Bill Would Throttle Members Of Congress In Prosecutions

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (AP) — Senator Monroney (D-Okla) said today he will introduce in January a bill to prohibit any congressman from interfering in a tax case pending before the Internal Revenue Bureau.

Monroney said his proposed measure also would place tax collection agents under civil service, require publication of any intervention by a lawmaker in RFC loan cases and bar pensions to officials convicted of breach of public trust.

A House Ways and Means Subcommittee investigating Internal Revenue Bureau scandals called in Henry (the Dutchman) Grunewald to explain his associations with internal revenue officials.

The afternoon session took place behind closed doors.

MYSTERY FIGURE

Grunewald, a mysterious figure along the fringe of Washington officialdom, has been portrayed as an intimate of Charles Oliphant, recently resigned chief counsel of the Internal Revenue Bureau, and an old friend of George J. Schoeneman, who resigned last June.

His name popped up several times in the hearings, disclosures from which contributed largely to the suspension or firing of some 50 tax service employes.

Investigators want to ask him about a $1,300 loan acknowledged by Oliphant when he resigned two weeks ago.

Oliphant described Grunewald as a close friend. He said Grunewald took an interest in tax cases and once "told me he was helping" Senator Bridges (R-NH) in a multi-million-dollar tax case against a Baltimore man. Bridges has said that whenever he interested himself in a tax case, he always insisted that any action taken be "entirely proper and correct."

MONRONEY'S VIEW

Monroney said he thinks Congressmen would welcome a prohibition against their interfering in any tax matters except their own.

Rep. Herlong (D-Fla) said there are some things congress members cannot do.

"For example, we are not able to get RFC loans for people," he wrote his constituents. "If you desire such a loan. . . you will have to sell them (RFC officials) on the merits of your application.

"I feel that congressional influence should not have anything to do with whether such loans are granted."

In his testimony to the House group, Oliphant disclosed that Grunewald had inquired last July about a tax fraud case then pending against Abraham Teitelbaum, a Chicago attorney. Teitelbaum told the subcommittee he was threatened by two men with "bad tax troubles" unless he paid $500,000.

The committee heard that on July 23 — a few days after Teitelbaum said he refused to pay off — Grunewald came to Oliphant's office to inquire about Teitelbaum's case. Two days later, testimony showed, the Teitelbaum case was recalled by Oliphant after his subordinates had ordered it sent back to the Chicago regional office for more information. The cases subsequently went to the Justice Department for prosecution.

Judge Critical Of Newsmen On Trial

LAKE CHARLES, La., Dec. 20. (AP) — The trial of four newsmen charged with defaming three gamblers ended Wednesday night in a disagreement between the judge and one of the defendants on what crimes involve moral turpitude.

"You call a man a thief and he might slap your face but if you call a man a pimp he'll kick your brains out, I guarantee you," Judge J. Bernard Cocke told Managing Editor Kenneth L. Dixon, 36, of the Lake Charles American Press.

Cocke took the cases under advisement. He said he would hand down a decision some time after the record is transcribed and oral arguments and briefs are presented.

Dixon was the last of the defense witnesses. He, Publisher Thomas Shearman, Co-Publisher William Hugh Shearman and Reporter Carter George were tried on charges of defaming three gamblers during an anti-gambling campaign.

DEGREE OF CRIME

Prosecutor M. E. Culligan started the tiff between Judge Cocke and Dixon when he asked the managing editor if he thought the crimes of rape and kidnapping involved moral turpitude.

Turpitude is defined by the dictionary as a depraved or shameful act.

Dixon said any departure from the order of conduct established by society might involve moral turpitude.

Cocke said caustically:

"There are laws protecting a man's establishment from having pies thrown around," Cocke said. He added that gambling and drinking are wrong because the law says they are wrong, while crimes like murder, or "defiling the chastity of a woman without her consent" are abhorrant to all of society

RAPE CHARGE

The discussion was indirectly referring to a part of the police record the American Press attributed to one of the gamblers, E. J. Miller. The newspaper had listed under Miller's name the charges of rape and kidnapping.

Culligan maintained these crimes were charged to another E. J. Miller, a different man with the same name as the gambler.

Culligan and Cocke both assailed the newspaper for its manner of gathering the records it printed August 12 on its front page.

The American Press reported what was held to be the police records of 15 persons with names similar to some gamblers who had pleaded guilty to gambling charges and received suspended jail sentences.

An editor's note stated that "under normal judicial procedure" it was unusual to suspend sentences of persons having a previous police record for the same crimes.

One of the key witness in the trial was George, 24, reporter who had a rocky time under Culligan's cross-examination.

Answering questions by the prosecutor, George admitted he "didn't know how to do the job" Dixon assigned him in checking the court records to see if any of the gamblers given suspended sentences had previous criminal record.

Cold Hits In West Texas

By The Associated Press

The northern half of Texas began to shiver today as the winter's coldest weather took hold of the state.

Bringing snow and freezing rain with it, the new cold wave will cover the state tonight.

Temperatures for tonight were predicted as low as zero to 5 degrees above in the Panhandle. Dalhart, in the northern tip of the state, recorded 7 degrees Wednesday night.

The freezing rain and snow will not be extensive, the bureau said. Texas skies will be only partly cloudy by Friday.

Temperatures over most of Texas Wednesday were in the 60s and 70s with 79 at Brownsville the state's reported high.

Rain fell in a few cities and dust clouds were stirred up by brisk west winds in the Panhandle and South Plains. Lubbock, Childress, Amarillo and El Paso all reported blowing dust.

Rain was reported at Austin, Beaumont, Palestine, Lufkin and Tyler.

Operations On Front Is Light

SEOUL, Dec. 20. (AP) — Freezing weather and heavy fog muffled the war along the Korean battlefront today.

Scattered small arms and artillery fire were heard in Panmunjom by truce teams seeking agreement on an armistice.

There were no reports of any major action across the 145-mile front. Soldiers on both sides concentrated on keeping warm.

The Reds took an advance position from Allied troops on the Central Front in the only action involving more than a patrol reported in the Eighth Army evening communique. United Nations outposts fought for three hours with a company of attacking Reds before pulling back to their own lines shortly before dawn.

Allied air forces and Navy guns struck the heaviest blows Wednesday.

Daylight air operations were reduced. Ten B-29 Superforts pounded rail yards at Chongju in Northwest Korea in a night attack. It was one of the heaviest B-29 raids of the war against a single target.

Ships hammered Communist shore targets on both Korean coasts.

Vice Adm. Thomas L. Sprague, commander of the air arm of the Pacific Fleet, said Task Force 77 planes made 2,621 cuts in Red rail lines between Jan. 1 and Nov. 1.

"It is hard, cold figures such as these that dramatically illustrate the contribution being made by the naval air arm in the Korean conflict," Sprague said.

Senator Ferguson (R - Mich) watched from the deck of the Wisconsin as the battleship's guns pounded Red troops in the Kansong area.

The Eighth Army said South Korean soldiers Wednesday killed 33 Red guerrillas and bandits in the southern provinces.

Northern U. S. Hit Hard Again By Snow, Ice

By The Associated Press

Blustery, winter weather landed another knockout blow today from the Rocky Mountains to Northern New England.

A fresh snow storm whistled out of the Pacific Northwest, pelted the Rocky Mountain region and spread over the Plains States, the Upper Mississippi Valley and the Upper Great Lakes Region.

Temperatures tumbled along the route of the snow storm, dipping far below zero in many areas. The colder weather headed into the storm-buffeted midwest as it moved eastward in the wake of the snow.

It was sub-zero, also, in Northern New England and north parts of New York state.

The severe weather appeared to follow the pattern of the past week, heavy snow and the ensuing cold. The storm-battered areas have reported 226 deaths attributed to the severe weather of the past week.

There was considerable drifting and blowing in the Fresh snow belt, adding further danger to the already hazardous driving conditions.

The Weather Bureau said the sub-zero belt extended south to Northeastern Colorado and Northwestern Kansas.

It was 25 below zero in Havre, Mont., early today and -19 in Sheridan, Wyo. The cold spots in the northeastern section included 11 below zero at Burlington, Vt., and Albany, N. Y.

It was chilly in parts of the South. A freezing rain and sleet pelted areas in the Middle Mississippi Valley, the Lower Ohio Valley and in parts of Georgia. Rain fell southward into the Lower Mississippi Valley and the East Gulf States.

There appeared no immediate relief from the severe cold in the Midwest. Temperatures generally were above zero in most of the North Central Region today but the icy blasts were expected to move in during the day. The forecast was for below zero readings tonight and Friday.

Note Sent To USSR Today

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (AP) — The United States, in a note to Moscow, has denied it is trying to promote subversion against the Russian government.

Furthermore, the note said, such "false charges" of American interference in Soviet affairs "come with singular ill-grace" from a regime which has for many years "supported subversive activities" against the American government.

The State Department released the note today. It was delivered to the Soviet Foreign Ministry Wednesday.

Specifically, the United States rejected as baseless Russian charges of Nov. 21, that a $100 million appropriation in the mutual security act of last October to help the victims of Communist rule constitutes subversion against the Soviet government.

"Assistance of this nature is in keeping with the traditional United States policy of helping victims of oppression, in this instance those Eastern Europeans who have escaped or may escape to the Free World," the United States declared.

The United States said what Russia clearly is doing by charging subversion is to try to disrupt the defense effort of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization "by falsely charging for propaganda purposes that a specific facet (help for Communism's victims) of United States support for the objects of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization is aimed with aggressive intent against the U.S.S.R."

FRONT LINE SANTA

Stockings Sent By Reds Across Lines

SEOUL, Dec. 20. (AP) — Chinese Reds are using a new kind of propaganda on the Korean war front—Christmas stockings.

The U. S. Eighth Army said cheese cloth stocking full of Christmas cards, cheap presents, and invitations to surrender were being "delivered" by the Reds.

Most are brought across the lines by Korean farmers. Others are sneaked across and left where Allied troops can find them.

A typical stocking was shown to correspondents today. It contained a handkerchief, a wooden cigarette holder, a Christmas card with a lilting verse, a safe conduct pass urging allied soldiers to surrender, a tinsel pin "Peace dove," and a variety of pictures.

CONTRAST PICTURED

The pictures were designed to contrast the hardships of war in Korea with the luxuries of life in the United States.

One showed happy citizens lolling in Florida sunshine, and half-frozen marines marching in last year's Hungnam evacuation.

Another showed the grim face of a Marine as photographed by Life Magazine's Dave Duncan. In contast was an American beer advertisement showing a family gathered around a loaded dinner table on Christmas day.

Under the family group was this caption: "Those who love you want you back home safe and sound. Find a way out. It is no disgrace to quit fighting in this unjust war."

Other drawings included the face of a blonde: "Why not go back to her?"

BACK IN CIVVIES

A civilian wearing a red necktie: "How would it be to get back into civvies?"

A plump gent with a $ sign on his necktie: "Why fight for him?"

This is the verse that appeared on one of the Christmas cards:

"Whatever the color, race or creed,

"All plain folks are brothers indeed.

"Both you and we want life and peace,

"If you go home the war will cease."

An Eighth Army colonel called the stockings "pitiful and ironic" and added:

"All this stuff demonstrates how hard the Communists work at psychological warfare, and it also demonstrates how erroneous their conception is on how to appeal to the American soldier."

One Korean farmer delivered a package of the Chistmas stockings under a truce flag. He said two Red soldiers escorted him to the foot of an Allied-held hill and told him to go the rest of the way alone.

The colonel called the farmer. "A Santa Claus with a Communist gun in his back."

Efforts Made To Break Deadlock in Negotiations

Millionth Death Is Expected Saturday

By The Associated Press

The nation's traffic toll today neared the million mark.

The National Safety Council said the grand total had risen to 999,750 last midnight.

It added:

"The remaining deaths are expected to occur by about noon Saturday if the anticipated travel and accident pattern does not change."

But the council also advised driving and walking Americans that "the millionth death can still be postponed by improved traffic behavior in the final hours."

The statement was, in effect, the flag signal for the final laps in a race against death that began Sept. 13, 1899.

FIRST VICTIM

That was the date of the first known motor vehicle fatality in the U. S. The victim was H. H. Bliss. He stepped from a trolley and was run over by a horseless carriage in New York City.

Thereafter, the toll rose — slowly at first and then with alarming speed.

Fatalities reached a peak of 39,969 in 1941. They slumped off during World War II, then rose to the 1951 average of around 100 per day.

Now motorized Death is nearing the end of his drive to the million milestone, with his elapsed time indicated at 51 years, three months and eight days.

"It is a tragic and ironic circumstance that the millionth death should occur almost on the very eve of Christmas," said Ned H. Dearborn, council president.

"WANTON WASTE"

"To those Americans who are shocked — and I know that many are — it seems an appropriate time for each of us to pledge redoubled efforts as drivers and community leaders toward prevention of wanton recklessness on the highways."

The council has promoted M (for million) Day in the hope that the day of sorry reckoning will help to slow the rate of slaughter.

The council does not intend to name the millionth victim. Nobody can do so with certainty. The main reason is that traffic fatalities for the first 32 years of the century are estimates — not actual figures.

Recent death statistics — up to and including those of last midnight — were compiled by the Council from reports from state accident record bureaus.

From last midnight on, The Associated Press participated in the task of collecting reports of motor vehicle deaths — all deaths in accidents involving a motor vehicle on a street or road.

These figures will be given to the council's statisticians in Chicago twice each day. The council will tabulate them and work in what it calls a "corrective factor." That means it will add a certain number of deaths, based on statistical experience — to cover deaths which normally go unreported in any spot check.

The council estimates that — barring a huge wave of caution — 600 Americans will lose their lives in traffic accidents during the four-day Christmas holiday week end.

Talks On Steel Strike Begun In Washington

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (AP) — High-level government talks in the ominous steel dispute started today but officials were suddenly doubtful that a New Year's Day strike of workers can be avoided.

The change in attitude became apparent as representatives of major steel firms gathered for negotiations with CIO president Philip Murray. The talks were arranged by Cyrus S. Ching, the government's ace labor trouble-shooter.

Murray has called the walkout for midnight Dec. 31, when contracts expire. He is demanding a 15-cent hourly pay boost and other concessions for his million-member steelworkers union. The workers presently average just under $2 an hour in earnings, including overtime.

Government experts and industry spokesmen say privately, as Murray said publicly Monday, that a strike in the vital metal-producing industry seems inevitable.

Murray apparently has ruled out in advance the idea of bowing to a personal appeal from President Truman to cancel the strike order, or to delay it. Murray said his men won't work without contracts after present agreements expire.

John L. Lewis, the coal miners' union chief who was once Murray's closest crony, has publicy cheered Murray on. Lewis said Wednesday the steelworkers deserve a raise and the steel industry ought to grant one. Lewis offered help to the steelworkers.

Ching, director of the Federal Mediation Service, has pledged to do everything possible to prevent a strike.

Ten steel companies, led by U. S. Steel Corporation, the industry's biggest producer, were on hand for the conferences arranged by Ching.

Last Night's Minimum Warmer Than Usual

Weather was again warmer last night, not even dropping to freezing, Mrs. D. P. Strayhorn, official weather observer, said this morning.

Low for the night was 38 degrees, and the mercury stood at 38 at 7:30 o'clock this morning. Maximum yesterday was 63.

Greece Given Council Seat

PARIS, Dec. 20. (AP)—American-backed Greece won a seat on the United Nations Security Council today, beating out White Russia on the 19th ballot.

The vote was 39 for Greece, and 16 for White Russia.

A two-thirds majority of U. N. members present and voting was required for election.

The deadlock was the longest in the history of U. N. elections.

Greece will replace Yugoslavia on the Security Council Jan. 1. Chile and Pakistan were elected two weeks ago to fil vacanies caused by the expiration of terms of India and Ecuador.

White Russia, one of the constituent republics of the USSR was made a member of the United Nations, along with the Ukraine, under the Yalta agreement which guaranteed Russia three memberships.

Britain and others had backed White Russia under a "gentleman's agreement" of 1946 which gave one seat to the Eastern European bloc of countries under Russia's wing. The United States contended the agreement was for only a year.

Kiwanis Meets To Wrap Gifts

Kiwanis Club members have begun work on the final phase of their project to distribute toys and food to needy families in Snyder.

It's still not too late for contributions of toys or food items to be left for distribution by the club. These items may be left either at the fire station, downtown on Twenty - sixth Street, or at the warehouse.

A special movie will be shown at 9:30 Saturday morning at the Palace theatre, with the only admission charge some food item or toys for the project.

AIR SERVICE APPLICATION SENT TODAY

Ten bound copies of Snyder's application for airline service were sent to the Civil Aeronautics Board today, Harold Bennett, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, said.

The application asks that temporary service be granted to Snyder.

Comprising about 120 pages, it required 26 days of continuous work to type the material, stencil it, and print the copies.

County Cotton Total Is Less Than 10,000

The cotton harvest in Scurry County is almost completed, ginners say, and county farms have produced less than 10,000 bales during the season.

Most ginners believe the remainder of cotton will be ginned within the next week, and they estimate less than 1,000 bales yet to gin.

The total bales ginned three weeks ago was about 7,000 — 3,000 less than this week's total. The total number of bales ginned by Dec. 17 last year was 40,077, about four times as many as have been produced this year.

Of gins contacted this week, the China Grove Co-Op Gin had turned out the largest number of bales with their 1,938. Others were Hermleigh Planters' Gin, 1,309; Fluvanna Planters', 1,772; Snyder Paymaster, 1,190; Dunn Planters', 1,507; and Snyder Co-Op, 700.

The Snyder Planters' and Ira gins were not contacted, but their production is estimated at about 1,000 bales each.

To Fly POWs Home If Freed

SEOUL, Dec. 20. (AP) — The Eighth Army completed plans today for starting Allied prisoners homeward promptly after they are freed from Red prison camps.

Nobody knows when that will be. Prisoners will not be freed until an armistice is signed. Negotiators trying to write the truce pact have not even agreed on how to exchange prisoners.

The Eighth Army went ahead with plans anyway.

When the prisoners first come out, they will be taken to Allied reception centers in Korea. There they will be identified, given preliminary medical examinations and new clothing.

Then they will be flown to Japan and interrogated.

The Army made no mention of when or how they would be returned to their homelands.

No Progress In Meetings, Recess Called

MUNSAN, Korea, Dec. 20. (AP) — Truce negotiators turned the problem of how to supervise a Korean armistice over to staff officers today in a "one-shot effort" to break the deadlock.

The staff officers met two hours at Panmunjon. They adjourned until 10 a.m. Friday (7 a.m. CST Thursday). There was no report of what happened.

An Allied spokesman said U.N. subcommittee delegates suggested calling in the staff officers because there had been no progress.

"I give you my solemn word," said Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, "the decision to appoint the staff officers was because of the lack of progress rather than because of any progress."

Earlier the Communists suggested their version of a compromise.

They asked the Allies to permit construction of North Korean airfields, accept the Red proposal for inspection by neutral teams at specified points and drop a demand for aerial observation over all Korea.

In return, the Communists said they "might consider" the U.N. demand for unlimited rotation of troops and replenishment of equipment and supplies.

The U.N. is represented at the staff officers' session by Cols. Don O. Darrow and Andrew Kinney.

There has been no announcement as to whether the subcommittee on prisoner exchange will meet Friday. There was no session Thursday. Allied negotiators said they needed more time to check the list of 11,559 Allied prisoners supplied by the Communists Wednesday.

The actual method of exchanging prisoners remains to be worked out.

The Eighth Army announced everything is set to fly all U.N. personnel to Japan after they are freed. Plans also are being made for moving 132,173 Chinese and North Korean prisoners northward from Allied prison camps.

Allied prisoners will be taken first to reception centers in Korea for identification, preliminary medical checkups and new uniforms. Then they will be flown to Japan.

In the truce town of Panmunjom staff officers took as a basis for discussion the latest Communist proposal for policing an armistice, with some U.N. modifications.

Allied negotiators said they would accept the Red plan as a starting point. They specified there would be no modification of the U.N. demand for a ban on the repair or construction of North Korean airfields and a freeze on the military strength of both sides, with full rotation.

DOROTHY THOMPSON SAYS

West Wastes Strength In Hopeless Global Ventures

When Winston Churchill arrives in Washington next month there will be plenty to talk about. James Reston, in the New York Times, reports that one question may be:

"Should almost all world questions be examined primarily in terms of the Soviet menace or are there not many major problems that could be approached more profitably from another angle?"

This question puts a finger on a fundamental error in American leadership. No persons, firms, or associations, when confronted by serious problems, of which a rival might take advantage, ever saved themselves by concentrating all attention on the opponent. One saves oneself by concentrating on the problems themselves.

To be sure, one keeps an eye cocked on the opponent; one takes his moves, assets, and liabilities into consideration. However, if the opponent becomes not a factor in the situation, but an obsession occupying all one's energies, his triumph is predicatble.

For in such a situation he holds the initiative, every act being conditioned by what he does or may do.

The apprehension that he may take this or that step leads to measures which, instead of solving or ameliorating one's problems, deepen and intensify them.

When one should pull in, the opponent can force one to expand; when one should be expanding in one place where conditions are favorable, he can force one to expand in another where they are highly unfavorable.

If he can only create the obsession, a few diversionary tactics are all he needs to drive his rival and his opponent crazy.

• • •

The problem of the West is to slave its own heritage of civilization, culture, freedom, order, and properity, undermined by two great wars.

These wars —their cost in wealth, in dominion, and in spiritual and intellectual disillusionment— have speeded up and compounded the problems that perplex every civilization at all times, and, for that matter, every living organism.

For to be alive is to have problems; to be alive is to have to adjust oneself perpetually to changes in external conditions and in one's own being. And the only way one can survive periods where problems compound into crisis is by taking a new inventory, writing off investments which are sure losses, refusing new adventures in areas where one has already failed, consolidating what is left, and starting a new life on the basis of real assets.

This is what every sensible person does in his own life. Doing it keeps life adventurous, and new starts often prove more profitable than past heydays.

• • •

Though our present crisis is the result of two wars, there are still fools who think the West might recoup its losses by another one.

They are obsessed by the notion that another war might remove Communism from the world, though war, and war alone, has been the creator of Communism, as it has been the accelerator of Oriental nationalism and the executioner of Western empires.

Obsessed with Russia, we fall of imaginative investments that would breathe new life into western civilization itself.

The resources that should be conserved for a new blooming of the West within the frontiers of its own civilization are dissipated in ventures of no conceivable return.

We leave the underdeveloped areas of the West itself fallow in order to develop others that may fall into Russian hands tomorrow.

We nose around behind iron curtains when probably the best thing to do would be to rivet the curtains down, and let the self-made prisoners behind them stew in their own juice.

We act scared to death and then complain of "a crisis of confidence.'

We tell the whole world what we're going to do, instead of keeping our opponents guessing.

And we relinquish our freedom of action in favor of a standing committee of foreign offices, called the U.N., to which we attribute entirely imaginary attributes of virtue and power.

Baylor Students Prove They Are Interested In Late News Reports

WACO, Dec. 20. (AP)—Baylor University students read the day's news hot off the wires of Associated Press when they come to lunch in Baylor's Union Building cafeteria.

Journalism students, who subscribe to AP wire service for laboratory use in their classes and for publication in the Daily Lariat, also sponsor a three by four foot bulletin board in the Union building — just across the hall from the cafeteria.

They pick the top news of the day from the thousands of words coming in on their teletype. Students in Prof. William J. Thomas' editing class write headlines on the stories, and a specially appointed committee races the fresh news from journalism building to the Union for immediate posting.

It is one of the most crowded halls of the campus, as students crane their necks to see if Larry Isbell made another All-American team, if peace moves are progressing in Korea, or whether the sun will shine tomorrow

Luxurious Car Is Now Fishing Cabin By Lake

ROARING SPRINGS, Tex., Dec. 20. (AP)—A private railroad car built for one of the Burnetts of the famed 6666 ranch of West Texas has ended its luxurious life to become a fishing cabin.

It's sitting now on heavy timbers by the railroad tracks at Roaring Springs.

S. J. Braselton of Roaring Springs bought it for $1,000.

Back in 1917 it cost $30,000 to build.

In 1920 the Burnetts sold the car to Sam Lazarus, then president of the Quanah, Acme & Pacific railway. Then Charles Sommer acquired the car when he became president of the line. Sommer resigned as president only a few weeks ago.

There are 80,000 pounds of steel in the 70-foot-long coach.

Braselton got with it the furniture, air conditioners, bedding, silver, linen, glassware and dishes. The car provides sleeping quarters for ten, has a large dining room, a club room and a fully-equipped kitchen.

Braselton plans to move this ghost of former splendor to a site in the mountains or near a Texas fishing lake.

APPOINTED — Charles A. Coolidge, Boston lawyer and distant relative of late President Calvin Coolidge, was appointed Assistant Secretary of Defense by President Truman.

ASK MILDRED

Send your questions to Mrs. Mildred Sparks, county home demonstration agent, the Court house, or to the Daily News.

We are attempting to furnish a small apartment on a shoestring, so to speak, since we will be temporary here. If you have any suggestions for kitchen furnishings, I'd certainly appreciate them. This apartment has very little built-in cabinet space, and the owner says we can drive a few nails. But my husband and I are not very good carpenters and anything we make will have to be simple as well as inexpensive. Mrs. O.L.

For storage space you could get sturdy wooden boxes (the apple or orange crate variety) and stack them. Since these boxes are usually made of quite soft wood, apply a thin coat of shellac both inside and outside. You could paint the inside with bright cherry enamel. Put cup hooks on the outside to hold long - handled spoons, forks, etc. An attractive and convenient rack for kitchen utensils can be made by screwing to the wall a piece of board one inch thick and about four inches wide. Paint the board with colorful enamel and use cup hooks for hanging the utensils.

To substitute for a table, you could attach a shelf at least 14 inches wide to the wall. Fasten a wide shelf, approximately eight inches above the first shelf. On the second shelf you could set sugar, cream, butter, etc, at a meal time. If you prefer a more conventional table, you could mount a large plywood circle on a barrel.

• • •

Have you ever heard of a man's wearing his wedding ring on his fourth finger rather than on the third finger, left hand? Mrs. G.

As far as I know, it is not customary, although Emily Post says it is "permissible and in fact according to fastidious taste in this country."

• • •

We had supper at a friend's home in another town recently and she served mincemeat waffles. She never seems to want to share her recipes, so I didn't ask her for this one, and I am hoping you will have one. Mrs. W. K.

One recipe I have for waffle variations does include mincemeat. Here's the recipe:

2 cups ready - mix for pancakes
1½ cups milk
2 eggs
¼ cup melted shortening
1 cup mincemeat

Place all ingredients except mincemeat in medium - sized mixing bowl. Beat with a rotary egg beater until batter is fairly smooth. Fold in mincemeat.

Pour batter onto a hot waffle iron, using 2-3 cup batter for medium - sized iron. Bake until steaming stops. Serve with melted butter and powdered sugar. Makes 5 servings.

Man Waives Hearing On Charge of Theft

Appearance bond was set at $750 yesterday for Max Shipley, 43, Snyder, when he waived preliminary hearing on a felony charge of theft. W. C. Davidson, justice of peace, set the bond.

Shipley, who resides about a mile north of the city on the Post highway, was charged Tuesday with theft of 110 thread protectors valued in excess of $50, the amount which determines whether a theft is a misdemeanor or felony.

He was accused of taking the protectors from the possession of Roff Carrol, Jr., custodian of them for the Sun Oil Co. The complaint was signed by L. J. White, deputy sheriff.

Religious Sect Loses In Court

SHERMAN, Dec. 20. (AP)—Relief asked by Jehovah's Witnesses was denied here Wednesday when the City of Gainesville won a Federal District Court judgement.

The religious group gave notice of appeal in their suit charging religious discrimination.

The city and others had been charged by the sect with restricting their religious freedom by eviction from Gainesville Junior High School Oct. 1 and 2, 1949.

Gainesville Police Chief Henry Kirchenbauer and Sheriff Emory Horn testified they saw no violence and no reason to arrest anybody.

Members of Jehovah's Witnesses, among them Merle Thompson of Gainesville, testified they and others were pushed from the school. Police and American Legion members denied any sort of violence.

Thompson said a Legion leader said, "If you don't follow me out, we will carry you out." Thompson added that he saw a pistol in one man's hand.

Floyd O. Humphrey of Santa Anna, Calif., a leader of the religious group, testified he saw members pushed from the school and their literature and public address system thrown to the ground.

Educators From West Virginia Are Involved In $100,000 Slander Suit

FAIRMONT, W. Va., Dec. 20. (AP)—The president of Fairmont State College testified at the opening of a $100,000 slander suit that a dismissed teacher was "personally obnoxious" but he didn't think it was right to fire her.

President George H. Hand said Wednesday that the woman, Dr. Luella R. Mundel, sometimes used poor judgment and crude language.

Dr. Mundel brought the suit in Marion County Circuit Court against Mrs. Thelma B. Loudin, a member of the state board of education.

The ex-head of the college art department claims it was Mrs. Loudin's aspersions that prompted the board to drop her contract.

SOMETHING NEW

Southwest Cage Teams Win All Tilts Played Wednesday

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

Southwest Conference basketball teams did something new Wednesday night — they won all their games. They played only two.

But one was an intersectional victory, something the conference has been sorely needing. They had lost four this week until SMU beat Nebraska of the Big Seven Conference in Dallas, 61-55.

But TCU was the most impressive. The Horned Frogs licked Texas Tech 68-48 in the other game of a Dallas double-header and that just about established the Frogs as favorites to win next week's pre-season Southwest Conference tournament being played as a feature of the Cotton Bowl period in Dallas.

Tech came to Dallas to play in the college double header after a trip through the east during which the Red Raiders upset North Carolina State but lost to St. Joseph's and to Vanderbilt. The Vanderbilt score was significant. Vandy won 5-49 on its home court. Vanderbilt, it so happens, is the "visiting" team in the pre-season tournament.

The Commodores are undefeated in five games but haven't played as tough opponents as TCU which has won six out of seven.

The TCU fast break has rolled up an average of 67.4 points per game to 50.1 for the opposition. And the Frog also have rushed the basket more than any team in the league, trying 529 field goals and hitting on 187.

TCU tried 73 Wednesday and connected on 26 in licking Texas Tech. TCU now has the best season record in the conference since Texas took whippings Monday and Tuesday from LSU and Tulane. Texas had been unbeaten until this week.

RICE-VANDERBILT

Rice plays Vanderbilt tonight at Nashville and that will furnish another good comparison of Vandy and Southwest Conference teams. The Owls have won only two games in seven starts but have averaged almost 60 points per outing. They've played a tough schedule.

SMU might well be accorded the dark horse rating in the tournament. The Methodists have played some fine basketball at times as witness their almost beating highly rated Oklahoma A&M and Kansas.

In any case, the tournament pairings are on the sudden-death side with Texas and SMU playing the opening game and Vanderbilt and TCU being on the same bracket. The tournament is Dec. 26-29.

The college double-header in Dallas switches opponents tonight with SMU playing Texas Tech and TCU meeting Nebraska. That will furnish a comparison between SMU and TCU, Arkansas plays Missouri at Fayetteville in another game tonight.

Giant Paul Nolen flipped in 18 points to be high man of the TCU-Texas Tech game Wednesday but he didn't have as much help as George McLeod, the big man of the TCU team. McLeod made only 13 but a teammate, Harvey Fromme, got the same number, while Ted Reynolds sank 12 and John Ethridge and Bryan Kilpatrick bagged 11 apiece.

Derrell Murphy led SMU in its victory over Nebraska. He made 21 points while teammate Whitey Holm registered 17. Jim Buchahan flipped in 14 to lead the Cornhuskers.

Cincinnati 1st Baseman Is Top Man In Loop

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. (AP) — Who is the better fielding first baseman: Gil Hodges of Brooklyn or Ted Kluszewski of Cincinnati.

Prepare for a surprsie. According to National League fielding averages, Kluszewski, the big, lumbering Reds' strong boy, was the top defensive first sacker in the loop. Kluszewski had a fielding percentage of .997, five points better than Hodges' .992.

They say figures never lie, but a lot of fans would be willing to wager that the averages are all wet. Kluszewski never was renowned for his dexterity with a glove while Hodges is considered a Fancy Dan around the bag. The Hodges' rooters can point out that although Kluszewski made more putouts and committed only five errors to Gil's 12, the Dodger star topped ten in assists, 126 to 88 and paticipated in 56 more double plays.

BEST FIELDERS

Here is the best fielding team, according to official figures released Wednesday:

First base — Kluszewski, .997.
Second base — Jackie Robinson, Brooklyn .992.
Third base — Billy Johnson, St Louis .976.
Shortstop — Virgil Stallcup, Cincinnati .969.
Right field — Willard Marshall, Boston 1.000.
Center field — Lloyd Merriman, Cincinnati .997.
Left field — Monte Irvin, New York .996.
Catcher — West Westrum, New York .987.
Pitcher — Sal Maglie, New York 1.000.

The season's outstanding fielding performances were turned in by Robinson, Marshall and Richie Ashburn, the swift centerfielder of the Philadelphia Phillies.

Robinson shattered a league fielding mark for second baseman, posting a spectacular .992 percentage in 150 games. The Dodger star, 32, committed a record low of only seven miscues while accepting 832 chances. The old record of .987 was set by Al (Red) Schoendienst of the Cardinals, who also bettered that figure last season with a .990 mark.

Marshall became only the second major leaguer ever to play through an entire season without a single error. The Braves' right fielder accepted 231 chances in 136 games, somewhat below the flawless 317 chances in 151 games accepted by Danny Litwhiler of the 1942 Phillies.

Hard Workout For Bowl Boys

By The Associated Press

Cotton Bowl and Orange Bowl contestants from the Southwest Conference were to go through stiff practice sessions again Thursday as most college students started Christmas holidays.

Baylor's Golden Bears, pointing toward their New Year's Day Orange Bowl date with Georgia Tech, scrimmaged Wednesday for the second day in a row.

At Fort Worth, TCU's defensive platoon worked on a plan to check the Parilli-powered passing of Kentucky's Wildcats set for the Cotton Bowl.

Baylor Coach George Sauer said new X-rays would be made Thursday of Dick Parma's collar bone injury. Wednesday's scrimmage session saw Sauer move Jerry Coody back to his right halfback slot. Frank Bouldin and Wally Talbert alternated at fullback.

Coach Dutch Meyer sent his TCU defensive players against a squad of ineligibles who did all they could to duplicate the Wildcat offense.

The TCU offensive squad went through a general play rehearsal and topped it off with a dummy scrimmage.

Francis (Cotton) Davidson of Baylor limped with a charley horse Wednesday and TCU's Offensive Right Guard Alton Taylor was nursing a shoulder bruise. Otherwise, all players on the bowl-bound teams, with the exception of Parma, were in good shape.

Both of the top Southwest Conference teams will work through Saturday and then lay off until after Christmas.

OPEN SEASON

Quarterback Club members might take note to the fact that at their next meeting an important motion is going to come up.

The motion is that at least one athlete in the high school be given a scholarship to the college of his choice, with the club establishing the scholarship funds to pay his tuition and give him a small allowance each month while he attends school.

There are several boys in the high school here who could make good college athletes —at football, or maybe in basketball or track — and there is no reason why they should not be able to develop their abilities.

The club could pick a deserving boy who could not ordinarily afford all his expenses and help him get his start toward an education. There's many a boy who would have liked to further his education but could not because of difficulty in family finances, and that would be a good way for the club to show its usefulness in the community.

Quarterback Clubs in other cities have given gifts to school, such as time clocks costing in the neighborhood of $500, and a similar amount of money given in the form of a scholaship would be an asset to the community...

• • •

Optimist Club members had hopes of finding a building suitable for use for a boys boxing club, but the idea of being loaned a building for the project has almost been given up.

Carl Herod, president of the club, said he and a few other members have been talking about building a hut somewhere in Snyder — if they can find a place to build it — and use it for all their boys work.

If they had a hut, they would have no problem about where to house equipment or to have meetings of the proposed boxing club and Optimist Boy Scout troop, Herod said, adding that having their own building is the only sure way of carrying on a continuous boys work program.

• • •

Speaking of an organized program without a home, Mule Kayser was telling us a couple of days ago that he still has not found a place to keep his high school boxers during workouts.

The Mule intended to set up punching bags before Christmas, working in a few glove matches after the school holidays end, but he can't seem to find a building.

The high school gym, which is practically the only building the school system has suitable for use in such a progam, is constantly in use for basketball.

So ... Kayser is continuing road work, running his boxers alongside his trackmen. The road work has been going on for at least three weeks, so the fighters may turn into cindermen before a place is found for work with punchbags.

• • •

As far as passing is concerned, Texas Tech may fall far behind the College of Pacific Tigers in the El Paso Sun Bowl tilt New Year's Day.

Quarterback Pete Edwards, a star passer for the Red Raiders, probably will not be playing because of a dislocated shoulder he suffered in practice this week.

Tech boasts of a better passer in Junior Arterburn, who slightly overshadowed Edwards this year, but the Tigers list Quarterback Doug Scovil, who was responsible for 44 of the 68 passes completed by the Pacific team this year. Those completions were from 96 tries, and a total of 563 yards were gained as a result.

Another Tiger quarterback, Tony Geremia, completed 22 out of 63 tries for 260 yards.

Last Two Champs Due Crowns In Games Over This Week End

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Texas schoolboy football campaign winds up this week-end with the crowning of two champions.

Undefeated, untied Newcastle and Giddings clash at Graham for the Class A title Friday.

Unbeaten, untied Lavega and Arlington, one-time loser, tangle at Waco for the Class AA championship Saturday.

Final guns in the four-pronged campaign which saw Lubbock win the Class AAAA title and Breckenridge the Class AAA pennant last week will be a couple of games that find the favorites narrow.

Lavega is rated a paper edge over Arlington but it would be no surprise if Arlington won it. The Colts have two of the finest backs in the state in Rusty Gunn and Ray Glasgow. But Lavega has a heavier team, featuring the running of big Billy Keller, and it also has the better record.

The teams played two mutual opponents. Arlington beat Hillsboro 13-6 and Birdville 33-6. Lavega defeated Hillsboro 20-7 and Birdville 63-6. Lavega is crippled for its game this week with Glenn Schutza, ace quarterback, favoring an arm injury, and several others nursing hurts.

Newcastle's 33-26 victory over Wink, the team everybody except perhaps Newcastle thought would win the title, makes the Bobcats light favorites over Giddings. However, Newcastle is badly battered with fullback Billy Dean Hulse out of the lineup for good and with a squad of only 21 players, although Sonny Blanton, its great running back, is quite OK. Also Giddings will outweight Newcastle — the second time this season the Buffaloes have boasted an avoirdupois advantage over the opposition.

THE PICKS

Graham is looking for a crowd of 6,300 in its high school stadium, which is well over capacity. But additional seats have been put in and they'll even sell standing room.

At Waco, where they play in Baylor Stadium, a crowd of 10,000 is anticipated.

Your correspondent is humiliated and mortified and all that stuff. Last week we predicted on six games and missed three of them, which is terrible for an "expert." Oh well, we can't bobble that meant this week since there are only two games, so here goes:

Newcastle vs Giddings at Graham — We're taking a ride with Newcastle to edge through.

Frosh, Junior High Games Here Tonight

Snyder freshmen and junior high cage teams play tonight in the Tiger gym when they meet McCaulley in probably the roughest games of the season for the two teams.

Blue Lowry's freshmen will meet the McCaulley High School squad, which won its own tourney last week.

The freshmen have a record of one win and two losses, with Forward Jimmie Bennett as top scorer for the squad.

On the freshman defense is Steven Blair, fastest guard on the team.

The eighth grade, under Horace Bostick, remains undefeated in its three games played this season. The team defeated Fluvanna, Ira, and Big Spring, with Shorty Grimmett and Hershal Allen as high point men.

Beginning a typical day in the life of an "extra" Christmas employe is Mrs. J. W. King, above, who gets son Teddy Jay ready for the baby sitter before she heads for her job at Perry Brothers where she went to work when the seasonal rush began.

Packaging and wrapping baby dolls, neckties and the multitude of other Christmas selections is all a part of the day's work. Here Mrs. King fits a basketball into a box for Mrs. Doyle Chandler, Avenue Q.

Soothing climax to a weary day hard on nerves and especially tough on feet. Mrs. King relaxes in her living room before undertaking another part of the day's activities — preparing dinner for a hungry husband and Teddy Jay.—(Lee Watson photographs.)

TALK OF THE TOWN

By SUE HOLMES

Shopping days are getting scarce as rain clouds. Behind counters in a number of local stores are the extra employes who have gone to work for the holiday rush.

Mrs. J. W. KING, 114 Milburn Street, is typical of the women who have started to work this month, and one of her average days is illustrated in the pictures. She manages to maintain a pleasant disposition, evidenced by her smiles, throughout the daily process of getting her son Teddy Jay off to the sitter's, then gift-wrapping presents of every size and shape in gay paper and ribbon until the 5:30 bell rings. Then it's a quick dash for home.

* * *

About 70 couples attended Standard Oil's big Christmas dinner and dance Tuesday night at the County Club. Music was furnished by the Hubbers, an orchestra made up of Sweetwater and Snyder musicians.

Mrs. JOE LUTHER chose a lilac wool jersey dress for the party. The belt was sparkling rhinestones. Miss BOBBIE STOREY'S pink and black faille dress also featured rhinestone jewelry. Christmas colors were prevalent, too, with Mrs. CHARLES BRADLEY, now of Abilene and formerly of Snyder, wearing a red dress and matching opera pumps. And Mrs. FRANK ROBBINS' green wool dress added to the holiday color scheme. Mrs. J. P. JONES, wife of Standard's district superintendent, wore a classic black crepe dress, and Mrs. CHARLES SEGNAR, whose husband is production foreman, chose a soft yellow wool.

Differing Opinions on Fair Trade Law Are Expressed Here

Snyder merchants are divided in their opinions on fair trades legislation to be pushed in the next Congress which convenes Jan. 3, a Daily News survey shows.

Some merchants are enthusiastic in their support of such legislation, while others are opposed to it.

NOT IN TEXAS

Fair trades laws, which have been in effect in 45 states in the nation, but never in Texas, Vermont, Missouri, or the District of Columbia, are laws which permit manufacturers to set a minimum price for which their trade - marked products may be sold by retailers.

A recent ruling of the Supreme Court took the teeth out of fair trades laws in most of the states where they existed.

Before the Supreme Courts Schwegmann decision, manufacturers could effectively set the lowest price at which his branded product could be sold in a state. All he had to do was make one contract with a dealer, specifying what that price should be. All other retailers handling the product in that state were considered bound by this one contract.

The court said this was not legal, at least in interstate commerce. So now a retailer can't be forced to abide by a manufacturer's minimum price.

PUSH FOR NEW LAW

Friends of fair trade, led by the nation's druggists, but including retail jewelers, booksellers, tobacconists, hardware dealers, car accessory dealers and appliance merchants, are pushing the campaign which is expected to result in several bids for legislation by the next Congress.

In Snyder opinion seems pretty equally divided, with possibly a slight nod going in favor of fair trades laws.

Proponents of fair trades here say it reduces cut - throat competition, permits small merchants to compete equally with large merchants and chain stores, and tends to stabilize the market for products controlled by the minimum pricing.

Opponents of fair trades laws here say it cuts out individual initiative in merchandising, permits unscrupulous manufacturers to set their wholesale prices almost as high as the products will sell for on the retail market, and would force merchants to hold merchandise in their inventories which they could move out at lower prices.

DRUGGISTS' OPINIONS

Two druggists here were for fair trades laws, while a third interviewed was opposed to such laws. Both John E. Irwin, owner of Irwin Drug Store, and C. E. Hall, a partner in Crowder - Hall Drug, were for passage of fair trades laws. R. E. Patterson, owner of Snyder Drug, opposed fair trades laws.

Irwin and Hall both said fair trades laws reduce cut - throat competition, and permit small merchants to equally compete with larger merchants or chain store.

Patterson said fair trades laws destroy initiative, and cuts down on a merchant's possibilities of enterprising merchandising.

"Competition is the spice of life, and fair trades laws do away with much of the freedom of competition," Patterson said. He added that fair trades laws would directly contradict the Sherman anti-trust laws which are already in effect in America.

HARDWARE MAN

J. W. Phillips, one of the owners of Phillips Bros. Hardware, said he believes fair trades laws are good for the average merchant because they keep big merchants from flooding a market with products in which they are overstocked, thereby ruining the market for the product for all merchants for some time.

Phillips added that he thought "ifs" should be applied. The laws are good if they permit a reasonable profit, and if they do not conflict with ceiling prices set by the government, he said.

L. C. Carmichael, owner of Carmichael Furniture Co., 904 Twenty - sixth Street, said: "I would have to read any proposed fair trades legislation before I knew whether I favored it or not.

"The success of fair trades law and the value of it to the retailer depends largely on the manufacturers, who must be willing to let their retailers make a reasonable profit above sales and servicing costs of the product," Carmichael added.

ELECTRICIAN

Joe Watson, manager of Burton Bros. Electric, 2617 Avenue S, said "there are two sides to the situation, but I believe there is more good than bad to fair trades laws."

"Some provisions should be made in the law for merchants to close - out obsolete items with which they may be caught when models change, however," Watson stated.

Malven Stevensonn, owner of the Sunbeam Cash Food Market, Twenty - fifth Street and Avenue K, was one of the merchants interviewed who oppose fair trades laws.

"A man should be allowed to sell anything for what he wishes to, regardless of what he has paid for it," Stevenson said.

He added that fair trades laws cuts out individual merchandising initiative, which is important esp[illegible]ially in the grocery field because of the grocery sales and prices are so sensitive to fluctuations in supply and demand.

Although Texas is one of the few states which have never had state fair trades laws, merchants here are well versed in fair trades lore, and the advantages and disadvantages of such laws.

Truman's Dealings With Pal Murray Ticklish In Strike

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (AP)—President Truman has remedies he can try in an effor to stop a steel strike which Philip Murray's CIO steelworkers say they'll pull Jan. 1 if they don't get a raise by then.

Mr. Truman could (A) dump the problem in the lap of the Wage Stabilization board, which he might do in preference to using (B) the Taft-Hartley act, through which he could delay a strike 80 days.

No doubt the President will handle the case delicately since Murray is one of his strongest backers and it isn't politically smart to alienate your friends unnecessarily.

But the President has another and, so far as the rest of the country is concerned, a stronger reason for being careful here: If he pokes a hole in the anti-inflation curtain to help Murray, living costs go up.

The steelworkers want a new contract giving them higher wages and if they don't have a new one when the old one ends Jan. 1, they'll strike.

The U. S. Steel Corporation says it can't raise wages a penny unless the government permits it to raise prices to pay for the raise, which thus rams the whole dispute head on into the anti-inflation program.

The government's Office of Prize Stabilization (OPS) and the Wage Stabilization Board (WSB) have put ceilings on prices and wages to keep both of them down.

If it breaks the ceilings in this case to avoid a steel strike, then it has opened the door for other unions and companies to demand higher wages and prices.

Of course, a question of whether the industry, out of its present profits, can afford to raise wages without needing a price increase to pay for them.

If it can, it would seem the dispute can be settled by Jan. 1 between the union and the industry, and nobody gets hurt. But its own statement that it can't — taken at face value — would indicate the OPS and WSB will have to get into this mix-up before it's over.

Two Killed In Airplane Jump

EL PASO, Dec. 20. (AP)—Two airmen are dead after attempting to bail out of a burning B-50 bomber which was later landed safely.

A third crewman who jumped did it successfully.

Biggs Air Force Base said the men killed were Cpl. Thomas L. Troshynski, 21, Atkinson, Nebr., and Sgt. Joseph A. Grover, husband of Mrs. Raquel Grover of El Paso.

Pfc. Charles M. Noel made the safe jump. The four-engined bomber was on a training mission when it developed an engine fire over the Rio Grande Valley.

Biggs officials are checking the cause of the fire.

They did not identify the pilot who brought the plane in safety to Biggs.

Capt. Earl Hammock of the sheriff's office said one man's chute did not open and the other opened only partially.

Tractor-Car Collision

LOTT, Tex., Dec. 20. (AP)—A car-tractor collision killed Jake Kohl, 60, Wednesday.

Kohl's tractor rolled over and crushed him when it and a car driven by another farmer, John F. A. Matus, collided.

Publisher And Politician Dead

TOPEKA, Kas., Dec. 20. (AP)—Arthur Capper, a Kansas Republican who served in the senate three decades, died Wednesday night at the age of 85.

Capper retired from politics three years ago, giving up his senate seat Jan. 3, 1949.

In recent months his health had been bad and he became critically ill with pneumonia two weeks ago.

Capper, who started newspaper work as a printer's apprentice at $1 a week during his high school days, owned two daily newspapers and eight farm magazines with a combined circulation of 4.5 million.

The newspapers were the Topeka Daily Capital and the Kansas City, Kas., Kansan. He also owned two radio stations.

He was a leader in farm legislation during his years in Congress. He was chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee when he retired. Legislation bearing his name included the Capper-Volstead act, the legal foundation for farm cooperatives, and the Capper-Tincher act providing for regulation of grain exchanges.

He lent hundreds of thousands of dollars to farm youths through the Capper "Pig and Calf Clubs" which gave youngsters a chance to own their own livestock. He also established a crippled childrens fund.

BrownwoodBankerDead

BROWNWOOD, Dec. 20. (AP)—Fred S. Abney, 80, former Brownwood mayor and banker, is dead following a heart attack.

The political leader died Wednesday after being stricken on a downtown street. He served six terms as mayor.

Lumber Firms Merged; Approvals Are Needed

SHREVEPORT, Dec. 20. (AP)—Approval of transfer of the $36-million assets of Frost Lumber Industries, Inc., to Olin Industries, Inc., of East Alton, Ill., has been announced.

The merger vote Wednesday included 54,399 shares of the 59,424 outstanding shares of 91.54 per cent.

Frost stockholders will receive six shares of Olin stock for each share of Frost stock held.

Interstate Commerce Commission and Bureau of Internal Revenue approvals are needed before the meager is effective.

Four railroads involved, one near Nacogdoches, Tex., necessitate the ICC approval. The Internal Revenue Bureau must approve a no-tax liability on the stock exchange.

Schools Given Good Per Cent Of Materials

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (AP)—The Office of Education estimated today it has approved 76 per cent of the Texas applications for critical material for school construction projects.

Of 438 Texas applications filed since rationing of steel and copper began in July, only 104 remained pending at the end of the first week in December.

Of the 334 projects approved, 180 were granted certificates permitting start of construction before the end of this year. Critical materials for the other 154 are to be delivered during the first three months of next year in at least sufficient quantities to get work under way.

T. L. Roswell, assistant director of the civilian education requirements division of the Office of Education, said the present scarcity of steel necessitates spreading construction over two or more quarters.

"The long range picture looks pretty good," he continued. "It may be by the latter part of 1952 we can approve allocations for even such projects as school gymnasiums and auditoriums."

He emphasized that he was speaking mainly of steel, that copper remains tight with no foreseeable easing of the situation.

It may be possible to substitute aluminum for copper in electric wiring, he said, adding that such an experiment is being conducted in the District of Columbia. The aluminum wire has a steel thread core to give it tensile strength.

If the electrical wiring situation gets too bad, Roswell said, schools still could be built with proper conduits for completion of the work later. Classes could be conducted without lights except on dark days.

The program under which federal aid is granted for the building of schools needed to accommodate increased enrollments in national defense areas is separate from that of allocating materials.

Explaining that his office expedites issuance of priorities on materials for schools receiving such financial aid, Roswell said it gives equal consideration to the needs in non-defense areas.
