PRIZES OFFERED

Muleshoe Merchants To Give "Auction Dollars"

Many Muleshoe merchants are cooperating this weekend to kick off the "Auction Dollar Day" event coming up next week. Participating merchants will be giving Auction Dollars this Thursday, Friday and Saturday as well as next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

An "Auction Dollar" will be given with each dollar spent on purchases with a participating merchant. The promotion will be climaxed next Friday evening by an "Auction" of merchandise prizes at 6 p.m. and a big western variety show on the street in downtown Muleshoe.

The prizes which have been donated by local merchants are on display at Cobbs and will be offered for bidding with "Auction Money."

Real money will not be used and it will cost nothing to participate. So that everyone may have an equal opportunity to bid on the prizes, a limit of $100 has ben set on the amount of Auction Dollars you can receive on any one purchase.

The western variety show will be headlined by Ronald Mansfield and the "Spartans," a young musical group that is making big strides in the recording entertainment industry. First performance of the show will be at 4 p.m. with two performances scheduled by this versatile group.

The big extravaganza is being sponsored by the retail merchants to show their appreciation to the customers of the Muleshoe trade area.

Outstanding sales will be offered by some of the participating merchants, in order to give away more of the valuable "Auction Dollars." Shoppers are urged to shop at home and take advantage of the big event. Look for the identifying poster in the window of your favorite store, take advantage of the food buys available and ask for your "Auction Money."

Cancer Crusade Tops 1962 Goal

The Bailey County Cancer Crusade is drawing to a successful conclusion here, with preliminary figures already bettering the 1962 goal. Over $1,625 has been turned in, topping the $1,300 goal set by state officials for Bailey county.

Jim Jennings, chairman of the business canvass, has all but four districts reporting, for a total of $411.75.

Also reporting this week was Mrs. Fred Been of Needmore with $62.83 from that community. Still to be heard from are the communities of Three Way, Bula, Enochs, and Y.L., Mrs. L. B. Hall crusade chairman said.

The first two nights of "Bowl Down Cancer Week" at Tri Co Bowl in Muleshoe have netted $43.50 with nine teams and 87 individuals competing for national awards offered.

The fee is 50 cents donation for individuals and $1.00 for teams and will continue through this week. Thursday night the City vs County Benefit Bowl is to be a highlight of the week, with a large crowd anticipated for the special event to be headed by Mayor Arthur Crow and Judge Glen Williams.

COOPERATION ASKED

Bangs Testing Is Begun In County

The Brucellosis eradication program is underway in Bailey County. Cattle were tested beginning Monday, and the operation is picking up steam each day.

Tuesday night, a meeting of [illegible]achers and farmers was held [illegible]he Courthouse. About 25 men [illegible] in attendance, said County [illegible]nt J. K. Adams.

Adams deplored the fact that more people did not turn out. "This program is law, but some folks evidentally don't realize it," Adams said.

The scope of the Bangs testing operation is to cover the entire county—100 per cent of the cattle owners.

The rule calls for at least 50 head of cattle to be tested in each herd, or 20 per cent in herds larger than 200. The program usually doesn't stop with the minimum, however.

The success of the operation depends upon the individual cattle owner being assigned a day and time by various "lineup men" who are to schedule them for the testing.

Acting as lineup men in the county are Billy Fields, Jim Seagroves, Cecil Cole, Cliff Mardis, W. E. Chisholm, C. E. Mason and Ike Stinson. Producers will be contacted by these men and scheduled for the testing.

It is imperative that each cattle owner be ready at the day and time he is scheduled. He must provide a chute to facilitate the testing operation, since the program is carried on by one-man teams.

Supervising veterinarian is John Tucker. He pointed out that cattle owners should not call the laboratory to schedule themselves, but wait until they are contacted by their lineup man.

Tucker is in charge of the laboratory, which is a mobile affair, set up adjacent to the Muleshoe Co-op Growers' shed on the Clovis Highway.

Assiting with the program are three men collecting blood samples. They are Mack Tiner, Melvin Moore and Billy Hass.

Nice Crowd Attends Annual Athletic Banquet At MHS

A crowd of approximately 250 people attended the annual athletic banquet at Muleshoe High School Tuesday night, at which Carl Richardson of Eastern New Mexico was the featured speaker.

All athletes in the school's sports program were honored, including football, boys and girls basketball, track, and golf.

Richardson, head footb a l l coach at ENMU, told the group what it takes to give a city and school a "winning reputation."

He said there must be players willing to work and sacrifice; an administration and school board who want to have a good program; coaches will give themselves over to the program; and good material to work with.

Richardson told all the students in the crowd to begin to find out all they could about college as far in advance as they could, and begin to work toward their goal.

He warned those hoping to play college football that it would be no easy lot. "It's a year-round proposition," said Richardson.

He outlined the schedule of typical college football players, emphasizing that players have to study on football trips many times if they are to keep up their grades. Richardson pointed out that college isn't just a good time, and those going with that thought would be in for a shock.

Richardson discussed the high cost of a college education, as well as the time involved in gaining a degree, and cautioned college prospects to make the most of their opportunities.

In addition to the introduction of members of the various teams, outstanding individuals were presented plaques for special recognition.

Named as outstanding football player was Gary Pierce. Outstanding track performer was Travis Creamer, o u tstanding Mule basketball player was Jim Young and outstanding Mulette basketballer was Mary Wedel.

Other girl athletes recognized were: Outstanding guard-Donnie Mae King; best rebounder—Brenda Melson; and best free throw shooter—Trudy Davis. With the exception of the latter two awards the players were eleted by their teammates.

Bill Ellis, Journal editor, served as master of ceremonies. Dorothy Vinson read an original poem "Our Mules." The coaches were presented gifts from the various team captains.

Other guests included Superintendent of Schools Neal Dilliman, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Callan, Mr. and Mrs. Gil Lamb, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Stegal, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Ellis and Mrs. George Washington.

Former MHS Golfer Turns Professional

Terry Dill, who was a golf star at Muleshoe High School in 1956, left the University of Texas team, where he was the number one player, to enter the professional ranks, it was learned this week.

Dill was quoted in an Austin newspaper as saying "I have a deal that calls for starting as soon as possible and it's something you can't turn down."

The Austin newspaper said that few players in the rich golf history of the Longhorns had registered better marks than Dill.

Dill was a member of the district champion team in 1956.

(Our thanks to Sam Fox for calling this to our attention, and for pointing out that this year's golf team was not the first championship team.)

GETS AWARD

Taylor Honored By Future Teachers

Coach Bill Taylor was named "Teacher of the Year" by Muleshoe High School's FTA Chapter for 1962-1963 at a breakfast given Wednesday morning in the MHS Home Economics room.

The breakfast was the second annual teacher appreciation breakfast to be held here and is sponsored by the Future Teachers of America. This honor was given to Mrs. Horace Blackburn last year.

The banquet theme was "April Showers" and was carried out in table decorations. The tables and colorful chips of paper down the center denoted the bright colors of spring flowers.

Mary Ellen Wedel gave the invocation. Presentation of the plaque was made to Taylor by Karen Jones, president of Future Teachers.

The announcement of their choice which was made by secret ballot came as a surprise to Taylor and in making his acceptance speech, he said, "I don't deserve this, but I sure will take it and am very happy that I was chosen for this honor."

Twenty-two teachers were present for the breakfast.

Dorothy Vinson had charge of the food, Yvonne Hendon the invitations and Sue Phipps the decorations. Kerry Moore gave the benediction.

Members of the club who helped to prepare the food and serving were Reata Sue Coker, Belinda Hendon, Yvonne Hendon, Dorothy Vinson, Juanita St. Clair, Mary Ellen Wedel, Sue Phipps, Karen Jenes, Kay Thompson, Jimmie Nell Bush, Gerrie Cooper, Wanda Wedel and La Von Childs, and Mrs. U.S. Cooper.

OHIO YOUTH

16-Year-Old Is Released To His Father

Daniel Leroy Lowe, 16-year-old who confessed breaking into Higginbotham-Bartlett Lumber Company, Western Auto and Mary DeShazo Elementary school, was released into the custody of his father, Donald Lowe of Columbus, Ohio, in Juvenile Court Monday afternoon.

Lowe was to report to juvenile officers at his home, and was to be confined to a detention home for treatments.

Lowe was arrested by Sheriff Dee Clements less than an hour after he received the report of the break-in on April 11. He was foiled in an attempted jailbreak April 15 when he and Jessie Magana of Littlefield made a break from Bailey County's jail.

The pair was captured that afternoon and transfered to Lubbock, where they could be properly housed.

Lowe told local law officers that his break-ins in Muleshoe were his first offense. He claimed to be on his way to the World's Fair in Seattle, Washington, when he "ran out of funds."

The boy's parents, however, were said to have made a similar trip to Missouri to pick up the lad and return him to his home.

Journal Contest Winners Told

Winners in the Muleshoe Journal "Know Your Merchant Contest" have been announced this week by Journal publisher, L.B. Hall. W. O. Rudd of 1822 West Avenue B., Muleshoe, takes the first prize of $25.00 for a perfect entry.

Second prize of $15.00 goes to Jewell Griffiths and third prize of $10.00 was won by Goldie Roberts, both of Muleshoe.

Entries were judged on accuracy in identifying, spelling and on neatness. Of the many entries received by the Journal, these three were judged to be the most accurate in every way.

An error in the Cashway Grocery copy was an oversight of the newspaper. Frontier Savings Stamps were mentioned rather than Gunn Brothers, as was correct.

Those persons not listing this error on their contest entry were not penalized, since it was not a spelling error. The three winning entries, however, mentioned both the stamp error and correctly spelled the misspelled word.

MRS. JIMMY DARRELL FOLEY

Virginia Klutts And Jimmy Foley United In Double Ring Ceremony

Virginia Carole Klutts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Klutts of Goodland became the bride of Jimmy Darrell Foley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Art Foley Sr. of Littlefield Thursday, April 5, at 7:30 p.m. in the Parkview Baptist Church.

A large arrangement of green foliage flanked by baskets of mums and gladiol and candelabra formed the setting for the ceremony read by the Rev. W. F. Smith.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white lace over satin fashioned with a portrait neckline edged in lace, and pointed sleeves. Tiers of lace and illusion ruffles formed the skirt which fell into a chapel train. Her short bouffant veil of silk illusion fell from a crown of mock orange blossoms fashioned of pearls and illusion. The bridal bouquet of pink rose buds and white stephanotis scattered with pearls was atop a Bible given to the bride by the groom's mother.

Linda Klutts, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Linda Shoemaker of Colorado Springs, Colo. and Paula Kindle Foley of Maple, sister-in-law of the groom, served as bridesmaids. Candlelighters were Wenonah Williams and Doris Doyle, cousin and niece of the bride.

Marsha Owens, niece of the groom, was flower girl and Steve Foley, nephew of the groom, was ring bearer.

The bride's attendants wore identical dresses of peacock blue organza over tissue taffeta. They were designed with round necklines, cap sleeves and wide sashes which crossed and formed large bustle bows in the back. They wore halo headbands of peacock satin decorated with miniature rosebuds which were attached nose-tip veils of illusion. They carried colonial bouquets of pink carnations and lace with long streamers. All wore white gloves and pearls which were gifts from the bride.

Bobby Foley of Maple served his brother as best man and Art Foley, brother of the groom, and Paul Barker, both of Littlefield, were groomsmen.

Assuming the ushering duties were Freddie Parkman and John Foley.

Jean Parkman played traditional wedding music and accompanied John Clayton at the piano as he sang "Always" and Anna Bee Lane as she sang "Whither Thou Goest."

The bride's mother was attired in a pink linen suit with black accessories and the groom's mother chose a pink dress trimmed in lace with white accessories. They both wore corsages of white carnations.

A reception followed at the church.

A five tiered wedding cake centered the serving table which was laid with a white cloth over pink. Pink punch was served to the guests. Appointments of crystal and silver completed the table setting.

Mrs. Andy Doyle, sister of the bride, and Ginger Damron assisted at the table.

The couple will make their home in Earth where the groom is emplyed with Pioneer Natural Gas Company.

The bride is a graduate of the Three Way High School and attended college one year at Pueblo, Colo. She was formerly a secretary at the USAF Academy in Colorado.

The groom attended Littlefield High School.

VOTERS OF BAILEY COUNTY

SPECIAL BULLETIN

Judge Glenn Williams recently made an annocuncement to the people (that is the voters of Bailey County). He promised that he would NOT perpetuate himself in office. He said he would keep his word and NOT seek re-election. I had been asked to run for this office but hadn't considered it until after I read this announcement and had talked with Judge Williams in his office. In this conversation he assured me he was NOT going to run.

Shortly after that I announced my candidacy. Then it was announced that friends of the Judge had caused him to CHANGE HIS IDEAS about his promise to the people of Bailey County and that he would run for a third term of office. I have always believed that a man's word was his honor.

BE PROTECTED AGAINST HAIL

AN IMPORTANT MESSAGE TO THE FARMER FOR 1962

The PANHANDLE MUTUAL HAIL ASSOCIATION has paid back to the farmers an average of 84c of each premium dollar over the last 3 years for HAIL LOSSES. The loss benefits is the important and simple crux of any insurance policy, and much sweeter than any token dividend or deviation.

TEN REASONS WHY PANHANDLE MUTUAL HAIL ASSOCIATION IS ONE OF THE LARGEST CROP HAIL WRITERS ON TEXAS CROPS:

1. All Texas policies are reinsured by the LLOYD'S OF LONDON with billions of dollar assets
2. All liability is mapped and limited by section and township.
3. Approximately FOUR AND ONE-HALF MILLION dollars paid to West Texas farmers for losses the last five years.
4. A-PLUS (EXCELLENT) RATING BY "DUNNE'S FIRE AND CASUALTY REPORT."
5. Required legal reserve (policy holders surplus) maintained at all times and deposits are kept in LOCAL BANKS throughout the West Texas area.
6. The PANHANDLE SPECIAL cotton policy DOES NOT have the REPLANT clause and we DO NOT use the PLANT POPULATION adjustment at any time.
7. We do offer the FB-10 and FB-5 cotton coverage (with replant) at reduced rates for late cotton.
8. The PANHANDLE Wheat Policy is the only policy with the "Extra Harvest Expense Award" benefits, also with the 10% credit on Tascosa and beardless wheat, only 48 hour waiting period instead of 120 and a premium saving in most counties.
9. Free cancellation on crop failures (See Dates) . . . arbitration clause.
10. Your PANHANDLE MUTUAL HAIL ASSOCIATION wants to serve you with "THE THINKING MAN'S HAIL INSURANCE."

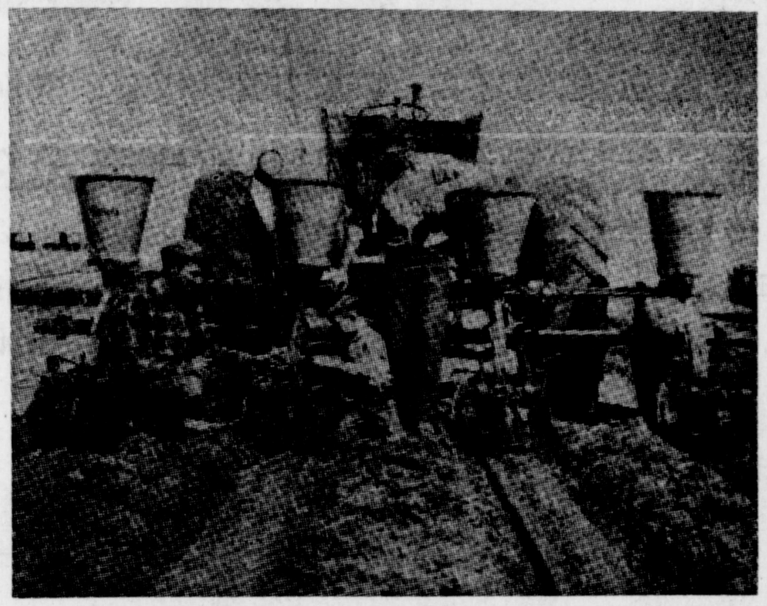

Be sure and talk to your PANHANDLE MUTUAL AGENT now to compare and study the coverages and rates, because of the many coverages that are now being offered, you need to know which policy fits your West Texas farming conditions the best.

A NEW SEEDBED FOR COTTON AND GRAIN

Poor, irregular stands can create problems in mechanized weed control and mechanical harvesting, and they may reduce yields. Replanting, due to poor stands, increases production costs, may lead to waste of fertilizer, and makes a pre-emergence weed spray ineffective. Replanting also may lead to reduced yields if it delays planting until after the best time for getting the seed into ground. The Plateau Profile "W" Planter Attachment, designed and introduced by A & M in Stillwater, Okla., combines the advantages of furrow and bed planting . . . and when compared with the shallow planter, the new seedbed increases stands in planting and withstands dashing rains with less wash-in.

Hanks and Haley Open Farmers Aerial Spraying Service Here

Kenneth Hanks and Allen Haley announce the opening of a new business in Muleshoe, the Farmers Aerial Spraying Service. They have leased space on Warren Field located on the Plainview highway and have erected hangers and an office building. A branch office is located eight miles north of Muleshoe near Clay's Corner.

Complete equipment is now available for aerial application of insecticides, herbicides & defoliant They also have available anhydrous ammonia and dry fertilizer and applicators.

Both Haley and Hanks have been farming in the Muleshoe area for the past eight years and are well acquainted with the various inscets that endanger the crop yields in this area. While actively engaged in farming they saw the benefits of aerial spraying and the need for additional spraying services available to the farmer during the busy growing season. With an office in Muleshoe and near Clay's Corner, they will be conveniently located for all.

Wayne Finch, their chief pilot, has ten years experience in this work with 3,000 hours of flying time logged and 2,500 of that time flying aerial spraying.

Finch has had an interesting life as a pilot having flown in Colorado, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Kansas and Texas. One of his most interesting work was done scinulating for uranium over the Colorado mountains flying a Piper Super Cub and near Van Horn in Texas on the same job. He also flew scimulating missions over the Texas panhandle for an oil company.

Finch came to Muleshoe from Colorado Springs, Colorado. He is the father of three children, a son who is seventeen, and two daughters, ages 15 and 7 years. Finch plans to move his family to Muleshoe when school is out.

Haley and Hanks invite all their friends to come by and get acquainted with them and inspect their equipment and facilities.

They announce that there is a training plane and a well qualified instructor on duty for anyone interested in learning to fly.

Joint 4-H Clubs Receive Check For Cotton Bolls

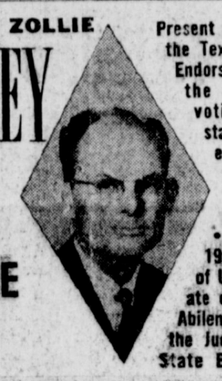

The Muleshoe Joint 4-H Clubs received a check recently for $160 from Capitol Bedding Company of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, in return for 4,000 specially-prepared cotton bolls the youngsters furnished.

County Agent J. K. Adams said the company assured him that the bolls were a big hit, and the program would be continued next year. The bolls were used as corsages at an exposition in Harrisburgh.

Adams expressed pleasure that the bolls were well received. Bad weather at the beginning of harvest caused the 4-H members concern, since the cotton wasn't as pretty as it ordinarily would have been.

The project makes it possible for the local 4-H club to raise money without "overloading" local merchants.

Participation Is Key To Getting Ideas Carried Out

(Editor's note: This is the third in a series of articles explaining the function and organization of the Chamber of Commerce.)

One of the phrases often heard in referring to the Chamber of Commerce is "Why don't they do. . . .?" something or other. Inasmuch as the Chamber of Commerce is an organization of most of the business firms in Muleshoe, plus a great many other individuals, farmers, etc., the question should really be re-phrased to ask, "Why don't WE..?"

Participation in your Chamber of Commerce is about the only way you can make your wants and ideas known, and see them carried out. As long as any individual is content to complain about what someone else is doing, and is not willing to do anything himself, he has no valid complaint.

This is one of the attractive aspects of Chamber of Commerce programs. It affords everyone interested, an opportunity to take an active part in their community. True, you may not be immediately asked to serve on a committee, but the chances are you were not asked to move to Muleshoe either. So if you have an idea, or want to be a part of seeing your community grow into a better place to raise your children, speak up. Ask to serve on a committee that interests you. Visit the Chamber office and see what's going on. It belongs to you, and unless you make it a part of your community activity, it cannot serve you effectively.

Despite the fact that much of the Chamber's program of work is implemented at the direction of the officers and directors, the work itself is done by the membership, using those people who have indicated an interest in working for the improvement of the community.

The 1962 Program of Work has its main emphasis on creating better understanding and cooperation between the folks who live on farms and those who live and and work in town. The program outlines several ways to better this relationship, all of which simply points up the fact that in an agricultural community such as ours everyone realizes that there must be equal understanding between farmer and business man.

In actuality the farmer of the West Plains is a business man and a big business man at that. It has often been said that the average farmer in Bailey county has as much invested and will turn an equal amount of money in a year as that of the average business man in Muleshoe.

It is a recognized fact that mechanized farming is a business venture, just as is retailing. Therefore it is to the mutual interest of all concerned to be working side by side for the betterment of the area in general. And this can best be done through your Chamber of Commerce.

Recently there has been considerable interest evidenced by a number of farmers in becoming members of the Chamber of Commerce and several have joined. But there still exists some misunderstanding about the goals and purposes of the Chamber of Commerce. And this is the point under discussion throughout this entire series.

In all honesty it must be admitted that the Chamber of Commerce does not please everyone. Frankly, if it did, chances are the did, chances are, the Chamber would not be doing anything at all. There are those who are actively anti-Chamber despite the fact that the community through the Chamber has made it possible for them to prosper and succeed in business here. This kind of thinking is hard to understand, but the situation still exists, that the Chamber does not please everyone.

The Chamber does try to base its program to please everyone who is genuinely interested in the community above selfish interests. In this, we submit, it succeeds.

Registration For 1st Grade Set May 4

Pre-registration for children that will be in the first grade next fall will be held at Richland Hills and Mary DeShazo Elementary Schools Friday, May 4, starting at 8 a.m.

Neal Dillman, superintendent of schools, asks that parents bring a birth certificate and a record of immunization signed by a physician, if such is available.

They do not need these records in order to attend the pre-registration, but should have them by September.

Revival Set To Begin Sunday

The spring revival at the First Baptist Church, previously postponed, has been rescheduled for the week of April 29 through May 6, according to the pastor, Rev. Don Murray.

Rev. Ed Crow of the Brownfield First Baptist Church will be the evangelistic speaker for the Revival, assisted by Bob Watts, Minister of Music and Education at the First Baptist Church, Muleshoe.

The revival scheduled earlier this month was called off due to illness in the pastor's family.

Banner Crowd Attends Spring Convention Of Peace Officers

Approximately 150 peace officers from all over Texas and New Mexico gathered in Muleshoe last Thursday for the annual spring convention of the Texas South Plains and Eastern New Mexico Peace Officers Association.

Officials of the association said they didn't remember when, if ever, there had been a number that large at a convention of the association.

A total of 145 officers registered at the convention headquarters, the American Legion Hall.

John Fried, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce's Tourist and Convention committee, said that a total of 143 people were served at the noon meal. It was thought that some arrived late, missing the meai and not registering.

The average number attending conventions of the association is from 100 to 125, it was pointed out. Nice weather did much to assure the meeting of a top crowd.

Local law officers were well pleased with the meeting and with its attendance.

"We received a letter from Sgt. Billy Smith of Midland (secretary-treasurer of the association), thanking us for hosting the convention and passing along compliments," said Ellis.

Officers came to the convention from as far away as Santa Fe on the west, Austin on the Southeast and Dumas on the north.

Among the counties in Texas that were represented were: Andrews, Castro, Cochran, Dallas, Dawson, Deaf Smith, Ector, Gaines, Garza, Glasscock, Gray, Hale, Hockley, Howard, Lamb, Loving, Lubbock, Lynn, Martin, Midland, Mitchell, Moore, Nolan, Oldham, Parmer, Potter, Randall, Reagan, Reaves, Taylor, Travis, Terry, Winkler and Yoakum, in addition to the hosts in Bailey county.

Counties represented from New Mexico included Bernalillo, Chaves, Curry, De Baca, Eddy, Guadalupe, Lea, Quay, Roosevelt and Santa Fe.

Bill Kavanaugh, Administrative Assistant in the Texas Department of Public Safety, Austin, was one of the principal speakers. K. K. Miller of Santa Fe, N. M., Chief of New Mexico State police, also spoke.

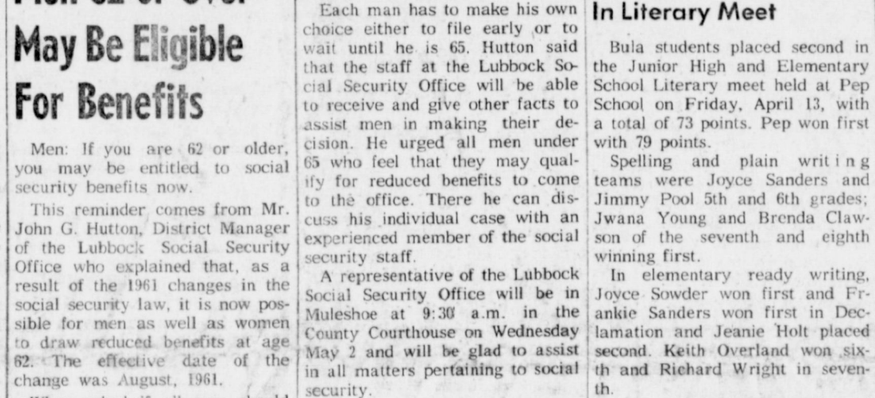

Texas Ranger, Jim Riddle of Austin, spoke on the subject of Texas burglaries, Curtis Lynum, Special Agent in Charge, with the FBI in Dallas, spoke, as did Bill Allen, of the New Mexico State Police.

A highlight of the meeting was a demonstration of the use of Police Dogs by members of the Lubbock Police Department.

Gil Lamb of radio station KMUL addressed the group, making comments concerning his work against alcoholism. Lamb also traced the history of the Mule Memorial Association. The peace officers, in appreciation of Muleshoe's hospitality, donated $75 toward the fund.

Helping to serve the barbecue lunch at the noon meal were Mr. and Mrs. Don Layman of Earth. Their efforts were appreciated by the hosts.

The association selected Clovis as the site for its fall convention, the date to be selected later.

Allison Chosen President In Student Election

Dick Allison was chosen as the president of the Muleshoe High School Student Council for 1962-63 in the annual student election at MHS last Thursday.

Barry Lewis was elected vice-president of the council, Sue Willman was chosen as Secretary; Charlene Lindsey, historian; Dean Slack, parliamentarian.

A very close and hard-fought election was held, according to Student Council president Robert Garlington.

Two races had to be decided in a special runoff. Barry Lewis and Kenny Heathington were sent into a runoff for the vice-president's post, while Charlene Lindsey won the historian's office in a runoff with David Jones.

The candidates campaigned the first three days of the week, and then wound up with the election on Thursday.

The council is to sponsor a car wash Saturday, May 5, at the North Side Texaco, as a fund-raising project.

Men 62 or Over May Be Eligible For Benefits

Men: If you are 62 or older, you may be entitled to social security benefits now.

This reminder comes from Mr. John G. Hutton, District Manager of the Lubbock Social Security Office who explained that, as a result of the 1961 changes in the social security law, it is now possible for men as well as women to draw reduced benefits at age 62. The effective date of the change was August, 1961.

When asked if all men should file for benefits at 62, Mr. Hutton pointed out that most men who are over 62 and still working for high earnings would be better off to wait until they are 65 to file for full benefits. He explained that high earnings would prevent payment of reduced benefits.

PRIMARY PURPOSE

The primary purpose of this new provision, he stated, was to enable workers who retire between 62 and 65 or workers in this age group whose earnings are low for any number of reasons to start receiving benefits immediately. This is in line with the basic social security philosophy which is to partially replace lost income as a result of retirement or disability.

Mr. Hutton went on to say that once a man elects reduced payments, his benefit rate will remain reduced even after he reaches age 65. However, for most men it will be many years before they would lose money by filing early. Most men feel that the immediate income outweighs any possible loss of benefits in the distant future.

HAS CHOICE

Each man has to make his own choice either to file early or to wait until he is 65. Hutton said that the staff at the Lubbock Social Security Office will be able to receive and give other facts to assist men in making their decision. He urged all men under 65 who feel that they may qualify for reduced benefits to come to the office. There he can discuss his individual case with an experienced member of the social security staff.

A representative of the Lubbock Social Security Office will be in Muleshoe at 9:30 a.m. in the County Courthouse on Wednesday May 2 and will be glad to assist in all matters pertaining to social security.

"BATTLE STATIONS!"

by FRANK FORD
Candidate for State Representative

Many of you have been wondering why the Republican candidate for State Representative has not been beating more bushes. Well, I have been catching up with my farming, trying to stay calm about the birth of a fine new son, and listening to what my three opponents in the Demo primary have to say. I even went fishing one day, snagged three plugs in the underwater brush, and didn't catch a thing. As any fisherman knows though, even this is fun.

Now I reckon it's time to unfurl my battleflag and get down to politickin'. You folks who paid your $1.75 are going to get your money's worth this year. I like farming and I'm not in this race because I want to get on the public payroll. It is because there are a lot of things that have been needing saying the last few years, and the old system of standing staunchly on a non-controversial platform just won't be sufficient in these times. It's too dull as well as too dangerous.

Every person in Texas has the right to have the issues which affect our future decided in the open, in honest, fair debate. It is for this reason that I have entered this race, and on the Republican ticket. The status quo does not suit me. Our affairs have been controlled too long by a power-hungry oranization in this state which is neither conservative nor liberal but merely interested in perpetuating and increasing its financial and political power. I refer to the LBJ machine.

This is not idle talk. I've been there and seen it at work. When an issue came up for debate in our Legislature which affected this organization, the phone lines from Washington got hot, pressure was exerted from dozens of sources, and whether it was a bill to allow LBJ to run for two offices at once, or a bill to protect some special interest, it usually seemed to pass.

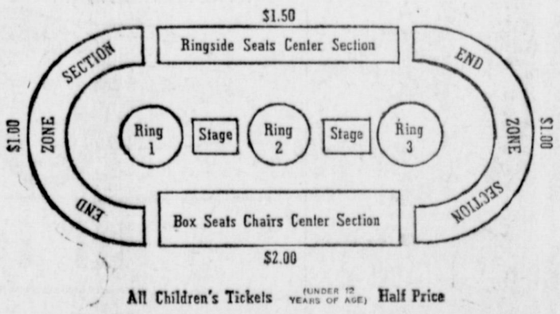

Whether one is of liberal or conservative persuasions, the fault and danger of this system should be apparent. Crafty, greedy expedience, coupled with a willingness to use coercive measures when necessary, is in direct contast to the dedicated men and women who made great sacrifices in order to establish a free nation - and it will be the death of freedom unless those responsible are separated from the power over our lives which they seek.

Mr. LBJ has predicted that his group will strengthen its hold on Congress and the Legislatures. If it does, it will be unfortunate for all of us. What we need desperately, I think, is a balance of power between the parties over which we can exert proper control, both at state and national levels. Then honest men will have a better chance to reach good conclusions in a fair and open manner.

I am a conservative by conviction, and have been for over ten years. My motivation is the same as that of many liberals but we differ in the fact that I feel the cure of the Bureaucrat is often worse than the illness. We do still have illnesses in our society, and they must be met with consideration and concern, not used as a means of obtaining political power.

It will be my pleasure to meet with any group in the district to talk things over, and I shall also be looking forward to some public debates with the winner of the Democrat Primary. Let's get things out in the open.

New Innovation In Seating Sponsored This Year by Carson & Barnes Circus

All Children's Tickets (UNDER 12 YEARS OF AGE) Half Price

One feature of the circus this year that impressed the local sponsor of the Carson and Barnes big three ring circus was the new and attractive policy of informing the public of the PRICE of all tickets before attending the show, and allowing the public to pick the area they desire to sit in.

Carson and Barnes Circus has adopted the policy used by the major football and baseball stadiums and have made all of their seats reserved. A diagram of the seat location and the three price ranges can be seen in their news advertisement and on the circus ticket wagon. Remember, at the CARSON AND BARNES CIRCUS you select the area of the circus tent you desire to sit, purchase ONE ticket for the seat of your choice.

In addition to revolutionizing the seating policy of the circus, the Carson and Barnes Circus has modernized their performance to appeal to the adult as well as the children. Realizing that the television spectaculars like International Showtime, Ed Sullivan and the Dupont Hour, have been well received by the adult audiences the Carson and Barnes Circus has obtained some of the best acts appearing with Internaiotnal circuses.

The Lions Club is sponsoring the one day appearance in Muleshoe for matinee only Sunday, April 29.

SANDHILLS PHILOSPHER CAN'T

Figure Out Advantages Of New Plan To Finance The Candidates

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson Grass farm tries to throw some light on a complicated problem, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editar:

According to an article I read last night, the farmers aren't the only people suffering from the high costs of operating. High costs have now hit politics.

As I understand it, the cost of running for office has gotten so high that there is a move on for financial relief to candidates. It just costs too much to wage a national campaign, not to mention a state or even local one.

I can see the country can't afford to have a lot of public offices un-fulled because it costs too much to run for them, although I for one have been unable to detect any shortages along this line. As far as I can determine, every public office we've got is filled and there's always a good many defeated candidates left over and willing to try again next time.

At any rate, a commission in this situation and has come up with the suggestion that more people ought to contribute to campaigns, to ease the burden on the candidates, and the commission has suggested that people be allowed to deduct a part of from their income tax.

For instance, it suggested, if you contributed $25 to a campaign you could take $10 off your income tax.

Now I have thought this matter over and, while I have a great deal of sympathy for candidates and believe it'd be an unwholesome situation if we ever got to the point where only a wealthy man could afford to run for office, still, looking at it from the voter's standpoint, we've got high costs staring us in the face too and spending $25 on a candidate in order to save $10 on your income tax, ain't exactly the way to balance your personal budget. The way I figure it, you're still out $15, and maybe even more, if the candidate gets elected and raises your government expenses by $10.

As I see it, the situation is envolved. The candidates are asking the public for financial relief in running, and then after they get elected the public needs financial relief from what happens after they get there.

This makes the farm problem look simple.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Harassed Farmers Face Labor Restrictions

Farmers depending on Bracero labor, who just recently had the amendments to Public Law 78 interpreted, are being threatened once again as the Department of Labor seeks the passage of Senate Bill 1129.

The Labor Department thinks the bill would give everyone living in the United States the opportunity of being employed, although farmers know that some people had rather live off unemployment rolls than accept employment on a farm.

The bill would, in effect, make the Department of Labor a labor union for farm laborers.

Area farmers who would be directly affected by the bill might be interested in the following questions and answers concerning the bill:

What does S. 1129 seek to do?
S. 1129 gives the Secretary of Labor the power to recruit, transport, house, feed and distribute citizens of the United States who might be available for work in agriculture.

How are such workers selected?
On the basis of "availability" for agricultural work. Does this mean non-farm workers would be recruited? Yes, the bill says "farm labor requirements should be utilized whenever possible as a means of reducing the serious unemployment of the country."

What if these workers are not qualified to do agricultural work?
Determination of qualifications for farm work is left in the hands of the Secretary of Labor.

How would a farmer engage these workers?
He would go to one of the government distribution centers where workers would be concentrated. He then would sign a contract with the workers and they would be transported to his farm.

Who negotiates the contract?
In theory, the contract is negotiated between the worker and the farmer but the proposed law establishes most of the contract terms and the government has the power to veto any contract it does not like.

Who pays the cost of this program?
The farmer. He is charged $15 a head for the workers which is supposed to cover the cost of recruiting, transporting to the concentration point, feeding and housing during this period. The farmer must also pay the cost of transportation, food and housing from the concentration point to his farm.

What if the worker does not stay on the job?
The government agrees to supply a new worker at a pro-rated cost, but does not stipulate the time needed for the delivery of the replacement.

Are these single workers?
There may be some bachelor workers in the groups, but the program is designed for the movement of family groups.

Who pays for the expenses of the non-working member of the family?
Although the Secretary of Labor has said he does not believe that the farmer would be charged with the cost of moving the non-working members of the family, the bill still requires that this cost be deducted from the farmer's $15 per worker. This includes transportation, feeding, housing and medical care for the worker and his faimly.

Where will these workers and their families be housed while they are working?
There is no provision in the proposed law for requiring of housing for these workers. However, the law grants the Secretary the right to issue any regulations he wishes under the law and it says that no farmer may use these work gangs unless he complies with all the rules and regulations. Therefore, the Secretary could require the farmer to supply housing before he gets workers.

Who would pay for such housing?
The farmer. He might be offered government - insured loans to finance the housing.

How about returning the workers after the harvest?
The law would require the farmer to pay transportation costs of the workers back to the concentration center. Costs of transportation from the center back to the worker's home, in theory ,would come from the $15 recruiting fee. However, the law does not require the worker to return to his point of origin. He might easily decide to stay in the area of any job, particularly if weather, housing and welfare opportunities were attractive.

Who sets the wages for the workers employed under this system?
Once again theory differs with practice. In theory, the wages would be determined by the negotiations between worker and employer at the time the contract was signed. The Department of Labor would have to approve the contract, however, and through this means could establish minimum wages just as it is attempting to do through the use of the foreign labor program.

What about insurance for the worker?
The employer must supply, and pay for, workmen's compensation insurance for each worker.

What happens in a labor dispute?
The proposed law says that no worker will be placed in a job "which will aid directly or indirectly in filling a job which (1) is vacant because the former occupant is on strike or is locked out in the course of a labor dispute, or (2) is an issue in a labor dispute." In recent years, the Department of Labor has assumed unprecedented authority in this field, and under this proposal, the Secretary would have the sole right to determine who would be eligible for workers and who would not. He also would be the final authority in determining a labor dispute.

Is it mandatory for farmers to use these workers?
The backers of the scheme say no. But, it is pointed out that nearly all farmers use the farm placement service of the employment service. With the Secretay's unlimited power to write regulations — if the program did not appear to be succeeding, he could require all farmers to use his work gangs before the farmer could make use of the farm placement service.

How about workers, are they required to use the progarm?
Once again, this is supposed to be voluntary, but the Secretary's rule-writing power would permit him to require industrial workers to accept these out-of-state farm jobs in order to qualify for his unemployment insurance benefits.

Why does the government want to establish itself in the farm labor contracting business?
They say it is to help both the "poor worker and the poor farmer". But this would be the most powerful political and economic force ever placed in the hands of a central government. The power placed in the man who has control over half a million jobs would be almost limitless.

MAIN STREET BAPTIST CHURCH

REV. LYNN STEPHENS, Pastor

"I was glad when they said unto me, Let us go into the house of the Lord." Psalms 122:1.

Freedom of worship is an established principle of the Constitution of the United States. This freedom was placed in the Constitution because our ofrefathers knew by experience what it meant to be denied the right to worship God according to the dictates of one's heart. It has been protected through the years by those who have been faithful to take their place at the Lord's House on the Lord's Day. Like the other freedoms we know as Americans, this "freedom of worship" will be preserved for those who come after us only if we make use of it. Just prior to each political election a special campaign is launched to get out the vote. By using this freedom of vote, we have been able to protect it. I believe that every week should be one of special campaign to get the people out to church, and thus protect this most precious of all our freedoms.

We of the Main Street Baptist Church extend an invitation for you to worship with us each Sunday. Ours is a Christ-centered, Spirit-led group of people who desire to let the Lord rule their lives and thus render effective service to Him.

"Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some is; but exhorting one another: and so much the more, as ye see the day approaching." Hebrews 10:25.

If you'll follow Jesus every day of the week, He'll lead you to church on Sunday.

Interpretations To Bracero Law Given

The final interpretations of the amendments to Public Law 78 (the Bracero Law) have been made and are effective as of March 21 of this year, says Elvon DeVaney, manager of the Western Texas Farm Labor Association. The interpretation follow:

Insert One:

"An individual grower-employer (including a member of an association) will be permitted to have Mexican workers in his employ for a total of no more than 210 calendar days during the calendar year. To provide, as nearly as possible, for equal treatment of grower-employers, whether or not they are members of employer-association, the calendar days selected by the employer (which need not be consecutive must occur within not more than 35 calendar weeks. (not necessarily consecutive) in a calendar year".

Explanation:

If you pick up a hand on Friday, of any week you will use up one week of your 35 weeks, and therefore, will lose 5 days of your 210. Use of a hand one day uses one week. The 210 day limitation started on March 21, 1962, for the farmer as well as the bracero. You can use one or more and only be charged for one day.

Insert Two:

"The amendment prohibiting Mexican contract workers from the operation of power-driven self propelled harvesting, planting, or cultivating machinery is applied to include any power-driven self-propelled machine when it is used in planting, cultivating, and harvesting activities as well as including the maintenance of such machinery."

Explanation:

Bracero can use tractor or pick up as a means of transportation, also haul irrigation pipe, or haul feed for cattle, but cannot drag an implement or operate a machine.

DeVaney reminded the farmers to keep up to date on the days and weeks used, as the association must keep a running account.

The wages for all braceros was to be 70 cents per hour on April 1, and all pay records must agree with this rule, DeVaney said. He pointed out that payroll records were the best protection the farmers had.

Facts From The Farm Bureau

By MRS. MORRIS McKILLIP

American Farm Bureau Federation President Charles B. Shuman has protested to President Kennedy about the use of taxpayers' money to propagandize taxpayers' representatives in Congress.

The incident that brought about president Shuman's Concern and protest to the President was a meeting of all state ASCS Committeemen in Washington D.C. on April 3-4. The meeting was called by Secretary of Agriculture and the expenses of the trip were paid by the federal government. The stated purpose of the meeting was to discuss the farm situation with all the various states in one meeting.

A part of the meeting was devoted to the "success" of the 1961 grain program and a discussion of the economic facts led by Dr. Willard Cochrane. The committeemen took time out from the meeting to visit their Congressmen.

The President addressed the committemen on the lawn of the White House and he made a statement to the committee that they should not let our Congressmen go to sleep.

This is a difficult problem to discuss primarily because people who serve on these committees are honest citizens trying their best to serve their country. The fact still remains that these committeemen are employees of the Department of Agriculture and are constantly under the influence of Department leaders and information published by the Department. The committee is appointed by the Secretary and serves at his pleasure. The procedure for the Department of Agriculture has been to advocate legislative programs and immediately release information to support the basic principles of these programs.

The conclusion is that citizens must somehow realize that this is not an attack on ASCS comitteemen. The attack is on a group of socialists generally referred to as Fabian Socialists who advocate the theories established by the British Fabian Socialists. Socialism as defined by von Mises and generally understood is as follows: "All the means of production are in the exclusive control of the organized community. This and this alone is socialism and all other definitions are misleading."

The farmers of the United States and other citizens cannot afford to permit the federal government to use tax money to spread false and misleading information and hide behind the cloak of a group of honest, sincere citizens.

(Editor's Note: This is the first in a series of weekly columns prepared by The Bailey County Farm Bureau and initiated by The Women's Committee of the local organization.

Mrs. Morris McKillip, author of this first article, also has written The Editor of the Doane Agricultural Service, Inc., St. Louis, Mo., that "the disturbing thing about propaganda bulletins is the fact that whether the receiver approves or disapproves of the propaganda pushed by these bulletins; as a taxpayer, he pays the bill to have them printed and distributed. No one should be forced to pay for promoting something to which he is opposed.)

Schools Slated For Ginners

Schools designed to give operators of cotton gins practical information which will aid in the ginning of highest quality cotton consistent with efficient machinery operation have been announced for Corpus Christi and Lubbock.

The Corpus Christi schools will be held on May 8 while August 21 is the date for the Lubbock session, said B. G. Reeves, extension cotton ginning and mechanization specialist. Sponsors for the one-day schools are the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas Cotton Ginners' Association, Continental Gin Co., The Murray and John E. Mitchell Companies, Lummus Cotton Gin Co., Hardwicke-Etter Co. and Moss-Gordin Company.

Five schools will be held simultaneously on the announced dates and each of the cooperating companies will provide meeting rooms for their students. Reeves said participants would receive instructions on the operation, maintenance and repair of each piece of machinery used in a modern cotton gin, including stands, dryers, cleaners, bur machines, extractor-feeders, lint cleaners, and other auxiliary equipment. Experienced factory engineers will serve as instructors.

Reeves said there would be no enrollment fee and added that either a letter or advance registration blank should be sent by the prospective student to the company in charge of the school he plans to attend. The registration should be made at least a week in advance of the school.

The specialist said that additional information is available from any of the sponsors and from local county agents who can also provide the registration blanks. Reeves said that out-of-state cotton ginners are welcome to attend the schools but should send in an advance registration.

FARMERS WARNED

Fix Wire Hazards In Cleanup Week

Spring Cleanup Week, April 29-May 5, offers an excellent opportunity to clear up potential hazards in your farm wiring and electrical equipment. This word comes from W. S. Allen, extension agricultural engineer. He says many hazards have never been corrected simply because time was not taken to clear them up.

Allen offers several suggestions for an electrical cleanup program. First, clean around all main electrical switches by removing any obstacles which might prevent your getting to them quickly. Plug holes in any main switch boxes, because small animals can get inside and possibly cause trouble. After this is done, clean the outside of corroded or rusty switch boxes with a steel brush and mineral spirits, and then repaint them.

Cobwebs, dirt and trash should be removed from around lights or switches, especially in hay barns, cribs and feed rooms. Heat from bulbs can set off an explosion or cause fire where dust or cobwebs accumulate.

You should also replace faulty wall switches or convenience outlets that have bad contacts or do not work properly, continues Allen. Repair frayed or damaged cords on any portable equipment such as irons, heaters, lamps or small appliances, and replace outside wires that have lost their insulation.

Make sure that no clothes line poles, antennas or other such possible contacts can be made with your system of wires around the farmstead.

Allen points out that the appearance and safety of the farm is vastly improved by a neat outside electrical distribution system. Spring Cleanup Week is a good time to repair any flaws in yours.

Political Program At Needmore Is Well-Attended

The candidate speaking at Needmore last Friday was well-attended. Thirteen candidates for state, district and county offices attended.

Needmore Community Center club ladies served refreshments of pie, cake, doughnuts and soft drinks.

A sidelight of the meeting was a collection for the center's new piano. A total of $123 was raised to help pay for the piano, which was delivered Thursday afternoon. The club's former piano was ruined by rain-leakage.

A quartet composed of Gene Davis, Janie Morrow, Woodie Goforth and Buck Creamer, accompanied by Ruby Davis, sang some numbers. Janie Morrow presented a solo, "God Bless America."

Gene Davis, Assembly of God minister, gave the invocation, Lester Howard, Democratic precinct chairman, led the pledge of allegiance.

Karl Lovelady was master of ceremonies.

New Peanut Variety Is A True Hybrid

Hybrid is a word that has come to mean a great deal to crop producers. But a true variety, not a hybrid, developed by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, is the subject of much discussion among Texas peanut growers these days.

The performance of the Starr peanut variety in statewide Experiment Station and on-farm demonstration tests during 1961 has literally put it in orbit, says Ben Spears, agronomist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. In 18 Experiment Station tests with three other varieties, Spantex, Argentine and Dixie Spanish, Starr produced 72 more pounds of shelled kernels per acre than the next best producer, Spantex. Its per acre value in 14 tests was $131.45 compared to $117.89 for Argentine, its closest competitor. Starr also has desirable kernel characteristics, Spears points out.

In 63 farm demonstration comparisons, including all peanut areas of the state, Starr again showed its superiority by outyielding all comparison varieties on an average of about 20 per cent, Spears said. The average difference in value per acre was as much as $30, he added.

Starr was developed from a cross between Spantex and a variety from South America made by Superintendent B. C. Langley at the Stephenville substation in 1949. It was released for certified seed production in 1961 and named for W. B. Starr of Cisco in recognition of his many years of civic and farm leadership in that peanut growing area.

All fields cannot be planted to Starr in 1962 because there just isn't enough seed available, points out Spears. The seed which are available are certified and when purchases are made, the agronomist advises buyers to look for the blue certification tag on the bag. Since the seed supply is limited, Spear suggests that growers use certified seed of Spantex, Argentine or Dixie Spanish. All have yield and cash return records superior to the common Spanish variety.
