STRIKEBREAKER BEATEN

"Katy Scarcely Feeling Strike," Declares Superintendent Grace

That conditions on the Katy system generally are improving, and that conditions locally are a large per cent better than at any time since the inception of the strike was the assertion made yesterday afternoon by F. W. Grace, superintendent of the M. K. & T., his remarks being contained in the first public statement the local official has made since the strike began July 1.

"In spite of the strike," Mr. Grace said, "the Katy system moved in July more loaded cars than were moved in January, February or April. The July movement of loaded cars was less than one-half of 1 per cent under the average monthly movement in the six months preceding the strike."

The average daily movement of loaded cars in July exceeded the average daily movement for the first seven months in this yar, Mr. Grace continued.

"Improvement in service as the organization of the new forces progresses,' he said, "is indicated by the fact that the movement of loads for several days past has been in excess of the average movement for the month of July. More cars of freight were loaded at stations on the Katy lines in July," he continued in this conection, "than in any previous month this year excepting June, and the June loading exceeded that of July by less than .3 of 1 per cent.

week in July, we now have fewer cars on hand awaiting

"In the face of increased local loading, the last movement than it had a week ago."

Speaking of the shop forces over the system and locally, Mr. Grace said, "the Katy has recruited its forces to 37 per cent of normal since it began to employ men to replace the strikers, and it is daily increasing its rolls. As the organization of these new forces progresses, further improvement in service, both in freight and passenger, may be anticipated by the public.

"The Katy management has gone on record and has said tohat no settlement will be made on the seniority question which will involve the rights of new employes or the rights of those loyal employes who did not go out on the strike."

WALTON LEADS BY BIG MARGIN

Miss Robertson Wins, Herrick Beaten

By Associated Press.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 2.—Slowly accumulating returns from the primary elections in the eighth congressional district of Oklahoma tonight increased the lead of Miss Alice Robertson, republican, of the second Oklahoma district, the only womaan member of congress, and made it appear increasingly probable that Representative Manuel Herrick, self-styled dare devil of the air, poet and at present republican congressman from the eighth Oklahoma district, lost his race for re-nomination.

Other Oklahoma representatives, with the exception of J. E. Chandler, republican of the first district were apparently successful in their campaigns for re-nomination.

Catholics Beat Klan

"Catholic vote defeats the ku klux klan, was the interpretation" of Tuesday's balloting on the democratic side given tonight by the largest democratic newspaper in the state. This publication opposed Walton. "It was a fight between the ku klux klan and other secret orders on one side and the Roman Catholic church and union labor on the other," this newspaper said. "The result was the defeat of the ku klux klan and the triumph of the catholics and the union labor element."

Gets Negro Vote

It is claimed that Walton drew many negroes into the democratic primary. As Oklahoma City mayor he has been a champion of the negroes. He was the only mayor of the city to insist on appointing negroes on the police force. Some months ago he endeavored to have the city commission pass a resolution to give negroes the use of the Carnegie public library in common with the whites.

A substantial birthday gift, together with a large cake and all the trimmings combined to make the affair a decidely pleasant one.

Rev. Christopher has been occupying the church pulpit while the regular pastor is on his vacation.

Blackstone is charged with murder, died from Cardiac failure, superinduced by over-exertion was the coroners' verdict tonight based on an autopsy performed by the county physician. CAPITAL TO CONTROL COAL

Governors Will Also Direct

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—Government plans for distribution of coal during the existing emergency were announced tonight by Fuel Distributor Spencer after conference with Secretary Hoover and the central committee appointed by President Harding. The federal organization in Washington, he said, will cover the distribution of available supplies among the railways, federal institutions and states while the governors of the states will handle local supplies. Pending completion of the federal organization, Mr. Spencer said three intermediate stages will ensue—first the continuation of their normal business by the operators, then priority buyers under the interstate commerce commission service—order number 23 will gradually encroach upon operators business and finally coal orders placed through the federal fuel distributor will absorb the entire output of the mines.

Provision has been made for the establishment of district committees to represent the federal distribution administration in the producing fields with special arrangements for supplying the great lakes section.

District committees set up in the coal fields are to consist of a naval officer representing the federal fuel distributor, a representative of the interstate commerce commission, and representative of the railroads and representatives of the coal operators.

Distribution of coal for the railroads is to be gradually concentrated in the hands of a railway committee, composed of coal buyers from the different railway groups as follows:

B. P. Phillippe of the Pennsylvania railroad and representing the eastern group, chairman; E. A. Clifford of the Santa Fe railroad for the western group; F. H. Feehng of the Atlantic Coast line for the southern group, and W. G. O'Fallon of the Terminal Railroad association of St. Louis for the southwestern group.

Chicago After Municipal Buss and Jitney System

Special to The Record News.

CHICAGO, Aug. 2.—The first of the people's ownership and five cent fare" busses was placed in operation today by Mayor Wm. Hale Thompson as the complete tie-up of the city's electric transportation facilities through a strike of 25,000 street railway and elevated employes continued.

The mayor declared that he had an option on a fleet of auto trucks in New York at fifty cents on the dollar and asked the corporation consul for an opinion as to the legality of the city taking a $30,000,000 traction fund now in its hands to ins..all a municipally-owned bus transportation system similar to those in New York, London and Paris.

The second day of the strike was marked by less congestion than was noted yesterday., approximately 150,000 motor vehicles moving hundreds of thousands of passengers to and from work with apparent ease.

K. C. Office Holders Victors in Elections

By Associated Press.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 2.—The administration forces of the Knights of Columbus won a victory in the elections at the fortieth annual convention of the order today. The elections consumed the greater part of the day, much time being taken up with nominating speeches.

Victory came to the administration when Luke Hart of St. Louis was elected supreme advocate to succeed Jos. Pelliter, the former Boston district attorney, who resigned. He defeated Wm. J. Mulligan of Thomsonville, Connecticut, 165½ to 154.

Huge Loss At Ft. Bliss Found

Captain Arrested As Officers Search for Valuable Property.

By Associated Press.

EL PASO, Texas, Aug. 2.—Department of justice agents here today were attempting to recover more than $100,000 worth of government property alleged to have been taken in the last three months from Fort Bliss without proper authority.

The search followed the arrest Tuesday at the army post of Captain Clifford E. Black of the eighth engineer regime..t, by order of General Robert L. Howze, commander at Fort Bliss.

Army officials refused to reveal the exact nature of the charge against Captain Black. H. K. Gamble, special United States attorney here, said that charges would be filed Thursday in federal court.

Captain Black was in command of a detail which for months had been collecting and assembling surplus army equipment at Fort Bliss. Hundreds of thousands of dollars wo rh of supplies which were to be sold at auction were stored there. Gus Momsen, president of a local hardware firm, told department of justice agents today that he had purchased $2,800 worth of steam radiators from the captain. He said that the captain told him he was authorized by the government to make the sale. Agents seized between $20,000 and $25,000 wortl of equipment alleged to have been taken from the fort to an El Paso warehouse. Thirteen mule drawn wagons and three automobile trucks were needed to tr.. sport the supplies from the warehouse to the post.

Five members of Captain Black's company, Sergeant R. A. Ferguson and Privates J. I. Ferguson, J. Fitch, E. J. Edmonds and E. J. Moore, were held by military police for investigation in connection with the case. They were arrested in Captain Black's automobile Monday.

Tennessee Ready to Flock to Polls

By Associated Press.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 2.—Political leaders are watching the o tcome of tomorrow's primary election with great interest because of the fact that at the November election those nominated tomorrow will have the first test of party strength since Tennessee broke away from the old "solid south" and gave its vote to President Harding.

Chief interest centers on the democratic senatorial and gubernatorial contests. Captain Gus T. Fitzhugh and Noah W. Cooper, "blue law" advocate are opposing Senator Kenneth D. McKellar for the senatorial nomination.

The gubernatorial contest is a four-cornered affair between former Governor Benton McMillan, Austin Peay and General Harvey Hannah and Lee Gwynn. Much interest is manifest in this race because the nominee will oppose Governor Alf A. Taylor, republican for re-election.

Smoot Protests on Federal Reserve

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Interest of 87½ per cent was charged a small Alabama bank by the Atlanta federal reserve bank in 1920, Senator Heflin, democrat, Alabama, declared in the senate today in a speech protesting against reappointment of Governor Harding of the federal reserve board.

Senator Smoot, republican, Utah, said he could not understand how Senator Heflin's statement could be true, or how a bank could pay such an interest rate and survive. Senator Heflin, insisting he had documents to prove his statements, said the Alabama bank barely managed to live, but that its business and customers were destroyed.

STRIKERS O. K. PEACE PLANS

Pledge to Act in Good Fiath

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 2.—Full acceptance of the peace proposals submitted by President Harding was voted tonight by leaders of the striking railway shopmen, who, however, gave their own interpretation of each of the three suggestions.

"We accept reluctantly, it is true, but commit ourselves to carry out the terms of settlement in utmost good faith and in aid of the general welfare," said the message of acceptance, which was sent to President Harding tonight. "If these proposals fail to bring about the results which you desire, the responsibility of failure will not rest upon representatives of the organized employes."

On the proposal to restore unimpaired seniority rights to the strikers, which was rejected by railway executives at a meeting yesterday in New York, the message declared:

"It would certainly be a wholesale injustice of unparalleled extent if hundreds of thousands of experienced men who have given four to forty years service and whose value to the transportation industry is proportioned to the length of their service should be placed in a position of inferiority to a limited number of men who have been employed as substitutes for these experienced railroad workers."

MARTIAL LAW IN COAL FIELDS

Indiana Mines to be Re-Opened

By Associated Press.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 2.—Governor McCray today took the first step in promised efforts to provide coal for Indiana's public institutions and essential inudstries by sending 750 national guardsmen into the coal fields in the southwestern part of the state. The governor prepared for possible interference by issuing a proclamation of matrial law in the district in which it is proposed to mine coal, under protection of the troops.

Governor McCray announced that two strip mines situated near Staunton have been taken over and will be operated by the state.

The district in which martial law was declared by the governor includes approximately eight square miles of territory.

INDIANA TO BE SURE OF SUPPLY

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 2.—The action of Governor McCray in reopening two strip mines in Clay county under the protection of 800 state troops, is but a preliminary step toward the production of coal in sufficient quantities to meet emergency needs in Indiana, unless miners and operators speed up an agreement ending the coal strike, it was learned today.

Statistics in the office of the state mine inspector indicate that the two mines taken over have been recorded as producing a total of 18,000 tons of coal a month.

Mainly About People

Obeying the rules—
Hoover's Iron Hand—
How Will They Pay?—
Collecting—

WESTERN KENTUCKY IS A heavy producer of soft coal. These western Kentucky mines are operated by non-union labor. Their owners never permit their employes to organize nor do they recognize the right of labor to collective bargaining. This makes it easy for the mine superintendent or boss. He pays what he pleases. He bosses as he pleases. He is the all wise cr the all supreme. He proudly says there are no walking delegates, no union rules to hamper him and none to dispute his authority. These western Kentucky district operators declined to enter into the price agreement with Secretary Herbert C. Hoover, speaking for the government. Secretary Hoover fixed the price of spot coal reaching the market at $3.50 per ton. Now what did the western Kentucky operators do? They advanced the price of coal to $11.50 a ton. There are splendid profiteers in peace time. They saw a chance to reap a harvest and they jumped in. When they ignored Hoover they ignored the government. He is the voice of President Harding and the government so to speak and yet these coal operators of western Kentucky laughed at his price fixing order and proceeded to trim the consumer.

NOW THE COAL AGE, THE official publication of the operators of the east asks this question:: "What is the public saying about an industry that stakes a strike to lower the wages of its workers and at the same time extorts huge prices for coal?" And the Coal Age answers its own question as follows. "Whether some producers like it or not, they must be protected from themselves." Herbert C. Hoover is a mild mannered American who rules with an iron hand whenever it is necessary. Federal distribution has been ordered by the government. Federal price fixing of coal has been ordered by the government. How will Secretary Hoover go about it to enforce his orders; he will see that coal cars are not provided for those operators who are profiteers. Hoover has the profiteers on the hip. If he

Senate Wants British to Pay Up

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Suggestion by the British government in its note to various European nations that there by a great cancellation of the war debts met with a cold reception today from senate leaders, republicans and democrats alike. "We never will," was the emphatic statement made by Senator McCumber of North Dakota, chairman of the finance committee, which has charge of all fiscal policies so far as the senate is concerned, and other senators in private statements were for the most part equally hostile to the British suggestions.

Stamp Colors and Designs to Be Changed, Uncle Sam Says

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Postage stamps ranging in denominations from 1 cent to $5 are to undergo radical changes as to design and color with a view to preventing losses by the post-office department due to lack of distinctive features, it was announced today. All stamps ranging in denominations from 1 to 7 cents at present bear the portrait of George Washington, while an etching of Benjamin Franklin appears on those ranging from 8 cents to $5. The department contemplates retaining the Washington and Franklin portraits upon certain of the stamps, but, it was said, will substitute portraits of leading figures in American history on the others.

The department was of the opinion, it was explained, that different designs and colors would enable postal employes to detect more readily short paid matter. Cancellation marks on stamps frequently obliterate the numerals, officials pointed out, but with a change in color and design of striking contrast and dissimilarity, fewer mistakes, they added, would be made and the department in time would save thousands of dollars.

It's All Right Brother, But You'll Need More Than Prayers and Gourds

By Associated Press.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 2.—Abstaining from all food, Noah W. Cooper, reform candidate for the democratic nomination as United States senator, observed Wednesday, the day preceding the primary, as a day of fasting and prayer.

Throughout the day and night only a few swigs of water from his gourd of righteousness passed the "blue law" advocate's lips. He declares that hundreds of persons all over the state are fasting and praying with him.

Mr. Cooper has practically completed his collection of 96 gourds, he says he will carry to Washington for presentation to the senators if he is elected. He has issued an invitation to members of the sen.. to attend a corn bread and turn.. dinner after his election.

REED HEADING LONG IN RACE

Missouri Fight Is Close

By Associated Press.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 2.—Senator James A. Reed is leading Breckenridge Long for the democratic nomination for United States senator by 7,744 votes on the face of returns from all but 508 of the 3,848 precincts in Missouri. Returns from 3340 precincts at ten o'clock tonight gave: Reed 182,238; Long 174,494

The senators lead, which reached more than 25,000 this morning, was steadily whittled away as belated returns from rural districts where the Long strength laid, came in. Throughout the day Mr. Long maintained a consistent gain with an average lead of approximately 18 votes per precinct in the country districts.

If the ratio is maintained in the 508 precincts yet to be heard from, Mr. Long has a chance of winning, probably by less than 2,000 votes.

In the republican senatorial race, R. R. Brewster of Kansas City, endorsed by the regular organization, probably will win by from 20,000 to 30,000 votes.

Only the complete returns can finally settle whether Reed or Long is to carry the democratic banner in November. Reed's plurality in St. Louis fell somewhat below his campaign manager's expectations. He carried Kansas City by a majority, but with returns from both these strongholds virtually completed before noon, his strength began to wane, while Long climbed upward in spurts of hundreds and then thousands.

BREWSTER LEADING FOR SENATOR

By Associated Press.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 2.—R. R. Brewster of Kansas City took the lead in the republican senatorial race on returns reporting late today 3,367 precincts out of 3,848 in the state giving Brewster 66,376; William Sacks of St. Louis 62,081. Practically all of the remaining precincts to be heard from are from counties other than Jackson (Kansas City) and St. Louis. The rural districts have shown exceptional strength for Brewster.

UNMASKED MEN PITCH WORKER INTO RED RIVER

Victim Charges He Was Robbed By Gang

A man, 23 years old, whose name could not be learned but who said he had been working as a strikebreaker in the Katy shops here, was taken from the union station late Tuesday night, carried to the Prescott water station on the Moore farm north of Burkburnett, beaten severely, relieved of $36 in cash and then kicked into the Red river, according to reports here Wednesday. He was found at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning by Ben Thompson, a trucker for the Magnolia company, and taken to Burkburnett, where he told his story.

The man came to Wichita Falls from Duncan, Okla., late last week, he told Burkburnett authorities, and obtained work in the M. K. & T. shops. Tuesday night he was waiting around the station when a band of 9 men, none of them masked, approached and seized him, he said, shoved him into a waiting automobile and drove rapidly from town.

Arriving at the banks of the river, his reports declared, he was lashed with a rope, his money taken and then kicked into the river. The victim stated that he spent the night in the open and started for Burkburnett at daylight.

Officers who examined the man declared that his appearance bore out his story. Marks of the beating were easily discernible on his back and limbs and he gave other evidence of having been roughly used.

Paris Waits for U. S. Debt Reply

By Associated Press.

PARIS, Aug. 2.—Some statement by the American government dealing with the note of the Earl of Balfour, acting British foreign secretary, concerning allied war debts, is anxiously awaited in reparations commission circles, where it was said tonight that the British communication on inter-allied debts would not have the effect of preventing a Franco-British reparations settlement.

Information is said to have reached reparations headquarters from an authoritative source that Lord Balfour's note was a "trial balloon sent up for the purpose of placing responsibility for a solution of the debts question directly at the door of the United States."

deprives them of coal cars, he will destroy their business and the profiteers will be at his mercy. Their pockets will be touched. Their business will have flown. Should the strike be declared off tomorrow, there will be a coal shortage for many weeks to come and the coal profiteers will trim the people unless the government lays down the law to the men who staged a strike to lower the wages of their workers and at the same time extorted huge prices for coal. This indictment returned against the operators was not returned by the strikers, or the government or the consuming public. It was returned by the Coal Age, a trade journal and the newspaper mouthpiece of the operaters.

A GERMAN MARK IS WORTH 670 to the dollar. This is the lowest point it has ever touched and German financiers say that it should occasion no surprise if a mark descended to 1000 for the dollar. Germany is in no position to pay the thirty-three billion indemnity assessed against that country by the Versailles conference. Germany can only pay in goods. If she pays in goods to Great Britain, then British factories and mills will be closed down and workers thrown out of employment. This is not all. Great Britain and the workers of England will suffer as they have never suffered before. It is impossible to get blood out of a turnip. If an individual owes a creditor thirty-three billion dollars and his assets are three billion, how will it be possible for the creditor to enforce the collection of his entire claim. Of course he could take the three billion dollars and hoot the debtor but they are not doing it now. Our government has a foreign debt to collect. Principal and interest, it amounts to twelve billion dollars. Great Britain owes more than four billions of this stupendous sum. On the other hand, France and Belgium and Italy borrowed billions from Great Britain. If Germany pays an indemnity, she must pay it in goods. Italy can not pay. There are financiers who say that Italy will never be able to pay its foreign war loans. Now how is Uncle Sam going to collect? There is a demand abroad that the indemnity shall be reduced from thirty-three billions to twelve billions and that Great Britain shall cancel its French and Belgian and Italian loans. This demand includes a lesser demand and is to the effect that Great Britain shall not share in the reparation money to be paid by Germany. Great Britain is hunting for trade.

IF GERMANY GOES DOWN other nations of continental Europe are certain to go down in the crash. It is an interesting situation all along the line. Uncle Sam will not hear to the proposition that he shall herewith order a cancellation of the twelve billions due him from foreign governments. All his creditors might be willing to pay him in goods instead of cash. He is seeking a foreign field. Before the coming of the world war the nations or peoples of Europe were his best customers. Germany was one of his best customers. This is a manufacturing nation. It manufacturing output is far greater than that which is necessary to meet the demands of home consumption. For this good finished products of American mills and factories and shops or the surplus thereof must be placed on foreign bargain counters and sold to foreign buyers. It is the same with the cotton surplus of America, the wheat surplus, the surplus of petroleum products and many other articles of commerce as well as of food staples. If a Chinese tariff wall is to be built around this country to keep out the goods of foreigners, how will Uncle Sam sell his surplus to foreigners as how will it be possible for him to collect the twelve billion dollars he advanced to war allies in the days of the great conflict? A tariff for revenue should be the demand of the people and a tariff for revenue only. This should be placed on the products of farm and ranch and the finished products of Texas factories and mills if it is to be placed on the finished products of singly manufacturers of New England and Pennsylvania and other American states.

It is impossible to make people prosperous by placing high taxes on everything they are compelled to buy. It is impossible to trade or sell to the peoples of other nations unless Americans are willing to buy from the peoples of other nations. It is impossible to collect the twelve billion dollars advanced as loans in war time unless our government is willing to accept some of it in goods and not call for all of it in cash. If a debtor is facing bankruptcy he can not pay. If he hasn't the money, he can not pay. If he has goods to sell instead of cash, he is in a position to pay if the creditor is willing to take a part of the goods in part payment and give him time on the balance of the debt. It is impossible for the United States to go it alone. This is a small world at best. If Americans expect to sell to foreigners, then they must expect to buy from foreigners. There is no other way out of it. Business is business and this is one of the reasons why the financiers of the east, republicans for the most part, are opposed to the tariff bill now pending and have denounced the Fordney emergency tariff as a makeshift, a fraud, and entirely out of keeping with world conditions and world finances as they exist today everywhere under the sun.

The Honey Bee's Burden.

The honey bee, on its trips from the field to the hive, carries about half its weight in honey. This is computed to be the average although particularly ambitious bees will carry about 80 per cent of their weight. A strong colony will gather about 12 pounds per day, but about one-quarter of this is lost in evaporation and in answering the food demands of the Leaders of the rail unions now on strike, accepted Wednesday the proposals of President Harding concerning the settlement of the difficulties. The president's plans, which were regarded with favor by the union chiefs were turned down flatly by the railroad executives.

The picture of the strike leaders was taken during their recent Washington conferences with President Harding and other government officials.

Prominent Burk Family Bereaved

Special to The Record News.

BURKBURNETT, Aug. 2.—Mrs. Mary C. Foreman, wife of S. H. Foreman and mother of Mrs. A. R. Thomas of this city, died at the latter's home Sunday afternoon following a long illness. She was 58 years of age and a native of Hannibal, Mo., where the body was carried for burial accompanied by the husband and daughter. The latter is the wife of A. R. Thomas of the Burkburnett Lumber company and president of the chamber of commerce.

Deceased had lived in her native city, where her husband was principal of the city schools, until about two years ago, when they went to make their home with their only child, Mrs. Thomas, then living in Kansas City, Mo. Last February, with daughter, they moved to Burkburnett.

Mrs. Thomas, accompanied by her father, expects to return to Burkburnett after a short stay in Hannibal.

Gompers Flays Rail Executives

HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 2.—Samuel Gompers today denounced railroad executives as assuming an autocratic position in rejecting part of the plan of President Harding in the railroad strike. The head of the American Federation of Labor was here to participate in a conference of the state federation of labor to frame a protest against the sending of troops into the bituminous coal fields of Pennsylvania. Mr. Gompers said: "It shows when government pressure is exerted the working man is expected to accept and resentment is at once manifested when he does not yield. Here the railroad executives just assume the positions of masters of all they survey, take an autocratic position in regard to transportation and spurn the plan proposed by the president."

A local chicken fancier reported Wednesday that he had a hen setting on a bunch of eggs hoping to hatch some chickens. He said he moistened the hay under the hen nest to keep her cool during the hot weather and when the chickens failed to hatch in due time he investigated and found that he had a flock of hard boiled eggs.

2 County Judges On Vacations

Taking advantage of the vacations granted them by the county commissioners during the meeting Monday, Judge Guy Rogers, magistrate of the county court at law, and Judge J. P. Jones, magistrate of the county court, have vacated their offices in the Wichita county court house and have departed on their summer trips to "parts unknown."

It is understood that the county commissioners will probably hold sessions during the absence of Judge Jones, who presides over that body, however, no definite announcement concerning this arrangement has been made yet.

Curlee Kiddies Solve Problem of Going to Sleep These Hot Nights

Now older folks might thing it strange,
But they didn't care a hoot.
They had a nice cool place to sleep
And plenty of room to hoot.
—Street Corner Ballads.

"The Curlees surely start sunning their bedding early in the morning," remarked a 5 o'clock passer by on the on Tenth street the other morning. Scattered around on the usually immaculately kept lawn of the W. S. Curlee bungalow, were several quilts, in rather helter skelter fashion. The passer by, who happened to be a friend of the family, scanned the lawn more closely wondering at the unusual display, when he observed a red head protruding from one corner of a light quilt. Then he discovered that each other quilt had it's tow, or light brown head sticking out.

The head of the house, when questioned, admitted that the "Curlee kids" were unhampered by conventionalities, when it came to finding sleeping places these hot nights. In fact one of them went to bed in an empty flower box, or rather generous size, on the front porch the other night. His whereabouts was discovered by a brother, when time came to call the roll for the issuance of pallets.

Twelve Year Old Boy Confesses Robbery of Second Street Store

He was just a little ragged urchin of the streets, and he sobbed out that his "muvver" died long ago.

In his hand he clutched a pack of Chesterfield cigarettes. In his pocket he carried the price of several soft drinks.

He quit sobbing when a firm hand of the law grasped hold of an arm and escorted him to a private room. In fact, he got almost as hard as Jessie James.

And then he told several different stories about where he had secured the cigarettes, and about the money he carried in his pockets.

It was just another catch for Detective Chief Jack Miller, and he had in his possession a lad known to the police as "Young Outlaw."

Jack placed the lad under his own custody when it was discovered that he had been selling 20-cent packs of smokes on the public streets at 5-cents a throw.

And it was later learned—from "Young Outlaw" himself—that he had acquired the cigarettes together with other things from Waggoner's store on Second street, which place he admitted having entered on several occasions.

The youthful character told the police that he entered the store through a window, which he said he prized open with a jimmy. Jack says he's starting out young, but the county took steps yesterday to end his adventurous career by placing him on the county farm for a short while. He was only 12, or he might have gone elsewhere.

South Electra Has Four Sands

Three New Sands Now Being Tested With Prospects Important Developments Soon.

Testing of three new sands for the southwest extension of the South Electra pool, opened up several weeks ago by the Brown, McCallister and Grisham No. 1 in section 34, is now under way, with prospects of highly important developments before the close of the week.

The Panhandle Refinery's No. 1 in section 27, drilled two feet of the send at 1832 feet, reported as a strike earlier in the week, and is now setting casing preparatory to drilling in. The sand is reported very rich in appearance, with good prospects for production.

The No. 1 Waggoner of Hockaday and Shaw, east of the Brown, McCallister and Grisham well, is reported setting casing at 1430 feet.

The third new sand is at 1730 feet, and was drilled in the No. 2 Waggoner of McCallister, Brown and Grisham. This sand is now being cored, and if it shows up sufficiently promising, casing will be set and the test drilled in.

These new strikes, with the No. 1 of Brown, McCallister and Grisham gives this newly opened section four sands. A short distance to the north are the 470 foot wells of the Petroleum Producers and neighboring companies, which has furnished some sensational sized wells for a shallow depth.

South of the above mentioned developments the No. 1 Waggoner of Lloyd Sigler is drilling around 500 feet. Sigler is best known in this section as the driller of the Sigler discovery well neaor Vernon, one of the sensations of the boom days, which is still the only producer in the field, though a number of tests have been drilled.

CRUDE OIL CUT 25 CENTS AGAIN

Is Third Reduction Since July 1

North and central Texas crude was posted at $1.50, effective Wednesday morning, August 2, the third 25 cent cut since July 18, going into effect.

The Sinclair and Prairie companies were the first to post the cut. The Texas Pipeline company met the reduction early in the afternoon. Other companies that had not received confirmation of a similar reduction Wednesday afternoon were expecting to receive such orders by Thursday.

Gasoline and other refined products have had only one reduction, as far as the ultimate consumer is concerned, a two cent cut about a week ago. It was stated in refinery circles Wednesday that a second two cent cut was expected within the next day or so.

Some oil operators and pipe line company representatives expressed belief that the price of crude would go still lower within a short time. Belief that the cut would be temporary had been generally expressed before this new cut. Some had it "doped out" that there would be no third cut until the middle of August, or perhaps later, while the outcome of wildcatting in several pools was watched.

Golfers Drilling New Wildcat Well

Section 8, in the Waggoner pasture, just a short distance across the Wilbarger county line, is to have a new wildcat, location having been made for the No. 1 Waggoner of the Cochran-Golding oil company. The rig materials are now being moved on, and drilling will start by the first of the coming week.

The new company is named for two of Wichita Falls' crack golfers and incidentally oil men. Tom Cochran and Dud Golding, who have an interest in the 160 acres and the well that is now going down. The other owners are all enthusiastic golfers, as well as something of oil men, these including W. D. Cline, W. E. Norton, Martin Rowe, W. J. McCallister, P. P. Adams and Guy Brown, and others.

Itex Co. Sells Out to Fresno Oil Co.

Purchase of the Itex Oil company's producing property in the old Clara pool by the Fresno Oil company has just been consummated. The Fresno company will take over operation of the lease immediately.

The price paid was said to be at the rate of approximately $1,000 a barrel, with a production of around 30 barrels a day. The lease comprises 80 acres, a mile and a half west of Clara, and is only partially developed. There has been no new drilling here for more than a year.

The Fresno company has a casing head gasoline plant in the Clara pool, and has other producing properties in the district. R. E. Beauregard is manager of the company.

Silk Test Will Be Drilled in at Once

The Silk, Bullington et al, No. 1 Burnett, Carson county, which has been the center of interest in the Panhandle oil country since last week, when the oil sand was drilled around 3,070 feet, is to be drilled in and tested within the next 24 to 48 hours, according to information received from the owners Wednesday. The well has been standing in oil almost half way to the top for several days, and is confidently expected to make a nice producer.

Tanks were being moved to the well on Wednesday, a local supply house reporting a shipment by trucks, over the 230 mile distance, to overcome the delays which the strike situation has put on freight movements.

WHO'LL RIDE THE ELEPHANT?

FORT WORTH republicans indorsed Charles C. Littleton for United States senator. El Paso republicans indorsed James C. McNary for United States senator. Hon. R. B. Creager, who had been mentioned for the place, has waved aside the proffered honor. Col. John Henry Kirby, who has been mentioned for the place, is in the city of Washington and laughs when the reporters interview him. Colonel Kirby always laughs when he is in doubt or when he doesn't care to talk. This makes him popular with newspaper men. He doesn't close up and look as wise as an owl. Who invented the saying, "wise as an owl"? Why, the owl is the dullest of all birds. He sits and blinks and blinks and blinks, never emitting a sound because that is all that nature intended for him to do. Really the expression should be changed to read thusly: "As dull as an owl."

Colonel Kirby always lets loose his proclamations or pronouncements at the psychological moment. He would make an ideal republican senator. He is said to be many times a millionaire. He is certainly a long-headed and successful man when he confines himself to business. He loves the atmosphere of the senate. He loves the center of the stage, but he isn't mad about it. He loves to be with the boys and run with the boys, speaking of the Washington correspondents and their friends. He hasn't much time for the one-gallused democracy that runs wild every seven or ten years and has so thoroughly mixed Thomas Jefferson democracy with Karl Marx socialism that Colonel Kirby and his followers fear for the safety of the republic and see in the distance the coming of an American Lenine or a Russo-Americano Trotzky.

According to a Russian bolshevistic writer, the Trotsky of the Slav country is the only great warrior produced by and in the House of Israel since the passing of David. And David passed away many thousands of years ago.

Not a republican convention, county or precinct, indorsed Judge George W. Armstrong for senator and yet the judge could not gain his own consent to go to the democratic primary July 22 and he is too much of a gentleman to invade a republican primary without an invitation. McNary is a successful banker. Littleton is a successful cottonseed oil manufacturer and is said to have made a million in the game. Now who is to be the Moses of the Texas republicans? If there isn't a Moses among them, is there a David?

Why not draft Maj. Leonard Withington of the Fort Worth Record? He was trained in New England and in the Hawaiian islands. He wore a uniform and a major's leaf on his shoulder. He is a spontaneous speaker and a voluminous writer. He knows where he is "at." Sherman L. Whipple of Massachusetts is said to be the ablest lawyer and by far the wisest of all the democratic leaders of New England. Whipple is a democrat and doesn't care who knows it. He may defeat Henry Cabot Lodge for the senate in November. Whipple and Withington are linked together by family but not political ties. It would be splendid for the voters of Massachusetts to send Sherman L. Whipple as one of their representatives in the upper house of congress. Now while the republicans of Texas are looking for a man there is Withington.

If the old parties go to pieces in the near future and Whipple and Withington got there first before the break away occurred, they could stand together for God and home and flag and fat appropriations for all the people who are now on earth. McNary? Why McNary? Littleton? Why should Littleton be given the job? He is a lily-handed aristocrat who lives in the solar air and the smell of the mob makes him sick. All the boys like him, that is all the silk shirt contingent, and he might win over to his standard the golf players and the fox hunters of Texas. But the hoi poli does the voting in Texas and elsewhere. They are the diggers, they name the public servants and they are all powerful at the ballot box.

The man who doesn't treat his wife any too well usually treats other men's wifes too often.

It isn't the harmfulness of rouge and other beauty aids that impress us, but their futility.

Correct this sentence. "How dare you kiss me," cried the flapper; "I am not that kind of girl."

PROSPERITY IS HERE

THEODORE H. PRICE declares that the demand for money is increasing and that the rail strike must be settled without delay, otherwise a freight blockade in the winter might occur and thus retard the liquidation of commercial credit. Regardless of the rail strike, he says the car loadings indicate that the railroads are now handling a record tonnage of freight with coal practically eliminated. President Harding is slowly working his way toward a settlement and the economists of the country believe that his policy will be successful. Roger Babson predicts a tremendous business revival after a settlement of the coal and rail strikes and trade journals say that the boom in building and construction activities generally is surprising to even the builders themselves. In Greater New York alone the new buildings now under way will house 38,363 families and in New York and New Jersey some $256,528,000 was invested in new residences during the last six months ending June 30 last. These same journals say the automobile production for June was the largest on record for that month and there has been a correspondingly large demand for tires. As the result, America now uses 65 per cent of all the world's and rubber production. Coal production must be resumed in the near future and the rail strike will be over in the near future if the predictions of those who are most concerned are worth while. Texas is certain to produce more than three million bales of cotton, and cotton farmers everywhere predict a very large home consumption and a very gratifying foreign demand.

ANOTHER TEXAN LEADS

SENATOR JOHN B. KENDRICK of Wyoming is a candidate for re-election. Senator Kendrick was born in Cherokee county, Texas, and his father and grandfather were among the early Texas pioneers. His grandfather was a stock raiser, his father was a stock raiser and John B. is one of the cattle kings of Wyoming. In his youth he was a trail blazer and range rider and this led him to move from Texas to Wyoming in 1879. Wyoming is a republican state. This did not keep Kendrick out of office. He was governor two terms and in 1917 he was elected to the senate as a democrat by the democrats and independents of his state. This former Texas cowboy is the only democrat ever elected to the senate by the people of Wyoming. He has a rocky road ahead of him. Congressman Frank W. Mondell, majority leader of the house, is the republican contender. Mondell has served 22 years in congress and is said to be one of the strongest debaters of the republican side. Wyoming is a meat producing state. Its livestock interests are very large. Kendrick, in the making of the tariff bill, has voted for rates that seek to protect the western producer and Mondell believes in tariff protection of the highest for all the products of the farm and ranch as well as the finished products of American factory and mill and mine. They're off in Wyoming and unless the surface signs are misleading, the former Texas cowboy may win again.

NO WONDER!

GOVERNOR MORRISON in North Carolina wired President Harding that he would uphold the law with fearless impartiality and permit parties in industrial disputes to fight the economic battle to a finish. Now a miserable correspondent has destroyed it all. He has discovered that North Carolina has but one coal mine, working 60 miners, all non-union and working overtime. Governor Morrison of North Carolina did not need the aid of United States regulars. He did not need to call out national guardsmen. He did not need to call out a state ranger, if he had one, or a solitary constable in the bush districts. He had no strike on his hands. He did not need an open port law to keep the channels of commerce unobstructed. He did not need machine gunners or rifle men to maintain law and order. But Governor Morrison got the center of the stage just the same and he held it until a correspondent came along and located the one mine and its 60 go-as-you-please coal diggers.

Paying for the war might be even more burdensome. Suppose we had to wear spiral putties while doing it.

Rippling Rhymes

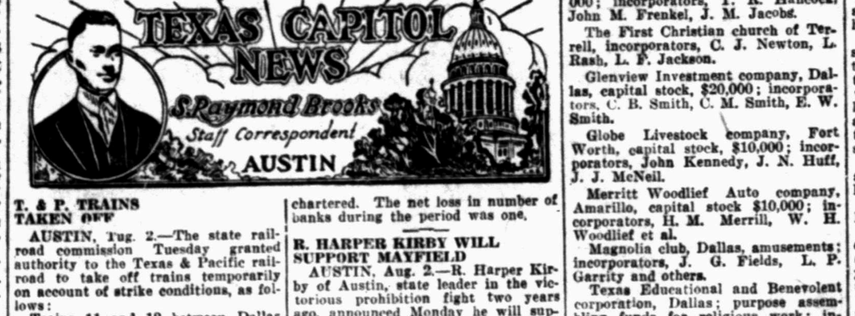

THE CROAKERS.

I'm weary of people complaining, I'm tired of the briny they shed; they come to my door when it's raining, and say that they wish they were dead. They come when the sun is dispensing the warmth that is vital and sweet, and say that the corn is commencing to shrivel and fire in the heat. They come when the winter is spreading its radiant mantle of snow, and say it's just what they've been dreading—it rounds out their burden of woe. They come when the gentle caressings of spring should make everyone gay, but they have forgotten their blessings, it's always a grouch they display. They come when kind Providence chooses to sprinkle some frost in the glens, and talk of their aches and their bruises, their corns and their bunions and wens. So more like a hermit I'm getting, I'd fain be alone in my lair, for visitors always are fretting, and grumbling and wringing their hair. Sometimes there's a caller who chatters of happiness, sunshine and glee; his opulent language he splatters, as though from a hose, over me. I weep on his neck and embrace him, and tell him his presence is sweet, and hope that good fortune may chase him all over the world and repeat. Too many have heart breaking stories, too many shed tears in a flood; this world in their eyes has no glories, they can't see the roses for mud.

DOGHILL PARAGRAFS

By GEORGE BINGHAM

Atlas Peck set out to walk to Bounding Pillows Saturday morning; and had to walk all the way. He says he notices always that when a person is walking along the road, all the chances for a ride are going the other way.

Fletcher Henstep was seen going quietly across the field today with an umbrella under one arm and his pet rain-crow under the other, and rain may be expected now at any time.

Slim Pickens says now and occasionally he wishes he was somebody else, but if he was, he would soon get homesick for himself.

MRS. CORNING'S CHARITY

With a plump, diamond-beringed hand Mrs. Corning drew aside the blue-figured madras curtain from her unlighted windows to peer into the brightly lighted dining room of the apartment across the way. "That's young folks of today!" she commented. "The dresses she wears! And that dining room set!" Mrs. Corning's pale blue eyes grew round with envy. "It must have cost a couple of hundred, anyway! And the fine automobile! I got two good dresses, my gray georgette and my blue taffeta, and we got a second-hand automobile, but, anyhow, there's something to eat on our golden-oak table!"

By the dim light she could see her own dining table, with its delectable load—a four-layer chocolate cake, sliced peaches, honey, a jug of cream, and slices of ham—while out in the kitchen were hot biscuits, creamed potatoes, fried tomatoes, baked beans, and coffee. "If we haven't got a walnut table with spindle legs and roses in the middle we've got more than dry toast and apple sauce on it. And that's what a dining table is for—to put things to eat on it!" Mrs. Corning concluded.

Her husbands' entrance drew Mrs. Corning from the window. It was not until she sat beneath the multi-colored dome which sent soft shafts of light over the abundant table that she renewed the subject with the freshly washed, round-faced, mouse-colored Henry as he took huge mouthfuls of the pink ham and brown biscuits.

"It was dry toast and apple sauce tonight! And last night a quart of milk and not even a crust of bread with it. And night before it was just a dish of baked potatoes!" Mrs. Corning remarked.

"Well, if they want to live that way what's it to us?" inquired Henry as he poured a stream of amber honey over the mound of buttered biscuits on his plate.

"But 'tisn't right. Look at their other things. Why, with your three thousand a year we wouldn't think I could have 15 good dresses—I've counted that many on her—and such dresses! And think of us paying the rent for an apartment like this when we started out. If she'd stay home instead of gadding around she could cook things—get boiling beef or some nourishing soup, and then use the rest for——"

"I'm not long on the recipe stuff," complained Henry. "Tell it to her or else forget it. If he's satisfied, what do you care?"

But Martha Corning couldn't forget it. The next day, when the ham and its accompaniments had given way to a rich roast of beef, flanked by sweet potatoes and asparagus tips, and the chocolate cake to a lemon-cream pie, with custard two inches deep, she waxed warm over the subject. "Henry, they didn't have a thing but celery and salt on the table tonight. Isn't it awful? Young folks starving right in a fashionable apartment like this. What won't they do to put on style? It's almost a case for charity, even if they do have all that lot of fine stuff they're paying for on the instalment plan," she exclaimed.

"What you going to do about it?" asked Henry, rosy and satisfied from his pleasurable exertions.

"I'm going to make them my own special charity and I'm going to take them some of this roast and sweet potatoes and a whole pie as soon as we're through, so that it will seem like a second course to their celery, and I'll tell them I'm going to my sister's tomorrow and I dont' want it to spoil"

"Are you going to your sisters?" asked Henry, his fork poised over his lemon-cream pie.

"I wasn't, but I am to make what I say come true."

A visit to her mother followed the one to her sister to give her further excuse to send food down to the young couple of the barren dining table. She left money with both of these relatives with which to buy food and send it to her so that she could truthfully tell her beneficiaries that it had been sent to her and she couldn't use it at all. She coaxed Henry into bringing home quantities of perishable supplies so that she could say to the Marvins, "My husband's been buying much of this and it won't keep."

"With prices away up in G, seems like we're giving away a good deal of provender," suggested Henry, when she told him how she schemed so as to make it impossible for her gifts to be refused.

"Henry, you wouldn't begrudge those two young things a little out of our plenty! Think how you've been blessed with three thousand a year! We can afford something for charity. But they draw their curtains now, and I con't see them enjoying the good things I give them."

But the next evening Mrs. Corning was out of love with her charity. "What do you think they do with the food I send them? Throw it in the garbage. Yes, they do. A perfectly good chicken and a roast of beef and some ham and a dish of caramelled sweet potatoes and a lemon-cream pie—all the things I've sent them they've been throwing in there. Mrs. Burt told me, and, you know, she makes an excuse to get down to the garbage cans when the janitor's emptying them just to find out how her neighbors are living. And she told me how extravagant they were on their table, and then I told her where that stuff had been coming from. And if she tells them again——"

A ring of the doorbell interrupted Mrs. Corning.

"It's those Marvins," informed Henry, after calling down the tube. "They're coming up."

As he spoke they entered — an Adonis, broad-shouldered, dark of hair and eyes and a witch of a girl, with red lights in her hair and eyes, a skin the color of rich cream, with a rose-petal tint. But one didn't think of coloring of hair and eyes in connection with these two. It was a something else about them—a grace, a perfection of physical being that commanded attention.

"You've been such a kind neighbor, Mrs. Corning, that we couldn't leave without seeing you," said Mrs. Marvin.

"Leave? Have you been turned out?" asked Mrs. Corning, forgetting her late grievance and already wondering whether Henry could loan them the amount they were in arrears in rent. "Perhaps we could lend——"

"Oh, no!" interrupted Mrs. Marvin with a trill of rich laughter. "Dut Mrs. Burt told me you'd discovered that we hadn't eaten the things you sent, and I wanted you to know we appreciated it. Didn't we, Vint?"

"You bet!" said the Adonis.

"Then why?" began Mrs. Corning.

"But what we suffered in not being able to eat them! Didn't we, Vint?"

"It makes me sick to think of it," answered Vint.

"Not able to eat them! Mak a you sick to think of my perfectly good food!" began Mrs. Corning.

"No: you don't understand. We didn't dare eat them,' said Mrs. Marvin.

"Dare! Did you think they were poisoned or not clean?"

"He did get into the roast beef and sweet potatoes, but I guess I was worse about the chicken, though we didn't eat very much of either," proceeded Mrs. Marvin, noticing Mrs. Corning interruption. "But we've succeeded. And now we can go back to the old life. We had to run away from it, Mrs. Corning—temptation on every side, and be in a little place all by ourselves where we could accomplish what we have."

"What have you done and what are you going back to?" asked Henry.

"Why, can't you see? We've lost our fat, reduced, gone back to the weight that draws in the cash!" cried Mrs. Marvin, dancing up and down. "Fat is fatal in our profession. It wouldn't be in comedy, but we're not in comedy, are we, Vint? We almost didn't get a contract because we liked to eat too well, didn't we, Vint? But we did it. And now he's signed up for $1,200 and me for $800. And that's why we couldn't eat that betwitching stuff you sent us, Mrs. Corning."

"That's $2,000 between you and you can live on that if you'll take a few hints from me about how to manage it," said Mrs. Corning.

"Two thousand a week," explained Mr. Marvin.

"A week!" murmured Mrs. Corning, sinking into a green plush rocker. "A week!"

"A week," replied Mrs. Marvin. "And because you've been so thoughtful of us and Mrs. Burt said you envied us our dining room set it's yours as a parting gift to remember us by."

"But that must have cost near $200," demurred Mrs. Corning.

"Twenty-nine hundred! And that's why we want you to have it—because it really is good. We'll be living in hotels now, anyhow."

"It looks as if I'd been casting bread upon the water," murmured Mrs. Corning.

The Once Over

NOW THE DRAMA HAS A COMMISSIONER

The American drama is to be certified like milk, baseball and the movies. Milk from contented cows, baseball from contented baseball magnates, movies from contented movie stars, and now drama from contented authors, actors and producers.

o o o

Baseball has its Judge Landis, the movies have their Will Hays, and now the drama has its Augustus Thomas.

o o o

Following the appointment of Landis as commissioner of baseball and Hays as filmmaster general of the movies, Mr. Thomas has been appointed imperial kleagle of the show business, chief exalted ruler of plays, players and producers, grand referee of theatrical clashes and skirmishes and supreme seidlitz powder in all cases of stage disorders!

o o o

Now for grand commissioners of circuses, medicine shows, carnivals, food exhibits, flying horses, country fairs, agricultural shows, trotting meets, jocky club meetings, flower shows, chess tournaments, pinochle sessions and week end house parties!

o o o

The slogan of the era seems to be "Perfect Control or Bust!"

o o o

Risque plays have been going from bad to terrible. While the movie censors have been compelling the movie producers to refrain from showing heroines with their shoes off, the theatrical producers have been going ahead with Ladies'-Day-in-the-Turkish-Bath farces, Entire-Cast-in-One Bed comedies and revues that justified raids not by the police but by the militia.

o o o

Something had to be done before the censors stepped in and did it. Finally the heads of the show business in America got their heads together (this alone constituting a scene that for bareness has seldom been equalled in the history of the American stage.) and agreed upon Gus Thomas as a Landis of the theater. This was the first time the show producers ever had agreed upon anything.

o o o

Mr. Thomas has accepted. He will be the Czar of No Regrets, in a manner of speaking.

o o o

Bedroom settings immediately dropped lower than German marks in the open market. Pajamas and pink nightgowns have become a drug on the market. Two-passenger hampers are without bidders.

o o o

John Cumberland and Hazel Dawn now face the prospect of going through an entire production fully dressed. Avery Hopwood and the Collison boy may have to take the million or two they have made on bedroom plays, give a farewell chanting of "How do you like your farces? Raw! Raw! Raw!" retire to their country estates, and cease firing.

o o o

Unlike the case of Judge Landis, Commissioner Thomas can not suspend, obviously, any actors for barnstorming tours. Suspensions and fines for other offenses, however, are possible. Fancy this for instance:

New York, Nov. 20.—Augustus Thomas, commissioner of The Theatrical World, today announced the suspension of Marilynn Miller for three months for talking back to her boss. Flo Ziegfeld, it was announced, has been fined $175 for sending a telegram in which he admitted he loved his wife and looked with horror upon the idea of a seperation. This is against all precedent. "Such things have got to stop," said the commissioner.

It was unofficially announced htat the commissioner had not decided what to do about Peggy Joyce.

Rumor has it that the commissioner will bar DeWolf Hopper from playing until May 29 for exceeding his bride quota.

Tuberculosis With Civilization

Tuberculosis came with civilization and it will stay with civilizaton until cvlizaton defeats it, according to Prof. Chalmette, of the Pasteur institute, in Paris. A striking feature of this disease is its rarity among uncivilized and nomadic peoples, like isolated African tribes. On teh other hand, he insisted that in the modern cities of Europe and the United States practically no adult escapes tubercular infection. He estimated that 20 per cent of city populations are infected at the age of 2 years, 55 per cent at the age of 5 years, 90 per cent at 15 years and about 97 per cent of all those above that age.

Little Stories For Bedtime

THE ENGLISH SPARROW MAKES A MISTAKE

An independent spirit is a thing to highly prize,
But too much independence is an evil in disguise.

If there is one thing above another on which Bully the English Sparrow prides himself it is his independence. He says so. He is forever talking about it. He says that the way to get on in this world is to look out for yourself and never mind any one else; let them look out for themselves. Of course, that is one of the oldest and most mistaken ideas in the world, but Bully hasn't learned it yet in spite of the fact that what he calls independence is forever getting him into trouble.

To begin with it had made an enemy for him of everybody who lived in the Old Orchard. There was not one who would so much as speak to him. But he didn't care. Not he! He dearly loves to fight, does Billy, and so without any reason whatever, except to show his independence and how fearless he is, he would attack his neighbors without any warning and then laugh at them when they flew away. He called them cowards. He hasn't to this day learned, and wouldn't believe if he was told, that the coward, the real coward, is he who fights without cause. So he went about through the Old Orchard making things very uncomfortable for all his neighbors until at last one day he made a mistake.

It was this way: He had been wandering through the Old Orchard with nothing to do but to bully whomever he met, when at last he came to the far corner, where Johnny and Polly Chuck live. In the very tree under which they have made their house he discovered a nest different from any nest, which he had ever seen before. In his usual bold way he started over to look at it.

"Better keep away from there!" Bully looked up to see a trim-looking gentleman with a white waistcoat sitting on a branch of the old apple tree. He was larger than Bully, but not nearly as large as Welcome Robin or Goldie the Oriole, both of whom he had whipped that very morning. At least he thought he had whipped them, though the truth is they simply had refused to fight.

"I could whip that fellow with my wings tied," thought Bully and went right on.

"I told you you had better keep away from there!" said the trim-looking gentleman with the white waistcoat.

"Who'll make me?" demanded Bully.

"I will!" retorted the other.

"Let's see you do it!" retorted Bully.

The words were hardly out of his mouth when something hit him and knocked him sprawling. Before he could quite get his breath it seemed to him that the air was full of sharp bills. When he tried to strike back there was no one there. It was too much for Bully, and he turned tail and flew away. But as he flew he was knocked down again and lost several feathers. So it went for quite a distance back through the Old Orchard, Bully trying his very best to get away and this trim gentleman with the white waistcoat knocking him down and pulling out feathers until Bully's coat was a sight. It was with something like a sob of relief that at last he found himself free.

"I guess I a made a mistake," said Bully to Mrs. Bully as he explained how he had got his clothes so badly torn.

He was right. He had made a mistake. He had tried to bully Scrapper the Kingbird, who is a famous fighter.

QUEER FEELINGS AT MIDDLE AGE

Women Should Know how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helps at This Trying Period

Sheboygan, Wisconsin. — "I was run down, tired and nervous. I could not even do my own housework, could not sleep at night and all kinds of queer thoughts would come to me. Finally I gave up going to the doctor and a friend told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After the first bottle I could sleep better and I have kept on improving ever since. I have taken seven bottles now and am so happy that I am all over these bad feelings." —Mrs. B. LANSER, 1639 N. 3rd St., Sheboygan, Wisconsin.

For the woman entering middle age Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound can be of much benefit. During this time of life certain changes take place which sometimes develop into serious trouble.

Melancholia, nervousness, irritability, headache and dizziness are some of the symptoms Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a natural restorative, especially adapted to assist nature in carrying you safely past this time. Why not give it a fair trial?

Gorgeous Embroidery Distinguishes This Little Blouse

White crepe de chine is the material used in the smart blouse shown in the sketch. An unusual feature is the colorful embroidery in novel design that covers it. Birds, Chinese lanterns, pagodas, etc., make up the pattern, and these motifs are scattered about in a hit or miss fashion that is striking and distinctly pleasing to the eye. The blouse is a simple tie-back and finished with the wide "boat" neck line that has so long been in favor. This neck line continues to be one of the popular ones for fall, both in the development of blouses and frocks.

The tie-back blouse such as the one sketched, is to be featured again during the coming fall and winter season, and the blouse that ties at each side is also to be shown. Straight line smocks, about hip length, and dependent upon the fabrics used or the trimming applied for distinction, seem to be holding the center of the stage in the line-up of blouses that may be classified as "dressy."

The sports blouse changes its style so slightly from season to season that it is difficult to find anything new to talk about, but for fall and winter some of the highest grade blouse manufacturers are offering amazingly smart little blouses made of light weight wool fabrics in plain color and white. Challis and albatross are the most featured fabrics, and the blouses are strictly tailored, with long sleeves and mannish or turned back cuffs. The majority have the round neck, with Peter Pan or quaker collar.

Wool blouses may always be regarded as an exeprirment early in the season, as it is never possible to be sure that they will meet with approval. Those shown are smart, and high colors, such as rose, vivid blue, etc., are looked upon with favor by their manufacturers.

Wanta Buy Thnapth is Appeal of Future Darky Baseball Champs

When a Wichita Falls housewife left her Wednesday morning dusting to answer a particularly energetic and commanding peal, or series of peals, of the door bell, she confronted a picture strongly suggestive of the Wesley Barry movies so effective recently, and waited in astonishment for the first of what thought must prove a series of outlandish pranks.

There were three of them, and the middle one was blacker than the reputation of a defeated presidential candidate. The oldest wasn't more than 8 and the youngest might have been 5. They were boys and were in the standard Wesley Barry tatters.

"Want to buy some snapths?" lisped the one who, by right of years, should have spoken most plainly.

"Wanna buy some snaps," drawled the little darkie, with eyes as bright as his skin, most plainly.

"Wanna buy some naps?" echoed the littlest fellow.

All three extended small black cards with the well known fasteners attached.

While the woman tried to decide whether they were competitors or pardners and why the youngster in the middle dared risk breaking race barriers, the cards remained in the extended positions and not an expression changed.

At last the biggest one explained: "We thell thnapth. He thellth for me, and he thellth for me, and I'm going to buy batheball thuiths."

There was no time to discuss the business advisability of the three salesmen attacking together. There was nothing at all to do, as a matter of fact, but to buy the snaps.

Not such a bad business proposition after all.

Keene Hurls Customary Game---Spuds Continue to Win

BEARS BLANKED UNTILL TWO OUT IN NINTH THEN STAGE RALLY FOR FOUR MARKERS

Spuds All Hit for Big Total; Bromley Relieves Lewis in Fourth but Fares Little Better; Dempsey, Bear Recruit, Shows Nice Game At First; Spuds Turn in Great Fielding.

By "SPIKE" COOPER

Hub Northen sent Lewis and Bromley to the front in an effort to halt the Spudder hit mill yesterday, but neither accomplished the feat and the second game of the series went to the home team, 8 to 4.

Keene blanked the visitors for eight and two-thirds innings, but weakened after striking out the first two hitters in the ninth and allowed four runs to percolate across the marking station, and thereby ruined a shut out. He was in fine form throughout, and great fielding behind him robbed the Bears of any chance to win.

'Twas win No. 14 for the Spudders chalked up as they tamed the Bears for the second consecutive time, and established the enviable record of 20 out of 22 games played since returning to the home lot for the longest home stay of the schedule.

The win yesterday was lots of pitching and lots of hitting combined. Every Spud got into the hit column, with Tex getting three and Tanner close behind with a double and triple. Five other members of the slugging nine came through with knocks on two occasions, while Freda and Vic got only one each. These two made up for their difference however by taking all the free passes dished out by the Bear hurlers.

The Spudders were on their toes and fought to give Keene credit for a no run game, but when he eased up in the ninth, it was impossible and a volley of base hits robbed him of the honor.

Summa's perfect throw to the plate in the eighth, which retired Kirkham as he attempted to count from second on a single by John Henry, was the final climax of the desperate defense. The throw was perfectly executed and caught the runner standing up. Summa also robbed the Bears of a run or two when he went wild in the fifth and pulled a couple of catches not catalogued by many Texas league outfielders.

Fred Beck made a great catch of Tanner's throw in the third to retire the side. Buddy threw wild of the bag and Fred was forced to reach his entire length up the line and succeeded in grabbing the agate with his gloved hand, but held a toe firmly on the pillow.

Dempsey Shows Well

The visitors introduced a new portside first sacker in Dempsey, the lad from the west coast. The new member of the Bear infield stacks up creditably and is a better man than several of the other clubs in the league possess. He fields his position in grand style, throws accurately and can hit the ball. On his first two trips up, he crashed out singles that were real base hits. He has lots of pepper and is in the game all the way.

Keene Hits One

Keene pulled one on himself in the fourth when he led off with a triple to right. He watched the ball roll to the fence and was not sure whether or not he should take the limit of the blow or not. He modestly admitted it the longest hit of his professional career.

The Spudders had lots of life, and three or four of their hits were hits, simply because they out ran them. McDonald, Bischoff and Summa all showed their speed to the Bear infielders.

Just to show their stuff, the Spuds started hammering Sam Lewis from the first pitched ball. Bob Bescher jumped on it for two, an ordinary single, but he stretched it by his uncanny ability to circle a corner. Tanner sent Kirkham to the fence after his fly, and Bob took third after the catch. Adams singled into center for the first marker. Summa beat out a hit toward third and Shorty went to second. Tex larruped a double to left center and Adams scored while Summa went to third. Beck drew a walk and filled the bases. White bounced a drive off Hiller's shin for a hit and Summa registered. Bischoff topped one toward first and Tex scored and Lewis played the ball slow and poorly. Keene and Bescher then fanned.

Total Reaches Seven

In the fourth Keene tripled after Bischoff was out, Hiller to Dempsey. Bescher poked a single to center and Keene came home. Tanner drove a triple to deep right scoring Bescher. Adams singled to left scoring Buddy, and sending Lewis on his way. Bromley went in and retired the side, although Tex singled to center and sent Adams to third. Summa was guilty of his first move of the kind on the home lot this season when he looked over three of the new hurler's curves without taking his bat from its place on his shoulder.

The Spuds added another in the fifth on Bischoff's single to left, Keene's walk and Tanner's double to left, a drive barely inside the bag at third.

Bears Wake Up

Keene had pitched a nice game all the way, not working his limit, but keeping the hits scattered. He opened the ninth by striking out Meyers and Hiller and had a couple of strikes on Red McKee, hitting for Bromley. Red pasted a single to right and moved up when Fuller drew a pass. Gross then singled to center and Booe doubled to the right of Summa, followed by another single off Kirkham's club and when the smoke cleared, four markers hung on the Bear peg. Dempsey ended the game with a drive to Summa.

Two Games Today

Officials of the two clubs agreed to play two games today instead of the one scheduled and another billed for Friday a. m. The first today will be called at 3 o'clock. By the agreement, the Bears will have ample time to reach home for the first of their long home stay, and the Spudders will have a day's rest before tackling the Shreveport team.

A crisis is about to be reached in the mad race toward the top of the ladder. The Spudders and the Panthers have fought doggedly for the honor, with the Cats barely in the lead. Saturday the Fort Worth aggregation moves to Dallas for a stay and Shreveport blows in here. There's likely to be some change before the Shreveport games are finished.

Mann Act Doesn't Apply to Women

(By International News Service.)

DENVER, July 2.—The Mann white slave law is a one-sided affair, according to interpretation by local agents of the federal department of justice and cannot be invoked in cases where women transport men from one state to another.

Two girls were held in jail here several hours while federal agents investigated "white slave" charges. The girls, according to Russell Byron, head of the department of justice here, declared they had brought two men to this city from Louisville, Ky., in a big touring car. Byron said the girls admitted paying all the expenses of the trip.

The two girl were taken into custody by federal agents in an alleged "love nest" in this city. The two men were also held temporarily.

The party was released after an investigation disclosed that the federal law does not provide that transportation of men from one state to another by women is illegal.

U. S. LEADS IN MOTOR PRODUCTION

(By International News Service.)

WASHINGTON, July 24. — The United States leads the world in the export of motor cars and motor trucks, according to the national automobile chamber of commerce.

Forty per cent of the automobiles exported in 1921, the chamber asserts, came directly from American factories. Ten per cent more were exported from United States branches in Canada, and the bulk of the 25 per cent exports from France were re-exported American war vehicles.

Denver Handling 150 Cars of Wheat

The Fort Worth & Denver railroad, operating out of here, is handling 150 cars of "passover" wheat which other lines, operating out of this city, are unable to haul, according to assertions made in the local headquarters yesterday morning.

The wheat, termed "passover" because of the order emanating from the interstate commerce commission, recently authorizing shipments to be detoured over other lines to points of destinations in cases where freight jams occur, is to be delivered back to its original routing at Fort Worth, it is understood.

STRIKE WON'T DELAY KATY WAREHOUSE

The strike will probably not interfere with the construction of the new Katy warehouse and offices, and material will possibly be placed on the grounds in rapid order.

H. D. McCoy, of Cleburne, Texas, contractor who is erecting the new structure for the M., K. & T. railroad company, expressed that opinion in a conversation here yesterday, declaring that a small amount of material has already been placed on the grounds, and that his construction crew is already at work preparing the grounds for the new building and platforms.

Mr. McCoy has erected a number of large structures in the state of Texas, and intimated yesterday that he will be in this city at intervals to give his personal attention to the erection of the new warehouses.

Fire consumed a large number of cross ties on the right of way of the Wichita Valley railroad, where it is crossed by the street car track, late Wednesday afternoon. An investigation is being made into the origin of the fire. Because of the long distance to the scene of the fire there was considerable loss before the fire department could reach the location, the ties burning like kindling wood. No estimate of the value of ties burned has been made.

MANY STOLEN AUTOS FOUND

Recover 60 Per Cent In Wichita County

A check of the books kept at the city police department, and which was made yesterday, revealed that reports of automobile thefts and thefts of auto accessories have been numerous at the headquarters.

A review for the month of July, recently closed, disclosed the fact that a total of 59 reports were made to the department, over 25 per cent of which were concerning out-of-town thefts, while approximately 30 per cent concerned the theft of accessories.

Police Chief McCormick, questioned relative to the number, intimated that the reports were on an equal average with previous months but that in comparison to some others, there was less automobile stealing under way in July than in past periods.

Over 60 per cent of the thefts reported, according to the records, have been located through the police department, while quite a number of thefts were reported where the persons owning cars had parked them in places other than they thought upon their return, and later located the cars themselves.

KATY HAS NO TROUBLE EXCEPT AT DENISON

"Conditions are good everywhere over the Katy except at Denison."

D. C. Greve, traveling tariff agent of the M. K. & T., of Dallas, who was here on business yesterday, made this statement while at the local offices, it being his assertion that there is little or no trouble being encountered in Dallas, and that elsewhere peace reigns.

It was his opinion that the "strike is not yet over."

EVERYBODY GUILTY AND FINED BY JUDGE

Four defendants faced Judge John Marrs in corporate court yesterday morning. All were found guilty and fined.

One, charged with disturbing the peace, was fined $5, another charged with running with an open cut-out was fined $5, while a speeder and a man charged with being drunk were fined $10 each.

Kirkland Water Supply Runs Out

It must be an awful predicament to live in a town that runs out of water.

But, whether that be true or not, the town of Kirkland, 11 miles south of Childress on the Fort Worth & Denver line, ran perfectly dry yesterday, and was reported as about ready to suffer from the lack of water.

Information concerning the predicament was telegraphed to the local offices of the Denver, officials of which made immediate preparations to entrain a shipment of water to that locality from Clarendon, where, it is understood, there is a bountiful supply of "sky juice."

The water supply at Kirkland, it was learned, has been in a threatening condition for a considerable length of time.

DENVER REPORTS NO TROUBLE FROM STRIKE

"Conditions on the Denver are very well—not near up to normal, but we are taking a good many shipments and all that is offered, and we are operating trains in every direction.

This was the message of information coming from the local headquarters of the Fort Worth & Denver Wednesday morning, when a question relating to the present strike of craftsmen was raised.

Officials of the line intimated that every effort is being made to bring the local shops up to their normal stand, and that no trouble in the operation of trains has been encountered thus far in the strike.

KATY HAULS BIG RUN OF FREIGHT SUNDAY

A check of the run made over Katy lines Sunday shows that a total of 4,403 loads of freight were hauled over the United States.

The check tends to show that this is an exceptionally large average for Sunday.

In this connection, it was pointed out in the local offices that five trains were operated on the Texas Central division on the 31st and that no bad orders were reported.

The statement of facts emanted from the office of J. F. Garvin, general freight agent headquartered at Dallas, who repoted to the local offices in connection with the above that "we look for further improvement in our power and in conditions generally from now on."

NOLEN MAY VISIT GUARD ENCAMPMENT

Charles W. Nolen, first lieutenant, battery D, 131st field artillery which contingent is now in training at Fort Sill, Okla., intimated yesterday afternoon that he will probably visit the encampment over this week-end, and witness the progress the battery is making there.

Lieutenant Nolen was ordered to remain in Wichita Falls by the commandant of the battery, Captain John Fletcher, who left the lieutenant here to receive any shipment of government supplies that might be sent here during the commandant's absence.

The Wichita Falls battery departed for Fort Sill for summer training several days ago.

Pete Rodgers is the honoree, it may be explained to those not initiated into the Rotary nicknames.

Pete, it may be further explained, had a party fast week, his wife and family being out of town, and District Governor Singleton of Rotary being in town.

Manager DeFreese of the Kemp eating department, was helping the host and invented a new sandwich in honor of the occasion. The sandwich made a decided hit. There were so many inquiries about this composition, etc., that Mr. DeFreese decided to serve 'em regularly. When he would have "Pete Rodgers" printed on the bill of fare, the modest retiring president of Ritary demurred. So they compromised on his middle name, "Alibi."

An Empire Built by One Man

A one-man empire twice the size of Belgium passed out of California history a few days ago when the order was given for the sale of the gigantic Miller and Lux land holdings consisting of $40,000,000 worth of property, embracing millions of acres of grazing land, town sites, canals hills and valleys, and stretching from Oregon to Lower California, which is to be sold and scattered among many owners. The man who was wholly responsible for this gigantic business was Henry Miller, who came over to this country from Germany, a penniless boy. He died in 1916.

2 BOY BANDITS HELD IN VERNON

Caught After Theft of Automobile

Special to the Record News.

VERNON, Aug. 2.—Two alleged bandits are in the Wilbarger county jail facing a serious robbery charge and in addition are self-confessed army deserters, according to the sheriff's office.

The boys, both about 19 years old, landed in the local lockup when they were frustrated in their attempt to make away with a Dodge touring car belonging to Luther Westerman, a garage man living at Oklaunion.

According to Westerman's story, the youths alighted from the Denver train last Saturday, both carrying shotguns, and asked to be driven to the Frisco railroad bridge over Red river. Monday morning a call came for Westerman to come to the bridge in order to bring the passengers of Saturday back to Oklaunion.

Westerman, accompanied by a young crippled boy named Baker, set out in his car to fill his appointment. When they reached the river's edge, they were met by the two boys who pointed their shotguns at them and commanded them to enter an adjacent corn field. Here they were both bound hand and foot.

Farmer Aids in Capture.

Shortly afterwards, Westerman managed to extricate himself, and made for the nearest farm house. Officers in all directions were notified, and a young farmer named Bourland, "listened in" on the conversation. Glancing out of the window of his home he saw the boys pass, headed for Vernon, and jumped into a car to follow them. Passing them a short distance east of Vernon, he continued at full speed to the sheriff's office, warned them of the car's approach and when the aspiring bandits reached the court house square it was to run directly into the waiting arms of the law.

One of the boys gave his home as Wilbarger county. Both lads declared they deserted from Fort Sill, Okla., where they were stationed.

WILBARGER RAISES LEE HIGHWAY FUND.

Special to the Record News.

VERNON, Aug. 2.—Advices were wired yesterday to the director-general of the Lee highway association at Washington, D. C., to the effect that Wilbarger county has $1,000 on hand, and $1,000 pledged for each of the next three years to be devoted to the work of the organization. The funds were raised without difficulty, and enthusiasm over the proposed extension of the transcontinental route from Lawton to Roswell, N. M., via Vernon is running high.

Local citizens are determined to bring the highway through here. Only two days more than a week have elapsed since the project was first broached to the association and the requisite amount of money pledged here.

Cooks Three Meals a Day, Fights Weeds and Runs for Governor

By Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Kan., Aug. 2.—Mrs. W. D. Mowry of this city, was getting a meal ready and tending flowers today while waiting for returns from the primary election. Mrs. Mowry's name appeared on the republican ticket as a candidate for nomination for governor of Kansas.

Her work was interrupted many times today by telephone calls from her friends, eager to hear the returns. But Mrs. Mowry went on battling the weeds that had grown in the week she was mailing campaign literature to voters.

"I have not inquired about my chances for success," she said, "for I do not expect to win the nomination. I believed I could do some pioneer work for women in politics by announcing myself a candidate. I have conducted a campaign without speeches and without asking favors of politicians."

Mrs. Mowry has received hundreds of letters from Kansas voters. Many of them ask her if her running for office does not interfere with her household duties. Mrs. Mowry replied to one persistant Kansas banker that she had managed to cook three meals a day for her husband and although some dust had collected in the house, he doesn't complain.

"My husband is more interested in the returns than I am," Mrs. Mowry said. "He has urged me to make an active campaign since I announced myself and heartily approves my seeking political office."

BERLIN BUILDS IN NEW STYLE

Homes Are Scarce in City

BERLIN, Aug. 2.—Berlin's changing skyline is one of the several outward manifestations which are provoking comment by postwar visitors who vividly recall the city's pre-war appearance, both with respect to the cleanliness of streets and the uniform heights of buildings.

This period of transition is creating among the capital's inhabitants a sort of grouch, due to the disheveled conditions of many of the main thoroughfares and also a species of envy with which the "high fallutin" tourists are viewed by the natives. The natives seem to feel that they are not only being rowded out but obliged to pay more for such lodgings as are available, on account of the fascination which the high offers of foreigners seem to have for Berlin landlords.

Housing Shortage

The prevailing housing shortage also is reflected in the dearth of office accommodations and the capital's once rigid building law as prescribing the heights of buildings are now being given more liberal interpretation.

As a result, there is scarcely a street in the central section of the metropolis which is not cluttered up by clumsy scaffolding or whose sidewalks are not barred to pedestrians. The municipality is not opposing applications for permits for added stories on all sorts of buildings. Primarily because the remodeling process is giving needed employment to thousands of workmen.

The functions of public waste paper containers placed at regular intervals along the main streets in prewar days are now being usurped by women and children, who swoop down upon scraps of paper and discarded newsapers, which later are sold as waste.

Amphitheatre Not for Movies.

It has been finally decided that all the privilege of making use of the offers of moving picture producers for Flavian amphitheatre as a studio, shall be declined. One company had practically secured the use of this sacred pile, but the thought of this desecration aroused such a storm of protest that the contract was annulled.

The train was thrown into a ditch.

The injured include. Mrs. Alice Burton Shaw, Boise, Idaho, back hurt; Clarence J. Cougden, Warren, Ohio, head cut and bruised; Bill Tuel Tamarack, Idaho, bruised cheek; L. C. Robertson, Payette, Idaho, side injured; E. F. Storey, Junction City, Kansas, right arm and back injured; Caspar Schlund, Emmett, Idaho, left side bruised; Robert Crejin, Tucson, Ariz., head bruised.

Now That's Rather Odd

PARIS—Mennislas Charrier was guillotined today for his part in the only train hold-up on record in France, which took place on August 1, 1921. Charrier's two companions were killed by the police at the time of his capture.

The hold-up attracted much nototriety, being referred to by the press as a "real American wild west train robbery as depicted in the motion pictures."

ARDMORE, Okla.—Lewis Jones, 11 years old, became angry last night while playing with friends at his home here and told his playmates he intended to kill himself. When his grandparents returned after an absence of a few hours, they found his body hanging on a rope suspended from a rafter in an outhouse. He had been dead for some time.

HOUSTON—The Houston Electric company was made defendant today in a suit for 5 cents. Dispute over the method of paying a fare in a drop slot box is set forth.

OAKLAND, Cal.—William Elkens, the aged janitor of the Oakland baby hospital, was dead today, but the 50 infants for whom he fought back a fire yesterday all were safe. The fire threatened to destroy the hospital, but Elkens ,single-handed, held it away from the tiny children until the fire department arrived. Then he collapsed and a few minutes later died.

By an improvement recently made in the construction of the pile driver, it is made to drive piles either vertically or at an angle. "Batter" piling the latter is called, and is demanded in some kinds of soil. SOMETHING TO BE THANKFUL FOR.

Then she did something with the gears. The car started off backward and Mrs. Sawin had backed it a count the block three times before her husband came to the rescue and stopped the car. It is her opinion there is nothing more thrilling than a joyride backwards.

Farm Expert Pays Tribute to Keith

"I have found a very unusual situation existing in the Wichita Falls territory in reference to marketing of farm products," declared A. H. Leidigh, agronomist in charge of crop work of Texas A. & M. college and experimental stations, just before he left Wichita Falls Wednesday. "I have found," Mr. Leidigh continued, "that in the person of George Keith the farmers have a produce dealer whom they can trust and who is worthy of their trust." The expert who comes in contact with more Texas farmers than any other man in the state, said that in his investigations among the farms heer he found that Mr. Keith has always treated the farmers fair and that they can put explicit confidence in him in handling their produce. He mentioned that in many places the farmers have been treated unmercifully by the produce men.

France Will Pay Debts—Jusserand

By Associated Press

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—Assurance that France would pay her war debts was given in a formal statement dictated by Jules Jusserand, ambassador to this country, before he sailed today on the Paris for a two months' vacation.

"In relation to reparations," he said, "the French feel that a show of good will by Germany will be the best help to a solution of that problem. We shall pay. We borrowed during the war $3,000,000,000, but we loaned 15,000,000,000 francs to other countries.

"I trust that the United States will be no harder with us than we are with our debtors."

STEAMER CREW FIGHTS DEATH 40 HOURS

An unusual view of the waves pounding the steamer Wiltshire after it had gone ashore off the cliffs of New Zealand and had broken in half. The photo was taken from the branches of a tree on the rocky cliff.

For forty long hours the crew of the steamer Wiltshire fought to escape death after the ship had gone aground off the New Zealand coast. Pounding of the waves broke the vessel in half and amidship and disabled the wireless apparatus. For nearly two days rescuers tried to reach the disabled ship without success because of the rough sea. No lives were lost.

NEW YORK BONDS

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—Pronounced weakness in foreign bonds, presumably as the result of Great Britains' announcement of her attitude on the international debt situation, featured the trading on the New York stock exchange. French municipal and government bonds were particularly heavy, dropping large fractions to 1 1-2 points with corresponding weakness in Belgian's and the Czecho-Slovakian issues.

American war flotations were in better demand, the liberty 3 1-2s rising to 101.26 or 4 cents above the previous high for the year.

Rails, especially those of a speculative nature also were in good demand. Norfolk and western convertible sixes advanced 4 1-4 points, apparently in sympathy with the jump in that road's stock. Erie prior 4s sold at their best figure for 1922. American sugar 6s which registered a new top featured the industrial list.

NEW YORK COTTON

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—The cotton market lost over a cent a pound off yesterday's advance during today's trading. Buyers on the government crop of yesterday were evidently disappointed by the failllure of figures to create a more general demand and it was reported that older long accounts were also being liquidated on today's break which carried December contracts off 21.77 or 48 points net lower and 113 points below yesterday's high level. Closing prices were the lowest of the day with the market barely steady at net declines of 48 to 57 points.

The opening decline of 2 to 32 points was promoted by relatively easy Liverpool cables which local traders seemed to regard as indicating that yesterday's crop figures had failed to stimulate foreign trade buying.

COTTON TONE STAYS SOFT

Prices Seeking Low Levels

By Associated Press

NEW ORLEANS, La., Aug. 2.—During the greater part of today's session the cotton market had a soft undertone and the tendency of prices was decidely lower with the greatest pressure to sell in the late trading so that the close was at practically the lowest of the day at net losses of 44 to 48 points. October traded down to 21.40 and closed at that price which has 110 points off from the high level reached following the bureau report yesterday.

Much of the selling of the day was done by traders who seemed inclined to review the private bureau reports on conditions to July 25 and to attach significance to the fact that most of them were above the ten year average while the government figures were well below. Again the weekly crop reports issued today were considered favorable for this time of the year and not at all in line with the monthly report.

Poor cables and liquidation from the long side helped to make a lower opening and the first decline continued until it amounted to 33 to 39 points. Complaints of high temperatures and drouth in the western belt caused recoveries of about 20 points but by mid-session the decline was again renewed.

Stock Prices Stand Up Well Under Pressure

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—Prices in the stock market stood up well today in the face of conditions which could hardly be regarded as encouraging. Rejection by the railway executives of President Harding's strike plan and publication of Great Britain's note on international indebtedness increased bearish sentiment.

Early prices were generally but not materially lower, a sharp rally offsetting initial declines. The recovery held until well towards the end of the session when short pressure was directed against shipping and some of the rail and oil shares which resulted in some irregularity. An accumulation of buying orders made their appearance however, just before the close and a number of the standard issues closed substantially higher.

Car loadings of revenue freight for the week ending July 22, totalled 861,124 cars. Omitting coal loadings, which totalled 76,060, or 1,274 less than the week before, the total loadings were the heaviest for this season of the year in the history of American railroads.

Weekly iron and steel reviews continued pessimistic in tone as the result of fuel shortage in that industry. The steel corporation's plants are reported to have fallen back to 70 per cent of capacity operations as compared with 76 per cent luring June and independent plans have fallen below the 60 per cent level.

Complications in the foreign situation caused a marked heaviness in the prices of foreign securities. French government and municipal bonds declining large fractions to nearly 1½ points. City of Prague 7½s closed 4 points below yesterday's prices.

DECLINES COME IN WHEAT PIT

Drops Follow Early Advances

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 2.—Although uncertainty over the rail and coal strikes tended to lift prices a little in the wheat market today, declines at the last resulted from tatempts at profit taking on the part of traders who had brought earlier. The close was weak 1-8 cents to 1-2 cents net lower, with September $1.05 5-8 to 1.05 3-4 and December 1.07 3-4 to 1.07 7-8. Corn lost 1-8 cents to 1 3-8 and oats 1-8@1-4 to 3-8 cents.

In provisions, the outcome varied from 7 cents decline to 5 cents advance.

Prospects of better weather in the southwest as well as slowness of cash demand weakened the corn market. Oats were neglected.

Lard reflected the bullish influence of a decrease in the warehouse stockholder. Otherwise, the provision market was governed by changes in the value of hogs.

POWER LINE FOR DAM COMPLETED

Main Culbert Also Nearly Ready

The $90,000 power line for the Wichita valley irrigation project is completed, tested out and working in fine order, according to Chief Engineer, R. A. Thompson. The line was completed by Engineer Seward and the last act of the engineer's life was to see that it was completed in every detail. He had just come down from one of the transformers when he was overcome from sunstroke last Sunday and died Monday. The power line is 41 miles long and has a three-phase 3,800-volt with aluminum cable

Not only the power lines, but the main culvert at the dam site has been completed, all except the intake in the outlet and the tower house. This will all be completed within two weeks, Mr. Thompson said. The dredge, too, has been made ready for work and every phase of the construction is going on nicely on schedule time.

Because of the expected flood water in the latter part of August or early September, the river will not be closed until about Sept. 5, Thompson said. Then the water will begin to rise.

Langford Drives New Lincoln Here

Captain W. S. Langford of the Motor Supply Co., drove in from Dallas yesterday in one of the new Lincoln sedans. The captains says she runs like a Swiss watch, and looks like a million dollars. He also stated he had placed an order for fifteen new Lincoln models to be delivered in the near future, this order being about four times greater than any order placed by any other dealer in the Dallas territory.

POLICE SEEK FORD STOLEN IN FT. WORTH

"M. Wilson" is the name scratched on the rear right door of a Ford officers here are looking for.

The Ford was stolen at Fort Worth August 1, and is believed to have been driven in this direction. No trace of the vehicle had been found here late yesterday, although the city police department had not given up the hunt.

The car is understood to have been practically new, and to have had a number of new accessories on it, at the time of its theft.

MANY STOLEN FORDS REPORTED TO POLICE

Ford thieves are busy everywhere. According to information received by the local police department yesterday, they were quite busy in the vicinity of Groom, Texas, August 1.

A 1917 Ford was stolen at that place on Tuesday, the report was made to local officers, and W. K. Oats of Cooper, Texas, is instigating an earnest search for the machine, which is his property.

Harbor Tug Blown to Pieces

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—The harbor tug Edward was blown to pieces today and the five men of her crew were killed when her boiler exploded while she lay in her slip on the Brooklyn side of the East river, three blocks up stream from the Manhattan bridge.

The mangled remains of the skipper, Capt. Charles McCaffrey, were found floating a block from where his tug blew up. One other body was recovered.

Judge Marrs Goes Over Court Record

Judge J. P. Marrs, magistrate of corporate court, and Lenly Humphris, desk sergeant, were busy yesterday checking over the old dockets and arranging the present records in their proper form.

It is understood that a number of cases which have stood on the docket for a considerable length of time have been dismissed as the result of the check being made by the court.

QUICK THINKING BOY SAVES TWO WOMEN

Due to the quick-thinking power of a 13-year-old boy, and the swimming ability of a man sitting on the banks of a stream near Pampa, Texas, Mrs. W. B. Rose, Louise Killman and a "Miss Peeble" was narrowly saved from a watery grave recently.

The trio of ladies went into the water for a swim, but ventured into deep holes. A 13-year-old lad, L. B. Killman, Jr., noticed them when they were going under the third time, and sounded a warning that drew C. L. Gray into the stream. Gray rescued one of the women, while the lad pulled the other two to the waters' edge and resuscitated them all.

LOTS OF JOBS FOR WHITE WOMEN HERE

White women seeking employment are in demand at the headquarters of the welfare board, it became known yesterday.

Mrs. Gorsline, secretary in charge of the board, announced that calls to her department seeking white women to do housework, etc., are numerous at the present time, women unincumbered being preferred.

It was Mrs. Gorsline's assertion that any women desiring to locate such work could obtain employment by notifying her.

NO VERDICT YET IN SMITH CASE

Jury Locked Up for Night

The jury in the case of Ed Smith, charged with a statutory offense in connection with an alleged attack on Norah Phillips, a 14-year-old girl, was locked up late last night without having reached a decision.

The case went to the jury yesterday afternoon at 3:27, following two hours of heated argument on the part of counsel for both the sate and defense.

Smith took the stand in his own defense yesterday morning when the state had rested, and narrated his story of the ride alleged to have occurred on the night of April 27, at which time it is charged by the state the assault occurred.

Blames Brother For Ride

Smith said that he had met Frank Phillips through his sister, Norah, and that he had met the latter on the streets selling postal cards. He said he had bought several packs of cards from the girl, and that it was at the suggestion of her brother, who, he declared from the witness stand had promised to pay him $10 in labor for the favor, that he, Smith, had taken Norah, Frank and Ines Smith for the ride.

Smith denied all the allegations made by the prosecutrix, and it was his emphatic assertion that he had "never touched the little kid in my life."

He said "that night we drove out about five miles from town on the Thornberry road, and the lights began to flicker. I stopped the car and fixed them, and while I was stopped, Frank and Ines got out of the car, took the back cushion and went off a short distance—I don't know where they went, but they came back when I called for them and said we were ready to go."

Denies Having Whiskey

He denied that he had had any whisky on that occasion, or that there had been any liquor in his car on that night.

It was his declaration from the stand to the jury that Frank had suggestion taking the Smith woman along, although he admitted having asked her to get in the car when they drove to her house. "But I asked her to get in after Frank had asked her along," he said.

Smith said he is 27 years old, and testified that he has been married twice. His first wife, he said, is divorced, and is living in Fort Worth, his present wife living here with the defendant, where, he testified, he is operating a truck company.

The defendant testified that he is an ex-soldier, that he served 18 months overseas and that as a result of being gassed in France "my left lung is shriveled up the size of a pea."

Auto Body As Evidence

During the afternoon session of the trial, the body of the Essex car in which the ride is alleged to have been taken was brought into the 30th district court room and placed before the jury as an exhibit in evidence concerning the dimensions of the vehicle. It was the first time in the history of the 30th district court that an automobile body was ever brought before a jury.

The case went to trial Tuesday at noon, after a day and a half in the selection of jurors had been required by the state and the defense attorneys. Many spectators crowded the court room during the course of the hearing, and the audience during the two days was dotted with a large number of women, a number of whom occupied front seats.

Threatens to Clear Room

Several times during the trial, Judge H. R. Wilson, before whom the case was held ,threatened to clear the court room because of laughter, and on each occasion the magistrate warned against "using this court room as a place of amusement."

The defendant presented an attitude of composure when he took the stand yesterday, and was apparently unemotional when the case had gone to the hands of the jurors.

His wife and baby child sat beside him during the argument, while just across a table from him sat the prosecutrix, her father and mother.

No sign of recognition between Smith and the prosecutrix was apparent, and neither looked at the other during the argument. Several times during state's argument, Norah put her face in her hands and wept bitterly, apparently moved by references to her character.

GOVERNMENT RATS.

The dairy division of the United States agricultural department has a rat show which is being shipped around the country to demonstrate the value of a milk diet. One is fat and sleek and has been given milk in addition to some other food, but the other is thin and puny. It had been deprived of milk. These rats were chosen from two cages each containing six rats. All had about the same start and after two months the milk-fed rats had flourished and the others had lost weight. The difference was very marked.

WICHITA BOYS AT FORT SILL

Local Guards Living in Tents Now

Harold B. Wynne, of company "D" the local unit of the national guard has been appointed official reporter of the battery, his duty being to keep "the folks back home" informed as to what the Wichita Falls boys are doin gat Fort Sill. Following is his first news letter to the Record News:

After having been designtaed official reporter for battery "D" 131st field artillery, I will attempt to keep the newspapers flooded with the activities of the Wichita Falls battery, now at the annual encampment at Fort Sill, Okla.

"The battery left Wichita Falls via W. F. and Northwestern railway about 8:30 a. m., Friday, July 28. Through some good angel the troop train from Frederick, Okla., to Fort Sill, Okla., was held about five hours for us, and we arrived here at 3:30 p. m. of the 28th.

"Tent pitching was first on the program and for three hours the 'shirtless battery' (as we were named) toiled in the hot Oklahoma sun, preparing a tented city which will be our home for two weeks. It is needless to say that the mess call on that evening brought joy to the hearts of 35 husky, fast bronzing sons of Wichita.

Battery Vaccinated

"Saturday and Sunday were utilized to complete the minor arrangements preparatory to two weeks of extensive training in artillery work. Among the duties of Sunday was taking a vaccination for small pox and the first innocolatio of typhus serum. Except for a few sore arms, the entire battery is in the best of condition and ready for the week's work.

"The Wichita Falls battery is composed of 35 enlisted men and two officers, all imbued with the idea of making battery "D" the best battery of 131st field artillery, one which the people of Wichita Falls will be glad to claim as their own. We intend to carry off many of the honors of the camp.

"Visitors to the camp will be welcomed especially on next Saturday and Sunday at which time most of the battery will be at leisure."

INJURED VERNON BOY RECOVERING RAPIDLY

Lon C. Eakle, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Eakle of Vernon is reported to be recovering from injuries sustained early in the week when he was run over by an automobile. The boy, age 10 years, with others was riding in an automobile driven by C. A. Kressenberg and tried to jump out while the car was in motion but his clothes hung on the door and he fell under the wheel. He was rushed to a physician. He was found to have sustained a badly injured knee cap and severe bruises.

ATTENTION CIGAR SMOKERS.

This morning we are putting on a sale of cigars at an average of $1.00 per box of 50 (many of them foil wrapped.) These cigars were obtained from the bankrupt stock of the Wolfson Wholesale Cigar Co., this city, were bought at a bargain and we intend to pass the saving along to our customers. Come in early before the choice ones are gone. Think of it, foil wrapped cigars, 10c and 15c sellers ordinarily, and you can buy them today at 2c each.

NEXT VICTIM

Ever Hammer's jaw will be the next target for Leonard's wallops.

(By SOCKEM)

Now that Bennie Leonard, king pin of the lighties, has disposed of the claims of Lew Tendler, with more or less trouble according to the thousand and one reports of the fight, and also, let us hope, settled his "grudge" against the Philadelphia Hebrew, he will proceed forthwith to Michigan City, Ind., where he meets Ever Hammer in Floyd Fitzsimmons' arena August 5.

Ever Hammer, surnamed the "bristling blonde tiger" for some reason unknown to most fight fans, may not pull a Rocky Kansas but the chances are he won't much more than muss Bennie's well-oiled locks a trifle.

DOCTORS HELP NEEDY FAMILY

Two Children Ill; Baby Dead

Tragedy has taken the place of illness and distress in the home of an impoverished Wichita Falls family in the death of the youngest of three sufferers with typhoid fever, the baby, just sixteen months old.

Two other members of the same family are very ill with typhoid, the father is out of work, and the mother too ill herself to care for five small children who are not ill.

The family of which there are now eight members, is living in a two-room shack "in No. Man's Land", and there are no beds for the patients.

One daughter, eighteen years old and the mother of a six months old baby, is in the hospital; another, just nine, is on a mattress in the shack, under the care of her father, formerly a laborer on the dam site, now unable to work on account of the domestic situation.

Salvation Army Helps

The gowns the little girl wears and the ice which helps cool her burning fever are furnished by the salvation army which has taken the family in charge. As yet, the army has been unable to supply beds, the entire family, including the enfeebled mother and the baby granddaughter, sleeping on old mattresses and rags on the floor.

Last Friday, the baby, who has been ill for weeks in a shack near the dam, succumbed to the fever. The family moved into town when the illness of several of its members increased.

The father of the stricken family answered in the affirmative when asked if he had money.

"How much," was the next question. The head of the family of eight answered, "One-Fifty."

Local physicians are co-operating with the salvation army in its efforts to relieve what has become a desperate situation. The nine year old girl has been urged to go to the hospital, but she becomes so unhappy and tearful at the suggestion that it has been thought advisable to leave her undisturbed in her present serious condition.

Confederate Vet Seeking Work Here

Who wants to help an old man make a living?

Slightly stooped from the weight of years and toil, but with the spirit of a young man and still physically able to do light work, a confederate veteran has applied at the chamber of commerce for work. He wants to make his own living. He needs the work. This hero of a lost cause is among the few survivors of that famous army that went down in defeat fighting for what they believed to be right. He hasn't many more years ahead of him and all he wants is some kind of work where he may earn his own living. Any one who has work that he can do communicate with the chamber of commerce.

Thermometer Sets New Record Here

'Ive seen many a record broke
And I've shouted and cheered with the throng;
But heat records ain't no joke—
I'll be dog-gone glad when they're gone.
—Street Corner Ballads.

The world's record for heat, so far as Wichita Falls is the world, was broken here Wednesday when the mercury soared skyward to the 112 degree mark and gave full measure. The high point was reached between 3 and 4 o'clock in the afternoon and suffering from heat was intense. The extreme heat was registered by the thermometer in the Art Jewelry store which makes records of all stages of the heat and is regulated in accordance with government thermometers.

Everybody in Wichita Falls except those whose duties called them outside took to the shade until the hot wave passed over. It was not until late in the afternoon that the atmosphere cooled perceptibly.
