More Twisters Hit After Death Of 10 Over State Tuesday

By WHITEY SAWYER
The Associated Press

New tornadoes menaced jittery North Texas Wednesday in the wake of a smashing funnel which killed 10 persons and injured nearly 200 in Dallas Tuesday.

Shortly after noon, apparently new tornado alerts at 10 a.m. and [illegible] covering the eastern part of the state.

One was for an area along the Red River from Cumby, in North Texas, to Nacogdoches, in East Texas, to Langport, La., until 4 p.m.

The other was from Cumby to Gonzales, in South Texas and back to Nacogdoches until 6 p.m.

Winds of gale force, heavy thunderstorms and hail battered North Central Texas earlier Wednesday.

Cold air swirling behind the front that pushed into North Central Texas dropped temperatures to within five degrees of freezing in the Panhandle.

The locations of the three funnels were about 25 to 30 miles south and southwest of Dallas.

The Weather Bureau at Hensley Field between Dallas and Grand Prairie reported a funnel spotted eight miles southwest of Hensley moving toward Carter Field about 11 a.m.

Twisters also were reported by state police south of Duncanville where it damaged a home, and between Forney and Terrell, in the Dallas area.

Cold air swirling behind the front that pushed into North Central Texas plunged temperatures within five degrees of freezing in the Panhandle. Snow was forecast for the Panhandle and upper South Plains.

A squall line of thunderstorms swept past Dallas early Wednesday. Winds with gusts to 55 miles per hour battered the area.

A tornado and severe thunderstorm alert was continued until 10 a.m. The alerted area extended on a line from Sherman, Tex., to Fort Smith, Ark., to Little Rock, Ark., to Shreveport, La., to a point 50 miles southwest of Waco, Tex., and back to Sherman.

The City of Dallas, which was battered by a giant twister that cut a 21-mile path of destruction Tuesday was on the edge of the alerted area.

Hail pounded Meacham Field near Fort Worth early Wednesday. The Weather Bureau said as the cold front that touched off the turbulence passes, the possibility of tornadoes will diminish.

No funnels had been sighted, but the squall line of heavy rains extended from central Oklahoma southward through Dallas to an area west of Waco.

The squall line was moving eastward at about 35 miles per hour.

At least 10 persons died Tuesday when a wave of twisters skipped and dipped across the northern part of the state, leveling homes, hurling automobiles into the air and uprooting trees.

Nine persons died in Dallas, 196 were treated at hospitals and un-

AUSTIN (AP) — One building was destroyed but there were no injuries when a tornado struck Daingerfield late this morning, the Department of Public Safety reported.

The tornado dipped down six miles south of the Morris County steel city. No other details were available.

none of the new tornadoes had caused more than minor damage.

An estimated 500 Dallas persons had no place to live after the tornado destroyed their homes. Today, they wandered through new rainstorms picking over the rubble of their homes to gather what few possessions were left them.

The Dallas tornado caused four million dollars damage, shut off electric light and power to 75,000 homes and put 4,000 telephones out of order.

Around noon Wednesday, the Weather Bureau said a tornado touched ground 10-12 miles east of Denton. Another was reported in the Avinger-Tyler area, but apparently did not touch ground. Three funnels were seen in Dallas County, and other tornado funnels were seen in several North and East Texas areas.

The Weather Bureau reported a twister struck 4 miles north of Marshall, but the Marshall News-Messenger said they had no report of such a twister.

The Denton tornado hit in an open field near Frisco but did no damage, disappearing northward.

The 10th Dallas tornado death was that of Milton Hilliard, 2, who died in a hospital of injuries early Wednesday morning.

The Weather Bureau issued two

The Snyder area had plenty of thunder and lightning for a while last night, but little else.

Just as was forecast, a front blew into this area early last night, bringing with it a little dust. Following that, there was a heavy overcast of clouds with some showers.

The showers in the area measured only .06 of an inch at the official gauge of David Strayhorn, weather observer.

No severe storm warnings had been issued for this part of the state.

Ike Claims Tax-Cutting Hopes Good

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today the prospects are good for future tax reductions. But he declined to forecast any cuts next year.

Eisenhower made it clear at his news conference he expects rising national production and increasing government revenues—rather than substantial cuts in his spending budget—to make tax reductions possible.

The president was asked whether he feels he can look forward during the remainder of his term of office to some reduction in present high income levies on individuals and business.

Eisenhower replied that he certainly hopes the country can have a reduction in taxes.

Eisenhower said certain programs on which he has recommended the federal government embark need not be permanent.

He mentioned in this connection the proposed aid for school construction, which he said he wants carried out for four years and then stopped completely.

He said half jokingly that to stop such a program he would favor a constitutional amendment if necessary.

Armory Bids Open April 30

Bids will be opened April 30 in Austin for construction of a new National Guard Armory building here, Lt. John T. Lynch, commander of the Snyder guard unit, said.

Lynch said he received a brief letter this morning from Gen. Dallas J. Matthews, director of the Texas Armory Board, stating that the bids will be opened on that date.

The new armory will be built in Towle Memorial Park just west of the Exhibit Building.

The letter did not explain when contract will be awarded.

The armory board has allocated $120,000 for construction of the new building.

The new building will replace the present armory building just east of Deep Creek on Twenty-seventh Street now used by Co. D, 112th Armored Cavalry, the Snyder National Guard unit.

That building is owned by the city of Snyder and will revert to city use when new facilities are provided for the guard unit.

More than two years work has been done by the guard unit and many other persons here in an attempt to secure a new armory building.

Babies Found In Hospital

DALLAS (AP) — "My babies," the mother wailed. "Where are my babies?"

She entered the corridor at Parkland Hospital last night, tears streaming down her face and two nurses ran to support her.

Mrs. Mary Hilliard of Dallas had been at work when the tornado struck her home.

"I tried to get home when I saw it but I was too late," she cried. "Everything we have is gone and I can't find my babies."

In the hospital she found all three of her children and all had been injured. They were Mike, 6; Milton, 2; and Debra, 2 months old.

Early today, Mike died. Surgery could not mend his little body which was crushed when his frame home collapsed.

Yarborough Has Edge Over Dies In County Vote

Winner Ralph Yarborough nudged Martin Dies, 624 to 600, in Scurry County yesterday in the special U. S. Senate election.

Republican Thad Hutcheson, who finished third in county voted, trailed with a total of 285, according to the complete, unofficial returns.

Yarborough and Dies waged a nip and tuck battle throughout the tabulation as returns came into the county clerk's office last night. Yarborough ran in front in 12 of the county's 20 voting boxes, and the two leading candidates tied in the absentee voting with nine votes each.

Only 1,633 voters went to the polls in Scurry County, an exceptionally light turnout for a state-wide election.

Other candidates were far behind in the Scurry County voting. John C. White received 63 votes, James P. Hart 39, Searcy Bracewell 14, while eight other votes were divided among seven candidates.

YARBOROUGH WINS IN BORDEN COUNTY

GAIL — Borden County voters gave Ralph Yarborough, the winning candidate, a clear majority in balloting yesterday in the special U. S. Senate election.

The complete, unofficial returns gave Yarborough 109 votes, to 50 for Martin Dies, who finished second in the race. Thad Hutcheson, the Republican candidate, received 25 votes, while John C. White had 13 and James P. Hart 6 in the Borden County voting. No other candidate received more than one vote.

Former Mayor Of Snyder Dies Today

Forest G. Sears, 3011 Avenue X, former Snyder mayor and longtime civic leader here, died just before noon today in Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

Mr. Sears had been hospitalized for about a week after suffering a heart attack.

A rancher and former dry goods store operator, Mr. Sears served three terms as mayor of Snyder, elected to his last term in 1952.

Active in numerous civic circles for many years here, Mr. Sears remained active until his death. He was serving as chairman of the Chamber of Commerce industrial committee, which is spearheading a drive to establish an industrial foundation here. He was serving as a director of the Colorado River Municipal Water District.

Mr. Sears had also for many years been active in political organization work of the Democratic Party and headed many fund drives for welfare organizations, including the March of Dimes. He headed several defense bond drives here.

For many years, he operated a dry goods store on the west side of the square, where Owens Department Store is now located.

Funeral services were still pending early this afternoon at Bolger Funeral Home.

Survivors include the widow, one daughter, Miss Carolyn Sears; and one sister, Mrs. John Sentell.

Three Incumbents Re-Elected Here

Three incumbents were re-elected unopposed to posts on the city council in city election election in which 190 votes were cast.

Hollis H. Fields was re-elected to place No. 1 with 174 votes. Hugh Taylor and L. A. McClanahan each received one write-in vote in that place.

G. W. Parks, Jr., was elected to place No. 3 with 170 votes. Four write-in votes were cast—one each for John Blum, Fred Cullum, Bill Schiebel and Dick Roberts.

J. H. (Jim) Mixon was re-elected to place No. 5 with 176 votes. Walter Hales and Dick Watson each received one write-in vote for that place on the council.

The city council met at 7:30 o'clock last night to canvass the election and re-install the councilmen.

Councilmen expressed surprise that as many as 190 votes were cast in the election, because of its no-contest nature.

AT COUNTY HEALTH UNIT

Vaccine Supply Getting Low

The Scurry County Health Unit expected to exhaust its supply of Salk anti-polio vaccine today, and there appeared to be little chance of a new supply arriving for two to four weeks, Leah Davis, County Health Nurse, reported.

At the same time it was learned that druggists throughout the area had received notices from drug concerns that shipments of Salk vaccine would be delayed because of heavy usage throughout the country.

Miss Davis said the health unit would not give any first shots until new supplies are received. She estimated that the supplies remaining this morning would be required for second and third shots this afternoon.

Miss Davis said persons desiring Salk shots probably could be taken care of by local doctors. Physicians here were well stocked when the shortage developed. Miss Davis said the health unit would make an announcement immediately after new supplies are received and the regular schedule can be resumed.

Druggists received notices from manufacturers that unexpected heavy demands occasioned by a campaign to promote immunization by the American Medical Association had depleted stocks. It requires about 16 weeks for manufacturers to process Salk vaccine.

Although drug stores here still had limited amounts of the vaccine indications were that new shipments would not be received until after April 15, and possibly later.

Yarborough Wins This Time

DALLAS (AP) — Democrats nailed down control of the U. S. Senate today with a victory by Ralph Yarborough over 18 other candidates.

The affable Yarborough, 53, came back from four previous election defeats to swamp another Democrat, the nationally known Rep. Martin Dies of Un-American Activities Committee fame, and the GOP hopeful, Thad Hutcheson, his only close opponents.

Republicans had high hopes of winning with Hutcheson and taking over Senate leadership. The Democrats have a paper-thin 49-47 edge there now. A GOP victory would hace created a 48-48 tie. Vice President Nixon would have the tiebreaking vote.

Yarborough had 310,842 votes tabulated when then unofficial vote-gathering Texas Election Bureau shut up shop early today. Dies had 255,016 and Hutcheson 202,721.

Three other candidates of statewide prominence got insignificant ballot totals.

Yarborough increased his lead as late returns came in today. The noon count gave him 326,616 votes, or 37.2 per cent of the total cast. Dies had 268,476, or 30.58 per cent, and Hutcheson 208,985, or 23.8 per cent.

At noon 877,891 votes had been tabulated from 212 of the 254 counties, 100 complete.

Voters concentrated on the big three, with three other candidates of statewide prominence getting insignificant ballot totals.

State Sen. Searcy Bracewell had 31,251, James Hart 18,095, John White 9,664.

The other 13 candidates got only a handful of votes.

Yarborough, a successful Austin attorney, lost once, years ago, in a race for state attorney general. Then he lost three races for governor, the last time by about 3,000 votes in a party runoff last fall with Sen. Price Daniel, whose resignation from the Senate to become governor left the vacancy calling fr yesterday's special election.

The victor is a strong party backer. He refused to bolt to President Eisenhower in 1952 and 1956 when many Texas Democrats went over to the President's side. Eisenhower carried this ormally Democratic state both times.

Yarborough bore the label of liberal in Texas elections, but his views would be considered moderate to conservative in some quarters.

He favors the oil depletion allowance which permits some tax credit to oilmen for the petroleum and gases they take from the ground, and is a states' righter on many issues. He is against federal school aid if it means federal control and opposes use of force to integrate public schools.

His main platform plank was raising income tax exemptions from the present $600 to $800.

President Denies Report Of Plans For Resignation

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today reports he will resign before the end of his second term and turn his duties over to Vice President Nixon are the worst rot he has heard since taking office.

He recalled that at the time he (Eisenhower) also told a news conference, in comment on his speedy trip to Gettysburg, Pa., last Friday, he has issued orders that his limousine is never to exceed the speed limit at any place.

A reporter told Eisenhower there have been reports and rumors lately that he might step out of the presidency, when world conditions permit, and have Nixon take over.

Eisenhower appeared to register some surprise. Then he said emphatically those reports are the worst rot he has heard since he has been in office.

Showing irritation, he said he knows of no reason why any speculative writer, should doubt his basic integrity and honesty.

He recalled that at the time he announced for a second term he reported that his doctors felt he was able to carry on, and that he himself had decided he was able.

Eisenhower added he had no idea where the reports that he might resign came from.

The first question at the news conference was a request for comment on the fast trip to Gettysburg last weekend.

A reporter told him the trip got a lot of attention because newsmen trying to keep up with his car were flagged down for speeding.

With a slow smile, Eisenhower replied that he did not mind at all expressing his views on the subject.

For a good many years, he went on, he has used the back seat of his car to carry on conferences.

He said that on the trip last Friday he was engaged in a conference. He made the journey with Col. Walter R. Tkach, assistant White House Physician.

Because of that conference, Eisenhower said, he had no idea of his limousin's speed.

The driver was a Secret Service man.

Eisenhower said he now has issued orders that his car should never exceed the speed limit at any place.

With that, Eisenhower chided the newsmen a bit, saying that several of them had been accompanying him on his travels for years. And none of them, he said, ever befor had brought to his attention that he had caused any of them any inconvenience.

Newsmen who accompanied Eisenhower last Friday reported his limousine hit 75 m.p.h. at times. Nowhere along the 80 mile route does the speed limit permit more than 55 m.p.h.

CHINESE ISLANDS — Eisenhower said he never has given the Chinese Nationalists any assurance the United States would help defend the islands of Quemoy and Matsu if Red China attempted to take them.

EGYPT—The United States still is working very closely with the U.N. in trying to bring about a satisfactory solution of the controversy over the Suez Canal, Eisenhower said.

TWISTERS

counted others were hurt when a tornado late Tuesday cut a path of death and destruction across Oak Cliff and northwest Dallas. Property damage was expected to run into the millions.

Smaller twisters killed at least one man near Paris and caused extensive property damage in several small towns.

Heavy rain and hail pounded portions of West Texas early Wednesday.

Hail and thunderstorms were reported at Abilene, Coleman, Vernon, Mineral Wells, Sweetwater, Brady and Comanche. Thunderstorms also were reported at Odessa, Midland, Lubbock and Amarillo.

The Weather Bureau said a line of thunderstorms was moving eastward at 40 miles per hour.

Winds reached 60 miles per hour at Sweetwater and 50 miles per hour at Amarillo.

At least half a dozen twisters struck little towns in North Texas about the same time as the deadly funnel cut a 21-mile swath of destruction across Dallas.

Leroy Harrell, 55, was killed in a tornado that hit the Ben Franklin community near Paris.

The twister veered through Amba, destroying several buildings, and struck several small structures as it passed three miles west of Paris.

One funnel swooped down at Melissa, a small town 40 miles north of Dallas in Collin County, followed railroad tracks through town and leveled homes and buildings alongside the tracks.

The twister swirled on to Anna, 4 miles north, damaged several homes and then disappeared.

It apparently was the same tornado that touched it in places east of McKinney, traveling northeast. There was no damage there.

Tornadoes also rushed along northeast of Grapevine and Denton and another was seen near Nocona. Two stores were destroyed and some homes were damaged at the little community of Hines City.

Melissa, which was leveled by a tornado in 1921, had a scare that the destruction might be repeated, but the twister hugged the railroad tracks and a minimum of damage was reported.

Several cars were blown from highways and a bus driver said he saw "chickens scattered all round the countryside."

New Violence Is Reported In Santiago

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Chile's government clamped emergency military law on her six million people today after a night of violent anti-inflation rioting left scores of dead or wounded in this capital.

The riots followed a week of turbulent demonstrations, mostly led by students, against Chile's runaway cost of living. Unofficial reports placed the death toll as high as 60.

President Carlos Ibanez, in a nationwide broadcast, warned the population he stands for "energetic use of arms, whatever the consequences," to put down the violence.

A government decree announced a state of siege—a form of martial law. The government blamed the rioting on international communism and lawless groups seeking to damage the economy of this nation, one of the most democratic in Latin America. It said the events of the past week were "the beginning of one phase of violence designed to destroy the country."

New Hybrid Is Available

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department said today 14 high-yielding varieties of hybrid sorghums will be available to farmers this summer.

Two will be of the forage-sorghum type and 12 of the grain sorghum type. Sorghums are increasingly used as livestock feed and are grown principally in Plains areas where there normally is not enough rainfall to produce corn or other livestock feeds.

Seed supplies will be sufficient, the department said, to plant four million acres to the hybrid sorghums this year. Enough seed to plant 20 million acres is expected by 1958.

The department said the new hybrid sorghums are still on trial. It recommended this year that farmers plant more than one variety adapted to their areas and compared them with standard varieties.

Three-Story Building Swept By Fire Today

NOWATA, Okla. (AP) — A fire which started in a cafe swept through a 3-story building here early today, causing damage estimated by City Manager G. F. Hill at a quarter-million dollars.

The Victory National Bank and the cafe were located on the first floor. Officials of the bank said that currency and records were in the fireproof vault and probably were not damaged.

The building was owned by Chris Bitsin of San Antonio.

Fatally Shocked

DALLAS (AP)—U. Thompson, 35, a workman, was fatally shocked yesterday while attempting to unplug a 110-volt electric cord as he stood on wet cement.

POLICE TRAFFIC SCHOOL—Captain Jim Shaw of the Texas Department of Public Safety, Austin, is shown above instructing members of the Snyder police department in traffic accident investigation. Object of the class above was to determine speed of a vehicle by measurement of skid marks left at the scene of a simulated accident. Other classes in highway law and new laws passed by recent Legislatures will be taught by Capt. Henry Leach, also of the Department of Public Safety during the five-day police school here this week. Five Are Killed In Sooner Storm

LITTLE CITY, Okla. (AP)— Five persons were killed and many were injured yesterday as tornadoes singled out three southern counties as Oklahoma targets.

Deaths were confined to Marshall, Bryan and Carter counties just north of the Red River. Residents in other parts of the state, except the western Panhandle spent a jittery night.

Their nerves were kept on edge as the Weather Bureau warned that the treacherous thunderstorms could boil up funnel clouds and strike again. Many tornadoes were reported but most churned back skyward without causing any damage.

The state was kept under tornado alert until 4 a.m. and the Weather Bureau reported that ominous lines of clouds formed in the north and north central sections after midnight and posed a threat for eastern Oklahoma.

Several houses were reported damaged in McCurtain in eastern Oklahoma.

Most damage came at Durant in Bryan County and at an oil camp in this small Marshall County community. Police Sgt. Joe Brimage of Durant said the twister ripped through a 9-block area and that damage was reported to houses in 21 other blocks.

Damage from a tornado also was reported in Garvin County where the Carley school was hit. The damage was estimated at $15,000.

Thirteen homes were wrecked in the Pure Oil Co. camp near here and 35 others damaged. Killed at the camp were Mrs. Charles Wertz, 45, and Mrs. W. O. Simpson, 40.

The death victims at Durant were Mrs. Pearl Harper, 62, and Bill Churchwell. He was from Vernon, Tex., but was making his home with an uncle at Durant. The fifth death was that of Charles Davenport, 45, of Ardmore.

Radioactive Count

HONOLULU (AP)—The Territorial Health Department reported today that Honolulu's radioactive count is five times higher than nrmal, although far below any danger level. Last July 25, the count was 25 times normal, presumably from a U.S. nuclear weapon test at Eniwetok.

Iran Slayer Shot Down

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—The Interior Minister announced today loyal tribesmen had killed the slayer of Mrs. Anita Carroll in a two-hour gunfight outside a village in southeastern Iran.

A ministery spokesman said tribesmen, armed by the government to track down the slayers of Mrs. Carroll, her husband and another American, had gunned down Ghaderhad, "reportedly the assistant" of fugitive bandit chief Dadshah.

The announcement said tribesmen spotted Ghaderdad while he was trying to enter Benet village to get food and water for the other members of the gang.

The spokesman said Ghaderdad was the bandit who slew Mrs. Carroll after the other Americans and two Iranians with them were killed in an ambush March 24.

Snyderites Barely Miss Giant Storm

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Feather, 3798 Dalton Dr., almost had a bird's eye view of the devastating tornado which struck Dallas yesterday afternoon.

Feather, who is publisher of The Daily News and president of the Scurry County United Fund, had been to Shreveport, La., attending the Southwestern Regional meeting of the United Fund Councils, and Mrs. Feather accompanied him on the trip.

They were returning by plane Tuesday, and probably would have been at Love Field, Dallas airport, when the tornado struck if the plane had not been about 20 minutes behind schedule in leaving Shreveport. The Delta Air Lines plane was warned of the storm and circled Greenville, northeast of Dallas, for about half an hour while the tornado was lashing Dallas.

When the plane finally landed at Love Field, they learned that the storm had appeared to be headed for the airport, but veered to the west at the last minute. Only one public telephone was in operation at Love Field after the storm, and airport personnel and others at the field who had seen the giant funnel were in a state of high tension, Feather said.

Pizza Made On Grill Is Spicy Dish

When a food fascination sweeps the country, it usually starts in restaurants or delicatessens, but it isn't long before the housewife is trying her own recipes.

One such food is pizza, a spicy Italian pastry which started to find favor here a few years ago. Home economists have found an easy way of making this tasty dish without even using an oven. Instead, you use an electric grill.

In making the dough, soften a half cake of yeast in lukewarm water for five minutes. Pour one half cup hot water over a tablespoon of butter and three-fourths teaspoon of salt, then combine with the softened yeast. Sift in one and one-half cups of flour, beating until the dough is smooth. Knead lightly, roll out, and stretch thin.

A half-pound of pork sausage is broken into small pieces and fried slowly until evenly browned. The dough is placed on the electric grill and the sausage combined with a dash of black pepper and a small clove of minced garlic is spread on the dough. A cup of well-drained tomatoes is spread over this. Top with grated sharp cheddar cheese. Bake with the electric grill closed and set at 325 degrees for 12 minutes until the dough is crusty and the topping bubbly.

Morning Circle Meets Tuesday

The Morning Circle of the Presbyterian Church met in the home of Mrs. W. R. Everett Tuesday with 13 present.

The meeting was opened with a prayer for national and foreign missionaries, from the Year Book of Prayer, by Mrs. Willie Farmer. The prayer was followed by a business session conducted by the chairman, Mrs. W. Clark. Members reported on calls made on shut-ins and interesting them in The Guild of Intercessors.

Mrs. Bill Jones led the Bible study on the topic, "The Things Which are Caesar's," from Jesus' teaching on citizenship. The circle study, on the topic, "That All May Be Free," from the study book, "The United Nations and Us," was led by Mrs. W. A. Smallwood.

Exotic Egg Dish Made Using Grill

Chinese eggs make an exotic, tasty dish that can easily be prepared on an electric grill for a luncheon or dinner in only 20 minutes.

Ingredients include a cup of cleaned raw shrimp, one-half cup of celery, one-fourth cup of green onions, the same amount of green pepper, two cups of drained bean sprouts, three tablespoons melted butter, one-fourth teaspoon of black pepper, one-fourth teaspoon of garlic salt, six eggs, and a cup of finely cut cooked ham or crisp bacon.

Mince the shrimp, celery, onions, and peppers and cook slowly in a covered saucepan about 7 minutes, until the shrimp is pink. Add the ham or bacon, bean sprouts, butter, pepper, and garlic salt. Last add the well-beaten eggs.

Cook the mixture on a well-buttered open grill, allowing one-fourth of a cup of the mixture for each patty or serving. When lightly browned, turn once.

Home economists suggest serving Chinese eggs hot with sauce made of three tablespoons soy sauce, two tablespoons butter, three tablespoons cornstarch, and a cup and a half of bouillon. The sauce should be cooked about 20 minutes.

Serve Cheese Waffles

For Sunday brunch serve cheese waffles topped with creamed ham. These flavorsome waffles are as easy to prepare as your standard waffles. In fact, we advise you to follow your regular recipe, omitting the sugar and stirring in 1 cup grated American cheddar cheese with the milk.

Mrs. Weeter Is Circle Hostess

The evening circle of the Presbyterian Women's Organization met last night at the home of Mrs. Robert F. Weeter, 3006 Thirty-seventh Street.

Mrs. Ray Lampson, circle chairman, presided at the business session.

Mrs. R. T. Roberts told of receipt of a letter from Mrs. Armanda DeCruz, missionary on Madera Island. Mrs. Charles Meyer and Mrs. Lampson reported on a speech at the Presbyterian last Wednesday by Mrs. Charles W. Riddle, missionary to India.

Mrs. Roberts presented the Bible study, "The Things Which Are Caieser's," and Mrs. Bill Byers, continuing a study on the United Nations, spoke on the universal declaration of human rights. Mrs. Weeter read the names of missionaries for the day and led in prayer.

Candy Adds Bright Touch To Desserts

A little finely chopped candy sprinkled over children's desserts appeases the sweet-tooth and sparks new interest in simple foods.

Choose the crisp, plain or chocolate coated candy bars for best results. For instance, bite size, crunchy bars with peanut butter filling make a quick appeal to youthful taste buds when they're grated and scattered over soft custard, rice pudding, prepared pudding mixes, ice cream or applesauce.

New Fabrics Miraculous, But They Need Good Care

By EDWARD S. KITCH

CHICAGO (AP) — Those miracle fabrics should be handled with care.

A manufacturer says cold water washing and moderate drying heat are necessary to prevent permanent damage.

A panel studying the handling of garments made of man-made able temperature for washing synthetics was 60 degrees, although some can withstand 100 to 120-degree water.

A report submitted by Dr. r. w. peterson at a meeting of the Textile Research Institute points out that the most harmful variable is spinning the fabrics while they are warm or hot in a drier.

According to the research team, heat activates the fiber molecules and places them in a mobile state. If the fibers are compressed by rapid spinning while warm, the fabrics forms deep creases, which become set in the fabric upon cooling.

The recommended drier temperature is about 170 degrees. Light loads require a buffer material such as a towel.

Over the past 10 years, increased production of older man-made fibers and a newer series of synthetics have won a lion's share of the textile market.

U. S. Department of Commerce reports show that the world output of man-made fibers has grown to five billion pounds a year.

Kinds of Fibers

The department also has classified man-made fibers according to their basic raw material. They are:

1. Cellulosic fibers made from wood pulp and cotton linters (rayon and acetate).

2. Protein fibers made from corn, peanuts and milk (zein and casein fibers such as Vicara).

3. Mineral fibers made from sand and limestone and soda ash (glass fibers).

4. Synthetic fibers made from petroleum and coal byproducts (nylon, acrylic, polysester, polythylene and vinyl chloride).

Their manufacture includes three steps:

1. Chemical action or heat transforms the raw material into a viscous solution.

2. Fine streams are formed by forcing the solution through fine holes in a spinneret.

3. These streams harden in a space of a few feet and become solid filaments and then they are twisted and wound on bobbins to form thread.

While these fabrics have many attributes such as high tensile strength, durability and resistance to mildew, they have the drawback of a tendency to electrification by static.

Static Problem

Static electricity is lessened when the synthetics are blended with natural fibers. It is much less of a problem in synthetic fibers with a flat weave. This problem often is overcome with an anti-static compound or metal thread interspersed in the fabric to act as a "ground." But an effective anti-static method is yet to be devised.

Dr. Peterson says the low moisture regain characteristics of synthetics cause difficulties when they are dyed. The high temperatures required for the job and strong chemical processes force makers to dye them during manufacture.

Despite these hydrophobic — low absorption features — and the thermoplastic characteristics, many of the synthetics can be machine washed and made ready for wear without ironing.

The U. S. Army Air Force Station at Roslyn, Long Island, is one of the smallest air force bases in the world with only 500 personnel. Yet there have been 68 weddings there since 1952, 42 of them involving airmen and WAF couples who met on the post.

Cancer Crusade Is Planned April 9

This year's house-to-house Cancer Crusade will be an intensive drive to save lives now, as well as to raise funds to conquer cancer and save countless lives in the future.

Some 75,000 Americans died of cancer last year, because the cancer was not detected and properly treated in time. Snyder and Scurry County had its quota of these tragically wasted lives, and if the present rate continues, an equal number will die this year—without need.

"These are the lives that our volunteers will strive to save when they ring bells and knock on doors on April 9," Joe Williamson, Crusade ... chairman for American Cancer Society, in an appeal to the citizens of this area, said today. "They will implement our double-barreled slogan, 'Fight Cancer with a Checkup and a Check,' and leave educational leaflets with every household they visit.

"Don't throw away this material. It isn't the usual 'throw-away' designed to sell a cause. The leaflets our volunteers will give you contain vital information that may well save your life. When you have studied them you will be able to recognize the 'Seven Danger Signals of Cancer.' This knowledge could someday lead you to treatment while there is still a good chance of saving your life.

"You will also understand why we urge you to give yourself a chance by giving your doctor a chance to find a possibly hidden cancer, long before it makes itself felt. Never forget that this ruthless disease, which strikes one in four, attacks silently and painlessly. That's why the habit of regular medical checkups can litterally make the difference between life and death."

Steady progress has been made in the fight against cancer, William son pointsout. One in every three cases are now being cured, as against one in four a short time ago. Yet cancer is the number two disease killer in the United States. More people are getting the disease because they are living longer — long enough to be exposed to cancer which strikes so heavily between the ages of 45 and 65.

Brother Seen First Time In 48 Years

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — There was no hesitation on the part of Mrs. Lea Margulies when she saw her older brother for the first time in 48 years.

"I recognized him from the picture in my heart," said the Johannesburg, South Africa, woman who picked her brother out of a crowd at Standiford Field yesterday.

It wasn't so easy for 65-year-old Samuel J. Levitz, who hadn't seen his "kid" sister since he left their home in Russia in 1909.

Levitz, who had a long and nervous wait while his sister's plane was delayed on departure from New York, wondered out loud, "How will I recognize her?"

Levitz had lost contact with his sister after he came to America and she moved from Russia to South Africa. Recently, a nephew of Mrs. Margulies visited this country and called Levitz.

The brother and sister began to correspond and Mrs. Margulies decided on the trip to Louisville after her husband died and his business was sold.

Twenty-Seven Race Horses Dies In Fire

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Twenty seven race horses died early today when a barn went up in flames at Fort Miami Raceway, which opened a 44-day race meeting yesterday.

Every horse in the barn either died in the fire, or was burned so badly it had to be destroyed.

A track spokesman said the cause has not been determined, although it was possible an overloaded electrical circuit.

Too Many Teamsters

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Some 1,500 Teamsters turned up at last night's meeting of their local and the session had to be postponed until a bigger hall could be hired. A new date has not been set.

Usually "only a handful" of the 5,000-member General Teamster Local 162 shows up at meetings, a Teamster said.

Members filled the 900-seat auditorium early and by meeting time had spilled into the hall and out into the street.

The meeting was the first the local has had since Teamster President Dave Beck was accused by the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee of misuing union funds.

One of the matters that was to be discussed last night was the case of Teamster Harry Federspiel, who has been accused of violating the union constitution by criticizing local and national Teamster officials in statements to the press.

Styrene Producing Plant Is Dedicated

BIG SPRING — The World's first and only plant producing styrene by direct recovery of ethylbenzene from gasoline was officially dedicated today in formal ceremonies at which Cosden Petroleum Corp. and Badger Manufacturing Co. of Cambridge, Mass., were co-hosts to representatives of the press and distinguished guests.

This was the plant that many of the experts said "couldn't be built"; the process that other producers had studied and declared commercially impractical.

William Rousseau, vice president of Badger reported that his company had completed the $3 mil[illegible] unit in only 13 months—in spite of the steel strike last year which delayed construction nearly two months. By the end of the first day's run early in February, product purity was 99.2 per cent. Present purity of the product is above specifications for plastic-grade styrene.

Cosden President R. L. Tollett, whose vision made the plant a reality, recently hailed its successful completion as "one of my greatest satisfactions." With typical Cosden efficiency, Dan. M. Krausse, vice president of manufacturing reported that the company expects to fill its commitments easily for 20 million pounds per year of styrene. The product is being used in the manufacture of synthetic rubber and plastics.

The four giant distillation towers, each nearly 200 feet tall, against a clear West Texas sky mark the fulfillment of an engineering goal of many years: the production of styrene without the synthesis of ethylbenzene. As industry authorities are well aware, synthesizing ethylbenzene is an exacting and costly operation.

In the production of styrene at its model refinery in Big Spring, Cosden starts with a mixed xylene stream from its BTX plant. The ethylbenzene is then seperated in the Badger Ultrafractionation columns with a critical boiling point differential of only 4-degrees between the stream constituents.

After critical seperation, the ethylbenzene is converted to styrene utilizing new processing techniques developed by Badger. These include dehydrogenation, recovery, purification.

In spite of the complexity of the plant and the utilization of an entirely new process, Badger and Cosden engineers accomplished the start-up smoothly and since initial adjustment of the electronic gauges and automatic controls, the plant has been running with 100 per cent automation.

Defense Appeal From Doctor Thrown Out

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS

THIS MUST BE THE YEAR of "boo-boos" in track and field meets around the Lone Star State.

Already there have been four meets who have changed their originally announced winners and the season is only about half gone.

The West Texas Relays at Odessa apparently started something when they changed their meet champion two days after it was completed.

Reason for the change at Odessa, however, differs from the other three in question. Odessa, you'll recall, probably made history when she switched places around in an event after studying pictures of the race.

West Texas Relay officials agreed on Monday after the meet had been run on Saturday that Bill Woodhouse of ACC tied for second in the 100 yard dash whereas the finish judges on the scene had Woodhouse finishing sixth.

This change gave ACC an additional 1½ points, enough to award her the outright meet title. Before the change ACC and Baylor had shared the crown.

Error In Adding Most Common

The other three post-meet changes were brought about by miscalculation of points. One was at the Bluebonnet Relays in Brownwood last week where the Tigers competed.

Coleman and Brownwood were announced as co-chamions of the meet at completion of the final event. But, several minutes after the meet had ended, someone noted that Coleman had been given one point on a fourth-place by Delbert Lewis of Colorado City.

You see, Coleman had a boy named Lewis, too, (John Dale) and when Colorado City's Lewis finished fourth in the 440 the meet clerk put the points down for Coleman.

By deducting the point from Coleman's total, Brownwood, of course, was then crowned the undisputed champion. Before the error was noticed, coaches of Brownwood and Coleman had already flipped it off for the championship trophy and the Brownwood coach, Gus Snodgrass, won the toss.

At Austin Saturday, Texas Tech and University of Texas were originally announced as co-champions in a quadrangular freshman meet.

In a recheck of the points an error was noted in the compiliations with the error favoring Tech, thus giving the Raider frosh the undisputed title.

Then down at Houston, also on Saturday, University of Houston was at first awarded a 70-66 victory over Texas A&M in a dual meet but again officials, in a recount of the points, discovered an error. The error changed the final count to a 68-68 tie.

Officials Should Stand Behind Judges

Officials of these meets where an error was noted in counting the points did right in changing the standings but we doubt that West Texas Relay officials did the right thing in changing the result of a race after looking at a picture of the event.

In the first place, the WT officials should stand behind their judges all the way.

Then, it's a common thing for a finish judge to miss the actual winners or placers in a close sprint race but this is the first time we've heard of an event being changed by viewing a picture of a race.

To cite another example, moving pictures of the Tiger-Garland bi-idstrict game in 1955 showed that the Jack Spiles-to-Joe Baxter lateral was legitimate. But the officials ruled it a "forward lateral" and the touchdown the Tigers made on the play was called back.

But, of course, Tiger coach John Conley didn't lodge a protest on the matter although it meant the difference of the game.

We can see no difference in the two matters discussed here because pictures proved in both cases the officials were wrong.

We just hope that Odessa isn't setting a precedent in changing an officials' decision after viewing pictures. If it comes to that, you'll have to wait until a couple of days later to see who won.

Speaking of boo-boos, we made one yesterday in indentifying the Tiger tennis players in a picture run on this sheet. Where we said it was Bobby Taylor, it should have been Pat Murphy. Both are members of the tennis team but Taylor was absent when the picture was taken.

Six pitchers still active in the American League have struck out more than 1,200 batters during their careers. They are Bob Feller, Warren Spahn, Virgil Trucks, Early Wynn, Robin Roberts and Bob Lemon.

Lone Hit Spoils Baker's 2nd No Hit Bid; Tigers Win 6-2

By BUCK FRANCIS

Tiger southpaw Ronnie Baker almost joined Johnny Vander Meer in double no-hit fame yesterday but Midland centerfielder Jimmy Rosson spoiled his efforts with a line single to left in the fourth inning for the lone Bulldog safety.

But Rosson's hit wasn't near enough as the Tigers romped to a 6-2 victory as Baker notched his third win of the year against one loss.

Baker, who only last Friday had tossed a no-hitter at Tom S. Lubbock, was bidding for his second straight such performance yesterday. But Rosson, the Midland clean up man, lived up to this role by pounding one of Baker's offerings to left field for a single in the fourth.

Both of the Midland runs were unearned.

Despite Baker's fine performance, the Tigers didn't iee the decision away until the sixth inning pounded out a bases-loaded triple to deep left field.

That blow boosted the Tiger lead 6-2 and it made it easier sailing for Baker to mow the Bulldogs down in the seventh.

Baker struck out five and walked four. Baker's control wasn't as sharp as it has been in past games. In addition ot the four free passes, he hit one batter and uncorked a wild pitch that let in one of the two Bulldog runs.

But the crafty lefthander didn't give the Bulldogs anything to hit at and this covered up his slight siege of wildness.

Except for two errors in the fifth when Midland pulled even at 2-2, Baker receivcd flawless support afield by his teammates.

The Tigers took a 2-0 lead in the second inning with Baker touching off the rally himself with a double against the leftfield fence. Neil Boyd followed with a single, to send Baker to third and Tom Falls walked to load the bases.

Catcher Coleman John, who had a perfect day at the plate, blooped a single to center to score Baker with the first run of the game. Boyd then tallied on Milton Ham's grounder that Midland shortstop Arthur Adams attempted to turn into a double play but failed.

Midland got its first run in the fourth when Adams was hit by a pitched ball and went to third on Rosson's hit and then scored on a wild pitch.

The Bulldogs tied it up at 2-2 in the fifth with the two Tiger errors doing the damage. Larry Cooper, who went the route for Midland, walked and went to second when catcher John's attempted pick-off throw went into right field.

Cooper took third on another Tiger miscue and then scored on a squeeze bunt by Butch Howard. That was curtains for the Bulldog offensive as only one Midlander got on base after that when Bobby Hillin walked with one away in the seventh.

The Tigers won the game in the bottom of the fifth by scoring a run on two hits and a walk. The Bengals loaded the bases with one away on John's second single of the day. Vice's walk and Joe Reaves' infield hit.

Then Milton Ham grounded sharply to shortstop Adams who attempted a doubleplay. But second baseman Lupe Hernandez, after taking the throw from Adams, never got off his throw to first as Reaves took the Midland keystoner out nicely with a well executed slide. While this was going on, John came home with what proved to be the winning run.

Vice then put the game on ice for the Bengais with his bases loaded triple in the sixth.

The win boosted the Tiger season record to 7-5 while the loss was Midland's third against seven wins.

The Tiger victory also squared the series between the two clubs at 1-1.

The Bengals go to Rotan tomorrow night for their next tilt.

Burke Bids For 1st Repeat In Masters

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Jackie Burke Jr. has set a line of strategy for his bid to become the first repeat winner of the Masters golf championship — "Play it cozy and hope for the best."

"Nobody ever won this tournament by trying to win it," the boyish pro from Houston, Tex., said today. "You have to sneak up on it. You have to play it cool and take chances that it's good enough."

The curly-haired offspring of one of the game's greatest pros, who sneaked in with a 289 last year after amateur Ken Venturi's last-day collapse, said he figured, the title would be won or lost on the Augusta National's expansive greens.

"The man with the best lag putting touch will win it," he said. "That's why I'd have to stick with fellows like Cary Middlecoff, Ben Hogan, Sam Snead and Jimmy Demaret. They'll usually get down in two from anywhere on the green."

Modesty precented Burke from saying that the reason he is rated high among the threats is that he is one of the best lag putters in the game.

Lag putting is the art of snaking a long putt close enough to get down on the next nudge.

Burke's practice rounds — he had a 75 yesterday—haven't been up to the standard of some of his contemporaries but experience has shown that practice scores are seldom a good criterion of tournament performance.

A tall Canadian, Al Balding, had the best practice round yesterday, a 5-under-par 67. He got it with a red-hot putting stick which sank four balls from 10 to 30 feet; he one-putted three other greens.

Two of the prime favorites, National Open champion Middlecoff and Hogan, shot par 72s.

Snead also shot a 72. Demaret had 70.

Rice Owls In 3-1 Win Over Kansas Nine

HOUSTON (AP)—Rice beat Kansas 3-1 in an intersectional baseball game yesterday, scoring all its runs in the eighth inning.

While Larry Miller of Kansas and Jim Briggs of Rice hooked up in a fine pitching duel, Rice shoved over its runs with two hits, a pair of walks and good base running. Kansas made its lone run in the ninth.

Miller allowed four hits, Briggs six

Middlecoff Is Favorite

ATLANTA, (AP) — Sports writers favor Dr. Cary Middlecoff, the Memphis golfer, to win this week's 21st Masters golf title at the Augusta National Golf Club.

Thirty writers balloting in the Atlanta Journal-Constitution's annual Masters poll picked the Memphis dentist as the man to beat. Middlecoff piled up 48 points and received nine of the 30 first-place votes.

Middlecoff won the 1955 Masters with a score of 279 and finished third last year, only two strokes back of Jack Burke who won with 289.

The poll scoring was on the basis of three points for a first place vote, two for second and one for third.

Sam Snead, who with Jimmy Demaret has captured three Masters titles, was second choice in the poll with 28 points. Demaret, winner of two tournaments on the current tour, placed third with 22 points. Ben Hogan, twice winner at Augusta, was fourth choice with 18.

Defending champion Burke, also winner of the National PGA crown last year, was rated sixth with nine points. In fifth place was Doug Ford who received 12 points.

Harvie Ward of San Francisco, winner of the last two U.S. amateur championships, was the choice to take low amateur honors. The Augusta classic has never been won by an amateur.

Ward Files Entry In Colonial Tourney

FORT WORTH (AP) — Harvie Ward, the national amateur champion from San Francisco, is the latest entry in the $25,000 Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament.

Ward, who last year became the first repeater for the national title in 21 years, will be making his second visit to the Colonial tournament. He tied for third in 1954.

Repeat Races Seen In Major Leagues

By ED WILKS

NEW YORK (AP) — It looks like more of the same in the 1957 major league pennant races.

In the National League, it's Brooklyn, Milwaukee, Cincinnati and pick 'em.

In the American, only injury — not Cleveland, Chicago or Detroit —appears capable of interrupting the New York Yankees' reign.

The national league goes into its 82nd season in two weeks with an isolation booth question hanging over each of the contenders. The pennant rides with the answer.

It's a faniliar and irritating question for Brooklyn's defending champions — Can the old men do it again? Specifically, can Sal Maglie come anywhere close, at 40, to the magnificent Maglie of last season? Is Roy Campanella's hand back in business? Can Pee Wee Reese, butted by injury all spring, stay in one piece at 37? Can the Dodgers get along without Jackie Robinson — and Carl Erskine, if his arm proves helpless?

For the Braves, who went to the final day of the season before losing the 1956 pennant to the Dodgers, the question is whether Manager Fred Haney's passion for positive thinking can show a profit. Have the Braves come of age? Has Haney, with his talk of "potential" and "hustle," convinced Milwaukee's annual runners-up they have matured as a result of last season's bitter burnout?

Cincinnati's question is more tangible — and more demanding. Can the Redlegs, who matched the one-season major league home run record with 221 last year, stay explosive enough to cover up a pitching staff that could be a dud? Can Birdie Tebbetts, the National League Manager of the Year in '56, pull a little miracle? A comeback by Joe Nuxhall, a repeat year by 19-game-winner Brooks Lawrence, another fine bullpen job by Hershell Freeman and help from a "sleeper" somewhere on the pitching staff are musts.

If anything scares the Yankees it's the ever present threat of injury to Mickey Mantle, who knocked down the 1956 batting championship, home run crown, runs-batted-in title and a $60,000 salary.

But even with the league's Most Valuable Player on the bench there doesn't appear to be enough on any other club to prevent Manager Casey Stengel from grabbing his eighth pennant. The world champs likely have the Rookie of the Year in outfielder-infielder Tony Kubek to boot.

MANTLE'S SUB

Yankee Rookie Sparks 1-0 Win

By The Associated Press

It was early February in New York and Casey Stengel was talking of his world champion Yankees when he said, "Now you take this young fella Kubek, and you can't because I got him and he's the closest I've seen who can go and get 'em like DiMaggio."

Tony Kubek, 21, 6-3, 188, born in Milwaukee, was still attached to Denver, where he hit .331 as a shortstop last season.

A month later, he was the rookie phenom of spring training, already tabbed the American League's Rookie of the Year.

Yesterday he banged three hits and drove in the lone run as the Yankees, behind the five-hit pitching of young Johnny Kucks, defeated the Boston Red Sox 1-0.

Kubek, playing center field in place of the injured Mickey Mantle, now has a .333 spring batting average.

Tom Brewer, 0-7 against the Yanks the past two seasons, blanked the champs over the first seven frames. Then a pinch single by Enos Slaughter and a single by Gil McDougald set up Kubek's hit against Rookie Jack Spring.

Elsewhere, the St. Louis Cardinals wrapped up Cincinnati 9-2; Brooklyn ended a three-game losing streak with an 11-5 job on Pittsburgh; Warren Spahn became Milwaukee's first nine-inning pitcher, beating Atlanta 8-5; the Philadelphia Phillies rallied to defeat the Chicago White Sox 4-2; 'Chicago's Cubs beat Baltimore 7-6 in 12 innings; and the Cleveland Indians walloped the New York Giants 11-6.

Stan Musial, having one of his best springs ever, was 5-for-5, including a home run, as the Cardinals produced 17 hits to back up Herm Wehmeier's seven-inning, four-hit job on the Redlegs.

A walk, two singles and Carl Furillo's double made for three first-inning Brooklyn runs off Paul Minner, the first scored off Pirate pitching in 36 innings. Randy Jackson hit a pinch home run for the Brooks with rookie John Roseboro adding a three-run, 400-foot-plus blast. Roger Craig was the starter-winner, with reliever Don Bessent barely surviving a four-run Buc seventh.

The Phils had to wait until Billy Pierce, the White Sox's 20-game winner, left before getting down to business against rookie Jim Derrington. Pierce gave the Phils just one hit in five frames. Three singles and a misjudged pop fly did the damage in a three-run seventh inning.

Gene Baker's home run off southpaw Bill O'Dell won for the Dubs, who had blown a 3-0 lead with Bob Nieman's three-run homer in the eighth that gave the Orioles a 6-4 edge. The Cubs tied it in the ninth.

Weak-hitting Jim Hegan and George Strickland each had a double and a single for the Indians, who overcame a four-run first inning by the Giants. Herb Score, unusually wild, was touched for all six New York runs.

Field Man Will Visit Realtors

Frank Sweeney, field executive of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, will spend Thursday in Snyder consulting with local realtors and other busines leaders, Don R. Scott, president of the local Board of Realtors, has announced.

Sweeney travels from the Lincoln, Nebr., office of the association, which has its headquarters in Chicago.

During his visit here, Sweeney will address a meeting of the Rotary Club at its noon luncheon, according to Scott. He will speak on "Good Business Ahead in Building Better Communities."

Since this is Realtor Week over the nation, Scott said an interesting talk is expected from Sweeney on Thursday evening at a meeting of the local Board of Realtors and civic leaders.

"We are looking forward to Mr. Sweeney's visit," Scott said, "not only for the information that he will bring us about our own business, but for the opportunity we will have to show him our community and discuss with him its future. We are proud of Snyder and Scurry County and hope that he will find occasion to refer to it in his visits to other local boards in our state and neighboring states."

Prior to his service with the Realtor's association, Sweeney engaged in the general real estate business. He has headed a mortgage buying department in government service and for several years was associated with the Chicago Title and Trust Co. in title work. He was formerly a member of the technical staff of the Assessors Office of Cook County, Ill., and has been engaged in real estate activity for more than 20 years.

Tomatoes Planted In Lower Rio Grande Area

WESLACO (AP) — An estimated 18,000 acres of early spring tomatoes have been planted in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, more than half the normal tomato acreage.

Crop estimators said the mild winter was favorable for early tomatoes and more acreage than usual was transplanted this spring.

Rains during March helped get the crop off to a fine start.

Congress Might Eliminate Work

By INEZ ROBB

It is now obvious for my own peace of mind and achin' back (often indistinguishable) that I was born a quarter of a century too soon.

It is quite possible that if I had only been born 25 years later, I would never have been forced to waste my youth and beauty in merl and terl over a steaming typewriter.

There is every prospect that Congressional generosity in another 20 years will eliminate work entirely for the adult population by providing social security pensions for all citizens over 20 years of age. Such is political chivalry that the female of the species may even begin collecting her pension two years earlier.

Just a year ago Congress gallantly clipped three years from the retirement age of my sex and by fiat decreed that women should be eligible for social security payments at 62. (And it is my contention that any woman who will own up to 62 deserve a pension.)

But it develops that this move to pension-off women at age 62 is just the beginning. Not that Congress has gotten into the spirit of the thing, the big drive in the present session is to knock two more years off the eligibility age for the frail sex, lowering it to 60, and simultaneously to reduce the eligibility age for the opposite sex to 62.

From experience, the nation knows that in Congress there ain't no sech animal as "too much of a good thing," especially when the giveaways benefit the voters in the home district. I think the voters can confidently look forward to steady reduction of the social security age limit by each succeeding Congress until, for all intents and purposes, work is finally abolished and Utopia achieved.

By 1980 at the latest, students in junior colleges will doubtless be specializing in shuffle board and bingo in preparation for a happy, carefree, pensioned old age at 20, when they retire to St. Petersburg, Fla.

Young people emerging from their teens will no longer have to ask prospective employers tiresome questions about job security, sick leave, paid vacation, coffee breaks and pension plans. Oldsters of 20 will merely have to show their birth certificates to a Federal agency to entitle them to full retirement benefits without ever having raised a callus.

This overwhelming Congressional itch to whittle the retirement age comes at a time when the House and the Senate, on the surface, are piously dedicated to whittling the budget because the folks, i.e., the voters, back home are on the warpath over a $72 billion budget. But who, including the folks back home, was ever offended by gravy?

Indeed, Congress by continuously lowering the retirement age is going to banish two big problems. First, it will solve the problem of geriatrics and longevity, with which science is now wrestling, by making the whole population old.

And second, Congress will banish work. Don't ask me how. Congress will figure that out, too. Probably automation has arrived not a second too soon.

Ah, there's a great future ahead for Americans when all will be prematurely old and happy as kings. Life will be just one long, glorious coffee break on Uncle Sam.

New Bribery Case Evidence Reported

AUSTIN (AP)—The House bribery investigation quickly shifted to a new track yesterday on the basis of evidence furnished by a mystery man—"not a state official or employe."

"All meetings of the committee will be suspended until further notice, pending grand jury consideration," Committee Chairman Wade Spilman announced unexpectedly yesterday.

The committee named him to go before the Travis County grand jury and tell of the "major developments" uncovered, apparently from the questioning of the mystery man by Department of Public Safety investigators.

Dist. Atty. Les Procter, who has already been handed the evidence gathered by another House committee probing the collapse of the ICT Insurance Co., said he would get to the new evidence "within 10 days."

"I know what they are talking about but I have not had an opportunity to evaluate it," he said. "At the present stage of the investigation we prefer not to divulge what aspects of the bribery investigation the witness relates to," he said, adding later that the witness was "not a state official or employe. The man is not an Austin resident."

Spilman said it was "extremely important not to disclose at this point whether the parties or party involved in connection with this development is a member of the Legislature or not."

The governor's office had no immediate comment.

The committee made a preliminary report two weeks ago specifically on charges that former Rep. James E. Cox of Conroe agreed to take a $5,000 bribe and kill an anti-naturopath bill. Dr. Howard Harmon, San Antonio, president of the Texas Naturopathic Physicians Assn., is charged with offering the bribe and will go before the current grand jury.

Cox and Harmon claimed they were trying to trap each other.

Practices Of Katy To Be Investigated

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission is going to investigate both the bookkeeping and safety practices of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railroad.

The commission said yesterday two field investigators would go to Parsons, Kan., where the Katy has maintained its car repair shops, "to check on possible violations by the Katy."

Three auditors will be sent to Denison, Tex., by the ICC "to investigate alleged accounting irregularities."

Officials said "we are looking into these things on the basis of reports from several sources."

The Katy on March 24, without prior announcement, transferred its executive offices at St. Louis to Denison. Sen. Symington (D-Mo) criticized the action and Chairman Magnusen (D-Wash) of the Senate Commerce Committee said he was writing to ICC Chairman Owen Clark asking about the situation.

At St. Louis, employes transferred to Texas agreed with the railroad on seniority and moving expenses.

A. J. Pickett, general chairman of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks of the railroad, said the agreement was reached yesterday with A. F. Winkle, assistant Katy general manager.

Pickett said it provides that the seniority of transferred employes will be preserved and moving expenses will be paid by the railroad. He said earned sick leave allowances will be recognized and continued at the office in Denison.

Fire Truck Struck By Freight Train

BURBANK, Calif. (AP)—The front of a hook-and-ladder fire rig beat a 92-car Southern Pacific freight train to a crossing.

The train hit the truck broadside, cutting it in half.

No one was killed. Fireman Bill Davies, who was manning the rear position, suffered a possible skull fracture and possible broken arm. The $45,000 truck was a total loss.

President Of Baptist Sunday School Named

Lubbock will be the site of the 1958 convention which will be held April 21-23.

Chaplin Rents Villa

NICE, France (AP)—Charlie Chaplin has rented a Riviera villa that has sheltered French President Vincent Auriol, ex-King Michael of Romania, King Baudouin of Belgium and his father, ex-King Leopold.

Spirit Medium Pact To End

DETROIT (AP)—One of the last members of an 107-year-old pact aimed at communicating with the dead says it is about time to give up.

"I've been at this for 18 years and nothing has come of it," Charles D. Noble said, "and I think I'll let it die with me."

Noble will keep trying to make contact with his deceased friends — magician Howard Thurston, lawyer Clarence Darrow, explorer Carveth Wells—until he joins them in death.

But he says he will not name a "successor" to himself in the pact to try to communicate with his spirit.

The strange agreement to break the barrier between life and death—or prove it could not be done—was formed in 1850 by two magicians, Conte, a Frenchman, and Herrman the Great.

Although skepitcal, they agreed that the survivor on each anniversary of the other's death would hold an object associated with the deceased. The spirit of the dead man was supposed to knock the object from his hand.

Another clause of the pact obligated the surviving member to name one or two successors.

Noble, a Detroit cement salesman of 65 who dabbles in magic as a hobby, was brought into the pact by Thurston, a boyhood friend.

The only other surviving member of the pact is Harry Blackstone the magician. Blackstone is 81 and in ill health.

Noble has gone to Chicago to seek contact with the ghost of Darrow and to Columbus, Ohio, to search for the spirit of Thurston.

On the exact anniversary of the death—to the minute, if possible — Noble holds an object that meant something to the dead man —a book, a plaque, a magician's wand, a picture—and urges the soul to knock it from his hand.

"I wait a minute or two and then it is over," he said. "Nothing has ever happened."

He says he is "always a little disappointed," but admits, "I wouldn't be so happy myself if it dropped."

The long-standing experiment is far from a failure in the eyes of Noble.

"To me the fact that it hasn't worked is the salvation of the whole idea," he said. "It shows up the spiritualists who tell people they can bring a person back from the dead.

"I've received many letters from priests and other churchmen who approve of what I've been doing."

Portland Man Is Indicted

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Clifford O. Bennett, the Portland gambler who flatly refused to answer questions put to him by the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee last month, was indicted here yesterday on a charge of bribery.

He is accused by the Multnomah County (Portland) grand jury of giving money to Mayor Terry Schrunk — in September 1955, when Schrunk was sheriff—in the course of a gambling raid on Bennett's 8212 Club.

Earlier, Schrunk was indicted on a charge of accepting the bribe and both he and Bennett were charged with perjury because of their denials before previous grand juries.

Bennett says the whole story of the bribe is a frameup. He is free on $1,000 bail.

Judge Is Cooperative

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Magistrate Jack Robbins, had sent Willie Castle to the Broadmeadows Prison Farm to wait for a further hearing on a shoplifting charge. Yesterday the case was tried and Castle was found guilty. Castle said he was all set to do a song and dance number in the prison "follies" at the farm and asked to be returned. The magistrate cooperated by giving Castle 60 days there.

Law Student Elects Himself To Office

NEW BUFFALO, Mich. (AP) — Frank A. Castelluccio, a 23-year-old law student, looked over his absentee ballot and noted no one was running for township highway commissioner.

"We can't have this," he said to himself and wrote himself in on the ballot.

Today Castelluccio, a freshman at the University of Detroit Law School, is making plans to go home next Tuesday to be sworn in as highway commission of New Buffalo Township in southwest Michigan.

His vote was the only one cast for the job in the April 1 election.
