SIX KILLED IN PLANE COLLISION

ELECTRA EXTENSION EASTWARD PROMISED BY WELL ON FISHER

Promise of a two and a half mile eastward extension of the Electra pool was furnished Wednesday by the test of Ramming, Staley and Johnson which was bailing considerable oil.

The well is on the J. A. Fisher land, section 14, two and a half miles southeast of the Camp No. 2-B Fisher, and an equal distance northeast of the 1800-foot wells in the South Electra field, and a good producer at that point would result in development from both directions.

The test is in a sand at 1854 feet, and is bailing plentifully, giving promise of making a good producer.

THREE CHEERS AND "TIGER" ARE GIVEN FOR CLEMENCEAU

DIGNITY OF WAR COLLEGE IS SHATTERED TO HONOR FRENCH VISITOR.

APPLAUD MENTION OF FORMER PRESIDENT

Says America's Withdrawal From Europe Gave New Courage to Germany.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—The dignity of the United States war college was shattered for a moment today when major generals, brigadiers, colonels and officers of lesser rank gave Georges Clemenceau three cheers and a "tiger."

Major General McGlachlin, commandant of the college, acted as cheer leader, massing his rooters on the front steps of the college building as the Tiger of France emerged after delivering a 30 minute address.

Before he went to the war college M. Clemenceau drove to Arlington national cemetery and, baring his head, laid a huge wreath on the grave of America's unknown soldier. Later he embarked on the naval yacht Sylph for a trip to George Washington's tomb at Mount Vernon.

Clemenceau's talk at the war college was half a tribute to the work of America's forces in the war and half a plea for this country's reentry into European affairs. He was applauded when he said with a twinkle in his eyes that while France and England were glad enough to see the war end when it did, he didn't "think it would have displeased the Americans if it had gone a little longer."

Applause for Wilson.

The "officers again" applauded when he referred to former President Wilson and his "fourteen points."

"One of the fourteen points," he declared, "provided that Germany should repair damages and the terms of the armistice said that if the points were not fulfilled, America and the allies would go on. Our damages are not repaired. And you didn't go on."

America's withdrawal from Europe, he continued, gave Germany courage.

"They thought they could get the better of us," he said, "and thus far they seem to have succeeded."

He concluded with the assertion that he was taking back to France the message that "America's heart is on the same place" and that "some day we will meet again."

"And that day," he added, "peace will be ensured, not only in America, but in Europe, and you will have achieved one of the greatest heights reached by mankind."

SHINHOLT AND COLQUITT GET 500 BARRELER AT EASTLAND

EASTLAND, TEXAS, Dec. 6.—The well of Shinholt and Colquitt on the Downtain tract just northeast of this city came in Sunday with a production of 500 barrels. The top of the sand was struck at 3225 feet and was drilled into 13 feet when it started flowing by heads at the above rate. The bringing in of this well is expected to stimulate further drilling in the Lake district which has completed several good wells the past few weeks.

FARM CREDIT BILL IS INTRODUCED IN SENATE AND HOUSE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Rural credits legislation said to have the approval of administration officials and proposing to create a farm credits department as a part of the present farm loan system was introduced simultaneously in the senate and house today by Senator Lenroot, republican, Wisconsin, and Representative Anderson, republican, Minnesota.

The two bills, similar in most particulars, would make available for farm loans a total of $60,000,000 distributed equally among the 12 farm loan banks. The present government subscription to the 12 banks totals only $12,000,000. The banks would be authorized to rediscount farm paper having a maturity of from six months to three years.

PENNILESS MEMBER "NOBLE" FAMILY DIES

WICHITA, KAN., Dec. 6.—Thomas A. Robertson, 71, penniless, the forgotten scion of a British family of noble blood, whose son is cashier of the Bank of England, and whose brother is a British admiral, was buried in Highland Grove cemetery this afternoon with only a few members of his group of acquaintances here present at the grave.

TORONTO AFTER BOSTON AMERICAN BASEBALL TEAM

TORONTO, ONT., Dec. 6.—The Toronto Star publishes a story today asserting that a Toronto syndicate has obtained an option on the franchise of the Boston American league baseball club and that a proposition to transfer the team to this city has received the approval of Ban Johnson, president of the American league.

NEWS IS SURPRISE AT AMERICAN LEAGUE OFFICE

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—News of the proposed option was received with surprise at the American league offices here. Officials said they knew nothing of the proposition.

BAN JOHNSON DECLARES REPORT IS "PURE BUNK"

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, MO., Dec. 6.—Ban Johnson, president of the American baseball league, here today characterized as "pure bunk" a report that a Toronto, Canada, syndicate had obtained an option on the franchise of the Boston American league club.

Pershing Scores Ku Klux Klan in Chicago Address

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—Pacifists, disciples of the soviet government, the Ku Klux Klan and advocates of internationalism were blamed by General John J. Pershing in a speech at a patriotic luncheon of the Chicago Association of Commerce today, for the spread of pernicious theories which may "choke to death our sacred heritage of patriotism and freedom."

In a recent meeting at New York, he said, 1,800 men and women pledged themselves never to support their country in case of war "by bearing arms, making or handling munitions, or subscribing to war loans."

"Right here in Chicago," he said, "only a few days ago an advocate of soviet government received an ovation. It is as though the Herrin massacre or the secret convention of the communist party at Bridgman, Mich., were not warning enough.

"We cannot shut our eyes to the activities of the Ku Klux Klan, whose members in office disregard their duty to the public and allow their criminals to go unpunished."

LA FOLLETTE MAKES ATTACK ON ARMOUR PROPOSED MERGER

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—An attack on the proposed merger of the Armour and Morris meat packing concerns was made in the senate today by Senator La Follette, republican, Wisconsin, who declared that the packers were seeking immunity on advice from President Harding and government officials.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—The senate today adopted the resolution of Senator LaFollette, republican, Wisconsin, calling upon the secretary of agriculture for full information regarding the proposed Armour and Morris packer merger.

Neither the president nor Secretary Wallace of the department of agriculture, Senator LaFollette declared in calling up his resolution, has "any authority or right" to give the approval requested by J. Ogden Armour for his purchase of the Morris interests.

"It hasn't yet reached the point in this country," he said, "where any law has been passed which authorizes the president to sell indulgence to lawbreakers. If he grants such indulgence he must do it without the sanction of law."

Senator LaFollette recalled that a recently proposed steel merger was abandoned when the federal trade commission filed a complaint that the combine would result in unfair competition.

THREE ARMY AIRPLANES DEPART FROM FORT BLISS

EL PASO, Dec. 6.—Three army airplanes which started a transcontinental flight from San Antonio Monday morning, left Fort Bliss at 10 o'clock this morning for San Diego, Cal.

IRISH FREE STATE NOW FUNCTIONING; DISPLAY NEW FLAG

FORMALLY PROCLAIMED AS NEW GOVERNMENT

But Little Change From Provisional Program Recently In Force.

DUBLIN, Dec. 6.—Ireland took her place today among the world's commonwealths. The provisional government and parliament ceased to function, their place being taken by the permanent parliament and cabinet of the Irish free state and the new commonwealth being formally proclaimed as an established government.

The provisional regime which ceased to exist today had such full powers that the new one now inaugurated marks but little change except in name. The program of the day provided that the parliament meet at 5 o'clock without ceremony and after its members had taken the oath, elected a speaker and nominated a president, the order of the day called for the naming of the executive council by the president, with a committee of the parliament nominating the other ministers. The arrangements amounted simply to the confirming in office of the men already there.

The president's nomination of 30 senators was a part of the day's business. The lower house elects the remaining 30. For these senatorships there were more than 80 candidates. When the senate is constituted later in the week, both houses will be addressed by Governor General Healy.

The Union Jack of Britain has been furled officially throughout the freestate, giving place to the green, orange and white tricolor.

The new Irish postage stamps go into circulation today, though to a limited extent, and British stamps surcharged for use in Ireland will continue to be sold for some time.

This is the anniversary of the signing of the Anglo-Irish treaty, and it is recalled that not a single signatory remains a member of the anarstat government. Arthur Griffith and Michael Collins are dead; Robert C. Barton has joined de Valera; George Cavan Duffy and Eamon J. Duggan have retired; Erskine Childers has been executed.

The newspapers editorially refer to the birth of the free state in a hopeful spirit. The Freeman's Journal, remarking that the Irish free state begins life today under a constitution of Irish manufacture, adds:

"All intrigues to make trouble over the new instrument of the Irish government fell to the ground on the realization that the British parliament, despite all the supremacy claimed for it, could not change a word or phrase in an Irish made constitution without Ireland's consent."

KING SIGNS PROCLAMATION FOR IRISH FREE STATE

LONDON, Dec. 6.—An historic privy council held in Buckingham palace this morning dealt chiefly with the establishment of Ireland as an independent commonwealth. King George signed a proclamation giving effect to the new Irish free state, and also a proclamation appointing Timothy Healy as the first governor general of Ireland.

AMARILLO TRIBUNE SOLD PAPER TO BE CONTINUED UNDER OLD MANAGEMENT

AMARILLO, Dec. 6.—The real estate, building and machinery of the Tribune Publishing company were bought yesterday by the National Bank of Commerce, and the publication of the Amarillo Daily Tribune will be continued by a reorganized publishing company under the same management as before. R. H. Nichols will continue as active head of the business.

ANDERSON ARITHMETIC IS ADOPTED BY STATE

AUSTIN, December 6.—Anderson's arithmetic was adopted by the state text book commission as the text for Texas schools today and contract let for the publication in three book series to Silver, Burdette and company, for six years. The commission this afternoon took up consideration of the composition text.

REPORT OF OFFICERS AND COMMITTEES AT MEETING OF MASONS

WACO, TEXAS, Dec. 6.—The Masonic grand lodge met this morning and reports of officers and committees were heard. The election of officers is scheduled for tonight. The grand council elects its officers this afternoon. The compliment paid Grand Secretary W. B. Pearson forecasts his reelection to that position without opposition. T. M. Bartley has already been reelected secretary of the grand chapter and so far as known will have no opposition for secretary of the grand council.

Walter Griffith of De Leon was elected a member of the committee on work of the grand chapter, to fill the vacancy made by the election of John M. Weekley to be grand scribe.

Courts Adopt Severe Penalties in Cases of Reckless Driving

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—Heavier fines, jail sentences and trips through morgues and hospitals to view the dead and injured victims of reckless automobilists are becoming effective in many parts of the middle west to curb the steady mounting toll of automobile victims, a digest from the report of several states shows.

Fines alone, the reports indicate, are not proving effective. In Chicago and Cook county, despite heavy fines, the death toll in automobile accidents for the fiscal year ending November 30 was 736 lives, as compared with 660 last year and 542 the year before. There were 75 automobile deaths last month.

In Louisville fines also have failed, officials say. One police judge there imposed fines of $2 for each mile exceeding the limit per hour and adds jail sentences if the prisoner was intoxicated.

A successful campaign was launched at Detroit more than a year ago when Judge Charles L. Bartlett began sending speeders to jail for terms of from one to 15 days. Among those sentenced was John Duval Dodge, wealthy young man, who served five days.

Recently speeding returned to Detroit and Judge Bartlett began conducting the offenders through the morgues and hospitals to see the results of speeding. Arrests the week after the trips started dropped from 76 to 25.

In Cincinnati jail sentences have been invoked and in some cases drivers' licenses revoked.

Cleveland, with 116 deaths and 2,386 injuries in traffic accidents up to the middle of November, is employing workhouse sentences and morgue and hospital visits, as well as fines. Six speeders were sentenced to attend the funeral of a four year old victim of a speeder.

In Des Moines Police Chief John Hammond had ordered intoxicated drivers held without bail, while judges are adding jail sentences in many cases to heavy fines.

Judge George E. Mix of St. Louis, who asses as fines as high as $500, has added a traffic law school to his court. Speeders who admit they know the traffic ordinances draw heavy fines. Those who do not are required to sit down between two policemen and study it. When they can recite the entire law to the judge they get a lighter fine.

In Indiana the secretary of state has revoked six autoists' licenses on recommendations of courts, and has promised to continue his cooperation. Judge Delbert Wilmeth of the Indianapolis court has added jail sentences to fines on third convictions.

Kansas City has had occasional heavy fines and jail sentences, but no continued campaign against speeders. Police take license numbers of traffic law violators and on the third violation a fine of $25 is imposed.

Judge W. W. Wappick of Omaha takes groups of speeders to hospitals in the police patrol to see their victims and then assesses fines.

Judge Sylvester J. McAtee of San Francisco recently sentenced a speeder to sixty days in jail and announced he would continue a drastic campaign against traffic law violators.

Officials at Oklahoma City, Tulsa and Muskogee are warring on speeders. Twenty-two persons have been killed in Muskogee county and 11 at Oklahoma City this year.

The worst offenders in Dallas are light commercial trucks, according to Judge P. D. Crawford. He assesses fines up to $200.

BILL TO OPERATE MUSCLE SHOALS IS BEFORE CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—A government controlled corporation to produce nitrate for war purposes and cheap fertilizer for farmers was proposed today as a solution of the Muscle Shoals question by Representative Dickinson, republican, Iowa, a leader of the "farm bloc," who introduced a bill to put his plan into effect.

In a statement Mr. Dickinson said the Ford offer for Muscle Shoals had been subjected to "such strong criticism" as to endanger the future disposition of the plant and that he had been "led to the conclusion that some plan of federal operation is the only solution that will insure early completion" of the work.

Mr. Dickinson's bill provides that the "federal chemical corporation" consisting of the secretary of war, the secretary of agriculture and three members to be appointed by the president, be given power to complete and operate the muscle Shoals project for the manufacture of nitrate and fertilizer, the latter to be sold to the consumer at cost plus 4½ per cent to be added to provide funds to complete and equip the plants. No charge would be added for equipment already installed. The corporation also would be authorized to sell excess power to states, municipalities or private enterprises, giving preference to state and cities.

REPORT 38,826,195 GALLONS OF LIQUOR IN UNITED STATES

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—There were 38,826,195 taxable gallons of liquors in distilleries and bonded warehouses when the last count was made June 30 last, according to a table filed with the house appropriations committee by the bureau of internal revenue and made public today.

The amount under government control and guard was 2,433,204 gallons less than on the same date in 1921.

Here's how much there is:

Whiskey, 26,588,667 gallons; rum 384,011; gin, 987,884; high wines, 1,073; alcohol, 543,347. The amount of neutral or cologne spirits is not included in the grand total.

Dr. J. M. Doran chief of the bureau's industrial alcohol division, told the committee there were about 800,000 barrels of whiskey in 293 bonded warehouses, 190 of these warehouses being in Kentucky.

NINE MILLION FOR 'DRY' ENFORCEMENT LESS THAN IN 1922

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Nine million dollars for enforcement of prohibition or $250,000 less than authorized last year, is provided for in the 1923-1924 treasury supply bill reported by the appropriations committee today to the house.

The committee report stated that while the smaller amount would cause a slight decrease in the prohibition organization personnel, bureau officials did not believe the reduction will handicap their work to any appreciable extent, inasmuch as the actual cut in enforcement funds was only $108,000. A saving of $142,000 was reported.

The total for all purposes carried in the bill is $115,119,810, which is $3,725,018 less than last year and $2,712,858 below the budget estimate.

For collection of revenue customs the committee recommended $11,950,000, an increase over the current appropriation of $650,000.

For refund of taxes illegally collected the sum of $10,000,000 was recommended.

GENERAL DISCUSSION OF OIL INDUSTRY TO FEATURE MEETINGS

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 6.—The oil situation in various parts of the world as it affects international relations was the main topic of discussion today at the formal opening of the third annual convention of the American Petroleum institute.

A. C. Bedford, chairman of the board of directors of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, was to deliver the foremost address of the day, and it was said he would touch upon oil concessions which have occupied a prominent place in world politics.

Nomination of 20 directors by the board of councillors was the order of business this morning with the general sessions this afternoon.

Election of directors is scheduled for tonight when additional prominent personages in the oil industry are on the program to speak, including W. S. Parish, president of the Humble Oil and Refining company, whose subject is "Oil Production in the Southwest," and James J. McGraw, vice president of the Exchange National bank of Tulsa, Okla., on "Financing Oil Production."

PREPARE TO SPUD IN WELL EAST OF NOCONA

NOCONA, TEXAS, Dec. 6.—Two cars of drilling machinery has arrived preparatory to spudding in the Thomasson Mallory test east of Nocona one-half mile.

ASKS INVESTIGATION OF KLAN ACTIVITIES

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Investigation of Ku Klux Klan activities by a house committee which would be directed to "recommend, if necessary, proper disciplinary action," was proposed in a resolution introduced today by Representative Ryan, republican, New York.

OFFICERS BELIEVE MRS. PHILLIPS HAS GONE INTO MEXICO

HUSBAND STILL IN TECHNICAL CUSTODY OF THE POLICE.

RELATIVES EXPRESS SURPRISE AT ESCAPE

Feigned Illness to Gain Privacy While Filing Through the Jail Bars.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 6.—Search for Mrs. Clara Phillips, convicted of beating Mrs. Alberta Tremaine Meadows to death with a hammer and who escaped early yesterday from the Los Angeles county jail, was in active progress today throughout southern California and Lower California.

Sheriffs deputies generally held to their original belief that the "hammer murderess" had fled across the border into Mexico and plans were made to extend the search for her today as far south as Ensenada, on the west coast of the Lower California peninsula about 90 miles south of San Diego. San Francisco authorities were asked to join in the hunt.

Meantime, the border between the Californias, from Tia Juana, near San Diego, to the Arizona line, and especially at Calexico, Cal., and its Lower California neighbor, Mexicali, were being closely watched.

Armour Lee Phillips, the convicted woman's husband, upon whose story of his movements for 24 hours preceding his wife's escape "some doubt" had been cast, according to sheriff's deputies, was still in technical custody early today.

Although not placed in jail he was in charge of Frank Dewar, a deputy sheriff, with whom he slept last night and with whom he was to take his meals "until further notice," it was said.

Seek Peggy Caffee.

The exact whereabouts of Mrs. Peggy Caffee, former chum of Mrs. Phillips when they were members of the same musical comedy chorus and later star witnes for the state at Mrs. Phillips' trial, were unknown to the authorities early today. They said they were interested in learning where she was merely because they wanted to be secured of her safety. Various rumors were current about danger surrounding Mrs. Caffee after Mrs. Phillips escaped but officials said they were discounted by the discovery she had sent a telegram from Los Angeles to her husband at Long Beach, 20 miles from here, long after they were set in circulation. This telegram stated she was O. K. and promised "she would be home within an hour."

This promise was not kept, however, according to the officers, but they expressed no fear for her safety.

Receive Many Reports.

Since the escape, the sheriff's office and the police have received many reports that Mrs. Phillips had been seen at various places. One of the latest rumors which at first was regarded with extreme hope by Sheriff William I. Traeger, came in a telephone call from Long Beach.

It was a man who withheld his name but gave what he said was the street number of a house where he said Mrs. Phillips was in hiding. A posse, headed by the sheriff, rushed to Long Beach, only to find there was no such address. Efforts to trace the call was begun.

Relatives of Mrs. Phillips expressed surprise when informed of her escape, which, it was reported, was planned during a telephone conversation Monday afternoon when she was permitted to use a direct line from the jail without interference from authorities.

Later that night, it is said, she feigned illness to assure herself as much privacy as possible in filing through the bars of her cell window with files smuggled to her.

WELL ACROSS RIVER FROM MONTAGUE IS REPORTED PRODUCER

NOCONA, TEXAS, Dec. 6.—It is reported in oil circles in this city that the well drilling on the Oklahoma side of Red river, just north of the Producers' gas well in this county is an oil well at 1,500 feet. This well is said to be making from 50 to 100 barrels per day.

TOTAL DEPENDENCY NOT NECESSARY TO COLLECT LIABILITY

AUSTIN, Dec. 6.—Partial dependency is sufficient for recovery under the state employers' liability act, the supreme court held today in affirming the judgment of the commission of appeals in the case of the Lumbermen's Reciprocal association vs. G. R. Warner for the recovery of damages for the death of his son, Robert Warner. The judgment had been attacked on grounds that total dependency must be established before compensation can be obtained.

FOKKER MACHINE SIDESWEEPS MARTIN BOMBING PLANE WHEN FLIERS ARE 250 FEET IN THE AIR

NEWPORT NEWS, VA., Dec. 6.—Major Guy Gearheart of Leavenworth, Kan.; Captain Benton A. Doyle of St. Louis, Mo., and four enlisted men were killed at Langley field today when a Martin bombing plane carrying five of them and a Fokker scouting machine, piloted by Major Gearheart, collided about 250 feet in the air, both machines crashing to the earth in flames.

The enlisted men killed were Staff Sergeant Marsick, Cleveland; Private P. J. Blunka, Chicago; Private Thomas Jordan, Deepstep, Ga., Private Leon Rolas, Philadelphia.

The bomber was in the air when Major Gearhart took off in a Fokker. The lighter machine struck the tail of the bomber and both machines fell to the earth. Major Gearhart, Captain Doyle and Sergeant Marick were caught in the wreckage of the two machines and burned to death and Private Blunka and Jordan were killed almost instantly when they jumped.

Major Gearhart was from Leavenworth, Kan., and Captain Doyle from St. Louis.

JURY SELECTED IN GOV. RUSSELL CASE WITHIN AN HOUR

OXFORD, MISS., Dec. 6.—Selection of a jury in the trial of a suit for damages filed by Miss Frances C. Birkhead against Governor Lee M. Russell of Mississippi, was completed and trial of the case on its merits was begun within an hour after court convened today.

Under the agreed plan of selecting the jury, all of the questioning of the veniremen was by the court.

The jury finally selected was composed largely of men of middle age or older.

Governor Russell was in the court room during the selection of the jury. Miss Birkhead came to the court room during the reading of the pleadings and preliminary statements to the jury.

After presentation of the opening statements to the jury, court recessed until 2 o'clock.

Counsel for Miss Birkhead announced Governor Russell would be called to testify first—as an "adverse witness."

Shortly after the ruling by Judge E. R. Holmes late yesterday setting aside a demurrer in which the defense contended that the allegations made were insufficient to warrant the suit, calls were sent out for half a hundred witnesses to report here today.

In overruling the demurrer Judge Holmes held with the defense on one point; that a promise of marriage such as is alleged by Miss Birkhead to have been made to her by Governor Russell would not be void as an allegation as against public policy and such, the court ruled, may be treated as "surplusage."

The Mississippi chief executive denies all of the allegations made by the plaintiff.

FARMER IS SHOT ON DALLAS STREET DIES FROM WOUND

DALLAS, Dec. 6.—Will Nash, a farmer living between Garland and Reinhardt, was shot and injured seriously on Main street as he walked from a cafe this morning. J. B. Trigg of Grand Prairie was taken into custody by a deputy sheriff as Trigg was on his way to the court house after the shooting. Nash was taken to a hospital.

Several months ago Nash shot and killed his nephew, Russell Trigg, on a Dallas street. J. B. Trigg is the father of Russell Trigg. Six shots were fired at Nash today.

Nash died this afternoon. A charge of murder was preferred against Trigg and his bond fixed at $10,000.

PRESIDENT URGES THE ELIMINATION OF MADDEN SHIPPING AMENDMENT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Elimination of the Madden amendment to the shipping bill, giving congress control over the extension of government aid to shipping companies, was urged by President Harding in a letter written to Chairman Jones of the senate commerce committee and read to the committee today when it took up the measure.

ENTENTE PROPOSES PLAN FOR KEEPING DARDENELLES OPEN

PROVIDES FOR APPOINTMENT OF AN INTERNATIONAL COMMISSION.

UNITED STATES INCLUDED IN PLANS FOR CONTROL

Lord Curzon Presents Details of Project to Near East Conference.

By Associated Press.

LAUSANNE, Dec. 6.—The entente plan for keeping open the straits or the Dardanelles and the Bosphorus in time of peace and war provides for the appointment of an international commission of control composed of the great powers, including the United States, as well as Turkey and the countries bordering on the Black sea.

Lord Curzon of Great Britain in the name of the allies, presented the details of this comprehensive project to the near east conference today.

A change of front on the part of the Turkish delegates was forecast while the conference was in session. A Turkish spokesman outside the auditorium said that Turkish position on the straits control would probably be found nearer to the allied plan than to the Russian.

The Turks it appeared, had suddenly realized that the Russian plan for control by Turkish warships would force Turkey to build a navy. Hence doubts had arisen in the minds of the Turkish delegates, who seemed more disposed to negotiate a scheme for neutralization of the straits and the Black sea with some form of international control.

Allied Control Plan.

The allied control plan sets forth a scheme for limitation of the number of warships and total tonnage to be allowed in the waters under control and gives Turkey and the Black sea countries the right to say how long warships may remain in their ports.

The plan suggests the demilitarization of the straits. It also gives Turkey the right to search neutral merchantmen in time of war.

Delegate Barrere of France said the proposition registered an attempt to solve the straits problem without infringing upon the sovereignty of Turkey or that of any country bordering on the Black sea. Foreign Minister Tchitcherin of Russia opposed the allied proposal.

Adjournment was taken until Friday to permit the Turks to study the proposal.

Ambassador Child set forth the view of the United States independent of that of any other power. He said the United States holds that the straits and the Black sea must be open to ships and warships of all nations in the time of peace and of war and that it opposes any plan which would give one power control, just as it would in any other international water.

Listens With Interest.

In his speech Mr. Child said:

"I have listened with interest to the points of view of the various delegations on the subject of the straits and trust that a statement of the views of the American representatives will not be unwelcome.

"Our position is based upon the policy of our government which stands for complete and constant freedom without special privilege, for our commerce and for the commerce of other nations.

"The application of this policy to the question of the straits is not difficult. We desire for the good of our interest as well as for the good of all, including those peoples and nations that border on the Black sea, that nothing shall be done that will take from any of them—Bulgaria or Russia, the Ukraine, or Turkey, Rumania or Georgia—guarantees that they shall be accessible to the commerce of the world. Accessibility to that commerce is their right."

Ambassador Child said after the meeting that the statement of the American position was worked out quite independently of Lord Curzon's statement which he had never heard until it was presented today. The ambassador declared the British statement impressed him as quite liberal and not in conflict with the American position.

The general atmosphere of the conference was greatly cleared by today's developments.

J. LEE JORDON CHARGED WITH SLATON MURDER

FORT WORTH, Dec. 6.—L. Lee Jordan, accused of killing Shelton S. Forest, son of a prominent merchant of Slaton, yesterday has been taken to Lubbock and a charge of murder placed against him. The shooting occurred at the home of Forest's father at Slaton. The killing, it is said, arose from alleged attention paid Jordan's wife by Forest. Both families are prominent.

NOTED CONTRALTO IS EXPECTED TO RECOVER

GARDEN CITY, N. Y., Dec. 6.—The ultimate recovery of Mme. Ernestine Schumann-Heink, noted contralto, who is ill with bronchial pneumonia at her home here, was predicted today by her physicians. Her condition improved last night.

AFFIRM PENALTY OF DEATH FOR ALLEGED CRIMINAL ASSAULT

AUSTIN, Dec. 6.—The death penalty returned by the Colorado county district court against Ray Jones, on a charge of criminal assault upon Mrs. Lonnie Burnet in Gonzales county, August 20, 1921, was affirmed by the court of criminal appeals today when it overruled a motion for rehearing in the case.

The criminal court also affirmed the action of the Hill county district court in denying bail to John Wade, charged with the killing of his brother, Joe Wade, on August 5, 1922, as a result of a controversy over the settlement of an estate.

MORE COUNTERFEITING RESULT BOOTLEGGING IS SECRET SERVICE REPORT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—The bootleg liquor business has brought about a big increase in counterfeiting, much of which is the work of amateurs, W. H. Moran, chief of the secret service, told the house appropriation committee at hearings today.

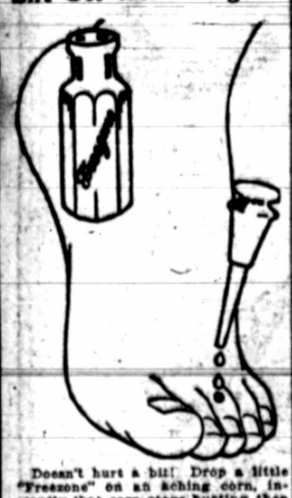

"We are just now very greatly troubled with some counterfeit bills of fair workmanship in the eastern half of the country," said Mr. Moran, "much of which is being used in the purchase of bootleg whiskey. On the Canadian border the counterfeiters are defrauding the people on the other side in the purchase of whiskey."

Illustrating the general use to which the spurious money is put, Mr. Moran mentioned two cases where $1,500 of counterfeit $20 and $50 federal reserve notes and $1,200 in raised federal reserve notes were paid for liquor for smuggling. The Canadian authorities, he added, were putting forth every effort to suppress it.

TEXAS FARMER-LABOR POLITICAL CONFERENCE IS NEW ORGANIZATION

FORT WORTH, Dec. 6.—After a prolonged session, which continued until early this morning, a non-partisan political conference which convened here yesterday, was reorganized into the Texas Farmer-Labor Political conference, and new officers elected.

They are: J. Lee Tarpley of Leonard, representing the farmers, chairman; J. C. Wells of Houston, representing the trainmen, vice-chairman, and M. S. Autelle Smart of Santo, secretary-treasurer. Members-elect of the executive committee are: J. W. McCullough of Birthright, O. J. Shoemaker of Denison, W. G. Johnson of Silsbee, S. L. Campbell of McKinney, and Miss Myrtle Berry of Dallas.

Every labor man in Texas will be invited to join the conference, it was said, but the organization will choose its representation from union members.

COMMITTEE OF FIVE TO HANDLE PUBLICITY

FORT WORTH, Dec. 6.—Going into executive session today, the farm-labor union authorized the appointment by President Fitswater of a publicity committee of five to issue all statements hereafter about the present conference. J. Neill of Gorman was named chairman, and to assist him were named J. W. Brock of Collin county, A. C. Howerton, W. D. Dial of Anderson county, and Guy C. Wallace of Oklahoma.

All doors leading into the convention hall were guarded and orders were given to admit no outsiders. The main business today was the appointment of committees, according to President J. Lee Tarpley of the Texas farm labor political conference and a member of the legislative committee of the farm-labor union.

Tarpley, just returned from Washington, where he returned with members of the farmers national council, reported a good meeting and the indorsement of the Norris-Sinclair bill to provide for direct marketing of farm products.

Shortly after midnight the non-partisan political conference, which is meeting in connection with the farm-labor convention, was reorganized into the Texas farm labor political conference.

CASSINA MAY SOON RANK WITH TEA AND COFFEE AS AN AMERICAN BEVERAGE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Cassina before long may rank with tea and coffee as a beverage in American homes and a new industry, which would benefit the south particularly, seems in prospect. W. G. Campbell, acting chief of the department of agriculture bureau of chemistry, reported today to the secretary of agriculture some facts on cassina which he says makes an excellent beverage.

"Investigation on a laboratory scale showed that a very delightful beverage resembling tea in many respects can be made from cassina, a wild plant that grows abundantly in the south Atlantic and Gulf states, from Virginia to Texas, when the leaves of the plant are treated by processes similar to those used in curing tea," says Mr. Campbell. "The cassina plant has been used to a limited extent by Indians and during the Civil war when tea and coffee could not be obtained, by people of the southern states to make a beverage."

Motion for rehearing overruled: Ray Jones (death), from Colorado.

NEW HIGH RECORD IS ESTABLISHED BY STERLING EXCHANGE

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—Sterling exchange established another new high record today, demand bills being quoted at $4.56½, or 1¼ cents over yesterday's top price. Steady improvement in Great Britain trade balance which has been accomplished by a balancing of its budget, a reduction in imports and an increase in exports was the only reason given by local bankers for the further strength of the London rate.

SEVEN LOCATONS MADE BY TEXAS COMPANY AT ELECTRA

From present indications the Texas company intends to keep up its big drilling campaign which has been going on for the past year. Last week the company's engineering corps made locations for seven new tests on the various leases throughout the Waggoner tract in the south Electra field.

The Highland Heights Civic league will meet Thursday at 3 o'clock at the Sam Houston school house.

APPEAL IS TAKEN FROM DECISION IN HUMBLE TAX CASE

AUSTIN, Dec. 6.—Appeal from the decision of Judge George Calhoun in the Travis county district court declaring the gross receipts tax law as applying to pipe line companies unconstitutional, was filed in the third court of civil appeals today by Attorney General Keeling. A motion to advance the case also was filed.

The decision of the district court was rendered yesterday in the case of the Humble Oil & Pipe Line company in which the state is attempting to recover $45,000 in gross receipts tax.

If Natural Gas Were New to You

Perhaps if natural gas were introduced into this community right now without previous experience with it locally, most of the troubles in connection with its use would not arise.

But the fact that it was originally a waste product, utilized at any price or by any method, has made people careless of its use and often unappreciative of its value.

Universal History

This community is not alone in this respect, for it has been the universal history of gas fields that when the supply had been developed into general use and became a true commercial proposition, the abuses that had grown up had to be checked in order to maintain good service.

Compare in your own minds the use of natural gas at present prices with how you will eventually use manufactured gas at double the price for half the heating value.

Maximum Results

When that time comes, you will use the best appliances possible, and you will study how to use them best. You will yourself eliminate all waste and use your best endeavors to get maximum results.

Wouldn't it be the wise thing to do that right now? Reasonable conservation will help you in that it will lessen your present bills, and will help the community, because it will make the supply go further.

Correctly used, natural gas is the best, most convenient and most economical fuel for household use.

VERNON ROTARIANS ENJOY A SPLENDID LUNCHEON PROGRAM

VERNON, TEXAS, Dec. 6.—The Vernon Rotary club enjoyed the most interesting meeting they have had for some time at their weekly luncheon at the Bailey hotel Tuesday noon. The entire meeting was turned over to one minute talks and each member not talking to his subject one minute was fined 50 cents by the chairman.

The meeting was opened by President Roy Killough calling on Needham Stokes to return thanks. The president called Needham, "Mr. Stokes" and fined himself 25 cents, the usual fine for such offenses. Roy Antle in introducing the man on his right as "Mr. Arturn Vernon" paid 25 cents before the chair had time to assess the usual fine. Andy Bourland returned his subject with 50 cents without making his speech, and Arthur being unable to speak the full minute paid his 50 cents.

The president had as his guest, Dr. R. E. Dickenson, pastor of the First Methodist church, who made a splendid short talk, and expressed his appreciation at being able to enjoy the fellowship of the Vernon Rotarians.

The program committee arranged a spoon lunch and everything was served backwards. The desert was served first, then the lunch and soup. The novelty of the affair was very much appreciated and was interesting and very amusing.

Each member had at his place a sealed envelope and when his name was called by the chairman he would rise, open his envelope and find his subject which he had not seen before and on which he was expected to speak one minute under the penalty of 50 cents if he failed.

The following is a list of the subjects and names of the speakers who took part in the program:

"Why and how I came to select Vernon as a location for my profession," Bab Babison.

"How can the Rotary club best serve Vernon in 1923?" Owen Brunson.

"What good, if any, have you gotten from your membership in this club," Andy Bourland.

"Tell us the most amusing thing you ever saw provided there is no reference made to sheep," Dick Coffee.

"Is a membership in the Rotary club worth the cost and why?" Barton Trammell.

"What do you regard as the most thrilling experience of your young life and why?" Bob Ferrell.

"When an irresistable force comes in direct contact with a movable body, what is the result?" Ed Dohoney.

"What is the meaning of the word Rotary?" Tom King.

"Do you think you could sing better with musical accompaniment? If so, what kind?" Needham Stokes.

"Does this program and lunch suit you, and if not, what's wrong?" Hub Colley.

"Do you put in as much as you get out of Rotary? If not, why not?" Charley Ladd.

"Do you think more singing would benefit the club?" Joe Sumner.

"What kind of a club would this club be if every member were just like me?" Cully Swartwood.

"Does it pay to adopt the Golden Rule in business? If so, how?" Will Lane.

"How can you tell to whom it is a good business policy to extend credit." Cy Long.

"How can a parent best control, support and educate the modern day boy or girl? Speaking from experience," Ed Haney.

"What benefit if any do the people derive from your business?" Myatt Napier.

"To what specific work can the individual Rotarian best apply himself for the best interest of this community." Emory Rhodes.

"Tell us your main talking point, if any, in your insurance work besides your $6 per," Luther Webb.

"What, if any, has been your greatest achievement in life and who knows about it?" Bill Bailey.

"What is the purpose of Rotary?" Tom Shive.

"Have you learned how to buy cotton on the low market and sell on the high market? If not, why not?" Roy Antle.

"What is the motto of Rotary?" Arthur Vernon.

"How can our club best furnish good cheer and Santa Claus for the poor children in Vernon?" Marshall Underwood.

LARGE GAS LIGHT IS INSTALLED AT M'LEAN

McLEAN, TEXAS, Dec. 6.—Permit has been received from the Smith No. 1 of the Harvey Oil company, located one mile north of the city of Alanreede, and the gas from the well has been piped to the main street of the city, and one large gas light has been installed which illuminates the entire town. This was done by the citizens of the town in their enthusiasm over the near completion of the well.

For about a month the well has been closed, pending the settlement of technicalities in the drilling contract. However, the work will be resumed in the near future, and the citizens of Gray county are most hopeful for the final discovery of a greater quantity of gas or for the discovery of oil.

Geologist and oil men declare that the well has thus far passed through the same formations through which the producing Gulf No. 2 in Carson county, has passed and that if it continues to follow these formations, that oil will be found around 3,200 feet. The well now stands at 3,108 feet.

WICHITA SINGERS RENDER A PROGRAM IN VERNON CHURCH

VERNON, TEXAS, Dec. 6.—Beauty and brilliancy characterized the sacred concert given by the choir of the First Christian church of Wichita Falls at the Central Christian church in Vernon Tuesday evening. The music lovers of Vernon enjoyed a rare treat, and one that will be long remembered when the visitors rendered the most artistic sacred concert ever heard in Vernon.

The Central Christian church was crowded to capacity and many were turned away for lack of room. The ushers placed chairs in convenient places and these were all taken. The visitors received a hearty welcome from those who attended the concert and a rising vote of thanks was given in response to the remarks of thanks and appreciation voiced by Rev. Louis P. Kolp, pastor of the local church. Before the concert the Wichita Falls singers were treated to a spread of good things to eat in the basement of the church, furnished and served by the ladies of the Central Christian church.

Dr. L. D. Parnell directed the choir and the wonderful music rendered by the singers is an evidence of the good work which he has done in training in concert work these beautiful voices. Mrs. Wayne Holmes, lyric soprano, took part in the trio with Messrs. Parnell and Ford. She also took part in the quartet with Mrs. Hancock and Messrs. Ford and Shepherd. Mrs. Holmes has a beautiful voice and the high notes were sustained clear and with volume rarely found in a lyric soprano. Mrs. Lee Clark rendered a beautiful soprano solo, which was well received. Mrs. Clark's voice deserves special mention, and the velvet quality on her high notes was a special pleasure to her listeners. Mrs. Hancock's wonderful contralto voice was appreciated by the audience, and her rich tones were very expressive.

Mr. Ford has a very pleasing voice and his work in the quartet and the trio gave him a chance to show its quality. R. E. Shepherd, who is a favorite with Vernon music lovers, has a beautiful tenor voice with range and a quality rarely found. His notes were clear and with volume when needed.

Many expressions were heard from those who attended the concert of the pleasure of the evening and the audience felt especially grateful to Mr. Wayne Holmes for his good efforts in bringing the choir to Vernon.

The following is the program rendered:

Te Deum (Frank); Sun of My Soul (Shelly); Quartet (Gallitee); Heaven Is Not Far Away (Wooler); Venite Eb (Wirtz); Solo; Babalon's Way (Gounard); Trio; Te Deum (Dudley Buck); Gloria (from the Twelfth Mass).

MUCH WILDCATTING IN YOUNG AND JACK

Number of Locations Have Been Made Result of Monroe Producer.

JERRON CITY, Dec. 6.—There is much wildcatting in northeastern Young, northwestern Jack and southeastern Archer counties, resulting from the shallow well of the Monroe Production company on the Graham Stewart land in the northern part of Young county. The Monroe well is reported a steady producer of 30 barrels from a sand at 820 feet. Several locations have been made in the immediate vicinity of this well. A standard rig has been erected on the Jim Dennis land, while star machines are making shallow tests for miles around.

The Mercer Oil corporation has two wells drilling and another rigging up just over the line in Jack county. The Mercer Pruett No. 1 is drilling. This well is in Jack county, two locations east of the Young county line. Their Hoeffle No. 1 is in Jack county, three miles southeast of Antelope. They are rigging up on their Henry Jackson lease four miles east of Antelope.

The Sun company Ferguson No. 1 seven miles northeast of Loving, is drilling around 3000 feet. The Bratcher No. 1 of the Revere two miles east of Loving is drilling around 2200 feet.

It is reported here that Amon G. Carter, vice president of the Worth-am-Carter Publishing company, has made two locations on his lease seven miles southeast of Loving. One is on the J. H. Rubenkoenig and one on the Sanders farm.

Corsicana Assists Boy Scouts

CORSICANA.—The boy scout work here is being sponsored by the Corsicana Rotary club and is reported to be making rapid preliminary progress. The administrative work is being done through and with the assistance of the various churches of the city. There will be at least one troop from each church. The churches of larger congregations will have several troops. The regional scoutmaster is expected here soon.

HALF THE FIGHT AGAINST ILLNESS

Keep the Liver Prepared to Do Its Duty in Cleansing the System. Black-Draught Will Help.

Kernersville, N. C.—Mrs. Wesley Mabe, who resides near here, says Thedford's Black-Draught is kept in her home all the time, since it has proved very valuable when used to correct derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels, and to help prevent sickness from developing from such conditions.

"For dizziness, headaches, colds, and similar troubles, Black-Draught is a wonder," according to Mrs. Mabe.

"It helps carry away bile and cold the easiest of any medicine I ever saw.

"I have used Black-Draught with my whole family, and will continue to do so, as it has proven its worth. We are glad to recommend Black-Draught. My health is just fine."

Black-Draught has been found a useful adjuvant in breaking up colds, when the use of a laxative or cathartic medicine is indicated. It acts upon the liver as a tonic, helping it to drive poisons and unhealthful matters from the system.

Biliousness, dizziness, coated tongue, bitter taste in the mouth, often warn you that your liver is out of fix. Don't neglect it. Prevention of illness is better than cure. Take Black-Draught, for your liver. Be sure you get Thedford's.

Most druggists sell Black-Draught.

TIMES' MAGAZINE AND WOMAN'S PAGE

Civic League Meeting, Business Women's Club Supper, and Bridge Parties Feature Tuesday Activity

The Civic League business and social meeting at the home of Mrs. J. A. Kemp Tuesday afternoon, the supper business and program meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club Tuesday evening, and the several regular weekly bridge club meetings during the day featured Tuesday's calendar in the department of women's activities.

A large and very much interested crowd of members attended the Civic League meeting in the afternoon, and enjoyed the social half hour as an accompaniment to the business session.

The principal discussion during the business session, which preceded the social half hour and followed a short session of the executive board, centered about the Christmas social service planned by the league, which is to be rather extensive this year. For, working in cooperation with the Welfare Council and Mrs. Goraline, the league plans to see that every child and every family within the city limits is remembered in Christmas fashion during the holidays.

By the plan, the names of individuals, especially children and needy families will be turned over to the league central committee—Mesdames C. E. Bailey and B. F. Johnson—by Mrs. Goraline, to whom such families are reported, and the central committee in turn will assign each case to an organization working in cooperation on the Christmas plan. Church societies, Sunday school classes and local men and women's clubs will cooperate with the league, and by means of one clearing house for the Christmas giving, it is believed that duplication as well as entire omission may be done away with. The gifts will be toys, food, clothing and whatever is most needed.

To Have a Tree.

The children of the Highland Heights community are to be complimented for their splendid work in the recent Thanksgiving cleanup in that section with a big Christmas tree in the school house, on which there is to be a gift for every child who has cleaned up his yard. Several hundred of the children, working in eight or ten blocks, have already cleaned up beautifully, but across the tracks there are many blocks which need attention, and the cooperation of the children is being asked.

Mrs. Isbell's Report.

Mrs. J. M. Isbell's report from the Houston Federation meeting was splendid and an inspiration to every member present. There were practical suggestions for work, and Mrs. Isbell stated that in her attendance on all meetings and section meetings she did not find representation of a single club in the whole state as well organized or attempting to do the same big civic work that the league is doing. The report was very much approved by the membership.

Health Work.

Mrs. J. W. Akin of the Health and Efficiency club was a guest and outlined the effective work her club is doing among a group of twenty-five or thirty women along the line of health. Mrs. Akin suggested that the club's success in one section of the city augured well for the establishment of a dozen or more such health center clubs over Wichita Falls, with a regular course of lectures on diet, exercise, etc.

Mrs. Walter Curlee turned over to the treasurer $319 which her committee cleared on the refreshment booth at the fair in October, as net proceeds. Mrs. Curlee also reported that the Boys and Girls' Creed placard, one of which is to be placed in every school room in the city, are ready for distribution and will be up before the holidays.

Social Half Hour.

The social half hour was a very delightful one, and attractively informal. Mesdames L. W. Perham and M. J. Gardner poured tea in the dining room, and Mrs. Joe Mayfield was assisted by Mesdames Van Wormer, Newton Maer and W. S. Langford in serving the tea and wafers. Mrs. Jerry Schaefer sang a solo, accompanied by Mrs. Collard at the piano, with the violin obligato by Miss Bailey, and Stanley Raub played several violin selections. The music was thoroughly enjoyed, the four artists being among the special musical favorites of the league.

ANOTHER "PEARL" IN THE BAPTIST Y. W. A.

The Y. W. A. of Lamar Avenue Baptist church met Tuesday evening and studied "Royal Law" from their textbook on "Royal Service," with Mrs. C. F. Boone leader. Miss Grace Pharies gave several musical selections and there were special talks.

Another "Pearl" was added to the four already reported from the class, in the list of members present, those including: Mesdames Boone and N. B. Rawls, Misses Pearl Bennett, Gwendolyn Bennett, Leo Marsh, Velma Marsh, Floy Vernon, Grace Pharies, Elizabeth Nicholson, Violet Merkle, Pearl Bryan, Hazel Waggoner, Leone Bryan, Irene Garner, Pearl Riddley and Pearl Copeland; and visitors, Riley Rawls, N. ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS
MAGICAL WISDOM
By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"How do you do, my de ars!" he said pleasantly.

The next person that the Green Wizard helped was one of the fairies.

Indeed, it was none other than Mr. Scribble Scratch, the thin school master of Meadow Grove School.

One day he met Nancy and Nick walking in Whispering Forest. He was on his way home to his little house by the bitter-sweet patch and he looked tired and discouraged. When he saw the Twins, his face brightened.

"How do you do, my dears!" he said pleasantly. "I'm glad to see you."

"We're pretty well, thank you," answered they. "And we're glad to see you, too. We hope you are well."

The schoolmaster sighed. "Just pretty!" he said. "I wish I had you back to help me."

"We're helping the Green Wizard," explained Nancy. "But perhaps we can come when—"

"The very thing!" said Mr. Scribble Scratch suddenly. "You can help me where you are. Will you ask the Wizard if he has such a thing as a magical wisdom cap? If I just had a wisdom cap, I'd be all right."

"Why, I thought you knew everything," cried Nancy astonished.

"La, me!" exclaimed Scribble Scratch. "I don't need a magical wisdom cap, my dear. It's my stupid pupils. If I had a wisdom cap, I'd give 'em each a turn wearing it. And then think how smart they'd be!"

"Why, that's a fine idea," said Nick admiringly. "We'll ask Mr. Green Wizard at once."

The Wizard did produce a magical wisdom cap and the Twins took it to Scribble Scratch who fairly cried for joy.

A week later the Twins, passing, saw a sign up which said, "School Closed!" There saf Mr. Scribble Scratch at his desk looking as forlorn as a rainy day.

"What can be wrong?" asked Nancy kindly.

"They all got so smart they knew everything," said the schoolmaster ruefully, "and now they won't come and I'm out of a job."

"Oh, don't worry," Nick assured him. "Give us the wisdom cap and we'll bring you a dunce cap instead."

Business Women Complete Plans For Big Carnival-Bazaar Saturday

Plans for the big Christmas Carnival Bazaar at the Y. W. C. A. Saturday evening were completed in every detail at the Tuesday evening meeting of the Business Women's club.

The chairmen emphasized the fact, in their reports, that the invitation to the entertainment and bazaar is open, and that the public is cordially invited to attend. Special entertainment and gift booths have been arranged for the children, it was stated, so that the invitation includes both grown ups and little folks.

Discussion of the carnival plans followed a musical program given by Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Pitman and arranged for by Mrs. Fred Barron. The club members were thoroughly delighted with the two entertainers, and called for encore after encore. Mrs. Pitman sang several numbers and Mr. Pitman played a beautiful piano number in opening. Afterward Mrs. Barron conducted a "sing song" which was enjoyed very much.

The musical program was preceded by a fifteen minute talk by Miss McCarthy, a national Y. W. secretary, whose intimate anecdotes and descriptions of foreign custom as observed by a Y. W. C. A. worker were especially interesting. Miss McCarthy is the guest of the Y. W. C. A. for a day or two.

Epworth Leaguers Have Big Party And Make Chewing-Gum Statuary

The Epworth League harbors some first class amateur sculptors, if sculp-ing can be stretched to include chewing gum statuary.

They demonstrated it Tuesday night at their kid party at the church, and while none of the statuettes have been offered for sale, it is understood they are going to be preserved until warm weather.

Prizes for proficiency in the interesting and original art were awarded Mrs. F. A. Farmer, who made a dun-colored figure that everybody recognized as a dog listening to "His Master's Voice;" Mrs. C. L. Williams, who made a complete and perfectly equipped turtle; Drummond Harris, who made a reg'lar feller of a mule, and Miss Ora Lee Smith, who made a chicken.

The leaguers and their friends enjoyed kid games, the girls unhampered by the long skirts of the present style, and group singing and charades. A special feature of the entertainment was the half dozen talks on selected subjects which were received with quite hilarious approval. Mrs. Clifford Deaton told how she managed her husband, R. W. McCullough how he had dodged the ladies so long, Mrs. F. A. Farmer discussed free trade, Mr. I. E. McWhorter told how he could endure the smell of Fort Worth from which he has just returned, Miss Hilda Masters told or tried to tell what has become of the teacher in calico sleeves, Murrell Hooper, who is frankly suspected of an entanglement, discussed "Love," and N. O. Holland made a few remarks on the free state of Ireland and its problems.

Nursery jingles were also enjoyed, impromptu. Refreshments of all day suckers, jaw breakers and ice cream cones were enjoyed by the following "kids:"

Messrs. and Mesdames Clifford Deaton, I. E. McWhorter, O. G. Scott, J. W. Thorne, J. M. Hooper, W. M. White, N. O. Holland, Carl Hare, A. L. Wilson, Herbert Wilson, T. A. Baggett, F. A. Farmer and L. S. Marlow; Mesdames C. M. Simpson, J. Pat Pope, C. L. Williams, Bob Taylor and Gunn; Misses Beulah Roos, Julia Rose, Josephine Fisk, Margaret Akin, Zona Wilson, Maye Frenslep, Vivienne Harris, Jim Covey, Lucile Campbell, Ora Lee Smith, Hilda Masters, Winnie Foster, Judith Sherrod, Ida Baggett, Audrey, Faye Darby, Exia Darby, Dolly Gage, Mabel Winfrey, Bonnie Rhoads, Myrtle Bowman, Jewel Rose Akin, Stella Holt, Olivia Harrison, Doris Ragland, Lora Hammersley, Sudie Hall, Jennie V. Shaw, Audrey Spyker, Helen Simpson, Elisabeth Simpson and Maude McClesky; Messrs. Herbert Wilson, A. H. Drake, Forest Hunter Williams, L. O. Doaness, Leonard Raggett, E. R. Highfill, Bill McClure, L. Haynes, Murrell Hooper, Roy Carter, J. D. Pinkston, Lee G. Ray, R. W. H. McCullock, Claude Simpson Jr., Evan Harris, Drummond Harris, Gordon Harris, E. C. Huckabee, M. P. Albritton, Virgil Oden and Franz Holm.

WINTER ILLS

The scientist was often puzzled to account for the efficacy of cod-liver oil. The discovery of vitamines has helped solve the riddle.

Scott's Emulsion

is rich in health-building vitamines and is a helpful factor in preventing the so-called "winter ills." It helps keep the vital forces of the body strong to resist disease.

RIBBON FROCKS LATEST THINGS

Ribbon, for centuries the symbol of honor and achievement, has for the first time been made the fabric of the costume. Fifth avenue is literally in ribbons, for the ribbon frock is seen in all smart restaurants and theatres.

Designers deny it is a whim.

"You don't call it a whim to wear a coat when it is cold," said one. "Neither it is a whim to wear a dress made of a fabric so becoming and adaptable that it can be fashioned to suit any type of figure."

Harry Collins, designer to Mrs. Warren G. Harding, declared the mode grew out of the nature of ribbon itself.

"A designer constantly studies materials. The idea of using ribbon to make the entire costume is, in my mind, one of the happiest inspirations of recent season."

The home dressmaker can purchase for about ten dollars enough ribbon to make an entire frock. It is more practical, as well as smarter, to use ribbon about four or five inches wide than very narrow or very wide ribbon.

The lines of the seams add grace to the frock, especially when hand sewn they add the softness of the effect.

We wish to thank the many friends for their kindness during the illness and death of the beloved wife of W. D. Acrey, and for the floral offerings.—W. D. Acrey and Relatives.—adv.

EDUCATION WEEK PROGRAM IS HELD BY SPEAKERS' CLUB

With "Education Week," the regular meeting of the high school Speaker's club was for the most part taken up with speeches on phases of this subject by members of the club and students in the public speaking classes of the school.

At 9 o'clock those students assigned to talk in the roll rooms were dismissed from the meeting and were allowed ten minutes in which to make their talks. The extempore speakers in the meeting were R. A. Stone on "Education, the Foundation of Good Citizenship"; Kenneth Barker, "America as an Educative Nation"; Bert Ripley, "Schools, the Foundation for Life"; Wilbur Carter, "Duties of Citizenship."

Following this was a reading by Miss Elizabeth Carrigan, a review of the football season by Captain William "Hunky" Walker, and a debate, "Resolved, That the Bible Should Be Studied in the Public Schools." Miss Hersula Johnson upheld the affirmative, while Miss Bertha Sommerville spoke for the negative. The decision of the judges went to the affirmative.

Preceding the program a brief business session was held, when it was decided to buy two pages in the Coyote, yearly high school publication, and that a group picture, instead of individual pictures, should be taken.

KATY SAFETY MAN TALKS WEDNESDAY AT LOCAL MEETING

"More accidents on railroads are caused from failure of man power than any one thing," declared C. F. Colby, representing J. L. Walsh, safety commissioner for the Katy, at the regular monthly meeting of the safety committee held in a car in the Katy yards Wednesday morning. "The large number of automobile accidents is a serious problem that is staring the whole world in the face. Statistics show that there is an automobile accident every five minutes in the day, and it is the duty of the various safety committees of the railroads to educate the public in these matters.

"It will be one of the greatest moves in the world when a system of educating the pupils of our schools will be included in the curriculum, on methods of safeguarding lives. We are glad to see inquiry coming through our office from Superintendent Lee Clark of the schools asking for information along this line. The duty of a railroad safety committee is to make safety first disciples and they in turn go out and spread the gospel of safety first.

"Not a man has been killed on this division of the Katy system this year," said Mr. Colby. "This is a splendid record."

Superintendent Grace, in attendance at the meeting, said that during the past eight years there was a decrease of 400 per cent in the number of employees killed on the Katy lines and this was all brought about through the work of the various safety committees.

ADOLPH MICHNA HELD ON CHARGE; MAKES $1500 BOND

Adolph Michna Wednesday afternoon waived hearing in the case against him and was released on bond of $1,500. Charges were filed against him last Monday and Wednesday noon, in company with his attorney, he entered the sheriff's office and asked permission to make bond.

At no time was he in custody of the officers. He was permitted to leave with his attorney and a few hours later returned with the proper signatures. The bond was signed by Emil and R. Michna.

Michna is charged with seduction. The defendant in this case is out under a two year suspended sentence following his conviction along with others on a charge of theft of some 500 barrels of oil from one of the large storage tanks in the northwest field. It was announced at the trial when the two year sentence was suspended that Michna paid the losers of this oil on the basis of what it was worth at the time it was taken.

Program Not Favored

WASHINGTOON. — President Harding has told inquirers that he is not in favor of a large public building program such as that provided for in the proposed omnibus public buildings bill. The president was said to have placed himself in the position of the private citizen who has the necessity for balancing his budget and in view of the present financial situation to have decided that the country did not favor a building program on a large scale.

ELECTRIC COMPANY GETS REVERSAL OF SCOTLAND VERDICT

The court of civil appeals at Amarillo Wednesday reversed and remanded for trial the case of A. L. Huey vs. Wichita Falls Electric company.

Mr. Huey, owner of Scotland addition, sued the company here in connection with its failure to provide electric light service for residences in the addition. A jury awarded him $14,000 damages and a mandamus was issued requiring the company to extend its service to Scotland addition.

While the case was on appeal the company extended its lines so as to serve part of the addition, this being done by order of the city council.

SERVICE TO START WEDNESDAY OVER NEW TRACTION LOOP

Preparations were completed Wednesday for inauguration of service Thursday over the new down town traction loop which uses Eighth street.

DR. A. C. PARKER, OF DALLAS, SPEAKS AT LION'S MEETING

Dr. A. C. Parker of Dallas addressed the Lions club at the Y. W. C. A. Wednesday on the work which the Dallas Civilian club was doing along lines of community betterment. Dr. Parker told in a brief way the part which his organization had taken in helping finance athletes who were working their way through the University of Dallas and Southern Methodist University.

"The most constructive charity and effective philanthropy is that which shows the object of charity a way in which to help themselves," Dr. Parker said, "this is the policy which our organization has pursued and found satisfactory."

J. E. Lewis, state secretary of the boy's Y. M. C. A., was a guest of the club and spoke briefly on the work that was being done in this state on the older boys movement. Mr. Lewis said there were three classes of boys which his organization had to deal with: The privileged, or the boys between 15 and 20 who have been allowed to continue their school work; the employed or the boys who have been forced to leave school and take up some sort of trade, and the underprivileged, or the boys who are in state reform schools and penal institutions. He cited several instances in which his organization had been successful in helping boys of this age in choosing a profession and planning their life work.

William Bascopi, the young Bolivian tenor who is a member of the "Naughty, Naughty" company which is filling an engagement at the Wichita theater, furnished the musical program for the club. Mr. Bascopi sang "La Paloma," and encored with "Old Pal"; he was accompanied by Frank F. Loew.

VERDICT FOR BANK GIVEN IN SUIT FOR $40,000 DAMAGES

A jury in the 89th district court Wednesday found for the Wichita State Bank and Trust company in the suit brought by I. S. Slade for $40,000 damages. The suit was the outgrowth, as alleged by the plaintiff, as the result of a transaction which he contended showed negligence on the part of the bank. The transaction was the payment of a note, in which he tendered a check, and which was turned down by the bank notwithstanding the fact the plaintiff alleged that he had sufficient funds to cover the amount. It was also testified to that the plaintiff was indicted for swindling by check. It was for malicious prosecution that he sought damages.

C. A. Braunner, general agent of the passenger department of the New York Central lines, with headquarters in Dallas, is a local business visitor.

Pistol Wasn't So Bad But a Hammer? He Left

A negro filed suit for divorce in the 30th district court Wednesday in which he alleges that his wife had threatened to commit all sorts of atrocities and that because he feared that his life was in danger he left. He asks for a decree of complete separation.

He states in his petition that on March 1, 1922, he and the defendant were united in marriage. After three months things changed. On or about June 1, he states she cursed him, struck him with her fist and started after a pistol. He quietly made his exit, but returned later.

The next outbreak he relates occurred on November 6 when after the usual method pursued, which consisted of free application of vile epithets and both open and clinched fists, she left the room, threatening to return with a hammer and ending it all as far as he was concerned.

He contends that when she said "hammer" that he quickly made his departure and has not returned since.

M. A. Greeding, general agent of the New York Central lines, with headquarters in Dallas, is a business visitor in the city.

H. N. Roberts, traffic manager of the Southern, returned Tuesday from a meeting of the Texas Tariff Bureau held at Dallas.

DON'T FUSS WITH MUSTARD PLASTERS!

Musterole Works Without the Blister—Easier, Quicker

There's no sense in mixing a mess of mustard, flour and water when you can easily relieve pain, soreness or stiffness with a little clean, white Musterole.

Musterole is made of pure oil of mustard and other helpful ingredients, combined in the form of the present white ointment. It takes the place of mustard plasters, and will not blister.

Musterole usually gives prompt relief from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsilitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest (it may prevent pneumonia), 35c and 65c, jars and tubes.

Thin? Run-down? Sure Way to Get Right Weight

Increase Your Red-Blood-Cells. That's the Sure Way! S. S. S. Builds Blood-Cells; This Means Strength!

Do you know why insurance companies refuse to insure a great many men because they are under weight? Simply because to be under weight often proves low fighting-power in the body. It often means you are minus nerve-power, minus red-cells in your blood, minus health, minus energy, minus vitality. It is serious to be minus, but the moment you increase the number of your red-blood-cells, you begin to become plus. That's why S. S. S., since 1826, has meant to thousands of underweight men and women, a plus in their strength. Hollow cheeks fill out. You step being a calamity-looker. You inspire confidence. Your body fills to the point of power, your flesh becomes firmer, the age lines that come from thinness disappear. You look younger, firmer, happier, and you feel it, too, all over your body. More red-blood-cells! S. S. S. will build them. Ladies and gentlemen, a peaky, bony face doesn't make you look very important or pretty, does it? Take S. S. S. It contains only pure vegetable medicinal ingredients. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores in two sizes. The larger size bottle is the more economical.

HAIL THE IRISH FREE STATE.

Hail the Irish Free State. May it live and prosper and bring peace to a strife torn people.

The Irish Free State came into being Wednesday. It found itself opposed by scattered armed groups in Ireland with Dublin under virtual martial law, but those who oppose the new order are a small minority and it is the announced purpose of Timothy Healy, governor general of the new state, to give protection against violent efforts of this minority and at the same time to attempt to win them over by peaceable means.

Governor General Healy has outlined the policy of the new government to be:

Restoration of Anglo-Irish friendship; harmonization of Ulster and the Free State and suppression of internecine warfare.

If the new government can do these things it will certainly end the ills from which Ireland has long suffered and will make the Irish a happy people on their historic isle. May all its proper efforts be successful.

SENATOR SHEPPARD AND THE PROGRESSIVE BLOC.

Senator Sheppard has aligned himself with Senator LaFollette's progressive bloc and has been appointed on one of the important committees of the bloc. The junior Texas senator evidently believes the bloc will be an effective organization through which progressive legislation may be enacted. It does appear to be a formidable group, though falling far short of a majority.

The bloc has adopted a rather high sounding declaration of purpose and is now ready to go, but whither? Its membership embraces some very radical legislators with as many different ideas as they are radical and when it comes to a legislative program there is certain to come a hitch. There is a "lunatic fringe" about the bloc just as there was about the new party which Theodore Roosevelt attempted to organize, and this fringe is likely to bring embarrassment to more conservative members like Senator Sheppard.

Somehow there is a feeling that Senator Sheppard has gotten into strange company for a Texas democrat. It may be all right and then again it may be embarrassing.

AMARILLO TRIBUNE SOLD.

The Amarillo Tribune, an afternoon and Sunday morning newspaper published at Amarillo, has been sold on a foreclosure sale to an Amarillo bank, which bought the paper for the protection of its own interest as a creditor. The Tribune was launched several years ago by R. H. Nichols and associates. Mr. Nichols was an experienced newspaper man and began the publication of the Tribune in a splendid plant and got out a fine newspaper but the patronage was not sufficient to support it, so that a foreclosure sale was the result. It is understood that the publication of the paper will be continued under the management of Mr. Nichols for the present at least.

WILBARGER PREPARES FOR MORE PAVING.

The Wilbarger county commissioners' court has awarded the contract for the grading of five more miles of the Colorado-to-the-Gulf highway in Wilbarger county preparatory to paving. The greater part of the five miles will be between Vernon and Electra, bringing the Wilbarger and Wichita county paving that much closer to a junction.

The time will come when there will be a paved or macadamized highway from Fort Worth far into the Panhandle. The better roads movement is infectious. Even Clay county will catch it some day.

An Illinois motorist ran his car onto the sidewalk the other day and got his man. In Texas we believe in giving the pedestrian a chance, no matter how small. It is the rule here to let them get three feet from the curb before running them down.

A SUNSET ON THE DESERT

I have been reading all afternoon, so I did not note that the day had begun to wane.

I looked out of the window—and there in the west was one of the rare sights of beauty one gets in this rare country of dreams.

The sun had already crept behind a great rocky mountain—one of a chain extending as far as the eye could see, far into Mexico.

Above was an extended cloud, dark at the edge but fading upward into grayish light. Below was a picture resembling a great fire, fully ablaze. To the left a marvelous fan-shaped group of clouds shot into the heavens, like the fingers of a hand, or a spreading wing, each separate cloud tapering until it became lost in the pale blues beyond. And this remarkable formation was shaped at its lower side in a half circle, like an umbrella over the sinking sun.

I watched and each moment a change took place—each moving mass of color more beautiful than the last.

I was lost. I crossed the great plains of sagebrush and cactus. I climbed the rugged rocks. My eyes were riveted to this incomparable scene. Gold-yellows, crimson, fire-reds, purple—playing and dancing out there!

But soon all this glorious color melted into the night. I looked to the other side of the sky and saw stars in a heaven of velvet, like diamonds on a rampage.

And folks say that there is no God! Where do the sunsets come from, then?

I turned to my book again. But I could not bring my thoughts back from their setting way out there in the distant sky.

Then the stranger beside me spoke!

"Isn't this the most forlorn God-forsaken country you ever saw?" I made no answer but merely smiled and said that I though it was time for me to go to bed—where dreams are fed.

HIS SERVICE

He would have said: "I've never done a thing.
When brains were handed out I wasn't there;
Some fellows write and some are born to sing,
And others climb in planes and ride the air.

"God made me out of odds and ends, I guess,
The leavings from a batch of clay He used;
I seem to lack the genius for success
By which the world might gain or be amused.

"There wasn't any flavoring of skill
Nearby which He could drop into the mold,
I was the bit of pastry, fashioned ill,
That's given to the children when it's cold."

He couldn't write or paint or make a speech,
Nothing he's done has ever brought him fame,
He had no gifts the heights of Life to reach,
Yet he shall be remembered just the same.

His years were filled with kindly little deeds,
He gave, cheered, helped and comforted and soothed;
His was the service Life so often needs,
In little ways the rugged paths he smoothed.

He'd take the burdens from you with a smile
And call it nothing, in his modest way;
He thought success was brilliance or style,
And kindness but the duty of the day.

He thought so little of the joys he gave
That he would be astounded could he know—
Now that the earth has closed upon his grave—
How many friends he had who miss him so.

Tips on Wedding Etiquette

By KITCHEL FIXLEY
(Our Own Special Correspondent)

MOGADOR, Dec. 5.—One of your lady "Constant" readers has got yours truly mixed up with your Cynthia Gray, I guess, for I get this with "urgent desire for a speedy answer," towit:

"Are such songs as 'Oh! promise me,' sung just before the bride enters the room?"

Cynthia's mail is out of whack, it seems, and I aint a fellow to let a lady go thirsty for a "speedy answer."

Such songs as "Oh! promise me" are sung a long time, and frequent, before the bride blushes up to the altar, beginnin' right after the bridegroom has knelt at the lady's feet, slipped a $2 ring on her finger and announced that he and all he has are hers. From that point till after the weddin' he's apt to hear "Oh! promise me" forty or fifty times.

In most cases that song has a cold water effect on him when again sprung just before the bride enters the room, and there are other songs just as songful and with more variety.

In a long married life I've learned that hurlin' appeals for promises at a fellow grows monotonous, subg. spoken or written.

But your lady "Constant" reader is right in wantin' to feel proper and safe about the bridal song. Not everything will do, sure enough. I remember that just as Spinster Polly Dobbs, age 39, hair red, cross-eyed and bow-legged far as one could see in her flapper trousseau, entered to join hands with Postmaster Gibbs' half-witted son, John, our male Beethoven Quartett struck up "Johnny get your gun."

The effects was gloomy all through the ceremonies.

Polly like to have witted and John had wits enough to be so rattled that he kissed Pastor Jones instead of his bride, when the minister pronounced "She's yourn."

YOU AND I

POORER.

As predicted many times in this paper, national taxes continue falling off. From June to November Uncle Sam collected only about $712,000,000 from taxpayers, compared with $1,120,000,000 in the corresponding four month a year ago.

This means, tax payments are decreasing $300,000,000 a year.

Unless congress cuts its spending accordingly, Uncle Sam might as well pick out a room in the poorhouse.

CURE.

Many were shocked because the Greeks executed the officials who got them into the disastrous war with the Turks. It's "done and gone," though, and opinions cannot bring the corpses back to life.

Having had time to think it over it may have occurred to you that it probably will be some time before other Greek officials decide to lead their nation into another war.

SLAUGHTER.

Clemenceau, visiting Chicago, was shown the art exhibits. Then they took him to the stockyards. Thus he saw the two extremes of civilization. That's the trouble with keeping one's artistic senses alive—there's always a slaughterhouse just around the corner.

The pleasant things of life are the hartest of the disagreeable things. Sweet babies are possible only by terrible ordeals for the mothers. Pleasure is fleeting, hard work is long. We toil hours for the pleasures of minutes. The whole system is an art museum supported by stockyards.

Texas Viewpoints

Where the Tax Money Is Going.

Fort Worth Record: Our taxes ought to be a third of what they are. That is the statement of Frank H. Regan, tax expert. It is something with which very few of us will quarrel. What we want to know is how to bring the huge tax bills down to reasonable levels. Mr. Regan tells us, but he leaves the job up to us, as is proper. But if we do no more than we have for centuries we will go on paying higher and higher taxes till the end of time. One-third of our taxes are caused by the failure to assess all taxable property or to assess it correctly. Another third are the result of waste and graft. The answer is simple. Assess property correctly, find all taxable property and cut out the waste and graft. But those things demand a higher standard of public service and a greater interest in their government on the part of the citizens. The padded rolls of the cities, the states and the federal government are one cause of high taxes. They are not only bad in themselves, but officials and clerks represented in this surplus of personnel all create expense and have their pet hobbies, for which they find it easy to get legislative appropriations. Property missed in the assessment is common. Mr. Regan told of discovering $46,000,000 in unassessed and untaxed property in one American city of only 50,000 inhabitants. We recall one smaller American city which has to this day no proper maps and in which there are many pieces of property never taxed. The tax problem of this country is becoming acute. Taxes are oppressive on the people, and they are the cause of much unrest. They not only handicap the average man, but they handicap business and so affect both commerce and employment. And there seems to be no end to the invention of ways to spend money and methods of extorting taxes from the people. There will be no end until our taxation is placed upon a scientific basis, until assessment and tax levies are accomplished in a fair and business-like manner, until equalization of taxation is secured. And we can expect none of these things and no relief until we raise our standards of public service and demand and pay for intelligent and well-trained officials. As a foundation for this, we must have a citizenship that will give of its time and thought to the duties and problems of government.

LITTLE BENNY'S NOTE BOOK

By LEE PAPE

TIME

There is 24 hours in every day, even the days that seem like less and including the ones that seem like more, and if you know how to tell time all you haff to do is look at a clock and find out which one of the 24 it is rite then, only it may not do you eny special good to find out, on account of most people just looking at the time to practice telling it and satisfy their curiosity.

Some clocks are more bewtifill than others, depending on how much there is to them besides their face. Some big clocks have little bits of faces and it dont do you eny harm to look at them even if they are stopped, because at least you are sure to see the decorations, wile some little clocks have nuthing at all to go with their face, such as alarm clocks. Nobody wants to look at a alarm clock when its not going and most people even hate to heer them wen they are going.

But the most important thing about a clock is weather its rite or not, because if a clock is slow or fast it ony tells you wat time it would be if it was erlier or later, wich its not, and if a clock aint going it ony tells you wat time its was wen it stopped.

Watches are a grate invention because they prevent people from having to carry erround clocks. All you haff to do to find out wat time it is eny hour of the day or nite is ask a man with his watch chain showing and he'll tell you unless he has a key on the end of it.

Big cheep watches are the most convenient because youre not disapointed wen you look at them and see theyre not going, on account of you having knew it enyways because of the sudden silence. They are also a grate comfort to poor people because when they are alone in a dark room with a big cheep watch they can imagine they got a clock.

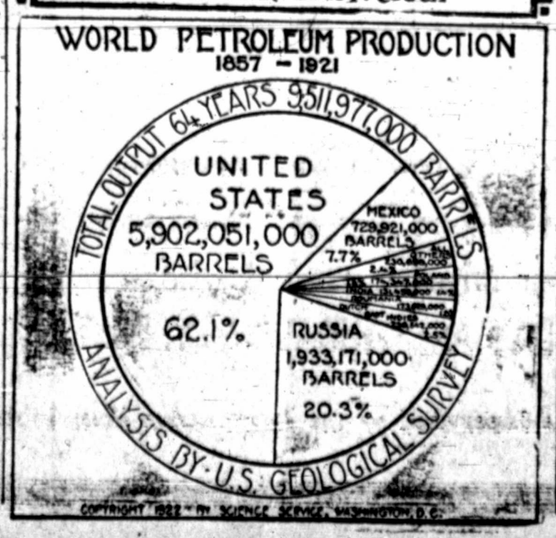

MAIL YOUR PACKAGES EARLY IS REQUESTED

ELECTRA, TEXAS, Dec. 6.—Postmaster "Pop" Richardson has issued a "mail your packages early" request because the holiday rush of mail has already begun here. The postoffice facilities are inadequate, and with a force not sufficient to care for the postal needs before the holiday rush, Postmaster Richardson can not promise prompt service during the holiday season, he says, unless patrons of the offices cooperate with him in every way possible.

Every effort is being made to secure more help and larger facilities for handling the mail of Electra and the adjacent oil fields.

THE FORTUNE TELLER

CHAPTER II

"And now, sir," continued the Englishman, turning to my father, "we will inquire into the theft of this instrument."

But my father did not appear to notice Mr. Gosford. He seemed perplexed and in some concern.

"Lewis," he said, "what is your definition of a crime?"

"It is a violation of the law," replied the lawyer.

"I do not accept your definition," said my father. "It is, rather, I think, a violation of justice—a violation of something behind the law that makes an act a crime, I think," he went on, "that God must take a broader view than Mr. Blackstone and Lord Coke. I have seen a murder in the law that was, in fact, only a kind of awful accident, and I have seen your catalogue of crimes gone about by feeble men with no intent except an adjustment of their rights. Their crimes, Lewis, were merely errors of their impractical judgement."

Then he seemed to remember that the Englishman was present.

"And now, Mr. Gosford," he said, "will you kindly ask young Marshall to come in here?"

The man would have refused, with some rejoiner, but my father was looking at him, and he could not find the courage to resist my father's will. He got up and went out, and presently returned followed by the boy and Gaeki. The old country doctor sat down by the door, his leather case of bottles by the chair, his cloak still fastened under his chin. Gosford went back to the table and sat down with his writing materials to keep notes. The boy stood.

My father looked a long time at the lad. His face was grave, but when he spoke, his voice was gentle.

"My boy," he said, "I have had a good deal of experience in the examination of the devil's work." He paused and indicated the violated room. "It is often excellently done. His disciples are extremely clever. One's ingenuity is often taxed to trace out the evil design in it, and to stamp it as a false piece set into the natural sequence of events."

He paused again, and his big shoulders blotted out the window.

"Every natural event," he continued, "is intimately connected with innumerable events that precede and follow. It has so many serrated points of contact with other events that the human mind is not able to fit a false event so that no trace of the joiner will appear. The most skilled workmen in the devil's shop are only to give their false piece a blurred joiner."

He stopped and turned to the row of mahogany drawers beside him.

"Now, my boy," he said, "can you tell me why the one who ransacked this room, in opening and fumbling the contents of all the drawers about, did not open the two at the bottom row where I stand?"

"Because there was nothing in them of value, sir," replied the lad.

"What is in them?" said my father.

"Only old letters, sir, written to my father, when I was in Paris—nothing else."

"And who would know that?" said my father.

The boy went suddenly white.

"Precisely!" said my father. "You alone knew it, and when you undertook to give this library the appearance of a pillage room, you unconsciously endowed your imaginary robber with the thing you know yourself. Why search for loot in drawers that contained only old letters? So your imaginary robber reasoned, knowing what you know. But a real robber, having no such knowledge, would have ransacked them lest he miss the things of value that the searched for."

He paused, his eyes on the lad, his voice deep and gentle.

"Where is the will?" he said.

The white in the boy's face changed to scarlet. He looked a moment about him in a sort of terror; then he lifted his head and put back his shoulders. He crossed the room to a bookcase, took down a volume, opened it and brought out a sheet of folded foolscap. He stood up and faced my father and the man about the room.

"This man," he said, indicating Gosford, "has no right to take all my father had. He persuaded my father and was trusted by him. But I did not trust him. My father saw this plan in a light that I did not see it, but I do not oppose him. If he wished to use his fortune to help our country in the thing which he thought he foresaw, I was willing for him to do it.

"But," he cried, "somebody deceived me, and I will not believe that it was my father. He told me all about the thing. I had not the health to fight for our country, when the time came, he said, and as he had no other son, our fortune must go to that purpose in our stead. But my father was just. He said that a portion would be set aside for me, and the remainder turned over to Mr. Gosford. But this will gives all to Mr. Gosford and leaves me nothing!"

My father handed the paper to Lewis, who unfolded and read it aloud.

Then he came forward and put the paper in my father's hand. There was silence except for the sharp voice of Mr. Gosford.

"I think there will be a criminal proceeding here!"

My father handed the paper to Lewis, who unfolded it and read it aloud. It directed the estate of Peyton Marshall to be sold, the sum of fifty thousand dollars paid to Anthony Gosford and the remainder to his son.

"But there will be no remainder," cried young Marshall. "My father's estate is worth precisely that sum. He valued it very carefully, item by item, and that is exactly the amount it came to."

"Nevertheless," said Lewis, "the will reads that way. It is in legal form, written in Marshall's hand, and signed with his signature, and sealed. Will you examine it, gentlemen? There can be no question of the writing or the signature."

My father took the paper and read it slowly, and old Gaeki nosed it over my father's arm, his eyes searching the structure of each word, while Mr. Gosford sat back comfortably in his chair like one elevated to a victory.

"It is in Marshall's hand and signature," said my father, and old Gaeki nodded, wrinkling his face under his shaggy eyebrows. He went away still wagging his gribbled head, wrote a memorandum on an envelope in his pocket, and sat down in his chair.

My father turned now to young Marshall.

"My boy," he said, "why do you say that someone has deceived you?"

"Because, sir," replied the lad, "my father was to leave me twenty thousand dollars. That was his plan. Thirty thousand dollars should be set aside for Mr. Gosford, and the remainder turned over to me."

"That would be thirty thousand dollars to Mr. Gosford, instead of fifty," said my father.

"Yes, sir," replied the boy; "that is the way my father said he would write his will. It is fifty thousand dollars to Mr. Gosford, and the remainder to me. If it were thirty thousand dollars to Mr. Gosford, as my father said his will would be, that would have left me twenty thousand dollars from the estate; but giving Mr. Gosford fifty thousand dollars leaves me nothing."

"And so you adventured on a little larceny," sneered the Englishman.

The boy stood very straight and white.

"I do not understand this thing," he said, "but I do not believe that my father would deceive me. He never did deceive me in his life. I may have been a disappointment to him, but my father was a gentleman." His voice went on strong and clear. "And I refuse to believe that he would tell me one thing and do another!"

One could not fail to be impressed, or to believe that the boy spoke the truth.

"We are sorry," said Lewis, "but the will is valid and we cannot go behind it."

My father walked about the room, his face in reflection. Gosford sat at his ease, transcribing a note on his portfolio. Old Gaeki had gone back to his chair and to his little case of bottles; he got them up on his knees, as though he would be diverted by fingering the tools of his profession. Lewis was in plain distress, for he held the law and its disposition to be inviolable; the boy stood with a fine defiance, ennobled by the trust in his father's honor. One could not take his stratagem for a criminal act; he was only a child, for all his twenty years of life. And yet Lewis saw the elements of crime, and he knew that Gosford was writing down the evidence.

The concluding installment of "The Fortune Teller" will be published in our next issue.

HIGHWAY SIGNS ON ROADS TO ELECTRA

Four 7x25 Feet Will Be Erected By the Chamber of Commerce.

ELECTRA, TEXAS, Dec. 6.—As a part of trade extension plans which have been fathered by the chamber of commerce and agriculture four signs each seven by 25 feet will be erected across the main thoroughfares entering Electra. On one side will be the words, "Welcome to Electra; A Good Place to Trade." On the reverse side will be, "Thank You; Come Again." The boards will be swung 16 feet over the highways and will be suspended from six-inch pipe set in concrete footings.

The usual monthly trade day which has been observed the first Saturday in each month since February, and for which the merchants signed up for another 12 months, following a recent address by H. C. Burke Jr. of Fort Worth, on trade extension, was passed during the current month. It will be taken up again after the first of the next year.

FUNERAL OF FELIX A. DAVIS AT TOLBERT WEDNESDAY

CHILLICOTHE, TEXAS, Dec. 6.—The funeral of Felix A. Davis will be held at Tolbert, 16 miles east of here, Wednesday at 2 p. m., after which his remains will be buried in the Tolbert cemetery.

Deceased was 56 years of age and his death occurred near Paducah Monday, December 4. His body was brought here by the Geeo Undertaking company and held for the funeral. He is survived by two children, a boy and a girl and relatives in Chillicothe, where he had lived for many years before moving to Paducah.

QUANAH TEACHER WEDS AT ABILENE

E. A. Sanders and Miss Eula Kirkley United in Marriage Sunday.

QUANAH, TEXAS, Dec. 6.—Quite a surprise wedding of interest to Quanah people was solemnized at Abilene Sunday when Miss Eula Kirkley of Abilene was quietly united in marriage to Mr. E. A. Sanders of Quanah. Rev. G. A. Klingman, pastor of the Christian church at Abilene, performed the ceremony at his home. Only the very closest friends of the couple were present. The two have been good friends for some time, but no one anticipated the wedding at such an early date.

Mr. Sanders is a teacher of history in the high school here and has just completed the season as coach of the local high school football team. He is a very popular teacher and the news of his marriage had already spread before the couple arrived here Sunday night.

A rice party met the train that they were due on, but the bride and groom did not appear when the train arrived. Some time later they showed up in a service car from Chillicothe and clearly evaded the gang. Missed connections, however, saved the day unintentionally for them.

Mr. and Mrs. Sanders have rooms at the home of Mrs. A. J. Bald until the end of the school term. A number of showers are hastily being prepared for them.

FOUR PATROLS NOW AT WORK ON ROADS PLACING SHOULDERS

The four patrol gangs which constituted the maintenance gang for the 68 miles of concrete pavement in the county are busily engaged in placing gravel shoulders on all the paved highways.

County Engineer J. M. Isbell attaches a great deal of importance to these various patrols and their work. Each one of the patrols is placing approximately a half mile of shoulder each day. The patrols of Wichita Falls and Iowa Park are using local gravel while gravel for the Electra and Burkburnett gangs is being shipped in.

At the same time that the gangs are engaged in doing this work they are making a daily inspection trip over their particular specific section of the road, repairing any small breaks that may appear.

WORKERS COUNCIL OF VERNON METHODISTS PLAN FOR CHRISTMAS

VERNON, TEXAS, Dec. 6.—A very interesting meeting of the workers council of the Methodist Sunday school teachers was held at the Methodist church on Tuesday evening. Several teachers spoke on the subject, "What do we sell in our school." A very interesting talk was made by Dr. R. E. Dickenson, the pastor. Plans were discussed for Christmas. Christmas trees will be had in the primary, beginners and junior departments, and the rest of the school will have a "white Christmas." Decorating committees have been appointed and Mrs. R. E. Dickenson and Mrs. Babison and Mrs. Stuckler will have charge of the plans for the "white Christmas." Also there will be a Vesper service at 6 p. m. Christmas eve, and a pageant will be given Sunday evening.

The Sunday school will have a special study course given in January for two weeks. It will be on the teachers training work and Dr. Pepper of Memphis, Tenn., has been invited to speak one evening to the workers.

The meeting was well attended and the workers seem very much interested in their work.

CASE AGAINST TWO YOUNG MEN AFFIRMED BY COURT

The case against E. H. Minor and D. L. Greer, two young men who were found guilty of the charge of receiving and concealing property stolen from interstate shipment, was affirmed by the court of criminal appeals at New Orleans. The mandate was received by United States Commissioner J. A. Lantz Tuesday afternoon. Both were sentenced to 18 months in the penitentiary at Leavenworth. The men have been placed under arrest and arrangements are being made for their transferral to that place. Two others who were tried at the same time, in December, 1921, have served their time and have been pardoned.

WE'RE SPREADING THE NEWS FAR AND NEAR

"Saul Puts on a Sale"—A great store-wide, timely sale, with value offerings bigger, better, greater than even Saul himself has ever offered before. Do you wonder we expect to have to regulate the crowds at the door? Do you wonder we expect to break all selling records during these 14 days?

SAUL LEBENSON

is a great game for one who likes it! It's just the right kind of "Sport" for me. I feel like there would be no Santa Claus for Saul if I wouldn't pull off a real honest to goodness sale before Christmas.

I have been planning and preparing for this great Christmas Sale for some time. The time has come and I am in full readiness to convince the most skeptical that a saving opportunity of this kind comes but once a year!

Yours for better values,

CRISIS IN FEDERAL PROHIBITION FIGHT HERE SAYS HAYNES

DRY ENFORCEMENT DISCUSSED IN REPORT OF COMMISSIONER.

REQUEST IS MADE FOR NINE MILLION DOLLARS

Total of 3,800 Men Are Employed By Enforcement Department.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—The crisis in the federal prohibition enforcement fight has been reached in the opinion of Commissioner Haynes, it was disclosed today in reports of recent hearings before a house appropriations sub-committee.

In asking $9,000,000 for the next fiscal year for his department, Mr. Haynes told the committee that if a smaller amount was allowed for prohibition enforcement continuously for five or six years, a reduction ought then to be possible, but that the critical period for enforcement was now at hand.

Mr. Haynes said there were 3,800 men employed in the work of prohibition enforcement. Because the appropriations asked for next year represent a reduction of $250,000 from this year's outlay, he said, there would be a slight reduction in his forces, but he hoped to rearrange the organization so as not appreciably to lessen its efficiency.

The prohibition commissioner told the committee that he was "gratified" with the present functioning of his enforcement machinery and that the department was securing "fine cooperation" from states and counties in the main. Courts were becoming "more sympathetic," he asserted, and jail sentences and fines were becoming heavier.

"There is a general disposition to tighten up," he added.

20,483 Convictions.

In the fiscal year ended June 30, 1922, he said there were 20,483 convictions for violations of the prohibition law. Acquittals numbered 4,625; cases dropped 3,217, and civil cases disposed of 544. At the end of the year, he said, 15,810 cases were pending, bringing the total of cases handled to 44,779. These figures, he said, did not include cases in state courts. Fines deposited in the treasury he placed at $2,791,000. In many cases procedure toward forfeiture of bonds and other assessments were pending.

Mr. Haynes asked for $150,000 for "buying evidence" and told the committee $139,000 had been spent in that way during the last year.

The prohibition commissioner underwent a long examination at the hands of Representative Gallivan, democrat, Massachusetts, who inquired particularly about the method of handling the department's publicity, referring to what he termed the "wildly extravagant" statements he said emanated from the bureau. One of these, he said, credited Mr. Haynes with having asserted that 20,000,000 Americans had "gone on the water wagon" since the enactment of the Volstead act. Mr. Haynes denied knowledge of the statement.

"Splendid Reaction."

Mr. Haynes told the committee there had been a "splendid reaction" by the public and immediately clashed with Mr. Gallivan over the results of the elections of November 7, the Massachusetts representative citing the voting down in his state of an enforcement measure and the commissioner asserting that prohibition had won where "conditions were normal."

In reply to Mr. Gallivan, Mr. Haynes admitted increased arrests under the narcotic law during the last fiscal year, but attributed it to the "increase efficiency" of the narcotic division and not to prohibition laws.

Representative Magee, republican, of New York, asked if the commissioner "did not realize there is a widespread disrespect, defiance and violation of the laws?"

"That is true of all law," replied Mr. Haynes, adding that a sub-committee of the American Bar association had made a statement that disrespect for all law was at a maximum as a natural sequence of the war. Mr. Magee said there was no such condition a few years ago and Mr. Gallivan insisted that the prohibition law had "caused disrespect for all laws."

ROME, Dec. 6.—Prince Andrew of Greece arrived here today from Brindisi, where he landed yesterday. It is expected that he will be received by Pope Pius in private audience before leaving for London.

Palace Program Improving With Each New Play

A large audience greeted the Edna Park Players Tuesday night at the Palace to see "The Girl in the Limousine," which as a pleasing comedy is exceeding all expectations. Jack and his onion sandwich, and Edna and her blue dressing gown furnish many amusing incidents. Palace patrons have seen them both in many amusing acts the past few weeks, but this week is a thriller when it comes to tight places, a crawling out and an explanation. The people of Wichita Falls who want something to drive the blues away should go and see Jack and Edna this week.

The company is being strengthened by several new people who will arrive later, every effort being made to strengthen the cast. Edward D'Olze, of New York, who has turned down several very flattering offers with other companies, because of his prominence in stock company productions, will take a leading part in "What's Your Husband Doing," the bill to be presented next week.

The productions thus far have been especially noticeable from a scenic standpoint. It is rare that such a company has so capable a scenic artist as Mr. Bell, always ready at a moment's notice to create something new in the way of scenic effects.

A special meeting of the Woodmen of the World and Woodmen Council will meet Thursday night, December 7, at 7:30 at the Labor Temple. General Manager R. M. McDill and Head Council Office Seale and Sarvant Auditor Walter Crawford will be present. An entertaining program and basket supper will be given. All Sarvants and their families are invited. GRAND MASTER OF MASONS PROTESTS KLAN CONNECTION

ACTIVITY OF SOLICITORS HAS CAUSED CONFUSION IN MANY LODGES.

NO CONNECTION WITH OTHER ORGANIZATIONS

Question at Times So Violent As to Threaten to Break Up Entire Lodge.

WACO, TEXAS, Dec. 6.—Activities of solicitors for the Ku Klux Klan have caused confusion in many Masonic lodges of Texas during the past year and at times the question of the Klan has become so violent as to threaten to break up an entire Masonic lodge, stated Grand Master D. P. Johnson, Brownwood, in his annual report to the grand lodge meeting in Waco.

The grand master's report, consisting of 21 printed pages in pamphlet form, ran the entire gamut of Texas Masonry and lodge details and questions arising during his tenure of office.

He strongly inveighed against use of Masonic standing of any man in business and mentioned his refusal in one instance to permit the use of the word "Masonic" for a ball team composed of Masons at Houston.

He mentioned that requests for permission to attend certain religious meetings as a lodge were denied because of the non-sectarian character of Masonry.

Relating his answer to a question concerning a brother who was "protested because he had stated he believed there was getting to be too many Jews in Masonry," the grand master's report said in substance that "blackballing" was a sacred right, but that "any brother openly stating that he would blackball anyone because of his nationality was in effect destroying the secrecy of the ballot and guilty of a Masonic offense."

Concerning the order of De Molay the report mentioned that the lodge looked with favor on the order, but that there was still no authority "under our present law for any lodge to sponsor or be responsible as a lodge for any other organization of any nature, even whose membership might be limited to that of the families of Masons."

Discusses the Klan.

With reference to the klan issue his report said:

"Notwithstanding the resolution adopted by the grand lodge in 1921, as fully shown on page 85, printed proceedings, denying all connections with or responsibility for the Ku Klux Klan, the activity of the solicitors for this organization has caused more or less confusion in many lodges in the state during the year. Those Masons who favor the klan and those Masons who are bitterly opposed to it in many cases have become very violent enemies and at times it has threatened to break up an entire lodge in several instances.

"Immediately following the burial services of a dead brother it has been reported to me that the Ku Klux Klan came upon the scene and conducted certain ceremonies, which is not in accord with Masonic usages, which prevents a Masonic lodge taking part in burial services where any other organization is to follow them.

"While in these special cases the question arose as to the exact movement that they appeared on the ground and whether it was before or after the Master's benediction. One lodge even summoned the brother to appear before the lodge because he had seen fit to make a report of it to the grand master.

"Owing to the fact that the attempted connection of the Ku Klux Klan with Masonry was threatening to break up several lodges, I felt it my duty to interpret the action of the grand lodge above referred to by ruling that any Mason who would attempt to use Masonry either for the building up or the destruction of the Ku Klux Klan or any other organization not purely Masonic, was wholly improper if not actually committing a Masonic offense.

"I cannot too severely condemn the solicitors for this organization, who it is reported, are receiving a certain commission for their attempted efforts to connect it with Masonry. I am glad, however, to know that the officers in charge of the Ku Klux Klan have also condemned such efforts on the part of their subordinates."

At another point he said:

"A lodge reports that one of its members had stated openly that he would blackball any one who applied for initiation whom he knew to be a member of the Ku Klux Klan. I was asked if this was sufficient reason for rejecting a candidate.

"Answer—Held that if the brother knew enough of the organization and its workings to feel justified in blackballing them it was his privilege to do so, but that my own knowledge of them led me to believe they should be regarded in the same light as any other political or sectarian organization, but that I laid no claims to any knowledge of their workings."

Is Backache Making You Miserable?

Are you dull, tired and achy—bothered with a bad back? Do you lack ambition; suffer headaches and dizziness—feel "all worn out?" Likely your kidneys are to blame. Lameness, sharp, stabbing pains, backache and annoying urinary disorders are all symptoms of weakened kidneys. Don't wait for more serious trouble. Get back your health and keep it! Use Doan's Kidney Pills. Home folks tell their merit. Ask your neighbor!

Here's a Wichita Falls case:

Mrs. M. L. Yeary, 307 Sixth street, says: "My kidneys caused me misery. Mornings I could hardly straighten because of the pain through my back. If I stopped I got dizzy and I often had headaches. My kidneys acted irregularly. I couldn't do my housework and I tried different remedies but found no relief until Doan's Kidney Pills cured me."

WORK ON $625,000 JUNIOR COLLEGE AND HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING WILL START EARLY IN 1923

Work will start early in 1923 on the junior college and high school building, for which contract was awarded Tuesday afternoon by the school board.

Krepike & Schaffer of Oklahoma City were the lowest bidders on the general contract and were given the contract. Hoffman and company of this city got the plumbing, heating and ventilating awards, and the Schraeter Electric company of San Antonio the electrical installation contract.

The successful bidder gets the job for $465,490, which was $44,000 less than the next highest offer, and also decidedly lower than the board had expected. The bids of the four local firms were among the highest submitted.

A total of $582,272.50 is involved in the four contracts. Architects fees and incidentals will probably bring the total outlay to around $625,000, leaving $50,000 with which to equip the structure. The bid of Herring and Scarbrough of Corsicana, on the heating and ventilating contract, was slightly lower than that of Hoffman and company, but the necessary certified check did not accompany the Corsicana bid and it was thrown out, leaving the local company low.

W. B. Ittner of St. Louis, architect-in-chief, returned home late Tuesday to draw up the contract. Messrs. Krepike and Dobbins of the successful bidders will remain here several days attending to various preliminaries, among them will be the perfecting of the $250,000 bond required of them for satisfactory performance.

Bidders, material men, members of the board and others interested in the contract were guests of the Wichita Falls Lubermen's association Tuesday evening at the Kemp, adjourning to go to the meeting of the Technical club to hear R. A. Thompson's lecture on the irrigation project.

The bids received by the board were as follows:

General construction: Central Construction company of Dallas, Texas, $509,000; Dickey Construction company of St. Louis, Mo., $546,066; Hill Construction company of St. Louis, Mo., $576,000; J. C. Joplin and company of Wichita Falls, $587,000; Krepike-Schafer company of Oklahoma City, $465,490; Murch Bros. of St. Louis, Mo., $513,800; H. A. Nusman and company of Des Moines, Iowa, $569,590; Shallenberger and company of Tulsa, $540,923; Taylor Bros. of Wichita Falls, $588,606.25; Whitehill Construction company of Wichita Falls, $632,976; Peterson Construction company of Wichita Falls, $592,000.

Plumbing, sewering and gas fitting: H. W. Greenway of Fort Worth, $26,800; Hoffman and company of Wichita Falls, $25,603.25; Krepike & Schafer of Oklahoma City, $27,823; Modern Plumbing and Heating company of Denison, $34,261; S. P. Osborn of Fort Worth, $31,857.

Heating and ventilating: H. W. Greenway of Fort Worth, $31,897; Hoffman and company of Wichita Falls, $75,895.25; Kennison Bros. of Dallas, $88,000; Krepike & Schafter of Oklahoma City, $89,350; Modern Plumbing company of Denison, $32,314; S. P. Osborn of Fort Worth, $104,500; Herring-Scarborough of Corsicana, $76,949.

Electric work: Ash Eugene Electric company of Fort Worth, $22,000; Michael and company of Norfolk, Va., $25,335; Potter Electric company of Muskogee, $17,949; Schraster Electric company of San Antonio, $15,281.

STEWARDS OF FLORAL HEIGHTS M. E. CHURCH BANQUET TUESDAY NIGHT

The board of stewards of the Floral Heights Methodist church held their regular monthly meeting in the basement of the church Tuesday evening, preceded by a chicken supper served by the wives.

Judge P. B. Cox, chairman, introduced Rev. S. M. Black, presiding elder, who spoke of "The Ideal Steward."

"Solid religion is not that type of religion that is demonstrative," he said. "The man who goes on in the even tenor of his way and does not make much demonstration of his feeling, and meets the responsibilities of the church with his means, is the ideal type of man."

Judge W. A. Nelson spoke of "The Responsibilities of the Pastor and Board of Stewards to the Church." Hubert M. Harrison, invited guest, spoke of "The Church Man Down Town."

The Floral Heights church is prospering in every way in all of its departments.

HARVEY AND SALM HAVE BOUGHT BUNCH OF NEW SPUDDERRS

George Whiteman, Buff Outfielder, Will Wear Spudder Suit in 1923

George Whiteman, veteran outfielder and prolific producer of two-baggers, will occupy a Spudder uniform next season, according to word received from R. O. Harvey, who is at Louisville with Walter Salm attending the minor league magnates meeting.

The Whiteman deal is one of several concluded, and several others are pending. Deals closed include:

Berger, shortstop, bought outright from Wichita, Kansas.

Klugman, infielder, from Atlanta, Ga., who comes via the Cub deal for Shorty Adams.

Westerzell of Seattle, third baseman, previously announced.

A right handed pitcher and a southpaw, names not yet announced.

The deal whereby Jake Miller is traded for Silva of Birmingham was also mentioned by Mr. Harvey in his telegram.

The report from Mr. Harvey is of intense interest to fans, not only because of the deals it announces, but because of its indication of the policy of the Spudder management to use every effort to bring seasoned players here for the coming season.

While records of Berger and Klugman, new infielders, are not yet available, well-posted fans declare that these, with Westerzell, will give the Spudders an unbeatable infield; both are seasoned, fast fielders and hard hitters.

George Whiteman, lately skipper of the Houston Buffs, will no doubt be joyfully greeted by local fans. George has, in addition to a thorough knowledge of baseball, a happy, genial personality that makes him no less popular on enemy diamonds than he is at home. A sure fielder, and a dangerous hitter, seldom failing in the pinches, he will add much strength to the Spudder line-up.

GEORGE WHITEMAN.

CARPENTIER ALSO PROTESTS CHARGE FIGHT WAS 'FRAME'

PARIS, Dec. 6.—Georges Carpentier in newspaper interviews today added his protestations to those of Francois Descamps, his manager, to the assertions of Battling Siki that the boxer's recent meeting was to have been framed.

Carpentier's chief argument in his efforts to discredit the statements of the Senegalese is to show his badly damaged knuckles and to exhibit X-ray photographs of his hand, taken after the fight, to show that the metacarpel bones were broken.

"Does that look like a fake fight?" queried Carpentier. He also asked whether it was likely that he would arrange a frameup for a bout he was so sure of winning that he actually lost it by over-confidence. The former champion asserted that since his defeat his one ambition had been to meet Siki again and re-establish his reputation.

TWO TEAMS ARE TIED IN SIX DAY BICYCLE RACE

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—The Brocco-Coburn and Goullet-Belloni teams lapped the field in an exciting sprint at the annual six-day bicycle race at Madison Square Garden today and were tied for the lead at 8 a. m., having covered 1,063 miles and five laps.

The Egg-Eaton combination followed a lap to the rear, while the other eleven entrants trailed two to four laps behind.

The record for the fifty-sixth hour is 1,159 miles and five laps made in 1916.

CAPTAIN FOR 1923 WILL BE NAMED AT COYOTES' BANQUET

Members of the Coyote squad about 25 strong, with their girls, will gather at the Y. W. C. A. Friday night for the annual banquet of the football team.

A captain for 1923 will be chosen at the banquet, the season will be reviewed and a general jollification will be held over the most successful year in local gridiron history.

HARVARD LOSES VETERAN TRIO

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., Dec. 6. Of all the big eastern football teams, Harvard is least hit by graduation. It will be noted, however, that the trio includes two of Harvard's shining lights, Owen and Buell.

DAVE SHADE IS CREDIT TO THE BOXING GAME

Dave Shade Playing "Horse" With His Son, Billy

Here is Dave Shade, one of the leading contenders for the welterweight title, in a new role, playing "horse" with his son, Billy.

Dave Shade is the most successful of the "Three Fighting Shades." Many of the experts are of the opinion that he will win the welter crown from Mickey Walker the first time he is given a crack at the new champion.

Dave Shade is a credit to the profession: When his fighting days are over it won't be necessary to put on any benefits for him. He has just purchased a beautiful home in one of the fashionable suburbs of New York. In addition, he boasts a fat bank roll.

When not in the gymnasium preparing for a bout, or actually performing in the ring, Dave can usually be found at home. The bright lights of Broadway mean nothing to Dave Shade.

CAPTAIN OF INDIANA'S ELEVEN HAS MADE GREAT RECORD ON GRIDIRON

CAPTAIN FRANK HANNY

By NEA Service.

BLOOMINGTON, IND., Dec. 5.—Boring through the line of scrimmage is mere play compared with fighting Hungarians, says Frank Hanny, captain of the Indiana University eleven, who spent several months on the Piave front with the Italians during the world war. He wears the Italian cross awarded for meritorious services in the war and has been dubbed "The Duke" by his teammates.

Back home, at Aurora, Ill., Hanny is known as a member of the famous Aurora high school football eleven which went east in 1915 and lost to New York 13 to 12 for the high school championship of the United States. During that year and the year before the opponents of Hanny's eleven scored only 20 points as compared to 700 for the Aurora team.

Frank came to the Indiana University the year before the war and easily made the freshmen team. He came back to Indiana in 1920 and that year performed the remarkable feat of allowing only four yards to be gained around him by an opponent the entire season.

Last year he was unfortunate in receiving a severe injury to his shoulder in the Harvard game, which kept him out of most of the remaining contests. After a summer driving spikes in the west with a railroad section gang, Frank is hard as nails. He plays end on defense and is often shifted to halfback on the offense. He weighs 192, is six feet tall and is 24 years old.

In the Indiana-Wisconsin game this fall Hanny performed the remarkable feat of carrying the ball for Indiana on nine successive line plunges with a net gain of 35 yards in three first downs. In the same game Hanny for the seventh time this season tackled a runner returning his punt.

Billy Evans says

The game depends all upon the setting.

That is the opinion of Newell Williams Banks, who for 12 consecutive years has been the American match champion at checkers.

"Take an average checker board, novelty store—the kind with red and black squares and with the white and black pieces of cheap wood and ill-matched, and lay it on a table in an office where many people pass and nobody will look at it, but get a regulation board with fine pieces, perfectly matched, and you will soon draw a crowd," is his argument.

Banks is positive that the many wonderful stadiums that are being built to accommodate the football crowds will have a tendency to greatly improve the game.

"Can you imagine the impression these great stadiums will make on the freshmen students?" says Banks. "They will stimulate interest. It will spur on the athlete who has played in his high school to greater efforts. It will make the student who has never played anxious to do his bit. Why? Consider the picture.

"Why do minor leaguers so long to play in the majors, and why do major league players try so hard to hold on in the big leagues when they know their usefulness is about gone? It is the picture. They dread the thought of leaving it and the minor leaguers want to go up because of the glamor and the gloss and the glitter of the big league stage, plus of course the additional salary.

"If you provide tasteful settings you secure converts to your chosen sport. In checkers, for instance. When you take a regulation board, where the squares are one and seven-eighths inches around and where the pieces are one and one-quarter inches in diameter and use the regulation colors, which are green and buff because they are restful to the eye, you immediately establish a psychological reason for attracting attention. Men want to play. You see these boards in chess and checker clubs and there you also see the walnut and maple inlaid boards, artistic affairs that draw players.

"If the checker boards that are sold would be the regulation kind, a great many more people would play checkers."

YOST COMMENTS ON GEORGE SISLER

Michigan Football Coach Says He Would Have Starred on Gridiron

By BILLY EVANS.

George Sisler of the St. Louis Browns is the greatest all-round ball player in the game today.

Sisler is shortly due to fall heir to the crown of the greatest exponent of the national pastime, Ty Cobb. Sisler is the logical successor.

Recently while talking to Fielding Yost, George Little and several other former star Michigan players, the name of Sisler was brought up. A few minutes before the question of open-field running had been discussed. Coach Little had just said a number of complimentary things about Halfback Kipke of the Michigan varsity.

"What a wonderful end or back field player Sisler would have made if he had come out for football," remarked one of the assistant coaches.

"In the days of Sisler at Michigan we had a couple of mighty good lines," remarked another mentor. "If Sisler had been playing a halfback in those days he would have been able to get a good start on every play. Often the opposition would have needed a motor cycle to have overtaken him."

"Yes, I often watched Sisler running the bases in baseball," remarked Chief, as the players and assistant coaches invariably refer to Yost. "Every time I saw him steal a base I would wish that I had someone in my backfield as fast as him. A player with Sisler's speed, backed up by a good line, would have been enough material to have made a great coach out of an ordinary one.

"Sisler is the type of athlete whose great natural ability plus a keen brain would have made him a star in any branch of sport that he took up." was the fitting tribute Yost paid the man who was last season picked as the most valuable ball player in the American League.

Had not Sisler decided on baseball as a career after he got out of college he probably would have taken a whirl at the gridiron game. Sisler was a pitcher during his college days and a great one. He was advised against playing football because of the fact that even a slight injury to his pitching arm might ruin his major league career.

Sisler made his American league debut as a pitcher and made good from the start. He also showed such natural ability at the bat, and great speed on the bases, that it was felt he should be in the game every day instead of every fourth day as is customary with a pitcher.

It was decided to make him over into a first baseman. When Sisler quit pitching he was probably the best southpaw in the American league. Seldom does a great pitcher quit that position to take a flier at something else.

In a very short time after shifting to first base Sisler demonstrated he was even more valuable to the Browns at that position. Today he is the premier first baseman of the majors, the leading hitter of the American league. In many other departments of the game he also leads.

Thus the belief of the Michigan coaches that Sisler would have been as great a gridiron star as he is in baseball is not without foundation.

If Sisler had played college football his greatest difficulty would have been following his interference. Because of his great speed it probably would have often been too slow for him.

The Battery D team asserted itself in the basket ball game in which it was defeated by the Collier and Landon team by a score of 24 to 22. Every man on the battery team was in his place and the surprise of the basketball season was the fight put up by the losers. Although the Battery team is at the bottom of the list, it is evident that they will be heard from in the last half of the season.

At the end of the first period the Collier and Landon team were in the lead by six points but were unable to hold their lead against the consistent teamwork and close guarding of the Battery five. Bassel, for Collier and Landon saved his team from defeat with seven field goals during the game. Lineup:

Tigers' Comeback Against Chicago Recalls '12 Game

Princeton's sensational comeback in the Chicago game recalls the famous uphill fight of Pennsylvania with Michigan, back in 1912.

In that battle the Maize and Blue was leading the Quaker platoon, 21 to 7, at the end of the first half. And as the score indicates, the Yost warriors had completely outplayed the Red and Blue. Obviously, therefore, it looked all over but the shouting.

Penn, though, was not through. In fact, hadn't got started. But with the opening of the third period a different tale was unfolded. The Quakers, fighting desperately, put on a great offensive, carrying the battle to the foe.

Michigan's eleven was played practically to a standstill, and slowly but surely Penn overhauled the big Ann Arbor advantage. Two touchdowns were scored during those last two quarters, but one goal was missed. Thus the count stood 21 to 20 Michigan, with but a few minutes left to play.

And then—with but 30 seconds remaining—it happened, and Michigan saw apparent victory snatched from it. The fast-tiring Wolverines were forced to punt. The boot was a good one.

But Dick Marshall, standing on his own 45-yard stripe, grabbed the spinning pigskin as it sailed through the air and dashed through the entire Yost machine, 55 precious yards, for the winning tally. Then the final whistle chirped.

Thus, Michigan's 14 points ahead at half-time, and with the embroglio apparently "in," was beaten out by fighting Pennsylvania unit plus that scintillating caniet of little Dick Marshall's in the ebbing moments of the struggle.

Shotton Is Slated Managerial Berth

BURT SHOTTON

By NEA Service.

ST. LOUIS, MO., Dec. 4.—Another veteran of the major league circuit is expected to pass out of the select circle during the coming winter trading season and wear the managerial toga of the minors.

Outfielder Burt Shotton, assistant to Manager Branch Rickey of the Cardinals, is being groomed to lead a minor league club controlled by the St. Louis owners. It is reported that he is to lead the Syracuse team of the International league.

Shotton has served for 15 seasons on the diamond, starting his career with Erie, Pa., in 1908. His great speed first attracted the attention of the major leaguers and he was purchased by the St. Louis Browns in 1909. Playing two years in the American league he was released to Omaha, drifted over to Wheeling, drafted by the Cleveland Indians in 1911, transferred to Columbus and while with Columbus again was purchased by the St. Louis Browns.

Shotton remained with the Browns until the close of the 1917 season when with Johnny Lavan and Derrill Pratt he filed suit against Owner Ball charging the magnate with libel when an interview by Ball charged the three players with "laying down" on Fielder Jones as manager.

Shotton was traded to Washington, but when Branch Rickey became president of the Cardinals in 1919 one of his first moves was to purchase Shotton from Washington.

In the last two seasons Shotton has filled in occasionally as substitute with the Cardinals.

"STUB" EDINGTON WILL BE EXPORTER NEW MANAGER

"Stub" Edington, Exporter outfielder, will manage the Beaumont club in 1923, according to reports from Louisville. He succeeds Joe Mathes who, while retaining his interest in the reorganized club, will not have an active hand in the management. Edington is considered one of the cleanest and snappiest outfielders in the league.

FAICHNEY STARS IN K. OF C. FIVE'S WIN OVER METHODISTS

Too much Faichney was the only reason that could be offered by the Methodists for their defeat at the hands of the Knights of Columbus by a score of 31 to 18, at the American legion hall Tuesday night. Both teams displayed real basketball talent and the Methodists, until Faichney got loose in the second period, held the winners to a score of 14 to 11.

Beginning with the second half the Methodists were unable to hold their close score and the repeated attempts to throw goal were unsuccessful while Faichney for the K. C. team added continuously to their already winning score. Lineup:

PACIFIC COAST PITCHER TO YANKS FOR $75,000

Is Former Cardinal Discard; Landis to Address Magnates at Banquet Tuesday Night.

LOUISVILLE, KY., Dec. 6.—Trade winds began blowing at the minor league convention today as a result of the sale yesterday of Sammy Hale, sensational batter and fielding star of the Portland, Ore., club of the Pacific Coast league, to the Philadelphia Americans for a reported price of players and cash approximating $75,000.

Whispered conferences indicated that the major leaguers were in a trading mood and it is likely there will be some important sales before the close of the meeting tomorrow. Edward Barrow, business manager of the New York Americans, expects to close a deal for the purchase of Pitcher Jakie May, a former St. Louis National discard, who was a pitching sensation with Vernon in the Pacific Coast league last season. The price is said to be $75,000.

Kenesaw Mountain Landis, baseball commissioner, is scheduled to address the major and minor leaguers at their annual banquet tonight. Contrary to previous reports, Commissioner Landis will not discuss the draft.

The commissioner said he talked himself "blue in the face" at the minor league convetion at Buffalo last year about restoration of the draft, trying to bring the five recalcitrant leagues back into line, but he made no headway.

HOPE EXPRESSED FOR RECOVERY OF DUNCAN SHERIFF

DUNCAN, OKLA., Dec. 6.—The condition of E. H. Rhyne, sheriff of Stephens county, who was shot here last night, was reported as very favorable today and hope was expressed for his recovery. Bob Calmes, a barber, who surrendered to officers, following the shooting, was held in the county jail pending the outcome of the sheriff's injury.

Rhyne was shot three times. In a statement Calmes declared the sheriff "had wrecked my home."

FRENCH AMBASSADOR TO GERMANY TELLS EBERT OF DESIRE FOR PEACE

BERLIN, Dec. 6.—Jacquin de Margerie, the newly appointed French ambassador, in presenting his credentials to President Ebert today assured the president of France's desire to complete the work of peace and to attain political and economic aims calculated to insure the stability of Europe. In his opinion mutual trust was essential to this end and he relied upon the German government to support him in his efforts to find a basis within the terms of the peace treaty for relations between the two countries which would tend to the progress of the world.

President Ebert replied that the German government would do its utmost to reestablish stability of relations and affirmed his conviction that as soon as M. de Margerie was more closely acquainted with the difficult position of the German people his diplomatic experience would aid him in serving the ends of peace.

JULIAN E. WARD NOT MAN REFERRED TO IN NEWS ITEM

Recent items in The Times referring to court proceedings involving J. E. Ward do not mean Julian E. Ward, oil man, of 1512 Fillmore. The initials being the same, Julian E. Ward has been occasioned some embarrassment.

THIS LITTLE WOMAN MADE 20 LBS. GAIN

"I was told nothing but an operation could relieve my troubles, but Tanlac has built me up twenty pounds and my general health is better than in years," said Mrs. F. L. Doubrava, 4421 Pennsylvania Ave., St. Louis, Mo.

"I got hurt in a fall and it was thought that I was injured internally. I was weak and run down, had no appetite, and suffered from constipation and headaches. My stomach was all upset too, and gas bloated me until my heart palpitated alarmingly and I was so nervous I got very little sleep. I also had severe pains all through my body.

"On my first bottle of Tanlac those pains became less severe and now I am in such fine health I can easily do my housework; in fact I feel like Tanlac has given me a new lease on life. I will gladly tell anyone how wonderfully Tanlac has helped me."

CONFIDENT THAT WORK OF COMMISSION WILL PRODUCE GOOD RESULTS

MEMPHIS, TENN., Dec. 6.—With permanent organization assured and a definite work mapped out, members of the Cotton States commission, as the new body will be officially known, at the closing session of a two-day conference held last night, expressed confidence that the preliminary work done by the unofficial commission during its two years of existence has brought satisfaction and under the new arrangement more effective results will be attained.

Angus McLean, Lumberton, N. C., former secretary of the treasury and for some time manager-director of the war finance corporation, stated at the closing session last night that the meeting had pointedly called to the attention of representatives of the cotton growing states and experts of the United States department of agriculture the effort the commission has made for concerted action between the federal government and the cotton states to control insect pests, particularly the boll weevil.

It is hoped by the commission, officers said, that by concerted effort, new laws governing crop pest control, quarantine, marketing methods and warehousing could be placed on the statute books of the cotton producing states within the next two years, and existing laws dealing with cotton problems be strengthened.

NOMINATION OF NEGRO IS RETURNED TO SENATE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—President Harding today returned to the senate the nominations of Walter L. Cohen, to be comptroller of customs at New Orleans, and Louis M. Hall to be collector of customs at St. Louis, which failed of action at the special session of congress.

EXPENSIVE AMUSEMENT DRIVING CAR WHILE DRUNK

GALVESTON.—The most expensive amusement in Galveston from now on will be driving automobiles while intoxicated, according to announcement by Judge Henry O'Dell of the city corporation court. A fine of $200 and costs, the maximum fine which the judge is allowed by law, will be assessed, he said.

"There will be no exception to this rule," he said, "be he banker or baker, lawyer or doctor, white or black, he gets a fine of $200."

LLOYD GEORGE AMUSED BY CARTOON PUBLISHED

DALLAS.—The secretary of former Premier Lloyd George of England has written Rev. W. W. Phares, pastor of the South Dallas Christian church, stating Lloyd George found the cartoon of himself appearing in the Dallas News "vehy amusing." The Rev. Phares, an acquaintance of Lloyd George, sent him the cartoon which showed Lloyd George walking out of the British cabinet and suddenly turning around to knock the door.

JACK DAW IN HOOPLAND

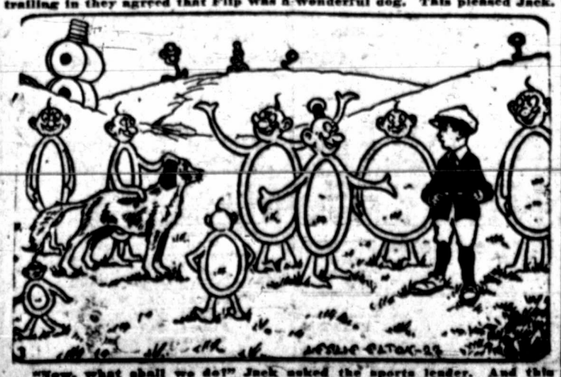

By ELTON

Faster and faster went all the hoops and almost before he knew it Jack was left way behind. Then he decided that he didn't have a chance to win. But, maybe Flip can beat them, thought Jack. "Come on, Flip," he shouted, "go after them; beat them around the track." And Flip started.

Jack stood still and watched his pet dog gain on the rolling hoops. Soon Flip was up to them and then he suddenly shot ahead of the whole crowd. At the finish Flip was far in the lead and as the hoops came trailing in they agreed that Flip was a wonderful dog. This pleased Jack.

"Now, what shall we do?" Jack asked the sports leader. And this little pound fellow announced that a game of quoits would be next. "But I don't see any quoits," said Jack. "Oh, that is simple," shouted the sports leader.

TIMES DAILY MARKETS

COTTON MARKET

New York Cotton.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—There was a renewal of liquidation at the opening of the cotton market today but it was less active afer the big break of late yesterday and prices were steadied by covering. Liverpool was a shade better than due, if anything, while the firmer ruling of foreign exchange was regarded as indicating a more optimistic view of European politics. This may have led to some scattered covering on the opening advance of 2 to 12 points here, and January sold up to 24.54 after the call, or about 16 to 20 points net higher on the active months. This bulge was not fully maintained but the market showed a fairly steady tone during the early trading.

Liquidation became more active and general as prices eased off from the early advance. Stop orders were uncovered and all months broke into new low ground for the movement with December relatively weak on reports that cotton was coming here from New Orleans for delivery. That month sold 30 points net lower while January broke to 24.15, or 20 points below yesterday's closing, before there was any check in the decline.

Some trade buying was reported on a scale down, however, and as prices approached the 24 cent level there was a good deal of covering. This caused rallies of 15 or 20 points from the lowest but the market was still more or elss unsettled around midday.

There was much less liquidation during the early afternoon and the market was decidedly firm around 2 o'clock on continued covering and fresh buying seemed to be promoted by the firmer technical position of futures, reports that the trade had been a buyer on the early declines and bullish spot advices. January sold up to 24.59 or 44 points from the early low and 24 points net higher.

Cotton closed very steady.

	High	Low	Close
December	24.55	24.05	24.53
January	24.60	24.15	24.59
March	24.75	24.29	24.68
May	24.72	24.22	24.64
July	24.45	23.96	24.39

New Orleans Cotton.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 6.—Improvement in the technical position was generally given as the reason for an upward movement of 16 to 20 points in the price of cotton in the early dealings today. Recent heavy and general selling was said by brokers to have greatly reduced the long interest and at the same time to have increased the short interest. January was advanced to 24.20 in the first half hour of business.

Following the first upward swing very heavy liquidation appeared on the long side and for a while it completely dominated the course of the market forcing January down to 23.77 and the list to losses under yesterday's close of 17 to 23 points. At these levels a new demand, stimulated by reports of a better feeling in some interior spot markets, by the continued rise of sterling exchange and message from Washington staing that government official reports were more favorable than expected. Toward noon prices were back to net advances again, this time to gains over yesterday's close of 15 to 22 points.

The advancing tendency was held over into the afternoon session. In the trading up to 1:30 o'clock the active positions were put 25 to 34 points over the final prices of yesterday, January being sent to 24.25.

Cotton closed steady at a net gain of 14 to 27 points.

DALLAS, Dec. 6.—Cotton steady. 22.80; Galveston, 24.60; Houston, 24.55.

STOCKS AND FINANCIAL

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—The struggle for control between opposite speculative forces imparted a decidedly irregular trend to prices at the opening of today's stock market, the main tendency being downward. Rails and oils were in rather free supply and there was sporadic selling of food and motor accessory shares. The only group to show signs of strength was the copper shares which were bid up on reports of improvement in the industry as reflected in the resumption of dividends by the Kennecott company. Losses of a point or more were registered in the early dealing by New York Central, Chesapeake and Ohio, Chicago and Northwestern, Union Pacific, Northern Pacific and Norfolk and Western. Oils offered better resistance, California Petroleum dropping a point and others fractionally.

Continental Can was pushed up 1 point to a new high and then dropped back 2.

Remington Typewriter climbed 3 points and the first and second preferred each established peak prices on gains of 2 and 2½ points respectively.

Utah Copper improved 1½ and Cerro de Pasco and Kennecott fractionally.

Foreign exchanges were firm.

Isolated points of weakness persisted in the early afternoon market. Tidewater Oil dropped 7 points, Kelsey Wheel 5 and Continental Can and United Retail Stores 2½ each but the trend otherwise was uniformly upward in sympathy with the buoyancy of Studebaker, which advanced 3½ points. In the main, prices in the general list recovered to almost a parity with yesterday's final figures.

The closing was strong. Sales about 750,000 shares.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—Announcement that a bill to create a farm credits department had been introduced in both houses of congress led to a sudden upturn in wheat prices today near the end of the board of trade session. The market closed strong ½ to 1¼c net higher with May 1.16½ to ½ and July 1.08.

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—Largely in response to lower quotations at Liverpool the wheat market here underwent a moderate setback in the early dealings today. An apparent lull in export demand, together with something of a letup in the domestic flour trade acted as bearish factors.

Initial prices which varied from unchanged to ½c lower with May $1.14¾ to ¼ and July $1.07 to ¼ were followed by a slight rally and then decline all around.

Scantiness of rural offerings to arrive gave relative firmness to corn and oats. After opening ¼ off to a like advance, May 65¾ to ¾c, the corn market showed slight general sag.

Later the corn market advanced decidedly with wheat. The close was strong, ½ to 1¼c net higher, with May 69¾ to ¾c.

Oats started ¼c higher, May 42¼c, and held close to the opening figure.

Provisions were steady in line with the hog market.

BOX OF TOOLS STOLEN FROM STREET CAR BARNS

Thieves entered the car barn of the traction company Tuesday night and made a successful escape with a box of tools belonging to T. G. Grantham. Entrance was gained by breaking through a rear window; the tools were valued at $60. The theft was reported to the police but no arrests have been made.

OIL FIRE THREATENS DAMAGE IN KATY SHOPS WEDNESDAY

An oil fire which for a while endangered the plant broke out in the Katy shops at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning. A quick response to the alarm kept the fire from spreading and the blaze resulted in only a small damage to the machinery. Sparks from the engine ignited some waste oil nearby and resulted in the blaze.

The Musicians' club will meet in the ball room of the Kemp hotel Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Spriuders of Both Sexes To Compete Saturday In Meet at Austin School

Plans for the athletic meet in which teams from the graded schools of the city will compete next Saturday, at the Austin school grounds, were announced Wednesday.

There will be four events for both Class A and Class B entries. Dashes of 50, 100 and 150 yards, and a 200-yard relay are scheduled for Class A boys and girls. For Class B boys and girls, the distances will be 40, for the C class A girls the distances will be 50, 75 and 100 yards, with a 200-yard relay. Class B boys will compete in races of 40, 80 and 100 yards, and Class B girls in 40, 60 and 80-yard races, each having a 200-yard relay event.

First places will count five points, second place three points, third place two points and fourth one point. No contestant may enter more than two events. In the relay events, each school will have four entries, each to run 50 yards.

The meet will start at 9 o'clock, and teams are now being chosen, by the elimination process, from the various schools.

A Word to the Wise

"In March I was called to the bedside of my sister in Brewton, Alabama. She was given up to die and was almost dead. Talked in a whisper. Doctors said nothing but an operation would save her and she was too weak for that. Her color was yellow as a pumpkin and she was filled with gas. That day I heard of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and went and got a bottle for her. In three weeks she was able to be about and walked a mile to church. I am praising your medicine to everyone." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Mack Taylor and druggists everywhere.—adv.

What Are We Going to Do About Getting a Brunswick?

These kids worry the life out of me, always wanting to go somewhere. We really need more entertainment at home and I figure music will go further than anything else.

¶ We can get a Brunswick at "Martin's" and he will give us all the time we need to pay for it. Everybody is talking Brunswick and there is no doubt in my mind about it being the best buy. You see, they play all makes of records and have features we do not get in other machines.

¶ I realize this is hard times, but the children are crazy for one and, besides, it will afford you and me a great deal of pleasure and I really feel like we should strain a notch to make the investment.

¶ "Oh, I guess we'll get one. You go down and make a selection and have it sent out."

"JOHN, YOU ARE A DARLING"

¶ Yes, we think so, too, and we want to help make your home a source of more pleasure and happiness. Our payment plan makes it easy for you to own a Brunswick. Call in now and make your selection while our stock is complete.

GEORGIA ORCHARD EXPERT BUYS LAND IN IRRIGATED AREA

ACQUIRES 160-ACRE TRACT OF LAND WEST OF CITY AND WILL PLANT TREES.

IS FIRST INDIVIDUAL TO MAKE DEFINITE PLANS

Believes Peaches, Pears, Plums and Apricots Will Do Well in Irrigated Section.

To M. A. Cooper of Georgia goes the distinction of being the first individual to prepare in a definite way to take advantage of the irrigation project. Mr. Cooper has contracted for the purchase of 160 acres west of this city, under the main south ditch, and will set out the entire tract in fruit trees.

It is understood to be Mr. Cooper's plan to extend his orchard and nursery business, now in operation on an extensive scale in Georgia and Tennessee, to this section. He has made a careful study of soil, climatic and other factors here, and his purchase of the land indicates that he is convinced of the practicability of fruit raising on a large scale in this vicinity.

Peaches, pears, plums and apricots are the fruits Mr. Cooper considers best adapted to this region.

Mr. Cooper's company now operates large orchards and nurseries in Georgia and Tennessee, being one of the largest peach growers in the country. It is expected that plans for the development of the tract purchased here will start without delay.

MORE MONEY RECEIVED ON COUNTY ROAD PROJECTS

County Treasurer T. W. McHam Tuesday afternoon received another check from the state highway department as aid on the paved roads of the county. The check amounted to $6,775.53 and is to be applied as aid on the far end of the Burkburnett road. This aid was strictly state money as the project was not a federal one.

Wichitans Know Little of Irrigation Project, Technical Club is Told

Surprising indifference on the part of Wichitans generally to the irrigation project was declared Tuesday night to exist, speakers before the Technical club expressing wonder and regret that so few residents of this city have visited the scenes of construction or have more than a very casual knowledge of the scope of the undertaking.

An illustrated explanation of the project by R. A. Thompson, its chief engineer, and talks by J. A. Kemp and C. H. Clark made up the program. Mr. Thompson had prepared 35 slides showing various phases of the undertaking, now practically half finished.

His description of the size of the lakes brought to those present a new conception of the magnitude of the work. The storage reservoir will contain more than 50 times as much water as Lake Wichita, more than 15 times as much as Lake Worth, and 10 times as much as the diversion reservoir which, though far smaller than the upper lake, will be no mean body of water itself.

Mr. Thompson expressed doubt that the storage lake would be as attractive a body of water as might be desired.

"We expect that it will be filled up only about once every three years," he said, "that will provide ample water, but during the periods when the water is comparatively low it will not be the attractive lake that you would like to see."

The service spillway at the big lake will be big enough to discharge a flood nearly seven times as great as any recorded for the river, Mr. Thompson said. The greatest flood on record averaged 30,000 cubic feet per second; the spillway can take care of over 200,000 cubic feet per second, he said.

Mr. Kemp related some of his early experiences with the undertaking and told how Lake Wichita was created with a view to providing an ocular demonstration of irrigation's feasibility in this section. While the lake's frigated area had not fully measured up to expectations, he said, it had been far more successful than the average Wichitan realized.

C. H. Clark called attention to the fact that cotton, corn and wheat can all be raised under irrigation, giving the agricultural foundation that staple crops afford. Mr. Clark related some of his early experiences in this county as a farmer.

A. M. McPherson, vice president, presided at the meeting, which was largely attended. It was announced that a Christmas tree program, with gifts for all, would be held at the next meeting, on December 19.

I. W. W. ORGANIZER FINED FOR VAGRANCY SOUGHT MEMBERS

A special session of the city court was held Tuesday night in response to the demand of a man arrested here Sunday night by Chas. Sommerville, special officer for the Fort Worth and Denver, on a charge of vagrancy. The man has been held in the city jail for investigation and awaiting a trial by jury. The maximum vagrancy fine of $200 was the verdict of the jury; the defendant unable to pay the fine was held in the city jail.

Railroad employes and police officials testified that the defendant had been in this city at intervals for a year and one-half without work. When asked what means of support he had, the defendant referred the jury to the membership book of the Industrial Workers of the World and admitted that he had been soliciting members in this city. The name of one local citizen was in the book with his application for membership in the organization. No charges were found against the defendant for his activities in the I. W. W., but the jury failed to recognize his affiliation with the organization as a legitimate means of support.

FAMILY TROUBLES FIGURE LARGELY IN COURT SESSION

Family disturbances were the chief source of worry to the city court Wednesday morning. A man and his wife who were celebrating in a local hotel were brought to the police station and charged with drunkenness. The woman failed to appear for trial Wednesday and her bond of $25 was forfeited. The husband is being held in the city jail.

The case of a man charged with an assault on his wife was passed until Thursday morning. Three cases of traffic violation were passed and a $5 fine assessed in one case where the offense was operating a motor vehicle without a tail light. Bonds of $10 each were forfeited in two vagrancy cases, when the defendants failed to appear for trial.

R. L. (BOB) McFALL INJURED IN A FALL

R. L. "Bob" McFall, ex-sheriff of Wichita county, is confined to his home suffering from injuries which he sustained when he fell on the Waggoner ranch last Monday. He slipped while walking and fell to the ground, his side striking a projecting rock. The physicians stated that there were no ribs broken.

MANY INQUIRIES RECEIVED FOR BIDS ON CULVERTS

Many inquiries are being received by County Engineer J. M. Isbell with reference to the bids which are to be received by the county commissioners on December 18 on the concrete culverts for the Seymour road. The Mansfield Construction company is at work constructing the culverts on the Cashion-Thornberry road.

PROGRESS SHOWN IN GRAVELING OF IOWA PARK ROADS

Much progress has been shown in the graveling of the road leading out of Iowa Park during the past week, according to County Engineer J. M. Isbell.

G. G. and C. W. Burgess who were awarded the contract for the six and a half miles north, known as the Iowa Park-Clara road, have placed three and a half miles of base and have surfaced a half mile. The L. E. Whitham Construction company has four miles of the six and a half miles completed. This company is traveling at the rate of 300 feet a day while the Burgess brothers are laying nearly a thousand feet of base a day.

A five-inch gravel base is being laid on both roads and the finishing top is also five inches thick and is composed of a finer grade of gravel.
