increase, if a Senate Finance subcommittee's recommendations are accepted, would come from general revenue, the fund that is fed mostly by day to day taxes from Mr. and Mrs. Taxpayer.

Estimates of new tax needs jumped sharply after the proposed Senate Appropriations bill was revealed Monday. The full Senate Finance Committee is expected to rubberstamp the plan Wednesday.

House leaders predict it will be another 10 days before their appropriations bill is ready for public view.

* * *

AUSTIN (AP) — Here is how the proposed Senate appropriations bill for 1970-71 and the Legislative Budget Board's recommended budget compare with current (1968-69) state spending from general revenue, in nearest millions:

	Current	Budget Board	Senate
Judiciary	$14.5	$14.9	$15.4
Health, Hospitals	$215.5	$244.1	$267.5
St.Depts. Agencies	$168.5	$138.3	$211.6
Education	$521.9	$640(o)	$704.6
Legislature costs	$12.8	$14.7	$19.8
Totals	$932.6	$1,104(x)	$1,219

(o) Includes $15.5 million for a new medical and new dental school.

(x) Gov. Preston Smith supported the Budget Board recommendations plus recommending $220 million for teachers pay raises and $8.3 million for another medical school.

* * *

While senators and representatives worried about spiraling state expenses they faced full debate calendars this morning and one of the busiest committee sessions of the year this afternoon.

The Senate Finance blockbuster Monday proposes a two-year spending program of $5.77 billion from all funds—not counting $244 million already recommended by Gov. Preston Smith and the Legislative Budget Board for a public teachers pay raise and for three new state medical and dental schools.

The 1968-69 spending from all funds was 5,06 billion.

The Senate bill, minus any teachers pay raises or new medical school expenses, would cost $1.21 billion from general revenue compared to the $934 million spent the past two years. The general revenue fund is expected to show a balance of only $58.5 million at the beginning of the state's new fiscal period, Sept. 1.

The governor's bill, minus teachers pay raises or new medical schools, calls for $1.18 bil lion from general revenue and budget board would spend $1.09 billion from the fund.

The budget board recommended a new medical school costing $8.25 million at Houston and a new dental school costing $7.25 million at San Antonio. Smith supported all the budget board recommendations plus a $220 million teachers pay raise and $8.3 million for a new medical school at Lubbock.

Barnes estimated the Senate bill would cost $63.3 million in new taxes and a teachers pay raise and new medical schools could call for even more taxes.

"I believe this bill takes the most realistic approach to meeting the financial responsibilities of the state," Barnes told newsmen.

After each house acts on its own version of a spending bill, the final decision is expected to go to a 10-man conference committee for the writing of a compromise that must receive votes of two-thirds of the 181 senators and representatives to be adopted.

Then each house will have to approve a tax bill to pay the deficit between expected income and outgo in 1970-71.

Barnes said the Senate's conference committee would be bound to adjusting differences between the two houses only, not injecting new expenditures unseen by fellow legislators.

"We are not going to the conference committee with a list of additional things not in the bill," Barnes promised. He also said all senators would be kept fully informed of the House-Senate negotiations.

Speaker Gus Mutscher, who thinks the House conferees should not be bound to merely adjusting differences, said the joint ruies that Barnes favors have been "retired" in the House.

Thieu Asks Private Talks

SAIGON (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu said today his government is prepared to hold private meetings with the National Liberation Front.

The South Vietnamese president imposed no conditions on such meetings and added that he felt the Front, the political arm of the Viet Cong, would agree to such talks.

He told a news conference such talks could be part of private discussions in Paris among the delegations to the peace talks there from South Vietnam, North Vietnam, the NLF and the United States.

Thieu told questioners:

He remains hopeful of success at the Paris talks.

This is not the time to talk of withdrawing any of the 540,500 American troops in South Vietnam.

His government does not believe a resumption of the bombing of North Vietnam at this time would be proper response to the current Viet Cong offensive.

Thieu expressed satisfaction with the lines of communication established with the new administration of President Nixon. He emphasized that the government-to-government relations during President Johnson's tenure had been equally satisfactory, but he added that relations were better in Paris with Henry Cabot Lodge than with W. Averell Harriman, the former chief U.S. representative at the peace talks.

The president revealed his willingness to talk with the Viet Cong directly when he was asked about reports that private talks had already taken place in Paris.

"I can't say they have started," Thieu said, "but we are working on it and we are hopeful."

Would these talks involve the Front, he was asked.

"We are ready to have private talks with the National Liberation Front if they like," he replied. "There are many things we cannot decide at the conference table which we can discuss quite frankly in private."

"In private talks anybody could raise any question," Thieu said.

"There are many alternatives. We could talk with Hanoi as well as the front. We could talk with two people or three people."

He said his government's offer had been conveyed to the NLF delegation in Paris but declined to say how or by whom. He said there has not yet been any response but expressed confidence a favorable reply would be received.

He also expressed sympathy for the political problems of the NLF, which he has always termed a tool of the North Vietnamese regime. He recalled previous trips back to Hanoi by North Vietnamese delegates "with stopovers in Moscow and Peking. With the front, they have another stopover in Hanoi."

Roy Ford Funeral Service Here Today

Funeral service was set for 3 p.m. today at the First Baptist Church for Roy Lester Ford.

Mr. Ford, 60, died late Sunday night in Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

Dr. A. B. Lightfoot, pastor of First Baptist Church, was to officiate at the funeral service. He was to be assisted by the Rev. Miller Robinson, pastor of Colonial Hill Baptist Church. Burial was to be in Hillside Memorial Gardens, under direction of Bell - Seale Funeral Home.

AWARDS PRESENTED AT BANQUET

More Aid For Retarded Urged

Mrs. Ferris Clements, vice president of Region III, Texas Association for Retarded Children, called for the expansion of facilities to help mentally retarded persons in a speech last night at the Steak House. The occasion was the "first annual" banquet of the local Association for Retarded Children.

The Brownwood woman praised Bill Schiebel, a member of the local Association, for directing Camp Roadrunner, a summer camp for retarded children, at Brownwood last year. The camp was sponsored by Region II of the State Association.

Mrs. Clements outlined the broad need for additional facilities for retarded individuals in local communities. She told of a rancher in Central Texas who hired a number of retarded adults, who learned useful occupations and became able to support themselves.

Named "Woman of Distinction" in Brownwood this year, Mrs. Ferris devoted part of her speech to congratulating the City of Snyder for having been designated an All-America city. She delivered a letter of congratulations to L. A. Patterson, Snyder city manager, on behalf of the city manager of Brownwood.

Several awards for contributions to the local Association were presented by Jim Erwin, coordinator of special services for the Snyder School System. Schiebel was named Professional Man of the Year. Norman Fulks was named Citizen of the Year, and he also accepted a plaque as a representative of the Kiwanis Club. It was designated Outstanding Organization of the Year.

Awards also were presented to Mrs. Ruth Banks (Parent of the Year) and to Sam Cross (Employer of the Year).

Erwin said the most important award is the parent award.

"It is fortunate for a child to be in a home where there is dignity, love, understanding and acceptance," he said.

Mrs. Clements, the main speaker, quoted Dr. Albert Schweitzer as having said the most lasting impression people leave behind are "footprints of love." Like other children, retarded children also thrive on love, she said.

The Travis Blue Belles, a singing trio, provided entertainment. Included in the group are Pam Smith, Marcie McCormick and Terri Sue Sims. Diane Minick provided piano accompaniment.

Dinner piano music was played by Leslie Loyd. Invocation was given by Dr. John English, and the closing prayer was given by Rev. Quinton Montgomery.

Bill Schiebel was director of ceremonies, and he was surprised when Erwin presented him with a plaque. Also present were teachers in the Humble-Smith School.

Eisenhower Condition Is 'Guarded'

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army doctors reported today the condition of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, struggling to overcome the latest of recurrent heart troubles, remains "guarded."

"His physicians consider that the general's condition has not worsened since yesterday but that the eventual outlook remains guarded," said a morning medical bulletin from Walter Reed Army Hospital.

The term, "guarded," means in medical terminology the outlook as to whether a patient will survive or recover is uncertain.

Brig. Gen. Frederic J. Hughes Jr., commanding general of the hospital who issued the bulletin, told newsmen later the 78-year-old Eisenhower "appeared to reach a plateau yesterday" in his new episode with congestive heart failure.

The hospital said Monday the former president was reported weaker but resting comfortably after what doctors called then a new "crisis."

TEXAS TELESCOPE PROVES

Life Could Exist On Mars

By DONALD H. HARRISON
Associated Press Writer

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Scientists studying light reflected from Mars report "definite and conclusive" evidence of water in the red planet's atmosphere, indicating the possibility of life.

Mars is so dry, however, that only the driest deserts of Earth or peaks like Mt. Everest compare.

Dr. Ronald Schorn of the Jet Propulsion Laboratory said he is convinced after five years' observation there is enough water in Mars' atmosphere to fill a lake a mile wide, a mile deep and a mile long.

"If you took all the water we found, and laid it out on the planet, it would be only one-1,000th of an inch thick," he said Monday night. "It still may not be a great place to live but there's a chance of life there."

Schorn and Steven Little of the University of Texas made their observations through the 86-inch telescope at McDonald Observatory at Fort Davis, Tex.

Schorn said the scientists photographed the spectrum of Mars' atmosphere with infraced film. The spectrograph photo showed the presence of water in the planet's cloud cover, he said.

"There's hardly a place on earth with that low a humidity reading," he said. "The only place I could think of is the top of Mt. Everest. There's more water on Earth's deserts than on Mars."

So far, there is no way to measure whether some portions of Mars have more water than others, he said. But with a new 107-inch telescope now in use, the scientists expect to look at smaller regions of the planet.

"We'll be able to see if this is localized, whether some areas of Mars are more capable of sustaining life than others," the astronomer predicted.

Schorn said photographs by

OLD NAME RESTORED

Foundation Elects Dozen To Board

Stockholders in the Scurry County Industrial Foundation adopted a resolution restoring its original name and elected 12 directors last night.

The organization, known for several years as the Scurry County Industrial Development Corp., is now known again as the Scurry County Industrial Foundation, the name under which it was chartered. In presenting the resolution restoring the original name, Attorney James Ripper said that the name change a few years ago had resulted in confusion in business transactions.

Stockholders attending the annual meeting then ratified all actions taken during the time the organization operated as Scurry County Industrial Development Corp., and elected a full slate of 12 directors to begin serving immediately. Since the charter calls for four board members to be elected each year, the 12 elected last night

DEAR ABBY: My aunt offered to make me and my fiance a matching set of HIS and HERS pajamas for our wedding present if I supply the pattern and pick out the material.

When I asked David about this he said he prefers to wear the same pajamas he has worn for the last 10 years. Upon further questioning, I discovered that the "pajamas" he had in mind were nothing more than his bare hide, and he had no intentions of wearing as much as a thread to bed.

Abby, I was shocked, tho I tried not to let on.

David is a nice looking fellow, and there is nothing repulsive about him, but the thought of his sleeping that way strikes me as being somewhat shameful. What shall I tell Auntie?

OUT WEST

DEAR OUT: Tell Auntie, thanks a lot, but David has all the pajamas he's going to need. (He has.)

DEAR ABBY: We have an 18-year-old son, and I'd like to know what the parents of teenage girls are thinking of. When Rick first started to date he'd say: "The girl has no curfew, and I have to be in before SHE does. It's embarrassing."

We're not unreasonable, Abby. We ask Rick to leave the girl's house at 9 p.m. on school nights, and he has until midnight on week-ends. And if he's going to be held up for any reason, all we ask is a phone call.

This girl he has been seeing a lot of lately has just turned 16. She has no restrictions on dating, and even when nothing special is planned she asks Rick to come over and just "sit around." Needless to say, we are in a constant state of worry. Our son has had good upbringing, but even "nice" kids fall in love and get carried away. I'm afraid they're playing with fire. If Rick came to us and said he had to get married, at age 19 or even 20, I don't know where we'd ever get the money.

Abby, please, please tell parents of girls to help us help them. Curb those dates and long hours. We love our children, and their well - being is the responsibility of both sets of parents. I know this is too long to print, but with your talent maybe you can shorten it and say it better.

"WORRIED" IN OAKLAND, ME.

DEAR WORRIED: I couldn't have said it any better, and I'm printing every word.

DEAR ABBY: It's me again, Paul H. Adams of Babbitt, Nev. Someone wrote in asking if you had ever heard of a lady pallbearer, and you said you hadn't. Then I wrote in and said my mother was one — for 9 months.

Well, you printed my letter, and a number of interesting things have happened to me as a result of that. Practically everyone in town has stopped me to remark on it. You wouldn't believe how many people read your column. Over half of them said, "So Abby does use letters from real people! I always thought she made them up herself."

I received a letter from a man I hadn't heard from in 30 years. But the payoff was some guy in Maine. He wrote to tell me that it was scientifically impossible for my mother to tell during the gestation period whether she was a PAULBEARER or a PAULABEARER.

YOURS TRULY, PAUL

DEAR PAUL: You're getting to be a habit in Babbit. Keep writing.

CONFIDENTIA L TO "I'VE HAD IT:" From your letter I would say your wife has had it, too. Furthermore, she was trying to tell you that you don't do any more for her than she does for you, so if you were to find your fun elsewhere it would be all right with her. But she would rather not know about it.

SDS Calls For Boycott At Columbia

NEW YORK (AP) — The Students for a Democratic Society has called a class boycott at Columbia University today—the opening round in what could become a second spring of student demonstrations.

Last March, SDS members and other students seized five buildings on the Ivy League campus, forced cancellation of classes for the remainder of the term and eventually gained most of their goals.

SDS called for a boycott today to protest what it called American imperialism. A university official said even if the boycott succeeded, he could not "imagine anything happening like last spring."

The radicals' opposition is better prepared this year. Members of Students for Columbia University have handed out "go-to-class" leaflets and promised to force their way into any buildings should SDS throw up a blockade.

Acting president Andrew W. Cordier has warned protestors the school will guarantee the right of all students to go to class. Peaceful protests will be permitted, he said.

Columbia suspended classes for three hours Monday to allow students to discuss a proposed "university senate" to give undergraduates a voice in school policy. A referendum will be held on the plan soon.

Last spring's disorders were sparked by demands that Columbia halt construction of a gymnasium in Morningside Park to allow the Harlem community to use the land and that the university disaffiliate from the Institute for Defense Analyses, which does Defense Department research.

Columbia has abandoned the gym project, quit IDA and granted amnesty to all protestors convicted of minor offenses. The demonstrators had sought total amnesty, but Columbia said it will press all felony charges stemming from the eight-day sit-in.

More than 700 arrests were made on the night of March 30, 1968, and the morning of April 1 when more than 1,000 police moved in to clear the buildings. Nearly 200 protestors were injured, as well as several policemen.

Martial Law In Pakistan

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — President Mohammed Ayub Kha declared martial law in Pakistan today and handed over the administration of the strife-torn country to the army chief of staff, Gen. Yahya Khan, Radio Pakistan said.

Ayub made the announcement in what he called his last address to the nation and appealed to the people to help the armed forces in the maintenance of law and order, the broadcast said.

The radio quoted Ayub as saying that the situation in the country had turned from bad to worse and that the government was unable to control mob violence sweeping both parts of Pakistan.

More than 100 miners, police, firemen and cave explorers had been searching for Brian Williams after he slipped and fell down the shaft while playing with friends near his home on the Welsh island of Anglesey.

Since 1948 scientists have had evidence that the planet's white polar caps, which change size with the seasons, consist of ice an inch or two thick. Atmospheric water vapor has been thought possible but never before detected spectroscopically.

Astronomers have speculated that most of the atmosphere is inert nitrogen.

Scientists hold Mars as the likeliest place in our solar system apart from Earth to sustain life. The other planets present too hostile an environment.

Elected to the board were Charles Blakey, James Rosser, Lyle Deffebach, H. W. Cargile, H. F. Clark, Harry Reed, Bill Wilson, Don Wooten, Malven K. Stevenson, Roger Mize, C. E. McCormick Sr. and Wacil McNair.

Lyle Deffebach, treasurer, reported that the foundation had $27,386.63 on hand and that no transactions involving expenditures are in progress at this time, except for routine correspondence, etc., with industrial prospects. Foundation officers are allowed to use interest on the organization's capital for such routine expenses.

There was a discussion about the possibility of increasing the foundation's capital to a figure more representative of the city the size of Snyder. It was noted that many towns much smaller have larger amounts in their industrial promotion organizations. Also, it was noted that a number of firms here now have not had an opportunity to become shareholders in the foundation. Indications were that expansion of the membership and increasing the capital will be early projects of the new board.

H. F. Clark, president, presided at the stockholders meeting in the community room of Snyder Savings and Loan Association.

Effort Afoot To Reopen Mission Inn

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP) — The Mission Inn, where President Nixon was married, is closed by creditors but efforts are afoot to reopen it.

Businessmen are trying to raise $60,000 to pay back a San Francisco hotelman for taking care of back taxes.

The inn, scene of some of California's most glittering events, was called "the most unique hotel in America" by Will Rogers. It was visited by Presidents Benjamin Harrison, William McKinley, William Howard Taft and Theodore Roosevelt.

Nixon and his wife Pat were married there June 21, 1940.

Local Student To Attend Symposium

H. F. Clark, manager of Texas Electric Service Company, announced today that an outstanding student from Snyder High School will be sponsored by the company to attend the ninth annual Texas Nuclear Science Symposium for High Schools to be held June 3-6 in Austin.

A teacher will accompany the student, also under the sponsorship of the electric company.

The four - day symposium is held on the campus of the University of Texas and is co-sponsored by the university and the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation. Texas Electric Service Company and nine other investor - owned electric utility companies in Texas compose the foundation, which is supporting research at the university in controlling nuclear fusion reactions as a future source of energy supply for generation of electric power.

Some 500 students and teachers from throughout Texas will attend the symposium. The program will include a number of outstanding speakers from science, industry and education, and the delegates will spend two afternoons touring the science laboratories at the university.

"We believe that those students selected to attend by their schools will find participation in the symposium a most educational, interesting and eventful experience, and we are pleased to be able to offer them this opportunity," Clark said.

$5,000 Bond Set In Assault Case

Christoval Mungia, 20, who lives in the 1300 block of Twenty - fourth Street, was charged in Justice of the Peace Court here yesterday with assault with a prohibited weapon. Bond was set at $5,000, and the suspect was remanded to county jail in lieu of bond.

The charge stemmed from an incident that occurred at the Tiger Drive-In Theater last Saturday night, according to City Police, who said Mungia is suspected of having "pulled a gun" on Eugenio Davila, Jr., 19, 400 Thirty-fifth Street. Thoughtful choice of a lamp shade lets you use all of the light being produced, according to the Home Service Department of Texas Electric Service Company. Shades should be open at the top to provide an upward spread of light and wide enough at the bottom to allow light to spread over the work area. Choose a shade which is deep enough to conceal the bulb from view when sitting or standing. White or near-white colors reflect more light for use and a translucent shade diffuses, rather than blocks, light.

Are Businesses Building An Inventory Of Ill Will?

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Is American business building up an inventory of ill will during these days of inflation—a legacy that might be especially damaging to some companies in the event of a downturn?

During inflation money is plentiful, demand is high, sales are relatively easier to make. Some products might even be in short supply and so are grabbed up. Skilled help is hard to get.

The net result, critics say, is a downturn of quality and service and an increase in dissatisfaction. It may be difficult to measure how broad and deep is the discontent. But the complaints are there:

A survey just released by the Better Business Bureau here begins this way:

"It's not fraud or the slick swindle consumers are tearing their hair about these days—it's simply sloppy work and bad service. There has been a sharp increase in complaints about unsatisfactory workmanship, installation or service."

The files of the BBB are only one sounding board. Various consumer groups report similar findings. So do the offices of some attorneys general. Your neighbor's grumblings convey the same frustrations.

A little product worth $5 or so carries what seems to be a big, gold-plated guarantee. The product breaks down and the owner decides to activate the guarantee, but he finds it would cost more to ship the product back to the factory than it is worth.

A broker's customer complains that if he forgets to pay for stock within five business days he receives a formal demand for the money. But this same broker is unable to deliver the certificates for two months.

The telephone company misbills a customer, who replies by letter seeking an explanation. He receives none—just a notice that his service will be discontinued unless he pays up.

An insurance customer has a minor automobile accident. He sends his company all the details: name, address, policy number, dates, and so on. In return he receives a mimeographed form letter:

"The information provided is insufficient. Please give name of our insured, date of accident."

A note is received by the customer of a service establishment to which he owes no money. "An audit is being made of the books of XYZ. If we do not hear from you we assume the enclosed bill is correct."

It isn't, and neither is a stamp affixed to the enclosed envelope.

Over a year-long period an automobile owner spends $200 with a manufacturer's dealer trying to correct an ignition defect in his vehicle. He takes it to still another dealer who immediately fixes it for $7.50.

"They all came through like that from the factory," the mechanic tells the mystified customer, who was under the impression he had purchased and paid for a vehicle that was in 100 per cent working order.

A department store continues to bill a customer for products either never delivered or returned. The requests for payment escalate until a threat of damage to the customer's good name is made.

Only then, under threat of a lawsuit, does the customer receive a satisfactory response. But he remains unpaid for his time, money and effort expended on protecting his credit rating.

Without doubt today's consumers are being offered an array of material goods unmatched in history. But they are also much better informed about marketing processes and more critical of the goods they buy.

The question that some businesses must be pondering during inflation is this: Does the customer also have a better memory these days? Will he forget, or will he remember if the nation returns to a buyer markets?

How's Your Collection Of Memories?

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Memories are like snowflakes and fingerprints. No two of them are exactly alike.

No mater how close two people are or how deeply involved in the same event, their memories of it later will vary.

One's individual history, of course, is largely an accumulation of his memories. And you've got a pretty good collection yourself if you can look back and remember when—

If a woman wore a wig, she tried to keep it a secret.

The only gals who generally appeared in public clad in miniskirts were those who sold cigarettes in night clubs.

Stenographers usually worked with a pencil struck in their buns.

Only sick people were expected to go on diets.

A family had to be unusually well off to afford two automobiles or two bathrooms.

Moralists were decrying the trend toward twin beds as a precursor of widespread divorce.

If you knocked on someone's front door on Sunday morning and nobody answered you figured they'd all gone to church together.

When a housewife wanted to serve cake for dinner, she baked it—instead of thawing it.

One of the problems of childhood was to watch what was going on in all three rings of the circus when you only had two eyes to see with.

For a sum of money a phrenologist would foretell your future by feeling the bumps on your head, which told him what qualities of mind you had or lacked.

A kid thought he was on the road to wealth if he could hold his piggy bank to his ear, shake it—and hear more than one clink.

Some people were afraid to sleep in the light of a full moon for fear it would drive them daft.

Only elderly folks took medicine regularly, and what they took was usually something that the druggist prescribed with the remark, "This should be good for what ails you."

In the average small town there wasn't any real reason to stay up until midnight except on Saturday night—and then only if you were young and in love.

If you saw a home in which the living room blinds were pulled down, you could be pretty sure the couple who lived there were away on vacation or else indulging in a family spat they didn't want the neighbors to see.

For a dime a kid could buy enough penny candy to give himself a stomachache.

The worst curse of boyhood was having to spend a Saturday afternoon beating a rug in the yackyard while the rest of the gang were off swimming or playing ball.

There was still some truth to the old saying about girls—"sweet sixteen and never been kissed."

The biggest fear in most people's lives was that sometime they might have to go in debt.

Those were the days! Remember?

Travelers in the Australian Outback can set their course by looking at the 12 - foot - high - mound homes of Meridionalis termites which always point north and south, the National Geographic Society says.

Junior Editors Quiz on SIAMESE CATS

QUESTION: Why does a Siamese meow differently from other cats?

* * *

ANSWER: Siamese cats are an unusual and fascinating breed. Some have suggested they are a cross between a wildcat and a monkey. Of course, this isn't true, but our artist has had fun illustrating the idea. Exactly when Siamese cats appeared is unknown, although it is thought that they were a variation or mutation of the ordinary cat. They were highly regarded in Siam, now Thailand, and were spoken of as royal cats. In 1884 the British consul general in Bankok was given one of the cats that had lived in the Royal Palace and he took it to England. Siamese appeared in the U.S. in 1895 and soon became popular. The special loud meow of the Siamese appears to be because these cats seem to need more human companionship than others. They actually fret if left alone. They seem to want to talk to their human friends. As one Siamese owner expresses it, "They think they are people." With their china blue eyes, their light cream-colored bodies and striking dark or blue points, they are among the most beautiful of animals.

Knicks Fire At Bullets

NEW YORK (AP) — A couple of unused Bullets triggered action from the commissioner's office and a war of words between Baltimore and the New York Knicks today as a prelude to their upcoming National Basketball Association playoff battle.

NBA Commissioner Walter Kennedy disclosed he has asked the Bullets for a report on why Coach Gene Shue started five reserves against Philadelphia Saturday night and rested high-scoring Earl Monroe and Kevin Loughery.

The Bullets clinched the Eastern Division title Friday night. The 76ers' 116-108 victory over the Bullets the next night—minus Baltimore's two top guns—enabled Philadelphia to nail down the runner-up spot when New York lost in Los Angeles Sunday night.

"It's just a plain fact in sports that you play your first string," complained Knicks' President Ned Irish.

Knicks General Manager Eddie Donovan said Baltimore's strategy will give the Knicks "more incentive" when the two clubs open a best-of-7 semifinal playoff series in Baltimore Thursday night.

Shue isn't buying that.

"I don't really think an explanation is necessary," he said at his Baltimore office. "I run the team as I choose."

"Monroe has bad knees and needs all the rest he can get," Shue pointed out. "Loughery had a groin pull and we've been taking a doctor on the road with us the last month to give him cortisone and novocaine shots. It's impossible for him to play without them."

Shue started Tom Workman, Bob Quick, Leroy Ellis, John Barnhill and Barry Orms against Philadelphia.

Knicks' Coach Red Holzman refused to be drawn into the controversy.

"The Bullets are tough," he said, "but the boys feel they can get them. I have a suspicion they'll be ready to play us."

AT BROWNFIELD

Bengals Golfers In Second Round

The Snyder High School golf team, leading the 3-AAA field, entered the second round at Brownfield today with hopes of maintaining its lead. Teams of the district teed off at 9 a.m.

Coach J. P. Ward's Tigers held a slim one stroke lead over Sweetwater going into the second round today and led third place Lamesa by eight strokes. Brownfield, host for today's 18 hole match, trailed the defending champions by 49 strokes.

Colorado City, Levelland, Littlefield and Slaton also were pretty much out of the running with first round cards varying from 373 to 390.

Snyder's Glenn Rambin was only two strokes behind medalist leader, Tommy Hale of Lamesa, who carded an opening round 74 at Sweetwater last Saturday. His brother, Mitch Rambin also remained in contention for individual honors with a 78 as did Benny Ward with an identical score.

Others on the first Tiger team are Jay Kidd and Phil Ator. Both recorded respectable scores. Jay fired a 83 and Phil came in one stroke higher. The Snyder second team did right well, carding a 358 to finish higher than five of the district's first teams. Competing on the second team are Johnny Powell, Ronald Ward, John Lacik, Steve Boydstun and Ted Donaldson.

The Bengals got in a practice round at Brownfield yesterday. The third and concluding district round will be held at the Snyder Country Club April 12.

Top two teams in the district will compete in the regional tournament at Odessa later in the year, and the top team there will go to state.

Meanwhile, on the local scene, the Travis volleyball girls were set to host Lamesa today in three matches beginning at 5 p.m. at the high school gym.

Two Texas Boys Advance At KC

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Two Texas boxers and a member of last year's Texas team now fighting from Michigan waded through the opening two rounds of the National Golden Gloves Tournament.

Three others from Texas fell by the wayside Monday night as the five lighter weights scrapped two preliminary rounds, reducing the number left to 16 in each of those classes.

Tony Moreno, a flyweight from San Antonio, and James Busceme, a featherweight from Beaumont, advanced to Wednesday night's third round for their division.

Also moving up was Lorenzo Trujillo from Edinburg, Tex., who helped Texas claim the national team title last year but this time is with the Grand Rapids, Mich., team. He won by a knockout and a decision in his first two bouts.

Moreno, after drawing a bye in the first round, outpointed James Heair of Jackson, Tenn., on Monday night's card.

Busceme likewise skipped the opening round on a bye and then punched out a decision over Richard Koeppel of Chicago.

In the 119-pound class, Faustino Coronado of Dallas outpointed Michael Anderson of Columbus, Ohio, before dropping a decision to John Glover of Elizabeth, N.J.

Deryl Brumley of Houston also fought twice opening night, knocking out Allen Woodson of Kansas City at 1:18 in the third round of their 139-pound scrap but being outpointed by Gerald Stewart of Toledo the second time out.

The only other Texas boxer to see action was lightweight Pat Ozuna of Wichita Falls, who progressed through the first round on a bye and then lost by a decision to Thomas Camel of Washington, D.C.

Fighters in the five heavier weights go into action tonight. All 10 weight classes will fight the third and quarterfinal rounds Wednesday, and the semifinals and finals are on tap Thursday.

Still facing their first bouts were welterweight Tommy Von Hatten of Fort Worth, light middleweight Danny O'Quinn of Houston, middleweight Walter Jacobs of Fort Worth, light-heavyweight Milton Leverkuhn of Beaumont and heavyweight Nick Wells of Fort Worth.

Their four victories Monday night gained the Texas boxers four points, good for a sixth place tie with six other teams in the standings, Elizabeth, N.J., took the early team lead with seven points and Cleveland was runnerup with six.

Bass Sees Rockets Fall

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Larry Jones of the Denver Rockets, who is the leading American Basketball Association point producer, sat on the bench in Houston Monday night with a pulled hamstring muscle.

And Coach Bob Bass watched his Rockets falter in the third period as the Houston Mavericks rallied behind Bob Verga for a 124-115 victory.

Verga led all scorers with 26 points, flipping in half of those during the third quarter.

Five other Mavericks finished in double figures in the night's only ABA game.

Cincinnati defeated Philadelphia 125-119 and Boston edged San Diego 111-107 at Philadelphia in a National Basketball Association doubleheader.

The Rockets held a narrow 62-61 halftime advantage, but Houston tied the score four times before moving ahead with a 95-88 third-period advantage.

Levern Tart and Lonnie Wright led Denver scorers with 22 points apiece.

Keith Swagerty contributed 22 points for Houston.

Tiger 9 Begins 3-AAA Slate

"I thought we'd win," said Speedy Moffett, SHS baseball coach, yesterday as his team prepared to meet Levelland in the first District 3-AAA tilt of the season. The game will begin at 4 p.m. today in Lobo Park.

The answer concerned the tournament at Monahans last weekend. Moffett's Tigers captured the championship with three straight victories and boosted their record for the campaign to 10-1-1.

Were there any surprises?

"Yes," Speedy declared, "I was surprised by Merce (Hernandez). He pitched better than I thought he could. He hit the ball well and he saved us a couple of times with long, accurate throws from the outfield that prevented runners from scoring."

The big righthander impressed Speedy so much the veteran coach was considering him as a starter for the first district game today. Speedy listed a probable starting alignment, according to batting order, as follows: Ronny Lewis, rf, Wesley Bishop 1b, David McGinnis lf, Jim Patrick ss, Merce Hernandez p, Jodi Williamson cf, Richie Thompson 2b, Larry Wall or Milton Cates c, and Randy Levens 3b.

But, getting back to the surprises. Coach Moffett said he was also pleasantly surprised by the performance of sophomore catcher Larry Wall.

"He's doing a good job," said Speedy.

Continuing, he said: "We've got several sophomores who are going to develop into good ball players." Take that boy in right field, for instance (Bill Branson). He did a good job as a pinch hitter. He's batting over .600."

As the Bengals prepared to play for "keeps," a glance at team batting averages indicates the Lobos are gonna have their work cut out for them. The team average is .276.

Branson, who has four safeties in six pinch hitting roles, is the leader with a .667 average. Four other Tigers are hitting at a .300 clip or better. They are Jim Patrick (.371), Ronny Lewis (.341), Wesley Bishop (.310) and Larry Wall (.300). After a relatively slow start at the plate, senior outfielder David McGinnis found his batting eye here last week with a home run, then hit 4 for 5 in one of the tournament tilts to boost his average to .256. Other regulars who can be depended on for a steady performance are Jodi Williamson (.273), Richie Thompson (.226), Randy Levens (.233), Milton Cates (.217) and Steve Holder (.214).

There's no doubt about it. Snyder has adequate power at the plate and better than average pitching. If the infield can continue to improve, then the Bengals must be considered serious contenders for the 3-AAA throne, and who knows what else.

But, first things first. Levelland is 6-3 for the season. The Lobos have a strong pitching staff with Mike Dukes and Wilbert Wood aching for a shot at the Bengals.

Today is their big chance.

QUARRY GETS VERDICT OVER BUSTER MATHIS

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — His trunks were shocking pink, not Kelly green, but Jerry Quarry's face is a map of Ireland and he fought big Buster Mathis as if he were using a shillelagh and not a pair of boxing gloves.

There also was a definite shamrock twinge to the crowd emotion as the throng of 15,076 roared approval at Quarry's slam-bang, almost defiant style and derided Mathis' inept performance in the 12-round heavyweight fight Monday night at Madison Square Garden.

The 23-year-old Bellflower, Calif., bomber a 12-5 underdog who was spotting the 6-foot-3, 234½ pound Mathis two inches in height and 38½ pounds, dominated the fight from the opening bell.

Quarry battered the head and body of the Grand Rapids, Mich., giant with heavy rights and lefts to the body and head, dropping Mathis to his right knee with a long right in the second round. Mathis got up at two and took the mandatory eight count.

Quarry showed complete disdain for Mathis' punching and even taunted him in the 11th round by dropping his hands to his sides and sticking out his jut jaw.

Judges Tony Castelano and Jack Gordon each awarded Mathis only the sixth round and called the seventh even. Referee Johnny Colan gave Mathis the fourth and sixth and called the fifth even. The Associated Press gave every round to Quarry.

The lopsided triumph probably earned Quarry a shot at Joe Frazier, the five-state heavyweight champion.

Then someone at a post-fight news conference asked him if would fight Jimmy Ellis if the World Boxing Association champion offered him a match tomorrow.

"Yes," said Quarry who lost to Ellis in the final of the WBA elimination tournament to find a successor for the deposed Cassius Clay.

Harry Markson, the boss of Garden boxing, said, "We hope to make it (a Frazier-Quarry fight) in early summer. "It is the best possible fight in many years and it has the best money potential in many years.

Tuesday night's crowd, many of them New York Irish, which braved a heavy rain paid a gross of $167,293. Each fighter was guaranteed $50,000 again 25 per cent of the net receipts and television money.

Quarry now has won 32 and lost six, with four draws. Mathis, who was stopped by Frazier in 11 rounds is 29-2.

Texans Take Two Of Three

Lamar Junior High's volleyball teams won two of three matches with Big Spring teams here yesterday. The Texan 8th grade "A" team won 15-11, 15-3 after the 8th grade "B" team took a 15-9, 15-12 decision. The 9th grade lost, 9-15, 8-15.

Lamar meets Travis Thursday at 4 p.m. in the high school gym.

Raider Golf Team Upsets Longhorns

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Texas Tech's golf team, more accustomed to playing in the 50-mile-an-hour West Texas wind, pulled one of the surprises of the young Southwest Conference golf season Monday, upsetting Texas and Masters Tournament-bound Rik Massengale, 4½-1½.

Tech's Ronnie White shot a medal score of 74 to cop medalist honors and downed Massengale 3 and 1 in the No. 1 singles match. Massengale shot a 78.

Jim Arnold of Tech defeated Chip Stewart 1 up then teamed with White to defeat Massengale and Stewart 3 and 2 in team competition.

John Shepperson rallied from three holes down with five to play to split with Texas' Tom Kite. Texas' Dean Overturf beat Brad Wileman 3 and 2 to complete UT scoring.

Texas A&M and Arkansas also won SWC golf dual matches Monday—the first day of league golf competition.

The Aggies' Reggie Majors and Richard Ellis tied for medalist honors with 3-over-par 73s as A&M downed Southern Methodist 5½-½. Arkansas won both team matches and rolled to victory over Baylor 5-1.

The Pan American College baseball team shell-shocked Rice with 21 hits and a six-run inning for a 13-2 victory. The loss snapped Rice's six-game winning string.

Rice dropped to a 7-4 season mark, despite a 4-0 SWC record.

Third-seeded Mike Estep of Rice upset teammate Zan Guerry for the singles title in the 11th annual Rice Invitational College Tennis tournament Monday.

It was the first loss of the season for the top-seeded Guerry, as Estep won 6-2, 4-6, 13-11.

Oklahoma City defeated Texas A&M 6-0 in a dual tennis match at College Station.

New Tactics In Narcotics Battle

WASHINGTON (AP) — The director of the government's war on Narcotics trafficking says federal agents have spent too much time in the past "chasing addict-pushers down the streets" and not enough pursuing the major distributors of illicit drugs.

The "stated approach" was to cut off drugs at their source, said John E. Ingersoll, head of the Justice Department's Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs. But, he added, "I don't think it was implemented."

"What they said they were doing and what they were actually doing were often two very different things," Ingersoll said in an interview.

"They were chasing addict-pushers down the streets at the same time they were trying to reach the higher echelons of traffic. There were too many low level arrests being made."

Ingersoll, a former police chief and Justice Department official, was put in command last August of the radically shaken up U.S. effort to combat increasing traffic in narcotics and drugs. The bureau he heads was created by merging the Treasury Department's Narcotics Bureau with the Department of Health, Education and Welfare's Bureau of Drug Abuse.

"We're focusing our efforts on the major traffickers—in the case of drugs, the operators of clandestine laboratories and the major distributors," he said.

"In the case of the importation of hard narcotics and marijuana we are focusing our attention on as high a level of trafficking within the country as we can get, plus we're going to make a greater effort overseas, to reduce or eliminate the source of these narcotics."

Ingersoll also acknowledged a change in the traditional pattern of hard narcotics use. For years the use of narcotics like heroin was limited to the slums but now, he said, "a considerable amount of these drugs are being consumed out in the suburbs, in the middle class and upper middle class population."

Asked whether the Mafia was responsible for narcotics traffic, Ingersoll said "I don't think there is any question that their money is involved." But he said "we don't have evidence that they're involved" in the distribution of drugs like LSD.

TAX ANSWERS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

• • •

Q — Can I use 1968 income and expense figures to make a declaration of estimated tax for 1969?

A — Yes, this is one method that can be used. Should there be a change in these figures during the year then an adjustment can be made at the time an installment is paid.

One change that has to be made when last year's figures are used concerns the surcharge. The rate for the surcharge was 7.5 percent for 1968 but since the surcharge is due to end June 30, the rate that should be used for 1969 declarations is 5 percent.

If you received a preaddressed package of estimated tax forms in the mail be sure to use them when you file. It will help assure proper crediting of your payments.

Q — When you itemize medical deductions, do you add all of your medical insurance premiums to your other medical expenses?

A — No. One-half of the premiums paid for medical insurance up to a maximum of $150 is deductible without regard to the 3 percent limitation on medical expenses. The balance is added to your other medical expenses. This means you may be able to deduct as much as $150 even though your other medical expenses were not great enough last year to qualify for a deduction.

Q — Do you have to pay self-employment tax on income from a part-time business if Social Security tax has been taken out of your regular wages?

A — If Social Security taxes have been withheld on $7,800 of wages, then you will not have to pay self - employment tax on your other income. If Social Security taxes were withheld on wages less than $7,800 then you may be liable for self-employment tax.

The maximum income on which Social Security and-or self-employment tax has to be paid is $7,800. For additional information send a post card to your District office requesting a free copy of IRS Publication 533, Information on Self-Employment Tax.

Q — I have several W-2 forms. Should I send them all in with my return or can I just add them up and give you the totals?

A — All Forms W-2 received should accompany the tax return. Missing W-2 Forms were a major reason for delays in processing returns and refunds last year.

Q — My ex-husband gives me $175 a month for myself and two children. Is this taxable to me?

A — If the money is designated in your divorce or separation agreement as child support payments then it will not be taxable. However, alimony or separate maintenance payments are taxable and must be reported on your return.

Q — What form do I need to report capital gains?

A — Use Schedule D, Form 1040, to report gains and losses from the sale or exchange of property. A copy may be obtained from your local IRS office as well as from many banks and post offices.

Q — I have a company expense account. Do I report this on my return?

A — This should be noted by checking the box at the bottom of Page 2 of Form 1040. If you account to your employer for these expenses and your reimbursement matches these expenses, then there is nothing further to report.

However, if your reimbursement exceeds your expenses, then the excess should be reported as income. If your expenses were greater than your reimbursement then you report the reimbursement and deduct the expenses.

Details on expense accounts can be found on Page 6 of the 1040 instructions.

Women Of C-C Elect Officers

Mrs. Birdie Barron has been elected chairman and Mrs. F. G. Sears co - chairman of the Women's Committee of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Barron was appointed acting chairman by the board of directors at the initial meeting of the committee when it was organized last October.

Two more members, Mrs. Russell Yorgesen and Mrs. L. A. McClanahan, joined the growing list of members of the women's committee at its meeting.

Plans were made for the women to participate in the All-America City Day celebration here April 11. The committee will be in charge of decorating the coliseum and registering out - of - town guests at the banquet.

A workshop meeting will be held at 5 p.m. Friday in Wesley Hall of the First United Methodist Church. Any women interested in working with the committee are invited to attend.

Shamrock Twins Have Retired

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Retirement has broken up the 40-year partnership of two San Francisco policemen who never had to draw their pistols on anyone.

Inspector Lloyd Kelly, 65, said his goodbyes recently, while his sidekick, since 1929, Inspector Frank Murphy, 63, is staying on the force for a while.

Kelly and Murphy, nicknamed the "Shamrock Twins," became the first motorized patrolmen in the city, they became sergeants together, and later inspectors. Officers said they never had to draw their pistols because they used their Irish charm and luck.

Stomach Pains After Commissioners Party

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Officials said about 11 persons suffered stomach pains and other symptoms following a dinner party in St. Louis last week.

The affair was in honor of retiring city health commissioner, Dr. Earl Smith.

Bill Changes Time Of Conventions

AUSTIN (AP) — A bill to change starting times for precinct conventions would give the working man a better chance to take part in politics, Rep. Curtis Graves of Houston told a House committee Monday night.

The earliest starting time for precinct conventions would change from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. The convention must start by 9 p.m.

Notices of precinct convention would have to be published, rather than posted at the county courthouse, as the law now requires.

"This would give the working classes more representation when they choose people to send to the county conventions," Graves said.

The bill was sent to a House Elections subcommittee along with another measure by the Houston legislator to abolish the unit rule in Texas.

Texas led an unsuccessful fight at the National Democratic convention in Chicago last summer to permit the unit rule.

"For all practical purposes, the unit rules is abolished and will never happen in Texas again," Graves said. "We have a mandate from the national party. But it's on the books to nag us. So this bill is to remove the possibility of the unit rule."

The committee postponed for three weeks action on a bill providing a system of presidential preference primaries for all political parties.

Bank Official Arrested In Lordsburg

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — A search for former El Paso bank president Robert F. Lockhart, accused of embezzling $60,000, ended Monday with his arrest at Lordsburg, N.M.

Ray Faisst, agent in charge here for the Federal Bureau of Investigation, said two FBI agents and a New Mexico policeman found Lockhart, 44, at a motel.

The arrested man was carrying firearms and an undisclosed amount of cash, Faisst said.

He was taken to Deming, N. M., for arraignment before a U.S. commissioner.

Authorities charged Lockhart here Sunday with embezzling the money from the El Paso State National Bank, where his reignation as president was disclosed Friday.

Faisst said Lockhart directed bank employes to gather up $60,000 and left with the money March 18. Lockhart was quoted as telling co-workers he would fulfill a request from the president of the Van Horn State Bank and deliver the cash to him.

It was Friday, Faisst said, before an official of the El Paso bank learned the Van Horn bank had neither asked nor received the $60,000.

Lockhart had been an employe of the State National Bank since 1942 and its president since 1967. He also was a director in the El Paso branch of the Federal Reserve Bank of Dalias.

Ex-Student Sentenced

HOUSTON (AP) — Douglas Wayne Waller, 23, a former Texas Southern student, received a one-year county jail term Monday after pleading no contest to a charge of carrying a pistol during a 1967 campus riot.

Policeman Robert G. Blaylock testified he arrested Waller in front of the university's Student Union May 16, 1967.

Waller said he consented to arrest and was not on the campus when rioting broke out. He asked the jury to grant him probation.

Four other former Texas Southern students were indicted following the outbursts. A trial for an assault to murder charge against one former student ended in a mistrial in October.

Waller and the other four are under indictment in the slaying of policeman Louis Raymond Kuba and the wounding of two other patrolmen.

Trudeau's Doubts Concern Officials

WASHINGTON (AP) — Officials hoped today that talks with President Nixon have resolved any doubts held by Canadian Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau about the necessity of a U.S. missile defense system.

Trudeau arrived Monday to discuss the Nixon-proposed anti-ballistic missile—ABM—program reportedly undecided about whether to back the system. He leaves for Ottawa tonight after more discussions with American leaders.

No matter what Trudeau decides, he is certain to face intensive questioning on the matter by his parliamentary opposition.

Last week critics expressed fear that U.S. defensive missile installations near the border would cause radioactive fallout over Canadian territory if they ever had to be used.

Trudeau rejected proposals that he seek to have projected missile sites in North Dakota and Montana moved further south. He said he was interested in finding out Nixon's rationale for deciding to install the system and in determining whether it would be provocative or would contribute to world peace.

Aides disclosed that the ABM issue was among topics covered when Nixon and Trudeau met privately Monday for 90 minutes and later joined in a 45-minute session with other officials in the White House Cabinet Room.

The issue also figured in a followup meeting Trudeau held with Secretary of State William P. Rogers at the State Department.

Not all of the prime minister's visit was taken up with the somber business of diplomacy. At a black tie dinner Monday night, Nixon entertained his first official foreign guest with talk about skin diving, one of Trudeau's favorite recreations.

In a toast, Trudeau invited the President to visit Canada and Nixon indicated he would like to take up the invitation.

Broadcast Regulation Unresolved

By JERRY BUCK
AP Radio-Television Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The question of regulating television programs was raised at tne National Association of Broadcasters Convention and left where it was before—unresolved.

As expected, Sen. John O. Pastore repeated Monday his proposal that the NAB Code Authority be given the power to prescreen programs to eliminate excessive sex and violence. He said it would be a step away from government censorship.

The Rhode Island Democrat first made the suggestion last week during hearings by the Senate communications subcommittee, which he heads.

Two networks, NBC and ABC, gave it guarded approval. But both said in reality the final authority for program content would remain with the networks.

CBS president Frank Stanton said he found it impossible to approve the idea.

Pastore said Stanton "did assure me that CBS would intensify its corporate efforts in this regard."

Stanton said in a letter to Pastore that "the determination of taste and propriety as to television must be pluralistic. A single last word would be harmful in deed, dangerous."

Stanton said he feared that if the authority were given to the NAB it would be only a matter of time before the Federal Communications Commission or a congressional committee chairman attempted further regulation.

Tom Smothers, whose Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour on CBS has had its troubles, said, "I haven't talked to Dr. Stanton but I admire his position on this NAB matter. I've had my problems with CBS and it's kind of paradoxical to be on the other side, but I admire that strength."

Protest Burial Of Segregationist

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — "What does the black community think of us?" asked six Roman Catholic priests in protesting the burial of segregationist Leander H. Perez Sr. from a Catholic church.

The objection came to light Monday when Archbishop Phillip M. Hannan said Perez, excommunicated from the Catholic church in 1962, received absolution from the censure after a "public statement accepting and supporting the authority of the church ... made publicly over a year ago."

Perez died last Wednesday night at his plantation south of here in oil-rich Plaquemine Parish, which he controlled for nearly a half century. His excommunication stemmed from his blocking the opening of a Plaquemines parochial school which had admitted Negroes.

A requiem mass for the 77-year-old political leader who the six priests called "the leading racist of the South" was conducted Friday at Holy Name of Jesus Church on the campus of Loyola University.

Burial, with two Catholic priests conducting the rites, followed in a private mausoleum at Perez' Idlewild Plantation.

"In all candor, we consider the event a disgrace," wrote the six priests—five of them theology professors at Catholic universities here.

The letter to the archbishop from the priests was dated Friday, the same day Perez was buried. It was released Monday night by the archbishop along with his own statement.

Archbishop Hannan, who had disclosed Perez' reconciliation with the church on the eve of the funeral, said in his statement that the fact Perez' "public statement accepting and supporting the authority of the church ... was not reported by the press does not affect the case and is a matter of the freedom of judgment of the press."

The priests' letter called the reconciliation "a mere legalism" and said Perez could not "make up for a public insult by some private prayers or token penance.

Crude Price Upped Again

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Pan American Petroleum Corp. Monday announced a second boost in crude oil prices bringing them up to levels of other companies.

The increases effective Monday, range from three to eight cents per barrel in Oklahoma, Kansas and western Colorado and for west Texas-New Mexico sour crude. Earlier in the month Pan American had increased the price it pays for crude by 9 to 20 cents a barrel.

The increases: Oklahoma sweet crude, eight cents on 35,000 barrels daily; Oklahoma sour, three cents on 5,000; Kansas, five cents on 30,000; western Colorado, seven cents on 15,000; and west Texas-New Mexico sour, six cents on 120,000 barrels per day.

New top prices paid by the company for 40-degree gravity for Oklahoma sweet are now $3.35 per barrel, Oklahoma sour $3.23, Kansas $3.35, western Colorado $3.30, and west Texas-New Mexico sour $3.20.

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — For years Prince Norodom Sihanouk heaped praise on the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong, lauding their "rightful struggle" in Vietnam. Lately he has turned against them, apparently because he feels they will gobble up Cambodia.

An increasingly ominous intrusion of the VC-Hanoi forces into Cambodia is one factor which seems to be making the 46-year-old ruler more friendly toward Washington. A cordial exchange of letters between Sihanoik and President Nixon and the quick release of four American prisoners have set the tone.

At a news conference this month, Sihanouk dramatically announced that the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese are encamped on vast stretches of eastern Cambodia.

More surprisingly he openly expressed wonderment as to why the Americans didn't bomb them.

Sihanouk said the infiltrators "represent an immediate and long term danger" for Cambodia. Once and for all, the prince cleared away any lingering doubt about repeated U.S. assertions that Communist-led forces operate in considerable numbers from his soil.

There was no immediate reaction from the North Vietnamese, who have an embassy here, and from the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front, which has one of its major diplomatic establishments here. But day to day relations between Cambodians and the Vietnamese have markedly chilled in recent months.

Longtime observers here say Sihanouk has brought into the open a struggle for his independence once the shooting war stops in Vietnam. Fears are expressed that the Hanoi-led Vietnamese are so well entrenched that they will never leave on their own.

Sihanouk has had continuing trouble with the Thais, but his main concern now is with the Viet Cong, the North Vietnamese and even the Pathet Lao who operate in Laos.

Pointing to a map at his news conference, Sihanouk sketched in areas in northeastern Cambodia, where he said the Pathet Lao have come in from Laos, and in the east and southeast where Vietnamese have crossed over.

He pointed out frontier areas of four provinces—Kompong Cham, Kratie, Mondulkiri and Ratanakiri—covering a stretch of about 150 miles where he said there was Communist implantation. American intelligence also puts forces that are under Communist direction in frontier areas of the other five Cambodian provinces bordering South Vietnam's delta and this is no longer seriously disputed here.

Government sources said they are fully aware of the military units, their exact locations and their numbers, but these details are considered military secrets.

The regions pointed out by Sihanouk are very sparsely populated, mainly by mountain tribesmen who differ ethnically from the Cambodians.

Sihanouk complained that the Americans do not bomb these regions, where there are no Cambodians but do bomb the 'duck's bill' where the Khmer population is very dense."

This was a reference to Svay Rieng Province, also called the "parrot's beak," which protrudes into South Vietnam in the direction of Saigon. American B52 bombers often fly raids in this region of South Vietnam because of military actions which create a threat to Saigon. There have been numerous border incidents and Cambodians have been killed.

By wondering out loud why the Americans don't bomb forces farther to the north in Cambodia, Sihanouk, some observers here feel, has approached an open invitation to the Americans to come in with planes or raiding parties. "The prince could never openly encourage the Americans to invade his own country," one diplomat said, "and he probably would make a pro forma protest if they did, but in the end he would be pleased."

Why doesn't the prince drive out his unwelcome visitors himself? His army of some 30,000-35,000 just isn't big enough.

Sihanouk's problem with Viet Cong and North Vietnamese forces is only part of his concern about the Vietnamese now and for the future. Government sources say about a half million Vietnamese live among Cambodia's seven million people. They are scattered over much of the country, but mainly around the lake area in west central Cambodia. They refuse to integrate with the Cambodians and lend themselves to recruitment and other pressures by Communist agents, the sources say.

Should the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese make an overt effort to overrun Cambodia, they would have built in fifth column support, these sources add.

US May Agree With Critics And Reduce Wheat Prices

WASHINGTON (AP) — Agriculture Department sources say there is a good prospect that the United States will go along with increasing pressure to reduce the minimun price for wheat set forth in the International Grains Arrangement.

The IGA is a treaty among major wheat naticns which sets up minimum and maximum price ranges. It took effect last July 1, but has had a stormy eight-month history because of much larger world wheat production and cut-price selling by countries trying to unload surpluses.

Almost from the start some countries have been selling wheat below the fixed minimum prices, causing critics to charge the agreement has failed and that the United States should withdraw.

The IGA minimum prices for U.S. wheat generally are 20 cent a bushel more than provided by previous agreements. Under the plan, hard red winter wheat graded No. 2—the largest type sold abroad by U.S. exporters—is priced at not less than $1.73 a bushel, delivered at Gulf ports.

Because this price is higher than that at which exporters can buy wheat at inland markets and move it to the ports, they are required to pay the government an "inverse subsidy" in return for the higher price specified by IGA.

U.S. wheat exports are lagging far below year-earlier levels and may total only 600 million bushels or so for the year ending June 30, compared with 761 million for 1967-68.

Critics claim the higher IGA prices have contributed to the export lag.

Among the recent indications of discontent with the higher IGA wheat prices was Canada's announcement in the last 10 days that it would sell wheat below the treaty price.

Some observers here think Canada's new price may range up to six cents or more per bushel below the IGA minimum for some types of wheat. They also are watching closely how other major exporting nations—mainly Australia, Argentina and the European Common Market—may react to the Canadian price-cutting.

But department officials say the United States does not plan at this time to cut its own wheat prices, that much depends on what is determined at two meetings planned in April.

The department has invited major wheat-producer groups, farm organizations, exporters and others to a meeting here April 2. Another conference is being arranged, probably next month, with wheat representatives from the Common Market, Canada, Australia and Argentina.

Clifford G. Pulvermacher, one of the department's top officials for commodity operations said the April 2 meeting with domestic groups will be aimed at reviewing the wheat export situation since IGA went into effect last July 1, and to seek specific recommendations as to what actions might be taken.

"There is little doubt that most trading nations are selling some wheat below the IGA minimums," Pulvermacher said, including "some types" by the United States.

The department estimates the four major producing nations on Jan. 1 had a total of 2.1 billion bushels of wheat available for export this year, an increase of 400 million bushels from a year earlier.

Pulvermacher said in an interview that this basic large supply, plus larger stocks in traditional importing countries has helped complicate the workings of the IGA price minimums.

"I believe the member nations want the agreement to work," Pulvermacher said, "but I think a basic question is being raised by the amount of wheat in the world today measured against the existing demand. This makes it difficult for the minimum prices to be maintained."

Pulvermacher would not speculate on what proposals might be offered or whether the department might favor a sharp reduction in IGA minimum prices.

Indianapolis Cops Using Recorders

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — City policemen on duty in crime- prone areas are experimenting with portable tape recorders to take own statements from witnesses to wrongdoing or traffic accidents.

Announcing this Monday, Police Inspector Frank A. Spallina said the recorders also would come in handy in case of disputes involving officers.

So far, 20 recorders have been issued. If they work out as expected, the $220 machines will become standard police equipment.

The recorders measure 8 by 12 inches and are carried under an officer's jacket by a sling reaching around his neck. Each machine carries one hour's tape and is activated by pressing a button.

Spallina said the recorders will be a protection both for the witness and the policeman. And he said the officers will be more courteous and careful in their remarks when they know their voices are being recorded.

Witnesses' statements will be transcribed by police stenographers, then taken to the witnesses' homes to be signed.

Officers' reaction to the machines has been generally favorable during the two weeks the test has been in progress. They say the slings are about as comfortable as a shoulder holster.

Spallina said the department also is considering installing a tape recorder in the city jail with microphones in each cell to forestall or confirm charges of police brutality to persons in detention.

Churches To Be Minus Palm Fronds

MIMS, Fla. (AP) — Many Palm Sunday worshippers will have to do so without the traditional palm fronds because of a labor shortage, a major supplie says.

"Some churches are going to look pretty bleak" next Sunday, said Ralph Higginbotham, operator of Florida Palms. "They're going to wonder what happened to them."

"It's mainly labor," he said Monday. "The people that used to cut them have quit. It's not that they can't make the money. It's a little harder work than some other jobs."

Palm fronds are lopped by ax off stumpy sabal palms—Florida's state tree—or cut from towering trees by workmen wielding 30- foot poles topped by razor-sharp blades.

Many florists and church supply houses around the country have reported they're unable to fill palm frond orders. J. F. Grottendick and Sons of Baltimore said it has received only 4,000 fronds and usually distributes 25,000.

Higginbotham said he will fall about 175,000 fronds short of the 1.5 million that were ordered.

The shortage in palm fronds will cause some churches to vary their traditional observance of Palm Sunday.
