

State Demos And GOPers Open Conventions; Harmony Emphasized

DALLAS (AP) — Texas Republicans rolled out some big guns today for a free-wheeling assault on the Democratic Party, but the attack was muted somewhat by an invitation to the enemy to join their ranks.

The GOP theme emphasized harmony but included scattered shots at the Democrats, touched on reform, encouraged financial support and suggested there is room for disenfranchised Democrats within the party.

The Republican parade, headed by keynote Winfield Dunn, governor of Tennessee, evoked comment from Sen. John Tower, state chairman Dr. George Willeford, vice chairman Mrs. Malcolm Milburn and others.

The others included state Sen. Henry Grover of Houston, the party's gubernatorial candidate, who said previously his bid for the state house has been obscured by the re-election campaigns of President Nixon and Tower.

He clashed sharply some months ago with Willeford but the accent here was on harmony, and seldom have past grievances been openly discussed.

Willeford, in his prepared remarks, mentioned Grover in a speech largely designed to capitalize on what he professed to be a better year for the Republican Party.

"It now is not only a question of winning, but winning big," he said.

"A large percentage, a great margin, will help the President dramatically—as well as our other elected officials—in the effort to carry out the programs that we so desperately need."

He said a Nixon victory will broaden the party's base in Texas and "our party's image in Texas will become so responsible and acceptable and appealing that recruiting topnotch candidates at all levels will be made easier."

Republicans from the Panhandle area joined other members of the "Grand Ole Party" for opening activities of the state Republican convention in Dallas yesterday.

Expecting a landslide election for President Richard Nixon, the delegates predict help for the entire slate of Republican candidates in Texas.

Mrs. Anne Armstrong, National Committeewoman, said she expects the state Republican party to show its biggest gains in the history of the party this year.

State leaders discussed routine business and party goals while the delegates gathered.

Dr. George Willeford, state chairman, said the delegates should remember the practical goal of re-electing Nixon and Sen. John Tower and of electing Henry "Hank" Grover as governor.

He also said the GOP has an opportunity to double its delegation in the House, which now stands at 10, and could pick up one or two Senate seats.

Sen. Tower spoke to the executive committee briefly, emphasizing the opportunities the re-election of Nixon could give the party in the state.

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Texas Democrats, facing a new day in political party reforms, meet today to decide the course of their party for the next two years.

The opening gavel was scheduled at 10 a. m.

"We look forward to a convention of unity and harmony and we look forward to a slate of candidates that will win in November," Dolph Briscoe, the party's nominee for governor and new party head, said confidently.

Although party leaders predicted smooth sailing at the Albert Thomas Convention Hall today there were some indications the traditional Democratic differences of opinion would keep the session from being either routine or brief in duration.

Different factions of the party held caucuses late Monday night trying to decide within their own groups what they wanted in handling the three major tasks of the convention:

—Selection of a 65-member governing body of the party, the State Democratic Executive Committee, for the next two years —Selection of five Texans to complete the state's seven-member delegation to the National Democrat Committee. Current national committee members are Jess Hay of Dallas and Mrs. Jane Blumberg, Seguin.

—Drafting of a state party platform to support Democratic candidates in their general election campaigns.

The first state convention, last June, concerned itself mostly with selection of delegates that eventually had a hand in naming Sen. George McGovern and Sargent Shriver to head the Democratic national ticket.

Briscoe was a leader in the stop McGovern drive at the Miami Beach national convention. He voted for Wallace, then switched to McGovern, after the outcome of the nomination race was known.

Water Discoloration May Hit Peak Today

The worst of water discoloration problems in distribution of Lake Meredith water from Pampa's new treatment plant was expected to result today, City Manager Mack Wofford said this morning.

This was due, the city manager explained, to increased speed of pumping yesterday and today. Water was pumped at the rate of approximately 3,500 gallons a minute.

"That puts a big rush of water into the mains," Wofford said, "and just naturally stirs up any residue in the pipes."

The pumping rate was speeded up, he said, to test pumps at the plant.

Discoloration of the water, where it occurs, is not expected to last longer than the time needed to clear out the mains.

The treatment plant went back into operation at 2 p. m.

yesterday and ran intermittently until about 7 p. m. Operation was resumed at 9 a. m. today and it was planned to continue until 10 p. m. No serious difficulties were encountered.

When clearwells at the plant site and the city's overhead storage tanks are filled, pumping is halted.

Wofford said Pampa has approximately 150 miles of water lines that will have to be cleared of mineral deposits and residue before the water discoloration problem is completely solved.

"We just don't know exactly how long that will take," he said.

The city manager added that only a very few calls were received at City Hall yesterday, indicating the public was going along with the city's plea for patience during the first days of new plant operation.

Price Charges Hearings On Wheat Deal Political

Pampa congressman Bob Price charged in Washington yesterday that the current House agriculture subcommittee hearings on what sales to Russia are "overwhelmingly political."

Democrat Rep. Graham Purcell, Price's opponent in the 13th District congressional race at the November elections, is chairman of the subcommittee.

"Due to the endorsement of the chairman of the subcommittee (Purcell) by members of this committee, including the chairman of the Full House Agriculture Committee (a Texan, Chairman W. R. Poage of Waco), and due to the involvement of Chairman Purcell's relatives in the grain elevator business, I find it an improper time to hold these hearings," Price said.

"Even though the Department of Agriculture has made a clear case of this matter, the remarks of presidential candidate George McGovern, Speaker of the House Carl Albert, and the chairman of the Agriculture Committee attempt to discredit secretary Butz and the members of his department.

"This attempt to discredit the sales of wheat to Russia is jeopardizing negotiations for current sales and for future foreign sales, thereby costing the American wheat farmer his first opportunity in years to trade in the open marketplace and earn a reasonable profit for his product."

"In connection with this sale and in a blatant attempt to buy farm votes, we have also seen the introduction of legislation by the chairman of this subcommittee, which strikes at the very heart of the free enterprise system. Holding out the promise of the re-imbursement to farmers who sold grain early and missed out on the increased profits of the Russian grain sale is misleading and cruel to say the least. There is no guarantee whatsoever that the Congress will agree to such a thing."

FOR PANHANDLE DISTRICT

Mrs. Osborne Re-elected As Executive Committeewoman

Mrs. Ruth Osborne of Pampa was re-elected to a second term as district Democratic Executive Committeewoman for the Panhandle District in a caucus Monday at the state Democratic convention in Houston.

Mrs. Osborne was unanimously re-elected by acclamation after her only opponent, Mrs. Wiley Hicks of Amarillo, withdrew from the race, preventing a possible fight.

The action taken Monday could not become official until the state convention opened today. After the delegates were seated and the convention called to order, the 31st District delegates were expected to caucus on the floor and ratify today's caucus actions.

Joe Batson of Amarillo was re-elected as District Committeeman. Batson had led many delegates he would sign his position if Mrs. Hicks as elected as he did not feel the committeeman and committeewoman should come on the same city.

The race between Mrs. Osborne and Mrs. Hicks had been expected to develop into a long contest, with most delegates attending receptions for both women Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Hicks has been active in campaigning for Dolph Briscoe and had been backed by the Briscoe faction.

Mrs. Osborne was first elected two years ago when Claudia Brummett of Amarillo decided not to seek another term.

Mrs. Hicks withdrew from the race "in the interests of party unity."

Sen. Max Sherman and Reps. Phil Cates, Ben Bynum and Bryan Poff were present for the caucus after leaving Austin, where the state legislature had convened for a special session.

The legislature has adjourned until Wednesday so members could attend both state conventions. The Republicans are meeting in Dallas.

Nominated to serve on the standing committees of the convention were Jim Fuqua, Amarillo, nominating committee; Wyane Dammier, Amarillo, rules, and Rep. Cates, resolutions.

Nita Lovell of Dumas and Deon Miller of Dawn, both students at West Texas State University, were named to the

U.S. Grain Exporters Testifying

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two of the nation's largest grain exporters, who allegedly received information that would allow them to make "windfall profits" in the sale of U.S. wheat to the Soviet Union, tell their side of the story today.

Clarence D. Palmby, former assistant secretary of agriculture and now vice president of the Continental Grain Co., and a representative of Cargill Grain Co. of Minneapolis, were to testify before a House agriculture subcommittee.

On Monday, officials of farm organizations accused the Agriculture Department of providing timely information to exporters, but not to farmers, concerning the huge grain sale.

"There is reason for strong suspicion that inside information was available to at least some wheat traders," said Weldon V. Barton, assistant legislative director of the National Farmers Union (NFU).

Charles L. Frazier of the National Farmers Organization (NFO) said farmers for months "were led to believe that grain prices would not improve for the 1972 crop."

"In contrast with their position," Frazier said, "those export companies who were closely in touch with the department had definite advantages."

Victim Identified As Attache In London

By Associated Press
A booby-trapped package exploded in the Israeli Embassy in London today and killed the Israeli agricultural attache who opened it and injured another man, Scotland Yard reported.

The British Foreign Office identified the man killed in today's blast as Agriculture Attache Dr. Ami Schachori in his early 40's. The injured man was not immediately named.

A spokesman said police reports disclosed the package had

American Arrested By Syria

BEIRUT (AP) — The Syrian government has detained the assistant military attache of the U.S. Embassy in Amman, Jordan, diplomatic sources said today.

They said Maj. Richard Barrett was arrested Sept. 9 at Deraa, the crossing point from Jordan into Syria.

All efforts to secure his release thus far have been unsuccessful, the sources said.

No reason for the arrest was given, the sources said. Syrian officials reached by telephone from Beirut said they had no comment on the incident.

Barrett was on his way to Beirut where his wife and child have been living since his assignment to Amman three weeks ago.

The United States has no diplomatic relations with Syria, which broke ties during the 1967 Middle East war. The Italian embassy in Damascus is in charge of U.S. interests. Italian diplomats were not immediately available for comment.

UN Assembly Opens Meeting

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — An escalating crisis in the Middle East, Chinese and Soviet demands for the withdrawal of U.S. troops from Korea, and a bitter debate on terrorism confront delegates from 132 member states as they meet today for the opening of the 27th U.N. General Assembly.

Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko heads a high-powered Soviet delegation. He is the first of the Big Five foreign affairs chiefs to arrive for the 13-week parley, which 73 foreign ministers are expected to attend.

U.S. Secretary of State William P. Rogers, Sir Alec Douglas-Home, the British foreign secretary, French Foreign Minister Maurice Schumann and the Chinese foreign affairs vice minister, Chiao Kuanhua are scheduled to arrive in the next few days.

The critical assembly session convenes under the tightest security precautions since the special 1970 session when heads of state gathered to commemorate the United Nations' 25th anniversary.

As on that occasion, a force of federal Executive Protective Service agents has been sent in from Washington.

been mailed to the embassy from Amsterdam. It was not immediately determined to whom the package was addressed.

Scotland Yard has been watching for an incident like this ever since the Munich massacre of 11 members of Israel's Olympic squad Sept. 15 and subsequent Israeli reprisals against Arab guerrillas.

Police quickly cordoned off the private road outside the embassy and refused to allow any members of the public or press through.

Meanwhile, the cabinet of the federation of Syria, Egypt and Libya declared aggression on any of the three Arab states will be considered an attack on all and retaliatory action will be swift.

Aggression, "even on an inch of the federal state," will not be permitted to pass without "swift deterrent action," the cabinet said in a statement published in today's Egyptian press.

Syria has been expecting an Israeli attack since Saturday, when the Israelis plunged deep into Lebanon.

Syria, Egypt and Libya joined in a loose federation a year ago. The federal cabinet voiced full support for Lebanon and the Palestinian forces facing recent "Israeli aggression," and expressed the hope that any differences between Lebanon and the guerrillas will be worked out.

Earlier today, the secretary general of the Arab League arrived in Beirut to mediate tensions between the Lebanese army and Palestinian guerrillas in the wake of Israel's invasion of southern Lebanon over the weekend. Cairo's semi-official newspaper, Al-Ahram, reported.

The newspaper added Riad might also conduct talks in Syria, where an estimated 7,000-strong Palestinian Liberation Army is based.

Big Brother Plan Tabled For Present

A proposal to establish a local branch of Big Brothers in Pampa was tabled at a meeting this forenoon in the Pampa Chamber of Commerce conference room.

James B. Massa, named recently to conduct a survey of need for the organization in Pampa, reported to a well-attended representation of city, county, school and chamber of commerce officials.

The consensus on Massa's findings was that present need was not in proportion to the $10,000 to $15,000 estimated annual cost of administering the program locally to meet requirements of the national Big Brothers.

It was felt by those attending today's meeting the proposal should not be dropped entirely, but that there was insufficient need to go into it at this time.

As a result the matter was tabled and left open for further developments.

School Board Authorizes Policy Review At Meet

By RAY BAXTER

School policy was at the crux of the action meeting of the Pampa school board Monday night, ranging from amendment to possible complete revision.

The amendment was made to the policy regarding maternity leave to comply with the law governing equal opportunity employers. School policy had required leave to start five months before confinement and end four months after delivery.

This had to be amended to become a recommendation rather than a mandatory policy to conform to federal statute.

Roy Anderson, Pampa High School senior, presented his appeal from a board policy ruling imposing restrictions on activities of married students.

Young Anderson had been drum major and also played trumpet in the high school band prior to his marriage. He contended that the restriction quite possibly would hinder his getting a scholarship.

Don Walker, high school principal, told the board that band credit could be counted a number of ways ranging from extra curricular activity to an academic study. He said it was allowed to count academically in Roy's case. This allowed him to play and march with the band in practice sessions.

Policy precludes any participation in public by a married student or in any interscholastic competition.

Intensive questioning turned up many areas in which students were restricted from more than justify the expenditure.

Construction of the marching field had been postponed by the board previously due to lack of funds. The Band Boosters Club will defray a part of their participation by renting parking spaces during ball games.

Other business was the routine approval of bills and expenses.

The only concrete answer was two-fold: to placate objecting parents of unmarried students and to discourage student marriages.

Sturgeon noted that he thought the policy did create a hardship but felt it should not be waived just to fit Roy Anderson's case but should be totally revised. He made the motion that tabled action on Anderson's appeal until this study could be made.

However, the board was unanimous in its assurance to the young man that they would move quickly and notify him of their ultimate action his request.

Dr. James Malone, supt. of schools, told board members the staff was entering into an exhaustive reading of current policy with a view to recommending many changes and would have these proposed revisions in their hands quickly.

In other business, the panel approved an enlarged band marching field and agreed to help the Band Boosters Club with half the cost of surfacing it. Board members felt benefits to the school for other uses would more than justify the expenditure.

Women's Group Protests Books For Use In Schools

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Women's groups protested Monday books proposed for use in Texas public schools which they said do not give women the credit they deserve.

The women told education commissioner J.W. Edgar that scores of books portray women "only in certain roles (mother, housewife, elementary school teacher) with certain personalities (emotional, illogical, passive)."

"Young girls, just as youth of other groups who are victims of discrimination, need to be aware of prejudice against them and how to counter it, so that they will be able to handle instances of prejudice constructively," the Women's Textbook Research Committee said in a statement accompanying each of its 51 challenges.

The domination of the hearings by charges of sexual discrimination—66 of the 96 challenges were based on such charges—marked a drastic change from past hearings. Longtime observers of the annual smirishes over school books said they could not remember a single case in which sex discrimination had figured in the past.

The entire morning session, and much of the afternoon, was taken up with 29 challenges of proposed reading texts by the women's research committee. In most cases, a member of the committee testified that a large majority of the heroes, the pictures, and the "positive roles" found in the books were men.

Jolie Huchinson of Austin, spokeswoman for the group, used this approach when challenging Houghton Mifflin Co.'s fifth grade reader "images." The book contains 468 pictures of men and 20 men heroes, but only 139 pictures of women and three women who could be regarded as heroes, she said.

Publishers' representatives answered charges on each of the challenged books. In the case of "images," Houghton Mifflin Regional Director Forrest Overton said reading texts "are almost entirely anthologies or compilations" of previously published material.

Thus "publishers of basic readers are almost entirely dependent upon the manuscript, trade publishers have chosen to publish," he said.

But, Overton said, criticism levelled at textbook publishers "concerning their tardiness in recognizing the changing roles of women in contemporary society are, for the most part, justifiable."

The hearings before commissioner Edgar are a new element in the annual textbook selection process. In the past, such hearings have been held only by the 15-member State Textbook Committee.

This year, both the committee and the commissioner are holding hearings. Edgar has scheduled three days for the hearings, however, while the textbook committee will hear arguments only Oct. 10, and will make its decisions the following day.

After the committee makes its selection, Edgar can remove books from the list, but he can not add books. Local school boards can use books not approved by the selection committee and Edgar, but have to pay for such books. State-approved texts are provided free by the state.

Lack Of Tax Incentives Blamed For Increased Oil Import Quotas

HOUSTON (AP) — The current oil shortage which caused President Nixon Monday to increase oil import quotas was brought about by lack of incentives to domestic producers to explore for more oil, the top spokesman for the Texas independent oil operators said Monday.

George Mitchell, president of the Texas Independent Producers & Royalty Owners Association said undiscovered domestic oil and gas reserves are four times current proved reserves.

"All that is needed is the incentive to explore for these reserves but it is politically unpopular to give incentives for explorations," he said.

"We are now reaping the harvest of shortsighted policies. We are running out of oil and gas with prices at which you can't make a profit."

President Nixon Monday issued a proclamation boosting import quotas for the last three months of the year by more than 650,000 barrels a day. Elmer Bennett, Office of Emergency Preparedness general counsel, blamed the increase on lagging domestic production.

"That is a hell of a jump," Mitchell said, "but our backs are against the wall and production can't keep up with demand."

"It is really time this country analyze our energy deficiency and do something about it," Mitchell said. "The energy crisis is real and we must respond."

The new increase of imports means another $1.8 billion a day in the balance of payments deficit, he said.

"But that is nothing compared with a $30 billion deficit a year for imported oil and liquefied natural gas by 1985 when the National Petroleum Council estimates our imports will amount to 14.4 million barrels a day," Mitchell added.

"This would mean a 57 per cent dependency on foreign imports. If the domestic industry had the proper incentives this dependency could be cut to 20 per cent. With the proper incentives, I think the industry would startle the country."

But Mitchell said he doesn't see that happening until after the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries "hits us with a sudden thud, like increasing prices of their export oil by 50 cents to $1."

"I predict the price of imported oil will be $5 a barrel or more by 1985," he said. Current prices range from $2.80 to $3.50 a barrel.

San Antonio Bus Strike Goes Into Its Second Day

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — This city's third bus strike in three years entered its second day today after attempts to solve a dispute over pension benefits failed.

Mayor John Gatti, who ordered management to hold Monday's unsuccessful talks, said he would meet with both sides today and recommend that an independent expert be hired to study the pension program.

Bus drivers and mechanics walked off the job early Monday after members of the Amalgamated Transit Drivers Union local voted to "take a vacation."

The work halt sent an estimated 65,000 persons, including about 10,000 children, scurrying for other ways to work and school.

Union officials said they would meet at 6 p.m. tonight to decide whether to resume work.

Representatives of both sides met for 90 minutes Monday afternoon and said no progress was made.

The present pension plan guarantees employees at least 50 per cent of their base pay, calculated on a combination of Social Security and pension annuities.

The union said it wants the pension plan hiked to cover at least 50 per cent of base pay in addition to Social Security.

The city-owned transit system contended this would be too costly.

Mayor Gatti agreed that such a demand could not be met, noting the transit system currently is operating in the red and that the city and pick up that deficit cost.

Transit system officials say they asked the union to leave any changes in the pension program up to a new committee of union members, salaried employees and management.

The union last walked out on Dec. 2, 1971, over pay hikes. It halted work for two weeks in 1969, also over wages.

Union officials said pension plan talks had been under way since February. A walkout vote on Sept. 1 was postponed after management promised to negotiate, the union said, but a meeting with transit officials on Sept. 8 proved fruitless.

7TH MONTH IN A ROW Railroad Commission Sets Oil Production 100 Per Cent

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Railroad Commission instructed Texas oilmen again today to produce all they can next month — the seventh consecutive month for 100 per cent production.

The order for maximum production was in response to buyers from major crude oil refiners for a record amount of 3,776,593 barrels a day in October.

Also, the Tom O'Connor field in Refugio County was again set at 70 per cent and the Big Wells fields in Dimmit County was set at 80 per cent.

Requests for crude oil in October surpassed the previous record this month by 25,176 barrels a day.

Four of the 15 major purchasers asked for more oil in October than this month, nine wanted the same amount and two asked for less.

The commission said the U.S. Bureau of Mines forecast for October demand for Texas crude is 3.5 million barrels daily, a decrease of 25,000 barrels a day from September.

Commission chairman Byron Tunnell said Texas' crude oil stocks as of Sept. 8 totaled $9.9 million barrels, a decrease of 7 million from a year ago. He also said the nation could no longer produce the domestic oil and gas products required each day.

It doesn't take a college education to know that to get oil we're going to have to import it in the coming months, he said.

"The only realistic answer," Tunnell said, "is to develop immediately whatever policies necessary to stimulate our own resources right here in America."

Convict Under Attack During Testimony

BELTON, Tex. (AP) — The state testimony of co-defendant Dennis Anderson, self described as an "accomplished liar," stood under attack today in the trial of another young man accused in the Kountze antique shop slayings.

Attorneys for Fred Foy Young, 22, of Houston began calling witnesses to dispute portions of Anderson's testimony, shortly after Anderson stepped down from the witness stand Monday and the state rested.

Young is being tried in the slaying of Mebel McCormick, 50, who was beaten and slashed to death Jan. 5 at the same time her 3-year-old granddaughter was also killed at Mrs. McCormick's combination shop and home.

Anderson has pleaded guilty and received a life term for Mrs. McCormick's death.

"Would you agree that you are a convincing and accomplished liar?" Anderson was asked by defense attorney Joe Goodwin on cross-examination. Anderson quickly replied, "Yes, sir, I am."

Anderson testified earlier on direct state examination that he beat Mrs. McCormick with a Coke bottle. He said he cut her throat with a knife while Young held her legs.

But he said Young acted alone in the suffocation death of the grandchild, Leslie Bowman. He said he saw the child's body "inverted" in a commode in the Southeast Texas shop.

Police Car Involved In Collision

A Pampa police car on the way to answer a prowler call was involved in an accident at Duncan and Sunset Dr.

According to the report of the Department of Public Safety called to investigate the incident, Officer Randol Nichols was driving north on Duncan rounding the descending curve intersected by Sunset Dr. when a car pulled from that street in front of the police unit and stopped.

Nichols managed to avoid a direct impact but the cars were in forcible contact and came to rest a few yards from the point of impact.

The report indicated the other car did stop at the control sign on Sunset Dr., then proceeded moving into the inside lane which was occupied by the moving police car rather than the outside lane provided by four-lane thoroughfares for safe ingress.

The accident was considered unavoidable.

CHICAGO (AP) — Pat Nixon fielded tough questions on the Vietnam war, the Watergate bugging, Martha Mitchell and abortion on her first day of a week-long cross country campaign trip.

Then, she headed for the calm wilderness of Yellowstone National Park today to celebrate the 100th anniversary of the designation of that unique natural setting of volcanic geysers and hot springs as a park.

Mrs. Nixon is spanning the country with stops in seven states in her most ambitious solo campaign swing. Chicago police stopped city traffic so she could make her motorcade rounds.

She stopped in to congratulate volunteers who were working for her husband's re-election campaign headquarters in Chicago's "Magnificent Mile" downtown area.

They promised her "Chicago for Nixon in '72."

With Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie, Mrs. Nixon went to ceremonies for 236 newly naturalized American citizens, who will have their first vote this November.

At an afternoon "press coffee," Mrs. Nixon faced some of the hardest questioning she has had as First Lady.

She made these points: —She would "be willing to die to save freedom" for 17 million South Vietnamese people "who are now having aggression against them with the idea of taking away their freedom and their country."

—The bugging of Democratic national headquarters at the Watergate complex in Washington won't hurt Nixon's chance for re-election — "I think it's blown completely out of proportion. I think the (GOP campaign) chairman answered all the questions on it." She said the people know that "he (Nixon) has no part of it."

—She opposes "on demand" abortion; it is a personal matter and one to be left to the states to decide.

Mrs. Nixon was asked if it bothered her that former Cabinet wife Martha Mitchell says she was manhandled by a man who has since been promoted to head the Nixon campaign security forces.

"Well, I don't know anything about what happened in her room," Mrs. Nixon said regarding Mrs. Mitchell's reports of alleged efforts to restrain her.

"I only know what I read in the papers."

Skellytown Man Remains Critical

A Skellytown man remained in critical condition today in St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo with head injuries.

Stanley Herrmann, 22, was injured Sunday when he fell from a truck about two miles east of Skellytown on Texas Highway 136.

Herrmann is employed by A.E. Herrmann Oil Co. in Skellytown.

McGovern Endorses Tax Credits

CHICAGO (AP) — After a day of campaign foulups that reportedly left him fuming, Sen. George McGovern today endorsed the idea of tax credits for parents of students in private and parochial schools.

The move was seen mainly as a friendly gesture toward millions of Roman Catholic voters concentrated in the large states which the Democratic presidential nominee feels are crucial for his bid for the White House.

McGovern said he endorsed the "tax credit approach" without proposing any specific plan.

Previously McGovern had said he was exploring ways to aid parochial schools without violating the U.S. Constitution's prohibition against mingling church and government.

McGovern released his statement on parochial school-aid before heading into a closed-door meeting with Chicago labor leaders. He also was to appear at a Catholic technical high school in a predominantly white, working class neighborhood in the northwest part of the city.

Monday, McGovern put in a 17-hour day on the campaign trail in West Virginia coal country, Ohio's industrial southwest and the rural southern tip of Illinois. But the nominee spent barely five hours of that time campaigning.

The rest of the time was spent fighting twisting mountain roads and city traffic jams, so that by late afternoon a highly placed traveling staffer was muttering "dumb! dumb-dumb!"

McGovern was described as extremely irritated after arriving in Cincinnati two hours behind schedule and so late that his interviews with local television newsmen missed the afternoon broadcasts. One station cancelled its interview altogether.

He got himself back on schedule by forfeiting a couple of hours of personal time he had planned in Cincinnati. His day perked up when he addressed an applauding, cheering airport crowd, estimated by local authorities at between 2,000 and 4,000, at Carbondale, Ill., site of the 23,000-student campus of Southern Illinois University.

McGovern spent the night in Chicago.

Dallas Woman To Be Honored At Party Here

Willie Newbury Lewis of Dallas author of "Tapadero, The Making of a Cowboy," will be honored at a reception from 7 to 9 p.m. today at the White Deer Lands Museum, 116 S. Cuyler. The event is open to the public.

Mrs. Lewis' book is a biography of her husband, William J. Lewis, who came to the Texas Panhandle from Maryland in the 1880's, settling at Clarendon. It deals with the teen-age boy's first experiences in the West, and his struggle to become a top cowhand. Since cowboy boots hurt his feet, he never wore them, using the Mexican-type stirrup, called a "tapadero," from which comes the name of the book.

"Tapadero" is the 11th book in the M.K. Brown Range Life series, published by the University of Texas Press. The series was established by Mr. Brown who was vitally interested in preserving a record of his region and of the men who made it. All non-fiction titles, six are of the Panhandle itself, with the other five dealing with neighboring areas familiar to the people of the Panhandle.

All 11 books of the series will be on sale at the reception, with Mrs. Lewis to autograph her book.

Sponsoring the autograph party are the University of Texas Press, the White Deer Lands Museum and the Gift Box. It is expected Mrs. Lewis will be accompanied by her three daughters; her daughter-in-law, Mrs. William J. Lewis Jr. of Clarendon; and Frank Wardlaw of Austin, director of the University of Texas Press.

TO ACT or to politic? That could be the question being pondered by a pensive Shirley MacLaine in her latest role as co-chairwoman of the McGovern-Shriver National Advisory Committee.

Teachers And Parents Meet At Robert Lee

Parents of students at Robert E. Lee Junior High School will go back to school at 7:30 p.m. today to meet their child's teachers and to become acquainted with the curricula and objectives of the school.

The school band and choir will present a 30-minute concert beginning at 7:30 in the school auditorium.

Following the program, parents will follow the daily schedule of the students, with each teacher explaining his objectives.

Refreshments will be served in the cafeteria.

Wilson Sets PTA Meeting

"Meet Your Teacher Night" is scheduled at Woodrow Wilson Elementary School for 7 p.m. Thursday. Mrs. Jerry Thompson, Parent-Teacher Association president has announced.

Opening session in the auditorium will feature Principal D.V. Biggers who will talk to the parents. Girl Scout Troop 70 will present the flag ceremony.

At 7:30 p.m., parents will go to their child's classroom for a conference with his teacher. Cartoons will be shown to the children in the film room while parents are visiting the classrooms.

Refreshments will be served at 8 p.m. in the cafeteria.

Travis School Hit By Bullets

Principal Cameron Marsh gave investigating officers four slugs pried from the walls of Travis Elementary School cafeteria, Monday.

Five windows had been broken and venetian blinds had bullet holes in them. Calculated trajectory of the bullets indicated they must have been fired from a vehicle traveling east.

The spent bullets recovered from the walls appeared to be .22 caliber.

Police are continuing their investigation.

PERSONAL GRAND PRIX — Front end styling on the 1973 Grand Prix is an interpretation of Pontiac's traditional split center theme. Single headlamps with parking lamps on the leading edge of the fenders add to the distinctive look. Immediately noticeable in profile is the new fixed rear quarter window which blends with the classic styling and improves visibility. All-new Grand Prix instrument panels result in greater reliability and ease of service.

1973 CATALINA — The popular Catalina has all-new front end sheet metal with the grille extending the full width of the front providing a strong horizontal theme. The Catalina has a front bumper system which meets the requirements of the Federal bumper standards by being completely self-storing in a five-mile-per-hour barrier test. Bumper guards and rub strips are available.

Energy-Absorbing Bumper System Features Most '73 Pontiac Models

On most 1973 models, Pontiac has front bumpers which exceed the requirements of the Federal bumper standards by being completely self-restoring in a five-mile-per-hour barrier test.

A new energy-absorbing system is being used on the front of all full-size and intermediate Pontiacs and the Grand Prix for 1973.

The energy-absorbing device, using a combination of hydraulic and pneumatic operations, consists of two heavy-gauge steel chambers—one telescoping the other. The end of the front chamber is attached to the car's bumper and the rear chamber to the car's frame. Bumper impact pushes the front chamber against hydraulic fluid in the rear chamber.

This fluid, under pressure from the impact, is allowed to pass from the rear to the front chamber at a controlled rate by means of a tapered metering pin. This controlled passage of fluid is the actual energy-absorbing action.

After energy of minor impacts has been absorbed, the front chamber (with bumper attached) is returned to its original position by the force of an inert gas spring in that chamber—the gas having been compressed by the force of the entering fluid against a "floating piston." In addition to the strength afforded by the unit's heavy-gauge steel cylinders, extra rigidity has been achieved through a novel locking feature.

When the bumper is in its normal position, the tapered design of the outer cylinder engages a matching contour of the inner cylinder to hold the bumper securely when it is subjected to stresses such as in car jacking.

Fiberglass-reinforced nylon bearings surround the 2½ inch diameter inner cylinder to prevent metal-to-metal contact for longer life.

In addition to the hydraulic energy-absorbing front bumper system (similar to the other Pontiac models), the all new intermediate Grand Am series features a unique, "soft nose" front end design. This concept utilizes flexible, molded urethane for the front end panels and fender extensions instead of the conventional designs which generally use either steel stampings, zinc die castings or rigid plastic materials.

The urethane panels deflect but return to their original shape after being impacted at parking lot speeds, in much the same way as a rubber volleyball.

The Ventura for 1973 has a rigidly mounted front bumper with added lateral steel reinforcements running the full width of the bumper to meet the impact standards.

The new rear Pontiac bumper is backed up with a high strength steel-boxed beam reinforcement. The bumper is supported with flexible spring steel bars.

The spring steel support bars are designed to flex 1½ inches and return to the normal position when the force is removed.

The Firebird, Ventura, LeMans station wagons and the Pontiac station wagons use bumper reinforcements to meet the impact standards.

Bumper guards and bumper rub strips are available to add to the protection.

$4,200,000 OK'd For Moor County To Establish Meat-Packing Plant

WASHINGTON — The Nixon Administration has announced approval of $4,200,000 in loan and grant funds to help establish a meat-packing plant and create more than 1,200 jobs in Moor County, Texas.

The funds are part of President Nixon's program to encourage private enterprise to expand and create new jobs in rural areas of the Nation. Assistant Secretary of Commerce Robert A. Podesta said.

The Nixon Administration spokesman said the funds from the Economic Development Administration, U.S. Department of Commerce, includes a $700,000 grant to help the City of Cactus develop an industrial park and a $3,500,000 loan to help American Beef Packers, Inc., establish a $10-million plant in the park.

The industrial park is being developed by 100 DID, Inc., a non-profit organization working with the Dumas Chamber of Commerce to attract job-generating industry to Moor County.

New jobs are needed, local officials said, to replace those lost by the closing of a smelting plant near Dumas and to stimulate long-range economic growth in the northern Panhandle area of Texas.

Most of the jobs to be created at the packing plant and four other firms are expected to be filled from the ranks of unemployed Mexican-Americans and blacks in Moore, Sherman, Hutchinson, Potter and Hartley counties.

The meat-packing operation will strengthen the market for cattle produced in the Panhandle, local officials said, because American Beef is expected to draw its supply from the area. When full production is reached, the firm will process approximately a half-million head of cattle annually.

The American Beef Packers, Inc., plant will employ 1,100 persons, the company stated in its application for the Commerce Department loan.

Cactus officials said additional jobs to be established in connection with the meat plant operation include 75 at Stratford of Texas, Inc., a food-supplement manufacturer, 40 at North Plains Plastic Bag Co., 40 at Waterloo Corrugated Box Co., and eight at Garth-Merrick Bi-Products Co.

The City of Cactus will match the $700,000 EDA grant to complete the $1,400,000 total cost of developing the industrial park.

Nixon Slates Appearances In Texas

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House announced Monday that President Nixon will make at least two appearances in Texas when he attends a dinner at the ranch home of former Secretary of the Treasury John B. Connally on Sept. 22.

Connally is acting as host at the Friday night dinner for a group of Nixon's supporters for re-election. Press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler told newsmen the President will leave Washington before noon on Friday, land at Connally's ranch.

President Takes Action To Curb Drug Supplies

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon vowed Monday he would cut off all U.S. economic and military aid to any country whose leaders protect "the merchants of death who traffic in heroin."

Selecting an international narcotics control conference to respond to Democratic nominee George McGovern's criticism of his war on drugs, Nixon said "very sharp recent increases" in heroin prices in the eastern United States "indicate that the supply is drying up and that the pressure is on the criminal drug trade."

"We are going to keep the heat on until these despicable profiteers in human misery are driven out of their hiding places and are put in prison where they belong," Nixon said in his prepared comments.

He asked the U.S. diplomats who coordinate overseas efforts to curb drug supplies to convey "this personal message for me."

"Any government whose leaders participate in or protect the activities of those who contribute to our drug problem should know that the President of the United States is required by statute to suspend all American economic and military assistance to such a regime. I shall not hesitate to comply fully and promptly with that statute."

McGovern in a statement issued Sunday said the number of heroin addicts in the United States had doubled since 1968 and charged that Southeast Asia had become a major source of heroin because the administration would not crack down on the narcotics trade in Laos, Thailand and South Vietnam.

Nixon made no direct reference to McGovern's charges, but his comments appeared to be a sharp counterattack.

Brother Jonathan preceded Uncle Sam as the male personification of the United States. The name was first given by George Washington to his friend, Jonathan Trumbull.

$4.2 Billion Foreign Aid Bill Approve By House Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $4.2-billion bill for foreign aid and related programs—with a $1-billion increase almost equally divided between Nixon Doctrine military aid and peaceful development loans—was approved Monday by the House Appropriations Committee.

While just over $1 billion higher than last year, the funds approved for foreign aid, the Peace Corps and international banks for the fiscal year starting last July 1 is $967.9 billion below President Nixon's requests.

The biggest single increases are $481.4 million above last year's funds for Nixon Doctrine military aid and $526.6 million for the International Development Association and Inter-American Development Bank.

The Nixon Doctrine is aimed at reducing American forces in trouble spots abroad by supplying allies with arms and technical advice but leaving the fighting to them.

Secretary Of State Bullock Named Insurance Board Head

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Preston Smith, in a surprise move, Monday appointed Secretary of State Bob Bullock chairman of the State Insurance Board.

Bullock, a close friend and advisor of the governor, replaces another Smith intimate, Larry Teaver, whose appointment failed to win Senate confirmation in July.

The position on the three-member board has remained vacant since Teaver's rejection by the Senate.

"In appointing him to this important position, I expect Bob Bullock to be a tough, but fair, consumer advocate. No one in the insurance industry or in the public could expect more or less than that," Smith said.

"I am hopeful that the Texas Senate will act promptly and affirmatively on my nomination of Bob Bullock as the new consumer member and chairman of the State Board of Insurance."

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, presiding officer of the Senate, responded to word of the appointment with amazement.

"He did it?" exclaimed Barnes, with whom Bullock carried on a war of words during the Democratic primary campaign for governor that saw both Smith and Barnes go down in defeat.

"I've got to collect my thoughts," Barnes said when asked for comment.

A Smith aide said the governor had not picked someone to succeed Bullock as secretary of state.

Bullock's appointment came about two hours after Smith addressed the opening of a special legislative session which he called to enact a new law requiring competitive rates for house and car insurance.

After Teaver's appointment was rejected, Smith spoke of asking the Legislature to abolish the board. But he announced last week he felt that would be unnecessary if a competitive rate system were put into effect.

Bullock, 43, served in the Texas House from 1956 to 1959, practiced law in Hillsboro, Tyler and Austin, then became head of the attorney general's anti-trust and consumer protection division in 1967. In 1968 he resigned to work in Smith's first campaign for governor, then joined Smith's staff after Smith was elected. Smith named Bullock secretary of State Sept. 1, 1971, and he was confirmed by the Senate in July, just before Teaver was rejected.

Bullock, an energetic man on blunt and often profane speech, has been controversial almost from the moment he became secretary of state.

A record low temperature of minus 126.9 degrees Fahrenheit was recorded at the Soviet Antarctic station Vostok on Aug. 24, 1960.

State Welfare Board Adopts New Policies

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The State Welfare Board adopted new policies Monday that will keep 8,131 welfare recipients on the rolls who were scheduled to be removed because of the recent Social Security increase.

Even so, 19,243 recipients will be cut from the rolls, including 18,448 receiving old age assistance.

The federal government requires the states to count a 20 per cent Social Security increase in determining who is eligible for welfare. That puts 27,374 recipients above the maximum income allowed in order to qualify for welfare.

The board increased its personal needs allowance in all three adult categories, thereby cutting into the net benefit from the Social Security increase slightly and allowing more recipients to maintain their eligibility. The board standardized the personal needs allowance for the adult categories at $77 a month—an increase of $4 for old age assistance and $7 each for aid to the blind and aid to the permanently and totally disabled.

The maximum grant also was standardized—$133 for aid to the blind and aid to the permanently and totally disabled, the same as it has been for aid to the elderly.

The minimum grant was cut from $5 to $1, which also contributed to the number of recipients that can maintain their eligibility. Those who receive tiny checks—due to the level of other income—benefit greatly by remaining on the welfare rolls because that also maintains their eligibility to receive Medicaid.

Dear Abby

After 50 pregnancy possible, but improbable

By Abigail Van Buren

(© 1972 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: Applause to you for telling "WORRIED SPITLESS" to keep her guard up regarding late pregnancy.

After a recent surgical procedure, my doctor told me that I would probably not start my menopause for at least two years—that I am still ovulating, and can get pregnant. I am 54 years old!

Sign me, "BEING VERY, VERY CAREFUL IN ANAHEIM"

DEAR BEING: I received numerous reports from readers insisting that they knew women who had given birth well into their sixties!

I asked my own doctor, John A. Haugen, an expert in the practice of obstetrics and gynecology for some 35 years in Minneapolis, and here is his reply:

"Dr. Nicholson J. Eastman of Johns Hopkins University made an exhaustive study of the records from Johns Hopkins Hospital, New York Lying-In Hospital, and Boston Lying-In Hospital concerning the upper age limits of reproductive. Studying more than 500,000 records from these well authenticated reports, no pregnancy after the age of 50 was recorded. I must agree with your statement, Abby, that altho the chances of becoming pregnant at the age of 50 are greatly reduced, it is by no means impossible, so keep telling the ladies to keep their guards up."

DEAR ABBY: You can hardly pick up a newspaper anymore without reading that some teen-aged girl was raped. Some are even raped and murdered! I am heart-sick for the victims and their families, but, Abby, the way some girls dress nowadays, they are asking for it.

Why in God's name would a fully developed girl go around with a see-thru blouse and no bra, and short shorts or a pair of jeans so tight that if she had a dime in her pocket you could tell whether it was heads or tails? Don't these foolish girls realize they are asking for trouble?

Abby, so many of them read your column, please warn them!

WORRIED FOR GIRLS

DEAR WORRIED: Some girls are naive. But most girls dress provocatively to attract attention—and they do! [So do some men, but the threat of rape is minimal.] I would hope that all women would dress decently and modestly more for their own self-respect than for protection.

DEAR ABBY: I'd like to respond to "Cold Fish in Pompano Beach," who is married to an undemonstrative husband.

From her letter, she is not starving or sleeping on a park bench, or hauling her husband home from the corner pub, dead drunk every night. So he's "cold"? There are probably thousands of women with seven kids who are dead tired who wish their husbands would leave them alone.

I am married to a man who has to be asked for a goodnight kiss. And if I want more than a kiss, I have to ask him for that, too. I also boiled for a couple of years, but it didn't change him a bit. No amount of begging, threatening, or nagging will ever change a man. Then I told myself I was foolish. He comes home every night, hands over every paycheck, and he's good to the kids. So what if he doesn't pinch me at the kitchen sink? He doesn't pinch anybody else, either.

In case you think our life is boring, it isn't. We have many nice friends. We're active in church. I teach Sunday school and my husband is a youth director. We go camping and fishing together. We don't drink or smoke, and we're healthy!

My husband may not be the most passionate lover of the 20th century, but when we are 70, we will still be having fun together when "Cold Fish" is still fishing.

DOESN'T MIND ASKING IN SEATTLE

DEAR DOESN'T: No one has everything. And if you don't miss what you don't have [and you seem to have rationalized it very well], hooray for you. May it ever be thus.

Problems? Trust Abby. For a personal reply, write to ABBY, BOX 69700, L. A., CALIF. 90069 and enclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069, for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

Constitution Week Opened With Ceremonies Monday

By JANE KADINGO

Constitution Week, which began Sunday, was kicked off in Pampa with the "unveiling" of a shrine to American History at Stephen F. Austin Elementary School Monday morning.

The display of early-American documents, and pictures of patriots, with a library of filmstrips and records dealing with American history, was presented to the school by Mrs. W.S. Dixon, regent of the Las Pampas chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, who assisted Dr. Jerry Cronister, elementary curriculum coordinator, with the exhibit.

Joe Page, principal, accepted the shrine for the school and the students sang patriotic songs.

On hand for the ceremony were Dr. James Malone, school superintendent; Bob Carmichael, school board president; Dr. Cronister; Marjorie Gaut, curriculum coordinator; members of the DAR; various school principals, and other educators; and students and faculty of Austin School.

As Mrs. Dixon explained during the ceremony, an honorary president-general of the DAR originated the idea, presenting it to the DAR Resolutions Committee. After being adopted by the 1955 DAR Continental Congress, it was presented to the U.S. Congress, which approved it that same year.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower signed the first proclamation on Constitution Week in 1955.

"We, the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America."

The preamble to the Constitution is familiar to nearly every American, but the history behind it, the events that led to its formation and signing are somewhat vague to many.

Following the War of Independence the 13 colonies banded together, very loosely, by the Articles of Confederation. Set out to revise their state constitutions or formulate new ones, forming legislative, executive and judicial branches, each checking the others.

These early Americans feared a strong federal government, believing strongly in "states' rights." Many states adopted their own "bill of rights" to insure the personal freedom of their people.

Since the populace was largely illiterate, the educated aristocracy had great influence, with upper houses of some state governments being limited to property-owning upper class citizens.

The "Confederation" and its Congress had little or no power to enforce revenue requests upon the 13 states, or to enforce any laws on individual states.

Each state operated much like a small country, some of them imposing tariffs on other states' products.

After the war, there was little gold or silver in circulation. States issued large amounts of paper money not backed by silver or gold. Creditors refused to accept it, in many cases, causing a small "rebellion" of debtors, resulting in enough concern that the need was felt for a much stronger central government. This feeling was brought about, also by the lack of trust and respect for the loose Confederation by foreign countries.

May 25, 1787, fifty-five men met in Philadelphia in a Constitutional Convention, with George Washington being selected as chairman. The distinguished group included such now-famous people as Benjamin Franklin, then 81 years old; James Madison, Edmund Randolph of Virginia and Alexander Hamilton. Mostly lawyers, the average of their ages came to 42. Patrick Henry refused to attend, although elected, because he did not believe in a strong central government.

After much debate and compromise, the Constitution, which still stands today, was signed Sept. 17, 1787, 185 years ago. It was necessary for nine states to ratify it, before it would become effective. This took ten months, with Delaware the first to ratify it.

The first Congress met March 4, 1789, in New York, with Rhode Island and North Carolina still not having ratified the Constitution. When President George Washington gave the first "state of the union" report to Congress 18 months later, Rhode Island still hadn't voted for ratification, although it did so later that year (1790).

The United States grew in wealth, power and respect to one of the world's greatest powers today, as a result of the work of the 55 men at the Constitutional Convention, with its Constitution still intact, a powerful instrument of a free nation.

To Be Married

Mr. and Mrs. Ed L. Bryan, 2529 Charles, announce the approaching marriage of their daughter Sherla June, to Randy Pulse, son of Mr. and Mrs. E.D. Pulse, 2721 Comanche. Vows will be exchanged Oct. 7, in St. Paul Methodist Church. The bride-elect will be a 1972 graduate of Pampa High School at mid-term. The prospective bridegroom, a 1972 graduate of Pampa High School, is employed by Bryan Construction Company.

Board eight of the continent-wide Olympic fund game is a real dilly.

If South plays at five diamonds, he will have no trouble against any lead except the singleton king of hearts. Against that lead he will wind up losing the ace of trumps, a spade and a heart ruff but he can try to guard against the heart ruff by playing king and jack of clubs.

If West doesn't cover with the queen, South plays dummy's ace, leads a third club and discards his spade loser. West won't be able to put East in for the heart ruff.

West can foil this plan by covering the jack of clubs with the queen.

Your Horoscope

By Jeane Dixon

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 20
Your birthday today: Finds you getting ready to shed inhibitions, venture into freer, easier relationships. Today's natives run to extremes; either industrious and into schemes, or lazy and seeking unreal utopias, according to details of the individual charts.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: Improve your public image and your income level. Important people are more open to suggestion than usual. Be thrifty while shopping.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: A seldom-noticed facet of human nature is there for your edification, whether you look among strangers or familiar. Be alert.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: Inspiration comes from distant sources, perhaps in religious rituals. Sharing plans with family brings possible conflicts to be resolved to light.

Cancer [June 21-July 22]: It's an excellent time for coming to terms with neighbors, making arrangements, but not for starting a major venture or a new job.

Leo [July 23-Aug. 22]: There is no easy way out. Either direction requires definite choices, diligent effort. An early start helps if you can have some time alone.

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: Be ready with a coherent opinion on expected questions. Real estate or property deals or estimates are favored.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: Settle misunderstandings with other people. Decisions on business or work problems may have to be reached without delay.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: From a reluctant start the day moves to a celebration

American Place Names Reflect Medical Field

NEW YORK (AP) — Did you know there's a Mt. Healthy in Ohio and a town called Hygiene in Colorado? That there's a Bow Legs in Oklahoma and a Shoulderblade in Kentucky?

To dramatize the fact that the more than 100 million Americans now served by Blue Cross live virtually everywhere, the Blue Cross Association has come up with a compendium of American place names that reflects its own preoccupation with the world of health and medicine.

Admitting Diagnoses — Shock (W. Va.), New Cut (S. C.), Cut Shin (Ky.), Scratch Ankle (Ala.), Stab (Ky.), Bone Gap (Ill.), Wounded Knee (S. D.), Hanging Lamb (Tenn.), Cataract (Ind.), Burns (Ore., Kan., Tenn. & Ky.), Ricketts (Ia.), and Blue Heart (Ky.).

Anatomy — Hyde (Miss.), Finger (Tenn.), Left Hand (W. Va.), Arm (Mich.), Elbow Lake (Minn.), Doublehead (Ala.), Scalp Level (Pa.), Skull Valley (Ariz.), Braintree (Mass.), Flathead (Mont.), Temple (Okla. & Tex.), Cheek (Tex. & Okla.), Lipps (Va.), Neck (Mo.), Shoulderblade (Ky.).

Backbone Mountain (Md.), Marrowbone (Ky.), Blood River (La.), Blood (Ill.), Livermore (Ia., Ky. & Colo.), Shinbone (Ala.), Bone (Idaho), Footville (Wis.), Footsville (N. C.), Big Foot (Tex.), and Achilles (Va.).

Safety Lesson — Temperanceville (Va.), Speed (Ind.), Hazard (Ky.), Traffic (Va.), Accident (Md.), Aid (Ga. & Mo.), and Rescue (Va.).

Medication — Needles (Calif.), Chemical (Ill.), Salsoda (Ala.), Bromide (Okla.), Calcium (N. Y.), Salt Petre (W. Va.), Mineral (Mont.), Spray (Ore. & N. C.), and Milltown (Ala., Wis. & Mont.).

Facilities — Ft. Recovery (O.), Doctortown (Ga.), Doctors Crossing (N. Y.), Doctors Inlet (Fla.), Healing Springs (Ala.), Science Hill (Ky.), Medical College (Va.), Medical Lake (Wash.), Medicine Lake (Calif. & Mont.), Medicine Mound (Tex.), and Medicine Bow (Wyo.).

A new forest can be partially harvested 15 years after planting, according to data collected by the American Forest Institute.

Auction Sale Of Antiques Set Saturday At Canadian

CANADIAN (Sp1)—An auction sale of antiques from Canadian's historic WCTU Building, plus other antiques to be consigned to the sale from homes in the Canadian area, will be held at 1:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, Sept. 23 in the Canadian City Auditorium.

Proceeds from the sale will go into a fund for remodeling and refurbishing of the 61-year old red brick colonial building, the only such structure in the nation built, owned and maintained by a local chapter of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union. The building, still used regularly for meetings and as the site of the WCTU's annual Holiday Bazaars, also serves as a community center and houses the Canadian Public Library.

Complete renovation of both floors of the building is now being completed. Meeting rooms and library have been air conditioned and re-decorated, and all new furnishings are planned.

At the auction sale Saturday, offerings will include many items of antique furniture which have been used in the WCTU parlors and meeting rooms since the building was first opened in 1911. There are sideboards, washstands, library tables of various sizes, a handsomely-carved captain's chair, and more than a hundred solid oak dining room chairs. There is also a collection of oil paintings in ornate frames of the period; old light fixtures; some gas space heaters; and a huge mounted American Eagle.

Tom Abraham of Canadian is in charge of arrangements for the sale, and two Canadian businessmen, Malouf Abraham and Bob Ward will be the auctioneers.

Items to be offered at the auction will be on display at the auditorium Saturday morning. Invitations are being extended to collectors all over the Panhandle area to attend the sale.

Researchers Hasten To Make Gas And Gasoline From Coal

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — The nation's future demand for vast increases in energy sources has researchers hastening to make gas from coal.

They also are studying ways to make gasoline and methyl alcohol from coal, which in Kentucky alone it is estimated there are some 60-65 billion tons under the earth.

"The energy problem for our country is an extremely important one because our standard of living is directly tied to energy in terms of electric power, gasoline and natural gas," Dr. James E. Funk said.

"We are running out of those things and have to find ways to utilize what we really have in an extremely abundant supply — and that's coal," he added.

Funk, dean of the University of Kentucky College of Engineering, noted that use of nuclear energy to any great degree still is about 50 years away.

During 1970, for example, it accounted for less than one per cent of the nation's energy supply.

"There is no technical problem which is very serious in the conversion of coal to a liquid or gaseous fuel. The problem is an economic one," Funk said.

Funk, director of the university's Institute for Mining and Minerals Research, said the United States is "in the middle of a shortage of natural gas as well as oil. We don't have enough oil or natural gas to satisfy our own demands."

"I think that probably within the next 5-10 years, we're going to be out of natural gas and I think that processes to produce natural gas from coal will then come into the picture."

In the meantime, Funk said oil and natural gas probably will be imported from Russia at a cost of about 80 cents to $1 per million BTUs (British Thermal Units).

The estimates now are that we can produce artificial natural gas from coal at around $1 per million BTUs," Funk said, adding that the process isn't likely to become commercial until the gas that is available demands a higher price.

At the same time, electric power companies might use a similar process to solve an ecological problem caused when sulphur in coal they burn produces sulphur dioxide to pollute the air.

None of the techniques for eliminating sulphur dioxide from the smoke has been "outstandingly successful," Funk said.

"The alternative is to take the sulphur out before you burn the coal. One of those techniques is to generate a so-called low BTU gas from the coal, scrub out the sulphur and burn the gas in a boiler to generate the electric power."

"I believe there's going to be an increasing interest in that and I believe we'll see power plants using that process," he added.

The institute here, which began its work July 1, doesn't plan to "come up with anything which is likely to be revolutionary in this field," Funk said.

Other researchers — those for chemical companies, coal companies and oil companies — have spent millions of dollars and man-hours finding basic gasification processes already.

"We're going to try to supplement some of the experimental work that is being done by these other companies, which is necessary for our (Kentucky) coal," Funk said.

"We don't have a good enough understanding of coal in general and our Kentucky coal in particular, so we're going to be doing experimental work to better define and characterize our coal so we can determine those important properties which will affect the processes it's going to be used in," he added.

In addition, Funk's institute hopes to attract someone to build a pilot or demonstration plant in the state — such as those already in operation in West Virginia, Illinois and Pennsylvania.

"You know, the fact that we are the No. 1 or 2 coal producing state without a fairly good sized ongoing experimental facility represents an error," he said.

"That's what we have to work to overcome," he added.

Such plants could be built with government money — federal or state — but it is just as likely they could be financed by private firms who want to benefit from the research.

Chili Contest Set Sept. 29

SAN MARCOS — Tension continues to mount here at Chili Central in anticipation of the great chili confrontation, the Third Annual Republic of Texas Chilympiad to be held Sept. 29-Oct. 1 at Aquarena Springs.

Although chili entries have been pouring in from around the state, concern focuses on the failure of last year's champion, Chief Fulton Battise of the Alabama-Coushatta Indian Tribe, to submit an application.

At last report the chief had scheduled himself in a remote area of the East Texas piney woods to develop a new and revolutionary chili recipe especially for the Chilympiad.

A search party dispatched from San Marcos for East Texas returned without a trace of the chief, although one of the searchers admitted the group became lost while crossing the Davis Mountains near Alpine.

Some observers have theorized that Chief Battise may have been kidnapped by a super-secret organization of chili cooks who specialize in meatball and spaghetti chili.

Another theory hold that the chief has become sympathetic to the women's lib movement and will not submit his entry until women are allowed in the contest.

36 Accidents Reported In August On Gray County Rural Highways

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated 36 accidents on rural highways in Gray County during the month of August, according to Sergeant J.L. Dalrymple, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in two persons killed and 25 persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first eight months of 1972 shows a total of 160 accidents, resulting in six persons killed and 77 persons injured.

Region 5 of the Texas Department of Public Safety shows a total in August, 1972, of 593 accidents resulting in 28 persons killed and 359 persons injured as compared to the same month in 1971 with 581 accidents resulting in 25 persons killed and 400 persons injured. This was 12 more accidents, three more fatalities and 41 less injured in 1972, at the same period of time.

The veteran officer reminds you that as the world grows in population, so grows the congestion upon our Texas Highways. Drive friendly, the Texas way!

The 28 deaths for the month of August 1972 occurred in the following counties: Castro, four; Palo Pinto, three; Lubbock, Carson, Deaf Smith, and Gray, two each; Clay, Cochran, Hale, Haskell, Lamb, Lynn, Montague, Parker, Stonewall, Wichita, Wise, Yoakum, and Briscoe, one each.

Nixon Increases Oil Imports

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon Monday moved to sharply increase imports of fuel oil. Officials said the proclamation he signed will allow an additional 9,500 barrels to be imported daily through the rest of this year.

The proclamation signed by Nixon increased from 45,000 barrels per day to 50,000 barrels per day of importing No. 2 fuel oil and also said importers can bring in an extra 10 per cent during the last three months of this year. This would add up to 9,400 barrels per day.

No. 2 fuel oil is used extensively in New England and other northern states and Nixon's proclamation said the Office of Emergency Preparedness-OEP—had found that "changes in the supply and demand have been occurring rapidly and additional flexibility should be provided."

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Tuesday, Sept. 19, the 263rd day of 1972. There are 103 days left in the year.
Today's highlight in history:
On this date in 1881, President James A. Garfield died of wounds inflicted by an assassin in Baltimore on July 2.
On this date:
In 1768, Paul Revere advertised in the Boston Gazette that he could make natural-looking artificial front teeth.
In 1777, American soldiers in the Revolutionary War won the first battle of Saratoga, N.Y.
In 1870, the French surrendered Versailles to the Germans in the Franco-Prussian War.
In 1928, Mickey Mouse was introduced to the American public in the animated cartoon, "Steamboat Willie."
In 1934, Bruno Richard Hauptmann was arrested in New York and charged with kidnaping the Charles Lindbergh baby.
In 1955, President Juan Peron of Argentina was ousted from office after revolts by the army and navy.
Ten years ago: Communist China announced it had shelved plans to turn the country into an industrial power within a few years.
Five years ago: Thousands of Texans fled from the Gulf Coast as Hurricane Beulah approached with 135-mile winds.
Thought for Today: We are shrewder at sunrise than at moonrise — Russian proverb.

"Sibling Sequence" shows why Billy and Bobby are like the Prodigal Son and his older brother. For our personalities depend to a large degree on whether we are the firstborn or 2nd child of the same sex. Use the "Introvert-Extrovert Tests" to pick your career.
CASE U-592: Billy and Bobby, age 9 and 7, are a puzzle to their mother.
"Dr. Crane," she began, "the boys are entirely different in their personalities."
"Billy is quiet and more reserved, for he doesn't show as much interest in being hugged or kissed."
"And he is a hoarder of his toys, as well as candy."
"At Easter, their grandparents gave both of them a lot of chocolate Easter eggs."
"Bobby ate his in the first 2 days and then tried to wheedle some of Billy's."
"For Billy kept his for weeks. In fact, I recently found 3 of those chocolate eggs tucked away in his box of relics and treasures."
"Billy is more reliable and finishes his tasks, while Bobby talks his way out of work and often leaves his chores undone."
"Isn't this proof of their different inheritances?"
Introvert-Extrovert
No, it is chiefly a sign that Billy is the firstborn while Bobby typifies the usual 2nd child.
That is especially true if your first two kiddies are both boys or girls and close together in age.
Then the older is generally much like Billy.
For the firstborn comes upon the family scene with no other youngsters with whom to talk or share toys or romp and play.
So that the oldest child tends to become introvert.
He may thus develop into a dreamer and create his own recreation, using his wooden blocks and other toys.
The along comes the 2nd child, who finds himself in a dilemma.
For there is another older and stronger "King of the Nursery."
So that 2nd youngster quickly learns to use language as a means of talking his way out of difficulty or of persuading his older sibling to share toys, candy and attention.
The younger child will often shed crocodile tears as if he is being killed, when in a battle with his older brother, for then Mamma will rush to his rescue and say:
"Junior, let your little brother have that toy, for he is just a baby, you know, while you are a BIG boy."
The Prodigal Son was thus the 2nd child and you Bible scholars will recall how he fast talked his father out of his inheritance.
Then, when he had spent his money on wild living, he had the gall to return home.

The oldest son would probably have starved rather than come back home to admit his failure.
The firstborn also becomes a "counter" or accountant for he must survey his toys each night to make sure his younger sibling hasn't taken some of them.
That older child also is more inclined to save things, ranging from old toys, stamps, rare coins and even his money.
As an adult, he is more likely to have a bank account and to look after his aged parents.
Though he may grow and show little personal affection, when the chips are down, they know they can depend upon him for support.
The younger (extrovert) kisses them, shows his affection and converses with them by the hour, but then may borrow the money his older brother gave them!
Animal-drawn ambulances first were used in the Crimean War of 1854-56.

Chaplain Talks About His Goal, Problems Facing Young Indians

FT. BLISS, Tex. (AP) — Chaplain (Ma.) Caleb Holstewa Johnson a Hopi Indian, says his military career is preparing him to go back to his hometown of Oraibi, Ariz., and continue his father's work in the Hopi Independent Church.
"That's my ultimate goal," said Johnson, who is chaplain of the School Brigade at Ft. Bliss.
"The military is a kind of preparation stage. When my father is unable to do the work, I'll take it up."
The Hopi Independent Church was established in Oraibi in 1946 by his father, Fred A. Johnson, about 70, a former Hopi Mennonite pastor.
"First we had church at home," Johnson recalled in a recent interview. "Then the congregation got bigger, and we added a chapel. Later on we added a classroom."
The little church now has 40 to 50 members, all Hopis, he said.
Johnson, who said he believes he is one of only two Indian chaplains in the U.S. Army, works mainly with young people.
"Our audience is very young, 18 to 24," he said.
Members of the so-called New Army are mostly volunteers and a little different, he said.
"They're not as mature as some of the earlier draftees. They're still drifting; they haven't found their place in life."
Johnson sees troubled young men daily, many of them Indians. They come with marital problems, spiritual problems, problems with drugs and alcohol, he said.
"I'm kind of a trouble shooter for Indians here at Ft. Bliss," he said. "They feel only an Indian can really talk to another Indian."
He cited one young man from the Papago Tribe assigned to Ft. Bliss after serving in Vietnam who "was having some adjustment problems. The soldier's first sergeant thought he was basically a good soldier and shouldn't receive a dishonorable discharge," he said.
After some counseling, the youth went into a program for soldiers facing discharge to learn a job useful in civilian life.
This particular soldier took up bricklaying, he said.
"Instead of going to the stockade, where he would have eventually gone, he's out, instead with an honorable discharge," Johnson said.
He said there are about a dozen Indians of various tribes stationed at Ft. Bliss.
"Indian young men sometimes have adjustment problems in the military," he said. "They're reserved, they're not extroverts. They don't push themselves into the white man's society. They hold a lot of feelings back."
As chaplain, Johnson said, he can help "bring these feelings out more openly. Because I'm another Indian, they'll talk freely with me," he said.
Johnson, who speaks the Hopi language, said he had similar feelings when he was a young man.
"When you're in an Indian society, you see the world from an Indian viewpoint," he said.
"But instead of feeling oppressed and threatened, you have to accept all people."

When Johnson went into the seventh grade, he left the reservation and attended school at the Presbyterian Mission School in Ganado, Ariz., where he said the students were predominantly Indian.
When he graduated in 1952, he went to work with the Navajo Forestry Service.
"It was that summer I decided to go into a college in preparation for the ministry," he said.
He entered Westmont College, Santa Barbara, Calif., then transferred after two years to the University of California. He was graduated in 1957 and went to Princeton Theological Seminary and finished work there in 1960.
Johnson then went back to his hometown and helped his father with the Hopi Independent Church while awaiting his own ordination in April 1961.
The military became his career in July 1961, and he plans to stay until retirement.
Although he's been out of civilian life for 11 years, Johnson said he hasn't lost touch with his Hopi people.

"I think a little bit differently," he said, "but because I know the Hopi language, I'm still able to communicate with the elders, so I haven't lost that sense of touch."
COOK GETS BEM
LONDON (AP) — The Royal Air Force thinks so much of Cpl. Francis Iddon's cooking that he has been awarded the British Empire Medal.
"It is very unusual for a cook to get the BEM," said an RAF spokesman, "but his cooking is highly thought of."
The a la carte menus 38-year-old Cpl. Iddon prepares for Princess Mary's RAF hospital feature Lancashire hot pot, black pudding and grilled steak.
SUN SPRAY
BRADFORD, England (AP) — Britain's sun-deprived gardeners may soon have less difficulty ripening their tomatoes and reddening their apples. A spray-on sunshine product will be available in Britain next spring.

We're changing our name, but not our stripes.

We're changing the Enco name to Exxon. But we haven't changed our stripes. The fine people and products the Tiger stands for are the same you've always known. But soon you'll find them under the Exxon name. Why the new name? Because for years we've had different brand names in different parts of the country.

Complicated for us. And confusing for our customers. So we're changing our name. Soon you'll have just one name to look for. Our Tiger is traveling across the country displaying our brand-new name. We hope you'll like it. Because while we're changing, we don't want you to change.

An old friend has a new name.

McLean Tigers Hope To Show Improvement

McLEAN — Coach Bill Nitcholas' Tigers have an open date this week and will use the lay-off to re-group and try to come back after two successive losses.

In its opener Sept. 8, McLean was blanked 28-0 by Shamrock. Last Friday the Tigers lost their game with Lefors when the Pirates scored on a touchdown pass with 14 seconds left in the game. The final result was 13-12 in favor of Lefors.

Before the Lefors game Nitcholas said that in the game against Shamrock, "we didn't execute well. We are slow coming around because of a new system and lack of quarterback experience. We should improve with experience."

Apparently the Tigers did improve some over the opening performance since the failure to make the PAT's after their scores spelled the difference in the loss to Lefors.

Perhaps with an open date to work with McLean will be able to get its team to jell before meeting Groom on Sept. 29.

Senior fullback George Danner (185) is the sole returning backfield starter for the Tigers. Other returning offensive starters are center Stanley Simpson (170) and tackle Milton Best (220).

Joining them on offense are ends Dennis Brooks (165) and Skeet Lowery (150). The guards are Ricky Kennedy (170) and Steve Trew (150). At the other tackle slot is Sam Taylor (180).

In the backfield junior Joe Riley (150) is at quarterback, replacing departed Tommy Duniven, an all-around athlete now at Texas Tech. The halfbacks are Gary Griffin (155) and Randy Mason (155).

Mason scored the Tigers' second touchdown in the game with Lefors on a 55-yard run from scrimmage.

Defensively, Trew and

Brooks are the ends, Wesley Brown (225) and Best are the tackles and Kennedy and Tony Henley (185) are the guards.

Danner and Mason are the linebacks. In the secondary Lowery and Griffin are joined by Jim Hall (170).

The Tigers seemingly have a way to go but the open date this week, coupled with the fact that district play does not begin until Oct. 6, may indicate that McLean can get the experience and confidence necessary to make a run for the District 2-A title.

Chuck Fairbanks Won't Compare Quarterbacks

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Oklahoma Coach Chuck Fairbanks says he doesn't want to get involved in making comparisons of his two fine quarterbacks, senior Dave Robertson and freshman Kerry Jackson.

Robertson has been handed the starting reins and looked good in OU's 49-0 victory over Utah State. He connected on five of five passes for 155 yards and directed the Sooners to five of their eight touchdowns.

But Jackson, an 18-year-old from Galveston, Tex., dazzled the crowd with his running ability. He wound up as the leading ground gainer with 109 yards.

Fairbanks said Robertson probably performed the better of the two in OU's opener but he's not down-playing Jackson.

"I really don't want to get involved with comparisons of our

Baseball Roundup

By Associated Press

If there were an unabridged dictionary for baseball, you'd find a simple definition for "money players." The synonym would be "Brooks Robinson."

Baltimore's defending American League champions journeyed to Boston for the start of a must series against the Red Sox Monday night and Robinson gave them the jump, driving three hits to pace a 5-2 Oriole victory.

It was a typical performance for the Orioles' old pro third baseman, who's always at his best in the clutch ball games.

Robinson had two singles and a double, scoring two runs and driving in another for the Orioles, now one game back of idle Detroit which took over the East lead. Boston is squeezed into second place, one-half game behind, while the idle New York Yankees remained fourth, 2½ games off the pace.

In Monday's other games on an abbreviated major league schedule, Cincinnati inched closer to the National League West crown by topping San Francisco 2-0. Pittsburgh's NL East clinching remained stalled with New York edging the Pirates 1-0. In the only other game played, Los Angeles edged San Diego 3-2 in 10 innings.

Cincinnati's victory reduced the Reds' magic number to five while the Pirates' fourth straight loss left their clinching number at three.

"We're just in a position where we can't lose," said Robinson. "You've got to fight like there's no tomorrow."

The Birds were trailing 1-0 in the fourth when Robinson opened with a double and scored the tying run on Dave Johnson's triple. Two innings later the Birds had the lead with Robinson's single helping build the rally and Johnny Oates' double driving home one run and two-out single by pitcher Pat Dobson delivering the other.

Two more runs scored in the seventh, one on Don Baylor's pinch single and the other on Robinson's third hit of the game.

Johnny Bench gave San Francisco a taste of versatility as the Reds shut out the Giants.

First, the Cincinnati slugger crashed his 34th home run of the year for the first run of the game in the fourth inning. Then, two innings later, Bench shifted to his short ball offense, dumping a perfect squeeze bunt down the third base line to score Joe Morgan.

Jim McGlothlin surrendered eight hits in the first five innings but his shutout was preserved by outfielders Cesar Geronimo and Pete Rose who both threw out Giant runners on the basepaths. Clay Carroll pitched the ninth to complete the shutout.

The Mets got five-hit pitching from rookie Jon Matlack to beat Pittsburgh.

Four 10th inning walks, the last one to Willie Crawford with two out, forced home the winning run as Los Angeles nipped San Diego.

Washington Capitalizes On Minnesota Miscues

MINNEAPOLIS ST. PAUL (AP) — Bill Malinchak draws his National Football League salary chasing kickoffs and punts, charging the kickers and punters.

The seven-year veteran from Indiana, on the taxi squad last week, earned his paycheck Monday night as the Washington Redskins toppled the Minnesota Vikings 24-21 in a regular season opener.

Malinchak blocked a punt, picked it up and ran for a touchdown. He recovered a fumble that led to the winning touchdown, and was on the field when teammate Ted Vactor blocked a field goal and deflected another.

"This is what a special teams player always works for," said Malinchak. "It's something that rarely happens. But if you get a couple or three a year the special team has done its job."

Malinchak's touchdown came on Minnesota's first series of the game. The fumble recovery came on the kickoff after Larry Brown, who rushed for 105 yards on 21 carries, rolled in for a three-yard touchdown to give Washington a 17-14 lead with 12:52 to play.

Just 85 seconds later, Charley Harraway swept left end for a nine-yard touchdown run that put it away for the Redskins.

"Asked why Malinchak was activated just a week after he was placed on waivers, Washington Coach George Allen said, "Because he's a good special teams man."

It was first feared the senior fullback might be lost for most of the season, but Fairbanks said he will be kept out of action the next two games and hopefully will be back practicing hard the open week before the Texas game.

Tim Welch will move up to starting fullback this weekend against Oregon and Kleyon Russell, a sophomore from Shawnee, will be in the No. 2 spot. Fairbanks said Grant Burget would practice at fullback this week for insurance but would play at halfback against the Ducks.

The OU coach was pleased with his team's opening performance, especially the way the offensive and defensive units complemented each other.

The Sooners gained 412 yards on the ground and added 205 through the airways.

OU will face a pass-minded team in Oregon, which defeated Arizona 34-7 last week-end. Joe Granato, assistant coach who scouted the game, called Oregon quarterback Dan Fouts "as good a drop-back passer as I've seen."

The official should:

1. Award Texas Christian a touchdown, first down and 10 on the 35-yard line.

2. Give Texas Christian the option of replaying the down with a 15-yard penalty from the spot of the snap.

3. Declare a touchdown with a penalty.

Answer: Number 1. Award Texas Christian a touchdown, first down and 10 on the 35-yard line.

Rule: (6-3-9) The ball becomes dead and belongs to the team defending its goal line when a scrimmage kick beyond the neutral zone is untouched by Team B prior to striking the ground on or beyond Team B's goal line.

Rule: (10-2-1) The enforcement spot for a foul committed when the ball is dead is the succeeding spot.

Southern Cal Retains Top Spot In Rankings

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The powerful Trojans of Southern California appear in little danger of losing their No. 1 ranking in the Associated Press college football poll when they play Illinois Saturday.

The unbeaten Trojans retained their top ranking Monday in this week's poll following their 51-6 rout of Oregon State. At the same time it was disclosed that quarterback Mike Wells was a doubtful starter for the Illini.

Wells reinjured a finger on his throwing arm in last week's losing game against Michigan State. Without him, the Illini offense will be greatly hampered. As a result the Trojans will be favored more than ever to make it three in a row.

In Monday's voting the Trojans received 28 first-place votes and 920 of a possible 1,000 points from a nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

The Oklahoma Sooners opened their season with a 49-0 trouncing of Utah State and took over second place with 11 firsts and 840 points. Colorado slipped from second to third with 769 points followed by Ohio State at 622 and Tennessee at 615. Rounding out the Top Ten were UCLA, Alabama, Louisiana State, Nebraska and Arizona State.

Penn State topped the Second Ten followed by Michigan, Notre Dame, Texas, Washington, Georgia, Florida State, Michigan State, Stanford and Mississippi. Stanford and Michigan State moved into the Top Twenty as Purdue and Arkansas dropped out.

In addition to Southern Cal at Illinois other games this week involving the Top Twenty are:

Oregon at Oklahoma, Colorado at Minnesota, Wake Forest at Tennessee, Michigan at UCLA, Alabama vs Kentucky at Birmingham, Texas A&M at Louisiana State, Nebraska at Army, Kansas State at Arizona State, Navy at Penn State, Notre Dame at Northwestern, Miami, Fla. at Texas, Washington at Purdue, Georgia at Tulane, Virginia Tech at Florida State, Georgia Tech at Michigan State, Stanford at Duke and Mississippi at South Carolina. Ohio State has an open date.

The Top Twenty teams, with first-place votes in parentheses, season records and total points. Points based on 20-18-16-14-12-10-9-8, etc.

1. USC (28) 2-0-920
2. Oklahoma (11) 1-0-840
3. Colorado (7) 2-0-769
4. Ohio State (2) 1-0-622
5. Tennessee (2) 2-0-615
6. UCLA 2-0-490
7. Alabama 1-0-463
8. LSU 1-0-392
9. Nebraska 1-1-377 10. Arizona St. 2-0-190 11. Penn State 0-11-80

Others receiving votes, listed alphabetically: Air Force, Arkansas, Auburn, California, Dartmouth, Georgia Tech, Indiana, Iowa State, Louisville, North Carolina, North Carolina State, San Diego State, Southern Methodist, Texas Christian, Toledo, West Virginia.

Don Clune Tells Tale

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Don Clune likes ballet, music and gymnastics. He says all have helped him earn star status as an offensive end on the Penn football team.

The 6-foot-4 Clune caught 40 passes for 891 yards as a sophomore last year. His 22.3-yard average per catch was the highest in the nation. Against Harvard he caught eight for 284 yards, an Ivy League record.

How do ballet, gymnastics and music help Clune in football?

Clune took a ballet course at Penn and believes the different positions, moves and use of certain muscles helped him tremendously in his athletic endeavors. He's also one of the best hurdlers in the East.

Did he get razzed about the ballet lessons?

"Yes, I took some kidding," Clune admitted. "But I didn't care what they thought anyway. I consider myself an individual. I'll listen to advice, then do what I want to do. I'm not influenced by such things (razzing). Ballet is a beautiful thing. Those (kidders) are unformed."

Clune said Penn pole vaulter Tom Blair steered him into gymnastics.

"You need strength and agility for this and it also helps your coordination," Clune said. "It teaches you to control your body. The correlation to football is that you know what you're doing when you come down. You know which way to turn, to spin off, to make a cut, instead of landing on one leg or on your side."

The 195-pound Clune loves music. He has a collection of 400 to 500 records, everything from rock and jazz to classical stuff.

Clune says music relaxes him. He uses it to relieve tension or anxiety before a game or even a practice.

"Sometimes you just don't feel like playing," he explained. "I put on something (records) lively to get me up, maybe hard rock or a show tune. It picks me up."

Booster Club To Meet

The Pampa Booster Club meets tonight at 7:30 in the high school cafeteria. Harvester head coach Buddy Williams will show the film of Friday night's 8-7 victory over Dumas.

The club's membership drive is still going on and all members and prospective members are urged to attend the meeting.

John Madeya Is MVC Back

Madeya, 6-foot-4, 210-pound senior quarterback at Louisville, threw three touchdown passes Saturday, leaving him only six short of Unitas' school record. The feat brought him recognition as offensive player of the week in the Missouri Valley Conference.

His touchdown passes were for 15, 20 and 33 yards and raised his career total to 21. Over-all he had 13 completions in 29 throws for 164 yards. From the second quarter on he completed 12 of 20 throws.

"I thought John was super," Louisville Coach Lee Corso said. "He had no fumbles and no pass interceptions. He called his own plays throughout the ball game and didn't make a bad call all night."

But Madeya, who led Louisville to its 34-0 romp over Kent State, had praise for others. He had good words for his support from running backs Howard Stevens, who gained 115 yards, and Larry Griffin, who gained 90.

"We should have scored three more touchdowns," he said. "Howard and Larry ran like crazy."

grid quiz

by Dave Nelson, executive secretary, NCAA Football Rules Committee

An SMU scrimmage kick on fourth down goes into the Texas Christian end zone and is untouched by any Texas Christian players. After the ball touches the ground in the end zone a personal foul is committed by SMU in the end zone.

The official should:

1. Award Texas Christian a touchdown, first down and 10 on the 35-yard line.

2. Give Texas Christian the option of replaying the down with a 15-yard penalty from the spot of the snap.

3. Declare a touchdown with a penalty.

Answer: Number 1. Award Texas Christian a touchdown, first down and 10 on the 35-yard line.

Rule: (6-3-9) The ball becomes dead and belongs to the team defending its goal line when a scrimmage kick beyond the neutral zone is untouched by Team B prior to striking the ground on or beyond Team B's goal line.

Carl Olson Beats Best

ROCKINGHAM, N.C. (AP) — Don Garlits and Tommy Ivo are regarded as two top drivers in the AA-Fuel Dragster division, but Carl Olson beat them both in the U.S. Open Drag Championships.

Olson pushed his Chrysler-powered dragster to a run of 6.26 seconds at a speed of 221.67 miles per hour over the quarter-mile strip to beat Ivo Monday in the rain-delayed finals Sunday, before a storm postponed the championship runs. Olson beat Garlits with the best elapsed time, 6.22 seconds.

Despite two cracked ribs in a garage accident Sunday, Richard Tharp won the Funny Car title Monday. His Blue Max Mustang ran the quarter mile in 6.54 seconds and 218.97 m.p.h.

Ronnie Sox, who has never been beaten at Rockingham, won the Pro Stock championship when Don Carlton jumped the starting light and was disqualified. Sox was clocked at 9.39 seconds and 146.57 m.p.h.

Can Mere Voter Win?

Democrats appear to have regained some of their footing after the assorted blunders surrounding the selection of a vice presidential candidate, but it remains to be seen whether it is on quicksand or bedrock.

It is doubtful that the old professionals, upon whom the burden of preserving the Democrat Party structure now rests, are too comfortable with the so-called New Politics which daily takes on the patina of the very old.

Many issues have been swept under the rug by the Democrats in order to achieve a facade of unity—to put forward the best possible foot for the presidential campaign that is gaining momentum.

All told, the issue boils down to a single, critical question. It is whether the vote that any American casts for a candidate has any meaning.

The most obvious and blatant manipulation of public votes by the new politicians ironically came in the stronghold of old politics—in Illinois. There the McGovern forces disregarded the choice of that state's voters and named their own delegation to the Democratic National Convention. Similar tactics prevailed when the Democratic National Committee met to choose a successor to Sen. Thomas Eagleton after he was dropped from the ticket. The voting for R Sargent Shriver was on the basis of proportional representation rather than on any actual choice by voters. It was challenged in more than half a dozen states from California to New Jersey.

Frank King, chairman of the Ohio delegation, expressed eloquently the perplexity of the professionals. "It does come out strangely," he said, "that the people who get the most votes don't win. I am not used to that."

Even the victors in the credential committee races had a taste of their own medicine when the larger national committee made decisions without consulting them.

Whatever the outcome of the election on Nov. 7, clearly the Democrats will have to decide once and for all whether they are for the principle of "one man, one vote" as expressed in the party's platform.

McGovern's Finances

As reports of the financial affairs of political figures come out, at least one reason for their eagerness to gain high governmental positions is uncovered.

Just recently the New York Times News Service disclosed that George McGovern, the Democratic nominee for President, has parlayed a $25,000 debt of 15 years ago into a rather substantial fortune of at least $300,000. Not bad for a former preacher and former college professor who has made a business of bleeding for the poor people.

According to the Times, McGovern was in debt to the tune of $25,000 just 15 years ago when he was first elected to Congress. He even had to borrow for a down payment on a small home near Maryland, we are told.

Now, his net worth is reported as almost $300,000, including a $115,000 home in Washington and a summer place on Maryland's eastern shore.

McGovern has said that most of his gain in net worth has come from speaking and writing fees. He says he has been one of the busiest speakers and writers in Congress and that one year he made more than $70,000. That, in case some have forgotten, was while he was collecting his full salary from the tax payers, supposedly for being busy as a legislator.

A politician who uses his position to his best advantage seems able to collect large fees for lecturing and writing, regardless of whether he is doing the job for which he was elected.

We haven't seen a recent report of President Nixon's financial worth in 1969, he reported a financial worth of $60,000. He's been collecting a salary of $200,000 a year in office and has acquired homes in California and in Florida, so presumably his dollar accumulation has been pretty good too.

Not many will do quite as well as Lyndon Johnson did in his years in the two houses of Congress and as President. He was reported to have run his wife's small inheritance into millions in radio, television, banking and other investments.

So, in addition to the power and prestige which all politicians seem to crave, there apparently is an additional incentive in the accumulation of wealth, which many politicians like McGovern seem to decry when accumulated by businessmen and investors.

It's a powerful incentive to a politician, apparently.

All governments—indeed, every human benefit and enjoyment, every virtue and every prudent act—are founded on compromise and barter.—Edmund Burke, English statesman and orator.

No Cure Yet For Asian Drug Traffic

By RAY CROMLEY
WASHINGTON (NEA)—The Southeast Asian drug traffic may be impossible to stop.

The gloomy prediction is made regardless of how thoroughly friendly governments cooperate in Thailand, South Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia. No matter how many U.S. agents operate in the area and how much leeway they're given to search baggage and wipe out drug factories. And despite tough new American-inspired regulations in several of these nations and very harsh treatment meted out for some violators.

These thoughts are not my own. They come from information given by one friend who was for years a colonel in the opium detail of one major Southeast Asian country, by another whose political connections spread through two of these nations and by other Asian, French, Chinese and American contacts with some considerable experience in the rural areas of these nations.

There are two basic reasons that control of the drug traffic will almost certainly not succeed now and for a very long time to come.

First—The pay of the rural police, local officials and of the ordinary military is so low that few officials, police and even military unit commanders can make ends meet, even on a bare existence level without being on the take from smugglers and anyone else able to make pay-offs regularly.

In all too many cases, these officials do not get the backup from higher authorities to enable them to crack down on anyone for opium or heroin running.

In several of these countries, local officials do not have any appreciable power of force or of accepted authority to enforce any law against even relatively small groups or individuals.

In wide areas of the countryside of the four nations above and Burma as well the government does not exercise any appreciable power or control.

This holds for non-Communist areas as well as for regions occupied by troops from Hanoi and agents from Peking. Actual control is in the hands of bandits, gangs or secret organizations.

The second basic reason for the continued drug traffic is the people in the opium growing areas are so poor and alternate sources of income so meager they cannot be persuaded to give up this cash crop.

There has been talk for years, investigating commissions, government and international reports, programs and exhortations for the introduction of substitute crops. Nothing has come of this.

Substitute crops haven't worked. No one has discovered practical substitutes. Most alternate crops require water, fertilizer, nearness to markets, roads, suitable climate and customers. One or all of these factors is lacking in most opium areas.

Just as the police power frequently does not extend effectively to the opium growing areas, the agricultural, civic and educational influence of the governments does not effectively extend there either.

What is needed is technical aid to these nations to give them more effective government—if any nations know how to give such assistance.

"A quarter of a century ago, in the great hopes of mankind, the United Nations Organization was born. Also, in an immoral world, this, too, grew up to be immoral. It is not a United Nations organization but a united governments organization where all governments stand equal. Those which are freely elected, those imposed forcibly and those who have seized power with weapons.

"Relying on the mercenary partiality of the majority, the U.N. jealously guards the freedom of some nations and neglects the freedom of others. As a result of an obedient vote, it declines to undertake the investigation of private appeals—the groans, screams and beseechings of humble individual plain people—not large enough to catch for such a great organization. The U.N. made no effort to make the Declaration of Human Rights, its best document in 25 years, into an obligatory condition of

H.L. Hunt Writes

DANGERS OF FIRE
Drought conditions prevailing over wide sections of the nation, especially the Western states, have created hazards of the gravest nature. Fires that were started by man's carelessness have destroyed pastureland, trees, shrubs and even homes and other buildings. Thousands of acres of wooded land in the famous Big Sur area of California, a famous tourist retreat area, have been devastated by fire.

Motorists and campers should be especially careful at this time of the year. People cause most fires. The destructions of wooded areas create serious conditions later on when the rains of winter set in and the soil is subject to flood erosion.

Firemen have a hard enough time as it is and much of that is due to our own carelessness. A grass fire started by a cigarette tossed from an automobile can spread into wooded areas and buildings. Not only property but life itself is threatened by a fire raging out of control. Water supply is sorely drained as firemen battle the blazes. Large cities especially need all the water available for normal purposes in daily living. Extra alarm fires can rapidly deplete our precious water supplies.

All fire departments sponsor fire prevention programs, including inspections and education. Citizens would do well to listen to the advice of these professional people who are our trusted servants. Fire is a deadly business and it is costly, too. Insurance rates are driven up. We are actually throwing money away when we do not take the proper precautions to prevent fire.

membership confronting the governments. Thus it betrayed those humble people into the will of the governments which they had not chosen...."

Thus wrote Aleksandr Solzhenitsyn in the lecture he would have delivered if he could have accepted the Nobel Prize he won in 1970. These two paragraphs contain, I think, the core of the case against "Peace at any price"—whether the issue is Viet Nam, disarmament, detente, or any facet of dealing with the Communists.

For what is Peace, if "the groans, screams and beseechings of humble individual plain people" are ignored and their plight sanctioned by the free world? What hope have those "liberated" by the Communists if we consistently pander to their ruthless masters?

There is a certain kind of "peace" in the concentration camps author Solzhenitsyn has so sensitively described in his books. Is this condition more precious than freedom, even though the latter might always be threatened by the power-hungry of the world?

The twentieth century is fraught with turmoil, much of it caused by the Communist aim to conquer and reshape the world in its own image. Nobody can deny, of course, that we do have the wherewithal to destroy ourselves with nuclear weapons. But capitulation is not the true road to peace. We can reach it only through strength—unless the peace we want is that of the concentration camps.

Most of all, true peace can be won only by those who believe in freedom. You cannot be on freedom's side if you are willing to let the Communists "liberate" South Viet Nam with impunity; if you ignore the plight of the Captive Nations; if you pretend that the "groans, screams and beseechings" are unimportant, or if you deliberately choose to betray people "into the will of the governments which they had not chosen."

No one can ask honestly or hopefully to be delivered from temptation unless he has himself honestly and firmly determined to do the best he can to keep out of it.—John Ruskin, English novelist, essayist

The sins ye do by two and two ye must pay for one by one.—Rudyard Kipling, English poet.

Inside Washington

Black September Funded and Housed by Libya

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON—Libya, with an oil income of around $2.5 billion a year and a largely primitive and illiterate population of 1.9 million, is financing the maniacal violence of the Black September terrorists.

Main headquarters and staging area of the Palestinian killers is in Libya, not far from Tripoli, its capital and principal port. Since early this year, Colonel Muammar Qaddafi, Libyan strongman and fanatical Moslem and hater of Israel, has funneled some $2 million into Black September coffers.

This money financed the Munich atrocity, and last spring the massacre of some 40 foreign tourists at the Lod airport in Israel.

That mass slaughter, perpetrated by three Japanese extremists recruited and trained for this purpose, was planned, organized and executed with funds supplied by Qaddafi.

The 30-year-old Libyan ruler was kept personally informed of every phase of the Munich and Lod carnage.

To the Moslem zealot these berserk murders, and other blood-thirsty Palestinian terrorism, are part of the jihad (holy war) he is vicariously waging against Israel. As Libya is too distant and militarily too innocuous to hit directly at Israel, Qaddafi feels he is waging relentless war for all the Arabs by providing the means for the Palestinians to "strike deadly blows."

Although Qaddafi is almost as vehement against Russia as against Israel, he has not been able to incite any terrorist attacks against the former. That's not because he hasn't tried. He has offered extra funds for this purpose.

The Palestinians have flatly refused. Not only has the Soviet been careful to cultivate ties with them, but despite the Russians' eviction from Egypt, they still have considerable influence there and a great deal more in Syria, Iraq and other Arab countries. Even in Libya, there are high-pitched pro-Soviet elements.

They are said to be close to certain members of the Revolutionary Command Council, the group of young military officers who overthrew the monarchy and seized control three years ago. Qaddafi is titular head of the Council and the dominant figure in it.

But there are signs of increasing strains and personal and policy clashes in the group. Particular causes of disaffection are Qaddafi's rigid religious fanaticism and grandiose ambition to replace the late Gamal Abdel Nasser as world leader of the Arabs. In the supercharged intrigues and violence of the Arab world, it's very possible that Libyan strongman Qaddafi, while covertly waging merciless death and destruction against Israel, may wind up a victim of his own jihad.

PERTINENT QUESTION
In all the reverberating torrent of outraged and denunciatory rhetoric that poured out in Congress about the terrorist Munich slayings, there was only one legislator who really got down to cases.

He is Senate Democratic Whip Robert Byrd, who spoke only a few minutes, but what he said was a dead-center bullseye.

The plain-talking West Virginian asked the one pertinent question about these and the other Black September atrocities—"Who is financing them? They should have been blazoned throughout the world."

Following are highlights of what he said:
"It is easy to heap obloquies on the mad men who carry out such acts of terror and murder. It takes courage and statesmanship to denounce the much more significant sources of the money that make these acts possible."

"Worldwide terrorism costs money, lots of it. Where is it coming from? Great Britain and France, particularly, have had close political, diplomatic and commercial ties in Middle Eastern countries for close to 200 years. It is inconceivable that the intelligence services of these two nations are not fully aware of the inner workings of the forces that spawn these worldwide assassinations."

"I submit that it is time for those who know the truth about the financing of the Black September terrorists to stand up and tell the world in plain words which governments, segments of governments or individuals are supplying the money for such fanaticism to continue."

"The Palestinians are not the only ones who have a fanatical fringe, either at home or abroad. If the responsibility is not squarely placed where it truly belongs and soon, and pressures brought to bear to end terrorism by cutting off its main means of operation—money—the lust for revenge will insure a sickening bloodbath all over the world."
