Myers Gets New Trial On Appeal

By SAM BLACKBURN

"Boy, that's good news—that's real good news!"

That was the reaction of John Edwin Myers, convicted murderer, today when told that he had won a new chance to beat the electric chair.

In his cell in the Howard County jail, the confessed slayer of four persons, grinned happily when he was informed the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals in Austin had reversed his Cherokee County conviction for murder.

ANOTHER CHANCE

"I got another chance to beat that chair," the defendant exclaimed. "That's the best news I have heard in a long, long time."

Wednesday, the appellate court handed down a ruling remanding the Myers case to the 145th District Court at Rusk for re-trial. It upheld a motion by Myers' attorneys that he had not been given a fair trial and that the verdict a jury of 12 Cherokee County citizens had returned finding him guilty of murder and setting his punishment at death, was not in accordance with law.

He had been found guilty of the Sept. 1, 1961 murder of Arthur DeKraai, whot to death on IS 20 a few miles west of Big Spring.

District Attorney Gil Jones, who prosecuted Myers, received word of the findings of the court by telephone early today.

"I am sorry the court has reversed the case," said the prosecutor, "but I am not too much surprised. I will try Myers again. Where he will be tried or when, I do not know but the way things look now, we'll try him.

WEST TEXAS

"I hope we can get the case back in West Texas. After all, I feel that when a fellow comes into Howard County and commits murder, it is our duty to deal with him. We shouldn't have to send our dirty linen to our neighbors for washing."

Myers, who has been in the Howard County jail since the morning after DeKraai's bullet-pierced body was found on a lonely ranch road a few miles west of here, was asked if he had any recent word from his attorneys.

"I got a letter two weeks ago from them, but they didn't tell me anything, really," he said. "They just said for me not to worry. I tried not to worry but it's hard to get a thing like that (death in the electric chair) out of your mind.

"I made myself shove it aside as much as I could. If a fellow doesn't do that—if he just sits and thinks about what's ahead it will drive him crazy.

"But now I can relax a little. I don't know what will happen but I do know that I got a new chance."

CONSULT

Jones said that he will have to consult with Judge James Moore, 145th District Court, and find out what the judge has in mind. Judge Moore presided at the trial of Myers in Rusk after the case was transferred from Howard County on a change of venue. The case was tried in March, 1962.

JOHN EDWIN MYERS
. . . "real good news"

Myers and his teen-age girlfriend, Donna Marie Stone, admitted they slew the Iowan to rob him of the money they thought he had. He had been given a ride by the Illinois pair. DeKraai had no money. After dumping his body on a lonely ranch road, Myers and the girl drove on to Midland where they were arrested by an officer who spotted the car they were in and recalled it had been reported stolen.

The car had been the property of Margaret Wernicker of East St. Louis. Myers and the girl had kidnaped the Wernicker woman, forced her to go with them to a point near Thayer, Mo., where they said they shot her to death. Miss Wernicker was the third murder victim of the pair.

FIRST VICTIMS

Earlier, they reported they had shot George Ballard, 45, and his 11-year-old daughter, Carole. These were the first of the four victims of the slayers and they met death on the shore of a lake near Bellville, Ill.

Donna Marie has been returned to Illinois where she pleaded guilty to her part in the slaying of the Ballards. She is now in the custody of the Illinois Juvenile Authority and will be detained by that agency until she is 21.

Myers' court-appointed attorneys, Orvan B. Jones and Richard Stone, of Cherokee County, had sought a new trial on grounds of jury misconduct. This motion was overruled by Judge Moore and was appealed. This was the issue before the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals.

Jones said that while he had not seen the transcript of the appellate court's ruling, the reversal undoubtedly was based on the misconduct allegations. It was contended the jury had discussed mat-

Controversial Water Tap Ordered Moved

A private pipe line carrying city water outside the city limits was denied by the Big Spring City Commission Tuesday, in line with the long-established city policy.

Construction of the line had already started, the commission was told, after it was given approval by City Manager Larry Crow. The application for the water tap had been refused twice by Building Inspector Tom Newton and Director of Public Works Bruce Dunn.

Application for the water tap was made by Charles P. Jones and Bob Heinze in the Highland South Addition and the pipeline runs up the side of South Mountain to a building site on top—a residence being built by Wayne Basden. The site is outside the city limits.

Individual commissioners pointed out that between 10-12 applications for city water outside the city limits had been denied during the last year; approval of this particular tap was branded as discrimination. The commissioners stood firm on the established policy, stating the only way city water could be transported off the lot would be by tank truck. A primary issue in the controversy is the policy that two customers cannot be served from one water tap.

City Manager Crow was instructed to notify the lot owner of the decision.

Little Rain In Prospect

By The Associated Press

Temperatures 7 to 8 degrees above normal with little or no rain was in prospect for much of Texas the next five days, the Weather Bureau said Wednesday.

Skies Wednesday morning were generally fair over the state with pre-dawn temperatures ranging from 38 at Lufkin to 66 at Brownsville.

A long-range forecast called for temperatures 8 degrees or more above normal the next five days in North Central Texas and 7 degrees or more above normal in Northwest Texas. Little or no rain was expected in the two regions.

The same prospect held true for southern sections of the state with temperatures expected to be from 4 to 8 degrees above normal and no rain expected, except for a few showers near the coast over the weekend.

Senate Passes Higher Education Study Bill

Measure Sent To Governor

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas Senate sent Gov. John Connally one of his top priority requests today —a bill creating a 25-member committee to study Texas' future needs in higher education.

The 26-2 vote came after Sen. Andy Rogers of Childress called the bill "a farce and a dodge."

"All this thing is a farce," he said. "It's a dodge to keep us from meeting our responsibilities to finance higher education properly today and to put it off for another two years."

"Every study we've ever had has shown one thing—that we need more money, and that's what this one will show.

"It sounds like the New Frontier—good sounding but not doing anything."

One of the first actions of this legislature was to give Connally $50,000 in emergency money to finance the committee between now and Aug. 31.

The major fights over the bill came in both houses over who would appoint members of the committee. Forces backing Connally's stand were successful in retaining his right to appoint all members.

Amendments to permit the speaker and lieutenant governor to appoint several of the members failed.

The bill requires the committee to complete its work by Aug. 31, 1964.

Earlier the senators gave tentative approval to a million dollar a year cut in state revenue.

On voice vote the Senate engrossed a House-approved bill lowering the state sulphur tax from $1.40 to $1.03 a ton to make Texas sulphur competitive with Louisiana sulphur.

Sen. Culp Krueger, El Campo, sponsor, predicted the $1 million a year loss in tax money would be made up in several years by increased production caused by the lower tax rate.

Senators then refused 18-11 to give the two-thirds majority needed for immediate debate on the governor's controversial recommendation that the Game and Fish Commission be merged with the State Parks Board. The bill already has House approval.

Another voice vote sent to the governor a bill making flying while intoxicated a felony offense.

The House sent to the Senate on voice vote a bill aimed at preventing another slant hole oil drilling scandal. The bill makes it a felony to intentionally drill a well to take oil from another's lease. More than 380 criminal indictments involving such slant hole drilling are now pending.

Also sent to the Senate on voice vote in the House were a bill recodifying statutes concerning savings and loan associations and a bill letting cities of 10,000 or more withhold dues for firemen and policemen's employe associations.

Senate passage of the anti-loan shark bill sends it to the House Banks and Banking Committee which has had several loan regulatory measures sitting in subcommittees.

Estes Jury Taking Pains

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Jurors in the Billie Sol Estes mail fraud trial showed today that they are going through all 14 counts of the indictment with painstaking care.

The jury, 24 hours after it started deliberating, asked for more information on count 6.

It asked to see a letter entered by the prosecution but denied admission as evidence because of some writing in red on the bottom.

The court began searching for ways to duplicate the letter without the red writing.

The jurors Tuesday asked the court to define "fraud" and "conspiracy."

The jury of 10 men and 2 women is weighing government charges that Estes bilked finance companies and buyers of mythical farm fertilizer tanks of more than $20 million through sales of fake mortgages.

A note to federal district Judge R. Ewing Thomason disclosed the election of a Negro foreman, possibly the first of his race to serve a federal court in Texas in such capacity since Reconstruction. Veteran lawyers could recall no other.

In charging the jury Tuesday, Judge Thomason said the jurors should free Estes if they decided no fraud was intended. He also told them that the Pecos, Tex., promoter should be freed if they decided he made the mortgage deals in good faith. The defense brought out that Estes repaid the finance companies $4.5 million before his arrest. But Judge Thomason did not expand on his statement.

The judge, a former congressman, excused the panel at 9 p.m. for a night's rest on learning no quick decision was in prospect. He sent back word the court would be available for any communication from the jury again at 9 a.m. today.

Jurors discussed the case for nearly 10 hours Tuesday. They ordered sandwiches sent in for lunch but took an hour and 45 minutes for dinner in custody of court bailiffs at a cafe. They crossed the street from the federal court house to spend the night in the jury quarters of El Paso's City-County Building.

Estes sat in the courtroom throughout the day with three brothers to await developments, leaving only for lunch and an evening meal. The brothers' wives joined them at intervals. Estes' lawyers remained but only a handful of spectators stayed. None of the Estes brothers would speculate on the possible verdict or comment otherwise.

The jury foreman is Robbin E. L. Washington who retired after gaining the Army rank of lieutenant colonel in World War II. He now sells real estate and insurance in El Paso.

While being questioned during jury selection, Washington said his original home was Huntington, W.Va., and that he attended Officers Candidate School at Fort Sill, Okla. He also said he was a Roman Catholic.

There are three other Negroes on the jury, all men.

There were indications some of the jurors anticipated lengthy debate in trying to agree on a verdict. Aware they would be locked up once deliberations began, six of them came to court yesterday carrying luggage.

Crash-Cold Victim May Lose 5 Toes

WHITEHORSE, Yukon Territory (AP) — Helen Klaben, informed by her doctor she will lose her five right toes, had at least one bit of good news for her mother in Brooklyn — she should be home in about eight days.

Dr. Nesta James said the Yukon's 21-year-old heroine will be able to leave the Whitehorse Hospital next Wednesday.

Dr. James is treating Miss Klaben and Ralph Flores, the pilot of the plane that crashed Feb. 4 on a mountainside in the frozen wilderness 75 miles south of the Yukon-British Columbia border.

The doctor gave this report:

Miss Klaben suffered a broken left arm, which apparently has "healed in good position." She also suffered frostbite on the toes of her right foot and on both heels. The toes will have to be removed but the heels seem to be improving nicely.

RECOVERING

Flores suffered a broken nose, a broken jaw and frostbite on two toes. He appears to be recovering from all his injuries.

Miss Klaben was full of laughs Tuesday as she chatted by telephone with her family and close friends from a wheelchair at the nurses' station in the hospital.

"I'm a celebrity," she told her mother. "You'd never believe the attention I'm getting."

Flores also was considerably livelier than he has been since Indian trappers found him Sunday night near his distress signal that a passing bush pilot spotted.

"I feel like a million dollars," said the 42-year-old electrician and flier after a good night's sleep.

"I talked with my wife and she might be able to come visit me."

Flores' wife and six children live in San Bruno, Calif. Flores was on his way home from a job in Canada, taking Miss Klaben as a passenger, when their plane crashed.

REPRIMANDED

Bush pilot Jack McCallum said he had been reprimanded for making the risky landing which resulted in Miss Klaben's rescue.

McCallum said he landed his light plane in a narrow, tree-lined clearing about three miles from Miss Klaben's campsite. The pilot who had spotted the pair, Chuck Hamilton, had been cautioned earlier by Indians not to try to land in the hazardous flue. After McCallum landed safely, Hamilton followed in his plane.

McCallum, a pilot for the Canadian Department of Transport—which corresponds to the U.S. Civil Aviation Agency — said he had been docked a half-day's pay —$15—for making the landing.

His superior, W. L. Martel, denied McCallum had been fined but refused to say whether he had been reprimanded.

QUESTIONED

Two Department of Transport inspectors questioned Flores and Miss Klaben about the crash and planned to fly today to the crash site, 275 miles southeast of Whitehorse.

Flores and Miss Klaben lived for a week on two cans of fruit, two cans of sardines and two tubes of toothpaste. Then for six weeks they had only melted snow.

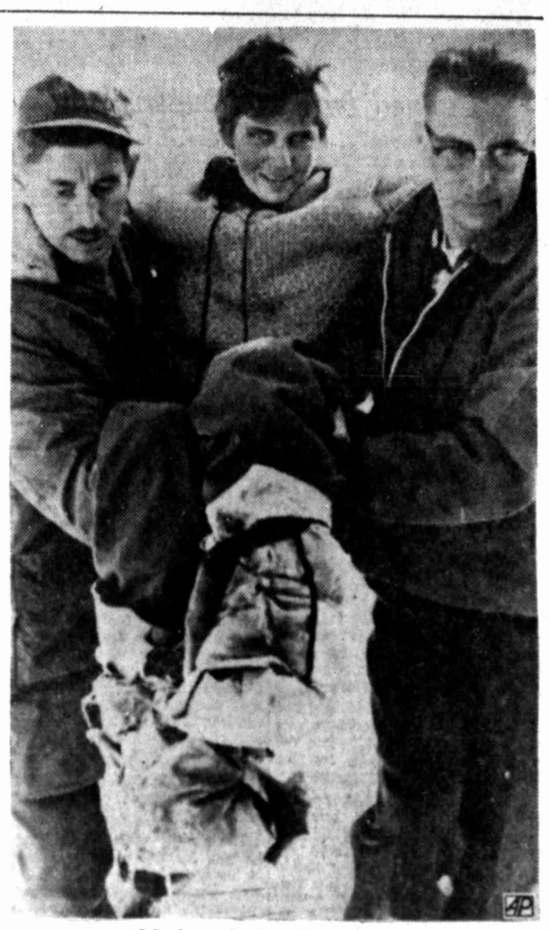

Dr. J. F. McCreary, dean of medicine at the University of British Columbia, said they survived because both were on the plump side.

"Lots of water and a little carbohydrate made it possible for them to live on the fat and protein in their bodies," he said.

The bearded pilot lost 51 pounds, dropping from 178 to 127. Miss Klaben went from about 140 pounds to less than 100.

The hospital kept them on a diet of milk, soup and eggs, and Flores didn't think much of the menu.

"If they'd give me permission to go to the kitchen," he said, "I think I could clean up."

Helped By Rescuers

Her injured feet bundled up, Helen Klaben, 21, of Brooklyn, N.Y., is carried from a rescue plane at Watson Lake, Y.T., by Gordon Tool, left, and Keith Jorgenson, after she was rescued from the wild bush country in northern Canada where she and the pilot of a small plane spent 50 days after their plane crashed. The pair lived on melted snow after their meager food supply was exhausted.

Back From The Bush

Ralph Flores, 42, missing for 50 days in the dense bush country in northern Canada, after the small plane he was piloting crashed into a mountainside, is helped from a rescue plane at Watson Lake, Y.T., by an unidentified Canadian Mountie and Keith Jorgenson, radio station operator. Flores and a passenger, Helen Klaben were taken to a hospital in Whitehorse.

Ramos Child, Car Victim, Dies At Midland Hospital

Sallie Ann Ramos, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Antonio A. Ramos, 1402 Grafa, died about 7:40 p.m. Tuesday at Midland Memorial Hospital, where she was taken Sunday afternoon following an automobile accident.

The child was taken to Cowper Clinic and Hospital after she was struck by a car driven by Alvis Harlan Hodges, Midland, when she ran into the street in the 2400 block of Monticello. She was immediately transferred to Midland for surgery.

She became Big Spring's first traffic fatality of the year and the third for the county.

She was born Jan. 9, 1959 at Colorado City.

Funeral will be at 9 a.m. Thursday at the Sacred Heart Catholic Church with the Rev. Patrick Casey officiating. Burial will be in City Cemetery under the direction of River Funeral Home.

She is survived by her parents, one sister, Maria H. Ramos; two brothers, Joe Ramos and Tony Ramos Jr.; paternal grandmother, Mrs. Josefa Ramos, Monahans; and maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Herrera, Colorado City.

Gunfire Aims At Negroes

GREENWOOD, Miss. (AP) — For the third time in less than a month, gunfire has been directed at Negroes in this Mississippi delta area where a voter registration drive is in progress.

Two shotgun blasts Tuesday night ripped into the home of Dewey Greene Sr. No one was hurt. Police said buckshot tore through the front door and a front bedroom window.

The FBI was notified.

Greene has one son, Dewey Jr., seeking admission to the University of Mississippi and another, George, working in the voter registration campaign. Greene, a painter, was at home with his wife and seven of his children.

Six children were in the bedroom hit by buckshot.

Reds Have Hard Night In Rio

NITEROI, Brazil (AP)—A subdued "Cuban Solidarity Conference" offered muted support to Fidel Castro today, cooled off by militant anti-Communist pressure and a five-mile ferryboat ride.

Gov. Carlos Lacerda of Guanabara State, a fiery foe of communism, blocked the pro-Castro Brazilians from meeting in Rio de Janeiro and chased them across Rio's Guanabara Bay Tuesday night.

Extension Asked

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Labor Department recommended today a one-year extension of the law permitting the importation of Mexicans to work on United States farms.

Old Pendergast Foes Are In Again

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—The nonpartisan Citizens Association, which wrecked the Tom Pendergast machine in 1940 and ruled the city 19 years, recaptured the municipal government Tuesday after four years in limbo.

Mayer Dies

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP)—Edwin S. Mayer, 66, who carried the Republican banner in the Texas governor's race in 1958, died in San Francisco Tuesday night.

Living Costs Are Back At Record September High

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs returned in February to the record level set last September, mainly because of higher prices for food and clothing.

The Labor Department announced today that its consumers price index rose one-tenth of 1 per cent, to 106.1 per cent of the 1957-59 average. This is 1.2 per cent above a year ago.

The figures mean over-all living costs have returned to their highest point in history, first reached last September. They mean that the average household must pay $10.61 for what $10 would buy in the 1957-59 era.

Arnold Chase, assistant statistics commissioner for prices, noted, however, that living costs have remained relatively stable, moving in a narrow range from month to month.

Chase said that the rise in living costs in January and February was wholly due to increased costs for fresh fruits and vegetables, which, in turn, were caused by winter crop freezes and bad weather in Florida, Texas and California.

He said that without these the index would have remained unchanged over the last two months.

Case said the March living cost level, when figures are available, probably will turn out to be unchanged from February because meat prices have come down and the weather effects probably reached their peak at the retail-store level.

In February, prices for both food and clothing averaged three-tenths of 1 per cent higher than in January.

A FORECAST IN THE BUD

Leaf It To The Mesquites: They Say Spring Is Here

If the mesquites are right about things, Spring has arrived at long last in Big Spring and West Texas.

These cautious trees, regarded by oldtimers as the most accurate forecasters of the end of the cold weather, have begun to leaf out.

Almost overnight, the bare limbs of the mesquites have suddenly begun to produce fragile green shoots and embryo leaves.

The first of the shoots apparently made their appearance Tuesday and today many mesquites were well stocked with what will be their spring leaves.

Old timers, reluctant to go by any other prognostication, have long insisted that there is a sharp danger of frost as long as the mesquites are leafless.

The only stubborn trees as yet unbudded are the mimosa—an even more cautious character than the mesquite—and the vitex.

The Texas Almanac says the last average killing frost date of Spring in this area is March 28. If the books hold true and the mesquites are correct, householders with flowers and shrubs can now breathe easier.

Spring is truly here.

Maybe.

Dunned By State Department

Noble Frank Smith, an ex-Marine veteran of the Bataan death march, and his wife, Viola Mary, pose in their tenant farm home in Onarga, Ill., after being told of being dunned by the U.S. State Department for support money she received while he spent 42 months in a Japanese prisoner of war camp. The deadline for the payment of $1,421 demanded by the government for support she received while a refuge in Shanghai, China, during World War II has past.

Lien Held Up On War Victims

ONARGA, Ill. (AP)—A Bataan death march survivor and his family expressed happiness today after the State Department said it has temporarily suspended attempts to collect payments of World War II emergency relief.

The State Department maintains that the family of Noble Frank Smith owes $1,421 for relief provided to Viola Smith and her son, Carl, while they were interned in the Far East by the Japanese during World War II.

Smith, 47, an ex-Marine, told The Associated Press Tuesday night: "I'm real happy about it. I'm not only happy for myself, but for others in similar circumstances."

His wife said: "This is the best news I've had in a long time."

Smith said that the State Department has told him there are some 2,000 persons in the nation who owe it money for various reasons, including war relief.

In Washington, Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., who asked the State Department to delay its demand for payment, has introduced a bill which would cancel the debt. A spokesman for Douglas said the department did not agree to put off attempting to collect the payments pending the outcome of the Douglas bill but agreed to waive the Thursday deadline it had set for payment.

Smith said the State Department has dunned the family for payment since the 1950s, adding that each bill was larger because of accrued interest. He maintains that the government has nothing coming, adding: "They are not going to get the money."

Rep. Leslie C. Arends, R-Ill., said he would attempt to have the State Department cancel Smith's bill.

The Smiths were married while he was serving with the Marines in Shanghai before World War II. Mrs. Smith was employed as a secretary for General Motors Corp.

When war loomed, Smith was transferred to the Philippines. His wife, the daughter of a white Russian mother, and a Portuguese father who was born in Hong Kong, stayed behind. Before she was able to follow her husband, Shanghai fell to the Japanese. Both she and her son, Carl, now 22, were interned with other Americans in Shanghai.

It was during this time that federal funds were supplied the interned refugees through an arrangement with the Swiss Embassy.

Smith was captured by the Japanese at Bataan, survived the infamous death march and spent the remainder of the war in prison camps.

The Smiths now have five children, 6 to 22 years old. They operate a 160-acre farm near Onarga. Smith also operates a small company which manufactures grave vaults in Onarga, a town of about 1,500 some 125 miles south of Chicago.

Low-Cost Houses

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The U.S. Information Service has announced that plans are underway to construct 1,208 low-cost houses in the northern industrial city of Monterrey.

Labor Party's Leader Has 14 Points For President

EDITOR'S NOTE — If the Labor party wins the next general election in Britain, Harold Wilson will become the first Laborite prime minister since 1951. In the following dispatch, AP correspondent Arthur Gavshon, a veteran observer of the British scene, reviews the 14-point program Wilson will put before President Kennedy this week.

By ARTHUR GAVSHON

LONDON (AP)—The man who stands a good chance to be Britain's next prime minister will have a chance this weekend to lay his program before President Kennedy.

Fourteen outstanding points of policy have appeared in the statements of Harold Wilson, new lead of the Labor party.

Woodrow Wilson's 14 points helped set the pattern for Europe after World War I. Harold Wilson's 14 points would set the pattern for British policy if his Labor party wins the next general election, as many British political observers expect. The election must be held before October 1964.

Wilson flies to the United States Thursday for his first meeting with Kennedy since Wilson was elected head of the Labor party last month. The program he will outline includes at least three sharp departures from allied policy.

POINTS LISTED

They are:

Limited recognition of Communist East Germany and recognition of Poland's title to German territory occupied after World War II;

Soviet and U.S. withdrawal from a neutralized central European zone of controlled armaments made up of West and East Germany, Poland, Hungary and Czechoslovakia. Nuclear weapons would be barred from the area.

Communist China's admission to the United Nations in place of Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists.

Some of Wilson's 14 points would swing Britain into closer alignment with the Kennedy administration. Others would take Britain toward a middle position in the cold war.

If Wilson's Laborites win and then press their foreign policy program, it could begin a process of radically transforming inter-Allied loyalties and East-West rivalries.

The 14 points of policy have emerged from a study of Wilson's private and public statements immediately before and after his election as successor to the late Hugh Gaitskell as Labor's leader.

THE ISSUES

Here are the issues:

1. Relations with the United States:

"We (Laborites) recognize the facts of the world economic and political situation," Wilson has said. "We want to cooperate with America—to influence them. We hope they will be equally frank with us."

Wilson wants to cancel the 1962 Nassau agreement under which Kennedy promised to supply U.S. Polaris missiles for British nuclear-powered submarines. He favors transferring American bases on British soil, including the nuclear submarine depot at Holy Loch, Scotland, to NATO. He would like a more liberal American trade and tariff policy.

2. North Atlantic Treaty Organization:

Wilson regards NATO as "central both in our defense and foreign policy" but insists on a reform of the alliance and its strategy. Britain to begin with should strengthen her contribution. Then NATO armies should lessen their reliance on nuclear weapons by building up conventional power, as Kennedy urges. This, Wilson thinks, would cut the risk of nuclear fighting. He stresses the need to bar the spread of nuclear arms to allied powers. Instead, a system of collective political control of the Western nuclear deterrent should be evolved.

3. British defense policy:

"A Labor government will not maintain the effort to keep an independent British (nuclear) deterrent in being," Wilson has said. "We would simply phase them (Britain's force of H-bombers) out of existence."

Clinging to nuclear power is merely "striving to relive our imperial greatness." The policy should be abandoned because the cost in economic and military resources has weakened British influence and her contribution to NATO.

Wilson's mind is open, however, toward possible British participation in Kennedy's project for an internationally manned NATO nuclear force.

RED RELATIONS

4. Relations with non-Communist Europe:

Wilson believes that any arrangement or commitment Britain might make with European countries should be entirely consistent with her wider loyalties to the Commonwealth and the Atlantic community. He favors economic and political exchanges within the framework of the organization for European Cooperation and Development. He thinks this could provide the base for a new Europe-wide free trade area in which the Common Market countries could participate as a six-nation bloc.

A Labor government would, however, resist fiercely proposals for the development of a purely European nuclear force. Wilson is convinced this would dangerously weaken NATO by creating "an alliance within an alliance" and "a third force, narrow, nationalistic, intransigent, irredentist, revanchist."

5. East-West Relations:

Wilson's starting point for a possible cold war truce lies in the positive attitudes which he thinks President Kennedy and Premier Khrushchev have displayed toward negotiation and compromise.

He would, therefore, like to see priority given to halting nuclear weapon testing and the arms race and strengthening of East-West cooperation in the United Nations and an assault on poverty and to boost trade wherever possible.

BERLIN ISSUE

6. Berlin and East Germany:

Berlin's disputed future packs the promise of a wider German settlement as well as the peril of world war. Wilson accordingly urges a bargain: the Allies should give limited recognition to the Communist East German regime and recognize the Oder-Neisse River line as the final eastern frontier of all Germany. In exchange the Soviet Union and her allies should accept the right of West Berliners to choose their own form of government and society and the right of the West to communicate with the city and to station troops there as custodians of the deal.

7. Relations with West Germany:

Wilson has declared Labor to be "completely, utterly and unequivocally opposed, now and in all circumstances, to any suggestion that Germany, West Germany or East Germany, directly or indirectly, should have a finger on the nuclear trigger"—or any other share in the use of nuclear uneasiness over the direction of weapons. He also has professed the French-German treaty, fearing it might become revenge-seeking and the core of a European third force.

MOST RADICAL

8. Disengagement:

Labor's most radical proposal has been borrowed from the proposal of Polish Foreign Minister Adam Rapacki for a disengagement of East-West forces in middle Europe. This would create a zone of controlled armaments in which nuclear weapons would be barred. It would cover the two Germanys, Poland, Hungary and Czechoslovakia.

9. Neutralization:

This disengagement plan would neutralize that part of Europe which has cradled three major wars since 1871. Labor wants the highly sensitive parts of Africa and Asia neutralized, too, including the Middle East oil regions and the island of Formosa, held by Nationalist China.

10. Attitude on Asia and Africa:

Wilson wants an initiative for an East-West agreement to keep as much as possible of Asia and Africa out of the cold war. He favors admission of Communist China to the United Nations in place of Chiang Kai-shek's regime. He proposes a "rational" distribution of food surpluses, steel, rolling stock and other surpluses to the needy, developing states of Asia and Africa.

Labor also intends backing positive action to speed independence for all Africa by 1973. Wilson has pledged to ban arms sales to such "white supremacy" governments as South Africa and Portugal.

11. Commonwealth:

Wilson intends reappraising Commonwealth relations to counter the damage which he says Britain's partners suffered during the Common Market talks. He plans a quick Commonwealth summit meeting at which old trading patterns can be streamlined and refurbished.

COMMON MARKET

12. World Trade:

Wilson has put forward a detailed program to beat the Common Market's trade challenge. He wants to develop British trade with the Communist bloc, Latin America, the dollar world and with Europe where possible. He feels Britain should negotiate a series of tariff-cutting agreements that would stimulate business.

The Labor party also wants a series of world commodity agreements to help stabilize the economies of underdeveloped nations producing raw materials.

13. United Nations:

Wilson would strengthen British support for the United Nations. The British U.N. delegation probably would find itself working more closely with the United States in dealing with Asian and African nations.

14. British Home Policy:

Achievement of Wilson's goals depends largely on the restoration of Britain's standing in the world. Wilson has summed up the feelings of many Britons by saying: "We're tired of seeing this country being pushed around."

Famed Document To Be Auctioned

NEW YORK (AP)—A copy of the Articles of Confederation, the earliest constitution under which this nation was governed, will be auctioned April 23, it was announced Tuesday.

Experts believe the document can bring as much as $20,000 at the Parke-Bernet Galleries auction. The document is referred to as "Elbridge Gerry's annotated copy of the second draft of the Articles of Confederation."

The copy is believed to be the first to appear at public auction. It was acquired by a New York private collector directly from descendents of Gerry and contains many marginal notes by the signer.

Gerry, a native of Massachusetts, was a delegate to the constitutional convention at Philadelphia in 1787. He was a member of Congress from 1789 to 1793; governor of Massachusetts, 1810 to 1811; and vice president under President James Madison, from 1813 to 1814.

Pipeline Case To Be Heard

WASHINGTON (AP) — Arguments before the power commission are set for May 2 in what has become known as the billion-dollar natural gas pipeline case.

Monterey Gas Transmission Co. Houston, has proposed to acquire natural gas reserves in the King Ranch area of Texas from Humble Oil & Refining Co., also of Houston.

Under the proposal, Monterey would pay Humble $536,276,520 for Humble's approximate 85 per cent interest in the leases under which the gas would be produced. Humble owns a 48 per cent interest in Monterey.

Monterey, in turn, has contracted to sell the gas at issue and other gas to the Columbia gas system on a cost-of-service basis over a 20-year period.

Examiner Max L. Kane filed a decision Jan. 28 rejecting the proposal, describing it as a "transparent device to avoid commission regulation."

Ex-Solon Dies

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) —James T. Begg, 84, Republican representative in Congress from Ohio from 1918 to 1928, died Tuesday. Begg, after leaving Congress, was an unsuccessful candidate for governor of Ohio. He moved to Oklahoma City in 1956. He was born in Columbus Grove, Ohio.

Swiss Battle Typhoid Outbreak

ZERMATT, Switzerland (AP)—Swiss soldiers are disinfecting the sewers, water pipes and buildings of this ski resort to prevent further outbreaks of typhoid.

More than 400 cases of the disease have been diagnosed among Zermatt residents and European and American visitors since the epidemic started about two weeks ago. At least two Swiss women have died.

Soldier Dies

HONOLULU (AP) — A Texas soldier collapsed and died Monday while working out with an Army cross-country team. The Army identified the victim as Spec. 4. John Elijah Jr. of Lufkin.

TAKE THEM

Take your children to Bible school each Sunday morning; don't just send them. "In all things showing thyself a pattern of good works . . ." (Titus 2:7). An example is worth a thousand words. Judge Sam Tatum of Nashville, Tennessee has testified that of the 14,000 children under 17 years of age which he had dealt with in juvenile courts, only 90 of these had ever attended Sunday school, and only 2 had ever been taken to Bible classes by their parents.

You can see why we have adult classes in our Sunday morning Bible school. It is important that adults study the Bible too. Only by manifesting this attitude, can we parents hope to influence our children to appreciate the importance of Bible study.

We also have a program for the whole family on Wednesday nights. Come, and bring the family tonight at 7:30. Also, plan now to come and bring your children to Bible classes next Sunday at 9:30.

Campos Being Returned Here

Elusive Pablo Campos, whose $7,500 bond was recently ordered forfeited when he failed to show for trial in 118th District Court, will be back in the Howard County jail Friday.

His bondsmen in San Antonio have notified Sheriff Miller Harris they are bringing Campos to Howard County this weekend.

Judge Ralph Caton had issued a judgment, nisi against Samuel L. Egger and C. Davis Evans, the bailmen, when Campos did not report for trial on an indictment accusing him of being an habitual burglar.

It was the second time that a bond forfeiture had been ordered against Campos. In 1961, he was indicted for burglary and released on bond. He disappeared and was not heard from for two years. Arrested in late February in San Antonio, he was returned here and placed in jail. His two bondsmen from San Antonio appeared, posted $7,500 bail March 8, and the man was released.

A few days later his case came to trial and he was missing.

No one would say but it was anticipated at the courthouse that bond for the light-footed Latin-American will be much higher than $7,500 this time.

Under the habitual criminal act, for which offense Campos is indicted, conviction would mean life imprisonment.

Beating Victim Funeral Today

FORT WORTH (AP) — Mrs. Neota Green, a former Texas Christian University majorette found beaten to death in her burning home early Sunday, was to be buried today in Cisco, Tex.

Meanwhile, sheriff's department officers continued to probe the attractive divorcee's death in Suburban Benbrook.

Sheriff Lon Evans said Tuesday a lie letector test revealed E. M. (Dude) Green knew nothing of the circumstances leading to his former wife's death.

Investigators indicated they would talk again with Ronnie Blankenship, 30, who was found overcome by smoke in the woman's fashionable home.

Blakenship remained in good condition at a hospital.

The Fort Worth crime laboratory said Mrs. Green, 27, died of a skull fracture.

Green and his wife were divorced Jan. 13. Officers said he returned from Hot Springs, Ark., where he is working, to voluntarily take the polygraph test.

Gets 6-Month Term In Death Of Loan Shark

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A red-haired mother of five has been sentenced to six months in jail for the poison death of a man she said hounded her on a $100 loan.

Judge Ben Willard passed sentence Tuesday on Florence May Bosquet, 34, after she pleaded guilty to manslaughter in the death of Francis R. Garofalo, 53.

Testimony showed Garofalo charged Mrs. Bosquet $20 a week interest on the loan.

She said she borrowed the $100 without her husband's knowledge after she wasted her housekeeping money. She testified she slipped some insecticide into Garofalo's beer at a tavern. He died minutes later.

"I only meant to make him sick and scare him," Mrs. Bosquet said.

Charges Made In Abortion Case

CORSICANA, Tex. (AP)—Three persons, including a veteran Corsicana physician, have been indicted by the Navarro County grand jury in connection with an abortion performed on a 16-year-old barmaid.

County Attorney Jimmy Morris said the indictments charging abortion and intent to commit abortion were returned Monday.

The indictments named Dr. Dubart Miller, 73, of Corsicana, whose license already is suspended for the second time; Burt Wright, a Dallas bar operator who hired the girl as a barmaid although she is underage; and Edna Gilley, 35, of Hutchins, a Dallas suburb.

Wright had not been arrested late last night. The woman was arrested at her home yesterday.

More Testimony In Water Hearing

AUSTIN (AP)— Testimony was scheduled again today before the Texas Water Commission on applications by American Canal Co. to supply water to an industrial area near Houston's Manned Spacecraft Center.

The Houston company wants to move 50,000 acre-feet of water from the Brazos River and Clear Creek some 70-80 miles to a Humble Oil and Refining industrial site at LaPorte, Tex. An acre-foot of water is 325,851 gallons.

Tuesday, the company won a preliminary victory when the commission turned down a motion by Dow Chemical Co., Freeport, to dismiss American's applications.

Some Cities Grow, Others Don't; Why?

EDITOR'S NOTE — Problems? Yours is a fortunate community if it's free of them but one community's touchiest problem is likely to be unknown in many other localities. In this third of a four-part series, Sam Dawson, AP business news analyst, looks at what is making some places grow while others lag.

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The nation's economic growth rate is only a vague statistic in many places. Some communities, unfortunately, are lagging far behind. Others are growing so fast that talk of slowdowns seems silly. In these the problem is to catch up on all the needs in the fields of civic services, housing and transportation facilities.

Almost every community has what seems to it to be its own peculiar problems, however aggravated by the trend of business activity for the nation as a whole.

MEASUREMENTS

Many measure growth by the construction of homes, factories, stores, office buildings. And the construction industry—one of the nation's largest—has a ragged regional pattern and in some places controversial prospects.

Construction jobs have been plentiful for years in New York City where the great postwar boom in new office and apartment buildings continues. Now the contractors and workers and the financial backers have their fingers crossed. Has the boom reached the saturation point?

Chicago's building boom started later. And builders claim there is still an unfilled demand for more office and living space in the city as well as in the far spreading suburbs.

San Francisco's building spree began with homes and apartments in the city and surrounding areas. Of late emphasis has been on office and commercial buildings.

BUILDING SPURT

Dallas Tex., and Atlanta, Ga., among other Southern cities, have been growing and building. And far to the north, Boston is getting new office programs off the planning boards. The apartment boom has been felt in Baltimore, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Detroit, among others.

An allied problem is the migration of industries. This can cause headaches for the losers, growing pains for the new localities. Chicago has had a loss of electronics orders, blaming the migration to California, the Gulf states, or to the complex around Boston which earlier suffered from the flight of textile mills to the South.

One-industry communities can be hard hit by economic cycles that depress their particular activity, whether it be textiles, or coal, or autos, or steel or defense.

ROUGH GOING

San Diego Calif., had rough going when the emphasis shifted from the airplanes it turned out, to the space age missile and other electronic wonders that cluster around Palo Alto and Los Angeles.

International politics can be just as troublesome. Example: Poultry growers in Maryland, Delaware and many parts of the Midwest have built up a big thing out of the European Common Market's discovery of frozen chicken. But now the European trading bloc talks of barring such American imports.

U.S. grain growers across the northern half of the country also are bothered by increasing European protectionism. Southern cotton growers watch Washington's efforts to sell the plentiful fiber to foreign textile mills. But sugar beet growers in Colorado and neighboring states, and cane growers along the Gulf stand to gain by the rise in sugar prices due to world shortages.

PRICE FELL

Japanese steel exports helped send down the price of the metal on the West Coast. Eastern mills complain of raids on their markets by Europeans. Oil imports are a burning question for price-conscious consumers on the Atlantic Coast and even more so for the producers of oil in Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana.

Any one of these problems—or its solution—can spell good times or bad for many communities.

Next: Why some sections still bubble.

Optimistic On Oil Reserves

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON (AP)—An oil executive said Tuesday more domestic petroleum will be discovered in the future than has been discovered in the past.

Morgan Davis of Houston said atomic power likely will be important in energy production before the century ends, but oil and gas will remain dominant for years to come.

In a speech to 5,000 or so earth scientists, the chairman of the Humble Oil & Refining Co. said it is impossible to make a meaningful estimate of ultimate U.S. production of oil and gas.

"The knowledge we do have is sufficient to convince me, however, the largest portion of our discovery and development of domestic petroleum resources still lie ahead," Davis said.

He said the resource potentiality of the industry's North American hunting grounds is bright.

"There are still vast portions of our sedimentary basins and sedimentary columns in North America waiting to be explored," he said. "We have probably only begun to scratch the surface. . ."

More Berlin Talks Expected

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin are expected to meet again in about a week to continue their exploratory talks on Berlin, authoritative sources reported today.

Rusk and Dobrynin conferred for an hour Tuesday at the State Department. The session produced nothing new, the two being satisfied to restate their governments' well-known positions on the Communist-encircled city, the sources said.

Witnesses Heard On Liquor Issue

AUSTIN (AP) — Members of both sides of the liquor question joined Tuesday night to support proposals to let Texas voters decide whether they want statewide prohibition or a "totally wet" state.

The House Constitutional Amendments Committee neard more than two hours of testimony on the proposals, sponsored by Rep. V. E. Berry of San Antonio, before sending them to subcommittee.

The Rev. George McWilliams, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Boerne, supported the measures and said, "Texas won't go wet because the drys have God on their side.

"Whatever it takes to return it as it was during prohibition, I'd like to see it done."

Rep. Bill Hollowell of Grand Saline told McWilliams: "I imagine God was on the side of the people of Hungary but they lost the war. I think He lets natural laws operate and you must remember, He's not going to vote in this election."

"I am here to plead with you for the right to vote to make Texas a bone-dry state," said the Rev. Claud J. Bonam, pastor of the Huisache Ave. Baptist Church in San Antonio.

"Statistics prove that one out of every 16 TV viewers who drinks the foaming suds (beer) will eventually be tortured in a living hell, a victim of alcoholism. . . ."

Albert Orozco Jr., president of the San Antonio Beer Dealers Association, said, "I was here during prohibition and saw good people break that law when they never broke a law before."

He said he did "a little bootlegging" during prohibition, and added, "we sold to officers, attorneys, doctors—everybody."

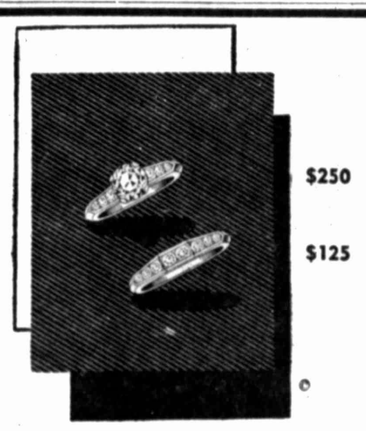

Dr. Robert Hausman, Bexar County medical examiner, told the committee:

"Unnecessary restrictions on the sale of alcohol increase alcoholism. If we want to start combatting the evil of alcoholism, the first thing we should do is get a uniform liquor law in Texas."

The Rev. J. R. Glasscock, a Baptist pastor from Henderson, opposed the measures. "They would take away individuality whichever way it went," he said.

"I am for local option. Don't force wet or dry down our throats."

"You were sent here to promote the general welfare and licensing liquor traffic is not promoting the welfare," said Mrs. Ruth Horner Godbey of Houston, representing the Women's Christian Temperance Union.

A Devotional For The Day

Thy word is true from the beginning: and every one of thy righteous judgements endureth for ever. (Psalms 119:160.)

PRAYER: Heavenly Father we thank Thee for the Bible and the wisdom we find in it. As we read from it this day, help us to grow in grace and understanding. In Christ's name we ask. Amen.

(From The 'Upper Room')

Role Of Excellent Education

Texans who hope that more defense-related industries will be located in their state will do well to ponder the words of President Kennedy, spoken at a recent press conference on the subject of contract awards.

"The fact of the matter is defense contracts have been concentrated in two or three states, really, in space contracts, because those states have had the historical experience and also because they have a concentrated engineering and educational intrastructure which puts them in a successful position. For example, a good percentage of the contracts traditionally in space have gone to the State of California . . ."

There has been some uninformed argument over whether space industries attract educational facilities or educational facilities attract space industries. This is no "chicken or egg" argument. It is easy to demonstrate that the primary requisite of sophisticated space industries is a source of talented scientific researchers who can only be found in first-rate colleges and universities. It is generally true, too, that wherever there is a good university there is a good public school system. The combination of good primary and secondary schools and good universities is irresistible for defense contractors in search of a plant site.

This lesson cannot be ignored by Texans. The economic future of the state, aisde from the benefits of good education for its own sake, is peculiarly dependent on educational excellence. The people of the state and their legislators must be prepared to make a commitment to educational excellence if Texas is to break away from the historic tradition of the South as a supplier primarily of raw materials.

A bright beginning has been made with the location of a space facility near Houston by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. This can be the beginning of a form of educational renaissance for Texas, if men of vision in the legislature will work with Gov. John Connally in good conscience and lay the basis for educational excellence in the state's college and university system.

Statewide Application

Texas voters last November by constitutional amendment granted Dallas County school districts authority to expand or merge without the troublesome and needless formality of an extra election to validate unissued bonds and tax rates for the new areas after consolidation was already effected. This problem should have been removed statewide long ago; and as expected, the Dallas move is proving to be a step in that direction.

The state Senate has just passed on to the House a proposed constitutional amendment to apply the Dallas exemption from bond-assumption and tax elections to Bexar, Tarrant, Travis, Nueces, and McLennan counties. The House should approve it and we believe the people will too. The only reason the resolution may not be expanded to statewide application at this time is to avoid the risk of possibly fatal rural opposition. Such application may eventually be expected, however, as in the change from selective to general authority by constitutional amendment last year to create hospital districts.

School district expansion, by annexation and consolidation, has improved Texas public education immeasurably by developing adequately financed districts capable of providing full educational programs. Between 1930 and 1961, the number of school districts in Texas was reduced from 7,840 to 1,539, mainly by absorbing or consolidating common school districts into independent school districts.

Voters rarely fail to approve the bond and tax technicality in school district boundary changes but the danger of costly and frustrating confusion and delay is always present.

They Can't Take Away His Ideas

WASHINGTON — Lord Beveridge, famous crusader for the "welfare state" concept, died a few days ago in Oxford, England, at the age of 84. But his ideas didn't die with him. President Kennedy has adopted them currently as the major part of his administration's program—but with one significant omission.

It's this omission which is causing Mr. Kennedy political trouble and could spell his defeat in the 1964 election. Lord Beveridge insisted, for example, that stability of wages and prices is absolutely essential to prosperity. He pointed out that the best-laid plans for a "welfare state" can go awry if this part of the program is mishandled.

THE AMERICAN people re-elect or defeat a president on the basis of good times or bad times. Mr. Kennedy has just predicted an unemployment rate of 7 per cent and a "decade of chronic troubles and recession" if his tax-cut proposals are not adopted. But he might better have said that this contingency will arise, even if a tax cut is granted, unless something constructive is done to eliminate costly strikes and the use of extortionate power by labor unions in the big strikes.

Lord Beveridge paid particular attention to the role of America in the post-war economy and pointed out that basically conditions were the same in England as in the United States with respect to the labor issues. He favored low tariffs, deficit spending for "welfare" projects, tax reduction and low interest rates —all of which are "New Frontier" philosophy. But he considered labor-management relations as the key factor in the success of the "welfare state."

The most significant passages in the Belveridge report read as if they were written this year, and they could be applied to the New York and Cleveland newspaper strikes. He wrote as follows:

"THE RIGHT OF WAGE-earners to combine for the purpose of negotiating wages, hours, and conditions of work is generally regarded as an essential British liberty. The tradition that they should bargain sectionally, each craft and trade for itself, is old and strong.

"Making the labor market generally a seller's market rather than a buyer's market will increase permanently and markedly the bargaining strength of labor. In so far as this leads to labor, as a whole, gaining a larger share of the total product of industry, it leads to a desirable result. But, given the sectional structure of trade unionism, that is not the only possible result. Particular wage demands which exceed what employers are able to pay with their existing prices and which force a raising of prices, may bring gains to the workers of the industry concerned, but they will do so at the expense of all other workers, whose real wages fall owing to the rise in prices.

"THE OTHER WORKERS will naturally try to restore the position, by putting forward demands of their own. There is a real danger that sectional wage bargaining, pursued without regard to its effects upon prices, may lead to a vicious spiral of inflation, with money wages chasing prices and without any gain in real wages for the working class as a whole . . .

"If prices are kept stable, rising productivity will make possible a continuous, if not spectacular, rise of money wages, even if the share of the total product that goes to the wage-earner remains no higher than at present. If that share can be increased, wages may rise still more; such a development is desirable from the economic as well as from the moral point of view.

"But the attempt to bring it about must be a co-ordinated attempt. It must not be a blind groping and pressing by numerous groups, each of which sees only its own sectional interest and tries to exploit its particular strategic advantages, and none of which attempts to judge the position of the whole economy . . .

"IN THE NEW CONDITIONS of full employment, wages ought to be determined by reason, in the light of all the facts and with some regard to general equities and not simply by the bargaining power of particular groups of men. This suggests, not that there should be continuance in peace of the compulsory arbitration which has been accepted in war, but that collective bargains in each industry should in general include a clause for arbitration by an agreed arbitrator, in default of agreement between the parties.

"The employers' association and the union would thus be pledged in advance to accept the arbitration and to give no support of any kind to lockouts or strikes in defiance of arbitration . . .

"SO LONG AS FREEDOM of collective bargaining is maintained, the primary responsibility of preventing a full-employment policy from coming to grief in a vicious spiral of wages and prices will rest on those who conduct the bargaining on behalf of labor. The more explicitly that responsibility is stated, the greater can be the confidence that it will be accepted. But both the state and the managers of business have their part to play . . .

"Strikes and lockouts, though they cannot in a free society be forbidden by law, are anachronisms as indefensible as ordeal by battle. They should give place to reason, but reason cannot work in practical affairs without facts.

"THE CORRELATIVE to acceptance by trade unions of an arbitration clause in all collective bargains would be acceptance by employers in all important industries of standardized accounting practice and their readiness to put all the facts as to profits, costs and margins unreservedly at the disposal of the arbitrator and an expert staff for criticism."

Whatever one may think of the soundness of Lord Beveridge's financial and budgetary proposals, the fact remains he insisted that the program should be regarded as a whole and not as a set of separate recommendations. This is the factor being ignored today by both the President and Congress.

A Court For Individual Rights

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nine-man Supreme Court — thanks to Justice Arthur J. Goldberg, its newest member—now has a consistent liberal majority in cases involving civil rights and individual freedoms.

Less consistent—or predictable—is the course which Justice Byron R. White, the second newest member, will follow.

He has shifted sides just enough in his short time on the bench to avoid being nailed down positively as a liberal or conservative. But he has been more conservative than Goldberg, whose record has been consistently liberal.

BOTH MEN were named to the court last year by President Kennedy as successors to two conservative justices who retired because of poor health: White for Charles E. Whittaker and Goldberg for Felix Frankfurter.

Frankfurter had pleaded for judicial restraint and deference to the wishes of Congress and state legislatures: in short, to the interests of government as against those of individuals. Whittaker leaned to that side, too.

They sometimes shifted positions on individual cases, as did the three other conservatives still on the court: Justices John M. Harlan, Tom Clark, and Potter Stewart.

When they stuck together these five conservatives prevailed as a majority.

IT WAS when one or more of them shifted that the four liberals on the court—Chief Justice Earl Warren and Justices Hugo Black, William O. Douglas and William J. Brennan Jr.—could hand down a majority opinion, particularly in intervening against restraints on individual rights.

Little was known of White's views when he became a justice. He had been an attorney and Kennedy backer in the 1960 campaign. Goldberg, a former labor lawyer, was known as a liberal on social and political matters.

But no positive forecast could be made on the course either Goldberg or White would follow since a previous position is not a guarantee of what a man's views will be once he goes on the court. Frankfurter had been a hero to the liberals before he became a justice.

THIS YEAR the Warren - Black-Douglas-Brennan liberal group has been able to hand down one majority opinion after another because Goldberg has been with them steadily.

White has been less consistently on the liberal side.

Girl Scouts, Hooray!

NEW YORK (AP)—One of life's little ordeals today is the fact that charity begins at home.

You used to be able to mail your philanthropy. Now it knocks at your front door and invites itself in.

Nobody argues about the duty of being his brother's keeper. The question is how many brothers—admitting we're all brothers — a fellow can figuratively keep while still actually supporting his wife, his children, his mother-in-law and his favorite and inescapable uncle—good old Sam.

In the old days when you answered a knock on your front door you knew you were going to meet a friend, a brush salesman, a guy collecting your laundry or delivering groceries, or somebody working his way through college selling magazine subscriptions.

How simple and primitive life was then.

All is changed now.

Whoever knocks at your portal now, be he friend or foe, is a self-designated benefactor of mankind which he is trying to improve at your expense.

Everybody you open a door to has a disease to fight or a cause to collect for.

The man you admit to repair your television set suddenly asks, "You're not in favor of bursitis are you?"

"Of course not," you reply.

"Well," he says, whipping out half a pound of pamphlets, "I'm your friendly neighborhood collector for the Amalgamated League against Bursitis. How much will you give to rid the world of this evil?"

"Put me down for a buck," you answer weakly, fishing through your pockets for tomorrow's lunch money.

Life has unwillingly made me a "buck against" man. Whoever crosses my moat with a message that he is against something finds in me a man who will give him a dollar to be against it too.

I have spent so many dollars being against things that I sometimes wonder what I am for.

I found out the other day.

A knock summoned me to the door. Opening it, I automatically reached into my pocket.

There stood a young girl and a young boy.

"What are you against?" I asked suspiciously.

"Nothing, sir," the girl said.

"Are you lost?"

"No sir."

"Well, what can I do for you?"

"What is your favorite flavor?" asked the girl.

"Mint."

"Shall I put you down for a box, sir?"

"A box of what?"

"A box of Girl Scout cookies, sir."

"I suppose they're a dollar."

"No, sir. They are 45 cents."

Well, I put out my buck and got back 55 cents, signed my name, saluted the kids and closed my door.

Now I am no longer merely a "dollar againster," I'm for something. I'm a firm 45-cent supporter of the Girl Scouts.

It is pleasant in life to stand for something, and not to be eternally opposing things.

Take Precautions In Using Some Hair Sprays

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: What about the hazards of sprays to hold the hair in place? I have heard that they involve a certain amount of danger to the lungs, particularly those that advise on the label, "Do not inhale."—M.C.

This danger applies, as you suggest, to some sprays and not to others. If you but pay attention to the "do not inhale" labels, you will be taking adequate precautions.

The problem involved is that certain materials contained in some sprays can reach the lung tissues and adjacent lymph glands, and can produce a shadow on an X-ray.

In all candor, we must admit that much remains to be learned about this condition, but it appears to be reversible: that is, if use of the spray is stopped, the lungs clear up. Indeed, there may be no symptoms anyway, but I certainly am a believer in the philosophy of Dr. Frances Kelsey, who refused to approve distribution of thalidomide; if there's anything suspicious or even not explained, keep digging at it.

I have no evidence to impel me to scare anybody as to the use of hair sprays, but since an unusual condition does develop, it is no more than good sense for people to take reasonable precautions, and further study is warranted (and being carried on).

From the practical point of view, I merely suggest that you note the label on whatever spray you use. If there is a warning against inhaling, then be careful to aim the spray at the hair, not at the face, and inhale as little as possible.

Holding a handkerchief over mouth and nose could be an easy precaution, or you could use a simple gauze mask. Should there be further developments of significance on this, I'll write about them, although, because I have to follow a rather rigorous schedule with this column, if anything of urgent importance appears, you'll see it sooner in regular news columns.

• • •

Dear Dr. Molner: My daughter is bothered by itching dandruff. She has a severe rash on face and forehead and thinks this is due to the dandruff flaking off. —A.W.

I'd have doubts about "dandruff" being the cause. The description much more resembles seborrheic dermatitis, a skin disorder which, in addition, can be a cause of dandruff. My advice is that she see a skin specialist rather than tinker with "dandruff remedies."

• • •

Dear Dr. Molner: Why aren't manufacturers of ice cream compelled to label the ingredients of their products, such as those on canned goods, etc. I think we have a right to know what we are eating.—MRS. J. H.

In my state—and yours—such manufacturers are required by law to use only harmless stabilizers, emulsifiers, etc. For interstate trade, U.S. law restricts chemicals to harmless amounts. Most ingredients are standardized and need not be listed under U.S. Food and Drug Administration regulations.

• • •

How to get rid of leg cramps and foot pains? The answer may be simple. Write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald for a copy of the leaflet, "How To Stop Leg Cramps and Foot Pains," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 5 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

• • •

Dr. Molner welcomes all mail from his readers, but because of the great volume received daily he is unable to answer individual letters. Dr. Molner uses readers' letters in his column whenever possible.

An Adventure Of Faith

Within the year, P. V. Thorson of Midland will hand over the reins of the Buffalo Trail Boy Scout Council to someone yet to be named. He has put council officials on notice that retirement time is near, and a committee is being named to screen prospects for the important post of providing a real program for 11,000 boys in this area.

THIS WILL BRING to a close a career of 38 years as a council executive, a role that never occurred to P. V. Thorson in the beginning. He was a clerk for a coal company in Albuquerque, N. M. and enjoying working with boys as a hobby. Thorson had experience in the Scouting program and was enthusiastic about its possibilities for the youth. After having eased along for a dozen years, the Boy Scouts of America suddenly was getting traction by organizing council as a tool for serving Scouting within areas having a community of interest.

ALBUQUERQUE had only a couple of Boy Scout troops at that time, but Thorson figured that it ought to be a council. So he dropped a line to Jim Fitch, the new region IX executive in Dallas, and Fitch sent out Ernie Voss to do the spade work. Voss was an indefatigable worker, leaving little to chance. Thus, in his organizational meetings he always had a stenographer present to take down the proceedings.

A prominent judge had taken the lead in the Albuquerque organization meet, and when the stenographer appeared unbeknownst to him, his wrath was kindled. The meeting went up in smoke, and some of the heat was felt all the way back in Dallas.

THIS IRED THORSON, too, but for a different reason. This was pretty silly, he figured, for a pouting adult to block boys from help in getting the Scouting program. So he got in touch with Fitch, and the upstart was that Fitch said that if $5,000 could be got together to underwrite operations, a charter would be granted.

"I'll get it," said Thorson, not knowing really where he could raise 50 cents. But he did raise the money, and when it was done, one of the community leaders asked him if he would take the post temporarily on a part time basis. Thorson did, but within a few months they had persuaded him to take the job personally.

THUS, HE BEGAN operating the Kit Carson Council, which now is the largest geographically in the region. He had no training, and it was a couple of years before he could get off to the newly organized national training school. Half a dozen years later, Roswell, N. M. called him to head up the Conquistador Council, and a decade later Houston tapped him to be assistant executive. Within two more years the Buffalo Trail Council picked him as its executive.

THERE WERE not many more than a thousand boys enrolled in less than 100 units. The work has grown every year since then, some years by as much as nearly 20 per cent. It's a far cry from the days when he started out with a couple of troops to shepherd, and when he was going into something purely on faith. Would he do it again? He certainly would, because P. V. Thorson has a lot of faith in boys, and that is why he has a lot of faith in America.

For A National Flower—The Dandelion

The trumpet blast summoning Congress to sober wrestling with its responsibilities has at last been sounded. After almost three months of an indeterminate Congressional coffee break, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R., Ill.) has reminded Congress of its solemn duties and obligations by reoffering his bill to designate the marigold as the national flower of the United States.

THIS IS THE annual signal for members to turn over a new leaf and get down to hard work. From year to year the Illinois Senator, in whose heart the marigold blooms perennially, hopes to see it transplanted to that of the republic.

It is remarkable, when you stop to think of it, that this nation has somehow managed to muddle through for almost two centuries without a national floral emblem. Almost from the country's beginning we have had all the other outward symbols of nationhood, including Old Glory.

THE GREAT SEAL was ordered by the Continental Congress as early as July 4, 1776. The Congress named a committee composed of Benjamin Franklin, Thomas Jefferson and John Adams to take care of the matter. The seal designed by Will Barton, was duly adopted by the Continental Congress in 1782.

In that same year, the Congress also designated the bald eagle as the national symbol in the fauna department. Although it was not until 1956 that Congress adopted "In God We Trust" as the national motto, it had appeared on U.S. coinage and been more or less an unofficial motto for not quite a hundred years.

BUT CONGRESS has never acted on a national flower, which means that the country has long been confronted with a floral gap. Whether the Founding Fathers overlooked the matter of a national flower because of pressure of other duties or because they couldn't agree is another matter.

Certainly there has been no agreement in the matter of a national flower in my lifetime. England has the rose, Scotland the thistle, Ireland the shamrock, Wales the leek, and France the fleur-de-lis. We could end up with Senator Dirksen's marigold, or the rose or the corn tassel.

THE CORN TASSEL people don't have quite as large, rich or vocal a lobby as the rosarians, who are backed by the nation's nurserymen. But the corn tasselers are a devoted group in the Midwest. Senator Dirksen will find among his own constituents many secret tassel agents infiltrating the marigold inner councils.

A few Congressional sessions back I thought the rose lobby had won the day. But the tasselers got busy and the rose is still only a nominee.

IF THE NATION is looking for a floral emblem that is hardy and universal in the land, may I suggest the dandelion? It can't be beat in either sphere. The flowers are bright, reminiscent of Fort Knox, and the plant is a prolific bloomer, as any gardener can testify.

In the early spring its tender, succulent little leaves offer the season's first delicious mess of greens. Later on loving hands at home can transform the dandelion into a tasty wine, easy both of manufacture and consumption.

WHAT OTHER national flower can make the boast that it is good both on the table and in the tumbler? The dandelion has much to recommend it, including the fact that as the national emblem it would be unpatriotic to try to eradicate it from the lawn. What a boon to gardeners! The dandelion ought to win in a walk.

Montana Takes Action

WASHINGTON—By action of its current legislature, Montana has breathed life into a hitherto dead letter of the American Constitution.

Montana's House and Senate have directed the attention of Congress to Article V of the Constitution which requires that a Constitutional Amendment be proposed upon request of two-thirds of the States. Although this section of Article V has never, throughout our whole history, been activated, Montana petitions Congress that it now be done. The purpose would be an Electoral College reform, in Montana's language, to provide a "just division of the electoral votes within the States in the election of President and Vice President."

AS AN ISOLATED example of the States' revived activity in American government, this petition would not be impressive. But South Dakota has sent Congress a similar memorial on the Electoral College, and the subject is pending in at least ten other legislatures.

This is a long way from the necessary 34 States that would require Congress to act. But, meanwhile, the States are asserting other rights. Twenty States have enacted Right to Work bills, twenty-eight have passed enabling acts for localized Care of the Aged under the Kerr-Mills bill, and thirteen have passed various resolutions which protest the intrusion of the Supreme Court into State affairs.

SIGNIFICANTLY, the revolt of the States is not primarily Southern in origin. The Western States are far in the van. Montana, South Dakota, Colorado, Idaho, Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, New Mexico, and Wyoming have all taken final action of some sort on States' Rights during 1963. So have New Hampshire and New Jersey among the Northern States. So have Mississippi, South Carolina and Florida in the Deep South.

THE WESTERN primacy in Constitutional matters is not new by any means. At the turn of the century, Robert La Follette of Wisconsin was leader of the movement for popular elections of Senators, as was finally provided in the 17th Amendment. This was the occasion when the States came closest to using Article V as a means of calling a Constitutional Convention. Actually, 31 of the 46 States had presented differently-worded petitions to Congress, but Congress mooted the question by voting for the Amendment instead of calling a Convention.

ELECTORAL COLLEGE reform is old hat in Congress. As matters stand, the winner-take-all system favors the large States, and favors bloc-voters within the large States. After every presidential election, and just before the next one, there are numerous plans submitted to take the choosing of national officers away from the minority blocs, and to give that right to the people. In the 88th Congress, Senators Mundt, Smith and Kefauver have introduced such bills. Former Presidents Hoover, Truman and Eisenhower have all endorsed reform of some sort.

Billy Graham

Why did God make some people rich and others poor?—H. W.

Yours may be an honest question, but I can detect a little shade of envy in your query. Some of the happiest, most contented, and most useful people I know are not people of wealth and means. I know many rich people who are actually poor in the things that really count. Jesus said: "A man's life consisteth not in the abundance of things which he possesseth." He told us about a rich young ruler who came to Him seeking eternal life . . . but failing to meet conditions of discipleship, he went away sorrowful. Among my acquaintances are quite a number of people who have been blessed with this world's goods. But the ones who have discovered peace of heart and mind are those who have drawn on "Heaven's bank"—God's resources. I know of no person of means who has found happiness in a bank vault filled with securities.

So, why envy the rich, or why pity those with more limited resources, when real peace of heart is available to all, through Christ? We can all be "rich" through Him of whom it was said, "Through He was rich, yet for our sakes He became poor, that ye through His poverty might be more rich." II Cor. 8:9.

Beautiful Daughters Of Lions

Miss Dobbins Chosen Queen By Lions Club

Representing Down Town Lions Club, Miss Beverly Ann Dobbins will be entered in the Queens competition at the Lions District Convention 2A-1 in Midland May 4-5.

Miss Dobbins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Dobbins, was selected from 10 young women, daughters of Down Town Club members, Tuesday evening at the Cosden Country Club. Miss Sarah King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luin King, was chosen as first princess, and Miss Nancy Head, daughter of Col. and Mrs. Charles Head, second princess.

Others competing were Misses Merry Lee Dibrell, Ann Gibbs, Denise Head, Sarah Smith, Lucy Thornton, Mary Thornton and Cynthia Pond.

The petite Miss Dobbins, 17, is a senior in the Big Spring High School. She is 5 feet 3 inches tall, weighs 95 pounds, and is a majorette for the school band. She is a member of the French and shorthand clubs, Future Homemakers of America, and is a twirling instructor at the YMCA. Miss Dobbins is a past worthy advisor in the Order of Rainbow for Girls. She has won 17 medals in contests for twirling and clarinet, and was voted "Miss Congeniality" at Tyler.

Sarah King, 15, is a sophomore in high school where she is an honor student. She was El Palamor Queen in 1962; editor of the Runnels year book; and is a talented pianist.

A Goliad Junior High School student, Miss Head is a member of the National Honor Society. She holds a first class Girl Scout rank, and has received both scholastic achievement and basketball awards. She is a member of the Catholic Youth Organization and the church choir.

Peach and apple blossoms with other spring flowers decorated the Cosden ballroom where each contestant entered through a vine covered arch. The stage featured a blossoming tree, flowers and a picket fence.

Winston Wrinkle served as master of ceremonies, and Jeff Brown headed the Queen Contest committee. Decorating was done by the Ladies Auxiliary with Mrs. D. S. Riley and Mrs. King in charge. Organ music was provided by Dale White.

Some 80 members, their wives and guests attended the dinner and program. The president, James Tidwell, presided. A panel of three judges, named for the event, was Carroll Davidson, Jo Ann Forrest and Mrs. E. W. Dozier.

Duplicate Session Reported

A Master Point session was held by the Big Spring Country Club duplicate group Tuesday afternoon with nine tables in play.

Those placing in north-south position were Mrs. Tom South and Mrs. Fred Lurting, first; Mrs. Riley Foster and Mrs. Elvis McCrary, second; Mrs. J. Gordon Bristow and Mrs. A. Swartz, third; and Mrs. E. L. Powell and Mrs. Elmo Wasson, fourth.

East-west places were taken by Mrs. Paul Lee and Mrs. E. J. Lingenfelter, first; Mrs. Ayra McGann and Mrs. Ben MuCullough, second; Mrs. G. H. Wood and Mrs. J. Y. Robb, third; and Mrs. J. H. Fish and Mrs. Hayes Stripling Sr., fourth.

Club Program Follows Dinner

The Business and Professional Women's Club, in a dinner meeting Tuesday evening, heard a program in four parts, presented by Mrs. Delphia Gordon, Mrs. Joe Kuykendall, Mrs. Cass Hill and Mrs. Nell Frazier. Invocation for the dinner, held at the Wagon Wheel, was given by Miss Ruth Dyer.

Subjects discussed were "National Security in Health and Safety," "Conservation of Our Resources," "Legislation and Civic Participation," and "Civic Participation in Public Relations."

The program was followed by a lengthy discussion on legislation. The program committee included Mrs. Lois O'Barr Smith, Miss Dyer, Mrs. Garland Morrison and Mrs. C. L. Rowe.

Guests for the evening were Mrs. A. J. Finch, Mrs. Relerce Jones and Miss Johnnie Polk.

Parks Are Topic For Program

"Scenic Views of the Southwest" was the program topic for the Tuesday morning session of the Rosebud Garden Club. Held at the home of Mrs. Aiken Simpson, the program was presented by Mrs. Charles Sweeney who talked on national parks and showed colored slides of the Carlsbad Caverns, Mesa Verde, the Petrified Forest, Zion National Park, White Sands, Grand Canyon and the cliff dwellings in Arizona and New Mexico.

The serving table, appointed with silver, featured an arrangement of lilacs, peach blossoms and pussy willow.

A guest for the morning was Mrs. Wayne Bonner.

Chirography Traced To Time Of Aristotle

Election of officers and programs highlighted the Beta Sigma Phi meetings this week.

BETA OMICRON CHAPTER

In tracing the history of chirography Monday evening for members of the Beta Omicron Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, Mrs. Adrian Randle went back to the days of Aristotle. She said that he believed the brain was governed entirely by the lines of the hand.

Speaking in the Community Room of the First Federal Savings and Loan Building, Mrs. Randle discussed the seven mount types and explained the map of the hand. She detailed the life line, fate line, heart line and line of Mars. Using Mrs. Bill McDonald, a new member who transferred from Sherman, as a model she gave a hand analysis.

Presiding during the business session, Mrs. Wade Choate reported the BSP City Council plans for a founder's day observance April 30. Beta Omicron chapter will plan the menu. An executive board meeting will be held at her home March 28 concerning the election of officers.

Mrs. Edward Seay, recording secretary, read a review of the programs given during the year by members. Votes were cast for the "program of the year" and also for the "woman of the year." Both will be announced at the founder's day dinner.

Corresponding secretary Mrs. Carroll Cannon read a letter from Joe Pickle, YMCA membership chairman, thanking the chapter for the recent purchase of a $12 membership. It is to be given to a local youngster.

Mrs. Cannon also said that a ritual of jewels ceremony, followed by a dinner, would be held in the Blue Room of Cosden Country Club April 9.

Mrs. Jerry Spence, service chairman, reported that clothes had been purchased for the project recipient. A check to cover the girl's extra school expenses will be presented to Mrs. R. R. Newell, director of special education.

Hostesses, Mrs. Jim Newsom and Mrs. Tom Marr, served refreshments from a table laid with a blue linen cloth. Silver and white china appointments were used. Seventeen were present.

XI MU CHAPTER

Mrs. Darryl Highley was elected president of the Xi Mu Chapter Tuesday in a meeting at the home of Mrs. Horace Rankin. Others elected to serve were Mrs. Rankin, vice president; Mrs. Rayford Gillihan, treasurer; Mrs. Buddy Redden, secretary; Mrs. Bill Pollard, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Chub Jones, City Council representative.

Twelve members heard a program on volunteer services at the state hospital. Mrs. Hila Weathers, coordinator of volunteer services, told of work at the hospital and the need for volunteers.

Members were told of the West Texas BSP Area Convention to be held in Sweetwater Oct. 4-6, and they voted to buy a youth membership in the YMCA. The City Council report was made by Mrs. Gillihan, after which plans were discussed for the Founders Day dinner to be held April 30.

The next meeting is scheduled for April 9 with Mrs. E. C. Smith, 1701 Yale.

Spoudazio Fora Hears Talk By Mrs. Coffee

Educational trends were discussed by Mrs. J. A. Coffey Tuesday evening when she was guest speaker for Spoudazio Fora Study Club.

Meeting in the home of Mrs. James C. Jones, members heard Mrs. Coffee tell of changes that have been made in the local school system during the past 30 years. A question and answer period followed her talk.

Vice president, Mrs. Don Farley, presided during the business session when a called meeting was planned to elect new officers. Time and place are to be announced.

Plans were completed for representatives of the club to attend the Western District convention in Monahans Wednesday and Thursday. Attending will be Mrs. Richard Patterson, Mrs. Bill Coleman, Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Farley.

Refreshments were served by cohostess, Mrs. J. W. Dickens, to members and a guest, Mrs. Billy Suggs.

Wasson Road HD Club Meets With Mrs. F. A. Gibbs

Mrs. F. A. Gibbs was hostess to members of the Wasson Road Home Demonstration Club in her home Monday afternoon. Following a devotion by the hostess, roll call was answered with a favorite flower.

Mrs. Melvin D. Newton, vice president, reported on the THDA luncheon and book review held recently at the Cosden Country Club.

Proceeds from a fund raising project were reported by Mrs. Tommy Freeland. This will be applied to the building fund.

Entertainment was directed by Mrs. C. D. Herring, with Mrs. Gibbs receiving the game prize.

Refreshments were served to members and a guest, Mrs. M. D. Fryar.

At 10 a.m. April 1, members will meet at the club house located on the lot next to the Jack McCall home to discuss what is needed to complete the building.

Plans Made By Evening Circle

Plans for a revival meeting were made when 10 members of the Evening Circle met at Kentwood Methodist Church Monday night. The revival is scheduled for March 31-April 7.

Also the group made plans to serve the Methodist Men and the Kentwood Scout Troop March 28.

The program on prayer was presented by Mrs. Bob Rybolt, who with her assistants, Mrs. Cliff Hale, Mrs. Weldon Nuckols and Mrs. C. W. Parmenter, conducted a general discussion on the subject.

League Registers As Lobbyists First

AUSTIN (AP)—The first thing delegates to the Presidents' Council of the League of Women Voters must do here Wednesday and Thursday is to register as lobbyists.

About 200 presidents and delegates from 35 Texas cities are expected.

The chief items will be the league's legislative interests, adoption of a budget and preparation of a study program for next year.

The meeting opens at noon Wednesday after delegates have registered under the state's representation before the legislature act.

State Fair Premiums For Asking

The women's department premium list for the 1963 State Fair of Texas is now available, Mrs. Leah Jarrett, director of the department, has announced.

Dates of the 1963 State Fair will be Oct. 5-20. The cover of the premium list, printed in bright red and blue on white, ties in with the 1963 fair's theme, "Exposition of Our American Heritage."

Mrs. Jarrett said the premium list will be mailed free to anyone making a request to the Women's Department, State Fair of Texas, Dallas 26. A grand total of $12,217 is offered in 883 classifications including divisions in designer-craftsman, art, leathercraft, hand painted china, miscellaneous arts, holiday corner, needlework and sewing, foods, antiques, collections, photographic, clothing, women's hat day and yeast baking.

A Dutch auction was held Monday evening by the British Wives Club in the Flame Room of Pioneer Natural Gas Co. Purpose of the auction, conducted by Mrs. Vern Cox, was to raise funds for a member to send flowers to her mother at Easter.

Mrs. Hollis Russell presided as plans were made for the group to sell candy next month to raise money for a distress fund.

Hostesses, Mrs. John Strong and Mrs. Walter Wilson, served refreshments to 16 members and five guests. The guests were Mrs. Roger Leonard, Mrs. Eleno Delgardo, Mrs. Charles Simister, Mrs. Roger Smith and Mrs. John Demmock.

Mrs. Russell will be hostess to the group on April 8 in her home at 148-A Dow Drive.

WMU Business Meeting Held

Reports and general business were in order Tuesday morning for a session of the Women's Missionary Union at Baptist Temple.

Mrs. H. M. Jarratt, president, gave the devotion, and led the group in prayer. Mrs. A. W. Page read the list of missionaries having birthdays, and Mrs. Dalton Johnston offered prayer.

Each report was given by a chairman or a youth counselor. Emphasis was placed on the forthcoming anniversary loyalty dinner April 11, and the Girls' Auxiliary Coronation May 15.

The group discussed the Freddie Gage Revival which is slated for April 28-May 5, after which Mrs. V. P. Phillips dismissed the meeting.

Button Holes Made For Sewing Club

Button holes were made in a demonstration given for the Gay Hill 4-H Sewing Club Monday at the school. The program was given by Mrs. Delaine Crawford, Home Demonstration agent for seven members and their leader, Mrs. G. W. Murphy.

Concluding the meeting, refreshments were served by Jane Murphy.

JOHN A KEE

Rebekahs Hear Report On Grand Lodge Event

Mrs. L. L. Robertson, representative to Grand Lodge, told of the meeting at Houston March 15-18 in the Tuesday meeting of John A. Kee Rebekahs at the hall. In her report she told of honors extended to the grand master, Joe Hatcher, and the president, Mrs. Leona Shepherd. Also she told of Mrs. H. F. Jarrett's installation as district deputy president to preside over Big Spring lodges and the Stanton Rebekah Lodge No. 284. She told of programs the children of the Corsicana Home presented in concluding her report.

Mrs. Lillie Parker was received as a new member by dismissal certificate, and Mrs. Grady Suddberry received her commission as lodge deputy, presented by Mrs. Jones Lamar. Total receipts from the Friday night spaghetti dinner were given, and visits to the sick reported.

Formal initiation was planned for newly elected members Tuesday evening. Practice for the event will be Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the lodge hall.

Members were reminded of the change in lodge meeting time. Beginning next Tuesday and continuing until October the meetings will begin at 8 p.m. Attendance was registered at 30, including a visitor, Mrs. Letha Massie of Lubbock, former noble grand of John A. Kees.

NO RUSH FOR AUTOMOBILE TAGS
With only three days left, motorists are apathetic regarding plates

Only Three Days Are Left To Purchase Car Licenses

Only three more days remain in which to buy 1963 car plates.

Deadline under Texas law is April 1. After that date, motor vehicles without current plates cannot be operated.

Mrs. Zirah LeFevre, county tax assessor, said that so far no rush has developed in her office for tags. She pointed out there are probably 8,000 or more motor vehicles in the county which are not registered.

She said that business in the tag line was brisker at the substations than it was in the court house. Car plates can be acquired at the four Lewis 5-and-10 Cent stores and at the two Newsom Food Stores.

Occasional flurries developed Tuesday at the tag office. There would be brief intervals when the lobby of the offices would be mildly thronged and then longer intervals when only one or two applicants would be on hand.

Mrs. LeFevre warned that her offices in the court house will not be open Saturday.

She pointed out that the substations will be open Saturday and after 5 p.m. Any applicant who needs plates can go to one of the Lewis stores or Newsom stores Saturday, the tax assessor said.

In order to save time and to insure prompt issuance of new plates, Mrs. LeFevre urged all motorists to bring their registration receipt and their car title with them.

She also stressed that after April 1, penalties for not having current plates become effective.

Cars which do not have current plates after midnight April 1 cannot be legally operated on roads and highways of the state. Operators can be arrested and fined for the offense.

In order to avoid the penalty for failure to buy plates before the deadline, a motorist must leave his vehicle parked and then make an affadavit that he has not operated it after the official deadline.

Oden Griffin Dies Tuesday

COLORADO CITY—Oden I. Griffin, 64, long-time resident of Mitchell County, died at 6 p.m. Tuesday in John Sealy Hospital, Galveston, after several weeks' illness.

Mr. Griffin was employed by Gulf Pipeline Co. for 18 years before moving to Loraine in 1934 where he owned and operated the Loraine, Dunn and Hermleigh Telephone exchange. # Publisher Gives Civilian View To Webb Graduates

A civilian's viewpoint toward a military class was presented this morning at the graduation ceremonies for Webb AFB graduating Class 63-F.

Speaker was R. W. Whipkey, publisher of The Herald, who told the graduates that they leave with the appreciation of the community for having brought in fresh viewpoints; that they go with the respect of civilians who trust their sound training and their attitudes for further study; that they go with the confidence of people who look to them as future leaders in the military establishment, come peace or war.

"You are our safeguard for peace and security, will be our vanguard in meeting any crisis of world conflict," the graduates were told.

The speaker was introduced by Base Commander Col. Wilson H. Banks, as "a friend of the base and of Air Force personnel."

2nd. Lt. Duane H. Zieg was top graduate of the class and class commander was Capt. Richard J. Miles. Tactical officer was 1st. Lt. Melvin E. Pollard, a graduate of the Air Force Academy.

Col. Harold C. Collins, Pilot Training Group commander, presented graduation certificates to the students and the individual instructors gave each student his Wings.

OIL REPORT

Canyon Reef Test Has No Shows

Amax Petroleum Corp. No. 1 J. T. Boyd, about 2¼ miles northeast of Vincent in Howard County, obtained negative results on test of the Canyon reef. The project is in the area of the Vincent pool, but is slated to bottom at 8,200 feet as a Mississippian wildcat.

Recovery from a section between 7,537-75 feet was 250 feet of mud and 250 feet of salt water in two hours. Flow pressures were 50-350 pounds and 30-minute final shutin pressure was 2,400 pounds.

Operator is now making hole below 7,824 feet in lime. The project spots C SW NW, section 4-25, H&TC survey. It was formerly filed by Wilson Exploration Company in February.

Preparing To Test

Suniland Oil Corp. is preparing to test the Glorieta at No. 1 J. R. Wood, wildcat about three miles south of Southland in Garza County. It is bottomed at 4,278 feet and 5½-inch casing has been set at the total depth.

No drillstem tests have been reported to date and operator is now preparing to perforate an unreported interval for the tests.

The project is about three-fourths mile east of the Suniland pool in Lynn County and about 1½ miles northwest of the Hackberry (Glorieta) pool. Location is 467 feet from the south and 660 feet from the west lines of section 1,259, Abstract 309, John H. Gibson survey.

In Glasscock County, Shell No. 1 Criesman, C SE SE, section 12-36-5s, T&P survey, is blowing hole dry after coring from 11,386-436 feet. Recovery was 48.5 feet of chert and shale with no porosity or shows reported.

DAILY DRILLING

HOWARD

Texaco No. 2-C Howard Fee has swabbed 290 barrels of load water from Clear Fork, betwe 2,932-178 feet, and operator continues swabbing. Recovery was on 23 hours of swabbing. The project is bottomed in lime at 3,300 feet and spots 1,980 feet from the south and 560 feet from the east lines of section 43-30-1s, T&P survey.

MARTIN

Cities Service No. 1-B Nail, C NW SW, section 3-38-1s, T&P survey, is bottomed at 12,260 feet in lime and the operator is preparing to take drillstem tests of the Fusselman between 12,235-260 feet.

Texas Crude No. 1-253 Knox, 6,310 feet from the south and 660 feet from the west lines of league 253, Ward CSL survey, is drilling below 10,455 feet in lime and sand.

MITCHELL

R. S. Anderson No. 1 Thornton, C SE SE, section 9-28, T&P survey, is digging below 2,870 feet.

STERLING

Cosden No. 2 Parramore, C NW SW, section 61-17, SPRR survey, is making hole in lime and sand below 2,910 feet.

District P-TA Meet Is Set In Lamesa

LAMESA (SC)—The District 16 Congress of Parents and Teachers will hold its spring conference in Lamesa Saturday with the Lamesa P-TA Association as host, are expected.

Registration will be at the high school beginning at 8 a.m. and Sands P-TA of Ackerly will serve coffee to incoming delegates. The conference will be called to order by Mrs. Hollis Puckett, Big spring, district president.

Guest speakers will be Mrs. D. O. James of Iowa Park, state vice president, and Mrs. J. L. Robinson, Paris, state chairman of the education-for-family-living committee.

A discussion group on citizenship will be led by Nat Williams, superintendent of Lubbock schools, and a luncheon will be served at noon in the high school cafeteria. Life memberships will be awarded at the luncheon to persons who have done outstanding work in the association.

Workshops will be conducted throughout the afternoon for all officers and committee chairman. The Lamesa school board will host district officers Friday when a banquet will be staged in the cafeteria in their honor.

New City Budget Approved

The City of Big Spring's budget of $2,350,683 was approved, with a few minor typographical errors to be corrected, by the city commission Tuesday night.

A public hearing, called at 7 p.m., brought about six taxpayers, none of whom asked questions. Later in the meeting, Al Milch appeared to ask what had been done about reimbursement for utilities in the Kentwood Addition. He was informed that around $1,800 was set up in the current budget for the reimbursement and that the payment had been made, or would be made, before April 1. Former Mayor G. W. Dabney spoke briefly to the commission and said he thought the budget was easily understandable and and commended the city manager and department heads for their work.

The new budget will become effective April 1, as the city's fiscal year begins. Anticipated revenues for the year, included in the budget, are set at $2,613,014, an increase of $369,171 over the current year. This includes a cash balance of $289,981 from this year. The estimated cash balance for the end of the new year is set at $262,331.

One of the errors in the copies of the new budget, to be corrected, was the omission of a five-cents per hour increase in pay for 17 laborers in the sanitation department, to raise the base pay to a minimum of $1.25.

Hearing Set On New Paving

A public hearing has been called in the city commission room at 7:30 p.m. April 9, on paving assessment Project No. 3, which includes approximately 31 blocks.

The streets will be paved under the city's continuing paving program at the same bid price received on Project No. 2, since the city exercised its option to extend the contract by 100 per cent.

The estimated amount of the contract extension will be $105,987.63, with the property owners' cost set at $89,982.96.

Front-foot cost for curb and gutter, under the contract held by Daniel Brothers, will be $1.44. Paving costs on 36-foot streets will be $2.7867, and for 40-foot streets, $3.1244 per front foot.

Streets includer will be: Thirteenth, from Johnson to Goliad; Nineteenth, from Scurry to Goliad; Twentieth, from Gregg to Goliad; Park Hill Drive, from Sixteenth to Seventeenth; Benton, from Eleventh to Seventeenth; Austin, from Eleventh to Fifteenth; Mittel Ave. and Twentieth, from Mittel to Benton; Parkway from Wasson Road to Yucca Drive (all above with 36-foot pavement); Owens from Third to Fourth, and Young from Twelfth to Sixteenth (both 40-foot pavements).

Dr. Hughes Checks VA Hospital Here

Dr. Theodore J. Hughes, a field representative for the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals, will spend Thursday in Big Spring making a survey of the Veterans Administration Hospital.

The hospital is currently accredited for a three-year period from Jan. 18, 1960. At the start of this year it was one of two accredited hospitals in the city.

A report of the survey by Dr. Hughes will be forwarded to Chicago for appraisal and evaluation by the staff of the Joint Commission. High standards in administration, physical plant, services, medical staff and nursing personnel must be met before an orgnization can be accredited.

No Action Taken On Ordinance Code

The city commission requested more information on codification of city ordinances at Tuesday night's meeting. Two firms had made estimates on the cost for Big Spring ordinances, excluding electrical, plumbing, building, and sub-divisions which are constantly changing.

Municipal Code, Tallahassee, Fla., submitted an estimated cost proposal of from $4,687 minimum to $5,250 maximum, depending on the amount of research, on 250 pages, with 100 copies printed and 50 bound, and $9.50 per page on supplements. The firm gave 25 Texas cities as references.

Sterling Codifiers, Weiser, Idaho, proposed a cost of $4,396 on 80 copies, all bound, and $396 annual cost of supplements. Eight Texas cities were given as references. The commission asked for opinions of the work from cities who have used both firms.

Bids will be opened April 18, for tabulation for the April 23 meeting of the commission, on a garbage and trash container system for the city.

This is the first move to obtain metal containers for trash and garbage in business areas. The containers may be picked up by hydraulically-operated trucks, with only one man needed for the operation. Members of the commission will visit cities in West Texas, using equipment from two companies, before bids are received, to determine the efficiency of each.

In other business the commission approved ordinances for zone changes. These were: first reading of ordinances, changing zones from residential to retail, at the northeast corner of the intersection of IS 20 by-pass and Snyder Highway, and in the northwest corner of US 87 and Andrews Highway; second reading changing lots 11, 12, and 13, west of Wasson Road at the intersection with Marcy, Thorpe Addition, from residential to neighborhood service, and the southeast corner of Twenty-fifth and Birdwell from residential to a planned district for multi-family apartments.

The second reading of an ordinance, which once died for lack of a motion, authorizing the sale of beer for on-premises consumption at the Lucky M Drive-in, was approved Tuesday night.

A public hearing, which had been requested by Bill Stover, for on-premises consumption of beer at the northeast corner of Third and Galveston, and then called off at his request, was not held. A second request was made Tuesday night for the public hearing and the owner was instructed to operate and clean up the place for 90 days and then renew his request.

LAST PHASE OF POLIO DRIVE SUNDAY

Free inoculations of Type III Sabin polio vaccine will be administered in Howard and Glasscock counties Sunday, between noon and 5 p.m., at 11 area clinics.

It is the third and final phase of the Victory Over Polio campaign and residents are urged to continue a job started last fall. Each vaccine is protection from a different polio virus and it takes all three for complete safety.

There is no charge for the vaccine.

MYERS

ters not in evidence in the jury room which influenced their verdict against Myers.

SLEEP BETTER

"Well," Myers said, "I can sleep better for awhile anyhow. It's been pretty rough the last few weeks."

"What did you do for a living when you lived in Chicago?" he was asked. He grinned wryly.

"They said in the papers when I was arrested that I had been a dishwasher," he replied. "I sort of felt that was an insult—I never was no dishwasher. I was a cook—cafe cook."

He displayed several charcoal sketches he had made in jail.

"It helps to kill the time," ne said.

Five Candidates To Be On Ballot

GARDEN CITY (SC)—A story reported to the Herald Saturday, listed two men as write-in candidates for the Garden City School Board. The two men were last-minute filing candidates and their names will be carried on the ballot, according to Bill Ballard, high school principal.

The candidates are Edwin Bednar and D. A. Penney. Three, who first filed, are Richard Dobbs, James Richard Currie and Sidney Hirt. The election will be held April 6.

City Picks State National As Depository For Funds

The State National Bank will be the depository for the City of Big Spring during the coming fiscal year, beginning April 1, following bids opened by the city commission Tuesday night. Shasta Ford Sales will supply two new cars for the police department, and oil and grease contracts for the year will go to K. H. McGibbon (Phillips), Humble Oil & Refining Co., and Rock Oil Co.

State National's proposals for no service charges; 2½ per cent interest on certificates of deposit from 90 to 180 days; 3½ per cent from 180 days to one year, and for no interest on money borrowed up to 12 months by the city for ordinary operating expenses, were accepted.

Security State Bank's proposals include: no service charges; one per cent on certificates of deposit for 90 days; 2½ per cent to 120 days, and 3½ per cent from 120 days to one year; borrowed money interest for 12 months, at 3½ per cent.

First National's proposal's were: no service charges; 1.25 per cent on borrowed money for normal operations; 2½ per cent on certificates of deposit from 90 to 180 days; 3½ per cent from six months to one year, and four per cent over a year.

Shasta Ford Sales' bids on two new cars for the police department were accepted. Two different colors, excluding white, will be ordered. One car, to be used for trips out of town, will include air conditioning. Shasta's bid on the two cars, was: unit price, $2,619.15; trade-ins of two old cars at $1,210.02, for a net of $1,409.13 without air conditioning, and $1,572.73 with air conditioning. This made the net cost run to $2,981.86 for two vehicles.

Pollard Chevrolet and Jones Motor Co. also submitted bids.

McGibbon Oil Co., was awarded the contract for furnishing transmission oil at .1070 cents per pound, diesel oil No. 2 at .1065 cents per pound, and .1120 cents per gallon for kerosene.

Humble Oil & Refining Co. will have the contract for engine lubricating oil, .45 cents per gallon; hydraulic oil, .3150 cents per gallon. Rock Oil Co. will furnish diesel lubricating oil at 73897 cents per gallon, and lube grease for .1325 cents per pound.

Other bids were submitted by Mobile Oil Co., Continental Oil Co., Gulf Oil Co., Texaco, Inc., and Petroleum Distributors.

Museum Plans Announced

LAMESA (SC) — The Dawson County Historical Survey Committee has contracted to purchase the former S. Ross Simpson home, South Second and Avenue M; with the ultimate aim of converting the property into a museum, it was announced here by the panel Tuesday.

The committee has agreed with the Simpson Estate to purchase the property for $5,000. A down payment of $1,000 is being subscribed and the balance will be in the form of regular payments.

Joe N. Spikes, chairman of the committee, has been named trustee of the property, which will be deeded to Dawson County when it is paid off.

The three-story structure faces east on a 150 by 140 lot. The north side of the lot is paved and current plans call for additional paving on the east side for parking space. It was constructed in 1917.

More than a dozen local residents will co-sign the note for the property. An initial check contributed to the fund was for $100 and from the Lamesa Board of Realtors. Individuals initially subscribing were C. C. Roberts, Leslie C. Pratt, Mrs. M. C. Lindsey, Henry Norris and Guy Weekes.

Civic clubs will be asked for a minimum donation of $100 and other individual contributions will be sought.

Heavyweight Housewife May Fall Short Of Goal

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Mary Ferguson, the heavyweight housewife who wants to lose 50 pounds in two weeks, is getting slimmer, all right. But she are her chances of reaching her original goal.

She said Tuesday night that she had lost 14 pounds and was down to 230 the last time she weighed. Her two-week exile in a hotel room ends Sunday. "I'd like to lose about 28 pounds," she said. "But weight loss is funny. Sometimes you lose good, but sometimes the body gets a little water in it and you don't lose so well."

Mrs. Ferguson denied earlier reports that she had fainted twice during her fast. "I had some tremendous stomach contractions," she said, "and there were times I was feeling really rotten. But I never fainted."

The Pounds Are Melting Away

Mrs. Mary Ferguson, Long Beach, Calif. housewife who's determined to go two weeks without food, looks at the calendar-chart showing her progress in losing pounds. Since starting the diet she's lost 14 pounds and hopes to have a shape worthy of a new Easter dress. She consumes only coffee, tea and bouillon.

Mrs. Robertson Dies Tuesday

COLORADO CITY (SC)—Mrs. Lula Mills Robertson 77, died in the Root Memorial Hospital Tuesday afternoon. She was born Dec. 2, 1885 in Limestone County, Texas and had lived in Colorado City for 44 years. She was a member of the Calvary Baptist Church and had married Hiram W. Robertson in 1903 in Limestone County. Mr. Robertson died in 1948.

Funeral will be held Wednesday at 2:30 p.m. from the Calvary Baptist Church with Rev. Nell Rogers, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in the Colorado City Cemetery.

She is survived by four sons, Earnest and Charles Robertson of Colorado City, Marvin Robertson, Abilene and Alton Robertson, Loraine; one daughter, Mrs. Mamie Hallman, Colorado City.

Additional survivors are a brother, A. S. Mills, Palmer, Texas; two sisters, Mrs. Addie Dossey and Dovie Mills, both of Groesbeck; 18 grandchildren and 39 great-grandchildren.

Fatal Overdose

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Walter Herman Weber, 66, from whom the U.S. government seized $250,000 as an enemy alien in 1941 and who fought for his fortune for 14 years, died Monday from an overdose of barbiturates. More than 50 suicide notes addressed to various governmental agencies and to the President were found. Weber, a German, was a self-styled art critic and "art detective."

T. F. Kennemer Dies Today

Funeral will be at 3 p.m. Friday for Tollie Fred Kennemer, Gail Route, a resident of Big Spring since January. Mr. Kennemer died early this morning in a local hospital.

Before moving here, he had been a grocer in the Vincent Community since 1951. He was 64 years old and had been in failing health the past six years.

He was born in Hoxie, Ala., July 20, 1898, and was married Sept. 21, 1931 at Iraan. Prior to moving to Vincent, he lived in Sonora. He was a deacon in the Baptist Church 18 years and was a member of the Crestview Baptist Church.

Services will be at the Crestview Baptist Church, with the Rev. R. B. Murray officiating, assisted by the Rev. Darrell Robinson. Burial will be in Trinity Memorial Park under the direction of River Funeral Home.

Survivors are his widow; three sons, Freddie Dale Kennemer, Max Kennemer, and Don Kennemer, all of Big Spring; one sister, Mrs. Roy L. Byrd, Big Spring; two brothers, Floyd M. Kennemer, Austin, and Roy B. Kennemer, Seminole, Okla.; and one granddaughter.

Stock Market Moves Upward

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market continued at a more vigorous pace early this afternoon, with prices once again moving upward irregularly.

Advances of most key stocks were fractional, some going to a point or so. Losses were scattered throughout the list.

Savings-and-loans were heavily traded and higher again. Aerospace issues, electrical equipmost tobaccos were higher. Motors and steels were mixed and rail were unevenly lower.

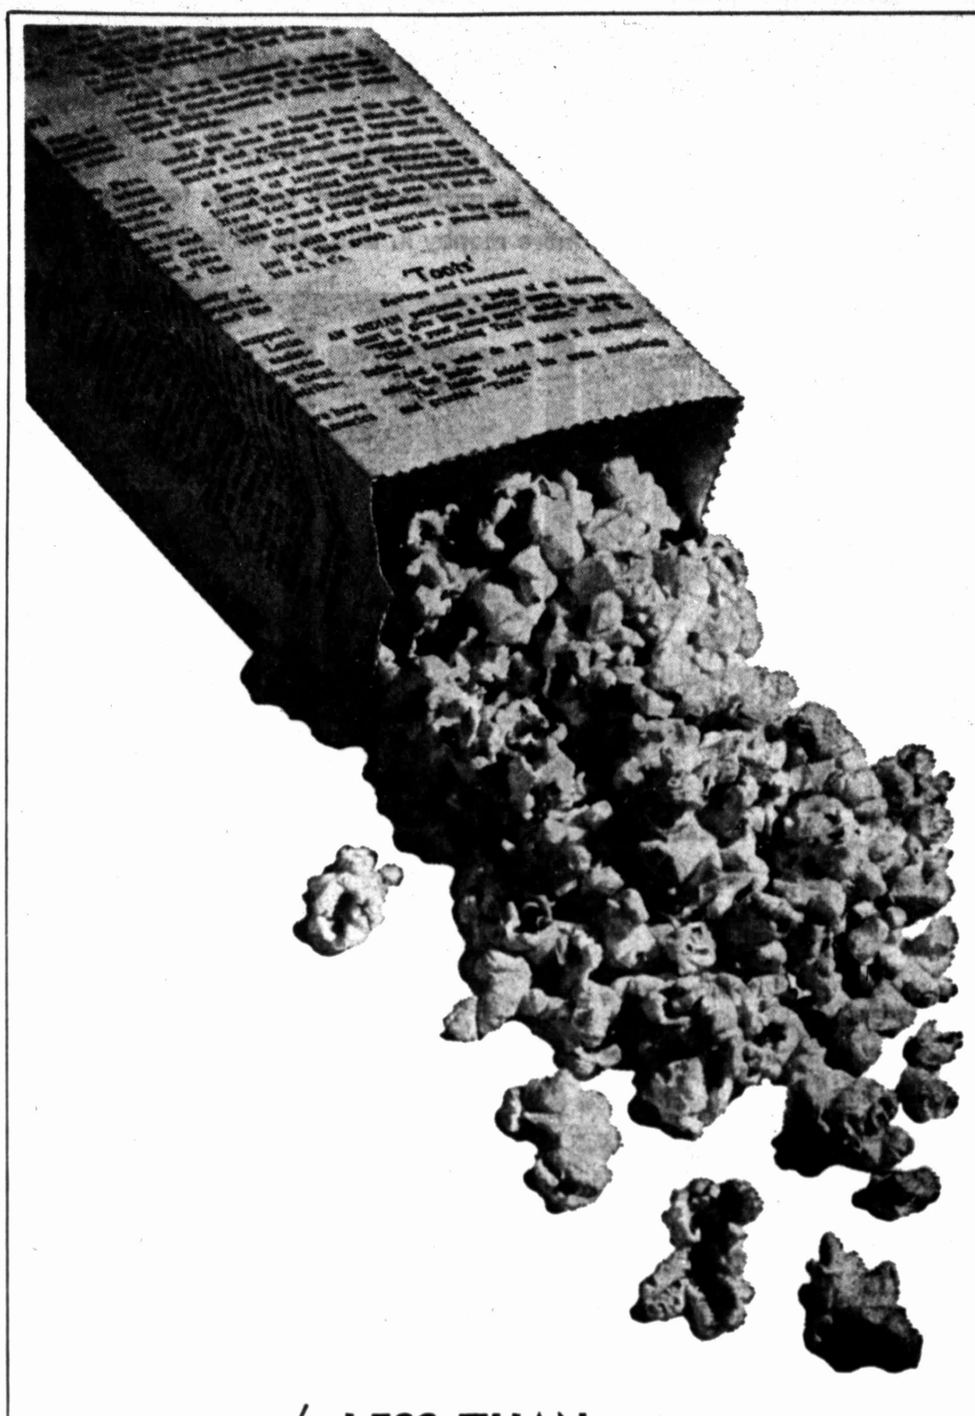

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .5 at 258.9 with industrials up 1.1, rails off .2, and utilities up .3.

Lehman Will Be Lionized Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—Herbert H. Lehman, a man experienced in broken bones and solid statesmanship, goes to a party tonight—lame but lionized.

He is turning 85.

"I break easily," said the old warrior of many a political crusade, now recovering from a broken left hip. "But I heal quickly."

His birthday is actually Thursday, but his wife, Edith, is giving the party for him tonight, with about 300 close friends gathered around. He will go in a wheelchair, but this will be no damper on the occasion.

There will be dancing and dinner at the Plaza Hotel affair, along with many salutes to the millionaire humanitarian who for half a century triumphed in politics by not acting like a politician.

He never seemed to be regarded as "a politician in the usual sense," the New York Times once said, but primarily as "a man of good intentions."

His reputation for sincere integrity consistently carried him through, even when his bones gave in.

"He's had quite a few broken bones in the past. A broken leg twice and a broken shoulder, and now this broken hip," said Mrs. Lehman. "But thank goodness, he heals well and it doesn't hold him down.

"He keeps busy."

Lehman, who served an unprecedented four terms as Democratic governor of New York, later as foreign relief administrator, and then as a U.S. senator, retired from public office in 1956, but has continued his interest—and influence—in political affairs.

He was a chief architect of the 1961 Democratic reform movement that put New York Mayor Robert F. Wagner in office in defiance of the regular party organization.

He still has a flow of correspondence, and callers at his 820 Park Ave. home, seeking his counsel. However, with the present broken bone his doctors have put restrictions on his schedule, for the time being.

Officers Hit Blind Alleys In Death Probe

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Sheriff's officers have hit two blind alleys in their search for clues to the killer of Jane Langdon, 21, of Fort Worth, Tex.

Thirty possemen on horseback combed the desert near the murder scene north of Phoenix Tuesday, but investigators announced they came up empty-handed. Object of the hunt was the luggage of the attractive Texas Christian University coed and her missing garments.

Officers also were stymied by a report from the FBI in Washington, D.C., that tests on a .38 caliber pistol found near the scene were inconclusive.

"They told me they couldn't positively identify the gun as the death weapon," said Sheriff's Capt. Ralph Edmundson. "But they said they couldn't entirely eliminate it, either."

Sheriff L. C. Boies said they were test-firing another weapon which city police found in the apartment of a member of a gang known to frequent the area where Miss Langdon was last seen.

Miss Langdon, daughter of a prominent Texas judge, was last seen alive by a taxi driver who dropped her at an apartment house at 4 a.m. Thursday, shortly after she arrived in Phoenix by plane from Dallas. Her body, shot three times, was found Saturday in a prospector's tunnel.

Tests indicated she had been raped.

Courts Close For Slain Girl

FORT WORTH (AP) — Several Tarrant County courts closed Tuesday in respect for Miss Jane Langdon, 21, who was shot to death in Phoenix, Ariz., during the weekend.

She was the daughter of Judge Jack M. Langdon, associate justice of the Second Court of Civil Appeals here.

Many county employes were given time off work to attend the funeral.

Into Quarantine

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — Syria's revolutionary regime has put 27 more leaders of the regime it ousted into "political quarantine," stripping them of civil rights and banning them from public activity.

Rotarians Hear Dr. Gage Lloyd

Rotarians heard the Rev. R. Gage Lloyd, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, humorously try to figure out a subject to speak on at Tuesday's meeting. He considered several, and then came up with the Easter Season.

"It's always easier to speak to a captive audience," he said. "If nothing else, pure courtesy makes you stay." He then began the consideration of subjects.

Lloyd spoke of conditions in the slum areas of Big Spring and how cleaning them up was the problem of every taxpayer in the city.

"There is too much evil and substandard living in that area," he said. "If it isn't corrected, it will inevitably overflow into all Big Spring society." He then branched off onto the Easter season, saying that Easter is a time for being joyful and for self-examination.

"It keeps before us the death and resurrection of Christ and the knowledge that, through Him, we are redeemed. We know also that He is alive."

The Rev. Lloyd was introduced by Worth Peeler, March program chairman.

Opening lead: King of ♠

A mild indiscretion committed by West during the auction in today's hand enabled an alert declarer to uncover a finessing situation which was not readily discernible.

The auction does not get our stamp of approval. Counting an extra point for holding all the aces, South's hand becomes worth 22 points, and should be opened, with two no trump. West's takeout double is not very sound, despite his original pass, for, when East is unable to open the bidding in third position, there can be little hope to score offensively. Altho West has 12 high card points, his distribution is rather unattractive and the queen of diamonds is of questionable value.

East responded to the double by showing his longest suit, clubs, and South made his second questionable decision when he failed to double. While the double in this situation is regarded as optional, North had enough strength in clubs to leave the double in, and with sound defense a 700 point sting could have been inflicted on the opposition.

Against the final contract of three no trump, West opened the king of spades, which was permitted to hold. West continued with the queen and this time declarer played the ace. There were eight top tricks in sight, with a possible ninth available from the long diamond in South's own hand.

The normal procedure is to play three rounds of diamonds in the hope that the suit is divided three-three. From the bidding, however, it appeared to declarer that West was short in diamonds, and he decided to base his play on this assumption.

At trick three, a small diamond was led from the closed hand and, when West followed with a small card, the nine was played from dummy. East was in with the ten of diamonds and he switched to a heart. South put up the ace and led another diamond. This brought forth the queen from West and the king from North.

Declarer now held a tenace over his right hand opponent. The three of diamonds was played from the dummy. East followed with the six and declarer covered with the eight which held the trick as West showed out. South cashed the ace of diamonds and quickly ran for cover with his nine tricks.

U.S. Seeks To Halt Pipe Shipments To Soviet Union

WASHINGTON (AP) — Undersecretary of State George W. Ball goes to London today to try to convince the British that large-diameter steel pipes are strategically important commodities which should not be shipped to the Soviet Union. The British presumably will disagree.

This will hardly surprise Ball. He was told the same thing last Monday when he summoned Sir David Ormsby Gore, the British ambassador, to discuss the controversial pipe issue.

Ball's mission likely will arouse the ire of Soviet Premier Khrushchev. The Soviet leader already has accused the United States of having "exercised crude pressure" upon its allies persuading them to refuse Soviet pipe orders. By doing so, Khrushchev said in a Moscow elections speech last month, the United States was interfering in Soviet relations with third countries and this, he said, was "a manifestation of the senseless policy of cold war."

The controversy started when the Russians began dreaming about a gigantic 2,500-mile pipeline to deliver Soviet oil to European satellites and, perhaps, across the Iron Curtain to Western Europe.

Miss Watson's Funeral Today

MIDLAND (AP) — Funeral services will be held today for Miss Lydie Watson, a pioneer Midland music teacher, cultural leader and a newspaper society editor.

She died Tuesday at her home after a long illness.

Miss Watson was society editor of the Midland Reporter in 1900. Her brother, Charles C. Watson, was publisher of the newspaper in 1896.

Her nephew, Charlie Watson, is managing editor of the evening Lubbock Avalanche-Journal. Another nephew, W. C. Watson, lives in Dallas.

"Facts are God's arguments; we should be careful never to misunderstand or pervert them."

TRYON EDWARDS

DAILY GUIDE—It is amazing sometimes how people can mix, shade, pervert facts. They are sometimes amazed themselves at how wrong they have been when the truth is sorted out for them. In this period we have had, and will have, a strong accent on propaganda, willful withholding of news and details of negotiations, and some clever manipulation of information, intensions and ambitions. We must keep very alert or we will wake up to find we have been taken in.

Today is one of those days when it pays to keep your mind on where you are going and what you are doing as well as what the other fellow is up to. Taureans are warned to be especially careful as they are susceptible to the deceptive sleight-of-hand of clever people.

Attend to material and financial matters with care, but don't postpone or neglect duties or obligations.

Excellent day coming up for all kinds of action and communications and travel.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY, ARIES! A chance to solve problems and get on top of difficulties is coming now, and the year ahead may prove to be one of your best in many years. Naturally, much depends on how you handle your opportunities and what you have done in the past to deserve rewards. Social advantages are due now. Seek out older people or old friends to support your personal interests. Working conditions are due to be unpredictable for a long time, but in June some sudden injection of excitment can be expected. Finances need wise direction, especially early in October. You will have a chance to promote career matters at the end of the year.

Midland Lee Downs Steers In Opener

MIDLAND — Bobby Weber pitched the Midland Lee Rebels to a 12-3 District 2-AAAA baseball victory over Big Spring here Tuesday afternoon, rationing out five hits to the Steers.

The game opened conference play for both teams. Big Spring returns to competition Saturday, tangling with Odessa High in Odessa.

Lee experienced two big innings in toppling Big Spring, scoring five in the third and four in the sixth.

Rickey Wisener clubbed a home run his first time at bat for Big Spring, the drive coming in the third with the bases empty.

Jeff Brown scored for Big Spring in the fourth after being hit by a pitched ball.

Big Spring got its final tally in the seventh when Billy Andrews singled and eventually made his way home on a sacrifice.

Jack Roden was charged with the defeat. He labored 2 1-3 innings and was succeeded by Pat Reilly and Freddie Miears. Together, they gave up 10 hits, including three by Bucky Kimble and two by Jack Schreiner.

One of Kimble's smashes went for four bases, another for two.

Charley West, who has been out of the lineup due to an appendectomy, made a pinch hitting appearance for Big Spring in the sixth but struck out.

Roy New, Brown and Eric Nichols collected the other hits for Big Spring.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

In the words of head coach Burn Phillips, football prospects are "looking up" at Texas Western College — where four Big Spring boys will be vying for positions next fall.

The Miners recently completed spring workouts and Phillips said he was highly pleased with the manner in which his team came along. However, he added a word of caution:

"We are just about equal right now where we should have been last year. We have some size, speed, depth and experience that we didn't have last year. There is no question about it — we'll be a lot better next year because the personnel we had last year had to improve . . . We're still going to make mistakes because we're still very young . . . Our team will be composed mainly of sophomores and juniors, which means we will still be a very young team. If you had to single out our biggest weakness at this time it would have to be the lack of a real fast breakaway back. We just do not have one capable of going all the way at any given time although we feel we have improved in our running back department."

• • • •

In the TWC intra-squad game which wound up spring workouts, the Orange squad came from behind to win, 22-19 — thanks to a touchdown pass from Jerry Tucker to Jimmy Evans.

Both are Big Spring products. Tucker will be a sophomore next fall while Evans will be playing his final season with the Miners. He's a 190-pound, two-letter winner end.

Jack Irons, an all-district linebacker when he performed for Big Spring two years ago, has been moved to guard. He now weighs in at 180.

• • • •

One of the valued returnees on the TWC squad has to be Dexter Pate. A sophomore, Pate is listed at 186 pounds on the Miner spring roster but it is doubtful that he weighs that much.

He was a starter at offensive center last fall. Bob Windham, a 235-pound ex-service man from Odessa, and Bethany Chapple, 255, a transfer student from Little Rock, Ark., will also contend strongly for the pivot job at the El Paso school.

• • • •

Tucker completed 41 of 86 passes for 480 yards and five touchdowns in 1962. He also carried the ball 22 times for net gains of 56 yards.

Evans gathered in 21 passes (more than anyone else on the squad) and bolted for pickups aggregating 242 paces.

The 1962 Miners won four-of nine starts. They lost to Wyoming and Arizona by only one touchdown each.

They'll open at home Sept. 21 against North Texas State, then play New Mexico, New Mexico State, Arizona, Arizona State, Colorado State, Texas Tech, Wyoming and West Texas, in that order.

Tech visits El Paso for a game Nov. 16. It'll be Homecoming for the Miners and Tucker will get a chance to make coach J. T. King of the Lubbock school reflect on the fact he didn't play a little more attention to the boy when he had Jerry on campus last September.

• • • •

Out in the Hondo Valley, N.M., where a lot of Big Spring people spend their summers following the horses, they're expecting a record pari-mutuel handle of over $12 million at the Ruidoso Downs race track.

There's every indication the All-American Quarter House Futurity scheduled for September there will gross $250,000 — which would mean an increase of $28,000 over 1962.

Ruidoso Downs has been a going concern now for 16 years.

Baylor Trims TCU Purple; Aggies Win

By The Associated Press

Texas Christian, which had won 10 games in a row, was bounced out of the Southwest Conference baseball lead by Baylor Tuesday. It enabled Texas A&M, which was beating Rice 5-3, to move into first place.

Baylor edged Texas Christian 3-2 as Martin Murdock batted in all three of the Bear runs. His slashing single in the ninth produced the two runs that toppled the Christians.

Rice was tied with Texas Christian for first and Texas A&M was next in line with a 1-0 record before Tuesday's games.

The upsets made it an airtight race with no team out of contention at the moment except Southern Methodist, which stands 0-3. Baylor is 1-2.

Texas, which Texas Christian beat last week to move into first place, was trimming Minnesota 6-5 in a nonconference game. Texas is 1-1 in the conference race.

Johnny Crain's pitching featured Texas A&M's decision over Rice. He hurled 6-hit ball, holding the Owls scoreless for the final eight innings. He didn't surrender a hit in the last six, facing only 20 batters.

Texas scored six runs in the second inning and got strong relief pitching from John Collier and Bob Myer to even its series with Minnesota. The Midwesterners had won 15-6 on Monday.

There is no more conference play until Saturday when Baylor and Texas clash at Austin, Texas Christian and Rice tangle at Fort Worth and Southern Methodist and Texas A&M battle at Dallas.

Wednesday, Texas A&M opens a series with Minnesota at College Station. Southern Methodist plays Austin College at Sherman.

Fishing Derby Open April 1

COLORADO CITY (SC)—Colorado City's Chamber of Commerce announced plans Tuesday for a fishing rodeo to be held at Colorado City's two lakes this spring and summer. A total of $5,500 in prizes will be given away from the opening of the rodeo on April 1 until its close Aug. 25.

The only entry required is an annual fishing permit from the City of Colorado City, according to Hallie Norman, Chamber manager.

Five fish are to be caught, tagged and released into the lake before April 1, Norman said, and the lucky angler who adds the tagged fish to his string will receive $500 in cash.

Merchandise prizes will be given each month for the largest fish caught and for the largest number of points accumulated on a point scale. Merchandise valued at $300 will be given away each month. At the close of the rodeo, Sept. 2nd, an additional $1,500 in merchandise will be given as grand prizes.

The fish must be caught in one of Colorado City's lakes—either Lake Champion or Lake Colorado City and must be weighed at one of the weighing stations at each lake on the same day caught, Norman said.

The Chamber of Commerce is studying the possibility of sponsoring a sports show in connection with the Rodeo.

Houston Colts Pare Roster

APACHE JUNCTION, Ariz. (AP) — The Houston Colts whittled their roster to 41 Tuesday, shipping eight players to their Pacific Coast League farm club at Oklahoma City.

Six of the players were off the Colt National League roster and two of them, Jim Pendleton and Mike White, were already owned by Oklahoma City.

Pendleton, 39, was a part-time outfielder for the Colts last year in their first National League season and hit .246.

The others assigned to Oklahoma City were pitchers Jim Dickson, Cliff Davis, Butch Mixon, John Haydel and Tom Wilwerth, and third baseman Jim Wynn, who has been a spring hitting sensation.

Snider Is Taken Off Waiver List

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Duke Snider's name has been taken off the waiver list. If the New York Mets want the veteran Los Angeles Dodger outfielder, they can get him for about $40,000, or twice the waiver price.

The Duke, 36, is still a big drawing card in New York and some of the Dodger brass estimate his value to the Mets at the gate at about $250,000.

Two Big Spring Quintets Record Wins In Tourney

WESTBROOK—Two Big Spring teams won opening round games in the Westbrook Independent Basketball tournament here Tuesday night.

E. C. Smith Construction trounced Westbrook, 122-64, while F. L. Austin Humble sidelined another Big Spring Quintet, 133-58.

Delnor Poss, Butch Vicellio and Al Kloven played major roles in Smith's victory. Poss tossed in 45 points, Vicellio 31 and Kloven 30.

For Westbrook, Jerry Cunningham counted 18 points and Robert Ryan 16.

In the second contest, Conroy Lacy scorched the nets for 30 points while Jim Wilburn had 23.

For Morton's, Bob Davis tossed in 22 points and D. A. Miller had 18.

Play will be resumed Thursday evening, at which time Austin Humble opposes Waddell - Blanks of Odessa at 7 o'clock and E. C. Smith's squares off with Abilene Athletic Supply at 8:30 p.m.

The tournament will be concluded Saturday night.

Write Off Oldsters In Masters Tourney

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Watch out for the three P's—Palmer, Player and Pott—and write off the amateurs, oldsters and outsiders in next week's Masters golf tournament, Fred Corcoran said today.

"I'd have to pick Arnold Palmer to win again," the director of the International Golf Association added. "He is playing superbly—hitting his approach shots right on the pin and putting exceptionally well.

"Gary Player also is on top of his game and supremely confident. Of the outside threats, you have to take Johnny Pott. He is a tremendous hitter who will be favored with starting the PGA tour toward its present multimillion-dollar status, has returned home after watching a dark horse, Dan Sikes, win the Doral Open—the second long shot in as many weeks to whip the top pros in Florida. Ray Floyd captured the St. Petersburg Open the week before.

"Nobody is going to come out of the clouds to win the Masters," Corcoran said. "The Augusta course is too big and too tough. It takes a finished golfer to whip it."

The Masters is scheduled April 4-7.

Corcoran, a thick-necked Bostonian who runs the Canada Cup and International matches, predicted that no amateur nor old timer would be able to finish in the top 15.

"Now that Jack Nicklaus has turned pro, the amateur threat has completely vanished," the husky executive and promoter said. "And there are too many hills for the old fellows at Augusta.

"Sam Snead, who has won three Masters, might have a chance but he has a bad foot and says he doesn't know whether he can stand up under the grind. It's going to be equally tough for fellows like Ben Hogan and Byron Nelson."

Corcoran said Nicklaus, the rotund U.S. Open champion, is a natural threat but added: "Jackie looks a bit heavy. Besides, he's never played his best at Augusta." Corcoran added, and others who have a good chance of taking the big prize include Doug Sanders, Bobby Nichols, Phil Rodgers, Don January, Gene Littler and Jay Hebert.

Odessa Bronchos Defeat Cooper

ABILENE — The Odessa Bronchos, defending champions in District 2-AAAA baseball, took advantage of six Cooper errors to defeat the Abilene school in their conference opener here Tuesday, 3-2.

Andy Reed, who went all the way, received credit for the mound victory. He scattered seven Abilene hits.

The Bronchos scored what proved to be the winning run in the fifth inning.

Wesley Pyfer and Johnny Lawrence each collected two hits for Odessa. Bobby Ramsey and Randy Cumby each drove out two for Cooper.

Titan Owners Ready For House Cleaning

NEW YORK (AP) — Wilbur (Weeb) Ewbank, former coach of the Baltimore Colts in the National Football League, was reported today to be the new head coach of the New York Titans.

The tip came from an official associated with the American League team before it was sold to a five-man syndicate for $1 million following a bankruptcy petition.

A spokesman for David A. (Sonny) Werblin, head of the new controlling syndicate, said, however, any announcement of a new coach was premature.

Werblin has disclosed that he plans a complete house-cleaning of the Titans, which probably would include naming of a new general manager and a new head coach.

Clyde (Bulldog) Turner, former center of the Chicago Bears, has a year to go on a head coaching contract calling for $20,000 a year. This will probably be bought up.

Ewbank coached the Colts from 1954 until this year when he was fired, being replaced by Don Shula.

The American League is seeking to present a new image to the fans this season. They want no more flapping shirt tails and droopy socks.

This was disclosed in a meeting of the AFL publicists here Tuesday.

The publicists want all AFL players to keep their shirt tails tucked into their pants and not let their socks fall down.

"The National Football League has a rule that shirts must be secured so they don't fly loose," said one of the publicists. "Maybe the AFL will do better if our shirts don't fly loose so much."

Over at the Titans, the sweep-clean campaign follows the bankruptcy petition filed by Harry Wismer, president and principal stockholder of the debt-ridden club. Wismer listed liabilities as $1,341,000 and assets at $271,999.

Turner, who has a contract in the $20,000 area, has a year remaining on his pact.

As for the team's new nickname, Gothams seems to be the front-runner.

Can Maury Wills Pilfer 104 And Strum Banjo?

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP)— The stage lights have gone out for the Dodger Sextet—but Maury Wills isn't putting away his banjo.

After dinner, the fleet young man who stole 104 bases last season can be found strumming his banjo in suite 51 of of barracks that houses the Los Angeles Dodgers.

"I get a lot of enjoyment out of it," says Maury. "I used to go around and play at different affairs for the fun of it. Then one time when I got paid I didn't get so much kick out of it."

Wills played the banjo four weeks at Las Vegas in an act with Milton Berle. Don Drysdale sang, Willie Davis strutted and Duke Snider, Sandy Koufax and Frank Howard were straight men in an act that went over big. Reports are that the sextet got $8,000 a week at Las Vegas.

The act also played 10 days at Miami Beach.

Terry Baker Signs To Play Football With NFL's Rams

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Terry Baker, Oregon State's brillant all-around athletic star, has agreed to play professional football with the Los Angeles Rams.

The All-America quarterback, winner of the Heisman and Maxwell tropies last season as college player of the year, signed a three-year contract with the National Football League club Tuesday night at the office of Elroy Hirsch, assistant to President Dan Reeves of the Rams.

Terms were not disclosed, but Baker is believed to have been guaranteed $25,000 a year plus a bonus for signing. He was the first draft choice of the Rams, was also picked by Oakland of the American League, and reportedly had an offer of $100,000 from Toronto of the Canadian Football League.

"But when the Rams drafted me I decided then and there that I was going to play in Los Angeles," Baker told reporters after he signed his contract. "There are many variables involved. I like Los Angeles and the West Coast and I have followed the Rams closely for years."

Baker, a southpaw passer, was asked if he knew that only one lefthander, Frankie Albert of the San Francisco 49ers, had gained any measure of success in pro football ranks.

"I've wondered about that," replied the personable Baker, an honor student in mechanical engineering. "But I certainly think that being left-handed isn't a handicap in athletics."

Baker was an outstanding guard on Oregon State's basketball team this season, helping the Beavers reach the national semifinals of the NCAA tournament, played this past weekend in Louisville.

There's No Home Like The Cellar

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — News item:

The New York Knicks were the first team eliminated from the National Basketball Association playoffs. The New York Titans of the American Football League are in bankruptcy court. The New York Rangers missed the National Hockey League Stanley Cup playoffs again. The New York Mets are the unanimous choice to repeat in 10th place in the National League.

---

Scene: A meeting of the Loser's Club of New York. A crippled old man in a baseball suit is in the chair, beneath a sign proclaiming the club motto: "There's No Home Like the Cellar."

MR. MET: The meeting will come to order.

MR. KNICK: What are you doing in the chair? I should have the job on seniority. Four years in last place.

MR. RANGER: How about me? I haven't won the Stanley Cup since 1940.

MR. TITAN: Harry Wismer said I should have the job.

MR. MET: It's mine. I lost 120 games last year and they called off two on account of pity. I should do even better this year. My best outfielder quit to go on the radio for the Phillies, and my game loser was a holdout.

MR. KNICK: I lost 51 in 1962, and I only played 80. I almost made it 60 last season. I wound up with one center in the hospital and the other pitching for the Red Sox. Four fellows in my last starting line-up walked in off the street.

MR. RANGER: But you won two straight last month. You never catch me doing that.

MR. KNICK: I'm sorry. The other clubs were tired. They played a double header in Nome the night before.

MR. TITAN: Harry said I should have the job.

MR. MET: How many did you lose?

MR. TITAN: I'm not sure. We can't find two witnesses to our games. But Harry said I should have the job on lack of attendance.

MR. RANGER: He's got a point. The rest of us keep drawing people who pay to see us.

MR. KNICK: I'm big in Hershey, Pa. Wilt Chamberlain got 100 points against me there. Elsewhere I find it best to keep moving.

MR. MET: I drew nearly a million last year. It's enough to make you call for Kraft-Ebbing.

MR. TITAN: Who's he?

MR. MET: My new catcher. That makes nine. He hits .044 in the Florida League, and frequently throws to second base on only one bounce. The other clubs let me buy him for a million dollars.

MR. RANGER: I never get any new players. In my league one family owns all the American teams, and the Canadians own all the players.

MR. KNICK: In my league the home team keeps all the gate receipts. The winners get rich and the losers get Billy McGill.

MR. MET: Enough of this chit-chat. Let's organize our Hate the New York Yankees week.

MR. TITAN: And the New York Giants, my football rivals.

MR. MET: We'll have one Hate Week for each. Those guys are a disgrace to New York.

No Lie Tests For Bryant

ATLANTA (AP) — Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant of Alabama says his attorneys have advised him against taking another lie detector test in connection with investigations of football-fix charges.

Georgia Atty. Gen. Eugene Cook asked Bryant to take a second test. Cook is heading a state investigation into the Saturday Evening Post's charges that Bryant and Wallace Butts, former University of Georgia Athletic Director, conspired to rig last fall's Alabama-Georgia football game, which favored Alabama won 35-0. They have denied the charges.

Cook also asked Butts to take a second test, and Butts said Tuesday he would do whatever his attorney advised.

Butts and Bryant have said they took lie detector tests which showed they were innocent of the Post charges.

Scheffing Whistling Tune Over Al Kaline

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Al Kaline's in the groove, cutting a record that has Detroit Manager Bob Scheffing whistling a happy tune.

Just 10 months ago, on May 26, Scheffing was singing the blues after Kaline suffered a broken right collarbone making a diving, game-ending catch of Elston Howard's line drive in the Tigers' 2-1 victory over the Yankees at New York.

Now Kaline is fully back in shape, having the best exhibition season of his career. He continued his torrid pace Tuesday in Detroit's 2-1 triumph over the Yankees at Fort Lauderdale, hitting his fifth homer for the decisive run and bringing his average to .373 on 20 hits in 53 at-bats.

"I feel good, real good," says Kaline. "My shoulder doesn't bother me a bit. Even the numbness I had in my hand is gone."

Kaline's injury kept him out of the line-up for 57 games at a time when he was hitting .345 with 13 homers and 38 runs batted in for 35 games. Without him, the Tigers were unable to make a serious run for the pennant.

How important is Kaline to the Tigers' Scheffing says:

"He does something for us every day he's out there. He helps us in so many ways, it's almost unbelievable. Even when he goes 0-for-4 or 9-for-5, he helps us in the field, with a catch or throw to pull us out of trouble. He's the complete player."

Kaline's sixth-inning homer proved the clincher as the Yankees scored in the seventh on singles by Roger Maris, Hec Lopez and Phil Linz. The run snapped Don Mossi's scoreless innings streak at 16. The victory was Detroit's 10th in 18 games and left the Yankees at 6-11.

Other outstanding one-man shows were put on by Minnesota pitcher Jack Kralick, who checked Baltimore 2-0 on six hits in a nine-inning performance at Orlando, and Tommy Davis, who drove in five runs as the Los Angeles Dodgers whacked Pittsburg 19-6 at Fort Myers.

Elsewhere, the Los Angeles Angels bopped San Francisco 4-2 at Phoenix, Philadelphia clubbed St. Louis 16-8 at Clearwater, Kansas City edged Washington 7-6 at Daytona Beach, the Chicago White Sox edged the New York Mets 2-1 at St. Petersburg, Cleveland defeated Boston 5-3 at Tucson, Houston downed the Chicago Cubs 6-4 at Mesa and Milwaukee whipped Cincinnati 7-5 at West Palm Beach.

Kralick allowed only one Oriole baserunner to reach third, striking out five and walking one in a strong performance. Vic Power collected three hits, one a first inning homer off Robin Roberts that gave the Twins all they needed.

Davis belted two doubles and a triple and got support from homer hitters Bill Skowron and rookie Dick Nen while Dodger left-hander Sandy Koufax struck out six Pirates in seven innings. That gave him 27 in 22 innings this spring.

Two Are Fined

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) —Manager Casey Stengel of the New York Mets and infielder Ron Hunt have been fined $25 each for a run - in with two American League umpires in an exhibition game against Kansas City 11 days ago.

Turley On Mound

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP)—The Los Angeles Angels sent Bob Turley, ex-Yankee, against the Boston Red Sox today, and his showing may decide whether he sticks with the club.

Houston Is Host

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The University of Houston will be host for the first annual outdoor track and field championships of the U.S. Track and Field Federation, June 7-8, the USTFF has announced.

Hecht Thinks Film's Great

Harold Hecht, the Academy Award winning producer of "Taras Bulba," believes he is certain to rival—if not surpass himself—with this production.

Some of Hecht's previous successes include: "The Devil's Disciple," "Run Silent, Run Deep," "Trapeze," "Marty" (for which he won his "Oscar"), "Vera Cruz" and "The Kentuckian."

After pursuing a theatrical career as a dancer, dance director, actor and agent, Hecht began his producing career after four years of service in the Army when he founded his own agency and won Burt Lancaster as a client by promising the actor that they would be producing their own films within five years. It only took one and a half. In 1959 Hecht became a fully independent producer. His most recent films are "Separate Tables," "The Young Savages" and "Birdman of Alcatraz."

DEAR ABBY

One Mistake Is Enough

DEAR ABBY? I am 29 years old and have been married ten years. About a year ago I started seeing a young girl who lives in a small town near here. She is in trouble now and it's my fault. My wife and I have one eight-year-old son and we were told my wife can't have any more children. I told her I knew of a girl in trouble who wanted to give her baby up and asked my wife how she would like a new-born baby. She was thrilled. I called the girl and told her I'd pay all her expenses if she'd let me have the baby. The girl agreed, but said she would have to leave town pretty soon to await her baby. I'm afraid if I let the girl come here for her confinement my wife will find out the whole story. But then, if the girl goes somewhere else, she might be talked out of giving us the baby. Can you advise me in a hurry please?

NO NAME

DEAR NO NAME: Pay for the baby and help its mother adopt it out, if that is her wish. But leave your wife and family out of it. One such mistake is enough in one lifetime.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: What should a girl do when a boy she dates makes a date to pick her up at 7:30 and he doesn't show up until around 8:30? My mother says I should keep him waiting for me just as long as I had to wait for him. I don't want to get him mad at me because I really like him. Do you have a better solution?

KEPT WAITING

DEAR KEPT: Chronic lateness is nothing more than proof in living color (usually blush pink) that the late one is disorganized. Don't fight fire with fire unless you want to sacrifice the relationship. Let the boy know you are hurt, and ask him to try to be more prompt.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: About the "worried mother" who was concerned because her 16-year-old son kept peeping across into the neighbor's window where two teen-aged girls have their bedroom: I agree with the father. It's only natural for a normal 16-year-old boy to look. What boy his age wouldn't like the chance? Instead of the mother peeing on her son, to see if he's still peeping on the girls, she should tell the girls' mother to put a shade up and see to it that the girls pull the shade down. Then the audience will know the show is over.

Social Security Officer Visits Listed For Area

Ervin Fisher, manager of the Big Spring District Social Security office, has posted a schedule of the dates his office representatives are to be in the several towns served by the local agency.

The new schedule is effective April 1 through June 30.

A representative of the office will be in Colorado City at the chamber of commerce office each Tuesday from 10 a.m. to noon. The dates are April 2, 9, 16, 23; May 7 and 21; June 4 and 18.

All officials will be in Lamesa Wednesdays from 10 a.m. to noon on April 3, 10, 17, 24; May 1, 8, 15, 22, 29 and June 5, 12, 19 and 26. The place is the post office basement.

The dates for Snyder are Thursday, 10 a.m. to noon, April 4, 11, 18, 25, May 2, 9, 16, 23 and June 6, 13, 20 and 27. The place is second floor of the courthouse.

Stanton dates are Monday 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. April 29 May 27 and June 24.

In Loraine, a representative of the office will be on hand when special appointment is made for such interviews. These special sessions are in the Lions Club building.

Fisher pointed out that anyone having business with the Social Security Service on dates other than those slated can be served by coming to the office at 700 Runnels. The phone in Big Spring is AM 4-5226. He also called attention that the office will not have a representative in Snyder Thursday, May 30 due to the date being Memorial Day.

Farm-Labor Day Set Thursday

Thursday is Farm Labor Day in Howard, Martin and Glasscock counties. Leon M. Kinney, manager of the Texas Employment Commission, states the purpose is to get farm workers who are looking for jobs, and farmers who are looking for workers together to discuss jobs.

Kinney said planting time is not far off and he is expecting a heavy demand for tractor drivers, irrigators, and general farm hands. Experienced farm workers looking for a regular year round job are urged to come to the Texas Employment Commission Office, 406 Runnels, Thursday between 1-3 p.m. There will be farmers from Big Spring, Stanton, Garden City and St. Lawrence areas on hand.

Are We Safe From JFK Censors? Here's Evidence

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie - TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Clyde Mack, the cynical flack, dropped by my desk again.

"It's later than you think," said the unemployed press agent.

"Do you take 50-mile hikes? Do you fall in swimming pools fully clothed? Do you play touch football?"

"No, no and no," I replied grudgingly.

"Then what right has a new frontiersman to review movies?"

"You don't mean Peter—"

"No, no—Arthur Schlesinger Jr., the Harvard man who does something or other at the White House. When he's not doing whatever it is he's supposed to do, he writes movie reviews for Show magazine."

"It's a free country," I remarked.

"That's what the Indians thought, and look what happened to them. You chaps had better do something about it or you'll find Orville Freeman reviewing movies for Country Life, Robert Kennedy for Parents magazine, Teddy for 'Teen, Caroline for Jack and Jill—"

"That's pretty ridiculous."

"Okay, scoff. But you'd better start worrying. And Hollywood had better, too."

"Why is that?"

"Because if Schlesinger is speaking for the administration on movies, Hollywood is in trouble. According to his reviews, anything made within a 25-mile radius of Hollywood and Vine Street is for the birds. Almost anything made in a foreign land, including the eastern part of the United States, gets a boost.

"'The Connection,' which introduced a new first to the cinema—four-letter swear words, Schlesinger says despite its 'jejune, antibourgeois nihilism,' it is a remarkable film—'It is also a very American film: drug addiction is apparently a particularly American vice.'

"Then there is 'The Given Word' from Brazil—it has 'pictorial and emotional force which overwhelms its traces of artifice.' 'Dr. No,' from Britain, gets the nod as 'a smart and glossy thriller.'

"But he saves his best adjectives for 'Lolita,' which he calls 'brilliant,' 'sinister,' 'wildly funny,' 'wildly poignant,' 'willful,' 'cynical,' 'repellant,' 'beautiful' and 'depraved,' all in one paragraph.

"And how does the Hollywood product stack up in his estimation? 'Music Man' is 'too much a filmed play.' As for 'What Ever Happened to Baby Jane,' he dismisses it as a 'revolting little item'—'unpleasant on so many levels as to defy inventory.' He even admits to critic's cowardice: he walked out after an hour."

Mack laughed rather fiendishly.

"What is it now?" I asked.

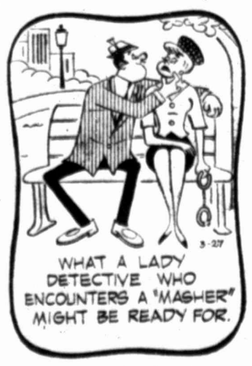

"I was just wondering how Schlesinger is going to review a new movie made in large part in nearby Burbank. The one titled 'PT 109.'"
