Wiley Urging Revolt Behind Iron Curtain

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Senator Wiley (R-Wis.) urged today that the United States provide arms, sabotage materials, money and encouragement to underground groups inside Russia and Communist satellite countries.

Wiley, second ranking Republican on the Senate foreign relations committee, said in a statement that Russian and Communist leaders have been trying for many years to "foment revolutions within the western nations." Now, he added, America and other nations should give the Communists "a taste of their own vile medicine."

"All we need to stir up plenty of trouble in Russia, China and elsewhere is some daring leadership," Wiley said. "A counter-revolutionary program against (See IRON CURTAIN, Page 16)

Japanese Treaty May Bring Final Split of U.S., Russia

Goal Set for Field House

Work will start on the field house-vocational building at Pampa High School by Jan. 15, according to the contractors.

Word came from Washington yesterday from the National Production Authority to Ben Guille, who had been checking on the progress of the needed permission from the board, that the building may be started.

James T. Taylor and Sons of Fort Worth are the contractors and their first bid of $356,982 has been dropped to approximately $316,000. B. R. Cantrell, architect, said that the cost was trimmed by eliminating some of the equipment originally planned. No changes were made in the planned structure.

One complete side of the building will house a woodworking shop and vocational classrooms, while the other side of the building will be used for football and basketball equipment and showers.

The original plans were to install folding bleachers for the basketball court so the building could be used as an auditorium, but it has been decided to eliminate those for the present time.

Four companies have announced plans for cutbacks. They are General Motors, Packard, Ford and Studebaker.

Any further cutbacks in production are expected to hit the Detroit area the hardest. Although the auto industry has received an estimated $1 billion in defense contracts recently, most of the work is to be done in plants outside Detroit.

Automotive News reported it all depends on the foreign situation, whether cutbacks will be more severe later in 1951. The trade paper estimated 1950 production at slightly over eight million cars and trucks. This is an all-time record by more than one million units.

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Truman's comment that the nation is going to steer clear of isolationism set the stage today for Republican John Foster Dulles to join the "great national debate" on foreign policy.

Mr. Truman at his news conference yesterday pinned the isolationist label on former President Herbert Hoover's proposal to concentrate on western hemisphere defense until Western Europe demonstrates it has the will and ability to meet Communist aggression.

Dulles, announcing in advance that he agrees with much Mr. Hoover said, is scheduled to state his own views tonight (8 p. m. EST) in an address at New York to the American Association for the United Nations. Dulles is adviser to Secretary of State Acheson.

Agents on vacation include Ralph Thomas and Foster Whaley, agricultural agents; Mrs. Mary Anne Duke and Miss Joy Williams, home demonstration agents; and Miss Doris Davis, extension secretary.

Annual Communion Scheduled for Church
The annual midnight Holy Communion service of the First Christian Church in observance of New Year will be held at 11:15 p. m. Sunday in the church sanctuary, according to H. H. Tyler, pastor.

Morning worship will be held at 10:30.

Rev. Tyler has invited everyone to attend the services.

Curb Begun on Auto Output

DETROIT —(AP)— The auto industry got ready today to cut output of new cars at the start of the new year. National emergency demands will force curtailment.

Production cutbacks will cause layoffs of a large number of auto workers. The unemployment, however, is expected to be only temporary as the industry converts to defense production.

The car makers said government restrictions on use of critical materials make the cutbacks necessary. The trade paper Automotive News said the cutbacks will range from 20 to 30 percent throughout the industry in the early months of the new year.

UN Driven Back 10 Miles In Blow by Red Manpower

Fighting Underway All Along Defense

TOKYO —(AP)— Massed Red manpower drove United Nations forces back up to 10 miles today in the eastern sector of the Korean warfront.

There was skirmishing all along the defense line. Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, U.S. Eighth Army commander, expressed "complete confidence in the ultimate success" of the United Nations effort in Korea.

General MacArthur said two Red regiments seized high ground northwest of Oron, 35 miles inland from the Sea of Japan coast and about 10 miles south of Parallel 38.

Another thrust rolled allied forces back southeast of Yongpo, 13 miles due east of Oron. MacArthur said the Reds were active in almost all sectors across Korea's waist. He reported 5,000 to 6,000 Reds were massed west of the frozen Imjin River. Another concentration was spotted south of Yonchon, in the central sector.

Korean Reds were in the forefront of the enemy action. Fighting steadily and the attack, MacArthur estimated Thursday that more than 1,350,000 Reds—Chinese and North Korean—

TOKYO —(AP)— North Korean Reds gouged a three-mile dent in the United Nations front in east-central Korea, a U. S. Eighth Army spokesman said last night.

"The attack can now be said to be contained," the officer added.

Ten thousand Korean Communists suddenly Thursday in rugged mountain country south of Puyong, on the 38th Parallel and 35 miles inland from the east coast.

Associated Press Correspondent Hal Boyle said the Army spokesman called the attack "contained," but added, "there is now a dent in our line" extending four or five miles below the 38th Parallel in the limited sector.

"Our forces have been counter-attacking steadily and the attack can now be said to be contained," the spokesman said.

UN warplanes struck the enemy all along the front and at his supply lines from material in the Kangwon area. Spotted camouflaged vehicles in the forward areas.

MacArthur said the assault in the Yongpo area began lightly, with UN troops dispersing 100 Reds in the initial attack. Later, a regiment of Communists was thrown at the allied troops and ground was lost.

A briefing officer at U.S. Eighth Army headquarters said one allied unit was thrown back 10 miles. "Another battalion lost three miles."

Observers reported mounting evidence of Chinese and North Korean forces moving up toward the battlezone.

Ridgway, Eighth Army commander, imposed tight restrictions on pin-pointing any units of his force at this time.

While the lid was screwed a little tighter on news in Korea by the allied command, the Red radio at Pyongyang broadcast that United Nations forces had suffered losses of men and war material in the Kangwon area on Dec. 24 and 25.

U.S. Far East Air Forces and Fifth Air Force fighters and bombers kept plugging at the Communists near the Red front. Towns harboring enemy men and weapons were being bombed.

What did happen was that thousands of Japanese ex-soldiers and officers volunteered to fight. Newspapers unanimously, day after day, proclaimed Japan's right and duty to assist in the Korean struggle. And the entire nation, in the Kangwon area, threw themselves at the disposal of the warring democracies.

It would be naive to assume that this was a result of overweening affection or admiration for the United States, although we have won a certain degree of both.

The more compelling reasons are:

1. Japan's interests, politically and economically, are tightly tied with our own.

2. The Japanese are naturally anxious to have an end to the occupation, to resume normal trade relations with the rest of the world, and to take their place in the United Nations.

3. Having had three wars with China and Russia, and with a high degree of hatred and suspicion for both nations even when they were not actually at war, the Japanese are under no illusions about their own fate if the two Communist giants ever break loose in the Orient.

Those are the true reasons why Japan is a powerful potential ally of the United States, and the United Nations, today.

Nations have no permanent friends; but they do have permanent interests. Ours and the Japanese, at this hour at least, are practically identical.

In spite of Russian propaganda, claims, and Japanese desires, no Japanese troops are in the field in Korea today.

What are the results of the occupation?

I do not believe—and I put this in the first-person because it is a personal appraisal, that the theory or practice of "Democracy" has penetrated very deeply into Japanese consciousness. So far as I could tell, the Emperor is still their great symbol of authority and leadership. Their tendency still is to believe in the value of a ruling class rather than in the wisdom of the masses.

Some Americans disagree with this view. Only time will tell which is correct.

But in its physical aspects, the occupation has been almost a miracle, a story without precedent anywhere in history.

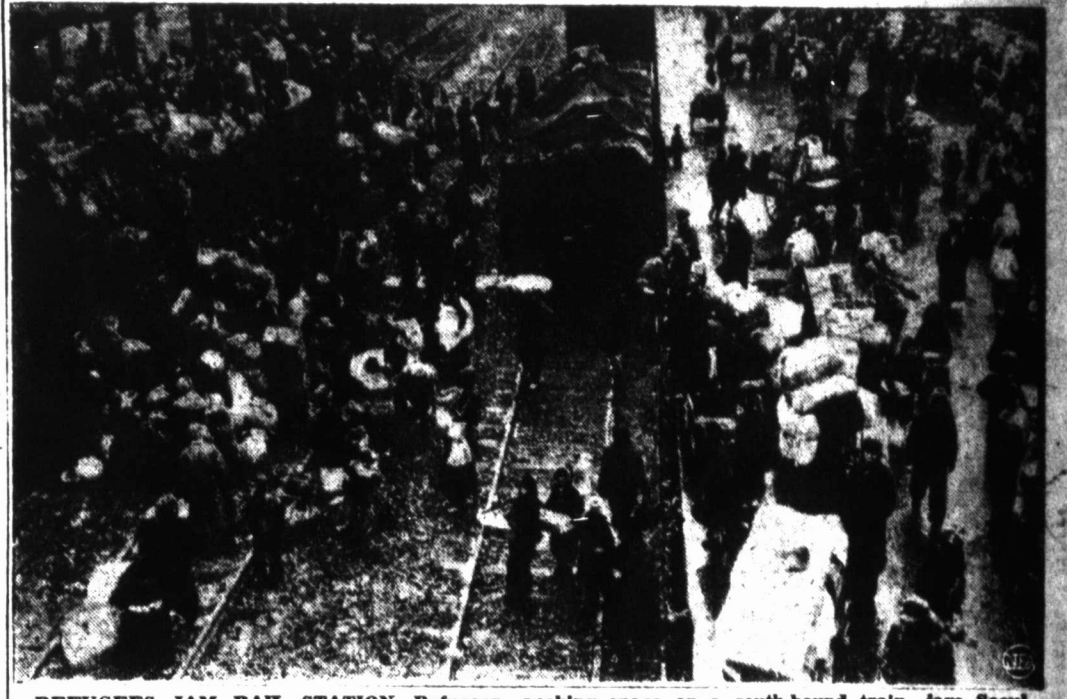

American engineers, doctors, scientists and business men in short, the technicians have brought to Japan a degree of comfort and safety never before known. They have opened wide new vistas.

What about the future, when the occupation ends and the Americans leave?

Japan needs the United States, both as a market and as a source of raw materials. Until they can be retrained, the Japanese will need American military protection against the ancient enemies, Russia and China.

Vice versa, the United States, and all the other democracies, need Japan as the great balancing factor against communism in the Orient. With their enormous industrial and military strength, plus dynamic energy and great ingenuity, Japan can effectively counter Communist operations in Asia.

The interests are interdependent. As long as they remain so, Japan will be our most effective ally.

Government Slaps Sharp Cut On Private Loan Dollars

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The government cut down sharply today on money available for private loans and forged strong new links for harnessing the national economy more firmly to the defense drive.

A federal reserve board order to its 6,885 member banks called for freezing $2,000,000,000 out of the loan market.

The board said its action would cut off a potential further increase of $12,000,000,000 in the already record-high volume of bank loans. This is because banks could have lent the $2 billion dollars over and over again.

The Economic Stabilization Agency (ESA) announced that it will open 12 regional offices "to handle price and wage problems," a step apparently paving the way for stricter controls expected later.

The National Production Authority (NPA) decreed that the U.S. will take over immediately as sole importer and distributor of natural rubber. Since it already controls synthetic production this move puts the government in virtual control of all rubber.

NPA announced this new move last night only a few hours after it had forbidden hoarding of 55 essential materials, including steel, lumber and paper. An NPA spokesman interpreted the latter ban to apply to newspapers.

The federal reserve board's credit curb action was announced last night after banks had closed. Today the board called on industry for a more rapid switchover from civilian to defense production.

The board's money freeze means there will be less to lend to business firms, or to individuals who want to buy houses, autos, television sets, furniture, stock market securities, or anything else.

There was nothing in the order itself to raise interest rates for those who manage to get loans. Neither was there anything to prevent banks from raising those rates, although officials did not expect a rate rise.

The board's freeze was effected by raising "reserve requirements"—the proportion of deposits that member banks are required to post with federal reserve authorities as non-lendable reserves.

Reserve system member banks account for the great bulk of U.S. bank deposits and loans, although they constitute a minority of the nation's 15,000 banks. It is up to state banking authorities to apply a similar freeze to the remaining banks.

The board's crack-down on its members with a compulsory freeze—which will cut bank profits by cutting their lending capacity—amounted to conceding failure for board efforts to get banks to hold down lending voluntarily.

Replacements for officers in the Pampa Police Department were announced early this morning by Chief John B. Wilkinson.

New officers will be A. B. Turner, 408 N. Purviance, Jesse E. Taylor, 915 E. Francis and William E. Weaver, 842 S. Sumner.

Turner was started to work for the department two weeks ago. The latter two men will start to work shortly after the first of the year.

The three men will replace officers Tom Colter, Shirley Nickols and S. B. "Pat" Patterson. Nickols and Colter will become deputies of the Gray County Sheriff-elect Rufe Jordan's administration. Patterson will be chief deputy.

Patterson will become deputy sheriff of Moore County. He will move to Dumas during the next few days.

NEW YORK —(AP)— In a two-to-one decision, the U. S. Court of Appeals yesterday allowed Alger Hiss to continue his perjury conviction is ruled on by the U. S. Supreme Court.

Hiss, former high State Department aide, was convicted early this year of lying when he swore he never gave government secrets to ex-Communist spy, Whittaker Chambers. He was sentenced to five years.

Man Pleads Guilty To License Charge
Earl Winks, Pampa, pleaded guilty to charges of driving while license suspended this morning in County Court, according to John Studer, county attorney.

He was fined $25 and costs by Judge Bruce Parker and was released.

NEW YORK —(AP)— The National Production Authority today put sales and use of cobalt under tight controls to conserve the metal for defense purposes.

NPA officials said the action would hit the radio and television manufacturers "extremely hard" and would affect other civilian products as well.

It goes into the manufacture of the speakers of radio and television sets.

Japan Could Be Best Ally

(Editors note: This is the third and final article by Relman Morin, brilliant Associated Press war correspondent, analyzing Far Eastern events since the war broke out in Korea. Morin, just returned from four months in Japan and Korea, here discusses Japan and its value as a potential ally. Morin knows his Japan exceptionally well, having served as chief of bureau in Tokyo for the AP also before the outbreak of World War II.)

By RELMAN MORIN
NEW YORK —(AP)— Japan, the most dangerous enemy we ever met, is potentially our most effective ally anywhere in the world now.

They tell a story in Tokyo. It is that, when the Korean fighting broke out last June, a former Japanese Army officer presented himself at an American Army headquarters, saluted smartly, and said: "General, I can have my old regiment ready to go by Monday morning."

The incident probably never happened, at least in quite that way. But it is an authentic illustration of Japanese attitude.

What did happen was that thousands of Japanese ex-soldiers and officers volunteered to fight. Newspapers unanimously, day after day, proclaimed Japan's right and duty to assist in the Korean struggle. And the entire nation, in the Kangwon area, threw themselves at the disposal of the warring democracies.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Christian Science" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, December 31.

The Golden Text is: "When the Spirit of truth is come, he will guide you into all truth; for he shall not speak of himself; but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak: and he will shew you things to come" (John 16:13).

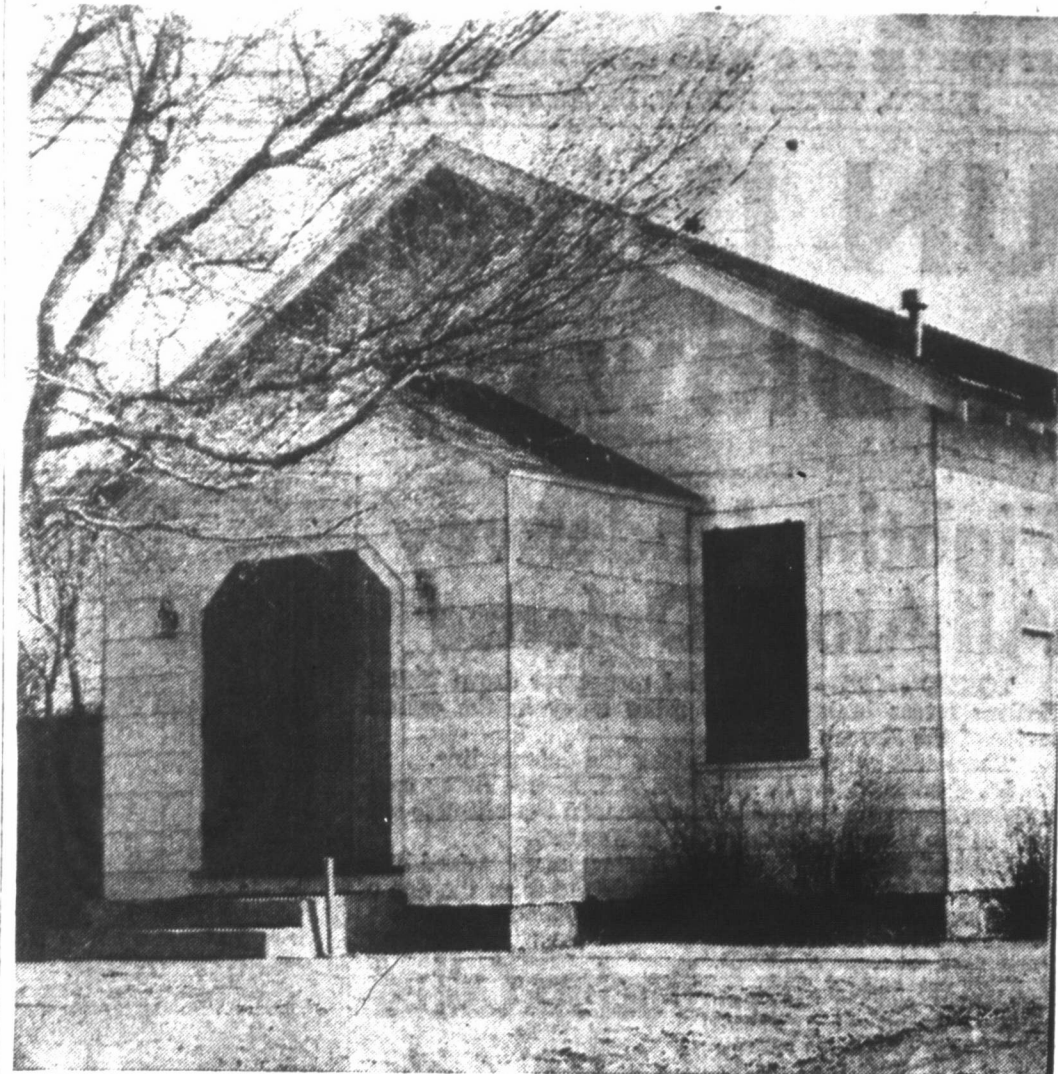

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto my Father" (John 14:12).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Divine Science derives its sanction from the Bible, and the divine origin of Science is demonstrated through the holy influence of Truth in healing sickness and sin" (page 146).

St. Matthew's Episcopal Church Held First Recorded Service in Pampa Home in 1925 With One Baptism

The first recorded service for the St. Matthew's Episcopal Mission was held on April 24, 1925 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Buckler. At this service the Rev. MacCullum baptized one child and presented two persons to the Rt. Rev. E. Cecil Seaman, then bishop of the Missionary District of North Texas, for confirmation.

During the next three years while services were conducted in school houses and in the funeral parlors of the city, the mission remained unorganized.

Christians Now Facing a New Year

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.
The fact that a Sunday intervenes between Christmas Day and the beginning of the New Year is always of interest and significance.

If everything in religion and history had worked out with the mathematical exactness and certainty that many matter-of-fact people date upon, there would be no intervening Sunday, nor two days to celebrate, for Christmas Day and New Year's Day would be the same day. This is obvious, for ostensibly we date our years from the birth of Christ, and it is that birth that we celebrate on Christmas Day.

It is a deep reminder to us, or ought to be, that the deep realities of religion and life are not bound up with exactness and mathematical certainty, but consist in essential truth and spiritual values.

To know the Christ, to feel the power of His love, and to love Him as He has loved us, has little to do with exact knowledge of the year, or day, in which He was born.

One might almost suppose that a wise Providence had left some things unexact so that all the emphasis might be on the deep important realities of spiritual truth and values. Yet, it is sad to realize how much these are neglected for relatively unimportant matters of uncertainty and speculation.

However this may be, there is value in that Sunday that intervenes between Christmas Day and New Year's Day. Here is time for reflection upon the great event celebrated at Christmas: sometimes, unfortunately, with more of pagan exuberance than of real joy and devotion in the coming of the Savior, it provides time for thought and introspection, for bringing Christian facts and values into the preparation of mind and heart as one enters upon a new year.

It is, of course, not actually a new year upon which one enters, but only upon the opening day of a new year. The truly Christian life is a day-by-day matter. Jesus emphasized this in his prayer. He taught His disciples, "Give us this day our daily bread."

That prayer led the soul into great heights and depths, and sublime, far-off goals. "Thy kingdom come! They will be done in earth as it is done in heaven"; but it was evidently intended for a daily prayer, not only in quest of bread, but bringing all the supreme range of God's life toward God, into daily experience.

So, the New Year for the Christian takes its guidance and goal, its hopes and aspirations, its joys and enrichments, from the Christmas story of the coming of the Christ, and of all that the Gospel of His life, His teaching, His example, His guidance, and His divine leadership mean for mankind.

Far and wide the world has celebrated Christmas. What a world it would be, if that celebration meant an actual devotion to the Prince of Peace, dispelling the fears and distrust, the hatred and violence, by the power of the more abundant life! "I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly."

To the many, who have written me recently, and to others who read this column, I offer sincere wishes for a happy and prosperous New Year, prosperous in all that pertains to life's best attainments and deepest satisfactions.

Grace Friend

Dear Grace:
There is a man in our church in whom I am interested. He doesn't pay any attention to me although we are on several committees together.

He is everything I dream of in a man and I want to attract him but don't know what to do about it. Maybe he thinks I am too young for him as he is 26 and I am 18. What do you think I can do to let him know that I like him and don't think he is too old for me?

Elizabeth

Dear Elizabeth:
As he is a member of your church and as you are on committees together it would be quite proper for you to invite him to your home if you wish. You might have the committee you are on drop by your home after its work for refreshments some evening.

You might even invite your mother into asking the young man for dinner. Afterwards produce two theater tickets and ask him if he would like to go to a show with you.

By then he should realize that you are interested in him and if he still doesn't want to do anything about it, there isn't much you can do but find some one else.

WE, THE WOMEN

By RUTH MILLET
NEA Staff Writer

Back in 1878 a pioneer adviser to the lovelorn, a physician interested in promoting happy marriages, wrote a pamphlet in which he counseled young men to look for "industry" in the girls they consider marrying.

A man with an industrious wife who did her own work and economized expenses, he pointed out, might be quite well-to-do at the end of 10 years of marriage. But the man with a wife who wasn't industrious and who had to hire everything done would in a few years find himself "poorer in money and far worse in hope than he was in the beginning."

As unromantic as it is, the doctor's advice is still good. It's still almost impossible for a young man married to an incompetent, lazy wife to get ahead. But a young man who marries an industrious girl can live beyond his means — in a good meaning of the term — because his wife makes every cent she spends count. Because she doesn't waste money hiring things done which she could do herself.

TAKE THE JONESES

The Joneses are a good example. They live well on a salary a wife less industrious than Mrs. Jones would find just enough to get by on.

The Jones children are well-dressed because Mrs. Jones makes their clothes, often out of hand-me-downs. It's her skill as a seamstress that makes it possible for them to have as nice clothes as they do.

The house is attractively furnished because Mrs. Jones has learned how to refinish old furniture, stitch up slip covers and curtains, and do many other things other wives have to pay to have done.

They can afford to entertain when they want to because Mrs. Jones has a knack of being hospitable without knocking the budget completely out of kilter. What's more, the family never hires anything done that some

Holiday Fete for Gleaners' Class

MIAMI — (Special) — The Gleaners' Class met in the home of Mrs. W. F. Locke for the annual Christmas party. Twenty-four members were present. After Mrs. Ed Schmidt led in member can do or learn how to do.

Mrs. Jones is a 1950 version of the "industrious" wife praised in that pamphlet written in 1878. There are a lot like her, but today when a young man marries one it is usually just by chance. Men don't look for industry today. They look for glamor — and if they get industry, too, they're just lucky.

prayer, Mrs. Loren Grantham read a parody on "The Night Before Christmas." A Christmas game was played, and Mrs. Ed Talley was the winner, and was presented with a prize.

Mrs. Charles Lyon and Mrs. Wallace Locke distributed the gifts from the Christmas tree. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mes. Lyon, Grantham and Locke.

We should go forth into life with the smallest expectations, but with the largest patience, with an equanimity so settled that no passing breath nor accidental disturbance shall agitate or ruffle it.
—Mary Baker Eddy

BANDING TOGETHER—In their first appearance before the news camera since their recent wedding, Shirley Temple and her new husband, Charles Black, show off their wedding rings at his parents' San Francisco home. The 22-year-old screen star said she is giving up her career and will devote herself to being a housewife and taking care of her daughter.

You In The Church
The Church In You -
Form a combination for good. We should attend church regularly. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the CHURCH. Be Faithful! Be a Churchman.

By William Henry Furness
Doubleday, Dorland & Co., Inc.
New York, N. Y.

Come! Let us also go to the House of the Lord! Back to the Sanctuary where men meet the living God! Never before have women and men and children so filled the churches of our land. More than half of our population have signed on the dotted line. They have committed their lives to the keeping and guidance of the Great Leader. They belong to the Church. Why?

People go to church for many reasons, to be sure. Some go because it has become one of the good habits they learned from Godly and honored parents. Some of us go because we must have help for the difficult tasks we have undertaken. Other men have knelt at the altars of religion to have their strength renewed. The hour of worship has been like a warm bath of the spirit, from which we rise refreshed and relaxed and ready for whatever duty lies ahead.

The ideal reason for going to church is to become a part of that Life which is greater than our own. We really belong to the Whole of things and we are our best selves only when our single person is caught up into divine fellowship. We find that we live and move lost and frustrated until we become one with the Cosmic Life...until we find ourselves in our God. Let us go into the Church.

Strength of U. S. Lies in No Controls

Won't we Americans ever learn that we are not a nation of slaves? No secret to this, it should be history — especially American history — of the great strength of the United States as a power in the world lies in the freedom FROM government controls?

It is this relative (to other nations) freedom from government control that has made it possible for individuals with inventive and productive ability to be free to use their abilities to the full. It is this freedom that has built up the great industrial might of the United States. That is what accounts for our strength in producing goods for peace or weapons for war.

If we keep our relative freedom from government controls, no nation or group of nations will ever conquer us. BUT if we adopt government controls such as other nations have, we shall lose our advantage over them. It will be the end of our relative advantage which is due ONLY to our relative freedom of production, our enemies by mere superiority of numbers would overcome our forces.

Whenever we get into a war, the politicians who fancy themselves our rulers instead of slaves decide that the way to win the war is to put controls over us as Truman is now doing. This does increase the POWER of our politicians but it does NOT increase our power to wage war.

A free people can whip a slave people any time they want to. But if we put ourselves under the control of a few men, we are no longer a free people as for example Russia vs. Finland. The United States is such a large country that if we were really free, we would not have to fear all the rest of the world together. While we are not really free even in this country, we are no much closer to freedom than IF we can keep what freedom we have and keep our war mongers from taking our freedom from us in the name of a false premise of using their increased powers to protect us from outside powers, we need not fear Stalin, Mao or anyone else.

The real danger to our lives and freedom is that in fear and trembling of Stalin or Mao we allow Truman to take our freedom from us. We must not allow our OWN government to take controls over us which they will NEVER relinquish.

If we are to fight Stalin, let us fight him as a FREE nation without such hindrances as price controls, rationing, manpower drafts, etc., and we will lick him much sooner than if we lower our strength by having government bureaucrats make decisions for 160,000,000 of us in-

Fair Enough-Pegler

WESTBROOK PEGLER

NEW YORK — The letter which follows here, written on the letterhead of the Municipal Court of the City of Los Angeles, bearing the signature, "Ida May Adams, Judge," is presented as an extraordinary expression of the Roosevelt - New Deal mentality.

It was sent to the city editor of the Los Angeles Times with a note requesting that it be published in "reply" to my recent statement of belief that Eleanor Roosevelt should be dismissed from all official connection with the United Nations, and that she had been repudiated by her candidates, Jimmy Roosevelt and Helen Gahagan Douglas.

I seriously suggest that this text should be studied by college classes in logic, ethics, morals and literacy and by bar associations of the United States.

"I am serving my 20th year as Judge at Los Angeles, after 11 years' practice of law in the same city. I occupy a nonpartisan office.

In spite of a life of public service, I am first of all a woman. I would be ashamed of being a woman if I allowed your column of today to go unchallenged. An insult to any good woman is an offense against all women.

As a man, you must feel very gallant and very brave when you malign a woman and refer to the widow of him whom your countrymen three times over, three W.P.'s, times chose as their president, as 'this woman.' Whether you agree with her or not, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt is easily the most distinguished woman of this generation.

Your statement that the United Nations will never command the respect of those millions of Americans who resent and oppose all that Eleanor Roosevelt stands for, until she is removed from official status in the nation's representation, is a statement of opinion, legally speaking, includes a fact not in evidence; namely that millions of Americans oppose all that Eleanor Roosevelt stands for. I doubt if any sane American opposes all that Mrs. Roosevelt stands for. Let us pause to consider a few of the things she does stand for. By her own life and conduct and self-service, she has been an outstanding example of a loyal wife and mother. No social duty ever kept her from going to any of her considerable family of children who needed her. She was her husband's good right hand.

"She stands for freedom and for the principle that all men are created equal and endowed with certain inalienable rights, including life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. (How many of your millions are against that principle, Mr. Pegler?)

"She stands for faith in Almighty God. (Is this, too, objectionable, Mr. Pegler?)

"Mrs. Roosevelt stands for decent housing and better living conditions for all. (How many of your millions are against that principle, Mr. Pegler?)

"She stands for a better food and the opportunity for education for children. (How many of your millions are against that principle, Mr. Pegler?)

"You say that she was a friend of Alger Hiss. Would you condemn Oliver Wendell Holmes, justice of the United States Supreme Court, on the same ground? Justice Holmes was not only the friend of Alger Hiss but employed him as his trusted secretary.

"I imagine Mrs. Roosevelt would be the last to deny that her political convictions are deep and strong. Whatever her political convictions may be, I ask you whether you or she is better able by inheritance, education and experience to base those convictions on a firm foundation?

"If there is any disgrace attached to having espoused the cause of a candidate who was not elected, then you, Mr. Pegler, have much to answer for, for it seems to me that you have spent most of your career in behalf of losers. When any mother in the United States cannot with impunity assist her son at any time by speaking for him in an election campaign, then the United States will have ceased to be a place of liberty.

"It is not enough that you strike at Mrs. Roosevelt with your 'poisonous pen' but you dare to slander the dead. Only an assassin's coward would write the following sentence which I quote from your article referring to Mrs. Roosevelt: 'This woman is now trying to bail her husband out of his dramatic decline from a status of deity to that of a demon.' Your English is bad, Mr. Pegler, and your metaphor is decidedly mixed.

"Just how do you figure, when referring to Mrs. Roosevelt, who never ran for office, that she has been repudiated at the polls and she should go, I fail to see.

"Your published statement, 'Nobody ever asked her to represent the American nation except Harry Truman and a few other low politicians who share her ethics' is in bad taste to say the least of it. Such a statement at times like this calling the President of the United States 'a low politician' is, in my opinion, not only entirely without warrant in fact, and unpatriotic, but might, if noticed, give comfort to the enemy.

"The term 'bail' implies that there has been or is a charge of crime against the person for whom bail is sought or given. You can slander the dead who know and your article in several respects, comes very close to being actionable.

"Very truly yours, TMA-mb (signature) 'Ida May Adams.'

"The spelling of 'polls' as 'poles' and 'demon' as 'dean' is that of the learned judge.

We saw in the paper the other night that a Washington telephone operator asked Harry Truman his name when he identified himself only as 'the President.'

We wonder if the Voice with the Smith end for Let us pause to consider a few of the things she does stand for. By her own life and conduct and self-service, she has been an outstanding ex-

Such a statement at times like this calling the President of the United States 'a low politician' is, in my opinion, not only entirely without warrant in fact, and unpatriotic,

WHAT FUN!—Halfback Leroy Crawford shows his joy at carrying the pigskin 66 yards to a touchdown as the Blackshear Leopards of San Angelo defeated the Douglas Panthers of Pittsburg 46-6 in a Negro Intercollegiate League Class A quarterfinals football game. Note how he carries the football like a baseball. Making a futile effort to catch Crawford are Frank Wooten (52) and Odell Ladd (34) of the Panthers. (AP Photo)

Claassen Selects Football Winners

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
NEW YORK —(P)—Two-platoon football has become so popular that the gridiron sport has two seasons during each year — the scheduled program in the fall and the bowl "season" on Jan. 1.

But to prove to you that the two seasons are really one, here are the winners of the coming bowl contests.

Saturday, Dec. 30
East-West Shrine game at San Francisco: The Eastern forces with Everett Grondelius of Michigan State as the spear, a seven-point favorite to chalk up a fourth straight triumph. But the real winner will be the crippled kids in the various hospitals, who get the gate receipts after expenses have been paid. The East to win.

Blue-Gray at Montgomery, Ala.: Dan Foldsberg and Chuck Shira, members of the unbeaten team that represented that grand old southern school, the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, N.Y., are members of the Dixie eleven. If the Southerners can defeat Georgia that easily why can't they beat the Northern foot-ball team? The South, sub, by seven.

Monday, Jan. 1
Rose Bowl at Pasadena: Michigan over California.
Sugar Bowl at New Orleans: Oklahoma over Kentucky. Five Oklahoma players supposedly on the hospital list. They will get well, miraculously, by the time of the kickoff and football's longest modern winning streak will move to 32 games.

Cotton Bowl at Dallas: Texas over Tennessee. With Townsend in the backfield and McFadin on the line the Texas team is at least the equal of any team in the country. In addition, the Longhorns will be playing before the homefolk.

Orange Bowl at Miami: Clemson over Miami.
Gator Bowl at Jacksonville: Wyoming over Washington & Lee.
Cigar Bowl at Tampa, Fla.: Valparaiso over Lacrosse (Wis). Teachers.

Sun Bowl at El Paso: Cincinnati over West Texas State.
Salad Bowl at Phoenix, Ariz.: Arizona State of Tempe over Miami of Ohio.
Tangier Bowl at Tampa, Fla.: Morris Harvey over Emory and Henry.
Pineapple Bowl at Honolulu: Denver over Hawaii.
Oleander Bowl at Galveston: Wharton Junior College over San Angelo Junior College.

Cotton Bowl Cagers Enter Semifinals
DALLAS —(P)—Bowie meets Crozier Tech (Dallas) and Poly (Fort Worth) plays Sunset (Dallas) tonight in the semi-finals of the Cotton Bowl High School Basketball Tournament.

Bowie last night ousted Sherman, 60-42, as James Robertson scored 28 points; Sunset defeated Tyler, 48-35; Polytechnic knocked off Lantville, 58-49, and Crozier Tech beat San Angelo, 40-29.

In consolation games, Waco beat Greenville, 59-39; Jesuit (Dallas) downed Arlington, 57-41; Waxahachie defeated Arlington Heights (Fort Worth), 29-27, and Adamson (Dallas) beat Pattonville, 44-31.

Claunch Hits 21 Points to Lead Pampa Cage Quintet

BROWNWOOD —(P)—Eight high schools were left in the running today as second round play started in the annual Howard Payne Invitational Basketball Tournament.

Yesterday Sweetwater beat Olney, 33-21; Pampa defeated Midland, 45-39; Milby (Houston) downed Big Spring, 50-29; Fort Worth Northside licked Odessa, 40-38; Port Arthur crushed Temple, 38-22; Burkett knocked off Cleburne, 51-49, and Kerrville beat Brownwood, 32-27.

The Harvesters will meet Sweetwater at 3:30 this afternoon in a semifinal tilt.

Coach Cliff McNeely's quintet had to come from behind in the second half to put the game on ice. Pampa trailed at halftime, 24-23. Three of Midland cagers fouled out during the cage battle in the second semester.

Guard James Claunch of Pampa, sparked the Harvester cagers with 21 points. Claunch connected seven times from the field and seven from the free throw line. Duane Jeter scored 10 points to nail down second honors.

The Harvesters came back during the third quarter and scored 14 points while holding Midland to eight tallies. Pampa added eight more in the final period to seven for Midland.

Sugar Bowl Hits Jackpot With Cage Selections

NEW ORLEANS —(P)—The Sugar Bowl hit the jackpot nine months ago by inviting Kentucky and Bradley — now the nation's number one and two basketball teams.

Kentucky (6-0) meets St. Louis (8-1) at 7:45 p.m. (CST) and Bradley (10-0) faces Syracuse (6-2) at 9:30 p.m. (CST) tonight in the opening round of the annual Sugar Bowl tournament.

How did the tournament selection committee come up with such an accurate long-range forecast for the country's number one and two quintets?

By stringing along with the coaches who you know are going to give you a good game," explains Sam Cornsweat, chairman of the Sugar Bowl's Basketball Committee.

Bradley and Kentucky are favored to win their openers and meet in the finals tomorrow night — a repeat performance of last year's finals when Kentucky edged Bradley 71-66.

Bands to Battle in Rose Bowl

PASADENA, Calif. —(P)—There'll be a battle today in the Rose Bowl — strictly with words — as the Tournament of Roses stages its annual pre-game "kick-off luncheon."

Rose officials, gleeful that the weatherman has predicted good weather for the Michigan-California football game New Year's Day, expected several thousand to sit in on today's box lunch gabfest.

Generally, the kickoff affair is held in Pasadena's mammoth Civic Auditorium, sponsored by the Kiwanis Club here, but the thing attracted so many people it was decided to throw it in the big bowl itself this year.

Listed as star orators of the day, of course, were the rival coaches, Lynn Waldorf of California and Bennie Osterbaan of the invading Wolverines.

Houston Cagers Are Favored in Tourney

SAN ANTONIO —(P)—A couple of Houston schools — San Jacinto and Lamar — loomed as the top contenders for the Class AA title in the San Antonio Invitational High School Basketball Tournament.

San Jacinto last night bounced into the semi-finals on a 52-victory over Burbank, while Lamar downed Austin, 55-45.

Other semi-finalists are Lanier, which beat Alamo Heights, 55-45, and Thomas Jefferson, which trimmed Brackenside, 35-28.

In the open class, San Antonio Tech and South San Antonio gained the finals.

Code Sinners Are Due for Suspension

LOS ANGELES —(P)—Possible suspension of six alleged sanity code sinners, a fight over the code itself and action relating to television, all figure to keep things stirring when the National Collegiate Athletic Association holds its annual meeting in Dallas Jan. 21.

The "unsightly six" are due for possible suspension for non-compliance with the sanity code, said NCAA President Hugh C. Willett as he mapped out plans for the sessions today.

Willett, University of Southern California professor and faculty adviser, as well as former president of the Pacific Coast Conference, would not divulge the names of the institutions in question, nor the five others which apparently have mended their ways since they were cited for alleged violations earlier this year.

Nor would Willett give any indication of the nature of the purports. But the sanity code deals with subsidization of athletes and presumably this issue is paramount in the cases involved.

Whether the group includes any of the "seven sinners" named at the stormy NCAA convention in New York last year was also left unanswered.

Annual Coaching School Planned By Texas Mentors

DALLAS —(P)—Directors of the Texas High School Coaches Association today were to line up instructors for their annual coaching school.

Last night they decided to make the school last six days instead of five in order to "split up" basketball and football to ease the housing situation at the school site.

More than a thousand coaches attend the nation's biggest coaching school annually.

A site for the 1961 school will be selected tomorrow. Dates will be July 30 to Aug. 4.

A committee headed by Jewel Wallace, football coach at Thomas Jefferson (San Antonio) is to report to the directors in March on a schedule for the school.

This meeting will decide when during the school the annual all-star basketball and football games will be played.

In other action by the directors, it was decided to accept a suggestion by the Texas Sports Writers Association and invited a prominent sports writer to appear on the school program to give public relations.

Texas Clouters Fight for LSU

NEW ORLEANS —(P)—Three Texans fought for LSU last night in their boxing victory over Idaho in the Sugar Bowl Tournament. Two lost and one had a draw in the 4-3-3 victory.

Idaho is co-champion with Gonzaga in the NCAA, a title wrested from LSU last year.

Gene Weizel of Holston gave LSU a draw in the 165-pound class with Idaho's Veri King.

Freddie Flores of Galveston was outpointed by Frank Echevarria of Idaho in the 125-pound class. Flores was outclassed completely.

Tommy Throver of Austin, lost to Idaho's Norman Walker in the 135-pound class. Throver stopping a looping right midway in the first round. His head bounced on the canvas. He got to his feet but the referee stopped the fight.

Cage Tourney Dates Set for January

January will be a busy month for basketball officials in the Panhandle. Three invitational basketball tournaments are scheduled during the opening month in 1961.

Claude will start things off with its invitational tourney Jan. 3-5. Then the to-jamant spotlight shifts to Wheeler where three days of action is scheduled for Jan. 11-12-13. Canadian's invitational cage tilt is set for Jan. 18-19-20.

Coaches interested in entering their teams should contact the cage mentor at each of the schools.

Sport Casters Throw Protest at 1-AAAA

LUBBOCK —(P)—The newly formed West Texas Broadcasters Association protested a District 1-AAAA ruling that only one station in each district town would be allowed to broadcast home football games next fall and only one out-of-town station allowed to carry the game.

Representatives of nine of 16 radio stations in towns in the district formed the association yesterday.

TOURNEY OPENS

COMMERCE —(P)—The first East Texas State Invitational Basketball Tournament opens here today with 14 Northeast Texas high schools entered.

General Bob Neyland Played His High School Football in Texas

KNOXVILLE —(Special)—General Robert R. Neyland, Athletic Director and Head Football Coach at Tennessee, is celebrating his Silver Anniversary as Vol grid chief. Neyland, Dean of Southeastern Conference coaches, came to Tennessee twenty-five years ago as Head Football Coach. Beginning in 1926 he served as top pilot at the Volunteer institution through 1940.

With the exception of one year, 1935, when he was sent to Panama for a tour of duty with the Army Corps of Engineers. After undefeated '35, '39 and '40 seasons, Neyland left Tennessee for five years Army duty; he returned to Tennessee in 1946 to resume his coaching duties.

Neyland was born in Greenville, Texas, Feb. 17, 1892, where he attended high school. He was captain of three of his high school athletics teams, football, basketball and baseball.

After spending one year at Burleson College and one year at Texas A&M, Neyland was appointed to West Point in 1912. He was an outstanding athlete at the "Point" for three years. He won his letter in football as regular end in 1914 and 1915, but Neyland's most notable athletic accomplishments were in baseball and boxing. His record at the academy as a baseball pitcher is still unequalled. He pitched and won 35 games, lost 5, and went 20 straight games before being defeated by Fordham.

Neyland holds one of the longest consecutive winning streaks in college football history; starting with a 13-0 win over Kentucky on November 29, 1937, his teams won 36 straight regular season games before being upset by Wake Forest in 1944. His teams won three straight at the end of the 1937 season; they were undefeated and untied in 1938, 1939 and 1940; in 1946 Neyland coached teams won four more consecutive games before the Wake Forest loss. While setting this record of 36 consecutive regular season wins, Neyland's teams scored 955 points in their opponents' 55.

During World War II, Neyland served five years in the Army. He left Tennessee in May, 1941, and was made District Engineer at Norfolk, Va., where he was in charge of important large-scale construction work. Also he was engineer in charge of harbor improvements at vast Hampton Roads, Va., Port of Embarkation. From Norfolk, Neyland was sent to Dallas as Division Engineer of the Southwest Division. In charge of all military construction in the States of New Mexico, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Texas and Arkansas. Transferred to Kunming, China in early 1944, he was made Commanding General of Advance Section 1, Service of Supply, in charge of all supplies to American troops in China. Later Neyland became Commanding General of H&A Section, Service of Supply, in charge of all supplies to American forces in the C-B-I Theatre of Operations.

In 1942, Neyland was ordered by the War Department to assemble and coach an Army All-Star team to play a schedule with professional teams. This team, after less than a month's training, played and defeated within a four-day period two of the three most powerful football teams in the nation. Neyland's All-Stars defeated the New York Giants 16-0, the Brooklyn Dodgers 14-7, and on the eighth day lost to the world's champion Chicago Bears 14-7.

Neyland married Miss Ada Fitch, daughter of Grand Rapids, Mich., July 16, 1923. General and Mrs. Neyland have two sons, Robert R. III and Lewis F. Neyland. Robert R. III was a member of the 1950 freshman football team.

Defense Diet Set For Cotton Bowl

DALLAS —(P)—Cotton Bowl fans who have been spoiled by scoring thrills through the years may have to substitute fundamental football on their New Year's day diet here Monday.

There is a growing suspicion that the University of Texas and the University of Tennessee will engage in the lowest scoring game the Cotton Bowl has produced since that scoreless deadlock between representatives of the same conference — Arkansas and LSU — in the 1947 game.

A defensive struggle will be nothing new to Gen. Bob Neyland's Tennessee Volunteers, who have not scored in their last two post-season tests, but it would be a drastic departure from the Longhorns' post-season pattern. The last time Texas played in this Dallas classic it was a party to bowl scoring records with its 49-27 conquest of Missouri on Jan. 1, 1946.

Two years later, after their first season under Blair Cherry, the Longhorns rolled over Alabama, 27-7, in the Sugar Bowl, then the very next year they rewrote their previous post-season scoring records by upsetting Georgia, 41-28, in the Orange Bowl.

The Longhorns' most impotent offensive showing in bowl play was here in the Cotton Bowl in 1944, when Dana Bible's team was tied, 7-7, by Randolph Field. That is the only blot on the Longhorns' post-season record, which got its start a year earlier with a 14-7 victory over Georgia Tech in the Cotton Bowl.

A desire to protect that fine record, the best owned by any school and a determination to win for its retiring coach, have kindled Texas' desire to keep faith with its followers and the handicappers of the occasion.

Little scoring is forecast on this occasion, because the two principals boast stubborn and rugged defensive platoons. Tennessee, long noted for its tough tackling and rugged play, did not yield a point in its final three games. The Vols put down Mississippi, 35-0; upset Kentucky, 7-0, then mauled Vanderbilt, 43-0.

Texas closed 43-0, a margin but was quite content in these successive conquests: 21-7 over Texas Christian; 17-0 over high-scoring Texas A&M; and 21-6 over hapless Louisiana State.

Most of the praise that has been heaped on Cherry's team has been inspired by the brilliant defensive play of a platoon that featured Don Meanase, All-America end; linebacker June Davis, and Paul Williams and safetymen Bobby Dillon.
