COTTON PRICE FORECAST RULED AGAINST COMPROMISE CLOSES TRIANGULAR PARK SITE SUIT

CITY AWARDED ONE BLOCK AND OTHER DIVIDED

OVERTON AND PRICE TO GET EQUAL SHARE IN SOUTHWEST PLOT

The triangular Overton, Bledsoe and Price, and City of Lubbock municipal park suit, involving title to city property valued at $40,000, ended a five-year course in 99th district court here this morning with a compromise of the three parties, whereby the city of Lubbock is to receive block 36, constituting 48 lots, as a gift for park purposes, and Dr. M. Overton and T. T. Price, of Dallas, are to equally divide block 46 of the Overton addition.

After uninteresting reading of deeds and reviewing of history of the blocks since the case opened last Monday, the suit came to a sharp close about 11 o'clock this morning when attorneys of the three parties announced the agreement. The compromise was made about thirty minutes.

Bledsoe to Deed Plat

Senator W. H. Bledsoe, who was partner with Mr. Price in 1909 the purchase of 1,000 lots of Dr. Overton, agreed to execute a deed gift to the City of Lubbock of block 36, with the provision that be used as a municipal park.

Miss Edith Carter Is Honoree At Party Last Evening

With Miss Edith Carter, bride-elect, as honor guest, members of Mrs. E. W. Camp's Sunday school class of the First Methodist church attended a party last evening at the home of Miss Lulu Mae Craven, 1909 Broadway. Miss Carter served as president of the class for several months and has been a longtime member.

A reading, appropriate for the occasion, was given by Mrs. O. L. Peterman and a toast to the honoree was given by Miss Flora Green, the present head of the class. In presenting Miss Carter with a shower of bridal gifts, the dining room of the home was opened, disclosing the table converted into a garden in the center of which was a miniature well.

Streamers from the well were pulled by Miss Mary Meador, Miss Mildred Street and Miss Myrtle Lemons and the toasts, which were attached, were read. The last streamer, which led to the honoree, disclosed her to the "pot of gold" at the foot of the rainbow. This was a large basket of gifts. Dainty refreshments in rainbow colors were served.

Those in attendance were Mrs. E. W. Camp, Mrs. W. E. Craven, Misses Edith Carter, Myrtle Lemons, Tyler Lee Knight, Mary Meador, Ethel Lawson, Martha Bell Logan, Zoia Mae Logan, Ann Ford, Eulh Ford, Flora Green, Lila Gibson, Blanche Bean, Marian Evans, Louise Jennings, Almada Murray, Mildred Street, Edna Houghton, Leah Moore, Mrs. J. # What IS the Ideal Cooking Fuel???

Answer: the kind that can be easily and quickly controlled; that doesn't smoke your vessels or fill your kitchen with fumes; the kind that is quick—dependable and economical! If the ideal cooking fuel embodies all of the above virtues—then without question electricity IS the ideal cooking fuel!

Housewives who are using electricity will be hard to convince that there is a fuel that equals electricity.

PIRATES CONTINUE TO GAIN BUT FACE TWO GRUELLING SERIES

GIANTS, CARDS DIVIDE HONORS DOUBLE BILL

ATHLETICS CONTINUE IN RACE FOR SECOND IN JUNIOR CIRCUIT

(By Associated Press)
 Pittsburgh's hold on the National League pennant had increased to one and a half games today. The Buccaners increased their lead steadily to eight games as they rolled over the Braves while the Giants and Cards gained equally in their third barbed wire path to the heights of the pennant. However, they must meet the Giants in a game series at Pittsburgh and the Cubs in a like number of contests at Chicago.

Braves Go Under 2-1
 The Braves went under 2 to 1, their fifth in a row in the series, as well as their twelfth consecutive setback. Carmen Hill shaded Smith on the mound, sailing down with five safeties, Dwyer's double and singles by Harris and Earl Smith settled the contest for the Corsairs in the ninth.

The Giants split with the Cards again, both clubs went into the field for the sixth consecutive day.

The world champions called upon five pitchers in the first game as well as six pinch hitters but lost, 3 to 1. Haines was blasted for four runs in three innings and his successors could not stop the assault. Terry of New York got home runs one with two on base, while Taylor made a pair of ones, one with the bases full.

Recruit Wins Second
 Paulmer late of the Toronto Cubs, received credit for the victory in his first start for New York, although Henson went to his rest in the sixth and finished the game without granting a hit or run. Darkness halted the second frame in the eighth. Frankhouse, Houston product, registered his third triumph for St. Louis, beating the Giants, 5 to 3. Roush and Hagg hit home runs.

The Cubs were forced to illness by rain. Other National League clubs were without schedule.

While the Yanks pennant is already flying, the American League race is now for the spoils which go to the front division clubs. The Athletics kept in stride for second place money by making it three straight over the White Sox, 5 to 2, a double steal by French and Cash paving the way for the decisive run, after Chicago had tied the score at 4-all in the sixth.

Detroit Beats Senators
 Detroit came from behind with a run rally in the seventh to beat the Senators 6 to 5, Manush going through with a home run and a base in the attack. The victory brought the Bengals up to within two games of the third place now occupied by Washington.

George Uble sidetracked the Yankees from the sixth victory as the Indians finished in front 3 to 2 in the last clash of the clubs this season.

Gaston won a close verdict for the Browns at Boston by 2 to 0 while Rice belted a home run off St. Harris in the sixth to break a deadlock.

Firpo Was Knocked Down Eight Times

Jack Dempsey's Greatest Knock-Outs Before Champion Was Decided Victor

(By Associated Press)
 "My greatest moment came in April, 1919, in France. I had fought my way to the finals of the A. E. F. tournament, a series of elimination boxing matches to determine the best fighting men at their weights in a fighting arm. I fought Ted Jamieson for the championship at 170 pounds. I won, and the victory was the sweetest, the most thrilling of my career."

"Next Thursday night in Soldier Field, I'll fight Jack Dempsey again. I was confident of victory at Philadelphia last fall. This time I am certain. To me the fight offers the opportunity of finishing the job I started then. This time I must knock Dempsey out to prove to the world that there is no question of my superiority, that I am a real champion, and did not win my title on a fluke."

Enters Final Training
 Gene entered the final three days of intensive training today feeling "better than ever." He felt that his workout yesterday, his first in four days, was his best since coming to Camp Crost country club more than two weeks ago. Tunney punched the light and heavy bags for four rounds before boxing six rounds with three sparring partners.

(By Associated Press)
 "I hate all you wish of the Corbett, Sullivan, the Sharkey-Jeffries and the Johnson-Willard fights, but most experts agree that the Firpo-Dempsey fight at the Polo Grounds in September, 1922, was the thriller of all times."

Dempsey knocked the Argentine bull down eight times. He, himself, was dropped to his knees once and, another time, catapulted out of the ring into the arms of newspapermen.

All of this, mind you, in less than two rounds. Firpo was sent down for the eighth and last time after the second round had been on 57 seconds.

Dempsey was dropped, to one knee, first, a right to the jaw by Firpo sending him down.

Coming out of a clinch, Dempsey hooked a left to Firpo's jaw that sent the Argentine down for a count of two.

A heavy left sent him down again. Another left sent him down for a count of nine. Three rights to the head sent him down three more times.

Dempsey then became bewildered. As he plunged forward, Firpo's right caught Dempsey and sent him out of the ring. Nine was counted before he was able to get back in!

Both fighters were tired, Firpo probably more tired than Dempsey as they rested between rounds.

As the round started, Dempsey, cool, hooked a blow to Firpo's jaw followed by two to the body, and down he went.

A right to the jaw sent him down again. He took a count of five.

A left hook to the jaw with a right hook to the same spot, a perfect one-two drive, ended Firpo's heavyweight aspirations just 57 seconds after the round had started.

Approximately 30,000 fans saw the fight at Tex Rickard's Jersey City arena—a fight that, for sheer brutal fighting, stands out as the greatest of all times.

 "I seem that stage fright over the prospect of defeating the great Bobby Jones was a bit too much for the youthful McCarthy, son of a New York golf pro."

McCarthy Was Bold
 At the turn, McCarthy was one up. When they teed off at the sixteenth hole, the youngster still held that margin over the great Bobby, super golfer. Yet at the finish Jones was two up, still in the running, to go on to win.

I am told by those who watched the McCarthy-Jones match that while it was unquestionably stage fright that defeated the youngster it was not the form of stage fright that comes with lack of courage.

On the other hand, it could be classed as stage fright, resulting from inexperience. With a win over Jones seemingly in the bag, McCarthy, instead of playing safe, continued bold to the last. This style of play made for wildness, particularly from the tee, and gave Jones the opening he had hoped for and he was quick to seize it.

 The champions as well as the near-champions, by the way, are none too keen for 18-hole championship match play. They do not consider it a real test of one's golf.

Kick At 18 Holes
 It is a cinch that George Von Elm, former champion, wouldn't cast his vote for the 18-hole championship match play, by which many of the earlier matches were decided.

One of the big surprises of the Minikahda tourney was the defeat of Von Elm by Harry Legg, well known in the vicinity of Minneapolis but not so well known at large. Von Elm lost 1 up after being 2 up at the turn. While both players suffer the same hardships, still 18 holes of golf is a rather short test for the national amateur title in a game invariably featured by the unexpected.

The figures show that in two of his last three matches, before winning the right to play Bobby Jones in the finale, Evans was down at the 18th hole, only to overcome the margin in the next 18.

The breaks of the game, so frequent in golf, are often decisive in 18 holes, while in 36 there is a much greater chance for the

TUNNEY TELLS HIS GREATEST THRILL BATTLE

FINALS IN A. E. F. MEET IS CLAIMED BEST OF HIS CAREER

(By The Associated Press)
 LAKE VILLA, Ill., Sept. 16.—One of the greatest moments in Gene Tunney's life is less than a week away, yet the prospect does not especially thrill him.

"Strangely enough, the greatest 'kick' the fight game has given me, came not in my defeat of Jack Dempsey last fall, nor when my hand was raised in victory at the close of my first professional match with Dan O'Dowd in Jersey City," the heavyweight champion said today.

JONES IS TOO GOOD WHEN IT SIMMERS DOWN

PROWESS OF ATLANTAN CASTS SHADOW OVER COMING YEARS

(By Associated Press)
 NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—Well, now, what are you going to do with Bobby Jones? Here the golf season is at an end and that big par-and-birdie man from Atlanta has again demonstrated there is not the slightest doubt about his ability to tame the current crop of amateurs. So great has been his margin that there is a rather pessimistic future.

So long as Bobby chooses to play in the national amateur—certainly for the next five years at least—there never will be any more doubt about the outcome than there was this year.

It is monotonous to keep going to championships and know the winner's name in advance.

Take the men he had to meet in the last brackets—Guimet, Johnston and Evans. Certainly one out of that trio should have been able to put up a match.

It wasn't more than three years ago that Francis and Chick held high prominence in the links world. As recently as 1920, they were finalists for the title; between then and this year, Evans has been a finalist once and a semi-finalist twice while Guimet twice has gone to the semi-finals.

There was every reason to expect that at least one of them would be able to furnish stiff opposition to Jones. Chick played great golf to beat Billy Sixty. He was on a course where he had won a brilliant open with a world's medal record. He was in good physical condition. He was getting longer blasts off the tee than he ever did. He was playing before a gallery that wanted him to win.

But what happened? An inconspicuous 8 and 7 spanking.

What are you going to do with this fellow Jones?

Jimmy Johnston, Chick Evans and Frank Guimet, three so-called top-notchers, rated within the first ten, won only 8 holes out of 32 in match play with the Atlanta wizard.

There is only one prophecy to make concerning the immediate future. It is that the stars of yesterday—Evans, Guimet, Marston, Guilford and Gardner—have beaten Bobby for the last time.

The only two former champions

DAMAGE FROM WEEVIL SHOWN TO BE GREATER

INCREASE OVER LAST YEAR CLAIMED BY ENTOMOLOGIST

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—Despite an apparent divergence of opinion on the extent of 1927 boll-weevil damage, J. L. Webb, cotton-entomologist, says damage to this year's cotton crop shows a relative increase over the damage of 1925 and 1926.

While official estimate has not been made for last year, destruction in 1925 is placed at 3.87 per cent of the entire crop, a material drop from the 28.88-per-cent weevil-infestation in 1923.

Light Two Years Ago “Compared to the general average,” Webb points out, “weevil damage was light in the last two years. It is a natural sequence that a ‘comeback’ is due. Present infestation is no heavier than might be expected.”

Recent estimates of weevil infestation sent cotton prices upward only to fall off after release of government statistics for Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, North Carolina and South Carolina. All with the exception of South Carolina, however, showed heavy damage. There was no report from Georgia, Florida, Tennessee and Oklahoma, remaining states of the cotton belt.

Expect Serious Results Although the late market action is taken to indicate depreciation of boll weevil damage, Webb believes serious results may be expected if the next month and a half is marked by any considerable rainfall and cool weather.

He calls attention to the fact that much cotton still may be saved this season by proper dusting with calcium arsenate. Cotton keeps blooming and forming bolls until frost. Effective dusting may be done in September, either by the airplane method now popular or by hand sprays and the fore general horse-drawn machinery.

It is not expected, Webb admits, that the boll weevil, believed to have crossed the Rio Grande from Mexico near Brownsville, Texas, about 1892, ever will be eradicated. But certain measures may be taken which, under ordinary circumstances, will control it to the extent that a profitable crop of cotton may be raised.

Control Measures In addition to the use of poison, control measures include fall destruction of the cotton plants, either by burning or by plowing under, which destroy possible hibernating places of the weevil in the fields. It is estimated that only 15 or 20 per cent of the cotton growers use calcium arsenate, but virtually all in the more seriously affected regions take the precaution of destroying the old plants, using an early maturing variety of cotton and planting as early in the spring as possible to have their crop well along before weevils have become numerous enough to be destructive.

house and within ten minutes they rendered their approval of the proposed settlement to the court.

Expressing satisfaction over the agreement, Mayor Parish announced immediately following dismissal of court that the city would make improvements on the land to provide a much needed park. The site is an advantageous center for a park and will serve as an initial step toward the establishment of other playgrounds for children, the mayor pointed out.

City's Growth Shown A review of Dr. Overton's petition pronounces the phenomenal growth of Lubbock. In the suit, he claims that in 1909 he sold and deeded 1,900 lots to Messrs. Bledsoe and Price, including in the deed deeds to two blocks with the stipulation that they be deeded to the city for park purposes. At this time the Overton addition was unpopulated, with the exception of a few scattered homes.

Dr. Overton asserts that he offered the land to the city several times, but the town being small they were refused as sites for city parks.

About five years ago Bledsoe and Price maintained that the blocks were deeded to them and assumed ownership; whereupon Dr. Overton entered suit. The city then entered cross action, based upon Dr. Overton's testimony. The case came to trial in October of 1926, resulting in a hung jury, 8 to 4 in favor of the plaintiff.

Laboratory Complete The laboratory was founded by Col. George Fabyan, capitalist, whose hobby is acoustics. It is considered the most complete of its kind in the country and is purely an altruistic enterprise.

Dr. Sabine has found that a ceiling or wall containing a myriad of crooked channels virtually absorbs the ordinary sounds of a room, while smooth surfaces send back noises as reverberations.

Science Seeking Effect Of City's Noise On Workers

(By Associated Press) CHICAGO, Sept. 16.—The effect of a big city's myriad noises on the efficiency of office workers has become a subject for scientific study in Chicago.

Over a period of a week, Prof. A. W. Kornhauser, business psychologist of the University of Chicago, and Dr. Paul E. Sabine, expert on acoustics and head of the Riverbank laboratories at Geneva, Ill., studied a group of stenographers and other employes in a loop office.

Samples Taken Samples of work performed in a quiet room were taken. Then the girls were given work to do in a room filled with mingled sounds of the clack of typewriters, whir of calculating machines, jangle of telephones, and noises of the street wafted through open windows.

Kornhauser approached the problem from the angle of business efficiency and Dr. Sabine from the viewpoint of acoustics. They will make their conclusions from an accumulated mass of evidence consisting of samples of office workers' efforts.

Pilot Is War Ace And Experienced

NEW YORK, Sept. 16 (AP)—Captain R. H. MacIntosh, who hopped off from Dublin today on a trans-Atlantic flight, is 23 years old, was a World War ace, and a British imperial airway pilot.

He has carried more than 10,000 passengers and spent more than 6,500 hours in the air as a commercial pilot. During the war he registered more than 300 flight hours in a bombing plane.

His plane has no wireless, but carries a collapsible rubber boat as a safety measure.

Leads Backs Flight William E. Leeds is MacIntosh's chief financial backer for the flight but the pilot is said to have put all his own resources into the enterprise. More funds were needed, however, and he spent some time looking for a paying passenger to share the expenses. The plane is named for Princess Xenia of Russia, wife of Leeds.

Commandant James C. Fitzmaurice, who replaced Captain Anthony Wreford, as Captain MacIntosh's co-pilot in the flight saw service in the World War in the British infantry, cavalry and air forces. He joined the Free State air force in 1922. He is married and has one child. MacIntosh is not married.

HELFAST, Sept. 16 (AP)—The plane Princess Xenia passed over Galway Bay at 2:30 p. m. Galway Bay is approximately 115 miles west of Dublin.

IRISH FLIERS

Bids Family Farewell Fitzmaurice embraced his wife and little daughter and they stood by to wave their handkerchiefs as he entered the plane.

The crowd cheered lustily with loud cries of “good luck” as the Princess Xenia, named for the Russian wife of an American millionaire, gracefully took the air, running 500 yards across the Baldonnet Field. Airmen said the takeoff could not have been improved upon, the plane despite its 720 gallons of petrol, rising without difficulty.

Just prior to taking off Captain MacIntosh saw a black cat which he picked up remarking: “This is certainly an omen of good luck.” The plane carried a good supply of food and water.

Heads for Newfoundland Captain MacIntosh announced that he would head for Newfoundland and thence to New York. Before taking off he said he expected to make the flight in 26 hours.

Captain MacIntosh's only companion in the flight is James C. Fitzmaurice, commandant of the Irish Free State air force, who suc-

L. C. Tatom Dies In Dallas; Is To Be Buried Sunday

Funeral services for L. C. (81) Tatom, 2219 15th street, who died this morning at 3 o'clock in a Dallas hospital, probably will be conducted here Sunday afternoon, according to telephone messages received by W. B. Atkins this morning. The deceased is to be brought to Lubbock tomorrow afternoon.

Mr. Tatom underwent an operation in Dallas yesterday morning, after he had been advised by local physicians to see a specialist there. His widow was with him at the time of the operation but his three children, L. C. Melba and Doris Dell, remained here.

Mr. Tatom came to Lubbock about two years ago from Sweetwater, as district manager for the Higginbotham-Bartlett Lumber Co., having been with the company in various Texas points for the last 23 years. He is a member of the Masonic lodge and of the First Methodist church and it is probable that the pastor of the latter, the Rev. E. E. White, will conduct the funeral services. A brother of the deceased and several friends are to arrive here this afternoon from Sweetwater.

Heads for Newfoundland Captain MacIntosh announced that he would head for Newfoundland and thence to New York. Before taking off he said he expected to make the flight in 26 hours.

Coming with a rush, the boy struck Saunders just below the ear, putting all the smashing force he could into the blow.
