CAPTAIN CHARLES LOCKWOOD

Aged Veteran Offers Pity For Modern Bridge Players

(By The Associated Press)

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 2 — The younger generation, in fact, the three youngest generations, faced another accusation today. They have failed to provide the world with enough "good, rough, tough" pinochle players.

Captain Charles Lockwood, 90, "last man" of the last man's club of civil war veterans, made the criticism. Lack of competition and an under supply of skillful partners contributed to his decision to leave his home at Chamberlain, S. D., and enter the soldier's home here.

Finds What He Wants

He has found what he wants among men with memories of Gettysburg, Shiloh, and Sherman's march to the sea. It may be a bit old fashioned but as far as the captain is concerned the game is not only good enough, it is about the best thing done with pasteboards. For bridge players, he offers only sympathy, no admiration, no envy.

Between head on pinochle conflicts and occasional skirmishes over the checker board, Lockwood spends his time fighting over phases of the civil war and recalling events in the career of the last man's club. It was formed by 33 survivors of the battle scarred company of Minnesota volunteers.

Has Vial Of Wine

He carried with him a small vial of wine, tightly corked, from a bottle of old Burgundy which was set up as the prize of the last man of the club when it was formed in 1885 on the anniversary of the first battle of Bull Run.

He drank a toast from it in 1930 when he came to the club's banquet table alone for the first time and the bottle fulfilled its destiny. Since that he has made an annual pilgrimage to the club's old meeting center at Stillwater, Minn., and he plans another for next July 21.

Tudor Appeals Sentence Here In 99th Court

Slaton Business Man Is Given Two Years In Penitentiary Upon Conviction For Murder Of Dr. S. H. Adams

Notice of appeal of a two-year sentence given him Friday morning by a 99th district court jury was given by A. L. Tudor, Slaton grain and coal dealer. The jury found Tudor guilty of murder with malice for the shooting of Dr. S. H. Adams, pioneer Slaton physician, at the doctor's office October 13. Woody Tudor, 30-year-old son of the gray-haired defendant, died on an operating table in Dr. Adams' office following an automobile accident August 25.

Shows No Emotion

Showing no emotion as the verdict of the jury was read at 10 o'clock, Mr. Tudor waived the two days' required by law and accepted sentence from Judge Clark M. Mullican several minutes later.

Later Tudor made a $5,000 recognizance bond. He had been at freedom under a $10,000 bond since the slaying.

15 Ballots Taken

The jury deliberated approximately four hours in reaching the verdict, it was learned Friday. Approximately 15 ballots were taken before the final agreement was made.

Trial of Mr. Tudor consumed four days, the case having gone to the jury at 5:12 Thursday afternoon after a full day of arguments between counsel.

Mr. Tudor was represented by Geo. Dupree, J. E. Vickers and R. J. Allen, local attorneys. Dayton Moses, prominent Fort Worth attorney and counsel for the Southwestern Cattle Raisers association, and R. A. Baldwin of Slaton aided District Attorney Durwood Bradley in prosecution of the case.

Members of the defendant's family including his wife were present when the jury's verdict was read. They had been present throughout the trial.

Girl Scouts Will Sell Cookies Here

Spice cookies will be sold by 24 Lubbock Girl Scouts in 20 or more groceries and one bakery here beginning Saturday, Miss Alma Girand, Girl Scout director here, said Friday.

The product, placarded as "Girl Scout cookies," will retail for 15 cents a package. Twelve of the cookies will be in a package. The goal is sale of 2,000 packages, Miss Girand said, explaining that the Lubbock Girl Scout organization decided to sell the cookies instead of conducting a financial campaign. Gross receipts will go to the Lubbock Girl Scouts, Miss Girand said, and will be used "solely for scouting," in buying equipment and literature. The four Lubbock service clubs are using the cookies at their luncheons, the Girl Scout director said.

Dallas Slayer Thought Found By Detectives

Satisfactory Evidence For An Arrest Is Lacking But The Person Believed Responsible Is Being Watched

Quarrel Is Bared

Probe Centers About Argument Dead Woman Had With Member Of Party Of Eight Who Had Been In Apartment

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Dec. 2.—Detectives were satisfied tonight they knew the person responsible for the slaying of Mrs. Leona Smiley Buchanan, attractive 34-year-old film clerk, but lacked satisfactory evidence on which to make an arrest.

Their investigation centered about a disagreement she allegedly had with a member of a party of eight who had spent Wednesday night eating and drinking, going back and forth between her apartment, where her nude body was found yesterday, and that of a friend.

Trouble Described

Signed statements in the hands of investigators revealed Mrs. Buchanan had interceded in an argument between one couple and was knocked across the room by one of the women. Several members of the party said the difficulty was smoothed over later and when Mrs. Buchanan left to return to her apartment across the hall she apparently was in the best of spirits.

The detectives believed that a woman strangled Mrs. Buchanan. They held that no man would have taken time to write the camouflage note found in her apartment, along with a pair of dice and bottle that had contained whiskey. The note

William Green Is Elected Labor Head For 9th Term

CINCINNATI, Dec. 2. (AP)—Exhorted to "translate the militant spirit of this convention into action" for unemployment insurance and the 30-hour week, the American Federation of Labor ended its annual convention today.

As fiery as ever, William Green responded to his election to his ninth term as president with a cheer-evoking statement of labor's plans.

"We will," he said, "plead for cooperation (of employers), but where we can not get it, we will use every legitimate power at our command."

Cotton Situation Is Talked By Leaders With Roosevelt

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Dec. 2 (AP) An hour long discussion of the cotton situation, during which he was asked that a non-partisan liquidating agency dispose of governmental cotton, came today as Franklin D. Roosevelt was turning his thoughts to an early departure for Albany.

A delegation of cotton merchants, several of whom were officials of the American Cotton Shippers' association but all of whom said they were acting in an individual capacity, called in the later afternoon for a talk with the president-elect. They remained until well after dark and their talk covered the whole cotton situation.

Dying Newsboy Fails To Reach His Goal At Hospital Following Injury In "Tag" Football Game

Youth Cuts Veins In Right Shoulder As He Smashes Into An Automobile While Attempting To Catch Forward Pass; His Chums Offer Blood But He Dies Within Less Than Hour

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, Dec. 2—An attempt to catch a forward pass in a game of "tag football" this morning cost the life of Stanley Penn, 18, newsboy.

The youth cut veins in his right shoulder when he ran against the glass door of an automobile in a vacant lot where the game was in progress. The glass was shattered.

He tried to run to city-county hospital nearby but collapsed near the door of the emergency room. Physicians were preparing to give a blood transfusion in an effort to save his life but, he died within an hour from loss of blood.

A passerby, and a dozen newsboys offered blood for the transfusion. Penn's parents were said to live in Ranger. He was known here as a boxer.

Penn apparently did not see the automobile, which had been driven upon the lot to be parked. The driver shouted "look out" and stopped the car but the youth did not hear. Other newsboys were unable to overtake him as he ran toward the hospital.

Lubbock Tailor, A Victim Of Own Burglar Trap, Loses His Left Leg From Gunshot Wound

Condition Of J. P. Hudson Is Not Critical; His Partner Challenges Report Officers Cautioned About Gun

J. P. HUDSON, 31, of 3003 Twenty-First street, who accidentally walked into a shotgun burglar trap in his own place of business about 7:40 o'clock Friday morning, was not resting at Lubbock sanitarium last night, although his condition was not regarded as critical. Hudson's left leg was amputated just below the knee. The wounded man is a co-operator of College Tailors, 1109 College avenue.

Owen Boyd, 708 Avenue W, partner of Hudson in the tailor shop, said he was in a barber shop, in the same block, when the accident occurred. The shotgun, Boyd said, had been set against a wall in the rear room of the tailor shop, with a string stretched from a trigger to a nail on the opposite wall, with the gun pointed directly on the line of the string.

Hudson thoughtlessly walked against the string and was directly in the line of fire, Boyd said. A charge from one barrel of the weapon, a double-barrel .12 gauge gun, hit Hudson in the lower left leg, which virtually was torn off about the calf.

Republican Triumvirate Is To Simmer Down To One Man As Clock Strikes Midnight And Snell Holds On

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—The Republican triumvirate that ruled the house of representatives through three congresses — six years — simmers down at midnight tomorrow to one man.

At the hour, the resignation of Representative John Q. Tilson of Connecticut becomes effective. Nicholas Longworth of Ohio is dead. Of the three, Bertrand H. Snell of New York, now Republican leader, alone will be left.

When the house meets Monday, it will hear officially about Tilson's resignation. The tall, lank, mustached war veteran from Connecticut submitted his resignation to the governor of his state and sent a copy of it to Speaker Garner.

He is going back to private life, he says, in order to accumulate something for himself and his family. He has spent 22 years in congress.

Deficit Of $750,000,000 Is Shown In First Five Months

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2 (AP)—Bipartisan moves to slash federal appropriations to an irreducible minimum went forward on capitol hill today as the daily treasury statement revealed a deficit of $750,000,000 for the first five months of the current fiscal year.

There was little talk of new taxes as Republicans and Democrats alike waited to see what President Hoover has to say on the subject in his message to congress next week.

Jake Hamon's Daughter At It Again; Says It's A "Sure Thing" This Time

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—Olive Belle Hamon, actress daughter of the late Jake Hamon, wealthy Oklahoma oil operator—was back again at the marriage license bureau here today.

This time it was I. Laurente Waters, a Brooklyn electrician, who was with her and Miss Hamon said they would "positively" be married today. She refused to say where or by whom.

It was only last September 15 that she got a license with Forrest C. Cross, 28, New York.

And September 16 she appeared again, said she had changed her mind, and tried to get a license with Pedro Llanuza, newspaper cartoonist. But Llanuza lacked the papers to prove he and his second wife were divorced so they did not get a license.

To complicate it all still more, Miss Hamon's mother said the actress was once engaged to Robert Short, the aviator shot down in China, and that two years ago she and Roy David Gatewood of St. Joseph, Mo., obtained a license at Kansas City. Here again the wedding plans were cancelled.

Miss Hamon gave her age as 22. The prospective bridegroom said he was 27. He is the son of William W. Waters and was born at Valdosta, Georgia.

Plans For Food And Housing Go Wrong; Supplies Fail To Reach Expectation; Churches Asked For Help

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. — Nine women, seeking presidential help for the demonstrators now marching on Washington, found today the social register holds no key to the chief executive's office.

The group, including several of social prominence, filed into the office of Theodore Joslin, President Hoover's secretary, only to be told it would be impossible for them to see the president.

Plans Collapse

While the delegation sought a word with Mr. Hoover, the plans of Herbert Benjamin, one of the sponsors of the march, to feed and house the groups collapsed. Food supplies which Benjamin had talked of earlier in the week failed to reach his expectations. A vacant warehouse on which he had depended for shelter was found already occupied by none less than the federal government itself. He appealed to several local churches for shelter, but gave up that idea when they did not seem to take kindly to it.

In view of his difficulties, Benjamin postponed from Monday until Tuesday his promised demonstrations in which the marchers will attempt to reach the doors of congress. Monday's program will be

Valley Banker Facing Prison

John Gregg, Elderly President Of Defunct Bank, Declared Guilty; Sentence Is To Be Passed Saturday

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, Dec. 2.—John Gregg, elderly president of the defunct Merchants National bank at Brownsville, was convicted today by a federal court jury of false entry, misapplication and conspiracy to misapply more than $250,000 of the bank's funds.

Sentence will be passed at 9 a. m. tomorrow by Judge J. C. Wilson. Whether a new trial would be sought was not announced by defense counsel.

The jury had the case about three hours.

Defense Was Insanity

Gregg's defense was insanity. The jurors had been charged that was the one important issue.

Gregg, 60 years old, stared straight ahead, his hands folded in front of him, when the verdict came in. He had been known as the leading banker of the lower Rio Grande valley of Texas and his bank the largest in that section.

The Merchants National failed last March, about six months after it had been merged with the First National bank at Brownsville.

Fighting Women Offer A New Problem But Police Toss Tear Bombs To Them

(By The Associated Press)

WILMINGTON, Del., Dec. 2.—Police reserves were called out and tear gas used to quell a disturbance in a hall tonight in which more than 100 women demonstrators making their way to Washington had been quartered for the night.

The trouble began when Policemen Hooper Lemmon and Harry Krause were called to the hall to quell a fight. They were beaten and had to be taken to a hospital for treatment.

A riot call was sent to the police station and more than 40 reserves, headed by Superintendent of Police William Black and Chief of Police Boyd responded.

Several police who attempted to enter the hall were beaten back by the women. Police then threw tear gas bombs in the windows. Screams of the women attracted several hundred persons to the scene.

In an effort to clear the hall of the tear gas most of the windows in the place were broken by the women. Spectators in the vicinity and police were affected by the fumes. Authorities finally quieted the women and more than a score were arrested, including six women.

Archbishop Of Santa Fe Dies Following Fall

Most Rev. Albert T. Daeger Victim Of Accident Friday; Opens Door And Plunges To Basement Floor

(By The Associated Press)

SANTA FE, N. M., Dec. 2.—A 10-foot fall into the basement of a garage today cost the life of the Most Rev. Albert T. Daeger, archbishop of Santa Fe and the Catholic archdiocese of northern New Mexico.

The prelate was injured shortly before noon when he fell into the basement of the building and struck his head on the concrete floor, fracturing his skull. He died at a hospital three hours later. At the time of his death he was surrounded by priests and doctors who a short time before had given up hope he would recover.

Did Not See Steps

It is believed the fall occurred when the archbishop opened a door leading from the street to the basement of the garage. The steps led down from the door and as it was dark in the basement it is thought he did not see them in time to prevent his fall. He was discovered by an employe of the garage and was taken to a hospital in an ambulance.

At his residence it was said the prelate had gone for his morning walk and apparently had decided to drop into the office of the garage to chat with some of the employes as was his custom.

Funeral services have not yet been arranged.

Highway Controversy Will Flare In Courts Saturday

AUSTIN, Dec. 2. (AP)—Attorneys on both sides of the controversy precipitated by the granting of an injunction to James E. Ferguson and others restraining the Texas highway commission from spending any more money on construction projects at this time were ready tonight to argue the points of law involved.

The case has been set for hearing in the third court of civil appeals tomorrow. James V. Allred attorney general, and Neal Powers, one of his assistants, had prepared the highway commission's side of the case. Ferguson, who was joined in the suit by Bailey Hardy and John Chamberlain, as plaintiffs, was represented by Ocie Speer. It was reported Ferguson, ex-governor and attorney, might personally argue the case.

Organization And Efficiency Committee Of Legislature Recommends Six Colleges Go To Local Communities

All Technological Courses At Tech Would Be Taken Away And Given To A. & M. Under Plan Presented

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Dec. 2. — The Austin American says that the joint organization and efficiency committee of the Texas legislature has decided to recommend that six of the eight teachers colleges in Texas be deeded outright to local communities for use as junior colleges and if the proposal is not accepted, that they be operated by the University of Texas as junior branches.

The paper says the report recommends combining the College of Industrial Arts at Denton with the seventh of these, and changing the functions and continuing operation of the eighth as a four-year college.

Take Tech Courses Away

The committee decided to recommend that all the technological courses be taken from Texas Technological college, leaving that work to Texas A. and M. college, and that Texas Tech be operated as a liberal arts college; that all agricultural courses be discontinued at the Sam Houston Teachers' college at Huntsville and that work be left to A. and M.; and that all graduate work be abolished excepting at the University of Texas and A. and M. college.

Colleges that would be turned to the communities, under the committee's recommendation are the teachers colleges at San Marcos, Alpine, Nacogdoches, Commerce, Canyon and Kingsville. In all instances except that of San Marcos, if the communities refused to accept the colleges free, the University of Texas would operate them as freshman-sophomore colleges. At San Marcos, the plant would be given the city for use as a high school or other educational plant.

The plans call for consolidating the Denton Teachers college and discharge of 27 of the present staff of Texas Tech college.

Schleicher To Form Cabinet

Former Leader In Von Papen's Cabinet Is Commissioned By Von Hindenburg; Big Job Is Cut Out For Him

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, Dec. 2.—General Kurt Von Schleicher, who calls himself a "man without nerves," was commissioned by President Paul Von Hindenburg today to form a presidential cabinet—that is, a cabinet responsible to the president himself.

As chancellor, the general, who served as defense minister in the Von Papen cabinet, will face the task of leading a disunited nation, exhausted economically and morally by partisan strife, into a quiet period of economic advance and social appeasement.

If he measures up to President Von Hindenburg's confidence in him, he will have with him practically the entire nation despite outward political opposition. This was made clear in the press reaction to his appointment.

Rebekah Officers Named; Junior High P-TA Meets

The Woman's Angle

* * *

BY BLANCHE E. BEAN
Avalanche Woman's Editor

WHILE I am often resentful of the attitude people take concerning woman's place in the world, I am, nevertheless, interested in the reaction of various ones. Likewise, I do follow stories concerning woman's business advancement and the reception that she gets in the business world.

• • •

Arthur Brisbane, we are to judge from his writings, believes that woman was created to be a mother of men. Others, and I am in this class, believe that woman was created for many other things as well.

• • •

"The Lord did not make women to pass difficult civil service examinations," Mr. Brisbane said recently in his column in discussing civil service examinations that are required to gain high places in British civil service. "Abraham Lincoln's mother could hardly read or write and she could read at all. She could not pass an examination. But she was more for the world than any men in England, including many hundred university 'honor men' that pass examiations easily—what you know is not as important as what you DO."

• • •

And, while I agree with him that what one does is of most importance, I do resent his inference that woman can do only one thing and that is to be a mother.

• • •

Apropos to this was the recent story in the New York Times concerning woman and her job in which attention is called to questionnaires answered by college women in which a large number of girls look down marriage as their chief objective because the occupational world offers no hope — a sort of boomerang for so many people who have long objected to women's entrance into the business field.

• • •

There was an observation in this article, too, that tends to answer the theory that woman has no place outside the home. For, as the writer pointed out, while the traditional feminine occupations are over-crowded, women are branching out into the channels heretofore reserved for men only. Women have become lawyers, clergymen, designers, photographers and have become successful ones. In the last decade, the number of women writers, editors and reporters has doubled. Women have become physicians in increasing numbers and in the teaching profession they have brought higher levels, becoming professors and presidents, until they now hold 20,000 chairs—twice the number they had ten years ago.

• • •

Today 110,000 women are conducting their own retail businesses. They own and manage hotels and restaurants, factories, are bankers, money lenders and have gone into many other fields where once there were men only.

• • •

And, to back the argument that women can be useful and successful outside the home, there is every evidence that these women are going to remain where they are in fair competition with men.

• • •

PHYSICAL TRENDS

IT IS interesting to note that in this slow evolution that is taking place, people are becoming taller and slenderer and are not approaching that monster that science drew for us a few years ago—the intellectual man who was all brain and whose body was shriveled and poorly developed.

• • •

Harvard men today are taller and heavier, on the whole, than their fathers were in college. Daughters in the women's colleges are taller and heavier than their mothers were when girls. Feet are growing larger all of the time. However, even though men and women are heavier, the increase in width does not quite keep up with the increase in height, so in the end, men and women are taller than those a few generations ago.

So perhaps, that is an indication of better physical as well as mental development for the present generation.

Natives Gasp At American Girl Seeking New Music In The Locale Of "Carmen"; Dances In Cleveland December 21

BY SIGRID ARNE

CLEVELAND (AP)—Spanish trains, airplanes and taxis are being pressed into service, American style, by an American girl who seems to have learned her chosen art, Spanish dancing, so well that she is having difficulty keeping up with herself.

Mary Elizabeth Gleason, whom the Spaniards have named "Maria Isabel," is to dance to the music of the Cleveland orchestra Dec. 21. She had learned her work with small chamber groups and sometimes to the mere strum of a guitar played by some black-eyed Basque in the mountains. But now she needs more scores and has gone to Spain to get them.

She danced in Cleveland recently, and critics acclaimed her. A few days later came the opportunity to dance to the melody of the Cleveland orchestra of more than 80 pieces. They had a "Carmen" score, but where would she get the other music?

"I'll run over and get it," she announced. The Spanish languor vanished like mist. She was an American girl with a wrist watch dictating each move.

Now she's hurrying between Lisbon, Barcelona and Madrid. In Barcelona the famous 82-year-old Pauleta, to whom many dancers go before they interpret Spanish dances, is doing her "Carmen" for American scores.

Her dynamic concentration, characteristically American, came into life three years ago when Miss Gleason was graduated from a New York conservatory.

"I'm going to be a Spanish dancer," she announced, despite a social position that could have given her leisurely days at theaters and over bridge tables.

In two and a half years she was back for her recent triumph. She had studied with Spain's most famous teachers, sometimes in elaborate ball rooms, more often in hidden cobble-stone court-yards or mountain camps.

"She's not American at all," grandees had wagered. "Only our daughters can do that heel work. And list to her Castillian. American — ha, ha!"

"But, I am American. Wait and see," she smiled again. And now Spain is "seeing."

Value Of Food In Development Is Discussed By Miss Weeks At School; Mrs. Kleinschmidt Heads Rebekah Lodge

An annual election of officers in the Rebekah lodge and the last program meeting of the Junior High school Parent-Teacher association for the calendar year held interest for numbers of persons Thursday evening.

Miss Margaret Weeks, dean of the Tech home economics school, discussed the value of food in mental development before one hundred and fifty-four patrons and teachers of Junior High school in a meeting at the school.

Christmas carols were sung by girls glee clubs from the sixth and seventh grades, directed by Mesdames M. E. Ware and E. E. Key.

A banner was awarded the room taught by Miss Alma Spikes for having the largest attendance of patrons. The second largest attendance was counted for Mrs. C. E. Roberts' room.

Dividing her discussion under three heads, Miss Weeks talked on "What Is Good Nutrition," discussed ways of obtaining good nutrition and then told the effects of proper nutrition in the mental development of a child.

Officers installed in the Rebekah lodge are to be installed on the first Thursday in January. The election was held at the IOOF hall on Texas avenue.

Mrs. F. A. Kleinschmidt was elected noble grand officer to succeed Mrs. H. S. Denton, who is serving this year. Mrs. E. Burdett is to be the new vice-grand official and A. C. Boaz Urges A United Church

Conference Officers Elected At Methodist Session Being Held At Houston; Crime And Sex Are Flayed

HOUSTON, Dec. 2 (AP)—Bishop H. A. Boaz of Houston, of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, told the southern conference of the Methodist Episcopal church this afternoon he was "very anxious for the time to come when there will be but one Methodism."

"I shall be glad when the northern and southern denominations of the Methodist Episcopal church unite," said Bishop Boaz. "In that way we may eliminate whatever competition might seem to exist between the two groups."

"We of the southern group wish to assure you of our greatest coeperation in the work that you're carrying forward. We are proud of your work. We feel that it would be impossible for the northern and southern Methodists to compete, for there is sufficient work for all of us to do."

He was applauded.

LEADERS ELECTED

HOUSTON, Dec. 2 (AP)—The southern conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, in session here, had a business meeting today.

Conference officers elected included the Rev. John Deschner of Welch, La., secretary; Rev. W. H. Bengston of Sealy, statistician; Rev. L. J. Rode of Seguin, treasurer.

A. M. Thompson of Houston was elected president of the laymens conference; Andrew Traeger of Seguin, vice president; Frank Bartos of Waco, secretary; Mrs. H. K. Faulk of Jennings, La., assistant secretary; H. E. Hoppmeyer, of New Orleans, treasurer; C. R. Deschner of San Antonio, assistant treasurer.

Dr. E. D. Kohlstedt of Philadelphia, executive secretary of the board of home missions and extension of the church, was the principal speaker last night. He attacked the movement to do away with prohibition.

"We may have lost the skirmish, but we're not going to quit. We're going to get up and fight the next time and victory will be ours," he said.

He likewise denounced "sex and crime" motoin pictures, saying:

"The time has come when the united voice of the Church of Christ must be heard with greater emphasis at the place of production and not at the place of distribution."

Roosevelt May Assume Role Of Flying President; No Federal Rule Bars Him

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. (AP) — Franklin D. Roosevelt probably will assume the role of the first flying president of the United States — and there is no hurdle in federal rule or regulation to bar him.

A check-up among White House attaches who have served under chief executives since long before the airplane was devised today disclosed no president ever has taken to the air while holding that office, and few have flown either before or after the term of their stewardship.

In 1917 after he left the White House, Theodore Roosevelt went up 5,000 feet above Mineola, Long Island, in an army plane.

Mrs. Roosevelt, wife of the president-elect and herself a frequent employer of the airplane for travel, already has intimated that her husband expects to use the air in his journeys to Warm Springs, Ga., from the executive mansion.

This prospect offers interesting possibilities. A secret service guard always accompanies a chief executive whenever he leaves the White House, and almost always a detail of newspaper correspondents is present.

A three-airplane cavalcade possibly will be the vogue when Mr. Roosevelt travels, following the present order of a secret service automobile and a press car following close behind that of the president.

Secret service agents, who are held responsible for the safety of each president, are at liberty to make suggestions as to his mode of travel. But the final choice, of course, rests with the chief executive. His secret service guard always follows.

Agents in the past have sometimes changed presidential routes and means of travel after investigating them and supplying evidence that they might be unsafe, but even in such cases their authority is limited to suggestion.

Homer Pierson Is Placed In Charge Of East Texas Work

TYLER, Dec. 2 (AP)—R. D. Parker, head of the oil and gas division of the state railroad commission, announced today that Homer Pierson, chief investigator, had been placed in charge of the division's work in East Texas, with headquarters at Tyler.

Parker said the change was made in an effort to centralize and improve efficiency of the organization and in an effort to reduce expenses.

Offices of supervisors will be maintained at Henderson and Longview. The engineering department of the commission will not be affected.

Extradition Proceedings Of Martin Insull Are Adjourned

BARRIE, Ont., Dec. 2. (AP)—Extradition proceedings against Martin J. Insull, former public utilities official, were adjourned again today until Feb. 7.

He is under indictment in Chicago for embezzlement and larceny in connection with the collapse of the Middle West Utilities company.

Insull's bail of $50,000 was continued and he said he would return to the nearby town of Orillia, where he has been living in a boarding house since last June.

Today's delay, the fourth in these proceedings since last October, was caused by the failure to receive necessary depositions from Chicago

Murder Rate In Chicago Goes Lower While Texas Cities Show Increases

CHICAGO, Dec. 2 (AP)—The murder rate in Chicago is lower.

This was revealed today by Frederick Rex, municipal librarian, who has a penchant for keeping accounts of the murders committed in the principal cities.

Figures compiled by him showed that Chicago dropped from 22nd to 25th place in 1931 among 86 cities with more than 100,000 population. In 1930 Chicago had 350 murders compared with 344 last year. Rex's figures placed New York 33rd with 489 in 1931, compared with 421 in 1930, when New York was 45th in the list.

New York's percentage rate, based on population, however, was lower than Chicago's. The figures on the basis of each 100,000 were: New York 6.89; Chicago 9.94.

The rates in Indianapolis and San Francisco went up, while the figures revealed lower standings in Cleveland, Columbus, Detroit, South Bend, Milwaukee and Grand Rapids. Figures for the highest twenty-five were given by Rex as follows:

WIFE ENDS MR. DOW'S MORNING GROUCH!

A BREAKFAST OF HOT CAKES AND LOG CABIN SYRUP WORKS WONDERS ON FROSTY MORNINGS, SAYS MRS. DOW

CAMDEN, M... hundreds ... fact th... frequ... Lo...

YOU CAN'T FOOL A MAN ABOUT SYRUP! THEY WANT THE REAL LOG CABIN TASTE!

"NOW don't laugh when I tell you how I changed my husband's disposition. I simply gave him hot cakes regularly three times a week, covered with Log Cabin Syrup!

"You bet! When Harry pours that rich, golden syrup, with the tantalizing maple fragrance, over a steaming stack of pancakes—why he just naturally breaks into a smile.

"Harry says there's nothing like Log Cabin for the genuine, old-time maple flavor . . . and I've discovered something else too!

"I've found that my pancakes seem actually lighter and more tender when they're served with Log Cabin Syrup!"

And here's the reason, Mrs. Dow! Log Cabin Syrup has just the right body to really saturate pancakes with delicious maple flavor. And as a result the cakes simply fall apart at the touch of a fork. Try it for yourself—and see!

To achieve this consistency and flavor, we use three distinct kinds of sugar. Delicious Vermont and Canadian maple to give that delicate, mellow maple tang. Then—just the right amount of fine cane sugar to give that smooth, penetrating consistency that makes pancakes served with Log Cabin seem so amazingly light and tender.

Give your husband hot cakes and Log Cabin Syrup for breakfast tomorrow! A product of General Foods.

Athens, Vernon And Austin Of El Paso Eliminated Yesterday When Greenville, Sherman, Sweetwater Win

DALLAS, Dec. 2 (AP)—Athens, Austin High of El Paso and the Vernon Lions were eliminated from the Texas Interscholastic league bi-district state championship football race today. Greenville erased Athens in a 13-6 victory at Athens. Sweetwater eliminated Austin High of El Paso with a 13-6 decision. The Sherman High school bearkats took the roar out of the Vernon Lions, 14-7.

Harlingen and Corpus Christi played tonight.

Tomorrow, four more teams will drop by the wayside provided there are no tie games, and this doesn't seem possible since first downs and penetration of the 20-yard lines counts in bi-district competition.

Tomorrow's schedule follows:

Amarillo at Ranger.

Dallas Woodrow Wilson at Fort Worth Masonic Home.

San Antonio Brackenridge at Corsicana.

Beaumont at Houston John Reagan.

The Amarillo and Ranger affair is ranked as a toss-up between two of the most powerful teams in the race. Masonic Home is favored over Woodrow Wilson by a touchdown. Brackenridge and Corsicana are due for a finish fight with neither team a point favorite. John Reagan is favored to eliminate Beaumont.

In today's games, Greenville was roundly out-played in the first period by Athens, but whipped back to score a touchdown in the second period and tie the game. The touchdown came when Greenville blocked a punt on Athen's 38-yard line. And scooped it up and raced for a touchdown. The half ended 6-all. A 48-yard march in the fourth quarter netted Greenville the winning touchdown when Steen circled end for the touchdown.

Sweetwater Regulars Out

With three regulars out because of flue and with several injuries, Sweetwater still retained enough to beat Austin of El Paso. Red Sheridan and Sam Baugh were outstanding ball luggers for Sweetwater. Austin scored when Ed Strout received the kick-off and raced 80 yards for a touchdown. It was the second time the Sweetwater goal line had been crossed this season.

Sherman simply offered too much running and passing power for the Vernon Lions, although the game was bitterly fought and witnessed by a capacity crowd.

Sweetwater To Meet Winner Today's Game

SWEETWATER, Dec. 2. (AP)—The Sweetwater Mustangs defeated the Austin High Panthers of El Paso, 13 to 6, in a bi-district game here today to decide who will meet the winner of the Amarillo-Ranger contest in quarter finals of the interscholastic league race.

With three regulars unable to play and several others suffering from injuries, the Ponies played one of their weakest games of the season, in the opinion of local observers. Red Sheridan, quarterback, was the principal ground gainer for the Mustangs. Sam Baugh also carried the ball in fine style.

Ed Strout, Panther halfback, contributed the longest run ever seen on Newman Field when he received a kickoff after the Mustangs' second touchdown and raced 80 yards for a touchdown. It was the second time this year Sweetwater had been scored on.

Salome, Strout, Palm, Dawson and Gruber played great ball for El Paso.

Frnka's Team Edges Out Athens Hornets

ATHENS, Dec. 2. (AP)—The Greenville Lions eliminated Athens in a bi-district interscholastic league football game here today by the score of 13 to 6.

Roundly outplayed in the first quarter, the Lions came back to score a touchdown in the second period and tie the count. They put over the winning score shortly after the fourth quarter started.

The Hornets tried desperately to tie the score in the final minutes, but an intercepted pass ruined their closing rally.

Stage 80-Yard Drive

Athens scored early in the first period when the Hornets marched 80 yards down the field and Sanders carried the ball over. Boyd failed to kick the extra point.

Near the end of the half, Greenville blocked a punt on the Hornets' 38-yard line and Ard scooped the ball and ran for a touchdown. An attempt to hit the line for the extra point failed.

Getting possession of the ball in the fourth quarter on the 48-yard line, the Lions pounded the line and circled the ends to carry the ball to the seven-yard stripe. Steen then circled end for a touchdown and Williams kicked the goal.

Steen and Coles played good for Greenville, while Lacy Boyd and Browning were outstanding for the Hornets.

Crippled Brownfield High Team Bows To Olney, 45-7

McLean High Wins Bi-District Go In Panhandle

OLNEY, Dec. 2. (Special) — A crippled team of Brownfield High school Cubs fought hard today against overwhelming odds and lost a bi-district, Class B intersectional league football game to Olney, 45 to 7.

Coach Marlin Hayhurst's Cubs, winners of Class B District 3, were not nearly at their top strength. Having won the district title with a squad of twelve men, the Brownfield coach saw his team wrecked by "flu" and its complications on the eve of the game. His make-shift team fought hard against superior weight and greater experience.

The Cubs looked like a football team when they made their touchdown drive. Otherwise, the offense was bottled up by a fast Olney team and the Brownfield defense could not hold the slashing Olney backs. The victory gave Olney the bi-district title in Districts 3 and 4.

McLean Beats Spearman On Pampa Gridiron, 14-6

PAMPA, Dec. 2. (AP) — McLean High school won the football championship of district 1-B and 2-F here today by defeating Spearman, 14-6. McLean made 13 first downs and Spearman 4.

GILMER IS WINNER

ROCKWALL, Dec. 2. (AP)—Gilmer High school defeated Rockwall, 16-6, in a bidistrict football game here today. It was the first time this year Rockwall had been scored on.

Pee Wee Beard Leads His Schreiner Mountaineers To Victory And Championship

PARIS, Dec. 2 (AP) — Paced by quarterback Pee Wee Beard, Schreiner institute overpowered the Paris Junior college eleven, 20 to 6, here today and won the championship of the Texas Junior college Athletic association.

The Mountaineers scored early on a pass over the goal line after a 48-yard march. Schreiner scored twice in the fourth quarter, once when Beard plunged over and again when Beard intercepted Parker's pass in midfield and ran to Paris' nine-yard line and Koontz rammed the line for a touchdown.

The Paris score came in the fading moments of the game. Two passes, one ruled complete for interference, put the ball on the Mountaineer's seven yard line. Parker passed to Fitzgerald for the touchdown.

Powerful Running Game Beats Vernon Lions

VERNON, Dec. 2. (AP)—A powerful running attack was the principal factor today in Sherman's 14-7 victory over Vernon in an interscholastic league bi-district game here.

After McLane dived over Vernon's goal line, in a climax to a steady march down the field, time remained for but a single play. The drive preceding the last touchdown was featured by McLane's and Sandell's great work.

Neither team scored in the first period, but early in the second Sherman counted after Grogan of Vernon fumbled on his 19-yard line and Sherman recovered. Three line plays netted four yards and McLane passed to Duval in wide open territory for a touchdown. Goal was kicked.

Vernon came back fighting and carried the ball deep into Sherman territory, only to lose it on downs.

The Lions opened the second half with a rush, Miller receiving a Sherman punt and racing 60 yards for a touchdown. Hopson kicked goal. For the remainder of the quarter, the teams fought stubbornly on an even basis.

For most of the final period, there was little to choose between Lion and Bearcat, but penalties and a slashing offensive gradually gave Sherman the edge.

The visitors registered 10 first downs to one for the Lions. Sherman completed four passes out of 14 for a total of 77 yards. Vernon attempted eight, one of which was intercepted and none of which were completed.

Watch Him, Navy!

Here he is, that fleet-footed Army back who has been a scoring threat all season, Johnny Buckler, from Waco, Texas and Texas Tech. He was uncovered by Major Sasse, Army coach, as a substitue for Ken Fields, but against the Navy today, Buckler is due to get in his share of work.

Alabama Clashes With St. Mary's Gallopers Today

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 2 (AP)—Alabama's Crimson Tide, one of Dixie's favorite teams, and those rip-roaring sons of the golden west, St. Mary's Galloping Gaels, will meet here tomorrow in a touchdown scramble marking the season's first big intersectional clash on the coast.

There is no mythical national football championship in store for the winner and neither can point to a remarkable season record but a victory on either side will make up for earlier defeats and disappointment.

The boys from the old south are charged with the duty of maintaining the record established by other Alabama teams on intersectional sorties into the far west. It is a record of two victories and one tie. Alabama defeated Washington 20-19 in 1925; tied Stanford 7-7 in 1926 and won from Washington State 24-0 in 1930, all Rose Bowl games at Pasadena.

The Gaels need the victory to balance up their intersectional competition for the year. A few weeks ago they journeyed back to New York and took a 14-0 trouncing from Fordham.

Some 30,000 fans, half the capacity of Kezar stadium, are expected to turn out for the first visit of a team from the South to this section. While the teams probably are closely matched, St. Mary's will line up as the favorite. Observers know the capabilities of the Gaels, but have only reports on which to judge the Southerners.

Frank James Of Baylor Is Only 'Outsider' On Mythical Team Chosen By Sports Writers Of Southwest Conference

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Dec. 2—Twenty-three Southwest conference sports editors and writers have voted, the tabulation has been made, and the annual Associated Press all-Southwest conference football team for 1932 is announced. These twenty-three keen observers of this year's Southwest conference battles have selected the entire Texas Christian university line except for the left wing position as their front wall choice. Frank James of Baylor university was nominated on their "Texas Christian line of lines" instead of Dan Salkeld, regular Christian end who was injured and did not finish the season.

"Cheesie" Makes Race

Captain "Cheesie" Cook of the University of Texas made a splendid race against Evans for a guard position, but couldn't muster enough support to win. Willis Nolan, crack Texas A. and M. center, offered Townsend strong competition for the center position in the poll of early votes, but was swamped at the final count. In selecting the Texas Christian line, the critics feel they have done right by perhaps the most powerful football line in the entire country. A line that charged, blocked, fought and carried Texas Christian university through an undefeated season and to the Southwest conference championship.

Blanard Spearman, versatile backfield ace for Texas Christian, was the popular candidate for the quarterback job. He had no close rival. Spearman played marvelous football last year and again this year, and finds himself on the mythical team for the second consecutive year.

Hilliard Gets Place

Bohn Hilliard of Texas won the left halfback position. Elusive broken field ace, long punter and dangerous any time he is around the football, this Hilliard went through the all-conference field just like he went for touchdowns against Rice, Missouri, Oklahoma and Texas A. and M. He led the conference in scoring.

The mighty Harrison Stafford, chief blocker, pass catcher, ball lugger and line rammer for the University of Texas, paired with his team buddie, Bohn Hilliard, for the other halfback job. Stafford received strong recommendations for the all-American team this year. He received more votes than any other player except Johnny Vaught, the guard for Texas Christian who got them all.

Ernest Koy, 210-pound University of Texas fullback, not only riddled all Southwest conference lines, except Texas Christian, this season but he charged right on through to be acclaimed the best fullback in the conference—the best in several years. Koy's chief stock in trade was plowing the line and tossing passes. He had no equal in conference competition, and was one reason Texas finished second in the conference marathon.

Oliver Far Behind

Richard Oliver, Texas Christian halfback and second leading scorer in the conference, polled seven votes but was far behind Spearman, Hilliard, Stafford and Koy for a backfield post.

The selected team probably is one of the most powerful of the many annual teams. Its offense could feature every play in the book of formations. Its defense, with such men as Ben Boswell, Lon Evans and Captain Johnny Vaught, would mean constant misery to any team trying to score.

A number of players received a few scattered votes. Buster Brannon, Texas Christian quarterback; Hank Clews, a fine University of Texas back; Fay Lagow, hard playing Rice institute guard; George Cummings, Texas A. and M. tackle and Hubert Dennis, Texas Christian back, had their supporters but not enough of them to make the all-Southwest conference uphill climb.

Mustangs Play Nebraska Grid Machine Today

Big Six Champions Due To Win Handily Over Methodists In Intersectional Game Today At Dallas Fair Park

DALLAS, Dec. 2 (AP)—Coach Dana X. Bible and his Nebraska University football aggregation dropped anchor here today and a few hours later jaunted through a light signal drill at the huge Fair Park bowl. Tomorrow at 2 o'clock, the invading Nebraska huskies, who are champions of the Big Six conference, will battle Southern Methodist university, a team that won the Southwest conference championship last year but finished a bad fifth this season with one win, four defeats and one tie. It was the pre-game consensus tonight that Nebraska will win tomorrow's intersectional combat by two or three touchdowns.

Cloudy weather, a chilly breeze and a perfectly dry gridiron is the forecast for game time. The Fair Park stadium will seat 45,200 people. It is doubtful if the bowl will be half filled at game time. The Southern Methodist team has played before small crowds all season.

The Southern Methodist team that takes the field will be minus several regulars. Captain Howard Sprague, a fine defensive fullback, is out of the starting lineup because of injuries received last week in the Texas Christian scrap. Charlie Hearon, quarterback; Whitey Baccus, sensational sophomore halfback; Red Jackson, guard and John Burleson, guard, are confined to bed with attacks of influenza and it is doubtful if any of the four will play.

Nebraska reported fit for battle after today's workout. Coach Dana Bible is in his element here. He formerly coached at Texas A. and M. college, a member of the Southwest conference, and while there, won five conference football championships. He went to Nebraska in 1929, and since has won three Big Six grid crowns. Bible fired his team through a heavy nine-game schedule this season with a light, green line that was not expected to prove substantial but did prove itself stout enough to give the Cornhuskers their third conference title under Bible's coaching.

Bible scouted Southern Methodist last week and embarked from the press box confident that his team could take the Mustang most any time and on any field. Nebraska employes a fast running and passing offense that is due to give Southern Methodist a tough afternoon. The Mustang, noted for their aerial circus, still toss passes hither and yon, but this season their variety of passes have fizzled because of inability of wings to snag them out of the ozone. Southern Methodist's lone hope tomorrow is through the air, and one thing is definite, Nebraska will see plenty of footballs sailing through space. No one knows this better than Coach Bible and he has prepared accordingly.

In 1929, Southern Methodist and Nebraska played a scoreless intersectional tie at Lincoln.

Steve Banas—Or Is It Pavlowa?

With all the grace of a terpsichorean dancer, Steve Banas, who does some fancy ballet steps for Hunk Anderson's gridiron crew from Notre Dame, is shown getting off a nice high punt. This striking picture of Steve, who is better known for his fullbacking, indicates that Mr. Anderson has hopes of making a punter out of the lad before the season closes.

Southwest's "Five-Star-Final" Grid Attractions For 1932 Slated Today

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 2 (AP)—A couple of intersectional games and an intra-state contest between two elevens tutored by sons of Notre Dame are billed for tomorrow as the southwest's "5-star final" gridiron attractions of 1932.

The Big Six champion Nebraska Cornhuskers, who tied Pitt and suffered their only loss of the season by 6 to 7 at Minnesota, go up against the Mustangs of Southern Methodist University at Dallas. Frank Carideo's crippled Missouri Tigers play Chile Walsh's St. Louis University Billikens at St. Louis, and the gridders of "Ole Miss" close out a tough schedule against the hardy footballers of Tulsa University at Tulsa, Okla.

Nebraska rates as an odds on favorite against S. M. U. in the renewal of a rivalry between Coaches Dana X. Bible and Ray Morrison, which began before Bible left the Texas Aggies to go to Nebraska, where he has won three titles in four seasons. Southern Methodist has had a more or less disastrous season, winding up in a tie with Baylor for fifth place in the Southwest Conference.

Mississippi, after winning five games and losing five to such respected opposition as Auburn, Centenary and Alabama, faces a tough problem against Tulsa, which has won six, lost one and tied one. Among Tulsa's victims were George Washington University and Oklahoma City University. All of which rates the game tomorrow as a toss-up.

Carideo's Missouri men have a chance, in their game at St. Louis, to finish the season with two victories. Their record so far in Carideo's first year as head coach lists six defeats, a tie and a victory over Oklahoma in the Big Six.

Army Tangles With Navy At Philly Today

Middies Have Won Oftenest In Philadelphia, But Weight, Age And Experience Make Cadets Favorites To Win

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 3. (AP) — Encamped tonight on the outskirts of their old battleground, the football forces of the United States military and naval academies will bring their seasons to a climax tomorrow on Franklin Field before a sellout crowd of 78,000, in a setting fully reminiscent of this ancient rivalry's most colorful and prosperous times.

With assurances their backfield ace, "Pack" Vidal, would be in condition to play most of the game, Army ruled an 8 to 5 favorite, despite the battering the Soldiers received at the hands of Notre Dame last Saturday and the fact at least two regulars will not be in the starting lineup. Navy's hopes, based mainly on her team's strong defense, nevertheless were higher than in years in anticipation of achieving for the first time since 1921.

First Regular Game In Years

The return of the service classic to old, familiar scenes for its thirty-third renewal, after a lapse of 10 years, struck a particularly responsive note among the rival forces. Altogether the Army and Navy have played the last two years in special charity games, this is the first contest under the new agreement, ending their five-year old break in relations. As a consequence, the Cadets and Midshipmen, with their uniformed as well as civilian followers, welcome this official resumption of rivalry on Franklin Field, where all but two of their games were played from 1899 to 1914.

All the old color and enthusiasm will mark the occasion. Official Washington, led by Vice-President Curtis, Secretaries Hurley and Adams, will be well represented among the box-holders. Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and her son, Elliott, will see the game. A round-the-world broadcast will carry the play-by-play details to the most remote outposts of the two services, as well as the football public at large. The kickoff is at 1 p. m. (eastern time).

Until this year, Northwestern university had beaten Notre Dame only once—2 to 0 in 1902—and had played scoreless ties with the Irish in 1903 and 1930.

Borah Opposes Britain's Air

Declares That It Is Unfair For American Taxpayers To Contribute Part To Removal Of World Troubles

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. (AP) — Chairman Borah of the senate foreign relations committee today said the war debts owed this country were only one cause of the world's economic troubles and that it was "unfair to ask the American taxpayers to contribute their part for the removal of these causes and leave behind causes which will make their contributions wholly ineffective."

WILLIAM E. BORAH

"With the powerful presentation of the world's present economic conditions found in the (British) note, I entirely agree," said Borah.

"I think it is also true, as stated in the note, 'the countries of the world can not even begin to consider how to restore this mechanism until the causes which undermine confidence have been removed.

"Assuming that the debts is one of the most important causes, it is at best only one. And it is unfair to ask the American taxpayers to contribute their part for the removal of these causes and leave behind causes which will make their contribution wholly ineffective.

"What the American taxpayer is entitled to, have presented to him for his consideration, is a program which will remove these causes, open up the markets of the world and restore trade and commerce. The mere reduction or cancellation of the debts will not accomplish this.

"I think this is clearly admitted in the note, because it is there stated plainly that the debts is only one of the causes. No half-way measures or ineffective programe will relieve the awful situation which is truly portrayed in the note."

Shortage Of Fund In Bank Reported

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Dec. 2 (AP) —A shortage of $11,243.89 in the accounts of Lieutenant Governor Lawrence E. Wilson as liquidating agent of the closed Ouachita Valley bank at Camden was reported to the state banking department today by Examiner H. A. Daugherty.

This brought the total shortage charged to the lieutenant governor in the liquidating of three south Arkansas banks to $20,995.93.

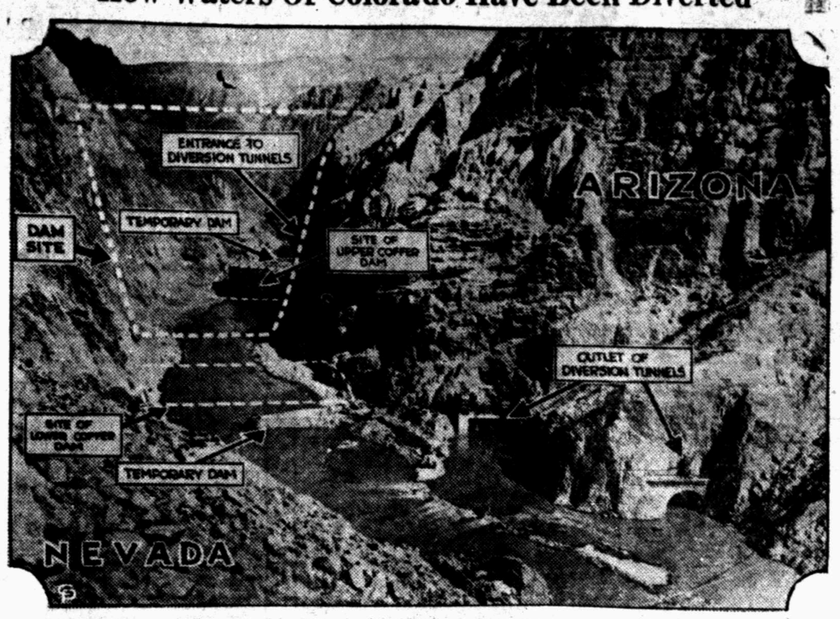

Mr. Wilson resigned as liquidating agent of the banks three weeks ago after the banking department had reported a shortage in the Louann bank at Louann. He has denied, however, that any shortages existed in any of the banks.

Examiner Daugherty stated also that loans and discounts amounting to $118,266.03 in the Camden bank were unaccounted for but said they had little value. He said the cost of liquidation under Mr. Wilson amounted to 44.03 per cent.

Steps have been taken by the banking department to recover on Wilson's surety bond of $15,000.

It is figured that about four per cent of the population of the United States is left-handed.

International Sunday School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

General Topic: LIVING WITH PEOPLE OF OTHER RACES
Scripture Lesson: John 4; 5-10; Acts 10:30-25
Lesson For Sunday, Dec. 4

5. So cometh to a city of Samaria, called Sychar, near to the parcel of ground that Jacob gave to his son Joseph;

6. And Jacob's well was there. Jesus therefore, being wearied with his journey, sat thus by the well. It was about the sixth hour.

7. There cometh a woman of Samaria to draw water: Jesus saith unto her, Give me to drink.

8. For his disciples were gone away into the city to buy food.

9. The Samaritan woman therefore saith unto him, How is it that thou, being a Jew, asketh drink of me, who am a Samaritan woman? (For Jews have no dealing with Samaritans.)

10. Jesus answered and said unto her, If thou knewest the gift of God, and who it is that saith to thee, Give me to drink; thou wouldest have asked of him, and he would have given thee living water.

Acts 10:30. And Cornelius said, Four days ago, until this hour, I was keeping the ninth hour of prayer in my house; and behold, a man stood before me in bright apparel,

31. And saith, Cornelius, thy prayer is heard, and thine alms are had in remembrance in the sight of God.

32. Send therefore to Joppa, and call unto thee Simon, who is surnamed Peter; he lodgeth in the house of Simon a tanner, by the seaside.

33. Forthwith therefore I sent to thee; and thou hast well done that thou art come. Now therefore we are all here present in the sight of God, to hear all things that have been commanded thee of the Lord.

34. And Peter opened his mouth, and said, Of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons:

35. But in every nation he that feareth him, and worketh righteousness, is acceptable to him.

Golden Text: Of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons. — Acts 10:34

INTRODUCTION

"Jesus sets himself to seek every type of character and draw them to himself. Think of Nicodemus of the chapter before this, John 3:1-21, and the woman of this—hemispheres separate them." — Annie Richardson Kennedy.

"Christianity is pure Democracy. It assumes that men can and will, if properly inspired and instructed, bring their lives under the sway of religious ideals, law, beatitudes."—Rev. Frank J. Goodwin.

"Since Jesus knew the Samaritan woman better than she knew herself, he broke all traditions. Prejudice fled before his oappreaching step."—Rev. William Hiram Foulkes, D. D.

Jesus had completed his first ministry in Judea, the first year of his ministry, and is now on his way to Galilee. He must pass through Samaria, the land of a people of mixed race. The Samaritans were descendants of the idolatrous Assyrians; sent into central Palestine by their rulers to take the place of Jews who were carried into captivity by the victorious Assyrians (2 Kings 17:24.) They intermarried with the Jews, but accepted only in part the faith of the chosen people, holding in the main to their idolatrous beliefs and practices; hated of their orthodox kinspeople. As Jesus rested by Jacob's well, near Sychar, a Samaritan woman came to draw water. He went over the barriers of racial prejudices and social conventions to speak to this woman and to make request of her for a drink of water.

Jesus and the Woman

"There cometh a woman of Samaria to draw water: Jesus saith unto her, Give me to drink." v. 7. One of the best ways of making friends with any one is not to bestow a favor, but to ask one.

In this incident Jesus breaks down three walls that even his disciples were not yet willing to go over. He entered into conversation with a woman. He talked with a woman who was a sinner. Even worse from the viewpoint of a Jew, this woman was a Samaritan. Jesus took issue with the thought and conviction of his day in the place of honor and privilege he gave to womanhood; and womanhood owes nearly all that it now possesses to the gospel of Jesus Christ. Jesus on more than one occasion spoke words of hope and brought a message of forgiveness and restoration to a sinful woman. And always, by life and word, was he rebuking the sin of racial hatred.

Foreigner Seeking Christ

Much light is thrown on our subject by the familiar story of how Peter, the strict Jew, and Cornelius, the Roman centurion, the first in Joppa, and the second at a distance in Caesarea, both divine communications which brought them together, and led to the conversation of the centurion and all his household. Peter's vision of the great sheet let down from heaven, full of all sorts of creatures, some allowed for eating by Jewish laws and some forbidden, is a picture (like the "melting-pot") of the many races and nationalities peopling our country. When the Lord, in answer to Peter's protest that nothing unlawful, "common and unclean," had ever passed his lips, said, "What God hath cleansed, make not thou common," he was giving an admonition to our land, that we are to make only one distinction among persons, namely, those that have received the divine cleansing, and those that have not. Only the latter will be rejected by God. It was this truth which brought Peter, the strict Jew, to enter the house of Cornelius, whom a few days before he would have regarded as a heathen outcast, to enter whose home would be pollution, and preach Christ to the household and friends of the centurion there awaiting him.

Jesus Gained Disciples

Jesus believed in personal evangelism. Often do we find him speaking face to face with one person or with a small company of people. By this method of approach he won those who were of the inner circle of his disciples; and thus he won many others along the way of his earthly ministry. His sermons stirred the multitudes, but insofar as the Bible record gives information, those who were faithful to the last were, with few if any exceptions, the men and women who were won by personal contacts. And he counted it well worth while to "win one," to pour out his own soul in the effort to reach and to save one man or one woman. And, as in the case of the sinful woman of Samaria, Jesus never saw any "hopeless cases."

Hearer and Preacher

In the incident of Cornelius and Peter, we have a revelation of God's methods of work. Cornelius was made ready to hear, and the messenger was prepared for the opportunity to preach. Although two men are separated from each other by more than a day's journey and are strangers one to the other, God is speaking to each and is preparing each for the blessing that is to come. And Peter received as great a blessing as did Cornelius.

All Natiops Are One

"Paul's famous address on Mars' Hill in Athens was before the council of the Areopagus, sitting to judge the orthodoxy of foreign teachers. In that city, full of states and altars and temples erected with consummate art but perpetuating foul idolatries, Paul had found an altar inscribed "To an Unknown God," a token of the Athenians' fear that some deity mighty have been omitted and so have become angry. That "Unknown God" Paul proceeded to set forth before his hearers as the one God, the Creator of all things, and the Father of all mankind. And if God is the Father of all men, then the quick conclusion is that all men are brothers." Therefore in that illustrious scene and by that inspired address the great apostle went to the very heart of our lesson. Paul said that God "made of one blood all nations of men to dwell on all the face of the earth." — Acts 17:26

"Evangelization is to be in a twofold sense universal. All are to go, and to go to all.—Rev. Arthur T. Pierce, D. D.

Lubbock And Industry

EVERY once in awhile someone remarks: "What Lubbock needs is some factories. We need some payrolls. We haven't got anything to fall back on but agriculture and when agriculture is depressed it hurts us badly."

No one will deny that agriculture is the backbone of the entire nation and more particularly of Lubbock and the South Plains than of some of the great eastern industrial and commercial centers—But if you think Lubbock is without payrolls, if you think agriculture gets little or no help from industry here, you just don't know your Lubbock as well as you should.

There are numerous activities within the city boasting lusty payrolls and squads of employes. To be sure, only a few of them can be classed as "factories", but whether a business is a factory or not has nothing to do with its desirability as a producing and contributing industry.

The Morning Avalanche has often looked back, in the past year and a half, at the once strident cry prevalent in the city that "we ought to go out and get some factories". What has happened to cities that "went out and got some factories"? Many of them, with artificially attracted manufacturing concerns find themselves facing well nigh desperate unemployment problems; they are burdened with a large percentage of population which not only cannot contribute to the city's buying power, but which is wholly dependent upon other residents for the necessities of life.

The relentless law of supply and demand has "teeth in it", as we sometimes say.

If a city and territory will support factories, if transportation facilities are available and if there is a heavily populated section adjacent, all well and good in normal times.

But if these essentials are lacking a factory may, over night, turn into a distinct liability rather than an asset.

The Morning Avalanche has been going over the field of Lubbock industry, painstakingly surveying what we have here and what we haven't. As a result will soon be presented in these columns a word picture, day by day, of the institutions we have, of their payrolls and their volume of business.

We'll wager that a large percentage of Lubbock's citizens will be surprised when they discover just what the municipality boasts in the way of basic industry.

Watch for the series to come soon.

AN OPPORTUNITY HERE

Yesterday morning there appeared in this column a comment upon discoveries of the Harris county grand jury that some of Houston's high school students had been seared by the tenacles of vice.

On the front page of yesterday morning's paper was a condensed report of the Lubbock police department, for the month of November, in which it was disclosed that a majority of offenders hailed into corporation court over that period were under 30 years of age.

To refresh your memory, yesterday's police report set forth that 63 per cent of all offenders during November were under 30 years old; 39 per cent were under 25; 13 per cent were less than 20—and the youngest offender brought in by officers was only 14 years of age!

To our mind, the report offers a fertile field for Lubbock pastors, parents and educators.

To our mind, some good old-fashioned lectures in the parlor, some good old-fashioned sermons to replace the financial statements in the pulpits, and some good old-fashioned "bawlings out" in the school rooms can't do any harm and might do a lot of good.

Of course, there is a difference between petty crime and vice, and difference between the age limits of 14 to 18 and 25 to 30.

But none the less, there is opportunity for correction and service right here in Lubbock. There is no need to go as far as Houston to see that improvements can be made.

CLEAN UP AND PAINT UP

It is decidedly encouraging to note that though business slowed down during the past year, the output of cosmetics held close to normal. For the purposes of presenting a "good front", American women spent the tidy sum of $162,681,341 and results justified costs.

A long time ago some philosophical phrase maker discovered that "the hand that rocks the cradle rules the world." It remained for our era to grasp the truth that a schoolgirl complexion on the face across the breakfast table peps up the morale of the fighting forces that go forth daily to contend in business, politics and all the contests that make for prosperity and social betterment.

Today's One-Minute Sermon

A man that beareth false witness against his neighbour is a maul, and a sword, and a sharp arrow.—Proverbs

Makes Excellent Impression

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

Capitol

ASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—It is not altogether unimportant that Governor Roosevelt made an excellent impression on the corps of Washington correspondents generally, during his brief stay in the capital the other day.

Perhaps not many folk realize how much the correspondents have to do with making a president popular or otherwise.

They prefer to make him popular, if they can. A popular president has more news value than an unpopular one. But the correspondents must give him a personality of some sort, anyway. If it proves impossible to make him popular, they turn to the job of making him ultra-unpopular, as the next best thing. Their idea is to create a vivid impression, regardless of the effect it may have on the subject.

The correspondents did their best for President Hoover for awhile. Deciding finally that their task was hopeless, they went into reverse, and did their worst by him. Two or three of them have plugged away to the last on the pro-Hoover slant, but the adverse majority has been overwhelming during the greater part of his administration.

• • •

THE PRESIDENT-ELECT, as the papers already have related, was a guest of the correspondents at a dinner at the National Press club, while in town over night recently, upon the retiring president's invitation to confer with him concerning Europe's war indebtedness to the United States.

In the main it was a conventional blow-out. The New Yorker, however, said a few words to his hosts just before it broke up, and this little speech unquestionably was a tremendous hit from the correspondential standpoint.

It was "off the record," as the saying is in Washington.

That is, the understanding was that the speaker was not to be quoted.

Without any further pledge than a casual assurance from President Timmons of the club that what he said would go no farther, the governor promptly took it for granted that no one, among the 500 or so, whom he was addressing, would violate his confidence, and expressed himself in perfect freedom.

The correspondents like this, naturally.

• • •

ASIDE FROM his talk, they liked the president-elect's manner.

He had just come from what they all knew must have been a mighty ticklish interview at the White House.

There was little concealment that President Hoover's aim was to link his own foreign debt policy and his successor's together in such fashion as to constitute one continuous policy.

Now, it obviously was by no means to Governor Roosevelt's interest to have the beginning of what he hopes, of course, will be his own successful administration coupled, in advance, onto the vanishing end of his predecessor's decidedly disappointing administration.

Nevertheless, it cannot but have been exceedingly difficult for the New Yorker to reject the ostensibly and maybe genuinely well-meaning efforts of the Californian to merge their two regimes, as to the war debt problem.

• • •

FROM THIS battle of wits, over an issue of primest consequence in post-war history to date, the governor emerged as cool and collected as if he and Mr. Hoover had been indulging in an exchange of the merest politenesses and pleasantries.

In point of fact, it must have been as exhausting an experience as any athlete's effort to break a world's record, but one never would have guessed it.

Not all the correspondents were previously unacquainted with the governor, to be sure. Among them were several who followed him personally throughout his campaign, studying him carefully. Included in this group he has his critics, who refer skeptically to his stability, though admitting his political cleverness and likability.

Anyway, he gave the impression on his latest Washington visit of an individual with nerves as strong as piano wire.

• • •

THE ALBANY party's stay in the national capital was too short to afford an opportunity for anything except the most fleeting of glances at members of the new chief's entourage.

There is no doubt that Col. Louis McHenry Howe, an expected "power behind the throne," dating from next March 4, already is looked on askance in newspaper circles. "Powers behind the throne" seldom meet with the reportorial craft's approval.

Prof. Raymond Moley is a similar "power", concerning whom the correspondential estimate is tentatively not overly favorable—simply as a power behind the throne; not that the "boys" have anything definitely against him.

Chairman James A. Farley is well thought of. For one thing, he is no mystery, like Howe and the Professor. Few capital reporters have missed campaign contacts with him. He is hardly classed, in a personal sense, as a power behind the throne, either, whatever he may be politically.

Decisive reports as to the governor's professorial adviser and "Louie" await fuller investigation.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

UNIVERSAL MASTER OF THE STRINGS:

Efrem Zimbalist, the celebrated and erudite violin virtuoso, can play any stringed instrument. It is related on good authority that he made his first acquaintance with the piano on a concert stage in Moscow, when he had never played the piano before, he sat down and rendered his accompaniment fluently and without a single mistake.

TARANTULA PETS:

The widespread and general fear of the poisonous tarantula apparently means nothing to D. C. Stoddard of Arkansas, as he goes all about the hills gathering them for pets. Mr. Stoddard, who lives on a homestead a few miles from Hot Springs, keeps as many of them in his home as he can catch, always carrynig two or more of the favorites in his hat. When any of them become stupid in captivity he turns them loose, and replenishes his supply with lively wild ones. My cartoon was made from a photo taken only a few days ago.

Rules For Prevention Of Flu Given By Health Officer; Caution Advised

"Do's" and "Don'ts" for those who are suffering of influenza and for those who hope to avoid the disease were listed Friday by Dr. J. W. Rollo, city health officer. Lubbock doctors Thursday night reported there were more than 500 cases of influenza here.

"Help to prevent a spread of the flu by doing the following things," Dr. Rollo advised, and listed five rules. They were:

"Stay away as much as possible from crowds, especially indoors; keep away from those who are known to have the flu so that the patients may be segregated (this segregation ought to be in a separate room in the house); watch your own health carefully; do not visit those who are sick with the flu unless absolutely necessary; use some simple throat or mouth wash or spray frequently."

Advice to those ill of influenza was:

"When you realize you have a severe cold, and especially if you have any fever at all, go to bed and stay there until you have recovered; call a doctor and place yourself under his care immediately; insist upon staying in a room by yourself so as not to spread the contagion; especially, do not exert yourself physically."

For the information of those who have persons sick with the disease in their homes, Dr. Rollo said: "Take every precaution to prevent the spread of the disease by segregating the patient in a separate room, if possible."

The health officer declared that the number of cases thus far is relatively limited in Lubbock as compared with other places. "It is in light form and apparently only requires care in most cases," it was pointed out.

Cures the old timers recalled yesterday included "whisky and rock candy." They did not say where either could be obtained.

Matinee Show Will Be Held Today; A Toy For Admission

The Palace theater, Mickey Mouse, and Lubbock Lions club will be hosts at a matinee show at 10 o'clock this morning. Toys of value, especially dolls, will serve for admission.

The playthings obtained will be repaired and repainted by fire department members and distributed at an annual Christmas party for indigent children. For a child to be admitted, he must bring "a toy of value," it was said at the theater last night.

Relieve Headache And Quiet Nerves In Three Minutes

When you have one of those violent, nerve-racking headaches, from inorganic causes, you can get soothing relief in three minutes with "B. C.," a reliable, pleasant-to-take remedy. "B. C." is prepared by a registered pharmacist, compounded on a different principle from most relief-giving agencies in that it contains several ingredients, so blended and proportioned as to accomplish in few minutes what we believe no one drug formula can do in so short a time. "B. C." should also be used for the relief of muscular aches and pains, common cold and neuralgia; for reducing fever and quiteing a distressed nervous system without opiates, narcotics, or such habit forming drugs. Get "B. C." in 10c and 25c packages wherever drugs are sold. (adv.)

Comfort Rather Than Speed Should Be Stressed In Design Of Planes

FORT WORTH, Dec. 2. (AP)—Comfort rather than increased speed, should be stressed in future airplane designs—roomy cabins and a bar, to keep the passengers from getting bored.

That is the opinion of Igor Sikorski, 43-year-old Russian designer, who stopped here for a few hours between planes last night.

Sikorski arrived from Brownsville.

He predicted, conservatively, that within five years there be scheduled oceanic air travel. Sikorski has a contract to build transoceanic amphibians for the Pan-American Airways, which this week announced plans to start trans-Atlantic service in two years.

"We need roomy cabins," said Sikorski. "There should be separate smoking compartments where passengers can get a cigaret.

"Passenger planes travel fast enough now. A plane for ocean travel should have a cruising speed of about 140 miles an hour, a cruising radius of 2,500 miles and a bar—to keep passengers from getting bored."

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 2. (AP)—Hedge selling and liquidation induced by weakness in stocks caused a sympathetic decline in cotton here today with prices on the downgrade during most of the session. Lack of buying support added to the weakness which eventually carried values off 12 to 14 points at the opening highs. The market closed steady and at the bottom, at net declines for the day of 11 to 14 points.

The market opened steady. Liverpool cables were about 1 penny point better than due and Sterling was easier. Private cables stated that there was only a small speculative interest in the market. Manchester cabled that demand for both cloth and yarns was lacking. First trades were 1 to 3 points up but prices started to ease after the start on continuation of hedge selling which started late yesterday and January dropped to 5.78, March to 5.88 and May to 5.97, down 5 to 6 points from the opening prices.

The market ruled very quiet during the balance of the morning and prices continued rather easy though showing small changes. Stocks were easy and there was more or less hedge selling. The weekly statistics particularly mill takings were regarded as disappointing but were without effect on the market.

Trading became more active during the middle of the afternoon due to hedge selling and liquidation, and prices made new lows for the day in the late trading with January at 5.70, March at 5.80 and May at 5.90 or 12 to 14 points down from the opening highs. The close was at the bottom with January showing net losses for the day of 12 points and March and May 11 points net loss.

Liverpool is due on New Orleans tomorrow 4 to 5 penny points down.

Port receipts 88,165, for week 402,391, for season 4,861,911, last season 5,303,-302. Exports 100,457, for week 360,254, for season 3,207,377, last season 2,851,177. Port stock 4,781,472, last year 4,810,979. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 176,262, last year 178,650. Spot sales at southern markets 48,951, last year 31,156.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Dec. 2. (AP) — Cotton closed 9 to 10 points lower today after a session marked by a general absence of buying interest and moderate selling pressure.

The March position sold at 5.94 early, declined to 5.82, closing at that level with a net loss of 10 points while the general market closed barely steady, 9 to 16 points lower.

The opening was 1 to 4 points higher on better than expected Liverpool cables, but prices soon developed an easier tone prompted by the action of the stock and wheat markets, and some feeling of concern over the foreign debt situation.

Southern selling was light but aside from a fair amount of covering and buying by brokers with far eastern connections, the demand was slow. Near the close offers through houses with southern connections increased and prices declined easily with evidences of near month liquidation.

The week-end figures indicated quite a sharp increase in the exports over the previous week but into sight figures also showed gains and one about offset the other. Liverpool after early steadiness eased off and private cables said that speculative interest was small with considerable liquidation and a poor offtake. Egyptian markets were easier, Ashmouni in Liverpool being 5 to 17 points lower, while Saralerides declined 8 to 12 points. Exports today 101,182 making 3,232,942 so far this season. Port receipts 88,323. U. S. port stocks 4,827,234.

Biff Jones' Louisiana State Team Points For Oregon U.

BATON ROUGE, La., Dec. 2 (AP)—Louisiana State University's football team, its regular Southern conference season completed, will start work Monday after a week's rest for the University of Oregon post-season contest here Dec. 17.

Coach Lawrence "Biff" Jones, after the Louisiana State-Tulane game last Saturday, gave his men a week's practice lay-off to guard against possible staleness and because he thought they had earned it. His orders are for them to report next week for renewed training, and it is expected he will give them some plain and fancy plays to use against the Oregonians not used in any game this year, since the L. S. U. stalwarts may "shoot the works" without need of with-holding anything.

The state squad will get under practice way slowly for Oregon, to allow the going to be as light as possible for several men who have suffered attacks of influenza or colds.

Financial Quotations Are Lower On Market Friday; Stocks Lose Ground

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 2. (AP)—Quotations were lower in most financial markets today coincident with fresh weakness of Sterling exchange.

For stocks, the ground lost was slightly more than had been gained yesterday and the averages again scrapped the October bottom. Selling was of the same sluggish variety that has turned the market lower in recent sessions, but prices yielded rather easily and the absence of any eager buying interest was patent. Net losses amounted roughly to 1 to 3 points in a turnover of 685,600 shares.

The British and French debt notes, requesting postponement of the mid-December installments, were studied not alone for their arguments on behalf of immediate action by this country, but for their references to future policies, including the London government's hints at trade reprisals in the form of tariff. Available comment from members of the congress indicated that the final word would be "pay."

On the stock exchange, prices declined slowly but rather steadily. Rail and steel share offerings found buyers apathetic, although some utilities and industrials of other descriptions bogged down without putting up much fight. U. S. Steel preferred lost nearly 4 points at the worst; that common's decline was 2 net. Similar losses were experienced by American Can, Allied Chemical, American Telephone, American Tobacco, and Union Pacific; smaller reactions occurred in Harvester, Bethlehem, Du Pont, Southern Pacific, New York Central and Santa Fe. Motion picture issues were sold in the late trading, Paramount and Loew's each giving up a point.

Gunshot Victim

was challenged last night by Boyd. "The gun first was loaded with a blank shell, and I was advised by police to load it with buckshot," Boyd declared.

"We set the gun low so that anyone walking against the string would be wounded in the legs," he added.

The police department, saying the shop was controlled by the operators, denying it had advised use of buckshot, said that members had been warned not to shake the back door of the shop at night for fear of the trap inside. "The weapon was in place before we knew about it," it was reported.

Leg Amputated

A brother-in-law, who lives in Montana and was visiting his sister and her husband, also was in the shop when the accident occured, Boyd said. The brother-in-law was in the front part of the shop and he and Hudson were talking when the tailor walked against the string which pulled the trigger, Boyd said he understood.

Shop Robbed Twice

Hudson entered the shop by the front door, and almost immediately walked toward the back of the shop, his partner related. Twice the shop had been robbed, Boyd said, and after the second burglary, about six months ago, the shotgun-trap was set each night. Boyd said he has set it at night and Hudson had disconnected it in the morning the last 90 days.

Grain

FORT WORTH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, Dec. 2. (AP) — Good demand for wheat continued on the Fort Worth cash grain market and other light offerings were fairly easily sold.

Quotations ranged as follows, basis car loads on track at Fort Worth, freight paid, delivered Texas Gulf ports, export rate, or Texas common points: Wheat, No. 1 hard, according to protein and billing, 82 1-2@83 1-2. Barley, No. 2 nominally 31@32; No. 3 nominally 30@31. Sorghums, No. 2 milo per 100 lbs. 67@69; No. 2 kaffir 55@57.

Delivered Texas common points or group three: Corn, No. 2 mixed 39@40; No. 2 white 42@44; No. 2 yellow 40@41.

Delivered Texas common points: Oats, No. 2 red 23@24; No. 3 red 22@23.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Dec. 2. (AP)—Instability of British exchange, and general unsettlement of speculative markets because of war debt dilemmas, led to material setbacks in grain prices today.

Tumbles of 4 cents by the English pound Sterling had an especially disturbing effect among wheat traders and much more than counter-balanced suggestions that the Argentine wheat yield this season would be 10,000,000 bushels less than last year's harvest. Speculative buying support for wheat, so enthusiastic the day previous, appeared to have almost completely evaporated for at least the time being.

Wheat closed unstable at the day's bottom 1 1-4 to 2 1-8 cents under yesterday's finish, corn 7-8 to 1 1-4 down, oats 1-2 to 1 off, and provisions unchanged to 15 cents decline.

Livestock

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 2. (AP) — Around 10,000 cattle were offered at eleven markets for the day's trade with no one market receiving sufficient supplies to change existing price levels. A few sales of fed steers and yearlings were recorded in a spread of 3.75@5.75. This week marks another period in which price levels for fed steers and yearlings have worked consistently lower. A downward trend of prices was instituted about the middle of September and since that time no economic force has been found that could stem the tide of further price reductions. Medium weight and heavy steers continued to find a slow demand and price levels were considered generally 25 to 50 lower. Light steers and yearlings worked on a weak to 25 lower basis and found a wider outlet than did kinds with weight. Chicago scored up to 8.00 on weighty steers and a few loads of better grade around the circuit cleared at 6.75@7.85. But the general bulk of steers and yearlings had to sell around 4.50@6.00. Stockers and feeders maintained a fairly good outlet with values considered around steady to 25 lower. Replacement steers sell largely at 3.50@5.50. Receipts for the week totaled 180,000, as compared with 165,265 last week and 238,677 the same week a year ago.

Hogs sold at steady to 15 lower levels today with St. Louis recording an early top of 3.60.

Lambs were unevenly steady to 25 lower, most desirable fat kinds selling in a spread of 5.00@6.00 with a few sorted loads at 6.10@6.15. Choice yearlings cleared up to 4.75 and a few feeding lambs brought 3.15.

FORT WORTH LIVESTOCK

FORT WORTH, Dec. 2. (AP) — Hogs 400, including 100 directs and 94 through; truck hogs steady to 5 higher; no rail hogs offered; truck top 3.45 paid by packers and small killers for most of good to choice 180-240 lbs. averages; few good truck butchers late at 3.35; packing sows 2.50 or steady.

Cattle 700, calves 900; slaughter steers slow at week's full declines plain grades in 3.00 range, 2 loads desirable fed steers 4.25; not enough cattle of other classes on sale to test values; few very good heavy fed yearlings and short two's 5.25; 2 loads very common stock cows 1.15@1.25; some good stock yearlings 4.50; slaughter calves unchanged; better grades heavies 2.75@3.25.

Sheep 2,200; receipts mostly lambs; market very slow; sales and most bids steady to weak; fat wethers steady; few yearlings weak to lower; medium to good fat lambs 3.50@4.00; bidding 4.25 for four decks strictly good fat lambs; few fat yearlings 2.75; 2 decks aged fat wethers 1.65.

The group of women which sought to assist Benjamin with his problems by appeals to high federal authorities was led by Mrs. William Osgood Field of New York and included Mrs. Corliss Lamont, daughter-in-law of Thomas W. They termed themselves "the women's independent committee of the constitutional rights of the hunger marchers."

The delegation left the White House for a visit to Vice-President Curtis after a protracted exchange with Joslin over the method of presenting petitions at the executive offices. Curtis denied their charges the demonstrators were being deprived of the constitutional right of petition.

Water Softener Unit Being Shipped To City This Week

Shipment of a 10,000-pound water softener unit to the City of Lubbock this week is expected, City Commissioner John Roach said Friday.

The unit will be in transit about four or five days, and it will require about the same length of time to install it. "About ten or fifteen days then will be required to get soft water in all the mains," the commissioner said.

A 60-day test will be made, and if the unit is satisfactory, it will be purchased. The city, then is anticipating purchase of three other units. The softener to be shipped here will be placed on two wells which, during the cool weather, are sufficient to supply the city's needs. Samples of the water will be checked. Roach said that nothing will be added to the water supply.

The Board of City development directorate met at Lubbock Chamber of Commerce offices Friday morning. Routine business was transacted, it was said.

The Rev. Lyle S. Barnett will arrive Saturday to become minister of St. Paul's Episcopal church here, at Sixteenth street and Avenue Q. The new minister, formerly of Houston, will conduct services of holy communion at the church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Bishop E. C. Seaman of Amarillo will assist in the services here Sunday. No Evidence of Violence

There was no evidence of violence in her apartment and police advanced the theory that she might have been choked and when she became unconscious the assailant tried to revive her. Her body was covered by damp bed clothing and her head was supported by a pillow. It was thought that a silk stocking wrapped around her neck possibly was not used.

A search was started for a diamond ring Mrs. Buchanan was known to have, after her husband, H. K. Buchanan, arrived here from Oklahoma City. Officers considered robbery a possible motive.

Business In Oklahoma

Buchanan said his business as a film booking agent had kept him in Oklahoma for several months Friends said there were no indications that the couple was estranged.

Mrs. Buchanan's body was found by the manager of the apartment building when she did not answer his summons at the door. He entered by means of a pass key, remained long enough to ascertain that she was dead and notified police.

The detectives considered the possibility that she was preparing to retire when some one entered. Her clothing had been piled neatly on a chair near her bed and the only disorderly arrangement in the apartment was the sheet which had been pulled from the bed and used to cover the body.

The penciled note was weighted down with the dice and scattered about the room were cigarette stubs. Two glasses were on the floor close to the body. On a table nearby was Buchanan's picture.

After an inquest, John Baldwin, justice of the peace, returned a verdict of murder by strangulation. An autopsy revealed that death was not due to a poison.

Texas Speaker Declares Vote Will Be Held

Refusal Of Judiciary Group To Sanction Plan Will Not Deter "Cactus Jack" And He Tells Them So

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—Speaker Garner said tonight he was going to "keep faith" with the American people and bring prohibition repeal to a vote Monday in the house despite refusal of the judiciary committee to sanction his plan.

The vice president-elect made this announcement after he had been informed by Chairman Sumners the judiciary committee voted 13 to 6 against authorizing him to submit the Democratic flat repeal resolution for a vote under a suspension of the rules.

To Call On Rainey

If Sumners declines to bring up the proposal, Garner said, he will ask Representative Rainey of Illinois, the Democratic floor leader to offer it on the floor. Rainey agreed.

"I'm going to keep faith with the American people," Garner said. "No man living ever can say that I have not kept faith with my friends and constituents. This time my constituency is the American people and I am going to keep faith, regardless of what others do."

Called to meet by Sumners to pass on giving him authority to submit the proposal Monday under the procedure confining debate to 40 minutes and preventing any amendments, the judiciary committee refused permission. The motion was made by Representative La Guardia (R., N. Y.).

Seven Democrats, all from southern states, joined six Republicans in defeating the request. Four Democrats and two Republicans voted to give authority.

Pass Only On Manner

Sumners, who did not vote, said the committee did not pass on the merits of the resolution but on the manner of procedure.

At the outset, Representative Talver (D., Ga.) raised the question of authority for the committee to meet officially. It was decided by Sumners the action taken would be informal but that he would be guided by it.

Conference Is Held

Immediately after the session, Sumners and La Guardia rushed to the speaker's office for a conference. Apparently undisturbed by the committee's action, Garner greeted newspapermen with a smile and said:

"I will recognize Mr. Sumners first, if he wants to offer the resolution. If he doesn't want to offer it, I'll recognize Representative Rainey."

Asked if he thought the action of the committee indicated what the vote in the house would be, the speaker answered:

"If so, the resolution is beaten."

Chicagoans Will Pay Less Taxes

CHICAGO, Dec. 2 (AP)—Chicagoans will pay 25 cents on the dollar less in taxes for 1933—and to a committee of civic-minded and dollar-wise business men has been given much of the credit.

In addition, members of the committee pledged themselves today to do something about the millions of dollars the city owes its 14,000 school teachers, its policemen, firemen, and other employes.

From the head of the committee—Fred W. Sargent, president of the Chicago and North Western Railway—came today the story of how the committee was formed and the results it hopes to accomplish.

The committee directed its attention toward every phase of the city's intricate taxation and budget-making problems. Those activities brought a pledge of co-operation from all city and county departments.

"Our greatest single accomplishment," Sargent said, "was in obtaining a guarantee from governing bodies that the county and city tax assessment for 1933 would not exceed $200,000,000. That compares with $290,000,000 for 1930.

"The strictest economy would be imposed on all departments under that program, as $60,000,000 must go toward interest and bond retirement."

More Witnesses Scheduled In Hearing On Grain Rates

FORT WORTH, Dec. 2. (AP) — With eight or 10 witnesses still scheduled to give testimony and a considerable amount of cross-examination certain to be made, officials conducting the joint grain rate hearing of the interstate commerce commission and the Texas railroad commission here estimated today that the sessions likely will be continued throughout next week.

Y. H. Sparrow, of Amarillo, traffic manager of the Great West Mill and Elevator company, still was on the stand Friday while several rate experts cross-examined him concerning an exhibit which he presented Thursday in showing a new plan of art groupings intended to provide a more equalized basis of rates to and from Panhandle shipping points.

It's Brewery Stock—Same Ballyhoo

Legal Beer May Or May Not Be Far Distant But The Stock Salesmen Already Are Reaping Harvest; Better Watch

CHICAGO, Dec. 1. (AP)—Legal beer may or may not be far distant—but the high pressure stock salesmen already are reaping a golden harvest from it.

The better business bureau of Chicago today issued a warning for the investor to consider carefully before buying brewery stock, and get advice from a banker or investment authority.

Meanwhile, a survey showed a dozen or more "financing organizations" throughout the midwest have started stock sales campaigns — replete with glowing prospects, predictions of huge profits, and stationery edged in gilt and emblazoned with dollar signs.

"First it was gold mine shares," said George W. McDonald of the better business bureau today, "then it was aviation, radio, and television stocks.

"Now it's brewery stocks — with the same old ballyhoo. Undoubtedly there'll be as much money lost in brewing shares as there has been in all the other 'gold bricks.' The public still wants to get rich quick."

McDonald outlined a program under which he said several concerns already were operating.

"A group of men spends upwards of $100,000 to buy a controlling interest in a brewery," he said. "Immediately they increase its capitalization to half a million dollars or more.

"They make their sales by long distance telephone from one state into another in order to complicate legal proceedings against them. Customers are urged to buy from $100 to $10,000 worth of the stock. And then the stock is sold, they simply buy another brewery."

Third Of Ten Prisoners Of Victoria Jail Is Captured

VICTORIA, Dec. 2. (AP) — Cleary Finn, 24, third of ten prisoners who escaped from the Victoria county jail Wednesday morning, was captured here today. Two others were apprehended on a ranch south of here yesterday.

Other fugitives were believed responsible for the theft of the automobile of Hamp Weaver, county commissioner, last night and the robbery of a filling station at Edna northeast of Victoria in Jackson county.

Christmas Goods Being Sold Out

The annual Christmas sale, sponsored by the School of Home Economics at Texas Technological college, which began Thursday sold out Friday noon and was forced to close until a new shipment of Mexican glassware is received, according to a statement issued by Miss Margaret Weeks, dean of the school.

Each year a new type of pottery is introduced. The Mexican hand blown glass featured this year is inexpensive, hence the great demand for it.

The new shipment is expected to arrive Monday at which time the sale will be re-opened in room 102 and the halls of the home economics building. The proceeds will be applied to a department scholarship fund, according to Miss Mabel Erwin, instructor in the school who is managing the sale.

Subscriptions In Bank System High

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. (AP) — Franklin W. Fort, chairman of the federal home loan bank board, announced today that the total of unconditional and conditional stock subscriptions in the federal home loan bank system amounted to $11,795,081.

The unconditional subscriptions those by institutions where state law does not prevent their participation in the home loan system, amounted to $9,259,081. The conditional subscriptions, which can not be accepted until legislatures amend the state law to permit participation, amounted to $2,536,000.

Fort said that the board had now approved credit to institutions through various banks amounting to between $1,500,000 and $2,000,000.

He added that he hoped the board would approve another $1,000,000 of credit this afternoon.

He said the board now was receiving five to 20 applications a day but thus far had not received an application from an individual for a loan.

The stock subscriptions, by districts, included:

Ninth district, Little Rock, Ark. Arkansas, Mississippi, Louisiana Texas and New Mexico, with only New Mexico ineligible, $1,227,600.

Tenth district, Topeka, Kans., Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma and Colorado, with only Kansas eligible under restrictions, $166,400.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn.—"I have a cousin named John Humphrey," said John Humphrey as he bought a marriage license from "Uncle" Harvey Hall, deputy clerk at the latter's home. "Yes, he was up here a few minutes ago and bought a license," Hall replied. Neither John Humphrey knew that the other was getting married.

One of the big comedy numbers of Scandals of 1932," musical comedy and minstrel which will be offered here Friday night, Dec. 9, is the "Goofus" act, shown in this picture. Lubbock talent and a trained chorus of 19 Amarillo girls will be featured in the show, to be presented at Lubbock high school auditorium.

BUM BOOZE

TACOMA, Wash.—Even the customers didn't like the moonshine whiskey that John Hoffer was selling. When Sheriff Fremont Campbell received complaints that Hoffer's whisky made the drinker's tongue swell and caused spots before their eyes, he sent Deputy Sheriffs Art Varco and J. T. Falin to investigate, with a result that they seized a 20-gallon still and dumped 200 gallons of prune mash.

FAST WORK

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — Frank Rocco, and J. M. Rollo asked to be allowed to plead guilty to highway robbery and start serving time. Judge J. M. Peeler complied with a sentence of 25 years for each. The day before their case came up in criminal court the two men accompanied by a third prisoner escaped by means of hacksaw and rope. Several days later Rocco and Rollo were recaptured but the third man is still at large.
