CHILICOTHE, HARDEMAN COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, APRIL 25, 1935

NUMBER 39

FORMAL OPENING MONDAY NEW FORD HOME

MARSH ELECTED PRESIDENT OF LOCAL SCHOOL BOARD

FIRST MEETING SINCE ELECTION HELD LAST NIGHT

V. O. Williams, Vice-President and Roy W. Sutton, Secretary, are Named

HANCOCK AGAIN HEAD OF SCHOOL

Popular Superintendent To Enter Upon 7th Year At Next School Term

Dewey Marsh was elected president of the Chillicothe Independent School Board at the meeting held last night. It was the election held on April 6.

Other officers include: V. O. Williams, vice-president; Roy W. Sutton, secretary; Raymond Touchstone, purchasing agent; A. B. Douglas, book custodian; Tom Campbell, building superintendent; and James Calhoun, trustee for the negro school.

Those officers were named following a canvass of the election returns which preceded all other business.

It was further announced this morning that W. E. Hancock was elected as city school superintendent for another term, which will be the seventh year as head of the schools. Previous to being elevated to the superintendency, Hancock served two years as high school principal. Upon the resignation of R. D. Thompson he was named superintendent and has proven to be one of the most efficient school leaders in this part of the state. Besides his duties in the schools he has also served the city in a civic way which has stamped him as one of the most active citizens.

Superintendent Hancock is expected to meet with the school board within a short time to re-elect the faculty for another term.

QUAIL BOUGHT BY LOCAL MEN

Forty-eight birds traveled loose Monday in this community

Forty-eight quail were received in Chillicothe Sunday from the state game and fish department, and Monday were distributed in different sections of the local community by Chillicothe sportsmen.

Due to the fact that the quail in this section were becoming scarce it was necessary to re-stock. Chillicothe men bought twenty-four, and were given one for each one purchased. It is hoped to increase the number for this next year to where the game will be more plentiful.

COUNTY RECEIVES PART RACING FUND

$239.03 OF $60,714.80 PAID STATE THROUGH WAGGERS ON RACES GIVEN COUNTY

Miss Daisy Scarborough, county treasurer, makes known the portion of the state racing fund to come to Hardeman county amounts to $239.03 of the $60,714.00. A check for that sum has been received.

She states this is the second check to be received from the state, which collects a part of money wagered.

HIKE IN FUNDS FOR RURAL AID MAY BE OKED

LARGEST APPROPRIATION OF LEGISLATURE PREDICTED IN THIS SESSION

"The Texas Legislature at its present session will probably give more money to the rural schools than has ever been done by any previous legislature," Rep. George Moffett, 114th District predicts in a communication received here.

Although there has been a few objections to the part of some of the rural school people on the provisions in former rural aid bills, the Representative points out, he is hoping however, the new bill, scheduled to be passed during the present session, will operate to do the greatest good.

He would like to hear from rural school teachers, trustees, as well as patrons regarding the proposed law, in order they may take immediate advantage of the opportunity to write to Austin about the suggested changes, which they think should be included in the new rural aid law.

LOCAL STORES EXEMPTED FROM RECOVERY ACT

All Stores With Less Than Five Employees Not Required Pay Dues

Although the local administrator, L. C. Curfield, has been advised grocery stores must be members of the NRA to be eligible to sell goods to relief clients, and assisted last week only a few Chillicothe grocery stores had maintained its membership, the "Local Food and Grocery Distributors Code Authority" for the Fort Worth Area, says in answer to an inquiry from a local store.

"The small retail grocery stores in towns of 1,400 are subject to the same code of fair competition as any other grocery stores, except that the President, by executive order, exempted those which have less than five employees, as to hours, wages, loan limitation provisions and assessments. Otherwise the code applies.

"The President, in his order, stated further that he expected every establishment so exempted to co-operate to the fullest extent of its ability on a voluntary basis."

CHILICOTHEANS GIVEN RELIEF FROM DROUTH, DUST DUE TO RAIN

Relief from the drouth and dust storms that have prevailed in this section of the country for the past several weeks, was brought to a halt when a heavy rain, totaling 1.54 inches at the Chillicothe Experiment Station and 1.75 inches at the Underwood farm, fell on last Thursday afternoon and night.

The soil is well-soaked and wheat that was showing the effects of parched earth, has been revived. Scarcity of grass pasturage that has caused concern among livestock owners, will also be alleviated materially. The rain proved to be most welcome.

Dust, coming in from states northwest, that has held this vicinity in its grip, and that wreaked hopes for a wheat crop in those northern states, is expected to abate for sometime to come, although it is reported the wheat in that part of the country is being (Continued on Last Page)

SOFT BALL LOOP IS REORGANIZED; MARTIN IS PREXY

Season to Open in Chillicothe On Saturday, May 1, Split Season Favored

DRAFT SCHEDULE NEXT SATURDAY

Lon Cobb, M. M. Sweatman, J. R. Jones, Leonard Mitchell, On Executive Committee

Walter Martin was elected president of the Chillicothe Rural Soft Ball League, reorganized at a meeting held in the Chillicothe chamber of commerce office last Saturday afternoon. W. M. Gourley was named secretary.

An executive committee of Martin as chairman and Lon Cobb, Medicine Mound, M. M. Sweatman, Elm Grove, J. R. Jones, Clark, and Leonard Mitchell of the Midway community, was appointed.

A definite set of rules were adopted and will be forwarded to each member of the team in each community. Among the rules was the adoption of a 12-inch iname ball to be used in the games this season. Opening of the season was set for May 4. However, when the schedule is drafted a split season is expected to be favored.

The executive committee is to meet at the same place this next Saturday and arrange the schedule of games. Indications point to the season being even more successful than last year.

The Saturday meeting was attended by a large group of community representatives.

This is the only soft ball rural league playing organized ball in the state, it is believed, with games being played at night. Thousands of people were brought to Chillicothe last year because of the games. Due to its success it is thought a city soft ball league will be formed later to play on the field at night when regular rural games are not slated.

Ex-Convict To Speak Saturday

"Why ev'ning Doesn't Pay," will be emphasized by an ex-convict

L. A. Scroggins, when he speaks here next Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock. "My work now is to save as many young men from going to the penitentiary as possible," he said. The lecturer has spoken before Chillicothe people on previous occasions.

TUBERCULOSIS TEST IS BEING GIVEN CATTLE

GOVERNMENT MAN URGES CO-OPERATION OF CATTLE OWNERS, HOWEVER

Dr. Bozeman, employed by the Federal Government to test cattle in this vicinity for tuberculosis, has been busy for the past several days in giving the tests.

The officer stated, however, he was finding it difficult to find some of the cattle he had tested on his return, which is necessary after a three-day period. Therefore, he urges all cattle owners to keep their cows at the same location where they were tested. It takes three days to determine the condition of the cow.

PREVENTION OF RABIES URGED BY COUNCILMEN

URGENT DOG OWNERS HAVE THEIR ANIMALS VACCINATED SOON AS POSSIBLE

Due to there having already been one or two dogs found to be afflicted with rabies, and since the city is without an ordinance which would force dog owners to have their animals vaccinated, the council, at its last meeting, went on record, however, to urge that immediate attention on the part of the owners be given by having the dogs vaccinated at once in order to protect human lives, as well as the dogs.

Elsewhere in today's News will be a notice from the city calling upon the cooperation of individuals owning dogs to see that vaccine is immediately given to their dogs.

INTER-CITY MEET DISTRICT LEAGUES TO BE HELD HERE

Chillicothe Club to Be Host With Banquet Served In Hall

Chillicothe Lions Club will be host to the inter-city meeting of Lions Clubs in this district Thursday night, May 2, at eight o'clock. The meeting will be held in the American Legion Hall.

D. T. Boaz, of Breckenridge, district governor, will be in attendance at the inter-city meeting next Thursday night. He has advised President Roy W. Sutton of the local club.

Due to the district meeting not being held, although members are requested to register to keep up their attendance record.

President Sutton announced the committees to arrange for the gathering, as follows: Arrangements—C. R. Tubb; reception—W. E. Hancock, C. L. Glazner, J. A. McKay, ticket—G. R. Roberts, Lee Womack, Carter Forbes.

Last Tuesday's meeting was presided over by Lion Waldrip, with the invocation being given by Joe H. Anderson, Rev. R. T. Broadlove, Lion member, made a report on the welfare committee. The report was adopted.

The next regular meeting will be held on May 7 at the usual place. The program will be in charge of the Constitution and By-Laws committee.

Mrs. C. E. Carlock was a guest of the club, and rendered two organ solo numbers, Lion Kramer of Vernon was also a guest.

NEW THEATRE FOR THIS CITY

L. MEYER OF STAMFORD BYS LUDMAN BUILDING FOR PICTURE HOUSE

Remodeling of the George Ludman building, next door to the Hindman furniture store, is expected to be started within the next ninety days, and when completed will house one of the most modern theatres in this part of the state, it was revealed yesterday by L. Meyer of Stamford, who bought the building.

The deal was closed Wednesday. Meyer has been in Stamford for the past two years, and is said to be one of the best show men in West Texas. With his wife he will move to Chillicothe shortly.

SEED AND FEED LOANS INSTEAD COTTON LOANS

ERROR IN STORY LAST WEEK CORRECTED BY COUNTY AGENT WENDT

Instead of cotton loans it is loans for feed and seeds, so declared County Agent Frank Wendt in correcting a news story appearing in last week's News and giving application blanks were now available at the Chillicothe Chamber of Commerce office for cotton loans.

So should there be any farmers wanting to secure seed and feed from the emergency crop loans department, they are requested to go to the chamber of commerce office.

TRADE DAY IS WELL ATTENDED

INTERESTING PROGRAM GIVEN IN AFTERNOON BY MEDICINE MOUND

Chillicothe was crowded yesterday with trade day visitors, coming to reap the benefit of store values and to also attend the program staged by the Medicine Mound community, which proved very entertaining and was appreciated by all.

It is hoped to continue such programs, and therefore another community may give the program at the trade day to be held on May 22.

CONFERENCE OF VERNON DISTRICT BEING HELD HERE

Will Close This Afternoon After Two Days Session; About 200 Attend

FORTY CHURCHES REPRESENTED

Rev. John E. Eldridge, Presiding Elder, of Vernon, Is In Charge

Annual conference of the Vernon Methodist District, convened here Wednesday and will be brought to a close this afternoon. About 200 representatives from 40 churches in the district are attending. Rev. John E. Eldridge, presiding elder of Vernon, is in charge.

At the eleven o'clock hour Rev. J. H. Hanlon of Vernon delivered a sermon from the text, "They Shall Mount Up With Wings As Eagles." After the benediction lunch was served by the women of the church.

The theme of the conference is "Evangelism," and was opened at 10 a. m. yesterday with the election of a district secretary and appointment of committees. The afternoon session began at 2 o'clock with devotional being given by Rev. E. A. Maness, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Childress.

The work of the Children's, Young People's, and Adult's divisions was discussed in the afternoon, and at the evening hour, after a program of music given by the choir under the direction of Mrs. O. L. Boston, a discussion of the Lay Activities of the church was heard by a good audience. Mr. R. H. Nichols of Vernon and Mr. Fred Storey of Childress, both newspaper men were (Continued on Last Page)

Old Majestic Building Turned Into Modern Automobile Home

"Mad" Dog Is Not Friendly, States Henry

Claude Feels Effects of Crushing Teeth On Ankle Bones

Watch out for Claude Henry! This smiling young gentleman was bitten by a dog Monday, and as a consequence is carrying a swollen ankle. No, the dog didn't bite him where dogs usually bite when after a human being. "The dog was mad!" declared Claude, "but I don't know whether he was made enough to be affected with rabies. All I know is that he was mad enough to gnaw my ankle."

As a general thing when a dog bites a person it is termed of no news value, but this is an exception. Claude thinks a new story is necessary in order to inform others not to be too friendly with Horace Campbell's young canine, else they may depart minus some flesh.

"I'll recover," was the parting shot Claude gave.

Adjoining Building Also Made Part of Touchstone's New Home

PUBLIC INVITED AS FIRM GUESTS

Large Acolve Connects Office With Display Room for Ford Cars

Formal opening of the new home of Touchstone Motor Company has been set for next Monday, April 29.

The public of Chillicothe and community for the past several weeks have witnessed the remodeling of the old Majestic Theatre building into one of the most beautiful business places in Chillicothe, rearranged throughout, in addition to the building formerly occupied by the Jack Sims John Deere Implement Store, and now it has been made ready, practically everything arranged to make it one of the most modern automobile houses in West Texas. Nothing it appears, has been left undone in making this structure a real office. It will carry inside the finest of equipment, front and back.

Arranged for the convenience of employees the office is a beauty. Each department of this concern will be so separated so that the public can easily locate the one which they want. And to the rear will be found the mechanical department. Here will be found the most modern machinery for servicing automobiles, and mechanics well-trained to do the work, formalized by Earl Magee, with the company for the past several years. Whatever a motorist may desire will be found from washing and greasing to the general overhauling of a motor.

And to the left as you enter the office through a large alcove will be found the display room, revealing models of the 1935 Ford V-8, the car that has made possible this magnificent new home. An automobile, to be sure, that has created wonder throughout the entire nation as being the best automobile ever built by Henry Ford. Therefore, as you glimpse this new 1935 model, see the many features it offers, then recall the days of the Model T, you cannot but keep at the motorist may desire to give the motoring world something better.

Because the firm, headed by Raymond Touchstone, is proud of the new home and because Mr. Touchstone wants the public to see it, Monday, April 29, has been designated as the formal opening, when open house will be held. Everyone, therefore, in the Chillicothe territory is cordially invited to be the firm's guest for that one day, especially. What you see, you will appreciate.

LOCAL DEBATERS FINALLY LOSE IN REGIONAL CLASH

Dan Cooper Wilson and Joe Kenneth Phillips Represent Chillicothe

Chillicothe high school boys debate team, Dan Cooper Wilson and Joe Kenneth Phillips, carried the colors of the school far into the regional finals at Canyon last Saturday.

Wilson, age 13, in the ninth grade and Phillips, age 13, in the tenth grade, have been bringing honors to themselves and their school for several weeks, having captured the honors at the county meet in Quanah, won in the district meet at Childress, and advanced to the finals in the regional meet at Canyon, edging with the Amarillo team. The Amarillo lads were older and more experienced and won the right to represent the region at Austin next week. The Chillicothe team served notice on their arrival home, however, that there would be another day.

The Chillicothe girls team also won the county this year and advanced to the finals in the district meet at Childress, where they lost to the Wellington team. June Chandler and Modena Genry composed the Chillicothe team.

Katherine Ashford, co-leader of the debate team, and Superintendent W. E. Hancock, accompanied the debaters to the regional meet.

THORNTON GIVEN POST IN DALLAS

TO ASSUME WORK WITH PUBLIC WORKS ADMINISTRATION IN THAT CITY

James E. Thornton, resident here for many years, will leave possibly this week-end for Dallas where he will assume work as an office auditor in the Public Works Administration. He was notified this week of his appointment. He will be employed under F. A. Villa, district project auditor.

Mr. Thornton stated Mrs. Thornton would not join him in Dallas until after the close of school.

EDUCATION COMES FIRST

The farmer of today is far better informed on financial, social, economic and other national and international problems than was the farmer of pre-war days.

Much of the credit for that must go to the agricultural cooperative organizations which have recognized the need for educating their members in order to make them better, more scientifically equipped soldiers in the fight for farm recovery and prosperity.

The co-ops do not simply try to improve marketing methods and widen markets and raise prices to profitable levels—they disseminate a wealth of information and opinion that bears on a thousand problems which directly or indirectly affect the welfare of agriculturists. That work, though it is little publicized, is every bit as valuable as the work the co-ops do in connection with the regular routine of the farming industry.

DEATH AFTER DINNER

The National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters has issued a booklet, entitled "Death After Dinner," which deals graphically with the night-driving problem. It shows that poor street lighting is the Dark Angel's best friend—and during the past few years many American communities due to false economy, have permitted their street lighting standards to drop sharply.

In the words of the booklet, "We are attempting to operate twentieth century vehicles under nineteenth century visibility conditions." The result is found in the fact that 20,950 persons were killed last year in a total of 122,000 accidents occurring during the normal hours of darkness. The economic cost of these accidents is conservatively estimated at $900,000,000—and in a very high percentage of the mishaps inadequate street lighting was the cause. In striking contrast, only 15,000 persons were killed during daylight hours last year—even though traffic is three times as dense during the day as at night. The pedestrian bore the brunt of night driving accidents, 69 per cent of those killed being foot travelers.

As the crowning evidence of the tragic folly of permitting street lighting standards to deteriorate, the booklet presents comparisons of two groups of cities which were exhaustively surveyed. One group extended its street lighting facilities at an increased cost of 9 cents per capita per year. As a result, it enjoyed a 25 per cent reduction in night fatalities, and a saving in economic waste of $2.07 per capita.

The other group slashed street lighting expenditures, at a "saving" of 19 cents per capita per year. Result: A 7.6 per cent increase in night fatalities, and an increase in economic loss of 69 cents per capita.

Better street and highway lighting is one of the essential keys to automobile accident reduction—and pays its way, with dividends to boot.

THE TOO WELL REMEMBERED MAN

In a recent article in "Fortune," Roswell Magill, professor of law at Columbia, discusses the plight of the "Too Well Remembered Man"—the American taxpayer.

Mr. Magill points out that there are three basic criteria to apply as yardsticks to any tax system. The first of these is adequacy—does the system produce as much revenue as is needed? The second is economy in administration—how much of each tax dollar is required to pay the costs of collection? The third is fairness in distribution—do all classes of the people pay their equitable share?

In Mr. Magill's opinion, which is impressively buttressed with facts, the federal government's tax system falls down on all three counts.

It is not adequate—the Treasury's report for the last fiscal year shows total receipts of a little more than $3,000,000,000 as against expenditures of $7,000,000,000. The deficit has actually exceeded total receipts!

It is not economical in administration—over a ten-year period, the cost of collection to the government, which is obviously the same thing, indirectly, as the cost to the taxpayer) has ranged as high as 82.17 per cent of revenue, as compared to a high of 17.74 in Great Britain. In addition, the United States develops more than eighteen times as much litigation each year out of the income tax as does Great Britain.

And finally, the system is not equitable. One group of taxpayers pay more than it should—another less. And the existence of billions of dollars of government, state and municipal bonds, some free from all taxes, some free from one and not another, further complicates the problem of equitable distribution of the cost of government.

In brief, our federal tax system—along with that of other units of government—is wasteful, inefficient and outmoded. The welfare of the nation demands that it be thoroughly and realistically revised.

WHEN SPRING IS IN THE AIR

This is the time of year when that seasonal "disease," spring fever, runs its course. One of its more common manifestations is an urge to clean up one's property, in order to get rid of winter's accumulation of rubbish, both indoors and out.

These individual clean-up campaigns are usually inaugurated for the purpose of improving a home's physical appearance—but, whether the property-owner realizes it or not, they likewise contribute toward fattening his pocketbook, inasmuch as they eliminate many ordinary and unnecessary fire hazards.

The attic is one of the places in the home where odds and ends accumulate—and it is also one of the commonest starting places for residential fires. That accumulation of ancient newspapers—those dog-eared magazines—those old clothes which you'll never wear again—that broken down furniture, all offer an invitation to fire. Start your clean up campaign by giving these cast-offs to the needy, either directly or through some local charitable organization, where they can give comfort and use again. Then burn the sheer rubbish—and be sure to accomplish that latter task on a windless day, with the aid of an incinerator.

Closets should be subjected to the same process. And the chances are that your basement is in about the same state of disorder as your attic. Due to the nearness of the heating plant, basements are one of the most prolific sources of fire and should be kept free of papers, rags and improperly stored inflammables.

Spring is likewise an excellent time for having the furnace and heating equipment gone over, to prepare it for fall. Another worth-while job is inspection of electrical wiring—old, defective and sub-standard wiring starts many a fire. Spring is here! Clean-up—lest you burn up!

REGULATE—DON'T KILL

A bulletin issued by the Associated Industries of Alabama says: "The first holding company bill (the Public Utility Act of 1935) has been introduced in Congress!"

"It would be bad enough if aimed only at Utility Holding Companies, but once this sort of bill gets into swing, the addition of a word or two would quickly include other or all holding companies in its net.

"There are some four hundred holding companies listed in good standing on the New York Stock Exchange, and only forty of these are Utility Holding Companies.

"Is it conceivable that these forty are the bad ones that must go? And conceding that some past practices might not be considered good practices today (though considered good in 1929), does it follow that they should have their heads chopped off—abolished entirely?"

"Does your doctor cut off your leg to cure your sore toe?"

"Regulation, not destruction, is the Government's business."

The holding company form of management is almost as old as industry itself—and the reason for its existence is as potent now as it has ever been. The public can often be best and most efficiently served by large units, with the financial, technical and management resources that only a large unit can command. That is true of public utilities. It is true of railroads. It is true of a dozen other kinds of business—stores, newspapers, etc.—which have demonstrated the soundness of the holding company plan.

The Federal government has itself shown its belief that holding company is necessary, in its own Tennessee Valley project. The TVA is a holding company pure and simple. It buys small electric systems and consolidates them into one great system—and is able to reduce rates and costs as a result. In principle, the TVA, pet of the politicians who are behind the present bill, is not one whit different than the private holding companies the government now seeks to destroy.

That holding companies in the utility field—as in all other fields—have occasionally abused their privileges, is not denied. Nor is it denied that the government should adopt a forward-looking regulatory policy toward the holding companies which would protect the interest of the public and investors alike—the other day one of the country's leading private utility executives presented specific suggestions toward that end. But it is denied—not only by utility leaders and investors, but by millions of honest citizens—that the way to sure what disease exists in the holding company structure is to throttle the patient.

The Associated Industries of Alabama concludes its bulletin with the statement that the present bill "is wrong in principle and ought to be stopped dead in its tracks." The public interest—which means the interest of everyone who has a dollar invested in utility securities, or uses light and power, demands that that be done. Regulate—don't kill.

Just Between ... Us...
BY THE NEWS HOUND

One of the natural results of depression was a gradual slowing down in corporate financing. Bond issues grew fewer and smaller, finally disappearing almost entirely. Last year the passage of the bitterly-debated securities act put an additional crimp in financing operations—provisions of the bill were so sweeping that corporation executives were literally afraid to offer the public even the choicest securities.

During the March bond market began to show signs of life for the first time in several years. New security registrations totaled $21,000,000—a rise of 310 per cent over February. They were not confined to small, speculative issues—five of the nation's largest corporations filed applications exceeding $2,000,000 each. Leader was Southern California Edison which applied for an issue of $73,000,000.

Officials of the Securities and Exchange Commission were jubilant, offering the opinion that the financing log-jam had been broken at last. A large number of bond men, however, were dubious. They pointed out that the issues were not really new, that they are refunding operations. In other words, the companies making the issues were merely retiring old bonds, paying high rates of interest to replace them with new bonds at lower rates.

SEC head Kennedy admitted that was true, but said that a period of refunding always precedes any attempt to raise "wholly new" funds, inasmuch as corporations must adjust their financial structures to fit market conditions. Mr. Kennedy did not say that the simplification of SEC rules had anything to do with the increase in financing, but most observers give much of the credit to that. Last fall, one applicant for an issue was forced to fill 20,000 pages with data which had to be assembled and compiled at the company's expense. Since the Commission revamped its rules and forms, applicants no longer have to keep their accounting departments on 24-hour shifts in order to prepare the necessary information. One of the largest of the March issues involved the preparation of but 70 pages of data on the company's status and operations.

Whether or not any brand new bond issues appear in the near future, there will be continued activity of the refunding order. The Literary Digest says that it is currently credited that $1,000,000,000 of refunding issues by private corporations will appear shortly.

It is a noteworthy fact that the English security market is the scene of many new capital issues. Great Britain's low point in financing occurred two years before ours—and now, apparently, she is coming back a year or so ahead of us.

Much comment was occasioned by the Federal Government's recent refusal to contest the constitutionality of the NRA in the Supreme Court when, at the Government's request, the Court dismissed the case against a lumberman who had deliberately refused to obey the code. Critics of the NRA were aghast, friends were silent and worried.

Now both sides have cause to feel better. The government is going to the high court with another NRA case which is as important and as clear cut as that of the dissenting lumberman.

The case involves a company which was indicted on nineteen counts for violating the Live Poultry Code. These counts run all the way from selling diseased

If your family are devoted to sponge cake, their favorite cake with the additional lure of chocolate flavor will win you a unanimous vote of thanks. Just try it!

Chocolate Sponge Cake
(4 eggs)

1 1/2 cups sifted cake flour; 1/4 teaspoon double action baking powder; 1/2 teaspoon soda; 1/2 teaspoon salt; 4 squares unsweetened chocolate; 1 cup milk; 1 1/2 cups sugar; 4 egg yolks, beaten until thick and lemon colored; 1 teaspoon vanilla; 4 egg whites, stiffly beaten.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, soda, and salt, and sift together three times. Add chocolate to milk and heat in double boiler. When chocolate is melted, stir until blended; add 1/2 cup sugar and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Cool. Add remaining sugar gradually to egg yolks, beating with rotary egg beater until mixture becomes very thick and light-colored. Add chocolate mixture and flavoring and blend. Fold in flour, a small amount at a time; then egg whites. Turn into two greased 9-inch layer pans. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 30 minutes or until done. Frost with your favorite chocolate frosting.

birds to overworking and underpaying workers. The Manhattan Circuit Court of Appeals decision on the case—which prepared the way for a Supreme Court appeal—is interesting. The judges held that, inasmuch as the chickens sold by the company crossed state lines, they were within interstate commerce, and were legally subject to NRA control. But they also held that the working conditions of the company's employees were not an interstate affair, and so could not be regulated by the NRA or any other federal agency. It is obvious that if the Supreme Court sustains this opinion the NRA will have won a small point and lost a great one—without control over wages and hours, the NRA would be virtually impotent.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE!

Motorists in this day and time need keen eyes and steady hands in order to dodge careless jostling cyclists.

Many of them have not the slightest conception of traffic sense and evidently do not imagine that they run any risk from motor cars or trucks.

Scouting around on the road, crossing traffic signs, riding three and four abreast and taking most of the road is a common occurrence. Often they are in too much of a hurry, and at other times the leisurely way in which they make way for an approaching or following motor car is very dangerous.

They should at least be taught Safety First. The matter of cycle traffic deserves particular attention on the part of the police.

MEDICINE MOUND H. D. CLUB HAS LIBRARY

To add interest among the members of the Medicine Mound Home Demonstration Club has added a library. At present the library is made up of five books. They are named: "Life Begins at 40," "Lantern in Her Hand," "White Bird Flying," "So Red the Rose," and "Lamb in His Boom."

The books are read by members of the club and at a meeting which date is set by the club the books are reported on. From time to time new books will be added to the library.

ONE name comes quickly to mind when you think of "The Universal Car." The description is distinctively Ford. No other car is used by so many millions of men and women in every part of the world. Everywhere it is the symbol of faithful service. . . . That has always been a Ford fundamental. Something new is constantly being added in the way of extra value. Each year the Ford has widened its appeal by increasing its usefulness to motorists. . . . Today's Ford V-8 is more than ever "The Universal Car" because it encircles the needs of more people than any other Ford ever built. It reaches out and up into new fields because it has everything you need in a modern automobile. . . . The Ford V-8 combines fine-car performance, comfort, safety and beauty with low first cost and low cost of operation and up-keep. There is no other car like it.

Early Settler of Foard County Died Last Sunday

CROWELL, April 22.—Funeral services for Steve M. Roberts, 79 of Crowell one of the five earliest settlers of what later became Foard county, were held Monday morning from the Methodist Church with the pastor, Rev. G. E. Turrentine, officiating.

Interment was in the Crowell cemetery. He died in a Crowell hospital Sunday morning.

Born in Cooke county, near Rosston, on October 15, 1864, Mr. Roberts moved to Hardeman county, the portion of which is now Foard county, on March 29, 1885, with his parents, Judge and Mrs. J. C. Roberts, and settled on a farm east of Old Hardeman, then the county seat of Hardeman.

He was married to Miss Sarah Florence Beaty December 1, 1889 at Margaret. They had three children, three of whom survive. They are Leonard, Glenn and Hubert Roberts, all of Crowell. A daughter, Mrs. Tom Dockins of Crowell, died January 1, this year. Mrs. Roberts died September 17, 1931.

Other survivors are one sister, Mrs. W. R. Wheat of Quanah; two half-sisters, Mrs. M. T. Lincoln, Altus, Okla., and Mrs. C.

My Favorite Recipes

—Frances Lee Barton says:—
LIVES there a hostess who can't have too many recipes for delicious, different hot breads? A new one is always welcome, as a surprise at a party.

Lemon Tea Biscuits
2 cups sifted cake flour; 2 teaspoons double action baking powder; 1/2 teaspoon salt; 4 tablespoons butter; 1/2 cup sugar; 1/2 cup milk; 4 tablespoons sugar; 1/4 teaspoon grated lemon rind; 1/4 teaspoon lemon juice (about).
Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift again. Cut in shortening, add lemon rind and blend. Add milk all at once and stir carefully until all flour is dampened. Then stir vigorously until mixture forms a soft dough and follows spoon around bowl. Turn out immediately on slightly floured board and knead 20 seconds. Roll 1/4 inch thick and cut with floured 1/2-inch biscuit cutter. Combine sugar, lemon rind, and enough lemon juice to make a crumbly mixture. Place half of biscuits in greased muffin pans or on greased baking sheet; spread with melted butter and with sugar mixture, and top with remaining biscuits, pressing lightly together. Bake in hot oven (400° F.) 8 to 10 minutes, or until done. Makes a dozen small biscuits.

C. Donaldson, Tahoka; seven half brothers, N. J. Roberts, Crowell, Standlee, Ector and Pat Nef; Roberts of Denton, Van Roberts of Overton, John Roberts of Gladewater, and Ben Roberts, of Vernon; also the deceased's step-mother, Mrs. John C. Roberts of Denton.

Mr. Roberts was a pioneer cow boy and rancher of this section. Since 1908 he had lived on a farm a few miles southwest of Crowell.

Shadie Tabor and sister, Miss A. Tabor, students of the Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical College, Stillwater, were home for over the week-end for a visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Horace J. Tabor. They were accompanied by friends, Miss Bettie Eeod, of Oklahoma City, and Albert Bowen.

DATES OF ANNUAL SHORT COURSE AT A. M. ANNOUNCED

"Changing Country Life" Theme For Farmers 26th Meet at College Station

COLLEGE STATION, April 24.—"Changing Country Life" will be the theme for the twenty-sixth annual Farmers' Short Course to be held at A. and M. College July 28, August 2, according to Roy W. Snyder, chairman of the central committee.

Phases of the housing problem facing the rural family; soil conservation with particular reference to emergency erosion work and agricultural adjustment will furnish features of the program. Demonstrations in doing will be stressed rather than talks and lectures at this event, the largest rural gathering in Texas each year.

In addition to the programs planned for farmers, ranchmen, and rural home makers, conferences are scheduled for rural pastors and laymen of the state, agricultural editors, superintendents of rural schools, members of the bee keepers' association, producers of State registered and certified seed, and members of Epistol on Sigma Phi, national honorary fraternity for Extension Service workers.

A newspaper staffed by 4-H club boys and girls as reporters will be printed daily during Short Course week. Neal Douglas, agricultural editor of the Austin American, will be managing editor. A small news sheet was mimeographed and sold on the campus last year, and because of its success plans have been made to enlarge and print the paper this year.

The central committee in charge of developing plans for the Short Course consists of Roy W. Snyder, chairman; R. H. Bush; Paul A. Cunyus, O. G. Tumlison, Miss Onah Jacks, Mrs. Dora E. Barnes, and Miss Minnie Mae Grubbs. This committee expects to have noted speakers and leaders present to bring information and lead discussion.

Author, Actress, Wife and Mother

Mrs. Gertrude Berg

YEARS ago a pretty, dark-eyed youngster sat in the lobby of her father's hotel in a small New York town and with fascinated interest observed the life that flowed around her. Today her hours and days of eager interest in people and in the highlights of hotel life have borne fruit in a radio serial of her own writing. It's called "The House of Glass" and it tells of life at a summer hotel in the Catskills.

The author, now in her early thirties, is Mrs. Gertrude Berg, wife of a sugar technologist and mother of two children. She divides her time between the rearing of a family and starring in this new serial from her own typewriter.

Already famous as the creator and star of "The Goldbergs," one of the best-known stories ever told over the air, Mrs. Berg is again changing a maximum of radio "The House of Glass." She is Mrs. Glass, who with her husband operates the hotel around which she has woven a richly human, often poignant and quietly amusing story.

With Bill Artzt's orchestra supplying the music, "The House of Glass" is heard every Wednesday evening for a half-hour on the NBC red network.

ECONOMIC HIGHLIGHTS

Works Relief Bill
Friday, April 26th, the final legislative action on the $4,880,000,000 Work Relief Bill was completed when both Houses adopted the conference report on the measure by comfortable majorities. For more than ten weeks this bill has been kicked around between the Houses but in the end the Administration came out on top, as usual. The only thing lacking Friday night was the signatures of the Speaker, the Vice-President and the President. There is some talk of sending the bill to the President by airplane in order to start the program immediately. There were only two important changes made by the conferees. The first was the abandonment of the Thomas silver amendment. This was one cause of the delay in the adoption of the conference report by the Senate for the silverites carried their protestations to the floor in a long debate. The other change was the dropping of the amendment earmarking $40,000,000 for educational purposes.

The Must Calendar
Now that the Works Relief Bill has finally been disposed of, only four more points remain in what is commonly termed here the "must" calendar. Just prior to his leaving for Florida on his fishing trip, the President is reported to have outlined the following program to Senate Majority Leader Robinson; the NRA extension, the social security bill, the holding company regulation measure, and certain banking legislation. Every one of these are in trouble at present and some of the leaders are wishing heartily for the immediate return of the President in order that he may personally exert his influence to speed this passage. A tax rule for the consideration of the security bill was reported by the House Ways and Means Committee, Friday, which, if adopted, will prohibit the offering of any amendments. In the meantime there is also a growing sentiment for the passage of a bonus bill.

Profitless Wars
A large part of the past week has been devoted by the House to the McSwain measure to take the profit out of war. The bill as introduced was a mere authorization giving the President power to limit at his discretion the profits that might be made during the time of war. However the liberal element of the House early expressed its dissatisfaction and began a fight to place specific tax provisions in the bill by amendment. As written the bill permitted the President to freeze prices immediately on the declaration of a state of war. But as pointed out by the liberal reaction such prices would not repre-

LUMBER FOR NEW FORD HOME SOLD BY LOCAL FIRM

Advantages Offered Here Realized By Touchstone Motor Company

Building material that went into the remodeling of the Majestic Theatre building, now to house the Touchstone Motor Company, local Ford dealer, was bought from the Farmers Lumber Company and points out once more the greater advantages of buying in Chillicothe.

To have been able to play a part in this remodeling job is something for which J. P. Heilhecker, manager of the yard, is glad. He knows the materials furnished are of the same high grade as that offered to people of this vicinity, whether it be for business houses or for homes. Moreover, he urges the public when they visit the Ford house for the formal opening next Monday, April 29, to pay particular attention to the paint used. It is a point, is lasting for several years to come, and above sent a fair price for they would be far too high. This fault was overcome when Saturday an amendment was adopted providing a 100% excess profits tax in the bill—the first liberal victory of the Seventy-Fourth Congress. In its present shape the bill permits the Senate to attach any amendments that it may see fit while prior to the adoption of the bill amendment there was no doubt that under the constitution the Senate could not adopt any tax amendments if one were placed on the bill in the House.

Calendar
The long debate on the War Profits Bill and the conference report on the Works Relief Bill prevented the consideration of the authorization bill for the improvement of Rivers and Harbors and so this measure comes up April 28th. For Tuesday and the balance of the week beginning the 8th the only business scheduled is the Social or Economic security Bill providing Old Age Assistance.

IMPROVING GRASS LAWN AND ORCHARD

The lawn is practically covered now with native grass which was put out last fall and forty-five shrubs have been put out this spring. All of the 45 shrubs are living is the report Mrs. W. L. Wilson, yard demonstrator for the North Groesbeck club, gave the home agent, Elsie Phillips.

The new shrubs include privet, red cedars, bush honeysuckle, Oregon grape holly, Althea, and Bridal wreath. These plantings were used in both screen and foundation plantings.

In addition to being interested in improving their lawn, the Wilsons have added the following fruits: 19 peach trees, 2 apricots, 3 pears, 2 apples, 25 blackberries, 25 dewberries, and 25 strawberries. They have a nice vineyard already.

Miss Katherine Boaz departed Monday for Arkansas to resume her studies at a college in that state. She spent a few days here with her parents.

WEST TEXAS UTILITIES CO.

The Rural Community Has Come to Town

The rural community and small city faces a new future. Electric service and all that electric power and light mean to home life, commercial and industrial development is now available for a more constructive and wider field of achievement.

Much work, planning, testing, engineering and large investments of capital was necessary in order to make this possible. Our 2600 miles of power transmission lines, interlacing 49 counties in West Texas and serving 160 towns and communities provide an adequate and economical source of dependable electric service with precise regulation to meet the requirements of modern day appliances.

Today hundreds of small West Texas towns and communities can offer to industry this modern electric service in proximity to its raw materials . . . two very necessary prerequisites for industrial progress.

We point with pride to our part in assisting the small towns and communities in this way, thus guaranteeing to them the same opportunities in respect to power as the larger metropolitan cities enjoy. It is our policy to fully co-operate with the small towns and communities we serve so that they may realize the full benefits accompanying and made possible by electrical development.

PANNELL'S HIT IN EIGHTH WINS GAME FOR CUBS

Tipton and Chillicothe Had Battered 0-0 Until That Fatal Inning

WILLETT MASTER OF SOONER NINE

Only 3 Hits Garnered Off His Delivery; Whiffs Total Of Ten Batters

After holding the Chillicothe Cubs to four hits in seven innings Waldrop of the Tipton, Okla. Boosters exploded like a bombshell and this proved his undoing, the home nine showing across four runs before the side was retied. None other than Pannell got the credit for winning the game. His pinch single over the eighth inning, bringing Davis home from third, who had beat out an infield hit, proved the winning tally, although the Bruins after that counted three more runs.

The final score was Cubs 4, Boosters 0.

Manager McElwee decided on Woodrow Willett as the pitcher for the afternoon, thinking possibly the hefty righthander could turn back the Oklahomans. His confidence was not misplaced. Not at all. According to tabulated records it shows Mr. Willett to have pitched quite a ball game. In fact the Sooner nine could find him for but three hits, ten of them failed to solve his offerings and thus went out via the strike-out route. Back of his pitching the mates were doing their part. Only one misace was registered. Curtis, shortstopper, boomed one across to Firstbaseman Duckworth, and the nearest thing the ball reached was a headlight on an automobile. Now the owner of the car has found it necessary to buy a new glass. But, aside from that Curtis played a wonderful game.

Chillicothe earned its other runs because Waldrop would not listen to Manager Banks. Anybody ought to know a manager is supposed to direct the club, but Pitcher Waldrop evidently thought otherwise. Manager Banks signalled for Pitcher Waldrop to pitch wide of the plate due to the fact that Ramsey was at the plate "with blood in his eyes." Moreover, Pitcher Willett and Rightfielder Pannell were prancing around on second and first, wanting to be brought home. They imparted something like that to Mr. Ramsey. That was too bad for Pitcher Waldrop. Mr. Ramsey, who handles third base in a nice manner for his nine, McElwee, required Willett and Pannell, something like this: "Get ready mates, because you are coming home, coming home, coming home."

Messrs Willett and Pannell came home, because Thirdbase man Ramsey sent one far into the farm land owned by Mr. H. C. Farrington, between left and center. He homered, in other words.

And, while Waldrop was trying to get settled once more he had to face Chubby Hutchens, a secondbaseman of considerable note. Mr. Hutchens tried to duplicate what Mr. Ramsey did, but failed by getting only a double. The side was then retired with Curtis grounding to third and was tossed out at first.

Therefore, Chillicothe's Cubs have two wins and no defeats so far in this race for the Red River Valley Baseball League's pennant. Mr. Willett has won both of the games with some stellar pitching. Next Sunday he may be seen in the box again, facing the Altus, Okla., aggregation. And if you like "tips" take this one: be at the ball game next Sunday.

Here's how the lads worked against Tipton; looks mighty interesting:

Hints for Homemakers

By Jane Rogers

"THIS fear of moth needs no longer influence one in buying furniture. These lovely mohair velvets and fringes that so many housewives have foregone through fear of moth damage can now be obtained with a five-year guarantee against moth damage. And, in the remote event that a moth should injure the upholstery there is no red-tape necessary for adjustment. The guarantee is backed with an insurance policy given the buyer up in case of damage by moth; you simply notify the underwriter, who makes good on the loss on labor, material and incidentals charges."

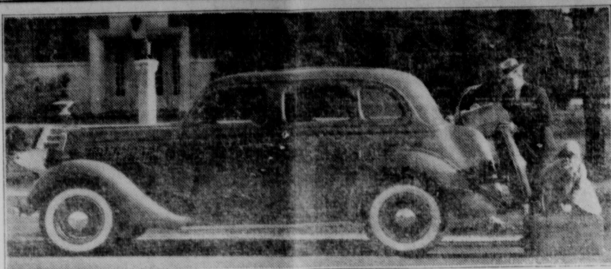

Have you ever used your favorite department store's sealator for "spotting" purposes? The next time you see a carpet or rug on your buying surge, notice how the sealator allows you to pick out the various departments and specific items looking for more quality. These experienced shoppers take advantage of this to lay out their buying campaign from floor to floor, thus making the sealator an ever-ready.

Touring Sedan Newest in Ford Line

NEWEST and most luxurious of the Ford V-8 cars for 1935 is the Ford touring sedan shown above. A commodious built-in trunk which is an inherent part of the car design adds to its graceful proportions, and leaves the interior free for passengers when traveling. The Ford touring sedan is richly upholstered and fitted with deluxe appointments. The car is roomier than any previous Ford sedan, seating six persons comfortably. The new touring sedans are available in both Ford and Tudor models.

TIPS ON EMPLOYEES OF TOUCHSTONE MOTOR CO.

Having lived in Chillicothe hundreds of years is what makes S. W. Smith such a courteous soul. To him is delegated the job of getting the money for the Touchstone Motor Company. And it might be said, too, he seldom fails. S. W. received his training in the job of collecting while operating a grocery store. Be it said, however, he is very nice in waiting on you—even if saying "no."

Because he has kept books so long perhaps is the reason why Wiley E. Pippin wears spectacles—not glasses—just spectacles. Wiley says the reason he wears spectacles is not because of failing eyesight, but so he will not make a mistake in reading numerals. He is a pastmaster at this job of keeping books, and that is why he makes Touchstone Motor Company a good employee.

And here is a young man delegated the work of selling automobiles, none other than the Right Honorable E. L. (Cracker) Allen. He is a half-pint size gentleman, but quite a giant when it comes to selling cars. He can tell you more about the Ford V-8 than Henry Ford knows himself. Cracker is a genial young scamp—pardon???—and in parlance of the street "gets the job done." He has served the company for many years.

Earl Maceo is a whole lot of a salesman even if he does work under a different cognomen. Now take Earl: he is shop foreman—quite a mechanic, and all that, but let a motorist drive into the shop and he "suggests" doing this and doing that. Not a peep, understand, but merely knowing what should be done to a sick automobile whether the owner agrees or not. Earl, like the rest of the employees has been with the company a long time.

Leonard Wofford while serving as one of the best mechanics in this part of the state, is thinking of other matters while off the job. Leonard is unmarried, that's where the "other matters" come into this sketch. If you watch Leonard late evening—after work hours—there will be a Ford V-8 with red wheels being driven slowly along the main thoroughfares of this fair city. Leonard will be at the wheel and to be sure there will be another occupant. Seriously, however, Leonard is a wonderful mechanic, and knows the ills of a sick motor, and knows what medicine it takes to cure.

Earl Wofford is the real man about the place. Earl is capable of filling practically any job that comes up. He is a real mechanic knows the parts business, can fix flats before you can turn around and always giving you that friendly smile.

Jourdan Keyes, the colored helper, knows his business when it comes to greasing and washing automobiles. And, too, is another who can fix flat tires in quick order. Jourdan has been with the company quite a while and has become quite a helper in any department of the shop.

CARD OF THANKS

SUMMER DRIVING IN FORD V-8 UNUSUALLY COMFORTABLE DUE TO MANY REFINEMENTS IN CAR

Refinements in the new Ford V-8 cars make summer driving unusually comfortable, according to Mr. R. Touchstone, local Ford dealer.

The Ford body ventilating system is one of the principal comfort factors in hot weather, he explained. This combines an adjustable windshield operated by a simple control, a large screened cowl ventilator and the window ventilating system.

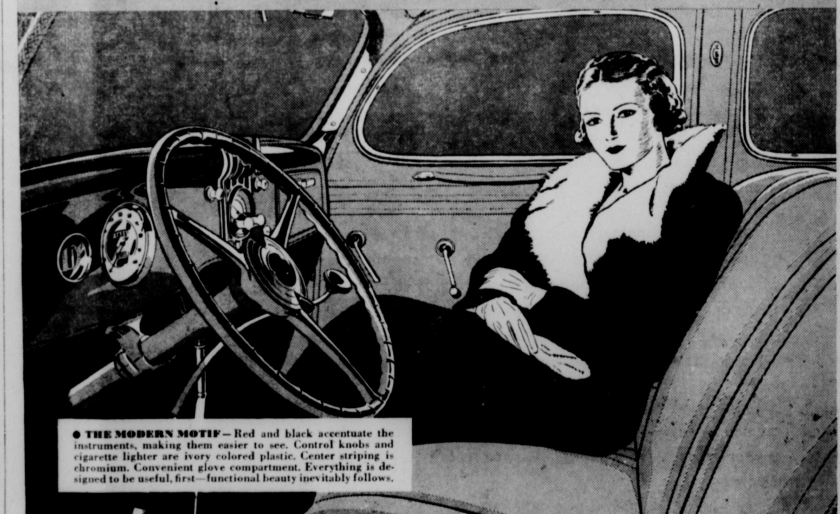

In scorching weather, the windshield, windshield and cowl ventilator all may be opened allowing a large volume of air to flow through the car. In ordinary weather, the cowl ventilator may be opened. On chilly evenings or when rain is falling, the cowl ventilator may be closed and the window ventilating slots opened. Through these vents air is gently exhausted from the interior, providing adequate ventilation without drafts.

The new "direct flow" engine ventilation system promotes cool engine operation under the most difficult summer heat conditions. A stream of air from the engine fan is caught in a scoop, directed down through a duct into the crankcase, upward into the valve chamber and then out through a vent. It carries away with it water and other vapor, tends to cool the engine oil and prevent oil deterioration in high-speed summer operation.

The V-8 engine design, which separate water pump for each block of four cylinders, insures swift and positive water circulation. Each cylinder is fully water-jacketed throughout its length. This prevents "hot spots" and cylinder distortion under severe operating conditions.

To cope with effects of heat on brakes, the cast drums of the new brakes have been given added radiating surface, and rigidity by means of exterior ribs. This eliminates "fading" of the brakes when frequent stops would have a tendency to expand the drums, diminishing the brake effectiveness.

FORD Strikes a new note in INTERIOR DESIGN-

EXPERTS in color design are enthusiastic about the new Ford Deluxe interiors. They have "spotted" immediately a new note in interior design—the subtle use of taupe grey as a background for feminine costumes.

Window mouldings, door handles, the instrument panel and even the beautiful, slim steering wheel, are all finished in blended greys. This color scheme cannot possibly clash with even the most brilliant ensemble. On the contrary, it accentuates it.

And the upholstery!... Here beauty is coupled with long-wearing quality characteristic of custom-built cars. In all Ford Deluxe closed cars you have clutch action of the 1935 Ford V-8 is a decided help. The new clutch, which utilized centrifugal action to make engagement more positive, requires substantially less pedal effort for disengagement.

The desire for a spic and span brightly polished car which finds expression during the summer in frequent cleaning is made easy to gratify with the new baked enamel finish. This finish does not break down under the strong rays of the summer sun, and requires only washing to revive its brilliant lustre.

YOUR CHILD AND THE SCHOOL

Learning Health For A Purpose

The idea is not new, but it took an ingenious teacher to put it into effect.

The place was a small high school. To make up a standard team nearly every student had to participate. Their opponents, the larger schools, had the advantage in numbers and facilities. But the spirit was there, so they set out to make up for their shortcomings. And they did it by making a thorough study of healthful living.

The principal of that school told me that every pupil knew and observed the rules of nutrition. Smoking was taboo. Dances and parties were shortened, more study was done at school, and the radio was turned off at a stated hour when the importance of sleep was learned. Candy and sodas were definitely out. Colds received early care. In brief, it was just a case of common sense application, without overemphasis. Anyway, it worked.

Next week Dr. Ireland will discuss the large subject of playground accidents and how to avoid them.

Dale Oswald of Crowell was a business visitor in the city Tuesday.

SENORA MILLA DOMINGUEZ

Senora Milla Dominguez, the distinguished Mexican artist, will be heard over Stations WFAA-WIAP, WQAI, and KPBC, on the ICE PARADE, a new radio feature sponsored by the Texas Ice Industry. The program will be presented each Monday evening at 8:30, beginning April 29.

Senora Dominguez is well known in musical circles, both in the Southwest and in the East. Born in Mexico City, she was the first Mexican ever to win a scholarship in the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago. While there, she appeared with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra and in many operas. In New York, she had important roles in several Schubert productions. Radio shows to feature her distinctive interpretations of Mexican and Spanish songs were the famous Capitol Family Party of Major Bowes, and several of Roy's outstanding programs. She is widely known for her recordings of native songs. Senora Dominguez is scheduled to appear in San Antonio during the opera season in May.

He is the son of Jim Barnes of Medicine Mound.

PTA MEETING TO BE HELD TONIGHT

The Medicine Mound Parent-Teachers Association will meet Thursday evening, April 25, at the high school auditorium.

The program is being arranged by Mrs. H. A. Cole, program chairman. Several people from Chillicothe will have a part on the program. A report will be made of the Parent-Teacher Convention held in Haskell on April 2 and 3. There will also be an installation ceremony for the new officers.

This will be the last P.-T. A. meeting of this school year.

THREE RUBBERS OF BRIDGE PLAYED

The afternoon spent in "bridge building" at the Hutchens home last Friday was declared a most genial affair by the Bridge Builders. Three rubbers of bridge were very entertaining. High score was carried off by a guest, Miss Helen Tidmore. Other guests were Boyce Young, Gertie Mae Francis, and Richardine Hutchens. Club Hat-chens was a good substitute in the Sunday evening.

Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served with Easter chicks given as favors.

Next Friday the club meets with Miss Tressie Turner as hostess.

MEETING HELD AT PHIPPS HOME

The Presbyterian Missionary Society meeting was held in the home of Mrs. J. A. Phipps, wife of the pastor, Monday afternoon. The president, Mrs. J. J. Britt, was in charge.

Besides the twelve members Mrs. Brewer and Mrs. Cardellhae were present for a study of the life of Christ. The lesson was devoted to His miracles.

During the business session Mrs. E. L. Barlow and Mrs. Phipps gave interesting reports of their trips to the Presbytrial held in Wichita Falls on April 11 and 12.

The group was dismissed with the missionary benediction.

MRS. TUBB HOSTESS TO BLUE BONNET CLUB

The Blue Bonnet Study Club met Tuesday at the home of Mrs. C. R. Tubb. After a business session the program was given. The story, "The Real Thing," by Henry James was the subject for study, and the narrative was related by Mrs. J. B. Forbes.

Mrs. James E. Thornton gave a sketch of the life of James and a discussion of his realism. Mrs. Sidney Ayers discussed the originality of the story.

After the program was concluded there was a round table discussion of the story, then dainty refreshments were served to the following members and visitors: Mesdames J. B. Forbes, J. E. Thornton, R. M. Leach, J. F. Graham, Sidney Ayers, J. Roy Quinby, H. E. Turner, R. L. Barlow, E. L. Wickliffe, B. M. Tootle. Guests were Miss Clara Cole and mother, Mrs. W. W. Cole.

The next and final program of the club year will be held at the home of Mrs. R. L. Barlow, and it will also mark the tenth birthday of the club. It will be celebrated by each member carrying a covered dish for a luncheon. All members are urged to be present for the occasion.

HIGH SCHOOL CLASSES ENTERTAINED

The Medicine Mound high school classes were entertained Wednesday, April 17, 1935, with a party given at the home of M. J. Bellamy. Games were played and enjoyed by everyone. Refreshments were served to the following class members:

Mary Ruth Young, Ima Lee Wall, Louise Bellamy, Hildred Jones, Will Evans Hightower, and Jack Maddox, Noble Kyle, Jack and Bob Bellamy, Jack Prescott, J. W. Stringer, and the following guests: Dean Gibson, Oleta Ferguson, Robbie Lou Young, Bill Gray, Orville Wall, Mack Young, and Tyrene Powell of Wichita Falls; Raymond Cole and Wilmet Bellamy of Indianapolis, Indiana, and the hostess, Latrese Bellamy.

MEMBERS ALATHEAN CLASS IN MEETING

Members of the Alathean class of the First Baptist Sunday school met in the home of their teacher, Mrs. E. H. Tootle, Thursday evening of last week for an Easter social.

The first number on the program was the class song, "Living for Jesus." Mrs. Naylor Pogue gave an Easter reading for the devotional, and a prayer was said by Mrs. Harry Norwood, the class president. Four other members gave Bible scriptures. A song, "He Arose," followed, after which refreshments were served to Mrs. Harry Norwood, Mrs. V. Harrington, Mrs. E. O. Allred, Mrs. Mary Anderson, Mrs. Randel Boucher, Mrs. Chas. Timmins, Mrs. Naylor Pogue, Mrs. Douglas Golden, Mrs. J. C. Fish, Mrs. Frank Henry, and the hostess, Mrs. Tootle.

FEDERATED SOCIETY MEETS MONDAY

In keeping with National Music Week the Federated Missionary Society will present the following program Monday afternoon, beginning at 3 o'clock at the Nazarene Church.

Song: by congregation; devotional: Mrs. J. A. Phipps; invocation: Mrs. G. F. Metcalf; Welcome: Mrs. W. A. Ritter; business session: Mrs. W. W. Johnson, presiding. The life of Charles Carey, given

AT THE CHURCHES

CHURCH OF CHRIST

Sunday services: Bible school, 10 a. m. Preaching and Communion at 11 a. m. Preaching at 7:30 p. m. E. A. Sanders of Quannah preaches the 1st, 2nd and 4th Sundays, and H. M. Leach preaches the 3rd Sunday of each month.

Mid-week devotion and Bible study in the church at 7:30 p. m. All young people are urged to attend this service.

We are having fine attendance and interest at all of the services and everyone is cordially invited to attend every service.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

Rev. R. T. Breedlove, pastor. Regular services of the church will be held next Sunday morning. The pastor wishes to express to the community, his appreciation for the splendid response to the community Sunrise Easter service. It was all that could have been expected. It is to be hoped that that will become a custom in the town, holding a sunrise service on Easter.

Seek a place to worship. A man who can not or will not find a place and a time to worship is a monstrosity. Go to some place of worship, and give the Lord His rightful place in your life.

The Sunday evening service will be held at seven forty-five, following the Young People's service at seven o'clock. The other services of the day remain the same.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. I. L. Parrack, pastor

All regular services Sunday and during the week.

Sunday school, 9:45 a. m., with a welcome for every earnest Bible student.

Preaching by the pastor, 11 a. m. and 7:45 p. m. Morning subject: "The Peace Maker's Reward." Evening subject: "Counting the Cost."

Training service, 7:00 p. m.

Everyone ought to join with others in a public gathering to worship God on the Lord's Day. If you are a Christian you ought not to need to be reminded or urged. If you are not a Christian you should remember that you are His creature and join with others in honoring your maker. Everyone living in the land of Bibles and churches should seek earnestly to know the Lord and to honor Him.

You will find a cordial welcome in any church in town, and you will find some earnest worshippers there with whom you can join in praising the Lord.

The influence of songs on his life in which a number of songs will be rendered by singers from various churches.

All ladies are invited to attend, whether or not you are members of any of the churches.

HOSTESS TO CIRCLE 4, BAPTIST WMS.

Members of Circle No. 4 of the First Baptist Missionary Society, met with Mrs. Naylor Pogue and Mrs. Randel Boucher. The meeting opened with a prayer led by Mrs. Pogue. A song, "Help Somebody Today," was sung. A short business session followed.

Mrs. McClesky led the Bible study from the book of Colossians through to Philemon. Mrs. Metcalf was leader of the closing prayer.

Refreshments of cookies and lemonade were served to Mrs. Douglas Golden, Mrs. P. G. Turner, Mrs. E. E. McClesky, Mrs. O. D. Pogue, Mrs. Frank Henry, Mrs. Claude Henry, Mrs. Chas. Timmins, Mrs. Dowsy Johnson, Mrs. Chas. Rutledge, Mrs. George Metcalf, and the hostesses.

The circle will meet with Mrs. Chas. Timmins in May.

MISS HYSMITH WEDS

J. HATTON MCKEE

A romance that has been budding for the past two years broke into full bloom on last Thursday evening when Miss Katherine Hysmith and Mr. J. Hatton McKee were joined in the holy bonds of wedlock, at the Vernon home of Elder T. G. McCord, the officiating minister.

Mrs. McKee is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hysmith. She was practically reared in Chillicothe, and for some time has been employed at the Southwest Telephone Company. Mr. McKee is manager of the Chillicothe City, coming to this city about four years ago.

The couple staged a surprise on their many friends, not revealing the event until on their return to the city.

Loise Ann McPherson of Vernon spent last week in the city visiting Wyndie McPherson.

Messrs. G. V. Bostie, T. W. Garman, H. L. Irvin, F. E. Lamberton, Binton, spent Saturday in Wichita Falls shopping.

LOCALS

George Doty has returned from a business trip to Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Roberts visited in Haskell Sunday.

Sheriff M. S. Wilson of Quannah was in the city Monday.

V. O. Williams was a business visitor in Memphis Tuesday.

Bill Parker of Abilene was a business visitor in the city Wednesday.

Mrs. C. B. Haynes was a guest of her parents in Goodlet Tuesday.

Mrs. J. E. Roberts has returned from a visit in Alhambra, California.

Miss Bobbie Clark of Memphis was a week-end guest of Miss Anna Ruth Williams.

Miss Bess Vernon has returned to Southland after a visit with relatives and friends in Chillicothe and Vernon.

Mrs. Ed Robertson, and daughter, Mrs. Lee Womack, and Mrs. C. L. Glazener, were in Vernon Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Lamberton and sons, J. H. and Eugene, Lee Roy Sims, and Miss Marie Hill spent Easter Sunday in Electra with Mrs. Lamberton's sister, Mrs. Sims.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Glazener were visitors in Archer City for over the week-end. On their return to Chillicothe they were accompanied by Mrs. Glazener's sisters, the Misses Juanita and Roberta Looney.

STUCKEY-LEWIS FINE WORK AGAIN IS DEMONSTRATED

All Electrical Fixtures and Installation Furnished By This Firm

Known as "Your Service Men" Stuckey & Lewis, local plumbers and electricians, are very proud of the equipment and work of installation in the newly completed home for the Touchstone Motor Company, local Ford dealer.

Consequently, they call attention to all visitors to the automobile firm's formal opening next Monday, April 23, to the fine electrical fixtures and the completeness of the job.

Both members of the firm are well-known here, to be sure, but at the same time their real asset to the city as plumbers and electricians of experience perhaps may not be as well known as it should. Therefore, a little sketch reveals that W. A. Lewis has been in the plumbing business for the past ten years, here and elsewhere. He was reared near Tolbert, but came to Chillicothe where he became connected with the Anderson plumbing firm. Then went into business late or himself and since then has practiced a policy of giving to the customer the best of work and the best of fixtures. That he has not failed, and that the customers have realized it, is shown in the good will built up in this community for himself and his firm.

Taylor Stuckey, although not as large in physique as his partner, is just as big, however, in giving service. Taylor rather likes the electric and radio business, and by the way he is a service man whose work is unexcelled in this part of the city. Being "all-around" he has stocked the store with a fine line of radio parts and offers two or three different brands of radios for sale. In spare time he assists Lewis with plumbing work—and a little mill work, also. Yes, both the Star and Fairbury wigwags are marketed here by Stuckey & Lewis, and they back their sales with a service a customer can appreciate, whatever it be.

Organization is in the air these days. Scarcely an interest can be named but it is found to have its group organization. It is a feature of modern life. "A condition not a theory."

Texas farmers and ranchmen are no exception. They have their Sheep and Goat Raisers' and Cattlemen's Associations. They have their Cotton Cooperatives. And rural home makers have their home demonstration societies.

A very able person has been considering all this business of organization and makes the following interesting observations: "Organization is not the beginning of a movement. It is the concrete expression of liberated energy. If no organization is effected, making effective group action possible, the energy is often dissipated."

The growth of a successful organization is like that of a tree. It grows from the bottom up—from the inside out.

"The roots of the organization are the individuals who compose it. Their coming together makes strength which may be likened to the trunk of the tree. The results obtained correspond to the flowers and fruit."

"For best results the organic law of the group should be simple and flexible. Adjustments and changes should be made so as not to disturb the harmonious growth of the whole."

"Success lies in wait when an organization grows in wealth and power beyond the development of leadership to direct it."

FISH POND OF NATIVE ROCK HAS BACKGROUND

The fish pond has been made of native rock and the pond plants are already growing. The fish pond is located in the back yard with a back ground of cypress bushes and salt cedar.

Last year Mrs. Bill Crowder, yard demonstrator for the Spring Creek club, filled in and sodded the front yard with splendid results. This spring she is preparing to sod the back yard and center her work in the back.

COMMISSIONERS TO REMEDY SCHOOL TRUSTEES TANGLE, SAYS JUDGE O. L. BELL

County Judge O. L. Bell has declared a special session of the commissioners court will be called within the next few days to straighten out a school trustees election tangle, as votes of the recent elections of county trustees have been canvassed.

It has been alleged several trustees recently named are not qualified to hold office. Immediate action in clearing up this matter is necessary as several schools in the county must have complete boards to finish the current school terms.

ALTUS INVADES CUBS LAIR FOR SUNDAY'S TILT

Manager McRee Expected To Send Woodrow Willett Against Sooners

Altus Advertisers, last year's champions of the Red River Valley Baseball League, invade the Bruins den next Sunday for the third game of the loop race. The game has been called for 3:30 o'clock.

The Advertisers present about the same line-up that won the championship in 1934 from the Chillicothe Cubs in a play-off following the close of the regular season. Manager McRee is expected to fire Woodrow Willett against the Oklahomans in an effort to cap the third straight win. This lad is still harboring a "grudge" against Altus from last year's play-off, and is bent on beating Mike Balent's crew.

Interest is at high pitch already among Chillicothe fans, believing this to be the Cubs' year, and certainly Manager McRee has gathered together a promising bunch of ball players.

A large crowd is expected to be on hand, made up from a large number scheduled to accompany the Altus team.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Allen were visitors in Crowell and Vernon Sunday.

Olin Wineman, advertising representative of the Quana Tribune-Chief, was a business visitor in the city Monday.

GIVES INSIDE PICTURE OF PRESS CONFERENCES WITH 'FIRST LADY'

Martelle Wickliffe Trager, Former Chillicothe Resident, One of Group Attending Press Interviews With Mrs. Roosevelt

Hundreds of Washington children flocked to the White House Easter Monday to participate in the annual egg rolling on the south lawn. For many years, at least a score, the White House grounds have been open to the children of Washington between the ages of three and ten the Monday following Easter. From 9:30 a. m. to 3:30 p. m. they may play games, roll eggs and frolic on the spacious lawn to the south of the mansion.

Mrs. Roosevelt appeared on the grounds several times during the day. She had with her the two children of her brother, Hall Roosevelt. The President looked out upon the picknickers several minutes from the south portico. The press representatives were invited to linger awhile after their conference and watch the merry throng of girls and boys. Between 3:30 and 5 p. m. the general public was admitted to enjoy a concert by the Marine band.

The annual Easter festival is virtually a children's picnic. No rules are made except by the children themselves, and it is not supervised except by the parents and maids who accompany the youngsters. Buzzie and Sista Dull enjoyed the fun with the children the first two years they were at the White House. They were with their mother in New York this Easter.

During the day folk dances in costumes were given by such organizations as the Girl Scouts, Y. M. C. A. and Friendship House. The boys and girls bring their own baskets of dyed eggs and seem to have lots of fun rolling them up and down the hill.

They make a game of it. One child sets at the top of the hill and another at the bottom. The child at the bottom places an egg on the ground and the one at the top rolls one down and tries to hit it. If it does not hit the egg at the bottom the children change places. If it does hit it, the child at the top comes down after his egg and tries to crack the other, usually having three trials. The child at the bottom holds the egg in his hand so that only the end shows. If he cracks the egg, he takes it and goes to the top of the hill and repeats. If he does not crack it, both of the children keep their own places.

Adults are admitted only when accompanied by children. Washington boys tell of earning several dollars on Easter Monday by taking adults into the White House grounds.

Friestliest Member
Doris Gourley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Gourley, who is now attending the demonstration school of the North Texas State Teachers College, Denton, was recently voted the friestliest member of her class, the sixth grade.

Friday night she will take part in a play put on by the college demonstration school. She will appear in the role of queen. The college will furnish a beautiful costume.

STANDARDIZATION OF RURAL SCHOOLS

APPROVED SCHOOLS DETERMINED BY SCHOOL PLANT, EQUIPMENT, ETC.

Standardization of rural schools in District 10, comprising the counties of Hardeman, Wilbarger, Wichita and others in this territory, is planned by Warner Rasco, Wichita Falls, deputy state superintendent.

A check of Wilbarger county rural schools has been completed nine being approved provided they stand the tests. This number would give that county 76.1 per cent of its schools on the accredited list. The schools are Lock et, Farmers Valley, East Vernon, Tolbert, Jackson Springs, Midway, Hinds, St. Paul Luther and Plainview. Classified schools are not included. Hardeman, Wichita and Jack counties are yet to be checked.

ANTHRAX

A sample of blood taken from a horse dying of a strange disease in the Jackson Springs community was forwarded to the Veterinary department at College Station and the report received by W. M. Gourley Tuesday stated that the horse did not die of anthrax as the owner thought. The report however, did not indicate just what the nature of the disease. A letter will be forwarded asking for additional information. Since anthrax is one of the most dreaded of all farm animal diseases, it is fortunate for this section that the sample sent in did not show this trouble.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE!

Motorists who know these facts will save money:

Motor oils refined by the usual methods have some oiliness and film strength, but they may form carbon and sludge, which lead to expensive motor repairs.

Other oils may form almost no carbon and sludge, but are so over-refined that they are robbed of oiliness and film strength they need to prevent motor wear.

Germ Processed Oil is refined to eliminate carbon and sludge troubles and then the Germ Process adds extra oiliness and 2 to 4 times more film strength than any mineral oil.*

YOU will save money on repairs and have a smoother running motor if you use Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil!

The Germ Process—adding concentrated oily essence to highly refined oil—gives it the extra oiliness and film strength so necessary for full protection of high-powered, high-speed motors. No other oil is made by the Germ Process.

Germ Processed Oil cuts down costly starting wear, which other oils fail to do. It is the only oil with the "Hidden Quart" that stays up in your motor and never drains away.

Germ Processed Oil is free from carbon and sludge troubles. It has a lower rate of consumption and gives longer mileage, as proved by the famous Indianapolis Destruction Test.

Say, "O. K.—Drain"—and fill with Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil.

H. A. RANKIN DID PLUMBING WORK FOR FORD FIRM

Job Just Another of High-Class Service Given By Local Man

Most everyone in the Chillicothe community is acquainted with H. A. (Homer) Rankin, and he is also, most everyone knows about the plumbing service he gives. The same high-quality work he has given in the past is to be seen in the new home of the Touchstone Motor Company, to be formally opened on next Monday, April 29, when the company will hold open house for their many friends in this vicinity.

In mind to have one of the most modern automobile homes in the west Touchstone Motor Company realized only experienced workmen could be used in the installation of equipment. For the plumbing equipment, this smiling young man was given the job of installing every piece. Therefore, after the work has been completed Homer hopes the public, as they visit the new home, will pay close attention to his part in the construction, a job he is proud of.

Rankin has been in business here for the past 16 years, coming from the grand old state of Alabama. He has his shop located on North Biggs street, where some of the most modern plumbing equipment may be found and should it happen he does not have in stock at the time just what you are looking for, don't worry, because Homer can get it for you in a short time, install it, and make your place just as modern and complete as he has done for the new home of the Touchstone Motor Company.

"I believe in giving square deal to everybody alike. I want to sell my equipment and service just as reasonable as I can, and that's what I do," asserted Homer Rankin.

YOUR CHILD AND THE SCHOOL

By Jean Prentice

When the so-called "bridge lamp" is used to light a game of bridge, as above, its nature and purpose have been misunderstood. At right is shown a correct type of lamp for the purpose.

Playground Accidents
To be content with the old saying "accidents will happen" is to be old-fashioned.

We have suffered and lost too long under that indifferent attitude. The modern idea is to do something about it. Not just talking to children, for that is out, along with scolding, preaching, and threatening. We have a guardianship to serve, and an important responsibility falling to school officials is to recognize every possible accident situation and to erect every safeguard available.

By no means does this mean curtailing the normal activities of children. Such action would be little short of criminal. It means, rather, that the facilities we provide for children's activities shall be at free of hazards as we can make them. Are there hazards at your school? That significant question introduces a new line of thought into this series. It is an inexhaustible subject, so more later.

How can children's spring play be made safer? Dr. Ireland will discuss this problem next week.

Better Ways to Light Up for Bridge and Other Games

When the so-called "bridge lamp" is used to light a game of bridge, as above, its nature and purpose have been misunderstood. At right is shown a correct type of lamp for the purpose.

MISPLAYED hands, sharp words exchanged across the bridge table—these are frequent indications that the "bridge lamp" has been misnamed.

Double-Purpose Lamps Available
For adequate lighting of a bridge game, either the indirect torchere, as shown, or one of the indirect floor lamps containing a white glass bowl within the shade, may be used. The latter, which forms a good reading lamp, gives both totally indirect and semi-indirect light. Thus, it is a double-purpose lamp, and comes in a wide variety of styles and designs suitable for any decorative scheme.

General Illumination Needed
When this lamp is used to illuminate a bridge table, we invariably find a result like that shown in the illustration at upper left. Because of its narrow circle of light, this lamp can properly illuminate only two of the hands of cards. In order to provide light for the other side of the table, the shade has been tilted, causing discomfort and glare all around.

Make-Shift Lighting Inexcusable
Make-shift lighting is no longer necessary or excusable, any more than is make-shift furniture. The well-kept home of today makes just as careful provision for the various lighting requirements of family and guests as it does for any other phase of living. Guests nowadays expect good, comfortable lighting, and the thoughtful hostess always endeavors to provide it, especially for games.

CARD OF THANKS
We take this means of expressing our sincere thanks and appreciation for the many useful gifts we received from the people of Medicine Mound in the shower at the Methodist Church basement, Tuesday night. May the misfortune we experienced never befall those good people.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Brown and family.

CONOCO GASOLINE AND OIL IS SOLD AT TOUCHSTONE'S

Fine Motor Fuel is Distributed in This Territory By C. B. Haynes

NEW FORD HOME HAS NEW PUMPS

Wholesale Agent Connected With Continental Oil Co., Past Eight Years

When visitors reach the new home of the Touchstone Motor Company Monday, April 29, they will view just before entering the building two beautiful gasoline pumps—containing Conoco Bronze Gasoline, and nearby also will be found Conoco Germ-Processed motor oil, two fine petroleum products handled by this firm and distributed in this territory by C. B. Haynes.

There is much that can be said of the Continental Oil Company, and all favorable since establishment back in the year 1875, but space would not permit of course. Yet, to write of Conoco products features so outstanding cannot be overlooked. From year to year Continental has continued to improve its products until today the motor car owner using Conoco gasoline and oil is given the best that is on the market in the bronze gasoline, noted for its high qualities of extra road mileage, and the Conoco Germ-Processed motor oil, an oil of one hundred per cent satisfaction. It is said: "Just as the metallurgist adds small amounts of other metals to make special alloy steels, Conoco has added small quantities of concentrated oily essence to high-refined, paraffin-base motor oil. This processing, therefore, discovered and patented by Continental Germ-Processed motor oil lubricating qualities, gives extra lubricating qualities no other oil has."

For the past 8 years C. B. Haynes has served as Conoco distributor in this territory, and today he is just as much sold on Continental products as when he became wholesale agent. Furthermore, it can be said, also, that Raymond Touchstone of the Touchstone Motor Company, is well-acquainted with the satisfactory service these products give, and as a consequence has no hesitancy in serving his patrons with Conoco products.

Mr. Haynes playing a part in equipping this modern automobile house with the latest and most improved gasoline serving pumps, extends an invitation to the general public to view Conoco service equipment and products when they attend the formal opening of the building. Moreover, Mr. Haynes also calls attention to all motorists planning summer trips to investigate Conoco travel bureau literature, offered free by the Conoco Travel Bureau, Denver. Road maps of states where trip is planned, road conditions and best routes marked, booklets of scenic and historic points, hotel and camp directories, will be given upon request, Mr. Haynes said.

Five-Point Program for Wilbarger County May Be Leader in State

LYDIA BOND TO BE MAY QUEEN

Twenty Schools Will Be Represented With May Pole Dances, It Is Said

The time for filling Five-Point papers terminated Monday afternoon at 5 p. m. and show 1172 children eligible for awards. Forty-seven of these are negro children—the first to be given five-point certificates in Wilbarger county. For those who are not familiar with the Five-Point requirements, they are as follows:

1. Reasonable cooperation in practicing health habits.
 2. Satisfactory behavior and attitudes in school and home.
 3. Physically free from remediable defects; as to throat, teeth, eyes, hearing, posture and diphtheria.
 4. Immunization against smallpox and diphtheria.
 5. Satisfactory school work—minimum grade of 75.

Mrs. Williams has received a letter from Dr. H. N. Barnett, director, Bureau of Child Hygiene, Austin, Texas, which leads her to believe that Wilbarger county may again have the distinctive honor of having the largest number of Five-point children in the State of Texas. 943 certificates were awarded last year and the number this year exceeds that. The highest number to be reported to date, other than this county, is San Antonio with 800.

Miss Lydia Bond has been selected as May Queen and she will have the privilege of choosing her court of 16 attendants. We are looking forward to the event as a beautiful and colorful one; much more attractive than in previous years. Twenty schools will be represented with May Pole dances. All the city school rhythm bands will participate and several hundred children will take part in other activities on the field. Three loving caps will be awarded the same as last year to the schools having the largest number of Five-point students according to enrollment, February first.

"We would be glad to have any of the people from Chillicothe who would care to come over. The Festival is May 2, 1935, at 7 p. m. at the City Park," declared the county health nurse.

FARM PRODUCTS PLAY PART IN BUILDING FORDS

LOCAL DEALER SETS FORTH REASONS WHY INDUSTRY IS GOOD FARM CUSTOMER

The part played by farm products in the manufacture of Ford cars and trucks is described by Mr. R. Touchstone, local Ford dealer, who said that it is estimated that the products to be consumed in this year will include 500,000 bushels of corn, parts of 29,000 hogs and 39,000 cattle, 2,200,000 pounds of wool, 1,899,000 pounds of soy beans, 138,000 bales of cotton and many others.

"Some time ago Henry Ford said he was convinced that waste material used in motor car manufacture which then came from forest and mine could be secured out of yearly crops," Mr. Touchstone said. "That this prophecy was well founded is clearly indicated by a study of the vast our farm products that will be used in the scheduled production of 1,000,000 Ford cars and trucks this year."

Mr. Touchstone pointed out that from corn comes hulls also used for enamel finishes and other purposes, and starch for stiffening cotton linings. Leather from cattle goes into upholstery, and in addition, sources are made from cow hide, and from cow's milk, and other parts of cattle yield stearic acid, greases, glycerin and other by-products used in the manufacture of cars.

Soy beans are an important part of the baked enamel finish of a Ford V-8 and are used also in making cores for metal castings and plastic knobs and buttons in the interior of the car. Wool goes into upholstery floor coverings, lubricants, and anti-preparations. Cotton is used in tires, hatting, cloth, battery boxes, timing gears, brake linings and safety glass.

Other products involving farm activities which will be used as coming to Mr. Touchstone are 2,400,000 pounds of linseed oil, 241,000 pounds of castor oil, 2,500,000 gallons of molasses.

"Ford already has gone far enough to prove that industry can be a good customer of the farmer," he said.

TENNESSEAN BY BIRTH BUT TEXAN BY ADOPTION; SETTLED FIRST IN HUNT COUNTY, CAME HERE IN 1900

W. W. Cole, Farmer-Banker, One of Most Influential Citizens of Hardeman County; Now Living In Big Valley Community On Fine Farm

One of the most influential men in the county is a farmer-banker. He resides in the Medicine Mound community, and his name is W. W. Cole.

Born and raised to young manhood in Tennessee W. W. came to Texas in 1875 and settled near Greenville, Hunt county, where he remained for several years. Learning of Hardeman county and what it offered then made him forsake that part of Texas. He moved to Hardeman county in 1900, has been here ever since, and owns one of the best farms in that community. His main work, and one he enjoys most, is farming. Banking is all right, is W. W. thinks, but his love is growing agriculture crops. He has made a success of it, too.

Miss Susie White, residing in Hunt county, proved to be W. W.'s "apple of the eye", and he proceeded to court her, and to finally convince her, he was just about the best young man living. He was successful and 31 years ago the couple married. To this union there have been two children born, being Miss Clara Cole and Hiram Cole.

There is one main feature about W. W. Cole and that is he works untriflingly for the farmer. He realizes, as he should, nothing is too good for the man who raises crops. His work has been outstanding, not alone in Hardeman county, but over the state. He is identified with the Farmers Co-Operative Society here, and the state organization. He is convinced "where there is unity there is strength" thus his strong belief in co-operation.

W. W. Cole has been successful. He has felt the brunt of the depression as all others have, but he was one who could view before hand that good times were temporary as are bad times temporary. During the good times he became more substantial as a farmer and as a banker. His work therefore, has been well done. His home place is a home—all that the name home can imply.

Moreover, this gentleman has a leaning toward politics, also, for the reason he can see where some pieces of legislation should be changed. And, a goodly number still no doubt agree with him in that respect. He is interested in politics because he is a good citizen, interested in his country's government.

Were there more farmers as is W. W. Cole members of the farming industry would be better off, progressive and more prosperous, and not remain in the back seat while allowing others to have the say.

Just such calibre of men is making Hardeman county more progressive and more prosperous. There are many just as hard-working in this county, but none any more interested. Hardeman county appreciates such citizens. Medicine Mound and Big Valley are proud of its resident. He is proud of his community, too, and large work in harmony for the good of all concerned.

WHAT FARM FOLKS ARE NOW DOING

Timely Tips on What Farmer Folks are Doing in Texas

Palfurrias: A 30 ton trench silo filled with hegarri bundles is being used by John Negri, Brooks county dairyman, to carry his dairy herd until Sudan pasture is available, according to Louis Franke, county agricultural agent. The work of constructing the silo, harvesting the feed, and filling the silo cost Mr. Negri $18, and this figure includes his own labor at current prices.

More than 50 persons have visited the Negri farm to observe the silo while construction, filling and feeding operations were under way. The trench silo is new to Brooks county, but Negri's demonstration plus the current shortage of roughage has converted many local dairymen to this economical method of storing feed, according to the county agent.

Emory: A net profit of $21.85 was made from a flock of 194 hens during February by Homer Foster of Rains county, according to his report to Roy King, county agent. Foster's hens produced 2,958 eggs during the month, and he believes that by keeping a good laying mash before his birds at all times he can continue to expect good production. Foster sells infertile eggs which he guarantees to be good, and therefore he receives a small premium on all sales.

Eldorado: Seven Schleicher county 4-H club boys received a total of $2100 for their club work during 1934, according to C. Smith, county agent. The boys led out 112 head of lambs and won $409 in prize money at two shows. The sale prices for the lambs varied from seven and one-half cents to $3.50 per pound. Cecil Moore sold his prize winning club lamb at $2.50 per pound, and Edgar Sauer sold his lamb for $1 per pound. A car load of lambs brought $9.75 per hundred.

Henderson: A new picket fence has been completed, rock fences have been built across the washes, and the yard had been filled in with new soil by Christine Moore, yard improvement demonstrator of the Oak Park 4-H Club in Rusk county, according to Miss Lotye Thomas, county home demonstration agent. A plan was first drawn up covering three years of work, and these are the first improvements necessary in carrying out the plan. In addition, Christine has cleaned under the house thoroughly and is now underpinning it with split pine palings such as the fence is made of. Foundation planting has been begun and trees will be planted where needed for shade and for screening the outbuildings.

Gilmer: With a total cash expenditure of $1, Mrs. Ivey Reynolds of Upshur county has transformed a bare unappared clothes closet without shelves or rods into a nicely painted and papered one with shelves for folded clothing and a rod for hangers, she reports to Miss Lela M. Dilworth, home demonstration agent. Mrs. Reynolds built shelves down one side with boxes which her husband had brought home from town. Old coldframe covers were used for the shelves and the paper used in papering the closet was some that had been on hand for 10 years. The rod for the hangers was an old broom handle. Her only expense was $1 for white paint with which to paint the shelves.

Panhandle: In choosing a balanced menu from the 689 containers in her pantry, Mrs. L. L. Stalls of Carson county can sample everything except bread, according to Miss Dalton Harrison, home demonstration agent. Mrs. Stalls has a total of 80 varieties of meats, vegetables, fruits, pickles and relishes from which to choose, and even has 12 cans of fruit cake. She produces milk, eggs and butter at home and also has enough home made soap stored in the cellar to last for a long period of time.

Series of Articles Taken From the Bexar Archives at the University of Texas and Pertaining to History of State.

BY LORENE DRUMMOND

Series I, No. 9

AUSTIN, April 24.—Through the years that followed the founding by the Spanish government of a civilian colony on Texas soil, the priests, the soldiers and the settlers who made up the population of San Antonio de Bexar began to turn their eyes across the rich prairies, the fertile valleys and the pleasant woods of the vast virgin country—Texas. In addition to keeping open communication with the interior of Mexico, where the Spanish viceroy was ensconced, and holding Bexar against the Indians, they flung outposts of Spanish civilization to the far corners of the province of Texas.

They looked toward the east, and saw Nacogdoches on the extreme Texas-Louisiana frontier, beyond which dwelt the French, ever on the alert to gain an advantage over them. They looked toward the south, to Bahia, thru which it was hoped provisions and clothing might be secured by sea without the exorbitant freight charges consequent upon overland transportation. They looked toward the north, to the chain of mountains where, it was said, rich veins of minerals lay waiting the pick and shovel of the miner.

The Spaniards were first of all soldiers, second gold seekers, third cattle raisers, and fourth farmers. In Texas conditions forced them to go at the process almost backwards—they must open small farms, make use of the ranges, think longingly of the gold and silver mines and yet be a soldier all the while. This, because the Indians of Texas were not the kind of Indians that lived beyond the Rio Grande. Here they encountered the fierce Lipan and the treacherous Comanche, not the gentle pueblo tribes that took meekly to the pick, the shovel, the plough and the hoe at the behest of the Spanish Indians barred way at every move toward expansion.

Stirring accounts of Indian warfare are written in the official documents of the government for the province of Texas, now in the possession of the University of Texas library. One of these, a report of the cavalry commander of the Royal Presidio of San Antonio de Bexar as of February 1, 1781, has just been translated. It shows a total of 101 men in the company, eight of which guarded the presidio, 24 were detached at the Cabellada, 22 were detached at the fort on the Cibola, 11 was in the province of Coahuila, 7 were guards for the mail, 7 were detached in Coahuila for government supplies, 4 were sick and 27 were present and active in the settlement. Written by Don Domingo Cabello, Governor of the province of Coahuila and Texas, who was also in command of the military garrison of San Antonio de Bexar, the record clearly indicates the inadequacy of the defence facilities of the settlement against devastating Indian rampages and elusive Indian retreats after attack.

"On the first of February, certain citizens of the presidio who were cutting lumber on the banks of the Modina river, five leagues from this presidio, reported that they had seen fresh traces of the enemy and signs that they had built two fires on the preceding night," Don Cabello wrote. "A good pack saddle was found on the ground at the same place. I arranged for a sergeant, a corporal, and eighteen soldiers to go out and reconnoiter all that part of the country to see if they could find the enemy who had left these signs.

"On the third, the party returned that had gone out to inspect the trail and fires which were reported to have been seen on the day and night of the 31st. From the trail and the fires found it was concluded that it was a party of Lipan Indians. The sergeant scouted over the entire section. Having found nothing, he returned to this presidio.

"On the sixth, at four o'clock in the afternoon, a soldier came in from the fort at Cibola. He was riding bareback, and carrying his gun in his hand. He brought me a verbal message from Sergeant Manuel de Urrutia, who was stationed at that place because of the illness of the late Don Marcelo Valdes and the soldier Eusebio Gusman, Fernin Leal, Jose Asencio de Ynoxosa, Cayetano Hernandez, Pedro Matias Sanchez and Jose Flores went out on a scouting trip and to cut forage. They were returning to their detachment when they heard behind them the indescribable yells of the Indians. They stopped, looked around and found that there were more than one hundred of the enemy. They, therefore, tried to gain the shelter of the only fort that was in the vicinity but the Indians got within gunshot of the soldiers and began such a heavy fire that they instantly wounded the soldiers Fernin Leal and Jose de Ynoxosa. Thereupon, the corporal ordered all of them to get down off their horses. All the while, the Indians were keeping up an incessant fire. They wounded Jose de Flores' horse. He became unmanageable and made a bee line for the fort. Flores ran upon some of the Indians and they wounded him with a lance. He reported these incidents. He thought that all his companions had been killed because of the heavy fire of the Indians. In view of this, I ordered Alferes Marcelo Valdes to go out with twenty-six men, twenty settlers, and four Indians of the missions to cut off the enemy who, naturally, were trying to get away across the Guadalupe. The party set out about the time of vesper. A little later, Carlos Rioja, Nicolas Carabajal, Diego Aguirre and Pedro Chirino begged for permission to go to the fort to carry some medicines to the soldiers in case they had escaped, because all of the aforesaid settlers were brothers-in-law of the soldiers.

"On the seventh, a daybreak, these four settlers reached the fort. Sergeant Urrutia reported to them that not one of the six men had returned and that he believed they were dead because the night before, the dim forms of Indians had appeared in the oak grove fronting the fort, wrapped up in the capes of the dead soldiers. Therefore, the settlers begged to be allowed to take six soldiers and go to the spot to see if they could recover the dead bodies and bury them. This was granted. They arrived at the place and found the six dead men seated propped against the trees in the mud in which they had taken shelter. The Indians had scalped every one of them and mutilated their bodies. Some of them had their fingers, and noses cut off, and there were little sticks holding their eyes open. They had killed the dog that Cayetano Hernandez had with him and had placed it between his legs as if he were hugging it. It could be seen that they had defended themselves bravely. Fifty used cartridges lay on the ground, the powder from which had blackened their lips and their teeth. Two buffalo robes with bullet holes in them were found. They were covered with blood. There was a broken chival, a quiver and a number of arrows. There was an elaborately embroidered shoe. There were a number of pack saddles and some broken armor. From this, it was thought that the soldiers had killed some of the Indians. These men loaded four of the bodies on the horses they had carried for the purpose, when they heard whoops coming from the direction the Indians had come when they committed the attack. They were frightened, and, for fear the Indians might come back, they retired. They reached the fort and buried the bodies in the chapel, having left behind the bodies of Corporal Tomas del Toro and the soldier Jose Ynoxosa for the reason already stated.

"On the seventh at dawn, Alferes Valdes reached the banks of the Guadalupe river. He found 76 Chillicothe people according to reports turned in by officials, that many extra attending Sunday school in addition to the number enrolled previously. The combined total was 619 for Easter Sunday as compared to 543 on April 14.

He realized from the many tracks he saw, that a large number of Indians had come in. He turned back, preparing to re-cross the river at the same place. As he traveled along the thick undergrowth on the banks of the river, he noticed on the left of the road that eleven Indians were coming to meet him. They had crossed the river lower down at the crossing called Los Chiflones. As soon as the Indians saw him, they raised the war whoop and turned back. The alferes thereupon ordered ten men to dismount. In spite of the thick woods, and of the fact that they were two gun shots away, he pushed part of his force forward through the thick woods and had others re-cross at Paso del Tio Geronimo and to try to overtake the Indians at Paso de Chiflones and to cut them off. They succeeded only in capturing six horses and two mules and in killing two Indian men and one Indian woman. The rest dived into the river—which was very deep—and allowed themselves to be carried down by the current. But many were wounded by the heavy fire from both sides of the river. Our party also recovered a gun and a brace of pistols taken from the soldiers of the fort that were killed.

"On the eighth they followed the trail beyond the Guadalupe until they reached the desolate Rancho del Pastie where, as on the road the previous day, they found as many as seventeen fires where the enemy had slept. They therefore, realized that there were a large number of Indians. On the ninth, after examining the country around Rancho del Pastie and discovering a number of trails leading in various directions, they followed the largest one which led them to the spot where they had killed the corporal and five soldiers of the fort. Here, they found the dead bodies of Corporal Tomas del Toro and the soldier Jose Ynoxosa literally shot and hacked to pieces. It could be seen that they

HEALTH TALK

By John W. Brown, M. D. (State Health Officer)

A warning about the dangers of snake bite has just been issued by Dr. John W. Brown, state health officer. A number of cases of snake bite are reported each year in Texas during the summer and early fall; however, few of these result fatally.

Most of the bites occur on the hands or feet, which indicates that stepping or falling in the immediate vicinity of an unseen snake or picking up objects under similar conditions are the hazards contracting snake bite. The pain following the injection of the poison is most intense. Other symptoms are swelling, giddiness, difficult breathing, hemorrhage, weak pulse, and vomiting.

If one is unfortunate enough to be bitten by a poisonous snake, such as the rattlesnake, the following first aid measures should be carried out. After making proper incisions at the site of the wound, apply suction and continue for at least half an hour.

Apply a tourniquet above the site of the wound, releasing same every ten or fifteen minutes for about a minute at a time. If the proper antivenom serum is available, apply it according to directions, but most important of all is to remove as much of the poison as is possible so as to prevent its absorption.

Secure the services of a physician at the earliest possible moment. If one is bitten by a poisonous snake DO NOT run or get overheated and DO NOT take any alcoholic stimulants because circulation increased by alcohol or exercise serves to distribute the poison much more rapidly in the body.

DON'T injure the tissues by ingesting permanganate of potash, which is known to be of no value as an antidote. DON'T depend upon home remedies or so-called snake bite cures, for they are of no value. had put up a splendid defense and that they had killed some of the enemy. Arrangements were made to load them on a horse and they were carried to the fort and buried in the chapel with their companions.

Although repeated attempts were made by detachments of soldiers and settlers to trail the Indians and make a surprise attack on them, the wild savages always evaded their pursuers and continued their depredations on the settlers. They came closer and closer to the settlement in their forays, and the commandant found it necessary to scatter in his report that by the end of the month his company was so greatly reduced that defence of the

EXPERIENCE AS BUILDER DATES BACK MANY YEARS

J. K. Stuckey Grew Up As Member of Family Skilled In Building Trade

J. K. Stuckey, architect and builder, adopted this line of work because for one reason, his father was in that business and taught him all the fundamentals of this trade, thus he just naturally had to be a builder. But, he has never regretted the work. Thus, through the many years devoted to this line of endeavor he is recognized as one of the best craftsmen in this part of the country.

To look at the newly-remodeled building, known formerly as the Majestic Theatre building, now to house the Touchstone Motor Company, local Ford dealer, his skilled work is clearly evident, and back of it all convincing proof that his past work has been of the highest order.

J. K. believes, in whatever he undertakes, doing the thing well. Just such a policy has been appreciated by all those he has served. Therefore, knowing his ability Raymond Touchstone, head of the Touchstone Motor Company, did not hesitate in turning the whole contract of remodeling over to him. Visitors at the formal opening, scheduled for next Monday, April 29, will be able to appreciate still more Stuckey's work when they view this remodeled structure. It is a modern home for automobiles.

settlement was an impossibility. "You will thus see that, if the enemy should attack this presidio as is probable, I can count upon the eight men on guard, the six recruits, the drummer, the gunsmith, and five sick men," he wrote. "For this reason, it is impossible to defend it; and, therefore, the governor can not be held responsible for any thing that happens, for I have given you due notice of what may be expected."

Credit To Chillicothe

I ought to know because I had the job of remodeling the old Majestic building into a fine home for the Ford automobile.

Chillicothe people ought to—and I am sure they do—appreciate Mr. Raymond Touchstone's spirit in giving to this city a finer structure.

I congratulate Touchstone Motor Company.

I HAVEN'T HAD A COLD IN FIVE YEARS!

In the old days I used to dread the coming of winter. I was always getting colds—feeling about half alive—trying to work with my body aching and every nerve on edge. Then a friend told me about McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets with their marvelous Vitamin A and D. I started to take them five years ago and I haven't had a cold since that time. McCoy's tablets put new life in folks; build up resistance against all kinds of cold germs. They make weak, ailing people strong, healthy, and vigorous. They're wonderful! Get the genuine McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets from your favorite drug store today. Watch for imitations. Ask for McCoy's.

Daring Work Of Telephone Operator Saves Lives Of Husband, 3 Others

Snyder, Okla., City Well Cave-In Traps Men While at Work; Mrs. Paul Hadley, Operator, Summons Aid—That Occurred In 1923

Mrs. Paul Hadley, former Chillicothe resident, now of Tulsa, Okla., through quick work saved the lives of her husband, Paul Hadley, and three others, when at Snyder, Okla., city well caved in, was awarded a Val medal. That was in 1923 while she was a telephone operator in Snyder. She remained at her post of duty and summoned doctors and nurses, as well as the Fredrick fire department, in spite of one of the victims being her husband.

Over 400 people reached the scene in twenty minutes. Now, twelve years later, her act is to be dramatized over the radio. Mrs. Hadley was advised this week from New York, having been chosen as the best. It will be broadcast on the air Sunday, April 28, at 5 p. m., Central standard time, through the facilities of the Columbia Broadcasting System. The Chillicothe public is urged to listen to a recount of the splendid work rendered by Mrs. Hadley.

PLANS FORMED FOR PICNIC AT DOANS MAY 4-5

PIONEERS AND CATTLEMEN TO GATHER FOR EVENT NEAR RIVER CROSSING

Preliminary plans for the 52nd annual Doans picnic observance to be held on May 4-5 have been formulated by Mrs. Bertha A. Rose of Vernon. The picnic, one of the most colorful pioneer observances in Texas annually, will be held at the Walter Grove, 18 miles north of Vernon. Approximately 5,000 people from West Texas and Southern Oklahoma are expected to attend. The celebration is held traditionally within three miles of the historic Doans crossing where 7,000,000 head of cattle were driven across Red River en route to Kansas markets. The event was founded by C. F. Doan, operator of the first trading post and of the first postoffice in Wilbarger county, in 1834. His daughter, Mrs. Bertha Ross, was the first white child in Wilbarger county. The program will open at 10 a. m., May 4 with the crowning of the eighth annual May picnic queen. The queen's name will not be announced until the ceremony. Miss Ouida Turner of Chillicothe was the 1934 queen. A check wagon food for members of the West Texas and Southern Oklahoma Pioneers and Cattlemen's association is planned at noon. Beginning at 2 p. m., a pageant "The Spirit of Red River" will be presented as a pre-Texas centennial program. There will be the early day history of the county and episodes will depict Quanah Parker, famous Indian chief, Cynthia Ann Parker, "The March of the Drifters," "King Cotton," etc. Eight girls' 4-H clubs of Wil-

EXHIBITS BY CLUBS TO BE ON SATURDAY

Will Be Held In American Legion Hall, Quannah. It Is Announced

The home demonstration clubs of Hardeman county will have an exhibit of hand towels and dresser scarfs on April 27th in the Quannah American Legion Hall. The 4-H club girls will exhibit dresser scarfs and quilted pillows. The exhibit and program will be open to the public at 10:30 o'clock. Lunch will be served at 12:00. Each person is to bring a covered dish. Miss Ruby Mashburn, district agent, will be the judge.

Each club has been asked to furnish a number on the program and the response was as follows: Sing-songs. Spring Creek: Talk on Texas. Medicine Mound: Song by the group. Bailey High Club: Chalk talk by Lee Ross Boyles. Marshall: Reading by Margaret Howard. Acme: Development of Acme Mills. Mrs. Ransom Davis. King High: Beautiful Texas. by Mrs. Tom Gorman. Mrs. H. L. Irvin. Mrs. Tommy Hokin and Miss Estelle Cain. Goodlett: Special Texas Items, by Mrs. Hattie Goinsine. Williams High: Song by the group.

Williams 4-H Club: Original Texas Story, Leleots Lightfoot. Medicine Mound 4-H Club: Original one-act play. The Home's Demonstration Council will have its regular meeting at 2:30 in the county court room.

The 4-H club girls will have a picture memory contest at 2:30 at the American Legion Hall. The exhibits must be in by 10:30 and may be taken down at 4:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Barcer county will conduct the pageant, Odell, Fargo, Farmers Valley, South Vernon, Elliott, Paradise, West Vernon, and White City. Miss Marjorie Izou will be the announcer.

For the memorial service the Fargo, Doans and Odell community women will be in charge. A huge Sunday school rally Sunday morning will be in charge of J. E. Collins of Vernon. A sacred song concert is scheduled in the afternoon with singers from Oklahoma and Texas under the direction of Mrs. Mary Schultz of Hinda.

No political speaking is scheduled this year. Miss Vivian Jackson and Mrs. Nell Wallace returned to Lubbock Sunday afternoon to resume their studies in college, after spending the Easter vacation here.

George Vaughn of the Farmers Valley community was in Chillicothe Wednesday. A fine rain fell in his neighborhood, he said.

Raymond Hughes is here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hughes. Raymond is making plans to open a broadcasting station at Midland.

J. B. Lockett of Lockett was a business visitor here Monday.

"It has been, and always will be, the constant aim of Chevrolet dealers to serve car owners with complete maintenance facilities," said Mr. Houler. "The service rendered to Chevrolet owners is not only thorough and comprehensive, but scientific and meticulous. We insist that every dealer's service man be a specialist in his line."

2.25 INCHES RAIN CHECKED BY UNDERWOOD

GREATER BY .02 INCH THAN APRIL, 1934, RECORDS REVEAL

Additional rain, amounting to a half inch, was recorded by C. W. Underwood, observer, for April 23, following the 1.75 inches that fell on April 19, thus making the total precipitation at 2.25 inches for the storm period.

The year's rainfall now amounts to 5.99 inches, lacking .62 inches reaching the total for the first four months of last year, when 5.71 inches was recorded. However, the total so far this month is greater by two hundredths of an inch than was the April, 1934, precipitation. And six days to go!

PROGRAM TO BE GIVEN FRIDAY NIGHT BY PTA

WILL BE LAST MEETING OF ORGANIZATION; MISS JESS DALE TO SPEAK

Friday evening at eight o'clock the Parent-Teacher Association will sponsor a musical program at the high school auditorium. It will be the last meeting of the year, and it is hoped a large crowd will be present.

The stage setting alone will be interesting to all ages. If you are old it will carry you back to childhood days. If you are young, then "come see the parlor where the courtin' was done."

Mrs. Jess Dale will discuss "What is Wrong With Our School System of Today?" There will be no admission charge.

Mother of Local Man Died Sunday; Rites at Merkel

Funeral rites for Mrs. Mary Alice Touchstone, mother of Raymond Touchstone of Chillicothe, were held in Merkel Monday afternoon. She died in Dallas Sunday morning after a lengthy illness.

Survivors include five children: Elbert Touchstone and Mrs. Ruby Harris, of Dallas; Cary Touchstone of Fredericksburg, Penn.; Miss Bess Touchstone, New Orleans, La.; and Raymond Touchstone of Chillicothe.

Attending the funeral from here besides Mr. Touchstone were Messrs. Wiley E. Pippin and Ennis I. Grimes.

Chillicotheans—

(Continued from Page 1) vond help. This does not hold true in Hardeman county. Especially in the Chillicothe community, wheat has remained alive in spite of the dry weather, and consequently, there is still a chance for a fairly good yield.

A slump in buying on the part of the public, due to the drought, which has been revived already to some extent, it was reported from some of the merchants. The people were playing a "waiting game" to see what the future held and were hesitant about buying only for necessary foods.

Notice To Dog Owners Due to the fact that at this time of the year there are a greater number of dogs afflicted with rabies, and that there has already been one or two reported to have had rabies, the City Council went on record at its last meeting to urge all owners of dogs to have them vaccinated as a preventive measure. There is no ordinance providing that this be done. Therefore, all we can do is to call on dog owners to protect human life as well as their dogs by having the animals vaccinated at once.
