Local Bank Deposits Climb to Another Record High

National Guard Company May Be Established in Perryton

Year End Figures Show Gain Of Quarter Million Dollars Over Previous Record High

Planned to Enlist Minimum of 21 Men to Start

Establishment of a National Guard company in Perryton, would be headquarters for the counties of Hansford, Lipscomb, Hemphill, and others, is virtually assured. All that is needed is the organization of a minimum of 21 men in a platoon and the company is activated here.

Applications have been under for some time to secure a company in Perryton, and E. H. Simpson of Amarillo, central commander, laid out four requirements for Perryton to meet in order to establish a company.

These requirements were: To have a suitable building to house the equipment; find a qualified man for company commander; enlist the minimum number of men; and have the Chamber of Commerce recommend the establishment of a company here.

Some of these requirements have been met, except that of security. The company would meet once a week, and members would have a two week summer camp each year. Information received from Davis, county service officer, is that the local company would be a mortar unit. Present call for moving one of the members of the Perryton Fire Department surmounted twin peaks in the form of near-weather and a balky fire Monday night to go to the aid of the Spearman firemen in a fight against a fire which raged at the Ooley Hotel and rooms of other buildings.

The local firemen had to put a battery in the old fire truck and had to be towed by a truck before they could leave. Once under way, the 10 men made it over the icy way in excellent time, arriving in Spearman by 8 p. m., approximately an hour after the fire was received.

The marshal Chamberlain of Spearman gave the Perryton and

Magazines, Books Are Needed for Veterans

The Ochiltree Red Cross chapter needs comic books, western story magazines and detective books or magazines to take to the patients in the Veterans Hospital at Amarillo. Anyone wishing to contribute any of this kind of reading material is asked to either bring it to the Red Cross room in the courthouse annex or telephone Mrs. Frank Cox or Mrs. R. T. Correll.

Enlarging of Library Approved By Commissioners

The commissioners court this week approved the remodeling of the county library, located in the courthouse annex, and will move the ladies lounge and kitchen from the annex to the home demonstration agent's office in the courthouse.

This remodeling will practically double the space in the library, relieving the crowded condition that now exists. New book shelves and tables will be built in the room now occupied by the lounge, affording a reading room for patrons.

The library now contains 4,467 books, plus hundreds of magazines. There are 1,351 registered patrons.

Gruber firemen much of the credit for saving other buildings in the block surrounding the hotel. The firemen from the three towns had their troubles with water hoses in the freezing weather, losing four hoses when they burst from a combination of freezing and high pressure.

The Ooley hotel was a complete loss, and the Chic Dress and Beauty Shop was badly damaged, as was the adjoining Boxwell Bros. building. Cause of the fire was undetermined, although the owner thought it started from a storage room where quilts and mattresses were kept. The old frame building, one of the town landmarks, was quickly devoured by the flames.

Bold Thieves Get Piano and Window At Notla School

Thieves made a visit to the Notla schoolhouse early Sunday morning, making off with an upright piano and one of the new windows of the building.

The piano, which had been in use only a short while at the community center, was pushed across the floor, leaving heavy skid marks, then loaded into a truck from the cement steps of the building.

Ralph Hale, who lives nearby, discovered the burglary, and came into Perryton to notify sheriff Ray Phagan. Hale had noticed fresh tire tracks where the piano had been loaded, but by the time he, Phagan and deputy Clyde Tarbox arrived on the scene, blowing sleet had obliterated most of the tire marks.

This is the second time in recent months that the Notla building has been entered by thieves. The first time, several months ago, a number of windows, frames and all, were taken. They took only one window this time.

Perryton Area Jolted Back to Wintertime by Sleet Storm; Moisture Total Nearly One Inch

After a few days of rather balmy weather, Plains residents were jolted back to winter weather very early Sunday morning when the well-forecasted cold front moved in from the North.

The thermometer plunged, and the sleet fell in the Perryton area as it did all over the Panhandle. The low temperature in Perryton was recorded at 3 degrees above zero Monday, and on Tuesday the minimum and maximum readings were the same—10 degrees.

Sleet fell heavily, covering the ground by daylight Sunday, and continuing through Monday and Tuesday. A total of 3 inches of sleet fell in this area, bringing 56 inch of moisture in Perryton.

On Sunday, 39 inch was recorded, on Monday, another 48 inch, and another 99 inch on Tuesday. The weather cleared off late Tuesday and the sleet was thawing by Wednesday noon.

Highway travel was not blocked, although rendered quite hazardous by the icy surface. School was dismissed Tuesday by request of the Public Service Corp., due to low gas pressure. Several of the busses did not make their routes Monday and attendance was cut. Classes were resumed Wednesday.

Eight Cars of Wheat Spilled In Rail Wreck

A broken rail was given as the cause of a train wreck Monday afternoon between Booker and Darrouzett which overturned eight cars of wheat and blocked rail traffic until late Wednesday.

The cars were part of a special train going east. The point where the wreck occurred was seven miles east of Booker.

Mail service was continued by transferring mail from the motor car to a truck at Booker, with the truck continuing on to Shattuck and back. The motorcar was run from Spearman to Shattuck.

The amount of damage to the equipment and the wheat had not been learned late Wednesday afternoon.

Golden Gloves Tournament Opens Monday in Borger

The district Golden Gloves tournament, where two Perryton lads will compete, will open Monday night in the Borger high school auditorium. The tournament will run for three nights, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, with the finals and district champions to be determined Wednesday night.

The two local entries are Raymond Powell in the heavyweight open division and Dean Maberry in the high school welterweight class.

Ernest Wilson Killed Saturday In Tractor-Truck Collision

James Ernest Wilson, age 49, was killed Saturday afternoon when the tractor he was driving smashed into the side of a truck, then overturned, pinning him beneath it.

The accident happened at the intersection of S. Ash street and S. W. 5th Ave., one block east of the courthouse. Wilson was going south on Ash street, and hit the right side of the truck, traveling west on the avenue.

Driver of the truck, James T. Carver of Amarillo, told investigating officers that the collision took place at the west side of the intersection, and it was surmised that Wilson had turned his tractor west at the corner in order to avoid the collision. The tractor hit the bed of the truck, then spun around and turned over, coming to a stop about 40 feet west of the intersection, on 5th avenue.

Wilson was pinned beneath the tractor, his head and chest crushed, and was extricated by Carver and J. M. Day of Pantex, a passenger in the truck. They used heavy house moving jacks to lift the tractor. Wilson died at the scene.

Local Jaycees Lead State In Two Projects

The Perryton Junior Chamber of Commerce has received a letter from State Jaycee headquarters commending them as being the first Jaycee club in Texas that has met its quota for the War Memorial Fund and the Prison Reform Project.

The local club contributed $146.00 to the War Memorial and $50 to the Prison Reform Project. Each of the present members of the club will have his name on the $250,000 Jaycee War Memorial building in Tulsa.

The War Memorial Fund drive is being carried on in every state in the nation. The Prison Reform Project is a Texas Jaycee project only.

Annual C of C Banquet to Be Held on Tuesday Night

All arrangements have been completed for the annual banquet of the Chamber of Commerce, which will be held Tuesday night in the school cafeteria. Over 200 Chamber of Commerce members, their wives and guests, are expected to attend.

Principal speaker will be D. D. Monroe of Clayton, N. M., past Rotary International director and noted public speaker.

Other parts of the program will be a review of the past year's accomplishments, music by the Squeaky Door Four, well-known male quartet from Panama, introduction of the new directors, and year-end reports from committees.

Out-of-town guests have been invited from Canadian, Higgins, Follett, Darrouzett, Booker, Beyer, Balke, Gray, Hardesty, Liberal, Gruver, Guymon, Dalhart, Spearman, Hooker, Turpin, Lipscomb, Borger and Amarillo.

J. H. Brashears is the C. of C. president for 1949, succeeding Fred Osborne. Cecil Dodd is vice-president. Directors for the current year are Earl Waide, Gene Akers, Jake LeMaster, Orlan Bell and Tom Slack.

Tickets for the banquet may be obtained from Gene Akers, Jake LeMaster, Tom Slack, Orlan Bell, or at the C. of C. office.

Bryan Oil Co. New Shamrock Oil Distributor

Wesley Bryan, formerly Champlin oil wholesaler, has announced the formation of the Bryan Oil Co., which will distribute Shamrock Oil Co. products in this territory. Shamrock petroleum products will replace both the Sinclair and Champlin brands in the Perryton area.

Bryan has purchased the Sinclair wholesale warehouse, farm storage tanks, and the retail service station equipment at the Andrews and Coon station. The Bryan Oil Co. is an independent company, operating as wholesaler, including farm sales, of Shamrock products.

There are now three retail Shamrock outlets in Perryton. They are the Sultor Service Station, formerly the Champlin Service Station, and operated by Lonnie Sultor, the Andrews and Coon station, operated by J. D. Andrews and V. R. Coon, formerly selling Sinclair products; and Lloyd's Truck Stop, operated by Lloyd McCurdy, formerly a Champlin outlet.

The Bryan Oil Co. will operate its own transport trucks and bring gasoline from the refinery. See No. 4, Page 6

Local Dealers to Ft. Worth Meeting

The 1949 Chevrolet is completely restyled and its appearance will not be known to the public until January 22, when dealers will have the first showing of the new cars.

The sleet storm and icy roads cut down the attendance at the North Plains Electric Co-op. below the necessary minimum Monday afternoon, but 37 hardy members appeared anyway. A total of 63 persons must be present in order to hold the annual meeting, according to the by-laws.

New date for the annual meeting has been set for Monday. See No. 5, Page 8

The First National Bank had deposits of $8,206,260.34 and the Perryton National had deposits of $2,550,152.88 at the end of the year.

The previous all-time high on June 30, 1948, was $10,502,192.33, and was the first time in history that deposits passed the ten million dollar mark. A year ago, December 31, 1947, deposits were $9,433,242.42.

Loans and discounts also revealed a tremendous increase over the figures of a year ago. At the end of 1947, loans and discounts were $2,315,091.91, while at the end of 1948 the figure was $3,778,131.72, an increase of nearly one and one-half million dollars.

Part of this rise in bank deposits can be attributed to the better-than-expected wheat harvest of 1948. While many other sections of the Texas Panhandle had rather poor wheat crops, Ochiltree county and surrounding area had an above-normal yield, with high prices for wheat that was not sold, but put under government loan still realized the loan rate of $1.92 per bushel.

For example of how crop effects bank deposits, the local deposits can be compared with Hereford's as reported in the Sunday Brand this week. The local combined bank deposits were $7,889,388.32 on December 31, a drop of nearly a million dollars, or $928,501.09 from the total at the end of 1947.

Of course, Perryton's deposits on December 31 do not reflect heavy farm income tax payments, and some change will probably be noted after the January 15 tax deadline.

W. E. Perry to Attend State Photo Meeting

Each of the members of the association will bring photographic exhibits to be placed in convention headquarters.

Food Allergy May Mean Poor Grades in School

By DAVID TAYLOR MARKE

Newsfeatures
Baby doctors have come up with a new explanation for junior's poor grades in school. They say he may be allergic to eggs or other foods.

Allergies can cause behavior problems like obstinacy or poor school performance, they say. Finding the guilty food, and taking junior off it, often cures the trouble.

Such doctors as Susan Dees of Durham, N. C., Arthur Hoersch of Cleveland, Ohio, and Jerome Glaser of the Rochester University School of Medicine, at a recent meeting of the American Academy of Pediatrics in Atlantic City, were agreed that some children may come down with asthma or the hives simply from smelling foods such as potatoes or scrambled eggs being prepared by their mothers in the kitchen.

Food allergies can appear even in the first week or two of a baby's life. They sometimes cause hives, colic, vomiting, and later skin diseases as eczema, baby doctors say.

In children, egg is the most common food cause of allergy, with milk probably next, followed by wheat. If mother will stop giving junior the food for a time, says Dr. Glaser, the child later in life often is able to eat it again without getting a reaction.

It is estimated, he says, that 10 to 20 per cent of the population is sensitive to food at one time or another. Serious trouble may result if the trouble is not diagnosed.

Dr. Bret Ratner, of the New York University College of Medicine, says that a "fingernail test" and X rays can often help children overcome allergies. These tests spot physical troubles that weaken the child's resistance to the allergy chain-reaction, he says. Overcoming these troubles helps junior to resist attacks. Of course, the main defense still is to avoid the offending foods, he says.

Dr. Ratner feels that if allergic children are treated early, there will be fewer cases of allergies in adults. The earlier treatment is started, the easier relief can be obtained.

Speaking of food, mother should realize that junior's need for it may vary from one meal to another, from one age to another, from one season to another, says Miss Ann Usher, in the magazine, Better Homes and Gardens.

Your baby knows when he is hungry. He also knows when he has had enough. And he can signal too when he wants more of something. He'll eat the right amounts for his individual needs at his age, she says.

Don't stuff him full of foods he doesn't want, she warns. You may turn him into a poor eater. You may find that in his first year, junior eats like a Trojan. Now he doesn't. That's nothing to worry about. It may be because he isn't growing as fast in his second year, she says. In his first year of life, junior accomplishes the most enormous growth of his career. Never a gain will he be expected to triple his weight in one year.

If your doctor says "Cut down," he means he can have them if he wants them. No modern doctor would force you to force-feed your child. In addition to having greater appetites at one time than another, junior may occasionally go on favorite food sprees. He'll eat all he can get of a certain food and refuse entirely for other foods offered at the same. Such excess preferences don't last long at a time. Apparently they do no harm, so don't worry about them, she says.

Perhaps you've read of Dr. Clara M. Davis's famous self-selection experiment. Doctor Davis, now at Children's Memorial Hospital in Chicago, took children so young they could just finger-feed themselves and set several dishes of suitable foods before them. After a few tentative tastes, the babies selected one food at the entire serving, and indicated that they wanted more—ignoring the other foods on the tray. At every meal they were permitted to eat as much as they wanted of any one food.

But over a period of time, Dr. Davis notices that the children's preferences included all the elements they needed. And what is more, they gained and developed as well as children eating so-called balanced diets.

As Doctor Davis and others point out, your baby has more food sense than you might expect. So, if he's healthy, be content when he is satisfied at meal-times.

Serpentine Split Personality

STOCKHOLM (AP)—An odd and wicked snake is being bred in the Stockholm Forest Institute.

The snake was first bred when it was found in Sweden by its discoverer, Dr. Gustaf Adolf, who fears that it will be a useful nursing. If it survives it will be an interesting object of study for animal psychologists.

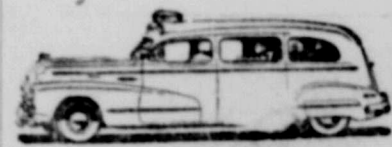

The two heads react very differently. The right head attacks quickly and fiercely when teased, but the left one tries to escape. Both heads have fully developed poison fangs.

King Entitled To Pension

STOCKHOLM (AP)—Nine-year-old King Gustaf of Sweden will receive 1,000 crowns in old-age pension a year, if he sends in an application. Crown Prince Gustave Adolf will be entitled to the same amount next year.

According to the new census registration regulations all Swedish citizens must be registered and all registered citizens are entitled to old age pensions from the age of 67. In the old regulations it was directed that all "Swedish subjects" must register, and the king was not a subject.

The king and the crown prince have so far not applied for the pension.

Sharp Shooting Mikan Lacks Sharp Eyesight

Newsfeatures

MINNEAPOLIS—George Mikan, currently top man in Basketball Association of America scoring, has achieved that distinction without having the eyesight usually associated with such sharp shooting.

For Mikan, six foot, ten inch star of the Minneapolis Lakers, has to wear thick shatterproof glasses in a plastic frame to see his way around the basketball floor. He says he can't even get out of bed without his glasses, his vision is so poor.

And the glasses don't even bring his vision to the usually considered normal of 20-20. But the right. The lenses are at least a quarter inch thick.

Mikan has tried contact lenses to get around wearing the current frames, but he says he can't get used to them. So he continues with his thick lenses and special harness—and it doesn't seem to handicap him.

Rob Roy, Scottish Highlands outlaw, was born a MacGregor, but was named Roy because of his red hair—and adopted the surname of Campbell.

Italian Declines In Swiss Schools

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP)—Italian is one of Switzerland's official languages, but in German-speaking Zurich school authorities are finding it difficult to get enough students together to make up classes in the Italian language. Too many students are choosing English as their second language, the teachers say.

In one large school district only 46 students chose to study Italian while 207 selected English. Only about 10 per cent of the students elect to study Italian. Some language professors say that if this development persists, Italian will disappear entirely from the curricula of some secondary schools.

GEORGE MIKAN Wears Thick Glasses

that didn't keep Mikan from virtually rewriting the record books of the National League, in which the Minneapolis team played last year. And it doesn't look like it will keep him from repeating the same feat in the BAA.

Thus far he has an average of 28.4 points per game. He has the most field goals, the most free throws made, and is tied for the most points in a single game—47.

Mikan puts on his glasses with a harness slipped over his head before every game, but that doesn't keep them from flying off in a mixup under the basket, and they get knocked off fairly frequently.

Johnson has occupied on the fifth floor of the Old House Office Building. There is a possibility Johnson may occupy the same Senate Office suite of the man he succeeds—Senator W. Lee O'Daniel.

When the new Rio Grande Valley congressman, Lloyd Benson of McAllen, came up recently for a look-over of the situation here he told this story on himself:

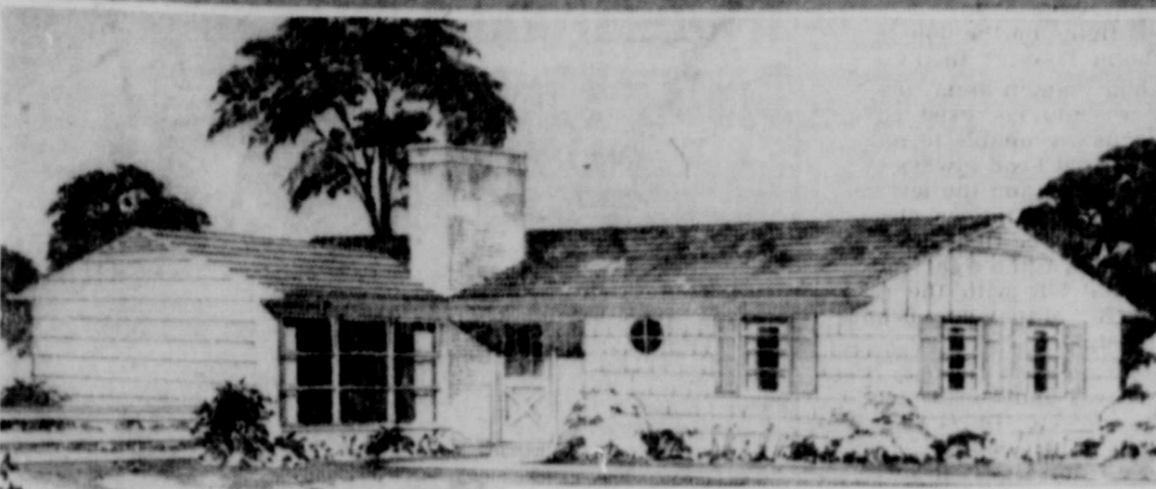

Subsequent to his election he fractured a vertebra in an automobile accident in Mexico, and his back had to be encased in a cast. Shortly after getting out of the hospital he was driving in his district, sitting up stiffly and uncomfortably because of the cast, when a friend passed by in another car and waved to him. It occurred to the congenial young legislator a moment later that his friend might have thought his apparent haughty manner was caused by his becoming a congressman. He made it a point to contact the other fellow as soon as possible to explain.

Rep. Olin Teague of College Station, who inquired into the possible use of cotton for bags to ship sugar from Cuba, received this reply from the director of government's Southern Regional Research Laboratory:

"With the present price of cotton it seems unlikely that cotton bags can be made to compete with the burlap bags for handling raw sugar unless a cotton fabric can be produced which will serve for two or more trips."

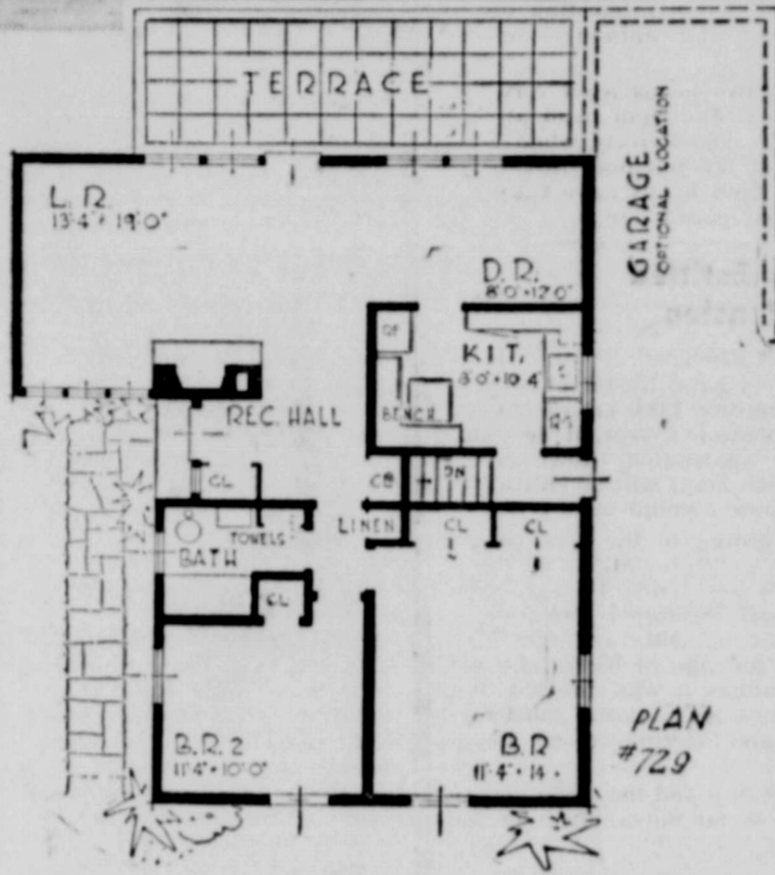

Waco Congressman Bob Poage probably will be the main sponsor in the House next session of legislation to repeal the present 10 cents per pound federal tax on colored oleomargarine. Rep. Missionaries Eye Burmese Law

RANGOON (AP)—American missionary leaders are concerned over immigration laws which they say are hampering the scope of foreign missionary work in Burma.

Under Burmese law, a foreigner is forbidden residence in the country for a period of more than three months, except with permission of the Controller of Immigration. Extension, on application, is given only if the Controller is satisfied the presence of the foreigner is not detrimental to Burmese interests. This clause was introduced mainly to safeguard jobs. But no one is sure how it will be interpreted.

According to Forrest Smith, treasurer of the American Baptist Foreign Mission Society, the law is affecting missions, who are apprehensive that new men brought out from America may not be permitted to remain in the country after three months elapse. Smith pointed out that the only foreign missionaries now in Burma are the men who worked the field in prewar days. These returned to the country before the immigration laws were introduced and are unaffected.

He said representations to have the law changed have been made to the Government.

Refugees Report Made

GENEVA (AP)—A total of 19,224 refugees left Germany, Austria, Italy and other European countries for new homes in Europe and abroad in September and 1,810 more were repatriated, mostly to Poland, the International Refugee Organization says.

Italy's Theaters Still Active

ROME (AP)—Italy's cities have long since pronounced the theater "dying, dead." But it refuses to lie down. Some 27 companies are registered to tour the country in the 1948-49 season.

Their stars are big names in Italy—Dina Galli, Renzo Ricci, Umberto Meloni, Annibale Ninchi and Antonio Gandusio among them. If sweaters are not as crowded as movies, if you can usually find a good seat however late you book (except on first nights) the stage still has many loyal followers.

Milan, Turin, Genoa, Venice, Trieste, Bologna, Florence, Naples, Palermo and Rome have good theatrical traditions, but many small towns of 20,000 to 35,000 inhabitants also have good theaters.

What do they go to see? Anything—ranging from ancient Greek tragedies of Aeschylus and Sophocles to Shakespeare and modern French playwrights with some of Eugene O'Neill and Thornton Wilder. Even Oscar Wilde was revived on the stage and radio a few weeks ago, with "The Importance of Being Earnest."

What It Means: End of the Housing Boom

By CLARK BEACH

WASHINGTON—The boom in home building is over, at least temporarily.

The end of the housing boom after the first World War came in 1925—4 years before the whole economy began to disintegrate. But leading economists here see no such dire portent in this drop in housing production.

The main reason, as they interpret it, is that the builders have been putting up houses for the carriage trade. And now the bloom is off that market. Most of the people who were badly in need of houses after the war and could afford to pay high prices for them are taken care of. The peak of that demand passed in late 1946 and early 1947.

The people who still want to invest in the new, relatively high priced homes, moreover, aren't finding it so easy to finance them as they did a year or two ago. Interest rates have gone up a bit. Some sellers are requiring larger down payments. And veterans, who used to do a large part of the buying, are finding it harder to get loans. Lenders do not consider the government's financing arrangements for veterans as attractive as they once did.

"In general," said one prominent economist in the housing field, "people are losing faith in the housing market at the present prices."

The Housing Act of 1948 does not yet seem to have had much effect on the home construction industry. That act contained most of the financing features of the rejected Taft-Ellender-Wagner housing bill. It was intended to make it easier to finance the building and buying of homes costing about $11,000 or less. The sponsor of the act, Rep. Wolcott (R. Mich.), predicted that as a result of it 1,000,000 new non-farm dwelling units would be started in 1948.

As now estimated by the Labor Department, however, the housing starts totaled only 925,000. The monthly total of new houses started began to drop in June, and it went down steadily from then on. The drop wasn't seasonal. The winter building, which ordinarily doesn't come until October or November.

The experts in the Commerce and Labor Departments predict that only 875,000 housing starts will be made in 1949. Even if the Taft-Ellender-Wagner bill is passed, which political observers think is certain, it will mean no more than an extra 30,000 to 35,000 additional housing starts during the year.

It will thus be probably well over a year before the all-time record for home building is equalled—877,000 dwelling units in 1925. (There were built when the U. S. population was only 115,831,563. Now it is about 147,280,000.)

The decline has not hit the construction industry as a whole. Both the volume and dollar value of over all construction has been steadily rising. Commerce and Labor expect about the same amount of construction in 1949 as in 1948, although predicting that the cost of building will be 5 percent higher.

Industrial construction is expected to decline in 1949. But offsetting both that and the fall in home construction are anticipated rises in the amount of construction work to be done in commercial, institutional, public utility and governmental construction work. Most of the latter is expected to be schools and hospitals built for the Veterans' Administration and the Public Health Service.

The volume of home construction is not actually low. In 1940 only 413,000 housing units were produced. The average in the 1930's was only 273,000 a year. In 1947 it jumped to 914,000 units. The low period in the thirties built up a large housing deficit. This was made worse after the war when the marriage rush, followed by rising birth rates, created many new families, all wanting homes of their own.

But most of the people who now are in need of homes are in the low and low-middle income group. The experts estimate that 5,000,000 such families need new dwelling places. The best hope for boosting home construction, they say, lies in building to meet the demands of this group.

Many government housing experts and economists, as well as some members of the Senate and House, believe that builders can make a fair profit in the construction of low priced homes and that some of them will turn to this now that they have skimmed the cream from the housing market. They concede, however, that only government subsidy can make it feasible for private interests to build for the very low income families.

The next housing boom, they believe, will not start before 1955 and the bulk of the dwelling units will consist of low priced houses and apartments. It will be stimulated, they say, not only by a public housing and slum clearance bill next session, as well as the Housing Act of 1948, but also by developments within the industry which will lower the cost of construction.

Swedes Find New Wool Washing Method

STOCKHOLM (AP)—A demonstrator at the Swedish Textile Research Institute at Goeloberg, civil engineer Joel Lindborg, has invented a new method to wash raw wool, which is claimed to be far better than the older methods.

Hitherto the washing has been a demaring process. The wool felted easily in the strong lye and that made the following carding difficult and hard on the fibres. After washing with the new method the carding machines can work 30-40 per cent faster than before and with better results. The fibres can be kept 20 to 25 per cent greater in length.

Another gain by the new method is that it makes it easier to extract valuable materials from the lye. Every ton of raw wool gives now 100 kilograms or more of high quality lanolin which is used for cosmetics and pharmaceutical preparations.

But the raw wool is not only fat, it is also salty from the sweat of the sheep, and from this saltiness can be extracted potash. Sweden imports both potash and lanolin. The new wash method will make the whole import of lanolin unnecessary as long as the import of raw wool is as large as now.

Moscow Plants Trees

MOSCOW (AP)—During the autumn in Moscow there were planted on the city's main streets two hundred sixty three thousand trees and one million four hundred thousand shrubs. This is part of a campaign to make the soviet capital in the future one of the greenest cities in the world with trees lining every street.

Cattle Have Water Trouble During Winter

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. 14—Cattle need water.

That's something people have known and believed for a long time. Certainly cattle need water—and so do all the other animals. P.S. yle too.

The thing is, says Dr. W. C. Banks, extension veterinarian of Texas A. & M. College, cattle need water that is clean, fit to drink, and located where cattle can get to it without much trouble.

During the winter time, when the lakes and ponds freeze over, cattle have a hard time getting any water. And when they do get it, the water's too cold. It's a good idea, when possible, to warm up water for cattle during the cold months. The water doesn't have to be too warm, but the cattle will drink more of it if the water is brought up to 60 or 70 degrees.

Sometimes there just isn't enough water for livestock. That's when trouble really begins. Take this past dry spell during the summer and fall. On a number of farms and ranches, the usual reliable tank went dry. Result: water had to be hauled in, or the cattle were forced to walk long distances to get it.

Water is important in the proper digestion of feed, good milk production and the normal growth of cattle, says Dr. Banks. Many veterinarians give several buckets of water as part of a treatment to illing animals. Many of the digestive troubles clear up faster when the animal is given plenty of good water.

Ten gallons of water a day is about what cattle normally drink. When they don't get this much, trouble may—and usually does—start. This is especially important during the winter time when cattle are fed only dry feed, says Dr. Banks.

When John D. Rockefeller died in 1937, it was announced he had given more than $530,000,000 for philanthropic and charitable purposes—the largest group of such gifts ever made.

Electricity for Soviet Farms

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet collective farms have put into operation already this year more collective farm hydroelectric stations than were previously put into operation during the past thirty years.

The total capacity of the two thousand small power installations which use water power resources to furnish electricity to collective farms and which have been completed during 1948 is 108,000 kilowatts. This is to the capacity of a plant electric power station furnishing power for a large city.

Chiltree Bond Sales Were Over 100,000 In 1948

The people of Ochiltree county bought $607,013.75 worth of Savings Bonds during 1948, according to a year-end report by Harry Owens of Dallas, state director for Savings Bonds.

During this same period, the state of Texas bought $196,448,000 worth of these securities. Owens said that Texans now own more than $1.5 billion worth of Savings Bonds which earned $72,000 in interest during the year.

To illustrate the practical aspects of thrift, as represented by Savings Bonds program, Mr. Owens pointed out that the annual interest from bonds held by Texans, if converted into mental construction, would build 4,237 homes costing $10,000 each, or, if considered in terms of higher education or wages and salaries, would give four-year college education to 141 students at the rate of $225 per month for a full year for 15,693 persons.

Delinquent Girls Present Real Social Problem in Texas Courts

—You'd be amazed at the number of 13 and 14 year old girls loose in Dallas, living in cheap hotels, said a crime prevention officer.

We don't need a state home for them, not even a girls' ranch or girls' town like they have for boys, said a juvenile judge.

But we do need smaller places, like boarding homes, said a county juvenile officer.

There is a beautiful 16-year-old brunette who was sentenced to the Gainesville State Training School for girls this month, just two weeks before Christmas. For three years juvenile officers had been picking her up, sending her back home on probation, trying to keep her from the stigma of the training school.

But her home made her that way. Her case history showed she was the youngest of six children in a family in a small East Texas town. First her drunkard father deserted them and then two stepfathers in succession. Her mother deserted them once.

By the time she was 13 the girl was good-looking and looked much older. Last summer, when she was sixteen, she was living with her mother in a small North Texas town. One night she went to Dallas with some boys, stayed out all night, spent the next day with a girl friend in Dallas, stayed the next night in a tourist court.

Officers picked her up, sent her back home on probation. But she was picked up again in Oct after a drunken spree in a tavern and a night in a house she didn't recall.

Home wasn't the place to send her. There was nothing left but the state training school. "Most delinquent girls are picked up on sex offenses," said juvenile judge Sarah T. Hughes of Dallas. Others come in for theft, check forgery and running away from home.

On the records in Dallas is the case of a 15-year-old girl who has been a dope fiend since she

When there's no other solution, girls are sent to the school for delinquent Negro girls to a training school at the former site of a war camp at Brady.

Home and ranches for delinquent boys and those who may be headed for delinquency dot the state.

But not for girls. Waco and Orange are two Texas cities which have recognized that girls have problems, too.

Waco girls club is not a boarding home, but a recreational character building agency serving girls of low income families who have limited educational and recreational opportunities. It teaches cleanliness, helps girls find work, helps guide them and teaches better living. It is supported by the community chest.

Orange opened last spring the first publicly-supported home for girls of its kind in the nation. Girls Haven is a refuge for socially displaced girls of school age. Its occupants are not juvenile delinquents. They are simply girls who need a home but whose cases do not fall within the requirements of established institutions.

That's what the juvenile officer, Mrs. Ruth Holt of Dallas, meant when she said Texas needed boarding homes for girls—a decent place for a girl to live, limited privileges for her dates, a guiding hand.

Imagine the home of the girl who was brought into court after she ran away from her husband to whom she had been married three days.

The girl was 13 years old. "I thought it would be good for her to get married and settle down," her mother told the judge.

Portable Calf Pens Make Long Lived Bovines, Husky Calves

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Reporter

AUBURN, Ala. — Portable pens—providing clean individual outdoor room service and a change of scenery every week—have been developed here as a means of combating high mortality among the nation's future milk producers.

Scientists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture have developed pens—which allow the animals to be moved to "clean" ground periodically—have prevented most of the sickness which bedevils calves in the important first few months of life.

Up to now they say, one in every five heifer calves born in the United States dies in infancy—due to diarrhetic conditions, pneumonia, stomach and intestinal worms, and a parasitic disease called "coccidiosis" which involves the intestinal tract. The pens are made of wire and are used in any part of the country in the summer time. For winter use, they are suitable only in those parts of the country where winters are mild. A burlap "door" is provided for the aluminum-covered end for winter use.

When the calves are a day or two old, they are placed in individual pens, arranged in rows along the bottom of a wooded hillside. The pens are spaced 13 feet apart—so the calves can't get too chummy.

They remain thus for a week, when the pens are moved eight feet to the right or left, to a new ground location. Thereafter, the pens are moved gradually up the hillside at weekly intervals. Meanwhile, the scientists say, rain helps wash any accumula-

Thus, they say, if a calf remained in one spot, it would be subject to further contamination from such organisms through contact with its own waste body products. The idea of "moving" at weekly intervals is to desert one spot before the disease organisms present in waste products have had an opportunity to develop to dangerous proportions.

Covered feeders in the pens provide the animals with food, and water is placed in buckets hung in corners.

In the station's own experience, the incidence of calf diseases has been kept extremely low. The scientists had confirmative reports of the efficiency of the pens from the Florida State Mental Hospital, where they were mostly among "crazy" calves was about one per cent following introduction of the portable-pen system.

Working with Dr. Groth on the Auburn research are Doctors L. R. Davis and Dale A. Porter. The portable pens were Davis' idea—based on a tip he got from his mother during his boyhood in Georgia.

"Mother used to keep baby chicks in a portable wire enclosure which she'd move from time to time, to 'give the chicks a change of grass' as she put it," Davis said. "It turned out that these chicks were healthier than those that remained in one spot. Mother didn't know anything about coccidiosis, which affects poultry as well as calves, but apparently her portable system was preventing that disease among her chicks."

Falls 4 Stories, Breaks Knees, Becomes Dancer

HOLLYWOOD—Forty-four stories above a New York street, a 17-year-old iron worker walks carefully along a girder, a bag of rivets slung over his shoulder. He turns a corner—steps from one girder to another. The bag shifts and throws him off balance into space.

That's what started Jack Donohue toward a career as one of the movies' top dance directors.

He landed on his knees on a painters' platform four floors below. His knees were smashed. The doctor told him to wriggle his toes and exercise his feet. One day he saw a theater's ad for male chorus dancers. He tried out and landed in the Ziegfeld Follies of 1928.

Jack had planned to save his money to go to medical school when necessity turned him to foot exercise and dancing. He became a specialty dancer in vaudeville and night clubs, Broadway dance director, and performed in London shows, too. From there he was signed by Hollywood.

Jack is now a devilishly handsome man of 40, one of nearly all trades when it comes to movie spectacles. Gets ideas in unlikely places. He saw an ad telling tourists of New Mexico to dance. The Indian in it had bird wings on his arm. Jack's putting wings on Esthe Williams when she swims in "Neptune's Daughter."

In "On an Island with You," he had Ricardo Montalban slide Cyd Charisse along a mahogany bar like a mug of beer. Props suggest routines, he explains.

He doesn't just tell his actors what he wants, he demonstrates. He taught Montalban to play polo. He has shown others how to ski and fence. Once he had an actor to spin a 100-foot cowboy style from a chair. He said "spin such a long, long, long" and the actor spun. He refused to let his right hand on his left hand. He refused to let his right hand on his left hand. He refused to let his right hand on his left hand.

Veterans NEWS

Ochiltree county veterans are served by county service officer Tom Davis, whose office is in the courthouse annex. The daytime phone number is 36 and at night or in an emergency, the phone number is 487. Veterans who need assistance in any way are urged to make use of the services provided by the county service officer.

No increase in the GI loan interest rate from 4 to 4½ percent will be made at this time. Carl F. Gray, Jr., Administrator of Veterans' Affairs, has announced.

Section 103 of Public Law 901 of the 80th Congress authorizes the Administrator of Veterans Affairs, with the consent of the Secretary of the Treasury, to set by regulation a maximum interest rate of 4½ percent on loans guaranteed by the Veterans Administration if it is determined that the loan market demands the increase.

Mr. Gray's decision not to increase the rate was reached after an exhaustive study of all factors involved. He said: "I have consulted extensively with Government leaders, individual veterans, lenders and the veterans' service organizations throughout the United States. My principal responsibility and duty is to our veterans. In my studies of this question, I have reached the conclusion that an increase in rates would not be in their best interest, as the evidence fails to indicate an increased rate will make more houses available to veterans."

Acquisition of the 1,000-bed U. S. Naval Hospital at Houston, Texas, by the Veterans Administration and cancellation of VA plans to construct a 1,000-bed neuropsychiatric hospital, also at Houston, have been announced by VA.

Transfer of the Naval hospital will result in a savings of $21 million in construction costs. More than 9,000,000 World War II veterans have applied for education and training under the GI Bill and Public Law 16 since the two laws went into effect in June, 1944, and March, 1943, respectively.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

AN ECONOMY HOUSE designed on the modular plan of four-foot multiples to accommodate standard sizes of materials, this layout produces a simple rectangle in form, but has the appearance of a popular rambler. This is plan 7H by Richard Pollman, architect for the Homograft Planning Corp., 11711 East Eight Mile Rd., East Detroit, Mich. A study opening on a terrace can be used for a third bedroom. A combination kitchen-laundry room houses the heating unit. The house covers 960 square feet and contains 7,776 cubic feet without basement. The garage can be added later.

Weekly Swing of Southwest Farm Markets

(USDA)—Southwest farm markets experienced widely varying trends during the past week, the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration reports.

Cattle markets closed Monday's trade $1 lower to $1 or more higher for the week. Calves lost $1 at Houston with common and medium grades selling at $19 to $24. Similar kinds brought $17.50 to $22 at San Antonio and Fort Worth. Good and choice vealers sold up to $26 at Oklahoma City, $28 at Wichita and Denver and $30 at Kansas City. Wichita paid $22 to $24 for good and choice calves.

End of holiday demand, coupled with increased production brought lower egg prices again this week. Current egg receipts sold about 5 cents a dozen lower at Fort Worth, Dallas and Denver to bring 40 to 45 cents Monday. New Orleans paid 45 cents. Fryers fell to 29 to 30 cents in Northwest Arkansas.

Wheat lost two cents a bushel, oats 1, and sorghums 4 cents a hundred pounds. Other grains changed very little for the week. Bremmer Rites Held in Booker

Funeral services were conducted at St. Peter's Catholic Church (Kollman church) at 10:30 a. m., Monday, January 3, for Joseph Bremmer, pioneer farmer of this area, who died December 30 at his home near Booker. He was 73 years of age.

Father Noel Williams of Guyton read the Requiem Mass. Mr. Bremmer was born February 23, 1875 in Warren county Missouri to Peter J and Jane Tyler Bremmer. He came to Oklahoma when the Cherokee Strip was opened and lived for a number of years in Garfield county.

On October 31, 1906, he was married to Miss Emma Blaine Fine at Supply, Okla., and the couple moved to Ochiltree county in November of that year. They settled on the section of land where the family still lives.

Two sons were born in this union, Konrad J. of Booker and Paul of Danville, Virginia. The family moved to Oregon in 1912 in hopes of benefiting Mrs. Bremmer's health but later returned to Texas.

On Sept. 8, 1915, Mrs. Bremmer died, leaving her husband and two small sons. On June 15, 1925, he was united in marriage with Nellie Josephine Halsey at Marysville, Missouri. To this union were born four children—Carrie Nellie, John, Edward and Josephine.

Survivors, besides his wife and children, are his brother, John Bremmer of Warrenton, Mo., two sisters, Mrs. Chancey Gilmore of Truesdale, Mo., and Mrs. Sarah Robertson of Warrenton, Mo., a sister-in-law, Mrs. Inez M. Bremmer of Pomona, Calif., ten grandchildren and a number of nieces and nephews.

Interment was in the Kirby cemetery.

National Guard companies now in Amarillo to Perryton. One feature of the National Guard that is attractive to those subject to the peacetime draft is that members of the Guard are draft exempt. National Guardsmen may transfer to other units, as in the case of high school students going to college from here and transferring to units near their college.

Col. Simpson stated that when the minimum number of men are secured for the Guard unit, a recruiting staff from Amarillo will come to Perryton at a date to be announced, to enlist the men and lay plans for activating the mortar company.

Those interested in joining the National Guard are requested to contact county service officer Tom Davis at the courthouse annex for full details.

It is estimated that a Guard company would mean an approximate annual payroll of $20,000 to Perryton and the surrounding area.

Korean Education Pushed

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet news agency Tass reports from northern Korea that the People's Democratic Government of Korea with its capital in Pyongyang has undertaken a program to wipe out illiteracy.

According to the Minister of Education of this government, universal education has been introduced for all children of school age. During 1947, he stated, 44,000 persons learned to read and write. In 1948 to date over 200,000 persons have been taught to read and write.

Perryton school teams fared badly in their three-game basketball card Friday night, failing to win any of the three games.

GENERAL PRICE LEVELS—Wholesale price index has now passed the all-time peak reached in 1920, and the question is how long prices can stay up. The above chart shows that every major war in which the United States has engaged has been accompanied by an inflationary rise in prices. And every wartime inflationary rise in prices has been followed by a sharp decline.

Wars cause inflation because they are financed by government borrowing in one form or another. It is generally true that taxes are increased, but a substantial portion of war expenditures have always been financed by the expansion of credit. New purchasing power is thus put into the hands of consumers at a time when the government demands for munitions prevent a corresponding increase in the supply of goods available for consumers to buy. The result of this situation is inevitably a rise in the prices of available goods. During World War II the rise was held in check by price control supplemented by rationing, but with the end of price control at the end of the war, the inflationary factors were free to push prices upward.

The end of the rise in prices after past wars has followed the same pattern: rising prices have tended to absorb some of the excess purchasing power, and at the same time the production of consumer goods increased with the ending of the demand for munitions. By 1920, following World War I, the supply of goods had caught up with demand, and it was suddenly discovered that there was a surplus of all kinds of commodities. Farm products were the first to feel the effects of these factors, but other commodities followed. The index of wholesale commodity prices dropped from 165.8 in August 1920 to 93.5 in August 1921. Similar drops occurred after the Civil War, the War of 1812, and the Revolutionary War. It is always dangerous to base a forecast on the assumption that history will repeat, but with the pattern so definitely established it would be foolish not to watch carefully for a repetition of the pattern of four previous wars. Many details of the present situation are different from past wars, but the basic factors are the same.

In planning an investment program, the trend of the price level is an important factor. The logical time to buy property or invest in ownership equities, such as common stock, is when the trend of the price level is upward. As prices rise the value of the property will increase. When prices are falling, the value of common stocks and property tends to decline, but the purchasing power of money invested in bonds increases as the price level drops. If a $75 savings bond was held for 10 years during which the price level fell 50%, the $100 received by the owner of the bond would buy as much as $200 would have bought 10 years earlier. Not only does the bond holder receive interest on his investment, but the purchasing power of the investment increases in the same proportion as the price level declines. Since it is important that the bonds be absolutely safe to avoid loss from business failures in periods of falling prices, United States Savings bonds are ideally suited as a hedge against deflation.

Swap In-Laws—Be Happy!

LONDON OP—marriage going on the rocks because you have to live with your in-laws?

Then swap with another couple and live with their in-laws.

Nine's six young couples at suburban Hendon say it works.

They're doing it until they can find homes of their own.

This way, says W. F. Gow, of the idea's housing committee—which organized the exchange—everybody's happier. Young couples feel they're "independent tenants" instead of "being in the way," have fewer domestic liffs through mothers-in-law butting in, and take better care of the furniture.

The Romance languages include Portuguese, Spanish, Provençal, French, Italian and Romanian.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Young visited friends in Borger Sunday.

Your "happy birthday" will mean ever so much more if you remember with a fine Gibson card from our wide selection.

Q. Is the widow of a World War I or a World War II veteran entitled to a pension even though her husband had no service-connected disability?
 A. For World War I widows the answer is yes. Benefits are payable under Public Law 483, 78th Congress, if the veteran's service meets the requirements and the widow's income does not exceed limitations established by law. A World War II widow whose husband had no service-connected disability is not eligible for pension.

Our Soldiers Are Gentlemen

General Jacob Devers, chief of the Armed Ground Forces, says our new Army of draftees will be treated as human beings and gentlemen. But the general makes it plain that the new soldiers will not be soft, thereby relieving the minds of us old-timers who have not been worried by some of the new-fangled notions in the Army nowadays.

The Army high-ups have impressed the non-coms that if the new Army is to be well-behaved, then the old Army men must be gentlemen, too. The new rules state that non-coms must add a polite "please" to their instructions. Although the recruits must obey these instructions, we wonder if a judicious use of old-fashioned hide-bating would not be in order sometimes.

The new soldiers will be welcomed as a long-lost friend (it says here), assigned a tailor to prepare a uniform neither too large or too small [we never knew there was any other kind], personally introduced to the company commander, urged to ask questions, and will even be given an immediate pay advance after being sworn in, if he wants it.

But there is a rub to all this. The new recruit has to roll out of the sack at reveille, he will have to take those pre-dawn setting up exercises, even in bad weather, he will have to drill and march and climb, stumble and crawl over obstacle courses like his old predecessors. With all his refinement, he will learn to shoot and use a bayonet.

For unless he learns the grim phases of soldiering along with the more pleasant things, he will have good cause to curse his gentlemanly instructors if the time should come when he has to face an ungentlemanly enemy.

A Baltimore court rules that a moron's brain is unable to cope with making out the income tax. Some of the smarter boys find it a little difficult, too.

For cheap eating at other seasons we need a cut of meat corresponding to the 17-pound turkey of late autumn, which yields 21 pounds of leftovers.—Grand Rapids, Mich. Press.

Babson Discusses Utilities

ROGER W. BABSON, Editor-in-Chief

New York City, Jan. 7. During the past few days I asked many investment bankers:—"In view of the business and market uncertainties, what are the safest stocks to hold? The general answer was that the stocks of the operating utility companies offer the best combination of safety and income.

Outlook for Business

Total kilowatt hour output of the utilities will decline with general business, but this decline will be from industrial customers. As many electric companies are now short of generating capacity, and cannot take on many new residential customers, this could be a blessing in disguise. Residential customers are much more profitable than large industrial customers. Therefore by switching customers, the total output could decline without a decline in profits.

Electric companies have very few labor troubles. In the case of water power companies, the labor expense is only 20%, compared with 80% in the printing industry. The labor expense for the entire electrical industry is low—equalled only by the chemical industry. Therefore, it has little to fear from the much-talked-of "fourth round" of wage increases.

General Operating Expenses

The electrical industry is a large purchaser of supplies, including millions of miles of copper wire, millions of poles, arms, and insulators, thousands of trucks, as well as great quantities of coal, oil and natural gas. Although there may be some further price increases on some of these products, yet the corner has turned downward on the average. This should benefit the utilities so long as we avoid war with Russia or the Chinese Communists.

The only "nigger in the woodpile" is the attitude of utility commissions regarding rates. Many utility companies are in need of higher rates, especially street railway and bus companies which have large labor expense. As, however, these rate-making bodies clearly understand that to take care of their customers the utilities must have more capital, and in order to raise more capital must give investors a reasonable dividend, they should gladly grant these needed rate increases.

Utilities as Inflation Hedges

Utilities of operating companies can be recommended for safety and for income, but they should not be selected as hedges against inflation. If considering only the cost of replacement, stocks of utility operating companies should be worth double what they were ten years ago provided they cannot be caught by the "Depreciation Formula." The fact, however, that utilities are not free to raise their rates without special permission, is a distinct handicap. Hence, for inflation hedges it is better to buy steel, oil or merchandising stocks. A live merchant can always keep one jump ahead of inflation.

It is wise to confine one's purchase of electric company stocks to the territory in which you live. You, yourself, should know the attitude of your public authorities on this rate-making problem; it is reflected by your local

Wolf Creek Philosopher

J. A. Makes a Few of His Original Forecasts

(Ed. note: The Wolf Creek Philosopher makes a few predictions for 1949, his letter this week reveals. Maybe he'll do as well as the other experts, at that.)

Dear Editor:

I notice this is the time, with the new year just getting underway, for the experts to predict, and most of the papers I've been getting out here lately are filled with carefully analyzed predictions, like those of that fellow you've been running on the same page you put my stuff, which tell what to expect in 1949 down to two decimal points. I even read where one fellow predicted the amount of cattle which will be on hand next spring, but I don't believe he had a look inside my feed shed. One sack of cake ain't much to stand between a cow and spring.

In this vein, and figurin anybody with a pencil can qualify as an expert on the future on account of nobody knows anyway what's comin tomorrow and very few even know what happened yesterday, I wish to make a few predictions for 1949.

I predict my prediction for 1949 will be off at least fifteen percent, as I expect to loaf at least fifteen percent more than I did in 1948, with an extra fifteen percent thrown in my wife will hold her tongue and use her skillet for fryin instead of throwin.

I predict my crops will be off twenty percent, on account of lack of rain before harvest or too much rain at harvest, or green bugs and grasshoppers, plus the fact I'm twenty percent behind in my work already and the year ain't even one-twelfth over yet.

I predict Congress will pass a lot of laws.

I predict Russia will be obnoxious.

I predict every country that figures it has half a chance will offer to borrow some money from the United States.

I predict that the United States will accommodate them.

I predict England will get the most and spend it the soonest.

I predict the world situation will continue unsettled, as it has for the past four million years.

I predict most Americans will do pretty well, but not as well as they would like and that next Christmas most of them will eat too much again and that the New Year will find the world still holdin together, even tho a good many experts said it wouldn't.

Bringin my predictions down on the local level, I predict the city of Perryton will be as broke in 1949 as it was in 1948.

I predict that you town folks will still be crankin your telephones in 1949 just like you did in 1948 and way back thirty years ago in old Ochiltree.

I predict that us country folks won't have no more phones to crank or otherwise in 1949 than we did in 1948, which wasn't hardly any.

I predict that in town the electricity will go out for a while every thunderstorm and that the water will run out when the weather gets real hot and the gas will run out the first good northern next year just like it did this year.

I predict that the wheat crop will be lost at least a dozen times before harvest and that just as many big operators will develop ulcers around the blackboard at the Equity in 1949 as they did in 1948.

I predict that the county commissioners won't have no more luck in gettin everybody's road graded as fast or as often as their precinct wants them to in 1949 as they did in 1948.

The predictions are merely a confirmation of the "J. A. System of Stayin In A Rut, Which Most People Like or They'd Get Out and Try Another One."

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

We Both Won This One

Blow my top the other morning when I discovered a shirt I'd put on had two buttons missing.

"Joe," the missus says, "do you ever read what you write? For a man who writes newspaper pieces all about tolerance, you sometimes show a lot of race prejudice."

"Race prejudice!" I hollers. "No one can accuse me of that." "I mean prejudice against the entire human race," she interrupts with a smile. "Why get mad at the world over two little buttons? That took the wind out of me."

From where I sit (as I told the missus that evening), a lot of us sometimes get too worked up over little things... little differences of opinion or taste. One person prefers beer or ale, another prefers cider or lemonade. But why criticize the other fellow just because his tastes aren't the same as ours? "That sounds more like you, Joe," she laughs, snipping off a thread. (It so happens she was sewing on buttons.)

newspapers. If you believe that your public service commission is fair, then buy the stock of the company supplying your home with electricity; but not otherwise.

Importance of Diversification

Of course, you should not put all of your eggs in any one basket, however good that basket may be. This means that one should not have more than 20% of his funds in public utilities, and not more than 5% in any one company. An investor should have his funds divided amongst different industries, different companies and different sections. As a final thought, I urge you to avoid utilities in big cities that might be combed in case of World War III.

Great Reduction Shown in Texas Health Report

AUSTIN, Texas—Every citizen of Texas should be greatly interested in the over-all health picture in the State as indicated by the morbidity report just released by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, showing the year's totals on communicable diseases.

Comparing the 1948 figures with the totals of 1947, a great reduction is shown in some of the major health hazards. For instance, in 1947 there were 1,125 cases of diphtheria, while in 1948 the total had dropped to 924. This was 924 cases too many, since none of them need have occurred if the persons had been immunized. This same statement applies to smallpox, in which the total dropped from 15 cases to 4. Vaccination would have prevented the incidence of even one case of smallpox. Typhoid fever remained at a comparative standstill, with 317 cases being reported in 1947 and 318 in the past year. These typhoid cases could also have been prevented by immunization.

The results of malaria and typhus control work throughout the State is reflected in the total number of cases for 1947 and 1948. Malaria dropped from 4,729 to 3,577, and typhus was cut nearly in half with the total falling from 810 to 344. Dysentery continues to be a serious problem in public health in Texas. The incidence of this disease jumped from 15,863 in 1947 to 20,920 during the past year. Influenza dropped off from 116,564 to 76,823, and mumps was reduced by nearly half, from 17,202 in 1947 to 9,898 in the past year.

HERE'S LINDA

Starting This Week

Today the Herald runs the first of three cartoon strips as a reminder to all to join the 1949 March of Dimes. Last year was a black one in polio history. So we are anxious to cooperate in the fight against infantile paralysis. These cartoons vividly stress the urgent need of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis and its local chapter to replenish funds exhausted in fighting polio last summer.

WHO CARRIES THE DEBT LOAD?

West of Gray

There has been several in and around here, who have been sick with the flu. But all have improved at this writing. Mrs. W. D. McDonald is home after a weeks stay with sick folks at Shamrock, Texas. Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McDonald and their four children visited relatives in Shamrock and Borger last Sunday.

Some from this community attended the basket ball games at Balke last week. We have been having some more winter. Snow and sleet fell Sunday, and it is still storming some today. Hope this will benefit the wheat, as it had begun to need top moisture pretty bad.

There are many diseases like poliomyelitis against which there is no specific protection, it is a tragic mistake for any person to be allowed to have diphtheria, smallpox or typhoid fever, when he can be completely protected through the simple means of immunization.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bolin left Sunday on a trip to Georgia.

Wolves Scatter Reindeer

STOCKHOLM (AP)—A reindeer herd of about 3,000 animals was recently scattered by wolves in the northernmost part of Lapland in Sweden, far above the Arctic circle.

After the attacks the Laps who are dependent for their lives on the reindeer could only assemble 400 of the frightened animals. Many had been killed or wounded, and the others had run away in alarm. It will be hard work for the Laps on their skis to bring them together again.

About 40 wolves are believed to hunt in this region. During this year they have killed between 500 and 600 reindeer.

Mr. and Mrs. Debs Riley and family spent Sunday visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lonie Bull, Gray.

GARY COOPER — ANN SHERIDAN
Ray Collins and Edmund Lowe in—

"GOOD SAM"

Smashing in its comic effect, bristling with brilliant characterizations by the entire cast, the film gives its stars a highly hilarious workout. This show, a cure for all blues, adapts the theme of unrestrained open-handedness, and shows how it could nearly wreck a home which didn't have a wife with a sense of humor and forbearance. The show throughout is heart-warming and human. The talent of the director who made "Going My Way" and "Bells of St. Mary's" now just as successfully goes all out for fun.

Wednesday-Thursday January 19-20

"No Minor Vices"

with DANA ANDREWS — LILLI PALMER
Louis Jourdan and Jane Wyatt

Meet the season's sauciest threesome: an artist who paints... a model who poses... and a husband who protests! They're all in this delightful new comedy hit. There's a romantic triangle that will have you going around in circles trying to keep up with their dizzy, daring love affairs.

Friday-Saturday January 21-22

"Angel on the Amazon"

Brian Aherne and Constance Bennett

A moment of terror which led to a lifetime of strangeness! The story of a woman... untouchable... unknowable... unexplainable! A thrilling story set against a jungle background.
