Rabies Clinic Here on April 16

Dr. Paul Glasson, DVM from Lockney, will be at the City Hall in Silverton from 3:30 until 6:30 p.m. on Thursday, April 16, to vaccinate pets in this area.

Rabies shots will be $5.00, distemper is $10.00, Parvo is $7.50, and the City tag costs $1.00.

Be sure to bring your pets to the City Hall if you wish to take advantage of having them receive their vaccinations here.

(823), Quitaque (455), Gurley (764), Vigo Park (633), Redmon (627), Elkins (668) and Bean (847) exchanges will be able to access 9-1-1 services beginning April 15, 1992. The City of Tulia 9-1-1 system is one of 23 planned systems to be implemented across the Panhandle.

The availability of 9-1-1 service in Swisher and Briscoe Counties was made possible through a cooperative effort with the Cities of Tulia, Happy, Kress, Silverton, Quitaque and Swisher and Briscoe Counties, the Panhandle Regional 9-1-1 Network and the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission. Local elected officials, law enforcement, emergency medical services and fire department personnel, local businesses and the citizens of the counties have volunteered their services to insure that the 9-1-1 system will be successful.

Silverton-area residents should note that they may reach their local fire department, ambulance service and law enforcement personnel by calling 823-2001, the same as in the past, or calling 9-1-1. Assistance will reach local callers a bit faster if they call the local number the same as in the past.

Supporting Texas Families

Focusing public attention on the rights and needs of young children is the goal for "The Week of the Young Child", April 5-11, 1992. "Young Children: Their Future in Our Hands" is the theme for 1992 and draws attention to society's responsibility in providing the foundation for success in school and in later life. The early childhood years, birth through age eight, is a critical time for learning more about the world, practicing social skills and gaining critical thinking skills and knowledge.

Children need families who have emotional resources and time. Children suffer when parents, teachers and care providers are too tired or too stressed to give them the attention they deserve. Most Texas children live in homes where the primary caregiver also works outside the home.

Children need a society that supports families' child-rearing efforts and recognizes that investments in young children and childhood services are most cost effective. It is much wiser to teach something the correct way to begin with, rather than trying to correct a problem or rehabilitate someone who is unaware of the need for change.

Every individual can make a difference. The following are some steps for starters:

- Take time to watch, listen and appreciate children in your family and community.

- Make sure that children have access to and receive the preventive health services so vital to their development.

- Contribute in some way to the improvement of the quality of early education and care programs.

- Do what you can to make your community more attuned to children's needs.

- Examine how policies can support children and families. Make decision-makers accountable for their actions.

The future of today's child as tomorrow's adult depends upon each of us.

Methodist Men Have Meeting

Silvertown United Methodist Men had a breakfast meeting at 6:00 a.m. on Monday, April 6, with fourteen present. Pancakes, bacon, juice and coffee were served.

Jimmy Davidson of Quitaque, lay speaker, gave a short program on the need for men's fellowship and Christian leadership. Ronald Clay, a Flomot farmer, offered tips on their success in men's programs "under the hill".

Steve Ulrey, pastor of Quitaque-Turkey United Methodist Churches, Johnnie Burson and Duane Reynolds of First Baptist Church attended and reported on the upcoming Cowboy Camp Meeting.

Special prayers were given for Beefy Garvin and Debbie Holt who are undergoing medical procedures this week.

Joe Luckenbach was elected president. Wayne Reed and Scott Strawn will head up next month's breakfast, scheduled for May 4 at 6:30 a.m. Wayne promises "fresh yard eggs with spots removed!" Wayne Nance will be in charge of the program.

The group discussed the June District Mens' Meeting which the Silvertown Men's group is to sponsor. It has been proposed that a "Ladies Night" be held in the canyons with a special program and cookout.

The UMC will have an extra special surprise float in the August parade. There has been a lot of enthusiasm about this project, since the church has just completed its 100th year in the community. The recent growth surge has the pastor in trouble keeping (or getting) up with the congregation.

The UMC Men would like to make it clear that their meeting is the first Monday of each month and it will start promptly at 6:30 a.m. Those who need to be at work at 7:00 will be fed and excused to meet their commitments.

Any man eighteen years of age or older is welcome to attend, regardless of race, religion, occupation or dress. Every man is most welcome! Members will not preach or try to encourage you in anyway, other than just being friends. They will not allow smoking, drinking or cussing inside the church, but you may smoke just outside the door.

Come one and all next "first Monday," May 4, at 6:30 a.m. to eat/drink/visit (earlier to help).

O. E. May to Celebrate Nintieth Birthday

At the Golden Wedding Anniversary reception of Edwin and Claudine May, his father, O. E. May, also will be celebrating his nintieth birthday.

Friends and relatives are invited to attend the reception from 2:00 until 4:00 p.m. on Sunday, April 12, in the Pioneer Room at First State Bank to extend best wishes on the occasion of Mr. May's birthday.

1992 Globe-News Spelling Bee Held Here on March 25

The annual 1992 Amarillo Globe-News Spelling Bee was held March 25 in the Silverton School auditorium. There were 25 competitors ranging from the fourth through the eighth grade.

Mary Ann Rauch and Shirley Reynolds served as judges and Debbie Holt coordinated the event and pronounced the words for the students.

This year the contest lasted five rounds with a total of 55 words being pronounced. The 25 students were eliminated down to the final two spellers by the end of round four. At this point, Molly Brooks and Patricia Patino were left standing. The word "bracelet" was given to Molly who misspelled it, giving Patricia a chance to correct the spelling and spell the next word "bramble" correctly. Patricia succeeded and was awarded a Webster's Student High School Dictionary as a prize for winning the championship. Molly was declared runner-up to the champion. Both girls are to be congratulated for their fine spelling performance.

The other participants should be commended for their willingness to stand in front of a microphone and spell before an audience. This particular competition is held each year while students are very busily preparing for UIL contests and the time for studying the word list is limited and left to the student's discretion.

These students also participated from the designated grade levels.

From Mrs. Young's fourth grade were Paul Donahoo, Misty Edwards, Maribel Garcia, Misti Mattheus, Jordan Sarchet and Lori Edwards.

Competing from Mrs. Miller's fifth grade were Lindsey Jennings, Junior Castillo, Misty Wilkinson and Donny Burson.

All of the elementary students were brave enough to spell against the junior high students and will be eligible to compete again next year.

From the junior high level were Molly Brooks, Lacy Brunson, Kenzie Burson, Shauna Kingery and Will Hester, who came from Mrs. Jennings' sixth grade classroom.

From the seventh grade were Zach Baldwin, Brandon Sarchet, Kim Blazier, Arnold Garza and Billy Edwards.

These students also will be eligible to enter the Bee again next year to try for the championship.

Miss Self also had five eighth graders who participated. They were Lena Patino, Zeb Holt, Patrick O'Neal, Vanessa Martin and Patricia Patino. This was the last school year for this final group of young people to enter the Bee.

Patricia will be going on to another level of competition in a regional bee which will be held on the West Texas State University campus in Canyon. She will be representing Briscoe County in the event which will be held Saturday, April 11. Prizes for some of the top contestants will be awarded at the Bee with the top prize of an all-expense-paid trip to Washington D. C. being awarded to the first-place winner.

Silverton wishes Patricia good luck as she prepares for the regional event.

Mrs. Long is New Floyd County Agent

Melissa Long started her duties as the new Home Economics Agent in Floyd County for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service on March 23.

Mrs. Long served in a similar position in Hale County from 1980-84. In 1981 she was the recipient of the "Rookie of the Year" award with the Texas

Extension Service.

While in Hale County, Mrs. Long served as coordinator for 4-H exchanges to California and Canada, she chaperoned various 4-H club members to the Texas 4-H Congress, State Fashion Show and National 4-H Leadership Conference. She led record book workshops at the 4-H Center in Brownwood and helped several 4-H members obtain scholarships on the state and national levels.

A graduate of Haskell High School, she attended Hardin-Simmons University, and received the bachelors degree in home economics from Texas Tech University.

Mrs. Long enjoys cooking, sewing, crafts, playing the flute, and is an avid Texas Tech Red Raider fan. She is married to Nick Long, and is the daughter-in-law of George and LaVerne Long of Silverton. They have one child, Molly, who is a six-year-old kindergarten student in the Floydada Schools.

Mrs. Long is the daughter of B. O. and Billyjo Roberson of Haskell, Texas. Mr. Roberson is a farmer and has served as Haskell County Judge for over 20 years. Mrs. Roberson is a retired school teacher, having given more than 20 years to her profession.

Ladies Attend District 2 TEHA

Mrs. Rex Holt and Mrs. Elton Cantwell, members of Southwestern Extension Homemakers' Club, represented Briscoe County at the District 2 TEHA meeting on April 1. Extension Agent Ronda Alexander became ill and was unable to attend.

The meeting was held in Martha Ann Woman's Club in Snyder. Hostesses for the meeting were clubwomen from Scurry, Garza and Lynn counties. Amy Adrian, District 2 Director from Petersburg, presided over the meeting.

The Hale County Leadership Team presented an educational program, entitled "Life Balance." Mrs. Charlotte Watson, President-elect of the state TEHA, brought a message from the state board.

Mrs. Sylvia Steen of Hale County was elected to serve as District 2 director for 1993-94. She will be installed at the state meeting in Galveston September 22-24.

The 1993 District 2 meeting will be co-hosted by Extension Club members in Hale, Swisher, Briscoe and Floyd counties.

Extension Clubs are open to all residents regardless of race, color, creed or socioeconomic level. All Briscoe County clubs welcome new members. Southwestern Extension Club is making a special appeal for membership during 1992.

Two-Cylinder Worldwide will host EXPO III at the Waterloo, Iowa airport July 9-11. Members of the 22,000-member organization will display over 600 restored antique two-cylinder John Deere tractors and implements on the 20-acre site. EXPO II, shown above, was held in 1990 and drew over 60,000 visitors to the three-day event.

Two-Cylinder Club to Host EXPO III in July

Two-Cylinder Worldwide has announced that over 600 displays of John Deere tractors and implements will be exhibited at EXPO III July 9-11. Over 20 acres of exhibits, with adjacent parking, will be open to the general public on Friday and Saturday, July 10-11 from 8:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. Thursday, July 9 is reserved for Two-Cylinder members and the media. EXPO I and II were held in 1987 and 1990.

Two-Cylinder members from throughout the United States will display two-cylinder tractors and vintage agricultural implements restored to showroom perfection. Also, at the EXPO site, dozens of vendors and swap meet participants, specializing in John Deere products, memorabilia and items used for restoration of John Deere two-cylinder tractors (1918-1960), will be conducting the largest exclusively John Deere product swap meet ever held.

Jack Cherry and Dave Trumbauer of the Two-Cylinder Club said the membership rolls have swelled since the last EXPO. "There are now over 24,000 members from all 50 states and 20 countries—up from 14,500 two years ago. We are just amazed at the response to these EXPOs. Over 60,000 people came to the last one and we fully expect a larger crowd this year."

The 1992 EXPO will mark the 100th anniversary of the Froelich tractor, invented by John Froelich in 1892. The Froelich invention resulted in the formation of the Waterloo Gasoline Traction Engine Company in Waterloo, Iowa, which was later purchased by Deere & Company in 1918 and became the John Deere Tractor Company. A replica of the tractor will be on display at the EXPO site.

Two-Cylinder Worldwide is a non-profit organization offering its members a bi-monthly magazine, the privilege of placing free classified ads, and special offers to purchase vintage Deere memorabilia. The club was formed in 1981 and is dedicated to the restoration and preservation of two-cylinder John Deere tractors.

Persons desiring further information about the EXPO or the Two-Cylinder Club should contact the Club at P. O. Box 219, Grundy Center, Iowa 50638, (319) 824-5487.

THEN NOW!

The story of cookies in this country takes a pretty healthy bite out of history.

THEN: Back in 1865, when the first cookie was commercially baked here in the United States, it was called a cracker. It was introduced to the public in Albany, New York and sweetened with sugar.

NOW: R.W. Frookie™ has introduced the first all-natural, good-tasting, no-sugar cookie. Frookies are sweetened with fruit juices, are low in sodium, have no cholesterol or saturated fats and fewer calories. They can be found in oatmeal raisin, oat bran muffin, ginger spice and chocolate chip at local supermarkets, which is good news for cookie lovers of all ages. At long last, a good cookie that's good for you.

Tennison Believes Hard Work is Way to Succeed in Career

Bill Tennison can be called a blue collar coach. He was featured February 12, 1992, in the sports section of the Orange County News/Beaumont Enterprise.

He strongly believes in hard work and pushing himself to be the best he can be. The Orangefield High School girls basketball coach has done it himself and preaches that to his players.

This serves as the basis for his success as the veteran coach in Orange County and the area's winningest girls coach with a 541-405 mark over 32 years.

"I was raised in a farming community," says the 58-year-old Tennison. "We were a poor family who had to work awfully hard to do anything and get anywhere."

"I had to work my way through college and graduate school. I believe that's the American way of life. If you will work toward a goal, you will achieve it."

Tennison's teams consistently achieve one goal—a 20-win season. His Lady Bobcats already have won that number this year as they head into this season's final week and prepare for the playoffs.

Of his 32 years as a coach, 17 of those are at Orangefield. He also coaches football, guiding the defensive ends for the District 24-3A school this past season. He also coached track at one time in his long career.

Tennison prefers coaching football and basketball. Whatever the sport he coaches, his success continues at an impressive pace.

"I was taught by my mother to constantly push for excellence and not to be satisfied with mediocre performances," says the Panhandle-area native. "I constantly stress and try to teach that to the girls—to give your best in whatever they do."

"Then I tell them to maybe give a little more than their best. If we extend ourselves, we can accomplish so much more. That's something I get the kids to try and do."

Quite a few of his players have done that. For instance, Tennison enjoys the rare thrill of having two of his former Lady Bobcats currently playing college basketball.

He rarely misses a Lamar University Lady Cardinal game so he can watch senior Barbara Hickey and sophomore Sondra Ancelet play.

"Barbara and Sondra started on the same team when they were in high school," recalls Tennison while watching his former players in a recent game. "We got to regionals that year. We came awfully close to the state tournament."

"I've coached boys and girls. I think girls athletics are very important."

Nearly 30 girls in his 17 years at Orangefield have been offered scholarships to play basketball, including eight getting Division I offers. Lynette Evans and Cheryl Peveto were among some of the other players to learn basketball from Tennison.

"We really enjoy coaching and teaching at Orangefield," says Tennison. "I enjoy the people out there. They let us teach and coach while letting us do what we think is best. I am very grateful.

"I hope to be coaching as long as Casey Stengel did."

If Bill Tennison does, he will do it one way—through hard work.

LUBBOCK, Friday, April 3, 1992

By Shawn Wade

Boll weevil experts from across Texas and the U. S. gathered in Lubbock Thursday, April 2, for Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers (PCG) 1992 Boll Weevil Technical Advisory meeting.

Program personnel, government officials and research scientists gave reports on the 1991 PCG Boll Weevil Diapause Control Program, the status of boll weevil eradication programs across the Cotton Belt, and current boll weevil research projects.

Roger Haldenby, Boll Weevil Program Coordinator, commented with concern that boll weevil populations are expected to increase significantly from the levels seen in 1991. He noted that among the factors causing the increase are a larger-than-usual buildup of boll weevil populations in the already heavily infested Rolling Plains to the southeast of the program area and the mild, moist conditions of the past winter.

Haldenby's predictions for 1992 were echoed by scientists from both the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and Texas Agricultural Experiment Station in their reports. The researchers also reported on the development of new tools for improving program management strategies.

They explained a computer modeling project developed over the past three years that accurately predicts boll weevil survival during overwintering and forecasts emergence timing in the spring. This information has already been applied to choosing a more accurate uniform planting date for various counties.

Dr. Ted Wilson, Professor of Entomology at Texas A&M University, described how the prediction model is being integrated into a geographic information system (GIS). The GIS will enable both the diapause program and individual producers to predict levels of emerging weevils, emergence timing, and forecast population growth patterns and the associated risk to adjacent cotton fields.

PCG Boll Weevil Steering Committee Chairman Steve Verett expressed appreciation to all the agencies involved in keeping the 3.5 half million acres of High Plains cotton free from the ravages of the boll weevil.

High Plains cotton producers are set to gather for the 35th Plains Cotton Growers Annual Meeting on Thursday, April 9. The meeting will begin at 9:00 a.m. in the Lubbock Memorial Civic Center Banquet Hall.

Speakers for the PCG meeting will be Jesse Moore, Director of the USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service Cotton Division, and Paulette Zakrzewski, Senior Governmental Affairs Representative for the National Cotton Council in Washington, D.C.

Topics to be discussed by the speakers will range from the status of the USDA classing system to the environmental pressures that will be facing cotton producers in the near future. Moore is expected to discuss recent changes in the classing system and some proposed changes that will be evaluated in the future. Zakrzewski is expected to discuss the environmental situation from a legislative standpoint and what it could mean for producers in this area and across the Cotton Belt.

"We are confident that producers will find this years meeting especially helpful," says PCG Executive Vice President Donald Johnson. "The information that our speakers are expected to provide will help producers prepare for the future

FAITH SAYS OUR ONLY REAL WEALTH IS OUR LOVED ONES

It's a deadline each year that will always appear,
 For supporting the needs of our nation.
 That unmerciful day, we're required to pay;
 A procedure that's known as taxation.
 The more money we earn and the more we return
 Make it seem like a terrible racket,
 For by working too hard we will then disregard
 Our attaining a loftier bracket;
 So it's foolish indeed to get more than we need,
 In our efforts at wealth without measure;
 Let's abandon our climb and begin to spend time
 With our loved ones, our only real treasure.
