

Ike Charged As Giving Comfort To The Soviets

By JACK BELL
SAGINAW, Mich. (AP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois today accused Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower of giving "comfort" to Soviet Russia by labeling American prosperity as war-born.

Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, said in an address prepared for the opening of a five-day campaign tour here that "there is no greater disservice the Republican candidate could do America in its world role than to suggest that our economic strength at home is a war prosperity."

"When the general speaks of our prosperity as being war-born, who can gain comfort except the Soviets, who shout to the world that we have undertaken our defense program not to insure peace, but to prevent a depression at home by waging war abroad?" the Illinois governor demanded. He added:

"We expect this kind of talk from irresponsible isolationists, but not from a man who was formerly looked upon as an understanding leader in world affairs."

Stevenson, scheduled to arrive here by air about noon from Springfield, Ill., thus prepared to take the offensive against his opponent, busily campaigning in the Pacific Northwest.

Eisenhower's statement on which Stevenson teed off was made in several speeches at Philadelphia on Sept. 4, the general declared that "today our initiative, imagination and productive system are once more tied and shackled to war and the prospect of war," adding:

"Our economy is a war economy. Our prosperity is a war prosperity."

Not so, said Stevenson. Instead, he contended that "our high standard of living has been maintained since the Korean outbreak, not because of the defense program but in spite of it."

"It has been maintained for the simple reason that our great productive power has increased total national output by more than the defense burden has increased," the Democratic nominee said.

Stevenson's prepared Saginaw speech was only a preliminary to a major address he has scheduled tonight in Detroit on all phases of the Communist threat—internal and external. The speech will be televised and radio-cast (10:30 p.m., EST, CBS).

The Detroit speech was billed as the climax of an afternoon of motorcade campaigning through Wyandotte, Ecorse and River Rouge in the highly industrialized area of Michigan.

In his Saginaw text, Stevenson said that "the idea that a huge military establishment is necessary for our prosperity is repugnant to every impulse I have."

He said the American economic future is bright, contending that annual outlays for farm and industrial equipment should rise 15 per cent, railroad equipment 30 per cent and truck manufacture 60 per cent.

"We shall need about 20 per cent construction equipment and 30 per cent more metallic ores," he said. "Production of electric power and equipment should almost double."

The Illinois governor said the real problem of the country is "how can we produce enough to meet the demands of the second half of the 20th century?"

Ike Ignores Adlai; Feuds With Truman

By DON WHITEHEAD
ABOARD EISENHOWER SPECIAL (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower was virtually ignoring Adlai Stevenson today to feud with President Truman over which party would do the most for the Pacific Northwest in water power development.

The GOP candidate drew a bead on Truman as his prime target of ridicule and scorn while pushing through Washington into Oregon on his 28-state transcontinental drive.

His schedule during the day called for him to make talks at seven cities and towns in Washington and Oregon—with the major speech at Portland, Ore., at 1:45 p. m. (PST). The talks were scheduled for Tacoma, Centralia and Vancouver, Wash., and Portland, Salem, Albany and Eugene, Ore.

Last night in Seattle, Eisenhower referred to Truman as "an expert in political demagoguery" giving the people "a course in nonsense fiction." And he called the Truman regime a "whole-bog" government operating on the theory that "the federal government must do everything for us and to us."

The crowd of some 5,000 that boarded the presidential campaign train at Grand Junction, Colo., informed this reporter that they told the President his presence is needed to stir up the party organization and chart the issues on which to fight out the campaign here.

"It has been a sad experience for me," Truman said in a speech prepared for delivery to a train-side crowd at Colorado Springs, Colo. Truman said the President "has the awful responsibility" of deciding whether to use the atomic bomb and must be a man "who can stand up to the political pressure when he has to make tough decisions."

He also accused Eisenhower of trying to win votes "by playing upon the casualties and sacrifices in Korea," and talking about "blunders" that led up to Korea when "he joined in the decision to pull our troops out of Korea in the first place."

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
ABOARD TRUMAN TRAIN (AP)—President Truman was told that the Democrats face an uphill battle in Colorado as he intensified campaigning today for that state's six electoral votes.

Key Democratic officials told reporters they are counting on the President's "give-em-hell" presentation of the issues to train-side crowds not only to stir up interest among the voters but to lay down the issues for candidates within the states.

Moving into Colorado last night, his present tour is "only the beginning" and that a lot more of the Republicans "will be worried before they finish reading the terrible Republican record to the American people from one end of the country to the other."

Party officials who climbed aboard the presidential campaign train at Grand Junction, Colo., informed this reporter that they told the President his presence is needed to stir up the party organization and chart the issues on which to fight out the campaign here.

Stevenson said of Truman's attacks against him and the Republicans: "You have been conducted through an underworld of imaginary evils."

He went on to outline his own ideas about the development of Western resources which he said would mean "the full use of private resources plus a local-state-federal partnership" in reclamation programs.

He turned thumbs down on a federally controlled Columbia Valley authority which would be similar to the Tennessee Valley Authority.

"The present administration's answer to further resource development," he said, "is the valley authority, a kind of super-government blue-printed in Washington, D. C., and manned from there."

People Rushing To Pay Taxes At A Discount

Big Spring and Howard County property owners are engaged in a general rush to pay their 1952 taxes at a discount of three per cent. County, city and school tax offices were "swamped" with customers today, and indications were that a brisk business would continue for several days. All three of the taxing agencies allow discounts of three per cent for all taxes paid during the month of October.

The city had already collected $22,421.39 this morning, amounting for a gross of $23,113.74, or about nine per cent of its total levy of $255,368.56. Tax payers have been coming to the city hall in a steady stream since the first of the month, said C. E. (Perry) Johnson Jr., city tax collector.

Through Monday, the county had collected a total of $23,764.36. Monday was the biggest day to date, with receipts totalling $12,641.70 for a single day.

The county tax office also had issued 133 poll tax receipts, and voters were being reminded that poll tax payments now will help reduce the last-minute rush in January.

The big rush started Monday at the Big Spring Independent School District tax office. The school tax statements went into the mail Saturday and first response was noted when the office opened Monday morning. The school collected about $4,500 Monday, and business was heavier today. J. O. Hagood, school tax collector, said the volume appeared to be "about as heavy as it was last year at this time."

WARRANTS ISSUED FOR ODESSA MEN
Warrants alleging assault with intent to murder have been issued for two Latin American men believed to be staying in Odessa.

City police want the pair for questioning in connection with a Saturday-night shooting scrape in which two other Latin Americans were wounded.

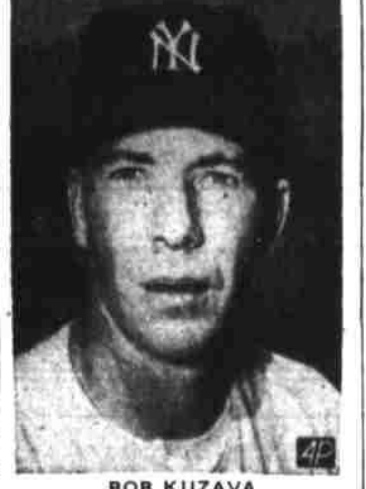

Julian Ramos, Iatan, and Joe Moncallo, Akerly, received minor bullet wounds as they sat in a car in front of a northside cafe Saturday night. Police said they were shot after two other men approached the car and engaged in an argument over some money.

Heavy Red Assault Finds Many Dead

SEOUL, Wednesday, Oct. 8 (AP)—A big push by 15,000 Chinese Communists, which overran seven Allied hill positions in the first onset, early today reached defenses of one of two heights guarding the road to Seoul.

Confused reports from the front some 50 miles north of this Korean Capital said the penetration was made on White Horse Mountain and Allied counterattacks were trying to seal off the breach.

The Reds appeared to be letting up on their assault on nearby Arrowhead Ridge in order to concentrate on the White Horse position.

Possibly 400 or 500 Chinese Communist troops cut through the perimeter of the hill's defenses, the front reports said.

Double Slaying Brings Murder, Suicide Verdict

TEXARKANA, Tex., Oct. 7 (U.P.)—Police said a 45-year-old Texarkana carpenter fatally shot a mother of three, then committed suicide near here early yesterday. Justice of the Peace Wade Turner returned a verdict of murder and suicide in the double slaying.

He identified the victims as T. E. Massey and Mrs. Edna Braddock Thompson, 31.

Detective Homer Goff said the shootings were witnessed by Mrs. Thompson's mother, Mrs. Mae Gregory, 80, who gave this version of the tragedy:

Massey, who had been dating Mrs. Thompson, came to their apartment early yesterday and, after having coffee, he and Mrs. Thompson went into another room to talk. She said she heard three shots from the bedroom at 10:30 a.m., and her daughter staggered into the kitchen, saying: "Mamma, he shot me." She died almost instantly.

Mrs. Gregory said she looked in the bedroom and saw Massey shoot himself as he lay across the bed. The .38 caliber bullet lodged in his head.

Goff said no motive for the double slaying has been established.

Police said Mrs. Thompson had been divorced from her second husband several months. Her first husband, Telford Braddock, was shot to death in 1948 by his brother-in-law, Frank McDaniel, who received a five-year suspended sentence for the slaying.

Oil Monopoly Probe Delayed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7 (U.P.)—An investigation of an alleged international oil monopoly has been delayed until a higher court reviews a U. S. District Court judge's refusal to call off a District of Columbia grand jury probe into the case.

Dist. Judge James R. Kirkland ruled yesterday that attorneys for five large oil companies were premature in questioning the jurisdiction of a District of Columbia grand jury to act in the case, and in seeking its transfer to the Southern New York District.

Oil company attorneys went immediately to the Court of Appeals and obtained a stay of further proceedings until the higher court holds hearings Oct. 15 on Judge Kirkland's decision.

Crude Production Again Sets Record

TULSA, Oct. 7 (U.P.)—Domestic crude oil and condensate production increased 1,769 barrels during the week ended Oct. 4 to set another daily average record, the Oil and Gas Journal reported today.

The week's total of 6,510,175 barrels a day swelled 1952 output to 1,709,636,635 barrels compared with 1,699,556,700 barrels a year ago.

The net gain was largely attributable to high October allowable in Texas, which jumped 16,675 barrels to 2,990,625.

New Mexico gained 4,175 barrels to 169,025 and Indiana increased 1,200 to 35,200. Advances also included Louisiana, up 900 to 670,025.

WEST TEXANS ARE NEIGHBORLY, HELP TO FARM SICK MAN'S LAND

Real old-fashioned West Texas neighborliness asserted itself a few miles north of Big Spring on Monday. Ed Crabtree, who farms 2½ miles north on U. S. 80, has been hospitalized several weeks after surgery and severe complications. His land was lying out with nothing done following mid-September rain.

Neighbors got together and talked things over a few days ago.

Monday morning 16 tractors roared up at about the same time. By noon the land—380 acres of it—had been listed. Wives of the good neighbors had brought picnic lunches and the food pile almost matched the tractors.

Helping their neighbor were Milton Broughton, Grover Broughton, G. C. Broughton Jr., Harold Ray Broughton, Lester Newton, Marion Newton, W. H. Fryar, D. F. Bigony, J. W. Rogers, M. Weaver, Charles Nichols, Glenn Cantrell, C. C. Forrest, Henry Hill, Edgar Phillips, and Carl Hammock.

TOP SOURCE PREDICTS

Mossadegh Won't Reject West Note

TEHRAN, Iran, Oct. 7 (U.P.)—A highly placed government source predicted today that Premier Mohammed Mossadegh would not reject the new British and American notes on the British-Iranian oil dispute but would insist again on payment of $37,200,000 in disputed oil royalties as a preliminary condition to a settlement.

The source said Mossadegh had talked over all aspects of the oil question for three hours today with Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi and the ruler had urged the premier against any "drastic" action at this time.

This apparently referred to Mossadegh's threat to break diplomatic relations with Britain or withdraw his envoys from London unless the British accepted his last demands unconditionally.

Eden and Acheson in their reply had ignored these last conditions, chief among which was the royalty demand, and stood on the previous offer by Prime Minister Churchill and President Truman.

The two foreign ministers spelled out, however, their agreement to several long standing Iranian demands which were regarded here as concessions to Mossadegh. These included recognition of Iran's oil nationalization and acknowledgment of Iran's freedom to sell oil anywhere and operate her oil industry with whatever personnel she wished.

Vitamins Are Condemned By Court's Order

Judgment has been entered in the U. S. District Court in Abilene condemning a drum of vitamin preparations shipped here in 1949. The drum, shipped by Keith-Victor Pharmaceutical Company of St. Louis of Southern Pharmaceutical Co. in Big Spring, contained about 24,000 tablets.

The government alleged that the tablets were misbranded and adulterated. The article was labeled in part: "Sugar Coated Red Glucose B Improved Tablets, each tablet contains Vitamin B-1, Thiamine Hydrochloride 5 mgm, B-6 pyridoxine hydrochloride 1 mgm."

This case was one bound over from the last term of court.

Settings for the week in the Federal Court at Abilene include Roy Williams, et ux versus Kirby Cook, et al, personal injury, death of a son.

This is a civil action growing out of the fatal shooting of Ronald Williams, an Oklahoma lad who had been working in the Scurry County oilfields. He was shot as Cook, a deputy sheriff, sought to take him into custody on Feb. 8, 1950 after a disturbance call. Cook was tried in 118th District Court here Sept. 14, 1950 and a jury found him guilty of aggravated assault, fixing his punishment at two years in jail and $1,000 fine. This case currently is on appeal. The Federal Court case represents an effort on the part of the lad's father to recover damages.

'Truth Squad' Hits At 'Truth Bulletin'

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Sen. Bourke Hickenlooper, a member of the Republican "Truth Squad," said today of the Democrats' new "Truth Sayer" Bulletin, "Truth is catching up with them and it hurts."

Hickenlooper said the Democratic National Committee's "Truth Sayer" Bulletin issued in Washington yesterday "dealt in generalities—the same way they are conducting their campaign."

The bulletin commented on the voting records on public power of Hickenlooper and three other GOP senators who comprise the "Truth Squad." Homer Ferguson of Michigan, Eugene Millikan of Colorado and Francis Case of South Dakota. Case left the team last night and flew home.

It said the truth needed to be told about the voting records of the four GOP senators who make up the "Truth Squad." The bulletin stated the four have voted almost consistently against public power bills in the Senate.

The GOP squad planned a news conference late today to challenge statements made by President Truman in his whistle-stop tour of Utah yesterday.

On his arrival here last night, Ferguson told reporters, "I agree with the President that the administration has provided jobs for our young people—in the Army."

Earlier, in Sacramento, Calif., the three accused the administration of a "soft attitude of patience" toward communism.

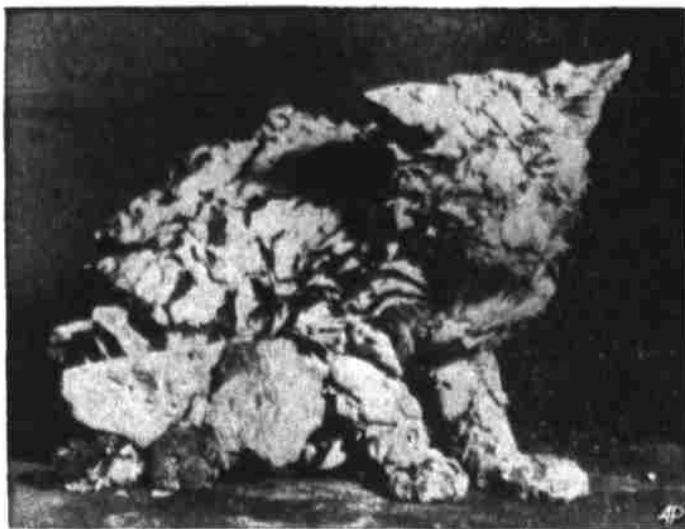

They said that attitude caused the loss of China to the Communists, the outbreak of the Korean War and the giving of atomic secrets to Russia by British scientist

Klaus Fuchs.

Commenting on a speech by Truman yesterday at Provo, Utah, they attacked two of his assertions: 1. That the Republicans don't seem able to understand what it takes to meet the menace of Communist subversion and aggression. 2. That GOP talk of "government by crony" is "sheer poppycock."

Ferguson cited examples of cronies in government: the President's military aide, Maj. Gen. Harry Vaughn, and John Maragon, the ex-bootblack accused as a Washington influence peddler.

Hickenlooper declared: "Mr. Truman has thrown off the mantle of President except as it attracts crowds and now wears the shabby mantle of a ward politician."

Cat Saved From Concrete

A half-grown cat almost lost one of her nine lives when children buried her in wet concrete at a construction project in South Bend, Ind. Workers found the animal a few hours later, still alive. They chiseled her out and a veterinarian is attempting to remove the rest of the cement. He said the feline will probably survive her mummification. (AP Wirephoto).

$5 CONTRIBUTIONS ARE SOUGHT

Biggest Democratic Problem Is Money, Mitchell Reports

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Democrats' biggest problem, their national chairman said today, is money.

"The Republicans seem to have all they can find ways to spend," added Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell. "We don't."

Mitchell addressed the National Press Club on the eve of the beginning of an intensive eight-day Democratic drive for $5 contributions, to be carried out by thousands of party volunteers throughout the country.

In his prepared speech, Mitchell said: "The Republicans seem to have most of the big contributors on their side. There are some people, you know, who want to help the Republican party try to persuade this country that the Democrats have throttled private enterprise, and made it impossible for a businessman to make any profit."

"Strange as it seems, these are the people who always seem to have $5,000 burning a hole in their pockets."

"The unfair balance of money in political campaigns is nothing new. The Democratic party narrowly missed having broadcasts canceled in 1948—and it was unable to order as many as it needed. It is no closely guarded secret that we have come within an eyelash of having to cancel some of Gov. Stevenson's telecasts and broadcasts in this campaign."

"Whether such a situation should be called one party's buying an election or another party's forfeiting an election because of poverty, I do not presume to decide."

"But I do know that such a situation would be bad for this nation—and the announced Republican plans for a blitz saturation of television and radio spots costing two million dollars are a step toward this dangerous monopoly—not a monopoly of facts and issues, but a monopoly of some of the most powerful media for letting the people know about them."

(New York advertising man, Michael Levin, announced last Wednesday that backers of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the Republican presidential nominee, planned a two-million-dollar radio-TV campaign but this was discounted the following day by Rosser Reeves, an advertising agency executive who said he had hired Levin to do some research work.)

Prisoner Trying To Beat Chair By Starving Tactics

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Forced feedings will be used in an attempt to keep Luther Musselwhite alive until his date with the electric chair on Oct. 31.

The 32-year-old ex-Marine's move to "beat the chair" by starving to death was ended by a court order yesterday—10 days after it began.

Circuit Judge Sebe Dale, acting on advice of physicians, ordered the condemned Musselwhite transferred from a jail at Columbia, Miss., to a state mental hospital near here.

Judge Dale said the moving of Musselwhite was a matter of convenience and it was not to be construed as meaning he was insane.

The condemned man apparently was in a coma when he arrived at the mental institution.

Musselwhite was convicted of beating Virgil Price, 63-year-old fishing camp operator, to death with his bare fists.

Lewis' Union May Support Gov. Stevenson

By NORMAN WALKER

CINCINNATI (AP)—John L. Lewis is liable to make it a grand slam today for labor organizations favoring Democrat Adlai Stevenson over Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Lewis opened the 41st convention of his United Mine Workers but held his own counsel on his 1952 presidential choice.

It was expected, however, he will either go along with the AFL and CIO in endorsing Stevenson, or take a neutral position. The miners union chief has blasted Eisenhower as representing "the specially privileged group of oppressive exploiters."

Lewis was suffering from a bad cold on his arrival but this wasn't considered enough of an obstacle to cause the old warrior of labor battles to hide his political leanings in a keynote speech to nearly 3,000 miners' convention delegates.

It must be said in connection with a possible Lewis endorsement for Democrat Stevenson that the miners haven't always taken his political gospel too seriously. And Lewis-favored candidates haven't fared too well. Lewis was for Willie in 1940 and against the Democrats in 1944 and 1948, but they all proved to be Democratic years.

As the convention opened, the mine workers union made public a 255-page history of the union since 1917—actually a history of the labor organization's affairs under Lewis. He is now 72 years old, but still hale and hearty enough to want another four-year term as the union's boss.

The history gave a graphic account of Lewis, picturing him as the nemesis of American employers, a man who nurtured the American labor movement to what it is today.

REA Field Workers Meet In Ft. Worth

FORT WORTH, Oct. 7 (AP)—A four-day meeting of some 40 Rural Electrification Administration field representatives continued here today.

Patman Blasts Ike, Asks Texans To Back Stevenson

By The Associated Press

Veteran Texas Congressman Wright Patman, Texarkana, joined the drive to carry Texas for the Democratic Party's ticket Tuesday.

At the same time, both Republicans and Democrats hurried preparations for campaign swings through Texas of both the nominees—Dwight Eisenhower and Adlai Stevenson.

Rep. Patman opened his attack with a blast at Gov. Eisenhower's foreign policy and branded the tidelanders question a "fake issue."

"Eisenhower wants to extend the Korean War into China," Patman said. "Everyone knows that China and Russia have a mutual assistance pact and if we bomb China it means we'll try to end the Korean War with World War III."

"Even if Eisenhower follows the isolationist viewpoint of (Ohio senator) Robert Taft, he will still be inviting World War III because isolationism will invite attack."

Then the lawmaker added: "I don't say that everyone who is for Eisenhower wants a depression, but I do say that all the people who want a depression are for Eisenhower."

Some persons probably are honest in their views that the country should go through the wringer and that unemployment and depression is a good thing."

Patman said of the tidelanders: "Trying to disturb teachers, school children and their parents is strictly a fake issue."

There were these other developments:

1. Sen. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) predicted Stevenson would carry the South but said there is "trouble" in Texas and Florida. And he said there was "violent feeling" in Texas. He told of reports of windshields bearing Stevenson stickers being broken in Dallas. But he said he thought Texas would stay in the fold.

2. Speaker Sam Rayburn, spark-plug of Texas' Stevenson forces, repeated in Brownwood Monday night previous assertions that Eisenhower was no more qualified to be President than Rayburn was fit to lead an Army. Rayburn plans speeches Friday at Center and Saturday in Big Spring.

3. State GOP Chairman Alvin Lane said Eisenhower will spend an hour and 20 minutes in Dallas Oct. 15 after a 30-minute speech at Fort Worth.

Lane said he has received confirmation that Eisenhower will arrive in Dallas at 9:25 a.m. Oct. 15, speak at the circus grounds next to the Union Terminal, then go by automobile to Love Field and take off at 10:45 a.m. for Shreveport, La.

Eisenhower will fly into Texas Oct. 14, traveling by air to Houston, Waco, Lubbock and San Antonio in that order. The next day he will continue to Fort Worth, then go by train to Dallas. His Fort Worth speech is scheduled from 8:10 a.m. to 8:40 a.m., Lane said. Eisenhower is scheduled to arrive in Shreveport at 11:45 a.m. Oct. 15.

A parade for Eisenhower was cancelled in Houston because of the tight schedule but the general was to speak as scheduled Oct. 14 at 9 a.m. in the Bayou City.

4. Stevenson, who will follow the GOP candidate into Texas, also had his itinerary announced by backers.

He is scheduled to fly into Fort Worth from San Diego, Calif., Oct. 17 and speak at 4:30 p.m. in Will Rogers Coliseum. At 8 p.m., Stevenson will take near the Hall of State at the State Fair at Dallas, Texas. After an overnight stay in Dallas, the Democratic candidate will fly to San Antonio and speak at noon in front of the Alamo. Following an afternoon appearance at Houston, Stevenson will continue back to Springfield, Ill.

Both vice presidential candidates also will be in the state in October. Democratic candidate John Sparkman will speak Oct. 24 at the Four-States Democratic Rally in Texarkana. Sparkman plans to stay overnight in Texarkana and fly to Arizona the next morning.

GOP vice presidential nominee Sen. Richard M. Nixon is scheduled to speak in Longview Oct. 28.

It has been asserted that some groups of people depend so much on gestures to supplement speech that they cannot carry on a conversation in the dark, but the assertion has been widely disputed.

Greek Assembly Now Dissolved

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—King Paul today ordered the Greek Parliament dissolved and called a general election in an effort to get a majority government that might end the nation's grave economic situation.

The King's decision ended several weeks of unsuccessful efforts to get Field Marshal Alexander Papagos, whose right-wing Greek Rally party is the largest in Parliament, to join Premier Nicholas Plastiras and Deputy Premier Sophocles Venizelos in a national government.

The coalition of Plastiras' left-center Progressive party and Venizelos' middle-of-the-road Liberals had only half the seats—129—in the outgoing Parliament. Its dependence on independent votes forced it to tread cautiously despite the nation's mounting economic troubles.

DALLAS, Oct. 7 (AP)—Negotiations between Texas and Louisiana over division of Sabine River waters were to continue here today at a meeting of the Sabine River Compact Commission.

Indictment Near In Floyd Murder Case

ALICE, Oct. 7 (AP)—A grand jury investigating the slaying of Jacob S. (Buddy) Floyd Jr., killed in what is believed to have been a bungled political assassination plot, was believed near reporting indictments today.

The jury began its probing yesterday. It also was charged by Dist. Judge Arthur A. Klein of Brownsville to look into any election irregularities that might have a bearing on the Floyd murder case.

Judge Klein yesterday turned down a motion that the grand jury be dismissed.

Young Floyd was shot to death the night of Sept. 8 in the garage of his home. Officers and his father, er, prominent attorney and political leader Jake Floyd Sr., called the fatal shooting a bungled attempt on the life of the elder Floyd.

Nago Alaniz, Alice attorney, and Mario (El Turko) Sapet, San Antonio bar owner, have been charged with murder. Neither is accused of actually firing the shots.

In supporting his motion that the grand jurors be dismissed, defense Attorney Percy Foreman, Houston tried to get the jurors to say whether they were for or against political kingpin George Parr.

No witness admitted that he was against Parr, but none would say he had ever supported Parr-backed candidates. One juror testified he once gave money to the anti-Parr faction.

Foreman, attorney for Alaniz, also filed a motion that Dist. Judge Sam Reams disqualify himself in any remaining action on the case. Earlier yesterday, Reams, regular district judge, asked Klein to take his place for a week.

Foreman's motion said that Reams should take himself off the bench because testimony and evidence at previous hearings indicate:

Reams' life also was threatened in the alleged plot on the elder Floyd.

Floyd Sr. was a political ally of Reams and an opponent of Parr.

The shooting may have been an attempt to prevent the re-election of Reams.

Judge Klein told each grand juror yesterday that he did not have to say whom he voted for in past elections. However, when Guy Seale, 35, a rancher, objected to a question whether he had ever contributed to the anti-Parr faction, the judge told him he must answer. Seale said he had made such contributions.

In questioning witnesses, Foreman referred to the opposing political factions as the New Party, known as Parr's faction, and the Free and Independent group. This is a Jim Wells County faction which opposed Parr-backed candidates in the anti-Parr Freedom Party faction of Duval County.

Monkey Puts On Own Show For The People

DALLAS, Oct. 7 (AP)—A fugitive monkey named Patsy put on her own show yesterday just outside the State Fair of Texas grounds.

It all began when the Rev. R. F. Eby, who lives near the fair grounds, looked outside to see a brownish gray animal (1) slay his Japanese black-tailed bantam hen, (2) put his 100 homing pigeons to flight and (3) shinny up a tall tree with the feathered victim in its arms.

The good reverend called officers and firemen.

Officers arrived to see Patsy, a giant rhesus monkey, leave the hen on a garage top and swing off through trees and across rooftops. She made a pass at C. V. Guynes' white leghorn chickens. Guynes' cocker spaniel interfered and Patsy scampered up a pecan tree.

By that time the firemen had arrived. But they admitted defeat. "Every time we'd get close to her the monkey would jump into a taller tree," explained Lt. Jack Kent.

About that time someone recognized Patsy and told officers she belonged to J. D. Riddle.

The frustrated gendarmes "herded" Patsy into trees in her own back yard and left for other police duties, hoping Patsy would stay around until her owner returned home.

She did. Riddle found her pacing the front lawn impatiently.

Attendance At State Fair Shows Decline

DALLAS, Oct. 7 (AP)—State Fair of Texas attendance fell to 49,673 yesterday after a norther blew across the fair grounds and dropped temperatures 40 degrees below Sunday readings.

Sunday attendance at the fair, officials said, was 168,476.

Teen-Aged Casanova Off To Reform School

NEW BRAUNFELS, Oct. 7 (AP)—The cure may not work but Lover Boy has gone to reform school and Thelma is in jail for 60 days in an effort by authorities to break up their torrid romance.

Thelma is 27-year-old Mrs. Horace Henderson, mother of three, and Lover Boy is a teen-aged Casanova whom authorities do not name.

Said Thelma of Lover Boy's (irate mother: "I hope she's satisfied now she's got me in jail."

The mother didn't like it when her boy stayed out two or three nights in a row with the petite, blue-eyed blonde, and it was she who made the complaint that got Thelma behind bars . . . and sent Lover Boy to the Gatesville State School for Boys.

"I don't see where I did anything wrong," Thelma said. "I always brought him home to his mother." Horace, the husband, didn't like it either. He's sued for divorce and custody of the three children—Bertha, 6; Betty, 2; and a ten-month-old son. Family friends are looking after them while mama is in jail.

Thelma's stiff sentence, plus $27 for court costs, was dealt out by Judge J. T. Fuchs after pretty little Thelma and her Lover Boy repeatedly disobeyed his warnings to keep away from each other and Owner came looking for the vehicle after awhile. He and Kirby figured the brakes had given way while the truck was parked about a half block from where it met the policeman.

A small boy listens intently from his railroad track perch as President Harry Truman makes a "whistle stop" speech from the rear platform of his special train at Devils Lake, N.D. The President made nearly a dozen "whistle stops" in North Dakota and then moved into Montana on his swing across the country to defend his administration and campaign for the Stevenson-Sparkman ticket. talks today at Malta, Salida, Canon City, Pueblo, Colorado Springs, Limon, Denver and Akron.

Principal emphasis will be placed on the speech at Colorado Springs at 3:40 p.m. (MST), where Truman will spend an hour, and at Denver at 9:10 p.m.

The presidential special stopped for the night Monday at Glenwood Springs, Colo., where the President, in a speech, declared the proposed Colorado River storage project will "bring electric power and new and bigger industries to this area."

Before the project is ultimately approved, he warned, it has to have a White House okay and Adlai Stevenson's decision "won't be dictated by the private power lobby."

And in another fling at Republican nominee Dwight D. Eisenhower, he declared: "And that's a lot more than I can say for the Republican candidate."

"If you want that upper Colorado storage project you had better vote Democratic," he added.

Earlier, as the presidential special moved through Utah, the President said in a rear platform address at Helper, that he doesn't see how Eisenhower can be elected "with the crew he has got around him" and his "terrible record."

He stinked out three new Republican targets—Sens. Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin, William Jenner of Indiana and James P. Kem of Missouri—as men who have taken over the GOP presidential nomination.

Truman also renewed his attack on Ohio's Sen. Robert A. Taft in a formal address at Provo, Utah. He charged the Republicans have failed to hide a 20-year record of obstruction and isolationism behind "the shining armor of a national hero," Eisenhower.

Hi-Y, Tri-Hi-Y Members Meet

Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y Club members started work on their Youth in Government project Monday evening.

This, however, was not until the Rev. Ed Welsh, general assembly speaker for the evening, had raised the question of whether young people would leave Christ out of their lives.

The clubs will select 20 delegates to go to Lubbock on Oct. 25 for the first phase of the state Youth in Government program. They have begun consideration of bills which they may attempt to have approved for introduction when the final phase of the project, a state government by young people, is set up in Austin later in the year.

Burns Lane was on hand for his first activity as evening program secretary for the YMCA.

Damage Suit Filed In District Court

Wayne O. Teague and W. L. Porter, both of Lubbock, filed a $673.33 damage suit against Robert W. Reagan in 118th District Court Monday. The damage is being asked as a result of a traffic collision.

Teague and Porter claim that Reagan's automobile collided with their motorcycle on 4th and Bell Streets on April 12. They said their motorcycle was driven by Kenneth P. Henry.

The two plaintiffs allege that Reagan was negligent in failing to stop at a red light and yielding right of way. In addition to the $673.33, they are asking costs of court and 6 per cent per annum on the money until paid.

You don't need more super government."

And then he referred to the "whole-hoggers who want a Columbia Valley authority, a Brannan Plan, and socialized medicine."

Rather than a federal Columbia Valley authority, Eisenhower argued, there should be a "new interstate body" in which state members would have equal authority with federal members in working out navigation and flood control programs.

Eisenhower jabbed at those he called "the six apostles of Fair Dealism." And he studied his speech with references to "whole-hog" government.

"By deliberate design," he said, "federal government" seeks to freeze out the initiative and energy of local, state and private agencies, whenever it thinks that they are doing anything that infringes upon the swelling federal empire. Thus, the whole-hog mentality proceeds toward the creation of a more extensive and stifling monopoly than our country has ever seen."

President Truman has called Eisenhower the "front man" for special interest lobbyists. In reply to this, Eisenhower said: "But you folks know that the greatest special privilege, the greatest lobby, the greatest concentration of power ever known is now operating, full speed ahead, right down on the Potomac to perpetuate itself in power."

Eisenhower said the Republicans originated the reclamation program 50 years ago to speed the development of the West. But he said the Department of Interior now is "seeking a monopoly over hydro-power production and distribution."

"Here we have the real whole hog," he commented.

He said the Northwest must have all the power it needs to develop its resources—with more new dams to impound flood waters and to increase power production of existing dams. He said the region's power development "must and will go forward."

But he added: "The way to do it is by sharing of effort, rather than by its concentration. ... We need to get away from the idea that we can do only what the federal government will do."

Eisenhower asserted that once federal projects are paying for themselves, then local and state government should "take over the financing, take over the projects for their own people, and get their region out of hook to the federal government."

To do this we need an administration which believes in keeping government close to the people."

The Umpire Called Him Out

Here is the tenth inning scene as Johnny Sain, Yankee pitcher, plants his foot firmly on first base as the throw from Dodger second baseman Jackie Robinson is still some distance from the glove of first baseman Gil Hodges in the fifth game of the World Series played at New York's Yankee Stadium. Yankee coach Bill Dickey (33) complained with voice and gestures. Associated Press photographer John Lindsay made the picture with a sequence camera. (AP Wirephoto).

Scout Reports Tell Of B'Wood Power

Bovines Work On End Defense

The Big Spring Steers face no tougher challenge this season than they do this week end. Coach Carl Coleman told his charges in practice Monday afternoon.

Scout reports received by Coleman over the week end show that the unbeaten and untied Brownwood Lions, which the locals meet in Brownwood Friday night, boast awesome power, both on the ground and in the air.

The Steers will go into the game short-handed. Louis Stipp, star tackle, is favoring a bad leg and is almost certain to be kept out of the game.

Robert Angel, reserve back, is still bothered with a bad back. He will suit out but probably won't be used.

The Longhorns, who were idle last week end, didn't work too long Monday, due to the cold and wind.

The coaches had them concentrating on defense again, principally on trying to turn in the wide sweeping stuff.

Coleman had his backs trying to time their plays, too. Some time was dedicated, too, to the job of dummy blocking.

Today, the gridgers were due to rehearse their plays. No scrimmaging was in prospect.

Badgers Assume Lead Position

By ED CORRIGAN
NEW YORK (U)—The power-laden Badgers of the University of Wisconsin took over first place in the weekly Associated Press football poll today by the simple expedient of beating the favorite in the Big Ten Conference.

The favorite in this case was the University of Illinois, which won the Big Ten championship last year and whipped Stanford in the Rose Bowl. The Illini were rated the choice to go on to another title this season. But the Badgers' 20-6 triumph over the Illini last Saturday made the 38 sports writers and sports casters, who voted in the second poll, sit up and take notice.

They gave Wisconsin 27 first-place ballots and 1,128 points. The Badgers now are big favorites to win the Big Ten championship and make the trip to the Rose Bowl this year.

The first-week leader, Michigan State, was ranked second with 80 points and 24 firsts. California was third with 661 points and 23 firsts. Maryland polled 834 points with 22 firsts and Georgia Tech rounded out the top five with 734 points and 12 firsts.

Its defeat caused Illinois to be bounced right out of the top 10. The Illini ranked No. 2 a week ago. The same fate befell Texas, fifth last week, only in this case it was worse. The Longhorns, beaten by Notre Dame, 14-3, couldn't even make the first 20.

The visitors from south of the border rolled to all their points in the first half, scoring twice on passes and once on a plunge.

Austin College racked up its touchdown in the third period after getting the ball on the Mexico 29 as the result of a weak punt by Juan Romero. It required only four plays with John Duke ramming across from the seven-yard line. Pat Egan kicked the extra point.

A crowd of only 3,000 turned out. It was a rough battle with two players from each team being ejected.

LOOP TO BOOST SPORTSMANSHIP

FORT WORTH, Oct. 7 (U)—The Southwest Conference Sportsmanhood Committee has adopted the task of boosting good sportsmanhood among spectators at athletic contests.

Students representatives from schools attended a meeting at Texas Christian University yesterday. They will try to educate fans, alumni and students on the principles of good sportsmanhood while viewing contests.

Morrison, West And Airport Remain Unbeaten, Untied

Kate Morrison, West Ward and Airport remain unbeaten and untied in Ward School football league play after the first two weeks of competition.

Morrison and West have each played two games while Airport did not get its campaign underway until last Saturday, at which time it turned back College Heights, 13-0.

Park Hill has not suffered a defeat but has been tied.

In other games last week, Morrison ran roughshod over Central, 35-0; West Ward trounced North, 35-0; and Park Hill pummeled East, 35-4.

The schedule this week pits North against Kate Morrison at 8 a. m., West against East at 9 a. m., Central against Washington Place at 10 a. m. and Park against Airport at 11 a. m. College Heights draws the bye.

Standings:

Park Hill	1	0	1
East	1	1	0
North	0	1	1
Washington	0	1	0
College Heights	0	2	0

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

W. O. Maxwell, Jr., speaking for the Muni golf people, says he thinks the front nine of the city-owned course can be restored with the $1,500 the City Commission has appropriated for the job. That means it most likely can be.

That means, too, that Big Spring will have its first 18-hole golf course since the first nine was abandoned in 1942.

The water pipes are already in place, advises Maxwell, and work has already started on the greens. He reasons the first nine can be used by spring.

All the holes on the front side will be well trapped, according to the golf pro. The back side will be made tougher, too, says Junior.

The first fairway will measure only 256 yards from tee to hole but will have not only a sand trap or two but a water hazard, as well. If you fight par to a standstill on that one, you must play it in four strokes.

Here's the way the whole nine will run, with yardage listed, along with par:

1-256-4	6-145-3
2-397-4	7-400-4
3-372-4	8-425-4
4-383-4	9-400-4
5-471-5

Six, of course, is the shortie but if you play it in regulation figures you must hit the green with your tee shot.

TWO TEES WILL BE USED FOR SEVERAL HOLES
No. 5, of course, is the famous dog-leg. You need radar on that one.

Maxwell is now planning two tees for a number of the holes, if not for all of them. The longer ones, of course, would be used for tournament play.

The front nine is 3,249 yards in length, compared to 3,126 for the back side. Its 6,375 yards make it a course of average length. Par for the entire layout will be 73.

TWO TOURNAMENTS MAY BE HELD IN 1953
The City Tournament, not held this year because of the drought, will be resumed next year.

If everyone is willing, Maxwell will plan toward an Invitational in 1953, too. Not a real big one, mind you, but rather a two-day event. Got to crawl before you can walk, you know.

The recent rains helped the Muni course no end. Maxwell says another one would put it in fine shape. And business continues good, according to the links pro.

Folks who are not taking part in the Daily Herald's weekly football contest don't know what they're missing.

It's fun to try and outguess the experts. And there's cash in the offering for the winners. It costs nothing to get into the swim.

Our Town's Mac Alexander scouted Sweetwater for Carl Coleman last week end and the panorama that unfolded in Mustang Bowl must have looked familiar to him. He used to coach the Ponies, remember.

THIS WEEK END

Southwest Elevens Face Rough Going

By CLAYTON HICKERSON
Associated Press Staff

Southwest Conference football teams prepared for another round of games Tuesday after a disastrous week end in which they lost five of six inter-sectional contests.

Coaches stressed mistakes of last week as Texas, victims of Notre Dame, prepared for Oklahoma's Sooners and Texas A&M, victims of Kentucky, prepared for Michigan State. Coach Jess Neely of Rice figured the Owls' loss to LSU might act as a tonic, while Rusty Russell, Southern Methodist mentor, worried over injuries left by the loss to Georgia Tech's Rambling Wreck.

Coach Ray George put his Texas Aggies through light drills at College Station in 60-degree weather. There were no injuries after the Cadets' 10-7 loss to Kentucky and little remorse. The Aggies felt like they played a good team a good game and just face a better team, Michigan State's great outfit, this week end at East Lansing.

Ed Price's Texas Longhorns, 14-3 losers to Notre Dame last week, looked toward Oklahoma and their game in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas Saturday. The Longhorns skipped workouts Monday and looked at movies of their loss to the Fighting Irish. Full-scale workouts were on tap Tuesday.

Rice also had a full-scale scrimmage on the schedule Tuesday and Wednesday after taking it easy Monday. Concentration will be on blocking, woefully lacking against LSU.

The Arkansas Razorbacks, losers to defending champion Texas Christian in the conference opener last week, stressed defensive blocking.

Coach Otis Douglas switched Lewis Carpenter from fullback to right end for the Hogs' new deep split T formation. Quarterback Lamar McHan will move into fullback while Bob St. Pierre plays quarter.

The Razorbacks play Baylor, 31-7 victors over Washington State, in the second conference game of the season Saturday. Baylor's Coach George Sauer prepped his Bears for the Little Rock tussle Monday with a detailed scout report on the Hogs. Tuesday the Bears get in contact work.

TCU's Frogs, with a breather scheduled against Trinity University, head Coach Dutch Meyer say they made more mistakes against WU, than "I've ever seen a team make in a game." The Frogs were due some hard work Tuesday.

Southern Methodist's young Mustangs, completely bewildered by Georgia Tech last week, got a good schooling in their mistakes Monday from Coach Russell plus a 45-minute scrimmage. More hard work was set Tuesday as the Ponies looked toward their game with Missouri at Columbia Saturday afternoon.

Senior Golf Meet Underway Today

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 7 (U)—The 16th annual senior golf championship of the Texas Golf Association was to get under way here today with tee-offs extending from 7:15 a. m. until 2:30 p. m.

Earl Rowe, San Antonio, gained medal honors yesterday with a 74 over the rugged San Antonio Country Club course.

Brooks, Yanks Go Right Down To The Wire

By GAYLE TALBOT

BROOKLYN (U)—Two beautifully matched, equally gifted ball clubs came down to the wire in the seventh game of the World Series at Ebbets Field today, and it is a real chore to try to choose between them.

For six games the Brooklyn Dodgers and the New York Yankees have fought on even terms. The Yankees, who were almost prohibitive favorites to win their fourth straight world championship with five or six games, finally found their match in Manager Charlie Dressen's comeback kids.

If there was any clue as to today's probable winner, it possibly lay in the fact that the Dodgers had won the odd game all the way. They had led 1-0, 2-1 and 3-2 before succumbing for the second time to smokeballer Vic Raschi by 3 to 2 in yesterday's thriller. Today the odd game came up again.

Also, there was the pleasant circumstance for the embattled National League that their great Negro rookie, Joe Black, was ready and anxious to get at the Yanks again after two days of rest. The Bombers could not say quite the same for their ace, Allie Reynolds, who came in to fire 22 pitches and save yesterday's tussle for Vic Raschi.

Yesterday, Black sat in the dug-out while Duke Snider took on the Yankees single-handed, blasting two homers. The first came at the top of the sixth in the tense turkey shot between Billy Loos and Raschi.

That put the Brooks ahead 1-0. Going into the seventh, they needed to retire only nine more Yankee batters to win the first world title in their noble history.

Dressen, whom we humbly hesitate to second-guess, said later that you couldn't take out a brilliant kid such as Loos under the circumstances. For six innings he had held the Yanks to two singles, one of them a scratch by Irv Noren which had bounced off Billy Cox's glove at third base.

Additionally, there was the fact that Charlie wanted very much to save Black for today's big decider. In the event it proved necessary. Well, it happened.

Yogi Berra tied it up with a homer over the same inviting rightfield barrier to open the seventh. Then it was too late to bring in Black. Within a matter of minutes thereafter, Loos had surrendered a single to Gene Woodling, he had committed a balk, and Raschi had bounced a single off his leg to put the Yanks out in front, 2-1.

Mickey Mantle made it 3-1 with his tremendous blow into the centerfield seats to begin the eighth.

Baylor Ex Named COP Cage Mentor

STOCKTON, Calif., Oct. 7 (U)—Van Sweet, former Baylor athlete, has been named head basketball and baseball coach at College of Pacific.

Sweet, who has been coaching at Stockton College, takes over the basketball reins from Chris Kjeldsen, who was named varsity football line and freshman football coach.

Smith, French Team To Win In Playoff

Rip Smith and Wynona French teamed to win first place in a series of Scotch Foursome matches held at the Big Spring Country Club Sunday.

The two tied Mary Almgren and Capt. Jim Garner, each with a 93 but Smith and Mrs. French won the playoff.

That was a twosome composed of Bernice Jordan and Bob Satterwhite with a 95. Edith Lyles and Bob Hodges had a 98, as did Christine Coughlin and Allen Orr. The Lyles-Hodges won the playoff in that match.

SAUER STRESSED QUICKNESS

Speedy Baylor Bear Team Hogging Spotlight In SW

WACO, Oct. 7 (U)—George Sauer was accused of coaching track instead of football when he talked about how much speed he would have on his team. But everybody now realizes why Sauer stressed the speed angle.

His dashing sophomores who run like the wind have made Baylor the only undefeated team in the Southwest Conference. It has been surprising to everybody except Sauer.

He told the sports writers a month ago they were rating his team too low when they relegated Baylor to sixth place in the seven-member conference.

"Speed has been one of the vital factors in our team winning both of its games," said Sauer as he prepared the young Bears for a tough conference test at Little Rock Saturday night against Arkansas. "Speed and the steady influence of such veteran players as Center Jack Sisco and Johnny Davis and Pete Erblen at guard, Sisco is the best offensive center in the conference, a great blocker." Sophomore backs L. G. Dupre and Allen Jones have been the one-two punch of a Bear backfield that strikes like lightning, but at times there's almost a full team of second year men on the field, including Billy Hooper at quarterback.

If Baylor doesn't run out of Joneses and Smiths and Robinsons and Davises it may just keep right on winning. There are four Jones boys on the squad—Allen, Glen, Charley and Buddy, all backs. Buddy hasn't played any this year because of a leg injury but Sauer says he'll be right in there when he comes around. Then there are two Smiths—Charley, a halfback, and James Ray, a tackle. And two Robinsons—Bob and Joe, both tackles. And two Davises—Johnny and Starkey, guard and fullback respectively. Strangely none of those fellows are related.

Loss of Larry Isbell, All-America quarterback, was supposed to make Baylor a most ordinary team. But a fellow named Francis (Cotton) Davidson has stepped in to handle the ball like a magician and pass almost like Isbell.

Sauer doesn't tell his boys they are expected to make mistakes because they are sophomores. "Sophomores don't have to make mistakes," he says. "That's what practice is for—to learn what to do."

And the Baylor sophomores aren't making many mistakes. Speed, and Joneses, Smiths, Robinsons, et al., and a smattering of veterans like Sisco and the great Bill Athey, one of the finest guards in the University's history, could land the Bears up around the top again in the Southwest Conference.

Brownwood, Steers' Friday Foe, Seventh In Ratings

Without lifting a finger, Big Spring has moved up four places in the Williamson Features Syndicate, Inc., football ratings, released today.

Last week in the 72nd spot, the Steers advanced to 68th in the ratings over the week end. The Longhorns were idle last week.

Brownwood, Friday night opponent of the Steers, is regarded as the seventh best team in the state by the Williamson system. Ranked ahead of Brownwood are Baytown, Lubbock, Ray of Corpus Christi, Temple, Wichita Falls and Highland Park, in that order.

Reigning out the first ten in Williamson's ratings are Breckenridge, Texarkana and Porth Arthur. Midland is anchored in the 11th spot, with Pampa 13th, Odessa 15th, Abilene 16th and Borger 19th.

Other West Texas elevens are rated thusly:

Lamesa, 23rd; Riverside (Fort Worth), 24th; Austin (El Paso), 34th; Sweetwater, 37th; Amarillo, 41st; Weatherford, 57th; Vernon, 59th; and Yalata, 67th.

Falling in behind Big Spring are such teams as Elgin, 70th; Miller of Corpus Christi, 72nd; Cheburne, 73rd; Victoria, 75th; Orange, 76th; North Side (Fort Worth), 77th; Plainview, 79th; Gainesville, 80th; San Angelo, 84th; Bowie of El Paso, 86th; El Paso High, 93th; Snyder, 101st; and Jefferson, 111th, 104th.

In AA ratings, Williamson lists Quanah, upset winner over Vernon, 1st; Pecos, 2nd; and Stephenville 3rd, followed by Arlington, Phillips, Graham, Stamford, Seminole.

Brownwood Game Tickets Arrive

Reserve seat tickets for the Big Spring-Brownwood football game, pegged at $1.20 each, have gone on sale at the School Tax Office and Dibrall's Sporting Goods here.

The game will be played in Brownwood Friday night, starting at 8 p. m.

The ducks that have not been sold must be returned to Brownwood after 5 p. m. Thursday. A large crowd is expected at the game, since Brownwood carries an unbeaten and untied record into the contest.

Student tickets, priced at 30 cents each, are being sold at the local high school.

Junior Tourney Slated Sunday

The second annual Junior Golf Tournament will be held at the Big Spring Country Club Sunday.

Children of Country Club members are eligible to compete. Frank Powell was the 1951 champion and will be back. Those 15 years of age or less can take part.

Nine players will be handicapped according to their medal score which they will compile over nine holes Sunday morning. They'll play an additional nine holes during the afternoon.

The medalist will get a prize as will the champion.

BEAUMONT, Oct. 7 (U)—Beaumont citizens have agreed to arrange a $50,000 loan to Allen H. Russell of Houston to help him buy the Beaumont Texas League baseball club for a reported $150,000.

Russell has said he would sever his connections with the Houston club if he obtains the Beaumont outfit.

Temple Groups Oppose Shivers Hospital Plan

TEMPLE, Oct. 7 (U)—Resolutions opposing a proposal by Gov. Allan Shivers to move tuberculosis patients into McCloskey Veterans Hospital have been passed by Temple veterans organizations and the chamber of commerce.

Veterans leaders here say they fear curtailment and deterioration of veterans medical care if such a move is made.

Shivers urged last week the help of Texas Members of Congress to open McCloskey to state T-B patients. The hospital is operated by the Veterans Administration. During the war, it was the Army's largest amputation center.

Shivers wanted unused space at the hospital for 900 patients now at Weaver H. Baker Hospital near Mission. The Mission institution must be vacated early next year because the Air Force is reopening Moore Field, the present hospital site.

Temple Telegram Publisher Frank W. Maybourn, leader in the fight against the Shivers proposal, said:

"He (the governor) has referred to McCloskey as a 4,500-bed hospital, which it never was, and would have the public believe there is ample room for T-B patients."

"McCloskey was built at a 3,000-bed Army hospital. At the peak of the war 4,500 patients were carried on the rolls but many were not bedded there. As it was beds were jammed into every conceivable nook and cranny."

"The VA has now consolidated the hospital and utilized its bulk for efficient operation. There is little room left. Putting 1,000 T-B patients into McCloskey would disrupt its present purposes—service to veterans."

Army Officer's Wife Is Charged

TOKYO (U)—Mrs. Dorothy Smith, daughter of Gen. Walter Krueger, has been charged with murder in the fatal stabbing Saturday of her husband, Col. Aubrey D. Smith, Gen. Mark Clark's headquarters announced tonight.

The attractive woman, mother of two children, is held under observation in a Tokyo Army hospital.

A spokesman in Clark's headquarters said, "This case will be handled in accordance with normal procedure. The charge is now being investigated as required by statute—namely Article 32 of the Uniform Code of Military Justice. Should the investigation establish that trial is warranted, the charge would be referred to an appropriate military court for trial."

Comptroller Denies He Plays Politics In Releasing Pay

WASHINGTON (U)—Comptroller General Lindsay C. Warren denies a Republican accusation that his office was playing politics by deciding at this time to distribute four million dollars in back holiday pay to government workers.

Rep. Charles A. Halleck (R-Ind.) said Friday in a statement distributed by the GOP National Committee that the payments were authorized by a Supreme Court mittee that the payments were ren's decision to pay could have been made public at any time.

He said the "timing" of the decision is "an obvious and outright attempt to buy votes."

Warren in a letter to Halleck yesterday denied the accusation, and said the delay in payment was caused mainly by the detail work involved. He said 75,000 claims for back pay had to be examined, and that it took time to reduce these to the 8,000 which will be paid.

Southwestern Bell Safety Mark Lauded

NEW YORK, Oct. 7 (U)—The National Safety Council lauded the safety record of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company yesterday.

The council presented its award of honor to W. L. Prehn of Dallas, Texas general manager of Southwestern Bell, during ceremonies at the American Telephone and Telegraph Company headquarters here.

The award is the safety council's highest honor. It went to Southwestern Bell in recognition of the 1950 and 1951 safety records in which the firm's telephone workers had less lost-time accidents than those in any other area of the nation.

Woman Saves Her Attacker From Death

DALLAS, Oct. 7 (U)—A woman victim of rape, robbery and shooting—paralyzed as a result of the brutal attack—yesterday saved her attacker from possible death in the electric chair.

As a result, a Carswell Air Force Base airman, 23, Obie Lee Belcher, drew life imprisonment after pleading guilty to the attack on Mrs. Margaret Lister Gay, 38, Fort Worth taxi driver.

Mrs. Gay, paralyzed from the waist down by one of two .32-caliber bullets fired into her body, relating her story from a stretcher, concluded by saying, "I don't want the boy to be electrocuted."

The jury, told before its selection that state and defense attorneys had agreed to a guilty plea from Belcher and a life sentence with Mrs. Gay's consent, took 40 minutes to return its verdict.

While the jury considered the rape plea, Belcher pleaded guilty before Judge Henry King and drew a life sentence in the robbery case and a maximum 15-year term in the assault-to-murder case.

Mrs. Gay, mother of a 20-month-old baby, said Belcher entered her car about 6 p.m. May 5 and told her he wanted to go to Fort Worth from Carswell Air Force Base.

Soon after, she told the jury, he

Counter Suit Filed By Oil Man Against O'Daniel Daughter

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Oct. 7 (U)—Jack D. Wrather Jr., Texas oil man and film producer, has filed a counter-affidavit to his former wife's suit for increased support for their two children.

His ex-wife is Molly O'Daniel Moffatt, daughter of former Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel of Texas.

In his affidavit, filed yesterday, Wrather stated he believes Mrs. Moffatt is not spending on the children the $400 monthly he already is paying, and that her demands for $1,000 a month is an effort to get more money for herself.

He said he had paid her more than $70,000 since their 1946 divorce in Texas, in addition to the $400 a month, and items for the children which he has voluntarily paid.

Johnson Sees U.S. Sufficiently Armed Within Three Years

EL PASO, Oct. 7 (U)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) estimates it will be 1955 at the earliest before the United States can consider itself well armed.

The chairman of the preparedness subcommittee of the Senate Armed Services Committee spoke yesterday at the annual convention of Texas Automotive Dealers Association here.

He said the Soviet Union now could command 300 divisions compared to less than 24 U. S. divisions; and that the Russians could command 20,000 to 30,000 first-line fighting planes, far more than the United States.

"Apparently we are still ahead in the field of atomic energy," he said. "x x x We are building toward the point considered by our Joint Chiefs of Staff to be the minimum levels that will guarantee our security. But it is clear that we will not reach that point until 1955 at the earliest."

Boy's Heart Starts After Halt Of About 10 Minutes

CLEVELAND, Oct. 7 (U)—The heart of a 2-year-old boy stopped beating for at least 10 minutes, then started up again, doctors at St. Luke's Hospital said today.

The five physicians who were trying to save him from strangling on a piece of orange said his heart stopped as they performed two operations on him yesterday.

The boy, Demetrius L. Morgan, was put to bed in fair condition last night. However, he died early today.

Demetrius was unconscious when his father, Lonnie, brought him to the hospital.

First, the physicians made an incision in his windpipe and then a doctor breathed down a tube into the opening to provide air.

The piece of orange was lifted out through the incision. Another operation opened the child's chest, and a doctor reached in and massaged the baby's still heart.

Then four or five minutes later, the little organ began beating again.

A nurse estimated the entire operation took only 10 or 12 minutes.

The child was reported in fair condition.

Race Scheduled

CORPUS CHRISTI, Oct. 7 (U)—A 500-lap, $5,000-purse stock car race is set here for Nov. 2. The race will be for 1949 cars or vehicles of later model. Trials will be held for the 33 starting places, Nov. 1.

Lions To See TV Network Demonstration

New superhighways for voice and vision—radio relay and coaxial cable systems which are bringing network television to Texas—will be demonstrated to members of the Lions Club at their regular meeting Wednesday.

The program was obtained by John Moore, manager of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company. It will be presented by Don Hanson of the firm's information department in Dallas.

Hanson will "pipe" a picture through coaxial cable to a television receiver screen and send an image through the air over a miniature microwave radio system. He will demonstrate how a stream of electrons on a cathode ray tube is magnetically controlled to form a picture, and how an optical illusion called "persistence of vision" makes the picture appear to move.

The audience also will see how the audible part of a television program as well as telephone conversations are amplified along the way. The job of equalizing the notes of a piccolo and a bass drum so that they arrive at the same time will be demonstrated.

Storm Magic

Streaks of lightning play around the lofty television tower atop the Empire State Building in New York during a storm featured by torrential rains and high winds. The lightning is attracted by the TV antennae which reaches 1,700 feet into the sky to crown the world's tallest building. (AP Wirephoto).

FBI Begins Gradual Personnel Cutdown

By JACK ADAMS
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Bureau of Investigation, with personnel recently at peak levels, has begun a gradual reduction of staff to get its payroll within the limits of current appropriations.

Bureau officials said the cut can be carried out without interference with vital internal security tasks because some of FBI's routine investigations of applicants for government jobs have been shifted to the Civil Service Commission. A bureau official said in response to inquiries that no firings are in progress, or planned—the FBI is simply depending on the normal number of resignations, without replacements, bringing the payroll into line with available funds inside the next few months.

During this freeze on new appointments, the bureau has likewise suspended staff transfers on its own motion from one grade to another which might involve higher pay. Employees who might normally rate such promotions are being placed on a list for later recognition.

However, routine advancements from one grade to another on the basis of time served, as provided by the Civil Service Statute, will continue.

The bureau outlined the situation thus:

FBI started the fiscal year July 1, 1952, with more workers than its appropriation provided for because Congress, at the bureau's request, relieved the FBI of detailed checks on every person who applies for a federal job.

This routine was shifted to the Civil Service inspectors, with provision for FBI taking over full investigation only for jobs involving national security and where the Civil Service investigation develops some hint of disloyal association or activity.

Congress gave FBI a 1953 fiscal appropriation of $84,400,000 compared with $90,260,000 last year, and the new funds were further cut to about 77 million when the Budget Bureau impounded a portion to be used as needed by the appropriate agency in the investigation of job applicants.

The FBI declined to estimate in numbers just how much staff reduction is in prospect. The FBI payroll now totals 14,600 which includes 6,600 special agents in the investigation field.

Recruit Sendoff To Be In Charge Of The Jaycees

Seventeen or 18 Howard, Martin and Mitchell County men will be sent Wednesday to Abilene for induction into the armed forces. The group will make up part of the October induction quota for Local Selective Service Board No. 71. The October call was for 35 men, but the local board has only about half that number available. Exact number available won't be known until Wednesday, officials said.

The draftees will leave Big Spring by bus at 2:30 p.m. Local Jaycees will conduct the "Salute the Recruit" program for the departing men.

Seventy registrants with the local board will be sent for pre-induction physical examinations late this month. Thirty-five will go on Oct. 29 and a like number will be sent for physicals Oct. 30.

November draft quota for the local board hasn't been established.

Sparkman Says Ike Hurts His Bid By Letting Liberals Down

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP)—Sen. John J. Sparkman, Democratic vice presidential candidate, says Dwight D. Eisenhower has hurt his chances for victory by "letting the liberal Republicans down."

Sparkman went on to say in a press conference here yesterday that the Republican nominee for President had allowed Sen. Taft to take over as "generalissimo of his campaign."

The Alabama senator completes a two-day swing through Southern West Virginia today with five speeches. A noon address is scheduled at the Beckley Courthouse. This will be followed by afternoon talks at Mullens, Pineville and Logan before Sparkman delivers a major address at the Huntington City Auditorium at 7:30 p.m. (EST).

In a speech last night at Fayetteville, Sparkman accused some Republicans of toying with "the deadly important business of rooting out the real Communists in our midst."

He told a rally of some 1,500 persons that those are the Republicans who link their opponents with communism.

Sparkman also took a crack at the show of unity last week between Eisenhower and Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin.

Sparkman declared in his speech:

"The general was willing to overlook what Sen. McCarthy said about Gen. George C. Marshall, who was his friend and benefactor. 'In the Senate last year, McCarthy said that Gen. Marshall was involved 'in a conspiracy so immense, and infamy so black as to dwarf any previous venture in the history of man.' 'Maybe Gen. Eisenhower could reconcile himself to this ugly smear of his old friend. But could he overlook what Sen. McCarthy said about him at that same time on the Senate floor? 'In all those attitudes,' McCarthy said then, 'Eisenhower was Marshall's firm supporter.'"

"What will McCarthy say now?" Sparkman asked. "Is Eisenhower still a traitor in his estimation?"

Ike Notes His Train Didn't Hold Apples From Being Shipped

ABOARD EISENHOWER TRAIN (AP)—Gen. Eisenhower told a crowd at Wenatchee, apple growing center of Washington State, yesterday:

"I want you to know my special train didn't hold up apple shipments for two days."

The general, speaking to 10,000 at Wenatchee, was referring to reports that President Truman's train last week had delayed apple shipments. The shipments were held up because of security arrangements.

The city of Kano in Nigeria was once enclosed by a wall which delimited a space designed to be large enough to grow food for the inhabitants during a siege.

Jaycees Hear About C-Chest

Jaycees heard about the activities of three organizations that benefit from the Community Chest funds when they met for lunch at the Settles Hotel Monday.

Warren Anderson talked about Boy Scout work in Howard County, while Ann Gray discussed Tri-Hi-Y activities under the sponsorship of the YMCA. A report on Girl Scout programs was also heard.

A-1e William McKenzie, Webb Air Force Base, showed a film on the North Atlantic Pact Organization. The film stressed the unity of the Pact allies and showed how this unity was put into action under NATO leadership.

Routine business was also conducted during the meeting. Ray Rhodes, president, presided.

More Lies About Rattlers Than About Any Other Living Thing

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald.—Editor's Note.

Just as we topped out the hill behind the bunch of heaters and they started down the long slope, the old cowboy pointed out toward a band of salt grass about a quarter-mile wide that cut us from off from the tall posts of the corral gate on the rise on the other side of the little valley, where it was said Billy the Kid once herded cattle.

"We'll take 'em through that salt grass at a dead run," he said.

"Why?" I wondered.

"That grass is full of rattlesnakes," the old-timer explained. "If we take them hoppers through there fast enough the snakes won't have time to coil 'n' bite."

We took 'em through at a dead run and there weren't any snakebites. Whether or not fast traveling had anything to do with it, I don't pretend to know. The old-timer said it did, and he was a man who had seen a lot of snakes. In fact the other boys had nicknamed him "Rattlesnake."

A man can hear a lot of things about rattlesnakes, and someday I hope to meet a man who really knows as much about them as some men I've met have professed to know. There have probably been more lies told about rattlesnakes than any other living thing, candidates and Jesse James not excepted.

Down in South Texas I knew an old Mexican whose fingers were curved to fit the handle of a .45 and whose legs were curved to fit a mustang. He always insisted the rattlesnake located its victim by a very keen sense of smell.

"I know," he said. "I have lived among them always. I have studied them. There are smells from which they flee and there are smells that draw them nearer. I will someday prove it to you."

Then one night he told me: "They have just thrown out the entrails of a butchered calf. The snakes will smell them. There will be snakes there in the morning. I will show you." The next morning we killed seven rattlesnakes near there.

Once I was hunting with an old Choc-taw Indian in Oklahoma. We were in ankle-high bunch grass when he suddenly stopped.

"Where?" I asked.

"I don't know, but I smell him. He will smell us and come to us. Quiet," he warned.

We waited perhaps a minute and a half or two minutes.

"Still," the Indian almost whispered raising his shotgun until it seemed the muzzle was pointed directly at me, and then it belched fire. I whirled. He had filled the snake with shot. It was about 25 feet from me. I am satisfied he couldn't have seen it when he first warned me. The snake was too far to one side of the direction in which we were walking.

Definitely there is a distinct odor around dens in which there are a number of snakes, but keen indeed is the sense of smell of a man who can smell a lone snake on open prairie with the wind blowing toward the snake.

Some time we'll talk more snake power.

Gallup Poll

Third Party Vote Is Likeliest To Be The Smallest In Years

By GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 7 — The vote for third parties this November is likely to be the smallest in years.

Fewer than 1 per cent of all persons questioned by interviewers for the Institute say they are planning to vote for some candidate other than Eisenhower or Stevenson.

This is in sharp contrast to 1948 when 5 per cent, or 2,623,000 persons, voted for third parties. The lion's share of that vote was divided among the Progressive Party, led by Henry A. Wallace, and the States' Rights (or Dixiecrat) Party, which nominated J. Strom Thurmond, then governor of South Carolina.

Together these two parties polled 2,333,000 and the Dixiecrats got 39 electoral votes—largest electoral vote total for any third party since 1912.

Except for the Wallace Progressives and the Dixiecrats, the largest third party vote rolled up in the last 25 years was for the Socialist ticket of Norman Thomas in the depression year 1932. He polled 885,000 votes.

In 1936 the Union-Royal Oak party, headed by William Lemke, congressman from North Dakota, polled 882,000.

This year, for the first time in seven consecutive presidential races, the Socialists aren't running Norman Thomas.

Their candidate is Darlington Hoopes Jr., a Reading, Pa. lawyer. According to latest reports the Socialist ticket is on the ballot in approximately 20 states this year.

There also is a Socialist Labor Party ticket and a Socialist Workers Party ticket. Both are expected to be on the ballot in about 20 states.

The Progressive Party, from which Henry Wallace has completely dissociated himself, has a ticket in the presidential field headed by Vincent Hallinan. Party spokesmen say they expect to be on the ballot in about 35 states.

The oldest third party now in existence is the Prohibition Party, which has entered a ticket in every presidential race since 1872. In the late nineties and early 1900's the Prohibition ticket often polled as much as one-quarter of a million votes. In 1948 the party polled 104,000, a substantial increase over both 1944 and 1940.

The foregoing listing of third parties in the field this year does not pretend to be complete. The Vegetarian Party plans to enter the race, and there also is a Washington Peace Party in Florida which has a woman candidate for President.

High Points

The high points of the third party movement in the United States came in 1912 and 1924.

In 1924 Robert M. La Follette the elder, heading a Progressive ticket, polled 4,823,000 votes—17 per cent of the total cast that year—although he received only 13 electoral votes.

The election in which a third party profoundly affected the course of history was 1912.

Theodore Roosevelt organized the Bull Moose Party to register his objections to the policies of the Republican Party under William Howard Taft.

The Roosevelt Bull Moose ticket so split the Republican vote that Woodrow Wilson was elected President although he actually polled only 42 per cent of the popular votes cast.

Pyrite And Flint Make A Fire

Questions come to mind when we speak of fire. For example, we may ask: What is fire? Is the sun made up of fire? Did early men ever use sparks to start fires?

Fire is a process of burning, and two things are common to it—light and heat. Our sun may be called a fiery mass, but it fails to "burn up," in the same way sticks burn up in a bonfire, or as coal burns in a stove or furnace.

The sun is fire of a special kind, and a great deal might be written about the way it burns. For the present, however, let us note only this point: scientists believe that the sun's fiery heat is produced by constant atomic explosions.

Although we speak of wood "burning up," the wood simply changes form, turning into gas, ash and so on. If we burned wood inside of a sealed tank, the tank and its contents would weigh the same after the burning as before.

That tank would need to be a large one. Otherwise the fire would go out too soon. Fire uses oxygen as it burns. When the supply of oxygen comes to an end, the fire stops burning.

Early men used several methods of making fire. Yesterday I spoke of rubbing wood on wood, also of the "bamboo saw" employed in the Malay States.

Iroquois Indians used to kindle fire in a hurry with a "pump drill." In operating this, they employed a stick with a point which whirled against a chunk of wood. A cord was wound around the pointed stick, and the Indian worked a crosspiece to make the point turn rapidly.

In and near some of the caves which were used by Stone Age people in Europe, iron pyrites have been found next to pieces of flint. It is believed that some of the cave folk started fires with sparks, and that the sparks were produced when chunks of flint and pyrite were knocked together.

Until matches came into widespread use, people in civilized countries made fires with flint and steel. Tinder material was kept ready for the sparks. There was blowing to help the sparks set the tinder burning.

Woman Pickpocket Is Caught In Rome

ROME — An Italian woman told police she picked the pockets of 35 religious pilgrims in one morning. She is now serving a jail term.

She was arrested in Northern Italy when a policeman saw her put in her provision bag a wallet she had stolen in a sanctuary. They searched her bag and found another 34 wallets. She confessed she had picked them up during the morning religious ceremonies.

If You Are A Natural Born Citizen, Uncle Sam Can't Take Citizenship Away

By ARTHUR EDSON
(For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON — Most of us take our U. S. citizenship pretty much for granted.

We were born in this country, or possibly born abroad of U. S. parents. Our citizenship was none of our doing. And no matter how ornery or worthless we may be, no one can take our citizenship away.

To be sure, we can take to violent crime and maybe lose our citizenship rights, such as the right to vote.

Or we can decide to become citizens of another country. But that's something we decide to do, not something the government decides to do to us.

Atty. Gen. McGranery had in mind another type of citizen—the naturalized citizen—when he said last week he wanted to rid this country of about 100 foreign-born racketeers.

"Ungrateful recipients of American hospitality," McGranery called them.

He hopes to have their naturalization papers revoked and then deport them. And, he said, he has similar plans for some Communists.

McGranery didn't discuss details, but any attempt to carry out such a program would be a long, tedious legal operation.

In the first place, a naturalized citizen who got his papers legally and honestly can't be deported. This country can't kick him out even though he later becomes criminal No. 1 on the FBI list.

To denaturalize a foreign-born citizen the government must prove in court that he obtained his papers illegally or through fraud.

It is here, obviously, that McGranery expects the Justice Department to make its case. Many of those he calls "unsavory characters" were unsavory to begin with, and possibly lied in getting their citizenship papers.

But let's suppose the case finally is proved. Is the unsavory character on his way back to wherever he came from?

No, he merely has reverted back to his former state. He's an alien again, one of the three million or so in this country.

Now the government must begin deportation proceedings. Here again the defendant has every legal right to fight back and to appeal. But, again, let's suppose the case finally is proved. Are we rid of him at last?

No, not necessarily.

We must have some country to deport him to. He may not be a citizen anywhere. His country may not take him back.

L. Paul Winings, general counsel for the Immigration and Naturalization Service, says there are 3,487 deportable aliens this country wants to get rid of, but can't.

Rex, Lilli Harrison Are Proud Of Joint Success

NEW YORK — I once knew German air blitz on the British capital.

They cited their latest film, "The Four Poster," a tender tale of married life in which they share top billing with a bed, as evidence of the advantages of such teamwork.

"We were able to finish it in 23 days because we were able to rehearse at home together," said Lilli, a lady with magnificent eyes who was once told by a drama coach, "You have no charm—you're like a schoolmarm."

"We couldn't have done it so quickly unless we were married."

Wedded in art, they avoid possible marital monotony by pursuing different hobbies. Lilli paints and water skis. Rex likes to golf and fish. One hobby they share: Collecting old Dutch delft porcelain, and they search the world for new pieces.

Frank Kindel, president of the Carlsbad Chamber of Commerce, landed his plane near the accident scene to see if he could be of help. In landing he hit a parked car, damaging both his plane and the car.

Tidelands Are Of Great Value, And They Belong To Our State

Some of the political workers are saying that, despite all the wordage—oral and printed—concerning the tidelands issue, too many Texas still are not sufficiently acquainted with it.

Robert M. Wagstaff of Abilene, a distinguished West Texas attorney and political student, has given some pertinent points about the tidelands in a recent address. Says Wagstaff:

"I fear Texans do not understand the tidelands. It is a body of land 10 1/4 miles wide and 350 miles long. It belongs to the public school fund of this state. It is not just a side issue. It is of the utmost importance to the present and coming generations of Texas school children.

There is not a strip of land anywhere in Texas of similar size that does not contain great mineral wealth. Down on the Gulf Coast where the salt domes of Mother Nature have trapped great bodies of oil, there is no way to estimate its value. No one knows what the tidelands contain. However, I have heard geologists estimate its value at from 300 million barrels to three billion barrels of oil.

"Under any estimate it is the greatest untapped heritage held in store for the education of the children of any political sub-division on earth. It belongs to Texas. When we came into the Union, Texas offered to exchange its public lands for the 10 million dollar public debt. Members of the United States Senate decried such a bargain. They said let Texas keep her public domain and pay her own debts. That was the proposition of the United States—and Texas accepted it.

"Then oil was found in this mineral reservoir. The courts by a curious decision which goes back to the theory that the 'king can do no wrong' held that the nation had a 'paramount interest' in this treasure and therefore could take it for its own use.

"Twice the Senate and House passed a bill to quit claim title to this property of the states that rightly own it. Twice Truman vetoed the bill. Now Gov. Stevenson proclaims that should he become president, he will do likewise. Gen. Eisenhower says he will sign such a bill.

"Who do you think Texas should vote for Nov. 4?"

Not Oil But Justice

Defense Is Not Enough Reason To Take Tidelands From Texas

By H. MEWHNNY
(Houston Post Staff)

"We assume that as a republic she (Texas) had not only full sovereignty over the marginal sea but ownership of it, of the land underlying it, and of all the riches which it held. We hold that as an incident to the transfer of that sovereignty any claim that Texas may have had to the marginal sea was relinquished to the United States."

—Associate Justice William O. Douglas, Majority Opinion, Texas Case, June 5, 1950.

"The court now decides that when Texas entered the Union she lost what she had and the United States acquired it. How that shift came to pass remains for me a puzzle."

—Associate Justice Felix Frankfurter, Dissenting Opinion, Texas Case.

"The necessity for the United States to defend the land and to handle international affairs is not enough to transfer property right in the marginal sea from Texas to the United States."

—Associate Justice Stanley Reed, Dissenting Opinion, Texas Case.

AND THERE you have the whole argument in a nutshell, except for one little thing.

Justice Frankfurter need not have wondered how the ownership shifted when Texas was admitted in 1845. No such event occurred then. It occurred when Justice Douglas delivered that majority opinion on June 5, 1950.

Perhaps the reader grows weary of all these quotations from the lawbooks, of all these fine-spun constitutional distinctions. Nevertheless, they are necessary and what comes next will be pretty much the same sort of stuff.

For instance: The 48 states fall naturally into three classes.

a) The Original Thirteen entered by a compact among themselves, that compact being the United States Constitution.

b) All the others except Texas were formed from land acquired in one way or another by the United States.

c) Texas entered by a compact equivalent to a treaty.

ONLY THREE STATES have been sued for their offshore lands and those three (for course) are all states.

The Supreme Court's decision against California was delivered on June 23, 1947. The majority was 6-2. Associate Justice Hugo Black wrote the majority opinion.

In it he held that not even the 13 original colonies acquired ownership of their offshore lands when they won their independence from the English crown; that ownership was not acquired until later and then by the federal government only; that California, as formed from territory acquired by the United States, could have no right not possessed by the Original Thirteen.

Justices Reed and Frankfurter dissented. THE ESSENCE of Justice Reed's dissent is contained in a single sentence: "The authorities cited in the court's opinion lead me to the conclusion that the original 13 states owned the lands under the seas to the three-mile limit."

The decisions in the Texas and Louisiana cases were delivered on June 5, 1950.

Louisiana, like California, was formed from territory acquired by the United States acquired, specifically, by Mr. Jefferson's Louisiana Purchase. The precedent established by the California case was accordingly followed and the court ruled unanimously against Louisiana, 7-0. Justices Jackson and Clark did not participate.

The decision against Texas went by the narrow margin of 4-3. Justices Reed and Frankfurter—who had dissented in the California case three years earlier—now again dissented. Justice Sherman Minton, who had not been a member of the court when the California case was heard, joined in the dissenting opinion written by Justice Reed.

JUSTICE REED'S opinion states the essence of the matter so clearly that part of it might well be quoted here. He said:

"The necessity for the United States to defend the land and to handle international affairs is not enough to transfer property rights in the marginal sea from Texas to the United States."

Federal sovereignty is paramount within national boundaries, but federal ownership depends on taking possession, as the California case holds; on consent, as in the case of places for federal use; or on purchase, as in the case of Alaska or the territory of Louisiana.

THE NEEDS of defense and foreign affairs alone cannot transfer ownership of an ocean bed from a state to the federal government any more than they could transfer iron ore under uplands from state to federal ownership.

National responsibility is no greater in respect to the marginal sea than it is toward every other patric of American territory.

In my view, Texas owned the marginal sea by virtue of its original proprietorship; it has not been shown to my satisfaction that it lost it by the terms of the resolution of annexation.

I would deny the United States' motion for judgment.

JUSTICE REED'S dignified language might be paraphrased into something a little blunter: The claim that national defense requires the Interior Department to collect oil royalties is a flat absurdity. Against any enemy whatsoever, the federal government is committed to defend every creek and cow pasture in this country—every clod and pebble—inland or offshore.

Thus far, of course, only three oil-producing states have been sued for paramount right (as the court and the solicitor general call it) over their offshore lands. But the majority opinion in the California case held that not even the Original Thirteen owned their offshore lands; all three decisions have vested the federal government with paramount right, not merely over oil royalties, but also over everything else on or under such lands; and as time goes on an increasing awareness develops of what that language means.

From the many available examples, let a single quotation suffice here. This is from a letter written last May to the New York Times by Robert Moses, city construction co-ordinator for New York:

"... NO PUBLIC issue of our time has received less intelligent attention from the press than the 'tidelands' controversy. The federal oil bonanza created by the Supreme Court at the expense of the traditional rights of California, Louisiana and Texas seems to have completely seduced popular opinion and the press, too, for the time being.

"Like Russian peasants chanting a nationalization decree, they keep chanting that this treasure trove belongs to all of us and that it would be a crime against the people to turn it back to the states and other predatory interests.

"Here in New York that ruling may cloud the city's title to the submerged lands on which its piers and other waterfront improvements stand... Large sections of the Shore Parkway in Brooklyn were built on filled-in land, and Orchard Beach and Ferry Point Park are situated on lands reclaimed from Long Island Sound.

"At Coney Island and at Staten Island's Great Kills Park extensive park and recreational areas have been created and developed by filling in lands which not long ago were ocean bottom below the low water mark."

NATURALLY, the people here in Texas as well as less interested than Mr. Moses in the paramount right which the federal government is now entitled to exercise over the parks fringing Coney Island.

A more picturesque example stands much closer.

The late Sam Maceo's blue-chip gambling joint on the seaward side of Galveston Island is standing on those same tidelands that Mr. Moses is talking about. It is on the end of a long pier protruding well beyond the low-tide mark.

SAM BUILT that pier so long so he could keep the Texas Rangers out.

Little did he know that he was letting Oscar Chapman in.

Art Objects Checked

CARBONDALE, Ill. — Exports are trying to crack the mystery of weird carvings and paintings on walls of caves and rock shelters in South Illinois.

Figures represent mythological characters, the sun, the swastika and animal life. Irvin Peitman, curator of archaeology at Southern Illinois University, says there is no tradition among living Indians to explain Southern Illinois' earliest art works. The explanation may come from digging into prehistoric villages.

Siding The GRUB LINE

By Franklin Reynolds

The Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District has received a three-row seeder that is available to farmers who want to plant cover crops. The drill, equipped with fertilizer boxes, will operate without damage to growing crops.

At present this equipment is located at the farm of W. H. Yater, one of the district supervisors, who lives five miles west of Stanton on Highway 80. Rental on the seeder is on an acreage basis. Farmers wanting to use it are advised to make early application because a "served as they come" list will be made of those who want to make use of it.

An international meeting of Aberdeen-Angus breeders from all parts of the United States, Canada and South America will be held in Chicago during the International Livestock Exposition early in December. This is expected to be the greatest session of breeders of the Blacks in all time.

Highlighting the meeting will be the breed banquet which will be held in the grand ballroom of the Conrad Hilton Hotel at 8:30 p.m. Dec. 3. Last year the banquet was attended by 928 breeders and this year the attendance is expected to go well past that number.

Melvin Wimberly, southeast of Midland, reports that his 18 acres of Blue Panic grass is making a good growth following the recent rains. Some of it is heading out now. He planted it in July in 40-inch rows.

Gene Jones, who also lives southeast of Midland, has 15 acres of barley coming up on his farm. B. T. Graham, south of Greenwood School, has planted barley and vetch in the middle of 30 acres of feed. John King Sr., eight miles east of Midland on the Cole Park road, has 130 acres of oats up to a good stand. He plans to also plant his Sudan field as soon as he moves the cattle off. South of Midland Elmer Bizzell has seeded 20 acres of small grain. John O. Nobles, northwest of Midland, is planting 130 acres of barley and oats.

Carlton Corbin, owner of the Stonybrook Angus Ranch, Ada, Oklahoma, bought a quarter page in The Cattleman to insert the following advertisement:

"You can leave a bull in a pasture too long.

"As every breeder knows—when a bull is left in a pasture too long—inbreeding results. This is an undesirable situation from which inferior, unsatisfactory and altogether objectionable results will be obtained.

"The same is true in the administration of our government.

"The reader will please draw his own conclusions from the above comparison."

Bonnie Cox, organization specialist for the Agricultural Extension Service of Texas A&M College since 1949, has been appointed acting state home demonstration leader. She succeeds Maurine Hearn who is on a one-year leave of absence for work in Bolivia under the international assistance program.

From headquarters at College Station Miss Cox will supervise work of the home economics specialists and assist with program development. She will also continue organization work with the Texas Home Demonstration Association.

Warren Takes Stump For Ike

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Gov. Earl Warren said last night the election of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower would "inspire confidence in all the people of the free world, with whom we must work if peace and good will are to be restored to this earth."

It was the 1948 GOP vice presidential nominee's first speech on behalf of the Eisenhower-Nixon ticket. Speaking to a radio audience, he said of Eisenhower:

"No American active in public life today has the world-wide prestige that he enjoys."

"Our people... will follow him in a revitalized foreign policy that will enable the United States to furnish the world leadership for collective security against Communist aggression."

"It is a change of administration that the nation needs, and that change can only come through the election of our great Republican candidate, Dwight D. Eisenhower," Warren said.

French Release Many Prisoners Of The Vietminh

By LARRY ALLEN
HANOI, Indochina (AP)—The French Union forces have taken more than 200,000 captives from the Communist-led Vietminh in the six-year war in Indochina, but most of them are now free.

A check disclosed there are now only 63,115 Vietminh in concentration camps scattered in North, Central and South Viet Nam and in Cambodia and Laos.

Of these, 7,899 are listed as regular prisoners of war—men taken in combat with the French troops. A total of 55,216 are numbered as "internees."

Since Moscow-trained Ho Chi Minh started his rebellion in 1946, the French from time to time have released hundreds or thousands of imprisoned Vietminh.

Tens of thousands seized in Vietminh zones of fighting as suspected of or actively aiding or carrying arms for the Vietminh, have been, and are being separated, from the "die-hard" regular Vietminh soldiers. Most of the latter likely will remain prisoners of war until the conflict in Indochina is ended.

The French carefully screen all Vietminh internees. Where it is proven they were impressed into Vietminh military service or forced to otherwise aid the Vietminh, action is taken to arrange their eventual liberation.

Thousands of these once-suspect Vietminh return to villages in French-held sectors of North Indochina and cause no further trouble for the Franco-Vietnamese authorities. Some go back to Vietminh-held territory. Much depends on where they last saw their families or relatives.

With 63,115 prisoners of war and Vietminh internees still held by Franco-Vietnamese authorities, the record shows about 137,000 have been turned loose since 1946.

The Viet Nam count heavily upon mass amnesty as a means of rallying former suspected or outright adherents of the Vietminh to the government of Viet Nam.

In the last six weeks Viet Nam authorities have released 4,000 Vietminh prisoners of war and military internees.

Although there never has been an official agreement for the exchange of prisoners between the French and the Vietminh, batches of French Union captives are liberated from time to time by the Vietminh.

Available figures show the Vietminh have as captives 446 Frenchmen; 735 foreign legionnaires; 146 North Africa and 41 Africans. There is no estimate of the number of Viet Nam soldiers in Vietminh prison camps.

Fire produced all artificial illumination until electric light was introduced in the 19th Century.

IT'S ALL VERY SIMPLE IF YOU STOP TO THINK ABOUT THE CALL

The telephone at Police Headquarters rang and night Desk Clerk Albert (Curley) Brown answered.

"I wish you'd send the police out here to get a drunken driver that ran into me," a man's voice said.

"Where is he?" Brown asked.

"Down here at the bottom of this telephone pole."

Brown says he has run into few bigger surprises. He thought he had misunderstood.

"At the bottom of a telephone pole?" He asked slowly, and in an unbelieving tone.

"Yeah. Down here at the bottom of this telephone pole."

"And where are you?" Brown wanted to know.

"I'm up on top of the pole!"

"On top of the pole?" By now Brown didn't know who was who or what.

"Yeah. I'm on top of the pole," said G. D. Hartley. You see I forgot to tell you I work for the telephone company. This guy hit me and the nearest telephone for me was right up this pole near where it happened. I've got him at the bottom of the pole, send out and get him."

And there the officers found the low man on the telephone pole, as well as the pole-sitting informant.

Soviet Barrels Are Bottomless Despite Claims

WASHINGTON (AP)—The bottom appears to have fallen out of a Communist manager's claims that his Russian barrel shop overfilled its production quota.

The publication Soviet Moldavia, a copy of which has reached the State Department, recalled that the manager of the consumers goods shop of the Brichansk Timber Enterprise recently claimed all its quotas were filled up to 150 per cent.

Now, said Soviet Moldavia, members of the collective farm Novaya Zhizn—New Life—report this "unpardonable mistake."

"Last fall we bought five sleighs which were made by that shop. Every one of them was no good. Then our Kolkhoz bought eight oak barrels. On the way to the Kolkhoz, the bottoms fell out of three barrels. The other barrels are leaking."

Sinatra, Gardner Having Troubles

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A career problem has upset the Frank Sinatra-Ava Gardner marriage, but it isn't serious, the crooner reported last night.

"We have a career problem," Sinatra declared. "But I think everything will work out all right. I'm going to see my wife in about 10 days in Hollywood."

Nixon Winds Up Fast Tour Of New England

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—Sen. Richard M. Nixon, Republican vice presidential candidate, last night wound up a fast-moving whistle-stop tour of three New England states with a charge that President Truman is "playing cheap, dirty politics."

The one-day round trip from New York took the California senator through Connecticut, Massachusetts and Rhode Island, highlighted by a precedent-making visit to solidly Democratic South Boston.

In a series of speeches, Nixon continued to blast the Democratic administration, particularly the President. He told a police-estimated crowd of 10,000 on Boston Common that Truman is engaging in a "mud-slinging, egg-throwing" campaign.

"Early this year," Nixon declared, "Mr. Truman said he didn't see why Eisenhower wanted to expose himself to the mud, rotten eggs and rotten tomatoes which were going to be thrown at him."

"It is now clear that was not a prediction—it was a threat."

Nixon's reception in South Boston—never before visited by a GOP vice presidential candidate—was marked by indications of what may have been dissent. The Boston Herald reported a tomato "was hurled in his general direction but it missed the target."

"On the outskirts of this crowd of more than 1,000, an indignant South Boston resident, collared a bare-headed young man in possession of a bag of tomatoes," the newspaper said.

Police estimated that 3,000 listened as Nixon vigorously denounced communism.

In Brockton, home of heavy-weight champion Rocky Marciano, the GOP candidate told some 4,500 that "Americans like fighters in politics—but they like clean fighters like your Rocky Marciano, men that fight hard but clean."

Winding up his tour, Nixon addressed some 5,000 in Crescent park, Providence, R. I., and called for the removal of Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

"We find the Truman-Stevenson team's first order of business," he declared, "is trying to tear down the reputation of Dwight Eisenhower—the only man equipped to meet the great challenge now facing America."

Fried Chicken Is Handy Dish

Fried chicken in 20 minutes. That's the policy at Toby's Fast Chick, 1801 Gregg.

Toby Cook, owner and manager, states that any size order will be filled—for the individual, family or picnic crowds. All chicken orders are packed in boxes for "take-home" eating.

Orders can be called in, or the individual can make his desires known at the counter. A delivery service is in operation, and the charge is only 25 cents extra. Toby says he uses only Swift's Premium tender-grown fryers. He has a contract with the Swift processing plant in Waco.

All orders are served with cream gravy, fresh hot rolls, french fried potatoes and honey. The cheapest order—gizzards—is 75 cents, and the highest—a whole chicken—is $2.40.

The regular order (three pieces) is $1; one-half chicken (six pieces) $1.50; liver (six), 90 cents; all-white order (three) $1.35; and four drumsticks $1.10.

Toby says that special prices are made for large picnic orders, and that deliveries will be made. For service, customers can call 9673. The store hours are from 10:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. and from 4:30 p.m. to 10 p.m. every day except Monday. Toby has three employees on duty during business hours.

Boxes in which the chicken is packed holds the freshness and the heat of the food. They also aid the customer in handling the chicken.

Hat Blocking Equipment Is Added By Gregg Cleaners

The Gregg Street Dry Cleaners has recently installed new equipment to ready hats for the fall season. Frank Rutherford, owner and operator, states that blocks have been purchased for every type hat.

Rutherford is particularly proud of his new long, oval shaped block. "We can fix hats now where they will fit anyone's head, whether long and oval or big and round."

The Gregg Street Cleaners also has a line of hat stretchers. In case the hat shrinks a little from the blocking job, it can always be made to fit without hurting the appearance.

"All we ask is that the customers check their hats before they leave, so we will be able to assure a fit," Rutherford said. Many times people have hats blocked only to find they do not fit when they get home, and a previous check would remedy an extra trip back.

Rutherford does all his own hat work. He says it is too hard to find a competent hat blocker. "In that particular line, I give personalized service," he said.

One-day service can be given on cleaning and pressing if it is requested, Rutherford said. However, the regular service, complete with delivery, requires three days. Occasionally two day service can be given on the week end.

As a special accommodation to customers, leather work, dyeing and reweaving will be accepted. However, these special jobs are sent to specialized firms equipped to handle them. Leather work is sent to Los Angeles.

Rutherford states that no profit is made on the leather, dye and reweaving work. "All it costs the customer is mailing fees and the price set by the specialists."

The firm is also equipped to do alterations, and storage facilities are available to people wishing to store clothes over the winter. Moth bags are in stock, coming in three varieties—plastic, paper, and plastic with zipper. The zipper bags are made in all colors.

Rutherford has been in the cleaning business in Big Spring since 1928. His firm has been located at 1700 Gregg since 1947. He employs seven people in addition to himself and his wife.

Naturally He Ran To Cooling Brook
ROSSVILLE, Ga., (AP) Butch, a 5-year-old hound chained under a burning house yesterday, howled helplessly as rescue efforts were blocked by flames.

A passerby J. B. Durham of Chickamauga, Ga., seized a shotgun and fired at the dog's head, hoping to halt the hound's suffering.
The pellets only clipped the dog's ear, however, and Butch dashed off to a cooling brook.

Human Guinea Pig Dies From Disease

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—The second of 200 volunteer "human guinea pigs" has died at McNeil Island Federal Prison, a victim of Army experiments seeking a cure for a liver disease prevalent in Korea.
The death Sunday night of Walter Harvey Wood, 39, was reported by Warden Fred Wilkinson, who said that of the 200 inmates inoculated with hepatitis, a form of yellow jaundice, only 15 per cent had come down with the disease.

The men offered to help the Army find a method of combatting the sometimes fatal ailment, which struck many servicemen in World War II and also in Korea.
Wood, sentenced for interstate transportation of forged securities, would have been eligible for parole
next April.

Report Potato Shortage May Come In Spring

WASHINGTON (AP)—There may be another potato shortage next spring, the Agriculture Department said today.
Basing its outlook on the Sept. 1
crop report, the department said for 1953 as a whole, however, farmers probably will produce more potatoes and other fresh market crops than in 1952 if the weather is average or better.
It added that supply and demand prospects indicate prices will average slightly below this year's levels.
A seasonal drop in potato prices is expected when the 1952 late crop begins to move in volume, the report added.
Next year's production of truck crops may be larger than this year when unfavorable weather in some areas reduced the yields, causing alternate periods of glut and scarcity and sharp price variations, the department said.
Because of relatively high prices received for most truck crops in the last two years, the department predicted growers likely will attempt to produce at least as large a volume as this year and in that event grower and consumer prices probably will average a little lower than in 1952.
The department said prices for canned and frozen vegetables from now until mid-1953 are expected to remain generally near present
levels.
Some fossil kangaroos are believed to have weighed as much as small horses and to have had feeding habits similar to those of a horse.

Taft Joins General In Blasting Truman

CINCINNATI (AP)—Although they were hundreds of miles apart, U.
S. Sen. Robert A. Taft and Gen.
Dwight D. Eisenhower joined last night in calling President Truman a "demagogue."
Taft, who lost the Republican presidential nomination to Gen. Eisenhower, spoke at a meeting of 1400 political workers and candidates here and called the President "a dangerous demagogue."
At the same time, Eisenhower, speaking in Seattle, was calling Mr. Truman "an expert in political demagoguery."
Sen. Taft declared the President's speeches should be studied because "they are directed to personal units of each group and they exhibit complete recklessness of truth."
"Mr. Truman hasn't the slightest conception of the weight of taxes on the average person," Taft said.
"Mr. Truman and Mr. Stevenson (Adlai E. Stevenson, Democratic presidential nominee) haven't the slightest idea what it is about."
Sen. Taft warned the Hamilton
County precinct workers and county and state candidates that the election "is not in the bag" and he added that persons who supported him in the GOP national convention would not be held in disfavor by Gen. Eisenhower.
"There is no 'purge' idea in Gen.
Eisenhower's mind," Taft said.
"Regarding appointments, he has assured me that no one will be discriminated against because he supported me for the nomination."

You Have To Be A Mariner To Live In This Village

WELLFLEET, Mass. (AP)—When
the bell in the town clock strikes eight, the residents of this Cape
Cod town know it's either noon,
4 o'clock, 8 or midnight.
The ship's bell idea was approved by the annual town meeting as in keeping with the town's seagoing tradition. The bell was adjusted during the past week.
So far, the only persons mystified by the new bell system are visiting landlubbers who know nothing about the salty system of time keeping.
Aboard ship, bells divide the day into four-hour segments. Twelve o'clock is eight bells; 12:30 is marked by one bell; 1 o'clock by two bells and so on until eight bells at 4 o'clock and again at 8 o'clock
