400 Moving On To Other Areas

CHILDREN OF GOD LEAVE THURBER

The children of God, a sect of the youthful Jesus movement, Thursday was being evicted from its promised land on a 400-acre ranch six miles from here.

"We have to be off the place no later than Monday, Oct. 4," said Amos, a former Southern Baptist evangelical minister who acted as spokesman.

He and Louis Ingersoll, known to the "children" as Abek, keeper of the sheep, said the eviction came after a disagreement with the ranch owner, The Rev. J. Fred Jordan, a Los Angeles TV producer who has a Sunday television show.

Members of the Children of God have been featured many times on his TV show since his Church in the Home, also known as American Soul Clinic, "adopted" them in early 1970.

The Rev. Mr. Jordan's ranch near this ghost town in West Texas has been known as the Texas Soul Clinic and its Children of God population has mushroomed until Wednesday morning Sept. 29 there were some 360 young adults and 40 children here.

"We didn't have anything in writing," said Ingersoll. "He got angry when some of our youth asked about some of his promises, such as reimbursing for supplies used in the building the fence here at the Texas Soul Clinic."

"First to be evicted were leaders of our group at a ranch he owns at Coachella, near Indio, and a building he owns where some 90 of our Children of God were housed in Los Angeles," Ingersoll said.

He said the 90 residents of the building and their leaders had to sleep in MacArthur Park Sunday and Monday night.

"But I understand they have been allowed to get their belongings and are enroute to our communes in San Diego and up in the Pacific Northwest."

Amos, who is moving his wife, Abigail, and four children, ages 2, 7, and 9, "wherever the Lord sends us with our Children of God," said the sect "has found the real meaning of Jesus through communal living like that of the early church."

"The Lord will have to open the door for us now," said Amos. "We got this letter Wednesday morning from the American Soul Clinic in California telling us to leave here within ten days and it was three days old when we received it."

Most of us stayed up all night packing. Many of the house trailers and a lot of our people moved out today. "We're having a rough time of it moving people out today. "We're having a rough time of it moving people and little children. We have about 100 vehicles, counting cars, buses, trucks and house trailers. And we must be careful to know where everyone goes so that when parents cross the country call

Conservation Director To Be Elected Oct 12

The Palo Pinto Soil and Water Conservation Directors have set Tuesday, October 12th, as election day for election of a director in Zone 5 of the District, according to C.L. Hodgkins, Chairman of the District.

The election by law is a convention type election with the County Agent, Ralph Lindsey, as the election chairman.

Time of the election will be 7:30 p.m., at the Strawn City Hall. Preceding the election, the Conservation District has planned for a program on new range management grazing systems to be presented by Blake Lovelace with the Soil Conservation Service in Mineral Wells.

Eligible voters are landowners and their wives in Zone 5 of the District. Zone 5 is that area in Palo Pinto County of a line running approximately west to east through Dodson Prairie and Lone Camp. From Lone Camp north to the Brazos River and along the river to the east side of the county. Strawn, Gordon, Santo, Mingus and Lone Camp are all within Zone 5.

The present Director of Zone 5 is C.L. Hodgkins of Strawn. The tenure of office is 5 years. Other Directors are Bill Sanders of Metcalfe Gap, Hermon Petty of Mineral Wells, Joe Fambro of Erath County and Clydell Lewis in Eastland County.

Hodgkins stresses that this is an opportunity for voting that only comes up in a Zone once every 5 years. With the increase emphasis on conservation it is a job that is taking on more significance each year, he says. Hodgkins urges every landowner in Zone 5 to be present at the election.

Anytime a sale or change is made such as the ADVANCE purchase of the Reporter, there's always some folks who say, "Well - them cityslickers are taking over the country." Not so with this situation. It's us country boys on the move this time.

The ADVANCE Publishing bunch is...in fact...made up of ole boys that came to the city from the country...and from small rural areas. We're just now getting back, I suppose, to the country. Anyway, we're glad to be publishing the Reporter and are looking forward to meeting more of the folks in the Western section of the County.

There are several businessmen in Mineral Wells who are interested in possibly locating businesses or business extensions in the Strawn-Mingus-Gordon area. How do they get information needed to evaluate whether they should come here or not...how many homes...how many people reside in the area etc.? Thank goodness for Community Public Service Company. Bud Lohorn provided me with a community survey made by his company recently. There is a great deal of help. But - there is a TREMENDOUS NEED FOR A "PALO PINTO COUNTY - WEST" Chamber of Commerce made up of people from: Gordon-Strawn-Santo-Mingus and even Palo Pinto. Each member needs to pay dues of about $2.50 per month so brochures can be printed showing the "Lake Region"...railroad availability...water...potential sites for industry...that is...if we want to grow. Anyone interested in becoming a member or forming a "Palo Pinto - West" Chamber of Commerce, call the Reporter office at 672-5273.

The gal you'll be talking to in our office is Mrs. Larry (Kathryn) Witchorke of Santo. (Just call her Kathryn W.) When you pronounce her last name it leaves your mouth in about the condition as it would if you kissed a big sour half of grapefruit.

Sure glad to see three banks in the area. That means folks can set up the "rotation" our place in Dallas we can tell them where each is."

A blue haze hung over the mesquite and scrub oak along the ridge of the red clay hill which had been the promised land for the Children of God since February, 1970.

"We have been so happy here," said Martha, 20, a pretty, lithe brunette from Southern California. "We have trained hundreds of young men and women who came to us as I once was, a drug user. These hundreds have gone out into the world, some even returned to their homes, to spread the word of Jesus.

Erath County Deputy Sheriff Jack Perry said he and Sheriff Ernest Huckaby "haven't had any trouble from these folks, none at all."

"We haven't had a single complaint from anybody in the whole area since they've been here. Only trouble they've caused us is carrying messages there once in a while when parents called us to get word through to children."

Oscar Gordon, who dispenses gasoline and oil at the Ghost Town Cafe and Service Station at Thurber for owner Randy Bennett, said the neighboring Children of God "are fine folks."

"I've been here 74 years and never seen better folks...They bothered nobody," Gordon said.

He said as many as 50 or 75 cars a day sometimes turned off Interstate 20 at the Thurber corner and went to visit the Texas Soul Clinic.

Thursday afternoon as the exodus continued, Amos and other leaders worked about how they could transport the dozens of chickens, turkeys, goats, pigs and cows to "colonies" elsewhere.

"Many of our people will be going to sites in the Pacific Northwest, particularly the state of Washington," he predicted.

Amos said some of the sites had been made available by the Jesus People Army of Washington State and Canada which, along with the House of Judah at Atlanta, Ga., recently merged with the Children of God.

Ingersoll and his wife, Dale, will continue to man the headquarters at telephone 827-8850, Dallas, and help parents learn where their children are transferred.

"We have places in Dallas, Fort Worth, Austin and Houston, but this was the only one in the country and the only one which could really house more than a handful of Children of God," fretted Dale.

"This is sad because we are reaching youth everywhere now, hundreds in New York City alone this month, and turning them off drugs and giving them proven strength for a new life.

Meanwhile, in California the Los Angeles Times quoted a spokesman for the Church of the Home as saying the split resulted because "they were doing some things we didn't want done."

An argument about the legality of the annexation of a portion of the former Progress School District by the Mineral Wells Independent School District was resolved Tuesday, September 21st, in Austin.

In a hearing before Dr. J.W. Edgar, Commissioner of Education, after arguments were presented by both sides represented in the case, i.e., Mineral Wells Independent School District and petitioners from the area to be de-annexed, Dr.

Edgar elected to sustain the action of the Palo Pinto County School Board of Trustees and allow the portion of the District in question to remain attached to the Santo Independent School District.

The problem has been that the north part of the Progress District wanted to be annexed by the Mineral Wells District and the south part wanted to be annexed by the Santo District.

Approximately two years ago the County Board granted the petition of the people in the south end of the District to go to Santo and this decision was appealed by the petitioners in the northern half of the District.

Mr. Edgar overruled the County Board's decision and gave the whole district to Mineral Wells, but at the same time advised the petitioners from the south half of the District that they could again petition the County Board to be annexed to the Santo District, which they did.

After the Board again voted in May to grant the petition from the south side of the District to go to Santo, the Mineral Wells Independent School District immediately appealed to the State Board of Education.

The hearing Tuesday, gave that portion of the Progress District to Santo that lies approximately south and west of the old Progress School building.

The Mineral Wells School District will withdraw assessments made on that particular area and it is expected new assessments for school taxes for the Santo District will be made by John Winters, County Tax Assessor-Collector. Normally, Winters assesses for the Santo School District.

Attending the hearing in Austin Tuesday from Mineral Wells, were Superintendent Bill Hall; President Vaughn Dunaway, President of the MISD Board of Trustees; John Vaughan, secretary; Sam Hawes, Board member; John Ritchie, attorney; and Gene Sanders, Tax Assessor-Collector for the MISD. Others from the Progress area attended, as well as a large representation from the area to be de-annexed.

ON THE BIAS

I am not always honest with my family. I do not like to cook and my favorite deceptive maneuver is to serve a food that looks like a complicated gourmet delight, yet is very simple to prepare.

I have a dessert that falls into this category and I cheat even more by giving them a meal that although nourishing, can only be consumed with bribing (how about liver for instance). Just prior to serving dinner I announce that "We have cream puffs for dessert!"

I was first introduced to cream puffs and their simplicity while my husband and I were stationed in Europe. The favorite German filling is sweetened whipped cream with a vanilla custard their second choice.

Whipped cream filled cream puffs are very rich. The custard is quite good but from there I went on to try different fillings. The two favorites at our house are lemon pudding and chocolate pudding. Being the "cheater" that I am, I have used instant pudding and we all like it. But they definitely improve when filled with a cooked filling. I save the egg whites from the pudding. When the pudding has cooled, I fold in these egg whites that have been beaten and sweetened slightly.

Do not fill shells until both shell and filling are cool. After filling, set on a tray close together. Put a small amount of powdered sugar in your flour sifter and lightly sprinkle tops. Then place on serving plate.

Cream puffs can be made large or small. Family style we like them several bites size. For these drop batter with a tablespoon. For party or bite size, drop with a teaspoon. The shells can be frozen when completely cooled. Put in freezer on cookie sheet. Remove to plastic bag and seal just as soon as they are frozen. Do not cut tops until you are ready to use.

CREAM PUFFS

1 cup boiling water
1 cup flour
1/2 cup butter
1/2 teaspoon salt

Combine butter or butter substitute, salt and water. Heat to boiling, sift flour and measure. Add to boiling mixture. Beat vigorously until mixture leaves sides of pan and does not cling to spoon. Remove from heat. Cool slightly.

Add unbeaten eggs one at a time. Beat thoroughly after the addition of each egg, until the mixture is smooth. Drop by tablespoon into well oiled muffin tins or on to a well oiled baking sheet, 2 inches apart. Bake in hot oven 400 degrees for 20 minutes, lower heat to 350 degrees and bake until firm and the top looks dry (about 10 minutes). Remove from oven and cool. Cut tops off of cream puffs and fill.

Gordon Freshman Initiated

The annual initiation of the freshman girls was held Friday October 1. There are 11 freshman girls. We had one, Renee, who was the Mammie and the remaining ten were her chillins.

The children had to have all their hair braided into ten or more braids. Then a mixture of cocoa and cold cream, that supplied a deep chocolate color, was applied to their faces. They wore toe-sacks dresses, bobby socks, and old tennis shoes or loafers.

Renee Pierson, the Mammie had on an old ugly grey dress with a pillow for a stomach. Her face was done with the chocolate mixture. She had her hair done up in pin curls and a big bandana was tied around her head. Her lips were drawn big with bright red lipstick. They had to sing "Mama's Little Baby Loves Shortnin' Bread". They were all given names. The following is a list of the girls and their names: Diane Boggus - Mary Jane; Laura Butler - Lizza Jane; Delores Clifton - Wilma; Kelly Brunk - Gertrude; Renee Pierson - Mammie; Linda Haney - Geraldine; Susan Hicks - Matilda; Jo Ann Gibbs - Prissy; Debbie Swanner - Josie; Jo Nell Height - Bessie; Mary Martin - Florie. After lunch they all sang "Little Lizza Jane" to Laura Butler, who was hauled around all day in a red wagon. They were also given other assignments such as pushing rocks with their noses along the sidewalks. We hope the freshman girls have reconverted by now. They were very good sports. Jan Kastha, Debra Strain, and Darlene Cunningham were the senior girls who did the initiation.

HORSE TALK

We are glad it rained but it's awfully hard to explain to my young daughter why it has to rain on Sunday afternoon and keep us from getting together for some one riding and horse talk!

Well, while we are talking about postponements and delays, let me tell everyone that the Strawn Riding Club will have its monthly business meeting Friday, October 8, at 7:30 at the Strawn American Legion Hall. We normally have our meeting on Thursday, but this Thursday the Strawn Greyhounds go to Walnut Springs for a football game and we will postpone our meeting so that everyone can go and cheer the hounds on.

We would like a maximum turnout at our meeting; we will finalize our plans for a trail ride and cookout for the weekend of 16-17 of October, and another playday for the 24th.

Several merchants and public-spirited citizens have volunteered to sponsor certain events in our next playday and buy trophies to present winners of each class. There are still a few events that we don't have sponsors for, so if anyone else would like to sponsor an event and provide trophies for the children (approximately $10.50 total cost) please contact Muggs Pontremole, Donna Latham, Buddy Ross or Flint McCullough right away. We need all the sponsors' funds in right away so we can order the trophies and get them here in time.

Now is the time to start preparing your horse for the coming winter months. Be sure he has a supply of salt and minerals in addition to good feed. Long hair is starting to show, so be sure that you give him a good dusting with some good pesticide to kill off any external parasites such as ear mites, ticks etc. that tend to infest them at this time of year. Start repairing any leaks in your horse's shed. A good shed with a windbreak on the north side will go a long way toward making your horse a lot more comfortable in the cold winter days ahead.

Now is the time to do your fall repairing on your riding gear, clean it up, oil it and get it ready for winter; dry leather cracks and breaks easily in cold weather. These rainy Sunday afternoons when you can't ride is a good time to get this done.

Providing all goes well we will see you at the monthly meeting Friday night, and at Flint McCullough's arena, Sunday afternoon, for some fun and "horse talk".

Area Chamber Formation

A move to form a membership in a Chamber of Commerce for Gordon-Mingus-Strawn has begun with this issue of the Reporter.

The Chamber organization, to be called "Palo Pinto-West" Chamber of Commerce, will be formed, provided there is enough interest shown by area businessmen and individuals.

"There are several Mineral Wells businessmen who are interested in locating either a business or a subsidiary in this area" Reporter Publisher Lon H. Williams stated.

"However, they need some information on the area such as the number of homes, cars, cars, people, schools, bank deposits, and other pertinent information so they can assess what size operation they might need, etc. So far, Community Public Service

Company has acted as your Chamber of Commerce by providing information of this nature. But no area growth can be expected or hoped for until there is a unified effort by people working together for that growth. I see a railroad, water, recreation, schools, churches, and people. I don't see any industry, too little retail business, and NO ORGANIZED EFFORT to get any in this part of the county. This is what a chamber of commerce is for. It is a way to promote the area."

The Chamber of Commerce is a non-profit organization (all money put into it is used for brochures, pictures of the lake, etc.) promoting equally the towns in the Western section of the County.

If you are interested, call or send your name to: The Reporter, Box 488, Strawn or call 672-5373.
