Frontier Days rides into town this weekend

County fair exhibits, a Tumbleweed Parade, mouth-watering treats, gunfighters and plenty of action, this year's Frontier Days is a return to the adventure of Colorado City's pioneer roots.

The fun begins Thursday, September 22 at 9 a.m. with a call for county fair exhibits. Bring your entries from homemade jams and jellies to quilts and crafts to the Railroad Building.

Divisions and categories are available through the fair catalog on line at www.coloradocitychamberofcommerce.com or through the Chamber of Commerce office on 2nd Street.

The action resumes on Saturday morning, September 24 at 8:00 with the 5K Run Walk. Registration begins at 7 a.m. on the corner of 1st and Elm. For more information on the run/walk, call the chamber office at 728-3403.

The Railroad Building doors will open at 9 a.m. for the Wild West Frontier Fest Trade Show. Come early and stay late browsing dozens of specialty vendors, including displays from C-City's own unique downtown merchants.

Don't forget to bring your appetite and sample the variety of tasty treats available at this year's Frontier Days.

Entries for the Tumbleweed Parade, which begins on Saturday at 11, must be pre-registered by Thursday, September 22 to be eligible for cash prizes. Dress your float in the latest tumbleweed finery and get creative.

Classmates will gather for the Mitchell County Reunion down at the civic center beginning around 9:30 a.m. The noon meal will be catered by Gas N Grub, as they serve up chicken fried steaks with all the fixings. Guest speakers for the reunion will be Jim Baum and Woody Anderson speaking on this year's theme "Proud History, Promising Future."

Don't miss all the exciting activities on Saturday afternoon from the Junk to Jewels Auction, petting zoo and free concert at the Baker Hotel.

The young-at-heart won't want to miss getting to meet Texas Longhorns Pancho and Lefty, courtesy of the Lake Colorado City State Park.

The trade show will be going on all afternoon long until 5 p.m., and visitors can browse the county fair exhibits which will be on display through Sunday. The Texas Gunslingers will be on hand to live up Saturday afternoon with several shoot outs in the street behind the Railroad Building.

Free afternoon movies at the 3M Palace are a great way to cool off and spend some time with the family.

A great band lineup will finish off the day with a free concert. See FRONTIER page 5A

Police continue search for hit-and-run suspect

A HIT AND RUN driver smashed into this Chevy SUV injuring two people. Police would appreciate any information leading to the whereabouts of the suspect Garcia, whose first name is either José or Jaime, according to the police department. Photo courtesy of CCPD.

Police are searching for a suspect in a hit and run accident which occurred Saturday, September 17, according to Lt. John Bivins of the Colorado City Police Department.

Officers responded to an accident scene at the corner of 7th and Cedar, late Saturday evening around 9:18 p.m. after witnesses say a black Ford Ranger pickup ran a stop sign, striking a Chevy SUV.

The impact forced the SUV into a yard, injuring the driver and passenger, who were transported by EMS to Mitchell County Hospital for treatment. The names of the victims were not released.

The suspect, who has been identified as a Hispanic male with the last name of Garcia according to a witness, fled the scene and drove his pickup to the end of CR 107 before abandoning the vehicle under a carport at a residence.

"Officer Holbrook followed a trail of fluid to Austin Street," Lt. Bivins said. "Deputy Jack Green located the vehicle on CR 107."

Officers spent Saturday night searching for Garcia, whose first name is either José or Jaime.

Darby to speak Thursday

State representative Drew Darby will be in town Thursday for a joint lunch meeting of the Kiwanis, Lions and Rotary Clubs at noon in the civic center.

Darby, a republican from San Angelo, will be giving a legislative update on the 82nd session and addressing local issues and concerns in an informal question and answer session from the public from 1:15 - 2 p.m.

Darby will discuss the state budget, as well as redistricting and its impact on Mitchell County.

As of Monday afternoon, the Department of Justice has not cleared the House redistricting maps, according to Trent Thomas, Darby's chief of staff.

Darby will also be speaking in Snyder at the Big Country Electric Coop, 1600 McCowen, from 2:45 p.m. until 3:45 p.m.

Award honors C-City

Colorado City will be honored with the "Community Achievement Award" at the 18th Annual Texas Midwest Conference, Oct. 19, at the Abilene Civic Center.

According to TMCN President Jimi Coplen, Knox County Visioning Group Executive Director, "the award was developed as a way to encourage cities of all sizes in the region to be better prepared for future growth and economic development programs." Criteria to qualify for the award include vision, pride, youth involvement, connectivity and assessment.

Desal engineers arrive in town

The kickoff for the desalination plant began Monday as two dozen workers and engineers arrived in Colorado City.

"We have about 25 people coming in," Sue Young, Board of Economic Development president told commissioners during their meeting Monday morning.

Loran Engineering has sent in a crew and representatives from GrantWorks out of Austin are on hand to oversee the project.

A hydrologist from Dallas began conducting 24 hour monitoring of two test wells on Tuesday.

"We'll be drilling more test wells west of town," Young said.

"We're much closer to a contract with the city. We're making some progress," she said.

Additional personnel from the National Institute for Renewable Energy with Texas Tech and the Texas Department of Rural Affairs are also in town.

County begins asbestos abatement

Reports on the abatement status of the county courthouse indicate asbestos on both the first and second floors.

Tony Strong reported asbestos levels ranging from 3 to 10 % on the floor tiles, according to Judge Ray Mayo during a called meeting of the commissioners' court Monday.

"We have to abate that," Mayo said.

According to state regulations, any levels of asbestos above one percent are regulated by the state.

The court received three bids for the removal of the asbestos and its abatement. The low bidder was AML out of Abilene with a bid of $35,405.

Once the state health department is notified, the contractor can begin work on removing the asbestos contaminated tiles, which should be sometime early next month.

Boer goat cook-off in need of judges

Fifty-five teams for the 16th annual World Championship Boer Goat Cook-Off are filled and the Colorado City Volunteer Fire Department is taking names on a waiting list basis.

In case of cancellations before the event, those on the waiting list will be called and given the opportunity to participate.

The CCVFD will furnish one half of a boer goat per entry at check-in time and contestants must provide their own wood. Cooks may begin checking in from noon until 7 p.m. on Friday, September 30.

Cooks may not designate campsites before September 26 to allow city workers to mow the park.

Entry fees for jackpot cook-off are $15 each for beans, pork ribs, brisket and dessert. All jackpot entries must be cooked on site.

Activities on Saturday, October 1 begin at 8 a.m. with a mandatory cooks' meeting.

The deadline for submission of jackpot entries begins at 11 a.m. on October 1 and all boer goat entries must be turned in by 3:30 p.m. on October 1.

Winners will be announced between 5 and 6:15 p.m. on October 1st.

Following the cook-off the Backroad 208 band will hold a dance at the east pavilion in Ruddick Park.

The cook-off still has openings for judges. "They don't have to stay the whole time, but we'd greatly appreciate any help," Tom Carlock, assistant fire chief said.

Judging starts at 11 a.m. on Oct. 1 in the west pavilion by the

Backroad 208 to perform at Baker

Music will once again waft through the halls at the Baker Hotel as Main Street's Frontier Days closes the Saturday festivities with a free concert.

"Cade Carlock must be the first person in at least 40 years to play at the Baker," Amie Wood, community development director, said. "He's a hometown boy who loves coming home and being a part of what's going on."

Carlock and his band, Backroad 208, will perform live at the Baker following the Rolling 50 band.

"There's no definitive way to describe us," Carlock said. "Everyone in the band has grown up in a small town atmosphere where everyone knows everybody and what should be your business is everyone's business."

"For us growing up, back roads were the only place to escape. It's the only place to escape the city lights and truly take in the late night stars and clean Texas air," he said.

Located out of Lubbock, the band members are Cade Carlock, Tyrell Jones, Caleb Merket, Brad Hutcherson and Spazzy McGee.

The free concert is part of Main Street's "brick and mortar" concept which focuses on revitalizing the downtown area and helping reconnect residents with a bit of Colorado City's past.

"This generation and the generation before me are a little bit detached from the Baker," Wood said. "We don't have the fantastic stories about prom or swimming or the coffee shop or getting your hair done at Merle Norman. We don't have the connection like those before us."

Wood feels strongly that a bond with downtown buildings, such as the Baker, is vital to preserving Colorado City's past and ensuring its future.

"In having live music and being able to see and touch and sit in a place you've never been a part of, I hope people will feel

OBITUARIES

Jennifer Estes Graham 1979-2011

FORT WORTH -- Jennifer Estes Graham, 40, died Sunday, September 11, 2011. A celebration of life began at 11 a.m. Saturday at St. Christopher Episcopal Church, officiated by the Rev. William T. Stanford, preceded by a reception at 10 a.m.

Jennifer graduated from Southwest High School in 1989 and attended Texas Tech University. She was a purchasing agent for several home construction companies and Sally Beauty Inc. In August 2005, Jennifer met her soul mate, Tom Graham, formerly of Loraine, and they were married on October 7 of that year. Jennifer loved her home and especially loved gardening.

Survivors include her husband of six years, Tom; her son, Jimmy Graham; father, Ray Estes; mother, Susan Griffin; sister, Kristy Wilkenson; and stepchildren, Timothy and Jennah Graham.

Omadell Haggerton 1921-2011

COLORADO CITY -- Ms. Omadell Haggerton, age 89, died Friday, September 16, 2011, in a local hospital. Graveside services were held at 2 p.m. Monday, September 19, 2011, in the Colorado City Cemetery. Arrangements were under the direction of Kiker-Seale Funeral Home.

Omadell was born September 29, 1921 in Colorado City to Bert and Addie Armstrong Haggerton and had been a lifelong resident. She worked on their family farm in the Lowe Community until moving to town. She waitressed at Truck Town until retiring. She was member of the Church of Christ. She never had any children of her own but was a mother figure to all of her nieces and nephews, great-nieces and nephews, great-great-nieces and nephews and great-great-great nieces and nephews.

She is survived by several nieces and nephews, including Robert and Mary Haggerton of Colorado City and Darla Moon of Oakdale, California.

She was preceded in death by her parents and a brother and sister-in-law, Robert and Gerry Haggerton.

Robert Francis Fee, Jr. 1928-2011

LUBBOCK -- Robert Francis "Bob" Fee, Jr. died September 12, 2011. A retired cattle rancher, he had lived in Lubbock for the last twelve years. His ranching operations were in Mitchell (Rock Hole Ranch) and Nolan counties, and he loved the ranching culture of which he was a part. His recollections and stories about West Texas ranching would have made an interesting history about this fraternity to which he so passionately belonged. He was often among the first to adopt new ranching procedures. By his own admission, he "never wanted to do anything the way anyone else did it."

Ranch management was what he enjoyed most, and he was at his happiest when he had several projects going at once.

Bob was the elder son born on September 22, 1928 in Colorado City to Robert Francis Fee and W. Marcella Price, parents whom he admired for their work ethic. He graduated from Texas Tech University in 1951 and served in the U.S. Army until 1953. He was preceded in death in 1984 by his first wife, Patricia Lynn "Patsy" Jones, and by his second wife, Zita Ruth Martin Sharp, in 1998. His brother, Charles R. Fee, also preceded him in death. He is survived by many Presbyterian Church friends, special friends Helen Cabron of Lubbock and Billy and Kay Hallman of Sweetwater, friends in the ranching community, and several cousins.

In his adult life Bob followed his paternal line and became a Presbyterian at First Presbyterian Church in Colorado City where he was ordained a deacon and later an elder. He subsequently served as an elder in First Presbyterian Church of Sweetwater and Covenant Presbyterian Church in Lubbock.

He leaves two named scholarships through Texas Tech University Foundation and an endowment for cancer research to the Hendrick Medical Center Foundation of Abilene. Bob donated his body to Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center, and he considered the bronze steer he donated to the National Ranching Heritage Center a fitting marker for himself. In accordance with his express directive, no memorial service is planned at this time; he regarded a kind thought about him to be an appropriate remembrance.

Public invited to ballet performance

Valley Fair Lodge, in conjunction with the Midland Festival Ballet, will hold an outdoor performance on Sunday, October 9 at 4 p.m.

"They'll be bringing their own flooring," Marsha Rickard, Valley Fair spokeswoman, said. "We'll block off the parking area and the front lawn will be our auditorium."

Although the ballet company's performance is primarily for Valley Fair Lodge residents, the entire community is invited.

"Everybody is invited," Rickard said, "whatever the lawn will hold. We want to share it with everybody, it was such an outstanding thing for them to come."

The Midland Festival Ballet is a non-profit organization, founded by Judy Coleman in 1993, and provides a performing venue for dancers from five ballet companies, along side of the musical talents of the Midland-Odessa Symphony Orchestra.

The company's motto is "bringing the beauty of ballet to the Basin," which they accomplish through multiple performances and instructional classes.

The ballet company provides instruction to more than 150 students annually through the School of Midland "Festival Ballet."

CIA lends a helping hand

Christmas in Action continues to make a difference in Colorado City one home at a time.

Recently, thanks to Four Seasons, CIA was able to insulate a home which lacked both ceiling and wall insulation.

"It's great to have the professionals that do things like this come in to help," Jan Lemons said. "All our local citizens give money and time, but it is great to have Four Seasons come in and help also."

The project was completed on September 8.

"This will make a tremendous difference in utilities," Lemons said. "We are so fortunate to have so many Mitchell County citizens support the CIA program, along with TDCJ Wallace and Ware units and out of town businesses like Four Seasons."

Since the change in Christmas in Action's strategy, the nonprofit organization does emergency repairs to as many as three homes a week throughout the year.

"We can all help one another out. None of us can do it alone, but with all of us working together, it just comes together to help so many," she said.

NAP crop planting deadline is set for October 1

Keith Hiser Executive Director of USDA's Farm Service Agency (FSA) in Mitchell County reminds agricultural producers of important dates for those who purchased Non-Insured Crop Disaster Assistance Program (NAP) coverage for 2012 small grain grazing crops.

"Growers who intend to graze their small grain crops during the fall winter period need to have their crops planted by October 1, 2011," said Hiser. "I know it's extremely dry, but to be eligible for the maximum benefits that NAP offers you have to take a chance and actually put seed in the ground."

NAP provides financial assistance to producers of non-insurable crops when low yields, loss of inventory or prevented planting occur due to disaster events. "Purchasing a crop insurance policy is an easy way for producers to practice risk management," said Hiser. "This year alone has proved that natural disasters can severely affect the profitability and recovery of agricultural operations."

For producers who cannot get their crops planted by the October 1st deadline, due to the drought conditions, and have made all other arrangements such as purchase seed, fertilizer etc., could still be eligible for reduced NAP benefits under the "prevented planting" provisions.

Beginning October 2, 2011 the local FSA office will begin accepting prevented planting claims, but they must be made within 15 days of the October 1 plant date, added Hiser. Producers wishing to claim prevented planting do so knowing that their benefits will be reduced by 50% since they aren't out the expense of planting the crop.

Hiser added that FSA has yet another NAP small grain planting deadline for fall season crops intended to be only grazed in the spring. The final planting date for that season's crop is November 15, 2011. Similar rules apply for prevented planting claims for that season's losses.

Federal Crop Insurance (FCIC) has additional deadlines applicable for small season crops

Downtown gets new trash cans

City workers have been busy installing seven new trash cans to beautify downtown Colorado City.

Part of a long term Main Street project the new trash cans are located on the main corners, with plans for additional trash cans in the future.

After researching all options, Main Street director, Amie Wood discovered the most economical option was to contract the fabrication of the trash cans locally.

"We used Browne Bros. to manufacture the trash cans," she said.

The city purchased two trash cans; Main Street provided three Colorado City's disc golf course received a write up in a health services magazine produced by Texas Tech University Health Science Center.

Along with articles on being fit, the mini magazine listed preventative health programs around the area, including the disc golf course at Ruddick Park in Colorado City and the disc golf course in Littlefield.

OPINION & COMMENTARY

TUMBLEWEED SMITH

Marja's bras: Holding up the nation's bustline

Jacksonville had a factory that made brassieres from 1939 to 1969. It employed nearly 400 women. The company was well known in the industry due to one half-cup bra that was considered risqué and revolutionary when it came out in the '40s. After Life magazine did an article that included a full-page color photograph of the bra, the company was on the map. Its bras were sold in Neiman-Marcus and Fredericks of Hollywood. The company's slogan was "Holding Up The Nation's Bustline."

The company was Marja's Brassiere Company, named for the owner, the former Margia Childs, who was born into a wealthy Jacksonville family. Eventually she had five warehouses with two or three stories each and hundreds of sewing machines with women using them.

Deborah Burkett of the Cherokee County Historical Commission has done some oral histories with people who worked at Marja's. "Margia was born in 1903," says Deborah. "She went to Baylor where she made bras for her girl friends, a practice she started in high school."

Deborah says the women she talked to who worked at Marja's were well paid and worked under good conditions. "They all said it was like a family. Margia and her husband, Harold Hamlin, opened their home and gardens just outside of Jacksonville to employees and guests. They lived on seven acres and the gardens had camellias, azaleas, dogwood and was considered a showcase. Many of the women who worked at Marja's lived in neighboring towns and carpooled to work. During the war years, some women who worked at the bra factory lost their husbands and were comforted by the Hamlins and their fellow workers. It was a big accomplishment when a woman was promoted to supervisor."

Marja's was important to women because in the '50s and '60s family farms were dying and women could find work there and feed their families until they made a transition to something else. Many women said Marja's saved their lives.

In 1969 the company was sold to Henson Kickernick, a lingerie company that originated in Greenville. During the time the sale was being consummated, there was a fire in one of the main warehouses. "The top floor fell into the one below and the weight crushed everything into the basement," says Deborah. "The bulldozers came and leveled the ground. The sewing machines are still there under a bank building that went up on the site."

You can't have a bra factory in a small town without a few jokes. Well, many jokes. One of Deborah's fellow historical commission members, Shelley Cleaver, told me about a prank that he and some high school classmates pulled one night. A service station had a big sign that read WE FIX FLATS. Shelley and his buddies took that sign and put it under the sign that read MARJA'S BRASIERE FACTORY. The newspaper took a picture of it and sent it to the Associated Press. It went all over the country.

Experiencing pride and joy

By Monte Wike

We have a preacher friend who pulled this trick on me several times at the annual conference. "Would you like to see a picture of my pride and joy?" he would ask. Naturally I responded with a hearty, "Yes!" thinking it would be pictures of new grandkids or some improvement to the church. Then he would show us a picture of two bottles of detergent, Pride and Joy. It always brought a laugh from everyone. Even after we knew the trick, it was funny to see it again.

Both pride and joy are worthwhile characteristics to exhibit. If we have no pride, either in ourselves, our accomplishments, country or family, we are in a very sad and sorry condition. Pride comes from an investment of time and effort to make something right. It is a celebration of those who have done this for us. It is a measure of improvement and commitment. Having pride is not to have a "proud and haughty spirit" but to be uplifted by something bigger than we are. It is a cause of praise and appreciation.

Joy is one of my favorite topics and emotions, as many know. I love to laugh and see people laugh. To have a heavy or sad spirit is depressing and not good for body, mind or spirit. It is a topic in which the Bible is rich, both in references and occasions. Peter described it as "joy unspeakable and full of glory."

Joy is not just mirth or silliness, but the essence of contentment and peace. It is incorporated in the words "enjoy" and "rejoice." Jesus wanted our "joy to be full." Paul writes that we are to "rejoice and again I say rejoice."

The beauty of both pride and joy is that they are repeatable and desirable. They join the long list of commendable responses that include love, gratitude and loyalty. The opposites of these qualities are very expressive, as well. Shame, anger, hatred, ingratitude and treachery are expressions of how low a person might sink, or the dark abyss into which he might plunge. Pride and joy, along with their happy and sunny cousin words are always uplifting and inspiring. They are worth the effort and rich in rewards.

It might pay to have pictures of detergent bottles to remind us of happy and meaningful attitudes.

Hats off to the early pioneers

By Carol Parsons

My Two Cents

The more I study our nation's history, the more impressed I am with the fortitude and endurance of our pioneer ancestors.

From sautéed tumbleweeds to mesquite bean jelly, they not only made the best of a harsh environment, but seemed to have fun doing it.

We have a tendency to take our current situation for granted. Life is so much easier today we have trouble visualizing a time when water did not come out of a tap, ground beef wasn't served up saran-wrapped on a Styrofoam tray and personal comfort on a summer afternoon wasn't controlled by the touch of a button.

Let's face it. The early pioneers learned to prepare prickly pear, tumbleweed, poke greens and a host of other culinary delights few of us have heard of, much less tasted. The reason? There was nothing else for them to eat.

Early West Texas wasn't a tree covered plain rife with deer and other critters. It was a grassland and although there were rivers snaking through the area, abundant with fish, farming was still rain dependent and hard.

Canning predominated the culture and wise families stored up for the winter months. If you didn't, you didn't eat. I'm sure there were a few anxious weeks as winter lingered and folks wondered if the canned goods would last.

Meat on the table came by way of hunting, not dropping by the local supermarket and animal rights were put squarely in the proper priority — after feeding one's family.

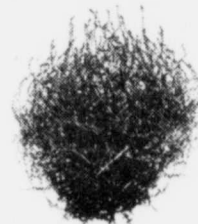

As we celebrate Frontier Days this weekend with the county

Texas Tumbleweeds

In the late spring and early summer, when the tumbleweeds are first coming out, pull the young, tender weeds when they are about 4 to 5 inches high. Pull off the roots, wash tumbleweeds in a colander and blanch.

Saute some chopped onion in a little oil, then add a can of tomato paste and enough water to make a medium-thick sauce. Add salt, pepper, a pinch of sugar, garlic, hot pepper and any other spices desired. Finally, add prepared tumbleweeds and simmer for a few minutes. Serve as a side dish or over a bed of rice, especially Spanish rice.

fair, good food, Junk to Jewels auction and all the other fun activities, let's remember it's also a tribute to the hard work ethic of the pioneers. From canning to quilting and reusing/remaking items, our ancestors were a waste-not, want-not society. And although life was hard, it was good. We can learn a lot from history.

See you at the pole set Sept. 28 AWARD

The Global Student Day of Prayer or See You at the Pole, as it is known, has taken place on school campuses all over Texas, the nation and around the globe annually since 1990. It was decided that every school has a flagpole, and so the students have set aside the 4th Wednesday of each September to gather around their flagpoles to pray.

This year's See You at the Pole events will take place on Wednesday, September 28th. Students will gather at Colorado High School and Colorado Middle School at 7 a.m. Parents and other supportive adults are welcome to provide prayer cover across the street from these campuses, as See You at the Pole is a student-led and student-organized event. For more information about See You at the Pole, please visit the official website at www.syatp.com.

Our community has also traditionally held a rally in the evening for students to come together and celebrate the morning's prayer event. This year's Saw You at the Pole Rally will be held that night beginning at 6 p.m. at the 3M Palace Theater in downtown Colorado City. The free event will start outside with hamburgers, drinks and giveaways. The big door prize will be a $100 Visa gift card.

At 7 p.m., the students will move inside the theater for local video footage of See You at the Pole shown on the big screen, followed by a time of praise and worship and a speaker. Our special guest this year will be former Colorado City resident Lance Dockrey and his band.

Dockrey is a 1997 graduate of Colorado High School and currently as worship leader/student minister at Conroe Community Church in Conroe.

All middle school and high school students are invited to the Saw You at the Pole Rally. There is no charge to attend. For more information about the events, please call First Baptist Church 325-728-3442 or Calvary Baptist Church 325-728-2262.

rector Amie Wood, an application for the award was submitted in July which detailed Colorado City's community-wide plan (vision), beautification efforts (pride), student participation on local projects (youth involvement) and website (connectivity). When applications are received by the TMCN office, individuals from neighboring communities in the region are assigned to visit the city to conduct a windshield tour of what a visitor sees and experiences when they come to town (assessment). Information from the windshield tour is provided to local leaders.

The Community Achievement Award will be presented during conference luncheon ceremonies. Colorado City will receive the 2011 Award along with Ballinger, Eastland, Eden, Haskell, Miles and Winters.

TMCN member cities include Abilene, Albany, Anson, Aspermont, Baird, Ballinger, Brady, Breckenridge, Bronte, Brownwood, Buffalo Gap, Cisco, Clyde, Coleman, Colorado City, Comanche, Cross Plains, De Leon, Dublin, Early, Eastland, Eden, Goldthwaite, Gorman, Hamilton, Hamlin, Haskell, Hico, Knox City, Menard, Merkel, Miles, Munday, Ranger, Rising Star, Robert Lee, Roscoe, Rotan, San An-

In addition to their regular performance schedule, the company holds special school performances throughout the year, allowing more than 6,000 children to experience the arts annually. Members of the ballet company have performed in the Regional Dance America/Southwest (RDA/SW) festival each year. The 2012 festival will be held in Montreal, Quebec, Canada in

May. As a nonprofit organization, the only cost of the special performance to the nursing home is truck rental and gas expenses for the company.

On September 14, the fire department assisted other law enforcement agencies in covering a truck wreck near mile marker 216 at 8:36 p.m.

There were no injuries from the wreck, which was caused by slick pavement following a brief rain shower, according to Martinez. Firefighters helped direct traffic and washed down diesel off the highway.

The department was called out again on September 17 to wash down an antifreeze and gasoline spill on the pavement out at Mitchell County Hospital.

MCSO lends aid

The Mitchell County Sheriff's Office assisted the DPS with a one vehicle rollover on CR 139 Monday shortly after noon.

Two women from Snyder were traveling along the road about a mile north of the Interstate, when the driver lost control of the vehicle, according to Sheriff Patrick Toombs.

The vehicle went off the road at the drop off to the creek and flipped end over end, coming to rest against the fence.

Both women were treated and released at the scene by EMS.

DPS Trooper Larry Ferguson is the investigating officer.

Citizens check out health fair services

DRAVEN VALVERDE BROWSES through the brochures at the Rotary Club table during the health fair at Mitchell County Hospital last Saturday.

The first annual Health Fair held at the Mitchell County Hospital was a success, according to CEO Robbie Dewberry.

"It was pretty good for a first one. I was expecting 100 to 200 and we did better than anticipated," he said. "The support from the community was fantastic."

The fair saw around 250 people total, with 201 taking advantage of the flu shot clinic and the free lab screenings.

Those who had lab work done can expect to receive their results in the mail shortly.

"They can be expecting the results for the lab tests within the week," Dewberry said.

With 27 booths, the health fair ranged from DME supplies and home health and hospice to churches, pharmacies, civic clubs and several hospital service booths.

"We'd like to thank our corporate sponsors, Mitchell County Hospital, City National Bank, First National Bank and Interim Home Health Hospice," Dewberry said.

The hospital board will meet next week to begin planning next year's fair and whether to hold it at the same location or somewhere else.

"We're worried we're going to outgrow the space, but we like the atmosphere we can provide here," Dewberry said, adding if the hospital continues to grow, they may move the health fair somewhere else such as the civic center next year.

"It was a lot of fun and went off without a hitch," he said.

Kiwaniannes' annual coat drive underway

It's once again time for the Kiwanianes Coat Giveaway and as temperatures dip, the group is accepting coat donations.

To help with the coat giveaway, the Kiwanianes are asking for donations in all sizes, especially children's coats.

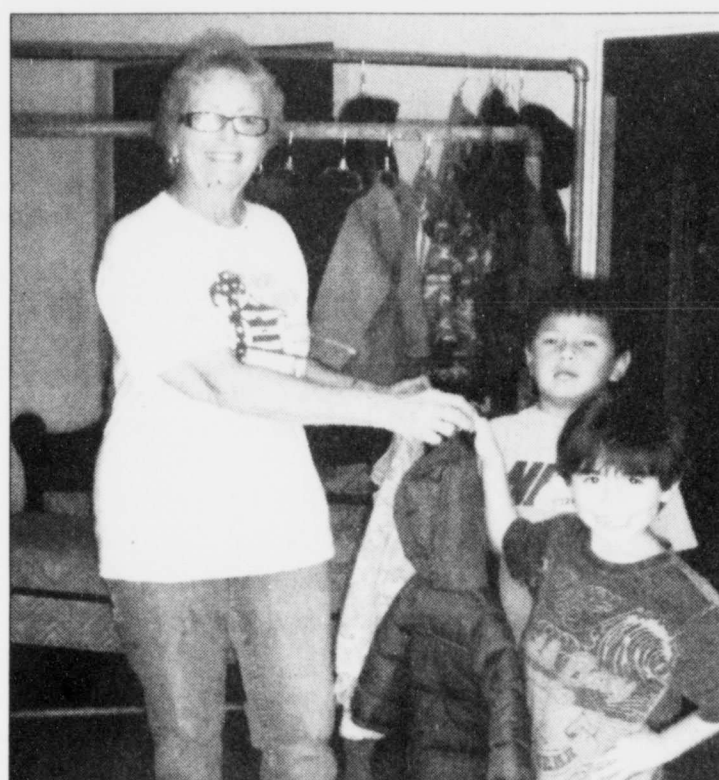

Donated coats should be dropped off at the City National Bank, 228 Elm Street or call Jan Lemons at 325-242-00745 for pickup.

"As always, our biggest need is coats for school age children" Jan Lemons said. Coats for youths and men's work coats are also needed.

Rather than setting a specific time for the coat giveaway, the Kiwanianes will accept new or good, gently used coats until the weather forecasts indicate a drop in temperature.

"No one is thinking about coats right now," she said, "but when we hear that the next day is going to be 30 degrees, we'll give the coats away that afternoon."

The date and time for the coat giveaway will be announced on KAUM/KVMC radio and on the Record's website: www.coloradorecord.com.

The lodge was organized in 1882 and appended organizations The Chapter and Council of the Royal Arch Masonry, The Eastern Star, Rainbow and De-

Retired teachers kick off new year

The Mitchell County Retired School Personnel kicked off the new school year on September 13th with a program presented by Ann Parish of Midland, District 18 President of the Texas Retired Teachers Association.

Parish, who also installed the new slate of officers for the local unit, stressed the importance of informing current school personnel of the difference between defined benefits and defined contributions in the Teacher Retirement System.

Parish reminded everyone that the state organization provides a voice for both active and retired school personnel and is constantly monitoring issues with the Teacher Retirement System that might affect retirees. Success of the TRA is based on the continued involvement from retired school personnel.

Janet Mayo, president of the local organization, presided over the meeting.

Mayo presented the Colorado City Record with a Certificate of Recognition School Bell Award for outstanding media coverage of educational issues. Other Certificates of Recognition were presented to Hollis Gainey, Mary Ellis, Joan Lemons and Mayo.

Entertainment was provided by Shae White who entertained the crowd with special songs including one that she wrote herself, praising the role that educators play in their students' lives.

Other officers are Martha Anderson, first vice president; Susan Farr, second vice president; Mary Ellis, treasurer; and Janie Lou Greenlee, immediate past president, secretary.

The barbecue dinner meeting was held in the fellowship hall of First United Methodist and was attended by retired school personnel and their guests. Tables were decorated in primary colors of red, blue, yellow and green and featured traditional back-to-school supplies which were donated to the after-school program to be sponsored by the First United Methodist Church. year, the supplies are donated to an educational program in the county.

TRTA is the largest association for retired public school and higher education employees and now ranks number one in membership in the nation. Some 72,000 members continue to be involved in local public school education through volunteer hours and the children's book project.

Each year, local members give books to children who might not otherwise have books of their own. The local organization donates the books through the Community Mission and Blue Santa program each December for children in each of the three school districts in Mitchell County.

THE MITCHELL COUNTY Retired School Personnel presented Sheila Plagens, publisher of the Colorado City Record, with a frame certificate of recognition for the outstanding media coverage of educational issues. Pictured with Plagens is Janet Mayo, the organization's president.

Benefit lunch to help with expenses

A benefit lunch is planned for Sunday, September 25th beginning at noon at Mi Ranchito benefiting Braelynn Jessica Wallgren, infant daughter of Amanda Castillo and Brent Wallgren. Proceeds will be used to help defray medical expenses for the premature newborn.

Born August 30th, Braelynn was delivered by emergency C-section in an effort to preserve her mother's life. Castillo was diagnosed with a very rare disorder, coined HELLP Syndrome. Hemolytic Anemia, Elevated Liver Enzymes, Low Platelets is thought to have been brought on by the pregnancy which is the first for Castillo. The disorder is found in only 1 in 7,000 pregnancies.

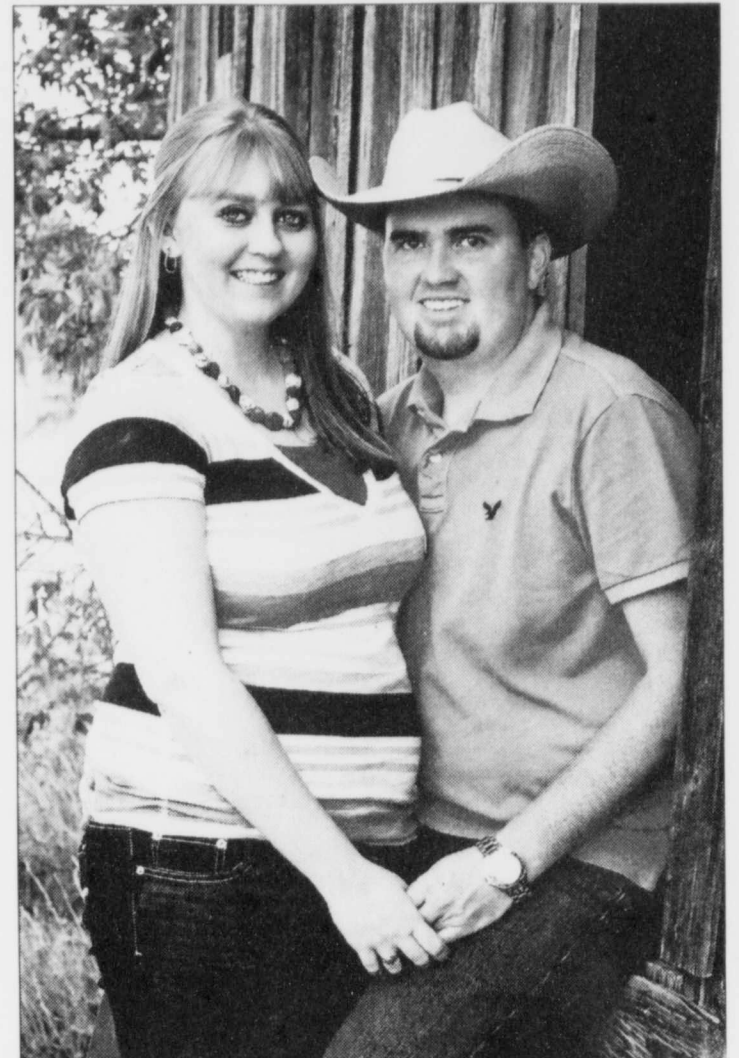

Braelynn is currently in Neonatal ICU in Cook's Children's Hospital in Fort Worth. She was born weighing 13 ounces, but she now weighs 1 pound, 9 ounces and is 12 1/2 inches long.

"She's a little fighter," said Sandy Castillo, the baby's maternal grandmother. "You know, she's kind of a hero in my mind."

The baby's mother is doing well and is trying to stay focused on helping her baby grow, according to Sandy.

Proceeds from the fundraiser will go toward medical expenses for the young couple. Brisket plates with all the trimmings including potato salad, beans, rice and a slice of bread will be served. Brisket sandwiches with chips, pickles, onions and drinks will also be served. Cost is $8 per plate.

Call-in orders are welcome and delivery is available by calling 806-632-9551, 806-789-8964, 325-242-0108, 728-0359 or 325-436-2077.

Wolves end 'Cats winning streak with 30-14 win

WOLF DEFENSIVE END Ryan Rivera drags down a Bluecat during Friday's victory over Coleman. The Wolves will face Denver City Friday in their district opener.

WOLVES WIDE RECEIVER Jason Rodriguez gains some yardage against a pack of Bluecats in Friday's game in Coleman. The Wolves beat Coleman 30-14.

SENIOR WIDE RECEIVER Tyler Hammond racked up 55 yards in 4 catches for the Wolves in Friday's game against the Bluecats in Coleman. Hammond was the leading receiver for the game.

Wolves start district Friday

The Denver City Mustangs come to town Friday night riding a 2-game winning streak in hopes of knocking off pre-season district favorite Colorado City in the opening round of District 2AA D1 competition.

Colorado City is riding a 3-game winning streak and coming off a 30 to 14 victory over Coleman last week.

The Mustangs (2-2) beat 3A Brownfield last week 26-21, and the week before defeated 3A Pecos 13-2. Their losses had been to Lamesa 12-9 and Seminole 54-14.

"I expect them to be ready to play hard," Wolves Head Coach Frank Johnson said earlier this week. "They're big - probably as big or bigger than Lamesa."

District 2 AA is, so far, shaping up like most observers felt before the season. Wall, Colorado City and Crane appear to be the favorites with Denver City, Alpine and Kermit all playing winning football.

Four games into the season, Johnson is pleased with the team's progress. "Defensively, we're on the track, tackling and pursuing better," he said.

Offensive coordinator Dan Gainey added, "The offense is playing well, and if we can eliminate our mistakes, we're going to be playing better than last year."

Johnson wanted to remind all fans attending the JV game in Denver City Thursday night, the game has been moved later, around 7 p.m., following a freshman game.

Another large crowd is expected at Wolf Stadium Friday night for the 7:30 p.m. kick-off.

By Alvie Faulkenberry

The Colorado City Wolves ran into a determined and unbeaten Coleman football team at Bluecat Stadium Friday night. Playing before Coleman's homecoming fans the hard-hitting Wolves came out on the positive side of 5 Bluecat turnovers and a 30-14 non-district victory.

The Wolves took the opening kick-off and drove 59 yards to the Bluecat 13 yard line where quarterback Derek Gainey kicked a 32-yard field goal, making the score 3-0.

The Bluecats answered back by taking the Wolves kick-off on a 12-play, 67-yard drive to go ahead in the first quarter 7-3 with a 4-yard run by Coleman senior Dylan Hawkins.

Colorado City answered back with their own 13-play drive of 64 yards to go ahead on a Gainey one-yard run. The big play of this drive was a third down, 27-yard pass from Gainey to junior wide receiver Mark Henderson. Gainey's extra point kick was good, making the score 10-7.

Coleman's Ryan Kuehler returned the following kick-off to the Wolves 48-yard line, but the hard-hitting Wolves' special team caused him to fumble and Colorado City recovered the Bluecat's first miscue. On the first play after the turnover, Gainey hit Mark Henderson on a 52-yard touchdown toss. With Gainey's good PAT, the Wolves led 17-7 with 8:31 left in the first half.

Coleman followed up with a 47-yard drive to the Wolves' 32 yard line before being stopped by a stubborn Wolves defense. On third down and 11, the Bluecats surprised Colorado City with a quick kick to the Wolves' 2 yard line.

Colorado City ran 3 plays from the 2 yard line, mustering up only 5 yards on three snaps of the ball. Gainey got off a good 38-yard punt from his end zone, and Coleman took over from the Wolves' 45 yard line.

On the first play from scrimmage, Coleman's quarterback Anthony Thomas ran 20 yards, but a hard hit caused him to cough up the football and Colorado City recovered their second fumble of the night.

Late in the second quarter, the Wolves began a drive from their own 25-yard line. After making a first down on a 28-yard pass from Gainey to senior Tyler Hammond, Gainey passed 11 yards to Henderson, but a hard hit by a Bluecat safety caused the Wolves to turn it over.

Colorado City held Coleman to 3 and out, and the Blue Cats punted 19 yards back to the Wolves. Another Colorado City play ended the first half with the Wolves leading 17-7.

The second half started with Coleman taking the Wolf kick-off at the 22 yard line on 3rd and 8. Defensive back Corbin Castillo intercepted the Bluecat quarterback's pass and ran it back 27 yards to the 3-yard line. But the Bluecats put their hair up and stopped the Wolves in their tracks. Gainey missed the 20-yard field goal and the Bluecats took over from their 5 yard line.

Coleman drove the ball 43 yards to the 48-yard line where the Wolves' hard hitting caused Bluecat Dylan Hawkins to be removed from the football again. The fumble was recovered by junior Alex Hernandez at the Wolves' 48 yard line.

The Wolves moved the ball 18 yards to the Bluecat 35 yard line when a hard hit by Coleman caused Jackson to fumble, turning over the ball to Coleman. The Wolves' defense got stingy and forced the Bluecats to punt back to the Wolves.

Taking over at the Wolves' 27 yard line, Colorado City went on a 73-yard touchdown drive with Gainey passing 8 yards to Tylor Lorenz, 20 yards to Jason Rodriguez, and 5 yards to Hammond. The final pass of the drive was a 16-yard touchdown pass to Lorenz. What made the touchdown throw special was that Gainey bobbled the snap and made an off-balance desperation throw with a Bluecat hanging from his left arm. A good PAT by Gainey brought the score to

Coleman took the Wolves' kick-off at the Bluecat 34, and after a motion penalty, fumbled the ball away for the fourth time.

Taking over at the Coleman 27 yard line, the Wolves went 27 yards on 6 plays, scoring on junior running back Alex Hernandez's 3-yard run at 9:21 in the 4th quarter. Gainey's extra point was no good, leaving the score 30-7.

Coleman took possession at their own 26-yard line, after the Wolves' kick-off. They drove to the Wolves' 25 yard line, racking up 49 yards against a lot of the Wolves' second string, but the Colorado City boys stiffened and took the ball back on downs at the 28-yard line.

Coleman stopped the Wolves with 3 and out, and the Wolves punted 35 yards to the Bluecat 42. Coleman drove 54 yards to the Wolves' 4 yard line. Thomas scored from 4 yards out on a triple option. The successful point-after made the score 30-14 with 49 seconds left in the ballgame.

The Colorado City Wolves ran the clock out and took a 30-14 victory and gave Coleman their first loss of the season.

The Denver City Mustangs are the Wolves' next opponent. The game is the first district contest against a 2-2 Mustang team at Wolf Stadium. Coach Frank Johnson says Denver City has big athletic kids and new coach Taylor runs multiple offenses and a variety of defenses. The kick-off is set for 7:30 p.m. at Wolf Stadium.

The proposed amendment would appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment providing for the issuance of additional general obligation bonds by the Texas Water Development Board in an amount not to exceed $6 billion at any time outstanding."

Proposition Number 3 (SJR 50)
SJR 50 would amend the constitution to authorize the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board or its successors to issue and sell general obligation bonds on a continuing basis for the purpose of financing educational loans for students, subject to certain constitutional restrictions, including a restriction as to the maximum principal amount of bonds outstanding at any one time.

The proposed amendment would appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment providing for the issuance of general obligation bonds of the State of Texas to finance educational loans to students."

Proposition Number 4 (HJR 63)
HJR 63 would amend the constitution to authorize the legislature to permit a county to issue bonds or notes to finance the development or redevelopment of an unproductive, underdeveloped, or blighted area within the county, and to pledge increases in ad valorem tax revenues imposed on property in the area by the county for repayment of such bonds or notes. The amendment does not provide independent authority for increasing ad valorem tax rates.

Proposition Number 5 (SJR 26)

HJR 109 would amend the constitution to increase the amount of principal that is available for withdrawal from the permanent school fund each year and would also clarify certain references to that fund in the constitution. Increased access to the principal of the state public education trust fund would be based upon HJR 109 granting the authority to consider alternative market calculations when determining the amount of principal that is available for distribution to the available school fund. HJR 109 would also provide authority to distribute to the available school fund annual revenue from school fund land or other properties up to $300 million per year.

Wallis is awarded scholarship

Colorado FFA president K'Leigh Wallis was awarded the Ford Leadership Scholars program scholarship in May in the amount of $1,000.

The Ford Leadership Scholars program is the result of the Texas FFA Foundation, Ford Division, and Texas Ford Dealers partnership to enhance the leadership opportunities of Texas FFA members. The purpose of the program is to identify students who exhibit high levels of leadership at the chapter level, engage these identified students in a leadership development program created to enhance those qualities of leadership, and recognize the scholars to build as a remarkable legacy for the future of our state and nation.

Each year the program selects 10 new scholars from all over the state of Texas. The criteria for selection were based upon six characteristics of leadership: action, relationships, vision, character, awareness and continuous improvement.

The selection process used an application process, taking an examination covering a leadership book, a phone interview, and an in-person evaluation by 10 different business and industry leaders on a timed rotational interview to select the 10 top scholars. The selection committee reviewed applications and conducted both phone and in-person interviews.

Before being awarded the scholarship, Wallis took an exam over the book "Good to Great" by Jim Collins. The number of applications for this prestigious award were in excess of 500 students. Wallis' FFA advisor, Robin Senter, had to complete a nomination and recommendation application also for Wallis to be eligible to apply.

The scholars participated in a week-long training seminar prior to the State FFA Convention. During that time they selected a leadership project to work on during the fall semester. Each scholar also was assigned a mentor who will assist the scholar through their leadership project during the fall semester.

Wallis's project is Agricultural Education, where once a month she will go to the schools and present a program dealing with different aspects of agriculture, and then have a hands on project at the end of each month dealing with her program to enhance and promote agriculture to the younger generation who might not have grown up with the knowledge about how vitally important agriculture is to our existence.

Wallis selected a mentor, John Senter, who is a recently retired extension agent in Mitchell County. In January, she will present her project results to the entire group from the Ford Foundation for evaluation. When she finishes the presentation Wallis will have effectively completed the Ford Leadership Scholars program.

The scholars have a tremendous opportunity to grow as leaders through the training they receive. They build relationships with their mentor and other community members, and the exposure they have to key business industry leaders.

After completing the full-year program, the scholars will be targeted as candidates for internships in agriculture industry and policy development. Ford Scholar Alumni will be promoted to industry leaders throughout Texas and during the Texas legislative session.

Lastly, each scholar will receive a $1,000 scholarship known as the San Antonio Rural Youth Award provided by the San Antonio Livestock Exposition.

Lady Wolves have productive week

The Lady Wolves volleyball team had a productive week, going 2-1 in non-district matches. Colorado City's girls sandwiched a 0-3 loss to Water Valley between wins against Lamesa and San Angelo Lakeview.

Against Lamesa, C-City won by scores of 17-25, 27-25, 25-21, 24-26 and 16-14. Hunttyr Messick led the Lady Wolves with 20 kills and 26 digs in the game. Heather Merket had 13 kills, 20 digs and nine blocks. Mackenzie Kimball had eight kills and six blocks.

Sydney Upshaw led the team in assists, recording 30 in the game, while Erica McCright had 24. Also standing out in the win were Taylor Griffith with two aces and Tara Higgins with six blocks.

"The girls started out a bit slow in this game," Coach Anita Graham said. "But they battled back to win it in five matches. Hunttyr (Messick) had some good hits which gave us the momentum in the fifth match, along with great blocks by Heather (Merket)."

In the loss to Water Valley, the scores were 11-25, 15-25 and 21-25. Upshaw and McCright each had 19 assists in the game, while Merket had six kills and five blocks. Messick led the team with 13 digs.

Coach Graham said she felt like the girls could not get their game going until the third game against the fourth ranked 1A team which makes very few mistakes.

"In the third match, Heather Merket had some good blocks," Coach Graham said. "I felt like her play helped us get into the third match, where we were really able to play with Water Valley."

After losing the first match to San Angelo Lakeview 17-25, the Lady Wolves bounced back and won three straight matches by scores of 25-20, 26-24 and 25-19.

"Against Lakeview, the girls played well," Coach Graham said. "Mackenzie Kimball, Kaley Molina and Tara Higgins had one of their best games of the year."

Higgins recorded nine kills and 10 blocks in the game. Molina had 10 digs and Kimball had six blocks.

"We are improving, but still have work to do before district starts Oct. 4," Coach Graham added.

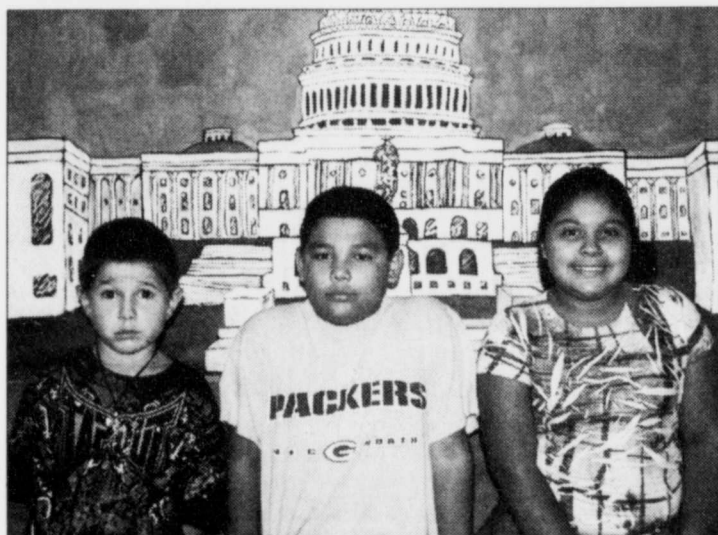

Messick led the Lady Wolves in kills and digs, recording 11 of each. Sydney Upshaw and Erica McCright combined for 42 assists in the game for Colorado City. Heather Merket had eight blocks in the win.

The Lady Wolves' next home game will be Sept. 27. The JV Black will play at 5 p.m., with the varsity playing immediately afterward. The JV Red will be traveling to Post for a 5 p.m. match.

LORRAINE NEWS

By Aimee Jackson
Lorraine Correspondent

The toenail clinic at the Loraine Senior Center will be held September 28th starting at 9 a.m. Everyone 55 years of age and older is encouraged to attend!

Jennifer Fales wants to let everyone know that they have started selling raffle tickets. Prizes are: Toshiba Satellite Pro Laptop, 26" Flat Screen TV, $200 Fuller Foods Gift Card, 2-$100 Visa Gift Card, $50 Visa Gift Card, $50 Perkins Gift Certificate, and a $50 Gas Certificate from Shorty's. Tickets cost $5 each or three for $10.

Anyone can contact Jennifer

Fales at the Senior Center if they are interested in buying or would like to sell some. They will draw the winning tickets during the upcoming Cotton Festival.

Jennifer Fales is grateful to Cherie Dockrey. Since she started coming to our center she has touched all of our lives. She is so much more than an account executive. She is so helpful and loving.

Thank you for all you do for us, Cherie!

Jennifer and everyone from the Loraine Senior Center want to thank Loraine High School and everyone who stopped by our raffle table at the homecoming game. Your support keeps us going!

Tommy Linam is home and doing well. They appreciate all the thoughts and prayers sent their way, but have one request: Please call before you go visit Brenda and him.

Friday night, several members of the Class of 1981 met at a restaurant in Colorado City and ate together before the football game.

Those attending were Sara Barrera Muñoz; Jennifer Hackfeld Zuniga; Bobby Sanchez, and wife Susan; Teresa Clifton Mitchell, son Brandon and mother Shirley; Carla Banks Meuth, and husband Ronny; Tony Williams, and wife Crystal; and James Meadows, and wife Carla.

After attending the game together, they gathered at the home of Bobby and Susan Sanchez for more fun and visiting.

Methodist News...

Charlene Hays furnished special music at the Methodist Church last Sunday singing "The God on the Mountain". It was perfectly beautiful. Her husband, Merriem, attended with her.

Other guests and their spouses were in town for homecoming and attended church as well. They were Peggy (Beaty) and Ray Harmon of Greenville and Deryl and Barbara Bennett of Littlefield.

What a blessing to us here to have our exes include church services in their trips home.

The Washington DC kids are selling T-Shirts. They are pink with black lettering (breast cancer awareness shirt), and they say PEACE LOVE BULLDOGS with the pink ribbon behind the lettering.

You can contact Senia Muñoz at 832-236-6584 or Christy Harris at 728-0681 or me (Aimee Jackson) at 728-3408 to place an order.

The T-shirts will be here in time for everyone to wear them during the month of October, especially to the home games where we would like to "pink out" the stadium.

Please feel free to call me if you have any news for the Loraine section, 728-3408, or email me at ajackson@txfb-ins.com.

Loraine wins Homecoming match, 50-14

By Aimee Adams

Cheerleaders cheered, twirlers twirled, and the Bulldogs of Loraine played some mighty fine football for a homecoming crowd Friday night. The Bulldogs came away with an impressive 50-14 win.

First quarter action was slow with both teams having trouble getting in the groove. It took Loraine almost five minutes before getting on the scoreboard. Tim Garza ran 26 yards into the end zone to put 6 points up. The PAT kick failed, and Jayton answered back with a touchdown of their own, and with a successful PAT the Bulldogs ended the quarter trailing the Jaybirds by one point, 6-7.

During the second quarter, the Dogs defense was able to shut down Jayton's offensive line, keeping them out of the end zone for the whole quarter. Garza rushed for two more touchdowns and Omar Perez's kick attempts were good both times. The first half ended with Loraine taking a commanding lead, 22-7.

With 8:32 left to play in the third quarter, Nate Martinez rushed 24 yards for a touchdown, and the PAT by Perez was good, pulling the score up to 30-7. Jayton answered back with a passing touchdown and with just over 4 minutes to play, the Jaybirds closed the scoring gap a little, 30-14.

With 2:53 left to play in the 3rd quarter, Damian Garcia went on a 45-yard scoring run, bringing the third quarter to a close, 36-14.

During the fourth quarter, Este Benivamondez scored on a punt return but the extra point attempt was no good. Loraine could see the light, and excited homecoming fans with their 42-14 lead. Ricky Cantu caught a 33-yard touchdown pass from Martinez and Perez's kick was good for the final touchdown ending the game 50-14.

The Bulldogs are now 2-2. They will travel to Lueders-Avoca this Friday to face the Raiders.

ADOPT A DOG OR CAT!

THIS ADORABLE CAT was found in the 1000 block of Elm sleeping in a flower bed. The red Cocker Spaniel in the middle is a male, found on Westpoint in front of the city barn. The male Husky is partially trained, shakes hands and is very friendly. According to Animal Control Officer Donna Overton, all these animals are sweet and need good, loving homes.
