County Voters Go To Polls Tuesday

Tuesday, Howard County residents, like their fellows all over the state, will go to the polls to express their approval and disapproval of the candidates who seek to be their public servants.

At the same election, the voters will approve or thumb down 14 proposed amendments to Texas' already many-times amended constitution. (See Page 5-A.)

The big race, in the matter of interest on a state basis, is the contest for governor. This time, Texas voters have been subjected to an intensive, hard-hitting drive by both Democratic and Republican leaders—different in many ways from other races where the Democratic label has been tantamount to election.

The test is whether the efforts of the GOP in behalf of Jack Cox have been as effective as their leaders claim.

BIG INTEREST

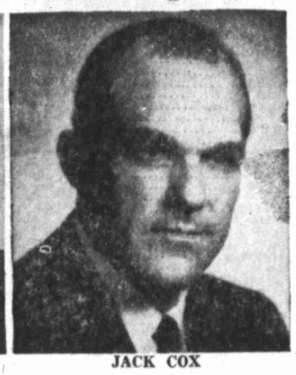

Here in Howard County, usually regarded as solidly Democratic, the outcome of this race will provide the greatest interest in the election.

John Connally, Democratic gubernatorial candidate, was not the favorite of Howard County voters in the primary election. Don Yarborough, who lost out statewide, was a better than two-to-one choice of local Democrats.

No good basis for a guess on the vote total is available. It used to be, according to many observers, the total vote could be predicted by the size of the absentee vote. This time, absentee voting reached 227 votes. In the primary there were 393 absentee ballots and a total vote of 6,300. There were 518 absentee votes for the general election in 1960.

JOHN CONNALLY

JACK COX

It seems to be the consensis of observers that somewhere around 5,000 would be a high on Tuesday vote turnout in this country. The books show a potential total vote in the county of 9,567 but not even the most enthusiastic campaign manager for any candidate looks for any such turnout.

Voting begins in the 16 boxes at 8 a.m. and closes at 7 p.m.

LONG LIST

The election will settle the political destinies of a long list of office seekers.

The candidates for governor are: John Connally (D); Jack Cox (R); Jack Carswell (Constitution).

Candidates for lieutenant governor are: Preston Smith, (D); Bill Hayes (R).

Candidates for attorney general are Waggoner Carr (D); T. Everton Kennerly (R).

Candidates for congressman at large: Joe Pool (D) and Des Barry (R).

Candidates for railroad commissioner: Ben Ramsey (D); Bernold M. Hanson, (R).

Candidates for comptroller of public accounts: Robert S. Calvert (D); Mrs. Hargrove Smith (R); Joseph M. Rummler (C).

Candidates for commissioner general land office: Jerry Sadler (D); Albert F. Fay, (R).

Candidates for commissioner of agriculture: John C. White (D); Harry Hubbard (R).

The only other race of local concern in which there is Republican opposition to the Democratic standard bearer is the contest for congressman for the 19th district. George Mahon, veteran Democratic member from this district, is opposed by Republican Dennis Taylor.

NO OPPOSITION

County and township office candidates were nominated at the run-off primary and have no opposition. Their election is a formality.

The same applies to Esco Walter, candidate for court of civil appeals, 11th district; William H. Evans, member of the state board of education, 19th district; and David Ratliff, senator, 24th Senatorial district.

Other unopposed candidates include, Ralph W. Caton, judge of the 118th District Court; Ed J. Carpenter, State Representative, 78th District; Wade Choate, District Court clerk; Lee Porter, County Judge; Pauline Petty, County Clerk, Frances Glenn, County Treasurer; Walker Bailey, County Superintendent; Ralph Baker, County Surveyor; Jess Slaughter, justice of the peace, Precinct 1, Place 2; Lee E. Young, constable, Precinct 1; Dutch Cowley, justice of the peace, Precinct No. 3; Jim Miller, constable, Precinct No. 3; William A. Hunter, justice of the peace, Precinct No. 2; R. C. Nichols, County Commissioner, Precinct No. 2; and L. J. Davidson, County Commissioner, Precinct No. 4.

Reviewing The

Big Spring Week

With Joe Pickle

Churchill once said of England that ". . . this was their finest hour." It's pardonable to borrow the phrase just for the weekend to apply it to our football team in its game Friday evening. It's not so much that the lads won an upset victory but they came back so grimly and confidently after being all but flattened by two lightning strikes in the first five minutes. We've seen some fine ball clubs here over the years, but never one that came as near to delivering 100 per cent of its potential as this one.

* * *

For the time football pushed politics off the center stage, but politics warmed on the eve of the general election on Tuesday. The week brought several candidates and personalities to town, among them Rep. George Mahon and his opponent Dennis Taylor; Sen. John Tower, who came with Taylor; and John Connally, Democratic nominee for governor. With interest livening, it is to be hoped there will be a large turnout at the polls on Tuesday.

Slightly Warmer Weather Expected

By The Associated Press

Slightly warmer weather is expected over much of Texas Sunday except for continued crispness in the Panhandle and slightly lower readings in that region.

Skies remained partly cloudy Saturday over the north central and northeastern sections but fair elsewhere. The Weather Bureau described temperatures as "rather cool" except in the extreme southern sections.

Afternoon temperatures ranged from 52 degrees at Tyler and Texarkana to 77 degrees at McAllen.

UNITED FUND

United Fund Leaps Ahead

The United Fund effort made a $3,000 leap forward at week's end, but leaders were urging their volunteers to begin wrapping up the campaign.

The contact workers have brought in $82,678.83 in gifts toward this year's goal of $103,324. Although several divisions are nearing their campaign goals, none has gone over the top so far. Several sections within the divisions have exceeded their goals.

A large number of contact cards are out and these are being sought at headquarters.

"We need a report on every outstanding card," Jack Smith, campaign co-chairman, said last week. "If we can get in these reports, we will know where we stand in the drive." On that note, canvassers were urged to report on their cards at the earliest moment.

The United Fund money goes toward the support of 13 welfare and youth guidance organizations, including the Salvation Army, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Summer Recreation Program, YMCA, Lakeview YMCA, Howard County Rehabilitation Center, Texas Rehabilitation Center, Texas United Fund, Air Force Aid Society, Westside Recreation Center, Red Cross, Milk and Ice Fund.

Refinery Hit By Explosion At Abilene

ABILENE, Tex. (AP)—An explosion set off a massive fire Saturday that swept into three oil storage tanks at the Debco Refinery before firemen brought it under control.

Two workmen escaped unhurt.

Hundreds of cars traveling U.S. 83, which runs adjacent to the refinery, were stopped by highway patrolmen as fear of another explosion prevailed.

Firemen from Abilene and Dyess Air Force Base prevented the blaze from spreading to explosive jet fuel and gasoline nearby. The fire was expected to burn itself out without causing further damage.

Company officials said no estimate of damage could be made immediately.

Almost at the same time, an explosion followed by a spectacular fire did several thousand dollars in damage to the Sinclair Oil and Gas Products plant near Sweetwater, 40 miles west of Abilene.

Investigators said the explosion was in a refrigeration compressor unit. The plant, near the Sweetwater Municipal Airport, is fully automated and no one was on duty at the time.

Storm Whips Atlantic Coast

By The Associated Press

A sea-born storm whipped the Atlantic Coast Saturday with winds up to 58 miles anouh, r winds up to 58 miles an hour, driving northward with high tides eating away beaches left unprotected by a northeaster eight months ago.

Inland, snow fell on Eastern mountains as far south as North Carolina.

Six traffic deaths—three in a Pennsylvania snow storm and three in rain in New York—were blamed, at least in part, on the weather.

The U.S. Weather Bureau warned the New England coast to buckle down for a battering by winds up to 65 m.p.h., only 9 m.p.h. short of hurricane force.

The storm grew from what was described as an extratropical low, a low-pressure system of the type that spawns hurricanes when developing farther south in the tropics.

At 6 p.m., the Weather Bureau reported the storm centered about 100 miles east of Atlantic City, N.J., moving northward toward New York's Long Island, at 20 m.p.h.

Whole gale warnings were displayed from Block Island, R.I., to Eastport, Me., gale warnings from the Virginia Capes to Block Island and over the Delaware Bay; and small craft warnings from Cape Hatteras, N.C., to the Virginia Capes and over the lower Potomac and Chesapeake Bay.

Balloon Recovered

BROWNWOOD, Tex. (AP) — A huge balloon, sent aloft to seeee if the sun is giving off neutrons and at what rate, was recovered on schedule Saturday 50 miles north of Atlanta, Ga.

The three million cubic foot balloon—about the size of a football field—was released at 4:18 a.m. Saturday. Recovery came at 4:30 p.m. Scientists termed the flight a success.

K Says Workers Will Bury U.S.

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev has told a Belgian parliament member American workers will eventually "dig capitalism's tomb."

"There are in the United States enough workers to bury capitalism," Khrushchev said. "They will do it and not me. And they will do it inspired by the Marxist-Leninist doctrine."

Khrushchev said that "capitalism will certainly be liquidated and replaced by communism" but expressed the belief that for the present the two should use the best in each other's economic system.

"We are ready to coexist," he said, "and reject forever the solution of disputed problems through the means of war."

DO WE GO?

(AN EDITORIAL)

We are at the hour of decision for this year's United Fund effort.

After more than a month of devoted activity on the part of many volunteers, the campaign is about $20,000 short of its requirement. If this sum is not raised within the next two weeks, then the UF will just about have to write off a failure. It is not justifiable to keep wasting valuable time and manpower if a fair share of the citizenship will not respond.

A failure is not, of course, in the historic tradition of Big Spring and Howard County. We are building a solid and wholesome community here, one in which those who are blessed with regular incomes are willing to help those in need, to guide youth programs, to sustain meritorious welfare work.

There is no need for a conscientious person to wait to "be contacted." You may call the United Fund office (AM 4-4308) and your subscription will be picked up. You may mail it to the United Fund. You alone know if you have done your fair share. Too many people have not yet done so. This appeal is to you. This is the week.

Do we go, in this important year of 1962, or do we not?

Chinese Push On As Weapons Arrive

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Invading Chinese were reported rapidly completing their conquest of Ladakh on Saturday, giving point to warnings that the arrival of American arms will not magically dispel the threat to India's Himalayan borders.

A stream of U.S. C135 transports from Germany landed at three-hour intervals with automatic rifles, mortars, antipersonnel mines and other equipment much needed by the outnumbered and outgunned Indian army, as informed sources reported continued Red Chinese advances in the Demchok area in Ladakh.

The Chinese apparently were meeting little or no resistance since they captured the village of Demchok, at the southern end of the Ladakh front.

They have seized virtually all the 15,000 square miles they claim there at the western end of India's Himalayan frontier.

U.S. Ambassador John Kenneth Galbraith had warned Indians to expect no "magic results" from the U.S. weapons arriving in Calcutta and transported immediately to army camps in the northeastern sector where the Indians have suffered heavy reverses in attempting to defend the Himalayan ramparts of the Assam plains.

Most of the 2,000 to 2,500 missing and dead, the only Indian casualty figures officially announced, have been lost on that front.

The Chinese were reported to have put a huge labor force to work building roads to bring up more men and arms preparatory to renewing their drive in that sector.

Heavier American equipment, such as tanks and light artillery, is expected in a short time.

The Indians also are expecting some guns from Canada.

Prime Minister Nehru, obviously referring to the action of India's Communist party in denouncing the Red Chinese invasion, said this kind of united front in a national crisis "gladdens my heart and lightens my burden." He asked that such "complete unity" be made a "permanent factor of national existence."

Blount To Seek Write-In Vote

LONGVIEW (AP — R. E. (Peppy) Blount, Longview lawyer and a former University of Texas football great, said Saturday he will be a write-in candidate for Gregg County judge Tuesday.

Blount, active in civic, law, church and Masonic circles, is an Air Force combat veteran of World War II and is a former member of the legislature. He is a native of Big Spring.

Two other Longview lawyers, Gillett Sheppard and Alvin Khoury, also are write-in-candidates.

County judge Earl Sharp has been indicted in Quitman on slant oil well charges. He has spent many months in the Mayo clinic in Rochester, Minn.

Blount was reared in Big Spring and finished high school here. Later he represented this district in the Texas Legislature. Hih family resided here for many years.

Headon Collision

FRIONA, Tex. (AP) — Two women, each alone in her car, died in a headon collision near this Parmer County town in the Texas Panhandle Saturday night.

Investigators identified the victims as Maxine Spencer Banks, 45, o Portales, N.M., and Mildred F. Carlson, 40, of Friona.

The cars collided two miles west of here on U.S. 60.

But Missiles Issue Unresolved

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States made public Saturday photographic evidence of the dismantling of Soviet missile bases in Cuba but the vital question of checking the rockets out of the island remained unanswered.

At the United Nations, Acting Secretary-General U Thant expressed optimism that an inspection agreement—acceptable to the United States, the Soviet Union and Cuba—is near. He declined to estimate when it would come but informed sources at the United Nations indicated the United States and the Soviet Union already are agreed on basic principles, with Cuba at least not flatly opposed.

The International Red Cross seemed a likely possibility to take over the inspection role as an alternative to U.N. inspection which both Moscow and Washington favor but which has been rejected by Cuba's Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

RED CROSS WILLING

At its Geneva headquarters, the Red Cross said it would be willing to assume such a role provided all three interested parties agree.

President Kennedy met for two hours with U.N. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson and the Executive Committee of the National Security Council, then left shortly before 7 p.m. EST to join his family at their leased Glen Ora estate near Middleburg, Va.

The White House gave no details, but Ambassador Stevenson told reporters on his way out of the White House the discussion concerned the progress of the negotiations with Secretary General U Thant and the Soviet Union in implementing the agreements reached by President Kennedy and Soviet Premier Khrushchev for the removal of the Soviet missiles on Cuba.

Stevenson said, "a great many problems are still unresolved" in the details of the agreement.

Asked whether the United States would continue to insist that international inspection teams operate directly on the Cuban missile sites, Stevenson replied "that remains to be seen." He added that whatever decision was finally reached in this regard would firmly safeguard U.S. security.

NOT DISCUSSED

In reply to another question Stevenson said the possibility of using the International Red Cross to inspect the missile sites was not being discussed.

The next big development in the crisis seemed to hinge on the outcome of talks in Havana between Castro and Anastas I. Mikoyan, Soviet first deputy premier and ace troubleshooter for Premier Khrushchev.

Mikoyan reached the Cuban capital from Moscow after a New York stopover during which it was believed that the United States made clear to him its determination to persist in its limited naval blockade and aerial surveillance of Cuba until it has firm proof not only that the missile bases are being destroyed but that their nuclear rockets are being removed from Cuba — as pledged last Sunday by Khrushchev.

The Defense Department released Saturday some of the photographs made during low-level aerial reconnaissance flights over Cuba on Thursday. They bore out statements made by President Kennedy and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara on Friday that the razing of the hastily erected nuclear weapons bases has begun.

NO SIGNIFICANCE

But the pictures released dealt only with the medium-range sites —a fact which a defense spokesman said had no significance— and naturally gave no final answers on what is happening to the rockets removed from the bases.

The International Red Cross originally moved into the picture as a possible source for inspectors for Cuba-bound ships, acting instead of U.S. naval officers in this role — although presumably from U.S. warships in the blockade zones.

But with Castro's rebuff of Thant's effort to put a U.N. inspection force into Cuba last Wednesday, the Soviets suggested that Red Cross representatives might assume a broadened role.

U.S. officials maintained the cautious optimism which has been Washington's position since Khrushchev's broad concessions in last Sunday's letter to Kennedy.

Woman Reports Money Returned In Husband Sale

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mrs. Dorothy Alzmann, who says she paid $10,000 for another woman's husband, now reports that she has her money back.

She told Sheriff's Sgt. P. R. Shields Friday that she had accepted a cashier's check from Mrs. Norma Babcock, 44, of suburban Baldwin Park.

Central figure in the alleged transaction was Mrs. Babcock's husband, Quentin, 44, an insurance agent.

Mrs. Alzmann, 34, a widow, had filed a civil suit alleging that Babcock returned to his original home a day after taking up residence in her house at Glendora last April. She said she was returned only $3,000 of the sum she "paid" for Babcock.

She withdrew the civil suit Friday.

CAMPAIGN BEGINS NEXT SUNDAY

Here Are The Facts About 'Victory Over Polio'

Facts about the "Victory Over Polio" campaign:

Largest community health campaign ever carried out in the Big Spring area.

Sponsored jointly by the Permian Basin Medical Society and the Big Spring Junior Chamber of Commerce. Dr. B. Broadrick, president of the society, and Dr. J. M. Woodall are directors. Charles E. Beil is directing the JayCee activity.

Participating groups include civic, service, business and professional organizations, pharmacists, nurses and others.

Immunization "clinics" will be set up in 10 schools throughout Howard and Glasscock counties. They are:

Washington Place, Runnels Junior, Marcy, Cedar Crest, Lakeview, Webb AFB (principally for military), Coahoma, Knott and Garden City-St. Lawrence.

Persons are to go to the nearest clinic on Sunday, Nov. 11, between noon and 5 p.m. (Hours are to be divided at Garden City and St. Lawrence.) Type I Sabin oral vaccine will be administered by pharmacists.

Abiut 25 physicians will supervise the procedure.

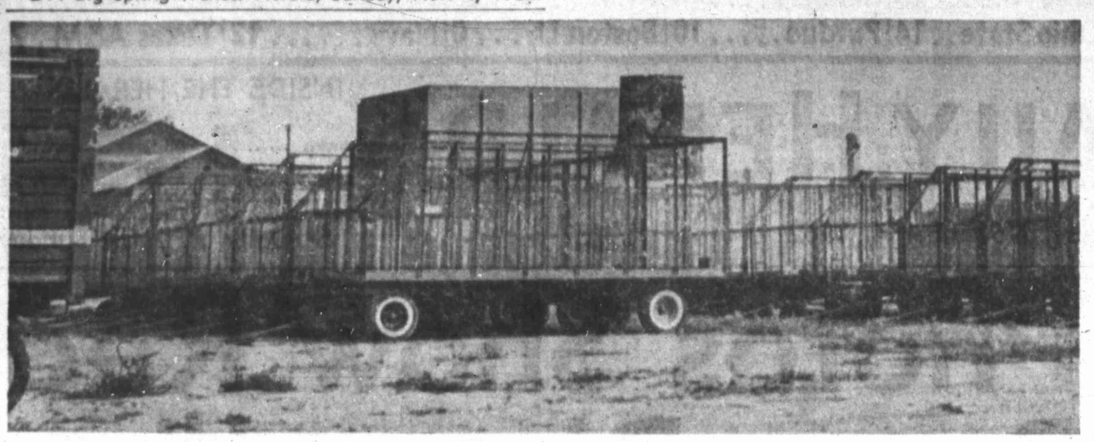

The immunization is free to everyone. To help cover expenses, donations will be accepted. If there is any money left above expenses, it will go to Howard County Rehabilitation (Crippled Children's) Center.

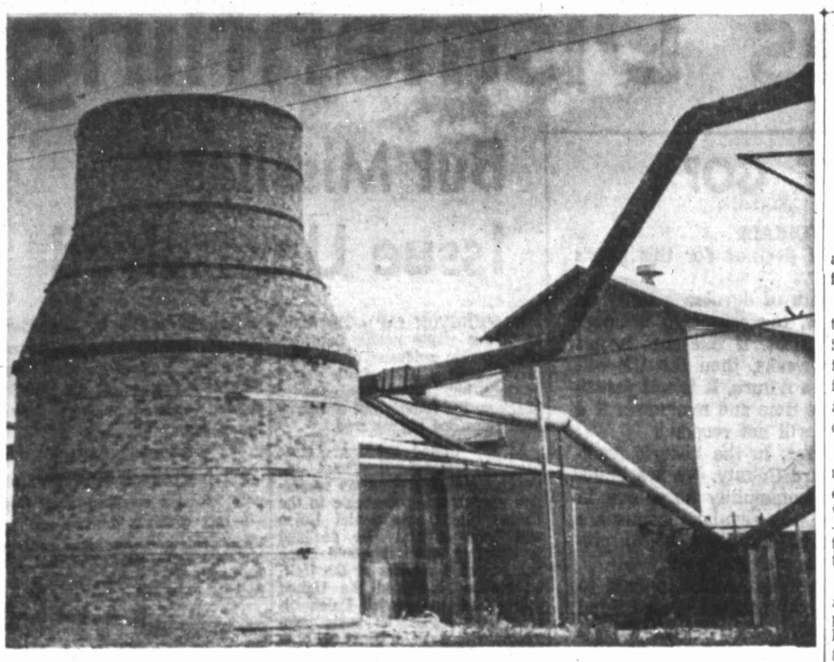

The new Sabin vaccine is a live-virus vaccine which produces fast and effective immunization against polio. Unlike the Salk vaccine, which is injected, the tasteless liquid Sabin is taken by mouth on a cube of sugar, or in the case of infants, by dropper directly into the mouth.

Vaccine is kept frozen, packed in dry ice, until almost ready for use. It will be distributed to the clinics as they call for it.

There are no contra-indications, or ill effects, connected with taking the vaccine.

Other questions about the Victory Over Polio program next Sunday will be answered in various articles in The Herald throughout the week.

Unseasonable Season Scene

Upper photo shows long array of idle cotton trailers parked on a Big Spring gin lot. Lower photo shows an idle cotton hull burner at another gin. Usually at this season, the lot would be empty of trailers and the burner would be smoking like a volcano. The late cotton crop is described as the slowest in history.

Cotton Crop Slow, May Be A Record

"The slowest cotton fall in many years," is the opinion of farmers and ginners in summarizing the 1962 cotton crop.

In Howard County, ginnings to date total 1,935 bales. Bulk of this cotton was ginned this past week, however. There are some sections of the county where the harvesting is going ahead at fair speed; there are many other areas where nothing has been picked. The county is the lowest in bales ginned of any of the counties in the Big Spring area.

Texas Employment Commission office here reported that Glasscock County gins processed 1,000 bales last week to bring the season total to 6,312. The county is nearer to completion of its harvest than any other in the area.

Martin County has ginned 12,121 bales. This is an increase of nearly 8,000 over last week. It is still far behind where it was at this same date a year ago.

Dawson County, giant producer of the area, had nearly 140,000 bales ginned by Nov. 2, 1961. This year, only 31,406 bales have been handled. About 8,000 bales were ginned during the week.

In the counties served by the Texas Employment Commission office in Sweetwater the harvest is stepping ahead faster than in other sections. Farmers are turning to strippers in these counties with increasing enthusiasm.

Sixty-four of these machines were operating in the four counties in that district as the week ended.

"We have a number of fields in one area," said a TEC spokesman, "which are already stripped, the stalks cut and the ground plowed."

Nolan County has ginned 7,965 bales which shows an increase of 2,385 for the week. Scurry County has ginned 7,150 bales, up 1,508 from last week. Mitchell County has ginned 8,223 bales an increase of 1,709 over last week. Fisher County's total is 5,653 which is 1,370 bales more than last week. Six strippers were working in Fisher County; nine in Mitchell County; 15 in Scurry County and 34 in Nolan County.

Quality of the cotton in the Sweetwater area is described as good but repeated showers offers a threat to the crop quality. In this county, what cotton has been graded has been rated as spotted and the same seems to be the situation in Dawson, Glasscock and Martin Counties.

Diverted Acreage Can Be Grazed

It is now permissible to graze acreage diverted under the 1962 feed-grain program.

Gabe Hammack, in charge of the Howard County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office, said that the effective date for allowing livestock to graze the acres taken out of grain feed production was Nov. 1.

There was no estimate on the number of acres involved. Farmers participating under the plan were allowed to plant cover crops —sudan, small grains, etc.—on these acres but they could not use them for grazing until Nov. 1.

He cautioned that this does not apply to land under the soil bank program. Soil bank land is under long term contract and may not be grazed during the life of the contract.

Some of these terms are expiring Dec. 31, 1962, which means that such fields may be grazed or plowed on after Jan. 1, 1963. Most producers who have soil bank contracts have the option of extending them for one year provided they complete application at the ASC office prior to the expiration date.

Railroad Jobs To Be Abolished

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago & North Western Railway has served notice it will abolish the jobs of 30 telegraphers and 20 extra board members in its first such action since a 30-day strike over the issue of layoffs.

The strike ended Sept. 28 when both sides agreed to binding arbitration, which subsequently held that the railroad could lay off workers it considers unneeded.

Robert C. Williamson, spokesman for the Order of Railroad Telegraphers, said the layoff notice, effective in 90 days, came as a surprise. He said Ben W. Heineman, board chairman of the railroad, had promised that there would be no wholesale layoffs.

A railroad spokesman said the layoffs could not be classed as wholesale because the road employs 1,000 telegraphers.

Appeal Trial Opens Tuesday

Trial of an appeal brought by the state from the findings of a special commission on right-of-way damages will be started in Howard County Court Tuesday, Judge Ed Carpenter said Saturday.

The state is appealing the findings of a special commission which awarded W. W. Posey and his wife $15,947 for .087 acre of land needed for improvement of US 87 north of Big Spring.

The land is described as being in the southeast part of the northeast quarter of Section 26, Block 33, township 1 north.

Judge Carpenter has called a panel of 60 jurors to report for duty at 9 a.m. Tuesday. He said that he hoped to complete this case in two days.

A number of cases of this nature have been handled in the court here since the improvement program began on US 87.

Carpenter said that it is possible this will be the last of the pending condemnation suits he will be able to try while in office. He is the unopposed candidate for the state representative's post.

State Absentee Votes Show Large Increase

By The Associated Press

Absentee balloting for Tuesday's general election skyrocketed in comparison with the last non-presidential year, a spot check of many cities showed Saturday.

What interpretation can be put on the figure — sometimes 10 times as great as in the last comparable year of 1958 — is up to the politicians' viewpoints.

Many say a heavy absentee ballot indicates great interest in the election and a consequently heavy vote on election day.

And politicians have said all along that the larger the vote the better chance for victory for John Connally, the Democrat, against Republican Jack Cox.

These observers pin such speculation on the theory that a small vote turnout means Democrats were overconfident or that they abstained because of some disagreement or other with the major Demo candidate.

Republicans, on the other hand, could interpret a strong absentee ballot in certain counties as favoring Cox.

These counties include Harris (Houston), up 4-1 from the last non-presidential year of 1958; Dallas, up nearly 3-1; Tarrant (Fort Worth) up better than 4-1; and Nueces (Corpus Christi), an increase of more than 4-1.

All these counties went Republican in the 1960 presidential election and for Republican John Tower in his race for the Senate in 1961.

Republicans also could find hope in Jefferson County, a Democratic stronghold ranked fifth in the state in vote strength, where a decline in absentee ballots from 1958 was recorded.

However, Democrats may not be alarmed at the big Tarrant County pre-election balloting, for the county is expected to give an edge to fellow-citizen Connally.

Democrats could find further hope beyond that of an indicated heavy vote because of Travis County, where the absentee ballots were 5-1 above 1958. Travis County (Austin) is a strong Democratic area.

The reporting counties comprise approximately half the total vote of the state, including the top nine counties in vote strength. Absentee balloting ended Friday midnight.

The reporting counties with better than 10-1 absentee increases were Webb, 117 to 10, and Taylor, 577 to 52.

Candidates Taper Off Hot Contests

By The Associated Press

Candidates for governor tapered off their hot campaign contests Saturday.

Only the final flourishes remain before Tuesday's voting.

Republican Jack Cox spent the day working on the statewide television speech Saturday night from Houston.

Jack Carswell, Constitution party candidate, was in Victoria.

None of the candidates planned formal campaigning Sunday.

Monday, Cox will get a breakfast-time airport rally from homefolks at Breckenridge, then make flying visits to San Antonio, Fort Worth and Dallas. He ends the campaign with a statewide television speech Monday night from Houston.

Connally has nothing scheduled Monday until his campaign-ending speech that night from Austin.

Cox will vote and await returns Tuesday in Breckenridge.

Connally will vote in Fort Worth then go to Austin where he will spend election night in his state headquarters.

Carswell will be at his home in Houston.

Connally's Austin headquarters reported Saturday morning that the around-the-clock flying trip drew unexpected response at odd-hour airport rallies. An aide estimated 200 persons gathered at the Sulphur Springs airport in 40-degree temperatures at about 1 a.m. Saturday.

The Connally aide said 150 persons signed a register at the Palestine airport for a 3:30 a.m. visit. Another 150 plus a band reportedly met Connally in a sunup rally at Beaumont. Connally had lunch in Beeville, and rode in a parade.

"For if after they have escaped the pollutions of the world through the knowledge of the Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, they are again entangled therein, and overcome, the later end is worse with them than the beginning. For it had been better for them not to have known the way of righteousness, than, after they have known it, to turn from the holy commandent delivered unto them. But it is happened unto them according to the true proverb. The dog is turned to his own vomit again; and the sow that was washed to her wallowing in the mire." (II Pet. 2:20-22).

So, after escaping sin, one may be "again entangled therein and overcome." He then is lost again, for his "later end is worse" than the beginning.

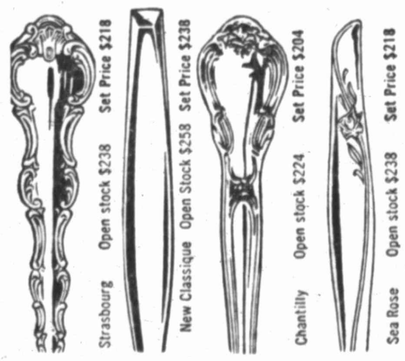

This does not mean that salvation is too difficult for some to ever reach heaven. This is one thing you will learn from the sermon, "Who then can be Saved?", tonight at 7:00 when Mr. Siburt of Midland brings us the last message of the revival. He will also preach this morning at 10:30. We want to share these blesings with you. Come. You are always welcome at the church of Christ!

Civic Theatre Group Seeking Members

The membership effort of the Big Spring Civic Theatre was intensified last week as members of the Chamber of Commerce were invited to participate in the program. At the same time, the cast for the next production was announced by David Guy, director.

Following a vote of support by the Cultural Affairs Committee of the chamber, the BSCT membership committee chairman, Jim Marlin, spearheaded a drive to enroll chamber members.

"We anticipate hiring a full-time director and build a new theatre building," Marlin pointed out. "But these things cost money and can only be realized if we have the full support of the community."

Marlin listed these membership rates: Family membership (includes 12 admissions) $8; Single membership (five admissions) $5; Sponsor membership (20 admissions) $15. In addition, there is a partron membership listed at $25 and up.

The membership drive will continue through the opening date of the next play, Nov. 30. The production will also be presented Dec. 1, both nights in the Municipal Auditorium.

The play will be "The Gazebo," with Guy directing and Arthur Clonts, producing. Rehearsals are well under way and Guy said it was shaping up quickly.

The lead parts will be interpreted through Richard Robertson, Lorna Tovrea and Tom Madson. The supporting cast includes Lida Fiveash, Eldridge Langlinais, Ron Carr, Randy Kennedy, Cleta Gough, Clonts, Ed Storey, Phil Rankin, Howard Stewart.

Production crew includes Bob Aldridge, sets; Jay Feuer, lighting; John Arnold, sound; and Molli Hartzog, costumes.

Other productions and their play dates for the 1962-63 season include "Blithe Spirit," Feb. 1-2; "Kind Lady," March 29-30; "Harvey," May 24-25.

Christmas Seal Campaign Set

Plans are about complete for the annual Christmas Seal Campaign, which will be launched Nov. 13, according to Mrs. Clyde Thomas, president of the Howard County Tuberculosis Association.

"There is still a lot of work to be done," she said. Volunteers begin this week preparing to mail 10,000 letters to area residents requesting their assistance in the campaign effort. Christmas seals will be maile1 out Nov. 13, she explained, and each family will make the decision to buy and use them.

Christmas Seal Sunday will be observed Nov; 11 by churches through the cooperation of ministerial associations.

Everyone in Howard County has a stake in this campaign, she pointed out. Tuberculosis is the nation's number one killer among infectious diseases, she said.

Adenauer Faces Crisis

By JOHN WEYLAND
Associated Press News Analyst

BONN, Germany (AP)—Konrad Adenauer faced a crisis Saturday that threatened his 13-year career as West Germany's first and only chancellor. But the 86-year-old leader, a cagey politician, appeared to be holding his ground.

He has until Monday to answer demands of the conservative Free Democrats—partners in a coalition with Adenauer's Christian Democrats—for the firing of two top civil servants involved in a dispute over the government's order for the arrest of top executives of the widely read picture magazine Der Spiegel. They are held on suspicion of treason.

The Free Democrats have threatened to pull out of the coalition, thus laying open a road for Adenauer's ouster.

Adenauer's party holds 241 seats in the Bundestag — parliament. The Free Democrats threw in their 67 seats to give Adenauer a clear majority over the opposition Social Democrats, with 191.

But there is some skepticism here that the Free Democrats will go so far as to pull out of the coalition. In their campaign for the September 1961 Bundestag elections, the Free Democrats promised to remove Adenauer from office. Yet, when it came to the election of a chancellor, the Free Democrats swung enough votes to re-elect him.

Even if the Free Democrats withdraw from their partnership with Adenauer, the chancellor can still hold on to the nation's leadership. Constitutionally, he can rule with a majority. But there is also the possibility of a coalition with the Socialists.

Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin, leader of the Socialists, said he doubts that Adenauer's government will fall.

"There is no doubt this is a serious political crisis," Brandt said, "but I'm not inclined to believe it will lead to a change in government."

Adenauer's troubles spring from the cloak of secrecy surrounding the arrest of the publisher and four editors of Der Spiegel. Friday night, an army colonel was added to the list of the arrested.

MAYOR TALKS WITH CAMPAIGNERS

Senator Tower Speaks Here For Candidacy Of Taylor

John Tower, U. S. Senator from Texas, took humorous pokes at the Kennedy administration during a talk here Friday on behalf of Dennis Taylor, Republican congressional candidate.

Taylor is seeking the seat of Representative George Mahon, of the 19th Congressional District, which is at stake again Tuesday. The candidate and his retinue arrived at the Howard County Airport shortly before noon and left immediately after for a return trip to Lubbock. Tower was slated to speak there Friday evening at a Republican rally.

Tower called upon conservatives to unite behind Taylor in an effort to put government back into the hands of the people. He expressed trust that men are capable of ruling themselves and taking whatever action is needed to ward off Communism.

More than 200 persons at the luncheon in the Settles Hotel heart Taylor describe himself as a Constitutionalist, a Republican and a Capitalist.

"I believe that government must be from the grass roots up," Taylor said. Today the situation has deteriorated to the point that the Administration attempts to tell Congress what kind of government is needed, he said.

Speaking out against communism, Taylor said there can be no compromise between freedom and socialism or Christianity and Communism.

"We must have complete victory over communism," he said.

Taylor advocated less governmental control in business and agriculture. One of the main planks of his platform is a return to free enterprize.

Rich Anderson, Borden County rancher, was master of ceremonies at the luncheon. The Rev. Donald Hungerford, pastor of the St. Mary's Episcopal Church, delivered the invocation.

Texas Tank Lines Wins Safety Award

Texas Tank Lines, a division of Steere Tank Lines, won first place for safety in the petroleum group of the National Safety Council's fleet contest.

W. P. Hollis, Big Spring manager, said the top award was made in Chicago, Ill., last week. Although it is the first time for the Texas Tank Lines to claim the award, the parent company has won it, plus 17 other safety awards in the last five years.

Market Reflects National Confidence, Makes Gains

NEW YORK (AP)—Wall Street last week reflected a new birth of national confidence prompted by apparent settlement of the Cuban crisis. The stock market staged the greatest weekly advance on record.

On the basis of movements by the popular market averages, the week's gain widely exceeded that of the week ended Dec. 12, 1929, a record which stood until last week.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks last week advanced 11.3 to 222.5, topping the gain of the 1929 week, which was 8.4. At that time the market was making a strong technical rebound from the black days of the October crash.

The arbitrary division of movements of the averages into comparable days and weeks, however, ignores the fact that in two consecutive trading days this year, May 29 and May 31 (separated by the Memorial Day holiday), the AP average made a bigger advance than it did last week, rising 14.3.

The Dow Jones industrial average last week made a great leap of 35.56 to close at 604.58—once again breaking through the significant 600 level. The combined gain of the Dow industrials on May 29 and May 31 was 36.43.

Stock prices rose from the start on word of the United States-Soviet agreement to settle the Cuban crisis. As the urgency of the Cuba crisis faded, the market began to look like its old self and individual stocks reacted in traditional manner to news, forecasts, and rumors.

Two days of strong advance came to a temporary halt as profit taking scrambled the list. Then the advance gathered renewed strength Thursday as the financia. community began to think about the possibility of a bullish outcome to the elections Tuesday, when security markets will be closed.

The rally continued strongly on Friday.

The week's volume totaled 20,072,955 shares, compared with 25,062,260 the previous week.

Biggest corporate news of the wee' was that U.S. Steel cut the quarterly dividend to 50 cents from 75 cents—but this news was so well anticipated that "Big Steel" emerged from the week with a net gain of 3⅝ at 42⅝.

Convention Honors 2 Area Churches

Two churches in this vicinity were among the 17 Baptist churches honored last week during the annual meeting of the Baptist General Convention of Texas at Fort Worth.

The top award to a rural church went to Woodlawn Baptist Church near Lufkin, but Midway Baptist Church just east of Big Spring, was among the few others singled out for special honor. In this category also was the First Baptist Church in Midkiff, southeast of Odessa.

Death Investigated

SILVERTON, Tex. (AP)—Briscoe County officers are investigating the possibility of foul play in the death of Joe Woodward, 40, of Hobbs, N.M. The body was found Wednesday in a car. Officers said the car may have been pushed off into a small canyon where it was spotted by a plane.

American Killed; Viet Cong Routed

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—A U.S. Army sergeant feeding ammunition to a machine gun aboard his escort helicopter was fatally wounded Saturday as the South Viet Nam government scored one of its biggest successes in months against Communist guerrillas.

Another escort helicopter pilot had a narrow escape — a bullet pierced his armored vest just over the heart. He suffered only a bruise but turned the controls over to the copilot.

The dead Army sergeant was identified as Johnnie G. Lee of Gholson, Miss.

Five HU1A helicopters escorted 10 other helicopters lifting a battalion of Vietnamese troops into a battle 60 miles southwest of Saigon where Viet Cong guerrillas nearly overran an outpost in the Vinh Long area last Wednesday. The government launched a counterattack that has been going on since.

Government sources said enemy dead in the four-day operation may number as high as 250.

In Saturday's action, government soldiers had piled up 35 Communist dead by noon, and informants said the total dead for the day might be 100.

South Vietnamese losses also were large.

Returning pilots poured more than 100 rockets into the enemy and estimated they had killed about 20 guerrillas.

The helicopter crews are instructed to withhold their fire until attacked, but they usually do not have to wait long. The Viet Cong, apparently badly hurt by the HU1A escorts, have taken to concentrating their fire on the turbine-powered craft armed with rockets and machine guns. There is scarcely a helicopter of the escort unit which arrived from Thailand last month that has not been hit.

Sgt. Lee was a man with a wife in the United States and a child he had not seen. His wife was listed as Maudie Lee of Gholson.

U.S. casualties in Viet Nam since last December are now 34 killed and 85 wounded. The figures includes accidental as well as battle casualties.

For the escort unit it was the first casualty in Viet Nam.

But it was the bloodiest action in which it had been involved.

Judge Talks With Probers

AUSTIN (AP)—The House General Investigating Committee talked with Gladewater Dist. Judge David Moore for half an hour Saturday about East Texas slant oil well drilling.

"He completely purged himself of any possibility of being held in contempt by the committee," Rep. Charles Ballman of Borger, chairman, said after the closed session.

Last month in Dallas, Moore was one of several witnesses subpoenaed who did not appear. In previous hearings, Moore had been described as part owner of several oil wells drilled on a slant. Moore has denied any knowledge of the wells being slanted or deviated.

"Since Judge Moore was unable to appear in Dallas because he was in court, he wanted to offer his cooperation to the committee," Ballman said. "He knew we had some questions and he gave us the answers."

Ballman said Moore appeared voluntarily.

The committee chairman called another executive session Nov. 8 in Austin to discuss another missing witness, Gregg County Judge Earl Sharp. Ballman said Sharp has been served one subpoena and several other have been issued. None resulted in Sharp appearing as a witness.

"Next Thursday we expect to make a statement after the meeting on whether Judge Sharp will be cited for contempt of the committee," Ballman said.

Ballman said the committee's legislative recommendations concerning the slant hole drilling investigation are in the final stages of preparation.

Bulk Of The Ballot Lists Amendments

Some voters may be surprised to discover the bulk of their ballot in Tuesday's general election is devoted to a listing of 14 proposed amendments to the Texas constitution.

Only two of these have evoked much discussion. A considerable campaign has been waged in behalf of No. 4 which would permit the state to acquire conservation storage in reservoirs. Similarly, most of the heavy opposition to a single amendment has been centered on No. 14 which would open the way for all appeals from rulings of administrative and executive agencies to be de novo (as thought from the start).

Here are some highlights of the amendment as possible guides to you before going to the polls:

AMENDMENT NO. 1 — This would permit political subdivisions to provide workman's compensation for all employes, including elected officials.

AMENDMENT NO. 2 — This would raise the limit on use of state funds to assist needy aged, needy blind and needy children from 47 million dollars to 52 million dollars, subject to appropriation by the legislature.

AMENDMENTS NO. 3, No. 5 and No. 9—This would provide for creation of local hospital districts and apparently would put an end to the need of a new amendment every time a new district is sought by allowing the legislature to pass an act of creation.

AMENDMENT NO. 4 — This would authorize the Water Development Board to purchase storage conservation in reservoirs such as those built by other agencies including the United States. (Dams could be made larger to accommodate this contracted storage for future needs.)

AMENDMENT NO. 6 — This would authorize the retirement, disability and death benefits for elected and appointive officers and employes of counties and political subdivision who have served in such capacity for 12 or more years. (This broadens existing statutes to include elected officials.)

AMENDMENT NO. 7 — This authorizes the Legislature to provide a line of temporary succession to the powers of public office in event of enemy attack (except for replacement of members of the legislature; it also assures the state Bill of Rights will not be suspended.)

AMENDMENT NO. 8 — This would establish a ceiling of $2,500,000 per year on the amount of state funds that may be made for assistance payments to the totally and permanently disabled. (This would increase by $1 million the amount available.)

AMENDMENT NO. 10 — This would permit state employes to serve as a consultant or on an advisory committee or as members of a public school board provided the employe's administrative head holds there is no conflict of interest involved.

AMENDMENT NO. 11 — This would authorize the resale of lands of the Veterans' Fund remaining unsold after having first been offered to veterans.

AMENDMENT NO. 12 — This would authorize the Legislature to delegate limited zoning powers to counties on the Gulf to regulate sanitation and safety along beaches.

AMENDMENT NO. 13 — This would validate school bonds of Dallas County districts. (It is designed to eliminate repeated elections because of boundary changes.)

AMENDMENT NO. 14—This would grant the Legislature power to provide for trials de novo on all appeals from actions, rulings or decisions of administrative or executive agencies. (Presently findings by these agencies may be appealed to courts, but the court is bound to proceed on the facts as found by the agency if there is substantial evidence to support the fact. This amendment would mean that in cases appealed from administrative and executive agencies to the courts, the litigation would begin as though there had never been a previous hearing, and all facts would be established anew.)

Local Officials Opposed To Amendment No. 14

The elected heads of three political subdivisions in Howard County have publicly asked voters to "scratch out" Amendment 14 appearing on their ballots next Tuesday. It is known as the trial de novo or new trial amendment.

County Judge Ed Carpenter, Big Spring Mayor George Zachariah, and School Board President Clyde McMahon, have stated that they oppose the amendment and have given reasons.

Their reasoning follows closely that of two Texas high court judges who have vigorously fought the "trial de novo" amendment, which will be last on the ballot, on the grounds that it would create utter confusion in the courts and take away the powers of elected administrators.

"We respectfully urge voters to go to the polls and to consider all the amendments on the ballot," the three men said, "but we would strongly urge them to vote against No. 14. It is one of the most far-reaching proposals ever to be presented to the people of Texas."

The men all pointed out that higher taxes were certain to result if the decisions of governmental units were subjected to "trial de novo," resulting in costly delays and long court actions. This would make courts of law perform not only their rightful judicial duties but executive functions as well.

They said that decisions made by the Commissioners Court, the City Commission, the School Board, and other boards like the Colorado River Municipal Water District, could not even be considered when any appeal is made to the courts by an individual or group, to stay administrative decisions.

In listing other objections the men stated that the proposed amendment would:

1. Destroy the independence of local self-government and make orderly operation of government at state and local levels virtually impossible.
2. Disrupt the balance of power between legislative, executive, and judicial branches of government.
3. More than double the case load for already overburdened courts.
4. Permit irresponsible appeals to the courts solely for purposes of harassment, delay and obstruction.
5. Permit organized pressure groups to frustrate the administration of laws enacted by the Legislature, and also to block implementation of local ordinances and regulations.
6. Force elected and appointed public officials to spend much of their time in courtrooms rather than in attending to public business.
7. Add a rapidly mounting burden of costs to the budgets of public agencies.

The officials cited hypothetical examples of confusion, harassment and obstruction possible under the amendment: One individual or group blocking a county road-building program duly set up by the commissioners court; halting use of bond money in the city, although properly approved by a majority; halting an addition to a local school on most any pretext.

Neat Trick To This Treat

Roy Thruston, member of the Big Spring Downtown Toastmasters Club, will carry this area's banner into the district humorous speech contest at Lubbock this weekend.

Thruston, who is elementary school principal at Garden City, captured first place in area eliminations last weekend at San Angelo when representatives from three clubs in Big Spring, two in Abilene and two in San Angelo, participated in eliminations at Goodfellow AFB.

Other winners were Raymon Lagor, member of the Talon Toastmaster Club at Webb AFB here, second place; and Marvin Schultz, member of the Tri-Concho Club in San Angelo, third place.

The district contest will be held Saturday evening at the Cap Rock Hotel in Lubbock with area winners from West Texas, parts of New Mexico and Oklahoma attending.

Bill Schlect, area governor, is confident that Thruston has a good chance of capturing district honors.

Child Not Hurt In Accident

A three-year-old girl was not injured Friday, after being involved in an accident with a car in the 1500 block of Sycamore. Driver of the vehicle was Edna Struit Thompson, 1105 Sycamore, and the girl was Vickey Sandedge, 1500 Sycamore.

Three vehicles were involved in a major collision at 1604 Eleventh Place shortly after 7:30 p.m. Friday. Two ambulances made runs to the scene but no injuries resulted. Drivers of vehicles involved were Durwood Cummings, 508 Donley, Larry Don Hood, 1708 Scurry, and John Arthur Nichols, Webb AFB.

Two other accidents investigated, including locations, and drivers of vehicles involved, were: 1900 Block of Kentucky Way, Barney Kip Edens Jr., Gail Route, and Bobbie Zellars, 3213 Eleventh Place; 402 Birdwell Lane, Glen Elmer Gale, 1512 Tucson, and a parked car owned by CRMWD and parked by T. C. Richardson, 402 Birdwell.

Jury Verdict For Plaintiffs

Pioneer Natural Gas company owes three Big Spring property owners a total of $1,877.75 for gas seepage damage to the land and its growing capabilities, a jury in 118th District Court ruled Friday afternoon.

The jury held that the gas company should pay J. L. Johnston, one of three plaintiffs who sued the gas company for damages, $838.75; H. L. Steele, $498.50 and T. C. Richardson $520.50.

The three men live in adjoining houses on Birdwell Lane. They charged that the gas company lines leaked gas which sterilized their soil and caused shrubs and lawns to perish.

The jury deliberated an hour before returning its verdict.

Tax Payments Are Less Than Of Last Year

Howard County tax payers settled up $1,055,718.13 in tax debts during October, a check of the books of Mrs. Zirah LeFevre, county assessor, showed Saturday.

Friday was the last day a taxpayer could be given a three per cent discount on his tax bill. Mrs. LeFevre said that it was possible an additional number of taxpayers would be credited with the discount if they have sent in their checks by mail and if the letters are postmarked before midnight Friday. She said it would be two or three days before the final official October total collection figure would be known.

It was shown, however, that this October's payments were not quite up to the $1,106,475.51 which the taxpayers paid off in October, 1961. This was a surprise to some observers who had anticipated an even larger total this October than last. This prediction was based on the fact that about a week ago tax payments for the month were nearly three times ahead of the total paid to the same date in October, 1961.

Mrs. LeFevre pointed out the explanation for the relatively equal totals rests in the probability that more of the taxpayers paid off their bills earlier in the month than last year.

So far, she said, her office has issued 712 poll tax receipts this year compared with 693 for the same date in 1961.

Historical Marker Unveiled Saturday

Big Spring unveiled its first historical site marker Saturday to designate the first permanent (stone) structure erected in the city.

Mrs. W. H. Dugan, Fort Worth, whose grandfather had purchased the building from the estate of the Earl of Aylesford who built it, joined with Bart Wilkinson, who has leased the property for 43 years, unveiled the Texas Historical Association marker.

MERELY THE START

Ed Fisher, chairman of the committee on arrangements and member of the Howard County Historical Committee, told a crowd gathered in the building which now houses the City Barber Shop No. 1 at 121 Main that "this is merely the start of seeking to preserve the historical shrines of this area."

Originally the stone structure was raised in 1883 by Heneage Finch, the Earl of Aylesford, an English nobleman who picked the frontier town of Big Spring as the spot where he wanted to seek to establish an estate for his daughters.

There were, of course, no means of preserving meat and the Earl wanted fresh beef and mutton for his table, Fisher explained. So he had the building constructed in 1883 to house a market for his private butcher, Van Paussen.

REMEMBERS

Some of those in the audience, including Alex Northington, who said he once worked in another market there, could remember when a butcher shop was still operated in the building.

Mrs. Dugan, who is the former Lillian Tamsitt, said that her grandfather, Steve Tamsitt, had joined with I. D. Eddins, another pioneer resident of Big Spring, to purchase the property from the estate of the Earl following his death in 1885. Seven years after they made the purchase, Mr. Tamsitt paid $1,480 to Mr. Eddins for his half of the property. In turn he bequeathed it to his son, J. O. Tamsitt, father of Mrs. Dugan.

Bart Wilkinson, whose father was immortalized in cowboy lore by the poet Larry Chittenden as Windy Bill in the "Cowboys' Christmas Ball," has held a lease on the building continuously since Aug. 15, 1919. After return from service in World War I he bought a barbershop in the location from Bill Battle and Ben Allen.

Fisher, a grandson of Joe Fisher of the legendary J. & W. Fisher Co., told the crowd that "this is not for the past, but for the future. We owe it to the pioneers who settled and built this city and area to preserve the landmarks and other things that may remind future generations of our heritage. Big Spring was one of a half a dozen towns in this section which was of real importance in the early days, and we need to do more about preserving its history."

MARKERS

The marker was provided by the Chamber of Commerce through the Texas Historical Survey Commission, and Zales' Jewelry etched the inscription: "First permanent building in Big Spring, erected 1883 by an English nobleman, Earl of Aylesford, to house his private meat market." The county survey committee is composed of Fisher, Mrs. Hubert Stipp and Joe Pickle and would be pleased to submit requests for other markers.

Story Of The Earl Reads Like Fiction

The story of the man who provided Big Spring with its first permanent (masonry) building reads like fiction.

He was Henheage Finch, the seventh descendent to be invested with the title of Earl of Aylesford in England. The young nobleman had been an honor student at Cambridge, became a boon companion of the Prince of Wales (later Edward VI), and married the beautiful daughter of Pers Williams.

Perhaps he attempted to match the Prince, whose resources were limitless. At any rate they went on hunting junkets around the world. The Earl, who had succeeded to the title at Paddington Hall, was a fabulous drinker, and he also ran into domestic trouble that wrecked his marriage. Some rumored he was regarded as a bad influence on the Prince and was exiled. More likely is that as his debts mounted he sought to establish an estate in America that could be inherited by his two daughters (he had no male heir and his English estate would go to his brothers).

According to some reports he had contacted Jay Gould, the railroad magnate, in New York, and Gould sent his land commissioner with the Earl to prospect for a location. Late in 1881 he reportedly stopped in Colorado City, likely visited here the next year.

EARL OF AYLESFORD

He met John Birdwell, a retired Texas ranger, who, after absorbing the nobleman's long title, put up his hand: "Look here, Earl, that stuff won't go here. From now on we'll call you Judge."

The Judge found what he was looking for in the way of a ranch in 1883 after he had come to Big Spring. The Cosmopolitan Hotel was filled, so he bought it and retained a suite of rooms. He was reputed to have bought a saloon in a night of revelry, but he kept it as a source of supply. He also built a home on the northwest slope of town, but the Birdwells lived there for a time and attended to the breaking of horses for the Earl.

One of his other property purchases was the one distinguished Saturday by the city's first state historical marker in Big Spring. It was a stone building he erected at 121 Main to house a meat market for his private butcher, Van Paussen, to supply his table with choice beef and mutton. Natives were goggle-eyed over the marble slab counters.

Although he kept pretty much to himself, the Earl was gracious and affable. His Chesterfieldian manners endeared him to the ladies, and when he declined social invitations, he did so in an elegant manner. With the cowboys, he was perfectly at home around the campfires. Some sources said the stack of whisky bottles at his ranch home on the upper ranches of Wild Horse Creek was as big as a haystack.

Late in 1883 he began to weaken physically and was confined to his suite in the hotel. Still he kept up his daily purchase of a couple quarts of bourbon or Scotch, with occasionally a few quarts of gin. On Christmas Day he took to his bed, and on Jan. 13, 1884 he arose to play a few hands of eucre with members of his retinue. Somewhat abruptly he got up, stood every inch a nobleman and said: "Goodbye boys." With that, he lay down on his couch and died.

Three Candidates On TV Program

A TV appearance of all three candidates for governor has been scheduled for showing today over KWAB (Channel 4) in BS at 5 p.m.

This is the one hour program presented in Dallas by the League of Women Voters recently, at which all three candidates, Jack Carswell, Constitution Party, John Connally, Democratic nominee, and Jack Cox, Republican nominee, were each given equal opportunity to speak.

Following the initial talks by each candidate, all of them were given the same time to answer the same six questions. There was no advance preparation for the questions, as the candidate did not know until the questions were drawn what would be asked.

Crash Is Fatal

SAN ANGELO (AP) — Ethel Harrell, 12, a Negro, was killed Saturday when a pickup truck overturned on U.S. 87 near Water Valley, about 12 miles northwest of here. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stance Harrell of Brownfield, were in a San Angelo hospital in fair condition.

Webb Welcome

Col. Wilson H. Banks, Webb AFB commander, welcomes Gen. John K. Gerhart, commander of North American Air Defense Command, who with other military members of NORAD-ADC visited 331st Fighter Interceptor Squadron facilities here Thursday. Accompanying Gen. Gerhart were Lt. Gen. William W. Sick, U.S. Army, commanding general of the U.S. Army Air Defense Command; Maj. Gen. James C. Jensen, USAF, ADC; Brig. Gen. Harris B. Hull, USAF, NORAD; Capt. Virgil A. Erwin, U.S. Navy; and Col. Glenn E. Duncan, USAF, NORAD.

Basil Rathbone To Arrive Here For Monday Program

A distinguished member of stage and screen, Basil Rathbone, will be presented Monday at 8:15 p.m. in the City Auditorium as the second in the current series of the Big Spring Concert Association.

Under the format "An Evening with Basil Rathbone," the noted actor reminisces his many-faceted career in the theatre. He dips into some poetry, which he contends was composed for speaking, and always he gets around to the thing which launched him into his life's work—a bit of Shakespeare.

His schedule calls for him to arrive here this evening. Monday afternoon at the Bookstall he is to autograph copies of his autobiography, "In and Out of Character," (Doubleday & Co.) the reflection of 50 years of extraordinary artistry.

BASIL RATHBONE

Born into a solid Victorian family, his father was a friend of Cecil Rhodes, Conan Doyle and other luminaries. Young Rathbone was destined for a career in the family business, but after his promised year of trial he walked across the street and bluffed his way into a part in a Shakespearean company. (He had been practicing in the attic during his lunch hour at the business.)

Stage engagements brought him to the United States and inevitably he was drawn into the films, making more than 100 of them including his famous Sherlock Holmes series. He also has been a frequent star on television spectaculars and was acclaimed in a recent transcontinental tour in "J. B."

District's Water Usage Shows Gain

Water consumption showed a slight gain for October, thanks largely to a new oilfield repressuring customer, the Colorado River Municipal Water District reported.

October records reported by O. H. Ivie, assistant general manager, show deliveries of 694,691,000 gallons, or 2.06 per cent greater than the same month a year ago.

City deliveries (Odessa 255,437,000, Big Spring 181,216,000, and Snyder 43,060,000) amounted to 479,713,000 gallons, or 1.8 per cent less than for October of 1961. Odessa was down 15 per cent, while Snyder was up 42 per cent and Big Spring up 16 per cent.

Oil company demands aggregated 214,978,000 gallons, an increase of 12.9 per cent over a year ago. Virtually all the gain, however, was the 31,871,000 gallons taken by the new Standard of Texas-Sinclair unit in eastern Howard County.

The October delivery total compared with 728,499,000 gallons in September, said Ivie. The total for the year to date is 8,631,323,000 gallons and if present trends continue, the district could experience a 10 billion gallon year for the first time. The percentage gain for the first 10 months of this year over 1961 amounts to 8.67.

Odessan To Speak For Revival Here

Capt. Avedis Kasarjian, commander of the Salvation Army post at Odessa, will be speaker at the Fall revival to be held this week at the Big Spring Salvation Army Post.

Services for the revival will be held at 7 p.m. each day Monday through Sunday. Special music will be provided. Capt. Kasarjian will bring a group of musicians with him from Odessa for one of the meetings.

Capt. Kasarjian has been a visitor to Big Spring previously at other Salvation Army functions. He has been commander at Odessa two years.

Knifed To Death

DALLAS (AP)—Eddie Crusier, 30, was knifed to death early Saturday in a South Dallas cafe. Police arrested a man, 21.

Grain Futures Prices Firm

CHICAGO (AP)—Grain futures prices showed a generally firming trend most of the time last week after the broad setbacks of Monday, but finished generally lower than a week ago on the Board of Trade.

Brokers said the market continued sensitive to developments in the Cuban situation and that other factors were considered relatively minor, although exporters were good buyers and overseas sales probably were at a higher level than in several weeks. Foreign business in corn, particularly, was believed to have been well above average.

Killed By Car

ODESSA (AP)—A man tentatively identified as Fred Emmanuel Mills was killed by a car Friday as he walked along a road at the edge of Odessa. He was about 50 and was believed to have been from Arkansas.

Lamesa Paper For Connally

LAMESA (AP) — The Lamesa Daily Reporter editorially endorsed John Connally Saturday for governor.

It also recommended Preston Smith, George Mahon, H. J. (Doc) Blanchard, Waggoner Carr and R. G. Pendleton.

The editorial, prepared for the Sunday edition, said:

"The Daily Reporter believes that John B. Connally is the best candidate to offer himself to Texans in a number of years. He is a man of extraordinary talents—both administrative and executive. Connally is not a businessman playing in politics; he is a natural political leader, lawyer and businessman who is well acquainted with the processes of government . . . if ever a candidate looked, talked and acted like a governor of the finest state in the Union, it is Mr. Connally....a vote for these candidates on Nov. 6 will truly be a vote for Texas' finest."

No Mudslinging Contest Here

LAMESA (AP) — Legislative candidates of the 75th District in West Texas are a little friendlier than most.

Gene Bean, Republican, invited his opponent, Democrat Randy Pendleton from Andrews, for dinner election night. There they will await the returns.

Were they acquainted before the campaign? No, the election has made us friends, said the candidates.

Says Cox Won't Identify Himself As A Republican

To the Editor:

Much has been said by those in behalf of the candidates for Governor but I think it is time that a true evaluation be given to the character of these individuals and their allegiance to Texas and our Nation.

John Connally proudly identifies himself with the Democratic Party and is running as a Democrat and has so identified himself throughout the campaign. Mr. Cox has been a Democrat and as head of his county delegation pledged support to Lyndon Johnson as Democratic candidate for Vice-President. Mr. Cox was rejected by the people of Texas as a Democratic candidate for Governor and now seeks the Governor's office on the Republican ticket. He now denounces L.B.J. to whom he pledged allegiance but at the same time does not have the moral decency to identify himself as a Republican through his campaign advertising. He seeks votes through this deceit of the Texas people.

Mr. Connally proudly associates himself with the Democrats. Mr. Cox does not have the courage to seek votes as a Republican. Mr. Connally admits we need a two party system but feels that the people of Texas should also vote in selecting a Governor on the issues and the integrity of the candidates. If Mr. Cox believes in a two party system why does he not spend his time running as a Republican rather than as a Conservative and implying that he is still a Democrat and deceiving many who do not know of his switch.

Texans must provide honesty, integrity, dignity, and leadership with a progressive purpose for the people of Texas by placing Mr. John Connally in the Governor's chair in Austin. You must vote on Tuesday November 6 to be sure.

Protect the cherished American right by voting Nov. 6. Texas has never taken a backward step since securing its independence and the only choice for continued progress lies in electing Mr. John Connally a man of character—Character is what a man is, not what people may be led to believe he is.

'Get Rid Of LBJ'

To the Editor:

Before the primary election Mr. Kennedy stated that he did not know if Mr. Lyndon Johnson would be on the ticket in 1964 or not, but immediately after the primary Mr. Kennedy came out with the statement that he would be happy to have Mr. Johnson on the ticket with him in 1964. So, Mr. Johnson's political future is riding on Mr. Connally's coattail.

Let's defeat Mr. Connally and get rid of Mr. Johnson and Washington control of our state Government at the same time, by electing Mr. Jack Cox, a real conservative, our next Governor of Texas.

Our first historical site marker was unveiled Saturday, and you are invited to see it at the City Barbershop No. 1 at 121 Main which happens to be the first permanent structure in town. There are other places in our town and vicinity that ought to be marked. The Texas Historical Survey Committee medallions cost about $15, and the local survey committee would be pleased to receive applications. A state tourist market is being sought for the "big spring" for which the city is named.

J. Frank Dobie, Noted Folklorist, Hurt In Crash

AUSTIN (AP) — Folklorist J. Frank Dobie, 74, who often dressed like the cowboys he wrote about, was under intensive care Saturday after an automobile accident.

The educator and author, known for his informal dress and outspoken crusading manner, was taken to Breckenridge Hospital Friday night after his car and another collided at an intersection.

He suffered a deep scalp cut plus other head injury and minor cuts and bruises. His condition is listed as serious by the hospital. Only members of his family could visit him.

"We're keeping him in the intensive care unit so we can watch him around-the-clock," a spokesman said. "This doesn't mean he is critical, though. We often keep older people in the intensive care unit for observation."

Polk Shelton Jr., 20, son of Austin lawyer Emmett Shelton, and driver of the second car, was reported in fair condition.

J. FRANK DOBIE

Dobie liked to call himself the best professor who ever got on a horse. He has combined teaching and writing for about 35 years.

He has written 30 or so books, many of them best sellers, and hundreds of stories on the folklore of Texas and Mexico. He is internationally known for his stories and lectures.

For 33 years he was a member of the English faculty at the University of Texas. He was dismissed in 1947 when he refused to end a year's leave of absence which had been stretched to four years. He was teaching American history at Cambridge, England, when the University requested he return.

Dobie was born on a ranch in Live Oak County and grew up in the brush country between the Nueces River and the Rio Grande. He graduated from a little ranch school to a town school and finally to Southwestern University at Georgetown. In 1914 he received a master's degree from Columbia University.

He was a reporter for the San Antonio Express when World War I began and volunteered as a private. He became an officer in field artillery and fought in France.

After the war he came to the University of Texas and became interested in legends and lore of the Southwest. He turned out "A Vaquero of the Brush Country" in 1929. Two years later, "Coronado's Children" was published and selected by the Literary Guild.

Seven more books followed before he left for Cambridge. In 1944 and 1945 he taught at a school for American war veterans near London.

In 1955 he was honored by the Texas Folklore Society, a group he helped start in 1922.

In 1957, Dobie was stricken with pneumonia. Later he had a severe heart attack. He slowly recovered and went back to his reading and writing.

He still writes his syndicated newspaper column, which he began about 1930. Dobie and his wife, Bertha, live in a modest white frame home they bought in 1926.

No Spectacular Climax Is Seen For U. S. Election Campaigns

WASHINGTON (AP) — An election campaign marked by charges of fraud and corruption in key states rocked noisily along Saturday toward what probably will be an unspectacular climax on Tuesday.

Some Republican gains seem to be in the making, particularly in standout races for governor.

And it is these races that are producing the most drama and color and the most brawls and ruckuses in the closing hours of the campaign.

Name-calling and charges of lying and corruption are being tossed around in Pennsylvania.

Charges of fraud and influence-peddling resound in Ohio.

Across the country in California similar accusations are being hurled in courts as well as along the campaign trails.

Still, Cuba is the overriding issue preoccupying the nation, the politicians and the voters. Yet nobody can gauge now or after Tuesday's march to the polls whether it is a real factor in determining how ballots are marked.

LITTLE CLEARER

The crystal ball seems a little clearer as to election prospects:

Some Republican gains, in keeping with the customary trend in nonpresidential elections, but not enough to give the GOP command of the House of Representatives, let alone the Senate.

Republicans are a good bet to seize the governorships of several big states with big cities.

They already have New York, and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller looks like a big winner again. They are battling hard in Ohio, Michigan, Pennsylvania and California. And it will be no big surprise if they oust Democratic governors in all these states.

This points up a possibility that the election could have a bigger political bearing on 1964 than on 1962.

Not only are some presidential hopefuls and possibilities involved. Governors also have a vital role in candidate picking, controlling political organizations and dispensing political favors, even where there are strong civil service systems.

ELECTORAL VOTES

And the five big states with governorship contests have nearly a third of the electoral votes which decide presidential elections.

So this election is important to President Kennedy both now and in the future, since he has all but announced formally that he will be a candidate for a second term in 1964.

In 1962, he was telling the people for a while, he considers it vital to elect more Democrats to Congress to support what he terms a program for progress.

Kennedy called off campaigning because of the Cuban crisis. He was on the air briefly Friday night with a rather optimistic statement about the Cuban problem. And even though it didn't contain even an indirect reference to the congressional elections, nothing a president does or says around election time can be divorced entirely from political meaning.

Kennedy had gotten in campaign licks in 11 states before he stopped short on Oct. 20.

IKE STUMPED

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has stumped twice as many states as Kennedy. And in a campaign appearance in Democratic territory in Baltimore Friday night he noted that the Cuban problem still is unresolved and there still is "a crisis in our foreign affairs."

Eisenhower went on to say it is mandatory that all Americans stand behind Kennedy in the crisis—and that the administration's domestic record is dotted with unfulfilled promises and provides "a dreary tale of standing still except in the spending of money and in the growth of our debt."

Out in Illinois, the Republican leader of the Senate, Everett M. Dirksen is trying for re-election and attempting to cash in on the fact that he was one of the men from Capitol Hill called in by Kennedy for discussions on the Cuban situation.

In his final campaign appearance, in Chicago, Kennedy went all out for Dirksen's Democratic opponent, Rep. Sidney Yates. And Yates is pointing to Dirksen's partner in the House, Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, as grumbling loudly that the Republicans were "notified, not consulted," about the Cuban decision.

SENATE SCRAP

One race Kennedy didn't step into—and Eisenhower did—is the Senate scrap in Massachusetts, where presidential brother Edward M. (Ted) doesn't appear to need much help. The Republican challenger is George Cabot Lodge who still is bearing down on the idea that Massachusetts needs a "voice that will be independent, a senator who is able to disagree with the President without presenting an impossibly embarrassing situation."

Down the line in New York, Republicans say their latest survey indicates Gov. Rockefeller may win this time, over Democrat Robert Morgenthau, by as much as 750,000 votes. His 1958 margin was 573,000.

Candidates on both sides, for governor and senator, are concentrating toward the campaign close-out on the New York City area, with its hefty batch of votes and normally hefty Democratic majorities.

Morgenthau and Democratic Mayor Robert F. Wagner are putting on a get-out-the-vote drive.

PLEDGE SCOFFED

On the other side of the country, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon has given over and over a pledge to serve four years as governor—and not try for the presidency—if he can take the measure of the present Democratic governor, Edmund G. (Pat) Brown.

Democrats, Brown especially, scoff at this pledge.

The battle between the two is winding up in dramatic style, with nobody sure who will come out on top.

Democrats crying "foul" have accused the GOP of smearing Brown with campaign pictures and literature. They have gone into court and got three injunctions in the past week against some of the anti-Brown material.

Republicans countering with their own smear charges filed a $2 million damage suit against the Democrats on Friday and got a court order against use of two anti-Nixon leaflets.

In Michigan, the hottest governor race in many a year is running out its course with rivals wooing the Detroit area, with Republican George Romney slightly favored in polls, and the political pros assessing Romney's chances for the GOP presidential nomination in 1964.

Democratic Gov. John B. Swainson has pitched his re-election bid largely on support of the Kennedy program. Former motor magnate Romney is telling the people they need him to give them efficiency in the state government.

The governorship fight is boiling hot in Ohio, too, with the late odds 6 to 5 and take your choice between Democrat Michael V. DiSalle and Republican State Auditor James A. Rhodes.

DiSalle has the job now and has prodded a grand jury into investigating charges of fraud in the auditor's office in the rental and purchase of adding machines. Two independent accounting firms looked into the charges earlier in the week, at Rhodes' request, and said they found no evidence of fraud.

Pennsylvania has been providing some of the roughest campaigning anywhere, with issues all but buried under personal attacks.

NO QUARTER

Two Yale graduates are having at it in the governorship scrap, with no holds barred and no quarter shown.

One big matter of dispute: Republican William Scranton, wealthy first-term congressman, has been trumpeting through the state that corruption blackened Democrat Richardson Dilworth's regime as mayor of Philadelphia.

Dilworth concedes there has been some, because few cities are without it, but that he cleaned it up.

Art Exhibition Slated At College

Trio Wins Freshman Class Talent Show Here Saturday

The Trouping Trio, three lads who drummed out a beat that thrilled the audience in the Municipal Auditorium Saturday night, were selected first place winners in the talent show sponsored by the Freshman Class of Howard County Junior College.

There were eight entries in the night's contest and judges were hard-pressed to select the top three winners. The first place prize of a watch from Zale's Jewelry and a $25 Savings Bond from the First National Bank, went to Trio members Danny Lane, Jerr. Gilmore and B. C. Hathaway.

Second place, $15 in gift certificates from Blum's Jewelry, Hemphill-Wells and Praeger's, was won by Gary Walker, whose mastery of the guitar held his audience spellbound.

Cecil Hart and Pat Baxley placed third, a $10 gift certificate from Driver Implement, with their offerings of song and twin guitars. Their entry was also written by Hart.

Ace Ball, KHEM disc jockey, was emcee for the program which drew several hundred spectators. The show was planned and staged by members of the Freshman Class, guided by Charles Driver, president. Don Brooks, also of KHEM, was a big help, Driver explained.

Jimmy Copeland's band, which was to be a feature of the program, was unable to attend. However, George Reynolds's trio filled in to the applaus of the crowd.

A variety of talent was included in the program and the spectators appeared to enjoy it each of them immensely. There were:

Linda Williams with an interpretation of torch singing, complete with costume;

Frances and Monnie Featherston blended voices for several hymns;

Jackie Hipp matched wits with Jerry Mahoney, his puppet;

Shirlene Moore displayed artistry in black light with her colorful costume and baton;

Cliff Cox, Melvin Walker, Lance Walker and Dick White played and sang several western songs.

Throughout the night, Ball drew ticket stubs, awarding door prizes to over a dozen members of the audience.

Mahoney Wins Nomination

Big Spring's Robert Mahoney won the nomination for governor in the pre-legislative meeting at Abilene Saturday. Two other members of the local YMCA contingent were named to a special committee that will present bills at the Youth in Government meeting at Austin late in December.

Mahoney, in his platform, said that he would work to unite the district and to increase membership in the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y. He favored elimination of the poll tax, if a registration fee program was set up and said he would allow the courts to handle the integration program.

Two committee teams were named to introduce bills from this district at Austin. The first team includes Freddie White and Karen Kee, both of Big Spring, and their advisor, Wade Choate. The other team includes Wichita Falls youngsters.

The YMCA delegates traveled to Abilene early Saturday and returned home late Saturday night.

Mississippi U. Expels 4 Students

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — The University of Mississippi expelled four students Saturday on charges growing out of demonstrations against James H. Meredith, 29-year-old Negro.

Hugh Clegg, assistant to the chancellor, said the charges included possession of dangerous weapons, possession and use of explosives, drunkeness and fighting, and posession of a large number of forged student identification cards.

The university, in line with its usual policy, did not identify the expelled students.

Clegg said, however, that two of the students were residents of Mississippi, one was from Louisiana and one from New Jersey.

"Letters have gone to their homes notifying them of the action," Clegg said.

He said that three of the four expelled students admitted their involvement.

These four are the first students expelled because of trouble relating to Meredith's enrollment. Several students were placed on probation earlier because of actions in the riot that followed Meredith's appearance here the night of Sept. 30.

Clegg said the charges of possession of dangerous weapons and explosives grew out of a collection of arms confiscated in a search of a dormitory Wednesday night.

At that time, soldiers with bayonets surrounded the dormitory and Army and university officials conducted a room-by-room search in which they found an arsenal including a dismantled pistol, several tear gas grenades and a supply of fireworks.

The recommendation for expulsion came from the Student Judicial Council, which has been investigating the series of outbursts the past week.

Panel Upholds Farm In Fuss On Allotments

FORT STOCKTON, Tex. (AP)—A review committee upheld Trans-Pecos Farms, Inc. Friday in a dispute with the federal government over cotton allotment transfers.

The committee announced its findings Friday after a lengthy hearing Thursday. The government may not appeal to the courts, although it is permitted to file an application for a reopening of the case within 45 days.

The allotments were transferred from East Texas to Pecos County in West Texas.

Farmers involved in what the government contends were illegal cotton acreage allotment transfers presented their cases Thursday to a review committee.

Pecos brothers Paul and John Ivey asked the committee to nullify a USDA penalty of $34,441 and to restore cotton allotments which had been revoked.

Reviewing the case were three West Texas cattlemen, Willis McCutcheon of Toyahvale, Pete Kennedy of Alpine and Clay Miller of Valentine.

The contest was over land which the Ivey brothers sold in the spring of 1961 to four East Texas farmers whose land had been condemned for construction of the Navarro Mills Dam.

Farmers reportedly purchased the Pecos County land and then leased it back to the Iveys, operating as Trans-Pecos Farms, Inc.

The government contended this was not a bonafide sale but a scheme to buy cotton acreage allotments illegally. The Iveys and the East Texans said the sales were made in good faith and that the buyers still hold valid deeds to the land.

Gunman Shoots Down Waitress

MINERAL WELLS, Tex. (AP) —A gunman, wielding a .22 caliber pistol, shot a waitress to death Saturday night in a downtown taveren.

She was identified as Wanda Roy.

Witnesses said the gunman walked into the tavern shortly after 6 p.m., asked the woman a question and then fired four times.

The man drove off in a car. Police started a search for him.

Shot To Death

HOUSTON (AP)— Omega McClellon, 44, was shot to death in a quarrel shortly before midnight Friday.

Drawings Given School Children

More than 4,300 elementary school students in Big Spring are receiving large drawings, to be colored, warning them not to take favors from a stranger. The pictures are sent to schools by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, along with four rules to remember.

Boys and girls are asked to color the picture and memorize the following rules: Turn down gifts from strangers; refuse rides offered by strangers; avoid dark and lonely streets, and know your local policeman.

Campaigners Land At Airport; Giant Chopper Goes To Army

By M. A. WEBB

Howard County Airport was buzzing with activity around 7 a.m. Friday when Gubernatorial Candidate John Connally dropped in for a campaign visit with party members. He came in with a big twin-engine aircraft, a Lodestar. Coming in about five minutes ahead of him was a DC-3 with Democrats from Odessa and other points.

With Connally in the Lodestar were newsmen and photographers. The two big aircraft took up considerable space on the ramp at the terminal building.

• • •

At about the time the party got going good John Stanley took off in Big Spring Aircraft Company's Piper Colt for Lubbock where he took his tests for a private pilot's license. He made it. John is a member of the Big Spring Flying Club, Inc., and has been one of its boosters.

• • •

Something that had become a sort of "sad sack" fixture around the airport for the past year was moved out early Friday morning. It was a big Air Force helicopter with drooping props and flat tires.

A private concern in Dallas bought the big chopper, for parts, and never did move it from Howard County. He got it from Webb AFB as surplus. The U.S. Army bought the helicopter from the original buyer and headed for Corpus Christi with it Friday morning. There's a big vacant space between the terminal building and the No. 1 hangar now.

• • •

Another member of the Big Spring Flying Club got her private license last week. It was Betty Ray Clifton who was the first secretary of the club.

• • •

Flying has not been to frequent at Howard County during the past week, although several charter flights, with hunters, have been made by Big Spring Aircraft pilots.

• • •

Webb Aero Club members flying were: Cessna — Small (2), Franks, Wermath, Heartsill (2), L. E. Healy; Colt — Pearson (5), Harvey (3), Curtis, and Roberts (3).

• • •

Big Spring Aircraft Corp., has installed an aircraft shop of its own at the airport. Sam Miller, a mechanic and commercial pilot and native of Big Spring, is in charge of the service. The firm now has three commerical pilots and three aircraft to serve the needs of the area. Miller, Harold Lloyd and Ted McClung hold commercial licenses, with Lloyd qualifying for multi-engine aircraft.

Defense Rests In Estes Case; No Witnesses

TYLER (AP) — Veteran courtroom strategist John Cofer, radiating confidence that he has his case won, declined to call any defense witnesses Saturday in the Billie Sol Estes trial.

His dramatic and daring announcement that the defense rested caught most in the courtroom in this East Texas city by surprise.

Estes, 37, is on trial on charges of theft and swindling by manipulating a $94,500 mortgage signed by T. J. Wilson, a farmer of Estes' home town of Pecos.

Estes became a dominant figure in West Texas agriculture, dealing in fertilizer, grain storage and cotton growing.

His empire collapsed last March when federal officers arrested him on fraud charges. He has been indicted in four courts, but the state trial here is his first.

Congressional committees spent most of the summer investigating Estes, particularly his grain storage operations, transfers of cotton acreage allotments and relations with Agriculture Department employes.

Actions of the court make it almost certain that the jury will receive the case no earlier than Monday.

The state contended in the 10-day trial that Estes deceitfully persuaded Wilson to sign a mortgage citing fertilizer tanks as collateral when in fact the tanks did not exist, and that Estes sold the mortgage to CIT, a finance company, and pocketed the money.

Cofer, in a 22-minute review Saturday, claimed this:

Estes simply purchased Wilson's credit for $7,500 cash — a bonus given Wilson for signing the mortgage.

The defendant did not benefit from the deal because he still owes the money to Superior Manufacturing Co. of Amarillo through whose hands the mortgage passed when CIT bought the paper.

The state did not offer any evidence that the tanks fail to exist. He said Superior Manufacturing had 201 tanks on hand as specified in the mortgage.

Under court procedure, the state could have called witnesses to plug the holes Cofer claimed exist in the state's case. They did not.

After Cofer's review, Estes told reporters, "We will stand on our record. Naturally we hope the jury will find with us."

Estes, smiling and seemingly relaxed, said Cofer "took the state's own evidence and told the jury about it so simply that anyone could understand."

The judge recessed court indefinitely and indicated it would require a lengthy interval for him to prepare the charge to the jury. Attorneys' arguments will follow.

Sources close to the court said no further action appeared probable during the weekend.

Cofer's review stressed that Estes still owes the money to Superior and that Wilson was not deceived in the deal, as the state contends.

The defense lawyer reviewed testimony that under the agreement the tanks were to be delivered in Hale County (Plainview). He declared, "Nobody has ever said these tanks were not delivered in Hale County."

Two Sergeants Retire At Webb

M. Sgt. John T. Romanik and T. Sgt. Jerry S. Malatek were officially placed on the Air Force retired list Wednesday. In an informal ceremony in the office of the WAFB commander, Col. Wilson H. Banks, Lt. Col. Maxfield H. Bence, Webb Personnel Officer, read the retirement orders.

Col. Banks presented the certificates of retirement signed by the Chief of the USAF, Gen. Curtis LeMay. Following the presentation, Col. Bence read letters from the base commander expressing appreciation for the fine record over the years, and particularly during their tour at Webb.

Sgt. Malatek is a native Texan and expects to make his home in Houston. The Malateks have two children. Sgt. Romanik said that his plans are uncertain.

Texas Regains Lead By Spilling SMU

By JACK KEEVER

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Nationally ranked Texas struggled to a 6-0 victory over Southern Methodist Saturday and regained leadership of the Southwest Conference football race.

Texas marched 50 yards for its lone touchdown in the second quarter and then fought off the challenging Mustangs who would allow the Longhorns little breathing space.

Texas' score came on a four-yard dive by tailback Tommy Ford, who also scored the Longhorns only touchdown in the 7-3 win over Arkansas two weeks ago.

Texas, ranked No. 5 in the nation, now leads the Southwest Conference with a record of three wins against a 14-4 tie with Rice. The loss dropped SMU to second with a 2 win, one loss mark.

Texas' victory may have been a costly one as sophomore tailback Ernie Koy limped out with an injured left leg in the third quarter.

Koy, whose punting has been a major factor in Texas 1962 drive for the SWC crown, was hurt when slammed down by an SMU lineman as he punted.

It was later announced that Koy had a combination knee-leg injury and had been taken to the Student Health Center for treatment. Koy's injury was "of some severity," officials said.

Sophomore end Knox Nunally also was sent to the health center for treatment for a knee ailment. Nunnally has provided some of Texas' most spectacular defensive work from his position.

The Longhorns face Baylor, Texas Christian and Texas A&M in the next three weeks.

TCU jumped into a tie for second by defeating Baylor 28-26. Arkansas and A&M, both with 2-1 records, played Saturday night at College Station.

Although SMU lost, the Ponies sounded warning to the rest of the conference that they are a title contender.

The Ponies stunning defense harassed Texas' grinding offense all afternoon and quarterbacks Don Campbell and Max Derden needed only to hit an occasional pass to key drives.

As it was, however, they could not, completing only 7 of 21, including three straight misses on their last possession around their own 3-yard line.

Texas' defense stopped the Ponies equally as well on the ground holding them to 86 yards rushing. Texas got 176 yards rushing and 73 passing. SMU's seven completions totaled 64 yards.

The Longhorns were forced to rely on their defense for the third time in four weeks for a victory as a sputtering offense could only produce one touchdown. Twice before in wins over Oklahoma, 9-6, and Arkansas, Texas was unable to move effectively.

Royal shuttled his three quarterbacks, Duke Carlisle, Johnny Genung and Tommy Wade with Genung guiding the Longhorns in for the touchdown. Carlisle set it up, however, catching Danny Thomas' 59-yard kick over his shoulder at his own one and racing up the middle of the field to the 50-yard line where he was tackled.

Texas then pushed in for the score with two passes by Genung eating up 20 yards.

Wade threw 4 of 5 complete for 34 yards, but had one intercepted which killed a Texas drive just before the half.

Campbell with 23 yards and fullback John Richey with 22 led SMU rushers. Ford sprinted for 66 yards in 18 carries to top the Longhorns, gaining crucial yardage twice in the fourth quarter when Texas was trying to hold onto the ball. Fullback Ray Poage was next with 42 yards in 14 carries.

Judo Exhibition Scheduled Here

People attending the benefit basketball game in the HCJC gymnasium Thursday night between the Webb AFB student pilots and the HCJC Jayhawks will be treated to an unusual halftime show.

LT. SAIKI

Featured will be Lt. Edwyn Saiki who, with the help of four airmen, will give a 25-minute exhibition in judo.

A native of Hawaii, where he resided until about seven weeks ago, Lt. Saiki has been an enthusiast of the sport since he was in the eighth grade in intermediate school.

Ju-jitsu is an exercise taught for centuries in Japan as a method of self defense without the use of weapons. It depends for its efficiency largely upon the principle of making use of an opponent's strength and weight to disable or injure him and by applying pressures so that his opposing movement will throw him out of balance, dislocate or break a joint.

Judo is not alien to ju-jitsu but is popularized more for the sport it offers. Participants are not mayhem-bent. It came into being much more recently — about 80 years ago, to be specific.

A good judo artist, says Lt. Saiki, depends primarily upon balance, speed and co-ordination for his success.

Judo practicioners can graduate through ten degrees of efficiency. Lt. Saiki himself is in the Shodan or first phase of the work. The two men who taught him most of what he knows about judo are a Mr. Tsugi, an athlete with a No. 6 or Rokudan rating; and Ken Kawachi, rated on the fifth, or Gordon, Plateau.

A referee will be on hand at the exhibition Thursday night to keep score and watch for fouls. One rule participants try not to violate: Sticking thumbs in the sleeves of the opponent's jacket in efforts to throw him.

Judo officially becomes a part of the 1964 Olympic Games for the first time in history. Its debut is timed for Tokyo, birthplace of the budding art of judo. Judo, of course, is now recognized as a truly international sport. The Armed Forces of the United States currently encourages many of its personnel to study and become proficient in the endeavor.

Lt. Saiki was born in Waipahu, 13 miles from Honolulu, on the island of Oahu. His father is still employed on a sugar plantation there. Edwyn is a graduate of the University of Hawaii with a degree in secondary education. He plans to make the Air Force his career. Standing 5-feet-7 and weighing 165, he is 22 years of age.

Saiki was commissioned in the Air Force after taking ROTC training in college. He now is Food Service office at the local military installation.

The lieutenant will be assisted Thursday night by Airman 1.C. John Gore, Airman 1.C. Jim Halser, Airman 2.C. Jim O'Flaherty and Airman 2.C. George Shuck, all of whom have been taking regular instructions from Saiki.

Hawks Play Webb Thursday

Webb AFB student pilots tangle with the Howard County Junior College Jayhawks Nov. 8 in a benefit basketball game at the college field house.

Proceeds from the game will go to the Howard County-Big Spring United Fund drive.

The Webb cagers are led by ex-Air Force Academy star 2nd Lt. Henry (Butch) Viccellio who played three years of varsity ball for the Falcons.

Others on the Webb team include 2nd Lts. William N. Knipp, Jerry W. Jameson, Neil P. Hansen, Joel Rosen, George H. Vipond, Dennis J. Strogny, Robert D. Wyman and Edwin Boelter. All are student pilots in the Webb undergraduate pilot training program.

Also on the team is 1st Lt. Phillip Hayden, a Webb instructor pilot.

An added feature to the benefit game will be a judo demonstration at halftime.

Lt. Edwin Saiki, base food services officer, who is a black belt holder, and three airmen first class from the 331st Fighter Interceptor Squadron will put on the demonstration.

The three airmen are James Halsor, brown belt; John Gore and George Shuck, both white belt holders.

Admission will be by ticket only. Cost for the ducats are 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for children.

West Texas Is 23-7 Winner

CANYON, Tex. (AP) — West Texas State knocked Bowling Green State out of the unbeaten class Saturday with a 23-7 intersectional victory before 19,000 fans.

It was the Falcons' first loss in seven games, and West Texas got its seventh victory in eight starts. The Falcons have one tie on their record.

West Texas took command early scoring on its first offensive play. It was 10-0 at the end of the first quarter and neither team scored in the second period. The rest of the scoring was done in the third quarter with the Buffaloes getting two touchdowns and Bowling Green one.

On the first series of downs, Bowling Green attempted to pass but Jerry Richardson of West Texas intercepted on the Falcon 40 and ran to the 13. On the first play quarterback Jim Dawson bootlegged the ball for the touchdown. Later in the quarter Ollie Ross kicked a 30-yard field goal for West Texas.

West Texas opened up the lead with quick scores in the third period.

Richardson scored on a seven-yard pitchout, and end Jim Ostrander intercepted a Bowling Green pass and ran 74 yards for a score.

The Falcons got their lone touchdown with 2:15 remaining in the third quarter. Halfback Jay Cunningham went 10 yards on a wide sweep for the score.

Razorbacks Shade Aggies, 17 To 7

By MIKE COCHRAN

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — Eighth-ranked Arkansas overpowered stubborn Texas A&M 17-7 Saturday night to remain solidly in contention for an unprecedented fourth straight Southwest Conference football championship.

The once-beaten Razorbacks, with all-America candidate Billy Moore pulling the strings and workhorse Danny Brabham compiling the short yardage, dumped the Aggies for the fifth straight year.

Arkansas, 3-1 in the conference and trailing Texas by a half game, spotted the proud Cadets a 7-0 lead in the first quarter and then methodically trimmed the lead to shreds.

Specialist Tom McKnelly kicked a 31-yard field goal in the first quarter and Moore sneaked one yard for a touchdown in the second stanza to give Arkansas a 10-7 halftime edge.

Moore got a second touchdown in the third period, this time dancing around right end from the Aggie 6.

Halfback Trais Reagan loped 51 yards on a punt return for A&M's lone score.

The loss erased the cadets' slim title hopes leaving them 2-5 for the season and 2-2 in the conference.

The victory, Arkansas' sixth in seven games, left the Hogs tied with Texas Christian University for second place. They have either shared or won outright the SWC title the past three years.

So devastating were Coach Frank Broyles' charges that in the fourth period they never permitted the Aggies to move past their own 24-yard line.

Meanwhile, Moore was quarterbacking the Hogs within scoring distance several times in the second half. They reached the A&M 18 and 12 on two occasions and lost the ball on downs and once marched inside the 20 only to be stalled by a penalty.

Ken Hatfield, a defensive specialist from Helena, played a key role in the Arkansas touchdowns. He returned a punt 27 yards to set up the first and then slashed 35 yards with another kick in the third period to set the stage for the second.

Cougars Upset Florida State

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — The Cougars of Houston University upset bowl-minded Florida State 7-0 in a homecoming football game Saturday, scoring after a 59-yard fourth quarter drive in a steady rain.

It was the Cougars third win over the Seminoles in as many years and the fourth year in a row that FSU has failed to score in its homecoming game.

Halfback Bobby Brezina went over from 1 yard out with four minutes left in the game. He and fullback Frank Brewer shared ball carrying honors in the march to the goal line.

Brewer, a junior, had only 12 minutes of playing time under his belt before the game.

The Seminoles expected the Cougars to be tough defensively, and they were in this game. The Seminoles ran into a solid Houston wall and failed to click in a series of passing attempts.

Rockets Slam Carver, 30-20

Johnny Johnson ran for three touchdowns and a two-point conversion Saturday night to lead Lakeview Junior High School to a 30-20 win over Carver JH of Midland.

It was the second meeting of the squads—Lakeview avenged a 20-14 setback suffered three weeks ago in Midland.

Lakeview started the game at a sizzling pace by returning the opening kickoff 70 yards on the way to a score. Johnson delivered the tally from five yards and Larry Pickens ran the conversion.

Johnson scored again in the second period from eight yards, then tacked on two PAT's. Shortly thereafter Midland flicked the scoreboard when Billy Carter connected with Sam Shaw in the end zone from 20 yards away.

Johnson scored again in the thrid from 15 yards and Pickens came through for two extra points. Midland countered with fullback Johnny Hodge scoring from the 40 and running the conversion, bringing Carver nearer at 24-20.

Pickens ran 40 yards to a score to pull Lakeview well ahead.

Lakeview, now 3-4 on the season, faces Blackshear of Odessa Friday in Odessa.

B Game Called Off Saturday

The B football game between Midland High and Big Spring, which was to have been played in Midland Saturday afternoon, was cancelled due to the fact that three regulars had been moved up to the Steer A team.

One of those was quarterback Rickey Earle. The Steers' reserves will next see action against the Abilene Cooper varsity here at 2 p.m. next Saturday.

Iowa Hawkeyes Surprise Ohio St. Bucks, 28-14

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP)—Iowa jarred Ohio State with three first-half touchdowns and stopped two long Buckeye drives in the second half for a 28-14 football victory Saturday.

The loss, second in four conference games, virtually wiped out Ohio State's bid for a second straight Big Ten title. The surprising triumph also gave Iowa a 2-2 conference record.

The Hawkeyes, soundly beaten in their last two games, used a hard-hitting running attack fired by sophomore fullback Vic Davis to take a 14-0 first quarter lead, and never trailed in their most explosive game of the year.

Matt Szykowny, Iowa's passing star, took to the air only four times but scored two touchdowns on 1-yard plunges.

Ohio State, which ground out second and third quarter touchdowns scored by fullbacks Bob Butts and Dave Katterhenrich, saw its hopes fade in the last quarter when the Hawkeyes stopped one drive with an intercepted pass and scored in the final seconds after recovering a wild Buckeye lateral.

The Iowa conquest was especially surprising in view of the fact the Hawkeyes earlier were beaten 42-14 by Wisconsin, a team Ohio State beat 14-7.

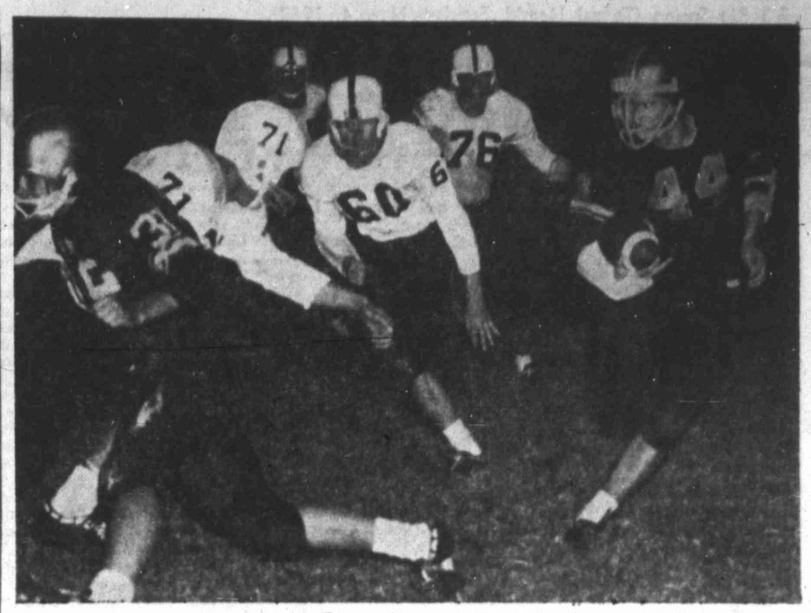

Alabama Smashes Mississippi St.

STATE COLLEGE, Miss. (AP) —Dazzling sophomore Joe Namath quarterbacked second-ranked Alabama to a methodical 20-0 Southeastern Conference victory over Mississippi State Saturday with two touchdown passes and knifing runs.

Namath handled the defending national champions deftly, sparking all three scoring thrusts with his dangerous running and accurate passing.

Christians Tip Bears In Thriller, 28-26

FORT WORTH (AP) — Sonny Gibbs led Texas Christian on a 70-yard touchdown drive with three minutes to go Saturday to not only win a passing duel with Baylor' Don Trull but send his team to a sensational 28-26 victory.

The triumph kept Texas Christian in the Southwest Conference race.

The mighty Gibbs threw for 192 yards and two touchdowns and his passing set up the other two scores.

Trull, the conference's leading passer, connected on 13 for 208 yards and two touchdowns and kept Texas Christian in trouble all afternoon — even in the last minutes when he speared a drive that reached the TCU 35 before he lost his aim.

It was a great offensive duel that changed complexion with each quarter. Midway of the final period sophomore Lawrence Elkins, who was on the receiving end of Trull's touchdown passes, took a punt back 92 yards for a score and that put Baylor ahead 26-21.

But Gibbs rallied his Horned Frogs for that one last desperate drive during which he passed for 37 yards to keep it moving. Tommy Crutcher ran around right end for the final four yards and a crowd of 20,000 went wild.

Baylor took the lead in the first period with a touchdown set up by Jim Ingram's interception of a Gibbs pass. Ingram ran 22 yards with it and set the ball on the TCU 47. Ronnie Goodwin and Ron Adams pitched in with 35 yards in runs and Trull made the last seven yards with a whirl around left end. Carl Choate converted.

TCU tied it up early in the second period with a 68-yard drive with Gibbs' 11-yard jump pass to Tom Magoffin proving to be the big punch. Gibbs scored it himself with a 1-yard smash. Jimmy McAteer converted.

The Frogs went ahead with a 52-yard drive shortly afterward with a 38-yard Gibbs pass to Magoffin setting it up. Gibbs threw to Bobby Sanders for six yards and the touchdown.

Baylor tied it up with only five seconds left in the half with Goodwin taking the kickoff back 26 yards and catching a 48-yard pass from Trull to move deep into TCU territory.

That touchdown was on a 5-yard pass from Trull to Elkins. Choate kicked for the extra point.

Longhorns Rip Permian To Claim Top Spot

By TOMMY HART

The unbelievable was accomplished by the unrelenting here Friday night.

Before 6,000 thunder-struck fans, Big Spring assassinated Odessa Permian, 26-14, to extinguish the title hopes of the Panthers and vault into sole possession of first place in 2-AAAA standings.

The Steers, opportunists all the way, carried the fight to the enemy from bell to bell. Two-touchdown favorites going into the game and boasting a record of never having lost to Big Spring in football, the Panthers hit the field running.

They scored two touchdowns against the keyed-up Steers before coach Don Robbins could settle his forces. After that, it was practically all Big Spring.

In achieving their victory, the Longhorns spaced their touchdowns well, scoring once in each quarter. They were driving deep in Permian territory when a merciful timekeeper called a halt to the proceedings.

The masses in the stands, acting is if they couldn't believe their eyes, wouldn't budge from their seats until all the boys had cleared the field and returned to their dressing room. It was a night local fans will, no doubt, long remember.

As expected, Mike Love was the big menace in the Permian pattern for victory. He must have felt like a fox surrounded by a bunch of hungry hounds, however. The Steers keyed on him, swarmed all over him and stared at him when the teams were idle between plays. The resident eleven did what no other 2-AAAA foe and few opponents on Permian's schedule the past two years have been able to do — stop Love from scoring a single point.

Halfback Harmon Smith electrified the crowd on the opening kickoff when he accepted the ball at his 20, found running room up the sidelines and fled 80 yards for Permian's first score. Only ten seconds had elapsed on the scoreboard clock when Smith breezed in for the score. The Panthers double-teamed a couple of Big Spring players at key spots to spring Smith loose.

Quarterback Jug Campbell proceeded to skirt the line and scoot across for the two extra points to make it 8-0, Permian. Not a hand had been laid on either Permian boy and the game began to take on the appearances of a rout.

Permian counted again with 2:59 left in the opening period after Bruce Strahan wrapped himself around a Steer fumble at the Big Spring 39.

On the third play in the ensuing series, Campbell passed to end Royce Berry for 12 yards and the tally. Campbell made a try at getting the two extra points on an outside belly play but the Steers swarmed all over him.

Dickie Spier put Big Spring on the scoreboard for the first time with 1:14 to go in the opening round with a tremendous burst up the east sidelines from 18 yards away. Dickie, who undoubtedly played his finest game on both defense and offense, appeared to have been hamstrung twice but both times broke free.

The drive ate up 60 yards and took just four plays. A pass from Albert Fierro to Baxter Moore, and a nifty run by Rick Peters set up the score. Big Spring failed on the try for point when a pass from Fierro to Eddy Nelson was too tall.

Helped along with a 15-yard penalty against the Panthers, Big Spring scored again with 4:18 to go in the second quarter when Fierro flipped a fourth-down pass to halfback Humberto Hernandez from the five, culminating a 60-yard offensive that required 16 plays. Again the Steers missed on the try for PAT, but it didn't matter.

Big Spring went ahead to stay in the third when Hernandez, a cagy, exciting runner, slammed across on a country sweep from the two. There was 6:13 left in the round at the time. In that series, the Longhorns moved 52 yards in six plays and Spier set up the score on a fullback draw play which fooled the Permian redogging linemen completely. Spier's run covered 39 yards before he was fielded on the three.

A pass from Fierro to DeeRoby Gartman netted the two extra points.

In the fourth, Big Spring made Permian strike its colors with a crackling goal-line defense, taking possession of the ball after the desperate Panthers had carved out yardage to Big Spring's six.

The provincials then surged 94 yards for the clinching touchdown without misfiring. Baxter Moore doing the honors from the Panther 37, with 6:27 left. Baxter was never better as he deployed his blockers — notably Gartman, Nelson and Peters — expertly and barrelled across at the flag.

Passes from Fierro to Hernandez and Gartman opened the door for Big Spring on that drive.

Early in the fourth period, and still very much in the game at the time, the Panthers clawed and fought their way to Big Spring's 11, only to have the Steers throw up one roadblock after another and finally gain possession of the ball.

At the end of the game, Big Spring was on the move at Permian's 21.

The Steers had the satisfaction of throwing the mighty Love for a loss for the first time this year and that distinction went to Ricca Flores, who dogged Mike's footsteps on a pitchout from Campbell in the second quarter and flung him to earth for a six-yard deficit at the Big Spring 22. On the next play, Moore picked off a Permian pass at his five and returned it to the 12.

In the third round, Peters came far across the field to rack up Love on a punt return around the Permian 35. A lesser man than Love perhaps would not have immediately recovered from the experience.

Mike was held to less than 100 yards rushing — 98, as a matter of fact, and his average on rushing plays suffered, too.

Robbins used 19 boys in the game. It was the sort of team effort in which no one could be singled out because everyone was playing up to his potential, giving a little more in effort than was expected of him.

ACKERLY — The Sands Mustangs, with a pass and run combination which netted over 300 yards, won their first game of the year by defeating the New Home Leopards, 18-6, in a conference game here Friday night.

The game began as if the team from New Home was going to make a runaway of the score. The Leopards took the kickoff and with a third and six facing them quarterback Tom Brown threw a pass into the arms of halfback Kenneth McClung who ran on into the end zone on a play covering 68 yards. Conversion attempt failed and New Home led, 6-0. The first time the Mustangs had the ball, Ronnie Gaskins ran 22 yards and quarterback Gary Green completed a 35-yard pass to Eddie Herm to put the ball on the Cats' 11-yard line. On the next play Green threw a pass to Herm at the six and ran on in for the score that tied the game at 6-all.

The Horses attempted to take the lead in the second quarter on a drive which started in the first and ended on the 11 in the second. The Mustangs penetrated deep into Leopard territory once again in the period when they drove to the 8-yard line but time ran out, leaving the score tied.

Sands didn't waste any time taking the lead in the third quarter. After taking the kickoff Green completed a 45-yard pass to Danny Clanton at the New Home 13. Four plays later Ronnie Ebell pounced on a teammate fumble in the end zone for paydirt and the 12-6 lead which the Mustangs never lost.

In the final period the Mustangs were stopped once on the 15 but on the next time they had the ball, Green, on a keeper off tackle, raced 42 yards for the insurance touchdown. The game ended with the Horses penetrating again on the Cat 9. The deepest penetration the Leopards could make in the second half was to the Ackerly 39-yard line.

Outstanding for the Mustangs was Green, who had 103 yards rushing, and Herm, who had 105 yards on pass completions.

Sands has lost seven games this year and New Home has won one as against six losses.

Bobcats Rally To Win, 20-7

ODESSA—The San Angelo Bobcats came from behind to defeat the Odessa Bronchos, 20-7, here Friday night.

Early in the first quarter the Bronchos started a drive from their own 41. With fullback Gary Howell doing most of the damage, the Horses drove to the two where Howell split the middle for the only TD the Odessa team got during the night. Ronnie Pack kicked the conversion to give the Bronchos a 7-0 lead with 7:08 left in the first period.

After forcing the Bronchos to punt the Bobcats cut the lead to 7-6. The Cats took over the ball on the Odessa 49. From there Gordon Walker and Richard Wallace drove to the 22. Bill Paschal then carried to the seven. Two plays later quarterback Wallace threw to Sammy Ray from the five for the score.

San Angelo took the lead after Marshall White blocked a punt which Robbie Scott recovered on the Odessa 28. Paschal carried twice to the 12 and five plays later Wallace kept off right guard for the go ahead points. Walker ran for the two points and a 14-7 Bobcat lead.

The Cats got the insurance touchdown with 3:45 left in the third quarter. The drive started on the Horses' 12 and was kept on the ground all the way to the five from where Paschal smashed the middle for the 20-7 lead.

The rest of the game was just a matter of exchanging the ball several times and neither team threatened seriously. The Angelo team had the ball on the Odessa 25 when the game ended.

GARDEN CITY—Garden City's Bearcats lost a heartbreaker to the Sterling City Eagles before a homecoming crowd here Friday night, 42-14. To make it even more heart-rending a 70-yard touchdown run by Dennis Seidenberger, in the fourth quarter, was called back to midfield and a 15-yard penalty assessed against Garden City for clipping.

Close to 200 homecoming guests were served a barbecue supper in the high school building by the Chuck Wagon Gang from Odessa at 6 p.m.

Mary Alice Houston was crowned Football Sweetheart just before game time by Hugh Schafer who, a minute before, had been named Mr. Football. The Bearcat mascot, "Pony Tail," pulling a royal chariot, came on the field and hauled the two reigning students around the field for the spectators.

Other candidates for Sweetheart were Judy Hurt and Mary Fields.

The Bearcats kicked off to Sterling City and the ball was put in play on the 35-yard line. The Eagles struck quickly, and in three plays scored the first touchdown when Jerry Payne took the ball through the middle for the last 37 yards. Danny Baily ran the ball over for the two extra points. Baily drove 15 yards just before the quarter ended for another touchdown but the point-try failed.

About midway of the second quarter Earl Plagens took a short pass and loped 70 yards for the Bear Kats' first touchdown. The extra point try failed.

After the kickoff the Bearcats suffered two penalties, close to their goal line, following a punt by the Eagles. The ball was fumbled in the end zone and an Eagle recovered for another touchdown. Just before the half ended Vernon Asbill tore off 32 yards and another six points was added while Baily made the score read 28-6.

The Bearcats seemed to come alive in the third quarter but were plagued by a pass interception and a costly fumble. The Eagles scored two more touchdowns by Payne and Bailey, and Baily made two points bringing the score to 42-6.

Garden City then got moving and Schafer was able to push across another touchdown and add the extra points brining the Bearcats' points to 14.

Houston Gets New Chance In Dallas

DALLAS (AP)—The Dallas Texans, arriving at the halfway mark in the American Football League race with a half-game lead over the field, give Houston another chance to pull back into contention here Sunday.

The Texans aren't giving Houston anything with good grace, however—they aim to whip the Oilers for the second time in a week and make their own standing at the top of the Eastern Division even more secure.

Defeat might damage Houston's chances so greatly that the defending champions could never get back into the race.

Dallas beat Houston 31-7 at Houston last Sunday. It was the first time the Texans ever won a game in the Oilers' own ballwick. Houston never has won a game in Dallas and the Texans would like to keep that jinx going.

The Texans are riding high, wide and handsome, boasting in Len Dawson the league's top passer; the biggest touchdown maker in Abner Haynes, who has 13; and the top touchdown pass-receiver in Chris Burford, who has nabbed nine; the leading pass intercepter in Bobby Hunt, who has taken in eight and the Texan leads the circuit in defense.

Houston leads in nothing, is a game in arrears in the Eastern Division and by losing Sunday could drop two games behind pace-setting Boston.

There has been much dissatisfaction at Houston this week over the Oilers' showing. Houston even put Bill Groman, its ace pass-receiver, on waivers but recalled him in the face of public protest.

Bears Itching For Second Chance At Pace Setters

By The Associated Press

The Green Bay Packers, on the brink of making a runaway of the Western Conference race in the National Football League, face one of their two biggest remaining obstacles on the road to an unbeaten season Sunday, meeting the Bears in Chicago's Wrigley Field.

This one promises to be an earth-shaker, for the rugged Bears have been itching to get another shot at coach Vince Lombardi's defending champions since the 49-0 pasting they took in Green Bay last month.

With the Packers the only unbeaten (7-0) club in the NFL, Washington's Eastern Conference-leading Redskins try to gather their shell-shocked defensive forces for a battle at home with the league's top offensive outfit, the Dallas Cowboys.

The two played a wild and wooly 35-35 tie in their opening game. Washington must win to keep its Cinderella act going atop the conference, particularly with the New York Giants close by in second place and gathering the same head of steam that carried them to the title last year.

New York (5-2) is host to the St. Louis Cardinals (2-4-1). In other games, Philadelphia's battered Eagles (1-6) meet the Browns (4-3) in Cleveland; Detroit (5-2) is at the Los Angeles Rams (1-6); the Minnesota Vikings (2-5) are at Pittsburgh (3-4); and the Baltimore Colts (3-4) begin a two-game swing on the West Coast against the San Francisco 49ers (3-4).

In the American League, Oakland is at New York, Denver plays at San Diego and Houston is at Dallas in the only scheduled games.

ROTAN — The powerful Rotan Yellowhammers took the District 6-A lead Friday night by bashing across four first-period touchdowns and coasting to a 53-12 win over Coahoma's Bulldogs.

The teams went into the game with identical 2-0 district records. The win left Rotan's season mark at 7-1 while Coahoma stands 5-2. The only blemish on the Yellowhammers' slate came from a 12-10 beating by Hamlin in the season opener.

Rotan built a 34-0 lead shallow in the second period before the Bulldogs were able to limp across the goal line.

Yellowhammer quarterback Steve Herron paved the way by running for six touchdowns, passing for another, and delivering a two-point conversion. The elusive Herron went into the game with 23 scoring runs to his credit.

Coahoma found the going tough all night. Its deepest scoreless penetrations were twice to its own 45 and once to midfield. The Yellowhammers were able to move the ball almost at will, and were not forced to punt the entire game. Coahoma punted only four times during the evening, but was guilty of three fumbles and was taken for two pass interceptions.

Herron opened scoring 2:30 deep in the opening period with a 85-yard scoring run on a rollout around left end. Two minutes later the junior quarterback returned a Bulldog punt 80 yards to a second TD. Joe Frank Garcia booted the first conversion but his second was wide.

The third Yellowhammer tally came on a 68-yard march consuming five plays. Herron's runs of 32 and 18 yards preceded Mack Lang's scoring run on a double-reverse from the nine. Herron's conversion run made it 21-0.

Center Jerry Stewart covered a Bulldog bobble at Coahoma 33 to set up the fourth first-period Rotan score. Herron ran 14 yards, then passed the remaining 19 to end Bill Ashton for the counter.

Rotan failed to score again until all but 2:15 were gone in the half. Tackle Howard Van Horn recovered a fumble at Coahoma's 45 (the deepest Bulldog drive at that point). Herron ran eight, 15 and 16 yards before sneaking over from the two. Garcia's boot was good.

The Bulldogs then struck with a 78-yard march—fueled by twin pass interference penalties against Rotan that mounted to 50 yards. Quarterback Tom Grant passed 10 yards to Jim Mays, then scored from the 16.

Rotan took the ensuing kickoff 63 yards in seven plays and scored with 38 seconds remaining in the half. Herron passed 30 yards to Garcia for the score. The scoreboard stood 40-6 during intermission as Garcia's boot went wide.

The last act of the Rotan regulars was to take the opening second-half kickoff 65 yards in 10 plays. After that the field was studded with Yellowhammer reserves, who did a creditable job of holding the scrapping Bulldogs.

Herron passed 24 yards to Pete Garcia on the first scrimmage play of the second half, and Lang made a 16-yard trip through center. The score came with Herron diving across from the seven. Garcia's boot gave the reserves a 47-6 cushion.

From this point the Bulldogs managed eight of their 11 first downs, and picked up 78 yards rushing. Midway in the third period the Bulldogs scratched out their second TD on a 70-yard drive. Short steady ground work sparked the move with Ed McHugh, Grant and Bill Turner sharing the load. Grant's 20-yard pass to Mays was the longest pickup of the drive. Grant scored from two yards and passed incomplete on the conversion try.

The Yellowhammers came across with a surprise tally with 23 seconds remaining in the game. End Bill Ashton snagged a Coahoma pass at his 35 and tore down the sidelines to a 53-12 score.

The score brought the Yellowhammers' season total to 322 points or an average of better than 40 points a game.

McCAMEY — Quarterback Billy Clary scored three touchdowns here Friday night to lead the McCamey Badgers to a 26-15 District 7-AA victory over Stanton's Buffaloes.

McCamey scored twice in the opening period but found itself on the underside of a 15-14 score in the third. A 67-yard drive with Clary scoring put the Badgers on top 20-15. In the final two minutes of the test Clary snagged a Stanton pass and iced the win six plays later on a dive from one yard.

McCamey's first score came when Clary scampered 30 yards around end. Two minutes later fullback John DeMaris piled across from 15 yards.

The Buffaloes' started rolling in the second quarter with a fumble recovery on McCamey's seven. Three plays preceded halfback Joe Williams' plunge from the two. Buddy Glaspie passed to Clinton Miller for two extra points.

Williams brought about Stanton's only other score with a 75-yard trip in the third period. Glaspie booted the conversion.

Pitt Turns Back Syracuse, 24-6

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A pass over the punter's head and fumble on the same play handed Pitt a touchdown on the fourth play of the game Saturday and ignited the Panthers to a 24-6 football victory over Syracuse.

Halfback Paul Martha sparkled for the Panthers, scoring touchdowns on a 31-yard dash and a 54-yard run with an intercepted pass.

The Orangemen, losing four games for the first time since 1954, barley recovered from the errant play.

On fourth down at the Syracuse 39, center Len Slaby, promoted to the first team for the Eastern Big Five contest, snapped the ball high over Bill Schoonover's head. Schoonover caught up with the ball near the 5 but fumbled when hit by guard Ralph Conrad.

Tackle Ernie Borghetti fell on the loose ball in the end zone.

The Panthers, now 4-3, built up a 17-0 lead before Syracuse scored. The Orangemen's 1-yard touchdown came on Walley Mahle's desperate underhand fling to end Walt Sweeney in the third quarter.

The Syracuse offense, sparked in the previous three games by sophomore quarterback Mahle, was hampered by sloppy ball handling throughout the first half.

Pitt, meanwhile, put together some flashy running and razzle-dazzle double-handoff and lateral plays for two other scores.

On fourth down and 15 yards to go late in the first quarter, Martha scooted 31 yards around left end on a double-handoff for a touchdown. Rick Leeson kicked a 35-yard field goal in the second period. He also booted three extra points.

Hornets Dazzle Dragons, 34-6

MERTZON — Mertzon's Hornets leaped into the District 3-B lead Friday night by buzzing the Flower Grove Dragons, 34-6.

The first half was more of a one-man-show than a six-man game as Mertzon's Larry Trantham scored once in the first quarter and three times in the second—pushing the Dragons to a 26-6 lead at the half.

Lee Roman scored the Dragons' only TD in the second.

In the third period Don Lawdermilk scored from the eight and Pablo Montes added two on a conversion.

Cadets Trounce Terriers, 26-0

BOSTON (AP)—Army's muddy, sputtering Caisons got rolling on a 56-yard punt return by Ken Waldrop and continued behind Ray Asme's two touchdowns for a 26-0 victory over Boston University Saturday in a bid to maintain its top Eastern football rank.

Rugged if not smooth, the Cadets had a firmer grip on the slippery, rain-drenched ball, twice recovering Terrier fumbles which set up scoring efforts.

The Cadets were in front by the narrow margin of a Dick Heydt field goal when Waldrop of the "regulars" unit hauled a punt from his 18 to the BU 29 via a brilliant piece of individual running. The Terriers were further taxed by a piling on penalty on the play.

Borger Likely To Clinch Flag

By The Associated Press

At least five district championships go on the line this week in the upper divisions of schoolboy football and among them due to win will be Dallas Samuell, one of the rated teams in Class AAAA.

Samuell can clinch the Dist. 6 title if it beats South Oak Cliff Friday night.

Borger expects to sew up the Dist 3 when it plays Amarillo Friday.

Brownsville should win Dist. 14 when the Eagles meet Alice. The other zone has Corpus Christi Ray and Corpus Christi Miller tied for the lead. They play Nov. 17.

Class AAA has three championships on the line. Hurst Bell can win Dist. 5 if it beats Diamond Hill Friday. Conroe can take Dist. 10 by defeating Brenham and South San Antonio can rack up Dist. 15 if it downs San Antonio Marshall.

These divisions have until Nov. 23 to decide district titles.

The big news in Class AAAA last week was the defeat of Wichita Falls by Irving 6-0. Wichita Falls, the defending state champion and winner of 20 straight games, was knocked virtually out of the district running. More upsets would have to come for the Coyotes to get back in the fight.

Arlington and Irving are tied for the district lead. Wichita Falls plays Arlington this week. Irving plays Arlington Nov. 23. The district could wind up in a deadlock for the title.

Only 10 undefeated, untied teams remain in the two divisions — El Paso, Borger, Irving, Dallas Samuell and Spring Branch in Class AAAA and Brownwood, Graham, Nacogdoches, Silsbee and San Marcos in AAA.

The AAAA schedule this week by districts, with all games Friday unless otherwise noted:

Michigan State Spartans Crushed By Minnesota

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Minnesota, the nation's top team on rushing defense, also showed it has a sparkling and imaginative offensive Saturday crushing seventh-ranked Michigan State 28-7.

Quarterback Duane Blaska directed the well-balanced Golden Gopher attack with a shrewd combination of pinpoint passes and breakaway runs.

A shocked homecoming crowd of 64,783 in Spartan Stadium saw Minnesota grind 80 yards for one score, pass 44 yards for another, make a third on a 51-yard punt runback, a fourth on a 1-yard plunge and added a safety.

Giant tackles Bobby Bell, 6 feet 4½, and Carl Eller, 6-5½ anchored the 212-pound average Minnesota line that pushed around Michigan State's even heavier 230-pound average forward wall.

Minnesota which had held opponents to only slightly more than an average of 26 yards a game rushing, also bottled up the Spartans. Michigan State was the country's best rushing team before this game, going for a 338-yard a game average.

Minnesota, now with a 4-1-1 record, still was very much in the running for the Big Ten championship. The only Gopher loss was to top-ranked Northwestern. It was the second MSU loss against four wins. Michigan State was held to just 30 yards rushing.

Unranked Illini Vanquish Purdue

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — Undermanned Illinois threw an inspired defense and the daring passes of Mike Taliaferro at favored Purdue and upset the Boilermakers 14-10 Saturday.

Taliaferro also got fine running from Ken Zimmerman and his other backfield mates as the Illini ended a 15-game losing streak.

The loss, Purdue's first in Big Ten competition, badly damaged Purdue's championship hopes and ruined homecoming for a crowd of 45,496.

Purdue dominated the first quarter and scored first on a 26-yard field goal by Skip Ohl. Illinois went ahead in the second quarter on a pass from Taliaferro to Norman Walker and got its victory margin on the first play of the fourth quarter as Zimmerman exploded through the line for 30 yards.

The Boilermakers got back in the game midway in the fourth quarter when Ron DiGravio hit John Greiner in the end zone. They were pounding at the gates just before time ran out, but their final bid for victory died as the Illini smothered DiGravio's attempt to connect for a winner.

Rice Owls Decision Texas Tech, 14 To 0

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON (AP)—Paul Piper, a 200-pound sophomore from Collierville, Tenn., scored two second half touchdowns Saturday as Rice University defeated the stubborn Texas Tech Red Raiders, 14-0.

Piper, a hero of last week's 14-14 upset tie with No. 1 Texas, plunged over from the one early in the third period and iced the game away by breaking through the middle for a 13-yard scamper midway in the fourth quarter.

The two winless Southwest Conference teams battled through a scoreless first half but Gene Fleming set up the first Rice touchdown by returning the second half kickoff 72 yards and Malcolm Walker set up the clincher by intercepting a pass at the Tech 39.

Three pass interceptions meanwhile blunted the Tech attack, stopping a first quarter attack that moved to the Rice 14 and a 44-yard third period surge that advanced to the Owl 19.

Rice's scoring drives covered only 24 and 39 yards but fumbles stopped drives that covered 63 and 72 yards and the Raiders held to stop another that advanced 65 yards to the Tech 18.

Fleming's long kickoff return gave Rice the ball at the Tech 24 and Piper got his first touchdown 11 plays later.

Two short runs by Piper and a seven-yard pass from Randy Kerbow to Gene Raesz got a first down at the 15. Another seven-yard pass from Kerbow to Billy Hale got to the four and Gene Fleming powered to another first down at the three on fourth down.

Fleming and Piper picked up a yard each before Piper, who started the scoring against Texas a week ago with a 49-yard scamper, rammed over.

Kerbow's passes were the key to the touchdown drive that followed Walker's interception. A pair of 13-yarders to Jerry Kelley and Fleming got first downs at the 26 and 13 before Piper broke through the middle.

In five previous games, Rice had gained upset ties with Louisiana State and Texas but had been defeated by Penn State, Oregon and Southern Methodist.

The defeat was the seventh straight for Tech, including six conference losses.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

Big Spring's Jerry Tucker, who reported late to practice, finally got into a football game for Texas Western College and now has completed three of eight passes for gains totaling 30 yards . . . One of his bombs was picked off by Arizona State in the Miners' 35-7 loss to Arizona State last week . . . Jerry also carried the ball for six yards in gains but has lost eight trying to pass . . . Jimmy Evans, another local youth at TWC, remained the Miners' leading pass receiver up to this week's game with HSU, with ten receptions good for 88 yards . . . The gymnasium at Webb AFB has been closed for four months for remodeling . . . If enough interest isn't generated here for Industrial and Church basketball teams, the Webb teams might use local gyms to run off their schedules . . . Michigan State now owns seven straight football wins over Notre Dame while Northwestern has slugged the Irish four times in a row . . . No other team can lay claims to such feats . . . When Dick Butler became president of the Texas (baseball) League, San Antonio was the geographical center of the circuit. Now that honor belongs to Amarillo, 500 miles removed from San Antonio . . . Don Robbins, the local football mentor, says the tall grass in Abilene's Public School stadium probably had a lot to do with quarterback Rick Wisener's knee injury . . . The Steers were not used to playing in such lush turf and Wisener tried to cut too quickly on a roll-out play . . . Orlando Cepeda, the star first baseman of the San Francisco Giants, says he can always turn to umpiring if his bad eye doesn't improve . . . Incidentally, the Giants reportedly took Cepeda off the trading block after his trouble was reported in the press . . . No club would have traded a top star for him until the eye improves . . . Top baseball stars who are likely to be traded this winter include Rocky Colavito, Detroit; Eddie Mathews, Milwaukee; Norm Larker, Houston; and Jimmy Piersall, Washington (who is apt to wind up in the National League).

Walker's Effort Wasn't A Record

San Angelo's Gordon Walker, the Negro junior, ran wild against Odessa Permian several weeks ago when he gained 271 yards rushing the ball . . . Ted Battles, the Midland scribe, reminds that Wahoo McDaniel of Midland High still holds the rushing record for a single contest, however . . . McDaniel stormed the Odessa High defenses for 283 yards in helping the Bulldogs achieve a 28-13 victory over the Bronchos in 1955 . . . Boxer Cassius Clay gave Los Angeles quite an ultimatum recently during a recent smog attack there. . . . 'I'm a game guy,' he remarked, 'so I'm going to give Los Angeles another day to get rid of the smog' . . . Malcolm Bolger, who played a terrific game at end for Snyder against Big Spring, probably has been lost for the rest of the season to the Tigers because of an injury . . . He has a dislocated elbow . . . Marv Jenson, manager of boxer Gene Fullmer, says he never wants to take another major fight to San Francisco . . . 'Too much competition for the entertainment dollar,' he opines . . . The next Fullmer-Dick Tiger bout is apt to be held in Bozeman, Mont., where a gate of $175,000 is regarded as a cinch . . Camilo Pascual, the ex-Big Springer, now with the Minnesota Twins, came in for a $1,864.07 cut of the World Series mondy . . . Even the San Francisco Giants' groundskeeper, Matty Schwab, got a full share of the Series loot, the same as the players . . . Golfdom magazine says the 1961-62 average maintenance cost per hole of Country Clubs around the nation is $3,307 . . . Imagine a football team amassing 23 first downs and 291 yards total offense and still losing? . . . That's what Midland High did against Permian last week. . . . Those who have seen him play say quarterback Bill Wood (a junior) is one of the real comers in District 2-AAAA . . . The Odessa High School Invitational Basketball tournament will be held Dec. 6-7-8 this year . . . Randy Turpin, the one - time boxing champion, has been given 153 years to pay off his income tax debt in England . . . He's in arrears $44,581 and will retire it at the rate of $5.60 a week.

Donnie Phillips A Hard-Luck Player

Janie Rinehart, the Snyder girl who placed in one of the sprints in the Women's National AAU Track and Field meet this year and who would like to bid for a place on the U. S. team in the upcoming Pan-Am Games, is now living here and seeking employment . . . She's a good typist and can take shorthand . . . Donnie Phillips has to be the champion tough-luck football player in District 2-AAAA . . . No sooner did he recover from that serious knee operation than he went back into sick bay with bronchitis . . . Donnie did get into the Abilene Cooper game for a few plays, however . . . He rarely, if ever, misses a Steer practice . . . The Los Angeles Rams of the NFL use the word "Mike" as a code name for the middle linebacker position . . . in his recent book, Bill Veeck, former owner of the Chicago White Sox, estimated that major league ball clubs gross $1.19 per customer on concessions . . . Sonny Randle, great pass-catching end of the St. Louis Cardinals, had this to say of Big Spring's Charley Johnson after the recent game with the Dallas Cowboys: "Jerry Norton had me completely covered on one touchdown play but Johnson drilled the pass right in there" . . . Charley will get a real, severe test in today's game with the New York Giants . . . The Giant line plays for keeps, as Washington Redskin back Norman Snead will attest following last week's game . . . Clovis Riley, the Abilene Cooper coach, had warm words of praise for Big Spring's Humberto Hernandez after his Cougars lost to Big Spring last week . . . "Our corner men was right there with him but Hernandez faked to the inside and our man went for the fake and Hernandez spun around and went by him," Riley lamented . . . Humberto is one of the most pleasant surprises in the Steer camp, a real asset . . . Texan Norm Cash, who was beaned in Japan recently, received a check for $612.42 from the World Series loot . . . Nine of the 11 Permian boys who started against Big Spring here Friday night are seniors . . . Only holdovers are halfback Harmon Smith and end Royce Berry, who scored the TD's.

Mustangs Romp On Cee City

SWEETWATER—The Sweetwater Mustangs rambled across for touchdowns in each period Friday night on their way to a 52-6 District 3-AAA rout over Colorado City's Wolves.

Quarterback Marty Stewart's passing brought twin first-quarter TDs for Sweetwater—45 yards to Weldon Land and six yards to Ronald Dement. Dement ran a two-point conversion after the first.

Quarterback Stewart tossed four TD passes in all—three of them to Dement. A second period score came when the pair joined on a 17-yard effort and Stewart ran a conversion.

Halfback Gene Kropp and fullback Tinker Parsons donated six and two points, respectively, to open the third period. The Stewart-Dement combo clicked on a three-yard scoring play to bring the score to 36-0.

Lamesa Lashes Chiefs, 27-6

LAMESA — The Lamesa Tornadoes, behind the passing of quarterback Sherrell Kidd and the running of tailback Leroy Walker, defeated the Lake View Chiefs for the first time in three years, 27-6, in a district 3-AAA game here Friday night.

In the first period, Kidd engineered a drive from the Lamesa 27 which ended when the senior quarterback tossed a pass into the arms of wingback Jim Anderson for the six-pointer. The two point try failed and the Tornadoes led 6-0 with only a minute left in the opening period.

The Tors increased their lead to 12-0 in the second period, after Jay White, the district's leading scorer, recovered a Chief fumble at the Lake View 40. Five plays later, Kidd tossed to wingback Billy Lawson for paydirt.

Early in the third quarter, the Chiefs came within hailing distance when Joe Hartman hit Dale Scott on a pass which covered 24 yards. The conversion attempt failed and that was all the scoring the Chiefs were to do for the night. Still in the third period, the Tornadoes started a 74-yard drive which ended in the fourth, with White busting the center for the score. Walker carried eight times in the drive. Kidd passed to Kent Clark for the two points and the 20-6 lead.

The Tors' final tally came after White intercepted a pass on the Lake View 25. On the play White was injured, causing Walker to move to fullback. Walker and Andy Cisneros carried to the eight. With fourth and one Kidd leaped over a pileup for the final TD. Anderson kicked the conversion.

Eagles Uncouple Lee Rebs, 27-6

MIDLAND—Midland Lee's Rebels scored the first TD of the game here Friday night, but touchdowns in each of the first three quarters by Abilene's Eagles and a steadfast defense handed the Rebs a 27-6, District 2-AAAA defeat.

The Rebels drove to their only score in the opening minutes of the game. It came as Freddie Cauble took a pitchout 17 yards around left end to score.

Abilene's Rusty Harris took the ensuing kickoff 70 yards to a score and set the Eagle machine in motion. The next Abilene tally came with only 46 seconds left in the half as quarterback David Jefferies tossed 10 yards to Dickey Phipps.

The Eagles took the second half kickoff 56 yards in nine plays to bring the score to 20-6. Jefferies carried around left end for the final nine yards. Abilene moved nearly the entire distance of the field for its last tally, in a drive that consumed 10 plays. Tommy Wilson scooted over from two yards and Jim Edwards booted the conversion.

Wildcats Nudge Indiana, 26-21

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — Northwestern, the nation's top-rated college football team, had to come from behind in the final quarter Saturday to defeat an inspired Indiana team 26-21.

Fullback Bill Swingle's 5-yard touchdown run in the final quarter ended the Hoosiers' bid for one of the biggest upsets in this or any other season.

Tom Myers, Northwestern's spectacular sophomore passer, threw for two touchdowns in the first half and completed two others that set up Swingle's winning touchdown.

Indiana looked like anything but a team that was losing its 18th straight game with a Big Ten opponent. Quarterback Woody Moore started the scoring with a short plunge, set up by his own 11-yard run, after the Hoosiers took a bad Northwestern punt on the Wildcats' 18.

Myers threw 14 yard to Gary Crum and 38 to Willie Stinson for touchdowns and Northwestern carried a 14-7 lead into the second quarter.

Indiana held for downs on its 42 in th second quarter and scored in five plays. Nate Ramsey went the last 29 and the teams went into the second half tied 14-14.

Stinson scored again for Northwestern in the third quarter on a short plunge at the end of a 73-yard drive. Indiana surged ahead again 21-20 on Moore's 48-yard pass to Marv Woodson and Luke George's conversion.

Moore intercepted a Myers pass late in the third quarter but the Wildcats couldn't be stopped in their fourth period drive.

Cooper Cougars Deadlock 'Dogs

ABILENE—The Abilene Cooper Cougars pulled a District 2-AAAA upset here Friday night by battling Midland's Bulldogs to a 14-14 tie.

Heavily-favored Midland opened the game with quarterback Bill Wood returning the initial kickoff 77 yards for a touchdown.

Saboteurs Hit Oil Pipelines In Venezuela

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Saboteurs slipped past Venezuelan national guardsmen during Friday night and blew up four pipelines at a U.S.-operated oil installation about 260 miles east of Caracas, oil company spokesmen reported Saturday.

It was the second time in a week dynamiters had hit Venezuela's crucial oil-production industry. In strikes last Monday saboteurs bombed four power stations, temporarily paralizing an oil installation operated by the Creole Petroleum Co., a subsidiary of the Standard Oil Co. (N.J.), near Lake Maracaibo.

The Venezuelan government blamed the first blasts on Communists acting under orders from the government of Prime Minister Fidel Castro in Cuba.

The latest blasts hit at three oil pipelines operated by the Mobil Oil Co. and the Texas Oil Co., and one gasoline line owned by Mene Grande, a subsidiary of the Gulf Oil Co., at Puerto la Cruz.

National guardsmen and firemen from the nearby city of Barcelona quickly quelled fires in two of the oil pipelines and workmen prevented a fire at the gasoline line by promptly shutting it off. The third oil line, owned by Mobil, burned longer.

Spokesmen for the companies said losses appear to be considerable but said they could keep up with sales by taking from other supplies.

After the blasts at Lake Maracaibo, the government declared all oil installations under military rule. Guards were posted at all key points.

Dr. Godfrey Lowell Cabot, who founded the Cabot Carbon Corporation 80 years ago, died in his sleep at Boston, Mass. Friday at 6:30 a.m. He recently celebrated his 101st birthday.

Private funeral services will be held in Boston Monday. All Cabot offices will be closed for the day at 1 p.m.

Mr. Cabot was married to Maria Buckminster Moors in 1890. She preceded him in death in 1934. He is survived by two sons, Thomas D. Cabot, Weston, Mass., John Moors Cabot, U. S. ambassador to Poland; one daughter, Mrs. Ralph Bradley, Boston; 14 grandchildren and 32 great-grandchildren.

Although carbon black was one of his prime endeavors, Mr. Cabot investigated many frontiers, including science, medicine, aviation, forestry, and others.

Gaines Site To Explore Deep Section

Local Petroleum Company of Midland No. 1 Oil Development Company of Texas is to be a Devonian wildcat in North Gaines County, 3½ miles southeast of Seagraves.

It is to be a re-entry of an exploratory failure drilled to 13,382 feet in the Devonian in 1956 by Monterey Oil Company and abandoned at that depth.

The surface location is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 58, block G, WTRR survey.

Local proposes to clean out in the old hole to 8,500 feet and then set a whipstock and drill a directional hole pointed to the southeast so that when it reaches total depth of 13,600 feet from the surface it will be 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 57, block G, WTRR survey.

If that is accomplished the bottom of the well will be 1,320 feet south and east of the surface hole.

In Andrews County, 22 miles west of Andrews, Continental Oil Company No. 2 North Block 12 Unit, northwest offset to the discovery well of the Block A-49 (Ellenburger) field, is drilling ahead below 8,942 feet after testing oil, gas and water in the Devonian.

A three hour test from 8,688 to 8,728 feet recovered 5,000 feet of gas, 1,520 feet of oil and 360 feet of water.

The discovery well tested oil, no water, in the Devonian then drilled on and completed in the Devonian.

The offset is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 1, block A-50, PSL survey.

Pan American Petroleum Corporation No. 2-B Fasken Operating Area, Northeast Ector County explorer, recovered oil and gas on a drillstem test in the Pennsylvanian.

A one hour test was conducted from 9,667 to 9,770 feet. The recovery was 4,800 feet of gas, five feet of free oil and 180 feet of drilling fluid. Bottomhole flow pressure ranged from 79 to 99 pounds. Shutin pressure initially for one hour was 694 pounds with a final one hour reading of 495 pounds recorded.

The project is a southwest offset to operator's 1-B Fasken Operating Area, Ellenburger discovery of the David field.

It is 16 miles north of Odessa and 2,001 feet from north and 1,986 feet from west lines of section 3, block 42, T-1-N, G&MMB&A survey.

* * *

It is scheduled for 3,100 feet 467 feet from north and east lines of section 4, block 57, T-2, T&P survey and six miles southwest of Orla.

The No. 5 J. D. Bodkins, and others, was staked by American Trading one location north of the two-well West Waha (6,450-foot sand) field. It is contracted for 6,800 feet 467 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 2, block C-4, PSL survey and 25 miles southeast of Pecos.

Dealer Award

Al Acuff (right), operator of the El Paso service station, 4th and Circle Drive, receives the "Dealer of the Month" award for October from Gene Hensley, area manager of the Odessa district. Some 200 dealers are eligible for the award, which went to Chester F. Cluck, another local dealer, in February.

Playa Sector Is Extended

R. H. Fulton of Lubbock completed No. 1 Phillips to extend the Playa sector of the Spraberry Trend Area in East Martin County ½ mile to the east.

It is nine miles northeast of Stanton and 1,540 feet from north and 1,320 feet from west lines of section 14, block 35, T-1-N, T&P survey.

On potential test the well produced 215 barrels of 39-gravity oil, plus 10 per cent water pumping from perforations at 7,596-7,626 feet after a 20,000-gallon fracture.

* * *

McGrath & Smith of Midland No. 3-C Connell, Southwest Ector County Ellenburger project in the Metz (multipay) field and indicated Fusselman discovery, has reached total depth and is preparing to run casing.

It is bottomed at 9,120 feet. An Ellenburger drillstem test conducted for four hours from 9,088 to 9,120 feet surfaced gas in 15 minutes, no volume reported. The recovery was 31 barrels of free oil and 1,020 feet of oil-cut mud. Bottomhole flow pressure ranged from 87 to 705 pounds. Initial shutin pressure for one hour was 2,955 pounds with a three and 14 minute final shutin reading of 2,955 pounds.

The venture indicated Fusselman pay on a drillstem test at 7,734-49 feet which recovered 2,640 feet of free oil, 150 feet of gas-cut mud and 210 feet of salt water.

It also recovered 1,155 feet of free oil and 20 feet of water on a test at 8,772-92 feet in unreported zone.

Site is 2,303 feet from north and 2,321 feet from east lines of section 8, block B-16, PSL survey and four miles southwest of Penwell.

Operator Will Try Tests In Spraberry

In Northwest Martin County, nine miles southwest of Patricia, Pan American Petroleum Corporation is preparing to set casing for completion attempt in the Spraberry at No. 1 Humble-Wolcott, wildcat project.

The project was drilled to a total depth of 12,642 feet in barren Fusselman. A cement plug has been set at 9,700 feet and operator plans to run 5½-inch casing to 9,500 feet for Spraberry tests.

It is 602 feet from north and 1,851 feet from west lines of northeast quarter of league 250, Hartley County School Land survey and 1½ miles southeast of Spraberry production in the Breedlove (multipay) field.

* * *

George T. Abell of Midland has staked location in Southwest Crane County for a 2,700-foot wildcat.

It is No. 1 Guess 660 feet from northwest and northeast lines of section 1, L. C. Clemons survey, 10 miles northwest of Imperial and 1½ miles southwest of the Atapco field.

* * *

Humble Oil & Refining Company of Midland has scheduled an Ellenburger wildcat for South Gaines County 17 miles southwest of Seminole.

It is No. 5 H. H. Kendrick 660 feet from north and 510 feet from west lines of section 8, block A-24, PSL survey and is contracted for 12,000 feet. It is surrounded by production in the Robertson field.

* * *

Phillips Petroleum Company No. 7-C Harris has been completed as the second producer and a one location north extension to the Casco (Canyon) field of Schleicher County.

It was potentialed flowing through a 20-64-inch choke for 108.16 barrels of 40.8-gravity oil per day plus 21 per cent water. The gas-oil ratio is 379-1.

The production is from perforations at 4,690-4,704 feet which were fractured with 10,000 gallons. Hole is bottomed at 4,740 feet, with 4½-inch casing cemented at 4,734 feet, and plugged back to 4,710 feet.

It is located 1,500 feet from west line and 563 feet from north line of A. B. Thompson Survey No. 1, Abstract No. 724 and 12 miles northeast of Hulldale.

* * *

Rig Activity Shows Gains

Rotary drilling rig activity in the Permian Basin continued for the fourth successive week to record a slight increase, according to Reed Roller Bit Company's Friday survey.

On that count the West Texas-Southeast New Mexico region listed 207 active units at work. This was a net gain of four from the 203 reported a week earlier.

The latest total falls 48 under the 255 rigs which were active in the two-state area on November 3 of last year.

Despite showing a drop from 38 to 33 on the latest count, Lea County, N. M. continued to head the list.

The county-by-county survey includes, with previous totals in parenthesis,

Andrews 16 (18), BORDEN 1 (1), Chaves 2 (1), Cochran 2 (1), Concho 0 (1), Crane 9 (8), Crockett 6 (6), DAWSON 6 (5), Ector 21 (19), Eddy 7 (5),

Gas Limits Could Affect Production

AUSTIN (AP)— Oil production in some Texas fields could be affected by new casinghead gas limits to be set up by the Railroad Commission, Commissioner W. J. Murray says.

Murray said Friday the new ruling probably will be made public at the Nov. 15 monthly oil proration hearing. He said it will have the greatest effect in West and South Texas fields and perhaps in some East Texas fields, but he said total oil production will not be affected greatly.

The new plan will establish for each oil lease a maximum casinghead gas limit which will be obtained by calculating the maximum amount of casinghead gas each well can legally produce. The total of all wells on the lease will be the lease's legal limit.

Industry Gets Tough For Independents

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON (AP) — The top spokesman for independent oil operators says it is getting tougher to exist as an independent.

Harold Decker, president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America (IPAA), says the industry is going through a cycle of basic economic change.

Some independents, he said, have quit fighting.

"This is reflected in the acceleration of sales, mergers, and sellouts," he said. "To stay in the oil business is going to be tough even if we win every battle on the Washington front."

Decker told IPAA convention last week the worldwide surplus of oil has been aggravated by a sharp decline in the rate of growth in demand for oil.

Demand increases averaged 4 to 5 per cent annually after World War II but have dropped to less than 1 per cent a year the past six years.

"We are kidding ourselves when we think we are going to turn some trick that will enable us to sell another 500,000 barrels of crude a day or suddenly change the cost-price squeeze that threatens the existence of every independent producer," said Decker, president of the Highland Oil Co. of Houston.

He said the nature of problems is such it is more important than ever that the independent oil and gas producer have an effective voice and be heard in industry and in government.

"If we fail to see to this, we are in serious trouble," he said.

IPAA is the policy making body representing independent operators in 46 states.

Decker said recent economic trends, however, have forced the association to cut some of its essential activities to a bare minimum.

COSDEN
meet the 'SENIORS' of the Cosden family...

JOHN L. RUDESEAL JR.

This is the 8th in a series of special Cosden presentations recognizing the long and valued services of these employes who have been associated with the Company 15 years or longer. Cosden is proud of its scores of workers who have contributed their efforts through so many years toward the success of the company.

Many a romance has blossomed on the campus of Howard County Junior College, but one of the happiest was recorded in matrimonial events on August 1, 1947. John Luther Rudeseal Jr., a member of the college's first graduating class in the spring of '47, married a fellow student, Wilma Jo Taylor.

With a job already secured, the couple set forth on their honeymoon. Eleven days later Rudeseal began his work with Cosden as a warehouseman in the tires, batteries and accessories department. Advances as chief clerk, assistant manager, and manager of the department were awarded him as he went into general and TBA salesmanship. Last year he was promoted to Assistant Sales Manager, Distributor Sales; included in his responsibilities are supervision of TBA and lube oil sales.

Rudeseal had a 33-month interlude with the Army Air Corps in the mid-'40's. While stationed in Italy, he took advantage of the opportunity to see a portion of Europe. He was discharged with the rank of staff sergeant.

Although born in Prescott, Arkansas, he was brought as an infant to Ackerly where his father is long-time postmaster.

The Rudeseal home at 420 Ryon echoes the sounds of two boys. Lee, a nine-year-old fourth grader at Park Hill School, has been active in Little League and is in his second year as a Cub Scout; his father is assistant cubmaster for Pack 48. Mark, 7, a second grader, is now in the Indian Guides tribe which Rudeseal helped to organize two years ago. The youngsters are involved in the program at First Baptist Church, where their parents have long participated in Sunday School and been leaders in Primary Training Union.

While Mrs. Rudeseal has exercised an interest in civic theatre work for several years, her husband has delved into the Jaycee program and is a past vice president. He is also vice president of the YMCA booster organization, the Y's men's Club.

Amateur Artists Plan For Sidewalk Exhibit

By KATHLEEN DOZIER

Recently it was stated than an original painting hanging in the home of the artist is a status symbol. This being the case Big Spring might possibly be in the upper echelon judging by the record number of amateur artists.

Heading the list is C. D. Reeder, retired farmer who traded his plow for pallet and paints. Presently he is working at his studio, 1204 Tejas, on a portrait o. Bennett Brooke. Also one of the local artists, Brooke prefers painting to modeling. In the background is Reeder's portrait of Becky McBeth, Abilene, formerly of Big Spring. On the left is one of the artist's black and white sketches.

Although he still oversees his farming interests on Sterling City Rout Reeder devotes much of his time to his hobby. His technique is impressionistic; he has a flare for color, and is particularly interested in figures and portraits.

C. D. REEDER

His work will be displayed this coming Saturday in a sidewalk show at the Howard County Court House, observing National Art Week. The show is sponsored by Las Artistas, and is open to amateurs, professionals and students. There is no entry fee, no competition and no judging. It will be merely a display of work contributed by artists in the area. Entries must be submitted at the show place by 9 a.m. They must be picked up no later than 5 p.m. Easels will be provided.

Among others to have their work on exhibit will be Mrs. William L. Patton whose portrait of Reeder was done before his recent shave, and Mrs. Don Hale whose latest work is a still life. Both are Las Artistas members and have participated in the workshops this fall. Mrs. Patton works in pastels and oils. Only recently she took up portraiture.

A wife and mother of two small children, Mrs. William H. Brigman's leisure hours are rationed; however, she arranges to have time for another love — painting. She works in water colors and in oils. A still life water color is one of her more recent works. It will likely be shown this coming Saturday in the sidewalk exhibit.

Although she isn't a member of the artists' group, Mrs. Ardis McCasland, Park Hill Terrace, is interested in its program. She has plans for joining Artistas' workshop gatherings. She, too, prefers water color and oil when she starts wielding the brushes. Like the other women mentioned, she is a housewife who finds complete relaxation in her hobby.

Future May Be Conservative

If little boys are any indication, the next generation of adult males will be a conservative lot.

An industry-wide survey shows that good, old basic black is the favorite color for boys from 6 to 20. Blue is next best for 17 per cent and olive is next as suit and sport coat colors.

Style leader for youngsters and high school students is the three-button ivy leaguer. The continental with side vents, beltless trousers, and slightly suppressed waist is next. Two - button, double-breasted and one-button suits follow in popularity.

Hyperions' Card Party Scheduled

Plans are under way for the annual card party sponsored by the 1953 Hyperion Club.

This year the benefit affair is to be held at the Cosden Country Club Nov. 13, from 2 until 5 o'clock.

Mrs. Hayes Stripling Jr., chairman of the committee in charge, announces that prizes to be given will include trading stamps and homemade cakes. Others on the committee are Mrs. Ralph McLaughlin and Mrs. John Hogg.

Further details of the event will be announced next week.

Rare-As-Gold Fabric In Men's Shirts

The man who gives the shirt off his back is indeed a generous fellow, considering their value, fashion wise and otherwise.

A $300 one, for example, has just been whipped up by menswear designer Bill Miller. It's not made of gold, but it is made of a rare-as-gold kind of India silk material.

Almost all other high priced shirts are worn by women. Hubert de Givenchy fashioned one from mink pelts for a sale price considerably higher than Miller's Indian silk one.

Twinkling beaded shirts and gold and silver lame ones, also expensive enough to lock up in the safe between wearings, have been designed to be worn with theatre suits.

Now, on the market in time for warm winter evenings by the crackling fire are ankle length shirts, in bright colors and cut from wool.

AMERICAN SQUARE
designed by Merton L. Gershun

We call it sophisticated contemporary . . . colonial–inspired designs in walnut finished soft as candle light.

American Square is sophisticated contemporary because it captures the essense, the familiar beauty of colonial craftsmanship . . . and yet is not "quaint." The feeling is there in the carefully reproduced planking with set-in keys, and in the cut-out decorative motifs, the horizontal linenfold drawer fronts . . . and in the inviting gleam of the soft new finish, warm as a hearthside. Yet, American Square is at home in today's rooms with today's accessories because the designs are contemporary-keyed, tuned and just so, to today's living. American Square is for every room in your home.

Three-year-old Mark is absorbed in the story being told by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Cochran. The only child at home, young Mark gets plenty of attention when he wants someone to read. The family moved here several weeks ago when Cochran was made manager of Barrow Furniture Co.

S. C. Cochrans Hail From Powderly, Texas

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Cochran, 2301 Morrison, are both from the little town of Powderly, just outside Paris, Texas. They had known each other all their lives, but when a romance finally blossomed, a three-day waiting period was just too long. They drove across the border and were married immediately in Ft. Towson, Okla., a city that had no such regulations at that time.

Their only daughter, Mrs. J. G. Thomas, makes her home in Snyder. Being the only child at home, three-year-old Mark is naturally the center of attention. An energetic blue - eyed brunette, he spends a great deal of time playing cowboy and wishing for his jeep that was left behind when the family moved here from Snyder.

Cochran had been an assistant manager for the Barrow Furniture Co. store in Snyder before being transferred to manage the new store's operations here. Mrs. Cochran does not work now but she has been a furniture saleslady in the past when assisting her husband.

When Cochran came here, his wife remained in Snyder to put their house up for sale while he arranged for a home in Big Spring.

"Our weekends are still spent in Snyder tying up the loose ends, so we haven't had time to meet many people yet," he said.

An avid football fan, Cochran was on the board of directors for the Quarterback Club in Snyder, and enthusiastically supports the Big Spring Steers.

Gardening is a relaxing pastime for Mrs. Cochran. She belonged to a garden club in Snyder, and was active in a Home Demonstration group.

With deer season coming up, some of their weekends will be spent on a hunting lease near Junction. Cochran says the fishing is mighty good there, too, and he is anxious to try his luck on the channel cat and bass.

Gifts Are Made Quickly For HD Program

How to make gifts quickly was a program given for the Forsan Home Demonstration Club Friday. Presented in the home of Mrs. R. W. Dolan, the demonstration was made by Mrs. A. J. McCall, president. Mrs. Less Duffer also gave a demonstration on smocking, and Mrs. Henry Huestis, dressing dolls.

Guests were Mrs. Jack Ellis, Mrs. Bill Stovall, Mrs. C. D. Herring, Mrs. Murphy Daniels and Mrs. Phillip Riddle. Mrs. C. D. Herring was received as a new member.

Mrs. Dolan read the devotion, after which games provided entertainment. Mrs. Jack Ellis was winner of a game prize. Blessings for the year were given in response to roll call.

Members made plans for a bake sale to be held this month. Refreshments were served to nine members and their guests.

New HD Club Will Meet Thursday

STANTON (SC) — The newly organized Home Demonstration club of Stanton will meet Thursday in the home of Mrs. Stanley Barnes.

The new officers that will serve for the club are Mrs. Homer Lee Hull, president; Mrs. Vernon McQuerry, vice president; Mrs. Darrell Payne, secretary and treasurer; and Mrs. Billy Sales, reporter. Mrs. Stanley Barnes and Mrs. Nolan Simpson will serve as Council delegates.

SQUADRON SCROLL

Col. Collins To Speak For Squadron Wives

Col. Harold C. Collins, 3560th Pilot Training Group commander, will be guest speaker at the Nov. 8th meeting of the 3561st Student Squadron Wives. The meeting will be at 10 a.m. in the Officers' Open Mess. A white elephant auction has also been planned for the meeting.

Scarecrows and pumpkins decorated the meeting room of the Pioneer Natural Gas Co., Wednesday as the wives of Class 63-G gave a coffee for the wives of Blue Flight in the 3561st Pilot Training Squadron.

A large bonfire lit up the smiles on faces of Class 64-B as the members enjoyed a beach party Saturday night in the sandhill area near Odessa. Hot dogs and chili were served to the hungry guests. Entertainment was humorous poetry, read by 2nd Lt. Dave Harlan, and guitar playing by 2nd Lt. Edward Randolph. The evening, planned by the class members, was noted as a complete success by the wives and dates who were present.

Arriving in Big Spring on Sunday to spend a week with their son-in-law and daughter, 1st Lt. and Mrs. E. G. Jacob, were Mr. and Mrs. W. John Rashleigh from Tucson, Ariz. Their trip also included a stay in San Antonio, where they visited Mr. Rashleigh's daughter and son-in-law.

Second Lt. and Mrs. C. C. Large of Class 63-H have house guests this week from San Angelo. Mrs. Large's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bates, came to see their new great-granddaughter, Susan Kay, who was born Oct. 31.

Woman's Friend: Her Dog

LONDON (AP)—Dogs, as well as diamonds, are a girl's best friend —especially if she drives a car.

Dogs, said insurance broker Herbert Sheppard, are the main reason why women have items stolen from their cars less often than men.

For they usually take their dogs shopping with them and leave them on guard in the auto while they're away.

Would-be thieves wouldn't risk tangling with a watchful pooch.

In a special report on thefts from parked cars, Sheppard, head of a big firm of London insurance brokers, also gave two lesser reasons for the comparative rarity of thefts from women-driven autos:

Women were more fussy about locking the cars, and since they usually made only short trips—to the shops or to visit friends—they were less likely to leave items on show in the auto.

NANCY HANKS

"Women's and Children's Wear"

I looked around—not a thing to wear,
The green dress was long, the blue had a tear.
The black was old-fashioned, and a wee bit flappy,
Everything I had was positively sappy!
"Oh me, Oh my," I said in woe,
"I won't—I simply can't happily go"
But down went my daughter's handkie flop!

Baptist Church Scene Of Huse-Barron Rites

LAMESA (SC) — The chapel of the First Baptist Church was the scene for the wedding of Erma Elaine Barron and Kenneth Edwin Huse Saturday evening.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Beachy Barron. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Huse.

The double ring ceremony was ready by the Rev. Virgil Barron, brother of the bride, before an archway entwined with emerald greenery. Flanking the archway were baskets of spider mums and cathedral tapers in branched candelabra.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of Chantilly lace fashioned with a Sabrina neckline and long tapered sleeves ending in petal points over the hands. Her bouffant skirt was accented by a basque waist dipping to a point in front. Tiers of lace formed the back skirt which extended into a full chapel train.

Her shoulder-length veil of English silk illusion was attached to a queen's crown of crystals, and she carried a white Bible topped with a bouquet of white carnations.

The bride's sister, Miss Sue Barron, was maid of honor. Miss Jeannie Felts was bridesmaid. Dennis Schneider, the bridegroom's cousin, was best man, and Dickie Poteet of Muleshoe was groomsman.

A wedding reception was held in the parlor of the church. Guests attended from Lamesa, Fort Worth, Lubbock, Midland, Muleshoe, Waco, San Angelo and Plains.

For a wedding trip to Carlsbad and Ruidoso, N. M., the bride wore a tan wool sheath topped with a brown wool plaid coat and brown accessories.

The couple will be at home in Lamesa after Nov. 7.

MRS. KENNETH E. HUSE

The bride is a graduate of Lamesa High School where she was a member of the A Capella Choir, FHA, DO Club and Boosters. She is employed at Medical Arts Hospital.

The bridegroom, a graduate of Lamesa High School, was a member of the Spanish Club, Boosters and DE club. He served three years in the U. S. Navy, and is employed by Mesa Irrigation.

Let Children Help

Children love making link-chains out of paper, and they love finger painting, too. Why not combine the operation? Let them make their own bright tree decorations. Finger paint is easy to make with corn starch and pure food colors.

Golf Association Has Provided New Room

A new room was noted in opening the luncheon-meeting of the Ladies Golf Association Friday at the Big Spring Country Club. The president, Mrs. Jack Irons, called attention to the meeting place, a portion of the ballroom which has recently been carpeted and decorated to be used for LGA luncheons and club parties.

Guests were introduced as Mrs. Charles Head, Mrs. Jack Rattie and Mrs. David Hopkins.

Spread with yellow linen, the T-shaped luncheon table featured a harvest motif using an Italian ornament of fruit and an arrangement of bronze chrysanthemums, Fugii mums and ring-necked pheasants. Hostesses for the monthly event were Mrs. J. Y. Robb and Mrs. Bill Currie.

Mrs. Elmo Wasson, making a report on the duplicate bridge sessions, reported a substantial increase in receipts and players. She stated that 7,233 players had been registered, and presented a check for $500 to the treasurer.

Also, Mrs. Wasson announced plans for a new duplicate group to begin sessions Tuesday, Nov. 20, at the club. Mrs. Ty Allen will conduct the sessions each Tuesday afternoon beginning at 1 o'clock. All bridge players who are members of the club, including beginners are invited to participate. There will be no charge.

In the absence of the house committee chairman, Mrs. E. V. Spence, a report was made by Mrs. Son Powell concerning the new room and its decorations. She requested and was granted the sum of $500 for replenishing club furnishings.

Members voted to make a cash contribution to the state hospital for its Christmas festivities. Also, it was agreed that the money made on the spring style show should be left in the club treasury.

Hostesses for the December luncheon will be Mrs. Fred Lurting, Mrs. Doug Orme and Mrs. Tom South. A social hour beginning at 12 o'clock, noon, will precede the luncheon and those attending the luncheon were asked to bring another member or members to the December party and luncheon.

It was voted to continue meeting each first Friday of each month, but to change the luncheon time to 12 o'clock, noon, beginning in January. A nominating committee was appointed to include Mrs. Morris Patterson, chairman, Mrs. South and Mrs. Lurting.

The table centerpiece was the door prize won by Mrs. Head.

Polio Victim Now Enjoys The Movies

DURANT, Okla. (AP)—Lynn Joy, now 20, was stricken with polio three years ago. Because she is paralyzed, except for the fingers of one hand and her head, she cannot be moved without a respirator and other equipment to help her breathe.

This ruled out movies until her father, Ervine Campbell, a service station operator at nearby Boswell, and a cooperative drive-in movie operator combined their efforts.

Campbell equipped a pickup truck with a covered bed similar to those used by vacationers and sportsmen. It has a battery bank for Lynn Joy's shell-type chest respirator and easily accommodates a hospital-type bed.

Ship Bullard, operator of a drive-in theater here, arranged an extension cord and Sept. 2 Lynn Joy saw her first movie in three years. Bullard is installing a permanent 110-volt connection so the Campbells can plug in anytime Lynn Joy wants to see a movie.

MRS. GORMAN FINLEY

Marriage Rites Unite Miss Haney, G. Finley

Miss Glenda Haney became the bride of Gorman Finley in a double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Harold Perdue in the Coahoma Methodist Church Saturday evening.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Haney, Rt. 1. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Finley, 2310 N. Mockingbird Lane, Abilene.

Green palms formed the background for an arch of candles on each side of the altar, centered with a basket arrangement of white chrysanthemums.

Accompanied at the organ by Miss Linda Thomas of Coahoma, Mrs. Kermit Hubbard, Abilene, sister of the bridegroom, sang "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer." The couple knelt at the altar as she sang. Miss Thomas also played various nuptial selections and the traditional wedding marches.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown designed with a bodice of white velveteen, a rounded neckline and long petal point sleeves. The velveteen, which extended into a large petal in the front skirt, was pleated in the back and caught with a large bow. Flowers of velveteen, seed pearls, sequins and silk organza detailed the neckline and velvet petal.

The bouffant skirt of silk organza extended into a chapel train. Her elbow length veil of silk illusion fell from a small petal hat. A diamond drop was a gift from the bridegroom. Traditional items were a handkerchief, carried by the bride's mother at her own wedding; the new gown; borrowed and blue, the garter worn previously by three friends.

The bridal bouquet was a white orchid in feathered chrysanthemums carried atop a white Bible.

Attendants of the bride were Miss Lyn Nell Mason, maid of honor, and Regina Haney, Big Spring, bridesmaid. Miss Haney is a cousin of the bride. They wore identical red velveteen sheath dresses having rounded necklines, elbow length sleeves and full overskirts of petals. They wore veiled pillbox hats, white gloves and carried cascade arrangements of white pom pon chrysanthemums.

Flower girl, Sandie Haney, Lamesa, a cousin of the bride, wore a red velveteen dress with overskirt of tulle petals. She carried a basket of red rose petals.

Jimmie Clanton, Big Spring, was the ring bearer, carrying a pillow used in another family wedding.

Serving as best man was Don Lilly. Groomsman was Bill Reid. Ushers were Stanley Haney, Big Spring, cousin of the bride and Phil Richey, Big Spring, cousin of the bridegroom.

Lighting the altar tapers were Robbie Haney, Big Spring, brother of the bride, and Gary Finley, Abilene, brother of the bridegroom.

RECEPTION

A reception was held in the home of the Rev. and Mrs. Harold Perdue. With the couple in the receiving line were their parents and the bride's attendants.

The refreshment table was laid with red net over taffeta, the bridesmaid's bouquets forming the centerpiece. The white three-tiered cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom. Milk glass appointments were used.

Presiding at the register was Miss Sandie Clanton, Big Spring. Members of the house party were Mrs. S. M. Haney, Mrs. Sam Haney, Mrs. Harold Perdue, Mrs. Rob Ethridge, Mrs. Clifton Clanton, Mrs. James Barr and Mrs. Leland Wallace.

Guests attended from Lamesa, Abilene, Loraine and San Angelo.

WEDDING TRIP

For the wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the bride chose a traveling suit of black and white tweed, worn with black patent shoes and purse. Her hat was of black feathers and gloves were black kid. She wore a corsage of orchids from her bridal bouquet.

After the wedding trip the couple will make their home on the Gail Route.

The bride is a graduate of Coahoma High School; attended Howard County Junior College; and is now employed by Cosden Petroleum Co.

The bridegroom graduated from Coahoma High School, and is now employed by the Clyde McMahon Concrete Co.

REHEARSEL DINNER

A rehearsal dinner, given by the bridegroom's parents was held at Coker's Restaurant Friday night. The couple presented gifts to their attendants.

Skinny Girls Have A Weight Problem, Too

AP Newsfeatures

If you are reed thin, not merely slender, take a tip from a girl who keeps this secret so well that even her best friends think she's curvey.

Hiding boniness is not easy though," advises Mary, a teenager who has learned a number of deceptive tricks worth passing on. "You've got to work at it in everything you do. Even if you are away at school, you can disguise skinniness by wearing long, loose nightgowns instead of tight pajamas."

Mary pinpoints these mistakes made by too-thin girls:

Feeling obligated to dress like other girls, they wear shorts that reveal bony knees and matchstick thighs.

They choose unbecoming hairstyles such as pony tail which just reveals the thinness of the face, and a center part that accentuates a long nose. They wear hair in long strings, making their faces look even shallower.

A hairdo that widens the forehead and shortens and rounds the face features bangs that start high and extend past the temples on the forehead. Deep wave coiffures are good too because they soften the features as they fill out the face, especially when a little height is at the forehead.

MODEL SIZED

The new style clothes are right for even just-slender types look well-padded in them, Mary points out.

"Snatch up plaid skirts and jackets and the normous bulky sweaters. Bright-patterned wools give the illusion of weight for dress-up occasions. Avoid sheath dresses and even the jumper, although a heavy shirt or sweater worn under a jumper helps fill it out. When choosing a full skirt make sure the waist is gathered, tucked or pleated so that it doesn't point up your little midriff by contrast."

UP TO YOUR CHIN

Wear heavy cable-stitch or ribbed socks, and heavy mesh nylons for dress-up occasions. Hem line should be longer. Avoid silky clinging materials, she says. High necklines cover bony necks.

Mary likes to wear big heavy, jewelry around her neck and wide bracelets on her arms. She likes big button-type earrings for dress-up occasions and has a "fat" ring on her finger.

"What tricks did Mary use in summer to disguise her thinness?

"I joined a boating group on purpose, so I'd have a good excuse for wearing duck pants. They make you look heavier. I wore a heavy cotton knit shirt that I rolled up in a wide cuff just below my elbow. On a real hot day I'd wear a pleated white pique skirt. Boys never care if you don't wear shorts.

Women Are Gathered World Wide

"Channels to Peace" was the theme for World Community Day observed at the First Methodist Church Friday. Mrs. Robert Short, chairman, introduced the guest speaker, the Rev. M. J. Pool.

A choral reading was given by Mrs. Don Wiley, Mrs. Arthur Pickle, Mrs. Joe B. Johnson and Mrs. Charles Snyder.

Musical selections were by Mrs. Rene Brown, vocalist. Others taking part on the program were Mrs. G. C. Graves and Mrs. Martin Staggs.

The Rev. John Black pronounced the benediction.

Following the special observance, Mrs. Joe B. Johnson reported on the United Council of Church Women's district meeting in Brownfield, Oct. 22. A report on activities at the Westside Recreation Center was given by Mrs. G. C. Graves.

A large number of duffel bags and sewing kits were brought to the church for shipment overseas.

Decorating Tip

Got an old chest in the attic? Turn it into a handsome piece of furniture by covering it with cotton feed or flour bags. To give your room a coordinated look, cover window shades with the same fabric.

Good Posture Derived From Habit, Exercise

Treat yourself to a posture pick-up if you show an S-curve.

The student's slouch earned by bending over books all year is not easy to hide. Shoulders fall forward and the upper back humps when large muscles on either side of the spine lose tone. This causes neckaches and backaches.

You can improve your figure tremendously merely by improving your posture. Even the girl who is in a perennial slouch can suddenly appear inches taller, improve the appearance of her bosom, flatten her derriere and her abdomen.

DEVELOP GOOD HABITS

The first lesson is simple: Stand against a wall as tall as you can. Lift your head from shoulders, your shoulders up from your rib cage, your rib cage out of your waist. Push your spine at the waistline into the wall, holding the position for a few minutes, is a good exercise for toning chest muscles.

Note now it lifts your bosom, flattens your middle as you walk 10 steps away from the wall in that position. You'll feel flatter and taller if you'll do this posture exercise several times a day and remain conscious of it wherever you are.

When a girl gets in the habit of standing with her abdomen pushed forward, letting her knees sag and throwing her spinal column into reverse, the S-shape may crowd vital organs and throw bones out of alignment. Sitting or reclining in a slouched position becomes a habit, too.

BACKSTROKE EXERCISE

A high bosom can be more than just a good bra or well-fitting garment. Muscles that lie under the breasts can weaken and not offer proper support to tissues. The backstroke in swimming often is recommended by doctors.

The swimming stroke can be done at home as well as at the beach at any time through the year. Line up two or three straight-backed chairs and lie down with shoulders up to the rim of the end chair so that arms are free. Swing arms up, downward and backward as you do when in the water, and you have a good exercise for your chest.

Girls who have large bosoms may be helped by a general weight reduction plan, if weight is not lost so fast that tissues in that area sag. A good brassiere that gives support beneath the bathing suit will help.

Tight brassieres won't make you look smaller. Instead, they flatten out the bosom, making it look even larger. A good bra should offer cleavage, roundness and the support that is essential to minimizing a large bustline. Some girls are so shy they try to minimize it by slouching. It doesn't work, it ruins your posture, and, in this day of Jayne Mansfield and Sophia Loren, why try in the first place?

Miss Foster Is Bride Of Loy Eldon Cornett

MRS. LOY E. CORNETT

LAMESA (SC) — Linda Faye Foster and Loy Eldon Cornett were united in marriage Saturday evening in the Second Baptist Church with the Rev. Cecil E. Foster, the bride's uncle, officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. DeWayne Foster. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Zuma Lee Cornett and D. C. Cornett of Tuscola, Ill.

The double ring ceremony was performed before an archway entwined with huckleberry fern interspersed with gold mums. It was flanked with wedding tapers in pedestaled candelabra.

The bride's father gave her in marriage. She wore an original gown of embroidered tulle over taffeta. Designed with long tapered sleeves ending in petal points over the hands, the dress featured a Sabrina neckline on a yoke of illusion outlined with sequins and seed pearls. The moulded bodice ended in points at center front and back. The voluminous skirt was formed of rows of accordian pleated tulle alternating with panels of embroidered tulle sweeping into a chapel train.

Her shoulder length veil of imported illusion was attached to a crown of seed pearls and teardrop rhinestones, and she carried cascade bouquet of feathered white carnations, centered with a detachable white carnation corsage.

The bride's twin sister, Mrs. Wanda Pipkin, was matron of honor, and another sister, Mrs. Roy Nell Amos, was bridesmatron. Eddie Bilderback of Lubbock was best man.

A reception was held in Fellowship Hall of the church with guests registering from Snyder, Hermleigh, O'Brien, Levelland, Lubbock, Lamesa, Odessa, Stanton, and Amarillo.

For a wedding trip to Mexico the bride wore a royal blue wool suit with brown accessories. The couple will reside in Lamesa. The bride is a 1962 graduate of Lamesa High School. The bridegroom, a graduate of Palo Duro High School in Amarillo, attended Amarillo College. He is employed by Lamesa Machine shop.

Mr. and Mrs. Hensley and Jerry King of Paris are visiting this weekend with Dr. and Mrs. Hogan.

The polished coffee table featured a centerpiece of yellow mums on a reflector, centered with a crystal bowl and floated perfumed candles.

Those who assisted were Mrs. Roy Reeder, Mrs. Coy Nally, Mrs. Robert Stripling and Mrs. Marion Edwards.

Seasons Should Be Reflected By The Interior

When crisp autumn days inspire you to inject a new note in your home's decorating scheme, and to do more entertaining, capitalize on the many offerings of the fall to reflect indoors the change of season.

You can easily capture the zesty mood of the season and give your home, family and friends a new outlook on life with arrangements and prominent displays of russet-colored flowers, bright berried branches, unusual dried materials and of glossy green - growing plants.

Officers Installed By St. Frances Cabrini

New officers of the St. Frances Cabrini Altar Society were installed at a breakfast in the Officer's Club at Webb Air Force Base Friday morning. Mass communion opened the session.

Those taking office were Mrs. William Clair, president; Mrs. John Wood, vice president; Mrs. Norman Buihner, secretary-treasurer.

Appointed to head committees were Mrs. Charles Head, welcoming; Mrs. Roy E. Drinnen, publicity and scrapbook; Mrs. Donald Fisher, telephone and program.

A vote of thanks was given to out-going officers Mrs. Robert Egel, Mrs. John O'Brien and Mrs. A. J. Grill.

The centerpiece of flowers, offered as a door prize, was won by Mrs. Richard Roth.

Attending the monthly meeting was Father James R. Plummer.

Next meeting of the society will be at 9 a.m., Dec. 7 in the Webb Air Force Base Chapel.

Recipe Collection Will Be In Herald Next Week

Of interest to all housewives (and male chefs, too) who look for new ideas in food will be the special recipe collection to appear in The Herald next Sunday.

The supplement, to be titled "Tastes O' Texas" will contain no less than 580 recipes, submitted by residents of the Big Spring area as their favorites. They will, of course, be worth trying in any kitchen.

The Herald assembled the recipes through a contest, and winners of cash awards in this contest also will be announced next Sunday. There is a $100 grand prize, and $10 awards in each of seven menu categories: Pies and Cakes, General Desserts, One-Dish Meals, Salads, Bread and Rolls, Vegetables, and a Main Dish.

The recipe supplement will be a part of all copies of the Nov. 11 issue of The Herald, and will be worth filing in the kitchen for use in many months to come.

There will be extra copies printed, too, for those who wish to mail to friends, to give as gifts, etc. These will be available at The Herald office after next Sunday at a price of 35 cents plus 1 cent state sales tax, or 36 cents total.

Herald Office Needs Yearbooks

The fall club season is well underway. The Herald would like to give all club meetings the best coverage possible. We need your club yearbook in our files to help do this. All yearbook chairmen are asked to bring a copy of their club book to the Herald society department if they have not already done so.

Wigwear Is Taboo

In San Francisco girls who disobey the clothing code may get their hair snatched off and be dispatched to the principal's office. At Washington High School there principal Ruth Adams has ruled out wigwearing in classes, claiming "I won't permit hats in class and I feel the same way about wigs."

Other schools are expected to follow suit, an official says. Under the school district discipline code in San Francisco, principals decide upon the apparel both girls and boys may wear in classes.

Pearls To Order Now By The Yard

Indication of the new world of opulence is the way pearls are sold today.

Not long ago the cultured pearl industry was urging parents to buy real pearls one at a time on little girls' birthdays until they grew up to own a dainty strand to wear at their weddings.

Now the industry is urging pearl purchases by the yard.

About 60 inches of pearls will go comfortably around the neck three times, the industry figures. The number per inch varies with the size but averages about 10.

Any one saving up for a yard of pearls the old fashioned way would need 600 birthdays.

WEBB WINDSOCK

By MOLLI HARTZOG

It occurred to us earlier in the week that it might be fun this year to quit the cringing and make as much of an effort to enjoy Halloween as our offspring do. We didn't wait until the last minute to check on the supply of masks needed to replace those soggy about the mouth. We didn't forget to stock up on treats enough for at least 100 children. We didn't plan on a quiet bridge game the evening of the 31st, smugly noting our wisdom gained from past error. We shopped early for the largest pumpkin available, determined to make a pie, a jack o'lantern, and to roast the seeds in butter and salt to enjoy after the festivities. In the first place, the eagerness of the pumpkin man and his joy in the transaction should have served as a warning.

Never, never buy the biggest pumpkin.

It took three neighbors to bring it into the house, three hours and two blisters to chip out the inside (the cookbook blithely states "scoop out" the inside for pie). The "scooped out" inside filled four large pots and was sufficient for not one pie, but three large and two small ones. Since Nov. 1, our family, the neighbors and even the pet mouse refuses pie and they all assume a vague, glassy stare at the mention of it. The jack o'lantern was magnificent; it frightened away three small children, had the dog in hysterics and upset the postman the next morning. The seeds were crisp, salty and delicious. And were fed to the other 200 children at the door. How was your Halloween?

Just previous to the holiday, Mrs. F. D. Johnson, whose husband is in Red Flight, entertained the wives and students wives of that flight and of Class 64-D. The Johnson home was decorated for the occasion with a black and orange theme and the wives of the instructors assisted with bringing homemade goodies to be served along with the coffee.

Quiet fishing on a long autumn afternoon sounds like quite an elegant pastime when combined with the colorful trees and Smoky Mountain country of North Carolina. Capt. and Mrs. Bert Huffines returned last week and report that the fishing was just as excellent as the beautiful scenery. They visited relatives in Fairmont, N. C., Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Crutchfield.

We can think of only one Webb wife who could retain her composure at the offhand remark of her husband on Thursday that 24 guests would be on hand for Sunday dinner. While our response would be quietly to head for the railroad station, Mrs. Don G. Harris would smile sweetly and be mightily pleased. Capt. Harris is a chef supreme, and proved his talent last Sunday when he bar-stirred up fresh cranberry sauce, baked two dozen apples, whomped up a mammoth potato salad and entertained their 24 guests royally without so much as a dishpan hand. A few dishpan faces were seen as guests attempted to better their records at bobbing for apples later in the evening. Capt. Ken Somers won the event with a time of 20 seconds, plus a wet shirt.

Miss Duncan Is College Enrollee

Peggy Jo Duncan, a 1961 graduate of Wink High School, has enrolled in Texas Wesleyan College for the fall semester. She is a sophomore, and is a resident of John Peter Smith School of Nursing.

Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd H. Duncan, 2700 Cindy Lane, Big Spring.

Styles For Spring Are Colorful

NEW YORK (AP) — About 75 colorful ways to stand out in a crowd were demonstrated by designer Roxanne for Samuel Winston couture house.

The crowd was made up of buyers and socialites who had gathered Thursday for a preview of what spring will bring in the way of fashion.

Shocking pinks, violent blues and magentas were stitched into short or long jackets, lined with contrasting paler colors, or silks and homespun materials emblazoned with flowers.

Even the ordinarily subdued tones of browns, greens and wines were spiced with vivid fabrics. Long tunic dresses, matching turbans and nine-tenths coats were made of big, bold brown and black patterns on white — patterns you could see a mile away.

Still, the most frequent use of black was as a sharpener for white, pink, blue or brown, all the better to be seen.

Hunter In Family?

For safety's sake, no man should go out hunting with the usual white handkerchief. It looks like a deer's tail. All purpose home dye in scarlet is the solution.

Bride-Elect

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Coulter announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Susan Joyce Lindsey, to Norman Gene Westmoreland, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Westmoreland of Lamesa. The wedding will be held this month. The couple graduated from Lamesa High School and Westmoreland is now attending Texas A&M.

Are You Shocked?

Static electricity in clothing a bother? The use of an aqua blue fabric softener in the final rinse of slips and petticoats will eliminate it.

Winners Are Told

Nine tables were in play for duplicate bridge games Thursday night at the John H. Lees Service Club of Webb Air Force Base.

Winners for north-south were Mrs. John Stone and Mrs. Ben McCullough, first; Mrs. B. B. Badger and Mrs. Anne Hardy, Mrs. J. D. Robertson and Mrs. Garrett Patton, tied for second and third; Mrs. Riley Foster and Mrs. Rogers Hefley, fourth.

Placing in the east-west position were Mrs. Champ Rainwater and Mrs. J. Y. Robb, first; Capt. and Mrs. Don Jonker, second; Mrs. Ray McMahen and Mrs. Dan Greenwood, third; Mrs. Bert Wall and Mrs. Lloyd Nalls, fourth.

Kitty Gets A New Belt, The Hard Way

By SAM BLACKBURN

Suppose you are 13-years-old, blond with blue eyes and you want a rattlesnake belt ever so badly? What do you do about it?

Well, one thing you might do is to emulate the example of Kitty Campbell, who lives at 2511 Fisher.

She went out (1) found a 4½ foot rattlesnake, (2) killed it, (3) skinned it, and (4) cured and tanned the hide. It will soon be ready to make into a fancy belt.

Kitty doesn't see anything unusual in her action. She said that curing the hide and getting it ready for its new use as a belt wasn't too hard. Nor, for that matter, was skinning the snake much of a task.

EASY TO DO

"You just take the head off," says Kitty. "Then you sort of turn the skin wrongside out at the neck. Someone holds the carcass and you just peel the skin off. It comes off wrongside out, of course, but that doesn't matter. You use salt to cure it and oil to keep it soft and flexible. It's not real hard."

Kitty didn't have to go too far from her home to find the snake. Her parents, the Craig E. Campbells, have an amazing house atop a steep hill in the center of a 4-acre tract of juniper covered land. The snake was about a hundred and fifty feet from the house when Kitty found it on the day before school opened.

Kitty's avocation is serving as a sort of curator for the miniature zoo on the Campbell place.

The roll call of animals and fowl classified as residents:

Three opposum (plus an undetermined additional number who are now hibernating inside Mamma Possum's marsupial pouch.)

Fifteen duck, representing four species of wild varieties.

One alligator. (Kitty had three but the one still left had his two brothers for dinner recently).

Nine assorted cats.

One African finch.

One blue parakeet.

One oversized, long-eared rabbit.

One small shark.

One huge gander who glories in the name of Seemore.

A very fat and friendly dog.

An aquarium of tropical fish.

ADDITIONS

If all goes as Kitty would like for it to go, two or more members would be added to the zoo come this Christmas.

"Most of all," she says wistfully, "I want a quarter horse." She is doubtful if that wish will come true this Yule.

However, she does have a good chance of getting a clutter of Angora rabbits. She would like to add these to her family.

"They are real nice," she explains. The most recent member to the zoo is a young oppossum which was found on a highway near town a week or so ago. It has joined Mamma Possum, her undetermined number of youngsters, and the second opposum in a cage on the porch.

"I suspect the grocer feels we must be hoarding cat and dog food," observed Mrs. Campbell. "We buy a lot more of that than we do of food for people."

Apparently the Campbell's set a good table for their assorted pets. The whole clutter, including Al, the alligator, are sleek and fat.

NOVEL TRAITS

One character with novel traits on the place is a big Siamese tom cat. This fellow assumes he is responsible for the well being and happiness of all the kittens. Se he patiently rides herd on the youngsters while Mama is goofing off.

A sort of kindly tolerance prevails in the oddly assorted ranks. Relatively few clashes occur. Foulest tempers are those of the oppossums and that of Seemore, the nobby-nosed white gander.

"They're all nice," observes Kitty.

Kitty attends Goliad Junior High School where she is an eighth grade student.

She's real nice, too.

Bypass Work Will Take About A Year

Construction of the first 2.9 mile segment of the IS 20 bypass in Big Spring will take 360 working days, according to J. C. Roberts, district highway engineer at Abilene.

He said that he has been advised M. C. Winters, Inc., Johnson City, has been awarded the contract for the job for a bid of $2,135,199.

The contract calls for grading, structures, flexible base and asphaltic concrete paving of 2.9 miles of highway from a point .4 of a mile east of US 87 to two miles east of Big Spring.

Joe Smoot, resident engineer at Big Spring, will be in active charge of the project while it is under construction.

The second leg of the bypass, beginning at the terminus of the first segment and connecting with the present IS 20 slab west of Webb AFB, is also ready for bids.

It is reported that the State Highway Department will consider bids for this job at its session next month.

No announcement was made when Winters plans to begin construction on the road but it should be in the near future.

Firm Adds New Colors

Softly muted tints, bright, bold accent shades with subtle in-between tones are included in the four new wall paint colors being introduced this week by Sherwin-Williams Co., according to Glen N. Barnes, manager.

New basic colors are added to the line annually but not in profusion. However, this does not detract from the versatility of the four new basic colors. The oyster white, candlelight ivory, clove beige and bright turquoise may, by mixing selected tints, become 26 colors. They run the gamut from deep Bahama blue to a delicate tan called wild honey.

The first three of the new colors are designed for use on large wall areas; the bright turquoise is an accent color to add spice to an overall decorative scheme.

Salvation Army Activities Outlined To ABC Members

In an address made to members of the American Business Club Friday noon at the Settles hotel, Major Robert Short, Salvation Army commanding officer here, facetiously warned his listeners that he would 'try to talk as long as they would listen' and then set about to describe the purposes and aims of his organization.

He reminded the gathering that the Salvation Army offices here were strongly dependent upon the United Fund, in that 67 per cent of its operating budget is supplied by an UF grant.

He identified the Salvation Army as a religious organization with a military aspect, adding that is should not be identified as a church 'in toto.'

He said the local citadel was geared to greet a large percentage of transients daily, mainly because Big Spring is situated at the crossroads in this area located as it is on two trans-continental highways plus near a railroad terminal point.

He disclosed the fact that the local Salvation Army headquarters gets up to three requests a day for gasoline. An unusual number of families, he added, en route from one section of the country to another, seem to exhaust their supply of automobile fuel here.

The Salvation Army, Short said, does not supply gasoline but instead offers help in caring for families until the husband and father can earn enough money to purchase automobile fuel.

Short said the Salvation Army does not turn away a man seeking lodging for the night, although the organization's facilities are sometimes taxed to the limit. He said the citadel here was prepared to house as many as 30 transients a night.

"We belong to the poor people," Short remarked, summing up the work the Salvation Army does and strives to do.

Plans have been firmed up for the ABC's 'tacky' party, which will be held for members, wives and guests at the Big Spring Country Club starting at 8 p.m. Thursday. Cost of the party will be $1.50 per plate for those attending—with the exception of members of the winning team in the attendance contest staged within the club.

Two members of the club, Tom and Garner McAdams, were given a vote of thanks for the new lectern built especially for the service organization.

Dr. Douglass Smith and Sam Fuller were introduced as new members of the club. Guests included Bill Smith and W. L. (Squeaky) Thompson.

Inspection Tour

Bill London, consulting engineer with Forrest and Cotton of Dallas, is in Big Spring Friday inspecting work at the city's new sewage disposal plant. He will also inspect rehabilitation work at the old plant.

Swim Class Is Announced

"Swim For Your Life," an addition to the physical fitness program of the YMCA, gets started at the Y this week, according to Joe Leach, physical director.

It can be used either alone as an aid to physical fitness or in conjunction with the walking program now in operation. The classes meet from 6-6:30 p.m. each Tuesday and Thursday.

A chart will be maintained on each individual so he can keep track of progress.

The program consists of alternate swim and exercise periods, beginning with five laps in the pool. More swimming follows a series of exercises and the period is capped with a series of bicycle and push-up exercises.

Also scheduled to begin next week is a SCUBA diving class. It will be taught by Bob Chambers each Friday at 8 p.m. until Jan. 11, 1963. Any strong swimmer who is 16 years or older can qualify. The only equipment needed are fins and a mask.

The 10-week course will include a physical fitness test, introduction to SCUBA diving, practical applications in the Y pool and, at the end, a trip to Balmorhea for students who pass the written and practical examination.

Comfort, silence and luxury to challenge any car from anywhere

"This is a low-priced car." "This is a low-priced car." "This is a . . ." Better keep reminding yourself when you settle back in the roomy, superbly trimmed comfort of the '63 Chevrolet. Say it again of that trim, tight, gleaming Body by Fisher, cradled by 4 husky coil springs, cushioned and insulated in hundreds of places. There's instant response in a choice of 6- or 8-cylinder engines, and refinements an expensive car might boast about, like a new flush-and-dry system that cleans corrosive elements from the rocker panels . . . new self-adjusting brakes and a longer lasting exhaust system . . . new Delcotron generator to maintain electrical reserve power and longer battery life. There's a lot more to keep this '63 Chevrolet running and looking like new far longer. Yet it's a low-priced car? You bet! Why not let your Chevrolet dealer prove it?

A Devotional For The Day

Jesus said unto him, No man, having put his hand to the plough, and looking back, is fit for the kingdom of God. (Luke 9:62.)

PRAYER: Heavenly Father, forgive us for our partial allegiance to Thee. Deliver us from all distractions that we may find our joy in fully spending ourselves for Thee; through the power of Thy beloved Son, Jesus Christ, our Savior. Amen.

Be Sure To Vote—And Correctly So

Tuesday is a day of great opportunity as well as great responsibility for the voters of Texas. They have the biennial chore of selecting their public officials—from Governor and Congressman to Constable—to serve two-year terms. They also must make a decision on 14 proposed amendments to the state constitution.

This is not a light matter. The gravity of the occasion should prompt every qualified person to go to the polls. Further it should prompt every one of these to take great care to see that his ballot is marked properly.

The main purpose of today's message is to urge you to study your ballot in advance (or take sufficient time when you get to your polling place) and be sure you understand how to mark it just the way you intend it to be marked. One not sufficiently crossed out, or not intelligible in every way will be discarded, and your vote has been wasted.

If you choose to vote for the candidates for any one party, be certain that ALL other parties are crossed out.

It is ture, of course, that you may vote as you please on Tuesday. A brief may be held for remaining with the party in whose primary you voted, but others contend there is neither moral nor legal obligation here.

In this particular election, The Herald has advocated the election of the Democratic slate, believing it to be made up of men (regardless of the party label) of superior achievement and potentiality for service. We think they represent a good, sound cross-section of what Texas wants politically, with no extremism involved, and with the progress of the state uppermost in their minds.

But the most important appeals we make today are (1) Be sure you vote; and (2) be sure you mark your ballot completely and correctly in all respects. You've defeated all your purpose if you do not.

Cultural Gap

The Chamber of Commerce cultural affairs committee has, among other things, been making a survey to determine if there is a need for a strings instructor in Big Spring. Tentative findings indicate that there likely would not be justification for such a position in the school music faculty.

It is to be hoped, however, that this is not the end of efforts to break the no-strings barrier. If there is one glaring gap in our musical program, it is in this area. Our piano instructors have achieved an outstanding record as records of pupils in National Piano Guild competition will attest. The playing ratings of our bands indicate that instrumental instruction also is of high calibre.

While the school choral program has had its ups and downs, it is on the mend and is gradually getting more foundation material up from the junior high level. The Howard County Junior College choir has always, despite a distressing disparity in numbers, done an excellent job. Now we have the community chorus coming on.

But any effort to orchestrate, either on a hobby basis or as a community unit on its own or in support of choral and other affairs, is stymied from the start. It has been nearly a quarter of a century since we have trained any young violin players around here. Somehow, we hope, a way can be found to alter this picture.

Kennedy Had Full Support On Cuba

WASHINGTON — The harvest of reaction from around the country in the wake of the Cuban crisis shows many variants from panic fear to cynical disbelief in the peril.

But, above all, it reflects overwhelming support for the President throughout the ordeal.

THIS WAS SO impressive that it could not have escaped the Kremlin and it may have been a factor in the final decision. The usual pickets paraded outside the White House, some for and some against the blockade. Small organizations of earnest believers in peace, such as the Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy, concentrated on trying to counter the demand for more drastic action, including an invasion to overthrow Fidel Castro.

IF ANY demonstration had been needed of how negligible the Communist influence is in this country the Cuban crisis supplied it. In view of what had been quite obvious before Cuba, the fear—the almost-paranoid fear—of some Americans is hard to understand. The fact that a few of the tired old hacks of communism are allowed to speak on college campuses throws them into a spasm of denunciation and protest.

ONE FORM this fear has taken is seen in Proposition 24 on the ballot in California to amend the state constitution. This would give, in the interpretation of most lawyers who have studied it, any law enforcement agent in the state the power to determine whether an organization is a "Communist front" organization. The individuals comprising such organizations, loosely defined in Proposition 24, would then be subject to severe penalties. Their recourse, in the word of the sponsor of Proposition 24, former State Assemblyman Louis Francis, would be to go to the courts, a long and costly process beyond the reach of most individuals.

IT HAS BEEN suggested that the John Birch Society could be found subversive under the proposed amendment. A great deal would depend on the outlook—the prejudices, in fact—of a particular Federal marshal or of a grand jury convened in any one of California's counties.

The activities of extreme rightists as reported from time to time from certain areas of the country have a subversive sound. By anonymous telephone calls they set out to destroy the reputation of a school superintendent because he has refused to comply with their demands. Because a market sells Polish hams they try by secret means to indict it as part of the Communist conspiracy.

THE TECHNIQUES of the extreme right resemble those of Communists and fellow travelers when there was a ponderable Communist influence in this country. In the same way they were out to destroy anyone in their immediate orbit who would not conform.

Former President Eisenhower in his flurry of campaign activity, more extensive than any political manifestation while he was in the White House, warned of the dangers of conformism—a conformist America moving as a submissive herd. The Eisenhower political definitions are always loosely drawn and this seems to be even more true in his "retirement" than during his Presidency.

NEVERTHELESS, however the terms are defined his warning is a timely one. To stamp out all dissent would be to make America into the totalitarian image that we loathe. The right of dissent—of nonconformity—has been an important source of America's dynamism from our first beginnings.

The contrast with totalitarianism of the Soviet Union is sharp. Pickets outside the Kremlin on a day of crucial decision, or any other day for that matter, are inconceivable. When the American peace marchers finally reached Moscow some months ago they were quickly prevented from giving their message to crowds in the street.

TO ENFORCE conformity, even to the limit of using subversive techniques, is to put the stress on the alleged danger within the country. Deep internal divisions are created and attention is distracted from the real and continuing danger from without.

How great this continuing danger is was shown by a piece of news that got little attention at the height of the Cuban crisis. Saboteurs in Venezuela, supposedly Communist-inspired or controlled, were able to knock out power plants essential to one-sixth of the oil production on which that troubled Caribbean country is dependent for its economic life. Venezuela, and Venezuela's staunchly democratic President, Romulo Betancourt, have been one of the primary targets of Castro and the conspirators who use him.

REPORTS IN recent weeks indicate increasing turmoil with the extreme left exploiting the divisions on the extreme right. The triumph of Castroism in Venezuela would be a serious blow. Whether it could be prevented by force from the United States is highly doubtful.

Too little and too late—and too misdirected—has been the measure of policy in Latin America. The tasks ahead are so imperative that to divide and distract the country with internal threats and fears is, in the view of thoughtful observers here, inviting a crippling handicap.

Belgium Benefitting From Common Market

BRUSSELS—Prosperity here is on the stove. Things are cooking, but at a simmer.

The Belgian economy hasn't boiled in recent years. It's not Germany, not Italy, not even France.

But it's doing well, thank you—and thanks to the Common Market. In this city, an American is hard put not to join the Chamber of Commerce cheering squad.

HERE IS BUSTLE, enthusiasm, consideration, and good food. A full stomach giveth man a friendly eye.

But you wouldn't be friendly long if the Belgians weren't friendly. They are. You don't meet anti-Americanism here; or if you do, I just haven't been around enough.

Statistics paint the picture easier than photographs. Brussels has become an international center, a main place of call. It's not London yet, or Paris, but it has become the turntable of the Common Market.

SABENA, the Belgian airline, runs daily flights to the United States, and Pan American has daily flights during a good part of the year. International flights between 1959 and 1961 rose more than 40 per cent, and 1962 figures show further increases.

Americans have become Common Market-minded. Note the upsurge in the number of U.S. businesses established in Belgium:

1958	19
1959	28
1960	48
1961	71

The 1962 figure will be much greater, if estimates at the U.S. Embassy and the U.S. Mission to the European Community mean something. And what a diversity of entry!

MERRILL LYNCH, Pierce, Fenner & Smith; Procter & Gamble; Revlon; Upjohn; Mead Johnson; Sinclair Refining; International Telephone & Telegraph; Adams-Millis and Dow Chemical are some of the recent comers.

Nor is the upsurge one-way. Non-immigrant visas issued by the Consulate Division of the Embassy to Belgians to go to the U.S. in the first nine months this year were almost equal to all of 1961. Exact figures: 3,218 versus 3,277.

THE DATA include tourists to America and students, but they also include businessmen—entrepreneurs, merchants, manufacturers—seeking avenues of commerce with American enterprisers. This year the number of travelers from Belgium to the U.S. will more than double the 1955 total. That's how fast interest in America (and vice versa, for some of the travel is at American instigation) has grown in the last sever years.

How can we account for the great American interest, if Belgium, as a nation, hasn't had the economic zing of other members of the Common Market? The answer is just that—The Common Market.

BELGIUM'S population is but nine million, of whom about a million are in and around Brussels. But its Common Market potential—for any firm in Belgium—has become 170,000,000, embracing the entire population of the six nations—France, West Germany, Italy, The Netherlands, and Luxembourg, the last two of which with Belgium comprise Benelux. And if Great Britain joins, the market will comprise a population of 220,000,000 — greater in numbers than either the United States or the Soviet Union.

To set up a business in Belgium is to join the Club. Tariffs have been reduced 50 per cent from what they were in 1958, and internal tariffs are due to disappear by 1968, or sooner. Already, the tempo has been accelerated—by two years.

THIS, FOR A curious turn of the business mind! When the Common Market treaty was first put into effect four years ago, many businessmen, especially in France, were apprehensive. What would lower tariffs do to them? Could they meet the increased competition?

Then the possibilities of a wide, tariff-free market unfolded. A French manufacturer could think in terms of sales to 170,000,000 people, instead of 45 million; a West German wasn't confined to 55,000,000; Italy's potential market more than tripled its 50,000,000 population. And Benelux entrepreneurs plotted sales not to 21,000,000 but to eight times that number.

THESE MULTIPLIERS began working on imaginations. Businessmen enlarged plant not for their immediate national market but for the future larger market.

Once that happened, once they got their money sewed up in new plant and equipment, they wanted to get it back quickly; they wanted the greater freedom to hop-skip-and-jump over Customs officers.

So the very businessmen who at first were most apprehensive began to press for acceleration. And Belgium—like the other five members of the Club—is feeling the effect, beneficially.

What Others Say

The American Association of Fund Raising Counsel, Inc., takes note of the purported fact that American women control 70 per cent of the nation's wealth. It has asked 300 known for their philanthropies in various parts of the country some questions about how and why they make gifts to charities. It got 56 replies.

Forty-four of the 56 women felt that their gifts were primarily influenced by personal knowledge of the cause concerned. Forty-five of them participated as volunteers in the programs of the agencies they helped with financial support. This would seem a solid and intelligent base for giving.

In this group, 24 have first preference to religious activities and 15 to welfare, while health and education predominated among second choices.

For his solace, a majority of the women answering the AAFRC questionnaire said their major gifts were made jointly with their husbands.

Memory Impaired By Hardening Of Arteries In Brain

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: My mother's memory is becoming very poor. She is 62. The doctor has diagnosed it as blood cholesterol "senilis," and wants her placed in a state institution for treatment.

We do not wish to do this as she is not insane, just quite forgetful. Wouldn't it be possible by diet and medication to treat her at home? Will treatment cause her to recover from this type of sickness? How long would it take? —E. E. A.

The cholesterol is an indication of what has been occurring, and changing its level isn't calculated to undo previous damage.

In all probability severe hardening of the arteries has taken place in the brain, impairing memory. To be sure, there may be some other condition, too, and I would have no way of knowing about that, but I don't think it matters much so far as your basic question is concerned.

Hardened arteries won't "unharden." There may be moments in which your mother's memory may be clear, but I regret to say that there is no indication that either medication or diet of any kind can restore memory lost from such causes.

You say your doctor "wants" her placed in a state institution. Does he really, or has he simply suggested it?

This is something you should talk over with him very frankly. It isn't a matter of being "insane." It is a very practical question of whether she is co-operative and can adjust to family living. There are people (both old and young) who are mentally ill in that sense, yet are tractable and can be cared for safely at home.

There are others, and here we must think of old people, whose trouble is sheer forgetfulness, but they cannot be safely kept at home unless they are watched every minute. They may turn on a gas stove and forget to light it. Or scald themselves in a bathtub because they forget to turn off the hot water, or do any number of tragic things.

Doctors dread leaving undone any possible step to avert having such things happen. Your mother, at 62, has encountered this trouble earlier than usual, but it does happen at times and when it does, we must look at the facts clearly.

If your mother can be kept at home without endangering herself or others, by all means let her stay. But if your doctor sees danger, then listen to him. He doesn't urge an institution without having good reason to do so—for there is no oversupply of beds, and you may well find that you have a long waiting period before one is available. Your doctor may have been thinking of that, too, you know.

Dr. Molner: Short of cutting off my head, isn't there anything I can do about the awful facial whiskers I'm sprouting? Wouldn't female hormones help? —Jane.

No, m'am, I don't think they would help, and definitely do not recommend them (except, of course, in cases in which some deep-seated hormonal imbalance is found).

Even more do I discourage cutting off your head!

Shaving the "awful facial whiskers" is entirely feasible but, of course, a nuisance. Depilatory creams may solve the problem for you. Or for permanent removal, have the roots destroyed by electric needle. This last is a tedious task, I admit, but effective.

Much heart trouble is preventable, write to Dr. Molner in care of this newspaper for your copy of his booklet, "How To Take Care Of Your Heart," enclosing a long-self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing handling.

Dr. Moner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Dog Sat Quietly

DURANT, Okla. (AP) — Poundmaster Luke Wilkerson vows he is going to give his neighbor, Johnnie Clark, a barking watchdog. Clark's home was entered by a burglar who took $304 from a billfold. Wilkerson said the burglar practically had to step over Clark's dog.

Smoking Old Habit

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Researchers at the Philip Morris Research Center here say pipes found by archaeological teams in Arizona show that Indians were smoking tobacco as early as 600 A. D. That is some 900 years earlier than previous evidence indicated.

Around The Rim

If The Almanac Says It, It's True

Tain't nothin' better, on a long winter's evening, than to set in your favorite chair, put your sock feet up on the stove rail, have a spittoon handy, and maybe a purrin' cat alongside, and give deep study to the Old Farmer's Almanac.

THIS MAY BE stretching it a bit, in this day and age, but the fact remains that come nuclear fallout and Sabin vaccine, this publication remains one of the stable elements.

I am happy to report that I recently received my 1963 copy of the Almanac, and must report that it is being published for the 173rd consecutive year.

THE FORMAT has not changed a great deal. There are still the planting tables, the gestation periods, the astrology intelligences, something about auto laws and the migrations of birds, eclipses and fishing days, table of weights and measures, plus some poetry and verse, something about geomagnetism and gravitation, plus anecdotes and pleasantries, some recipes, and all about holidays.

Oh well, you name it, and the Old Farmer's Almanac may have it, and presented in intriguing fashion, too.

THE OLD FARMER'S Almanac stays with its own rules and traditions, and doesn't let the world upset it very much. It doesn't even have any truck with the U. S. Weather Bureau.

Let's quote a note to reviewers of the book from its editor, Robb Sagendorph:

"WHAT'S WITH the world these days we would not know. Going to the moon perhaps makes sense—perhaps doesn't. The speedup of the rat race (jet planes, automation, more auto horsepower, etc.) to save a few hours; we don't know what to do with is at best perplexing. Leave us have, as George Burns used to say, time for faith, love and charity."

That's in line with the way the founder started his magazine. This was one Robert B. Thomas, whose first effort came out in 1792, when George Washington's first administration was drawing to a close. He put in his publication this sentence:

"IT IS BY our works we would be judged; these we hope will sustain us in the humble though proud station we have so long held." This sentence has been in the Almanac every year since.

Of course, it's the weather prognostications which supposedly mean the most in the Almanac. There is a yarn to the effect that in the book's early years, one of the young printers turned to Editor Thomas and asked what should go into the forecast for July 13 of that year. The editor, in haste, answered "Anything, anything." So, the printer put in "rain, hail and snow." This surprised some readers, but sure enough, on that July 13, it did rain, hail and snow.

FOR THIS WINTER? From November, 1962 through April, next year, the Almanac says:

"The winter will be quite a bit colder than those of recent years. xxx Snowfall also will be heavier. xxx Looks like a bad March and April, and at least one good storm in each of the other months.

"CHIEF THREATS beyond April are a possible July tornado, a near-hurricane in September, a bad northeaster in November (1963) and a big Christmas storm (also '63).

I don't know about you, but I'm preparing for a colder winter, and dreading March and April.

Record For Election Day

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy, to give him the best of it on the Cuban blockade, probably deserves the motto of the famous British House of Cecil: "Sero Sed Serio"—Late But In Earnest."

YET THE SAME cannot be said for his Democratic followers in the 87th Congress. There has seldom been a more sheepish procession of yes-men, amounting to an abdication of duty, than the one which the Democratic majorities of Congress have conducted since the Bay of Pigs fiasco in April, 1961. Conversely, there has never been a clearer record of informed and eventually successful opposition than that conducted by some southern Democrats and literally the whole Republican party in Congress, plus Dwight Eisenhower and Richard Nixon, the party's national leaders. A box score tells the tale.

NIXON (CALIF.), candidate for governor: On September 18th, he called for a unilateral "quarantine" of Cuba by Naval blockade.

Mr. Kennedy: On October 22nd, he declared that "ships . . . found to contain cargoes of offensive weapons, will be turned back. This quarantine will be extended, if needed . . ."

Senator Dirksen (Ill.), candidate for re-election: On October 10th, he said "the Russians and Red Chinese began a build-up of weapons systems . . . accelerated in the late summer of 1962."

THE PRESIDENT, on September 13th, told us "these new shipments do not constitute a serious threat."

James Van Zandt (Pa.), candidate for the Senate: On September 26th he called for a total blockage, saying that "we can hasten the day when Castro is dethroned and the Communists thrown out of Cuba by preventing . . . importation of military supplies . . ." Senator Clark, Van Zandt's opponent, said on the same day: "This is no time for warhawks. This is no time to call . . . for a Naval blockade."

SENATOR CAPEHART (Ind.), candidate for re-election: As early as April 16, 1961, he reported "millions and millions of dollars' worth, and tons and tons of war materials" moving from the Soviet bloc to Cuba, and later he called for an "invasion." On October 13th in Indianapolis, the President called for Capehart's defeat and sneered at "self-appointed generals and admirals who want to send somebody else's sons to war."

Senator Thruston Morton (Ky.), candidate for re-election: On May 20, 1961, he said "a European opponent, based on Cuba, controls the approaches to the Panama Canal . . . I do not ask this question in malice, but in despair—what is our policy today?"

ON JUNE 7TH, all Republican senators and representatives issued a joint statement which declared:

"Within the last 18 months, a Communist military base has been established 90 miles from the coast of Florida."

Not until October 16th, said the President on October 22nd, did he receive "the first preliminary hard information" about Cuban missile sites. But Senator Keating (R), had reported on October 10th that "Construction has begun on at least half a dozen launching sites for intermediate range tactical missiles."

ALWAYS DURING the Soviet build-up, the Democrats have refused to believe it. Always, the Republicans have called for action. This is the record now before the American people as they go to the polls.

Deceiving The People

WASHINGTON—Suppression of military news in time of war or international emergency is defensible. But any deliberate misrepresentation of the news by the government that causes the press to publish untrue or misleading news reports is indefensible in a democracy.

IT NOW HAS BEEN revealed that during the Cuban crisis—and as a policy for the future—various officials of the Kennedy administration believe they have a right to deceive the American people as to what is actually going on and to use the press to convey certain impressions to foreign governments. This is unprecedented in American history.

The argument is that "the end justifies the means." But overlooked is the fact that credulity can thus be broken down. This could lead a foreign government to distrust statements of resoluteness issued by the government here and to construe them as sheer bluff. Grave consequences—possibly even war—could, therefore, flow from tactics of misrepresentation.

TWO OF THE principal newspapers of the United States have already protested publicly against any policy of manipulation of the press. They are the New York "Times" and the "Evening Star" of Washington, D. C. The "Star" in an editorial Wednesday said that only those portions of the news about the Cuban blockade were made available by the Defense Department which its "omniscient manipulators of public opinion decided, in their infinite wisdom, would best serve to create the 'image' of this country's activities they wished to manufacture and place before our people and the world."

The "Star" in its news columns the previous day had quoted the assistant secretary of defense in charge of press relations as having said:

"I CAN'T THINK of a comparable situation, but in the kind of world we live in, the generation of news by the government becomes one weapon in a strained situation. The results, in my opinion, justify the methods we used."

In its editorial comment, the "Star" said:

"Weigh those words. Their meaning is truly sinister. In an administration that is becoming quite notable in its efforts toward achieving managed control of the news, Mr. Sylvester may have overlooked one likely result of 'the methods we used.' This result is that Mr. Sylvester and his superiors, from this time on, are suspect. They have, in our opinion, recklessly and thoughtlessly forfeited a confidence that in this country has been the rule, rather than the exception. What they say from now on, as arbitrarily established sources of public information, may be the truth. But that truth will be accepted with a grain of salt . . .

"ONE MAY HOPE that having tasted the fruits of a use of power more readily identified with the Soviet Union, with Hitler, Mussolini and a long string of new if lesser dictators than with our own country, those in high places will now realize that this fruit is poison and discard it before an antidote becomes necessary."

The New York "Times" in its editorial—also on Wednesday—said that censorship in time of crisis is understandable and necessary and that the press should exercise self-restraint. The "Times," however, then added this warning:

"BUT TO ATTEMPT to manage the news so that a free press should speak—in Sylvester's words—in 'one voice to your adversary' could be far more dangerous to the cause of freedom than the free play of dissent, than the fullest possible publication of the facts."

The "Times" also declared that "a democratic government cannot work if news of and about that government is long suppressed or managed or manipulated or controlled."

THE COUNTRY has been led to believe that in a nuclear age a President should be able to order retaliatory measures in a few minutes or hours the same day. Why was the risk taken on the missile bases in Cuba? How much of what was given out to the press was sham and how much was real? Access to all the facts should be given now lest newsmen in the future here and abroad tend to disbelieve official briefings as merely a contrived way of creating a certain "image" for political purposes — national or international.

Paint Horse Contest Today

Paint horses will be paraded for prizes at a show here today at 1 p.m. The Horse Show is slated at the Rodeo Bowl.

Trophies and ribbons will be awarded winners, according to Kenneth Williams, organizer of the show. Competition will be in both halter and performance classes.

This is the first Paint Horse Show for Big Spring, Williams said, although the animals are gaining popularity in the area. Until now, quarter horses have captured most of the spotlight. The show is approved by the American Paint Stockhorse Association.

Weldon Johnson, Snyder, will judge the animals. Entry fee is $3.

Boys Are Honored

Members of Cub Pack No. 236 honored three boys Thursday who received Bobcat awards. The meeting was held at Midway School with Wallace Whittington, cubmaster, presenting the badges to Randy Evans, Alan Falkner and Roland Beal. The Cubs put and Mickey Lawson gave a talk on proper dental care. Approximately 30 attended the meeting.

Milling Gets Church Call

L. E. (Lee) Milling, executive secretary for the Presbytery of the Southwest and a former general secretary of the Big Spring YMCA, has accepted a call to a North Carolina post.

Effective Dec. 1 he will become assistant to the pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Burlington, N. C.

Milling came here from Houston where he was branch executive for the YMCA and served as general secretary at the time the Y purchased the Christian church property at Fifth and Scurry.

Eleven years ago he resigned his YMCA position to become the executive secretary for the Presbytery serving churches in the West Texas and Eastern New Mexico area.

Mr. and Mrs. Milling have been making their home in Midland. They have two children, the Rev. Kim Milling, who is now a pastor in Kansas City, Mo., and Anne Milling, a sophomore at North Texas State University.

In Custody

Sheriff Miller Harris and Deputy Sheriff A. G. Mitchell have returned from Perryton where they took custody of J. A. Harrington. Harrington is wanted here on a misdemeanor hot check charge.

Texas Business Activity Drops

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas business activity dropped sharply in September after a brisk advance in August, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research said Saturday.

The 7 per cent August rise was followed by a 12 per cent drop the next month, the bureau said. The September index still was 3 per cent above last year.

The bureau said it is too early to be certain whether the sharp September drop indicates the beginning of a recession.

In September of last year, the index fell 8 per cent, but rose substantially the next two months.

CHS Girls' Hoopster Team To Enter HCJC Tourney

CAROLYN WILSON

One of the big excitements this week, besides the Rotan-Coahoma football game, was the announcement of the 1962-'63 basketball schedule. The very first game of the season will be played by the CHS A girls team during the HCJC tournament, Nov. 15-17. The basketball season is not legally open until Nov. 15 so the tournament will "ring in" the new season!

COAHOMA

There will be four tournaments entered by the CHS basketball teams, two of which both the boys and girls will be entered in—the Sands tournament and the Forsan tournament. The boys will participate in the Big Lake tournament alone just as the girls play in the HCJC one. Eighteen other games are scheduled for both boys' and girls' A teams. The boys' or girls' B teams will play some of these games.

Besides this, it was also the legal beginning of after school practices, Thursday, so there was a number of CHS basketball players on the girls' team who stayed for practice on Thursday, with Mr. Grady B. Tindol, head girls coach.

This week's classes were frequently interrupted by different activites such as Student Council meeting during third period last Tuesday, and Wednesday the schedule was altered for class meetings at the regular time. In the class meetings some of the Mr. and Miss CHS nominees were elected, although the sophomores and juniors were unable to get theirs elected because of other business matters. All of the winners will be announced later when elections are completed.

The Fish are now selling bracelets with "Coahoma High School" written on them. Everyone be sure to support these classes and buy these pins, bracelets and tickets to the chili supper. Prices for this supper will be 75 cents for high school students and 50 cents for sixth grades through the eighth grades. All others are admitted free.

Thursday night during half-time activities the junior high football sweetheart, Donna Duke, was crowned. Donna is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Duke and she is an eighth grader. Also presented were all ex-football sweethearts, cheerleaders and the football captains who were still in high school. The Puppies won their homecoming game against Forsan Junior High by a score of 30 to 12.

'Y' YOUTH YAK

BS Has 72 Participants In Pre-Legislative Trip

By KAREN KEE

A Big Spring delegation of 58 students and 14 sponsors left for Pre-ledge in Abilene early Saturday morning. Authors of the various bills had a chance to present and debate their bills along with the seven other towns in the district.

Bills which passed the committees were presented on the floor, and if passed were put in the bill book for Youth and Government which will be held at Austin sometime in December.

Bills were not the center of attention however. Extensive campaigning was carried on in order to put at least one of the Big Spring candidates in office. The results of this election will be announced next week. Candidates from Big Spring included Robert Mahoney, nominee for Governor; Jane McElrath, nominee for Speaker of the House; and Dick Irons, nominee for House Clerk.

The Senior High Council is continuing with its plans to start Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y not only in Coahoma, but Forsan, Stanton, and Eastland. Other towns interested in having Y clubs should contact the Big Spring YMCA. Also discussed and voted on this week in the council were plans for a joint devotional over the PA system each Monday night and a plan whereby once a month one of the clubs will be responsible for planning a joint meeting for all the clubs.

Have you heard? The Classics are coming to the YMCA New Year's Eve! Plans are already being made for the biggest New Year party ever. Advanced tickets will go on sale soon. Watch for more news and information about this dance!

The P-TA Fall Festival of the Forsan School was held Saturday, Nov. 3, in the school gymnasium at 7:30 p.m.

Entertainment for the evening was a minstrel show, "Darktown Follies," directed by Mrs. Tom Spell and put on by the high school choir accompanied by Diane Banks. The Darktown Follies Quartet was in charge of laughter and merriment. The characters were Bones, Mr. Roy Stockstill; Smokey, Charlie Newcomb; Rastus, Tom Evans; Creosote, Danny Kennermur; Doormat, David Roberson; Elbowgrease, Donnie Gooch; Flubdub, Jody Dodd; and Battleaxe, Jannette Rutherford.

The program followed the coronation of a king, queen, prince and princess of the Fall Festival. The theme for the coronation was a Mississippi showboat. The royalty was seated in the stands, which represented the showboat.

FORSAN

Dena Parker and Mack Henderson, representing high school, were crowned king and queen; Kay Walraven and Tommy Rodman, representing grade school, were crowned prince and princess. Following the program there were booths sponsored by the first four grades, and cake walks in the gymnasium.

Thursday, seniors chose their invitations. These will be ordered at a later date.

The seniors received their pictures last week. Those whose pictures were no good had retakes made Thursday.

Prizes ranging from stuffed animals to portable radios and hair dryers were received by the seniors for their magazine sales.

The Buffaloes were idle this week but next Friday they play Garden City here at Forsan in their third conference game of the season. The Future Homemakers of America will again sponsor a pie supper after the game.

In their first basketball game of the season Forsan girls beat Lorraine in both an A and a B team game. The game with Loraine, scheduled for this coming Tuesday, was put off at the request of their coach until sometime during December.

The Start Of A Band

Lupe Diaz hits a G during a practice session of a growing, young band which is being organized at the Salvation Army Post here. In the background are, at left, Elixar Contreras and at right, Juanita Marquez. Initial progress is somewhat hampered by a lack of horns, according to instructor Phil Swyers.

Lack Of Horns Slows Development Of Band

By JOE BEYER

Twelve youngsters at the Salvation Army are now in their fourth week of practice—a start on what may eventually be a Salvation Army Band.

"They are all starting from scratch," Phil Swyers, a student at Howard County Junior College, who is teaching the group, said.

The Citadel rings with blasts from horns two evenings each week as the students practice. There are not enough instruments to go around, so boys practice from 4-5 p.m. and girls from 5-6 p.m. They play each Tuesday and Wednesday.

Quarter notes come pealing from the horns as the boys and girls practice individually and jointly under the tutoring of Swyers. Lack of instruments makes instruction more difficult, Swyers said, because the children cannot practice except during the class periods.

There are currently three cornets, three trombones, one baritone and one E flat horn available.

"We need another bass, another baritone and two more E flat alto horns," Swyers said.

Swyers is not rushing the students because time is in his favor. He is currently a freshman at HCJC, so he has more than a year to build.

His students range in age from eight to 19. Current members of the prospective band are Mary Moore, Buddy Elton, Elcer Contreras, Debra Alexander, May Wise, Ellen Alexander, Ruth Morgan, Juanita Marquez, Lupe Diaz, Janie Smithwick, Bennie Blanco and Bennie Heffington.

Dixie's Human, Even If A Bit Forgetful

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—When Pelham F. Davenport Jr. died last May, the Negro porter at the State Highway Patrol Station in Chattanooga left little in the way of worldly goods to his wife, Minnie.

Recently, when a state trooper died, a notice went out to all patrol divisions. The notice was a reminder that the trooper was one of about 600 safety department employes who signed a voluntary pledge in 1954 to give $10 to the beneficiary of any employe who died.

That notice jogged memories. Chattanooga troopers recalled that Davenport, too, had made such a pledge.

Capt. P. D. Garland notified proper authorities and 597 employes paid into the fund.

A certified check for $5,970 was sent to Garland Thursday, and he delivered it to Davenport's surprised widow.

WILL AMERICA

STRIKE OUT?

America has long been batting high in science and invention, business and trade, living standards and ideals for peace. But there may be scoreless innings if we do not train enough heavy hitters with higher education.

This is causing concern. Many colleges are in a squeeze. Some face shortages, and in less than 10 years there will be twice as many applicants.

To stay ahead, we must see that our colleges have modern laboratories, enough classrooms and a steady supply of competent teachers.

Comedy, Adventure Are Ingredients Of Film Fare

This week's movie playbill is comparatively short in quantity, but the quality is above average.

This is true both of the new films and the returning ones.

Leading the new films is "Hatari!," which has three major factors to recommend it: the theme music, the panoramic shots of wild African animals, and, for John Wayne fans—John Wayne.

The theme from "Hatari!" was recorded from the sound track by Henry Mancini, although the Ferrante and Teicher album ranks higher in popularity. But the big music is one of the smaller portions of the sound track which Lawrence Welk and his bubbly band whomped up into "Baby Elephant Walk," a little tidbit which has climbed right up the popular music list.

The story itself, while overly long, has quite a bit of excitement. "Hatari" means "danger" in Swahili, and there is plenty of that for Wayne to handle—particularly since he's hunting the wilds of Tanganyika without nary a shootin' arn.

Helping Wayne to a great extent in the acting department are Red Buttons and Elsa Martinelli.

"That Touch Of Mink," comedy starring Cary Grant, Doris Day, Audrey Meadows and Gig Young is at the State Theatre through Wednesday.

A Granley production in Color and Panavision, from Universal-International Pictures, the film was produced by Stanley Shapiro and Martin Melcher and directed by Delbert Mann, under the executive production supervision of Robert Arthur.

Among the featured players in the cast are Yankee baseball stars Mickey Mantle, Roger Maris and Yogi Berra.

Universal - International has made a string of romantic comedies, including "Operation Petticoat," "Pillow Talk," "Come September," and "Lover Come Back."

The original screenplay is the work of the celebrated Shapiro and Nate Monaster. Shapiro was co-author of "Operation Petticoat," "Pillow Talk" (for which he won an Academy Award;, "Lover Come Back" and "Come September."

"That Touch of Mink" marks Grant's 60th starring film. Since 1936, when he appeared with Katharine Hepburn in "Sylvia Scarlett," Grant has had 24 of his motion pictures booked into the foremost film house in the world, the Radio City Music Hall, and their total screening time has a quotient of 95 weeks of playing time—which is an all-time record for a star. Cary's closest competiter is Fred Astaire, and the playing time of his films is just half that of Grant's.

Grant's role in "That Touch of Mink" is tailored to his suave comedic talents and his gift for sophisticated fun is given leeway in the part of a luxury loving tycoon who has everything his own way—until a pert, small town girl comes along.

The smalltown girl is played by Miss Day. She is provided with some 20 costume changes that forecast the fashion vogues for chic chicks. Her clothes range from working girl outfits to glamour girl attire. One of the highlights for feminine members of the audience of the film is a fashion show in which leading models display some now popular creations.

Young's last Broadway play was "Under the Yum-Yum Tree." In recent years he has spent more time in the New York theater than he has before Hollywood's cameras. Now, he has purchased a home in California, as he plans to shuttle between stage and screen.

Audrey Meadows, known for her appearances in such musicals as "High Button Shoes" and "Top Banana" and for her work as Jackie Gleason's spounse on TV, makes her motion picture debut in "That Touch of Mink." She portrays Miss Day's roommate. In supporting roles Alan Hewitt, John Astin, Richard Sargent and Joey Faye.

One of the laugh highlights of the film is the sequence in which Cary takes Doris to a game at the Yankee Stadium. Maris, Mantle, Berra and umpire Art Passarella make their acting debuts playing "themselves." The boys were pleased with their first thespian stints, and spent most of the time between "takes" autographing bats, balls and pictures for the actors.

Mann won an Academy Award for direction of his first film, "Marty." Cinematographer Russell Metty won an Oscar for his photography of "Sparacus."

* * *

"Cape Fear" not only is a hair-raising suspense yarn, it also marks Polly Bergen's return to the screen after a years-ago flop at a Hollywood career. This time, she's a hit.

"Cape Fear" revolves chiefly around Miss Bergen as a frightened wife, Gregory Peck as her harrassed husband, and Robert Mitchum as the cold-blooded, revengeful killer who is bent on evening an old score with Peck—not man to man, but through hurting his family.

The tension builds right up to the climax when Peck decides he must take matters into his own hands, and drastically.

The big news in returning movies is "Spartacus," the hours-long award winner that succeeds in what only a few years ago was considered impossible—combining intimate portraits of individual lives with the coldly impersonal and all-encompassing heavings of history.

WAYNE & MARTINELLI
She asks no special favors

"Spartacus" won four Academy Awards, and probably should have won more.

The film is titled after the Greek slave, Spartacus, who led his fellow gladiators in a revolt against Roman tyranny and almost succeeded. One is left with the impression that the world simply was not yet ready for individual freedom and human dignity.

Spartacus was illiterate but with a high degree of native intelligence. What he learned he learned the hard way, or through friends who were more educationally blessed. His revolt started more or less through accident, and it was not until his death that Spartacus fully understood the liberty he and his freed slaves had fought for.

In his portrayal of Spartacus, Kirk Douglas controls his emoting to a fine degree in unfolding slowly and painfully the oppressed personality as it grows toward understanding.

Spartacus' arch-enemy was Crassus, the model for Shakespeare's "lean and hungry look." Laurence Olivier essays this role as the troubled patrician haunted by the spectre of a mere slave outfighting and outwitting the invincible Romans, and beset also with dissension among the master race.

Crassus was of the self-appointed nobility which scorned the Roman mob as only a notch above the slaves, and sought to end forever the power of the Senate.

His own understanding comes after the defeat of Spartacus when he discovers himself powerless to force his love upon the woman (played by Jean Simmons) who had borne Spartacus a son, for in this he sees that Spartacus has been victorious from the grave.

In Gracchus and Batiatus are symbolized both the true nobility and the weakness of the Roman Republic. Charles Laughton, as Gracchus, represents the dying Republic. He, as a senator, is corrupt—yet, when the climax nears he remains true to the Republic even though it means his death. Or, as he phrases it, "I would rather have a little corruption—with freedom—than an honest dictatorship."

Peter Ustinov, as Batiatus, gives an even more incisive portrayal than Laughton. Batiatus was the slave master against whom the gladiators first revolted — a cowardly, cunning con man whom fate appoints as the agent to carry the victory of Spartacus out of the grave and away from the wrath of Crassus.

Ustinov's character is at once pitiable and admirable, contemptible and heroic. His is the most truly representative of human nature both at its best and at its wors', with the two inextricably intertwined and confused.

There are others who pass across this stage of history—John Gavin as a fuzzy-faced young Julius Caesar, whose finest hour had not yet arrived; John Ireland as a loyal gladiator captain; Woody Strode as the giant Ethiopian gladiator whose death was the turning point for Spartacus.

Also outstanding in a co-starring role is Tony Curtis as Antoninus, another Greek slave whose learning counter-balanced and helped form the personality of Spartacus.

"Spartacus" has been criticized in some politically-oriented quarters as "communistic propaganda" which it certainly is not. This criticism comes mostly from right wing extremists who remember that the scriptwriter, Dalton Trumbo, was many years ago accused of Communist activities, but have forgotten that men can change. And the charges were never proved, anyway.)

The lesson of "Spartacus" is ageless—that there are only two kinds of men in this world, free men and tyrants. It is the continually repeated story of Thermopolae, the Alamo—and the Hungarian uprising of only a few years ago.

Thomas Jefferson would have understood the story of "Spartacus," a lesson which was as lost on Julius Caesar as it is on today's extremists.

LOOKS AT BOOKS

Fascinating Look At Gold Rush Era

THE GOLDEN FRONTIER, Herman Francis Reinhart, University of Texas Press, Austin, $6.

Herman Francis Reinhart may never have struck it rich in his gold rush days, but he left an historical nugget more valuable than gold.

"The Golden Frontier" is the homespun memoirs of a relatively anonymous individual who nevertheless had a ringside seat at one of the most exciting eras of our history. Doyce Nunis Jr. has edited the copy taken from typewritten reports that Reinhart's daughters transcribed from the manuscript of the long since deceased author.

This is really a remarkable account, and what makes it so is the preservation of the unlearned author's language, leaving explanations to footnotes.

This young German man left the farm with his young brother Charley to go west when the Gold Rush was in full flower. They followed a wagon train, had brushes with Indians, lost most of their funds and supplies, and separated. Herman became a boomer, from rush center to rush center, occasionally passing over diggings which later proved rich. His commonsense taught him to turn to labors other than mining, but invariably he was in touch with the miners and frontier lumbermen. He worked his way from nothern California into British Columbia and back again. Everywhere there were adventures—bad men, shootings, vigilantes, reckless gambling, Indian fights, and everything else that made the Gold Rush the fabulous and romantic period it was.

Yet all of it is told matter of factly through the eyes of a person preoccupied merely with the things he saw and did rather than as one annointed to assay the historical importance of his adventures. For this reason the chronicle doesn't move with the calculated action of a western drama. However, it captures in flavor and simplicity the intimate glimpses of exciting times.

The miracle of it is that years afterwards, as a settled businessman in Kansas, Reinhart sat down and paintakingly scribbled in ledger books, apparently without benefit of notes or references, the detailed cavalcade of his life and times. Thus, this story becomes as compelling as fast fiction. It's something delightfully different. —J. P.

Hot Check Writers Forced To Pay Up

Hot check writers have had to pay off 1,667 of 2,918 checks turned in to the hot check department of the sheriff's office since last Jan. 1, Miller Harris, sheriff, said today. The department has recovered $35,934.10 from the writers of these checks.

In October, the department processed 257 hot checks reported by merchants. It collected 148 of these for a total of $3,272.30.

The record for the department's operation for the first 10 months of its existence has been to collect 52.5 per cent of all bad checks reported to it.

In addition, the department has filed 103 worthless check cases in county court and 40 felony check cases in district court.

Fifty-four of the misdemeanor and 28 felony charges have been tried before the courts.

Today the department is filing 14 more misdemeanor complaints in county court against hot check writers. Five felony cases were filed during October in district court.

A large number of others will be filed in the next few days unless the individuals named in the complaints respond to the 10-day notice given them of the department's intention.

"We have tried to be fair and reasonable about these matters," said Fern Cox, chief deputy sheriff, "but the majority of people receiving the 10-day notice abuse the privilege by ignoring it.

"During the holidays this department will be in close contact with merchants and we will not hesitate to file on any offender where the situation warrants it."

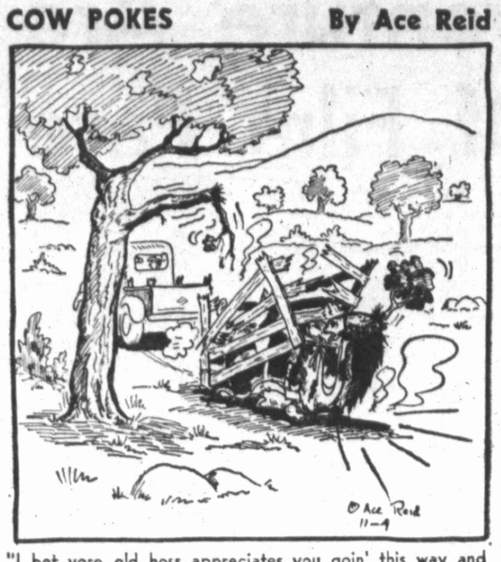

Pct. 1 Voting At Fire Station

Precinct 1, Big Spring, will conduct the general election Tuesday, as it has for a number of years, in the North Side Fire Station, it was pointed out by Rufus Davidson, judge.

It had been erroneously stated the voting would be at the North Side school. It was stressed by the judge that all general elections for a number of years have been at the fire station and that voting at the school has not been the custom for a long time. He said he had many phone calls relative to the matter.

The voting will begin at the North Side fire station at 8 a.m. Tuesday and close at 7 p.m., he said.

DEAR ABBY

Children As Shoppers

DEAR ABBY: You're a great one sticking up for children who claim they are abused by clerks who wait on adults first. You even agree that some kids steal because "it's easier to walk out with something than to get a cashier to wait on them!"

Abby, have you ever seen some kids in a grocery store running down the aisle with carts, knocking over displays and bumping into customers? Their mothers sit in the car and half the time the kids get the wrong things, don't have enough money or they lose their change. If parents want to teach Junior how to handle money and shop, they should do it on their own time, and not during the rush hours.

BEAT CHASIER

* * *

DEAR ABBY: This is for merchants who forget the children one day grow up to be customers. I still live in the town where I grew up, and I make it a policy never to trade at the stores where I was pushed aside by the clerks while adults who came in after I did were waited on ahead of me. They say elephants never forget. A child's memory is sometimes better.

GOOD MEMORY

* * *

DEAR ABBY: My neighbors gave me a shower just before I had my third baby. My little angel was stillborn. I was just going to pack the baby gifts up and put them away, but my neighbor told me to take them back and buy something nice for myself.

I want to do what is right, Abby. If I were to take the gifts back I would rather put the money toward a stone for the baby. Would this be wrong?

MRS. PUZZLED

DEAR MRS. PUZZLED: If you plan to have another baby, put the gifts away. Otherwise, take them back and do whatever you please with the money. I am sure your neighbors would not mind if you were to buy yourself a nice gift.

Cotton's Use Of Nitrogen Being Sought

LUBBOCK — A research project to find key parts to the puzzle of how the cotton plant uses nitrogen in growing and producing fruit was announced today by the Cotton Producers Institute. Roy Forkner, Lubbock, and LeRoy Durham, Plainview, Institute trustees in West Texas, said a $23,000 grant for the project has been made to the University of Arizona Agricultural Experiment Station. Contributions by the latter will total a similar amount.

Aim is to develop facts on nitrogen's role in determining when and how much a cotton plant fruits. The information is needed to develop better guides for farmers to follow in lowering unit production costs and improving raw fiber quality.

Generally, upland cottons now set and mature bolls from less than 50 per cent of their flowers, regardless of cultural and management levels or soil and environmental conditions. However, exceptions have occurred. In some cases, boll set percentages have been increased with added nitrogen. Excessive nitrogen has reduced flower initiation in other instances.

The research will probe the effects of different forms and amounts of nitrogen on flowering efficiency, biochemical processes involved in the plant's use of nitrogen, and the role of certain growth regulators. This is one of 11 projects for which funds have been budgeted by Institute trustees.

Church To Mark Seventh Birthday

The Big Spring Gospel Tabernacle Church, 1905 Scurry, will observe home coming today followed by a home coming convention Monday and Tuesday. It marks the seventh anniversary of the Big Spring church. The first meeting marked the beginning of the old Volunteer Rescue Mission, and the gathering later became known as the Gospel Tabernacle church.

Three services will be held today at 10 a.m., 2:30 p.m., and at 7 p.m. During the convention three services will be conducted daily at the same hours. Ministers from Oklahoma and many cities in Texas are expected to be present. Rev. Noah Tuttle says that the convention services will be open to all ministers.

A basket lunch will be spread at the noon hour Sunday, and lunch will be served at the church during the convention days.

Waste Disposal Fines Considered

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas Water Pollution Control Board will decide Nov. 8 whether to fine tardy applicants seeking waste disposal permits.

D. F. Smallhorst, board executive secretary, said last week that less than half of the nearly 10,000 cities, industries and oil operators who discharge waste into Texas streams obtained permits by Thursday's deadline.

The board could levy fines of up to $1,000 a day for each day an applicant fails to file.

City Expenditures Holding To Budget

City officials are holding the line through the first half of the fiscal year and expenditures are matching budget estimates, according to a summarization of the general fund expenditures by City Secretary C. R. McClenny. Copies of the report have been handed members of the city commission by the City Manager Larry Crow.

"Expenditures of operating accounts are almost all in line with budget expectations," Crow said in his statement to the commissioners. "The expenditures have been 50 per cent or less during the six months ending Sept. 30, except the sanitation, street, park and golf course divisions. Over-expenditures in the last three are largely due to the seasonal nature of their operations but which require continuing maintenance.

"General fund revenues, for the budget year, will exceed budget estimates by perhaps $12,000," Crow continued. "Water and sewer revenues will be perhaps $35,000 under budget estimates, but the possible shortage of revenues will be offset by the fact that cash balances at the beginning of the year were above budget estimates.

Several major accounts handled from the general fund show the following: First figures show budget, second is the expenditures through Sept. 30, and the balance for the year is in parenthesis—city manager $12,740, $6,036.31 ($6,703.69); tax department $20,898, $10,752.44 ($10,145.56); engineering department $43,029, $12,051.54 ($22,977.46); police department $296,076, $148,024.04 ($148,051.96); fire department $212,559, $103,788.26 ($108,770.74); street department $182,482, $94,518.25 (87,963.75; health unit $10,982, $5,506.37 ($5,475.63); civil defense $1,738, $1,745.67 (-$7.67); sanitation department $131,108, $74,059.55 ($57,048.45); parks $35,958,. $19,214.23 ($6,743.77); total expenditures $1,144,579.50, $574,405.37 ($570,174.13).

Stewart Moved To Local Jail

James M. Stewart, who is being interrogated by Dan Saunders, Martin County sheriff, and other officers in connection with the murder of Travis R. Hicks, has been transferred from the Martin County jail to the Howard County jail.

Stewart, who is under conviction for a felony and is a prisoner of the state penal system, was turned over to Saunders by Huntsville authorities some weeks ago.

Saunders is querying the man on any connection he might have with the mysterious slaying of Hicks, a 37-year-old itinerant electrician, found with a bullet hole in the skull in a lonely field just west of the Howard County line Sept. 1.

How long Stewart will be kept here was not announced.

How can a cotton bra that feels as soft as a handkerchief shape you better than molds, wires, bones or anything ever could?

THE ANSWER

Exquisite Form discovers a new "giveable" cotton fabric that must be seen on to be believed.

FABRICADABRA by Exquisite Form

We want you to see the greatest change that ever came over a woman, or a fabric, soon as you change into FABRICADABRA. This new "giveable" cotton comes to life on you. And in all your life you've never looked so naturally beautiful. Because this fabric has its own natural shaping ability that supports and separates better than unnatural bones, wires, molds, anything. Washes like a hanky, never shrinks, dries like new.
