Boycott Of School Still Weakening

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The boycott of an integrated elementary school weakened a bit more today with 15 to 17 white pupils turning out for classes.

They showed up at the William Frantz School where one Negro girl is enrolled in the first grade. The previous high white attendance, since the school was integrated by federal court order, was the 10 who went to classes Friday. There are 500 enrolled.

Jeers and taunts from women demonstrators greeted the white children and the Negro girl met a chorus of boos when she arrived.

"You're as black as they are," shouted one woman at the white children.

"Nigger lover," yelled another.

At McDonogh No. 19, the other school integrated on Nov. 14, only the three Negro girls in the first grade entered the building today. Its enrollment was 500.

However, police patrols at the school were enlarged amid reports that white pupils would break the McDonogh boycott today.

The Louisiana Legislature gave quick approval Sunday to a bill providing state aid for pupils who prefer to attend private schools. The legislature, despite a federal court order not to interfere with the operation of New Orleans schools, is bent on preserving segregation.

Moving quickly to meet the expected demand for private schools, volunteer workmen rushed repairs Sunday on a building in suburban Arabi to be used for some of the white students boycotting the two schools.

C. E. Vetter, businessman, said so many workers showed up at the building that some had to be turned away. Registration at the private school was scheduled today and Tuesday. Classes were expected to start Wednesday.

A Methodist minister who has ignored screaming, cursing white women to accompany his daughter, Pamela, 6, and other white children to the Frantz School, was jeered again Sunday by a small group as he conducted services at two churches.

Four women walked out of services conducted by the Rev. Lloyd A. Foreman at the Church of the Redeemer. One told an usher "He's a nigger lover."

The minister conducted services later in the morning at St. Mark's Methodist church. A man standing outside the building was led away by companions after he shouted, "I'll challenge that louse, the rat."

Foreman did not mention the school demonstrations in his sermons. At the evening service he prayed for guidance for state and city officials in "these days of crisis."

In addition to providing an alternate school system the legislature approved resolutions designed to prevent banks from handing over school funds to the New Orleans School Board.

The lawmakers earlier tried to oust the board but U.S. Dist. Judge J. Skelly Wright overturned that action and numerous segregation measures.

Wright set a hearing for today for the banks to show cause why they should not be enjoined for refusing to honor school board checks.

One of the latest legislative resolutions sets up a new school board with authority to borrow the annual $12 million needed each year until school tax money becomes available. Gov. Jimmie H. Davis signed the resolution Saturday. Two citizens immediately obtained a restraining order, alleging the new attempt to oust the school board is unconstitutional.

Sen. Robert Ainsworth of New Orleans, told the Senate New Orleans now will have two school boards attempting to act, and the confusion will prevent school financing.

FIRE DOWN UNDER—Snyder firemen are shown above as they forced water into a compressed bale of cotton that was smoldering at the Snyder Bonded Warehouse Sunday. Two bales were damaged in the blaze. Firemen were called to two other fires this weekend, one was a doghouse at Sacroc 2 on the Lubbock Highway Sunday and the other was a "dry run" to the Phillip 66 Gift Shop where a heating unit motor had burned out filling the shop with smoke at 8 a.m. today.

Vast Change Urged For Defense Dept.

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President-elect John F. Kennedy today got a report recommending sweeping Defense Department reorganization — including elimination of the civilian secretaries of Army, Navy and Air Force.

The goal would be to give the secretary of defense instantaneous control in event of nuclear war.

The report was submitted to Kennedy by Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., head of a committee which the president-elect set up to plan streamlining of the vast Pentagon operation for the nuclear-space age.

Symington told a news conference after conferring with Kennedy that in his opinion his committee's recommendations would cut present military spending by about 20 per cent or $8 billion annually. But he said this money likely would have to be plowed back for such things as new weapons development and an arms control program.

While the Symington committee would abolish the civilian secretaries of the Army, Navy and Air Force, those services would be retained as separate entities in the defense establishment.

The plan of Symington, who was secretary of the Air Force in the Truman administration, also would eliminate the undersecretaries and the assistant secretaries—all civilians — of the three services.

In all, 15 civilian offices would be wiped out in the three services. The committee also would abolish seven assistant secretaries of defense, bringing the grand total of offices abolished to 22.

Kennedy arranged to fly back to Washington during the afternoon, after a session on revamping the Pentagon, for a busy week of gearing up his new administration.

The president-elect took one step in that direction Sunday night in creating an 11-member committee to map what he termed a desperately needed program of federal aid for areas of chronic unemployment. The committee headed by Sen. Paul Douglas, D-Ill., plans its first meeting in a few days.

Joblessness in some sections of the country was an issue in the presidential campaign, and Kennedy said he was naming his study group to fulfill a pledge made during his bid for election.

The president-elect scheduled a mid-morning conference with Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., who heads a committee Kennedy set up to map streamlining of the nation's vast military establishment.

Sources who asked not to be named said Kennedy has decided to name Udall, 40, to the $25,000-a-year interior post in the Cabinet.

These sources said the president-elect's present plan is to announce selection of Udall, a member of the House Interior and Insular Affairs Committee, while in New York Wednesday. Udall, it is understood, has been asked to be on hand for the announcement.

Kennedy headquarters had said the president-elect will disclose his choice for another Cabinet post in New York Wednesday.

Pierre Salinger, Kennedy's press secretary, wouldn't specify the position to be filled, but has ruled out one Cabinet position—secretary of state. An announcement on that may come later in the week.

Kennedy and his daughter Caroline, 3, arrived in Palm Beach for the weekend Friday evening. Caroline and her governess plan to stay on for a few weeks.

Over the weekend, Kennedy picked the second member of his Cabinet—North Carolina Gov. Luther Hodges to be secretary of commerce. The president-elect earlier had named Gov. Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut as secretary of health, education and Welfare.

U. N. Post To Adlai Hinted

NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect John F. Kennedy is prepared to offer Adlai E. Stevenson the post of ambassador to the United Nations, press reports said today.

The reports were carried in the Daily News and the New York Times.

The News, in a dispatch from Washington, said "This would be in line with previous reports indicating that Kennedy had firmly decided that someone other than the two-time presidential nominee would be picked for secretary of state.

"Kennedy, it was understood, has expressed an inclination to name Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., for the Cabinet post, but has made no decision. . . .

"If Fulbright is not named, it was understood that the choice would be between Dean Rusk, president of the Rockefeller Foundation and a former assistant secretary of state, and David Bruce, onetime ambassador to West Germany.

"Still reported in the running, but only as a long shot, is Rep. Chester Bowles, D-Conn., who was Kennedy's chief foreign affairs adviser during the campaign."

In addition, the newspaper asserted, the Communists had consigned 90 million people to labor camps.

France Seeks Debate Delay

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) —France's African friends moved today to hold off the General Assembly's annual debate on the Algerian war and give French President Charles de Gaulle more time to win support for his policies to end the fighting.

The debate opens today in the assembly's 99-nation political committee, but a request for a delay came from the Congo (Brazzaville) and Chad, two of the 11 nations in the French Community.

The Algerian rebels want the debate to start at once. France plans to boycott the discussion, sticking to its contention that Algeria is part of France and the United Nations therefore has no right to tell the French what to do about their internal affairs.

The postponement request could provide a test vote for the community's members — still closely linked with Paris after receiving independence in the past year — to stand up and be counted with or against the Algerian rebels who have been fighting for independence since 1954.

The 11 French Community members from Africa could provide a balance of power in the assembly on moves to set the United Nations to take a hand in bringing peace to the big North African territory.

In recent years, resolutions supported by Algerian representatives have failed by as little as one vote.

The political committee presumably will need two weeks to get to a vote on any resolution. That would take it about up to Dec. 17, the date fixed for the assembly's Christmas recess.

Only a few days' delay in starting could defer the vote until the assembly resumes its session, probably in February. That would give De Gaulle time to hold a referendum and get the French people behind his program for an "Algerian Algeria."

De Gaulle wants the 10 million people of Algeria to decide their own political future — especially their links to France. Algerian rebel leaders agree with this but they demand guarantees that the choice will be free. They want the United Nations to organize and supervise a final referendum among the Algerians.

Whenever the discussion takes place, it will provide a new platform for Soviet propaganda in North Africa. Sunday the Soviets cast their 91st veto in the Security Council and blocked the admission of the new African state of Mauritania.

India Is Renewing Controversial Law

By HENRY S. BRADSHER

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The Indian government is renewing a controversial law that permits the government to hold a man for a year without trial.

This preventive detention act is defended by officials as a necessary weapon against those who would stir up internal disorder. Officials say it is only used sparingly to avoid serious trouble.

Its opponents include most elements in opposition to Prime Minister Nehru's Congress party government, from militant rightists to the Communists. They contend it violates the basic principles of fair trial. Therefore, they say, it dishonors India's title as the world's largest democracy.

Under the act a person may be detained to prevent him "from acting in any manner prejudicial to the defense of India, the relations of India with foreign powers, or the security of India; or the security of the state or the maintenance of public order; or the maintenance of supplies and services essential to the community." It also can be used to expel foreigners from India.

An advisory board, composed of three high court judges or persons of equal rank, has to pass in secret on the government's action within 30 days after a person has been detained. But the person does not have the right to appear before the board and it is not required to disclose facts which it considers to be against the public interest to disclose.

Red China President Puts Approval On Coexistence

By PRESTON GROVER

MOSCOW (AP) — Communist China's president today put a stamp of approval on the peaceful coexistence policy of the Soviet Union as it apparently has been ratified by the Communist summit conference which ended last week.

In a goodbye speech at Leningrad, before continuing his tour of the Soviet Union, President Liu Shao chi made a confession of faith in Soviet leadership.

"The great Soviet Union," he said, "has always been and is today a powerful bastion of world peace. The initiative of the Soviet government and its proposals aimed at easing international disarmament and peaceful co-existence between countries with differing social systems have the sympathy and support of all peace-loving nations and peoples."

He said further that the recent summit conference, "resulted in a still further strengthening of the cohesion of the entire Communist movement and in a still further strengthening of the solidarity between the Communist party of China and the Communist party of the Soviet Union, between the People's Republic of China and the Soviet Union."

(Moscow radio broadcast Liu's speech but this dispatch was delayed in passing through censors.)

Pravda, the Soviet Communist party newspaper, published a long editorial a week ago in which it stated that peaceful coexistence as interpreted by Premier Khrushchev is the correct interpretation.

Coming as it did near the end of the conference, after more than two weeks of debate, it sounded as if the Soviets had laid down the law as they saw it.

The speech by Liu Shao Chi was his way of saying that the man who pays the piper calls the tune. In his speech, he made it abundantly clear by pointing out that China's industrial and technical advances were heavily dependent on Soviet production.

"You manufacture for our country a great amount of intricate equipment," he said, "make available to us a great amount of designing documentation, send us skilled specialists, train for our country a great number of technical specialists.

"All this is part of the tremendous assistance rendered by the Soviet government and the Soviet people to our country's social construction."

Khrushchev argued that war is no longer possible because of nuclear weapons and that Communist countries must rely on showing the world that they can produce more than capitalist countries and give greater freedom and happiness to mankind than capitalist countries.

Saturday, Władysław Gomulka, chief of the Polish party, said the Communist summit committee had adopted the Khrushchev line in large measures.

In his speech Sunday, Liu said in effect, well, that's the way it is. China will go along.

PUBLIC IS URGED TO ATTEND ART EXHIBIT TUESDAY

The public will have an opportunity Tuesday to view original paintings of N. C. Wyeth at a special showing at the Martha Ann Woman's Club.

The Wyeth paintings will be displayed for public viewing from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. They were made available by the Diamond M Foundation through the Snyder Palette Club for the special showing here.

The paintings, which were erroneously identified as works of N. C. Wyeth's son, Andrew in Sunday's issue of the Daily News, include originals of N. C. Wyeth used as illustrations for literary works of Robert Louis Stevenson and James Fenimore Cooper.

They have been in demand for exhibits, and were shown last year at the Museum at Texas Technological College in Lubbock.

The Snyder Palette Club has urged area citizens to attend the exhibit here tomorrow evening.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Light rains continued in the eastern part of Texas Monday as a mild, weak Pacific cool front pushed eastward across the state.

Rains were still falling early Monday at Beaumont, Lufkin, Houston, Palacios and Longview. Dallas and Fort Worth had light rains during the night.

Pre-dawn temperatures ranged from 29 degrees at Dalhart to 70 at Corpus Christi.

Cooler air was expected to spread to the rest of the state Monday. Monday night and Tuesday. Continuing light rains were predicted for Southeast Texas.

Blowing dust and wind gusts up to 55 miles per hour swept portions of West Texas Sunday as the front entered the state. Afternoon maximums ranged from 53 degrees at Amarillo to 79 at Brownsville.

Lumumba's Men Furious

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Henchmen of Patrice Lumumba clamped a Communist-style dictatorship on the city of Stanleyville today.

Angered at the capture of the deposed premier they let loose their fury on whites frapped in his northeastern stronghold as a reprisal. Whites were barred from entering or leaving Oriental Province.

U. N. reports said numerous white residents of Stanleyville were being mistreated by the military police under control of the local government headed by Antoine Gizenga, vice premier in Lumumba's defunct Cabinet and a strong leftist.

Diplomats in Leopoldville were convinced that if Lumumba had succeeded in reaching Stanleyville he would have split the Congo in such a way that a Korean-type war would have followed with the Communists on Lumumba's side.

Lumumba, dismissed by President Joseph Kasavubu Sept. 5, escaped from his guarded residence in Leopoldville a week ago and headed for Stanleyville.

Caught 500 miles east of Leopoldville by Congolese army commander Col. Joseph Mobutu's troops, he has been brought back to face trial on charges of inciting the army to mutiny during the chaotic days after independence.

Western diplomats said they had definite information that the Soviet bloc and several Asian-African nations were planning to recognize a Lumumba administration in Stanleyville as the Congo's rightful government had he got away out of reach of Mobutu's troops.

The diplomats think civil war would have followed, with many of the troops in Stanleyville supporting Lumumba and the Soviet Union supplying them through Egypt and the Sudan, which borders the Congo on the north.

The provincial governments of Kasai, Oriental and Leopoldville provinces probably would have backed Lumumba. Equator, Mobutu's native province, and the lower Congo area of Kasavubu would have been behind the present pro-Western regime, probably gaining support from President Moise Tshombe's secessionist Katanga government.

Mobutu told newsmen he plans to extend the life of his provisional government of college graduate commissioners until the Congo's feuding politicians can agree on a stable government.

When he installed the commissioners on Sept. 14, he said they would act as a caretaker government until the end of the year.

Preston Herbert, 43, of Beaumont drowned Friday night when his pickup truck plunged off the Bolivar-Galveston ferry landing into the water.

A car struck the bicycle of Stephen Scherer, 16, and killed him shortly before midnight Friday in Houston. Police charged the driver, Norman G. Harper, 34, of Pasadena, with murder by auto.

Co-Op Slates Top Refund

Midwest Electric Cooperative of Roby will return $58,852.28 to its members this week.

This is the third general refund the Roby Co-op has made under the capital credits system that it adopted in 1951. Under this system the Cooperative returns to its members all the money it takes in above the actual cost of operation. The amount of the refund each member receives is porportional to the amount of electricity he purchased during the year for which the margins are being returned.

The $58,852 that is to be returned is the largest refund yet to be made by Midwest Electric Cooperative. It represents the margins acquired during 1953 and 1954.

Midwest Electric made its first refund in December of 1958 when half of the 1951 margins ($19,435.64) was returned. In December of 1959 the remainder of the 1951 margins and all of the 1952 margins (totaling $42,116.87) were returned.

More Strife Seen In Latin America

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

The rash of demonstrations, political strikes, uprisings and pocket-sized revolutions which plagued Latin America in recent weeks can be viewed as just a series of fairly mild curtain-raisers for what is yet to come.

Castroism—or, as the Latins call it, Fidelismo—is the front, anti-Yankeeism is the rallying cry and communism often is the directing force for a steadily increasing threat to the established regimes of Latin America.

In the past six weeks Latin America has seen an upheaval in El Salvador, short-lived revolutions in Nicaragua and Guatemala, strike threats in Chile, Brazil and other countries, an uprising in Argentina, rioting and violence against the government of Venezuela and violent unrest in Bolivia.

Not all these things stem from the same forces or causes, but all are useful to the Castro-Communist alliance in its effort to keep the whole continent nervous and off balance.

Rioting by Castro supporters broke out in El Salvador late in October, in advance of an army coup which ousted President Jose Maria Lemus. The final result is yet to be assessed. There may be considerable Castro influence in the Central American nation, but it has not yet seemed to be a dominating factor in the junta which has taken over.

Castro and Communist influence may have been strong in revolts which hit Guatemala and Nicaragua in mid-November.

In Guatemala, a group of military officers tried to overthrow President Miguel Ydigoras, but the government said it captured all but a handful of rebels.

In Nicaragua, troops loyal to President Luis Somoza routed a rebel force which the government said had both Castroite and Communist backing.

Such events led President Eisenhower to order the U.S. Navy and Air Force to patrol the Guatemalan and Nicaraguan coasts to prevent Castro-Communist invasions.

The recent uprising in Argentina was laid to supporters of exiled dictator Juan D. Peron, but the Peronistas have been wooed persistently both by the Castroites and the Communists. While the uprising has been put down for the time being, President Arturo Frondizi remains in danger.

Strong Castro and Communist influence is evident in the rioting against the Romulo Betancourt government of Venezuela and in the unrest in countries such as Bolivia and Colombia. In Chile, leftist labor forces are posing a rising threat to the nation's attempts at stability.

Castroism and communism feed on poverty, corruption within established regimes, frustration of a generation of university students unable to find outlets for their talents and a number of other factors. These include a deep-rooted sense of outrage among the young intellectuals at the history of U.S. activities in Latin America. Their feeling is that the North Americans exploited Latin America and hindered its development.

The uprisings, revolts and riots are only symptoms of what is to come. Cuba now is a base for fomenting revolution, and a source of a constant stream of Communist-oriented agents into Latin-American countries, bent upon creating chaos wherever possible.

If Castro and the Communists have their way, revolution will spread through Latin America in 1961 like a prairie fire.

Man Admits Abduction

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Detective Sgt. Brian Doyle told a coroner's court today Stephen Leslie Bradley, 34, has confessed kidnapping Graeme Thorne, 8, the schoolboy who was found dead on a vacant lot in a Sydney suburb Aug. 16.

Bradley, charged with murdering Graeme, was extradited from Colombo, Ceylon, and returned to Sydney under police escort Nov. 19. He was in court for the inquest.

Graeme's father, Bazil Thorne, had won 100,000 Australian pounds —$224,00—in a government lottery a few weeks before the boy was abducted on his way to school July 7.

Doyle said Bradley told him on the flight from Colombo: "I have done this thing to the Thorne boy."

See Higher Production

WASHINGTON (AP)—National production should reach record levels next year despite higher unemployment and a brief recession early in the year, a U.S. Chamber of Commerce economist predicts.

Dr. Emerson P. Schmidt, the chamber's director of economic research, said the brief slowdown should bring a drop of 5 to 10 billion dollars in the annual production rate during the cutback.

Schmidt made his predictions Sunday to a chamber business outlook conference despite cautiously optimistic reports from the auto, steel, banking and building industries.

Study Ruins Of Missile

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—The Air Force today studied the shattered ruins of a Titan intercontinental ballistic missile, trying to learn why it exploded shortly after fueling.

Damage from the blast Saturday night was estimated at between $4 million and $6 million, and Air Force spokesman said. The missile is destined for a major role as an ocean-spanning nuclear weapon.

AH, FRESH AIR.— "Rick" is happy now. The dog, a Weimaraner, a pet and hunting companion of Dick Harness of Dolliver, Iowa, near the Minnesota border, sticks his head through a hole in the trunk of his master's auto and breathes the fresh air. Harness said the dog "always had to have his head out of the window of the car, so I cut an opening in the lid of the trunk so he could ride there and still see what was going on." (AP Wirephoto)

'Camelot' Has Plenty To Offer

By WILLIAM GLOVER
Associated Press Drama Critic

NEW YORK (AP) — "Camelot" has a lot for the customers.

Lilting songs, shimmering spectacle, wit and charm. Julie Andrews, Richard Burton, Roddy McDowall.

These are fanfare assets of the much-ballyhooed musical that unfurled its banners Saturday night on the stage of the Majestic Theater.

But about its story of good King Arthur and the days when knighthood was in flower there's a creak of rusty armor.

A pre-opening sale of $3 million set a Broadway record, and the plus ingredients it displays seem sufficient to keep "Camelot" a happy place for a long, long time.

The charade is based on T. H. White's satiric trilogy, "The Once and Future King." Some liberties have been taken with that book and the familiar roundtable legends of Malory and Tennyson by the producing-creating team of composer Frederick Loewe, author-lyricist Alan Jay Lerner and stager Moss Hart.

Shooting for a successor to their smash hit, "My Fair Lady," the trio develop a platonic triangle of Arthur, Guenevere and Lancelot, who was "incredibly clean, with virtue to spare." Complications develop when a vile knight comes by.

Running three hours, the show exhibits boggy spots, static moments and a muted windup. Most spectators, however, will be happy to overlook these defects in the general visual and melodic splendor of the enterprise.

Among 17 effective songs, the standouts include lovely vocalizing by Miss Andrews (Guenevere) in "The Simple Joys of Maidenhood," "Before I Gaze at You Again," "The Hearty Burton (King Arthur) in "I Wonder What the King is Doing Tonight?" and "How to Handle a Woman"; and lusty ensemble presentations of "The Jousts" and "Fie on Goodness."

Lancelot, who loves but never reaches ultimate woe, is Robert Goulet, dark and stern. Roddy McDowall revels as a slinking, tricky mordred. Robert Coote is a cartoon knight.

Yugoslavia Reforms Its Fiscal Plan

By BORIS BOSKOVIC

BELGRADE (AP)—Yugoslavia hopes to work out a monetary reform by the end of this year as a first step toward meeting foreign trade problems posed by the two West European economic blocs.

Nearly 75 per cent of Yugoslavia's foreign trade is with countries of the West. This has been endangered by the six-nation European Common Market and the seven-nation Free Trade Association.

Yugoslav trade experts believe that to meet this competition Yugoslavia must become a full member of the General Agreement of Trade and Tariffs (GATT). At present it is an associate member.

For full membership, GATT experts have informed Yugoslavia, a regular customs system must be introduced to replace the present arrangement of "coefficients"—actually a state subsidy on imports and exports, and Yugoslavia's monetary system must be reformed.

Plans are well along to accomplish both changes.

There is an official rate of 300 dinars to the dollar. The rate for tourists is 600-1. Yugoslavs receiving money from relatives abroad are given 600 dinars to the dollar. The free-market exchange rate ranges all the way from 1,000 to 5,000 to the dollar.

Financial experts hoped at first to be able to introduce a flat exchange rate of 750-1 under monetary reform.

MERRY PEAR SALAD

Fresh Pears Belong With The Holidays

Merry eating time is here and the chop-chop-chop of the French knife, the whir-r-r of the beater is heard throughout the land. Whether writing greetings to friends or tying the last package in the perfect seclusion of the hall closet, this refreshingly suitable salad will make the chores of Christmas cheerier.

Slender sweet slices of Anjou, Bosc or Comice pear surround a creamy mixture of pineapple pimiento and cottage cheese smoothly molded together with lemon gelatin. Serve with a steaming pot of coffee or tea and a favorite bread.

A fresh pear salad is timely during the holiday season for it is then that ripe pears are at their eating best, one of the few sweet fruits that are available in the winter months. You'll find Bosc, with tapered neck and russet skin; graceful Anjou with a green skin that's apt to mislead you into believing that it's far from ripe and Comice, so juicy, mellow and fragrant that it is valued as an integal part of the holiday season.

Pears are one of the few exceptions to the rule that tree-ripened fruit is best. Pears are picked when mature in size, kept in cold storage for a few weeks and then ripened to perfection.

You'll usually find fresh Western pears ripe and ready to eat at your favorite market. Ripe pears yield to gentle pressure regardless of color. You can always buy firm pears with confidence-they'll ripen at home in a few days at room temperature, becoming sweet and juicy, the way you like them.

MERRY PEAR SALAD

8 Anjou, Bosc or Comice pears
8 maraschino cherries

Mold:

1 can (8 oz.) crushed pineapple
1 can (4 oz.) pimiento
1 package (3 oz.) lemon gelatin
1 cup cream, whipped
1 carton (1 lb.) cottage cheese

Combine pineapple and finely chopped, drained pimiento. Bring to a boil. Remove from heat; add gelatin and stir until dissolved. Cool. When gelatin begins to set, fold in whipped cream and lightly whipped cottage cheese. Pour into 1 large or 8 individual molds; chill until set.

To serve: unmold salad on lettuce-lined platter or individual salad plates. Cut pears into sections: brush with lemon juice and arrange around molds. Garnish with cherries cut into segments to resemble flower petals; center with a bit of pear. Makes 8 servings.

ONE-DISH MEAL

1 pound beef chuck
1 large onion, chopped
1 green pepper, chopped
2 cups cooked rice
1 cup canned tomatoes salt and pepper to taste
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
¼ pound fresh or 3 oz. can mushrooms (if desired)
2 tablespoons butter

Cook beef until tender in sufficient water to cover; drain, saving liquid. Discard all bone and gristle. Grind beef fine. Mix beef and vegetables, add liquid, cooked rice, and season. This mixture should pour easily. Bake at 350 for 1 hour. Add fresh or canned mushrooms sauteed in butter during last 30 minutes of cooking, if desired. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

British Curriculum Could Stand One Major Addition

By Ines Robb

This column honestly yields to no one in its lifelong admiration of British superiority in all things, living or dead.

So the Briton's modest assessment of his own worth and that of his civilization has never irked me. But occasionally I must discipline myself to accept some British quirk or eccentricity. Occasionally discipline boggles, as at the moment.

With discipline temporarily off the leash, I make so bold today as to suggest a tiny reform in the faultless British educational system. What I have in mind is an addition to the curriculum that could make for better international understanding and a firmer handclasp across the sea.

(Let us grant at once that all of Britain's wars have been won on the playing fields of Eton. Who knows? Some American historian may someday decide the United States owes its victories to the humble sandlot.)

Today's column is prompted by an article in London's Daily Telegraph. That pillar of the press obviously sent one of its staff, Winifred Carr, to do a series of articles on the Mayo Clinic. It is impossible for me to diagnose Winfred's sex, since the name is as masculine as feminine in England.

It requires a good many introductory paragraphs for Winifred to get down to the clinic itself. It should come as a surprise to no one who reads British newspapers, magazines or novels that Winnie devotes the lead or opening stanza not to the clinic but to establishing the fact that working conditions for the British citizen in America are unbearable.

Nor should it come as any surprise, after 150 years of identical complaints, that Winnie darned near "stifled" (That is his-her word) because of "the constant steam heat in my hotel."

That, after decades of such gripes, is news? It seems to me that the British have long since made their point, proving to the world at large that America's is an inferior civilization precisely because of central heating and, as a direct and ignominious corollary, that our dwellings are shamefully comfortable in cold weather.

The British have been tirelessly pointing out the error of our ways for ages, undeterred by the obvious fact that we Americans are deaf to reason and refuse to abandon central heating.

Faced with Americans' stubborn determination on comfort, a lesser nation than Britain would give up its zeal for reform and call its missionaries home before they are cooked—if not eaten—under such hostile and humid conditions.

But then, it was Winston Churchill himself who pointed out in the first volume of "A History of the English Speaking Peoples," that the Romans introduced central heating to England almost 2,000 years ago. And even then the English had the fortitude to resist such a barbarous and debilitating novelty.

So it is obvious that an improved system of central heating or comfort offered by upstarts in the New World isn't going to affect or sway the Spartan English, to whom chilblains and chapped hands are the red badge of courage.

It may well occur to some citizens in the Western Hemisphere that after 2,000 years, the British might quit flexing their frostbite and stop talking about their hardihood amid general steam-heated decadence.

But now, obviously, we are approaching fantasy. So my solution for the problem is quite simple. It would, please God, save the British more repetition on the subject and spare American ears. Let the British add three new how-to subjects to their general school curriculum: (1) How to raise windows. (2) How to turn off radiators and (3) How to regulate a thermostat. Granted, all three subjects are difficult. But, given time, I have every confidence the Winifreds could learn.

Stolen Deer Sparks Chase

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The cheetah is the fastest animal alive but its speed couldn't match the 90-mile-an-hour chase it took to run down James Thomas Wright's dead deer.

Wright, 38, telephoned police Sunday and said someone had stolen his deer while he was having coffee at his restaurant here. He had tied the 10-point buck to his car after shooting it earlier in the day.

Two officers nearby spotted a car speeding by with a deer on the seat beside the driver. They gave chase, firing three warning shots into the air.

The vehicle turned a corner, went out of control, and hit a parked car. The deer plopped onto the street.

The driver, Earl Snell, 26, of Louisville, was charged with reckless driving and grand larceny.

Actress Is Grateful For Long Illness

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—You rarely find people who are grateful for a long illness.

Actress Joan Fontaine is. She thinks a long illness is the best way to cure anyone with a success fetish—and teach him true values.

"My illness led me to grow up at last," she said. "It was my diploma to life."

Miss Fontaine is fully recovered now from a two-year bout with ailments ranging from energy-draining mononucleosis to hepatitis and undulant fever.

Looking as lovely as a yellow primrose, the blonde film star radiated health and a hazel-eyed vitality as we lunched in the old-fashioned elegance of the Edwardian Room at the Plaza. The eyes of nearby lady diners showed envy of her fresh charm.

"I hate to talk like a pollyana about a thing that can be as devastating as illness," said Joan, "but it's the way I really feel.

"Everyone should be so lucky—to have a pause in your life for an appraisal, and to see clearly for the first time what life really has to offer.

"It's a great, great thing. All the minor worries people fret about, the problems that haunt most of us—success, financial security, personal popularity, growing older—all become so terribly unimportant.

"When the time comes again when you can dress yourself, when you can get up and walk about supported once more by your own backbone—well, it's like being born again. But better.

"I wish my illness could have happened to me when I was 12. I wasted so much of my life.

"I accomplished a lot, but I didn't enjoy it."

Miss Fontaine has made 45 films, and twice was nominated for academy awards. She won an Oscar in 1941 for her performance in "Suspicion." She had three husbands.

But she feels now that, like many stars, she let herself be trapped on the treadmill of Hollywood success, a treadmill of many lost values.

"I spent too many years in smog, tinsel and the second rate," she said said. "I lived only to work. Now I want primarily to live."

Joan acts as hostess on the CBS-TV monthly show, "The Breck Family Classics," and is looking for a Broadway role. But she said she never again means to let the success treadmill be her main goal.

"I am in a fortunate position," she remarked. "I have saved my pennies. I am not afraid of the bill collector, or the wolf at the door.

"It is lovely to accomplish something in life. It is a delicious feeling.

"But the trick is not to keep wanting more. If you do, you are never satisfied.

"To be content with what you are . . . to be satisfied to like yourself . . . not to want to scrap it all and try to be somebody else . . . that is the victory of living.

"We all need to go into a decompression chamber. We are all so ambitious to succeed—and yet we destroy ourselves."

Her recovery has given Joan a new appreciation of the role of energy in a healthy outlook.

"You need energy for any creative thing," she said. "It is the extra vigor that makes a performance stellar rather than pedestrian.

"To spend one second on this planet being unhappy—it's incredible!"

Dome Home At Houston In Prep Stages

By CHARLES H. GREEN

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Members of the Houston Sports Association and the Harris County Park Board have agreed to push full speed ahead on construction of a unique domed stadium for Houston's National League baseball team.

The stadium—which will cost $15 million and is supposed to be finished by April, 1962, will be the world's first air conditioned, domed stadium for baseball, football and other sports events.

Harris County citizens approved a $20 million bond issue two years ago to pay for the stadium.

The dome will be 200 feet high—enough to cover an 18-story building with ease.

William A. Kirkland, chairman of the Park Board, said the Sports Association has agreed to underwrite the initial cost of architectural and engineering work for offsite access roads and drainage and pay for final plans and specifications for the stadium. He didn't say what this will cost, but pointed out that it will save "several months" in construction time.

The stadium will be located on a 230-acre site five miles south of the center of downtown Houston.

It will seat 43,581 for baseball, 52,913 for football and up to 66,000 for boxing. All seats will be air conditioned winter and summer.

Two Houston architectural firms are working on the stadium, and the New York consulting firm of Praeger, Kavanaugh and Waterbury will help. The New York firm designed the Chavez Ravine Stadium in Los Angeles and the proposed Flushing Meadows Stadium in New York.

The playing field will be built about 32 feet below ground level.

The dome will be covered by a translucent plastic cover that will permit sunlight and let grass grow, Kirkland said.

Boxing Team To See Action Here Friday

Boxing is on the local agenda for Friday night, as Coach Lacy Boles' Snyder Boxing Team prepares to take on a team from Abilene here in the Towle Park "Barn."

The matches will be open to the public and there will be no admission charge. However, donations will be accepted and greatly appreciated, with the money collected going toward the buying of equipment for the local team and helping to defray the expense involved in the taking of out-of-town boxing trips.

Tentatively, the matches are scheduled to be held on a mat rather than in a standard ring, which is unavailable at present.

Ready for duty for Snyder will be Ruben Gonzales (129), Abe Gonzales (143), Hollis Cox (137), Maxey Ware (160), Weldon Duke (155), Jesse Costello (88), Joe Costello (93), Adam Romero (110), Donnie Deere (112), Alex Rios (95), and the Benitez brothers—Eloy (66), Rudy (73), Freddie (75) and Martin (96).

Any business men who would like to sponsor local boxers are asked to contact Boles at 3-5486.

C'Mon Down, Howard; He's Dead Now

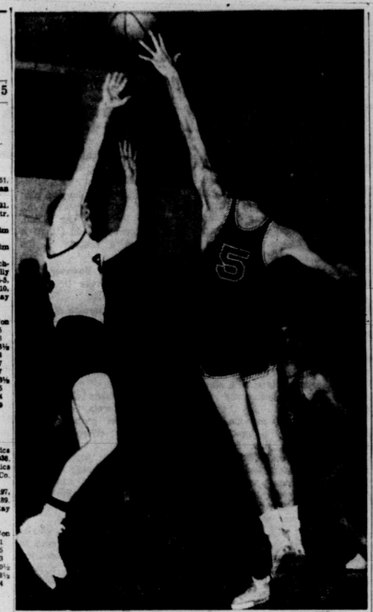

Who said that the rattlesnakes had all gone into hibernation, anyway?

Don't you believe it, for Howard Crenshaw of Snyder will tell you different.

While bird hunting near Colorado City with Dr. R. J. Kidd yesterday the two of them stumbled onto a rattler which measured out at 5½ feet in length and nine inches in circumference. Doc Kidd headed to the extermination of the reptile while Crenshaw—who had the misfortune a few months ago of being bitten by a rattler—reportedly made like a blue streak a la Olympic sprinter, hitting the top of their pickup with a flying leap.

"He looked like a cat heading for the nearest tree with a dog at his heels," the scene was described by someone who should know.

Oh. One other thing. The snake was measured AFTER it was killed instead of before.

IN IRA INVITATIONAL

Gail, Ira Take Tourney Titles

IRA — The Gail Coyotes nailed down top honors in the Ira Invitational Tournament which was held there the past weekend, downing the Hermleigh Cardinals by 43-36 in the final of Saturday night.

Host Ira won the girls division, while the Flower Grove boys and girls each took home consolation titles.

Gail was led by the point making of Dennis, who chalked up a total of 16 for the night, while Wall and Bell looped in 10 each to pace the Hermleigh onslaught.

In rolling over the Gail girls in the final by a breezy 50-31, Ira's Kay Ford and Lena Farmer topped the scoring with 19 and 18 points, respectively. Stephens and Dupay of Gail chipped in 15 and 14 to lead the way for their team.

In a nip and tuck consolation final in which the eventual loser led through much of the game, Flower Grove took the measure of Westbrook, 49-47, for the title. Flower Grove's Jerry Webb topped all scorers with 24 points, while Watson was high for Westbrook with 18.

In another squeaker the Flower Grove girls edged out Highland by 36-35 for the consolation crown. Langston showed the way to the win by tallying 18 points, while Highland's Bankhead dropped in 17.

In Friday action, Westbrook girls launched tournament activity by felling Highland, 34-19, with Conway scoring 14 points for Westbrook, while Bankhead's 8 points were high for Highland.

The Highland boys reversed the trend by clouting Westbrook, 41-34, as Wright poured 22 points through the hoop for the winners. Conway was high for Westbrook with 11 points.

Flower Grove girls decision Hermleigh, 48-23. Langston paced the Flower Grove attack with 16 points, while Hudgins was top scorer for Hermleigh with 9.

Fluvanna boys bowed to Flower Grove, 52-22, as Webb scored 26 points for Flower Grove. Harvey Boulware picked up 11 for Fluvanna.

Ira's girls advanced by trimming the Fluvanna girls, 57-22, with Lena Farmer accounting for 22 points for Ira. LaJean Berryhill was top scorer for Fluvanna with 17.

Hermleigh boys squeaked past Ira, 29-28, although Donnell Eubanks of Ira was top scorer in the game with 11 points. Wallace Wall and James Vernon had 8 each to lead the Hermleigh scorers.

Honored by being named to the all-tournament team were: Dennis (Gail), Wall (Hermleigh), Webb (Flower Grove), Watson (Westbrook), Wright (Highland), and Eubank (Ira).

The all-torunament girls team included forwards Wilson (Flower Grove), Stephens (Gail), and Farmer and Ford (Ira), along with guards Froman (Flower Grove), Rich (Westbrook), Harrel (Gail), and Kay Byars (Ira).

SWC Even-Up In Campaign

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Breaking even in the first week of the campaign, Southwest Conference basketball teams range far and wide in an intersectional schedule of 17 games this week.

Texas Tech beat Hamline 92-78 and Arkansas clipped Missouri 84-75 in intersectional triumphs last week. Southern Methodist, however, took an 84-78 trimming from Oklahoma City University and the Texas Aggies were edged 69-64 by Kansas State.

There are plenty of big ones to knock down starting Monday night as Texas Christian tries Oklahoma City University at Oklahoma City, Texas Tech hosts Kansas and Rice entertains Florida.

Six conference members are on tour this week, Baylor, opening the season, and Texas Christian going into the west and Southern Methodist, Rice, Texas Tech and Texas into the south.

Baylor and Texas Christian will play Utah and Baylor also meets Wyoming. Southern Methodist, after meeting Florida at Dallas Tuesday night, visits Georgia Tech and Vanderbilt. Rice plays Louisiana State at Baton Rouge, Texas Tech goes to Florida and Texas, after hosting Oklahoma City Wednesday night, journeys to New Orleans for a crack at Tulane.

Harried Hank Elated Now; Texans Win

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS (AP) — Coach Hank Stram of the American Football League's Dallas Texans said today that "without even looking at the films I predict there will be no fines."

His Texans had slashed Eastern Division leading Houston 24-0 Sunday in their finest showing of the season—after Stram had warned them they would be fined $500 if they failed to play up to a certain standard.

The edict had come after the Texans lost two games in a row and were tottering on the brink of elimination from title contention.

"I don't know whether my tough talk did the job," smiled Stram, "but those guys were really fired up and played the kind of football I want. I would say there'll be no fines. In fact, I don't believe any player failed to perform better by 70 per cent as I had ordered."

Stram was happy because the victory gave his team an outside chance for the Western Division championship—Los Angeles leads by two games over Dallas with two to play.

Stram also was elated about the showing of his second string quarterback, Hunter Enis, former Texas Christian star. It was Enis' first starting assignment and he piloted the team to two quick touchdowns, setting up the first one with some fine passing.

The Texans jumped on Houston from the start and hammered the Oilers from pillar to post. So vicious was the Texan defense that Houston wound up with a minus 27 yards rushing and totaled only 147 yards over-all. And the Texans intercepted three of Jacky Lee's passes, one leading to a touchdown.

Enis scored two touchdowns on one-yard blasts. Johnny Robinson set up two scores with some nifty running and Abner Haynes set up another with a 27-yard spring and scored one with a 13-yard run. Jack Spikes kicked a 22-yard field goal and three extra points to round out the Texan scoring.

Alaska Area Is Undergoing An Unusual Investigation

By RENNIE TAYLOR
Associated Press Science Writer

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — On the bleak northwest coast of Alaska a small area is undergoing a most unusual scientific investigation.

Every man, animal, fish and bird is theoretically under observation.

If an Eskimo takes a notion to go hunting, the investigators note and record where he went, what he bagged and when he returned.

If a whale shows up offshore its species, movements and duration of stay are made a matter of record.

Even the seaweed and other small marine life in the tidal area and offshore are under the eye of probers. The scrubby vegetation of the tundra, grasses, brush, mosses and lichens, is watched.

Before the investigators finish their job they will drill several hundred feet into the earth to investigate the permanently frozen subsurface to see if there are any fossil remains of prehistoric man in the area.

All this information is funneled to the Atomic Energy Commission. It will guide AEC personnel if and when they ever set off nuclear explosives to form a harbor there.

The plan, called Project Chariot, still is in the iffy stage, for two reasons.

First, the United States and the Soviet Union are observing a moratorium on the testing of nuclear weapons.

Second, the AEC still hasn't all the information it wants to calculate the after-effects and the long-range results of the explosions.

More observations must be made, particularly on the weather and geological aspects of the undertaking. Tests have to be made with ordinary dynamite or TNT, both at the site and at the nuclear test site in Nevada, to calculate how the big nuclear blasts will come out.

But the pre-detonation environmental studies — those relating to all forms of life that might be affected — are about complete, says Dr. John N. Wolfe, head of the AEC scientists making the survey.

"We know now," said Dr. Wolfe, "that the excavation won't affect the health, food sources and general livelihood of the natives.

"There will be considerable damage in a purely local way, because the blasts will move 30 million cubic yards of earth. So there will be some destruction of plant and animal habitats. But there is no evidence that the damage will be widespread or will have any long-range effect on the environment."

Dr. Allyn eymour, radiation biologist member of the investigating committee, said the projected five nuclear blasts equal to 280,000 tons of conventional explosive, should produce less radioactivity in the air than did the Hiroshima or Nagasaki bombs, rated equal to 20,000 tons of TNT.

As planned, the bombs will be placed below the surface of Ogotoruk Creek where it runs into the Chuckchee Sea. The Chuckchee is an indentation of the Arctic Ocean. The site is 110 miles north of the Arctic Circle.

There would be five blasts. One would be a 200,000-ton affair buried 800 feet below the surface to produce a bowl-shaped cavity about one-third of a mile across for an inner harbor, then four 20,000-ton blasts to dredge a channel at least 30 feet deep, 500 yards long and 250 yards wide leading into the sea. The smaller devices would be planted 400 feet down.

It probably would be physically impossible to do the excavating before 1962 because of the big logistics job involved, the AEC says.

The biological picture changes with the seasons, so the environmental investigators have to keep up their observations. The study, which began in the summer of 1958, will have cost about $2 million by next spring, Dr. Wolfe said.

Paradoxically, there is no real need for a harbor at the bleak site, although it might serve as a loading place for Alaskan coal being shipped to Japan. The big reason for the project is to find out just what can and can't be done with nuclear blasts for excavation, to do it in a thoroughly isolated area and to have exact information on the changes wrought.

Integration Up Sharply

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—The number of Negroes attending public schools with white children in Southern and border states has increased more than 14,000 this year over last, the Southern Educational Reporting Service (SERS) said today.

The 195,625 Negroes attending desegregated classes represent 6.3 per cent of the Negroes enrolled in the 17 states and Washington, D.C., SERS said.

The figure was contained in the service's semi-annual statistical summary of developments arising from the U.S. Supreme Court's 1954 decision on school segregation.

SERS said the proportion of Negroes attending bi-racial classes in the region this year was about the same as in the 1959-60 school year. Total Negro enrollment was reported at 3,020,727 and white, 10,165,246.

Most of the desegregated Negroes, 194,849, live in Delaware, Kentucky, Maryland, Missouri, Oklahoma, Texas, West Virginia and Washington, D.C., SERS said. The remainder, 776, reside in Arkansas, Florida, Louisiana, North Carolina, Tennessee and Virginia.

With the start of segregation in New Orleans, SERS said, Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi and South Carolina remained the only states with complete segregation extending from elementary grades through college. Thirty-six per cent of the South's Negroes live in the four states, the service stated.

McMurry's Indian Band Slated Here

McMurry College's Indian Band will conclude a five-day tour Wednesday morning with an appearance at Snyder High School.

The band will come here following appearances in Spur, Lubbock, Ralls, Ropesville, Brownfield, Plains and Tamesa.

The McMurry Band has acquired quite a reputation in West Texas for its color and musical ability. It is a versatile organization and plays both secular and religious music. It often appears in churches but is quite popular with high school students, making many of its appearances in assembly programs and sponsored evening programs.

The band features several specialty numbers, Latin-American rhythms, and special instruments. Among the unusual instruments are the bands Aida trumpets (long, slender trumpets used for fanfares and for numbers like "Pomp and Circumstance") and its special imported English handbells.

The tour program includes these numbers:

"Wings of Victory," a march; the overture, "Il Guaranay" (the Chieftain); a solo for drums, "Hi Hat," featuring Judy Mathis of Abilene; a baritone solo by Tommy Laney of Amarillo entitled, "Napoli"; a drum duet featuring Miss Mathis and Jet Conner of Spur, "Double Drumming"; a trombone trio, "Slide Kicks," featuring Lee South of Abilene, Jerry Dean of Robert Lee, and Clifford Hutton of Melrose, N.M.; a novelty tune called, "Little Brown Jug Goes to Town;" a group of marimba players sometimes called "The Wetbacks," who play Latin-American numbers; a piece called, "Comedian's Gallop;" a number directed by the band's associate director, Charles Shaw, called, "Gypsy Sweetheart," and these other numbers:

"Autumn Leaves," "Introduction to Act 3 of Lohengrin," a Chopin prelude played on the English handbells; "Evening Star" from the opera Tannhauser; and "Stars and Stripes Forever."

Twelve Injured In Truck-Bus Crash

ROCK SPRINGS, Wyo. (AP)—A truck and Greyhound bus collided on icy U.S. Highway 30 east of Rock Springs Sunday night, injuring 12 of the 20 passengers. Seven were hospitalized.

State patrol Sgt. Art Reese said Dan Ellingford of Evanston, Wyo., was attempting to turn his truck around on the highway but it stalled. The bus, westbound, was unable to stop and crashed into the truck. Both vehicles slid off the highway into a ditch. Ellingford was not injured.

The injured, several with broken bones, were brought to Rock Springs by ambulance and cars.

Proposed Church Reunion Gets Favorable Reaction

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Leading churchmen today registered a somewhat bedazzled but firmly favorable reaction to a proposal for a wide reunion among American Protestants.

The plan, said Methodist Bishop John Wesley Lord, of Boston, "is as shocking as it is Christian."

"It overcomes with stark simplicity many of the problems that have perplexed the separate communions over the years."

The plan, at the outset, would embrace the Episcopal, United Presbyterian, Methodist and United Church of Christ with other denominations subsequently invited to join.

The provocative formula was offered Sunday by a top-ranking Presbyterian, the Rev. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, of Philadelphia, shortly before the start of the triennial General Assembly of the National Council of Churches.

More than 3,000 representatives of 33 Protestant and Orthodox denominations with 40 million members joined Sunday night in the stirring opening services.

Although not formally a part of their program, the proposal generated keen interest among delegates.

"It is the opening of a very significant move," said the Rt. Rev. Arthur C. Lichtenberger, of New York, presiding bishop of the Episcopal Church.

"Out of this might come a plan that would be acceptable to all the people involved," he added. "It is a good approach. I hope it will lead to a reunion of the church."

He, like others, however, emphasized it will take time, and careful examination.

Dr. Blake, in a sermon at Grace Episcopal Cathedral, detailed steps for combining creedal, liturgical churches with the more informal, non-ritualistic churches into a body "both reformed and catholic."

Episcopal Bishop James A. Pike, of California, called the plan the "most sound and inspiring" ever offered in this country.

The plan is patterned on the precedent-shattering establishment of the United Church of South India in 1947, uniting Presbyterians, Methodists, Episcopalians and Congregationalists.

Dr. Blake proposed specifically a merger of these four groups in the United States. He included the United Church of Christ, a presently evolving union of Congregationalists and the Evangelical and Reformed Church.

Altogether, the combined body would have more than 20 million members. Other churches accepting the principles, Dr. Blake said, would also be invited to join, with the ultimate aim of reuniting "the whole of Christ's church."

The Rev. Dr. James E. Wagner, of Philadelphia, and the Rev. Dr. Fred Hoskins, of New York, co-presidents of the newly created United Church of Christ, voiced "great interest and appreciation" for the plan.

They said they felt sure that if the Episcopal and United Presbyterian conventions next year issue calls for such a union as proposed by Dr. Blake, it will receive "careful and thoughtful consideration."

However, they expressed hope that the plan would not be limited to the four bodies named even at the start, since their own merger already was planning unity negotiations with the Disciples of Christ Church.

The proposed reunion would include a joint consecration service, in which all clergy took part, so as to bring them into the apostolic succession—a heritage valued by the Episcopal and other catholic-rooted churches.

This is a line of authority considered handed down from the apostles.

The plan also would provide for "truly democratic government," with congregations free to name their own pastors, and "a wide diversity of theological formulations of the faith and a wide diversity of worship and liturgy."

Other measures would incorporate distinctive features of both Catholic and reformed types of Protestant churches, Dr. Blake said. He said he used the word, "catholic," as it applied to age-old Christian concepts and practices.

"The reunited church," he said, "must have visible and historical continuity with the churches of all ages before and after the Reformation."

He estimated it would take at least 10 years to effect the initial union, if the designated denominations act on it favorably. He suggested as a possible name: "The Reformed and Catholic Church in the United States of America."

Tower Will Tell Plans

DALLAS (AP)—John G. Tower said Sunday night he will make an announcement this week as to whether or not he will be a candidate in the special election for the U.S. Senate seat of Lyndon B. Johnson.

Johnson has not yet said when he will resign his Senate seat to become vice president but there has been speculation he will not do so until after Congress is organized in January.

Tower, the Republican candidate, was defeated by Johnson for the Senate post in the November general election by a vote of 1,306,625 to 926,653.

Tower said his decision would not be influenced by the announcement of former U.S. Sen. William A. Blakley that he will accept the interim appointment and also be a candidate in the special election.

Three men have announced formally for the special election. They are Blakley, U.S. Rep. Jim Wright of Fort Worth and State Sen. Henry B. Gonzales of San Antonio.

Bill De Witt, new general manager of the Cincinnati Reds, passed his Missouri bar examination at Jefferson City in June, 1931.

Boy's Shiny Gift Leads To Tragedy

NEW RORK (AP) — A little boy's curiosity, a flashlight, a vacant apartment.

This was the anatomy of a neighborhood tragedy in the Bronx Sunday night.

Not long ago Robert Ingraham, 8, the son of a building superintendent, received a handsome gift from a family moving from the neighborhood.

The present—a shiny flashlight—became a near-obsession with the boy. For hours, as boys will, he explored the dark places in the neighborhood — murky basements, gloomy stairwells, storerooms and odd corners.

Friends accused him of taking the light to bed with him. During most of his waking hours he kept the flashlight fastened to a string tied around his waist.

For three days Robert hit every unlit nook and cranny in the area.

When Robert didn't come home Sunday night, his frantic father, John Ingraham, called police and a widespread search began.

For nearly four hours searchers combed the neighborhood, talked to the lad's friends and looked in most places a 60-pound boy could hide.

It wasn't until detective Christopher Kelly learned of the boy's fascination with the flashlight that police came up with a clue.

Kelly went to the basement apartment recently vacated by the neighbors who had given Robert the flashlight and began a thorough search.

His fears were realized when he finally opened the door of a refrigerator.

Robert's slight body was curled up inside.

The boy still grasped his precious flashlight. But the battery had burned out.

The light had died with him.

Ship's Crew Facing Check

TRAVERSE CITY, Mich. (AP) —Coast Guardmen plucked 17 men from a stranded ship Sunday, but the 14 crewmen of the Francisco Morazan ran into new problems with U.S. immigration officials.

The icebreaker Mackinaw, which had been standing by since shortly after the 246-foot freighter hit a reef off South Manitou Island Tuesday night, took off the captain, 13 crewmen and three insurance agents.

The Mackinaw pulled into Grand Traverse Bay around midnight and anchored off shore. Immigration officials were expected today to check the crew.

The Coast Guard said it did not know when an attempt would be made to salvage the Liberian freighter and its 900 tons of general cargo. The Morazan, which ran aground in a storm, had pounded badly on the rocks and torn holes in the bottom.

The wife of the Greek captain, Eduardo Trivitas, was removed Thursday. She is expecting a child.

T. R. Martinez, an immigration official from Detroit, said six of the ship's crew, which is made up of Spaniards, Cubans and Greeks, could be deported. He said the action was requested by Chicago immigartion officials.

Youth Panics After Mishap

BELLMORE, N. Y. (AP) — A college student who accidentally shot and killed his 13-year-old sister was kept under sedation as the family doctor tried to ease his grief.

The student, John Maiorana, 18, a Hofstra College freshman, bolted in panic Friday after he blasted his sister, Juliana, with a shotgun in the den of their home. The youth had been hunting in nearby woods.

A search began and appeals were made urging the boy to return home. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Maiorana, feared he had killed himself from remorse. But after wandering for nearly 24 hours, the youth was located Saturday.

There will be a requiem Mass for Juliana Tuesday in St. Barnabas church, Bellmore.

Two Die In Plane Crash

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—An advertising executive and head of an airplane charter-sales firm died Sunday in the flaming wreckage of a two-engine plane which crashed in a backyard in suburban Parma.

Blazing gasoline sprayed two houses, two cars parked in a driveway and a garage, causing damage estimated by Fire Chief Robert Koch of Parma at about $10,000.

An investigation was ordered by the Civil Aeronautics Board to determine what caused the five-passenger Beechcraft to go into a dive over the residential area about seven miles east of Cleveland Hopkins Airport, where the plane had taken off.

At the controls was John J. Duffy Jr., 35, president of an advertising agency which purchased the aircraft two weeks ago.

Killed with Duffy was Clay J. Donges, 42, head of Sundorph Aeronautical Corp., which bought the plane a few months ago and sold it to Duffy. Donges, a veteran of more than 10,000 hours of flying, was helping Duffy familiarize himself with the plane.

The John S. Rundeks were entertaining company when the plane roared down less than 20 feet outside their kitchen window.

The wreckage piled up next door in the yard of Chester J. Stanley, who with his wife and two children had gone to visit his mother.

Rundek said "we were sitting at the kitchen table—my wife and the two kids, my brother-in-law and his two kids. We heard this terrific explosion and lunged for the living room. We almost knocked over the table."

It was nearly two hours after the crash before the bodies could be taken from the wreckage.

Moves Proposed To Stimulate Economy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., today proposed two moves for stimulating the economy—especially small business.

In an address prepared for the National Association of Small Business Investment Companies (NASBIC), the chairman of the House Small Business Committee said he would introduce measures during the next session of Congress to:

1. Establish a new banking agency to raise funds needed by small business investment companies.

2. Permit a business firm a one-year tax write-off of up to one million dollars for the amount spent for new tools and equipment.

He predicted "a large business expansion" during 1961.

Pilot Of Atomic Bomber Escapes

WACO, Tex. (AP) — The pilot who led U.S. atomic bombers to Hiroshima and Nagasaki has escaped from the Waco Veterans Administration hospital, where he was a mental patient.

Hospital officials said Claude R. Eatherly, 44, a former Air Force major, escaped from the institution Nov. 22.

Eatherly was acquitted of burglarizing two Texas post offices after pleading innocent by reason of insanity. A grocery store robbery charge at Dallas against him was dropped after he was committed to the VA hospital here last year.
