Delegates Look Different

By LEE BYRD
Associated Press Writer

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. AP— The carpet is down, the bunting is up, and Larry O'Brien's gavel is about to bring the Deomcratic saints and sinners marching in again.

To the beat, it would seem, of a lot of different drummers. Delegates in dungarees and Dashikis. From Southern mansions and Washington, D.C., welfare homes. With buttons that say "Let George Do It" and mean McGovern in one case and Wallace in another.

Indeed, the sight to be beheld by the television millions starting tonight is said to be the most different - if not decorous - parley of the Party of the People since its first quadrennial call by political revolutionaries in 1832.

Since when, for example, has it been so difficult to tell so many of the delegates from so many of the demonstrators? Who recalls the last time blacks were proportionately overrepresented?

Or when the spouses who were left at home or consigned to the hotel with the kiddies were, in large numbers, men?

Or who could have foreseen that old pro Hubert Humphrey would pin his hopes to an argument founded on party reforms, as is the case tonight when the convention takes up the issue of George McGovern's claim to 271 delegates from California?

Still, there is much of the same old song in this experience even though 90 per cent of the delegates are convention freshmen and can't sing "Happy Days Are Here Again" without a cuecard.

The giant hall stands bathed, like most things here that don't move and some that do, in carnival-like splashes of red, white and blue.

Elaborate portraits of party mentionables peer on the delegates, as if no man dare commit an act of heresy beneath the brooding presence of Franklin D. Roosevelt, Thomas Jefferson, Andrew Jackson or John F. Kennedy. Lyndon B. Johnson's likeness was stolen or misplaced, but they got another and hung it in the rear.

The hall, too, reflects the taint of tragedies past and trouble anticipated. It, along with most of the nearby hotels, is guarded by both machines and men, civilian and military, some visible, some not. The police are ordered to search all bags and other personal items. And near the blue, layer-cake podium are portable ramps, ready for Gov. George C. Wallace's wheelchair.

You know, too that you're at a convention when:

-Women care more about the buttons they're wearing than the clothes they're pinned to.

-Television cameras attract more attention than the nudie floor shows at the night clubs.

-People pass out leaflets to people passing out leaflets.

-Delegates interview reporters.

-Reporters interview reporters.

-Three out of four people getting on hotel elevators don't care which way it's going.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, July 10, the 192nd day of 1972. There are 174 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1850, Vice President Millard Fillmore succeeded to the presidency after the death of President Zachary Taylor.

On this date:

In 1509, the Protestant reformer, John Calvin, was born in France.

In 1553, Lady Jane Grey was proclaimed Queen of England.

In 1871, one of the greatest French novelists, Marcel Proust, was born in Paris.

In 1890, Wyoming became the 44th state of the Union.

In 1913, a record high temperature of 134 degrees was recorded in California's Death Valley.

In 1953, the Soviet chief of internal security, Pavrenti Beria, was purged from the Communist heirarchy in Russia.

Ten years ago: The Telestar, the world's first privately owned satellite, was launched from Cape Kennedy and transmitted communications across the atlantic.

Five years ago: Doctors removed a malignant tumor from the abdomen of Gov. Lurleen Wallace of Alabama.

One year ago: A report prepared for the Senate Foreign Relations Committee estimated that the war in Vietnam had cost $490 for every American, woman and child.

McGOVERN REJECTS MUSKIE BID

Demo Show Opens Tonight

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Sen. George McGovern rejected today the bid of Sen. Edmund S. Muskie to settle the California seating dispute at a closed meeting before tonight's opening of the Democratic National Convention.

"I really see nothing to be gained at a closed meeting of this kind," McGovern told a hallway news conference at Muskie's Americana headquarters hotel.

"I see little to be gained in locking the doors with the six stop-McGovern candidates and then trying to reach a compromise on California," McGovern said.

He said the decision on the California delegation should be in the hands of the delegates to the convention.

He said he had hoped that Muskie would come out in favor of adhering to the winner-take-all rule of the California primary.

A convention Credentials Committee ruling took 151 of the 271 California delegates away from McGovern on grounds that there should be proportional representation with other candidates who ran in that primary.

McGovern said he would consider attending the meeting only if representatives of the writing and broadcast press are present as well as representatives of both sides of the California dispute.

Democrats approached the start of their 1972 nominating convention tonight with George McGovern holding the inside track and onetime front-runner Edmund S. Muskie offering up the olive branch of conciliation.

McGovern's hopes for a first-ballot victory were buoyed by two favorable parliamentary rulings and signs of support from uncommitted delegates. The South Dakota senator said he was confident of winning back 151 critical California votes taken from him by rivals on the party's Credentials Committee.

But in the labor ranks, there was evidence of a mounting drive to head off McGovern.

AFL-CIO officials were circulating privately a harshly worded attack on McGovern's record on labor, the Vietnam war, communism, civil rights and a laundry-list of other issues.

Moreover, one could detect in Muskie's call for a parley of nomination-seekers a ploy to pull McGovern back to the pack and away from his front-running spot.

THE CHAIRMAN MANS THE CHAIR—Lawrence F. O'Brien, who'll call the Democratic National Convention to order Monday night as its temporary chairman, briefs delegation chairmen and newsmen Sunday at the convention site on the rules he plans to follow. His first big task will be to preside over a session that could last 20 hours to settle a score of delegate-seating disputes. (AP Wirephoto)

Liquor Vote Set Aug. 5

A local option election to determine if alcoholic beverages can be sold for off-premises consumption in Snyder will be held Aug. 5.

County Commissioners this morning, in accordance with state law, set the election for Aug. 5 after Beverly Ainsworth, county clerk, certified that 779 signatures on a local option petition were valid. The petition was issued May 31 following an application by a local group and it was returned with signatures June 28. For a signature to be valid, the person has to be a qualified voter and live within the city limits of Snyder.

Absentee balloting will begin Monday, July 17. Voting box judges and alternates were to be named later today. There will be an election school for judges to be held prior to the election. Only qualified voters who live within the City limits will be eligible to vote in the election.

The ballot will be for or against the legal sale of intoxicating beverages within the City limits of Snyder for off premises consumption only.

The petition was submitted to Mrs. Ainsworth by Ken Minyard, and it originally contained over 1,000 names. The county clerk checked each name to determine if the person lived within the city limits and was a qualified voter. The check revealed that 779 signatures were valid.

Under state law the commissioners, after the signatures were certified, had to call an election not less than 20 days or more than 30 days after receiving the petition.

The original application for the petition was singed by 12 persons, but one of them resided outside the city limits. The number of names required on the petition was 25 per cent of the number of votes cast in the governor's election two years ago.

Scurry County has been "dry" since 1902, although several local option elections have been held throughout the county. The latest election was in 1960 when a proposal to permit off-premises sale of alcoholic beverages was defeated by a vote of 1,965 to 1,281. Another petition was circulated in the 60's but there was an insufficient number of signatures to call an election.

CIVIL WAR LOOMS

IRA Cancels Cease-Fire

By COLIN FROST
Associated Press Writer

BELFAST (AP) — The Irish Republican Army's Provisional wing broke off its cease-fire Sunday night after 13 days and renewed its guerrilla campaign. At least six persons were killed, and Northern Ireland teetered on the brink of civil war.

The Provisionals charge that British troops junked the cease-fire by attacking Roman Catholics in Belfast's Lenadoon district. William Whitelaw, the British administrator for Northern Ireland, charged that the IRA "set up" the incident "to provide justification for resumption of terrorist activity." He said the troops were fired on first. Witnesses backed the claim.

Sean MacStiofian, chief of staff of the Provisionals, ordered his gunmen back to their bullet-and-bomb campaign with "utmost ferocity" to oust the British army.

Within 15 minutes, firing broke out all over Belfast. Gun battles raged in the Catholic Ballymurphy, Ardoyne and Andersonstown sectors and the Protestant Springmartin area.

A 100-pound bomb planted in a car damaged offices downtown. Another bomb wrecked an all-night garage. Five bombs exploded within three minutes of each other near the Protestant warehouse section of Londonderry, the province's second largest city. Shooting erupted around the Bogside, part of the IRA-ruled "Free Derry" enclave in Londonderry.

Carloads of gunmen made hit-and-run attacks on army posts and ambushed patrols, wounding at least four soldiers.

Six civilians, including a Catholic priest giving the last rites to another victim, were killed around the Ballymurphy zone of Belfast. The dead also included a 13-year-old girl.

The British army claimed one gunman was killed and seven others wounded. But the IRA as usual spirited all their casualties away.

The truce was shattered when a column of 2,000 Catholics marched on the Lenandoon housing project in Belfast to force resettlement there of 16 Catholic families bombed out of their homes in a Protestant area.

Squads of the militant Ulster Defense Association and other Protestants blocked the marchers and two trucks loaded with the furniture of the displaced families. When troops moved in, the Catholics rained rocks, bottles, iron bars and gasoline bombs on them. Nine soldiers and half a dozen civilians were injured.

Mood Of Texans Visible

BY GARTH JONES
Associated Press Writer

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Texas Democrats waited today to cast more than 90 votes at the National Convention for the stop McGovern drive.

"I do not think Sen. George McGovern can win the nomination on the first ballot," Dolph Briscoe, delegation chairman, said Sunday after talking with three other presidential hopefuls. Alabama Gov. George Wallace, Sen. Hubert Humphrey and Rep. Wilbur Mills.

The 130-member Texas delegation has its first official caucus at 3:00 p.m. today but the mood of the Texans was visible Sunday in a series of preliminary caucuses. Backers of Humphrey and Wallace made it clear they want the McGovern drive for the nomination on the first ballot stopped.

In separate meetings the Wallace and Humphrey delegates indicated they will support the Credentials Committee's action in unseating part of the McGovern delegates from California and also support the seating of the Mayor Richard Daley delegation from Chicago.

Teaver Issues Charges

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Larry Teaver, "busted" Friday as State Insurance Board chairman, said today as he cleaned out his office that the other two board members are "owned" by the insurance industry.

He blamed his rejection by the Senate—where 11 of the 31 members were able to block his confirmation—on pressure from insurance companies.

"The companies are just too strong. They own this board. They control it," Teaver said in an interview.

Teaver said he thought he would have been confirmed "if I had been willing to go along with the establishment, the companies."

He said he has a high regard for the staff of the insurance department, "but I have absolutely no respect at all for the board here. As far as I am concerned, they can't call their soul their own." Ned Price and Durwood Manford are the other two board members. Manford's appointment was confirmed by the Senate Friday.

The outgoing chairman claimed the other two members leaked Teaver's plans on various projects to the insurance industry.

Court Rejects Terrorist's Plea

By ARTHUR MAX
Associated Press Writer

LOD, Israel (AP) — The Japanese terrorist who survived the Tel Aviv airport massacre pleaded guilty at the opening of his trial today, but the Israeli military court rejected the plea.

It also postponed final decision on a request by the defense that the terrorist, Kozo Okamoto, 24, be given a mental examination.

"I don't want an examination," the defendant shouted.

The court's rejection of the plea means the prosecution will have to present its case.

Okamoto is accused along with two other Japanese in the murder of 26 persons at Lod Airport May 30. The two other Japanese also were killed, and 67 other persons were wounded in the machine-gun attack.

The tribunal later recessed to weigh the plea and the defense request for an examination by a panel of psychiatrists.

The prosecution will now try to prove its case beyond doubt.

The court deliberated for almost two hours before its president, Lt. Col. Abraham Frish, announced the decisions on the examination request and the guilty plea by Okamoto.

Under Israeli law a defendant in a capital case has to plead innocent.

Judge To Quizz Potential Jurors

By LINDA DEUTSCH
Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Unusual ground rules govern jury selection as Daniel Ellsberg and Anthony Russo go on trial today in the Pentagon Papers case.

U.S. District Court Judge William M. Byrne Jr. has barred attorneys from questioning potential jurors and says he will ask all questions himself—drawing from lists of queries submitted by attorneys for both defense and prosecution.

The defendants, Ellsberg, 41, and Russo, 35, charged in connection with the leak of top secret documents to news media, have protested the judge's decision. They claim it will limit attorneys from thoroughly screening potential jurors in court.

The judge has indicated he made the decision, an option of federal judges, in an effort to avoid lengthy questioning on subjects he considered irrelevant to the case.

The defense had hinted it would pursue in-depth questioning on potential jurors' attitudes toward the Vietnam war and other aspects of American history.

Byrne chided them at one point for submitting among their suggested questions: "Do you believe the Boston Tea Party was a justifiable act?" "Do you think Jesus Christ was justified in throwing out the money lenders?" and "Did law enforcement officers at Kent State use excessive force?"

"I fail to see how this is relevant to selecting a fair and impartial jury," Byrne said.

American General Killed At An Loc

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — A lone north Vietnamese artillery shell killed an American general promoted only 12 days ago and three other U.S. officers shortly after they landed at An Loc for an inspection, the U.S. Command announced today. Two U.S. officers in the party were wounded.

Brig. Gen. Richard Tallman, 47, a native of Honesdale, Pa., was the eighth American general killed in the Vietnam War and the first in two years. A Navy admiral was killed two months ago in a helicopter crash in the Tonkin Gulf.

The names of the other American casualties Tallman were withheld until notification of next of kin. But all were from the 3rd Regional Assistance Command, embracing Saigon and 11 surrounding provinces. Tallman had been the command's chief of staff since last January, was named its deputy commander June 28 and the next day was promoted to brigadier general.

He and members of his staff had flown on Sunday to An Loc, the provincial capital 60 miles north of Saigon, to inspect South Vietnamese units there.

The town was under heavy North Vietnamese siege for weeks and is still being shelled daily.

Field reports said more than 50 enemy shells hit An Loc Sunday, killing seven South Vietnamese soldiers and wounding 17.

Tallman was a combat infantry officer in Korea and was serving his third tour of duty in Vietnam. He is survived by his widow and seven children.

Payment Is Made On Courthouse

County Commissioners this morning approved the payment of an additional $14,279 to Herman Bennett, prime contractor on the courthouse remodeling project. The total paid to the contractor to date is $519,144. Completion is expected some time in August.

Old bags don't pay the bills

By Abigail Van Buren

(c 1972 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: I have several very wealthy ladies for whom I work regularly. I go to their homes to perform a personal service.

One of my ladies is not only rich, she is also quite famous. When it comes time for her to pay me, she will bring out a used evening bag, or a pair of shoes, or a hat, or some piece of wearing apparel, and try to make some kind of deal with me in exchange for my services.

Abby, I know that all of her things were very expensive when they were new, but I have no use for such elegant articles, and besides, I work because I need the money.

How can I let her know that I wish she would simply pay me and not subject me to the embarrassment of having to say I cannot use her second-hand things?

TIMID IN L. A.

DEAR TIMID: Tell her that you can't afford to work for "things" because you must have CASH to pay your bills.

DEAR ABBY: Sorry, but I disagree with you as to the impropriety of a student selling his class notes. I'd consider these notes as similar to a reference book.

When I attended medical school, each fraternity had an extensive file of old exam questions and class notes which went back years and were used extensively by the students. I am sure these contributed greatly to the learning process.

Since I have three college degrees with 11 years of college, and later taught for seven years in medical schools, I believe I am well qualified to express an opinion on this subject.

EDWARD S. CARDWELL JR., M. D.
COLUMBIA, S. C.

DEAR DR. CARDWELL: Ten whacks for me with any one of your old rolled up diplomas. I rarely argue with authority.

DEAR ABBY: My husband passed away some time ago. We had a wonderful life together and I never expect to replace him, but I must consider making a new life for myself as I am not yet 50.

My question: When may a widow remove her wedding ring? I have children, and when I wear my rings the men I meet think I'm married, and no respectable man would look twice at a married woman.

On the other hand, if I remove my rings I might be mistaken for a divorcee. What should I do?

YOUNG WIDOW

DEAR WIDOW: Since you are obviously in the market for another husband, remove your rings. You can quickly let it be known that you are a widow, not a divorcee, if you think men prefer widows which, by the way, ain't necessarily so.

DEAR ABBY: I shall be 77 years of age when I graduate from college at the end of this semester.

Frankly, I am not a gift-giver, neither do I appreciate gifts, which presents a problem. How do I invite people to my graduation without being "bothered" by a gift, and the annoyance of acknowledging receipt?

I am just happy to have my friends attend such a occasion, and that is all. NAMELESS, PLEASE

DEAR NAMELESS: On each invitation you could add, "Positively no gifts, please." But be prepared to have your request ignored by some.

Problems? Trust Abby. For a personal reply, write to ABBY, BOX 69700, L. A., CALIF. 90069 and enclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

Three Mishaps Are Reported

City Police investigated three motor vehicle mishaps over the weekend.

The first one occurred in the 3600 block of College Avenue at 8:06 p.m. Saturday. Involved were the 1969 Model Ford of Bobby Gene Ford, 3730 Avenue U, and a 1969 Model Ford operated by Tyrus L. Harrison, Rotan.

The next one occurred at 11:35 p.m. Saturday in the 2200 block of Avenue M. Police said Lyndell Joe Ashley, 2202½ Twenty-sixth Street, apparently lost control of his 1966 Model Dodge while he was traveling north on Avenue M. The car collided with a tree on the east side of the street, officers said, causing considerable damage to the vehicle.

The other collision occurred in the 1900 block of Twelfth Street at 11:25 a.m. Sunday. Involved were the 1968 Model Plymouth operated by Charles Lafayette Doty, Box 912, Snyder, and a parked 1958 Model Plymouth driven by Phillip Neeley, Del Norte Courts.

Wallace Invites Delegates

By REX THOMAS
Associated Press Writer

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — George C. Wallace, directing his convention forces from a wheelchair, is making person-to-person appeals to uncommitted and even unfriendly delegates while joining other candidates in a stop-McGovern coalition.

The Alabama governor has sent out invitations to all state delegations, offering charteredbus transportation if they need it to reach the hotel where he has a plush, 20th-floor suite.

Wallace aides kept their silence on the identity of one of two candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination who have visited the governor. The name, they say, will surface today.

Charles Snider, Wallace's campaign manager, told newsmen that another candidate in addition to Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington has paid a visit, but declined to support the movement to block the nomination of Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota, Snider replied, "I don't think there's any need to talk about a stop-McGovern movement anymore. I think he's stopped."

Wallace's invitation to delegates opened his tightly guarded headquarters to newsmen for the first time when the Tennessee delegation responded.

"We're going to have a good number of delegates," Wallace told visitors in his richly appointed, gold-carpeted reception room.

"We're going to play a large part in the outcome of the convention as far as the nominee is concerned."

Wallace said the campaign he is waging already has "picked up some additional delegates in the uncommitted ranks."

Texas Violence Toll Hits 28

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Auto accidents claimed 19 lives in Texas and the toll from all forms of violence in the state went to 28 during the weekend.

The fatalities also included half a dozen shootings and three drownings in the period from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Sunday.

These were among the victims:

Berlinds Comache, 18, of San Antonio and her infant son Henry were killed Sunday night when a car overturned in western Bexar County. State police said the car went out of control after hitting loose gravel.

An argument ended in the fatal shooting Sunday night of George Perales, 65, in a tavern at Flotonia, in Fayette County, sheriff's officers reported. They took a man into custody.

Keith E. Wilborn, 15, of Port Lavaca was killed Sunday evening as a small foreign car ran off Farm road 774 about 15 miles east of Refugio, plunged through a fence and overturned in a field. Three companions suffered injuries which were not believed to be serious.

A tow truck hit and killed Felix Malpe, 5, of Port Isabel while he was playing on the bench Saturday evening on South Padre Island. Officers said he apparently failed to see the truck as he ran to rejoin relatives.

Wilma Bass Brown, 50, of Texarkana, Tex., was killed Sunday night as the family car ran off a U.S. 67 curve and overturned near Bassett, in Bowie County. Her husband Robert, 54, was injured.

Anna Gordon, 48, of Splendora was killed Sunday when two cars collided just south of her home town in Montgomery County town. Officers said Mrs. Gordon was a passenger in one of the automobiles.

Donald Meshell, 21, of Porter was killed Saturday when his motorcycle hit the rear of a pickup truck. A 16-year-old girl riding with Meshell as injured. The accident occurred at the intersection of Farm Road 1485 and U.S. 59 near Houston.

Jim Black, 18, of Winnsboro was shot to death in a Longview apartment Saturday. Officers said the shooting appeared accidental.

Paul Kemper, 25, a seaman from Utrecht, Holland, was shot to death early Sunday in Houston as he pounded the front door of a closed bar. Police filed no charges against the woman who they said blasted him with a shotgun.

James R. McMillin, 37, of Hugo, Okla., was killed early Sunday when the car in which he was a passenger overturned in Paris. Police said the driver suffered minor injuries.

Ronald D. Steele, 42, of Dallas was dead on arrival at a hospital Sunday after a motorcycle-auto accident on a city street.

Gannard Golightly was shot and killed with a British-made rifle early Sunday in Dallas' Oak Cliff section. Police arrested a suspect.

William H. Harris, 49, of San Antonio was killed Saturday when his car went out of control on an Alamo City street and crashed.

Lyle Laverne Lancaster of Temple was struck and killed by a car early Sunday as he walked along Interstate 35 about a mile north of Troy in Bell County.

Glenn Satterwhite, 37, of White Deer was killed Sunday when his pickup truck left the highway and rolled over twice at a point seven miles west of Comstock on U.S. 90.

Cyril Wayne Lentz, 16, of Colorado Springs, Colo., and Ernest Bohannon, 52, of Robstown were killed about midnight Saturday when two cars collided on a Corpus Christi street. Another persons was injured.

FRIBOURG, Switzerland (AP) — A ram attacked a Swiss teacher on a mountain excursion Sunday and knocked him over a cliff. He fell 300 feet to his death.

Thuy Repeats Proposals

PARIS (AP) — Hanoi's chief peace negotiator, Xuan Thuy, returned to Paris today repeating the previously offered Communist proposals to end the war in Vietnam.

Thuy told an airport news conference: "We still consider that the seven-point solution is the correct basis for the settlement of the Vietnam problem."

He added, however: "We will gladly examine any new proposals from the United States."

The North Vietnamese official also disclosed that Hanoi Politburo member Le Duc Tho will be returning to Paris, but he did not say when.

Thuy said "We have come back to Paris with good will and a serious attitude to resume negotiations Thursday," when the 150th session of the peace talks is scheduled. The talks have been suspended by the United States and South Vietnam since May 4.

Xuan Thuy, who has been in Hanoi for about two months, twice repeated his side's peace proposals and gave no indication that Hanoi would change them at Thursday's meeting.

They call for the United States to set a date for complete, unconditional withdrawal from Vietnam and replacement of South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu by a coalition government.

Murder Trial Is Postponed

BELTON, Tex. (AP) — Judge James K. Evetts postponed today until Sept. 11 the murder trial of two men charged with murdering an antique dealer and her tiny granddaughter.

Fred Foy Young Jr., 22, of Houston and Dennis Ray Anderson, 27, of Pearland, are charged with the murder of Mrs. Mabel McCormick, 53, and her granddaughter, Leslie Bowman, 3, in Kountze, Tex., Jan. 5.

The two were to be tried in Bell County's 27th district court only in the slaying of the woman. The trial in the slaying of the child was scheduled for Tyler.

Joe Goodwin, a Beaumont attorney representing Young, asked Evetts to postpone the trial for Young on grounds that Sen. Jim Bates, D-Edinburg, has entered the case as a principal defense attorney for Young. Goodwin said Bates was unable to be present because he has been attending the special legislative session which ended Friday.

Goodwin said that under the law, a member of the legislature representing a persons in a court case can have the case postponed so that its trial will not fall within 30 days before or after a legislative session.

Mrs. McCormick was slashed and beaten to death in her shop. The little girl was drowned by forcing her head into a toilet bowl.

Dr. Salter New HCJC President

BIG SPRING—Dr. Thomas T. Salter, vice president of Lamar Tech at Beaumont, has been named president of Howard County Junior College. He will succeed Dr. W.A. Hunt, HCJC president for the past 20 years who is retiring at the end of the month.

Dr. Salter, a native of Hemphill, earned bachelors and masters degrees at Stephen F. Austin State University and the doctor of education degree at the University of Houston.

He will be the third president of HCJC, which was founded in 1946.

Scientists To Race Eclipse

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — A team of solar astronomers hopes to make an airborne observation eight miles above Northern Canada of the sun's corona during the solar eclipse today.

A converted Air Force cargo jet stuffed with elaborate scientific gear monitored by two dozen scientists from the Los Alamos, N.M., Scientific Laboratory was to take off from Fairchild Air Force Base here.

At 3:42:56 EDT at a point northwest of Hudson Bay and 1,600 miles from the North Pole, the scientists hoped to train telescopes, cameras and radiation measuring devices on the eclipse. An eclipse occurs when the moon glides between the earth and sun, blotting out the sun.

The scientists' primary target is the solar corona, the gases that stream millions of miles out into space and normally aren't visible because the brighter light from the sun's body blots them out. But when the moon obscures the solar disc the corona becomes visible, the source of many scientists' attention.

Experiments aboard the aircraft were to measure the corona's magnetic field, its temperature, and other characteristics that still aren't well understood despite 140 years of research.

Scientists believe that the corona contains clues to how the sun interacts with the earth—why it causes disruption of radio communications, the intriguing northern and southern lights and other effects that interfere with man's activities.

The eclipse was to be visible over much of the United States and Canada, but only along a 110-mile wide path stretching from Siberia to the North Atlantic would the sun be totally blotted out. It is here that experts concentrate their attention.

The Air Force aircraft is used to get the solar scientists above clouds and the obscuring effects of earth's atmosphere. By flying in the path of the eclipse at nearly 600 miles an hour the scientists hope to extend their observing time during totality from one minute, 59 seconds, to three minutes and 42 seconds, an important gain.

At Churchill, Man., and near Halifax, N.S., the Canadian Research Council planned to fire a total of eight rockets to loft instruments into the path of totality. Another Los Alamos group at Poker Flats, Alaska, also planned to launch a rocket loaded with special instruments.

The National Science Foundation in Washington, D.C., said several ground expeditions were expected to be in place, primarily in Canada's Maritime Provinces. There, however, clouds easily could ruin observations.

Nothing Taken By Burglars

Burglars forced entry in Hall Drug Company, 606 East Highway, but apparently nothing was taken.

City Police said entry to the building was gained through an air conditioning duct on the roof. Exit was made through a plate glass window in the front of the store. The window was shattered.

Police also are investigating the theft of a watch valued at $12.95 at the Boys' Club, Saturday afternoon.

Clinic Set For Pastors

BIG SPRING—An introductory clinical pastoral education course will be offered at the Big Spring State Hospital beginning the first week in September.

It will be a one day per week course, with the day to be selected by enrollees as most convenient for the majority. The hours will be from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and the course will continue for six weeks.

The course will include unite assignments in learning how to relate to and work with emotionally disturbed people. The pastors will be introduced to various kinds of treatment in mental illness. A major emphasis will be on group therapy in which the ministers will become better acquainted with their own identity and theological role.

There is no charge for the course and a certificate will be awarded to each pastor completing the course and meeting requirements. Those intersted should contact Chaplain Lee Butler, Box 231, Big Spring, or call 267-8216, extension 280.

DAR Gives Funds To Furnish Rooms

A pledge of approximately $190,000 was presented to Secretary of the Interior Rogers C.B Morton by the National Society Daughters of the American Revolution recently in the Society's Continental Hall.

The money will be used to furnish in colonial period two rooms in the newly restored Independence Hall in Philadelpyhia, under direction of the National Park Service. The rooms, on the second floor, are the Governor's Council Chamber and the Committee Assembly Room, which will be furnished as they were during the period 1736-1777.

Mrs. Donald Spicer, President General of NSDAR, presented a check for the first part of the payment to Secretary Morton. The pledge was a two-year Bicentennial Project voted by the National Society at its recent Continental Congress.

On July 3, a large delegation of officers and members, led by Mrs. Spicer, went to Philadelphia to dedicate the project. On July 4, Mrs. Spicer cut the ribbon leading to the second floor of Independence Hall where the delegation viewed the rooms, after which they were opened to the public.

The restoration represented a DAR Gift to the Nation commemorating the Bicentennial of the United States of America. In addition to the national project the various states and chapters have projects of state and local interest. The Texas Society DAR has chosen as its project the restoration and preservation of the recently purchased Freeman Plantation in Jefferson, Texas, which also serves as the Texas DAR House.

Anne Pettus Shelburne Chapter of Rotan has chosen the Ranch Headquarters at Texas Tech as a chapter project with Mrs. J.L. McCright as chairman. Mrs. Bernie C. McCrea of Abilene, an associate member of Anne Pettus Shelburne Chapter is chairman of the Texas State DAR Bicentennial Committee.

Engine House Said Fire Trap

WALLA WALLA, Wash. (AP) — The state surveying and rating bureau, after an inspection, has declared the local engine house is a fire trap.

"The boards are rotten and the wiring is not good," Fire Chief George Williams, who has been campaigning for new facilities, said Friday.

"I feel guilty about telling other people to fix their wiring," he added.

Navy Has New Job For Women

PEARL HABOR, Hawaii (AP) — Women drivers are not unusual—except when the vehicle happens to be a Navy boat. The Navy recently assigned, on a trial basis, three women to the tour boats going to the USS Arizona Memorial.

"It's just like driving a car," said Seaman Apprentice Terry J. Schorsch, 19. She, Seaman Helen D. Sheppard, 23, and Seaman Apprentice Judy A. East, 19, are line-handlers and coxwains-in-training on the 64-foot passenger barges. They fasten the lines of the boats to the pier and steer the boats around the harbor.

None had prior experience in working with boats, and all three had toruble making a smooth docking at the pier. "I kept running into the pier," Miss Schorsch said. "I didn't bump into it, I crashed into it."

But their supervisor, Boatswain's Mate First Class Edward Smith said the women are "doing a good job and show a great deal of enthusiasm.

"The first day they got here, I told them I expected them to do everything, including running the boat," Smith said.

He admitted he didn't like the idea at first, but now wouldn't mind a female crew. "If they can do the job, I'm all for it," he said.

The three young women probably became the first women in the Navy to design their own uniforms. Miss East made the outfits of white blouses and navy blue culottes, which are worn with blue knee socks and white sneakers.

Miss Black Teen-Age Named

HOUSTON (AP) — A Houston girl will compete July 29 in the Miss Black Teen-Age contest in New York City as winner of the Texas title.

Cynthia Lewis, 15, a junior high pupil and daughter of Malinda Lewis of Houston, won the state crown Saturday night, beating out 18 rivals from all over Texas.

First runnerup was Marguerite Hannah, 14, of Galveston. Sandra Thompson, 14, of Houston was second runnerup.

Fonda Arrives In Hanoi

TOKYO (AP) — Actress Jane Fonda arrived in Hanoi Saturday at the invitation of a North Vietnamese peace committee, a Japanese report from Hanoi said.

The Nihon Denpa news agency said Miss Fonda is expected to inspect U.S. bomb damage in her one-to two-week stay. She will meet with North Vietnamese people at various levels, it added.

Miss Fonda is an antiwar activist in the United States.

Telephone Company Has New Crew Members

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Two of Ma Bell's daughters have taken to climbing her telephone poles.

Mary Stabell and Carol Tyrer, former business office representatives for the New York Telephone Co., have accepted transfer to outdoor work—as cable splicer's helpers.

"These girls are amazing," said Charles Fields, a splicing foreman. He said the new crew members "have performed very well in all phases of training."

In order to qualify for their new jobs the two women had to complete satisfactorily a three-week training program. The first two days of training taught safety procedures, a company spokesman said. "By the third day," he said, "they already had sunk the gaffs of their climbers into 30-foot telephone poles and advanced several steps upward."

Equipping the women with a lineman's gear turned out to be a special problem. Almost all the equipment was too large.

"Even the smallest of these (men sizes) proved too large for the women," the spokesman said. "Their fingers would only reach half way up in work gloves, and ankle projections on climbers, which go up the inside of the leg to the knee, were too long."

The problem was solved when the phone company ordered special gear.

The two women said they both enjoy the out-of-doors.

"That's the biggest factor in accepting this assignment," Miss Stabell said. She said she spends much of her off duty time as a sports parachutist.

"Before I came to work for the company," Miss Tyrer said, "I worked outside with horses and loved every minute of it."

Both women said they enjoyed their new jobs. About the only thing that has changed, they said, was their hair style.

"We've stopped putting in the curlers. A simple style proved best."

Jimmy Layne Hosts Ira 4-H

The Ira 4-H Club met July 6 in the home of Jimmy Layne.

Danita Layne called the meeting to order and the club repeated the motto, pledge and prayer.

Miss Layne presented a speech on "It's fun to be a model at your dress revue." This talk was on how to model for the dress revue which will be July 14.

Refreshments were served to Maxann Preston, Jimmy Byars, Donna Layne, Connie Byars, Danita Layne, Mrs. J.L. Byars and Mrs. Jimmy Layne.

Market Soars On Rumor Of Peace Possibility

By LAURANCE F. STUNTZ
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — It's the fond belief of the Communists that capitalism needs war to operate. Marx said it and Lenin confirmed it.

But a little incident in the stock market Thursday should prove that it just isn't so.

What happened was an early report that Russia and China had put pressure on North Vietnam to make peace. There wasn't much foundation for the report, but the stock market moves fast even on rumors.

The market went up a whopping 13 points in the first half-hour. In the second half-hour it rose nearly 5 points more. That was the biggest gain in months.

But, you may say, perhaps the rise was due to something besides the possibility of peace. The proof that it was purely a peace reaction came in the next hour.

There was no confirmation of the report. The State Department said it doubted the Russians and Chinese had put pressure on the North Vietnamese. Diplomats in London, where the story started, said they had no information to back it up. The stock market operators took this in and began to back off.

The industrial average slid in the second hour by 6 points and continued to fall most of the rest of the day. Obviously the peace report was the only thing which had made the market rise because, when the prop was eliminated, the averages fell.

This has been repeated time after time in the past few years. The last previous time was in May, when rumors of an armistice spread through Wall Street. That time the rumors drove the market up 8 points and, when they were denied, the market lost the 8 points and 10 more in addition.

Industry itself knows very well that war doesn't help it or its profits. Most senior executives have been through three wars: a big one in 1941-45, a smaller one in Korea and a nonwar in Vietnam. Their experience has proven and reproven their belief that war is bad for business.

Wars bring controls, and controls hamper management. Prices can't be raised, and if profits are too high under wartime conditions there is the threat of an excess profits tax. Even ordinary taxes may be increased to pay for the war.

War also brings shortages, of both materials and manpower. Materials are rationed and many a company has to find substitutes or do without. Manpower is in short supply and industry has to reach into the ranks of the unskilled, male and female, for workers. This means training problems and low productivity of the new workers.

Above all, war means uncertainty: in sales, taxes, supplies. Business men hate uncertainty. They would much rather plan for an aggressive sales campaign in predictable peace.

Junior Editors' Quiz on PANDAS

QUESTION: Please tell me about a panda.

• • •

ANSWER: The giant panda is native to the dense bamboo forests in northern China and lives at an elevation of 6,000 to 14,000 feet. It is known to the Chinese as the White Bear. It is a large animal weighing about 200 pounds and is about 6 feet in length. It has a striking color pattern which makes it undetectable against a background of snow, black rocks and dark shadows. The dense hair covering the large head and body is creamy white except for a broad black band over its shoulders that extends down from the massive fore limbs to the feet. The hind limbs and the large erect ears are also black and there is a black patch around each eye.

The panda has a lumbering gait like a bear. It feeds on the shoots, stalks and leaves of the bamboo and has large molar teeth and strong jaws with great crushing power.

The panda has been called a bob-tailed giant of the raccoon family. The lesser panda, a smaller variety, lives in the Himalaya Mountains at an elevation of about 6,000 feet. It is about the size of a house cat and closely resembles a raccoon. Pandas are popular at zoos because of their unusual coloring and antics.

Mailbag Yields Facts

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

If people really ate like wolves, a hungry 200-pound man would be able to consume nearly one-fifth his own weight in food at one meal. That's almost 40 pounds.

Scientists are certain now that the planet Mars cannot sustain human life because of the lack of oxygen there. The atmosphere of Mars is about nine-tenths carbon dioxide, which makes it far worse for breathing even than the air at a national political convention on this planet.

Does imprisonment in jail or prison have any real deterrent effect whatever on criminals? Some sociologists doubt it, but the statistics say otherwise. Confinement may not affect the hardened professional criminal, but the facts are that from a half to two-thirds of all persons who serve a first prison term never have to serve another.

The three most expensive cities to drive a car in America are now Boston, New York and San Francisco, according to An Ala Auto and Travel Club study. The two where driving is cheapest are Portland, Ore., and Richmond, Va., where costs are nearly three cents per mile cheaper than the top cost of 14.93 cents a mile chalked up in Boston. Which city he lived in could make a difference of some $475 to a businessman driving 15,009 miles a year.

Quotable notables: "I have learned a great truth which I shall always cherish—that people are pretty much the same the world over when you get down to fundamentals, and that it does not much matter what is their race, creed or color."—Louis Bromfield.

Our rising cost of government: The payrolls of U.S. state and local governments went up 400 per cent between 1953 and 1971.

Nature notes: Mountain lion kittens weigh only about a pound each at birth. The fawns of whitetail deer are such homebodies that they rarely stray more than ten yards from their birth spot for the first month of their lives. Racing pigeons have been clocked at an average speed of 93 to 95 miles an hour over an 80-mile course. The common flea can leap 100 times its own height.

Still a good idea: The motto on the first coin (1787 penny) issued by the United States was: "Mind Your Business."

Credit Sets New Record

WASHINGTON (AP) — An increase in loans for automobiles and other consumer products sparked a record rise in consumer credit during May, the Federal Reserve Board reports.

Consumer installment credit from banks and retailers totalled $1 billion in May, a record increase of $1.44 billion over the previous month.

The figures, seasonally adjusted, comprise the loans made by financial institutions and credit extended for retail purchases. Real estate mortgage credit is not included.

The Federal Reserve Board said auto loans during May totaled $3.239 billion, compared to $3.194 billion in April, and credit for other consumer goods totaled $3.938 billion, compared to $3.824 billion in April.

Four Killed In Collision

HANFORD, Calif. (AP) — Four persons were killed and four injured seriously as two automobiles collided at a rural intersection south of here, authorities said.

They identified the dead as Henry Lofton, 47, of Corcoran, Calif., his wife Doris, 42, a passenger in their car; Zona Sloan of Newcastle, Tex., and a passenger in the other car, Johnny Ramos, 15, of Hanford.

Patrolmen said a car driven by Allen Cypert, 24, of Hanford ran a stop sign and was hit broadside by Lofton's vehicle late Saturday night.

Cypert was listed in serious condition at Kings County General Hospital along with three passengers from the Lofton automobile— Staci Lofton, 7, Renee Beckham, 1, and Lavonne Sloan, 21, all of Newcastle.

Body Found In Soybean Field

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) — The body of Bendell Curtis Kelly, 32, of Dallas, Tex., was found Sunday beside a fence around a soybean field along Interstate 30 about 12 miles northeast of here, Sheriff Leslie Greer of Miller County said.

The body was sent to Little Rock for an autopsy, which was scheduled to be performed today.

Greer said two murder warrants had been issued. He declined to elaborate.

Mrs. Kelly's remains were identified by her husband, the sheriff's office said.

The woman had been missing since last Tuesday when she and her husband were vacationing in Hot Springs. Greer said the woman's purse was found July 5 on Interstate 30 at New Boston, Tex.

The body was reported found by Charles Starkes about 300 yards from his house.

Yippies Protest In Miami Beach

By F.T. MacFEELY
-Associated Press Writer

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. AP—Yippies gobbled up watermelon that had made up a caricature of President Nixon's face at Flamimngo Park as part the nondelegates' final protests prior to today's opening gavel of the Democratic National Convention.

Elsewhere Sunday, some 200 backers of Students for a Democratic Society held a protest march at the swank Playboy Plaza Hotel where major financial contributors to the Democratic party held a convention kickoff dinner.

Senior citizens from Miami Beach's vast retirement community were to be honored guests at the picnic sponsored by the Youth International Party, but few showed up. "We wouldn't take your food," said one silver-haired resident when offered melon, organic bread and vegetable stew from the Yippie table.

Sheriff's deputies, poised with yard-long billy clubs, watched the march by the SDS protesters who chanted "Men and women, black and white, Ford ain't getting in tonight" in reference to auto magnate Henry Ford II.

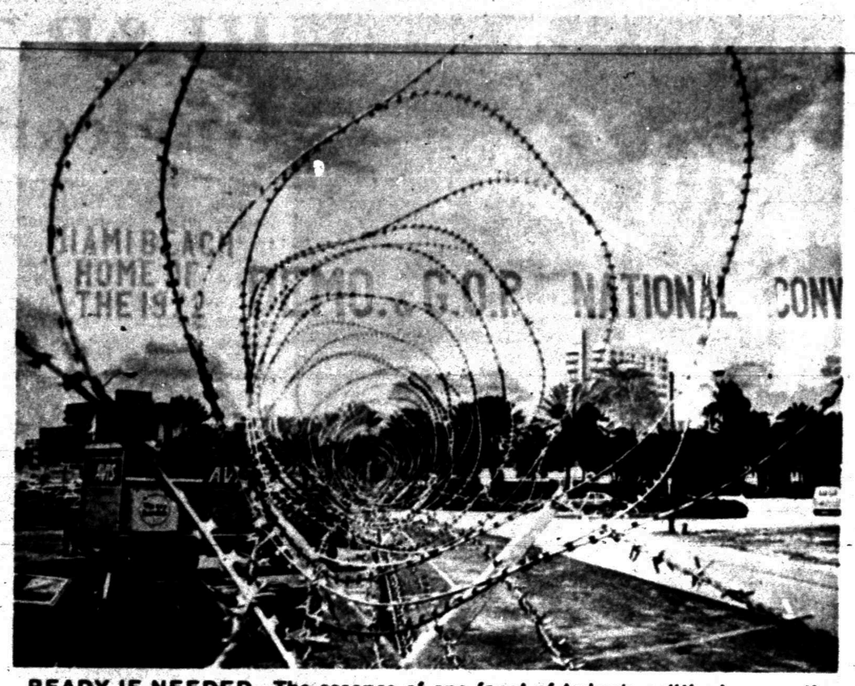
Guests, ushered through the protesters, were members of the Democratic Sponsors Club which requires a $1,000 donation to join.

Earlier in the day, Zippies led a march from the protest headquarters at Flamingo Park to Miami Beach Convention Hall in a plea for the legalization of marijuana.

"Free pot," said Zippie leader Dana Beal as gratis grass was tossed to the crowd. "Light up, light up" responded the gathering as marijuana fumes sifted through the warm air.

At the same time, the Zippies took a stand against hard narcotics, which they called "death drugs." Hypodermic needles were snapped in two as the pot-smoking dozens shouted, "Dump drugs, join the smack attack." Beal said the Zippies were "against death drugs like heroin."

The Yippies promised another get-together with the senior citizens Tuesday night at Lummus Park. They called it a "marriage between the generations."



READY IF NEEDED—The essence of one facet of today's political scene--the fear that violence will accompany the Democratic National Convention--is captured in this double exposure of barbed wire being installed near Miami Beach's Convention Hall. Leaders of youthful protesters claim such fear is groundless so far as the Democrats are concerned but that it may be different when the Republicans assemble next month. (AP Wirephoto)

Credentials Challenges To Liven Convention

By PEGGY SIMPSON
Associated Press Writer

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Democrats wade into a logjam of credentials scraps tonight at their national convention amid indications compromises may saw through roadblocks in smaller states but not in the red-hot California battle.

The unprecedented convention consideration of 23 challenges to delegates in 15 states marks the final stage of a reform struggle within the party that requires participation of more women, youths and minorities.

It appears the boggling volume of credentials fights — which some said would last more than a full day if settled on the floor — might be reduced by compromises in advance of the convention's opening bell.

But the night's biggest confrontation is expected on the challenge to California's winner-take-all-primary rules where both Sens. George McGovern and Hubert H. Humphrey said they are not in a compromising mood.

McGovern won the 271 California delegates in the primary but the Credentials Committee later decided they should be allocated on the basis of popular votes, paring the South Dakota senator's total to 120. The other 151 are split among the other Democratic presidential contenders — most of them going to Humphrey, who is leading the fight to uphold the Credentials Committee decision.

Many party leaders say a bitter floor fight over California might splinter the party and hand President Nixon another four years in office.

McGovern backers got a big boost Sunday when convention Chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien ruled that 1,433 votes would be enough to settle the issue. That excludes the 151 California delegates being challenged and reduces the convention majority on the vote from 1,509.

However, if O'Brien's decision is challenged and the convention votes on whether to approve his interpretation, every delegate — including the 151 Californians in dispute — could vote. McGovern backers are not as certain about a majority of this bloc.

Three Charged In Drug Raid

LEAGUE CITY, Tex. (AP) — Two Houston men were in the prison ward at Ben Taub Hospital in Houston and a third in jail following a gunfight Sunday when police and federal narcotics agents raided an apartment in this Galveston County city.

Richard Vasquez, 21, was listed in poor condition and Barney Ross, 21, in fair condition at the hospital. They, along with Ross Martin Hart, 22, of Houston were charged with possession and sale of marijuana and assault on a police officer.

Sgt. W. E. Mullican of the League City police department gave this account of the shooting:

He and two other League City officers and three agents of the Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs had staked out an apartment where the three arrested men were inside with an undercover agent and a police informer.

The informer and Vasquez came outside to the informer's car to get $7,000 to buy 50 pounds of marijuana which the three were allegedly trying to sell.

When officers attempted to arrest Vasquez, Mullican said, he drew a pistol and started shooting. The officers shot back, hitting Vasquez four times.

Meanwhile, inside the apartment, the two other men attempted to bolt and a second gunfight involving the undercover agent errupted, Mullican said. Ross was shot once in the leg.

Identity Of Dead Woman Is Sought

HOUSTON (AP) — Police today sought to identify and find the cause of death of a young woman found in Memorial Park Sunday.

Gayle E. Snow told officers she and another member of her family were walking in the heavily wooded area looking for moss on trees when they discovered the body.

Police said the woman, dressed in lime green pants, a dark knit top and bedroom slippers, had been dead three or four days.

An autopsy was scheduled for today. Officers said they said they found no outward sign of violence but the body was badly decomposed.

New Guide To Student Travel

Career Corner
by Joyce Lain Kennedy

what job would you like to see explored in this column?

Dear Joyce: I thought I might be able to go abroad this summer and got a free booklet you mentioned on student travel overseas. The booklet was very good, but since I didn't get to go, do you know of a similar one for traveling in this country? -- M G., Carthage, Mo.

Yes, but it's not free -- it costs $1. A brand new guide to domestic student travel has been published by the same organization that produced the overseas booklet -- the Council on International Educational Exchange, a nonprofit student organization of schools and youth agencies.

"USA Student Accommodations Guide," is a 100-page booklet listing 1,000 different places in all 50 states where students can spend the night for an average $3 -- and as little as $1. Also included are specific ways to save money on other expenses, such as car rentals, air discounts, driveway companies, etc.

Make your check payable for $1 to the Council on International Educational Exchange, and send to the organization at 777 United Nations Plaza, New York, N.Y. 10017 or to the organization's West Coast office at 607 S. Park View, Los Angeles, Calif. 90057.

• • •

Dear Joyce: I am thinking about being a television cameraman or a pharmacist. Of all the fields I have considered, these are the ones I can't find out about. -- C.K., Chicago

Pharmacy requires a college education -- 5 or 6 years. For free information, write to the American Pharmaceutical Association, 2215 Constitution Ave. NW, Washington, D.C. 20037.

Main ways to become a television cameraman (broadcast technician) are: major in electronics in a 2-year technical institute or junior college; obtain training in the Armed Forces, or learn on-the-job at a small station -- which is easier said than done. There's been talk of starting an apprenticeship program for broadcast technicians. If you're aiming for a supervisory position, get a 4-year degree in electrical engineering. Your best bet is to arrange appointments with engineering chiefs at TV stations in your city, and ask what the situation is in your locale, including the labor union picture.

• • •

Dear Joyce: Could I make a good living as a motorcycle mechanic? What training is necessary? I see ads for motorcycle mechanic schools -- how can I tell if they are all they say they are? -- L.B., San Diego, Calif.

Most motorcycle mechanics learn through on-the-job experience, starting as trainees. High school or vocational school courses in small engine repair are useful, as are courses in automobile mechanics, science and math.

I have no knowledge of the merit of individual specialized vocational schools offering motorcycle mechanic courses, but since most such mechanics work for motorcycle dealers, why not ask around at a few dealers in your city? See what they think of the schools. Ask also about the number of job openings and local pay scales.

Earnings vary widely, but limited information shows that mechanics working for dealers earned between $2.50 and $5.50 an hour in 1970. Advancement is limited. Mechanics who have ability with people may move up to service managers, and eventually, to general managers in large dealerships, or open their own dealership.

For a copy of Joyce Lain Kennedy's booklet, "Automotive Careers," send $1 and a long white, 16-cents, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Mrs. Kennedy at this newspaper. This 16-page booklet lists resources where you may write for information on automotive careers ranging from auto mechanic to auto designer.

O'Hara's Ruling Most Important

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Parliamentarians, unlike children, are supposed to be heard and not seen. But Rep. James G. O'Hara, parliamentarian for the Democratic convention, has become one of its most prominent participants.

The importance of procedural rulings to the hopes of the presidential candidates has thrust the 46-year-old Michigan congressman into the glare of lights and bristle of microphones that materialize around the convention's leading performers.

For O'Hara, highly respected in Congress but little known outside, it has been a novel, and at times unnerving, experience.

His decision Sunday on what constitutes a majority of the convention on procedural matters was one of the most important a convention parliamentarian has had to make and one of the most pressure-packed.

The decision—which was accepted by convention Chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien—is regarded as greatly advancing the chances of Sen. George McGovern to win the presidential nomination and thus was intensely opposed by all the other candidates.

The effect of the ruling is to make it easier for the convention to override a Credentials Committee decision splitting up the 271 delegate votes McGovern won in California's winner-take-all primary.

"I spent about 3½ days on that one, talking to all sorts of people," said O'Hara in an interview. "It was really difficult. It was a close question that could have gone either way."

O'Hara, who has never before served as parliamentarian for any organization, is nevertheless reconized on Capitol Hill as one of the most astute interpreters of the rules in Congress. He was named by O'Brien to head a commission that drew up new party rules after the 1968 convention, and that led to his selection as convention parliamentarian.

"I became interested in the rules while I was sitting around the House floor as a freshman," said O'Hara. That was 14 years ago when O'Hara, a lawyer, was elected from a suburban Detroit district.

"I figured out that if you're going to get anything done in the House you've got to know the rules and how to use them," he said. "So I started paying attention to the way things worked."

So well did he learn his lesson he is now frequently sought out by his colleagues for parliamentary advice, particularly when they have amendments or motions that are opposed by the House leaders.

Heat Stroke Fatal To Boy

Nursery Man Plays Nursemaid

HOFFMAN, N.C. (AP) — Twice a day Sam Wiseman plays nursemaid to 16 orphan "babies."

Feeding time at the Wiseman home is like watching a magician make milk disappear. Each of the frisky tots can empty a 10-ounce bottle in 30 seconds.

The "babies" are tiny fawns. Many were confiscated from North Carolina families which found them and planned to keep them as pets. State law prohibits persons from taking deer illegally and keeping them in their home or captivity.

"They can be kept only with a special permit from the State Wildlife Commission, and the deer must have been gotten during the legal hunting season," said Clyde Patton, executive director of the commission.

The 16 fawns, ranging from two to five weeks old, are at the commission's plant nursery near Hoffman in the Sandhills area.

One of the 16 is an albino. All are tame and have white spots which will disappear when they become about six months old.

Some of the deer were found by farmers while cutting wheat. Wiseman explained that wheat fields are a favorite place for doe deer to give birth to their offspring. Does produce once a year, usually in May or June.

Wiseman, plant nursery manager, formerly was refuge manager of state game lands. He said the fawns will be kept at the nursery until after the hunting season which begins in October in most counties and runs until Jan. 1. Then they will be released on game refuge lands, free to roam until the 1973 hunting season.

Wiseman's two teen-age daughters, Ruthie, 15, and Tammy, 12, like to hand feed the fawns.

"They were real crazy about them when they were first brought to the nursery, but the novelty is beginning to wear off," said Wiseman, who also has three sons. His wife is a nurse.

The plant nursery produces lespedeza shrub seedlings and certain seed mixtures for distribution to North Carolina farmers who plant them to feed small game.

Youngsters Start Move For Frances

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A late movement to get the vice presidential nomination for State Rep. Frances Farenthold of Texas is under way by three youngsters—all from the Lone Star State.

Drue Pollan, Larry Patty and Bob Bass call Mrs. Farenthold the "most viable candidate" for the second spot on the party's ticket.

Chris Trevino, 19, a member of the Texas delegation, will present Mrs. Farenthold's name to the convention floor, the trio said.

The three youths and Miss Trevino are circulating an open letter to delegates and non-delegates. It says Mrs. Farenthold, who lost the Democratic gubernatorial race to Dolph Briscoe in June, has several qualities that make her a good compromise nominee.

The document says her main attributes are primarily her womanhood and her "strong record as a Southern Progressive Democrat who garnered almost 1 million votes in Texas' recent gubernatorial runoff election."

Coughs Up Old Bullet

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A 58-year-old Atlanta man has coughed up a bullet after being shot 38 years ago.

Clifford L. Wood said he was shot in DeKalb County when a woman opened fire on the door of a cafe as he was leaving.

Wood said he was taking a bath Sunday morning "when I started coughing and couldn't stop. I must have coughed until I turned black. I thought I was done for. I couldn't get abreath."

He was examined at a hospital and a doctor said Wood seemed to be all right and had not suffered any lung damage. Dr. Dan Cantwell said the bullet had worked its way into Wood's breathing passages and subsequently had been coughed up.

MISS TEXAS AND JAUNTY CROWN—Mae Beth Cormany, 26, wears her Miss Texas crown at a jaunty angle following her selection as Miss Texas of 1972 in Fort Worth Saturday night. (AP Wirephoto)

Pageant Veteran Crowned

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Mae Beth Cormany, competing for the third time, was named Miss Texas 1972 late Saturday night representing Hurst-Euless-Bedford, a group of Fort Worth suburbs.

The brunette stunner, who measures 36-23-36, told reporters she wants to be "like Doris Day—a vivacious, All-American young woman."

The difference between being Miss Texas and first runner-up, she said, is like the difference between "walking down the runway and falling into the orchestra pit." She was first runner-up in 1971 when she competed as Miss Fort Worth.

Runners-up in this year's pageant were:

First, Amy Griggs, Miss Fort Worth.

Second, Linda McCaskill, Miss Dallas.

Third, Jackie Barrett, Miss Haltom-Richland.

Fourth, Candy Crocker, Miss White Settlement.

Miss Cormany is a senior speech major at Texas Christian University. She also has taken home economics. She wants a career in television with a talk show, she said, and also wants to be a housewife.

With her crown and trophy, the 21-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Cormany of Wichita Falls won a $3,000 wardrobe, a $500 fashion award and the trip to Atlantic City where she will compete in the Miss America pageant.

Reagan To Meet Pierre Messmer

PARIS (AP) — California Gov. Ronald Reagan is scheduled to meet with French Premier Pierre Messmer today.

Reagan's visit to France is part of his European tour as an emissary of President Nixon.

He will be the first American personality to meet with the new premier since Messmer was named to form a new cabinet by President Georges Pompidou last Wednesday.

Reagan and his wife spent a wet Sunday sightseeing in Paris. They will leave Tuesday for Madrid.

Collins Called To Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — Texas millionaire congressman Jim Collins was called to court today to testify against a former top aide accused of taking kickbacks from fellow workers.

The former aide, George A. Haag, 33, says he arranged the more than $13,000 in kickbacks on orders from Collins, a Dallas Republican, for a political slush fund.

He says Collins now is trying to make him take the rap alone.

Collins previously has been before a federal grand jury in connection with the kickbacks. Haag is on trial in U.S. District Court on charges of falsifying House of Representatives payroll forms, mail fraud and obstruction of justice. Four former Collins employes have testified they kicked back part of their federal paychecks to Haag on his instructions—and one of them, Michael D. Henning, said Haag had told him he holds proof that Collins was involved.

"George said he told (Collins') lawyers that if he went to jail Jim Collins was going to be in a cell right next to him," Henning told the court.

The former manager of Collins' Dallas office, Mrs. Carolyn Connor Boydston, testified Friday that Haag once told her Collins knew nothing of a monthly kickback of about $576 she took from a Dallas employe and held for Haag to pick up.

"And he said if we weren't careful we would all wind up behind bars," she testified.

Dallas FBI Agent Alfred C. Ellington said Haag told him during an investigation the kickbacks were used for parties for children of Vietnam GIs and for extra Dallas office expenses.

But Ellington said there were no records to verify such expenditures and that he could not find anyone to acknowledge receiving money from Haag for such purposes.

In Argentina, large-capacity, high speed equipment for the beverage industry will be needed after 1973 to replace obsolete installations, according to the Bureau of International Commerce.

HL&P To Build Two Nuclear Fueled Plants

BELLVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Houston Lighting & Power Co., already under fire from landowners over their plan to build a power plant near here, said Sunday they will be building two plants—and both will be nuclear fueled.

The leader of a landowners' group drew applause at a meeting attended Sunday by some 600 Austin County residents by telling HL&P officials to "please go away."

The meeting was called by HL&P officials after a storm of protest from landowners here about their plan to build either a fossil or nuclear fueled plant on Mill Creek, midway between Bellville and Sealey.

Under sometimes hostile questioning at the meeting, officials disclosed that a second plant is on the drawing boards, this one about 10 miles southeast of Sealy near Wallis on Allen's Creek. The HL&P officials said both would be nuclear plants.

About 6,000 of the 8,000 acres needed for the Allen's Creek plant has already been bought, William B. Thornton, HL&P's land manager said, while about 500 acres has been purchased at Mill Creek.

George Oprea, the utility's operations vice president and chief plant designer, told the Sunday meeting that the plants would use nuclear power to generate electricity "unless there is a turnaround in the fossil fuel shortage and we can go that route." He indicated he expects no such turnaround.

The Austin County plants are purely HL&P ventures, he said, and not connected with a five-utility consortium recently formed to build a nuclear plant.

Robert William Abel, head of the Mill Creek Environmental Protection Association, drew applause when he told HL&P officials, "Let me convey to you the feelings of an organization of landowners. We don't want it ... We have very productive property. Please go away."

Abel, an engineer with the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, said he owns 185 acres at the Mill Creek site. He said agents for HL&P have tried to buy the land for $600 an acre, and threatened him with condemnation proceedings if he refuses to sell.

Public utilities have the right to condemn land through court action to carry on their business.

Abel said in an interview earlier this month, "We feel that the prices offered are unfair, but that's not the main thing. That land is unbelieveably fertile. It's unique ecologically, and it should be preserved. Our land's not for sale at any price. It's been in our family for 100 years."

Abel said he also considers the safety of nuclear plants to be uncertain.

The Atomic Energy Commission held hearings on safety of nuclear power plants earlier this year after a coalition of 45 environmental groups contended the emergency core-cooling system of such plants are unsafe and could lead to a nuclear explosion.

Oprea said at Sunday's meeting that the proposed plants here would create no radiation or fallout hazards, with radiation at the property line half that received from watching five hours of color television.

Speakers in the audience Sunday said the 7,500 acre lakes necessary at each plant for cooling purposes would flood highly fertile farm land.

Oprea said construction would create 1,200 jobs and the lakes would be opened as recreation facilities for visitors. He added, however, that the AEC might require a prohibited zone extending from 1,000 feet to one mile out into the lakes from the plants.

D. E. Simmons, HL&P's environmental chief, said the company would use a system of canals to cool water from the plant but after questioning added that water flowing from the system would be "10 to 15 degrees above ambient."

Oprea said construction on the Mill Creek plants would not begin before 1975, and each of four successive nuclear generating units would take four to four and a half years to complete. A similar timetable is set for the Allen's Creek plant, he said.

Crash Survivors Arrive In Guam

AGANA, Guam (AP) — Four of the five survivors from a B52 bomber which crashed into the sea Friday arrived here Sunday aboard the submarine Barb.

The submarine Gurnard was to arrive later with a fifth survivor.

A sixth crewman, Lt. Col. James L. Vaughan of Huntsville, Ark., died before rescuers reached the area and a search for his body has been unsuccessful, the Air Force said.

One survivor, Maj. Ronald E. Dvorak of Parker, S.D., wore a cast on his left arm. Doctors said Dvorak suffered a broken elbow as he ejected from the bomber.

The five men were rescued from their liferafts Saturday in a storm-tossed sea after a rescue attempt the previous night failed, said Cmdr. John G. Juergens, the skipper of the Barb.

He said his sub and Gurnard encountered winds of 40 miles an hour and 30-degree swells during the rescue. Relying on directions from circling aircraft, the subs made "Pony Express runs" to pick up the survivors.

The survivors did not talk to reporters about their ordeal, but Lt. Kent K. Dodson of Wichita, Kan., said the Barb's crew saluted him with a chocolate cake when they learned his birthday fell on Saturday.

The other survivors are 1st Lt. William Neely III, the copilot, of Pittsburgh, Pa., and Airman 1C Daniel Johansen of Colorado Springs, Colo. Capt. Leroy Johnson of Pullman, Wash., is aboard the Gurnard.

Search aircraft spotted the body of Vaughan strapped to his liferaft. But the submarines could not find it during their search.

Vaughan, the radar navigator, was on temporary assignment from Barksdale Air Force Base in Louisiana.

The bomber was en route to the Vietnam war area with a cargo of 10 tons of bombs when it plunged into the sea about an hour after taking off from Anderson Air Force Base.

Grand Jury Hears Facts

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — U.S. Atty. Gerald Gallinghouse said a federal grand jury here is to receive testimony today concerning an alleged attempt to sell pro football secrets to the New Orleans Saints.

Karl Sweetan, 29, former quarterback for the Saints and the Los Angeles Rams, and his cousin, Wayne Boswell, 31, both of Dallas, Tex., were released on $5,000 bonds Saturday on charges involving an allegedly stolen Rams' playbook.

Both were charged with interstate transportation of stolen property and fraud by wire.

They were arrested Friday after Saints coach J. D. Roberts notified federal authorities that he had been contacted about a proposed playbook sale offer.

Sweetan's attorney said: "There has been a very large misunderstanding and it will be resolved to everyone's satisfaction. I do not believe it is wise to discuss any playbook."

Sweetan, who also played in the National Football League as a quarterback for the Detroit Lions before joining the Saints and then the Rams, more recently played with Edmonton of the Canadian League and was released recently.

Giants Move On, Tribe Clouts Sox

The Quarterback Club Giants don't show any signs that they will ever be beaten again, unless of course this statement serves as a jinx. They beat a good Kiwanis Club Braves team 9-4 Saturday night.

A six run first inning did the trick for the Giants. Zane Sterling led off with a walk, probably the safest tactic for opposing pitchers to use and then Keith Early, Billy Rollins, and Calvin Reese had consecutive singles. The Braves helped a little when they allowed John Hopkins to reach base on an error and walked Clay Peterson. Scott Crenwelge then cleaned things up with a single.

Wes Partain didn't last long on the Brave mound and was relieved in the first inning by Shawn Ragland who tightened down and allowed the Giants only three more runs in the game, a score which could have beaten were it not for the first inning.

The Braves scored one run in the second inning on hits by Kyle Short and Tracy Holladay, but the Giants came across with two. Reese singled and then Hopkins showed the hitting prowess that has made the Giants almost invincible when he smashed a home run to send over both runs.

The rest of the Brave runs came in the third when Short singled for his second hit of the game and Billy Rollins, Giant pitcher, walked four men in a row and was tagged again by Halladay.

Sterling came in to relieve Rollins in the fourth inning and slammed the door on the Braves. Ragland held his own the rest of the game, allowing only one other run, a fifth inning score that resulted from two infield errors.

Theee Braves had strong hitting nights despite the defeat. Short, Bobby Hernandez, and Halladay were all two-for-three. Billy Rollins and Calvin Reese were both two-for-three for the Giants to account for half of the eight hits for the winners.

White Sox vs. Indians

The Von Roeder Indians may have been issuing a warning to any of the Giants who stuck around for the second game. They clouted the Snyder Motor White Sox 23-5 behind the one hit pitching of Robert Stoneman and the hitting of Dray Sikes.

The White Sox scored three runs in the top of the first inning, but then the Indians came to town and set up camp for what looked like the rest of the night. The bottom of the first might challenge the Mets' 24 inning game of a few years back as the longest exhibition in history. The tribe scored 21 runs in that inning on only six hits, three of them by Sikes.

In the second inning the Indians took a breather, but came back with two runs in the third to complete their scoring. The White Sox scored twice in the fourth inning, but it was all in futility.

Alvin Ollison was the only White Sox to get a hit. He singled in the first inning. The Indian lineup was a different story altogether. Dray Sikes had four hits, enough to finish the Sox alone, but he had help from the winning pitcher Stoneman who was two-for-three.

The Sox threw four pitchers. Cary Welsh, Ricky Rameriz, Lonnie Blackard and Rodney Glass.

Phillies Mgr. Fired

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Frank Lucchesi was fired today as manager of the Philadelphia Phillies. The team curently has the worst record in major league baseball—26 wins and 50 losses.

There was no immediate word on who would replace Lucchesi.

Lucchesi, 45, was in his second year as manager of the Phillies, his first major league team.

Ryun Receives Another Chance

By DAN BERGER
Associated Press Sports Writer

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — Veterans Jim Ryun, Frank Shorter, Willie Davenport, Jay Silvester and George Young and youngsters Rey Robinson, Larry Burton, Steve Smith and Dwight Stones are "on the boat" hoping to blend their exuberance and cool to produce another great American Olympic team.

Ten days of competition, surviving 100-degree heat and rain, have sorted out the athletes; the top three finishers in each event at the men's Olympic trials here advance one step—the biggest step—into the 20th Olympiad beginning Aug. 31 at Munich, Germany.

For Ryun, the world record-holder, it's a third crack at the Olympic gold medal which he missed in 1964 and 1968. His stunning 51.5-second last lap in the 1,500-meter dash here capped his comeback.

"I feel I have a better and faster race inside me," said the jubilant 25-year-old from Kansas who hopes to become the first American since 1908 to win the metric mile.

Shorter ran first in both the 10,000 and the marathon. The 24-year-old former AAU titlist will be traveling back to his birthplace. It was also 1908 the last time an American won the marathon.

Steve Prefontaine proved his races aren't all against the clock as he defeated the 34-year-old Young handily in American record time in the first meeting of the two aces. Pre's time of 13:22.8 is the fastest in the world this year and wipes out his own 13:29.8.

Young cracked 13:30 for a lifetime best and moves to Munich with an American record fourth Olympic berth for a distance runner.

The sprint picture is dotted with young, excited kids lacking international experience. Eddie Hart, Robinson and Robert Taylor will run the 100-meter dash in Germany.

The 400-meter tandem of Wayne Collett, John Smith and Vince Matthews looks about as solid as a wall. An American sweep in the event is a possibility because there isn't a runner in the world who has cracked 45.7 this year. Collett ran 44.1, Smith 44.3 and Matthews 44.9 in advancing here.

Davenport ran second, Tom Hill first and Rod Milburn third in the 110-meter high hurdle final to qualify for the U.S. team. That trio is as good as America has sent in years.

Burton, a Purdue sophomore in his first year of track, joins Chuck Smith and Larry Black on a swift 200 combo.

Smith became the world's fifth 18-foot pole vaulter. Stones cracked the world age-group high jump record as the 18-year-old from UCLA went 7-3.

Silvester whipped the discus 211-2 to earn a berth on the team for a third time.

Ryun had once considered running both the 1,500 and the 800 in Munich but fast-rising Dave Wottle is the only one with that choice after his world-record equaling 1:44.3 in the half mile and second place to Ryun in the metric mile.

Steeplechaser Mike Manley, 30, is a veteran of the 3,000-meter event but Doug Brown, Tennessee's 20-year-old sophomore, makes that event somewhat of a question mark.

Manley, America's second fastest ever in the event, was only two seconds ahead of the fast-closing Brown in the trials—the lad only started running the race 10 weeks ago.

Most experts feel America could win as many as 12 gold medals but realistically can be favored in only the shot put, 400 meters, 110-meter high hurdles, 1,600-meter relay and possibly the pole vault. Opposition from known Europeans and unknown Africans in most other events turn most events into dogfights ... even the 5,000, where Prefontaine could run into as many as seven other superb runners.

Braves Nip Oilers, 2-1

The Braves slipped by the Oilers 2-1 Saturday night in the only Junior League game. Bernie Weems earned a tough pitching victory over Ricky Beard of the Oilers. Weems threw a four hitter while Beard hurlred a two hit game.

The Braves scored the first run of the night in the second inning when Ricky Howell reached base on a fielder's choice and was advanced on an error. Their second run came in the fourth inning. Randy Gressett opened with a single and once again was the victim of a fielder's choice on Howell's grounder. An error and a walk sent Howell in for a replay of the second inning, boosting the Brave lead to 2-0.

The fifth inning was scoreless, but the Oilers came across with a run the sixth to close the gap, but that's all they could manage the rest of the night, despite putting men in position twice in the seventh. The Oiler run came when Garry Martin walked and advanced on Beard's fly to left field then Larry Gee singled to send Martin home.

Gee was the leading hitter for the Oilers with singles in the first and sixth innings. Dennis Buchanan and Phil Robinson also singled to account for the rest of the Oiler hits.

Randy Gressett, as usual, led the Braves in the hitting department. He was the only Brave to touch Beard for hits. Gressett singled twice in three appearances.

Snyder Girls Shine At AAU Meet

Several Snyder girls competed in the Junior Olympics at Borger last weekend, sponsored by the Amateur Athletic Union.

The intermediate division sprint relay team comprised of Jessica McMullan, Myra Grant, Kellye Crenshaw and Becky Pitts won first place with a time of 56.2.

Kerry Holt, competing in the same division, took second in the high jump by clearing 4-8. The Snyder youths won a total of 18 medals. Kerry qualified for the Regional AAU Meet to be held in San Antonio July 22.

Becky Pitts took third in the intermediates by running a 12.7 second 100 yard dash, and Myra Grant was fourth with a time of 12.8.

Results of the junior division: 440 yard relay (Andra Crenshaw, Denise Day, Debbie Loyola, Amelia Grant), 3rd, 57.2; Rhonda Nunley, 3rd, high jump, 4-2; Amelia Grant, 5th, 75 yard dash; Andra Crenshaw, 5th, long jump; Debbie Loyola, 6th, 100 yard dash, 12.7.

Results of the midget division: 440 yard relay (Dana Elrod, Debbie Frost, Karen Littlepage, Sally Coleman), 1st, 61.9; Sally Coleman, 45t b, 50 yard dash, 7.2; Sally Coleman, 4th, long jump, 11-8; Karen Littlepage, 6th, 50 yard dash, 7.4; Dana Elrod, 6th, long jump.

Results of the bantam division: Debbie Calvert, 2nd, long jump, 10-5½; Bettsey Patterson, 3rd, 50 yard dash, 7.7; Bettsey Patterson, 3rd, 75 yard dash, 11.5, and 5th in long jump; Debbie Calvert, 4th, 75 yard dash, and 5th, 50 yard dash, 7.9.

Folley Dies In Mishap

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Zora Folley, who once fought unsuccessfully for the heavyweight boxing championship, has died of injuries suffered when he struck his head on the edge of a motel swimming pool.

Folley, 41, of Chandler, Ariz., had ignored warnings of motel employes when he went swimming late Friday night; police said.

A friend, Artis Broom of Tucson, Broom's wife and Ann Young of Mesa, Ariz., joined Folley shortly after midnight, drinks were served and the men began "goofing off," said Sgt. Lyle Murphy of the Tucson Police Dept.

Folley slipped when he tried to push the fully clothed Broom into the pool, investigators said.

An unidentified motel clerk said one of the women ran to him to report the mishap. "I found him with a large bump on the forehead, a hole in the top of his head and another wound in the back of his head," the clerk said.

Results of an autopsy were expected today.

Folley is survived by his widow, Joella, nine children, and his father and sister in Dallas, Folley's birthplace.

He wants the big things in your life to be happy.

United States Wins Singles

By NOEL HUGHES
Associated Press Sports Writer

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Stan Smith, the gentle giant of U.S. tennis, won the treasured Wimbledon singles crown and couldn't quite believe it.

Smith, the 6-foot-4 American Army corporal from Sea Pines, S.C., raised his arms in relief and triumph after beating mercurial Romanian star Ilie Nastase, 4-6, 6-3, 6-3, 4-6, 7-5 in a thrilling final on Wimbledon's center court Sunday.

"There were times out there when I thought he was going to win," admitted Smith.

Perhaps Smith's calm disposition saw him through the breath-taking final which was given an added psychological twist by being postponed 24 hours through rain.

Nastase kept his well-known fiery temper in check most of the time. But he was like a simmering volcano that was liable to blow its top at any moment.

"I couldn't sleep last night and the postponement made me more nervous," said Nastase. "I didn't eat any breakfast."

Stan didn't seem to have prematch nerves at all.

"I had orange juice, cereal; several eggs and hamburgers for my breakfast," he said.

Smith's victory, added to Billie Jean King's victory over Australian defending champion Evonne Goolagong in the women's final, gave the United States the two singles crowns for the first time since Tony Trabert and Louise Brough grabbed the double in 1955.

It will take all Smith's notable talent to retain the title next year.

Subject to final agreement by the International Lawn Tennis Federation in Helsinki on Wednesday, the stars of Texan millionaire Lamar Hunt's World Championship Tennis group will be back in contention at Wimbledon in 1973.

Under the provisional agreement, WCT will operate tournaments for four months of the year, while the ILTF controls the remainder.

The 1972 Wimbledon roll of honor:

Men's Singles: Smith.

Women's Singles: Mrs. King, Long Beach, Calif.

Men's Double: Bob Hewitt and Frew McMillan, South Africa.

Women's Doubles: Mrs. King and Betty Stove, Holland.

Mixed Doubles: Nastase and Rosemary Casals, San Francisco.

Colorado, sometimes called the Centennial State, was admitted to the Union Aug. 1, 1876, a century after the Declaration of Independence was signed.

Athletics, Braves, Yankees All Win

Farm League action started in the afternoon and continued through the evening as three games were played. In the afternoon game the West Texas Bank Athletics edged the Kiwanis Club Braves 8-7. The Sonic Braves beat the Cochran Cardinals 14-5 in the second game and the American Legion Yankees downed the Quarterback Club Giants 11-9.

The Athletics took a 5-2 lead into the fourth inning, but the Braves scored four runs in the top of the fourth to edge ahead. The Athletics scored two in the top innining to regain the lead, but the Braves tied it up in the top of the fifth when Walter Holmsley came across the plate. The Athletics came to town in the bottom half of the inning and managed to sneak across one run to save the victory.

Lopez was the winning pitcher for the Athletics. Billy Bearden and Andy Elkins threw for the Braves.

A long first inning gave the Sonic Braves plenty of room to work in the second game. The Braves pushed over eight runs on three hits and a number of walks. Walter Withers doubled for his first hit, Mike MacArthur singled and Mike Roemisch added another double. The Cardinals could only manage two runs, also on three hits. Tim Dickinson, Roger Patterson, and Kerry Hagins all singled in that inning. The other three Cardinal runs came in the third inning. The Braves scored three in the second and three in the third to finished the scoring.

MacArthur was three-for-three and Withers was two-for-two to lead the hitters on both sides. Barry Lee took the pitching victory for the Braves and Roger Patterson and Allen Early shared the duties for the Cardinals.

The Yankees opened the third game with three runs on two hits in the first inning. Sam Willis and Paul Velasquez doubled to provide the hits for the Yanks in that inning. Five more runs in the second were scored by the Yankees before the Giants could scratch the books for four runs in the third. The Yankees also scored in the third sending over three runs. The Giants came through with four more runs, but they were not enough to beat the Yankees.

The Giants were more impressive with the hits. Kip Riley, Waymon Barry, Terry Keller, and Jay Goodwin all had two hits. Sam Willis led the Yankees with a two-for-three; night. Ronnie Myers was the winning pitcher and Scott Wilson took the loss.

Crops Progressing, Most Of State Needing Rain

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Although most crops progressed well in the state last week, windy days depleted soil moisture rapidly, John E. Hutchinson, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said.

Much of the state needed rain for crops and livestock, he said.

Cotton and grain sorghum made excellent progress, Hutchinson said, and in a few areas, the grain harvest neared completion.

He said screwworm infestations in livestock remained high across much of the state with 4,901 more cases confirmed 1946 of the 254 counties, topping the previous week's outbreak of 3,879 cases. Total cases have not climbed above the 21,000 mark for 1972.

District agricultural agents gave these reports:

PANHANDLE: Light to moderate scattered rains helped crops and kept temperatures at a moderate level. Irrigated grain sorghums and corn made good growth. Range lands benefited from the rains. The wheat harvest neared completion. Cutting alfalfa started in some areas. The onion harvest was about 45 per cent complete.

SOUTH PLAINS: Cotton and grain made excellent progress with insect infestation generally light. A few cases of greenbugs were spotted. Field irrigation was underway in the northern portion. Good soil moisture aided soybean growth. Replanting was underway where hail ruined earlier stands of cotton. Ranges and pastures were in good condition.

ROLLING PLAINS: Moisture was needed in 16 of the 22 counties of the district. Cotton planting was virtually complete except for small acreage being replanted. Some spraying of cotton was underway. Boll weevil, fleahopper and thrip damage was reported in some portions. Ranges generally were in good condition. Some livestockmen sprayed for hornfly and screwworm control.

NORTH CENTRAL: Short moisture conditions existed in all except Ellis County. Cotton, corn and sorghum crops looked good. Most small grains have been harvested. Pecans and peaches were generally good. Livestock were in fair condition but the grass drying rapidly.

NORTHEAST: Soil moisture was short to adequate. Wheat, oats and barley have been harvested or graze out. Corn was in average condition and hay was in its second cutting. Harvests of tomatoes, watermelons, peas, squash and cucumbers were underway. Some peaches were harvested. Sweet potatoes were doing well. Pasture grasses made some growth. Livestock were in good condition.

FAR WEST: Range grass growth slowed. Livestock continued in good condition. Cotton made good growth, but insects increased. The onion crop made progress in the Fort Stockton area.

WEST CENTRAL: Most small grain has been harvested. Cotton planting was almost complete and the crop was progressing normally. The peach harvest was peaking in Gillespie County. Pecans looked good generally although they suffered from webworms and other insects.

CENTRAL: There was some natural shedding of cotton due to the showers and hot weather. Grain crops were maturing rapidly with yield prospects generally good. Midge was extremely heavy in some fields and greenbugs decreased. The peach harvest was at midway with good quality and good yields reported. A good set of pecans was reported although some yellow pecan aphid infestations were noted.

EAST: The hay harvest was in full swing with good regrowth occurring. Corn was in the roasting ear stage. Tomatoes, peas and watermelons were being harvested. The peach harvest was underway and pecans had a good crop set. Livestock were in fair to good condition.

SOUTH CENTRAL: Harvesting of grain and corn continued. Wheat and oat crops have been harvested. Good quality hay was being baled. Livestock were in excellent condition.

SOUTHEAST AND UPPER GULF COAST: Corn matured rapidly and grain harvesting began. The first rice was cut, and soybeans generally were in good condition. Livestock continued in good condition. Vegetable harvesting was underway.

SOUTH: The first bales of cotton were ginned in three Rio Grande Valley counties. Combining of grain continued. Good yields and good quality hay was being harvested. Citrus irrigation continued on schedule. Cattle were in good condition, but screwworms continued to plague the area.

SOUTHWEST: The grain harvest started, and yields of both grain and corn were expected to be good. Harvesting of cantaloupes, melons and spring vegetables neared completion. Livestock were in good condition.

Kenya Prepares For Power Shift

By ANDREW TORCHIA
Associated Press Writer

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — Kenya's establishment is preparing for the day when Jomo Kenyatta will no longer be president.

The "burning spear" of Kenya's independence struggle is 82 and slowing up, although apparently still in vigorous health. He likes to shuffle a few steps with tribal dancers at State House ceremonies. Associates say he keeps a close eye on the daily details of government.

Kenyatta is a living symbol of a decade of uhuru—freedom, stability and prosperity. He's one of Africa's respected elder statemen.

Kenya without Kenyatta is not often talked about in public, since such conversations could carry a taint of disloyalty. But recent developments look like an attempt to bolster his popularity and to arrange an orderly transfer of power on his death.

Kenyatta dramatically told a Madaraka—self-government—Day rally in Nairobi June 1 that his life had been threatened but that he had come to make a speech anyway. No arrests were made; a year ago security agents rounded up 12 persons who pleaded guilty to sedition.

Nabirobi newspapers, on orders from State House, pegged the Madaraka Day crowd at 500,000, although not more than 50,000 attended. Many listeners left before the president had finished speaking—unheard of a few years ago.

"The postindependence fervor has gradually cooled and Kenyatta has become an increasingly remote figure to young Kenyans," was one diplomat's reaction.

Leaders of the Kikuyu tribe would like to keep Kenyatta's popularity high as a national father-figure who cuts across tribal divisions. Kikuyus make up a fifth of Kenya's 11½ million people; Kenyatta is one.

His personal appeal and political shrewdness have masked the extent of Kikuyu dominance in Kenyan society. Kikuyus and their tribal allies control almost half the Cabinet, including the departments of defense, foreign affairs, home affairs, finance and attorney general.

Forthcoming elections in the Kenya African National Union will be a crucial test for the Kikuyus in getting their house in order before parliamentary balloting scheduled by 1974. There are signs that all is not going well.

The elections have been postponed indefinitely from last March 1 while the party struggles against apathy to raise membership from under 500,000 to more than a million. Party officials have accused each other of holding secret midnight enrollment sessions and issuing forged membership tickets in order to stack the voting lists.

Bitterly contested balloting in June in the Central Organization of Trade Unions represented a setback for Kikuyu influence. Denis Akumu, one of the Luos who are the Kikuyus' chief tribal rivals, won re-election as secretary-general. James Karebe, a Kikuyu, was ousted as president.

Akumu is a sugar plantation leader with strong backing in coastal districts, and a former supporter of Oginga Odinga, a leftist who was once vice president of Kenya; he broke with Kenyatta and was imprisoned 18 months as a subversive.

The Home Affairs Ministry under Vice President Daniel Arap Moi removed the passports of dozens of top union officials prior to the voting—without explanation.

Later, the passports of five members of Parliament were taken at Nairobi airport as they were about to leave on officially arranged trips outside Kenya. Four were heading for a study tour in the United States and one for an environmental conference in Vienna.

Parliament formally condemned the action as calculated to embarrass legislators and reduce their privileges. Foreign Minister Njoroge Mungai apologized for what he called a bureaucratic slipup in clearance procedures, but without satisfying some MPs who blamed politicians they said were fighting for power.

It appeared that the government may have been convinced that some of the five MPs had been going abroad on secret fund-raising missions. Similar accusations were made against Oginga Odinga two years ago.

One of the legislators whose passports were lifted was Grace Onyango, a Luo like Oginga Odinga. Another was John Seroney, one of the government's chief critics in Parliament. He was convicted of sedition three years ago but remained in politics.

Both Seroney and Moi, the vice president, belong to the Kalenjin tribal group, but they are rivals in local affairs in the Rift Valley district.

Moi, 48, a tall, handsome former teacher, appears set to play a key role in Kenya's political future. Some say Kikuyu leaders may back him as the next president, in an effort to muffle tribal discontent.

The Kikuyu establishment is believed hoping to avoid any challenge to Moi in the KANU voting, but many party branches have been omitting his name from resolutions of support for Kenyatta.

Another presidential possibility is Mungai, 46, Kenyatta's American-trained personal physician as well as foreign minister. Until recently, Mungai was often described as Kenya's most eligible bachelor. His marriage to Lilian Njeri Njenga, a farmer's daughter, seems to enhance his political chances.

Marcos Orders Jets In Air

MANILA (AP) — President Ferdinand E. Marcos ordered air force jets into the air today to strafe and bomb suspected positions of Communist rebels in northeastern Isabela province.

It was the fifth day of fighting against guerrillas of the Maoist New People's Army near Palanan, about 200 miles northeast of Manila.

A rebel force estimated at about 100 men has been skirmishing with government troops since Thursday, when fighting broke out over a grounded 100-ton freighter believed to have been bringing supplies to the rebels.

Informed sources said Marcos ordered the jets into the fight because the rough terrain in the area made it difficult for ground troops to go after the rebels in high, well concealed positions.

Trade Mission To Soviet Union

CHICAGO (AP) — Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie has announced that Illinois will send a trade mission to the Soviet Union early this fall and that the federal government will assist the Illinois group, expected to number about 12.

The governor said Illinois officials had been working since last fall to obtain clearance for a trade mission in anticipation of the trade agreement President Nixon announced Saturday.

Ogilvie said the mission will look into the possibility of soybean sales. Soybeans were not mentioned in the trade agreement announced Saturday.

Two To Room

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AI) — The 50,000 persons officially connected with the 1972 Democratic National Convention are, on the average, staying two to a room.

Media representatives have 7,000 rooms with delegates and alternates occupying 6,500. The 50,000 have rented 1,200 automobiles.

Blonde But Not Dumb

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The original "Laugh-In" crowd, whose uninhibited antics surprised an unprepared television audience almost five years ago, is pretty well broken up and scattered now.

By September, only four of the originals will be left: Dan Rowan and Dick Martin, of course, plus Gary Owen, imitating an old-line radio announcer, and Ruth Buzzi, the series' all-purpose singer, dancer and clown.

But, among all the talent that has come and gone, only Goldie Hawn, who quit after three memorable seasons playing a dumb bunny, has gone on to real star status—and that in motion pictures.

Maybe it was luck, more likely it was long preparation and a built-in sense of timing, but Goldie left "Laugh-In" right after she had finished her role in the film adaptation of "Cactus Flower," the role that later won her an Oscar. A slight girl with enormous eyes, tousled hair and a dancer's body, Goldie delighted the public with a dumb blonde act and fumbling, confused introductions of Dan and Dick and of sketches.

"I had a three-year contract with 'Laugh-In,'" She explained. "At the end of the third year, I didn't want to stick around. And George Schlatter, then creator and executive producer of the series and the others didn't want to hold me back."

The public missed earlier opportunities to discover Goldie. The writers-producers of a series called "Good Morning World" had seen her and they wrote in a role for her, the bubble-headed girl friend of a disc jockey in the comedy series. Nothing much happened—to Goldie or to the series, except that Schlatter, whipping up "Laugh-In" and trying to make a crazy, new form of TV entertainment work, saw her and liked her.

"I was typecast by the situation comedy series," she said, "and while George liked the character, he really didn't know what to do with me.

"I spent the first three 'Laugh-In' shows just walking on and introducing people and things like that. Suddenly I was messing up lines honestly and the studio audience laughed. That's how the thing started."

Goldie's third film was "$" in which she costarred with Warren Beatty. She says she finds motion picture work challenging and satisfying.

Her latest movie is the film version of "Butterflies Are Free," and she recently cut her first album, "Goldie."

"I'm grateful to television," she said. "It did a lot for me.

THE INFORMED CONSUMER

BY CRAWFORD C. MARTIN
Attorney General of Texas

Fat creeps up on people just like age. So, when you're looking for that ideal way to shed extra pounds, here are some weight reduction traps to look out for.

Be cautious if you're planning to join a reducing salon or a health spa. Don't get carried away with your good intentions. The "before" and "after" photos advertised by the clubs may be inspiring but sometimes unrealistic.

Complaints from former patrons of such salons indicate that claims about the advantages of the salons are often misleading. One cause for dissatisfaction is that, while the facilities may be open during the hours indicated, they are not always available to all individuals at all times. Specific days of the week may be limited to either men or women. The advertised equipment and facilities are not always available at each club.

Some spas promote a special price for a "limited time" membership; this is usually just a "come-on." Once they get you inside, the prodding begins. Many people are highpressured into signing at least a full year contract which is almost impossible to break if the membership services are found to be unsatisfactory.

Spa salesmen often fail to disclose to customers the nature of the contracts they are asked to sign, the circumstances under which memberships can be terminated, the nature of the "guaranteed results" or how the guarantee will be honored.

Be wary of pills, too. Look with suspicion at the so-called "miracle" drugs for weight reduction. They may be only ineffective, in which case you will lose money...not pounds. The U.S. Food and Drug Administration has issued a statement saying that "there are no drugs that can safely control the problem of obesity." There is no magic formula for an overweight person to eat whatever he or she wants and melt off excess fat by taking one or a dozen drugs a day. At best, some drugs may give only short term relief to reduce the appetite. And, certain reducing pills can be truly harmful to your health.

Self-prescribed diets can also be a hazard. If you want to lose weight, the will power to change eating habits on a long-term basis is the only final solution to too much fat. Get help from your physician before starting out on a diet routine...it's smarter and safer, and you'll look and feel better if you maintain your health.

Society Protests Bell's Repellent

HOUSTON (AP) — Southwestern Bell Telephone said it is changing its anti-squirrel campaign after protests they were getting birds instead.

But Dr. Thomas O. Nichols, an investigator for the Houston Audobon Society, said he is still unconvinced by Bell's new effort.

The telephone company has applied a gluey substance which they call Squirrel Repellent 3906-L to telephone lines to keep squirrels from gnawing on them.

Two neighbors, Raliegh A. Smith Jr. and John H. McKenzie, said the coating was not really stopping squirrels but killing birds.

"Those squirrels would stick in it like it was fly paper," Smith said. "The squirrels were big enough to get away, although they left some fur behind. But the bird's weren't so lucky."

Smith said the birds got their wings stuck to the line and finally tumbled to the ground to starve or fall prey to cats. They notified the Audubon Society which protested to Bell.

A Bell spokesman said the phone company was using the substance on about 5 per cent of the company's lines, where there are both squirrels and older lead-sheated cables.

The squirrels gnaw on the lead, apparently for its salt content, and allow moisture to short out lines, he said. The company had been using the repellent in wooded locales throughout the five-state system since it was licensed by the U.S. Department of Agriculture in 1968.

He said Houston's humid weather apparently was to blame for the sticky situation.

The substance is supposed to film over so it won't bother birds but will discourage the sharp-clawed squirrels who puncture the film. "Squirrels, so we're told, can't stand sticky feet."

The Bell spokesman said the earlier repellent won't be removed since it should have filmed over by now. But after protests from Smith and McKenzie, they did remove it from their lines. It took them four days, Smith said.

Social Security Raise Automatic

Social security beneficiaries need not apply for the 20 percent benefit increase signed into law by President Nixon on July 1. Social Security District Manager, Erven Fisher, said that all social security beneficiaries who are on the benefit rolls in September will receive the increase automatically. The increase is effective beginning with the checks that will be received Oct. 3. The average monthly benefit for a retired worker goes up from $134 to $162; for a retired couple from $224 to about $271.

Widowed mother with two children will receive an average social security benefit of about $386, up from $322. For a disabled worker with a wife and one or more children, the new average monthly payment will be about $354, increased from $295. The special monthly payments that are made to certain individuals age 72 and over who are not insured for regular social security case benefits will also be increased by 20 per cent, from $48.30 to $58 for an individual and from $72.50 to $87 for a couple. The new law also includes a provision for automatic annual increases in social security benefits as the cost of living rises in the future — a recommendation made by President Nixon in his 1969 message on social security. Under the new law the contribution and benefit case —the maximum amount of annual earning that is counted for benefit and contribution purposes — will rise from the present $9,000 a year to $10,800 in 1973 and to $12,000 in 1974. Thereafter, this amount would be adjusted automatically to keep pace with rising wages. This means that as earnings rise workers whose earnings are at or above the level of the maximum earnings base will pay contributions on higher earnings — but they also will have those additional earnings counted toward the benefits that will be payable to them and their families in the future.

Rogers Meets Andreotti

Andreott's government, which left the Marixist Socialists out of the ruling coalition for the first time in a decade, won its first vote of confidence in the Chamber of Deputies on Friday and comes up for its first test in the Senate this Friday.

The new foreign minister, Giuseppe Medici, and U.S. Ambassador Graham Martin also were present when Rogers and Andreotti met.

The talks were expected to cover the whole field of Italian-American relations. Rogers had been expected to visit Italy during a European tour several months ago but the stop here was canceled.

The secretary is on his way back to Washington after an eight-nation tour that began with the meeting in Australia of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization. He said in Yugoslavia Sunday that President Nixon had instructed him to stop in Rome after Andreotti succeeded in forming a government.

Rogers will have an audience Tuesday with Pope Paul VI at which the Vietnam war and the resumption of the Paris peace talks are certain to be discussed. The Pope on Sunday called for an end to that "intolerable and bloody war."

Telethon Successful

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The Democratic party says nearly $4.5 million was pledged during its 19-hour money-raising telethon.

But despite the financial success of the program, the party is still more than $6 million in debt from the 1968 campaign.

The party conducted the television extravaganza in an effort to wipe out a $9.3-million 1968 debt. Performers appearing on the show which ended Sunday night donated their services, but the Democrats reportedly had to pay the ABC television networth $1.6 million for the airtime.

Officials were hopeful that late mail-in contributions would push the show's gross over $5 million.

Viewers pledged the contributions via telephone calls to 2 regional centers manned by 12,000 volunteers or charged it to credit cards.

At one point in the show early Sunday morning, one telethon host placed a call to the Western White House at San Clemente, Calif., to ask President Nixon for a contribution. The call, however, never got past what apparently was a guard who thought the idea was a bad joke.

Coast Gets Showers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fierce thunderstorms broke out over the Gulf of Mexico and boiled inland near Sabine Pass on the Upper Texas Coast this morning, moving toward the north-northwest.

There were scattered showers elsewhere near the coast from around Victoria to Beaumont and here and there in South Central and East Texas, while lightning flickered across the sky west of El Paso in far West Texas.

Except for pitches of clouds in places, skies were clear in other sections and it started out like another warm day. The early morning temperatures ranged from 66 degrees at Amarillo in the Texas Panhandle up to 80 at Galveston on the coast.

Showers were rather widespread Sunday but generally light, with moisture amounts ranging up to .76 inch at Lubbock. Top temperatures in the afternoon reached into the 90s at many points, going as high as 95 degrees at El Paso and Fort Worth.

Little change was expected in the weather throughout the state.

COMPLETES BASIC—David Lee Rayven, son of Mr. and Mrs. C.E. Rayven, 811 17th, has completed basic training in San Diego, Calif., for the United States Marine Corps. Pvt. Rayven is on leave and will report shortly to Camp Leeds, Virginia.

Elephants Take Toll

NEW DELHI (AP) — Elephants have killed at least 24 persons in five villages around Chandka Forest, 780 miles southeast of New Delhi the United News of India reported today.

The news agency said more than 20,000 villagers are neglecting their farming because of the killers.

It is not known why the elephants ran wild, but authorities think this summer's premonsoon drought and heat wave may have crazed them.
