Parent-Teacher Co-Ordinating Group Elects

At the regular meeting of the Aransas County Parent-Teacher Co-Ordinating Council, members listened to a report from Coach Dave Segler, the health chairman.

He said that 1,000 polio shots were given this year, and suggested that 1200 be ordered for next year, if shots were given however, he recommended that oral polio vaccine be given during the next school year, which would entail three doses for every child, at periods six weeks apart.

Segler said that the Parent-Teacher Council would have to buy this vaccine but that it would give permanent immunization.

After some discussion, the Council voted that the cost of this vaccine should be investigated and a report made at the next meeting of the council.

Segler also reported that visual and hearing screening had been carried out through the various schools in the system, and TB patch tests had been given students in grades one, seven and twelve.

In other business, Mrs. W. D. Henderson, chairman of the nominating committee, nominated the following candidates for the next year's officers:

Junior IOOF Sponsoring Band Shell

Members of the Whooping Crane Council of Junior Oddfellows met recently with the Navigation District Commissioners with plans to sponsor construction of a band shell on the beach at Rockport.

In the group were A. L. Reed, one of the sponsors, his son, Robert Reed, Reggie Wendell and Tim Lane.

They displayed a scale model of the shell, made by the elder Reed, and which will be on display at Johnson's Drug Store this week.

Robert Reed explained that the shell was for the benefit of the entire community and that it would be attractive, with colored lights, and that it could be used for other things than band concerts.

Among these he said, were next year's Sea-O-Rama, small dances, band concerts, bathing beauty pageants and other affairs of this kind. Wendell added other details, including the fact that the shell would have a floor area of 990 square feet, thus making it possible to handle large bands, and pointed out that the local high school band will number 80 pieces next year.

Lane explained that since it was for the common benefit, the Junior Oddfellows hoped to finance the construction from donations, but (Continued on page 8)

Rotary Gives Final Plans For Parade

Members of the Rotary Club, who have been put in charge of the boat parade and display, for Rockport's Sea-O-Rama, scheduled for June 9-10, have announced plans for their participation in this event.

The boat parade will consist of an aggregation of outboards, which will assemble behind the yachts, then proceed through the channel leading to the Ski Basin and circle the basin.

At Rockport Harbor's city dock, a shrimp boat will be tied up and kept open for inspection, during the Sea-O-Rama, for all visitors who desire to go aboard. Likewise, the Coast Guard will station one of its boats at the dock, with crew aboard, for inspection by interested visitors.

School Bond Bids To Be Opened June 12

Trustees of the Aransas County Independent School District were told at a called meeting Tuesday night that the $650,000 in school improvement bonds recently voted by taxpayers of the district had received an A rating, which should make them sell at a premium.

According to Laddie Janacek, of the First Southwest Company, financial agent for the school, this is a rating seldom given to communities of this size, and there is only one better, AA, which is generally given to much larger communities.

As far as can be learned, this is the highest rating ever given bonds issued by any governmental agency in Aransas County.

Bids are now being accepted on the bonds, according to Supt. J. D. Gray, and will be opened at the regular meeting of the Board on June 12.

In other business at the meeting, trustees outlined a program for the summer.

Among the things that will be done immediately, according to Dr. H. F. Elliot, school board president, are construction of a new bus garage, improvement of lighting at the Rockport Campus, improvements to the school's water system, construction of a new concession house from reclaimed lumber, installation of water coolers, revision of stage lights, and purchase of a new piano for the high school auditorium.

All these items, Elliot said, were included in this year's budget.

"But the thing of which we are especially proud," he said, "is that due to close management, our cafeteria system, for which we had budgeted some $13,000 this year, was almost completely self-supporting, and we were actually able to save a little over $11,000 that we can devote to some other things that are badly needed."

"Among them are a fence around the Fulton school grounds, and black-topping of the drive-ways there. These are things that we wanted to do long ago, but always lacked the money for."

"We are also going to get a good physical inventory of school property, make some revisions in the heating system, replace fire extinguishers, buy two new electric typewriters which we hadn't hoped to get until next year, and to prepare the building we have rented at Rockport for use as an auxiliary classroom there next year."

In other action the board authorized E. M. Spencer to act as its agent in acquiring the ten acres just north of the administration building on which the new junior high school will be built.

Scouts To Give Annual Barbecue

Sunday the 27th, the Boy Scouts of Troop 49 and the Explorer Scouts of Post 49, are giving their annual barbecue. The purpose of this barbecue is to give the boys in the troop and post an opportunity to earn their way to summer camp and to finance equipment needs of the local units.

The Explorer post has 22 registered boys. Some will be attending Camp Karankawa on Lake Corpus Christi as counselors and some as campers. The post will be using their half of the earnings from this barbecue to go to camp and to complete the unit's project of rigging small skiffs for sailing and camping in the Aransas-Copano bay area.

Troop 49 has 38 boys registered and more coming in all the time. Most of the troop's money from this barbecue will go for summer camp.

The menu for the barbecue will be as follows:

Chicken or sausage, home-made potato salad, beans, tea, onions, bread.

Please support your Rockport Scouts, and "Strengthen America, Character Counts."

The barbecue will be served at 11:00 a.m. from the Lions Club Pit, near the basin. Tickets, $1.25 per plate.

Fire Equipment, Library Needed

Judge John D. Wendell Discusses Needs of Community at This Time

The Commissioners Court of Aransas County, at its regular meeting, considered a letter from the Rockport Chamber of Commerce, endorsing the calling of an election for the purpose of approving the 30c per $100 assessment, the money from this to be placed in the county budget and thus making it available from the general fund for the purchase of fire-fighting equipment and the building of a library.

Judge John Wendell, in a recent talk, told members of the Chamber of Commerce board of directors that these were the most pressing needs in the county at present.

Both of these needs have been reviewed by the Aransas County Development Committee, Judge Wendell said, and the committee recommended purchase of the fire equipment and construction of a library.

Grass fires this spring have proved the need for bigger, tougher brush wagons to fight the hard-to-get-at fires, the Judge said. He pointed out that most of the present equipment, while adequate where there are good roads or paved streets, does not meet the needs fulfilled by four-wheel-drive vehicles, capable of carrying a big water supply with them.

He also pointed out that the Aransas County Public Library, which started as a do-it-yourself proposition, had become one of the fastest growing tourist assets and juvenile recreation centers in the county. Unfortunately, due to lack of funds and space, the library was unable this summer to meet the growing demands upon it. Instead of remaining open five afternoons a week during vacation time, it will have to adhere to the winter schedule of three afternoons, at a time when the children of the community particularly need it.

This need has been partially met by the Rockport Elementary School Library; however, such aid cannot be counted on as a regular thing.

Lack of funds to pay the librarian and to buy new books has been a serious handicap, Judge Wendell said.

Cost of the needed fire engines and of a library building would amount to approximately $50,000, Judge Wendell said, and went on to point out if the ad valorem tax should be approved by an election this would cost taxpayers of the county considerably less than issuance of bonds.

Money from the ad valorem tax can be used for roads, thus releasing funds now earmarked for that purpose from the General Fund.

He emphasized that the ad valorem tax money all went to the county; that there was no portion of it went to the state, and that homestead exemptions applied to the ad valorem tax.

He pointed out that while it was perfectly legal to pay for the fire engines and for the library out of the general fund, without an election, or by the issuance of bonds, this would mean a raise in the assessed valuation of property.

By voting the ad valorem tax, it would probably be possible to lower assessed valuations within the county and still leave enough money to pay for and maintain the fire equipment and a library with a full-time librarian and sufficient books.

In other business, a letter was read in open court from the County Attorney, requesting that an assistant or assistants be appointed to assist in operation of his office and the prosecution of cases while he is away for a period of six weeks on order of his doctor. After due consideration, Attorney Joe Caldwell and Attorney Weldon Cabanis were unanimously appointed as assistants to the County Attorney for a period of six weeks from this date, each to serve without compensation from the county.

Commissioner Allen reported to the Court that he had located a block of land west of Rockport, near the city dump ground, same being owned by the City of Rockport that could possibly be purchased or leased for storage and county barn purposes. The Court then asked the County Judge to check with Mayor Johnson in regard to this property.

Shrimp Landings Drop Slightly

Domestic landings of raw, headless shrimp in Texas ports, according to C. E. Nickerson, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service statistician, amounted to 1,200,000 pounds in April. This was a decrease of 71,000 pounds over March, but 163,000 pounds more than for April 1961.

Brownsville and Port Isabel accounted for 72% of the April, 1962 landings.

Galveston landings were 20,400 pounds in April this year, compared to 23,800 in March, and 28,100 pounds for the same period a year ago.

Port Arthur-Sabine produced 14,600 in April, 1962, compared with 16,200 pounds in March, and 15,900 a year ago.

Freeport landings, in the same order, were 102,700 pounds, 109,800 pounds, 149,400 pounds; Matagorda - Palacios, 1,600 pounds;

Port Lavaca, 8700 pounds; 1900 pounds; 22,600 pounds;

Aransas Pass - Rockport-Corpus Christi, 184,500 pounds, 241,800 pounds, and 241,000 pounds

Brownsville, 399,300 pounds, 448, 600 pounds, and 266,700 pounds.

A number of shrimpers from Texas worked the Louisiana waters south of Morgan City, Nickerson worked the Campeche Banks.

Shrimp off Texas were scarce, Nickerson said, in all depths out to 45 fathoms. The average catch per twelve hours trawling was from 60 to 200 pounds.

A number of vessels from Freeport south to Port Isabel worked the coast of Mexico from the International border to the Campeche area, with poor to fair catches, averaging about 250 pounds per 12 hours of trawling.

Some vessels concluded the longest unbroken trips ever made by Texas Trawlers, Nickerson stated. Since November, 1961, vessels have made long, hard trips to compensate for the shortage of shrimp. From the standpoint of cost per unit catch, the statistical said, the first four months of 1962 are believed to be the most expensive period ever undergone by the shrimping industry, barring natural disasters.

Industry representatives, Nickerson said, have worked hard, however, to maintain a supply at the lowest possible cost to the consumer.

Shrimp prices were steady during the month at around 89-91 cents per pound. There was a two to five cent break in the smaller categories.

Blue crabs landed during the month totaled 398,000 pounds live weight, valued at $24,000 to the fishermen. This was decrease of 12% over March, 1962, but an increase of 169,000 pounds over the same period a year ago.

Some of these crabs weighed a pound each.

Eleven thousand gallons of oysters were produced during April. About 1800 gallons of this were harvested from private reefs. This total was 3000 gallons above the total for March.

About 120,000 pounds of redfish and trout were landed during the month, and 125,000 pounds of red snapper.

Junior Class Expresses Thanks

The Junior Class of Aransas County High School wishes to express its appreciation for the kind services extended to them by some of the merchants of our city to help with the Junior-Senior Banquet. Special thanks are extended to Mr. Charles Roe, Sr., and Roe's Food Store, and Mrs. J. C. Thompson and Thompson's Spa, and Mrs. Gwynn and the Sea Shell Shoppe. These individuals and establishments made services available to the class for which they are grateful.

An excellent job was done by those Sophomores and Freshmen who consented to serve at the banquet. They were:

Sue Giles, Andy Everett, Joe Hugenburt, Phyllis Striano, Susan Armitrout, Jan Clark, Chester Brumley, Sherrye Taylor, Jill Jeffers, Jean Miller, Charles Cosby, Viki Vermillion, Tommy Thompson, Terrie Thomas, Larry Iles, Betsy Fields, Sherrie Brundrett, Sallie McCord, Diane Davis, Susie Schoonover, and Mary Lou Johnson.

The co-operation of Mr. and Mrs. Eickenrodt and Brocato's Cafe, which catered the banquet was invaluable to the success of the function. Dishes were obtained through the help given by Mrs. Edith Cruser.

Also they believe their room mothers to be the best in the world for their assistance and the work they did. Most of them spent an entire day at the Fulton Elementary School decorating and then helping to clean up afterwards on Sunday afternoon.

The Junior Class room mothers are Mrs. Alice Court, Mrs. Mildred Grant, Mrs. Nora Highfill, Mrs. Chester Johnson, and Mrs. Katherine McLester. Mrs. Florence Griffith, although not a room mother did help a lot by overseeing in the kitchen and coordinating the servers.

Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Sabo are visiting in Rockport this week.

Airman 2nd class Raymond Mikeal of Duluth, Minn. is home on a two-weeks leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Mikeal and Tommie.

Anniversary Celebration Held At Live Oak Country Club

Morris Gregory of Fulton is now golf champion at Live Oak Country Club. He won the crown Sunday when he defeated Bill Clark 4 and 2 in a 36-hole match which decided the championship flight.

Gregory held on to an early lead and closed out the match with a 25-foot birdie putt on No. 34.

Gregory reached the finals with wins over Dick Reynolds and Bill Dahman.

Clark gained the finals by defeating Fred Chastain and Bill Dube, defending champion.

Homer Warren defeated Neil Kirkham for consolation honors in the championship flight.

Bill Cobb, club medalist champion, defeated Bill Miller to win the first flight.

Warren Howery defeated Art Smith for consolation.

Hayden Elsberry defeated Mark Tiner for the second flight title.

Cecil Miller defeated Hagy for consolation.

R. E. Giles won the third flight with a victory over Clarence Garrett.

Calvin Seals defeated Jiggs Spears for consolation.

Terry Moore turned back Bill FitzSimmons to win the fourth flight.

Roy Spears defeated Ramey in the consolation match.

Murray Mobley won the fifth flight by defeating Lewis Kutsch.

Sunday's finals climaxed flight play which has been underway for several weeks. Fifty-four golfers participated in the tournament.

The golf matches highlighted the tenth annual anniversary celebration of the club. Other events in connection with the celebration were the opening of the swimming pool and a barbecue Sunday, preceded by a dance Saturday night.

ROCKPORT PUBLICITY GETS AROUND

Rockport publicity continues to get around. Latest is mention in the June, 1962, Ford Times, of an article on sharks written by Chamber of Commerce Publicity chairman, Jack Baughman.

"The old Hawaiian kings preferred to use human bait for sharks," this article said. "It was cheaper than pigs and just as acceptable to the sharks."

The quotation occurs in connection with an article on salt water fishing by Thomas H. Lineweaver, III.

And this week a whole bundle of Rockport pictures and other data went forward to a boat company in Plano. Homer Faber contacted them originally, followed by Bob Fleming, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and followed up by the material sent this week.

The company, Lone Star Boats, operates out of Plano, and is considering testing some boats here.

And, of course, because unfavorable publicity always travels fastest and farthest, the unfortunate hazing incident at Rockport made headlines throughout Texas, and was broadcast over a number of radio stations the next morning.

Mrs. Buck Davis of Norfolk, Va., who has been in Spohn Hospital, is now at the home of Mrs. Pearl Davis.

IKE VISITS OLD SCHOOL IN SAN ANTONIO

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower took time out recently to visit St. Mary's University in San Antonio where, 45 years ago, he had been a part time football coach.

During his visit he said: "I am acquainted with this school, though, more intimately than merely through my football experiences. The friends that I have had in this city, some of them going way back to almost half a century, have been proud of your school... as it has advanced to become St. Mary's University. It's a very wonderful accomplishment and one that I am sure that the city, the state, as well as yourselves are proud of."

Mrs. Jim Wilder and children, Jackie, Roberta and Travis of San Marcos, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Morrison. Roberta is the only granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Morrison.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Horne of Uvalde were visitors at the services of the Church of Christ last Sunday morning. Mrs. Horne's parents were them. They were here to visit Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Gray, Horne's parents. Gray has been in the hospital again for back surgery.

TOM ANDREWS, during his first term in the Legislature, has gained a reputation for hard work, constructive government and honesty in politics.

Because of his PRIOR SERVICE in the Legislature, TOM ANDREWS is entitled to SENIORITY on Legislative committees.

During my campaign for State Representative it has come to my attention several times that people are under the impression I have accepted several retainers in my law practice. I would like to take this opportunity to state for the record that I have never received a retainer from any oil company, loan shark company, utility company, insurance company, manufacturing company, or any other persons interested in pending legislation during my term as Representative. It is my purpose to serve the people and I pledge to continue to do so.

Rockport Radar Protects Gulf

"Sir: Aircraft tract number PA142 is unknown."

The above report, repeated several times each day, will start a chain of events in the Air Defense system. An aircraft flying over the Gulf of Mexico has been declared unknown and two all-weather fighters will be "Scrambled" to intercept and identify it.

This sequence of events is typical of the operations at the local 813th Aircraft Control and Warning Squadron, one of 29 radar units in the 13 state 32nd Air Division. Here radar operators scan their scopes 24 hours a day, 365 days a year—watching for the telltale blip which will indicate a target.

This blip or signal comes from the massive radar towers which house the squadron's search and height finder antennas. Radar signals are transmitted into space and echoes from objects are reflected back to the radar antenna and into the operations building where they are displayed on radar scopes.

Inside the operations "dark room," airmen telephone aircraft positions to a large vertical plotting board. Behind the prexiglass board, other airmen draw aircraft positions in either red, orange, yellow or white crayon, depending upon the aircraft type and classification. Red is for hostile targets, orange for unknowns, yellow for SAC aircraft and white for friendly fighters and other aircraft.

Once an aircraft is detected and plotted on the board, the movements and identification officer has two minutes to identify the track from known flight plans. If an aircraft does not correspond with a flight plan, it will be declared unknown, and a flight of interceptors will be scrambled to intercept and identify it.

Communications are the life line in this air defense operation. Multiple telephone lines link each squadron with other units in the division and with higher headquarters. During periods of increased activity, such as air defense alerts, scrambles and emergencies, these telephone lines hum with the constant exchange of information. Communications also enable the intercept controllers to direct the interceptor aircraft to the unknown target, by radio transmissions.

In addition to the unknown intercepts, local directors also offer flight aid to both military and civilian aircraft. This assistance includes navigation, guidance of flights around severe thunderstorms, and emergency landing instructions. Many lives and millions of dollars have been saved by quick thinking air defense operations crews.

Local Woman's Grandfather Designed Shawls

The grandfather of a local woman was one of the designers that made the Paisley shawls of the last century so beautiful that they are rare and sought-after heirlooms today.

According to Mrs. M. E. McDonald, is was a Persian prince who came to the little town of Paisley in Scotland with some of his weavers and set up a weaving establishment, using some of the artists there as designers.

"Among them was my grandfather, Thomas Adam," Mrs. McDonald said.

"He was a painter and so took readily to the art of design. And so well did he do that, a few years ago, when there was an exhibition of the shawls in Paris, one designed by him took first prize."

Mrs. McDonald's grandfather died about 1882, she said, and the manufacture of the shawls ceased some time later. Today they are rare.

"My grandfather's people were architects and designers," Mrs. McDonald said. "My mother had a talent for picking antiques. I remember that one bed had grapes carved around its headboards and crimson padding in the center, and one chair had white Nile lilies in beads on the seat and back."

"My brother, David Livingston Adam, was a portrait painter in Chicago where, although he died when only forty, he was instrumental in starting the Palette and Cisel Club. The artists auctioned off paintings every now and then to pay for the three story building."

Professional men like doctors, lawyers and others were among the members of the club which was a success from the beginning.

Another of the family, has many portraits hanging in the capitol at Austin. Mrs. McDonald, who is her sister, has spent the past fifteen years in Rockport, living in a white stucco building of Mediterranean type architecture, overlooking Aransas Bay.

Both Mrs. McDonald and her brother have won medals for drawing and painting.

MANY LOCAL PERSONS RECEIVE SOCIAL SECURITY PAYMENTS

Social Security payments of retirement, disability, and family insurance are becoming increasingly important as a community resource. A recent report by H. M. Cleveland, district manager of the Social Administration in Corpus Christi shows that there are 641 beneficiaries in Aransas County.

At the beginning of this year, payments amounted to $39,666 a month in this county. This is an increase of about 24 per cent over last year's figures. While the benefits are primarily intended to protect families against the loss of a worker's earnings in his old years, death, or disability, they also help business in the community. Most of the money is spent for housing, food, clothing, medical care, and other necessities.

At the present time, social security benefits are being paid at a rate of over one billion dollars a month across the nation. "There are several reasons for the increase," Cleveland said. "There are now more aged people than ever before; benefits can now be paid as early as age 62; and less social security credit is needed to meet the eligibility requirements for benefits."

The average old-age insurance benefit nationally last December, was $74.04 a month for a retired worker. In Texas, the average benefit was $68.23, and in Corpus Christi District payments to retired workers averaged $67.73 a month.

The table below shows the number and amount of each type and benefit being paid monthly in Aransas County as of Jan. 1, 1962, the date of the latest available tabulation.

343 retired workers, $25,419; 112 wife or husband, $4,045; 55 widow, widower or parent, $3,141; 83 mothers and children, $4,165; 48 disabled workers and dependents, $2,896; 641 total, $39,666.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hebisen and Mr. and Mrs. Willie Close visited in Leakey last week.

2,731 HOUSING UNITS IN ARANSAS COUNTY

The 1960 Census of Housing counted 2,731 housing units in Aransas County, Texas. Of these 2,051 were in sound condition with all plumbing; 2,120 were occupied; 1,471 were occupied by owners; $6,700 was the median value of owner-occupied places; 649 were occupied by renters; $58 was the median gross rent of rented places; 2,312 had hot and cold running water; 2,393 had flush toilet; 2,399 bathtub or shower; 236 were trailer homes.

Five hundred and seven households had air conditioning; 1,822 had TV; 1,761 radio; 1,384 telephone; 1,369 had washing machines; 346 clothes dryers, 746 had 1 or more home food freezers; 1,532 had 1 automobile; 316 had 2 automobiles; 60 had 3 or more automobiles.

BAND SHELL—

that they had delayed asking for these until they received a favorable reply from the Navigation District.

C. C. Fowler, local contractor, who accompanied the delegation, who, with Tommy Shults had designed and blueprinted the shell, said cost would run around $3,000 if no piling was needed.

The Navigation District Commissioners were favorably inclined toward the project, and discussed a suitable site for the shell. It was pointed out that it should be placed where it could be used for afternoon entertainment without being exposed to the full western sun. However, all agreed that the bay would make the most beautiful background.

Parking space, and room to handle traffic were reasons that a number of locations were ruled out, and the Board suggested that the boys investigate further locations and report back at the next Navigation District meeting.

In an open letter to Aransas County people, the junior Oddfellows say:

"The organization is encouraged to assist and promote projects for the development and betterment of their community. From several suggestions of this nature, the group has selected as their project, the sponsoring of construction of a band shell on Rockport Beach. This structure would be a beautiful addition to the facilities already there, and a tribute to the Aransas County School Bands, as well as an attraction to visitors. It could be used for many purposes other than band concerts.

"We sincerely hope that this proposal will meet with the approval and win the enthusiastic support of every citizen of this area, and will be in every sense of the word a real community project. We hope and believe that there will be enough in voluntary contributions from business and professional people, from civic and fraternal organizations and from interested citizens to cover the cost of construction. A complete record will be kept of all donations of $1.00 or more, and all money donated for this purpose will be used on it. If more than the minimum required amount is subscribed, the balance will be used in landscaping and improving the site.

"Work will start on this structure as soon as sufficient donations and pledges are made to assure completion of the project. Our goal is to have it finished and ready for use early in July of this year. If you wish to help in the construction of this addition to Rockport's beautiful beach, please mail your checks and pledges today, to Eugene Johnson, project treasurer, Box 132, Fulton, Texas. Signed:

Sargassum Weed Now Littering Gulf Beaches

The long brown piles of Sargassum weed now littering Gulf beaches may be a pain in the neck to fishermen, swimmers, and others who wish to use the sands, but to the little people of the sea they were a haven and a nursery before they washed ashore.

The floating sargassum weed harbors the young of fish, shrimp, crabs and half a hundred other sea creatures, many of them colored the exact shade of the weed itself, and in ancient times the Sargassum Sea was supposed to be a dead sea in which ancient ships were becalmed, unable to move because of the brown, plant-like algae.

Albert Heine, curator of the Corpus Christi Museum, regards the visitation as manna from heaven as far as a biologist is concerned, and in just a few minutes collected over 40 specimens from weed floating in to Padre beach.

Dr. Henry Hildebrand, professor at the University of Corpus Christi, said that besides being the bottom of a food chain utilized by most animals of the sea, sar-gassum weed has other uses. "In the so-called 'Golden Belt' of Normandy in France," he stated, "seaweed is used as the basis of a compost used as fertilizer."

Dr. Robert J. Beyers of the University of Texas Institute of Marine Science at Port Aransas said that "on a mulch pile, it should provide nitrogen and a lot of micro-nutrients," but suggested that it would be well to wash the stuff first in fresh water before use.

Another research scientist at the Institute, Dr. John Briggs, concurred.

The sargassum weed is really a brown algae that lives attached to rocks and coral heads along the coast of Florida and the West Indies. But many of the plants are torn loose from their anchorage by storms, and especially by hurricanes like Carla, only to be picked up by the ocean currents and drifted northward around the periphery of the Gulf and towards the Sargassum Sea.

With the weeds go, as voluntary passengers, many small fishes, crabs, shrimps, and innumerable larvae of assorted marine creatures, while flying fish make nests of the weed to contain their eggs, which bear an amazing resemblance to the sargassum floats or

ROCKPORT PUBLICITY CONTINUES TO GET AROUND THE STATE

Rockport publicity continues to get around, according to Chamber of Commerce publicity chairman, Jack Baughman.

The Fulton and Rockport Lions Clubs elections were in three of the state's largest newspapers, and news of the VFW doings from here also appeared.

One of the metropolitan dailies carried a story on Rockport High School's commencement speaker, another reported that students of the Rockport School of Fine Arts were holding a sidewalk show in Victoria this weekend.

And in the San Antonio Light for Monday, there was a long story on the Key Allegro development.

There were a number of other releases, including an extensive write up on the old Fulton Mansion, with pictures that went out in inquirers, and pictures will be released this coming week on some of the beauties that will appear in the Sea-o-rama Mermaid's Parade.

Mrs. Flossie Dabbis of Corpus Christi, spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Barber.

The Sargasso sea slug—a snail without a shell, has a soft and shapeless brown body with dark-edged circles and fringed with flaps and folds of skin, so that as it creeps over the weed in search of prey, it can scarcely be told from the vegetation. One of the fiercest beasts of the woody jungle, has copied with utmost fidelity the branching fronds of the weed, its golden berries, its rich brown color, and even the white dots of the worm tubes that encrust the sargassum.

And scattered throughout the weed, as it is cast in long windrows along the shores, are the blue globes of Portuguese men of war, whose streaming tentacles are covered with the sand and no longer dangerous.

The specimens collected by Heine included different types of snails, tiny egg cases of some sea dwellers, moss animals, several types of shrimp, flat worms, sea anemones, goose neck barnacles and sargassum crabs.

"The ocean is one large food chain, starting with algae," he said, starting with algae like this, for it is the only form of marine life that can take energy from the sun and turn it into food."

JET BUSINESS—This is a scale model of the kind of businessman's jet plane which a Grand Rapids, Mich., industrialist may put into production. The jet would cruise at 500 miles per hour and would seat five passengers.

Working for Texas

Meet a fellow Texan: Preston Smith.

Preston Smith's story is in the best Texas and American tradition—a farm boy who worked his own way to an education and a place of honor in his business and community life.

Born in the heart of Texas, at Georgetown, he moved with his family to Dawson County in 1923 when he was 10 years old. He went to school at Sunset, Lamesa, and Texas Tech. In his adopted home town of Lubbock, with his wife Ima and their two children, he now carries out the full responsibilities of a typical Texas business and civic leader.

A steward at St. John's Methodist Church—member of the Salvation Army Board, the Kiwanis Club, the Chamber of Commerce, the Texas Farm Bureau—these are some of the activities close to the heart of Preston Smith, citizen.

He did not stop there. In his daily pursuits Preston Smith came to realize that business and government are closely related in the American system—and that without good government we cannot have a favorable climate for good business. A man of direct action, Preston Smith went into the business of government. He served six years in the Texas House of Representatives and six in the Senate.

Senator Smith has supported sound statewide legislation for better schools, roads, welfare and conservation. He took the lead in establishing a permanent building program for state colleges. He had the integrity to support necessary state spending and the courage to oppose extravagance and waste. In government, as in business and at home, Preston Smith believes in meeting our obligations and paying our bills.

Having proved himself as one of the best-rounded, best-equipped, best-informed and most highly respected Texans in both his private and public careers, Preston Smith was a logical candidate to succeed Ben Ramsey as Lieutenant Governor of Texas.

Voters in 102 counties gave Preston the lead over four opponents in the First Democratic Primary. Now he is in the runoff. He got there without the support of any self-serving group or power bloc. His opponent has the endorsement of labor leaders and other special interests who want to dominate our state government.

Preston Smith asks only for the votes of individual Texans who want a Lieutenant Governor without any strings attached. He is depending on independent-minded Texans everywhere to vote for him on June 2.

Elect your independent candidate for Lieutenant Governor—
