SAIGON, South Viet Nam, Sunday, May 1 (AP)—Gen. Nguyen Van Vy took over control of South Viet Nam today in a bloodless coup and declared himself loyal to Emperor Bao Dai.

He declared the revolutionary committee deposed Bao Dai yesterday, and that its provisional government headed by Premier Ngo Dinh Diem was also illegal.

Shivers Slated For Demo Peace Talks

LUFKIN, Tex., April 30 (AP)—John E. McKelvey, state commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, said here today he had arranged a meeting in Washington next week of Gov. Allan Shivers and Paul Butler, chairman of the Democratic Party.

"The purpose of the meeting is for them to become acquainted and what they do is their business," McKelvey said.

Governor Shivers was not available in Austin tonight for comment.

The Governor's mansion said Shivers is flying to Washington tomorrow. He will attend the White House governors conference on Monday and Tuesday and the Democratic governors conference on Wednesday and Thursday.

Shivers has said on a number of occasions that he would "be happy to meet with anyone anytime to discuss the possibilities of strengthening the party."

McKelvey said he met Butler in Washington Feb. 15 and he gave McKelvey authority to set up the meeting.

"I thought reports he had been receiving about Texas Democrats were erroneous and he had been led to believe we were all a bunch of red-neck liberals," he said he told Butler.

The commander said the governor was flying to Washington Sunday and he would join him there Monday and would introduce them sometime during the week.

"They are very astute men, both very personable. They are both much alike and I believe their political philosophy is similar," he said.

McKelvey supported Adlai Stevenson, the Democrats' 1952 presidential nominee, and also supported Ralph Yarborough in last summer's runoff against Shivers.

Big Spring Week

While our cleanup flopped in comparison with previous years, it should be noted that a couple of spots — doubtless there are many others — have been really brightened. One is the fair property at South Park and the other the landscaping of the Baptist Temple grounds.

Although the need, the wisdom of looking ahead and the record of a good job, contributed to the approval of the $600,000 HJC bonds Saturday. The is likely one less apparent contributing factor. It is the practice of encouraging every manner of community function to be held on the campus and to make use of college facilities. Good will pay off.

Polio Hits Boy Despite Vaccine

HOUSTON, April 30 (AP)—A 7-year-old Houston boy today became the first reported paralytic polio victim from among the thousands of Texas youngsters who this month received the Salk anti-polio vaccine.

An 8-year-old Yoakum boy who received his first Salk shot April 21 also was reported as a non-paralytic polio case.

Mike Hilscher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold H. Hilscher of Houston, became ill Wednesday. Attendants at the Southwestern Polio Respiratory Center diagnosed the case as bulbar polio with throat paralysis. The youngster's condition was described as satisfactory.

Gale Schneider, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schneider of Yoakum, is a patient at Houston's Hedges-Craig Clinic, where doctors said his condition is good.

At Austin, Dr. Henry A. Hille, state health officer, said the Hilscher case was the first he had heard of involving a child who received the first free Salk shot. Hille said he did not consider the case surprising, that it was quite possible the boy had been incubating the disease prior to receiving his shot.

"The Hilscher boy's mother expressed a fear of the vaccine," Hille said. "We're all afraid of the vaccine will stop polio," Mrs. Hilscher said. "Of course, Mike's shot didn't have time to work properly, but still we're hoping the serum will act in stopping any serious paralysis. He had a good night, and has no fever today. So far only his throat is paralyzed but he can still talk and we are hoping his paralysis does not progress."

Nike was inoculated at his elementary school April 19 with vaccine manufactured by the Lilly Co. of Indianapolis.

Dr. Francis Jensen, assistant director of the County Health Department, agreed with Hille that the case was not surprising. He emphasized polio has an incubation period of from 10 to 12 days.

Hille said additional cases probably will be reported from week to week but that he expects them to become less and less as impurity builds up.

3 Indictments Climax 8-Year Murder Probe

COLORADO CITY — Three indictments, all dealing with an 8-year-old murder, were returned by a 32nd District grand jury here Friday.

John E. Davidson, about 30, of Midland, and Bryant Dawson, 25, of Cisco, were charged with murder and conspiracy in the death of Israel Lee Gardner, Gardner, a Negro resident of Colorado City, was shot to death near the railway station here under mysterious circumstances on July 17, 1947.

Haskell Miles, about 38, Colorado City farmer, was indicted on three counts, two alleging conspiracy to murder and one as accomplice to murder. One of the counts alleges that Miles promised Davidson $200 to kill Gardner.

Miles was indicted on $15,000 bond Saturday morning. Sheriff Dick Gregory said that his bond was being paid by Paris Yarborough and Harold Letcher, both of Colorado City.

The indictments returned Saturday day climaxed an investigation covering several years. By Gregory and District Attorney Eldon M. Gardner, who was in his forties, had returned to Colorado City from the state penitentiary only about six months before he was killed. He had been convicted on charges that he killed another man, also a Negro, only a few feet from the spot where he later was killed.

G. L. Powell Rites Set In Colorado City

COLORADO CITY — Services for George Lay Powell, 51, prominent Mitchell County rancher who died Friday morning in the Roof Memorial Hospital, will be held Sunday at 3 p.m. in the First Baptist Church here.

Dr. P. D. O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Big Spring, will officiate. Burial is to be in the Colorado City Cemetery.

Mr. Powell had been in ill health for several years. His death, however, resulted from a stroke he sustained Thursday night.

Mr. Powell was born Dec. 20, 1893 in Bosque County, moving to Sterling County in 1900. He and his brother, W. G. Powell, drove 700 head of cattle to land they leased and later bought in Sterling County. In 1900 he was married to Mattie Irene Thomas and they moved to Mitchell County in 1905.

It was in 1916 that the family moved into Colorado City and Mr. Powell became a commercial commission and later city alderman. He had been a member of the Board of directors of the City National Bank since 1938, and he was an officer in the Colorado City Frytown Roundup Association.

Surviving him are three sons: Earl Powell, "Poeta" De Luna, M. Elmer, Jr. (son) Powell, Big Spring, and W. R. (Jinks) Powell, Colorado City; and four daughters: Mrs. Viola Berwin and Mrs. Louis Cooper, both of Colorado City; Mrs. H. C. Trippett of McAlester, Okla., and Mrs. Baxter Scroggins of Kansas City, Mo. There are 11 surviving grandchildren.

Ex-Johnson County Commissioner Killed

CLEBURNE, Tex., April 30 (AP)—H. Olin Hadley, 72, who served as Johnson County commissioner for years, was killed today when his lost control of a pickup truck on a gravel road near here and the vehicle overturned.

Equipment was being moved in Saturday for the undertaking. Dickey said that road blocks will be put up Monday morning, diverting all "through traffic" from the road.

As soon as the stretch from FM 700 to the City Park entrance is completed, work will be started on improvement of the same road (Old San Angelo Highway) from the park entrance southward to "Wasson Corner," a distance of about two miles.

Paving of roads in the Airport and Settles Heights additions, just west of the Big Spring city limits, may be started prior to the completion of work on the park road. Dickey said the entire road project will require a month. The work will involve crushing the existing topping, reworking the base, and installation of new pavement. The same type of improvement will be made on the road from the park entrance to the Wasson corner.

Dickey said that traffic from the area southwest of Big Spring will be routed into the city through the City Park. Traffic on the main street and others driving from Big Spring to destinations on the old Angelo Highway will be routed south on Highway 87 to the east entrance to the park, through the park, and then onto the old road.

Dickey's long-range plan for permanent road construction and improvement of other roads throughout the county was approved Friday by the commissioners court.

Set up for paving this year was the park project, sections of Harding Street and Airport Avenue west of Big Spring, East Second Street beyond the city limits in East Big Spring, a small segment of Willis Street in the Settles Heights Addition west of Big Spring, two blocks in Forsan, South Avenue and College Street in Coahoma, and a link of about two miles from Fairview east to the Gail Highway.

Paris Woman Leaps From Eiffel Tower

First Step In Long-Range Road Program Set Monday

A paving project will be started Monday as the first step in the county's new long-range road improvement program.

Foster Dickey, county engineer, announced Saturday that work will get under way immediately on the first of several small paving projects planned for this year. The first job will be reconstruction of the road from the City Park entrance north to its junction with FM 700 at the entrance to the Big Spring State Park.

Equipment was being moved in Saturday for the undertaking. Dickey said that road blocks will be put up Monday morning, diverting all "through traffic" from the road.

Women Take Over Parking Meters Monday

Two women will take over the duties of parking meter attendants for the City of Big Spring tomorrow. They are Mrs. J. V. Anderson and Mrs. J. W. Rabco.

They will start on their downtown "beat" at 8 a.m. and will be on duty through 6 p.m. Their job will be to place tickets on all cars parked on "red" meters.

Mrs. Rabco and Mrs. Anderson were hired on authority of the City Commission so that policemen could be relieved for other duties.

The two women were sent to Lubbock last week to receive instruction from the women parking meter attendants there.

Though both realize their duties, they will be accompanied by experienced policemen on the first morning, said City Manager H. W. Whitney. They will wear uniforms as near like uniforms as possible until the real ones arrive.

"The women will not have the authority to make arrests."

Brave Girl Wins Award

DENTON, Tex., April 30 (AP)—A feature story about a visit to the White House, won a posthumous award today for Carolyn Wells of Gladewater, Tex.

Carolyn's story, describing how she felt when she stood on the White House lawn as her Gladewater High School band was greeted by President Eisenhower, was written for the school paper, Bear Facts.

The paper's sponsor, C.W. Dawson, entered the story in a Journalism day contest at North Texas State College here without telling judges that Carolyn had died last Friday.

The story was judged best in its class.

Dawson called the award a wonderful tribute to a brave girl who wouldn't quit. He said that despite a malignancy that forced the amputation of one of her legs she was one of the most valuable members of the school paper's staff.

Priest Receives Life Sentence

LEBANON, Mo., April 30 (AP)—A Texas bookkeeper is headed for a life sentence in prison for murdering an 18-year-old niece for whom he professed love.

Thurman Priest, 48, Grand Prairie, Tex., was convicted of killing Jeannette Earnest, kidnapped and found shot to death in a woods east of here last Nov. 17.

Prosecutor Edgar Mayfield told the jury Priest loved the girl so much he didn't want anyone else to have her. Priest claimed he couldn't remember what happened in connection with the girl's death.

Negro Slain In Jail Attack

BEAUMONT, April 30 (AP)—John David Ashley, 42, a Negro, was shot to death today as he attacked officers who were trying to take him out of his city jail cell.

Ashley, jumped Sgt. Charles Perricone and Detective Glenn Gallier as they went to remove him. His family had made arrangements to take him to the veterans hospital in Waco.

A jail trustee ran to get help and when Detective Chief Jim Stafford went to the jail, Ashley jumped Stafford, who fired four times.

Health Officials Move Up Date On Vaccine Shot

Second shots of Salk's polio vaccine will not be given here Tuesday as had been scheduled. The shots will be administered two weeks from Tuesday, on May 17, it was announced by Jewel Barton, county health officer.

Apparently the second shots were rescheduled because of a delay in the vaccine shipment to Texas.

An Associated Press story stated that the State Health Department will not receive the vaccine before the latter part of next week and possibly later. Medicine used in Big Spring comes from the department.

The second shots on May 17 will come exactly four weeks after the first ones were administered. It was pointed out, and this corresponds to the original recommendation of Dr. Jonas E. Salk, discoverer.

Second shots will be administered in the basement of the First Presbyterian Church exactly as the first shots. Health Nurse Barton said. Local teachers have the schedule.

There will be one exception to the second shot schedule. A child who has received the first shot and who will be moving from town before May 17 can get the second shot Tuesday.

This will be possible because of some vaccine left over from the first shots.

This vaccine which was left over will be used to conduct a make-up clinic Tuesday, it was announced. Between 50 and 75 children who missed the regular first shot will be able to get it then.

The make-up clinic will be held at the Big Spring Howard County Health Unit, and mothers and teachers are urged to take children to the Health Unit at 10 a.m. promptly.

Only those first and second graders who missed the first shot and others moving before regular second shots will be able to get the second shot Tuesday.

Texas Skies Clear Off After Soaking Rains

Skies cleared over Texas Saturday much to the delight of farmers after soaking rains poured down in scattered parts of the Texas Panhandle, South Plains and south to Rankin Friday night and early Saturday morning.

Great Plains People Show Deep Faith In Land's Future

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON, April 30 (AP)—The central and southern Great Plains may be in the grip of another severe drought, but the spirit of the people remains good. They maintain an abiding faith in the future of their region.

These facts stood out above all others in information gathered by those who accompanied Secretary of Agriculture Benson in a motor tour through drought-stricken areas this week. He was seeking ideas on how the government might help deal with problems brought on by the weather.

In many parts of the Plains, this is the sixth consecutive year of moistureless weather and crop failure, when most farmers and ranchers have gone in the red.

For many, it has meant disappearance of savings and reserves. For many others it has brought heavy debts. Many have been forced to reduce their livestock herds for want of feed. For most it has meant belt-tightening on spending.

Yet there is no evidence that farmers and ranchers are ready to give up the ghost. How different is this attitude from one which hung heavy over the Plains during the height of a similar drought in the Thirties. Only those who lived there before can appreciate the contrast.

"In the previous drought, a spirit of hopelessness and despair finally took over—not only among those who worked the land, but among the townspeople as well. There was a great exodus—an exodus that changed the face of the Plains. Many of the 'Okies' of California and other West Coast states.

One can only speculate as to why the spirit of the people is different now.

"Perhaps most important is the likelihood that the people have come to recognize the character of the central and southern Plains, weatherwise. Recurring drought is a normal feature of the area, comprising about 200,000 square miles in eastern Colorado, western Kansas, eastern New Mexico, western Oklahoma and western Texas.

"Extended droughts have been coming to this region ever since it was settled. Experts say that they have been a common feature of the region for centuries.

Farmers now look ahead with a firm faith that rain will come again. And when the moisture does return, they know that what now looks like a desert can quickly produce lush growth. The one thing

Returns From All Four Boxes Favor Bonds

The $600,000 bond issue for enlarging Howard County Junior College won approval Saturday by a three-to-one vote.

Vote for the issue was 616 and against was 195. The unofficial returns from all four boxes showed that each favored the issue.

Forsan voters were unanimous in expressing themselves. The vote there was 16 for the issue and none against it.

A second proposition on Saturday's ballot, authorizing a hike in the tax rate from 50 cents to 60 cents, also passed but by a slightly smaller margin than the bond issue.

Voting for raising the junior college district tax rate a dime to provide for retiring the bonds were 543 property owners. Voting against the hike were 215. The majority on this was approximately two and a half to one.

The $600,000 issue will finance several new buildings and enlargement of others at HJC.

Dr. W. A. Hunt, college president, said Saturday night that architects and engineers are expected to complete final plans for the improvements in from 30 to 60 days. He said he believes the bonds can be marketed and issued in the same period, so that bids on construction can be asked by early summer.

The HJC board of trustees will meet at noon Monday to canvas the election returns and start arrangements for issuing and selling the bonds. Henry-Seay Company, investment concern, already has been retained to handle technical details of the issue.

Dr. Hunt said he has received numerous inquiries from bond purchasers concerned, indicating there may be sharp bidding for the issue.

The extremely good financial condition of the county and the junior college district is expected to bring in some good bids, Dr. Hunt said.

The architectural firm of Puckett & French, Big Spring, has completed most of the preliminary work on building plans. To be constructed are a new building, a practical art building and an agriculture experiment laboratory. Additions will be made to the library, gymnasium and the science building. The bond proceeds also are expected to cover cost of paving streets and driveways in the campus, as well as landscaping.

The vote authorizing the bond issue, by boxes, including Big Spring, was 548 for and 170 against; Coahoma, 41 for and 11 against; Knott, 9 for and 1 against; and Forsan, 18 for and none against.

On hiking the tax rate limit to 60 cents, the vote by boxes was Big Spring, 490 for and 187 against; Forsan, 18 for and none against; Coahoma, 36 for and 20 against; and Knott, 9 for and 8 against.

Library's Business Growing This Year

The Howard County Library is growing much faster this year than in 1954, according to Opal McDaniel, librarian. In the first four months of this year, the number of books checked out and the amount of fines collected equaled half the total amounts recorded for the whole year in 1954.

Last year, 44,899 books were checked out of the library. So far this year, 21,031 books have been placed into circulation. Fines for 1954 totaled $663.72, for the first four months this year the total is $343.62. The amount of library activity is apparently increasing each month, the librarian said.

A total of 472 new patrons have been added to the library files and 521 new books have been acquired. A monthly check shows the following figures: January, total books checked out, 4,439; fines collected, $63.55; February, 5,061 and $67.29; March, 765 and $85.47; April 5, 765 and $127.31.

The many new books in the library are encouraging patrons to make wider use of the library's facilities, Mrs. McDaniel said. A current shipment included such diverse items as "Who's Who in 1955" and several books on economy vacation trips. These latter books are popular with Big Springers.

Other current fiction works received in the library include all the best sellers. For example, "DUTCH" by Theodore Bonnet.

This current novel, by the author of the "Midnight" is the story of a small town in San Francisco that is suddenly in possession of a genuine Rembrandt. The acquisition of the famous work transforms the small town into a 'hot' place.

ry of some repute with the local personage.

As a result, hordes of minor characters parade through the book, giving it a strange feeling of reality and believability.

"The Night of Time" by Rene Tulop-Miller

This book has been described as the only true war novel to come out of World War II. It is primarily the story of a man who refuses to be regimented into a meaningless unit within an Army. But he does. The author has included all the horror that necessarily goes into a war.

"Find the Dreamer Guilty" by Peter W. Denier

A youth in transition from teenage to the adult world finds a world that he doesn't understand and it doesn't understand him. He finds a small town with its snobs, bigots, blindnes, and cruelty to children. The book is a disturbing novel.

"The Breaking Wave" by Nevil Shute

Shute's most recent work tells of an Australian who returns to his homeland from London to find that a mysterious death has taken place. In unraveling the story of the deceased, he finds an answer to his own problems and future.

Boy Scout Drowns In Fishing Accident

Fire Insurance Study

Bill Truitt, left, and Joe Cobb, two members of the fire insurance rating crew now making a survey of Big Spring, take note of size, type of construction and other data as they check a business building. The survey, the first here in 17 years, will result in publication of a new fire insurance rate book for Big Spring. All commercial, church and public buildings are being inspected by the rating crew.

District Court Sets Civil, Criminal Cases

The state will be ready to go to trial on five criminal cases and a civil action when 118th District Court convenes Monday morning. District Attorney Gullford Jones announced Saturday.

Jones said the case of Ysabel Lopez, charged with assault with intent to murder, probably will be the first called for trial. It probably will require two days or longer. He is charged in the shooting of Luis De Los Santos last Dec. 24.

The district attorney said the week's second case likely will be the civil contest, involving the application of Henry Early Friar for legal restoration of sanity.

Friar is the El Paso man who was committed to the Rusk State Hospital in 1953 after an El Paso jury found that he was insane at the time he was to be tried on charges of murder. The El Paso jury also found that Friar was insane at the time Warren Mitchell, El Paso policeman, was killed. Friar was charged with murdering Mitchell on May 16, 1953.

Other cases in which the state will be ready for trial this week include burglary charges against Daniel Washington, James Smith and A. J. Moore, and charges of second offense driving while intoxicated, against Opaf Strother, Washington, Smith and Moore, all Negroes from Dallas, are charged with burglarizing the Zale's jewelry store here on the night of April 1.

A 60-member jury panel, including 29 men and 31 women, has been ordered to report at 10 a.m. Monday for the week's court session.

2 Cops, Negro Die In Gunfight

HOUSTON, April 30 (AP)—Two policemen and a Negro were shot to death tonight in a gun battle at a tavern near downtown Houston.

Charles R. Gougenheim, an auxiliary police captain, and the unidentified Negro died at the scene. Jack B. Beets, a police department criminal investigator, died shortly after arrival at a hospital.

Police said the two officers had gone to the tavern to investigate a disturbance. Beets entered the building while Gougenheim waited outside.

Witnesses said shots were fired shortly after Beets entered the tavern and that a Negro with a gun ran from the building. The Negro and Gougenheim then killed each other in an exchange of shots.

Beets was found critically wounded behind a bar in the tavern.

Convicted Man Is Found Sane

SANTA CRUZ, Calif., April 30 (AP)—Henry Herman Webb, self-described minister of Seagraves, Tex., who has been convicted of murder, was found sane yesterday.

A Superior Court jury deliberated an hour and 20 minutes before deciding Webb was sane at the time of the shooting.

Webb was convicted last week and sentenced to life imprisonment for the shooting last December of Steven Kirkendall, who was married to Webb's former wife. Webb pleaded innocent by reason of insanity.

Fines, Jail Terms Set In DWI Cases

Two men received three-day jail terms and $100 fines in County Court to drunken driving charges.

Sentenced following their pleas were Maurilio Molino Garcia and James Marcelus Wazacha. Both were arrested Friday by city police.

Transferred Here

Raymond V. Bolt, charged here with forgery, was transferred from San Angelo to the Howard County Jail Saturday by Sheriff Jess Slaughter. Bolt was found guilty on forgery charges in San Angelo and received a three-year penitentiary sentence.

Can You Inherit Tuberculosis?

No, this false belief stems from the high incidence of the disease among the children of tuberculous parents. Pulmonary tuberculosis, the most prevalent reinfection type, seldom occurs in children under ten years of age; beyond that age its incidence rises sharply. It is much easier to prevent than to cure many infectious diseases. See your doctor regularly. He knows what must be done to insure protection. Depend upon us to fill your prescriptions promptly.

Counts Back In Glasscock Jail

GARDEN CITY — Johnny Joe Counts, who broke out of the Glasscock County Jail here March 30, was back in the jail Saturday night.

Sam F. (Buster) Cox returned Counts to Garden City from Denton Saturday. Counts was arrested by police in Denton Monday night. The arrest followed a collision involving a car in which Counts was riding and another vehicle loaded with Denton Boys Scouts. Four Scouts were seriously injured. Counts received lacerations, and was hospitalized until Friday.

The driver of the car in which the escapee was riding, Billy Joe Short of Aspermont, has been charged with committing aggravated assault with a motor vehicle, according to Cox. Counts, Short, Counts' wife and one other man were in the car which police were chasing at the time of the collision.

Counts escaped from the Glasscock jail March 30 by tearing a hole in the top of his cell and going through a skylight. He and four others were charged with robbery of the Garden City postoffice and drugstore on Feb. 17.

Killed By Truck

BEEVILLE, Tex., April 30 (AP)—Kathy Hamilton, 4, was killed today when struck by a truck. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hance Hamilton Jr.

To Be Closed

The office of the driver's license examiner will be closed Monday. Examiner H. D. (Rusty) Hightower said Saturday. It will reopen Wednesday.

A Fisherman's
Ten Commandments

1. Thou shalt not allow thy seal to awaken thy household at 3 in the morning. Move quietly.
2. Thou shalt not request the lady of thy heart to prepare a hearty breakfast for thee. Prepare it thyself, or stop at an all-night cafe.
3. Thou shalt not steal thy neighbor's rod and reel.
4. Thou shalt not drive like ye demon to the pond, for ye Grim Reaper is a fisherman, also.
5. Thou shalt not utter profane words if the fish rise not to the bait. It simply is not thy day.
6. Thou shalt not profane Mother Nature by leaving an untidy spot. Bury thy trash behind thee.
7. Thou shalt not cast thy bread upon the waters. Use bait.
8. Thou shalt not hook thy line into trees, bushes or someone else. Drop thy hook into the water.
9. Thou shalt speak the truth when thou returnest, yes even of the One That Got Away.
10. Thou shalt not steal another's tall tale. Tell thy own.

(Stolen in part from Lorraine Bassford of The Palacios Beacon.)

R. L. Cook has returned from Buchanan Lake where he reported catching scores of little fish, but only a few of them large enough to keep. From now until autumn at least, he said, he will be catching his fishing to Lake J. B. Thomas.

Incidentally, crappie have continued to bite well at Lake Thomas. Numbers of good strings were reported there last week.

Dr. C. W. Deats took part in the trap-shooting matches at Lubbock Saturday afternoon. He plans to get in another 300 rounds at Dallas about May 15, which will give him 500 registered targets, sufficient to take him for the Grand National matches at Vandalia, Ohio in August. He is going to fulfill a life-long ambition and take part in these matches this year.

Gov. Shivers recently signed a long list of local game and fish bills. The bills are originated in the House of Representatives. Here's a list of them in brief:

HB 176, making it unlawful to kill deer in McLennan County for five years from Oct. 1, 1955.

HB 205, unlawful to use certain kinds of nets to catch fish in Rain County and on the Sabine River in Van Zandt County.

HB 248, unlawful to take minnows from any of the waters of Wichita County for sale outside the county. Immediate effect.

HB 259, closing season on deer and turkey in Nolan County for five years, immediate effect.

HB 314, unlawful to kill mink in Henderson and Van Zandt counties for two years, immediate effect.

HB 436, prohibiting taking of fish from new Lake Winters in Rusk County, prohibiting the taking of minnows from the lake and prohibiting the taking of fish for commercial purposes from the lake.

HB 474, open season buck deer with pronged horns for Hopkins, Delta and Franklin counties, unlawful to kill turkey.

HB 508, to allow owner of land on which buffalo have been stocked at landowners' expense to dispose of any surplus buffalo on written permission from the Game and Fish Commission.

HB 621, unlawful to fish with, or to have in possession, any electrical or magnetic fishing device in Pahrula County.

HB 622, allowing killing of wild buck deer with less than 1 pronged horn in Panola County between Nov. 15, and Nov. 25.

HB 647, unlawful for a period of four years to take wild deer in Commissioner's Precinct No. 4, Lamar County.

HB 646, unlawful in Lamar County to kill more than 8 squirrels in one day or to have in possession more than 16 squirrels.

From Coahoma: L. D. Spears, Tom Birkhead, Gus Martin and Tommy Birkhead have returned home after spending last week fishing at Buchanan Dam.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Sullivan and family and Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Finley and family all spent the weekend at San Angelo fishing.

Good news for quail hunters: the state plans to have its quail hatchery ready by next spring. And organized sportsmen and conservation groups will have priority in distribution of the birds.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Hern of Ackerly spent the weekend fishing at Possum Kingdom Dam.

Other Ackerly folk were seen at Buchanan: A. J. Lewis, Royal and Doyle, Marvin Gibson and Donald Lee.

Frank Thieme, Sammy Porter and Alfred Thieme of Coahoma fished recently in Lake Brownwood.

Cases Are Pending

There have been 166 misdemeanor cases filed in the Justice Court, since 1, during the first four months of 1955. Of this total, only 46 cases are still pending. Disposition of the other cases resulted in fines or dismissals.

Of the cases awaiting action, 20 were filed in April. The other 26 cases were filed prior to April 1, some of them in January.

Notes about an interesting insect have come from Mrs. Gwen Harley. She writes:

"I have enjoyed your articles, especially those about insects. I have been much interested to be acquainted with insects. I have always been afraid of them."

"I have tried to conquer my fear, but have had little, if any, success until lately. After reading about the praying mantis, I thought that one or more of them might be useful in fighting insect pest, including ants."

"My husband got a praying mantis and turned him loose in the house. At first I was afraid of the insect, and even bumped my head a few times while trying to get out of his way."

"As time passed, however, I observed that the mantis was a useful member of the household. He was eating insects. I knew he was on their trail on the ceiling. I would usually find him on one of my plants."

"I named him Mike, but still kept out of his way. One day, while I was doing the dishes, I felt something on my shoulder. Looking to see what it was, I spied Mike! I stood very still while he ambled down my arm to my hand. There he sat very peacefully, holding his front feet up as though praying."

"I began to talk to him, and said to myself, 'How could this little fellow hurt me?'"

"As the days went by, he became bolder, and so did I. I would hold my hand out and would call his name. He would fly to my hand, and then would take a stroll up my arm. Once he brought a little bug down from the ceiling, and do you know I think he was offering it to me!"

"I feel a little differently toward some insects now. Mike has somehow helped me to fear them less than I did."

"Thank you, Mrs. Harley, for your letter. Mike surely is a different kind of pest! May he long continue to be a welcome and useful member of your household!"

Garden City Sixth Graders Now Publishing Newspaper

The Herald has some new and stiff competition down Garden City way.

It is in the form of a brand new newspaper, the "Garden City Express," the product of the sixth grade pupils in the Garden City elementary school. Editorship will rotate, but Joe Melanle-Calverley started out in the chair with Doug Parker as assistant editor. The "Express" even has a circulation manager in the person of Jack Anbill, and a cartoonist, Joe Carter. Reporters are Kay Fathing and Betty Sue Garrett.

One thing about the "Express," it is not reprinted to school happenings. For instance the most recent issue detailed how Miss June Carpenter had become the bride of A-C Gerald Harsin in informal ceremonies at the East Fourth Street Baptist Church in Big Spring with the Rev. Maple Avery solemnizing the rites. Like good reporters, the youngsters told how she was given in marriage by her father, T. B. Carpenter, Dallas; was attended by Mrs. Dorothy Chaney; and how Glenn Pepper, Topeka, Kans., was the best man. Moreover, the "Express" carried an account of a shower given by Mrs. Arla Batliff and Mrs. W. E. Chaney in honor of Mrs. Harsin.

It also had an item about a fine raising at St. Lawrence on San Jacinto Day; of the talent show won by Sissy Cook and Greg Henderson in a duet with Joe Melanle-Calverley and Deanna Watkins coming up close in a field that included Rob. Childers, Eugene Davee, Roy Rogers and Mary Jo Cox. There was mention, too, of TWIRL week, an approaching circus, the Salspolo, racing schedule, a story about accidental wounding of Billy Blalock by a .22 bullet, a car mishap which injured Troy Cline on the Big Lake highway, a Boy Scout fishing trip and participation in the Round Up.

So you can see the competition is tough.

Every Man For Himself

When it came time for eating at the Round Up, it was every man for himself. Just like nearly 1,200 other Boy Scouts and Explorers, members of Troop No. 4 sponsored by the First Christian Church in Big Spring cooked their own meals. While the boys were busy with the round-up, Joe Dell Huggins, Johnny Ford and James Whitefield prepared to take advantage of the heat. Saturday everyone was treated to a barbecue dinner by Big Spring friends of Scouting.

Biggest Boy Scout, Explorer Round Up Ends 2-Day Activities

The biggest—and by many accounts the best—Boy Scout and Explorer Round Up on record here broke camp Saturday afternoon.

Upward of 1,500 people filled through lines to feast on barbecue, beans and all the trimmings to all-max the two-day event which drew 1,180 boys and an estimated 280 leaders. This was 200 more boys than had ever been registered for this event, the largest of the year for the Buffalo Trail Council.

In all there were 31 Explorer posts and 82 Scout troops registered from Big Spring, Fortson, No. 1, Sterling City, Stanton, Courtney, Tall, Ig, Gail, Greenwood, Gay Hill, Ector, Penwell, Andrews, Odessa, Wink, Pecos, Center, Point Midland, Andrews, Kermit, Balmorhea and Terrell.

Sam McComb, general chairman, heaped praise upon all committees and leaders who had helped plan, supervise and finally to feed the traditional barbecue.

Except for minor skinflings, horn punctures, cuts, etc. there were no casualties.

For a time Friday evening, it appeared that young campers and leaders were going to get the acid test. High winds buffeted the scores of tents and then a brisk shower peppered down. But the rain was over in a few minutes, hardly enough to hold the dust down until contests were over Saturday. Bob Eastus, Snyder, staff member in charge, said events moved off like clock work in most instances.

Many Big Spring parents and friends of Scouting turned out Friday evening for the big campfire program which proved a colorful event despite high winds.

Results of the Round Up were:

Cold War Takes On Air Of Respectability

WASHINGTON, April 30.—The cold war has come out of the trenches. It has become a war of maneuver, with peace itself being considered as a weapon.

Within one month the world may see the first pledge to roll back Soviet troops from the heart of Europe where they took up their forward positions there 19 years ago. Secretary of State Dillies is due to leave for Europe next Friday on a mission that may result in the completion of an Austrian peace treaty in the immediate future.

There is peace talk by Red China in the Far East and there are contacts with leaders of free world nations. President Eisenhower has exchanged letters with his World War II friend, Marshal Georgi Zhukov, Soviet defense minister.

Most of these events have burst upon a bewildered world in the last three weeks. They have caused much speculation as to their meaning and their future significance.

Some people wonder whether "basic" Communist policies are changing, and if so why. Some doubt any such change but think the world nevertheless is becoming an easier place to live in. Some insist that the whole thing is a grand delusion planned by the political magicians of Moscow to fool the world into thinking that Communists are no longer Red.

The causes and effects of what is happening will be debated for a long time. No one can certainly make any precise analysis or accurate prophecy now.

But there are pieces which fit into the pattern and which demonstrate that what has come to pass was unexpected and is not necessarily a sudden thing.

This evidence indicates that the great contest between the Communist world and the United States and its allies continues. The basic issues of survival are the same. But the techniques and to some extent the weapons are different.

Among the apparent causes of the changing times, two facts stand out.

1. When Joseph Stalin died on March 5, 1953, a paralysis of Soviet policies, foreign and domestic, came to an end. The new rulers were more realistic, imaginative and flexible men. Almost before Stalin's corpse was deposited in the mausoleum in Red Square, Georgi Malenkov, the new Premier, and others showed an ability to maneuver which Stalin had long since lost.

2. When, earlier this year, France and Germany concluded action on the agreements, which would rearm West Germany, the American-led system of alliances which has been building since 1947 to battle up Soviet power approached very close to completion.

A battle which the Soviets had fought for eight years was nearly lost to them.

Taken together, these two facts mean this: Today the rulers of Russia, led by Premier Nikolai Bulganin and displaying flexibility which Stalin lost, are faced with one of the great defeats of the cold war in the achievement of the German rearmament program.

Legislature Closes One Of Busiest Weeks Of Session

AUSTIN, April 30.— Taxes, courts, parks and veterans were main topics in the Legislature during the week just closing, one of the busiest weeks of the session.

The House finished the tax program and shoveled it over to Senators.

Both houses concerned themselves with courts, creating or extending district tribunals—an indication that for another session general judicial redistricting is out of the picture.

For West Texas, new courts for Midland and Lubbock were approved by both houses.

Both decided they would submit to voters a constitutional amendment which would call for another $100 million for the veterans' land program.

"Big news of the week upcoming should be made in the Senate as it begins work on the tax program."

The legislators might get word this week from the conference committee which has been rewriting the major appropriations bill which both houses passed earlier in different form. The conference report must go back to both houses for approval.

Here's the way West Texans voted on various measures during the week just ended:

LABOR — The House put its tentative approval on the "Ford bill" which would ban unemployment benefits for Texas workers "laid off by strikes," a bill handled by Rep. Joe Buckett. Voting for the bill as it passed to third reading were: Reps. Allison of Mineral Wells, Anderson of Midland, Armer of Sweetwater, Bishop of Winters, Briscoe of Uvalde, Burkett of Kerrville, Cloud of Rule, Cobb of Seminole, Kelly of Afton, Kirklin of Odessa, Patterson of Snyder, Slack of Pecos, Stromman of San Angelo and Thurmond of Del Rio. Voting no were Brashers of Cisco, Chambers of May and Latimer of Abilene.

Warnings Given In Juvenile Hearings

Two juvenile groups received warnings at the conclusion of separate hearings in County Court Saturday morning.

Seven teen-age boys from Coahoma, brought into court by Constable Odell Buchanan, were accused of breaking street lights, discharging fireworks in their school room, and cutting boats loose at Moss Creek Lake.

Two Big Spring youngsters, accused of taking scrap iron from a vacant lot in east Big Spring, also were given hearings. All were advised that any future violations would result in their being sent to the State School for Boys at Gatesville.

DO IT YOURSELF Barbecue Bar Cart For Outdoor Use

By BILL BAKER

More and more of my friends have been requesting designs for out-of-door furniture. And who can blame them? Summer is really just around the corner, and most of them will be spending lots of extra hours in the yard.

I've come up with a unique design for all of you who fall into this "more hours in the yard" class. It's a barbecue bar cart that is both handsome and useful.

I have made duplicates of this barbecue bar cart for many Hollywood stars. They have reported that they couldn't get along without it after enjoying it for a few weeks. I think you'll like it just as much.

I've made the design available in my pattern package No. 312. You can build your own copy now, easily and inexpensively.

It has the look and does the work of similar units which cost several hundred dollars. But as here's how you can get your barbecue bar cart pattern: send your name and address (very clearly printed), together with only one dollar and fifty cents ($1.50) to Bill Baker, Big Spring Herald, P. O. Box 1111, Los Angeles 33, California. Be sure to ask for pattern 112.

And here are other out-of-door patterns you can order: No. 114, Wheelbarrow Planter, Box, 50 cents; No. 123, Contour Lawn Chair, $1. Next week I'll tell you about an adjustable lawn chaise lounge.

I've said, your copy won't be expensive. A few dollars for materials and a week end or two in the workshop is your only investment requirement.

Beauty For Your Yard

This handsome barbecue bar cart is useful do-it-yourself project for your home. Bill Baker's easy-to-build design is put to the test here by motion picture and television actress Allene Coates.

Let me tell you more about the cart.

One large storage section, with drawers opening to both sides, gives ample room for holding bulky dishes. Here's your place for rolls, bottles, ice, potato salad or any other dish. Above this are two smaller areas, each with a pull-down door, for additional storage.

On top is a wide work area which becomes a serving table when you pull "Come and get it!"

And the cart also has storage cut-outs for glasses and shelf space for silver, napkins, dishes, and other equipment.

The addition of a push-rail and two wheels makes the cart portable. You, or a child, can move it from place to place in the yard. And when summer is over, this portable feature makes it possible to roll the cart to your winter storage area.

Another feature is the beauty of the cart. Your yard will look better when you roll your barbecue bar cart into a prominent place.

Like all patterns in this series, the package features exact-size heavy-weight pattern pieces duplicating each section of the cart. You'll only have to tack, trace and cut. You're assured a perfect, professional-looking job when the unit is finished.

Big Spring Reservoir To Be Completed This Week

Within a week, the 15-million-gallon earthen reservoir of the Colorado River Municipal Water District may be in use just north of Big Spring.

Except for the concrete curbing to anchor the plastic lining at the top, the reservoir is complete, said O. H. Ivis, production superintendent for CRMWD. When E. V. Spence, general manager, returns to town Monday, a decision will be reached whether to begin pumping water into the big bowl or wait until the curbing is installed.

The reservoir is an earthen bowl 35 feet deep and lined with asphaltic membrane for waterproofing. Water from Lake U. B. Thomas will be pumped into it, and the city then will draw its water out of the reservoir as needed. Presence of the supply will make city operators much more flexible.

Asphalt crews moved off the reservoir job Friday and were preparing to start work lining an almost identical reservoir four miles southwest of Snyder on Monday. Approximately two weeks will be required to finish this job.

Only about half a mile of 18-inch pipeline remains to be laid on the link connecting Lake U. B. Thomas with the Sharon Ridge repressuring project. Ivis estimated this would be completed by Tuesday.

When the Snyder-SAROC reservoir is completed and filled, the pump station will be shut down at the lake so that the Sharon Ridge pump can be tied in. This will require about 24 hours, but the reserve will be more than ample for the needs of Snyder and SAROC.

Fines Assessed In Traffic, Other Cases

Five fines were assessed and paid in Justice Court, Place 1, Friday and Saturday for charges made during the past two weeks.

The cases involved charges of drunkenness, improper brakes, speeding, no inspection sticker, and improper registration tags. Each of the fines was $15.50.

One man had a fine of $14.50 returned to him. He was charged and found guilty for improper passing in a motor vehicle on April 23. Further investigation indicated him not guilty, however, and the fine was refunded.

Twelve cases were filed in the Place 2 Justice Court during the week. All of them were for traffic violations. Justice Sullivan said fines totaling approximately $350 were levied during the week.

Rice Bill Signed

WASHINGTON, April 30 (AP)—President Eisenhower signed into law today a bill boosting this year's national rice acreage allotment about 5 per cent.

RICHARD DEATS

Richard Deats Is SMU Student Council President

Richard Deats of Big Spring has been elected president of the student council at Southern Methodist University and as such will figure in the inauguration of Dr. Willis Tate as president of the university.

His brother, Wesley Deats, who also is a student in Perkins School of Theology at SMU, was elected treasurer and member of the student council from Perkins.

They are the sons of Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Deats, 400 Virginia.

Richard will serve as aide-de-camp to Dr. Tate in his role as student council president and will take part in the inaugural parade as the president's aide.

He also was recently named as a knight of Cyren Flondr, an honorary men's fraternity. Both Richard and Wesley Deats are in their second year at Perkins, but Wesley will complete his work at mid-term next year.

Five Cases Charge Improper Use Of Farm License Tags

Korban Warner, special investigator for the Texas Highway Department, filed five cases in Justice Court, Place 2, Friday, charging improper use of farm registration tags.

The cases involve persons who purchased farm registration tags for vehicles not connected with farm work. In some cases the persons do not own or live on a farm, the officer charged.

Each of the persons charged will be notified in the next few days to appear in court. Justice A. M. Sullivan said. Investigator Warner will be back in Big Spring next week for more checks on local registrations.

Billy Graham Film Showing Set Here

Evangelist Billy Graham will be the star in "London Crusade" scheduled for Friday at the City Auditorium. The picture was filmed in England while Graham was on a three-month tour there.

The Bishop of Barking narrates the picture which is a portrayal of the events as they transpired. One scene is of the White City and Wembley stadium meetings where a total of 200,000 gathered for the closing rallies of the crusade.

No admission will be charged for the showing which starts at 7:30 p.m.

France, West Germany Hit Snag In Discussions

BONN, Germany, April 30 (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinet-Frahan are today in their attempt to settle outstanding differences before West German becomes a sovereign state next week.

After two days of meetings it was announced some points are still not cleared up. Adenauer said unsettled issues will be taken up in Paris next week.

Threatened possibility of a last-minute scramble before West Germany wins sovereignty, helps found the West European Union and joins NATO. All these acts are scheduled in a light series of diplomatic events beginning with the deposit of the documents ending the occupation by Britain and France on Thursday.

The trouble today appeared to be over the German-speaking Saar, long a sore spot along the French-German border. The West Germans reluctantly accepted an agreement to make the coal-rich area an autonomous European territory under the West European Union as the price of French agreement to German rearmament. The last details of putting this agreement into effect were being discussed today.

After a four-hour morning session Adenauer told newsmen: "It is not clear whether all points of the agenda can be settled."

The toughest problem was the future ownership of the huge Roerling steel plant in the Saar. It produces a million tons of steel a year. French Premier Edgar Faure has promised the National Assembly he will not deposit ratification instruments of the Paris rearmament treaties until the Roerling question is settled.

C Of C Week Observance To Feature Talks

The Chamber of Commerce will be the topic of speeches to be made by seven civic leaders here during the coming week.

The seven men—J. B. Wington, R. B. Reeder, Joe Pickle, Marvin Miller, R. H. Weaver, W. C. Blankenship, and Dr. W. A. Hunt—will discuss the local organization's activities in connection with Chamber of Commerce Week.

Chamber Week starts today and extends through Saturday. Observance of the week on a state-wide basis was urged in an official proclamation signed by Gov. Allan Shivers.

J. H. Greene, manager of the local Chamber, was in Austin at the time Shivers signed the proclamation. He was there in his capacity as Texas Chamber of Commerce Managers Association president.

The speeches represent the only formal program planned here during Chamber of Commerce Week. Pickle will be the speaker at Monday's meeting of the Chamber's board of directors, and Wington will talk at the Junior Chamber of Commerce meeting at noon Monday.

Tuesday, Reeder will speak at the Optimist Club meeting, and Miller will talk at the Rotary Club. Judge Weaver is the Lions Club speaker Wednesday. Blankenship is the Kiwanis Club speaker Thursday, and Dr. Hunt is the American Business Club speaker for Friday.

'Short' Starts Fire

A "short" in the wiring at the home of Leon P. Gonzales, 405 NW 6th, caused a small fire Friday evening. Firemen said damage was slight, however. The alarm sounded at 10:20 p.m.

James Suggs Gets Bid For FFA Post

James Suggs, Big Spring, was named an area II officer nominee at the last meeting of the El Rancho district of the Future Farmers of America in Odessa, Thursday.

He will compete with six other nominees over the 44-county area for the office of area president.

Ronnie Burk and Larry Nix were elected district entertainers to represent the district at the area meeting in Odessa on June 1-2-3.

Among those approved for the Lone Star Farmer degree were James Suggs, Big Spring, Malcolm Tunnell, Martin Springer, and Dayton Madison, all of Stanton; John Daniels and Eugene Davis, Coahoma; and Nat. McMillon, Coahoma. If they pass area and state checking, they will receive the highest award given in FFA work at the state level.

Strong Confidence Noted In Safety Of Salk Vaccine

WASHINGTON, April 30 (AP)—A strong feeling of confidence by the nation's state health officers in the safety of the Salk polio vaccine was evident today from a country-wide survey made by the Associated Press.

This faith in the effectiveness of the new medical weapon was widely expressed despite the current investigation of the product of one of six laboratories producing the vaccine.

A spokesman for the U. S. Public Health Service said there are also indications that "the American people as a whole have responded with great calmness and

Lamesa Radio Man Will Be Manager Of Olney C Of C

LAMESA — Robert M. (Bob) Curtin has resigned his post as news director of the local radio station to accept the position of manager of the Olney Chamber of Commerce.

Curtin is well known in chamber and radio circles having served as manager of the Tucumcari, N.M., and Dimmit Chambers of Commerce. He entered radio news service at KIXL in Dallas after returning from Naval service. Curtin also served in the news department of KLYN in Amarillo.

Curtin received his early education in Louisiana and Texas before entering Northeast State College in Mohr, La., where he majored in business administration and minored in speech.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Pat Curtin of Dallas. He is married to the former Jo Griffith of Lamesa. The couple has two children, Kevin, 4, and Kelly, 9 months.

Curtin will take over his new assignment in Olney, May 13.

Nehru To Send Aide To Spur Peace Talks

NEW DELHI, India, April 30 (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru is sending V. K. Krishna Menon, his chief foreign policy adviser, to Peiping in a few days to spur Formosa peace talks. Nehru announced today he is doing this at the request of Premier Chou En-lai of Red China.

Nehru disclosed the move in a report to Parliament on the Asian-African conference at Bandung, Indonesia, which ended last Sunday.

He and Menon, his most active lieutenant in the foreign affairs field for three years, have been working behind the scenes on Formosa. At Bandung, Chou offered to talk directly with the United States about Formosa. Chou, Nehru and Menon conferred on the Formosa question at Bandung, Nehru said today.

President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles earlier this week said direct talks might be arranged on a cease-fire in Formosa Strait. Britain and France said they welcomed that trend.

Announcing Menon's trip, a step that diplomats here said committed India, further, the Formosa situation than it has ever gone before, Nehru told parliament.

"We cannot speak for other governments and can only form our own impressions and act accordingly to our judgment of them."

"We have increasingly felt that efforts to bridge the gulf were imperative in view of the gravity of the crisis and the grim alternative that faces us if there are to be no negotiations."

"We feel and hope that patient and persistent endeavor may produce results or at least show the way toward them."

Nehru said India had known "for some time" that Chou wanted direct talks.

Pneumonia, Measles Are Prevalent Here

Seventy-eight cases of pneumonia and 75 cases of measles were reported here last week.

Local doctors listed a total of 246 communicable disease cases on their weekly report to the Big Spring-Howard County Health Unit. Measles and pneumonia accounted for more than half.

Other diseases listed included diarrhea, 16; chicken pox, 8; gastroenteritis, 2; gonorrhea, 1; hepatitis, 2; influenza, 3; mumps, 3; streptococcal, 6; syphilis, 1; scabies, 1; 24.9 trench mouth, 1; and whooping cough, 6.

BIG SPRING JAYCEES WIN 'JAKE' FOR FARM PROGRAM

"Make room for Jake," John Taylor wired Big Spring from San Antonio Friday, the coming home with the "Jake" trophy. Taylor is president of the Big Spring Junior Chamber of Commerce and was leader of the Big Spring delegation at the Jaycee convention in San Antonio.

"Jake" is the Jaycee equivalent of a movie "Oscar."

Big Spring Jaycees won the "Jake" with their agricultural program for 1954-55. The project was judged the best in the state for clubs in towns of 25,000 population or smaller.

Judging was principally on the basis of scrapbooks covering activities of the various clubs over the state. The Big Spring Jaycees won on their record as sponsor of the annual county-wide 4-H and FFA fat stock show, the annual pig show, and for support of adoption disaster resolution sent to Congress by farm leaders of drought-hit West Texas.

This was the first time local Jaycees had entered the state contest. As a result of the Texas victory, their record will be submitted at the national convention in Atlanta, Ga., where the local group will compete with other towns of the same population bracket. Big Spring Jaycees also will be in the running for a national "sweepstakes" embracing all Jaycee organizations.

The Big Spring scrapbook opens with a summary of the Jaycees' agricultural projects and is supported by news clippings from The Herald and Life magazine, letters from the county agent, a copy of the annual stock show program, and a record of show results.

With Taylor at the San Antonio convention from Big Spring were Mrs. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Andrews, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Ryan Jr., Bill Gray, Jack Buchanan and R. L. Helth.

Budget Hearing At Coahoma Set

COAHOMA — Hearing on the budget of the Coahoma Independent School District has been set for Monday at 7:30 p.m.

The board will meet in the office of superintendent H. B. Miller and the public is invited to attend.

Other school activities on tap this week include the senior class trip. There will be 24 members of the class making the trip to Mo Ranch near Kerrville under direction of Fred Salling and Gordon Kriebel, sponsors. They plan to leave Thursday.

Friday, the FFA boys, under direction of Wayne White, will take their annual fishing trip to the Cancho near Miles, spending the weekend there.

Advertising helped make the difference

"GET A HORSE"—that taunting cry aimed at early motorists—has disappeared from our American language. Today's auto makers produce more cars... and better cars with horses to spare under the hood.

But to mass produce millions of autos, manufacturers must be able to sell them by the millions. Only by advertising can a manufacturer talk to millions of people at one time.

ADVERTISING TELLS the story of new cars... and helps sell them. The more it sells, the more must be made—keeping the production lines and the jobs going. The result: better cars at prices more people can afford to pay. Advertising helped make the difference—in the car you drive, and in our American way of life.

Coffee Anyone?

The man casually reading his paper is dwarfed by the gigantic coffee pot display at the industrial fair in Milan. The cup and saucer complete the display. What appears to be coffee pouring from the pot—a model of an electrical pot—is a large metal rod that supports the pot. The fair is a yearly event at Milan.

Marine Unit Sets Deadline On Enlistment

Recruits for the local Marine Corps reserve unit must be enlisted before June 1 to participate in the summer camp activity this year. The reserves meet two Sundays a month for training and have about 25 men enlisted already. Fifty men is the limit and recruits expect to fill the unit in the near future.

The unit meets at Howard County Junior College and recruits are at the college to interview recruits on Mondays and Thursdays of each week.

The summer camp this year will be held June 13-25 at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot and Camp Matthews, both in California. Men attending the camp will undergo training very similar in content to that given regularly enlisted Marines.

In the first week at MCRD, the men will get training in combat swimming, chemical warfare, bayonet drill, the obstacle course, a night bivouac, and a full dress parade. At the end of the week will come pay day and liberty from Saturday noon until Monday morning. Liberty will be granted every night during the week except when a night problem is scheduled.

The second week, the recruits will have training at the Marine rifle range at Camp Matthews. They will fire the M1 rifle for "score" and also fire machine guns, BAR's, rifle grenades, bazookas, mortars, and heavy hand grenades.

Travel to California and back will be by plane, leaving and returning to San Angelo. Next Sunday will be the next drill meeting of the reserves. Interested persons should make it a point to be at HCCJ on that date.

$15 Seen As Top Salk Cost

Getting your youngster vaccinated to protect him from infantile paralysis isn't likely to cost you more than $15.

That will pay for the two basic injections of Salk polio vaccine, and also for a booster shot seven months or more later.

A nationwide survey by The Associated Press indicated today that $15 is about the maximum doctors expect to charge for the full series, including their fees and cost of vaccine.

In many cases, the charge will be less.

Many local medical societies across the country have recommended that the entire series be administered for $12 or $14 for each injection.

The vaccine is expected to cost doctors close to $1.50 a shot.

Presbyterian Youths Elect Big Springers

MIDLAND (AP) — Tom Henry, pastor of Big Spring, was elected to the presidency of the Presbyterian Youth Fellowship of the El Paso Presbytery at the organization's meeting here Friday and Saturday.

Ray Wilcox of Big Spring was elected treasurer and Dennis Jones, also Big Spring, was named chairman of the fellowship committee.

Ten representatives from the Presbyterian churches in Big Spring took part in the spring rally held at the First Presbyterian Church in Midland. On the program were Tom Henry and Glenn was Gary Tidwell.

Others attending were Benny Compton, Jimmy McCrary, Larry Jones, Anja Gardner, R. Gage Lloyd, together with Mrs. Lucian Jones and Mrs. Ottis Moore, advisors, and the Rev. Otis Moore, St. Paul Presbyterian pastor, and Dr. R. Gage Lloyd, First Presbyterian minister.

New Manager

Samuel M. Hardin, an Oklahoman, will be the new manager of the local Firestone store, Hardin has worked for Firestone about two and a half years in Dallas and will move his wife and two children here when school is out. He is a graduate of SMU. Hardin will begin duties here Monday. Former manager Jim Harter was promoted to territorial salesman for the firm with headquarters at Abilene.

C-C Directors To Face Varied Agenda At Monday Meeting

Plans will be discussed Monday at the Chamber of Commerce directors' meeting for the dedication of a National Guard Armory and for the observance of National Cotton Week.

Marvin Miller will preside at the noon meeting, and Joe Pickle will speak regarding Chamber of Commerce Week.

Discussions are expected on the Gall Goodwill Dinner slated Tuesday evening and on the soil conservation banquet scheduled Friday evening at the Settles Hotel.

Reports will be heard from the cleanup committee and the cotton disaster committee.

The program of work for the year will be discussed, as will an industrial foundation. The meeting is slated for the Chamber of Commerce conference room in the Permian Building.

Mrs. Terrell Of C-City Dies

COLORADO CITY — Mrs. R. E. Terrell, who was the oldest known graduate of Colorado High School, died Saturday morning while visiting her son, Paul Terrell, in Sweetwater.

She had left her Colorado City home for her son's residence early in the week after becoming ill.

Funeral service is to be at the First Baptist Church at 5:30 p.m. today, with the Rev. J. F. Selcraig officiating. Burial is to be in the Colorado City Cemetery under the direction of Kiker and Son.

Mrs. Terrell was the former Mary McGill. Not only was she the oldest known graduate of Colorado High School, having received her diploma in 1886, but she was also the oldest known member of the First Baptist Church, having joined May 18, 1890.

Mrs. Terrell was married in 1897, and her husband died in 1938. Survivors are to be Ed Mosser, W. W. Whipkey, Ed Major, Oscar Price, J. A. Sadler, Gus Chesney, Ralph Lee, Harry Ratliff, and Chester Thomas.

Mrs. Terrell is survived by her son, two daughters, Mrs. R. L. Perkins of San Antonio and Mrs. Victor Carlson of Chicago; five grandchildren; and four great-grandchildren.

Approximately 28 local painters attended a barbecue sponsored Friday evening by Shervin-Williams Company. C. A. Ross, company representative here, discussed the firm's new products at the gathering.

Larry Evans Piano Concert Scheduled

Larry Evans, 20-year-old Big Spring pianist, will give a concert in the City Auditorium, Thursday at 8 p.m. The concert is sponsored by Cosden Petroleum Corporation.

Evans is a student at North Texas State College in Denton and a senior this year. He plans to return to Big Spring after graduation to teach piano here. Big Springers will remember his performance last February. His program this year will repeat one of the numbers played then, "Pictures at an Exhibition," by Moussorgsky.

His other pieces will be Bach's "Prelude and Fugue in B Minor," Mozart's "Sonata in C Major," and Tchaikovsky's "Five Satellites." The concert will require about one and a half hours.

Evans has been playing piano since the age of nine. He was awarded a scholarship at NISC after winning a competition of 25 entries. His major, of course, is music. His other accomplishments include several achievement awards.

His concert last year, also sponsored by Cosden, drew an estimated crowd of 700 persons. A like number is expected this year. Admission is free.

Larry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Evans, 2410 Johnson.

Formosa Battle Kept Simmering

TAIPEI, Formosa, April 30 (AP) — Red shore guns and Nationalist planes kept the vast-pocket war going today in Formosa Strait while the Nationalists frowned on Washington and New Delhi moves toward a cease-fire.

Red guns on Amoy shelled Little Quemoy. Nationalist planes attacked Red ships in Amoy Bay. The Nationalists reacted coldly to Washington reports that U.S. Marines and jets might be based on Formosa. A qualified official said "had the move not been linked with a cease-fire, our reaction would have been one of unqualified endorsement."

12 Republicans Hail Truce Plan

WASHINGTON, April 30 (AP) — Twelve Senate members of the Eisenhower wing of the Republican party said today they support President Eisenhower's efforts for negotiation of a cease-fire with Communist China.

Two of them—Sen. H. Alexander Smith of New Jersey and Senator of Massachusetts—added in a supplemental statement that "it is most advisable, if possible, that such negotiations be carried on in collaboration with representatives of our ally, Nationalist China."

Therefore, I call upon all citizens of Big Spring to join in their quest for the observance of Music Week to the end that our people will know more and more to gain the full joy that comes from having music in their souls.

'Music Week' Is Proclaimed

Mayor G. W. Dabney has proclaimed this Music Week in Big Spring, pointing up a round of events which will include the HCCJ concert at 3 p.m. today in the college auditorium and a piano concert by Larry Evans Thursday in the city auditorium.

For years Music Week has been observed in Big Spring, said Mayor Dabney. "This persistence is paying off in a greater appreciation of music in our community."

"Music is one of those fine values which contributes much to the character of a community."

"A song or a tune can take the drudgery out of weary labors; a simple, sweet melody can soothe nerves drawn taut by a frenzied existence; an enduring creation of the composer can lift us up and inspire us."

"Therefore, I call upon all citizens of Big Spring to join in their quest for the observance of Music Week to the end that our people will know more and more to gain the full joy that comes from having music in their souls."

5 BASIC REASONS FOR PONTIAC'S RECORD-BREAKING SALES

1. PONTIAC COSTS LESS THAN ANY CAR EQUALLING ITS 200 HORSEPOWER

If you delight in flashing performance, here's all the reason you need to join the record-breaking thousands who are swinging to Pontiac. The 200 horsepower delivered by the economical Strato-Streak V-8 with the four-barrel carburetor, optional at low extra cost, is the highest power ever delivered by a car at Pontiac's price—higher than that of cars costing considerably more. For thrills and thrills it's Pontiac all the way!

2. PONTIAC COSTS LESS THAN ANY CAR EQUALLING ITS LONG WHEELBASE

Model for model, Pontiac has a longer wheelbase than any car at its price, or any car delivering 200 horsepower. 122" or 124", depending on the Pontiac you select. And that's important because a long wheelbase is the reason for Pontiac's smooth, road-leveling ride and the roomy comfort of Pontiac's large, luxurious bodies—advantages that put Pontiac on a level with costly cars for sheer riding pleasure.

CAN YOU SEE, STEER, STOP SAFELY? CHECK YOUR CAR—CHECK ACCIDENTS

3. PONTIAC COSTS LESS THAN ANY CAR EQUALLING ITS LUXURY-CAR STABILITY

The big, husky Pontiac with rugged X-member frame gives you the safe, solid feel at cruising speeds that motorists have formerly paid high prices to enjoy. And it links this road-holding comfort with ease of control like that of costly sport cars. You travel in superlative comfort in a Pontiac for the lowest price ever placed on such big-car stability.

4. PONTIAC'S DISTINCTIVE BEAUTY IS UNMATCHED AT ANY PRICE

Pontiac gives you style and beauty that are a perfect match for its colorful performance. Future-fashions lines, Vogue Two-Tone styling and Twin-Streaked hood provide dash and glamour unsurpassed by any other car at any price.

5. You can buy a big, powerful Pontiac for less than many models of the lowest-priced cars and much less than stripped economy models of higher-priced makes

Come in and let us fill you in on all the facts and figures. We know you'll be pleased to see how little it costs to enjoy the pride and pleasure of fine-car ownership!

U.S. Peace Dream Gets Hopeful Boost

WASHINGTON, April 30 (AP)—The enduring American dream of peace got a boost this week—enthusiastic, but hopeful—from the two Americans who should know most about what is going on.

Listen to what President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles had to say.

Eisenhower: "I will confess I have the feeling that things are on the upswing. You have a very difficult time proving anything either way. But I do say, I still have my feelings."

Dulles: "There may be, there almost certainly will be, disappointments and setbacks. But recent developments seem to give new ground for hope."

What inspired them to hesitant optimism?

Mainly it was Red China's proposal to talk things over about the Formosa question and Russia's expressed willingness to settle on independence for Austria.

Defense Rests In Phenix City Murder Trial

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 30 (AP)—Defense attorneys rested their case today after ex-Prosecutor Arch Ferrell dramatically denied killing vice Joe A. L. Patterson and disclaimed any knowledge of vice-opera gambling at Phenix City.

Taking the witness stand to claim his trial for murder, the stone-faced one-time political big shot disavowed any knowledge of the vice dens that Patterson had sworn to clean out if elected attorney general.

Patterson, a crippled former state senator, against the Democratic nomination for attorney general last June, but was shot to death outside his Phenix City law office 17 days later.

Ferrell and two other former public officials, ex-Chief Deputy Sheriff Albert Fuller and former Atty. Gen. St. Garrett, were indicted for first degree murder by the grand jury which had lashed out in an unprecedented vice cleanup at Phenix City after Patterson's death.

Fuller, tried last month was convicted and sentenced to life in prison.

Garrett, under treatment for a mental disorder in a Galveston, Tex., hospital, hadn't been tried.

Chiang Seen As Abiding By Truce

WASHINGTON, April 30 (AP)—The United States has received indications that Nationalist China will denounce but abide by any cease-fire agreement which this country may be able to negotiate with Red China for the Formosa Strait.

President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles are looking forward to further word on the Nationalist attitude toward ending the fighting.

When two of their aides report Monday on a flying mission to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's capital, Taipei.

Asst. Secretary of State Walter Robertson and Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, returned to the White House today from Peking.

Instead of coming to Washington, they flew to Robertson's home in Richmond for a weekend rest.

They will report here Monday.

Robertson was asked whether he obtained assurances from Chiang that Chiang would abide by a peace pact. He said that Chiang "made no such commitment."

But other officials in Washington said that as a result of various contacts with the Nationalists on the cease-fire problem, they were satisfied that Chiang would go along, regardless of how much he dislikes it.

Chiang has repeatedly made clear in public statements his opposition to the Nationalist's position on a cease-fire. His policy is to keep the war going and fight his way back to the mainland with American help.

However, the basic issue of whether he would abide by a truce agreement, regardless of how much he opposes it, was settled in December so far as the Eisenhower administration is concerned. At that time Chiang's foreign minister, George Yeh, signed an agreement with Dulles as the price of a defense treaty with the United States, that he would not attack Red China without American agreement.

Teen-Agers Found In Service Station

Two teen-agers were arrested last night inside Pope's Magnolia service station, 1001 West 3rd.

Police Chief E. W. York said the two boys, who are 15, had taken money from the cash register and were hiding behind floor furniture when officers arrived.

The youths told police last night that they are from Odessa. Both are Latin-Americans.

Police made the arrest about 10:15 p.m. following a report from a man in a nearby establishment that two people were entering the station.

A window was broken out for entry.

The boys had about $2 in change on them which York said had been in the register.

MEN IN SERVICE

Ralph W. Winterroad has returned to his post at Ft. Campbell, Ky., after a 14-day leave in Big Spring. After completion of his course of training, Winterroad received his paratrooper wings. He is scheduled for duty in Japan about the middle of July.

He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Winterroad, 805 Runkels.

Pvt. Roscoe T. Newell Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Newell, 501 Circle Dr., graduated with honors from the teaching methods course at the Army European Ordnance School at Fuesen, Germany. He is an instructor in the school's advanced technical division.

Newell attended East Texas Baptist College before entering the Army. His wife resides in Greenville.

Pfc. Louis G. Ramirez, son of Carlos Ramirez, Coahoma, is stationed in Korea where he is a radar operator in Battery C of the 1st Field Artillery Observation Battalion.

Ramirez is a graduate of Knott High School, and he entered the service in November, 1953. His basic training was at Ft. Bliss, and he arrived in the Far East in April, 1954.

Outlook Is Fair For Delayed Atomic Blast

SURVIVAL CITY, Nev., April 30 (AP)—The outlook was fair today for an atomic May Day at this little town of Yucca Flat.

The much-postponed civil defense test was set for 3:10 a.m. tomorrow, pending a weather briefing tonight.

Harrassed test officials said if the shot goes as now scheduled, they hope to follow up Monday with the 14th and final blast of the 1955 series in Nevada.

The second shot also would be from a 500-foot tower on Yucca Flat, about 10 miles from this capsule community. Officials said it would interfere with a tour of the test town planned for Monday.

"Forecast cloud conditions are somewhat marginal for the May Day shot, originally scheduled for last Tuesday, April 26. But southerly winds are predicted. That means radiation fallout probably would drop in sparsely populated areas due north of the 500-square-mile test site."

Ike Calls For Honest Attitude

WASHINGTON, April 30 (AP)—President Eisenhower said today men and nations should meet in the "Christian spirit and reach an answer that is for the good of all."

The President speaking extemporaneously at the laying of a cornerstone of a new AFL headquarters here, said:

"We shall never be rid of strife in this world—international and in some degree among ourselves so long as we are human and the millennium has not arrived."

"But the character of men and the character of nations will be determined by the method in which they meet to solve their differences. If we acknowledge that the difference is honestly agreed, then let us meet in what we like to term the Christian spirit and reach an answer that is for the good of all."

The President made no direct reference to the current trouble over the Formosa Strait. He told his news conference last week he supported Secretary of State Dulles' stand that the country will talk directly with the Chinese Communists on the Formosa dispute.

Tanned, and in good humor, he stopped down today and dined on a golden trowel full of mortar on the site of the new 8-story, three-million-dollar building less than two blocks from the White House. With him was Secretary of Labor Mitchell.

Buster Reed Paces Pro-Am With 70

WICHITA FALLS, Tex., April 30 (AP)—Buster Reed, former North Texas State College star, fired a one under par 70 today to take the individual lead at the halfway mark in the $5,000 Wichita Falls pro-amateur golf tournament.

Fred Hawkins of Paso ignited with amateur Cotton McBride of Wichita Falls to register a best ball score of 64 to move in front in the team race.

Hawkins had par 71 and McBride shot a 72.

Buddy Weaver, young Houston professional was tied for second with Hawkins and with partner Ed Hopkins of Abilene was deadlocked for fifth in team competition with Hawkins.

In Dallas, a Red Bull spokesman said Lovett was not a salaried employee but was an independent contractor who acted as the firm's commission agent at Livingston.

Greengrass Traded To Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, April 30 (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies and Cincinnati Redlegs swung a three-for-three straight player deal today and General Manager Roy Hamery said happily that in Jim Greengrass, the Phils got "the long-hitting outfielder we had to have."

With An Ear For A Holster

Pretty Marietta Nalley of Arlington, Va., poses with a unique earring, a shooting miniature of a .45 caliber Colt automatic pistol. Miss Nalley was handy when the photographer wanted to feature the working toy-like automatic—owned by Harry C. Knodes of Dallas, who has one of the world's largest collection of miniature guns. The earring pistol was displayed at the National Rifle Association exhibit in Washington.

What's The Excuse For New Fishermen

By DION HENDERSON
The Associated Press

"Maybe military life converted millions of Americans to hunting in their civilian life. But what's the new fisherman's excuse?"

Between them, the two sports have one out of every four U. S. residents spending serious money for outdoor fun.

However many have an active but economical interest in the outdoors—hikers, bird watchers and the folks who stand by with knife, fork and frying pan, awaiting the return of the hunter or fisherman.

More than 32,000,000 such cash customers bought hunting or fishing licenses last year. Millions enjoyed the hunting and fishing without license—kids, too young to need them, veterans old enough to get them free. Altogether, they made their sport a nine billion dollar industry in 1954, according to a National Wildlife Federation estimate. That's three times the 1945 estimate.

And something over the national budget figure for a pre-World War II year. And, as far as getting out of the house, it's a good thing.

Back in 1946, a national shooters organization made a survey of 5,000 combat Marines and learned that over 4,000 of them intended to do some shooting in civilian life. About 65 per cent specifically wanted to go hunting.

The fishing increase doesn't have such a ready explanation. More hunters go fishing than take part in any other sport. And they always have. Few fishermen will provide a civil, believable answer to any inquiry as to why they go fishing. To catch fish is an obvious, but probably unanswerable, as any fisherman's wife can testify.

Campers also are moved by obscure impulses, emanating at great hardship and considerable expense the man-against-a-tiger struggle their tribal ancestors worked so hard to leave behind. How many millions have taken up camping, up to and including family vacation projects, in the last 10 years?

And why? The only answer that fits all the phases of the outdoors boom seems weak to the statisticians.

It's fun, the folks say.

Texas' Famed Barbecue Gets World Acclaim

WASHINGTON, D.C.—The taste of Texas barbecue is being spread among the people of the Far East by Allen Bloodworth, 40, a Texan working as an agricultural advisor for the Foreign Operations Administration.

His recipe is contained by Rangdon International Cook Book, published in Burma by the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist English Church.

The preface says:

"Texas barbecues are old-fashioned affairs with out-of-door barbecue pit or grill, with grand proportions of everything since 'everybody' likes it."

Allen Bloodworth, from Mason, Texas, a former agricultural advisor to the Shan States, stages such parties for his Tagalog friends and neighbors.

"We give his entertaining account of how he achieves what his friends testify are superb results."

Then Bloodworth's recipe is quoted. It begins with this:

"First, you need meat, enough to go around for your guests. Then, charcoal, sauce and plenty of patience. (Talker about six hours.)"

He observed that he never makes "it like twice" because you "look around the kitchen and get some of anything not or liquid and mix it in the sauce."

"Now taste and add to or subtract until it is as you like it," he concludes. "Put on to cook, meanwhile looking about the kitchen to see if there is anything else on the shelves which will add to its flavor."

"Caution: Don't have your fire too hot. A slow, even heat is what you want. This is the Texas formula. I never cook by recipe, but by taste."

Allen Bloodworth, a graduate of Texas A.M.

Time Vital Factor In Rearing Reich

BY GEORGE BOLDWORTH
BONN, Germany (AP)—German and Allied military experts calculate it will take at least three years to make West Germany armed forces ready for combat.

Some German sources think that, for political reasons, it may take until 1960.

The three main factors affecting the speed of rearmament are:

1. The Germans have to start from scratch to create modern forges for the atom age. There's a serious shortage of qualified young officers and non-coms.

2. A mass of legislation is required to legalize the raising of armed forces.

3. The public is so reluctant to rearm that it will be politically impossible to put too much steam behind the drive until all possibility of a settlement with Russia has clearly disappeared.

The top limit for the West German forces is 500,000 men. They will be divided into 350,000 soldiers in 12 divisions, 85,000 airmen in a 1,300-plane tactical air force and 65,000 sailors in a small coastal navy.

At least nine major laws will be necessary to implement the Paris treaties in Germany.

The first will be a "volunteer law" to establish a 150,000-man cadre for the armed forces. A conscription law will be needed to enable 350,000 men to be called up for 18 months training and then kept on reserve.

A new democratic military code is to replace the strict Prussian-style regulations of the past.

Powers to requisition land and property and raise funds for military purposes must be granted by Parliament.

Parliament must decide the question of who is to be commander in chief, who is to be in charge of the army, who is to be in charge of the navy, who is to be in charge of the air force, who is to be in charge of the coast guard, who is to be in charge of the military police, who is to be in charge of the military courts, who is to be in charge of the military chaplains, who is to be in charge of the Local Pilots Get Fair Flying Week

Hamilton Field was bustling most of the week with local pilots. Nine transients passed through and set down for gas or other needs. Local pilots took the opportunity between bad weather to get their planes off the ground and in the air for a few hours. There were few long range flights, however. Several new planes were bought by new owners and a flying club made another purchase.

The Blue Angels Flying Club, composed of Webb AFB men, bought another plane for their members. The club purchased the Luscombe of J. R. Smith, a picture of which was in this column last week. Plans had been to admit 10 more new members when another plane was purchased. However, the deal was completed only Saturday and more definite plans are still in the formative phase. Smith sold the red and white Luscombe to Lone Star Motor Company who in turn sold it to the club.

This gave the Webb-men two Luscombes for training new civilian pilots.

Ben Funk traded off his two Cessnas. He had a 170 and a 140. His 170 was swapped for a three-place Piper Super Cruiser and the 140 went for a one-place Mooney Mite.

The Mite is built at Kerrville and Funk says it is purportedly a good plane. He hasn't flown the little craft around yet. It will cruise at about 115 miles per hour with its 65-horsepower motor, Funk added.

Thomas Benton carried a friend of his to Bath Rouge Friday to attend a wedding. Benton flies a Cessna. The friend was to be "best man" at the wedding and with Benton flying, he will probably make it there and back safe enough.

Clyde Thomas Sr. kept his Piper hopping most of the week. He left Tuesday for Dallas, then went on to Austin, San Antonio, back to Austin, Dallas, and finally here to Big Spring Thursday. Friday, he was off again.

Goodwill Dinner Tickets Available

A number of tickets to the Gail goodwill dinner this Tuesday night are still available, according to J. H. Greene, Chamber of Commerce manager.

It is hoped that 100 local businessmen will attend the dinner, which will be held in the Gail School gymnasium. Approximately 100 from Borden County are expected to be present.

Arrangements for the dinner have been completed, said Jim Fryar, chairman of the rural relations committee. The Gail PTA and Home Demonstration Club will prepare the meal.

Tickets are $1.50 each and can be obtained at the Chamber office.

10 Homes Planned On Birdwell Lane

The Hillcrest Terrace of Big Spring Inc. filed for permits Saturday at City Hall to construct 10 houses on Birdwell Lane. They will cost $114,000.

The houses, all five room and bath with garage and storage room, are to be in the 300, 400 and 500 blocks. They vary in value from $10,000 to $12,000 each.

Burglary Reported

Clarence Shaw, operator of Shaw's Place on Northwest Fourth, reported a burglary Friday afternoon. He told officers that about $7 was taken from the establishment when the attendant closed up for a few minutes. Entry was made through the rear door, he said.

Big Spring Visitors

This Aero Commander and Piper Twin Apache are two of nine transients landing at Hamilton Field during the week. The strange looking Commander is owned by Humble Oil and Refining Company of Houston. It has two 285-horsepower engines and cruises at 200 miles per hour. The craft carries six persons. The Twin Apache in the background cruises at about 175 miles per hour with its two 150-horsepower engines. It carries four. Owner of the sleek craft is Aylesworth Aviation Company of San Antonio.

Awards Presented To Band Members

A number of awards were presented to members of the Big Spring High School Band at a Friday evening banquet in the Settles Hotel.

Approximately 120 people attended the affair, which was sponsored by the Band Boosters' Club. Dr. Lee O. Rogers acted as master of ceremonies, and Dr. Jordan Grooms presented the invocation. Fifteen high school seniors were presented honorable discharges from the band by School Principal Roy Worley. Clyde Rowe, director, was given a pen and pencil set by band members.

The new 1955-56 officers were announced. The slate is to be headed by Norman Gound, captain.

Others include Marlene Mann, secretary-treasurer; J. T. Baird, librarian; J. C. Preve, property manager; Leon Byrd, editor; Don Cook, drum major; and Kenda McGibson, queen.

Harris Wood received the Agion award for being the year's outstanding bandman. Along with the award went the J. C. Douglas Jr. scholarship of $100 to Texas Tech.

Other awards were announced for Joe Dawes, best all-around bandman; Patsy Rogers most progress on instrument; Howard Sheats, best drilled bandman; Billy Evans, outstanding musician; and Bill Bradley and Don Lovelace, loyalty.

Bradley and Lovelace made all rehearsals and scheduled events during the year. Sheats took the best drilled award for the second time running.

First division medals and ensemble awards won at the last contest were distributed also. Mrs. A. M. Bradley was in charge of banquet arrangements, and Mrs. Mary Rogers is president of the boosters' club.

United Industries Directors Appraise Life Investment

Approval of investment in two insurance companies was voted by directors of the United Industries Life Insurance Company at a board meeting at the Settles Hotel Friday night.

The UIU, formed for the purpose of underwriting the United Industries Life Insurance Company as well as for investment in other insurance concerns, will go into a new, intensive stock sales campaign. Officers agreed to increase capitalization in the insurance company, planned as a Big Spring firm. Charter for the life concern has been approved, and the organizational set-up soon will be submitted for state approval, it was announced.

Directors approved an investment of $252,000 in the Gail Industries Life and the Western Indemnity Life. There were 18 present for the meeting.

$100 Fine Levied In Prostitution Case

A Negro woman was fined $100 Saturday in City Court after being found guilty on a charge of vagrancy by prostitution.

Acting Judge Groves Cunningham Jr. assessed the fine after a white man testified against the woman. The man said she "rolled" him of $10.

The woman had been transferred to county authorities Saturday afternoon on recommendation that her charge be filed against her. She was arrested by police Friday night following complaint of the man.

Aid For Victims Of Cerebral Palsy Asked

A final appeal for support of efforts to aid cerebral palsy victims was made Saturday by Gibby Morehead.

He urged that contributions be sent to the National Cerebral Palsy Foundation, located in 6200 North Van in the First National Bank by Tuesday.

Allied Vans is conducting a campaign in behalf of the national foundation across the country. All contributions dropped in the miniature van will be sent to the national foundation for aid and for use in research.

Mansfield-Fort Roping Match To Draw Big Crowd

Advanced indications are that the matched roping event which will pit two past masters with a lariat against each other will draw a big crowd here Friday.

Toots Mansfield, Big Spring, seven times world champion calf roping, will tangle with Troy Fort, Lovington, N. M., three times world champion. Match time is at 8 p.m. in the big rodeo bowl west of town.

Sponsoring the contest is the Howard County Roping Club. Mansfield and Fort each will rope and tie 40 calves. The club has purchased some Hereford stock for the match, and this might prove something of an equalizer if any were needed in the first place. Mansfield is a rugged roper who can manhandle even big Brahmas calves if they give trouble. His staying power has put the pressure on the opposition in many a match.

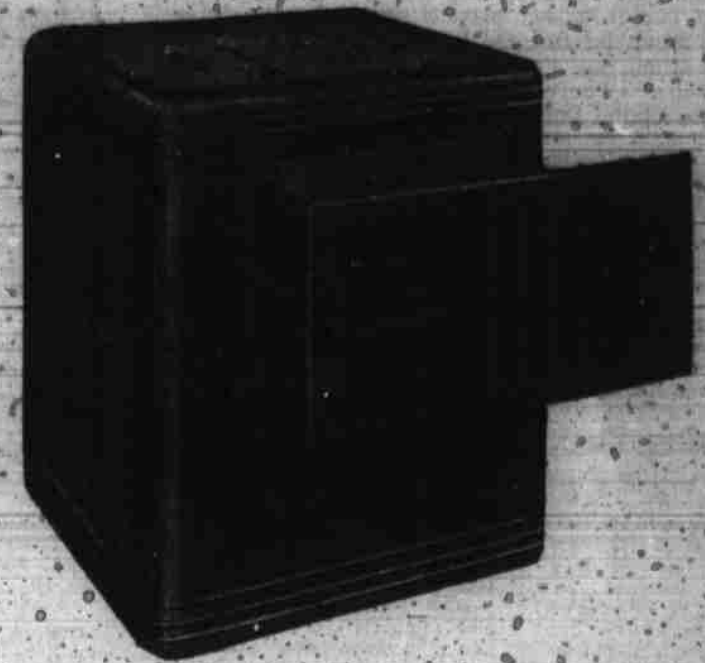

Fort is lighter and may be inclined for a quicker try, although he could hardly be termed a gambler on the ranch track because he seldom misses. He throws a tight loop in contrast to Mansfield's slosher.

Tickets will be sold only at the gate and there are no reserved seats because club officials pointed out, every seat in the bowl is a good one.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Probably the smallest player in the history of the Longhorn League is Big Spring's Bob Kennamer, who covers the short field like a blanket. . . . Bob weighs in the neighborhood of 130 pounds but he plays with all the authority of a Marty Marion or a Scooter Rizzuto and he's got local patrons believing he can jump higher than his head. . . . Against Roswell in a recent series here, Bob leaped so far off the ground to spear a line drive, he almost needed a parachute to get down. . . . Kennamer didn't take a fancy to baseball overnight. . . . He's been trained for the sport almost from the cradle by his father, himself a well-known sandlot player around Dallas. . . . Bob also played football (he was a halfback) on the Adamson High School team in Dallas and was one of two Adamson players signed by the Philadelphia Phillies when he finished his high school eligibility there. . . . The other was Fred Hodge, a third sacker, who was sent to Carlsbad, where he was converted into a short stop. . . . In high school, Bobby hit 300 his junior year. His last year in school, his average dropped to about 250 but he more than made up for it with expert fielding. . . . Kennamer got out of high school as recently as 1953 but he's been playing baseball a long time. . . . Started out in Little League ball and went from there to American Legion play before reporting to the Adamson team. . . . He boasts the paise of a veteran because he's been at it a long time. . . . Vic Jameson, the Hobbs scribe, suggests his Little League team be dubbed the Benders because they play their home games in Bender Park. . . . Two, Yr says he may not be able to resist the temptation to refer to Pat Stacey as Casey Stacey. . . . Conchoma will probably field the best-dressed team in the Coahoma Softball League this year. . . . A business concern there (field and Anderson) furnished the money for the togery.

Pressley Going Back To Jal, N. M.

A paid adult turnout of 824 saw Hobbs' first home game this season, along with 134 children. . . . A total of 3,420 paying customers saw the Big Spring club in its first five home dates, for an average of 684 a game. . . . Eugene Walker, the fine all-around athlete who moved from here to Pecos after baseball season ended, is pitching winning baseball for the Pecos High School team. . . . He was a star in the Pony League here last summer. . . . Wayne Crawford, the former Roswell catcher-outfielder, recently was sent to Albany of the Eastern League by Charlotte of the Tri-State Circuit. . . . Julian Pressley, the Odessa High School diamond coach and former Longhorn League outfielder, will probably manage the Jal, N.M., semi-pro nine again this season. . . . One of his pitchers will be Preston Carpenter, the great Arkansas footballer who, says Julian, can throw as hard as anyone he's ever seen. . . . Pressley loses only three boys off this year's Odessa team but says he will be weak in pitching next year. . . . His best hurler this year, Ray Stoker, wouldn't take the mound, Pressley lamented, because he wanted to play regularly. . . . Harold Lewis, a back who starred against the Big Spring footballers two seasons ago, is Baylound. . . . He's also a fine track man. . . . Jack Russell, one of the Southwest Conference's all-time great ends (he was at Baylor), visited here earlier in the week to chat with Frosty Robinson. . . . Russell, who later starred in pro football, is now a coaching aide and scout at his alma mater. . . . He was on hand when Frosty dubbed that home fun which helped beat Odessa here Tuesday. . . . Snyder High School is losing not only C. L. Storg but Roy Carter, as well from its coaching staff. . . . Carter is going to Dalhart as head coach at a starting salary of $4,800 a year. . . . Marshall Epperson, peer of the left-handed hurlers in the Longhorn League a couple of seasons ago, is now with Lubbock of the W-T-N-M League. . . . Epperson spent the 1954 season with Vidalia of the California League, where he won nine and lost eight. . . . Bill Frank, the Longhorn League umpire, has the most elaborate dressing room of any arbiter in the circuit when he works here. . . . He dresses in his own home, which is why a few of his fans at Storg Park.

Tornado Gridders Looking Great

In Jan. Lauderhill, the Big Spring High School Gridders have one of the two on three best looking prospects ever to come up here. . . . Only a freshman, Joe weighs around 200 pounds and stands 6-foot-5. . . . He's got fine coordination for his age could be playing regularly by next fall. . . . He's an end. . . . Jim O'Brien, down from Lamesa, says the track season did wonders for the Lamesa gridders this year and the Tornadoes could be tough next fall. . . . They're showing speed and power in spring drills, he adds. . . . Arleta of the Longhorn League expects to get Ruben Smart, now with Wilkes-Barre of the Eastern League, back before long but where they'll play him is another matter, what with Joe Costia holding that the short field position for the Nuximers. . . . Manager Tom Jordan is also desperate for pitching help. . . . He had a chance to get back Jim Thurston until he pitched two splendid games in the Texas League recently. . . . One reason you won't be hearing of many prospects actually being sent to Longhorn League Procy Peck Cunningham. . . . The club entering the protest must also forward $25, which is forfeited in event the protest doesn't stand. . . . No many baseball fans understand that baseball's "infield fly rule" doesn't apply when a player bunts and pokes up. . . . Snyder High School is losing not only C. L. Storg but Roy Carter, as well from its coaching staff. . . . Carter is going to Dalhart as head coach at a starting salary of $4,800 a year. . . . Marshall Epperson, peer of the left-handed hurlers in the Longhorn League a couple of seasons ago, is now with Lubbock of the W-T-N-M League. . . . Epperson spent the 1954 season with Vidalia of the California League, where he won nine and lost eight. . . . Bill Frank, the Longhorn League umpire, has the most elaborate dressing room of any arbiter in the circuit when he works here. . . . He dresses in his own home, which is why a few of his fans at Storg Park.

NCAA Policies Interpreted

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
NEW YORK, April 30.—Five colleges were slapped down in varying degrees by the policy-making council of the National Collegiate A. A. this week, bringing to 23 the number of institutions that have been disciplined since the NCAA entered the enforcement business three years ago. . . . The action is placing the University of Cincinnati on probation and reprimanding Dartmouth, Bethune-Cookman and Virginia Union. . . . The left most fans wondering what it's all about. . . . Why, they asked, is one college put on probation and declared ineligible for bowl games, another given an apparently harmless period of probation and still another let off with a reprimand? . . . Still another question is why certain institutions have been given out for punishment when its generally believed that "everybody" is doing the same thing? Undoubtedly other colleges have broken the rules in one way or another, at least avoided them. . . . The answer to the first question, as given by Walter Byers, NCAA executive director, is that the council tries to make the punishment fit the crime and to apply it to the sport in which the violations were committed. . . . Although Oklahoma's President George H. Cross, has defended the university's practices and argued that the light punishment vindicated the Sooners, the NCAA council's action actually is stronger than it appears. . . . It's only the second two-year probation ever meted out. The other was laid on Virginia State of Temple two years ago and lifted when the college got in line with NCAA rules. And it's an ultimatum to Oklahoma to change its flabby, or else. . . . In the event such action is not taken, I feel certain the council would recommend expulsion to the association's annual meeting. . . . NCAA President Clarence "Pop" Houston. . . . Expulsion would make it impossible for Oklahoma to compete against any NCAA members or even to retain its membership in the Big Seven Conference. As it now stands, Oklahoma still can play in the Orange Bowl football game if it wins the Big Seven title and can compete in NCAA championships.

Seven-Up Builds Lead In Circuit

Seven-Up Bottling Company has assumed a seven-game lead in women's Bowling League standings. . . . The Bottlers put more daylight between them and the rest of the field by swamping the second place team, Pinkie's, last week, 3-0. . . . In the other main Jax Beer upset third place Dibsall's 2-1. . . . Seven-Up led team scoring with 606-4573. Jax Beer was second, with 610-1686. . . . Jessie Pearl Watson of Seven-Up paced individual point-getting with 208-206-571. Elizabeth Burrill of Jax was runner-up in aggregate scoring, with 500. . . . Standings: . . . Team: . . . Seven-Up 20 13 253 . . . Pinkie's 22 20 238 . . . Dibsall's 21 21 300 . . . Jax Beer 12 20 373

Racing Eyes Glued To Derby Saturday

By JOHN CHANDLER
LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 30 (AP)—The richest, and what promises to be one of the most exciting, of all Kentucky Derbies will be held under the twin spires of ancient Churchill Downs next Saturday. . . . Most of the experts, excepting the followers of the California invader, Swaps, fully expect a duel to the wire between the old rival, Nashua and Summer Tan. . . . This will be the first running of America's most colorful horse race a mile and one-quarter battle of the best 3-year-olds in the land, with Derby glory, a gold cup and a guaranteed $100,000 awaiting the winner. . . . Guessing on the size of the field ranged anywhere from around eight starters, to a dozen, depending on how many owners feel free enough with the pocket-book to put up the $1,500 starting fee.

MEET ZUMA, PEREZ Detton Brothers Team Up Tuesday

The Detton brothers, of Amarillo, Dory and Gene, propose to demonstrate the fine art of tag team wrestling at the Big Spring arena Tuesday night when they meet the Mighty Zuma of Argentina and Turo Perez in the main event. . . . Dory Detton, former world's light heavyweight champion and one of the most capable wrestlers ever to work in this section, comes out of semi-retirement on rare occasions to show the "kids" a few tricks they might have overlooked. Detton is director of Southwest States Enterprises, the agency which provides wrestling talent for mat centers in Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma, and that work keeps him too busy to engage actively in the wrestling wars. . . . Although he seldom appears as a competitor, Dory keeps in tip-top condition, maintains a steady weight, by working out with wrestlers regularly and otherwise keeping in keen physical trim. . . . Fans who have seen Zuma, the South American whirlwind, in action, consistently want to see him again. His presentation of acrobatic and aerial fighting is popular everywhere. . . . Rey Urbano, another chunky former football star at University of Southern California, a full-blooded Filipino from Manila, comes a back to wrestle handsome Jim LaRock of Ithaca, New York, in the semi-final. This is for two best falls of three or 45 minutes. . . . Unless somebody sets off a spark, this should be a lively but clean match, with a lot of scientific and fundamental wrestling involved. . . . LaRock led the U. S. Olympic wrestling team in the 1952 Olympics after winning the American amateur crown.

Tremel Is Going To Armed Forces
ODESSA, April 30 (SC)—The Odessa Eagles of the Longhorn League gained one player and lost another recently. . . . Pitcher James Tremel, a limited service player, returned to his home in Pennsylvania before going into the military service. He was sent here originally by Shreveport on option. . . . Bryan Hanes, a first sacker, recently was purchased from Dallas through Artesia. He will contest Jim Bello for the first base job.

AFTER ONE WEEK Grid Coaches Sing Praises On Attitude Of Footballers

By TOMMY HART
Two things become obvious to the sideline observer after the first week of football workouts in the Big Spring High School spring camp. (1) The 4855 Steers have a long way to go and (2) the entire club has the incentive to get there. . . . A team that loses 22 lettermen from one season to the next and 44 veterans over a period of two years understandably may find it hard to find suitable replacements. . . . But, judging from the attitude the boys have shown in camp to date, the 1955 club is dead set on taking up where the previous two clubs—co-champions both years—left off. . . . Coach Carl Coleman said Saturday that the team's attitude displays a greater desire to master the art of playing football. . . . "If they keep it, we can't help but make the opposition sit up and take notice," Coleman said. . . . The boys choose sides for a Monday afternoon intra-squad game, first of several to be played this spring. The engagement was to have been Friday but was moved back due to a death in the family of one of the players. Starting time is about 4 o'clock. . . . Here are the strengths and weaknesses of some of the players, as seen by this writer: . . . QUARTERBACK—Charles Johnson will in all probability be the No. 1 player here. He handles the ball well as the "man under." He's good on both short and long passes and he's cool, his good instincts seem to be a lack of speed. Starters time is about 4 o'clock. . . . He Made It Easily

Frank Billings, Big Spring outfielder, easily beat the throw to third base in the above action in a recent game with Artesia at Steer Park. Just to make sure, though, he hit the dirt. The NuMexer infielder is Jim Bawcom. The ball can be seen in flight.

Zapp's Homer Does It For Big Spring

ARTESIA, N. M., April 30 (SC)—Jim Zapp's second home run of the year, his fourth hit of the game, gave the Big Spring Cossens Cops an 8-7 victory over the Artesia NuMexers here Saturday night. A crowd of 300 looked on.

Big Spring was down by a score of 7-1 at one time but kept fighting back.

Dario Jimenez and Kossie Hill divided time on the mound for Big Spring, with the latter getting credit for the win, his first of the year.

Nap Daniels and Ken Foster followed on the rubber for Artesia. The loss was hung on the latter.

Zapp, on a sensational hitting streak lately, hit his four-master with two men out. Frank Billings and Tom Costello had fled out.

Hill put Artesia down in the last half of the ninth. Charles Watts ended the game by flying deep to center.

Bob McNeal, who beat the Cops earlier, will seek his third win of the year tonight for Artesia. Either Aggie Baca or Artie Diciccare may pitch for Big Spring.

The Odessa Tex., 25-year-old who soared to a first-round 77 and bounced back with a 67 yesterday, followed with a 74 today for a 54-hole total of 218.

Once again ignoring a blizzard of wind that sent most of the other scores flying and "the" professional, the young Palm Springs Country Club course put 30-32 in 35-35-68, for a three-quarter score of 208.

The ex-National Amateur champion thus goes into the final round far in front of his closest challenger, Billy Maxwell, the com-

Jimenez made his first start against Artesia and was impressive, despite a lack of work.

Jimenez was with Carlisle in 1954, where he won 43 and lost 11 games. He appeared in 41 games and wound up with a 5.12 earned run average.

In 1953, Jimenez won seven and lost three for Odessa and led the league in ERA's with 2.69.

Phils Rapped By Milwaukee

PHILADELPHIA, April 30 (AP)—Johnny Logan was the big man with the bat today as the Milwaukee Braves rapped the Philadelphia Phillies 4-2 before 7,739 to climb back into second place in the National League.

Logan hit his third homer of the season for the first run in the fourth inning; he doubled on the sixth to drive across run No. 2 and scored No. 3 a moment later on Danny O'Connell's single.

Chet Nichols, the starting Milwaukee pitcher, needed relief from Hubert Robinson in the seventh but was credited with his second win of the season, against no losses.

Brooklyn collected only seven hits off three Chicago hurlers but three of them were home runs by Gil Hodges, Duke Snider and Jackie Robinson. The homers by Hodges, his first of the year, and Snider, his fifth, came off starter pitcher Sam Jones.

Robinson, who drove in three runs during the afternoon, hammered his homer in the seventh with Campanella on base. Hit off rookie Dave Hillman, it proved to be the winning run.

Chicago threw a scare into Meyer in the ninth, scoring three runs on a walk to Jackson, doubles by "Lefty" Baumgartner and pinch hitter Bob Speake and Roy Campanella's wild throw.

New York Giants Begun By St. Louis Cards, 6-2

NEW YORK, April 30 (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals combined time hitting with sparkling relief pitching by southpaw Paul LaPalme today to defeat the New York Giants 6-2 and regain their place in the National League.

LaPalme took over after starter Brooks Lawrence had yielded a run in the opening inning and loaded the bases with nobody out in the second. LaPalme permitted one run to score on an infield out but then shut the door in the Giants' faces the rest of the way, to notch his first victory of the year.

Don Liddle, who started for the Cardinals, was charged with the defeat, giving up the first three Cardinals runs before retiring in the fourth for a pinch hitter. All three runs came as a result of home runs; Stan Musial and Rip Repulisti hit back-to-back homers in the third to tie the score at 2-2 and Del Rice put the Redbirds in front with his first four-bagger of the year in the fourth.

The Cards hit safely in every inning. Most of the damage was done by their three outfielders: Bill Virdon, Wally Moon and Repulisti—who collected eight of the Cardinals' dozen hits. Virdon and Moon rapped three hits apiece and Repulisti drove in a pair of runs with a single and his third home run of the season.

Most of the damage was done by their three outfielders: Bill Virdon, Wally Moon and Repulisti—who collected eight of the Cardinals' dozen hits. Virdon and Moon rapped three hits apiece and Repulisti drove in a pair of runs with a single and his third home run of the season.

Drilling Rate Up For Basin

More rotary rigs were in operation in the Permian Basin on April 25th than at any other time during this or last year, according to a Reed Roller Bit Company survey.

There were 542 active rigs reported on that date. This is an increase of 13 over the 527 reported on April 10. There were 501 active rigs on April 23, a year ago.

Andrews County was the Basin leader, with 80 rigs, and second place was Lee County, N. M., which had 75.

A breakdown on the various counties follows: Andrews, 80 (83); Borden, 5 (4); Cockerill, 1 (3); Coke, 28 (27); Chavez, 20 (13); Crane, 30 (24); Crockett, 5 (4); Dawson, 8 (4); Dickens, 1 (6); Ector, 36 (34); Eddy, 3 (6); Gaines, 35 (32); Garza, 11 (12); Glasscock, 3 (4); Hockley, 7 (2); Howard, 13 (18); J. J. J. (1); Kent, 1 (6); Lea, 25 (20); Loving, 4 (3); Martin, 1 (1); Midland, 23 (27); Mitchell, 10 (5); Nolan, west, 10 (13); Otero, 1.

Reeves, 5 (4); Southwest Runnels, 1; Sutton, 2; Scurry, 12 (9); Schleicher, 7 (6); Sterling, 2 (4); Tom Green, 10 (10); Terry, 16 (16); Val Verde, 3 (3); Upton, 12 (12); Ward, 6 (8); Winkler, 5 (6); Yoakum, 17 (18); and Spraberry, 16 (14).

DALLAS — A total of 2,731 rigs were active in oilfields of the United States and Canada for the week of April 23, 1955, according to a report to American Association of Oilwell-Drilling Contractors by Hughes Tool Company. This compares with 2,733 reported a week ago, 2,632 a month ago, and with 2,761 in the comparable week of 1954.

Continental Finals Well In Howard-Glasscock Pool

Continental Oil Company finished its No. 38 W. R. Settles in the Howard-Glasscock field of Howard County for a 24-hour potential of 122 barrels of oil.

Tests are slated on another venture in the field, and operations are under way on three others.

The No. 38 Settles was completed from perforations opposite the San Andres between 2,328 and 2,392 feet. There was no water, and the gas-oil ratio was 11. Gravity of oil is 32 degrees. Pay zone was treated with 3,000 gallons of acid.

Driftation is 2,688 feet. Water depth is 2,535 feet. The 5 1/2-inch casing is 2,511 feet, and pay-top is 2,010 feet. Location is 1,980 from north and 2,580 from east lines, 132-29 W&NW survey.

Cosden No. 7-C Roberts is the project on which tests will be made. Zone to be sampled is from 1,803 to 1,814 feet. Total depth is 1,844; where the 5 1/2-inch casing is bottomed.

The Cosden project is about a mile and a half east of Forsan. Driftation is 2,311 from south and 2,515 from east lines, 128-28 W&NW survey.

Continental No. 18-S-133 Settles, four miles west of Forsan, is reportedly drilling at 1,750 feet. The Howard-Glasscock try is 1,650 from south and 2,350 from east lines, 133-29 W&NW survey.

Continental No. 36 Settles, still another venture four miles west of Forsan, has hit turning at 2,365 feet. Location is 330 from south and 1,450 from west lines, 113-29 W&NW survey.

Say H. Lloyd No. 1 L. W. Longshore, 330 from south and 1,650 from east lines, 41-32-25 T&P survey, is moving in materials prior to "spudding."

Snyder South Edge Well To Complete

A completion attempt is slated early this week at A. K. Turner's No. 3 O'Daniel, venture on the south edge of the Snyder field about nine miles southeast of Choptank.

Two other field projects were being fractured Saturday, and three others were being drilled at various depths.

Turner's No. 1 O'Daniel has total depth of 2,743 feet and the 5 1/2-inch casing is set at 2,520 feet. Top of pay tentatively has been picked at 2,600 feet. Operator was moving in cable tools to drill out Saturday prior to completion attempt.

Location of the No. 1 O'Daniel is 330 from north and east lines, north half, south half, northeast quarter, 33-30-18 T&P survey.

RWD Production Company's Nos. 2 and 3 Snyder wells, the projects being fractured, it was announced by C. D. Turner, contractor, that each would be treated with 10,000 gallons.

The No. 2 Snyder is 330 from north and 600 from east lines, 27-30-18 T&P survey. The No. 3 Snyder is 330 from north and 600 from east lines, 27-30-18 T&P survey.

Sterling Pair Drills Ahead

"Drilling ahead" was the report this weekend at two projects in Sterling County.

E. Walker of Big Spring is drilling below 300 feet at his No. 1 Jeff Davis, wildcat about a mile west of Sterling City. Water trouble developed on this prospect, and operator had to withdraw. Casing has been reset and drilling resumed, however.

Site of the explorer is 2,310 from north and 330 from east lines, 36-14-S-18 T&P survey. It is slated for depth of 3,000 feet.

Cosden Petroleum's No. 2-23, R. W. Gosler, try in the Barochia Basin field, is drilling out cement after having set 5 1/2-inch surface casing. Location, 10 miles southwest of Sterling City, is 1,630 from south and 1,170 from west lines, 23-22-H&TC survey.

Johnson No. 1-G J. Blawie Chappell, wildcat stepout to the Jameson production, has been plugged and abandoned at 7,210 feet in time and shale. There were no shows of oil or gas.

Location, 16 miles northeast of Sterling City, was 467 from south and east lines, 68-16-S-18 T&P survey.

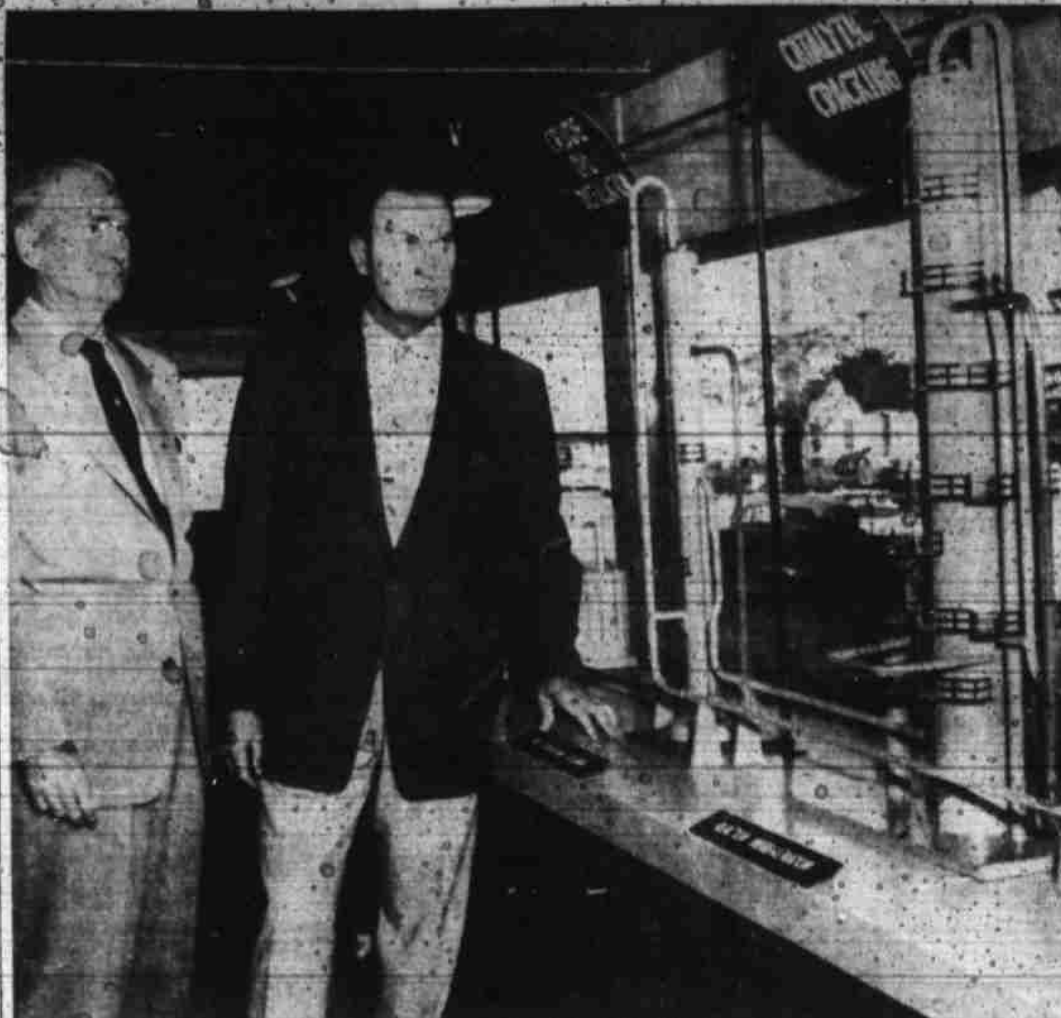

Spraberry Venture Due To Complete

Cosden Petroleum Corporation's No. 3-C Hanson, a Spraberry Trend project in Glasscock County, is due to be completed this week.

Operator has moved off rig and is waiting on pumping equipment at the present time. Total depth is 7,583 feet, and both the upper and lower Spraberry sections have been fractured with 21,000 gallons.

Location, about 17 miles southwest of Garden City, is 1,320 from south and east lines, 48-36-15 T&P survey.

Cosden and Tri-Service No. 3-34 Douglas is drilling at 2,392 feet.

Here's How It's Done

Carl Smith, left, sales manager, and Richard Johnson, sales co-ordinator for Cosden Petroleum Corporation inspect part of the company's new educational mobile refining display. This unit, in design and construction for the past year, shows the progress of crude oil from the well, to tanks, through the refining processes and finally to the consumer at the station. The other side of the display back of Smith includes a host of products which comes from refining of oil. This display may be transported from place to place by a handy towing unit and will be available to schools and to stations on request to help tell the story of oil and its magic. EVEN TO URANIUM

Oilmen Will See Latest In Equipment For Exploration

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON, April 30 (U.S.)—Oilmen from across the nation next week will inspect an 85-foot drilling rig designed for work that normally requires a 120-foot rig.

The portable 85-foot rig will be on exhibit at an International Oil Exposition which opens Tuesday in downtown Houston for a restricted audience.

The latest equipment for uranium and oil exploration, also will be among the 400 exhibits from 22 states and five foreign countries.

Exhibitors this weekend were setting up production, drilling, refining, petro-chemistry, oilfields and uranium exhibits in and near the Sam Houston Coliseum.

It will be Houston's first oil show in 16 years.

Attendance the first four days will be restricted to oil and industrial personnel. The general public will be admitted only on May 7-8.

Duane Ellis, president, describes the six-day show as an oil exposition without a frill.

"This is a show where the exhibitor can demonstrate his products and where the buyers can see them," he explained. "Curiosity seekers will not be around the first four days."

Ellis predicts an attendance of from 100,000 to 150,000 the first four days when attendance will be by invitation only.

The major portion of those attending will come from the oil-rich Houston and Gulf Coast area, but Ellis said he has received ticket requests from 40 states and several foreign countries.

Prior to World War II, Houston and Tulsa alternated years in holding oil exhibitions but next week's exposition will be the first in Houston since 1939.

"It will be an oilman's show for the oilman," Ellis said.

The big and small manufacturer will have his products on display. The group of oil engineers and oil field equipment manufacturers and distributors who organized the exposition, Ellis explained, have kept the "little man" in mind.

"This is a trade show that costs the manufacturer little money but a show that offers the oilman an opportunity to see the very latest in scientific and technical developments," Ellis said.

Coliseum exhibits will include demonstrations of the use of radio-isotopes in the petroleum industry. Such exhibits as the portable 85-foot drilling rig will be outdoors.

Water tanks will be used in demonstrating swamp buggies and off shore drilling equipment. There will be scale models of the latest offshore drilling tender with derrick and helicopter landing deck.

"This offshore drilling industry will be a big thing the next 10 years," Ellis said in predicting particular interest in the oilfields exhibits.

Westbrook Pool Well Rates 62 Bbls. On Pumping Test

Anderson-Prichard Oil Corporation completed its No. 9-A Morrow pool well from west and 992 from south lines, 32-28-In. T&P survey.

Union No. 1 H. W. Wallace Estate, wildcat 16 miles southeast of Colorado City, bored to 3,925 feet in lime and shale. The prospect is C NW NW, 34-12-H&TC survey. Recovery was 11 per cent water, and gravity of oil was 24.3 degrees. The gas-oil ratio was nil.

Completion was in open hole between pay top of 2,980 feet, where the 5 1/2-inch casing was bottomed, and total depth of 3,983 feet. Operator used 21,000 gallons of fracture fluid to treat the zone. Location is 966 from west and 992 from south lines, 32-28-In. T&P survey.

Paul DeCicca No. 2 Warren was reportedly bottomed at 2,010 feet and the 5 1/2-inch casing goes to 3,008. Paul DeCicca No. 3 Warren set surface casing at 230 feet and has since drilled to 2,127.

Drilling Ahead

Wilbanks and Rutter of Big Spring announced drilling depth of 6,897 feet this weekend at their No. 1-B Proctor, Spraberry project in Reagan County.

Opponents Of Gas Act Must Be Met With Facts, Says Author

FORT WORTH, April 30 (U.S.)—Opponents of legislation to clarify the Natural Gas Act must be met with facts, it is felt by the author of the Supreme Court decision in the Phillips Petroleum case, are to be offset by Congress.

The author of such legislation, Rep. Owen Harris, of Arkansas, made this clear before the final session today of the first annual meeting of the American Assn. of Petroleum Landmen.

The Harris bill, on which hearings began March 22 and are scheduled to end Monday, has the support of the independent producing segment of the petroleum industry. It would exempt natural gas producers from federal regulation but also contains provisions Harris said would protect consumers.

The landmen elected to be their first president the man who headed its organizational committee. He is George F. Brown, Sun Oil Co., Amarillo.

Other officers: Miller Waggoner, Harper Oil Co., San Antonio, second vice president; Robert E. Harland, Carter Oil Co., Denver, third vice president.

Harris brought out in a review of the Natural Gas Act, passed in 1938, that production and gathering of natural gas was not to be included under jurisdiction of the Federal Power Commission. He also reminded landmen that the first section of the act declared that the business of interstate transportation and sale of natural gas was in the "public interest."

He said that by "public interest," Congress, in his opinion, meant all the public; not a few preferred customers over all other consumers in the country, or the interest of land owners, the wildcatter, the states in the area of production or the public who invested their money in all phases of its operation.

"It did not mean," said Harris, "as some would have us believe, that the 'public interest' was for only those of today but forward looking into the future to include future generations."

Harris said the purpose of his bill was to relieve the chaotic condition brought on by the court's action, at the same time, he said he recognized the consumer of gas must be protected from runaway prices.

"Enormous pressure is being brought by well organized groups, spreading fear, confusion and dissonance, to prevent the clarification of the issue," he said.

"It must be met with the facts, with the truth, with an intelligent understanding. As long as the American people have the facts and the truth of the issue, I have no doubt but what their judgment will result in the best interest of the public, and I mean, all of the public."

Mitchell Gets One Of Four Wildcat Tests In The Basin

Mitchell County drew one of the four wildcats spotted in the Permian Basin this weekend. It will be the Tex-West Oil Corporation (Arlington) No. 1 R. G. Small, about seven miles southwest of Lorraine. Projected drilling depth is 7,700 feet, and operator will test the Ellenburger.

Site of the new explorer is 660 from north and east lines, 88-25 T&P survey.

More Wolfcamp Pay Is Tapped

More flowing Wolfcamp pay section has been uncovered in Mid-west Oil Corporation and White Eagle Oil Company No. 1-A Guetersloh, one-half mile south of Adair (Wolfcamp) field of South Terry County.

Guetersloh test, from 8,830 to 8,810 feet, bled one hour and 37 minutes, was surfaced in four minutes, mud in 34 and oil in 36. After flowing out for one hour, the project produced 13 barrels of oil the first 30 minutes and 14 barrels of oil the second 30 minutes.

Reversed out were 31 barrels of oil and no water. Flowing pressure was from 869 to 2,120 pounds and shut-in pressure in 30 minutes 2,760 pounds.

Hole was being cased below 8,890 feet.

First Wolfcamp flow was developed on drillstem test from 8,810 to 8,846 feet.

Location is 2,173 feet from south and east lines of section 17, block C, 8, 2nd survey, 12 miles south of Brownfield.

CRITIQUE

By Glenn Coates

"THE TREASON OF THE PEOPLE" by Ferdinand Lundberg. Harper's, 322 pp. $3. In the 20's and 30's, H. L. Mencken was a constant critic of Americans and their way of life. In the early 40's, Philip Wylie quickly became known as the "un-graduate philosopher" for his criticism in "Generation of Vipers." Lundberg, too, is a critic of America and her people. Though each of the men has the same target, each has a different point of view.

Basically, these writers ask for an end to hypocrisy and a more realistic appraisal of what is happening in the country. Mencken was amused. Wylie mostly indignant, but Lundberg is sincerely alarmed. For these reasons, Lundberg is probably the only one of the three that will encourage anyone to do anything about the situation. (That is, if anything can be.)

Lundberg lays the faults of the United States squarely on the doorstep where, he says they belong: years and mine. Theills we like to blame on "capitalists," "unions," "government," and a myriad other things, are actually of our own making, he says. His primary target is pressure-groups, not normally labeled as such, of various "interests" who encourage undemocratic methods, harmful to the populace as a whole.

But the practices he considers harmful to democracy might surprise you. You will probably be even more surprised, after some reflection, to decide that he is probably correct. For he names no "sacred cows" in his critical analysis of the "American way."

It would be unfair to quote some of his startling statements out of context because you might get the wrong impression of the work. But suffice to say that he is highly critical, among other things, of all social groups, treatment of the Negro, the court system, and the ability of the average person to govern himself.

Not that Lundberg, like Mencken, maintains the average man is not capable of self-government. But he believes, and he is substantially borne out by the facts, that the average man is not sufficiently interested in self-government to see that it is properly conducted. He says that democracy is failing because groups with a special interest are actually running the government, as they can adequately control enough votes to do as they please.

He depicts considerable space to the plight of the Negro, one failure of democracy. He notes that in no pulp of the South does the demand come to give the Negro equal rights and justice. The average person violates the spirit and essence of the Constitution by denying most of the rights and liberties of that document to 10 per cent of the population. In the South, a Negro has no chance in a court of law against a white litigant, Lundberg states, but not because of the judge, the attorneys, or law officers. But because you and I will not let them see that justice is done. Just as we forbid our pastor from chastising us from his pulpit.

For a politician to give a minority their just due or to enact legislation for the "common good" in opposition to the will of the majority, is political suicide. This is the plight of democracy, which the author maintains, we do not have. But space is too short to give you all that the author has said. You owe it to yourself to get a copy of this book and make a decision about it.

The question is posed: Will it be democracy or what we have? I think it will be a book you will want to keep and read again.

Lundberg maintains that "the average person refuses to keep himself abreast of the times and fully informed about important issues of the day. And this, he calls, "treason" by the people, as defined by the Constitution. The readership this book receives may well decide the issue, if there is any doubt.

Remember Philip Wylie's "Generation of Vipers" which was published back in 1943? The book has sold 180,000 copies to date and is now being printed in the 20th edition. The author has added some new footnotes to this addition which indicate his feelings of today. Here are a couple of them which reflect his views on the current scene:

"No one seems willing to confess that 'juvenile delinquency' as it occurs these days is, quite plainly, proof that the 'American way of life' itself is sick . . .

"Since I wrote (if I recall it a atrocious Japanese method of making war) we have cooked a million or so Japs in napalm . . . and left some other thousands mere man-shaped carbon stains on radioactive sidewalks." (For more on Wylie, see above.)

The third annual "Painting Workshop," as sponsored by the South Plains Art Guild, will be held May 30-June 18 in the Texas Tech Museum at Lubbock. Well known artist John Meigs will be instructing classes and sharing honors in the awarding of scholarships for young aspirants.

Both day and night classes will be conducted for beginners, as well as amateurs and professionals. Cost of the instruction is nominal. Four students will be chosen for scholarships. A boy and girl each from the fifth or sixth grades and from the seventh through twelfth grades will be awarded a scholarship on the basis of work submitted as a committee.

Further information may be obtained by writing Mrs. Boyce Irwin, 3408 38th Street, Lubbock.

I had the opportunity to see a few of Dorothy Whitaker's paintings last week. She was preparing to send them up to Fairbanks, Alaska for a show. (For more on artist Whitaker, flip over the Society Section.) I was impressed with her work on Signal Mountain, particularly the color harmony, and, incidentally, she has had no formal training. Her talent is natural and alive. Hope to see more of her paintings in the future.

Jobless Pay Bill OK'd

AUSTIN, April 30 (AP)—A bill amending the Unemployment Compensation Act to extend coverage to businesses hiring more than four employees was signed into law today by Gov. Allan Shivers.

AN IMPORTANT PART—of any club is the yearbook committee, and the Music Study Club is no exception. Good programs help build up interest and membership. With that in mind, Mrs. C. A. Boyd, left, and Mrs. Jack Everett set to work to make the very best schedule of work they can think of.

CLUB SOLOIST—is Elsie Willis, who is presented by the Music Club when one of their number is asked to perform for any organization. She has quite frequently played for the Stanton Music Club as well as for local groups.

Special Programs Mark Music Week Observance

To mark the observance of National Music Week, May 1-8, members of the Big Spring Music Club will present two musical programs this week.

This afternoon at 3 o'clock, the Howard County Junior College Choir will be presented in a program of songs. It is directed by Orland Johnson. Thursday evening, Larry Evans, pianist, will appear at the Municipal Auditorium. The club is co-sponsor with Cosden for this event.

The Music Club was organized in 1936 and was federated that same year. Meetings are on the second Wednesday of each month in the homes of members. Aims of the club are to make music an integral part of the life of the nation, to encourage creative musical art and to uphold high musical standards.

The club flower is the yellow chrysanthemum, with yellow and green as the club colors. Course of study for the past year has been "The Musical Workshop." Other courses of study have been "Latin American Music," "Contemporary Music," "Music in Texas" and "American Women in Creative Music" to name just a few.

The Community Chorus, which was recently organized, is being sponsored by this group.

A GOOD COMBINATION—is an organ and a piano, as members of the club can testify, after hearing Mrs. Omar Pitman, left, and Roberta Gay in duets. Mrs. Pitman has appeared also from Midland's TV station, KMID.

OUT-GOING OFFICERS—Resting at the end of their term in office are Mrs. Ruth Burnam, left, who was treasurer of the club, Mrs. Don Newsom, ex-president, and Mrs. H. M. Jarratt, who was second vice-president. Mrs. Jarratt has been president of the Ninth District of the Texas Federation of Music Clubs this past year.

NEWLY-ELECTED—are Mrs. Nell Frazier, left, president-elect, Mrs. Bill Griese, who will be installed as secretary, and Mrs. Fred Beckham, new vice president. Installation of officers will be held at the regular meeting in May.

Mrs. L. W. Moore is Hostess To Circle

FORNAN—The Willie Mae Kennedy Circle of Fornan Baptist church was entertained recently by Mrs. L. W. Moore. Following group singing, Mrs. Bob Cowley led the opening prayer. Plans were discussed for making duffie bags for migrant children. Seven members attended and the next meeting will be a mission study in the home of Mrs. Frank Thieme. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nixon have been visiting here from Seminole.

First Stage For Staging Committee

For the background of the Flower Show to be given on Tuesday by the Big Spring Garden Club, the staging committee is planning mesquites transformed into spring beauties. Mrs. J. E. Hogan, left, and Mrs. Clyde Angel plan to catch the limb when Mrs. Robert Stripling calls, "Timber!" Mrs. Loyd Brannon, as you see, holds the axe on the entire group.

CAMPUS CHATTER

By FRANCES WALKER

A good many Jayhawkers spent yesterday evening with their ears to the radio, anxiously awaiting the final outcome of the bond election for expansion of the college plant. This issue was important not only to the freshmen who will return next year, but also to the graduating class of sophomores. Having attended HCJC, we realize just how valuable it is to students and also its value to the community.

The Jayhawk baseball squad ended the 1955 season Friday in a near-win bout with Odessa, the West Zone Champs.

HCJC trackster, John Curtis, has certainly been making a name for himself (and the college) in all the meets staged by the Jayhawks this season. John, who doesn't really know what it is to lose a competition, will be of most value to HCJC in the approaching state meet.

Attention! All music lovers! This week has been set aside as National Music Week, and will be officially opened with an hour-long concert by the HCJC choir this afternoon at 3 in the college auditorium.

Cosden Corp. will offer another treat for the music-minded Thursday evening when Larry Evans, outstanding hometown musician, will give a piano concert in the Municipal Auditorium at 8 o'clock. Free tickets for the program are being distributed by the Cosden Stations.

Last Wednesday the Lamesa High School choir presented a forty-minute program in a college assembly. The choir members were then honored with a reception and given a guided tour of the campus. The Snyder High School choir will be featured in an assembly next week.

Several of the college piano and organ students presented a short recital in the large auditorium at activity period Friday. Myrna Galle gave an organ solo, "Melody of Love," and Martha Winans a piano solo, "Andalucia." Mrs. Jack Hendrix, instructor, joined R. B. Hall in a piano duet, "Polka March," and R. B. took the spotlight with a solo, "In the Chapel." Mr. Hendrix, at the organ, also teamed with Mrs. Dorothy Kennedy in C Major. The program was concluded by a novelty reading, "Three Bears Go On A Picnic," featuring Mrs. W. A. Hunt as narrator, and Mr. Hendrix as the bear.

May I remind all of the prospective graduates that the deadline for paying your graduation fee is tomorrow morning.

Basketball intramurals are still in progress, so all you sports fans are invited to attend any of the games. They are scheduled on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday at 12:30 and 12:50.

The Geology class found a rather extensive vein of fossilized bone while on a field trip to the Chalk area Thursday. A number of fossilized teeth and several infested rock specimens were also carried back to the lab for closer examination. Instructor, Bruce Frasier, and one of the students, Brian Pool, recently dug up a complete Indian skeleton, and the remnants of several others in a field northwest of town.

It's interesting to note the signs of spring on the HCJC campus. Not only does a young man's fancy turn to thoughts of love, but his, it seems, to thoughts of completing term papers, reports, and examinations. This is evidenced by a large number of students who have congregated in the library regularly the past week or so. It's true that the end of school is near at hand.

In spite of the fact that there is little time left, a new project will be begun on Monday morning. A number of students have been working for sometime to get a morning devotion period initiated into the school curriculum, and at last the desire will become reality. No student will be compelled to attend, but all are invited. The meetings, to be held from 7:30 to 8:30 Monday through Friday, will show no partiality to any particular religious group but are designed to start each day off right for every student.

That's about all for this week, but Jayhawkers remember: If you have been a full-time student at the college for only one semester of this school term you must pay a three dollar fee in order to receive a yearbook. Please pay your fee to me as soon as possible.

Members of the Lasso Club attended a Come As You Are breakfast Saturday morning in the SFB. This method of torture was instigated by the club president, Peggy Crooks, and the sponsor, Mrs. Sarah Culpfard. Plans were made for the Sock Supper to be given at the school Tuesday evening.

Mothproof Woolens As You Wash Them

A new product that is said to mothproof and wash woolens in one operation makes it possible to wash and then store woolens with perfect safety, say manufacturers of the product.

A half ounce of the liquid in two quarts of warm water is said to be sufficient to treat a sweater or several pairs of wool socks, and one ounce added to a gallon of water will wash and mothproof a blanket or other item.

Mr. Bearden Honored

A. F. Bearden was honored at a surprise birthday dinner Friday evening at his home. He was presented with a gift, and dinner was brought in by his children. Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Roney, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Conway, Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Bearden, the Rev. and Mrs. R. C. Hester of Colorado City and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bearden of Ackerly.

Good Egg Dish

Teeth mixed hardcooked eggs with green beans or asparagus and a well-seasoned cream sauce. Sprinkle with grated yellow cheese and run under the broiler. Make a fine luncheon dish when served with a crisp salad.

Fellowship Day Tea Planned For Friday

Members of the Local United Council of Church Women will join with women all over the nation May 6 to observe May Fellowship Day. Using the general theme of "The Responsible Christian Family," the women will have a seated tea at St. Paul Presbyterian Church, Friday at 3 p.m. and present a program. Mrs. G. C. Graves is in charge of arrangements, and she has announced that all newcomers to the city, all ministers of all denominations and their wives will be considered as honored guests. For the convenience of mothers with small children, a nursery and attendant have been provided. Prelude will be played by Mrs. Bill Griese and a vocal solo will be sung by Joyce Howard. Others taking parts on the program will be Mrs. Dean Forest, Mrs. Knox Chadd, Mrs. J. O. Johansen, Mrs. Ray Shaw and Mrs. E. V. Speck. Mrs. Graves will introduce the speakers and Mrs. Shine Philips will give the benediction. This spring, church women in hundreds of U.S. towns and cities are trying to work out specific answers to pertinent questions in a nationwide study of Christian family life, at home and in the community. The study is being undertaken in connection with the annual observance which is sponsored by the United Church Women and its affiliated state and local councils. The national church women's organization is a general department of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U.S.A. Aimed at programs of co-operative action on specific community problems, the May observance in the past has emphasized such issues as race relations, slum clearance, and women's role as citizens.

West Texans In Alaska To View Scenes Of Home State

"There must be a lot of homesick West Texans in Alaska," Mrs. Frank Whitaker said of her invitation to exhibit some of her paintings in Fairbanks, Alaska. She has recently been invited to show some of her landscapes, preferably of West Texas scenes, in the Farthest North Art Guild, which is located in Fairbanks. Of course, she plans to accept the invitation.

Mrs. Whitaker is the former Dorothy Sison. Mr. Whitaker is a farmer, and last year he was manager of the Co-Op Oil at Vincent. They live on the old J. M. Whitaker estate.

She can't remember when she started painting, as she "just kinda picked it up" and has never had any formal training. Mrs. Whitaker said that she keeps thinking she will take time out for art lessons, but never seems to find the opportunity what with her church work, her family and her art.

The Whitakers have two sons, Danny, aged 14, and Jimmy, who is 11. Both boys have inherited their mother's art talent, and both play in the Coahoma High School band.

Much of Mrs. Whitaker's work is done from pictures—either those she sees and likes or from snapshots that she takes. Quite often on her sketching trips, she goes armed with her camera as well as her sketching board. If she doesn't finish the scene, she has a snapshot to guide her at a later date.

She has gone over the country quite a lot, searching for places to paint, but her favorite scenes are in a strip of land between Gail and Coahoma. To her there are more pretty places in this part of Texas than anywhere else has found. She thinks it is fertile field for an art colony.

This artist has given numbers of paintings to various churches, since she also likes to work with religious subjects. She works in ceramics and leathercraft at times, but when she is tired, she "just sits and knits."

Recognize This?

In the group of her paintings to be sent to an exhibition in Fairbanks, Alaska, Mrs. Frank Whitaker of Vincent will include one of Signal Mountain. She has been invited to show some of her work at the Farthest North Art Guild in Fairbanks. This painting of the easily recognized peak southeast of Big Spring was done from a snapshot.

Luther Home Club Meets With Mrs. Dean Self

Mrs. Dean Self was hostess to the Luther Home Demonstration Club recently with 15 present. Roll call was answered with "Hobbies." The devotion was given by Mrs. Ernest Williamson.

It was reported that Mrs. W. E. Hanson will give the book review for the tea to be held in her home on May 12. Members of the Vincent Club will be guests.

Amelia Fleckenstein and Mary Lee Murphy gave a demonstration on "Frosting Cupcakes." Mrs. D. C. Zant and Mrs. M. L. Barnard gave a demonstration on "Colon Harmonies for Different Personalities." Refreshments were served by the hostess. Guests were Mrs. Bud Self and Mrs. Ralph Proctor.

Gloria Fretwell To Marry Robert Lee

LAMESA, April (SC)—Mr. and Mrs. Welch Fretwell, 501 N. 13th St., announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Gloria, to Robert Lee.

The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Lee of Sand.

Plans are for a May wedding. Miss Fretwell is a senior at Lamesa High School. The prospective bridegroom graduated from Lamesa High School before attending Texas Tech and Texas A&M College.

The couple will make their home in Lamesa where he is engaged in farming.

by Fira Benenson

A GOOD TIME FROCK

The Cut Of This Dress Adds Enticing Details

Anyone for a wedding? Fira Benenson knows exactly how everyone who is a member of the party itself should look. In fact, she wore this design of hers to an extremely chic reception and eyes had a hard time to keep from straying away from the star of the show.

Make it in sheer fabric if the date is set for the summer; the bodice is lined to offset the problem of unsightly lingerie straps. Dotted swiss would be particularly enchanting. Voile, gingham, lace, shantung, silks, tulle or taffeta are also lovely suggestions.

In typical Benenson fashion, she has given the right amount of couture detail—in the collar, yoke that turns down into the sleeves in back; in the way she has cut the bodice into a low, rear curve to release a pretty degree of fullness.

Club Woman Of The Year To Be Named

LAMESA, April — (SC)—Seven representatives from Lamesa Federated Women's Clubs have been named in qualifying for the title of "Outstanding Club Woman of the Year," sponsored annually by the Junior Women's Study Club at their annual Achievement Banquet to be held at the Lamesa High School cafeteria Tuesday evening.

Faye Lloyd of Dallas, outstanding United Press sports writer, will be the guest speaker for the occasion.

Miss Lloyd has covered sports events throughout the United States, South America, and Europe and gained national interest when she was barred from the press box at Yale Bowl during the Army-Navy game in 1954. Miss Lloyd will speak on her experiences in the press box and women in sports.

In naming candidates from each of the clubs for "Outstanding Club Woman," the candidate must have guided a worthy project of her club to a successful conclusion.

Mrs. John Palmore was selected by the Lamesa Delphian Club for her outstanding work on two club projects. The Senior Women's Study Club named Mrs. W. K. Crawley who for many years has been active in civic improvement, cultural and religious work in Lamesa and an active participant in youth development. Mrs. Henry Stafford was named by the Delphian Club as their representative for "Outstanding Club Woman of the Year." Mrs. Buster Reed was nominated by the Dawson County Garden Club. Mrs. Jim Caldwell is candidate for "Outstanding Club Woman" from the Lambda Phi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi. The Home Demonstration Clubs of Dawson County named Mrs. Walter Koemel as their candidate for "Outstanding Woman."

Miss Todd Honored With Tea, Shower

Virginia Todd, bride-elect of Raymond Craig, was honored Thursday evening with a bridal tea in the home of Mrs. Thomas Yeats. Miss Todd, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Todd, is to be married on June 20.

Co-hostesses for the affair were Mrs. J. R. Petty, Mrs. Floyd Williams, Mrs. Albert Medlin, Mrs. W. C. Brown, Mrs. Ray Watkins and Charlene Matthews.

The tea table was laid with a lace cloth, ever green, and pink carnations were used as decoration. Forty-two attended the party.

Knott Homemaking Girls Make Tour

KNOTT—The senior, junior and sophomore homemaking girls and their teacher, Mrs. J. T. Barnett, toured a Big Spring interior decorator's shop and a ladies ready-to-wear store recently.

The Knott Rebekah Lodge No. 14, held their regular session Thursday evening with nine present.

Mrs. and Mrs. Edward Burchell and family have returned from Dallas where they visited with relatives.

Mrs. Bessie Wooten Has Class Party

The Dorcas Class of the East Fourth Street Baptist Church gathered for their monthly social and business meeting Friday evening. The affair was held in the home of Mrs. Bessie Wooten.

Mrs. D. W. Adams opened the meeting with prayer and Mrs. Sarah Fritts gave the devotion from 1st Psalm. Mrs. Bessie King led the closing prayer. Mrs. J. Tom Rogers gave a reading, "Slow Down, Brother," and a Bible quiz was held.

Refreshments were served to 13 members and two guests, Mrs. R. A. Brown and Mrs. Viola Bailey.

HI--TALK

By PEGGY HOGAN

Tenseness and anxiety gripped the candidates whose names were on the ballot till the final tabulation of votes was announced about 5 o'clock Wednesday. The all-important election was for student council representatives and cheerleaders for the ensuing school term of 55-56. Senior representatives will be Tommie Jo Williamson, Kenda McGibbon, Rodney Sheppard, Benjie Compton, and J. T. Baird. Senior cheerleaders are Eunice Freeman, Gary Tidwell, and Clara Freeman.

The Junior representatives are Janet Hogan, Lou Ann White, Johnny Janak, Jerry McMahon, and Lewis Porter. Cheerleaders for the juniors will be Sue Boykin, and Ann Ann White.

Amendments to the constitution were also passed. These will take effect next year. Class presidents are to become members of the student council as advisors to the student council president. The student council members that attend the state convention will automatically become a Student Council member for the next year. Both secretaries of the student council to have at least 10 credit in typing. A little black book called "El Rodeo" practically became a fixture around BSHS this week as the expected hub of annual signing went on. The student council sponsored their annual party for that purpose Monday night. Free soft drinks were served to several hundred in the cafeteria as the constant buzz of fun, cramps in hands, and empty fountain pens gained attention. "Hey, somebody get me a ladder!" "What did you do with the window cleaner?" "Oh, my jeans are filthy!" Such fragments of conversations were frequently heard throughout the building Tuesday as it was blue jean day during Clean-up Week. Most everybody emerged from the project just a little dirtier and the entire building-from-trashmen to baseboards—just a whole lot cleaner! During the Clean-up Week at various times dollars were thrown on the floor in the disguise of a gum wrapper, paper cup, or some such object. It bore special watching by a student council member and as soon as their particular object hit the trash can—poof! A dollar for that person! Jon Cook, Mary Beth Stratton, and Mr. Eggleston were lucky—or maybe I should say—smart in rapping dollars. It was surprising to notice just how many kids actually stepped on the object or kicked it around.

A common sight Wednesday afternoon was some poor senior struggling and juggling a huge stack of invitations, envelopes, and thank you cards. 'Twas just more evidence of that long-awaited graduation.

By the way, those mighty seniors have chosen McKensie Park in Lubbock for the site of their senior trip. A variety of activities is available—swimming, dancing in a reserved club house, tennis, golf, rides in an amusement park, and miniature golf. Barbeque chicken is on the menu for lunch and the all day affair is marked on the calendar for May 21.

The seniors selected Dr. Gage Lloyd, father of a class member, to preach the baccalaureate sermon. Jane Reynolds and Don Lovelace were elected to sing solos at the commencement exercises, and plans for the programs will be Lila Turner, Sharon McRee, Brownie Rogers, and Howard Sheets. Four students were also elected for the invocations and benedictions. They are Bobby Phillips, Robert Morehead, Brick Johnson, and Thomas Lyon.

One more reminder to the seniors. Hurry up and purchase your Senior Ring Dance tickets so that the committee can make a more definite plan.

Congratulations to Marilyn Morris and China Carroll for winning the regional journalism contest in Lubbock last Saturday and stacking up more glory for BSHS. They will go to Austin next weekend to enter state competition.

Scratched faces, skinned knees and elbows, and sore aching muscles were prominent among lots of junior and sophomore boys this week as they tackled the first week of spring training. Chins up! Boys, we're expecting big things from you in the fall.

Sweepstakes bring more reward for band members in the form of a big trip. The band launched their money making campaign for a trip to Galveston, at their annual spring concert Thursday night. More power to you, band members, you deserve that trip! The El Rodeo staff took on two new members for the 1956 yearbook this week. Johnny Janak has been named assistant sports editor to Jerry Baron and Marilyn Morris will serve as copy editor. May I take out this time to express our sincere sympathy to Preston Bridges, one of our Steers, and his family in the sudden loss of their father and husband this week.

Versatile Brick Johnson is our next Senior-of-the-week. Brick has been quite outstanding in the field of sports for Big Spring High, lettering six years in football—three years in Junior High and three years in Senior High. As a half-back he was selected for honorable mention in district ratings last fall. He has been active in basketball, baseball, track, and tennis. Active also in other capacities, Brick has served as vice president of the Key Club, and a member of DeMolays and H.Y. He has chosen Texas Tech for college next fall where he received a scholarship.

Forsan Methodists To Have Conference

FORSAN — Dr. Orion Carter, district superintendent, will be in charge of the quarterly conference of the Methodist Church to be held on May 4 at the church.

Barbara Blair will present the grade school music class in special music Sunday morning at the Methodist church.

Announcement has been made that the MYF will have a wiener roast at Magnolia Lake on Tuesday evening beginning at 7 p.m. All young people are invited to attend. Program for the year will be discussed.

Forsan Students Have Wiener Roast, Party

FORSAN — Members of the student councils of both senior and junior high schools were entertained with a wiener roast at Magnolia Lake recently. The group was transported in a large cattle truck and was chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Whittenberg.

Boys were auctioned off to the girls at the "Twirp Week" party in the gym with "Butch Badgett" acting as auctioneer. Eleven dollars was raised from the sale.

Scouts At Jamboree

FORSAN — Clifton Ferguson, scoutmaster for Troop 11, and the explorers attended the Boy Scout Jamboree at the Big Spring city park Friday and Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Crumley of Levelland have been visitors in Forsan.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Honeycutt and some have as their guests, Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Kennedy and Sarah, of Snyder.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Cowley and Bobby left Saturday for Milford, Ill. to visit with her parents.

Emphasis On Charm

Glasgow's gifted America singer Ella Logan, tells Lydia Lane how she overcame a complex about not being pretty. Part Ella talks about charm and individuality.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Personal Charm Rated Above Natural Beauty

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD — Ella Logan is justly proud of the fact that "Ella's Rainbow" was written just for her, and now this successful Broadway play is being adapted for the screen with Ella as its star. This slip of a girl was born in Glasgow, educated in Northern Ireland and is now an American citizen.

"You've come a long way for stardom," I commented to Ella as we lunched at the Brown Derby recently.

"The United States has always been like a magnet to me," Ella confided. "I was told that I had an astonishing voice even as a child, and I always wanted to do my singing here."

"Having a singing voice was never enough for me," Ella said. "I wanted to be tall and beautiful, and I was neither. I was self-conscious about being small (Ella is only 5'3") and I used to be unhappy about it until someone said, 'If you want to be tall, THINK tall.' I tried doing this by cultivating an erect posture — back straight, head high. It was interesting how people stopped referring to me as 'little.'"

"Short girls can give an illusion of height if they dress up to it. Here are some of the tricks I've learned. Avoid two-tone dresses or contrasting skirts and blouses. They have a tendency to cut you in half. Lean toward the long, solid line. Never wear short skirts. Even before the longer skirts came into vogue I wore mine a little longer than the accepted length."

"I learned that if you are not beautiful, you can make up for it in other ways," she continued. "I've proved what you have, be a good listener, warm and friendly. Make yourself interesting. These qualities will carry you farther than a beautiful face."

"How often have you heard someone say, 'she isn't pretty, BUT...' It's the BUT that's important. If you cultivate a pleasant personality and natural charm, you can rightly set a high value on yourself, and others will usually take you at your own evaluation."

"Another thing that used to bother me was my hands," Ella confessed. "Instead of slender hands with long, tapering fingers mine are square and my fingers are short. I've tried to make up for this by paying particular attention to my manicure and using my hands gracefully. I don't wear bright red nail polish because this would make my hands too conspicuous. I prefer a pale-pink or mother-of-pearl shade. I always keep my nails neatly filed, and at a length flattering to my hand."

"Men are very conscious of women's hands," she quick to notice when they are neglected and quick to compliment when they are lovely."

Ella ordered braised beef for lunch which she ate with relish. "I was raised on sensible food. My mother was very strict about our eating everything on our plates and if we didn't eat it all at one meal, she kept serving it to us until we did eat it. She used to say 'someday you'll be glad that I'm building a strong constitution for you,' and she was right. I attribute my health and energy to having acquired a taste for nutritional food."

Ella's skin has that shiny, freshly scrubbed look. "I never wear make-up, not even powder," she informed me. "I think men like to see the texture of your skin and if your skin is good, there's no need to cover it with a lot of make-up."

Ella admitted that she never used the standard beauty preparations.

"I use a recipe handed down to me by my grandmother — it's an old-fashioned beauty remedy that is wonderful for the complexion. It gives the skin a real glow and also offers a firming quality. I've used it for years and never have a wrinkle."

"You're quite an individualist," I remarked.

"You have to be if you want to have confidence in yourself," Ella replied. "It really doesn't matter what type you are, though, if you can feel good about it. Everyone is endowed with her own brand of magic."

"In order to bring it out, you have to take inventory of yourself and your relationships with others. Getting along well with people is an important part of that thing called charm. I don't agree with Sir James Barrie who said something to the effect that some women have it and some don't. I think charm can be cultivated by being warm, sympathetic, friendly and having a sense of humor. I think it's your sense of humor that gives you a pleasant expression. It's far more appealing to see a face with a glint in the eye than beautiful features worked into a scowl."

Opera Performances Attract Several Big Spring Parties

Several parties of Big Spring people will attend the fourteenth season performances of the Metropolitan Opera in Dallas which will begin on May 6 and play through May 8.

Mrs. Arch Carson and Mrs. Pete Harmonson will be joined by Mrs. Carson's sisters, Mrs. Joe Kreklow and Mrs. Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo and will leave on Thursday.

For Luncheon

Make sandwiches of thin eggplant, slices, and cheese; arrange in a baking dish and cover with tomato sauce. Bake in a moderate oven and serve with crusty French bread and a green salad. For dessert a sponge cake filled with vanilla custard and small cups of strong hot coffee.

Candy Containers

Small plastic containers in which cheese comes make fine "pans" in which to mold fudge. Press the fudge into these round or half-moon containers so it comes almost, but not quite, to the top. Cover and keep on hand for company serving or use for small gifts. Nice to take to a convalescent or to a luncheon hostess.

Get your copy of this vital leaflet by sending only 5 cents AND a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Lydia Lane, Hollywood Beauty, care of the Big Spring Herald. Ask for leaflet M-55.

Seasonings Improve Economy Meat Cuts

Wondering how to give that economical cut of meat savory flavor? Here's a list of seasonings, all good with meat, to choose from: catchup, chili sauce, bay leaf, all spice, berries, garlic, onion, paprika, soy sauce, Tabasco sauce, Worcestershire sauce, oregano, basil.

Vary Pie Crust Mix

Use lemon juice, instead of water, as the liquid and add a teaspoon or two of grated lemon rind. This flavor combination is wonderful with apple pie. Or add about half a cup of finely chopped pecans to the mix before adding the water called for on the package and use when you want pastry shells for chicken pies.

Operation 'Find It'

Mickey, the Riehl's dog, seems to be the only one unconcerned that Mrs. Riehl can't find her T-square and the triangles that she uses in her architectural drawing. They'd better be in that last box!

Couple Seems To Be In The Right Niche

It ever a couple had the right occupation, it is probably L.A. and Mrs. Roy Riehl, 1107 Lamar. He has recently been transferred here by the Air Force.

For one thing, they both like to travel, and they would have plenty of that. Another thing, his hobby in civilian life was flying. He is the owner of a Cessna 40, which he received on his 18th birthday.

He is a graduate of law at Pennsylvania University, and he was associated with his father in his law office before joining the service. His home is in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Mrs. Riehl's home, too, is Pittsburgh, and she is a graduate of Carnegie Institute of Technology in that city. She is in a rather unusual line for members of her sex—architecture.

After her graduation, she worked for an architectural firm who designed the Herford County courthouse in North Carolina, as well as a school and some ultra-modern houses. Quite a bit of glass was incorporated in the houses.

For the Pittsburgh Engineering Corp. she worked on drawings for a Westinghouse plant, and she has drawn plans for housing projects, schools and hospitals. For the government, she has helped in the drawing of designs for transmitter and communications buildings and for efficient service clubs.

She had thing about not working now, she thinks, is that her fingers got stiff and out of practice. She wants to continue her profession as soon as it is possible for her to do so.

L.A. Riehl is quite interested in photography, too, and they have slides of pictures made on all their trips, including their five-week wedding trip across the continent and down the West Coast after their marriage in September of 1953. Other interesting slides were made at the South Carolina tobacco auctions, where the smell of the tobacco was so sweet that it was almost sickening, according to the couple.

Incidentally, they were in South Carolina at the time of Hurricane Hazel's visit last year, and it was "pretty bad," expecting the house to be blown away at any time. Well, they should feel at home here on most of our spring days, anyway!

Eastern Stars To Have Called Meet

Members of the Big Spring Eastern Star and the Laura B. Hart Chapters will have a called meeting at 7:30 p.m. at the Masonic Hall Wednesday.

At this time, they will join with all other Texas chapters to hold memorial services for local and state members who have died. Mrs. James A. Wright is worthy matron of the Laura B. Hart Chapter, and Marie Bradshaw heads the Big Spring Chapter.

Teatime treat: Make lengthwise cuts in the top of brown-and-serve rolls; insert a piece of cheese and one of partly-cooked bacon in each cut. Brush the tops of the rolls with melted butter or margarine, sprinkle with paprika and bake according to package directions.

Has Bridal Shower

A kitchen shower, honoring Kitty Roberts, was another of the pre-nuptial affairs being given for her. Mrs. Bill Tubb and Mrs. Dan Lewis, entertained in the Tubb home Saturday afternoon. The table was decorated with miniature kitchen utensils and centered with a container of soft drinks in an arrangement of carnations. The guest list included 35.

Bethany Class Meet

The Bethany Sunday School Class of East Fourth Baptist Church met recently in the home of Mrs. J. M. Slate. The devotion was given by Mrs. H. J. Rogers and prayers were offered by Mrs. C. M. Harrell and Mrs. G. C. Casdale. Birthday gifts were presented to Mrs. Olen Lewis and Mabel Dunnagan. Guests were Mrs. Edna Hampton and Callie Dunnagan.

Lees HD Club Meets In New Clubhouse

Meeting in their new clubhouse for the first time, members of the Lees Home Demonstration Club recently voted to buy a stove for the kitchen. Mrs. J. J. Overton presided over the meeting.

Mrs. Jim Eiland gave a demonstration of upholstering furniture. Mrs. Ray Baker, the hostess, served refreshments to 12 members. The next meeting is scheduled for May 12, at which time, Mrs. Leroy Dolon will be the hostess.

Ever feel uncertain about just how to toast fillets when a recipe calls for them in this form? Here's how to do it: Put the shelled nuts in a shallow pan in a very slow (250°F) oven and heat them for 15 to 20 minutes. After this you'll brisley.

THE PRESCRIPTION PHARMACY

THE GREATEST MODERN MOVEMENT Toward Improved Health

More than one-third of our nation's people voluntarily and freely pay for medical or hospital care in advance through cooperative insurance plans. This is probably the greatest voluntary movement toward improved health and welfare in the history of the world.

Every phase of this activity is laudable. The cooperation of industry and its employees, and the foresight of breadwinners to invest money in their families' health in advance of actual need, are evidence of progress. Active participation of the medical profession is evidence of its stature.

The desire for improved health, and the newly found personal pride and dignity of the individual are universal; and you may depend upon us, as upon your physician, in the achievement of these objectives for your family.

Country Club Members To Have Busy Time In May

Members of the Big Spring Country Club can look forward to a busy schedule with the various activities already planned and more, of course, to take place. This afternoon, open house is being held to which the public is invited. Calling hours are from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. Hostesses will be the following members of the Ladies Golf Association: Mrs. Marvin Saunders, president of the group; Mrs. Bernice Coughlin, Mrs. Sunny Edwards, Mrs. Tommy Hutto, Mrs. Bill French, Mrs. Ova Mae Edwards, Mrs. James Dugan, Mrs. Elmo Wasson, Mrs. Ed Swift, Mrs. Matt Harrington, Mrs.

Roscoe Cooper, Mrs. J. E. Hogan, Mrs. Roy Townsend, Mrs. Jayner Atkins, Mrs. H. W. Wright, Mrs. Fred Kasech, Mrs. Jim Zack and Mrs. J. R. Hatch. Friday at 3 p.m. the Ladies Golf Association will have the regular monthly meeting. Reservations for the luncheon must be made by noon Thursday. Call 4-7701. Friday evening the Men's Domino Tournament will be held at the club at 7:30. Reservations for this must be in by noon Friday. The same number, 4-7701, may be called.

Saturday the club pool will be opened at 11 a.m. until that evening. A Sportsman's Dinner will be held beginning at 9 o'clock. Joe Williamson's orchestra will furnish the music.

On May 10, a bridge tournament will be open to men and women. This will start at 7:30 p.m. and reservations must be made by 5 p.m. that day. The Wednesday Night Dance Club will have one of the four dances of the year on May 11, with Jack Free and his orchestra playing for dancing till 1 a.m.

Scotch Foursomes will be the order of the day on May 15, with play beginning at 1 p.m. The Men's Domino Tournament will be held on May 20, and the bridge players will meet again on May 24. A Family Night Dinner is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. on May 26, and on May 29, there will be a Couples Golf tournament. This will begin at 1:30 p.m.

You don't have to keep your eye on a skillet when you prepare fried chicken this way. Brown the chicken pieces, dip them in buttermilk and then in flour, in hot fat on top of the range; then arrange the chicken in a casserole, cover and bake in a moderate oven for 30 to 40 minutes or until tender.

COSDEN CHATTER

Cosdenite Will Have Trip For Business, Pleasure

Carroll Belton left Big Spring Friday at noon to attend a meeting of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers at Houston. He will be combining business with pleasure by doing a little deep sea fishing at Galveston. Before returning to Big Spring, he will visit the Pan American Refining Company to study their ultraformer, and plans to be back in the office Thursday morning.

Capitol Aides' Rule: No Politics

By JANE EADS
WASHINGTON — Capitol Hill secretaries by-pass politics and plan ways to get away from it all when they gather twice a month in the caucus room of the Old House Office building at meetings of their lively, closely-knit Congressional Secretaries Club.

Right now, the organization of some 800 members — administrative assistants, secretaries, clerks to senators and congressmen and committees of Congress — are deep in plotting junkies and parties clear through next October.

Their bosses aren't invited to their first big shindig — a cocktail party — because "they have their own parties," but in May when the group has its annual variety show the congressmen get a special invitation. "That's the time they get to see themselves as their secretaries see them," says Marie Warme, secretary to Rep. Miller (R-Neb.) and the club's new president. "We give them a satire on Capitol Hill goings on. Most of them enjoy the fun as much as we do. We ask some of the leaders to address the dinner, too, but we don't take sides, politically, ever."

LONDON — Svetlana Beriosova, the British ballerina who has caused a sensation in London, believes that all work and no play makes a dull dancer. "I love baseball," says the 22-year-old Svetlana, who was born in Lithuania, educated in New York and is a British subject. She confides that she was a "poor field, good hit" on the girl's baseball team at P.S. 59 in New York. She also enjoys movies, the theater and talking politics. British critics are forecasting for Svetlana a role as successor to Margot Fonteyn, prima ballerina assoluta of the noted Sadler's Wells Ballet, who has been acclaimed as the foremost dancer in the Western World.

'ROUND TOWN'

By LUCILLE PICKLE

Big Spring people are planning a busy weekend what with many attending the opera performances in Dallas and the big program slated by the United Council of church women.

The junior college students who are planning to hear the Friday evening show plan to leave Friday at 5 a.m. in order to be able to see "Cinema Holiday" Friday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hendrix are to accompany the group.

Mrs. C. W. Norman is to be a guest of her sister, Mrs. Winston Wallender, at the Music Club luncheon Thursday in Wichita Falls. This is an annual affair and is to be held in the Woman's Forum.

The program for the observance of May Fellowship Day sponsored by the United Council of Church Women should be interesting to everyone, but especially to parents who are concerned about the religious life of their children. The national theme is "The Responsible Christian Family." If you can come, do so. There will be a nursery open and the children will be well cared for.

Mrs. A. W. Dillon, former resident, stopped here briefly recently with her son 2nd Lt. Larry Dillon. They had been in Dallas to find a house as they will move from Amarillo in two months. They had stopped in Abilene to visit with Patricia Dillon who is a student in McMurry.

The Junior Woman's Forum's first affair to entertain the other forums of the group was a nice affair and the members did all the floral arrangements and refreshment preparations. The tea cloth made in Malta was interesting in that the central pattern was the Maltese Cross and this same design was picked up to form a border. And, speaking of something attractive, the skirt worn by Mrs. L. B. Maule, a tea guest, featured a large fish design. Their eyes were sparkling sequins.

One hundred and twenty Girl Scouts and their parents attended the box supper given recently at the First Christian Church. Seventy-nine girls received 1st badges and 22 ranks. Five senior Scouts got senior service emblems and three museum aid bars were awarded. Eight troops were represented.

It's a distinct pleasure to hear the bands of Junior High and High School play. When they make music like they did at their recent concert you know they know their music, they like to play it and take great pride in accomplishment. Their directors Clyde Rowe and Bobby Robbins are to be commended.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Maines have received word of the marriage of their son, Pfc. Bobby Maines, to S. C. Dorothy Deyo. They were married on April 17th at Yuma, Ariz., in the Gretna Green Wedding chapel. They are now living at 3214 Blakely St., San Diego, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Fay Brooks of 311 NE 11th St. are expecting their son, Capt. Stephen L. Brooks, and family for a visit about May 1. Capt. Brooks is stationed at Camp Pendleton, Calif. and has only recently returned from Korea.

Because Mother's Day programs are always so special and there are always outstanding church programs the church page editor would appreciate notices being brought in or phoned in by Wednesday afternoon, if possible.

To Sing Here Monday

The Chapel Choir from the Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary, Berkeley, Calif., will present a concert at the First Baptist Church here at 8 p.m. Monday. The men's quartet, above, as well as the women's ensemble and the men's chorus will have parts on the program. Quartet members, left to right, are Wayne Nance, a former Big Springer, and D. Jones, T. Rose and T. Johnson. The choir's visit will be a "homecoming" for Mrs. Orline Saffern, pianist. Mrs. Saffern formerly lived in Big Spring and is the daughter of Rev. S. B. Hughes, former pastor of the East Fourth Street Baptist Church.

Licenses A Vital Part Of 'Tackle' On Fishing Trips

If you're planning to go fishing anywhere except in your own or a neighbor's stock tank, the odds are that you'll need a fishing license. Maybe two.

A state license is required for fishing on any public body of water — lake or stream. That's except for fishermen who live in the county where the fishing hole is situated. And even they need a state license if they use artificial bait.

In addition, most agencies such as municipalities or water districts, which own and control most good fishing places also require sportsmen to equip themselves with local fishing licenses or permits.

The city-owned Moss Creek Lake and the Colorado River Municipal Water Districts Lake J. B. Thomas are two examples in this area where both state and local licenses are required, provided the fisherman resides outside the county. The local permits also specify local rules fishermen are expected to abide by, in addition to the state fish and game regulations. The regulations are printed on the back of the permits, or in other literature which the issuing agency provides.

Fishing without a license or permit is required are privately-owned and "land-locked" ponds or lakes, the State Game and Fish Commission recently pointed out. By land-locked, the commission means that the lake or tank is not subject to overflow from any public body of water or stream.

There is one other restriction on the provision that a fisherman doesn't need a state license if he is fishing in the county of his residence. If he uses artificial bait, he must have the license even in his home county.

The state license costs $1.65 and is available in Big Spring at any hardware or sporting goods store. It entitles the bearer to fish in any public lake or stream in the state, provided he also has fulfilled the local requirements.

At Lake J. B. Thomas, an additional recreational license is required for fishing, hunting or boating. It costs 50 cents a day and may be purchased from the lake-keeper, near the lake dam. An annual permit may be secured for $5.

The City of Big Spring requires a special permit or license for fishermen using Moss Creek Lake.

Man's Dream Of Taking Off Like Bird Still Unfulfilled

WASHINGTON, April 30 (AP) — Ever since man first sized up the birds, he has dreamed of stepping from his cave or home, and taking off grandly in flight.

So finally he learned to fly, after a fashion. But no matter how fast he jet propelled himself through space, the birds have had the last twitter.

For even a small airplane needs a runway, and as cities grow larger and land becomes more and more expensive, the dream seems farther away than ever.

But wait a minute. What about the helicopter?

That's why a lot of fellow dreamers were on hand Saturday seeking an answer, when the American Helicopter Society held its annual exhibit.

First, this aside. The helicopter remains one of our strange inventions.

In no time at all, automobiles, baby carriages and lawnmowers require certain family resemblances.

There are helicopters with a rotor whirling directly overhead. There are helicopters with a rotor overhead and a small pusher propeller behind. There are helicopters with two rotors overhead. Some look like boxcars, absurdly bent in the middle, but just dandy, their makers say, for clearing an ocean of enemy mines.

About all they seem to have in common is this: No matter how they're built, they resemble a strange beetle, or maybe a worm that has learned to fly.

The nearest thing to man's dream of flying from his cave door so far as this exhibit goes, is the Hoppla-Copter. This is a weird contraption that includes a motor to be strapped to one's back and a couple of whirling rotors above.

The manufacturer says hopefully that these are the things for boosting troops up mountain sides or moving them from ship to shore.

But these, like the other small helicopters that have been in the news lately, seemed designed for military use. Isn't anything being done for us homing pigeon civilians?

If it is available at the lake for a quarter.

Rules for fishing at the city reservoir now are being revised by a special committee appointed by the city commission. On the panel are Jake Hancock, Horace Reagan, Ray Clark, Jack Price, Louis Manely and Ben Aubury.

Lake Thomas regulations provide that fishermen may use pole and line, rod and reel, fly rod, throw-line line (limited to two hooks), trotlines (30-hook limit). Trotlines are limited to one per person or two per group. The two can't be tied together. Traps and nets are prohibited, of course.

Persons violating the local regulations at either J. B. Thomas or Moss Creek are subject to misdemeanor prosecution. State laws also prohibit violations for violations of state regulations.

INCLUDING LOCAL WINNER

155 Soap Box Champs To Race For $15,000 In Scholarships

DETROIT — A record field of 155 champions will race for $15,000 in college scholarships and other valuable prizes and trophies in the 18th All-American Soap Box Derby at Derby Downs in Akron, Ohio, Sunday, August 14.

Besides the $5,000 first place scholarship, the national champion will receive the beautiful Chevrolet championship trophy and a gold Ringmaster Soap Box Derby ring similar to that presented each year to the winner of the Indianapolis Speedway Race. The official list of prizes at stake in the world famous boys' amateur racing event has been announced by W. G. Power, executive director of the All-American and advertising manager of Chevrolet Motor Division, which sponsors the race with leading newspapers and civic organizations.

Power said that the 155 local races from which champions will come to the All-American in Akron is the largest field in the history of the Derby, topping the previous record of 154 in 1952.

Other scholarships to be placed on the line on race day are: Second place, $4,000; third, $3,000; fourth, $2,000; and fifth, $1,000. Each of these winners also will receive trophies.

Prizes for those finishing next in line are: Sixth, Bell & Howell motion picture camera and projector; seventh, 21-inch Admiral television-radio combination set; eighth, complete five-in-one Shopsmith power tool unit; ninth, Webster portable tape recorder; and tenth, a power tool trunk containing spray gun, bench grinder, sander and polisher, electric drill, soldering iron and power tool kit. Champions showing exceptional skill and care in building their Derby cars also will be recognized with special awards to be presented at the Banquet of Champions following the race.

These include Chevrolet trophies for the drivers whose cars are judged to have the best brakes and best design and for the driver registering the fastest single heat of the day. Shell Oil Co. will award a plaque and a deluxe tool bench with 29 Stanley tools to the driver with the best constructed car. Collins & Alkman Corp., automobile upholstery manufacturer, will present a boy's "adjuster" kit to the driver with the best upholstered car. The kit contains equipment for virtually every sport.

Sponsors of the first five place winners also will be awarded trophies. Each of the 155 champions who comes to Akron will be given an Elgin 17-jewel sweep-second hand wrist watch with Soap Box Derby inscription on the back and a Soap Box Derby racing diploma. Likewise, each local champion wins the specially designed T. H. Keating plaque, named for the general manager of Chevrolet. Champions may keep the All-American racing helmets, shirts and city flags as race mementoes.

In the Big Spring race, in all other local races, other special awards will be given. Collins & Alkman Corp. will award a Burgess Power spray kit to the driver with the best upholstered racer. For the best constructed car in each local race, Shell Oil Co. has in the past five years, will present a Stanley tool board. Each local racing contestant keeps his helmet as a souvenir. There are in addition to many local prizes.

The biggest local prize of all, of course, is the trip to Akron, a racing week-end of thrills and excitement and the stay at Derbytown, the official home of the champions on the picturesque shores of Lake Y-Not.

70-Mile Speed Bill Okayed

AUSTIN — A 70-mile-per-hour speed limit for autos on divided highways in Texas gained approval of the House Friday, along with 64 other House and Senate bills.

The other measures got tentative approval but failed to reach final passage as the House considered its longest "local and uncontested calendar" of the session. The House quit until 10 a.m. Monday after finishing the calendar.

The Senate adjourned until 10:30 a.m. Monday after sending to the governor a proposed constitutional change allowing the state to give cash reimbursement to persons who have served time in prison for crimes of which they are innocent.

Uncertainty Hangs Over Chiang's Isle

TAIPEI, Formosa — Uncertainty hangs over Chiang Kai-shek's capital these days, feeding upon the fear that proposed talks between the United States and Communist China would do the Nationalist Chinese government no good. The official policy is to say nothing just now.

Despite this reticence signs of worry find expression. The Kung Jan Pao, a paper published by Formosan interests, said today Red China is baiting a trap for the United States and that the United States might fall for it.

"The United States will abandon its stand for justice if it talks with a regime condemned as an aggressor by the United Nations," the paper said. It said Nationalist China would not be bound by any cease-fire agreement.

Hu Chiu-yuan, a member of the Legislative Yuan (Parliament), complained in the second of a series of newspaper articles that the United States has no firm policy against Moscow's long-range plans to oust American influence from Europe and Asia.

Big Spring Not Short Of Tourist Accommodations

Big Spring, where two of the nation's longest highways cross, does not lack for tourist facilities.
This city has 24 motels capable of accommodating upwards of 750 people. Five hotels have rooms for around 1,000 others, and the 15 trailer courts are available for individuals with traveling homes.

It is estimated that well over
2,000 tourists could be housed here

$6,000 DAILY

Tourists Bring 'New Money' Here

Big Spring's 24 motels and five hotels bring in between $4,000 and $6,000 in new money to the city daily, according to conservative estimates.

There are 325 motel and hotel rooms in Big Spring, and they can accommodate upwards of 1,600 people.

About 500 of these rooms are filled nightly, it is believed, though there are not always two people in them. Average number of visitors per evening is pegged at 750.

The new money estimate comes as a result of State Highway Department figures, which point out that the average tourist spends approximately $7.50 per day.

If each one of the Big Spring visitors spent this amount when stopping here, the total spent daily would be somewhere around $5,850.

Assuming that amount is spent per day, the annual total would exceed $2,000,000.

Of course, the estimate cannot hold true in all cases, and the number of rooms filled is not always the same. Consequently the amount of "new money" brought into the city each day varies.

Around $4,000 is about as low as the dip normally goes; however, and more often than not the figure pushes the $5,000 mark.

This summer the total will probably go much higher, as the Highway Department's report shows peak-motel business to be between March and October. Particularly break periods are July and August.

The trend in recent years is for travelers to head for motels rather than the hotels. However hotels still do a brisk tourist business here, and hotel restaurant business is still among the best.

Not all the $7.50 per person spent per day is for housing facilities. The money is divided into portions for eating, car services, and recreation.

Motels here have 362 rooms available for tourists, and hotels have another 464. Units range from those with kitchenettes, and air conditioning to others with four walls and a bed.

Price range for a room is from $1 per person per night to $9.

Some Of The Finest Motels Located In Big Spring

Big Spring has some of the finest motels in the Southwest to accommodate tourists traveling on Highways 80 and 87.

Twenty-four motels are listed in the city directory and at the local Chamber of Commerce, and they have facilities to please even the most particular traveler.

Efficiency apartments, wall do wall carpeting, radios, vented heat, refrigerated air, tile baths, garages, telephones, kitchen units and 24-hour service are only a few of the items featured in the motels.

The tourist courts range in size from eight units to 43 units, and price range is from $1 per person per night to $9. There are 362 rooms available.

Some of the motels here are recommended by Duncan Hines, and four are recommended by the American Automobile Association.
One has the B.W.M. stamp of approval.

By far the majority of motels here are on Third Street, and a number have openings on the new Fourth Street highway artery. Only five of the 24 listed are on Highway 87.

There are 15 trailer courts here to supplement the facilities offered by the motels. These courts have electric, water and gas outlets ready to hook up to the trailers.

Farm License Permit Urged

AUSTIN—Farmers who have a pickup truck which bears a farm license tag break the law if they drive their youngsters to school in it or use it to take the family to church.

Rep. A. Y. Bishop, Jr., of Winters thinks that's unfair, and the farm family who has to use its pickup as the "family auto" and he has introduced a bill to change the situation.

The House gave him permission this week to introduce a bill eliminating the affidavit farmers now must sign when they get their farm license tag.

Inquiries from the Runnels Farm Bureau prompted the bill.

Col. Homer Garrison, head of the Department of Public Safety, told Bishop his men were not instructed to give tickets to pickups parked at church and he knew of no such incidents. He asked for definite reports if it had happened.

On March 31 R. W. Weddell, chief of registration of the State Highway Department's motor vehicle division, said on March 31 that investigators from that branch of the state government would begin filing misdemeanor criminal cases where they found farm-tagged vehicles being used for any purpose other than those set out in the affidavit.

No Error Found In Howard Case

The Texas Supreme Court found no reversible error in its review of the compensation and damage suit styled Mrs. G. P. Chunn versus the Texas Employers' Insurance Association.

Application for writ of error, filed by the insurance group, was turned down Wednesday. The case was tried in 11th District Court of Howard County and Mrs. Chunn received judgement for $3,000 for herself and four minor children.

The case was filed following the death of her husband in a highway crash eight miles northeast of Big Spring on Aug. 8, 1932.

to wall carpeting, radios, vented heat, tile baths, 24-hour service, and many other things.
The tourist courts range in luxury from the finest to the not so fine. Some of the motels here will rival those of any place in the nation, being ultra-modern in every respect.

Not only do the motels bring in quite a bit of money to the city, but they help in distributing it to citizens here. It is estimated that around 100 people take home weekly pay checks as a result of employment by motels.

That the trial of your faith, being much more precious than of gold that perisheth, though it be tried with fire, might be found unto praise and honor and glory at the appearing of Jesus Christ, (1 Peter 1:7)

Editorial

Traffic A Pain—But Growing One

One of the signs of growth and progress is that the traffic problem becomes increasingly vexing. By that standard our community is experiencing pronounced growing pains.

The City of Big Spring has a good adjunct in dealing with this matter in the form of the Citizens Traffic Commission. Practically all things concerning traffic are referred to the city commission by the CTC for study and recommendation. Generally, but by no means always, the commission follows the recommendations.

While we have had our share of fender-benders—and sometimes more—we think the record in the more important department of serious injuries and fatalities is good. Now, if we could just get at this business of hanging into sides and backs of cars at intersections, our property loss and eventually perhaps our rates might be reduced. In the final analysis, only the general cooperation of citizens will help this situation. Only by being alert and considerate as well as careful can these annoying and potentially dangerous collisions be reduced drastically.

Last week the CTC recommended a light at 10th and State but also that the possibility be explored of bringing Sycamore into 10th as a direct instead of an offset intersection. No doubt about it, this is currently a trouble spot. In this connection, we would submit that there is an equally disconcerting situation on West Seventeenth Street.

At the recommendation of the CTC, lights eventually will be erected on West Fourth and Reside and San Jacinto with the avowed purpose of slowing down traffic.

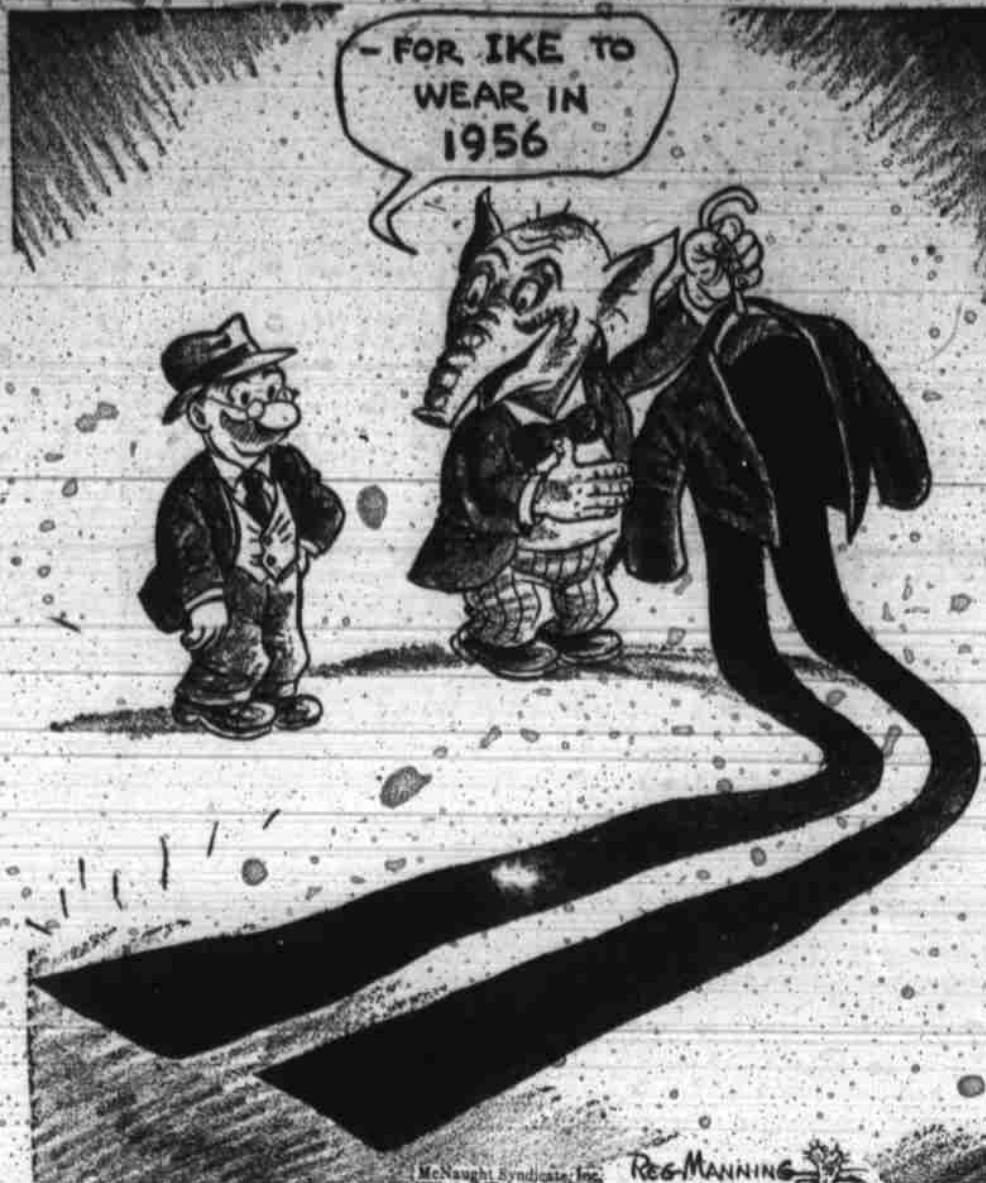

This may have the desired effect, and if it does then the last argument for not installing one or more lights on North Gregg Street will have been conceded. Our north side traffic situation needs some consideration right along with the south side.

We do not exactly follow the reasoning on a signal light at 7th and Main while leaving 6th and Main without change, except to eliminate U turns. Without a light the constant services of a policeman may be required to enforce the no U turn edict.

The red flasher for a four-way stop at 18th and Goshard seems well advised. This has worked wonders for the safety of youngsters out around Washington Place School.

Now that two women are going to patrol downtown streets to watch against overtime parking and static violations, the volume of tickets may increase. The downtown boxes for depositing $1 with violation tickets should facilitate payment of tickets. The boxes will at least remove the alibi of not having time to go to the City Hall. Courtesy tickets for out-of-town drivers will help build good will.

In this connection, we should like to observe that 5,000 tickets on the docket are too many. No doubt hundreds of them are dead ducks, so to speak. Those ought to be expunged from the docket. Then efforts should be redoubled to bring all others into court. Once the docket is put in sound current condition, pressure should be exerted to keep it that way. We pay our tickets or protest them in court when we feel they are unjust. Everyone should lick this same log.

Federal Reserve Looking Ahead On Stock Speculation

Three 12-year-olds were carrying on a conversation between licks of ice-cream cones. One said: "My grandfather's going to move to California as soon as he makes enough money in the stock market."

Another said: "My father took the $78 I had in the bank and bought me some stock."

The first one said: "I hope it's St. Joe Lead. That's what I have."

The third said: "I've got Du Pont. So has my whole family." After that worldly-wise pronouncement, he burst into song, "Davy Crockett." The others joined him.

Clearly, the stock market, like "Davy Crockett," has become part of American culture. Children of upper-middle-class families speak with naive knowledge of corporations—not just the leaders, such as General Motors or Du Pont, but St. Joseph Lead.

No wonder the Federal Reserve Board is worried. Speculation isn't confined to brokers' Board rooms. It has reached the middle-class dinner table. That explains the Reserve Board's second boost in margin requirements this year—from 80 per cent to 70 per cent.

The move is another warning, another attempt at psychology. It isn't as if Wall Street were top-heavy with loans. Total debt to equity is about $4,000,000,000. That's not a large ratio to the $115,000,000,000 of stock on the New York Stock Exchange—more than $115,000,000,000. Twice as much money was lent on stocks in 1929, and stocks were valued at only $30,000,000,000. Moreover, margin requirements then were only 10 per cent, as against 70 per cent today.

No doubt about it. The market is much less vulnerable to a devastating decline than in 1929. This prompted one broker to ask me: "Why do they pick on Wall Street? Stocks are only reflecting the general economic well-being, the boom in corporation earnings."

The Reserve Board ought to put curbs on housing credit, on installment credit. That's where the speculation is. That's where the trouble will develop, if it does develop. Not in the stock market.

That's not the way the Reserve sees it. It finds an astonishing parallel between the stock market rise and the rise in stock-market debt, in the amount of customers' L.O.U.'s to brokers (see chart). This is a sign of increased speculation and equipment; that heavy construction contract awards in the first 17 weeks were nearly 50 per cent higher than in the same period last year and 20 per cent above the previous high in '33; that railroads are again in the market for freight cars; that farm equipment sales are better; that machine tool orders are at an 18-month high. Prosperity has developed a powerful upswing. Con-

Prosperity has developed a powerful upswing. Con-tion of increased market vulnerability, even though total loans aren't great.

The Reserve Board is looking ahead. That's its job. It's aware—as are most persons—that the stock market is a speculative market. It's aware that the stock market is a speculative market. It's aware that the stock market is a speculative market.

production pace of 180,000 passenger cars per week, of 9,000,000 cars per year. The best estimate of 1933 sales is 6,000,000 cars. A decline is sure to set in during the second half of the year, strike or no strike over the guaranteed annual wage. This will cut employment. It will affect demand for steel, copper, upholstery, tires.

Has Wall Street taken that into account?

That is what the Federal Reserve governors are wondering. They recognize that business is good, that business organizations plan to spend increasing sums on new plant and equipment; that heavy construction contract awards in the first 17 weeks were nearly 50 per cent higher than in the same period last year and 20 per cent above the previous high in '33; that railroads are again in the market for freight cars; that farm equipment sales are better; that machine tool orders are at an 18-month high. But will this change? Will investors and speculators start selling stocks if they see a drop in employment, in production, and profits later this year—because of autos? Will business men discuss postponing plant expansion? Will that generate a wave of misconfidence?

The Reserve Board is trying to fend off such a shock. But it would rather warn than act rashly. It's trying to caution banks, builders, installment finance companies, investors and speculators that it is willing to tighten credit if need be. It permitted a rise in the discount rate from 1 1/2 per cent to 1 3/4 per cent. That was mild. A boost to 2 per cent would have been more decisive. Also more scary.

But the Reserve doesn't want mortgage money so tight that building will dry up. It hesitates to tighten installment credit so that automobile dealers will suddenly find they can't sell cars. That would be 1937 all over again. The Reserve doesn't want to cause a money squeeze which will hurt all business. Result: A paradox.

To Wall Street, these warnings are a form of encouragement. They indicate the Reserve is more concerned about exuberance than poor business. And Wall Street is so exuberant about it all that stock talk reaches youngsters at the dinner table. White-hot what worries the governors.

U.S. Considering Base On Formosa

WASHINGTON—The United States is considering establishing an American base on Formosa under its treaty guarantee to defend the Chinese Nationalist island against any Communist attack.

The base plan is part of a series of arrangements being developed by the State Department, Defense Department and White House which would be factors in negotiating a cease-fire and possibly an eventual settlement of the whole Formosa problem.

Establishing an American base of jet fighter planes and Marine units, as it is presently contemplated, would have importance in several respects, officials said.

First of all, it would be a symbol of American determination to prevent the island's falling to the Communists.

Even more important, it was said, the assignment of an American force, more or less permanent, to the island, even though a small token force, would increase the Chinese Nationalist sense of security.

Around The Rim

Just How Much Blessing Is The Typewriter?

Got to reading a little piece the other day about the origin of the typewriter. An Illinois professor has written a history of the machine and the people who developed it.

This source says that one Christopher Latham Sholes of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, a newspaperman, started tinkering with what he called a "literary piano" as a hobby, but he never had much faith in its commercial success and wasn't too keen on keeping his interest in the gadget. He had another newspaper man, James H. Densmore, associated with him, and Densmore was the promoter type who foresaw the typewriter's future and carried it through much of the early day struggles.

Sholes' first typewriter, made in 1867, had many of the basic features of today's machine—and later he developed such features as separate type bars, the letter-space movement, carriage and platen, and ribbon movement. It was Densmore who finally gave the device its name—the typewriter.

Well, there's been a jillion of them made, I guess, since 1867. The professor who wrote the history of the machine opines:

"The typewriter hastened the entry of thousands upon thousands of women workers into what had been a preserve for men and what might have remained one for years to come. It swelled tremendously the output of recorded words. It also made possible a growing complexity of life.

"It facilitated the rise of both Big Business and Big Bureaucracy, which together have furnished a central theme of American history since the Civil War. These required vastly more sheer paper work than any number of old-time clerks, equipped with pen and ink, could efficiently handle. For businessmen and bureaucrats alike, the typewriter arrived just in the nick of time."

I am not going to take issue with the historian's viewpoint, and I would not want to belittle the device with which I earn my daily bread, some conclusions might be open to varying interpretations. There are two schools of thought about the typewriter, you might say.

Who got here first, the chicken or the egg? Did the typewriter produce Big Bureaucracy, or vice versa? If the typewriter brought it on, then one solution to today's political problems would be to snatch all the machines out of the offices and have the clerks get back to paper and quills. This would, I wager, reduce the number of copies that have to be distributed, and therefore the amount of filing space that has to be maintained.

And then there's this invasion of the business world by woman. Maybe the keyboard, gadget, was a factor, but women being the alert, bright creatures that they are, business would have had the invasion just the same. Nobody said the riveting machine brought women into business, but in the way days there were plenty of Rosies at the business end of one of these tools.

Oh, sure, the typewriter has hastened business processes, and brought more of the fairer sex into the confines of the office. It even brought on the "steno pool," a place I have always wanted to be turned loose in, but never had the opportunity. But the typewriter also has brought on more shoulder-stops, more bl-focals, more calloused fingers and more torn fingernails than all other devices dreamed up together. That's good?

And the first fellow who called it a "literary piano." Did he ever dream that his masterpiece of creation would be responsible for the flood of discords and downright cesterwaulings that have filled this old orb of ours? Like I say, a lot of lousy things come out of a typewriter.

Commies Change Their Tune On Atom Danger

PARIS—French officials whose business it is to follow minutely the changes in the trend of Communist propaganda throughout the world have lately observed an important reversal in the attitude of the Soviet agitators with respect to atomic warfare.

Heretofore there has been a steady stream of inspired newspaper and magazine articles, as well as speeches, all making the same point—namely, that atom bombs can mean the destruction of civilization.

Today, for some inexplicable reason, the propaganda has changed so as to emphasize that the use of the atom bomb will mean the end of the capitalist countries. No longer is there a demand for a universal ban on the use of atom bombs or on nuclear tests. Rare stories about the "fall-out" from atom-bomb tests are not given currency inside the Communist world but only throughout the free world.

A checkup on the utterances of the Soviet leaders made by officials here reveals an interesting sequence.

Molotov in March 1954 made a speech during a so-called election campaign in which he declared that "if an atomic war breaks out, it will destroy civilization." But in April 1954—just one month later—in a speech before the Supreme Soviet Council, he did not repeat that assertion. This has been interpreted to mean that the President had been the principal theme of the Communist campaign since the famous peace petition was launched at Stockholm in 1950. The call constantly was for a ban on the atom bomb.

On January 19, 1953, the Communist World Council issued a peace appeal to be signed by millions of supporters throughout the world. In the appeal the statement was made that "Atomic war will result in the extermination of mankind."

Frederic Joliot-Curie, son-in-law of Madame Curie, who discovered radium, was one of the leaders of the Communist peace movement in France. He made a statement in January 1953 which was typical of all the Communist propaganda on atomic warfare. He said:

"The problem is to know if humanity will accept the ruins and the destruction and the death of hundreds of millions of human beings, misery for those who survive, the probable creation in this case of monsters and also the possibility of the abolition of all life on this planet."

Again, in December 1954, the monthly magazine "New Democracy," edited by Jacques Duclos, the number two Communist in France and the leading theorist of the Communist party here, devoted an entire issue to the same subject and played up the comment that "science now has the capability of destroying all life on earth."

Another article, by Roger Mayer, a colleague of Joliot-Curie, appeared in January 1955, saying that "if hydrogen bombs are enough to damage all of France and kill half of the population and leave the rest without industries or work or cities in which to live."

But on February 5, 1955, after the removal of Malenkov and the installation of Bulganin as the authoritative spokesman in behalf of Soviet policy, Molotov in a significant speech at Moscow denounced the theory that an atom war would destroy civilization and declared that it would result only in the destruction of capitalists and imperialists.

Ever since that Molotov speech the entire Soviet press campaign has been centered on the idea that there is no need to be afraid of the atom bomb—it is dangerous only to the Americans.

Then, in March 1955, Maurice Thorez, Communist chief in France, wrote a letter to a Communist newspaper here supporting what Molotov had said and warning French Communists that Americans are trying to "frighten the masses in Europe with their hydrogen bombs. He said:

"It's a great mistake for the Communists to overemphasize the danger of atom warfare because if there were an atomic war, only the capitalists and the imperialists would be destroyed."

Thorez went on to denounce talk of the dangers of atomic warfare as an attempt to make pacifists out of the masses—including the Communists.

What is the significance of this new approach in Communist propaganda? It has been the basic dogma of the Communists that communism will achieve an inevitable triumph everywhere. So, if you admit that the world will be destroyed by atomic warfare, it is the same as admitting the defeat of communism, too.

The new line, therefore, keeps hammering away for disarmament by the West, a ban on its use of atomic warfare and the danger of atomic "fall-out," but no emphasis is given any longer to banning nuclear tests by Europeans. Maybe the Communist leaders now are afraid they might have been leading pacifists out of their following inside as well as outside Russia. But, whatever the reason, it has been the subject of much curiosity here.

TV Dispute Answered

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, (AP)—Television, still new to the North, always drew a faithful—but not peaceful—audience around the set in the Nordland Hotel lobby.

Temperatures were prone to grow short and arguments long over which of the two available channels should be tuned in.

"The hotel management solved the problem. It removed the set."

Tahiti Traffic Peril

PAPEETE, Tahiti (AP)—Civilization is so well established on this once primitive island that automobile accidents have risen at an alarming rate. French authorities now are studying proposed new and drastic traffic laws to punish offending drivers.

How To Fulfill Your Deepest Desires

I spend all too high a proportion of my time on trains and not too long ago I was on a Pullman going from New York to Chicago. The car was warm and I had the "door of my bedroom open. I was working on some papers and both the table and the long seat were covered with them.

I could not help noticing a man walking up and down the corridor who would stop as he passed my door and peer in at me, as if I were an animal on display at the zoo. Finally, he put his head in the door and asked if I was who he thought I was. I told him who I was and, when he asked if he could talk to me.

I invited him in and noticed immediately that he was badly intoxicated. There's no point in talking to anyone in that condition because they are not in a rational state of mind, so under these circumstances I could see no point in our talking and managed to terminate the conversation. I did not wish to seem inhospitable, but was glad I had all those papers over the seat because he hadn't been able to sit down. Ah, fortunately, at this point his wife came along, tugged at his sleeve and got him away.

He came back two or three times that night, and finally I said to him, "I'll talk with you in the morning if you want to come to me then."

"When?" he asked.

"Well," I said, "we get to Chicago about eight-thirty. Come in at seven or seven-thirty."

"Make it seven," he suggested and I agreed, although I really didn't expect him to remember. But the next morning there he was, bright and early.

"I'm glad to see you looking so well, this morning," I told him. "I didn't feel I could talk to you last night because my mind was too tired and not up to it."

"That's a gracious way of putting it," was his answer. "I know whose mind wasn't up to it. But I'm all right now. Do you know why I got the way I did last night? I am so disgusted with myself that I just have to get away from myself for a few hours."

"Do you get any relief?" I asked.

"No," he said. "I'm restless, dissatisfied, unhappy. Do you know what my trouble is?" he asked. "It's that I can't seem to release my deepest desires."

This surprising insight interested me and I asked what was his deepest desire. He told me that it was the one fundamental desire every human being has—to have a sense of worth.

He was right, and William James, the famed psychologist, pointed this out long before this man was born. When a man does not feel he is useful and making a contribution to the world, he begins to lose the precious sense of worthlessness.

I gave my early morning visitor a Bible text that is packed with creative power. It is from the book of Job. "If thou return to the Almighty, thou shalt be built up." And he told him that if he would try to work this out in his own life, he would find that it was true. He has since told me, "I am working on that text, and already it has done wonders for me. I have a long way to go, but with that text I'll get there."

It seems to me that if we repeat that sentence until its fullest meaning sinks in to our consciousness, it can do tremendous things with us. A Viennese psychoanalyst, Dr. Paul DuBois, described this as the "therapy of creative words," the use of words to stimulate the mind and spirit to action.

If you have not fulfilled your deepest desires, try that wise advice from Job. "If thou return to the Almighty, thou shalt be built up." Connect yourself with God's beneficent forces and bring to life within you the joyous feeling that your life is worthwhile.

Chiang Offered A Deal For Cease-Fire

WASHINGTON—What has been proposed to Chiang Kai-shek in return for acceptance of a cease-fire in the Formosa area is the mutual defense of Formosa itself with the direct participation of American forces, in token degree at least, in that defense.

This, it has been learned from informed sources, was the real purpose of the mission to Formosa of Admiral Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Assistant Secretary of State Walter Robertson. As Chiang's staunchest friends in Washington they were to propose such an alternative to the generalissimo in the hope that this would persuade him to accept a cease-fire.

The line of such a cease-fire would be drawn roughly in the middle of the Formosa Strait, which would mean that the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu would eventually be yielded to the Chinese Communists on the mainland. It was fully expected in the discussion at the very highest level of the Radford-Robertson mission, that Chiang would stubbornly resist such a move. Therefore, the idea of direct American participation in the defense of Formosa was to be held out as a persuader.

This, it also was pointed out, would be an answer to the morale problem that has frequently been raised as an obstacle to any "two Chinas" solution of the Formosa issue. The presence, for example, of an American force—perhaps a regimental combat team and a contingent of American jets and American jet pilots—would be a pledge that no surrender of Formosa was contemplated. In this way any tendency among Chiang's forces to defect to the Communists would be checked.

The parallel with West Germany, in particular with Berlin, is obvious. A token force of American troops is still stationed in West Berlin. Any attack by the Communists from the East would involve these troops and would therefore mean the start of a full-scale war.

The United States now has on Formosa a training mission headed by Major General William Chase with a personnel of less than a thousand. They help to train the Nationalist forces in the use of the new equipment being supplied by America. These American soldiers, airmen and sailors, have no authority to participate in any military action in defense of the island.

It must be stressed that the mutual defense proposal was put up to Chiang without any prior consultation with America's allies. The British had not even been informed such a plan was in the works. Partly this secrecy was preserved so that neither Chiang nor his friends in this country could charge that any "deal" had been made to neutralize Formosa as they thought that the British were a party to such an arrangement would stir Chiang's deepest distrust.

Radford and Robertson had left on their mysterious mission, before Chou En-lai, Red China's Premier, made his Bandung statement favoring negotiation. Whereupon Secretary Dulles responded that the United States was ready to negotiate on the Far East even without the presence of Nationalist China at the conference table. This could alter the significance of that mission. But the very few persons here in Washington familiar with the reasons for setting the two top officials on this emergency assignment believe that recent events may help to persuade Chiang to accept the American offer. He would thereby have a powerful participating partner to help insure that he remain in control of his island bastion.

Bible Words for Today

An amazing suggestion for daily living comes from Paul's letter to the Ephesians:

EPHESIANS 3:20-21. "Now unto him that is able to do exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think, according to the power that worketh in us, unto him be glory in the church by Christ Jesus throughout all ages, world without end. Amen."

"In the church," poor, weak, sinful men and women and children are privileged to add to the glory of God. By means of the power which has come into the world through Jesus Christ; people in the church may do at least one thing which produces added glory for God.

By telling and retelling the wonders God has done in their own lives ordinary people have a part in increasing His earthly glory; which is His reputation among men as "the One who answers prayer."

Paul suggests that by "asking and thinking" yet more things for God to do, believers may go on continually adding to His glory on earth! By enlarging their faith and by "dreaming up" things which God may do, people in the church may actually open the way for His wonderful power to do more and more marvelous things in our common human life. Thus believers in God may add to His glory!

Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle

The Herald's Entertainment Page Of Top Comies

Top Bookings Emphasize The Slogan, 'May Is Movie Month'

May is Movie Month in Big Spring, and the Big Spring Theatre will feature the best films obtainable for the local audience. Many new and excellent films have already been booked for local theaters, and more will be brought here as they are released. May will be a memorable month in entertainment for the city and today's offerings are a good example of the fare that will be offered during the month.

"So This Is Paris" starring Tony Curtis and Gloria De Haven is the first of many musicals that will be here. "Just My Darling" with Esther Williams and Howard Keel will be offered later in the month.

Two very good stories of the nation's military academy will be coming up in a few weeks. "Long Gray Line" with Tyrone Power and Maureen O'Hara will tell the story of West Point. And "The Annapolis Story" with John Derek and Diana Lynn will tell the story of the Navy's cadet school. "Long Gray Line" will be in CinemaScope and Technicolor. Tyrone Power will be starred in another hit picture also. "Untamed" will costar him with Susan Hayward and promises to be one of the more exciting pictures of the year.

If you prefer western movies, there will be several very good ones offered during May. "Cattle Queen of Montana" with Barbara Stanwyck and Ronald Reagan. "Shogun" with Sterling Hayden and Yvonne DeCarlo, and "Gunfighters" with Randolph Scott and Barbara Britton are all on the way.

If you missed Grace Kelly in her earlier movies, she will be back three times during the month in starring roles. "Rear Window" has her costarring this week with James Stewart and later on in "Dial M For Murder" with Ray Milland.

Banners Proclaim Movie Month

House managers for the Big Spring Theaters have been busy this week preparing for a special campaign, "May Is Movie Month." It will be signaled here by a booking of outstanding cinema attractions, both the newest releases and re-runs of some outstanding favorites. Displaying the special movie banners are Ada Handlin, Lyric; Jerry Patterson, Jet and Terrace Drive-ins; Mrs. Logan Baker, Ritz; and Mrs. Nina Carter, State.

"The Bridges of Toko-Ri" places her opposite William Holden and will also be here on a return run. Other favorites will also be brought back during the month. "The Egg and I" starring Claudette Colbert and Fred MacMurray is the movie that established the comedy team of Marjorie Main and Percy Aldridge in the "Ma and Pa Kettle" series. "O'Henry's Full House" is the film that gave so many beginning actors and actresses their first roles and the "O'Henry's of the Film" is another classic that will make a return run. There are many, many other films coming in May that you will want to see, both new releases and return engagements. Make plans now to see them. (By the way, the Robb reports he has seen an advance preview of "Long Gray Line" and that it is a very good picture.)

Ah! It's Romance!

Tony Curtis receives a kiss from Gloria De Haven in this scene from "So This Is Paris" playing today and Monday at the Ritz. The Technicolor musical comedy also stars Corinne Calvet, Paul Gilbert, and Gene Nelson.

Musicomedy Fare In 'So This Is Paris'

Three sailors on leave, three girls in love, and five little orphans in trouble make "So This Is Paris" one of the best musicals to come out of Hollywood in a long time and it is excellent film fare to kick off "May Is Movie Month" in Big Spring.

Starring Tony Curtis, Gloria De Haven, Corinne Calvet, Gene Nelson, Paul Gilbert, and Mara Corday.

Ginger Rogers' Is Starred In Ritz Suspense Drama

Ginger Rogers and husband, Jacques Bergerac, star in "Twist of Fate" Tuesday and Wednesday at the Ritz.

The romantic and suspenseful drama of the French Riviera was filmed in the locality it portrays. The husband and wife team play lovers who are trapped in the midst of a counterfeiting ring. Herbert Lom and Stanley Baker play the gangster roles.

Baker is the leader of the counterfeiters and tries to persuade the Ginger Rogers to marry him after he gets a divorce. She does not believe his intentions are good, however, and accidentally meets Bergerac, a struggling artist and they have a difficult time staying out of the grips of Baker and his henchman.

The film hits a rapid pace when the bodies of Baker is found in the couple's car.

The picture has a haunting musical background which was composed by Jose Ferrer, while on his honeymoon with Rosemary Clooney.

Bowery Boys Try 'High Society'

The Bowery Boys' return to Big Spring in "High Society" Friday and Saturday at the State.

The boys are up to their ears in trouble when some conspiring racketeers try to make Sach the beneficiary in a huge inheritance. The skulduggery is well under way to unseat the true beneficiary before Slip and Louie catch on to the plot and take steps to clear matters up.

Ideal entertainment for the youngsters.

Peso Devaluation Makes Mexico Top Tourist Spot

MEXICO CITY, April 30 (AP)—A devaluation of the peso plus a wealth of scenic and historic attractions have combined to make Mexico a popular spot for Americans seeking bargain vacations abroad.

The peso has been cut to 24 to the dollar, and by trading in $100 the tourist can go a long way south of the border.

If you come by automobile, as the great majority of tourists do, you can make it from the Texas border to the capital in two easy days driving. You'll find gasoline cheap (17 cents a gallon for top grade) and motels along the way less costly than in the States ($3 or $4 a night a couple).

Assume you're in Mexico City. What now? You have obtained a hotel reservation in advance, that's almost mandatory — and you're comfortably situated in a modern, clean room. (Hotels range from 20 pesos—$1.00—for a double to almost anything you want to pay. The lowest double in the swank Del Prado is 50 pesos, but the average is twice that.)

The things you see or do depend entirely on your own inclinations. There are things of historic interest. Mexico City was a metropolis long before the Pilgrims landed at Plymouth Rock. Or there are sports, golf, horse races, jai-alai, bullfights and night clubs by the dozen.

No trip to Mexico City is complete without a look at the 30-million-dollar University City, the most elaborate educational project of the century, and recently the site of the Pan-American Games. The huge campus, built atop a lava bed, includes about 80 of the most modern buildings found on a college campus anywhere.

Quick inexpensive sidetrips can be taken to the pyramids, Xochimilco, Cuernavaca and Taxco.

Mrs. Bill Hardison To Move To Detroit

Mrs. Bill Hardison, the former Bernice Mundell, will leave Tuesday for Detroit, Mich., to join her husband who is stationed there with the Air Force.

Mrs. Hardison, who has worked in the Howard County Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Office for the past 2½ years, resigned the position in order to be able to move to Detroit. She and Hardison were married last December. He formerly was stationed at Welch Air Force Base.

Proclamation

WHEREAS, The motion picture theatres of the City of Big Spring represent an important and unique activity, not only as progressive business enterprises, but also as a community service and

WHEREAS, With characteristic optimism, spirit and enthusiasm, the theatres of Big Spring are having a Motion Picture Theatre Celebration, and

WHEREAS, This celebration will bring to the thousands of moviegoers of Big Spring, and community a concentration of outstanding film productions during the month of May.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, G. W. Dabney, Mayor of the City of Big Spring, do hereby proclaim the month of May as MAY IS MOVIE MONTH, in Big Spring, and request that encouragement and support be given to such aggressive plans and efforts, the motion picture theatre people who diligently strive to provide the best entertainment for the men, women and children of our city.

In Witness Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the City of Big Spring to be affixed this 24 day of April, 1955.

'Rear Window' To Return To Terrace

Academy Award winner Grace Kelly stars with James Stewart in "Rear Window" at the Terrace tonight and Monday.

The Technicolor film is the story of a wheelchair patient who solves murder without leaving the room. He watches his neighbors out of a window in his apartment and catches all the clues necessary to trap the killer. An exciting film with above average acting.

'Bamboo Prison' Shows At State

"The Bamboo Prison" stars Robert Francis and Dianne Foster, today and Monday at the State.

The film is a semi-documentary story of American prisoners-of-war in Communist prison camps in Korea. Francis plays an American intelligence officer who deliberately collaborates with his captors to obtain information. His fellow prisoners, however, misunderstand his purposes and he is an outcast among them.

During his captivity, he meets the wife of one of his captors, Dianne Foster. She wants to escape to the American lines and Francis comes to her assistance.

Francis will be remembered by movie patrons as the young inexperienced officer in "The Caine Mutiny."

Randolph Scott In Western Film At Ritz Theatre

"Ten Wanted Men" is another western film in the tradition of "Shane" and "High Noon." Starring Randolph Scott, the picture plays Thursday through Saturday at the Ritz.

Scott plays a rancher who has carved a spread out of the West and is ready to settle down and enjoy it. But his hot-headed nephew, Skip Homeier, encourages the wrath of a local rancher who imports ten gunmen into the territory to drive out Scott.

But Scott is not so easily moved and he joins the hired killers in numerous gun battles to decide the fate of his ranch.

The film is in Technicolor.

Lamesa Plans Big Cotton Week Show

LAMESA — A program as versatile as the product itself will mark the observance of National Cotton week here May 9-13.

Dawson County, in the center of one of the richest cotton producing areas in the world, will go all out to point up importance of cotton to the area. There will be decorated show windows, demonstrations of use of insecticides, fertilizers and irrigation in cotton production, and a big cotton style show climaxed by crowning of King Cotton.

The observance is sponsored jointly by the Dawson County Women's Home Demonstration Clubs, Dawson County Farm Bureau, and the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce.

Exhibits will be around the courthouse lawn. The style show set for Friday evening will be filmed and shown later on "Texas in Review."

Highlighting the style review will be the crowning and reign of "King Cotton," whose name will be drawn from a cotton "bag" by County Judge Aubrey Boswell. The King will be led to his throne over a carpet of cotton to reign over the court the duration of the show.

Over 50 models representing local clubs, 4-H Clubs, Future Homemakers Clubs, and Home Demonstration Clubs from Lamesa and

Headline committees are Bob Wallace, publicity; Judge Boswell, prizes; Ralph Gary, farm implement; Fred T. Roney, irrigation; Don Emory, merchants; Mrs. L. B. Jones, style review, with sub-chairmen including Mrs. John Palmer, program and entertainment; Larry Kutchinski, properties and lighting; Earl Pottier, decorations; Roselle Winston, Mrs. G. D. Peterson, Mrs. Neta Clark, Mrs. Gene Jones, Mrs. Lewis Davis, Frances Lay and Mrs. L. P. Gibson, in charge of models. Herbert Green and DeWayne Davis are co-chairmen of the entire week's celebration.

U. S. Sells 3 Rubber Plants To Industry

WASHINGTON — The government sold $81,595,072.75 in cash Friday for three huge Port Neches, Tex., rubber plants, and thereby substantially completed the sale of its synthetic rubber industry to private enterprise.

French Build 'Little TVA' For Ex-Foes

MARRAKECH, French Morocco. — At the edge of the snow-capped Atlas Mountains, French enterprise is building a "little TVA" for Moroccans who were fighting France to the death 25 years ago.

France shows off the project proudly as an answer to Arab Nationalists clamoring for independence. The Nationalists, however, don't let it keep them from their favorite sport of throwing bombs at pro-French Moroccans. They say it doesn't answer their demand for freedom and that anyhow the French are building to make a profit, not for love of Morocco.

Nationalists are few, however, among the Berber mountaineers of the Atlas. To celebrate the dedication of Bin-el-Ouidane Dam, 800 turbaned horsemen put on an exuberant display of riding and noise, repeatedly firing their ancient rifles in honor of a French Cabinet minister.

"Energie Electrique du Maroc (Moroccan Electric Power) is a French firm, working with French government aid. It has just completed nine years of work on the project, designed to produce both electric power and water for irrigation.

By American standards the development is small. The artificial lake holds less than 400 billion gallons of water, compared with more than 10 trillion at Hoover Dam.

Still, Bin-el-Ouidane is the biggest multipurpose dam in Africa,

Drug Firm, Union Agree

DETROIT, AP—Parke, Davis & Co. and the CIO Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers have agreed on a union proposal to extend their contract on a day-to-day basis beyond its May 1 expiration date.

The proposal was made last night as management and the union continued bargaining sessions with federal and state mediators on a new contract for some 2,000 Parke Davis employees.

The union said it asked for the extension rather than interrupt the flow of Salk polio vaccine by a walkout. Parke Davis is a major producer of the vaccine.

At issue are wage demands, a guaranteed annual wage and fringe benefits.

Hobbies Never Grow Old

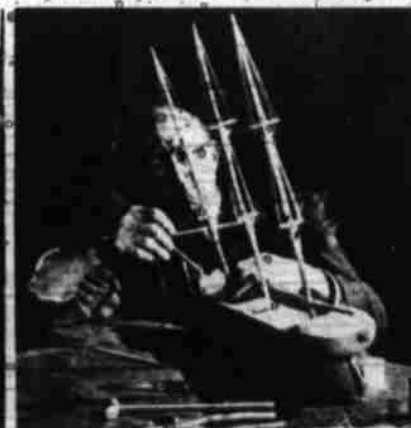

A veteran of the Old West makes carvings of his favorite characters.

Hobbies aren't just for youngsters; they can occupy and entertain a person throughout his entire life. Proof of this is found in the fact that a Hobby Show for Older Persons held in New York City attracted more than 100,000 people more than 60 years old! Their work included fine needlecraft, paintings, copper and brass work, wood carving, and intricate models of houses, ships, and country scenes. The pictures here show some of these old-timers working at their favorite hobbies.

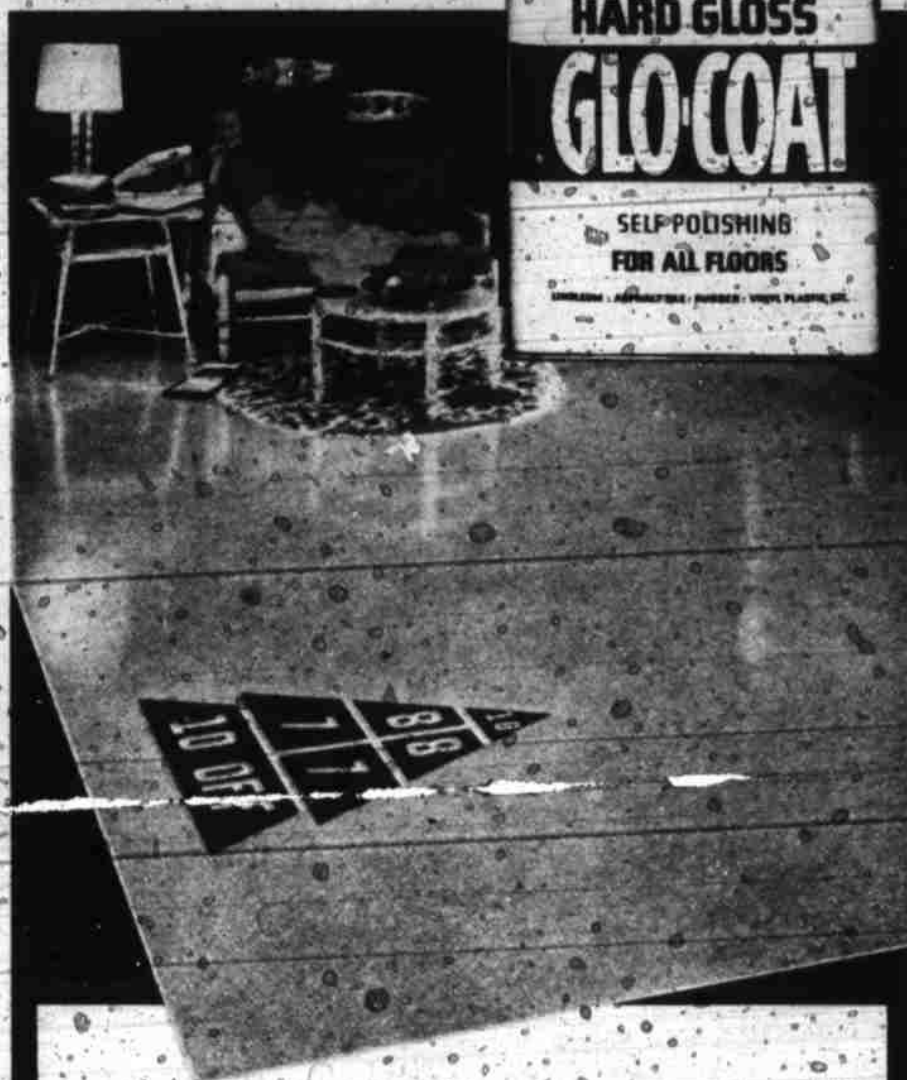

Constructive hobbies fill deep void in the lives of these blind people.

Should Husbands Share the Housework?

by Edith G. Neisser, author of "Brothers and Sisters"

Nowadays, husbands are expected not only to bring home the bacon but to help scour the pan it's fried in. Sharing housework and the care of the children is one of the gains or, depending on how you look at it, one of the penalties for men in today's world.

The ideal arrangement of parents and children living together without any other relatives around carries a penalty with it. Take away the grandparents, unmarried aunts and sisters, and the old-fashioned "hired girl," and what have you? You have a young mother who cooks, cleans, washes, mends, and cares for the children 24 hours a day!

Husbands can and do come to the rescue, but they work hard at their own jobs and want to relax when they come home in the evening. Under those conditions, how much help can a man be expected to give his wife?

This question was arising between Nora and Joel Gorelli with such frequency and sharpness that their entire relationship was being affected by it.

Joel puts his case this way:

"When I come home at night, I want to take it easy. Sometimes on Saturday or Sunday, I'd like to sleep late, but Nora thinks I should get me breaks over the week end and her selfishness is ruining our marriage."

"I realize that Nora has plenty to do all day looking after the kids, still, I don't think that justifies having her expect me to take over the minute I walk in. I'd like her to say, 'Hi, honey, how are you?' but with Nora it's always, 'About time you got home! I'm fed up! Here, you handle these wild Indians!'"

"She thinks my week ends should be spent doing jobs she didn't get around to, or maybe didn't feel like doing during the week. She expects me to take care of the kids and cook the week-end meals so she can rest, shop, or visit her friends."

"Nora has a washer, dryer, vacuum cleaner, and lots of other gadgets to make her work easier. Why, my mother thought she was lucky to have running water and electric lights! Our kitchen shelf is full of ready-to-eat and quick-fixing things. But my wife says she can't get my dinner ready unless I feed the children and put them to bed."

"After dinner, Nora collapses in a comfortable chair with my newspaper and expects me to clean up because she's had a hard day. What does she think I've had?"

"I certainly agree that children need to be with their fathers, and I get as much enjoyment out of my kids as the next man. But I still think a home and children are a woman's responsibility, and she should be able to handle it. Nora says I have my father's old-fashioned ideas about women waiting on their husbands hand and foot. I know my mother was one woman in a million, and I wouldn't want Nora to work as hard as she did. I'm willing to do my share, but the question is, what's my share and what's Nora's?"

How Nora sees things

Nora, of course, has a different view of the problem. She says:

"If Joel ever spent a day cooped up with three screaming children he'd know why I'm exhausted by the time he comes home. But Butch and Bubbles aren't any worse than other youngsters, and the baby is a lamb, but the constant care of even the best-behaved children seven days a week gets you down!"

"In Summer it isn't so bad. We girls get together when the children are outdoors. But in Winter or in bad weather—well, by the time you get three children up from their naps and dressed and get yourself ready, it's hardly worth the trouble to go out."

"I never get through with what I plan to do because I'm interrupted every few minutes by Butch wanting his paints or Bubbles trying to cut the baby's hair with her toy scissors. There really ought to be two of me, especially at suppertime when everything suddenly seems to go wrong! The potatoes boil over, the baby drops his bottle, the phone rings, the children start squabbling, there's a load of wash in the machine—and me with just one pair of hands!"

"People talk about the labor-saving machines you have nowadays. A dryer or vacuum cleaner saves you back-breaking work, that's true, but it's still just a machine. My mother had a laundress who could keep an eye on the baby for ten minutes, or watch the dinner so it wouldn't burn, while she went out to look for a straying four-year-old. Today, the more appliances you have, the more you're expected to do—since I got a steam iron, Joel expects me to press his suits instead of sending them to the cleaners!

"He scowls when I ask him to help. Children and a kitchen are a change for him. But how can I get out except when he's home? I'm practically a prisoner in my home five days a week, yet my husband thinks I'm lazy or unreasonable if I ask him to give me a hand. He's just plain selfish!"

Get at the root of things!

There are many ways of dividing responsibilities fairly and reasonably. Who does what is far less important than how you feel about what you do. When a husband and wife start feeling abused and accuse one another of selfishness, it's time to take stock of routines and attitudes. Discovering and remedying the causes of Nora's excessive demands would be the key to their situation.

Customs and living arrangements have changed markedly in the last two generations. When Joel and Nora compare themselves with their grandparents, they come out with widely different conclusions as to what is fair. Nora remembers the "help" her mother had and decides her load is unbearable. Joel thinks about a father who insisted on service from a hard-working wife and considers Nora's lot too easy. Here is one trouble they need to talk over reasonably and good-humoredly.

It is possible that Nora is being pushed beyond her strength, so first of all, she should get a thorough medical examination to see whether there is a cause for her tiredness and tension. Then Nora and Joel should analyze how she is using her time and equipment. Rearranging the children's mealtimes or naps might ease things and make it possible for her to get out with the children and see friends or even take a short rest herself.

Are Nora's housekeeping standards too high? Perhaps some of the cleaning she asks Joel to do on week ends could be eliminated. What the house might lose in appearance would be gained in Joel's willingness to help when his assistance is really needed. Is Nora always hurried—and harried—because she attempts too much? By planning her housework more carefully, she might be able to

Nora's self-pity probably stems not so much from the amount of work she does, as from being confined with the children. So they can enjoy more freedom, many young mothers set up informal cooperative play groups or organize cooperative nursery schools for their three- and four-year-olds. It would be worthwhile for Nora to find out whether such groups exist or could be started in her neighborhood.

It would help, too, if Nora and Joel could go out together more often, so she would have some of the adult companionship and fun she misses. If she were less discontented, she would be better able to recognize Joel's need to relax when he comes home. Going out means hiring sitters, but in some neighborhoods families have solved this problem with a "sitter exchange" whereby members of the exchange build up "credit" by sitting for other members. Then, when they want to go out, they use this accumulated credit while a neighbor sits for them.

A wife who is sympathetic, interested, and affectionate is more likely to find her husband willing to help around the house than one who greets him with complaints. If Nora were to give Joel a hearty welcome each evening, he probably wouldn't feel that he was being imposed on if asked to take over the supper-bedtime routine with the children.

Compromises that take account of both Nora's and Joel's needs are the answer to such questions as who gets up with the children on Saturday morning or during the night, or who cleans up after dinner. When feelings are so strained that a couple cannot work out a satisfactory plan for themselves, a counselor can often help them to a better understanding of each other's problems.

When arguments arise over the division of responsibilities, it's important to look beyond the jobs themselves. More companionship, more affectionate encouragement, more enjoyable experiences can fortify you or your mate against the times when children are irritable and dishwashing is monotonous.

If you are finding satisfaction in at least one part of your daily life, it is easier to be generous, considerate, and reasonable in what you ask of your spouse, and easier to meet the responsibilities that come with having a home and children.

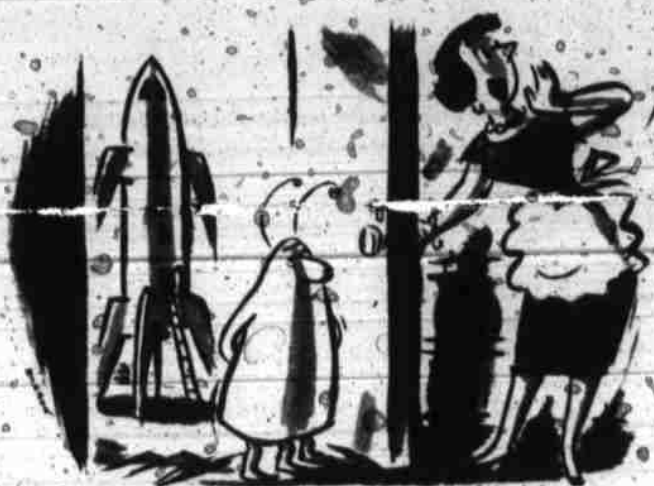

"Sorry—you'll have to wait—this is the day of the week I put Drano in all the drains."

A sink's best friend is Drano—when it comes to getting rid of dangerous sewer germs that lurk in every drain. These germs breed in muck that liquid disinfectants can't budge. But Drano's churning, boiling action dissolves the muck, keeps drains germ-free and free-running. Make one day a week Drano day. Put Drano in every drain for about a penny a drain. Won't harm septic tanks. Makes them work even better. Get Drano at your grocery, drug or hardware store. Also available in Canada.

"Says his windows are dirty. He'd like to borrow some Windex Spray!"

Windex Spray is really "out of this world" for getting windows clean! SWISH—spray it on! WHISH—wipe it off! Windows, mirrors, all glass surfaces get sparkling bright—even stay bright longer because there's no waxy film left to attract dust. And Windex Spray is such a thrifty buy, specially in the large 20-oz. refill size. Ask for Windex Spray at your grocery, drug or hardware store. Also sold in Canada.

It's that DIAL feeling — you never worry about odor!

More than a feeling, it's a fact: with Dial you never worry about odor. You see, normal perspiration has no odor until skin bacteria attack it. Ordinary soaps can't remove bacteria effectively. But Dial does! It's the one leading soap with AT-7 (Hexachlorophene). There's nothing else as good. And it clings to your skin, so it protects you all day — and for several days if need be. That's why Dial stops odor before it starts.

Aren't you glad you use Dial Soap?

gives you elegant looking, taste-tempting delights. Add crushed peppermint candy, finely chopped nuts, cherries, or semi-sweet chocolate pieces to the cake mix batter for an extra-special dessert. Provide variety, not only with different cakes, but with different toppings and frostings.

FAMILY WEEKLY welcomes Spring with a Pink-and-White Party Cake aglow with a fluffy pink and white frosting. Other cake mixes can be combined like the Pink-and-White Party Cake. Try yellow and chocolate or spice and orange (just add about 1/4 teaspoon orange extract and 3 drops orange food coloring to white cake batter).

Pink-and-White Party Cake

Grease bottom only of a 10-in. tubed pan. Line bottom with waxed paper cut to fit; grease waxed paper.

Prepare separately for baking, following directions on package, contents of

Blend into one batter

2 or 3 drops red food coloring

Turn white batter into tubed pan. Spoon pink batter over batter in pan. Gently lift white batter through pink batter until marbled effect is produced. Spread batter evenly to sides of pan. Tap bottom of pan sharply with hand to release air bubbles.

Bake at 350°F 60 to 65 min., or until a cake tester or wooden pick comes out clean when inserted in center of cake, or until cake is back when touched lightly at center.

Cool cake as directed. After cooling, run spatula gently around inside of pan; cut around tube with paring knife. Cover pan with cooling rack. Invert and remove pan. Immediately peel off waxed paper and turn cake top-side up.

2 pkgs. prepared white seven-minute-type frosting mix

Remove about 1 cup of frosting to a small bowl and tint to desired color by blending in

1 drop (or less) red food coloring

(Dip tip of a wooden pick into food coloring, then into frosting.)

With spatula, swirl white frosting on sides of cake. Spread white frosting lightly on top of cake. Swirl pink frosting decoratively over white frosting.

The treasure box—a package of prepared BISCUIT MIX

Overflowing with wonderful things to eat—golden waffles and griddlecakes, rich tender biscuits, light coffee cakes, fluffy dumplings, nut breads, fruit cobblers. And this is just a start! Like all treasure chests, this package is full of countless "gems" waiting to be discovered by you.

FAMILY WEEKLY's discovery is—

Peanut-Butter Whirls

Lightly grease a baking sheet.

For Filling—Place on a long length of heavy waxed paper

8 graham crackers

Loosely fold paper around crackers, tucking under open ends. With a rolling pin, gently crush crackers to make fine crumbs (about 1/2 cup crumbs). Or place crackers in a plastic bag and gently crush. Set crumbs aside.

Cream together until softened

1/2 cup chunk-style peanut butter

1/2 cup butter or margarine

Add gradually, creaming until fluffy after each addition

1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar

Add in thirds, beating thoroughly after each addition

1 egg, well beaten (until thick and piled softly)

Blend in the graham-cracker crumbs. Set filling aside.

For Whirls—Set out

2 cups prepared biscuit mix

Following directions on package, prepare rolled-biscuit dough and roll into rectangle about 1/4 in. thick. Spread lightly with

Softened butter or margarine

Spread filling evenly to within 1/2 in. of edges of biscuit dough. Roll, beginning with the long side; press edges together to seal. Cut roll crosswise into 1-in. slices. Place slices flat on greased baking sheet.

Bake at 450°F 10 to 15 min., or until golden brown.

INSTANT PUDDING AND PIE-FILLING MIX

Luscious as puddings, delightful as fillings for cakes and pies. And look—they can be used for making ice cream and ices, too!

Johnny wants chocolate pudding with nuts for dessert! Open a package of prepared instant pudding and pie-filling mix, add the liquid, beat, and Johnny's wish is fulfilled. What could be easier?

Coming in popular flavors such as chocolate, vanilla, or butterscotch, the prepared mix readily adopts the variations used for cream puddings and cream-pie fillings.

A summertime treat that children love the year round are Frozen Mountains.

Frozen Mountains

Base Recipe

Set out 6 small paper cups. Set refrigerator control at coldest operating temperature.

Pour into a large bowl

2 cups water

Pour over the water contents of

1 pkg. prepared instant pudding and pie-filling mix (chocolate, vanilla, or butterscotch)

Beat with a rotary beater until well mixed. Pour into paper cups.

Place in freezing compartment of refrigerator.

Freeze about 1 hr. Remove from refrigerator and insert a wooden stick or small plastic spoon into each cup. Return to freezing compartment. Freeze until firm.

When ready to eat, peel off paper.

6 Frozen Mountains

Special Chocolate Frozen Mountains

Follow Base Recipe. Add 40 chocolate mix 1 teaspoon almond extract or 1/4 teaspoon peppermint extract.

Root-Beer Frozen Mountains

Follow Base Recipe. Substitute 1 cup root beer for 1 cup water with the butterscotch pudding.

Fruit Frozen Mountains

Follow Base Recipe. Substitute 1 cup orange, grape, pineapple, cherry, or cranberry juice for 1 cup of the water with vanilla pudding. Or substitute 2 cups orangeade, limeade, or lemonade for the water with vanilla pudding.

Ice-Cream Frozen Mountains

Follow Base Recipe. Substitute 1 1/4 cups milk and 1 cup cream for water. For fruity ice-cream pops add 1/2 cup mashed fruit such as bananas, peaches, raspberries, strawberries, or crushed pineapple to mixture.

Our Mother's Day present . . . hours that might have been spent baking, you can spend with your family . . . thanks to the wonderfully efficient mixes for baked products, puddings, frostings and fillings, and the almost infinite variety of delicious creations to which they are adaptable. Your imagination and ingenuity should take full advantage of these invaluable, time-saving mixes.

Announce "Stacks!"
Come and get it! Thrill a hungry family easily with handy pancake mix.

For breakfast, lunch, or dinner, out comes the package of prepared

PANCAKE MIX

For Breakfast—Serve golden waffles or generous stacks of griddlecakes with lots of butter and warm maple syrup. Crisp strips of bacon or well-browned pork-sausage links are a delectable addition.

For Lunch—Top tender waffles or large, golden griddlecakes with creamed chicken or lobster. Just right!

For Dinner—Try griddlecakes or waffles for dessert. Yes, we said dessert. Diced bananas added to pancake mix batter bring forth griddlecakes with a flavor sensation. The dessert is ultraspecial when sliced fruit or berries are spooned over one waffle section, the fruit topped with another waffle section, more fruit and whipped cream cascading down over all. Griddlecakes can be elegant—as seen with Crêpes au Chocolat. Add a blob of whipped cream and a sprinkle of chopped nuts or chocolate curls for the gilded touch.

Crêpes au Chocolat

Base Recipe

For Filling—Melt in the top of double boiler over simmering water and set aside to cool.

3 sq. (3 oz.) unsweetened chocolate

Stir into cooled chocolate

1/4 cup cream

When well blended, add

1 1/2 (1/2 lb.) marshmallows

Return to simmering water. Continue heating, stirring occasionally, until marshmallows are melted and sauce is thoroughly blended. Place in refrigerator to thicken and chill.

Set out

2 cups prepared pancake mix or prepared buttermilk pancake mix

Prepare according to directions on package for pancakes. In addition, add to batter, blending in:

1/4 cup milk

3 tablespoons vanilla extract

Set aside for 15 min.

Test griddle; it is hot enough for baking when drops of water, sprinkled on surface, sizzle in small beads. If manufacturer suggests greasing griddle or skillet; grease lightly with

Butter

Pour batter from a pitcher into pools about 6 in. in diameter, spreading slightly to make a thin crêpe. Prepare one at a time. Turn crêpe when it becomes full of bubbles. Allow crêpe to brown slightly on second side. Using a teaspoon, "dribble" a small amount of batter around edge of one half of crêpe. Spoon about 2 tablespoons of the chocolate filling just off center of the crêpe. Using a pancake turner, fold half of the crêpe over the filling; edges should meet as in preparing a turnover. Press edges gently together so that the batter forms a seal between the two edges. Continue to cook until one side is brown. Turn the crêpe and cook until other side is brown. Remove to warm serving plate. Sprinkle lightly with

Confectioners' sugar

Serve at once.

Filled Crêpes

Follow Base Recipe. Substitute 2 tablespoons fruit jam or preserve for the chocolate filling.

One package of prepared

ANGEL-FOOD CAKE MIX

And what fascinating things a package can contain! Mother, open this gift box and find these dessert presents.

Now comes in only one flavor, yet the package gives directions for chocolate, marble, orange, cherry-tart, cherry-coconut, and more.

Toppings for these angel-food cakes can be simple: the 2, vested whipped creams such as chocolate, peppermint, or fruit-filled; the butter-cream frostings; the soft seven-minute frostings; sprinkling frostings with chopped nuts or chocolate shot.

Then look at the filled angel-food cake, De Luxe Angel Dessert. It can be filled with ice cream or sherbet, too.

De Luxe Angel Dessert

Base Recipe

Set refrigerator control at coldest operating temperature.

Place in refrigerator to chill a bowl, beater, and

2 cups whipping cream

Prepare according to directions on package, contents of

1 pkg. prepared angel-food cake mix

While cake is cooling, drain contents of One 9-oz. can crushed pineapple (Syrup may be reserved for use in other food preparation.)

Prepare according to directions on package, contents of

1 pkg. prepared vanilla pudding and pie-filling mix (instant or regular)

When pudding is set, fold in the crushed pineapple. Set pudding mixture aside.

Remove cake from pan. Cut around cake 1 in. from the outer edge. Carefully pull out entire center of angel food cake leaving a shell (sides and bottom) 1 in. thick. Use a few pieces of cake to fill hole left by tube of pan. Cake should have only sides and bottom remaining. Tear the pulled cake pieces into bite-size pieces. Mix into the pudding mixture.

Using the chilled bowl and beater, beat 1/2 cup of chilled whipping cream until it is of medium consistency (piles softly). Fold into pudding mixture.

Fill the angel-food cake shell with the pudding mixture. Place in refrigerator several hours or until firm.

Wash the bowl and beater and return to refrigerator to chill.

When ready to serve, using the chilled bowl and beater, beat remaining cream until it stands in peaks when beater is slowly lifted upright. Remove cake from the refrigerator and frost with the whipped cream, forming deep swirls.

One 10-in. filled angel cake

Chocolate Angel-Food Dessert

Follow Base Recipe. Omit pineapple. Substitute 1 pkg. prepared chocolate pudding and pie-filling mix (instant or regular) for the vanilla pudding. Blend into pudding 1 cup (about 4 oz.) chopped nuts and 1/2 teaspoon peppermint extract.

Strawberry Angel-Food Dessert

Follow Base Recipe. Thaw according to directions on package, contents of 1 pkg. (about 1 lb.) frozen sliced strawberries. Drain strawberries and substitute for the pineapple.

Jouquil Cake

Prepare for baking, following directions on package, contents of 1 pkg. prepared angel-food cake mix (do not add vanilla or almond extract)

Put into a large bowl

3 egg yolks

Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon-colored. Blend in:

1 tablespoon orange juice

1 teaspoon grated orange peel (grated through colored part only; white is bitter)

Gently fold one third of angel-cake batter into beaten egg yolks.

Blend into remaining angel-food cake batter

1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract

Carefully pour one half of white batter into pan, rotating pan as you pour. Carefully pour yellow batter into pan in the same manner. Repeat with remaining white batter. Cut through batter with knife or spatula, lifting white batter through yellow batter to break air bubbles and give a marbled effect.

Bake and cool as directed.

While cake is cooling, prepare according to directions on package, contents of

2 pkg. prepared white seven-minute-type frosting mix

Blend in

1 or 2 drops yellow food coloring

When cake has cooled completely, cut around tube with paring knife to loosen cake. Loosen sides with spatula and gently remove cake from the pan.

Frost sides of cake. See that frosting touches plate all around bottom, leaving no gaps. Pile remaining frosting on top of cake and spread lightly.

One 10-in. tubed cake

First a mix for the filling, then the crust, and now ingredients for the whole pie. Combine a package of prepared

Elegant Chocolate Pie

Prepare according to directions on package, contents of

1 pkg. prepared chocolate refrigerator pie mix

Fold into the filling

1/2 cup chopped maraschino cherries

1/2 cup (3 oz.) chopped walnuts

Chill chocolate pie in refrigerator according to directions.

When ready to serve, top with Whipped cream

Garnish with chopped nuts.

YEAST-ROLL MIX

Read the directions on the package. See how easy! Soon the fragrant aromas waft through the air. Tender dinner rolls, sweet breakfast rolls, coffee cakes in all sizes and shapes, pizzas (the Italian bread that Americans have adopted for their own)—all these and more are possibilities from this "wonder package." And a few moments gained in using a prepared yeast-roll mix give time for preparing "something special" in your roll making.

FAMILY WEEKLY'S favorite Bismarcks are the stars of the show of prepared-mix products.

Bismarcks

Base Recipe

About 20 min. before ready to deep-fry, fill a deep saucepan one-half to two-thirds full with

Hydrogenated vegetable shortening, oil-purpose shortening, lard, or cooking oil for deep-frying

Heat fat slowly to 365°F or until a 1-in. cube of bread browns in 60 sec. When ready, use in a deep-fryer, follow manufacturer's directions for amount of oil and timing.

Prepare according to directions on package (through first raising period) contents of

1 pkg. prepared yeast-roll mix

Turn dough onto a lightly floured surface. Roll about 1/2 in. thick and cut with a lightly floured 3-in. round cookie cutter. Cover with waxed paper and let rise on rolling surface 30 to 45 min. or until doubled.

Deep-fry in heated fat. Fry only as many Bismarcks at one time as will float uncrowded one layer deep in the fat. Fry 2 to 3 min. or until lightly browned. Turn face and several times during cooking (do not pierce). Drain over fat for a few seconds before removing to absorbent paper.

Cut a slit in side of each Bismarck through to center.

Force into each center about 1/2 teaspoon

Jam or Jelly

Press tightly to close slit. A pastry bag and tube may be used to fill Bismarcks.

Shake 2 or 3 warm Bismarcks at a time in a plastic bag containing

1/2 cup sugar

Serve warm or store in tightly-covered container.

About 1 doz. Bismarcks

Salem Rolls

Follow Base Recipe. Add to contents of package of roll mix a mixture of 3 tablespoons sugar, 1 1/2 teaspoons cinnamon, and 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg. Thoroughly blend 1 egg, well beaten, into dough.

COOKIE MIX

Is there a person who does not like cookies? The smell of fresh-baked cookies floating out from the kitchen is guaranteed to draw members of the family—men, women and children. Mother will not mind when the cookies are a flash, using a prepared cookie mix. Rolled, refrigerated, drop, or any other type of cookie can be made from this package of cookie mix. And dozens of ideas are given on the package. Try them and Ambrosia Cookies too.

Ambrosia Cookies

Base Recipe

Set out 2 cookie sheets.

Chop and set aside

1 cup (about 4 oz.) pecans
3 oz. candied pineapple
(about 1/2 cup, chopped)
3 oz. red candied cherries
(about 1/2 cup, chopped)

Bring to boiling

3/4 cup water

Add, and again bring water to boiling

1/2 cup white raisins

Pour off water and drain raisins on absorbent paper. Set aside.

Pour into a large bowl contents of

Add and mix thoroughly the pecans, cherries, pineapple, raisins, and

1/2 cup (about 3 oz.) vanilla wafers chocolate pieces

Complete as directed for drop cookies.

About 3 doz. cookies

Buttery Honey

Follow Base Recipe. Omit fruit, nuts, and chocolate. Substitute for the liquid required 1/4 cup butter, melted, and 1/4 cup honey. Mix well. Bake cookies at 350°F.

Pie, wonderful pie... especially strawberry... is twice as easy with a "mix-made," tender-crisp crust.

Ah, pies! Roll out pastry prepared from a package of prepared

PIE-CRUST MIX

Fill a baked pastry shell with a prepared pie-filling mix (instant or regular) for the easiest pie on record. Certainly other fillings can be used—those baked in the shell or those put into a baked shell. Following are a few pastry cues:

Cheese Pastry—Blend 1/2 cup (2 oz.) grated sharp Cheddar cheese into pie-crust mix before adding the liquid.

Spice Pastry—Blend a mixture of 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/4 teaspoon ginger, and 1/4 teaspoon cloves into the pie-crust mix before adding the liquid.

Appetizers—Prepare Cheese Pastry and roll as directed on package. Cut pastry into sticks, rounds, squares, or diamonds. (Two-bite size, of course.) Sprinkle with poppy or caraway seeds. Or cut Cheese Pastry into strips with a pastry wheel. Twist strips several times.

Bake as directed about 5 min. They are equally delicious with fruit or vegetable juice, soups, or salads.

Fresh Strawberry Pie

Set out a 9-in. pie pan.

Prepare according to directions on package, contents of

1 pkg. prepared pie-crust mix

Divide dough and shape into two balls. Roll one as directed for pastry shell. Roll other ball as directed and, using a pastry wheel or sharp knife, cut into 10 strips 1/2 in. wide. Set aside.

Sort, rinse, drain, hull, and cut into halves

Lightly toss strawberries with 1 tablespoon lemon juice

and a mixture of

1 1/2 cups sugar

6 tablespoons flour

1/2 teaspoon salt

Turn berries into pastry shell.

Moisten edge of pastry shell. Arrange 5 of the pastry strips parallel over the top of the pie, leaving about 1 in. between the strips. Gently twist each strip several times and pinch to edge of pastry shell at both ends. Repeat process with remaining pastry strips, working the strips in the opposite direction. Trim the strips even with the edge of the pastry. Fold the bottom crust up over ends of strips. Flute edge of pie by pressing index finger on edge of pastry, then pinching pastry with thumb and index finger of other hand. Lift fingers and repeat procedure to flute entire edge. Or press edge with fork.

Bake at 450°F 10 min. Reduce heat; bake at 350°F 20 to 30 min.

Home of the BIG LIE

The Burlington Liars' Club started as a hoax 25 years ago; today it has 90,000 members!

by O. B. Hulet

A JOKE that lasted 25 years. A lie that became a reality.

Either would describe the Burlington Liars' Club, which had its origin in this small Wisconsin city 25 years ago, when a couple of newspaper reporters, hard up for a "filler," wrote a story to the effect that the police chief and his pals met each New Year's Day at the station—and lied for the town championship.

The original story, of course, was made "out of whole cloth." Nothing of the kind ever did occur, and we (I was one of the reporters) had a few qualms when a wire service picked up the story, which was printed in papers from coast to coast. The real jolt came a year later, when the wire service phoned to ask if we "were going to have our Liars' contest again."

By that time the other reporter had left town, so I, as heir to a doubtful legacy, told them we certainly were, and we wished the championship onto the police chief, who was an understanding soul. Again we got columns of newspaper publicity, but it nearly proved our undoing, for a newsreel outfit offered to film our club in action—and we didn't have any club!

We wiggled out of that situation, but it was apparent that something had to be done; so another story was fed to the wires to the effect that, because of all the mail we were getting, we would no longer restrict our contest to Burlington; hereafter it would be for the U. S. championship.

Then we changed the rules so people would not have to appear in person for the competition, but could mail in their "lies" any time of the year. Club officers would go through the mail to select the best "lie" submitted, and the author would be U. S. champion. That, we figured, would get us off the hook, because we would not have to produce any liars in the flesh.

It got us off one hook—and on another! Letters began to pour in, not only from the 48 states but also from foreign countries, so that our contest is now for the Championship of the World and we have some 90,000 members.

How do you become a member? It's simple. Write a "lie" (your very best fabrication), and mail it with a dime to the Burlington Liars' Club, Burlington, Wis. The "lie" will be entered in the current contest and qualify you for membership. The dime covers printing and postage on your membership card. There are no dues, and the only way the club can cost you anything again is for a new card, if you lose yours or wear it out. (Another dime, please!)

tive engineer who lives in Baton Rouge, La., won our 1954 contest with a tale about the speedy Louisiana rabbits. They're so fast, he insists, that you can't hit them with a shotgun—it takes a deer rifle. And then you have to know how. After firing, you whistle. When you whistle, the rabbit stops—giving the bullet a chance to catch up with him!

To celebrate the club's 25th anniversary this year, the officers picked Bruno Ceresa of Detroit, the 1933 winner, as Champion of Champions. Ceresa won with a tale of an ancient grandfather's clock that is so old, the shadow of the pendulum has worn a hole in the back of the case!

Belong to someone,
Guess who, guess who?

To find out who is looking at you draw a line with a white crayon from dot to dot. Start at number one, draw to number two and so on to the last number. Then connect it with number one to finish the picture.

There are 13 fruits and vegetables hidden in the squares. (See Potato) You can go in any direction and even retrace over some letters to spell out the fruits and vegetables, but don't skip over a square.

Pillow Pals

Suzie Snider

Here are some pillows that are fun to make.

At the start, both heads are made the same way. Using white felt for the bunny and black felt for the mouse, cut out a circle 10" in diameter. Then on the same material draw another circle 18" in diameter and cut out more than half but not three quarters of it as in Fig. A. Twist this piece into a cone which will fit on the small circle, and sew them together as in Fig. B. Before sewing up the side, stuff the cone full of soft rags or cotton. Now, for the bunny, cut out ears 8 1/2" long. Also cut from pink felt an extra set of ears slightly smaller than the others and sew them on to the big ones. Sew the ears in place on the cone. Now cut ovals for eyes and a funnel-shaped piece for the mouth from the pink, and sew them in place. For the mouse, cut larger ovals of white felt for the eyes and at one end of each cut out a smaller oval and sew on these pieces for a wide-eyed look. Then cut two circles 6" in diameter out of the black felt and sew them on at the edge of the cone for ears. A large shiny button will make a good nose.

Comic Strip Charades

Bess A. Lee

A new way of playing Charades is to act out comic strips cut from the newspapers. Try this game next time you get a crowd together. It can be played over and over again with different sets of comics.

Use only the funnies that you think everyone reads. Try to get them from old papers, for they will be more difficult to guess than late ones. Roll up each strip and put a rubber band around it, then put them all in a bag.

Count out for captains so there will be one for each comic strip. While the rest of the players stand with their backs turned, each captain takes a roll from the bag, reads it, and counts the number of people in it. Then he chooses a player for each part. The players get together, each group going to a different part of the room, and practice acting out the comics. They try to memorize their lines and actions by going over them a few times with the others in the group. If the speeches are too long to remember, they may be read by passing the paper around.

It will help the players to look like the comic newspaper characters if a few props and articles of clothing, such as old hats, shoes, and neckties—are supplied.

The groups take turns acting out the comics. When names are used in the speeches, the players substitute the word "Whoozit." The rest of the crowd tries to guess the name of the comic strip that is being acted out. If they cannot guess it, each player in the group must pay a forfeit. These are redeemed by each player's sketching a big picture of the character he represented in the comic. Pieces of wrapping paper and crayons should be supplied for this purpose. From the sketches, the crowd should be able to guess the name of the comic.

Junior Journalists

Dear Miss Barrows:

I live in town but we own and run a farm. There are quite a few people who are farmers but live in town. They are "sidewalk farmers."

We were using a black cow horse that I named Smokey. One day while I was riding him our neighbor's bull got in the yard and I had to drive him out of the yard. Once he turned around and I thought he was going to charge, but Smokey knew what I wanted him to do so I didn't even have to guide him very much.

I am in the seventh grade.

Sincerely,

Diane Halstead

Aged 12 Beach, N. D.

Dear Miss Barrows:

My hobby is collecting postcards. I started collecting them when I was in Cub Scouts. We had to have some sort of a hobby for an achievement.

The way I keep my cards together, is by punching two holes in each card and using two notebook rings to keep them fastened together. In this way they are easy to look at and they can also be taken out if necessary.

Many of my friends and relatives save their postcards for me. Whenever we go on a vacation we get postcards for souvenirs.

I now have 240 different postcards.

Sincerely,

Gary Storm

Aged 11 Champaign, Ill.

Dear Miss Barrows:

I am writing you a poem about the Junior Treasure Chest.

And never miss a line.

Dr. Peter Marshall

WITH THE MOTION-PICTURE VERSION OF "A MAN CALLED PETER," HOLLYWOOD REACHES A NEW HIGH IN AUTHENTICITY.

by Jerry Klein

A SCOTTISH immigrant youth who dug ditches and stoked furnaces on his way to becoming a Presbyterian minister and chaplain of the U.S. Senate has been the subject of a best-selling biography. Now his story is being told in a film of rare authenticity.

As a book, "A Man Called Peter" was on the best-seller lists for 129 weeks. Four book clubs helped to sell almost a million copies of this biography of Peter Marshall by his widow, Catherine.

As technical adviser on the movie version, Mrs. Marshall was "grilled" daily from 9 A.M. to 6 P.M. for weeks so that 20th Century-Fox could learn every detail of the Marshalls' lives. Mrs. Marshall says of the studio's insistence on complete accuracy: "I think they know more about Peter and me than we knew about ourselves!"

Mrs. Marshall adds that Richard Todd, in the role of the minister, is "almost frighteningly perfect." Irish-born Todd listened to recordings of Marshall's sermons until he could duplicate the chaplain's Scottish burr overlaid with a Southern drawl.

Parts of "A Man Called Peter" were shot at Cothbridge, Scotland, where Marshall was born; in Birmingham, Ala., where he worked as a newspaper proofreader before entering Birmingham Theological Seminary; and in Covington, Ga., where he had a pulpit. Marshall's former parishioners in Covington who have seen the movie say Todd has the "same sweet look" as their minister.

Like Marshall, Todd has a wife, Catherine, and a son named Peter. Still another coincidence: shortly before the film went into production, actress Jean Peters—who plays Mrs. Marshall—was married in Washington's New York Avenue Presbyterian Church. Marshall was minister of this church, as well as chaplain of the U.S. Senate, from 1947 until he died in 1949.

His widow says she wrote "A Man Called Peter" as though Marshall were dictating it from the Great Beyond, and she attributes its success to "a conspiracy between God and Peter" to spread God's word.

Hollywood may do much to advance that conspiracy.

How to Take Care of Your Battery

THE BATTERY is the heart of your car—so important a unit that manufacturers have spent millions to give new cars 12-volt batteries and ignition systems. The care you give your battery will repay you in added months, even years, of service.

First step is to disconnect the battery. Scrub off deposits with a small brush and a solution of baking soda and water. Don't forget to check the electrolyte level of each cell at regular intervals.

After you've cleaned the battery, tighten both terminals with a wrench or a pair of pliers. Coat terminals with vaseline to prevent corrosion which stops flow of current and keeps car from starting.

The ammeter indicates amount of current the battery is getting from the generator. With battery at full charge, the needle should return to about the point shown here as starting current is replaced.

Have serviceman take a hydrometer reading of battery. It should be at full charge if battery, generator, and voltage regulator are functioning properly. Correct any trouble before your battery fails.
