Soviets Evade Definite Stand In Dispute

German Reds Again Break Up Meeting

By OMER ANDERSON
INS Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, Aug. 28 (Saturday)—Thousands of Russian supported German Communists again stormed the Berlin city hall yesterday and broke up an assembly meeting.

At midnight Maj. Gen. Alexander Kotikov, the Soviet Berlin commander, evaded a direct answer to city assembly chairman Otto Suhr's demand for a "neutralized area around the city hall to prevent the demonstrations.

Soviets Seek Ouster

Suhr said Kotikov replied that he "did not understand" Suhr's request, asked for more information, and plainly indicated that he would refuse.

Kotikov's answer increased indications that the assembly may retreat from the city hall in the Soviet sector and establish itself in the Reichstag building in the British sector.

In such an event the Communists are expected to install an "action committee" to take over the city hall and purportedly represent all of Berlin. Western observers say a "city assembly retreat" is just what the Communists want.

Karl Litke, co-chairman of the Berlin Socialist Unity (Communist) party, again demanded pro-Soviet rule by an "action committee."

Leaders of the anti-Communist assembly announced that a meeting of the city council, or working body of the assembly will be held tomorrow.

Council Meeting Called Off

Later the magistrat (council) meeting was called off amid German press reports that the city assembly meetings will be transferred to the basement of the bombed-out Reichstag building inside the British sector and just outside the Soviet sector.

German officials admitted that such a move for the assembly — but not the magistrat — is being considered but declined to say if a decision has been reached.

The Communists thus far have

Dispute Wrecks French Cabinet

PARIS, (Saturday) Aug. 28 (AP)—The coalition government of Premier Andre Marie resigned early today precipitating what most observers believed to be one of France's gravest post-war political tests.

The big question was: Who is left for President Vincent Auriol to choose as Marie's successor. Speculation arose immediately about the possibility of the legislature being dissolved and new elections being held. That is what Gen. Charles De Gaulle and his new Rally of the French People (RPF) have been urging for many months.

Reforms Split Government

The crisis which brought about the fall of Marie's month-old government was a two-day struggle within the cabinet to draft a series of financial and economic reforms.

If the crisis degenerates into a chaotic state, Edouard Herriot, president of the national Assembly, might be called upon to head a temporary "government of liquidation." This would govern during the period between a dissolution of the legislature and a period of preparation for new elections.

According to the French constitution, such a government would have to include all parties in its legislature. This would mean that the Communists would be part of such a provisional cabinet. As such, they would be back sharing political "power" for the first time in 18 months.

Marie's was the tenth French government to serve since the nation's liberation. The government preceding Marie's, that of ex-premier Robert Schuman, quit last month in defeat when the Socialists voted against Schuman's defense budget.

Hiss Linked To Chambers In Farm Deal

By ROSE McKEE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27—Whittaker Chambers confirmed under oath tonight a report that he and Alger Hiss inspected a farm in 1936 despite a denial by Hiss' lawyer.

Chambers told the House Un-American Activities committee in a closed session that Hiss made a down payment on the house and that after Hiss withdrew from the transaction, he bought the property as a "hide-away" to be used when he left the Communist party.

New Ties Established

Rep. Mundt (R-SD), said that Chambers' new testimony was important because it "establishes the fact that he, Chambers, was known as Chambers in those days and not as George Crosley."

Hiss, a former State department official, accused by Chambers of being a Communist agent, has flatly denied the charge. He originally said he did not know Chambers, now a $25,000-a-year Time magazine editor. Later, Hiss said he knew Chambers as "George Crosely."

The committee has been trying to find out which one of the men lied as a basis for a perjury action.

Chambers' testimony confirmed a copyright article in the Baltimore News-Post that he and Hiss were interested in a secluded Maryland farm which Hiss started to buy but which Chambers eventually purchased.

Lawyer Denies Claim

John F. Davis, Hiss' Washington lawyer, when contacted about the report, said:

"I can state to you that Hiss has never at any time either at the time mentioned in the story or at any time negotiated for or bought any real estate near Baltimore."

Chambers, who said he bought the ramshackle house in December, 1941, told spy probers he first saw it in 1936 when he was driven to inspect it by Hiss. The farm is said to be near Westminster, Md., a short distance from Baltimore.

Hiss testified that the last time he saw Chambers was in 1935.

Robert E. Stripling, chief committee investigator, declared that the disclosure that Hiss and Chambers inspected the farm to-

Three Hurt In Four-Car Crash

Three persons were injured, one seriously, about 5:22 p. m. Friday in a four-car collision at Nineteenth and Avenue X, all the injured persons being in one of the cars involved.

Mrs. Myrtle Yarbrough, 55, of 2428 Twenty-fourth street, was admitted to Lubbock Memorial hospital for treatment of a fractured right leg, bruises and shock, and Dr. and Mrs. W. M. Clowers, also of 2428 Twenty-fourth, were treated for minor injuries. Dr. Clowers, 66, was treated for an inch-long cut over the right eye and released. Mrs. Clowers, 63, suffered a broken nose and shock. Further diagnosis is to be made by x-ray, the hospital indicated.

Car Struck Truck

According to the accident report made by police patrolmen, the 1935 Plymouth driven by Mrs. Yarbrough was going west on Nineteenth street and started to make a left turn south onto Ave. X.

The right front of the Yarbrough car hit the left front of a 1941 Chevrolet panel truck driven by Harry M. Pickett, jr., 25, of 1615 Ave. J, who was proceeding east on the inside lane of traffic.

The Yarbrough car was turned completely around, coming to rest facing east. The force of the impact apparently forced the truck into the outside lane of traffic, where it was struck a second

Three Oklahoma Men Held In Robbery Of Houston Grocer

HOUSTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—Three Oklahoma men are being held here following a midafternoon robbery of approximately $9,000 in cash and jewelry from a food market owner.

Sam Hardee, 36, told police three men had relieved him of $7,559 in cash and a $1,500 diamond ring after pulling a gun on him as he stopped at a traffic signal while enroute from a bank to his store.

The loot was recovered as the three men were arrested on U. S. highway 75, seven miles south of Conroe.

Police identified all of the men as being from Muskogee, Okla.

New officers chosen included Ed McLaughlin, president; Bill Ezell, vice president; Nellie Witt Spikes, secretary; and Carl Lewis, treasurer.

Later in the afternoon, a pilgrimage to Emma cemetery, south of Ralls, was made, and Rev. J. F. Matthews of Lubbock, pioneer preacher in the area, made a short memorial address at the graves of early settlers who are buried there.

Good Weather Seen For Voting Today; Rest Of U. S. Sizzles

SOUTH Plains residents have been promised near perfect weather in which to cast their ballots today while the rest of the state is expected to go to the polls 'under cloudy to partly cloudy skies with the possibility of a few scattered thundershowers here and there.

Lubbock County's First Bale To Be Auctioned Today

Lubbock county's first bale of 1948 cotton will be auctioned off on the courthouse square here at 2:30 p. m. today with Kenneth Bozeman handling the gavel as auctioneer.

H. V. Sowder, who operates a farm near Idalou, ginned the bale last Saturday after 13 persons and himself had spent six hours picking 1,700 pounds of cotton from 15 acres of land. The seed cotton was taken to Idalou Co-op gin and ginned out a 530 pound bale.

Sowder and his family will be guests of the Junior Chamber of Commerce today. The Jaycees sponsor the annual "first bale" contests. At 8 p. m. today Sowder will be interviewed over radio Station KFYO. The Idalou farmer will receive gifts from a large number of Lubbock business firms who are co-operating in the Jaycee contest. A member of the Jaycees will conduct the farmer to the business houses to pick up the prizes personally.

The South Plains first bale of the 1948 season, raised by James Putty of near Brownfield, brought $1.40 a pound at an auction sale held last Saturday in Brownfield.

Two Of Three Convicts Who Fled Utah Prison Recaptured

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 27 (INS)—Two convicts were recaptured today three hours after they and another prisoner made a desperate break for freedom from the Utah State prison in Salt Lake City.

The pair, Ercel Clark, 27, and Joe Goughe, 38, were trapped in a vacant lot only two blocks north of the prison and surrendered without a fight to prison guards.

Still at large was Fred Clark Berge, jr., 20.

British Are Ready To Accept U.S. Proposals On Antarctic

LONDON, Aug. 27 (AP)—Britain was reliably reported tonight prepared to accept in principle a United States proposal for an international regime for a large part of the Antarctic continent.

The U. S. proposal does not include the Soviet Union, which has no claims in the territory in question.

An informed Whitehall (government) source said Britain would retain sovereign rights she claims over the Falkland islands, which are off the Argentine coast. But, he added, the British will probably be ready to renounce claims to the Falkland island dependencies in the Antarctic region.

Johnson Urges Strong America

By BO BYERS
Associated Press Staff Writer

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 27 — Lyndon Johnson made his last bid for votes here tonight by calling for a military force strong enough to stop Russia and a belief in Christian principles strong enough to insure peace.

Warning of enemies outside and inside our borders who are doing all they can to tear down the American way of life, the U. S. senatorial candidate said he has sought a solution to the threat they pose.

"In my small way I have sought for some solutions and some of the answers, and I think that some of those answers must be found in strength, and I have preached that doctrine from every public meeting place in Texas," Johnson said in a radio speech prepared for delivery from the municipal auditorium circle.

Urges Military Force

"The strength must be military force because the language of force is the only language which Communist Russia understands. It must also be domestic strength because our Democracy must be kept alive and vigorous to stand as a shining beacon to the people of other nations."

All the answers are not the material things of life, the speak-

Truman Is Planning Oklahoma 'Invasion'

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—President Truman's political associates reported today he will invade the "border" state of Oklahoma during what was described as an unprecedented election campaign tour of the nation starting Labor day.

Gov. Roy J. Turner of Oklahoma, head of the national Truman-Barkley club, told a news conference that tentative plans call for Mr. Truman to appear in several cities in Oklahoma sometime between Sept. 27 and Oct. 3. The trip may cover two days. A state fair will be running there Sept. 28.

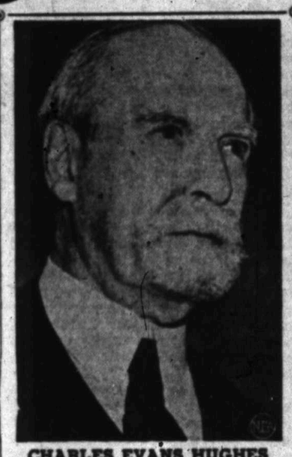

Before Turner called in newsmen, word came from the President's party aboard the yacht Williamsburg that Mr. Truman plans to visit more states than any candidate in history.

The swing will embrace the deep south, where Democrats are in open rebellion against the President's election, and every other section of the country.

First Draft Call To Be Made Monday At Time Of Registration

It was learned today that Secretary of the Army Royall has sent such a request to T. J. Hargrave, chairman of the munitions board which has supervision of manpower requirements.

Former Chief Justice Dies

(By The Associated Press)

OSTERVILLE, Mass., Aug. 27—Charles Evans Hughes, 86, retired, chief justice of the United States Supreme court, died tonight of a heart ailment.

He had been in a coma since late afternoon.

Hughes' son, Charles Evans Hughes, jr., and two daughters, Mrs. William T. Gossett of Bloomfield Hills, Mich., and Mrs. C. A. Waddell of Riverdale, N Y., were at the bedside when he died.

Death occurred at 7:35 (CST) in an annex of the Wianno club, to which Hughes had come on Aug. 5 to convalesce from an illness that had confined him to his Washington home for several months.

Held Many High Posts

The former chief justice, twice governor of New York and secretary of state in the Harding and Coolidge cabinets, had lived in seclusion in Washington since his retirement from the U. S. Supreme court July 1, 1941.

Hughes' critical illness became known only today. The son notified Supreme Court attaches that his father was sinking from a "gradual weakening of the heart."

An hour before his death, Dr. Frederick Sanborn, Hughes' physician, described his condition as "very low."

His, death followed a lengthy illness, resulting from general debilities of age. He went from Washington to the Wianno club at Osterville, on Aug. 5 in hopes of improving his health, but his condition gradually became worse. Death occured at the club.

Retired In 1941

Hughes left the nation's highest judicial post July 1, 1941, because of declining health. He spent most of his time in his Washington home after that, living quietly and in relative obscurity.

Upon the death of his wife on Dec. 6, 1945, Hughes withdrew entirely from activities of official Washington society. His last public appearance was at funeral services for the late Chief Justice Harlan Fiske Stone in Washington cathedral in April, 1946.

Atlantic Is Lashed By Severe Hurricane

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 27 (AP) — A pocket-sized but severe hurricane lashing the Atlantic with 115-mile winds slowed its forward pace tonight and its future movement became uncertain.

Storm-wise Florida made preparations just in case it should head more directly towards the coastline from 700 miles out. It was due east of Miami at nightfall.

Grady Norton, chief of the weather bureau's storm warning service here, said conflicting aircraft reports caused some confusion but it was virtually certain that the storm was continuing its northwestward or slightly west-northwestward course.

"It is slowing down," said Norton. "It is meeting a high pressure area which may change its course."

Claims That Stevenson Wiped Out Deficit Are Refuted Here

FORMER Lieutenant Governor John Lee Smith, now a Lubbock attorney, said in an interview Friday afternoon that claims that Gov. Coke Stevenson was responsible for wiping out the state's deficit and building up a huge surplus during the war "were a lot of bunk."

Lieut. Gov. Smith, who served two terms as lieutenant governor during the time Stevenson was governor, also attacked Stevenson's parole record and declared that Stevenson joined with CIO leaders back in 1943 in an attempt to defeat the Manford bill, designed to curb Communistic activities of certain labor bosses in Texas.

Lieut. Gov. Smith also declared that Stevenson "failed and refused to make any effort to wipe out the discrimination against West Texas by calling a special session for re-districting of the state, mandatory under the State's Constitution."

Lieut. Gov. Smith, who previously served in the State Senate before being elected Lieutenant governor in 1942, declared: "It is manifestly unfair for Gov. Stevenson to claim credit for an accomplishment which was performed by his predecessor. It

U. S. Senate Contest To Hold Spotlight

(By The Associated Press)

FORMER Gov. Coke Stevenson and Rep. Lyndon Johnson swapped final thrusts Friday night in their duel for the vacated Senate seat of W. Lee (Pappy) O'Daniel.

Today, in the Democratic runoff election, Texas voters will choose between the calm, pipe-smoking wartime governor and the energetic 40-year-old congressman who emerged as the two top men among nine candidates in the July 24 primary. Three congressional contestants also will be decided.

Barring a miracle, the winner will be the next senator. The Republicans, too scant in number to hold a primary, selected Carlos Watson of Brownsville as their senatorial candidate at a state convention. O'Daniel did not seek re-election.

Mudslinging Charges Hurled

Stevenson received 39.68 per cent of the approximately 1,200,000 votes cast in July, Johnson 33.75 per cent. The runoff was made necessary because no candidate had a clear majority.

Both candidates accused each other of mud-slinging in the heated second campaign, in which both proclaimed the Russian war threat a major issue. Stevenson said Johnson resorted to "frantic mudslinging." Johnson called Stevenson "the grandpappy of all mud slingers."

Both kept silent on the southern split in the Democratic party, although both voiced opposition to President Truman's civil rights program.

Labor Is Issue

Labor was another issue. The Texas AFL endorsed Stevenson, but both disclaimed CIO support. Johnson, who voted for the Taft-Hartley labor act, accused Stevenson of not taking a clear stand on the measure. Stevenson said Johnson carried counties in which the CIO vote was predominant in the July election.

Jeff Hickman, state chairman of the CIO PAC, said that organization has not "openly or secretly" supported either.

For many CIO members, Hick-

Stevenson Gives Review Of Drive

By MAC ROY RASOR
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Aug. 27—Coke Stevenson, confidently calculating victory at the polls tomorrow, closed his U. S. senatorial campaign here tonight urging Texans to vote.

"The campaigning is over and done with now—but the voting remains to be done," the former governor said in an address. "Make sure that you do vote," he warned.

Coke Reviews Campaign

His campaign closer was devoted principally to a review of his campaign. It also made a last bid for support of those who backed unsuccessful candidate George Peddy. It slapped at mudslinging whispering campaigns, and "professional poison-spreaders" which Stevenson said his opposition injected into the fight against him.

Stevenson came here from Dallas where he made his last handshaking tour of the race. He plans to leave early tomorrow for his Kimble county ranch where he will await election returns. On the way there he will stop to vote at his home box at Telegraph.

"My purpose in reviewing tonight the campaign I have been conducting for the last eight months is to give you a chance to judge for yourself whether or not I have conducted the kind of campaign I said I would," he said. "I told you in my opening talk that I would make no political promises. Look at the record as closely as you wish, and you will find I haven't made any.

"I said I wouldn't do any mudslinging. I haven't done any.

Tech Students Wed In Littlefield

LEVELLAND, August 27 (Special)—Miss Lena Floy Denson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Eubanks and Billy Charles Ross, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Ross, all of Levelland, were married recently in an 8 p.m. ceremony performed by Rev. Lee Hemphill in his home.

Before the service, tall blue tapers in a cathedral candlelabra were lighted by Benny Ross, brother of the bridegroom. Mrs. L. S. McCarty of Anton, sister of the bride, played piano selections as a prelude and accompanied Mrs. Weldon Findley who sang "Because" and "Oh Promise Me." Traditional wedding marches were used.

The bride wore a dress of white crepe designed with a draped lace front which ended in a large flat bow of crepe at the long waistline. The yoke of the dress was of white lace and she wore a wreath of white tuberoses in her hair. She carried a fan shaped bouquet of white roses with a background of white tulle and white satin ribbons.

Miss Juanita Hamilton, maid of honor, wore a crepe dress of heavenly blue with long torso lines. Her corsage and floral hair arrangement were of rubrum lilies. Benny Ross served his brother as best man.

After the reception held following the double ring ceremony, the couple left for a wedding trip to New Mexico and Colorado. For traveling the bride chose a green two-piece faille suit with cocoa tan accessories.

Both the bride and the bridegroom attended Texas Tech last year. The bridegroom attended N. M. M. I. at Roswell, N. M., and the couple graduated from Littlefield High school.

Lubbock Swamps Abilene, 19-6

Haskins Hurls Nine-Hitter

ABILENE, Aug. 27 (Special)—The Lubbock Hubbers exploded for seven runs in the first inning here tonight and, behind the steady nine-hit hurling of Chris Haskins, went on to swamp the Abilene Blue Sox 19-6.

The Hubbers sent 13 men to bat in that wild first inning, in which they had two walks, three errors, seven singles, six of which came in succession, and seven runs.

They went on to score in every inning except the fourth and ninth, when they failed to dent the rubber. Otherwise they were in command of each frame.

Means Losing Hurler

Frank Means, erstwhile first baseman, started the game on the mound for the Blue Sox and went seven complete innings, during which time he gave up 19 hits good for 15 runs.

The final four tallies came on as many hits off Tex Coapland, acting manager, who hurled the final two frames.

The Hubbers gave up three runs in the fourth and three in the ninth. The first trio scored on three walks and a single, while the final trio came in on three singles and John Kelly's double.

First Is Big Frame

Chick Fowler opened the game by walking, but Gene Hixson looked at a called strike before the storm broke. Don Moore singled to center and when Gus Stathos let the ball go through his legs, both runners advanced a base. Virgil Richardson singled to left scoring Fowler and Moore; and when Ed Clardy let the ball go through him, the runner advanced. Frank McAlexander poked a single to left, moving Richardson up, and Jackie Wilcox followed with a single to the same spot scoring Richardson.

Richardson Hits Homer

Red Ramsey beat out a hit to third base to load the sacks, and Floyd Walker's single scored two runs. Haskins skied to Stathos and the fun started all over again. Fowler singled to left to score Ramsey, Hixson walked and Moore was safe on an error that allowed Walker to cross the plate.

The Hubbers put the game entirely out of reach in the third with three runs, two of which came in on Richardson's homer over the leftfield fence.

Haskins hurled good ball all the way and kept the Blue Sox, who played with an injury-riddled lineup, under control. They never hit him hard until too late and his eight bases on balls didn't hurt him.

Sullivan, Hubbers Face Possible Fine For Ump Incident

DALLAS, Aug. 27 (AP)—President Milton E. Price of the West Texas-New Mexico League said today he had informed Manager Jackie Sullivan of the Lubbock club that any recurrence of the incident in which an umpire was pelted with rotten eggs will be "entirely your own responsibility."

Bill Brockwell, the umpire, left the park under police protection as fans threw stale eggs on him, and outside found the air had been let out of the tires of his car. It occurred Tuesday night at Lubbock after the Lubbock-Pampa game won by Lubbock 10-8.

"The incident occurred after Sullivan had protested the umpire's judgment in calling of balls and strikes, and was put out of the game," said Price. "In the league's view, this incited the trouble. Any recurrence will be the manager's responsibility."

Price said the penalty could be a fine or suspension for the manager or a fine against the club.

Nats Buy Hixson From Pioneers

AUSTIN, Aug. 27 (Special)—Gene Hixson, owned by the Austin Pioneers of the Class B Big State League and on option to the Lubbock Hubbers of the Class C West Texas-New Mexico League, has been sold to the Washington Senators of the American League.

Club officials announced that Hixson had been sold for $7,500 and one player, who will report in 1949.

The current centerfielder for the Hubbers will report to Chattanooga of the Southern Association at the 1949 spring training camp. The club is a farm team of the Senators and is operated by Joe Engel, a Nat scout.

Improved With Hubs

Hixson, unimpressive with Austin, has been one of the outstanding players with the Lubbock nine. He is credited with being the fastest man in the league and his speed has enabled him to steal bases with comparative ease.

In the batting department, Hixson raised his average from a sickly .182 for the first two weeks to a robust .327 through games of Aug. 17. He has 93 hits, including 11 home runs, three triples and 20 doubles, scoring 71 runs while driving in 40 from the second spot in the batting order.

Speedy Runner

Hixson's speed is indicated in the fact that against Amarillo one night, when he was on first, he went all the way to third on a perfectly fielded bunt. He has stolen third base on more than one occasion, not a frequent incident, and he has driven other pitchers crazy when he has been on first.

The centerfielder also possesses an accurate throwing arm, although it is not the strongest in the league. He has several assists to his credit and he is credited with cutting off many potential hits because of his speed and ball sense.

Hixson will remain with Lubbock the remainder of the year, including the Shaughnessy playoffs.

Waco Wolves Hand Black Hubbers Second Straight Defeat, 4-2

Waco's powerful Central Texas Vocational college Wolves capitalized on six hits and three Black Hubber errors to hand the Lubbock nine its second straight defeat Friday night at Rosenthal field, 4-2.

James Brown limited the Black Hubbers to four safeties in notching the mound win. Alexander Johns was tabbed with the defeat.

GREAT BRITAIN WINS

DAYTON, O., Aug. 27 (INS)—Great Britain won the Lord Wakefield model plane meet at Akron airport today. The United States was second in a field that also included teams from Canada, Belgium and Australia.

All-Stars Beat Oklahoma, 20-0

WICHITA FALLS, Aug. 27. (AP)—Texas' schoolboy All-Stars whipped Oklahoma, 20-0, in the eleventh annual Shrine Oil Bowl game here tonight, scoring once in the second period and twice in the fourth.

A capacity crowd of 16,000 persons jammed Coyote stadium for the annual Shrine charity classic.

The burly Texans put together two long passes one in second and again in fourth quarter, and capitalized on an intercepted pass for their three touchdowns.

Texas Runners Stopped

The underdog Oklahoma All Stars stopped the vaunted Texas running game cold in the opening quarter and it was late in the second before Texas mustered a scoring attack.

A 26-yard pass from Bubba Woods of Wichita Falls to Carl Mayes of Pampa carried the Texans from their own 48 to the Oklahoma 12 to set up the tally.

A penalty put Texas back to the 17 but two plunges by Byron Townsend of Odessa and Bob Raley of Bowie carried to the 9. From there Townsend passed to Johnny Allred of Wichita Falls for the score.

Townsend kicked the point to put Texas ahead 7 to 0. In the fourth quarter Texas' substitute CenterDanny Perkins of Breckenridge intercepted a pass thrown by Jim Rinhart of Frederick and raced from the Oklahoma 25 across to score. Townsend again kicked the extra point.

It was another Townsend pass late in the game, this time a 10 yard heave to Bill Howton of Plainview that chalked up the final tally. Howton took the perfect heave on the 15 and ran across untouched.

Chick Tiger of Altus and Rinehart in the backfield were standouts for the Sooners. In the Oklahoma line the play of Ray Smith of Duncan, Bob Claibourne of Dewey, Bill Beckman of Muskogee and Hoot Gipson of Oklahoma City sparkled.

The Texans led in first downs, 5-3, and gained 100 yards rushing to 45 for the Oklahomans. Texas attempted 22 passes, completed six for 107 yards, while Oklahoma tried the same number, completed 3 for 33 yards.

Pampa Defeats Loboes, 29-14

LAMESA, Aug. 27 (Special)—Pampa's Oilers unleashed a 26-hit assault on the hapless Loboes to blast out a 29-14 victory over the home nine here tonight.

Pampa was also aided by eight Lobo errors in the wild setto, and by seven bases on balls off four Lamesa hurlers.

Tribe Splits Twin Bill With Yankees

NEW YORK, Aug. 27 (AP)—Allie Reynolds, aided by an 11-hit attack against four Cleveland pitchers, hurled the New York Yankees to a 7-2 victory and a split against the Cleveland Indians in their doubleheader before 61,729 paying customers today. The Indians drew first blood, winning the opener 8-1 behind Bob Feller's six-hit pitching.

The split, together with Boston's 10-5 victory over Chicago dropped the second place Indians one full game and the third place Yankees one and one half games behind the front-running Red Sox.

Pitcher Sues Phils Charging Injuries

CHICAGO, Aug. 27 (INS) — Art Lopatka, a lefthanded pitcher formerly with the Philadelphia Phillies, sued that ball club for $250,000 today, charging permanent injury incurred because he was forced to pitch after being hurt.

Baseball commissioner A. B. Chandler was also named as a defendant in the suit, on the grounds he failed to settle Lopatka's differences with the Phillies and was "biased" in the latter's favor.

Lopatka's suit, filed in Chicago federal court, claims the pitcher injured a finger in April of 1946 when hit by a ball. Because he was called on to keep playing and given inadequate treatment, the pitcher added, his hand, arm and shoulder were affected and his baseball career ended.

In Philadelphia, an official of the Phillies denied Lopatka's charges.

Los Angeles Dons Beat Rockets, 7-0

CHICAGO, Aug. 27 (INS)—The Los Angeles Dons spoiled the official debut of the "new" Chicago Rockets tonight by winning out, 7 to 0, in the All-America football conference opener for both teams.

John Kimbrough climaxed a 36-yard advance by smashing over center from a yard away to score the Los Angeles touchdown with two and a half minutes to go in the first half. Ben Agajanian kicked the point.

Twice the Rockets moved to within their foes' ten yard line only to be stopped, once on the six and once on the seven.

A heat-locked crowd of 26,479 watched the game and a flash thundershower midway during the second half helped no one.

The score by periods:

Los Angeles Dons	0	7	0	0—7

Jaycee-Methodist Squad Gains 7-2 Victory In Junior Playoff

Ross Craig's heavy slugging gave the Jaycee-Methodist Men All-Star squad a 7-2 victory over the American Business club—Exchange club stars Friday afternoon in the final playoff tilt for the championship of the club's Junior baseball league.

Craig slammed out two doubles and a triple during the important setto, but shared the spotlight with hurler Billy Presley, who limited the losers to two singles.

Truman Jones was charged with the defeat.

Citation Entered In American Race

CHICAGO, Aug. 27 (INS)—Calumet Farm's searing one-two punch of Citation and Free America goes postward tomorrow against five others, including classic winner Papa Redbird and Bob Kleberg's Better Self, in the $90,750 American Derby at Washington park.

To the winner (one of the Calumet horses, if a 1-to-5 overnight line speaks true), will go lasting importance and no little jurisdiction in the three-year-old field.

The American derby is traditionally the summer season's last "hundred grander" for sophomores

To be sure, Citation, winner of 20 of 22 starts including the Kentucky Derby, Preakness, Belmont Stakes and Stars and Stripes Handicap, doesn't have to do much electioneering to become three-year-old of the year. He is already in.

There are those that say, however, that the Bull Lea colt's frisky stablemate Free America, supposedly bred along sounder lines, is the better animal of the two.

Free America has been trained slowly this season and tomorrow's start will represent his most assiduous test so far.

A recent victory at Washington park, coupled with a mile workout breezing in little over 1:36, has convinced even enduring skeptics that Free America can go.

And Citation, who missed the Arlington classic because of a bruised hip, came back to win a $4,000 allowance race at Washington last Saturday and is tuned to the hilt.

Sunbeamers To Meet San Angelo Tonight

What may be the final two games in the Texas Softball League Shaughnessy playoffs will be played tonight at Jumbo Webster Field starting at 7:30, with the Bluebonnet-Sunbeamers entertaining Ragsdale of San Angelo.

Two hurling duels are in prospect, with Jackie Neel opposing Bert Hester and G. W. Warden toeing the slab against Curley Hays. Neel beat Hester to win the first game of the playoffs Wednesday night at San Angelo, but Hays outhurled Warden in winning the second game, 1-0.

Won Regional ASA

In Hester, the Ragsdale nine has one of the better pitcher-hitters in the league. After dropping the first game, Hester came back to play the outfield in the second and won the game with a home run.

Bluebonnet - Sunbeamers ended the season in first place, then won the regional A. S. A. tournament here. They went to the finals of the state A. S. A. tourney before losing a tight game, 3-0. They are rated as one of the top teams in the state.

But Ragsdale also boasts a powerful nine and they have been no easy pickings this season. They are a strong defensive team, with a potent enough offense to cause trouble.

May Be Fifth Game

If neither team is able to win two games tonight, managers will flip a coin to see where the fifth—and deciding game will be played. This tilt probably will be played Sunday afternoon, either in Lubbock or San Angelo.

A capacity crowd is expected to witness the final softball game of the season here and officials hope to top the 2,000 spectators that turned out in San Angelo Wednesday night.

Batteries in the first game for Lubbock probably will be Neel and Willis James, with Warden throwing to James in the second game. For San Angelo, it probably will be Hester and Sam Smith in the first tilt, with Hays and Smith in the nightcap.

Cubs Shut Out Braves, 1 To 0

It cut Boston's lead to two games, pending the night games of their challengers.

Johnny Schmitz was the villian of today's setback. He not only outdueled Johnny Sain but also paced the Cubs to their lone marker in a dramatic ninth-inning finish.

A Warning On Japan

FEW Americans require "selling" as to the wisdom of Lt. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger's warning the other day that trouble almost certainly would follow the withdrawal of U. S. troops from Japan. The warning was given when the recently retired commander of the U. S. Eighth Army in Japan arrived in San Francisco after six years of service in the Pacific.

If any potent movement is on foot to withdraw the occupation forces, it has been kept secret from the American public. Nor is there any apparent reason to fear that such a movement, if attempted, would get to first base.

Common sense is enough to tell most Americans that, if the United States should move out of Japan, Russia would move in. It tells them also that Japan forms a vital first line of defense in the Pacific in the event of war with Russia. It seems highly improbable that public opinion would tolerate any risk of allowing control of the islands to fall into the hands of a potential enemy.

If anyone, anywhere plans to try to cook up a "get out of Japan" movement, General Eichelberger's warning should minimize further the possibility of the success of the undertaking.

If his statement serves no other purpose, it will help to put Americans on their guard against these forces which would like nothing better than to give the Communists a clear road to complete control of the Far East and the Pacific.

A Major Asset

MOST newspapers have been giving headlines of late to a type of news which suggests that boosters of the South Plains may not be giving enough attention to publicizing one of the finest assets of this area.

That asset is the weather.

To be sure it gets hot down here—but not as hot of late as on the Great Lakes and New England, and most points in between. Certainly the wind blows now and then—but not as much, according to official records, as areas typified by Boston, Cleveland, Chicago, San Francisco and a great many other places. And we have something that few of those cities pretend to possess during the summer time. That something is nights which almost invariably are cool.

South Plainsmen should, in short, make a pointed effort to do a lot of talking about the weather in places and to the type of people who are most desirable additions to our population. We have something mighty good to talk about.

For proof, just compare the sort of weather we have been having in this area with that reported in most of the nation. It is a favorable comparison which usually holds true of any time of the year that might be selected.

It's a darn poor columnist who hasn't the answer to all of the problems of the world.

Crooning is said to be hard on the throat. Sometimes it is a little tough also on the nerves.

There is only one thing higher than the price of liberty. It's the cost of defeat.

Times change. The pioneers dug gold from the ground. The modern ones hide it in the ground.

XXVII

MARCUS STERLING nosed his car out of his driveway into the quiet tree-bordered street. The sun of another morning splashed angularly through the heavy foliage, speckling the roadway. The house behind him was silent, arrogantly dignified. There was nothing about it to serve as a reminder of the appalling tragedy barely more than 24 hours old. So far as appearances went, the police had abandoned interest in it. Detective Cooper had completed his outpost assignment on the front porch the evening before. Beyond that, later in the evening, there had been only Lieutenant Talent's visit, in company with T. Bryan Steadman.

When Talent departed, he left the door of Miriam Sterling's room unlocked, the key in the door, by that gesture restoring the house to its bereft household. Among the papers littered on the floor and in the contents of the desk, Talent had found nothing to serve his purpose, nothing to reward his search for something that might throw light on Miriam Sterling's puzzling transaction in $100 bills.

Steadman's search had been meticulous, and he had taken away with him, with Talent's acquiescence, papers and documents that would be of concern to him as Mrs. Sterling's executor. It had not been difficult for Talent to gain the impression that Steadman's search had not proved wholly satisfying to the lawyer . . . it had been too evident that he went through drawers and compartments a second time, more carefully, obviously with something particular in mind.

There had been another source of disappointment to Steadman, obvious to Talent. The lawyer and Sterling had found no opportunity to be to themselves.

FROM his place at the wheel, Sterling did not glance back at the house. Heading toward the entrance to the Parkway, he chose to take it for granted that he might be followed. From behind a clump of trees, or perhaps from a merging entrance, it was not unreasonable to expect a car to fall in line behind him inconspicuously. Before leaving the house, he had avoided using the telephone, deciding in favor of a safer opportunity elsewhere.

The perfunctory dispatch with which yesterday afternoon's inquest had been concluded was not misleading Sterling. Little more had been sought by the police than to establish as a record that his wife's death was directly the result of homicide. Sterling knew that police machinery had only begun to move. To that would be added the indefatigable prowling of insurance detectives as soon as Steadman's claim, on behalf of the estate, for theft of the necklace was transmitted. Sterling would have been glad to avert the filing of that claim, could he have done so without attracting suspicion to himself. It gave him no pleasure when he learned from Steadman, in Talent's presence, that the necklace was to be regarded as part of his inheritance under Miriam's will.

Sterling parked his car almost directly opposite the Vanzandt Funeral Parlors. If he was being followed, there could be nothing to arouse suspicion in his visiting there. An attendant, abjectly sorrowful when he made his identity known, showed Sterling to the room in which Miriam's body lay, the cover of the casket securely in place. Sterling gave five minutes to glancing over the signatures on the visitors' register.

No one else had come in from the street. The hour was early . . . 10 minutes past 9. Someone could be keeping watch outside . . . idling time at a nearby window. But the telephone booth was not in view from the sidewalk.

STERLING went into the booth . . . dialed Harbor Trust. He got his secretary . . . was patient with the difficulty she found in expressing her sympathy . . . the horrible shock it had been to her.

"I'd appreciate your help in something this morning, Miss Wilson," Sterling said.

"Certainly, Mr. Sterling. I was hoping I could do . . . something."

"Will you catch a cab, please, and come up to Wolverton's Floral Shop? It's on . . ."

"I know where it is, Mr. Sterling."

"Fine. You could make it in half an hour."

"Easily."

Perhaps it was because Sterling paused . . . waited without concluding the conversation . . . that Miss Wilson added, "It's probably of no importance at the moment, Mr. Sterling, but the mail-boy has just brought me the papers you told me you were . . ."

"I'm glad you mentioned that." Sterling had broken in deliberately. Someone in the bank could be listening. He didn't want his secretary to complete what she was about to say . . . that he had mailed her something from Edgecraft Country Club. He had been worrying about the necessity of inquiring about it. "In the circumstances, Miss Wilson, suppose you bring that with you. I may want to look those papers over."

"Very well, Mr. Sterling. Anything else?"

"No, thanks. I'll be looking for you at Wolverton's."

"In half an hour, Mr. Sterling."

Sterling lingered another 10 minutes. Outside he decided against using his car. It was conveniently parked. Wolverton's was less than three blocks distant. The pleasantly mild morning suggested a leisurely walk.

Looking At Life - - By Erich Brandeis

OF COURSE there is something temporarily all cuckoo with our country.

I wanted a couple of apples yesterday. So my wife got me the kind I like best—either Winesap or Delicious are my favorites, and these were the Delicious. She had to pay eight cents apiece for them. Forty-eight cents for six apples!

BRANDEIS

Then we saw some very nice-looking blackberries.

"How much?" she asked, knowing how much I like blackberries.

"Fifty-nine cents the quart basket," was the answer. We had stewed peaches for breakfast this morning.

Yes, there is something all wrong with our country right now, but, right or wrong, it is still a wonderful country.

I am not much given to flag-waving, and I can't remember the words of the Star-Spangled Banner to save my neck.

But when I get out of bed in the morning and go into the garden and look over my little plot of ground and at the wistaria and the honeysuckle that almost hide the house right now, I feel like shouting for joy and like praying in gratefulness for living here.

Where else, but in America, would a Supreme Court Judge be arrested and charged with reckless driving?

That's just what happened to Justice Rutledge in Denver, Colo. He has been spending his vacation in the Rocky Mountains.

In a country where a Supreme Court Judge meekly accepts the verdict of a Traffic Court Judge, things may be temporarily wrong, but you can bet they will right themselves eventually.

Here is another bit that is typically American.

Thirteen-year old Brenda Hill has just arrived in America by plane and will spend a long vacation with another thirteen-year old, whom she has never met.

Mary McCurdy of Eureka, California, and Brenda have been pen pals for quite a while.

Brenda told Mary about the austerity regime in England and Mary wrote about juicy steaks and ice cream sodas.

Mary's parents became interested in their daughter's pen friend and invited her over here as their guest—all expenses paid and for as long a time as she could stay.

Mary was at LaGuardia field to meet her friend and, accompanied by her parents, they first did a lot of sightseeing in the East and then flew out to California.

HERE too is a real American item put out by that great American institution, the press agent.

I have a "press release" from Hollywood on my desk announcing that Joe, the chimpanzee, is going to be psychoanalyzed.

He has been brooding recently and the doctors (or the press agent) think it's love.

IN NATIONAL POLITICS

Bosses Lose Control

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The 1948 presidential campaign will be a comparatively boss-less, hit-or-miss scramble for votes by candidates and politicians who would not recognize a Boies Penrose, Matt Quay, Charley Murphy, Harry Daugherty or even such a modern figure as James A. Farley if they happened to meet these vanished and shadowy figures at Democratic or Republican headquarters.

There are, of course, such thin shadows as Ed Flynn, Frank Hague, Ed Kelly, Joe Guffey and Jim Pendergast in the Truman camp. But they cannot deliver the votes or the cash. They have been losing contests regularly, and it is probable that their respective states will land in the Republican column next November.

TUCKER

The opposition will highlight the fact that "Joe" Grundy, Pennsylvania's high-tariff lobbyist, backed Governor Thomas E. Dewey at Philadelphia. They will, therefore, paint the G.O.P. nominee as the candidate of "the interests." But Pennsylvania's vote, regardless of Mr. Grundy's allegiance or activity, would have been thrown to the New York Governor. The delegates liked his record, and they figured that he was the best prospect for victory.

REFORMERS: This twilight of the bosses suggests that the United States may have entered a new and revolutionary era of politics in which forces the old-fashioned podestas cannot control will dominate national elections. To wit:

Starry-eyed reformers — and we needed them in the freebooting days—tried for years to dethrone the wicked manipulators of the sacred ballot box. In intermittent crusades against city hall, court house or state machines, they thought up the direct primary, woman suffrage, popular election of Senators, repeal of poll tax and property qualifications, voting machines and other devices.

But the sly old boys in the smoke-filled back rooms took these weapons away from them, or learned to use them more effectively for their malign purposes. Legislative reforms broadened but did not better the electorate.

Feminine legislators—a Ruth Pratt, Mary Norton, Ruth Bryan Owen and a Helen Gahagan Douglas—take orders from a boss or machine as willingly as any political Adam.

THRALLDOM: It has taken forces far remote from the conventional political battlefield to rout the old-line bosses, at least temporarily—the forces of science and economics.

The automobile, for instance, removed millions of voters from the doorbell-ringing control of a Tammany or Hague machine. The flivver enabled a man to move his family from a rented, regimented tenement row to the suburbs, and a ward heeler would be caught dead before footing it that far for a vote.

Ownership of a suburban home gives the citizen a better understanding of the relationship between high property taxes and expensive, inefficient government. As a taxpayer, he counts more clearly the hidden tribute he pays to the "organization." It may be, too, that freedom of space generates a freedom of spirit.

Ironically, and perhaps unconsciously, FDR, Harold L. Ickes, F. H. LaGuardia and local political promoters accelerated this escape from bossism. When they spent PWA funds to supplant slums with parks, playgrounds, bridges and viaducts, they freed the former dwellers from political thralldom.

"Every time we tear down an old-law tenement in Lower Manhattan," chuckled the canny LaGuardia, "we hammer another nail in Tammany's coffin."

INDEPENDENCE: Labor's new political consciousness also accounts for dwindling interest in what is known as "organized politics." In the 1940 election, when he erected registration booths inside factories, the late Sidney Hillman was a far more influential figure than any regular boss. Ed Crump concedes that labor was his undoing in the recent Tennessee primary.

Another factor for political independence is the current high wages, which make the money paid public employes seem like small change. There is a dearth of applicants for jobs once eagerly sought and obtained only through the favor of a political patron—teachers, firemen, policemen, clerks, street cleaners. Even President Truman complains of personnel shortages for key posts.

As a result, the union delegate or corporation's employment expert command more authority than the clubhouse clique.

BOSS: Home radios and neighborhood movies provide far more attractive entertainment than a dingy, dimly-lighted, cuspidor-cluttered, all-male political clubhouse, where there is no nourishment of soul or body. Prohibition repeal long ago offered competition for police-protected speakeasies operated by the district leader.

On a fight or baseball night, the latest anti-boss threat—television—attracts the customers, not political headquarters. President Truman and Governor Dewey may play to empty halls because of this innovation.

Another factor fights against the boss on the social and humanitarian front. Time was that when a family's bread-winner died, the boss or his next of political kin was at the bedside with offers of a ton of coal, a beefsteak, a tidy fund for the widow, jobs for the children, and pink lemonade picnics to Coney Island for the teeners.

Now, the bereaved may enjoy a war pension, Social Security benefits or other forms of federal or state aid. Or they may turn to the many private charities and foundations which have supplanted and improved upon clubhouse contributions.

SCIENCE: Thus, in any wishful or wistful attempt to read a requiem over the sometimes lovable, charitable and picturesque ruffians of American politics, major credit for their downfall does not go to austere and academic reformers.

It falls to Henry Ford (the flivver), Thomas Edison (the movies, Marconi (radio) and to other pioneers and builders of this age of applied science and economics.

Professors Flynn, Hague, Kelly and Pendergast may not agree with this theory, and they may yet master these anti-boss weapons. But, as of the moment, ain't science wonderful?

Simile: As insecure as the coach of a college football team that has had a bad season.

It seems the less there is in a head the more space there is for it to become inflated.

The American Indian hasn't the right to vote. That is what he gets for being a hundred per cent American.

Some times civilization needs to be reveneered.

Some folks haven't any vision. They don't believe a thing until they can see it.

Believe It Or Not - - By Robert Ripley

POPULAR ELECTION IS FAVORED

Presidential Vote Change Okayed

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., August 27—Most voters of the nation favor a change in the American system of electing presidents.

Senator Lodge's proposal for changing the method of counting electoral votes in presidential elections has the support of nearly six out of every ten voters polled by the Institute.

GALLUP

Under the present "winner-take-all" system, the candidate who receives a plurality of the votes in any state wins all its electoral votes. At the instigation of Senator Lodge, the G.O.P. platform this year puts the party on record as favoring some kind of change.

The Lodge proposal is that the electoral votes of each state be divided among the candidates in proportion to the popular vote they receive in the state.

Minority Groups Hit

The trouble with the present all-or-nothing method, its critics claim, is that the system practically disfranchises minority voters, as well as resulting in a wide difference between electoral and popular vote. In some cases candidates have been elected who failed to poll a majority of the popular votes. For example, in the Cleveland - Harrison election of 1888 Cleveland got 95,000 more popular votes than Harrison, but Harrison had a large advantage in electoral votes and was inducted into office.

Theoretically, at least, ten votes out of a total of 30,000,000 cast in the ten largest staes, could change a oal of 249 of the 531 elecoral votes in the country.

Or, to take the case of one state, New York, a plurality of one vote could swing 47 electoral votes, or almost nine percent of the electoral vote total for the nation.

This is why, within the limits of present techniques, the Institute and other polling organizations have been able to forecast the popular vote with remarkable accuracy, but their past experience has shown that it is next to impossible to predict the division in the electoral college.

To measure voter preferences with this degree of accuracy would require precision instruments which even the physical sciences have not been able to develop.

Setup Is Explained

To test voter sentiment on the Lodge bill, the Institute asked a national cross-section of voters this question:

"Today, the Presidential candidate who gets the most popular votes in a state takes all the electoral votes of that state. Do you think this should or should not be changed so that each of the candidates would receive the same proportion of electoral votes that he gets in the popular vote. This would mean, for example, that if a candidate gets two-thirds of the popular vote in a state, he would get two-thirds of the electoral votes of that state."

The answers:

In favor of changing election system	58%
Opposed to changing election system	15%
No Opinion	27%

When broken down according to the degree of education, this is the picture:

	Change	Don't change	No Opin.
College	81%	9%	10%
High School	64	19	17
Grammar School	47	12	41

What the Lodge bill would mean in an actual election can be seen by comparing the 1944 electoral college results with what would have happened had the proposed system been in effect. In that year Roosevelt, under the present method, received 432 electoral votes, and Dewey only 99. If the electoral vote had been divided according to the popular vote in each state, Roosevelt would have received 305.5 electoral votes and Dewey, 225.5.

National Guard Makes Plans To Return Home After Training

CAMP HOOD, Aug. 27 (AP)—National Guardsmen today got a taste of "combat" as a simulated surprise attack was made on their positions in bivouac at dawn.

Most of the guardsmen, members of engineers and infantry regiments of the 36th division, were ready for the "enemy action" as guard planes "strafed" ground forces during artillery "shelling."

Prepared charges were set off by the engineers to simulate artillery. The entire bivouac area was mined, to add to the confusion, but most units were well camouflaged and had outposts in position and troops alerted for the anticipated attack.

The troops returned to their barracks during the morning to be present for payday formation.

Movement home for distant units will start tomorrow. Others will leave Sunday.

Burglary Probes Underway Here

Three burglaries, committed sometime during Thursday night or Friday morning, were under investigation yesterday, police said.

Premises of H. W. Shipp, at 914 Thirty-fourth; of Vernice Williams, at 1904 East Ave. B; and of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hopper, of 3303 Ave. L, were broken and entered, complaints said.

Shipp said someone entered his house while he was asleep, removed a billfold from his trousers and left. Awakened to find the man in the room, Shipp investigated and found that a screen had been opened with a wire. Sixty dollars in currency, $65 in checks and valuable personal papers were taken, Shipp said.

At the Williams grocery, 30 pounds of bacon was taken by an intruder who broke a glass at back of the place and reached in, Police said.

In the Hopper residence, the intruder walked between beds of Mr. and Mrs. Hopper to take Hopper's billfold from his trousers, and also found a purse of Mrs. Hopper. The beds were only a foot apart, police patrolmen George Hall and Pete Hubbard said, emphasizing boldness of the burglar's search.

Total loss there was $11 in money.

Entrance was made after a wire had been used to fish open a latch, as in the Shipp burglary.

Case Of Bread Stolen

A case of bread was reported stolen from a 501 Ave. Q grocery. The report was made by J. W. Hendryx.

H. E. White of Lubbock route 7 reported a 1 hp motor stolen from him. The motor, officials said, was found and a suspect was under investigation.

A galvanized garbage can was reported stolen from Mrs. Minnie C. Robertson of 2201 Sixth.

A $38 bike was stolen from Paul W. Quinn, fireman, from 720 Ave. L.

Windshield Damaged

Officials went to Twentieth and College Ave. and found that two youngsters had damaged the windshield of an automobile by tossing rocks. The suspects were taken to their parents by police.

The sheriff's department said an 18-year-old girl had been arrested here by its night patrol for Abilene sheriff's officials who had called a day earlier and said that they held a forgery warrant for her. She was represented as being associated with a "magazine crew."

Roy Lee Seale, 48, of 906 Highland, pleaded innocent Friday to a drunk driving charge and another charge of driving on the left side of the road, both charges growing out of a Thursday night collision in which Mrs. Edith Cox Hall, 72, of 2022 Ninth, suffered a fractured collar bone.

Seale posted bonds of $500 and $200 on the respective charges, County Attorney John Steele said. Five other persons, including three small children, were in the same car with Mrs. Hall. None received serious injuries. The car was driven by her son, Woodrow W. Hall, also of 2022 Ninth.

House Is Entered

A 31-year-old man, who gave his address as Edinburg, was arrested here last night and held for the sheriff's department at Longview. According to information received here, he was wanted on a warrant at Longview charging theft by bailee of a truck. The truck was recovered at the time of arrest, Lubbock officers said.

W. C. Myers of 2306 Twenty-eighth street reported to police that his house had been entered Friday evening. Nothing was reported missing last night.

A 24-year-old Lubbock white man was arrested at Twenty-first and East Ave. C, in the negro section of town, last night, and charged with illegal carrying of a prohibited weapon. A .25 caliber automatic pistol was found in the glove compartment of his car.

Twelve men, charged with drunkenness and vagrancy, were arrested within the short period of about two and one-half hours Friday afternoon. The arrests, all made by Police Patrolmen C. D. Dickey and T. W. Cooper, were in the same locality, 100-block of Fifteenth street.

Pressure Move Seen

Litke's 3,000 howling followers threatened today that they would "return again and again" to prevent the city government session.

Force Against Force Urged

This all is part of the East-West war of nerves, and there is division within the anti-Communist ranks on how to meet the challenge.

Anti-Communist union groups want to meet force with force.

They wanted to organize a counter-demonstration in front of the city hall today, but were overruled by the assembly leaders who fear bloodshed.

Suhr, Social Democratic assembly chairman, in demanding the "neutralized" area, obviously aimed at putting Kotikov "on the spot."

Former Justice Dies

Gossett of Bloomfield Hills, Mich., accompanied Justice Hughes to Osterville. When his condition became worse, his son, a New York attorney and former solicitor general of the United States, and another daughter, Mrs. Chauncey L. Waddell of Riverdale, N. Y., were called to his bedside.

Nine grandchildren also survive. A daughter, Helen, died several years ago.

Private funeral services will be held in Riverside Church in New York. The time will be announced later.

Hughes, who narrowly missed becoming president of the United States in 1916, created a unique record in his long official life.

He was the only American ever to be appointed twice to the supreme court. He resigned as associate justice in 1916 to campaign for the presidency. In 1930 he returned to the bench as chief justice by appointment of President Hoover.

Deal Fell Through

Chambers said that at that time he was struck by the location of the house. He was quoted as telling investigators that he knew Hiss made a down payment on the farm, miles off a paved road, and that subsequently the deal fell through.

Mundt quoted Chambers as saying that later when he was about to leave the Communist party, he saw the farm listed for sale and thought it would be a good place to hide out from Communist associates, so he bought it.

Mundt told newsmen that the new disclosure was important for three reasons:

1. "It establishes another point in the relationship between Hiss and Chambers because it was through Hiss that Chambers came to know about the property and later buy it."

2. "It establishes the fact that he, Chambers, was known as Chambers in those days and not as George Crosley. From other details we have found out that Chambers was known in the non-Communist world by the name of Whittaker Chambers."

Records To Be Checked

3. "The incident tends to justify public hearings on this point—someone has come forward with information to the committee and I hope that others will recall incidents which may help us."

The committee approved unanimously today a preliminary report on its overall espionage investigation to date. The report is scheduled to be made public tomorrow.

"We must look again and find that the power of solution, the way of peace and confidence comes from a higher source. We should look back to the ten commandments of Moses and read again 'Thou shalt honor thy father and thy mother,' 'Thou shalt not bear false witness.' We should look again to the sermon on the mount spoken by that Immortal teacher, 'Blessed are the peace makers,' 'Ye are the light of the world.'

"That is the means which will bring us the spirit of brotherhood. That is the path America must take. It is the path to universal brotherhood and lasting power."

Wife Predicts Victory

Johnson said his wife, Mrs. Lady Bird Johnson, wished to say a few words even though she had never made a radio speech before.

She recalled that her husband "started out in this race such a long way behind. . .that a lot of folks told us that it couldn't be done. . .But we had one asset that both Lyndon and I know couldn't be bought with all the money in the world, and that is the friendship and the confidence of our hundreds and hundreds of friends."

On the basis of those friends' hard work, she predicted victory for Johnson in tomorrow's election.

Rep. John E. Lyle of Corpus Christi, one of Johnson's fellow congressmen, spoke on the radio from San Antonio immediately preceding the candidate's broadcast. He urged Texans to promote Johnson to the Senate.

Johnson got ready for his final rally by sending more than 100 automobiles through San Antonio in the afternoon to let people know he was in town.

He almost missed his own parade, meeting the 106-car (actual count) caravan as it moved along Broadway through Alamo Heights.

Automobiles carried signs showing they were from Blanco, Burnet, Bee, Hays, Bastrop, Burleson, Travis, Bexar and several other counties.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Aug. 27. (AP)—Cotton futures were quiet and easier today on scattered hedging and liquidation. Light buying came through mills and there was some trade covering in nearby months credited to export sales. Selling followed weather bureau advices confirming reports of rains over a good part of Texas Thursday where the cotton crops had been suffering from excess heat.

Private Atlanta advices said that Carolina mills bought a fair amount of new crop cotton during the week with a few mills covering part of their requirements through the summer of 1949.

Futures closed 25 to 70 cents a bale lower than the previous close.

government I stand for. I believe I am justified in saying that I have kept my word fully in this respect. I have discussed principles of government without engaging in personalities or back-biting."

Stevenson said he had been subjected "to every kind of unfounded charge and personal attack."

"I have not bothered to answer these personal charges."

"I don't believe such tactics are effective," he commented. "I have far too much confidence in the sound judgment of the people of Texas to believe that their votes can be changed by such methods.

"I have run my own campaign in my own way, trying only to be myself. At no time during these last eight months, as I traveled over Texas and visited with you, have I said or done anything I will be ashamed of when the votes are in tomorrow night."

Stevenson said he believed a great majority of Peddy's backers are now backing Stevenson.

"They are the average, sound-thinking, sober-minded citizens of Texas. They want as their United States senator a man who will represent all of them, and who will deliver in performance instead of in empty promises," he said.

Stevenson said he has "every confidence" that the votes will give him "an overwhelming majority" at the polls tomorrow.

Motley County Area Looking Forward To Good Cotton Crop

MATADOR, Aug. 27 (Special) — With the first bale of Motley county cotton already ginned, this area looks forward to a good cotton crop this year.

The first bale was ginned by Frank Montgomery, who has 450 acres of cotton planted 15 miles north of Matador. It was planted in early April.

The bale weighed exactly 500 pounds, and was ginned from 1,600 pounds of pulled cotton. Montgomery sold it to the Farmers Cooperative gin for 35 cents a pound, and the seed was sold at the rate of $100 a ton. In addition, Montgomery received a $156 cash premium subscribed by Matador merchants.

HUNDREDS ATTEND REUNION AT ROARING SPRINGS

ROARING SPRINGS, Aug. 27 (Special)—Crowds estimated to total 5,000 persons attended the final events of the Motley-Dickens counties Old Settlers association reunion at Roaring Springs today.

Final event on the program was a dance, the third in three nights, where the young folks danced on the street and the oldtimers square-danced in the old settler's pavilion here.

Final Rodeo Held

Another high point was the second free-gate rodeo, of which Deputy Sheriff Ward Rattan of Motley county was chairman of arrangements. The rodeo performances were held both Thursday and Friday afternoons.

Many talks and musical numbers were included on the two-day program, and much of the time was spent by old timers visiting with each other.

Family reunions are being held in conjunction with the reunion. Among them are reunions of the Cammack family, of which Motley County Judge W. R. Cammack and Webb Cammack of Lubbock are members; and of the Ed Russell family, to be held Sunday at Roaring Springs park three miles from the city.

A parade featuring old settlers and horseback riders was held, and memorial services were conducted Thursday. John Russell directed parade arrangements.

C. C. Haile of Afton is president of the Old Settlers association.

In most cases, the so-called temperate zone of the U. S. was not promised relief for several days.

Temperatures in Boston hit a new record of 100.4. Ten persons died there during the three-day heat wave, the INS said. New York City was described as a "furnace." Although the day's high of 98.8 degrees did not match Thursday's 100.8, it still was a record for August 27, surpassing 1900's 91 degrees. So far 10 deaths have been attributed to the heat in the greater New York area. Other cities which were hit included the nation's capital, Cleveland with 101 degrees and Chicago where 16 persons have died, apparently from heat.

Claims Are Refuted

bespeaks of a type of dishonesty that is certainly to be rebuked by fair thinking men."

Smith was referring to publication of newspaper ads in the past few days which read: "The people know that Coke Stevenson was able to wipe out a thirty million dollar deficit in the State Treasury and turn it into a seven million dollar surplus without raising taxes one penny."

Statement Claimed Untrue

"This statement is absolutely untrue," Lieut. Gov. Smith declared. "The thirty million dollar deficit which Mr. Stevenson claims that he wiped out was eliminated and turned into a surplus in the following way: First, in 1941 the Legislature of Texas passed a bill which was known as the Omnibus Tax Bill. This bill was written as it now appears on the statute books by a Senate committee of which I was a member. It was passed upon recommendation, and at the suggestion of W. Lee O'Daniel, who was then governor of Texas.

"Under the terms of that bill," Mr. Smith continued, state revenues were increased for 1942 more than twenty-five million dollars, and due to the tremendous increase in oil production in 1943, the revenue increase by reason of that bill was more than forty million dollars. The great increase of revenue to the state under terms of this bill since that time has enabled Texas to wipe out the thirty million dollar deficit existing at the time Coke Stevenson became governor.

Senate Bill Cut Spendings

"The second reason for the elimination of the state deficit was the reduction in state expenditures brought about by the appropriations bill passed by the State Senate in 1943," Mr. Smith said. "As Lieutenant Governor, it was my duty to take the lead in perfecting the appropriation bill passed by the State Senate.

"The governor's recommendation for state appropriations exceeded the bill that was actually passed by the Senate and later concurred in by the House by more than ten million dollars per annum. In other words, if the governor's recommendations had been followed, certain appropriations would have been increased for the following two years by more than twenty million dollars.

Clemency Record Cited

"Only by the action of the Senate Finance committee, whose chairman was Senator Lanning of Jacksboro, was the governor's huge appropriation recommendation cut down by some twenty million dollars. These are facts and not fancies," Smith said, "and the record of the Legislature of 1943 and 1945 will substantiate my statements; and as a result of this economy appropriation bill, which was written by the Senate Finance committee against recommendation of Gov. Stevenson, the State Tax Board was able to reduce state ad valorem taxes from 58 cents on the dollar to 37 cents."

Smith said State Auditor C. H. Caviness' report showed that "some 8,500 pardons, paroles and other executive clemencies were granted during Stevenson's term as governor.

Refused to "Take Stand"

"He granted more pardons and paroles than any governor in the state's long history," Smith declared. "He has claimed that the governor has nothing to do with this, but this is pure deception. The ultimate pardoning power rests solely with governor, and no pardon or parole or any other form of executive clemency can be granted without the outright approval of the governor himself."

Smith charged that Stevenson "was closeted with the leaders of the CIO in Texas and other labor leaders" seeking the defeat of the Manford bill and "issued a statement that no labor legislation was necessary."

"In all my acquaintance with Gov. Stevenson, I have never known him to take a positive stand on any hot controversial issue," Smith said. "As Lieutenant governor, I frequently urged him to make a public statement on issues of great importance to the people and use his influence to accomplish what he conceived to be the best interests of this state, but he would remain as silent as the tombs of ancient Egypt."

Smith said he voted for and supported Geo. Peddy in the July primary but felt it his duty to speak his mind in opposition to Stevenson in today's election.

Texans Vote Today

man said, "it will be like going to the meat counter late on Saturday—a sorry choice."

Johnson, who campaigned in a helicopter the first time, took to ground and airplane travel in the second campaign. Stevenson kept on campaigning in his traffic-beaten automobile, making few formal speeches, shaking many hands.

District Contest Bitter

Gov. Beauford Jester and Rep. Sam Rayburn, House Democratic leader, were renominated in the July primary, as were 17 other members of the Texas congressional delegation.

Equally as bitter as the Stevenson-Johnson fight was the 15th district contest between Lloyd M. Bentsen, jr., of McAllen and Philip A. Kazen of Laredo for the seat left open by the retirement of the veteran Rep. Milton West. The district is in the lower Rio Grande valley, where there is a heavy Latin-American vote.

Kazen, 40-year-old Spanish speaking lawyer, was arrested several days ago while speaking at Port Isabel, on a charge of violating an anti-noise ordinance with his loudspeaker. Two days later, Kazen sued arresting officers for $10,000 damages, charging infringement of the right of free speech.

Political Feud Renewed

Bentsen is a member of a prominent valley family with large real estate interests.

The race in the 7th district in East Texas was a renewal of a political feud between Rep. Tom Pickett of Palestine and former Rep. "Cousin" Nat Patton of Crockett. Pickett unseated Patton four years ago.

The third contest was in the 10th district, for the seat being vacated by Johnson. Homer Thornberry of Austin, former state representative, and Kelley McClain of Georgetown, a former district attorney, are the contenders.

31 State Races Up

Election officials estimated that the vote probably would not be much more than half the record total cast in July.

Texans also will nominate seven state senators and 24 members of the state house of representatives.

District seven; Warren McDonald of Tyler and Tom P. Cooper of Lindale; twelve: Crawford C. Martin of Hillsboro and Jess Cariker of Waxahachie; thirteen: Kyle Vick of Waco and Sam Sellers of Waco; twenty; Ohie Jones of Austin and Carlos Ashley of Llano; twenty-one: W. A. Shofner of Temple and W. W. Roark of Temple; twenty-nine: Hill D. Hudson of Pecos and Henry A. Coffield of Marfa; thirty: Sterling Parrish of Lubbock and Kilmer B. Corbin of Lamesa.

The only incumbents are Vick and Parrish.

24-Hour Production Test Is Completed On Hale Well

General American Oil company No. 3 A. F. Byrd, stepout from proven production in the Arick field, of southeast Hale county, about three miles north of Petersburg, and 990 feet from north and 330 feet from east lines of section 17, block K, TTRR survey, has been officially completed for a 24-hour flowing potential of 995.7 barrels of 41.8 gravity oil, and no water.

The flow was through a one-half inch tubing choke, after the pay had been treated with 1,500 gallons of acid.

The pay is at 5,872-96 feet, in a lime section of the Pennsylvanian. The production is through perforations in the casing which is cemented on bottom at 5,899 feet.

General American No. 1 E. M. Carmichael is to be a new exploration for the Arick field. It is located 330 feet from west and 990 feet from north lines of section 18, block K, TTRR survey. It is slated to start drilling to around 5,900 feet, to test the Arick field pay immediately.

New Conference Held In Moscow

MOSCOW, Aug. 27 (AP) — The secret of what took place at a four-power Kremlin conference tonight lay nicely wrapped in a diplomatic enigma bordered by a frown and a smile.

U. S. Ambassador W. Bedell Smith, leaving the conference of western envoys with Foreign Minister Molotov, was frowning. British envoy Frank Roberts was smiling. French Ambassador Yves Chataigneau wore a diplomatic mask—he neither smiled nor frowned.

After seeing Molotov on the German crisis, the three conferred for an hour at the British embassy among themselves.

Smith Is Solemn

There was no comment from the diplomats on the three-hour session in the Kremlin.

As soon as the meeting ended the three visiting envoys motored over rain-swept streets to the British embassy, just across the Moscow river. They left the Kremlin, seat of the Russian government, at 8:05 p.m. (11:05 a.m. CST).

Smith, tight-lipped as usual on progress of talks, told reporters only that no communique would be issued tonight and that Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky sat in at the meeting.

It may not be significant but Smith did not smile once in his brief encounter with the newspapermen. He has not looked so solemn in public in a long time. Without pausing, he called over his shoulder:

"No, there will be no communique tonight."

Slaton Man Suffers Spinal Injury In Two-Car Wreck

A 28-year-old Slaton man, Bobbie Clement Leake, was taken to Slaton's Mercy hospital early Friday morning for treatment of a spinal injury suffered in a collision of two automobiles four miles southeast of Slaton on U. S. Highway 84.

The state highway patrol said his car was struck from the rear by a car driven by Racy Clyde Robison, about 40, of the Pleasant Valley community. Robison suffered what was believed to have been a slight injury. Witnesses said he indicated he too would have X-ray examination sometime Friday.

The collision was about 12:30 a. m., Patrolman J. R. Whitmire said.

Four Plane Crashes Claim Five Persons Over Texas

(By The Associated Press)

Four separate plane crashes Thursday and Thursday night in Texas took the lives of five persons.

The latest crash occurred at White Rock airport in Dallas Thursday night when two light planes collided on a runway. Frank J. Whitson, 40, Dallas paint contractor, who was piloting one of the planes, was killed. The pilot of the other plane, Eddy Godwin, 19, Dallas, escaped with minor face and body burns. Both planes caught fire.

Two air National Guard training planes collided in the air five miles west of Giddings during a driving rainstorm five miles west of Giddings at mid-morning. Capt. Donald W. Johnson and First Lt. Albert F. Wood, both of Dallas, were killed. The planes fell two miles apart. The collision was blamed on the rain and turbulent air conditions.

Alvin Fairbanks Funk, 27, of Corpus Christi, was killed instantly when his light monoplane nose-dived into a thicket seven miles southwest of Corpus Christi.

Randolph Air Base officials announced that First Lt. Albert S. Price, 31, of Mill Valley, Calif., was killed instantly when his training plane went into a spin and crashed seven miles southwest of Seguin Thursday afternoon.

Lamesa Man Wins State Senate Race

Corbin Carries 16 Counties; Parrish Leads In Five; Pair Tied In Terry

By H. L. KIEFER
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

DAWSON County Judge Kilmer B. Corbin, of Lamesa, won the Democratic nomination to the State Senate from the 30th Texas district over Incumbent Sterling J. Parrish, of Lubbock, by a decisive margin in Saturday's runoff primary.

Unofficial tabulations, with fewer than 1,000 votes unreported, showed: Corbin, 28,038; Parrish, 20,787. Corbin's majority was 7,251.

Tabulations included complete returns from 18 of the 24 counties in the district and virtually complete returns from four others. No reports were obtainable from Borden and King counties, which cast a combined total of only 468 votes in the four-man Senate contest in the first primary.

The counties from which returns were incomplete were Dickens, Kent, Lamb and Motley. Only rural boxes with a few votes were missing in each instance.

Corbin took the lead when the first tabulations outside of Lubbock county were reported soon after the polls closed at 7 p.m. At 9:30 p.m., Senator Parrish telegraphed congratulations to his successful opponent, wishing him "much success as our next senator."

The new senator-nominate said he had no statement "except to reiterate my often repeated pledge to make every effort to carry out my platform commitments."

"I certainly won't forget Lubbock county; the people there were mighty nice to me," he added.

He said later he plans visits to all counties in the district to consult "everyone interested" relative to the program he should support at Austin.

Lubbock, the home county of Senator Parrish, gave Corbin 4,713 votes to 4,946 for the incumbent.

Man Burned To Death

Law enforcement officers at 3 a.m. today still were investigating the death of an unidentified man, driver of a gasoline transport truck that plunged from the Lorenzo-Lubbock highway about two miles west of Lorenzo early this morning and burned.

Investigating officers said they believed the transport truck belonged to Continental Oil company of Lubbock, of which J. A. Fortenberry is manager.

The loaded transport truck was going west, officers said, when without apparent cause it swerved to the left, barely missed the concrete abutment of a bridge and plunged down a gully near an old gravel pit at Shirley lake. The truck burned for almost two hours.

Reds Claimed Arming Berlin Police Force

By OMER ANDERSON
INS Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, Aug. 28 — British sources reported tonight that Soviet authorities are issuing machineguns to Berlin's Russian sector police for an imminent showdown with the western-supported city assembly.

The Communist - dominated Socialist unity party at the same time called on the "working class and all progressive elements in all Berlin" to form action committees to "co-operate" with Soviet authorities.

The party urged that the committees be set up to back announced Soviet plans to distribute food and fuel to all Berlin, including the western sectors.

Demands Are Made

The party also demanded that the city assembly appoint a "special committee" to bring about withdrawal of the western mark from Berlin and economic incorporation of the former German capital into the Soviet occupation zone of Germany.

The demands followed a wild chase in which United States troops last night fired on a speeding Soviet jeep.

Five Americans, four soldiers and a newsman, and three western Germans, also were arrested by the Russians in scattered incidents, but were released today.

U. S. Soldier Injured

Pvt. J. R. Petergal, Pittsburgh, Pa., was reported hospitalized with a broken arm and concussion when the Soviet jeep carrying gun-wielding Russians ran down his motorcycle.

One Russian officer was reported wounded in the shoulder by pursuing American military policemen. The Soviet jeep and its passengers escaped into the Russian sector.

One of the arrested Americans, Sgt. John Stirbis, of Maspeth, L. I., N. Y., said upon his release that he had been dragged and pitched head-first into a Soviet jeep.

Asked Police Protection

Otto Suhr, anti-Communist city assembly president, tonight sent another letter to Maj. Gen. Alexander Kotikov, Soviet Berlin commander, demanding a four-mile-wide "neutralized area" to prevent any further Communist mob demonstrations at the city hall.

Kotikov is expected to refuse to give police protection to the assemblymen in the city hall, which is in the Soviet sector.

The Communists twice this week prevented scheduled meetings of the assembly and demanded pro-Soviet rule by "an action

Atlantic Coast Is Cautioned On Storm

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 28. (AP)—A fast-spinning hurricane hovered 600 miles off a lengthy coastline today and caused the weather bureau to sound a precautionary note for the Georgia-Carolina coasts.

The storm moved northwestward at 12 to 14 miles an hour with 115 to 125 mile winds spinning around its center. A Navy observer declared it had "a beautiful eye," like a perfectly round whirling disk. This was an indication of its violence, he added.

Grady Norton, chief of the weather bureau's storm warning service here, said the hurricane was centered 630 miles east of Titusville, Fla., 550 miles southeast of Cape Hatteras, N. C., 610 miles east-southeast of Savannah, Ga., and Charleston, S. C., and 450 miles southwest of Bermuda.

Norton declared that unless a radical change occurs, the storm "no longer is a threat to Florida."

Two French Officers Serving UN In Palestine Are Slain

TEL AVIV, Aug. 28 (INS)—Two French officers on the UN observer team in Palestine were shot and killed today, allegedly by Arabs, when they landed at Gaza airport in southern Palestine.

An official announcement in Tel Aviv failed to indicate whether regular Egyptian troops or Arab guerrillas were held responsible.

Another UN team composed of an American, Frenchman, and Belgian, will go to Gaza tomorrow to investigate the killings.

Those killed were Lt. Col. Joseph Queru, of the regular French army serving as assistant chief of staff in charge of UN observers in Palestine, and Capt. Pierre Jeannal, of the French air force.

CELEBRATE TWICE TODAY!—Mr. and Mrs. Wash B. Shelton, above, of Idalou, celebrate their 50th anniversary of their marriage today. But added to the Golden Wedding joys will be the satisfaction of their having recently discharged what to them were joint obligations growing out of the 1929 failure of the Idalou State bank.

Idalou Couple Has "Kept The Faith" Down The Long Years

By BILL CLARK
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

IDALOU, Aug. 28 — Mr. and Mrs. Wash B. Shelton of Idalou celebrate their Golden Wedding anniversary Sunday, but they will also rejoice at the ending of 20 years of sacrifice whose hardships have left the name of "Uncle Wash" Shelton untarnished and immensely respected in his community.

In 1929 the First State bank at Idalou failed. A cashier had absconded with funds, and the bank was forced to close.

As second largest stockholder and former president of the bank, Wash Shelton had recourse to the bankruptcy law. He had cosigned many notes.

He Ducking For "Uncle Wash"

But "Uncle Wash" declined to declare bankruptcy, and he disposed of his personal holdings in farms and real estate to help cover the losses, of which his share totaled some $40,000.

His property was not enough, and for nearly 20 years he and Mrs. Shelton have worked and saved in order to pay those obligations honorably.

The last of the losses and judgments was repaid a few months ago, and so, finally, was written the end to the chapter of the Idalou bank. The cashier, who was convicted and sentenced to prison, died years ago.

So the open house to be held Sunday afternoon in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Shelton will have even more than usual significance for them and their family.

Registration To Start Monday

By JACK RUTLEDGE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON Aug. 28 — Selective service is all ready to begin registering men 18 through 25 Monday for America's peacetime draft.

Monday also may see the first draft call—for 10,000 soldiers.

Secretary of Army Royall is reported to have prepared a request for draft boards to produce 10,000 men for induction between Nov. 7 and Nov. 15.

Whether or not such a call comes through, registration will continue as scheduled.

About 20,000 specially arranged registration centers have been prepared by the 4,000-odd draft boards to sign up an estimated nine and a half million men between Aug. 30 and Sept. 18.

Officials emphasized today that all men 18 through 25 must register despite the fact that most veterans are exempt and even though 18-year-olds are not liable for service until they become 19.

The only Americans in this age bracket who need not register are members of the armed forces on active duty, and foreign diplomats and members of their immediate families.

Draft officials said that if registrants are ill or otherwise can not sign up on designated days, they should notify their draft board and arrange for a later registration.

But they were warned not to delay such notification too long.

Also, if a man is away from his home town, he is allowed to register at the nearest registration center, and his card will be mailed to the proper board.

Failure to register is punishable by a five-year prison term, a fine up to $10,000, or both.

Plains Ginners Oppose Controls

By A. B. SLAGLE
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

The Plains Ginners association, in annual session at Hotel Lubbock Saturday re-elected officers for the year, named four state directors, passed a resolution opposing government acreage and production controls, approved past and anticipated expenditure of funds in promotion of the Belt-wide Cotton Mechanization congress here in October, and heard several speakers discuss various problems of the cotton industry, including the labor situation.

W. O. Fortenberry of Monroe, big scale farmer, ginner and packing plant operator, was re-elected president of the association for his third successive year.

Other officers, named at a meeting of the board of directors at a luncheon separate to the main luncheon session, were Drew Watkins of Sudan as vice president; and N. W. Ray of Lubbock, re-elected secretary.

Estimate For Area's Cotton Crop Slumps

A DROP of 295,000 bales in South Plains cotton crop prospects since Aug 1 was estimated here Saturday by K. N. Clapp, area manager of Anderson, Clayton & Co., Houston cotton merchants.

His new forecast of an 807,000-bale crop compared with a prediction of Aug. 1 of 1,102,000 bales.

The decline, attributed to heat and lack of moisture, was one of the biggest for any period of comparable length in South Plains cotton history. Clapp has been an observer of cotton prospects in the area nearly 25 years.

Lubbock County Still High

His revised estimates restored Lubbock to the position of being prospectively the largest producer of cotton of any South Plains county. His new forecast for Lubbock was 130,000 bales, as compared with 155,000 on Aug. 1.

Dropped to second place was Hockley county, where a new prediction of 120,000 bales was 70,000 lower than the 190,000-bale crop indicated by Aug. 1 conditions as observed and reported by Clapp.

Lubbock, with 181,000 bales, was the top cotton producing county last year not only of the South Plains but of the entire state.

Dryland Hit Hard

Practically all of the reported damage, Clapp said, has been done to the dryland crops, which comprises about four-fifths of the somewhat more than 2,000,000 acres in cotton this year.

The more than 400,000 acres of irrigated cotton is in good condition, he said, and probably will produce about half of the area's total crop.

The August drouth has been so heavily damaging, he explained, because of the light moisture last fall, winter and spring. The dryland crops have had practically no subsoil moisture to carry them through any prolonged period of dry weather. His report referred to the effects of the lack of rain as "calamitous" on dryland.

Rain Could Change Outlooks

"Some acreage is a complete loss and abandonment will be heavy," his report continued. "Accurate forecasts are not possible under present conditions, but we estimate dryland deterioration since Aug. 1 averages about 40

Heat Continues To Roast Most Of U. S.

While much of the rest of the nation continued to boil Saturday, Lubbock and the South Plains enjoyed another day of near perfect weather and the Weatherman said little change in temperature was foreseen today and Monday.

Meanwhile, the season's record heat wave continued to sizzle over most of the rest of the nation, sending the mercury into the high 90's from New England to Oregon and up to 100 in some parts of the south, the International News Service reported.

New York City suffered under a temperature reading of 99. New England's four-day death toll from the heat rose to 20.

Back in this area showers were reported at Wink, Hobbs, Carlsbad and Roswell but the South Plains area apparently missed receiving any precipitation, the Weather bureau said. The top temperature here Saturday was 93. The forecast today and Monday is partly cloudy skies with scattered showers in the afternoon.

Close Senate Race Remains In Doubt

Stevenson Leading By 854 Votes Out Of 957,040 Counted; Either Man Can Win

By CHAS. A. GUY
Editor Of The Avalanche-Journal

IN a "photo finish race" defying the imagination of a Hollywood script writer, Coke Stevenson led Lyndon Johnson by a slim 854-vote margin at 2 o'clock Sunday morning as the rival candidates for the U. S. Senate post vacated by Wilbert Lee O'Daniel pounded down the home stretch of their four-month long campaign.

At that time the vote was:

Stevenson, 478,947; Johnson, 478,093.

Tabulations were from 244 of the state's 254 counties, of which 132 were reported complete. The total tabulation at 2 a. m. was 957,040 and most observers doubted that the total vote cast would top the 1,000,000 mark.

As Texas Election Bureau workers closed up shop for a few hours rest at 2 a.m., Johnson, 40-year old Austin Congressman told The Avalanche-Journal by telephone, "I'm going to be the new Senator when the votes are all in and I'm sure grateful to the folks in your section of West Texas for the help they gave me."

Stevenson Away From Phone

Efforts to reach Stevenson, 62-year old former governor, lieutenant-governor and House speaker, were to no avail. He was away from a telephone on the banks of the Llano river in Kimble county, his home.

The story of the vote-counting was one of an uphill fight for Johnson.

Stevenson took an early lead of 7,000 votes when reports from Dallas, Harris and Tarrant counties poured in shortly after the polls closed at 7 p.m. Saturday. In those populous centers, union labor gave the former governor loyal support. But as the night wore away, Johnson whittled at Stevenson's margin, gaining on every one of 10 state-wide tabulations except one, at 9:30 o'clock which gave the former governor an extra 1,000 votes to send his lead back near the 6,000 mark.

Two errors in early Sunday tabulations threw both candidates and their supporters into tailspins. The first, an extra 2,907 votes for Johnson from Hidalgo county, in the Rio Grande Valley, momentarily pushed the Austin Congressman out in front for the first time. Minutes later, Stevenson votes from Wilbarger county,

CONFEDERATE FLAG RAISED

HOUSTON, Aug. 28. (AP)—The Stars and Bars of the Southern Confederacy were raised tonight at Houston's city hall.

Enthusiastic State's Rights Democrats, celebrating a victory in today's Harris county presidential referendum, raised the flag on the city hall lawn.

The Stars and Bars remained on the flag pole about an hour.

Latest unofficial returns on the special referendum, held in conjunction with today's Democratic runoff election, gave 39,000 votes for Governor J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, nominee of State's Rights Democrats, to 14,720 for President Truman.

Thurmond-Wright States Rights ticket 43,517 votes to 26,398 for the Truman-Barkley slate.

"We hope that Jester and Calvert give serious consideration to the decisive voice of the people of Harris county," Robert W. Milner, jr., and Mrs. Sam H. Davis said in a joint statement.

States' Rights Issue Hot

Milner is chairman of the county's States' Rights delegation which will seek seats at the September 13-14 state Democratic convention in Fort Worth. Mrs. Davis, state Democratic executive committeewoman, directed the Harris county Thurmond-Wright referendum campaign.

"It is inconceivable that the regularly elected delegates representing such a majority voice might not be seated at the Fort Worth convention," Mrs. Davis and Milner said in commenting on today's county vote.

The presidential referendum vote rivaled the hotly contested U. S. Senate race for interest in

Western Envoys Confer Again As Secrecy Shrouds Progress

MOSCOW, Aug. 28 (AP) — The American, British and French envoys met for two hours at the British embassy today, but there was no word of an expected four-power communique on the status of the Kremlin talks on the German crisis.

(American and British diplomats in London said a four-power announcement could be expected soon, perhaps within a few hours. London dispatches said it was probable a draft had been sent to Paris, London and Washington for study by experts and final approval of the foreign ministers.)

Three Elected To Congress

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Aug. 29. (AP)—Returns to the Texas Election Bureau at 2 a. m. Sunday, showed the following totals for congressional candidates in Saturday's runoff election:

District 7 (12 counties)—Returns from 12 counties, 7 complete:

Patton 20,098, Pickett 25,315.

District 10 (10 counties)— Returns from 10 counties, 6 complete:

McClain 23,625; Thornberry 36,760.

District 15 (13 counties)—Returns from 13 counties, 7 complete:

Bentsen 30,127; Kazen 21,616.

The hottest of the three Congressional runoff races was in the 15th district in the Rio Grande Valley. There was excitement there over reports that both candidates had asked that rangers be sent into the district. Opponents were Lloyd M. Bentsen, jr., of McAllen, and Philip Kazen, of Laredo.

Ranger Protection Asked

Joe Fletcher, assistant director of the Department of Public Safety, said at Austin that Bentsen had asked him "to send somebody in" to Laredo.

Fletcher said he had investigated and "apparently there is no situation there that would warrant sending rangers."

In the Seventh Congressional district, Incumbent Tob Pickett was challenged by Nat Patton of Crockett—the man he defeated in 1944.

In the 10th district, where Johnson resigned as congressman to run for the Senate, Homer Thornberry, an Austin city councilman was opposed by Attorney Kelley McClain of Georgetown.

Efforts Stepped Up To Recover Oil From Long Abandoned Wells

By MAX B. SKELTON
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOUSTON, Aug. 28.—Science is bringing dead oil wells back to life.

Government and industry ingenuity and resources are stepping up efforts to obtain oil from wells long abandoned after ordinary producing methods exhausted immediately accessible supplies.

The Bureau of Mines estimates there are 425,000 wells over the nation that a bit of scientific research may bring back to life and cause once again to produce perhaps as much crude as when the wells were discovered.

These "secondary recovery" methods will be one of the many subjects to be discussed next week at the Interstate Oil Compact commission meeting in New York City.

Statute Review Urged

The commission is urging all oil states to review its stautes to insure that there are no legal obstacles to inauguration of the most advanced recovery methods.

Secondary recovery is not new to the oil industry. It is particularly old in the Pennsylvania fields. But remarkable strides have been made in recent years.

The Bureau of Mines recently reported that North Texas boosted its oil production 900,000 barrels in 1945 and 1946 by injecting water into dying wells, that between 1935 when Texas first authorized such action, and 1944, over 2,000,000 barrels were recovered.

Companies, Owners Cooperate

Today, in the west Texas North Cowden field, 20 companies and 80 per cent of royalty owners are cooperating in a 20-year project that is expected to increase recovery by 50 per cent and prolong life of the 27,000 acre field by eight years.

The Texas Railroad commission, the University of Texas and Texas A. and M. college are organizing a program which calls for 50 graduate petroleum engineers to work full time on developing new secondary recovery methods.

The current steel shortage is preventing cooperation from some operators. They take the position they can make bigger profits by salvaging and selling oil pipe and equipment.

Production Sets New High

Meanwhile, the nation's crude production set a new all-time record for the third consecutive week, with a daily average of 5,521,000 barrels for the week ending August 21, 14,250 barrels over the preceding week.

Foreign oil

Congressmen inspecting Mexico's oil industry are reported to be considering recommending that a $45,000,000 loan be made to Mexico and that a joint U. S.-Mexico oil commission be established.

Stanolind Oil and Gas has agreed with Shell Oil of Canada to carry out further geological and geophysical work on 110,338 acres of Shell leases in five separate areas of Alberta.

Average Is 410,000 Barrels

Arabian-American Oil company estimates that Saudi Arabian oil production this year will average 410,000 barrels daily as compared with 246,169 last year and 11,809 in 1941.

Tidelands.

Conservation Commissioner S. L. Digby of Louisiana has informed companies with producing wells in the Gulf of Mexico that both waste prevention and construction costs will be important factors in determining production allowables for tidelands fields.

Kerr-McGee currently is testing its third well off the Louisiana coast, the well flowing 30 barrels per hour in initial tests . . . Stanolind oil has asked blanket permission from the U. S. army engineers to develop oil fields in six areas off the Texas coast.

State notes.

Texas—Harry C. Wiess, chairman of the board and one of the organizers of Humble Oil and Refining company, died in Houston Thursday.

Allowables Are Made

Field names and production allowables have been made by the State Railroad commission for eight new producing areas . . . The W. H. Hammon, Wichita Falls, and Warren Oil corporation No. 2-A Cole well, Wichita county, on early tests had a calculated potential flow of 1486.8 barrels daily . . . Gulf oil has posted a $2,500,000 bond with the Houston port commission to apply against any damage to navigation during well drilling 1320 feet from the Houston ship channel . . . Shell Oil is preparing the world's first commercial synthetic glycerin plant for September opening near Houston.

Oklahoma—Continental Oil is spending $7,750,000 in increasing crude processing capacity of its Ponca City refinery from 33,500 to 52,500 barrels daily. The state's oil production, conservation commission figures show, averaged 423,014 barrels daily during July as compared with 422,051 in June and 393,499 in July last year.

Rigs Moved To New Field

Arkansas—Two more rigs have been moved into the new Cairo field in Union county.

Louisiana—Union Oil of California has opened two new oil fields in Terrebonne parish . . . September's crude allowable has been set by the conservation commission at 540,791 barrels daily, 2148 higher than August and 110,049 greater than September of last year . . . Seventeen new fields, including three in open waters of the Gulf of Mexico, have been discovered in Louisiana this year, as compared with 19 for the same period last year.

Old Friends Donate Money For Burial Of Former Follies Girl

HOLLWOOD, Aug. 28 (U.P.)—Old friends from her stage and screen days have donated money to save former follies girl Helen Lee Worthing from a pauper's burial, it was revealed today.

The mortuary which is handling funeral arrangements would not reveal names of donors, but said well over half the money needed to provide the 43-year-old one-time beauty with a first-class funeral already has been collected.

The Screen Actors' guild was reported cooperating in the fund-raising.

Date for the funeral has not been set.

The coroner's office said an autopsy has failed to reveal what caused Miss Worthing to die Wednesday.

FRESH BLOOD A MUST FOR FREE ENERGY

Do you feel like you are tied to a drag everytime you try to do something? If so, don't let a low blood count hold you down when you may release vibrant energy to every muscle, fibre, cell.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

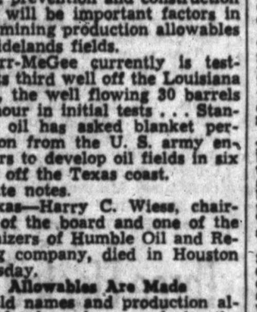

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juices when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloat and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Canadian Dam Plan Studied Fullest cooperation by the state in the effort to investigate and develop the water resources of the Canadian river has been given by Col. E. V. Spence, chairman of the State Board of Water Enginners, Mayor W. H. Rodgers announced Saturday.

This assurance was given in a long distance conversation with Spence, who talked in Flagstaff, Ariz., where he was vacationing, Rodgers said.

Spence said he expected to return to Austin about Sept. 1 and will start work immediately on the request transmitted to him by Rodgers from an inter-city conference in Amarillo last Tuesday in regard to Canadian river development possibilities.

The conference, called by Mayor Lawrence Hagy of Amarillo, urged a 120-day delay in the publication of an army engineer's report, scheduled for release Sept. 20, which is described as dealing unfavorably with the financial aspects of a proposed dam on the Canadian northwest of Amarillo.

Rodgers told Spence that he and others at the conference want the additional time to compile evidence which, they are convinced, will establish the project would be more than self-liquidating.

Second Conference Likely

None of the officials was informed as to the exact procedure to be followed in urging delay in the publication of the engineers' report. Another conference, probably in Austin but possibly in Lubbock or Amarillo, probably will be necessary to discuss details with Spence and Gov. Beauford Jester.

The inter-city conference objects to publication of the report now, it was explained, because of the fear that it might cause prejudice based on incomplete information, which might add enormously to the difficulty of obtaining an appropriation for the project.

The conference agreed with the engineers' conclusion, it was acknowledged, that the proposed dam on the Canadian would not be financially profitable as strictly as a flood control project.

But they contend that when the value of the water impounded by a dam for domestic, recreation, industrial and irrigation uses is considered, the project becomes highly feasible.

Texas National Guard Starts Home After Two-Weeks Camp

CAMP HOOD, Aug. 28 (AP) — The Texas National Guard was returning home from a two-week summer training camp today after being paid more than $500,000 for the period of active duty.

Some $460,000 was paid the 36th infantry and 49th armored divisions, with the remainder going to the air National Guard at Hensley, Brooks and Ellington fields, and to the anti-aircraft units at Fort Bliss.

FIRST BALE AUCTIONED—Top bidder for the first bale of cotton grown and ginned in Lubbock county this year was E. K. Hufstedler, jr., left, of 2007 30th, who paid $1.30 a pound, or $689, for the bale. Standing next to Hufstedler is H. V. Sowder, Idalou farmer who brought in the bale. Along with the check, Sowder is the recipient of several hundred dollars in merchandise and gift certificates presented him with the courtesy of the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce, which sponsored the auction. High School Band Drills Conducted Daily In Preparation For September Appearance

Paul M. Branom, new band director for Lubbock High school, announced Saturday that the high school band is drilling daily from 6:45 to 7:45 p. m. in preparedness for its first scheduled performance—at the Lubbock Westerner-Odessa Broncho night football clash here Sept. 10—"which comes entirely too soon after the start of school for us," Branom laughed. C. R. Dale is in charge of the marching band.

Outlining the plans for an instrumental music program in junior and senior high school here this year, Branom said, "Instrumental music, like many other subjects in the curriculum, suffered tremendously during the war years, and recovery often has been so slow that the programs sometimes seem to be still losing ground.

Satisfaction Expressed

The new director expressed a deep satisfaction with the teaching staff in the public schools' instrumental program this year, and said that present indications point to increased interest and "possible rapid attainment of the pre-war status so that Lubbock's music program will rank with the best in the country."

Branom, who comes here from Seminole High school, graduated from Lubbock High school in 1931, and has been teaching band work in the public schools of Texas since 1935.

The senior high school orchestra this year will continue under the capable direction of J. H. Penn. Harry Boren, former student assistant of the Texas Tech band, will teach instrumental music in J. T. Hutchinson Junior High school. Lannes Hope, also a former student assistant of the Tech band and band director at Wilson last year, will have charge of the O. L. Slaton Junior High school band. Frank Herring, who was at Slaton High school last year, will be in charge of instrumental music in Central Junior High school.

Branom stressed that the outstanding feature of the school music program is the opportunity for boys and girls to get excellent training in music free, whatever their objectives may be.

"Uniforms and equipment will be costly for training these youngsters, but few people will question the values received," he opined. "Many of the worthwhile things in life cannot be estimated in terms of money, anyway, and music, like long life and good health, cannot be measured in terms of dollars and cents."

It required 40 years to a day to build the Mormon Temple in Salt Lake City.

L. Edwin Smith To Return To Tech To Teach Accounting

L. Edwin Smith, a graduate and former athlete at Texas Tech will return to the school this fall as associate professor of accounting. Pres. W. M. Whyburn has announced.

Smith received his BBA degree from Tech in 1938 and an MBA from the University of Texas in 1941. He formerly taught at Southwest Institute, Lafayette, La., and has worked as an accountant for two Lubbock firms.

Steer Ropers Will Compete At Clovis

CLOVIS, Aug. 28. (Special)—Steer ropers from five states, the top men in their field, will compete in Clovis Sept. 5 and 6 in the second annual Lasso del Llano (Lariat of the Plains).

Each of 12 men will post an entry fee of $1,000, and three of the ropers will share in the purse. The two top competitors will split all but $1,000 of the entry fees, plus one-third of the gate receipts, a prize which makes the eastern New Mexico lasso one of the richest events in rodeo history.

Last year, Toots Mansfield, Big Spring, Texas, was winner of the one-day lasso, walking off with a check for $11,500 and a share of the take.

Mansfield will be a contender again this year, and one other Texan, Buddy Neal of Ft. Stockton, will take part.

Arizona will be represented by Carl Arnold, Buckeye; Kansas by Ike Rude, Dodge City; and New Mexico by Cotton Lee, Ft. Sumner, and Jack Skipworth, Clovis, the only local man to enter the event.

Half of the contestants will be from Oklahoma: Everett Shaw, Stonewall; Jim Snively, Pawhuska; Choate Webster, Lenapah; Clark McIntyre, Kiowa; Jiggs Burke, Comanche; and Buck Goodspeed, Wetumka.

Chinese Student Arrives Here To Continue Education At Tech

By COTTON FANNING
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

CHIEN SHENG YANG

"Here perfect" were the only two words used in describing America by "Jim Young," originally Chien Sheng Yang, native of China, who arrived here from Shanghai last Tuesday with the intention of attending Texas Technological college to further his education in Agricultural Economics.

When questioned about the difference between this and other countries, it was obvious that the 27 year old Chinaman didn't have an English vocabulary large enough to express his feelings on the subject. After several attempts to describe the war-devistated countries of China and Japan, with some success and much perspiration, he finally relaxed and narrowed it down to two words, "Here perfect."

Staying With Friends

Young is now staying with his friends Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ma, at 2201 Sixteenth street, in a garage apartment behind the G. P. Kuykendall home. Young met Joe while both were attending Fukien university, Shanghai, and chose Texas Tech as his college because Joe was here. Mr. and Mrs. Ma entered Texas Tech at the beginning of the spring semester, 1948. Joe lacks about two semesters having his degree in industrial engineering, and his wife only lacks one semester completing requirements for a masters degree in English literature. Both attended Fukien university. Young plans to move as soon as he can find a room.

It took Mr. Kuykendall only one try at pronouncing Young's Chinese name to decide it must be changed, so he immediately dubbed the youthful Chinaman Jim Young. Young apparently realizes the impossibility of translating the Chinese figures in his name to English letters and seems to be more than a little pleased with his "Americanized" name.

Jim looks to be about 14 or 15 years of age. Before his departure from Shanghai for the U. S. on the "Gordon," he was an employee of the Chinese Ministry of Finance for two years, receiving the American equivalent of about 70 or 80 dollars a month besides his monthly food ration.

He attended the Anglo-Chinese college, an American mission school in his birthplace, Foochow, China, for six years, after which he went to Fukien university, in Shanghai, where, after four years, he received his B. A. degree in Agricultural Economics. It was while at Fukien university that he met Mrs. Young. The two have been married about two years, and Mrs. Young is also in the employ of the Ministry of Finance. She did not accompany him to the U. S.

When asked if his wife wanted him to come to the U. S. to study, the small, neat young man replied: "Yes, she don't." In explanation of this strange statement, Joseph Ma, who was in on the interview, said that such was the Chinese way of saying "No, she didn't." A jumbled conversation in Chinese between Joe and Jim ensued, in which Joe said Jim told him Mrs. Young was glad for her husband to come to America to better his education and learn a new way of life, but she was sorry for the separation. Young then volunteered that it was too expensive to bring his wife with him.

Jim's father was an admiral in the Chinese Navy during the war, and was killed aboard the battleship Kiang Han. His father was a graduate of a naval academy, and devoted 20 years of his life to serving in the Chinese Navy. Mrs. Yang, Jim's mother, is still living in Foochow, he said.

The money Jim brought with him for the two or three years he expects to remain in the U. S., had to be changed from Chinese to American money in a black-market bank. He says that it took about $100,000,000 in Chinese money, which is about $1,500 American money. In his broken English the black-eyed, black-haired Chinaman managed to make it clear, with the help of his friend Joe, that the rate of exchange was so complicated that it would be foolish to try to explain it, since neither he nor Joe understood it. Joe said that only high government officials are permitted to exchange money in the government banks at the official rate of exchange, and others have to make the change in commercial banks at black-market rates.

Jim served about a year and a half in the Chinese Army infantry, of which he says about six months was training. What type of training did he have during that six months?—"Goose step." He held the rank of "Shawwi," which Joe explained to be equal to the American second lieutenant. "Shaw," means smallest, and "wi" means military officer. Jim saw no actual battle duty, but was in a training squadron.

The ambitious young man says that he will receive a higher position when he returns with his American education, but not much more money. He says that the basic ration of rice, sugar, coal, etc., is the important thing, and he will get no increase of food, only money, which doesn't amount to much. Young says that you no longer see anyone offer anything less than a 5,000 note in payment for articles in China, and it is more common to see 20,000 notes. In figuring money, it seems that 1,000 is the first digit used, which would make our adding machines somewhat useless in China.

Do you intend to stay in the U. S. and bring your wife here after you finish your education?—"Yes, I don't. I like country. People are fine, but not home."

Youth Given Prison Term

CHICAGO, Aug. 28 (AP)—Fourteen-year-old Roy Adams today faced 14 years in prison for the murder of his eight-year-old girl playmate.

The sentence was fixed by a jury of seven women and five men after only an hour and 22 minutes' deliberation yesterday. The jury cast one ballot on the youth's guilt and one ballot on the sentence.

The death penalty had been waved by the prosecution, which asked a 20-year sentence. The defense argued that Adams should go free because the slaying was unintentional.

The boy had confessed that he smothered blonde Nancy Schuler May 27 when she came to his room to borrow comic books. He said the slaying was sex-motivated.

But he testified in court that he did not "intend" to kill the child, and denied that he had committed a sex act.

The tall, stocky youth displayed little emotion during the three-day trial, and appeared relieved by the verdict. He said he was "perfectly satisfied" with the sentence.

WE'RE GOING ON 10....

On August 29, 1939, The Western Company, a new organization with headquarters at Seagraves, performed its first engineered acid treatment of an oil well.

Since our humble beginning nine years ago, we have treated approximately 4,500 wells and we are now starting our tenth year of service to the petroleum industry of the Permian Basin of West Texas and Southeast New Mexico.

The credit for the small degree of success which we have attained in our nine years of operation has been largely due to the friends we have in the petroleum industry, and the patronage we have enjoyed from the oil companies, both large and small, in this area. The entire personnel of The Western Company is sincerely grateful to all persons who have had anything to do with our organization.

COMPARING OUR FIRST PUMP TRUCK OF 1939 TO OUR PRESENT-DAY TRUCKS

began operations with two pump trucks, which had a capacity of 1,000 gallons each. Today we operate 20 pump trucks, most of which have a capacity of 2,000 gallons each, 20 trailers and 15 acid transports. Twenty-six of our passenger cars are now equipped with two-way radios to connect direct to the stations.

Our largest single-stage treatment, a 30,000-gallon shot, was recently performed. This was the largest single acid treatment ever made in the Permian Basin.

go with an Army job in Japan!

How times have changed.

Three years ago, when our first victorious combat men left Japan, much of it was a shambles. The Japanese people were so dazed by defeat they didn't know which way to turn. The life of an Army man often had its discomforts.

But look at him today! He's helped to start the rebuilding of Japan, to restore roads and railways, to inspire a tired and hungry people with the hope of Democracy. Under his guiding hand, courts of justice, woman suffrage and freedom of worship have been brought about. In Japan there is only one soldier for every 400 Japanese—the smallest per capita occupation army in the world.

The pay of a Private is 50% higher than three years ago, then another 20% higher overseas. And almost every cent can be banked. None of it goes for food, housing, medical or dental care, clothing, retirement annuity, or the opportunity to continue his education. The Army furnishes him equipment for organized sports. While on leave, he can ski in winter or visit summer resorts at a fraction of what these activities would cost him in the United States.

An Army career in Japan is full of advantages such as these. Compare it with any job across the board—you'll find it hard to beat! Ask at your nearest Army and Air Force Recruiting Station for full details.

MEDAL OF HONOR HOLDER

Services To Be Conducted For Lubbock War Hero Here Tuesday

Final rites for a Lubbock youth whose heroic actions cost him his life and won the Congressional Medal of Honor, the nation's highest tribute, will be held here Tuesday afternoon, with both civilian and military services scheduled.

The body of Pfc. Herman C. Wallace, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Wallace, 2606 North Third, will arrive in Lubbock Tuesday morning and services will be conducted from the Arnett-Benson Baptist Church at 3 p. m., with the Rev. Cecil Ray, pastor, officating.

Saved Lives Of Buddies

Graveside military rites will be conducted by members of the Allen Brothers post, American Legion.

Pfc. Wallace was killed Feb. 27, 1945, near Prumzurly, Germany, when he stepped on a German mine and allowed the mine to explode under him, thereby saving the lives of at least two of his buddies. He was buried in a military cemetery at Ham, Luxembourg, near the grave of Gen. George S. Patton, commanding general of the Third Army in which Pfc. Wallace served.

By Presidential order, Pfc. Wallace was posthumously awarded the Medal of Honor, resented to his parents in a ceremony at Lubbock Thursday, November 7, 1945. Brig. Gen. George Forster, representing President Truman made the presentation.

Citation Pays Tribute

The Presidential citation read:

"The President of the United States takes pride in awarding the Medal of Honor posthumously to Private First Class Herman C. Wallace, Company B, 301st Engineer Combat Battalion United States Army, for services as set forth in the following citation:

"Private Wallace displayed conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity on 27 February 1945 near Prumzurley, Germany. While helping clear enemy mines from a road, he stepped on a well-concealed S-type anti-personnel mine. Hearing the characteristic noise indicating that the mine had been activated and, if he stepped aside, would be thrown upward to explode above ground and spray the area with fragments, surely killing two comrades directly behind him and endangering other members of his squad, he deliberately placed his other foot on the mine even though his best chance for survival was to fall prone. Private Wallace was killed when the charge detonated, but his supreme heroism at the cost of his life confined the blast to the ground and his own body, and saved his fellow soldiers from death or injury.

(Signed)

Harry Truman."

Pfc. Wallace was born June 12, 1924, at Marlow, Oklahoma. The family moved to Lubbock in 1930. He attended Lubbock public schools and had completed a year at Texas Tech as a chemical engineering major when he was inducted into the Army on June 18, 1943, six days after his twentieth birthday. He went overseas December 10, 1944, and was assigned to Patton's Third Army.

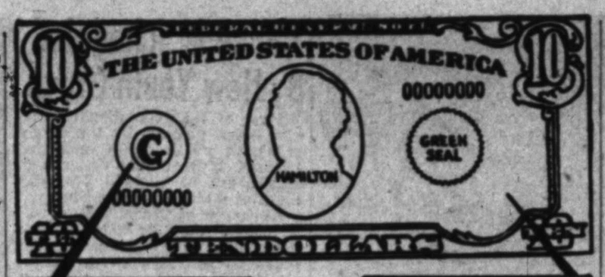

Surviving besides his parents are two brothers, Wayne and Orville, a sister, Marcine, and his grandfather, W. C. Wallace. All are Lubbock residents.

Pallbearers for the funeral will be David McLean, Dalton Tapp, Billy Averatt, James Robbins, Mansell Richardson, jr., and Leroy Richardson.

Sanders Funeral home is in charge of arrangements.

ALLIGATOR OUT OF PLACE

GEDDES, S. D. (AP)—Carl Ahrens, farmer, thinks maybe an alligator took the "south" in South Dakota too literally. Ahrens found a two-foot alligator in a water pool near his stock tank. He can't explain where it came from.

WATCH FOR GREEN-SEAL $10 BILLS ON THE FEDERAL RESERVE BANK OF CHICAGO (LETTER "G" IN CIRCLE) WITH F 399 or B 388 IN SMALL PRINT IN THE LOWER RIGHT CORNER.

COUNTERFEIT BILLS AFLOAT HERE—Several $5 notes similar to the $10 one above have shown up in Lubbock, Forrest V. Sorrels of Dallas, supervising secret service agent for this area, announced Friday. A. A. Strange of Dallas, an agent, was in Lubbock Saturday furnishing information on the bills. The counterfeits are of the Series of 1934C. Red ink lines are drawn on the paper to simulate genuine threads. Hamilton's hair has an unnaturally white appearance. On the back, look for numbers 1177, 1157, or 1098 in tiny print inside the border at the right. Also the steps to the Treasury building are missing, and the area just under the columns at the entrance is solid white. This counterfeit is being passed on retail merchants in many parts of the U. S. Cashiers are urged to keep a genuine $10 Federal Reserve note handy, and to compare all suspected bills with it. Merchants are requested to delay the passer by some natural excuse and telephone police immediately, and if passer leaves write down the license number of any cars involved.

Reed Supports Kilgore In Race For House Speaker

DALLAS, Aug. 28 (AP)—Joe Kilgore of McAllen had received the support today of W. O. Reed of Dallas for the position of speaker of the Texas House of Representatives.

Reed, the present speaker, issued a statement yesterday scotching rumors that he would seek a second term as presiding officer.

In his statement, Reed said: "I think none of us who sat in the last session would have any doubt of Kilgore's ability." Reed said that when Kilgore acted as speaker on several occasions "he amply proved himself as presiding officer."

Veterans Of Foreign Wars Will Open Annual Meet In St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 28 (AP)—Avenues of flags today welcomed early arrivals for the 49th annual national encampment of the Veterans of Foreign Wars which opens here tomorrow and continues through Friday.

The city broke out its most colorful bunting, and hotels brought out cots for the 60,000 delegates and guests expected for the six-day program of parades, speeches, merrymakers and adoption of resolutions.

Pre-convention activities included a two-day conference of VFW representatives and Veterans administration officials on rehabilitation and service work which was opened this morning by George E. Ijams, VFW rehabilitation service director.

More than 100 claims and service officers and VA service chiefs were participating in the discussion, which tomorrow will take the form of a forum on veterans legislation.

The national encampment, according to predictions by Commander-in-chief Ray H. Brannaman, Denver, will urge that Congress pass more adequate housing legislation and enact laws for control of subversive elements, universal military training and increased benefits for veterans, their widows and children.

Lyall T. Beggs, Madison, Wis., senior vice commander in chief, predicted the organization would recommend that Congress enact a uniform pension plan for all present and future veterans when they reach the age of 65.

He said a precedent has been established by grants to Spanish-American war veterans, who now receive $90 a month, extended on a $60 base that varies with the cost of living.

Speakers at the sessions in Kiel auditorium will include Gen. Omar N. Bradley, army chief of staff; Maj. Gen. Kenneth F. Cramer, chief of the National Guard bureau; Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, air force chief of staff, Adm. Louis E. Denfield, chief of naval operations, and Maj. Gen Louis B. Hershey, selective service director.

Civilian speakers will include Carl R. Gray, Veterans administrator; Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers, (R-Mass.) chairman of the House Veterans committee; Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer; Morris Sayer, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, and Dr. C. C. Little, director of the Jackson Memorial laboratories, Bar Harbor, Me.

Clergymen of all faiths will take part in the annual joint memorial services to be held tomorrow night in honor of the dead of all wars. Brannaman and Mrs. Dorothy Mann, national president of the VFW ladies auxiliary, also will participate.

A torchlight parade of the Military Order of the Cootie, VFW fun branch, will be held Monday night, and the annual VFW military parade is scheduled for Tuesday afternoon. A military ball will be held Thursday night.

Oklahoma VFW organizations have a colorful tractor-drawn float enroute that depicts an early Indian village and features several full-blooded Cherokees, live Indian ponies, a log house, tepee and corral. It is due to arrive tomorrow night, VFW spokesmen said.

TO ASSUME NEW DUTIES

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 28 (AP) — Carl Dickson, head of the Kansas City district office of the U. S. Secret Service division, said today that Jackson N. Krill, an agent here for 10 years, would leave tomorrow for St. Louis to assume duties as head of the office there. Krill is replacing Leo A. Smugal in St. Louis. The latter is being promoted to the post of supervising agent in Seattle, Wash., Dickson said.

AMAZED AT QUICK ACTION OF MERTOX

"For the past ten years I have been troubled with severe gas pains which seemed to press against my heart and made it difficult to breathe. I had a pain under my heart that was almost unbearable at times," writes Mrs. Alma Cummings of Waco.

"My food would not digest and soured on my stomach. I had dizzy spells and when these attacks occurred I felt all puffed up. My appetite has greatly improved and I can now eat lots of things that I couldn't eat before taking this wonderful medicine.

"Since taking Mertox I feel like a different person. It certainly is wonderful to get up in the morning and do a day's work, without that tired, worn-out feeling. I certainly was amazed at the quick action of this medicine."

You can get Mertox from any Texas druggist at the new REDUCED price.

FROM THE LUBBOCK ALBUM—Early life in this area is depicted in many pictures owned by pioneers of Lubbock and their children. Some show the site of what now is Lubbock when there were only a few scattered buildings and windmills. Some show close-up scenes of some of the early-day buildings. Some show the pioneers who helped to shape the early events in the western town of Lubbock. One or more pioneer scenes will be shown each Sunday in the Avalanche-Journal in a series opening with the above photograph. The picture shows Lubbock's courthouse in 1891, with some of the town's residents standing beside it. Left to right, are pictured the late I. L. Hunt; his widow, Mrs. I. L. Hunt of 1420 Ave. K, who then was Miss Etta Green; Mrs. W. A. Bacon, who lives at 1802 Broadway, who then was Miss Myrtie Hunt; Mrs. W. M. Ross of southwest of Lubbock, who then was Miss Cotter Caraway; an unidentified young woman; the late W. C. Green, who died in 1918; Mrs. George C. Wolffarth, who lives at 1906 Twenty-eighth, who then was Miss Lottie Hunt; the late Jack Rogers, early-day newspaperman; the late J. B. Mobley, first county tax assessor and collector, standing on the porch; the late "Uncle Tank" Martin, and George C. Wolffarth, first county clerk, standing on the porch. The courthouse was new at that time. It later was torn down and the present courthouse was built on the site.—(Photo lent by J. O. Green.)

WHERE TOURIST DOLLARS GO

STURGIS, S.D. (AP)—The average tourist in South Dakota's Black Hills spends about $7 per day, a survey conducted by the Black Hills and Bad Lands association shows. K. F. Olson, association manager, said 1,081 persons had been asked to keep track of their expenditures. The average person reported he spent $1.70 per person for overnight accommodations, $2.15 for food and $3.19 for automobile expenses, entertainment, souvenirs and incidentals.

Dance Is Scheduled By New Youth Group

First of the recreational activities being planned by the newly organized youth group sponsored by the City Recreation department is a dance to be held Thursday night at 8 o'clock at the Playmor.

A charge of 25c a person will be made at the door and the dance is for all Junior and Senior High school students. Membership in the planning group is not necessary, it was pointed out, and all members of this group are working for a large attendance at the dance.

Teen-agers whose names are not yet on the mailing list being prepared in the recreation department may call No. 9346 for information and have their names put on the list, so they may receive notices of the group's activities.

Preparatory to the dance and others that will be planned later, the young people have been meeting with staff members of the recreation department twice a month.

All activities will be supervised by the recreation department and specially invited adult sponsors.

Allied Occupation Policies In Japan Attacked By Red General

TOKYO, Aug. 28. (AP)—Russian Maj. Gen. A. P. Kislenko today accused the allied occupation of "hampering the revival and strengthening of the democratic tendencies of the Japanese people" at a special meeting of the Far East Allied council.

Repeating his previous demand that General MacArthur withdraw his directive to the Japanese government suggesting that strikes by government workers be banned, the Russian general asked that the Japanese government ordinance against government workers strikes be rescinded.

Missouri Police Shoot Parolee

LEXINGTON, Mo., Aug. 28. (U.P.)—John Gilbert Taylor, 28, of Kansas City, who escaped from Kansas City police last night, was shot and critically wounded when he resisted arrest here today.

Trooper Ernest Van Winkle of the state highway patrol fired three shots, he said, striking Taylor in the right leg, right arm and left chest. Taylor was rushed to General hospital in Kansas City where his condition was described as "critical."

Van Winkle said he went to the cabin three miles east of Lexington on Highway 24 where Taylor and his family had been living and found him inside.

Tries To Get Skillet

"When I attempted to put handcuffs on him," Van Winkle said, "he resisted and tried to pick up a heavy iron skillet.

"I fired once into the air, believing this would calm him down, but it didn't. Then I fired three times at him," Van Winkle said.

Taylor had escaped July 1 from the county courthouse in Kansas City where he was held for violation of parole. Police received a tip last night that he was in Kansas City and they picked him up. However, when the police car arrived at the station," Taylor leaped from the car and escaped.

His wife, Mrs. Jessie P. Taylor, 45, is being held by Kansas City police.

Tiny Tow-Headed Youngster Is Found After Five-Hour Search

By CHARLES STONE
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

A tiny tow-headed youngster, 2½ years old, caused an extensive five-hour "man hunt" Saturday, when he disappeared from his home shortly before noon.

Jamie Sharp, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Sharp of 2802 Ruby, was last seen by his mother about 11:15 a.m. Saturday, until he was found at 4:30 p.m., safe and seemingly contented, in the locked house of a neighbor two houses down the street from the Sharp residence.

The mother, failing to find the boy in the yard of the residence, alerted the neighbors and made a search of the neighborhood, but Jamie could not be located.

Police Join Search

Local police were called into the hunt, business associates of Mr. Sharp joined the search, and all local radio stations broadcast descriptions of the boy. Several calls from citizens reported "lost" boys in various sections of the city, but none answered the description of the Sharp boy.

Shortly after 4 p.m., Mrs. Sharp said she remembered that the youngster often visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Fanning, 2806 Edna. Going to the house, she tried the front door and found it locked. While carrying out the same procedure at the rear door, she saw the jam-smeared face of her son peering out the kitchen window.

Mr. Sharp's key to his own house, which fortunately would open the Fanning home, was used to gain entrance. The boy, who had been clad only in a pair of yellow overalls at the time of his disappearance, had removed the garment and made himself at home. Cigarets, matches and other small articles were found scattered around the house, evidence of the tyke's inquisitive nature. He had also apparently helped himself to whatever the home had to offer in the way of "eats."

Main mystery surrounding the search was in the method by which the lad had been able to enter a seemingly locked house. The Fannings, neighbors reported, had left Saturday morning for Ohio, but no one apparently knew at just what time they departed.

Two other occupants of the house, a brother of Fanning's and another Tech student could not be located to shed light on the situation.

Two possibilities were advanced: (1) The boy could have entered the house while one or more of the occupants were present, and been locked inside when the party or parties left; (2) The door may not have been securely closed, the boy entered, and the spring lock caught when he closed the door. But Jamie, the only one who really knew what happened, wasn't telling what he knew. He was too busy looking around the family residence for new worlds to explore.

Blackeyed Pea Harvest Set This Week On Floyd Farm

FLOYDADA, Aug. 28. (Special)—A 125-acre crop of blackeyed peas will be ready for harvest during the coming week on the farm of L. L. Jones southwest of Floydada on the Petersburg road.

Roy Fawver and Jones, who made the planting, will employ a big crew of workers to harvest the peas. They expect to realize a ton per acre in two successive pickings.

The crop was planted on wheat stubble and will represent the second crop off the same land this year. Jones said that the additional legumes and nitrogens built by the peas will cause the land to be in better condition than it was before the peas were planted.

They plan to sell the crop on a ready-market basis to a Lubbock cannery.

U. S. Weather Bureau Station Moves To New Quarters Here

By OPAL DIXON
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

The U. S. Weather bureau station, which will have been in service at the Municipal air field north of Lubbock for two years on Nov. 6, now has expanded quarters in which to perform its many functions, among which are those of being friend to the travelers by air and by land.

The station on Aug. 17 moved from quarters about 18x18 feet in a lean-to addition to the airport into a building a short distance northeast of the airport.

It shares the building, which was purchased by the city and formerly was one of the barracks at South Plains Army Air field, with the Civil Aeronautics administration, which this month opened an Interstate Airway Communications station at the field.

More Room Available

The new quarters provide more room and more comfort for personnel of the weather station, said Leo W. Weaver, official in charge of the station. Heating the former quarters provided a problem in the winter.

The newly opened CAA station has taken over the teletype transmission of information which formerly was a part of the weather station's job.

The weather station includes an observational room, office of the official in charge and a storage room.

"Information to the public is our biggest job here," said Weaver. "We realize that quite definitely when the weather gets bad and people start calling."

Information Aid to Fliers

In many cases, information is wanted by the person planning a trip. A variety of other reasons prompts calls, although the weatherman doesn't ask why the person wants to know whether it is going to be hot or cold, raining or dry, or what present conditions are in certain areas.

Since close of the war, many persons, especially former Air Force personnel, have some acquaintance with the meaning of a weather map and frequently aviators visit the station to look over the weather map or persons call for technical information. Locations of the high and low pressure areas and of warm or cold fronts sometimes are requested.

One of the more important phases of the weather bureau services is that of aiding commercial and private aviation.

Make Hourly Observations

An hourly observation, primarily for the pilot, is made by observers at the station. The observation consists of cloud coverage, weather elements such as rain, snow or fog, visibility in miles, temperature and dewpoint, wind direction and velocity and altimeter setting which gives the aviator a reading to set his instrument for landing.

Six-hourly observations are made at 12:30 a.m. and p.m. and 6:30 a.m and p.m. for purpose of obtaining data for drawing the weather maps which are made at the Lubbock station and about 400 other weather stations in the country for use primarily by the forecaster.

Two types of forecasts are prepared—one a regular aviational forecast and the other for the general public.

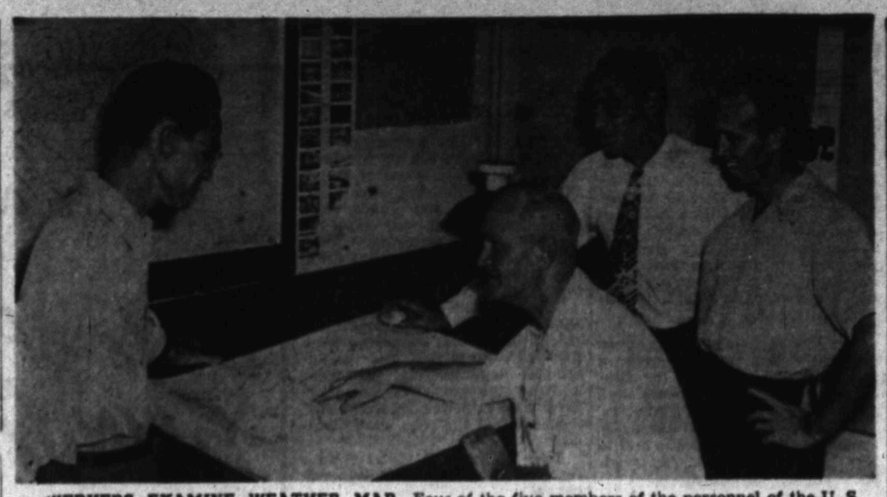

The forecast for West Texas comes from New Orleans and the airway terminal forecast for the area is issued out of Albuquerque, N. M. Those are adapted to meet conditions in this particular section in local forecasts. The airway forecasts, dealing more with ceilings and visibility, are different from forecasts issued for the general public.

The hourly observation and the six-hourly observations are placed on the teletype, the station here putting its information on the teletype in regular order along with other stations throughout the country.

Each of the airlines operating through Lubbock has its own radio for purpose of transmitting information to pilots of the planes in the air and the CAA also has facilities for furnishing weather information to planes.

In addition to the various observations, compilation of data, furnishing of information to callers and aviators, the weather station presents three broadcasts daily over KFYO, at 7:40 a.m., 12:40 p.m. and 10:10 p.m. The observer on duty at the time makes the broadcast. Data prepared includes a monthly climatological summary.

Observers or metrological aids here are Victor H. Halliburton, David R. Wheeler, Melton O. Connell and Bill J. Pierce. One or more is on duty at all hours, 24 hours daily.

FREEPORT, Ill., Aug. 28. (U.P.)—A travelling salesman added a new story to his repertory when he decided to sleep overnight in his car here.

Two youths tried the door of his locked car, then moved on to their own and drove off. The salesman decided to follow. They objected and took their complaint to the police station, tossing things out of the window en route. Their pursuer followed them right in.

A check back on the route taken and a search of their car produced two cameras, a jacket and a windshield wiper, all stolen recently from local parked cars. The salesman went back to his car to sleep.

Garter Snake, Held Prisoner For Five Days By Spiders And Their Webs, Slithers Away

CHICAGO, Aug. 28 (AP)—Two spiders and their webs held an eight-inch garter snake prisoner for five days, but the intended victim slithered away before they could make a meal of him.

Norman Lingenfelter, 48-year-old poultry farmer of York Center, found the snake enmeshed in a web but decided not to interfere.

"I'm going to let the law of the jungle take its course," he said.

Thursday night he looked in his utility room to see how the snake's death struggle with a small green spider was progressing. The web was broken.

But two feet away he found the snake encased in a second web. Another spider was weaving strands around the victim's neck.

Again Lingenfelter decided to let nature rule. He went back to bed.

Yesterday, he left the farm for about an hour.

"When I got back," he said, "the web was torn. The snake escaped as mysteriously as he got in."

The snake got loose just before a humane society officer arrived. The officer said he would have liberated the reptile sooner if he had known about its plight.

The battle attracted nationwide attention. Lingenfelter said he had scores of visitors and a number of long distance phone calls from interested papers.

He said he also received a telegram from an Indianapolis man, Jack Thompson, who identified himself as president of the "Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Garter Snakes." The wire said Thompson had asked Governor Green of Illinois to "intervene in the war. The strong should protect the weak."

LIGHTNING STRIKES TWICE

ADDINGTON RETURNS HOME

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 28 (U.P.)—Husky Don Addington of Houston headed back to the Lone Star state today with the National Caddy golf championship and a $1,500 college scholarship in his possession. Hughes Services Planned Tuesday

OSTERVILLE, Mass., Aug. 28 (INS)—Funeral arrangements were made today for Charles Evans Hughes, retired chief justice of the United States, as President Truman proclaimed a period of national mourning for the famed jurist.

The President, who is cruising toward Washington on the yacht Williamsburg, signed a proclamation calling for a period of national mourning until after the funeral services and burial.

Services Set In New York

Services will be at Riverside church in New York City at 2:30 p. m., (EDT) Tuesday, and will be conducted by the Rev. Harry Emerson Fosdick.

The place of interment has not been announced. The family has requested that flowers be omitted.

The white-haired dean of American statesmen died of congestive heart disease at the home of his daughter at the Wianna club, near Osterville, at 9:15 p.m. (EDT) Friday. He was 86 last April 11.

Mr. Truman said "the nation has lost one of its most preeminent elder sages." He declared that Hughes, who himself missed being President by the narrowest of margins, would go down in history as one of the nation's "most distinguished" servants.

Marshall Adds Tribute

Secretary of State Marshall called Hughes "the ideal in judicial integrity" and said "his vigorous support of the principles of government by law and of the independence of the courts won the respect of all Americans."

At Pawling, N. Y., Gov. Thomas E. Dewey ordered flags on public buildings in the state flown at half mast for 30 days.

Messages of condolence poured in from the nation's political, professional and business leaders.

1947 Mortality figures—Provisional statistics issued by the National Office of Vital Statistics of the U. S. Public Health Service—indicate that both the total numbers of deaths in the United States and the actual death rate was higher in 1947 than in 1946. This conclusion follows the analysis made by the above division of mortality statistics of 93 major cities of the U. S. In the past years this cross section of the nation's population has always proven to be a reliable index. The provisional total indicates that the death rate was 1.8 percent higher in 1947 than in 1946.

The total number of deaths in 93 major cities of the United States during 1947 was 478,068 against 467,351 in 1946. 'Peaks" in the 1947 deaths occurred in January, March, April and December, attributed by the Health Service to a "limited epidemic of influenza and other upper respiratory infections."

Comparative mortality in the ten largest cities of the United States for 1947 and 1946 were: New York, 1947—80,317, 1946—78,203; Chicago, 1947—38,911, 1946—37,281; Philadelphia, 1947 — 24,576, 1946—24,480; Detroit, 1947—14,598, 1946—14,323; Los Angeles, 1947—20,999, 1946—21,114; Cleveland, 1947—10,807, 1946—10,273; Baltimore, 1947—11,480, 1946—11,194; St. Louis, 1947 — 12,006, 1946 — 11,382; Boston, 1947—11,340, 1946—11,043; Pittsburg, 1947—8,740, 1946—8,639.

The good people of Lubbock can now be grateful and pleased to have one Great Memorial—erected in the Memorial Park—this Great Book with the Lord's Prayer carved in one piece of Georgia Marble.

Memorial Park is grateful to the people who are purchasing their lots before they need them—this gives us courage to build more Memorials—Your Family Memorial, or head stone, is so erected that it is permanent. The Memorial Park is permanent and PERMANENT CARE continues until the end of time. Memorial Park has a non-monumental Section, meeting the desires of any type burial plot the family may wish.

"Queen For A Day" Radio Show To Originate Here During Fair

"Queen for a Day," Mutual network "give-away" radio show, will originate at the Lubbock fairgrounds during the first three days of the Panhandle-South Plains fair here Sept. 27 through Oct. 2 officials of the fair association announced Saturday.

Contract for the attraction, which will be presented in front of the grandstand under the sponsorship of the Lubbock Lions club, was closed during the day after prolonged negotiations, officials said.

A representative of the network and the program sponsor is due in Lubbock today or Monday to work out details for the nationally broadcast presentation.

Show Purpose Given

While arrangements still are tentative, information as to the program available in Lubbock was to this effect:

The object of the daily program is to select competitively from the audience a woman who is designated as the queen for that day and who becomes the recipient of rewards worth many hundreds of dollars. The broadcast is on the air from 1 to 1:30 p. m. Central Standard time, daily except Sunday.

The first step in the selection of the daily "queen," it was explained, will be a pre-broadcast program of one hour which will be presented in front of the grandstand from noon until 1 p. m.

Selection Method Fair

During this hour, 25 women selected from the grandstand audience will be given opportunity to tell why they think they should be chosen "queen." The method of selecting of the 25 insures equal consideration for all women present. From among the 25, five will be selected who literally will tell their stories to the nation over the national network between 1 and 1:30 o'clock. The "queen" will be chosen from among the five.

Other preparations are going ahead which strengthen the assurances that the fair will be the greatest event of its kind ever presented in this portion of the Southwest.

A. B. Davis, who returned via airliner Saturday from a three-day visit to the fair then in progress at Pueblo, Colo., said that concession men are predicting the exposition will be not only the best ever held in Lubbock, but will be one of the best in the entire country this year.

Water Follies Included

Furthermore, Davis reported, the concessionnaires are backing up their judgment with their cash by leasing space to operate on the grounds during the fair in Lubbock. If they are wrong in their judgment, it will cost them heavily.

Preparations also are going ahead, fair officials said, to prepare the grounds for the giant stage from which the "Water Follies of 1948" will be presented as the night grandstand attraction throughout the week. The Follies have been a smash hit everywhere they have played during their coast-to-coast and Gulf-to-Great Lakes tour this year, officials were advised.

The stage will be nearly a city block in length, including a swimming pool 75 feet long and 35 feet wide and a diving pool 45 feet long and 35 wide. The program will include exhibitions by a water ballet of 16 "aquabelles," champion swimmers and divers, and an even dozen acts of big time vaudeville.

NEW YORK, (U.P.)—The state supreme court ruled that a landlord may not alter an apartment into a "less serviceable and enjoyable" condition without the consent of the tenant. Boys Club Will Close For Week

In order to give the property a general cleaning and to make minor repairs in preparation for the fall and winter program, the Lubbock Boys club building will be closed all next week, it was announced Saturday by John Wilson, director.

The club will open again Monday, Sept. 6, under winter hours of 3:45 to 9 o'clock, and a new activity has been added this year, Wilson said. The club is to organize a boys' chorus under the direction of Dick Richards who is connected with Texas Tech college.

The chorus, co-sponsored by SPEBSQSA (Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America, Inc.), is to meet two nights a week, but time of meetings has not been decided. This activity will not start until the second week of the winter program, Wilson said.

Other organized activities to be conducted at the club include touch football, under direction of Vernon L. Jackson, assistant director; games room, under direction of C. L. Tomlinson; woodwork shop, under direction of James Bearden; and library, in charge of Miss Ann Karcher. Lewis Thurman is building custodian.

Club Has Big Program

Wilson said the club has just closed its biggest summer program in its history. During June, July, and August average daily attendance was 409, Wilson said.

Activities were many and varied, but major summer interest centered on the club's baseball program in which ten teams in two leagues played a daily schedule throughout the summer.

the Houston area, considered the main stronghold of the States' Righters in Texas.

Others Hold Referendum

Complete unofficial Harris county returns on the Senate race gave 51,217 votes to former governor Coke Stevenson, and 36,874 to Rep. Lyndon Johnson.

Another Gulf coast county, Brazoria, also was reported to be giving the Thurmond - Wright ticket a strong majority.

Judge A. R. Rucks, chairman of the Brazoria county Democratic executive committee, said early and incomplete returns indicate the southern candidates will defeat the Truman-Barkley ticket by a vote of 2 to 1.

In Harrison county, on the Texas-Louisiana border, the States' Righters were leading by a vote of 3,126 to 1,533.

All Classes Claimed United

Mrs. Davis and Milner said "the results of the referendum in Harris county indicate that had Jester and Calvert permitted people throughout the state to exercise their right to vote on this matter considered by most of us to be the most vital challenge to our way of life since reconstruction days. the big majority of Texans would have done as the majority of the voters in this county did today."

committee."

Kotikov in his first reply to Suhr last night charged that the city administration had "lost the confidence of the working class."

Reds Don't Want Election

Tonight Suhr retorted: "This administration was elected by four-fifths of the population. If they want a change they should have an opportunity at the Oct. 24 elections."

This is the scheduled polling date, which the Russians are trying to postpone. The Soviets already have postponed for a year the scheduled fall elections in their occupation zone.

The seriousness of the East-West struggle also was underlined by these developments:

1. U. S. military government officials were quoted by Die Neue Zeitung, their newspaper, as saying Moscow ordered a break-up of the city assembly to present western negotiators in Moscow with an accomplished fact.

Clearing Prison Camps

The newspaper said Russia is ready "to use Soviet troops if necessary," possibly after inspired riots give an excuse for military intervention.

2. The newspaper said the Russians are clearing concentration camps for expected widespread arrests of anti-Communists.

3. The U. S. signal corps hinted the Russians are expected to cut western Berlin's telephone communications with the western occupation zones this weekend.

American military police tried to halt the Soviet jeep when it sped at 60 miles an hour through a 15-mile-an-hour zone along the Potsdamerchasse linking the Soviet military headquarters at Potsdam with Berlin's Russian sector.

Action Claimed Deliberate

Petergal was knocked off his motorcycle near the Potsdamerplatz, juncture of the Soviet-American sector.

U. S. officials said the Russians deliberately did this, and U. S. troops then fired at least three shots.

Russian authorities immediately protested to Col. W. A. Falck, provost marshal who talked with them early today in the Soviet sector.

Weapons Claimed Issued

Tinsley and Higham said the Russians quizzed them intensively in an effort to learn the number of U. S. troops and weapons in Berlin and also on the effectiveness of the Soviet blockade of the western sectors.

The British military government newspaper, Die Welt, said the Russians are handing out rifles and machine guns to special Communist police in the Soviet sector with the aim of completely militarizing their territory.

Die Welt said the move is to crush any revolt when the Russians push through their program of setting up a separate Communist city administration in defiance of the freely-elected German assembly.

White House Hit By Spy Probers

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28 (AP) — Congressional spy investigators formally accused the White House tonight of refusing to help "protect the national security."

In a report on "Communist espionage in the United States government," the House un-American Activities committee said:

1. Its inquiry has been "hampered at every turn by White House 'obstructive tactics'" and refusal to supply information.

2. The "failure" of Attorney General Clark to enforce laws against spying "as vigorously as he should" is largely responsible for "the growth and power of the Communist conspiracy" in America.

Strong Laws Asked

3. Laws must be passed to crack down on spying and Communist activities.

4. It is making no "specific charges of perjury" at this time.

5. In the sensational controversy between Alger Hiss and Whittaker Chambers, it believes the burden of proof "has definitely shifted" from Chambers to Hiss. Chambers has said, and Hiss has denied, that Hiss, a former State department official, was a leader in a pre-war Communist underground in Washington.

Former Carnival Worker Jailed After Roaring Springs Affray

MATADOR, Aug. 28 (Special)—A former carnival worker, described as "raving mad" by Sheriff John Stotts, was in jail here today after a wild affray at Roaring Springs early this morning.

Sheriff Stotts and Deputy Sheriff Ward Rattan of Motley county were called early this morning that a man, waving a knife and a hammer, was terrorizing the crowd at a Roaring Springs carnival which had played at the annual Motley-Dickens counties reunion.

When the law enforcement officers arrived they found the man backed against a canvas background threatening bystanders with a knife and hammer. Efforts to persuade the man to surrender peacefully failed. The officers were told if they approached he would attack them.

Deputy Rattan made several attempts to rope the man, but the lasso was slashed in two each time the noose settled around the man's shoulders.

J. T. Thompson, a Roaring Springs negro, approached the sheriff and asked, "Do you want me to take him Mr. Stotts?"

Stotts told him to "go ahead," and the negro dived into the man. Just as the negro and the ex-carnival man came to grips the lights went out. However, when lights were restored the negro had control of the man, and the man was arrested by the officers. The negro suffered a severe gash in his leg.

The carnival owner said the arrested man had worked for the show for about 20 years before he was released.

Senate Race Is Nip-Tuck Fight

(Vernon) overlooked in the counting there, wiped out the slim Johnson lead and gave the Kimble county candidate his 854-vote advantage at Election Bureau closing time.

From the Dallas headquarters of both the Texas Election Bureau and The Associated Press, the word early Sunday was "the Senate race will be in doubt until Sunday afternoon."

The close race between Stevenson and Johnson was a fitting climax to a slam-bang campaign between the two which got under

JOHNSON CLAIMS LEAD

AUSTIN, Aug. 29 (Sunday) (AP)—Lyndon Johnson said early today that his own tabulation showed him leading the U. S. Senate race by 2,382 votes.

He said that on the basis of a total greater than that of the Texas Election Bureau's last tabulation until later Sunday he had 494,144 votes and Stevenson 481,762 votes.

"I confidently await the final official count," Johnson said. "I feel sure that we will win the victory. I want my friends in each precinct to check the count and let me hear from them."

way last May when Johnson announced his candidacy to the surprise of most Texas political observers. Stevenson had announced his candidacy early in January.

The dynamic Johnson, for 11 years one of the most energetic and able members of the national House of Representatives, campaigned in characteristically sensational form, employing a helicopter in his drive for votes in the July primary. Just as characteristically, the slow, drawling Stevenson, who hasn't lost a race in his 30 years in Texas politics, contented himself with making few speeches, but shaking lots of hands at rodeos, festivals and other gatherings around the state.

Only major surprise in the contest between the two men was decision of the Texas branch of American Federation of Labor to support Stevenson. Although Johnson, in Congress, had voted for the Taft-Hartley Labor law and thus aroused labor's ire, he had been a labor favorite in his previous six campaigns for the House of Representatives and, in 1941, when he ran unsuccessfully for the Senate in a special election won by Wilbert Lee O'Daniel.

On the other hand, Stevenson long has been the "darling" of Texas big business and conservatism. Throughout the first primary campaign he kept silent on the Taft-Hartley law, despite all efforts to "smoke him out" on the controversial question. Early in August, however, while avoiding stating a plain position on the question, he calculated, under prodding that "parts of the law were all right."

From one end of Texas to the other yesterday—with the exception of local rains in the Galveston section — good weather greeted Texans as they went to the polls. There were no serious disorders anywhere, although a hot Congressional fight in the Rio Grande Valley resulted in the arrest on a disturbance charge of one citizen and an unsuccessful call for rangers to "protect the polls" at Laredo.

The U. S. Senate voting yesterday was similar, in all, to that of July, with the big cities of Fort Worth, Dallas and Houston giving Stevenson comfortable leads. San Antonio and Bexar county, however, which went to Stevenson in July gave Johnson a lead of less than 200 votes.

The West, traditionally "Stevenson country," showed a defection from the former governor's camp, many areas going for Johnson. In East Texas, where Stevenson was expected to show less strength, he showed more than anticipated.

Both Johnson and Stevenson early Sunday watched returns come in and their fortunes ebb and flow. Stevenson, with 50 friends in a riverside camp on his Kimble county ranch, admitted at midnight "it's too close to be comfortable." Johnson, in his Austin headquarters, said "I believe the late returns will put me across. Take away either Houston, or Dallas, and I've got him beat to death."

According to The Associated Press' survey:

Stevenson carried heavy voting Dallas county 26,195 to 17,679 for Johnson. Stevenson carried Harris county by some 10,000 votes. He won in Gregg county 4,221 to Johnson's 1,978.

Duval county, which never does an election half-heartedly, gave Johnson 4,194 to only 38 for Stevenson. In the first primary Stevenson had 599 votes.

Stevenson was ahead of Johnson in the first primary in Tarrant county and won there yesterday. Johnson was away in front in Lubbock, McLennan, and Nueces, counties he carried handily in July.

Two Quizzed In Burglary Here

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Aug. 28 (AP)—A 23-year old Texan and his 18-year-old bride were under arrest here today in connection with the robbery of churches from Texas to Wyoming.

Fred Schmoker, police chief, identified the couple as Mr. and Mrs. James Willis Cude of San Antonio. Mrs. Cude was said to have confessed participating in 10 church robberies with her husband.

The Cudes were arrested after they rifled the First Congregational church of $2 in pennies and a flashlight. It was also believed Cude might have been the bandit who held up and robbed a Cheyenne dairy of $175 last week.

Mrs. Cude said she and her husband robbed churches of small sums in Lubbock, Tex., and Lamar, Pueblo and Denver, Colo.

REPORTS SHOW CUDE A FORMER CONVICT

Pending further information from Cheyenne in regard to a news service report that Mr. and Mrs. James Willis Cude had admitted a series of church burglaries, including at least one here, Captain of Detectives Pat Davidson said a check revealed that Cude had been sentenced to two years in the Texas penitentiary in November of 1946 from Brady, for burglary.

"Whether the Cudes were responsible for a burglary about three months ago of the First Baptist church has not been determined," Davidson said. "An attempt to break into the church at that time failed."

The detective said that a check of Cude's record, as listed on reports of the FBI and the Texas Department of Public Safety, showed that he had been "handled" here on a theft over $5 investigation May 12, 1943; arrested for investigation Feb. 19, 1945, in a case that showed no disposition; and that he had been arrested various other times: by the State highway patrol at Springfield and Carthage, Mo., for investigation; in Big Spring in 1942 for investigation into the theft of a bike; at San Antonio for vagrancy and investigation; at Austin for investigation; at San Marcos for burglary investigation; at El Reno, Okla., for investigation into burglary in Arizona, Texas and New Mexico.

In Albuquerque, he was arrested March 27, 1946, for vagrancy, the report showed. A notation of "30 days or $30" was on the report in connection with the arrest, Davidson said.

Newspapermen here sought by telegram to get more information from Cheyenne, but had received no reply late Saturday night.

Three Gypsies Assessed Fines

The sheriff's department late Saturday afternoon arrested three gypsy women all of Los Angeles.

Charged with vagrancy, the three women were released later in day after paying fines. Officials pointed out that "we've had too much trouble with gypsies in this section in the last year or so."

They referred to instances in which money that gypsies had promised to "bless" subsequently turned up missing.

Van Harris, 40, a negro, pleaded innocent of a vagrancy charge and posted $300 bond, officials said.

A negro woman, Lavada Johnson of 400-block Sixteenth, informed the sheriff's department and police that a radio had been stolen from her quarters. She indicated that a watch also may have been taken.

A deputy of Sheriff Novel V. Crawford of Longview flew here to accept custody of William Beebee, 31, of Edinburg, and a Longview truck and trailer the defendant allegedly was driving when arrested here Friday night on Myrtle drive.

Beebee was returned to Longview, and a driver who accompanied the deputy here was returning the truck.

Beebee was arrested by the state highway patrol.

Sheriff Sam Floyd of Lynn county informed Lubbock officials to be on lookout for a model 32-20 Winchester repeating rifle stolen there.

D. W. Robertson, justice of peace, placed J. C. Commander, about 32, under $250 peace bond after conducting a hearing on an affidavit of Thelma Commander that her husband had threatened to take her life.

Theft of a billfold from Mrs. Woodrow Cagle of 1111 Thirty-fifth was reported to police.

A garbage can was reported stolen from the alley behind Ellison Drug store, 1802 Ave. H.

standing or more. Calling hours will be from 3 to 6 p.m., in their home, surrounded by beautiful flower gardens, in Idalou.

Family To Be Present

Among those present will be two daughters, Mrs. Carl C. Barr of 2009 Fourteenth street, Lubbock, and Mrs. John L. Harral of Abernathy; two granddaughters, Mrs. M. L. Sanders, jr., of Ralls, and Mrs. J. R. Peterson of Albuquerque, N. M.; two grandsons, Jack Harral of Abernathy and Lewis Barr of Lubbock; and a great - granddaughter, Ferrelene Ford, 4, of Albuquerque. Ferrlene's father, First Lieut. Mart F. Ford, was killed over Wake Island in 1944.

Mrs. Shelton's brother, M. B. Howard, widely known in this area as "Uncle Tee", will also be present to share in the observance. He has made his home with the Sheltohs since they came to Lubbock county in 1919.

The record of Mr. and Mrs. Shelton's 50 years of wedlock provides an inspiring story of adversity and success in overcoming it.

They were married at Navajo, Greer county, Oklahoma, in 1898. Mr. Shelton was 26, Mrs. Shelton 20.

Oklahoma was still the home of Kiowa, Cheyenne and Comanche Indians and memories of them still live vividly with the Sheltons.

Shelton was born in Winston county, Alabama, and came at the age of six with his parents to Ellis county, Texas. When he was 15 his parents moved to Oklahoma.

Mrs. Shelton was born in Kentucky, and when she was a child her parents also moved to Texas, where they lived a brief time before going to Navajo.

Mrs. Shelton recalls that she was 10 when she met her future husband, who worked at times for her father.

Shelton loved the open range and spent most of his young manhood days in ranching and cowpunching. When he was 16 he carried the mail twice a week to Doane's Crossing, Texas, covering 62 miles a day on horseback.

He drove cattle on the Old Chisholm trail many times, as far as Woodward, Okla., where the cattle were loaded on rail cars for the long trip to Kansas City.

About the time of their wedding, Shelton went into the grocery business. They later moved to Altus, where they remained until they moved to Lubbock county in 1919.

Shelton had bought 700 acres north of Idalou and he farmed and raised cattle on this land. Earlier, a bone infection had necessitated removal of his right leg, but in spite of this handicap he was well known as an expert horseman.

Mrs. Shelton has devoted her energies to being a homemaker and mother, but she has also found time for many civic activities during the years they have lived in Idalou.

She has been active in the First Baptist church, the Order of the Eastern Star, and in Parent-Teacher, club and cemetery work.

She has been an aggressive worker for civic improvement in Idalou. She was chairman of a committee which raised funds and worked to beautify the Idalou cemetery, and at one time she raised money for planting of trees and shrubbery along the highways approaching Idalou.

Her neighbors in Idalou say that Mrs. Shelton is anxious to be of service in times of sickness, and that she travels over a wide area to carry food and flowers, always without a card, to those in sickness or grief.

Although they no longer have any farms, the Sheltons have acquired property in Idalou and Lubbock.

Plains Ginners Oppose Federal Controls At Meeting In City

Plemons of Smyer, Drew Watkins of Sudan, and Bub McDonald of Lamesa.

Fortenberry explained that the territory embraced by the Plains association is entitled to four state board members by virtue of an agreement at the last state meeting when efforts were made to redistrict the state in such a way that four districts would have been created in the present Plains territory. He urged successfully that the territory not be divided, but be allowed four board representatives. He said efforts were made in the selections to name a board member in each of what would have been the new districts.

Action on the acreage allotment resolution came on recommendation of the board of directors, who had voted unanimous opposition to the proposed federal control over acreage and production.

Appeal Is Made

It followed also an appeal by K. N. Clapp, regional representative of Anderson-Clayton company here, that ginners, farmers, and anyone else interested should wire or write the Secretary of Agriculture and members in Congress their views on the question.

The procedure, he said, would be a referendum among farmers on whether or not the plan should be adopted, and he set out that Texas, which "took the rap" in previous acreage controls, would be the primary loser.

And, narrowing it down further, Clapp said the South Plains area of Texas, where more than one out of every 16 bales of U. S. cotton is produced, would be a major loser, because of heavily increased acreage and therefore lack of "cotton production history" on much of the area.

Clapp read a letter he had sent to Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan, with copies to members of Congress from the state and area, setting out that "war with Russia is certainly our No. 1 current trend," and that "acreage quotas, with consequent lower production, could have a most serious effect on our war preparedness, or on waging war, since cotton is a top ranking war materiel.

Valuable Defense Asset

Explaining that the 13 million bale surplus on hand before World War 2 was a pre-war white elephant but an invaluable asset when war came, the letter set out that "we now have only a three-million bale carryover and an estimated production on Aug. 1 of 15 million bales, a total supply of 18 million bales."

But, "against this supply I see quoted a demand for nine to ten million bales for domestic consumption, and four- to five-million for export, total 13-15 million bales, leaving us a dangerously low carryover of 3 to 5 million bales."

He insisted that cotton and textile trades consider three million bale carryovers of the past two years as too small for safe conduct of business, and "so long as war is imminent, should we not have at least an eight-million bale surplus?"

Don L. Jones, superintendent of the experiment station here, pointed out that ginners, through their contacts with farmers, exert a distinct influence on cotton production, told the ginners that they should have a knowledge concerning all phases of production.

He pointed out that raw cotton consumption has dropped ten percent, while consumption by the fiber industry as a whole has increased about 50 percent, indicating that cotton is losing ground and other fibers and synthetics are making inroads.

Thus, he said, the textile fiber market is moving back into the competitive stage, or a production cost basis, and that it is up to the cotton industry to do something about it or take the consequences.

Jones pointed to the Beltwide Cotton Mechanization congress, to be held here Oct. 14, 15, and 16, as an excellent opportunity for this area to show to industrial leaders the magnitude and importance of cotton to this area, particularly as concerns tools and chemicals "which may be good in one part of the belt, but would maybe not do the job in this area."

The October mechanization congress and its significance to this area was explained to the ginners by J. N. Caviness, secretary of the local arrangements committee. He believes that mechanization, improvements in which are primary purposes of the congress, offers the best single means to cut production costs, and to keep cotton fibers in the thick of the growing competitive market.

Pointing up the magnitude of the congress, which will bring industrial leaders from all parts of the nation for the three-day session, Caviness said housing is a big problem. The committee has arranged housing for about 400, he said, but "this is not enough," and he added that the committee is urging transients, salesmen, and others who can do so, to avoid coming to Lubbock on the dates of the congress.

Federal Curbs Opposed

Touching on the proposed acreage allotment program, C. B. Spencer, agricultural director of the Texas Cottonseed Crushers association, of Dallas, wants none of the federal controls, because "we want to attend to our own business."

Citing that the per acre yield in Texas is 187 pounds of lint, compared with much higher yields in other areas, Spencer fears that this would sharply cut acreage and production under any control plan.

Admitting that "we are not happy" over the small lint production per acre, Spencer feels that "maybe we should develop a cotton here that will not be discriminated against" in world markets.

He expressed some alarm over what he said were increasing ravages by insects, particularly Lygus bug and thrips. The thrips, he said, have done more damage in Texas this year than all other insects combined.

L. O. Buchanan, in charge of the government's cotton classing service here, told of plans for expanded service this year, with the office capacity stepped up about 50 per cent. He said the office last year classed 12 to 13 thousand bales per day, and could increase that this year.

The farm labor situation was explained by Henry LeBlanc, of Austin, chief of the farm placement bureau of the Texas Employment commission, who said the agency can deal only with employers, does no hiring, and conveys to workers only the information given to it by those needing help. He asked, therefore, that farmers not misrepresent facts in calls for labor, and not call for workers before they are needed, because such practice results in much harm and dissatisfaction.

He pointed out that private recruiters furnish stiff competition to the public agency, and that many workers are sent out of the state in that way because pay rates sometimes are higher, and the recruiter is paid on a per-head basis for workers.

Jay Stilley, executive secretary of the Texas Ginners association, of Dallas, pointed to the labor situation as very serious. He cited confusion in Mexico in getting more help from there, and said the government there has clamped down and will not let others out.

Ginning problems were discussed among the closing features of the full day's program, by Fritz Lickte, extension service ginning specialist.

Welcome addresses at opening of the session was made by Clarence Whiteside, city commissioner, and response was by Drew Watkins of Sudan, who said that "we consider Lubbock our town, and greatly appreciate it."

Registration of attendants was not attempted, but it was estimated that more than 250 ginners and wives, and others in allied industries, attended the session.

Hubbers Stave Off Blue Sox For 9-7 Win; Open Against Amarillo Here Today

DOUBLE PLAY LEADERS—The Lubbock Hubbers league-leading double play combinations are shown in the accompanying photos by C. W. Ratliff. Third Baseman Frank McAlexander, above, has started many of the killings, but Shortstop Jackie Wilcox and Manager Jackie Sullivan, right, are the heart of the play. Sullivan's strong throwing arm and pivot, considered the best in the loop, show up well in the far right photo. They will be in action today against the Amarillo Gold Sox at Rosenthal Field in a crucial two-game series.

Pollock Saves Royce Mills In Eighth Inning

ABILENE, Aug. 28 (Special)—Lefty Fred Pollock came on in the eighth to save Royce Mills' 14th victory of the year here tonight, as the Lubbock Hubbers pounded out a 9-7 victory over the Abilene Blue Sox.

The Hubbers, after taking what appeared to be a secure 9-3 lead in the top of the eighth, saw the home team come dangerously close to winning the game.

Mills walked the first two men to face him and Pitcher John Kelly slammed a home run over the leftfield fence to narrow the margin to 9-6. Mills then walked Rocky Stone and gave up a double to Frank Means that scored Stone with the final Abilene run of the game.

Hubbers Start Early

Pollock came on at that point to retire the side with no more hits and then set the side down in order in the ninth to preserve the victory.

The Hubbers lost little time in going to work on Kelly, banging over two runs in the third inning. Chick Fowler led off with a single and stole second and Gene Hixson walked. Don Moore fanned, but Virgil Richardson, big Hubber gun tonight, doubled to score both runners.

Two more runs scored in the fifth on a walk to Hixson, Moore's single that scored Hixson, who had moved to second on a balk, and Richardson's single that scored Moore.

Keep On Scoring

One more run counted in the seventh on Moore's stroll, a sacrifice by Richardson, Frank McAlexander's single that advanced Moore and Jackie Wilcox's long fly to left that allowed Moore to dent the rubber.

A four-run spree in the eighth put the game on ice. Floyd Walker led off with a walk and went to second on an error. Mills flied out, but Fowler doubled left. After Hixson had fanned, Moore walked and Richardson slammed his second double of the night. McAlexander was safe on an error that allowed Moore to tally and Wilcox singled to send Richardson across the plate with the final Hubber run.

The Hubbers return to Lubbock tomorrow afternoon for a crucial two-game series with the Amarillo Gold Sox. Roland Miller probably will start for the Hubbers, while Jim Heller is the probable Amarillo hurler.

Gray To Meet Fenton In Wrestling Feature

Sled Allen's arena returns to the usual three separate bouts this Wednesday night, with a pair of rugged, rough wrestlers, Karl Gray of Milwaukee, Wis., and Rod Fenton of Edmonton, Can., paired in the main event.

The semi-final will bring back Sammy Kohen of New York against George Curtis of Vicksburg, while Rex Mobley of Borger will take on Gorilla Poggi of Argentina in the preliminary bout.

The Gray-Fenton bout, which is scheduled to go two out of three falls with a one-hour time limit, should be a natural. The two grapplers are about even in strength and ability and both have been in the ring for a good many years.

Fenton and Gray know all the rules of both clean, scientific wrestling, as well as the undercover rules not in the book. The referee will have to be on his toes when he is in the ring with these two men.

As for Kohen and Cutris, it will be age and experience against youth and speed. Curtis is a local favorite and has impressed grunt and groan fans for a long time. The popular young wrestler should have enough to take the veteran.

Mobley is a product of the South Plains, who returns after an absence of a year. The Borger boy has been doing his catch-as catch-can in the deep South, wrestling before good crowds.

Tickets will go on sale Wednesday, from 9 a. m., until 5 p. m., at Wylie's Drug store, with matches starting at 8:30 p. m.

OATES CAPTURES TITLE

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 28. (AP)—In a slam-bang final, Julian Oates of Waco took the junior singles title of the Southwest Texas Tennis tournament here Saturday from Dixon Osburn, Dallas pepper pot. The scores reflects the closeness of the match: 4-6, 7-5, 8-6.

Between The Lines. . .

By Joe Kelly

The Hubbers have made certain that they will finish in the first division this year, which is a notable achievement. When the season opened, only three infielders and a utility pitcher remained from the team, that in 1947, won the West Texas-New Mexico League pennant. Two players were obtained, during the winter, from Lamesa and other replacements, largely rookies, made up the rest of the team. Most of the pitching staff was raw material, sent to Lubbock to prove whether they had enough to make the grade.

The season opened disastrously, with the Hubbers mired in the second division. Then Don Moore was obtained and the spark lit up like a Christmas tree. The Hubbers climbed into the first four and began to threaten. After that they ran into a sickening losing streak that saw the club drop all the way from second to seventh. But again they rallied, winning ten straight games and getting back into the thick of the pennant fight. They lost valuable ground, only to come within inches of making it all up. Now they are in third place and fighting for no worse than second in the final standing.

To do so well this year is a tribute to the leadership of the Hubber nine and this leadership is reflected both on the field and off. To Jackie Sullivan this year the task has been harder than ever and he has filled it even better than the year before. Then he was loaded with talent; this year he started from scratch. We can't think of enough good things to say about his managing the club into the first division. We have disagreed with him on several occasions. We have thought that he didn't handle his club to the best advantage at times. We have been critical of this, that or the other, all of which he has known. But we also think that he has done a terrific job and done it well.

Jackie didn't have to stay and fight for his team. He had more than one chance this year to go directly to a major league club. He could have gone to higher classification teams. He didn't. He stayed in Lubbock and if anyone thinks that his presence isn't one of the prime reasons the Hubbers are in the top four, they're crazy. Any man who hits in the clutch, who drives in needed runs, who fields with the best, who sparks his team upward, is valuable. Jackie has done everything expected of him except win the pennant—and he might do that yet. Even so, we doubt if Joe McCarthy could have taken the Hubbers this year and driven them to first place.

Not all of Jackie's great usefulness to the team is at the plate, however. The pictures on this page show Frank McAlexander, Jackie Wilcox and Jackie Sullivan in typical infield poses taking part in double plays have done so much to boost the Hubbers into the first division as any other factor. Not all a team's strength is at the plate. There must be defensive work as well and this year's Lubbock team rates with the best. For instance, the double play combinations shown above, along with occasional outfield-infield twin killings, has accounted for 142 double deaths through Aug. 26. This is better than the 1947 team's record of 135 in 140 games.

There's no question that Sullivan has the best throwing arm in any WT-NM loop infield. He also is the best pivot man on the double play in the league. He ranks as a peer of second basemen around this Class C circuit and the general concensus is that there isn't a better Class C league in the nation. The Hubber manager has cut off many hits to his left or right this year by moving over and getting to the ball when it appeared as though it were going into the slot. He has completed plays at first that ordinarily would be beaten out merely because he has such a strong arm. But, it still is beautiful to watch that throw to first base.

We sat this summer and talked with Moe Berg, the ex-Boston Red Sox catcher and an astute baseball man who, in his time, saw the best. He admitted it was his first look at Class C ball and what he saw amazed him. He flatly declared that he hadn't seen a better second baseman than Sullivan and that Jackie's throwing was marvelous. He also called the Hubbers a well-trained team that played good, sound baseball. He liked Sullivan's batting, the way he used his strong wrists to snap a screaming drive.

All of which bears out the records. The 1948 Hubbers have made more double plays and less errors than the 1947 champions. They are fielding as well and their club batting is a few points higher than was last years. It would only be natural to single out the manager for these achievements and we take delight in so doing. The Hubbers are in; they deserve praise for the job they have done this year and Sullivan deserves an extra portion of it. For that reason we are glad to be among the first to congratulate him and his team on their achievements, to publicly focus attention on the fine job Jackie has done. It's fitting that Thursday night will be Sullivan night and the local ball fans should jam Rosenthal field to pay him tribute.

South Plains Grid Season To Open

Schoolboy Teams Open On Friday

Opening clashes of the 1948 state schoolboy gridiron slate will be unreeled Friday night, although most of the elevens will not see action until Sept. 10.

Lamesa of District 3-AA fires one of the first shots in the non-conference South Plains warfare by invading Seminole for a tussle with the powerful Indians of District 5-A Friday night. Sundown, hailed as one of the top contenders in District 4-A, is scheduled to journey to Denver City for another non-title encounter.

Most of the area elevens are still hard at work in practice sessions, however, with the lid-blasters of the season still nearly two weeks away. Mentors have found the hot sun and 90-plus temperatures an aid to conditioning drills, but a handicap to the body-contact practice periods. As a result, many of the squads are due to receive a heavy program of rough scrimmage sessions in this next to last week of practice before the openers.

Lubbock High's Westerners are scheduled to arrive home this afternoon, having completed a full week of drills at their Lawton, Okla., grid camp.

The Westerners, who open their season against the potent Odessa Broncos Sept. 10 at the new Jones stadium, are in top physical condition following the two weeks of twice-a-day drills and the lengthy scrimmage sessions at Lawton. Coach C. R. Pattison has announced that the Lubbock schoolboys will return to the Chapman field practice gridiron Monday morning, then will follow the regular schedule for the remainder of the week.

Most of the Westerner drills this week will be closed to the public, Pattison has announced, and fans are urged to comply with the new regulation.

McKnight Appointed Tech's Track Mentor

Appointment of Maxey McKnight, former Texas Tech letterman, as track coach, assistant football coach and trainer for the Red Raiders, has been announced by Morley Jennings, director of Athletics.

McKnight, who served in a similar capacity last season on a part-time basis, while completing his college work, shone as a Tech hurdler in 1939 and 1940 and lettered in football in 1941, 1942 and 1946, the latter year after a stretch in the Marines.

He will take over new quarters in the stadium which have been set up for training and conditioning of athletes. The training room, more commonly referred to as "sick bay" by the players, contains heat lamps, rubbing tables, whirling water sprays, hot water soaking tubs and other equipment.

Billy Brown, who served as trainer and assistant coach last year, is completing minor educational courses and will not return this season. Brown served under Berl Huffman and came to the Raider institution primarily because of Huffman and Coach Dell Morgan. He probably will go into private business.

Jockeys Novello, Wallace Are Jailed For Having Marijuana

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Aug. 28 (INS)—Jockeys Frank Novello, 18, and George Wallace, 26, were jailed today on a charge of possessing marijuana.

They were arrested in their hotel room and were held on $1000 bond.

Both have been riding in the current meeting at Del Mar. The board of stewards suspended them indefinitely.

Deputies quoted Novello as admitting that he brought the narcotic over from Mexico last week.

Bluebonnet-Sunbeamers Capture Texas Softball League Crown

Neel And Warden Pitch Double Win

Jackie Neel and G. W. Warden last night hurled the Bluebonnet-Sunbeamers to the championship of the Texas Softball League, Neel turning back the visiting Ragsdale nine from San Angelo in the first game 1-0 and Warden blanking them in the nightcap 16-0.

Neither game was in doubt after the first inning, with both Neel and Warden in top form. Neel fanned 17, didn't issue a walk and his bid for a perfect game was spoiled only in the second inning. Catcher Sam Smith led off with a triple, but died on third and the Ragsdale nine came no closer.

Home runs featured the home team's slugging in both games. Warden hit for the circuit with two on in the first inning of the first game to give the locals a long lead and Ray Butler, who had two last night hit one in the third to end the scoring.

In the second game, Butler got his second of the night in the fourth inning to drive in Willis James ahead of him. Wally Fowler hit for the circuit in the fifth with two on and he was followed with a homer by James Abbott. Byron Clark followed those two blows with a triple.

The Bluebonnet-Sunbeamers opened the second game with two runs in the first inning. Abbott led off with life on an error by the third baseman, but was forced at second by Clark. Roy Butler promptly singled and James drove in both runners with another sharp bingle.

After that the rout was on and the local nine won its first championship in the league. They had split with Ragsdale Wednesday night and San Angelo had only needed to win both games last night for the title.

Ticket Holders Must Make Reservations

All holders of season tickets to last year's Texas Tech football games must make their reservations for the 1948 season by 6 p. m., Sept. 1, or lose their priority, Athletic Director Morley Jennings emphasized Saturday.

He said all holders of season tickets must make their reservations by that date if they want the same seats, otherwise the seats will go to someone else.

"After Sept. 1, any seat not reserved will be assigned to persons on the waiting list who desire season tickets," Jennings said. He said there were approximately 400 persons on the season ticket waiting list.

Reservations may be made by telephone, Jennings said, or by calling in person at the athletic office, which is now located in the east side of the new stadium.

Pampa Defeats Loboes, 20 To 4

LAMESA, Aug. 28—The Pampa Oilers, sparked by Avon Driggers' 19th victory and Joe Fortin's four home runs which drove in 11 runs, swamped the hapless Lamesa Loboes here tonight, 20 to 4.

Fortin's home runs tied the league record for the number of homers in one game set earlier in the season by Lyn Attyd of Albuquerque also in the Lobo park. His total of 11 runs batted in was just one short of a league record.

Fortin opened up his slugging bee by parking one over the fence in the first inning with the bases loaded. He hit another in the third frame with one man on, one in the fifth with two aboard, and his final four-bagger in the eighth with another man ahead of him.

Jack Riley, Oiler third baseman, had a perfect night at the bat, rapping out five singles and a double in six trips to the plate.

The game was Chet Zara's ninth defeat against two wins.

VANDALIA, Aug. 28. (INS)—Mercer Temple, of Shreveport, La., won the 1948 doubles championship at the Grand American Trapshoot meet today hitting 99 out of 100 of the two-at-a-time targets to tie the worlds record.

Raiders Boosted By New Players

Upwards of 60 candidates for the Texas Tech football team, including 22 lettermen and four graduates of junior colleges, will report to Coach Dell Morgan Wednesday to begin drills for defense of the Border conference title.

Weaknesses appeared in the line in spring training, but Coach Morgan feels he has these plugged, at least partially, by acquisition of junior college tackles, Bob Broyles of San Angelo and Harry Hall of Coffeyville, Kan. Broyles was a member of the San Angelo Bobcat high school team which went to the state finals of Texas high school play, losing to Highland Park, 18-8. He went into service after leaving high school, participating in service football. Last season he lettered at San Angelo Junior college. He is the largest player ever to report to Texas Tech, standing 6 feet, 3 inches tall and weighing 245 pounds.

Cannon Coached Hall

Hall, coached the past two seasons by Dempsey Cannon, Texas Tech letterman of 1933-34-35, also stands almost 6-3 and weighs 225 pounds. Both the new Raider tackles are said to be fast linemen.

A third junior college star of last season reporting to Coach Morgan this week is Herman Bailey, star back for Paris Junior college last season. Bailey spent a week in the Tech spring training camp this year and gave promise of being a potential star. Coaches said he is fast and shifty, and a fine pass receiver.

Also reporting this week at Tech will be Don Krone, 6 foot, 1 inch end for the Kilgore Junior college last season. Krone is a fine defensive player and a good pass receiver, Tech exes, who saw him play, report.

Credits Must be Approved

Coach Morgan said last night other junior college players, eligible to compete in the Border Conference this season, also are expected to come to Tech, but until their transcripts of credit are approved by college officials, he was not at liberty to disclose their identity. Freshmen are ineligible to play on varsity teams in the conference this year and any new men used by conference members must come from junior colleges.

Fans who saw the scrimmage which ended spring training in Jones Stadium expect Tech this fall to have a faster, better running backfield, including Charles Reynolds, Bud Conley, Cal Steveson, Walter Maloney, J. W. Thompson, Glenn Lewis, Bill White and others. Quarterbacking will be handled by Ernest Hawkins, Bill Lyman and Shaff DeGaish.

Veteran Linemen Back

Veteran linemen on hand will include Marshall Gettys, Ted Moss, Bobby Williams, Don Williams, Douglas McSwane, Dan Pursel, Don Orr, Dorrell McCurry, Bill Kelley, Frank Ottmers, J. L. Gulley and Walter Edrington.

Tech will have only a little over two weeks to prepare for its opening game at home against West Texas State Teachers the night of Sept. 18. Later it will take on Rice, Texas Mines, and New Mexico at home and Texas A&M, SMU, Tulsa, Baylor, Arizona and Hardin-Simmons away.

National Amateur Golf Tourney Will Open Monday At Memphis

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 28 (AP)—Strong legs and abundant patience may be the winning combination in the 48th National Amateur golf tournament, opening Monday at the Memphis country club.

As the star-studded field of 210 players assembled today for the six-day match play marathon, the heat was oppressive and tempers edged.

Yanks Nose Out Cleveland, 3-2

NEW YORK, Aug. 28 (AP)—The New York Yankees, aided no little by the intense heat and wildness on the part of a couple of Cleveland hurlers, came up with a couple of "gift" runs in the last of the ninth inning to nip the Indians 3-2.

The victory enabled the Yanks to climb past the Indians into second place in the torrid American League pennant race, a game and a half behind the front-running Boston Red Sox.

The Yankees scored the tying and winning run without the aid of a base hit. The winning "rally" resulted from three walks, a hit batsman, a sacrifice and a fielder's choice.

Country Club Women Open Monday

Hinson Paces First Round Of Club Play

Fred Hinson came up Saturday with a good score of 75 for the 18-hole course at the Meadowbrook Publinx Golf club to pace the initial finishers of qualifying rounds in the annual club championship golf tourney.

Hinson was one of only 10 golfers to complete the initial day's qualifying round, with a large group expected to hit the fairways today. Biggest group of golfers were waiting for Sunday to shoot their qualifying rounds, which must be completed by sundown.

90 May Be Entered

Paul Jones, club professional, said he expected upwards of 80 or 90 golfers, in all, to enter qualifying play. It would be the largest field ever to enter the Meadowbrook Publinx championship.

The golfers who qualify will be bracketed in flight, with 16 golfers in the championship flight. If enough golfers enter the tourney, 16 men to a flight will hold true through the other flights. If less than that enter, lower flights may be pared to only eight golfers in each.

W. G. McMillan, local contractor, has put up a permanent championship trophy for the club champion. The trophy, which stands about three feet high, must be won by one player three times before it goes into permanent possession. A smaller trophy will be given to each year's winner for permanent possession.

Other golfers qualifying yesterday included Dexter Walthal, 76; Truman Hutson, 78; Dick Stalcup, 82; Sam McMillan, 86; Ronald Canaday, 87; G. B. Hutchings, 87; Sled Allen, 88 Sloan Fortenberry, 95 and H. A. Davidson, 105.

Anglers Discuss Kinds Of Bait

Man Uses Cow's Head For Perch

By HART STILWELL
Special Staff Writer

After you've fished for twenty years or more, the way I have, you begin to feel certain nothing you run into in the world of fishing is going to shock you. It's a little like being married—after twenty years with the same wife (an exceptional circumstance, of course) you are quite certain she isn't going to come forth with remarks that will surprise you.

Well, not long ago I was driving back in to Austin from Lake Travis, where I'd been spinning my reel in vain for four or five hours, when I was stopped on the road by a young man whose car had broken down. I picked him up and started on to my destination.

And when we began talking, I told him about watching some anglers baiting the water for white perch—crappie, if you insist on the right word. These anglers put out cottonseed cake, I told the young man. The theory was that the cake gave off something I believe is called plankton, a bit of living fluff upon which all fish, even whales, eventually manage to sustain life, since they eat the fish that eat the fish that eat the plankton, although I may be leaving out a step or two along the line.

Then the young man said rather casually, that cottonseed cake might be all right for people who didn't know much about baiting crappie, but actually the only good bait was a cow's head.

I stopped the car.

When I find I'm in the same automobile with somebody who gives evidence of eccentricity to the point where his future actions are not easily predictable, I stop the car. I could at least get out of it, and perhaps run a short distance, if flight seemed advisable.

"Now what was that again?" I asked my companion.

"A cow's head," he said. "If you want to really catch white perch, you bait with a cow's head."

"You bait with a cow's head," I repeated, for want of better words.

"That's right. The little fish come to gnaw on it, and the bigger fish come to gnaw on the little fish, and so on. You sink a cow's head in some good place, close to an old submerged tree near a steep bank, and you'll load your boat with white perch."

I started the car and we moved on toward town.

"But what's wrong with cottonseed cake?" I asked.

"Oh, you've got to wait for it to sprout or hatch, or whatever it does," my companion said. "And you've got to be there at the right time, or you don't catch fish. If the water's too cold, nothing happens for maybe three weeks. If it's too warm, then you get there too late. Now a cow's head — shucks, that stink brings them for days and days. You ought to smell a cow's head that's been soaking four or five days."

I got to thinking about drinking water from a lake with a few dozen prime cow's heads stinking away in it, and I asked my companion if many people were in the habit of using cow's heads for bait.

"Oh no," he said. "It's against the law now. You know, this country's practically ruined with laws. Imagine a law keeping a man from putting a cow's head in a lake."

"It's tough," I agreed. "It's the penalty of progress."

However, I was a trifle relieved to learn the chances of drinking water flavored with cow's heads was remote.

Unfortunately, I've never tried a cow's head bait.

But I can tell you a little about the results of some baiting with cottonseed cake. I was on hand one day when Raymond Hulwey and Grip Penn of Austin baited a nice little spot in a creek that flows into Lake Travis.

And a couple of weeks later I was back in that section, so I decided to see if I could steal a few of the fish attracted by the bait. I admit it wasn't ethical, since I didn't put the bait there. But I just imagined I didn't know where the bait was as I trolled past the spot.

What my fishing companion and I caught was a fine string of white bass—not white perch.

Whether the white bass were attracted by the little fish that came to feed on the plankton is a question I would not attempt to answer. Furthermore, the place may have been cluttered up with white perch without our knowing it, since we were trolling artificial lures.

But as we hauled in the white bass I wondered just what the fishing would have been like if a cow's head had been planted there. From the way the cow's head enthusiast talked, it's possible we might have caught a few sailfish. Don't ever under estimate a cow's head bait.

HSU Gridders Open Practice

ABILENE, Aug. 28. (Special)—The Hardin-Simmons university Cowboys will begin fall football practice Wednesday, with a group of 39 varsity candidates, 20 of them lettermen from the 1947 season, coach Warren B. Woodson said Saturday.

The Cowboys, members of the Border Conference, will be looking for their fourth circuit crown in their five years with the loop.

Lost Six Starters

"We have lost six starters from the 1947 squad," Woodson said, "and that's a pretty heavy bite." Included in that group are four men who lettered three years each, losing only one conference game during their tenure with the 'Pokes.

Gone will be Center Red Cleveland, Guards Jack Ellison and Joe England, and Backs Al Johnson, Bullet Cook, and Virgil Turner, Woodson pointed out.

However, the Cowboys are expecting to have a rugged squad, bolstered with three all-conference men in the line and one in the backfield. Strawberry Rowan, Breckenridge junior, will be at right tackle with two All-Conference medals to his credit. Bob McChesney, co-captain from Van Nuys, Calif., and an all-conference end will be working on the right side of the line next to Rowan, while Leon Cooper, junior from Reading, Pa., will be at left tackle.

Davis At Half Again

Wilton "Hook" Davis of Austin, the nation's leading ground gainer by rushing in '47, will be operating at left half. Davis, only a sophomore, won All-Conference and honorable mention All-American during his freshman season.

Despite the loss of six starters from last season's second place team, the Cowboys will have lettermen two-deep in all but two positions. Howard MsChesney, Van Neys, is the only letterman after the center post and Hugh Higgins of Cleburne is the only letterman seeking quarterback honors.

Five Transfer Students

The team will be strengthened by the addition of five transfer students, Woodson said. Bob Surratt, a member of the 1947 Cameron (Okla.) junior college eleven that played in the Little Rose Bowl, will be vying with Cooper and Tom Proctor of Abilene for the left tackle positions.

Jon Cowsar, former All-State end at Odessa and an ex-member of teams at Texas U. and Baylor, will be out for left end. Nolan Tilger, another Oklahoman, will be trying for left half. Seeking a right tackle berth will be James Taylor, former San Angelo junior college player, while Coleman Bridges, San Mateo (Calif.) junior college transfer, will be looking for a quarterback position.

Citation Wins Rich Handicap

CHICAGO, Aug. 28 (INS)—Calumet Farm's Citation and Free America slammed home one-two today to a floor-level $2.20 payoff in the glamorous American Derby at Chicago's Washington park.

Citation, hurtling to his 21st victory in 23 starts, had to beat Papa Redbird, surprise conquerer in the Arlington classic, in a harrowing two-horse flight down the backstretch. Free America came from absolutely last in the five-horse field to take second by a head over Walmac Farm's Volcanic.

Papa Redbird got home fourth and D. A. Rosenbaum's Reborn finished last.

Nothing but first meant anything to the bettors at Washington park. The management knocked out place and show betting and paid only what the law demanded—10 cents on the dollar—for the Calumet victory.

By Earl Scudday

Fall football practice for the District 1-AA schoolboys has been in session for two weeks now, and the district race is beginning to take shape. Out of the confusion resulting from the elimination of spring training and the new eight-semester regulation, one thing is clear—Amarillo is still the team to beat for the loop championship.

The Sandies have five lettermen from the 1947 season back, including one regular, Bobby Moore. Other letter-winners are James Garner, the team captain, James LeNevue, Charles Sieber and Bobby Hudgins. But Amarillo's real strength lies in the 14 squadmen who are the backbone of the team.

As Coach Bull Lynch says, "We seem to be about as well off as anybody—I hope a little better. The eight semester rule almost makes it like starting over again. Most of our rivals in this district seem to have a few more experienced players who were regulars on last year's teams, but I think we will have an edge as far as squad experience is concerned."

Lynch is working with a new type of offense this year — the Michigan "T" attack. Under this style of play, the team comes out of the huddle in a "T" formation, but then shifts into a modified single wing. They run from the straight "T" just enough to confuse the defense.

The emphasis is on speed and passing at the Butler field workouts as the Sandies prepare for the title chase.

The Borger Bulldogs apparently have the inside track for the runner-up post in the district. Coach Tricky Ward has 11 lettermen returning, including backs R. C. Dalton, Homer Hampton, Jerry Glass, Jerry Chipwood, Earl Lanningham, and Billy Ed Hoff. Line letter-winners are Charles Chambless, Dutch Grant, Jack Howard, Bill Loveless and Terry McCord.

Pampa's Harvesters loom as the third-ranking team in the district, with seven lettermen — including two regulars of '47—boosting the hopes of Head Mentor Tom Tipps. Derrel Davis, the rangy end from last year's team, is one of the stalwarts of the new Harvester squad, as is Back Jack Williams. Other lettermen include Lamar Lively, Harbord Cox, Wesley Keith, Ralph Hutsell and Bo Jack Phillips. The Harvesters had the second-best eleven in the loop last season and if Tipps can find replacements for ace backs Charley Laffoon and Red Mayes, the Pampans could battle the Sandies down to the final game of the schedule.

Coach Pat Pattison's Westerners can only be ranked in the fourth slot on the basis of experience. Only two regulars from the 1947 team—Back Don Decker and Tackle Jack Bryant—are on the roster this season, with one other letter winner and two reserve lettermen to bolster the Bronc-Busters. Charley Williams, tough little defensive end last year, is slated for a halfback post this season, while reserve lettermen Jim Wilson and Bill Bridge are counted as potential starters. The Westerners have been aided by numerous stalwarts of the '47 Cowhand squad, but the boys are woefully inexperienced.

The only bright spot in the Westerner picture is the spirit shown by the squad members so far this season. The youngsters have amazed even Pattison with their hustle and enthusiasm. And, if we may quote several of the greatest mentors in grid annals, "a team that won't be beat, can't be beat."

Brownfield's scrappy Cubs face another tough grind this fall. The new head coach, Tracy Kellow, has only four lettermen on his squad of 35. Back are Quarterback Bill Tankersley, Guard Jim Billings, and Ends Carroll Johnson and Jim Cypert. The Cubs have always been the toughest district foe for Amarillo, however, and Kellow may be able to pull some rabbits out of the hat against other loop opponents. Kellow and his squad have just returned from a 10-day grid camp at Cache, Okla.

For the first time in several years, Dub Harris' Plainview Bulldogs are ranked as the "low man on the totem pole." And that is certain to tickle Dub to death, for no other mentor in the state so thoroughly enjoys upsetting fa-

Reserve Shortages May Hurt Golden Tornadoes

Gridders Workout Under New Mentor

LAMESA, Aug. 28 (Special)—The 1948 edition of the Lamesa high school Golden Tornadoes has a new but highly uncertain look after the first week's work-outs under new head mentor Bob Harrell, former grid and track star at TCU.

A squad of about 50 hopefuls has been reporting to Harrell and his assistants, O. W. Follis and Joe Allbright, but only 5 lettermen are back from last year's outfit which won one, tied one and lost eight as an also-ran in the rugged District 3-AA race.

Heavy Line Seen

This year the Tornadoes will field a fairly hefty line, a secondary on the lighter side and will probably rely on passing and power to generate an attack. A severe shortage of capable reserves and a squad that is generally inexperienced are big problems.

A strictly tentative starting line-up for the season opener with the Class A Indians at Seminole on September 3, a date which Harrell laments coming far too early for his green eleven, shapes up in this fashion:

Ends— Jerry Phillips, 165-pound junior, one letter, and T. J. Womack, 157-pound junior with B squad experience, both rangy lads.

Tackles— Jimmy Hughes, 185-pound senior, and Benny Eggleston, 170-pound junior, both with B squad experience.

Guards— Frank "Sonny" Rose, 170-pound senior who has earned 2 letters as a back, and Ray Maddox, 150-pound junior with little experience.

Center— Bill Hart, 165-pound junior with B squad experience last season.

Three-Letterman Back

Quarterback— Arthur Bizzell, 160-pound senior, a 3-letter man whose passing ability has improved in early work-outs.

Half-backs— Larry Lattimore, 145-pound junior and a shifty one-letter man, and Dick Echols, 145-pound junior with speed and B squad experience.

Fullback— Johnny Tankersley, 185-pound senior and a 3-letterman at guard. An outstanding lineman, he is expected to add speed and power to the Tornado offensive.

Promising reserves, some of whom may earn starting berths, include ends Bobby Hawkins and Bill Scott; Bill Cox, center and end; Donald Conner and Jim Bob Boothe, guards; Ronald Chapman and Don Finnell, halfbacks.

Harrell, who is back in the coaching ranks after a year in private business at Houston, isn't reaching for the proverbial crying towel but neither is he overly optimistic.

Forecasts Improvement

"We'll win a few ball games if the boys continue to improve as they have thus far and if injuries don't force us to dip into our weak reserve strength," Harrell forecasts.

The Tornadoes, who were unaffected by the 8-semester rule but lost a host of regulars through graduation, will run from several different formations this season as Harrell attempts to fit his offensive pattern to the material at hand.

Harrell's coaching career has been closely entwined with that of Odessa's famed Joe Coleman, a fact that has Tornado followers hopeful for the future after many a dismal season for the Lamesa eleven.

The new Tornado mentor was, as he puts it, "Joe's freshman" at TCU when Coleman was a star senior back for the Horned Frogs. Harrell later earned three letters

Repairs Completed On Texas Tech Gym

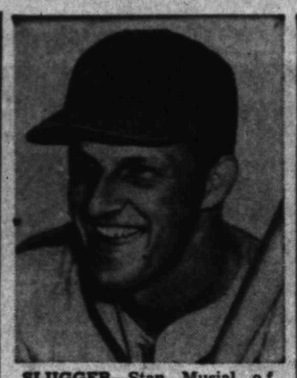

Work of renovating Texas Tech's gymnasium has been completed and Basketball Coach Polk Robison is laying plans to start practice as soon as school opens on Sept. 16.

The playing floor has been sanded, re-lined and recoated. All seats in the building have been recovered to eliminate splinters which plagued fans the past few seasons, and the entire building has been painted, inside and out.

Renovation also included construction of a dressing room for visitors, enlargement of quarters for the Tech players and installation of more lockers for physical education students. Offices of coaches were moved to the new stadium during the summer, although Coach Robison retained space in the gym for use during the basketball season.

Huffman Picks Texas Tech For Fourth Spot This Year

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Aug. 28. (Special) — With the start of football practice only a week away for his New Mexico Lobos, coach Berl Huffman recently gazed into his crystal ball and came up with some unexpected predictions. According to Huffman, the Lobos figure to place sixth in the Border Conference, with West Texas on top and Texas Mines second.

Hardin-Simmons, Texas Tech and the University of Arizona will place in front of New Mexico, in that order, says Huffman. Tempe, New Mexico A & M and Flagstaff will finish behind his charges. This is two notches above an earlier prediction by Huffman however, and may indicate a note of optimism on his part.

23 Lettermen Return

Huffman, who has 23 lettermen returning for the 1948 season, rates the Lobo's Rudy Krall as the best line plunger in the conference, and indicated that he believes his tough little guard, Remo Moffa, will be top man in that position.

He expects the University of Arizona to come up with the best passing attack, led by their great returning passer, Bill Penn. He calls the Lobo ground attack, the best that will be exhibited in the Border Conference, but says Texas Tech will have the best defensive team, although Hardin-Simmons will have the best defensive ends.

Roache Best Runner

Speaking of his own team, Huffman said he thought that guard Joe Lynden would be his best defensive lineman and Carlsbad's Joe Stell, the best linebacker. He called Bill Roache his fastest and best broken field runner. Jerry McKown will be his best punter and passer, he believes.

The Lobo squad will include 20 juniors, 15 sophomores, and only eight seniors. This will mean that coach Huffman will have a well seasoned squad for a least the next two seasons.

HOPEFUL STAKES WINNER

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 28 (AP)—Blue Peter, the favored J. M. Roebling colt from New Jersey, captured the 44th running of the rich Hopeful Stakes today at Saratoga to establish himself as one of the best two-year-olds of the season. Woodvale farm's Sport Page was second, three lengths back, with King Ranch's Curandero third in the field of seven juveniles for the six and one half furlong classic.

Luckman Passes Bears To 24-23 Win Over Eagles

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 28 (INS)—The Chicago Bears, paced by the passing of veteran quarterback Sid Luckman, squeezed out a 24 to 23 victory today over the Philadelphia Eagles in a National Football league exhibition game in Indianapolis' Butler Bowl.

The temperature soared to around 95 degrees as the two teams battled before some 15,000 fans.

Osmanski Grabs Pass

Joe Osmanski grabbed a Luckman pass for a touchdown in the first quarter. Fred Venturelli added the extra point. Walt Barnes smeared Luckman behind the goal line for a touchback in the second quarter to make the score 7 to 2.

Tommy Thompson put the Eagles in front 9 to 7 when he passed for a six-pointer to end Dick Humbert. Ken Keuffel converted. Venturelli restored the Chicago eleven to the lead soon after the second half opened when he kicked a field goal from the Eagles' 20-yard line. That made the score 10 to 9.

Minini Goes Over

The Bears got their next touchdown when Frank Minini went over right guard from the three. Venturelli again made the conversion.

The Eagles brought the score up to 17-16 when Russ Craft bucked over. The Eagles scored again a few minutes later on a blocked kick and Steve Van Buren's line plunging.

George McAfee gave the Bears the win by going over right guard from the three with less than five minutes to play.

Started at DeLeon

He started coaching at De Leon in 1938, and joined Coleman as an assistant at Odessa the following year. In 1942 Harrell took over the head coaching job at Odessa when Coleman entered the Navy. His team was unbeaten that season and was favored to capture the state title, but an ineligibility ruling cost the Bronchos the district crown.

Harrell coached Greenville in District 5-AA for four seasons after that, winning 26 games and one district title while losing 15 games in that period.

His coaching methods are very similar to those of the highly successful Coleman. Both mentors stress top physical condition with strenuous work-outs in which the various phases are precisely timed. Both are building for the future and giving untried youngsters game competition whenever possible. Harrell has kept copious notes throughout his coaching career, and assumes the responsibility for placing a player in the spot he thinks he will fit best.

Follis will continue to serve as line coach with Harrell. Allbright will head the B squad and scout opponents. Also serving as a scout will be veteran mentor Jack Wetzel, new coach of the junior high team who was with Harrell at Greenville and came here from Beaumont.

Texas University Longhorns To Open Practice Sept. 1

AUSTIN, Aug. 28. (AP)—Coach Blair Cherry's University of Texas Longhorns converged on Austin today for preliminaries to opening of practice sessions Sept. 1.

Diving competition for 16 years and younger, boys and girls, will consist of front dive, back dive and three optionals. Similar events will be conducted for boys and girls 17 and older. Clown or comical diving for boys, no age limit, also will be held.

Penny Scramble Event

The final event will be a penny scramble in which everyone may participate. Two hundred pennies will be put in the pool with 50 pennies marked as prizes. Twenty of those pennies will entitle the holder to season passes for the coming year and 30 are marked to entitle the winners to one pass each.

Tropies and medals for the swimming and diving events are on display at the swimming pool. First and second place winners will receive medals.

Further information may be obtained from the cashier at the pool, the recreation department announced.

Mulloy And Talbert Win Fourth National Doubles Championship

BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 28 (INS)—Gardnar Mulloy, Miami, Fla., and Billy Talbert, Wilmington, Del., won their fourth National Doubles tennis championship today.

Their counter-parts in the women's division Louise Brough, Beverly Hills, Calif., and Mrs. Margaret Osborne Du Pont, Wilmington, Del., swept to their seventh national crown in this 67th National Doubles tournament.

Mulloy and Talbert were extended to the limit to defeat the new and brilliant combination of Frank Parker, Hollywood, and Ted Schroeder, Glendale, Calif., 1-6, 9-7, 6-3, 3-6, 9-7.

Miss Brough and Mrs. Du Pont defeated Miss Doris Hart, Miami, Fla., and Mrs. Patricia Canning Todd, La Jolla, Calif., 6-4, 8-10, 6-1.

The Brough-Du Pont team by winning its seventh consecutive doubles title gained the first leg in its quest for a third straight retirement of the challenge trophy.

The victory was also the fourth this season in major tournaments for the champions over Miss Hart and Mrs. Todd.

Richards Thinks Adrian Quist Is Cup Challenger

NEW YORK, Aug. 29 (INS)—Others can assume that the Davis Cup finale with Australia is going to be a swift kick in the freshly laundered pantaloons for the defending Americans next week end.

A gent named Vincent Richards thinks the kick has an excellent chance of being on the other foot and said as much today.

The slightly spavined ex-internationalist and boy wonder of the 20's not only gives the Aussies a great chance for the Cup—he believes everybody's making a big mistake in taking Adrian Quist for granted. They think he's too old.

Richards thinks Quist can wind up being the individual wow of the challenge round, saying:

"That wasn't the real Quist they saw in the inter-zone finals against the Czechs. He was suffering from severe indigestion, had eaten some highly-seasoned food which left him subject to stomach cramps and drained his vitality.

"He'll be right for the challenge round and even at 35, Quist—when right—is still one of the great singles specialists of our times.

"Another thing—the strain of two matches in three days will be comparatively light."

Not mentioned was the fact that Quist hasn't burned up excess stamina with an overdose of tournament tennis during the last five years. Nor that his Davis Cup dossier is suggestive.

In the 1938 challenge round, he had Bobby Riggs one set down and seemed about to finish the job when a captious party officiating on the service line began to harass him by calling practically every Quist serve a foot-fault.

Standing up in a manner most overt and "centering" his vision on the base line with the aid of what looked like a calling card, the official even pantomined an experimental dance step by way of showing where Quist was at fault.

Wolverines Oppose Sudan Hornets

Springlake To Open Grid Season Friday

EARTH, Aug. 28 (Special)—The Springlake High School football team will open the 1948 grid season on Friday afternoon at Sudan, opposing the strong Sudan High school Hornets in the season's opener for both elevens.

The record of the two schools last year favors the Hornets with little trouble, but Coach Grady Baker has been working his charges hard the past few days in preparation for the game.

The Wolverines definitely will be underdogs in the betting fraternity, but are counting on their aggressive spirit to hold down the score. Coach Baker has only two lettermen in his lineup, a factor that will hurt his team's chances.

Meanwhile, Coach Francis Smith at Sudan has 20 returning experienced men to throw at the Wolverines and the Hornets should open the season with an impressive victory. Sudan was the terror of its conference last year and rolled over virtually all opposition.

Coach Baker has lost heavily this summer and this past spring, with eight players, counted for the 1948 season, falling by the wayside this month. Accidents and scholastic difficulties has cut into the expected strength and new recruits will bear the majority of the load.

The game originally was scheduled for the Springlake gridiron, but Sudan is having a fiesta over the coming weekend and wanted the game. So the two elevens will perform before what is expected to be a capacity crowd.

The Springlake schedule this fall will include a full slate of ten games, all against rugged opposition. The complete schedule follows:

Sept. 3—Sudan at Sudan.
Sept. 10—Muleshoe at Muleshoe.
Sept. 17—Open.
Sept. 24—Whitharral at Springlake.
Oct. 1—Dimmitt at Dimmitt.
Oct. 8—Olton at Springlake.
Oct. 15—Anton at Anton.
Oct. 22—Friona at Friona.
Oct. 29—Hale Center at Springlake.
Nov. 5—Petersburg at Springlake.
Nov. 12—Amherst at Amherst.

vored opponents. Dub, with what he always calls "my little old boys," has beaten Lubbock more years than Hub fans care to think about and turned in his share of surprises against Pampa and other circuit schools. But Dub has some basis for his "crying towel" this year. Graduations and the eight-semester rule have left him with no regulars and few squadmen. But Plainview fans know that Dub will win at least several games this year against "stronger" foes and continue his rebuilding program for brighter days in the seasons to come.

Carbon Dioxide Concentration Found In Cockpit Of Airliner

NEW YORK, Aug. 28 (AP)—Tests made on the DC-6 airplane before it was returned to service after modification last spring showed concentrations of carbon dioxide gas in the cockpit after release of fire extinguisher bottles as high as 19 percent within one minute, according to testimony before a Civil Aeronautics board hearing today.

The board of inquiry into the crash of a United Airlines DC-6 which killed 43 persons near Mount Carmel, Pa., last June 17, was advised of the tests in testimony of Robert L. Hoskinson, of the Douglas Aircraft corporation test division.

A concentration of three per cent carbon dioxide is considered dangerous.

U. S. Proposes Antarctic Be Placed Under International Control To Avoid Disputes

By GEORGE DURNO
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28—The United States proposed today that the Antarctic be placed under international control to settle war-threatening claims of many nations.

The State department, reviving memories of valiant expeditions into the frozen wastes of the south polar regions, revealed it has approached seven other governments informally on solution of the centuries-old territorial claims.

It was further suggested to the United Kingdom, Norway, France, Australia, Argentina, Chile and New Zealand that "the solution should be such as to promote scientific investigation and research in the area."

Claims To Area Clash

The department said much groundwork must be done before a formal international conference could be held profitably.

The dormant Antarctic issue began smoldering anew in the past year for two reasons:

1. Argentina and Chile are claiming everything in the south polar area on the ground it is an extension of their Andes mountains and therefore subject to the Monroe Doctrine which forbids foreign intervention.

Last spring, these two countries sent warships to the Falkland islands—long populated by Scotchmen—to enforce their claim.

The British countered with two cruisers. Argentina and Chile sought to bring the issue up at both the Rio and Bogota conferences.

2. As troubled world conditions led thinking into military channels again, it was recognized that some of this far southern land may be useful for military bases—particularly if the Panama canal were to be knocked out.

The United States has never made any formal claims to Antarctic territory, but has reserved the right if the issue arose. Today, the State department said:

"The question is one which will require an extended exchange of views, consideration of suggestions and probably reconciliation of varying viewpoints."

Antarctic explorations began in 1731 and have continued to the present. British, American, Norwegian and French sailors have accounted for all the major expeditions, although Russia sent out one productive party in 1819-21 under Admiral Fabian Von Bellingshausen.

Radio Operators Are Given Wage Increase

NEW YORK, Aug. 28. (AP)—Some 2000 ship radio operators who threatened to strike Sept. 2 have been granted a six per cent increase in their basic wages.

The agreement was reached yesterday by officials of the CIO American Radio association and east and gulf coast shipping companies.

Meanwhile the CIO National Maritime union said returns from most ports assured ratification of a recent agreement giving most of the 60,000 NMU members a $12.50 monthly increase.

The radio operators' wage increase is effective as of July 16. The agreement provides for a review of wages on Dec. 15 at the request of either party.

The agreement retains present employment practices, provides an overtime rate of $1.70 per hour and overtime on Mondays after holidays that fall on Sunday.

Greeks Push Offensive To Mop Up Communist Rebels

ATHENS, Aug. 28 (AP)—Greeks, pushing to mop up rebel remnants, advanced in three sectors today and engaged in scattered fighting.

A communique said nationals captured important heights northeast of Kastoria on the fringe of the Vitsi pocket where 3,000 guerrillas are operating. Fourteen rebels surrendered.

The communique said that in the Mount Kaimaktchalan area, athwart the Greek-Yugoslav border, national units took important heights and killed six guerrillas. The rebels raided several villages and carried off 54 persons.

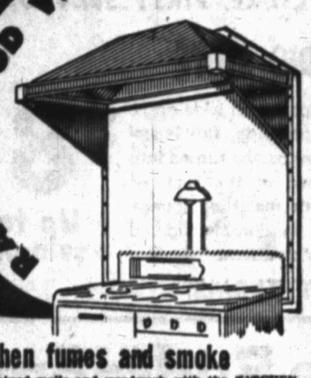

No rule of thumb methods here — no guessing! We correct "shimmy" with the latest BEAR scientific equipment which we know how to use. The work is done right the first time.

No more smoke, odors or grease-stained walls and woodwork with the KITCHEN BREEZE Range Hood Ventilator at work in your kitchen. Grease rises with the fumes — smoke and undesirable odors — and settles into an easily accessible and easily cleaned grease pan. The booster blower, which is operated by a conveniently placed toggle switch, keeps your kitchen cooler in summer. During the winter months, the venturi in the KITCHEN BREEZE by its flue-like effect allows the fumes, odors and smoke to escape from the kitchen without the use of the blower, thus keeping kitchen warmth inside.

Revised Schedules On Two City Bus Routes Will Start Monday

Officials of the Lubbock Bus Co., announced Saturday that two city bus routes will go on revised schedule Monday morning, that five new buses will go into operation here "probably in mid-September," and that the new cream-colored 31-passenger bus in use here the past two days is just a demonstrator, and will be on schedule only until Monday morning.

According to Crayton Campbell, business managed of the bus company, drivers will leave here Sept. 8 by station wagon for Richmond, Ind., to pick up five new 27-passenger Ford buses.

To Make No Changes

Arrival of the new buses, Campbell said, will not precipitate a change in local schedules, but will allow the company to supplement regularly scheduled runs during peak traffic loads.

A sixth new bus ordered by the company will not be available for approximately a month, according to Campbell.

Altered schedules on Ave. V, Thirty-first and Ave. T route and on Nineteenth and Green Acres go into effect Monday morning. On both runs, Campbell explained, a peak load schedule will be in effect from 6:30 a. m. to 9 a. m. and from 11 a. m. to 7 p. m.

Avenue V Schedule

On the Ave. V, Thirty-first and Ave. T route peak schedule, there will be 15 minute service every hour south to Thirty-first, where the line will split, one bus running south on Ave. X to Thirty-fourth every 30 minutes, east on Thirty-fourth to Ave. T, and north on Ave. T to Nineteenth. The other leg of the split will turn east from Ave. X on Thirty-first, run east to Ave. T every 30 minutes, and north on Ave. T to Nineteenth.

"Tax Collectors" In Mexico Are Arrested

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 28. (U.P.)—Federal highway police arrested a band of seven men, including the chief of police of Otumba, a small town north of here in Mexico state, who had been stopping vegetable trucks on the Pan American highway to collect "taxes," it was learned here today.

Authorities said that each of the men had police credentials issued by the Otumba or Mexican state governments and were heavily armed during their operations.

The highway police said the men used a sub-machine gun, two rifles, two shotguns and a number of pistols to force truck drivers to pay their charges of up to fifteen cents (U. S.) for each crate of fruit or vegetables on a truck.

Police said the band was accustomed to commandeer cargo of those drivers who refused to pay the "taxes."

The band included Armando Vazquez, who carried a Mexico state secret service credential; Otumba police chief Sabias Ubaldo, Antonio Cortes, Constancio Romano and Isidoro Franco, as well as Isias Moreno, a taxi driver who drove the "patrol car," and Andres Garcia, Otumba city tax collector.

The Woman's Angle

By Margaret Turner

THE Amarillo Federation of Women's clubs is staging an active campaign to raise money for financing and improving the recently purchased $12,000 lot on Travis and Bowie, between Twentieth and Wolfin. The clubhouse, a 100-by-100 foot building purchased from Amarillo Army Airfield, will be moved to town as soon as possible. Plans call for an entire block of landscaping for the club house.

Most of the financing is to be done through the sale of life memberships. Amarillo Sub-Debs sponsored a tag day sale Saturday and financial aid is being sought from business and professional men.

An Amarillo interior decorator and home designer will redesign without compensation the inside and outside of the building and paint is to be furnished at cost by an Amarillo store.

IT'S disconcerting to the Woman's Angle to think of how much closer to the realization of a club home Amarillo women are than Lubbock women. It's not that they are going to have one and ours is still in a nebulous state. It's because although several women, including the president of the Amarillo federation, went on record as opposing the lot purchase, enough women voted to go ahead with the project to make it possible. You'll rarely find a group of women who are one hundred per cent for anything.

We thought the president's explanation was justified; that she feared the debt might hang over the heads of future club women and she didn't want that to happen. But at the rate they are going after their finances up there, it won't be long before their debt will be cleared.

DURING the time we served on the board of the Lubbock Women's club, we came very close to seeing a clubhouse established here. The lot had been bought at Thirty-fourth and Ave. S and a representative of the building committee went to Abilene to look over surplus barrack buildings that were being sold at Camp Barkley. She found a likely building, checked on the cost and returned here to make her report; her enthusiasm over the possibility of the project being contagious. A Lubbock architect drew up plans, showing how the building could be redone to make it attractive; there was almost enough money in the treasury to swing the deal and then an open meeting was held and the possibility of such a step was discussed.

Enough opposition stemmed from the discussions to cause the committee to be instructed to reconsider plans and at present we have a drawing for a handsome building of stone and/or brick, to be built when 75 per cent of the building funds have been collected. With costs of labor and building continuing to advance no one has the faintest idea when the building will become a reality.

In the meantime, one of the greatest needs here continues to be a building where club women may meet for programs, for luncheons, dinners and other entertainments. If we had gone ahead with plans a year ago, we would have such a place, although it might be considered only temporary. Just how attractive Army barracks may be made is illustrated by the recreation hall on Tech campus. It's not bad looking outside and attractive draperies and furniture and well kept floors make its interiors most attractive.

FROM MEXICO CITY

LAST notes from Ernestine Wheelock, who has spent the last six weeks as a member of an advanced Tech Spanish class, are printed today. The group was to return to Lubbock this week end.

Scatterings — Diego Rivera must be the most prolific painter in the world. His frescoes are all over Mexico City and in other Mexican towns we have visited. Some of his best work is in the patio at the National palace which houses the Mexican government, but scaffolds still deface two walls which bear only skeletons of frescoes, unfinished because of a wage dispute between the artist and the government . . . The short subjects at movies last longer than the feature; some places advertise as many as seven cartoons in addition to other attractions . . . The American embassy here is in three buildings and when a taxi driver is asked to drive to the embassy, he automatically takes the person to the immigration division as though it were a foregone conclusion that information is desired on entrance to the states.

The furniture in the lobby of the ultra modern Del Prado hotel is in yellow, red, green and white leather . . . Most Mexicans seem to spend at least six hours a day eating their three meals . . . Many Mexican women dye their black locks very blonde or red . . . Policemen whose duty it is to aid English speaking tourists wear miniature flags of the United States . . . Car fare has advanced 50 per cent and it now costs two and one-half cents in American money to ride seven miles in the city . . . The downtown parking meters require less than one and one-half cents per hour.

OUR FINAL out-of-town trip was to the volcano Popocatepetl, which is 38 miles from Mexico City. A mountain road leads to the base of the volcano and from that point, 13,000 feet, we spent several hours in climbing to Popo's snow line. When Cortez and his men discovered the volcano in 1519, they climbed to its crater at an altitude of 17,794 feet to secure sulphur to be used in manufacture of gunpowder. It's

MISS VIRGINIA RUTH SOMERS

Howdy folks,

Your old Grandpa is really burning the midnight oil to write you a line this week. My favorite hang-out has certainly been working me overtime. I just stuck my "nosey" in there and before I could say "Chippendale," I was helping with the packing of several boxes of china to be sent out. Really, the place resembles a chartreuse beehive. I found Josie planning some breath taking table appointments with another new bride and her fiance, who was quite struck with that golden alloy, Dirilyte flatware. Speaking of brides, as we so often do, the place is overflowing with them, but each wedding is handled with the same care it would receive if there were only one. However, you're sure to hear the staff answering each other with "Miss So and So?" Her china is in the Dunbar console.' Or "We keep her in that Sherton chest." They really don't have the bride in all these funny places—just her selections.

In between the phone calls for wedding presents, the out-of-town visitors, and the new brides-to-be, the staff at the Decorators Studio were busy with many other activities. Bee was making the good looking layouts you'll find in today's Studio ad. James was mumbling to himself as he hid some set-ups he had prepared to show an out-of-town customer on Saturday. He's so afraid one of the girls will misplace some of his plans, I fear even he will never be able to remember where he put them. Anne and a client were in a huddle among blueprints, fabrics, and wallpapers, most of the afternoon and seem to be coming up with another of those distinctive and beautifully decorated homes for which the Decorators Studio is noted.

Fredda has flown off again for appointments with several out-of-town clients. I know her first stop was to be at El Paso followed by Wichita Falls and a couple of other stops I don't know the details on. Anyhow, the girls are trying to have some new table set-ups fixed for Fredda's return. Josie has made a smart luncheon set-up on the porch. You'll find the Swedish modern design of Shast china set on those Anna Meyer raw linens. The centerpiece is a unique arrangement of fruit in a mammoth ceramic shell.

Well, I must get some shut-eye. Visiting behind those Coral Doors really cost me this week. However, all the packing of those Coronado pottery sets was worth it when I see how happy the ladies are over that bargain they are getting. Remember this popular Franciscian pottery in aqua, coral, yellow, and dubonnet is only $27.50 for 53 pieces and the sale will have to end when the few remaining sets are sold.

See you at 1202 Ave. N.

Your soon-to-be-snoring Grandpa Nosey. Adv.

Carter-Parnell, Ballard-Allen Weddings Are Read Friday

Formal Ceremonies Feature Society

St. John's Methodist church was scene of the marriage of Miss Martha Marie Parnell and Ray Boyce Carter, which was solemnized at 8 o'clock Friday night with Dr. M. Norvel Young of the Broadway Church of Christ reading a double ring ceremony. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Parnell of 2568 Twentieth, and the bridegroom is son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Carter of Rising Star.

Candelabra and white gladioli decorated the bridal aisle and white gladioli on the candle sticks formed the base for white tapers for the candle-lighted church, with ferns placed at intervals.

Bob Scoggin, organist, played a prelude of wedding music which included "Indian Love Call" and accompanied Horace Coffman who sang "Because," "Always" and "I Love You Truly." Traditional marches were offered.

Wears Traditional Satin

Mr. Parnell gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a gown of white slipper satin fashioned with a long fitted bodice and illusion net yoke, accented with a deep flange outlined with seed pearls and long fitted sleeves tapering to points at the wrists. The flared skirt ended in a chapel length train and the fingertip veil of bridal illusion was attached to a tiara of seed pearls. The bride wore a single strand of pearls and carried a white maline heart, the base of which was caught with white orchids and stephanotis.

Miss Gladys Ruth Parnell, sister of the bride and maid of honor, wore an aqua taffeta gown designed on lines similar to that of the bride's and a crownless picture hat of aqua net with yellow accent. She carried a yellow maline heart caught at the base with yellow roses.

Mrs. T. W. Gibbard of Fort Worth, sister of the bridegroom and Mrs. S. C. Lindell of Corvallis, Ore., bridesmatrons, wore dresses identical to the maid and carried identical bouquets.

Jo Jean McCook, cousin of the bride, who was flower girl, wore aqua taffeta and carried an aqua and yellow net trimmed basket of rose petals.

Assist At Reception

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents after the ceremony and assisting the bridal party in hospitalities were Mesdames A. O. Curry, Fort Worth; Amos Harper, Seminole; Alex McDonald, Clyde Tatum, A. R. Ellis, W. S. Cathey, Carl Jones, Jarvis Wright, E. L. Banks, J. R. McCook, R. H. Garner and Miss Dortha Hollingsworth of Seminole.

The reception was held in a garden setting with baskets of summer flowers forming the background for the bride's table which was laid with a lace cloth and centered with pastel flowers and crystal candelabra. At one end of the table was placed the three-tiered cake, topped with a wedding bell, and the punch bowl was at the other end.

When the couple left for a trip to Monterrey, Mexico, the bride wore a skipper blue gabardine suit with gray accessories and an orchid corsage. They will be at home in Seminole after Sept. 4.

The bride, who is a graduate of Lubbock High school and Texas Tech college and did graduate work at the University of Texas, is a speech teacher in Seminole High school. Mr. Carter is a graduate of Rising Star High school and former Tech student and is a veteran of World War II. He works for George P. Livermore, Inc.

Methodist Church Is Scene Of Ceremony

The marriage of Miss Athalene Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey C. Allen of 2102 Sixth, and L. D. Ballard, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Ballard of Plainview, was solemnized at 8 o'clock Friday night at First Methodist church with Dr. H. I. Robinson reading a double ring ceremony.

A myriad of white tapers in candelabra burned on the altar which had woodwardia fern as a background and was decorated with five large baskets of pink and white gladioli. Candles were placed at the ends of alternating pews, marked with satin streamers.

Mrs. Mamie I. Neal, organist, played a medley before the ceremony and accompanied Miss Eugenia Luker who sang "Wonderful One" and The Lord's Prayer as a benediction. The traditional wedding marches were rendered and during the vows Mrs. Neal played the couple's club songs.

Brother Is Escort

The bride entered with her brother, Howard Allen. She wore a gown of ivory bridal satin, styled with high neck yoke of imported lace and long lace sleeves that ended in points over the hands. A peplum topped the circular skirt which extended into a short train and her fingertip double tiered veil of imported bridal illusion was fitted to a tiara of pearls and sequins. She carried a white Bible topped with a bouquet of gardenias and stephanotis showered with streamers. It was trimmed in lace which was used in her grandmother's dress when she served as worthy matron of the O. E. S. The gown was designed with drop shoulder neckline, fitted bodice pointed in the back and long fitted sleeves ending in points over the hands. The full back skirt gave the effect of a bustle. Her fingertip veil of illusion was caught in a tiara of pearls from her baby necklace, outlined in white beads. She carried a white Bible topped with an orchid.

B. N. Shepard of Plainview.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Light of 2413 Third and the bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Pickens of O'Donnell.

A reception followed at the home of the bride and a double ring cake, linked by a miniature bridal couple holding wedding bands, was served from a white linen laid table centered with a basket of garden flowers. Alma Anderson and LaJuana Dean served.

Dorothy Paul played a prelude of love songs and accompanied Mrs. Lero Waggoner who sang "Because" and "Always" and sang The Lord's Prayer as benediction.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a white satin gown fashioned with fitted bodice, lace yoke, long sleeves ending in points over the hands and fastened with tiny buttons which also were down the back. Her long veil of imported illusion was attached to a crown of crystal beads and for something old she wore a string of crystal beads belonging to her great-grandmother.

Miss Lucille Lawson was maid of honor. She wore ice blue taffeta made with full length circular skirt, wide ruffles trimming the neckline and fitted bodice. She wore a string of pearls and carried an arm basket of sweetpeas.

The bridesmaids wore identical dresses with Miss Evelyn McLaughlin in rose taffeta, Miss Billie Foster in aqua and Miss Betty Jo Jackson in yellow. They also carried baskets of sweetpeas.

Sue Ann Montgomery of Andrews was flower girl and the candles were lighted by Geanne Montgomery of Andrews and Carolyn Pope.

Stiles, 3002 Twenty-second, became the bride of Cecil Herbert Lang, jr., of Sherman, son of Rev. and Mrs. C. H. Lang of Dallas, in a high noon service read Friday in the First Presbyterian church by the bridegroom's father with Rev. J. M. Lewis assisting in the double ring ceremony.

Floral markers designated the pews for the families of the bridal couple.

Traditional wedding marches were used, and "Largo" was played during the ceremony. The Lord's Prayer was sung as a vocal benediction.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in ivory bridal satin designed with a fitted bodice, a full flowing skirt falling into a short train, and a boat neckline with shirring of self material extending in a band down the entire length of the tightly fitted sleeves which terminated in points at the hands. Something borrowed was a blue garter belonging to Mrs. Robert J. Allen, and something old was a ring belonging to the bride's grandfather.

The bride's attendants wore identical gowns of helitrope satin and marquisette fashioned with tightly fitted bodices and full marquisette skirts over satin underskirts of the same shade. Wide marquisette ruffles extending up the back of the skirt ended in a bustle effect of satin, and wide marquisette ruffles at the shoulders gave a drop-shoulder effect. Their halo hats and mitts were of a matching color. They carried nosegays of rose and blue asters.

William B. Krieg of Shreveport, La., served the bridegroom as best man, and Ronald Dell Mitchell of Odessa was ring bearer. Ushers were Ralph Bucy and H. D. Woods, jr., both of Lubbock.

Nu Phi Mu garters were something blue.

Lubbock School Improvements Rushed As Opening Day Nears

With the "good old summertime" seemingly having flown past, Lubbock youngsters will return to the public schools on Sept. 7 to find them in a lot better shape than they left them in the spring. And some will undergo this year's textbook toils in new buildings.

Of the new constructions, only the O. L. Slaton Junior High school building, Thirty-second and Ave. Q, will be ready for opening of classes a week from Tuesday. The new Hutchinson Junior High school building, on Thirty-second between Monroe and Jefferson, which will be identical to the O. L. Slaton structure, is expected to be completed within 45 days, according to A. C. Jackson, business manager of Lubbock Independent School district.

Other Projects Underway

Regarding the new elementary school in the Woodlawn addition and the new Thirty-sixth street school, Jackson said that while the contracts call for completion of both structures in October, it now appears that it will be December before either is finished. Both will have 12 classrooms and a cafeteria. The new Thirty-sixth street school will replace the temporary building now in use there.

The new addition to the Dunbar school will be completed about Nov. 1, according to Jackson, and will include a combination auditorium and gymnasium, shop, and five additional classrooms. The old building has been completely renovated and repainted and a new steam heating plant for the entire building has been installed.

Other Dunbar school improvements include sodding of the athletic field, with 1,000 seats now available for spectators. There have also been improvements made in the laboratories, and typewriters added for a typing section.

New Gym Being Built

All stage scenery and drapes at Senior High school have been completely renovated, cleaned, and flame-proofed. The new gymnasium under construction at Chapman field, when fully equipped, will seat 2,200, according to Jackson.

A barracks from Amarillo Army Air field has been moved to the East Broadway school and has been partitioned into three classrooms. Two of the old classrooms in the regular building have been remodeled into a school cafteria. Cafeteria equipment is now being installed, and school officials hope to have it ready for operation by the opening of school or soon thereafter.

New equipment at Senior High school includes a Hammond electric organ, mainly a gift of Lubbock High school students.

George M. Hunt school has new ceilings and a new lighting system, and has been completely repainted and renovated throughout. Dupre school has new window shades, has been relighted, and completely renovated and repainted inside. The entire playground at George R. Bean school has been sodded with grass. Various other schools have been renovated and repainted in whole or in parts, and many repairs have been made to the grounds.

Jackson announced that bus routes will run approximately the same as last year, with the exception that all bus students in the Junior High school level will go to the J. T. Hutchinson school in the O. L. Slaton building on a full day schedule.

Housing For Tech's Men Students Needed

An appeal was made Saturday by Dean James G. Allen, dean of men at Texas Technological college, asking that all residents of Lubbock who have spare rooms or apartments, which they would consider renting to college boys contact his office before Sept. 1.

Approximately 5,250 men and boys are expected to register at the college this fall, and the dormitories will only house approximately 1,400 of these, leaving over 3,800 boys to find rooms in town.

"Unless every inch of space in Lubbock is used to the best advantage, some of these boys will be forced to return home or attend some other college," Dean Allen stated.

College facilities are sufficient to house the expected 1,750 girls, Allen said.

The dean of men's office is already contacting everyone who has rented to college students before in an effort to find people who have rooms to rent. The addresses of all people who have rooms to rent and information about them will be posted on the bulletin board in front of the dean of men's office at 10 a. m. Sept. 1.

River Of Beer Flows Out To Sea From California Brewery

RED BLUFF, Calif., Aug. 27 (AP)—A river of beer—good beer too—flowed toward the sea today, alas.

There were 124,000 gallons of it.

A federal judge said the beer had to be dumped. So there it goes now, with many a gurgle and a sigh, out past the brewery and thence along many a sad mile to the sea.

Brewmaster Sad

The judge said the corporation probably would lose money trying to bottle all that beer during the reorganization. Beside it would hold up reorganization, so dump her boys.

Charles Frizzell, the brewmaster, held wake as the taps were turned yesterday. No hound dog ever looked sadder as he watched the beer foam out into a ravine which leads to the Sacramento river half a mile away.

Word Got Around

"I've sweated over it," said he. "I've nursed it; and I've pampered it. And here it goes—down the drain."

Only a few spectators mourned with Frizzell. (Word hadn't got around yet when they first turned the taps). Most of them brought pitchers, meaning to carry away souvenirs of this dolorous occasion.

But even now the word flies like wild geese through the town.

INDIA PUSHES IRRIGATION

NEW DELHI. (AP)—The Mor irrigation project will bring under cultivation 600,000 acres of land and yield about 70,000 tons of rice annually. It is expected to cost the government $21,000,000.

A new method of purifying water and removing both acid and alkali chemicals in the same treatment uses synthetic resins, which swap harmless portions of another substance for the unwanted impurities in the water. The process is called "ion exchange."

Officers Named For New Year By Littlefield Community Chest

LITTLEFIELD, Aug. 28. (Special)—At a recent meeting of the board of directors of the Littlefield Community Chest, officers for the coming year were elected and plans for the annual chest drive were made. The date for the drive has been tentatively set for October.

Officers elected were J. E. Chisholm, president; Mrs. J. H. Lee, vice president; and F. L. Newton, secretary-treasurer.

Another meeting is to be held September 1 at 8 p. m. in the district court room in the courthouse.

OHIO COUPLE NOT WORRIED OVER ANY CHARGES

Girl, 13, Is Held With Man Who Confessed He Killed Her Father "Accidentally" In Alaska

BY LOUISE LOVE
INS Staff Correspondent

KIMBALL, Neb., Aug. 28—A high, sweet voice carrying no hint of trouble or care issued from the bars of the Kimball county jail cell today. There blond and innocent-appearing Louise McComas is separated by a narrow partition from the man who confessed that he shot her father.

The 13-year-old girl from Dayton, O., was humming a wordless popular tune in the most carefree fashion I have ever heard and she refused to believe that any charges can be filed against her.

Gustav O. Wiegner, also of Dayton, who told officials he "accidentally shot" John A. McComas, 52, near Blueberry on the Alcan highway in British Columbia, had a mirror stuck in the bars so that he could view anyone entering the cell room.

When I entered the room, she was calling him "honey," and by extending the mirror through the bars, Wiegner could see her and return the happy smile she had for him.

Officials have denied access to the couple even though they told me they would be happy to "talk with International News Service or the press."

Louise saddened when asked why they had fled, leaving her father's body unprotected in the open "bush" country where it was ravaged by wolves.

She said, "I felt so awfully terrible about leaving father lying there, but I was so scared."

Wiegner broke in with, "I was scared too. We just didn't know what to do."

Found Money In Car

Louise then blurted, "all we wanted to do was get away from it. They (the officers) can't do anything to us."

Asked where the money had come from to finance the return trip to the United States and to purchase a tiny cafe in Bushnell, Neb., Louise said:

"We left Dayton with about $1,200 after "Dusty" (Wiegner) answered an ad daddy put in the paper asking for a driver to make the trip to Alaska where I was going to enter a Seventh Day Adventist school.

"After Dusty said he had shot daddy, I didn't want to stay there any longer. I found the money in a zipper pocket of a pair of pants he had left in the car. We had most of it when we came to Bushnell."

In reply to a question of whether they had planned to live in Bushnell, she said, "yes, but our plans have been changed. And, oh boy, I hope I never see jail again."

Decided To Return Home

Louise said she didn't have any relatives in Dayton, "except an uncle. I didn't want to go to him because I have only known him two or three months."

Wiegner said that after McComas was shot about 50 feet from the road where they had stopped for a light dinner from cans, "we left the body where it fell. We didn't know what to do. We drove a few miles further, and then turned around and drove to Dawson creek where we arrived about daylight."

Wiegne said they then decided to return home and arrived in Bushnell Aug. 15, just six days after they had left the unburied body.

They went into the small cafe and decided "it might be a good idea to buy it" after they learned it was for sale.

Most of the remaining money was used to make the purchase. The same day circumstances intervened which placed them behind the bars.

Worried About Cafe

An argument over lease of the building with Ralph Wells, 57, of Bushnell resulted in the second shooting and jail.

Only a "paternal" feeling for Louise is professed by Wiegner. He said, "she didn't want to go on alone. She needed someone to take care of her."

He declared, "we haven't done anything wrong, but fail to make a report. But the people can sometimes give you a hard time."

Wiegner was more worried over the closing of the cafe by the police than over charges that may be filed against him.

He said, "if we don't get out pretty soon, who will pay the rent?"

Wiegner said he had planned originally to "gradually work back to Dayton and find Louise's mother." The girl said she had not seen her mother because her parents were separated ten years ago.

Wiegner did not speak of his wife, who had contacted Ohio authorities over his disappearance.

Blind Mother, Husband Held On Charge Of Child Neglect

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 28 (AP)—A blind mother and her husband were in jail today on child neglect charges after officers reported that their 10-year-old daughter had been hung by her feet, upside down, and sometimes chained to her brother, five.

Those held were Mr. and Mrs. Gordon G. MacDonald. The husband is an elevator operator. The children involved, said policeman G. B. Barber, who arrested the parents, were Darlene and Jeremiah.

Barber said also that the couple's two-year-old son, Wayne, had been tied to a chair and sometimes was fed only once a day.

The youngsters all are cared for in juvenile hall. Barber quoted Mrs. MacDonald as saying:

"I'm sick and can't help it if my kids are mean. I've been working since I was four years old and nobody helps me or worries about me."

The mother's eye-dog, Beauty, is being cared for in an animal shelter.

Out 1948 expansion program, which is proceeding vigorously and satisfactorily, includes four general types of projects. Each type is represented here by a photo of one specific job.

Photo No. 1: McSpadden Compressor Station, near Canyon, Texas. Enlarged from 1,530 horsepower to 2,850 horsepower. Of our six compressor stations, five are being enlarged for a total addition of 2300 horsepower.

Photo No. 2: Replacing 3½-inch pipe with 6 5/8 inch pipe in portion of line serving Levelland and Whitharral. We are replacing several key sections of pipe lines which had become inadequate due to spectacular growth of the towns.

Photo No. 3: This photo taken at Plainview shows one of the countless extensions being installed in the various towns to serve new customers. Probably about 5,000 new homes and businesses will get gas service this year.

Photo No. 4: A new feeder main to improve gas service in a large section of Odessa. In Odessa, two such projects involve a total of 8,750 feet of large pipe, mostly 7-inch, and similar major improvements are being made in a number of other city distributing plants.

Financier Found Dead Leaves Letters On Death Of Partner

ASBURY PARK, N. J., Aug. 28. (AP)—The letters left behind by Henry M. Brooks, financier who was found dead by his own hand in a hotel bathroom here, constitute a confession of the murder of his former business partner, representatives of the Mercer county prosecutors office said today.

While detectives traced Brooks' trail from the time of the shooting of his erstwhile partner, Joseph R. Watkins, Wednesday, Mercer county prosecutor Mario Valpe said "there is no question in my mind that Brooks is the guilty man." Watkins' body was found in a car parked outside the Princeton Inn, which is in Mercer county.

Volpe said he had heard from authorities in Monmouth county, in which Asbury Park is located, that one of the letters mentioned "the Princeton mess."

Gun Same Caliber

Police said that the gun which was found still clenched in Brooks hand was the same caliber—.32—as the gun with which Watkins was slain. Ballistics experts said, however, it would take several days to determine whether bullets from the same gun killed both men.

Assistant Monmouth county prosecutor Charles Frankel said Brooks left two letters to his wife, Ruth, and one to a car rental agency in Newark.

He quoted one of the letters to Mrs. Brooks as saying in part "about that crazy thing at Princeton—although I kept telling him I had to have answers to our relations problems it was still that same maybe — manana and perhaps, or the one little piece until he just decided to drive away—well—I guess the lack of anything just broke my mind."

The body of the one-time financial "wizard" was found, clad in pajamas, by an Albion hotel employe who had heard the shower running for two hours yesterday.

Family On Vacation

Brooks had checked into the hotel between midnight and 4 a. m. Thursday. He registered under the name of Fred Ellis, authorities said.

Police of several states had centered the search for Brooks on his 12-acre estate and large home near Greenwich, Con., and at Reading, Pa., where he was a frequent visitor.

Police said his wife, who was prominent socially, and his daughter, a schoolteacher, were unable to supply much information. They had just returned from a vacation in Maine.

Volpe said that Watkins, a lawyer and investment broker, had obtained a $72,000 judgment against Brooks on the grounds that he had made good losses in several of their joint financial ventures. The prosecutor said that Brooks, whom he identified as being bankrupt and under investigation by the attorney general's office in New York state, had made several unsuccessful efforts to have the judgment set aside.

Intermission Called In Mae West's Play

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 28. (AP)—There was a week-end intermission today in the courtroom production of Mae West's play "Catherine Was Great."

To the manifest enjoyment of an overflow crowd—non-paying, of course—four lawyers and Miss West's male secretary yesterday staged the opening scenes of the play without benefit of scenery, and with the judge's sterm admonition that no applause would be tolerated.

The occasion was the $100,000 plagiarism suit brought against the blonde and streamlined Miss West by two writers, Edwin K. O'Brien and Michael Kane, who allege that she furloined material for her play from material originated by them.

Miss West declined to take part in the courtroom drama.

"Today I didn't wear a girdle," she told newsmen.

The cast included Miss West's lawyers, Stanley Gleis and Kenneth Chantry; the writers' counsel, Henry Moore and Walter Trinkhaus, and Mae's secretary, Larry Lee.

Attorney Moore did all right, except that his French evoked a little judicial criticism. When he came to the French words "avec moi" he pronounced them "avec moy."

"You're doing fine, all except your French," drily commented Superior Judge Samuel R. Blake.

Town In Indiana Develops New Appreciation For Electricity

FRANKLIN, Ind., Aug. 28. (U.P.)—Residents of this town of 8,000 population have developed a new appreciation for electricity.

A complete power failure occurred for 90 minutes on a busy Saturday afternoon.

Radios were silenced. Groceries couldn't grind coffee. Filling station gasoline pumps were out of operation. Refrigerators stopped running. Two movies were blacked out. The telephone company had to switch to batteries to ring telephones.

For nearly 24 hours, switchboard operators gave out the time to patrons whose electric clocks had stopped.

Perfume Is Final Touch In Good Grooming, Expert Says

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 28 (AP)—To each his own smell. That's the word of Max Factor, Hollywood's expert on beautifying the American female.

"Perfume is the final touch of good grooming which every woman should have," he declared. "But she should be careful in choosing her perfume. It should be soft, not too obvious, sweet; it should stay close to the body. Above all, it should suit her personality."

For purposes of clarity, I egged Factor into naming the right kinds of odors for ten screen actresses. Here are his selections:

Lana Turner—Sexy, but not a sirene; medium-heavy odor, warm, floral, not too orinetal.

Hedy Lamarr—A siren; warm, earthy, amber-type perfume.

June Allyson—Extreme sexiness of smell should be avoided; light, delicate, resembling spring blossoms.

Ingrid Bergman—Warm, slightly floral.

Greer Garson—Soft, sweet, cool, lily-like.

Bette Davis—Exotic, woody, but not sweet or floral.

Marjorie Main — Warm, outdoorsy odor.

Factor, who whips up private perfumes for film stars but does not manufacture them, emphasized that a girl's perfume should not assail the nostrils. "It should complement her naturally, as though it were her own odor," he explained.

As to the romantic aspects of perfumes, he explained that the bases of some of them are the sex-attraction oils of animals. He hinted that the luring abilities of the aromas are even more powerful than are proclaimed in the ads. Gentlemen, beware!

Walking Tight Rope Included In Educated Chicken's Tricks

GOSHEN, Ind., Aug. 28. (U.P.)—Brownie, an educated chicken who has traveled some 10,000 miles, can be taught many things.

At least that's the boast of the fowl's owner, Mrs. Ada Armey. The bird has made two cross-country trips to California during her lifetime.

Among her tricks are walking a tight rope and knowing when her mistress is going to leave in the family automobile. Mrs. Armey says she only has to walk toward her car and Brownie makes a beeline for it.

Lubbock's 19 Public Schools Are Ready For Opening On Sept. 7

From a tangle of unfinished school buildings, a teacher shortage in some grades, an anticipated enrollment increase over 1947, and a knotty zoning rearrangement, officials of the Lubbock Independent School district have emerged with paperwork answers for the opening of Lubbock's 19 schools on Sept. 7.

Supt. R. W. Matthews has predicted enrollment this fall to top the 8503 figure taken one week after the opening of the public schools here last year, but explained that comparisons between individual schools will be generally meaningless because of zoning changes and new buildings constructed during the summer.

Principals Will Meet

With the resumption of school days, the various principals will be the first to go back to work. A meeting of all public school principals is scheduled for 9 a. m. on Thursday, Sept. 2, in room 110 of Senior High school.

The next day, Friday, the principals will be in their respective school offices to confer with parents and new students, with the exception of O. L. Slaton and J. T. Hutchinson Junior High school principals. Lennon Hill, principal of Woodlawn school, will be in the office at Roscoe Wilson school.

Students new to the Lubbock Independent School district since the close of school last spring will go to the school in their zone (see complete zoning list at close of article). All other students were enrolled last spring.

Teachers To Convene

"School marms" new to the Lubbock system will meet in the Senior High school auditorium with school officials at 9 a. m. Saturday, Sept. 4.

At 9 o'clock Monday morning, Sept. 6, a general faculty meeting is scheduled in the Senior High school auditorium, following which all teachers will meet with their respective principals in the various schools at 10:30 a. m. At 1 p. m. the teachers will be in their respective rooms to enroll new students.

According to Supt. Matthews, the J. T. Hutchinson Junior High school will not be available for approximately 30 days. In the meantime, O. L. Slaton zone students will attend the O. L. Slaton school on a meeting session basis, from 8 a. m. to 12:30 p. m., and Hutchinson zone students will attend the Slaton school on an afternoon basis, from 12:30 p. m. to 5 p. m.

Other Schedules Altered

The Woodlawn school will not be ready for occupancy until the latter part of October, and in the meantime, students from Woodlawn district will attend the Roscoe Wilson school on the afternoon schedule, and Roscoe Wilson students on the morning schedule. Matthews announced, however, that since the Woodlawn students will require only about 10 of the 15 rooms available in the Wilson school during the afternoon, some of the upper grade Wilson students will probably go on a full day session shortly after the opening of classes on Sept. 7.

Floyd Honey, Lubbock Senior High school principal, will remain in his office this week to register high school students who have not previously attended Lubbock schools. Carl Bailey, Central Junior High school principal, will also be in his office to enroll new Junior High school students. The registration schedule is Monday through Friday and hours are from 9 a. m. to noon and 1 p. m. to 4 p. m.

Students Will Report

Because workmen are still in the O. L. Slaton Junior High school building, enrollment will not begin there until 8 o'clock Tuesday morning, Sept. 7, at which time all students of O. L. Slaton district are to report to the school auditorium for instruction. At 12:30 o'clock the same day, students of J. T. Hutchinson district will report to the O. L. Slaton auditorium for instructions.

Cottage school has only four grades this year, and fifth and sixth graders who attended there last year will attend K. Carter school this year.

With the opening of classes on Tuesday morning, students already enrolled will bring report cards and book cards to their classes. New students will bring cards from the school last attended when they enroll on Sept. 6.

Cafeterias To Be Ready

Cafeterias in George R. Bean, K. Carter, Dupre, East Broadway, Chris Harwell, George M. Hunt, McWhorter, and Dunbar schools will be ready to serve on Tuesday, Sept. 7. The cafeterias at Woodlawn and J. T. Hutchinson schools will open as the new buildings open, and the O. L. Slaton cafeteria will be ready to serve a few days after the opening of classes.

The cafeteria at Roscoe Wilson school will be open as soon as definite assignments have been made for certain rooms to stay on full day session, Matthews said.

Launching Of Air Parcel Post Service Wednesday Is Another Great Advancement In Postal System

Another stride in postal service—comparable to inauguration of air mail, special delivery and special handling of mail—will go into effect Wednesday when domestic air parcel post will be initiated, said Lubbock postal officials.

"I have considered for some time that the time was coming when most of the mail would go by air for any distance," said Postmaster Amos H. Howard. He said he believed the main advantage of air parcel post would be speed.

The new highly specialized airborne service, enacted into law by the 80th Congress, will afford patrons of more than 42,000 post offices in America and its possessions unexcelled shipping facilities.

Domestic Service New

While international air parcel post service has been available from the United States and its possessions for several months, domestic airborne service is being launched for the first time in history.

Packages not exceeding 70 pounds in weight and 100 inches in combined length and girth may go by domestic air parcel post to any point without the United States and its possessions with rates varying according to distance.

Schedules of the three air lines operating through Lubbock — Pioneer, Braniff and Continental — will afford frequent times of departure and arrival of air parcel post.

Step Is Tremendous

Ernest Ohnemus, assistant superintendent of mails at the Lubbock post office, said "The postal department considers this a tremendous step in postal service offered the public."

Heretofore, many persons have sent parcels by air mail, first class rates, in order to rush packages to their destination.

The air mail parcel post plan is not expected to replace regular parcel post, but to offer a service sending of packages comparable to that available in sending letters by air mail with resultant advantages in many cases.

Regular parcel post, of course, will continue in use between points not covered or partially covered by air routes and in cases in which the sender might be in no hurry for a parcel to reach its destination.

Special Delivery Stressed

If the sender were in a rush to get a parcel to Chicago, however, he might not only send it by air parcel post but also by special delivery, so that it would be delivered within one and one-half hours after arrival in Chicago. Ohnemus said window clerks would stress special delivery along with regular parcel post to assure fastest delivery.

A housewife wishing to send a cake to a friend in Dallas might send a package containing one weighing two pounds by air for 68 cents. By regular parcel post, the cost would be 12 cents. The same cake might be sent to Chicago for 94 cents, air parcel post, or 18 cents, regular parcel post.

The rate per pound decreases as the poundage rises. A 20-pound parcel might be sent to Dallas for $2.12, compared to 48 cents regular parcel post rate, or to Chicago for $5.26, compared to $1.50 regular parcel post rate.

Consideration To Be Given

Postmaster Howard pointed out that air parcel post packages will receive the same particular conderation shown air mail in routing. In addition, identical doorstep delivery will be given to air parcel post as is afforded other forms of mail.

Regular postal surface transportation will connect communities not on air lines and rural routes with cities on air lines, making air parcel post service available to residents of those areas. Such transportation may be used to take parcels to the air line cities, or to complete a parcel's journey if it goes part of the way by air line then is taken off to go the remainder of the way by rail or bus where air service is not available.

Stickers Will Be Available

Distinct air parcel post stickers, printed in red, white and blue and bearing likeness of a winged package with the earth's globe underneath, will soon be available without cost at Lubbock post office to apply to outgoing packages.

"With a scheduled plane taking off or landing within the United States on an average of every seven seconds around the clock, and an overseas-bound plane leaving our borders every 30 minutes, we stand ready to give our patrons the fastest parcel post service offered anywhere," according to information furnished the postmaster here.

Instructions of the second assistant postmaster general on air postal transport, domestic air parcel post, state that, "All classes of mailable matter are included in this new service, therefore, all air mail parcels prepaid at the applicable zone rates will be given the same expeditious handling in transit as is now accorded air mail articles paid at the five-cents-an ounce rate."

To Get Preferred Treatment

Air carriers engaged in the transportation of mail by aircraft under certificates of public convenience and necessity issued by the Civil Aeronautics board will be required to give air parcel post while in their custody and in transportation by aircraft the same preferential treatment now required for air letter mail, the instuctions from the second assistant postmaster general stated.

Rates for air parcel post, which previously have been announced, range upward from 55 cents for weight from eight ounces to one pound in zones one and two, up to 150 miles.

Packages of the maximum weight, 70 pounds may be shipped in zones one and two for $3.31 or in zone 8, over 1,800 miles, for $45.65.

Disgruntled Suitor Shoots Girl Friend, Kills Himself

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Aug. 28. (INS)—A pretty, 19-year-old telephone operator stumbled from her automobile early today after being shot by a disgruntled suitor who then killed himself with a .25 caliber pistol.

Passing motorists rushed the wounded girl, Betty Ann Berkes, to the Lutheran hospital where she was reported in critical condition from bullet wounds in the chest, arms and legs.

Miss Berkes told sheriff's officers that Alfred Spartley forced himself into her car as she left the Home Telephone and Telegraph company.

She said Spartley made her drive 10 miles south of Fort Wayne and began shooting when she refused to drive into a side road.

INFLATION IN BULL RING

MADRID. (AP)—The cost of staging a bullfight—Spain's "national fiesta"—has jumped from 7,500 to 1,000,000 pesetas $750 to $100,000) in the last two hundred years, the Madrid sports weekly "Digame" reports. The magazine said that in 1743 a star bullfighter received 950 pesetas ($95) for an afternoon's performance. The late Manolete, "Champion" matador, received as high as 275,000 pesetas ($27,500) for killing two bulls.

BEETLE INVADES POLAND

WROCLAW, Poland. (AP)—The Colorado beetle has arrived in Poland. The pest apparently is making serious inroads. The newspaper "Economic Daily" said the province of Wroclaw, formerly German Breslau, particularly has been invaded by the beetle.

Strong-Arm Methods Of Russia Making Bad Propaganda Abroad

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

Moscow's policy of handling all situations, no matter what their nature, by strong-arm methods is making decidedly bad propaganda for Communism abroad.

You would expect them to vary their tactics according to the occasion—but not they! Direct action is the order of the day, and it's applied in all cases without discrimination.

Within the Soviet Union every activity must conform to the Communist party line. For example, if science, medicine, the drama, literature and music are not developed in accordance with that line, there is a purge of the guilty. Apropos of this the Soviet Academy of Sciences yesterday promised to make its views on heredity and environment conform with those of the Red party and pursue a course dedicated to the "victory of Communism."

There Is No Freedom

So the government tells the people not only how they must act but how they must think. There is no individual freedom.

In international affairs the same approach is employed. It is a policy which even in diplomacy calls for an attitude that is typical of the school-yard bully. Let's take a look at some instances:

One of the most striking examples, of course, is the manner in which Russia has ham-strung the activities of the United Nations in virtually all important matters by use of the veto—that nasty sounding "nyet."

Then we have the sensational Kasenkina case in New York—the employment in free America of Russian secret police tactics by the Soviet consulate in an effort to compel three Soviet schoolteachers to return home to something which so terrified them that they appealed to the mercy of America.

Berlin Is Typical Case

And currently we have a typical case of Bolshevist strong-arm methods in Berlin. Howling Communist mobs have been raiding the Berlin city hall and breaking up meetings of the duly elected, anti-Communist city council. The hall is in the Soviet zone and Russian-controlled police have watched complacently from the side lines. My colleague Wes Gallagher, A. P. chief of bureau in Berlin, interprets this exhibition in part as follows:

"In Moscow Prime Minister Stalin debates the future of this embattled city with the Western powers. In Berlin, Soviet-trained Communists are attempting to grab control of the city by physical pressure.

Reds Want Control

"It is impossible in Berlin to reconcile Soviet-sponsored actions here with any belief the Kremlin expects or wants any satisfactory agreement to come out of the present discussions. The Communists in Berlin . . . are apparently trying to present the Moscow with a fait accompli. They are trying to force the elected anti-Communist city government from office, seize control themselves and impose their will on the population.

"If they could succeed—which seems doubtful as long as Western occupation forces stand firm—the question of who controls the city's currency, now being debated at Moscow, would be academic."

Strong arm stuff! Scare hades out of 'em! Never any deviation!

Democracies Are Fed Up

The Bolshevists have kept flinging that sort of stuff at the Democracies until the latter are fed up with the Red ism. There is nothing the Muscovites could have devised which would have done the cause of Communism more harm. They have done democracy a good turn by exposing Bolshevism in its true light.

Convicted Murderer Given Life Sentence

DUNCAN, Okla., Aug. 28 (AP)—Ex-Duncan policeman E. L. (Lefty) Fowler last night received a life sentence for the murder of waitress Helen Beavers.

It took a district court jury only 90 minutes to find Fowler guilty and set the penalty. The trial lasted five days.

Fowler took the stand to maintain his innocence. He testified he signed three confessions under duress of state and county officers.

Miss Beavers' body was found stuffed in an automobile trunk last Feb. 9, 17 days after she was slain.

Fowler only blinked when the verdict was read but his mother began screaming and the court room was thrown into confusion.

TRY THIS FOR SIZE

EL PASO. (AP)—J. E. Sims, Lower Rio Grande valley farmer, grew a 12½-pound muskmelon. "Just the large economy size," said Sims, but he conceded it was the biggest of its kind he's ever seen. It took four months to grow from the time the seed was planted. Was Sims surprised at the melon's size? Nosiree—just good soil and a well fertilized melon patch, he said.

American Pilot In Germany Conducts Own "Operations Sweets" For Berlin Children

The Anglo-American "air lift" to Berlin is a determined, purposeful operation to defeat the starvation blockade of the Russians, but even this grim facet of the cold war has its lighter side. One of the American pilots in this gigantic "operation vittles" has been parachuting lollipops and other sweets to German children as he swoops down on Tempelhof airport with his cargo of supplies. Here is the story of this pilot's own pet project, how it started, and why he does it.

By TOM AGOSTON
INS Staff Correspondent

RHINE-MAIN AIRBASE, FRANKFURT, Germany, Aug. 28—A shy, gingerheaded transport pilot has put a heart-warming touch to the tremendous job of supplying Berlin's millions by air.

He has opened a personal lollipop delivery service for a couple of dozen German kids who wait patiently at Tempelhof airdrome for his big transport to fly in from the west.

Just before he lands, the grinning American tosses out a handful of candy bars and lollipops attached to handkerchiefs, and they float to earth like miniature parachutes.

Operator Is Utah Man

Operator of this novel and colorful twist to the grim "operation vittles" is Lieut. Hale S. Halverson, a 27-year-old Mormon who comes from Garland, Utah. He is attached to the 17th military air transport service squadron at the Rhine-Main airbase.

Halverson began his parachute service when he was beseiged by a bunch of hungry-faced kids echoing the well-known post-war cry which almost every GI in Europe heard repeatedly: "Candy, please, mister?"

He ran into this little group shortly after he was assigned to the air lift task force. Walking down the runway between flights at Tempelhof to take some pictures "to show my girl what this project looks like," the lieutenant was startled at first when the kids moved in.

Had To Do Something

"When I saw their disappointed little faces on hearing that I had no sweets, I just knew I had to do something about it," he said.

"First I thought I'd make a collection and send them a parcel, but then I figured that since I carry food anyway, why not drop a small parcel for the kids right here next time I am this way again?"

He told the kids about it, but they were skeptical and asked how they could recognize his plane.

Said Halverson:: "I'll wiggle the wings before coming in, and you can recognize me from that."

On his way back to the Frankfurt base, he worked out his parachute idea. He raided his duffle bag, then began to beg, bum and borrow hankies from all of his buddies. The American explained:

"Hankies make the best 'chutes. I usually tie two candy bars or a bag of sweets to each 'chute. It's just the right weight and besides it's a fair ration for the kids."

REPORT HISTORICAL FINDS

MOSCOW. (AP)—Hundreds of historically valuable finds are being unearthed in many parts of the Soviet Union this year. Several times every week dispatches come into the capital telling of relics of ancient civilization in Russia coming to light as the result of excavations in one place or another.

Digging a tunnel main for a new heating system in Moscow this week caused considerable ripples in archeological circles when the workmen found, at considerable depth, old streets, squares and art objects. Included were a grave stone dated 1696 and a kopeck dated 1703.

Hurricane Season Opens With Number One Headed For U. S.

BY MAX HALL
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28—The 1948 hurricane season is officially open.

As two-thirds of this country gasped in the worst heat spell of the summer, hurricane No. 1 was mysteriously born in the south Atlantic and began swirling toward Florida.

Somewhere offshore the dark rain-filled roaring air hurls itself over the sea, and on the ominously quiet land the people wonder if this will be another bad hurricane season.

Weather forecasters say there is no way of knowing. Nor is there any method of predicting the course the present storm will take.

Previous Storms Costly

The weather bureau says last year's hurricane cost 53 lives and about $135,000,000 in property damage.

Fifty-one of the deaths and $110,000,000 of the damage occurred in one hurricane, Sept. 10-19. It came in over the Bahama Islands, struck north of Miami, crossed Florida, swirled through the Gulf, and ripped the New Orleans area.

There were 10 tropical storms in the Atlantic and Caribbean; that is, 10 that were important enough for storm warnings. Eight of the 10 invaded the continental United States.

Four of the 10 storms were officially rated as hurricanes.

Two of these missed the United States; but the other two hit.

A fifth storm, which also hit this country, was rated as a "near-hurricane" of 72 miles an hour.

Hurricane Defined

(In ordinary usage, however, people are likely to call any severe tropical disturbance a hurricane.)

1. A minor blow July 31 and Aug. 1, which entered Texas at Brownsville.

2. The Tampico, Mexico, hurricane of Aug. 12-15. This country didn't feel it.

3. The "near-hurricane," Aug. 18-27. It entered Texas near Galveston.

4. A small storm of Aug. 21-22 that puffed in from the Gulf at Grand Isle, La.

5. A storm Sept. 7 that raked the Gulf coast between Mobile, Ala., and Biloxi, Miss.

Biggest Storm Noted

6. This was the hurricane of the year, the Sept. 10-19 disaster that crossed Florida and banged into New Orleans. Its greatest measured velocity was 160 miles an hour at Hopetown, in the Bahamas. Its greatest measured velocity in the U. S. was at Hillsborough Light, Florida—155 miles an hour for a one-minute period, and 121 miles an hour for a five-minute period.

7. A smaller storm of Sept. 20-25 that crossed Cuba into the Gulf and entered Florida north of Tampa.

8. A blow of Oct. 6-7 that moved northward over the Bahamas and entered Georgia near Brunswick.

9. The full hurricane of Oct. 9-15. This mischievous character originated in the Caribbean near the Canal Zone, moved northward over Cuba into the Gulf, cut across southern Florida, emerged into the Atlantic oceans between Miami and Palm Beach, and with an alarming curve crashed back into the mainland near Savannah, Ga.

10. Another full hurricane, but it avoided the United States. It started near Puerto Rico, moved northwest toward the U. S. mainland, and then curved harmlessly away, passing near Bermuda.

State Grange Ends Annual Convention

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 28 (AP)—The Texas State Grange wound up its fourteenth annual convention yesterday by passing resolutions calling for:

1. Stricter state seed inspection.

2. Congressional appropriation of $200,000,000 for farm home aid.

3. Establishment of rural telephone service along lines similar to R.E.A.

Arthur F. Leesch of Boerne was re-elected state master for a two-year term, and John Dollahite, Blanco valley grange, was elected overseer. Mrs. C. R. Cento of Von Ormy, Medina valley grange, was elected state lecturer.

Other officers include T. C. Shurtleff, Lampasas, steward; O. F. Knight, Converse, assistant steward; Henry Metzer, Converse, chaplain; T. J. Harr, Poteet, treasurer; Mrs. G. G. Lewis, Crockett, secetay; Otto Hoffman, Comal county, gatekeeper; Mrs. Eloise Williams, Weiland, ceres; and Mrs. Margie Horton, Hamilton county, lady assistant steward.

Roscoe Penix, Wood county, and Herman Laubach, Bulverde, were named to the executive board.

Operator Of Hardware Store Makes Summer Heat Pay Off

CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 28 (INS)—A Cincinnati hardware store operator made the heat pay off today.

High-Octane Well No Good For Family, But Dandy For Auto

BIG SPRING, Aug. 28. (AP)—Walter Merrick's water well has become too strong for the family but just right for his automobile.

Merrick has a 30-foot well at his home in the Sand Springs community, five miles east of here, and until a year ago it produced good water. An oil firm developed and it became increasingly worse until he abandoned the water for domestic purposes.

His windmill stopped this week and he bailed the well. Recovery was 100 gallons of what tested 96 per cent gasoline. Merrick estimated he had 400 gallons more in his well.

Meanwhile, source of the gasoline is a mystery. None of the service stations in that area have reported losing storage and Cosden Petroleum Corp. refinery is three miles away. With nearby wells beginning to taste of oil, Merrick is hoping some enterprising geologist will determine the source of his high-octane well.

Investigators Investigated

MANILA. (AP)—You can't win dep't:

Manila newsman Melchor Aquino tells the story of a committee appointed by the government to investigate the affairs of a government owned corporation. Company employees had complained that a stock of plywood intended for their use in home building was being illegally diverted to other hands. The committee investigated. The committee ended up getting the plywood for its own use.

Seagraves Known As "The City With The Long Range View"

Growth Of More Stable Character Has Followed In Wake Of Boom Era; Big Industries Located There

By BILL CLARK
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

SEAGRAVES, Aug. 29 — Seagraves calls itself "the city with the long range view," and that slogan is just beginning to take on its full significance as the townspeople work together for civic betterment.

With the first flush of oil discoveries subsiding, Seagraves is no longer the rip-roaring community of the early forties, when its fame as an oil boom town was equalled only by its reputation as the nearest "wet" area to Lubbock.

Local beer was voted out of Seagraves in 1943, and thus ended an era when Seagraves was a "roughneck's town."

There immediately followed a period when Seagraves lost population, but that loss has been replaced by growth of a more stable character, which will assure Seagraves of a better balanced economy.

Five large industries near Seagraves together constitute an annual payroll of approximately a million dollars. They include two carbon black plants, the Southwestern Public Service company power pant near Denver City, the Frontier Chemical company plant near Denver City and the Western company, an oil well acidizing and service company.

Among other industries is the Hearne Motor Freight lines, which has headquarters in Seagraves. Operated by the town's mayor, Doak Hearne, the line employs 90, has 70 pieces of equipment.

Seagraves now has an estimated population of 3,700, showing some increase over the 1940 census of 3,290. The peak in population was reached in 1942 and 1943, with some decline after that which has been regained.

Seagraves' development in recent years is shown by statistics. In 1937 the town had 139 gas meters shortly after natural gas service was installed in the town. In 1948 the town has 578 meters.

In 1932 the Seagraves area had a total of six telephones. In 1940 that number had increased to 277 and now 423 telephones are in service, with a long list awaiting telephone service, according to figures released by Mills Roberts of Hobbs, N. M., district manager of Southwestern Associated Telepone company.

Seagraves has 48 blocks of paved streets in its city limits. Five water wells provide adequate water supply.

According to Mrs. Una Campbell, city secretary, the 1947 tax valuation of the city was $1,285,342, and the 1948 valuation is expected to be above that total.

Many improvement projects are underway in Seagraves, nearly all of them of a permanent nature.

An agricultural building has been completed at a cost of $50,000 by Gaines county. The modern brick and tile building has an auditorium and meeting hall that is used by the Lions and Rotary clubs for weekly meetings, and will be the site of a fair which Seagraves will hold this fall.

Under construction now is a $75,000 high school gymnasium for the Seagraves Independent schools and Joe Simmons is president of the school board.

The gymnasium, at the rear of the high school building is being built by M. M. Burkett and James H. Robertson, Lubbock contractors.

Also under construction now is a $26,000 addition to the First Presbyterian church, of which Rev. Charles Brinkley is pastor. Mrs. James L. Myers is chairman of the building committee. The addition will provide 2,700 square feet of floor space for educational purposes, said E. E. Hardin of Brownfield, the contractor.

A $25,000 swimming pool project, delayed by shortages of cement, will be ready for operation next summer. It was financed by a bond issue.

Many new homes have been constructed in the past few years, and others are planned.

On paper is a 25-unit rental housing project. Leaders in plans for the project, to be located in the western part of town, are Harry J. Nunan, manager of the chamber of commerce, and L. M. McAdoo, Seagraves automobile dealer.

Nunan explained that the need for rental hosing is acute. During the past week 150 families have been moved into the Seagraves area while work is in progress on a natural gas pipeline for the El Paso Natural Gas company.

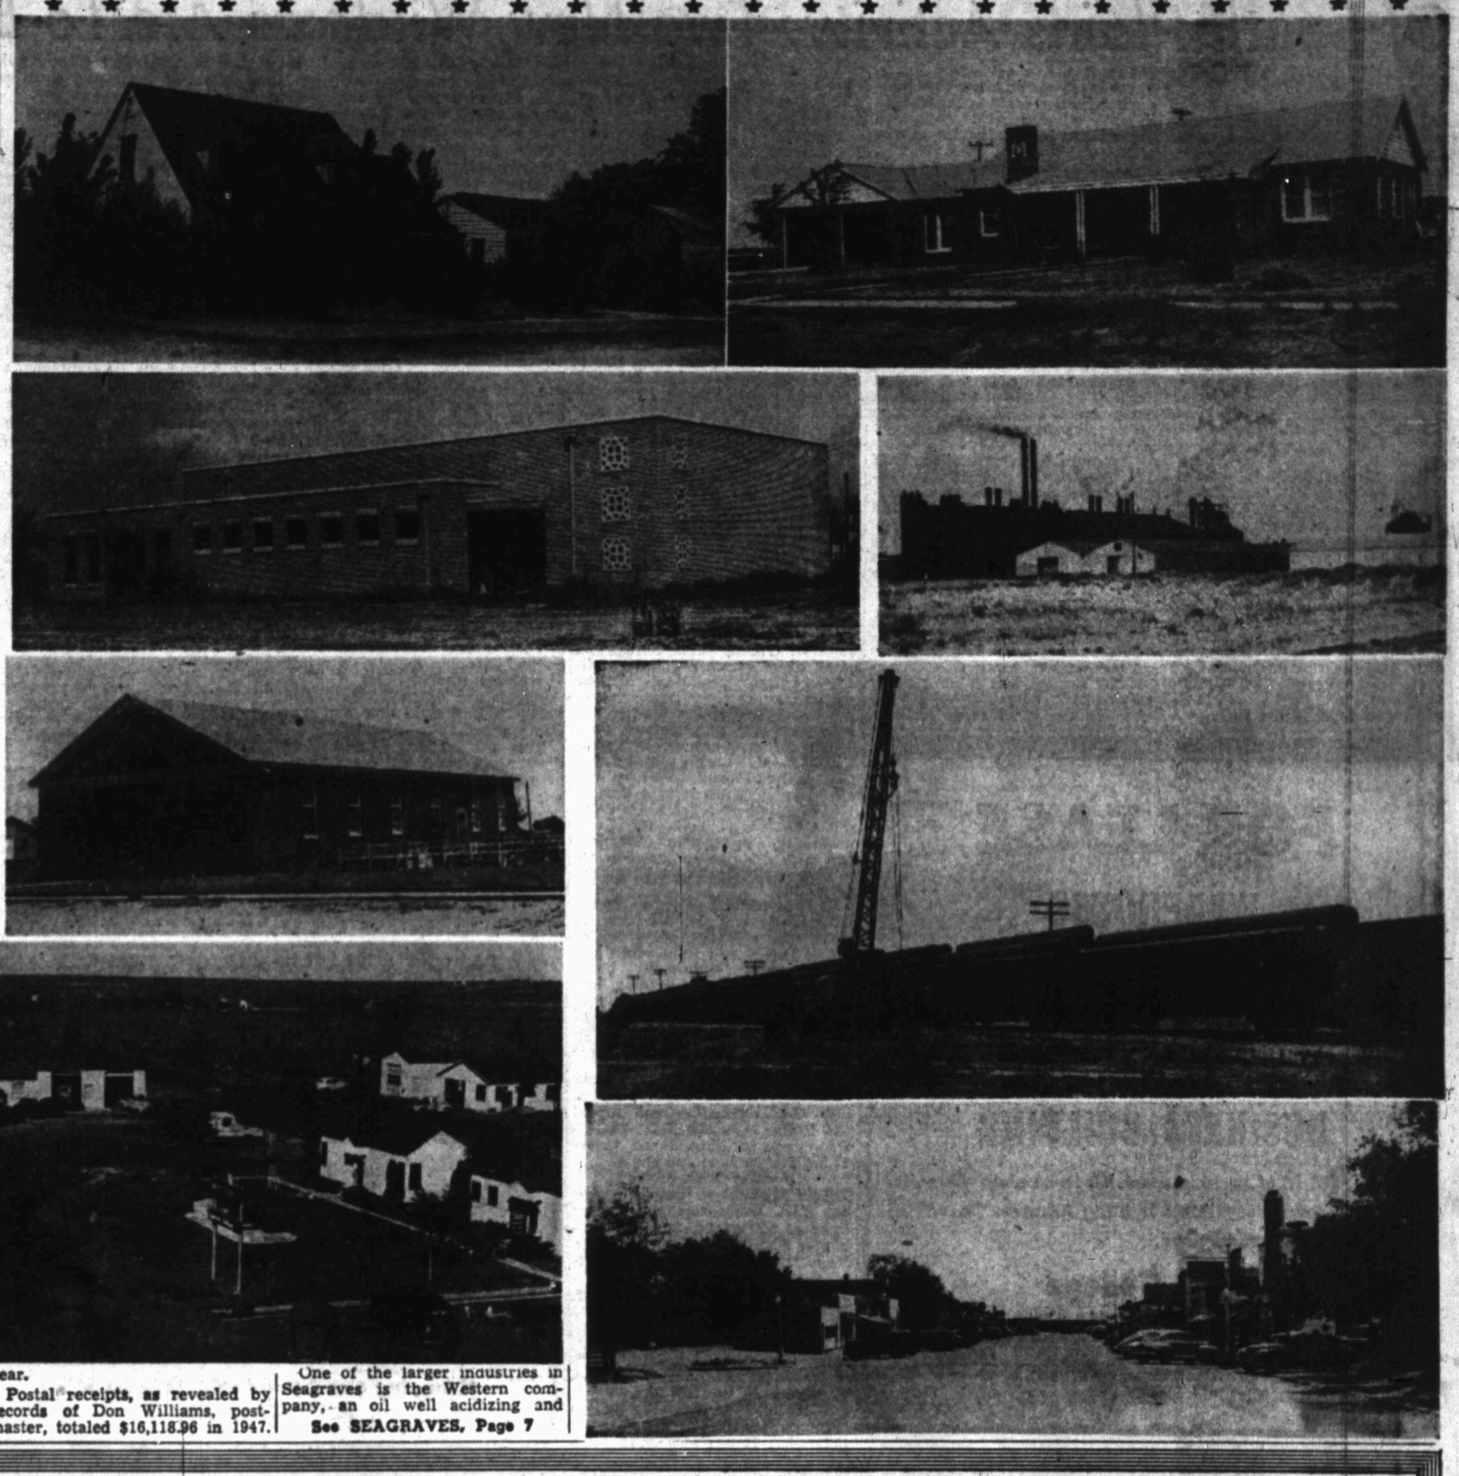

Seagraves had approximately $275,000 in building permits last year.

One of the larger industries in Seagraves is the Western company, an oil well acidizing and

Oil Exploration In Gaines County Area During Week Highlight Of South Plains Activity; Two New Wildcats Are To Be Started

DEVELOPMENTS in Gaines county highlighted the oil exploration activity on the South Plains during the last week. Two new deep wildcat locations were made in Northwest Gaines and a prospector in south-central Gaines flowed 117 barrels of oil on a two-hour drill-stem test.

Argo Oil corporation is to start drilling immediately on two new wildcats—both to go to possible depths of 11,500 feet to explore into the Devonian.

Two New Ventures

Argo No. 1-B Jones, 465 feet from south and west lines of the north half of the south half of section 31, block AX, psl survey. It is one mile west and one-half mile south of Argo No. 1-N Jones, a deep project drilling below 10,500 feet in lime and chert at the present.

Argo No. 1-C Jones is to be 660 feet from south and west lines of the lease in section 32, block AX, psl survey. That makes it one and three-quarter miles northwest of the No. 1-N Jones.

New Argo Indicated

Shell Oil company, Inc., No. 1 Hawkins, 15 miles south of Seminole and two and one-half miles south of the Robertson field, in south-central Gaines county, took a drillstem test in the lower Clear Fork of the Permian at 7,103-240 feet, and has indicated that it will open a new producing area.

The tool was open two hours. There was a strong blow of air immediately. Gas came to the surface in 15 minutes and continued throughout the remainder of the test.

Recovery was 5,100 feet of fluid, or a total of 117 barrels, estimated at 76 barrels of straight oil and 41 barrels of gas cut oil. The petroleum was 31.5 gravity.

Expected To Continue

Open flowing bottom hole pressure was from 500 to 1,400 pounds. Shutin bottom hole pressure was built up to 2,900 pounds after fifteen minutes. The drill pipe unloaded six times while it was being pulled.

This slated 12,000-foot project was drilling below 7,263 feet in lime, and is expected to continue to the Ellenburger as originally scheduled.

Honolulu Oil Corporation, Gulf Oil Corporation and Atlantic Refining company staked an east offset to the discovery in the Homann gas area of Gaines county as No. 1-75 Thomas S. Riley estate. It is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 75, block G, WTRR survey.

Wildcat Is Drilling

In west-central Gaines county, Cities Service No. 2 Proctor, 1,980 feet from north and east lines of section 355, block G, CCSD&RGNG survey, was drilling below 6,027 feet in lime. This semi-wildcat venture is 10 miles west of Seminole and is a one-quarter of a mile stepout to the same owner's No. 1 Proctor, a wildcat producer completed recently.

Magnolia Petroleum company No. 1 Hicks, in extreme southeast Gaines county, and 660 feet from north and west lines of tract 16, league 273, Loving County School Land survey, had reached 5,776 feet in lime and was making more hole.

No Shows Reported

A drillstem test at 5,476-5,512 feet recovered 360 feet of drilling mud, and 1,000 feet of sulphur water with no shows of oil or gas.

In northeast Gaines county, Texas Gulf Producing company No. 1 Oil Development company fee, 660 feet from south and east lines of section 315, block G, CCSD&RGNG survey, had penetrated below 7,500 feet in lime and shale and was going ahead.

In central Yoakum county, six miles southwest of Plains, J. W. Murchison, et al, No. 1 Ellwood Fouts, was on a total depth of 8,013 feet in lime and shale, had moved off the rotary, and was shutdown for further orders. There is some possibility that it will be deepened at a later date.

It is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 575, block D, John H. Gibson survey. No signs of oil or gas were encountered in any of the formations drilled through.

Some Production Shown

In northeast Terry county, Seaboard Oil company of Delaware No. 1 E. M. Hinson, eight miles southeast of Meadow, was drilling ahead below 9,812 feet in lime.

This prospector has shown for some production from the Cisco lime of the upper Pennsylvanian, and is now being deepened to try to find production in the Ellenburger.

The southwest Terry county wildcat, Central Oil company of Tulsa No. 1 Myrtle May Scales Edwards, 440 feet from south and west lines of section 21, block C-36, psl survey, was drilling lime and 5,660 feet. It had no shows of oil or gas up until now in any of the horizons penetrated. It is contracted to go to 5,800 feet unless it gets oil above that depth.

The deep wildcat prospector in southeast Hockley county, Honolulu Oil corporation and Signal Oil & Gas company No. 1-24 Ellwood, was drilling ahead below 11,576 feet in lime and shale.

Hockley Test Slated

This Ellenburger test is located 660 feet from north and west lines of section 24, block 5, Wilbarger county school land survey. No signs of oil have been reported yet.

In east-central Hockley county, Honolulu No. 1-B-13 Ellwood, a southeast flanker to the discovery well for production from the Glorieta, had reached a total depth of 6,043 feet in lime and had been plugged back to 5,995 feet.

When this section was drilled through, it put 2,000 feet of oil in the hole. It has now been acidized with 6,000 gallons and is swabbing to clean out and test. It is expected that the well will be completed from this horizon as a producer from the Glorieta section of the middle Permian, the pay which produces in the discovery well for the Spade field.

This development is 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from east lines of section 13, block A, R. M. Thompson survey, and is about three and one-half miles north and west of Smyer.

Honolulu No. 2-A-13 Ellwood, 660 feet from the west and 1,980 feet from the north lines of section 13, block A, R. M. Thompson survey, was making more hole under 5,543 feet in lime. It is a one quarter of a mile stepout from the Spade producer, and is contracted to dig to about 6,000 feet.

Well Is Abandoned

In northeast Hockley county, H. L. Hunt No. 1 D. L. Schwab, 660 feet from south and west lines of labor 17, league 735, State Capital land survey, had reached a total depth of 7,579 feet in dolomite and chert and had been plugged and abandoned. It had no shows of oil or gas in any zone drilled through.

The wildcat venture in east-central Hockley county, Woodley Petroleum company No 1 J. J. Alderson, et al, had penetrated below 4,583 feet in lime and was going ahead.

This exploration is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 10, block A, R. M. Thompson survey, and is about three miles northeast of the town of Smyer, and one mile west of the nearest completed well in the original Smyer field. It is scheduled to dig to about 6,300 feet.

Stanolind Oil & Gas company No. 2 Birtie T. Brown, a stepout from the Landon deep field in south-central Cochran county, was drilling under 10,180 feet in lime and shale.

This slated 11,600-foot semi-wildcat is 2,655 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 4, block L, psl survey.

Swabbing, Testing Slated

The southeast Cochran county wildcat prospector, Honolulu No. 11-B Dean, 660 feet from north and west lines of the west 441.75 acres in the east three-quarters of league 89, Lipscomb county school land survey, was at a plugged back total depth of 5,105 feet and was swabbing and testing.

The latest gauge reported had it swabbing at the rate of 27 barrels of oil and 25 barrels of water in 12 hours. It is expected that it will take potential test within a short time and be completed as some sort of oil well.

It is 18 miles west of Sundown and two miles west of the nearest producers in the southwest side of the Slaughter field.

In southeast Parmer county, Sunray Oil corporation and Skelly Oil company No. 1 Kimbrough, in section 23, Doud and O'Keefe survey, was drilling in dolomite and chert at 7,603 feet. This project is 15 miles northeast of Muleshoe.

Sun Oil company No. 1 A. L. Harber, a new 10,000-foot wildcat in Castro county, 660 feet from north and east lines of section 8, block 2, W. E. Halsell sub-division, was on a total depth of 350 feet in the redbeds, and was waiting on cement on 16 inch casing set at 341 feet. It will drill the plug and drill ahead.

Stepout Completed

The southeast Dawson county venture Seaboard No. 2 Lee, 440 feet from north and east lines of section 47, block 34, T-5-N, T&P survey, had reached 5,728 feet in lime and shale and was going deeper. It is contracted to go to 10,600 feet to test into the Ellenburger.

In northeast Lubbock county, Amerada No. 1 Stribling, three and one-half miles northeast of Idalou, and 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 9, block D-7, psl survey, was drilling below 5,953 feet after a drillstem test at 5,836-953 feet.

The tester was open four hours, and the recovery was 180 feet of mud; 180 feet of mud cut salt water and an additional 3,440 feet of salt water.

Two semi-wildcat locations for oil exploration and the completion of a stepout from the discovery well for the Arick field, made the oil activity for the Anton-

PLANE NEARLY READY

LONDON. (AP)—The drapes will be taken off Britain's "New Look" aircraft, which is built of non-inflammable magnesium and has its propeller in the tail, at the Society of British Aircraft Constructors' flying display at Farnborough, Hampshire, in September. The plane, the Satellite, made by the Planet Aircraft Co., has a top speed estimated at 208 MPH with a cruising speed of 190 MPH. Its range is 1,000 miles with a full load, or 2,450 miles—equivalent to an Atlantic crossing—with only the pilot.

There are 20 million sewing machines active in homes throughout the country.

Indictments Returned Against County School Superintendent

LONGVIEW, Aug. 28. (AP)—Five indictments were returned by the Gregg county grand jury yesterday against Mrs. Bertha D. Allen, who for ten years has been Gregg county superintendent of schools.

Three of the indictments charged perjury. Two charged theft of over $50.

A bond of $1,000 was set on each indictment. Mrs. Allen posted $5,000 in bond with the Gregg county sheriff's office yesterday.

A petition was filed by the Gregg county district attorney Aug. 13 in 124th district court asking the immediate temporary removal of Mrs. Allen from her office.

A hearing on that petition was scheduled originally for Aug. 30, but the hearing was continued until Sept. 13 on a motion by Fred Erisman, attorney for the defendant.

Garfield Is Much Happier Now

By GENE HANDSAKER
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 28.—John Garfield doesn't realize it himself, but he's a considerably happier man than he used to be. He's still at times smoldering, tense, scowling, nervous. His wall of reserve is still up, but its windows light up more readily with a smile. His on-guard air melts more easily into kidding. John was surprised at the whole notion when I brought it up. He grinned. "Maybe age has mellowed me."

GARFIELD

More likely it is success that has relaxed him. Success and an independent status that permits him, at 35, to follow a long-dreamed-of arrangement from now on: Six months a year in movies and six months on the Broadway stage. "I'm a real ham," John told me. "I want to die in the theater or on a sound stage." Suppose some unpredictable circumstance made it impossible for him to continue acting? "Then I'd teach acting." Acting, John explains, is "the way I get my kicks. Why should I conform? I believe in doing what you want to do as long as it doesn't hurt other people."

Is Own Boss

The black-haired, onetime Bronx newsboy spent seven years under contract to Warner Brothers. Now he's his own boss, co-owner with Producer Bob Roberts and Director Abraham Polonsky of Roberts Productions, Inc. John is finishing his second role for the company, that of a crooked lawyer in "The Numbers Racket." His first was in "Body and Soul." A few months ago John starred in "Skipper Next to God" for the Experimental Theater in New York. He took the role, at $80 a week to start, because he liked the play. It was scheduled for a week but ran five months. During that time, Garfield could be seen on four New York screens in different movies. One was "Body and Soul," for which he was nominated this year for an Oscar.

After co-starring with Jennifer Jones in "Rough Sketch" for another film producer this summer, John returns to Broadway. Possibly for a revival of Ibsen's "Peer Gynt." When he came back here from his latest New York venture, a friend remarked to John that he looked well. "Man, I've been on the stage!" was John's explanation.

Will Osborne Will Play Wednesday At Cotton Club Here

Will Osborne, orchestra leader, vocalist and song writer, will bring his orchestra to Lubbock for an engagement at the Cotton club Wednesday night.

Osborne's orchestra has always featured smooth, rhythmic music. He has played some swing music in deference to patrons prefrring it, but has avoided the blatant, ear splitting type.

He has filled engagements at New York's Glen Island Casino, Hotel New Yorker, Hotel Pennsylvania, Chicago's Blackhawk, Aragon and Trianon ballrooms, Edgewater Beach hotel, Dallas' Baker and Adolphus hotels, New Orleans' Claridge and Roosevelt hotels, San Francisco's Palace hotel and others.

He also had been a theater headliner and has been featured at New York's Paramount, Strand, Roxy and State, Washington's Capitol, Detroit's Downtown, Chicago's State and Chicago and others.

As a song writer, his tunes have included "Beside an Open Fireplace," "Pompton Turnpike," "Between 18th and 19th on Chestnut Street," "Mumble Jumble" and "Wouldst Could I But Kiss Thy Hand, Oh Babe."

WILL OSBORNE

Admission Wednesday night will be $2.00 each, tax included.

An out-of-court property settlement was approved. Its terms were not disclosed.

The Houses were married in Rockingham, Vt., in March, 1940. They separated in March, 1947.

Hollywood On The Loose...

Facts And Fancies About Cinemaland

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 28 — Exclusively Yours: I finally caught up with Ava Gardner, who has been ducking the press ever since Kathleen Winsor quoted Artie Shaw as saying, "I kicked Ava several times and she responded nobly."

JOHNSON

M-G-M said Ava was at Laguna. I tracked her down at the Ojai Valley Inn (opposite direction) The dialogue, by telephone.

"DID he ever kick you?"

"No. The only thing he kicked was my copy of 'Forever Amber.' He said I shouldn't read such trash, and threw it out of the house."

Now, now, girls.

Merle Oberon and Paul Muni will co-star in "The Woman With 100 Faces" for producer Boris Morros.

NO ROAD FOR FAYE

FAYE EMERSON refused to go on the road and withdraws from "The Play's the Thing" on Broadway Oct. 1. They're paging Ilona Massey to replace her . . . Everett Riskin, producer of "Julia Misbehaves," now owns a portrait of Greer Garson in tights (the same outfit she wears in the picture).

There's no argument about it —Rita Hayworth is the greatest Carmen of them all. I think you'll agree after you see "The Loves of Carmen." Wow!

Add birth pains of television: A local show called "Armchair Detective" dramatizes a crime which the armchair detectives are asked to solve. Not long ago the crime was in a carnival. The young lady on the stage, according to the script, was really sawed in half. But after the dastardly deed, the television cameraman made a horrible mistake. Instead of moving his camera to the puzzled armchair detectives, he pointed it at the attractive victim—arranging her hair as she climbed out from under the saw.

Ex-Hungarian Baroness Lisa Kincaid, now a Conover model, will serve as consultant on the filming of "I Was a Male War Bride." She was an American spy during the war . . . There's now a ceiling on film budgets at Paramount. Hollywood gradually is awakening to the cold fact that you can't spend more than you'll get back.

Elsa Lanchester is writing a piece for an English magazine about her experiences acting in "The Bride of Frankenstein." Title of the piece: "I Remember Monster."

TOO LITTLE, TOO LATE

KIRK DOUGLAS is burning. He was advised against "The Best Things in Life Are Free" because the role wasn't big enough. So what happens? James Mason accepts the part.

Bored writer after a preview: "It's just another cops and robbers story. Outside of the general public, nobody will go to see it."

Alan Ladd may never live it down. Paramount made a deal in Chicago to borrow a local apartment house for a quick shot in "One Woman." The owner, a Marjorie Main type, agreed to it on condition she'd be introduced to Alan. After the scene, they were introduced.

"Ah," groaned the lady, "he's not my type."

Theater Group Sets Dates For Casting

Casting for "You Can't Take It With You," which is to be presented by Lubbock Little Theatre Oct. 4 in Senior High school auditorium, will take place at 8 o'clock Thursday and Friday nights in the district courtroom on the second floor of the courthouse.

Mrs. Charles Cobb, director of the Little Theater, who has been visiting in Ireland, is expected to return Thursday morning and to be present both nights. If she does not arrive, a committee will supervise the readings and choose persons to return later.

All persons interested in trying out for parts were asked to be present.

A dual cast will be chosen. Characters needed for each cast include a person to serve in the rule of "grandpa," preferably someone 65 to 70 years old; two middle-aged men and two middle-aged women; a young couple to play a romantic role; young married couple, the girl to be a dancer; someone to play the role of a Russian ballet teacher, and male and female to play part of negro characters.

Casting was discussed at a meeting of the board of directors of the Little Theater Thursday night, with Mrs. C. C. Caldwell, first vice president, presiding.

Matador Schools Reported Ready To Open September 6

MATADOR, Aug. 27. (Special) —Matador schools will start Monday, Sept. 6, and the faculty is complete, Bert Ezell, superintendent, has announced.

Registration for high school students will be held Friday, Sept. 3.

T. E. Ernest of Oklahoma City has been named principal to succeed Vance Gilbreath, who moved to Ralls. J. E. Edwards is elementary principal.

Knowing Where Truth Begins Is Big Problem In Hollywood

By RUTH BRIGHAM
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 28—Most difficult thing in Hollywood today—even more than making good movies—is knowing where press agenting ends and the truth begins.

There are several hundred press agents all bent on keeping their clients' names in the news, and they'll go to any length to accomplish their purpose—for which they are paid by each client approximately $200 per week!

And if the press agents want their clients names in the columns they want 'em even more so in the local columns. For Hollywood is just a little town, after all, where everybody is trying to impress everybody else.

Columnists Classified

You people in the precincts make up the box office that makes up the profits, but the Hollywood folks are far more interested in having their doings chronicled locally than in your home town papers.

And that's why the press agents have columnists divided into three classes:

1. The sky's the limit columnist. Nothing's too good for him because his column is used in the Hollywood area. He gets first choice of news—plus flattering attention.

2. The always-good-for-a-meal-on-the-expense-account columnist 'cause his column (or hers) make the big out-of-town papers. He gets second news choice.

3. The buy-him-a-milkshake-what-the-heck columnist because he makes the little papers, or represents one or two papers not in metropolitan areas. He gets the crumbs.

But their slogan is "make the locals at any cost." Then Louis B. Mayer, who is trying to impress Darryl Zanuck and vice versa can read of each others achievements . . . and Rita Hayworth, who wants Lana Turner to know she's just as glamorous and gets around, likes to see the fact heralded in the morning and afternoon papers.

Which brings one to the hard-cold fact that astute and overzealous press agents don't confine themselves to the truth, and a conscientous columnist is just as well off without their little gems.

To wit:

Not too long ago a Hollywood columnist carried this item in her column: "Ann Miller and Tiny Boswell are that way about each other."

This bothered Mike Romanoff who knows practically everyone in the movie colony. So he set out to learn more about this Tiny Boswell.

After three days, he succeeded.

The name, one a hard-pressed press agent picked in the belief that he'd be safe, belonged to a horse!

Capsule comments:

Greta Garbo got bold and showed her face at the Hotel Del Coronado last week, whefe she vacationed . . . Mickey Rooney's "Hollywood Showcase," heard on CBS every Sunday, has been responsible for 19 entertainers getting jobs . . . Dinah Shore left for Europe this week with trunksfull of clothes designed to wow 'em as she does her stint at the Palladium—Says they're the first new things she's had since the birth of Melissa a few months ago . . . The going away party for Steve Crane had at least two girls to every man—Someone had decided there'd be feminine shortage and asked too many girls, who all showed up . . . Not-a-forgotten-time-ago Diana Lynn bandaged a completely sound finger so she wouldn't be called on to play the piano at a party, which such performers as Dorothy Kirsten, Sigmund Romberg and Rhonda Fleming performed graciously . . . Gossip has died down about a rift between Ingrid Bergman and her husband, Dr. Peter Lindstrom, who has become her adviser—Doing a good job, too . . . Six-year-old Ginger Prince will have a starring role in "One Too Many," a semi-documentary on alcoholism. No, she isn't the alcoholic . . . Universal is suing Deanna Durbin for more than $87,000 for alleged indebtedness to the studio . . .

The Taxpayer Always Loses; Clark Reverses His Stand On Red Spy Probe

Federal Aid Costly

WHEN taxpayers hear talk, as they often do, about getting something "free" from the federal government, they should recall a report by the Bureau of Internal Revenue, late last week, that Texans paid $1,285,000,000 into the federal treasury last year. Remembering this officially reported fact should help anyone to maintain a sense of reality.

Figures on how much Texas got back from the federal government are not available. They seldom are. Washington does not like to report side-by-side figures, where they readily can be compared, on how much a particular state paid into the government and how much it got back.

But, even though figures are lacking, two statements can be made with absolute assurance as to their accuracy. The first is that Texans paid a great many more dollars to the federal government than they received from that source. The second is that they paid out a great deal more, in proportion to what they got back, than the great majority of states. When this or most of the other states have received, or do receive, any financial allocation of any kind from Uncle Sam, they merely are getting some—by no means all—of their own money back.

A case in point is the $300,000,000 Federal Aid to Education fund, for which vigorous lobbying continues in Washington. Texas supporters of this scheme have said a great deal about the several million dollars which might be allotted to the Lone Star State if the money is appropriated. But they don't say anything about the money Texas taxpayers would have to pay toward this new expense. Estimates are that Texas would be lucky if it got back 50 cents on each $1 paid in. And the federal education fund is considered typical of most of those from which political handouts come.

So, when residents of any state are told how much their state may get if Congress approves a particular appropriation, it always is pertinent to ask, insistently, "What will it cost to get that money?"

The honest answer to that question usually will show that most people in most states will pay in a great deal more than any grant their state possibly can receive. They almost certainly would obtain additional evidence of a truth long recognized by economists: That few things in government are as costly as the purported handout.

Save The Grain!

EFFORTS to arrange for suitable storage for the area's bumper crop of grain sorghums demand the cooperation of everyone who can assist. The problem is upon us. Experienced observers say the losses may run into millions of dollars unless storage is provided.

The Lubbock City commission and Chamber of Commerce are setting an excellent example in their efforts to obtain the release of many buildings at South Plains Army Air field for storage until the emergency is over. The indications are encouraging that their efforts will succeed. It would border upon criminal to allow those buildings to remain vacant while millions of bushels of grain rot upon the ground.

But the availability of those structures will not entirely solve the problem. Only the best efforts of farmers, farm organizations, business men and civic organizations, working closely together, offer real hope of holding losses to a minimum. The encouraging indication of the past few days has been that more people who might help are becoming aware of the seriousness of the threat and already are making progress toward averting it.

A soft job is the kind the other fellow always has.

"Giving a man a square meal never made an enemy of him," declares a congressman. No, but give him 100 square meals and then stop feeding him, and he'll hate you for life.

"We are the posterity our grandfathers worried about," asserts an editor. And were they psychic!

GOP FAILS TO GAIN ALTHOUGH DEMOS DROP SLIGHTLY

Midwest Farm Area Shows Little Change In Survey

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., August 28.—The West Central states, most Republican section of the country in the last two presidential elections, are today the least Republican section outside the South.

The farming states that make up the West Central section show a political pattern different from the rest of the country. Whereas nationally the Republicans are running much stronger today than they did in 1944, the West Central states form one section where Governor Dewey stands about the same today as he did four years ago, when he ran against Mr. Roosevelt.

GALLUP

Farm prosperity and high prices for farm products undoubtedly have had an effect. Although the area was the first big region to show a marked defection from President Roosevelt, beginning as early as 1936, the defection slowed down markedly as farm prices improved. Governor Dewey leads in the West Central section as a whole, the Institute poll shows, but it is far from being one of his strongest sections.

POLITICAL sentiment in the West Central states is shown below, with the undecided vote included in the first column and excluded in the second. The states comprising the section are Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, Missouri, Minnesota, Wisconsin, North Dakota and South Dakota. Percentages are based on voters indicating that they plan to vote in November.

WEST CENTRAL SECTION
(As a Whole)

Dewey	48%	52%
Truman	42	45
Wallace	3	3
Undecided	7

These percentages apply to the whole West Central section without reference to state lines and should not be applied to any individual state within the section. Figures for each state in the area will be reported by the Institute during the next six weeks.

The trend of sentiment in the section in recent elections follows:

	Dem.	Rep.
1936	61%	39%
1940	49	51
1944	48	52
*TODAY	45	52

*Not shown is the Wallace vote of 3 per cent.

It will be seen that although Governor Dewey has not gained in his percentage of the total vote since 1944 in the section, the Democrats have lost 3 percentage points. This is because Henry A. Wallace draws virtually all his support in the section from former Democratic voters.

One significant thing about the Mid-West farm vote today is the contrast with the big city vote elsewhere in the country.

During the Roosevelt administration a wide breach developed between the farm vote and the big city vote. Farmers outside the South swung sharply away from the Democratic party between 1936 and 1940 while the big cities, although they showed some shift, remained overwhelmingly Democratic.

Today the opposite tendency is seen. The big cities as a whole show a trend away from the Democratic party, while Midwest sentiment remains comparatively stable.

Cities of 500,000 population show a Republican gain from 39 per cent in 1944 to 47 per cent today. The other 53 per cent is split between President Truman and Mr. Wallace, with Mr. Truman getting 40 per cent and Mr. Wallace 13 per cent.

Looking At Life - - - - - By Erich Brandeis

IN yesterday's column I had an item about Joe, the Hollywood chimpanzee who is going to be phychoanalyzed because he has been brooding of late.

I called the item a press agent stunt because it was sent to me by a press agent.

But today there is a long story in my paper telling about a very serious seminar that is being conducted by phychologists from various universities for the purpose of studying "animal behavior."

"Each morning finds monkeys pulling strings to get grapes", says the story, "elephants playing a version of the old shell game to get apples"—and so forth.

From what I get out of the story, the only important fact the scientists have discovered so far is that the females do all the work and then the males go ahead and take whatever their mates worked for.

I don't know just why it is necessary to hold any elaborate seminars to discover that. If any of the professors are married, their wives can certainly tell them, and have probably many times told them, the same thing—"I work all day like a slave while you spend a few pleasant hours in your office, most likely with a blonde secretary on your lap."

However, that isn't what brought on this column.

The thing that occurs to me is how funny it would be if a group of monkeys and other animals could hold a seminar on human behavior and let us know their findings.

It seems to me that the human being would make a very interesting study, particularly if the students were less biased than human students are about their own species.

FOR instance, would it not be very interesting to have some Simian psychologists delve into the feminine mind and find out why the dear ladies wear the kind of hats they are wearing and why the lady with a mink coat considered herself so much superior to her sister-in-sex who can afford only a muskrat.

Another phenomenon that has always caused me much wonder is why women paint their fingernails and even their toenails red and why they let their nails grow until they look more like claws than human nails.

There are many more important things about the human race which may well interest our monkey professors.

Give a monkey enough bananas and he is happy and will mind his own business.

Give him a wife and he'll stick to her.

But the human being—give him twice as many bananas as he knows what to do with, but he'll want more. Let him have the nicest wife he can possible be entitled to and he'll go out and cheat.

Why? I don't know and no psychologist has ever given us the real reasons for all these funny quirks of human behavior.

With all the trouble going on in this world it is high time that some qualified body of experts finds the explanation.

Our scientists have done so little with their knowledge to improve the world. Why not let the monkeys have a turn.

HE FOLLOWS ADVICE

Old Scandal Recalled

By ROBERT S. ALLEN
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—An old friend's blunt advice was behind Attorney General Tom Clark's sudden offer to the Senate investigating committee to talk over its demand for government employee loyalty records.

On Clark's say-so, President Truman refused to make these files available to congressional probers. The dispute has become a red-hot political issue. Clark's offer to reopen the matter with the Senate committee is a complete reversal of attitude.

Clark's friend characterized the administration's stand as an tactical blunder. To prove his point, he cited the famout Teapot Dome scandal.

The late Sen. Tom Walsh, Mont., demanded access to government records on Attorney General Harry Daugherty. The Republican administration flatly refused. Walsh forced a sensational expose that rocked the country, sent one cabinet member, Interior Secretary Albert Fall, to prison, and provided the Democrats with sizzling campaign ammunition for years.

Clark's answer to this counsel was that a federal grand jury had investigated the Communist "spy" charges for two years and failed to hand down any indictments.

"Then why didn't you send J. Edgar Hoover up to Congress to tell them that?" the friend retorted. "He is an uncompromising foe of Communists, and he has a high standing in Congress. They would take his word that the evidence did not warrant prosecution of these people. As it is now, the country thinks you're hiding something and that crowd on the hill is running wild with a lot of headline stuff that won't stand up in the end."

After thinking it over, Clark decided his friend made sense. The offer to the Senate investigators followed shortly thereafter.

Strange Tricks

Sen. Homer Capehart's committee on trade policies is up to some strange tricks.

Ostensibly, the committee is conducting a study of the effect on industry of the Supreme court's decision wiping out the long hotly assailed freight-rate basing-point system. But evidence is piling up that the millionaire Indianan is actually engaged in secretly laying the ground for jamming a bill through the next Congress to "repeal" the decision and to again legalize the basing point.

Here is some of this evidence:

A large proportion of an advisory body set up by Capehart is made up of high officials of steel, cement and other big corporations that opposed wiping out the basing point.

Certain members of the Capehart committee's staff have appeared before the Interstate Commerce Commission in rate cases against little concerns. These operations are being investigated by Sen. Joe O'Mahoney, D., Wyo., in preparation for a public blast.

Capehart has put out a number of press releases quoting anonymous "small" businessmen demanding legislation to undo the Supreme court decision. This sort of propaganda is very unusual for a Senate committee, particularly one supposed to be making an objective study.

Until he was made chairman of the trade policies committee, Capehart had not evinced any special interest in the welfare of small business. He has a practically unbroken voting record to the contrary. His sub-rosa committee activities would indicate he has not changed his "spots."

A GROUP of newsmen were discussing the amazing unpredictability of Sen. William Langer. The hefty North Dakotan holds all congressional records on that score. Sid Hooper, crack managing editor of the Fargo, N. D., Forum, related this personal experience with Langer.

"I ran into him at a political meeting," Hooper related, "and he gave me a big gladhand. He put his arm around my shoulder and asked very solicitously about my health and my family. You'd think, we were long lost brothers. But when he got up to speak, he pointed me out to the crowd and then gave me a terrific tongue lashing. To hear him, I was his worst enemy, yet, not over 10 minutes before, he all but kissed me.

New Drive

Brace yourself for a new splatter of propaganda to boost the price of gold. The British are planning to use next month's meeting of the international monetary fund to uncork such a drive.

London has been agitating for an increase a long time. A year ago, Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin made international headlines with a speech calling on the U. S. "to redistribute its Fort Knox gold because the metal is doing nothing." Bevin has never explained what he meant by "redistribute," but the British have made no bones they would like to persuade us to jack-up our 14-year-old $35 an ounce gold price.

Chief argument they will use in the new drive is that a boost would swell the value of their gold holdings and thereby speed European recovery. On its face, it sounds good.

But the other side of the picture is very different an increase would have terrific inflationary impact in the U. S., where prices already are sky-high. That, in turn, would inevitably have a disastrous effect on world economic stability. But labor government deep-thinkers still insist a gold boost would be good business for Britain.

THE ladies' shoe industry is doing its bit to cope with the high cost of living—and at the same time to increase its sales. The industry is stressing plain pumps in its fall lines. These shoes are less expensive than more elaborate styles and, also, pumps are a stable mode and can be worn for a number of seasons. It all works out very nicely for everybody.

Good Breaks

The President will get two political breaks today and tomorrow. The executive board of Americans for Democratic Action, meeting in Chicago today, will formally endorse him, and, tomorrow, the executive board of the CIO will do the same in Washington. Neither organization favored his nomination. They preferred General Eisenhower or Supreme Court Justice O. Douglas.

While belatedly endorsing the President, neither organization will be overly enthusiastic about it. Both will make it clear they are doing so on the basis of the Democratic platform. Also, in the forthcoming campaign, they will concentrate on congressional and state contests.

Things could be worse. Just suppose everyone had to share a room with a fresh air fiend.

A politician is a man who can be generous with the taxpayers money.

CALDWELL'S SOUTHLAND AGAIN

"This Very Earth" Pretty Tawdry

"THIS VERY EARTH," by Erskine Caldwell; (Duell, Sloan and Pearce).

ERSKINE CALDWELL in his tenth and latest novel "This Very Earth" takes another cast of backcreek Southerners whom he hates so well and puts them through a plot of comedy and pathos that makes good light reading but falls a little short of convincing the reader that they belong on the soil that nourished them.

Chism Crockett leaves the farm when his wife dies and takes his brood of noble daughters and weak sons with him, although it reduces the family to poverty and disgrace trying to support him.

The high point of humor is the relationship between Crockett and a mythical Southern congressman, Rep. Daniel Boone Blalock. The congressman offers Crockett a job if he will scotch the rumor that his daughter, Vickie, is a frequent midnight visitor in Blalock's hotel room.

All Pretty Tawdry

A few weeks later Crockett drinks the congressman's liquor, kicks him affectionately in the rear and tells him that he has stopped the rumor by telling everyone in town that it was not Vickie but another woman that Blalock, a married man, has been cavorting around with.

It's all pretty tawdry and four-lettered.

"When a family starts quarrelling among themselves like we've done," says Grandpa Crockett, the benign spirit of the fable, "the wise thing to do is to break it up into as many pieces as there are human beings, and let each of them go their own way." And, he might have added, a whole lot sooner.

"I Shook The Hand . . ."

"I SHOOK THE HAND . . ." by [illegible]

HAROLD V. RATLIFF, member of the Associated Press staff at Dallas who specializes in sports but doubles in regular news throughout most of every day, has fulfilled a cherished dream of a newspaperman—he has written a book.

His book, "I Shook The Hand . . ." is a man's story of his idols of sports. In the book, Ratliff brings you an array of sports stories, both of feats and personalities. He writes from the viewpoint of the fan and not of the expert. He tells of 25 years of reporting the achievements and the color of athletic greats who have touched him indelibly in his sports writing career.

Has Absorbing Stories

In this volume are absorbing stories of athletes and kindred personalities, each a chapter in the great American world of sports. You will get a new insight into some events which have startled the nation. Here are some of the personalities you will read about: Dizzy Dean, Francis Schmidt, Ben Hogan, Amos Alonzo Stagg, Babe Didrikson, Dana X. Bible, John King, Tris Speaker, Byron Nelson, Big Boy Kraft, Jake Atz, Jinx Tucker, Satchel Paige, Jesse Owens, Cecil Grigg, Daniel Allen Penick, Frank Bridges, Billy Disch, Morris Frank, K. L. Berry, Jerry Thompson, Tex Jeanes, Boody Johnson, Dusty Boggess, Cawthon, Monty Stratton, Jess Willard, J. Walter Morris.

Ratliff titles his chapter on Cawthon: "Football's Worst Loser" and re-tells many of the tales about the former Texas Tech coach. He also pays a high tribute to Cawthon's fighting spirit.

His most dramatic story in the book is about the Lubbock Westerners, who won the state interscholastic league football championship in memory of their dead coach, the late Weldon Chapman, who died in mid-season.

His favorite athlete was Byron Nelson, the Lord of the Links. His most colorful character was Francis Schmidt. But he wouldn't surrender the rememberance of a single athlete who through the years brought millions of words from his typewriter to flow over the Associated Press wires.

"I never saw a man who followed sports who ever grew old," he says. "They die just like other people, but they die young in mind and spirit. The weight of the years never bends them. I am as keen today about my idols of sport as I was back in the time when they seemed far away, when they were as mythiacl as Hercules, when I never dreamed I would shake the hand that shook the hand of the great John L."

Includes Sports Writers

The sports writers he has known also come in for their share of the glory. He tells of Jinx Tucker, the man of the prolific linotype, and of Morris Frank, the George Ade of the Bayou. And he quotes liberally from the colorful and dramatic stories the knights of the typewriter have pounded into the records of sport.

You'll find them all—the personalities that worm their way into your memory in the methods they take to fame, the men who stolidly attain the heights with their feats alone to speak for them.

Bill McClanahan, Dallas News sports cartoonist, embellishes the book with likenesses and cartoons which accompany the stories.

"Birdie Steen"

"BIRDIE STEEN," by Anne Crone; (Scribner's.)

BIRDIE is the orphan child of a disinherited Protestant father and a Catholic mother; it takes good Catholic Aunt Rose Anne to remind her of it sternly morning, noon and night. Rose Anne's more lenient husband Uncle James, who doesn't mind skipping mass every now and then is the one to assure Bridie that her mother was not after all a God-forsaken sinner.

But Uncle James, perhaps the most captivating character in this first novel, is too good for this world, or at least for Ireland, for after making us as fond of him as is Bridie herself, the author carries him off, and Aunt Rose Anne goes to work in a convent while Bridie is put out to service.

Gay, But Troubled Sprite

In the spotless cottage of Miss Anderson, with Jerem Ford as handyman, Bridie learns by direct contact about the people who, unlike her relatives, do not have to count every penny. Both Jerem and old Miss Anderson help the winsome, wraithlike girl to forget the loss of her uncle, and the carefree days spent dreaming and playing on the bog. At Miss Anderson's she meets William Henry Musgrave, who learns that her name is Steen, and that she is granddaughter to his aged Aunt Lisha and direct heir to the wide farmlands which the unforgiving grandmother had planned to leave him.

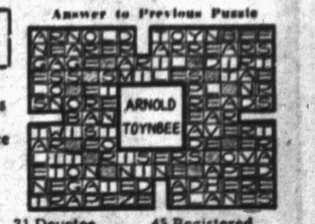

You will love Bridie, a gay but troubled sprite, and one of the most excruciatingly real things in this book is the child's asthma, which she tries pathetically to hide, from which she suffers frequently, and for which she seeks relief desperately in powders, pills, coughs and contortions. You will love Uncle James, be fascinated by Aunt Lisha, admire Miss Anderson, scorn Mr. Archer and Miss Josie.

Love, one of the principal themes, is turned into an unusually touching story in Miss Crone's hands. But love of God, and whether He should be approached in the Catholic or Protestant manner, lie at the heart of the novel; and out of this conflict which tries poor Bridie's soul arises the tragedy. It detracts little from the rest of this fine work if the tragedy falls just short of inevitable.

Church Group Will Accept Part Of Blame For Palestine Strife

By RICHARD TOMPKINS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 28 (AP) — Ecclesiastical leaders said today the World Council of Churches will go on record acknowledging the guilt of the Christian church for at least part of the racial strife over Palestine.

But the church will avoid any question of political opinion on the question, said Dr. Conrad Hoffman, who is secretary of the "Church and Israel" sub committee of the world council assembly. The committee is drafting recommendations on the Jewish question for submission at the plenary session of the council next week.

Church Must Feel Guilt

"We of the Christian church must feel our guilt in the fact that we have failed to solve the problem of anti-Semitism," Hoffman told newsmen.

"Christendom failed to prevent the annihilation of 6,000,000 Jews by Hitler—a third of the entire Jewish people," he said.

Hoffman, New York Presbyterian lay consultant at the world council, declared "we failed to provide any plans for the rescue of the Jews from Hitler."

"We thereby provoked the present pressure on Palestine."

Hoffman said he felt the Jewish question was "an inescapable problem for the church and I don't believe the council can evade it."

View Not Political

"I doubt whether the world council will go on record from a political point of view with respect to the Palestine problem," he said. "Our group has refused to express any political opinion on the question because it felt such an opinion was unwararnted from the church body.

"We have taken the position that the church, if it does anything in relief on behalf of refugees, will be impartial. If the church expresses an opinion on Palestine it will be from a humanitarian point of view.

"I believe the church will say at least that it is responsible for part of the Palestine problem."

Refugees Are Problem

He said there now are some 500,000 Arab refugees, most of them within 60 miles of their homes. If the United Nations could arrange for their return home, he said, this refugee problem would be solved.

Hoffman added that had adequate provision been made for resettlement of Jewish survivors of the Hitler regime, pressure on Palestine would not be so great.

He said he personally believed that it was not true that all the Jews in Palestine are ardent Zionists. They are that only by force of circumstances.

"Personally I have always opposed the establishment of a Jewish state," he said, "It would only mean more complications. Any nation would have a Jewish state as an alibi to rid itself of Jews."

FACTS ON PAVEMENT

MANILA. (AP)—Leonardo Manas is tired of living on a dusty street. Looking about Manila and noticing which streets were being paved and which were not, he got an idea. He has offered any cabinet member or bureau chief of the government one of his apartments. Lights, water, rent will be on Manas.

Already he reports, amid a flood of applications from lesser lights, a few from people who "may be productive of asphalt for our street."

Lutherans Will Hold Bible Study Meeting

Members of the South Plains congregations of the Lutheran church, Missouri Synod, will meet at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at Redeemer Ev. Lutheran church, Twenty-third and Ave. W, to conduct a Bible study workshop. The meeting will open with a brief devotion and Bible study conducted by the local pastor, Rev. Karl W. Keller.

The featured speaker will be Rev. Max Studtmann of Giddings, a member of the Board of Christian education of the Texas district, Missouri Synod. Rev. Studtmann will lead the assembly in a discussion on building better Bible classes.

Rev. E. H. Riese will present the Bible study program which this year is being launched throughout the Lutheran church, Missouri Synod. A discussion of problems confronting Bible classes in the local area will be directed by Rev. P. W Heckmann of Wilson. The closing devotion is in charge of Rev. N. Obermueller of Plainview.

Participating Lutheran church congregations will be St. Paul's of Plainview, Emmanuel of Littlefield, St. Paul's of Wilson, St. John's of Lariat, St. Paul's of Sparenberg and Redeemer Lutheran church of Lubbock.

Foursquare Church To Open Fellowship Rally On Monday

A three-district fellowship rally of the Foursquare church will open at the Lubbock church Monday, Rev. Floyd Dawson, Lubbock pastor, announced Saturday.

Speakers will be Rev. John Hall of Hale Center, superintendent of the Lubbock district, and Rev. Howard Stark, evangelist. Rev. Hall will speak Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at 10 a. m., and Rev. Stark will conduct the evening services at 8 o'clock.

The Lubbock, Wichita Falls and Concho districts are to participate.

Church Briefs

Evangelist J. P. Jones will preach at the Forty-Second Street Baptist church Sunday morning. The revival being conducted on Ave. L and Thirty-second street will close tonight.

Methodist Men's Coffee club will meet at 7 a. m. Tuesday in fellowship hall in First Methodist church. A five-minute devotion will be brought by a layman.

Rev. C. J. McCarty, pastor of Calvary Baptist church, left Friday for Hereford, where he will conduct a revival at the Avenue Baptist church. Rev. H. V. Fields is pastor.

service company. Starting on a small scale in 1939, the concern has grown into a million-dollar industry under leadership of its owner, H. E. Chiles, jr.

Argo Oil company maintains offices in Seagraves.

It is estimated that 50 per cent of the oil field workers in the Denver City area live in Seagraves.

Seagraves is pushing a projected county park which would be located midway between Seagraves and Seminole. A petition for a bond election is being circulated.

According to tentative plans, the park would include a playground, tennis courts, barbecue pits, picnic grounds and a nine-hole golf course.

The chamber of commerce is one of the most aggressive organizations that works for the betterment of Seagraves.

Its officers are Gene Day, president; M. W. Jones, executive secretary; L. M. McAdoo, Bryan Brewster, C. W. Lyle, Dr. Chas. A. Pigford, Claude Hearne, J. H. Pillow, Horace Taylor, C. M. Armstrong and J. G. Thornhill, directors.

Dry weather has lessened prospects for a good crop in the Seagraves area this year. Local ginners anticipate a total of 4,200 to 4,500 bales to be ginned this fall in Seagraves gins. The Seagraves area also raises feed crops.

The Columbian Carbon company, which operates one of the two carbon blac plants near Seagraves, has announced plans for an expansion program which will double the capacity of the plant west of Seagraves.
