

Full Fight On OPA Promised By Independents

Texas Oilmen Propose A Shutdown If Controls Not Removed

AUSTIN, April 19 (AP)—Texas independent oil producers at the railroad commission hearing today threatened to fight OPA oil controls with every power at their command.

The first step in the fight was a proposal to shut down all crude oil production in the state of Texas for 30 days beginning June 1 if OPA has not completely removed the oil industry from its control by that time.

The proposal was made by Glenn H. McCarthy of Houston, chairman of the statewide committee of independent crude oil producers.

"We are weary of incompetent and arbitrary control," McCarthy said. "We are going directly to the people. We are going to every congressman in the United States. We are going to whatever authority is necessary to accomplish our purpose. We do not intend to be denied."

McCarthy's remarks were applauded by independent producers at the hearing.

McCarthy charged that OPA control creates problems where none exist. Side issues all back to that fact, he said. As side issues, he listed:

1. The navy's need for special fuel oil.

2. The War Shipping Administration's requirements for ships to carry food and clothing to Europe.

3. Temporary shortage of crude oil for independent refiners.

"I could mention others, but all of them exist only because of OPA's control," said McCarthy. "Remove the ceiling price on petroleum and there will be no shortages."

McCarthy said the independent producers had functioned since 1941 without an increase in prices except for the April 1 "drop in the bucket" ten-cent hike, "and that was tossed out to keep us quiet."

Production costs have more than doubled, McCarthy declared, and were $1.60 in 1944, whereas the average gross income was $1.24 a barrel.

The Texas producer, McCarthy said, is tired of being around, and we are going to carry on the fight until OPA's arbitrary and unreasonable and incompetent control over the oil industry is broken.

Administration Wants Solons To Quit By July

WASHINGTON, April 19 (AP)—Administration leaders reportedly trimmed their legislative sails today to five "must" subjects in an effort to get an irritated and often rebellious congress out of Washington by early July.

The unofficial decision appeared likely to direct major efforts toward salvaging OPA and the draft, passing regular appropriations bills and getting approval for the $3,750,000,000 British loan, and a long-range housing program.

If this program is followed, legislation to merge the armed services, increase the minimum wage rate, broaden social security, curtail labor disputes, set up a permanent fair employment practice commission and abolish state poll taxes would go by the boards until the next session in January.

Of these only the minimum wage and anti-poll tax bills have approval of either house. The senate lodged the wage measure with a farm price boosting amendment. The administration opposes. The house-approved poll tax bill faces a similar filibuster any time it is called up.

Burns Fatal To Texas Co-Ed

AUSTIN, April 19 (AP)—Miss Georgia Stevens, Houston student at the University of Texas, died early today of burns received Wednesday night during a formal initiation ceremony at the Delta Delta Delta sorority house.

Miss Stevens was wearing a net dress which caught fire from a candle during the ceremonial, and suffered burns about the arms, legs and body.

She was taken to Seton Infirmary, where she died shortly after 5 a. m. today.

Miss Mary Alice Anthony of Austin was badly burned about the hands in attempting to extinguish the flames. Her condition was not considered critical.

Miss Stevens' body was taken to the Cook funeral home.

Pay Hike Proffer For Railroaders To Be Studied

WASHINGTON, April 19 (AP)—The threat of a nationwide railroad strike, hinged today on acceptance or rejection of a fact-finding board's wage boost recommendation for more than 200,000 locomotive engineers and trainmen.

The government board suggested a 16-cent hourly boost, with certain changes in working conditions, but the findings can be accepted or turned down by the carriers or the two unions involved.

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and Trainmen had postponed a scheduled March 1 strike pending the board's study.

Under the railroad labor act, a strike now is barred until May 8. Most such fast-finding reports in past disputes have led to settlements without strikes.

The two unions called a meeting next Wednesday at Cleveland to determine their stand. Alvan J. Johnston, head of the engineers, told reporters at Cleveland the board's recommendations were "not as much as we asked for."

A. F. Whitney, trainmen's president, declined comment.

The carriers wage conference committee planned to meet today in Chicago to consider the board recommendation and then to talk with representatives of the brotherhoods on Monday. The railroads recently asked for a 25 percent increase in freight rates, partly to compensate for arbitration awards April 3 giving smaller 16-cent an hour pay increases to 1,250,000 other railroad workers.

Justice was dealt out swiftly this morning to Floyd W. Evans, 18, and Walter C. Stewart, 17, brought back last weekend from Safford, Arizona, to answer to charges of theft and burglary.

The Georgia youths stood before District Judge Cecil C. Collins and each heard himself sentenced to terms of two years on each count. The sentences will run concurrently and will be served in the state penitentiary at Huntsville.

In a signed statement, Evans admitted he and his accomplice had broken into the Shroyer Motor company here last week and taken a vehicle and two sets of automobile tools.

They were apprehended less than 36 hours after they left Big Spring by Arizona police who had been alerted by local police.

Evans and Stewart might be taken to Georgia to face theft charges there before going to Huntsville to begin their sentences. They allegedly stole an automobile in Georgia, which later was found abandoned here.

Pedro Salas, charged with stealing a quantity of clothing from a transient Navy officer six weeks ago, drew a five year term after having his case revealed by the court.

Desiderio Salas and Fernando Cana drew two year suspended sentences on the charge that they stole a quantity of chickens from the Dick Simpson farm north of town last month.

Charles McCormack and Rudolph Campbell, who signed statements that they burglarized a local filling station of approximately $150 in cash last month, were to appear for trial this afternoon. They have been confined to the Martin county jail at Stanton in connection with other charges.

Also due to be tried this afternoon is L. W. Smith, accused of a series of thefts committed here in February and March.

TRIAL RECESSED

NUENBERG, April 19 (AP)—The international military tribunal trying 22 German leaders on war crimes charges recessed today for the Easter holiday, its second holiday in four and one-half months. The tribunal will reconvene Tuesday.

A number of departing lawmakers intimated they are not exactly sure whether they voted right on these two burning issues but that they hope to find out when they got back among the "grass roots" of their home district.

The OPA and draft measures were the last major items to pass the House before it quit until April 30. If voted to extend both for another nine months, but with sweeping restrictions.

These two bills are almost certain to return to the House for further action, for the Senate has shown no inclination to accept either one on its present form and the administration, smarting from the House reverses, hopes to turn the tide in the Senate.

Members are particularly anxious to learn what their constituents think about the five-months induction holiday the House voted when it extended the draft law and about restrictive amendments written into the price control bill.

"If we find out that we voted wrong, so far as the constituents are concerned, we can always correct the record when we return," one House leader explained.

Mrs. Stewart Succumbs At Her Home Here

Mrs. Mary Belle Stewart, 72, wife of Clayton Stewart, died Thursday at 2:40 p. m. at her home at 1110 Johnson after a long illness.

She had been in frail health for several years and critically ill since Saturday.

Services will be held at 10:30 a. m. Saturday at the Eberley-Curry chapel with the Rev. H. C. Smith, First Methodist pastor, officiating. Burial will be in the Mt. Olive cemetery.

Born Feb. 7, 1874 in Porter county, Indiana, Mrs. Stewart came with her husband and family to Howard county on Jan. 9, 1911 when Mr. Stewart acquired a ranch in southern Howard county. They resided there until 1917 when they moved to Colorado City for two years.

On their return they established their home in Big Spring in addition to maintaining ranch headquarters.

Besides her husband, G. Clayton Stewart, Mrs. Stewart is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Helen Miller, Dallas; Mrs. Lucille Collins, Abilene and Big Spring; Mrs. Lola Belle Rix, Lubbock, and Mrs. Laverne Yeatman, Coleman; and two sons, Merle J. Stewart and Keith M. Stewart, Big Spring.

She leaves four sisters, Mrs. Iva Atwell, Mrs. Bessie Coombs, Mrs. Josie Barks of Valparaiso, Ind., and Mrs. Goldie Baker, Boone Grove, Ind.; and two brothers, William Riggs and Glenn Riggs, Valparaiso, Ind.

Survivors also include these grandchildren: Stewart A. Merrick, Long Beach, Calif.; Pvt. Bobbie M. Merrick, Ft. Jackson, S. C.; Lewis B. Rix, Jr., and Ruth Ann Rix of Lubbock, John Albert Yeatman and Zanda J. Yeatman of Coleman.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 3:30 p. m. in the Presbyterian church, and will be conducted by Rev. James E. Moore, pastor.

Burial will be in the local cemetery by the side of her husband.

Eberley-Curry is in charge of arrangements.

Ballbearers will be R. V. Middleton, Harry Hurt, Ira Thurms, Lee Porter, Dalton Mitchell and Larson Lloyd.

OPA's Friends Look Hopefully To The Senate

Plenty Trouble Yet Ahead, However, For Control Agency

WASHINGTON, April 19 (AP)—Administration chiefs expressed confidence today that the senate will treat OPA far more gently than the house did, but trouble was stacking up for them just the same.

Their guarded optimism was tempered by the fact that even if the senate rolls up a thumping majority for continued price control without major changes, its decision will have to be compromised with the contrary action of the house on many key provisions.

OPA Chief Paul Porter claims the bill the house passed yesterday will require the elimination immediately after July 1 of price ceilings on at least 50 per cent of all commodities which make up the cost of living.

On this list the price chief placed such foods as meat, milk and all other dairy products except butter.

High on it, too, were coal, shoes, rayon and woolen textiles, and many clothing items made from these fabrics.

Porter, in a statement last night, said also that the house bill would "blow sky-high" the ceilings on automobiles, radios, refrigerators and most household appliances.

Keynote of the administration's cautious optimism in the midst of these inflation predictions was sounded by Chairman Wagner (D-NY) of the senate banking committee.

"I am sure," Wagner told reporters, "that my committee will come out with a very sensible bill. I think the senate will be reflective, thoughtful of the consequences."

Wagner's committee is considering a bill which as it stands would extend price controls a year, beyond June 30 without change.

This contrasts with the house action in voting a nine months extension minus food subsidies and with sections requiring ceiling prices that will guarantee "reasonable profit" to all manufacturers and distributors on every item handled.

Compromise Offered In UN Spanish Problem

GERMAN PRISONERS STRUCK DOWN BY MYSTERIOUS ARSENIC POISON

FRANKFURT, April 19 (AP)—A mysterious arsenic poisoning has struck down 1,900 German prisoners of war in an American internment camp near Nuernberg during the last 24 hours, U.S. Army headquarters announced tonight.

All the victims are "seriously ill," headquarters said. No deaths were reported.

The prisoners were seized with arsenic poisoning in Stalag-13 near Nuernberg, the announcement said.

Early reports from the camp showed that bread containing arsenic had been found and was believed to be the cause.

Headquarters said the bread for the prisoners, "in accordance with normal procedures," had been secured from a local German bakery by contract.

Counter-intelligence agents of the U.S. Army went to work immediately to determine whether any of the bread had fallen into the hands of German civilians.

On this list the price chief placed such foods as meat, milk and all other dairy products except butter.

High on it, too, were coal, shoes, rayon and woolen textiles, and many clothing items made from these fabrics.

Sub-Committee Would Survey Controversy

Australian Plan Has Support In The Security Council

NEW YORK, April 19 (AP)—A compromise proposal by Australia gained support among delegates of the United Nations Security Council today as a possible solution to the controversial Spanish question.

The proposal, submitted by Australian delegate W. R. Hodgson shortly before the council adjourned yesterday for the Easter holidays, calls for the appointment of a five-man sub-committee which would investigate the Spanish situation and report back by May 17.

Most of the delegates were reluctant to commit themselves on the Australian suggestion immediately, but they generally expressed interest and it was conceded by some to have a good chance of being approved.

Before the council resumes its discussion of the Spanish question it will tackle again the Iranian case.

This will be the first thing on the council's calendar when it reconvenes Tuesday.

The way was opened for a new floor fight on the Iranian question when the council's committee of experts on rules and procedure reported last night that it had split, 8 to 3, with the majority holding that the council has full authority to

District VFW Meeting Slated Here May 4-5

Christenson-Tucker VFW Post No. 2013 of Big Spring will be host to some 500 or 600 West Texans at the district meeting of that organization Saturday and Sunday, May 4-5.

Business discussions will be held both days of the session at the Settles hotel and the VFW hall. A resignation booth will be set up in the hotel Saturday morning.

New district officers will be installed at a meeting now planned for Sunday afternoon at the function headquarters, 900 Goliad street.

Several of the unit's state officers are expected to be in attendance.

An entertainment committee will be appointed by Quay Elliott, new local commander, to plan toward a Saturday night dance, at which all members and their friends will be guests.

Elliott was named the Big Spring commander at an election held Tuesday night at the Vet hall. He succeeds Buck Hull and will fill a one-year term.

Jap Premier Won't Resign

TOKYO, April 19 (AP)—Premier Shidehara flatly refused tonight to accede to demands of four political parties that he resign.

He gave his answer only a few hours after Welfare Minister Toshiro Ashida turned in his portfolio in support of the liberal party's move to oust the Shidehara government. Ashida is a liberal.

The liberal party demand for the cabinet's resignation was supported by the social democrats, and two minor parties, the co-operative and communist. Although the liberals led in the number of seats won with 139, no party obtained a majority of the 460-seat diet at the recent election.

Shidehara said he would increase his efforts to form a coalition government for the May diet session.

No other cabinet resignations for party reasons were anticipated.

All other members are independents. The premier, however, two days ago joined the progressive party after a lifetime of free-lancing.

Drive Safely During Holiday Weekend, Patrolmen Plead

Members of the state highway patrol are looking forward to their biggest traffic problem in a half dozen years this weekend.

"The accident rate bids fair to skyrocket," said John Strother, local patrolman. "Schools are turning out early and families will be on the move, taking advantage of the holidays. Every precaution should be taken to guard against highway mishap."

Pointing out that Howard county has a good safety record to date, Strother said that motorists could contribute toward that record by driving carefully.

Four-Year-Old Boy Injured By Auto

Ronald Kidd, four year old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Kidd, was taken to a local hospital for treatment late Thursday afternoon after he was hit by an automobile driven by Robert Stripling.

The lad resided with his parents at Russell Courts on West Third street, near the scene of the mishap, police said. He was rushed to the hospital immediately by Stripling, who then reported the accident to the police department. The boy's injuries were not believed to be serious, officers said.

CHICAGOAN RESUMING HIS DUTIES AS CHEF FOR GEN. EISENHOWER

CHICAGO, April 19 (AP)—To former Sgt. James Martin, 34, an invitation from Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower is a command, so it's back to the army he left five months ago to resume his job as chef for the general of the army.

After Martin received a telegram yesterday from an aide of General Eisenhower telling him there was a place waiting for him behind the cook stove in the general's headquarters, he made arrangements to leave his job as chef at the Elstgate hotel.

He also began studying up on the private recipes gathered while he cooked for Gen. Eisenhower through England, France and Germany. But he said how he prepares "the general's" favorite dishes will remain a secret.

"Why I might be giving away a couple of extra stripes if I let any one know how to prepare the general's meals," the stocky negro chef said. He added, however, that "the general" favored roast of beef, fish "which has to be cooked a special way," quail, pheasant and other fowl.

Gas Supply For Cosden Expanded

High pressure lines of the Empire Southern Gas company are being rearranged to furnish heavier supply to one of the city's major industries, Cosden refinery.

Approximately 7,000 feet of 5-8 inch line is being laid east from the present high pressure line at the Experiment Farm to the cemetery road and thence south to the Cosden line near the Benton street viaduct. This will be skirting the outskirts of the city will provide a direct high-pressure line to Cosden, increasing the available supply by eliminating diversion to other users on the existing line which runs from the Experiment Farm to the travel and then eastward. This line will, in turn, provide more satisfactory by the more uniform pressure of the Cosden load diverted to its new main.

TRAFFIC CONTROL AT SCHOOLS IMPROVING

Good response to a program of special emphasis on traffic regulations in an area near the high school was reported today by the police department.

Several complaints had been received concerning congestion and lax safety precautions on streets leading past the school at hours when classes were not in session. The police department now assigns three men to the school area each day during the rush hours.

High school students are co-operating in efforts to stress safety measures, and the situation is improving rapidly, officers said.

7. Who has a right to the Lord's table?

Will there be any shortage... ten years from now?
It's very unlikely that there'll be a scarcity of things to buy in 1956. But you might be faced with a much more distressing shortage—a shortage of MONEY TO BUY THINGS WITH.
Fortunately, this is a shortage that a persistent and foresighted man can avoid. It's one you, personally, can do something about.
How? By the simple and painless process of buying U. S. Savings Bonds regularly... through a Payroll Savings Plan.
If you've been buying bonds that way—KEEP IT UP. If you haven't, start buying them now and—KEEP IT UP. And, above all, hold on to the bonds you've bought.
Result: In 10 years, you'll get back $4 for every $3 you've invested. And you'll get it back in nice lump sums as your Bonds come due.
You're not short of cash now. Why take a chance on being short in the future? Keep buying Bonds.

Glories Of Resurrection To Be Proclaimed In Sermon And Song At Churches Sunday

Special Services Locally Feature Cantatas; Catholics Have High Mass

Glories of the Resurrection will be proclaimed in song and sermon in more than a score of Big Spring churches Sunday.

At least six churches will devote one service to Easter cantatas, and the St. Thomas Catholic church will celebrate high mass.

One church choir, the First Baptist, will present its cantata, "Calvary," twice—at 11 a. m. in its own church and at 7:30 p. m. at the East Fourth Baptist. The First Christian church choir will sing the cantata, "When Christ Arose," a girls' chorus will present a cantata, "The Glory of Resurrection." The girls' ensemble will present a program of Easter music at the First Methodist church. The First Baptist presentation is the only morning cantata.

By churches' Easter service highlights will be:

FIRST CHRISTIAN—Sermon 11 a. m. by Rev. J. E. McCoy; "Easter Peace"; anthem, "The Earth Is the Lord's"; 7:30 p. m. service, "When Christ Arose," a cantata. Baptism at 8:30 p. m.

FIRST METHODIST—10:55 a. m. sermon by Rev. H. C. Smith; "Consider the Lilies"; anthem, "The Lord Reigneth"; solo, "Calvary." William B. Hilgers; baptismal service for infants, 7:30 p. m. services: Mrs. Nell Frazier's 30-voice Girls' Ensemble will present a program in music.

CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE—11 a. m. sermon by the Rev. W. R. McClure, "If There Were No Easter"; duet, "The Old Rugged Cross." Geneva Turner and Verbal Whitley. Sermon at 7:45 p. m., "Christ at the Door"; solo, "The Name of Jesus." June Patton.

ST. MARY'S EPISCOPAL—Processional, 11 a. m.; Introit, "Christ Our Passover Is Sacrificed for Us"; Kyrie, Missa de Sancto Matthea; gradual, Alleluia; Alleluia; hymn, "He Is Risen, He Is Risen"; sermon by the rector, Rev. Charles Abele.

"The Resurrection," anthem, "King of Kings," Simper-Deis; Sanctus and Benedictus, Missa de Sancto Matthea; Agnus Dei, Missa de Sancto Matthea; Gloria in Excelsis, Missa de Sancto Matthea; hymn, "Jesus Christ Is Risen Today."

ST. THOMAS CATHOLIC—First mass at 7:30 a. m., high mass at 9:30 a. m. Mass will be St. Florian's by Nowakowski. During mass, "Regina Coeli" by M. A. Melvil will be sung with Helon Blount, Mrs. Bill Breise, Stewart Smith and Mrs. Harold Talbot as soloists. Benediction.

SACRED HEART CATHOLIC—First mass at 8 a. m.; high mass at 10, followed by benediction.

ST. PAUL'S LUTHERAN—Special Easter services with special music at the 11 a. m. worship hour. The Rev. O. H. Horn, pastor, speaks from Matt. 28:1-8, "He Is Not Here... He Is Risen!"

WEST SIDE BAPTIST—11 a. m. sermon by Rev. Cecil Rhodes, pastor, "A Grave in a Garden." At 8 p. m. the girls' chorus under direction of Mrs. Clyde Arender will present "The Glory of Easter," a cantata.

NORTH NOLAN BAPTIST—The Rev. Chester O'Brien, Jr., speaks at 11 a. m. on "The Hope of Resurrection" and at 8 p. m. on "Who Loved Me."

SALVATION ARMY—Breakfast hour at 8 a. m.; morning worship at 11 a. m. with (Mrs.) Capt. Olvy Sheppard bringing the message: "If There Were No Easter," (1 Cor. 15:14); musical offerings, "Up From the Grave He Arose," "Christ the Lord Is Risen Today," hymn, "He Lives." At the salvation meeting at 8 p. m. Capt. Olvy Sheppard speaks on "An Easter Song for All of Us" (1 Peter 1:3, 4); musical offerings, "I Know That My Redeemer Lives," "He Arose," "Have You Heard the Angels

EASTER PRAISES will be sung at the community Easter Sunrise services at 6 a. m. Sunday in the city park amphitheatre by the high school Girls' Choral club under the direction of Mrs. Wiley Curry. The chorus will furnish music in connection with the play, "Pilgrims of the Way," presented by Bible class students. Possibly 3,000 people will be present for the services if weather is good. (Jack M. Haynes Photo.)

Singing," and "Resurrection Glory."

EAST FOURTH BAPTIST—The Rev. P. D. O'Brien speaks at 11 a. m. on "The Significance of the Resurrection," filling the pulpit in the absence of the pastor, Rev. J. R. Clark; special music directed by Clyde Arender. At 7:30 a. m. the First Baptist choir will present its cantata, "Calvary," under direction of Ernest Hock.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN—Morning worship 10:55 a. m.; prelude, "Resurrexit"; call to worship, "The Lord Is in His Holy Temple"; doxology, invocation and Gloria Patri; hymn, "Christ the Lord Is Risen Today"; responsive reading; morning prayer and choral response; anthem, "Hallelujah! Christ Is Risen"; offertory, "In Remembrance"; anthem, "He Lives Again!"; sermon from II Tim.

1:1-10 by Rev. James E. Moore, "The Assurances and Warning of Easter"; postlude, "Unfold ye Portals."

FIRST BAPTIST—"Calvary," a cantata will be presented at 11 a. m. by the 36-voice choir under direction of Ernest Hock; at 7:30 p. m. the Rev. P. D. O'Brien, pastor, will speak on "The Significance of the Resurrection."

MAIN STREET CHURCH OF GOD—Sermon at 11 a. m. by the Rev. Wesley R. Hutchings, "The Risen Christ," trio composed of Mrs. Emily Phillips, Miss Elzada Herring and Miss Betty Hutchings will sing "Calvary" and "Glimpses of Calvary." At 3 p. m. children will have an Easter egg hunt; evening worship preceded by half hour praise service; sermon topic: "Take the Stone Away."

CHURCH OF CHRIST—Sunday school at 9:45 a. m.; Herbert L. Newman, minister, brings the worship message at 10:45 a. m. and again at 7:30 p. m. Young people meet at 6:45 p. m.

PRIMITIVE BAPTIST—Special Easter song services at 10:30 a. m. at 300 Wills; discourse by Elder B. R. Howze, pastor, at 11 a. m. Lunch will be served at the church at noon and at 2:30 p. m. congregational song services; discourse at 7:30 p. m.

AIRPORT BAPTIST—"Glory of the Resurrection," a cantata by East Fourth Baptist girls' choir under direction of Mrs. Clyde Arender, will be presented at 11 a. m. Rev. Edwin Spears, pastor, speaks at 8 p. m. on "The Risen Lord."

Record Crowd Expected For Easter Sunrise Service At Amphitheatre

Attendance records may be surpassed Sunday when the seventh annual Easter Sunrise services are held in the city park amphitheatre at 6 a. m.

For the first time since the series was inaugurated March 24, 1940, this year's community sunrise rites under the sponsorship of the Big Spring Pastors' Association will feature an Easter drama.

It is "Pilgrims of the Way," presented by a cast of high school Bible students under the direction of Elizabeth Akers, Bible instructor.

Special settings by Johnny Johansen will give the amphitheatre stage the appearance of a Holy Land garden at the home of Mary, a sister to Barnabas, the co-laborer with Paul.

The high school Girls' chorus, under direction of Mrs. Wiley Curry, will furnish musical interludes for the religious play and in the dawn, Charlene Tucker's trumpet solo, "The Old Rugged Cross," will open the ceremonies. Proceeds from an offering will be devoted to the Bible class fund, officials of the pastors' association have announced.

This year Easter falls on the latest date of any since the series was inaugurated. Cloudy and freezing weather forced the first service indoors, but since then large crowds—sometimes upward of 3,000—have turned out for the event.

In the cast of the play are Edna

Juniors Present Easter Program

The junior class had charge of a special assembly program at the Big Spring high school Thursday, as students prepared for the Easter holiday period.

The program was held as a benefit for the annual junior-senior prom. Musical numbers were presented by the Melody Maids; and two solos by Delores Sanders. Virginia Costello and Eloisa Puga staged a Mexican Hat Dance. While Max Winn and Patsy Anne Young gave declamations they will present at the regional inter-scholastic league meet in Abilene Saturday and Francis Bigony a reading. Roy Smith entertained with a half hour of magicians' tricks.

Classes in all Big Spring schools were dismissed at 4 p. m. Thursday for the Easter holidays. School work will be resumed on Tuesday morning.

Eisenhower To Talk At Aggies' Special Easter Ritual

COLLEGE STATION, April 19 (AP)—General Dwight D. Eisenhower, army chief of staff, will feature master duty services Easter morning at Texas A.&M. college, with an address before an expected 10,000 persons.

The program has been planned as a memorial service for 604 Texas A.&M. men who died in World Wars I and II. Gen. Eisenhower will arrive at College Station late Saturday afternoon, and will be awarded an honorary degree at a program that night. Also to receive degrees are 14 former students who attained the rank of general.

KBST To Broadcast Ohio State Choir In Easter Program

Opening the ABC Network on Easter Sunday at 6 o'clock, one hour earlier than usual, the Easter Sunrise Service from Ohio State University will offer religious music over KBST.

The symphonic choir, under the direction of Professor Louis H. Diercks, will sing "Sanctus" by Kinsley, "Jesus Priceless Treasure" and "Death I Do Thee Defy," from Bach's cantata, and "Hail Glorious Light" by Dr. Charles Wood. The brass quartet, under J. Justin Gray, will play "In Modo Religioso" by Glazounoff and "Nos Qui Sumus Nin Hoc Mundo" by Vittoria.

Glenn Ellstrom, student at the university, will announce the program, which will present as speakers students William Dixon, Elizabeth Downing, Harold Robinson and Miriam Webster.

It is estimated that by 1980, 40 per cent of the entire population of this country will be over forty-five years of age.

Throngs Of Pilgrims Tread Via Dolorosa In Holy Land

JERUSALEM, April 19 (AP)—Vast throngs of pilgrims, some carrying crosses, walked along the Via Dolorosa from Pilate's Palace to Mount Calvary today as the Holy Land held Good Friday services commemorating the last hours and crucifixion of Christ.

Despite tension caused by a paralyzing strike of 50,000 civil workers and the prolonged conflict between Jews and Arabs, one of the largest crowds in recent years pressed through the dingy, cobblestoned streets of Jerusalem's old city.

Pilate's Palace, where the pilgrimages began, now is a Roman Catholic convent. The church of the Holy Sepulcher stands at the other end of the Via Dolorosa, on Golgotha, where Christ died on the cross.

The passion services began last night, with rites in the Garden of Gethsemane commemorating the final hours of prayer by Jesus and his betrayal by Judas.

Earlier, the ancient rites of Maundy Thursday were held, with various sects reenacting their interpretation of the events of "The Last Supper."

Eastern sects of Christianity held services marked by colorful pageantry.

Meanwhile, Jews celebrated the Passover and Moslems observed Nebi Musa.

Marching Forward To A Better World

The Salvation Army Sounds An Easter Keynote of Courage To Distressed People Around the World.

HOPE for thousands of men, women and children in wartorn Europe and Asia.

Today their Salvation Army religious centers, homes, orphanages, hospitals are being rebuilt. Corps units are being re-assembled. Services of material aid and spiritual help are being revived.

HOPE and a touch of home for thousands of American boys in Armies of Occupation. Salvation Army Red Shield centers are bringing them home-comforts and spiritual reassurances.

HOPE for thousands of troubled individuals and families here in America.

For the Discharged Service Man and Woman.

Across the country Salvation Army corps are counseling in family problems... giving emergency financial aid, help to find employment, to re-establish homes.

For the Man and Woman behind Prison Bars. More Salvation Army prison officers are being trained to guide in prison and parole work... to give vocational guidance, when released, and help in readjustment.

This Message Sponsored by—

For the Disadvantaged Rural Areas of the Nation.

Through expanded rural service The Salvation Army is supplementing health and educational and religious programs.

HOPE for the physically disabled and the ill. For the unmarried mother and her baby. For the unemployed worker. For the broken family. For the adolescent, torn by many temptations. For the old, the homeless, the jobless.

TODAY across the nation Salvation Army services and institutions—maternity homes, children's homes, women's hospitals, general hospitals, clinics, dispensaries, social service centers, boys' clubs and youth centers, employment bureaus—are being enlarged and strengthened. New Salvation Army leadership is being trained.

In God's Cathedral

The Glories of the First Resurrection, recalled in sacred solemnity by Christian people since, were first proclaimed in God's cathedral—His out-of-doors.

Sunday amid the majestic atmosphere of sunrise on a stone bowl nestled in the rugged terrain and trees of the City Park, high school Bible students will present an Easter play, "Pilgrims of the Way."

Scene is the garden of Mary, sister of Barnabas, co-laborer with the Apostle Paul. There will be vocal background music by the high school choral club under direction of Mrs. Wiley Curry, and a trumpet solo, "The Old Rugged Cross," by Charlene Tucker.

We urge you to join in this inspirational service at 6 a. m. as the best means of beginning this sacred day of commemorating the Risen Lord.

Stay Ahead of the Game

Several individuals and organizations have been urging Big Spring people to clean their premises and to keep them clean. Latest of these is the infantile paralysis chapter board in urging use of regulation garbage containers and generally sanitary and tidy appearances around homes and businesses.

All of these pleas boil down to this: Control disease by prevention.

We were aroused to action as a community last year by an unprecedented local epidemic of poliomyelitis. Health unit officials (local and state) worked unceasingly on the problem along with the city, civic organizations and others. Whether this stopped the plague is not known; but it was stopped.

When this happened, a sigh of relief went up from parents. Yet whatever effect the campaign had on curbing polio was, in truth, dwarfed by reducing the threat of many other commonplace infections such as dysentery, etc.

Later we had an outbreak of typhus and respiratory infections which reached epidemic proportions. Since that time a methodical and very effective rodent control program has been in progress here.

It is not too early to start strengthening bulwarks already established. The fly season is at hand. The city is using several hundred pounds of DDT to dust garbage containers and kitchen entrances of cafes as well as garbage cans in residential districts. Value of this may be multiplied by use of effective sprays and dusts by property owners; by controlling possible breeding places for flies; by repairing screens; by general cleanliness and care which will reduce harborage for rodents and breeding spots for mosquitoes.

In almost any enterprise, it is good business to stay ahead of the game. Nowhere is this truer than in the field of public health—and you are the public.

Dimmers In Town, Please

One man, frequently blinded by glaring headlights within the city limits, suggests a campaign to induce motorists to dim their lights for urban driving.

Whether it gets to campaign proportions or not, it's a good idea, for unduly bright lights are doubly hazardous in town. We are not acquainted with the physical and optical reasons for this, but we do know that the presence of street lights, and particularly beams from signs, show windows, etc., completely blank out vision when joined by the glare from an approaching automobile.

Under such conditions, it is almost impossible to see a pedestrian or parked car which might loom up immediately ahead at the moment. It would be possible to crash into an individual or a car without any advanced warning. The irony of it is that the driver with the strong lights would proceed blissfully on his way.

Safety and courtesy demand that drivers keep their dimmers on while driving in town.

Here's Why Meat Is Hard To Get

WASHINGTON, April 19. (AP)—Why the widespread meat scarcity?

Government officials—and they have figures to back them up—say there's no actual shortage of meat in this country.

More meat—an estimated 1,000,000,000 pounds more—will be placed on the civilian market in 1946 than in 1945.

But there is a wide scarcity of meat in some places and for some people. And these are the official reasons for that:

1. People have plenty of money. With rationing gone, they're buying lots of meat.
2. Black markets are draining off huge chunks of meat to sell to people who don't mind paying black market prices.
3. Because of the big demand and the black markets, the meat is not being distributed equally.
4. Because of this unequal distribution, many people and places are unable to get meat.

What the government didn't say, although it seems undeniable, is that meat rationing, which ended last November, ended too soon.

Rationing would have been a big help in distributing the meat more equally. But there is worse news.

Between now and next fall meat will be scarcer because this is the season—it happens every year—when comparatively few cattle are killed.

In the midst of the uproar over the scarcity, meat industry people complained to Congress that OPA price ceilings were causing the scarcity.

The House, debating a bill to keep OPA alive after June 30, first voted late yesterday to tear off all OPA price controls over meat but a few hours later reversed this decision.

Abolishing price ceilings would make any drive against black marketers impossible. With price controls gone, anyone could charge any price he could get.

The FBI now, because there still are price controls, is investigating complaints that some slaughterhouses are collecting government subsidies by pretending to sell at ceiling prices while actually black-marketing.

CHINA NEEDS MARSHALL'S SKILL

By RICHARD CUSHING (For HAL BOYLE)

SHANGHAI, April 19. (AP)—The delicately-constructed peace engineered by General Marshall in his first three months in China crumbled at its foundations during his absence of less than five weeks.

It is generally believed here that it will take all his diplomacy and prestige to again prop up China's wobbling internal structure.

When the special US envoy left for Washington March 11, Marshall had brought Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's Kuomintang and the Chinese Communists together for a truce. It had been agreed to bring Communist divisions into a national army of 60 divisions, one-fifth its war-time size.

Only a few hours before he left, a Kuomintang-Communist truce committee agreed to send its trouble-shooting teams into Manchuria. It seemed likely a coalition government would be formed while he was away.

After he left, however, the situation in Manchuria deteriorated to open conflict, suspicions sprouted on both sides and the whole structure of unity was shaken.

Marshall, who carries more prestige in China than probably any other foreigner ever enjoyed, now faces a problem as tough as the one he tackled when he came to China last Christmas.

Marshall's first task will be to stop the fighting in Manchuria. His second task will be to persuade the Kuomintang and the Communists to live up to the political agreements they already have made.

Government reorganization to include other parties besides the now-ruling Kuomintang as planned at January's unity conference was checked because the Communists accused the Kuomintang of violating the conference agreements.

The Communists are suspicious of the national assembly, scheduled to open May 5 at Nanking, to adopt China's new constitution, fearing the Kuomintang majority may ram through legislation preserving its one-party rule under the guise of democracy.

If the Communists refuse to attend the assembly, as they have threatened, it would be a grave setback for Marshall's plans.

If Marshall finds the government at fault, presumably his weapon would be the withholding of vast United States monetary support. If the Communists are found at fault it might force a change of the middle-course US policy to one of outright support for the generalissimo.

Forrestal Acts To Quiet Merger Fuss

WASHINGTON, April 19. (AP)—Secretary of the Navy Forrestal's agreement that some form of unification is desirable steered the caustic merger controversy between the sea service and the White House into smoother waters today.

Forrestal carried the peace re-still further with firm advice to navy officers to pipe down in anti-merger "speeches or other propaganda" and stick to congressional committee testimony.

Forrestal indicated, however, that no action is contemplated against Rear-Adm. A. S. Merrill whose comments to newsmen last week were said by the White House to have prompted President Truman's original criticism of what he termed navy lobbying.

The first life boats were designed at the end of the 18th century.

DAD WOULD BE PROUD OF MARGARET

NEW YORK—Margaret Whiting was the victim for a very long while of having a dad in show business who didn't want his daughter to have any part of it. It's a safe bet now, however, that the late Dick Whiting, one of the greatest song writers in the business, would be mighty proud of his talented youngest daughter.

Young Margaret tried for years to get into show business but was up against an amiable stone wall. No one gave her much attention until Johnny Mercer had her sing on Coast sustaining program three years after her father died. That led to her recording. In 1943, one of her dad's own tunes, "My Ideal," a very smart waxing with Billy Butterfield's orchestra. From then on she was "in."

By the time she was 16 she had been in the Hit Parade, the Jack Carson show, the Ransom Sherman program. She left radio to sing with Freddie Slack's band. . . . Now, at 21, she makes more than $200,000 a year, has three commercial programs, probably the most of any gal singer in radio. Her record of "It Might As Well Be Spring" sold more than 1,000,000. Now a New Yorker, Margaret was born in Detroit and moved to Hollywood when her dad started writing film tunes. Her ambition: To record an album of her father's music.

The Winter Garden Theater noted its 35th anniversary a few days ago. Its first birthday as a film house. . . . Originally dedicated to revues and musical comedy, the theater put a definite hallmark on certain type Broadway shows. . . . It was a touch of distinction to have a production referred to as being in the Winter Garden style.

The Broadway play spot, now showing "Tomorrow Is Forever," the Orson Welles-Claudette Colbert cinema, opened in 1911 with a show called "La Belle Paree."

described as a "jumble of jollity in two acts and eleven scenes." . . . The music was by Jerome Kern. . . . An obscure young performer in "La Belle Paree" later left a small part in Lew Dockstadter's Minstrels to become one of Broadway's most famous: Al Jolson.

A Winter Garden chorus line game the movies a younger named Lucille La Seuer—now Academy Award-winning Joan Crawford. . . . In the same show a chorus boy named Jack Oakie was nursing his ambitions. . . . and a few years later Jimmy Cagney left a chorus in the same theater to head for bigger glory.

Mistiquett was an early Winter Garden delight. . . . Ed Wynn, Willie and Eugene Howard, Eddie Cantor, John Charles Thomas, Fred and Adele Astaire, Marilyn Miller, Irene Castle, Frank Tinney, The Dolly Sisters, Ina Claire, Weber and Fields, Fred Allen, George Jessel, Jay C. Flippen, and hundreds more, right up to Olsen and Johnson, the last stars to play there before the films moved in, have made the Winter Garden a major Broadway legend. It was the Broadway musical stage what the Palace was to vaudeville, and what how ties are to Sinatra and Truman.

Town Clock Darkened

MILTON, Pa.—The town clock has little value after nightfall, unless the Borough Council changes the budget by-laws.

Lights of the big timepiece, located in the steeple of the First Presbyterian church, were ordered extinguished by church officials, who said Council refused to contribute toward upkeep.

The budget makes no provision for that sort of thing, Council said.

Washington Merry-Go-Round—Drew Pearson

Secret Diagnosis of Reds' Government

WASHINGTON.—Averell Harriman, ex-ambassador to Russia, gave Republican congressmen a penetrating picture of Russia during an off-the-record session of the 78-20 Club. The club is composed of republicans serving their first and second terms in Congress.

"Russia has made marvelous progress in wiping out illiteracy," Harriman told the congressmen. "As a result, her people are ready and anxious to read the news and opinion put before them by the Soviet government. That is one basic difference between the Communist and the Fascist theory. Hitler and Mussolini felt as little when their people knew as little as possible about what was going on."

The average Russian today, Harriman said, is "sold on the Russian program." However, Soviet authorities are facing trouble as their soldiers come back and tell about the high pay of American troops and the comparatively high standards of living they saw in Germany and the other western European countries.

"As a result, the Russian people are asking embarrassing questions about their own 'lower standards,'" the ex-ambassador told GOP congressmen. "One answer the government offers is that if Russia had started out in the 1920's to build up the standard of living rather than building up the nation's industrial and war-making strength, it might have fallen before Hitler."

Another counter-argument the Soviet propaganda machine is making, Harriman said, is to discredit the Red army veterans. They have been tasing the "flesh-pots of the capitalist West," Soviet propagandists claim.

Red Army Distrusted

Harriman declared that Soviet authorities were worried about the possibility of trouble with dissatisfied military men, therefore are not giving Red army officers positions of authority in the civilian government. With few exceptions, he said, returned generals and colonels are not getting good government jobs, and some are even kept under surveillance by the secret police.

The secret police, according to the ambassador, remain the most powerful force in Russia today. Pointing out that the Russian people are tired and their industry is mutilated by the destruction of Nazi armies, Harriman said the Soviet Union offers no war threat for America at this time. However, he urged that the United States keep on its toes because serious trouble might arise some day.

Harriman was generally hopeful that the Russia of the future will be better disposed toward getting along with other nations. The present, he said, is a period of "Siberia, floggings and torture—and the memory of numerous Allied attempts after the last war to smash the Communist government."

"It is not hard to understand why they are suspicious," he explained, "when we remember all that has happened in their lifetime. Our hope lies in the younger Russians who will one day lead the government. If they grow up with a conviction that America and other nations are friendly to them and not seeking to plunge a knife in their back, Russia will be a real and important force for world peace."

Harriman expressed the opinion during his off-the-record talk that Russia today is the most fertile field in the world for educational propaganda.

first opportunity to congratulate you. "Thank you very much," replied the President. "It hasn't been an easy year, but I've done the best I could."

In a chatty mood, Truman inquired at great length about the Pennsylvania's combat experiences with advance naval bombardment units at Luzon. Ordinarily a punctilious clock-watcher, he detained young Fulton several minutes over time. Finally, as Fulton left, Truman said:

"I'm glad to see young executives like yourself in Congress. There's room for more like you—men who reflect the views of the home folks. Some of the older members of Congress seldom get back to their districts and they don't know what the people want."

Capital Chaff

President Truman offered Averell Harriman the job of Under Secretary of the Navy before asking him to become ambassador to London. This meant Harriman would have become Secretary of the Navy when Forrestal stepped out. He turned it down, however, because, favoring the merger, he said he couldn't efficiently run the Navy with the admirals (who oppose the merger) all against him. . . . Capt. Granville Conway, head of the War Shipping Administration, has turned in his resignation. Another good man lost to government. . . . Gen. John Dean, former US military attaché in Moscow, is irked over being reduced from major general to brigadier general and will exit.

New Republican Chairman Carroll Reece of Tennessee received an embarrassing kiss from isolationist ex-Congressman Hamilton Fish of New York. Fish called Reece a "splendid choice," praised his congressional record as "practically identical" with Fish's own. He even revealed that Reece had offered to speak for Fish during the 1934 campaign in which Tom Dewey and GOP leaders united with Democrats to defeat Fish. . . . Because our government is dealing with a legally recognized Japanese government, both Department of Agriculture and Department of Commerce technical experts anxious to study Japanese agriculture and industry, have been refused admittance. Red Army Distrusted

Harriman declared that Soviet authorities were worried about the possibility of trouble with dissatisfied military men, therefore are not giving Red army officers positions of authority in the civilian government. With few exceptions, he said, returned generals and colonels are not getting good government jobs, and some are even kept under surveillance by the secret police.

The secret police, according to the ambassador, remain the most powerful force in Russia today. Pointing out that the Russian people are tired and their industry is mutilated by the destruction of Nazi armies, Harriman said the Soviet Union offers no war threat for America at this time. However, he urged that the United States keep on its toes because serious trouble might arise some day.

Harriman was generally hopeful that the Russia of the future will be better disposed toward getting along with other nations. The present, he said, is a period of "Siberia, floggings and torture—and the memory of numerous Allied attempts after the last war to smash the Communist government."

Webb, Gentry Lead Steer Tracksters To Abilene

Herschel Stockton takes nine Big Spring high school athletes to the regional track and field meet in Abilene Saturday and, if at least two of them don't qualify for the state finals in May, he's going to be very disappointed.

Stock is counting most heavily on Donald Webb, his ace miler, and Timothy Gentry, the 880-yard specialist. Webb is unbeaten this year and he seems to be improving. Gentry lost in the Big Spring Relays to Harrell Steele of Abilene but since then has come to the front with triumphs at San Angelo and Midland. Illnesses may keep Steele out of competition. However, there is a speedster from Brownwood high school, Gentry, must contend with, and the half-milers who can run are expected to be many.

In order to qualify for the state meet, Gentry must be able to finish third or better in the finals. Stock says there is no reason to believe he won't do that well.

Webb and Gentry will be accompanied by Donald Williams, hurdler and relay man; Horace Rankin, broad jumper and hurdler; Ernie Ache, sprinter; Gerid Harris, who is the most versatile man on the squad; Bobo Hardy, who'll confine his efforts to the relays; Bobby Miller, quarter miler; and James Abbe, another relay man.

Miller ran his best 440 at Midland, turning in a respectable 53.6 seconds for the distance. He expects to do better than that at Abilene.

There'll be something like 400 athletes in action at the show, which, of course, represents the cream of the crop in West Texas prep circles. McKurt's stadium is the scene of action.

Jake Bentley's Abilene Eagles rule as the favorites and shouldn't have any trouble taking the tea's championship.

However, Odessa will supply a couple of outstanding contenders as will San Angelo and Midland.

There's little danger of any of the regional standards falling. There hasn't been a record set up since 1943 when Merckel's Shann stepped off a 4:41 minute mile.

The marks the boys will be shooting for are:

120 yard high hurdles—Sam Easley (Anson, 14.8, 1943).

100 yard dash—J. D. Tidwell, Abilene, and Douglas Calley, Brady, 9.7 (Tidwell's mark in 1936 & Calley's in 1939).

220 yard dash—Donald Dees, Breckenridge, 21.1 (1943).

440 yard dash—Harry Hays, San Angelo, and Joe Sparks, Eastland, 50.7 (Hays' mark in 1937 and Sparks' in 1939).

880 yard run—Jack Runkles (San Angelo), 2:03 (1941).

One mile run—Shannon, M. A. Kel, 4:41 (1934).

200 yard low hurdles—Bill Yarbrough, Baird, 25.8 (1941).

One mile relay—San Angelo (Manfield, Holliday, Johnson, Hays), 3:22.5 (1937).

440 yard relay—San Angelo (Meadow, Potts, Chase, Fie & Wood), 44.9 (1941).

Pole vault—Blake Edmondson, Mineral Wells, 11 ft., 30 in. (1939).

Broad jump—Tommy De la Roshell, El Paso, 26 ft., 7 in. (1939).

Shot put—Jack Price, Santa Anna, 36 ft., 7 in. (1939).

High jump—Charles Karpis, Munday, (1937), and A. D. Brown, Roby, (1938), height 6 ft.

Discus throw—Raymond Twohman, Abilene, 132 ft., 2 in. (1943).

CARDINAL — Dick Slater (above), son of the illustrious George, replaces Ray Sanders at first for the St. Louis Cardinals. Sanders and pitcher Matthew Surkont were sold by the Cards to the Boston Braves. (AP Wirephoto)

Shreveport Wins Attendance Cup

By The Associated Press

San Antonio's Missions held undisputed first place in the Texas league today and Shreveport apparently was ready to receive the attendance trophy.

The Missions beat Houston 6-0 last night for their third straight over the Buffs to remain undefeated in the very young campaign.

Shreveport had 8,983 paid attendance at its home opener as the Sports defeated the Beaumont Exporters 3-1. This topped Dallas' 8,181 last night and Fort Worth's 7,943 Tuesday night.

The Dallas Rebels pleased the huge turnout by clipping Fort Worth 7-3 with Hank Oans limiting the Cats to five hits, one a homer by Jay Haney.

Tulsa was removed from the unbesten ranks by Oklahoma City, whom the Oilers had downed twice. The Indians won 7-5 last night before 4,040 at Tulsa. The score was tied 6-8 in the sixth but Oklahoma City got a couple of runs in the seventh.

Tonight's schedule: Fort Worth at Dallas.

Houston at San Antonio.

Beaumont at Shreveport.

Oklahoma City at Tulsa.

John Reeves Books Odyssey On Burro In Dallas Stadium

DALLAS, April 19 (AP)—President John Reeves of the Fort Worth ball club is scheduled to go for a ride here May 26.

He will be escorted a donkey and will circle the infield at the Dallas baseball park.

It's all because Fort Worth lost to Dallas in the opening day attendance race in the Texas league. The president of the losing club, it was agreed before the season opened, had to ride a donkey on the other club's field the first Sunday the clubs met in the winning team's city.

Last night 8,131 turned out to see Dallas open its home season by beating Fort Worth 7-2. Tuesday night, when Fort Worth opened at home, there were 7,943.

Organized baseball's bible, The Sporting News, carries a story in its latest issue on young Edson Bahr, the pitcher who started out in the game here and is now with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

It relates the story of how Bahr wanted to quit the game after receiving a medical discharge from the Navy last year but his pop, Edward Bahr of Seattle, Wash., persuaded his offspring to stay in the game.

When Ed was active in the old Roberts Park on West Fifth street, he was Yankee chatted but he hurt his back and the Bombers cut him loose.

Shoots Wife And Her Boss, Then Kills Himself

NEW YORK, April 19. (AP)—A 36-year-old war veteran died early today after wounding his wife and her employer and firing a bullet into his own head before horrified office clerks in a Fifth Avenue office.

Jose Manuel Acebal stalked into the glass-enclosed office of Frank Luria, 51, general export manager for the Luria Steel and Trading Corp., late yesterday, police said, and without a word pulled a German Mauser pistol from beneath his coat and started firing.

Luria was struck in the throat and right shoulder. Mrs. Marjorie Acebal, 38, who had been taking dictation, was wounded in the left shoulder. Acebal then sent a bullet through his right temple.

Police said they could get no clear explanation but speculated that jealousy on the husband's part was the motive.

Mrs. Acebal declared that she could think of no reason for the shooting and denied that jealousy could have been involved.

"He never accused me of being unfaithful to him," she said. "And I never even looked at another man while he was in service."

Big Spring high school is faced with the probability of losing the finest distance running prospect it has had in several years.

That would be Tim Gentry, the sophomore speedster, who has won two blue ribbons in track meets thus far, is a good bet to come in first in the regional tomorrow at Abilene.

Tim, who's the son of Mrs. W. K. Edwards, has told athletic director John Dibrell he is thinking of migrating to Houston before next fall, where he'll live with his father, C. B. Gentry.

The paternal parent is a former track coach—he was once the maker of national champions at Grand Saline—would be able to give the youngster the benefit of his teachings if Tim goes south.

The star half-miler expects to be running his specialty in less than two minutes before he departs the prep ranks. He can negotiate the distance in something like 2:10 minutes now, which, though not sensational, is considered quite good for a boy who still has two years of eligibility in front of him. Young Timmy is not yet 15 years of age.

The former Longhorn footballer, Lem Nations, is planning on enrolling at Texas Tech college and reporting to Coach Del Morgan's football team next September.

Recently out of the military, Lem has had no college work but should prove good enough to letter with the Red Raiders. Gene Rush, the ex-Big Springer now trying for a guard spot under Morgan, thinks Nations' would go great guns at a wing spot.

And Gene, at last reports, was threatening to earn a first string spot with the Lubbockans.

Another local product who was doing alright in a football way until he got hurt in Paul Wank, who'll be wearing the Blue and Red of Southern Methodist university next fall.

Big Paul went back to the Hilltop after three years in the service and is said to be figuring largely in Mentor Matty Bell's plans.

Woody Baker, who captained the high school basketball team here a couple of years ago, came home the other day from his station at Fort Sill, Okla., bringing with him a lad by the name of Kenneth Roof, who sports writers of the Sooner state insist is a better man than Bob Fenimore was in high school.

Roof, a 185-pounder and one of three brothers who played high school ball at Thomas, Okla., expects to be out of the service by October but doesn't yet know where he'll go to school.

He's had offers from both Oklahoma university and Oklahoma A&M.

And his record shows he's a better track man than he is on the gridiron. He played service football in Texas last fall.

Saturday is the last day for managers of Muni softball league teams to get their player contracts to the circuit president, Dewey Collum.

Howie Pollet Sets Example For Southpaws, Others Win

LOOKING 'EM OVER

By The Associated Press

With the major league baseball campaign only three days old today, it looked like the southpaw pitching brigade was set for its most productive season in 15 years.

Not since the early '30's have so many good left-handers blossomed out in one season.

With the return of such princely pitchers as Howie Pollet, Max Lanier, Johnny Vander Meer, Ken Heintzelman, Mickey Harris, Marv Russo and Clyde Shoun from the wars to join forces with holdovers Hal Newhouser, Thornton Lee, Mickey Haefer, Stubby Omerle and Harry Brecheen, it might well turn out that this first post-war year will be the greatest in baseball history for the left-handed legion.

Three of the southpaw set, Pollet, Harris and Vic Lombardi, were responsible for half of the six finely pitched games in the majors yesterday, to give the left-handers a record of eight victories against four defeats in three days.

Pollet, back with the St. Louis Cardinals after three years in the Air Corps, spun a neat five-hitter to beat the Pittsburgh Pirates 6-2. Harris, making his post war debut with Boston's Red Sox held Washington to six scattered hits as the Sox defeated the Senators, 3-1.

Brooklyn's Dodgers made an auspicious home debut before 29,825 fans by taming the vaunted New York Giants, 8-1.

The Chicago Cubs maintained their holdover-season jinx over the Reds by handing the Rhinelanders their third straight setback, 4-2 for their 24th victory over Cincinnati in their last 25 meetings.

Most 'Injustices' Benefit Players

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK, April 19 (AP)—The Boston organizer of the baseball players "guilt"—to give it the Jacobs' Beach pronunciation—proposes "to right the injustices of professional baseball."

The injustices, as we see them, consist in: playing guys with strong muscles and good co-ordination anywhere from two to ten times what they could earn in any other trade. . . . And how about collective bargaining on baseballs and a minimum standard for batting averages?

Nothing New—

Nearly two years ago a top-rank minor league official told this corner: "For my part I cannot conceive of baseball players joining a union, but I had a letter from a prominent baseball man warning me he knew definitely that there was a move on foot to organize professional baseball players, and he went so far as to say to me that he was sure of that taking place as he was of the game continuing x x x but for the life of me I cannot see where the player would gain anything by such action."

This was written, incidentally, by a man who admits that baseball rules and contracts aren't always fair to the players. . . . Efforts to organize ball players in opposition to organized baseball go back to the "baseball brotherhood" which formed the players' league in 1890. The league lasted just one year.

Today's Guest Star—

Jack Troy, Atlanta Constitution: "Ben Chapman, who has become quite loquacious as manager of the Phillies, says he won't interfere with visits of his players to taverns so long as it doesn't interfere with their baseball."

The Phillies have been trying for a long time to get out of the National league cellar. . . . Now it may be switched to the wine cellar."

Longhorns Depart For Kansas Meet

AUSTIN, April 19 (AP)—On the way to the Kansas relays are track coach Clyde Littlefield and eight of his performers who will enter two individual events and three relay races.

Allen Lawler, winner at the Texas relays and Andy Shurr are the Longhorn starters in the 100-yard dash. John Robertson, who broad jumps more than 24 feet, is among favorites in that event.

The Texas teams will also enter the quarter, half, and one mile relays.

Hodges In Command Of Randolph Field

SAN ANTONIO, April 19 (AP)—Major James P. Hodges has assumed command of Randolph Field, succeeding Brig. Gen. Charles T. Myers.

Gen. Hodges was in command of the 2nd Bombardment Division of the 29th Heavy Bombardment Group that plastered German defenses in Normandy on D-Day.

Butter To Go With Gasoline

CHICAGO, April 19. (AP)—Corrado (Tom) Pizali, 36, says he expects there will be a rush of business at his gasoline filling station in suburban Highland Park today—not for gas or oil—but for butter.

The former sailor who took over the station a month ago said he is going to sell a pound of butter to every customer who buys 10 gallons of gasoline.

He said he had purchased 192 pounds of butter in Wisconsin at the ceiling price from an undisclosed source—emphasizing it was not bought on the black market.

Vermont was first known as New Connecticut.

Mexican Red-Hot on KBST Tonight

Julio Jimenes (above), Mexican lightweight who scored a stirring victory over Cleo Shans two weeks ago, makes his most important start tonight when he tangles with Manhattan's seasoned trial horse, Maxie Shapiro, in New York.

The fistic firecracker is regarded as the best lightweight to invade the East from below the Rio-Grande in many a day. Like most Mexican fighters, he punches constantly and never gives his opponent a moment's rest. He's cagey and in addition to being able to work at close quarters is also effective at long range.

Barrel-chested Maxie Shapiro has met most of the tough customers in his division and defeated among others, Bob Montgomery, Sal Bartolo, Bobby Ruffin and Chester Rico.

Work Under Way On Old Stanton Road

County highway workers are making progress on the job of adding a caliche base to a portion of the old Stanton (Faye Hardin) road southwest of town.

The project was started last week and the five trucks in operation have about completed the task of hauling the necessary dirt.

The new foundation has been laid from a natural formation approximately half a mile off Highway 87 to a point three miles westward.

Members of the county commissioners court returned Tuesday from Lubbock where they met with members of the State Highway Commission to ask for right-of-way designation and survey on the proposed road between Big Spring and Andrews.

Making the trip were County Judge James T. Brooks, Leo "Pancho" Nall, Thad Hale, Earl Hull and Ed Brown.

1,000 Boys Due April 25 For Scout Roundup

Plans are being made to entertain at least 1,000 boys affiliated with the Buffalo Trail Council of Boy Scouts at the annual Round-Up in Big Spring April 25-27, Carl Blomshield, general chairman of the event, has announced.

A total of 856 attended last year, and most areas in the council are making arrangements to send more boys this year.

Local scouts planning to attend must be registered with a troop, and scoutmasters are required to submit a certified list of names to school authorities in order for them to be excused from classes on Friday, April 26. The Round-Up gets underway late Thursday afternoon, and the grounds will not be opened until 4 p. m.

Several Big Spring men are taking an active part in making arrangements and others will be on hand to assist in the program. They include Elton Taylor, in charge of food; Charlie Watson, chief judge of contests; Sam McComb, first aid; Nat Schick, food serving; George Melear, in charge of records; Norrid Radio Service, sound equipment; B. J. McDaniel, in charge of grounds; W. C. Blankenship, awards; and Joe Pickle, publicity.

Jack Roden will arrange for operation of a soft drink concession, with profits to be given to the scout fund. J. C. Webb will take motion pictures, and Jack Haynes will handle still photography for the event. A Knappe, who is in charge of barbecuing, already has arranged for 1,000 pounds of meat, which will be paid for by local business men.

Ceremonies will be in charge of the council's professional staff, which includes P. V. Thorson, Sweetwater; Don Betts, Odessa; Bill Martin, Midland; Rex Palmer, Pecos; Jim Polk, Snyder; and H. D. Norris, Big Spring.

Front-Yard Refuse Pickup Protested By Householders

Several complaints have been received by the street department from residents regarding requirements for placing garbage cans at the front of houses in that area. City Manager B. J. McDaniel said today.

The practice was adopted for that section of town, because alleyways have not been opened on a large number of blocks there, McDaniel said. Otherwise it was necessary for garbage trucks to cross private property in order to effect pickup operations. McDaniel again urged residents using non-regulation garbage containers to replace them before summer if possible. Some underground containers are being used in various parts of the city now, and these are entirely satisfactory, he said.

Negro Scout Leaders To Have Conference

A conference for negro scout leaders of the Buffalo Trail Council will be held Saturday from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. in the First Methodist church of Big Spring.

Several leaders in the Big Spring area will take part in the program. Rev. I. C. Campbell will direct a song service at the beginning of the session, and T. P. Fowler of Lorraine will give the first address on the purpose of the conference. "Potential Membership, Troops, Packs and Boys" will be the subject of a talk by Z. W. Carroll of Colorado City, while Oliver Reed of Big Spring will discuss "Organization and Operation of Scout Troop."

Local Aggies Will Have 'Muster Day'

The public has been invited to attend the "muster day" services to be put on by the local chapter of the Texas A. & M. club at the First Presbyterian church at 8:30 o'clock Sunday morning.

Families of A. & M. students who died while in service during World War II are to be honored guests at the meeting, according to John Johansen.

The program will feature talks by Dick Winters and Burke Summers. Others participating will be Johansen, who will review the tradition behind the historic event; Rev. H. Clyde Smith and E. A. Miller. Smith will deliver a brief message while Miller will call the roll for the absent.

Following a closing ceremony, which will be conducted by Nick Reid, trumpeter Donald Williams will play "taps."

American Adds 20 Republic Luxury Liners

Woodrow Campbell, American Airlines station manager here, has received word that the system has purchased 20 of the new four-engine transports — Republic Rainbows — at a cost of $1,100,000 each.

Delivery of the 40 - passenger luxury liners, which will cruise at more than 400 miles an hour, will begin in 1947. As yet, routes over which American will operate the Rainbows have not been determined.

The massive ship, which is equipped with jet thrust, would be able to cruise from New York to Los Angeles in six hours and 45 minutes or from New York to London in about 12 hours.

Flights can be made in complete comfort in air-conditioned cabins at a service ceiling of substantially more than 30,000 feet. This would make it possible to fly around or over inclement weather.

Motion pictures and radio, complete dining facilities and a lounge and bar can be added to the ship.

The sky giant is expected to be capable of carrying 1600 pounds of baggage plus 1700 pounds of cargo.

Hens Save The Day For Seachers For Eggs On Easter Hunts; Candy Shelves Bare

This will be an old-fashioned Easter. There will be none of the new-fangled candy Easter eggs hidden this year. Due to shortages of sugar the candy variety has been eliminated completely from the market.

What with the price of hen's eggs reduced to about 35 cents, the problem has been solved, by each child taking four or more decorated eggs to be hidden. The home-colored eggs may not be as good to the youngster's taste as are the sweeter ones, but parents find that they are more sanitary if the children insist on eating them.

With the absence of manufactured eggs from the candy counters, the old-fashioned custom of coloring one's own eggs has been revived. For several years preceding the war, home prepared eggs became almost passe, and with that custom went the fun of doing the decorating.

Several decades ago all eggs had to be home-colored, and for weeks ahead of Easter the youngsters began hoarding a nest of eggs for Easter hunts. There were no commercial tints, so during the year mothers saved scraps of dress materials which proved not to be colorfast. The eggs were then wrapped in the materials and boiled to transfer the color from the material to the egg shell. The process was much more involved than it is now, and required hours of preparation where it takes a few minutes now.

The eggs were fancied up with drawings on the shell done with wax pencil so that when the layers of cloth were removed and the eggs were polished the white designs stood out in contrast. A similar process is being revived by the manufacturers of some egg dyes who provide a "magic pencil" with which to make the designs before immersion in the dye bath.

To collect the eggs children can again buy sturdy raffia baskets with colored designs. The baskets for Easter, 1946, are gayer than ever, with decorations of bright strips of glistening cellophane, a product recently returned to the dealers' shelves.

The fact that the candy manufacturers cannot furnish sweet egg-shaped candies does not particularly worry the youngsters, as long as the hens continue to lay.

Over $29,000 Paid Out On Cotton Crop

Indemnity on 118,195 pounds of cotton has been channeled through the AAA office to Howard county farmers since the first of the year.

The aggregate paid out on the 1945 cotton crop is approximately $29,548, according to figures released by M. Weaver, AAA supervisor.

The payments represented coverage on 64 farms of the county. Insurance for 1946 coverage has been sold on 180 farms.

Still unexpended is $17,099.92 of a federal grant for soil practices. Weaver said that community farmers would have to make their conservation listings before May 1 in order to qualify for a grant.

One Of Chevrolet Founders Suicides

SLIDELL, La., April 19 (AP) — Arthur Chevrolet, one of the founders of the Chevrolet Motor company, committed suicide by hanging himself in his home here, acting coroner H. E. Gautreaux of St. Tammany parish reported.

The automotive pioneer, who had been despondent, Gautreaux said, took his life Tuesday. He was a native of Switzerland.
