ECONOMIC SLOWDOWN CONTINUES

October Jobless Rate Rises

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's unemployment rate rose from 7.8 per cent to 7.9 per cent in October, the government reported today, providing fresh evidence that the economic slowdown is continuing.

The unemployment rate is one of the economic indicators President-elect Jimmy Carter is watching as he considers whether to propose a tax cut after taking office in January. He told a news conference Thursday night that a tax cut for average wage earners "could be a strong possibility if there is no change in the rate of growth of the economy and if economic indicators should show a negative aspect."

The October jobless figure matched the unemployment rate in August and prompted the Labor Department to describe the labor market as essentially unchanged for the past three months.

But because the labor force is constantly growing, the unemployment rate alone can mask the actual number of persons affected by the indicator.

The number of persons unemployed in October was 7.6 million, the most since 7.7 million were out of work in December.

Employment, which has been growing even as the unemployment rate rose from 7.3 per cent to 7.9 per cent this summer, has now declined for two consecutive months to 87.8 million. And that's the smallest number of people at work since 87.7 million persons held jobs in May.

Ford administration economists for months have described the current economic slowdown as "a summer lull." But Carter's top economic adviser, Lawrence R. Klein, has called for an additional $10 billion to $15 billion in economic stimulus through a tax cut, higher federal spending, or both.

The latest unemployment figures showed that even the individual categories which had shown some improvement in September fell back again in October.

Carter Highlights

PLAINS, Ga. (AP)—At a glance, here are highlights of President-elect Jimmy Carter's news conference Thursday night:

NEWS CONFERENCES

Carter said he planned to hold at least two full-scale news conferences a month during his administration.

TAX CUT

He said his economic experts think a tax cut might be necessary to stimulate the economy if it is stagnant in January, adding that "this is a strong possiblity." He said a tax cut would be aimed at stimulating purchasing power.

THE ELECTION

Carter said his popular and electoral majorities were in the range of other elections and that he felt he had "a clear majority of the electorate in this country." He said that is enough to a mandate to allow him to carry out his programs.

FOREIGN POLICY

Carter administration foreign policy priorities will be to restore good relations with allies and to open up policy-making decisions to Congress and the people.

CABINET

Carter said economic and foreign policy appointments will have precedence and that he does not expect to make any decision on Cabinet members until December. He said he would follow the same general procedure he used in picking Walter Mondale as his running mate.

OIL PRICES

Carter said any increases in prices by the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries, scheduled to meet in December, would be regrettable. But he said he could take no official action since President Ford still retains responsibility for foreign policy until January.

WHITE HOUSE STAFF

Carter said he would "never permit my White house staff to run all the departments of the government." He said White House aides would serve as staff and advisers and not administrators.

No Changes Seen In Family Hour

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Television viewers should expect no immediate changes in early-evening programs as a result of a federal court decision against the networks' "family hour" viewing policy.

U.S. District Court Judge Warren J. Ferguson ruled Thursday that the major TV networks violated constitutional rights of free speech in adopting the policy last year.

Ferguson did not, however, abolish "family hour" programming, which was designed to calm public protest by keeping sex and violence from early-evening television likely to be watched by children.

He merely said NBC, CBS and ABC couldn't delegate authority for setting the policy to the National Association of Broadcasters (NAB).

The decision was hailed a victory for free speech by the three entertainment guilds, two production companies and nine situation-comedy makers that had filed a lawsuit in October 1975.

"Americans everywhere won a victory today," said producer Norman Lear, creator of "All in the Family" and other hit comedy series.

CBS and ABC said they would appeal Ferguson's decision. NBC and the NAB said they would review the decision before commenting.

CBS, which led the fight for the industry's adoption of the policy, said, "In the meantime and until further notice, CBS will voluntarily continue to adhere to the family viewing concept."

The NAB adopted the policy in September 1975 after network officials held a closed meeting with Federal Communications Commission Chairman Richard E. Wiley. The networks and 462 television stations now subscribe to the policy.

In Ferguson's 223-page opinion, the judge also held that the FCC violated the First Amendment "by issuing threats of government action" through Wiley "should (the) industry not adopt the family viewing policy or the equivalent...." He said "censorship by government or privately created review boards cannot be tolerated."

Ferguson ruled that the NAB and networks were liable for any damages that Lear's production company suffered from the policy. No date has been scheduled to consider damages and a contention by the unions that the "family hour" policy violated federal antitrust laws.

AIRSTREAMERS RALLY HERE—Members of the Big Country and West Texas Airstream trailer units were assembling today in Towle Memorial Park for a weekend rally. They represent two of the nine units in Region 9 which will hold its big rally here next fall. Among the early arrivals were, from left, Vera and Jim Farr, C.E. and Gladys Horton and V.J. and Louise Coleman. Horton is the Region 9 president, while Coleman is the Big Country Unit president and Farr is Big Country Unit vice president. They will participate in several special events during their weekend rally, which will end Sunday. (SDN Staff Photo)

Water Demands Dulled By Rains

Nothing affects water consumption in West Texas like the weather. October turned out to be substantially cooler and wetter than usual, and deliveries by the Colorado River Municipal Water District went down correspondingly.

Production records of the district show 1,476,394,000 gallons of water pumped to customers, down 125 million gallons from October a year ago. However, this was not enough to erase an advantage built up through previous months. At the end of October the district had delivered 16,404,132,586 gallons of water, up 467 million over the same period in 1975.

Much of the loss in October came from the cities which took 867,636,000 gallons, or 87 million gallons less than October last year. For the 10-months period, cities have taken 10,784,365,000 gallons, up 573,992,000 gallons over the first 10 months of 1975. Oil companies used 609,110,000 gallons in October, or 45 million less thanOctober 1975 and for the 10-months used 5,619,767,000, down 106 million gallons from the first 10 months of 1975.

By cities, October figures showed: Odessa 321,190,000 gallons, down 10.65 per cent; Big Spring 197,740,000, down 8.86 per cent; Snyder 55,081,000, down 16.38 per cent; Stanton 7,198,000, up .64 of one per cent; Midland 286,975,000, down 3.17 per cent.

Two Airstream Units Visit Here

A group of Airstream Trailers converged on the Towle Park Barn grounds early today as two Airstream units assembled for a weekend rally.

Members of the Big Country and West Texas Units of Region 9 were beginning three days of activities here. Snyder will be the site of their regional rally next fall, at which time several hundred Airstreams are due to gather on the Scurry County Coliseum grounds.

The morning and afternoon hours today were devoted to registration and visiting. A pot-luck supper is set for 6 p.m. and at 7:30 tonight films will be shown.

On Saturday, the Airstreamers will have a choice during the morning hours of making a visit to the Roy and Azalee Reeder place at Fluvanna, or visiting the Scurry County Museum on the Western Texas College Campus, where a special "branding" session will be conducted at the museum's blacksmith shop.

The visitors are scheduled to See Airstream, Page 2

Ford Due Pensions

WASHINGTON (AP)—White House aides say President Ford is unsure what he will do after leaving office in January, but one thing is certain; he'll never have to wonder where the next dollar is coming from.

As a former president and veteran of 25 years in Congress, Ford will receive pension benefits of at least $102,000 a year — more than half his $200,000 salary as the nation's chief executive.

Under the Former Presidents Act, Ford will receive $66,000 a year, according to Richard Vawter, a spokeman for the General Services Administration. Richard M. Nixon, the only other living former president, receives the same amount, Vawter said.

In addition, benefits from Ford's congressional pension will total $40,500-a-year unless he opts for an alternative plan that would provide continuing benefits for his wife Betty.

Ransom Frees Snoek

MUENSTER, West Germany (AP)—A kidnapped West German supermarket heir and Olympic horseman was freed today for a $2 million ransom, police said.

Hendrik Snoek, a reserve rider on West Germany's Olympic Equestrian team at Montreal, was released after being held two days.

Snoek, 27, was the second scion of a West German supermarket fortune to be kidnapped in the last month.

Dam Approved For TESCO Project

A dam and reservoir in Rusk County, sought for operation of an electric power generating plant by Texas Electric Service Co., which serves Snyder, and three other companies, has been approved.

The Texas Water Rights Commission approved the reservoir on Mill Creek, a tributary of Cherokee Bayou, which is a tributary of the Sabine River.

The electric power companies plan to build a lignite-fired steam generating plant on the Mill Creek Reservoir, which will be located 11 miles northeast of Henderson and 12 miles south of Longview.

Seeking the permit were Dallas Power and Light Co., Texas Electric Service Co., Texas Power and Light Co. and Texas Utilities services, Inc.

Longview, Cherokee Water Co. and Southwestern Electric Power Co. opposed the application.

The permit issued Wednesday gives the utilities companies authority to impound 37,441 acre-feet of water in the reservoir and to appropriate 24,253 acre-feet of water each year, approximately half of which would be used to operate the proposed generating plant near the reservoir.

Water that is diverted for the plant but not used will be returned to the reservoir.

An acre-foot of water is 325,851 gallons.

The commission ordered that six sampling stations must be constructed to monitor the quality of the water in the reservoir.

The commission held eight public hearings on the application, beginning last Dec. 3.

Keeping tab on our neighbors:

More on computers and vote counting—

The Big Spring Daily Herald Reports that "The computer made the difference last night (Tuesday) at the County Clerk's office where the county election results were tabulated, but it was still approaching 2 a.m. when the final cumulative print-out of the absentee ballots appeared in quadruplicate in the hands of clerk Margaret Ray, and everyone could go home."

Our vote counters had been long gone some five hours earlier than that.

★ ★ ★

We knew the past week had been rather hectic, but Walter Buckel of the Lamesa Press-Reporter probably got to the bottom of it.

"What a week," he observed. "Snow in October, the changing of time again, a muddy football windup at home, a presidential election at hand, the harvest at an absolute standstill.

"It may take a few weeks to get everything dried out, washed out, voted out and straightened out before things fall back into the routine of a fall season and a healthy harvest before the rush for Christmas shopping hits us smack in the face!"

We had some of everything he enumerated, except the snow, and there probably are those who would have traded some of that cold rain for snow flakes if there had been an offer.

A UNITED WAY AGENCY

Many Opportunities Are Offered By Boy's Club

Providing boys of Scurry County with solid opportunities for growth is what the Scurry County Boys' Club is all about.

Jack McGlaun, director, likes to point out the club provides a wide variety of activities and touches the lives of a lot of boys in the process. In the summer, for example, the club is open at least 44 hours per week, involving an average of some 60 boys per day.

"That," McGlaun points out, "adds up to a lot of 'Boy-hours' well spent."

During the school year, boys may use the facilities of the club after school and on Saturdays. Intersted persons may also visit the club and get acquainted with its work. In fact, a special open house will be observed on Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 9, as part of the Optimists Youth Appreciation Week.

Athletic programs and opportunities make up an important part of the Boys' Club program. In a well-equipped gymnasium, boys may take part in basketball, handball, racquetball, badminton, or trampoline, among other things. Skills can be developed further in sports such as archery and football.

For friendly competition, relaxation, and skill development, other games are offered as part of the game room. Popular games are ping-pong, bumber pool, and fooseball. Small table games such as checkers and chess are available for check-out in the club library.

And not all of the club programs are related to strictly athletics and games. A photography lab and a well-equipped woodworking shop are also included. McGlaun refers to the library as one of the more valuable sections of the club. "Many times," he remarks, "I have seen boys come directly from school to the club library to study, do homework, or work on research papers."

For boys in Scurry County, the Boys' Club offers opporutnities for growth in a number of areas. It's another example of how your United Way Pledge works to build boys—and a better community—the United Way.

WHERE BOYS GROW—As a place to help boys grow in many ways, the Scurry County Boys' Club offers another example of your United Way pledge in action. Here Andrew Perez and Eugene Orona enjoy a fast game of ping-pong at the Club, located at 1500 Twenty-eighth Street.

Carter To Pursue Goals Despite Slim Victory

FAMILY MEETING—President elect Jimmy Carter and his wife, Rosalynn, left, greet Vice President elect Walter Mondale and his wife, Joan, right, at the Carter's home in Plains, Ga. Thursday. PLAINS, Ga. (AP) — President-elect Jimmy Carter, who won the White House by only 27 electoral votes, vows that the slimmest of victories will not halt his plans to aggressively pursue new goals for the nation.

The Democratic president-elect spoke on the main street of his little home town of Plains, Ga., on Thursday night, and a crowd of some 400 watched in the chill autumn air as reporters, seated on metal chairs in the middle of the street, asked questions of the president-designate at the town's old railroad station.

It was also Thursday, two days after the election, that the final two states completed tabulating their ballots.

Carter won the presidency with 272 electoral votes in the wee hours of Wednesday. The final accounting on Thursday gave him the 25 electoral votes from Ohio for a total of 297. It took 270 to win.

President Ford, the loser, got 241 electoral votes with the six votes from Oregon completing his tally Thursday night.

Carter took 40,291,626 votes or 51 per cent and Ford received 38,563,089 votes or 48 per cent.

"I wish we could have carried all 50 states, but since I didn't, I hope to demonstrate even before my inauguration my complete commitment to being president of all the American people," Carter said, holding his first nationally broadcast news conference since the election.

The news conference, he said, will be the first of many. He said he hopes to hold at least two each month after taking office in January.

He said the narrow win would not stop him from "moving aggressively to carry out my campaign commitments." And he said there is a strong possibility he will seek a tax cut for average wage earners as one way of stimulating the economy if it does not pick up on its own by Jan. 20, when Carter will take the oath of office.

He said any such tax cut would be designed to increase the purchasing power of the average American family and would be oriented toward lower-income workers.

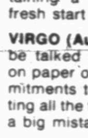

But the Democrat said he does not intend any interference with the workings of the Ford administration during its final days. In fact, Carter said after the news conference that he will spend less time in Washington than had been expected before the Jan. 20 inauguration.

Earlier, Carter had indicated he would spend several days a week in the capital in transitional offices. But Thursday, he said he would spend less time in Washington to avoid the suggestion that he is trying to interfere with or second guess the last Ford administration decisions.

Carter said he would be represented in Washington by Vice President-elect Walter Mondale, who sat silently listening during the news conference in Plains. "Mondale will be there," Carter said.

As for the plans of his own administration, Carter admitted there would be difficulties in carrying out his goals. But he said he thinks his promises can be fulfilled, especially since he will be working with a Democratic Congress.

DEAR ABBY: I work with a utility crew, and recently, after completing a job on the outskirts of a large city, the foreman took us into a nearby seedy-looking restaurant for a bite to eat.

In this place was a bar, and there seated on a bar stool was my cousin's wife with a couple of characters admiring her knees! When she recognized me, she couldn't have been more embarrassed than I was. We're all in our early 30s and see each other when the family gets together.

Anyway, that night she phoned me in a half-threatening manner and told me to keep my mouth shut. But before she rang off, her tone changed, and she said she'd consider it a favor if I didn't say anything and she would return the favor if I so wished.

What would you do, Abby, if you were a MAN?

ILLINOIS

DEAR ILLINOIS: If I were a man, I'd tell her she didn't owe me any favors, and because I was also a gentleman, she didn't have to tell me to keep my mouth shut.

DEAR ABBY: Seven months ago I lost my first baby. He was only 6 weeks old. It left me heartbroken.

In the last six months, five members of my husband's family have become pregnant, and pregnancies have become the No. 1 topic at all our family gatherings.

I am very happy for those concerned, but it also makes me feel very sad and uncomfortable to sit among five expectant mothers. It brings back so many painful memories I would rather forget. I realize that these conversations weren't meant to depress me, but they do. I have tried hard to overcome my feelings of envy and resentment, but have decided that the best thing to do is just stay away from these family gatherings.

My husband thinks I'm being childish and self-pitying. What do you think? How can I solve my problem?

RAGGEDY ANN

DEAR ANN: Your feelings of envy, resentment and depression are understandable, but only by facing life's disappointments and learning to cope with them will you grow strong enough to overcome them. You may need professional help as you turn the corner. It's worth a try.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is my love life. I'm only 16, but I know a lot for my age.

My boyfriend heard a lot of dirty rumors about me at the pool hall and he believes them. Those rumors are not true, but he wouldn't even let me explain.

How can I get him back?

HURT HEART

DEAR HURT: If he believes those dirty rumors, you probably can't.

A little unasked-for-advice, honey: A boy who would write you off without giving you a chance to explain isn't worth the heartache. Forget him.

Karen's Mother Joins Organization

LANDING, N.J. (AP) — Karen Anne Quinlan's mother, who pleaded with the courts to "pull the plug" on her comatose daughter's respirator so she could die with dignity, has been inducted into an organization that gives psychological counseling to people dying of cancer.

After months of litigation, the New Jersey Supreme Court in March gave Julia and Joseph Quinlan the right to remove a respirator from their 22-year-old daughter. She has been given no chance of regaining consciousness, but she has survived.

Drilling Pace Up In Texas

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Deep South Texas led the state in wildcat drilling for oil and gas wells during the last half of October, the railroad commission reported Thursday.

The commission said 22 wildcat oil wells were drilled in the state Oct. 15-31 for a yearly total of 460, or 75 more than in the first 10 months of 1975.

The new oil wildcats—or discovery wells—included five in South Texas; four each near Refugio and in southeast and west central Texas; two each in the San Antonio and San Angelo areas and one in North Texas.

A total of 49 wildcat gas wells were drilled in the two-week period for a yearly total of 787, an increase of 139 from this time last year.

The wildcat gas wells included 16 in South Texas; 13 near Refugio; five each in southeast and East Texas; three near San Angelo; two each in west central Texas and the Midland area; and one each near San Antonio and in east central and North Texas.

The commission said a total of 6,158 oil wells have been completed this year, an increase of 391 over the first 10 months of 1975. A total of 3,577 gas wells have been completed, an increase of 787 over this time last year.

Author Candidly Discusses Life After Breast Surgery

By JOY STILLEY
AP Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Betty Rollin can talk calmly now about having had a breast removed — a straightforward term that she prefers to the "euphemistic mastectomy."

But it was different 18 months ago when the writer, network correspondent for NBC News and former columnist for Look magazine learned that the lump was probably cancer.

"First, You Cry," admits Miss Rollin, who has written a book by that title describing with poignancy and humor what she went through physically and emotionally after that.

"It spilled out," she said, discussing her decision to write about the experience. "I was so stunned by the event I just started to write things down to make some sense of it. The journalist in me began observing me experiencing things. It wasn't only awful — it was also fascinating and the writer in me kept noticing the fascinating things.

"Betty Rollin the person felt sad but Betty Rollin the writer went to the typewriter," she added, conceding that it was difficult to tell "a whole lot of stuff about myself I don't love having people know." But she came to the conclusion that it was worth it for two reasons:

BETTY ROLLIN

"I feel very good that it's an honest book and as such it's bound to help other women; also, it makes me feel far less isolated with my problem."

Even before she wrote the book she made no effort to hide the fact of the surgery. She reports that men "tend not to want to hear about it and shift uncomfortably in their chair" but that women have been sympathetic although she detects an "I'm glad it's not me" attitude.

The petite, dark-haired Miss Rollin, wearing a turquoise shirt dress open at the throat, with a silver bracelet and silver earrings, said she felt absolutely no resentment that it happened to her.

"I read the papers and know the awful things that happen to people," she said. "I hated it, but how could I feel this wasn't fair? I still consider myself a fortunate person. It's a liability but not as bad as other liabilities like being stupid or ugly."

Miss Rollin, 40, has since been divorced from author Arthur Herzog but says that the operation led to the divorce only in that "I felt suddenly in a hurry to be happy. We're all going to die but maybe I was going to die sooner than other folks.

"If I hadn't had breast cancer maybe I'd have endured it (the marriage) either forever or at least longer. But I wasn't in the mood to endure. I was in the mood to gratify."

Her attempt to "gratify" led her to leave her husband to live with another man, an arrangement that didn't work out.

"Things like guilt, convention, sense of honor, justice, morality, suddenly fell in the face of my sudden need to have a really instantly happy and marvelous life," she said, explaining the episode.

Miss Rollin, who says she liked being married, doesn't foreclose the possibility of marrying again and adds that the publication of her book has solved the problem of whether or when to "tell" a potential husband.

As for how it has changed her life, she says, "The corny things are really true. If you've had a semibrush with death it does make you value life more; you wake up and feel grateful to be alive; you pay more attention to pleasure and pay less attention to small difficulties and irritations.

"I do value people I love and people who love me and I know who they are now. I feel good about myself that I've gotten through something I hadn't expected and I didn't crumble except for a day or two here and there."

She says she can't understand women being afraid of self-examination or seeing a doctor about a lump — not doing "something that will save your life.

"I still have bad moments when I go to the beach and see women in teeny-weeny bikinis. I still swallow hard. And I'm hypochondriacal. If something hurts I think I have cancer of the left earlobe.

"Aside from that I'm okay. I really am."

ON THE HOUSE

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Buying an old house? An old, old house? Let's say, one built before 1914?

Some persons are. Old, old houses that were proverbial white elephants for years and years are being looked over and bought with the purpose of restoring them. It's getting to be an almost "in" thing to acquire a very old house and put it back into livable shape. But if you find one that enchants you, better be sure you have enough time and money to follow through. The less time you have, the more money you need. The less money you have, the more time you'll need, whether you are doing all or part of the work yourself. As Clem Labine, editor of the Old-House Journal puts it, "While restoring an old house can be an exciting and creative process, it can also be a money-gobbling trap for the unwary."

An evaluation by a professional house inspector, who may charge anywhere between $50 and $150, is a sound investment when you are considering a purchase. Until you find a house that appears to warrant such an inspection, a knowledge of what to look for will enable you to weed out the definitely undesirable structures.

That's easier said than done, since there are literally dozens and dozens of defects in the mechanical and structural systems of a house that can cause headaches. The trick is to know which can be fixed with a reasonable outlay of time and money and which are better forgotten.

A checklist compiled by Labine's publication gives 73 hints about inspecting a pre-1914 house. Here are a few of them:

—Look for signs of damp plaster, especially on top-floor ceilings, the inside of exterior walls and the ceilings and partitions under bathrooms, since these can indicate leaks from roofs or internal pipes.

—Be sure the ground slopes away from the house so that rain water drains off.

—If the outside paint is badly peeling, blistering and curling, it could mean a serious water problem, either a leak or lack of sufficient vapor barriers.

—Missing, broken or warped shingles on a pitched roof could mean the need for a quick roof replacement.

—Cracks that run vertically through bricks and mortar on a masonry wall are more serious than those that run horizontally.

The complete 73-item checklist can be obtained free from The Old-House Journal, 199 Berkeley Place, Brooklyn, N.Y. 11217.

(An aid to fixing things around the house, Andy Lang's handbook, "Practical Home Repairs," is available by sending $1.50 to this newspaper at Box 5, Teaneck, N.J. 07666.)

Spark's New Book Is In Good Form

THE TAKEOVER. By Muriel Spark. Viking. 266 Pages. $8.95.

The times and the mores are drenched in decadence in Muriel Spark's latest book, "The Takeover."

Mrs. Spark's own mystical blend of religion and the supernatural emerges this time as cult worship near modern day Rome, reminiscent of the competitive deity factions of the pre-Christian world.

One cult rises up to pay tribute to the legendary Roman goddess of fertility, Diana, while another cult of sorts fawns and feeds upon Maggie Radcliffe Tullio-Friole, a jet-setting American high priestess of the beautiful life and its attendant wealth and power.

Hubert Mallindaine, who claims to be a descendant of Diana, sets up a new "religion" in her honor at Nemi, the grove where the Temple of Diana once stood. At the same time, Hubert mobilizes all of his guile to take over as much of Maggie's fortune as possible.

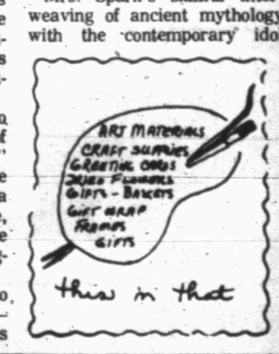

Maggie has something to tempt just about everyone — original art, priceless antiques and jewels for the stealing; houses, land and corporations for the swindling; and a lover and husband for the luring — and most of the characters get into the action.

And the action is there but it's subtle. It borders on the complex and the sophisticated in setting, characters and language. The excitement of wondering whether Maggie will be completely consumed in a frenzy of money and power-crazed madness lasts throughout "The Takeover."

Mrs. Spark's skillful interweaving of ancient mythology with the contemporary idol worship of the super-rich and the would-be rich makes for original and absorbing reading.

Her concept of decadence here moves beyond a portrayal of a group of characters and their lifestyle.

Hank Snow Sets Benefit Concert

CLEVELAND, Tenn. (AP) — Country music star Hank Snow will hold a concert here Dec. 9 to benefit abused children, the Bradlee County sheriff's office says.

Snow had written Gov. Ray Blanton and the sheriff, deploring the beating death of 4-year-old Melisha Gibson. Sgt. Robert Lawson wrote back asking Snow to give a concert with proceeds going to build a new shelter for abused children.

"Hank Snow called, told us just to set a date and get a location, and he and some of his friends would be here," Sgt. Lawson said Thursday. "He said he had been on tour in western Canada and had just come home to find our letter."

Lawson said he has reserved the 4,500 seat Cleveland State Community College field house for the concert Dec. 9.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

The late Sonny Moyse, longtime editor of the Bridge World magazine, was one of the most exciting players. He would have been one of the greatest, if it were not for his penchant for taking some action on every hand. Here is one of his triumphs.

It was a pair tournament. Moyse sat West and decided that he just could not let North play at two diamonds. After all Sonny was looking at 13 high-card points and a five-card club suit. However he had to go to the three level to bid clubs. He could bid hearts at the two level and did just that. East might well have raised to three, but East knew something about Sonny's bidding and passed.

South looked at his two aces and decided to try two notrump. Sonny doubled! He didn't want East trying three hearts. Everyone passed and Sonny opened the king of clubs. Since the doubleton queen-10 appeared in dummy and no one held four clubs, Sonny collected five club tricks.

Meanwhile, South discarded down to two queens and six diamonds in dummy. He was going to make his contract if diamonds broke.

Diamonds failed to break for him and he was held to four tricks so East and West scored 1100 points.

Ask the Jacobys

A Pennsylvania reader wants to know the meaning of a four-spade opening bid.

The answer is that it means whatever the partnership wants it to, but practically all experts, including the Jacobys, use it to show a hand such as

♠ A K Q J x x x x ♥ x x x ♦ x ♣ x

or

♠ K Q J 10 x x x x ♥ x x ♦ x ♣ A x.

In other words, eight playing tricks and not too much in high cards.

Briscoe Expected To Run Again

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — A source close to Gov. Dolph Briscoe says he thinks the govenor's mind is made up to seek a third term.

Briscoe has refused to divulge his 1978 political plans, always adding that he likes the gubernatorial job, finds it challenging and "it's a lot of fun."

"He is feeling particularly good since the presidential election and I think his mind is made up," the source told the Associated Press Thursday.

"Three of his top aides are in the process of buying houses in Austin and he told another today to go ahead with retirement plans (that included another four-year term).

"What does that tell you?" the source said.

Briscoe spent most of the past three weeks on the campaign trail throughout Texas in support of Jimmy Carter.

The governor issued a statement Wednesday saying he was delighted that Texas gave Gov. Carter a good majority. The spirit of the Texas Democratic Party this year was one of unity and determination to elect a Democratic president."

Briscoe added that "now is the time for all of us to help the President-elect initiate the new administration in the most effective manner possible. We have an opportunity to achieve greater progress and prosperity for the nation and strong leadership for the free world."

Briscoe said Oct. 8 in Dallas that he had not decided whether to run for another term but State COP Calvin Guest a few minutes later said that he was convinced Briscoe would seek another term.

The governor's wife, Janey, has been quoted as saying she thinks her husband will run again in 1978.

Will Rogers' Timeless Remarks Heard At Event

By DOUG HICKS
Tulsa Daily World

CLAREMORE, Okla. (AP) — The ghost of Will Rogers spoke out Thursday, touching on presidential politics, liquor by the drink and death.

Of course, not everyone heard him. Only those who had sought refuge in the reading room of the spacious Will Rogers Memorial.

Outside that room, the hoopla of the famed humorist's 97th birthday party was in full swing with music, songs and speeches.

But inside that room, Will's timeless remarks wafted through the still air.

He reminisced about the campaigns of President Ford and his successor, Gov. Jimmy Carter.

"The minute either one of those candidates started going into them states, they would lose'em or pretty near lose'em.

"I would have liked to have seen how this election would have gone if both guys had gone to Europe or some other place after the nominations.I bet it would have been a tie." (Nov. 18, 1928).

He alluded to the anxiety being felt during the transition from a Republican president to a Democrat.

"The Democrats hope they will do something, but they fear they won't. They hope 50 per cent and they fear 50 (per cent). Now, you can't be any more fair than that, can you?" (March 5, 1933).

To the Republicans who are downhearted because Ford lost, Will said: "So what's the use of having your own president? I would rather be able to criticize a man than to have to apologize for him." (March 18, 1923).

And to those who would have complained regardless of which candidate won: "Every time we have an election, we get in worse men and the country keeps right on going. Times have proven one thing and that is you can't ruin this country ever, with politics." (Nov. 4, 1928).

Will added: "Political elections,..are a good deal like marriages, there's no accounting for anyone's taste." (May 10, 1925).

Typically, he had some advice to lend to the incoming chief executive: "Popularity is the easiest thing in the world to gain and it is the hardest thing to hold." (May 18, 1930).

And, just for fun, Will defined a Democrat: "He is a fellow who never had any (money) but doesn't see any reason why he shouldn't have some." (March 26, 1933).

Will, incidentally, didn't vote Tuesday or on any other election day:

"Nope, if this country goes to the bow-wows there ain't no one can blame me for it. I keep saying I'm a Democrat, but I ain't. I just pretend to be 'cause Democrats are funny and I'm supposed to be." (Jan. 26, 1933).

As for Oklahoma's defeated liquor-by-the-drink proposal, and rumors that some avowed wets voted dry:

"Democrats and Republicans know there is more wet votes than there is dry votes. That shows right there the whole thing is not on the level." (date unavailable).

After the speeches were made and the songs were sung Thursday, the Pocahontas Women's Club—of which Will was an honorary member—traditionally placed a wreath on his tomb on the memorial grounds here.

"Why is it the good ones are the ones that go? That's one thing about an ornery guy, you never hear of him dying. He is into everything else but a coffin." (Jan. 25, 1931).

Will recalled how he had wanted his epitaph to say something about his never meeting a man he didn't like. And, of course, he got his wish.

"When you come to my grave you will find me sitting there, proudly reading it." (June 16,1930).

For those who looked hard enough, he was there

WICHITA FALLS STUMPED

Prowling Bear Nabbed

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) — Finding a prowling bear in Wichita Falls is like finding a rattlesnake at the North Pole — it's just not supposed to happen.

It happened.

The bear was first reported by Mrs. Oleta Peevey, whose dogs began barking and awakened her early Thursday.

"I heard a noise like a screen tearing," Mrs. Peevey said. "I pulled back the curtains and I saw a bear at my window with its paws on the screen."

Mrs. Peevey called police.

By the time the police arrived, the bear had crossed the street to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Metcalf.

Mrs. Metcalf roused Mr. Metcalf from slumber. "There is a bear scratching at the back door," she said.

Mr. Metcalf leaped from bed to investigate. Meanwhile, the wily bear ambled around the house to the front door, where he was trying to claw his way into the house.

The police prowl car pulled up. The bear crawled under the Metcalf fence and began gnawing at the police car's side mirror. It then located some feed barrels in the Metcalf garage and went after them.

Police figured the bear was a cub, weighing in at between 150 and 200 pounds.

Officer Jerry Hankins came up with a plan. He opened the back door of the patrol car and shouted at the bear. The bear rushed the car and climbed into the seat with Hankins, who quickly bailed out and locked the door after securing the divider between the front and back seats.

On the way to the humane society, the bear tore up $84 worth of the back seat.

By late Thursday no one knew from whence came the bear, which was being held until someone figured out what to do with it.

There are no zoos in Wichita Falls and no circuses were known to be in the area.

PAUL ASKS RECOUNT

Gammage Wins In District 22

DALLAS (AP) — Confusion over the congressional District 22 race ended Thursday, with Democrat Bob Gammage apparently defeating Republican incumbent Ron Paul, according to final unofficial figures released by the Texas election Bureau.

Returns as late as Wednesday night showed Paul with a 10,000-vote lead but a TEB official said Thursday that the figures were wrong because of some confusion in Houston's election central reporting office.

Paul has asked for a recount.

The 22nd district takes in all of Fort Bend and Brazoria Counties and parts of Harris and Waller Counties. Parts of Houston and all of Pasadana, Freeport, Angleton and the area known collectively as Brazosport are also included.

Gammage and Paul battled back and forth Tuesday as returns began coming in. Final unofficial TEB returns the next day showed Paul, the incumbent, with a 10,000 vote lead.

TEB officials stuck by their figures and it was not discovered until early Thursday that Election Central had apparently been phoning TEB the district results which were interpreted in Dallas to be only the vote from Harris County.

"Houston was reporting the whole damn thing when we've told them not to do that," said TEB manager Bob Johnson. "Right now, we're showingverything in the district complete except for a box or two in Harris County."

Johnson said TEB was receiving figures from Houston as well as Brazoria, Waller and Fort Bend county officials, then adding them together.

The totals erroneously gave Paul, a physician from Lake Jackson, 138,161 votes to Gammage's 128,324. Johnson acknowledged Thursday that Election Central figures giving Gammage 96,422 votes districtwide to Paul's 96,328 were correct, though still unofficial.

Neither candidate was apparently aware of the upstate mixup.

Hearing Set On Gas Order

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — A Dec. 13 public hearing will be held on a proposed Railroad Commission order that would change the method of prorating Texas gas production, the commission said Thursday.

The proposed order calls for the use of both producer forecasts and purchaser nominations in determining gas allowables.

Variances between producer forecasts and purchaser nominations as filed with the commission would be adjusted to the more accurate figure and a filing party would be called upon to explain his variation.

The announcement said the proposed order includes most of the recommendations of a commission-named advisory committee which studied Texas gas proration procedures for several months.

Preceeding the committee study, a public hearing was held last May on a commission proposal to switch from producer forecasts to purchaser nominations in setting gas allowables.

PETERSON RAMBLES—Snyder High School's Clay Peterson (40) gets loose from the grasp of a would-be Dunbar tackler during the Dustrict 3-AAA football clash at Lubbock last night. Blocking for him is Greg Pavlik (62). The host Panthers won, 14-6, to keep alive their hopes for a share of the district crown. (SDN Staff Photo).

Panthers Use Tricky Play For 14-6 Victory

LUBBOCK—Halloween was over, but the Lucky opps Lubbock Lubbock Dunbar Panthers dug into their bag of tricks and also used an intercepted pass to beat the Snyder High School Tigers, 14-6, here Thursday night in a District 3-AAA football contest.

The victory leaves Dunbar with a 6-1-2 season record and a 4-1 district record while Snyder is 5-4 for the season and 2-3 in district play. Dunbar could tie for the district championship if they beat Lake View next week.

That trick play the Panthers used occurred on the first play from scrimmage and it netted them a touchdown. It was the old "swinging gate" play. All of the Panthers stood around a few yards to the west of the football while their center calmly walked over and centered the ball deep and sideways to halfback Dennis Gentry. Suddenly the whole Panther team took off towards the west sidelines blocking for Gentry. The Tigers were caught flat-footed and Gentry made it all the way to the end zone for a touchdown with only 28 seconds expired in the quarter. Gentry's kick for extra point missed.

All of the scoring occurred in the first quarter. The Tigers took the ensuing kickoff and drove 75 yards in 10 plays for a touchdown. They had to work for their six points. Falls lost three back to the Tiger 25 as the drive got underway. On the next play, Clay Peterson gained 11 to the 36, then Falls kept for two to the 38, then Peterson gained four to the 42 for a first down. Peterson carried again, this time charging for eight to the 50. Ricky Beard crashed through for nine to the Panther 41, then the Tiger fullback romped for 23 to the 18. Peterson scooted through a hole for nine to the nine yard line. After an incomplete pass, Beard plunged for four more to set up first and goal at the five. Quarterback Tim Falls then lofted an aerial to the west side of the end zone and it floated down into the arms of David Rice for a touchdown. Tracey Witherspoon's extra point kick was wide with 7:06 remaining, but the Tigers had tied it up 6-6.

The Panthers took the following kickoff and drove from their 20 to the Tiger 38 before losing a fumble. Most of the yardage in the drive was turned in by fullback Bruce McKnight and halfback Kenneth James. The Tigers took over at their 32, and on the second play from scrimmage, Gentry intercepted a pass at the Tiger 35. He returned it all the way into the end zone as the Panthers took a 12-6 lead with 4:20 remaining. James skirted right end for the two bonus points and the final points of the contest.

In the second quarter, with Peterson and Beard doing the ball carrying, the Tigers drove from their 16 to the Dunbar 45, but a 5-yard penalty nullified a 20 yard run by Peterson and the drive fizzled out.

Later in the second quarter, Snyder marched from its 32 to the Panther 14 yard line with Peterson and Ricky Beard doing the chores again. But, a fourth down pass fell incomplete, and the Panthers staved off what looked like a sure touchdown drive.

With Peterson, Falls and Beard lugging the leather, the Tigers crossed mid-field again in the third quarter, driving from their 23 to the Panther 46, but this drive was halted too.

Later in the period, a 30 yard punt return by James Wells put the Tigers in business at the Panther 33. Peterson gained four to the 29 on first down, and a five yard peantly put them on the Dunbar 24, but a fumble on the next play stopped the drive.

Snyder also marched from its 39 to the Panther 32 in the fourth quarter, but Falls was spilled behind the line of scrimmage with a fast pass rush and this drive too was halted.

Witherspoon punted for the Tigers on fourth down, and Ramsey Tercero came up with a fumble recovery on the play at the Dunbar six yard line. On first down, Ricky Beard plunged into the center of the line. He was hit hard about the same time he got the ball, and the ball fell out of his arms and bounded into the end zone. Dunbar recovered in the end zone to halt what appeared to be a sure touchdown for the Tigers.

Dunbar intercepted a pass at their 23 late in the game and drove out to the Tiger five yard line before the final gun sounded. Big play in the drive was a 29 yard run by Gentry from the Tiger 44 to the Snyder 15.

The Tiger line opened gaping holes in Snyder's touchdown drive, and it appeared the Tigers had gained the momentum necessary to carry them to victory. But most of the yardage gained after that was in the middle of the field. Dunbar is extremely tough on their home field.

Gentry was the game's leading ball carrier thanks to the trick play. He gained 134 yards rushing on 10 carries. Ricky Beard gained 96 paces for Snyder on 14 carries, and Clay Peterson turned in 92 yards on 15 efforts.

The Tigers close the season next Friday night at Brownfield.

Porkers Are 7 Point Favorites

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
AP Sports Writer

Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles says the Southwest Conference football race could end Dec. 4 with five teams tied for the title.

"It will be a horse race to the wire," says Broyles whose Razorbacks tackle rested Baylor in Waco Saturday afternoon. "Everybody is so close it's possible a team with two conference losses could go to the Cotton Bowl. We could have five teams with 62-records.

"We have five teams in the top 20 right now and I've been around the conference 30 years and we've never had that happen. Balance is strength and right now the conference is balanced and strong."

The Razorbacks were seven-point favorites over the Bears who will have been idle 21 days.

Baylor Coach Grant Teaff doesn't know what to think about the layoff, saying "I think it's the greatest thing that ever happened to Baylor football. I'll figure out why later."

Broyles believes a two-week rest is good to "mentally refresh" a team. Arkansas came off a long layoff to whip Houston 14-7.

"The toughest thing on a football team is the mental discipline because of the pressure-cooker type of living conditions that athletes are under once the season begins," says Broyles. "The layoff gives a release from this. It refreshes the players and brings them back eager to learn with their minds sharper.

"Also you get a chance to work on fundamentals and rest your injured players."

Broyles said his young sophomore quarterback, Ron Calcagni, needed the extra work and is "Really coming into his own. Also, we got two injured players back."

Broyles added "Of course, there are minuses if you don't scrimmage. You tend to get a little rusty."

In other games Saturday, Texas Tech was a four-touchdown choice to remain as the nation's fifth ranked team against the winless Horned Frogs at Fort Worth; Texas was a field goal pick to defeat speedy Houston in Memorial Stadium; and Southern Methodist was a four-point favorite over Rice.

The Longhorns will hope to keep intact their winning streak that began after a 20-20 tie with Houston in 1968. The Longhorns have won 42 straight games in Austin since then. The last defeat was to Texas Christian in 1967.

Tech and Arkansas own 3-0 SWC ledgers. Houston is 4-1 and Texas is 2-1. Texas A&M is 3-2 and Baylor 1-2. Rice, SMU and TCU each have four league losses.

Dusters Game Re-Scheduled

The WTC Dusters basketball game with McMurry College, originally scheduled for Nov. 12, has been re-scheduled for Nov. 10, Dr. Sid Simpson, WTC Athletic Director and Women's Coach, has announced.

Because the McMurry team is not ready for competition at this time, the match will be termed a game-scrimmage, Simpson said. Since the meet was on the WTC printed schedule and was listed with the NJCAA office, it will be counted on the records for both team and individual statistics by WTC.

The game will be played at 6 p.m. in the Hunt Gym on the McMurry campus.

The Dusters are scheduled to play Baylor in Waco on Nov. 16. The first home game of the season will be on Nov. 19 when the Dusters host San Angelo.

Cowboys Favored By 27 Points Over New York

NEW YORK (AP) — Let's talk about points this week.

In the last two weeks, the Pittsburgh Steelers, trying to turn their National Football League season around, have not allowed any. In the last two weeks, the New York Giants, trying only to survive, have not scored any.

And that is why the Pittsburgh Steelers are succeeding at their task and the New York Giants are failing at theirs.

The Steelers have not allowed a touchdown in winning their last three games and now have squared their season record at 4-4. That leaves them in a three-way tie with Houston and Cleveland, two games behind Cincinnati in the American Conference Central Division.

On the agenda this week are the Kansas City Chiefs who have won three of their last four games, but none of them against Steelers-type teams.

The Giants, on the other hand, have not scored a point in the last 10 periods. Consecutive shutouts against Pittsburgh and Philadelphia mark the first time that has happened to the Giants since 1932. Winless in eight games, the Giants must deal this Sunday with Dallas, the National Conference East leaders.

The Cowboys are tough on good teams and the Giants have not been very good. Neither for that matter was the Pro Picket last week. A lackluster 8-6 record made the season's mark 75-36-1, a .676 percentage.

The picks:

Pittsburgh 33, Kansas City 7

The shutout string ends, but the victories go on for the Steelers. Six more wins would make them 10-4 and they think that will be good enough for a playoff berth. The Chiefs have improved, but they are not in Pittsburgh's class.

Dallas 41, NY Giants 14

There's no good reason to expect the Giants to score two touchdowns. But there are all sorts of good reasons to expect the Cowboys to bomb New York. The Giants defense is about ready to collapse from supporting the absent offense. This is the perfect spot for it to happen.

Chicago 21, Oakland 17

Label this the Upset Special. Coach Jack Pardee has the Bears believing they can beat anybody, and after kayoing previously unbeaten Minnesota last week, maybe they can. The Raiders are three games ahead in the AFC West and could lose interest in this inter-conference match.

San Francisco 27, Washington 14

The wear and tear is starting to show on the elderly Redskins. The 49ers have one of the best pass rushes in the NFL and that should keep Billy Kilmer and Joe Theisman on the run.

Baltimore 30, San Diego 10

The Colts may be the best team in the NFL right now. Lydell Mitchell and Bert Jones key an explosive offense that never seems to let up.

Minnesota 23, Detroit 17

The Lions have to win to create an NFC Central race. Minnesota won't let that happen, certainly not at home.

Cleveland 20, Houston 17

Another upset pick. Both teams are tied in the AFC Central with 4-4 records. But Houston still is licking its Monday night wounds inflicted by Baltimore. The extra day's rest is worth three points and a victory for Cleveland.

Miami 24, NY Jets 10

The Jets have lost nine of the last 10 games against Miami and the Dolphins, now 4-4, still figure they can get to the playoffs. Count New York as one more stepping stone on that path.

St. Louis 27, Philadelphia 13

The cardiac Cards were at it again with last week's overtime victory against San Francisco. Jim Bakken provided the winning points with a 21-yard field goal. The Eagles will be easier.

New England 20, Buffalo 14

Go figure the Patriots. They looked like world-beaters early in the season, but then last week they looked just beat against Miami. O.J. Simpson can't run for 166 yards every week and that was the only offense the Bills could generate against the Jets.

Atlanta 17, Seattle 7

Look for Scott Hunter to call the signals for the Falcons. He steered them to victory over New Orleans in the second half last week. The Seahawks still are learning to play together.

Green Bay 23, New Orleans 14

Don't mistake either of these clubs for a powerhouse. Packers lost three straight, won three straight and now have dropped their last two. Saints also are having problems, with three straight setbacks. Stay with the Saints' streak.

Denver 33, Tampa Bay 6

Look for the Broncos to bounce back after losing last week to Oakland. Tampa Bay, meanwhile, just keeps bouncing every week.

Cincinnati 24, Los Angeles 20

A Monday night goodie for Mongo and his friends. We like the Bengals for no special reason, other than they are at home and have James Harris, Pat Haden or Ron Jaworski at quarterback.

No Probe By NCAA

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — The National Collegiate Athletic Association is not conducting an official investigation of the University of Oklahoma football program, the university said Thursday.

Dr. Paul F. Sharp, in a telegram Wednesday to Walter Byers, executive director of the NCAA, had asked that the NCAA state "in plain language whether or not the University of Oklahoma is under official investigation by NCAA as required by Section 3 of the official procedure governing the NCAA enforcement program."

A statement released by the university's media information office Thursday said that Byers sent a return telegram stating, "As to your question pertaining to Section 3, the answer is no."

VOX POPULI IS NOT VOX DEI

Vox Populi is not Vox Dei. Which is to say that the voice of the people is not the voice of God.

Elijah did not hear the voice of God in the wind, the earthquake or the fire, yet those are the voices heard throughout the world today. Winds of war, ethical earthquakes, and fires of fanaticism—all seem to signal Divinity's profound anger at humanity.

Not so, not necessarily, anyway. The strident voices of maddened mobs do not reflect God's attitudes toward His creation. "God is love" is the message He wants proclaimed. His voice is the still, small voice of the shepherd who said, "My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me, and I give unto them eternal life, and they shall never perish, and neither shall anyone snatch them out of my hand. My father, who has given them to me, is greater than all; and no one is able to snatch them out of the Father's hand. My Father and I are one!" (John 10:27-30).

Vox Dei!

Dr. Lamb

Trim weight to help heart

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB—I have been diagnosed as having "chronic ischemic heart disease with hypertension." I would appreciate your definition of the word "ischemia" and I would like to have any suggestions in regard to the treatment and diet for this disease.

I am 75 years old, a retired lady with a weight of 150 pounds. I am sure this is too much weight for a person who is 5 feet 1.

Presently I am taking hydrodiuril and Aldomet. Are these two medicines adequate for this heart disease?

DEAR READER—Ischemia is a word for inadequate blood flow. The term is now used frequently to indicate there is an obstruction in the coronary arteries to your heart muscle. The obstruction is from the buildup of fatty-cholesterol deposits in the arteries.

This condition leads to inadequate amounts of oxygen being delivered to the heart muscle and at the same time permits the accumulation of carbon dioxide in the heart cells. It is the common form of heart disease these days.

The Hydrodiuril is to help you eliminate salt and with it excess water from the body. It helps to lower blood pressure in many cases. The Aldomet is a more specific treatment for elevated blood pressure.

These medicines help your heart indirectly by controlling your blood pressure. The high blood pressure increases the deposits of fatty-cholesterol substances in the arteries and also works the heart harder.

You are absolutely right about your weight. If you can get rid of every last pound of extra fat you will decrease your blood pressure and the work on your heart.

I am sending you The Health Letter number 1-3, Diet, Preventing Atherosclerosis. If you will follow these diet priciples and also cut your calories down until you can lose your excess weight you can do a lot for yourself. Others who want this information can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Just send your letter to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB—If a woman has non-invasive carcinoma in situ of the cervix would this necessitate the removal of the uterus—the reports showing the uterus is clear?

DEAR READER—That's a sticky question. Carcinoma in situ is a relatively benign superficial cancer of the surface of the cervix, sometimes overlapping onto the adjacent walls of the vagina and sometimes extending into the opening of the cervix.

It is usually clearly separated from the normal cells. In some ways it is similar to skin cancer—it grows slowly. The problem is that a fairly high percentage of women with these fairly benign cell changes later develop characteristic invasive cancer of the cervix.

There is no clear cut agreement among gynecologists on the proper treatment. And more importantly, no one answer will fit all cases. With sufficient biopsies or removal of a conical section the doctor can be more certain there are no hidden areas of invasive cancer.

The age of the patient and desire to have additional children is also a consideration. If the changes are minimal and easily removed a young woman may be justified in not undergoing a hysterectomy until later but she must be carefully supervised. An older woman, particularly if there is evidence of other disease in the uterus as well, is probably better off to have a complete hysterectomy.

Book Pushing Plain Cooking

MURPHYSBORO, Ill. (AP) — While America munches frozen dinners and such exotic dishes as Lobster Thermidor and Chicken Tetrazzini, Helen Walker Linsenmeyer evangelizes for simple fare.

The 70-year-old librarian is hoping to capitalize on what she calls "the nostalgia binge" with her new book: "Cooking Plain."

"There are no elaborate, fancy recipes such as we have today," she said. Instead, her recipes, saved from generations of Southern Illinois, Indiana and Missouri families, feature the kind of fare that kept the settlers alive — fried squirrel, venison roast and molasses taffy.

Her book allows kitchen artists to recreate the mead wine served to militiamen of Jackson County, as well as sumac lemonade, Mrs. Linsenmeyer said. Other recipes tell how to prepare such little-known items as Mushroom Catsup and Peach Leather.

Ford's Committee Selling Furniture At Half Price

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — They're selling the furniture at the President Ford Committee. Half price.

Handsome desks of chrome and walnut. Chairs with casters. Filing cabinets that once contained the plans for keeping the Ford lease on the White House.

The plans failed, of course, and the lease was not renewed. So Ford's campaign committee is shutting up shop, almost.

Until that moment early Wednesday when Mississippi and Wisconsin joined the Carter claque of states, the office was filled not just with furniture but also with optimism. The furniture remains.

In the next few days, the campaign staff of 700 paid workers and hundreds of volunteers will get a letter signed by Ford. "Although ours was not a victory in fact, it was a victory in spirit," it will say. "Together we brought to the American people a new enthusiasm and confidence which had not been seen in the past few years."

A draft copy of the letter contained a heading that it was to be used "if defeated." Presumably there was another that would have been used if only two electoral vote-heavy states had gone the other way.

Only a few days ago, Bill Russo was one of the key strategists of President Ford's election campaign. Now he's helping some of his colleagues find jobs and thinking about getting onto the golf course.

Jim Cochran is director of administration of the President Ford Committee. His immediate concern is disposing of more than $150,000 worth of office furniture.

It won't be much of a problem, he says. It's being offered first to the staff. Law firms have made inquiries. In the end, it will be available for public sale.

At the end of the campaign, the Ford committee occupied floors 2, 5, 7 and 10 of a fancy downtown building, with an equally fancy $17,000 a month rent coming out of the $21.8 million in campaign funds the government gave to both the President and Carter.

With the new campaign finance law, the election is not the end of the committee. That red tape both Ford and Carter flayed during the campaign wraps up up their election effort as well.

As a result, the Ford committee won't go out of existence until some time next year. The Federal Election Commission won't even audit the primary campaign expense sheets until January; the general election much later. A lot of bills aren't in yet.

The committee staff is busy shrinking its quarters from 25,000 feet of space to 2,000 feet.

"We foresee the accounting staff going strong until the end of March," Cochran said. By Nov. 15, however, only the legal and accounting staffs will be left.

Suit Over Power Plant Is Resolved

A lawsuit over installation of a sulfur dioxide screening device in an East Texas Power Plant has been resolved, Texas Electric Service Co. said today.

Texas Utilities Services Inc. (TUSI), a Texas Electric affiliate, has agreed to install a "scrubber" system to remove sulfur dioxide from stack gases from a unit at the Monticello lignite-burning power plant near Mt. Pleasant.

The Monticello plant is jointly owned by Texas Electric Service Co., Dallas Power & Light and Texas Power & Light. All three are part of the Texas Utilities Co. system.

The generating unit in question, third at the Monticello plant, is still under construction. It is scheduled for service in 1978.

Controversy over the plant was initiated in 1975 when Texas Utilities Co. chairman T.L. Austin Jr. told the Texas Air Control Board the company would not voluntarily install the "scrubber" in the Monticello unit. Austin said the scrubber was extremely expensive and was not needed to meet health-related air quality standards.

The state attorney general, acting for the TACB, took the company to court. The suit, filed in Titus County District Court, was dismissed today when TUSI agreed to install the scrubber.

"We still believe the scrubber is not needed and is too costly," Austin said. "But continuing the court fight could cause even more costly delays in construction of the unit."

Austin emphasized that the company's complaints were not aimed at the TACD or the attorney general, but at the arbitrary standards of the federal Environmental Protection Agency, which the board and the attorney general were obligated to enforce.

Bell VP Testifies At Hearing

AUSTIN (AP) — Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. must receive at least 9.5 per cent per year on its investment because it has to compete for capital against firms that earn 14 to 15.5 per cent on common equity, a company official testified Wednesday.

John Hayes, assistant vice president for revenue requirements, gave the testimony at a Public Utilities Commission hearing on Bell's request for a $298.3 million rate increase in Texas.

Officials have estimated the hearing will last about a month and no ruling is expected until early next year.

Hayes said the firm's construction costs have increased by 112 per cent since 1970. Utility companies are highly capital intensive, Hayes said, explaining that this means they require large amounts of money to meet service demands.

The telephone company needs $2.37 in capital to generate $1 in revenue, Hayes said. This compares with some retail firms that require as little as 10 cents to produce $1 in revenue, he continued.

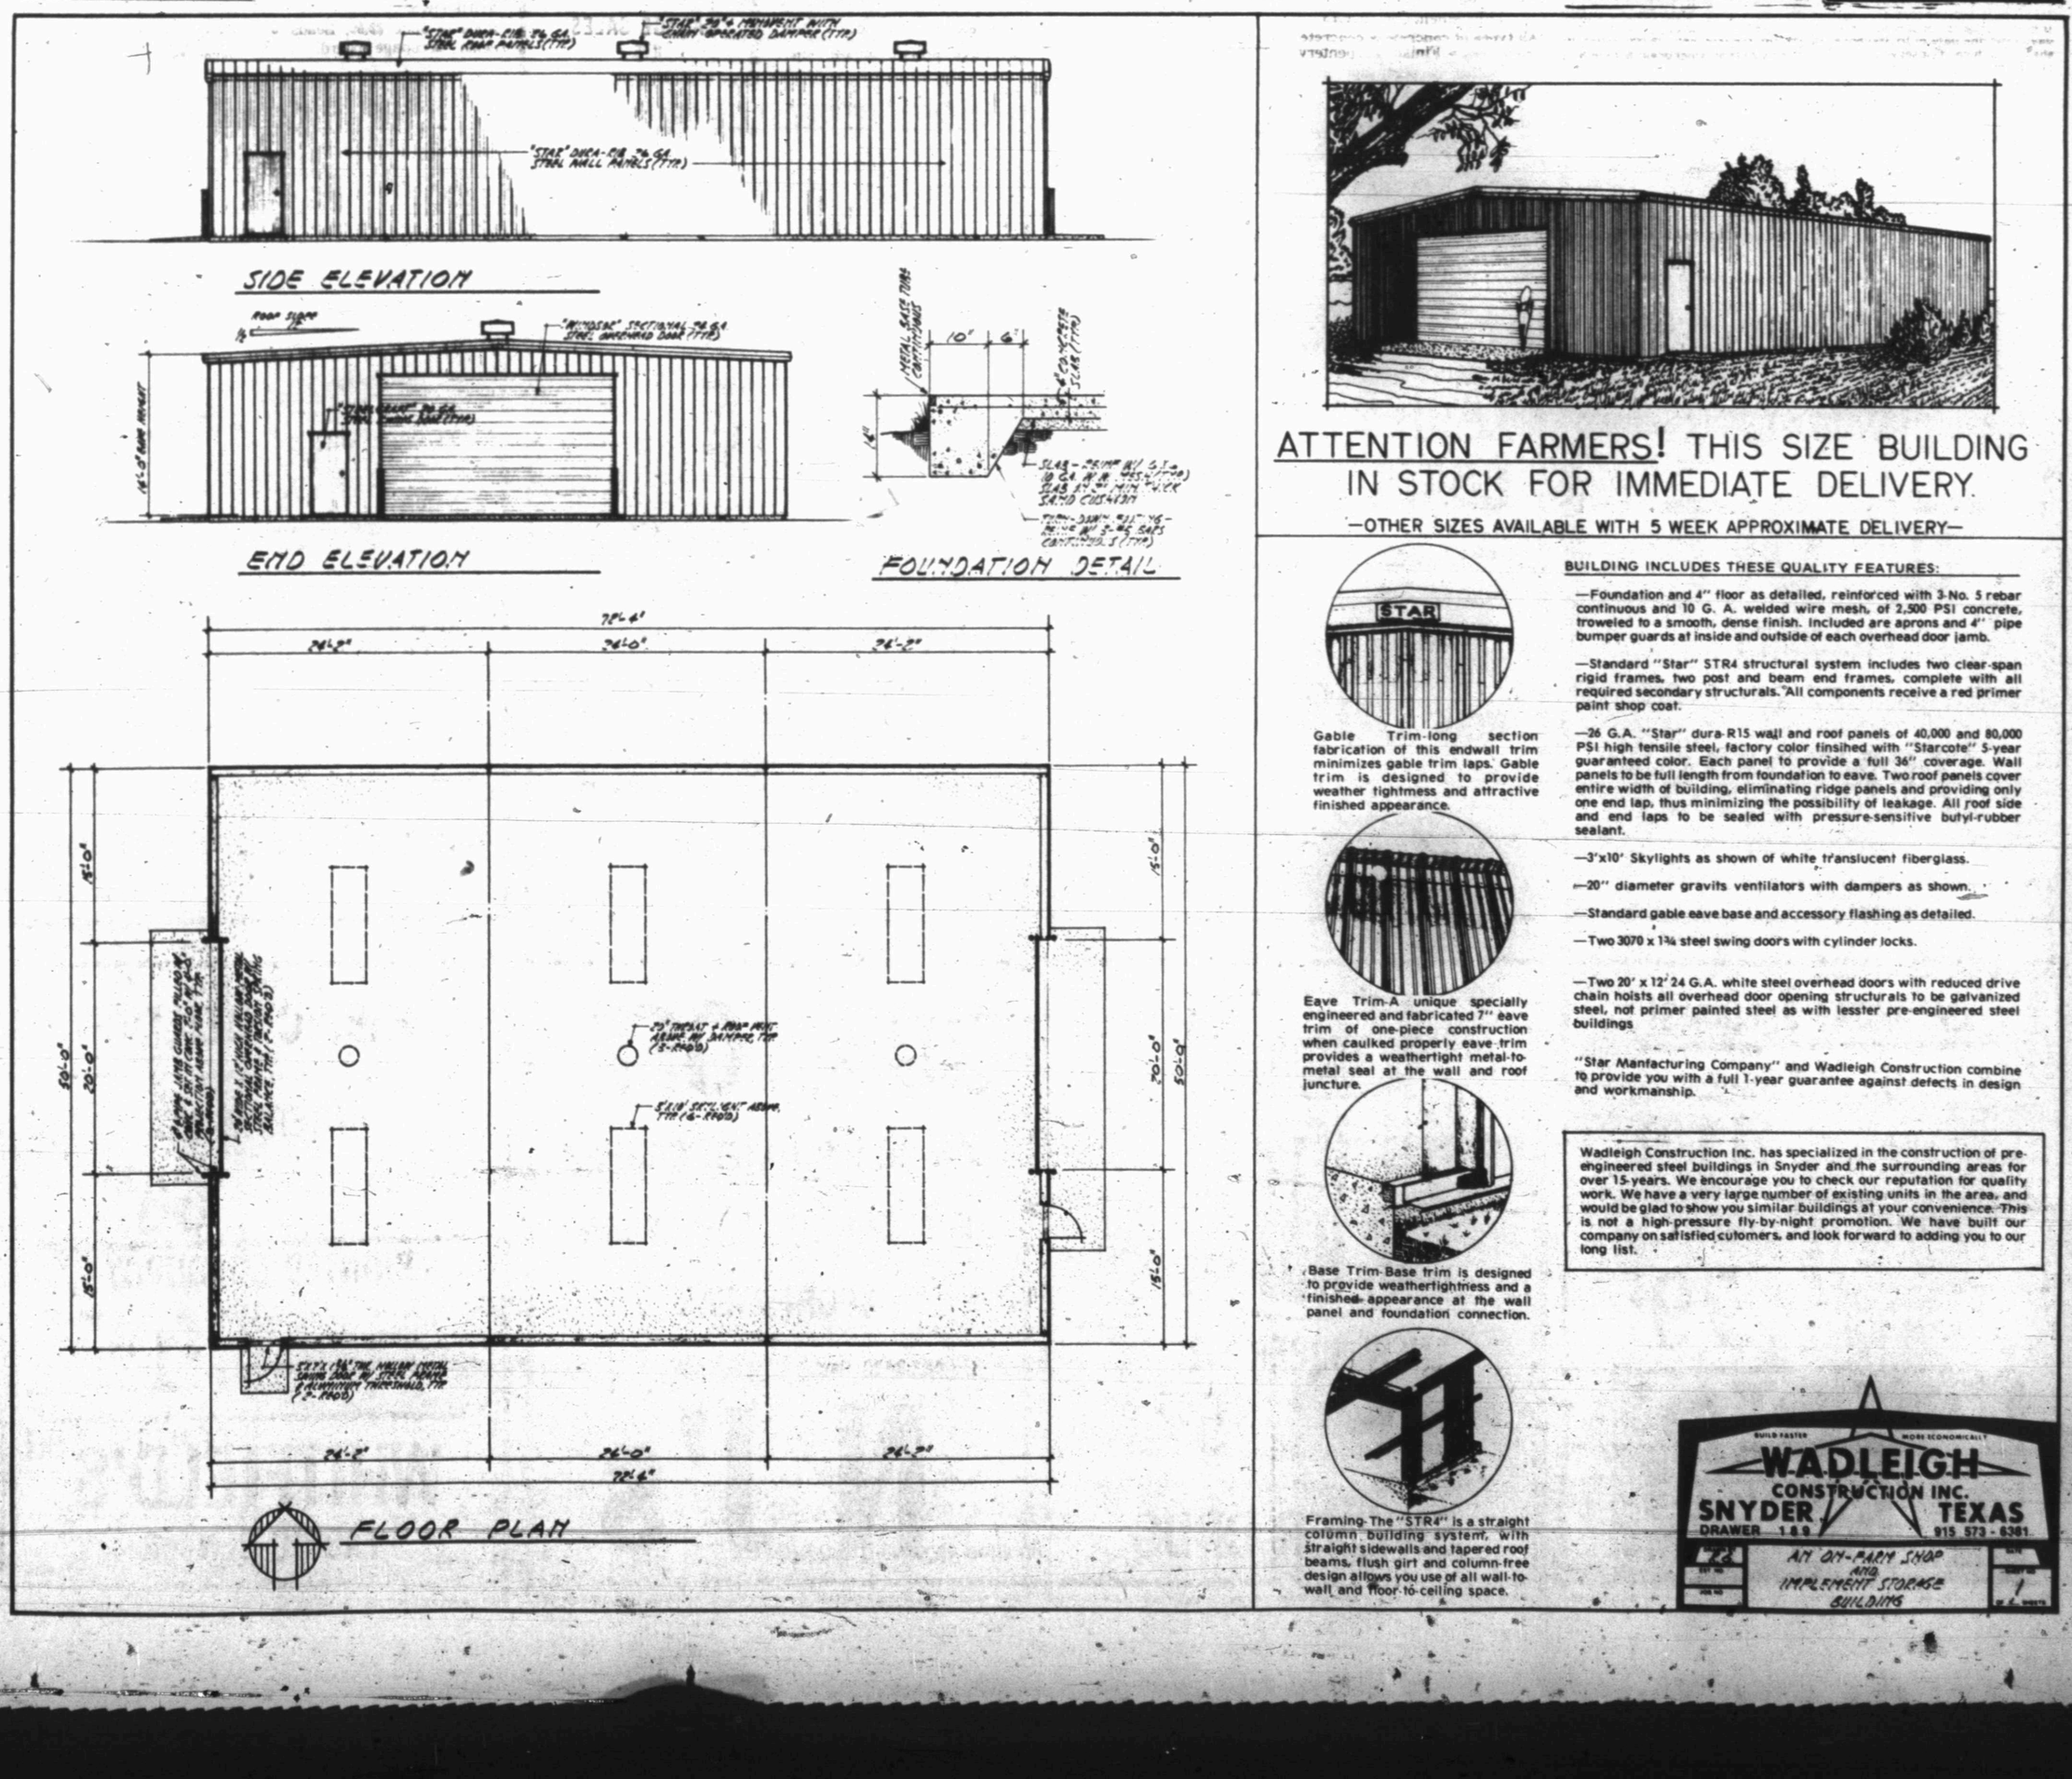

Texas Atty. Gen. John Hill, in arguing against the rate increase, says that the proposed increase would give Bell a rate return of about 17 per cent. This return, Hill said, is unconscionable for a monopoly which does not face the risks faced by other businessmen.

In opposing the rate increase, Hill pointed out that Bell has a triple-A-rating—the highest possible rating—in the bond market. He said this is evidence that the company is earning enough on its investment with current revenue to attract all the capital it needs.

The company will not keep the rating unless it gets the increase, according to Bell officials.
