

KISS A BABY WEEK - Mayor C.J. Givens gives Joe Dale Cary a big kiss just after signing a proclamation declaring Sept. 27 through Aug. 2 as "Kiss A Baby Week" in Olton. The special week was set aside to conduct a fund raising campaign for cystic fibrosis.

Mustangs Squeeze By Hornets

By Gary Cooper

"It was just one of those things that happens. That's my position and where I play" said Steve Johnson.

As the clock ticked off with 2:55 in the fourth quarter, the Tulia Hornets set the play to pass. Steve Johnson stepped up and intercepted the ball for the Mustangs.

The game was great defensively for both teams. With the great blocking of the offensive line the Mustangs moved through the Hornets defense. But with the usual problems in any game the Mustangs fumbled, and had interceptions which hurt the Hornets just as bad.

In the first quarter the Mustangs fumbled the ball to end the start of a series of plays. The Hornets recovered and started their drive. With the great playing of the defense the Hornets were forced to punt. Olton called for a fair catch which was bobbled but, recovered by Rene Saldivar.

Here the Mustangs started moving down field with the running ability of Leslie Gary and Steve on David Johnson. The Mustangs sent Robert Offield from the slot position for a pass which was just off his finger tips. But as they say "try again" and the pass to Robert was perfect for a 30 yard gain which didn't end there. A late hit by a Hornet added 15 more yards to the play.

The Hornets being alert recovered a Mustang fumble to stop the drive. The defense showing their quickness forced the Hornets to punt.

The Mustangs showing their ability, Steve Johnson ran an option with skill and David Johnson using a hand to gain more ground. An interception stopped the drive for the Mustangs. Tulia still couldn't take the ball into end zone which brought up the half.

The second half started out like the first one. The Mustang line started opening up holes for the backs to go through. Then the big cramps started showing up. The coaches got into the scene helping players to the side line. With all this happening the Hornets began moving down field. Then the Hornets tried to throw the ball, but Steve Johnson intercepted and raced for a touchdown. The important extra kick by Brad Allcorn put the Mustangs ahead 7-0.

But the Hornets hadn't given up hope. Hard running and good passes showed the determination of the Hornets. The Mustangs backed up to the nine yard line and dug in. It looked like the Hornets were stopped. But halfback Larry Anderson raced around left end to the far corner for a touchdown. The game leaning on the extra point, the hornets tried a pass which failed saving the game.

Olton 'Kiss A Baby Week' Proclaimed By Mayor Givens

Mayor C.J. GIvens today signed a proclamation declaring Sept. 27-Aug. 2 as Kiss a Baby Week in Olton, Tex.

The Breath of Life Campaign is conducted annually by the Lone Star Chapter of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation which supports research, care and education programs for children suffering from lung-damaging diseases.

Mayor Givens urged citizens to support this campaign. "If you've ever had trouble breathing," he said, "you know it can be a terrifying experience. For the millions of children with lung-damaging diseases, breathing is an every day struggle. These children need our help."

Mrs. David Kersh, chairman of the 1976 Kiss A Baby fund-raising drive, stressed that parents especially should know the signs of lung-damaging diseases.

"This awareness can facilitate early diagnosis and treatment of these diseases," she explained. "Particularly with cystic fibrosis, early treatment can help prolong a child's life."

Signs of lung-damaging diseases are recurrent wheezing, persistent coughing with excessive mucus, pneumonia more than once, excessive appetite but poor weight gain and clubbing or enlargement of fingertips.

Other signs that are peculiar to cystic fibrosis are a salty taste of the skin, persistent and bulky diarrhea and nasal polyps.

Diagnosis and treatment of cystic fibrosis and other children's lung-damaging diseases, Mrs. Kersh pointed out, are provided by a nationwide network of more than 100 Cystic Fibrosis Centers supported by the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation.

"The most serious of these children's lung diseases, cystic fibrosis is the number one genetic killer of children," she explained. "Cystic Fibrosis affects one out of every 1,500 infants born each year and occurs when a child inherits two genes for the disease, one from each parent. The parents don't have cystic fibrosis, but they are among the 10 million carriers of the gene."

Although presently incurable, cystic fibrosis can be effectively treated.

She explained that when the Foundation was established in 1955, most children with cystic fibrosis didn't reach school age. "Now, more than 50 percent of those with the disease can be expected to live past age 18. Many of the treatment procedures developed for cystic fibrosis also help children with other lung-damaging diseases."

Opening week competition in the annual Enterprise football contest found all contestants having little difficulty with none missing more than six games. The winner, Olton Junior High student Leslie Mills, turned in a perfect slate with all games predicted correctly. The flawless slate earned him top prize for the week, $5, and the lead in season's standings with 14 points.

Four contestants missed just one game each with the Mustangs-Hornet game having to determine the second and third place winners for the week. Mable Parker of Breckenridge was closest on the tie-breaker contest, missing the actual score seven points with a 13-7 prediction.

Wandie Hutson claims third place. His 14-7 prediction missed the actual score by eight points.

Other contestants who missed just one game were Amos Walden, nine points off, 14 to 8 and C.M. Moss, 16 points off, 8 to 21.

All contestants received one free point for the incorrect pairing of Floydada and Morton.

Grand prize winner, the contestant with the most correct picks at the end of the contest, will receive $50. Any one can be the winner; even a contestant who missed the first week's competition.

Standings are subject to change each week when contestants hit slumps or lucky streaks. No one should give up seeking to attain the grand prize. Remember, too, any one can be a weekly winner.

The contest is fun and costs nothing to enter. Every member of a family can enter but only one entry per contestant is allowed. It's easy. Select a winner in each of the games listed in the ads of the sponsoring merchants on the contest page of the Enterprise. Circle the corresponding number on the entry blank and predict the tie-breaker. Fill in the entry blank and deposit with any of the sponsoring merchants.

Remember, if you enjoy the contest, tell the sponsors you appreciate their making the contest possible. Trade with those merchants; they appreciate your business.

Winckler Named Minister For Hillcrest Temple Church

The Rev. Ron Winckler has recently accepted the call of Hillcrest Temple to serve as pastor. Already upon the field and serving in this capacity, he and his wife, Connie and two small boys, Joshua, age four, and Jonathan, three, are making their home at the corner of Ninth Street and Ave. G.

For the past six years the Rev. Winckler has been associated with Melodyland, a Christian center in Ahaheim, Calif. The inter-denominational center has a membership of some 6,000 with average attendance of 12,000.

During his stay at Melodyland the young pastor received three years of theological and pastoral training. He was ordained for the ministry in August, 1972, at the Center.

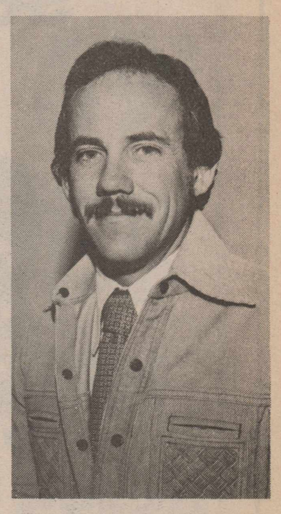

While in the Center, the Rev. Winckler was closely associated with The Hot Line, the first in the nation to accept calls of help in crisis situations. His specialty in this work was in drug counseling as he headed a speaker's bureau and held drug prevention schools. While so involved he trained counselors and helped establish drug prevention schools in Phoenix, Ariz., in northern California, Mississippi, Arkansas, New Mexico and Mexico City.

Working in southern California he has spoken to thousands of junior high, high school and college students setting forth effects and consequences of drug use.

The Rev. Winckler has also engaged in evangelistic work in many of these areas. He stresses the idea that his work is "in community outreach". He feels that "it is the purpose of the church to assist anyone with physical and spiritual needs, whether they are members or not."

The young pastor came to Hillcrest Temple following a few months stay in Roswell, N.M. He states that Hillcrest is planning a building program in the very near future to expand the services of the church. He says "We want it to be a community church, with no demoninational tags, a place for any one to come for worship . . . anyone who is not already involved in worship elsewhere."

He also states that Sunday evening services, beginning at 6 p.m. will involve a study through the entire Bible in one year. Wednesday night Bible Study, at 8 p.m. will be devoted to basic Christian Doctrines.

TAES Field Day To Feature Weed Control Equipment

A recent innovation in weed control equipment is proving effective in controlling johnsongrass, a weed pest that inundates the Texas High Plains, reports a Texas Agricultural Experiment Statin scientist here.

The innovatin is the recirculating sprayer, a device attached to tractors which is used to kill weeds which are taller than the crop.

The sprayer is one of several featured highlights in the upcoming 67th edition of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station's annual field day, Tuesday, Sept 14. The afternoon event will be at the Experiment Station at Halfway, 14 miles west of Plainview on Highway 70.

Dr. John Abernathy, TAES scientist who heads up weed control research for the Lubbock Experiment Station which is co-hosting the field day, says the recirculating sprayer has given in research tests excellent johnsongrass control in cotton and soybeans at a cost of less than two dollars an acre.

Guests will see experimental tests using the recirculating sprayer in such studies as chemical roging of sorghum, johnsongrass and shattercane control in sorghum whiteweed control in skip row, and volunteer sunflower control.

Tours of the 320-acre site begin at 1:00 p.m. with tractor-pulled trailors carrying field day guests along a one-hour route throughout the afternoon. In addition to six featured agricultural field stops, slide-audio presentations of research highlights and a large farm machinery display supplied by area implement dealers can be viewed.

Irrigation Specialist Discusses Corn Maturity Identification

Experienced farmers will tell you they can look at a corn crop and tell whether the grain is ripe. But when it comes to the question of irrigating during late growth stages, even they may have to admit they're sometimes not sure.

Judging grain maturity in corn is a matter of micro-measurements, agriculturists say. And it all has to do with the "maturity line".

Leon New, irrigation specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says maturity stages determine whether further irrigation is profitable, and should be closely checked before irrigating.

Corn kernels mature from the outward tip inward toward the cob, he says. As kernel maturity progresses, a definite white-yellow color distinction can be seen. This color separation on each kernel is known as the maturity line, commonly referred to as the starch line.

"The outward portion of the kernel that is mature and has reached full weight is yellow and hard while the inner portion toward the cob is white, in the dough stage and yet to mature," New says. "In heavier clay soils such as Pullman silty clay loam, Acuff and Olton loam, growers should irrigate until the maturity line has progressed to one-third to one-half the inward distance down the kernel.

"In other words, try to have a full profile of soil moisture at this stage of maturity," New advises. "This level of soil moisture is generally adequate for the unmature portion of the kernel to mature and to maintain stalk quality. On sandy soils, corn should be irrigated until the maturity line has progressed one-half to two-thirds the distance down the kernel. This will normally occur around Aug. 15 to 20 for corn planted in mid-April."

New says the maturity line is also visible on white corn kernels but it is not as distinct as in yellow kernels. To identify the maturity line, one should break a corn ear in two, and closely inspect the exposed full kernels.

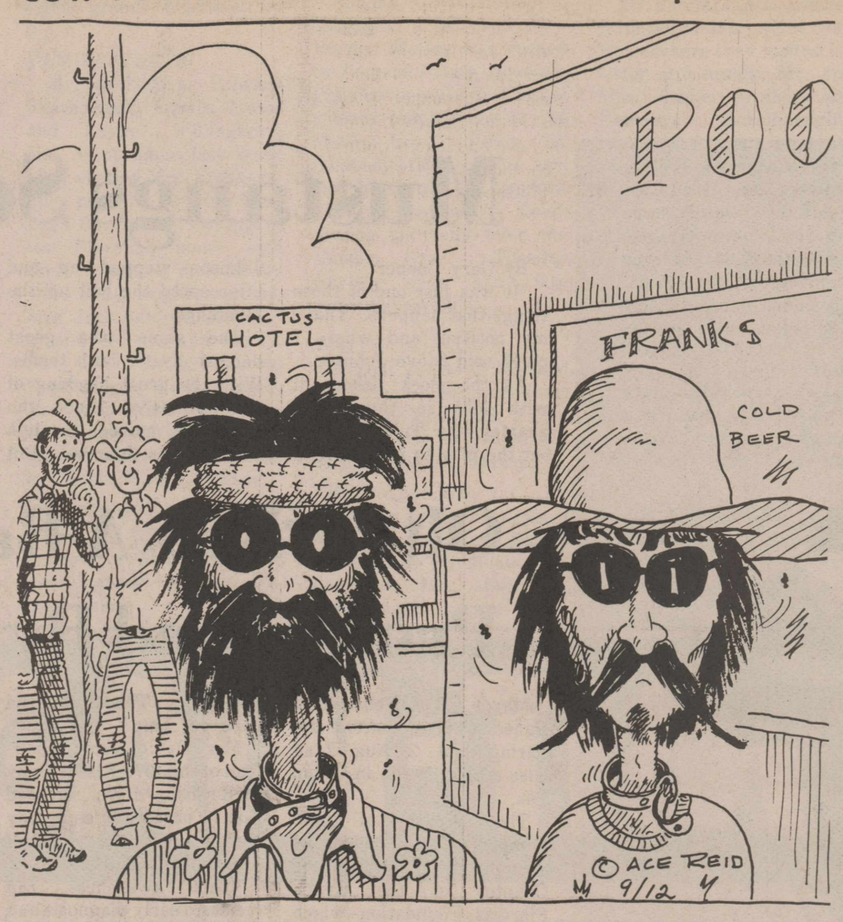

There are two other methods of identifying corn maturity, both relating to the maturity line. One is denting and the other is the forming of the black layer.

Denting is the first stage of maturity, New says. It occurs as the maturity line forms and begins to move inward down the kernel. It can be identified by the small indention in the outward or end tips of the kernel after removing the

Greenbug Resistant Sorghum To Be Featured Field Day

Greenbug resistant sorghum are among several featured research highlights of this year's annual field day of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

The event will be Tuesday, Sept. 14, at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Halfway, 14 miles west of Plainview of Highway 70.

Dr. Charles R. Ward, research entomologist, and Dr. Jerry Johnson, sorghum breeder who has been instrumental in developing greenbug resistant breeding lines, will be on hand to discuss this year's studies. Both Ward and Johnson are research scientists based at the Lubbock Experiment Station which is co-hosting the special occasion.

Several experimetal greenbug resistant hybrids produced by Johnson as well as numerous commercial hybrids will be available for public viewing during the field day, says Ward.

Gene Lathan, Hale County Extension Service entomologist, and Dr. William (Pat) Morison, area entomologist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at Lubbock, also will be on hand to discuss greenbug resistant sorghums. They will be stationed three miles down the road (Highway 70), east of Halfway, at a research demonstration-planting of greenbug sorghums. These sorghums are located on the north side of the road, Ward says.

Lokeys Tour Northwest, Alaskan Trip Described

Mr. and Mrs. C.T. Lokey and his cousin, Mrs. Zelma Kelly, Brownsville, left Olton July 9 for a tour of some six weeks through northwestern United States, Canada and Alaska. From Great Falls, Mont. they entered Canada in the area of Calgary, Alberta. They were in Banff National Park and viewed Lake Louise and the Columbia Ice Fields. There they went by a type of closed in tractor out five miles on ice to a spot where the ice is 600 feet in depth. The ice is said to be receding at the rate of two inches each year.

At Dawson Creek, British Columbia, the Texans began their 1523 mile ride on the Al-Con Highway to Fairbanks, Alaska. They describe this road as being very rough.

At White Horse in the Yukon they toured the world famous museum.

They entered Alaska at Tox Junction and went from there to Fairbanks where they saw the magnificent museum and the university of Alaska, the world's most northernmost institution of higher learning.

They stayed overnight at Park Ranger Station at the foot of Mt. McKinley. They took a bus at 8 a.m. for an 85 mile tour of the mountain returning at 5:45 p.m. It was the first day in two weeks that the weather would permit the tour. They saw bears, caribou and mountain goats. Eight passengers began the trip but 51 people were crowded into the bus when they reached the Ranger Station that evening.

From Mt. McKinley they went to Anchorage where they took a bus tour of the city and the site of the 1964 earthquake. They saw large salmon in the nearby stream.

The Oltonites and their companion traveled to Portage, Palmer, Tox Junction, Copper Center, Valdez, back to Tox Junction and on to Haines. Many places in Alaska they saw the pipe lines used to carry oil to the main portion of our nation. At Copper Center they stayed in a hotel which was established as a road house in 1849 and has been in continuous operation since that time. The spiral stairway and floors were of black walnut, highly polished.

They saw the national flower, the flaming red fire weed, growing in profusion in many parts of the state.

At Haines they boarded their station wagon on a ferry that carried one hundred cars and their passengers through Juno, Wrangell, Petersburg, Ketichakan, Prince Rupert and Prince George. They were on the ferry some thirty six hours for a distance of more than one thousand miles. Near Ketichakan they saw schools of whales. One cannot leave Juno, Wrangell, Petersburg or Kitchakan except by air or by water.

At Oak Harbor, Wash. the Texans visited Mr. and Mrs. Roy Carder Jr., son and daughter-in-law of Mrs. Roy Jr. Carder of Olton and at Tacoma, Wash. they were guests of Mrs. Lokey's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Owen, Kirk and Daren and the Owen's daughter Jan of Denver, Colo., visiting in Tacoma. In Colorado Springs they visited Mr. Lokey's cousins widow, Mrs. J.K. Box.

On the trip their car was driven 8877 miles.

STUDENTS VISIT

Vic Allcorn who is a student at Howard Payne College, Brownwood, was here during the weekend with his family, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Allcorn, Kyle and Troy Don. Accompanying Vic were Tim Vertel, El Paso, Miss Donna Clark, Orange, Calif., and Miss April Beird of Austin. The three are attending Howard Payne.

HOSPITAL VISIT

Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Lively visited Sunday afternoon in the Littlefield Hospital with their daughter-in-law Mrs. Thomas Lively of Earth who was admitted to the hospital Wednesday.

Counselor's Corner

By David Grayson

Juniors will be able to join over one million other students around the world in taking the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test/ National Merit Qualifying Test (PSAT/NMSQT) this fall. The test, cosponsored by the College Board and National Merit Scholarship Corporation, is an important step in making college plans.

Scheduled for Oct. 19, the PSAT/NMSQT measures verbal and mathematical aptitude - two abilities important in doing college work.

The test can also lead to other opportunities for high school students:

They can enter the competition for scholarships administered by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation;

They can participate in the College Board's Student Search Service and have their name sent to colleges interested in students like them;

They can get a good idea of what the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) is like.

With their score reports, students will receive a copy of Your PSAT/NMSQT Scores, a booklet that contains valuable information about estimating SAT scores, finding out where to get and how to use more detailed information about colleges and financial aid, and planning for financing a college education.

Also, by using the College Board's College Handbook, students can compare themselves with enrolled students at the 2,864 colleges and universities listed.

The Juniors may register for the test by paying a fee of $2.75 in the counselor's office. Tentative deadline for registering and paying the fee has been set for noon, Sept. 13.

Plant Clinic To Be Held

A free "House Plant Clinic" will be held Thursday, Sept. 16 from 3 to 5 p.m. and from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. at the Pioneer Gas Flame Room, Littlefield. The event is sponsored by Lamb County Family Living Committee and Lamb County Extension Service.

ty Extension Service. Educational programs sponsored by the Extension Service are for people of all ages, race, sex, color, natural origin or social or economic level.

Conducting the clinic will be Dr. Robert Berry, Area Plant Pathologist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Those interested are invited to bring plants for suggested care.

Mr., Mrs. Raymon Carson Returned Home Wednesday

Mr. and Mrs. Raymon Carson returned Wednesday after an absence of some two weeks. In Ogallala, Neb. they were guests of their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. James Carson, Christie, Angela and Jamie. The Oltonites and the James Carson family toured the South Dakota Black Hills National Park.

Among points of interest they viewed was Mount Rushmore with its stone carvings depicting the heads of Presidents George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, Abraham Lincon and Theodore Roosevelt. This is the largest sculpturing in the world and is visible for a distance of sixty miles. At night a lighting system makes the scene spectacular. Forest Rangers supervise the showing of the slides which explain the historical background of the project and its designer, Gutzon Borglum, who was born in Idaho and educated in Nebraska.

They toured parts of Custer State Park which with its 65,000 acres of forested land is one of the largest parks in our nation. In Custer Park Carsons saw the formations called Cathedral Rock and Needle Rock. In the town of Custer the children enjoyed Flintstone Park with its characters of comic book fame.

In Spearfish Canyon they saw the noted waterfalls and the wonder cave.

Before returning home Mr. and Mrs. Raymon Carson stayed a few days in Kinsley, Ks. with a son and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Carson, Clay and Ray.

MRS. JOE ALCORTA

Miss Cannon, Mr. Alcorta Pledge Twin Vows Saturday

Myriad candles formed the background and lighted the altar area of Main Street Church of Christ Saturday, Sept. 4, for an exchange of nuptial vows between Miss Debora Lynnette Cannon and Joe Alcorta. Officiating the double ring vows was Rex Boyles, director of youth for the church.

The bride is daughter of Mrs. Sue Cannon. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Alcorta, Plains, are parents of the groom.

Choral selections were presented as a prelude, and for the ceremony included "More", "Follow Me" and "The Wedding Prayer."

An arched candelabra was flanked by groupings of multibranch candelabra, all fitted with Cathedral tapers in a rainbow of pastel colors and entwined with English ivy.

Presented in marriage by her brother, Jimmy Cannon of Amarillo, the bride wore a romantic gown of white chiffon over bridal satin, designed by the bride and fashioned by her mother. The moulded bodice featured a wide V-neckline, and short sleeves formed by graduating lengths of flaring ruffles. Neckline and sleeve ruffles were outlined in lace. Matching lace traced the high rise waist line and culminated with a soft bow of self material at center back. The flaring A-line skirt was re-embroidered with flowerlets of matching lace, and swept into a full chapel train. Matching lace across the skirt front formed a tunic effect.

She wore a layered veil of silk illusion, also outlined in matching scalloped lace and held in place by a caplet of lace and chiffon. She carried a cascade arrangement of pink roses, interspersed with multi-color carnations and tied with a shower of pastel satin ribbons.

She carried pennies in her shoe minted in the dates of birth of both bride and groom, and wore the traditional blue garter.

Mrs. David Wiggains, Lubbock, served as her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Misses Cindy Walden, Naomi Lewis and Alice Alcorta, sister of the groom. Little miss Janice Herrera, neice of the groom, was flower girl.

Feminine attendants were gowned in pastel shades of dotted Swiss. Styled along Empire lines the gowns featured V-neckline, short flared sleeve and A-line skirt terminating in deep ruffle. Belts of self material tied in bows of back interest. Mrs. Wiggains wore pink, Miss Walden, yellow; Miss Lewis, mint green, Miss Alcorta blue and little Miss Herrera, orchid.

Each bridal attendant wore a picture hat matching her gown and carried a nosegay of pastel carnations tied with multi-colored streamers of satin ribbons tied in love knots.

Ray Rodriquez served as best man. Groomsmen were Davis Gomez of Plains, Gregg Cannon, brother of the bride, and Rudy Lopez. Pastel colors of their shirts were coordinated with the gown of bridal attendant escorted. Guests were seated by David Johnson and Efrian Rodriquez. Candles were lighted by Scottie Cannon, brother of the bride and Kerry Jones. Guests were registered by Miss Sharla Nicholas.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Cannon chose a formal length gown of apricot chiffon. The mother of the groom wore a gown of blue chiffon.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception held in Fellowship room of the church honored the young couple. Covered with a white cloth, the bride's table was centered with the bridal bouquet elevated upon a crystal compote, encircled with the bridesmaids nosegays. The traditional three-tiered wedding cake, touched with pastel flowers, was topped with an arch of flowers and doves. Pink reception punch was served along with the cake, pastel mints and nuts.

Presiding at the table were Misses Dana Houston, Laurie Herrera, Nina Spurlin and Sharla Nicholas. Members of the houseparty were Mmes. Buster Nicholas, E.J. Houston, Elmo Bryant, W.G. Green, David Howton, Cecil Smith and Don Jones.

For travel the bride selected a pink street length dress with jacket. She added the corsage of pink roses lifted from the bridal bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Olton High School and attended Lubbock Christian College and South Plains College at Levelland.

Alcorta, a former Olton resident, is graduate of Plains High School. Employed in that city, they will make their home there.

SUMMARY OF PROPOSED
CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS
GENERAL ELECTION NOV. 2, 1976

NUMBER ONE ON THE BALLOT (S.J.R. 49)

Repealing Sections 49-d and 49-d-1 of Article III of the Texas Constitution, S.J.R. 49 amends Section 49-c of Article III of the Texas Constitution to provide for and authorize an additional $400 million in Texas water development bonds that may be issued on approval of two-thirds of the members of each house of the Legislature for such water development purposes as the Legislature may prescribe.

The amendment contains a specific prohibition against the use of state funds for the development of water resources from the Mississippi River and also requires that before any single water development project may be undertaken requiring the expenditure of more than $35 million in bond proceeds, it must be approved by resolution of the Legislature.

The amendment removes the constitutional requirement that certain revenues must be used to retire water development and water quality enhancement bonds and removes the constitutional interest rate limit on such bonds.

The wording of the proposed amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing an increase of $400 million in the amount of Texas Water Development Bonds that may be issued on approval of two-thirds of the legislature; amending and consolidating provisions of Sections 49-c, 49-d and 49-d-1 of Article III of the Texas Constitution; and repealing Sections 49-d and 49-d-1 of Article III of the Texas Constitution."

NUMBER TWO ON THE BALLOT (H.J.R. 99)

H.J.R. 99 proposes an amendment to the Texas Constitution to increase from $100 million to $200 million the aggregate principle amount of Texas water development bonds which may be issued and outstanding by the Texas Water Development Board to provide grants and loans for water quality enhancement purposes as established by the Legislature.

The wording of the proposed amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"A constitutional amendment to increase from $100 million to $200 million the amount of Texas Water Development Bonds that may be issued for water quality enhancement purposes."

FOOTBALL SCORES

EIGHTH GRADE

Olton Junior High Colts, eighth grade style, put Abernathy out in the cold as they opened their season here Tuesday, Sept. 7.

When the dust cleared away, Olton had shut out Abernathy 26-0.

Outstanding play on defense was accredited to Henry Perez, Danny Garcia, Lance Phares and Roy Luera.

On offense, outstanding players were Dewain Deprang, Ken Smith, David Smith and Greg Smith.

Tommy Cabrera scored on a ten yard run and Ken Smith ran over for two points after. Henry Perez intercepted a pass and ran 30 yards for 6 points and the point after failed. Ken Smith scored on a 12 yard run and the extra point try failed. Henry Perez snatched another ball for an interception and ran 23 yards for 6 more points and Ken Smith ran over for two more.

Coach Tom Duncan commented, "The eighth graders gave a grand effort and they looked in great form. They played as a unit and are a 'together' bunch. We will also improve. Next game is at Lockney, Sept. 16 at 6:15."

SEVENTH GRADE

Seventh grade Colts took Abernathy Antelopes for a ride as they met in Mustang Stadium Tuesday for the season opener.

The Colts scored 16 and allowed only 6 points on the board from their foe.

Outstanding defensive players were Ruben Salinas, Victor Sauceda and Mike Williams.

Offensive players doing outstanding jobs were Dewayne Wade, Marty Crowder and Victor Rivera.

Scores were made by Toby Pedroza on an eight yard run; Dewayne Wade ran across for two points two different times; and Johnny Hutson scored on a 12 yard run.

Coach Duncan said of the game, "It was 16-6 at the half. They scored on the first play of the game on a 65 to 70 yard run. Then the newness of the year wore off and we settled down to aggresive football. I was very pleased with the kids' effort. We will improve I feel. We play Lockney there Sept. 16 both seventh and eighth grades, beginning at 5 p.m."
