GOP records probed

By the Associated Press

As President Ford and Jimmy Carter boned up for this week's fully-televised presidential debate, the President's name cropped up today in reports of a Watergate special prosecutor's investigation and of lobbyist-provided golf outings in New Jersey.

The GOP county chairman in Ford's hometown of Grand Rapids said Kent County Republican party records have been subpoenaed by prosecutor Charles Ruff. The county chairman, Paul Henry, said "We have no idea what they are looking for."

In Washington, a spokesman for Ruff said: "We can't confirm it (the investigation) for you. Subpoenas are grand jury documents."

Henry said the investigation, first reported in today's Wall Street Journal, involves the records of two Republican committees in Kent County dating back to 1964. The Journal said Ruff also subpoenaed campaign-contribution records of the Marine Engineers Beneficial Association, which the newspaper said was Ford's largest backer in 1972, the last time he ran for Congress.

In Washington, White House Press Secretary Ron Nessen acknowledged that Ford accepted free golf outings from U.S. Steel Corp. lobbyist William Whyte while Ford was a congressman. There was no indication the golfing was part of the Watergate prosecutor's probe.

"The President has been a personal friend of Bill Whyte for 28 years and twice, on two weekends, he was a guest of Whyte at the New Jersey golf course while he was a member of Congress," Nessen said.

Whyte is now a vice president of U.S. Steel. He could not be reached immediately for comment.

Nessen was asked if his statement was an admission that Ford had accpeted a free weekend paid for by Whyte. The press secretary replied, "Yes."

Nessen made the statement after columnist Jack Anderson said Whyte hosted Ford at the Pine Valley Golf Club near Clementon, N.J., between 1964 and 1971 while Ford was in the House of Representatives. Anderson, appearing on ABC-TV's "Good Morning America," said Whyte conceded that U.S. Steel paid for the golf outings.

The White House said one of the outings was in 1964 and the other was in 1971.

The House adopted a code of ethics in 1968 prohibiting members from accepting a "gift of substantial value, directly or indirectly, from any person, organization or corporation having a direct interest in legislation before the Congress."

The rule does not cite a specific dollar figure considered to be "substantial." But a House ethics committee spokesman says it answers House members' queries by citing the State Department interpretation of the Foreign Gifts and Declaration Act, which prohibits government employes from accepting gifts with a retail value of more than $50 from foreign governments.

TRACKS CLEAR — The tracks were cleared as of 6 a.m. today where the 33 freight cars derailed approximately 24 hours earlier, five miles east of Big Spring at the Salem Road crossing. Some of the cars are shown above, with workmen clearing the tracks. C.C. Nichols, roadmaster, was up most of the night and just went to bed early this morning after directing the clean-up operations for Texas and Pacific Railroad. No estimate of damages is yet available by railroad officials. Insurance adjustors were on the scene by 8 a.m. Monday, but it will be some time before figures are available, according to a T and P spokesman. There were no injuries in the accident, which saw the 33 cars in the middle of the freight derail and buckle up in a heap.

GREEN COVE SPRINGS, Fla. (AP) — A judge sentenced Robert Terry Grogan, 26, twice — once at the defendant's request.

"I'm going to sentence you to jail for six months on the bond jumping charge and then I'll sentence you to life on the marriage charge," Circuit Judge Hudson Olliff told Grogan on Thursday.

The Jacksonville man and his fiancee, Bonnie Gayle Rast, 24, also of Jacksonville, asked the judge to marry them after disposing of a criminal case, arising from Grogan's arrest for possession of marijuana and failure to appear at his trial in July.

The couple embraced after the ceremony. Then Grolan was taken to the Clay County jail.

At least 312 are detained without trial in South Africa

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — At least 312 persons are being detained under South Africa's detention-without-trial laws, a spokesman for the antiapartheid Christian Institute said today.

Since the country's racial upheaval flared June 16 in the black township of Soweto, some 5,200 persons have also been arrested under criminal laws and charges arising out of rioting, the spokesman added.

A delegation of seven colored, or mixed race, leaders met today with Prime Minister John Vorster and demanded the release of all colored persons held under security laws, including the Rev. Allan Hendrickse.

The group gave Vorster a memorandum saying Hendrickse, a member of the executive body of the Colored Persons Representative Council, had to be released before the colored council would cooperate with government plans to establish a cabinet council for whites, coloreds and Indians.

A 55-page dossier compiled by the Christian Institute names 25 people who it says have died since 1963 while in security police custody, including three in the past six months, and lists 18 types of torture allegedly being used by police.

Security chief Gen. Michael Geldenhuys, asked about the institute's allegations, said: "I do not comment on anything that the Christian Institute has to say."

The report, entitled "South Africa—A Police State?"—also names 15 people currently under banning orders imposed under the Supression of Communism Act which limit their speech, movement or association.

Security police are able to detain South Africans under 46 separate security laws which do not obligate police to say who has been arrested or give reasons for detention-without-trial.

Bomb blast kills ex-Chilean envoy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The former Chilean ambassador to the United States and a woman colleague were killed today when a bomb exploded in their car as it passed near the Chilean Embassy, hospital officials said.

Another person was seriously injured in the blast.

The two persons killed were identified as Orlando Letelier, 44, ambassador during the regime of the late Marxist President Salvador Allende, and Ronnie Karpen Moffitt, who worked with Letelier at a research institute. Mrs. Moffitt's husband was injured in the blast.

Officials at George Washington Hospital said a bomb caused the explosion.

Police said the blast ripped the metal siding off the drivers' door and twisted the hood and roof of the car.

Letelier was director of the Trans National Institute, a division of the Washington-based research organization Institute for Policy Studies. He also taught at American University. Mrs. Moffitt, 25, was a staff member of the institute.

Her husband, Michael, 44, a research associate of the institute, was in serious condition at the hospital.

Allende, a member of the Socialist party, died in a bloody coup in September 1973 when the armed forces overthrew his government. Military authorities said he committed suicide.

Letelier was ambassador to the United States from 1971 until May 1973 when Allende called him back to Chile to become foreign minister. He also served as defense and interior minister under Allende.

He was arrested on the day of the coup and jailed for about a year. Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger said his intervention was partially responsible for Letelier's release.

Ingram trial postponed after new witness found

After first denying a motion for continuance Friday, District Judge Ralph W. Caton late Monday afternoon postponed the murder trial of Jay Doug Ingram, 26, until October 18.

District Attorney Robert H. Moore III said that while interviewing witnesses Sunday a previously unknown witness was discovered. A neighbor who lived near the scene of the killing had not previously been interviewed.

Roger Brown, attorney for Ingram, also refered to two summons of witnesses which did not reach the Dallas and Fort Worth Police Departments until Monday. The supplemental motion for continuance identified these two witnesses as Lloyd Gene Nichols and Donna K. Nichols.

Moore asked that the name of the new witness not be disclosed at this time.

Ingram, Vincent Route, has been indicted for the April 1975 shotgun slaying of Michael Green.

Judge Caton instructed the jury panel to return to the 118th District Court at 10 a.m. Thursday for a workmen's compensation appeal.

Texas General Indemnity Co. appealed the award of the Industrial Accident Board to Leon Houston, Jr. Houston claims to have suffered a foot injury while working for Cabot in June 1972.

Rainfall is above norm

Howard County rainfall for 1976 is now slightly above normal.

Heavy rains which fell over the weekend pushed the year's total to 14.12 inches. The normal fall through Monday was 14.09 inches, according to a report issued by the U.S. Experiment Station.

Since Sept. 1, a total of 2.49 inches of moisture has been trapped in Experiment Station gauges but in other county areas the rains have been much heavier.

Freeman faces court martial

Air Force Maj. Harold Freeman faces a general court-martial on charges of sexual offenses, a spokesman at Webb Air Force Base said today.

The trial will be at Sheppard Air Force Base, Wichita Falls, but the date has not been announced.

The statement follows:

"After examining the record of proceedings in the Article 32 investigation of Maj. Harold Roy Freeman, the commander of Sheppard Technical Training Center, has elected to refer this case to trial by general court-martial on charges of sexual offenses committed in the Philipines."

Maj. Gen. Cecil E. Fox is the commander.

Freeman also may be tried as a civilian in 118th District Court for family sex crimes said to have happened at his former Sand Springs home.

Glomar vessel deactivated

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy is going to spend $2.1 million to deactivate the spy ship Glomar Explorer, which was used by the CIA to recover part of a Russian submarine from the bottom of the Pacific Ocean in the summer of 1974.

The vessel, built with government funds under a secret agreement between the CIA and a corporation controlled by the late billionaire Howard Hughes, will be mothballed and kept in readiness for possible future use as a Navy salvage ship.

Coahoma has new officer

The City of Coahoma hired a chief of police at a special called meeting of the city council Monday night.

He is Jerry Morris, 32, of Paris, Texas. He stands 6-3 and weighs 240.

Morris has been in law enforcement work for eight years and at the present time is a special investigator for Lamar County.

His wife's name is Linda. They have an eight-year-old daughter. Both Morris and his wife formerly resided in Big Spring, at which time he was associated with the Big Spring Police Department.

Mayor Joe Swinney said the police force may be expanded later. Morris will have an office in the city hall.

Morris formally assumes his duties Oct. 1.

No ratings worries for debates

By the Associated Press

The debates between Jimmy Carter and President Ford are going to have very little trouble in the ratings because all four national television networks are going to carry the faceoff between the two candidates.

The NBC and CBS networks still express reservations about some of the ground rules for the debates, but they said Monday they will broadcast the meeting between the two presidential candidates.

That assures the candidates of having exposure on all four natonal networks when the debates begin Thursday night in Philadelphia.

Earlier, officials from ABC and the Public Broadcasting Service had said they would broadcast the meetings between Ford and Carter, although ABC said it, too, had reservations about some rules laid down by the League of Women Voters, which is sponsoring the debates.

The networks balked at rules barring television cameras from cutting away from the candidates to show the audience during the debate, and network executives also protested the decision of the league to permit Ford and Carter to participate in the selection of journalists who will do the questioning.

Carter, after a whistlestop train tour of New Jersey and Pennsylvania, was home in Plains, Ga., today, preparing for the opening debate. His running mate, Sen. Walter Mondale, was to take over the Democratic campaign train, traveling through Ohio and Indiana to Chicago.

Ford was also boning up for the debates, staying at the White House where he was meeting visiting Liberian President William R. Tolbert Jr. His running mate, Sen. Bob Dole, was to undergo a medical examination before flying to Ohio for an address tonight to the state Republican convention.

As Carter was campaigning by rail and talking to crowds along the way about the nation's unemployment problems, Ford voiced criticism of Carter's tax reform proposals and said he thinks middle-income Americans should have their taxes lowered.

"Our middle-income taxpayers have been shortchanged over the last 10 years. I believe that group ought to get additional tax relief," Ford said in a talk to farm editors in the White House Rose Garden.

Ford didn't mention Carter, who outlined his tax revision plans in an Associated Press interview released Saturday.

But he said, "Those who advocate additional expenditures have now suggested that in order to pay for those new programs and added expenditures, there should be an additional tax levy on middle-income people, which is 50 per cent of the families in the United States. We cannot add to the expenditures of the federal government with a host of new problems unless you are willing to tighten your belts."

In the interview with The AP, Carter said he intends to "shift a substantial increase toward those who have the higher incomes," while reducing taxes on those in lower-and middle-income groups.

Carter also said in the interview that he would not plan to include an overall increase or decrease in tax revenues. He previously said some of his planned programs would have to be delayed until funding for them becomes available.

Carter said he did not know what level of income would represent the barrier that would separate those who would pay more and those who would pay less. He accused the Republicans of distorting his remarks.

Ford told the farm group that the country is recovering from recession under his economic policies and said, "If we hold the line of federal expenditures, we can honestly give tax reduction, and that is the program of this administration."

On his campaign train Monday, Carter recalled the names of past Democratic presidents, especially Harry Truman, and hit hard on the theme of unemployment.

Blaming the Ford administration for high unemployment and inflation, Carter hit the same theme throughout the 435-mile, 14-hour tour that began in New York City and wound up in Pittsburgh: since Ford became president two years ago, unemployment in New Jersey and Pennsylvania has increased.

In Newark and Trenton, the Democratic nominee said that in New Jersey "77,000 people are out of work who had jobs two years ago." And when the train entered Pennsylvania he changed the figure to 125,400 for that state.

At each rally, Carter reminded the crowd of Truman's whistlestop campaign tour in the 1948 presidential election. Later, Carter told reporters at Johnstown, "There have been good crowds ... very responsive."

Linking inflation and the rising cost of housing, Carter said, "This shows the insensitivity of the Republicans to you and your life."

Carter said he is not just running against Ford, but "I'm running for your families, for your homes, for good education, for good health care, for fair taxes."

Dole was on the offensive in Florida, suggesting that Carter should "go back to his plantation" in Georgia.

The Republican vice presidential nominee said Carter does not understand the U.S. tax system, warning, "A vote for Carter is a vote for a tax increase. He really ought to go back to his plantation and take the tax system with him and spend about two weeks giving it some thought."

Mondale, on a Monday campaign swing through the Northeast, launched a counter-attack, saying he found it "incredible" to hear Ford and Dole "trying to sound like they're for tax reform."

Railhead arts display in Colorado City Saturday

COLORADO CITY — It appears now that upwards to 90 persons will display wares in the annual Railhead Arts and Crafts Roundup here Saturday.

The arts and-crafts show began four years ago in Ruddick Park. it moved downtown the following year to Civic Center and was known as the October Occasion.

This year, the sponsoring Chamber of Commerce elected to adopt a permanent name for the event, the Railhead Arts and Crafts Roundup.

It was originally thought that 60 to 70 craftsmen from throughout Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico would set up booths and displays of their handiwork but interest continues to grow.

The Civic Center and the block around the building will be set up with booths decorated with the Railhead 1880 theme. Persons manning the booths are being asked to dress in vintage clothing. For their efforts, booth prizes will be awarded.

The roundup begins at 10 a.m., and ends at 6 p.m. A meeting of the Do-Si-Do Square Dance Club will follow at 8 o'clock. There will be no admission charge either for the roundup or the dance.

There will be live music all day and food will be sold in booths throughout the day.

Many of the artists and craftsmen planning to attend have donated items which will be given away during drawings planned throughout the day. Everyone attending is being asked to register in order to be eligible for the drawings.

Some of the items to be on display include all types of art works (oils, watercolors, pencil and charcoal), macrame, hand-painted jewelry, hand-painted china, woodcraft, artificial fruits, plants and flowers, pottery, tole painting, ceramics, weavings, leather goods, dolls and jewelry.

The event is sponsored by the Cultural Affairs Committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

Pettus elected chief of local electricians

The Big Spring Electrical Contractors Association elected new officers at their regular monthly meeting recently at Haston Electric.

Albert Pettus of Pettus Electric was elected president and Charles Girdner, Girdner Electric, was elected vice-president. All other officers carried over for another term.

Topic for discussion was the matter of electrical inspections in the city of Big Spring. This was discussed at length and a committee was appointed to request a meeting with the City Electrical Board of Examiners in regard to the electrical inspections.

Also, a committee was appointed to work on newspaper advertising that would promote safety in the installation and use of electrical wiring equipment. They also would promote the use of licensed and bonded electrical firms for all wiring within the city limits of Big Spring.

Past president Dwite Gilliland and vice-president Gene Haston were congratulated on a very successful term of office and appreciation was expressed by the members for a job well done.

Members present included Gilliland, Haston, Raymond Tally, Bill Row, Pettus, Clyde Chesser and Girdner. Next meeting will be held at the office of Gilliland Electric on Oct. 4.

Hill may join protest group

Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau

AUSTIN — Attorney Gen. John Hill is considering becoming a protestant of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.'s requested rate increase.

Hill said that he may well enter the suit to represent the state agencies which have to pay telephone bills. That decision will come soon, he said, probably by the end of the month.

"But that's making a lot of assumptions of things that will happen that I just don't think will come to pass," Hill said.

Police beat

Burglars get $1,700

Intruders hit the Pizza Hut, 2601 Gregg, for $1,700 in cash and checks, sometime between midnight Sunday and 10 a.m. Monday.

According to reports, entry was gained by prying open the east door of the Hut. The loot was taken from a floor safe which was undamaged, leading police to belive that the combination of the safe was known by the thugs.

Burglars entered the old Malone-Hogan Hospital, 811 Main, splattered paint over the nurse's station there, and made off with five television sets.

Entry was gained sometime around 5:30 p.m. Monday through a window on the east side of the building. According to reports, the burglars made their way to the second floor nurse's station. Once there, they spread blue and green paint over the floor, chairs, desks and other furniture, and then made off with the TVs.

Total loss was estimated at $150.

Burglars also broke into Charlie's Grocery, 1612 E. 3rd, sometime between 10 p.m. Sunday and 8 a.m. Monday. The lock on the store's west door was pried off, but nothing was reported missing.

The Howard County Fairgrounds was the site of two CB radio burglaries, both between 8 and 10:30 p.m. Monday. The CBs were heisted from cars belonging to Robert M. Garcia, 107 N. Nolan, and Uvaldo Lopez, 605 N.E. 9th. Both were valued at $150.

Another CB was lifted from a car belonging to Charles Burks, Knott Rt., around 8:30 p.m. Monday. The car was parked behind the Big Spring Detox Center. The CB was valued at $200.

Stella Ramirez, 101 NW 9th, reported that her car was vandalized while she attended Sacred Heart Church Sunday. According to the report, vandals threw a rock through the windshield, and bounced rocks off of the car's vinyl top and trunk lid. Damage was estimated at $300.

Ron Flint, 1602 B Lincoln, reported that sometime Sunday night intruders entered his car and removed the cover around its steering column. Police speculate that someone had attempted unsuccessfully to start the car without a key. Damage to the car's ignition system was estimated at $150.

Five fender-benders were reported Monday.

Cars driven by Leon Wilson, Webb AFB, and Robert Langston, Box 381, collided at Wasson near the Comanche Trail Park entrance, 11:15 a.m.

A parked car driven by Ellen Coots, Route 1, was struck by a vehicle that left the scene at the Howard County Fairgrounds, 10 p.m.

A motorcycle belonging to Stanley Griffith, 808 W. 8th, was damaged in a one-vehicle accident on the dirt bike trail near Eleventh, 3:25 p.m.

A driverless vehicle belonging to Caldwell Electric Company, P.O. Box 2157, collided with a parked car belonging to Dorothy Hull, 1506 Main, noon.

Cars driven by Lewis Price, 810 W. 18th and Joe Barree, 2300 Nolan, collided at the 100 block of S. Main, 11:40 a.m.

The next meeting will be held at 8 p.m. Sept. 27 with Shorty Grantham serving as noble grand and James Norwood serving as vice grand.

Sunday set as Gold Star Mother's day

Mayor Wade Choate has declared Sunday as American Gold Star Mother's Day.

The mayor has asked Big Springers to pay tribute on this day to "a group of fellow citizens who have lost so much in the preservation of our nation's freedom."

The Big Spring Gold Star Mothers Chapter was lauded for doing "much to enhance the national organization and to give confidence to their fellow citizens.

In addition, Mayor Choate, under an act of Congress and a proclamation by the President, declared the week of Sept. 17 through 23 as Constitution Week. In a special proclamation the citizens of Big Spring are called upon to "reflect on the powers and freedoms which have been granted to them under the fundamental principles of our Constitution."

Also noted in the proclamation is the role of the Daughters of the American Revolution in "taking it upon themselves in their principles to remember the importance of our Constitution and its guarantee of our American way of life."

Mitchell gets new trooper

COLORADO CITY — A new Department of Public Safety trooper has been assigned to Mitchell County.

He is Doyle Holdridge, 24, a native of Rankin, previously assigned to Fort Hancock and El Paso.

Doyle, his wife and their two-year-old son, Justin, moved here Sept. 1. Doyle graduated from DPS school in 1972.

CowBelles sponsor beef cutting show

The TEJAS Chapter of the CowBelles — an organization of ladies in Howard, Dawson, Borden, Scurry and surrounding counties, interested totally in the promotion of and education in the field of the beef industry, will present a beef cutting demonstration at the Howard County Fair on Wednesday evening. The demonstration will take place in the south show barn at the Fair grounds at 7 p.m. The public is invited and encouraged to be in attendance and there will be no admission charged for the demonstration.

Aubry and Modesta Stokes (members of the local CowBelles organization) have donated a half beef that will be cut up and packaged by George Smith of Hubbard's Packing Co., and Carl Knappe, local meat processor. Smith will be doing the commentary while he prepares each cut of meat, telling of the more tender cuts of meat, identifying each section and cut, and proper preparation and preservation. After the meat is prepared and packaged — it will be given away to those in attendance who registered with the CowBelles at the time of the demonstration.

This beef cutting demonstration is one of the many education and promotional prgrams prepared and put on by the TEJAS CowBelles whose chapter has only been in existance a limited number (4) of years. The 1976-77 officers for the chapter are: President: Mrs. J. M. Sterling 965-3464; vice president: Mrs. Tom Griffin; secretary: Mrs. Aubry Stokes; and treasurer: Mrs. Johnny Middleton.

For further information, please contact Mrs. J. M. Sterling.

Some Mitchell cotton hurt

COLORADO CITY — An estimated 1,500 acres of cotton in southern Mitchell County was damaged by hail last week.

Most of the cotton was southwest of Loraine. As many as five farms may have been hit by the storm.

Whistle-stop campaigning 'fun'

PITTSBURGH (AP) — It's anybody's guess how many votes Jimmy Carter's whistlestop tour got him, but one thing was clear: the first day of the long train trip was fun.

The crowds were lively, the bands lusty and the scenery from the train window among the loveliest America has to offer.

And if it was the image of a candidate in touch with the people that Carter hoped to project Monday — and it was — the train ride surely had that folksy effect.

At Newark, N.J., I.Z. Mischel entertained with kazoo and police whistle; at Trenton, a crowd of iron workers at trackside, under a brilliant morning sun, clapped spiritedly to endless choruses of "Happy Days Are Here Again"; at Overbrook, Pa., beside an antique railroad station of another era, Carter spoke from the rear platform of the train; at Harrisburg, Pa., high school bands played, street vendors sold balloons and confetti fluttered from office windows.

From town to town on the 435-mile trip from the Hudson Valley to the Allegheny's heights, train passengers were treated to vistas of tidy Pennsylvania Dutch farms, bulging silos, meadowlarks darting over late corn, timbered mountains showing a first flush of autumn color.

"I'm enjoying this," Jimmy Carter said, strolling through all 13 cars of the train to chat with guests and reporters. He said he might even try whistlestopping again, perhaps in California.

"I've always loved trains," he said. "I grew up on the railroad tracks myself." He said campaigning by train rather than airplane gave him "a much more human personal kind of relationship with the voters, which I like very much."

As it turned out, Overbrook was the only place Carter was able to use the refurbished observation car, vintage 1953, as a podium. He did, however, as the train pulled out of stations, wave from the observation car and call out "goodbye everybody, ya'll help me."

For the most part, he spoke from platforms hastily built at trackside, at safe places for crowds to gather. At Altoona, Pa., carpenters were still on the platform driving nails as the train arrived.

At every stop on the route, Carter invoked the name of Harry Truman, who made whistlestopping a political byword. At Johnstown, Pa., he was rewarded with a plaque observing that Truman had stopped at the very same station on Oct. 25, 1948.

"What did you think of Harry Truman?" he asked every crowd. And every crowd answered with hurrays. "And Franklin Roosevelt and Lyndon Johnson and John Kennedy?" he called gleefully. "What did you think of them?" More cheers.

"And what did you think of Harding and Coolidge and Hoover and — Richard Nixon," he concluded, unveiled mischief in his voice.

The response was predictable.

Houston woman dies of wounds

HOUSTON (AP) — Police said a woman was stabbed to death and her daughter injured Saturday by an intruder who then ran screaming from their apartment.

Elvira Flores, 35, was dead at the scene from multiple stab wounds in her chest and arms. Jo Ann Casares, 15, was treated at a hospital for cuts across her arm and chest.

The daughter said she saw her mother and a man struggling in her mother's bedroom. She said the man ran screaming from the room and, struggled briefly with her and then fled from the upstairs apartment.

Alternatives section disappointing

Of the many sections in the draft environmental impact report, one is the most important to Webb Air Force Base: The alternatives.

It was to this section that I turned first, and it is in this section that I found the greatest disappointment.

FIRST, THE SCOPE of the study limited alternatives considered to the Air Training Command.

Mayor Wade Choate through Cong. Omar Burleson and Sen. John Tower had relayed a number of specific alternatives to the Air Force, and I cannot understand why these were not dealt with.

The Air Force's answer was that there are an infinite number of alternatives outside the ATC. The specific problem is cutting down the pilot training overhead, officials said, and the impact statement addresses itself only to that specific point.

The reason given for closing bases is that the Air Force is in a period of contraction. This is unquestionably true.

However, the Air Force admits that it plans expansion of the Tactical Air Command's T-38 lead-in program in 1978. The movement of part of this program to Webb was one of the alternatives suggested by Mayor Choate. Also, in the early 1980s, the demand for pilot training begins going up again.

A NUMBER of alternatives listed were under a heading entitled "considered but rejected." Among these were:

1) Taking no action to reduce the bases at all.

2) Reduce pilot training at all seven UPT bases.

3) Close Williams AFB in Arizona.

These obviously were not serious considerations at this point in the game.

But a fourth listing under "considered but rejected" looked most promising. It was: "Close only one UPT (undergraduate pilot training) base."

An excellent argument can be made for this alternative, and tomorrow in this column I'll look at it in more detail.

The only active alternative being pursued other than the proposed closing of Webb and Craig AFB (Alabama) is that of closing another combination of ATC bases, according to the impact statement.

Others that might be closed instead of Webb include Columbus AFB (Mississippi); Laughlin AFB (Del Rio); Reese AFB (Lubbock); and Vance AFB (Oklahoma).

The statement deals with the operational capabilities of each of these bases and the economic impact that closure of each of them would have on their areas.

To summarize my opinion of the relative merits of each, it can be said that the economic impact would be worse at Laughlin and next worse at Webb.

THE AIR FORCE could save the most money by closing Columbus with less loss of training capacity, and I believe that an objective reading of the impact statement would suggest that Columbus, not Webb, should have been selected. More details on this later in the week.

The alternatives section of the impact statement was the place where we hoped the Air Force would show us some hope. We thought we would see a serious effort by the Department of Defense to find another mission of Webb, but it was not there.

—J. TOM GRAHAM

Rumors fly

Around the rim

Troy Bryant

A sign in the hotel says in effect, be glad that those jets you hear flying over are ours, not theirs.

At the Green Oaks Hotel in Fort Worth, headquarters for the 30th district delegates to the state Democratic convention, jets screamed overhead regularly.

THEY WERE MOSTLY B52s and refueling tankers taking off from a runway at Carswell Air Force base. The hotel, along with hundreds of other businesses, is located at the end of one of the runways.

Now that's what you call urban encroachment.

Compared to Carswell, Webb is in the middle of the desert.

Don't be surprised if former U.S. Senator Ralph Yarborough from Texas is high on the list of potential cabinet members if Jimmy Carter is elected president.

He gave a rousing speech at the Democratic convention Saturday, just about the only time that the delegates woke up collectively.

He is a personal friend of vice-presidential nominee Sen. Walter Mondale and said Mondale is the brightest Senator in Washington. Needless, to say, he was delighted at his selection as the vice-presidential nominee.

HE WAS ALSO delighted at the selection of Sen. Robert Dole as Republican vice-presidential nominee. Yarborough said Dole was one of the least bright members of the Senate.

Also don't be surprised if Rep. Barbara Jordan gets an appointment to a cabinet post or to the Supreme Court.

She has caught the eye of many people because of her impressive knowledge of the Constitution and dedication to her constituents. Don't be surprised if she turns it down to run for Senate in 1978 either.

OTHER NAMES mentioned in the rumor mill for possible Senate candidacy in the Democratic Party in 1978 include Rep. Bob Krueger and Mayor Fred Hofheinz, Houston.

In the governor's race, it appears Briscoe will run again in '78, and the rumor mill says that Comptroller Bob Bullock and — or Secretary of State Mark White will also run for the post.

Here are a few campaign buttons noticed at the convention:

"A woman's place is in the house . . . and the senate."

"I'm MAD (Mexican American Democrats) about Carter."

"Hofheinz '78"

"The goobers are coming . . . the goobers are coming."

"Carter and Muskie in '76"

"I'm a Republican supporter" (with photo of jock strap).

"Ford: Nixon's choice".

"Ford . . . Oh, I beg your pardon."

Charley,- Foxbat

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — When Lieutenant Viktor Belenko of the Soviet Air Force delivered a spanking new MIG-25 "Foxbat" fighter plane to the Japanese last week, there was trememdous excitement amongst all Western military commands. The Foxbat is considered the world's fastest warplane and everyone, especially the U.S. Air Force intelligence people, were dying to have an opportunity to examine every toggle switch on it.

THE JAPANESE knew the Soviet Union would put tremendous pressure on them to have the MIG-25 returned immediately so they asked the United States how they could stall for time. Pentagon officials huddled for a few days and then a general came up with the answer. "What we need is an expert in stalling — someone who can keep the MIG from being sent back and at the same time not offend the Soviets."

"Whom do you have in mind?" the secretary of defense asked.

"Charley Muleback."

"Who the hell is Charley Muleback?" another general asked.

"I can't tell you now," the general replied.

Muleback was flown out that evening. He arrived at Hakodate airport and was taken to the Foxbat which had been completely sealed off by the Japanese and under heavy guard. In another part of the airport an angry Russian Embassy official was screaming at the Japanese officials that the Soviet Union wanted its MIG back immediately, and if they didn't get it there would be serious consequences.

THE JAPANESE introduced Muleback to the Russian.

"Tell him," Muleback said, "that the plane's been completely totaled and we're going to have to start from scratch to rebuild it."

A Japanese official translated this to the Russian.

The Russian protested that the plane was in perfect condition and there wasn't a scratch on it.

Muleback shook his head. "That's what all MIG-25 owners say, but they never look underneath the plane where the real damage is. Besides, we're going to have to replace the two afterburning jet engines. At the impact of landing, they were wrecked beyond repair and I believe they wouldn't last another 500 miles. Tell him I personally called the spare parts factory in Lansing, Mich., and they promised they would air freight the engines in two months."

The Russian made a telephone call to his superiors and then returned. "We'll take the plane as it is," he told the Japanese, "and make our own repairs."

MULEBACK, WHEN told what the Russian said, replied, "Even if the afterburning engines worked, we're going to have to put in all new air intake valves. They're a mess. And we have to replace the grill on the radar nose cone and the wheels will have to be realigned. And we have to change the oil filters which means removing the radar equipment from the cockpit. We found some dirt in the gaskets that control the air-to-air missiles, and we'll have to send away to Shreveport which is the only place that still makes them."

Blood fats, overweights partners

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Please explain a little about triglycerides in the blood. My husband had a physical recently and his level was high, although his cardiogram, his cholesterol and blood sugar were fine. He has been put on a low-cholesterol, low-calorie diet. — Mrs. J. E.

Let's try to stay out of the deep woods on this one.

Several blood fats circulate in our bodies. Those which attach to protein molecules are called lipoproteins (lipo meaning fat). Triglyceride is one. The body manufactures it from carbohydrates (starches and sugars).

Cholesterol is a form of steroid the body manufactures from animal fats.

Both have been detected in plaques (deposits on the insides of arteries) that create circulation problems.

A rise in one doesn't have to mean a person will have heart disease or extensive arterial hardening. But usually a rise in one heralds a rise in the other. Tests can be deceptive. One can be high and the other normal or vice versa. Or both can be high. Readings also vary among individuals based on such factors as emotions at the time of the test.

A high triglyceride level would require carbohydrate restriction, and a high cholesterol level restriction of animal fats. It's important to remember, too, that the body manufactures these substances independently of what we eat.

Your husband had a high triglyceride level with a normal cholesterol reading from his tests. His doctor advised a low-cholesterol, low-calorie diet. Your husband is probably overweight.

This makes sense. There is some thought nowadays that both triglyceride and cholesterol levels may be caused as much by how much we eat as by what we eat. A heavy eater is bound to get more than his share of all types of blood fats. It is no coincidence that obese people are more prone to artery and heart problems associated with elevated blood fats.

Your husband's low-calorie diet is bound to reduce his triglycerides and restriction of animal fats will forestall any cholesterol problem. I'd say he has a wise doctor.

My booklet dealing with cholesterol will answer most other questions you might have regarding this often confusing subject. If you would like a copy, send 35 cents to me in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a stamped and self-addressed envelope.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Just how successful are these corneal transplants? I mean does it ever have to be done over? — H.R.

For the benefit of other readers, H.R. is referring to the transplanting of the clear, transparent outer covering at the front of the eye. These are donated by deceased persons.

Latest figures I've read indicate that roughly 70 per cent are completely successful, about 20 per cent partially so and about 10 per cent are rejected by the tissue of the recipient.

Quite often, a second of third transplant is successful although the first one was not. Lions Clubs across the nation are instrumental in maintaining corneal transplant banks.

Dr. Thosteson welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Bows to Shah

Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON — The secret papers of James Akins, the former ambassador to Saudi Arabia, reveal that the Saudis repeatedly urged the United States to bring pressure on Iran to lower oil prices.

Yet the United States made no apparent effort to bring the Shah of Iran into line. The Saudis, therefore, became convinced that the United States was secretly conspiring with the shah to keep oil prices up.

AKINS REPORTED that he had an "explicit" conversation with the Saudi oil minister Ahmed Zaki Yamani about reducing oil prices. Yamani said he "knows" that Secretary of State Henry Kissinger "is speaking about lower oil prices but in secret doing everything possible to jack them up. This will enable him to unite the consumers in a front against the producers, particularly the Arabs."

In a secret "memorandum for the file," the former ambassador revealed: "The Saudis had urged us on numerous occasions to put pressure on the shah to cooperate with Saudi Arabia and reduce the oil prices, yet we had refused to do this."

It reached the point that the Saudis no longer believed what Kissinger told them. Wrote Akins: "In one of Kissinger's last meetings with King Faisal, the king urged him directly to take (oil prices) up with the shah, and the secretary agreed to do so. The secretary saw the shah in late winter 1975 and reported back to King Faisal that he had indeed tried to persuade the shah to reduce oil prices.

"The Saudis themselves have subsequently been told by the shah himself . . . that the subject of oil was not discussed in these meetings. Although the Saudis know the Iranian propensity to lie, they believe in this case that the Iranians were telling the truth."

The Saudis became all the more convinced that Kissinger was lying, Yamani told Akins, by the special treatment the shah received in Washington. "The shah, in his recent visit to the United States, was honored by the President and other highest ranking members of the government," Yamani noted.

Although the shah had announced "that oil prices must go up by $3.50-barrel," reported Akins, "the Iranians had told them we were completely unconcerned about any price rise. The shah has also told this to numerous oilmen as proof that the U.S. is at least indifferent to an increase in oil prices.

"In any case, the Saudis have seen no account from any American source that we in any way tried to pressure the shah to back off this extreme position on oil crisis."

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: I read in a book that you are not properly married unless the ceremony is performed by a minister. I was married by a justice of the peace. Does this mean that I am not properly married? — D. C.

DEAR D. C.: In the eyes of the law you are legally married when the ceremony is performed by a justice of the peace or by a minister. In the eyes of God the rightness of your marriage depends not so much upon the initial ceremony as upon your faithfulness to your spouse. The teaching of the Bible on this subject is concerned less with the marriage ceremony than with the marriage relationship, as in Ephesians 5:22-33.

The value of a church ceremony is that the bride and groom make their promises to one another in the presence of God, and that gives the vows added solemnity. The service also provides an opportunity to seek God's blessing upon the marriage and the new home that is to be founded.

If you feel you have missed something by not having been married in a church, you might like to consider suggesting to your minister that he arrange a service of rededication for all married couples in his church who are interested in the idea. Through this type of service, the minister seeks God's blessing on your continued lives together, and you and your wife have the opportunity to renew your marriage vows to each other.

Big Spring Herald Mailbag

Dear Editor:

As a citizen of Big Spring, I am very happy to hear that congressmen and senators from Texas are behind our efforts to save Webb AFB. At the same time, I'm also very happy to hear that powerful congressmen from other districts in Texas have joined us in our efforts to save Webb AFB.

If we could muster this same support in Big Spring, I would be even happier.

R. A. Nunn
Box 7

Dear Editor:

Each week questions appear in the Herald concerning who footed the bill for the recent trip to Washington by a local delegation to receive the Economic Impact Statement. As a member of the Century Club, I am very happy to join other members of the Century Club in saying "we did." We feel the trip was well worth the cost and many things were accomplished during the trip that could not have been accomplished either by mail or over the phone.

Those of us who have worked with these individuals and the Legislative Council of the Century Club, know the recent trip to Washington was a "work" trip and not a "fun" trip. We consider the fight to save Webb AFB a serious matter and do not understand how any citizens for Big Spring could consider this matter an excuse for the local delegation to have "fun."

If the people who wrote the letters to the editor complaining about the trip spent more time working with our civic leaders in trying to save Webb, perhaps we would have a better chance of saving the base. It is always frustrating to see these types of complaints appear in the paper after we have worked so hard in preparing our case to save the base and the military community.

Ralph Brooks
2908 Hunters Glen

Dear Editor:

I have worked with personnel at Webb for many years and have enjoyed my association with them. So, if Webb closes, I feel we would not only lose a valuable asset to the community, but would lose many of our friends as well.

It is for this reason that I would like to express my appreciation to the four citizens from Big Spring and the two Odessa men who made the recent trip to Washington. I feel Big Spring is fortunate in having people of their caliber who are willing to set their business dealings and family activities aside in order to make these trips to argue our case before the Department of the Air Force.

And all I can say to their critics is "stop complaining and start helping." We need all the help we can get.

Harry L. McMillan
2708 Crestline

Dear Editor:

I am getting tired of reading remarks in the Herald from people complaining about the cost of the recent trip to Washington by a local delegation. It has already been stated in the paper on several occasions that the Century Club paid for the trip and not the taxpayers per se. However, you continue to answer questions concerning this matter.

As for one, I'm tired of people who sit back and complain. Now they're complaining about the expense of the trip, and if the base closes, they'll be complaining because we didn't do more to save the base. You can't do anything with people who complain. They're always around, and they'll always have a complaint.

I've often wondered at the amount of good that could be accomplished if these same people used their efforts in constructive measures rather than destructive ones.

Louis Tallant
Box 2550

Dear Editor:

Since Walt Finley's remark about the purpose of the local delegation's trip to Washington, two questions have appeared on the front page of the Herald asking if the taxpayers were paying for this "fun" trip.

It is apparent to those of us who have worked with these individuals and other interested citizens, that the fight to save Webb AFB is a serious one. They do not take this matter lightly and none of them considered the recent trip a "fun" trip.

If Walt Finley and other complainers would spend more time working with these dedicated citizens, they would not be making the remarks they are making. For example, they would have learned that Winston Wrinkle had to miss a dialysis treatment in order to make the trip to Washington. Mr. Wrinkle actually put the future of Webb AFB above his own health, and I feel that certainly should be commended from the civic standpoint.

As far as these people being interested in their business more than Webb, I feel that we should all examine that question. How many of us would not lose something directly or indirectly if the base closed? It is true that most businesses, if not all, would lose some of their income if the base closed. However, it's also true that these businesses would have to let some employes go if their business volumn declined. It's also true that the property value would decrease with the influx of houses on the local market, and the school tax would have to be increased on property owners to offset the loss of state and federal monies. So, as you can see, most of us would be directly affected by a base closure.

So, the next time you have a question about the funds needed to continue our fight to save Webb AFB, why not consider the impact the base closing would have on you, your family, and your friends.

Grandchild tale

with Marj Carpenter

This is not the Red Baron, but that three-winged airplane sure does look like it belonged to the Red Baron himself in the Peanuts series in the funnies.

Who is the little boy? Why that's Jason Falkner of Agoura, Calif. Does that help you any?

Actually, I heard one remark the other day that I had entirely too many old folks stories, so I cast around for something young and there he was.

He's the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Avery Falkner. I decided he would simply make a good typical grandchild tale for the day.

Please don't call me all of your grandchildren stories. I'm going very quickly back to old tales. I love old days. But I do, in this column, seek out both the unusual and the typical in every direction.

I decided that even though Avery is known as a hardened seasoned police detective, he's still a typical grandpa.

He has four grandchildren, including Jason, and three of them live in California. So on their vacation a few weeks back, the Falkners headed for Agoura.

In driving around the area out there, they found this restaurant at Van Nuys. It is made in the mode of a French Chateau that had been turned into an old Air Drome for World War I.

THE RED BARON'S PLANE . . . with Jason

Outside, there were sandbags with machine guns sticking out and then there were two airplanes.

One of the planes was this triple-wing Fokker shown behind Jason. The other was called a Sopwith Camel.

Needless to say Jason was fascinated with the entire place. And so, I might add, was Avery. I like grandparents that take time to travel with their grandchildren to unusual places.

I remember when I was a little girl going with my grandmother in New York State to — of all thing — a motorcycle hill climb.

"I hate motorcycles," she told me at the outset. "But your stupid uncle is riding one so we're going." That's logical.

It reminds me of the logic of my former Pecos neighbor, Mrs. Louis Ivey in Pecos. She was the wife of an El Paso legislator who spent years of his life legislating for the cotton farmer.

"Everybody in our family was sane until Louis Jr. came along and rode bulls," she used to recall. He no longer rides bulls. But in his youth, he'd ride bulls. His mother would go to the rodeo and hide her face the whole time that he was riding.

He lived here in Big Spring two years ago as a livestock inspector. Still getting around animals . . . but at least he'd quit trying to ride them.

But back to the Red Baron — and the Falkners. There really was a Red Baron who was an ace in World War I.

And he very well may have flown this triple-wing plane. Anyway, it makes a nice tale. Any you can tell by the picture that it was along a fence. So that ought to qualify it for ridin' fence.

Merger talks broken off

ST. LOUIS, Mo. — Downing B. Jenks, chairman of the board of Missouri Pacific Corporation, and W. Graham Claytor, Jr., chairman of the board of Southern Railway Company, have announced that discussions to determine the feasibility and advisability of placing Missouri Pacific Corporation and Southern Railway Company under common corporate ownership and control have been terminated without agreement between the parties.

Mr. Jenks and Mr. Claytor said that representatives of both companies have completed studies of the feasibility of various methods to bring together under common control the organizations they represent. Initiation of these studies was announced on April 15.

They said that while studies indicated that benefits could be realized by both companies in a number of areas, they were unable to agree on financial terms for a plan of common ownership and control.

RESUMEN DE
LAS ENMIENDAS PROPUESTAS A LA CONSTITUCION
ELECCION GENERAL DEL
2 DE NOVIEMBRE DE 1976

NUMERO UNO EN LA BOLETA (S.J.R. 49)

Revocando Secciones 49-d and 49-d-1 del Artículo III de la Constitución de Tejas, S.J.R. 49 enmienda Sección 49-c del Artículo III de la Constitución de Tejas para disponer y autorizar $400 millones adicionales de bonos para el desarrollo de agua en Tejas que se puede emitir a la aprobación de dos terceras partes de los miembros de cada cámara de la Legislatura para tales fines de desarrollo del agua que la Legislatura pueda prescribir.

La enmienda contiene prohibición específica contra el uso de fondos del estado para el desarrollo de recursos acuáticos del Rio Mississippi y también requiere que antes de que pueda encargarse de cualquier proyecto particular para el desarrollo de agua que requiere un gasto de mas de $35 millones de producto de los bonos, debe de ser aprobado por resolución de la Legislatura.

La enmienda remueva el requerimiento constitucional que ciertas rentas deben de ser usadas para retirar bonos para el desarrollo de agua y el encarecimiento de la calidad de agua y remueva el límite constitucional de la tasa de interés en tales bonos.

La fraseología de la enmienda propuesta tal como aparecerá en la boleta es lo siguiente: "La enmienda constitucional autorizando un incremento de $400 millónes de la cantidad de Bonos del Desarrollo de Agua en Tejas que podrán emitirse al ser aprobada por dos terceras partes de la legislatura; enmendando y consolidando disposiciones de Secciones 49-c, 49-d, y 49-d-1 del Artículo III de la Constitución de Tejas; y revocando Secciones 49-d y 49-d-1 del Artículo III de la Constitución de Tejas."

NUMERO DOS EN LA BOLETA (H.J.R. 99)

H.J.R. 99 propone una enmienda a la Constitución de Tejas para aumentar de $100 millones hasta $200 millones la cantidad principal agregada de bonos para el desarrollo de agua en Tejas que se puede emitir y que están en circulación por el Texas Water Development Board para proveer donaciones y préstamos para la mejoría de la calidad de agua como establecido por la Legislatura. La fraseología de la enmienda propuesta como aparecerá en la boleta es lo siguiente: "Una enmienda constitucional para incrementar desde $100 millónes hasta $200 millónes la cantidad de Bonos de Desarrollo de Agua en Tejas que podrán ser emitidos con el propósito de mejorar la calidad del agua."

Bell rate hike hearings begin Nov. 1

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—The Texas Public Utility Commission has set Nov. 1 as the starting date for a estimated month of hearings on Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.'s request for $298 million worth of rate increases.

Commissioners also cleared the way for more than 100 cities and organizations to present evidence in opposition to the increases.

The Texas Municipal League and a number of cities complained, however, about the ground rules issued by the commission to reduce the amount of time required for the hearing.

The commission instructed all the parties within each of four categories to select a single lead counsel and, in effect, present a common case on the issues of rate base and fair rate of return.

Once those key economic issues have been dealt with, the parties can go their own ways in fighting various parts of the package, which includes raises in rates for local service and long distance. Bell also wants to double the cost of pay telephone calls and impose charges for more than three "411" directory assistance calls a month.

Chairman Garrett Morris said he wants the commission to act before Jan. 3. That would be the 125th day after Bell filed its rate increase request. Texas law allows a rate increase to take effect if the commission has not acted in 125 days, provided the utility posts bond to guarantee refunds to customers if the commission subsequently disapproves it.

"I don't think it is in the public interest for any rate of this magnitude to go into effect under bond without somebody having time to look at it and say it is fair and reasonable," Morris said.

Once the hearings end, the commission will have just over a month to make its decision, he added.

If 185 days elapse from Sept. 1 without a decision, Bell's increase would take effect automatically.

The categories created by the commission for the hearing are: the federal government, represented by the General Services Administration; the Texas Municipal League, attorney general, state comptroller and Rep. Lane Denton, D-Waco, presumably represented by Atty. Gen. John Hill; consumer groups and the Texas AFL-CIO; and a catchall group including the Communications Workers of America and the Texas Retail Federation.

Cities wanted to present their case independently of the state, saying that vital points are not always the same.

Spokesmen for Abilene, Amarillo, Lubbock, Midland and Odessa also asked to make an independent case. They said Bell's proposal would raise rates for local service by 55 to 102 per cent in their areas.

The reason, they said, was that Bell lumped them into a rating bracket with a number of coastal cities where Bell's capital investment is higher and fewer long distance calls are made.

Does your company think enough of you to provide the best?

The premium rates for Blue Cross and Blue Shield coverage might be a little higher than those of some other insurance companies.

But the reasons are simple.

It returns more of its premiums in claim payments to policyholders than most other major insurance companies.

And it doesn't set maximum dollar limits on most hospital services, including the intensive care unit.

Blue Cross and Blue Shield coverage means a lot to you. And it shows you mean a lot to your company.

Third month in a row

Consumer prices jumped again

WASHINGTON (AP) — Consumer prices rose five-tenths of a per cent during August for the third month in a row, the government said today. A decline in meat prices failed to offset higher costs for most other foods, fuel and clothing.

The increase means inflation is running at an annual rate of 6 per cent, a level in line with the Ford administration's forecast.

At the same time, the Labor Department reported a further shrinkage in the purchasing power of the average workers' paycheck as inflation last month offset a slight increase in pay.

President Ford has claimed that his economic policies have helped cut the inflation rate in half from its 1974 levels. His Democratic challenger, Jimmy Carter, has charged that the current rate still is twice as high as when the Democrats were in office. Price increases averaged 2 per cent in the 1950s and 2.3 per cent during the 1960s.

Consumer price increases were smaller earlier this year but picked up to a 6 per cent rate in the spring. As the pace of inflation quickened, the economic recovery slowed and unemployment began rising again.

Although the administration contends the recovery will continue through next year, the Democrats have attempted to put Ford on the defensive about the economy.

In its August report, the Labor Department said consumer prices were 5.6 per cent higher than a year ago.

Food prices rose three-tenths of a per cent in August as lower meat prices helped offset increases for fruits, vegetables, dairy products and coffee.

But new increases for gasoline and clothing helped drive nonfood commodity prices up six-tenths of a per cent, about the same rate as in the previous three months but twice as much as during the first quarter of the year.

The cost of services also rose six-tenths of a per cent last month, matching increases in June and July.

All prices are seasonally adjusted. Unadjusted, the August increase in consumer prices also measured five-tenths of a per cent.

The consumer price index stood at 171.9 in August, meaning a market basket of goods and services costing $100 in 1967 now costs $171.90.

Lan Bentsen backs father's record

Lan Bentsen expressed pride over his father's voting record and forecast a Democratic sweep in Texas in November's general election in a Big Spring stop Monday afternoon.

Young Bentsen, who is affiliated with the Houston real estate firm of Bath and Bentsen, is stumping for his father, Sen. Lloyd Bentsen. Lan says his father feels it is more important to remain in Washington where several vital pieces of legislature (some of which he has authored) have reached the floor in the Senate.

Lan has never offered for office but says he relishes the chance to hit the campaign trail. He finds it easy to defend his father's voting record and takes issue with those who fault his father for taking unpopular sides on some vital issues.

"Dad has cast some 2,000 votes in his six years in the Senate," Lan explains, "it stands to reason he is going to cast votes five or six times that may not line up with the popular side."

Young Bentsen said it was possible for anyone to point to anyone's voting record on five or six issues and make him look like Genghis Klan.

Lan added his father tried to be a senator "for all the people," preferring not to be identified with special interest groups.

Young Bentsen also questioned the motions of his father's Republican opponent in the November elections, Rep. Alan Steelman of Dallas.

Lan said Steelman was resorting to ennuendo, taking statements out of context to discredit his father — tactics that would not stand up if examined closely.

As a final rejoiner against Steelman, young Bentsen said: "He's too strong an environmentalist for me," referring to the language Steelman used in authoring a controversial land-use bill.

Lan pointed with pride to the part his father played in the pension-reform bill, in fostering legislation that contributed to the nation's economic growth and to the fact that he had helped breathe new life into a highway construction bill that pumped over $700 million into the state.

Did Lloyd Bentsen's popularity suffer with the electorate when he offered for the presidency?

Not really, son Lan said he was convinced. "He did what he thought was the right thing at the time," young Bentsen said. "Maybe he was guilty of bad timing." But he can't see the blunder hurting Lloyd in the upcoming election.

Lan foresees a Carter sweep in the presidential sweepstakes in November, not only in Texas but throughout the South, and doesn't anticipate any ticket splitting. He reasons voter apathy will hurt the Democrats more than anything

He finds the fact that one candidate orthe other will be carried into office with less than 50 per cent of the eligible voters casting ballots but that is a spectre all candidates may be facing.

Oil prices are posted

BARTLESVILLE, Okla. — Phillips Petroleum Comapny has announced that it has been posting new prices for stripper well 40 degree gravity crude oil production since Sept. 1.

The company's new posted prices for this production are: Rangley, Colorado, $13.50; Kansas, $13.50; Cut Bank, Mont., $13.50; Pondera, Mont., $13.50; West Texas-New Mexico intermediate, $13.50; West Texas-New Mexico sour, $12.75; Texas Gulf Coast, $13.50; Ellenburger, $13.62; Oklahoma nd Texas Panhandle, $13.50; Oklahoma sweet, $13.50; Burbank, $13.62; and Alabama and Florida Panhandle, $13.50.

Meeting has been reset

The first parent advisory meeting in the public schools' Head Start program, originally scheduled to be held tonight at Kate Morrison school, has been postponed until 7 p.m., Thursday.

The delay was the result of a conflict in scheduling, according to school officials.

Offshore leasing dragging

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Plans to speed up leases of offshore oil and gas reserves to push the United States toward energy independence have slowed to half.

Instead of six offshore lease sales a year envisioned in June 1975, or the four originally targeted, Outer Continental Shelf sales have been running three a year.

Only in the Gulf of Mexico is the effort nearly on target, the Bureau of Land Management reports.

Several sales have been delayed by court challenges from environmentalists and adjacent states.

Adding to the slowdown is a move by federal officials to work more closely with state and local officials and with environmental groups and representatives.

A New Orleans land management official agreed the move was made in part to take the edge off some of the opposition in what he called frontier areas, where the oil rigs have never been.

"It's not that they are more concerned in the frontier areas with the environment," he said. "It's that in the Gulf there's more understanding."

First of the lease sales off the Louisiana and Texas coasts came in October 1954.

Of 17 lease sales projected through 1978, five are in the Atlantic. The Baltimore Canyon sale last month was challenged in court. A hearing in the U.S. Court of Appeals is scheduled in New York Sept. 27.

Eight others involve offshore areas in Alaska. Onshore forces there would like to see delays up to three years.

Opposition has sprung up, too, on offshore areas of California and Washington-Oregon.

Two Gulf of Mexico sales of leases off the coasts of Louisiana and Texas are scheduled — one in November and a second in April 1977.

The November sale, originally listed for October, will consist of 61 tracts totaling 255,163 scattered Gulf acres. Final environmental impact statement was filed Sept. 3.

Dawson, Mitchell get wildcats

Both Dawson and Mitchell Counties reported wildcats this week in the oilfields in the area.

Gulf Oil Corp. will drill the No. 1 C.O. Speck, et al, as a 12,400-foot wildcat, one location south of Miller Exploration Co. No. 1 W.E. Beam, Dawson County undesignated fusselman oil discovery, two miles southwest of the Patricia Fusselman and Spraberry field, but separated by a 12,505-foot failure, and 3½ miles southwest of Patricia.

Location is 467 feet from the north and 666 feet from the west lines of 13-262-Borden CSL.

The No. 1 Beam was finaled Aug. 11 for 2,880 barrels of 40 gravity oil, from open hole at 12,110-170 feet.

Cotton Petroleum Corp., Midland, will drill the No. 1-A Wright, a 3,400 foot Clearfork wildcat in Mitchell County, five miles northeast of Westbrook and 1¾ miles southeast of a one-well southeast extension area of the Westbrook East (Clearfork) field.

Location is 467 feet from the south and east lines of 27-27-T&P. Ground elevation is 2,194 feet.

Amoco will plug back from 12,130 feet to the Spraberry in No. 22-B F. D. Breedlove, former Devonian well in the Breedlove Field.

The project is eight miles southwest of Patricia and 841 feet from north and 1,287 feet from west lines of Section 51, Briscoe County School land Survey 258.

Search on for missing British sailors

LONDON (AP) — British and Dutch navy divers made an underwater search today for 10 British naval reserves believed entombed in a minesweeper that capsized and sank after a collision with a British frigate.

A Royal Navy spokesman refused to speculate on the chances that air trapped in the sunken hull was keeping any of the missing men alive.

The navy said the bodies of two crewmen of the 360-ton British minesweeper Fittleton and 32 survivors were recovered after the collision with the 2,300-ton British frigate Mermaid off the Dutch coast Monday.

The navy said there were no casualties aboard the Mermaid, and that the ship was only slightly damaged.

Officials said the Fittleton was lying in about 130 feet of water. The Dutch navy diving ship Roermond was on the spot, and British and Dutch navy diving teams were flown to her by helicopter.

Weather conditions were reported good.

The Royal Navy did not explain how the collision occurred, but unconfirmed reports said the two ships were exchanging stores while making 10 knots on a supposedly parallel course. The weather and the sea were reported calm, with no swell, but with patches of fog.

Rain moves south, cool, dry forecast

By The Associated Press

Cooler and drier weather took over in the north half of Texas today. A little of the rain that brought flash flooding in many areas the past two days lingered in the extreme south part of the state.

A cold front which set off the deluges crossed the Upper Texas Coast into the Gulf of Mexico. On the opposite side of the state, it came almost to a halt between Corpus Christi and Brownsville, and that's where the moisture persisted.

There was no further word, however, of downpours like the 7.32 inches in 13 hours Monday at Houston's International Airport. Considerable street flooding occurred in Houston and the northeast part of Harris County.

Clear skies accompanied the cooling over the state's northern half, where early morning temperatures sagged to 51 degrees at Amarillo and 52 at Dalhart in the Panhandle. It was partly cloudy to cloudy at many other points and the readings stayed as high as 75 at Brownsville and McAllen in the extreme south.

Another cool night was in prospect for North and South Texas. Increasing cloudiness and occasional showers were forecast by Wednesday in the west portion of West Texas.

Don't punish kids for sins of mother

DEAR ABBY: I was recently granted a divorce after being married for 30 years. I had a lot of suspicions about my wife, but I had only a second grade education and was pretty dumb then. I didn't begin to add things up until after she had two children who couldn't possibly have been mine. Even so, I was always a good father to them, and they never had any idea they were illegitimate.

My question: I'm making out my will and have brothers and sisters who could sure use some money. I own my own home plus some stocks and savings, and I don't see why I should leave anything to my illegitimate children, do you? Who should be punished?

A PROBLEM OUT EAST

DEAR PROBLEM: Any children born during your marriage are legally your children. You say you've been a "good father," and I believe you. But how can you write off all the years during which they grew up loving you and being loved in return?

To leave them nothing would be punishing them for the "sins" of their mother. Unfair. Please reconsider.

DEAR ABBY: I graduated from high school last June and received some very nice gifts from friends and relatives.

Since I've had a very busy summer and hate to write letters, I decided to telephone all those who sent me gifts to thank them personally. I even called long-distance to thank those who live out of town, and I intend to pay for the calls myself.

My parents aren't satisfied. They think a written thank-you note is necessary. I think a telephone call is enough. What do you think?

PHONED MY THANKS

DEAR PHONED: Phoning one's thanks strikes me as the lazy man's way. It's adequate; but those who do it right write!

DEAR ABBY: I received an invitation to a golden wedding anniversary party. I am only an acquaintance, not a dear friend or relative, but I was told by a relative of the celebrating couple to bring money rather than a gift because the golden wedding couple are having a money tree. With the money collected, they plan to take a cruise.

I asked how much I would be expected to contribute and was told, "At least a dollar for every year the couple have been married."

Abby, that's a minimum of $50—as much as I gave my own niece for a wedding present!

What do you think?

PASADENA READER

DEAR PASADENA: I think you should give whatever you feel is appropriate an i no more.

New program for family service

Family Life Education is the newest program being developed by Howard County Family Service Board of Directors.

This program will be beamed to all families of the community. The purpose will be to help individuals and families cope with the normal problems of living. Programs will be given in one to three-day seminars or in weekly series'.

Subjects included will be "couples enrichment", "self-enhancement", "marriage contracts", and "assertiveness". A "Woman's Day" is contemplated for all interested women in the community. The program will begin early in 1977.

This was a decision reached by the board of directors of the agency in the regular meeting, Thursday, September 17, as Mrs. Kay Hepner, presented the revised Long Range Goals.

"This is an exciting program which should greatly benefit our community," stated Julian C. Patterson, president of Howard County Family Service Center.

Wilfrid M. Calnan, director, reported a high volume of counseling. Depressed people are constituting a large proportion of the caseload. Requests for marriage counseling are high. More youth and children are being seen in counseling than ever before.

The board accepted the allocation of the United Way and commended their leadership for their wise deliberations in developong campaign plans and goals.

Effects of chocolate negligible on acne

Nearly one in every 10 Americans, adults as well as adolescents, has acne.

It's an old problem, but there is now new information about it.

The latest to set this forth is Dr. Jonathan Zizmor, chief of dermatology at St. Vincent's Hospital, New York City. In his book, "Super Skin," Dr. Zizmor says that chocolate, sugar, candy, even french-fried potatoes "have been shown to have no effect whatsoever on acne."

This change in medical opinion is not, however, an overnight development. A number of earlier scientific studies explored in vain a possible linkup between diet and acne. As far back as 1895, Moriz Kapsoi, M.D., in his book, "Pathology and Treatment of Diseases of the Skin for Practitioners and Students," suggested that there might be no dietary basis to acne vulgaris.

A more contemporary view was presented by two Missourians, J.D. Grant and P.C. Anderson. In 1965, they conducted an experiment in which they fed large amounts of chocolate to eight subjects to try to precipitate an acne flare-up. Unable to do so, they concluded in their report, published in the Missouri Medical Journal, June, 1965, that chocolate had been unjustly cast in the role of culprit.

Largest U.S. diamond displayed at state fair

Zales Jewelers today announced plans to exhibit the largest diamond in the United States at the Texas State Fair in October. The fair is held in Dallas.

The Zale Light of Peace Diamond, weighing 130.27 carats and valued at $5-million, will be spotlighted in the rotunda of the Better Living Center at Fair Park in Dallas.

The State Fair will mark the internationally acclaimed pear-shaped diamond's first public appearance in Texas and its third nationally. Until this year, the awesome gem, discovered in 1969, was shown only in conjunction with privately-sponsored philanthropic events.

This innovative course has unleashed the Zale Light of Peace Diamond from the restrictions typically placed on the world's major gems, which are encased in museums, secluded in vaults or held in private ownership.

Zales also will display 12 diamonds cut from the same 434.60-carat rough stone that produced the Zale Light of Peace. These satellite diamonds range in size from .37 to 9.11 carats and are valued at $1-million.

"The Light of Peace is particularly appropriate to this year's theme, 'October Magic'," Halford added. "There is something unquestionably enchanting about the country's largest jewelry retailer displaying the country's largest diamond at the country's largest State Fair. It could only happen in Texas!"

The Zale Light of Peace and its 12 satellite diamonds will be exhibited on Fridays, Saturdays, Sundays and Mondays during the 17-day State Fair. Dates are: October 9, 10 and 11; October 15, 16, 17 and 18, and October 22, 23 and 24.

TEA consultant holds conference

Ms. Jo Ellen Flores of Austin, consultant for the Texas Education Agency, and Louis Corenblith, also of Austin, Director of Patient Education, Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation, were in Big Spring last week to confer with Kathy Hopper, Director of Education Services, Big Spring State Hospital.

Ms. Flores visited the schoolhouse on the hospital campus to observe and critique the engineered classroom, a new concept being used at the hospital. Afterward, she conducted a workshop for BSSH teachers as well as Big Spring Independent School District teachers in Special Education who are currently teaching in engineered classrooms.

The teaching staff at the campus schoolhouse includes Mary Trim, Jerald Wilson and Kay Wilson, along with aide, Pat Patterson.

State 4-H dress revue

Dana Westbrook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Westbrook, represented Howard County at the State 4-H Dress Revue held in San Antonio, September 17-18.

Dana received recognition as a State 4-H Dress Revue participant at the Fashion Shown and Awards Program held at the La Mansion Motor Hotel. The State Dress Revue is the highlight of the 4-H clothing program. Forty-nine contestants from the state of Texas participated in the Dress Revue.

BIG SPRING, TEXAS, TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 21, 1976

SECTION B SECTION B

THROUGH the fieldglasses

By Danny Reagan

Head Coach Don Robbins indicated that the Steers are not even going to think about the Abilene Eagles, their next opponent, this week.

The Bovines instead will concentrate their efforts on perfecting individual techniques and working on defensive manuevers. The Steers will practice long and hard this week because of the open date, and will review the game film of the Snyder contest.

"Game films are the best teaching aides in football," said Robbins.

The coaching staff had hoped to line up a junior varsity game this week in order to give the sophomores and juniors an opportunity to gain some "real" practice, but try as he did, Robbins couldn't find a team within 100 miles of here that could set up a contest.

Steve Wolfe, Steer defensive end who is out with a hair-line fracture of one of his wrist bones below the thumb, is expected to heal faster than previously expected.

"The doctors say that the fracture should knit back quickly," said Robbins, "and depending on how quickly, he should be back in about a month."

★★★

CB chatter is hot and heavy on the way to and from out-of-town Steer games. Loquacious fans flood channel 19 with talk of the game.

On the way back to Big Spring there were a number of "Roger on an excitin' game, ol' buddy," and "10-4 we should've won that thang!" From the more ardent Steer fan, probably with off-springs on the starting lineup, it is hard to get a word in edge-wise.

The experience is very interesting, but you better not be speeding, because a smoky report has no chance of busting through all the fan talk.

★★★

Texas Tech's outstanding defensive performance against Colorado, including five interceptions, seems even more incredible when put in perspective. Last season the Tech defense managed only eight interceptions all year and Colorado's offense was intercepted only seven times a year ago.

The Red Raiders' secondary may have a little tougher time Saturday against New Mexico, however. In the past two meetings, New Mexico has averaged 199 yards and two touchdowns per game against Tech.

One of the keys to the Lobos passing success, wide receiver Preston Dennard, should draw a lot of attention from Raider pass defenders. In two games against Tech, the junior has caught six passes for 93 yards and one touchdown.

Talk about turnabout. Last season the Texas Tech offense rolled up 5.3 yards per play while the defense gave up 4.9 yards per play. After the opening week of the 1976 season, however, Tech is averaging only 3.6 yards per offensive play, but the defense has taken up the slack, giving up only 2.7 yards per play.

★★★

Quote for the day: "It's pretty hard to describe how that feels, throwing a pass and seeing a man catch it and seeing him in the end zone and seeing the referee throw his arms in the air, signaling a touchdown, signaling that you've done just what you set out to do. It's an incredible feeling. It's like your whole body is bursting with happiness.

"I guess there's only one thing in the world that compares with it." — Joe Namath.

Stabler demos K.C.

By The Associated Press

KANSAS CITY (AP) — When Kenny Stabler is hot, there is probably not a defense in the National Football League that can stop him.

Before a national television audience Monday night, the Oakland quarterback was an artist, completing 22 of 28 passes and systematically shredding the Kansas City defense for 224 yards and three touchdowns.

Then Stabler left early in the fourth quarter with a strained knee and watched, no doubt flabbergasted, as the Chiefs upstaged his performance with an amazing comeback before finally succumbing, 24-21.

"Ken Stabler was as sharp as I've ever seen a quarterback be," said Chiefs Coach Paul Wiggin. "He was the ultimate passer."

Stabler and the unbeaten Raiders, two-touchdown favorites over the rebuilding Chiefs, humiliated their hosts in the first half, constructing a 17-0 lead that actually was deceptive in light of the halftime statistics: Sixteen first downs and 288 total yards for Oakland, two first downs and 37 yards for the Chiefs.

After Stabler fired touchdown strikes of 15, 10, and 14 yards to Dave Casper, Cliff Branch and Mike Siani, and Fred Steinfort booted a 37-yard field goal, it looked for all the world like a rout had been ordained.

But after intermission it was as if the teams had swapped uniforms. On the Chiefs' third possession of the third quarter, MacArthur Lane capped a 54-yard march with a one-yard touchdown plunge to make it 17-7. Stabler's touchdown toss to Siani a few minutes later gave the Raiders what would prove to be an insurmountable 24 points.

But the Chiefs, behind quarterback Mike Livingston, swept 87 yards in 12 plays and tallied on Livingston's one-yard keeper.

Less than two minutes later, reserve quarterback Mike Rae fumbled at the Oakland 25 and Chiefs linebacker Billy Andrews pounced on the loose ball.

Livingston needed one play, a 25-yard pass to Billy Masters in the end zone, to pull his team to within three points with less than three minutes remaining.

The Raiders handled Kansas City's onside kick and ran out the clock, but Chiefs players and coaches left the field feeling like winners.

"I'm really proud of them," Wiggin said. "We talked earlier about the Chiefs growing and I believe we did that tonight. I think we grew in the second half."

Livingston said the Chiefs made no halftime adjustments.

"We didn't use any blackboard stuff or anything like that," he said. "Guys just started talking among themselves, asking each other, 'Are we going to accept this or are we going to pull something up from deep within our souls?'"

SIX TOUGH POINTS — Steer fullback Robbie Wegner bulldozes over the goal line for a touchdown in last Friday night's game against Snyder after taking a seven-yard pass from quarterback Bubba Stripling. The Steers lost the contest 14-13.

SPORTS BRIEFS

WOODLANDS, Tex. — Topseed Brian Gottfried and Raul Ramirez defeated Phil Dent and Alan Stone 6-1, 6-4, 5-7, 7-6 and won the $100,000 U.S. Professional Doubles Tennis Championships.

MASON, Ohio — Ben Crenshaw joined Hubert Green as the only three-time winner on the 1976 pro golf tour, fired a four-under-par 66 to win the $150,000 Ohio King's Island Open by one stroke over Andy North.

Michigan now no. 1

By The Associated Press

Top-ranked Michigan, which led runner-up Ohio State by just one point a week ago, widened the margin in today's Associated Press college football ratings following a 51-0 slaughter of Stanford.

With numerous voters switching from Ohio State to Michigan, the Wolverines received 47 first-place ballots and 1,156 of a possible 1,200 points from a nationwide panel of 60 sports writers and broadcasters.

Meanwhile, Ohio State received three No. 1 votes and 998 points for second place after a 12-7 triumph over Penn State, which dropped from seventh to 11th.

Last week, Michigan received 28 first-place votes and 1,077 points to 18 and 1,076 for Ohio State.

Pitt, Oklahoma and UCLA held onto the 3-4-5 positions. Pitt received seven first-place votes and 947 points after trouncing Georgia Tech 42-14, Oklahoma got the other three top votes and 820 points for beating California 28-17 and UCLA polled 761 points in the wake of a 37-9 whipping of Arizona.

Nebraska, No. 1 in the preseason ratings but eighth last week after an opening tie with Louisiana State, climbed to sixth after beating Indiana, 45-13. The Cornhuskers replaced Missouri, which cracked the rankings by walloping Southern Cal in its opener but promptly dropped out by losing 31-7 to Illinois last weekend.

That game also pushed the Illini into the rankings for the first time this season. They are 14th.

Georgia jumped from ninth to seventh — replacing Penn State — with a 41-0 rout of Clemson, Maryland rose from 10th to eighth by trimming West Virginia 24-3, Texas A&M shot from 11th to ninth by drubbing Kansas State 34-14 and Kansas made it from 13th to 10th with a 37-16 victory over Kentucky.

Following Penn State in the Second Ten are Arkansas, Alabama, Illinois, Louisiana State, North Carolina, Mississippi, Boston College, Southern Cal and Texas Tech.

Last week's Second Ten consisted of Texas A&M, Arkansas, Kansas, Alabama, Boston College, LSU, North Carolina, Arizona State, Texas and Ole Miss.

Southern Cal got back into the Top Twenty by crushing Oregon 53-0. Texas Tech, idle last weekend, made it for the first time this season when Arizona State and Texas fell out. Arizona State also was idle while Texas was hard-pressed to defeat North Texas State, 17-14.

SMU shotgun?

DALLAS (AP) — Don't be shocked if Southern Methodist dusts off the spread formation in the near future.

SMU Coach Ron Meyer, who was a scout for the Dallas Cowboys of the National Football League, said Monday "I've been thinking about getting into the shotgun situation."

Quarterback Rickey Wesson, who only stands 5-feet-9, had trouble seeing over Alabama's huge defensive linemen in last Saturday's 56-3 thumping of the Mustangs.

Wesson is an excellent scrambler and has developed an average passing arm out of SMU's Slot I attack.

Meyer didn't come flat out and say SMU was going to do it.

"We're not going to emulate the Cowboys or anything like that but it would give Rickey a chance to see his receivers a little longer," said Meyer.

Whatever couse of attack SMU decides something needs to be done quickly because North Texas State and the coach SMU fired, Hayden Fry, is on the schedule Saturday night in Texas Stadium.

"It will be real competitive," said Meyer. "I don't think there's any animosity between the two schools. It should be just a great game."

Fry's only shot at SMU since he joined North Texas State ended in a 7-6 defeat and it's no secret he'd dearly like some revenge on the Mustangs.

NTSU gave Texas fits Saturday night before falling 17-14 to the Texas Longhorns in Memorial Stadium.

Meyer said "We're just not very deep. Alabama had 19 running backs in Saturday's game at various times. We had three.

Meyer added "We are hurt tremendously. This is the worst defeat in any program I have ever suffered. I take the blame. We didn't have the effort."

SMU will be without the services of linebacker Paul Sturdivant for at least eight weeks with a dislocated shoulder.

Royal blames officials

Texas makes excuses

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — "Some calls can go either way," Texas Coach Darrell Royal said Monday, after making it fairly clear that he didn't think officials' calls went Texas' way Saturday night.

Nineteenth-ranked Texas barely beat unranked North Texas State, 17-14, even though the Longhorns nearly doubled North Texas' total offense — 408 to 216 yards.

"We're just not delivering," Royal told his weekly news conference, blaming "flags and fumbles" and an official's end zone call for making the score so close. He said the official erred in awarding North Texas a touchdown pass with 7:18 left in the game.

Royal said on that 69-yard scoring drive, which enabled North Texas to pull within three points, "43 (yards) of the 69 was officials."

A 15-yard penalty for holding wiped out a 9-yard North Texas loss and advanced the ball to the Texas 37. A 9-yard pass gain, with a 14-yard penalty for "spearing" the receiver moved the ball to the Texas 14, although Royal said, "I don't know what it was for."

On the next play, quarterback Ken Smith fought off two Texas tacklers who were clawing at his left arm and threw to Jeff Brown, who dove and appeared to scoop the ball off the artificial turf in the end zone.

Defensive back Raymond Clayborn protested that the ball had bounced off the turf and claimed that Brown told him after the game he should have gotten an "Academy Award" for pretending it was a touchdown.

"Officials sometimes blow 'em, like coaches blow 'em and players blow 'em," Royal said. "He didn't catch a touchdown pass. It (the ball) was on the carpet."

Royal said it was a "late call," and the official seemed to be looking "for help that didn't come. He couldn't see the ball."

Royal admitted, however, that he had not seen the film but was relying on the word of photographer Gary Pickle, who is in charge of motion pictures for each game.

"It was not a big deal," Royal added, "but it made us sweat."

Texas was penalized seven times for 84 yards, and penalties also kept alive North Texas' first scoring drive, but Royal said the officials' calls were "shades of gray. None of it was outright vicious and flagrant. We didn't outright clip anybody or pile on."

Royal said he would have been embarrassed if Texas had been guilty of "vicious or flagrant" fouls.

He mentioned two personal fouls against Texas and fullback Earl Campbell's fumble at the North Texas 12 and said, "Flags and fumbles are what kept us out of (the North Texas end zone)."

Royal said Campbell "was obviously outstanding" in pounding for 208 yards on 32 carries even though he "wasn't full speed" because of a pulled leg muscle.

Royal said he wished Clayborn "hadn't been so vocal" about the pass to Brown, but Clayton had spoken out in the dressing room, because "he has a lot of pride and he wanted everybody to know he (Brown) didn't catch a touchdown pass" on him.

Winners announced in punt, pass, kick

Winners in the Punt, Pass and Kick competition, sponsored by Bob Brock Ford, and the Morning Optimists held Sunday afternoon at Memorial Stadium, were announced today. They are as follows:

8-year-old division — 1. Luis Puga, Jr., 2. Armando Cuellar, 3. Jance Allen.

9-year-old division — 1. Arnold Cuellar, 2. John Swinney, 3. Rodney McMillian.

10-year-old division — 1. Jay Pirkle, 2. Michael Hise, 3. James W. Sanders.

11-year-old division — 1. Pete Valenzuela Jr., 2. Dean McKenzie, 3. Todd Engle.

12-year-old division — 1. Blake Rosson, 2. Sandy Puga, 3. Jay Anderson.

13-year-old division — 1. Rusty Ray, 2. Frank T. Garfias, 3. Clifford Snell.

Bob Brock Ford would like to express their appreciation to all the young men and woman who took time to enter and participate in this annual event.

They would also like to thank the Morning Optimist Club of Big Spring who also helped make the event possible.

Oklahoma St. mulls defeat to Arkansas

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) — Oklahoma State Coach Jim Stanley said Monday the Cowboys' 16-10 loss to Arkansas last weekend might make the team mature and help it in the long run.

"Even though it was a bitter defeat to accept," Stanley said, "in the long run it should help us to grow. Don't make any mistake about it, our kids were deeply hurt over the loss.

"But we can't let one mistake cause another. We've got work to do."

Stanley praised his defensive troops but admitted the offense lacked punch.

"We played well defensively except for three plays and on each occasion we had a man in perfect position to make the tackle and he missed. Daria Butler played as well as any human being could have played," he said.

Stanley added William Miller, Richard Allen and Lorenzo Turner to his list of standout defenders.

"We didn't get the ball to our running backs often enough," Stanley said. "And our passing game was hardly up to par. But I didn't see anything that couldn't be corrected. I'll take the blame for us not moving the ball. We had too much offense put in.

Quarterbackers meet tonight

The Big Spring Quarterback Club will hold its weekly meeting tonight at 7:30 in the High School Cafeteria.

A film of the Snyder game will be shown of course, and coaches will report on the other local teams that played last week.

This may be the last chance for local Steer fans to attend a QB Club meeting for two weeks, as plans are not definite about holding the gathering following the open date this week when the Steers are idle.

Coffee and cookies will be served, and all local football boosters are urged to attend.

Rangers lose

Pirates out

Willie Stargell's running out of words, Danny Murtaugh's running out of patience ... and the Pittsburgh Pirates are running out of time.

There seemed to be little of anything left for Pittsburgh after Monday's heartbreaking 5-4 loss to the New York Mets.

"I don't want to talk," said Stargell, the usually talkative team leader of the Pirates. "I've run out of words."

"I'm upset," said Murtaugh, the Pirate manager. "I have to be upset. We can't afford to lose, especially not like this."

The Pirates were unerstandably at the end of their rope after the defeat dealt a hard jolt to their National League East pennant hopes.

On the verge of picking up one-half game on the idle Philadelphia Phillies, the Pirates saw the apparent victory vanish over the right center field wall at Shea Stadium — on the wings of rookie Lee Mazzilli's two-out, two-run homer in the ninth inning.

The loss dropped the Pirates 4½ games behind the Phillies, five games down in the loss column. The Phillies have 14 games left to play in the regular season and the Pirates 13.

The game was the only one played in the National League Monday. In American League action, the Milwaukee Brewers beat the New York Yankees 4-2; the Boston Red Sox routed the Detroit Tigers 12-6 and the California Angels nipped the Texas Rangers 1-0.

The Pirates had erased an early 3-0 deficit to take a 4-3 lead in the eighth inning on Stargell's 19th homer of the season. In the Mets' ninth, pinch-hitter John Milner singled off Pirate reliever Kent Tekulve, 5-2, and Mazzilli, who was brought up from the minor leagues earlier this month, followed with his second home run of the season.

Brewers 4, Yankees 2

Rookie Dan Thomas' fourthinning homer and Don Money's two-run single helped Milwaukee defeat New York. The defeat left the Yankees' "magic number" for clinching the American League East title at three games. Runnerup Baltimore did not play and trails New York by 11½ games, going into a four-game series between the teams which begins Tuesday.

Red Sox 12, Tigers 6

Cecil Cooper drove in four runs with a homer and a single and Jim Rice blasted two solo homers to lead Boston's rout of Detroit. boston pounded out 13 hits and collected nine walks as the Red Sox won their sixth consecutive game, their longest winning streak of the season.

Angels 1, Rangers 0

California right-hander Nolan Ryan got a run-scoring double from battery mate Terry Humphrey and made it stand up for his fifth consecutive victory, a three-hit shutout over Texas.

COURT TURNS SOUR ON "SWEET LIPS" — Sweet Lips, the 240-pound pet of Drewry Little, offers a snort of disapproval after being told Monday that a circuit court jury had turned sour on his master. Little, 55, was convicted of keeping a farm animal in a resort-commercial area and fined $10. He had appealed a lower court conviction. Little said the Hampshire is a pet and should not be evicted.

Court fight over pet results in grunts, oinks

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (AP) — The Circuit Court jury turned sour on "Sweet Lips," a 240-pound pet pig. His master was fined $10 for keeping a farm animal in a resort-commercial area.

"Sweet Lips," told of the verdict Monday by owner Drewry Little, smacked his jowls and grunted.

"He doesn't agree with the jury," Little said. "And I don't, either. Anybody can see he's harmless and doesn't bother anyone."

But the loss of this court fight over the pig that Little nursed from infancy doesn't mean the battle has ended. The judge agreed to hear arguments Friday on a defense motion to set aside the verdict.

"If that fails, then we'll go right on up to the Supreme Court in Richmond," the 55-year-old Little said. "I want justice, and justice means I can keep this pig as a pet like other people in my area keep dogs and cats."

Little once kept the pig inside his home, located about 60 feet from the restaurant and marina he operates. He said "Sweet Lips" gets the same treatment as other household pets — regular baths, a sprinkling of cologne and lots of love.

Monday's trial was an appeal of a lower court conviction which resulted in a $25 fine in June.

"I walk him a half mile every evening. He's clean and quiet. Pigs are smarter than most dogs or horses," Little told the three-woman, two-man jury. "I've gotten so attached to this pig. I love him dearly, and nobody is going to kill him."

The jury returned its verdict after 48 minutes of deliberation.

Meanwhile, "Sweet Lips" may be headed for a meat-packing company, but not the dinner table.

"I've got an offer from a well-known company, but I won't give the name. They've promised he will get the very best care and will be used only for show," Little said.

He said the company had offered him "several thousand dollars" and that any money he received would be donated to the local Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

Free coffee set for wives

SAN ANGELO — A free coffee for wives of military enlisted men living in the San Angelo area will be held at the Goodfellow Consolidated Open Mess Thursday.

According to Myrtis Fortner, president of the base Officers' Wives Club, the coffee is open to wives of active duty and retired men in the rank of E-4 through E-9 and is planned to be held from 9:30 until 11:30 a.m.

Card of Thanks

We would like to take this opportunity to extend our most sincere appreciation to our many friends and neighbors who helped make the passing of our loved one as easy as possible. We extend our special thanks to the Big Spring Police Dept., Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home, Justice of the Peace Gus Ochotorena, and Sacred Heart Catholic Church. It was your helpfulness, kind words, flowers, and many other condolences which helped us through a particularly difficult time.

UAW bargainers not optimistic

DETROIT (AP) — As the nationwide strike against Ford Motor Co. begins to cause a chain reaction of layoffs at other companies, bargainers say they are not optimistic about renewed efforts to reach a settlement.

The United Auto Workers and Ford resumed formal contract talks Monday for the first time since 170,000 workers walked off the job one week ago today.

The two sides recessed bargaining until today after a brief meeting failed to bring them closer to a new three-year accord.

"I wouldn't label the discussions as making progress, optimistic, or anything like that," a union source said, "because nothing of significance occurred except that they're talking again."

Talks are stalled over disputes concerning wages, health care and layoff benefits, pensions and a union demand for more paid days off to create new jobs.

At least 2,000 employes at Ford supply firms have been laid off along with 1,600 Ford workers in Canada as a result of the strike, the first against the No. 2 U.S. auto maker since 1967.

Spokesmen for several major automotive suppliers warned that layoffs would greatly increase by Oct. 1, if the walkout continued.

That prospect appeared almost certain, union sources said, because even with a quick settlement it would take a week for the rank and file to ratify it.

Financial analysts have said the strike would have a severe impact on the U.S. economy if it lasted more than a month, but most have predicted it would be settled before then.

Ford spokesmen here said picketing at 102 facilities in 22 states remained peaceful Monday, except for tire slashing at the engineering center at company headquarters in suburban Dearborn, where 1,500 members of UAW Local 245 are working with the approval of UAW leaders. Members of the local are mostly skilled tradesmen involved in research projects that do not affect production.

Contracts covering an additional 530,000 workers at the other auto makers have been extended pending an outcome at Ford.

The Budd Co., a major auto supplier, said it laid off nearly 1,100 workers in Detroit, Philadelphia and Gary, Ind., because of the walkout.

ARA Food Services, a Philadelphia-based cafeteria and vending company, said it laid off more than 500 workers who service Ford plants. The Detroit, Toledo and Ironton Railroad, which depends on Ford for half its business, said it has idled 400 of 1,400 employes.

The first layoffs at Ford of Canada Ltd. came at the Windsor, Ont., engine plant. Ford has said the U.S. strike eventually would idle all 14,000 hourly workers in Canada, due to parts shortages.

"I'm trying to use less electricity this summer, so why is my bill still higher?"

UNDERSTANDING YOUR ELECTRIC BILL

We know your electric bill is probably higher this summer – a lot higher – than it was last year. Even though you're making an honest effort to conserve electricity by doing things like turning lights off, raising your air conditioning thermostat and checking filters regularly.

A higher electric bill isn't much of a reward for that kind of effort. But, we want you to understand the reasons for it, and why it's important to continue using electric energy wisely.

The main reason for higher bills is that it's costing more to make electricity. Our rates had to be increased early this year.

On top of that, fuel costs have gone up — although Texas Electric has been able to keep these increases to a minimum.

We'll continue doing everything we can to keep increases in your electric bills as low as possible. But it's just as important that you keep conserving electricity as much as you can.

For a free copy of our newest booklet on how to save electricity, give us a call. Or request one on the comment portion of your bill.
