ROADS ARE GOOD TOWARD FORT WORTH.

Those who have occasion to correspond with friends or relatives or with prospective vacationists who will come via Fort Worth, can advise them that the roads from Junction up that way are in exceptionally good condition.

By this it is not meant that the road by Mason, Brady, Brownwood, Comanche, Dublin, Stephenville and Grandbury is a pike that can be negotiated at a rate of 40 miles or more per hour, but with the exception of a few rough places, good time can be made and the drive from Fort Worth to Junction can easily be made in a day.

The road to Mason is better than we have ever seen it and between Mason and Brady is a fine gravelled and graded highway with exception of about 5 miles in the San Saba River valley.

The contract for the work was let several weeks ago and crews are on the job now, and within a few weeks this gap will be filled, and the road between these points will be as good as the one between Junction and Kerrville. Four or five miles out of Brady there are a few rough places caused by the recent rains, but with this exception, the road to Brownwood via Rochelle is good.

From Brownwood on the road is graded practically all the way into Fort Worth, and gravelled most of the way. We have traveled this road at frequent intervals for eight or ten years and it is in better condition now than at any time since we first drove over it.

We drove from Junction to Dublin in about ten hours in a rattling Ford and returned in about the same time. Eighteen miles per hour isn't bad for a ten hours' run in a Ford that apparently is about to fall to pieces at every rough place in the road.

HOUSTON BUSINESS MAN LIKES HILL COUNTRY.

The following letter from E. A. Peden, one of the prominent business men of the State, is reprinted from the Center Point News of last week. Through the efforts of Emil A. Loeffler of the Junction Hardware Co., Mr. Peden was induced to make a visit to Junction last summer and this editor accompanied him to Seven Hundred Springs. He was agreeably surprised at the wonderful country he found here and no doubt will be responsible for sending many of his friends this way, and will doubtless make other visits here himself.—Editor's Note.

Dear Sirs:

Permit me, please, to thank you for the copy of "Grinstead's Graphic," devoted chiefly to the Kerrville country, surrounding Center Point, Kerrville and Junction.

Last summer I had the pleasure of an automobile trip from Kerrville to Junction. My wife and daughter were with me, and all of us fell in love with the country. We found the air, as well as the scenery, most delightful, and we are going to repeat the trip every time we can find an opportunity.

Hoping that your company will enjoy an unusually successful, prosperous year, and trusting that you will make it a point to come and see us whenever in San Antonio or Houston, I beg to remain,

JUNCTION TO HAVE BARBECUE NEXT MONTH.

At a meeting of the Directors of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night at the Junction State Bank, it was decided that the Chamber of Commerce would arrange for a big free barbecue. The date set for July 10th and 11th.

A committee composed of W. P. Riley, Walter Buck, C. T. Holekamp and F. E. Garrett, was appointed to make the necessary arrangements and have full charge of the event. The gentlemen will work out definite arrangements for publication next week.

The matter of employing a secretary, for at least a part of the year, who would devote his entire time to the work of the Chamber of Commerce, was discussed and a preliminary membership assessment made up. George Braley, Alton Miller and H. G. Perry were appointed on a committee to present this assessment list to the business interests of the town and to solicit memberships among individuals as well. The members of this committee began work yesterday morning and will make a report to the Directors at a meeting next Monday night. If sufficient funds can be secured to pay an efficient secretary, and have funds left for promotional and improvement work, it is more than probable that at the meeting Monday night, steps will be taken to secure a secretary at once.

Plans for advertising the town and encouraging support of the Chamber of Commerce were discussed, and more about the plans of the Directors will be given out for publication at an early date.

With the proper co-operation of the business and professional men and all other citizens of the community, the Chamber of Commerce, working through its Directors, can accomplish much that will be of lasting benefit to the town and the community.

STATE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE MET. MONDAY.

The State Executive Committee, of which Frank C. Davis of San Antonio is chairman, and Joe Hale of Waco, is Secretary, met at Dallas Monday to arrange the names of State candidates who will be certified to the County chairmen to appear on all ballots used in the Democratic primary in July.

The pledge, "I am a white Democrat and pledge myself to support the nominee of this primary," was offered by Ex-Senator Carlock, but was not accepted by the committee. A resolution was adopted that in the future only candidates who had supported the nominees of the party would be placed on the ticket. This was brought about by the efforts of some committeemen to prevent the name of Barry Miller of Dallas, candidate for Lieutenant Governor, from appearing on the ticket, as Miller has supported Peddy in the last general election.

The name of James E. Ferguson was not allowed to be placed on the ticket as a candidate for Governor; however, the name of his wife, Mrs. Marion A. Ferguson, was accepted along with other gubernatorial candidates. The name of E. W. Cole, candidate for Congressman at Large, who claims to have been elected to this office two years ago, was not accepted by the committee.

The committee unanimously voted to hold the next Democratic convention at Austin. This convention will be held the second Tuesday in September.

"An exchange says that a woman, whose husband was in the habit of getting tipsy at night, decided to frighten him as a cure. The other night she arrayed herself in frightful attire, and as her boozey husband entered the door she muttered in a dry, sepulchral tone: 'Come with me; I am the devil.' 'Zat so?' said the husband, 'shake! I am your brother-in-law, I married your sister.'"

POSTAGE STAMPS OF NEW DESIGN DISTRIBUTED.

Some months ago a new design for postage stamps, a profile of the late President Harding, were distributed and have been in use since then, along with the old design of the Washington profile in white on a red background.

Another design has been drawn and the stamps are being distributed, but so far a supply has not reached the local office, but a supply is likely to be received at any time, so the information below will be of interest:

These stamps issued in commemoration of the three hundredth anniversary of the settling in New Netherlands, now the state of New York. Students of history whether young or old, should get the "Real History of the United States in Romance" and read about this interesting period—about old Peter Stuyvesant, and other old timers. It is worth while. The stamps are issued in denominations of 1 cent, 2 cent and 5 cent. They are rectangular in shape, almost one and one-half inches in length and barely short of one inch in width. The one-cent stamp is printed in green, has for its central design a view of the ship, New Netherlands, upon which the Dutch Walloons, sailed from Amsterdam, to make their home in the western wilderness. The 2 cent stamp printed in red, represents the landing of the Walloons at Albany, New York, and the 5 cent represents a marker located at Mayport, Florida, and showing the landing place of one colony of the Walloons. The issue is temporary, in limited quantities and is for the purpose, as stated, of commemorating the settlement of New York, or what is now New York, by the Dutch in 1624.

Miss Tyler Wilkinson returned last week-end from Fort Worth where she has been a student at T. C. U. Miss Wilkinson is a senior at the University.

ORIGINAL O. S. T. ROUTE S. A. TO EL PASO IS BEST.

Occasional complaints have been made to the Highway Department of the San Antonio Chamber of Commerce, regarding the road west of Junction, and this department has been kind enough to pass their information on to us here.

The Highway Department, under W. H. Furlong, has been very kindly disposed toward Junction, and the road from San Antonio to El Paso, which passes this way, but they depend to a large extent on information furnished them by parties living along the routes, or by parties traveling over the roads, the information which they and route travelers according to have at hand.

One of these complaints recently came to Emil A. Loeffler of the Junction Hardware Co., who has for a long time, furnished the San Antonio Chamber of Commerce with information at frequent intervals, as to the condition of the roads out this way. The information conveyed here seemed to indicate that the route over another Old Spanish Trail marking, going by way of Del Rio, was much better than the route from San Antonio to El Paso via Junction.

Mr. Loeffler has just returned from a trip to Ft. Davis and Alpine and on his return, came the lower route in order to get first hand information.

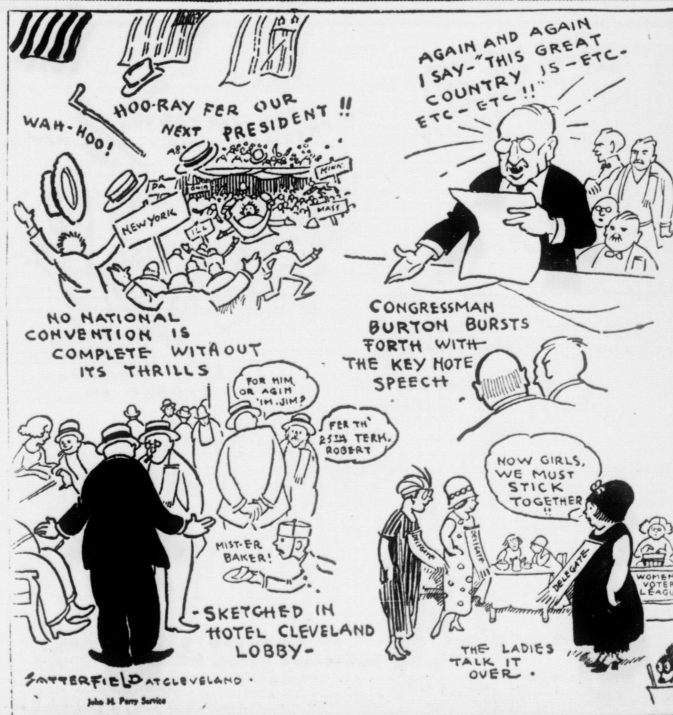

On the way to Ft. Davis he drove over the road via Sonora, Sheffield and Ft. Stockton. He was thus able to compare the two routes from personal observation.

The O. S. T. Association has marked the route via Del Rio, with the same road signs that are found along the original route through Junction, and this lower route is known simply as the O. S. T. with nothing to indicate that it is a tourist loop, or a secondary marked route as has been represented to the people along the original O. S. T. by the Association officials.

Mr. Loeffler states that the road to Del Rio is good and there is some good road for a distance beyond this city, but that with a few exceptions, the route, after crossing the Pecos River, is a mere trail and in many places is exceptionally rough even in dry weather. While the road west through Sonora, Sheffield and Ft. Stockton is not a graded highway, a great deal of work has been done on this section of the O. S. T. and by actual comparison, the original O. S. T. from Junction west is a much better road than the one from Del Rio west.

Mr. Loeffler stopped for a short time at the little town of Langtry, made famous as the home of Judge Roy Bean, "The Law West of the Pecos." The old Roy Bean saloon is still standing and still bears the name of this widely known justice of the peace, who pronounced all kinds of sentences from fining a dead man for being found dead with a pistol on, to giving a life term in the penitentiary.

The tourists are coming in by the hundreds row. It's up to every one to make them welcome and see that their needs are supplied. The Junction country appeals to the tired city man, as probably no other country in the southwest, and by providing proper accommodations for our visitors, we will have more and more each year, and the revenues to come from this class is an important source of income to the people of this country.

BOY EVANGELIST OF MILES SCORES BIG HIT.

(Fort Worth Star-Telegram.) After a 36-day tour of Southern states ending in Ft. Worth, James N. Tidwell, 13, evangelist, will return to his home in Miles, Friday. He has been accompanied by Rev. Scott W. Hickey, pastor of the Baptist Church at Miles.

"I had a 30 days' vacation and stretched it a few days because the boy proved so interesting wherever he went," said Rev. Mr. Hickey, who until 4 years ago was pastor at the Riverside Baptist Church here.

Young Tidwell in the last 36 days has made 24 talks. He and Rev. Hickey drove from their home, 1,600 miles to Atlanta, where they attended the Southern Baptist convention. The boy evangelist spoke from the platform at the gathering and is probably the only youth to have ever preached at a similar meeting.

"He came by preaching as all Baptists," said Rev. Mr. Hickey, speaking for the boy, who outside of the pulpit is a quiet, nontalkative youngster. "About 18 months ago we asked for volunteers to pray and he answered," continued Rev. Mr. Hickey. "He kept it up and did so well that shortly we invited him to the pulpit and he began preaching."

"Since commencing his work, James has preached more than 200 times and spoken in eight states."

The boy evangelist spoke Wednesday night at the College Avenue Baptist Church.

"Do you intend to keep on preaching when you grow up?" he was asked.

"Yes sir," he answered in a mild voice one would hardly associate with an exhorter.

"He wants to be an evangelist," explained Rev. Mr. Hickey.

Young Tidwell has had good grounding in his life's work. He is number 19 in a family of 21 children and began reading the Bible so early, that at the age of six, he had read it from cover to cover. In fact, he is an omnivorous reader. But in spite of all that, he is apparently "all boy."

As part proof of the statement he's "all boy," Tidwell admits that he likes the funny pages of the Star-Telegram better than any other part of the paper; he likes to swim, play baseball, hunt, fish and ride.

Tidwell keeps well posted on current events by reading the newspapers.

'LONESOME SOLDIER' PRESENTS ANALYSIS OF LIFE

(Dallas News.)

Signing his communication "Just a Lonesome Soldier," Sergeant G. H. Gibson, Battery F, Thirtieth Infantry, stationed at Schofield Barracks, Honolulu, Hawaii, has written The News requesting publication of a poem in which the soldier presents his analysis of "life" in its many and varied aspects, heading his contribution with the titular query: "What is Life to You?"

To the preacher life's a sermon,
To the joker it's a jest,
To the miser life is money,
To the loafer life is rest,
To the lawyer life's a trial,
To the poet life's a song,
To the doctor life's a patient
That needs treatment right along
To the soldier life's a battle,
To the teacher life's a school,
Life's a good thing to a grafter;
It's a failure to the fool.
To the man upon the engine
Life's a long and heavy grade.
It's a gamble to the gambler;
To the merchant life is trade.
Life's a picture to the artist;
To the rascal life's a fraud.
Life perhaps is but a burden
To the man beneath the hod.
Life is lovely to the lover,
To the player life's a play.
Life may be a load of trouble
To the man upon the drey.

Life is but a long vacation
To the man who loves his work;
Life's an everlasting effort
To shun duty to the shirk.
To the earnest Christian worker
Life's a story ever new.
Life is what we try to make it,
Erother, what is life to you?

We want to buy a few hundred feet of second hand lumber, or would buy small boxed house if priced cheap. See H. G. Perry.

NOT MUCH TO KICK ABOUT.

As a small property owner laid his payment down at the window he made some sarcastic remark about being fined $54.00 a year for living.

"Look here," said the tax collector, "I've heard that before. I want to tell you something. You are getting off light if you only knew it. There was a time when a man went to bed at night wondering how he would live in the morning or have a house over him. People who could so lived in fortified castles surrounded by big ditches full of water to keep off the plunderers. And even that did not always get them by. A man never knew when a gang was going to swoop down upon him and take his life and property."

"And they used to have plagues, too, and all sorts of deadly diseases that swept the whole country and took people off like flies in a frost. This was because of bad water, no sewers and bum sanitation."

"Now we are living under protection. You have all of the law back of you. If anybody should try to take your home away from you or disturb you in any way the whole police force, if necessary, would go out there. If they could not do the business, the State militia would come out, and if the State militia couldn't clean things up, the United States government would send the regulars down."

"You are hooked out onto an A-1 sewer system. You are protected from diseases by a bang-up sanitary service. You have the purest water in the world piped right into your home. If your house should catch on fire there would be a gang of fire-fighters at your door in five minutes with the best fire-fighting machinery that is made. Your children get a fine education in the public schools."

"For all of this you are pay-$54.00 a year—$4.50 a month. What are you kicking about anyway?"

The man on the outside of the window grinned. "You win," he said, "give me a receipt and let me get away from here."—Exchange.

NEWSPAPER CRITICISM

Criticizing the home newspaper is the favorite pastime of a large majority of people.

Like public officials, what it says and what it does are constantly before the public, and its errors are easily detected.

An individual may go through life making one mistake after another, and few will know it; but let your newspaper err in even a small detail, and the critics have a choice morsel to chew. Newspapers, though mechanical, are human, because they are conceived by human mind and put together by human hands.

They are liable to err as any man or woman and their opportunities for making mistakes may be found in every line—in every word.

A wrong street address, incorrect spelling of names, little inaccuracies may creep into the newspaper's columns, no matter how earnestly the editor and his assistants may strive to be accurate.

All your home newspaper asks is that you be charitable. Make a few allowances for the difficulties that beset the newspaper publisher, and remember always, that nothing hurts a newspaper editor quite so much as to see his mistakes in print.

He has no chance to cover them up. The printed word can't be erased. Don't forget that newspapers are made by human minds and human hands and to err is human.—Argus.

Comfort business men have organized for a rather unusual purpose, namely, the fighting of thistles. The particular kind of thistle which has made its appearance is said to be a serious pest. Southwest Texas has plenty of weeds, but few of them ever assume pestiferous proportions. We have, for example, nothing like the Canadian thistle, wild lettuce or tumble weed which Northern farmers have to fight. But when a weed appears that threatens to choke all other vegetation, it is a good thing to note that business men, like those of Comfort, join with the country in the fight.—San Antonio Express.

Have 3 or 4 good Jersey cows and one mare and colt for sale or to exchange for sheep or goats.

Phone Mrs. Guy E. Wynne.

TRAGEDY OF WASTED LIFE

"There is no tragedy like a wasted life. I pity the man with all my soul, who, when ready to step into his grave is forced to look upon a wasted life forced to look back upon a black forbidding career, a selfish, grasping, greedy life; a life which has always been devoted to his own interests, which has not taken others into consideration. Such a man has never known the joys of real living, the satisfaction that comes from unselfish service and consideration of others. Happiness must be shared."—Selected.

Gained Ten Pounds

Mrs. George S. Hunter, of Columbus, Ga., says she suffered severely with female troubles.

"I had to go to bed and stay sometimes two weeks at a time," says Mrs. Hunter. "I could not work. My... were irregular and I got very thin. I went from 126 pounds down to less than 100. My mother had been a user of and she knew what a good medicine it was for this trouble, so she told me to get some and take it. I sent to the store after it and before I had taken the first bottle up I began to improve. My side hurt less and I began to mend in health. I took four bottles in all during the last ten months. Cardui acted as a fine tonic... I am well now. I have gained ten pounds and am still gaining. My sides do not trouble me at all and my... are quite regular. I know that Cardui will help suffering from the same trouble."

CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

Take Cardui.

of our pants pocket we have the privilege of paying it out of our vest pocket. We are in favor of good roads. But we want durable roads WORTH THE COST. We should keep in mind that:

"Hordes of autos now remind us
We should build roads to stay.
And departing leave behind us
Roads that rain won't wash away.

When our children pay the mort gage
Father made to haul their loads,
They'll not have to ask the question:

"Here's the bonds, but where's
the roads?"

—Facts and Fiction.

To The Voters of Precinct No. 1:
After having been strongly solicited to offer as a candidate for Commissioner of this precinct, I have decided to make the race. The duties of this office are very important ones
and if after due consideration, you feel I am qualified, I will appreciate your vote and influence.

DANGEROUS PRECEDENT AVOIDED

(Farm and Ranch.)
Friends of Governor Neff
should commend him for refusing to accept, at the hands of his own board of regents, the presidency of the University of Texas. Sam P. Cochran of Dallas, and Frank C. Jones of Houston, should be congratulated for resigning from the board after the majority of members had given favorable consideration to the governor's name.

The qualifications of Governor Neff for the position are not an issue. There is no legal bar to the election of a governor to any other State institution, but such elections set a bad precedent and are wrong in principle.
Friends of Governor Neff as well as enemies are glad he was not tempted by the offer. Had he accepted, the way would have been opened for succeeding governors to pack boards of regents and boards of directors in order to provide a soft place to fall into at the expiration of their terms of office. It is much better for the cause of education in Texas that Governor Neff, no matter what his reason, saw fit to courteously decline to be tempted.

Robert E. Vinson resigned from the presidency of the University of Texas more than a year ago. The board of regents have met on several occasions, but insofar as the public has been advised, no earnest effort was made at any of the earlier meetings to fill the vacancy. It was generally understood, and rumor published in several of the State dailies, that the position was to be held open until Governor Neff made up his mind whether or not he wanted to run for United States Senator, for Vice-President or would be satisfied with a nice dignified position as the head of the University of Texas. Persistent rumors of this kind failed to bring a denial from Governor Neff or any member of his hand-picked board of regents, therefore the people were justified in their suspicions whether or not the governor ever entertained
a thought of saving a nice, ripe, juicy plum for himself if he failed in reaching the heights of his political ambitions. Perhaps Governor Neff's refusal to accept the presidency of the University will have a favorable reaction on those who formerly accused him of planning for the future at public expense. At any rate, the governor has correctly sounded public opinion and most courteously declined to accept the proffered honor.

TEMPTING

Summer months are tempting months. Inclinations are to throw dull care to the winds and bask in the sunshine of rest and recreation.
But when chill winds blow—then is realized the wisdom of consistent saving regardless of seasons.

Summer months should be the big saving months of the year. Expenses are then reduced to the minimum and your saving account should show a healthy growth.

If You Have no Saving Account this Institution Will be Glad to Explain

Mike Johnson, wife and daughter, Ruth, of Brownwood, are here this week camping at Cedar Crossing. He is one of Junction's good boosters and his many friends here are glad to have him bring his family here for an outing.

J. B. Brooks and family were camping on the river last week. Mr. Brooks is assistant General Freight Agent of the S. A. & A. P. Ry., stationed at San Antonio. The S. A. & A. P. Ry. B. B. He is planning to fight them, but thinks there will be little damage from them this year.

We're All Thankful--

DURING THE Past few days providence has smiled on Kimble County and conditions are as nearly ideal as could be asked for.

THOSE WHO Took note of our advertising in the spring and prepared to raise more feed, now have a fine prospect for plenty of winter feed. And they will need it, too, and in case they have more than they need, can sell at a good price for conditions are such that those who have livestock will be able to buy some feed to keep the stock in good flesh during the winter.

RANGE IS Fine now, and all livestock in good shape, but we always need more or less feed in winter. It's not too late to plant some quick maturing forage.

AFTER BIG PARK IN JEFF DAVIS COUNTY.

Congressman Claude Hudspeth of the 16th Texas District has recently introduced a bill in Congress calling for the purchase of 5,000 acres in Jeff Davis County to be set aside as a national park. The resolution calls for an appropriation of $100,000 and is as follows:

"Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of America in Congress assembled, That the Secretary of the Interior be, and he is hereby, authorized and directed for and on behalf of the United States, to purchase at least five thousand acres of land in Jeff Davis County, Texas, and the same shall be, and is hereby, declared to be a national park and dedicated as a public park for the benefit and enjoyment of the people of the United States.

"Sec. 2. That the administration, protection and promotion of said national park shall be exercised, under the direction of the Secretary of the Interior, by the National Park Service, subject to the provisions of the Act of August 25, 1916, entitled 'An Act to establish a National Park Service, and for other purposes,' and Acts additional thereto or amendatory thereof.

"Sec. 3. That the Secretary of the Interior is hereby authorized, in his discretion, to accept, on behalf of the United States, such other land and property adjacent to said park site, including lands, easements, buildings and moneys, as may be donated for the extension or improvement of said park.

"Sec. 4. That the sum of One Hundred Thousand Dollars is hereby authorized to be appropriated out of any moneys in the Treasury of the United States, not otherwise appropriated, for the purchase of said land and for other purposes incidental to the creation of said park."—San Angelo Standard.

FOR BUSINESS GOVERNOR.

(Edwards County Leader.)
The report says the Ku Klux Klan dominated the Democratic State convention at Waco last week, and that according to some who attended, the prospects that the candidate endorsed by the klan has the best chance to be elected governor. Regardless of klan, we still personally believe we need a business man in the governor's office; a man who has proven his ability as a business man, so we are still for Lynch Davidson. We don't think there ever was a time when we needed a real business man at the head of things down at Austin more than we do right now.

We have not objected to the klan, especially as we know but little about it, but we have failed to see wherein such an organization was needed in this country. We might change our mind as to this if we knew more about it. We don't know of any Rocksprings klansmen. In spite of considerable reported internal dissension and all of the vigorous opposition to it, it seems the klan has continued to grow until it has become a political force to reckon with in this country. And as it grows probably a good many good, law-abiding citizens are joining, and these will hold the more radical in check, and we doubt if the country has much to dread from the klan. It might even become a force for good if it is not already so—if it were to declare war on graft, and political extravagance, and incompetency and high taxes and for law enforcement it would be a great and useful organization.

THE CALIFORNIA MISSIONS

Scattered up and down the coast of California—each one day's journey on horseback apart from the next—are a chain of twenty-one great Spanish missions, which stand as a monument everlasting to the credit of the Franciscan Fathers.

Connected by a historic trail known as "El Camino Real" (The King's Highway), approximately 700 miles in length—extending from San Diego northward to Sonoma, these romantic and picturesque buildings—Moorish in architecture—might well be classed as "The American counterpart of the things that people go to the old countries of Europe to see."

These famous missions are a relic of a romantic and yet fearless endeavor, carried on by the Franciscan missionaries, at the command of the king of Spain to establish through a series of religious outposts a knowledge of Christianity in her farthermost possession. The movement took definite form when the Mission San Diego was founded in the year 1769, but the chain was not completed until 54 years later when the Mission San Francisco de Solano at Sonoma was established.

How many additional missions might have been added to this chain and how much farther up the coast it would have been extended, nobody knows, because before the advent of 1824 the system was disrupted and further construction stopped by the government of Mexico. However, this labor of love then had to its credit the civilizing and the Christianizing of a race of savage Indians.

Some of these missions now lie in ruins or have passed entirely into oblivion. Others, in a splendid state of preservation, are still used for regular service. The San Jose, fifty miles south of San Francisco, although not to be compared in size or cost to some others, has been accorded marked attention. It once owned more than 25,000 head of live stock. The San Antonio de Padua, east of San Luis Obispo, was compensated for its lack of riches by a tinge of romance such as few, if indeed any of the others, possessed. San Gabriel, four miles from Pasadena, much visited, has been described as "a picture to remember for a lifetime." San Buenaventura, north of Los Angeles, a "glorious relic recalled from the past to bless with its memories the present and the future," had perhaps the most beautiful altar of all, while San Luis Ray de Francia, near Oceanside, with walls four and five feet thick, its corridor containing 250 arches, was perhaps the greatest, richest and grandest of them all.

Argentina recently put on its statutes the very law many of us have long wanted to see functioning in the realm of Uncle Sam. The Argentina law grants to every person who works for a period of 25 years a pension sufficient to meet the person's needs during the remainder of his or her life. Here was some real constructive legislation. Here was "progressive" in full flower and the "reactionaries" steam-rolled to a fare-you-well. Twenty-five years is as long a period as man ought to work; we are inclined to the opinion that his work ought to stop and his pension begin after he has labored fifteen years; but a liberal pension and no work after 25 years of toil will do fairly well as a starter. It was a great piece of legislation. There was only one weak point in the law, but unfortunately that one weak place has already ruined the law. In granting the pensions to all the workers Argentina failed to find an easy way to get the money. When the law was put into operation our South American neighbor, in order to get the money to pay the pensions, undertook to lay a new tax upon the people. The people said, "Oh, hades! that wasn't what we wanted; we wanted lower taxes, with liberal pensions for all." The people came near mobbing the tax gatherers, and the law has been declared non-enforceable. It's a fine scheme, though low taxes and pensions for all. All that is needed is a workable plan to carry it out.—Honey Grove Signal.

THE STATE DEMANDS OF FARM-LABOR.

The Farm-Labor Party of Texas is asking for elimination of the ad valorem tax, exemption from taxation of city and rural homestead improvements and State loans for building city and farm homes. These are the most disputed planks in the organization's platform.

The Farm-Labor party has indorsed T. W. Davidson for governor and Barry Miller for lieutenant governor.

Under this platform, if it becomes a law, a man owning a $50,000 or a $1,000,000 home
would escape taxation.

A State income tax, one of the Farm-Labor demands, opponents say, would hurt the poor more than the rich, pointing out that there then would be both federal and state income tax, while the wealthy man, usually one who has something to sell, would merely raise prices to cover taxes, or else invest in tax-exempt securities.

Opponents declare that should the State go into the loan business that it will require such a large force of employes that taxes would have to be increased to meet the expense.

law at the University of Texas.

In addition, he read law in the office of Woodward & Baker and secured his license to practice in February, 1903. He was immediately made a member of the firm, the style thereof being changed to Woodward, Baker & Woodward, and continued his partnership therein until 1906, when he was elected county attorney of Coleman County, holding that office two terms. In 1911, he was made an Assistant Attorney General during the administration of Jewell P.
Lightfoot. Thereafter he returned to Coleman, Texas, in 1912 and formed a partnership for the practice of law, with E.
M. Critz, under the firm name of Critz & Woodward, which partnership is still in existence.

Mr. Woodward is the son of District Judge J. O. Woodward, of Coleman, Texas, one of the most distinguished judges in the State, a life long Democrat, who has rendered distinguished service in the Democratic councils of this State since reaching his majority.

Mr. Woodward has had a bountiful experience in the practice of both civil and criminal cases in this part of Texas. His practice has been for many years very extensive, taking him to many parts of the State and he is now regarded as one of the leading attorneys in this section of Texas.

He is a member of the Masonic Order, including the Blue Lodge; Royal Arch Chapter at Coleman; Commandery at Brownwood; Scottish Rite Consistory at Dallas; a member of the Shrine of Hella's Temple at Dallas, and a Knight of Pythias.
Mr. Woodward has been actively identified with these bodies since becoming a member thereof; he is also an active member and a steward of the First Methodist Church of Coleman.

During the late war Mr. Woodward devoted much time in all Governmental enterprises, and throughout the war, he was secretary of the County Council of Defense, Chairman of the American Red Cross Society of Coleman County. He took an active part in selling all issues of Liberty Bonds, War Savings
Stamps and other war activities
and delivered many addresses, working under the direction of the Federal Government, and was an active "Four Minute"
man on public information. Mr.
Woodward has been very active in political circles in this District, having been a member of the State Democratic Committee and has attended as a delegate practically every State Convention since 1906.

He is a young man of marked ability, is well fitted by training experience and disposition to render splendid service, not only to his District, but to the State of Texas at large. Mr. Woodward is not a crank on any subject, but is a broad-minded man, and if elected to the State

Senate, there is no doubt that he will become from the very outset, a leading figure in that honorable body.

PARACHUTE LEAP INTO AIR SAVES AVIATOR.

(San Antonio Express.)
Crashing together in the air
at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, two Kelly Field airplanes and one pilot were dashed 1,300 feet to the earth, mangleing the body of one pilot and burying a Mexican boy in the ground as he chopped cotton.

The other pilot made a sensational parachute jump and escaped.

The dead: Lieut. Stewart L.
Thompson, student pilot; Jose
Maria Ramos, 11.

Lieut. W. W. White, with a parachute pack on his back, stepped off into space at the high altitude, shot down from the twisted mass of wreckage and pulled the rip cord on his parachute.

It opened and he floated over a thousand feet, landing near the wreck on the ground.

Both victims were killed instantly. Spectators pulled the bodies from the debris.

Three ships were flying in formation. They were about two and one-half miles north of Kelly Field. Ship No. 2 and Ship No. 3 in the formation started to change places.

The ships flying at the rate of 100 miles an hour crashed into each other, tearing wings
and struts asunder.

Hanging together, they both began to fall. The leading pilot, seeing the tragedy taking place behind him, was helpless,
but he circled around the falling ships.

Lieutenant White, realizing that death was near unless he escaped, climbed from the fusi-lage. When the air was clear below him, he leaped far out from the ship. His body fell much more rapidly than the tangled ships and when he was clear from the falling wrecks,
he let the parachute go and maneuvered it to keep out of the way.

In but a few moments the hurling mass shot by him toward the ground.

The boy, Ramos, chopping cotton in the field, watched the accident in the air spell bound, until he saw it coming down toward him. He tried to get out of the way, but the falling ships had picked up speed so rapidly that he could not escape.

It struck him and buried him
beneath the wreckage, crushing
the life from him.

Help from all directions rushed out into the cotton field, but too late. Aviators believe that Lieutenant Thomson was knocked unconscious by the collision
in the air.

1,700,000 POUNDS SPRING WOOL CLIP WAS SOLD.

A total of 1,700,000 pounds of the spring wool clip was sold by the Schreiner Wool & Mohair Commission Co. Tuesday at prices considered very satisfactory.

A million pounds of the total represented 12-months wool and brought 45 to 47½ cents per pound. John Allison, representing Adams & Leland of Boston, bought 400,000 pounds of the 12-months wool, and T. T. An-rel, representing Hallowell, Jones & Donald of Boston, was the buyer of the remaining 600,- 000 pounds.

Eight-months wool brought 40 to 42 cents per pound and 200,000 pounds were sold to C.
D. Stokes, representing Winslow & Co. of Boston. Mr. Stokes was high bidder at both sales of eight-months wool.

These prices are considered very satisfactory, although some sales at other points bro't higher prices due to less shrinkage of their wools. Kerrville territory produces the finest wools grown in Texas, hence they carry more grease but shear more per head.—Kerrville

ANNOUNCEMENT PARTY.

On Monday afternoon, June 2nd, Miss Dorothy Hodges complimented Miss Irene Chase with an announcement bridge. On receiving the tallies the guests found the announcement, "Miss Irene Chase and Mr. Ellis M. Brown, June 4th."

Miss Hodges pinned a beautiful corsage of orchid sweet peas on the honoree, after which a number of interesting games of bridge were enjoyed.

The bridal motif was carried out in the tallies, prizes and refreshments.

Miss Fay Taylor received the club prize and Mrs. Coke R. Stevenson the guest prize, and Miss Chase was presented with lovely orchid hand decorated candles. Heart shaped mints were served throughout the afternoon.

After the games, Mrs. Weaver H. Baker very beautifully rendered "Because," then a salad course was served.

MISS RAY HONORED.

Mrs. Edgar Jordan honored Miss Sallie Ray with a linen shower on Tuesday afternoon.

The living and dining rooms were decorated with pink and white hangings and a confusion of Shasta daisies and pink poppies. Mrs. T. M. Hodges presented the honoree with a corsage of pink sweet peas. Masters Jarvis and Louis Jordan presented the pink and white chest of linen. Miss Sallie received many beautiful and useful pieces of linen.

Pink and white ice cream topped with whipped cream, and Angel food cake with pink icing was served to some twenty guests.

Music and laughter prevailed throughout the afternoon.

Henry Land, one of our progressive farmer friend of the Yates community, was in town last Friday with a load of fine cabbage raised on his farm. This is the second lot Mr. Land has sold to Schreiner-Hodges Co. this season and his experience demonstrates that early truck can be successfully grown here.

DALLAS SCHOOL TEACHERS CAMP ON LLANO.

A number of prominent teachers in the Dallas city schools were here for a short vacation last week and camped on the R. H. P. Wright ranch.

The following composed the party: W. H. Adamson, principal Oak Cliff High School; S. E. Gideon, principal Reagan school; W. S. Bellamy, principal Crockett school; G. H. Reagan, principal Bryan Street High; M. Y. Henry, Teacher of English in Oak Cliff High; and Joe L. Harrell, teacher of Manual Training in Reagan High.

These gentlemen thoroughly enjoyed their visit here and caught plenty of fish. They were, as many people who have never visited here before, surprised to find such a delightful vacation place, and it is more than probable that next year will see many more Dallas teachers along the river, the result of the fish stories these men will tell.

Roy Harrell is a nephew of Dr. Wright.

For those men who do not need a suit for summer, we have a fine lot of garbade trousers in stock that will appeal to you. They are priced right and you will find that they are just what you need for summer wear. See what Phillip Joseph has to offer you. 8-1tc

MAYFIELD IS TO HOLD HIS SEAT IN SENATE.

Washington, June 7.—The Senate committee investigating the election contest against Senator Mayfield (Dem), Texas, Saturday upheld his right to a seat in the Senate.

The evidence presented by his Republican opponent, George E. B. Peddy, was held to be insufficient to support charges that excessive campaign funds had been spent in his behalf by the Ku Klux Klan or any other organization or individual in 1922.

The decision was announced after counsel for Peddy, who have been presenting testimony for several weeks, had argued in an executive session of the committee for a continuation of the hearing during the recess of Congress. Senator Mayfield's attorneys had urged action, declaring sufficient evidence already had been produced to enable the committee to decide.

Chairman Spencer, in announcing the view of the committee, explained that the full Elections Committee still must act on the contest and that it would be necessary then to obtain action by the Senate itself.

At the request of counsel for Peddy, the committee agreed to make a further examination before it drafts its report into the charges of intimidation and unfair practices in the election. Briefs will be filed by counsel on those two phases of the case.

LADIES TO SERVE LUNCH.

The Baptist ladies will serve lunch on election day, July 26, on the corner east of Heyman's Drug Store, beginning at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

SAN ANGELO ATTORNEY FOR STATE SENATOR.

In this issue of The Eagle will be found the announcement of J. A. Thomas of San Angelo for the State Senate from the 25th District, subject to the Democratic primary in July. Incidentally, the election of a Senator this year—there are now two in the race—will fill a vacancy that has existed in this District for about a year.

Mr. Thomas was born and reared in Williamson County, Texas, being 50 years old, and twenty years of his life has been devoted to the practice of law. For two terms he was Tom Green County Attorney, retiring then of his own accord. He was elected three times as District Attorney, resigning before the end of the third term to resume his private law practice. He has an excellent record before the bar and as a citizen. He is a life-long Democrat, and has been active in councils of the party. He wishes to assure the voters of Kimble County and this section of the District that all support given him will be appreciated and that he will endeavor to deserve the trust reposed in him if elected.

Mr. Thomas declared that generally speaking, he was for an economical administration of the State government, consistent with good business judgment; for fewer and better laws and for the simplification and improvement of existing statutes in the interest of court procedure and in other respects, and would likely favor the repeal of some existing laws and the enactment of but few additional ones; and to work at all times for the best interests of the State's educational system.

The sixteen counties in this Senatorial District are: Sterling, Irion, Schleicher, Coke, Tom Green, Runnels, Concho, Menard, Coleman, Brown, Mills, Comanche, McCulloch, Mason, Gillespie and Kimble.
