The first go-round in the show will end tonight. (Craft Studio photograph)

Prizes Given In Parade, Beard Contest

Three sets of prizes were awarded here yesterday afternoon after preliminary events in connection with the Scurry County Rodeo were held.

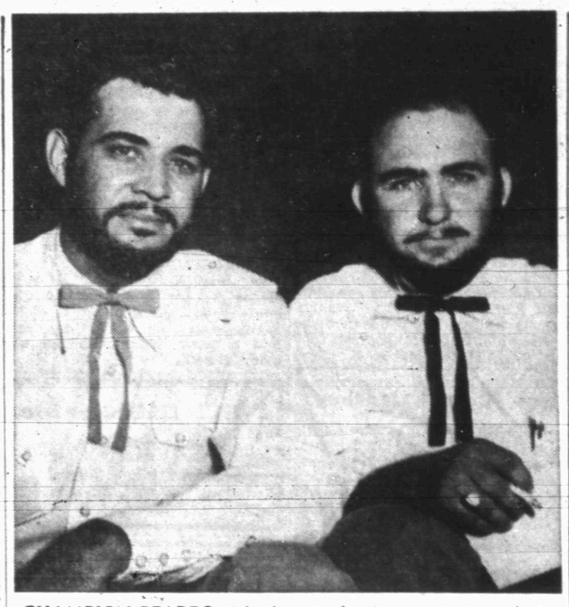

Activities opened with a beard-judging event staged by the Junior Chamber of Commerce on the courthouse square. In that contest, Denver Way was awarded first prize of a $50 defense bond for his black beard, which appeared to be longer than most in the contest. Placing second and winning a $25 bond was E. E. (Buddy) Norris, sheriff's deputy.

Judging the beard contest were Goodwin Simpson of Colorado City, state Jaycee vice-president, of precinct 3 here.

About 35 men entered the beard contest, most of them with beards about a month old.

The parade followed the contest and included a large number of floats. About half were organizational floats entered in a contest, the other half commercial. Awarded first pize of $100 in the float contest was the Lucky 13 sports club, which had a large boot and spur on its float. Second prize of $65 went to the American Legion and VFW auxiliaries, and third prize of $35 was awaded the Rainbow Girls. Other floats entered in the contest included those made by the Cosmorama Club, Little League Mothers, Epsilon Sigma Alpha, Jaycees, and Art Guild. Over 100 Vie For Top Cash

The nineteenth annual Scurry County Rodeo bucked, twisted, kicked and spun its way through opening night last night before a capacity crowd.

Rodeo officials estimated the crowd at about 4,000. Some said it was the biggest crowd they had ever seen at a rodeo here, while others compared it with the opening crowd of 1952.

More than 100 contestants competed in the 11 different events. Winners were announced in only two events, as each must compete against tonights riders and ride again either Friday or Saturday night for top money.

The last half of the first go-round will be run off tonight as another 100 plus cowboys and cowgirls ride for their first time.

The Serenaders, television entertainers from Lubbock, presented a special program of traditional and popular songs between the second and third events.

Sidney Johnston of Snyder and his helpers won the wild mare race, an event in which the cowboy must saddle and ride the skiddish horse without the aid of a chute.

The other winner was Jerry Guthrie also of Snyder who took top money in the goat sacking race, by out-racing and out-sacking about 25 competitors including several girls. On a signal, the entrants run toward a herd of young goats, catch one and put him in a sack he and his partner are carrying. Then they must race, sack, goat and all to the judge. Darby Scott was second best goat man.

An Abilene man, Max Fisher, was injured in the first event, the bareback bronc riding, when he was thrown and the horse stepped on him. Observers said he got up and started to walk away, but sank to the ground and was taken to Cogdell Memorial Hospital for treatment.

David Rushing, Big Spring, had the best score in bareback bronc riding by garnering a total of 142 points. This does not make him the rodeo's winner, for he must ride again in one of the last two nights of the show.

Jimmy Moore, Post, ranked second with 137 points, and John Farris, Iowa Park, and Judy Reid, Petrolia, tied at third with 125 points each.

Jimmy Boyd, Post, bettered all his competition in Senior Calf Roping by at least 2.5 seconds with a time of 13.8 seconds.

Two girls, Melinda Bartlett, Stamford and Sherry Price, Addington, Okla., tied for the night's Senior Sponsor Contest barrel ride with times of 18.0 seconds.

Little Miss Paula Helms, Rotan, did not win the money for the sponsor's barrel ride, but she did draw the most applause from the crowd. She rode a Shetland pony which insisted on making the corners in a high wide and safe, manner. Her time — 35.7 seconds.

Bill Barton, Abilene, topped the saddle bronc riders with 145 points over second-place Joe Collier of Wichita Falls, who gathered 143 points.

Harold Henley, Snyder, was the best wild cow milker of the night, catching and milking his cow, and running the distance to the judge in 26.4 seconds.

Clowns were Bobo Williams and Louis Blair of Dundee.

After the regular show was over, about 42 additional calf ropers competed until almost 1 a.m. Officials reported that Clifton Smith had the best time with 13.0 seconds.

Listed blow are the top times of the first half of the first round of competition for the day money. These will be matched against the riders of tonight to determine the takers. They will ride again to get their two-night average for which another group of prizes is given.

Texas Democrats Denounce Nation's Segregation Ban

DALLAS (AP) — The Supreme Court's ban on segregation was denounced and "northern labor leaders" in the Democratic Party blasted at a meeting last night of consevative Texas Democrats.

But the estimated 200 party members who gathered in a hotel ballroom strongly rejected suggestions they intended to form a "splinter" political group.

"This group is not a splinter group, but the Democratic Party of Texas," declared R. A. Stuart, former state senator from Fort Worth and one of the speakers. "If we don't keep control of it, the CIO-PAC will take over and become the Democratic Party of Texas.'

Gov. Allan Shivers had wired the group he would not attend their meeting and added: "I have always been opposed to splinter political parties and the organization of third parties." He said he had heard the group would not be working within the framework of the Democratic Party.

Democratic state chairman George Sandlin and Wright Morrow, national committeeman from Texas, also advised they would not attend and in doing so stressed working through the regular party.

The group adopted a resolution opposing desegregation in public schools and urging that the state attorney general enjoin the University of Texas and other schools from carrying out announced plans to comply with the Supreme Court ruling.

They applauded loudly when Circuit Judge Tom B. Brady of Brookhaven, Miss., said the supreme Court justices should be impeached if they don't reverse their segregation position.

"The Supreme Court decision abolishing segregation in the public schools in the South is but a small part of the overall santanic plan to socialize and communize America," Brady declared.

Another resolution pledged the group, "working within our party, organized in opposition to the northern domination of labor leaders, (to) sustain our governor... to maintain the fundamental principles upon which our government is organized.

The meeting was called by Hamilton Rogers, Fort Worth attorney, to "solidify conservative thinking and preserve conservative government." Rogers himself said he would walk out "if there is any attempt to turn this into a anti-Shivers meeting or to set up a splinter group."

Jack Porter of Houston, Texas national Republican committeeman, sent a telegram telling the group there's no hope of success for a third or splinter party movement and inviting them to join the GOP.

"When you tell us you want to work with us," said Porder, "you are a Republican of long standing insofar as we are concerned."

HOUSTON (AP) — A 54-year-old Morgan's Point woman died yesterday after calling a funeral home director and telling him she was going to need him "in about 30 minutes."

Mrs. Effie Salmon Slaughter died in a Baytown hospital after calling Art Simpson, the funeral home director.

Justice of the Peace Dave Thompson was holding up an inquest verdict pending an autopsy.

Deputy Sheriff Jimmy Crate went to the woman's home and found a glass containing a mixture of ant powder and water. The ant powder contained cyanide, the deputy said.

Dallas Seeks Fair Erasure Of Color Line

DALLAS (AP)—The Dallas School Board says a study of "fair and equitable" ways of erasing the color line in schools here is underway but it doesn't want any "undue pressure."

A Negro leader who heard the board's two-page policy statement last night replied that his group is "happy to see that you have taken the matter under consideration," but added:

"We will, however, be impatient and disturbed by a prolonged delay."

The board's long - promised segregation statement was read at a crowded meeting by Dr. Edwin L. Rippy, board president. It said the board months ago directed Supt. W. T. White to make a detailed study.

The investigation, Rippy said is a comprehensive one including district boundaries, relative intelligence quotient scores, curriculum, assignment of principals and selection of white and Negro teachers, social life of students, PTA and Dads Clubs groups, athletic program, etc.

Rippy said the board insists it be allowed to work out a solution in the "minutest detail" before taking action. The board said it "will be impatient with any undue pressure designed to provoke a premature alteration of the present policy."

Kenneth Holbert, secretary of the Dallas chapter of the National Assn. for Advancement of Colored People, spoke for about a dozen Negroes present. The NAACP chapter has petitioned for "immediate concrete steps leading to the early elimination of segregation in public schools."

The board said it always has adhered "to the principle that a school system should function on a basis that is to the best interest of its children regardless of race, color, creed, or economic status" and will continue to do so.

Dr. Carl Dillaha said that the cowboy had ruptured a disc in his back which had been injured in a fall from a horse about two years ago. There had been some paralysis in his legs last night, but this morning the feeling had begun to return, the doctor said.

He also received a slight shoulder injury, but the doctor affirmed that there were no broken bones.

He was carried to Cogdell Memorial Hospital in a Bell ambulance, after being thrown from his horse.

"The composition of our delegation is the very summit."

The goateed Soviet Premier added: "For instance, how could we discuss disamament at Geneva unless Defense Minister Zhukov came along."

Studebaker Assembly Line Workers Out

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Workers on the final assembly line at the Studebaker-Packard Co. walked off the job today, making about 6,000 plant employes idle and halting production of Studebaker cars.

The stoppage stemmed from a dispute over seniority, a management spokesman said. Between 75 and 100 men took part in the initial walkout.

The company official did not disclose any details except to say plant officials were conferring with the CIO United Auto Workers in an effort to settle differences over the "bumping" system, whereby a worker with more seniority is given certain preference over another worker.

About 3,000 nonproduction employes remained on the job.

The Studebaker - Packard firm, which has had financial difficulties and labor unrest, faces the possibility of a major strike.

The workers voted overwhelmingly two days ago to give their local union officials authority to call a walkout.

The vote came after the CIO Union protested the layoff of nearly 1,800 workers, which the union said violated the company - union contract.

Management officials said that under recently established production standards the men were not needed.

Contempt Of Court Charged To Witness In Giles Trial

By MAC ROY RASOR

AUSTIN (AP)—Dist. Judge Charles O. Betts today held a state's witness in the Bascom Giles theft trial in contempt of court.

The witness was Henry Rosenow, the original owner of land purchased in the name of L. V. Ruffin for resale under the veteran's land program.

Giles, as former chairman of the Veteran's Land Board, is charged with taking $6,800 in the Rosenow transactions.

Rosenow had not yet taken the witness stand. He had been among state witnesses who at the outset of the trial had been ordered by Judge Betts to remain outside the court room and to discuss the case with no one, nor read about it.

The elderly Rosenow, who appeared to have difficulty in hearing, was found in the courtroom at mid-morning. His presence was reported to the judge by Dist. Atty. Les Procter.

Judge Betts called Rosenow to the bench, told him he was in contempt of court for disobeying the court's instructions. Betts deferred any immediate action other than to send Rosenow from the courtroom.

The judge said he would take the matter under further advisement.

Procter challenged defense attorneys, claiming they had known earlier that Rosenow was in the courtroom and had done nothing about it.

Betts upbraided the attorneys, telling them he would hold counsel on both sides responsible for seeing that the court's instructions are carried out.

L. C. Jackson, former executive secretary of the Veteran's Land Board under the Giles administration, was on the witness stand again today.

He testified to board procedures and identified records in connection with the Kinney land deal in which Giles is charged.

Jackson was on the stand briefly yesterday after Judge Charles O. Betts rejected a defense motion for a mistrial.

The motion was based on questions asked by Dist. Atty. Les Procter of Brady attorney Sam McCollum III, who preceded Jackson as a witness.

Defense attorney Clint C. Small Sr., objected to a series of questions and answers about whether a Dimmit County land deal was crooked.

He told the judge the line of questioning was "so inflammatory and prejudicial" that its "disastrous consequences" could not be removed from the minds of the jury even though the judge had ordered the testimony sticken from the record.

When Betts refused a mistrial, Small then tried unsuccessfully to have McCollum's testimony stricken on the basis that McCollum, by testifying, had violated a confidential attorney-client relationship between himself and two other men.

The two men are Brady land dealer B. R. Sheffield and L. V. Ruffin of Corpus Christi, former veterans land deal promoter in Brady.

McCollum testified he heard a telephone conversation in which Giles said he would take $15,000 as his part in the Powers Ranch transaction in Dimmit County.

That deal is not the one in connection with which Giles is standing trial on charges of theft of $6,800 in state funds and abetting such alleged theft. Sheffield is awaiting later trial on the same charges.

Refinery Fire Damage Estimated $21,000

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Damages from a spectacular refinery fire yesterday afternoon that hospitalized six firemen and generated smoke visible 30 miles away has been estimated at $21,000 by an Antonio firemen.

They listed the damage as $9,000 to the Howell Refining Co. plant, $10,000 to two oil-laden trucks and $2,000 to oil.

Five of the six stricken firemen had been released from the hospital today. District Fire Chief R. M. Ingram remained for further treatment for heat exhaustion.

The fire, the second in two years at the plant, started when a burning truck crashed into a refinery loading ramp, firemen said. The blaze spread to the second truck loaded with crude oil and to a storage tank containing distillate.

City Council Accepts Bid For Pak-Mor Garbage Truck

The city council held a special meeting here this morning and accepted the bid of the Pak-Mor Manufacturing Co. of San Antonio on a truck and garbage truck body for $7,415.56, according to a report made by Jack Shelley, city manager.

Shelley said the council accepted the bid on the truck and garbage as a package unit for a number of reasons, although the bid was slightly higher than some others submitted. Principle reason was that the firm will make delivery of the truck, with the garbage body mounted, tomorrow, and it can be put to use immediately.

The city has been operating the garbage collection system with two garbage trucks, and the two were being overburdened with route work. Working on a full schedule, the trucks were required to be on the job fulltime to keep the collection system from getting behind. A breakdown on one of the trucks meant that garbage would pile up in some neighborhoods and that the two trucks could not catch up with the schedule. A third truck will aid that situation, and the emergency need for the truck had much to do with acceptance of the Pak-Mor bid. Others bidding promised delivery in several days, some 20 or 30.

The truck being purchased has a 20-yard garbage body, or five yards larger than the bodies on the trucks now in use here. The truck has two-speed transmission, while others in bids submitted had single - speed transmissions. The truck bought is a C-700 eight-cylinder Ford, and the body is already lengthened for mounting of the garbage body, while there would have been expense of lengthening the others. It has heavy duty springs.

The Park-Mor firm, in addition to making the package bid, submitted a bid of $4,200 on the garbage body alone, and most of the other bids were on the truck bodies alone. There was considered another bid on a garbage body. The bid was $3,817.50 on a Seal-Press 20-yard body by the Plains Machinery Co. of Odessa, but Shelley said there were features of that body not suitable for use here. Truck bids were $2,875 by Snyder Truck & Tractor Co., on a plain cab International truck with delivery in a minimum of 34 days; $2,994.73 by Snyder Sales Co. on a plain cab Ford truck, with no specified delivery date; $3,070 by Eiland Motor Co. on a plain cab GMC truck, with delivery in 20 to 30 days.

The council approved a request of Shriners here to sponsor the Shrine Circus in the city on Sept. 17. The circus will be held on the high school football stadium.

The bid of the Snyder National Bank was accepted, and the bank was given a two-year contract for the city depository. The bank submitted the only bid.

The McWayne Cast Iron Pipe Co. of Dallas, which had been low bidder and was awarded a contract for the city's purchase of pipe at the regular council meeting earlier this week, contacted Shelley and said that its low bid of .6645 cents per foot was in error. The price was reduced to .662 cents per foot.

Three and a half miles southwest of the field, C. L. Norsworthy, Jr., of Dallas No. 1-A Compton developed flowing oil on a one-hour drillstem test of the Strawn.

The zone tested was from 6,870-885 feet. Gas surfaced in four minutes, mud in 45 and oil in 54. No estimate of the flow was made. Recovery was 1,030 feet of oil with a trace of salty drilling mud. Hole was being deepened below 7,060 feet in lime and shale at last report.

Location is in 93-1A-H&TC, nine miles southwest of Maryneal.

Peron Urged To Grant Freedom Of Press

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Argentina's Roman Catholic episcopate has urged that the Peron government grant complete freedom of press, radio and public meetings as the first step toward establishing a real public opinion in this country.

A pastoral letter calling for such action was published yesterday in response to President Juan D. Peron's July 5 appeal for political truce.

The letter reviewed events it said figured in the "state of religious persecution in Argentina." Its 24 signers included two cardinals and five archbishops.

Peron brought the government-church feud into the open last November when he accused some members of the clergy of working against his regime. The church denied the accusation. Since the June 16 revolt against Peron was put down, the government has dropped its open antichurch campaign.

Roman Catholic church sources reported yesterday the government has decided to resume salary payments to some clergymen. Salary contributions had been paid by the government to ton Catholic prelates and their assistants but were cut off last month.

NAACP President Refuses Use Of Membership Rolls

MACON, Ga. (AP) — Dr. J. S. Williams, president of the Macon chapter of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, says he will burn the membership rolls rather than allow them to be used against Negro school teachers.

The State Board of Education Monday voted to "revoke forever" the license of any teacher who "supports, encourages, condones, offers to teach or teaches" non-segregated classes.

Following this action, Atty. Gen. Eugene Cook urged that the board revoke the license of any teacher who is "affiliated with or contributes to" the NAACP. Chairman George P. Whitman Jr. of Atlanta, said such a resolution would be passed at the next meeting in August.

Cook's proposal was termed a "desperate action" by Williams. He added that it is "suggestive of Nazi tactics and Negro leaders are not going to sit back and watch him browbeat the Negroes of the state."

"If Cook can get away with this now," Williams said, "what's to stop him from extending it to other groups such as Catholics, Republicans or members of labor unions?"

J. H. Calhoun, president of the Atlanta NAACP chapter, said only "we will take the case" if any Negro teacher is injured by the board action. He declined to elaborate, saying he would "not get into a word battle with the attoney general."

Vegetables Arrested

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A load of vegetables got a ticket today for disturbing the peace.

Residents near an outlying shopping center complained to the Montgomery County sheriff's office that noise from a parked refrigerator truck was disturbing their slumber. Deputies couldn't locate the driver and were afraid to turn off the refrigerator motor.

So they hung a ticket on the truck charging the driver with disturbing the peace.

Navy Is Important Purchaser Of Farm And Ranch Products

(EDITOR' SNOTE: This is the second report from D. B. Hardeman, veteran Texas journalist and Texas legislator from Denison, who is making an extensive tour of Europe where he will cover the Geneva Big Four Conference and other events of interest to Texans.)

By D. B. HARDEMAN

ABOARD USS ALSTEDE IN THE MEDITERRANEAN — Texas farmers, poultrymen, dairymen, and cattlemen probably don't know it, but Uncle Sam's Navy is a mighty important customer for them.

And I can prove it, for on the USS Alstede is a veritable mountain of food, much of which undoubtedly came off the farms and ranches of the Lone Star State.

This ship is, I believe, the world's largest floating supermarket, and her mission this trip is to bring to the giant 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean Sea the food needed to keep sailors and aviators well and happy to do their job as the first line of defense in case of Russian attack.

When I tell you what we have abroad this one ship, you'll probably think I've been smoking that Texas weed known as marijuana, but the Alstede's supply officer, Lt. George Laning, gave the figures to me from the Navy's official records.

LOTS OF MEAT

My Dad's a cattleman at Goliad, but he'll be suprised to know that in order to provide the beef and veal we have aboard, you'd have to butcher 1,000 big Texas steers and 500 fat calves.

We have 1,136,000 pounds of frozen boneless beef and 150,000 pounds of veal, enough to serve 2½ million hearty meals. Since each sailor is allowed about a pound of boneless beef or other fresh meat a day, it takes a lot of meat to keep the Navy going.

In addition, we have 10,000 tenderloins — that's what you make filet mignon from—and since each steer has just two, that represents 5,000 steers going to the slaughterhouse. We've also got plenty of bacon to wrap around those filets —87,723 pounds of it.

I'll barely mention the 27,900 pounds of corned beef and 9,900 pounds of dried beef.

If you raise chickens in Texas, you may be interested to know that the good ship Alstede this trip is carrying 110,000 frozen chickens (and 6,000 fat frozen turkeys). And we have enough fresh eggs (169,000 dozen) to give every man, woman, and child in Houston two crambled for breakfast tomorrow morning.

600,000 POUNDS OF PORK

Maybe you raise hogs in Texas. Well, iff addition to the 45 tons of bacon, we are carrying 259,470 pounds of ham, 139,000 pounds of pork loin, 31,000 pounds of pork spareribs, and nearly 60,000 pounds of pork sausage. That makes a total of nearly 600,000 pounds of pork on this one food supply ship.

I really didn't believe Lt. Laning when he told me we were giving the giant aircraft carrier Coral Sea 30,000 pounds of butter today, but he was right. They use about 400 pounds a day, and we could spare it — we left the States with 169,000 pounds aboard.

Sailors love milk, and getting milk while on foreign duty is a real headache. The Navy does the best it can to serve them milk, but that's not too good here in Europe. This time we are carrying canned whole milk, 36,000 gallons of it, which is supposed to taste almost like fresh milk. It's a relatively new item, and may help solve the milk shortage for sailors overseas. In addition, Texas dairy farmers, we have 25,000 gallons of frozen milk and 10,000 gallons of evaporated milk in our stores.

FRUIT POPULAR, TOO

The citrus farmers in South Texas should be happy to know that the sea-going men have a big appetite for grapefruit and oranges and lemons. The fresh fruit doesn't last too long, but aboard we have about 70,000 oranges, 30,000 grapefruit, and 20,000 fresh lemons, in addition to enough frozen juices to make 14,000 gallons plus plenty of canned juices.

Some of the wheat farmers in North and West Texas, maybe in my home county of Grayson, undoubtedly don't realize that this one ship is carrying enough flour to make 165,000 loaves of bread. That would make a sandwich for every person living in San Antonio, Hillsboro, Beaumont, Beeville, Waco, Austin, Cuero, San Angelo, Sherman, Abilene, Marshall, Denison, Corpus Christi, Big Spring, Snyder, Paris, and Greenville, and still have 200,000 sandwiches left over for neighbors who dropped in.

Vegetables, yes, we have them, too. Onions 22,000 pounds, cabbage, 29,000 pounds; lettuce, 22,000 pounds (and under Navy chilling it will keep 21 days); spinach, 23,000 pounds, and tons and tons of broccoli, Brussels sprouts, lima corn, asparagus, and lots of other things. About half the vegetables are frozen the other half, canned.

THERE'S RICE ABOARD

The rice farmers in Southeast Texas no doubt contributed part of the 11,400 pounds we have on the Alstede.

For the Southern boys we have aboard, we have 1,300 pounds of hominy grits, 6,000 pounds of peanut butter, 3,500 pounds of honey, and plenty of molasses.

No Texan in the Navy need long for Mexican food, for we have enough chilli powder to make 5,000 pounds of chili con carne, and three tons of red beans to go in the chili.

And we have 230 pounds of garlic, enough to smell from Paris to El Paso.

After seeing what the Navy buys from Texas farmers and cattlemen, I understand better where some of those air-conditioned Cadillacs with trailer hitches came from.

I'm tried of writing about all this food, so I'm going below and eat a big, juicy Texas T-bone steak as we approach the shores of Southern France.

Report Given On Boys Club

sSnyder Kiwanis Club members got a report on operation of the Boys Club at their regular luncheon meeting Wednesday in the Hilander.

Max West, president of the Boys Club of Scurry County, and Guy Sullivan, director of activities, both spoke briefly.

West reviewed the history of the new organization, and expressed pride in the fact that within months the idea of a Boys Club here developed into a working organization. This was possible, West said, because many people of the community were interested in the project and worked to put it into operation.

Sullivan said the Boys Club has 468 members at present, and that most of them participate actively in the program. This does not mean that 468 are on hand at any given hour, he explained. Normally about 75 boys are at the Boys Club from 8 a.m. to around 6 p.m. Most of them remain three to five hours when they come to the club.

Automobile bumper signs to publicize the "Slow Down — And Live" campaign were distributed to Kiwanis Club member and guests. Also, announcement was made that the club will hold a "Ladies Night" meeting next Tuesday at the Towle Memorial Park pavilion.

Bodies Of Four Men Removed From Crashed B-47 Stratojet Plane

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — The bodies of four men were removed from an Air Force B47 Stratojet bomber which crashed 10 miles south of here early today, officials at Barksdale Air Force Base said.

A crash crew and civilian authorities reached the wreckage of the bomber about three hours after it crashed and burned shortly after midnight.

The bodies of the three officers and an airman were brought to Shreveport. Names of the victims were not disclosed.

The six-engine jet bomber crashed on the banks of the Red River. Part of the plane was submerged. Wreckage was strewn over a wide area.

The plane crashed about three miles south of Lucas, which is about 10 miles southeast of Shreveport.

Officers at Barksdale said a investigation at the scene was being hampered by a driving rain.

The Barksdale public information officer said two civilian witnesses said the plane burst into flames before it struck the ground.

Bill Bailey said he saw a "bright flash. The whole sky just lighted up. The brightest light I ever saw at night. It looked like the sun in late afternoon. About six or seven seconds later, there was a big rumble."

Joel Brown said he saw the flames from a drive-in theater. He said he saw a "red flash followed by a big red ball and then came a terrific explosion."

Barksdale officials said the plane was attached to the 376th Bomb Wing.

San Antonio To End Segregatiion In Fall

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Acting under direction of the school board of The San Antonio Independent School District to end segregation at "the earliest possible date" Supt. Thomas B. Portwood announced today that integration of white and Negro students will begin this fall.

And end to segegation of students in the 90 schools of the district will be achieved by a gradual mixing of students and possible reassignments of teachers, Portwood explained.

"Where schools are overcowded, pupils may be shifted to where there is more room," the school official pointed out, "but transfers will be made without regard to race."

Four Black Ships Startled Japanese

TOKYO (AP)—Four black ships silently into Tokyo Bay 102 years ago today.

Startled Japanese saw strange red, white and blue flags fluttering over decks lined with menacing snub-nosed cannon.

These visitors who had dared violate the Mikado's "forbidden waters" were the Mississippi, Susquehanna, Plymouth and Saratoga —the fleet of Commodore Matthew C. Perry of the U.S. Navy.

Now Perry's arrival is celebrated here as a link with America that opened Japan to western trade.

Today the great adventure will be marked in ceremonies at Kurihama — midway between Hokohama and Yokosuka—where Perry and 300 "splendidly arrayed" officers first stepped ashore.

U.S. Ambassador John M. Allison will participate. So will Rear Adm. Fitzhugh Lee, chief of the U.S. fleet air arm in Japan and great-grandson of one of Perry's ship commanders.

Stories of the "black ships of evil mein" remain vivid in Japanese menfory. The strangers refused to deal with local officials and would not deliver a message from President Millard Fillmore to anyone but the Japanese Emperor in person.

After threatening to land an armed party, Perry finally agreed to the Japanese stand that the Emperor was too exalted a personage to approach in person. He agreed to deliver the letter to high-ranking Prince Toda.

A special house had been erected at Kurihama for the meeting. There, July 14, 1853, the delegations met under the threatening guns of the American fleet, and Japan was lifted from a long period of self-imposed isiation.

Some say the trade agreement signed was the first step along the road that made Japan a modern nation.

Engineer Killed As Engine, Cars, Derail

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (AP) — The engine and seven cars of the Federal Express plunged over an embankment 35 feet to adjacent switching yards early today, killing the engineer and injuring 21 persons, none critically.

The locomotive of the New Haven railroad's Washington to Boston express struck a switching engine, injuring its engineer.

The railroad reported one person was critically injured.

Arthur Orteneau of New Haven, was the man killed.

Smelter Enlarged

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Smelting and Refining Co.'s Corpus Christi, Tex., electrolytic zinc plant is being increased about one-third, the company announced here yesterday. The additional facilities, to be in operation by late 1956, will boost capacity from 6,500 short tons a month to 9,000.

More Or Less Graceful

It was perhaps unfortunate that the issue of private vs. public power had to be dramatized by the Dixon-Yates case, for this particular contract did not find the private power advocates with their best foot forward. On the contrary, it found them half-way out the window, eighteen stories from the ground.

Private power has a better case than the Dixon-Yates contract indicates. But the hullabaloo over this misbegotten venture may well obscure for years the real merits of the private power argument.

President Eisenhower, who had ordered the D-Y deal into being over strong protests from various sources, has now backtracked and ordered it cancelled with every appearance of relief. It had become a political incubus, and Mr. Eisenhower must be deeply grateful to Mayor Frank Tobey of Memphis for opening to him a line of more or less graceful retreat.

The $107 million plant which D-Y planned to build at West Memphis, Ark., was designed to ease the power load on TVA's generating facilities by creating a new source of power for Memphis and the Memphis area, thus relieving TVA from the necessity of building additional generating facilities of its own at taxpayer's expenses.

The Democrats had built this issue into a Grade A political stalking horse in support of their thesis that the GOP administration was out to destroy public power. Some GOP members of Congress were no more enthusiastic about the D-Y contract than were the Democrats, largely because of the way the deal developed.

Memphis provided an "out" by insisting on building its own power facilities, thus cutting loose from TVA and leaving D-Y all dressed up and no place to go. Mayor Tobey was in Washington when the President announced the contract had been ordered cancelled, and a photograph showed the Memphis mayor with his arm around the presidential shoulders. Perhaps this friendly gesture might have been reversed, for surely Memphis had opened the way for a presidential retreat from what was becoming an untenable position.

Even so, much will be heard of the Dixon-Yates deal in 1956.

Trade For Something

London "sources" hear that the Western Big Three — Eisenhower, Eden and Faure — will offer the Soviet Union at Geneva next week a quid pro quo along this line: a guarantee to Communist Europe against aggression in return for a Soviet agreement to permit free elections to unify Germany.

Free German elections under international supervision was suggested to the Russians by Britain's Eden at the Berlin foreign ministers' conference last year, and rejected by the Russians. At Geneva, London thinks, the West can make these terms more palatable, which sounds suspiciously like a possible bowing to Russia's demand that all foreign troops be withdrawn from Germany before the election is held, a situation tailor - made to the Communist taste, since East Germany has a large well-trained 'police" force capable of quick conversion into troops, and West Germany has no comparable force capable of like conversion.

There is a hint that this may indeed be in the cards as envisioned in London, for the "sources" report that under the heading of arms limitations the West may propose that the Soviet Army quit Poland, Hungary and Romania in return for withdrawal of Western troops into "defined areas" of Germany.

This would still leave the nucleus of a Russian-trained crypto-military force in East Germany, to say nothing of the large and well-trained Communist armies in Poland, Hungary and Romania.

It boils down to this: while the Western troops were getting out of all West Germany except in "defined areas" that most assuredly would have to meet with Soviet approval, Eastern Europe would still have powerful Communist armies even after the Soviet Union withdrew its force, while West Germany would have no offsetting military strength of its own.

It isn't likely President Eisenhower would be sucked into any situation of this kind, but it doesn't necessarily follow that Britain and France would be quite so cautious and choosy. And at Geneva Mr. Eisenhower will be only one of three representing both sides. He will need all his skill and determination there.

'Hillbilly' Discovers New Type Of Life As Industry Moves Into Tennessee Valley

By HAL BOYLE

MARYVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — There is a new kind of "hillbilly."

Here in the Great Smokies — heart of old hillbillyland — the mountain people have found a new way of life that enables them to keep their ancient freedom while escaping the poverty of the past.

The fictional hillbilly has become part of American folklore. He is a shiftless figure in overalls who runs through the hills barefooted, a guitar slung over his shoulder, an old hog rifle in one hand, a jug of moonshine in the other.

But your real mountaineer isn't that kind of man at all. The popular idea of a hillbilly tickles his sense of humor. Sometimes he does not mind playing up to this role a bit for the tourists, but he does not relish having a "flatland furriner" call him a "hillbilly." He prefers to be known as a Southern highlander, a hillsman or mountain man.

The industrialization of the Tennessee Valley has brought rapid changes into the traditional pattern of social and economic life in the area.

The mountain men, marvelously quick to learn new skills, now come down into the valleys to work in the factories — but most still cling stubbornly to their homes in the hills.

Some drive up to 50 miles to their jobs. When the quitting whistle blows, they climb into their cars and drive back to the mountains, and till their hillside patches. They like the factory money, but they don't want to come down and live in the cities. They don't like city air.

Typical of these mountaineers is Robert Clark, a 43-year-old blacksmith in the Alcoa Aluminum plant here. Each day he drives 10 miles to work from his 12-acre mountain farm where he lives with his wife and six children.

Clark raises much of his own food. He can afford the comforts of the city man, but he wouldn't willingly move to the city if you gave him a house with five bathrooms.

"Good times are changing the mountains fast," he said. "Very few people live in log houses anymore.

"The mountain people no longer have the desire to live in town, because they can now have everything in town they need. They have electric stoves, television and radio.

"We have good schools in the country now, too. There's an $80,000 school going up in my neighborhood.

"Why should I want to live in town? You know, I've never had a haircut, a shave or a shoeshine in town in all my days?

"The country's the best place. It's a better place to raise kids. They learn how to save—and they don't get into so much trouble. My children have no desire to live in town."

Clark who, like most mountain men, is deeply religious, neither smokes nor drinks.

"I never bought a bottle of beer in my life," he said, "and I'm not about to."

He feels he is pretty lucky. He has retained the rugged independence and individualism of his ancestors, he has achieved an economic security they never knew—and he can still enjoy the sunshine and shadow and free-blowing winds of the mountains.

Hillbilly? Clark wouldn't trade places with any citybilly in the land. He has life made.

LITERARY GUIDEPOST

PHENIX CITY, by Edwin Strickland and Gene Wortsman. Vulcan.

"Phenix City, Alabama, is unlike any other city in the United States."

That statement opens this profile of a modern Sodom, and the authors go on to prove it. . .

This is a book almost as fresh as today's headlines. It should be. It was written by two expert newspaper reporters who were in on the whole sordid Phenix City story.

Strickland is with the Birmingham News, Wortsman with the rival Birmingham Post - Herald. Both had figured in many crime exposes before their papers sent them to Phenix City, an uninviting collection of honky - tonks, dives and gambling halls on the banks of the Chattahoochee river, which separates Georgia from Alabama and provided a convenient burial ground for a number of corpses weighted in cement.

The story is not for those with weak stomachs. The authors, drawing on public records and their own detective work, describe the whole depraved and sometimes bloody mess in detail. They name names and places, where gambling and prostitution and dope were as wide open as the front doors along the main streets; a town which lived for payday at giant Fort Benning nearby, and where much of the law enforcement was no better than the criminals it was supposed to control.

It took the killing of the state's next attorney general, a man pledged to clean up the town, to bring in the National Guard and close down Phenix City last year. Ti.. then state attorney general, a county solicitor and a sheriff's deputy were indicted in the slaying. The deputy was convicted, the solicitor acquitted, "the attorney general, who wound up in a mental hospital, hasn't yet been brought to trial.

Bulganin Can Speak With Finality At Conference

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The one man at the Big Four conference who evidently has the least anthority—Russian Premier Nikolai Bulganin—will nevertheless be able to speak with the greatest finality.

President Eisenhower, Britian's Prime Minister Eden and French Premier Faure may make suggestions on such monumental issues as disarmament and reunification of Germany. To carry through, each in the end will need approval at home.

Not Bulganin. He's in a different position.

Each of the Western Big Three is a member of one of the two or more political parties in his own country, holding his job as the result of democratic elections. Each therefore has to think of the effect of his words on the voters back home.

Further, any far-reaching proposal by Eisenhower, Eden or Faure would require formal or informal approval, from their parliamentary bodies—Congress in the case of Eisenhower. Only Eden, through his Conservative party, has a majority in his Parliament.

The Democrats, not Eisenhower's Republicans, run both houses of Congress. Faure became premier through a coalition of France's many political parties and could be unseated by a shift in the coalition and a vote of no confidence.

For all these reasons Eisenhower, Eden and Faure have to be sensitive to the thinking at home. It will act as a restraint on all three. It already has on Eisenhower. He has promised Congress he'd do no appeasing at Geneva.

In Russia, with its single Communist party, Bulganin does not owe his job to the popular will but to the party, which numbers perhaps no more than 6 to 10 million out of the 215 million or more people in Russia.

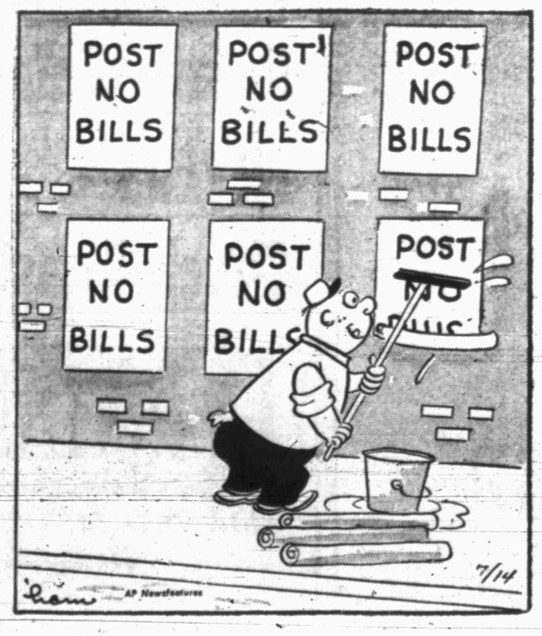

More precisely, he owes his job to the little group of Kremlin Communists who run the party and therefore Russia. The Russian Parliament is a rubber stamp for orders from the Kremlin.

For that reason Bulganin does not have to look over his shoulder at the Russian people or the parliament for anything he says at Geneva. He needs only the approval of the men in the Kremlin.

But, since the Kremlin Communists work as a team and he's their front man at Geneva, he will merely be their spokesman. So it can be taken for granted any offers he makes will have been thought out and approved by the Kremlin beforehand.

So, although Bulganin is not free to make any proposals on his own but only those which have Kremlin approval, he can expect his government to carry through on anything he says unless it serves the Kremlin's purpose to change its mind later.

Regardless Of Long-Range Aims, Kremlin Now Seeking Relaxation Of World Tension

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

Whatever its ultimate aims, the Kremlin unquestionably seeks a relaxation of world tensions at Geneva. The fate of world communism hangs in the balance.

The most suspicious regime in the world—one that still defines pacifism as "an imperialistic trick"—goes to the Big Four conference seeking trust among nations.

President Eisenhower has pinned down the Geneva dilemma: There can be no trust without disarmament, but there can be no disarmament without trust.

The Soviet hierarchy is not likely to renounce the aims of world communism. Probably the Kremlin has decided the only safe course is a waiting course. Yet the longer the Kremlin waits, the more time there is for evolutionary forces in the U.S.S.R. to take their toll.

Ten, or even five, years of world political peace would have a profound effect on Soviet development. The Kremlin leaders who dreamed with Lenin and Stalin of dominating the world with their ideas are well along in years now. In the natual order of things, many of them will give way to younger men with no memory of violent revolution. They will be at the helm of a state vastly changed from the one bolshevism snatched from the womb of a capitalist revolution.

The question before Western statesmen at Geneva will be not whether Soviet leaders have reformed, but whether the Soviet people will reform the leaders.

Despite the relaxation and air of friendliness recently in Moscow, the leaders still feed the people a diet mixed with hope and fear.

One possible conclusion is this: No matter how anxious the hierarchy might be to settle tensions, it cannot go so far as to tell its people the danger of aggression against them is abating. That would remove a prime excuse for the all-out heavy industry program and give impetus to the Soviet public's demand for more and better consumer goods.

This sort of program also raises the question whether the United States is the Soviet Union's only worry. Undoubtedly the Kremlin has been casting some speculative glances to the east and south—first because there is a latent danger of war in Asia, and second because China promises one day to become a mightily powerful neighbor nation sharing a long frontier with the U.S.S.R.

Recently a highly competent source who traveled in China reported indications of a developing Soviet-Chinese mutual distrust in north central Asia. The Chinese took note of the Soviet program to "open up virgin lands" in Soviet Central Asia. A new Russian colonization is under way in these lands, once ruled by China before the Czars seized them.

The informant reports: The Chinese responded with their own program, calling for emigration of 10 million Chinese into Sinkiang province, bordering Soviet Kazakhstan. For a long time Sinkiang was in the Soviet sphere of influence and the scene of heavy Russian infiltration.

The Chinese program will occupy two to three years, concurently with the building of rail lines and establishment of collective farms in Sinkiang. It seems obvious 10 million Chinese can do much to stop further Russian infiltration.

The non-Communist diplomatic corps in Peiping is reported convinced, for the most part, that Moscow views China's future with a mixture of awe and dismay.

Within 10 years, given no major war, China would be a power with which the Russians would have to reckon in the East.

Some of these diplomats now say the Russians want to relax tentions in their relations with the West because China represents a future danger to the Soviet Union. There is even a suspicion that recent Red Chinese purges were the result of underground Russian agitation to keep China off balance.

There is no sign of any friction in the propaganda pouring from Moscow and Peiping. It insists the Soviet-Chinese alliance is utterly unbreakable. But it is significant that promised Soviet economic aid seems laggard. The U.S.S.R. has undertaken to help China develop 16 major construction projects, but last official word from China was that only half a dozen had been stated.

It is also significant that when the summit conference was proposed on world tensions, there was no insistence from Moscow this time that Red China be present or represented.

At the moment the Soviet-Chinese alliance would appear to be of vital concern to both parties. But there are indications Peiping is becoming demanding, seeking a price for continued friendship. The price would be a drain on Soviet resources. Moscow never has and still does not dominate Red China in the sense that it dominates the European satellites.

In the long run, however, Moscow's future with China rests in the hands of Russia's 210 million citizens. If the Soviet consumer's voice becomes more and more demanding, more and more authoritative as time goes by, it is likely to put a crimp in any Moscow efforts to spread Soviet political influence toward Peiping.

WASHINGTON LETTER

Marine Band Does Best For Female Publicist

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON—There's a fresh bouquet every day on the desk of Staff Sgt. Virginia A. Pickel at Marine Barracks, where since April she has served as the new publicist and researcher for the U. S. Marine Band.

To the bandsmen the attractive little brown-eyed sergeant is known as "Miss Virginia" or "Miss Pickel." They are doing their darnedest to make her feel at home. The flowers are one way of doing it.

A former school marm, Sgt. Pickel is the only woman among the 450 men at the Barracks. "But, alas," she sighs, "though I'm surrounded by men, none of them is eligible. Most of the boys are in their early 20s. The rest of them are married." She enlisted in 1950, just in time to beat the 31 age limit.

Sgt. Pickel who was born in Philadelphia, graduated from Temple University, where she majored in physical education, health and recreation. After getting her masters' degree at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., she was teaching in a Richboro, Pa., high school in 1943 when she was recommended for a commission in the Marine Corps. Three days before she was to be sworn in she received an offer to join the faculty of the Agnes Irwin Country Day school near Philadelphia.

"After serious soul-searching I decided I could serve my country best by training future generations and putting my special college education to use," the little sergeant told me. "But I still wanted to get in the corps. Finally, in 1950, because of the age limit, I joined as a private. The Corps has been wonderful."

After a course at the Naval School of Journaism at Great Lakes Naval Training Center, Sgt. Pickel was assigned to write a course to aid Marines who are attached to post or station newspapers or assigned to information jobs. She's finishing this while serving with the band.

Though about the only musical instrument she's had actual contact with was a mandolin she used to play with a string orchestra while working her way through school, Sgt. Pickel is rapidly getting a fillin on the many component parts that make up a famed band like that of the Marines.

"The bandsmen keep trotting instruments in to tell her what they're all about," a friend explained. "They tell her where they came from, how much they cost, how important they are to the band. She's learning fast."

RADIO-TV REPORT

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—In this business you get to see all types. In an old TV movie the other night there was a columnist with an assistant called a leg man because he did all the leg work while the columnist just sat and thought up sparkling items.

This leg man was named Sam Swerve, or something similar. He had no particular talent, but he was eager. He wrote like he talked, in incomplete, machine-gun sentences.

This columnist lacks the luxury of a leg man. But it's nice to dream of Sam, out doing the work and bringing in his report. Like this:

As directed, checked into CBS. There P.A. (press agent) gave rundown on subject, Nita Talbot, 24, blonde, other vital statistics lacking. P.A. excited about her as coming star. Subject has played many big TV shows, currently playing Rose Peterson in soaper Search for Tomorrow. In came beautiful blonde wearing sandals. P.A. introduced Nita Talbot. Thought she looked like Lauren Bacall, Humphrey Bogart's wife. Didn't tell her. Women don't like to be told they look like somebody else. . . .

To lunch with subject and P.A. As directed, didn't start hunting "angles" on subject. Asked her to tell story of her life. She gave long speculative look. Eyes gray-green. . . .

Nita born in New York, attended public school in "Blackboard Jungle" area of city. She and sister spent all spare time acting out stories in park. Says: "Act, act, act, that's all we did. I knew then what I wanted to do and be. I don't think the atmosphere of toughness hurt me a bit. I learned how a lot of people lived."

After studying acting Nita got Hollywood contract few years ago to be "the new Lauren Bacall." When she reached Hollywood it turned out they didn't want a new Bacall, so she didn't work. There followed stage, TV and marriage to Don Gordon, actor. Subject obviously nuts about husband; would rather talk about him than self. She's about to start work in new CBS situation comedy, Joe and Mabel, unscheduled yet. Plays Mabel. . . .

Parted, she to go sailing in Long Island Sound with husband. Hope she smash hit. Nice, intelligent type girl who deserves it.

Plane No Place For A Zoo, One Passenger Is Convinced

By INEZ ROBB

My heart is breaking. But nonetheless I am seriously contemplating the termination of my betothal, an engagement of long standing, with the nation's commercial airlines.

After 25 years in the air and a log of some million miles, I am sending back the ring and asking for the return of my letters. The reason is simple: the wild blue yonder has gotten too wild for me. And too crowded.

As far as I am concerned, the fly boys do not now and never will have a plane large enough to hold both me and a poisonous snake simultaneously. Or, for that matter, nonpoisonous. If some snake lover in the audience deduces that I am 100 percent anti-snake, he will be dead right.

So when I read that news story the other day about the brave American pilot who had to track down a poisonous snake in the passenger compartment of his plane, and then dispatch it with a machete, I came to the simple conclusion that, so far as plane travel goes, I've had it. Or almost.

This AWOL reptile was merely one of a cargo of such snakes being ferried across the Atlantic. It was finally hunted down and done to death at Shannon Airport, of all places. So while St. Pat is whirling in his grave and the Irish are fortifying themselves with a stiff slug of poteen, I am turning in my air-travel card.

I have flown in all kinds of planes, in all kinds of weather and in war and peace, and have never batted an eye, but aerial snake pits are not for me!

As a matter of fact, this loose snake in Shannon is only the cherry on the sundae. I have been contemplating some kind of drastic action for at least a year. For I have been reading with increasing alarm of animal acts in the air. There was the crate of monkeys that broke bondage and took over the plane. There was the restless horse that wanted to join the crew in the cockpit.

And more recently there has been that hive of bees shuttling between New York and Paris in a scientific experiment that is a little too precious for the uninitiated (meaning me) to understand. And last week, a real mean lion cub was flown from the U.S.A. to London, as a gift to Winston Churchill.

If, in the future, I am going to have to board a plane armed with an elephant gun, a machete, a copy of The Racing Form, a butterfly net and a spray gun, then trains and ships are going to get my trade. "Live and Let Live" is my motto, but I also would like a signed statement of principles from any coral snake or gorilla that happens to be aboard.

It is a dandy thing to live dangerously, but when I reach up into that little overhead shelf in a plane to get my hat, I want my hat and not a handful of asp.

I am going to give the plane companies one last chance. From now on before I board a plane, I am going to play the old game of "Animal, Vegetable or Mineral?" with the cargo chief. If he assures me the non-Homo sapiens cargo is strictly mineral, I will get on wtihout a squawk.

But if he says "animal," other than old Homo, he has lost a cash customer, even if the pilot is Clyde Beatty.

Ike Will Represent Leading Economic Force At Parley

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—President Eisenhower will be leading from economic strength at Geneva. Figures out this week show production in this country reaching new record highs. And industrial output of the United States' allies in Western Europe is making even more sensational gains over last year.

Whether the Soviet economic system is threatened with collapse, as some Washington officials have been suggesting, or whether it is healthy, as top Russian leaders insist, there is concrete evidence today that the Western world is economically stronger than ever.

This, of course, is just what the Red hadn't counted on. Ever since the end of the war they've been predicting that capitalism would run into a postwar depression, which would give the Communists a fertile field for subversion.

But this week the Department of Commerce, after taking a second look at the total production of goods and services in the United States last year, reports that despite the much talked about recession, output slipped only 1 per cent below prosperous 1953.

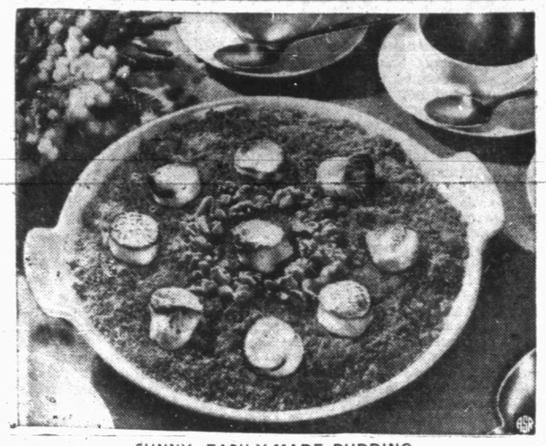

And this year the total output has been climbing steadily into new high ground. President Eisenhower goes to Geneva with this nation's economy stepping forth at a record clip of nearly 380 billion dollars a year.

The United Nations Bulletin of Statistics reports this week that the world outside the Soviet bloc states and the mainland of China had a record first-quarter total output in manufacturing and mining. Production ran 8 per cent heavier than the year before, with the most striking gains chalked up by France and Western Germany.

In his own country the President can report that even the usual summer slump in some lines, for vacations or slackening of demand during hot weather, shows signs at the outset of being mild.

Employment is up from last year—around 1¼ million more persons are working than last summer. Wage and salary payments have climbed about 5 per cent above last year. The average factory weekly paycheck is the fattest in history.

SUNNY, EASILY-MADE PUDDING
. . . combines dessert favorites

Helps For Homemakers

Send your questions to "Helps for Homemakers," Snyder Daily News, or call 3-5486.

Three American dessert favorites — vanilla pudding, pineapple and graham crackers — are combined in this inexpensive dish. Make it the night before you plan to serve it if you wish. Then allow a few minutes to broil the marshmallows on top at serving time.

SUNNY PUDDING

2 cups finely crushed graham crackers
1 1-pound can crushed pineapple
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 egg, beaten
1-3 cup granulated sugar
1 package instant vanilla pudding
8 marshmallows
¼ cup chopped walnut meats (optional)

Crush the crackers with a rolling pin. It will take about 24 crackers to make two cups of crumbs. Drain the pineapple well and measure two-thirds cup of the pineapple syrup into a small saucepan. Add the butter, salt, egg and sugar. Cook, stirring constantly, over low heat until the mixture comes to a boil and is smooth and thickened. Cool. Make the pudding according to package directions. Grease a one and a half-quart casserole and sprinkle the bottom with two-thirds cup of cracker crumbs. Spread half the cooled pineapple mixture evenly over the crumbs. Spread half the pudding over the pineapple. Repeat the layers, topping with the remaining graham cracker crumbs. Chill at least six hours. Before serving, top with marshmallows. Place in a pre-heated broiler three inches from the flame one to two minutes, or until the marshmallows are golden brown. Sprinkle with chopped nuts if desired. Makes eight servings.

A hearty, range-top main dish for hot weather is stuffed flank steak.

STUFFED FLANK STEAK

1 package (1 ounces) beef vegetable soup with noodles
1½ cups water
1 flank steak
Salt
Pepper
Garlic salt
1 cup soft breadk crumbs
1 small onion, finely chopped
½ pound sausage
¼ cup sausage drippings

Cook the vegetable soup according to package directions using 1½ cups water. Strain the soup, reserving the noodles. Cook and brown the sausage.

Sprinkle the flank steak with salt, pepper and garlic salt. Mix the reserved noodles, bread crumbs, onion, cooked sausage and drippings. Spread the stuffing on the steak and roll crosswise like a jelly roll. Fasten with skewers. Brown the steak on all sides in saucepan or skillet. Add soup liquor. Cover pan closely and cook over low heat for two hours, or until tender. Cut into 1-inch slices and serve with meat juices. The juices may be thickened with flour.

This stuffed steak may be cooked after browning in a pressure saucepan at 15 pounds pressure for 30 minutes.

Nonmember Designers Rate High

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—Among the 800 or more dress manufacturers that make up the world's largest garment center, there are many whose clothes are known and worn by women all over America, yet who are not members of the New York Dress Institute's Couture Group, currently previewing fall collections for some 150 visiting fashion editors.

Notable among these nonmember designers is Vera Maxwell, famous for individual tweeds and functional fashions of the kind women live in. Each season this young-looking, silver-haired designer goes globe-trotting to discover new fabrics, new colors, new inspiration for her strictly American clothes. This year she is intrigued by the Florentine colors of the Renaissance, and takes her fabric tones from the glowing palettes of Titian, Botticelli and Bellini.

Typical of her wearable fashions is an outfit she calls Standby, consisting of a sheath and loose coat in gray tweed, with a little red velvet collar on the coat and a red velvet kick pleat in the sheath. Miss Maxwell has been doing costumes of coats and matching dresses or suits for years, long before the current furore, and again her coordinated outfits in tweeds and tie silks provide the ideal outfit for women who go places and do things.

Dorine Liebert, a piquant Viennese designer known for elegant blouses, skirts and houstess gowns is another non-Couture Group member who is making current news. He series of lace or embroidery trimmed cashmere sweaters and coordinated skirts for fall are worthy of a place in the top fashion bracket.

Pennant Races Are Resumed In Majors

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

The major league pennant races get back to action tonight with two big questions to be answered: Can Cleveland and Chicago suvive the one-two invasion punch of New York and Boston in the American? And, just how secure is Brooklyn's 11½-game lead in the National?

New York's Yankees top the AL by five games as the All-Star Game break comes to an end, while only one game separates each of the other first-division teams — Cleveland, Chicago and Boston. That means the runner-up Indians, who had a half-game lead on the Yanks at this point in '54, and the third-place White Sox have to worry about kicking off the Red Sox as well as catching the New Yorkers.

Manager Al Lopez, naming Bob Lemon (12-6) to face Tommy Byrne (7-2) and the Yanks tonight, claims his pitching staff is back in shape. It better be. After facing the Yanks for two, the Tribe must then take on the bustlin' Bostons, who have lost only six of their last 34, for three games Saturday and Sunday.

The Yanks will have a three-game "breather" against fifth-place Detroit over the weekend, then start the one-two punch all over again at Chicago. They play the White Sox Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday with the Red Sox barging into Comiskey park Friday, Saturday and Sunday in a four-game series.

The National presents a different picture. It hardly seems possible, but the Brooklyns, a league and a half ahead of the pack, are hurtin'. The only thing that's kept them away out front is, oddly enough, the even-Stephen makeup of the circuit.

There's no panic yet, but a team that loses 10 of its last 19 games can't be sleeping too well — even with that 11½-game bulge.

Roy Campanella insists he's ready to go back to work behind the plate tonight when the Dodgers take on the St. Louis Cardinals at Ebbets field, but Manager Walt Alston indicates he has other plans.

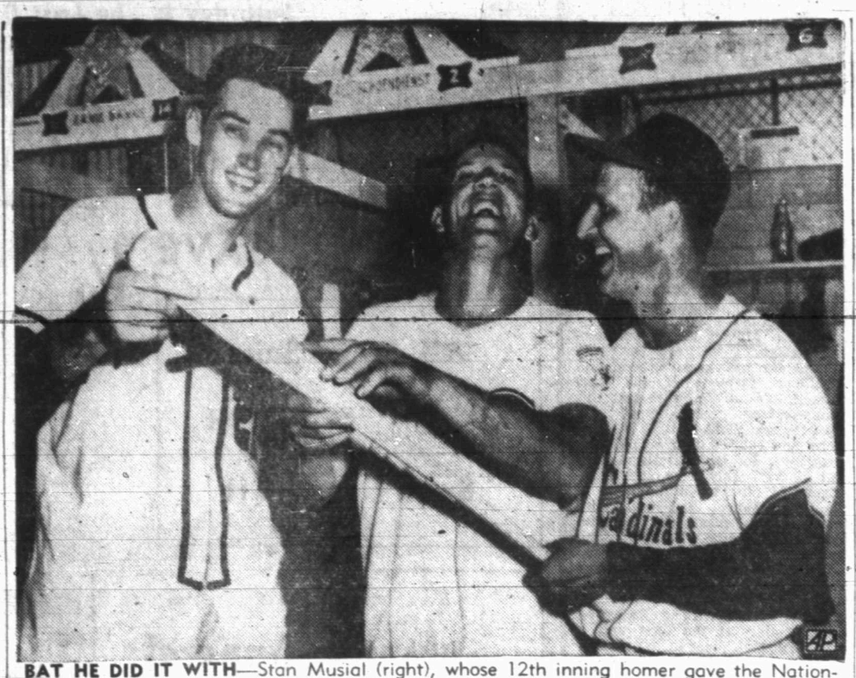

That disturbing 9-10 record followed Campy's knee injury, and Alston doesn't want to start his big guy before the leg is healed completely.

QUALIFYING IS SET TOMORROW

Entrants will qualify all day tomorrow for the first annual Snyder Invitational Golf Tournament as they prepare for the competitive rounds Saturday and Sunday.

No definite numbers of contestants are available, but Shanty Hogan, local pro, said this morning that entries are still coming in and that three out-of-town men have already played their qualifying rounds.

Play will start as soon as the golfers are ready in the morning, Hogan said, and last until the finals Sunday afternoon.

Texas League Race Stays Hot All Year

By The Associated Press

The Shreveport Sports have finally clearly defined the first division in the red hot Texas League race.

The Sports are in fourth place a game and a half ahead of Houston—and that's the widest margin between first and second divisions this season.

So it's Dallas in front, San Antonio second, Tulsa third and Shreveport fourth as the campaign races into its final two months.

The way San Antonio is moving these days, however, there's likely to be a new leader in the near future. The Missions have just won their eighth straight game.

Dallas snapped out of a mild losing streak Wednesday night by beating Fort Worth 5-4 to take the series three games to two and the Eagles stayed four games ahead of San Antonio.

Shreveport widened its margin over Houston by trimming the Buffs 9-5. It was the Sports' third victory in the 5-game series with Houston.

Pidge Browne, the man who's given Shreveport the punch, clubbed two home runs and two doubles in leading the Sport 13-hit assault. Shreveport slammed seven runs across in the first inning to win early although Billy Muffett had to go in and help Bill Moisan out in the fifth.

San Antonio racked up Beaumont for the fourteenth time in fifteen games as the Missions licked the Exporters 7-1. Frank Fanovich, hurling a 5-hitter, posted his eleventh victory of the season.

John (Red) Murff went in in the ninth to shut off a Fort Worth rally and preserve the victory for rookie Tommy Bowers as Dallas broke a 2-game losing streak. Murff, the league's winningest pitcher with 20 victories, had taken a drubbing from the Cats Monday night.

Tulsa beat Oklahoma City 7-1 with Dolan Nichols winning his twelfth game of the season. A crowd of 4,198 saw Nichols not only hold the Indians to nine scattered hits but pitch in with a 2-run single himself.

Hogan Puts On Show For Junior Golfers

ABILENE, Tex. (AP)—A relaxed Ben Hogan put on a show for junior golfers here yesterday.

The four-times winner of the National Open drove from Fort Worth to present trophies to winners of the Abilene Reporter-News Junior Golf Tournament. He also put on an hour's golf clinic.

Then, with Sammy Baugh looking on, Hogan gave an imitation of Baugh at the tee. Baugh, former professional football player and now head football coach at Hardin-Simmons, laughed with the rest as Hogan turned his cap backward, adopted a cowboy swagger and took a cowhand's swing at the ball.

Baugh disclosed he took up about two months ago.

The Kansas City Athletics have two brother combinations. They are Bobby and Wilmer Shantz and Cloyd and Cletus Boyer.

Nelson Is Tied For Lead In French Open

PARIS (AP)—Byron Nelson, former U.S. Open champion, headed into the final 36 holes of the French Open Golf championship today tied for first place with two veteran British Pros.

The Roanoke, Tex., stylist shot a 10-under-par 134 over the 6,660-yard La Boulie course yesterday to tie for the lead with Harrh Weetman and Harry Bradshaw.

Nelson and Bradshaw had cards of 69-65 while Weetman turned in a 68-66.

Defending champion Flory Van Donck of Belgium was three strokes back.

Trabert Leads Clay Court Net Favorites

ATLANTA (AP)—Favorites, led by top-seeded Tony Trabert of Cincinnati, met today in the quarter-finals of the National Clay Courts tennis tournament.

Of the seeded players, only Bill Quillian of Seattle, rated No. 7, has fallen out of line. He was topped in a marathon match Wednesday with second-seeded Johann Kupferberger of South Africa 6-2, 8-10, 8-6.

Trabert had a rough time of it for a spell against 18-year-old Mike Green of Miami. He trimmed Green 6-0 in the first set, but the youngster broke his service and took the second set 8-6. Tony, who won his Wimbledon crown without dropping a set, topped Green 6-3 for the third set and the match.

Ham Richardson, seeded No. 2, found himself up against a toughie and appeared to tire after breezing 6-2 in the first set against Tim Coss of Washington, D.C. He dropped the second set 5-7 but took command again to score an impressive 6-1 final set.

Defending champion Bernard Bartzen of San Angelo, Tex., seeded No. 4, took Atlanta's 15-year-old Ned Neely in straight sets 6-3, 6-0 to gain the quarter-finals.

Closest bid for an upset was registered by Frank Willett of Atlanta who came within two points of ousting sixth seeded Sam Giammalva of Houston, Tex. The final score was 7-5, 2-6, 7-5.

Eddie Moylan of Trenton, N.J., Gerald Moss of Modesto, Calif., and Jack Frost of Monterey, Calif., all seeded players, completed the quarter-finals lineup.

Quarter-final play, originally scheduled for tomorrow, was moved up to today under threat of rain. In today's play Moylan faced Kupferberger; Richardson met Frost; Trabert played Giammalva, and Bartzen fought Moss.

Beeler Fined $10

ABILENE, Tex. (AP)—Plainview Manager Jodie Beeler has been fined $10 for kicking dirt on home plate and delaying a game played in Abilene Sunday, the West Texas-New Mexico League announced yesterday. The league also announced sale of umpire Eston Wells to the Western League.

Thunderstorms Roam Texas During Night

By The Associated Press

Hit - and - miss thunderstorms roamed across Texas during the night again but a warm sun set skies to clearing Thursday morning.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said, however, that the day's heat would encourage formation of more thunderheads Thursday night and Friday.

Thunderstorms boomed at Amarillo, Dalhart and Childress before dawn Thursday. Wednesday night they appeared concentrated in the Plains area, where an unofficials 2½ inches of rain was reported at the Clauene Community, not far from Lubbock.

Other unofficial rainfall reports for the Plains country included Abernathy .25 of an inch, Arnett 1 inch, Brownfield and Denver City .25, Levelland .50, Lamesa .21, Plains .40 and Lubbock .12.

Austin reported .70 of an inch during the night. College Station had .80 of an inch, Galveston .64, Beaumont .19, and Alpine .05.

The heat wave was expected to hold at least through Friday. Wednesday's high reading was 106 at Presidio. Other highs included 104 at Seymour, tenth consecutive day of 100 or higher for that North Texas city; 101 at Dallas, Del Rio, Laredo, Mineral Wells, Junction and Cotulla, and 100 at San Angelo, College Station and Wink.

Albuquerque Pushing Up

By The Associated Press

Albuquerque pressed to seven percentage points of the league-leading Pampa Oilers last night as they took both ends of a West Texas-New Mexico League doubleheader, 2-0 and 4-2.

Henry Overin took the first game, giving up seven hits, and Red Dial was the loser, giving up five. In the nightcap, each team gave up 10, Ted Shandor chalking up the win and Bud Woods absorbing the loss.

In other games, Amarillo won a hit-fest from Abilene 22-14, Lubbock dumped El Paso 9-4, and Plainview and Clovis each took an end of a twin bill, Clovis winning the first 4-3 and Plainview the second 12-8.

Amarillo battered 20 hits and Abilene 18 to pile up their combined 36 runs. The winners blasted three Abilene pitchers, including manager Jay Haney, and the losers laid it on two moundsmen. Winner was Dean Higgins, and loser was Ed Santa.

Lawton Splits Tilts With Ponca City Nine

By The Associated Press

League-leader Lawton took on last place Ponca City last night in Sooner State baseball and the best the Braves could muster was a split. The Cubs trimmed Lawton 12-2 in the opener then dropped the second game 3-0.

McAlester, for the second straight night, used a final inning rally to put down strong Shawnee 10-8.

Seminole beat Muskogee 7-6 and Paris trimmed Ardmore 4-3 in other games.

Two Ponca City homers figured in the opener of the twin-bill with Lawton. Pete Plyler, Cub catcher, slammed a two-run blow in the second and Bob Picciano hit a three-run effort in the third to wrap up the game.

Robyn Shows Up As Threat To Andrews

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Walter Robyn, a Maplewood, Mo., insect exterminator, today had the sixth chance to stop Gene Andrews' toward a second straight USGA Public Links golf championship.

Andrews, insurance agent from Pacific Palisades, Calif., was one over par for 30 holes yesterday in eliminating Foster Badley of Los Angeles, 1954 USGA junior champion, 5 and 3, and Bill O'Brien of Seattle, 5 and 4.

Two members of Miami's Harding Cup championship team were among the 16 survivors in the Publinx tourney, which started last month with 2,007 entries at 39 sectional eliminations.

Marshall Carlson, Miami accountant and former University of Toledo basketball star, and plasterer Ralph Allen of Miami Springs, came through the third and fourth rounds Wednesday against strong opposition.

Carlson shot 2-under-par to beat Don Essig of Indianapolis, a 16-year-old links prodigy, 3 and 2, and was only one over in a match with Lester Kelly of Atlanta, Ga., that went the full 18 holes. Today he met William C. Scarbrough, Jacksonville, Fla., Navy chief and 1954 semifinalist.

Allen had to go two extra holes to beat Harry T. Matthews of Atlanta after both shot 74s for the regulation distance on par 70 Coffin Municipal Course. The Floridian then eliminated Dayton Olson of Minneapolis in the afternoon, 3 and 2.

The men had sent home most of the boys by the end of the fourth round. But Charles W. Thurn, 19, of South Bend, Ind., a Notre Dame sophomore, and John Fry, 21, of Oakland, Calif., University of San Francisco junior, were still in business.

Thurn won 10 straight holes with par golf in a fourth round victory over Robert W. Lichtenwalter of Erie, Pa., by the widest possible margin, 10 and 8. Fry defeated Norando Nannina of Highwood, Ill., 2 and 1.

Top Women Golfers Start In PGA Meet

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP)—Some of the nation's top women golfers started out today to challenge the money-winning lead of Louise Suggs, Sea Island, Ga., in the Ladies Professional Golf Assn. National tournament.

Back to try to repeat last year's win here is Marilynn Smith, Wichita, Kan., as well as Fay Crocker, winner of the recent National Open Tourney in Wichita, and Mary Lena Faulk, Thomasville, Ga., who tied for runner-up in the Open.

Miss Suggs leads the LPGA's "dollar derby" with winnings of $10,458.

Medal play opened today and will continue over 54 holes through Saturday before the top two are paired for a 36-hole title match.

Batters Do Best Hitting At KC Park

NEW YORK (AP) — American League batters, streaking toward a possible home run record, are finding Kansas City's Municipal Stadium the easiest park in which to connect for the circuit.

A total of 107 homers have been hit in baseball's newest major league park, figures compiled by The Associated Press showed today. The Kansas City stadium has replaced Boston's Fenway Park as the American League "bandbox." The Red Sox' park, in which 139 four-baggers were hit in 1954, has been the scene of 102 this year.

Cincinnati's Crosley Field remains the hitters' paradise in the National League with 125 homers. Brooklyn Dodger fans have seen 106 walloped at Ebbets Field while Busch Stadium (St.Louis) has had 100 and the Polo Grounds (New York) 99.

The major league home run figure is up to 1,269 with 717 in the National League and 552 in the American. At that clip, the existing recods for both cicuits — 1,197 for the NL and 973 for AL — will go by the boards.

Defending Champion Loses At Tri-State

AMARILLO (AP)—The defending champion and one of the co-medalists lost yesterday in the first round of the 21st annual Tri-State Senior golf tournament.

The defending champion, C. E. (Red) Covington, San Angelo, was ousted by Lofton Burnett, Lubbock, 3 and 2. Co-medalists Tom Davis, Petersburg, Tex., lost to Frank Day, 6 and 4. Day won the title in 1952 and 1953.

The other co-medalists, Cliff Rogers, Amarillo, beat Al Schrock, Marlow, Okla., 3 and 2.

The tounament is for men who have reached 50 or over.

First round championship fight results included:

N. B. Harfer, Oklahoma City, beat Dr. Pete Neissl, Midland, 3 and 2.

Clyde Southworth, Sweetwater, beat E. W. Daley, Bowie, one up.

Murff's Mark Is Equalled

By The Associated Press

John (Red) Murff, the Dallas pitcher, can no longer claim to be the winningest man in professional baseball—Rene Vega of Corpus Christi has pulled up even.

Vega posted his twentieth triumph Wednesday night as he beat Harlingen 5-4 and that's the same number of victories boasted by Murff in the Texas League. Rene actually has a better record than Murff. He has lost only two, Murff five.

Corpus Christi won but still lost ground in the Big State League race. Texas City, leading the circuit, won a doubleheader from Waco and it moved the Texans a half game ahead of Corpus Christi.

Bill Tosheff, a pitcher who played right field for the ninth, led the Corpus Christi attack with a double and three singles to bat in four runs.

Roy Williams hit a home run in the eighth to give Texas City its 6-5 victory over Waco in the first game. Texas City won the second 4-3 as Les Witherspoon singled in the deciding run in the sixth.

Austin beat Port Arthur 2-0 on the 3-hit pitching of Russ Harris.

LL Starts Last Round

The two top teams of the American Little League will square off tonight as the Indians meet the Yankees. It will be the sixth meeting of the teams, and the undefeated Yanks have won all five of the previous games.

The games tonight mark the beginning of the sixth and final round of Little League play.

In the National League, the No. 2 Cubs will take on the Giants. This, too, will be their sixth tangle. The Cubs have won four of their games, and the Giants took the last game 5-3.

The All-Star teams of both leagues will be announced after the games Friday night.

All-Stars To Meet Midland

The Pony League All-Stars will meet the Midland All-Stars here tonight at 8 o'clock. It is the teams' first encounter.

So far, the Snyder All-Stars have a .500 record of their practice games, having dropped two to Abilene and having taken wins from Hamlin and Sweetwater.

Two more games are scheduled for this week, Sweetwater here Friday and Hamlin there Saturday night.

Court Will Study S. C. Segregation

By ALDERMAN DUNCAN

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP)—A three-judge Federal District Court will sit here tomorrow for the first hearing in a school segregation case since the Supreme Court decree of May 31.

The court will hear arguments on what it should do to carry out the Supreme Court directive that segregation must be ended as soon as practicable. It has authority, however, to take local conditions into consideration in formulating an order to school district authorities.

Only the Summerton school district in Clarendon County is affected directly at this time. The district authorities are defendants in the case, which was one of five in which the Supreme Court held in May 1954 that racially segregated schools are unconstitutional.

The three-judge court will be made up of Judge John J. Parker, of Charlotte, senior member of the 4th Circuit Court of Appeals; Judge Armistead M. Dobie of Charlottesville, Va., also of the Circuit Court; and Dist. Judge George Bell Timmerman, of Columbia.

All were on the court when it held in 1952 that segregation is constitutional as long as facilities are equal for both races. That ruling was reversed by the Supreme Court and the case now has been returned to the lower court for action in accordance with the decision.

Thurgood Marshall, chief counsel for the National Assn. for Advancement of Colored People, is expected to represent the Negro plaintiffs in the case.

Robert McC. Figg, of Charleston, and S. E. Rogers, of Summerton, are attorneys for the school authorities.

Marshall has filed a petition making 180 more Summerton Negroes plaintiffs in the case. Originally, the Negro group, contending their rights are impaired by segregation, consisted of but a handful of parents representing about 12 or 13 schoolchildren.

Summerton school district trustees have said they will close the schools rather than mix white and Negro pupils. May enrollment in the Summerton district schools was 297 white pupils to 2,479 Negroes.

Russian Trade Agency Taking Mail Orders

MOSCOW (AP) — Samovars and bicycles from Tula, kerosene stoves from Moscow, balalaikas from Tashkent—just mail your orders, folks.

The Ministry of Internal Trade is beginning to build up a mail order business for consumer goods through display advertisements in its official newspaper Soviet Trade.

Simultaneously, the soviet trade organization is working gradually to develop self-help in stores. The idea is to cut sales personnel for use of this manpower in other more needy spheres—like heavy industry and agriculture.

In both merchandising fields the Russians are just making a beginning.

The mail order system is designed especially to aid millions of farmers and villagers who often can't find what they need in rural stores and must travel to the nearest city to buy.

Leningrad announced the opening of its first self-help, American-style supermarket last year. Some smaller shops of this kind have been opened in Moscow.

Nehru Finds Russians Similar To Americans

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Indian Prime Minister Nehru during his recent trip to the Soviet Union reportedly found the Russians "remarkably similar" to Americans.

Associates said Nehru, at a Cabinet reception last night welcoming him home, described the people of both major cold war opponents as "hospitable, friendly, mechanically minded, and liking to do things in a big way."

The Indian leader arrived back in New Delhi yesterday from a five-week tour of the Soviet Union and countries in Eastern and Western Europe. He visited the United States for three weeks in late 1949.

Court Will Study S. C. Segregation

By ALDERMAN DUNCAN

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP)—A three-judge Federal District Court will sit here tomorrow for the first hearing in a school segregation case since the Supreme Court decree of May 31.

The court will hear arguments on what it should do to carry out the Supreme Court directive that segregation must be ended as soon as practicable. It has authority, however, to take local conditions into consideration in formulating an order to school district authorities.

Only the Summerton school district in Clarendon County is affected directly at this time. The district authorities are defendants in the case, which was one of five in which the Supreme Court held in May 1954 that racially segregated schools are unconstitutional.

The three-judge court will be made up of Judge John J. Parker, of Charlotte, senior member of the 4th Circuit Court of Appeals; Judge Armistead M. Dobie of Charlottesville, Va., also of the Circuit Court; and Dist. Judge George Bell Timmerman, of Columbia.

All were on the court when it held in 1952 that segregation is constitutional as long as facilities are equal for both races. That ruling was reversed by the Supreme Court and the case now has been returned to the lower court for action in accordance with the decision.

Thurgood Marshall, chief counsel for the National Assn. for Advancement of Colored People, is expected to represent the Negro plaintiffs in the case.

Robert McC. Figg, of Charleston, and S. E. Rogers, of Summerton, are attorneys for the school authorities.

Marshall has filed a petition making 180 more Summerton Negroes plaintiffs in the case. Originally, the Negro group, contending their rights are impaired by segregation, consisted of but a handful of parents representing about 12 or 13 schoolchildren.

Summerton school district trustees have said they will close the schools rather than mix white and Negro pupils. May enrollment in the Summerton district schools was 297 white pupils to 2,479 Negroes.

Russian Trade Agency Taking Mail Orders

MOSCOW (AP) — Samovars and bicycles from Tula, kerosene stoves from Moscow, balalaikas from Tashkent—just mail your orders, folks.

The Ministry of Internal Trade is beginning to build up a mail order business for consumer goods through display advertisements in its official newspaper Soviet Trade.

Simultaneously, the soviet trade organization is working gradually to develop self-help in stores. The idea is to cut sales personnel for use of this manpower in other more needy spheres—like heavy industry and agriculture.

In both merchandising fields the Russians are just making a beginning.

The mail order system is designed especially to aid millions of farmers and villagers who often can't find what they need in rural stores and must travel to the nearest city to buy.

Leningrad announced the opening of its first self-help, American-style supermarket last year. Some smaller shops of this kind have been opened in Moscow.

Nehru Finds Russians Similar To Americans

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Indian Prime Minister Nehru during his recent trip to the Soviet Union reportedly found the Russians "remarkably similar" to Americans.

Associates said Nehru, at a Cabinet reception last night welcoming him home, described the people of both major cold war opponents as "hospitable, friendly, mechanically minded, and liking to do things in a big way."

The Indian leader arrived back in New Delhi yesterday from a five-week tour of the Soviet Union and countries in Eastern and Western Europe. He visited the United States for three weeks in late 1949.

Army Red Tape Blamed For Peress Deal

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Investigations subcommittee today blamed 48 errors and Army red tape—but not subversion — for the promotion and honorable discharge of Maj. Irving Peress after he refused to say whether he was a Communist.

It said Secretary of the Army Stevens, or perhaps some of his Pentagon bosses, did "a disservice" to the country by what it termed concealing facts about the case of the New York dentist for almost a year. It also accused "the Department of the Army" of some deceptive practices toward Congress.

But it made no mention of subversion in a formal report saying the case showed "individual errors in judgment, lack of proper coordination, ineffective administration procedures, inconsistent application of investigating regulations, and excessive delays."

Army delay in making the facts public, it said, "served to unduly arouse and increase suspicions of the public as to possible Communist influences and thereby was a disservice, to the Army as a w[illegible] to this subcommittee, to the Congress, and to the general public."

One subcommittee member, Sen. Bender (R-Ohio), refused to sign the report.

It should have stated, he contended in a minority report, that "no Communist influence was found in the Army."

It should have stated, Bender said, that "not one iota of evidence" was found to support charges by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) that some "silent Communist mastermind" in the Pentagon was involved.

The finding of suspicions "unduly" aroused was the subcommittee's only pronouncement on the subversion score in the report signed by its six other members, McCarthy among them.

The majority report said former Army counselor John G. Adams, who recently resigned, "showed disrespect for the subcommittee when he chose to disregard" a letter from McCarthy the day before Peress got his honorable discharge on Feb. 2, 1954.

McCarthy, then the subcommittee's chairman, had been demanding that Peress be court-martialed. He had written the Army on Feb. 1 urging that the honorable discharge be held up. Adams testified last March that he had passed up then the "last clear chance" to block the discharge.

The report ticked off names, dates, and incidents in a list of the 48 errors it reported in handling the case. It said the Army has made some "procedural changes" in handling such cases but should make more of them, and added:

"Failure of the responsible Army officials to effect most of these changes before the Peress case became an incident of national interest is inexcusable."

The report said that Maj. Gen. Miller B. White, then president of the Army Personnel Board, has recommended that Peress be kicked out of the Army, but in doing so had cited "a nonexistent regulation" and another regulation "under which the action recommended could not be taken."

Among others guilty of errors in the case, the report said, were Lt. Gen. Walter L. Weible, deputy chief of staff, who testified he wished he had held up the discharge; Gen. Charles Bolte, then vice chief of staff; Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker, who was Peress' commanding officer; Lt. Gen. W. A. Burress, then 1st Army commander, and others.

The Peress case, and McCarthy's denunciations of Zwicker in connection with it, were sparks which set off first the McCarthy-Army hearings of last summer, and then a Senate investigation of McCarthy himself as a sequel to which the Senate voted in December to "condemn" some of the senator's conduct.

In his report, Bender contended a "campaign of doubt" had been waged against the Army but did not say by whom he said that campaign had "promoted the Communist cause."

"I think it is of paramount importance," he wrote, "that this subcommittee should assure the people of this country that no Communist influence was found in the Army."

And, Bender said, "I cannot agree" that Stevens or his superiors performed a disservice by not revealing earlier facts about the case. He said the record shows that Stevens as early as Feb. 16, 1954, did acknowledge "many mistakes" by the Army in handling it, and that President Eisenhower himself on the following April 1 "said the Army made serious errors in the case and was correcting its procedures."

Bender swung at the listing of 48 alleged errors. He said it "serves well to pad our conclusions but does nothing to enhance the quality of the report."

"If the purpose is to state that in this case there was an inordinate amount of human error," he said, "that could have been stated in one sentence."

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark), the subcommittee chairman, said the majority report was approved by himself and Sens. Jackson (D-Wash), Symington (D-Mo), Ervin (D-NC), McCarthy, and Mundt (R-SD).

DOUBLE-DECKER MOLDED TUNA SALAD
. . . fruits and vegetables add interest

'Cold As A Fish' Is A Treat For Eating In Summertime

"Cold as a fish" is not a term to shun during the summertime Cold fish can be one of your most delightful eating experiences.

As popular as salmon steaks is a cook looking and tasting salmon mousse; wintertime deviled tuna gives way to tossed or molded tuna salads; and many would say that a jellied shrimp mold has it way over the best shrimp creole.

With the refrigerator, perhaps some gelatin, and certainly some tangy spices you will have the family looking forward to every cold fish meal.

SEAFOOD COCKTAIL

1½ cups tomato catsup
2 tablespoons horseradish sauce
⅛ cup mayonnaise
¼ cup lemon juice or vinegar
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon monosodium glutamate
3 cups seafood (1½ cups small shrimp and 1½ cups lobster pieces)

Combine the sauce ingredients the day before serving and refrigerate. Just before serving add seafood. Three-fourths cup diced celery and ¼ cup diced green pepper may be added for a crisp contrast. Chopped parsley may be sprinkled over the top or a sprig of parsley added.

CALIFORNIA COCKTAIL

½ cup fresh crabmeat
½ cup fresh cooked or canned lobster meat
3 tablespoons orange juice
2 grapefruits
4 tablespoons catsup
4 tablespoons mayonnaise

Flake crabmeat and cube lobster blend well. Halve grapefruit remove pulp and cut into small pieces. Notch edges of shells with scissors. Blend orange juice, catsup and mayonnaise. Mix with shell fish and grapefruit. Fill grapefruit shells with mixture.

JELLIED SHRIMP COCKTAIL

2 pounds fresh shrimp
1 quart tomato juice
4 bouillon cubes
1 bay leaf
4 peppercorns
4 whole cloves
Few sprigs parsley.
2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
½ cup cold water
2 teaspoons sugar
Salt and pepper

Clean and devein shrimp. Cook by boiling in 1½ quarts salted water 3 to 5 minutes. Heat tomato juice with bouillon cubes, bay leaf, spices and parsley. Cover and simmer 10 minutes. Strain. Soften gelatin in water, add tomato juice and stir until gelatin dissolves. Add sugar, salt and pepper to taste. Chill until slightly thickened. Fold in shrimp. Pour into 1½ quart ring mold. Chill until firm. Unmold and garnish with salad greens. Makes 6 servings.

SHAMROCK TUNA SALAD

1 cup chopped walnut meats
2 cups chopped celery
½ cup chopped pimento
4 cans fancy solid or chunk pack tuna
1 cup mayonnaise
Lemon or lime juice
Tomato aspic (canned)
Crisp lettuce leaves
Stuffed olives and pimento strips

Place the walnut meats, chopped celery, chopped pimento and the tuna in a large bowl add 1 cup (or more if desired) mayonnaise. Mix thoroughly, adding lemon or lime juice to taste. Arrange crisp lettuce leaves on large platter and make mound of the salad in center. Surround with slices of the aspic and garnish with stuffed olives and pimento strips. Serves 8 to 10.

CURRY TUNA BOWL

2 cans tuna flaked into large pieces
1 cup diced celery
1 tablespoon minced onion
2 tablespoons vinegar
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
½ cup mayonnaise
2 teaspoons curry powder
Crisp lettuce leaves

Combine tuna celery, onion, vinegar, salt and pepper in a bowl. Combine mayonnaise and curry powder. Add to tuna mixture and toss gently. Serve in a bowl lined with lettuce leaves. Makes 6 servings.

TUNA MOUSSE

2 cups aspic jelly (1 can madrilene, consomme or tomato aspic may be used)
1 small can tuna
2 tablespoons gelatin (2 envelopes)
¼ cup cold water
1 cup tomato juice
½ teaspoon paprika
1 cup mayonnaise
½ cup heavy cream, whipped
½ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons sherry (optional)

Coat fish or ring mold with aspic jelly by pouring the cold, but not quite jelled aspic into a chilled mold and tilting the mold in all directions until completely covered with jelly. Put in refrigerator while mousse is being prepared. Puree tuna in a blender or by running it through a fine food chopper. Soften gelatin in cold water. Heat tomato juice and paprika in a saucepan. Add softened gelatin and stir until gelatin is dissolved.

Cool, then stir in pureen tuna. Add mayonnaise and whipped cream. Salt to taste and add sherry, if desired. Pour into aspic lined fish or ring mold. Chill thoroughly. To turn out mold, dip mold in bowl of warm water for about 10 seconds. Loosen jelly around rim with finger. Place serving dish on top of mold, invert and lift up mold.

2 teaspoons prepared mustard
1 tablespoon chopped pickled onions
2 teaspoons lemon juice

1 tablespoon grated horseradish
3 tablespoons mayonnaise

Slice tops off pineapples. Remove pineapple pulp and save to use for dessert another day. Mix all ingredients and pile into hollowed out pineapples. Serve as a main dish for two, or as a side dish for four.

AVOCADO SHRIMP SQUARES

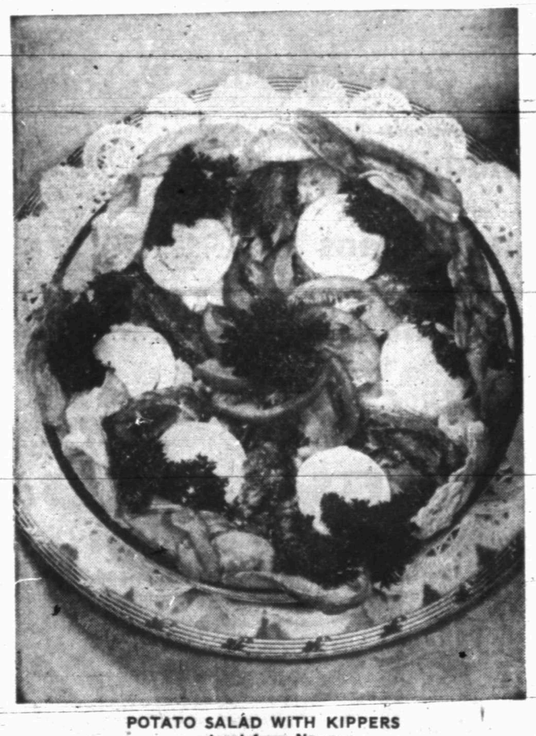

1 package lime-flavored gelatin
1½ cups hot water
1 cup cubed avocado
¾ cup diced cucumber
½ cup ripe olives, sliced
5 tablespoons lemon juice
Onion salt
¾ cup halved prepared shrimp
Salad greens
½ cup mayonnaise
1 tablespoon prepared mustard

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Chill until thick but not firm. To prepare avocado, cut into halves and remove seed and skin. Cube fruit and combine with cucumber, olives, lemon juice, a sprinkling of onion salt and shrimp. Stir into chilled gelatin and blend lightly. Turn into oiled mold and chill until firm. Cut into squares and serve on crisp salad greens. Garnish with blended mayonnaise and mustard. Makes 8 squares.

LIME SHRIMP SALAD MOLD

1 pound fresh shrimp
1 package lime gelatin
¼ cup vinegar
1 package cottage cheese (8 ounces)
3 ounces blue cheese
1 unpeeled cucumber sliced

Clean shrimp and cook it by boiling in salted water 3 to 5 minutes. Drain and set aside to cool. Reserve a fresh shrimp for garnishing. Make lime gelatin according to package directions, substituting ¼ cup vinegar for some of water. Pour ½ cup of the prepared gelatin into a mold and add 6 or 8 shrimp to form a design on bottom of the mold. Refrigerate until gelatin has hardened. Chill remaining prepared gelatin in refrigerator until slightly thick. Then whip gelatin over cold water. Blend together cottage cheese and blue cheese and fold into whipped gelatin. Add the shrimp and pour mixture into the mold to form a second layer. Place mold in refrigerator for several hours or until firm. Garnish with sliced cucumber and shrimp. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

THE RABBIT HABIT—Mayor Malven Stevenson was sought out by "Mr. Bunny" himself this week to receive one of the first loaves of Bunny Bread delivered in Snyder. Bunny Bread originated in Anna, Ill., in 1949 and became so popular that it was introduced to other bakeries by the American Bakeries Cooperative. The Bunny Bread Co. of Lubbock, which began distribution in Snyder this week, is a member of that organization. Bunny Bread is being distributed in the Snyder area by Billy Ray Fleming and Norman Morris.

Manufacturers Hurt By Steel, Copper

NEW YORK (AP) — Rising steel prices and a strike-squeezed shortage of copper are putting many manufacturers in the middle today in dealing with their customers.

It's going to cost manufacturers more to turn out many consumer items. But the public is well aware that there are plenty of such items around and that good deals can be made with retailers in a highly competitive market. It's going to be hard to convince the public it must pay higher retail prices.

An example of that is at hand in a nonmetal field — gasoline.

Higher wage scales and recent upgrading of quality to meet competition would normally lead to higher gasoline prices. But a leading Eastern oil company is lowering its wholesale price now—that is, in effect, more than absorbing the higher production costs.

The reason: An abundant supply of gasoline and keen rivalry for business among service stations has ledt to widespread price wars along the Eastern Seaboard. oil companies have been giving discounts to dealers. Now this oil company hopes to straighten out the mess, stop the discounting, end the price wars by cutting its own wholesale price to service stations.

Makers of consumer goods using steel and copper are now studying what they can do in somewhat similar buyer's market. The basic steel price has gone up about $7.50 a ton. Wage scales are being boosted again. The cost of making the countless items that contain metal is going up.

But in a market where the old-line retailers are already battling with the newer discount houses, where auto dealers with large inventories are luring potential customers away from rivals by liberal trade-ins and other concessions, it's going to be hard to pass along to the consumer all of the higher cost of production.

The copper shortage is the most troublesome of immediate problems for many manufacturers. A sizable portion of this country's copper producing capacity is shutdown by strikes. There was already a worldwide shortage of copper, which started last year with strikes here and abroad just as consumer demand for goods that use copper began to pick up notably.

The new strike, starting July 1, is rapidly drying up the already evaporating supplies.

Curfew Will Stay Until Danger Past

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP)—Acting Sheppard Air Force Base commander Col. George Henry yesterday told Chamber of Commerce officials the Air Force will not lift its 9 p.m. curfew until it is certain the danger of gang fights between airmen and civilian teen-agers is over.

At a meeting of city leaders and Air Force authorities, the military claimed the police department is undermanned and "not capable of coping with" civilian-airman tension, and said airmen had been falsely arrested and abused.

Police Chief C. C. (Bud) Daniels, after the meeting, pledged full cooperation and said Wichita Falls has a far smaller problem than many other cities with nearby air bases.

Chamber of Commerce president Jerry Vinson said he hopes "concrete developments" will be ready by tomorrow or Monday which will cause the lifting of the curfew.

The curfew was inposed Monday after a weekend in which there were several gang fights and near fights. After police and military borke up two major engagements, scattered battles occurred in the city until the early morning hours Monday.

Authorities said they were tipped Sunday that both airmen and civilians had begun to carry weapons, including revolvers.

One airman was slashed and beaten at a city park a week ago, but observers said no one thing started the tensions between the two groups.

Yesterday's conference was called by Vinson and Rhea Howard, president of the Times Publishing Co. and chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Military Affairs Committee.

Howard has called the situation "serious" and has said "it should be corrected as spon as possible. It has cast a reflection on the citizenship of Wichita Falls as a whole."

Col. Kenneth Chase, staff judge advocate, made the charges of false arrest and abuse. He said a captain and his wife were arrested some time ago and "given an exceedingly bad time at the police station." The case was dismissed in court, he said.

Chase said an Air Force master sergeant reportedly was arrested by an officer who commented, "One more airman and I can go home." The colonel said the sergeant was accused of using profane language to two waitresses who later denied that he did.

Canadian Senator Dies Of Pneumonia

OTTAWA (AP) — Federal Sen. James H. King of Vancouver, Former Speaker of the Canadian Senate, died early today in the Civic Hospital. He was 82.

The Senator entered the hospital June 20 for treatment of a heart condition. He subsequently contracted pneumonia.

His death brought to 23 the number of vacant seats in Canada's 102-member upper chamber. Senators are appointed for life by the Governor General on recommendation of the government.

King, a member of Canada's dominate Liberal party, was a physician in private life. He held posts in both provincial and Federal cabinets.

Italian Gets Diploma After Only 80 Years

LA SPEZIA, Italy (AP)—Gaetano Barrili today had the grade school diploma for which he began studying 80 years ago.

He quit school after completing the third grade. Last year he took up his studies again, and never missed a session of the night school at nearby Castiglione Vara.

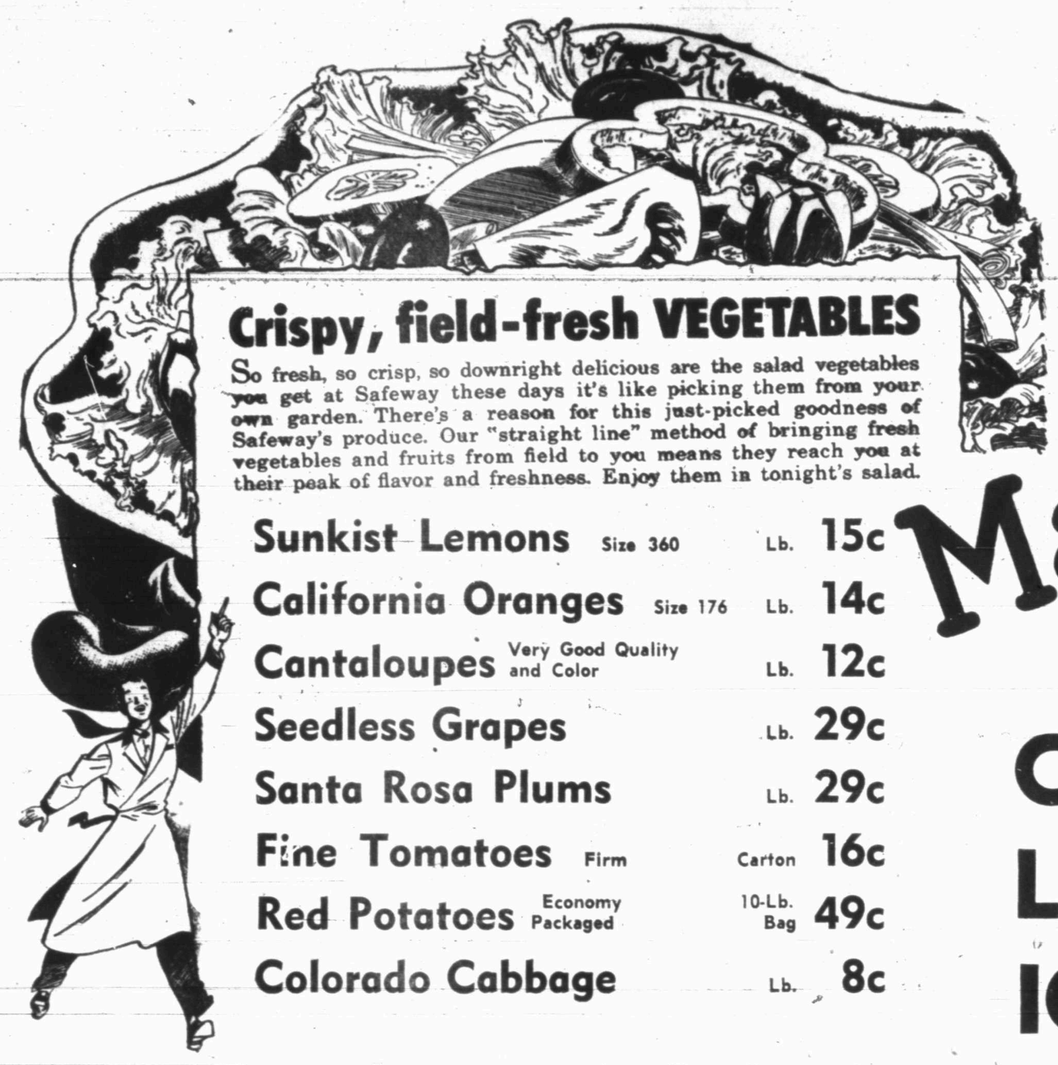

Now 86, Barrili received his diploma and a letter of congratulations yesterday.

Crane Population Again On Upswing

OTTAWA (AP) — The world's whooping crane population again is on the upswing with the known number of the birds now at 25. Four young birds were hatched this spring in a wildlife sanctuary in Canada.

The big cranes once numbered in the thousands but hunters and the advance of civilization brought their number to a low of 15 in 1941. There were 24 in 1953, then the total slumped to 21 last year when three cranes disappeared.

The whoopers winter at a sanctuary on the Texas Gulf Coast. They now are protected by strict regulations in both Canada and the United States.

Truck Dives 80 Feet

BANKS, Idaho (AP)—Edward J. O'Toole, 34, of Nampa, drove his cement truck onto a soft shoulder of the highway near here yesterday and plunged 80 feet down a rocky gorge into the Payette River. He clambored out with only a few cuts and bruises.

Unpleasant ...

HOBBS, N.M. (AP)—This ... has been posted on the wall of Municipal Judge Robert L. Bensing's office at City Hall:

"While in this office, speak in low, soothing tone and do not disagree with me in any manner.

"Please be informed that when one has reached my age, noise and nonconcurrence cause gastric hyper-peristalsis, hyper-secretion of hydrochloric acid and inflammation of the gastric mucosa, and "I BECOME UNPLEASANT."

Ocelot Comes Home

WASHINGTON (AP)—A 20-pound, yellow-and-black ocelot, missing from a Washington pet shop for nine days, straggled home last night. Adelle Hall, wife of the pet shop manager, heard a "crying" in the shop's back yard. There was the ocelot, a large American spotted cat, hungry, weary and lean. She and her husband baited a cage and promptly captured it.

PRESIDENT POSES WITH MAYOR—Mayor Frank Tobey of Memphis, Tenn., stands with his arm around the shoulder of President Eisenhower in the president's White House office. The mayor called on the chief executive to discuss his city's plans to build its own power plant. A short time later the president ordered "immediate steps" to terminate the controversial Dixon-Yates power contract.

Three Of Four Summit Conferees New At Job

By The Associated Press

The summit meeting next Monday will bring together four men whose average age is 57. Three of them have held their jobs only a few months.

Reading up the age scale, here are the participants:

Edgar Faure, premier of France, 46. An attorney who used to write mystery stories for recreation. Speaks Russian, helped prosecute German war leaders at the Nuernberg trials. Became premier in February.

Sir Anthony Eden, British prime minister, 58. Served for many years as British foreign secretary, remembered by Britons especially because he refused to participate in a government that sought to appease Hitler. Succeeded Sir Winston Churchill in April.

Nikolai A. Bulganin, Soviet prime minister, 60. Formerly defense minister and one of Stalin's mainstays during World War II. Succeeded Georgi M. Malenkov in February.

President Eisenhower has the most experience at the helm of a nation, having been president since January 1953. He is 64. Unlike his three colleagues at Geneva, he is chief of state as well as head of government (both France and Russia have presidents with nominal power while Britain has a queen).

Iron is 11.5 times as heavy as water.

Kids Know Causes Of Juvenile Delinquency

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—If you want to know what causes juvenile delinquency, just ask the kids. They've got all the answers.

Only they call it "parental delinquency."

Some of the 2,500 youths attending the 43rd International Christian Endeavor Conference here drew up a list of charges on the delinquency problem yesterday.

Here are sample comments:

Larry Hock, 15, Portland, Ore.: "There's too much emphasis on those child care books which tell parents to let the kids do as they please. After a while, parents get in the habit of not caring what their children are doing."

Robert Dean, 16, Columbus: "Children respect the advice of their parents. But some parents don't bother with any advice. If they don't teach what is right, then their kids may turn out wrong."

John Breedveld, 18, Kalamazoo, Mich.: "Some parents set bad examples. When a child grows up, he has to talk over his problems with someone. If he feels he cannot go to his parents, he joins a gang and talks his problems over with the wrong kind of people."

Myrna George, 18, Woodlake, Calif.: "Youngsters sometimes get too much attention at home. Kids want to do something for themselves once in a while."

Housework Easy Without Nagging Backache

Nagging backache, headache, or muscular aches and pains may come on with over-exertion, emotional upsets or day to day stress and strain. And folks who eat and drink unwisely sometimes suffer mild bladder irritation ...with that restless, uncomfortable feeling.

If you are miserable and worn out because of these discomforts, Doan's Pills often help by their pain relieving action, by their soothing effect to ease bladder irritation, and by their mild diuretic action through the kidneys —tending to increase the output of the 16 miles of kidney tubes.

So if nagging backache makes you feel dragged-out, miserable...with restless, sleepless nights...don't wait...try Doan's Pills... get the same happy relief millions have enjoyed for over 60 years. Get Doan's Pills today!
