

A GREAT BIG WELCOME to Snyder was given Marta Burity, Brazilian exchange student, when she arrived this morning. Marta was given the key to the city by Mayor Pro-tem M. L. Broman. Watching the presentation are her family for the next nine months. Mr. and Mrs. Leon Autry and their daughters Sandra and little Mitzi. 4 Miss Burity will celebrate her first tully day in Snyder tomorrow by observing her seventeenth birthday.

Foreign Aid Fund Use Is Under Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—The tapping of foreign aid funds for birthday gifts to new countries and a road to an athletic stadium has been disclosed in a House hearing. The information was brought out by a subcommittee in a scrutiny of the $275-million contingency account controlled by the President but actually spent by the State Department and the Agency for International Development.

THE FIRST STEP ON A LONG ROAD was taken by the teachers of Snyder schools this morning at an orientation meeting. Pictured are three teachers who will be new at Stanfield School. They are Mrs. Kay Echols, second grade, Mrs. Alta Lynch, fourth grade, and Mrs. Elwanda Nall, first grade. The Rev. Harry Vanderpool gave the invocation at the meeting, and the teachers heard talks by William Scheibel, school board president, Mayor John Hamblen, Mrs. J. C. Massingill, president of the PTA City Council, introduction of new teachers by Superintendent T. E. McCollum, and instructions from C. D. Henry, Curriculum Director, and E. D. Flynn, Business Manager. Pre-school for new first graders will be held at 8:30 a.m. tomorrow and Friday. Registration for all elementary students got underway at 1 this afternoon.

Military Lining Up Behind Ben Bella's Bid In Algeria

By ANDREW BOROWICZ ALGIERS (AP)—Four of Algeria's six guerrilla commands and the regular army's general staff were lined up today in support of Deputy Premier Ahmed Ben Bella's bid for control of the new nation. The military leaders let up to the decision of the Political Bureau of Ben Bella's cabinet to use force to quell the rebellious guerrilla commands in Algiers and the Kabylie Mountains. This apparently ruled out an immediate armed showdown since the bureau members previously voiced opposition to any fratricidal military clash. Leaders on both sides were reported fearful of the consequences of civil war in the nation rocked by continual crisis since it gained independence eight weeks ago. The Muslim population, weary after 7 1/2 years of civil war and terrorism, strongly opposes new bloodshed. Col. Houari Boumedienne, the regular army chief of staff, publicly threw the support of his 45,000 troops to the Political Bureau at a news conference Tuesday in Setif, 150 miles east of Algiers. He was flanked by commanders of four guerrilla wilyayas, or zones. Maj. Si Slimane, his second in

Former State Employee Takes 'Fifth' 16 Times

Soviets Propose Cut-Off Of Tests

GENEVA (AP)—The Soviet Union today proposed that all three nuclear powers end atomic weapons testing at the beginning of next year. Vasily V. Kuznetsov, Soviet first deputy foreign minister, suggested the test cut-off to the 76th session of the 17-nation disarmament talks. U.S. Ambassador Charles C. Stelle and British Minister of State Joseph B. Godber categorically turned down the idea immediately. Western sources said Kuznetsov's remarks made it clear he was proposing an unpoliced moratorium which is completely unacceptable to the West. Conference sources said he made the proposal in an informal manner during a long speech in which he again categorically rejected parallel Western proposals for ending tests in the atmosphere, but refuse to accept a ban on underground testing which cannot be efficiently controlled. In an effort to overcome the East-West deadlock, the two Western powers have submitted alternative proposals for a comprehensive test ban providing for strict controls over underground testing, and a ban on tests in the three other environments with no controls whatsoever. Kuznetsov categorically rejected the two proposals for the third day in a row. Conference sources said he used the same arguments, but expressed himself in even more forceful terms than before.

Slant-Well Quiz Endures

By FINIS MOTHERHEAD DALLAS (AP)—Nelson Decker, a former state employee hired to ferret out illegally slanted oil wells, invoked the Fifth Amendment 16 times today in refusing to divulge where he got $45,850 beyond his salary. Decker, a tall, gray-haired veteran of the oil fields, claimed constitutional immunity — state and national — against testifying against himself. He was on the witness stand at a Texas House Investigating Committee probe for 18 minutes. Another witness said the money came from an interest in illegally slanted oil wells. The witness was Texas Asst. Atty. Gen. Robert Flowers, who hinted that some of the oil coming from leases partly owned by Decker was credited to dry, dummy wells. Decker fired May 14 on slanted grounds that he refused to take a lie detector test about crooked wells, was represented by lawyer John Glass of Tyler. The committee is in its third day of investigation of the oil well scandals. Some authorities say crooked wells drained $10 million annually from beneath other people's property. Decker was an inspector for the railroad commission, which controls the state's oil producing industry. A colorful oilfield driller and a suave oil company president pictured Tuesday the operation of an oil lease rigged to take spillover oil from one well and share the production allotment with dummy holes. One witness said the rigged lease, belonged to a former state employee who is accused of taking $76,000 in bribes to keep slant drilling a secret. The testimony about Decker showed that $33,750 was deposited to his account in the Citizens State Bank of Kilgore, another $37,000 in the East Texas State Bank of Longview, and $4,000 from a dummy account in the Republic National Bank of Dallas. Flowers said all the money came from oil production from four leases all containing illegally slanted wells. The assistant attorney general said fractional interests had been assigned to Decker by the owners of the leases. He also testified that a significant increase in production occurred on the leases after they were acquired by individuals who assigned interests in the leases to Decker. Flowers said that the Republic Bank deposits were to the "R. C. Brin Trustee Account." The late R. C. Brin was a brother-in-law of Decker. The deposits eventually were transferred to Mrs. Decker in the Dallas Federal Savings and Loan Co. House committee counsel said Decker will be permitted to tell his story to the committee. Texas Ranger Sgt. Jim Ray testified he interviewed Decker twice in June and Decker denied any bribes, falsification of records or wrongdoing. The Ranger quoted Decker as saying the interest in the leases were given him by G. U. Youchum and other oilmen because of his long service—since 1941—with the Railroad Commission and because they knew "I would give them a fair shake." Along with Decker the commission discharged Kilgore district engineer L. Dwight Murphy, the man accused Tuesday of banking $76,000 in bribes over a four-year period. Texas rangers said they have been unable to find Murphy or his wife, and hand them subpoena.

Storm Lashes Cameron, La.

By JAMES A. BOURDIER CAMERON (AP)—A howling tornado struck this Louisiana coastal town late Tuesday night, causing at least two fatalities. Authorities say the death toll may go higher. Sheriff's deputies formed search parties to roam through debris, although heavy rains hampered rescue operations. At least 50 persons were reported injured. Streets in Cameron—where nearly 300 persons died in a 1957 hurricane—were flooded. The water was as high as the floorboard of a car, but had stopped rising early today. Nearly eight inches of rain fell on Cameron within a six-hour period. Cameron, which has a population of about 2,500, is on the marshy Gulf Coast in extreme southwest Louisiana. A man identified as Harold Stewart suffered a fatal heart attack shortly after being evacuated from his home to the Cameron Parish Courthouse. An unidentified woman was killed and a child was killed when the whirling 30-mile winds ripped over a house. Some low-lying sections of Lake Charles—40 miles north of here—were under water. A cyclone alert for the entire southwestern Louisiana area expired at 5 a.m. with no additional reports of twisters. An estimated 1,200 persons were jammed in the courthouse—tallest building in Cameron. Many had minor injuries. Civil Defense and

Red Cross units sent coats and blankets for the refugees. A sleepy 9-year-old boy was curled up in the judge's chair in the courtroom at daybreak. Women sat in the jury box, clutching small children. "This was worse than Audrey," one refugee told John Scott, news director of radio station KPFL at Lafayette. "No warning. All of a sudden that tremendous howling noise." Chennault Air Force Base near Lake Charles sent six physicians to Cameron along with numerous ambulances. Eighteen of the most seriously injured were taken by ambulance to Lake Charles. Doctors said many persons were suffering severe shock. Many persons were reported missing. Teen-ager Billy Stephens said his mother could not be located. His father was slightly injured. The storm struck two adjoining trailer parks three miles east of Cameron and then skipped toward the town itself, damaging houses and blowing over utility poles and trees. The entire coastal area was plunged into darkness as the winds knocked out power lines. There was no regular telephone service to the area. All communications were cut through shortwave radios in deputy sheriff's cars and mobile telephones. First report of the storm came at 10:57 p.m. from a Cameron deputy who tersely radioed to Lake Charles from his automobile asking for as many doctors and ambulances as could be sent.

Man Says Mystery Man In Marshall Case Identified

By JERRY PILLARD AUSTIN (AP)—The man who described "Mr. X" in the mystery death of a federal agriculture official, Henry Marshall, said today he is "positive" he has identified the man. However, state police said the man identified by Nolan Griffin was "checked out and completely cleared." Griffin, a Hearne resident, said in a sworn statement, shown The Associated Press that he was taken to Odessa last week by Texas Rangers where he identified a man as the mystery witness sought for three months in the investigation of Marshall's death. Griffin said he is positive the man he identified in Odessa is the one who stopped in a service station where he worked and asked the whereabouts of the Marshall ranch about the time of Marshall's death, June 3, 1961. State police asked news media to distribute a composite drawing of the man Griffin described. A spokesman for the state police said the man Griffin identified was given a polygraph test and cleared. Ranger captain Clint Peoples took Griffin to Odessa and Lubbock. Marshall was the federal investigator who was looking into the cotton allotment dealings of West Texas promoter Billie Sol Estes. Marshall was found dead on his ranch near Franklin with five gunshot wounds in his body. A bolt-action .22 caliber rifle lay near his body. Griffin, a Hearne service station employee, gave the description of the mystery man to police and a grand jury probing the death of Marshall in May and June of this year. Marshall's death was ruled a suicide by a justice of the peace, but state police and a Houston pathologist say Marshall was probably a victim of murder.

Condition Of Hoover Satisfactory

NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover, 88, was reported in satisfactory condition today after undergoing a three-hour operation Tuesday for removal of an intestinal growth. Dr. Rudolph N. Schullinger, who performed the operation, was quoted by a spokesman at Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center as saying Hoover was "perfectly healed." "All his vital signs remain stable—pulse 72, which is good, and temperature 99.6, which is also good," the spokesman said. The doctor was quoted as saying the period immediately after such an operation is deemed critical and that Hoover would be watched carefully. Doctors said it would take two to three weeks for a laboratory report on whether the growth was benign or malignant. This period is required because of the necessity of being "extremely careful in making the microscopic study," a spokesman said.

Farm Workers Die In Road Mishap

CIUDAD VICTORIA, Mexico (AP)—A truck carrying cotton field workers from the Matamoros area overturned on a rain-soaked highway near here Tuesday, killing four and injuring 27. The dead were children of the driver, Ciro Sustaita Correa. Police said 10 of the 27 injured were in critical condition. The accident occurred near San Fernando, halfway between here and Matamoros.

TFWC Fall Board Meeting Set Oct. 15, In Austin

The Annual Fall Board Meeting and Workshop of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs will be held in Austin on October 15th and 16th in the Headquarters Building Auditorium. This announcement has been made by Mrs. A. T. Carleton, president of the organization, who has spent a great deal of time in Austin during the summer months planning her administration affairs. Mrs. Carleton's home is in Houston.

Headquarters for the meeting will be the Stephen F. Austin Hotel with preliminary meetings of the Board of Trustees, Department Chairmen, District Presidents and the Executive Committee with the president in her suite in the hotel on October 14th. The formal opening will be at 10:00 a.m. on October 15th with Mrs. Carleton presiding.

Mrs. W. R. Elliott of Waxahatchie and Mrs. Herbert Davis of Dallas, Co-chairmen, are planning the program for the two day meeting, and Mrs. J. Robert Reynolds of Houston will serve as expeditor. Protocol director will be Mrs. H. B. Gillette of Houston.

The local general chairman will be Mrs. Alden Davis of Austin with Mrs. Bob Long serving as co-chairman. Presidents of all affiliated clubs in Austin will be official hostesses for the meeting. The call will be mailed in September, and those who pre-register may pick up their reservations on Sunday October 14th, but other registration will not begin until 8:30 on Monday morning at the Headquarters Building.

An innovation this year will be the individual meetings of the State Vice Presidents with the corresponding District Vice Presidents from 9:00 to 10:00 a.m. on Monday at the State Headquarters.

This will acquaint the district vice presidents with the federation program for the 1962-64 administration. Emphasis for the meeting will be on departmental programming, and a general workshop of the plans for the next biennium will be presented. In line with the General Federation objectives there have been some changes in the divisions of the departments, and a careful study and understanding of these changes will be made. The GFWC departments are: Conservation, Education, Fine Arts, Home Life, International Affairs, Public Affairs and Council of International Clubs. The Texas Federation will continue the Texas Heritage Department. Coordinating agencies, some of which have heretofore been under departments, will be independently administered during this administration, and will come under the headings of American Studies, CARE-Literacy, Community Improvement Program, Leadership Mobilization, Legislation, Public Relations, Safety and United Nations and Specialized Agencies. The functions of all of these agencies will be studied and explained under the new set-up.

Recommendations of the Executive Committee and the Board of Trustees will be brought to the meeting, and the fourteen district presidents will give their objectives to the Board of Directors for the next two years.

Mrs. Carleton extends an invitation to all members of the Texas Federation interested in the plans of this administration to come to Austin, and she promises that this will be a most informative and constructive meeting.

Planning Hints Are Listed For Retirement Home

Authorities studying requirements of the expanding retirement home market agree on one thing—it's never too early to begin planning for the later years.

A couple's retirement home should be something worth waiting for after years of child raising, clock-punching and making ends meet, they say. The importance of the matter is pointed out by the Urban Renewal Administration, which says the population over 65 will increase by 3.5 million between 1960 and 1970.

As more and more study is made of this trend, authorities have assembled a list of things most needed in retirement housing. A step-saving floor plan is one of the first requirements, along with sturdy hand rails and grab bars near tubs and showers. Slip-resistant floors also are considered a "must".

Other desirable attributes for retirement housing include plenty of lighting, and heating and air conditioning particularly well engineered to avoid damp and drafty conditions. To be avoided are such things as steep flights of stairs, equipment susceptible to mechanical breakdown, inaccessible storage and vast lawns.

The home should be large enough to house treasured possessions collected in earlier years, yet not so large it becomes a housekeeping burden. One way to overcome this is by using materials that are easy to clean and never need painting or waxing.

Many architects suggest a second level to the home that can be opened for holiday weekends, or when the grandchildren come to visit. The house should provide adequate privacy, without becoming ultra private; and if the couple is so inclined, should have outside areas large enough for flowers or garden.

The juice left from maraschino cherries makes an addition to lemonade that small fry respect!

Remember that doughnuts taste good warm! Freshen leftover ones by heating them in the oven or in one of the new toaster-ovens. Don't pour boiling water, fresh from the kettle, into a bone china teacup or the cup may crack.

Gracious Living Endangered By High Price Of Candles

By INEZ ROBB

It grieves me to report that another fall blow has been struck in the realm of gracious living. Inflation is threatening candlelight. If wax tapers go up again, it may bring back the kerosene lamp.

There are few quartrains in American poetry more famous than that of Edna St. Vincent Millay when she sang:

"My candle burns at both ends; It will not last the night; But, ah, my foes, and, of, my friends— It gives a lovely light."

Probably a young lady who burns her candle at both ends, even in 1962, doesn't count the cost, particularly of the candle. Still, the present price of candles ought to give her pause.

These long, long thoughts are the result of sending a husband to market — that is, the five-and-dime — to buy twenty 12-inch candles for the dining room, where, as you can see, we practice gracious living like crazy.

Now, the inflation in the candle market has been so gradual that it had left me unaware, or in the dark, as to its total impact on the gross-rational product consumed in our household. Frankly, my big mistake was in asking the Head of the Clan to pick them up at the dime store on the way home.

"Do you know how much these candles cost?" he demanded as he put them down tenderly on the table in the foyer. There was outrage in his voice as he went on to answer his own question: "Fifteen cents each! Three dollars for 20 candles!"

"Why, the last time I bought candles at the five-and-dime, they were a nickel each, the 20th part of a dollar."

"How long ago was that?" I asked.

"About 30 years ago," he said, after a brief pause for station contemplation.

"And good coffee was 29 cents a pound, prime ribs were selling for 42 cents, and we paid a housekeeper the top, going price: $15 a week," I reminded him.

"Yes, but you're talking about necessities now," he argued. "But candles! And now since you've got those new sconces in the dining room, you have to have 20 of 'em where four used to do 30 years ago."

"That's what you've been saying ever since we were married," he said. "I've even begun to believe it myself. But now we're the best support of the candle trade since Louis XIV lit up Versailles. Do you realize that $3 worth of candles 52 times a year amounts to $156 annually. I'm thinking of having the dining room wired for that new stuff called electricity."

"But I look better by candlelight."

"All right, but remember you said it, not I!" the Head of the House replied. "If candles keep you happy, I'll give up cigarettes if necessary."

"Oh, nonsense!" I said. "The day you give up cigarettes is the day I give up candles every place but at my head and feet!"

"Let's get this discussion back on a high, intellectual plane," he suggested. "If Abe Lincoln only needed one candle by which to do his lessons, we ought to be able to eat by two."

"It wasn't a candle; it was freelight."

"My book said candlelight! Anyway, this will give you some idea of what is happening to gracious living these days. And, in the meantime, I have done a bit of revision on Mill Millay's quatrain:

"Burn my candle at both ends; The very thought affrights! I have to stretch this bit of wax To last a thousand night."

Alarmed By Consolidation

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—The Baptist Bible Fellowship International says it is alarmed about the growing trend in both Protestant and Roman Catholic circles to bring about consolidation of all communions and denominations.

Delegates to the fellowship's convention adopted a resolution Tuesday declaring "our firm intention of protesting openly and publicly every movement toward organizational unity which compromises the word of God, at the same time maintaining our absolute autonomy."

The fellowship represents 1,251 churches with about one million members. It is independent of the major Baptist organizations.

Junior Editors Quiz on AUSTRALIA

POSSIBLE LAND BRIDGE CONNECTS AUSTRALIA WITH MAINLAND

LEAVING AUSTRALIA SEPARATE

A LIVING FOSSIL—THE DUCK-BILLED PLATYPUS

ANOTHER "LIVING FOSSIL"—THE KANGAROO

AND IN AMERICA, THERE'S THE OPOSSUM

QUESTION Why is Australia called the Land of Living Fossils?

ANSWER: Experts tell us that there are certain "dead-end" places in the world, where very ancient animals moved and where they have remained much the same as when they first came. Australia is a famous "dead-end" spot. It is thought that this continent was connected by a bridge of land with Asia. As the first animals began to spread over the earth, many moved across this bridge into Australia. Among these were such strange primitive creatures as the duck-billed platypus. Other early animals were the "marsupials" such as the kangaroo, who carry their young in pouches. After the first animals had moved in, the land bridge to the mainland disappeared and Australia became a separate continent. The first animals were mostly insectivorous creatures. Fortunately for them, the large, savage meat-eating animals which developed later could not get across the sea to Australia. So the ancient animals settled down and, since they found conditions which suited them, have remained unchanged to the present.

FOR YOU TO DO: Our American opossum is a marsupial, another of the "living fossils." It climbs trees and is an expert at hiding, so it has managed to survive. But how did it get here? The scientists don't seem sure. Here's something for you to speculate on.

All Hands Are Watching Silver Prices

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Speculators have moved in on the silver market again along with many industrial users fearing shortages or soaring prices during their big season just ahead.

But all hands are keeping a watchful eye on Mexico which has replaced the U.S. Treasury as a potential arbiter of world silver prices.

Speculators sent the price up earlier this month. Then Mexico, world's largest silver producer, offered to sell if the price reached a fraction higher than the current market one, and thus halt the rise.

Now it is climbing again. The price went above $1.10 an ounce in London Tuesday. European speculators were credited with sparking some of the demand. The rest appeared to be coming from industrial users preparing for fall production schedules.

Prices have risen in the United States, too, as American manufacturers of silver items for the Christmas trade go into full swing. Also watching the price trend closely are the burgeoning photographic and electronic industries. It is their growing demand for silver, added to the traditional silverware and coinage uses, that sent demand for the metal far above current world production.

The gap between production and consumption in the non-Communist world last year came to 140 million ounces. Production runs at better than 230 million ounces a year.

Silver held off the market by speculators is now estimated as high as 20 million ounces.

The U.S. Treasury for several years controlled the price of silver by standing ready to sell it at around 9 1/2 cents an ounce. But the rising industrial demand, usually from the Treasury's reserves stocks, and last November it stopped selling. Since then the price on the open market has risen by fits and starts.

Mexico, with a large supply on hand, has been coming steadily from its mines, has acted occasionally to steady the price.

The U.S. Treasury's remaining stocks are used to back $1 and $2 bills. It also mints silver coins, for which there is a growing demand in the vending machines and turnstiles.

The current silver price is the highest in 42 years. The big demand at that time came from governments coining silver during and after World War I. In 1920 the world silver price of $1.30 an ounce was reached.

In the United States many of the fabulous silver mines—in Arizona, Colorado and New Mexico—have long since closed. Most U.S. production of silver now is a sideline to the mining of lead and zinc and copper. Price weakness in lead and zinc in recent months has idled many of these mines and silver production has dropped along with it.

Last year the United States imported 40 million ounces of silver to meet the demand. Much silver goes into photographic film—and the camera bedeviled tourists tell you how much more film is being used.

But the missile and space age is bringing still new demand for silver, with a growing market in many electrical products.

With the U.S. Treasury out of the market this year as a supplier, U.S. manufacturers have had to turn more and more to foreign sources.

Dwindling supplies and speculators have combined to send the price up.

Player Cuts Alter Teams

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer
George Shaw, a quarterback whose performance has never equalled his potential, is back on the football market today, along with a host of other professional veterans and rookies, some of whom may prove to be the answer to some talent-hungry coach's needs.

Shaw and halfback Tom (The Bomb) Tracy of Pittsburgh topped a list of National Football League veterans who were put on waivers or released Tuesday as the NFL teams trimmed their rosters to a minimum of 23 players.

This twosome was joined by veteran defensive tackle Jess Richardson of Philadelphia and Don Gillis, a center released by St. Louis. All four were starters on their clubs a year ago.

Tracy injured his leg in an exhibition in Detroit Monday night and may be sidelined indefinitely. Two weeks ago, veteran fullback Joe Perry of the Baltimore Colts burst his knee in an exhibition game, and was put on the inactive list.

American Football League clubs also did some trimming to get their rosters to 38 active players. This number does not count rookies who participated in the College All-Star game in Chicago earlier this month.

All AFL teams must cut to 33 by next Tuesday, at which date the NFL clubs will be trimmed to 38. The latter's final cut to 36 must be accomplished by midnight Tuesday, Sept. 11.

AFL clubs, particularly the New York Titans, are in the market for a quarterback with Shaw's experience. Such former-NFL signal-callers as George Blanda of Houston, Jack Kemp of San Diego, Babe Parilly of Boston, Frank Tripske of Denver and Al Dorow of Buffalo have gained starting berths in the AFL, and two others, M. C. Reynolds and Don Heinrich, are fighting for the top spot on the Oakland Raiders.

Shaw, a four-year veteran of Oregon state, has had a checkered career. He lost the No. 1 job on the Colts in 1956 when forced to the bench by an injury that gave Johnny Unitas his chance for regular service. He played behind Charley Conery most of his two years with the New York Giants then lost the starting berth on the Vikings to rookie Tran Tarcento last year.

The Vikings added Lee Grosscup, a job warmer for two years with the Giants, this summer, and Shaw was forced further to the rear when the young Utah graduate put on a sparkling passing display against St. Louis in an exhibition game last weekend.

The Vikings released five other veterans, and added a third quarterback when they picked up rookie John Furman, released earlier in the day by Cleveland. Defensive backs Dick Mostard, Bob McNamara and Jamie Gale also were let go by Minnesota, along with linebacker Karl Rubke and center Dick Green.

Will Rintro, another NFL veteran, was also waived by the Eagles as was linebacker Doyce

Shick by the Washington Redskins and defensive halfback Bob Harrison, a starter in 1961, by Baltimore.

The Titans have a place for Shaw after releasing Bob Scrabie, a substitute quarterback for the past two years. The rest of the AFL cuts were mostly rookies, but included four other signal-callers: Don Breaux of McNeese (La.) State by Houston; Chon Gallegos, from San Jose State, by Oakland; Manch Wheeler, from Maine, by Buffalo; and Gale Weidner, from Colorado, by Denver.

Houston, which released six players, added NFL veteran lineman Ed Culpepper.

Injuries forced a change in personnel on some rosters. Defensive back Tom Brookshier, who hasn't fully recovered from a broken right leg suffered last November, and rookie defensive guard Bill Byrne of Boston College were placed on the injured reserve list by Philadelphia.

Offensive end Tom Rychlec of Buffalo was placed on the deferred list after dislocating his left shoulder in practice. He'll be out for six to eight weeks.

Ponies No Pushovers, To Be Sure

There was an eruption in Sweetwater's Mustang Bowl Monday night, and any doubts as to the Pony's potency may now be discarded.

Sweetwater, always a strong District 3-AAA contender, whacked the very daylights out of highly respected Albany in a practice scrimmage, scoring eight touchdowns to only one for the defending Class A state champions. Albany has won state titles the past two seasons running, and is undefeated in its last 29 regular season starts.

Snyder, a district cousin of Sweetwater, has tried to scrimp an outside foe. That situation will be corrected Friday night in Seminole, however, when Coach Horrace Bostick's charges will tackle the powerful Seminole Indians of 3-AAA fame.

Fort Worth In Finals

SPRINGFIELD III (AP) — Fort Worth Tex., and Springfield clash tonight for the championship of the Connie Mack World Series.

Fort Worth reached the finals Tuesday night with an 8-1 victory over Seattle as Mickey Yates drove in three runs in the first inning with a triple and then batted in two more in the fourth.

Redlegs Rout Colorado City

Ronnie Jones smacked a grand slam homer to center to spark a seven-run first inning for the Snyder Redlegs here at North Park Tuesday night, then they coasted in to an 8-0 triumph over a visiting Colorado City nine.

Joe Rosas led off the Redleg first by drawing a walk, after which Manuel Chaldez reached base by error and Cele Hernandez singled to right to load the bases. Jones' poke came up next, and the Snyder club was never headed from there on out.

Later in the same inning Anselmo Hernandez and Alfred Rosas each got on base by error, and were doubled home by Harley Byrum. Joe Rosas slipped out a single to score him with the final run of the inning.

Jones walked and scored on an error in the fourth for the final tally of the contest.

Airight pitching on the part of Abe Gonzales and Jones helped to preserve the win. Gonzales tolled the first four innings. A fourth frame leadoff single by Ernest Biggers was the only hit of the game collected by the visitors.

Colorado City made only one serious scoring threat, when—with one out in the third—Gonzales walked three batters in a row before a force out and strikeout ended the inning.

Gonzales struck out nine during his four-inning stint. Jones, a southpaw, worked the last three frames and was uncatchable. Of the nine men he faced, all but one went down by the strikeout route. The remaining one grounded out.

Cincy Ace, Drysdale To Lock Horns

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The intriguing struggle of 20-game winners resumes tonight in Dodger Stadium between Los Angeles and Cincinnati.

The Dodgers whipped the Reds 8-1 Tuesday night, and tonight it will be their ace, Don Drysdale, in search of his 23rd win of the season against one of Cincinnati's two 20-game winners, Joey Jay.

A year ago Cincinnati came into town to meet the Dodgers, who were leading the National League at the time, as they are today.

Fred Hutchinson's Reds swept the three-game series and went on to win the pennant, while Los Angeles settled for third behind San Francisco.

Dodgers Get Fat On Home Cooking

By MIKE RATHEP
Associated Press Sports Writer

No grapes grow in O'Malley's valley. But it is providing the Los Angeles Dodgers with the ingredients for a champagne party.

Born Chavez Ravine, rechristened O'Malley's Valley and officially dubbed Dodger Stadium, the place the Dodgers call home has turned into their main weapon in the three-team battle for the National League's blue ribbon.

The Dodgers' continued their amazing winning habit in their new ball park Tuesday night, turning back the third-place Cincinnati Reds 8-1 in the opener of a key three-game series with the defending champions for their 18th victory in the last 20 home games.

Home runs by Tommy Davis and Duke Snider, blended with the eight-hit pitching of Johnny Podres, boosted the Dodgers lead over the Reds to 5 1/2 games and maintained their 2 1/2-game edge over runner-up San Francisco.

The Giants kept pace by riding Juan Marichal's six-hit pitching and home runs by Willie Mays and Harvey Kuenn to a 4-3 triumph over Milwaukee.

Pittsburgh edged the Chicago Cubs 7-6 on Bill Mazeroli's eighth inning homer. Houston defeated St. Louis 4-2 and New York and Philadelphia split. The Mets won 2-0 behind Al Jackson's three-hit effort before the Phillies took the nightcap 10-1 on Dennis Bennett's six-hit pitching.

In the American League, the first-place New York Yankees nipped Cleveland 2-1 in the opener of a scheduled doubleheader halted by rain in the fifth inning, the second-place Los Angeles Angels outslugged Kansas City 10-5, third-place Minnesota shut out the Chicago White Sox 2-0 and Washington blanked Baltimore 4-0. The Detroit-Boston game was rained out.

The Reds got to Podres (11-10) for their run in the second inning on singles by Yada Pisoni, Leo Cardenas and Gordy Coleman. In the bottom half, the Dodgers moved ahead to stay on run-producing singles by Podres and Maury Wills off Reds' starter Bob Purkey (20-5). The homers by Davis and Snider in the third and fourth, respectively, made it 4-1 and the Dodgers were on their way to victory. No. 43 in 61 games with the ace, before a crowd of 46,536.

Mays' 39th homer and Kuenn's two-run shot off Braves' starter Bob Shaw gave Marichal (17-9) a 3-0 lead he held with one-hit hurling for six innings. Del Crandall's three-run homer in the seventh brought about a deadlock the Giants quickly broke in their half against Carl Willey (13-1) on a walk to Chuck Miller, a single by Orlando Cepeda and Felipe Alou's grounder. Mays saved it in the eighth when he thrust his glove above the center field fence to haul in Eddie Mathews bid for a two-in homer.

Trailing 6-1, the Pirates came back to tie on Roberto Clement's two-run third-inning triple. Bill Virdon's homer in the fifth and Smokey Burgess' second sacrifice fly in the seventh. Mazeroli then clinched it with a shot off the left field scoreboard clock, tagging Cub reliever Don Eklon (4-8) with the loss and giving Diomedes Olivo (5-1) the victory.

Bob Bruce (8-8) and reliever Don McMahon, who retired all 11 men he faced, combined for a five-hit pitching job that pulled the Reds to their third straight victory. Carl Warwick got two-run rolling against Cardinal starter Ernie Broglio (10-7) with a leadoff homer. The Reds put it out of reach in the fifth on a two-run double by Roman Mejias and Bob Lillis' run-producing single.

Charley Neal stroked two run-scoring singles and that was all Jackson (7-17) needed to whip the Phils in the opener, pitching his and the Mets fourth shutout. Chris Short (8-8) allowed only seven hits but took the loss. Bennett (6-9) turned things around in the nightcap as Don Demeter drove in three runs to pace a 13-hit Phils offensive that beat Robert L. Miller (6-11).

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—The 82nd edition of the National Tennis championship opens today at the West Side Tennis Club with the prospect that it may be another 82 years before the Australians lose the title.

For the past six years, the Aussies have headed Down Under with the crown. In fact, the only time during the period when they weren't playing each other was in 1959 when Neale Fraser whipped Alex Olmedo, a Peruvian by birth and a U.S. Davis Cupper by choice, for the title.

Last year the United States didn't even get a player into the semifinal round.

Aussies Look Strong Again

If any United States player is going to make things tough for the Aussies, Chuck McKinley of St. Ann, Mo., is the boy. His main trouble is that he has been blowing hot and cold—mostly cold of late. He is seeded No. 3.

The remainder of the seeds, in order, are Rafael Osuna of Mexico, Fred Stolle of Australia, Jan Erik Lundquist of Sweden, Nicola Pietrangeli of Italy and Frank Froehling of Coral Gables, Fla. However, Pietrangeli missed the plane bearing most of the foreign players, and may not be on hand for the tournament. Whitney Reed of Alameda, Calif., top-ranked U.S. player has been having such a miserable year he wasn't even seeded.

This was when the opposition laughed off the Australian woman players. But, along comes Margaret Smith and all of a sudden the Aussies are double threats. Miss Smith has beaten them all this year and earned the No. 1 seeding.

Karen Hantze Susman of San Diego, Calif., is No. 2, followed by Maria Bueno of Brazil, Vera Sukova of Czechoslovakia, defending champion Darlene Hard of Long Beach, Calif., Rene Schuurman of South Africa, Lesley Turner of Australia and Sandra Reynolds Price of South Africa.

This is the most international tournament yet with a foreign contingent of 70 men and 40 women from 3
